ANGLO-RED INVASION OF IRAN LAUNCHED TODAY

Joint Drive To Remove German Power Started

British Hopeful that Little Real Resistance Will Be forthcoming from Iran Forces to Simultaneous Invasion by Imperial and Russian Troops—Action Follows Unsatisfactory Conferences with Iranian Officials.

London, Aug. 25.—(P)—A simultaneous British-Russian invasion of Iran was launched today—with British troops crossing the frontier of Southern Iran along the Gulf of Persia and Soviet forces moving in from the Caucasus to the North.

Authoritative sources here said they had no information of any Iranian resistance and that Iran may not resist.

The double move into the oil-rich desert kingdom backed up with military operations the demands of London and Moscow that modern Persia be rid of any German influences.

IRAN TROOPS OFFER SOME RESISTANCE TO BRITISH TROOPS

London, Aug. 25.—(P)—The British forces entering Iran have encountered some resistance, an authoritative source said today.

British troops have landed from ships at Bandar Shahpur, at the head of the Persian Gulf, but, it was stated, "that of course is not the sole point of entry."

The extent of the Iranian resistance was not known here.

Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, former Commander-in-Chief in Egypt who was shifted several months ago to India, was reported in London to be in full charge of the new British operation.

British naval forces in the Persian Gulf, commanded by Admiral Sir Geoffrey Arbutnot, Commander of the East Indian Station, were said to have "taken necessary steps" to support the move.

British sources said they were unable to say whether Iranian troops were involved in the advance and it was not known whether British forces had reached Iran's vast oil fields, which lie only about eighty miles Northwest of neighboring Iraq's big Southern port of Basra.

There was no official disclosure of exact points of entry into Iran either by British or Soviet troops—and none was expected until contact was made with Iranian forces.

The most likely routes into the Muslim monarchy seemed to be Northeast from Southern Iraq for the British and South along the shores of the Caspian Sea from the Azerbaijan Republic for the Russians.

(Iranian border guards, recently heavily reinforced, were reported yesterday to have been withdrawn several miles from their frontiers during the week-end to avoid precipitating an incident.)

The Red Fleet's control of the Caspian Sea, observers in London said, made a direct government at Teheran possible.

Troops might be landed on the coast at the little ports of Abassabad, Alibad or Mahmudabad—all within seventy-five miles of Teheran on the vast Iranian plateau.

It was considered here unlikely

SPECIAL MEETING OF AUSTRALIAN CABINET CALLED TUESDAY

Melbourne, Aug. 25.—(P)—All Federal Ministers have been asked to attend a meeting in Canberra Tuesday to discuss the Labor Party's decision on Prime Minister Menzies' proposal to form a National Government. The Labor Party reply will subsequently be discussed at Government and party meetings. Parliament will reassemble Wednesday.

WORKER KILLED IN VALLEYFIELD BLAST

Valleyfield, Que., Aug. 25.—(P)—Leger Cote, twenty-six, was killed last night in an explosion described by officials as minor, in the nitro-cotton pirating house at a Government-owned explosives plant operated by Defence Industries Limited near here.

One other employee was slightly injured. Damage, confined to one building, was slight, and officials said repairs would be completed within a few days.

BRITISH TAKE FOOD TO IRAN

Simla, India, Aug. 25.—(P)—British troops entering Iran are carrying food supplies for the population, British sources said today, because the country is reported in a state of near-famine from heavy German food requisitioning, presumably for storage.

Every precaution has been taken to handle Iranian resistance, it was stated.

A statement issued by Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's headquarters said the British-Russian advance into Iran was decided upon to prevent the Germans from using the country as a base for attacks on Russia, India and the Moslem Middle-East. It gave no details.

PLANS CVANNED POTATOES Bridgewater, N.S., August 25.—(P)—Canned potatoes are the latest wrinkle in the food preservation campaign in Great Britain, and a Nova Scotian has the patent for the scheme.

Japanese Attack British Pledge To Aid United States In Orient

Tokyo, August 25.—(P)—The Japanese press today vigorously attacked the speech of Prime Minister Churchill in which he promised aid to the United States if attempts to stop Japan's expansion are not accomplished peacefully.

The militaristic Daily, Kokumin called the address a "propaganda plot."

The less radical Nichi Nichi also attacked the speech and declared Japan had carried out her Southward advance because Britain had attempted to disturb Japan's aims to settle the Chinese affair. Nichi Nichi said Japan never had intended to create difficulty in the South Seas, but simply had reacted against British manoeuvres.

Declaring Mr. Churchill's speech was propaganda based on threats, Kokumin said the Prime Minister's purpose was to estrange Japan from Thailand and cause a split in the Axis camp by saying that American Japanese negotiations were underway.

The paper reiterated charges that British troops were menacing Thailand, and that continued "British harping" on Japan's advances was for the purpose of concealing manoeuvres to encircle Japan.

WASHINGTON KEENLY INTERESTED

Washington, August 25.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill's pointed emphasis on the delicate situation in the Far East attracted much attention here today. Some sources thought Mr. Churchill appeared to intimate that the danger of trouble

DUKE VISITING UNITED STATES CAPITAL TODAY

Duke of Kent Has Busy Schedule Arranged Following Brief Visit with Roosevelt at Hyde Park.

By J. F. SANDERSON (Canadian Press Staff Writer) Washington, Aug. 25.—(P)—A special train sped toward the capital today, bringing the Duke of Kent and President Roosevelt here after a week-end of relaxation at the President's Hyde Park, N.Y., home on the Hudson River.

No newspapermen were permitted to enter the Hyde Park grounds during the week-end and what the Duke and Mr. Roosevelt discussed was a secret. There was nothing to indicate, however, that the Duke went to the Roosevelt estate on anything more than a social call.

There was none of the fanfare which came with the visit of the King and Queen a little more than two years ago. The Duke was greeted at the Roosevelt home Saturday night by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt and sat down to a family dinner.

The Duke arrived in New York Saturday in a Royal Canadian Air Force bombing plane from Oshawa, Ont. He was greeted by Mayor LeGuarda and a crowd of four thousand by automobile.

He will fly to Baltimore Tuesday, come back to Washington in the late afternoon to attend a cocktail party at the National Press Club. Before taking a train for Canada Tuesday night, he will receive, at the British Embassy, the members of Empire diplomatic staffs in Washington.

Reds Claim Counter-Attacks By Massed Tanks And Cavalry Halt German Drive Along Wide Front

Moscow, Aug. 25.—(P)—General Red army counter-attacks with large tanks, masses of infantry and swift-striking cavalry were reported today by the Russians as Soviet naval forces claimed the sinking of two out of four heavily laden German troops and munitions transports in the Baltic Sea.

The Russians said that one Rumanian and two German divisions were routed and that three other Rumanian divisions lost 25,000 men.

Besides the two transports an escorting destroyer was sunk, the communiqué said. Of the two other transports, one was set afire and the other grounded, it was stated.

One Nazi division was said to have been routed in the fiercely-contested Leningrad sector by a Soviet tank attack across a battlefield carpeted with German dead.

Another, the Russians said, was smashed back in the Gomel sector of the Central Front in a terrific Sunday-dawn assault by Russian tanks and infantry supported by Red air fleet bombers.

The Rumanian losses were reported in the last-ditch battle for Russia's Black Sea port of Odessa while farther East in the Ukraine Red army cavalry units were hurled into the fight for vital bridgeheads in the Dnieper river bend.

The Soviet Bureau of Information reported today that heavy fighting continued throughout last night in the Kakkami and Novgorod approaches to Leningrad and near Dnieperopetrovsk, Red Army foothold on the West bank of the Dnieper river.

During the week-end intermittent rain and fog set in around low-lying Leningrad—frequenters of the usual September and October rains which precede the Northwest Russian snows of November.

A Moscow communiqué indicated the assault on Leningrad from the North had been renewed yesterday in a drive toward Kakkami in the Northeastern sector of the heavily-fortified Karelian Isthmus.

Russian military dispatches pictured the Nazi push toward Leningrad from the West and South as checked by a Red army defence so strengthened that the Russian forces were counter-attacking successfully.

A dispatch to the Government newspaper Izvestia reported that massive Russian tanks rumbled, burned and smashed with shells 135 lighter German tanks and led the way in beating back a division whose losses were described as heavy.

The Red army apparently still held just East of Kingisepp, less than seventy-five miles from Leningrad, and near Novgorod, 100 miles Southeast of the heavily-fortified port.

Red Star, organ of the Red army, credited Soviet General Konev's forces in the Gomel area between Smolensk and Kiev with hurling back the Nazis there in a plane-supported assault which was said to have left more than one hundred German armored vehicles and cars wrecked and flaming like torches.

South and East of Kiev the Red army was reported battling desperately to save Odessa and the big hydro-electric power centre, Dnieperopetrovsk, at the Dnieper bend.

Russian forces were reported holding the West bank of the river in a strong rear-guard action, and Russian cavalry recaptured one town.

Reports reaching Moscow indicated that most of Marshal Semeon Budenny's Ukraine army had withdrawn successfully to the fall of France. Russian defence positions.

The Red army acknowledged withdrawals closer to pocketed Odessa, but said Rumanian forces were paying a tremendous price for their gains.

French Minister Will Remain In Dominion, Prime Minister States

London, Aug. 25.—(C.P. Cable)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, after spending what he called a "very interesting" week-end with Prime Minister Churchill, said today that Rene Ristelhueber, Vichy Government Minister to Canada, would continue to hold his present position at least for the present. He did not elaborate.

OTTAWA REVIEWS STATUS Ottawa, August 25.—(P)—Indications that Prime Minister Mackenzie King discussed with British leaders the status of Canada's relations with the Vichy Government were seen here today in the statement of Mr. King that Rene Ristelhueber, French Minister to Canada, would continue to hold his present position at least for the present.

When Mr. King left Canada on his bomber flight to Britain observers noted he took with him Brig. G. P. Vanier, former Canadian Minister to France and Norman A. Robertson, Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs. Both men are well versed in matters relating to Canadian-French relations.

Status of the French Minister to Canada has been the subject of questions in the House of Commons since the capitulation of France to Germany and has been of particular interest since the Vichy Government announced its policy of collaboration with Germany.

Mr. Ristelhueber was named French Minister to Canada March 11, 1940, and presented his credentials here on June 3, 1940, only a few weeks before the fall of France. Since then he has been living quietly here, continuing his official duties.

Last May 19, in reply to a question by T. L. Church, Conservative Member of Parliament for Toronto Broadview as to whether the Government would "give further consideration to the immediate closing" of the French legation here, Mr. King said "the Government is in constant touch with the Government of the United Kingdom in respect to the question of relations between the Vichy Government and Germany."

POLIO SUSPECTED IN NOVA SCOTIA Amherst, N.S., Aug. 25.—(P)—Nova Scotia's first suspected case of infantile paralysis since the New Brunswick epidemic started was reported here Saturday.

Bobby Smith was taken to hospital where he was placed in an iron lung. A pathological report on his case is awaited.

WAR BULLETINS

Cairo — Patrols of Empire troops from the besieged port of Tobruk, Libya, were described by the British Middle East Command today as active "despite continuous enemy artillery and mortar fire."

The garrison, a constant menace to Axis supply lines to the Egyptian frontier, was by-passed in the German-Italian drive Eastward last April and has held out since against attacks by both land and air.

Rome — British planes dropped explosive and incendiary bombs on Tempio, near Sassari in Sardinia, Saturday night, the Italian high command reported today. It said one civilian was killed and four were injured. Damage was described as slight.

Berlin — Nazi sources declared today that Great Britain was "undeniably guilty" of assault on Iran and had delivered a neutral country over to Bolshevism.

"Iran's neutrality cannot be doubted," they added.

The limousine of the Iranian Minister to Berlin was seen in front of the German foreign ministry

FRESH WAVE OF SABOTAGE HITS OCCUPIED ZONE

Automobile Load of Germans Smashed into Cable Trap in Paris — Wholesale Arrests Fail to Halt Trouble.

Vichy, Aug. 25.—(P)—Five acts of sabotage against railways in the Paris area in the past two weeks were disclosed by French authorities Sunday as an automobile full of Germans smashed into a cable trap in a Paris suburb.

Fernand de Brinon, Vichy Government representative in Paris appealed to railroad workers not to endanger thousands of lives by sabotage. He said Communists had received their activities and blamed them for the railway damage.

Pierre Pucheu, Minister of Interior, also blamed Communists for disorders he said were planned to paralyze the Government by provoking Nazi reprisals.

German occupants of the car which drove into a cable stretched across a street were said to be injured.

It was the first incident since German authorities announced that all Frenchmen arrested since the armistice would be held as hostages to be punished for any crimes against the forces of occupation.

Guards also have been reported drafted for the railways in Occupied France to be held responsible for sabotage.

Those cornered in the bombing of the Vichy Synagogue August 10th were reported to have been members of the pro-Fascist Jacques Doriot Youth Movement.

Booming Mere Lark, Canadian Prime Minister Maintains

Mackenzie King Announces Intention of Visiting More Units of Canadian Armed Forces During Visit to Great Britain—Spent Quiet Week-End at Country Home of British Prime Minister.

By R. K. CARNEGIE (Canadian Press Staff Writer) London, Aug. 25.—(CP-Cable)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King smiled broadly today when Canadian newspapermen surrounded him and inquired how he had enjoyed his visit Saturday to a Canadian military sports meet where he was given a mixed greeting of cheers and boos.

"Enjoyed my visit very much," he said, still smiling. Of the boosing, he said: "It was a usual sports event where both sides were free to express their own views."

The Prime Minister said he would make further visits to Canadian troops and also visit Canadian naval personnel in Britain as soon as possible. He also will attend his second War Cabinet meeting and later will sit in at a meeting of the committee of the main cabinet.

"After my four days here and my conferences with Mr. Churchill and others, who have spared no pains to give me all the information about everything we discussed, I am deeply impressed with how fully and accurately my colleagues and myself in Ottawa have been advised on all these matters," he said.

Mr. King spent the week-end with Mr. Churchill and listened in an adjoining room while the British Prime Minister broadcast to the world yesterday.

"I thought it was the best broadcast the Prime Minister ever made," Mr. King remarked. "It was most significant and most important."

Mr. Churchill's other week-end guests included Lord Beaverbrook, whose return to Britain from Canada and the United States announced Sunday, and Capt. Elliot Roosevelt, son of the President. Mr. King said he had several long conversations with Mr. Churchill's other week-end guests of the war effort.

Mr. King said he enjoyed a brisk walk in the country Sunday, and replying to a question whether there were any dogs at the home he was visiting, he told reporters who knew of his fondness for dogs that one of Mr. Churchill's daughters had a French poodle.

"It was a delightful little fellow," he added. "While he didn't go walking with me, I talked to him a lot."

A member of the Prime Minister's party said Mr. Churchill wore an ingenious blue suit for country loafing. Made of light woolen material.

Churchill Serves Blunt Warning Against Added Aggression Upon Tokyo

Promises that Great Britain Will Range Itself Alongside United States in Event of Peaceful Settlement of Far East Difficulties Fall—Issues Message of Cheer to People of Conquered Europe.

JAPAN TO TOLERATE ARMS SHIPMENTS TO PORT OF VLADIVOSTOK

Shanghai, Aug. 25.—(P)—A French dispatch from Tokyo quoted well-informed quarters today as saying the Japanese Government had decided to tolerate temporarily the passage of United States war materials to Vladivostok.

The shipments, which must go through waters controlled by the Japanese Navy, the dispatch said, will be used as a lever to obtain relaxation of United States economic restrictions on Japan.

Japan was expected to seek a Moscow guarantee not to use American arms against Japan, according to this source, and not to participate in the alleged British-American encirclement.

SOLDIER DISLIKES ARMY GUARDBOUSES

Brantford, Ont., Aug. 25.—(P)—Military authorities here said last night that Pte. Albert Warwick, of Paris, Ont., member of the Elgin Regiment now stationed at Sussex, N.B., has escaped from military custody for the fifth time in recent months.

He escaped from the New Brunswick camp recently and was taken into custody in Paris Saturday. A few hours later he was free again after breaking out of a guardhouse.

His rejoice to find that President Roosevelt saw in their true light and proportion the extreme dangers by which the American people are now beset," he said.

His reference to Japan won most of the comment in the British newspapers today.

The Japanese, he said, "now stretch a grasping hand into the Southern seas of China. They snatch Indo-China from the wretched Vichy French. They menace by their movements Siam. They menace the Singapore link with Australasia and menace the Philippine Islands which are under the protection of the United States."

"It is certain that this has got to stop. Every effort will be made to secure a peaceful settlement. The United States are laboring with infinite patience to arrive at a fair and amicable settlement which will give Japan the utmost reassurance for her legitimate interests. We earnestly hope these negotiations will succeed. But this I must say, that if these hopes should fail we shall, of course, range ourselves unhesitatingly at the side of the United States."

Mr. Churchill said the meeting with President Roosevelt represented the forces of "two major groupings of the human family who happen to speak the same language."

In this meeting, the English-speaking nations took up "the guidance of fortunes of the broad, tolling masses in all continents," he said.

"In Europe," Mr. Churchill said, "awful and horrible things are happening in these days. The whole of Europe has been wrecked and trampled down by the mechanical weapons and the barbaric fury of the Nazis."

Some of his most trenchant prose was used in describing how Hitler turned on Russia.

"Here is a devil," he said, "who in the mere spasms of his pride and lust for domination can condemn

British Press Supports Stand of Churchill On Eastern Situation

London, Aug. 25.—(P)—British newspapers today gave top play with welcoming headlines to Prime Minister Churchill's blunt warning to Japan that the "race" to Thailand, Singapore and the Philippines "has got to stop" and the declaration that if United States negotiations with Japan fail "we shall of course range ourselves unhesitatingly on the side of the United States."

Morning newspapers carried the speech under such captions as "Churchill's 'Stop' to the Japanese" in the Daily Mail; "Premier's 'Keep Out' Warning to Japan" in the Daily Herald; "Japan Is Warned 'Stop Threats'" in News-Chronicle; "One by One, Trickery—Why Hitler Has Not Made War on the U.S." in the Daily Express.

The tabloid Daily Mirror was critical in an editorial of Mr. Churchill for not telling the public "What we can do, what we are doing, what we may be able to do to help Russia."

Declaring the moral of the Churchill message was to "get on with full mobilization of our forces," the Daily Mirror editorial said "Symbolic meetings, brave messages to fallen peoples, picturesque accounts of nautical encounters will not conquer those bestial forces so vigorously denounced once again by Mr. Churchill."

"They will be defeated only by machines more powerful and more numerous than they themselves possess."

But other newspapers hailed the speech as one of the Prime Minister's best. "Never has Mr. Churchill spoken more firmly," said the Daily Express.

CHURCHILL SPEAKS

Any hopes the Japanese may have held that they could use the policy of divide and conquer to remove the Western Powers from their positions in the Far East was effectively dispelled by the blunt warning issued during the course of this Sunday afternoon address by Prime Minister Winston Churchill. He indicated that there were still hopes that the Japanese leaders would learn sense before it was too late, but declared plainly that if the United States were unable to bring a peaceful solution out of the present negotiations, they would have the whole-hearted support of the British Government and the British people in any move of force they might find it necessary to take.

Exactly what effect this warning will have on the Japs is so far uncertain, but during the course of the past few days a much milder tone has been noted in Japanese Government and propaganda circles. True, the old cry against encirclement has been continued in certain sections of the press, but with decreasing strength and certain actions of the Japanese officials, especially in connection with the detention of United States citizens have been decidedly conciliatory. However, this does not warrant any decreasing vigilance in this section of the world, and Prime Minister Churchill makes it clear such vigilance will be continued.

To the people of the subjugated nations of Europe, he offers a definite hope of eventual restoration of their freedom and independence, although he admits that the way ahead may be long and the path hard. What could be clearer than his words: "The ordeals, therefore, of the conquered people will be hard. We must give them hope. We must give them the conviction that their sufferings and resistances will not be in vain. The tunnel may be dark and long, but in the end there is light."

"That is the symbolism and that is the message of the Atlantic meeting. Do not despair, brave Norwegians: your land shall be cleansed, not only from the invader, but from the filthy quislings which are his tools. Be sure of yourselves, Czechs: the heroism of your people, standing up to cruel oppressors, the courage of your soldiers, sailors and airmen, shall not be forgotten. Your country shall live again and resume its rightful part in the new organization of Europe."

"Lift up your heads, gallant Frenchmen: not all the infamies of Darlan and of Laval shall stand between you and the restoration of your birthright. Tough, stout-hearted Dutch, Belgians, Luxembourgers. Tormented, mishandled, shamefully cast away peoples of Yugoslavia, Glorious Greece, now subjected to the crowning insult of the rule of the Italian Jackanapes: yield not an inch. Keep your souls from all contact with the Nazis. Make them feel, even in their fleeting hour of brutish triumph, that they are the moral outcasts of mankind. Help is coming. Mighty forces are arming in your behalf. Have faith; have hope. Deliverance is sure."

To the people at home and in the scattered parts of the Empire, he also had a message of cheer and optimism. In no way did he seek to minimize the difficulties ahead. But there was a note of better feeling underlying his entire remarks, as if the British situation had improved materially in recent months, especially in regards to the transport of supplies from the United States, his story of the huge convoy passed while on the return trip to Great Britain definitely indicating that the Nazi surface, undersea and aerial raiders have by no means gained control of the Atlantic, although the very fact that he and President Roosevelt were able to hold this conference on the high seas was in itself ample indication of the fact that the democracies still controlled the seas.

His message was not one to call for complacency but rather one to call for even greater effort in order that full advantage might be taken of the gains made to date.

EATING FOR HEALTH

By Grenville Kleiser.

Eat at regular times, and, if you don't feel hungry, don't eat at all. Some people get very anxious if their appetite fails; they try to stimulate it by the use of highly flavored sauces and hot condiments. This is real folly. The hot sensation—sometimes almost painful—that is felt in the mouth and throat from these artificial stimuli is not confined to the mouth and throat; the mucous membrane of the stomach is likewise irritated, and frequent use of such condiments will in time set up serious trouble.

We all know the stories about the hot-tempered, unreasonable Anglo-Indian colonel who lives on curry and pickles. He is a fictional character, but he is nevertheless a warning; for living on over-flavored dishes does affect the liver, and, therefore, the temper.

You know the old saying: "Is life worth living? It depends on the liver." So it does, for an unhealthy liver literally does spoil life. And hot-flavored dishes set up liver diseases which affect one's whole outlook and conduct.

If you are a person who normally has a big appetite, so that you feel you really need a lot of meat and bread to satisfy hunger, your best plan is to begin a meal by filling up on such satisfying but healthy foods as potatoes, green vegetables, brown bread, oatmeal porridge, apples, vegetable soup.

The hardy Scottish peasant lives mainly on porridge; the Irishman can live quite happily on potatoes. Porridge and molasses, or brown, un-refined sugar, makes an excellent start to the day for the abnormally hungry man. If he goes on to brown bread and butter and plenty of fruit, he will find that his hunger is satisfied and his activity unimpaired. Similarly, at dinner, vegetables and fruit should largely replace the heavy meat course and rich dessert.

The ample drinking of water is both healthy in itself and a stay to hunger. Some frugal persons have lived for days at a time on water alone; it is one of the first prescriptions for people who are trying to reduce obesity. So, as to the "When"; eat regularly; do not force yourself to eat; do not eat when you are over-tired, over-hurried or agitated.

As to the "Where?" the answer is: "At home, if you can; out-of-doors, if you can." Home meals are one of the features of home life. Eating at home, you know you are eating wholesome food, not the reheated odds and ends of a common kitchen.

You can arrange your diet more easily than you can when you eat in a restaurant. Fresh fruit and vegetables, for instance, are not always to be had in public eating-houses, and, when they are, it is at a prohibitive price. Besides, the air of such places is often oppressive, over-heated, laden with the smell of cooking and dishwashing. In itself it is enough to destroy appetite.

But at home, you are among quiet, familiar surroundings; the atmosphere is generally one of peace, not the frenzied clatter and bustle of a town restaurant; you can forget business worries, relax your mind; if you are lucky, you can take your selected meal in pleasant company, in peace, and in the open air if the weather permits.

FROM THE RECORD FILES OF THIRTY YEARS AGO

The Canadian Pacific Railway has formally obtained an operating interest in the Quebec Central Railway, it was announced by officials of the latter concern in Sherbrooke. The first move will be the transfer of the head office of the company from London to Canada.

Local citizens who spent the holiday season at the Maine Coast beaches were given rather rough treatment on their way home when customs officers dumped their baggage off at Coaticook owing to a dispute between the customs department and the Grand Trunk Railway over a bonded baggage building in Sherbrooke.

As an aftermath of the prolonged drought which seriously reduced the level of water in the wells, several cases of typhoid are reported in the district.

With the selection of Georges Boivin as Liberal candidate in Shefford County, the line-up of political aspirants has been completed and interest now centres on the visit of Prime Minister Sir Wilfrid Laurier to the district during the next few days.

The reconstructed His Majesty's Theatre has been re-opened in Sherbrooke, offering a variety programme of vaudeville and motion pictures.

Thomas Brock of Denison's Mills was slightly injured when he fell fifteen feet from the barn while unloading grain.

PRESS COMMENTS

IS JAPAN WORRIED BY U.S. EMBARGO?

Washington "Merry-Go-Round" Best guess as to why the Japanese have not been scared by Roosevelt's embargo on gasoline and lubricating oil is that this embargo is almost exactly what he put into effect one year ago. Being slapped twice on the same wrist doesn't worry Tokyo.

As revealed conclusively in this column last year, a majority of the Roosevelt cabinet persuaded him in August to embargo all oil (not merely gasoline and lubricating oil, but even crude oil burned by the Japanese navy). Roosevelt was up in Hyde Park at the time, and the embargo was put over by Secretary Morgenthau, who lives next door to him in Dutchess County.

Roosevelt actually signed "a oil embargo order. But when it got down to the Secretary of State, who officially promulgates all executive orders, he protested so vigorously that Roosevelt changed his mind. Only aviation gasoline was embargoed.

However, the Japanese merely set up their own refineries and added tetraethyl to ordinary gasoline. Thus they got plenty of aviation gas, plus all other kinds of oil not affected by the embargo. Foreign oil companies in Japan were required to keep a year's supply on hand and domestic use was severely rationed. Also a lot of aviation gas was bootlegged and United States officials did almost nothing to stop it.

So the slap on the wrist Japan got one year ago merely warned her to set up refineries and lay in extra supplies for the slap she got a couple of weeks ago. In the interim, she had imported not merely one year's supply of gas and oil, but nearly two years' supply.

One year ago, the United States Navy estimated that it would take Japan four to five months to conquer the Dutch East Indies. But Japan at that time had only oil on hand to last her two and a half months. Today it might take Japan even longer, perhaps six months, to conquer the Dutch East Indies—but she has nearly two years' supply of oil with which to do it.

REAL FRANCE IS NOT VICHY

New York Herald Tribune Those little men of Vichy who presume to speak in the name of a great nation have done infinite harm to the material position and the good name of France. They have aided France's enemies and traduced her friends and their power for evil is not yet extinct. But the real France, the France that will some day, when Hitlerism is crushed and the Quislings of all nations are but a shameful memory, rebuild what her cowards and traitors today permit to be torn down, still survives with splendid tenacity. Just a little while ago, amid the chorus of vituperation aimed at democracy and its defenders by the reptile press of Paris and the Vichy puppets, the voice of that real France made itself heard.

Charles Spinasse, ardent supporter of collaboration with Germany, and prophet of a Nazi victory, told in his newspaper "L'Effort" of a conversation he had with a French peasant, eighty-two years old, to whom three wars between Germany and France were tragedies of vivid memory and personal sacrifice. M. Spinasse relates that he told this old man that the Germans would soon win the campaign in the East, and that "one of the essential supports of Anglo-Saxon resistance would disappear." The peasant raised his head, said M. Spinasse, and, his voice trembling, asked: "Then, if we are beaten, what will become of France?"

There is a world of meaning in that "we." It bridges the tragic gulf that has opened between official France and the friends of France since the armistice at Compiègne. It shows the voice of a wounded soldier who leaves the battlefield while his comrades continue the fight. That is the real France; that is the France on which free men must fix their thoughts while the men of Vichy seek to plunge the land they misgovern ever deeper into the mire of Hitler's unspeakable "new order."

One by one they went. Only Rudolf Hess was left. The rest were known for what they were, ambitious, self-seeking men who would stand by their Fuehrer, not so much through personal affection, but just as long as it served their interest. Who could make a friend of Goebbels? He was too useful to lose, but had he not once proposed that Hitler should expel from the party? Goering must be watched too. The rumor always was that he had a fancy for the crown himself. Party Comrade Hess was the last and the best.

WHAT HITLER WANTS FROM THE U.S.

The Detroit News In view of the attitude of some persons and newspapers—especially newspapers—on the matter of aid to Russia, it seems to us the apparently crucial importance of the Russian fighting cannot be emphasized too often. The outcome of this campaign easily could be decisive of the ultimate outcome of the war and of the world's future for years to come. It seems essential that this be realized, so that the American attitude on aiding Russia may remain completely practical and unaffected by feeling, merited as that is, against Communism and the Stalin regime.

It is evident that if the Germans can overcome Russian resistance and install a subservient regime at Moscow, the British blockade of Europe in effect will be broken. Russian resources, of both men and materials, are vast. At the command of the Berlin government, they might be organized, after a time at least, to supply virtually everything blocked Europe now lacks.

That is crucially important, because the blockade has been the main British reliance for victory. Without its help to weaken Germany's war machine, hopes of invading the continent and whipping Hitler there must be termed slight. Proof of that is found in Hitler's own failure to cross the Channel just a year ago now when the British were relatively unprepared to oppose him.

The war would not be over, if Germany should succeed in subduing the Russians. But the chances would be heightened for a stalemate, resulting at last in a negotiated peace. Such a peace well might leave the unconquered Nazis dominant on the Continent and still master of a supine Russia. Hitler's power then would overshadow the world.

So it seems desperately important that Russia be given ungrudgingly whatever aid is needed and possible to bolster her resistance. Probably not much can be given, it is true. But the mere readiness to give is important enough, since Russian popular morale may determine the extent and duration of Russian resistance.

If the Russian people are encouraged to keep fighting in the face of military reverses, the Nazi conquests will be the costlier and their exploitable value so much the less—just as with Japan in China. The blockade will remain at least partially effective.

It seems vital that American aid to Russia, to the extent it practically can be given, be on substantially the same footing as a willingness. A grudging response, a willingness to see Russian Communists take a licking is—however natural and appealing—precisely what Hitler expects and wants of us.

HITLER AND HESS AND SOME OTHERS

London Evening Standard There is an old German song of the last war. It goes, "I had a comrade, a better never was." Adolf Hitler and Rudolf Hess must have sung it together a thousand times. For their friendship began in the trenches, and from that day they shared together every circumstance in the rise of the Nazi party, every defeat and every victory. "I had a comrade" was the favorite song for celebrations.

Not so many others joined in these carousals with the same generous intimacy. Perhaps only one, Captain Roehm was a member of the circle. He had found Hitler in the gutter and gave him his first chance. He worshipped the Fuehrer; even after they had quarrelled, his allegiance was not broken. In 1930 he was active in the trenches, and in Bolivia. A message came from Hitler inviting him to come to Germany and take charge of the storm troopers. Within twenty-four hours he was on his way. He did the job, raised a street army of 600,000 men, lifted the Fuehrer to absolute power—and was struck down dead in a Munich prison yard for his pains.

Karl Ernst was another comrade. He was young, enthusiastic, doglike in his faith. He did not lose it even in the hour of his death. He was still shouting "Heil Hitler," when they shot him. For he only believed that only rebels against the Fuehrer would dare or desire to touch a hair of his head.

One by one they went. Only Rudolf Hess was left. The rest were known for what they were, ambitious, self-seeking men who would stand by their Fuehrer, not so much through personal affection, but just as long as it served their interest. Who could make a friend of Goebbels? He was too useful to lose, but had he not once proposed that Hitler should expel from the party? Goering must be watched too. The rumor always was that he had a fancy for the crown himself. Party Comrade Hess was the last and the best.

He is gone now. The Fuehrer has garnered victories and vast conquests. He can have all the pomp and circumstance that he wants. He is cheered by vast multitudes, but is still alone. Friendship has been murdered.

PSYCHIC NO TRUMP DISCOURAGES PAIR HOLDING GAME BID

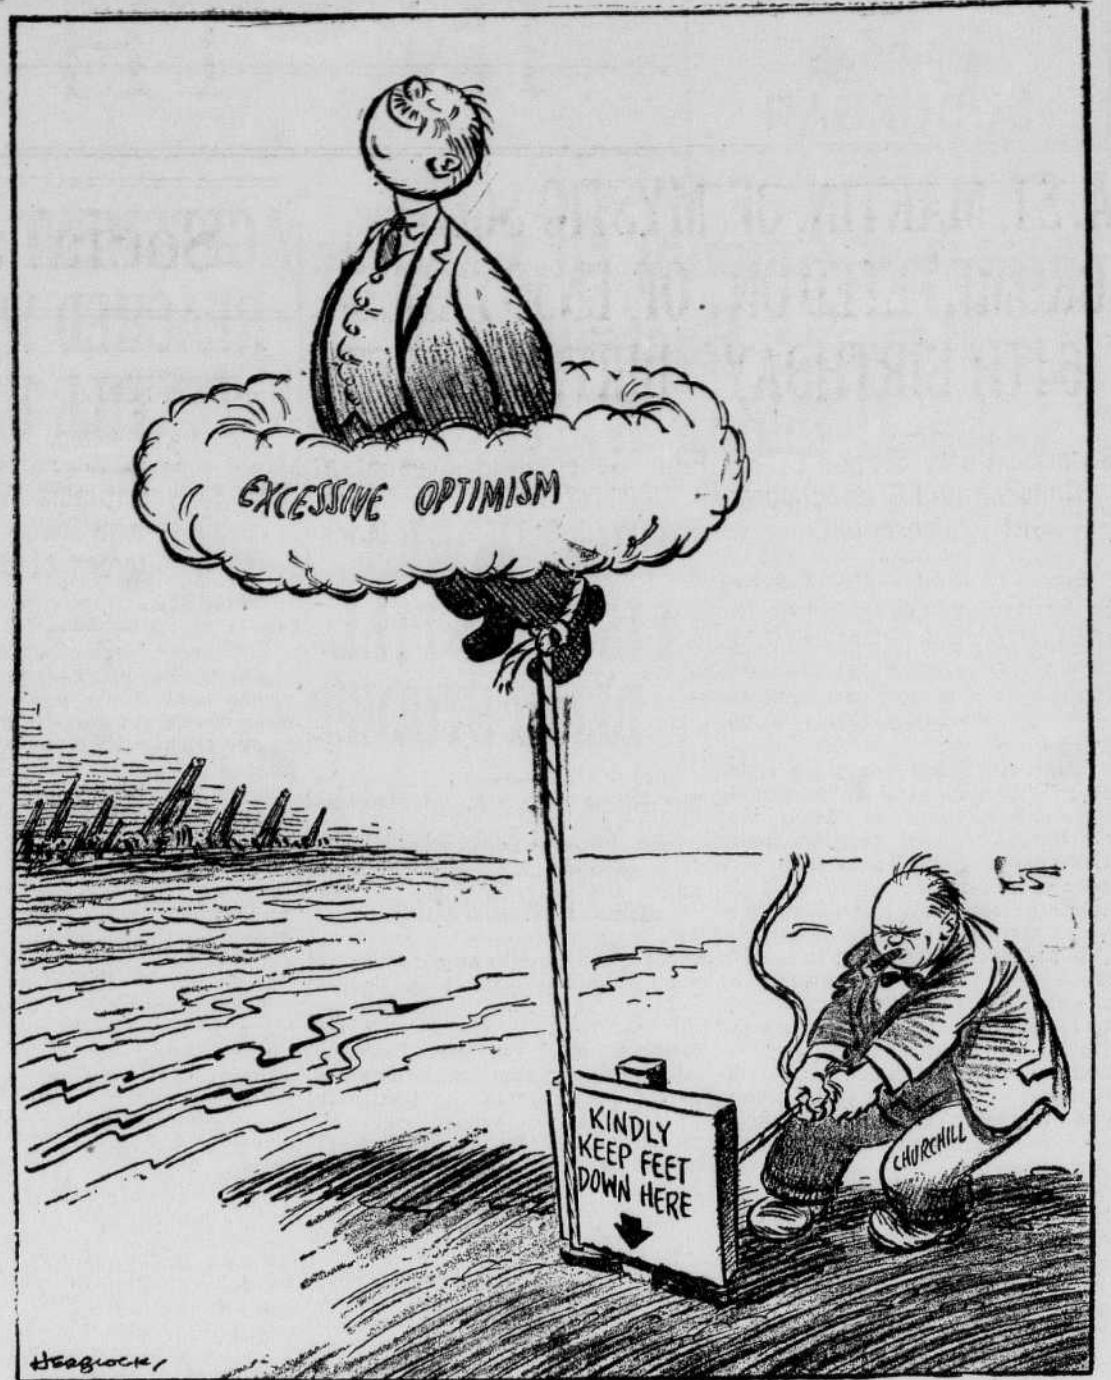

Our foursome stopped at Phoenix, Ariz., on our transcontinental bridge tour. I was pleasantly surprised at the large number of fine bridge players here. We visited with Vinton Hammels, who has come to Asbury Park, N.J., several times to participate in the summer session of the national tournament.

In our conversation with him, the theory of weak no trumps again came up. Hammels was immediately interested in the idea. He loves to bid. I recall a psychic bid that won him a top score at Asbury Park a couple of years ago.

After West overcalled South's opening bid with one spade, Hammels, sitting North, saw that his length in diamonds depreciated the defensive value of the suit against spades. If South could not win two or three defensive tricks in spades, outside of diamonds, then East-West could make four spades. To discourage this adverse game bid, Hammels bid one no trump.

After East passed, South saw that North might actually have a spade stopper, plus good diamond

THE NEW AIR PROBLEM

HAVE A SMILE

A party of very small evacuees were playing in the park, watched over by a girl of twelve or so. One of the toddlers was proving very tiresome, and at last the older girl lost her patience.

"You seem to me," she said coldly, "to be the kind of person which has never had nobody to tell them when not to do nothing."

After six months at a new factory, the superintendent developed a feeling that he wasn't popular, so he called aside an old worker.

"Bill," said the superintendent, "how is it the men don't seem to like me? Why, at the last place they gave me a silver teapot when I left."

"Only a silver teapot?" said the candid worker. "If you'd only leave here we'd make it a whole silver tea service."

After a lesson on gods and goddesses of olden days, the schoolmaster began asking a few questions.

"Now, who was Bacchus?" "Answer there was none! So he tried again."

"Come, come, Mars was the god of war; Venus was the goddess of love; Bacchus was the god of—" he paused invitingly.

"Bookmakers?" suggested one bright lad.

Obviously very proud of their new dog, they were showing off his good points to a visitor.

"Mind you," said the man of the house, "I know he's not what you might call a thoroughbred, but he's a splendid house-dog. No tramp or burglar could get near the house without him letting us know about it."

"What does he do?" asked the visitor. "Bark the house down?"

"Well, er—no; he crawls under the bed."

A soldier on the march felt something in his boot. His toe became painful and he was limping badly by the time he got back to camp.

He took off his boot and sock to bathe his blistered foot and found lodged in the toe of the sock a pellet of paper, on which was written: "God bless the soldier who wears these socks!"

MYSTIC SCENE OF ENJOYABLE BIRTHDAY FETE

Four Generations Present at Celebration Saturday Night of W. L. Smith's 80th Anniversary.

Mystic, Aug. 25.—The family of W. L. Smith of this village gathered at the home of his eldest daughter, Mrs. G. L. Bockus, to celebrate his eightieth birthday on Saturday evening.

Cards were enjoyed during the evening after which refreshments were served from a buffet table attractively dressed with an ecrú lace cloth centered with a bouquet of mauve and yellow gladioli and yellow taper. A toast was proposed to Mr. Smith by his eldest grandson, Royce Smith, following which a poem especially composed for the occasion was read by Reg. Corey. This was suitably replied to by the guest of honor, who related several interesting experiences obtained during his intimate contact with the people of the farming communities during his forty-three years of commercial work in the Province of Quebec. For the past twenty-five years Mr. Smith has been associated with the firm of Beatty Brothers Ltd., in whose employ he still is.

This gathering was unique in that there were four generations present, namely his five children, four grandchildren and his two great-grandchildren.

After the presentation of his birthday gifts the evening was brought to a close with the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

INEXPENSIVE DRESSING TABLE

A most attractive dressing table can be made from a few yards of material, a shelf, an enamel mirror and an inexpensive stool. Have the shelf (it should be about eighteen inches wide) built under a window. Curtain the window with full, stiff folds of a sheer lace net to afford plenty of light and complete privacy, and fasten a billowing skirt of the same lace net around the shelf. The shelf itself can be finished to match the mirror, and the stool covered with a fabric matching or harmonizing with the general color scheme.

THIS WILL IMPROVE A BUS DRIVER'S DISPOSITION

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
If the man of your house drives a car, truck, bus or trolley car for a living, his job exhausts both his physical and nervous energy, and it's up to you to restore it daily by feeding him the foods that will help keep him fit, and from having one, dodging Sunday drivers and jay walkers.

Use the "Nutrition Yardstick" as a basis for your menus, which means you'll get milk, eggs, fruit and vegetables in each day's meals, as well as meat or other complete protein three times a day.

The average vehicle driver needs from 2700 to 3400 calories a day and from 66 to 72 grams of protein daily to repair nerve and body tissues, so make up your menus with your husband's job in mind—here is one for a day to serve as a guide:

BREAKFAST: Half grapefruit, pork sausages, baked cakes, maple syrup, coffee, milk.

LUNCH: Lamb stew, salad greens with lime mayonnaise, baked stuffed apples with cream, milk.

DINNER: Bean soup, hamburger steak with onion sauce, mashed potatoes, green beans, fresh fruit, coffee, milk.

Diagrams Show Easy Way to Play Mellow Guitar

Music-Maker Always Welcome
Portrait of a popular man! A nice grin—and irresistible guitar! No wonder the guitar is so often chosen by those who learn an instrument. You can teach yourself with simple directions and, for the melodious chords that accompany a song, you needn't know a note.

Popular sheet music has diagrams that picture the guitar fingerboard—the vertical lines are the strings, the horizontal lines the metal frets, as in the diagram with our picture.

To play a chord, just press the strings of your guitar with your left hand where the dots on the diagram indicate, while with your right hand you pluck the same strings, also the strings marked "O," over the sound hole.

Your fingers soon get "educated," specially with instruction diagrams showing by number what fingers to use, as does our diagram for the G7 chord.

Soon, what a repertoire you have! Our 32-page instruction book explains easy fingering for right and left hands, tells how to find notes on guitar, hold and tune it. Gives table of chords.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "Easy Lessons in Guitar Playing" to Daily Record, Home Service, Sherbrooke, Quebec. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

ANGORA TIP

To discourage angora garments from excessive shedding of hairs, wrap the sweater, mittens or whatever in plenty of tissue paper and place in the refrigerator several hours before wearing. This may not entirely eliminate shedding, but should lessen it considerably. Be sure to wrap the garment carefully, so the angora will not shed into the food.

OBITUARIES

MISS PATRICIA MASKELL
The funeral of Miss Patricia Maskell, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maskell, Laurier Avenue, was held at the late residence on August 6th. Miss Maskell met her death in an automobile accident at the early age of twenty years.

Born in Sherbrooke, Pat, as she was affectionately called, was loved by all who knew her. Her ever ready smile and happy disposition endeared her to young and old alike.

A service was held by the Daughters of England Lodge, Caroline No. 13, of which she was a member, the members singing "Forever With the Lord." The funeral service was then conducted by Rev. Robert Weaver, assisted by Lieut. Osborne Craig, of the Salvation Army. The beautiful hymn "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" was rendered.

Interment took place in Elmwood Cemetery. The beautiful flowers testified to the love and esteem in which she was held.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her sorrowing parents, an aged grandfather, Mr. Joseph Claydon, several aunts, uncles and cousins in England and Canada, besides a host of friends.

The casket was tenderly borne by six cousins, Ernest Taylor, Irving Richards, Leslie Humphries, Raymond Thorne, William Ross and Ben Ross.

Relatives from out-of-town attending the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maskell, of Marlton; Mrs. William Maskell, of Cookshire; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maskell, Mr. and Mrs. Emard Locke, Mr. Oscar De Blois, Miss Betty Ann De Blois and Mrs. Willie Aulis, of East Angus.

HENRY HAWKINS, WATERLOO, FORMERLY OF KINGSBURY.
Kingsbury, Aug. 25.—Mr. Henry Hawkins died suddenly, after a few days' illness, following an operation in the Montreal General Hospital on August 7th.

The deceased was born in London, England, in 1869, coming to Canada in 1887. He was first employed on a farm at Melbourne Ridge, once more returning to the homeland, where he remained but a short while. He returned to Canada and entered the employ of Harke Wells and later worked for Coppington Brothers, of Boscobel, for an extended period.

In 1907, he married Miss Elzina Allard. They purchased a farm in West Ely, which they carried on for twenty years, but finally disposed of it and went South to California, returning after three years to go into the store business in Kingsbury with the late W. E. Solomon. After a few years, Mr. Hawkins became sole owner of the business, which was carried on during the remainder of his stay in Kingsbury.

During his stay in this village, Mr. Hawkins was a prominent figure. His business brought him into contact with many classes, who respected his honesty, friendly personality and ready help. As a citizen of the village, he was associated with the moral, social and political life and was a member of the Council and School Board and several times slated for mayor, but declined the office.

In the fall of 1939, tiring of their long years of serving the public, Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins retired to Waterloo, selling their business in Kingsbury and buying an attractive home there. It was with much regret their many friends in Kingsbury saw them leave, but they jointly kept in touch with one another. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins having spent a couple of days in the vicinity but two weeks prior to Mr. Hawkins' death.

The funeral was held in the United Church, Waterloo, on Sunday, August 10th. The service was in charge of Rev. Mr. Parsons, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Mr. Huxtable, of Granby, and Rev. Victor Buchanan, of Kingsbury.

The church was filled with sorrowing friends from Montreal, Richmond, Windsor Mills, Lake Megantic, Abbotford, Melbourn, Ridge, Shawing and Kingsbury. The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

The bearers were James and Robert Kerr, John McMorino, of Kingsbury, Walter McMorino, of Richmond, Rothwell Beers and Alec Johnson, of Melbourn Ridge.

The funeral was under the management of Mr. Patterson, undertaker.

Mr. Hawkins is survived by his widow, to whom a wide circle of friends extend their sincere sympathy.

Save Gasoline

Shortcuts to a 50% SAVING (Approved by Automobile Experts)

Reduce driving speed from 60 to 40 on the open road.
 Keep spark plugs and valves clean.
 Check cooling system: overheating wastes gasoline.
 Maintain tires at right pressure.
 Lubricate efficiently: worn engines waste gasoline.
 Drive in groups to and from work using cars alternate days.
 For golf, picnics and other outings, use one car instead of four.
 Take those short shopping trips ON FOOT and carry parcels home.
 Walk to and from the movies.
 Your regular service station man will gladly explain these and other ways of saving gasoline. Consult him.

Hitting 60, 70 or 80 is only a passing—and oftentimes dangerous thrill. And it's wasteful of gas at a time when this precious fuel is so urgently needed for our Fighting Forces. So forget fast driving: honour your 50/50 Drive instead. Walk more: drive less—and drive slower, even on the open road: a steady 40 gets you there and gives you more miles per gallon.

REMEMBER: The slower you drive, the more you save!

Spare and Share your Gasoline for VICTORY!

Cote And Charest Save Day For Sherbrooke By Keeping Doubles Crown

Cote-Charest Duo Stops Pierre Ringuet and Yvan Pepin, of Drummondville, 7-5, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2 in Final Round—Jeanne Larose, of Waterloo, Captures Ladies' Singles Laurels—Miss Larose and Ringuet Victorious in Mixed Doubles Final.

Three titles were decided yesterday in the Eastern Townships Tennis Tournament as the final matches were run off before large galleries at the St. Francis Golf and Tennis Club courts beyond Victoria Park yesterday afternoon.

Visiting players built up an edge over the homesters as out-of-town combinations carried off the ladies' singles and mixed doubles championships. Sherbrooke was kept in the picture as a local duo won the men's doubles. An all-Sherbrooke final is assured in men's singles, so the city will break even on the round score.

Majella Charest and Yvan Cote scored a four-set victory over Pierre Ringuet and Yvan Pepin, of Drummondville, to retain the doubles title they won for the first time last year. Jeanne Larose, of Waterloo, disposed of Andree Trigranne, of Sherbrooke, in straight sets to gain the ladies' championship, and also teamed up with Ringuet to knock off the mixed doubles crown with a three-set triumph over Louise Trigranne, of Sherbrooke, and Pepin.

Miss Larose made short work of Miss Trigranne, losing only two games as she won the first set at love and the second 6-2. She displayed too much all-round ability for the Sherbrooke girl, out-hitting her time and time again and showing neat placement ability.

In the mixed doubles final the Pepin-Trigranne combination took the first set 6-4, dropped the second 3-6 and then came back to win the third and deciding fixture 6-2.

Long rallies, hard smashes at the net and stinging drives featured the men's doubles final, in which scores were 7-5, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2. The hard-fought first set was a thriller all the way, with the experience of Cote and Charest standing them in good stead. Taking the second set easily, the Sherbrooke team looked sure bets for a sweep, but Pepin and Ringuet turned on the heat to win with the loss of only two games.

Coming out after the rest, Cote and Charest wheeled into high gear, and Charest's drop-placements plus sizzling sawtooth drives gave them a 5-0 advantage. Then, with Pepin playing a sensational game at the net, the Drummondville boys fought back to capture two games in a row, but could not sustain the hard pace.

In Saturday's matches Majella and Carmen Charest defeated Mr. and Mrs. Rene Simard 6-2, 6-4 and then bowed to Jeanne Larose and Ringuet 10-8, 6-2. Miss Larose won her way to the ladies' singles final by disposing of Louise Trigranne 8-6, 6-1. Cote and Charest downed Ashley and Johnny Hibbard 6-4, 6-3 and then outlasted Andre and Jean Panetton in a grueling five-set struggle. They lost the first two sets, 7-3 and 5-7, but came through with flying colors to walk off with the next three 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

Lucien Goyette and Yvan Cote will tangle in a men's singles semi-final on Thursday night, with the

U.S. AMATEUR GOLF TOURNEY STARTS TODAY

145 Sharpshooters Entered in First Eighteen Holes of 36-Hole Qualifying Test at Omaha, Neb.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 25.—(AP)—They got down to shots that count in the United States National Amateur golf tournament at the Field Club today.

With 145 sharpshooters entered in the first 18 holes of the 36-hole qualifying test, there were many opinions concerning the number of strokes it would take to earn one of the 64-match play positions and there were equally as many choices for the eventual settlement of the championship Saturday.

Charles (Chick) Evans, 51-year-old Chicagoan who has won more matches in National Amateur competition than any other player, chose Johnny Goodman, the stocky native son who won the tournament in 1937.

Dick Chapman, now U.S. Army athletic officer, is back again for another title effort on his own course. Shooting erratically in early practice rounds, he fired a one-under-par 71 in his final practice round.

Rated along with Goodman and Chapman were Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., the 1939 title winner; Ray Billows, the New York salesman who won the Great Lakes Invitational Tournament last week, and Harry Todd, the lanky Texas shooter.

Montreal and Buffalo Closest Together — Royals Gain Four-Game Lead by Topping Chiefs as Bisons Lose Twice.

The International Baseball League ends its 58th season in two weeks and from the way things look now the eight clubs will be hard pressed to keep the fans interested until the Governor's Cup play-offs start.

As a result of Sunday's games, there is no longer any contest, speak of for any position. Closest together are Montreal Royals and Buffalo Bisons, second and third in the standings. Montreal gained a four-game bulge yesterday by shipping Syracuse Chiefs 2-0 while the Bisons were losing a double-header to Rochester 9-2 and 8-3. At the same time, Newark's league-leaders knocked off Jersey City twice, 4-0 and 4-2, so that the Bears won't have to do much more than play out the season in order to cop the pennant and the Jerseys have only an outside chance to break into the playoffs.

Even the cellar championship was virtually settled when the seventh-place Baltimore Orioles bowled over Toronto twice, 8-3 and 3-0, to go 9 1/2 games up on the Leafs with 20 to play.

During the next two weeks, the four first-division teams will play from 14 to 16 games each and 500 ball will be good enough to keep any of them in their present positions.

Saturday, Orin Collier limited Toronto to three hits while Baltimore belted Carl Fischer for ten safeties to take a 7-2 victory. Bill Harris, 41-year-old pitcher-coach, outlasted 19-year-old Chet Kehn, Montreal's rookie mound star, in a pitcher's battle to give Jersey City a 4-2 triumph over the Royals.

Newark lost a battle of home runs to Rochester 5-3. Buffalo swept a three-game series by taking both ends of a double-header with Syracuse 2-1 and 5-1.

JONES REGAINS TOUCH AGAINST RYDER CUPPERS

Golfdom's 39-Year-Old Elder Statesman Defeats Henry Picard to Lead Team to Victory in Two-Day Charity Match.

Detroit, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Bobby Jones, golfdom's 39-year-old elder statesman from Georgia, was back in the thick of his former glory today when he 2-and-1 victory over Henry Picard turned the tide against Capt. Walter Hagen's Ryder Cup team in a two-day charity match at the Detroit Golf Club.

The stocky Georgian, once master of them all, emerged from virtual retirement after ten years and yesterday provided the ounce of inspiration that hoisted his team of challengers to an 8 1/2-to-6 1/2 victory—the first ever scored over Hagen's Ryder Cuppers.

Jones was four down at the end of the first nine holes, but that was the depth of his humility. He fought back to even terms at the 18th and moved ahead 2 up in the next nine. Once again on the homeward stretch he lost a hole, but made it up to close out the match on the 35th.

Other victors for the challengers were Craig Wood, National Open champion, who drubbed Vic Ghezzi, National P.G.A. title-holder, 3 and 2; Ben Hogan, who defeated Byron Nelson, 2 up; Jimmy Demaree, winner over Paul Runyan, 5 and 4; Clayton Heafner, who defeated Horton Smith, 7 and 6, and Denny Shute, who downed Harold (Jug) McSpaden, 4 and 3.

WINS REGATTA CLASSIC Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Joe Taggart, Canton, O., speedboat driver who won the United States National Sweepstakes, holds the Class "A" 225-cubic-inch championship of the International Speedboat Regatta.

Taggart drove his hydroplane, Tommyann III, to straight heat victories yesterday against a field which included many of the other leading United States and Canadian racers in the Sandy Beach Yacht Club's regatta on Niagara River.

People you know: Al Schacht will miss his first World Series in 21 years this fall; he's heading for Hawaii instead. Word from Milwaukee is that Lou Novikoff will be recalled by the Cubs as soon as the Brewers finish their American Association schedule, even though Lou's fielding has left a lot to be desired. Russ Van Atta, former Yanks' and Browns' pitcher, is a candidate for sheriff in Sussex County, N.J.

31,000 Watch Daffy Dodgers Retain Lead Over Cardinals

Ninth-Inning Single by Pitcher Whitlow Wyatt Gives Flat-bushers 3-2 Victory in Nightcap After St. Louis Wins Opener 7-3 at Ebbets Field—Yankees Cut Down Second-Place White Sox 5-1 and 8-5 in American League Battles.

Long after this season is over and the stirring struggle of St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers for the National League pennant has been settled, one thrill will remain memorable for 31,000 baseball fans.

For the fanatics packed into Ebbets Field at yesterday's crucial doubleheader between the foremost rivals of the senior circuit the season reached a high point when Whitlow Wyatt singled in the ninth inning to snatch a 3-2 victory away from encroaching darkness and save Brooklyn's game and a half lead over the Cardinals, who had swept majestically to a 7-3 triumph in the first encounter.

It was a finish lifted right out of a scenario. The teams were playing for big stakes and the St. Louis victory in the opener had cut the Dodgers' lead to half a game temporarily. Wyatt, a grand veteran, was wrapped in a breathless pitching duel with 20-year-old Howard Pollet.

This, Wyatt's 17th victory, put the Dodgers back in a commanding position for the rest of this series, a game today and another tomorrow. The Cards hammered out a dozen hits, including seven doubles, in winning the first game. They did everything right and Eddie White, their southpaw star, pitched steady, nine-hit ball for his 16th victory. They showed they were a dangerous, capable crew in clubbing Kirby Higbe off the scene in less than three innings. But they needed both games badly.

Cincinnati Reds, coming fast but probably too late, gained a game on both the leaders by trouncing New York Giants 13-9 and 6-4. Supposedly a weak-hitting club, they made 33 hits in the two games.

The flying Phillies cut down Chicago Cubs twice, 8-5 and 7-6, while Pittsburgh Pirates split with Boston Braves. Boston took the 12-inning opener 4-3 and Pittsburgh the nightcap 7-3 in six stanzas.

New York Yankees showed any doubtful American Leaguers that they still are boss by swamping the second-place Chicago White Sox 5-1 and 8-5.

St. Louis Browns put Washington Senators through a 4-1 10-inning wringer to bounce from the cellar into sixth place as rain postponed the second game of their scheduled doubleheader.

Al Benton pitched Detroit Tigers to a 7-4 decision over Philadelphia Athletics and Cleveland Indians downed Boston Red Sox in a double bill 4-3 and 5-2.

In Saturday's games in the National League, the Phillies beat the Cardinals 4-2. Cincinnati walloped Boston 7-2 for their 12th victory in 14 games. Claude Passeau won his 12th of the season as Chicago belted the Dodgers 7-1. The Giants broke a three-game losing streak by taking the opener of a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 5-3. Toronto 0, Boston 7-2 for their 12th victory in 14 games. Claude Passeau won his 12th of the season as Chicago belted the Dodgers 7-1. The Giants broke a three-game losing streak by taking the opener of a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 5-3. Toronto 0, Boston 7-2 for their 12th victory in 14 games.

In the American League, the Yankees defeated Cleveland Indians 7-2 on Lefty Gomez' six-hit performance. Johnny Humphries of the White Sox turned in his third consecutive shut out as he smothered Boston Red Sox 3-0.

Detroit beat Washington Senators 6-5 and the Browns won their 11th game in the last 16, excluding two games, by defeating Philadelphia Athletics 6-1.

Well, the Yankees, are in. . . Joe McCarthy, who usually is the last to admit it, come out in the open Saturday when he benched a couple of regulars with the explanation: "They won the pennant and so are entitled to a short layoff". . . Looks as if the National will keep going, as usual, right to the last minute.

Word from Detroit is that there'll be plenty of axe work on the salary list if the Tigers don't make the first division. Cleveland writers now are calling 'em "Pack's Bad Boys," and a tipoff on the Tribe's collapse is that Jimmy Dykes does his managing from the bench against all the other clubs but gets out in the coaching box against the Indians to make sure they won't miss one of his cracks.
