SAUVE HAMMERS THE LIQUOR ACT

Merchants Refused Payment For Their Stocks Cannot Sue Liquor Commission

A vigorous criticism of the Quebec Liquor Act was voiced in the Legislative Assembly yesterday by Mr. Arthur Sauve, leader of the Opposition, who brought to the attention of the House complaints that have been made by former liquor merchants whom the Government has refused to pay for stocks of liquor which were taken over last year.

The complainants, Mr. Sauve said, had no recourse because article 12 of the Liquor Act made the members of the Liquor Commission immune from legal prosecution. The Government, of course, refused to pay for the liquor in question on the grounds that it was unfit for sale. This, Mr. Sauve said, was months after the liquor had been taken over, and the dealers maintained that the Government had stored these liquors in warehouses which were improperly fitted up for the storage of liquors, with the result that it affected the quality of the liquors.

Mr. Sauve wanted to know if these merchants would be given fair play. He affirmed that the people of the Province of Quebec were living under an iron rule and not under a regime of liberalism which meant liberty and fair play. One would think that it was war time in the Province of Quebec. We are submitted to the censure of a government by a Commission created by a "Rite Cromwell", he said. "I am not referring to the 200 orders-in-council of the Taschereau Government in 1921. I speak of the commission and the difficulties which are met with to secure protection against the errors and the abuses. I know that the Attorney General has been asked permission to sue the commission. Has he refused?"

Premier Taschereau in reply said that there was an article in the law which obliged those who wanted to sue the Liquor Commission to get permission from the Attorney General. He said that such a provision existed in all countries under British rule, permission had to be received to sue the Crown. The law had been in operation since the 1st of May 1921 and he asked the Leader of the Opposition to cite a single case where such permission had been refused. Speaking of the warehouse in which wine had been stored the Premier said that experts were agreed that it was an ideal place for the storage of liquor. The Commission had been as generous as possible in buying stocks from the merchants and the result was that stocks were taken over which should never have been bought. The Commission was blamed when it did not deserve blame. The Government acquired a lot of liquor which it did not want to put on the market. Some wine had been sold that possibly should not have been sold, but there were large quantities that would not be sold. He said that the Government would not deprive any citizen of the Province of his rights. Anyone who showed that he had a real grievance and asked permission to sue would be given permission.

Mr. Sauve in closing the debate said that the Commission had exorbitant powers and even went beyond them. He had been told by competent persons that the warehouse at Pointe aux Trembles was not suitable. The point was that after the wines had got bad owing to improper storage the commission had refused to pay for them. The merchants did not sue because they could not.

On another motion for the production of correspondence Mr. Sauve said that last summer he had accused the Quebec Liquor Commission of having broken the law by granting selling licenses in municipalities which were under prohibition, and he particularly referred to Wolfe County.

Premier Taschereau said that in many cases the Commission had been misled by the Secretaries of

FAMOUS PLAYERS OFFER REWARD

$2,500. For Information Resulting In Conviction Of Taylor's Slayer

Los Angeles, Feb. 14.—The Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, of whose studios Wm. Desmond Taylor was Director in Chief, announced late today through the District Attorney that it would pay a reward of $2,500 to the person or persons furnishing information resulting in the arrest and conviction of Taylor's slayer. It was requested that all communications and all information of this subject be sent to the District Attorney.

Questioning of witnesses in matters connected with the slaying was continued today at the offices of District Attorney Woolwine, with no definite announced results.

One of those questioned was a man reported to have said he was near the Taylor house on the evening of February 1 and heard a shot shortly after which a woman left the place. The man, according to the report, said he was handling illicit whiskey and decided he had better get away from the neighborhood. When questioned, however, the man said this was only the story told him by another person and that he did not hear the shot himself or see any one leave the Taylor place, the District Attorney said. He promised to help detectives locate the persons who, he said, told him the story.

A Sex Yarn?—San Francisco, Feb. 14.—A statement that he met two armed tramps at Lathrop Junction near Tracy, Calif., last December and they notified him that they had been hired to go to Los Angeles and kill a motion picture director by the name of Taylor, was made to Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson today by a man giving the name of Charles Carson, who said he was a sea captain sailing out of the port of San Francisco. Matheson is inclined to doubt his story.

Carson said he knew one of the tramps, whom he called Bill Burns. Burns was wearing a cartridge belt and holster containing a loaded pistol. Later he saw Burns and his companion and another man leave in a railroad car in the direction of Los Angeles.

SUSPEND ACTION AGAINST GANDHI

In View Of Announced Cessation Of Campaign Of Civil Disobedience

London, Feb. 14.—The British Government's proceedings against Mohandas K. Gandhi, leader of the non-cooperationists in India, have been suspended, in view of his announced cessation of the campaign of civil disobedience. Announcement of this effect was made in the House of Commons this afternoon by Edwin S. Montague (Secretary for India).

Municipalities. In each case he said, when it was found that there was a prohibition by law the selling permit was annulled. He assured the Leader of the Opposition that in no case did the Liquor Commission voluntarily break the law.

The David bill to authorize the establishment of professional courses in municipalities was passed in committee of the House and given third reading.

NO DISORDER OR SETTLEMENT

Second Day Of Strike In The Cotton Mills Of New England

Boston, Feb. 12.—The second day of the strike of the operatives in cotton mills in New Hampshire Textile centers and in Lowell, Mass., passed without either disorder or any indication of a move toward settlement. The fact that the workers in New Hampshire were as much disturbed by the increase of six hours in their working week as by the wage reduction averaging 20 percent which went into effect in many New England mills this week, was indicated in a statement by a union leader at Manchester tonight.

This leader, James Starr, Vice-President of the United Textile workers of America declared that the operatives would hold out against the return of the 64 hour week if it took six months. The Amoskeag mill of Manchester, employing about 15,000 workers and the largest mill affected by the strike is shut down, together with the Stark mill.

Two cotton yarn mills at Fitchburg were added today to the list of those which have announced wage reductions. The employees continued at work.

There was no call today for services of the National Guard troops held in readiness in Rhode Island to quell possible disturbances in connection with the strikes in that state which have been in progress for three weeks.

SHOOTING ALL THROUGH DAY

Four Persons Killed And Many Wounded Yesterday In Belfast

COLLINS TO CONFER

Tells Churchill Can Secure Immediate Release Of Kidnapped Ulsterites

London, Feb. 14.—Shooting continued throughout Tuesday in Belfast. Four persons were killed and many wounded. The total casualties since last Saturday up to tonight were 22 persons killed and more than sixty wounded. The wounded do not embrace cases of many persons suffering from minor injuries.

The British troops were brought into Belfast today to restore order. They hardly had assumed their duties before one of the soldiers was shot and wounded.

In the political sphere the principal news of the day was an announcement by Michael Collins, head of the Provisional Government in Ireland, to Winston Spencer Churchill, the British Secretary for the Colonies, that Mr. Collins was in a position immediately to secure the release of a number of the kidnapped Ulsterites. Mr. Collins started from Dublin for London tonight in order to consult with the British Government on the situation.

The general convention of the Sinn Fein has been set for February 21 and it is considered in political circles here that a majority vote in favor of the treaty between Ireland and Great Britain will result.

Snipers Continued.

Belfast, Feb. 14.—Snipers continued their grim work in the disturbed sections of Belfast this morning and by mid-day the death toll since Saturday had increased to eighteen by the deaths of two men who fell victims to the flying bullets in the streets during the noon hour.

The number of wounded at the same hour had reached the total of approximately fifty.

In the main thoroughfares of the city business proceeded apparently as usual but in the storm centres the sniping was frequent and dangerous.

The two men killed were a truck man, who was shot in the back while driving a lorry and died soon afterwards, and George Harper, aged sixteen, who was hit by a bullet while standing at a street corner and instantly killed.

Shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon heavy bursts of fire occurred in the Falls Road district, the shots coming from the death toll section in Northumberland Street in the Sinn Fein quarter. Gunmen in the latter quarter immediately retaliated and a fierce revolver duel continued for a considerable period.

Shots were fired into Royal Ave. the main thoroughfare of Belfast, then crowded with shoppers. One man was wounded, and the driver of the car was hurled down the road to carry him off reported the ambulance had been fired upon.

Previously a man had been found dead in Little York street, the nineteenth victim of the fighting.

A large body of troops appeared on the streets of Belfast late this afternoon. They were the first to be sent here since the renewed outbreak of fighting began.

Forty-two of the kidnapped Ulster Unionists, it was stated, today, have requested Premier Craig of Ulster to liberate immediately the Monaghan football players held prisoners in Ulster, the Unionists declaring they themselves would be held captive until the football prisoners were released.

Lively Words.
Ennis, Ireland, Feb. 14.—Lively exchange of words marked the opening of the inquest here today on the bodies of the four special constables who were killed during Saturday night's disorders at Cloness.

Coroner James Milligan referred to the Ulster Volunteer movement as creating the present situation. He was warmly taken to task by a jury man, while another juror said all the trouble rested on Mr. Lloyd George, whom the juror called a "weak-backed premier." If there was Christianity in the South of Ireland he added, this would never have happened.

The Coroner decided to admit the reporters but exclude the general public.

A force of police was detailed off to prevent any but authorized persons gaining access to the Court Room. Rev. Father Delorme, half brother of ten murdered men, who entered in Court building by a back entrance unnoticed, was the first witness called. He was cross-examined by J. C. Walsh, K.C., acting Crown Attorney on points in the evidence taken at the last hearing.

Mr. Walsh announced before he began asking questions that he was representing the Attorney-General's Department at Quebec.

Abbe's Evidence
Mr. Walsh asked the Abbe to repeat the story of the events which had transpired on the day young Delorme disappeared. The witness said that his brother told him on the afternoon of January 6 that he was going out and asked him for $20. The young man had $5. in his pocket and some imitation money such as was used in business courses in commercial colleges, Raoul also

FATHER DELORME ARRESTED FOR THE MURDER OF RAUL

Is Held Criminally Responsible For Younger Half Brother's Death—Missing Will Located—Priest's Principal Beneficiary Of Dead Youth's Estate—Circumstantial Evidence

(By Canadian Press)

VERDICT CORONERS

JURY RENDERED.

Montreal, Feb. 14.—Charged with murder Rev. Adelard Delorme, chaplain of L'Assistance Publique, was tonight held at Detective Headquarters for preliminary hearing in the Arraignment Court tomorrow, following the finding of a verdict by a Coroner's jury that he was responsible for the death of his younger half brother, Raoul Delorme, a student attending Ottawa University, whose body with the head riddled with bullets and wrapped in a cover from an automobile and the hands tied with twine was found in the early morning of Jan. 7 at Snowdon Junction, a lonely suburb of this city.

The verdict of the Coroner's jury completed a session replete with dramatic moments experienced by a little coterie of newspapermen and police officials. The general public was excluded because it was impossible to accommodate the crowd that collected to hear the evidence and in the expectation that something sensational would follow this afternoon's inquiry. Father Delorme, who himself took the witness stand and repeated his account of what he knew of his brother's movements on January 6, when, he said, the boy left home for an evening's enjoyment, after which he did not see him again, was the central figure in the early part of the session. His evidence was given coolly and he answered questions of J. C. Walsh, K.C., M.P., appointed by the Attorney General's Department at Quebec to conduct the examination of witnesses, fully and carefully.

Excitement grew when Mr. Walsh began to ask the Abbe about his brother's will, which up till today had been missing, though the police had searched sedulously for it. Father Delorme announced that the will was at a local notary's and when it was secured he suggested it be not read because, if it were found that he benefited by it, his position would be peculiar. The contents of the will were divulged and Father Delorme was found to be the principal beneficiary of young Delorme's estate, producing over $10,000 a year. M. Walsh called police officers after this and amidst a tense silence got them to outline how they had investigated the crime and built up their case so that Father Delorme came into it. Finally, charging the jury, Coroner MacMahon, in a solemn period, warned them that there was one aspect of the case they must not overlook. He told them that though they were French Canadians and Roman Catholics, they must not let these facts influence them in considering a case where crime had been committed. They must not be influenced either by the fact that a priest and a servant of the Church might be affected by their verdict.

Following the announcement of the verdict, Father Delorme was led into the office of Coroner MacMahon where his fur coat and beaver cap had been placed. Shortly afterwards he was escorted downstairs, passing through the ranks of police officials and newspaper representatives, smiling and bowing right and left. A Ford automobile of the Police Department was waiting outside. Father Delorme entered first, followed by Chief Lepage of the city detective department, Chief Lorrain of the Provincial Police and Detective Rioux of the Provincial Police. They must not let these facts influence them in considering a case where crime had been committed. The Abbe said that the expenses just about rate up the income. Many repairs were needed to Raoul's property. Debts to be settled had reached $16,000 and these were met from the income of the young man's insurance policies placed upon Raoul some weeks before his death, asked: "Did you ever see your brother's will?"

The priest replied that he had never read it although it has been in his possession.

("The police had searched high and low for this will but without success.")

Father Delorme said that Raoul's annual income was $10,212. Mr. Walsh asked how much the young man had saved.

his evidence about the insurance of Raoul for $25,000, said he suggested to the agent that he should get a rebate of the premium as a present. This was agreed to, but he (the Abbe) made out a cheque for the full amount and the rebate was handed to Raoul as a present. Mr. Father Delorme, after repeating

LENINE AND ELECTRIFICATION

Long Talked Of Scheme For Russia Appears To Be Taking Form

Stockholm, Feb. 14.—Premier Lenine's long talked of scheme for the electrification of Russia appears to be crystallizing into action and if the present plans announced by officials of the Soviet government go through Sweden will be engaged in turning out high-power turbines and other electrification materials and machinery for several years to come.

In order to fill contracts said to have been entered into by the biggest electrical works of Sweden, the Swedish manufacturers will have to purchase enormous quantities of raw materials from the United States where they are already buying a great deal of copper for Sweden's own electrification projects.

Professor Crastio, head of the Russian Department of Electrification, recently arrived at Trollhaettan, in central Sweden and began negotiations with Gunnar W. Anderson, head of the large industrial combine which is now delivering locomotives to the Soviet government for the purchase and delivery of turbines and other needed machinery for the Russian power stations to be constructed within the next few years. Trollhaettan is one of Sweden's largest manufacturing centers.

While the details of the Russian order cannot be given at this time, it is said that three of Sweden's largest mechanical works will have to be pressed into service to meet the Russian contract. Professor Crastio said the Russian electrification plan involves the building before 1930 of about 10 large power stations with a total of 1,000,000 horse power.

One of the largest of these power stations is to be located at Wolchow about 70 miles south of Petrograd. Two stations are to be constructed on the Swir river between Onega and Ladoga lakes.

The Russian electrification plan contemplates also the erection of a large number of steam power central.

Should this ambitious scheme of the Russian Soviet government go through as scheduled it is likely that Swedish electrical and mechanical engineers will be drafted to install the machinery in the Russian power stations.

MUCH TYPHUS AMONG POLES

Who Are Being Repatriated
From Russia Through Border Camp

Warsaw, Feb. 14.—Government inspectors say there is much typhus among the thousands of Polish men, women and children who are being repatriated from Russia through the camp at Baranowice, near the Polish-Russian border. The disease, they assert, is becoming more widespread as it does each winter as the cold weather sets in.

Repatriation of the Polish population which was withdrawn by the Russian armies in 1915 in their retreat is scarcely half finished. It began last July. Estimates of the number to be repatriated vary from 500,000 by the Polish Commission to 1,300,000 by the Russian evacuation commission. It is estimated that more than 300,000 already have passed through the Baranowice camp alone and that the total number returned to date is approximately 450,000. The care of these people is in the hands of the Polish government aided by several welfare organizations.

These refugees have been dying in such numbers at the Baranowice camp that the authorities have found it necessary to bury the victims in great trenches. Of 62,000 who passed through the station in November, it is estimated by Polish health officials that 1,500 died after reaching the camp. Doctors attribute the majority of deaths to disease contracted enroute and brought about by exposure and lack of proper nourishment.

"Diapiesin" for Bad Stomach, Indigestion

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapiesin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief. This harmless antacid helps digest anything you eat and overcomes a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach in five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your druggist a sixty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin. There will be no sour risings, no belching or undigested food mixed with acid, no gas or heartburn, no fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, no nausea, headache or intestinal griping. Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this food fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or indigestion.

FATHER DELORME HELD FOR MURDER

Walsh next conducted the priest through his evidence about the revolver he had in his possession. The priest said he had fired some five or seven rounds at a target as practice. He said he could not remember how many bullets remained.

Mr. Walsh again reverted to the will drawn by Raoul. It was drawn prior to his undergoing an operation in Ottawa. The witness said that he did not read the contents and took it to Notary Belanger. He left it with an employee there. He did not recall his name.

MacMahon asked the witness if he had ever heard the contents of the will after it had been drawn. The priest said he had and he had not. He had heard that one of his sisters got a certain property. He could not recall whether there was a name on the envelope containing the will. Notary Belanger was called and ordered to produce the will. He left for his office to do so.

City Detective Lajoie examined the revolver found in the Abbe's possession. He said he found six cartridges in it.

Bullets Same Calibre

After Chief Lepage had produced a number of bullets Dr. Derome, City Autopsist, swore he found them in Raoul Delorme's body. Detective Lajoie swore the bullets exhibited were of the same calibre as those of Father Delorme's revolver. The officer repeated his evidence about finding apparent blood stains on the cushions of the Abbe's car, which he handed to Dr. Derome for analysis.

The officer also said he found a coverlet at Abbe Delorme's home, similar in make to that which covered the dead man's head.

He had found feathers under the seat of the priest's car and a similar feather was found on the cloth wrapped around the head of the body. Twine like that used to bind Raoul's hands had been found near Father Delorme's home.

Dr. Derome swore he had found human blood on a seat and two cushions of Father Delorme's car. He had also found a soap stain in the rear car seat, similar to the spots found on the cloth wrapping the head. He also found grease spots on a cloth in the Delorme garage, similar to those on the cloth which wrapped the head. The cushions of the car indicated that the rear seat cushion of the car had been washed with soap, evidently to remove blood stains.

Notary Belanger appeared in the Court at this point with the will. He said that Father Delorme had phoned him on the morning of January 7 the day following the murder to ask about what the will contained. The will was handed to Coroner MacMahon.

The document showed that Father Delorme was made Chief Executor and administrator. A first class funeral and 1,000 low masses are ordered. Bequests to sisters are: Florence Delorme, sister, $1,000 in six years; Lily Delorme, $1,000 in seven years; Claudia, $1,500 in eight years; Rosa, property on Amherst Street.

Father Delorme is given property on Dorchester Street, Amherst Street all personal property, cash and clothing. The will was witnessed by L. Rheume and M. A. Renaud, M.D.

Father Delorme demurred at the contents of the will being made public. He said: "You see if I get the bulk of the estate, or only a small portion of it, it might create a peculiar impression. Coroner MacMahon decided that the will must be read out in open Court, and did so.

Detective Lajoie testified that with the gunsmith who sold the revolver found in the Abbe's car, he had experimented in firing a number of shots. They found that the bullets bore the same barrel markings as those taken from the victim's head.

Arthur Lalonde, a clerk in the office of notary Belanger, said that it was to him the priest gave his brother's will. Chief Lepage was called and asked by Mr. Walsh: "Did you have anything to do with Father Delorme in regard to the cushions and coverlets?"

The Chief replied: "Yes, on January 21, with two detectives, we called on the priest and asked permission to search his place. He did not object. We began in the garage. We saw a Franklin car there. We found the covers or quilts and cushions shown here as evidence."

Father Delorme said this cover had been used on camping trips. In the rear of the seat we found a box containing ball bearings. We also found a number of feathers caught in a greasy clump. We asked permission to take these articles along with us and permission was granted."

Coroner MacMahon: "Did he give an explanation about any of them?"

Durable Feathers
The Chief said that Father Delorme said the feathers came from live chickens which he carried in the car.

Detective Rioux of the Provincial Police said that, when he asked the priest about the will, he replied that he knew nothing about it.

Mr. Walsh asked Detective Pigeon who had accompanied Chief Lepage to Father Delorme's home, if the priest had said when he carried the chickens in the car.

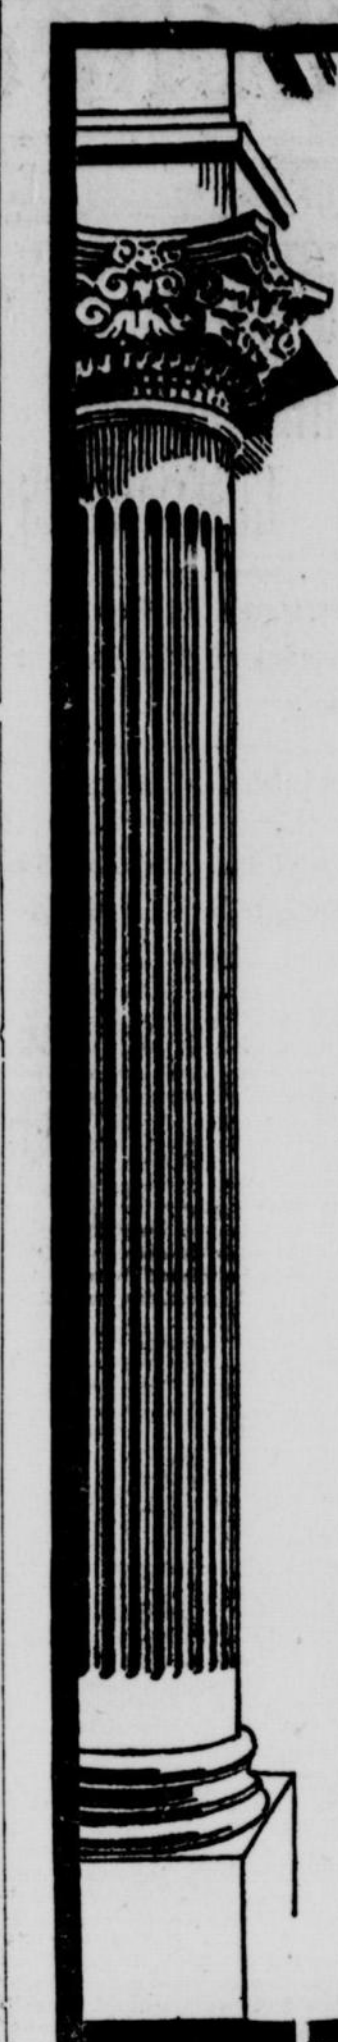

The officer replied that the priest said last summer some time.

"And they remained there right through till January," remarked Mr. Walsh. The witness said he had also spoken to Father Delorme at the will and received three different versions as to its whereabouts. First the priest said that it was in Ottawa; second that it was with notary Belanger, and thirdly that he did not know where it was.

Chief D. D. Lorrain of the Provincial Police also told of different versions about the will given by the priest.

He phoned Father Delorme about it on one occasion. The priest said that the Coroner must be a liar to say that he (the Abbe) had seen the will and knew that it was at notary Belanger's office.

Father Delorme at this point jumped to his feet and asked the Coroner if he could make a statement.

ment. Permission having been granted, the priest said: "What I said was that the Coroner would have lied if he had said the will was in my possession. I disagree on this point with the Chief. Furthermore, I am too delicate to call you a liar, Mr. Coroner."

"A mere detail," remarked Mr. Walsh.

Detective Pigeon said that he brought the body to the morgue, where he searched it. He found a watch chain broken as if the watch had been torn from the pocket. There was practically no money in the pockets, though a pocket book was undisturbed.

Accused's Biography

Rev. Adelard Delorme is 37 of age, having been born in Ste. Anne des Plaines, Que. His first schooling was at the village school and later he went to Ste. Therese College. He then came to Montreal, where he studied Theology at the Montreal Grand Seminary, Sherbrooke Street West. We have ordained several years ago and went to the parish church of Ste. Anne des Plaines as vicar. He remained there until 1915 when he was transferred to the church at Tremblayville near Montreal, where he was appointed Vicar. Five years ago he was appointed Chaplain to L'Assistance Publique, which post he has held ever since.

Rev. Father Delorme stated some time ago that he had asked to be transferred from Ste. Anne des Plaines to Tremblayville six years ago, because of the death of his father which made it necessary for him to look after the affairs of the estate. Later he found that he could not handle the family affairs, together with his work in the parish, and it was then, he said, that he had asked to be given the post as Chaplain of L'Assistance Publique.

Abbe Is Glad

"I am glad that something has been done at last," said Rev. Adelard Delorme to one of the detectives at the Detective Bureau, whether he was taken after the verdict in the Coroner's Court tonight. The priest added that his arrest would serve to clear up the case. He looked carefully around the cell at the Detective Bureau and said: "This is a nice place."

ENGLISHMEN LIKE FROGS AND SNAILS

Supply Is To Be Doubled, According To Epicurean Authorities In London

(By Canadian Press)

London, Feb. 14.—According to epicurean authorities in London, Englishmen are developing a taste for frogs and snails, the supply of which is to be doubled. The daily supply now is respectively 250 and 200 of each.

Caught in the vineyards of France, where they live on insects and leaves of the grape, the snails do not reach the table till they have been through an elaborate process in the kitchen. They appear on the menu of hotels as "Escargots Bouguignonnes." Six are served as a portion and the price is 3s 6d.

Only the hind legs and the saddle of frogs or "Grenouille Meuniere" as they are called on the menu, are eaten, but the price for a portion, to which six complete frogs contribute, is 6d more than for snails.

"After that," said the man, "It's not the mule's fault"

Blame for injury depends on how much chance the victim had to make himself safe.

"The first time a mule kicks me," said a wise man, "it's the mule's fault. If it happens again, it's my fault."

A good many people are staying within kicking distance of tea or coffee, who have had a chance to know better.

They have learned that tea or coffee at night keeps them awake. They know it whips up the nerves. They know what medical opinion has so often said about the effect of the drug element in tea and coffee upon the nervous system—and how indigestion, headaches, high blood pressure and various ills so often follow the use of tea or coffee.

Knowing this, they fail to keep out of the way. Where does the blame belong, then, when the final break-down comes?

There's safety in Postum, and charm, too. Postum has a full, rich flavor, and it is free from any harmful element whatsoever—a wholesome meal-time drink for children and older folks alike.

Whether or not you've had your warning from tea or coffee, why not step over on the safe side? Why not do what so many others have done—try Postum for ten days, learn how delightful and satisfying it is—and learn how much improvement there can be for you?

You can get Postum wherever good food and drink are sold or served, and it only takes a word from you to your grocer or restaurant waiter, to make this move to the safe side, at once.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in package) of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

CANADIAN JEWELLERS GOT
DOWN TO HARD BUSINESSRetailers Held Conference On Standardization Of Repair Rates—Delegates Welcomed By Pro Mayor And Local
Chairman—Address By Dominion President

Promptly at 9 o'clock, as per schedule, the registration of Delegates of the Canadian Jewellers Association was commenced yesterday morning. As this is really the first time that all the members have been together as a body, a considerable number of them apparently had not realized that among those present they would meet friends whom they had not heard from for years. If one can judge from the hearty way in which every one was greeting his friends and acquaintances in a business way, the business of the convention should run very smoothly.

Great interest is being taken in a large cabinet in the lobby of the hotel which displayed the Sports Prizes that have been given for competition by different firms in the Jewellery business and needless to say, all branches of the craft go to make up this splendid display. In addition to these prizes some of our local Sporting goods houses have also donated, skis, snowshoes, moccasins etc. After those who intend to take part in the sports have had a look at the prizes which they may be lucky enough to win, keen competition should be assured.

Yesterday's casualty report was very light, only one minor case being reported, one of the delegates hurt his thumb going down the Terrace side.

The Quebec Executive are to be congratulated on having chosen such an appropriate memento and insignia for the clasp of the convention badge, namely "The Golden Dog" with its familiar inscription "I am a dog gnawing a bone, etc." so well known to the readers of the historical romance of that name. One or two of the visitors were heard enquiring as to whether this had any malicious reference to the "Chewing the Rag" which might take place during the debates at the convention.

The conference of retailers held at 10 o'clock, had for its main object the standardization of schedules for repairs and engraving. It is understood that at present the rates of the East and the West in this connection are not uniform and no doubt will be adjusted on completion of the present conference. The executive meeting was merely for the purpose of checking up the business to be brought up later in the day.

At 1:30 P.M. the convention was officially opened. After singing "God Save The King," the Sing Song leaders, with a little trouble, persuaded a pianist to perform and all present sang parodies on popular songs which had been got together by the committee and judging by the volume of some brought forth, they were much appreciated. The President of the local branch then introduced Dr. Martin who explained that His Worship the Mayor was indisposed and that he was present to represent him. Concluding Dr. Martin said:—

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I take this opportunity as Pro Mayor of the City of Quebec, of tendering to the Canadian Jewellers Association gathered for their Third Convention, the most cordial welcome in our midst. For more than three centuries, dear Old Quebec has treasured some of the most magnificent souvenirs this country. The oldest are often the most beautiful Jewels and Quebec, the City of Champlain, the cradle of the Canadian Nation will probably give you an opportunity to admire some marvelous and precious stones and old relics still existing in our old monuments.

Dr. Martin continued by saying I remember is our Provincial Motto. Even our modern monuments are built in such a way that they do not deprive Old Quebec of its unique appearance. This greatly increases the pleasure I have today in tendering you the heartiest welcome in our midst. You come from all parts of Canada and you are advantageously known as the guardians of Art, for such reasons I am proud to offer you the most cordial hospitality in the City of Quebec. Now that the world rejoices in peace and that all are beginning to prosper we hope that this Convention will have the effect of making your business more prosperous, and at the same time allowing you to admire in Quebec the treasures which have been accumulated during the last three centuries, in closing Dr. Martin added: Once more gentlemen I am glad to wish you the greatest success.

Mr. Arthur Duquet, President of the Quebec Branch of the Association then spoke and welcomed the delegates on behalf of the Quebec members expressing the pleasure they all felt at their visit and hoping that their stay in Quebec would be a very pleasant one. Mr. Duquet also stated that the local members would be only too happy to assist their friends from other parts of Canada in any way they possibly could.

Mr. Arthur Paquet, M.L.A., was also very cordial in his welcome of the members of the Association, wishing them every success in the convention and hoping that they would have very pleasant remembrances of their short stay in the Ancient Capital.

The President of the Canadian Jewellers Association, Mr. Wheatley, in thanking those who had welcomed the Association, said that with such an expression of hospitality and good will expressed by those in Quebec, their stay could not be anything but pleasant. Mr. Wheatley went on to say that he hoped that this convention would be the means of making an even closer brotherhood between those in Quebec and the other parts of Canada.

Mr. A. G. Manser, 1st Vice-President of the American National Jewellers Association was welcomed by the President of the Canadian Association and requested to take a place with the Executive Committee after which the business of the day was proceeded with. The minutes were considered as read and approved.

President's Report

The President after a few opening remarks read the following report:—

"When we consider the many trials through which the business world has passed since last annual meeting of this Association we have reason to feel grateful that the Jewellery business has been able to weather the storm without any serious consequences. That the Trade has been able to emerge on a par with other lines so long as we are not burdened by unjust discriminations.

Although facts must be faced, this is no time for pessimism. The crucible through which the Trade is now passing, will help to purge it from the dross of inadequate business methods, and all that goes with it, and bring forth the pure gold of modern merchandising, more efficiency, better service and higher ideals.

Like the Trade our Association has been able to keep its head above water. A certain falling off in membership has been noted which is partly due to inactivity in some of the Provincial Organizations but I look forward to a general revival all along the line and trust the year 1922 will be a record maker in point of membership.

During the past year your Executive has carried on in a most efficient manner under the able Chairmanship of the second Vice-President, your President being so far removed from the importance of the business of the Association requiring considerable thought and prompt action have been considered as you will hear from the Secretary's report.

The policy laid down at the beginning of the year was to complete as far as possible the good work commenced during the previous year, and I must congratulate them on the splendid success of their efforts. I look forward to this year being one of increased action and enthusiasm and bespeak wonderful strides for the Association. This cannot be accomplished, however, without special effort and hard work, and we must face it with determination.

I take this opportunity of expressing a few ideas with regard to the future.

The President should always be within reasonable distance of the Secretary.

Some system of periodical tours should be arranged to keep the outlying organizations interested and to reorganise some parts of the Country. An outsider can often succeed where a local man would fail.

The Trade should be constantly reminded that all the resolutions of the past, such as the elimination of free engraving, are still in force as I fear some have fallen by the wayside. This may not be true in the more thickly settled districts in the East of Canada but in the West it is different.

The advantages of organisations should be well advertised. We should look upon our Association as a business concern and go out and sell our proposition. If we cannot hold our old business and add new accounts from time to time we are not making any wonderful success. There are quantities of good prospects if we will only get business take stock of the whole situation and re-construct where necessary. It might be wise to take a slogan such as "Sell Association to the Trade" and try to live up to it in 1922.

If every Jeweller realized what the Association has done for him personally we would have no trouble in enlisting his whole hearted support. But he doesn't. He has not had the matter brought to his attention forcibly enough. Let us do it this year.

I wish to thank the members of the Executive and special committees for the splendid work of the year in their untiring efforts to further the work of the Association.

Nor can I close without special mention of our worthy Secretary who has during another year discharged his duties with that same efficiency shown in former years.

The Treasurer's report was read by the Secretary on account of Mr. Rylee being unable to attend: First some letters from those unable to attend were read which included several from Jewellers Publications who wished the convention every success. The Secretary stated that the report was in the form of an Auditors Report, as no other could be obtained on account of the Treasurer's absence, this showed the financial position of the Association, a comfortable bank balance remaining to its credit at the close of the financial year.

The Secretary's Report was read by Mr. O. M. Rose which consisted chiefly of the general business done during the previous year, one feature pointed out: being that despite the unfavorable year from a business point of view, they were able to report a slight increase in the membership of the Association. At the

GRAIN GROWERS
IN CONVENTIONMembership Of Sask. Organization Dropped Eight Thousand Last Year

Regina, Sask., Feb. 14.—With the presentation of the annual reports the twenty-first convention of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers Association was opened here this afternoon.

Delegates were impressed with the statement that the membership of the Association dropped from 29,294 at the close of 1920 to 21,240 as at February 6, 1922.

A warm reception was tendered by the convention to Hon George Langley, President of the Cooperative Elevator Co., and former Minister of Municipal Affairs in the Provincial Martin Cabinet. Mr. Langley, at the close of his remarks, referred briefly to his controversy with Premier Martin over the circumstances under which he left the Government. A letter he had written somewhat bitterly, said, Mr. Langley, had made a reference to having saved the Government at the last Grain Growers' Convention.

A delegate who wanted Mr. Langley held up on a point of order, declared that the ex-minister "had bamboozled the convention before." The convention was with Mr. Langley, however.

Leutenant-Governor Newlands welcomed the delegates in a brief address in which he declared the convention to be the most important parliament we have in Saskatchewan today.

The Lieutenant-Governor said that "what we need is some measure of reciprocity between Canada and the United States, and a larger immigration to this country."

General Recognition.

"There must be a general recognition of all interests in Canada of the importance of agriculture and honest endeavor by them to help create conditions that will make it possible for this industry to secure a fair measure of prosperity," declared J. A. Maharg, in his presidential address to the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association here this afternoon. Unless farmers have the assurance that they are going to receive a fair return for their labor, he pointed out, they will produce very little to what they produce many will hesitate to again sow a full crop he said.

Other remedies advocated by the President were the re-establishment of the Wheat Board; reduction in freight and express rates; and the opening of the United States markets to what they produce. "We should," Mr. Maharg declared, "call upon the Federal Government at the earliest opportunity to open negotiations with the United States Government to have the markets opened."

OPPOSED TO CHANGE

IN ONT. SCHOOL LAWS.

Brockville, Ont., Feb. 14.—The Ministerial Association has placed itself on record as being opposed to any change in the Ontario school laws as suggested by Bishop Fallon and is memorializing Premier Drury and the Minister of Education to that effect.

end of December 31st 1921 there was total of 795 members in good standing made up as follows: British Columbia 61, Alberta 59, Saskatchewan 63, Manitoba 60, Ontario 338, Quebec 170, Nova Scotia 21, New Brunswick 20, Prince Edward 2, and Yukon 1.

Speaking of the Executive Mr. Rose in closing said, it had been a great pleasure to work with such men and the trade were to be congratulated on having men of such public spirit and unselfish character to take up the cause of the Jewellery Trade of Canada.

The Constitution, which was reported on by a special committee, was read and adopted with a few changes that had been already made by the committee, so that the Association is now ready to apply for its new Dominion charter.

The accounting system as applicable to certain portions of the trade was very clearly and consistently handled by Mr. Lee, particularly in view of the Harvard system being made and its advantages explained.

A report of the Publicity Committee, read by Mr. Gordon McLaren which proved to be most interesting and instructive, completed the day's business.

At 6:30 a Habitant Dinner was held, the dinner being along the lines the name suggests and after dinner the delegates were surprised by being informed that they must use the clay pipes and Canadian tobacco supplied. One or two who preferred their own brand were fined a dollar for not obeying the rules laid down. Some French Canadian songs and dances were also very much enjoyed by the visitors, the dinner finishing with a grand march around all the tables.

Dancing began at 9:30 and was enjoyed by everybody, thus bringing the first day of the Convention to a close.

APPREHENSION
AT STAYING OF
EVACUATIONWill Be Employed By Treaty
Opponents In Campaign
Against GovernmentSOLE BRITISH REASON
Is Disturbed Situation On The Northern Border — Not
Southern Events

Dublin, Feb. 14.—Great apprehension has been caused here by the British Government's cessation of military evacuation, as it is believed by many leading Irishmen that this act will be employed by the opponents of the Anglo-Irish treaty in their campaign against the Provisional Government.

Speedy fulfillment of the London Government promise to evacuate Southern Ireland, had served to prove that the British were acting in good faith and that there was reality in the powers granted to South Ireland by the treaty. The banding over of the barracks and their occupation by troops of the Irish Republican Army had a similar effect.

Interruption in evacuation, is feared in many quarters as giving the treaty opponents an opportunity to argue that there has been a change of front on the part of the British cabinet. The military authorities in Dublin are not believed to be responsible for the move. It was learned today that the Cabinet was not supposed by the Provisional Government to have been consulted on the suspension of evacuation activities and Michael Collins takes the view that it is a fresh example of "double dealing by the War Office acting in the old spirit."

Winston Churchill.

London, Feb. 14.—Announcement that the British Government regarded it necessary to suspend the evacuation of British troops from Southern Ireland was made by Winston S. Churchill, the Colonial Secretary in the House of Commons today. The sole reason for the suspension Mr. Churchill said, was "the disturbed situation on the Northern border and not because of anything that had happened in the Southern part of Ireland."

The Colonial Secretary said that Michael Collins, who would cross to England tonight to confer with the Cabinet members, had informed the Government that he would take steps before leaving Dublin to secure the release of the kidnapped Unionists as soon as possible. Collins had stated in his message added the secretary that he knew where a number of the kidnapped men were being held.

Answering a question as to whether the British troops would be placed in Monaghan County to prevent further raids from the South, Mr. Churchill said:—

"Quite apart from seriously political reasons, the Government has received the unanimous advice of military experts against the adoption of such a course at the present juncture."

Lord Birkenhead.

Lord Birkenhead, Lord High Chancellor, referred in House of Lords tonight to the Irish situation in similar terms to Mr. Churchill in recent speeches in the House of Commons with regard to the necessity of making allowances because of the restricted powers possessed by the Provisional Government. He also made it clear that he did not criticize the action of the Northern Government in arresting football players carrying arms.

Alluding to Michael Collins' apprehensions of an agreement by extremists to wreck the treaty by methods of violence, Lord Birkenhead declared it was the plain duty of the British Government and the obvious course dictated by policy, that they should, so far as their positions in Northern Ireland permitted, support those men in Ireland who, under almost inconceivable difficulties were making a courageous attempt to carry out the treaty.

With reference to the suspension of the evacuation of British troops, the Lord High Chancellor said the Government considered, in the present situation of extreme tension, when so many were entitled to look to British help as the only refuge, that continuance of evacuation would not be justified until the time appeared to be ripe. Declaring that he still hoped the discussions between Sir James Craig and Michael Collins would be renewed, he said:—

"We should be deceiving ourselves if we remained blind to the fact that in the next few weeks we are going through the most grave and critical period in the history of the country. I am still of the opinion that if all the men in the two countries who are of good intention and desirous to see the treaty succeed will co-operate, there is still great prospect that we may be so fortunate."

He hoped at the moment is that under any provocation and disappointment we should keep cool heads and quiet tongues."

Scully is well known in this city, having been deported three times by the American Immigration authorities. He was once detained in the London Insane Asylum.

THREATS MADE

Jail If Labor Editor Is Arrested

Sydney, N.S., Feb. 14.—Threats were made in Glace Bay tonight that the miners will wreck the county jail to rescue W. U. Cotton, editor of the Maritime Herald, should he be incarcerated there as a result of complaints of adulation made by the Cape Breton Baristors Society. The action of the Society, was the result of articles appearing in the Labor Herald alleging that Judges are appointed as a reward for political activities on behalf of the "master class" and that they are expected to continue those activities in handling down their judgments.

County Judge Duncan Finlayson was specifically attacked under the nickname of "Suspended Sentence Finlayson."

"If they arrest W. U. Cotton, the editor of our paper, and put him in the county jail, we'll tear the place to pieces," was the comment of one excited miner, tonight, and scores of others echoed the same sentiments. So keen in the feeling on the subject that the Marichan's Local, one of the strongest divisions of the "Unit" Mineworkers, tonight passed a resolution declaring that the Cape Breton Baristors Society has some

CAN SAVE MORE
RUSS CHILDRENAnother Million Can Be Succeeded If Adequate Subscriptions Forthcoming

(By Canadian Press)

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—"Another million children can be saved in famine stricken Russia if adequate subscriptions are immediately forthcoming." This information was cabled today to Col. H. J. MacIver, President of the Canadian Committee to Save the Children Fund by Lord Wearde, Chairman of the British Fund. Lord Wearde states that Professor Atkinson of Melbourne, at present in the Volga famine area, reports that the relief organizations are wonderfully widespread, efficient and economical. There were 600 kitchens operating in this vast area. Lord Wearde stated in his cable that special arrangements would be made to operate special Canadian kitchens if desired.

Col. MacIver states that advantage will be taken by the Canadian Committee of this arrangement to operate Canadian kitchens.

BANK WORKERS
CLASS SYSTEMMilwaukee Financial Institution Offers Educational Facilities For All Employees

The First Wisconsin National Bank, of Milwaukee, has a well worked out system of classes for the 450 employees on its rolls, and the youngest among them are obliged to attend regularly. President Oliver C. Fuller has in his institution an education committee, of which Cashier A. G. Camper is chairman, whose functions are those of a board of education. An educational director devotes his full time to the bank's educational work. The latter is Arthur H. Lambbeck, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, who for a number of years was on the faculty of one of the Milwaukee high schools.

All employees are given the opportunity to study to fit themselves for advancement. Courses for messengers and junior clerks, ranging in ages from 15 to 20 years, are held early in the day on the bank's time and attendance is compulsory. Pages must attend two periods a week, at 9 a.m., instruction being given in English, business arithmetic and elementary banking. The First Wisconsin has written its own text books for this year's instruction in the duties of page, spelling, English and arithmetic.

Messengers must attend one period a week, at 8:15 a.m., instruction being given in English, business arithmetic and elementary banking. The First Wisconsin has written its own text books for this year's instruction in the duties of page, spelling, English and arithmetic.

The other classes are conducted evenings and all employees are encouraged to carry on some business study, either in the bank's own classes or elsewhere in night courses or by correspondence.

The senior clerks meet once a week. Last year twenty-four studied the banking practice course of the Benjamin Franklin Institute, twenty-two studied the business science course of the Sheldon school and twenty-seven the modern business course of the Alexander Hamilton Institute. Half the cost of such courses is paid by the bank. The program this year includes one class in modern business, two in banking practice, one in business English and one in literature, the latter wholly for cultural purposes.

There is given also weekly instruction in letter-writing and English for stenographers. Two classes in sewing are given for the girls of the bank.

An Argument Of Prices.

Everybody wishes that you will make a lot of money, but nobody supplies you with the means.

KNIFING THE C. N. R.
The Montreal Herald which, since it fell under the control of the genial Senator Casgrain, has been working hard to justify its existence as a Liberal organ, the other day came out with an absolutely gratuitous attack upon the Canadian National Railways. This would be bad enough if it were legitimate constructive criticism but, in point of fact, although plausible to the ordinary layman—and mischievous on that account—it is merely foolish to practical railroad men and by no means calculated to solve the most difficult problem confronting the country today.

"Stop Some of the Railway Waste," orders the Herald with an air of great sapience and continues thus:
"At the Union Station in Quebec it is stated that a strange thing is to be seen every night. On one track there is a C. P. R. train loaded with passengers for Montreal. On the track is another splendid train, also bound for Montreal, 'with not a soul in it'—a train belonging to the Canadian National Railways. For months past the National Railways have been running a train each way every day between Montreal and Quebec. It may be that traffic somewhere along the line justifies this, but the impression of those who see that full train and that empty train alongside each other at Quebec every night is that here is where some of that heavy railway deficit which has to be shouldered by the tax payers is incurred. Those who know something about Transportation matters say that these National trains between Montreal and Quebec every day cause a loss of from $700, to $800, a day, or a yearly deficit of around a quarter of a million dollars.

"Sir Joseph Flavelle, who is still responsible for the direction of the National Railways, should explain why he permits this loss. If he doesn't know about it, perhaps Mr. Hanna, who operates the roads, can tell. And if Mr. Hanna cannot say why this costly duplication of service is persisted in, perhaps the new Minister of Railways, Mr. Kennedy, can find the reasons pigeon-holed in his office. The Government, it is certain, must soon take drastic action to cut out waste, for the National Railways which the Meighen Government bequeathed to them have been losing at the rate of $15,000, per hour."

Everyone understands of course that the Star's buffer sheet has to pipe to Sir Lomer Gouin's tune and that any argument that will discredit the C. N. R. is permissible, even if it works an injury to this city in the matter of transportation facilities. On the other hand, it would do no harm if the would be critic were to know a little more of what he is talking about.

When he speaks of "costly duplication of service" he is apparently unaware that there were formerly four services between Quebec and Montreal, where now there are only three: service via C.P.R., service via C.N.R., service via G.T.R. (from Levis) and service via C.G.R. (also from Levis.) He is also no doubt unaware that, by combining the last two, there has been a total net operating economy to the combined C.N.R. and G.T.R. interests of 428 miles.

Neither must the Herald Editor because he once got as far away from home as the Union Station of Quebec, suppose that passenger trains merely serve the two terminal points between which they run. One train might pull out of this city completely empty and yet pick up passengers at every intermediate point along the line; while a second train that left Quebec crowded to capacity might be deserted by the time it got beyond Three Rivers. There is always a danger in jumping to conclusions and in judging by appearances. The particular trains singled out for attack, operating over the Grand Trunk, serve a different territory altogether from that served by either the Canadian Government Railway or the Canadian Pacific, their present competitors, and serve such important towns as Lyster, Plessisville, Victoriaville, Richmond, South Durham, Acton Vale, Upton, St. Leger, St. Hyacinthe, Beloeil, St. Hilaire, St. Basile and St. Lambert, in each of which there is a large community.

Without having made any close check of the situation, we venture to say that it has been grossly exaggerated by the Herald, although we are quite prepared to believe that the C.N.R. does not yet get the bulk of the passenger business into and out of Quebec. At the same time it is fair to say that this service, established only two years ago, is slowly but surely increasing its patronage in competition with one better known and much longer in operation.

If the C.N.R. must take its trains off the Montreal-Quebec route because it cannot put its competitors out of business in a few months, on the ground of 'costly duplication,' there is a different story to be told between Toronto and Ottawa where the C.N.R., with a service established now nearly five years ago, gets not only the cream but the bulk of the business. We suggest that certain meddlesome persons give our railroad some chance to heal by refraining from picking at them. Were there anyone sufficiently unkind there might even be a stone to throw in the Herald's own glass house on this same score of unnecessary duplication of service.

"CANADA TODAY."
The sixth issue of the popular annual published from the offices of "Canada," the London Illustrated weekly, has just been received. Its standard of usefulness and attractiveness will be found fully up to that attained in previous years, entitling it to take its place along with its predecessors as the leading standard reference book on the Dominion of Canada in Great Britain.

The story of Canada today—its progress, prosperity and opportunities—is told in a series of special articles, the volume comprising 128 pages. In this way, everybody who desires to know anything regarding Canadian affairs or conditions, can easily, by turning to the index, find out the information he requires. All the important phases of life and work in the Dominion as well as its natural resources, are dealt with. The volume will appeal to these contemplating permanent settlement, touring, or business in Canada—indeed, to everyone having interests of any kind, personal or otherwise, here.

The first section covers such features as Government, population, climate, products and manufactures. The second, entitled "Life and Work in Canada," deals with agriculture, homesteading, fruit-growing, professional openings, women's work, city life, education, cost of living, wages and hours of labour, etc., and also the various kinds of sport, a synopsis of the big game hunting, shooting and fishing regulations and open seasons in each Province, being given.

The "Emigrant and Settlement" section is introduced by an article from the pen of Mr. J. Obed Smith, F.R.G.S., Superintendent of Emigration for Canada, and useful information is given to the intending emigrant regarding such matters as immigration regulations, free passages, soldiers' settlement, specially conducted parties, and hostels for women immigrants.

Features and conditions in the nine Provinces are described in detail in special articles, supplemented by lists of the principal cities, field crops and officials, in each case. There is also a specially prepared gazetteer arranged alphabetically, giving a short description of the cities and towns with populations of 1,000 and over.

Much interesting and useful financial and commercial information is given in a further section, the subject dealt with including, for instance, Canada's financial position, incorporation of companies, Canadian income tax, the chartered banks, trust companies, oil in Northern Canada, export and import trade, and Customs. Particulars are also given regarding the Canadian railways and steamship services, supplemented by tables of distances and fares. A special feature of "Canada Today," as usual, is the very large number of excellent illustrations, covering practically every side of life in the Dominion.

LO, THE POOR SERB.
Serbia, that highly cultured, chivalrous and honorable State, is apparently bent on maintaining its previous records for what may be called impudence or enterprise, according to the point of view. Not long since the Chronicle published a despatch which apparently was sent broadcast to the newspapers of North America from Belgrade, the Serbian Capital. This despatch announced in boastful tones of the Little Slav kingdom that "For the first time in ten years, the country is standing on its own feet and is in need of no outside assistance" and even went so far as to proclaim in conclusion that, "Soon the city will have a splendid Parliament building, a royal residence and an opera house, of which more prosperous and ostentatious countries might feel proud."

Seeing that Serbia has gobbled up, with Allied connivance, territories rich in natural resources and several times greater than its own legitimate area, which it has been exploiting without regard to decency or justice for several years, it would not be surprising if an era of prosperity had set in at Belgrade. But your Serb has no difficulty in bragging with one breath and begging pitifully with the next.

The Montreal newspapers have reported the fact that a Serbian journalist is about to visit that city for the purpose of soliciting financial assistance to start schools in Serbia. This has led Mr. Bernard Rose to write a public letter exposing the incongruity between the Balkan bully's political propaganda and his underhand mendacity.

"While I do not doubt that the lady, who is here on this mission, may be in the utmost good faith," he explains, "I think that this is the most inopportune time to ask Canadians to subscribe to a campaign or funds for the education of the people and children in Serbia. The lady's eloquence and ability might be better exercised in another country than Canada, which is at present suffering from quite a serious industrial depression, and has thousands of unemployed, who cannot obtain work. Whilst charity should know no creed nor territorial boundary, under present conditions the philanthropic motto, 'charity begins at home,' should be applied in all its rigour. We have thousands of Canadian children who are not receiving the nourishment, shelter and clothing which they badly need. More than one child cannot go to school, owing to its being insufficiently clothed, due to the bread winner being out of work. If, therefore, our fortunate citizens have got money to spend, or donate, they might as well expend it locally, where it can do the most good."

No doubt Montreal which has harbored and allowed itself to be hoodwinked by a Seferovitch will welcome any other emissary from the home of the Star's protegee with open hands and purses even though, as Mr. Rose reminds its citizens, there is an urgent and present need for charity to begin at home.

BELVEDERE WARD.
Both candidates in Belvedere seem to be working very quietly, at least so far, as no word of public meetings has been heard from one side or the other. But meanwhile the electors are showing unusual interest in this contest, which is bound to prove a hot one as a result of Mr. Tremblay's entry into the fray. Mr. Tremblay's letter inviting Mr. Mercier to a public meeting, and his failure to receive any reply is rumored to have caused some uneasiness amongst Mr. Mercier's supporters. There are forecasts of a reply from the latter, while on the other hand Mr. Tremblay's friends claim to have every thing in readiness to uphold the contents of Mr. Tremblay's letter, including the beriot rouge.

Mr. Tremblay's list of supporters is asserted to be gaining fast and altogether the indications are that the Belvedere Contest will prove an interesting one.

EQUIPPED WITH NEWEST RADIO

Arrangements Made For Wireless Apparatus On Trans-Pacific Empresses

Arrangements have been made by the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited, with the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of Canada, Limited, to equip the new trans-Pacific steamships Empress of Canada and Empress of Australia with the most comprehensive range of the latest type of wireless apparatus. This will enable the steamships to make the fullest possible use of the latest developments in radio-engineering as a means of securing additional safety for passengers and crew, as an aid to navigation and for the long-distance telegraph service.

The equipment in question comprises a direction-finder, an "aid-to-navigation" spark set, a complete emergency equipment and a long-range continuous-wave valve transmitter and receiver.

The Canadian Pacific was the first company to establish an all-Canadian news service for its fleet of steamships on the Atlantic and still maintains the exclusive feature for its passengers. The results, it is reported, have been very satisfactory. This news is made up daily, by the Canadian Pacific, at Montreal, from the latest press despatches from all over the Dominion and is transmitted to all Canadian Pacific ships on the Atlantic. The Canadian Marconi Company erected a special press station at Louisbourg, N.S., for the purpose of transmitting such news.

SAILINGS FROM PORTLAND, ME.

By The White Star Dominion Line During "Balance Of Winter

Steamships having an aggregate tonnage of over 100,000 tons will sail from the port of Portland for the White Star-Dominion Line during the balance of the transatlantic steamship season or during February, March and April. Passenger ships booked for the Portland-Liverpool service during the balance of the present season include the Canada, the "Democratic ship" Vedic, the Regina which is to make her maiden voyage here early in April; and the Canopic which has been transferred to the Portland and the Canadian service from the Mediterranean service of the White Star Line. The total tonnage of these passenger ships amounts to 65,000 tons and every ship has a tonnage of 10,000 or more. The Canada and Vedic are both vessels of 10,000 tons, the new Regina is a ship of 16,500 tons and will be the largest ship ever placed regularly in the Portland-Liverpool service, and the Canopic is a vessel of 12,000 tons.

ADDRESSING OF STEAMSHIP MAIL

For Passengers On Mediterranean Cruises Of C.P.S. Empresses

Announcement is made regarding the addressing of mail to passengers on the Mediterranean cruises of the Canadian Pacific "Empress of Scotland" and "Empress of France." The latest dates for mailing letters to reach passengers on the "Empress of Scotland" are as follows, allowing time for mail to reach New York, up to February 24: "Care Clark's Tours, P.O. Box 856, Cairo, Egypt"; up to March 22nd: "Care Mr. C. F. Berg, Clark's Agent, 14 Rue des Pyramides, Paris, France."

For the Empress of France the dates are: Mail to reach New York up to Feb. 21st, "Care Navigazione Generale Italiana, Naples, Italy"; up to Feb. 28th, "Care Navigazione Generale Italiana, Naples, Italy"; up to March 7th, "Care Clark's Tours, Haifa, Palestine."

It is necessary, to insure correct delivery, that "Clark's Orient Cruise" and name of steamer be placed on envelope in addition to the address. When letters or post cards are sent with insufficient prepaid postage, doubtless rates are charged for delivery and there is also the likelihood of delay. The rates of postage from Canada to foreign countries are: 10 cents for the first ounce and 5 cents for each additional ounce. Postcards, 6 cents each.

BULGARIA FULL OF DEBTS CLAIM

Country Staggering Under Burden Of Debts And Indemnities

Under the Neutly agreement the Bulgarians were to pay their first instalment of the $450,000,000 indemnity in 1919, but up to the present they have lapsed in three instalments.

Bulgarian government officials say they can make the state solvent and pay all its obligations if the powers will waive the indemnity payments for a reasonable period of time. They insist they can make little progress so long as the Reparations Commission holds the indemnity demand over their heads like Damocles' sword.

The country's total outstanding paper money amounts to 3,250,000,000 leva, only one third of which is covered by gold reserve.

An encouraging feature in Bulgaria's otherwise apparently hopeless financial and economic situation is the steady increase in her exports, which for 1921 were in the proportion of 3 to 2 1-2 to her imports.

With the object of stimulating exports and imports the government is planning the establishment of an international bank, composed in part of foreign capital, with branches or representatives throughout the world. An effort will be made to interest American bankers in the institution.

LAST YEAR WAS A RECORD ONE

One Of Canada's Leading Assurance Companies Trans-
acts Enormous Business

Although it has been established for 51 years and has during that time registered a phenomenal rate of advancement, the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada has succeeded in passing all its previous records. The figures for 1921, which the Company has this week submitted to the public prove it to have transacted an enormous amount of business, and this in spite of the very trying circumstances under which all Canadian industry and finance was labouring during the year.

One of the most interesting features presented through the medium of the Sun Life annual report is the exceedingly low rate of mortality which was experienced among policy holders. It would appear that our people are healthier than they have ever been. This is certainly not due to a more discriminative selection of lives for assurance, as the great life companies have, if anything, been opening rather than closing the door to protection. That the actual death-rate should have been so much below that anticipated by the actuaries is a healthy and encouraging sign, both from the point of view of the Company and of the public at large.

The volume of Assurance now in force with the Sun Life has reached the imposing figure of over $50,000,000.00. The sum of $11,967,061.00 was paid either to policyholders or their beneficiaries during the year, which brings the amount paid out to the Company's friends since its incorporation in 1865 up to $114,158,003.00.

The assets, which stand at $29,372,127.00, show a striking expansion. A surplus is disclosed of $10,333,909.00 over all liabilities and capital stock. This surplus, both in fact and proportionally, marks the year which has just closed as being phenomenal even in the history of a concern which has been busily engaged in breaking records for over half a century.

The income from premiums, interest and other sources is far greater proportionally, than was obtained in any preceding year. At the present moment it approximates to considerably more than $100,000 a day for every working day of the year.

The enormous sums which the Sun Life has at its disposal for investment have earned over 6.07 per cent interest. During last year exceptionally fine opportunities presented themselves of buying large blocks of first-class, high-interest, long-term securities, and the Company entered to have availed itself of the chance thus offered to the full extent of its resources.

The year 1921 represented a period of all-round depression. Our great financial houses might very reasonably have looked forward to the final results of their operations with misgiving. The Sun Life, it must be remembered in this connection, operates not only in the Dominion, but in many other countries, not all of them as immune from trouble as Canada.

That the Company should have fought through the black times of 1921 with such a triumphant movement, and with all its previous records broken, speaks volumes for the care, foresight and energy with which it has studied and conformed to world conditions.

BRITISH PEOPLE ARE GREAT TEA DRINKERS

The London Grocers' Gazette for January 8th. states that the consumption of tea in Great Britain and Ireland has increased 34 per cent since 1913. They now use about nine pounds per head per annum in the United Kingdom, and the increase in 1921 over the previous year amounted to 17 million pounds. This enormous consumption accounts for the great rise in the price of tea.

The consumption of tea in Canada only amounts to 4 1-2 pounds per head per annum, but is increasing.

MORE REVENUE FOR GOVERNMENT

Quebec Will Now Collect Licenses For Fisheries In Tidal Waters

"The Province of Quebec from now on will have absolute control
of its own fisheries," said Hon. J.
E. Perreault, Minister of Colonization, Mines and Fisheries, in the Legislative Assembly yesterday
while the House was in committee
of supply discussing an item of $90,000 for fish and game. The Ottawa Government has given to the Province of Quebec the administration of its fisheries and the Government of the Province of Quebec alone will issue licenses in future. This jurisdiction will extend as far as the fisheries of Blanc Sablon. We have not yet jurisdiction over the fisheries of Magdalen Islands for at the present time the Federal Government is better organized than we are to administer
these fisheries and besides the Ottawa Government always had control of these fisheries. Dating from the month of July next the Federal Government will cede to the Province of Quebec the administration of which is situated at Tadoussac
and the other at Gaspé. Ottawa will withdraw its officers and we shall have full control of our fisheries. The Order-in-Council giving us these rights has been passed and in future the Province of Quebec
will be mistress of her fisheries as she is of her forests. This solution will permit us to work with more success towards the development of our fisheries. To obtain satisfactory results, however, we are relying upon the initiative of our fishermen and the spirit of enterprise of our fish dealers.

Mr. Perreault also announced that it was the intention of the Government to send two young men to Europe to study the system of fisheries in France, in England, and in Norway. He then briefly reviewed the situation as regards the fisheries. He said:—

"In 1898 our fisheries had been administered by the Federal Government and in that year the Privy Council decided that the Act of Confederation did not deprive the provinces of their rights on the fisheries. On the strength of this law, the Provincial Government in 1899 passed a law to authorize the issue of licenses. At the same time the Provincial Government made arrangements with the Federal Government relative to the administration of fisheries. In 1913 the Privy Council decided that tidal waters
were under the control of the Ottawa Government. On November 30th, 1920, the Privy Council decided that the public had the right
to fish in tidal waters, providing stationary instruments attached to the soil were not used,
that the Province of Quebec alone
had the right to issue fishing licenses in tidal waters for stationary fishing implements. Last year the Federal Government decided to in-sue licenses for the waters of the Province and we were not masters
in our own home. Today the Federal Government recognizes that the Province of Quebec has the right to administer her own affairs and it is a valuable concession that we have obtained from Ottawa."

Mr. Arthur Sauve, leader of the Opposition, feared that the powers granted by the Federal Order-in-Council might be contested and asked if it would not be better for the Federal Government at its next session to pass a law clearly defining the powers granted to the Province of Quebec.

Hon. Mr. Perreault said that the Federal Order-in-Council was based upon the judgment of the Privy Council. The Ottawa Government
did not abandon its right of regulating the fisheries. It would be continued to fix the fishing seasons
and also to define the appliances
which might be used for fishing, but would charge no license fees.

Mr. Sauve said that the cause of the Provincial Government's joy
was that it would now be able to collect revenue which up to the present went to the Federal Government. He said that he was not satisfied with the present arrangements, but he had been assured that the right of regulating the fisheries
and Quebec would impose the licenses or taxes. It was revenue that counted with the Provincial Government. He was gratified at the results obtained by the Minister but would this last year long he would have been able to obtain the Ottawa, or if the Toronto Globe, an organ of the Liberal party, continued its campaign against Quebec, or if there was an agreement between Mr. King and Mr. Crerar, would the new concessions made to Quebec
last year long.

Mr. Perreault said that the Government was well satisfied with what it had obtained. It had been fighting for that for twenty-five years.

The item of $90,000 for fisheries
and game was voted.

Ottawa's Decision.
Ottawa, Feb. 14.—It is understood that the Government has decided to practically hand back to the Provinces of Quebec control over its fisheries and that an announcement will be made in the Legislature today.

For long there has been a conflict of authority. The Privy Council decided that the Federal Government is entitled to regulate the fisheries in inshore waters but at the same time the Province owns the bed of the rivers. Duplicate licenses have been necessary.

Provincial control will be conceded
fully or at least over the St. Lawrence down to the gulf.

CANADIAN TOUR OF CLARA BUTT

Just Opened In Vancouver
And Proved Great Success
—Here Next Month

The Canadian tour of Dame Clara
Butt, the famous English contralto has just opened in Vancouver, and the success was such that two concerts had to be given there in the Capitol theatre at 11 o'clock at night.
The following telegram received
Saturday speaks for itself:

"J. A. Gauvin, Concert Manager,
Quebec,
"Commending the last lap of her world's tour, Dame Clara Butt appeared here tonight at eleven o'clock before an audience that filling the Capitol theatre to overflowing, actually necessitating turning thousands away by the uniformed forces of Vancouver. It was a thrilling and soul stirring concert and her voice glorious in its beauty was never more brilliant. Kennerly Rumford's artistry was never more ably demonstrated and Melsa's playing of the violin rounded out a program which will stand out long in musical annals here. Encore encore was demanded. Clara Butt and finally the lights had to be turned out amidst cries for more encore. A second concert arranged for to-morrow night also at eleven o'clock in the Capitol is completely sold out and only the inability to route her back makes a third date impossible.

"(Signed)—Walter F. Evans,
"Concert Manager,

Clara Butt and her concert company are booked to appear in Quebec early in March.

UNRESOLVED CRIMES ARE NOT SHELVED

Premier Taschereau Gave Out
An Interview Yesterday In Reply To Criticism

Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier and Attorney General of the Province of Quebec, gave out a statement yesterday when interviewed by
"Le Soleil" relative to an article published in the "Revue Moderne"
by Madame Huguin. The writer in her article contended that the Lachance, the Blanche Gagnier,
the Adeline Malherbe and the John murders seemed to have been shelved,
and that the organization of the police and detective forces left much to be desired, notably in the Delorme affair.

"Let me tell you," said the Premier, "that what hampered our detectives most of all in the unfortunate Delorme affair were the sensational accounts which the leading daily newspapers view with one another to publish daily, and those ill-advised interviews which newspaper men sought without having any right to do so. Our detectives cannot take up a clue, they cannot even come to consult with us at our offices, without having reporters at their heels to pry out and report
their slightest movement.

"It is in this manner that the newspapers keep the assassins posted on the movements of the detectives
and prevent the latter from working effectively inognito.

"Not more than two weeks ago"
continued Mr. Taschereau, "I replied in the House to the motion of Mr. Sauve attacking the administration of justice and I showed him that all his complaints were without foundation."

The Premier went on to say that before insisting that the people of the Province of Quebec were not protected and that murder was committed with impunity here,
critics might note what is going on elsewhere. In Toronto, for instance, the murderer of Ambrose Small, the millionaire theatre owner, was still at large. If the number of murders that have been averaged were considered it would be found that crimes which have gone unpunished are very few in comparison. The Premier then quoted from the records of his department to show
that in twenty-four cases solved by the detectives the murderers were condemned to pay the supreme penalty or to terms of imprisonment varying between 15 and 40 years.

Replying to the insinuation of the "Revue Moderne" that the four cases had been shelved, the Premier said:—"I tell you that not one of these murders has been shelved, not even the Blanche Gagnier case,
which will necessarily be brought to light and will show if my officers
were not right in clinging to the authentic facts and endeavoring to put an end to the abominable calumnies
which do not respect the reputations
of those most irreproachable.

"But now that the enemies are taking a hand in organizing our police service," said Mr. Taschereau in conclusion, "we shall evidently be well safeguarded."

You can't get away from symbolism in motion pictures. It has a big part to play in nearly every screen
drama and flowers are very often used to interpret some symbolic idea. For instance a crushed rose in "Beyond the Rocks," a Gloria Swanson picture from Paramount
tells a graphic story; in "The Cat
That Walked Alone" a lily thrown to a man in the crowd by the heroin tells more than half a dozen subtleties. Cecil B. DeMille once used a whole field of Easter lilies, to denote a fragrant perfume on a dainty kerchief.

SALESWOMAN IN DIFFICULTY

Accused Of Appropriating
Money From Firm By Trick-
ing Cashier

A young saleswoman in the employ of the dry goods firm of Pa-guy Lepinay & Freres, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a complaint
preferred against her of stealing monies. In the complaint it is alleged that the accused, when making a sale, would write a false amount on the slip to be presented to the cashier. She would return the proper amount of change to the customer but would manipulate the sales slip in such a manner as to receive more money from the cashier
than was due and would appropriate the difference. The accused was brought before the Court of Sessions and remanded for investigation.

A young man named Adelaïd Bar-rette was also arrested and arraigned before Judge Lachance in the Court of Sessions yesterday charged with stealing goods from the Syndicate dry goods store. He was found guilty and remanded to jail until called back into Court to receive his sentence.

GIVES WARNING TO LABOR MEN

Premier Taschereau Sends Telegram To Leaders Re
Pending Local Strike

At the conclusion of a meeting of the Provincial Cabinet at 11.30 o'clock last night, Premier Taschereau sent the following telegram to Messrs. Tom Moore, Gustave Franc
and J. T. Foster, International Union labor leaders in connection with the strike of typographers which is pending here:

"In the name of the Government of the Province of Quebec I wish to express most energetically my regret
at the decision taken by the International Typographical Union to precipitate a general strike in Quebec at the time when Parliament is in session and when this strike would have for immediate effect to paralyse all the work of both Houses and to prevent the legislation from following its regular course.

"The circumstances would indicate that this time was chosen with design. This strike, therefore, constitutes a challenge to all the Province
which cannot tolerate that a labor union place obstacles in the work which the representatives of the people must carry out without delay
in the interests of the public."

2,000,000 BAPTISTS IN RUSSIA CLAIMED

Evangelists Now Endeavoring
To Spread Teaching Of Doctrine In Country

Moscow, Feb. 14.—Dr. Everett Gill, representative of the Southern Baptist Convention, who is here for the purpose of distributing clothing
among the Baptists of Russia, says he has been surprised to find there are between 1,000,000 and 2,000,000
Baptists in this country and that Russians take readily to immersion,
as they are accustomed to it because of its practice by the Orthodox church. Itinerant Baptist evangelists are now endeavoring to spread the teachings of that doctrine very widely in Russia. A union of all the Baptists of this country is planned next June. Until now they have been divided into two branches, one located at Moscow and the other at Petrograd.

The Russian Baptists say they have not been persecuted under the Soviet regime, the ire of the Communist being mostly directed at the Orthodox church, which they regarded as a tool of the empire.

lions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea, Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually. Says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens
the hair so naturally and evenly
that no one can tell it has been ap-

after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks

Week—Big Crowd Expected For Best Game Of Season

What promises to be one of the most interesting hockey matches of the season will be played at the Arena when the Grand'Mere outfit cross sticks with the local Voltigeurs in a Provincial League game.

The Grand'Mere boys are going great guns at present, having defeated La Tuque 9-3 and in their following game forcing the fast travelling Chicoutimi outfit, that has only lost one battle in nine, to go ten minutes overtime before coming out on the long end of a 4-3 score, so it can be noticed that the locals will meet as good a team as there is in the League.

The first and only game played here to the present between these two teams resulted in a 3-2 victory for the locals, though only after one of the closest contests seen in this city this season. This time, however, the visitors are very confident of turning the tables, though whether they will or not will only be known after the final whistle has been sounded by Jimmy Gardner tonight.

Frank Gauthier, one of the oldest players in amateur hockey will be between the posts for the visitors and all who have seen this veteran in action know that the Voltigeurs sharpshooters are going to have a hard time trying to get the puck past him. Hayes and Richardson will form the defence and these two boys form as strong a blockade as the Provincial League has to offer. The forward line will be composed of Lamirande, Neville and Boyd and these players along with Roberts and Bilco in reserve can set a pace that will make the locals hustle all the way through.

The Voltigeurs, although they have only two wins to their credit, have made a good showing throughout the season, losing many of the games by a margin of one goal, including a thirteen-minute overtime contest with Chicoutimi. The locals will start out with Lacombe in the nets, with Chambliss on the defence, with Hill or Piche on the left, and Jacobs and Trisbelle will form the forward line, and as this trio is showing better combination than ever, the visiting defence is sure to be given plenty of work. McKasey, Cloutier and Hebert will be in reserve ready to jump into the fray as soon as their services are required.

The following officials have been appointed to handle the game:
Referee: Jimmy Gardner.
Umpires: E. Pouliot and Louis Lagueux.
Timekeepers: Nap. Fortin and W. Sharpe.
Scorer: Dan Griffin.
Penalty Recorder: Pat Leprie.
The match is scheduled to start promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Veteran Skater Warmly Applauded At Saranac Lake Races Yesterday

(By Canadian Press)

Saranac Lake, N.Y., Feb. 14—Although he did not secure a place in any of the American professional championship races today, Norval Baptie of Winnipeg attracted much attention. VICTORIA WON CLOSE MATCH

Overseas Rink Defeated Quebec After Two Extra Ends By One Shot Yesterday

Two overseas rinks engaged in mortal combat on the ice of the Victoria Curling Club last evening, the occasion being the return match of a series of two between rinks from the Quebec and Victoria Curling Clubs.

The first match was played a couple of weeks back on the ice of the Quebec Club, and the Quebec rink won out, but the Victorians reversed the tables last evening, winning out by one point after an exciting battle in which the score was tied upon no fewer than four occasions.

Twelve ends had been agreed upon as the limit for play, but when that number had been run off, the score was tied, and two extra ends were agreed upon by the rival skips, in which period Victoria got the necessary point margin to win the game.

As each rink has now won a game, the tie will be played off later. The Victoria rink was composed of Lt. Col. A. de M. Bell, R.C.A.S. Major H. S. McGreevy, 24th Battalion; Lt. A. C. Smith, C.M.G.C., and Lt. Col. R. M. Beckett, 24th Battalion, while the Quebec rink consisted of Lt. R. W. Morton, 8th Infantry, R. Q.M.S. T. D. Beattie, 5th C.R.T., Capt. M. Houghton, 2nd Battalion, and Capt. E. B. Rattray, M.C., 57th Battalion, did duty for the Quebec rink.

Quebec forged to the front in the first end by scoring one, but Victoria tied it up in the second, then in the third, Quebec counted two, while Victoria replied with one in the fourth and two in the fifth, putting them the lead for the first time in the game.

Quebec took the lead away from them in the following end, when they scored two and overcame the point lead that Victoria enjoyed, but the latter tied up the count in the seventh, and a point to the good in the eighth. In this end they scored one, but Quebec rallied and tied up the count once more in the ninth.

Beckett's men scored twice in the tenth and once in the eleventh, and it looked as if they had won the game, but a garishon finish by Quebec tied up the score, Rattray's quartette scoring three. As the score was tied, it was agreed to play two extra ends.

In the thirteenth Victoria scored two, and it proved enough to win the game, although Quebec cut the advantage down when they scored a point in the last end, but it was not enough, and Victoria won a hard fought, close and exciting game, in which good curling was witnessed throughout.

Sporting Notes

Eugene Tremblay, Canadian lightweight wrestling champion, will defend his title against Jack Forbes of Toronto, Monday night at Montreal. Only the strangest hold will be barred in this match.

With only five points separating Canadians and St. Patricks for second place in the standing in the N. H. L. championship race, the most important game of the schedule for these two clubs will be played tonight. St. Pats have the easier game being up against Hamilton at home, whilst Canadians must play the champion Ottawas. The Frenchmen meet the Senators in Montreal.

Art Ross, the well-known Montreal sportsman and former professional hockey player, was so disgusted with the Eugene Brosseau-Steve Choyinski bout Monday night, in which the former won by a K.O. in the opening round, that he resigned from the Boxing Commission which has been superintending bouts in the Metropolis for some months. Ross' action was taken because the Commission has no power to stop a fight that it might disapprove of, the Boxing Commission has not the authority to stop a sure place then a Commission is no improvement over the former do-as-you-please policy.

HANDICAPS FOR BILLIARD MATCH

Press Gallery Players Looking Forward To Big Tournament On Friday

The handicapping committee of the Press Gallery who were charged with the task of arranging the points to be given to the competitors in the billiard tournament for the Nicol Challenge Cup, came to a decision last night after a long session, during which four of the competitors had to play a game at the Chateau in order to give the handicappers some idea of their ability.

There were allegations made that some of the players were not trying very hard, but the eagle eye of the handicappers saw that even though they did not score every time they knew more than they showed in regard to handling a cue, and the result is that a handicap has been drawn up that gives as much satisfaction as can be expected. That is that everyone agrees the handicap of the other fellow is fair, but his own is rather too severe. Time will show whether this is the case—the only thing that seems sure is that the winner of the Mitchell Cup last year will have to go some to survive even the first round.

The handicaps that have been arranged are as follows:
John Davis (Chronicle) receives 40 points.
H. Runt (Montreal Herald) receives 25 points.
I. Masson (L'Action Catholique) receives 15 points.
H. Lapierre (Le Canada) receives 10 points.
J. M. Fortin (Le Soleil) receives 10 points.
Abel Vineberg (Gazette) scratch.
Edmond Chasse (L'Evenement) owe 10 points.
R. H. Parson (Montreal Star) owe 50 points.

The game will be 150 points up, for the first round and the semi-final, with 200 points for the final match. The draw to decide who shall be opponents in the opening round will take place this afternoon. The tournament will begin at three o'clock on Friday afternoon and the final game will be played in the evening.

WILL DEMPSEY BATTLE WILLS?

To Scrap If Permit For Bout Is Granted And Place Is Found

Some time during the current year Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champion, and Harry Wills, the negro heavyweight, will fight, if a place can be found where a permit for the bout can be procured. They will not fight for William Brady's modest guarantee of $300,000, according to a New York writer. Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey, who has some experience with pugilistic high finance, believes that the bout will pay a million. It might. Just now it would appear that Wills might have a slightly better chance with Dempsey than did Carpentier, who had no chance at all. But by the time the bout is held, if it is held, the battlohy will have convinced a sufficient number of bugs that Wills has a chance to make the thing a match.

There will be considerable opposition to the "mixed bout" because of the unscrupulous moves that followed the Jeffries-Johnson bout. Certainly Johnson did nothing to uplift the manly art of mauling. There is no brief and no defense for Johnson, and yet I hold that what was worst in the negro ex-champion was due to the influence of ring parasites of the white race. Their influence made of the simple-minded Galveston rouster a black Frankenstein that almost kicked the silly old prize fight game to pieces. Johnson was of the type of the Emperor Jones.

BOSWELL SHIELD GAME TOMORROW

Gold Medal Shot To Be Run Off Tonight—Scott's Rink Play Champion's

This evening, at the Victoria Curling Club, the Gold Medal shot will be run off. There are a large number of entries, and it is expected that some very keen curling will be the result of the evening's games. Tomorrow evening another of the Boswell Shield matches will be staged, the new defenders, W. S. Champion's rink, defending the silverware against the onslaught of the challenging quartette skipped by E. D. Scott.

Entries are coming in fast for the Bonspiel, which opens next Monday, and it is expected that some thirty or forty rinks from outside points will be seen in action. Outfits from Ottawa, Rideau, Shawinigan Falls, Sherbrooke, Howick, and other places are all due to send down rinks, and with the magnificent array of trophies that are put up for competition, the Bonspiel should be one of the biggest events of the curling year.

The Villemair-Young S. of I. match was with the exception of the initial period was very even, with both teams showing some clever work. Young Sons were the first to score Bell doing the trick five minutes after play had started. Roy evens matters shortly after while Arton put his team in the lead a few minutes before the bell rang.

Only one goal was scored in the second twenty this falling to Arton of Villemair. No scoring was done in the final session though it was only the good work of the goalkeeper that prevented further tallying. The Old City-St. Gregoire contest was a walkover for the former sextette. ANOTHER DEMPSEY CARPENTIER BOUT?

Manager Considering Proposition To Meet Frenchman Or Go In Vaudeville

Chicago, Feb. 14—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, departed today for New York in response to what he said was an urgent message from his manager Jack Kearns, that he was about to sign the champion for a match in London or Paris, presumably with Georges Carpentier.

Dempsey arrived here from the Pacific Coast and told of Kearns' message between trains.

New York, Feb. 14—Jack Kearns, manager of heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey, said today he had despaired of getting a paying match for the champion in the United States and was looking for "new fields" abroad.

He has no definite plans, he said, but is considering several propositions "in the rough"—one of which is to go abroad for a match with Georges Carpentier, and another to go abroad for a vaudeville tour.

The trip abroad will not mature for at least a month, he said.

CHANGE IN CITY LEAGUE SCHEDULE

Matches Scheduled For The 22nd. Will Be Played Friday Evening

A change has been made in the City League hockey schedule in order to settle the championship in time to have the local title-holders play in the Allan Cup elimination games. The matches scheduled for Saturday between Laval and Sons of Ireland and Sarafelds with Loyola have been cancelled, while the games scheduled for the 22nd will be played Friday evening. Sons of Ireland will clash with Sarafelds in the first contest, with Laval and Loyola to close the evening. Should Sons and Loyola win their games, there probably will be only one more match played, which will be between Sons of Ireland and Loyola and the result of this game will in all probability settle the title of the second half of the schedule. Should Sons win they will be the undisputed champions, having won the title of the first half. On the other hand, should Loyola win, both teams will be tied for the second half championship and another game will be necessary, the result of which will decide the title.

Sarafelds and Laval are practically out of the running, though Laval has one ambition and that is to defeat Loyola.

As the Loyola team is playing an exhibition match on Saturday afternoon there will be no City League games played Saturday evening.

MME. GADSKI SUES THE CHICAGO OPERA

Seeks Damages For Alleged Statements Involving Her Husband, Capt. Taucher

New York, Feb. 11—The Chicago Opera Company has been served with a writ by Mme. Johanna Gadski Taucher—the Mme. Gadski of many years of operatic fame—for a cool half million dollars.

Suing in the United States District Court here, Mme. Gadski, wedded as one must recall to that Capt. Hans Taucher of the German army who was accused and indicted but nevertheless acquitted of conspiring to put the Welland Canal out of business in the early part of the war, before America went into it, asserts that the Chicago Opera Company (no individual mentioned) deliberately schemed and connived to ruin her social and artistic career.

Mme. Gadski charges that it is now impossible for her to get a contract on either the concert or the operatic stage as the result of the company's propaganda that she is altogether too German to be allowed to appear on the musical stage in this country.

The statement complained of read, in part:
"Her contract has been cancelled and there are rumors that this action cost the company in the neighborhood of $7,500. There are hints that patrons of the opera and subscribers to the fund objected to Mme. Gadski's husband, Capt. Taucher, who arrived recently in New York."

Mme. Gadski states in her complaint that she is a subject of Germany, but has resided here with her daughter since 1914, and has always conducted herself in harmony with the sentiments of the American people. Her husband, she says, while in Germany, where he went with Capt. Boyed after his acquittal, used his whole influence and personal energies in alleviating the condition of American prisoners of war.

Unwary Foreigners And Newly Rich Teutons Victimized By Art Dealers

Berlin, Feb. 14—Modern "antiques" are being purchased wholesale in Germany for sale to unwary foreigners and newly rich Teutons who have been prompted to seek objects of real art by the news that a number of princely families have been compelled to market family heirlooms and rare treasures according to investigation of some clever buyers.

The business of dealing in imitations has been so profitable that hundreds of new "antique" stores have been opened, and representatives with choice lists of things "old families" have to part with are encountered at every turn

NATIONALIST SCHOOLS CLOSED

Educational Movement in Burma Appears To Be Declining—Home Rule

Rangoon, Feb. 14.—The Nationalist educational movement in Burma which originated more than a year ago appears to be declining.

Large numbers of students have been leaving the Nationalist schools and going back to the government schools and government-aided mission schools whence they came.

A number of the Nationalist schools have been closed chiefly because of the difficulty of supporting them without taxation, because no university will recognize degrees conferred by the Nationalist College and because of the belief held by many Burman Nationalists that a permanent system of Burman education cannot be formed until complete home rule has been attained.

One of the first steps in the Nationalist educational movement was a boycott of agitation against the University of Rangoon. However, Maung E. of Mandalay, one of the leaders of the boycott agitation has just asked in the Rangoon Times that the boycott be called off. He declared that "at this stage of the movement it is manifest that an unconditional boycott can produce dire consequences to the nation. In Burma the boycott of one university means a boycott of education."

"This staying aloof, like Achilles sulking in his tent with the peevishness of a child, is a bad policy in questions. The University boycott is like the Australian boomerang and now rebounds to the aggressor."

Thinking to mitigate the terrible scarcity of houses, the late Pope Benedict turned the unused stables of the villa into living places for the people employed on the estate. Being within the privileged enclosure, they pay no rates or taxes.

The people of Castel Gondolfo say that the papal authorities owe the commune 1,500,000 lire (nominally $312,000) at least for rates and taxes since 1870. They claim also that if the villa is subject to taxation, so also would be the Roman palaces and the income of 3,200,000 lire (nominally $640,000) which the Italian government offers every year to the papal authorities but which the papal authorities never accept and that the sum now owing by the Vatican would thus become something fabulous.

The Poles have never recognized the law of guarantees.

Sudbury, Ont., Feb. 14.—Less than half of the women of Sweden entitled to vote exercised their newly won franchise rights in the elections of 1921, the first year of full suffrage women, according to a report of the Swedish Central Bureau of Statistics just made public. However, the official report of the 1921 elections gives the suffragist leaders at least two causes for rejoicing.

The men did not show a much better record than the women and the number of women voters exceeded the male voters in the capital of Stockholm by more than 5,000 voters.

The official report shows that 47.1 percent of the Swedish women voters cast their ballot while 41.9 percent of the men voted. The total women's vote in the city of Stockholm was 75,566, while votes cast by men was 71,193.

The general impression throughout the country seems to be that the Swedish women have not fully realized the importance and significance of their new privileges. It is believed that in the future they will make a better showing at the polls.

The heavy women's vote in Stockholm, which is to a large extent an industrial city, may indicate that the working women, especially women trade union members, grasp the opportunity to register their votes. However, other women cannot be said to have neglected the ballot as a whole.

CHEKA DO NOT RESPECT ANY ONE

Arrests Communists And Its Own Agents As Freely As Any Others

Moscow, Feb. 13.—That the Cheka or secret police, is no respecter of persons, in making arrests, may be set down to its credit. It arrests Communists and Cheka agents as freely as any others.

The method of arrest often inconveniences friends of the persons to be arrested. If the person wanted is not at home, a guard is placed inside the door of his home and every visitor is held until he appears. This is to prevent warnings getting to the persons to be arrested.

If the visiting friends are not arrested, they risk being held several days. On one occasion a woman passing a house door heard a cat meowing hungrily and entered to pet and feed it. She stumbled into a Cheka net, and was held in prison for three months, when, finally, her explanation was accepted as to why she had visited the house.

There are months when great numbers are in jail. The Cheka is not bothered by lack of prison space. If a prison room is intended to accommodate two or three persons, it often happens that in fact it is made to accommodate 25 or 50. People are just put in, in layers, and that's an end to the space problem.

Without Food.
The schooner sailed from Lunenburg, N.S., early in December, and was coasting down toward Jamaica with a cargo of lumber when she was struck on December 14 by a terrific storm.

Her sails and her masts were carried away, the cabin wrecked and the vessel's hold filled with water. The food supply was ruined, so that all went foodless for three days before they were picked up by the "San Eduardo."

Mrs. Oxner was authority for the statement that the crew held a "three-day praying fast" for succor. Just as they were at the point of abandoning hope, their prayers were answered by the appearance of the San Eduardo, she said.

The party left by rail for Lunenburg this morning.

ITALIANS KICK REGARDING TAXES

Because Popes Have Paid
None On Huge Papal Palace
Of Gondolfo

Rome, Feb. 8.—Inhabitants of Castel Gondolfo, about 16 miles from Rome, looking over the beautiful lake of Albano, are agitated and have expressed criticism because in these days of heavy taxation the popes have paid no taxes on the huge papal palace which forms so large a part of their little village.

When in 1871, the law of guarantee was passed, the Italian government assigned to the Pope the huge palace of the Vatican and that of St. John Lateran in Rome and the papal villa of Castel Gondolfo, which, since the days of Urban VIII had been a favorite summer resort of the Popes.

To all these three palaces the right of exteriority was conceded. They do not belong to the Italian nation, no policeman, soldier or other servant of the Italian government can enter them unless invited by the papal authorities, and they were all exempted from any taxation.

As the popes never leave the Vatican, no one of them since 1870, has set foot in the Villa of Castel Gondolfo. Inhabitants of the village recently threatened to invade and take possession of the villa if something were not done.

Thinking to mitigate the terrible scarcity of houses, the late Pope Benedict turned the unused stables of the villa into living places for the people employed on the estate. Being within the privileged enclosure, they pay no rates or taxes.

The people of Castel Gondolfo say that the papal authorities owe the commune 1,500,000 lire (nominally $312,000) at least for rates and taxes since 1870. They claim also that if the villa is subject to taxation, so also would be the Roman palaces and the income of 3,200,000 lire (nominally $640,000) which the Italian government offers every year to the papal authorities but which the papal authorities never accept and that the sum now owing by the Vatican would thus become something fabulous.

The Poles have never recognized the law of guarantees.

Sudbury, Ont., Feb. 14.—Less than half of the women of Sweden entitled to vote exercised their newly won franchise rights in the elections of 1921, the first year of full suffrage women, according to a report of the Swedish Central Bureau of Statistics just made public. However, the official report of the 1921 elections gives the suffragist leaders at least two causes for rejoicing.

The men did not show a much better record than the women and the number of women voters exceeded the male voters in the capital of Stockholm by more than 5,000 voters.

The official report shows that 47.1 percent of the Swedish women voters cast their ballot while 41.9 percent of the men voted. The total women's vote in the city of Stockholm was 75,566, while votes cast by men was 71,193.

Got No Sleep

But now the neuritis has gone, the pains have ceased, the nervous system is restored and the writer of this letter pays a grateful tribute to the medicine which made him well.

Mr. John Woodward, P.T.O., Lucan, Ont., writes:

"It gives me much pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's medicine, especially the Nerve Food. I was a sufferer from neuritis for several years, and tried all kinds of remedies, yet never seemed to get any better. At last my nerves and whole system seemed to give way through not being able to get any rest or sleep at nights for pain, which mostly used to take me in all parts of the limbs and feet. My nerves would twitch till my whole body would seem to jerk right up as I lay in bed. Almost at the point of despair, I decided I would get Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I did, and after taking twenty boxes I believe myself almost normal again. I also keep a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on hand, and for the past year I seem to enjoy my usual health."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Three of the biggest Paramount pictures of the season are to be released generally, in February. They are Cecil B. DeMille's production, "Saturday Night," Betty Compson in the Penrhyn Stanlaw production "The Law and the Woman" and a special comedy, "One Glorious Day" with Will Rogers and Lila Lee. The latter was hailed by critics in New York, where it has been shown as one of the most ingenious comedies ever brought to the screen.

PILES Do not suffer another day with itching, bleeding or protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and afford lasting benefit. 50c a box; all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose 2c. stamp for postage.

THE PRICE OF FARM PRODUCTS

North Dakota Senator Working On Bill For Government Guarantee

Washington, Feb. 14.—Senator Ladd of North Dakota is working persistently in behalf of his bill for a government guarantee of the price of farm products. The bill is pending in the Senate committee on agriculture and there is also a like bill pending before the House committee on agriculture. The Senate committee is showing every indication of a favorable report on the bill and this will put the question up to the Senate. Senators, whether they like it or not, will be thus compelled to "face the music" and vote the proposition up or down. This will be embarrassing enough to a number of gentlemen who are coming up for re-nomination and re-election this year.

The argument that the government has guaranteed a return to the railroad and hence should do as much for the farmer, whatever may be said about it as an economic proposition, is at least difficult to refute in the agricultural sections. It is the more difficult because of the deep-seated feeling of the farmers against the provisions of the Cummins-Esch transportation act which virtually gives the railroads a guarantee of return, though technically it may be argued they do not. Congress is showing little sign of changing the transportation act to suit the farmers nor is there much indication as such reduction in freight rates at the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission as will meet the demands of the agricultural states. House and Senate leaders as well as the administration, have no intention of allowing the Ladd bill or any plan of price-fixing for the farmer's products to pass if they can help it. It is generally assumed that the Ladd bill and similar proposals will be blocked. However, on a vote price-fixing for the farmers will have much strength.

The political side of the question of guaranteeing the prices of farmer's products is a large one and cannot be overlooked. To turn down legislation favoring it will be equivalent to adding to the feeling of the farmers against the party in power and will tend to enhance the activities of the agricultural bloc in both houses. The history of the agricultural block from the outset has demonstrated that the more it is opposed by the men in Congress who stand for the business and financial interests or are out of sympathy with the farmers the more it thrives.

An interesting bearing on the question of ship subsidy is discernible in the proposal for a guarantee of prices for the farmer. The Senate and House leadership, in asking that the administration plan of subsidy be adopted, will find themselves confronted with strong agricultural opposition. Farmers will ask why grant a subsidy to the shipowner and refuse a guarantee to the agricultural producer. This interrogatory is likely to be sufficiently persistent and pointed to prevent any subsidy legislation, even if vigorously pressed by the administration, something as to which there is beginning to be considerable scepticism.

SIX TOY BALLOONS

COST JUST $50.

In the William Fox production "Whatever She Wants," starring Eileen Percy, a half-dozen toy balloons playing but a small part in an incidental scene cost $50. And still the same balloons could be purchased at any fair or carnival for 10 cents apiece. The reason was that, when an inexorable insistence for perfect detail made them necessary for a gay scene in the picture, they were as completely missing from among the thousands of things in the studio property room as the proverbial hen's teeth.

But the director just had to have them, and all the ready-made volcanoes, battleships, Roman ruins, etc., that the property room contained wouldn't help a bit. The ever-ready property man saved the day, however, when he learned that a country fair was being held in a little town about 90 miles away. The efficiency man of the studio thereupon figured that with the cost of two round-trip railway tickets, the loss of the property man's services in the studio, and other details, six little toy balloons cost them $50.

IMPOSSIBLE TO UPROOT TEUTON

From Russia, Declares Sir Bernard Pares—Their Help Indispensable

London, Feb. 14.—In the opinion of Sir Bernard Pares, professor of Russian in the University of London, and an authority on Russian affairs, anyone who dreams of excluding German economic enterprise from Russia during the reconstruction of that country would be an idiot because the uprooting of the Teuton would be a sheer impossibility. Further, he would be no true friend of Russia, to whom the help of the Germans is indispensable, the professor adds. The German must be there; the one essential thing is that they should not be there, alone, but German monopoly spells to Great Britain ruin.

What will count for everything in the reconstruction of Russia, both economically and politically, Sir Bernard continues, is not who supplies the money, but who does the work and finds the workers. France, in the past, lent huge sums to the Russian autocracy and found that they only committed her to it, with all its economic impetudes. The German took their own money to Russia, worked it themselves under the Russian flag, and saw that they well got their money's worth. Now, as they well know, Russia is for them the "back door" by which they can escape the consequences of their defeat; German businesses are already planning to move thither wholesale.

The real history of Russia is beginning now. In the story of Russia's foreign relations, it is now that the roads fork; for Russia is not dead; she is coming to life. The new issues will not be decided by any military force; the presence in Russia of one trained professional Englishman will be worth far more than that of a thousand soldiers.

It will everywhere be not Downing Street, but the individual Englishman who will carry the flag of England in Russia. If the Anglo-Saxon is not there and the field is left to the German the inevitable result will be that there is no Russia. But if he is there, he will hold his own everywhere. He will be there to help Russia on to her own legs; the very alternative in the choice of her helpers will serve to safeguard her independence; and her friendship will go most readily to those who come not to exploit but to cooperate.

TOLSTOI'S WORKS TO BE PUBLISHED

His Diary Runs To Eight Volumes Of Five Hundred Pages Each

Moscow, Feb. 13.—Three unpublished works of Count Leo Tolstoy are to be included in the Memorial edition of his works which his daughters are planning to issue.

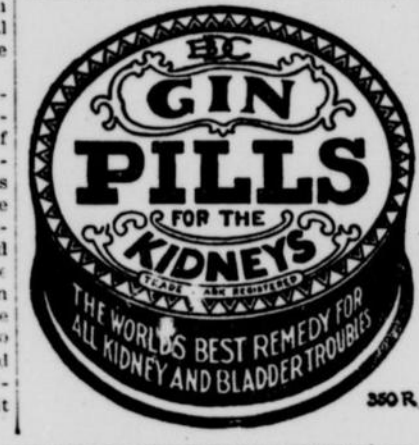

The most important of these is his diary, which will run to eight volumes of 500 pages each. The diary was begun in 1859 and continued to 1870, without a break, then abandoned until 1889, when the great writer renewed it and kept it until two days before his death in 1910.

The first 20 year period of the diary describes his life as a soldier in the Caucasus, during the siege of Sebastopol and his marriage. The second period of the diary is less personal and devoted to questions of religion, philosophy and politics.

A second of the unpublished works is an unfinished romance called "The Story of Peter the Great," and deals with revolutionary plots of that time.

The third work is a comedy in five acts, "The Nihilist," written in 1860, poking fun at short-haired women, long-bearded idealists and other Russian types. It was refused by the Art Theater of those days, a fact which made the author downhearted.

Other than these three works, there are a large number of unpublished or incomplete short stories to be issued. As Tolstoy made his daughters promise not to copyright any of his works, after his life rule, these new works will be published simultaneously throughout the world.

Tarred Roofing, Felt & Sheathing

HOW OUR TAR IS PREPARED TALK No 4.
Our Tar comes to us in Tank Cars and is delivered to our plant in barrels. The Tar is emptied into a tank where it is brought to a very high temperature. Other ingredients are mixed in which brings the Tar to the proper consistency. Our Roofing Felt and Sheathing are run through this tank very slowly to allow the tar to saturate thoroughly. A Japanese Style Bungalow

DESIGNED BY CHARLES S. SEDGWICK

SUNNY Japan and cherry blossoms—one instinctively thinks of them when one looks at this most attractive little five room bungalow. Pointed roofs and gentle sloping lines give this unique design an artistic touch which place this plan in a class all to itself. For sheer artistic beauty, this little home cannot be surpassed and built of stucco with concrete foundation, and with shingle roof stained a russet brown to harmonize with the trunk of the trees and earth toward which it is inclined to nestle, this bungalow is one that would instantly be pointed out as unusual and distinctive by passerby. Looking at it one can easily visualize it set down in a bewitching garden in which cherry and apple trees are all a-bloom, and one can catch their sweet fragrance wafted by caressing winds through the quaint latticed windows through which one glimpses distant blue mountains which rise mistily in the background. But let's go inside a minute! From the tiny hallway from which the stairway ascends to either unfinished attic or a nicely fitted up sleeping apartment, according to the owner's taste and incidentally, his pocket-book, one steps into the living room with its three windows grouped together and an open fireplace. The sun parlor which could be made an open air porch in summer time, is directly off from the living room as is also the dining room in which is a built-in sideboard. The kitchen is fully equipped and there is space on the service porch for the refrigerator. Two bedrooms and a bath, separated from the rest of the house by a tiny passageway, complete this charming and convenient floor plan. One of the unique features of this home is the front terrace which could be so attractively furnished for outdoor entertaining. Washington fir finished with mission stain is used and the flooring is of oak. The estimated cost, exclusive of plumbing and heating, is between $8,000 and $7,000.

COUNTERFEIT
WHISKY LABELS

American Bootleggers Steal
Fake Labels For Bogus
Canadian Whiskies

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 14 — There are 15,000 cases of counterfeit Canadian whiskey in the Detroit market, Secret Service Agent Joseph A.
Palma, was told today by Adam Liederman and John Shutsky, whom he had arrested on a charge of counterfeiting Canadian revenue stamps. They said they had made 15,000 sets of Canadian revenue stamps, labels and stamped corks in the last three months. Each set contains enough of these articles for a case of whiskey and the market
price, according to them, is $4 a set. Their headquarters was in Windsor. They sent a man to Detroit to make a sale, but while he was seeking for customers, his room
here was entered and the whole consignments stolen, presumably by bootleggers, to disguise their moonshine whiskey.

Not deterred by this, they said,
they printed 20,000 more sets and brought them over themselves, but officers were waiting for them on the Detroit wharf, and they were arrested. They gave their address as 658 East Warren Avenue. Their information led to the arrest today of Max Lefowitz, 1026 Marston Court.
Liederman and Shutsky pleaded guilty before United States Commissioner J. Stanley Hurd this afternoon and were held to the grand jury in $5,000 each.

gentle, modest, motherly looking

either the grandeur from which she disgrace from which she originally rose. The daughters have been excellently well educated and are

is to be congratulated on the epi-

after his three months Artillery

This is one of the very best exami-

perhaps a record wherein an Infan-

showing in an Artillery examination of this kind.

GET FROM THE
EMPIRE'S MARYS

Will Be "Something Personal"
Says Member Of Committee
Known In Dominion

(By Canadian Press.)

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 13.—It seems probable that the gift from the "Marys" of the Empire to Princess Mary on the occasion of her marriage will not be confined to impersonal contributions to charity on her behalf. Coupled with the recent announcement, carried in a Canadian press cable from London, that Princess Mary would leave the choice of a gift to the donors, comes a letter from Miss Mary Frances Billington to a friend in Vancouver.

Miss Billington, who is perhaps the foremost woman journalist in the world, is on the London committee which will administer the fund contributed by women of the British Empire named "Marys."

Miss Billington says that the gift is to be "something personal." At the head of the committee is the Hon. Mrs. Geoffrey Hope Morley.

Princess Mary's special girl friend
for years. She is assisted by Lady Mary Cambridge (the Queen's niece) Lady Northcliffe, Mrs. Massey Lyon (Editor of "The Queen")
Miss Billington, the Marchioness of Hartington who is daughter-in-law to the Duke of Devonshire, and was Lady Mary Cecil before her marriage, and several other smart society girls.

The suggestion that Canadian Marys should present the Princess with a gift of furs was countered in some circles of women's societies recently with the statement that Princess Mary had definitely expressed a wish that all gifts should take the form of financial support
for charitable institutions.

Incidentally Miss Billington's letter contains the news, which will be welcome to her Canadian friends,
that she has quite recovered from her recent serious illness. As the representative of women's societies in Great Britain to the Imperial Press Conference she toured Canada in 1920 and made a host of friends here. The hope that she might pay a return visit last autumn was dispelled when the news reached Canada that she was undergoing a serious operation. In her recent letter she remarks that her progress toward recovery, after the first few days, has never been interrupted and today she is quite well again and able to meet the strenuous tasks of her profession and social connections.

"I do wish I were going to see Canada again," she adds, "I often think of the cheery time I had in Canada."

The officers of the British Army
are giving Princess Mary a toilet set of pure silver which includes a 17th Century mirror and early 18th Century trays and candlesticks. Contrary to report the wedding carriage will not be what is described as the "coronation coach" but a coach
in which she and young Princess used to travel on the Continent. The candlesticks are of the coronation type. The court officials are making plans for seating accommodation for the wedding at Westminster Abbey.
The perceres are bargaining the Lord
Chamberlain to give them more space than the sixteen inches allocated to each individual. It is reported that at the time of the coronation, the duchesses made a similar plea, and were accorded another
two inches each, but the duchesses
at that occasion were attired in the full panoply of court dress which took up more space than will be required for the modern morning dress worn at Princess Mary's wedding.
