Resident in attendance at session of council

History was made Monday night at Westmount city council, according to Dr. Lauder Brunton, when as a private citizen he attended a meeting of that body.

The occasion was the first in many years, the doctor says, that the council has conformed to the letter of the city's charter.

In a letter to The Examiner, Dr. Brunton lauds the council for their forward step, and expressed the hope that others will take advantage of the opportunity.

The letter follows:
Sir:

On Monday, February 3rd, at 8:00 p.m. I had the pleasure of attending a meeting of the Westmount City Council as a private citizen. Any person who has examined the previous practice of the Council will realize that this meeting was of some importance. It was the first occasion in many years on which our Council has conformed to the letter of the City Charter.

The people of Westmount will be glad to know that they may hear the business of the city being conducted openly at the place and at the time specified in the City Charter. I hope that others will take advantage of this new opportunity and that it may be the first step in a new deal for the people of Westmount.

While the form was observed on this occasion, it should be pointed out that the spirit was not. The open meeting lasted about fifteen minutes during which a few selected matters of

Not that Mr. Marler can be accused of over-emphasizing histrionics in his parliamentary appearances. He is content to leave this aspect of statesmanship to such dramatic experts as John Diefenbaker and Donald Fleming.

Mr. Marler's speeches and questions from the floor of the House have always been characterized less by forensics than by considered, deliberate reasoning.

He employs the same technique in his organizational efforts.

Mr. Marler has five main tasks immediately before him. He must help his party retain the ridings of Mount Royal and St. Lawrence — St. George. He must, if possible, help them regain N.D.G. and Jacques Cartier.

There's one other victory he must also engineer. Oh, yes. St. Antoine-Westmount.

D'Arcy McGee portrait given to government

A portrait of Thomas D'Arcy McGee, one of the Fathers of Confederation, was presented to The Federal Government recently in the Hall of Fame, Ottawa, by the Thomas D'Arcy McGee Associates.

The presentation was made by Capt. A. Ross Webster (RCN) and accepted on behalf of the government by Hon. Roland Mitchell, speaker of the House.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker thanked the Associates and said the portrait would be hung in the Hall of Fame "as an inspiration to all who see it for generations to come."

Chess enjoyable resident finds

"Any woman who has patience and time would enjoy it," Mrs. E. Garland, 4216 Dorchester street west, said, speaking of her favorite indoor game, chess. Mrs. Garland is one of five women out of 80 entrants in the City Championship Chess Tournament at N. D. G. Community Hall.

The mother of John Garland, recreation superintendent at Westmount YMCA, Mrs. Garland has played chess for 39 years. "My husband taught me when I was a bride," she said. Since his death two years ago, she has had difficulty finding chess partners and has been forced to resort to playing bridge much of the time.

Some of Mrs. Garland's chess opponents in the present tournament are new Canadians "They have a different technique," Mrs. Garland commented as she said that some of the best players come from Europe.

Rug firm moves to the West End

A new addition to the business firms of the West End is the Gregory Oriental Rug Company which moves this week from its present location on Park avenue to 4151 St. Catherine street west at the corner of Elm avenue.

Mr. Malcolm Gregory, the proprietor, was 26 years with Henry Morgan & Co., Ltd. where he was departmental head and almost three years with Perfection Rug Co. before he decided to embark on his "Magic Carpet" and open his own business on Park avenue three and a half years ago. He now feels that the West End offers more advantages for his business and so the move to Westmount is taking place.

Mr. Gregory has travelled extensively in Europe and the Orient where he became familiar with the technique of rug weaving prevalent in these countries. He has a well-earned reputation as a designer and is looked up to as a connoisseur in rugs and carpets. He speaks English, French and German fluently.

Through the years, Mr. Gregory's name has become recognized because of the reliability and honesty of his advice to people seeking the proper floor coverings for their dwellings and

Miss P. B. Mattinson buried on Tuesday

Final tribute was paid Tuesday to Priscilla B. Mattinson, 576 Cote St. Antoine road, who died Sunday after a lengthy illness.

A resident of Westmount for over 50 years, she was the daughter of the late James Mattinson and Della Beatty. A devoted Anglican Church worker, she was a member of the Church of St. James the Apostle, and was a life member and past-president of the Women's Auxiliary.

For many years she taught in various Anglican Sunday schools and while living in Alberta for a short period, became interested in the Western Canada Caravan of Sunday Schools.

Miss Mattinson is survived by a sister, Annie E. Mattinson, and a brother, J. E. Mattinson, both of Westmount.

Funeral service was held in the residence, with Canon R. R. Latimer officiating. Burial was in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Mrs. J. James, 78, buried Tuesday

Final tribute was paid Tuesday to Mrs. J. James, the former Catherine A. Croft, 118 Lewis Ave., Westmount, who died Saturday in her 79th year.

Born in Kensington Town, Middlesex county, England, she was educated there before coming to Canada in 1909. She settled in Montreal and in 1928 moved to Westmount, first living on Wood avenue for three years, and then on Lewis.

Mrs. James' main interests the general good taste he has shown in helping solve their individual rug problems whether for a luxurious mansion or a modest cottage.

Mr. Gregory intends to specialize in wall-to-wall broadlooms and Oriental rugs. He has an intimate knowledge of rugs, how and where they were made and is always ready to explain the designs, colors and various styles.

Persons purchasing their first Oriental rug sometimes do not realize that each rug is an individual creation by an artist and that it has no duplicate. Mr. Gregory believes there is a growing market for Oriental rugs, "the most human of all arts" and with expansion of homes, etc., the demand should increase.

Two local residents given music awards

Two Westmount residents are among the five recently announced recipients of awards from the Society of Friends of Music. They are: Miss Maureen Forrester, Montreal contralto who has won acclamation on the international concert stage; and Thomas Archer, veteran Canadian music critic.

The Society, which sponsors a series of concerts by guest stars from the ranks of international musicians, plans to establish two national music scholarships—one to send a young Canadian musician to Europe to study and the other in the form of a commission for the composition of a Canadian work to be performed by a Canadian artist in the Society's concert series next season.

Partial funds for the scholarship are to be raised from the proceeds of a dinner to be held February 10 at the Windsor Hotel. Guest speaker for the occasion will be the Honorable Brooke Claxton, President of the Canada Arts Council.

Others recently honored for their contributions to music with the "For Music" Award of the Society were: Claude Champagne, musical composer; George London, Montreal baritone; and Dr. Wilfrid Pelletier, longtime distinguished conductor of the Metropolitan Opera Company who has now returned to his native Montreal.

The Awards Committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. Harold H. Cummings, includes: Commadore Paul Earl, MLA, Mrs. John Corcoran, Captain A. Ross Webster, Sidney T. Fisher, Alan Macnaughton MP, and Miss Frances Goltman.

F. J. Lavery, 84, buried Wednesday

Funeral service for F. J. Lavery, QC, was held Wednesday at the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount. Mr. Lavery died at his residence, 461 Mount Stephen Ave., Sunday, after a long illness. He was 84.

Born in Montreal, he was educated at St. Mary's College, University of Montreal and McGill University, and was prominent in the legal profession until his retirement two years ago.

An ardent sportsman, Mr. Lavery was a member of the Mount Royal Curling Club, the Chapleau Fish and Game Club, and a charter member of the Beaconsfield Golf Club. He was also a member of the University Club.

His wife, the former Gertrude Donahue, predeceased him. Burial was in Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

were gardening and crocheting. Her husband, John James, predeceased her in 1939.

She is survived by two sons, Edward and Joseph; two daughters, Lucy (Mrs. G. Closs) and Jennie (Mrs. W. Thomas).

Funeral service was held in the chapel of D. A. Collins, and the burial was in Mount Royal Cemetery.

125 students visit Ottawa

Nosing out the dissolution of Parliament by one day, 125 students of grade 10 of Westmount Senior High School visited Ottawa Friday on a tour sponsored annually by the Current Events Club of the school. This year's group was the largest on record.

Accompanying the Club were J. K. Snyder, adviser; C. Bradley, physical education instruction; president Stephen Kinsman; vice-president Stephen Lipper and executive members, Edward Aronoff and Frances Sommerfreund.

On arriving in Ottawa, the group went directly to Parliament Hill, where they were greeted by Hon. George Marler, MP for Westmount-St. Antoine. They were also addressed by Hon. Donald Fleming, Minister of Finance. They were present for the Speaker's procession and afterwards enjoyed an interesting question and answer period. Luncheon in the Parliamentary Restaurant and talks by Hon. Lester Pearson and Claude Richardson, member for St. Lawrence—St. George, was followed by a tour of the building including the Memorial Chamber.

The full and free discussion which the electors have the right to expect from their chosen representatives was not heard. The point is, however, that the council has taken a step forward and deserves credit for this.

Crutchlow calls for study of traffic casualty data

To mark National Health Week, Westmount Rotary, at their regular luncheon meeting Tuesday, heard Dr. E. F. Crutchlow, senior assistant Radiologist at the Montreal General Hospital and Assistant Professor to them on the topic of "Traffic Deaths and Injuries".

Dr. Crutchlow deplored the present state of affairs where insufficient data on accidents is accumulated. He views the traffic casualty rate, he said, "as an epidemic". And the only way in which to conquer an epidemic is to make a thorough study of its causes.

"In September of 1954," he said, "I strongly recommended that a provincial body be set up to co-ordinate and supervise the direction of data on traffic deaths and accidents and to deal with this problem on a scientific basis. The problem of traffic deaths and injuries must be approached from a point of view of fundamental causes of these accidents. These causes and all the factors concerned in traffic deaths and injuries can only be ascertained by a painstaking special investigation at the time of the accident. There is an appalling lack of adequate information with regard to the many factors that go to make up the single accident."

"To the best of my knowledge," Dr. Crutchlow continued, "nothing has been done since 1954 to implement such a scheme even though the statements I then made had been already made by numerous experts in the field and the plan which I presented had been developed and promoted by the Royal Automobile Club of Canada after an extensive study of the problem."

DEATHS INCREASE

"Not only has nothing been accomplished since 1954, but there is no indication that any plans are going forward for the future — and this despite the fact that the rate of deaths and injuries by traffic in Montreal is on the rise."

In pointing out that 3000 Canadians are killed each year in traffic accidents, and another 50,000 are injured, Dr. Crutchlow stated: "As long as we continue to apply corrective measures to our traffic situation without any firm basis in statistical facts, I don't see how we can expect to obtain any better results than we are obtaining at the present time."

As far as specific steps by the medical profession itself are concerned, Dr. Crutchlow gave a short history of what has already been done and what is projected for the near future.

He disclosed that in September, 1952, senior medical students at McGill were introduced to the problem of motor vehicle accidents and their prevention in an addition to their curriculum which took the form of panel discussion by experts in the field of traffic safety.

USEFUL

"Graduates now in general practice," he said, "who participated in this first clinic, have testified as to its usefulness when they have been called upon to deal with motor vehicle accident problems in their community."

Dr. Crutchlow revealed that though the active participation by the medical profession was ridiculed in some official quarters and though research grants were refused, an International Conference on the Medical Aspects of Traffic Accidents was called on May 4th and 5th, 1955, with four purposes in view: 1) To determine the medical problem; 2) To ascertain the actual amount of relevant data then existing; 3) To indicate general areas for possible medical research bearing on these problems; and 4) To indicate where the responsibility of the medical profession lies.

The first finding of the conference, he said, "was that the data on traffic deaths and injuries was hopelessly inadequate."

As a result of the discoveries made, which were completely tabulated and have been published in a volume entitled "Medical Aspects of Traffic Accidents," it was decided at this time to establish the Canadian Medical Traffic Accidents Research Foundation, and a board of governors composed of leaders in Industry, Research and Medicine was appointed.

TORONTO MEET

This organization will meet in Toronto next week to finalize their organizational preparations and will commence its function of research and compilation shortly. Already, however, it has received the endorsement of the Canadian Medical Association and the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, and is working in close co-operation with the Canadian Highway Safety Council.

Library concludes year of fine work

WESTMOUNT Library is the most extensively-used English-language library next to the Redpath Library.

Under the extremely efficient direction of Miss Kathleen Jenkins, chief librarian and secretary of the library board, the library has come through a most satisfactory 1957 — its 58th year of operation.

It is truly a "civic" library, operated by board of trustees and supported by municipal taxes. It is an integral part of Westmount and gives free library service to all who live in the community. In addition it caters to a limited number of non-residents at a modest fee.

In answering readers' questions through the reference department, the librarians themselves discovered many interesting things — they learned how to dig a well, make a potter's wheel, propose toasts at weddings; provided pictures and descriptions of costumes; helped with criticisms, appreciations and biographies; looked at the Gold Coast and the new independent state of Ghana, at atomic submarines, at Thailand and at the situation of women in modern China, to name but a few.

Canadian questions were no less varied and included Charlotte Whitton, Sir Isaac Brock, Louis Joseph Papineau, the schooner Bluenose, totem poles, divorce statistics, Cree Indians, drama and poetry, national health insurance, beavers and fish hatcheries among others.

Gifts to the library during the year were outstanding, including the 350 from the Carnegie Foundation, chosen to depict "contemporary American civilization and its origins."

Membership totaled 12,742, an increase over the previous year of 1,011.

Circulation of books reached the high mark of 236,919, an increase of 23,135 over 1956 figures.

The report indicates that Miss Jenkins and her staff have concluded a year of fine work, and deserve the commendation of the citizens.

Informing citizens on metro government

IN a recent communication to the Westmount Municipal Association, Mayor Sydney Bruneau commented on the question of metropolitan government and some of the facts concerning this city's position.

Westmount, he said, is responsible now for its share of the Metropolitan boulevard and for maintaining such arterial streets as St. Catherine, Sherbrooke, Western, Cote St. Antoine road, Westmount avenue, The Boulevard, Victoria, Grosvenor, which act as through highways for metropolitan traffic. On these streets, he estimated, through traffic runs as high as 80 per cent.

This city also operates its own fire and police departments, parks and athletic grounds, the library, Victoria Hall.

Westmount paid 30 per cent of the former municipal income tax total collected, while receiving back 2½ per cent. Westmount obtains its water from Montreal and the citizens of Westmount pay for it directly. Local, lateral and trunk sewers are paid by bordering proprietors. Collector sewer costs are shared by participating municipalities as ordered by the Public Service Board.

Westmount supports the Council of Arts up to 1 per cent of the sales tax distribution, contributes to school maintenance of other municipalities through the Protestant Central school system, maintains its own medical staff and contributes substantially to hos-

After cash, in a big way

By CYNTHIA JONES

HEADING the women's division of the current Reddy Memorial Hospital financial campaign for $250,000 is an indefatigable, slender young woman who is sure that her 25 canvassers will bring in more than the $6,500 expected of them. She is Mrs. G. Harold M. Campbell, of 20 Anworth Road, Westmount, who is tackling her new job with enormous enthusiasm and drive.

"Although this is my first time working for the hospital I feel an attachment to it because I have not only friends on the staff but a number of women I know have had their babies at the Reddy Memorial and have liked it there," said Mrs. Campbell.

In one way Mrs. Campbell is typical of the housewife mixed up in social work. She has lots of free time now that her 14-year-old son Peter is at school all day long. "I think at a certain stage when the children no longer need all a mother's time, she pital, welfare, charity and cultural organizations located in Greater Montreal.

Against this background, the new council is examining the latest information and reports on metropolitan government and plans to keep the citizens informed at the earliest possible date.

This is an attitude to be commended highly.

National health week personal challenge

THIS is National Health Week, dedicated to something that should be in vogue all year.

Hygiene is simple — therefore too often despised and neglected. Cleanliness, good diet, moderation, exercise are all basic laws of health and they lead to mental attitudes of confidence, hopefulness and calm.

We neither practice nor teach these laws effectively to those coming after us. Perhaps our way of life, like that of our neighbors to the south, has led us into this lassitude.

School physical training needs an overhaul. A leading Canadian physician recently declared: "We Canadians are a nation of riders and spectators — not walkers or active physical participants."

This is an individual challenge to today's adult people, to adjust bodies to changing conditions of modern life to keep them in condition to handle peak loads.

DOLLARS ARE HER TARGET

should get other interests or she becomes dependent on her family which is bad," said Mrs. Campbell, wife of a lawyer. (She has taken art lessons from Harold Beament and is now taking piano from Edna Marie Hawkin).

In other ways Mrs. Campbell can hardly be described as a typical housewife. In the first place she is an American who gave up her American citizenship after her parents' death quite recently to become a Canadian and one with much charitable work already to her credit. In the second, she has had an academic background. A native of Chicago, she was brought up at Northwestern University at Evanston, daughter of the late Professor Walter K. Smart, professor of English in the schools of journalism and commerce.

Studied in France

Elizabeth Smart graduated from Northwestern in 1937, having majored in French. In 1938 she went abroad for a year to study French at the University of Grenoble, near Lyon, in the South of France. While there she met her husband who was also taking a French course. Elizabeth returned to Northwestern, took a business course, and for almost three years was secretary to the vice-president of the University.

In 1941 she married Harold Campbell whom she had met in France. She came to Montreal and has lived here ever since. An inveterate canvasser, Mrs. Campbell has rung door bells for the Tiny Tim campaign, Red Feather, Salvation Army, The Blind, Red Cross and the Joint Hospital Appeal. A new member of the Reddy Memorial Women's Auxiliary, she has served on the Children's Hospital auxiliary. She has been active in the American Women's Club and is a member of Pi Beta Phi fraternity. An ardent golfer, Mrs. Campbell plays all summer at the Hermitage Club at Magog, Que.

Dark-haired, with widely-spaced brown eyes, Mrs. Campbell, reticent about herself, is an excellent saleswoman for the hospital. She intends to get out and canvass her own neighborhood for the campaign. She obligingly dug up a lot of vital statistics about the hospital.

The small, 142-bed hospital, tucked in off Atwater avenue, just south of St. Catherine, was founded in 1871. It was first known as the Women's Hospital of Bishop's College. For a time it became the Women's General, then the Herbert Reddy Memorial. In 1943 the hospital was completely re-organized and a few years ago the "Herbert" was dropped from the title.

"While the Reddy Memorial is one-fifth the size of the Montreal General we have half as many obstetrical cases and one-quarter of the number of operations," said Mrs. Campbell.

In attendance at the hospital are 87 doctors, four of them women, and one of whom is on the consulting staff. At present there are no women obstetricians at the hospital.

There are 70 nurses engaged at the hospital; a total of 282 people in attendance. Among the doctors, nurses and staff members practically every country is represented.

"There are lots of babies born there," said Mrs. Campbell. "The 1957 figures haven't been compiled but in 1956, 1,370 babies, including 14 twins, were born there."

The record shows that no mothers died in 1956; there were 25 still births; and 14 new-born infant deaths. No children were lost.

Other statistics: 6,098 admissions, 30 per cent of which were public patients; 19,691 out-patient visits. On an average day at the Reddy Memorial there are filled 108 beds and 15 bassinets; 14 patients admitted; 4 babies born; 7 operations performed; 55 out-patient attendances; 5 home-care service visits; 40 X-ray examinations; 153 laboratory tests; 100 prescriptions dispensed; 730 meals served; 1,700 pounds of linen laundered.

"You'll agree," said Mrs. Campbell, "that ours is a busy, little hospital and I do hope the people will be generous in their donations."

Library report reveals increases across board

Membership, circulation, stock and receipts all showed an increase in the annual report of the Westmount Public Library. The appropriation for the year totalled close to $50,000.00.

An increased membership of 1,000 adults and juveniles, bringing the total to 12,742, accounted for a circulation of 236,919 volumes, an increase of 23,000 over the previous year. At December 31st, 1957, 58,984 adult and juvenile books were available as compared to 57,000 on the same date, 1956.

Receipts from dues, fines and reserves accounted for $8,660.23 of the budget.

Miss Kathleen Jenkins, Chief Librarian and Secretary, reported that, among the new members were a limited number of non-residents. Though there has had to be a restriction placed on the number of these members, it is felt that their inclusion in the membership has afforded the opportunity of maintaining contact with many former residents of Westmount who have moved to the suburbs.

Immigration has again been a factor in the work of the library, as many newcomers to Canada have settled in this municipality and eventually found their way to this institution. The children's librarians, especially, report a willing and quick acceptance of Canadian ideas among these recent citizens.

The reference department, concerned with the use of books or other materials within the building, marks a strenuous and other assignments provided labors enough for the staff.

Specific requests for material included: how to dig a well and how to make a potter's wheel; how to propose toasts at weddings and christenings; and how to write a letter of application for a position. Ghana, atomic submarines, the Gold Coast, Thailand and women in modern China were all topics of research.

The Canadian scene provoked enquiries on the schooner Blue-nose, divorce statistics, Cree Indians, drama and poetry, national health insurance, beaver in Quebec, the Conservative Cabinet, Louis Joseph Papineau, Sir Isaac Brock and Charlotte Whitton.

As far as the children were concerned, 1957 was a year of varied readings and discovery, reported Miss K. Fraser, Children's Librarian.

"The children and young people are becoming increasingly aware of the authors who write about Canada," she said. "The new Canadian books are varied and cover all the different backgrounds of our way of life. The biographies are especially popular, with their appreciation of great names in medicine, music, art, exploration and adventure. Such series as 'The Great Stories of Canada' and 'Canadian Portraits' fill this need. Stories of Indians still appeal, and science books are always in demand."

"Each year a few books stand out. 'The World of Pooh' by Milne and 'Cat in the Hat' by Geisel, charm and delight the young readers with their sense of humor, all too scarce in books. One small borrower told us 'It is very hard to make me laugh' and a challenge like that needs someone like Geisel or 'Space Cat Meets Mars' by Ruthven Todd."

"There is no end to the interest in magic—to be a magician seems to be the height of ambition for the 8-12 year old group, and 'Spooky Magic' by Kettlekamp is one of the most popular finds of the year."

Young PC's happy over Ottawa visit

For many, if not all, of those who attended the Young Progressive Conservative Association caucus, held in Ottawa this past weekend, it was a new adventure. Returning delegates and observers from the St. Antoine-Westmount group were amazed and very pleased with the excellent job of organization that was characteristic of the whole weekend.

Four delegates and some twenty-five observers represented this riding. The two voting delegates were Gavin Ross, president of the YPC's in St. Antoine-Westmount, and Bev MacInnes, secretary. Alternate delegates were Joyce McEwen and James Anderson.

Activities were in full swing Friday morning, with as many as possible of those who could get a day off, in attendance. The remainder arrived Friday night or Saturday morning, to hear and meet with the two contenders for the President of the Young Progressive Conservative Association's crown. They were George Hogan, an automobile dealer from Toronto, and Douglas Jung, MP from British Columbia. Mr. Jung won.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker addressed the club in the morning of Saturday, February 1st, paid a visit to the Governor General in Quebec that afternoon, and returned to the House for 6:00 p.m. to make the declaration that will affect so many, March 31st. The Prime Minister then ate with and addressed the Young people at a banquet later on in the evening, and then remained in the anterooms with Mrs. Diefenbaker and received those, and there were many, who wished to shake hands with and say a few words to them.

The Ball Room was in the meantime cleared, an orchestra and entertainers appeared, and the festivities were finished off in typical young people's style, with a ball!

Thoroughly happy and satisfied young people returned to their respective cities, towns, and colleges, all fired up with enthusiasm for the party in the forthcoming elections. Over 1,000 young people took Ottawa by storm and it might be safe to say that not one was disappointed with the actions of the weekend. If they were, their unhappiness was of their own making!

Intriguing titles in books donated by Carnegie fund

A highlight of the recently released 1957 annual report of the Westmount Public Library was the announcement that a donation had been received from the Carnegie Corporation of New York of 350 volumes chosen to interpret "contemporary American civilization and its origins."

The gift was offered to selected libraries throughout the British Commonwealth, both public and university, and contained a selection of American classics as well as reference works on the history and culture of the United States.

Among the titles in the collection are included: The American People and Foreign Policy, by G. A. Almond; Patterns of Culture, by Ruth Benedict; Education and Liberty, by J. B. Conant; Guard of Honor, by J. G. Cozzens; Studs Lonigan, by James T. Farrell; The Ambassadors, by Henry James; Point of No Return, by Mind, by Karl A. Menninger; and The Life of Reason by George Santayana.

A volume entitled American Panorama, edited by Eric Larabee, was prepared and distributed as an introduction and guide to the collection.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (233:1): "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them. This is an element of progress, and progress is the law of God, whose law demands of us only what we can certainly fulfil."

Unity of purpose is keynote at Inter-Faith Institute

Unity of purpose was the keynote Monday when Catholic, Jewish and Protestant delegations attended the 17th annual Institute on Judaism sponsored by the Temple Emanu-El. Guest speaker for the day was Dr. Samuel Sandmel, Professor of Bible and Hellenistic Literature at the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati, who delivered scholarly interpretations of the teachings and lasting values of "Paul the Christian" and "Paul the Jew".

At the luncheon session, however, Dr. Harry J. Stern, Rabbi of the Temple, introduced a note of levity illustrative of the purpose of the Institute.

Speaking of the last, ill-fated, voyage of the Franconia — on which he was travelling — Dr. Stern recalled that, when the danger became evident, his life belt had been tied by a Jesuit priest while he in turn had adjusted the gear of a Presbyterian minister. Looking back on the event he remarked that "rabbi, priest and minister were certainly in the same boat".

Just which boat they were in was described by the speaker whom he then introduced.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Irene Lussier, Rector of the University of Montreal, took for his topic "Science and Human Progress" and for his theme a unity among spiritual leaders that they might lead the world out of its approaching chaos and back to God.

The scientific advance of the past fifty years has been momentous, he pointed out, but "the new world in the offing will come out of a revolution too rapid not to create chaos."

Man's spiritual rejuvenation will be the only force capable of coping with this challenge.

"There can be no peace where there is disorder; there can be no greater disorder than to ignore the true relation of man to God," he said.

"Of what good is liberty if one does not know what use to make of it," he queried? The only true liberty is freedom to advance toward God — and intellectual and spiritual formation is the key to the correct use of liberty.

Msgr. Lussier called for a united effort "toward a more vigorous education."

"This education must respect each individual, which is the basis of a sound democracy; but this respect, far from requiring a levelling at the lower ranks, calls for the careful culture of the most brilliant minds."

And education, he declared, must be oriented toward the "re-discovering of God as the true pivot from which the world can lift itself endlessly, with no limitation other than that which God Himself, might set."

Among leaders of various denominations who participated ed in the discussions, were: Rev. Dr. George B. Caird, Principal of the United Theological College and Rev. Dr. Robert Lennox, Principal of the Presbyterian Theological College, who each presided at one of Dr. Sandmel's talks. Seminarians of various divinity colleges throughout Montreal were in attendance, as well as clerical and lay educators of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish communities.

Strong Westmount flavor to current McGill revue

Making a hit out of Wry and Ginger is the present job of cast and staff of the new McGill Red and White Revue and special concern of male lead, Earl Naismith, 4511 St. Catherine street west. The Revue which opened last night is playing at Moyse Hall until February 12. Another member of the cast, Page Fairchild, 453 Victoria avenue, told The Examiner that most seats were sold out before the Revue opened.

A third Westmount resident, Audrey Rockingham, 366 Kitchener, is personal manager for the show and is spending her evenings trying to "get the right people on stage at the right time," while Jon Anderson, 61 Oakland, whose advertising worries are over, concentrates on publicity.

The Revue staff "has condensed two months work into three weeks," Earl Naismith, better known as Buddy said. They have been working five or six hours every day during that period. "It hasn't interfered too much with my studies," Buddy commented. A last year engineering student, he hopes to eventually obtain a master's degree.

In Wry and Ginger, Buddy and leading lady, Holly Higgins, conduct a cross-Canada search for Canadian volunteers to man the first moon-bound rocket. During the 18 scenes in the musical comedy, they visit such places as the Calgary Stampede, Banff, a police convention and a Montreal park.

EXPERIENCED

Local residents may remember seeing Buddy on stage before when he appeared in plays at St. Luke's United Church. Buddy is also a member of the Three Saints and a Sinner barbershop quartet which won the Intercollegiate championship last year. He attended Westmount High Schools.

Page Fairchild, who Jon Anderson calls the Alex Guinness of Wry and Ginger, plays several parts. He is on stage as a Russian diplomat, a policeman, a hobo and a TV announcer. A landed immigrant from the United States, Page is a third year arts student at McGill and previously attended Westmount schools.

MANY BALLADS

Audrey Rockingham, who has been co-ordinating people for the revue since December, started with the production in the fall by attending script meetings and helping to coordinate the script. "There are more ballads in Wry and Ginger than in My Fur Lady," this fourth year art student said, "and there is more of a plot". Wry and Ginger boasts 18 original songs.

"No one can do college shows but college students," John Anderson said when he was speaking about the high enthusiasm of the cast for their production. "We all want to put on a good Revue," he added, Jon, who thinks "the music is better than last year show," said they have no special plans for the show after February 12, but "let it lead us where it will."

AD MANAGER

As advertising manager for the production, Jon was in charge of obtaining all advertisements for the printed program. When this job finished January 15, he began working on publicity for the show and was responsible for a by-line article in the Montreal Gazette and a small squib earlier in the fall in Maclean's magazine. A Gazette reporter during the summer, Jon is a second year law student at McGill.

Five other Westmount students taking part in the production include Richard Notkin, 18 Grenville, who wrote four of the songs; Jeremy Riley, 29 Ramsey road, who plays a diplomat; and dancers Steven Goldschleger, 768 Upper Belmont; Allan Ross, 657 Lansdowne; Michael Feldman, 601 Clark avenue.

New boys' camp

Of interest to youngsters and parents for the coming summer season is the announcement of the opening, during the month of July, of a new boys' camp in the Eastern Townships.

Camp Wilvaken, presently in the process of construction, is situated on Lovering Lake, 90 miles from Montreal and 23 miles from Sherbrooke. The modern buildings and equipment assure adequate facilities for eating and sleeping and the site has one of the finest beaches in the area.

The program at the camp will include many of the usual summer camp features but will be novel in its inclusion of extensive participation by the boys in policymaking and programming.

Directing the camp will be Dr. K. R. Willis, currently principal of Huntingdon High School. Dr. Willis has spent over fifteen years in the field of education as teacher, principal, supervisor and lecturer.

Doug Harvey's story told in magazine piece

Doug Harvey, the great Montreal Canadiens defenceman, may very well be the most successful "loafer" in the history of professional sport. Here is some of the evidence piled up in a Maclean's story by sportswriter Trent Frayne:

"Ten years ago there was some doubt that Harvey would make the grade with Canadiens because he was inclined to loaf", Frayne writes in the February 15 issue of the magazine.

"Six years ago, although it was noted that he was inclined to loaf, Harvey was voted to the National Hockey League's all-star team, which he has made every year since.

"This season, hockey experts are fondling the notion that, although he is inclined to loaf, Doug Harvey is possibly the best defenceman in the history of the NHL."

Among the experts quoted by Frayne as saying Harvey is the best or among the best of all time are former-great Eddie Shore, Canadiens' coach Toe Blake, former star and top coach Joe Primeau, and a hatful of hockey writers.

As to the loafing charge, Harvey explains it is a matter of playing style; he prefers "pacing" to "loafing". But "if I was loafing the year I broke in, I'm loafing now", he's quoted in the Maclean's article.

A storm of abuse from fans and sports writers during his early days with the Canadiens didn't budge his basic approach to the game by a skate-length.

"I don't think the point is whether or not you're loafing, but whether you know when to loaf", Frayne quotes Harvey.

"I spend quite a bit of time on the ice. I'm on for our power plays and I'm on when we're a man short. I take my regular turn."

"This is no complaint; I wouldn't want it any other way. But I feel I have to save a little something now and then for what might happen in the late stages of a game."

Loaf or not, it wasn't Harvey who changed but his critics. He was first elected an all-star in 1952 and "fans and other critics have been applauding his work ever since", the Maclean's story sums up.

Large entry list for Quebec 'Y' cage tourney

THE Quebec YMCA are holding their annual basketball, swimming, volleyball and apparatus tournament Saturday, February 15, and a large entry list from Montreal is reported.

From the Southwestern tip of Montreal, Verdun and Westmount will compete and NDG, who dropped out at the last moment last year is an entry this year.

Central will also send a cage team and so will International YMCA. Swimmers from all these Ys will make up a party of 60 Montrealers.

Entries from Three Rivers, Sherbrooke and other Eastern Townships will also compete.

U of M tied with Laval

Andre Arsenault, who figured in all Laval goals, scored the winner at 3:04 of overtime to give the Rouge et Or a 5-4 Intercollegiate Hockey League victory over McGill Redmen at the Winter Stadium.

The win was Laval's third in six starts and tied the Quebecers for second place with University of Montreal. The Carabins dropped an 8-1 decision to league-leading Toronto Varsity Blues in last night's other game.

Arsenault also collected four assists. Pierre Raymond scored two goals and two assists and Michael Lagace picked up a goal and three assists. Defenseman Francois Larocque was the other Laval marksman.

Dick Baltzan tallied two goals for the Redmen, who came from behind twice to tie the game in the third period. Leo Konyk and Joe Irvin scored a goal apiece.

Wings down Guards 5-1 for first place

Hockey in the Westmount Recreation Department pee wee section was resumed after a week long lay-off, due to poor ice conditions.

At Westmount Park, Wings downed Guards 5-1 to maintain their lead in first place. Jackie Britton (2), Gordie Robson, Tom Christie and Gord Kyle were the goalgetters for the Wings.

Chris Lygitsakos was the marksman and digger for the Guards. Tilley, Robson, Chisholm, Britton and McJannet also picked up assists for the winners.

The Dalhousie squad pulled off a surprise by defeating the highly-rated Flyers by a score of 2-0. The poor ice conditions helped the Dal's as they are a heavier and slower skating club.

Cooper and Madden were the scorers with Garcia and Elliott assisting. Rubin and McLernon, two rival goalies both turned in very fine games.

Donald Millichamp blasted home a pass from "Boom Boom" Lefebvre to give Cardinal a well-earned win over Indians. The winning marker coming with but ninety seconds remaining in the game.

John Forbes and Jimmy Millichamp also hit the scoresheet for the winners. Derek Johnson got both Redskin goals. Michael McCormick was the outstanding man on the ice.

Wings in 8-1 swamp over Aces

Action was resumed in the Westmount Midget section as Wings and Aces hooked up in contest played at Stayner Park, with Wings winning 8-1. The game went according to the usual script with Aces goalie, Robert Eby holding the opposition to a pair of goals in each of the first and second period, despite a barrage of rubber.

His hard-trying mates wilted in the third frame and Wings potted another four. Hugh Palmer came up with a pair of nicely executed unassisted goals.

Nicky Shaw was high man for the night with one goal and three assists. Terry Dawson aided by Mike Riddell tallied for Aces.

Exciting races in school puck

In school hockey, besides the close race between Mont St. Louis and Catholic High in Senior 'A' there are some exciting races going on in the lower sections.

Take the bantams. In the east, it's Catholic High with an unbeaten record of three wins and one draw. St. Laurent have two wins and two draws.

In the west, Verdun High have four wins and no ties. Lachine are second with three wins and one draw.

The junior is a neck and neck battle. Montreal West have four wins while Catholic High have three wins and one draw.

Senior 'B' see Mount Royal in the lead with four wins. Montreal High are unbeaten with one win and two ties.

DeAngelis leads hoopla scoring

Lil DeAngelis has taken over the scoring lead in the Westmount Unity Boys' club girls' house basketball league with 107 points. Second place Mae Ellefsen has 98.

Trotters, in the cellar lost an 18-14 decision to Grads who are tied with Toilers for second place.

Toilers held off the league leading Cordettes to score a 26-12 victory.

Next games will see Grads at Toilers and Trotters playing Cordettes.

Catholic High back in 1st place and West Hill suffers another loss Catholic High are back in first place over Mont St. Louis college in the senior "A" hockey league.

The CHS crew came up with a 4-1 decision over the Mounties and it would seem by this game that the CHS team are on their way.

In another senior "A" game, Verdun High came through with a powerful 6-0 win over West Hill, once proud senior champions.

Mont St. Louis was no match for Brother Paul's fast-skating aggregation.

It seemed as if CHS's Carnival win by a 6-2 count over Mont St. Louis last Friday night affected the collegians' play.

They showed little hustle and did their best to body-check the Black and White players onto St. Catherine street, but rarely connected.

Slim Don Gregory fired two goals for the winners, with singles by Pete Marquis and Pete Meyer. Ray Gregoire scored the lone collegians' goal.

The four goals scored on goalie Robert Church was one more than he had allowed in the club's previous four games and he couldn't be faulted for any of the markers.

The most disappointing aspect of the MSL defeat was the inability of its high scoring line composed of Flo Chasse, Ray Gregoire and Jacques Leclair to produce any semblance of an attack.

On the other hand both Catholic High lines worked well, especially the second unit of Gregory, Meyer and Claude St. Amour. Big Roy DeGuire of MSL really threw his weight around, but not enough to stop the speedy CHS attack.

At the Auditorium, West Hill held Verdun to a single goal in the opening period, but the roof fell in in the second stanza as Verdun scored five times.

Doug Newton led the Verdun attack with three goals, with singletons by Junior Ross, Percy Whitton and Chuck Poxon.

Verdun 'Y' Pats beat NDG 69-49

Southwestern YMCA Verdun Pats remain in top place of the MBL western section with five straight; their No. 5 win over N.D.G. YMCA, 69-49.

At the half, Verdun Pats were ahead 32-17. The N.D.G. team played sloppy ball losing many attacks with loose passing which was stopped by Pats. The Verdun club with fast breaks were able to stay ahead.

Next Tuesday, Westmount will take on N.D.G. at the Hampton avenue gym court. On Wednesday, it will be Victors and Verdun have a bye until Feb. 19.

There was no big scorer for the Pats against N.D.G. Bill Muir, Jim Matchett, Doug Sauer and Ron Mawhinney came up with 10 points each. Bruce Ellsworth scored nine and Al Irwin was top man with 12 points.

Best for N.D.G. was Ike Amannan with 13 points. Mike O'Toole tallied 10, Bob Gariepy eight.

G. G. loses; Navy wins by 11-8

Fusiliers de Montréal took sole claim to second place in the Military Football League downing Guards 8-3 while Navy blasted Maisonneuve 11-8.

Gaston Proulx fanned 17 Guardsmen in a fine display of fast and curve-ball hurling, his slants well handled by batterymate Remi Lussier. For the winners, Leon Deslauriers belted two hits in as many tries while Andre Vaillant had three for four. Lussier also had four straight hits. Doug Radomar was Guards' best clouter with two for three.

In a free-hitting contest the Tars outslugged their rivals with 19 hits against 15. Dick Bunyan was winning pitcher while Claude Bastien was the loser.

Nick Ross was outstanding with seven hits in seven tries while Andre Lalonde went six for seven for Navy's second win in seven games.

Eight unbeaten hoopla teams

Eight school basketball teams remain undefeated four sections. The bantams are the best with two teams in each section, east and west unbeaten.

Baron Byng leads the east with five wins and OHS are second with four wins. In the west, Westmount Junior High have five wins and NHS have four victories.

In junior play, Rosemount and OHS are tied with four wins each. Mount Royal in senior 'B' have four straight wins.

In senior 'A' action, Montreal high have a 3-0 record.

NEW WINGS

Of the 17 players who were with Detroit Red Wings on January 1, 1957, only seven were with them one year later.

AT CATHOLIC High Carnival, St. Paul's of Westmount showed their support for their skaters with this large banner, which tells its own story.

Catholic High carnival success

Catholic High defeated Mont St. Louis 6-2 in the senior hockey game, feature event of the school's 20th annual carnival, before 10,000 fans at the Forum.

The victory gave CHS the edge 9-6 in this annual contest. Five games in the score of years were ties.

Jimmy Gegear, with two goals and two assists, dominated the play though the smallest man on the ice, Ed Hurson, bagged two tallies and helped in a third.

Claude St. Amour and Peter Meyer also scored for Catholic High. Jacques Leclair and "Flo" Chasse fired the Mont St. Louis markers.

St. Aloysius won the bantam hockey championship defeating Verdun's St. Willibrod 3-2 in the other hockey event on the show.

Piche Academy won the boys' speed skating events by piling up 38 points, compared to only eight collected by St. Henri.

St. Augustine's won the girls' senior skating relay and the program was attractively rounded out by skating exhibitions given by Lise Petit, Nancy Davidson and Ian Knight all of the Silver Blades Skating Club.

LCC skiers win three events, Westmount one

Lower Canada College beat out a field of 225 crack school skiers to win three of the four classes in the Greater Montreal Interscholastic ski meet at Mont Gabriel.

The LCC team won classes one, two and four while Westmount High won class three. Mt. Royal High was second in this class and Loyola third.

Best times of the day (in individual classes) were clocked by Emile Cochand, LCC, who turned in a two-run total of 50.6 to win class one (14 and under); Tim Powell, LCC, who clocked a double-run total of 50.1 seconds to take honors position in class two (15 and under); Kent Taylor of Westmount High who was first in class three (16 and under) with a total of 42.6; and LCC's Nick Matassian who won class four (19 and under) with 41.0.

More than 15 schools attended the meet which was first in a three-event schedule (giant slalom, cross-country and downhill) to decide the Montreal High School Ski Championship.

Class One: LCC "B" team, first; LCC "A" team, second; Mount Royal High School, third.

Class Two: LCC, first; Loyola, second; Mont St. Louis, third.

Class Three: Westmount High, first; Mount Royal High, second; Loyola, third.

Class Four: LCC, first; Loyola, second; Westmount High, third.

The executive of the Loyola Winter Carnival, to be held February 13 to 15, announced today that Paul Haynes, prominent in local sport circles and president of International Surveys Ltd., has been appointed honorary chairman of the three day event.

Graduated from Loyola in 1930, Paul Haynes was a stand-out player for the former NHL Montreal Maroons for several years. During his college years he starred in hockey and football, and in 1928 was quarterback of the Loyola team that won the Dominion Intermediate Inter-Collegiate Football Championship. He is presently associated with the Montreal Lawn Tennis Association and is still an active tennis enthusiast.

He will preside at the opening ceremonies of the Carnival on the evening of February 13th, and will judge the ice sculptures which will dominate the campus. Following these ceremonies, a dance will be held at the Chalet atop Mount Royal. Tony Acer and his orchestra will provide the music.

Friday, the 14th, will be sporting day as the Carnival moves North to Mont Gabriel and Ste. Adele for Invitation Skiing and Curling meets. The evening will be given over to an ice show and to hockey and basketball games.

Bishop's University of Lennoxville will compete with Loyola in the Memorial Hockey Game and Ottawa University will meet the Warriors on the basketball court.

Saturday features a variety show in the afternoon at which Maury Kaye and his orchestra, from the El Morocco, will perform to highlight various student appearances.

SALVATION ARMY HOSTEL FOR HOMELESS MEN

The old hostel — which has been a home to the destitute for over fifty years — has to come down. It is far too crowded and no longer safe.

The Salvation Army appeals to you for all you can give, to build this hostel and carry on with their regular work of helping the homeless men who need assistance in regaining the road to a life of usefulness.
