UN COMPROMISE 'LAST-HOPE'

World News In Brief

NEW YORK. — (P) — A general return to work was still awaited today despite official and tentative settlements of two big maritime strikes involving nearly 50,000 employees. An official end to the eight-day strike in the U.S. was announced Wednesday night. But in Baltimore and Hampton Roads, Va., union bosses said local issues have not yet been settled.

TORONTO. — (P) — CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell said Wednesday night the federal government's refusal to establish a national commission to work with the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization is a "disgrace to Canada's good name in the world."

Canada was one of only five nations which had refused to establish a national commission with which UNESCO could work.

LONDON. — (P) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said Wednesday a royal commission will be set up to look into the pay increase demands of Britain's 40,000 national health doctors.

Macmillan labelled the investigation "an independent inquiry which would take into account the position of the medical profession in relation to other professional classes in the community."

STOCKHOLM. — (P) — Sweden accused Premier Nikolai Bulganin's Soviet government Wednesday of lying and withholding facts about Raoul Wallenberg, a Swedish diplomat disclosed only two weeks ago to have died at a Moscow prison.

This traditionally neutral nation, refusing to accept any hand-washing by the present Soviet leadership, served notice it is unwilling to drop the matter until Moscow comes through with further details.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (P) — The Soviet Union has vetoed a Western plan to send the security council president to India and Pakistan in an effort to settle the Kashmir dispute. The Russian delegate hinted that an alternate proposal by the United States would get the same treatment.

OTTAWA. — (P) — The $200,000 Mid-Canada radar warning line will be in full operation in early April, assuming good weather conditions, defence department officials say.

The western section of the line went into operation on schedule New Year's Day but bad weather has delayed completion of the eastern sector from James Bay to the Labrador coast.

NICOSIA, Cyprus. — (P) — Leaflets scattered in Nicosia's main streets Wednesday called for an end to a three-day general strike. Signed by "PEKA" — political branch of the Greek — Cypriot EOKA organization — the leaflets appeared to bring immediate results. Shopkeepers reopened stores for business after reading them. The strike started in all main cities of the British colony last Monday as a mass movement coinciding with the United Nations debate on Cyprus.

AUCKLAND, N. Z. — (P) — Former Prime Minister Eden and Lady Eden arrived in Auckland today aboard the liner Rangitara. This was Eden's first full day up since two shipboard bouts of fever. He told a press conference one bout was mild and the other sharper but that neither lasted long although they left him weak.

Author Collects From His Critic

LONDON. — (Reuters) — Novelist Evelyn Waugh Wednesday was awarded £2,000 in libel damages. He claimed an article by critic Nancy Spain in the London Express implied he was a failure and suggested he was embittered by the success of a brother, also a writer.

Going, Going, Gone — Many an actress has had a close shave in the movies, but probably none closer than that endured by Natalia Daryll, 24-year-old Russian actress for her Hollywood debut in The Secret Diary of Joseph Stalin. Shown in progressive stages as her long black hair is shorn, Natalia (far left) takes a last look at her locks; tears well up as buzzing clipper cuts a swath; gets a good lather preliminary to the close shave; and emerges as bald as a "Brynner."

Duplessis Warns Ottawa

'We Stand Firm On Quebec Rights'

QUEBEC. — (P) — Premier Duplessis, whose strong views on provincial rights are well known, Wednesday found himself in the position of defending his government against a charge that it has been lax in guarding such rights. "In the past I have personally humiliated myself... but now I warn those who would trespass that we stand firm and determined that they shall not pass," he told the Legislature.

Corporation Profits Tax Hike Passed

QUEBEC. — (P) — A government bill increasing to nine per cent the provincial tax on corporation profits was approved unanimously yesterday by the Quebec Legislative Assembly. The vote was 76 to 0. Before the vote, Premier Duplessis said nine per cent represents the amount the Federal Government has agreed to make fully deductible from the federal corporation tax. Thus no Quebec corporation will be doubly taxed as a result of the increased provincial tax. He said the Federal Government's agreement on nine per cent is an improvement and the provincial government hopes further improvements will come. At the same time he said no one will ever convince him the provinces are limited to nine per cent in their right to tax corporation profits.

Phonetic Alphabet Out; Shaw Society To Fight

LONDON. — (Reuters) — George Bernard Shaw's proposed 40-letter alphabet, for which he left more than £100,000, was judged an invalid charitable trust in court Wednesday. The money will go to the residual legatees.

But the Irish playwright's friends, the Shaw Society, do not intend to let the matter rest. At a press conference, Isaac Pitman, a member of Parliament and descendant of the inventor of Pitman shorthand, told reporters the society intends to "try to raise by public subscription the necessary money to make an appeal."

Pitman estimated that the cost of carrying out Shaw's wishes would have been no more than the equivalent of about £3,500. Cost of the five-day action to determine the validity of the "alphabet trust" was about £10,000.

ESTATE OVER £700,000
The Irish playwright died in 1950 at the age of 94. He left an estate valued at £716,000 taxes reduced the sum to £192,000. Shaw wished that most of the money be spent on research into the time, labor and money that

Row In Parliament

Conservative Senators Clash Over Wheat

OTTAWA. — (P) — A sudden storm, growing from a dispute between two Progressive Conservative over wheat marketing policies, blew up in the Senate Wednesday. Senator Walter Aseltine, lawyer-farmer from Rosetown, Sask., stalked from the Upper Chamber after Opposition Leader John T. Haig referred to him as "a very wealthy man" who doesn't need to worry about wheat surpluses. Later Senator Aseltine denied he had left in anger at his leader, but observers said he was obviously annoyed. Speaking before Senator Haig, he had defended the Canadian Wheat Board and said that although wheat was "piled up" in the West the surplus would disappear with orderly marketing. Then the Opposition leader, a

Ex-CCFer Takes On Socialists

OTTAWA. — (P) — Liberal Ross Thatcher, who bolted from the CCF party in 1955, said Wednesday in the Commons he is amazed by the "complete lack of financial responsibility" shown by his former colleagues. "They either can't comprehend economics or don't want to," he said in reply to CCF demands that crop-failure payments under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act be increased by more than proposed by the government.

He spoke before the Commons approved a resolution paving the way for introduction of a bill to increase the one-per-cent levy on farmers' grain deliveries. The proposed payments are $4 an acre, on half the cultivated acreage, if the yield in the qualifying area is between zero and three bushels an acre; $3 if the yield is three to five bushels and $2 if it is between four and eight bushels.

Mr. Thatcher, who will run against CCF farm spokesman Hazen Argue in the Saskatchewan constituency of Assiniboia at the next election, said the Liberal government's PFAA proposal is "one more nail in the coffin of Canadian socialism."

Like many in Saskatchewan he had been "taken in" by the CCF in 1936—a time when half the province was on direct relief. The CCF had new ideas and "plausible" speakers. But time and experience had shown that CCF proposals were wrong.

Dangerous Loot

MONTREAL. — (P) — Police said Wednesday they are certain children stole 700 highly dangerous impact-hammer cartridges from a construction site earlier this week.

Sanctions Threat To Israel

UNITED NATIONS. — (CP-AP) — An American attempt to break the Egypt-Israeli deadlock outside the United Nations was written off by most UN delegations today as an attempt to impose some sort of sanctions against Israel.

The Arab states who have been calling for sanctions against Israel because of her non-compliance with six calls by the UN to withdraw her troops from the Gaza strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area were reported ready to table such a resolution when the assembly meets Friday.

What might head off such an extreme step was a compromise resolution reported being backed by Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson which would — while calling again for the Israelis to pull their troops out

A-Rockets For US Defence

WASHINGTON. — (P) — The United States is prepared to use atomic explosions high in the air to blast down any attacking enemy bombers.

The Defence Department disclosed Wednesday night not only that atomic rockets have been developed for that purpose, but that they have been made available to U. S. air defence forces.

The rockets are designed for firing from jet fighter — interceptors. Nuclear weapons are to be provided later for ground firing from anti-aircraft positions.

The announcement means that the atomic weapons will be stored in some cases near cities, but the department sought to minimize the possible danger from the rockets.

In the statement there was a hint that the atomic rockets may be sent outside the country, later for defence of perimeters or overseas bases.

In Ottawa, defence officials said the CF-100 fighter carries rockets without atomic warheads. They questioned the need for atomic weapons if the missile is accurate.

Granny Takes Off On Stilts

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — (P) — Grandmother Mrs. Amma Haddox, immobilized but cheerful, reflected on the hazards of walking on stilts at the age of 67.

Mrs. Haddox, recovering from a broken leg could still proudly recall that as a girl of 17 she was the champion stilt-walker in her neighborhood.

When some kids were playing on stilts last Saturday, Mrs. Haddox couldn't resist the urge to try her skill.

After the fall, she said: "The embarrassment was worse than the pain."

Britain Wants UN Guarantees For Israel

LONDON. — (P) — The Foreign Office said today Britain feels an Israeli withdrawal from Egypt should be combined with a United Nations guarantee of freedom of passage in the Gulf of Aqaba.

The statement was made in answer to a request for comment on President Eisenhower's call Wednesday night for the UN to "exert pressure" to get Israel to withdraw her troops from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Civil Code Changes Approved

QUEBEC. — (P) — The Legislative Assembly yesterday gave prompt final approval to two government bills proposing changes in Quebec's Civil Code.

One bill, dealing with the code of civil procedure, contained a series of amendments to do away with outdated clauses. For instance, Premier Duplessis said, the bill eliminates articles which dealt with the now defunct Circuit Court.

The other would make interest payable on damages awarded in law suits from the time action was taken in court instead of from the date of the court decision.

Rene Hamel, acting Liberal leader, said the move was apparently designed to counter-balance the prejudice caused to parties in law-suits who sometimes wait two to three years before a ruling is handed down. He said a better way to deal with this situation would be to make it possible for the Federal Government to appoint more Superior Court judges.

Thousands Hold Breath As Queen's Plane Lands

OPORTO, Portugal. — (P) — Lisbon's scenes of wild enthusiasm were duplicated today as the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh landed here after a 45-minute flight from the Portuguese capital.

A sigh of relief went up from those present for some fear had been felt whether the big Viscount could land without difficulty on the relatively short runway.

The Queen's pilot made test landings and takeoffs weeks before the start of the tour.

A group of girls showered Elizabeth and Philip with flower petals as they left the plane. The girls were dressed in the gay costumes of the Oporto region.

Thousands had gathered outside the Lisbon airport to cheer the Queen and Duke as they ended a four-day state visit and took off for this centre of the port wine industry.

The couple smiled and waved continually, although some Portuguese newspapers commented that the Queen appeared slightly tired.

The road to the airport was lined with crowds which waved farewell with hands, handkerchiefs and flags, shouting: "Via a rainha" and "Adeus, adeus."

Earlier President Francisco Lopes and his wife had gone to Queluz Palace—the Queen's home during her visit—to bid farewell.

Stork Flies Low Over The Queen — It's An Omen

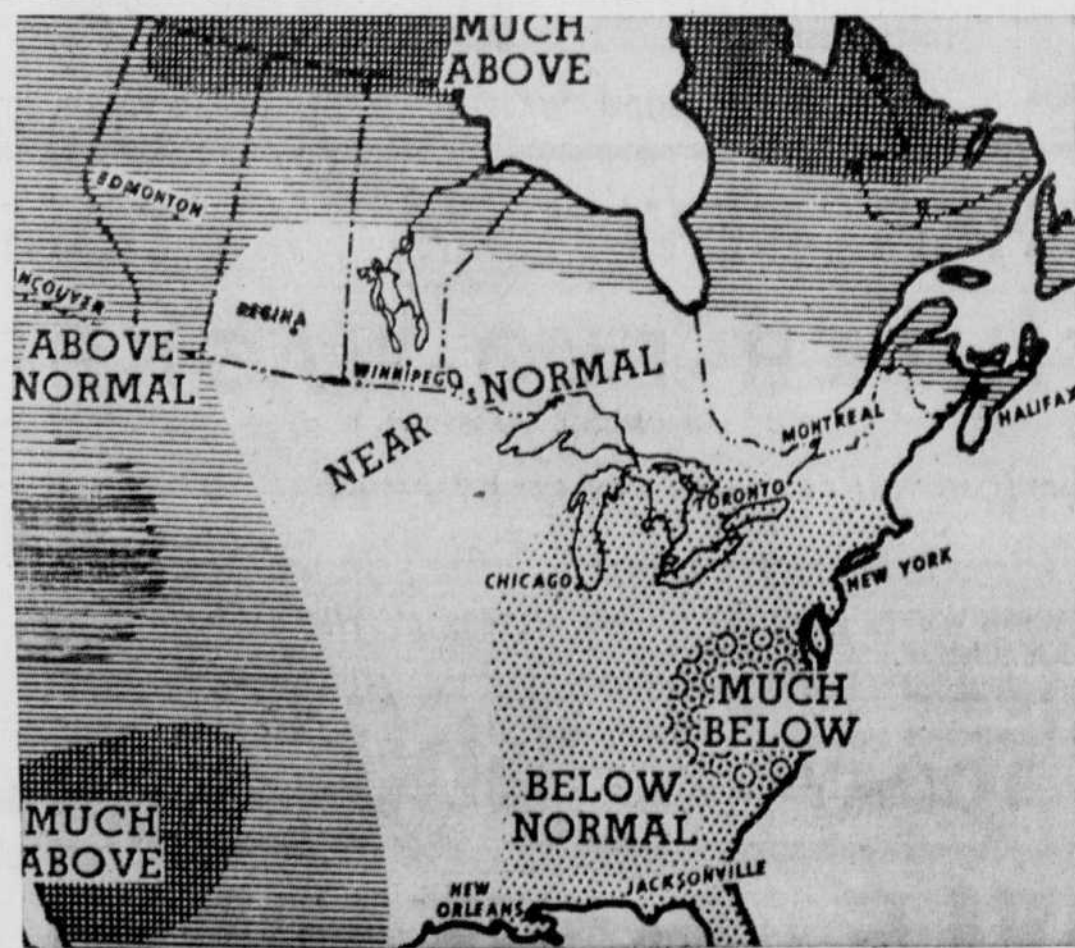

VILLA FRANCA, Portugal. — (P) — A stork flew low over the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh here Wednesday.

In Portugal the presence of a stork means only one thing—an addition to the family.

Long and animated "ahs" went up from the crowd of some 100,000 persons at the sight of the stork. The Royal couple had just finished watching a procession of bulls at a ranch near here.

Ayer's Cliff Group Holds Successful Valentine Party

AYER'S CLIFF — The Young Mother's Club held its first event since its organization, when a St. Valentine's tea and sale was held in the United Church Hall on St. Valentine's Day. About 50 ladies were present to support this young group.

Mrs. Wayne Little acted as cashier, and also had charge of the door prize, which was won by Mrs. H. S. Sanderson; the prize being a Valentine cake made and decorated by Mrs. L. O. Piercy.

The Fish Pond for the "young fry" was popular and together with the Mystery-table was in charge of Mrs. Allan Norrie. Mrs. Dick Daigneau presided at the Gift table and her articles were all disposed of.

The Hall looked festive with the symbols of the day and the tea table was centered with rose buds in a rose bowl surrounded with the Valentine decorations, where Mrs. W. Boom-hour poured tea.

Mrs. Melnyk and Mrs. Mearle Whipple were the waitresses, while Mrs. Donald Sherman and Mrs. Royce Dezan comprised the kitchen committee.

The proceeds were about $35 which was most gratifying.

ST. GEORGE'S GUILD.

The ladies of St. George's Guild were pleasantly entertained by Mrs. E. H. Chadsey at her home on Tyler Street when a goodly representative was present.

The business session opened in the usual way with the president, Mrs. N. Claude Whitcomb presiding.

Popular Knowlton Couple Mark Diamond Wedding

KNOWLTON — Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Taylor were "At Home" to a large number of friends and neighbors on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary at their home on Davignon Ave.

The guests of honor were recipients of hundreds of cards, letters, telegrams, long distance calls and many lovely gifts, as well as beautiful flowers and plants from various organizations and friends far and near.

A delegation, including rural Dean T. E. R. Nurse, rector of St. Paul's Church, John Andrews, people's warden and George Williams, rector's ward, presented the couple with a beautiful painting from the congregation of St. Paul's Church. Mr. Nurse also said special prayers for Mr. and Mrs. Taylor during divine service, which they attended on Sunday morning.

The lace covered table, arranged with tall white vases and white carnations and centered with a three-tier wedding cake, was presided over by Mrs. William Ainslie of Mount Royal and Mrs. A. B. Morrison of Montreal and Arundel. Mrs. Morrison had also presided on the occasion of their 50th anniversary. Mr. Morrison was unable to attend due to illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor expressed their sincere thanks to their friends for making their anniversary such a memorable occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were married at the home of Mrs. Taylor's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Woodard of Fulford on February 10th, 1897, by the late Archdeacon David Lindsay of Waterloo, assisted by the late Rev. Seth A. Mills, rector at West Shefford.

Mr. Taylor was a carriage maker by trade, having been apprenticed at an early age to the late George Noynan of Waterloo. He went in to business for himself in Fulford and later moved to West Shefford with his family, where they lived for 38 years. In 1945 they moved to Knowlton, where they still reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have five married daughters, all of whom were present.

Farm Forum Activities

HIGH AND LOW FOREST
The Forum met with Mr. and Mrs. Verne Wilson when the subject "Does she put the price tag on?" was discussed. It was agreed she does help to put the price tag on as most women like the fancy wrappings used and the smaller quantities done up, especially where the family is small.

The men were for the old fashioned way of buying in larger quantity and without the fancy wrapping.

There is no doubt the wrapping costs come out of the producer; some thought trading stamps and premiums were all right while others were against them.

This group picked prices, brand, grade, built-in service and attractive packaging in this order, as to what they looked for when buying.

Dismiss Non-Suit Plea In Bordeleau Hearing

A motion by Joseph Cohen, Q.C., attorney for Georges Bordeleau, of Asbestos, charged with manslaughter in the death of his wife in a shooting accident at Windsor Mills in November 1954, to have the case dismissed because of lack of sufficient Crown evidence was refused by Mr. Justice William Mitchell when the trial re-opened in Court of Queen's Bench this morning.

In dismissing the motion for non-suit, Judge Mitchell declared that such a plea could only be granted when no evidence at all had been introduced by the prosecution.

The defence opened its case by placing Bordeleau himself on the stand.

This is the second time Bordeleau faced a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of his wife, an earlier conviction in March, 1955, being thrown out by the Quebec Court of Appeals on the ground that improper evidence had been introduced. A new trial was ordered.

In making his motion for non-suit, Joseph Cohen, Q.C., one of the three defence attorneys argued the case should be removed from the hands of the jury because of the total lack of the evidence required in a case of manslaughter. He failed to show wanton or reckless disregard for the life of a human being.

The defence argued that both sides were standing on common ground—that Mrs. Bordeleau's death was an accident—because if it had not been one, the charge would have been different than manslaughter. Mr. Cohen declared one could argue simply that the presence of the firearm on the accused knees was negligence but was it wanton negligence. He asked further if the accused knew there was a bullet in the gun.

A TRAGIC ACCIDENT
The whole case, he stated, was an accident, unforeseen and unexpected by Bordeleau, which caused the death of his wife. If there was any negligence, he continued, it was not of the type required for a conviction. He said the jury had no right to decide whether it was a case of mere negligence or wanton and reckless negligence.

In replying to Mr. Cohen, Crown Prosecutor Roland Dugre, told the court that he quite agreed with Mr. Cohen's principle, but he argued that the case thus far had showed enough proof of wanton negligence to have it remain before the jury.

The Crown ended their case at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon after calling eleven witnesses in all. Yesterday afternoon only two witnesses were heard, one a boarder at the Dion home in Windsor where the accident occurred, and the other, a friend of the accused.

CONFLICTING TESTIMONY
Gedeon Pomerleau, 40-year-old farmer, an overnight lodger at the Dion home, told the court he was seated in the kitchen when Mrs. Bordeleau was killed. The gun was on Bordeleau's knees most of the time, he said, and when the gun went off, Bordeleau's two-year-old girl was nowhere near him.

Yesterday morning, Florand Godbout told the court that he met Bordeleau the night the accident occurred and he was told by the accused that the shot went off while he was playing with

Thieves Make Third Raid On Local Store

Thieves escaped with $2,000 worth of merchandise last night when they broke into the Morin et Fils furniture store at 2630 King St. West.

TV sets, radios, chain saws and the like were taken from the first floor furniture department and the basement. Jean-Paul Morin reported this morning.

An employee, Raymond Guay, discovered the break-in about 8 o'clock this morning. A door at the rear of the building had been forced open.

Mr. Morin noted that the robbery must have been done fairly rapidly since the articles stolen were of light weight.

This is the third time in four years that Morin's has been plagued by robberies. Three years ago robbers netted between $300 and $400 in a stick-up. A year later, one thief was shot to death by municipal police as he and a companion attempted to break into the establishment.

RCAF Provincial Association To Meet At Weekend
The Royal Canadian Air Force Association will hold its sixth annual Quebec Group Convention at the Hotel Wellington on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The guest speaker at the banquet Saturday evening will be Air Commodore C. L. Annis, OBE, his little girl on his knees. On the other hand Bordeleau's mother-in-law, during testimony yesterday morning, told the jury she thought the child was on the floor when the shot went off. She could not, however, be positively sure of this as she was making supper and thus her back was turned from the accident.

One of Bordeleau's friends, Emile Lalonde, testified that Bordeleau showed him how the gun operated when he visited the Bordeleau home in Asbestos two days before the shooting. The former owner of the rifle, Gerald Doucet, of Asbestos, told the court Bordeleau bought the gun from him in October for $80. Doucet said he showed Bordeleau how the safety catch functioned but could not remember if he explained how the indicator worked.

Bordeleau's hunting companion and brother-in-law, Ronald Dion, testified he went hunting with Bordeleau that Sunday afternoon but that he did not see Bordeleau empty his gun when they were ready to return home. Dion said he made sure his own gun was empty.

Further Charges Are Presented Against Giroux
Paul-Emile Giroux, arrested by Connecticut State Police, over the week-end, made another appearance in Sessions Court yesterday to answer charges of being in possession of two stolen cars. He was also charged with cigarette smuggling at Baldwin's Mills in June 1955. His lawyer, Jean-Louis Pelouquin, said he would be prepared to proceed on the stolen car charges on Friday.

Giroux pleaded not guilty to the stolen car counts and chose a preliminary hearing in the smuggling case.

Service Club Night Held By Local Snow Shoe Club

The members of the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club played host last night to local service clubs on the occasion of Service Club Night. Over 125 members and guests were present for the evening's activities. There were delegations from the Sherbrooke Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, Sherbrooke Optimists, Lennoxville Optimists, Y's Men's Club and St. Patrick's Old Boys Association.

The guests were greeted by members of the Snow Shoe Club and prior to the meeting, volleyball, darts, cards, cribbage and other games were played. Hon. Purveyor, Wallace Lavallee and his committee served a hot supper assisted by the club caterer, Mrs. D. Knapp.

Chorister Alex Rowat introduced Tom Keeley as guest chorister of the evening who was assisted at the piano by Jack Lenaghan. The Red Party proved ineffective with their theme "Jingle Bells."

Red Party vice-president, Stan Lothrop made a presentation to Tom Keeley of an official club tie and Red Party Year button. Mr. Keeley is in his 78th year and is one of the few honorary members of the club. Copies of the "Red Party Echo" were distributed to the guests.

Secretary Ron Cotterell read the minutes and reports were given by treasurer Stan Lothrop, Asst. Captain Len Gillam, Captain John Bryant, Heating Fund chairmen, George Jobel and George Lothrop.

Les Memory officially welcomed the members of the service clubs to the meeting.

President Art Wright introduced the head table personnel: Tom Keeley, Bert Keenan, Sylvester Parker, Jim Mitchell, Fred Bean, Ed Bryant, Ron Cotterell, George Lothrop, Hap Rice, Max Long, Sam Gillman, Alex Rowat, Art Kerridge and Jim Wark.

The weekly story telling contest was staged by Shag Shaughnessy who called upon Hon. Pres. Max Long to represent the executive and Cy Pike to represent the club. The judge, John Galvin, declared Cy Pike the winner, which now puts the club ahead of the executive.

Representatives from each service club spoke briefly about their activities and fund raising projects.

Red Letter Night

Capping Ceremony Held At Local Hospital

Twenty-one student nurses were formally accepted into the Sherbrooke Hospital School of Nursing last night at the annual Capping Ceremony in Norton Hall.

The students, the graduating class of 1959, were presented to Miss Clara Aitkenhead, director of nursing, by Miss Gwen Norris, education director. Miss Marian Pope performed the lamp lighting duties.

Following the presentation of caps, Miss Aitkenhead, in her address, outlined the responsibilities of a nurse.

"In the International Code of nursing ethics," she said, "we read that professional nurses minister to the sick, assume responsibility for creating a physical, social and spiritual environment which will be conducive to recovery, and stress the prevention of illness and the promotion of health by teaching and example."

"They render health service to the individual, the family and the community. Service to mankind is the primary function of nurses, and the reason for the existence of the nursing profession."

Miss Aitkenhead noted that the patient was the most important individual in the hospital. She compared nursing to building in that it was a continuous process.

"The foundation stone for modern nursing was well and truly laid nearly a 100 years ago. Since then nurses from all parts of the world have contributed to building the nursing profession. Here now is your golden opportunity to serve mankind, to help make this world a better place in which to live. Let this be your finest hour—what are you going to contribute?"

"Here are some of your responsibilities: a nurse must first of all be a fine woman—no other is worthy of being trusted with human lives and those things which go to make up human happiness. She should be pure of speech and thought always, whether on duty or off duty, no matter where she is."

"She should be kind to all her patients, but especially to the acutely ill, the older folks, the lonely in heart, the children. Always speak kindly to the relatives and friends who are troubled in mind. She should always take good care of her own health—every nurse should be a health teacher. The best method of teaching health is a good example—the clear clean skin."

which radiates healthful living—moderate use of cosmetics to be easy on the eyes of the patient.

The well groomed hands, finger nails short and lacking in bright colored polish. The hands of the nurse are especially important to the sick who are very sensitive to touch. You do so many things with your hands for the comfort of the patient; very important is the reassuring touch before the patient leaves for the operating room."

She pointed out that nurses have a sacred trust not to divulge any secrets of a patient. Miss Aitkenhead emphasized the necessity of loyalty to the hospital and the school. "If your foot slips you can always recover your balance, if your tongue slips you can never recover your words," she said.

Dr. J. L. Ross, of the medical staff, in his address noted that the nursing profession was a very demanding one but that it had its compensations.

Why Not A Royal Visit?

The speculation about a Royal visit to Canada and the United States still persists. The strongest reports indicating that a visit was in the offing came from Washington. The British merely said that no immediate plans had been made by the Queen and Duke of Edinburgh. And Ottawa denies any knowledge of a visit.

It may well be that the United States has made it known that an invitation will be extended to the Queen and the Duke when President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan meet in Bermuda. In that case, the Palace would naturally refrain from making any announcement until the invitation had been formally accepted.

However, it may also be the case that no invitation will be extended. Prime Minister St. Laurent will be meeting Prime Minister Macmillan after his talks with the President. Why shouldn't he extend an invitation to the Royal couple through Mr. Macmillan? It would be the natural thing to do and the Canadian people would welcome wholeheartedly a visit from their Sovereign and her consort.

Algeria Still A Trouble Spot

Disposal of the Algerian question by the United Nations General Assembly last week does not mean that the last has been heard of this issue. On the contrary, it is one of the most intractable situations in the world today and France simply cannot afford to have it continue much longer.

The UN heard a demand by the Arab nations for intervention to end the three-year revolt by the Moslem population against the French. France countered that Algeria was part of the metropolitan area of the country and was therefore a domestic problem.

The majority of nations was apparently hesitant to force the issue for fear of setting a precedent for intervention in other affairs where they might be an interested party. As a result, a watered-down resolution calling for a peaceful and just solution was passed unanimously. As nobody voted against the resolution, both sides could claim it as a victory.

France is expected to renew an offer of free elections and a cease-fire to the rebels, but not complete independence. There are more than 1,000,000 European Algerians and about 8,000,000 Moslems.

The cost to France in money and manpower of the Algerian civil war—for that is what it amounts to—has been tremendous. France cannot afford that drain on her resources indefinitely. NATO has been weakened by the withdrawal of some of France's best troops for duty in Algeria. France's allies should now be prepared to offer any help they can in finding a way out of this impasse.

An Untimely Loss

The death of Samuel Cromie in a boating accident in British Columbia is a sad loss to the newspaper business in Canada. The Cromie family had its roots in Scotstown although they made their mark in the publishing business in Vancouver.

Sam Cromie, as he was known, was assistant publisher and vice-president of the Vancouver Sun at the time of his death. He was only 39. His father, R. J. Cromie was a brilliant man whose flair for newspaper work was shared by his sons. When the elder Mr. Cromie bought the Vancouver Sun in 1917, it was small and struggling. When he died, the circulation of the paper was 75,000. Under the energetic guidance of his two sons Don and Sam, it climbed to 200,000.

Sam Cromie was a young man of wide interests, dedicated not only to his business but the welfare of his fellow Canadians. Recently he came to Quebec to attend a meeting of the Canadian Welfare Council. His loss will be widely felt.

Letter To The Editor

AN OUT-OF-TOWN SHOPPER PROTESTS

(The writer of the following letter, which is addressed to Mayor Nadeau of Sherbrooke, sent a copy to the Sherbrooke Daily Record, the Sherbrooke police chief, Alderman Everett Nicol and the Manager of Steinberg's Ltd.)

His Worship Armand Nadeau, Office of the Mayor, City Hall, Sherbrooke, Que.

Your Worship:

The attached ticket No. 37864 was presented to me as a result of my doing a favor for a fellow driver. On Saturday morning, at the time shown, I was waiting in Steinberg's driveway for the family groceries. The driver behind me was finished loading his groceries before mine arrived, therefore, I pulled ahead on to Frontenac St. to let him pass. In the meantime, the boy arrived with my groceries, before I could back up again, and started to load my car. I had barely got out of the car, when Constable No. 43 arrived and told me I could not park there and with that wrote out the attached ticket.

This I thought was rather a tactless act, since I had not left my car unattended; therefore, was not technically parked.

My wife and family and I make at least two shopping trips to Sherbrooke every month. I am itemizing our Saturday morning purchases. These are representative of our semi-monthly trips—

Steinberg's	$56.25
H. J. Deslisle	6.95
J. A. Wiggitt and Co.	7.95
J. S. Mitchell and Co.	5.00
Tots Town	4.00
Gasoline	3.75
Total	$83.90

If the City of Sherbrooke values the business which we visitors bring, I would think that you would instruct your police officers to be a little more helpful to visitors, instead of being so overly conscientious.

If you do not feel that my complaint is justified, will you please return my ticket for payment.

Yours very truly,
E. Mason

Windsor Mills.

NOT JUDGED BY PAY RECEIVED

(Ottawa Journal)

Premier Dupleix says members of provincial legislatures do more work for less money than members of the Commons—thus justifying a salary increase to the Quebec House of $1,000 a year. It is a nice point for argument though hard to prove. But MP's and MLA's all do useful work and their usefulness to the country is hardly to be judged by the pay they receive.

Home Improvement Loans

(Fort William Times-Journal)

Apprehensions over increase in the volume of consumer credit buying has recently been expressed by the Bank of Canada. Appeals have been made to the buying public, retailers and banks to exercise caution in the use of credit, which unless reasonably controlled, might have a serious inflationary effect on the country's economy.

However, it is felt unlikely that restrictive measures will greatly influence Home Improvement Loans, according to the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating. These loans, sponsored by the federal government, and available through chartered banks to owners of homes, are made at relatively low rates of interest and can be repaid over a period of years.

The object of the loans has been to improve the standard of Canada's "middle-aged" homes. The fact the money is spent to make these homes more up to date has the effect of increasing the value of the property and in this respect it is converted into a national asset.

Among the many projects for which this money is used, some of the most popular include modernization of bathrooms and kitchens; "face-lifting" of the facade of the house by stripping off the "ginger-bread" verandas, old-fashioned windows.

Another type of project for which Home Improvement Loans may be obtained is conversion of older type two-story houses into duplexes. This appeals particularly to people whose family has grown up and left home. By converting the house into a duplex, they provide themselves with more compact and easily managed living quarters, while the other part of the house provides immediate revenue with which to repay the Home Improvement Loan, and later, a steady income for their retirement years.

EARLY TRUMP DRAW FATAL

South looked complacently at dummy. Assuming that spades and clubs would each break three-two his 10 tricks appeared to be in plain sight. If the black suits failed to break he would be set, but nothing could be done about that and he wasn't vulnerable anyway.

South trumped the second diamond lead and played three rounds of trumps. The ace-king and a low club came next and when that suit broke properly everything appeared beautiful in this best of all possible worlds. Then trouble reared its ugly head. East played a third diamond and South had to use his last trump to ruff it. His two clubs were good but when he led a heart to dummy East had discarded down to the ace of hearts and a diamond and South never made his tenth trick.

South had been guilty of one of the principal bridge crimes. Pulling trumps before he could afford it. Any number of lines of play would have made the hand but South cleared the clubs and established a heart trick before he used up dummy's trumps.

A simple line after ruffing the diamond at trick two would be to play the clubs. West would win the third lead and play a diamond. South would trump and lead a heart.

East would win that trick but would be helpless because South would be able to trump a fourth diamond lead in dummy and still draw East's three trumps.

You, South, hold:
Spades A-Q-5-2, Hearts K-J-7-3, Diamonds A-J-8-3, Clubs 2.

What do you do?
A—Bid two spades. If partner bids again you will go on to game. Actually your hand is strong enough so that three spades would not be too bad a bid.

Why The US Is Helping

Russian Squeeze On Poland

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Russia is applying economic sanctions as a warning to Poland not to get too far out of line.

This is one of the factors involved in the negotiations to be undertaken in Washington by the Polish trade commission which left Warsaw this week. Coupled with developments in the new Polish parliament this is expected to throw new light on the American decision to try a cautious economic aid program for Poland.

The Washington administration has decided that Poland, under the Gomulka government, has emerged sufficiently from direct Russian control to merit some help.

The decision was made as a calculated risk, in the knowledge that it would relieve Russia from some of the Central European clamor for better treatment, but also in the hope that it would encourage the movement toward freedom.

The Poles have indicated their desire to conduct the negotiations on a business, non-political basis by making up their commission of economic experts with only one Communist.

The commission will arrive just as the Parliament at home is getting down to business.

The new Parliament contains about 20 per cent non-Communist members, including a dozen Roman Catholics. They have been promised the right to speak freely, to criticize, and to have their views published.

Already some of them have explained in the newly revived Roman Catholic publication, University Weekly, why they were willing to participate in the Communist-controlled parliament. As one put it, "the ruling Communist circles have started to take into consideration the will of the nation."

Russia has begun to clamp on sanctions now that Poland has largely broken away from trade arrangements which amounted to blatant colonialist exploitation.

Unless she can find outlets in other countries, contracts broken by Moscow will put many Polish workers out of jobs at a time when the whole economy of the country is already disrupted by former Russian practices.

At the same time the government must walk softly to keep Russia from turning history back as she did in Hungary. Poland does not yet know, for instance, whether she can safely negotiate for outside sale of uncompleted ships for which Russia has cancelled contracts.

Bygone Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO
From the Record of Monday, Feb. 21, 1927.

A considerable easing is noticed in the Far Eastern crisis as the result of an agreement concluded between the Cantonese forces and the British Government.

Canadian butter exports to the United States have been cut by 90% during the past twelve months as the result of a boost on U.S. Tariff rates from eight to twelve cents a pound. Milk and cream exports continue to grow however, despite the higher levies.

TEN YEARS AGO
From the Record of Friday, Feb. 21, 1917.

Prime Minister Atlee's Labour Government today warned Britain that "we may never restore the foundations of our national life" unless the country concentrates on providing more fuel, boosting manpower in essential industries, expanding individual production and sharply increasing sales abroad.

Winter tightened its week-long grip on central and northern Europe today causing new deaths in Germany, surrounding Scandinavia with vast ice fields and intensifying the acute fuel shortage in the British Isles.

Manitoba Protest

(Brandon Sun)

Recently we have been musing on a curious foible of everyday speech. It involves the pronunciation of the name of Manitoba's capital city—Winnipeg. As an Indian word, no syllabic stress is required. Correctly spoken, the three syllables remain evenly without stress and emerge as "Win-neh-peg."

The trap for a surprising number of Canadians is the vowel sound in the centre. They prefer to distort the sound and punch the middle syllable into an offence to the ears of the Great Manitou. What they speak is "Win-KNEE-peg" or perhaps out of affection for Winston Churchill's war-time nickname "Winnie-peg." The curious aspect of the situation lies in the fact that the unwitting or deliberate distorters are not exclusively peoples from Europe who arrived in Canada with a mother-tongue other than English.

The bilingualists are to be forgiven any untidiness with vowel sounds. The major offenders are the first and second generations from the British Isles.

Any allegation that the offence is an affectation we dismiss out of hand. Nor can it be charged to the English-man's penchant for abbreviating tedious syllabic length as exemplified in the classic use of "Chummy" for "Chermonderley" and gaudy in the joke about the Londoner who visited Niagara Falls and referred to it later as "Niffies." If memory serves us correctly, even Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, the most welcomed of visitors, bowed the spoken knee in "Win-KNEE-Peg." All visitors are exempt from criticism but for Manitoba offenders we suggest a penalty—that they be required to climb the Winnipeg City Hall steps on their knees repeating one hundred times "Win-neh-peg."

USED TO BE BRAIN FACTORY

(Brantford Expositor)

At Stratford, Ontario, the Board of Education has given tentative approval for the renting of part of a former textile plant in order to relieve overcrowding in the Collegiate Institute. Well, it used to be familiar slang to call a school a brain factory.

EARLY INHABITANTS

It is estimated that at their largest figure, Canadian Indians numbered little more than 200,000.

Aged Lothario Forfeits Wallet Along With Heart

Memo to men who become widowers in their late middle years:
Better look around for a wife as old as you are or even a few years older, instead of a woman years younger.
That advice comes from a woman who has worked for years in a convalescent home. She has seen what frequently happens to the middle-aged man who hasn't enough sense to marry a woman near his own age, one who needs his companionship as much as he needs hers, and who is willing to make a good home for him in his late years.
She says: "A lot of widowers in the late 50s and 60s are egotistical and about as foolishly romantic as a 17-year-old."

"Instead of looking for a second wife among widows their own age—they decide they want a young wife."

"If they have some money or can convince a younger woman that they are well-fixed, they can always find one who is tired of working, wants to be supported, wants a car, nice clothes, etc., and is willing to kid the older man along in his belief that he is as young as he thinks he is and twice as attractive."

WHEN MONEY GOES, SO DOES SHE

"But young women don't often love older men and when the money goes, so does the pretense of love. And when he hits the 70s and needs to be looked after he winds up in a nursing home."

"I've heard the same old story so many times, it amazes me that men can be so dumb."

Well, there it is, men. It's not a very romantic picture and not one you'll enjoy facing.

But before you decide that even though you are pushing 60 you are just as young as most men of 40, and what you want is a young wife, maybe you'd better think again.

There's one fact you can't escape. In 10 years a man of 40 will be 50. And in 10 years a man of 60 will be 70.

Don't overlook that important difference when you choose a wife.

Women's Groups

ST. PATRICK MISSION CIRCLE
The St. Patrick Mission Circle semi-monthly meeting was held in the Canon Fissette Memorial Library Monday night.

The president, Miss G. Hebert, offered the rosary for the repose of the soul of Mrs. D. R. McDonald, who was an ardent worker for the Mission Circle.

Plans were made for the patty tea to be held in the Church Hall on Saturday, April 27, and committees were appointed.

The members were reminded to bring in surprise boxes which are to be sold at the tea, in addition to food for the bake sale.

The president thanked all who had made the food sale so successful and the winner of the cake donated by a bakery was announced as Mrs. W. Therrien, East Sherbrooke.

After the meeting adjourned refreshments were served by Mrs. Fred Wilson and Mrs. Victor Brownlow.

ASSOCIATE AUXILIARY ST. ANDREW'S W.M.S.
The regular meeting of the Associate Auxiliary of the W.M.S. of St. Andrew's Church was held on Tuesday evening at the Manse.

The president, Miss Alene Morrison, conducted the meeting and together with Miss Fern Murray, assisted by other members, presented an interesting dialogue on "Stewardship." The devotionals were also taken by Miss Morrison and Miss Murray.

At the close of the meeting, the hostesses, Mrs. Muriel Mayhew and Mrs. Eileen McKelvie served refreshments.

ST. PAUL'S LADIES' GUILD
Mrs. H. Buckland, 2nd vice-president, was in the chair for the regular meeting of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild, held Tuesday afternoon in the church hall.

A report on the recently held Valentine party was given by the treasurer, Mrs. F. Staniford, who thanked all who had contributed to the success of this undertaking.

It was decided to hold a rummage sale on Tuesday, February 26, at 2 p.m. in the church hall. Tentative plans were also made for a food sale to be held in Echenberg's Store on March 12, and for the Easter tea and sale to take place Tuesday, April 30.

Mrs. J. H. Morin served afternoon tea at the close of the meeting. Mrs. G. Carleton will be hostess for the next meeting on March 5, at 2 p.m. in the hall.

New Dates For ACWW Meeting Are Announced

New dates for the 8th Triennial Conference of the Associated Country Women of the World are July 3-13 of this year. This has been announced by the London office.

Scheduled to take place in Ceylon, December 1956, the critical Middle East situation at that time made this postponement necessary. The place of meeting is still to be Ceylon and the ACWW Executive Committee is asking that whenever possible the same delegates will go from the various constituent societies, thus reducing the amount of adjustment needed with earlier arrangements.

Mrs. G. D. Harvey, Stanbridge East, president of the Quebec Women's Institutes, will continue to represent that organization at the Conference. She will travel with the Canadian delegation, headed by the national president, Mrs. J. W. Adams, Ethelton, Sask., the group leaving by air from Vancouver the middle of June.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

If you want to get a laugh by poking fun at someone, poke fun at yourself. The person who can laugh at himself makes others laugh and he doesn't hurt anyone.

The person who pokes fun at others may be just witty, but he certainly won't be as well liked.

Lucky Baby! ... Today a baby can have exactly the right type of formula because of FARMER'S WIFE Formula Milks ... It means so much to a baby's well-being, as your doctor will tell you. Ask him which is the right type for your own little one—perhaps Partly Skimmed Milk (Blue Label), created originally at the request of pediatricians for a high-protein, low-fat concentrated formula. Or Farmer's Wife Whole Milk (Red Label), or Skimmed Milk (Yellow Label) ... all with Vitamins A and D added and vacuum packed in the most modern type of milk container.

I Love Cooking ... and can honestly claim to be a good cook. That's why I feel justified in telling you, with enthusiasm, how completely delicious you'll find LIPTON'S SOUPS ... especially the LIPTON'S GREEN PEA SOUP. And it's so simple. You just add the contents of the Lipton package to cold water, bring to a boil, let simmer for a few minutes and serve. Mmm, that velvety-smooth puree of peas with spicy, "smoky" flavour really hits the spot. Try it soon! Right now you can get, with an empty package from any Lipton Soup—a 4-piece Thermometer and Baster set which usually costs $3.00—for only $1.00! Check at your food store on this offer.

There's No Mystery ... about soft, pretty hands. It just requires the easy, every-day care of Campagna's ITALIAN BALM—rubbed briskly into your hands after every exposure to wind, work, weather. Only takes a moment when you use the handy household size, with the new dispenser. It's just the right amount to be absorbed quickly into your skin. Both for only 69c. It's important that the children learn this hand-care, too, for chapped hands can be really painful. Hope you will take my advice—and get Italian Balm today!

A Flash Of Color ... a whir of wings ... a cheery chirrup, and our Budgie, Sir Isaac, is on my shoulder nibbling affectionately at my cheek. He loves his little perch with a mirror hung in front and two bells to ring ... and he loves his "Basic Five"—by Brock's, of course—the five elements in Brock's Natural Feeding Diet ... especially his BROCK'S BUDGIE TREAT! Keeps Budgies in tip-top health!

The Nicest People ... you know deserve this attractive salad. So for family or friends get DAVIS GELATINE and serve it today. Davis Gelatine has 6 instead of the usual 4 packages in every box—is a low-calorie, economical food product. I always use it.

Ginger Ale Fruit Salad
1 envelope Davis Gelatine ¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup hot water ¼ cup sugar
½ cup ginger ale 1 cup chopped fruit
Dissolve gelatine in hot water. Add ginger ale, lemon juice, sugar and stir well. When mixture is nearly set fold in fruit. Or use celery, pineapple, grapes, oranges or cooked pineapple. Or use celery, pineapple, or walnuts instead. Serves 6 to 8 very happy people who'll enjoy every particle of it!

Making Someone Very Happy ... that's the essence of Christmas giving. But how happy are you when the bills for the gifts you give start rolling in? Well, you don't have to look too far for the reason. It just requires a little planning—planning ahead, I mean. Why not do as John and I did last year. Start a Yuletide Savings Account at your BANK OF MONTREAL branch! Keep it apart from any other account and add to it each week or month, whichever suits you best. Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY Mrs. Ben Gerber (MOTHER OF 5)

The development of children at the year-old stage is a wonderful thing to watch. But all year-olds do not develop at the same rate of speed. Some talk early, walk late. Others vice versa. Some are weaned, others are not. Some use their hands skillfully, others are not so daring. (But it's surprising how nearly all of them catch up with each other eventually.) Happiest parents are those who are guided by this golden rule: "Don't hold a child back—don't push a child forward." Greatest rewards go to those parents who accept with pride and pleasure the progress baby makes in his own special way.

5 healthy ways to give your toddler the benefit of vitamin A value and iron in vegetables, so necessary for sturdy growth. Gerber Junior Vegetables offer baby plentiful variety to encourage mealtime interest. $ Junior Vegetables with a tender, evenly minced texture that tots with a few teeth can manage easily. Gerber Junior Vegetables are made from selected produce specially grown for baby's benefit. Careful pressure-cooking preserves true-to-nature flavors, appealing colors and precious food values. Has your baby tried Gerber Vegetable Soup or Sweet Potatoes lately?

Take and give policy. When you take an unapproachable away from a little grabber, replace it with an object that has play value. Helps your toddler learn what he can and cannot have more effectively than the "no-no" routine.

Toddler's delight. Most toddlers dote on fruit, especially when it's a juicy, flavor-fresh Gerber Fruit. Gerber Junior Fruits just naturally appeal to little tykes because they have naturally good, true-fruit flavors and appealing colors. 7 heavenly varieties make it easy to stimulate appetite interest. Superb by the spoonful or as a topping. Gerber Baby Foods, Niagara Falls, Canada.

OBITUARIES

MRS. ELIZA HOUGH, OF FARNSWORTH, ENGLAND,
 Formerly of Trenholm.

TRENHOLM — Funeral services for Mrs. Eliza Hough, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ernie Abram at Farnsworth, England, on December 15th, 1956, were held on December 18th.

Mrs. Hough the former Eliza Sproston was born in England in 1871. She was married to James Knowles and came to Canada in 1906. They lived in Montreal for two years, then came to Trenholm and settled on the Roger farm, in 1918. Following Mr. Knowles' death Mrs. Knowles and family moved to the Plummer farm where she resided until she returned to England. Her second son William, took over the farm where he still resides.

After returning to England, she married Mr. Hough, who predeceased her a few years ago. Mrs. Hough visited Canada twice after her second marriage, the second time her younger daughter Annie returned with her and since then has made her home there.

Mrs. Hough's death came as a shock to her many relatives and friends as she had been in her usual health until a short time before her death. She was of a quiet reserved nature, and highly respected citizen, who made many close friends while in Canada.

She is survived by three sons, Rev. Thomas Knowles, of Brockville, Ont., William, of Trenholm, Edward, of Melbourne, two daughters, Ethel, Mrs. Owen Owen and Annie, Mrs. Ernie Abram, both of England.

Also surviving are two brothers, John, of Widnes, England, Joseph, of Trenholm, three sisters, Emily, Mrs. Bailey of North Hatley, and two in England, eight grandchildren a number of great-grandchildren and nieces and nephews.

MRS. STEPHEN M. BRYANT, OF NORTH HATLEY.

NORTH HATLEY — Funeral service for Mrs. Nettie May (Gladden) Bryant, who passed away February 2nd at La Providence Hospital in Magog, after a brief illness, was held at Bishop's Funeral Home in Sherbrooke on February 5th. The service was conducted by Brother T. G. Davis of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in South Stukely.

The beautiful floral tributes were tokens of love and esteem in which the deceased was held. The hymn "Abide With Me," was sung by those attending with Mrs. Fred Hampton at the organ. Brother Davis read the hymn "Beyond the Sunset," a favorite of the deceased.

The bearers were Messrs. Percy Wilson, Ralph MacRae, Allen MacRae and Franklin Knutson of North Hatley and Waterville. Interment was in Reedville Cemetery, North Hatley.

The deceased was born at Glen Sutton on September 6, 1882, the youngest daughter of the late Willard S. Gladden and his wife the late Charlotte (Randall) Gladden. She was united in marriage to Stephen M. Bryant, son of the late Moses Bryant and his wife the late Lucy (Phillips) Bryant, of Bolton Centre, on October 31, 1900. Of this union were born 14 children, 5 boys and 9 girls. There were 48 grand children and 25 great grandchildren.

MAGOG — (Special) — A five mile stock car race, staged on the frozen surface of Lake Memphremagog, will be held this Sunday, marking what may well be an annual winter sports classic.

Sponsored by Brading's Brewery, the entries will be restricted to American made cars only with models not later than 1955. The opening gun will be fired at 2 p.m. in front of the Cabana Hotel and the drivers will make individual runs, trying to beat the clock over the specially marked course.

Top prize for the event is the Brading's Trophy with $350 thrown in for the winner. Second prize is $100 and third, $50. The trophy is now on display in the window of the Central Cafe on Main St.

So far 17 motorists, from Georgeville, Magog, Sherbrooke, Lambton and Drummondville have paid their $10 entrance fee. Several people wanting to enter older cars were turned down by the officials because of the restrictions. In one case, a Montreal resident was refused permission to enter three European sports cars.

NEWPORT INVITED

An official invitation was extended to the City of Newport, Vt., but Mayor Natoire, of that community, was forced to decline since it was too late to prepare for the event.

However, he said that he was most interested and hoped that next year the race could be made an international event to include Newport.

Newport is 21 miles down Lake Memphremagog from Magog. One alternative method of running the race would be to set a course between the two communities. The lake itself is 32 miles long.

According to latest reports, the ice on the lake is thought to be thick enough to support the cars.

Jacques Boisvert, organizer, of the event, said the race has been widely publicized and is receiving much support from car enthusiasts.

Anyone wishing to enter the race may contact Mr. Boisvert at VI 3-4384 or VI 3-3215.

Entertainment Set For Hockey Team

The hotel, in turn, is giving the club 10% of the bar proceeds on the evening the orchestra appears here. A $1.00 cover charge will be levied, also for the benefit of the association.

To add greater variety to the evening's entertainment an amateur contest is planned, with attractive prizes offered the contestants.

Brading's supplied the Magog Hockey Team with two sets of uniforms at the beginning of the season.

Adams Meet To Draw Top Skiers

MAGOG — (Special) — The inter-zone championship meet (C.A.S.A. Quebec Division) to be held March 23 and 24 at Mount Orford may decide which zone produces the best Alpine competitor, the best skiers of tomorrow and the best mixed team.

The Laurentine zone, the Gati-neau zone and the St. Lawrence Valley (Quebec Region) all have excellent reasons for claiming this superiority. The number one teams of each of these zones will, without doubt, be the favorites to win the championship emblem, the Dow trophy at the Adams Memorial Meet. Surprises can be expected however from one or the other of the four remaining zones of the Division: St. Maurice Valley, Saguenay, Monts Notre Dame and the Eastern Townships. The latter, a group of fine skiers, will have the advantage of being on familiar ground.

The mixed teams who will be competing on this occasion will be composed of a maximum of seven members representing three classes of competitors: 3 senior men, 2 ladies and 2 juniors. For official compiling of the team records, only the points of four members will be used, that is, the best time of 2 senior men, one lady and one junior. The Dow trophy will be awarded to the championship team and prizes will be presented to the individual winners. Moreover the Adams Memorial Trophy will go to the competitor with the best individual performance. Numerous other valuable prizes will be given to the winners in each class of events on the program.

The downhill will be run on Saturday, March the 23rd, the first contestant starting at 12 noon sharp. Two slalom events will be held the following day Sunday the 24th. The first beginning at 10:30 a.m. and the second at precisely 2:00 p.m. Time will be kept by Omega Olympic chronometers and the rules governing the F.I.S., including recent amendments will be followed.

Inscriptions, as well as all requests for information should be addressed to Adams Memorial Meet, 804 Main St. West, Magog, Que. The draw will be made Wednesday evening March 20th, at 8:30 p.m. at the same address.

Carmen Basilio Says He Will Be "Ready For Anything" When He Meets Johnny Saxton In Cleveland Tomorrow

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Carmen Basilio claims his once-injured right hand is "okay" and insists he will be "ready for anything" when he defends his world welterweight boxing title against ex-champ Johnny Saxton Friday at the Cleveland Arena.

"It makes no difference to me what he does," said Basilio. "I learned plenty about Saxton in our first two fights. I think I can beat him, no matter what he does."

Saxton won a disputed decision over Basilio at Chicago last March by using hit-and-run tactics. When Johnny tried to slug it out with Basilio at Syracuse in September, he was stopped in nine rounds.

Paquet, Paquette, Pasquier

Labat

In the year 1667 the brave men and women who came to New France were bound together in their common quest for freedom. Social differences and prejudices were left behind in the mother country, for their survival depended on their uniting against the savage wilds. Nobles and peasants; soldiers, farmers and tradesmen all worked together to secure their new homes.

One of these was Méry Pasquier, master serge-weaver, from France. In that year he and his two sons, Maurice and René, came to New France with Colbert's volunteers. One of Pasquier's sons, Maurice, was already married, so the two families settled near Bourg Royal where they established themselves as serge-weavers. René, however, chose carpentry as his trade, and in 1679 he married Gabrielle Lemieux in Quebec City. Typically, the three families worked together, each contributing their skills to the building of a more civilized New France.

Méry Pasquier and his two sons personified the bravery and pride that is Quebec. Today the French Canadian families of Pasquier, Paquet and Paquette can proudly claim these fearless men as their paternal ancestors.

Three hundred years ago Quebec was a wilderness known as "New France" and on its soil were being fought some of the bloodiest and most unheralded battles in the history of Canada.

At that time the Iroquois had allied themselves with European powers and were trading for firearms with their continental friends. The Iroquois turned their new weapons on the French settlers and tried to drive them from the land.

Many a God-fearing habitant died defending his homestead against these painted, screaming savages. Such a man was Mathieu Labat. He came to New France seeking a chance to claim a portion of this new land for his own. Labat was happy, for he succeeded in clearing a few acres and was building a new home for his family with his own two hands.

Then disaster struck, in the form of the savage Iroquois. Though Labat was killed, the pioneer spirit that he personified lived on in many who bore his name. One of them, spelling his name Labatt, was to be the founder of a family that would become famous as brewers of fine Canadian beer and ale.

Willy Pastrano Draws Unanimous Win Over Holman

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (AP) — Ranked Pastrano, cagey, fourth-ranked heavyweight from Miami and New Orleans, tied up Chicago's big Johnny Holman with lightning hooks and jabs Wednesday night to win a unanimous decision in a 10-round televised bout.

The six-foot-three, 200-pound, hardhitting Holman, who has kayaked opponents for 13 of his 30 victories, just couldn't land a big one. Pastrano, six feet and 187½ pounds, was in and out with telling jabs that raised a welt over Holman's left eye, closed from the eighth round on.

Referee Dan Leslie scored 7 rounds for Pastrano, 3 for Holman; Judge Frank de Camillis had it 7-2-1, and Judge Tom Nuckles 6-3-1.

Ontario And Northern Ontario Are Deadlocked For Top Spot; Alberta Second In High School Curling

WINNIPEG — (CP) — Ontario, upset Wednesday afternoon by Manitoba, came back with a victory at night to remain deadlocked with Northern Ontario for top spot in the Dominion high school curling championship.

The two rinks finished the seventh draw Wednesday night with identical records of six wins and one defeat after a gruelling three games on the third day of the four-day championship.

Ian Johnston of Kingston regained his winning ways by defeating Prince Edward Island 9-3. Port Arthur's Carl Konefal, whose only loss has been to Ontario, kept pace by beating New Brunswick 17-7.

One game back of the two Ontario rinks in third place is Alberta's Alf Schieman of Calgary, who blasted away hopes Allan Kenney of North Sydney had of winning the classic by downing the Nova Scotia skip 14-7. Kenney was three games back of the leaders with only two games left to play.

Defending champion Saskatchewan drew even with Manitoba in the standings at four wins and three defeats by taking the battle of the two Prairie rinks 9-7.

British Columbia was knocked out of the running when the Bob Nesbitt rink dropped an 8-7 verdict to Quebec for its fourth loss in seven starts. It was the second win for Quebec's Ed Uhlen of Arvida, already out of contention.

Ontario is favored to take the title, with its two remaining games against Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, while Northern Ontario is scheduled to meet Alberta and British Columbia.

The Kingston Collegiate aggregation failed to score more than a two against Arthur Burke of Prince Edward Island, but there was never too much doubt as to the results. Ontario scored a double on the first end and kept in front all the way.

Harold Mabey of New Brunswick made a game of it for five ends against Konefal's Northern Ontario rink, holding on even terms at 5-5. The Lakehead foursome then hit for successive scores of three on the next two ends and a comfortable lead.

Mabey counted two on the eighth but Konefal came back with a five and a single for a 10-4 victory.

Alberta remained on the leaders' heels with its one-sided triumph over Nova Scotia. A five on the seventh broke a tie of the Quebec shot rock.

In the afternoon, Northern Ontario pulled even with Ontario by taking Quebec 10-8. Alberta stayed within hailing distance with an easy 13-3 win over B.C. Saskatchewan took New Brunswick 13-5 and Nova Scotia sidelined Prince Edward Island 12-3.

Ladies Sherbrooke Curling Club Leads Lennoxville For Ingram Cup; Juniors Tied For Perrault Trophy

The fourth round of the home-and-home series between Lennoxville and the Ladies Sherbrooke Curling Club for the Ingram Cup and the Jean Paul Perrault trophy is completed and the local ladies are holding a slight edge.

In the seniors competition for the Ingram Cup Sherbrooke has amassed a total of four wins compared to three for Lennoxville. In the junior event, for the Perrault Trophy, each club is tied at four wins each. The fifth round in these competitions will be played on March 5.

In the Mary E. Carr Shield, emblematic of the club championship, eight rinks took part and following the seven games Mrs. A. Kerridge's foursome of Mrs. Laflamme, Mrs. N. Hunter and Mrs. C. Pyke emerged the winners while Mrs. Holtham's quartet of Mrs. D. Watson, Mrs. W. Hammond and Mrs. J. Hogg finished in the runner-up spot.

In the Bradley Trophy event, which was played over a period of five weeks, six rinks were entered. Mrs. N. Lothrop's quartet of Mrs. W. Laflamme, Mrs. W. Elliott and Mrs. J. Nightingale emerged the winners with Mrs. D. McPherson's foursome of Mrs. A. Ross, Mrs. S. Cross and Mrs. P. Wyde in the runner-up position.

The Kincaid competition which is a two-game event saw Mrs. Lothrop guide her crew to victory while Mrs. H. MacCallum and her rink won the consolation. Mrs. L. Keeler, Mrs. W. Hammond and Mrs. R. Marois comprised Mrs. Lothrop's quartet while Mrs. R. Badger, Mrs. B. Bishop and Mrs. J. Nightingale formed Mrs. MacCallum's foursome.

In the several invitation 'spels' held by the other clubs members of the local club took part. At Magog Mrs. Lothrop's squad of Mrs. Badger, Mrs. S. Carter and who reached personal highs of 26 home runs and 86 runs batted in last season, received a slight increase to $24,000.

Braves Knock Over Paper Makers 3-1 To Win Series; Emile Beaudesne Stars In Nets; 1,150 Fans On Hand

RICHMOND — Emile Beaudesne once again proved to be the insurmountable obstacle in the path of the Windsor Paper Makers last night and for the third consecutive time turned back their avalanche of rubber to permit the Richmond Braves post a 3-1 victory before 1,150 fans.

It gave the home club the best-of-five quarter-finals 3-1. They will not meet Magog Aces in the semi-finals with the first tilt slated for Sunday.

Beaudesne, who has been the mainstay of the Braves for the past three weeks, had another good evening as he handled a total of 33 shots allowing only one to elude his grasp. Rainville Dubois, who was a doubtful starter for the Paper Makers, was on hand and had an easy evening compared to his opponent. He tossed aside 16 permitting three to get by him.

The Braves drew eight of the thirteen penalties dished out with two majors going to Ricard and Leclerc for fighting. Four were called in the first period while in the second stanza eight were dished out with only one in the final frame. Only one goal was scored when a team was short handed and that was on Melancon's infraction in the third period.

Windsor opened with a bang and bombarded Emile Beaudesne from all angles but despite this he kicked everything away. Frankie Bergeron came up with the first marker of the game when he finished off a play with Guerard and Pelouquin. With only seconds left playing-coach Pelouquin gave his club a 2-0 lead and from then on they hung onto their early lead.

In the middle session both teams battled without registering a goal. The parade to the cooler commenced with Richmond making the first visit with Desrosiers getting tumbled off for tripping. A minute later he was joined by Coach Gendron followed by Murray Parker leaving the advantage with the Braves.

The teams got back to full strength once again but a slight rumour erupted just after the thirteen-minute mark. Guillemette, Melancon and Houde got the nor leaving Richmond short two players but as in the previous period Beaudesne rose to the occasion and kept his citadel clear.

In the third period the pace kept going at full speed with both teams testing the goalies but the boys were at their best. Rolfe Bissonnette gave the decision for the home club.

The Paper Makers kept driving but Beaudesne was on his toes. Benoit Lapierre came through with a goal when Melancon

Penalties Of Which They've Had Plenty, Again Cripple Bruins As Rangers Post 5-2 Win Last Night

Lynn Patrick was chatting the other day about crime and how it pays better if you don't get caught.

His Boston Bruins, he figured, are not overly adept at getting away with it. They are the most penalized club in the National Hockey League.

"There's one type of penalty that irks us," the general manager said. "That's a penalty which one of our players gets in the offensive or in the neutral zone. It has nothing to do with preventing an attack on our net."

"We have no automatic fines, although coach Milt Schmidt did fine one of our players for a stupid penalty in Chicago last Saturday. The penalty cost us the game."

The Bruins got away with nothing again Wednesday night. That, and the fact that New York Rangers are on fire with playoff hopes, is some explanation for the 5-2 trouncing Rangers handed Boston before 11,756 New York fans.

The victory pushed Rangers fourth-place point total to 52, five up on Toronto Maple Leafs. Bruins served five penalties in action.

Red Wings met the Canadiens at Montreal in tonight's only action.

American League Managers Not Elated Over Deal That Gave Yankees Another Top Pitcher In Art Ditmar To A's

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — The men who try to find a way to beat the Yankees, seven American League managers and their bosses, aren't elated over the 13-player swap the New Yorkers made with Kansas City Athletics.

They don't like the idea of the Yanks coming up with another first-line pitcher — Art Ditmar, and wily Casey Stengel may have fallen heir to another if the once great Bobby Shantz comes through for him.

Even if the Athletics made a good deal for themselves, they may have assured the New Yorkers of another pennant — their eighth in nine years.

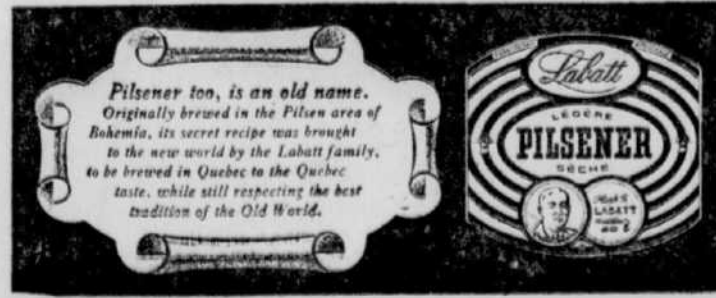

For the record, the Yanks got Ditmar, Shantz, pitcher Jack McMahon, first baseman Wayne Belardi, and another player to be named in place of Cletis Boyer, who first was included in the deal. The league blocked Boyer's transfer because he is a bonus player who hasn't served his two-year stretch with the Athletics.

The Athletics got pitchers Mickey McDermott, Rip Coleman and Tom Morgan, outfielder Irv Noren and infielder Milt Graff. Each club will throw in a young player at a later date.

Ditmar was the man most of the managers talked about. "The Yanks got the Athletics' best pitcher in Ditmar," said Jack Tighe, freshman manager of Detroit Tigers. "And they didn't give up a single player who helped them win the title last year. In addition the Yanks got another one who really could help if his arm continues to get better — Shantz."
