AN ANGLO-RUSSIAN DISAGREEMENT HAS ASSUMED AN ACUTE STAGE

Baltic Fleet Sailed From Vigo This Morning—This is Considered in London to be a Breach of Agreement Between the Two Powers.

ENGLISH CHANNEL SQUADRON IS READY FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION

Lord Charles Beresford, Commander of the Squadron, Has Cleared His Decks for Action, and Has Presumably Sailed to Intercept the Russian Fleet—Gibraltar Batteries are Ready for Instant Action—There is Intense Excitement in London.

London, Nov. 1. London has been bewildered all day long by alarming reports indicating a renewal of the Anglo-Russian crisis, and showing that the utmost activity is prevailing at Gibraltar. The first news received, announcing the sailing of the Russian squadron from Vigo, leaving only four subordinate officers to give evidence at St. Petersburg and then testify before the international commission, is considered here to be a breach of the agreement, and the interchange of visits between Ambassador Benckendorff and Lord Lansdowne follow the Foreign Secretary subsequently seeing various members of the Cabinet. Count Benckendorff at 1 p.m. went to Buckingham Palace and spent nearly half an hour with the King. Later in the afternoon the Ambassador again visited Lord Lansdowne, who also received Lord Selborne, First Lord of the Admiralty, Premier Balfour, Captain Prince Louis of Battenberg, the director of naval intelligence, and Admiral Sir John Fisher, senior Lord of the Admiralty. All this renewal of activity created much apprehension in the public mind, and late this afternoon the Press Association issued the following:

"The Press Association has reason to believe that the action of the Russian Admiral has again brought the Anglo-Russian crisis dangerously close to an acute stage. Count Benckendorff arrived at the Foreign Office late this afternoon to see Lord Lansdowne. Mr. Balfour, who had already seen the First Lord of the Admiralty earlier in the day, has just received a visit from Lord Selborne, who was accompanied by Admiral Sir John Fisher."

A despatch to a news agency from Aldershot Camp says orders have been issued for strong drafts of all branches of the Royal Engineers to be in readiness to leave for Gibraltar at short notice.

Baltic Fleet Sailed.

Vigo, Spain, Nov. 1.—All the Russian warships left here at 8 o'clock this morning. The Russian squadron was followed by the Spanish cruiser Estremadure.

Ships Cleared for Action.

Gibraltar, Nov. 1.—Vice-Admiral Beresford's flagship the battleship Caesar, has just fired a gun recalling all the officers of the Channel squadron on shore to their respective ships. All the ships are cleared for action.

Gibraltar on War Basis.

Gibraltar, Nov. 1. The garrison has been mobilized and the artillerymen have been ordered to take up their positions at the different batteries of the rock.

The Channel squadron has been ordered to be in readiness at a moment's notice.

The preparations cause disquietude as the regular mobilization terminated Oct. 30.

All the quick-firing batteries have been manned. This afternoon detachments of infantry have been detailed for duty on the commercial and detached moles. The searchlights are being strictly guarded.

Heavy Firing Heard.

Vigo, Spain, Nov. 1. Heavy firing was heard in the offing this morning. It was attributed to artillery practice.

King Sent Royal Surgeon.

London, Nov. 1. King Edward, who is taking a warm interest in the victims of the North Sea affair, has sent Sir Frederick Treves, the Royal surgeon-in-ordinary, to superintend an operation that is to be performed on boatswain Hoggart, of the steam trawler Crane.

British Naval Activity.

Villa Garcia, Spain, Nov. 1. The British first-class armored cruiser Bacchante, flagship of Rear-Admiral Sir Baldwin Walker, commanding the cruiser division of the Mediterranean fleet, anchored in the harbor this morning.

The British cruiser Doris arrived during the day with despatches for the fleet here and left again this afternoon.

Villa Garcia is about twenty-five miles north of Vigo.

Many Rumors in London.

London, Nov. 1. Up to 2 o'clock no explanation was obtainable from the sensational despatches from Gibraltar announcing the mobilization of the garrison there, etc., but they had the effect of starting rumors of a hitch in the arrangements between Great Britain and Russia for a settlement of the North Sea incident.

Conferred With the King.

London, Nov. 1. Count Benckendorff, the Russian ambassador, was received in audience by King Edward at Buckingham Palace this afternoon. It is assumed that the ambassador was the bearer of a message from Emperor Nicholas.

Ambassador Benckendorff had a most cordial interview with the King, who, it is understood, expressed his satisfaction at the present method of the dispute.

Up to the time he saw the King, Count Benckendorff had received no notification that a detachment of officers from the Russian squadron at Vigo would attend the sessions of the International Commission, nor had he heard of the sailing of the squadron from Vigo. The ambassador hoped, however, to receive without delay information concerning the officers detached.

The Ambassador informed the Associated Press that the departure of the squadron would naturally follow the detachment of these officers, in accordance with the arrangements reached between himself and Secretary Lansdown last week. Nothing has yet been decided regarding the details of the International Commission. Another Cabinet meeting has been summoned for to-morrow to consider the Anglo-Russian convention covering the inquiry into the North Sea incident.

Notified of Fleet's Departure.

The Government has received a notification from the British consul at Vigo that the Russian squadron had sailed to-day and some irritation was felt at the fact that the Russian Government had failed to previously notify the Government regarding the detachment of officers. Ambassador Benckendorff is hourly expecting official advices, and while the Foreign Office is obviously annoyed at not knowing officially that Russia had carried out her part of the bargain no serious consequences are anticipated. It was officially stated to the Associated Press that with the exception of the foregoing omission to notify the Government, no hitch has occurred.

Count Benckendorff had a long conference last evening with Premier Balfour, Lord Selborne, First Lord of the Admiralty, as well as Foreign Secretary Lansdowne, were present. It was stated that the draft of the proposed convention relative to the scope, composition and venue of the International Commission was drawn up. As this must be submitted to St. Petersburg for acceptance or revision it will necessarily entail delay. The lack of information vouchsafed officially to the British press regarding the causes of these delays leads to all kinds of scare suggestions of bad faith on the part of Russia and tends to spread rumors for which it is difficult to find adequate reason.

Mystified in London.

London, Nov. 1.—There is no explanation yet of the apparently alarming telegrams from Gibraltar, but at the Admiralty the movements of the warships there are stated to be in completion of the plans for mobilization, although Gibraltar says the mobilization terminated Sunday. There appears to have been some conflict in the orders issued to the fleets owing to the sudden changes in the diplomatic situation which may possibly account for the fleet's movements.

Both at the Foreign Offices and at the Russian Embassy it is positively stated that there is no hitch in the negotiations except Russia's failure to notify the British Government of the names of the officers detached from the Russian squadron.

Orders Countermanded.

Gibraltar, November 1. The departure of a company of the Royal garrison artillery, which had been ordered to start for Sierra Leone, November 4, has been countermanded.

Wall Street Affected.

New York, Nov. 1.—The stock market was slow to take notice to-day of the warlike preparations making at Gibraltar. Newsboys had been crying extras containing the report for some time before prices were appreciably affected. The early course of the market was upwards in recovery from yesterday's sharp drop and some substantial gains had been established which held into the second hour. The market at first drooped slowly and then started a more precipitate decline and by the early afternoon prices had fallen from - to 2 1-2 points below last night's level. Offerings of stocks were free in all quarters of the list.

THE CONSERVATIVES CRITICIZE MORLEY

Globe Says His Views Are Unpatriotic—A.C.O.D. Scheme

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Nov. 1. The Globe says: "It is a little difficult to understand what Mr. Morley means by his reported advice to Canada not to allow herself to be caught in the military entanglements of the Old World. Canada is yet an integral part of the British Empire and bound, as such, to take her share in the protection of that splendid heritage. It is an obligation which Canadians, despite Mr. Morley and his like, are proud to discharge, and advice with views so contrary to both their duty and sentiment is not likely to be received with much favor in the Dominion. That fact, however, does not make the advice less unpatriotic when given at a time like this."

PRIVY COUNCIL CASES.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Nov. 1.—The following cases are set for hearing before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council:—The United States vs. Gaynor, McArthur vs. Dominion of Canada; Cartridge Company and Attorney-General of Prince Edward Island vs. Dominion of Canada, Attorney-General of New Brunswick vs. Dominion of Canada, Corporation of Toronto vs. Bell Telephone Co., C. P. R. vs. Corporation of Toronto.

C.O.D. TO AND FROM U. K.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Nov. 1.—The London agent for General Colonial Products, speaking as to the Postmaster-General's proposed c.o.d. system between the Mother Country and the colonies, says: "It is not unlikely that the English agents of Colonial Products may object to the proposal, claiming that the operation of the system may interfere with their business."

LORD AVEBURY'S VIEWS.

London, Nov. 1.—Lord Avebury, formerly Sir John Lubbock, lecturing at the London Institution on the fiscal policy said Canada, New Zealand and South Africa, though giving Great Britain a preference by raising duties against foreigners, showed no disposition to place the Mother Country's manufacturers on an equality with their own. Unless they were prepared to do so, he feared a conference would be useless, even injurious.

A HOROSCOPE.

THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC MEANS MORE MEN, MONEY, INDUSTRY AND COMMERCE FOR MONTREAL

More Sewing Machines Sold, and Each Contains More Canadian Work

Immense Growth of the Singer Sewing Machine Business Shows How Increase of Population Means Much More Than a Proportionate Increase of Consumption.

Every increase in the Canadian market means not merely that more articles of a given kind can be sold, but that a larger part of the manufacturing of those articles can be done with profit in Canada. This has been shown in the case of many industries in the course of these articles, and applies to practically all finished machinery.

It is conspicuously exemplified in the case of the immense business of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. In the past ten years the actual output of that company has increased by 150 per cent., not a bad showing in itself. But so much more of the value of the article is now made in Canada than was the case in the Conservative regime that the number of employes on the pay roll has increased, not by 150, but by 300 per cent. There were 150 hands employed ten years ago. To-day there are 600, or four times as many. Such is the statement made by Mr. D. F. Fraser, the company's manager.

The business of the company has entirely outgrown the old premises on Notre Dame street, and the company is erecting at St. Johns, Que., a factory that will make that place one of the model factory towns of the country. At this plant practically the whole process of making every part of the machine, starting with the raw material in the shape of iron and steel and lumber, will be carried on upon Canadian soil.

HIS DEATH CAME BY HIS OWN HAND

Unknown Man Blew His Brains Out With a Revolver.

NOT A MARK IN HIS CLOTHES

Entered Mr. Joseph Manton's Store, Looked Over Revolvers, Chose One and Fired.

To the week's programme of fatalities was added this morning another case of suicide. About ten o'clock this morning a man entered the store of Mr. Joseph Manton, hardware merchant, 499 Craig street, asked to see some revolvers, loaded one, and shot himself through the head.

Mr. Manton was alone in the store at the time, and tells the following story:

"It was about half-past nine this morning when a young man came into the store. He was well dressed and had the appearance of a gentleman. He said 'Good morning,' very pleasantly and told me that he had been in ten years ago, and remembered that I had some very good revolvers. Being about to the point of going out west, he wanted to buy a good gun, he said.

I had two colt's revolvers, one a 41 and the other a 38, and I showed them to him. He picked up the 38 and examined it very carefully, and then asked to see the cartridges. I lifted a cartridge for him, and then took it out, laying it on the show case. I turned away for a moment, and he picked up the cartridge, put it in the revolver and like a flash presented the gun to his head and fired. It did not occupy a second's time. He evidently knew what he wanted only too well."

The ball entered the head on the right side, coming out at the back of the head, and passed through a glass show case, lodging in the wall behind.

Deputy Coroner Elliott was called to the scene immediately. He examined the pockets and linen of the dead man very thoroughly, but no marks of any kind were found that might establish identity. The body was taken to the morgue where it now lies awaiting identification. The hat worn by the deceased bore the mark of a Toronto firm.

MANY CASES LEFT UNDECIDED.

Ottawa, Nov. 1. (Special.) Sixty-three cases heard by Mr. Blair and Dr. Mills in the West have still to be adjudicated. The complaints, answers and arguments in each case are, however, typewritten, and Mr. Bernier (the deputy chief of the Commission) may be able to assist Dr. Mills in reaching a decision. The Department of Quebec has been asked to say whether Mr. Bernier can do so.

FAIR AND WARM.

To-day and Wednesday — Fair and warm.

The weather continues fine and warm in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. Heavy frost was general last night from the Great Lakes to the Maritime Provinces, but during the day there was a tendency towards higher temperature in Ontario and Quebec. The temperatures recorded at various points yesterday were as follows:—Victoria, 50, 52; Kamloops, 50, 58; Edmonton, 38, 60; Prince Albert, 28, 50; Qu'Appelle, 40, 62; Winnipeg, 32, 50; Port Arthur, 30, 48; Parry Sound, 22, 46; Toronto, 22, 42; Ottawa, 20, 38; Quebec, 18, 32; St. John, 26, 38; Halifax, 28, 38.

G. P. O. PNEUMATIC TUBES.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Nov. 1.—Arthur Hawkes has gone to Canada with plenary powers to make contracts with the Canadian Government for pneumatic tubes for use in the Postal Department.

MANITOBAN LECTURES.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR LIBERAL SWEEP FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

Cabinet Ministers Are Confident That Laurier Government Will be Triumphantly Sustained, With Majorities in Most of the Provinces.

ONTARIO, IT IS CONFIDENTLY EXPECTED, WILL GO LIBERAL

Hon. Mr. Fisher Reports That Eastern Townships Will Elect Solid Liberal Delegation—Hon. Mr. Emmerson Predicts Liberal Victory in New Brunswick—Nova Scotia Will Go Overwhelmingly for Laurier—Liberals Will Carry the Territories and Break Even in Manitoba.

LIBERALS CLAIM MAJORITY FOR LAURIER IN EVERY PROVINCE

Ontario	4
Quebec	41
Nova Scotia	10
New Brunswick	5
Prince Edward	2
Northwest	5
British Columbia	3
Manitoba	2
	72

The following replies have been received to queries sent out by The Herald to-day to Cabinet Ministers and correspondents at various points. From Ontario, Quebec and the Eastern Provinces, come uniform estimates of a great Liberal victory. From Ontario and New Brunswick comes especially encouraging news:

GOVERNMENT WILL SWEEP COUNTRY.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Mr. Alexander Smith who has been secretary of the Ontario Liberal Association since 1893, and although now practising law in Ottawa; has, owing to the strong desire of the Liberal party had a good deal to do with the present contest. This is the third Dominion and third provincial contest he has had to do with, not only as secretary but organizer. He gives the following estimate as below, of the probable result on Thursday, Nov. 3: Liberals, Ontario, 44; Quebec, 53; Nova Scotia, 13; New Brunswick, 6; Manitoba, 4; British Columbia, 5; P.E.I., 2; N.W.T., 7; Yukon, 1. Total, 135. This gives a Liberal majority of 56 out of the 216 seats.

OUTLOOK IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

Moncton, N.B., Nov. 1.—The outlook for a telling Liberal victory in New Brunswick was never brighter. Our friends are confident everywhere of making gains and my best judgment coincides with that view.

(Signed) H. R. EMMERSON.

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS SOLID.

Knowlton, Nov. 1.—The prospects are that all the constituencies in the Eastern Townships will support the Laurier Government, with handsome majorities.

(Signed) SYDNEY FISHER.

A MAJORITY IN ONTARIO.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Prospects of the Government in Ontario are most satisfactory. The prevailing opinion is that the Liberal party will carry a majority of the seats.

(Signed) SIR WILLIAM MULOCK.

HON. MR. HYMAN IS RETICENT.

London, Ont., Nov. 1.—Very sorry but I am not making any prophesies.

(Signed) C. S. HYMAN.

WILL SWEEP NOVA SCOTIA.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Nov. 1.—The prospects of the Liberals in Nova Scotia were never better than at this moment. While a number of counties may be regarded as absolutely certain to return Liberals, there is no county which can be regarded as safe for the Opposition. In every county without exception, the Liberals have excellent chances. Small, as the strength of the Opposition from Nova Scotia in the last House, it is more likely to be reduced than increased. We look with the utmost confidence for a great victory in that province.

In Prince Edward Island two seats may be regarded as certain for the Liberals and there is every prospect of the whole four Liberal candidates being successful.

(Signed) HON. W. S. FIELDING.

A MAJORITY IN ONTARIO.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The probabilities in Ontario swing between four of a majority for the Liberals and four of a minority. I strongly believe we will have a majority.

FOURTEEN SEATS IN NOVA SCOTIA.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The Conservatives are extremely unlikely to get more than four seats out of eighteen in Nova Scotia.

NINE SEATS IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

St. John, N.B., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Careful surveys of the counties leave no doubt of Government success. The Government will carry Restigouche, Gloucester, Kent, Westmoreland, York and Victoria, by substantial majorities. The fight in all the other counties will be close but there is not a single one that the Conservatives can regard as safe. The Liberals should carry at least half of those in doubtful condition, and a fair estimate will probably be nine Liberals and four conservatives.

MANITOBA WILL BREAK EVEN.

Winnipeg, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—In Manitoba the Liberals expect to carry half the representation. Dauphin election is postponed, leaving nine contests for Thursday. Of these Brandon is the only sure one. Hon. Mr. Sifton being slated for victory by hundreds of a majority. The Liberals expect to carry four seats, one of which is Winnipeg. In the Territories the Liberals are counting on seven sure seats and more optimistic look for a clean sweep. The doubtful ones for the Government are Qu'Appelle, Calgary and Edmonton.

ACUTE STRINGENCY IN ELECTION BETS

Plenty of Liberal Money but No Conservative Goods Offering

Betting on the elections has taken a big slump.

It is almost impossible to get Conservative money, and not a dollar is coming out on Borden's chances of victory.

Finding it impossible to place any money in Toronto, a leading Liberal up there sent $10,000 to a Montreal broker, to be placed at 2 to 1 on the Liberals.

Another local broker is offering $5,000 on a Liberal victory, and there is also $10,000 of pool money on the street looking for takers.

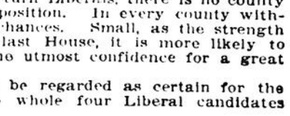

The Conservatives have taken small amounts against a Liberal majority of over 35, and there have also been some even money bets on a Liberal majority of 25.

Small even money bets are still being made on the Lyall-Ames contest in St. Antoine division, and at the Windsor Hotel last night a Conservative who has just come from Toronto offered to bet any part of $300.00 that Mayor Urquhart would beat George E. Foster in North Toronto. He also offered to bet even money on Dewart, the Liberal candidate in another Toronto constituency.

One big Montreal Conservative has $1,000 up on the Liberals, as he says he wants some consolation election night over his party's defeat.

JAPANESE MINISTER IMPROVING.

New York, Nov. 1.—Kogora Takahira, the Japanese Minister, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, passed a quiet night, sleeping most of the time. His condition showed much improvement, and he is believed to be on the way to recovery.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Interesting Tale of a Day's Doings in the Metropolis of Canada.

The president's report presented at the annual meeting of the Baron de Hirsch Institute Sunday, showed that the work of the Institute has increased and developed greatly within the last year. It was shown that 3,967 immigrants had applied to the society for assistance during the year, and of this number 2,606 settled in this city, 818 went to other parts of Canada, 533 went to various other places and ten returned to Europe. In dealing with these cases the board had expended $8,846.

In connection with All Saints' Day celebration, there will be special services to-night in Grace Church, Wellington Street.

For the Sailors' Institute concert to-night, certain of the crew of the SS. Bavarian will appear in a sketch entitled "The Barber's Shop," which they have been rehearsing on the voyage across. The local contributions to the musical part will be by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dunn.

The contest held in Chalmers Church for the silver medal of the Mizpah, W. C.T.U., brought out quite a lot of talent and the judges, Revs. J. Huxtable, Rorke and Hindley, had some difficulty in giving their award. Of the contestants no fewer than four were pupils of Prof. Stephens, Misses Patterson, Ostrom and Messrs. H. Diplock and French. The recitation of Miss K. Patterson being awarded the honors. Mr. Robert Bickerdike presided, and an entertaining programme of song contributed to an enjoyable evening.

Coroner Macmahon yesterday held an inquest at Clarke Street, Ville St. Louis, into the death of Mrs. Bourgeois, the old woman who was killed at the St. Lawrence Street crossing by a C. P. R. train. A verdict of excusable homicide was brought in, with a recommendation that gates should be placed at the crossing to prevent future accidents.

Paul Chailly, the Parisian arrested on October 20, on charges of railway thefts, has gone back to France. A local French-Canadian gentleman took an interest in the case, and after communicating with his friends in the French capital intervened to have the claims settled, the charges withdrawn and Chailly's fare paid home.

Lady Hingston presided at the 25th annual meeting of the Society of Decorative Art, held last night at 11 McGill College Avenue, when the following officers were elected: Hon. presidents, Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. G. W. Stephens; hon. secretary, Miss Hill, president, not elected; first vice-president, Mrs. Bell; second vice-president, Mrs. David Morrice, jr.; third vice-president, Mrs. Mortimer Davis; secretary, Miss J. J. Macfarlan; executive committee, Mrs. Amos, Mrs. F. Caverhill, Mrs. H. Graham, Mrs. E. B. Greenshields; Mrs. G. Marler, Mrs. A. W. Morris, Mrs. C. McCuaig, Mrs. Donald Macmaster, Mrs. Jams Ross.

The Bavarian, of the Allan line, was the unfortunate means of sinking the tug South Cock and drowning her engineer in the Mersey on her last trip to Liverpool. She was being warped into her berth by the South Cock, with a heavy tide running, when the tug captain attempted to cross the liner's bows. The small craft was caught right a midships, and turned completely over, the engineer being drowned at his post.

Archbishop Bond presided last night at the annual meeting of the Canadian auxiliary of the London society for the propagation of Christanity amongst the Jews. Rev. A. F. Burt, secretary, reported that last year the contributions had amounted to $3,400, but pointed out that a sum of $5,000 annually was required to carry on the work. Beyond this there was absolute necessity that they should either buy or build a hall, that at present in use being absolutely inadequate. It was also necessary that an assistant be provided for Mr. Neugewirtz, the city missionary, the work being beyond one man's capacity.

Other speakers were Canon Renaud, Mr. Neugewirtz, Canon Baylis, and Rev. G. O. Troop.

REWARD FOR CLEVERNESS.

Figure it out and secure a reward for your cleverness. The Calcule Co., of Toronto, are offering liberal prizes to those who will use their brains. If you read their advertisement you will find something to interest you. The contest which has been inaugurated by this enterprising company is meeting with great success, as the rewards offered are very liberal.—Advt.

WILL REMAIN IN SHERBROOKE.

Sherbrooke, Nov. 1.—At an informal meeting of the Official Quarterly Board of the Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. P. L. Richardson, laid before the members the letter and telegram in which he had received a call from the Methodist congregation in Galt, Ont. The matter was discussed at some length, and Mr. Richardson finally decided to remain with the Sherbrooke congregation until June, of 1906, when his four years will have then expired.

TRAIN WENT THROUGH TRESTLE

Winnipeg, Nov. 1.—(Special.) — A small wooden trestle 25 feet long crossing a creek near Canmore, B.C., on the main line of the C. P. R., collapsed on Saturday night as a freight train was crossing, and tossed Engineer J. Dauphin to his death. Fireman R. F. Lloyd was injured, sustaining a crushed leg, but the remainder of the train hands escaped injury.

FRENCH SOCIETY MEETS.

Union Nationale Francaise Elects Officers.

The annual meeting of the Union Nationale Francaise was held last evening, and was largely attended by the members of the French colony in the city. Among those on the platform were Mr. Kleczkowski, the consul-genera l for France; Rev. Abbe Lecoq, the superior of the Sulpician Order; Rev. F. Richard, chaplain of the union. The reports of the president, secretary and treasurer were adopted as very satisfactory. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, J. Helbronner; vice-presidents, J. Boudet and A. Martin, treasurer, R. Frechon; secretary, H. Hubert.

ARBITRATION DELAYED.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—(Special.) — The board of arbitration in the matter between the Grand Trunk and their telegraphers has adjourned until November 16, because of imperatiev legal engagements of Justice Teetzel. Disagreement has arisen as to the scope of the inquiry. An agreement had previously been reached by both parties on all points except extra pay for Sunday work, minimum wages and pay for vacation. The Grand Trunk officials contend the only unsettled points should be taken up by the board, but the telegraphers maintain that recourse to arbitration opened up the whole dispute, and the board could therefore hear what is to be said on all points. The board will likely announce its decision on the points at issue on opening next session.

MONTREAL SELLER MAY SUE IN CITY

Ruling Regarding the Non-Payment of Purchase by Outside Buyers.

MONTREAL Seller ..6..6.. ....

A decision of considerable interest to Montreal wholesale merchants was given by the Court of Review, in the case of C. T. Timrosi, wholesale merchants of Montreal, and J. Palangio, a retailer of North Bay, Ont.

Mr. J. Internoscia, for the plaintiffs, argued that when an offer had been sent from Montreal to an outside firm and been accepted the seller might reasonably be compelled to sue in the place where the goods were delivered. But where an order had been sent in from outside the Province and accepted here the seller should be able to take the much cheaper and less cumbrous course of suing in the Montreal courts.

The Court of Review upheld Mr. Internoscia's contentions, and gave its unanimous decision that the merchant who receives orders by letters and accepts such orders in Montreal by shipping the goods, can sue for the price of same in Montreal.

Large Decrease in the Death and Birth Rates of Montreal

The Mortality Rate Has Dropped From 24.77 Per Thousand to 20,21, and is Now Below Liverpool, Dublin and New Orleans.

The death rate last year for Montreal was only 20.21 per thousand of the population, or 4.56 less than the mean rate for the preceding eighteen years, according to the annual report of Dr. Louis Laberge, chief medical health officer, which has just been made public.

The report continues:—The mean annual death-rate for the past eighteen years, leaving out that for 1885, the year in which the great smallpox epidemic prevailed, was 24.77 per 1,000 of the population; while the rate for 1901 was 23.25, and that for 1902 22.58 per thousand.

"Tuberculosis caused less deaths than in preceding years. Before 1900 the number of deaths was 692; in 1901, 647; in 1902, 644; while in 1903 the number was only 633.

"In 1903 there were two deaths caused by smallpox, or eight less than in 1902; seventy-seven by measles, or seven less than in the preceding year; twenty-four by scarlatina, or forty less than in 1902, and 221 less than in 1901 and 108 less than in 1900.

"Typhoid fever caused ninety deaths, or four more than in 1902; but forty less than in 1901, and thirty less than in 1900.

"Bronchitis caused 224 deaths, or six more than in 1902. Pneumonia (including broncho-pneumonia), caused 528 deaths, or sixteen less than in 1902.

"The deaths amongst the prematurely born formed 208 per cent. of the total mortality.

"Under six months of age, the mortality formed 27.24 per cent. of the total; from six months to one year, 10.43 per cent.; from one to two years, 5.73 per cent; from two to five years, 4.7 per cent.; making a total percentage under five years of 52.48 per cent.

The total birth-rate for 1903 was 36.08 per thousand, or 3.02 less than the mean death-rate of the past sixteen years.

"The excess of births over deaths was 3,375, distributed as follows:—French-Canadians, 2,541; other Catholics, 337 and Protestants, 507. The marriage rate for 1903 was 10.16 per 1,000 of the population, giving an increase of 1.18 over the mean rate for the preceding sixteen years, or an increase of 0.94 per 1,000 over the rate in 1902, and 2.01 over that for 1901. The marriage rate among the French-Canadians for 1903, was 10.75 per 1,000 of the population, or 0.79 per 1,000 more than the mean rate for the preceding fifteen years, or 1.04 per cent 1,000 more than in 1902 and 1.28 per 1,000 more than in 1901. Among other Catholics the rate for 1903 was 7.35 per 1,000, or 1.29 per 1,000 more than the mean rate for the preceding fifteen years; or 0.06 and 1.50 per 1,000 more than in 1902 and 1901 respectively. Among the Protestants the marriage rate in 1903, was 10.36 per 1,000, or 1.39 per 1,000 more than the mean rate for the preceding fifteen years, or 1.21 per 1,000 more than in 1902, or 1.32 more than in 1901.

As an interesting comparison with certain foreign cities the birth-rate for 1903, in Newcastle-upon-Tyne, was 31.1 per 1,000; in Liverpool, 33.4; in Manchester,33.1; in Glasgow, 31.9; in Dubl'n, 28.8; in Belfast, 32.1; in Edinburgh, 24.8; in St. Petersburg, 29.4; in Paris, 20.3; in New York, 25.4; in London, 28.4; in Berlin, 24.7; in Munich, 33.2; in Vienna, 28.8; in Trieste, 31.7; in Moscow, 31.6; in San Francisco, 14.1; and in Boston, 26.6.

The rate of mortality for 1903 in Newcastle-upon-Tyne was 19.22 per 1,000; in Liverpool, 22.48; in Manchester, 19.72; in Glasgow, 19.2; in Dublin, 22.9; in Belfast, 20; in St. Petersburg, 23.8; in Paris, 17.9; in New York, 18.2; in London, 16.48; in Berlin, 16.5; in Munich, 20.7; in Vienna, 18.6; in Trieste, 25.5; in Moscow, 27.5; in San Francisco, 18.6, and in New Orleans, 21.6.

TAX WILL STILL BE LEVIED ON MOTORS

Legislation Committee Could Do Nothing Regarding the Protest.

A delegation from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association came before the civic Legislation Committee yesterday afternoon to protest against the special $5 tax levied on motors. It was decided, however, that nothing could be done at present, that the tax must be collected until such a time as the City Council decides to repeal it.

In a letter prepared by Secretary Coper, the following clauses of by-law 313, adopted last April, were pointed out as being objectionable:

1. Persons keeping lumber, hay, straw or firewood yards, saw mills, foundries, factories, blacksmiths' shops, joiners' shops or shops for the repairing of furniture, or all other establishments dangerous for fire; stores, buildings or any other structures in which oils, varnishes, petroleum, benzine, gasoline, or other very inflammable products, sky rockets or other fireworks are manufactured or kept for sale or for use, or stored, for each of such yards, stores or other establishments, $5.

2. Persons using motors operated by gas, coal oil, gasoline, naphtha oil, electricity or any other power except steam (automobiles excepted), for each motor, $5.

3. Mechanical engineers (first class), $4; mechanical engineers (second class), $3; mechanical engineers, (third class), $2; stokers, $1; master plumbers, $5.

It was declared that:

Clause 1 is objected to, first, because an annual license fee is not necessary to control the situation of lumber and hay yards, and, secondly, because the general terms of the clause would include any factory that used a gallon of varnish, oil, gasoline or benzine, in the process of manufacture.

Clause 2 would be a heavy imposition on some factories where a large number of motors are employed. It must also be a heavier imposition in the future, in view of the tendency to attach individual motors to each machine. There is already a civic tax on "motive power."

It is said that electric motors are a dangerous source of fire. In the words of an electrical expert, "a properly installed motor is as safe as a grindstone." Their installation and condition are regularly inspected by the insurance companies, who do not regard a motor as an additional hazard.

A license fee will not keep a motor clean. To accomplish that, a by-law is necessary that will make uncleanliness a punishable offence.

Clause 3. The fee imposed upon engineers and stokers is unjust taxation placed upon a class of good citizens. An annual examination is not necessary, so that an annual fee is nothing but taxation. There is no reason for the imposition of a poll tax upon these two individual industrial classes.

Ald. Carter, who presided, said that the $5 was not charged on each motor, but on each establishment using motors.

Ald. Sadler said that it was unjust to collect such a tax when motors were also taxed as realty.

Ald. Carter said that the committee could not suspend the tax, as it was law. He recommended the manufacturers to pay it under protest.

Among those present at the meeting were Messrs. J. J. McGill, Col. Burland, J. W. Hughes, E. F. Sise, W. Williamson, John Baile, H. R. Ives, John Watson and W. McLea Walbank.

G.T.P. SURVEYING WILL BE RUSHED

An Important Statement by Chairman Wade, of Railway Commission.

Winnipeg, Nov. 1.—(Special)—In an interview yesterday on the route of the transcontinental railway Commissioner Chairman Wade said: "It is absolutely decided that the surveys made by the Grand Trunk Pacific will be taken over from Winnipeg east by the commission in which case the location of surveys will begin at once and they will be pushed ahead with all possible speed. Major Hodgins has been appointed district engineer for the district of Winnipeg which will cover about 250 or 300 miles east from the city. He is here and will secure offices and organize the staff at once. One of our chief objects in coming to Winnipeg is to look over terminal facilities in oredr that we may be in a position to decide on the same. It is the determination of the commission to commence construction eastward from Winnipeg as soon as we can and to press the construction with utmost vigor in order to keep pace with the proposed work of the Grand Trunk Pacific Company west and also to meet their lake branch. This work will also be rushed with a view to giving the earliest relief to the output of the west by way of the Great Lakes pending the completion of the through line. At the same time as required by statute, work from Moncton west and from Quebec east and west will be prosecuted with equal vigor.

LARGE OFFERING TO POPE PIUS X.

The Largest That Has Ever Been Made by the Diocese of Montreal.

The largest offering the diocese of Montreal has ever made to any Pope will be carried to Rome by His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi when he leaves this evening on his first visit to Pope Pius X.

The offering which totals close to $10,000 was made up by a special collection in every church and chapel in the diocese, and it is especially surprising that all former offerings should have been exceeded, as the diocese has been greatly reduced in size by the formation of the new diocese of Joliette.

The Archbishop just previous to taking the New York evening train will officiate at solemn benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at St. James' Cathedral. The ceremony will begin at 6.30 o'clock and will be attended by a large number of the priests of the diocese.

His race will be accompanied on his trip to the Eternal City by Rev. Canon Roy, the chancellor of the diocese, and intends to return to the city early in the New Years.

Yesterday afternoon the Archbishop was tendered a farewell reception at the Jacques Cartier Normal School.

Gross Misrepresentation One of Conservative Dodges

One of the most glaring examples on record of attempting to make political capital on the very eve of an election by false translation of articles in a French newspaper was propitiated in this morning's edition of the Gazette. The Conservative organ produced what purported to be a translation of an electoral forecast from Le Soleil, of Quebec, the Liberal organ of the Ancient Capital. Far from being a quotation of the remarks published by Le Soleil, the Gazette's article is a flagrant malversation, indeed, in some instances an apparently deliberate misquotation of the Liberal organ's views.

The Gazette, in its headlines, says that the Liberal organ "Admits defeat," "Le Soleil, Laurier's organ, Practically Throws Up the Sponge." Compare this with heading of Le Soleil's article in question: "The Laurier Government Will be Victorious All Along the Line."

The Gazette describes the article as a "thunderbolt from what the Liberals considered a clear sky," and says that Le Soleil's "admissions of defeat" astounded the Liberals.

This astounding "admission of defeat" reads as follows:

"Here (in the Quebec district), as elsewhere, the prospects are most brilliant. The district of Quebec will not be behind the others on Nov. 3." Proceeding, Le Soleil points out the extraordinary difficulty encountered by the Conservatives in many ridings in securing candidates to meet certain defeat at the hands of the Liberals. This is what the Gazette translates as an astounding admission of Liberal defeat.

But it is when the Conservative organ comes to publish an alleged translation of an analysis of the situation, county by county, that the peculiar genius of the article shines forth most brilliantly.

By a careful analysis, based on the latest information, Le Soleil shows every indication of a sweeping Liberal victory.

The most extraordinary example of absolute falsification is in Quebec East, where Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the Liberal candidate.

Le Soleil says: "In this electoral division there is going on a ridiculous farce. The Don Quixote of the Conservative party, Dr. Michel Fiset, is himself convinced that his deposit is in great danger. The majority of Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be as usual in the two thousands.

Of this the Gazette presents the following grotesquely garbled version:—"Quebec East—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's constituency—Here the most astounding announcement (from a Liberal point of view) is made that the Prime Minister's majority will be reduced to 772 votes.

With regard to Champlain the Gazette says: "Champlain—In 1900 the majority was about 400. Le Soleil puts it down for the 3rd of November at 100."

Le Soleil places Mr. Rousseau's majority at "more than 100," but instead of the last majority being 400, it was 334."

Then in Chicoutimi the Gazette says: "Chicoutimi—Here the Soleil plainly admits the defeat of the straight Liberal candidate, Mr. Savard, by the Independent Conservative, Mr. Girard."

But Mr. Girard is not an Independent Conservative, but an Independent Liberal, and Le Soleil says, "The news we get leads us to expect the re-election of Mr. Girard."

Then with regard to L'Islet, Le Soleil says: "Despite the piratical fight that our adversaries wage against Mr. Carbonneau, the ex-Liberal member, he will win by a hundred votes."

This the azette transles—

"L'Islet—Le Soleil practicaly admits the defeat of Mr. Carbonneau. 'W ought to keep it,' it says, 'but Mr. Carbonneau has the fight of his life.'"

The same apparently deliberate mis-translation is shown again and again throughout the Gazette's version of Le Soleil's carefully-prepared and moderately compiled article.

For instance, when Le Soleil says a majority will be "at least," or "in the neighborhood of a certain figure, invariably placed well within the last records," the azette boldly announces that the Liberal organ figures it as cutting the last majorities down to the exact figure which conveys a very different meaning to that of the original article.

Just one example of this will give a fair idea of the value of the figures "quoted" by the Gazette.

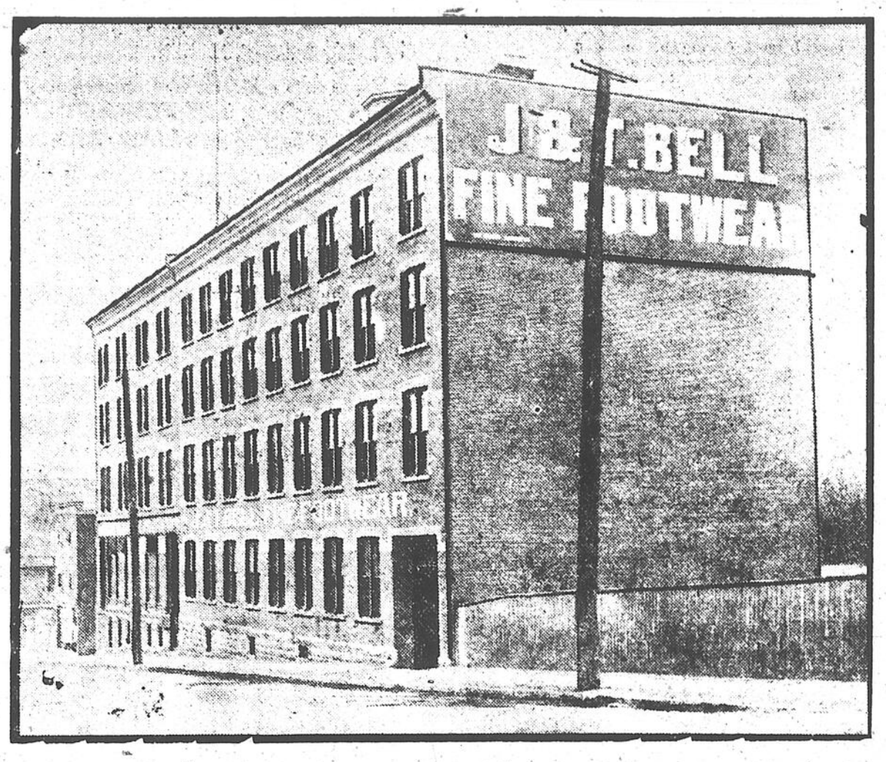

In Quebec Centre, Le Soleil says, "Mr. A. Malouin, Liberal, will defeat Dr. Verge, Conservative, by more than 500 votes."

The Gazette gives this: "Quebec Centre—An admission is made that the majority of over 600 will be reduced by 100.

Yet at the last election Mr. Malouin's majority was exactly 515.

In Megantic Le Soleil predicts victory by "at least 200 votes." The Gazette simply omits the "at least," and in every case the same misleading course is followed.

WHY DID PARKS LEAVE RIG TO MEET DEATH?

An inquest on the body of William Parks, killed on Sunday afternoon by a street car, on Notre Dame Street, near Raymond was commenced yesterday afternoon at the Morgue. Three of the men who were out with Parks on Sunday, gave their version of the incident.

Parks, George Zimmerman, Julias Zimmerman, James Kane and Donald Lamont, were drinking in the East End and in the course of the afternoon, a certain amount of beer was disposed of. About 5.30 the younger Zimmerman and James Kane left the party and went home. About an hour later Parks and Lamont were struck by a street car, while apparently standing on the track, and the elder Zimmerman was found sitting in the carriage by the edge of the street, hopelessly intoxicated. What cannot be satisfactorily explained is why the two men were out of the rig at the time, as no evidence yet adduced has pointed to any quarrel between them.

Lamont was unable to appear yesterday but his story of the event, as related by Kane and Zimmerman is that the old gentleman had complained of cold, and that Parks and Lamont had descended with a view to wrapping the horse blanket around him.

An eyewitness of the accident could not say that the men were fighting. The part of the street where the fatality occurred is badly lighted, and the officials on board the car could not see the two men until the car was upon them.

The inquest will be continued on Friday morning, when Lamont will appear to give his evidence.

C.P.R. THROUGH RATES CUT LOCAL REVENUE

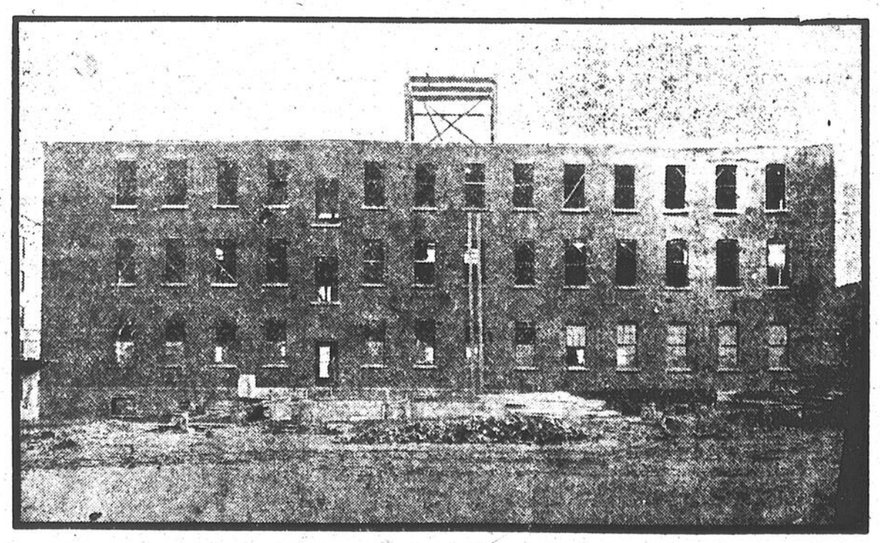

The operation by the C. P. R. of its newly-acquired Atlantic steamship line, and the consequent increase of through shipments in bond from Europe to inland Canadian customs ports, is given by Mr. Robert White, collector of customs, as a probable reason for the decrease of imports at the port of Montreal.

The total customs collected at the port of Montreal during October, 1904, were $972,851.10; for the corresponding month in 1903 they were $1,068,792.11, this year, thus showing a decrease of $95,941.01.

The decrease is not, it should be explained, anything like proportionate to the decrease in the revenue of the port. That has shown a marked falling off from corresponding months of last year for several months, and is very largely to be accounted for by the change in the source of Canada's raw sugar supply at time of abolition of German bounties last November. Since then the sugar supply, which last year paid a duty of one and three-quarter million dollars, mainly under general tariff, and to a considerable extent under German surtax, has been coming in from the British West Indies, with the benefit of the preference. Almost the whole importation is entered at Montreal, and three-quarters of it or more comes in during the summer by steamer, so that in the last six months Montreal has lost one-third of the regular schedule duty on three-quarters of the sugar imports of the country. Allowing that of the total amount of $1,750,000 collected on sugar last year, $150,000 was surtax, this places Montreal's loss at one-quarter of the balance of $1,600,000, or about $400,000, plus the entire surtax collections, a total of $550,000.

However, there is undoubtedly a slight falling off of imports besides. "The imports for the country are keeping up to last year's figures," said Mr. White, "and it follows that some of our 'imports for local consumption' must be being transferred to other ports. They do not necessarily cease to be imported here, but they are not declared here for duty, and are sent on in bond to other ports. There is no means of telling the extent to which this is done by any Government statistics; nor, indeed, are there any available figures to show how much the actual value of the goods cleared here has diminished. That can only be had from Ottawa, and the blue-books do not give values of imports by port of entry. You can see, in the case of sugar, that the revenue may fall off a great deal without the quantity of imports being affected. I imagine that the efforts of the C. P. R. to get through consignments to western points for goods shipped by its Atlantic line has greatly increased the amount of goods going through here in bond. And, of course, the establishment of great commercial houses in the west tends to increase the amount of through shipment."

Music and the Drama

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

"Flo-Flo" with Stella Mayhew as the star opened at the Academy of Music last evening. The play bears the title of a musical comedy, and perhaps that is the nearest one can come of hitting the mark. "Flo-Flo" is a wonderful combination of burlesque and improbabilities, with a running accompaniment of songs and dances. There is said to be a plot based upon the ownership of a coral reef, but it is hidden in such a shrewd manner, that the average spectator would be at a less to know where it begins or ends. It is, no doubt, unfair to look for anything conservative in such a burlesque. The audience is expected to be prepared for anything—and it comes, too, —from an Indian war dance with feather dusters doing duty as plumes, to a sickly English lord with a valet who is properly described as a bunch of wishbones.

Stella Mayhew was charming as usual, with her coquetries and the winning ways that make her so popular with an audience. Miss Mayhew certainly gives a touch to the play which it could not be without. She scored last night, and solely on her own merits, not on the play's. Throughout the piece there are a number of songs, few of which are catchy and scarcely one a hit.

"Girl of Pearl" by Miss Wallace was perhaps the nearest approach. Miss Wallace can sing well, for she seems to have complete mastery of her voice and can carry a note to its fullest pitch. Miss Mayhew herself will act as annunciator for the election returns on Thursday evening.

THEATRE FRANCAIS.

The Francais has a show this week which is sure to be very acceptable to its patrons. The Cherry Blossoms are a sprightly lot, they dance with vigor and yet very gracefully, their singing is tuneful, their chorus is well-trained and, altogether, it is one of the best presentations which this theatre has had so far this season. The performance begins with a travesty on "The Girl from Maxims" entitled "The Girl from Shanley's" which was well put on and afforded the different members a chance of exhibiting their various talents. A burletta called "Look Out Below" closed the performance.

The olio contains some very good numbers prominent among which was Burt Fuller, a very good mimic who gives in a realistic manner an imitation of the things he heard on his travels. Lydia Carlisle and Lillie Perry are old favorites here, particularly the latter and they sang and danced in a manner that pleased the audience. Seymour and Hill are tumblers of a high order and they introduce some novelties in the acrobatic line. The Mound City Quartette are heard to advantage in some topical songs and the New York Comedy Four present a one-act sketch "The Toodles Trust" which brings forth many a family jar.

THEATRE DES NOUVEAUTES

The Nouveautes takes us back to Revolution days in France this week with a historical drama entitled "Le fils de Giboyer," a powerful study of the conditions of country life and country nobility. It is not a romantic play and the feminine portion of the excellent Nouveautes company have substantially nothing to do. Mr. Lefrancais carries the heavy work as a young Republican, and gives the cleverest impersonation in a long series of clever work. Mr. Dubois, a new acquisition to the company, gave promise of being useful.

On Thursday night the election returns will be announced to the audience from the stage.

ADEQUATE PROTECTION.

Halifax, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—As an evidence of the variable nature of "adequate" protection, the attitude of Mr. J. J. Ritchie, the Conservative opponent of the Minister of Finance in Queens and Shelburne, is exciting much comment. He is making the abolition of the duty on cordage the chief cry in his campaign. Mr. Ritchie is a brother-in-law of Mr. R. L. Borden's law partner.

David Auberg, employed in the Steamship Mexican, fell into the hold of the vessel this morning and sustained a fracture of the left arm and a badly cut head. He was conveyed to the General Hospital by ambulance about 9.35.

AN AMENDED ADDRESS.

If it were possible for the leader of the Opposition to speak out of the fulness of his heart, Mr. Borden's election address would have read something like this:

"To the electors of Canada:

"Inasmuch as I have been called to the position once filled by Sir John Macdonald, you will doubtless expect me to address you collectively by letter, as he used to do. I therefore do so.

"You will agree with me that the task I have undertaken is a heavy one.

"As you know, I never pretended to be as great a man as Sir John Macdonald, and when I accepted the leadership of the party it was not because I was known to be qualified for it, or even felt myself to be qualified for it, but because it seemed to the friends, in the unhappy circumstances in which we were, that I had fewer disqualifications than any of the others.

"Do not blame me altogether, therefore, if the Conservative party is not what it might be.

"I have labored under the additional disadvantage which follows from the contrast between my personality and that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. What he is you know. If our party had his equal I would not now be Opposition leader. And besides, he had attained to his present prestige after a lifetime spent before the Canadian public, whereas, until I was pitchforked into the position, I was practically unknown. He is an orator, I am not. He appeals to the imagination, I do not. He plays the political game as a master, I am only learning it. Do not blame me, therefore, if it turns out that he is more popular than I. Blame him.

"I regret to be obliged to confess that, in the four years I have been employed at the undertaking, I have not been able to reconcile the quarrels which have gone on in this party which I lead, or to adjust the ambitions of leading men in it. Some of them will not work with others. Some demand my written promise of a place in the Cabinet, a promise which I do not feel I can give. The result is that I come before you with practically no backing from anybody well known to you. This again is not my fault, but my misfortune.

"In such circumstances I have naturally not much to offer you in the way of a political platform.

"I have decided to stand for 'adequate' tariff protection, so that my friends in one part may think I mean high tariff, and my friends in other parts may think I mean low tariff. It will be clear to you that I need all their votes.

"I have been greatly embarrassed by the policy of the Liberals in granting a trade preference to Great Britain. I am anxious to please some of my strongest backers who wish to have British goods kept out of this country, and also anxious not to displease those who think well of this practical demonstration of good will towards the Mother Country. You see the difficulty. In these circumstances I have hit upon a policy which (between ourselves) is not inaptly described to by my friends of the Montreal Gazette as wholly impracticable, and (if you are a high tariff advocate) as "adding hypocrisy to folly." I can only plead that it is the best I can do.

"The Liberal Government have also added to the known weakness of my position by entering into a contract with the Grand Trunk Railway Company to still further open up the West, and to broaden Canada by opening up the north land. It is not my fault that I did not happen to be in power when the Grand Trunk people came to this decision. If I had been the resulting popularity would be mine, not Laurier's. As it is I have had to shift as best I could. I have painfully and laboriously constructed two alternative policies,and have shown myself willing to drop any features of them to which my friends objected. The first one I abandoned altogether, and the last one has been so changed I hardly know what to make of it. If you put me in office I think I could improve upon both.

"You will gather from the foregoing that I scarcely expect to be elected this year, but hope something may turn up before we are four years older."

That isn't what he said, but it is what the people understand.

LABOR AND PARLIAMENT.

At first sight it may seem surprising that in all Anglo-Saxon countries, except the Australian colonies, there should be no political movement corresponding to the well-organized and powerful parties representing the working classes in Teutonic and Latin countries. The explanation, however, is not far to seek.

The unique political and economic conditions of British countries have not favored the division of society into sharply-defined classes. In the United States or Canada class distinctions are hardly known, and even in England the divisions of society are more vertical than horizontal. In that country the early development of industry created a middle class, a superior working class, standing between the land - owning classes and the masses of the people. The activity of that class in breaking down hindrances to political, mental and industrial freedom swept away many causes of revolt that still exist in continental countries. The various processes of political, industrial and educational development, set in motion through the efforts of this class, have all been more or less correlated and inspired by a common ideal in the making of a homogeneous people. Moreover, in Britain as in the United States, and still more in Canada, the commercial and working classes insensibly merge into one another, and have not only made common cause together in struggles for the development of the parliamentary system of government, the extension of the franchise, etc., but still associate in the most friendly way in their recreations and games, and educational pursuits. All these things have tended to prevent the growth of what is termed the "class conscious" feeling, a feeling which under the conditions obtaining in most European countries has become so acute that one hardly needs any other explanation of the progress of revolutionary socialism as a political force.

But though under English institutions the paramount political power rests, potentially with the working classes, it does not follow that the governing bodies always give due consideration to working class interests. English-speaking Parliaments usually contain a goodly percentage of men who have risen from the ranks of labor, but not many of such men are qualified to voice the needs, the aspirations of labor. In raising themselves, they have unconsciously absorbed the habits of thought, the ideas, prevailing in their new environment, and have lost the point of view of the workingman. Indeed, the titled representatives at Westminster show sometimes far more regard for the interests of workingmen than the self-made legislators, the tools of the trusts, at Washington.

In English - speaking Parliaments, therefore, the presence of an increasing number of direct labor representatives, though not as necessary as in countries where only rudimentary parliamentary institutions exist, would be a great advantage to the community. The very facility with which, under present conditions, men of ability rise from the ranks, tends to make workingmen an inarticulate class.

In England of late years a few able labor leaders have appeared at Westminster; after next elections there may be quite a group. About twenty years ago the old Liberalism which had inspired the remarkable commercial expansion of the country following the repeal of the Corn Laws seemed to have reached a state of exhaustion; the party fell and continued on days of desuetude; extinct volcanoes filled the front benches. The Unionist movement, appearing to be more progressive, attracted the vote of workingmen—to their own undoing. To-day they stand stripped of all the rights the last generation fought for, their trade unions hampered by the revival of the old conspiracy laws, their funds at the mercy of Tory judges.

In the meantime Liberalism has shaken off its lethargy, and has become a live force again. The express object of the working class movement during the past five years has been to give the Liberal party a fresh whiff of emotion, a new impetus—to make it fulfil the very purpose of its existence.

In Canada Liberalism has done much to guarantee the rights and protect the interests of labor. In England Toryism has denuded trade unionism of its hard-won rights, my making its position even less secure than it was fifty years ago; in Canada, Liberalism has greatly increased the rights and extended the privileges and opportunities of trade unionism. That the Laurier Government has reasonably satisfied the workers, we infer from the absence of any labor representative movement here. That it might, and will, be more satisfactory we have no doubt. Even in this land of plenty labor problems are maturing for solution. Liberalism must be given power to deal with them; if with the assistance of official spokesmen of workingmen in Parliament, so much the better. From Liberalism, if it is to fulfil its mission, labor has much to hope. From the party controlled by men who on the eve of an election close down their mills and factories and cut wages in order to intimidate workingmen, who even reduce the pittance of poorly-paid factory girls in order to raise campaign funds—from such a party the worker has no more cause of hope than the man who enters the broad way leading to the castle of Giant Despair.

DANGER OF WAR.

It is not a very hopeful sign for the preservation of peace and the succesful operation of an international arbitration conference that so few prominent journals in Britain and elsewhere discussed, and in some cases continue to discuss, the friction between London and St. Petersburg with more passion than gravity. In certain quarters there seems no "counting the cost" of going to war: a struggle uncertain in its scope, length, and final issue is to be entered into in haste and repented of at leisure.

A war with Russia was looked upon by such leaders of public opinion as merely a naval demonstration in which the odds were some 100 to 1 against the Russian fleet which was to be sunk to the bottom and then England's part in the affair would have ended. Fortunately trained statesmen still remain as a moderating influence upon unreasoning passion and these men know that a war with Russia at this time would certainly mean a prolonged land struggle upon the Indian frontier which would have been an enormous drain upon the national resources.

The excitement lasted quite long enough to show that the great bulk of opinion in France would have brought pressure to bear upon the tottering Combes cabinet to observe the actual letter of the dual alliance. As it is the situation arrived at is admittedly largely due to the personal influence of M. Delcasse, whose departure from the control of the Foreign office in Paris is one of the dreaded possibilities of the present serious domestic political complications in France. No account was taken of the enormous holding of Russian bonds not only by large banks and financial institutions in France but also by hundreds and thousands of small investors throughout that country. The strain of the war with Japan is already making this class restive and had England declared war against Russia self interest apart from alliances and national sympathies would have impelled a movement to aid a financial partner threatened with disastrous bankruptcy.

To-day's despatches make it appear that the danger has not yet been wholly averted. But possibly the show of force at Gibraltar may prevent the use of that force.

THE QUEBEC SITUATION.

The Gazette has a curious idea of what constitutes defeat. Because Le Soleil, a Liberal paper of Quebec city, has estimated the Liberal majorities in the various ridings thereabout at rather less than they were in 1900, the Gazette claims that the Liberals "admit defeat." Defeat! It is admitted that the Conservatives may, if they have good luck, hold about three seats in that district, but if they do they will have to fight hard, very hard, for them. If the Gazette is in the way of pluming itself upon that sort of victory it is heartily welcome.

Some over-confident Conservatives claim that they will get as many as twenty seats in Quebec province. But twenty, be it remarked, is their outside estimate. The fact is that in about twenty ridings, not more, is there a serious contest, and that our eager Conservative friends claim all of them. Here and there they have taken advantage of some local influence to put the re-election of the Liberal in doubt. But they conveniently ignore the circumstance, equally worth noting, that there are some Conservative seats in doubt. St. Antoine, Montreal, is very much in doubt. Jacques Cartier is very much in doubt. Sherbrooke is very much in doubt. Even Compton is very much in doubt. It is quite on the cards that the Liberals may carry all four of these Conservative strongholds.

Some allowance has to be made for the fortunes of war in all election contests, but with the current running so strongly Liberal, with bright prospects of Liberal success in Conservative strongholds, it is obviously absurd to count upon the Opposition winning the whole twenty seats in which there are serious contests. Give them the benefit of the fortunes of war. Allow them a liberal estimate of ten or twelve seats. It is all they can get.

As to majorities, it seems to us that Le Soleil, in estimating well under the 1900 results, is wise and reasonable. The Conservatives this year have mended their manners a little—not much where the Toronto Mail goes, but a little—and this year a Quebec elector can vote against Laurier, if he wants to, without absolutely sacrificing his self-respect.

We very much doubt the ability of the Opposition to carry ten or twelve seats. They certainly cannot get more.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Forward, Canada!

Canada is with Laurier.

Come on now. Make it a clean sweep of the Island of Montreal.

Rojestvensky won't have to imagine it this time. "Lord Charley" is no dream.

Please note that the seats the Liberals are going to capture this time are the Conservative strongholds of Sherbrooke, Compton, St. Antoine and Jacques Cartier.

There are a certain number of people in Montreal who are so prosperous under the Liberal administration that they feel t[hey] can vote Conservative and run chances.

The Dundonald bombshell has arrived. He says that when he recommended "compulsory service" in the "army," he did not mean that service should be compulsory; and that when he recommended a standing army of 5,000 men he did not mean that a standing army of 5,000 men should be raised. Delighted to hear it.

TRADE MARK 38

WHAT CAN BRITAIN PROFITABLY SUPPLY CANADA?

The contention is made, by those who argue that Canadian industries can be protected by the same tariff that gives British exports a substantial preference in Canadian markets, that we can force into British hands much of the trade now done with us by other countries. To ascertain to what extent the trade and navigation returns confirm this contention, the following tables have been prepared from the returns of the year 1903. The figures given are those of the imports into Canada under the general tariff, divided into four classes:

CLASS I.

Imports for home consumption that Great Britain cannot supply, owing to non-production, prohibitive rates of freight, or other reasons:

As the total dutiable imports in the non-preference class amounted to $98,181,560 (omitting one million of spirits bought in Britain) it will be seen that Class I. embraces a large percentage of the whole.

CLASS II.

Articles which Canadians buy because of contiguity of market, or special adaptability to their needs, such as patented articles:

Soaps, Pearline, etc	315,288
Lithographed tinware, etc	315,288
Watch cases and movements	868,068
	$13,807,688

This class embraces goods known as proprietary articles, imported because of a demand created through advertising, boots and shoes, ribbons, books and advertising matter, probably not published in Britain; fancy goods, jewellery, electric apparatus, musical instruments, clocks, watches, etc., bought outside of Great Britain, because of their special character. While there is room for differences of opinion as regards some of the items enumerated, we are probably safe in assuming that none of this trade could be transferred to Great Britain excepting at serious cost in money or convenience.

CLASS III.

Articles of which, under any tariff, we would buy a large proportion from countries other than Great Britain:

Unenumefated articles	969,227
Wax	45,195
Webbing	118,682
Window shades, etc	31,695
	$36,928,464

This large and important class contains the articles regarding which debate will be most keen. England excels in metals, and it might readily be assumed that under a preferential tariff she could supply all of Canada's imports in that line. But the fact remains that now with one-third of our duty removed in her favor, her competitors supply us with about $23,000,000 worth of metal and manufactures of metal. This is due in part to Canada being made the dumping-ground for the surplus products of the States; to the standardisation of metal construction by United States makers; and, above all, by the peculiar fitness and adaptability of United States machinery for Canadian needs. In silk goods we naturally buy largely from the Continent, and in hats and caps, the American styles are demanded by popular taste. Taken as a whole it is perhaps safe to say of this class that not more than one-half of its items might be transferred to the British column by raising the duties against other countries.

CLASS IV.

Articles which, in the face of a high tariff against other countries, might be supplied by Great Britain:

Cordage	$ 98,694
Cottons	2,802,320
Curtains	211,009
Flex, hemp and jute	278,640
Gloves	721,399
Gunpowder	207,559
Wool and mfrs	3,390,318
	$8,609,939

An analysis of this class will show that there have been placed in it a number of items, such as cotton and wool, of which the whole importation could not be transferred to Britain by any tariff manipulations. We buy large quantities of cotton goods out of England because of special designs and special suitability for our purposes. The same is true of wool and curtains

SUMMARY OF CLASSES.

Class I.—Articles Britain cannot supply	$38,835,469
Class II.—Articles Canadians will prefer to buy elsewhere	13,807,688
Class III.—Articles of which Canadians would, under any tariff, buy a proportion from other countries (say one-half)	36,928,464
Class IV.—Articles Britain might supply	8,609,939
	$98,181,560

Taking Class I. and Class II., and one-half of Class III., as embracing articles that Canada could not purchase from Britain under any condition, we have a total of $71,107,389. The balance of $27,074,171 represents the amount that might be diverted to Great Britain.

It will be of interest to examine more closely the items which comprise this twenty-seven millions of dollars. Class 3, of which we have assumed that one-half might be bought from Britain, is largely composed of articles which we Canadians are earnestly endeavoring, through private enterprise and legislative enactment, to manufacture in this country. Run down the list: Brass manufactures, belting, buttons, candles, copper manufactures, collars and cuffs, combs, glass, gutta percha, hats, ink, leather, metal work of all kinds, machinery, paints, paper—there is not in the long list a single item unrepresented in Canada's industrial world. There is not an article which we are not striving to make in Canada, and of which Canadian protectionists are not prepared to legislate to prohibit the importation. Take some of the larger items: Gutta percha, $604,880. We are making many lines of rubber goods, and the constant aim of our manufacturers is to reduce to the smallest proportions imports of the United States article. Hats and caps, $1,109,814. In this line we are developing rapidly. Iron and machinery, $20,854,764. An outstanding fact in connection with this line is that we import American machinery almost exclusively, and that the home production is largely increasing, and the temper of the Canadian people is to divert this trade, not into English channels, but into Canadian lands.

We find, then, a line of possible British exports of the value of twenty-seven millions of dollars, limited and curtailed on every hand by the determination of Canadians to make these things themselves. Under such circumstances, what chance will the British exporter have at this twenty-seven million market? The moment he begins to make an impression on it, up will go the tariff, if the local manufacturer can have his way, as he has of late on woollens and steel rails.

To cottons, woollens and cordage the same argument applies, though we have placed them in the category of goods that England might supply in whole. On paints we may look for a higher duty being demanded as soon as white lead is produced in Canada.

Instead of an additional market of twenty-seven millions being given to the British exporter by the means suggested, it would probably be worth not more than half that sum. If this be so, we are being asked to burden ourselves by increasing duties in every direction, "to approximate to the United States tariff," for the sake of throwing less than three million pounds of trade into the hands of John Bull. And it is for this insignificant mess of pottage that he is to be asked to surrender the policy that has made him rich and powerful.

The gentlemen who argue that they can reconcile protection to Canadian industries with a substantial preference to the Mother Country should study the figures given above. If these figures prove one thing more than another, it is that a preference to Britain that will mean anything in substantial results implies sacrifices of no small dimensions on the part of our home manufacturing enterprises. In other words, "adequate protection" to Canadian industries is absolutely incompatible with a preference to Great Britain that will give it an additional market of any consequence.

Make Iron With Water, Say Government Engineer.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—To-day there is being distributed from Ottawa a report which is likely to have an important bearing on a great industry. This is the report of "the commission appointed to investigate the different electroc-thermic processes for the smelting of iron ores and the making of steel in operation in Europe." The report is the latest and most comprehensive treatise of electric smelting in the world to-day. Its importance to Canadians, however, lies in the fact that it is likely to induce the establishment of great iron and steel works in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

The profitable production of iron and steel has hertofore required a convenient arrangement by nature of coal and iron ore. Nature placed large bodies of magnetic ore in both Ontario and Quebec, but omitted to drop the coal there. It has been discovered recently that falling water can be made to take the place of coal. As both the great central provinces of the Dominion are blessed with an abundance of water powers it is not too much to anticipate that the time has come for mining the ore from the ground and turning to profitable use the water powers which have been roaring wastefully away for thousands of years.

GREAT DEMAND FOR REPORT.

The report has been in the course of preparation for some months. The industrial world heard of its preparation and the result has been a flood of applications for the volume which will more than absorb the whole issue. The applications have come from steel-makers, universities and steel and iron journals all over Canada, the United States, Europe and the colonies of Great Britain and other countries.

The commission was appointed at the suggestion of the capable head of the Canadian Department of Mines, Dr. Haanel. He had associated with him Mr. C. E. Brown, electrician; Mr. E. Nystrom, draughtsman; Mr. T. Cote, secretary from Canada, and Mr. F. W. Harbord, consulting metallurgist and analytical chemist to the Indian Government, who was secured in England to act as metallurgist to the commission. The report shows that the commission had no better head than Dr. Haanel, who is a thoroughly competent scientific man. In the report the findings of the commission are set forth in the most concise and lucid manner. Electric smelting plants were visited at Gynsing and Kortfors, Sweden; La Praz, France; Turin, Italy, and Livet, France. At each a different process was examined. In the report each of the processes is described and the measurements of the electricity and the ore given, with the cost of labor, the time of operation and the cost of production. The book is a bulky volume of over two hundred pages, swelled to twice the thickness of a two-hundred page volume by elaborate plans of the furnaces and retorts and other pieces of machinery used in the processes. The details are set forth with a dry mathematical precision which will make the book all the more convincing to the practical steel-maker.

COST AND VALUE OF PRODUCT.

In most of the places visited the falling water and the electricity it had been made to produce were applied to the production of a peculiarly high grade of steel from scrap iron. In Gynsing the Kjellin process was producing steel at $34 a ton with 225 horse-power at $11.50 per horse-power per year. At La Praz the Heroult process was converting scrap to steel at $14 a ton with electrical horse-power costing about $10.50 a year. The steel produced was being sold at $363 a ton for extra hard down to $123 a ton for tough weld.

But at Livet the most interesting and valuable examination was made. There, under the eyes of the commissioners, ninety tons of iron ore "were used for various experiments made to demonstrate the commercial feasibility of making pig iron and steel direct from the ore by the electrical process." Experiments were made in the reduction of iron ore and the obtaining of various classes of pig, the means ofelectrical energy absorbed in producing a ton of pig; the manufacture of a good quality of steel from the pig so obtained. The result is contained in the following table:—

1. Ore (hematite, 55 per cent. iron), 1,842 tons, at $1.50 a ton	$2.76
2. Coke, 0.34 tons, at $7.00 a ton	2.38
3. Consumption of electrodes, at $45 per ton (34 lb. per ton of iron)	0.77
4. Lime, 300 lb., at $2.00 per ton	0.30
5. Labor, at $1.50 per day	0.94
6. Electric energy, 0.226 h.p. year, at $10 per h.p. year	2.26
7. Miscellaneous material	0.40
8. Repairs and maintenance	0.20
9. General expenses	0.20
10. Machinery and buildings	0.20
Total, exclusive of royalty	$10.71

Experiments at Livet show it will require 9,750 electric horse-power to produce 100 tons a day.

CAN COMPETE WITH BLAST FURNACE.

Mr. Harbord concluded that with "electrical energy at $10 per horse-power a year and coke at $7 per ton, the cost of production is approximately the same as the cost of producing pig iron in a modern blast furnace. Under ordinary conditions, where blast furnaces are an established industry, electric smelting cannot compete; but in special cases where ample water-power is available and blast furnace coke is not readily obtainable, electric smelting may be commercially successful."

As an electric furnace can produce 1,000 degrees more heat than a blast furnace the electric process has made it possible to smelt the most refractory Titanic ores.

Though the report does not say so the business of electric smelting in Europe is in a comparative infancy. The plants are all small, as the water-power is limited. The administration of the plants has not been made with a strict view to economy. However, with electricity at $10 a horse-power a year these small-scale plants are profitable.

In Canada the water-power [illegible] is enormous. Nothing like a complete report on this subject has been made. An examination of [illegible] miles, with Ottawa [illegible] centre, showed a total [illegible] of nine hundred thousand [illegible] on the Ottawa river and its [illegible]. At the present time [illegible] a project afoot to install an electric smelting plant at the Chats Falls, about twenty miles above Ottawa. There is an iron deposit in the vicinity of the falls which was worked to a slight extent a number of years ago. The power at this point was surveyed by Engineer Surtees and he estimated it at one hundred and forty-one thousand horse-power.

With coal a thousand miles away and with the electricity and the market in the centre of Canada the work of the thermo-electric commission becomes a matter of importance to the people of Middle Canada.

SUFFERED FOUR YEARS WITH PELVIC CATARRH--PE-RU-NA CURED.

MISS ROSE DE LA SEN,
A Pretty Canadian Girl.

Miss Rose De la Sen, Secretary of the French Women's Clubs of Ontario, Canada, in a letter from Windsor ave., Windsor, Ont., says:

"I have been a sufferer from ovarian troubles for over four years, which caused me excruciating pains at times and life looked very dreary to me. My family physician and other doctors prescribed for me, but I am pleased to state that after years of suffering I have been entirely cured by your woman's friend, Peruna."—Miss Rose De la Sen.

Pelvic Catarrh.

Catarrh is a very frequent cause of that class of diseases popularly known as female weakness. Catarrh of the pelvic organs produces such a variety of disagreeable and irritating symptoms that many people—in fact the majority of people—have no idea that they are caused by catarrh.

The Nervous System.

Weakness of the nervous system not only produces catarrh of the mucous membrane, but also causes nervous prostration in some cases, and different degrees of nervous debility, derangements of the stomach, sleeplessness and tired out feelings.

Depression of the nervous system is a fertile source of blood impurities. Peruna invigorates the system and produces regular sleep. It builds up the system run down by overwork.

Catarrhal Weakness.

A great proportion of women have some catarrhal weakness which has been called by the various doctors she has consulted by as many different names. These women have been treated and have taken medicines with no relief, simply because the remedies are not adapted to catarrh. It is through a mistaken notion as to the real nature of the diseases that these medicines have been recommended to them.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O

THE BODY IS AN ELECTRIC STORAGE SYSTEM

Electricity is now recognized to be one of the essentials as well as one of the mysteries of life. Everyone contains electricity, and its dominance determines to a great extent the vitality, the magnetic force, the health and strength of the individual; especially is this true of the nerves. Nerves are the wires on which this electric fluid runs.

THE PROOF—Ever feel yourself tingle at the close approach of an electric storm? Ever feel an unaccountable oppression preceding lightning, and note that whereas the approach of lightning frightens some, others, the strong, the high-strung, are apt to be still further exalted by it.

THE REASON—They are already charged with electricity; lightning to them has no terrors. It's the weak who are sighing for electric force, whose magnetism is all but palsied; they droop as does a parched flower before the coming of rain.

Lucky for them if the lightning playing in the air could yield to them some of its vitalizing force, though this cannot be. A more gentle way is needed.

IF YOU SUFFER—if you lack energy, vitality, power—if your system has acquired through weakness of the nerves any Nervous Disorder, Rheumatism, or Complaints peculiar to either sex; if your appetite is poor, your nerves shaky, if you have pains in the back, or head, or kidneys; if you get dizzy spells or feel faint; if you sleep badly—you should wear Dr. MacDonald's Electric Belt. It will gently and surely supply the electricity to lead you to health.

CLANS GATHERED TO PIPES AND SONG

Hallowe'en Concert at the Windsor Hall a Thing of Lifelong Memory.

Scots are a clannish race, and this clanship was manifest last evening in the Windsor Hall where the braw callants and their bonnie lassies foregathered to celebrate Hallowe'en. The hall was full to overflowing and patriotism ran high from the start to the finish of a lengthy programme.

Jessie McLachlan wasthe star of the evening from a musical point of view. She is not the Jessie of old but she is still the first singer of Scottish song since the days of Jenny Lind. She had a warm welcome from the audience and she was as ready as ever to sing as many encores as were demanded. In the songs of war she was at her best and she made Jacobites of everybody when she told of bonnie Prince Charlie and the clansmen who loved him. It was inspiring music, and not only did the cheers break forth at the end of every number, but the singer had to pause until the audience gave vent to their feelings at the end of each stanza.

Rev. Dr. Barclay during the course of the evening delivered a memorable address and defended the clanship of Scots the world over because it rested on great traditions, because it was an incentive to Scots to make of themselves good citizens wherever they found themselves. He held up the names of Knox, Carlyle, Scott, and Burns as emblems of all that was great and good and noble in life and expressed the wish that there were in every constituency in Canada to-day a Knox and a Carlyle to preach the gospel of purity in election methods and purposes. The Doctor went back to his native Doric on occasion to give emphasis to his expression, and as Col. Stevenson said after he had done, they had listened to no more eloquent address in the long experience of the Caledonian Society.

THE GATHERING OF THE CLANS.

There were men there from the Outer Hebrides to Cauld Aberdeen and from Cansibay to Maidenkirk. The programme suited them all. Highland Gaelic, Lowland Scots and national instrumental airs of both were in rich variety. John McLinden on his 'cello played as only he can. His instrument spoke of the mountain and the glen, and the flood of mirth and of war and he was recalled again and again. Donald McGregor ranked next a favorite. He possesses a rich bass voice and his songs were carfeully chosen. The people wanted to hear more of him, but "elders 'oors were lang syne gane," and Mr. Peter Lyall the chairman, though he looked himself as if he could have sat a while longer, had reluctantly to hurry to the end. Douglas Young and Owen A. Smily did much to make the evening a success.

Among local contributors was Miss Grace Clark-Murray who rendered Scottish airs on the violin delightfully. Miss Margaret Stark possesses a rich capable voice and particularly in "The Auld Scotch Songs" caught the spirit of her audience. Mr. William Johnsten danced the Fling and the Sword Dance.

Toronto.—A veteran of the Crimea, William D'Arcy, passed to his rest after a short illness. The deceased, who died of an affection of the heart, was born in Ireland in 1830, and served in the Crimea in Her Majesty's 47th Regiment, under Col. Lawrie. He fought at Balaclava, Alma and Inkerman. Thirty-five years ago he resigned his sergeant-majorship and became a clerk in the pension office in Toronto, but took up arms again during the Fenian raid. He leaves a widow.

A LETTER FROM OVER THE SEA

WHICH WILL PROVE OF INTEREST TO CANADIANS.

Here is a sincere and unsolicited letter from an Englishman who was almost led to take his own life on account of what he suffered from itching piles.

114 Milton Road,
Margate, England.

Edmanson, Bates & Co.,
Toronto, Can.—

Dear Sirs—I feel it my duty to write to acknowledge the great good Dr. Chase's Ointment has done for me. I had suffered from itching piles for over sixteen years, and suffered badly at that. There have been times when I could and would have put an end to it all if it had not been for the thought of meeting God. Some people may think I am stretching a point, but those who have suffered as I have will know.

At other times I have felt I could take a knife and cut away the parts until I came to the bottom of the evil, but thank God it is all past. It was quite by accident that I came to know of Dr. Chase's Ointment. I have had doctors' advice and remedies to no end and could not say how much I spent in that sixteen years. I had a Calgary paper sent to me, and there I saw your Ointment advertised. It just met my case, as it said for itching piles and saved painful operations.

As I could not get Dr. Chase's Ointment from my chemist, I wrote to my brother, Mr. H. Shelley, of Calgary, Alta., and he sent me one box. Before I had used one-third of the box I was perfectly cured by this ointment.

I am sure you will be surprised to get this letter from this corner of the world, but I felt it my duty to acknowledge the great good Dr. Chase's Ointment has done for me. You are at liberty to make use of this letter as you see fit. All I should like to say to anyone who suffers from this dreadful complaint is I know it cures. With many thanks, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
T. Shelley.

If you are not acquainted with the merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment you will be surprised at the cures which are being brought about in your own neighborhood. No preparation has ever been more heartily endorsed by people who have used it and none has ever been so successful in curing piles.

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous recipe book author, are on every box.

NINE TICKETS FOR U.S. PRESIDENCY

Nominations in Many States Yesterday—People's Party Again Separate.

New York, Nov. 1.—Nine national political conventions were held this year, and nine candidates for president and vice-president of the United States were nominated, but only six electoral tickets will be generally voted for one week from to-day. Besides "the two great political parties," seven others made nominations—People's, Prohibition, Socialist, Socialist-Labor, Continental (labor), National Liberty (negro), and Lincoln (negro). The two negro parties, however, apparently ended their work when the national conventions adjourned, as no electors have been selected, or at least none will appear on any official ballot; and the Continental party seems to be confined to Illinois, and perhaps to Chicago, the place of its origin.

The terms of thirty United States senators expire March 4th next. Seven of the vacancies have already been filled, and the Legislatures of twenty-three States to be elected November 8th, will fill the other twenty-three. Members of the House of Representatives are to be voted for in all except three States, Maine, Vermont and Oregon, which have already elected their congressmen.

In twenty-seven States a governor, and all, or nearly all, the elective state officers, are to be chosen; in five states, minor state officers are to be selected, and in thirteen electors are to be voted for.

South Carolina enjoys the distinction of having only one ticket in the field. All the other states have from four to six Illinois leading with seven. There are three Republican tickets in Delaware, but only one variation in the names of the candidates, the nominee for governor of the "regulars" refusing to abide by the decision of the factional conference, which resulted in the withdrawal of the "union" candidate, and an agreement upon a compromise ticket. The Republicans in Wisconsin will have a choice between two tickets for state officers, the "stalwarts" having decided to keep up their fight against Lafollette. The electors on both tickets, however, are identical.

POPULISTS BY THEMSELVES AGAIN.

The Democrat and People's party, of Populists, fused on the state ticket in Kansas and Nebraska, but in both states the Peoples' party named separate presidential electors. In Nevada the Democrats and one wing of the Silver party divided the minor state officers to be voted for, but the "Stalwart Silver" men put up their own electors.

The People's party, which endorsed Mr. Bryan in 18996 and 1900, has an active organization in thirty-two of the forty-five states, the nominees for state officers and electors being on the official ballot in twelve states, and for electors in twenty. Efforts to this end were made in a number of other states, but the requisite number of signatures to petitions were not obtained.

The prohibitonists have electoral and state tickets in twenty-seven states, and elctoral tickets in twelve others. One less than in 1900.

The Socialists (called in some states Social Democrats) have electoral and state tickets in thirty-two states, and electoral tickets in eleven others—seven more than in 1900.

The Socialist Labor party have whole or part electoral and state tickets in twelve states and electoral tickets in two others—six less than in 1900.

NATIONAL TICKETS.

The following are the tickets nominated by the different parties. Where a ticket is incomplete, no nominations were made:

Vice-President — Benjamin Hanford, New York.

Socialist-Labor.

President—Chas. H. Corregan, New York.
Vice-President — Wm. H. Cox, Illinois.

Continental (Labor).

President—Austin Holcomb, Georgia.
Vice-President—A. King, Missouri.

National Liberty (Negro).

President—Geo. E. Taylor, Iowa.
Vice-President—Wm. C. Payne, Virginia.

Lincoln Party (Negro).

President—E. P. Penn, West Virginia.
Vice-President—John J. Jones, Illinois.

AN INCREASE IN CATTLE SHIPMENTS

The Feature is the Number That Have Come From the West.

The total cattle shipments from the port of Montreal up to the end of October, are well above those for the same period of any average year in the last six years and the indications are that the total shipments for this year will be above the 110,000 mark.

Such was the statement made to The Herald to-day by Mr. Geo. H. Pope, the Government stock inspector, after completing the official reports.

"It must be remembered" added Mr. Pope "that no comparison should be made with last year as the ports of Portland and Boston were closed the greater part of the season and American cattle had to come by way of this port.

"The feature of the increase in this year's business has been the increased number of cattle that have come from the ranches in the Northwest."

The reports just completed show the total shipments for October were 14,289 cattle, 11,190 sheep and thirty-nine horses and the total shipments to date 99,542 cattle, 36,027 sheep and 262 horses, the highest figures reached in any year since 1901, with the exception of last year, in the same period were 81,976 cattle, 29,411 sheep and 2,710 horses.

The total number of American cattle brought in this year for shipment from this port was 13,464.

WEE KIRKERS TAKE ACTION.

They Have Made Formal Demand for Church Property.

Edinburgh, Nov. 11.—The Free Churchers, now commonly called the "Wee Kirkers," owing to their paucity of numbers, have taken steps to put in operation the decision of the House of Lords, giving them control of the Free Church property. They have served the general trustees of the United Free Church with a notice to quit and hand over all the church property, including Assembly Hall, three colleges, at Edinburgh, Glasgow and Aberdeen; all the missions abroad and the churches and manses in Scotland, numbering eleven hundred and valued at $5,000,000.

WHAT BORDEN SCHEME MEANS.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Sir William Mulock, speaking in South Toronto last night, pointed out the benefits of the G.T.P. Discussing the alterations proposed by Mr. R. L. Borden Sir William said the C.P.R. line around the north shore of Lake Superior is a dead horse on the hands of the company, who are anxious to get rid of the annual expense which it now entails, the extent of which no one knows. Mr. Borden's scheme means a clean gift of $50,000,000 to the C.P.R. Can anybody say the vast tract of country of varying widths, up to 700 miles, is properly served with only one trunk line of railway? he asked. The Grand Trunk Pacific did not obtain exclusive rights over the Moncton-Winnipeg section. By reserving power to give other railways running rights over the Winnipeg-Moncton section the Government had retained control of the spout. If the Grand Trunk Pacific made a default in payment of interest, Government had as security a mortgage upon the entire railway, including the one-fourth which the Grand Trunk Railway guaranteed.

THREE PLANS FOR A NEW LOOKOUT

Three Montreal Architects Send in Competitive Designs.

SCHEME OF MR. F. G. TODD

Would Include Terrace, Cafe and Shelter and Harmonize With Natural Surroundings.

The Parks and Ferries Committee have received plans for the proposed new lookout on Mount Royal from three architects, Messrs. Frederick G. Todd, J. O. Marchand and L. R. Montbriand.

MR. MARCHAND'S PLAN.

The plan of Mr. Marchand calls for a two-storey terrace, 140 feet long by 14 feet wide, running along the edge of the mountain. At one end is a pavilion, the ground floor of which is intended for a restaurant, the upper floor for an assembly hall. Stables and other conveniences are attached. Its cost would be $25,000.

THE MONTBRIAND PLAN.

Mr. Montbriand's plan shows no terrace at all, but simply a square house with a verandah on the second floor. It would cost about $15,000.

PLAN OF MR. F. G. TODD.

The plan of Mr. F. G. Todd is reproduced here. In his letter to the committee, Mr. Todd describes his scheme and the object he has had in view, in the following terms:

NEED OF SUITABLE BUILDING.

"Mount Royal Park is noted the world over for its superb location, and I think that this particular point should be made the crowning feature of the whole Park. Therefore, it is the more necessary that the shelter should be appropriate. The mountain itself is so lofty and so ruggedly picturesque, and the views are so grand in their proportions, that any structure erected by man, on top of such a wonderful creation of nature, must unite itself with, and accentuate these strong natural characteristics, if it is to be truly successful. It must be simple in order not to detract from the grandeur of the views, and it must be picturesque to harmonize. I have endeavored to preserve all the natural advantages of the site and emphasize them, and at the same time to provide conveniently and pleasantly for all the requirements of a cafe and lookout shelter.

CAFE WOULD BE CONCEALED.

"To put up a building of any considerable size between the mountain drive and the present shelter would seem to me to injure the Park for the enjoyment of the people, and therefore I have located the cafe in the depression west of the present lookout, and in such a manner that it will obstruct none of the view, and at the same time give fine views from the dining-room. The cafe will be of rough stone, with low tiled roof and broad projecting eaves, and being placed well back among the trees, the kitchen wing will be about entirely concealed, while the low cafe will be masked by foliage enough to make it unobtrusive but interesting. On the southerly side of the enclosed cafe, which will seat over one hundred people at small tables, will be an open cafe, which can be used in conjunction with the main dining-room whenever necessary, the two combined seating about two hundred persons. This outdoor cafe, it is intended, will be used ordinarily as a part of the lookout, where simple refreshments may be served, and it may be easily enclosed in winter by inserting windows between the stone pillars. From this open-air cafe will lead a covered shelter in the shape of a quadrant to a square tower, situated as near the edge of the precipice as it would be safe to go. This shelter will be low and entirely open, but covered with a tiled roof with broad projecting eaves, supported by rough stone pillars. From this small square tower, an open terrace will extend in an easterly direction parallel to the precipice, for sixty-five feet, to another similar square tower. Between these two towers there will remain sixty-five feet of unbroken view which, I think, will be one of the pleasantest features of the whole scheme, for as one drives along the mountain road the picturesque low-tiled roof will be seen through the trees and the magnificent vista over the city and river to the mountains beyond will be seen between the two low picturesque towers.

FINE VIEW FROM OCTAGONAL SHELTER.

"Leading from this easterly tower will be another covered shelter, in the shape of a quarter circle to a large octagonal shelter, thirty-six feet in diameter, from which grand views will be obtained up and down the river. This shelter is of sufficient size for the accommodation of a large number of people. The views to be obtained from this octagonal shelter are quite different from those to be obtained from the cafe shelter, although the two are only a short distance apart. This octagonal shelter is to be set well back in the trees, but the front will afford unobstructed views. A straight terrace might be somewhat cheaper to build, but there would be no comparison as to the advantages taken of the fine possibilities.

"In the basement of the cafe will be located a large kitchen with modern appliances, a store-room, a boiler-room and coal bins, and gentlemen's toilet-room. The toilet-room will have its main entrance through an outside door, but entrance may also be had direct from the cafe, on the ground floor, by way of the corridor and stairs.

INTERIOR OF CAFE.

"The main floor of the cafe building will be occupied by a single large dining-room, thirty feet by fifty feet, very simple in effect. The walls will be panelled in dark wood up to about 8 feet, with rough plaster above. The trusses and rough timber will be left exposed. The adjoining kitchen wing will be occupied by a large serving-room, a servants' dining-room and a ladies' resting-room and toilet. Everything possible has been done to make the proposed building permanent and of such construction that repairs need scarcely be considered. Practically everything exposed to the weather being either stone, tile or plaster.

"A drive is proposed from the main mountain road to the entrance of the cafe, but this drive is to be kept narrow and carriages are not to be allowed to use it as a stand, as a cab-stand will be provided on the opposite side of the road, where all carriages will be required to wait.

"I have purposely avoided the use of any beds of flowers in the court formed by the cafe and lookout, as I feel that they would not harmonize with the surroundings and they would detract from the dignity of the buildings and the enjoyment of the views. A few more trees will be planted and masses of native shrubbery and climbers will be arranged about the buildings in such a manner as to conceal the basement wall and to unite the whole pleasingly with the surroundings.

WOULD ONLY COST $19,000.

"It is exceedingly difficult to estimate accurately the cost of such a structure as I have proposed. A contractor, from whom I obtained an estimate, places it at $16,000 to $17,000, but my own estimate is about $19,000 for the buildings and about $1,500 for the grading and roads. The price could undoubtedly be cut to $15,000 by using shingles instead of tiles and by substituting wooden columns for stone, but I would not advise such a change, as it would lead to the necessity for frequent repairs, and the whole effect would be less picturesque and less in keeping with the Park than the scheme proposed."

The Parks and Ferries Committee will consider the plans in detail on Friday.

FANCY FAIR IN AID OF A SCOTTISH CHARITY

St. Andrew's Home Will Benefit from a Bazaar Which Will Open in Windsor Hall on Nov. 30.

The fancy fair in aid of St. Andrew's Home will open in Windsor Hall on Saturday, November 26 and will continue until Wednesday, the 30th, which is St. Andrew's Day.

A special programme of Scottish music will be rendered at the closing of the fair on Wednesday night. Preparations for the fair are rapidly proceeding under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Harte, Summerhill Avenue.

The bazaar is being given to clear off the $7,000 debt which is resting on St. Andrew's Home. Although the institution is well endowed, its annual income has not been sufficient to meet current expenses and the constant demand for charity that is made upon it.

The ladies in charge of the fair have among other things seven tables, each representing a stage of woman's life. Contributions in money or material may be sent to the Home, 403 Aqueduct Street, or to Mrs. J. A. Harte, Summerhill Avenue.

The convenors of the various tables are as follows:

Baby age—Mrs. A. F. Riddell, Miss Gardiner.

School girl age—Mrs. F. Riepert and Mrs. M. Rubenstein.

Young housewife and mother — Mrs. J. McD. Hains.

Ancient maidenhood — Mrs. John Ogilvy, Mrs. McCormick.

Old ladies—Mrs. Jas. A. Ogilvy, Mrs. John Boyd.

Candy table — Mrs. Munderloh and Mrs. D. Scott, Mrs. A. G. Thomson, Miss Seath.

Refreshments—Mrs. D. Gordon and Mrs. A. W. tt.

Ladies of St. Paul's Church—Mrs. Jas. Barclay and Mrs. Peter White.

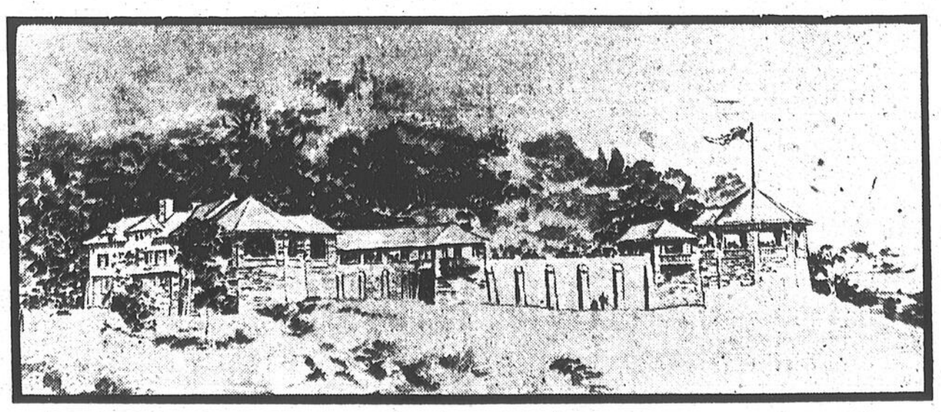

Ladies of Caledonian Society fancy work—Mrs. D. W. Leckerby.

Flower table—Mrs. S. S. Bain.

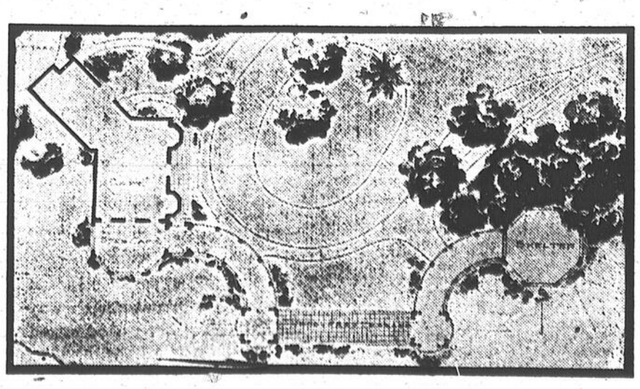

Vienna coffee—Mrs. Thos. Pringle.

Archbishop Elder was not only the oldest prelate in years but also in tenure of office in the country. He had presided over this archdiocese for a quarter of a century and previously was almost as long Bishop of Natchez, Miss.

DOMINION NEWS TOLD IN A LINE

One Day's Record of the Latest Happenings in Canada.

Rosseau, Ont.—George Kellington, a farmer residing near this village, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn. No cause is given for the act.

Toronto.—The Ontario Government has offered to contribute $100,000 to a hospital in connection with the Toronto University.

Hamilton, Ont.—At the thirty-ninth annual convention of the Ontario Sunday School Association, Rev. L. H. Wagner, of Berlin, was unanimously elected president.

Windsor—Patrick Major, a farmer, is exhibiting some yellow metal which he discovered on his farm. He believes it to be gold, and will send it to the Government assayist at Ottawa.

Fredericton, N.B.—At a recent meeting of the school trustees a delegation from the School Teachers' Association waited upon the trustees with a petition for increase in the salaries of the city teachers.

Toronto.—It is understood the Government of Nova Scotia has offered to one of the expert officials of the Ontario Agricultural Department the principalship of the new Agricultural College at Truro.

London.—It is generally understood in G.T. circles that Assistant Superintendent Higgins will be transferred to the Sarnia Tunnel, to succeed the late Mr. Begg, and that Mr. Whitenberger, formerly Assistant Superintendent here, will come to London.

Woodstock, Ont.—A jury at the fall assizes awarded Adam Menies, of Tilsonburg, $1,000 damages against the Tilsonburg, Lake Erie and Pacific Railway Company. Menies was working in a box car in a mill at Tilsonburg, when a runaway train came down the grade on the switch, dashed into the car in which he was working, and severely injured him.

Petrolea, Ont.—Messrs. Duncan, Dunfield and Wilkinson this afternoon struck the biggest oil gusher yet in Moore Township. The tremendous flow of oil and gas is not yet under control, and the quantity flowing per day cannot yet be estimated. It comes out with terrific force to the height of forty feet. This practically opens up a new oil field, six miles from Petrolea.

Kingston, Ont.—Rev. Dr. Antliff (Methodist), preaching here said he would like to see those who offer bribes, even if in high official places, put in the penitentiary. He believed there should be compulsory voting, no canvassing, public debates on the issues of the day, and then decision by freemen and action at the polls. In the course of his address, Dr. Antliff protested against the exclusion of the Chinese from Canada; he also insisted that the Anglo-Saxon race should dominate in Canada, and should have strong Sunday laws to prevent the foreign element over-riding the demands of the English Christian people.

FOREIGN.

Cincinnati, O., November 1.—Most Rev. Wm. Henry Elder, archbishop of Cincinnati, in his eighty-sixth year, is dead, after suffering four days from la grippe, complicated with extreme weakness.

Nagasaki, Nov. 1.—A mine exploded yesterday while being unloaded from the steamship Dainichy Odama, in the harbor of Moji. Ten persons were killed and many wounded. The steamship was badly damaged.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 1.—The general election passed off quietly and no disorders have been reported. The result will not be known before Thursday, owing to the fact that under the counted in the central station of each district.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—One of the striking evidences of the increasing liberality of the times since the accession of Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky to the Ministry of the Interior is the open campaign being waged by the Russ for national education of the masses. The paper has opened a popular subscription and is daily printing many letters. The Russkiya Viedomosti, of Moscow, a very influential paper, is warmly supporting the idea of opening a similar subscription there.

ACCIDENT TO MME. ALBANI.

London, Nov. 1.—Mme. Albani narrowly escaped serious injury in Dublin on Saturday afternoon. While singing a solo from Wagner, the electric light failed, and the solo had to be finished in absolute darkness. After singing an encore, still without light the famous singer, when retiring from the stage, tripped on a badly laid carpet and fell heavily. Mme. Albani was severely shaken.

RUNAWAY MATCH THAT LED TO PRISON

Young English Couple Set Up Here in Style, but Bridegroom is Now in Cells.

A nice-looking little English woman was crying her eyes out in the corridors of the Court House yesterday, the while her youthful husband of 22, to whom she was married here a few days ago, was cooling his heels in the adjoining cells.

The young man, who gives the name of Parker Thompson, with his cross sea address as Chorlton-Cum-Hardy, near Manchester, arrived in Montreal by the Allan line steamer from Liverpool on Oct. 22, accompanied by a young woman.

It was a runaway affair, and within a couple of days of landing they were married by Rev. Mr. Gordon. The couple set up in good style in a high-priced suite at the Windsor Hotel, and, in addition, made purchases to a considerable extent at some of the city stores. On Thursday there is said to have been some little trouble between the young people, as a result of which the wife made certain representations to Mr. Weldon, the hotel manager, who promptly brought out a bill amounting to $109. The same day Thompson was found at the corner of St. Urbain and DeMontigny street, suffering from what seemed to be a fainting fit, and was removed to the General Hospital, where he remained until arrested on Saturday under a warrant charging him with obtaining board at the Windsor under false pretences.

When brought before Judge Choquet yesterday he pleaded guilty, and on the application of his advocate, Mr. St. Jullen, the case was adjourned until Wednesday, pending receipt of a reply to a cable message sent to the father of accused, who is said to be a man of considerable means.

Merchants Bank Building....Montreal where investors are cordially invited to call, accompanied by any expert engineer, and examine fully into the merits of the MITE-E-MOTOR.

THE MITE-E-MOTOR

20 BRAKE HORSE POWER TAKEN FROM A PHOTOGRAPH SHOWING THE SIZE OF THE MOTOR IN ACTUAL PROPORTION TO A MAN 5 FEET 6, IN HEIGHT

WEIGHT OF MOTOR IS 62 POUNDS

THE MITE-E-MOTOR

is a greater power in a smaller compass than has ever been produced. It is the achievement of a master mind who has pushed back the frontier of human knowledge and placed before the public a motor power whose marvellous efficiency, small cost of construction and operation promises to revolutionize the world's motor power.

COMPANY'S OBJECT.

The purpose for which this Company has been formed is to manufacture, sell, and generally deal in the MITE-E-MOTOR throughout the Dominion of Canada; to supply power for all purposes; to operate tramways, river transportation and all such like operations where concessions may be had.

THE MITE-E-MOTOR

has proven its practicability; its commercial success is assured; its revenue will necessarily be enormous, whilst its importance is national.

THE MITE-E-MOTOR DESCRIBED.

The MITE-E-MOTOR is a Turbine, the power being generated by the use of air compressed to a high compression pressure, increased in volume or swollen in quantity by the direct application of heat.

The fuel may consist of any burnable substance, preferably crude oil, on account of its universal procurability and cheapness.

POINTS OF SUPERIORITY.

"The Motor is absolutely self-contained."

"The exhaust is practically smokeless, noiseless and odorless."

"No explosion, hence the maximum of safety is attained."

"No water, tank, boiler nor condensor is employed."

"No oil lubrication is required."

"No reciprocating parts, no complications."

"No boiler tubes to give out, no vibration."

"All parts are machine made to a templet and are interchangeable, and therefore cheaper to build and more durable."

"No multiplying nor differential gear."

"As the motor varies the power in accordance with the increase or decrease of work without the use of outside governing apparatus or gear wheels."

COMPARISON.

When it is considered that a MITE-E-MOTOR of 20 brake horse-power, which is self-contained, occupying a space of 18 inches by 8, only weighing 62 pounds, it is obviously beyond comparison with any other motor on the market, the weight of which with its necessary appurtenances exceeds this by six times the horse-power of the MITE-E-MOTOR is practically unlimited, as it can be built to generate from three or four horse-power to many thousand horse-power.

CAPACITY OF POWER,

SIMPLICITY OF WORKING.

The MITE-E-MOTOR is operated by one lever and is self-starting, and its operation is so simple that it is safe in the hands of a child.

COST OF CONSTRUCTION.

The MITE-E-MOTOR is so designed that the moving parts, which consist of the rotors and shafts, are all rotating and reduced to a minimum. These are all machine made to a templet and are interchangeable. The body is one casting in steel; there are no reciprocating parts and practically no bench work or hand labor, hence it is clear that the cost of production of the MITE-E-MOTOR is incomparable with the necessary higher cost of existing motors.

AUTOMOBILES.

As a motor power for automobiles and vehicles of all kinds this motor will occupy a smaller space and give far greater power at less than one-fourth the cost of building than any other motor now on the market, and as the use of gasoline will be done away with, the cost of maintaining an automobile will be reduced to a minimum and the dangerous feature be done away with, as well as the present complications, thus rendering it possible for any person to readily operate an automobile.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.

The Commercial Value of the MITE-E-MOTOR is Beyond Calculation.

The MITE-E-MOTOR can be employed in every conceivable industry where power is required, from the propulsion of battleships to the small pleasure launch; from railway work to car work; from the propulsion of delivery vans to the small private carriage; from the power to drive heavy mill machinery to operating the smallest oil pump; from generating power for the largest electric light installation to generating electric light for the smallest home. Thus it will be readily seen that the earning power of the MITE-E-MOTOR is unlimited.

TESTIMONIALS.

The highest form of recommendation obtainable for the MITE-E-MOTOR is the fact that it has been most favorably reported upon by the most eminent engineering professors and motor experts in Great Britain, who have examined the principles of the motor and have reported most favorably upon its practicability, utility and incalculable commercial value.

Never in the world's history has there been so great a demand for a motor of light weight with a high efficiency as awaits the marketing of this strikingly wonderful invention. Thousands of these motors will be used alone in the city of Montreal for all purposes; operated as simply as turning on an electric light. It is adaptable to all industries where power is used, and owing to its cheapness of construction and low cost of maintenance this motor will create a new and broad field for its employment, whilst its present demand is universal.

This marvellous invention greets the public at a moment when the country is clamouring for cheap power; unlike the great electrical inventions, it does not require years of time to demonstrate its practicability and value. It has proved its higher efficiency and completeness, and there only remains the necessity to manufacture and place the MITE-E-MOTOR on the market to meet the universal demand in order to make the shares of this company soar to a price that will eclipse the previous record-making advances earned by either the Bell Telephone or other similar investments. As a new industry for Canada the working of this company promises to assume enormous proportions.

Only a limited number of shares will be offered at par, $5.00 per share, in order to carry on the company's business. Once this enterprise is fairly launched these shares should readily be worth $50.00 per share or more.

The possible earning powers of the MITE-E-MOTOR are beyond calculation and shareholders should receive enormous dividends.

Those wishing to secure stock in this company should lose no time in making application, as a few shares in this undertaking should make one rich.

SHAREHOLDERS

who may require motors will have the privilege of receiving the first deliveries if immediate intimation of their requirements is given to the company.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Only a limited number of shares are now offered for sale at par, $5.00 each, in blocks to suit the purchaser.

Right is reserved to accept or reject all subscriptions in whole or in part.

Applications for stock must be accompanied by at least 25 per cent. of the amount subscribed, balance payable 25 per cent. in one month.

25 per cent. in two months.
25 per cent. in three months.

Make all remittances payable to the order of the CANADIAN TURBINE PROPULSION POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY, and forward to the head office, MERCHANTS BANK BUILDING, MONTREAL, Canada.

The MITE-E-MOTOR is unique, and the launching of this Company will meet with the utmost support of every independent citizen.

Cut out, fill in and forward and secure an interest in this great enterprise.

A VIOLENT DROP IN STOCKS ON THE SERIOUS RUMORS OF RUSSIAN AFFAIR

There was a nervous opening in Wall Street this morning, and while prices showed a disposition to recover a little, the weaker tone again developed, and was in evidence around noon, and more pronounced than ever around one o'clock.

The market, we are told by New York people, has been selling off on the big gold exports of $5,200,000, the Russian-British situation, and the chances of a Parker victory.

The latter is, of course, absurd, as a Roosevelt victory is almost certain. A bet of $12,000 to $2,000 was made on the Republicans in Wall Street, and this is a fair ratio of Parker's chance of getting to the White House.

The Associated Press despatches on the war situation were rather alarming this morning, but the stock market did not send out a great deal of war news up to the noon hour, although all eyes, figuratively speaking, were on Gibralter.

It being All Saints' Day, there was no session of the London Stock Exchange.

Around 12.30 the continued weakness in the Wall Street market rather surprised, and even alarmed some people, and when there were no signs of a rally half an hour later, the Street generally felt pretty nervous.

Although the feeling was pretty general that war was hardly a possibility, there were nevertheless some misgivings.

The local market was just about closing when the most alarming rumors were circulated about the Street, and Pacific closed here at 128 1-2, touching 126 1-2 in New York shortly afterwards.

There will be no session of the Montreal Stock Exchange on election day.

The boom in Twin City shares was caused by the report of the brokerage firm which has been looking over the books of the Company.

On the vexed point of franchise duration, the report says: "From our examination we are satisfied that the company enjoys practically an exclusive and perpetualt franchise, a minimum rate of fare being irrevocably fixed at 5 cents in each city for a continuous ride within its limits." The total funded debt to date aggregates $13,902,000, equal to $55,033 per mile of single track, and the total capital liabilities are $132,265 per mile, as follows:

	Amount.	Per mile.
Funded debt	$13,902,000	$55,033
Stock	19,511,000	77,232
Total	$33,413,000	$132,265

This represents an investment of $82.50 per capita of population.

With regard to the item $33,434,649 for property assets the auditors say:—"A considerable percentage of this item is represented by the franchises which the company controls, the property having been completely reconstructed on several occasions at the expenses of capital. First, the original horse car tracks were laid and suitable equipment provided, later a considerable amount of cable construction work was required and subsequently abandoned to permit of an electrical plant being installed with suitable equipment. This reconstruction was effected on what was considered, at the time, the most approved system, but actually, in view of the great developments of recent years, so crude that the whole has since been rebuilt. It may reasonably be assumed that the management used their best judgment in making the various changes, for the process of evolution has resulted in a system which for construction, equipment and management, is not surpassed anywhere."

According to this report, when the present improvements are completed, the power cost will be considerably reduced, and the property the best equipped in the country.

The report concludes by saying:—"The present condition of the company is, therefore, in our opinion, not only excellent from a physical point of view, but also from a financial."

C.P.R. LAND SALES.

The Canadian Pacific Railway land sales for the month of October totalled 25,232 acres for $114,933.

CANADA CAR COMPANY.

It is said that the stocks of the Canada Car Company will be listed in Toronto and Montreal.

CROW'S NEST COAL COMPANY.

The output of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company's mines for the week ending October 28, was 17,931 tons, as compared with 17,896 for the corresponding week last year. The average daily output was 2,988 tons, as compared with 2,983 last year. The Coal Creek and Michel Mines were each closed one day for lack of cars.

NORTH STAR MINE.

The directors of the North Star Mining Company have declared a cash distribution of three cents per share, payable on November 15th, to shareholders of record, November 5th.

NOVEMBER DIVIDENDS.

New York, Nov. 1.—The November dividend declarations already reported by industrial corporations show a large falling off, according to figures compiled by the Journal of Commerce. The total now stands $13,354,377 against $17,166,771 in November of last year. The decrease is accounted for by the passing of common stock dividends by three concerns.

The sales to noon in New York today were 495,000 shares.

JAP BONDS.

Japanese 6 per cent. bonds were quoted in New York to-day at 90.

NORTHERN SECURITIES.

Northern Securities opened in New York to-day at 115¼ and at 12.30 were quoted at 116.

GRANBY CONSOLIDATED.

Granby Consolidated opened in Boston at 3⅝ to 3⅞ and at 12.30 was quoted at 3⅝.

NOON LETTER.

A noon letter to Mr. C. D. Monk said: The market has been quite heavy today following the break of yesterday, some cables from Europe were bad enough to cause some misgivings as to the outcome of Russian-British affair and this, together with the closeness of election, was cause of the break in market. Later the despatches from Europe were of a very ugly character, but no doubt exaggerated. There is no cessation in the amount of sensational reports put out. We have anticipated in a measure this set-back and although prices are not attractive some weak holdings may be reached and in such a case a lower level would be reached.

THE MONEY MARKET.

A wire to Robt. Meredith & Co. said: "The money market will be watched more closely now, particularly on account of the gold shipments, should rates harden, liquidation of longs will be forced and this club may then be used effectively by the bears. On the other hand a return of moneys from West and Southwest, strengthening our reserves here, will have a tendency to keep call money cheap and with the low borrowing rates, bulls can easily maintain their position."

Wheat advanced rather sharply this morning and Chicago has cable reports from other side of unsatisfactory conditions and a break in negotiations and appeared to be considerably excited over the alleged new developments. The absence of quotations for consols to-day makes it difficult to guage the influence in London of the rather conflicting rumors coming to hand.

THE BOSTON MARKET.

Boston, Nov. 1.—The market opened slightly above the closing of yesterday and soon developed considerable strength some stocks rising over a point. Soon after 11-K there was a slump in prices, and the market became generally weak. In the Copers Trinity was very weak losing to 14 1-2. Osceola was strong all the morning. Telephone lost to 143. No trading in Dominion stocks. Chas. Head & Co.

KILLED BY A FALL.

Ludger Moffatt Fell While Working on Factory.

Ludger Moffatt, aged fifty, an employe of the Dominion Bridge Company, while at work yesterday on the new building of the Canada Matting Factory, corner of St. Ambrose and St. Remi streets, fell from a scaffold on the third storey to the second, and was killed almost instantly. His skull was fractured in several places. Deceased lived at 348 Plessis street. He leaves a widow. An inquest will be held in the morgue to-morrow morning.

WATCHMAN INJURED.

Charles Archambault, aged twenty-four, a night watchman on the wharf in the employ of P. Lyall & Son, fell from the concrete mixer on Jacques Cartier pier last night at eight o'clock, sustaining painful bruises. He was conveyed to Notre Dame Hospital, where it was found that none of his hurts were serious.

PEOPLE THAT SNORE

breathe through the mouth instead of the nostrils, which are choked up with Catarrh. By using Catarrhozone before retiring you can cure the snoring habit. Catarrhozone clears the nostrils of all mucus, makes breathing easy and regular. No case too chronic. Catarrhozone cures every time. Try it.

The Earnings of the Big Hill Railroads

In the year ending June 30, 1904, Northern Securities stock earned 8 per cent., surplus and equities.

This figuring is based upon the year's surplus earnings over charges as reported by the three subsidiary companies, allowance being made for the interest on the C.B. & Q. joint 4s and dividends on outstanding Burlington stock. The figures follow:

Northern Pacific surplus	$15,229,311
Great Northern surplus	14,116,520
Burlington surplus	12,814,916
Total for three systems	42,160,747
Less int. on joint 4s and Bur. stk...	8,834,749
Balance for Northern Securities stk.	33,325,998
Earned on $403,250,000 stock	8 p.c.

Another 1 per cent. might be figured on Northern Securities stock by taking into account the sinking fund charges and sinking fund earnings of the Burlington, amounting to $1,400,000, and the excessive charges of the Northern Pacific, which last year probably amounted to $2,500,000.

Each of the three Hill systems is now earning about 11 per cent. on its capital stock. The Burlington earned in 1903-4 11.4 per cent. on $110,859,100 stock, not including sinking fund charges and earnings; the Great Northern earned 11.3 per cent. on $125,000,000 stock; and the Northern Pacific earned 9.8 per cent. on $155,000,000 stock, without reckoning excessive charges of maintenance, which would bring surplus earnings above 11 per cent.

The Fall in Prices of Jap 6 p.c. Bonds

The Japanese 6 per cents., placed in Canada and the States, started on the Wall Street Stock Exchange quoted at 93; the price rose to 95½ after the battle of Liao-Yang. Last week (the semi-annual interest having been paid on Oct. 5) they sold around 89. The same thing has happened to the old Japanese 4 per cents. in London, which sold this week under 73, whereas they commanded 75¾ at the time that the 6 per cents. started on our Stock Exchange.

The common and logical explanation of this weakness has been the failure of Oyama to make conclusive his victories over Kuropatkin, and the probability, frankly recognized in Count Oyama's recent speech, that more heavy borrowing will be necessary.

These discussions, however, have caused in London and New York, a good deal of controversy over the present and prospective value of the outstanding bonds. London critics have called attention to one peculiar fact—namely, that the 6 per cents. of last April enjoy a security which the old 4 per cents. do not, and which subsequent issues will not have.

"Soo" Ry. Stock Has Shown a Big Gain

All securities of Soo Line have recently shown marked strength. The common, a 4 per cent. stock, is selling 6 points above Atchison and nearly 20 points above Rock Island preferred. It sells nearly on a par with Baltimore & Ohio, a standard trunk line.

The great recovery from the low point to record prices is due to some straight buying by interested parties accompanied and assisted by pool operations. The basis is legitimate. The company has come through a bad year with dividends intact, property maintained on a reasonable basis, and earning power unimpaired. The boast of its management that it could maintain itself in bad times has been justified, to a certain extent, within eighteen months of its publication.

Beyond this, the speculation, and possibly some of the buying, is based upon the potential and constructive possibilities of this road. Located in a highly competitive country with solvency absolutely guaranteed by one of the strongest financial powers of the Northwest, there are possibilities in the future of the road that are not surpassed in the case of any other railroad of similar mileage in this country.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO LADIES.—Most ladies are interested in things beautiful, either as a personal ornament, or as an addition to the home comfort. Carsley's, just now, is a perfect wonderland of beauty, both in things to wear and for the adornment of the house. We could take a whole page to tell you about either. Just now special interest is attached to a Sale of Ladies' House Wrappers, at a specially low price. Golf Blouses, that comfort giving garment, are having a popular run at $1.50 each. Then there's Children's Dresses, Ladies' Night Gowns, Fine Furs, Ready-to-Wear Hats, Silks, Dress Goods, all specially priced. Better come and see them.—The S. Carsley Co., Limited.

At the East End Abattoir, 800 cattle, 500 sheep, 500 lambs, 75 calves and 300 hogs were offered. The trade in cattle was fairly active, there being a good demand from butchers' for the best, but common and inferior grades moved slow, consequently at the close quite a few of such were left unsold. This, however, did not seem to have any depressing influence on prices as they ruled fairly steady for all grades. The best beeves sold at 4 1-4 to 4 1-2c, but the bulk of the trade was done at 3 1-2c to 4c for fair to good stock, while common sold at 2 1-2c to 3c, and inferior at 1 1-2c to 2 1-4c per lb. A fairly active trade was done in sheep, and lambs there being a good demand from both local and export buyers, and prices show no change. Export sheep sold at 3 1-2c to 3 3-4c, and butchers' stock at 2 3-4c to 3 1-4c, while lambs brought 3 3-4c to 4 1-4c, per lb. The demand for calves was good at prices ranging from 2c to 5c per lb. The trade in hogs was slow, and the tone of the market was easy with sales of selected lots at $5.25 to $5.37 1-2, and mixed lots, $5 to $5.15 per 100 lb.

Country Produce.

Eggs—Sales of straight gathered stock were made at 21c to 21 1-2c, and good straight cold storage stock at 19c to 19 1-2c per dozen, in a wholesale way The demand for selected eggs in a jobbing way was fair at 24c, and Montreal lined at 20c per dozen.

Beans—In a jobbing way sales of choice primes were made at $1.40 to $1.45, and seconds at $1.30 to $1.35 per bushel.

Maple product—Syrup in 15-gallon casks, 5 1-4c to 5 1-2c per lb., in tins, 55c to 60c per wine measure, and 70c to 75c for imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8c to 10c per lb.

Potatoes—The tone of the market for potatoes remains steady under a fair demand for both car lots and small quantities. Sales of car lots of good to choice stock were made at 55c to 65c per bag, and in a jobbing way at 70c to 75c per bag.

Hops—There was no improvement in the demand for hops. We quote: Choice Canadians, 33c to 35c; and fair to good at 28c to 31c per lb.

Ashes—The market for potash was quiet, but the undertone remains firm. We quote: $5.50 to $5.95; second do., $5.60, and pearls, nominally at $7.50 to $8 per 100 lbs.

Cheese and Butter

Cheese—At the wharf the offerings were 2,000 packages, which sold steady at 9c to 9 1-2c. As an indication of the decreased output it is interesting to note that the same day last year the quantity marketed was 3,500 boxes, which realized over 1c per pound more than the goods sold to-day. The shrinkage this year in offerings, therefore, was over 42 per cent. Finest Ontario colored, 9 1-2c to 9 5-8c; do white, 9 3-8c to 9 1-2c; Townships, 9 1-4c, to 9 3-8c; Quebec, 9 1-8 to 9 1-4c; summer goods, 8 3-4 c.

Butter—The 500 odd pkgs, sold at the wharf realized 19c to 19 1-4c, as to quality for the factorymen. We quote: Townships unsalted creamery, 19 3-4c, do salted, 19 1-4c to 19 1-2c in boxes, and in tubs, 19c to 19 1-2c; under grades, 18 1-2c; dairy butter, 15c to 16c.

Produce Exports

Cheese shipments from Montreal last week amounted to 47,235 boxes. The total for the year follows:

Grain, Flour, Hay

Grain—Trade in oats was quiet, the demand from local buyers being limited, but the tone of the market was steady, with a sale of 5,000 bushels of No. 2 white at 38 3-4c, and 5,000 bushels ex store, and two cars of western inspected No. 3 at 37 1-2c track. No. 2 white oats, at 38 1-2c to 38 3-4c, and No. 3 at 37 1-2c to 37 3-4c, ex store. For export, No. 2 white oats, at 37c to 37 1-2c; No. 2 peas, 75c to 76c; No. 2 barley, at 54 1-2c to 55c; No. 3 extra at 53 1-2c to 54c, and No. 3 at 52 1-2c to 53c, afloat.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.80; strong bakers', $5.50; winter wheat patents, $5.70 to $5.80; straight rollers, $5.40 to $5.50; straight rollers, in bags, $2.50 to $2.65.

Feed—The demand for bran was fairly good for both the local and export account, and there was also a fair enquiry for shorts, which are still somewhat scarce. Manitoba bran, in bags, $17 to $18; shorts, $21 per ton; Ontario bran, in bulk, $17 to $18; shorts $19 to $20; and mouillie, $24 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

Meal—A fair trade was reported in rolled oats, and the tone of the market is steady at $2.30 to $2.32 1-2 per bag, and at $4.90 per barrel.

Hay—The demand for baled hay is good, and the market is fairly active and firm. We quote as follows; No. 1, $8.50 to $9; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; clover, mixed, $6.50 to $7; and pure cloved, $6 to $6.50 per ton, in car lots.

Cattle in Torotno

Toronto, Nov. 1.—(Special.) — To-day's receipts were 120 loads, including 1,900 cattle, 1,000 hogs, 2,700 sheep and lambs and 64 calves. Export cattle, choice, 4 1-4c to 4 3-4c; do., medium 3 3-4c to 4c; do. bulls, 3 1-4c to 3 3-4c; do. cows, 3c to 3 1-2c; butchers cattle, choice, 4c to 4 1-4c; do. medium, 3 1-2c to 3 3-4c; do. common, 3c to 3 1-4c; feeders, short keep, 3 3-4c to 4c; do., medium, 3c to 3 1-2c; stockers, 2 1-2c to 3c; milk cows, each, $30 to $55; export ewes, $3.40 to $3.50; do. bucks, 2 1-2c to 2 3-4c; culls, $2 to $3 each; lambs, 4c to 4 1-2c, steady; calves, $2 to $10 each, or 3 1-2c to 5 1-4c per lb. Steady, trade slow. Hogs, singers, $4.90; fats and lights, $4.65, off cars; export cattle, slow trade. Good butchers' cattle selling well, medium or common bad trade. Milk cows selling well and in demand. There are too many common cattle coming in.

Buffalo Cattle Market

East Buffalo, Nov. 1.—Cattle, receipts 1,150 head; shade easier; prime steers, $5.50 to $6.00; shipping, $5.00 to $5.40; butchers, $3.75 to $4.85; heifers, $2.65 to $4.25; cows, $2.25 to $3.75; bulls, $2.25 to $4.00; stockers and feeders, $2.25 to $3.50.

Veals, receipts, 200 head; steady, $4.50 to $7.75.

Hogs, receipts, 5,100 head; active and steady; heavy, $5.35 to $5.40 a few $5.50 other grades, unchanged.

Sheep and lambs, receipts, 7,000 head, active and steady; native lambs, $4.50 to $5.75; Canada lambs, and other grades, unchanged.

Hogs and Provisions

Hogs—The easy feeling in live hogs continued owing to fairly liberal supplies, and the fact that the demand from packers was not so keen, and prices rule about the same, with sales of selected lots at $5.25 to $5.37 1-2, and mixed lots at $5.15 to $5.25 per 100 lbs. The demand for dressed was fairly good, and sales of fresh-killed, abbattoir dressed, were made at $7 to $7.50, and country dressed at $6.75 to $7 per 100 lbs.

FLOUR PRICES.

The Ogilvie Flour Mills Company quotes the following prices:

Royal Household	$5.80
Glenora patent	5.50
Bran, per ton	19.00
Shorts, per ton	21.00

GRAND OPERA WEEK OPENS WITH ECLAT

Full House Hears the Great Rendition of Opera "Lohengrin"

CHORUS WAS A REVELATION

Mr. Wegener an Artist of First Rank —Stella Mayhew in a New Piece at Academy—Historical French Drama.

The first event of what must now undoubtedly become Montreal's annual English Grand Opera Festival was ushered in last night with all possible eclat, when a superb representation of Wagner's Lohengrin was given at His Majesty's before a magnificent audience.

To those who had followed the recent career of Col. Savage in the field of grand opera (and apparently Montreal knows a great deal more about his achievements than one would have been ready to credit), the audience rather than the performance was the surprise of the evening. His Majesty's was full, with a very well-arrayed and highly-appreciative crowd. It was not a parade of fashion, in the manner of the horse show, for it is part of Col. Savage's scheme to take grand opera out of the hands of fashion and give it to the people. Therefore the decollete gown was not de rigueur, though masculinity in the stalls was exclusively rigged in the expansive shirt-front of evening dress. In spite of the production bein a quarter of an hour earlier than usual this audience arrived in good time, though so suddenly that for five minutes before and five minutes after 8 there was an uncomfortable crush at the one entrance to the body of the house, and the audience behaved itself with more respect for the music than if it had paid $5 a seat and had come to criticize its neighbors' gowns. Also, in spite of the performance lasting until 11.15, not a soul started for home till the curtain fell. It should be remembered that His Majesty's is an enormous house, particularly in the higher-priced sections, and that to fill it as it was filled last night, especially at the very first appearance of the company in Montreal, implies a very widespread interest. It also guarantees an extent of financial support which, as we pointed out some time ago, is the only thing which will save so heavy a production from playing here at a loss, and ensure its return in later seasons.

The performance challenged in every way and in many ways withstood comparison with the productions given here by the Metropolitan management on different occasions. As opera it was almost incomparably superior. As an exhibit of pure vocalism it did not enter into competition. Mr. Wagener is not De Reszke, and Miss Rennyson is not Nordica. Jean De Reszke can stand on the deck of an impossible boat and bring tears to the eyes of a st

SPORTING COMMENT

The only event that will dispel the gloom that hangs heavy over the M. A.A.A. camp, will be a victory of the red and black over the Rough Riders in Ottawa next Saturday. It will not be easy to accomplish this, but still Montreal can do it, if they will play the game as a team and not as individuals. Montreal's weaknesses were pointed out Saturday and the players will be guilty of gross negligence of their duty to the M.A.A.A. and to their friends and supporters if they do not remedy those weaknesses. There is no excuse for an all star team, like the Montreals, playing as wretchedly as they did Saturday—no excuse in the world. The men were physically fit and knew the game. Why they should go to pieces so deplorably remains a mystery. The defects in their style of play were pointed out weeks ago, but were not remedied for some obscure reason and the team was beaten and whitewashed into the bargain.

Four reasons may be advanced for Montreal's defeat, though none of these reasons should exist. Either the team has too many coaches, or it hasn't enough coaches; or the players will not heed the advice of the coaches, or the coaches are not competent. Fourteen players like the Montreals should with good coaching become fit to fight a winning battle against any other team in the Quebec Union. Why shouldn't such players as Macdonald, Craig, P. Molson, Archie Christmas, Jack, Hazlitt, Byrne, Lesser, Dave Rayside, Stuart Rayside, Walter Molson, Eddie O'Brien, Billy Murphy and Vittle, win games for Montreal? A case of "rattles" on the part of one player is not unusual, but when the disease affects half a team at the some time, something is radically wrong.

Montreal went into the game Saturday in a dopey and dazed condition, and did not come out of the trance until a few minutes before the end of the game. For the last three or four minutes, they fought like demons but it was too late to retrieve their laurels or to regain the good opinion of their friends. They had failed in the crucial test and a whirlwind finish could not atone for that failure. Only an hour's strong, consistent play can wipe out the stain of ignominious defeat and the chance to regain their lost prestige will be given the Montreals Saturday, when they play the Rough Riders.

The latter are at their best, and unless Montreals show a wonderful improvement over their form of last Saturday, last year's champions will trounce them. There is fortunately time enough to permit of that improvement being accomplished. The question is, have the Montreals the inclination to improve.

The Canadian Amateur Bowling League made a commendable change in its programme last Saturday night when it broke the league up into two divisions, one in Ottawa, with four clubs and the other in Montreal with four clubs. The old arrangement to have Montreal and Ottawa clubs play home and home games entailed heavy expenses on all the clubs concerned, whereas by the two series the championship will be determined just as fairly as by the old system and the players will be under much less expense.

After the Harvard-Pennsylvania game Saturday, Carl Marshall, a former captain of Harvard, was asked what he thought of Harvard's game. His answer was terse and to the point.

"The playing was rotten. That's all."

The same inelegant description might be applied to Montreals play Saturday.

The Toronto Telegram handed out a stiff jolt to the Ontario Union a few days ago. It said:

"The O.R.F.U. would seem to be a little lax this fall in their attitude toward professionalism and other kindred matters. More than one case of flagrant violation of the regulations of the union have slipped along unchallenged. If there are not enough players to go around to form a senior series without kicking the union's shins, then it would seem to be the more proper course to abolish the senior series."

If the young men who run the O.R.F. U. haven't lost or mislaid the nerve they had a couple of years ago, they'll speak real saucy to the fearless sporting scribe on the Telegram. This writer, by the way is beginning to depart from the time-honored custom of ignoring the faults of Toronto's athletic clubs and organization. He is the first of the Queen City sporting writers to tell the truth about the Burnside game.

Over in Chicago the papers are disinclined to tell the truth about Great Britain and Britishers. Some days ago Bowker, the English bantam champion, was given the decision over Frank Neil, the American champion in a twenty-round go in London.

Here is what the Chicago Record-Herald had to say of the matter:

"Frankie Neil and his father have returned from England and are now in the East. Both are disappointed at the defeat of Frankie, and the little fighter openly asserts that he would not have received the decision unless he had knocked Bowker out. The referee, according to Neil, decided every point in favor of the Englishman."

And here is what Neil himself said in an interview with a New York paper, when he landed in that city Saturday:

"Well, how was the fight, Frank?" was asked of the little fellow after the hand-shaking had been finished.

"Well," replied Frankie, wrinkling up his eyebrows and throwing a smile across his face carelessly, "I have very little to say. I lost on the level, and that's all there is to it. I guess the best thing for me to do now is to go and lick all the boys around here again and then take another try at Bowker."

"Did they treat you well over there?" was asked of Frankie.

"Say," retorted Neil, "they are a great crowd over there, and treated me like a prince. I was dined almost every night before I started to work and they showed me the town in the good old way. They treated me as though I was a real Englishman and I'll never forget them. Betting? Oh, yes. Why, the American sports over there went back about $30,000 on my fight. Johnny Considine, George Weedin, Bob and Bill Pinkerton, and E. Kinsella, all lost on me. I was a 10 to 7 favorite on entering the ring, and in my mind I thought it should have been 10 to 1. Well, I was mistaken, that's all. I hope to have him over here next year, where I can fight in close. The championship will come back here if you'll listen to me."

Gans, the Colored Fighter, is the Lightweight Champion of World

Britt Lost in Fifth Round Through Fouling His Opponent.

San Francisco, Nov. 1.—Jimmy Britt, of California, lost the lightweight championship of the world last night, when he fouled Joe Gans, of Baltimore, in the fifth round. He had sent Gans to his knees in the fifth round, and then, losing his head, gave him a vicious punch, and Referee Graney promptly awarded the decision to Gans on a foul. The same thing had happened in the fourth round. Gans had dropped to his knees to escape a blow that did not land. Britt struck at him, but Graney would not allow the foul. In the next round, however, Graney very promptly recognized the foul fighting. It looked almost from the start as if it were Britt's fight He actually outboxed Gans and landed blow after blow. In the fourth round it was apparent that Gans was scared and barring a foul the fight was Britt's to a certainty. While no excuse can be made for Britt losing his head, it certainly seemed that Gans invited a foul. The decision was a great shock to the biggest crowd that ever filled the pavilion, but fair-minded men agreed that Graney's judgment was just.

Britt showed marvellous strength and quickness. He went at Gans like a bull terrier, landing body blows, alternating with swings on the jaw. During the first three rounds Gans appeared cool and confident and fairly strong. He appeared to be feeling Britt out, but at the end of the third and the beginning of the fourth, when Britt commenced to fight more viciously, Gans weakened perceptibly. He landed a few times on Britt, but the little white boy paid no attention to his light taps, and every time he was hit bored in more viciously than ever. There is no doubt in the minds of the majority of those present that in another contest at the same weights, Britt would defeat Gans easily.

GRANEY'S EXPLANATION.

Referee Graney said after the fight: "I really should have given Gans the decision in the fourth round, when Britt fouled him, but as Gans was not hurt I overlooked it, though Britt himself admitted that I could have called a foul at that time. The second offence in the fifth round was so palpable, however, that I was forced to give Gans the decision."

Britt was frantic with rage when he realized that he had lost the fight, and he rushed at Graney, striking wildly. Graney, who is something of a boxer himself, fought back, but the police interfered and separated the belligerents. Britt declared as he left the ring: "I know that I can beat Gans, and I want to fight him again."

The fight demonstrated that Britt is a wonder in his class. He is a clever boxer, quick as a cat, and a hard hitter, with the addition of having a bulldog grit that makes him fight all the harder when he is being punished. Gans and his followers were highly delighted at the decision.

After the fight, when Britt had recovered his temper, he apologized to Graney, and said: "What could I do when a man fell every time unnecessarily? I am sorry I hit him while on his knees, but I could not help it."

The fifth round lasted but thirty-eight seconds when the foul was declared.

The fight carried with it the title of world's champion of all lightweights. The men entered the ring at the specified notch of 133 pounds.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

Round 1.—Britt went at once into his favorite crouching position and they sparred for a time. Britt shot his left twice in quick succession to Gans' body, but they were not forcible. After more sparring, Britt hooked left to the body again and followed it with right to the head. Both then missed rights and lefts for the head. Britt shot his left to the body and missed a right for the head. Gans apparently sizing up Britt's reach. Gans missed a straight right for the head. Britt was short with left for the body and missed a left for the head, as the bell rang. The work in the round was light, Britt having a slight advantage. Gans permitted Britt to do most of the work. Britt's blows were of a light nature and did no harm.

Round 2.—Britt missed left and right for the body and they went to a clinch. Britt suddenly lunged his left to the head and then brought it to the body. Gans continued to force Britt about the ring and they came to a clinch without result. Britt missed a left hook for the body and sent a straight left to Gans' nose, Gans retaliating with left to the body. Britt drove Gans back with a left swing to the body. Britt bored in, scoring with left and right to the wind. In the mix-up both exchanged rights and lefts to the face. Britt missed a vicious left for the body. They came together again, Britt missing right for the body. A rally in the centre of the ring followed, Britt landing right and left on the face as the bell rang, but not before he had received a straight left to the head. Britt did most of the leading in this round. The honors were about even, however.

Round 3.—They mixed it fiercely at close quarters, both doing some clever boxing. Gans got in a good right to the body, but Britt retaliated with straight left hard to the stomach. They mixed it again, Britt putting left and right to body. An ineffecual mix followed. Britt caught Gans with a terrific right to the jaw, dazing the colored man. He followed the advantage with a right left swing to the head, forcing Gans to a clinch. Britt rushed in, fighting wildly. He bombarded Gans' face and body with right and left swings, and put some punishing rights over the heart. Britt at close quarters distressed Gans with a fearful right on the body. Gans clung desperately to Britt to avoid punishment, and the gong found them in this position. It was all Britt's round.

Round 4.—Britt waded in fiercely, rushing Gans to the ropes with a heavy left over the heart. He then missed right and left swings for the body. Britt kept himself well covered and was a puzzle to Gans. Britt sent Gans back with a succession of rights and lefts to the face and a left to the body. Jimmy then shot a straight right to the body and followed it with a right swing to the body. At close quarters Britt landed some heavy blows Gans suddenly shot his left hard to Britt's jaw, but he in return put in body blows that sent Gans to his knees. After a mix-up Britt sent Gans to the floor with a left to the jaw. Gans rose but was again floored with right and lefts to the face. There was fearful confusion, and the bell was not heard. In this round Britt hit Gans accidentally, while Gans was down, but a claim of foul was disallowed. Gans was in distress and the gong saved him.

Round 5.—They mixed fiercely. Britt went after Gans like a whirlwind. Britt sent Gans to the floor with a succession of rights and lefts to the jaw. As Gans was attempting to rise, Britt met him with a desperate right to the jaw. Eddie Graney quickly disqualified Britt and awarded the decision to Gans. The excitement was terrific. Britt rushed at Graney like a mad man and fought him to the ropes. A squad of police immediately jumped into the ring, and it looked as if there would be a general fight. The house gave vent to its disapproval by tremendous hooting and wildly cheered Britt as he went to the centre of the ring.

STRIKE CHALLENGED.

Billy Armstrong is anxious to arrange a boxing exhibition with Jimmy Strike for a limited number of rounds. He would like to hear from Strike on the subject.

AIRSHIP MADE SUCCESSFUL TRIP

Utility of Aerial Machine Demonstrated at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 1.—After circling in every direction at a height of 3,000 feet above the cascades, in sight of thousands of cheering enthusiastic spectators on the World's Fair grounds, A. Roy Knabenshue, of Toledo, in command of Thomas S. Baldwin's airship, California Arrow, yesterday returned to the place from which he started, covering three and a half miles, part way against an eight-mile wind.

Knabenshue started from the Aeronautic Consource at 3.37 p.m. and returned at 4.05 p.m. On the return trip the airship sailed slowly over the exact spot from which it had risen twenty-eight minutes previously, and glided about one hundred feet further west, where it settled gracefully to the ground.

The descent of the Arrow was the signal for a great demonstration. Dozens of eager hands were upstretched to grasp the frame of the flying machine, which, with its navigator, was carried around the concourse on the shoulders of shouting men.

The Arrow rose slowly and easily, its prow directed toward the West. When at a height of twenty-five feet, Knabenshue turned the rudder, and the aerial craft, answering to its helm, pointed south and continued its flight without interruption.

Knabenshue at that time was not high enough to clear the aeronautic fence, and as he rapidly approached it, the crowd held its breath, fearing that the craft would be dashed against the barricade. But Knabenshue moved toward the rear of the airship. The Arrow pointed its prow upward, and, answering the pull of the propeller, soared lightly over the fence and rapidly gained an altitude of 1,000 feet.

Knabenshue again changed the direction of the craft, and passed over the crowd in the course. The "Chug, chug, chug" of the motor could be plainly heard and the rays of the sun glistened on the polished blades of the propeller. After proceeding about half a mile westward, Knabenshue turned the airship about and again passed over the concourse, increasing his altitude until he was 2,000 feet above the earth. Sailing first to the northeast and then to the southeast, occasionally making complete turns, Knabenshue continued in a generally easterly direction until over the cascades, the centre of the World's Fair grounds, and about a mile and a half in a direct line from the point of starting.

At about that time the barely perceptible breeze that had been blowing from the west, increased to about eight miles an hour, and veered to the north.

In order to return to the starting point it was necessary for Knabenshue to breast this breeze. It seemed that his first effort to turn the airship from a course before the wind was unsuccessful, but Knabenshue, after trying to turn to the left, swung the rudder sharply in the other direction, and the Arrow came into the wind, staggered a moment, and then, gaining power, sped toward the concourse. Without deviation the airship continued on in the teeth of the breeze. When within a few hundred feet of the concourse Knabenshue moved forward in the car, the Arrow pointed downward, and sailed toward the ground without any slackening of speed.

HAD COMPLETE CONTROL.

"There was not a moment," said Knabenshue, "when I did not have complete control of the airship. It needed but the slightest pressure on the helm to change the direction of the vessel, and the Arrow responded to every demand that I made on it.

"I also profited by the lesson I learned on the first flight, and when I found that the motor was working smoothly and even, furnishing all the power necessary for a successful demonstration, I left well enough alone, and did not attempt to increase the speed of the motor for that was what caused the motor to break on my trial last Tuesday.

"The mechanical part of the airship worked perfectly. The gasoline motor did not miss an ignition, the revolutions of the propeller were steady and powerful. I am not sufficiently experienced to estimate the speed at which I moved, and I was too busy most of the time to make any calculations.

"The sensation was most pleasant. I did not have time to think about danger. In fact, there was no real danger. An operator of the Baldwin Arrow needs only to have an average amount of nerve, a little experience as an aeronaut, and he can make a successful flight."

Captain Baldwin was extremely optimistic regarding the future of his airship.

For Races to be Held Next Year Lipton Must Challenge Before Dec. 1

New York, November 1.—If Sir Thomas Lipton intends to try again next year to lift the America's Cup the challenge will have to get here before Dec. 1. A challenge received by Dec. 1, would call for a series of races beginning on October 1, 1905. If the challenge is received by December it can be referred to the members of the New York Yacht Club at the sixth general meeting, which will be held on Thursday, Dec. 15, but it is probable that a special meeting of the club would be called to act on the challenge.

Designer George L. Watson, according to advices from the other side, is ill, and in spite of the pressure that has been brought to bear to induce him to design the challenger he has so far declined on account of his health.

Sir Thomas Lipton intends to visit this country in November, and it is thought that he will bring with him some members of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club who will have power from the club to arrange the terms of the next match.

It is not at all unlikely that they will ask for a race under the new rule of measurement of the New York Yacht Club, and in the event of the N. Y.Y.C. declining to accept a challenge under the present rule the committee will agree to sail another race under the old rule. Sir Thomas has not matured all his plans just yet, but yachtsmen expect to hear from him very soon now.

BOWLING

QUEBEC BOWLERS' AMBITION.

Quebec, Nov. 1.—Quebec may be admitted to membership in the Canadian Bowling League and a team entered in the senior series. Negotiations have been going on for some time past and prospects are exceedingly bright for the locals.

The Canadian league is composed of first class teams in Montreal and Ottawa, such as M.A.A.A., Victoria Rifles, O.A.A.C., 43rd Rifles, etc.

Should Quebec enter, it is likely the different clubs in the city would amalgamate in this connection and a team selected from the many good bowlers in the different clubs.

The only condition under which the Quebec would be admitted to the League would be that they should form a series in their own city. The winner to play off in Montreal with the winners of the Ottawa and Montreal series.

SPORTING NOTES

The annual meeting of the McGill Hockey and Skating Club will be held to-night at 7.45, Arts' building. S. Dale Harris is the secretary.

Members of the Shamrock Intermediate Football Club will meet at Rooney's this evening at eight o'clock for a run over the mountain. A full attendance is desired.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 1.—J. R. Keogh, of Buffalo, last night, defeated Thomas Hueston, of St. Louis, 125 to 120 in the first game of the play off of the three-cornered tie for first place in the tournament to decide the pool championship of the world.

Gossip of the Gridiron

According to the Ottawa papers, the Westmounts by their clever, scientific playing against the Rough Riders made a great hit in the Capital Saturday. They had a smoothly working system, which was as effective as might be expected against the superior weight of the big Rough Rider athletes, and were beaten more by weight than through any other cause. They were unfortunate in that they were shy five of their best men, Bert Brown, Tofield, J. Brown, O. Sutherland and G. McHattie. The absence of these players materially lessened Westmount's chances of keeping the score down. However, the quintette will be in the line-up against Ottawa College next Saturday. The Westmounts are going to make a determined effort to win this game, for two reasons—first, because they do not want to go through the season with an unbroken string of defeats, and second, because they want to help Montreal win the championship.

The Westmounts will have a balance of from $1,200 to $1,500 on the right side of the ledger when the season closes, and this amount will be devoted, as were the proceeds of the recent bazaar, to paying off the debt on the W. A. A. A.'s new athletic grounds. If the Westmounts have any kind of luck in their hockey season, they will soon make that debt look like thirty cents.

The expenses of the Westmounts have been reduced to a minimum by careful management, and the association's success has made the members ponder over the possibilities of the future. It is the Westmounts' ambition to have the best grounds, best rink and best athletic teams in Montreal, and they are taking the proper means to accomplish the desired end.

* * *

The trouble is that the people of Montreal do not yet appreciate the pretty football that Westmounts are playing. The Westmounts have lost five games, it is true, but they have been pitted against older, heavier and stronger teams, and if they have not won, they have demonstrated that they know the game thoroughly, and that they can play it cleverly enough to satisfy the most fastidious critic.

Lesser, one of Montreal's Husky Scrimmagers.

The last senior scheduled Q. R. F. U. match of the season will be played at the M. A. A. A. grounds Saturday, the contesting teams being College and Westmounts. A win by Westmounts will give Montreal a look-in for the championship.

The other game in the Q. R. F. U. will be that between Montreal and Rough Riders in Ottawa. The Riders are out to help College land the championship, and, judging from the form they displayed Saturday in their game with Westmounts, they will take a lot of beating. Should they defeat Montreal, and should College defeat Westmounts, the championship will go to King Clancy's proteges. If Montreal should win, and if Westmount should win, the championship will go to Montreal. If Montreal should win, and College win, the two teams will be tied, and a play-off for the championship will be necessary.

Ottawa College and Rough Riders are to battle for the championship of Ottawa. Why shouldn't Montreal and Westmount play o post-season game for the championship of Montreal? Montreal defeated Westmounts in a fluky manner the first time they met this season, and in the second game won because they were able to use their weight and strength effectively on wet grounds. The Westmounts think that on a dry field they can just about beat Montreal. Certainly the game would be interesting, and the attendance would be large.

The Westmounts and College are going to play on the M.A.A.A. grounds Saturday, because of the miserable state of the gridiron at Baseball Park. The M.A.A.A. is generously placing its grounds at the disposal of the Westmounts for a nominal rental.

The Rough Riders will lose $1,000 on their season unless their gates at the Montreal and city championship games are larger than they at present expect. The club has been under heavy travelling and running expenses, and has had unsatisfactory gates. At Saturday's match barely a handful of spectators was present.

The people of Ottawa are very particular in their tastes. Unless a team is due to win a championship it gets but slender support, and when it does win a championship its support is just as slender. The College have always their hundreds of student admirers to back the team financially, but the City has only a few such noble Romans as J. A. Seybold, R. T. Shillington, Chief Powell, Fred Carling, Paddy Baskerville and Sandy Cameron to look to for backing.

In Saturday's games in Ottawa Smaill and Ross dazed the Rough Riders by working a criss-cross pass, which enabled them to carry the ball from behind their goal line to the quarter mark. The spectators gave the pair a hearty cheer for their brainy performance.

* * *

R. Turner, centre scrimmager for the intermediate Westmounts, played full back for the seniors Saturday, and acquitted himself creditably.

So hospitable were the Ottawa College boys when the Westmounts went to the Capital, that the Recruits are arranging a little entertainment for their benefit Saturday night.

Three auburn-haired boys, Macdonald, of Montreal, Baillie of Westmounts and Joe Rankin, of the Rough Riders, have been playing star games this season. The clubs should dig up some more warm-crested youths. They all seem to make good.

Filion, of Ottawa College, is one of the cleanest players in the Quebec Union. He never grouches, never behaves nastily and is always playing the game. In Saturday's game he along with Nagle and Filiatreault, was very conspicuous.

* * *

Another exceptionally clean player is Walter Molson. He is on the gridiron to play football and not to injure opponents and his efforts are more effective than those of players inclined to be dirty.

The College are duplicating Rough Riders' feat of last year and are also marking Montreal for their victims. The question is, can Montreal repeat its achievement of last season and beat the Rough Riders in Ottawa?

The western papers admit that there is only one senior team in the Ontario Union—the Hamilton Tigers. Speculation is rife as to whether the Tigers dare leave the mountain fastnesses and make a try for the Dominion championship. They are quite as heavy a team as College or Montreal and most of them have played under the former Ontario rules, which permitted and fostered more close playing than the present Quebec rules allow. The Tigers would have nothing to lose and everything to gain by playing off with the Quebec champions. They would go into the game admittedly handicapped and if they lost no disgrace would be attached to them, whereas if they won, their glory would be like unto that of the Monday Sun.

McAllen's bright locks were missed in Saturday's game. So were his wild, western whoops and his impromptu war dances. McAllen has all the sand and ginger of a real football player and has put up strong games all season. Lack of weight was responsible for his absence from the Montreal line-up Saturday but weight does not make a player.

Percy Molson is said to be overtrained and Saturday he looked as if he were a little off the edge. But if he is overtrained so is pretty nearly the whole Montreal team.

The Montreal team should get out to practice a couple of afternoons this week. This business of practicing at night does not seem to be much good. It most certainly does not result in players learning to handle punts.

The College team has been practising in the early afternoons ever since the season opened and that fact explains the sureness of their men in catching punts. They practice under the same conditions as exist when they play matches. The Montreals practice by night and play by day. To show just what they are capable of doing under conditions to which they are accustomed, they should arrange for a practice match with the Westmounts for Thursday night.

Unless McGill falls down miserably, it should triumph over Varsity in the latter's game here and should at least tie with Queen's for the championship. Varsity has been beaten in both its home games and is expected to meet a like fate in Kingston and in Montreal. The champions of last year however, will have Harold Beattie on their half-back division for their remaining games and he is counted on to defeat Queen's and McGill.

Just keep your eye on the Shamrocks. They are not saying much nor are they getting much advertising but they are making big strides towards the goal of their ambitions—the intermediate championship. They have only suffered one defeat this season and that by the narrow margin of one point and the decisive manner in which they trimmed the Montreal intermediates, stamped them as the coming champions.

The boys from the extreme east drop into Quebec football so smoothly as not to cause a ripple of excitement but they hand out the goods in a surprising way when they do get into the swim. Donahue, the McGill athletic champion, and McLean, both P. E. I. boys, are playing fast football on the Shamrocks' half-back line and Sammy Doyle, the bicycle champion of the Island, is one of the stars of the Ottawa College intermediate team.

It wouldn't be surprising to see the Shamrocks break into the senior Q.R. F.U. series when the first opening presents itself. Their team will show senior form in the course of another year or two and they would, of course, have lots of backing.

Upper Canada beat Trinity College School Saturday by 74 to 0, setting a new record in the Junior Intercollegiate Union.

The three senior football teams representing Toronto, 'Varsity, Victorias and Torontos, all lost Saturday.

Billy Christmas may play for Montreal Saturday, against Rough Riders.

The Grand Trunk Football Club juniors, would like to arrange a match with the Westmount boys under thirteen years of age. For particulars apply to H. Campbell, 58 Charron Street, Point St. Charles.

ARE OTTAWANS POOR SPORTSMEN?

The Ottawa Journal rubs it into the citizens of Ottawa good and hard in the following article:

"But what a gathering of sports were present to see the game. One had only to look at the grand stand to get an estimation of the high sporting qualities of the Ottawa people. Not in Canada at least is there another city that boasts so greatly of its sporting proclivities, yet when it comes to paying fifty cents for a seat to see a good game of football when or where are they who talk the loudest and are willing to wager all they possess on a dead sure thing? Because Saturday's match was not one on which the championship depended the grand stands held a bare corporal's guard. Surely the Ottawa team deserves more from the supporters than that? How many are there in the city who claim to be supporters of the Ottawas, who have gone about with chest swelled out in days gone by and told of the prowess of the Ottawa team? Where were they on Saturday? The attendance at the game was a disgrace to the city of Ottawa and those who were absent should be ashamed to admit that they are supporters of the Ottawas and interested in the game of football. What cheap sports Ottawa has! Wind costs nothing, so for six days in the week they blow it out of them, but on the seventh they duck around the corner, hold both hands on the half dollar they possess for fear it may get away from them, and help to meet the expenses of their favorite team. What glorious supporters they are! How a team should be thankful for such magnificent followers! But unfortunately a team with supporters of this nature are far from thankful, in fact they are nothing but ingrates. Really one would think that they expected the people of Ottawa to attend their matches when the matches did not count in the championship. Of course they are foolish;

Arthur Moore, who has been playing a fine game on Rough Riders' Wing line.

the thought is nothing more or less than sheer idiocy for Ottawans think too highly of half a dollar to spend it on a team which is out of the race for the championship, even though that team is the one they professedly support. It is different in other cities, but in Toronto and Montreal they have the proper spirit, but here the confession must be they are cheap sports."

Shearer made a fine run Saturday when he scored Westmount's touch-down. Just think! he gave the wonderful Lafleur the go-bye.

Westmount will try hard to down College on Saturday. The boys are practising hard and a good, clean game may be looked forward to.

The Westmount-College game will be played on the M.A.A.A. grounds.

Art. Ross was able to boot the ball about twenty yards further than any Rough Rider last Saturday.

The Westmounts had a snappy practice this morning.

The Montreals will practice to-night. Every player is requested to be on hand.

The Ottawa papers are in ecstacies over Colleges showing here Saturday. They give the scrimmage the greater part of the credit for the victory.

Jimmy Murphy handled the ball but half a dozen times in Saturday's Montreal-College game.

SEEING'S BELIEVING

Customers are super-critical in buying Semi-ready!

The custom tailor's high price impresses them to such a degree they are skeptical of Semi-ready because its prices are on a business basis.

Hence they first of all examine the workmanship and fabric, then when the suit's tried on they are particularly careful to obtain a perfect fit.

You can forejudge every effect of fabric, style and suitability for your personality in a Semi-ready suit.

You can assure yourself positively of your utmost satisfaction before you pay a penny.

PUNTING MAKES A GAME SPECTACULAR

Frank Butterworth Urges That More Attention be Paid This Department

This season promises to see a continuance of the tendency toward the open game. It could be looked forward to as a certainty if we were sure of as powerful and as good kickers as were produced last year. It is frequently the existence of a single factor, such as a good punter, that makes an open game the choice. Both De-Witt of Princeton and Mitchell of Yale, have played their last game for their respective universities, unless indeed the latter should return to Yale, which at this writing is not expected. The kicking of these men was an important element in each of the games in which they took part; and if men of equal ability can be developed at Harvard, Yale and Princeton we will be sure of a kicking and an open game. Punting introduces the greatest chance and uncertainty and changes the aspect of affairs so quickly that a frequent resort to it keeps both players and spectators on tiptoes.

A picture of the future, which haunts the football mind, is that of two teams playing a kicking game on the field in the Harvard stadium. In that great amphitheatre, which is hoped Yale and Princeton will duplicate, from every one of those 35,000 or 40,000 seats, it is possible to see the individual plays, it would be about perfect to see famous ends, and great backs struggling for supremacy, with every rush through the centre and dash through tackle, and each end run and clean tackle visible.—Extract from an article by Frank Butterworth in November Outing.

THE WANDERERS' POSITION.

Sporting Editor Herald:

Sir,—Referring to the article which appeared in the Star of last evening in regard to the "Wanderers" making application to the C. A. H. L., we wish to deny the same.

We may say the "Wanderers" were approached, but nothing was done, and that no proposition would be considered in any shape or form unless made to the F. A. H. L. as a body.

We may also say that the meeting last night was called to discuss a proposition with the Victoria Rink, and we are pleased to say that final arrangements have been made whereby the "Wanderers" will play there during the coming season.

Yours truly,
JAMES STRACHAN,
President W.H.C.
THOS G. HODGE,
Secretary W.H.C.

TOWNS AND STANBURY MATCHED

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Nov. 1.—The Sydney Referee, commenting on the probability of a match between Towns and Stanbury, says: "While Towns defeated Gaudaur, still Gaudaur beat Stanbury, but that was largely in the nature of a fluke. Had Gaudaur been there when Stanbury rowed Harding, the chances are it would have been very different." The Towns and Stanbury race will probably take place next Easter.

COUNTY OF VAUDREUIL.

Independent's Forecast of Elections Gives the Liberals a Good Majority

The Toronto News, Independent, gives the following forecast of how the vote will go in each county. It gives the Liberals a good majority, in fact, allowing the twenty-nine doubtful seats to be called Conservative the Government has still a majority of twenty-six.

The News estimate follows:

	Lib.	Con.	Doubtful.
Ontario	39	35	12
Quebec	47	5	13
Nova Scotia	5	4	1
New Brunswick	5	7	1
Manitoba	3	5	2
British Columbia	5	2	0
Prince Ed. Island	2	2	0
N. W. Territories	5	5	0
The Yukon	1	0	0
	120	65	29

Of the doubtful seats in Ontario, Algoma West may go Conservative; Brantford, Liberal; Bruce, South, Liberal; Durham, Conservative; Essex, South, Liberal; Hamilton, West, Conservative; Kent, West, to either party; Lambton, West, Liberal; Middlesex, North, to the Independent Liberal; Toronto, North, to either party; Toronto, South, to either party; Wentworth, Liberal.

In Quebec the doubtful seats with their leanings are: Beauharnois, Liberal; Chambly, Liberal; Charlevoix, Liberal; Hochelaga, Liberal; Huntingdon, Conservative; Laval, Conservative; L'Islet, Liberal; Montmorency, Liberal; Montreal, St. Antoine, Conservative; Montreal, St. Lawrence, Liberal; Pontiac, Conservative; Stanstead, Conservative.

In Inverness, N.S., the Independent candidate may win the seat.

In New Brunswick the Conservatives may win the seat back.

In Manitoba Dauphin will go to the Government of the day, while in Winnipeg it is touch and go, with the present chances favoring the Liberal.

ONTARIO.

Algoma, East—Liberal, A. E. Dyment; Conservative, B. H. Turner. Liberal by a good majority.

Algoma, West—Liberal, J. J. Kehoe; Conservative, A. C. Boyce. Result is in doubt, but indications favor return of Conservative.

Brant—Liberal, Hon. W. Paterson; Conservative, A. G. Ludlow. Sure Liberal by a large majority.

Brantford—Liberal, C. B. Heyd; Conservative, F. W. Cockshutt. In doubt, but Liberal likely to win by small majority if townships are true to Liberal traditions. City may give Conservative a majority.

Brockville—Liberal, D. Derbyshire; Conservative, J. Culbert. Likely to go Liberal by between 100 and 150.

Bruce, North—Liberal, J. E. Campbell; Conservative, L. L. Bland. Sure Liberal by a good majority.

NO SUBSTITUTE

has yet been found for cod liver oil. There are so-called extracts, wines and cordials of cod liver oil that are said to contain the active principles but not the oil itself. This is absurd on its face. You might as well extract the active principles of wheat and make bread with them. The best form of cod liver oil, that can be digested and assimilated most easily, is Scott's Emulsion.

He indulged much too freely in pie and plum cake,
And during the night how his "tummy" did ache,
They ran for the doctor, who knowing the fault,
Without hesitation prescribed "Abbey's Salt."

Mothers, who want their children to grow into sturdy men and women instead of pale, sallow dyspeptics, should see that the youngsters take a morning glass of ABBEY'S SALT. Children eat irregularly—indiscreetly. ABBEY'S SALT strengthens the stomach—regulates the bowels—so that "pain-killer" and "oil" are never needed. So pleasant to take, that mothers have no trouble in teaching the children to use it.

CAMPAIGN IN THE CITY

A LIBERAL "CONVERT" DENIES THE CHARGE

There are few, if any, Liberals, converted to the cause of Mr. Marechal in St. Mary's Division, despite the efforts of the Opposition to convey the impression that such is the case. Last night at a meeting held in the hall of Meilleur School, Fullum Street, in favor of Mr. Camille Piche, Liberal candidate for St. Mary's, a letter dated Oct. 31st, was read from one of the gentlemen thus "converted" by the Gazette, indignantly denying the truth of the report.

In the English morning paper yesterday, appeared the story of the "conversion" of Mr. P. R. Perron, an influential citizen of St. Mary's, and a strong Liberal. The report was not published in the French papers. Mr. Perron wrote yesterday a decided repudiation and this was read last night by Mr. Piche, before an enthusiastic audience of electors.

Mr. Perron's letter was as follows:

"To the Editor of the Gazette:

Dear Sir—Your issue of this morning contains some curious statements under the heading 'St. Mary's Division Pointers.' Your political information must come from strange sources if it is no more accurate on other points than regarding myself.

You state that I declared myself in favor of Mr. Marechal's candidature. This statement is false and injurious, and I demand that you retract it in your next issue, and if you do not I shall take steps to protect myself from what I consider an unjustifiable defamation. I am now, and have always been, a straight Liberal. I signed Mr. Piche's nomination papers, and I am working for him, as are all the Liberals of the riding, as well as a great many Conservatives whom I personally know. If Mr. Marechal wants to be taken seriously he has so far adopted very strange methods, and this we shall be able to prove.

Yours, etc.,

(Signed) P. R. PERRON.

The reading of this letter evoked a storm of applause from the assembly.

Despite the fact that Meilleur School has a large and roomy hall, there was, last night, not even standing room. Mr. C. Dubois presided, and addresses were delivered by Messrs. Piche, Godfrey Langlois, J. Archambault, Jos. Poissant, A. G. Dupre, J. A. Drouin and J. A. Lacombe, M.P.P.

Mr. Piche was received with great enthusiasm by the electors. He dealt with the great issues of the campaign, comparing the Government's railway and fiscal policies with those of the Opposition, and proving that the prosperity of the people was the natural result of the Liberal policy. The workingman's prosperity, he pointed out, could not be judged entirely by the amount he had in the savings bank as when he had saved a sufficient amount, he invested it in real estate.

A notable address was also delivered by Mr. Godfrey Langlois in support of Mr. Piche and the Liberal Government. The meeting continued until almost midnight.

MR. CARDINAL'S POLICY.

A large meeting was held last night in the Bonsecours Market Hall in the interests of Mr. J. T. Cardinal, Conservative candidate in St. James division. Mr. Cardinal was unable to be present owing to illness. His cause, however, was championed by Mr. F. D. Monk, Mr. Louis Loranger, Mr. Arthur Laramee, Mr. F. Bisaillon, Mr. D. Parizeau and others.

Mr. Loranger outlined Mr. Cardinal's policy as protection, repudiation of the makes them a common sense cure for all forms of catarrhal troubles.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full sized packages.

Grand Trunk Pacific, and mutual preference. He accused the Liberals of using dishonorable tactics in spreading an alleged false report of Mr. Cardinal's death.

Mr. F. D. Monk made, as usual, a vigorous onslaught on the Liberal policy. He referred to the Grand Trunk Pacific as destined to run 300 miles north of Montreal, and to carry the products of the Great West to a foreign port. Mr. Monk also dealt with the fiscal question, discussing the matter from a strongly protectionist standpoint. He was succeeded by Mr. F. Bissaillon, who directed his efforts to poniting out the weaknesses of the Liberal Ministry. Ald. Levy presided at the assembly.

IT IS IMPORTANT

To Know What You Are Taking When Using Catarrh Medicines.

Catarrh is the short route to consumption, and the importance of early and judicious treatment of catarrh, whether located in the head, throat or bronchial tubes, cannot be too strongly emphasized.

The list of catarrh cures is as long as the moral law and the forms in which they are administered, numerous and confusing, from sprays, inhalers, washes, ointments, and salves to powders, liquids and tablets.

The tablet form is undoubtedly the most convenient and most effective, but with nearly all advertised catarrh remedies it is almost entirely a matter of guess work as to what you are taking into your system, as the proprietors, while making all sorts of claims as to what their medicines will do, always keep it a close secret as to what they are.

The success and popularity of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is largely because it not only cures catarrh but because catarrh sufferers who used these tables know what they are taking into their systems. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets being composed of Red Gum, Blood Root and similar valuable and antiseptic ingredients, and are pleasant to the taste and being dissolved in the mouth they take immediate effect upon the mucous lining of the throat, nasal passages and whole respiratory tract.

The cures that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have accomplished in old chronic cases of catarrh are little short of remarkable, and the advantage of knowing what you are putting into your stomach is of paramount importance when it is remembered that the cocaine or morphine habit has been frequently contracted as the result of using secret catarrh remedies.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets meet with cordial approval from physicians, because their antiseptic character render them perfectly safe for the general public to use and their composition

ALD. VALLIERES DESIRES TO BE LABOR CHAMPION

Ald. Vallieres held a well attended meeting at Desery Street School last night. The speakers, as at most of Mr. Vallieres' meetings, made a dead set at Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, whom they accused of having betrayed the interests of labor. The exact way in which the Minister had done this was not specified, but the speakers all agreed that Mr. Prefontaine must have slighted labor.

Ald. Vallieres declared his pleasure that some Liberals were present at the meeting. As a workingman, he thought it high time the working classes should be represented in Parliament, and hoped to be that representative. Speaking of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's recent visit to the Montreal cotton factories, Ald. Vallieres expressed the opinion that Mr. Prefontaine had prepared the Premier to do this merely to deceive people into the hope that the Liberal Government would institute reforms in the future. Mr. Vallieres declared himself a straight believer in "adequate protection," which he hoped would yet prove the salvation of Canada. The rest of Mr. Vallieres' speech was devoted to accusations that Hon. Mr. Perfontaine was not the workman's friend, and had neglected public works for his riding.

Mr. E. C. St. Amour and Mr. J. Boutin both spoke along the same lines.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

Hon. L. P. Brodeur is conducting an energetic and successful campaign in Rouville, where the Conservatives are making the most desperate efforts to capture the riding, with at least the result of forcing an unusually lively contest upon it.

The campaign has largely taken the form of joint meetings, at which Messrs. Brodeur and Nadeau and their supporters speak alternately. These meetings have been very largely attended throughout the riding, and it is not exaggeration to say that the Minister of Inland Revenue has everywhere met with receptions that should prove auguries of abundant success on Thursday.

On Monday joint meetings were held at Village Richelieu and St. Mathias; this afternoon another will be held at St. Hilaire, and the final broadside in the battle will be fired at St. Jean Baptiste to-morrow. At all of these meetings the Liberal cause will be represented by Hon. L. P. Brodeur and Alfred Girard, M.P.P. for Rouville, while Mr. A. Nadeau will be supported by Mr. Lussier.

The hold that Mr. Brodeur has won on the riding is well evinced by his record, winning by 69 in 1891, by 970 in 1896, and 1,085 in 1900, and being returned by acclamation after his appointment to the Cabinet.

SHERBROOKE LIBERALS.

Sherbrooke, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The Conservatives of Sherbrooke County are showing signs of weakness, and are beginning to realize that the walk-over they predicted for Dr. Worthington is developing into one of the keenest fights in the province. Had they always fought fairly there would be nothing to complain of, but they have resorted to issuing statements in connection with the Liberal candidate's remarks that are characterized by responsible and prominent electors as malicious in the extreme. One of these statements is to the effect that Mr. Knight at a meeting of the electors at Cherry River, on being questioned, said that the Laurier Government was prepared to give free trade; he is further credited with saying as to the result of this on the Magog and Sherbrooke mills, that "the factories would have to close their doors, and many industries would have to fall by the wayside." This is denied in an affidavit by Messrs. Clark, Gordon, E. Stevens and Theo. Belanger, all leading business men of Sherbrooke, who were present at the meeting at which this is said to have taken place. The Liberals resent such tactics, and are confident of victory on November 3rd.

The Conservative candidate had a meeting at Capelton on Saturday evening, and about forty voters drove from Sherbrooke, accompanied by several members of the 53rd band. They are making a dead set on this section of the country, which went Liberal for the first time in the last provincial election. There seems little danger of its returning to the Conservative ranks in the Dominion election on Thursday.

NEWS FROM BRUNSWICK

ANOTHER PROMINENT CONVERT.

St. John, N..B. Nov. 1.—(Special.)—All indications point to a slump of hitherto Conservative electors in Northumberland county to the Liberal candidate. Leading lumbermen and employers of labor and also business men have transferred their allegiance. The Transcript last night published a letter from County Councillor Henry Bourque of Rogersville, which is another straw showing how the wind is blowing. It reads as follows: "Having signed the nomination of Mr. James Robinson, the Conservative candidate of Northumberland, before hearing him make a declaration of his attitude on the railway policy of his party, I now wish to withdraw from the position I then took. I am in thorough accord with the railway policy of the Government and intend to do all I can as a citizen and a councillor of this parish to assist in the election of Mr. W. S. Loggie, the Liberal candidate for Northumberland."

NEWS FROM NOVA SCOTIA

CLOSING SPEECHES.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 1.—Mr. R. L. Borden spoke in Sydney last night at the Roslyn Rink, and was warmly received by his Cape Breton compatriots. The rink was filled, and Conservative mottoes were in strong evidence.

After a brief address by the Con-

Forecast Makers Concede Mr. Roosevelt's Election

New York is a Doubtful State—Nebraska, Bryan's State, Will Go Republican—Estimates From Every State.

New York, Nov. 1.—In an exhaustive review of the political situation the Tribune expresses the belief that the prospects for the final vote in the electoral contest on November 8, are as follows:

For Roosevelt.

California	10
Colorado	5
Connecticut	7
Delaware	3
Idaho	3
Illinois	27
Indiana	15
Iowa	13
Kansas	10
Maine	6
Massachusetts	16
Michigan	14
Minnesota	11
Montana	3
Nebraska	8
New Hampshire	4
New Jersey	12
New York	39
North Dakota	4
Ohio	23
Oregon	4
Pennsylvania	34
Rhode Island	4
South Dakota	4
Utah	3
Vermont	4
Washington	5
West Virginia	7
Wisconsin	13
Wyoming	3
Total	314

For Parker.

Alabama	11
Arkansas	9
Florida	5
Georgia	13
Kentucky	13
Louisiana	9
Mississippi	10
Missouri	18
North Carolina	12
South Carolina	9
Tennessee	12
Texas	18
Virginia	12
Total	151

Doubtful.

Maryland	8
Nevada	3
Total	11

Total electoral vote, 476; necessary to elect 239.

The New York Herald classes the 39 votes from New York as doubtful, but even then it concedes Roosevelt 257 votes, or 18 more than necessary to elect him.

The Tribune considers that the outcome of the State elections in the majority of the doubtful States has been decided by the failure of the Democratic national campaign. In New York, where the fiercest sort of a struggle has been waged, the Republican gubernatorial ticket has steadily gained strength and its election is assured by at least 25,000, and the estimates of its plurality range as high as 60,000, based on the evident tidal wave for Roosevelt and the general disgust at the campaign of scurrility and slander that has been carried on, as well as the judicial record of the Democratic nominee. In New Jersey, Connecticut, West Virginia and Washington a similar result is now well-nigh certain. In Indiana, Wisconsin and Colorado there seems to be more doubt, and the count on the State ticket will be close.

The change in the situation since 1900 cannot be better exemplified than in the case of Nebraska, the State of William J. Bryan. Carried by Bryan in 1896, this State was tabulated as doubtful in the Tribune's estimates in 1900, and Mr. McKinley carried it by only a slender majority. This year the success of the Republican national ticket is assured, and even the effort of the Democrats to carry the State by fusion with the Populists on the local nominees seems certain to fail. Here, as in every other State of the Union, it is absolutely clear that the larger share of the vote of the personal friends and political followers of Bryan will be cast for Roosevelt, rather than Parker, and it is the possibility that this vote may be cast in the Democratic column on State tickets that gives even interest to the campaign in half a dozen States.

WEAK, SUFFERING, DISHEARTENED

THAT IS HOW OVIDE PACKWOOD WAS BEFORE HE USED DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Now He's Strong and Healthy and He Gives the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy All the Credit.

Cap Rosier, Que., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Suffering, weakened, and disheartened from the effects of Kidney Disease, Mr. Ovide Packwood, of this place, has found an effectual and permanent cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in his gratitude he is spreading the news broadcast.

"I can tell you," Mr. Packwood says, "that before using Dodd's Kidney Pills I was very far from well indeed. My Kidneys were frightfully bad. I had pains in the hip that were little short of torture.

"I had no appetite and had no heart to work. I could not lift anything from the ground without suffering severe pain.

"Four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me completely of all my troubles, and I have no hesitation in saying that all who suffer as I did, should use Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Cure the Kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills and nine-tenths of the suffering the human family has to endure will disappear.

CEASELESS STRENUOUSNESS OF THE SEARCH FOR SUCCESS.

Modern Life Makes Digestion Difficult—Where to Get the Help the Stomach Needs.

Every one interested in the welfare of the Dominion rejoices in the fact that to-day the watchword with all Canadians is "Success." In the office, the factory, the farm, the home—everywhere we see energy strained to the utmost by those who want to be winners.

Yet a warning should be given to those eager ones, not to neglect their health. Some men whose names are famous to-day for the hard work which has won them wealth, would give all they possess to get back the health of their youth.

Overwork, worry and hurried meals are a great trial to the stomach. At the first symptom of distress, St. James Wafers—the ideal stomach and nerve remedy—should be taken to renew the power of digestion.

BROTHER HELD ON SUSPICION.

Doon Lad Arrested for Shooting His Sister.

Galt, Ont., Nov. 1.—There have been some unusual developments in the death of Mary Sachs, of Doon. On Monday night at 6 o'clock she was found lying on the doorstep in an unconscious condition and with blood running from a small hole over her eye. She lived but a few minutes. Dr. Mulloy, coroner, and Dr. Scott Hegg, of Preston, were called shortly after, and apparently accepted the story given out by the family that the girl had fallen on the wire mat at the door and died as a result of puncture of the brain by one of the wires.

On Tuesday Chief Atkinson, of Preston, got to work on the case and his discovery resulted in an inquest being called for by County Crown Attorney Bowlby, who ordered the body exhumed on Wednesday. The post-mortem revealed a bullet imbedded in the brain and slight powder burns on the face.

MONTREAL ART PRINTERS— HERALD JOB DEPARTMENT

Young women may avoid much sickness and pain, says Miss Alma Pratt, if they will only have faith in the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls, Mrs. Pinkham believes that our girls are often pushed altogether too near the limit of their endurance nowadays in our public schools and seminaries.

Nothing is allowed to interfere with studies, the girl must be pushed to the front and graduated with honor; often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality,—often it is never recovered. Miss Pratt says, —

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months.

"I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness."—MISS ALMA PRATT, Holly, Mich. — $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

The Mystery of a Hansom Cab

BY FERGUS HUME.

CHAPTER XXV.—(Ccontinued.)

Sal looked at him for a moment, and then glanced at her mistress who nodded to her as a sign that she might withdraw. She picked up her book, and with a sharp, inquiring look at Brian, turned and walked slowly into the house.

CHAPTER XXVI.

After Sal had gone, Brian sank into a chair beside Madge with a weary sigh. He was in riding dress, which became his stalwart figure well, and he looked remarkably handsome—but ill and worried.

"What on earth were you questioning that girl about?" he said, abruptly, taking his hat off and tossing it and his gloves on to the floor.

Madge flushed crimson for a moment, and then, taking Brian's two strong hands in her own, looked steadily into his frowning face.

"Why don't you trust me?" she asked, in a quiet tone.

"It is not necessary that I should," he answered, moodily. "The secret that Rosanna Moore told me on her death-bed is nothing that would benefit you to know."

"Is it about me?" she persisted.

"It is, and it is not," he answered, epigrammatically.

"I suppose that means that it is about a third person, and concerns me," she said, calmly, releasing his hands.

"Well—yes!" impatiently striking his boot with his riding whip. "But it is nothing that can harm you so long as you do not know it; but Heaven help you should anyone tell it to you, for it would embitter your life."

"My life being so very sweet now!" answered Madge, with a slight sneer. "You are trying to put out a fire by pouring oil on it, and what you say only makes me more determined to learn what it is."

"Madge, I implore you not to persist in this foolish curiosity," he said, almost fiercely; "it will bring you only misery."

"Ah!" she said, her pale face flushing with anger, "you want me to live in a fool's paradise, which may end at any moment."

"That depends upon yourself," he answered, coldly, "I never roused your curiosity by telling you that there was a secret, but betrayed it inadvertently to Calton's cross-questioning. I tell you candidly that I did learn something from Rosanna Moore, and it concerns you, though only indirectly through a third person. But it would do no good to reveal it, and would ruin both our lives."

She did not answer, but looked straight before her into the glowing sunshine.

Brian fell on his knees beside her, and stretched out his hands with an entreating gesture.

"Oh, my darling! he cried, sadly—"cannot you trust me? The love which has stood such a test as yours cannot fail like this. Let me bear the misery of knowing it alone, without blighting your young life with the knowledge of it. I would tell you if I could, but, Heaven help me, I cannot. I cannot!" and he buried his face in his hands.

Madge closed her mouth firmly, and touched his comely head with her cool, white fingers. There was a struggle going on in her breast bewteen her feminine curiosity and her love of the man at her feet—the latter conquered, and she bowed her head overhis.

"Brian," she whispered, softly, "let it be as you wish. I will never again try to learn this secret, since you do not desire it."

He rose to his feet, and caught her in his strong arms with a glad smile.

"My dearest!" he said, kissing her passionately, and then for a few moments neither of them spoke. "We will begin a new life," he said at length. "We will put the sad past away from us, and think of it only as a dream."

"But this secret will still fret you," she murmured.

"It will wear away with time and with change of scene," he answered sadly.

"Change of scene?" she repeated, in a startled tone. "Are you going away?"

"Yes; I have sold my station, and intend leaving Australia for ever during the next three months.

"And where are you going?" asked the girl, rather bewildered.

"Anywhere," he said, a little bitterly. "I am going to follow the example of Cain, and be a wanderer on the face of the earth!"

"Alone?"

"That is what I have come to see you about," said Brian, looking steadily at her. "I have come to ask you if you will marry me at once, and we will leave Australia together."

She hesitated.

"I know it is asking a great deal," he said, hurriedly, "to leave your friends, your position, and"—with hesitation—"your father; but think of my life without you—think how lonely I shall be, wandering round the world by myself. You will not desert me now I have so much need of you—you will come with me and be my good angel in the future as you have been in the past?"

She put her hand on his arm, and looking at him with her clear grey eyes, said "Yes!"

"Thank Heaven for that!" said Brian, reverently, and there was again silence.

Then they sat down and talked about their plans, and built castles in the air, after the fashion of lovers.

"I wonder what papa will say?" observed Madge, idly twisting her engagement ring round and round.

Brian frowned, and a dark look passed over his face. "I suppose I must speak to him about it?" he said at length, reluctantly.

"Yes, of course!" she replied, lightly. "It is mere a formality; still, one that must be observed."

DREAMS.

Birdlike are the dreams that bring
Into youth its joy and spring;
Love and music and delight.
Mark their coming and their flight.
Ah, if youth but only knew
Which were false and which were true!

Birdlike is my dream to-day
Sweet it is, but will not stay;
Full of love and song it goes
Out into a world of prose.
Ah, if only it finds you,
I shall know one dream that's true!

VELVET FOR WINTER.

In Paris, where the 1830 craze started, it is the first to fall into oblivion, and the garments of the period of the "three Louis" will reign the coming autumn and winter. The Directoire coats can be so varied in treatment and are so picturesque, as to appeal to all women, and all save the extremely fat can adapt one of the many variations of the Louis or Directoire coats and look as well as in other garments.

Velvet coats will be worn with cloth skirts of similar color. These coats will have shaped skirts and will be elaborately trimmed.

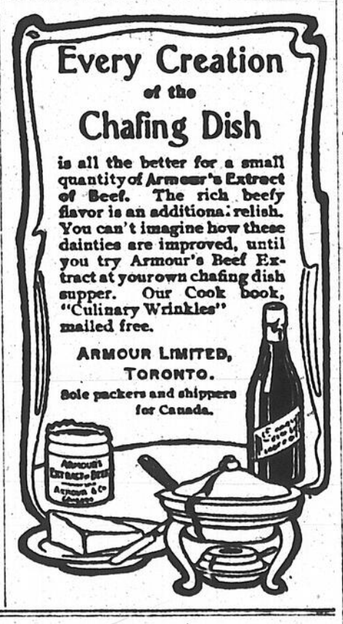

A new velvet is mirrored but the pressing is done at irregular intervals and at some distance apart. Broadtail velvets for wraps and costumes have been imported.

Every Creation of the Chafing Dish is all the better for a small quantity of Armour's Extract of Beef. The rich beefy flavor is an additional relish. You can't imagine how these dainties are improved, until you try Armour's Beef Extract at your own chafing dish supper. Our Cook book, "Culinary Wrinkles" mailed free.

Sole packers and shippers for Canada.

Other novelties in velvets include clever imitations of furs, and almost every fur is reproduced as nearly as may be in these. These are for millinery use, and the brown and grays are especially desirable for draped chapeaus.

A HINT FOR ARTISTS.

Now that the hand-painted panels or trimmings are so much in vogue for evening gowns there should be a good chance for a skilful artist to make her own gowns beautiful or dispose of such work where it is wanted.

In doing this painting a certain design is chosen, perhaps a spray of flowers of the colors desired, and this design can then be repeated in the various parts of the gown, the size of the design depending on where it is to be used. Such a gown could have the sash ends, flat yoke or collar, skirt panels or other skirt decorations all painted with the desired pattern. Ribbon painted with a smaller pattern of the same design may also be used.

Blouses painted with floral or butterfly designs are very popular abroad and are sure to be worn here.

ABOUT PORTIERES.

To prevent portieres catching underneath the door when opened quickly, screw a small ring (such as are used for pictures frames) into the centre of the door frame to this fasten a blind cord sufficient to reach to the bottom of curtain. Put another ring in the centre of the door at the top, thread the cord through and fasten to the bottom of the curtain and as the door is opened so the curtain rises.

For the Cook.

TOMATO BISQUE SOUP.

Take one pint of tomatoes, canned or fresh and boil in two quarts of milk, stir in one ounce of butter and half a teaspoonful of soda. Let all boil together, then skim. Break into this half a pound of soda crackers and let all boil again. Season with salt and pepper.

SCONES.

Mix together two cupfuls of sifted flour, a level teaspoonful of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. Rub in the flour with the tips of the fingers four level tablespoonfuls of butter; then add two beaten eggs and one-third cup of cream. Toss on a floured board; roll out three-quarters of an inch thick and cut in squares. Brush with white of egg; sprinkle with sugar and bake in a hot oven fifteen minutes.

TOMATO SALAD.

Peel and cut in slices, large, solid tomatoes. Take one tablespoonful of oil, one of vinegar, a tablespoonful of mustard, salt and pepper; mix and pour over the tomatoes. If preferred the tomatoes may be served undressed on lettuce leaves.

SWEET PEACH PICKLE.

This makes an excellent accompaniment to game, especially quail. Peel eight ounces of peaches that are rather hard, and put on to boil until clear in three pints of cider vinegar in which have been dissolved four pounds of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of each of allspice and cloves and one of mace. Remove the peaches to the stone or porcelain jars, and boil the spiced syrup until thick, when it should be poured over the peaches. Cover immediately and seal.

CANADA STOOD WELL AT THREE ENGLISH SHOWS

First Colony to Put in Exhibits at the Grocers', Dairy and Royal Agricultural Exhibitions.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Canada has three interesting displays at exhibitions in Great Britain this summer. Mr. James Brody and Mr. W. H. Hay, the two members of the exhibition staff who were in charge of them have returned to Ottawa. Mr. Brody says Canada made a showing at the Bakers' and Confectioners', the Grocers' and the Dairy Exhibitons, held at different times in the Royal Agricultural Institute. These exhibitions are held every year, but this is the first time Canada or any of the colonies has made a showing at them. The officials of the exhibitions agreed that the Canadian showing was the best they had, and the president of the Grocers' Exhibition admitted that it had added to the exhibition gate receipts. The exhibitions are not held to cater to curiosity, but for the purpose of business The people who visit them are interested in the trades which hold them and go to get ideas or to purchase. The products of Canada shown at them came in for close scrutiny, which they stood well. The dairy exhibition attracted a large number of agricultural people, and a good deal of immigration work was done at it by the Canadian officials.

C.P.R. TAXATION CASE STILL UNDER HEARING

Supreme Court Gives Judgment on Two Quebec Appeals and Adjourns Until Wednesday Next.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—In the Supreme Court yesterday the arguments were continued in the cases of the Manitoba and Northwest Territories municipalities against the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., in respect to the collection of taxes, and were still incomplete when the court adjourned at four o'clock, until Wednesday next.

In Quebec appeals, judgments were rendered as follows:—Victoria Fire Ins. Co. vs. Home Ins. Co. of New York. Appeal allowed with costs. Girouard and Nesbitt, J. J., dissenting.

City of Montreal vs. Cantin. Appeal dismissed with costs. Girouard and Nesbitt, J. J., dissenting.

A PRACTICAL JOKER GOES POLITICALLY MAD

"Leader of Opposition" Demands Unconditional Support From an Elderly Voter, and Uses Some Threats.

An elderly voter of 75 years, residing on Lagauchetiere street, called at the city detective department yesterday, apparently suffering from an amount of fear that something of a serious nature was hanging over his head, and when he had told his tale of woe, and had received assurances of immediate action on the part of Chief Carpenter's men, that due protection would be forthcoming, the cloud cleared in part from his countenance, and he left the City Hall with a braver front than he presented on his arrival.

This morning the old gentleman, whose name and address the detectives are averse to giving out, received a letter bearing the signature, "John Borden, Leader of the Opposition," and pointing out to him that if he failed to vote Conservative at the coming election, something of a disagreeable nature would happen to him in the immediate future.

Four letters in a similar strain, bearing the same signature, and written by the same hand, he had permitted to pass unheeded, but when the fifth arrived he evidently thought it was time for action. Hence his visit to the City Hall.

Detective - Sergt. Charpentier, who was acting in the absence of Chief Carpenter, promptly turned a couple of officers on to the job, and it is said these have hopes of laying by the heels what, after all, will doubtless prove to be a practical joker gone politically mad.

A GREAT AMERICAN PIANO MANUFACTURER

Mr. William Knabe Visited Montreal and Told Many Interesting Things of a Seventy-year-old Industry.

Mr. William Knabe, of the Knabe piano manufacturing firm, was in Montreal on Saturday, visiting Mr. A. P. Willis, who is the sole agent for Canada. The firm was established seventy years ago by Mr. Knabe's grandfather, and has now risen to the foremost place as builders of artistic pianos.

Mr. Knabe said to a representative of The Herald that he had supplied King Edward, and practically every crowned head of Europe with one of his pianos. When the Pope opened up 4,000 of the rooms of the Vatican for the purpose of providing means of culture for those connected with the church and the Papal residence, he ordered twenty of these pianos. The White House at Washington had them also, and they were used by such musicians as Sauer, Guenfeld, Marmontelle, Careno, Hamburg and D'Albert.

Mr. A. P. Willis, the Canadian agent, said that they would be used this winter at the Ysaye, and all the leading concerts in Montreal. "We bring them over from the United States," he said, "in carload lots, because they are thereby the better selected.

"This piano does not interfere with the sale of Canadian pianos, for the people who use the Knabe would not use any other. If the Government were to remove all duty and let it come in as a work of art, it would not interfere with a single Canadian piano."

AMERICAN METHODS MORE UP TO DATE

Supt. Ferns Finds Good Ideas in Their Fire Alarm Departments.

In spite of the fact that the large cities of the United Staes have much better machinery in their fire alarm departments, I found that the Montreal fire brigade can turn out 15 seconds quicker than the brigade in any city I have visited."

Such was the remark of Mr. James Ferns, superintendent of the fire alarm department, on returning from a ten day's trip to the principal cities of the Atlanic seaboard. Mr. Ferns and Mr. Arthur Parent, superintendent of the civic light department, have been on a tour in search of information to improve their respective departments, and they have carefully studied the new improvements which have been effected in such centres as Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore. Mr. Ferns got home this morning and Mr. Parent, who remained another day in New York, is expected back to-morrow morning.

"Yes," said Mr. Ferns this morning in an interview, "I consider that it was the most valuable trip ever made in the interests of the fire alarm department. I have seen many things which I shall introduce into the Montreal system.

"I found that everywhere I visited fire alarm wires have a right of way on the poles or in the conduits. There the companies are obliged to accomodate fire alarm wires, and they can collect no rent from the city for this service. Every fire alarm box has a red light over it, so that it can be distinguished at night. That is what we should have in Montreal. As regards color, I found that New York paints its boxes aluminum like ours and the officials there regard it as a great improvement.

"The fire departments are in splendid condition, but one thing that struck me was that while the horses they use are much smaller than ours, the engines are a good deal heavier. The fire chiefs instead of having horses, are supplied with fire automobiles to attend fires.

At fires in American cities there is no shouting of orders. Inside the hose is an electric circuit which can inform the men when to turn on or off the water.

Mr. Ferns speaks in the highest terms of the reception extended to Mr. Parent and himself by Hon. P. A. Collins, mayor of Boston.

Mr. Collins drove the two Montreal representatives around the city and entertained them at his house.

Mr. Ferns will prepare a report on his trip for the Fire and Light Committee.

CUSTOMS REVENUE SHOWS BIG INCREASE.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The customs revenue for the Dominion for the month of October was $3,659,126. This is the largest in any one month in the history of the country. It is $189,607 over the same month last year. In October, 1896, the revenue was $1,620,899. The receipts this month are two and a quarter times greater.

A CENTENARIAN DEAD.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—There passed away last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. F. Davis, 10 Carr Street, a notable mother of Methodism in Canada, who was also a pioneer and a centenarian of remarkable activity until a week before her dissolution. Mrs. Eva Barnum was born (as Eva Dean) at Chard, Somersetshire, Eng., on Dec. 29, 1803, being a twin sister of Adam Dean, famous in Old Country Wesleyanism. At twenty-one she married James Arthur, who was sent as a Methodist missionary to York (now Toronto), and died there three years later, leaving one child who subsequently became the wife of Dr. E. D. Gates, of Erie, Pa. A few years after the widow, Mrs. Arthur, was married to D. W. Barnum, of Norfolk County, Ont., their union being blessed with six daughters and two sons. Thirty-one years ago Mrs. Barnum was left a widow at Brantford, Ont., and in 1881 she came to the Coast (where several of her family had preceded her), residing at Lopez, Dungeness and latterly Victoria. But two daughters survive—Mrs. J. F. Davis, of Victoria, and Mrs. C. W. Boynton, of Seattle. There are twenty-seven living grandchildren, forty-six great-grandchildren and seven great-great-grandchildren.

New mainspring in your watch from $1.00; guaranteed one year. R. Hemsley, Watchmaker, 255 St. James Street. —Adv.

WILL VISIT ENGLAND.

London, Nov. 1.—The King and Queen of Portugal have privately intimated their willingness to pay a visit to London during their forthcoming visit to the King and Queen at Windsor, should time and circumstances permit. It is regarded in city circles as almost certain that their Portuguese Majesties will come to London, and that the Lord Mayor and Sheriffs will offer them the city's hospitality.

HAS JOINED ANGLICAN CHURCH.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Rev. Dr. McComb, for some years a professor of theology in Queen's, is to renounce Presbyterianism and join the Anglican Church. It is intention to settle in the United States and take a charge there. While here he manifested evidence of a change of views. He is at present in Scotland. He is a North of Ireland man and a graduate of Oxford. His resignation from Queen's took place last May, and Prof. MacNaughton, of McGill, succeeded him here.

CLAIM FOR IRON BOUNTY.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Special.—The Nova Scotia Steel Company has begun to file claims for the pig iron bounty. The company began the smelting of ore at Sydney Mines on August 29, and the first pigs were run August 31. The first bounty claim was received at teh Department of Trade and Commerce last week. The claim is for $5,362, the bounty on 3,575 tons, at $1.50 a ton.

A "CONSERVATIVE" MEETING.

Moncton, N.B., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—At Windsor school-house, Shediac, Friday evening, there was a large crowd present, but no Conservative speakers appeared as advertised.

James A. McQueen and a Liberal friend thought they would drop into the meeting and were greeted with cheers. A Liberal chairman was appointed, and for two hours the audience listened to Liberal speeches and the meeting broke up with cheers for Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Emmerson. The old Conservative parish of Shediac is evidently going Liberal this election. The Tories are having hard sledding.

WINTER SHIPPING OUTLOOK IS GOOD

Different Interests Look for an Increase in Importations.

"The outlook for a good winter's season of shipping both at St. John and Halifax is very good," was the opinion expressed to-day by Mr. John Corbett, foreign freight manager of the Canadian Railway Atlantic Steamship Company on his return from the Maritime ports. Mr. Corbett was arranging for the company's winter business.

"The most satisfactory feature," he added is that the different interests look for a good increase in importations over previous seasons. As regards the export business, while there is considerable dullness in the deal trade at present it is expected to improve considerably before the winter sets in.

"The last month of the shipping season from this port promises to be the most satisfactory of the season.

NEW ENGLAND COTTON MILLS OPENING AGAIN

French-Canadians Who Have Summered in Canada May Begin to Go Back to Their Jobs.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 1.—Despatches report that cotton mills in New England, employing about 10,000 operatives, which either were shut down or running on short time, for several months, went on full time schedules yesterday.

At Augusta, Maine, the Edwards Manufacturing Company cotton mills were started after a shut-down of four months, due largely to dullness in trade. A ten per cent. reduction in wages went into effect to-day, but about seventy-five per cent. of the 1,800 operatives went into the mills. Others are expected to report later, as a large number of the workers went to Canada after the shutdown.

At Providence, R.I., the mills of the Hope Company, in the village of Hope and Phoenix went on a full time basis. They have about 500 employes, who, for four months have been working only four days each week, because of a dull cotton goods market.

At Lowell, Mass.—The Boot Cotton Mills, which have been closed for the past three months, resumed operations By next Monday the regular number, 1,600, will be employed. The mills will be operated full time all winter.

JOHN MORLEY DINED AND DEGREED AT TORONTO

Canada's Distinguished Guest is Staying With Prof. Goldwin Smith, and Lunched with Canadian Club.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Right Hon. John Morley was the guest of the Canadian Club yesterday at what was undoubtedly the most largely attended luncheon they have ever had. The distinguished statesman was accorded a hearty and sincere welcome, and spoke his views clearly and without reserve, winning the approval of his hearers. President George A. Howley had Mr. Morley on his right and Mr. Goldwin Smith on his left. A letter of regret from Hon. Edward Blake, who could not be present, was read. The president spoke of the pride which the Anglo-Saxon justly felt in his Empire, his own part of it, and the great men who made it what it is, such as Mr. Morley, and his host, Mr. Goldwin Smith.

The University of Toronto conferred upon Mr. Morley the degree of Doctor of Civil Law. The ceremony took place in the presence of a brilliant assembly, including the members of the faculty and other educationalists, many ladies and a large number of students. In his address Mr. Morley confined himself to educational questions, advancing the proposition that one of the main objects of education was character.

Vice-Chancellor Moss presided, and Mr. Morley was presented to him by Mr. Goldwin Smith.

KRUGER'S BODY GOES HOME.

The Hague, Nov. 1.—The remains of former President Kruger, of the Transvaal Republic, who died in July last, were removed from the cemetery yesterday and taken to Rotterdam for conveyance to South Africa on board the steamer Batavier. Six wreaths, from Queen Wilhelmina, the Prince Consort and former President Steyn covered the coffin. Not much public interest was shown. A chapelle ardent has been prepared on the steamer, covered with black drapings embellished with inscriptions in silver letters, among them: "I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course; I have kept the faith."

At Rotterdam a great concourse of people followed the body from the railroad station to the Batavier, where it was placed in a mortuary chapel. Dr. Leyds, the former Secretary of State of the Transvaal, who is accompanying the body of Mr. Kruger to its destination, laid on the coffin a wreath inscribed "To My President."

PERMANENCE OF CURE

The Chief Merit.

Many so called pile remedies will afford the user slight temporary relief, and the majority of sufferers do not expect more than this. Women especially, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of Piles, have come to the conclusion, that there is no cure except by an operation. This is rightfully viewed with dread, because of the shock to the delicate nervous system of women and many of those afflicted, have resigned themselves to the situation with never a thought that there is any help in sight for them.

We invite the attention of all such to the experience of the lady whose address is given below.

"I feel it my duty to recommend the Pyramid Pile Cure, for after suffering ten years with a most distressing form of Piles, I am entirely cured, thanks to this remedy. Anyone doubting this can write to Margaret Brady, 156 Whitman St., Cleveland, Ohio."

Then months later she writes "I am glad to say that I am still perfectly free from Piles, and have not the slightest trouble since I first used your remedy. I am well known in Cleveland and have advertised Pyramid Pile Cure extensively here. I take pleasure in doing so as it saved me from an operation which I always dreaded, and you are assured the remedy can have no firmer advocate than I."

Testimony like this should convince the most skeptical, that Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures, but cures to stay cured. It is in the form of a suppository; can be applied in the privacy of the home, directly to the parts affected and does its work quickly and painlessly.

Druggists sell this famous remedy for fifty cents a package, and we urge all sufferers to buy a package now and give it a trial to-night. Accept no substitutes.

Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book on the cause and cure of Piles, which is sent free for the asking.

TO-MORROW'S PRICE FOR LADIES' $25.00 SAMPLE COSTUMES IS ONLY $10.00

The Need!

It needs a "Perry" behind the gun to score bull's eyes and win the King's Prize.

It needs a "Paderewski" at the piano to sway an audience so that the impulse is to cry:

". . . . . Apollo plays
And twenty caged nightingales do sing."

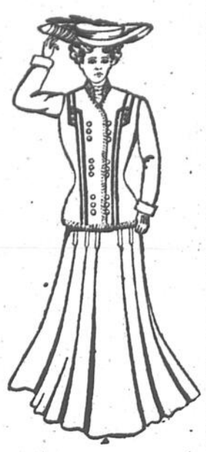

"It needs "Value" behind each price to make a store in deed, as well as in an advertisement "The Store of Satisfaction."

We've the supremest confidence in the values behind every one of our prices, whether printed in an advertisement or exhibited in the store. If you fail to share that confidence when purchases arrive at your home, return such and receive back the full amount paid for same.

Every sale inaugurated by this Store terminates in success. You can behold the evidence of this statement if you step into the Store To-morrow, Wednesday, and count the interested audiences that this announcement of a sale of Ladies' Sample Costumes will attract. Your interest may lead you to make an investment, for certainly a sale of

Winter Millinery Opening Display Continues

Several striking features of the display:

Bewitchingly stylish Hats, fashioned out of rich velvets. When trimmed with huge roses the effect is exceedingly ornate.

A favorite mode is the Hat made of Mink Fur, in a Fedora shape, the brim of lace and velvet.

Exquisite creations are wrought with Squirrel Blue Fox and Ermine Plush. Mink and Beaver Hats, too, figure among the newest and best appreciated modes.

No pen can transcribe the verdict of the eye; such an exhibit can alone be appreciated by the beholder.

The appointments of the department are in keeping with the event. Innumerable lights, appropriate potted plants, suitably arranged draperies, etc., but naught to dim the splendid display of beautiful Hats.

You Are Welcome.
