CAP. XX.

An Act to provide for the more easy and expeditious Administration of Justice in Civil Causes and matters involving small pecuniary value, in that part of this Province heretofore Lower Canada.

(18th September, 1841.)

WHEREAS it is expedient and necessary to provide better for the efficient administration of Justice in Civil Causes and matters involving small pecuniary value and interest, by the establishment of limited local Jurisdictions throughout that part of this Province which formerly constituted the Province of Lower Canada, to which easy access may be afforded to Her Majesty's Subject, for the attainment of Justice in such cases, expeditiously and at little expense; Be it therefore enacted, by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Canada, constituted and assembled by virtue of and under the authority of an Act passed in the Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and intitled, "An Act to Re-unite the Provinces of Upper and Lower Canada, and for the Government of Canada," and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, that the portion of this Province called Lower Canada, except the Inferior District of Gaspé, shall for the purposes of Judicature and of this Act, be divided into such number of Inferior Districts as by the Governor of this Province, by and with the advice of the Executive Council for the same, shall be deemed fit and expedient; and to this end it shall be lawful for the said Governor, with such advice as aforesaid, on or before the first day of December now next ensuing, to issue a Proclamation under the Great Seal of this Province, whereby that portion of this Province aforesaid shall be divided into such Inferior Districts and the limits of such Inferior Districts shall be fixed and appointed, and in such Proclamation, it shall also be lawful for the Governor of this Province, with such advice as aforesaid, to appoint the place in each such Inferior District, at which the District Court hereinafter mentioned shall be held, and also the place in each such Inferior District, at which the Division Courts also hereinafter mentioned shall be held.

11. And be it enacted, that in each of the said several Inferior Districts, into which the portion of this Province aforesaid shall be divided as aforesaid, there shall be a Court of Record of Civil Jurisdiction, to be called the District Court, which Court shall be held by and before the Judge of each of the said Inferior Districts, at such times, and at such place in the said Districts, respectively, as the Governor of this Province, in his said Proclamation shall appoint as aforesaid.

III. And be it enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Governor of this Province, for time being, to appoint a District Judge for each and every of the said Inferior Districts in which a Court shall be established as aforesaid, except the Inferior Districts in which the Borough of Three Rivers, and the Town of Sherbrooke shall be respectively included; and excepting also the Inferior District in which the City of Montreal shall be included so long as a certain Ordinance of the Legislature of Lower Canada, passed in the fourth year of Her Majesty's Reign, and intitled, "An Ordinance to facilitate the despatch of the business now before the Court of King's Bench for the district of Montreal," shall remain in force as hereinafter provided; and from time to time, to remove such Judges, and appoint others in the places of such of them as may be removed, or may die, or resign their offices; Provided always that until a certain Ordinance of the Legislature of Lower Canada, passed in the fourth year of Her Majesty's Reign, and intitled, "An Ordinance to establish new Territorial Divisions in Lower Canada, and to alter and amend the Judicature, and to provide for the better and more efficient administration of Justice throughout this Province," shall come into force, the resident Judge of the present District of Three Rivers shall be also the District Judge of the Inferior District in which the Town of Three Rivers shall be included, and the Provincial Judge of the District of St. Francis, shall be also the District Judge of the Inferior District, in which the Town of Sherbrooke shall be included.

IV. And be it enacted, that the said District Courts to be held as aforesaid, shall severally have, except in the cases hereinafter mentioned, cognizance of (and upon, from and after the first day of January next after the passing of this Act, shall have exclusive cognizance of) and full power, jurisdiction and authority to hear, try and determine in summary manner, all Civil Suits or Actions (those purely of Admiralty Jurisdiction excepted) wherein the sum of money, or the value of the thing demanded, shall exceed six pounds five shillings currency and shall not exceed twenty pounds sterling: Provided always, that if any such Suit or Action shall relate to any fee of office, duty or rent, revenues, or any sum of money payable to Her Majesty, titles to lands or tenements, annual rents, or such like matters or things, where the rights in future may be bound, it shall be lawful for the Defendant or Defendants, before making his or their defence to any such Action, to make and tender an Exception to the jurisdiction of the said Court, and thereby require that the said Action be removed and carried to hearing, trial and judgment in the Court of King's Bench, for the present District in which such District Court shall sit, or in the Court of Common Pleas of this Province, in that Division thereof, which may sit in the Territorial Division in which such District Court shall sit; and every such exception shall be filed and entered on record, and the suit shall thereupon be removed into the said Court of King's Bench or into the said Court of Common Pleas; which Court shall proceed to determine, in a summary manner, whether the said Exception be well founded, and if it should maintain the said Exception and adjudge the same to be well founded, proceedings shall thereupon be had in such Court, to trial, judgment and execution, according to the rules of the Court; and if the said Exception should be overruled, the said Action shall be remitted to the said District Court, there to be heard, tried and finally determined: Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent any Court of King's Bench or any Division of the Court of Common Pleas sitting in Superior Term, from taking cognizance of, hearing, trying and determining any Suit or Action in which a Writ of Capias ad respondendum, shall be sued out, or which shall be of such a nature as that either of the parties may demand that the issue therein be tried by a Jury, or to prevent any such Court from continuing to judgment and execution any Suit or Action commenced and pending therein on the day last above mentioned, although the sum or value of the thing demanded in any such case may be less than twenty pounds sterling.

V. And be it enacted, that no person shall be appointed to be a District Judge, in pursuance of and under the authority of this Act, unless such person be, at the time of his appointment as aforesaid, an Advocate of five years standing at the Bar in that part of this Province heretofore Lower Canada; and no such District Judge shall be competent to sit or vote either in the Legislative Council, or in the Legislative Assembly of this Province, so long as he shall hold the said Office.

And be it enacted, that the accounts to be kept by several the Clerks of the District Courts, on account of the said District Court and of the Division Courts, shall be deemed public accounts, and shall be enquired into and audited as such, and shall be within any provision of law now in force or hereafter to be in force for auditing public accounts.

1142. And be it enacted, that if any person having resigned or having been removed from the office of Clerk of a District Court, or of a Division Court, shall neglect after twenty-one days' notice to such person, to account for and pay to the Clerk of the District Court for the time being, or to such person as he shall appoint to receive the same, all such sums as shall remain in his hands of moneys received under the authority of this Act, it shall be lawful for such Clerk of the District Court for the time being, in his own proper name only, or by his name and description of office, to sue for and recover the same from such person with double costs of suit, in any Court of Record in this Province having competent jurisdiction, in which action it shall be sufficient for such Clerk of the District Court, to declare as for money had and received to the use of such Clerk of the District Court for the purposes of this Act; and the Court in which the action shall be brought may at the instance of either of the parties, refer the account in dispute in a summary manner, to be audited by any officer of the Court or other fit person, who shall have power to examine both Plaintiff and Defendant upon oath: and upon the report of the referee, (unless either of the parties shall shew good cause to the contrary,) the Court may make a rule either for the payment of such sum as upon the report shall appear to be due, or for staying the proceedings in the action, and upon such terms and conditions as to the Court shall appear reasonable; or the Court may order judgment to be entered as by confession for such sum as upon the report shall appear to be due.

1143. And be it enacted, that in case of the death of any person during the time that he shall be holding the office of Clerk of a District Court or of Clerk of any Division Court, or after he shall have resigned, or be removed from such office, the Clerk of the District Court for the time being, may in his own proper name and description of office, sue for and recover from the executors or administrators of such person deceased, all such sums as shall have been remaining in his hands of money received under the authority of this Act in any Court of Record in this Province having competent jurisdiction, in which action it shall be competent for the Plaintiff to declare that the deceased was indebted to the plaintiff, for money had and received to his use for the purposes of this Act, or that the deceased died possessed of money had and received for the purposes of this Act, whereby an action hath accrued to the Plaintiff to demand and have the same from such executors or administrators; and a like action may be brought against any executors or administrators of executors or administrators; and in all such actions the Defendant or defendants may plead in like manner, and avail themselves of the like matters in the defence as in any action founded upon simple contracts of the original testator or intestate, and the Court may refer the account in dispute to be audited by any officer or person, and may proceed upon the report of such referee in like manner as in the case mentioned in the next preceding section.

1144. And be it enacted, that in all actions to be brought as well as in all proceedings whatsoever to be instituted or carried on as aforesaid, by any Clerk of a District Court, by virtue of this Act, proof of his acting in the execution of the office of Clerk of the District Court, shall be sufficient evidence of his holding such office, unless the contrary shall be shown in evidence by the Defendants in such action, or the parties against whom such proceeding shall be instituted and carried on.

1145. And be it enacted, that the Clerk of each District Court and also every Clerk of a Division Court who shall receive moneys in the execution of their duties, shall give security for such sum, and with so many sureties, and in such manner and form as the Governor of this Province shall see reason to direct, for the due performance of their several offices and for the due payment of all moneys received by them under any provision of this Act.

1146. And be it enacted, that the Judge at every Division Court established under this Act, shall have power, jurisdiction and authority to hold plea of all debts or contracts of the nature of those cognizable in the District Courts, when the subject matter of the demand shall not exceed the sum of six pounds five shillings currency, and to hear and determine the same in a summary way; and every such Judge shall have power to make such orders judgments and decrees thereupon, as shall appear to him to be just and agreeable to equity and good conscience; and that upon any contract for the payment of a certain sum in labour, or in any kind of goods or commodities, or in any manner otherwise than in money, it shall be lawful for the Judge, after the day has passed on which the goods and commodities should have been delivered, or labour or other things performed, to give judgment for the amount in money, as if the contract had been so originally expressed, and this provision shall extend also to matters brought before any District Court: Provided always, that no action shall be brought in any such Division Court for any gambling debt, nor for any spirituous or malt liquors drunk in a tavern or ale house: Provided also that nothing contained in this Act shall be construed to constitute and create the said Division Courts, Courts of Records.

1147. And be it enacted, that the Plaintiff, in any suit brought in any Division Court, shall enter a copy of his account or demand in writing, which shall be numbered according to the order in which it shall be entered, and thereupon a summons bearing the number of the account or demand on the margin thereof, shall be issued, which shall be in substance, in the form of the schedule to this Act annexed, according to the nature of the demand; and a copy of such summons to which shall be attached a copy of such account or demand, shall be served on the Defendant three days at least before the day on which the Division Court shall be holden at which the cause shall be tried, and delivery of such copies of summons and account or demand to the Defendant, or delivery thereof to his wife or servant, or any grown person, being an inmate of his dwelling house, or usual place of abode, trading or dealing, shall be deemed a good service of such summons.

1148. And be it enacted, that no such summons shall be issued, unless the Plaintiff shall, at the time of entering his account or demand, deposit with the Clerk of the Court or every claim not exceeding twenty shillings, the sum of one shilling; and for every claim exceeding twenty shillings, one twentieth part thereof, (neglecting any sum less than six pence, in estimating such twentieth part,) and if upon the day of the return of any such summons or at any continuation or adjournment of the said Court or of the cause for which the said summons shall have issued, the Plaintiff shall not appear in person or by some other person in his behalf, or appearing shall not make proof of his demand to the satisfaction of the Court, it shall be lawful for the Judge, if he shall think fit, to award to the Defendant a part or the whole of such deposit money, by way of costs and as satisfaction for his trouble and attendance, with such further sum as the Judge in his discretion shall think fit, and to order and compel the Plaintiff to pay such further sum, by such ways and means as any debt ordered to be paid by the said Court, can be recovered; but so much of the said deposit money as shall not be awarded to the Defendant, shall be returned on demand of the Plaintiff.

1149. And be it enacted, that any suits brought under this Act, and of a nature to be tried at a Division Court may be brought and tried at any Division Court within the Inferior District, at the District Court for which it might be brought if the sum demanded were more than six pounds five shillings; but if any such suit be brought at any Division Court other than that nearest to the place where the Defendant or Defendants actually served with process shall reside, no more costs shall be recovered by the Plaintiff, than if the suit had been brought at the nearest Division Court; and if judgment be given for the Defendant, such additional sum may be awarded to him for his trouble and attendance, as the Judge in his discretion may deem meet.

1150. And be it enacted, that it shall not be lawful for any Plaintiff to divide any cause of action into two or more suits for the purpose of bringing the same within the jurisdiction of any Division Court; but any Plaintiff having a Cause of Action above the value of six pounds five shillings for which a suit might be brought at a Division Court, if the same were not above the value of six pounds five shillings may abandon the excess, and thereupon the Plaintiff shall, on proving his case, recover to an amount not exceeding six pounds five shillings; and the judgment of the Court upon such suit shall be in full discharge of all demands in respect of such Cause of Action, and the Entry of Judgment shall be made accordingly.

1151. And be it enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for any person under the age of twenty-one years, and above sixteen years to prosecute any suit in a Division Court, under this Act, for any sum of money not exceeding six pounds five shillings, which may be due to him or her for wages, in the same manner as if he or she were of full age.

1152. And be it enacted, that on the day named in the Summons, the Plaintiff shall appear in the Division Court in person, or by some person in his or her behalf, and thereupon the Defendant shall be required by himself or herself, or by some person in his or her behalf, to answer, and on answer being made in Court, the Judge shall proceed in a summary way to try the cause, and give judgment without further pleading or formal joinder of issue.

1153. And be it enacted, that no evidence shall be given by the Plaintiff, on the trial of any such cause as aforesaid, of any cause of action except such as shall be stated and contained in the demand or account entered as hereinbefore directed.

1154. And be it enacted, that in any Division Court, all Defendants shall be allowed, without filing any incidental demand to set off any debt or demand not exceeding six pounds five shillings, claimed to be due to them from the Plaintiff, or to set up by way of defence, and claim and have the benefit of any prescription of the debt: Provided always, that if the defendant's set off is proved, exceed the claim proved by the Plaintiff, the Court may give judgment in favour of the Defendant for such balance, as may appear due from the Plaintiff, with costs of suit: Provided also, that no such defence shall be admitted on the hearing or trial of any cause under this Act, unless notice thereof in writing shall have been delivered to the Plaintiff, or left for him at his usual place of abode or business, three days at least before the trial.

1155. And be it enacted, that if on the day named in the summons the Defendant shall not appear as aforesaid, or sufficiently excuse his or her absence, or shall neglect to answer, the Judge, on proof of the service of the summons, may proceed to the hearing or trial of the cause on the part of the Plaintiff; and the order or judgment thereupon which shall be given, made or rendered after hearing the evidence to be adduced on the part of the Plaintiff, shall be final and absolute, and as valid as if both parties had attended: Provided always, that the Judge may make any order for granting time to the Plaintiff or Defendant to proceed in the prosecution or defence of the suit.

1156. And be it enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the Defendant in any action brought at any Division Court, at any time before the day appointed for the trial thereof, to pay into Court such sum of money as he shall think a full satisfaction for the demand of the Plaintiff, together with the costs incurred by the Plaintiff up to the time of such payment, and notice of such payment shall be forthwith communicated by the Clerk of the said Court to the Plaintiff by post, or by sending the same to his usual place of abode or business, and the said sum of money shall be paid to the Plaintiff, and all proceedings in the said action shall be stayed, unless the Plaintiff shall within three days after the receipt of notice of such payment, signify to the Clerk of the said Court, his intention to proceed for the remainder of the demand claimed; and in such case the action shall proceed as if it had been brought originally for such remainder only: Provided always, that if the Plaintiff shall recover no further sum in the action than such sum as shall have been paid into Court under the provision hereinbefore contained, the Plaintiff shall pay to the Defendant all costs, charges and expenses incurred by him in the said action after such payment as aforesaid, and such costs, charges and expenses shall be settled by the Court, and shall be recovered by the Defendant by such ways and means as any debt ordered to be paid by the Court can be recovered.

1157. And be it enacted, that on the trial of any such suit, the parties thereto, being credible persons, and all other credible persons whomsoever, may be examined upon oath or affirmation (being of any of the classes allowed by Law to affirm in any judicial proceedings,) which the Judge shall openly cause the Clerk to administer to each party or witness at the time of his giving his evidence touching the matters in dispute, without regard to any objection on the ground of incompetency from interest, relationship or other like cause: Provided always, that judgment shall in no case be given for either party in any action for any sum, on the oath or affirmation of the Plaintiff or Defendant respectively, without other sufficient evidence, except where the matter may have been referred by one party to the oath of the other, or the Judge may have required the supplementary oath of the party to perfect the evidence.

1158. And be it enacted, that every person who in any examination shall wilfully and corruptly give false evidence shall be liable to the penalties of wilful and corrupt perjury.

1159. And be it enacted, that either of the parties to the suit may obtain from the Clerk of the Division Court, wherein the same shall be brought, summons to witness, with or without a clause requiring the production of books, papers and writings in their possession or control; and in any such summons any number of names may be inserted, and service of any such summons by any Bailiff of the District Court, shall be valid and effectual service; and every person, whether a party to the suit or not, on whom any such summons shall have been served, either personally or at his or her usual place of abode, and to whom at the same time, a tender of payment of his or her reasonable expenses shall have been made, and who shall refuse or neglect, without sufficient cause, to appear or produce any books, papers or writings required by such summons to be produced, and also every person in Court called upon to give evidence and who shall refuse to be sworn and give evidence, shall forfeit and pay such fine not exceeding six pounds five shillings currency, as the Judge shall set on him or her; and such fine shall be recoverable in any Division Court (in whatever District it may be) in the jurisdiction of which the party so refusing shall then be; and the whole or any part of such fine, in the discretion of the Judge (after deducting the costs) shall be applicable towards indemnifying the party injured by such refusal or neglect, and the remainder thereof shall form part of the District Fee fund before mentioned.

1160. And be it enacted, that any fine imposed under the authority of this Act, may be levied by the same process as any debt recovered in the same Court, shall be accounted for as herein mentioned.

1161. And be it enacted, that no action brought in any Division Court holden according to the provisions of this Act, nor any order, judgment or proceeding therein, shall be removed into any Superior Court, by any writ or process whatever; but every such order and judgment made by the Judge in any Division Court, shall be final and conclusive between the parties; saving always, that if the Defendant shall plead that the suit is not of the nature of those cognizable at a Division Court, such exception may be brought, heard and determined as exceptions of a like kind may be if made in suits brought in a District Court.

1162. And be it enacted, that the Clerk of each Division Court, shall cause a note of all summonses, and of all orders, and of all judgments and executions, and returns thereto, to be fairly entered from time to time, in a book which shall be kept at his office; and such Clerk shall sign his name on every page of such book; and the entries in the said book so signed, or a copy thereof purporting to be signed and certified as a true copy by such Clerk shall at all times be admitted in all Courts and places whatsoever, as evidence of such entry or entries and of the proceeding referred to by such entry or entries, without any further proof.

1163. And be it enacted, that the Judge may make orders concerning the time or times, and the proportion in which any sum and costs recovered by Judgment of any Division Court shall be paid, and at the request of the party entitled to the same, may order such sums to be paid into Court: Provided always, that in any such order for time, reference shall be had to the day on which the summons was served on the Defendant, and the issuing of execution shall not be postponed without the consent of the party entitled to the same, for a longer period than thirty days from the service of the summons.

1164. And be it enacted, that if there be cross judgments between the parties, execution shall be taken out by that party only, who shall have obtained judgment for the larger sum, and for so much only as shall remain after deducting the smaller sum, and satisfaction for the remainder shall be entered as well as satisfaction on the Judgment for the smaller sum; and if both sums shall be equal, satisfaction shall be entered upon both judgments.

1165. And be it enacted, that no suit shall be brought in any Court for the recovery of any sum awarded by any judgment in a Division Court held under this Act.

1166. And be it enacted, that whenever the Judge of any Division Court shall have made an order for the payment of money, it shall be lawful for the said Judge immediately, or in case of default or failure of payment thereof, at the times and in the manner thereby directed, to award execution against the goods and chattels of the party against whom such order shall be made, and thereupon the Clerk of the Court, at the request of the party prosecuting such order for the payment of money, shall issue a precept in the nature of a writ of Fieri Facias, to one of the Bailiffs of the Court, who, by virtue of such precept shall levy by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such party, being within the Inferior District in which the said Court was holden, such sum of money and costs as shall be so ordered.

1167. And be it enacted, that it shall be lawful for any Bailiff of the Court, to whom a precept of execution issuing out of any Division Court, shall be directed against the goods of any party according to the provisions of this Act, in case he shall not find sufficient goods and chattels of such party within the Inferior District in which such Division Court is holden, to apply to any Justice of the Peace acting for and within any other Inferior District in Lower Canada, in which the goods and chattels of such Defendant shall be, and such Justice of the Peace is hereby authorised and required upon such Bailiff producing the precept and making oath (which such Justice is hereby empowered to administer) that the same has been duly issued out of the said Division Court and that the goods and chattels of the Defendant are not to be found within the District in which such Division Court is held, but are believed by such officer to be within the District where such Justice acts, to sign his name on the back of such precept, and thereupon, such Bailiff shall have power to take the goods and chattels of such Defendant who reserver the same shall be found within such Inferior District, and deal therewith in like manner as if the same had been taken within the Inferior District within which the said Division Court is held, and all constables and other Peace officers
