Council To Study Question Of Increase In Water Tax

A regular meeting of Huntingdon Town Council was held at the usual place on Monday, October 4th. It was presided over by Mayor Leo Cappiello with all members present. The minutes and a number of bills were read and approved unanimously.

Mr. Kenneth Ferns addressed the Council. He presented a request of the Shell Products Co. who would like to install some underground storage tanks for fuel oil and gas on a lot owned by Mr. Ferns situated on Centre St. The buried tanks would have a capacity of 40,000 gallons. After consideration the Council granted the permit providing that a fence would be erected around the premises and that Centre St. be used by the trucks only at a minimum.

Mr. Ferns said he will continue to use Henderson St. as much as possible. Tenders will be called for with regards to snow removal for the winter season. The Mayor asked the Council if they would consider making a grant in connection with the class for retarded children which is to operate in the United Church. It was decided to give $100 towards this cause.

Huntingdon High Pupils Enjoy Trip And Learn Much Of History

(Readers of this article will appreciate it more, if they realize that it was written by some of the grade six pupils themselves.)

I'm sure that many of the people who will read this story have already heard of the exciting and wonderful day Grade Six A had on Tuesday, September 28th, but I will relate it again, from my point of view.

It all started when our teacher, Mrs. Wallace, sent for booklets of history pictures from Confederation Life's Gallery of Canadian History. She received in return, the booklets, along with an invitation to go to see the original paintings in the Queen Elizabeth Hotel.

We started off at 8.45 a.m. and our first stop was at the scene of the Battle of Chateaugay. I'm sure the same feeling went through us all, as we imagined the 5,000 Americans being forced back by 500 British, Indians and French. You might think that the Americans won, but if they had, they could have cut off supplies to Upper Canada, to make the British give up fighting, and we would be Americans today.

Our second stop was at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, and I know that everyone was very, very excited. We all travelled up by escalators to where the art exhibits were. I never in my life saw anything more beautiful, and two of my favorites were entitled "First St. Lawrence Canal" and "Canada's First Printing Press". We

Business Told Image Is Blurred

Canada's top businessmen were told last Wednesday that their image in the eyes of much of the Canadian public consists of "misconceptions, misinformation and plain ignorance".

This was the message given to the closing session of the 36th annual conference of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce — but it was made clear to the 800 assembled delegates the fault lies mainly with business for not projecting its proper role in society.

J. M. Keith of Montreal and Howick, newly-elected president of the Chamber's executive council and president of Imperial Tobacco Co. Ltd., told delegates the chamber will have to make clear that the real objectives of business are "being for progress and for the people, instead of appearing to be against government, against labor, against much that is considered progressive in our society".

Business has to show that its economic aims are the same as those of all Canadians, even though in the past it has failed in presenting this basic objective in terms that could be understood and accepted by the public, Mr. Keith said.

"Business must be ready to align itself in our society along with other segments such as brought forward a motion regarding the town employees. It seems that there was dissatisfaction in this department. After discussion, it was decided to proceed as follows: Effective Jan. 1st, 1966, the foreman will be on a straight salary basis; other employees in this department will receive adjustments also.

Two tenders were received concerning the installation of a furnace in the town garage. It was decided after discussion to accept Laberge & Lalonde's bid providing it meets with the approval of the Public Buildings Inspector's approval.

It is reported that the contractors working on the water mains project will resurface the streets that have been damaged during the operations.

A motion by Mr. McGerrigle that the domestic and outsiders water tax be fixed at $32 and $45 respectively. The council is to study the question. A suggestion was also made regarding the installation of meters on all commercial water outlets. The meeting was adjourned to October 12th, when the council will meet the interested parties of the north section of the town with regard to installation of water and services.

Province Will Check School Buses

Transport Minister Claire Kirkland Casgrain said on Monday that her department will soon launch a vigorous program to inspect school buses and examine school bus drivers.

The program, to begin in mid-November, is an effort by the department to ensure the safety of 300,000 children who use school buses.

The program will focus on three essential points: intensive mechanical inspection of all school vehicles, tests to determine the physical and moral standards of the drivers and examinations to determine the qualifications and competence of each driver.

The program will be carried out in two phases. Four field teams of three men each, an examiner, an inspector and a licensed mechanic, will travel throughout the province checking both vehicles and drivers.

The department has also purchased two heavy-duty mechanical check lanes. These lanes are capable of verifying headlights, brakes and wheel alignment.

This type of lane has proven very successful checking cars. One lane will operate in the Montreal area, the other in the Quebec City area. If they prove successful the department will purchase others and extend the operation to other population centres in the province.

Priority will be given to older model school buses operating in the province. Mme Casgrain said that there are 854 buses that are 10 years or older, 854 are 15 or more and 358 20-year-old antiques driving children to school.

The department hopes to be able to complete the inspection of all old vehicles before the end of the present school year.

At 8 p.m. all adjourned to the assembly hall where the meeting was opened by Sister Elizabeth Stewart, Noble Grand.

Bro. Chet Oney showed a number of slides of the welcoming party which had been held for Sister Jennie Helm, President of the Rebekah Assembly of Quebec; Decoration Sunday, at Huntingdon Cemetery by the Oddfellows and of Mr. and Mrs. Oney's trip to Nassau. These were much enjoyed by all.

Sister Gladys McDonald, District Deputy President, was introduced by Sister Clifford and Sister Knight. Sister McDonald welcomed the other guests, the Assembly Officers, Grand Lodge and Grand Encampment Officers, Sis. Drouyn, Chaplain of the I.A.R.A.; Sister Jennie Helm, President of the Rebekah Assembly of Quebec, was then introduced by her Marshal, Sister Etta Herdman.

Floor work was put on by the sisters of Bayview with all Past Presidents and District Deputies dedicating their obligation. A beautiful basket of flowers was placed at the altar and a minute's silence was held in memory of Past Presidents of District No. 1 who have passed away, their names being called by Sister Stewart. Addresses were given by Sister Helm, President of the Rebekah Assembly of Quebec; Sister Drouyn, Chaplain of the I.A.R.A.; Sister Boy, P.P.; Bro. Drouyn, Grand Patriarch of the encampment; Brother R. Walker, Past Gr. Master, and others.

The collection which was taken up was for our President's project. The closing ceremonies were conducted by the N.G. Sister Stewart.

Still And Booze Seized At St. Louis de Gonzague

Three men were arraigned on September 29th, in Valleyfield court on charges of possession of a still and illicit alcohol.

The men were identified as Andre Lepage, 41, of St. Louis de Gonzague, and Gerard and Gerald Proulx, brothers aged 34 and 22 respectively, of St. Eugene de Prescott, Ont.

The trio was arrested by RCMP officers during a raid on a barn in St. Louis de Gonzague at 11 p.m. on Sept. 28.

Supt. Joseph Carriere of the RCMP said that officers seized 3,000 gallons of mash along with 320 gallons of illegal booze during the raid.

He said that the still had a daily capacity of 50 gallons. Police said that the men were going about their illegal business when they walked in on them.

They were fined $1,000 each for possession of the still and $500 each for possession of alcohol, or in default to serve a sentence of six months. It is believed the fines were paid.

Annual District Meeting Rebekahs Held At Valleyfield

The 50th Annual District Meeting of Rebekah Lodges of District No. 1 was held in Valleyfield on Saturday evening, October 2nd, with a good attendance of Brothers and Sisters from the three Lodges: Pioneer No. 1, Ormsdale No. 30, Bayview No. 46 and a number of guests from other Lodges.

A delicious banquet was served at 7 p.m. by the sisters of Bayview to 80 Brothers, Sisters and guests. A beautiful picture painted and donated by Bro. David Boyd was drawn for by Sister Drouyn, with Mrs. Margaret Brooks of Ste. Anne Anne de Bellevue receiving it.

POPE PAUL MAKES HISTORICAL VISIT TO THE NEW WORLD

Above is Pope Paul, who is visiting the United States and has lodged a plea for peace in the world at the United Nations Assembly in New York City. This is the first visit of any Roman Catholic pontiff to the United States and the new world, and naturally it is an outstanding event in the world. We believe it will have far reaching results in the days to come and His Eminence has received a great ovation wherever he has been. This has not been restricted to Roman Catholics, but also to Protestants and people of other faiths.

All are aware of the influence of such a visit and such a great departure from the usual routine of such a high man in the Roman Catholic world. President Johnson of the United States is in high hopes that this visit will result in a greater trend toward peace in the whole world. His hopes are also shared by all people. There is no doubt that this visit will go down as one of the most historical events of this age. So many new changes are coming about by the new look that is being given through Pope Paul and his predecessor, Pope John.

So, with the many other peoples of the world extend best wishes to Pope Paul in his mission for peace and congratulate him on making this, his first trip as Pope, to The United States.

High Court Asked To Decide Case

The Supreme Court of Canada was called upon on Tuesday to decide whether or not the province of Quebec has the right to fix a minimum price for milk in multi-quart containers.

At that time Perrette Dairy Ltd., 3750 Cote Vertu, sought through counsel leave to appeal a unanimous judgment of the Quebec Court of Appeal upholding an original decision of Judge T. A. Fontaine in the Court of Summary Convictions.

Judge Fontaine's decision two years ago upheld the validity of Bill 13 passed by the Quebec Legislature earlier the same year.

The statute allowed the Quebec Agricultural Products Board the right to fix a minimum price for milk at the retail level.

Judge Fontaine's ruling was appealed and also was the subject of litigation before three judges of the Quebec Superior Court before the matter reached the Court of Appeal — the highest tribunal in the province.

At that level five judges ruled that the Legislature was within its rights and powers to pass such legislation.

Perrette has maintained the right to sell milk in multi-quart containers at prices below the minimum fixed by the law.

As a result the company on Thursday last, faced more than 40 charges alleging it had violated the minimum price of the provincial statute.

Yesterday, (Tuesday) Perrette's lawyer, Emile Colas with McGill law professor Frank Scott, Q.C. as counsel, sought permission to have the matter decided by the full bench of the Supreme Court.

P.C. Nominating Convention At Ste. Martine Saturday

A nominating convention for the Progressive-Conservative Party will be held at Ste. Martine, on Saturday afternoon, October 9th, at 2 o'clock in the St. Jean Baptiste School. The purpose of the convention is to name a candidate for the Party to contest the election in the Federal constituency of Chateaugay-Huntingdon-Laprairie on November 8th.

At least one name will come before the convention which is Roland De Montigny of Laprairie.

He enlisted in the active army in 1939 and went overseas with the F.M.R. Took part in the Dieppe Raid, was wounded and taken prisoner of war. Liberated in April 1945. Took part in the battle of Mooksborg with the 1st French army and wounded.

Before the war Mr. de Montigny was a newspaper reporter and publicist. After demobilization he was Secretary, Regional Advisory Committee Veterans Land Act. Investigator for the following Government Departments: Finance, National Defence, Natural Resources and National Revenue. He has been with the Post Office Department for the past 11 years.

Mr. de Montigny is placing his name before the nominating convention on Saturday, in the hope of being elected the Progressive Conservative candidate in this constituency to contest the election on November 8th.

Mr. de Montigny was born on December 7th, 1914, and is married to Andree L'Euey of Napierville and has one daughter.

HOWICK AYRSHIRE PRODUCES OVER 17,000 LBS. MILK AT TWO YEARS

Donholm Master Snowball 2 V.G., owned by Archie Roy, Howick, Que., has just completed a senior 2 year old record of 17,013 lbs. milk, 706 lbs. fat, 4.15% in 305 days with B.C.A.'s of 230 in both milk and fat on twice a day milkings. Both her milk and fat yields rank second to her grand-dam, Hammonds Top Primrose produced 17,385 lbs. milk, 717 lbs. fat in 305 days.

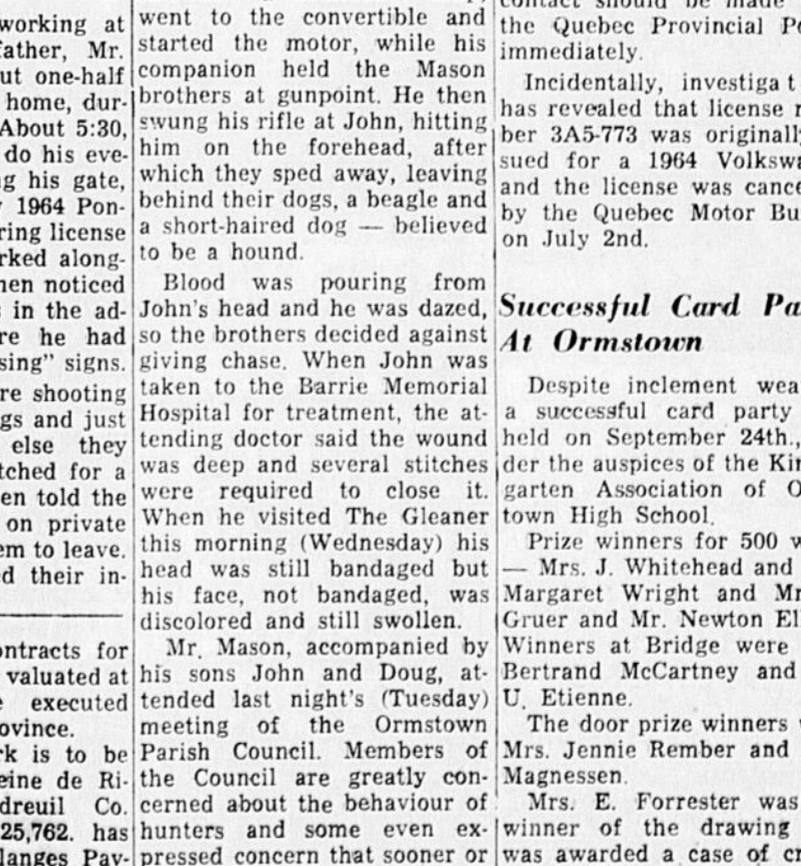

Donholm Master Snowball 2 was bred by Donald MacIntyre, Finch, Ont. and he consigned her to the Eastern Ontario Sale at Winchester last August. Archie Roy purchased her at a modest price and soon discovered he had made an outstanding investment. She freshened on November 1 and had the following weights for the R.O.P. Inspector: Dec. 13 — 61.5 lbs., 4.1%; Feb. 2 — 60 lbs., 4.0%; Mar. 2 — 59 lbs., 4.0%; Apr. 11 — 56 lbs., 4.0%; May 14 — 58.5 lbs., 4.0%; June 19 — 51 lbs., 4.3%; July 28 — 45.5 lbs., 4.6%; Sept. 3 — 44 lbs., 4.5%. Her yields have been remarkably consistent and it is possible that her 365 day yield might equal that of Top Primrose which was 19,455 lbs. milk, 826 lbs. fat.

Master Snowball 2 is the result of two consecutive generations of high production proven sires. Her sire, Hammonds Masterpiece, has a Contemporary Comparison rating of +8.8 for milk on 21 Effective daughters. High producing daughters are being reported each month by Masterpiece. The dam of the high producer is Donholm Star's Snowball by Burnholm Queen's Star. He is an Approved Production Sire with a rating of +13.6 for milk on 21 Effective daughters. Masterpiece is a member of the Eastern Breeders' Inc. Ayrshire stud and Queen's Star is a former member.

Master Snowball 2 gave birth to a heifer calf last November, but unfortunately this calf was killed by a train when she broke out of the pasture this summer near the Archie Roy Farm. She was classified last February and given a Very Good rating, the highest possible for a first calver. Archie Roy reports that she is an excellent feeder with the ability to convert both roughage and grain into large quantities of milk. He did not expect she would produce such a large record until well on in her lactation and she was milked and fed with the other 25 milking cows at Balquhider Farm, which has conventional type stalls in their dairy barn.

This and That in Town

✓ The R.C.M.P. located another barnyard still in the community, this time at St. Louis de Gonzague, last Wednesday. $1500 fines were imposed on three men. (See story).

✓ Is your car ready for winter? Wind gusting to 40 m.p.h. from the north over the week-end, brought much colder air and there were snow flurries Monday morning. Driving rain keeps the fields soaked and machinery still bogs down easily. Orchardists in the high land report considerable loss as some types of apples, not yet picked, fell during the wind storm.

✓ Mr. Roland Page, Returning Officer for the electoral district of Chateauguay-Huntingdon-Laprairie, informed The Gleaner today (Wednesday) that there are 38,678 eligible voters in this constituency. In the last federal election, 1963, there were 33,660. The 5,118 new residents of this federal constituency are mainly residents of Candiac, Brossard, Delson, Ste-Catherine and Laprairie.

✓ Bell Telephone subscribers received their new 1965 directories in the mail this week in Huntingdon and Ormstown. The cover page of the new book features the Edgar Hebert School in Valleyfield. Mr. Bouchard, district manager, reports there are more than 200 new listings in Huntingdon alone.

✓ Many of the new-model cars are on display throughout the Chateauguay Valley and are causing the customary comments. The styling trend appears conservative for most makes with few radical changes being reported on the 1966 cars released for public viewing to date. Most of the sixty-six feature new interior styling and there is an even wider selection of color schemes. Once upon a time, many years ago, a car was a four, six, eight or even 12 or 16-cylinder engine and that was that, but today's models offer half a dozen horsepower ratings regardless of the number of cylinders. Gone also are the days when you ordered a new car by asking for a two-door or a four-door; today almost every make offers an economical car, a medium-priced job or the super-duper top-of-the-line one that offers everything, at a price. And remember when there was only one transmission offered? Well, now we have two or more choices of automatic and manual shifting for each make. Those were the days when four-speed manual transmissions were considered for trucks only, but now they're offered as an option: four-on-the-floor for sports models. Even the fast-backs (refined and racier) appear to be coming back. Well, come what may, the cars of today are what the public want. Personally, this writer would like one of each. Assorted colors, of course.

✓ Announcement has been made that a new post office will be built in St. Louis de Gonzague.

✓ See advt. re. Huntingdon Firemen's Party at the K. of C. Hall.

✓ Ormstown Cubs and Scouts, AND PARENTS, are referred to the Open Letter to Ormstownians in this issue.

✓ Don't look now, but Old Man Weather just pushed the buttons for a sunny, seasonal Thanksgiving week-end.

✓ And a Progressive-Conservative candidate for Chateauguay-Huntingdon-Laprairie will be named Saturday evening at Ste-Martine.

✓ Mr. Jim Dawson, Principal of Bedford High School, was unanimously named official N.D.P. candidate in Bedford for Brome-Missisquoi riding Sunday afternoon. The nomination was made by Mr. Eugene Benoit, Mr. Dawson met Robert Cliche and Tommy Douglas at the home of Mr. Cliche in St. Joseph de Beauce on Tuesday (yesterday).

✓ Miss Barbara Beal, editor-in-chief of the 1965-66 Red and Black School Annual for Huntingdon High, is appealing to former graduates to fill in the application below if they wish to purchase a copy of this term's annual. Last year, there were just enough copies to go around and with the increasing popularity of the Red and Black, Barbara is wondering just how many to order. It would be appreciated by all the members of the Student Council if payment of $1.25 would be included.

Our Misunderstandings

MORE disagreements between people and between nations can be traced to misunderstanding than to any other cause. The bitterest conflicts within families and within offices and workshops have not been waged for great ideals, but for one opinion against another.

If, as has been said, life may be defined as the continuous adjustment of internal relations to external relations, then here is an area where we may contribute greatly to our peace of mind.

Adaption implies tolerance. Intolerant people have a limited outlook in an age which demands that we take wide views. Their intolerance shows itself in many ways, from simple withdrawal from society to "Hate-

HUNTINGDON LOCALS

Miss Isabel Fraser of Fort Covington, N.Y., Miss Lorraine Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gooch of Freeport, Long Island, were callers at the home of Miss Mabel MacMillan the past week.

Mrs. Erle C. Martin, with her sister Mrs. O. C. S. Wallace and Mr. Wallace, of Hampstead, spent the past week visiting in New York City and Somerville, New Jersey. While in New York they spent a day at the World's Fair and reported large crowds in attendance on that particular day. At Somerville, N.J., they visited with a sister, Mrs. E. P. Abrams, and her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Duheme of Glenelg, Que., recently travelled by train to Nova Scotia to attend the funeral of Mrs. Duheme's aunt, the late Mrs. Louise Hiltz. Mr. and Mrs. Duheme said it was a lovely trip. On their return from Nova Scotia they motored to Malone, N.Y., to visit with Mrs. Duheme's aunt, Mrs. Mabel Thompson. On their arrival at Mrs. Thompson's home they were greeted by Mrs. Burt Walker of Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Phillips of Toronto, Ont., are spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. David Booth.

Misunderstandings (Continued on page 3) as a life that is all black or all white, all indigo, blue green, yellow or orange, at though one or another will predominate at one time or one place.

The Athenians gave us the first example of the explicit recognition of the importance of social tolerance. They had minds open to new ideas and thoughts. We recall that on his journey up and down the coast of Asia Minor Saint Paul was mobbed and imprisoned and ridiculed and beaten, but when he came to Athens they brought him to Mars' Hill, their highest court, and said: "May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?"

Open-mindedness is not empty-headedness. It means having a desire to learn as well as having freedom from prejudice, partisanship and other mind-closing habits. If you have an open mind you are not content to uncover errors; you go a step farther in an attempt to establish true opinion to take their place. And when you come upon something excellent you like it, no matter whose it is.

Some causes of misunderstanding It will help us to avoid misunderstanding if we know some of their causes. There are many sparks which set misunderstanding ablaze, and since they are of about equally frequent occurrence there is no better order in which to mention them than alphabetical.

Anxiety is a frequent cause of misunderstanding. It results from the clash of desire and fear. In this country, where an outstanding job has been done in the way of decreasing deaths from many diseases, we have an increasing number of people who find life miserable because they are torn by anxieties.

Many of our anxieties are out of all proportion to the real dangers of the situation. Propagated as they are by Trader Horn, the earthy philosopher in Mrs. Lewis's story said: "There's nothing brings us closer akin to the spees than the tantrums we get into." When we lose our tempers we offer humiliating spectacles, with dignity, common sense and justice thrown out the window.

The causes of anger may be brought under two headings: fear and mortification. When someone lets us down at work or in society the emotion of anger arises instinctively. We fear the outcome of the person's blunder or we are humiliated because he did that to us.

We get so worked up that like Aase, one of the characters in Ibsen's Peer Gynt we "could make a meal of flint."

Then, forgetting that it is our reaction, and not the affront, which counts, we lose control of the situation. We write a snarling letter or speak a growling word. Our emotion, without the curb of our brains to guide it, leads headlong into a major misunderstanding.

We need to recognize the fact that we have control only over our own reactions. In our daily contacts with people we are like the lowly amoeba, unable to push others around but only to withdraw or flow past them.

This is why the man who seeks to avoid misunderstandings flies into a great calm instead of into a great rage. His calmness offers nothing that another can grasp; it disarms his opponent; it heightens his own stature.

A man is as big as the things that make him mad. It is said that Sir Lancelot had several sizes of spear, and would call for his Great Spear or his Lesser Spear as occasion demanded. It is wise, in our own interests, to err on the side of gentleness.

Anxiety is a frequent cause of misunderstanding. It results from the clash of desire and fear. In this country, where an outstanding job has been done in the way of decreasing deaths from many diseases, we have an increasing number of people who find life miserable because they are torn by anxieties.

Many of our anxieties are out of all proportion to the real dangers of the situation. Propagated as they are by the methods of news distribution which pursue us throughout our waking hours, and nurtured on our ignorance of the many facets displayed by life today, these anxieties become mothers of evil broods.

Dealing with criticism Criticism is a fruitful source of misunderstanding. We must be careful not to chill our friends' and our workers' lives by faultfinding.

It is well when examining a piece of work submitted for approval, or considering a project brought forward by one of your family, to look first for its good points and comment on them. Begin with praise and honest appreciation.

When the situation to be criticized is of a social nature, like the behaviour of someone, recall that he who points one accusing finger at another is pointing three fingers at himself. Robert Burns covered this situation in his poem "To the Unco Guid":

"Ye high, exalted, virtuous dames, Tied up in godly laces, Before ye gie poor Frailty names, Suppose a change o' cases."

But what about the reverse, when you are the object of criticism, perhaps unjustly? Your best defence is threefold: consider whether there is truth in the criticism, and if so admit it at once; consider whether you can profit by the criticism so as to make your work better or your life more happy; consider whether the person has the right to criticize, and if he hasn't then undeceive him gently.

In giving or taking criticism, recall that a fly, a lighting on Parliament Buildings or on the Arch of Triumph, is able to declare with its half-inch vision that there is a blemish and there is an inequality in the workmanship. Criticism based on limited vision, un-informed about the whole picture, should be brushed off.

Our Misunderstandings The blight of envy No man who is superior in any particular escapes envy. People think in terms of comparison. If he has a better garden, he is envied by neighbours; if he gains promotion, he is envied by workmates; if he copes with events so as to live happily, he is envied by failures.

Envy is the one revenge of mediocrity. The range of envy has been greatly extended by the instability of social status and the egalitarian doctrines of democracy. The ancient lines of separation have been erased, so that the envious man begins by asking "Why should not I enjoy what others enjoy?" and goes on to demand "Why should others enjoy what I have not?" Instead of deriving pleasure from what he has, he is pained by what others have.

A classical example comes to us from ancient Greece. In 1932 an archaeologist unearthed tablets of 2,400 years ago voting ostracism for a man called Aristides. He was banished from Athens without fault being charged against him, but merely because people hated him for being so much better than themselves. The story is told that as Aristides was walking toward the voting place he was accosted by an illiterate voter who asked him to mark his tablet in favour of banishment. When Aristides asked: "What have you against Aristides?" What has he done wrong?" the voter replied: "Nothing, but I'm tired of hearing him called the just!"

Indeed, as the proverb says: "Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous, but who is able to stand before jealousy?" Probably the only way is to walk along serenely with Aristides, leaving the envious to stew in their own juice. (Continued on page 4)

N.Y. Mrs. Duheme's aunt, Mrs. Walker returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Duheme to spend a four-day visit. While there she also visited at the homes of: Mr. and Mrs. Nicol Stark, Helen and Heather and children; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fournier, Michelle and Kevin; Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Long, and Brenda Lee; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Duheme, all of Huntingdon and Mrs. Jessie Knox of St. Anicet. She also spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Duheme in Valleyfield. Mrs. Walker returned to Malone to spend Friday with Mrs. Thompson and then was returning home to Poughkeepsie, N.Y., where her home is. Bon Voyage.

The causes of anger may be brought under two headings: fear and mortification. When someone lets us down at work or in society the emotion of anger arises instinctively. We fear the outcome of the person's blunder or we are humiliated because he did that to us.

We get so worked up that like Aase, one of the characters in Ibsen's Peer Gynt we "could make a meal of flint."

Then, forgetting that it is our reaction, and not the affront, which counts, we lose control of the situation. We write a snarling letter or speak a growling word. Our emotion, without the curb of our brains to guide it, leads headlong into a major misunderstanding.

We need to recognize the fact that we have control only over our own reactions. In our daily contacts with people we are like the lowly amoeba, unable to push others around but only to withdraw or flow past them.

This is why the man who seeks to avoid misunderstandings flies into a great calm instead of into a great rage. His calmness offers nothing that another can grasp; it disarms his opponent; it heightens his own stature.

A man is as big as the things that make him mad. It is said that Sir Lancelot had several sizes of spear, and would call for his Great Spear or his Lesser Spear as occasion demanded. It is wise, in our own interests, to err on the side of gentleness.

Anxiety is a frequent cause of misunderstanding. It results from the clash of desire and fear. In this country, where an outstanding job has been done in the way of decreasing deaths from many diseases, we have an increasing number of people who find life miserable because they are torn by anxieties.

Many of our anxieties are out of all proportion to the real dangers of the situation. Propagated as they are by the methods of news distribution which pursue us throughout our waking hours, and nurtured on our ignorance of the many facets displayed by life today, these anxieties become mothers of evil broods.

Dealing with criticism Criticism is a fruitful source of misunderstanding. We must be careful not to chill our friends' and our workers' lives by faultfinding.

It is well when examining a piece of work submitted for approval, or considering a project brought forward by one of your family, to look first for its good points and comment on them. Begin with praise and honest appreciation.

When the situation to be criticized is of a social nature, like the behaviour of someone, recall that he who points one accusing finger at another is pointing three fingers at himself. Robert Burns covered this situation in his poem "To the Unco Guid":

"Ye high, exalted, virtuous dames, Tied up in godly laces, Before

Misunderstandings

Gossip is vicious

Gossip drives many people to distraction and causes more hard feelings in a community than does any other vice. The gossipy person hits at everyone and everything that is not to his taste. His own merits he believes to be great and obvious, but with regard to others he lives in a strange twilight land of half-truths and perverted truth. He misrepresents zeal as impatience and bossiness, temperance and discipline as harshness, justice as cruelty, and religious faith other than his own as superstition. There are people who, being driven by slanderous reports and unjust suspicions, have become enraged to the point where they decided to strike at the gossip who was wagging a sharp tongue, thus doing themselves irreparable damage. A hardy man will perhaps confront the gossiper in the presence of a friend and demand that the slanderous statement be retracted. Less resolute people will bear with the gossip and depend upon truth to sway the judgment of those whose opinions they care about. Trivialities sometimes pile up to the point where they cause an outbreak of ill-will. A husband and wife may start discussing their family budget, swing over to arguing about the rent a neighbour pays for his flat, and end up in a flaming row over something that is totally irrelevant.

In no other area than that of small things is it so true that we behave at times in ways too foolish for a tear and too wicked for a smile. We dispute tediously about the abstract truth of unimportant things, and we cling tightly to positions we have taken regarding trifles. The cure, of course, is to listen, think, be moderate, give the authority for our beliefs, open the door so that the person with whom we are talking may come to our side of the house, and drop the matter.

Many things enter into the making of a successful politician, business man, parent or lodge member, but perhaps the most necessary is the capacity to put up with the cross-grained humours of fellow-men and colleagues. While most of us can bear great griefs with dignity, we resent little provocations. The things that we get peeved about fall into two classes: those we can do something about and those we cannot help. Herein we might take a lesson from a swordsman: when he cannot parry a thrust he takes it on his shield. Or from the Eastern philosopher who, when kicked by a mule, overlooked the insult on considering its source.

Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross, was of that sort. When a friend reminded her of a particularly cruel thing done to her years before and asked: "Don't you remember?" Miss Barton replied: "No, I distinctly remember forgetting that."

Prejudice is made up of misunderstanding and has no trouble in causing it. Voltaire called prejudice "the reason of fools." It is a cherished belief based on hearsay or tradition which blocks free inquiry. It is, in the words of H. L. Mencken, made up of "the idiotic certainties of ignorant men."

Prejudice means prejudgment. When you encounter a person who has his mind made up before learning the facts necessary to an intelligent conclusion you have run into what has been called "the law of prior entry." It operated in the case of Anytos, the hide merchant who led the persecution of Socrates; it operated in the case of Caccini and Lorini who were responsible for the tortures Galileo endured; it operates in the case of the person who arrives at a committee meeting with unbudging demands, of the politician who conducts a filibuster in support of the medicine man who beheads a missionary in protecting his privileged position.

What is pride? It is pride when we believe that the fixed stars were only made to twinkle for us; it is pride when a business man refuses to accept something new unless he himself discovered it; it is pride when a politician, exalted by the votes of the people, loses touch in his new grandeur with those who elevated him.

The arrogant man invites misunderstanding, and at the same time he makes himself ridiculous by affecting to be what he is not. Like rooster in the play, he comes to think that the sun could not rise without his crowing. To avoid misunderstanding arising from this cause it is necessary to be courteous, gentle, magnanimous and polished, while allowing to everyone else the honour due to his attainments.

The great wisdom in avoiding misunderstandings consists in this: use your grey matter to focus on the clarifying process. Define problems, solutions and the words used. Some of the greatest disputes would cease in a moment if one of the parties would put into a few clear words what he understands the argument to be about.

Every difficult situation we have to deal with is mixed, not clear. It is mixed in the causes that brought it about, and it is mixed in the emotions it stirs within us. We should recognize, then, that two or even three apparently contradictory viewpoints may be true, or partially true.

The next thing to do is debate the points in shared, side-by-side inquiry. No one has a right to call himself civilized who cannot listen to both sides of an argument. A debate is where you tell your thoughts, your opinions, and your judgments, admitting other people to your mind, and exploring their minds. It is not a place for double-talk to make a point, but for sincere speaking sparked by straight thinking.

The old-time debating contests so common among young people before the First World War gave splendid training in examining all sides of a subject. Whether for the affirmative or the negative, the debater had to make himself acquainted with the opposite arguments in order to be ready to meet them.

It is useful when each side in a controversy comes to see that the other has only the normal share of human wickedness. If only each side would preface its judgements with such a phrase as "it seems to me" many misunderstandings and conflicts would be avoided.

Kahlil Gibran, the well-known Syrian-American symbolist poet, told a parable about four frogs. They were sitting peacefully on a log when it became caught by a current and carried into a swiftly flowing river. One frog credited the log with having life; the second said that the river, walking to the sea, carried the log on its back; the third frog said that neither the log nor the river was moving, but the moving was in the frogs' thinking, for without thought nothing moves. The fourth frog said: Each of you is right, and none of you is wrong. The moving is in the log and the water and our thinking also."

None of the first three was willing to admit that his was not the whole truth and that the other two were partly right. So they got together and pushed the fourth frog into the river.

A changing world. It is said that the Chinese have a proverb: "Nothing is permanent in life except change." Change is part of a law of life. We must grow physically from childhood to adulthood, and mentally from ignorance to knowledge, and emotionally from insecurity to stability. We must grow, also in keeping with our environment. Complexity of living has come upon us with our progress in science and technology. We cannot close our eyes and ears to changing facts, basing our actions on the ideas already inside our heads.

In fact, it is well to have a cleaning out every once (Continued on page 5)

SOMETHING DIFFERENT!
CALENDARS
WITH LOCAL CHARACTER
MADE AND PRINTED IN HUNTINGDON
Businessmen, Church Societies and others, before ordering your calendars for 1966, check with The Gleaner first. You can obtain calendars which will have local pictures, or even pictures of your own establishment, or church, to impart individual as well as local character.
Various sizes and styles can be obtained, which will make your calendar different from others. You can choose desk calendars, pocket calendars, as well as the hang-on-the-wall type.
Price-wise, the cost will be about the same as you would pay for other calendars, perhaps even a little less. And you will obtain more individuality in your calendar that will make yours just a little bit different. It's worth investigating.
If you did not get calendars for 1965, we can make you something to fill in there too. Why not call us and talk it over. DO IT NOW.

Just when the others thought they were catching up, along comes the new Pontiac for 1966

The 1966 Pontiac is a beautiful car. Very beautiful. It is luxuriously roomy and lavishly appointed. Its highway manners are flawless. It performs with quiet yet unmistakable authority. It offers much that's completely new for 1966. There are new engines. Horsepower availabilities now range from 155 to 425. There are new transmissions. A new fully-synchronized 3-speed manual unit is standard. And you can order a fully-synchronized 4-speed, 2-speed Powerglide or 3-speed Hydra-Matic. There are new interiors. New comfort features. And best news of all, there's a completely new top-of-the-line series for Pontiac. It's called Grande Parisienne. That's it in the photograph above. One of 47 models in 13 great series for 1966. If you want a closer look, visit your Pontiac dealer today. He's expecting you.

The success car does it again! '66 Pontiac
On display at your Pontiac dealer's now!

Remarks Teachers Tired Of Hearing

Remarks that school teachers get tired of hearing: "In addition to your teaching duties, Miss Elmo, we expect you to act as chaperon at school dances, put on three plays a year and serve as career counsellor. We sure would appreciate it, too, if you could help take tickets at the football games this fall."

Misunderstandings

in a while. We can add many hours of peace to our lives if we are willing to throw away some old ideas and let bygones be bygones. We invite worry when we dwell upon the past, reproduce old differences of opinion, and painfully retrace the steps of an ancient quarrel. A man who is obstinate in a changing world is not showing signs of will-power but of vanity and self-conceit. He makes himself a nuisance by carrying his firmness beyond the dictates of reason or right. He is bound to feel himself misunderstood. Compromise is necessary in nearly every area of life. It does not mean gaining

FARMERS

Reports of TOP prices for livestock sold at the Monday P.M. Sales in this area the past few weeks, have been a bit confusing to us at HILLSIDE, and perhaps a bit misleading also. As the GLEANER goes to press after the Monday P.M. Sale, it is hard for us to quote prices for the current week, however, from what we have read, we'd be most happy to do so. As a matter of interest, our prices for the week of Sept. 26 were: CALVES, under 100 lbs. $5.00 to $20.00, 100-120 lbs. .20-.27, 120-150 .27-.32, Choice .32-.33 1/2. Drinkers .15-.18. COWS: com. .11; med. .12-.13; good .14 1/2-.15 1/4. Yearlings .12-.13. Young pigs 11.75 - 12.50. We are not in the trucking business, nor the vegetable business, however we have ample of both. Fruits and vegetables are on hand at 5 P.M. Bring your livestock in anytime on Tuesday. If you have a trucking problem, give us a call, we often have more trucks at our sale than cattle. Our sale starts promptly at 10 P.M., and we're geared to sell 100 head per hour. We have had a sale every week since May 1958, and have always tried to maintain a fair price for EACH animal, rather than a TOP price for a FEW. We have buyers for slaughter cattle and calves in any amount. Support Your Local Auction. It Will Support You. HAROLD P. It has, in fact, been said by statesmen and philosophers that in the new world which is coming into existence application of the Golden Rule is not only a moral duty but an indispensable condition of survival. The only way to prevent misunderstandings and thus to avoid many of the bad things that occur is by positive action. We need vision to see the best, courage to face the worst, adaptability to change, resistance to hatred and jealousy, and we need the Golden Rule. To seek understanding is nobility's true badge. Instead of weighing in grudging scales the good and the bad we see in those around us, we need to keep in mind that they, like us, have difficulties, sorrows, and wants, and that they are fellow-actors with us on the stage of life. We often hear people talk about the "imperatives" of life. What was the categorical imperative, the unconditional command of nature, formulated by Immanuel Kant, the German-Scottish philosopher? It might well have been designed as a means toward ending our misunderstandings: Act so that the principle of your action could be made a universal law.

INTERESTING HEALTH NOTES

Teenagers and young adults are often troubled by acne, a skin condition that is embarrassing and disfiguring. As soon as acne appears, the family doctor or a skin specialist should be consulted so that diagnosis may be made and treatment prescribed.
The amount of sleep necessary for a good night's rest differs from person to person. An adult can tell whether he is getting adequate rest if he awakens spontaneously at getting up time. If he finds it difficult to arouse himself and probably feels drowsy during the afternoon he should try to increase his sleeping time. Eight hours is usually considered the ideal amount of sleep for adults.

When planning a long trip, perhaps overseas, see your dentist for a thorough check-up of your teeth. A toothache in a strange country would entail finding a strange dentist who would not know your dental history. Make sure that no repairs are necessary to your dentures before you leave for your travels.
Don't go in for a swim too soon after a meal. Two hours should elapse before you swim or dive.

Broken glass is a difficult thing to get rid of and dangerous to have around. Do not toss broken glass or sharp metal into waste containers where anyone handling the material could be cut. At the cottage, don't throw broken bottles or other glass into the lake - it might wash up to the shore or to the bottom of a favorite diving spot. Put glass or china fragments into tins and bury the whole thing.

Children should not be allowed to play in the water with inflated inner tubes, since they may have small punctures or may leak while the children are depending upon them. A government-approved life-jacket is the safest thing for a child to wear while playing in the water or in a boat, even if the boat is tied up on the shore.
Since there is the possibility that an injured person may develop shock, it is always important to treat him for this condition. He may not show pallor, clammy skin or have shallow breathing or rapid heartbeat but he should be kept comfortably warm. If he is pale, lift his feet so that the blood flows to his head, providing it does not affect the injury. It is better to have him lie down, unless it is necessary to move him. Try to reassure him and keep people from crowding around him.

Children at loose ends on their holidays may try sampling the contents of bottles, jars and packages in the home which could lead to accidental poisoning if dangerous substances are left in kitchen cupboards or medicine cabinets where youngsters can reach them. If a child swallows a poisonous substance or any drugs, the doctor should be called or the child rushed to the local hospital.
Because your summer cottage well has passed tests in other years, is no reason why it may continue to be fit for human consumption without some form of purification. Water taken from natural sources should be tested every year at least, especially in Springtime. Until it has been certified in proper tests, the water should be boiled or have one of the purifiers added, before being used for drinking. Your druggist will advise on the several purifiers available.
Hay fever victims should avoid spending vacations in areas where the tree, grass or ragweed pollen counts are high. The patient should choose areas where ragweed pollen is low in count. Information on this subject is contained in the booklet "Canadian Havens from Hay Fever", available from the Canadian Government Travel Bureau, Ottawa.

Grazing Uses
Energy
SWIFT CURRENT - How relaxed animals seem to be at pasture - eating, resting, walking and occasionally frolicking.
J. B. Campbell, head of a animal and pasture science studies at CDA's experimental farm at Swift Current, points out that these animals are working all the time, making or storing energy to live a normal life.
Cattle and sheep use the energy from feed for maintenance, production, reproduction, and work, he says.
Maintenance energy is used to keep the body operating because blood and saliva formation, the beat of the heart, breathing, defecating and other functions use energy. Production energy is used to make milk and wool, and to lay down bone, muscle and fat. Reproduction energy is that supplied by the female to its unborn young, and that needed by the male during the breeding season.
Work energy is used for all activities related to feeding. Walking while grazing uses the most, but ruminating or even drinking water uses a certain amount.
On high quality pasture that produces a ton or more herbage per acre, a cow or sheep will graze six to seven hours daily, and only 5 or 6 per cent of the total energy intake will be used for work activities. As the pasture becomes eaten down, an animal will graze ten or more hours each day, and the work involved uses about 20 per cent of the energy intake used for vegetated pastures, daily grazing time may extend to 13 hours with 35 to 40 per cent of the energy intake used for work. About 13 hours is all that an animal will graze each day on any pasture; the balance is divided between ruminating and resting.
The results of a longer work day are obvious. More of the energy intake is used for work, and less remains for the other functions. Production is the first to suffer, with liveweight gains and milk flows declining each day. Maintenance will be affected next; so severely overgrazed pastures an animal may use its own store of minerals, protein and fat to stay alive. The sexual functions will be the last to suffer as shown by low birth weights, and smaller twelve-o'clock is south. (Re-calf and lamb crops.

Fire Prevention Week Oct. 3 - 9

"Why"

COLOURFUL posters, displayed across Canada are asking, in big block letters - WHY? As this is Fire Prevention Week it is a good time for The Gleaner to ask its readers, and for all of us to ask ourselves the same question - WHY?

WHY did almost 600 Canadians die in fires in 1964?

WHY did last year's fires in Canada destroy property worth almost 150 million dollars?

WHY have almost 2,500 Canadian children died in fires in the last 10 years?

WHY did Canadians have well over 80,000 fires last year?

WHY did most of these fires occur in homes?

Why indeed! Such a simple question deserves a simple answer and, just as the question is posed by a single three-letter word, the answer to the problem of fire in Canada can be found in another common three-letter word - YOU!

Why you? Because it is a simple fact that over 90% of all fires are caused by human carelessness! Either someone does something that he or she shouldn't do, or neglects to do something that he or she should do and, quicker than you can say "Fire Prevention", we have a new set of statistics.

Why - oh - Why - in the face of rising levels and standards of education, must Canadians continue to be so stupid when it comes to the elementary principles and practices that are all that good Fire Prevention requires?

WHY do Canadians persist in leaving children unattended?

WHY do Canadians insist on hoarding combustible junk in quantities that stagger the imagination?

WHY do Canadians persist in overloading and overfusing electrical circuits?

WHY do Canadians resist buying fire alarm systems and extinguishers?

Sure - - - Canada holds the world record for the highest per capita fire loss record and has held it for many years now. But isn't it about time that Canadians do something about his national disgrace and let someone else have the record for a change?

Experts estimate that the annual cost of FIRE in Canada, both direct and indirect, is not less than $750,000,000, and that each citizen's share of this ridiculous figure is $38.99!

Who among us would turn down a cash gift of $40.00, and yet millions of Canadians do so year after year, simply by insisting on the foolish belief that FIRE PREVENTION is strictly for others.

Well folks, while it may come as a surprise to many, FIRE PREVENTION is everybody's business and the sooner we all realize and accept this fact, the better off we will all be.

Fire can only continue to hit "the other guy" for so long! Sooner or later the law of averages is bound to make your home, your business or your family a possible target, and whether the question "WHY?" then comes to your lips or not, is obviously up to YOU!

Learn all you can about FIRE PREVENTION and put what you learn into practice - - - every day!

Once Again It Is Thanksgiving

THIS coming week-end will be observed as Thanksgiving throughout the country. It will be the last big holiday week-end until the Christmas and New Year festivities close the year's list of extra holidays.

As we take a glance over the year we have much to be thankful for. In the early part of the year with its drought, it did not look as if there would be much to be thankful for. It looked that crops would give a poor return and costs would be increased for the winter living. However, things took on a big change and with the rains that came the prospects for better returns soon became evident. It would now appear that crops will be more abundant and that is surely something to be very thankful for. This outlook has therefore been considerably brightened.

Now, this holiday has its hazards also and it is to be hoped that all persons will take precautions to prevent accidents. With the long week-end, trips to relatives and friends will be planned, some being of long distances and require hours of travel. Various methods will be employed for this purpose with probably one of the most used being the family car. Ordinary week-ends of late have been marred by the number of traffic accidents and we can only urge all who will be travelling, to drive with care.

If everyone will only drive with due care and exercise caution where such is needed, there will be fewer accidents. Let us drive in such a manner that we take our trip and return safely home and can give thanks that this has been done. Thanksgiving will then be complete and a pleasure for all. A bountiful meal with a friend or relative, an enjoyable trip and nothing to mar it. It can be done.

At this time of year driving conditions are not always as good as they are in the summer months. One particular hazard can be the combination of falling leaves from the trees and wet and slippery pavements. The days are much shorter and this will entail driving with lights. Speed should be cut down after dark as the distance to be seen ahead is much less than in daylight. In fact speed should be controlled at all times. The driver must be alert and in full control of his car at all times.

Have a safe and happy Thanksgiving holiday.

Class For Retarded Children In Operation

THE Gleaner can take some satisfaction in the fact that finally a class for retarded children is in operation in Huntingdon. For perhaps two years The Gleaner has been urging that a class, or school for this purpose be started in the area. Several discussions, collection of names of possible pupils and so forth, was some of the work done by The Gleaner in this connection. Slowly the plan began to gain momentum and an Association was formed to bring the matter to a head. Further steps were taken until the Association felt it could begin to operate, with the result that we now have a class for retarded children in Huntingdon. Eight children are now members of this class.

It is hoped that with this beginning, these children will be helped until they can become members of another branch which helps them to earn money for themselves. This is truly a great forward step on the part of our society to look after less fortunate members and who must have such help. It is a far different outlook that is held today with regard to these unfortunate human beings. In days gone by they were poked fun at and ridiculed and the families to which they belonged were looked down upon and shunned. All this has been changed and it is realized that by extending the hand in help, these people can be made to take a place in this society of ours. This tragedy strikes families whether rich or poor, intelligent and otherwise. The children must be helped, for they cannot carry on alone, and the families cannot handle it without assistance.

Thus it is good to see this class started in Huntingdon and to note the great response it is getting by the people who are volunteering to teach the children without remuneration or other recompense. The parents of these children do appreciate this spirit of goodwill and are co-operating in fine manner. There is a great need for more help in this endeavor and especially monetary assistance. Efforts are being made to sell Christmas Cards with a view to creating some funds to carry on this project. The better equipped this class can be, the better are the chances for the pupils attending. They will never be able to go it alone, but they will learn many things which will better benefit them in society. As time goes on they will be able to undertake certain tasks under supervision, which will keep them gainfully employed and occupied and that will make their lives much more interesting. Even to bring this about is going to make the lives of these people and the parents much better to endure.

Supplies of various kinds are needed to equip the classroom, which is being supplied without charge by Huntingdon United Church. Now that it has been started it would be nice to see it continue and expand so that these boys and girls can be given the opportunities they need. Perhaps in due time, provision will be made at the regular schools whereby these children will be taken care of through the regular channels. Such pupils require a great amount of patience as the results are slow to accrue. However, even the slightest advance is most satisfying to those who have the job in hand. It is an accomplishment which proves that there is hope and all is not lost as used to be believed.

SUGAR AND SPICE by Bill Smiley

DAYS OF KISSES AND ROSES

I have the deepest admiration for those men who make a big fuss over their annual wedding anniversary. My wife and I had another anniversary this week, and, as usual, neither of us remembered it until three days after it was past, too late to celebrate.

The reason I admire the anniversary addicts is the sheer boldness of their tactics. Usually, they are about the rottenest husbands in town, on a day-to-day basis. But with one flourish, extravagant gesture, they wipe out all their sins of the last 12 months and lay the groundwork for another year of getting away with murder.

Few of these birds are the gentle, meek, timid, humble, hen-pecked husbands this era has spawned, like you and me. Not they. Among their ranks you find the deer hunters, the fishermen, the hard drinkers, the poker players, the philanderers.

And yet, with a combination of utter effrontery and incredible craftiness, they carry it off every year. A big bash of candy, a flourish of flowers, dinner and a night on the town; and the old lady falls for it every time.

This is the part I can't understand. Women, especially women who have been married for a few years, are not notoriously soft-headed. And yet these women, who know perfectly well that the old man is a two-timing heel, an incipient lush, or a big-mouthed bum, go all weak at the knees when Joe waltzes in on their anniversary with a pot-pourri.

I'm not making this up. Let's take my pal Charlie as an example. He's real. I'll change nothing but the names. Charlie wouldn't be caught dead taking his wife to church or the movies, during the year. He takes his holidays in the fall, when the boys are going deer-hunting. Mabel stays home. It gives her a good chance to rake the leaves and get the storm windows on.

When Charlie finishes a day's work, he has a couple of six quick ones with the boys, grunts at Mabel a few times during dinner, grabs his curling broom or golf clubs, and heads out the door. Charlie's idea of a pleasant social evening for Mabel is to send her over to visit her sister while he has the poker gang in. After, of course, she has made a huge lunch for the boys.

Charlie has a lot of trouble with Mabel's extravagance. Heck, he gives her thirty dollars a week to run the house and feed and clothe the kids and herself, and she just runs right through it, as though the stuff grew on trees. Some times she hasn't even enough left on Saturday to buy his weekend case of beer.

He had me close to tears as he told me about the folly of letting women handle the money. With golf and curling fees up this year, and a new rifle to buy for the hunting trip, he figured he might just hafta cut down on the house allowance, if they were going to make ends meet.

Now Charlie, while a pleasant enough fellow to the world, and a real swinger with the boys, as a husband and father is not only a rat but also a fink. And Mabel, who is no dope, knows it. But you should have seen her the other night, when she dropped in to pay my wife back the five bucks she borrowed recently. Her eyes were shining and her poor, harassed face was all lit up, as she told us about the wonderful thrill of their anniversary celebration.

Charlie had come straight home after work, without drinks and with roses, hustled her into her glad rags and taken her out to the golf club for dinner. She'd had to come home with some friends, because Charlie had wandered into the locker room and got involved in a poker game. But she just couldn't express her appreciation of his thoughtfulness and kindness in remembering their anniversary.

My wife's comment, later: "I'd cut his throat."

In all my life, I have never seen grass grow the way it has the past month. Whether it is the pent-up energy and the nutrients accumulated during the drought, or just the very favourable moisture and heat of the past few weeks, I don't know. But with winter feed so short, it is nothing less than a blessing. The cattle will be pasturing out until the snow flies.

Just what effect this surge of growth will have on next year's crop is hard to say. Perhaps the roots are growing like the tops, storing away energy furiously to survive the winter. On the other hand, perhaps the extra growth will use up all available nutrients in the soil, and energy in the roots, leaving little to start off next spring's crop.

In either case, you can't lose if you fertilize those fields this fall. But it will have to be done soon to give the plants a chance to grab those nutrients and store them in the roots before freeze-up.

For this purpose, it's best to stick to the mineral fertilizers - phosphorus and potash, like 0-20-20 - for fall application. The nitrogen is usually best held back until spring, and then go over the field again just before growth starts.

There are the advantages to fall fertilizing, too. Dr. MacKenzie of the Soils Department points out: In the first place, there is usually less pressure on time in the fall than at seeding. Then again, bulk-spreading equipment can, in most years, get on the fields in the fall with less risk of damage to the soil structure.

A very real advantage to buying the fertilizer at this time of year are the price discounts. You will save a great deal more than the six percent the borrowed money will cost you. Fertilizer companies like to keep their plants running the year round; discounts in slack seasons are their way of doing it.

Boys' Band Formed

A large attendance of parents and students attended a meeting in the Huntingdon High School Auditorium on Monday evening when the formation of the Huntingdon Boys' Band was highly endorsed. Twenty students have signified their intention of taking part in the practices which are to commence within a week.

Labourers

At a special meeting of the St. Anicet Council, held on Friday, Sept. 20 it was resolved that the price to be paid hand-labour be fixed at 25 cents per hour. One man with two horses will receive 45 cents per hour. The council will pay these prices for work on the Leahy road only.

To Begin Training

Next Wednesday, Oct. 9, it is expected 1,000 youths, 21 to 22 years of age, will come to the Military Training Barracks at Huntingdon to begin their training. There are 31 officers already at the camp. The work on the buildings at the present time is about 80% completed with a gang of 460 men working feverishly to have sufficient buildings ready to accommodate the trainees.

Dear Sir: With the sudden death of Gerald A. Roy, The Barrie Memorial Hospital has lost a staunch supporter and a wise company will accept a note payable next August. But if you pay cash now, you save a further 10%. There is $11 a ton saved. Multiply that by ten tons, and you come up with a better day's pay for a few telephone calls than picking stones out in the field.

Then there is a further company discount - about $4.00 a ton - if you can take delivery in bulk. Many firms will do the spreading for $2.00 a ton. Harris reminded me also that there are substantial government subsidies on fertilizer purchases and on transportation.

Another place fall fertilizing pays off is on next year's corn field. Spread now and ploughed down, it has been proven much more effective than spread and disced in the spring.

We used to be worried about losing the fertilizer over winter. Dr. MacKenzie says any loss is small compared with the advantages of fall fertilizing.

Imagine, if you can, twelve pupils playing twelve pianos all at one time in one small room. And not a sound. Seems rather like a chapter from Alice-in-Wonderland, or like watching television through your neighbor's window, doesn't it? But that is really happening here at the College. The new music room, during a class, is the most silent place on the campus. Electronics have invaded the age-old art of music teaching.

The pupil hears only his own piano through earphones, and the instructor can tune in on any one of the twelve. These electronic pianos, I am told, double the effectiveness of the teacher, cost half as much money as ordinary pianos, and never get out of tune. But I expect they blow fuses instead.

I wonder, just wonder, if this idea wouldn't work for saxophone students, too. Incidentally, the enrollment at the College is the highest since the post-war surge. There are 1700 registered for the new term. Half are in the Faculty of Education courses, and the others divided between Agriculture and Household Science. The Diploma students in Agriculture will be registering on October 13. They expect a full house, too.

In this endeavor and especially monetary assistance. Efforts are being made to sell Christmas Cards with a view to creating some funds to carry on this project. The better equipped this class can be, the better are the chances for the pupils attending. They will never be able to go it alone, but they will learn many things which will better benefit them in society. As time goes on they will be able to undertake certain tasks under supervision, which will keep them gainfully employed and occupied and that will make their lives much more interesting. Even to bring this about is going to make the lives of these people and the parents much better to endure.

Supplies of various kinds are needed to equip the classroom, which is being supplied without charge by Huntingdon United Church. Now that it has been started it would be nice to see it continue and expand so that these boys and girls can be given the opportunities they need. Perhaps in due time, provision will be made at the regular schools whereby these children will be taken care of through the regular channels. Such pupils require a great amount of patience as the results are slow to accrue. However, even the slightest advance is most satisfying to those who have the job in hand. It is an accomplishment which proves that there is hope and all is not lost as used to be believed.

ROUND BYRE and RING

By Frank Napier

Featured on the front cover of the September issue of Canadian Ayrshire Review is a pasture scene on the Rockford Farm of Robert W. McFarlane, Howick, Que. A unique picture in several respects, inasmuch as it was made by Harry Strohmeier Jr., and that in the foreground are thirteen Ayrshire cows, all daughters of Marbrae Royal Choice, a former Rockford herd sire.

Recent 305 day R.O.P. records of the 13 Royal Choice daughters average 13,127 lbs. milk, 537 lbs. fat. The Breed Class averages of same being: Milk 151%; fat 152%. Moreover, these animals have been respectively Type Classified: 1 Excellent; 2 Excellent; 9 Very Good; 1 Good Plus. Incidentally the 1965 Herd Test average of the 35 cows in the Rockford Milking herd works out at 11,379 lbs. milk, 460 lbs. fat with a Breed Class average of milk 139%; fat 136%.

With further reference to the Rockford Herd Average, it is the sixth highest in Group C (26 to 40 records) in all Canada. This is for the season March 1st, 1964 to February 28, 1965. It is also the highest record made in that class in the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club area.

Elected to the Board of Governors in 1953 Gerry served on many committees and was Chairman of the Finance Committee during a difficult period. Following his re-election in April of this year he was again appointed to the Finance Committee.

To his wife, who shared his keen interest in the hospital, and to his son and other members of his family, I extend my sincere sympathy personally, and on behalf of the Governors, officers and staff of the hospital.

Yours very truly, Norman H. Simms, Chairman.

The Editor, The Gleaner, Huntingdon, Que.

Dear Sir: I would greatly appreciate your allowing me a few lines to express an opinion on last week's editorial concerning a school merger and on the article dealing with the brief presented by the Provincial Association of English-Speaking Catholic Teachers. Let me say from the start that I favor any plan which benefits education not only in the area but in the country as a whole. However it seems to me that there are several points involved here which may not be understood by all those concerned. The Provincial Association of Catholic Teachers is a recently organized group which has been for some time attempting to form a recognized labor union separate from the present union of Catholic Teachers which is naturally, predominantly, French-speaking. The question of whether it should or should not do so is a labor matter and need not concern us here. Nevertheless, I feel it has an influence on the question of the merger and the brief. The Association's action in supporting a move to unite English Catholic and English Protestant schools is, in certain ways, merely an attack against the present union of Catholic Teachers and the French Educational System at a time when fair play, co-operation and mutual understanding is so essential.

Granted some of their arguments are sound, but you cannot disregard the bargaining advantage they gain from such a move. If you need further evidence you need only recall what a representative of P.A.C.T. said at a Parent-Teacher meeting earlier this past spring on the very question of uniting schools. Any one who has been following the situation should be able to recall the point referred to.

I truly believe that unity is to be encouraged but not union of the English without the French - rather, the union of all (as you advocate but they do not). The educational scene like the rest of life in our province is changing rapidly and constantly. It will be another four to five years before the changes jell into a recognizable whole. Unfortunately, decisions must be made now and yet the general provincial plan is not clear or complete. The result naturally is confusion which frequently gives rise to despair. I said DESPAIR!

In case you do not believe this try walking through town and asking people what their opinion is of the progress of the Catholic Regional High School for Huntingdon. (I learn to live together not by being completely alike but by being wise enough to co-operate despite or rather because of their differences.

as possible; but feel that a good many angles have been passed over too quickly, and some overlooked entirely.

When I first visited Stettler it was the end of steel on a line planned to run from Lacombe, Alta. to Moosejaw, Sask.

It had two hotels, the Royal and the Hotel Stettler, a Bank of Commerce, several general stores, a large hardware store, a furniture store, a Methodist church, a Presbyterian church, two lumber yards, and two livery barns where horses could be rented to take land seekers out into the country.

Some took saddle horses, others rented a team and democrat that would carry a driver and five persons; thus sharing the cost between them.

Hundreds of new settlers were pouring into the district, and the Land Office was a very busy place indeed. The Royal hotel was owned by a big, good natured north of Ireland man named Brown, and he treated me like a son. He had two good looking daughters who waited table in the dining room; and were members of the Methodist choir.

Cars of settlers effects arrived daily; unloading horses and cows, farm machinery and furniture for the new homesteaders. These people were hoping to make on the prairie. Some of these fanned out for 50 or 60 miles to the east or south, and the general stores were doing a day and night business. Many of these people did not expect to be back in town for six months so it was important to get stocked up well with hams and bacon, dry beans, dried fruits such as prunes and peaches, several sacks of flour and sugar and all the small items a cook would require. Most of the settlers came from the corn belt of the U.S.; and were the sons who had pioneered the mid-west; so they were more or less prepared to accept the inconvenience of pioneer life. They were hungry for cheap land and hoped that they had at last reached the "promised land" of their dreams. To achieve this they were willing to sever their connection with the U.S. and swear allegiance to Britain's king. When I finally settled I found myself in a community of mixed nationalities; but most of them proved to be good neighbours.

About a mile to the north east lived the Richardsons; typical Americans, who had already pioneered in two or three new frontiers; finally trying their luck in Canada. One mile east lived Ned Young and his cousin Al Parks, who was a house painter by trade, and spent his winters in Seattle.

Ned's father was a commercial artist in Toronto; but he had a step-mother who did not approve of him, so he left home. At our first meeting he was wearing a wintery accumulation of whiskers and looked to be about 40 years of age; but a week later when he came to call on us he had shaved and we found he was actually 24. Further east were the Farr brothers, English bachelors, and north of them lived Billy Mills, also an Englishman and an entertainer of some ability, — music hall songs were his specialty, and some of them were on the shady side; but they always brought loud applause from the American audience — he was quite popular with them.

Just south of Farr's was Neil McMillan; a Scott who was a veteran of the South African war and also of the South African Mounted Police; formed at the conclusion of the war on the lines of the R.C.M.P.; and commanded by Col. Sam Steele.

Another neighbour was a Pennsylvania Dutchman answering to the name of "Dutchie" whom we did not see very often. In the same section as Arthur and I were the Holtzmans, and cornering on to them were the Smiths — English coal miners from Cumberland. They had three sons of homesteading age so between them held a full section. They had gone in for horse and cattle raising and had been remarkably successful; until a bad prairie fire burned eight of their horses. When a prairie fire overtakes cattle they turn and run through the flame, getting scorched in the process; but horses will run before the fire until they drop from exhaustion. They had two daughters, Minnie, the elder girl, was a typical old maid if ever I saw one; but the younger was a teenager and a very pretty girl. She afterwards married a widower with six children, — what a waste of natural resources, as Bob Hope would say.

Away to the west were the Schooleys, Muskoka people; and over by Sullivan Lake the Fergusons, Pebbles and Hoods. Lakes lay to the north west, west, and south west; and four miles to the east was Sullivan — the largest of them all, it was the source of our coal supply; and experience taught us that the best quality coal was found right told me about it one day at the waters edge. We would make a mud dam extending out into the shallow water about twenty feet; bail out the water and start lifting out the coal in large slabs like building stone. It was wonderful fuel, kindled easily, and left practically no ash.

Sullivan Lake, like most prairie rivers and lakes was down far below the level of the surrounding prairie; and that meant a stiff climb up to the prairie level with loads of coal, — if teams were available they were doubled up for the hill. On one occasion Holtzman and I had dug a load of coal and climbed the hill only to see a small prairie fire coming toward us on a half mile front. The wind was brisk, and my first impulse was to turn around and rush back to the lake front, but Holtzman was an old plainsman and he merely set half a dozen small fires going in the tinder dry grass. When a large enough area was burned over we drove the team on to it, and waited for the main fire to come up. We got plenty of smoke in our eyes; but no damage was done.

Another neighbouring family were the Farris's — Lonnie Farris and his bachelor brother "Roe Farris, who was a blacksmith by trade; but was too lazy to work at it. Their old father was a Civil War pensioner, and he also had a homestead. The father died suddenly; and as there was no minister closer than Stettler; the sons decided to bury the old man without benefit of clergy. Ben Smith, an old coal miner from Cumberland, Eng. thought they should have a "proper funeral" — but the Farris's said "the old man had never gone to church anyway" and they did not see that it made much difference, now that he was dead. So away went Ben and came back in an hour shaved and dressed in his black suit, and read the burial service from the Church of England prayer book. I wasn't around when this happened, but Ben told me about it one day in his best north country dialect, I told him I was proud of him.

When the long years of drought struck the west in the thirties many of these people must have been hard pressed to survive; and I would like to visit them some day and see what changes the years have brought about.

Occasionally I find myself lack there in my dreams, and find large barns and prosperous homes where, in my time, sod houses and barns were the rule.

These dreams are very vivid; and in the morning can still recall the modern homes and shelter belts of trees that indicate prosperity.

country before the farmers came in; plenty of natural hay and an abundance of water in sloughs and lakes.

The old buffalo trails were still plainly visible because the range cattle followed the ancient trails up hill and down dale. Buffalo and cattle are alike in this, they take the gentle slope in preference to the steep one every time — time is no object to them. One could imagine these prairies a century ago, the thundering hooves, the pall of dust that marked their passing, and the packs of wolves that followed to pick off the calves and weaklings.

Again we feel we are voicing the sentiments of a large number of Ayrshire people across Canada in offering our sympathy and condolences to Mrs. Roy and their son Kenneth, the latter the son of the firm of Gerald A. Roy & Son and manager of the Oakburn herd for a considerable number of years.

The Roy Clan
The late R. J. ("Bob") Roy of Balquhider, and the late Gerald A. Roy of Oakburn were cousins, in turn, respectively, sons of sons of the original founder of the Roy Clan of Howick, who migrated there from Balquhider in Perthshire, Scotland. The latter, perhaps the John Roy, or a kin of same, who figures in Robert Sellar's History as the original owner of Lot 140, Second Double or Irish Concession of the English River Area. By the way, there's an interesting chapter about the opening of that area for settlement; says the History, in part: They were double ranges and were better known by the names given to them than by their numbers — Tullochgorum, Fertile Creek, Australia, California, Milwaukee and Chicago" (also with interesting comments about how these names were chosen, but that's another story).

BILL NORTHWOOD

by FRASER WILSON

The September meeting of the Riverfield Evening Auxiliary was held on Tuesday, Sept. 21st in the church hall. The roll call was answered by ten members, each giving the name of her favorite hymn. The devotionals were taken by Mrs. John Nussey and Mrs. Ralph Reddick. The president announced that the annual sectional meeting of the South Shore would be held in St-Edwards Presbyterian church, Beauharnois, on Saturday, Sept. 25th. Plans were made for a new programme for mission study for the coming year. Mrs. Ralph Reddick answered questions on her recent trip to Scotland, England and France. The meeting closed by repeating the Auxiliary prayer, followed by refreshments.

Bridal Shower

Miss June Rorison, whose wedding takes place in the near future, was pleasantly surprised on Friday evening when, on arriving at her old home on the Norton Creek, she was greeted by some twenty of her old neighbours and friends. To the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mrs. Ronald Reddick, the bride-to-be was escorted to a seat under a beautiful pink bell and a corsage was pinned on her by Miss Muriel Cairncross. June then proceeded to open the numerous parcels heaped around her and which contained lovely and useful gifts.

After each article had been admired, June graciously expressed her thanks to her friends and extended an invitation to all to visit her in her new home in Fertile Creek. A little game followed which announced "Eats were on the way". The hostesses, Mrs. Leslie Orr, Mrs. Gordon Easton and Miss Muriel Cairncross then served refreshments and all enjoyed a social hour together. After having a peek at some of her wedding presents and other shower gifts the guests departed wishing June much future happiness.

Franklin Centre
FRANKLIN CENTRE — Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jackson and family of the City of Two Mountains, were visitors and callers on several of their friends in Franklin Centre, a week ago Saturday. Miss Roxie Denham has sold her home here to Mrs. McKenzie of Montreal, and has moved to Huntingdon to live. Mrs. Martin Brooks is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Parkinson in Chateaugay, at present. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barr had for dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Winter and family of Ormstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barr and Hugh in honour of Scott's christening. Mrs. Wm. Trainer and daughter, Mrs. John Sprague of Chateaugay, and Mrs. Stewart from Malone, N.Y., were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clarke. Mr. Fred Broder of Morrisburg called on friends in this community the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bryson's 25th Wedding Anniversary was celebrated on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Sproule. The following relatives from Franklin Centre, attended: Mrs. Willard Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dunn. Mrs. Mildred Bruce and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr.

and Mrs. James Jordan and Susan, Jimmy and Robert of Morrisburg, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. E. Tucker and son James. Mrs. Bruce remained for a longer visit with her sister. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cowan from Flint, Mich., were Monday evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waller and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Waller. Mrs. Shurlock has returned to her home in Montreal, after spending a few months with Mrs. E. Tucker. Mrs. Archie Lamb and daughter Bernice, spent the week end at Stanbridge East with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook and family. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lamb and two children of Howick were Sunday callers at the home of Mrs. A. Lamb and brother. Mr. and Mrs. James Eaton and two children of Montreal were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brown. Mr. Gervan Stevenson and son Fred, of Ottawa, were guests at the F. D. Stevenson Home on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cleaver and two sons of St. Laurent were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Sherrington.

Wednesday, October 6th, 1965 and Mrs. Phillips of Ottawa spent last week with Mrs. Lewis. On Thursday Mrs. Lewis had a tea in honor of her guests, and Mrs. E. M. Wood and Mrs. Johanna Koski also entertained for them. Powerscourt Congregation enjoyed a hymn song service on Sunday eve. On account of the storm, the attendance was not as large as hoped for, but those who attended appreciated the special service. A number of familiar hymns were sung. Mr. Carpentier gave a reading about a Russian Christian woman; Mrs. Wood presided at the organ and also played four records, dramatizing the story of Abraham and Isaac. The narrator of those records was Mr. "Bill" Hay, brother of Mrs. Wood. Sunday guests of Mrs. Lewis were Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Mathewson of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lewis of Dollard des Ormeaux. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wood and Ronald motored to Montreal on Friday. Mr. Wood had physical check ups and X-rays. Glad to report there is definite progress and he will soon start walking with canes instead of crutches.

good attendance. Wednesday nights prayer services are held, and a.m. and p.m. services are held on Sunday. How nice it is in so called "Christian" Canada similar services could be held and, what is more important, attended. Miss Dorothy Anne Taylor, Montreal General Hospital, spent the week-end with her services are held at 4 a.m. with parents.

POWERSCOURT — Venerable Archdeacon C. C. Phillips

A long interesting letter has been received from Rev. and

A pretty wedding took place in Riverfield Presbyterian Church on Saturday afternoon when Miss Heather Robb of Huntingdon was united in marriage with Mr. Donald Sutherland of Truro. The reception following was held in the Riverfield Curling Club with the ladies of the Club doing the catering.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cameron of Verdun were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Robb.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Allen left by train for the Canada West last week. They hope to go right to Victoria visiting with relatives and friends en route.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Templeton spent the past week with the Bunburys in Rawdon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Easton who returned recently from their western trip report a most enjoyable time. The weather over the prairies has been just as unfavourable as our Quebec season so that the greater part of the harvest is still standing in the fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Orr, family of Ste. Agathe were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Kees.

Mrs. John Cowan and Mrs. Andrew Cowan of Glasgow, Scotland and Miss Elizabeth Hunter of Montreal are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton.

Mr. Donald McKell returned home from the Barrie Memorial on Saturday where he had undergone surgery on his finger which had been badly cut recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moore and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Orr.

Dr. Kenneth McMillan of St. Lambert officiated at the Sacrament of Baptism on Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Templeton when their son received the names Allan Bruce. Mrs. Templeton later served tea to the guests which included Dr. and Mrs. McMillan, Mr. William Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Templeton.

Mrs. Jack Mac Allister was an overnight guest last Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Easton.

Mrs. Wayne McKell returned home from the hospital last Tuesday and we wish her a speedy return to her usual health.

Mr. and Mrs. Finlay Milne were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McCaig on Thursday and called on Mrs. Dugald McCaig at the Ovens Convalescent Home.

Mr. Paul Hudson of St. Lambert is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Murray Templeton.

The community was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mr. Gerald Roy last Monday afternoon. The funeral service, held in Riverfield Church on Thursday afternoon, was conducted by Rev. Wm. Brown and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

SHUR-GAIN—in step—
and a step ahead

- IN FERTILIZER QUALITY
- IN FERTILIZER ECONOMY
- IN FERTILIZER SERVICE

And now, in your locality, a convenient, new SHUR-GAIN SERVICE CENTRE to increase the efficiency of your farming operation

Over the past 50 years SHUR-GAIN has, through progressive research, close attention to product quality, and good service, contributed substantially to Quebec agriculture. Now with the opening of your new SHUR-GAIN SERVICE CENTRE, our intention is to help more farmers to increased farming efficiency... and so farming success. Because you expect more from SHUR-GAIN, we feel obligated to ensure that you get more. That is why... all SHUR-GAIN fertilizers are manufactured from selected ingredients for maximum plant food release... all SHUR-GAIN analyses conform to Quebec Department of Agriculture recommendations so to qualify for the provincial fertilizer subsidy... all SHUR-GAIN fertilizers are manufactured to rigid quality standards to produce a product that will not "set-up" even after prolonged storage, a product that drills or spreads precisely and evenly. Our new SHUR-GAIN SERVICE CENTRE makes possible further economies. First, there is the convenience of having a Service Centre near you where SHUR-GAIN fertilizers are available in bulk or in bags, either laminated paper or polyethylene. Here you have available for rental bulk fertilizer handling and spreading equipment. Through us too you can take advantage of the SHUR-GAIN Soil Testing Service, and the advice of specialists in fertilizer use. SHUR-GAIN fertilizer applied this fall will make and save you money by: increasing plant resistance to winter kill; reducing spring work load; and by ensuring an early spring growth surge. For your hay and pasture crops, money-makers both, adequate fall fertilization can pay you big dividends. Keep in step with progressive farm practice... and a step ahead... with SHUR-GAIN. Make our new SHUR-GAIN Service Centre your fertilizer headquarters.

Old man winter is arriving this a.m. (Monday) in Hemmingford with snow, which does not seem to meet with anyone's approval. But everyone seems to be in agreement that this snow will be of short duration.

A card from Mr. and Mrs. Alister Sommerville, on their Mediterranean Cruise, report a good trip, and that they have enjoyed a smooth crossing. They had already passed Casablanca, on September 22nd. They had already passed the Azores, and report it was good to get a sight of land, after seeing water for so many days.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Wilfred E. Kirnan and ford, with the exception of a about 10 years when she and her husband, the late Edward Perras, had lived in Saskatchewan. Three sisters had predeceased her; her sister, Mrs. Hercule Denault's death had just occurred about 10 days previous. Mrs. Perras had celebrated her 85th birthday, on Saturday, October 2nd, the day previous to her death. Mrs. Perras was a woman of sterling quality, and was known by all for her kindly interest in friends and community. To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perras and all other members of the family, we offer our sincere sympathy. Funeral was held Wednesday, (today) at 10 a.m. at St. Roman's Church.

Another senior citizen, in the person of Mrs. Edward Perras, passed away on Sunday morning. Mrs. Perras was the last surviving member of the family of the late Edward Stringer, and his wife Elizabeth Connell. She had spent most of her life in Hemmingvisit would be very welcome. He is appreciating the cards which have been sent and the visitors who have called. He is on the 9th floor.

Supper guests at the home of Mrs. R. Priest on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Bayard, Misses Helen and Claire Bayard and Mr. Matthew Oswald, all of Huntingdon.

Fire Prevention Week

This is Fire Prevention Week, from October 4th to October 9th, and the members of the Hemmingford Fire Brigade are participating in several ways. Instructive posters are being distributed around the village and in the schools. Fire Drills will be conducted at both schools by uniformed members of the Brigade and on Saturday next members of the Brigade, with their sparkling new Fire Truck will take part in a grand parade to be held at the Plattsburg Air Force Base. The parade will get under way at 1 p.m. sharp, several bands will participate and it is expected that 35 auxiliary units from northern Clinton County will turn out. Trophies will be presented to the winning units. All interested will be cordially welcomed.

Then on Saturday evening, at the Fire Hall in Hemmingford, the Hemmingford Brigade will hold a Bean Supper from 5.30 p.m. to 8.30 p.m. There will be delicious baked beans, wieners, salads, cake, coffee and rolls served and the charge will be $1.25. A dance will follow — a band has been hired, and there will be numerous door prizes. No extra charge for the dance! This fund-raising effort is for necessary equipment so it is hoped all who benefit from the services of our very efficient Fire Brigade will make an effort to attend.

Hemmingford Cercle de Fermieres

A course in Weaving has just been completed by members of the local branch with members of the Women's Institute joining in. The course, held in the Parish Hall every afternoon from September 21st to October 1st, was under the direction of Miss Francoise Noel of the Service of Domestic Arts, Quebec. Looms were borrowed from St. Antoine and Sherrington in addition to those owned by the local branch and the Hemmingford W.I. and the ladies who took the course were Mrs. R. Priest, President of the Hemmingford Cercle, Mrs. Eunice Farmer, Mrs. Margaret Keddy, Mrs. Carl Holmes, Mrs. Leo Fortin, Mrs. Leila Holmes, Mrs. Yvette Oumet and Mrs. Lomer Coallier. All thoroughly enjoyed their tuition in this old craft which was once so popular and in which there

Ladies Aid Meeting

ROCKBURN — The regular meeting of the Ladies Aid Society was held at the home of Mrs. Bert Rennie, on Thursday evening, September 30th, with fourteen members present. Mrs. Rennie conducted the meeting which opened with hymn, "How firm a foundation" — Mrs. Everett Lindsay read the Scripture lesson, followed with prayer by Mrs. W. Currie, who also read the minutes of the two previous meetings. It was decided that a donation of $25.00 be sent to the Huntingdon School for retarded children, also our annual donation of $10.00 be sent to the Children's Hospital in Montreal. Mrs. C. Waller, treasurer, reported $104.00 had been taken in at the Havelock Fair booth, also $15. realized at the Sunday School fish pond. A Turkey Supper was discussed and it was decided that we postpone same until an early date in spring. The next meeting will be held at the Arthur home. After the singing of the closing hymn, a social hour seems to be quite a revival. Several of the ladies expressed their intention of continuing with their newly acquired skill.

was spent when delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mossop of Providence, R.I., and Mr. and Mrs. DeWolfe of New York City, attended Sunday morning service and were dinner, and afternoon guests of Miss Cain and Mrs. Trainer. Incidentally Mr. Mossop, when a young chap attended the Rockburn Sunday School. Other Sunday visitors at the same home were Mrs. W. G. Trainer and Mrs. John Sprague, Chateaugay, N.Y., also Mrs. Gardner Stuart of Malone, N.Y.

It is reported Miss Doreen Jackson has sold her home situated north of Rockburn to Mr. McKinnon, who is busy moving in.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed in Rockburn Church on Sunday morning, with the three congregations, namely Athelstan, Elgin and Rockburn uniting for this service which was conducted by the Moderator, Mr. McMichen of Huntingdon. The church was filled and a hundred and twenty-eight people partook of the elements. Mrs. Mervin Farquhar of Rockburn and Miss Carol Brooks, Elgin, joined the church at this service and five baptisms took

NOW! FOR '66 FROM CHEVROLET

NEW CAPRICE

A whole new series of elegant new models — the most lavish Chevrolet has ever built. There's the Caprice Custom Coupe, Caprice Custom Sedan and the luxurious new Caprice Custom Wagon. Truly elegant in every detail, they invite (and deserve!) your closest inspection.

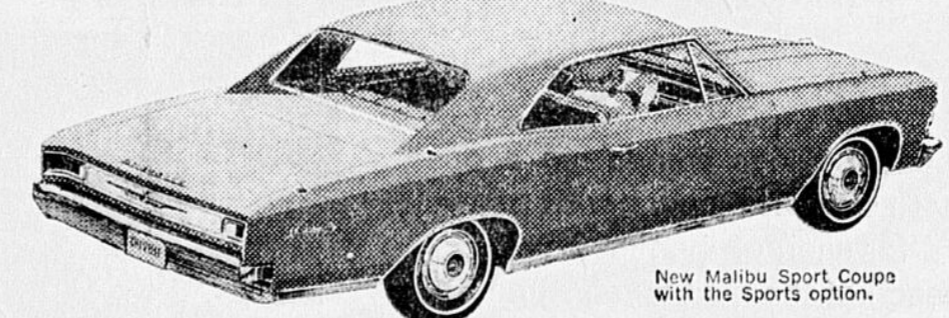

Custom Coupe — with a smart and elegant roofline you won't find on any other Chevrolet.

JET-SMOOTHER IMPALA

Impala Sport Coupe.

No Chevrolet has ever had a ride like this one. It's smooth, solid, quiet. You can specify a Turbo-Jet "396" engine at 325-hp. Smooth, quiet, plenty of reserve power (Just one of six engines available up to a 425-hp Turbo-Jet "427" V8). But really, there's only one way to find out all that's great about the '66 Chevrolet with its beautiful new Body by Fisher. Ride in one.

New Malibu Sport Coupe with the Sports option.

SLEEK STUNNER CHEVELLE

New sculptured rear deck, dramatic new rooflines, broad new grille design, powerful new engine range, and Chevrolet's kind of quality are what set '66 Chevelle apart from the pack. But the only way to appreciate a '66 Chevelle is to see it for real. And you can't do that here. The place to go is your Chevrolet dealer's.

Nova Super Sport Coupe.

ALL-NEW CHEVY II

Chevy II is something else again for 1966. We've lowered the roof, raised the horsepower available and given it a whole new look. It's so different, we should really call it the Chevy III. What's the economical dependable, salt-of-the-earth Chevy II coming to? A lot of very smart car buyers, the way we figure it.

UNIQUE CORVAIR

Corvaire, like all the '66 Chevrolets, has a padded instrument panel, padded sun visors. Seat belts front and rear. Backup lights, windshield washer and 2-Speed wipers, outside rear-view mirror. Fully synchronized 3-Speed transmission. All of it standard equipment. Corsas. Monzas. 500's. Come get one. Stay young.

Death came suddenly to Mr. Gerald Roy, on Monday, September 27th, 1965, as he worked with neighbours at his farm on the Tullochgorum Road.

Gerald Andrew Roy was born at Fertile Creek on September 5th, 1904, son of the late Matthew Roy and his wife Mabel Stewart. On August 28th, 1931, he was united in marriage to Addie Robertson of Riverfield and their home until 1962 was the farm where he was born.

The funeral was held on Thursday, September 30th, from McGerridge Funeral Home, Ormstown to Riverfield Presbyterian Church.

The service attended by many sorrowing friends and relatives, was conducted by the Rev. W. M. Brown. He spoke from the text Micah 6 v. 8, "He hath showed thee, O man what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God".

"Gerry as he was affectionately known, left a great record of work and service in many areas of life over a lifetime in this community. He lived with intense loyalty and devotion, to democratic and established principles of life and religion. He was a vigorous exponent of what he believed to be right but never sour or resentful, he valued happiness and neighbourliness too much."

His local interests were many and varied. He was a member of the Board of Governors of Barrie Memorial Hospital.

He served two terms as President of the Huntingdon and Howick Ayrshire Association, and was Chairman of the Cattle Committee of the Ormstown Exhibition.

He was a life member of the Branch of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club, served a term as President of the Howick Curling Club and for the past 8 years as Secretary of the club.

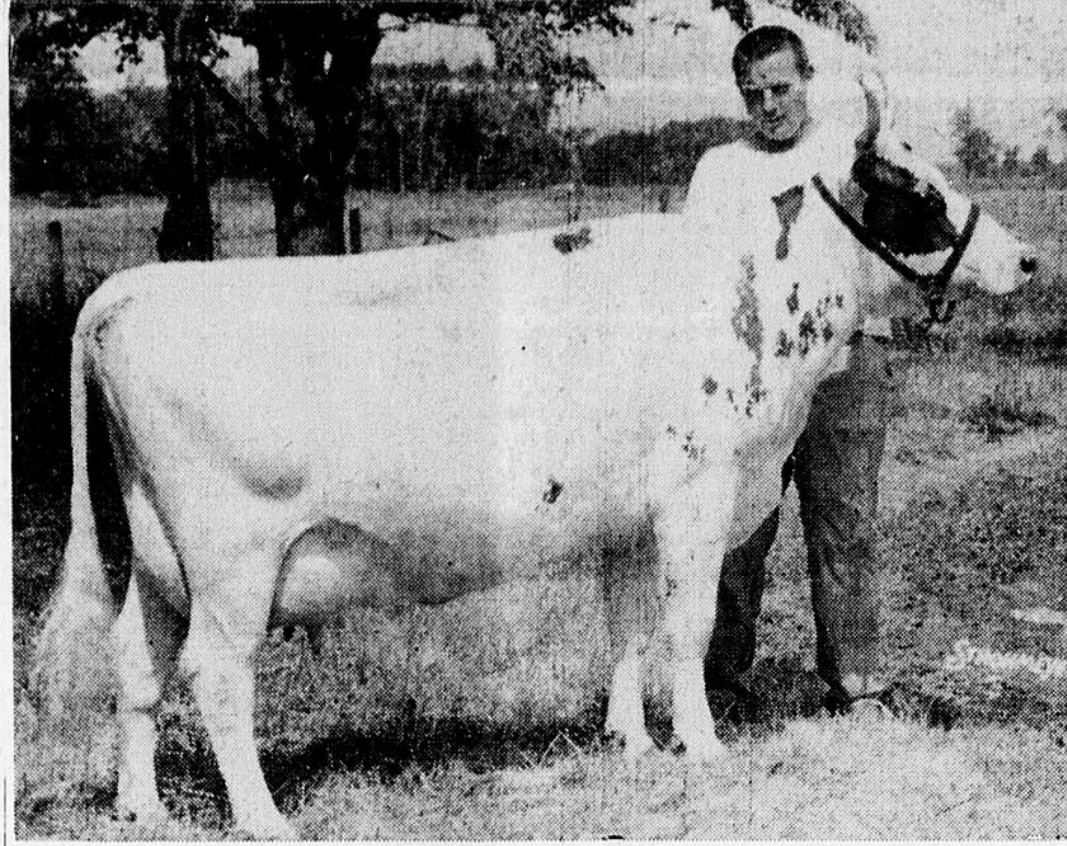

"His intense loyalty and interest was centered in his religious convictions, and in Riverfield Presbyterian Church, where he was a member for many years and served on the Church Session for the past 11 years with loyalty and distinction."

He is survived by his wife, his son Kenneth, daughter-in-law Jean and two grandchildren, Grant and Sandra, also a brother Stewart, and sister Caroline.

Interment was in the cemetery nearby, on the banks of the English River. The pallbearers were Russell Stewart, John Holmes, Clarence Kerr, Harry Angell, Roy McKell and Ross Peddie.

was one of the oldest and most beloved citizens of her community.

She was born at Tullochgorum, Quebec, on August 23, 1870, and in her long life witnessed the dramatic developments of the past ninety-five years.

She delighted in describing her excitement at viewing the first train to pass through this district, and her great ambition, never achieved, was to travel by airplane.

Her love of music, poetry and literature, coupled with outstanding culinary abilities, and her very real love and faith in everyone, made her home a very special place in the community. The door was never locked, and there was always room for one more at the table. Rich or poor, they were warmly welcomed, and given the best she had.

She has not left behind her a list of public achievements, but to her family, and all who knew her well, she has left a much better legacy.

This includes an unquestioning faith in God, and the life everlasting, a dauntless courage in the face of tragedy and disaster, and an unquenchable faith in her fellow men. These qualities were enhanced by a ready wit, a keen sense of fun and gaiety, and a delightful spirit of adventure.

She was predeceased by her husband in 1919, by her eldest son, Leslie, in 1921, and her eldest daughter, Janet, in 1956.

"So did'st thou travel on life's common way, In cheerful godliness, and yet thy heart, The lowliest duties on herself did lay."

Ormstown

ORMSTOWN — Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacDonald left last week for a holiday in Vancouver, and other points in western Canada.

Mrs. Donald Gruer spent the weekend with her friend Miss Margie McRae in Ottawa.

Mrs. Harold Kerr and Mrs. Lindsay Cullen motored to Saranac Lake, N.Y., on Thursday.

Mrs. Jennie Moffat left last week for her home in Providence, R.I.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Hooker spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Garth Coffin and family in Connecticut, U.S.A.

Mr. and Mrs. William Frost holidayed in Atlantic City last week. Mr. Frost attended a convention while there.

Mr. Keith Frost is attending North Carolina State University, where he is furthering his education in the textile field.

Mr. James Anderson and Mr. William Bennett students last year at O.H.S. are attending R.C.A.F. training school at St Jean, P.Q. Presbyterian Church Activities

The W.M.S. has made plans to hold a special thanksgiving meeting next Wednesday afternoon, when Rev. Mr. McMielen will be the guest speaker.

The Young People's Society will hold the fall paper drive next Saturday, see advertisement elsewhere in this issue for details.

Congratulations to H. Gordon Green on his nomination as N.D.P. candidate in his home riding in Ontario.

Mr. Laurier Gatién of Placement Acadie Ltd. accompanied by Mr. Roger Duquette of Ormstown, left on Monday for a business trip to Puerto Rico. Mr. Duquette has been appointed to the board of directors of Placement Acadie Ltd.

We read with interest an article in last week's Gleaner relating the story of a "Lost Brother" who was found by his Masonic Fraternity brothers. Did you know that the first Masonic Lodge in Canada was established in 1738 by E. J. Phillips at Annapolis Royal in Nova Scotia, and the first Masonic celebration to be held in Quebec Province was attended by British soldiers attached to Col. Simon Fraser's 78th Highlanders, on December 27th 1759?

This is Thanksgiving week-end in Canada. Since 1931 the second Monday in October has been set aside for the purpose of giving thanks for a bountiful harvest. The first Thanksgiving celebrations took place in Canada at Port Royal, N.S. in 1710 and the first national Thanksgiving day was proclaimed in 1879.

Red and Blue Politics

The term RED was used to indicate the Liberal party of Canada in 1849. At that time the party was composed of many factors, including a hostility to the Catholic Clergy of Lower Canada which resulted in the clergy giving the name Red to the party as denoting the color of the uprising in 1848. The Conservative party quickly seized upon the opportunity to adopt

BLUE as its official color.

Western Canada

Around sloughs and lakes still lay the bleached skulls of the older and weaker individuals who had gone down to drink and had become mirrored.

Often I would walk out to watch the sunset from a hill on the quarter east of me — the setting sun turned the western lakes to gold; and turning toward the east you looked out into a great lone some land which beyond the first 20 to 30 miles was absolutely empty. Beyond the darkening horizon lay a land that someday, when roads and railways had opened it up, would support a large population. The South Saskatchewan Dam is now out in that area; and in the Stettler district oil derricks dot the landscape.

Prior to the formation of the province in 1905 the mineral rights belonged to the owner; and many of the early settlers made good from coal and oil. I arrived in 1908 — just three years too late to benefit from the mineral rights; we did not anticipate anything like oil and gas in those days; and thought that reservation to the Crown was of no significance. How wrong we were!

Education In The Valley PART TWO

In my last article I outlined the administrative superstructure of the new Ministry of Education. Following the setting up of this administrative body the Department of Education immediately launched a most comprehensive and revolutionary change in the administrative and educational structure of secondary education throughout the Province. This reorganization is known as "Operation 55" and has been going apace since its launching just a little over a year ago. For an understanding of Operation 55 it is essential for a brief survey of prevailing conditions in secondary education. This survey is in no way a reflection against the administration of our schools but rather of the structure of education itself.

Secondary or high school enrollment in the Protestant Schools of the Valley last year ranged from a low of 40 students in one intermediate school to a high of 560 in one high school. Basically all pupils are taking the same course with a limited number of optional courses available to them. The compulsory courses are designed to prepare students for university entrance. If the student takes a minimum of ten courses in grade eleven and achieves a minimum average of 65% in these courses he may be eligible for university admission and will receive a High School Leaving Certificate. He may still receive a High School Leaving Certificate so long as he has a pass (50%) in at least eight courses. All courses, however, are taught at the same rate and at the same level for all students regardless of the student's capacity to learn or his ultimate vocational aims.

A brief survey of the results of such a program quickly illustrate its vast shortcomings. Approximately 6 out of 100 pupils who enter school may attain university admission. Only about 20 out of 100 pupils who enter school will obtain a minimum pass in eight courses and secure a High School Leaving Certificate. The drop-outs before graduation from high school make up the major proportion of our unemployment statistics. Those students with only a high school leaving certificate have virtually no marketable skills and are finding it increasingly difficult to find employment in this era of technology. One most serious result of our educational structure is perhaps unassessable. I refer to the emotional and psychological damage that our schools are causing in a large proportion of the student body by forcing them into curricular molds for which they are not fitted — have no aptitude and no interest. The Department of Education has recognized the deficiencies. Operation 55 is designed to reorganize education to provide equality of opportunity for all students and to individualize education to allow for individual differences among students.

In order that there may be a sufficient diversification of curriculum offerings to meet the needs and interests of most students while, at the same time, maintaining a reasonable economy of operation it is essential that there be larger groupings of students in each high school than heretofore. Dr. James Conant, the noted educator and philosopher, has considered that 1000 students made a most optimum group. More recent study and experience would indicate that 1500 students provide a more realistic group, and it is the number that our Department of Education has selected as the basic number of students required in our reorganized high schools.

C.W.L. Diocesan Meeting

A Diocesan Meeting of the Catholic Women's League will be held on October 12th, at 8 p.m. in the Church Hall of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish.

It will include councils from Dorion, Beauharnois and Chateauguy. Brian O'Reilly who was chosen as the best student of

Chateauguy Centre United Church

Sunday, October 10th, as well as being Thanksgiving Sunday, will be one of special significance for our Church. Phase II of the Church Building Fund will be inaugurated on that date, the period when growth of the fund should be accelerated based on individual contributions from all members and adherents to this congregation. A tentative objective of $25,000.00, has been set, to be raised by December 1968.

Church attendance has been at an all-time high consequently an increase in Church School registration. Superintendent Nelson Weippert has been compelled to register children and ask them to wait to attend until such time as additional teachers are available. Some parents are shocked to hear this and inclined to be critical of the present staff. However, to fully understand the situation one must attend Sunday morning, at 9:00 a.m., to realize how desperately teachers are needed, and how it would be impossible to truly teach more children than the present handful of teachers is doing. Your help is needed NOW, so don't wait to be asked; volunteer.

The sincere sympathy of the congregation goes out, at this time to Mr. and Mrs. H. Sarrazin of 102 Hillside Drive on the sudden death of their little baby. Our thoughts are with them at this time.

The third Sunday of every month has been set aside as "Baptismal" Sunday, and anyone desiring to have a child baptized is asked to get in touch with Rev. R. Dewitt Scott at 484-0372. He will be pleased to make all necessary arrangements.

Choir practices are held every Wednesday evening at 7:45, and voices are needed (particularly Tenors). Additional information available from Mrs. Rhoda Rowntree at 691-1424, or by contacting the minister at 484-0372.

Grade 10 to attend the Bilingual United Nations Seminar (see Gleaner, August 18th.) will be there to give his report on what occurred during his week's stay at the Seminar.

A special invitation is extended to all members and new parishioners.

Parks Programme Takes Shape

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

The Parks By-Law of the Town of Chateauguy awaits a few legal technicalities before it can be sent for consideration by the Quebec Government. Mr. Armand Poupart, legal counsel to the Town, has been instructed to complete the drafting of the By-Law at the earliest possible moment. His task is complicated by the necessity of filling in the precise details of the land to be expropriated under the By-Law.

In the meantime, the Parks Committee, composed of Alderman Mr. Philip Bonneau and Mr. Aldor Hebert and Engineer Mr. C. A. Laberge met last week-end to ensure that once approval is received from Quebec, there will be no unnecessary delay in putting the Parks plans into action. A provisional schedule for the work was drawn up. It is proposed to clean out the various parks of dead and sick trees this fall, and place fill in selected areas. Excavation will be done this fall for water lines which will provide drinking water and sprinkler water for grass and shrubs. It is hoped that the water would be available in time for the coming winter, to service the hockey rinks.

Negotiations are scheduled to start soon with the various school authorities. It is planned to adopt the "Park School System" in cases where parks or playgrounds adjoin school property. Under this system, the parks and their facilities would be available to the schools during school hours, in return for the use of school facilities, such as classrooms, gymnasiums, during out-of-school hours. It is foreseen that such arrangements will be formalized in a contract between the school concerned and the Parks Committee, representing the Town.

Pope Paul VI On Historic Mission

(By Russ Faughnan)

The message from Pope Paul VI to the people of the world was presented in its most simple form last Monday. Peace, Peace. The message was simple, its delivery was majestic.

Roman Catholics were looking forward to the day when the leader of their church would, for the first time, set foot on the soil of North America. Non Catholics were curious about the man that could command such worldwide attention. We all found out why Pope Paul VI is today the most influential moral authority in the world. In his own words, "Rejoice, this is the day, this is the day you have waited for." And it was.

The advance billing seemed to concentrate on the Pope's speech to the General Assembly of the United Nations. The world waited for the anticipated words of peace. What else could a Pope say? The speech to the United Nations was almost an anti-climax. But it took the whole day to get the message across. The message of faith and love that the Pope spelled out with every word, every action, almost every breath he drew. "You must have peace," he said, "and you must serve the cause of peace." It is not enough to want peace but every man, every God-fearing man must actively campaign and promote and live for peace. He talked of disarmament. He talked of the terrible weapons at hand. He did not try to say that defense was wrong. For Paul is a practical man. But, in spite of it because of that practicality, he laid it right on the line. "No more war." Not as a hope. Not as a prayer. Not even as some future objective. A plain simple statement of logic, if logic is to prevail. "No more war."

We felt that the high point of the day, was the solemn Mass, in a baseball stadium with nearly 100,000 participants. It seems incredible but it is true that you could hear a pin drop during the service. The simple drama reached fantastic proportions. All who witnessed it knew they were watching history.

Father Frederick Belanger, pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, called the Pope's visit one of the greatest historical events of our time. He pointed out that the Pope presented himself to us first as a man, second as a statesman and third as a Pope. Father Belanger said "The Pope has given new moral strength to the United Nations at a time when it is most needed. His visit will awaken man's deep religious sentiment which appeared to have been sleeping. The effect of the Pope's visit will continue to be felt and will grow upon us in the months and years to come."

It seems certain that no matter what our religious inclination, we are all bound to feel the influence of this event. The impact of this man's presence in our midst can best be judged by the fantastic reception he received. No one else in the world, kings, presidents or Holy Men, could have aroused such interest and absorbed attention. Let us be

PROTESTANT TEACHERS' CONVENTION LATER THIS YEAR

(By Edith Bate)

For the past thirteen years the Thanksgiving Monday and Teachers' Convention dates have coincided, giving students an extra long holiday. However these two dates have been separated this year for the first time. The schools under the Protestant Board here in Chateauguy will be closed all day as follows: — Thanksgiving, Monday, October 11th.; Teachers' Convention, Thursday and Friday, November 4th. and 5th. Quite a number of parents have made plans to go away anticipating that the children would be getting the extra two days at Thanksgiving time. Director of Studies, Mr. Ferris would like parents to bear in mind the change in dates. Students must return to classes on Tuesday, October 12th.

Heights And Town Of Chateauguy To Amalgamate?

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

A meeting of the Councils of the Towns of Chateauguy and Chateauguy Heights was held at Chateauguy Town Hall, on Monday evening. The two councils held an amicable meeting on the possibility of amalgamating the two Municipalities under the provisions of Provincial Bill 13, the Voluntary Amalgamation Bill, or by other means acceptable to the two towns. Heights Council was fully represented by Mayor Jean Laberge and Aldermen F. Behrens, John Friedlander, F. Lunn and Roland Thauvette. Town of Chateauguy Council was represented by Mayor Joseph Laberge and Aldermen Philip Bonneau, Herbert Oliver, L. J. Sottiaux, Paul Merette, Aldor Hebert and Paul Garand. Alderman Ernest Dupont arrived late for most of the informal discussion, and Town Secretary-Treasurer Claude Hurtubise acted as secretary for the meeting.

It is interesting to note that some three years ago another Heights delegation led by the then Mayor David Currie met with the Town of Chateauguy Council. The agenda at that meeting was also amalgamation, but the talks then held did not lead to any further action.

But now the times are different. There have been many signs that the Provincial Government is determined to force the pace of amalgamation to the end that needless duplication of municipal administrative costs will be avoided.

The meeting on Monday was of an exploratory nature, and came within the promises made by the present members of Heights Council when they were elected to a two-year term of office in June 1964, namely to proceed as speedily as possible with the installation of a modern water and sewerage system. For the sixteen years following the formation of the Heights as a separate municipality, successive Councils failed to provide any effective action towards fulfilling the whole raison d'être of Chateauguy Heights. A modern water and sewer system is now being installed in the Heights and the scheduled date for completion of the water lines is late November.

Late Monday's "Joint Meeting" agreed quickly that a sub-committee composed of two Aldermen from each Town would meet at Chateauguy Town Hall on Thursday, October 14th., to discuss the practical details of amalgamation, and report back to the respective Councils. Aldermen Friedlander and Lunn will represent the Town of Chateauguy Heights, and the two representatives for the Town of Chateauguy will be named shortly. Town Secretary Hurtubise will make his considerable experience in amalgamation problems available to the committee. His experience was painfully gained at the abortive series of meetings over the past year between the Town and the Centre.

First General Meeting Of Seignior Park Co-Op Pre-School Association

The main feature of the general meeting of the Seignior Park Co-operative Pre-school Association, held on September 27, was the election of committee heads.

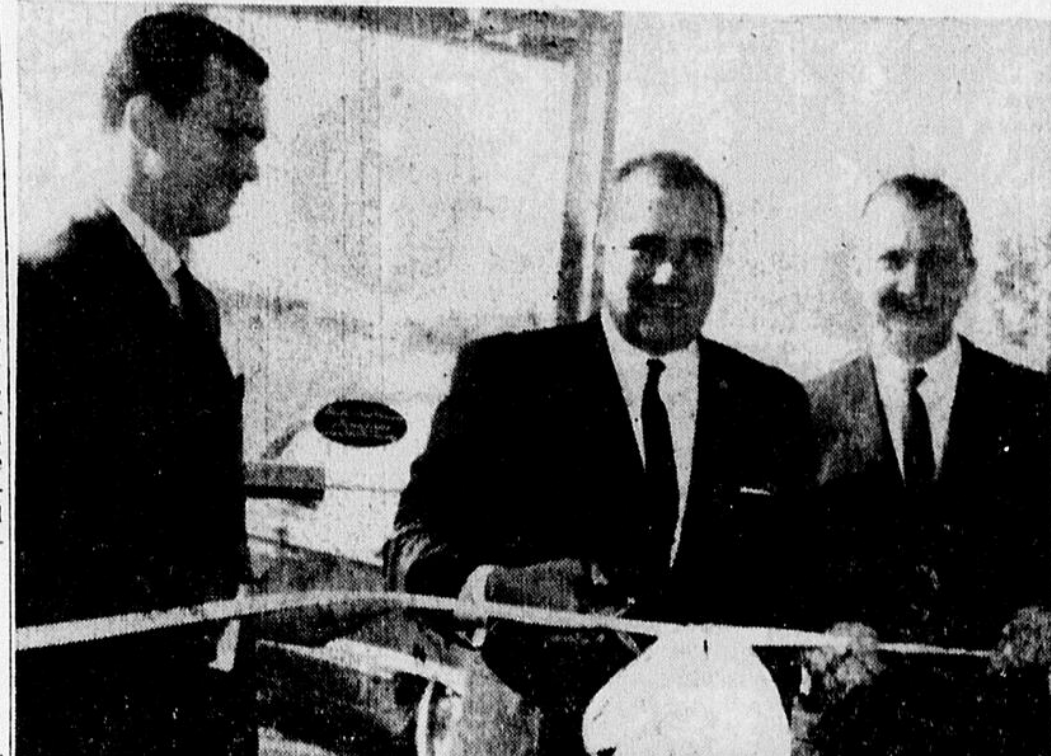

One of the most attractive aspects of co-operative pre-schools is that the opportunity is provided for mothers of young children to take an active part in a mutual endeavor. There are many phases of school administration which vary widely in their duties.

thankful that there is one man who could... and did. And let us pray that he will show us how we can accomplish what we must do. Peace. Peace. Peace.

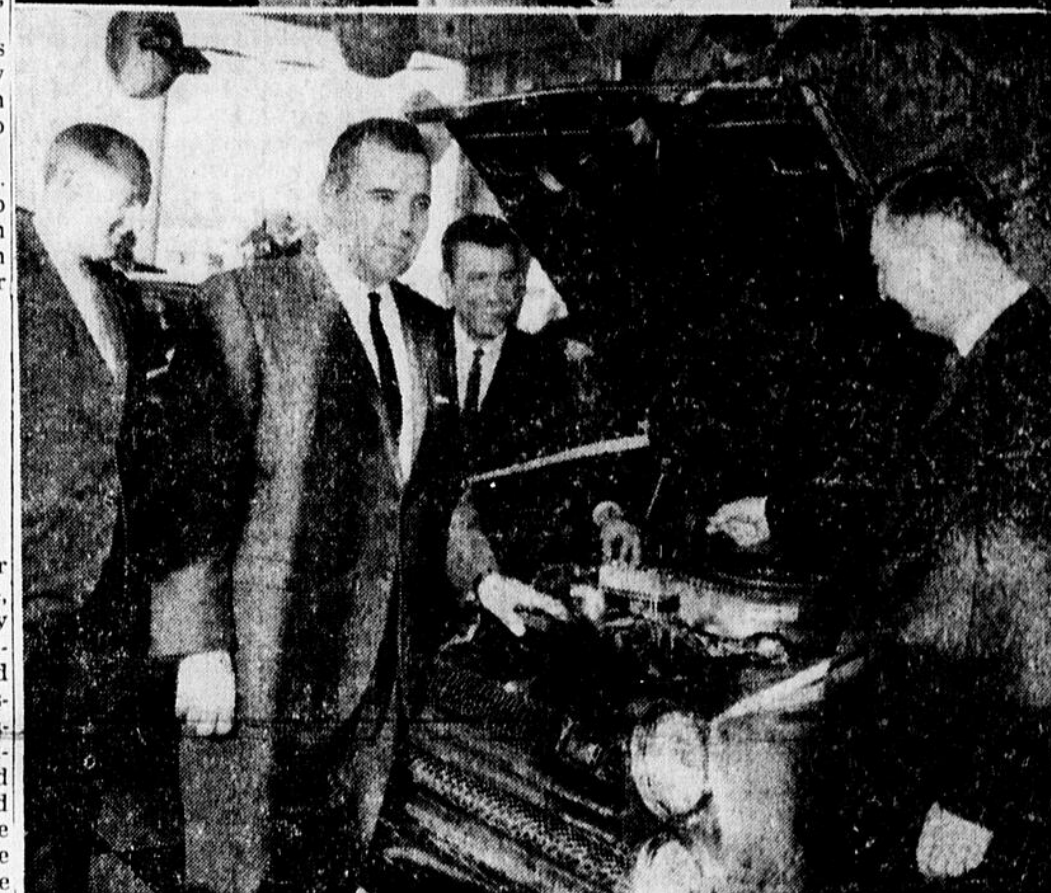

The women who undertake them, can, in a period of years of association with the school, gain valuable experience that will stand them in good stead, where volunteer and community work are concerned, for the rest of their active lives.

The co-operative ideal and responsibilities shared not only give young mothers worthwhile interests outside their homes, but provide for personal growth and enrichment.

The Chairman of the Association, Mrs. Pat Bedard, conducted the first meeting of her term of office. She introduced the new executive, elected in May of 1965. Mrs.

FINCH MERCURY SALES OPENING

The official opening of the premises of Finch Mercury Sales was held last Saturday. Mr. Gilles Gauthier of Ford Motors Co. acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the guests of honour, Mayor Sutterlin of Chateauguy Centre noted that the establishment of this new enterprise was another indication of the progress that Chateauguy Centre is making. Father Rainville of Marie-Vianney Church then blessed the premises and wished success to the enterprise. Mr. George Kennedy, M.P.P. for Chateauguy County, congratulated Mr. Finch for the quality of his establishment and the confidence he had in Chateauguy. Mr. Roch, assistant sales manager of Ford Motor Co. outlined how a careful search for the granting of the Mercury franchise, had led to Mr. Finch. Mr. Brian Finch, president of Finch Mercury Sales then thanked all those present for their encouragement. In the top picture we see Mayor Sutterlin, in the centre cutting the ribbon. At the right is Mr. Brian Finch, at the left Mr. Gilles Gauthier. In the lower picture left to right: Mr. George Kennedy, Mayor Sutterlin, George Laffleche and Mr. Brian Finch. (Photos by Pat Wilkins)

Bedard spoke about the principle of parent co-operation, pointing out that the school is owned jointly by parents whose children are enrolled in any particular year. She said that parents reap rewards commensurate with their efforts on behalf of the school, and exhorted each to give of her best.

An Executive Position Filled
The secretary elected in May, Mrs. Lillian Lamb, has since moved to the United States. Mrs. Joan Hodgkin, who has been Acting Secretary since Mrs. Lamb left, was elected to the post of Secretary. This will be Mrs. Hodgkin's second term as Secretary, and she has earned a reputation for thoroughness, dependability, and willingness to serve beyond the requirements of duty.

Previous Appointments
It had been necessary for the sake of continuity to make interim appointments, which were confirmed at the general meeting. Mrs. Marjorie Hewitt, a Director of the Association, is Equipment Chairwoman. Mrs. Yvonne Hogan will serve as Refreshment Committee Chairman, and Mrs. Martha Strike will do Publicity and Parent Education Programming.

Lakeshore Council Representative
Mrs. Jane Horsburgh was nominated for this position and elected by acclamation. She will be assisted by Mrs. Penelope Blink and Mrs. Gertrude Lenhart. This position involves attendance at the monthly Lakeshore Council meetings. The Seignior Park Co-op is an auxiliary member, and, in order to benefit fully, it is vital to keep a close relationship with the Council. is an interesting and exhilarating experience for everyone involved, parents and children alike, but it is a good deal more than that. This year's enrollment of 20 brings the total over the last four years to 110. While this figure does not take into account those children who attended two and three years, it is still a considerable number. These children, when they get into the public school system, are prepared, prepared to settle down and learn.

The Telephone Committee
Someone should write a paean of praise to the heroic people in every organization who commit themselves to the devotion this post requires. This year, Mrs. Anke Henke will head the committee, assisted by Mrs. Barbara Hummel, and Mrs. Maryke Vanderwoude.

Assistant Mother Scheduling
The school is fortunate in having some remarkable people, but none is more remarkable than Mrs. Monique D'Anjou, who is the mother of five children, all under the age of five; who is principal of St. Paul's School here in Chateauguy; who studies in her "spare time"; and who has assumed the task of issuing the monthly duty schedules!

Excursions
This is one of the most important aspects of school administration. There should be a maximum variety of experiences in the pre-school years. Planning and arrangements for trips and special events will be done this year by Mrs. Janet MacConnell, assisted by Mrs. Nina Minde.

Fund Raising
The life-blood of the school! Fees cover basic expenses such as rent and teacher's salary. School equipment, which is not only a matter of accumulating, but also of replenishing, depends on fund raising. This committee will be chaired by Mrs. Rose Benson, a director of the Association, who will be assisted by Mrs. Elaine Robitaille, the school's Registrar, and Mrs. Gertrude Lenhart.

Chateaugay News Notes

By Fergus Horsburgh

Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 3rd to 9th has Chief Spard, of the Centre Police Force, very busy on inspections of business places, giving lectures and showing films in the schools. Also overseeing the distribution of hundreds of posters and 6000 illustrated pamphlets in the area.

Minutes from the Centre Council meeting on Oct. 5th will be reported in this column in next week's Gleaner.

The inquest into the death of 3-year-old James Palmer of Dunfer Road was held last Wednesday in the Town Hall. The verdict was accidental death with no negligence involved.

John Allan of McLeod Avenue struck by a car last Friday, Oct. 1st, at the Bell-d'Anjou intersection. Mr. Allan was waiting for the bus at 6:30 a.m. when struck. He is presently in Lasalle General Hospital undergoing treatment.

Town of Chateaugay is going to sign a 99-year lease with the Grey Nuns for part of La Commune. Off Vinet Street near the CFOX transmitter, the piece of land on map is shaped like a slice of bread. This area will be developed as a Municipal Park and Playground.

Two separate reports concerning the railway crossings at Notre Dame and the Station Road have been received by the Town of Chateaugay. These reports emanate from the Inspectors of the Board of Transport Commissioners. Quite an impressive name! For the Station Road crossing the recommendation was that automatic protection composed of 2 flashing lights and a bell signal. For the Notre Dame crossing they recommend that the passage be widened from the present 16 to 17 feet to 22 feet with 2 feet on shoulder. Also the trees in this location should be removed immediately. After this work has been completed the crossing should be equipped the same as Station Road. The Town is sending copies of these recommendations to the New York Central Railroad.

Dear Ann Landers: I was born in another country and I came to America ten years ago. I took lessons in English for one year before I arrived here and I have been trying to improve by going to an adult education class and studying on my own.

Perhaps you will be pleased to know that reading your column has helped me a great deal. You use simple words and sentences which are not so long that a person gets lost in them.

In a reply recently you used the phrase, "feet of clay." Please tell me what this means and where the phrase came from. I have looked in the dictionary under "feet" and "clay" and I cannot find the definition. Thank you.

—WANTING TO IMPROVE
Dear Wanting: "Feet of Clay" comes from the Bible. It is the symbol of weakness in an otherwise strong person.

Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, dreamed he had seen a great image which had a head of gold and feet of clay. In his dream he saw the image collapse when it was struck at its base by a huge stone. Nebuchadnezzar demanded that his wise men interpret the dream. With some reluctance they told him the dream foretold the fall of Babylon because the country was built on a weak foundation. (And they were right.)

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl 16 and already my whole life is ruined. Frankie (not his real name but they call him that because he looks like Frank Sinatra) asked me to go steady last December.

He gave me his De Molar pin in January and I felt like the luckiest girl in the world. I was 100% true to Frankie and didn't look left or right. When other fellows called me on the phone I said, "I'm sorry but I'm Frankie's girl so don't waste your time."

Yesterday Frankie wrote me a note and said we would have to quit going steady because his folks were putting heat on him to pay more attention to his school work. He claimed he still wants to marry me (in about ten or eleven years) and said he'd check from time to time to make sure I don't forget him.

Isn't this pretty rotten after I gave him the best ten months of my life? Do you think maybe he is not telling the truth and that he wants to dump me because there is somebody else? — MISS DEMOLISHED.

Dear Miss Demolished: If there isn't somebody else there ought to be. I'm against going steady for a long list of reasons which I have spelled out in this column repeatedly. Play the field and learn what a wide, wonderful world it is. The price some of you kids pay for "school security" is too darned high.

What is French Kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits — the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Sex — Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

First this week may I wish Miss Rhoda MacFarlane of Salaberry Blvd., a very happy 80th birthday, which will be celebrated next Monday, Oct. 11th. Miss MacFarlane was feted at a Tea a week early by some members of the former Chataways Club at the residence of Mrs. L. Barclay.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH NOTES

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

St. Andrew's joined most of the Protestant World with special communion services at morning service last Sunday. The practice of simultaneous observance of the Lord's Supper was inaugurated in 1940.

New members welcomed into the congregation are: Mr. Colin Douglas Dowler, 75 Tulip Street, Terrace, by Profession of Faith; Mrs. Ian O'Leiver, 28 Maple Street, Chateaugay Heights, on Certificate of Transfer from St. Paul's United Church, Fredericton, N.B.; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stevenson, 185 Maple Street, Terrace, on Certificates of Transfer from Summerlea United Church, Lachine.

The Nursery and Kindergarten section of the Sunday School needs one or two small doll carriages, dolls, dolls' dishes, small plastic cars and trucks and small story books. Golden Book type or similar for 3, 4 and 5 years old.

The opening hymn on Sunday morning was "Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven", to a tune, I believe, composed by John Goss (1800-1880), an old favourite of mine. The children's Hymn was "Father, we thank Thee for the night", and the Responsive Reading was from the 65th Psalm.

The official Board of the Church was scheduled to meet last Monday. The main item on the agenda was the congregation's commitment to the current Presbytery Capital Funds Campaign.

The annual canvass for the Canadian Bible Society will take place in Chateaugay during October.

THE HEIGHTS IN NEWS

Heidi

Hello again! This week I have some more definite news on the Drama Club's production of "The Bride and the Bachelor". As I've mentioned before it's a farcical comedy and rather different from any other play that the Stagmatters have presented. The play is to be staged early in November, but the date is not certain yet. The director this year is Marguerite Soar, who I'm sure is doing a fine job.

The cast is as follows: Lorna Herbert, Rita Bittle, Phyllis Hale, Celia Garbey, Edna Way, John Champoux.

Some of the actors are old hands at acting, but others are

Two sorts of congratulations to the Harwood's of Massey Drive. They are the proud parents of a son born in August and celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary on September 14th. Best wishes to you all!

Ruth Gills of McLeod Ave., has been on the sick list for a week or two. We hope she will soon be on the mend.

Also here we would like to wish speedy recovery to two well known Chateaugay residents, Cliff Schofield of William Street is still resting at home after a stay in Queen Mary Vets Hospital.

Ted Lunn is still recuperating at home from a severe concussion suffered in Nova Scotia while on a project for his company.

Both Ted and Cliff will continue to take it easy for a while and follow Doctors' orders until they're back to best of health again.

Maplewood Presbyterian Church News

An Explorer Graduation Dinner was held last Monday evening, at 6:30, in the Church Hall, for six girls who will be entering C.G.I.T. Names of the girls are Judy Bobbitt, Lynda Young, Debbie Snow, Diana Wilcox, Sandra Skelly and Sandra Jennings.

For the Thanksgiving Services next Sunday, the Church will be decorated on Saturday next. Donations of fruits, vegetables and flowers will be most welcome.

The Anniversary Casserole Supper held last Friday evening, the 1st., was an outstanding success. Twenty-four assorted casseroles and twenty salads greeted those attending and comments were most favorable. The Women's Auxiliary wish to thank all those who helped to make this event a success. The Conveners, Mrs. Marion Houldsworth and Mrs. Helen Walker also deserve sincere thanks.

The W. A. will have their regular business meeting on Wednesday evening, October 6th, in the Walsh Memorial Room at 8 o'clock. Preparations for the Annual Christmas Fair will be discussed at this meeting.

May I take this opportunity to wish all the readers a very Happy Thanksgiving Holiday.

News from the Tennis Club — Last Saturday there was an adult dance, which was a great success. The next of these is the Halloween Dance on October 15th. (Continued on page 15)

Cook's Corner

By MARY FABIO

Now that the cooler weather is back with us, hot meals seem to be the order of the day and for those of you Moms who have to serve a hot lunch here are a couple of recipes that might add variety to your child's menu.

Porcupines
1/2 lb. minced beef
1/2 cup uncooked rice
salt and pepper to taste
1 can condensed tomato soup (10 oz. size)

Combine beef, rice and seasonings. Roll into small balls and simmer in the tomato soup for one hour.

Instead of always serving sandwiches you might try mincing baloney or Kiick or Prem, whatever your preference, add a few spoonfuls of mayonnaise, some sweet pickle relish and a spoonful of onion soup mix, or fresh onion minced. Mix well, spread over bread, hamburger rolls or hot dog rolls, and pop into the oven and broil until lightly browned. They're delicious served with soup or a cabbage salad. My children enjoy them as a T.V. snack with chips. Also you might like to do the same thing with cheese on the bread or rolls, and a slice of bacon on the top in place of the meat.

Handy hints for homemakers
To recondition shredded coconut that has become hard and tough, try heating it over some hot water.

—To clean pearl handles on articles, rub vigorously with salt. The luster will be restored by wiping with a chamois.

—To remove rust stains from white washables, first cover the stains with cream of tartar, then gather up the ends of the article so that the powder stays on the spot as though it were in the bottom of a sack, and dip the whole thing in hot water for about 5 minutes. Ordinary laundering should complete the job.

—When painting windows or picture frames, rub moist soap around the edge of the glass. Spatters can be removed easily with a soft cloth.

—One quick method of dealing with pet stains on rugs is to sponge over the area with club soda, straight from the bottle and undiluted. Then to prevent any danger of a ring forming, cover the area with a dry white towel, weighted down with a book, and this will serve as a soaker-upper of the moisture.

—One very good idea for your stainless steel — wash as usual with detergent, then apply mineral oil with a soft cloth, wipe off the excess — and presto it's beautiful.

—White stains on furniture caused by alcohol such as perfume or whiskey and the like can be removed by wrapping a clean piece of cloth around your forefinger wet the tip of this with turpentine, dip into cigarette ashes, then rub over the stain with a circular motion. Follow this treatment with a good polishing.

We are sorry to hear that John Nott has had a bout of pneumonia.

I understand that the popular Children's Art Classes will probably not restart until November.

The Home Owners Mexican Fiesta Party has been postponed until November 13th.

The postal centre of Seigniory Park has been moved to corner of Woodbine and Seigniory Drive — right on the Horsburgh property line, to be precise. This move was to help out the postman, who has started mail delivery above the transmission line, following the recent near-completion of paving the roads up there.

The playground equipment in Woodbine Park has been year free.

taken away to winter storage. It is highly unlikely that this equipment will be returned to the same location next Spring, when the Park will almost certainly be in process of a major redevelopment, as part of the overall Parks programme reported elsewhere in this Gleaner.

Is this a horticultural freak? Two of my next season's raspberry canes have blossomed and are trying bravely to form fruit.

1966 is going to be a difficult year for Soccer in Seigniory Park

1-50% of our Pee Wee's will be of Bantam age but it's doubtful whether there are sufficient boys of Bantam age in the area to make a full team.

2-6 of our Pee Wee's who were borrowed from other areas this year may be required by their own areas next year. Only one of two boys will graduate from Mosquito to Pee Wee—consequently for Bantam we may not be able to field a full team.

3-We will still be short of Mosquito age boys.

4-A good Atomic team could be formed but this would reduce the number of Mosquitos available.

This means that to provide soccer for all interested age groups 4 teams will have to be formed, a minimum of one coach per team will be required in addition to an area representative on the Soccer league to replace Glyn Fletcher who intends having next year free.

According to the town administration we should have a good playing area next year. It is rumoured that the Town Catholic School Commission will share a common playing area in the Catholic School grounds which has been proposed for the area between S. Park and the Terrace, that is where our playing field is presently located.

Soccer Highlights

Quebec Tournament of Champions

We are fortunate in Chateauguy to have a small number of people who are dedicated promoters of Minor sports and who continue this good work regardless of the apathy of the general public, a good example of which was at Jarry Park on Saturday, October 2nd. Two soccer teams from Chateauguy appeared in the finals on Saturday to fight for the title of Provincial Champions in their respective age groups. This is a big day in the lives of the boys competing and also a big ordeal for them and yet for the Bantam game the Chateauguy supporters could be counted on one hand, a few more arrived later in time for the Midget game.

Where were the managers and coaches of all the other 40 teams in Chateauguy whose aim is supposed to be promotion of Soccer in the area, are all these men interested only in their own team? Where were the parents of the boys on this big occasion, is the trip to Jarry Park too much of an effort for parents to make for their children? Parents who consider competitive sports are essential for character and physical development must take an interest otherwise even the most ardent enthusiasts who devote most of their spare time to promotion of minor sports will become thoroughly disheartened and sports in the area will become almost extinct.

The officiating at these games left a lot to be desired especially with regard to the linesmen who were not even required to wear a uniform. In the Bantam Final our C.C.R.A. Warriors lost to the Montreal East End Boys Club by 3 goals to nil. In the first half of play our boys had a strong wind behind them which they failed to take advantage of, they kept the ball too close, the kicking was weak, and the full backs never followed the play upfield as they should have under the existing conditions. There was little to choose between the two teams until almost from the kick off in the second half East End B.C. went ahead with a great goal. From then on the East End B.C. dominated the game with strong vocal support aiding them considerably. The result may have been different if there had been a few more supporters to cheer our boys on.

Our Midgets started their game badly even with a strong wind assisting them they allowed the East End B.C. to scramble in 2 goals in the first twenty minutes. Chateauguy made the mistake of leaving large middle field gaps and the half backs played a mainly defensive role which was a bad mistake when they had the advantage of the strong wind. This game finished with a score of 3 goals to nil against Chateauguy.

As Chateauguy is still a young area as far as soccer is concerned and this is only our 2nd year in the Tournament of Champions we can consider this as a grand effort. Next year I'm sure we will bring at least one championship back home.

C.H.S. Reports

By Heidi Pemoller

This week I'm able to tell you more about the Student's Council. After last year's election Judy Horton is president and Iris Glenn is vice-president. Last week's elections within the Council elected Ken Harding to the position of secretary, Walter Lethem to treasurer, Judy Houldsworth to correspondence secretary, Jo-Anne Grimes to social committee chairman, and Brian Hare to publicity chairman. Lynn Hetherington is the editor of this year's Yearbook, Marion Mitchell is president of the Red Cross, Nancy Ryan is in charge of the revision of the constitution and Rod Munro is in charge of movies to be shown this year. The Drama Club president has not yet been elected nor has the editor of the newspaper.

Already we have some coming events such as a dance on October 15th. We are planning on two hands. I'll tell you more about that next week. The dress, however, is no jeans for boys and no slacks for girls. It's the first dance this year and it promises to be quite something.

On October 29th, "Damant is coming to perform at the school again. If you don't remember, he's a hypnotist and has a great show. He performed at C.H.S. in January '65 and greatly enthused his audience in the field of hypnosis. So come and enjoy a great show with lots of laughs.

Of the pleasures of travel is that few places turn out to be just as we imagine them. Bar Harbor, Maine was no exception. Though I had heard for many years about the millionaires' homes situated along the shores of Mount Desert Island, its scenery was something of a picture-book variety in my anticipation of our visit. (Chiefly, we had planned to take the ferry to save 300 miles of driving and had no idea that it would prove to be a combination of land-sea spectacular beauty and relaxed travel.

Because of the early morning sailing from the United States port, we planned to reach Bar Harbor at least a day and a half ahead of our reserved sailing for car and passengers.

The island on which it is situated is claimed to be "the most beautiful island in America." Perhaps this boast is a bit extravagant and yet it can easily be believed when one stands at the summit of Cadillac Mountain and gazes at the beauty of the view below. It is not at all extravagant to state that it is breathtaking.

The morning of our boarding, the sun danced on the water even as moonbeams had as the Bluenose glided, aglow and aglitter into her berth the night before. Pulling away the next day, with its capacity load which numbers 150 cars and 600 passengers, we watched the shore dwindle into the skyline. As I stood by the rail, the salt laden spray whipping my cheeks, I remembered the wriggling green lobster that had been tossed into boiling water on Fisherman's Wharf. When it was cooked to a brilliant red I cannibalistically devoured every morsel while watching little sail boats bob on the sea.

Fabulous Mansion
The property where the modern ferry dock has been constructed has a rather romantic, if sad, history. Originally owned by A. J. Cassats, a president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, it was later sold to Edward T. Stotsbury, a tycoon connected with the House of Morgan in Philadelphia. Stotsbury's wife extravagantly remodelled the "cottage" at a cost of $450,000 and later sank $650,000 more in the beautification of its 80 rooms and spacious grounds. The cottage (all these huge mansions are always referred to as cottages) enjoyed a few opulent years until it was sold at auction for $40,000. Later its top price at a sale was $5,000 and it ended up on the books of the town of Bar Harbor which bought it, only to tear it down to make room for the CN's marine dock.

Demolition always depresses me, but I realized in this case it was economical. Now the property serves the public in a useful manner. In a happier mood, I accepted the invitation of Captain R. Collier to watch from the wheelhouse the Bluenose dock at Yarmouth. Rugged, beautiful Nova Scotia seemingly stretched endlessly toward the horizon. What a pleasant experience it had been to be counted among the close to two million passengers who annually cross these Atlantic waters aboard the Bluenose ferry.

When Robert Benchley was a student at Harvard, a final exam confronted him with a question something like this: "Discuss the arbitration of the international fisheries problem in respect to hatcheries protocol and dragnet and trawl procedure as it affects (a) the point of view of the United States, and (b) the point of view of Great Britain."

Benchley was frank, as well as somewhat desperate, and wrote as follows: "I know nothing about the point of view of Great Britain in the arbitration of the international fisheries problem, and nothing about the point of view of the United States. Therefore I shall discuss the question from the point of view of the fish."

First Loss In Local Football

(By Russ Faughnan)

The Chateauguy Minor Football Clubs split their games last week-end. The Mosquito travelling team, playing at home last Saturday, squeaked by Dixie (Lachine) by the score of 8 to 7. The Dixie team took our boys by surprise on their first play of the game and ran through Centre for a 45 yard touchdown. From then on, the defensive team held. The Chateauguy offence had to fight a tough battle but finally managed a touchdown by Stevenson after some good offensive plays by quarterback T. McKie to Ken Crooks and Barry Cushing. Norm Perry scored the other 2 points for Chateauguy in a rouse. The game was played by two very evenly matched Mosquito teams.

The Pee Wee travelling team also played Dixie (Lachine) and took their first loss of the season with a score of 31-0. The Dixie team obviously fielded good offensive and defensive sides as the Chateauguy offence could not break through for a score. To our credit, our defense put up a great battle in the second half, allowing only one touchdown in the final 30 minutes. The coaches are confident that their boys can come back to win in their next game, now that they are over the shock of seeing Dixie's size.

The Mosquito House League played on Sunday at Ramblers' field with the Alouettes winning over the Rough Riders by a score of 25 - 12. The Rough Riders put up a great battle but the Alouettes were hungry for a win.

The second game was won by the Argos on a score of 14-12 over the Tiger Cats. This was the Tiger Cats first loss of the season and seemed to prove that the Argos are good mudders and that the Tiger Cats offensive side needs dry ground to operate. Young Round scored 2 touchdowns which left him short of his average. The Tiger Cats de-

DIARY OF A VAGABOND

"... TO SEE THE SEA"
She's a beautiful ship, the CN's Bar Harbor — Yarmouth International Ferry, Bluenose. She rides the bosom of the Atlantic across the Maine Gulf, skirting the Bay of Fundy and berthing one round trip daily at the automatic gangways in Frenchman Bay, U.S.A., or the harbour on the shores of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia.

An Atlantic voyage in miniature, the six hours aboard are pleasantly filled watching the distant shore or the dipping, diving antics of the many sea gulls who constantly follow the ship.

My voyage was spent in a series of small adventures which started with a review of our visit to Bar Harbor, prior to boarding the Bluenose. One

New Post Office To Be Built At St. Louis de Gonzague

Mr. Gerald Laniel, representative of Beauharnois-Salaberry county, announced on September 27th, in presence of the Mayor of St-Louis that a Post Office will be built in that municipality. Also present on this occasion was Mr. Lucien Durancieu, who had had previous talks with Mr. Laniel on the matter.

The work is to start this fall because the building is due for completion at the end of April 1966. This project is similar to the one realized in St. Timothee last year.

Mayor M. Houle of St-Louis is very pleased with the decision of the federal authorities. This project, says he, will give more prestige to our municipality. It is a building in the value of $25,000 and the citizens will surely be proud of it. The Public Works Department has the responsibility for the erection of the building and will consult with the authorities of the municipality in the near future as to the site and numerous services to be installed.

WORKING FOR YOURSELF?

You must have a

SOCIAL INSURANCE NUMBER

If you work for yourself, live in Quebec and are less than 70 years of age, you will begin contributing to the Quebec Pension Plan on January 1, 1966. Therefore you need a SOCIAL INSURANCE NUMBER.

HOW TO OBTAIN YOUR NUMBER
The Quebec Pension Board has already sent social insurance number application forms to a certain number of self-employed persons.
If you have received a form, complete it immediately and return it to the Pension Board.
If you have not received a form, apply to the Pension Board for one without delay.

WHY YOU NEED A NUMBER?
Without your social insurance number, no contribution to the Quebec Pension Plan can be identified and credited to your account.
Without your social insurance number, therefore, it will be impossible to determine the amount of the benefits to which you might eventually become entitled under the Plan.

DO NOT ASK FOR A NUMBER

- If you are over 70 years of age,
- if you have recently completed an application for a number,
- if you already have a social insurance number, and a social insurance card.

ORDO EGLISE ST-JOSEPH - HUNTINGDON

Liturgie - Gardons-nous de retenir uniquement de la messe d'aujourd'hui le cas ce chancelier du paralytique à qui le Maître a dit: "Prends ton grabat et marche." Il avait d'abord dit à l'impotent: "Aie confiance, mon fils, tes péchés te sont remis". Ce n'est que pour relever un défi des Scribes malveillants qu'il a opéré ce miracle, sensible, La guérison d'un corps avait valeur de témoignage et visait à un bien supérieur: la guérison des âmes, vrai but de la mission divine. Dans quel foyer ne se trouvent pas, sous diverses formes, misères morales et misères physiques? La main sur la conscience, où vont nos angoisses et nos préoccupations?

Liturgie - Most people have experienced the death of someone very dear. As is quite traditional among Catholics, numerous Masses are offered for the repose of the soul who has left this world and entered into eternal life. The particular fruits of the Mass which departed souls are capable of receiving can be obtained from any Mass, not just from the traditional "black Mass." We are not limited, nor should we limit ourselves, to having only black Masses said: we must realize that the same fruits are had in Masses of the day with the special intention made for the deceased.

Assemblée régulière du Conseil de Huntingdon

Une assemblée régulière du Conseil de Huntingdon a eu lieu à l'endroit habituel, lundi, le 4 octobre. Le maire Léon Cappiello présidait; tous les conseillers étaient présents.

Le secrétaire-trésorier procéda à la lecture des minutes de la dernière assemblée et des factures du mois. Le tout fut adopté à l'unanimité.

M. F. Kerns s'adressa ensuite au conseil. Il présenta une requête de la Compagnie Shell qui désire installer des réservoirs souterrains d'une capacité de 40,000 gallons pour l'huile à chauffage et la gazoline sur un lot appartenant à M. Ferns. Après considération le Conseil décida d'émettre un permis à la condition que le tout soit encadré d'une clôture et que la rue Centre soit utilisée au minimum nécessaire par les camions. M. Ferns déclara qu'il continuera à passer par la rue Henderson comme il l'a toujours fait.

Des soumissions seront demandées pour l'enlèvement de la neige.

M. le maire demanda au conseil s'il voulait contribuer à la cause des enfants retardés. Des cours spéciaux seront donnés en l'église United et les responsables de cette initiative ont demandé l'aide de la ville. Un montant de $100 fut voté à cet effet.

M. G. Brisebois ouvrit ensuite une discussion concernant les employés municipaux. Il semblerait qu'il y ait insatisfaction dans ce domaine. Après avoir étudié la question, il fut décidé que le contremaître recevra dorénavant un salaire fixe. Les autres employés recevront aussi des augmentations de salaire. Le tout effectif au 1er janvier 1966.

Deux soumissions en rapport avec l'installation d'un système de chauffage au garage municipal. Celle de Larocque & Lalonde fut acceptée. L'installation devra être approuvée par l'inspecteur des édifices publics.

M. McGerrige proposa ensuite que la taxe d'eau soit augmentée à $32 pour les usagers de la ville et à $45 pour ceux de l'extérieur. Il suggéra que des compteurs soient installés dans tous les établissements commerciaux. La question sera étudiée plus avant, avant de prendre une décision.

L'assemblée fut ajournée au 12 octobre alors que le Conseil rencontrera les personnes intéressées dans le développement de la partie nord de la ville. On y discutera des possibilités d'installer les services d'eau et d'égoûts.

Le thème: JEUNE TRAVAILLEUR PREND TA PLACE. Des commissions étudieront à la lumière des résultats d'enquête trois principaux aspects de l'intégration du jeune dans sa profession, dans son milieu de travail et dans les syndicats.

La J.O.C. n'a pas toujours réussi dans le passé à attirer l'attention du public et des jeunes travailleurs eux-mêmes sur les problèmes des jeunes travailleurs. Les "meetings" locaux qui ont lieu cette semaine dans Valleyfield, Huntingdon, Rigaud et Dorion prouvent les efforts de la part des jeunes pour résoudre leurs problèmes de travail.

Une chose est certaine: pas plus que les autres, comment le jeune travailleur chrétien peut-il trouver son épanouissement dans un milieu qui persiste à l'ignorer, et ce milieu, la J.O.C. ne peut le transformer seule, sans une action positive, des gouvernements, des syndicats, de l'entreprise elle-même.

Statut du Jeune Travailleur. Dans le monde des jeunes travailleurs, on voit, on juge, on bâtit, on s'organise à partir de la vie, de l'action.

Tout entier, le "Statut du Jeune Travailleur" sera l'expression de ce que vivent les jeunes travailleurs, de leurs droits et devoirs. Il sera également l'expression de leurs aspirations face à cette société dont ils font partie intégrante. Ce statut servira autant pour les organismes, les jeunes travailleurs que pour la J.O.C. et sera un appui, un guide dans les lignes d'action qui suivront.

Invitation. Tous les 15-25 ans travailleurs du diocèse, tous les organismes responsables de l'organisation du travail sont cordialement invités à participer à ce Rallye-Travail qui a lieu, en la Salle Cadieux, 211, rue Victoria, Valleyfield, dimanche, le 10 octobre prochain, à 1.30 heures p.m. Plusieurs personnalités du monde du travail adresseront un message aux jeunes.

Dans la soirée, il y aura des amateurs de Rigaud, Dorion, Huntingdon et Valleyfield qui feront valoir leur talent dans l'éliminatoire régionale. Un trophée sera décerné au gagnant. Par la suite, les jeunes pourront se récréer avec l'orchestre des "Blue Jeans".

Dewittville

DEWITTVILLE — The Dewittville W.C.T.U. held their September meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Martin, at Ormstown, on Friday, October 1st. Everyone enjoyed a delicious noon hour luncheon.

About 2 P.M., Mrs. Beattie presided and opened the meeting. Hymn 224 was sung, followed by Scripture, Acts 1: 1-14, read by Mrs. Irwin Todd. The "Power — God Given", the theme for the day, was read by Mrs. Beattie. The devotions closed with prayer. Eight members, and one guest, were present. The minutes of our August meeting were read and approved. A report of the Fair Booth was given. A letter from Mrs. Hodge, regarding a Resolution, was read. Mrs. Beattie had several pamphlets on display and some of the most popular were read.

Mrs. Beattie attended the Executive meeting in Montreal on Thursday, September 30th. She gave a very detailed report. She mentioned many items taken from the address given by Mrs. A.H. Rawlins, who was the guest speaker.

The National Convention in 1966 will be held in New Brunswick, on September 12-16.

PASTOR FIRES FIRST BROADSIDE

A letter from the Rev. H. Lowenberger informs the congregation of Huntingdon United Church about what they may expect as the campaign "partnership-in ministry" develops.
 Based on the assumption that most everyone would prefer to be a participant than merely a spectator, it is expected that all members and adherents of the church will enthusiastically offer their services in furthering the cause. "Partnership in Ministry" is a carefully thought-out plan, and in the weeks to come some novel and interesting pamphlets will appear in the mail-boxes.

HELP FOR FARMERS ANNOUNCED

Mr. Aleide Courey, Minister of Agriculture and Colonization announces that fifty counties will benefit by the federal-provincial assistance to farmers who have suffered from the drought of 1965.

The decision was made after inquiries were made in all counties on all damages to hay, grain and pasture harvests. Due to the scarceness and the high price of hay, the allocation has been calculated in volume of grains. It is known that the federal-provincial subsidy represents $30 a ton toward the purchase of grain and other products.

Nine counties of which, B'nois, Chateauguay, Huntingdon will receive 4/10 a ton.

Dundee

DUNDEE — Sunday supper guests of Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Chaffee of Summerstown, Ont.

Channel 6, whose address is No. 4 Dunlop Block, Yorkston, Sask., would like comments and suggestions.

Mrs. MacIntosh invited the Union to meet at her home for the October meeting. The clip sheets had been received. They were quite lengthy so were set aside for use at some future meeting.

The address given by Dr. Vincent was read by Mrs. Wm. Todd. "Alcohol Legislation", part of an address given by Mr. S. J. Enns, M.P., at the Manitoba Provincial Convention was read by Mrs. Irwin Todd and Mrs. D. McColm.

The meeting closed with pledge and Mizpah.

Letter to the Editor

AN OPEN LETTER TO PARENTS OF CUBS AND SCOUTS IN ORMSTOWN

The worth of the Boy Scout Association has long been recognized by parents and neighbours the world over. Every community that has had the benefit of Scout training for the boys has been a better place in which to live. In fact the importance has been so well recognized that one would expect parents in particular would be insistent that their community was not deprived of this development of their boys.

Strangely enough, however, it has been a constant struggle to solicit any interest on the part of parents in Ormstown for many years. Somehow parents are too involved in other activities to find it possible to give even one night a year. To those residents of Ormstown who do make time available for scouting it seems to suggest that it is all right for them because they have nothing else to do. NOTHING could be farther from the truth.

Just to set the record straight it would be worthwhile to take a look at these LACOLLE — Mrs. Jas. Robinson has returned from the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal and is gaining satisfactorily.

Rev. Boomhower's two sisters from Montreal spent the week-end at the parsonage.

Mr. Ross Lathe spent the week-end with his mother and sister.

The annual United Church Supper held on Saturday evening was a decided success in every respect. Visitors from Montreal and other surrounding districts attended.

Miss Lorna Boyse and friend from Montreal visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boyse during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Van Vliet have returned from a motor trip to Regina, Sask., where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cairns and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Robinson attended the McCormick-Stewart wedding in Huntingdon on Saturday.

individuals who take on the duties of leadership in the Scouting movement.

Two of the busiest men in Ormstown are Mr. George McKell and Mr. Roland Anderson, Cubmaster and Scoutmaster respectively. Mr. McKell travels back and forth to Montreal five days a week where he has a full time position, in addition when he arrives home he follows two other careers, one as a farmer and the other a plumber. Yet somehow he manages to find time to plan the Cub meetings and the outings that are part of the Cub program.

Mr. Anderson in addition to the demands of his vocation is without doubt the busiest hobbyist ever to take up residence in our community. Among some of Mr. Anderson's hobbies are: sailing, boat building, hunting, fishing, fly tying, photography, marksmanship, and radio. One would think these activities would not leave time for leading a Scout Troop. Mr. Anderson does lead the Ormstown Scout Troop and does it so well that the Troop won the Grover Trophy for two consecutive years. A look at the assistant leaders shows they are equally busy people: Mrs. Doug Glover, Mrs. Peter Cowper and Mr. Leo Chartrand. No argument here — busy people all.

Well the situation is simply this: It is useless for the leaders to struggle with the problems of leading boys to worthwhile adventure when the parents of the same boys cannot find time to show any interest. Apparently nothing can motivate the parents — unless possibly the boys themselves. There is the solution right there. Why should the leaders try to cajole the parents into action? The best they can do is to write letters or make personal visits to the homes; however, the boys are in the homes every day so why not let them do the cajoling? If the boys want to remain in the movement they will urge their parents to call a meeting with the Group Committee. No action will be taken by the Group Committee except to meet the parents. The initiative must come from the parents. This course of action puts the responsibility where it belongs — with the parents.

Well boys — good scouting in the meantime. — Oh yes — Doug Glover is

You can clean stables easier with a Beatty system

It does the hard work for you. Any farmer who owns a stable cleaner will tell you how much time it saves, and why you must have the right system for the job.

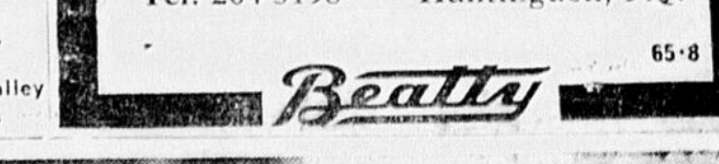

Beatty engineers have designed the right stable cleaner for you—it's so versatile it fits every stable. It's sturdy. It's rugged. To take the stress caused by freezing and overloading, Beatty builds an extra margin of strength into every working part.

You'll have low maintenance costs and trouble-free service with a Beatty stable cleaner. And the high capacity stacker lets you store manure all winter, even with large herds.

Clean your stables the easy, automatic way with a Beatty System.

Speaker At Rotary Club Tells Of Improvements For Telephone Service

The regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Huntingdon Rotary Club was held as usual on Monday at The Chateau with a fairly good attendance of members and guests. Rotarian Fred Anderson introduced and welcomed the guests. He then went on to ask that a change be made in the meeting time, back to the former 12.30 as this was found more convenient for the majority of the members. A vote was taken which showed a majority in favor and the meeting time will revert to 12.30 noon, for the next meeting Monday, October 18th and thereafter. There will be no meeting on the 11th, this being Thanksgiving Day and a holiday.

The speaker for this week's meeting was L. J. Bouchard, Manager for Valleyfield area of Bell Telephone Company. He was introduced by Rotarian Nelson Beattie, who is also an employee of the Bell.

Mr. Bouchard outlined the changes and improvements that have been made by Bell in its services in the matter of communication for the public. He also gave some idea of future plans of the company. In part he said as follows:

Communications has been a key to change. World trade and world travel, the exploration of space, the influence of radio and television on whole populations, diplomatic and military strategy, the conduct of political campaigns and the exercise of power — all these reflect the impact of modern communications technology.

The inventors of the transistor at Bell Laboratories, for example, were seeking a new knowledge to improve the art of communications. They may not have foreseen that from their discovery would spring a whole new industry, giving jobs to hundreds of thousands of people. Or they might not have foreseen the development of an industry that is vital to exploration of space and the

ST. ANDREW'S W.M.S. HEARS FORMOSA MISSIONARY TELL OF HER WORK THERE

A large gathering of W.M.S. members and friends met in St. Andrew's Church Annex on Wed. Sept. 29 to hear Miss Hermanson, returned missionary from North Formosa, tell of her work there. Mrs. Doris McColm presided, and opened the meeting with the hymn, "Sing to the Lord of Harvest." Mrs. A.S. Reid conducted the devotional period of scripture and prayer. Mrs. Leatherdale, our hospital visitor in Montreal, was present and introduced Miss Hermanson, who has been a missionary for 32 years, being superintendent of the MacKay Memorial Hospital in Formosa. Taking for her text, "We love Him because He first loved us," Miss Hermanson spoke of the value of having faith in people, and gave a most interesting account of her work among the people of Formosa.

She spoke of the 100th anniversary of the coming of the Christian Church to Formosa, and told of the Theological Colleges, the Schools for Bible Study, and the Girl's School at Tamsui. Her own work consisted of teaching health and hygiene, supervising classes in cooking and domestic science, and training children to care for themselves. The students in the colleges are very anxious to learn, and appreciate our help in bringing to them the gospel message and teaching them the real values of life. The showing of a number of films of beautiful Formosan scenery added to the interest of the audience, showing the branch offices across the country. We also have equipment that sends pictures, written messages, invoices, or whatever you want to send, across the telephone lines.

I spoke earlier of abbreviated dialing. What this means really is that the telephone office will keep a personal number list for you, if you like. Something that is yours alone. This we cannot do today. But tomorrow we can!

So the impact of change here is not to lose the individual in the great swelling tide of numbers. The effect rather is to improve our response to personal need and personal wish.

To give a specific illustration, Bell-Canada has spent $600,000 in this region during 1964 and 1965 to give customers here the best possible service. We have estimated that we will be spending more than a half a million dollars here during the next two years.

Not only do these expenditures aid the local and national economy as well as giving you as fine a telephone system as you can find anywhere in the world, but our country, with its tax-supported government is built on the ability of business to produce, employ, and turn a profit.

Encouragement by government of the private sector of the economy would seem to me then to be indispensable to the common welfare.

There have been faint voices raised that the Bell should be nationalized. All I can say is that we have more than $2 billion worth of plants that give service to well over four million telephones in Quebec and Ontario. As yet, there is no evidence that the government could do a better job or a more economic one.

Judged by the proportion of households with telephone service, the quality of transmission, the daily volume of calls, or whatever measure you may employ, there is no doubt that our service is well thought of.

I have given you only a small preview of what communications will be like in the near future. Most of what I have told you today is now spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Caldwell in Brockville.

New Telephone Directory Out

The 1965 telephone directory is on its way to customers in this territory. Laurent J. Bouchard, Bell-Canada Manager here, recently announced.

The new directory this year features the Edgar Hebert Secondary School in Valleyfield as the cover sketch. It illustrates the importance of education.

The local manager added that there is a great increase in the number of directories needed this year compared to last year.

Ormsdown St. Paul's U. C. W.

The General Meeting and Fall Thank-offering of St. Paul's U.C.W. was held on Tuesday, September 28, in MacDougall Hall, with 45 members and 2 visitors present.

Mrs. Wallace Kerr, Chairman, opened the meeting with a prayer, and welcomed all present. Devotions were taken by Unit 4 and by Mrs. Wm. Lawrence, and Mrs. Archie Borland, dealing with the theme of Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Allan Cavers, then introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. R. Smith, of Montreal, who spoke on Community Friendship, and chose as her topic "Who is My Neighbour". She read an item entitled "I walked today where Jesus Walked". An interesting film followed on "Meet Mary Scott". Mrs. Arnold Bryson very graciously thanked Mrs. Smith for her interesting talk.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. Minutes from an Executive Meeting held September 8th were read. Recommendations on several items from this meeting were brought before the General Meeting and all were adopted and carried.

A committee was chosen to look into Hymn Books for the hall and balcony of the Church, namely, Mrs. Loree, Mrs. Lawrence and Mrs. Borland. It was then moved a donation be given to the Stewards. Treasurer's report was given which showed a very successful year so far. An invitation was read to attend the McConnell Memorial Wing, Verdun, sponsored by the United Church Homes Auxiliary on Thursday, October 14th, both afternoon and evening.

A letter was read from the Auxiliary of Douglas Hospital, Verdun, and it was moved the usual donation be sent in. The new slate of officers is to be brought in at the November meeting.

Unit 4 are holding a "Coffee Party" and also a Bake Sale, in MacDougall Hall this month. It is hoped that all will help support this endeavour.

Mrs. Geo. Graham adjourned the meeting and Mrs. Wallace Kerr closed with a prayer.
