District Students Score Highly in Students Royal Show at Macdonald College

Knowledge of Calf Club Work Stands to Advantage of Contestants

Several students from the Howick-Ormstown-Huntindon districts either topped the classes with animals shown by them or else led in the showmanship contests in the livestock section of the Macdonald College Students Royal Show. That show having been held on February 26.

First of all, the students paraded their animals, all members of Macdonald College herds of cattle, sheep and swine, before the respective judges, who placed the animals on a conformation basis. At the same time other judges were scoring the leaders of these animals from preparation (of their animals) and showmanship standpoints.

The official judges were: Sheep and Swine — J. W. Graham, Production Service, Department of Agriculture; Beef Cattle — S. B. Wiliams, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa; Ayrshires — S. J. Chagnon, Deputy Chairman, Prices Support Board, Ottawa; Holsteins — R. Grant Smith, Fieldman, Holstein-Freisian Association. The Umpires as regards showmanship were Principal A. M. Barr, Kemptville Agricultural School, and S. B. Williams.

As heretofore, the Management of the Royal Show was entirely in the hands of the Student body. The General Superintendent of the Livestock Show was Owen Ness, a senior student and son of J. Earle and Mrs. Ness of Terrace Bank Farm, Howick.

The Ayrshire Section

The Ayrshire junior calf class was led by Macdonald Rose 5th, by Carnell Pearlstone (Imp.) shown by H. Peckham. This calf was subsequently made reserve grand champion Ayrshire. The names of the other winners in this class are not available but the other exhibitors were: 2, Susan Wilesmith; 3, G. Brown; 4, P. Gault; 5, Patricia Irving (of Laguerre). However, these positions were changed considerably insofar as preparation and showmanship were concerned. In the showmanship contest G. Brown stepped up to first place with Patricia Irving second. The other placings being: 9, H. Peckham; 4, P. Gault; 5, Susan Wilesmith.

Senior Ayrshire Calves were headed by Macdonald Merry Dimple 4th which was exhiibted by Bernice Ness of Howick. The exhibitors of the other winners were: 2, K. Clay; 3, R. Morrison; 4, R. A. Duffin; 5, H. Smith. The showmanship prizes in this class also went in the above order.

The grand champion Ayrshire was Macdonald Marie 3rd, first prize winner in the mature dry cow class, and she was exhibited by R. Craig of Ormstown. The other winners in the mature dry cow class were exhibited by 2, M. McEwen (Ormstown); 3, Wm. Templeton (Howick); 4, Kenneth Roy, Howick.

However, when the showmanship awards were made in this class Kenneth Roy won first; 2, M. McEwen; 3, Wm. Templeton; 4, R. Craig, Macdonald Merry Scholar led the mature class of Ayrshire cows in milk and was exhibited by N. Graham.

The other exhibitors were: 2, F. Roach; 3, D. Evans; 4, R. Godbout. However, F. Roach came out first in showmanship with the others being in the following order — 2, D. Evans; 3, R. Godbout; 4, N. Graham.

Holstein Winners

Details are not available of the winning animals in the Holstein Classes. However, three local boys made good "showings" in the showmanship contests. R. Lalonde of Ormstown won first prize for showmanship in the class for senior Holstein calves. The first prize for showmanship in the yearling Holstein heifer class was A. Rankin of Huntingdon, while the third prize in that class went to M. Gerard, also of Huntingdon.

Showmanship Champions

The champion Holstein showman was G. Lynch-Staunton of Montreal while the reserve in that section was R. Lalonde of Ormstown.

The champion Ayrshire Showman was Kenneth Roy, of Howick, while the reserve in that section was Bernice Ness, also of Howick.

The other divisional champions for showmanship were:

Beef Cattle, R. A. Von den Baumen; Reserve, Col. G. C. Reeves.

Swine, P. Chaplin. Reserve, A. B. Thomson.

Sheep, Russell Dow. Reserve, M. Cox.

Having won the championship of his own, the Ayrshire section, Kenneth Roy (son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Roy, Oakburn Farm, Howick) went on to win both the championship of the Dairy Cattle division in competition with the Holstein champions and then the grand championship of the show. The latter contest after competition with the champion and reserve champion showmen of the Beef Cattle, Sheep and Swine divisions, respectively.

In the meantime, having won the reserve championship award in the Ayrshire Section, Bernice Ness (daughter of Douglas A. and Mrs. Ness of Burnside Farms, Howick) went on to compete for and win the reserve showmanship championship of the show. In the Dairy Cattle division she was of course in competition with the two Holstein champions, while in the grand championship contest her competitors were the champion and reserve champion showmen of the Beef Cattle, Sheep and Swine Divisions.

It may be of interest to note that in winning the grand champion showmanship award, Kenneth Roy had a score of 79, while Bernice Ness had a score of 78. The Beef cattle and Sheep champions each had a score of 73 points and the Swine champion had a score of 67.

In the Dairy division finals Kenneth Roy scored 23 points and Bernice Ness 21 points. However, with a score of 20 for Beef cattle showmanship Bernice Ness beat Kenneth Roy by one point. In the showing of Sheep and Swine, that Howick pair scored an equal number of points — that is 18 each for Sheep and 19 each for Swine. In that respect we may add that the competitions in the championship contests had to not only parade their own animals first of all but also had to, in turn, parade their competitors' animals.

Important Changes In Mail Service

Truck Delivery and Pick-up of Mail

Some changes in the mail service for Huntingdon have been announced by Mr. J. O'Hare, postmaster, which take effect immediately.

The mail which used to arrive at 11.30 a.m. has been discontinued. Mail now arrives by truck from Montreal at 5.30 a.m. and is all sorted and in the boxes by 8 a.m. No other incoming mail is received until the C.N.R. train arrives at 4.30 p.m. This mail is sorted by 5 p.m.

Outgoing from Huntingdon there are by two mails, one by the C.N.R. train at 7 o'clock in the morning and one that leaves by truck at 6.30 in the evening. For mail to leave on the truck at night, it must be in the Post Office not later than 6.15 p.m. There is a direct dispatch on this truck for Valleyfield.

On Saturdays only, the truck will leave Huntingdon immediately after the C.N.R. train, at 4.45 p.m. Mail must be in the Post Office not later than 4.30 p.m. in order to catch this mail.

The Postmaster suggests that you cut this out and keep it for reference as to the new mail times.

Further Particulars For Centenary Celebration

Further particulars as to the plans for the centenary celebration, June 29-July 1st, for Huntingdon High School, have just been announced.

The Sunday services announced in the last issue of this newspaper, will be in charge of the local clergy, the principal and Mrs. N. W. Sparrow, all of whom have gladly consented to play their part.

The Monday program is under the chairmanship of Commissioners Robb and Ruddock. The parade on Tuesday is under the chairmanship of Commissioner Stewart; Sports on Tuesday under Commissioner Graham. The Re-union Ball is under the patronage of the entire school board members and their wives. Outdoor music is under the direction of Bandmaster D. Moore. The committee is fortunate to secure the services of Larry Edwards and his nine-piece orchestra. This orchestra is a great local favorite.

The various heads of committees mentioned above will be approaching others to assist them in their various departments.

The committee in charge of the Year Book which is soon to be published is very much encouraged by the response they have received with regard to advertising and subscriptions to date. Interested parties are asked to get in touch with the school regarding subscriptions or advertising space.

Jury Clears Bus Driver

No Crime Committed In Constable's Death

After nearly an hour's deliberation a coroner's jury on Friday voted four to two to clear a Provincial Transport Company bus driver of criminal responsibility in the death of a Provincial Police constable near Mercier Bridge on Dec. 15.

Constable Raoul Giroux, 28, of 4515 Lasalle Boulevard, Verdun, was fatally injured when he was struck down in a blinding snowstorm by a bus driven by Fred Greer, 33, of Ormstown, Que.

Giroux and another constable, Germain Rheaume, 27, of 303 Woodland Avenue, Verdun, were investigating the head-on collision of two private cars on Route 9C two miles south of the bridge when the bus hit the cars, then hit them. Rheaume was also badly injured and spent 48 days in Notre Dame hospital.

Greer said at the inquest that he was driving from 18 to 20 miles per hour in third gear when one of the two cars involved in the previous accident loomed out of the swirling snow and he was unable to avoid hitting it.

Constable Rheaume testified that he neither heard the bus horn nor saw its headlights before the vehicle bore down on them. He also testified that visibility at the time of the accident was "absolutely nil."

After the bus had struck the two cars, it veered off to the left, bounced across a ditch and crashed into a wire fence 145 feet from the other two cars.

Immigrant Inspector Back From Germany

Norman George, former Immigration inspector stationed in Fort Covington, has arrived back from Germany where he spent about 14 months in the U.S. immigration service, stationed in Berlin for a long time at the embassy in Munich for three months. He went over by plane and returned by boat from Italy, enjoying both trips.

Mr. George is married to the former Pauline Quenneville of St. Anicet, Que., and they have one son, Norman.

The former local inspector is presently on leave, waiting for an assignment to a port in this country.

Annual Campaign For Red Cross Begins This Month

Expect Drive in Huntingdon to Take Place Last Two Weeks of March

This is the time of year when the Canadian Red Cross Society launches its annual campaign for funds. The objective which has been set for the Province of Quebec is $1,000,000.00. This is less than last year, but to succeed we shall have to collect more. $750,000.00 of this quota has been alloted to the Montreal area, so that the sum we confidently hope will be collected at points in Quebec outside of Montreal is $250,000.00.

The Officers and Committee Members for Huntingdon District are as follows:

Dr. Paul Girard, Honorary President, Mr. Erle Martin, President, Mrs. E. M. Wood, First Vice-President, Mr. Adrian O'Reilly, Second Vice-President, Miss Lilian M. Rankin, Secretary-Treasurer.

Committees:

Work—Mrs. L. Roy, Miss Lily Pringle.

Organization—Mrs. N. W. Sparrow, Mrs. R. Rolfe.

Home Nursing—Mrs. G. McHardy, Miss Ingraham.

Veteran's Welfare—Rev. W. S. Hatcher, Mrs. Mae O'Connor.

First Aid—Mr. J. H. Prevost, Mr. L. David.

Disaster, Preparedness and Relief—Mr. F. E. Cleyn, Mr. A. L. Sellar.

Blood Donor Clinic—Miss Frances Walker, Mrs. E. Martin, Mrs. Ruth Rennie, Mrs. F. G. McCrimmon, Mrs. K. G. Cameron, Mrs. Paul Girard, Mrs. George Lefebvre, Miss Helen Paul, Mrs. C. R. Hawley.

Swimming—Mrs. W. McGill, Mrs. Leo Cappiello.

Publicity and Entertainment—Mrs. F. G. McCrimmon, Mrs. W. K. Pope and Mrs. R. M. Cosgrove.

Campaign Committee for 1952 is presently being organized by Mr. Erle Martin.

The Junior Red Cross of Huntingdon is one of which we can be justly proud, and functions so efficiently under the Class Directors (who are the teachers of the Huntingdon Academy) that it is an outstanding example to all Members of The Red Cross Society in Huntingdon. Meetings are held regularly in each classroom and money is raised by candy sales and various other ways to make up donations to The Junior Red Cross. Mr. J. B. MacMillan supervises the work and the school displays the Purple Seal which is awarded for twenty-five consecutive years of service to The Canadian Red Cross Society.

At the present time the Junior Members are completing an outfit for a child of five years. The articles are all new and Miss Heikennen is supervising the work. A collection of $23.89 has been sent in to buy a coat and leggings. This is wonderful work.

The Red Cross belongs to every Canadian—and it is up to every Canadian to see that the Red Cross is strong and ready to meet the needs of today—and the emergencies of tomorrow. Your Red Cross serves the community through its many vital services.

Owing to winter roads and the large territory to be covered in Huntingdon District it was decided at the Annual Meeting to conduct the Campaign for funds locally during the last two weeks of March. Mr. Erle Martin, President, telephone 401, will be glad to furnish information to all those wishing to assist in this Campaign.

Compulsory Insurance For Taxi Owners Bylaw Passed

Will Not Come Into Effect Until January 1st, 1953

Huntingdon Town Council met on Monday evening with all members present except Alderman Foisy. Minutes of the last meetings were read and a large number of accounts were passed for payment.

Mr. Brown, engineer, meet with the council and gave a report of his findings after using the new tester for the water. He suggested that lime be used in the water in order to check the acid in the water at the Filter Plant. After using the tester he found that there was more acid in the water and this could cause corrosion in the water lines and lead to leaks in the mains. The council authorized him to purchase the necessary lime and to bring the water to the neutral point required. It was decided to buy the lime locally for time being.

Due to Mr. Harry Sandys having to undergo an operation, Mr. C. Brown is now relieving at the Filter Plant, it was reported.

Milk reports of samples taken on January 29th were read as follows: Belle Vallee, no bacteria count, butterfat 3.4; Elmhurst, 64,000cc and butterfat 3.8; Salaberry Dairy, 86,000cc and butterfat 3.7.

A letter signed by Remi Varin and other witnesses, complained that the town rubbish dump is not being kept clean. He asked that the man presently looking after the dump be replaced by himself and offered to pay $10. per month for the privilege of taking saleable junk from the dump. The council decided that before taking action a committee would inspect the dump to see just how well it is being kept.

A by-law to provide for compulsory insurance of taxis operating in the Town of Huntingdon, was read a first and second time and passed. Under this by-law taxi owners will be required to supply the Town with a copy of a policy showing that insurance is carried for $5,000. for one passenger and $10,000. for two or more passengers and $1,000. for property damage. Unless such policy is forthcoming, no permit will be issued for the operation of taxi in the Town of Huntingdon. The new by-law will come into force on January 1st, 1953.

A by-law to regulate the volunteer fire brigade was read a first and second time and passed. This will come into force fifteen days after the date of reading. It will provide regulations as to fighting fires, personnel and regulation of traffic while a fire is being attended to.

The matter of the housing project was briefly mentioned and it was said that the Board of Trade was working on the matter. The secretary was instructed to write the Dept. of Lands and Forests to request a survey be made of the district under consideration in connection with making improvements.

Marton's Shoe Store made a request for parking space in front of their store on the corner of Bouchette Street near the Huntingdon Theatre. The committees connected with this are to make a check and see if something can be done in the matter.

The meeting adjourned until March 24th at the same time and place.

Russell Kerr, Fertile Creek Installs New Barn Cleaner

Saves Much Time and Labor and Does A Splendid Job

What is claimed to be the only one of its kind in the Chateauguay Valley, is a new type barn cleaner which was recently installed in the barn of Russell Kerr & Sons, Fertile Creek. Labor saving it is called and labor saving it is and also a time saver.

Mr. Kerr has 54 head of cattle in the stalls and the manure is cleared from the gutter behind the animals in 13 minutes. Formerly the operation took one man two hours. The barn cleaner is set up in two units, a conveyor for removing the manure from the gutter to an elevator which finally dumps it into a wagon or manure spreader. The conveyor is worked by an endless chain system which has paddles the same width as the gutter and placed every 12 to 14 inches apart. The manure is emptied into a pit at the bottom of the elevator and is picked up by this system, also equipped with paddles, carried to the top of the elevator ramp and dumped into the waiting vehicle.

To accommodate the elevator, Mr. Kerr built an addition to his barn, size about 16 x 20 feet. Thus it is not necessary to have the wagon out in the weather and this eliminates freezing in cold weather and facilitates the removal of the manure from the wagon.

The conveyor system is powered by a 3 h.p. electric motor, while the elevator is operated by a 1 h.p. electric motor. Mr. Kerr estimates that he saves one hour and forty minutes in cleaning his barn with this barn cleaner. The work is done in thirteen minutes. The whole of the operation is done under cover. The machine is sold by Forano Ltd., and made by Ideal Machine Co., St. Cesaire, Que. Mr. Kerr is quite enthused with this piece of equipment and feels that more farmers would be interested in it if they could see it in operation and is willing for anyone interested to see his own machine at "Kerrdale", Fertile Creek. In another part of this issue photographs appear of this machine.

Valleyfield Entry Wins Dufferin Feature Heat

TORONTO (CP) — Lady Virtue, owned by the Cruise stable of Shepherdsville, Ky., and driven by Jimmy Cruise, and Dickie Dale, owned and handled by Theodore Turcotte of Valleyfield, Que., took turns chalking up heat wins in the sixth and featured harness event at Dufferin Park on Thursday, February 28.

In the first heat Dickie Dale went to the front entering the back stretch, drew clear then led every inch of the way for a handy victory.

PRINTER AND TEXTILE OBSERVING ENTHUSIASTS

Mrs. Lindsay, Hemmingford, accompanied by 24 pupils of Hemmingford School, visited Huntingdon yesterday. They first toured the printery of The Huntingdon Gleaner Inc. after which they were escorted through the Fawcett and Grant Limited textile mill. After their busy morning, which the boys and girls appeared to enjoy, they went to Ormstown where they had lunch before returning to their respective homes in Hemmingford.

The upper picture shows a group of the visitors viewing two automatic presses in operation in the Gleaner printery. In the lower picture eyes are fixed upon a piece of cloth being carefully checked before being further processed at the Fawcet and Grant Limited mill.

Farm Workers Influx Curbed

Immigration From Areas of Infection to Halt

OTTAWA, (CP)—The Canadian Government on Monday night announced a halt in immigration of farm workers from areas in countries where foot-and-mouth disease is known to exist.

This emergency move, resulting from the outbreak of the scourge in South Saskatchewan, likely will result in a sharp drop in the number of farmer immigrants Canada expected to get this year. About 25,000 farm workers entered Canada last year, mostly from European countries.

The announcement was made in the Commons by Immigration Minister Harris. He said that any such workers now en route to Canada will not be allowed to go on Canadian farms until they and their effects are thoroughly disinfected.

A boatload of European immigrants is expected at Halifax in a few days, he added in an interview later. Those who are farm workers will be sent to a decontamination station at Montreal operated by the Federal Agriculture Department.

Mr. Harris said details of the new policy will be worked out with the Agriculture Department. The ban will not apply to whole countries, but to districts of countries where the scourge is rampant. And it will apply only to prospective immigrants who want to work on Canadian farms.

"If a farm worker wants to come to Canada and work in the city and not on farms we may have a second look at him," Mr. Harris said.

Chateauguay Valley Teachers' Assoc. Meeting

On Thursday evening, Feb. 28th, the Chateauguay Valley Teachers' Association met in Ormstown High School, with about forty members present. The Treasurer reported $96.93 on hand. Reports were given by the chairmen of the following committees: Public Relations, Inter-School Activities, and Salary Commitee. Mr. Lionel Upton, Delegate to the P.A.P.T., reported on the last executive meeting.

After a delicious supper served by the staff of the Ormstown High School, under the convenership of Miss Cumming, the business meeting continued. After a short discussion it was moved, seconded and carried that the new constitution be adopted. Miss Getty was appointed chairman of the Nominating Committee, as the next regular meeting is to be the annual meeting.

Mr. King then introduced Dr. Sutton, the guest speaker of the evening, who spoke on "A Health Programme in the Modern High School". He outlined very carefully just what can be checked by the school doctor with the facilities we have in our schools, and the importance of having the family doctor examine the children who are found with defects so they can be helped.

After a short question period Mrs. Thornton, of Howick, thanked Dr. Sutton on behalf of the group present. The meeting was then adjourned.

Artificial Breeding Of Calves Growing

Forty per cent of calves registered with the Quebec branch, Holstein - Friesian Association, in the last year came from artificial breeding. Vertel Smiley, president, said on Monday at the annual general meeting of the association held at the Queen's Hotel, Montreal.

"The future of the breed" he said, "depends a lot on artificial breeding. As its use increases, so does the responsibility of those who operate the units. We must co-operate in this work and keep the females in our herds at a high standard."

Dr. P. E. Begin said that 60 per cent of the milk produced in Quebec came from Holstein herds.

Master Breeder certificates were presented to Hon. Donat Raymond and J. J. Murphy, Huntingdon.

Round Byre AND Ring

By Frank Napier

The Howick Ayrshire Calf Club can well add another proud, outstanding credit to its long record of achievements. The latest record being as regards the performance of two of its members at the 1952 Macdonald College Students "Royal Show". It might, of course, be assumed that since they are scions of families that have a long record of accomplishment in the breeding of Ayrshire cattle the two members concerned doubtless inherited their acumen and knowledge of Ayrshires. Added to that, they have been in close contact with the intricacies of breeding, fitting and showing, all their young lives; have had as their patterns their fathers and several male-relatives who are well versed in Ayrshire cattle breeding, in every sense of that expression.

However, the Howick-Ayrshire Calf Club has doubtless helped them to put into practise on their own, so to speak, their inherited instincts, learnings, etc., insofar as fitting and showmanship are concerned.

OAKBURN AND BURNSIDE

I have of course ben referring to Kenneth (Kenny) Roy, son of G. A. and Mrs. Roy of Oakburn Farm, Howick, and Bernice (Bernie) Ness, daughter of Douglas A. and Mrs. Ness of Burnside Farms, Howick. Their record in Calf Club work is indeed a spectacular one, both have shown their calves to leading places, including first and championships at Club shows and Ormstown Exhibition; both have taken leading awards in the showmanship contests, including several firsts and championships.

PROVINCIAL CONTESTANTS

In 1951 they were selected by the Howick-Ayrshire Calf Club, because of their top standing, to go to Sherbrooke Exhibition to compete in the final judging contests, between similar teams from across the Province of Quebec from which were selected the teams which would represent the Province at the Inter-Provincial Boys' and Girls' Calf Club Judging Contests at the Royal Winter Fair. That is, in their instance, in the Dairy Cattle section. It is true that as a team they only came second at Sherbrooke but the margin of points between that team and the winner was a very slim one indeed, and the winning team beat all the other Inter-Provincial Dairy Cattle Judging Teams at the Royal.

MACDONALD CHAMPIONS

This year they are both students at Macdonald College, specialising, of course, in Animal Husbandry, and so it is that at the Macdonald College Students "Royal Show", they headed all the other contestants in the showmanship contests.

Kenny Roy won first of all the Ayrshire Showmanship contests, in competition with the first prize winners in the various Ayrshire classes, then the grand championship of the Dairy Cattle division, in competition with the champion and reserve champion Holstein showmen. Finally he won the grand championship for showmanship. In the latter instance the winning showmen of the Beef cattle, Sheep and Swine sections were also in competition.

Similarly, Bernie Ness was reserve champion in all three contests to Kenny Roy. In addition, Bernie showed the first prize Macdonald Dimple 4th, and likewise was first for showmanship in that class.

In competing for the reserves in the Dairy Cattle and Grand Contests, she had to compete with the champion and reserve champion showmen of the Beef cattle, Sheep and Swine sections.

Incidentally, whilst the animals were judged on a conformation basis, and placed accordingly, preparation and showring performance were the factors taken into consideration insofar as the showmanship end was concerned.

It will be noted from the report which is given elsewhere in this issue several other students from this district were also leading prize winners.

FOOT AND MOUTH

The outstanding question, in fact anxiety of today, insofar as Canadian livestock-men are concerned, be they owners of grade or purebred herds of cattle, flocks of sheep or studs of swine, is the "Foot and Mouth" situation. Its present actual and prospective future repercussions.

Nevertheless so much has been said over the Radio, carried in the Newspapers, etc., that any comments on my part would not add very much to or be of any value insofar as that very, very vital situation is concerned.

However, whilst Regina, Saskatchewan, the present seat of the disease, and we hope it will be held there, the repercussions have been far reaching — domestic trading has been interrupted and the United States has put an embargo on cattle, sheep, swine and several other commodities which had found a good market in the United States. Let's hope that the disease will be arrested by an early date, in the district in which it originated, and in that respect I would say that the fight is being supervised by three men who have a very high standing as practical as well as administrative Veterinarians — Dr. T. Church, Veterinary Director and his assistant Dr. Wells; Dr. C. A. Mitchell, outstanding research specialist in charge of the Animal Diseases Research Institute.

TRYPANOSOMIASIS

Serious and all though it was, the outbreak at Thamesford, Ont., was happily not due to Foot and Mouth. It was diagnosed as being the above named disease, a tropical disease which is practically new to Canada, or at any rate never so diagnosed here. At least that was the diagnosis of the Federal Laboratory but the Provincial authorities diagnosed it as Anaplasomis, also a rare disease, also tropical.

However, whatever the name, it would appear that, unlike foot and mouth, the danger of contagion is believed comparatively slight. While we are not aware of the exact nature of the disease, we understand that it is spread by some species of 'tick' and resembles Texas tick fever.

The herd at Thamesford, Ont., which was attacked was comprised of 45 head of beef cattle which were purchased last fall at Calgary, Alta., at more than $8,000 in replacement of a Holstein herd. All the 45 head were shot and buried in a deep trench.

U.S. AYRSHIRE NEWS

A few items regarding Ayrshire cattle progress in the United States during the year 1951 will probably be of interest to a number of our Ayrshire readers here.

During the year 1951 the Ayrshire Breeders' Association of the United States registered 25,463 animals—3,458 males, 22,005 female. New York State headed the list of registrations with 4,424 or 17.4%, with Pennsylvania next with 2,794 registrations or 11.0%. Heading the list of breeders who registered 25 or more animals was William A. Gibson, Spencer, Mass., with 116 registrations. Also in that list are A. H. Hatch Estate, Granby, Mass., with 86 registrations; J. Willis McGee, Anderson, S.C., with 54 registrations.

WELL KNOWN HERE

Messrs. Gibson and Carpenter and the A. H. Hatch Estate are, of course, well known in that district in which they have been frequent purchasers of Ayrshires over a period of years. In fact William A. Gibson's connection with this district dates back some 40 years or so. After he first crossed the ocean, from Ayrshire, Scotland, in 1911, he proceeded to Huntingdon where he worked for a year with McMillan & Leggatt at Springburn Farm, after which he worked for another year or so for the late Dave Macfarlane of Kelso Stock Farm. He then took over the old Barrie farm on which he built up a pretty good Ayrshire herd. However, after some 3 years or so he went to Alta Crest Farms as manager, which position he held until a few years ago when he took over one of the Alta Crest Farms on his own. (P.S. We regret to learn that at present Mr. Gibson is very seriously ill).

MILLION DOLLAR SALES

During the year 1951 a total of 3,269 head of Ayrshires were sold in organized auction sales in the United States for a total of $1,179,941.50 or a general average of $360.95. Aside from the 3,269 animals sold by auction there were 14,685 others for which transfers were made resulting from private transfers, making a total of 17,954 transfers recorded during 1951. However whilst registrations realized an increase that amounted to 1,227 over the previous 12 months, 52 fewer transfers were processed.

AYE! AN AWFU' PRICE

From Farming News of Scotland:

Overheard in Sauchiehall Street, Glasgow — One lady to her friend: "I see a bull was sold in Perth for 10,000 guineas". Her friend's retort was: "Aye, and at a 'sale' tae!"

Hemmingford

HEMMINGFORD — The World Day of Prayer Service was observed in Hemmingford United Church on February 29th. This service was under the leadership of Mrs. P. Simpson, also Mrs. C. Jackson and Mrs. M. Brown.

Those who assisted with the service were Mrs. J. Paré, Mrs. D. Andrews, Mrs. R. Hadley, Miss S. Brown, Mrs. McVey and Mrs. Geo. Brown, who gave a very inspiring address on the theme, "Christ our Hope and the Power of Prayer in the Christian Life". A few members of the choir sang "My Saviour Walks With Me." This service was well attended and the manner in which it was conducted was an inspiration to all.

The St. Andrew's United Church Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Margaret Pelletier on Wednesday, February 27th, with Mrs. Mabel Keddy, co-hostess.

The meeting opened by repeating the 23rd Psalm in unison, followed by prayer from the prayer card.

The two delegates, Mrs. J. Paré and Mrs. C. Cleland, brought to the Society, two well-compiled reports from the Presbyterial. These reports were most interesting and were given in a very efficient manner. Mrs. Geo. Brown thanked the delegates for their splendid reports.

Mrs. Herb Barrington read an interesting chapter from the Study Book "Nothing Short of a Miracle", which was enjoyed by all.

It was decided to hold the annual St. Patrick's Tea in the United Church Hall.

The meeting was dismissed by Rev. W. Holmes.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and a social hour enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith spent Saturday at St. John's.

Mrs. Mabel Keddy is spending several days with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Glass, Roxham. Mrs. Glass' friends will be pleased to hear her health is improving after spending two weeks at the Physicians' Hospital, Plattsburg, N.Y.

Miss Helena Ryan spent Wednesday in Montreal. Mrs. J. Wylie and Ian also recently spent a day in Montreal.

Portrait of Young Man Facing Death

IN A TRENCH in Korea a young man is crouching. He looks up and watches the explosion of the withering mortar fire that was meant to prevent him and his comrades capturing the trench. It is a picture of death going overhead and it was taken when the King's Shropshire Light Infantry of the 20,000-strong British Commonwealth Division drove strongly entrenched Communists from a 1,000-ft. high peak.

Helping to Promote Dairy Products' Sale

The fast expanding operation of Dairy Farmers of Canada Publicity Branch and the Dairy Foods Service Bureau were indicated by figures given by O. J. W. Shugg, director of publicity, in the report of the management committee to the annual meeting in Montreal.

For the advertising and promotion of the sale of dairy products, said Mr. Shugg, 4,385 advertisements were used by 80 daily and 266 weekly newspapers across Canada. There were 126 10-minute dairy food broadcasts and 26 network broadcasts which included 39 stations. Of the network program, "Down Dairy Lane" Mr. Shugg gave survey figures indicating that this Dairy Farmers' program has grown in popularity until it is now one of the most popular daytime programs in most Canadian areas.

Thirty full-color ads in women's magazines, 69 farm press ads, and 366 public relations ads in daily, weekly and farm papers were used during the year. In addition to this published advertising, 4,341 truck cards, 27,762 streamers and 193,114 others pieces of point-of-sale material were distributed.

The Dairy Foods Service Bureau, under its food editor, Marie Fraser, distributed 101,000 English and 25,000 French recipe pamphlets; 35 food page stories with pictures and tested recipes were released. It was also noted that the increase in the use of independent dairy food stories and recipes by press food editors, was very marked.

The bureau also supplied 120 English women's radio commentators with dairy foods material. It had also handled 5,553 English mail requests for information on dairy foods, in addition to hundreds of telephone calls. These requests had come from all parts of the country and some from outside of Canada.

The work of the bureau was constantly brought to the attention of national groups of influential people, which include Dominion and provincial government nutritionists, home economists, nutrition directors and extension directors; provincial dairy commissioners, and the heads of home economics and dairy departments in Canadian universities.

During the last year dairy foods promotions occurred in all but three months of the year. Fluid milk, butter, cheese, evaporated milk, milk powder and ice cream campaigns were launched, and in occurred. These were the ice cream promotion in May; National Cheese Festival in October; "June is Dairy Month" in June and "Dairy Foods in Winter Meals" in November, which promoted all dairy foods.

In the first part of 1952, the January promotion was on butter, April will be on evaporated milk and milk powder, and the "June is Dairy Month" campaign in June. The decrease in last year's June set-aside necessarily curtailed the effort in the first half of this year to some extent.

During the last year, Dairy Farmers of Canada press releases received good coverage. These releases rated space to a value of $39,000. It was significant, said Mr. Shugg, that another $37,000 worth of space was devoted to independent reporting of Dairy Farmers' activities.

At the close of the four-day meeting, Gilbert McMillan was re-elected to a third term as president. Gordon Loveridge, president of Saskatchewan Co-operative Creamery Association, was elected vice-president. He succeeds John I. Ballantyne, of Atwood, Ont., who announced his retirement. The second vice-president is Fred J. Goodman, secretary-manager of the Manitoba Dairy and Poultry Co-Operative, Ltd.

Dundee

DUNDEE—Mr. and Mrs. Fred White and son Robert, of McMasterville, Que., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Earl McNicol and Mrs. Eleanor McNicol. Mrs. Earl McNicol returned home with them and expects to spend a week with her relatives.

Mrs. Eleanor McNicol spent three days the past week visiting in Huntingdon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stark and Mr. and Mrs. Nicol Stark.

Miss Isabel Stowell, of Ottawa, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Stowell. Mr. Guy Stowell expects to attend another Fish and Game Conference being held in Montreal, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Trout River

TROUT RIVER—Mr. and Mrs. James Bush of Verdun spent the past week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. MacDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Allen and children of Aubrey were also recent guests of the MacDonald family and Mrs. Dear.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peters of Montreal visited on Sunday at the home of their mother, Mrs. Mary Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Elder, Dawn, Karen and Gordon, also Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Elder were guests at the home of John D. Elder on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rankin and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. MacDonald enjoyed the day at Macdonald College on Monday.

Beauharnois

Trinity Anglican Church

BEAUHARNOIS—The annual report of Trinity Church was presented at the vestry meeting held recently. The rector, Rev. W. G. Walsh, presided.

All obligations for the year were met and as a result of careful supervision of expenses, a small surplus was shown for the year. Attention was drawn to the fact that the number of families in the parish had doubled during the past ten years.

The Women's Auxiliary again reported a very active season, being successful, both socially and financially. Sunday School attendance had been maintained at a high level.

Officers elected for 1952 were: rector's warden, R. G. Tait; people's warden, W. MacLeod; envelope secretary, J. C. Courtney; delegates to synod, F. Gwyn and M. Walsh; auditors, T. J. Gillians and H. B. Porter. Members of the select vestry are: J. A. Gillians, R. G. Tait, W. MacLeod, J. C. Courtney, G. Gwyn, M. Walsh, T. Hill, R. L. Hauver, and two members of the W.A.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kilgour spent the week-end at North Hatley, visiting their daughter, Miss Susan Kilgour, at King's Hall School, Compton, and their son, Master John Kilgour, at Bishop's College School, Lennoxville.

The Senior Woman's Missionary Society of St. Edward's Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. Robert Turnbull, Sr., Thursday afternoon.

The World Day of Prayer was held in Trinity Church Friday evening. The leaders were Mrs. D. C. Currie, Trinity Church and Mrs. R. B. Calhoun, St. Edward's Presbyterian Church. Prayers were offered by Mrs. M. R. Reany, Mrs. R. G. Tait, Mrs. R. N. Hauver, Trinity Church, Mrs. F. S. Reany and Miss Alice Holmes, St. Edward's. Mrs. G. Graham spoke on the topic chosen by the Inter-Church Council of Canada, "What is done with your Money." Mrs. R. D. Beddoes presided at the organ.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Marchand were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kokko over the week-end.

A delicious luncheon was served to guest Clubs at the Curling Club Thursday. Mrs. Morin, Mrs. Robt. Job were co-conveners.

Tre Ladies' Aid Society of St. Edward's Presbyterian Church held a successful Bake Sale in the Shawinigan Power Headquarters on St. Lawrence Street on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. E. Brault will visit Lachute Curling Club Thursday with a team from the local Club.

Miss Audrey Lagden returned from the Hospital on Thursday.

WINTER SPORTS

Chateauguay Valley Hockey League

The final games in this league are now under way, the Athelstan Flyers after disposing of the Clydes Corners' team in the semi-finals, which to all of us was a major upset, to a team that had gone so far during the regular season, but that is what makes hockey the game that it is.

Chateauguay West having defeated Howick in three straight games, met Athelstan in the first games of the finals on Feb. 21st in the Ormstown Arena, Athelstan winning this first games 2-1. In the second game which was played the following Monday night in Athelstan, the Flyers were again the victors by a score of 4 to 3.

On Thursday night last the third game was played in Ormstown. In this game Chateauguay West scored two in the first period and again two in the second. The ice was fast and the Flyers could not seem to get going. At the end of the second period they were down 4 to 0, but in the third period things began to happen and before it ended they had rammed home three goals but not enough to tie it up. Those present were treated to all the thrills of a fast and furious finish. The teams are well matched and both turned in a good brand of hockey and met again on Monday in Ormstown, for the fourth game of a best 3 out of 5 series, in which Athelstan has now won 3 and Ormstown 1, Athelstan defeating Ormstown 5-4 in overtime.

"Now I've caught up with Grandma!"

Grandma was one of those unforgettable characters you read about. And every time I think of her, I remember one of her favourite sayings: "Early sow — Early mow".

Many years have passed since Grandma died. But just the other day something happened to remind me of that old motto of hers.

I was working over my budget, trying not to admit what the figures told me: My savings had slipped. At this rate, it was a cinch that some of the things I'd started to save for would have to wait. Suddenly I remembered "Early sow . . . "

"Old-fashioned stuff!" I told myself. Then I got to thinking. "Maybe it is tough to save today. But it's still important . . . still my only hope of getting some of the things I want most.

"Well, at least I'm keeping up my life insurance payments," I thought. "That's a way of saving which combines protection for my family as well. And maybe if I make an extra effort to put more money aside I'll reach my goals sooner.

"So here goes! I'll try again. I'll find some new ways to economize. Somehow I'm sure I can manage to be more thrifty."

And you know — it's a funny thing! The moment I made that decision, I realized that Grandma's idea was not old-fashioned. I've just caught up with her now!

Tom Gard's Note Book

Autumn always brings a number of tasks to the home owner, especially if he is a gardener. A few days ago I noticed such a man preparing for winter. He had already constructed a reel for his garden hose, impressing upon me the need to drain it after use, then to store it dry in order to prevent the rubber from rotting. Well, his idea is worth copying.

HAMPERS FOR CLOTHES

His wife was just as handy, in fact she had converted a bushel basket into a clothes-basket by enamelling the outside white, and the inside lined with colourful chintz. This seemed to be the envy of her neighbours.

DOOR-MAT FROM BOTTLE TOPS

There was a youngster in the home, the kind that thoughtlessly ran in after school without wiping his feet. Dad soon corrected this by collecting bottle tops, then in a few minutes he made a door-mat by nailing the tops in even rows on two pieces of pine joined with a pair of cleats. I noticed that the tops were nailed closely together.

ORANGE CRATES FOR SHELVES

This chap turned out to be quite an amateur craftsman, and he liked everything in order. He was very proud of two shelves he had constructed from orange crates, one to serve his purposes in the basement, and the second one, nicely finished, for the living room.

Editorial Notes...

A Dreaded Animal Disease

A threat of the worst kind to the whole of Canada was unfolded in Saskatchewan the past week, it was the outbreak in that province of the dreaded foot and mouth disease. Fortunately, so far, the outbreak is confined to a small area of the Province of Saskatchewan and if it is possible to keep it confined there, the danger to the rest of Canada will not be so great.

However, all of Canada will feel the effects of the restrictions that necessarily were placed to safeguard against the spread of the disease. While the disease is peculiar to certain animals only, it is possible for humans to become carriers and thus transfer the disease from infected to non-infected areas. There is the danger of the unknown quantity in an outbreak of this kind as it is impossible to know just how many carriers may have been in the area of infection and have by now transferred the disease elsewhere. Some animals may have been shipped out in ignorance of them having the disease or being in contact with same. Time alone will tell if the outbreak has actually been confined to the area now being investigated. Approximate measures have been taken in this area and it may be that the disease will be eradicated right on the spot. We hope this proves to be the case, for if it spreads, it could ruin a great number of farmers throughout the country.

In any event, farmers are going to feel the effects of the outbreak because of the restrictions that have been placed on shipments to the U.S.A., and interprovincial points. Not only has livestock shipment been stopped, but also that of meat and various kinds of feeds. In this district a considerable amount of livestock shipping is done, thus the restrictions will be felt along this line. Large quantities of feed are also shipped from here and losses will be felt in this direction. It was announced on Saturday that the Quebec government had issued an Order in Council regarding the shipping of meat and animals. Certificates will have to be obtained in order to permit any shipments into this province of products coming under the ban, which includes livestock, meats and hides.

It is impossible at this time to tell just how long the situation will remain as is or if the spread has been checked. Warmer weather and the return of flies may mean that further outbreaks will be uncovered. There is no need to worry about stocks of meat in this province, officials have announced, for they are adequate for the present. In Ottawa circles the Quebec Order is described as confusing and it is doubtful, if the authorities here have the right to restrict interprovincial trade in such manner. On the other hand Mr. Duplessis told newsmen that he feels it is necessary to protect the farmers and the health of the citizens generally.

It will be some time before the infected areas can be declared free of the disease and much testing and cleaning up will have to be done in those areas. How the disease was introduced will have to be cleared up also. At present it is thought it was brought here by immigrants arriving from European countries. Other probabilities are that it may be part of a Communist campaign to injure our economy. If the actual source can be traced, it is possible that a complete check may be effected. In this way the outbreak will be confined and the greater danger avoided. Meantime the possibilities cannot be overlooked or treated too lightly. Farmers in the business of rearing and caring for animals which could be affected, should be constantly alert for outbreaks and if found, should report them immediately.

We can only hope that the outbreak will not spread and that a check has been placed upon it in time.

Education Week - Everybody's Business

YES, this is Education Week and the slogan of the week is "Education – Everybody's Business." This slogan has been in force for several years now and more and more it is realized that it is everybody's business. More and more the word "education" rises before us in various ways. There are reports that less high school students are passing out of the high schools and into the universities; those in the universities have very poor standings in many of the subjects. Then there is trouble in the teaching fraternity in many parts of the country for various reasons. Parents are dissatisfied with results obtained by their children and so forth. Thus is looks as if Education should be Everybody's Business, even if it isn't.

This week from March 3rd to the 8th is set aside for a general observance of what pertains to education. Special programs are being sponsored by the various schools and parents and friends are being invited to attend the schools and see for themselves what is being done. But still very few parents take advantage of these opportunities. This is a time when they could visit the schools and ask a few questions and find out some of the things that perhaps they have been wondering about. Only when everybody makes it his or her business will we know why many of the things are as they are, or can be bettered, or revamped for improvement.

Questions which could well be studied during this week are: Why are there so many failures in the upper grades of our schools today? Is the fault with the student, the parents or the teachers? Is the fault with our present-day method of teaching the various subjects or should there be more concentration on the fundamental subjetcs? Should psychology play a more important part as the child advances through the various stages of learning? Should there be an attempt made to find out what a child is most adapted for and thus whether he or she is receiving the right type of education to fit him or her in their after life? These and many more questions of like nature seem to be those most prominent in the minds of people today.

On the invitation that has been issued – why not let everybody make education his or her business. We could lend our constructive criticism to the cause and perhaps many of the problems could be solved as a result. We notice in a dispute now being argued in Montreal, that the Home and School Associations have offered their services in an effort to help settle the dispute. We believe that much can be accomplished in educational matters if a spirit of cooperation is allowed to engender between the home and school. Thus the Home and School meetings are a proper place at which to discuss many of the problems confronting education. It is felt that insufficient knowledge of school matters is brought to public attention and that if more were known, better results would be forthcoming in some disputes.

War in Korea Somewhat Overshadowed

EVENTS in the past few weeks such as the death and funeral of his late Majesty King George VI, the present outbreak of Foot and Mouth Disease and other such important items, have tended to put the Korean situation in the background of the news. However, it is far from being a background event and is looming up in many ways to the fore.

While the armistice is just about as far away as when the two forces were battling out the war in the fiercest manner, the talks towards such a truce are still going on. The latest development is that the Chinese Reds want Russia as one of the neutral countries to regulate the terms of the armistice. Officials of the United Nations negotiators will have nothing whatever to do with Russia being one of the neutral observers. Thus it looks like another deadlock in the negotiations and the war still goes on.

It could be that the Korea war will have more said about it in the Federal House at Ottawa that is presently meeting, especially in regard to the Sabre Jet F86, which Canada continues to build.

A laudable curiosity. Laudable, considering that when United States Air Force Chief of Staff General Hoyt S. Vandenberg returned recently from an inspection trip in Korea he made the following statement, quoted by the Christian Science Monitor:

"The Russian-made MIG 15 which the Communists are using against the UN in Korea is a superior fighter and in many respects can out-perform our own F86, the only airplanes the MIG on approximately even terms."

General Vanderberg added:

"What is momentarily discouraging about the performance of the MIG is its demonstrated ability to operate at speeds in excess of sound (that is, 750 mph). The high quality of the MIG alons should prove a timely warning to all of us that Soviet technicians have mastered the design and production problems of extremely high speed aircraft to a degree which equals and in some respects excel all that we are able to demonstrate in warfare at the present time. They already have large numbers of supersonic aircraft capable of supersonic flight."

"Momentarily discouraging" is bad enough. It could be far worse than that if, with the facts of the MIG before us, we went on spending millions on an inferior jet plane.

Perspiration oozing from the forehead while wielding the pen, is a sure indication that there is an extra big fire somewhere.

The Valuators finished their labors last week and made the value of assessable property in the village $377,500, and of non-taxable $73,760, showing a slight increase. The population they ascertained to be 1,217, an increase of only 34 in the past three years. The valuation of Godmanchester is one of the few townships that takes the actual value as its basis of assessment and its property foots up to $1,035,985. The Hinchinbrook valuation added $117,000 to the gross amount, chiefly by raising the value of property on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd ranges. The owners of gravelly land farms are indignant and the prospect is that the roll will be set aside upon an informality. Elgin's valuation shows a slight reduction, being $532,405, against $540,955 in 1887. All the valuators complain of inaccuracies in the cadastre, several of them of a serious nature.

Weekly Review

Japan As A Competitor

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

When the Japanese made their sneak air raid on Pearl Harbor they did great damage to the American naval forces, but at the same blow they completely destroyed their own industrial and world trade, especially in the manufacture and export of cotton textiles. From the First World War until 1939 the growth of the Japanese textile industry was spectacular. In the mid-twenties it was exporting mainly to Asiatic countries, but it rapidly expanded its sales into virtually all markets, and by 1938 it had 40 per cent of the entire international trade in cotton textiles.

The chief exporting countries to feel the impact of Japanese competition were Britain, United States, France, Italy, Holland and Belgium. For many years Britain had dominated the world's cotton goods trade, having in 1913 an export volume of 73 per cent of the total. From this high point she gradually descended to less than 20 per cent in 1938. This decline was in part due to the growth of textile manufactures in many countries, but the major single factor was Japanese competition.

Lancashire, as I myself knew it before the first war, was a hive of cotton industries. These were reduced to idleness and I believe that the unemployment that followed was responsible for the spread of socialistic ideas in Britain. But no amount of Socialism could have altered the situation.

Other British industries suffered more or less in the same way. Ironically enough, Britain, by her promotion of world trade and the industrial development of her colonies, put herself out of business. The Japanese, who are expert imitators, adopted British industrial machinery and were able to compete in world markets because of their abundance of cheap labor.

Unlike Britain and the United States, Japan had no raw cotton resources of her own, but she was an astute bargainer and her cotton was usually delivered in low-cost Japanese ships. But the decisive competitive factor was cheap labor. Most of the female workers, who were about 65 per cent of the total, were recruited from rural areas under a contract system with their parents. They were lodged in dormitories under strictly controlled living conditions. In 1936 about 33 per cent of all women workers were 16 years and under, the average age being under twenty. The average monthly wage was $5.25, about 20 cents per day. At that time (1936) the average textile wage in the United States was 41.3 cents per hour, with a monthly pay average of $71.58.

The Japanese contend that these money wage comparisons are misleading. They point out that man-hour productivity in Japan was much less than in United States, and that Japanese workers received free housing accommodation and other benefits. But, allowing for all those, the disparity between American and Japanese labor costs was estimated at not less than 8 to 1. These comparisons have no bearing on real wages, which reflect living costs. They relate only to wages as a cost factor in production to be translated into export prices. From the viewpoint of Western competitors, therefore, Japanese entry into any market was in the nature of an invasion which could not be resisted on a price-level. Unable to cope with this Japanese conquest of world textile markets, Western nations had to resort to tariffs and quotas to prevent a flooding of their home markets and the extinction of their own industries.

Before the last war textiles accounted for no less than 60 per cent of Japanese exports, and recovery of that trade was therefore a logical aim. Since the close of the war, under American occupation, the industry has made a steady recovery, and the upward course of Japanese export trade is said to have been "phenomenal". But the conditions under which industrial and commercial activities are carried on in Japan have changed radically. Social legislation has been enacted in accord with the American pattern, with trade union, labor standards and other laws, together with the decentralization of industry. Japanese competitive advantage is now said to have been reduced to the level of the basic factors of their new social and economic structure which are closer to those of the Western nations. Yet Japan in 1950 took second place in the world's cotton goods trade, being exceeded only by India. Britain has failed to recover more than a fraction of her former peak, and the United States has lost ground because of dollar shortages and increased competition from lower cost countries.

The Gore

THE GORE — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson, of Malone, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Coulter were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Anderson and Ross.

Mrs. Mervyn Graham and Melvin spent Thursday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Ritchie and attended the Dewittville W.C.T.U. meeting held at the home of Mrs. Irwin Todd.

Mrs. Purcell Fortune and Stanley, of Valleyfield, spent a few days the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Whaley.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCracken, of Malone, have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Whaley and Greta.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Graham, Melvin and Beverly Ford were Wednesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Graham, Athelstan.

Several ladies from this district attended the World Day of Prayer, held this year on February 29th, at the Rennie's United Church. The theme was "Christ Our Hope". All ladies from the surrounding district joined in this meeting. At the close of the meeting, a social hour followed in the Sunday School Room, when the ladies from the Rennie Church served delicious refreshments.

The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA (CP) — Two events of historical significance to Canada were overshadowed last week by a situation equally unique but far from welcome.

Canadian historians will mark down Thursday, Feb. 28, 1952, as a significant date. For on that day the first native-born Canadian was sworn in as Governor-General, and shortly afterwards opened Parliament by reading the traditional Speech from the Throne.

But those who write the history books may add that while Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey was being sworn in, Canada's livestock industry was in the middle of what agricultural officials considered a national crisis.

None was quite ready to guage just how seriously the livestock industry or the nation's economy would be affected by the discovery of foot and mouth disease among livestock herds in southern Saskatchewan.

Wide Repercussions

Whatever the long-range results, the immediate effect of discovery of the disease were these:

1. The United States border was closed to Canadian livestock, hay and straw.

2. Movement of livestock out of the prairies to Ontario or British Columbia came to a halt.

3. Eleven rural municipalities around Regina were quarantined. Orders were given to slaughter on premises where the 24 known cases were.

4. Prices generally dropped on the country's livestock markets.

5. A successful hunt located an immigrant German who may have brought the dreaded virus to Canada. He was brought from Vancouver to Hull, Que., for laboratory tests.

The disease first was reported last November 26 at the farm of Leonard Wass at McLean, Sask., 40 miles from Regina. It was first thought to be severe stomatitis. Treatment failed to cure the infected cattle.

Then Feb. 19, the federal government announced an outbreak of a "contagious animal disease" in the Regina area. A quarantine was clamped on nine rural municipalities in the Regina area. Six days later came the announcement that the outbreak was foot-and-mouth disease.

Many Precautions

That brought a stricter quarantine. Movement of livestock, feed cereal grains and articles used in caring for the animals on infected premises was prohibited. A 10th municipality was added to those quarantined. Movement of livestock out of the west virtually came to a halt.

Then came the U.S. embargo which will continue until the U.S. agriculture department is satisfied that the easily-spread disease has been eradicated.

British Columbia added a similar embargo and included meat despite the refusal to take such action by the federal government. Ontario announced that the federal government had embargoed livestock movement from the west at its request. Later, Quebec announced it had placed a similar embargo on livestock.

Western meats could still move to eastern markets from packing plants outside the quarantined area, and there seemed no likelihood of any meat shortage.

Pageant Subdued

The pageantry surrounding the inauguration of a Governor-General was subdued for last week's ceremonies because of the death of King George VI. But it did not lack color.

The new Governor-General himself provided a note of color at the opening of Parliament. He wore a dark blue cloth uniform trimmed with silver on a scarlet background, a cocked hat with swan plumes and a sword. It was a sharp contrast to the formal morning clothes and black ties which predominated at the swearing-in earlier and at Mr. Massey's arrival in the capital.

The Speech from the Throne, the government's traditional means of outlining its program of legislation for the session, contained no surprises.

It reiterated the policy of combination of free nations for strength to ensure peace and referred briefly to the "distinguished service" of Canadian troops in Korea and the dispatch of Canadian forces to Europe.

The Japanese peace treaty will be submitted for ratification and parliament will be asked to approve a second $25,000,000 contribution to the Colombo Plan for aid to south and southeast Asia.

Domestic legislation will include redistribution of House of Commons' seats on the basis of the 1951 census, revisions to the criminal code, a possible increase in veterans' allowances and power for the federal government to renew tax agreements with the provinces.

Drew Feels Slighted

One incident marred the day of Mr. Massey's arrival. Opposition Leader George Drew skipped the welcome at the station by Government leaders and the diplomatic corps.

His comment was that "an examination of the printed program will show that there was no provision in the ceremony for the Leader of the Opposition."

His action was interpreted as a means of stressing what some feel is a government tendency to forget that the Progressive Conservative leader is the official Leader of Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition, and not just one of three leaders of parties opposed to the Liberal government.

A Law Helps Us to Help You

• Many people do not know they have the protection of the Small Loan Law. The Canadian government passed this law in 1939 as a convenience and safeguard to any man or woman who needs to borrow from time to time to meet money emergencies.

Before this law was passed, "loan sharks" took advantage of people in trouble by charging exorbitant rates and using vicious practices made possible by the lack of proper regulation.

The Small Loans Act has done away with all this. It protects borrowers by limiting charges and requires loan charges to be figured only on unpaid balances—and for the actual time the borrower has the money.

The business of lending sums of $500 or less is under supervision of the Department of Insurance for Canada.

Organizations like Household Finance support the Small Loans Act wholeheartedly. It protects you from unfair lending practices and enables us to give the kind of quick, friendly, constructive money help we know you want.

Our booklet "Money Management, Your Budget," devised to help you help yourself, is available at your nearest branch office or by writing our Consumer Education Department, 80 Richmond Street West, Toronto, Ontario.

THE CHALLENGE

This year again the Red Cross Appeal presents us with a challenge . . . and an opportunity. New victims of war wounds, greater need of lifesaving blood transfusion services, the inevitability of great disasters of fire and flood . . . all must find the Red Cross ready. As the need to alleviate suffering grows, the generosity of Canadians grows too. But today the task is almost beyond measure. There is the challenge. The opportunity to help is before you.

A card party sponsored by the Ormstown Boys' Band was held at the Legion Hall on Wednesday evening. Conveners of the event were Mrs. John McKell, Mrs. Archie McCormick, Mrs. Thomas Duncan and Mrs. N. McClenaghan. "500" was played and high score prizes were awarded Mrs. Clifford Barrington and Mr. Sam Cullen, low score going to Mrs. Eddie Hooker and Mr. Sangster Lindsay. Mrs. Thomas Mather was the lucky winner of the chair prize.

Refreshments were served by the committee.

Mrs. John Roy left this week for Windsor, Ont., where she will make her home. She was accompanied by Mrs. W. Wood of Huntingdon.

Prior to her departure, members of the Ormstown Ladies Aid called on Mrs. Roy and presented her with a going away gift.

COSTUMES WANTED

ST. THOMAS, Ont., (CP)—The search has begun for costumes of the pioneer days to "dress up' the Elgin and St. Thomas centennial spectacle to be held at the Athletic Park here in the first week in August. Women's Institutes have been assigned the task of locating such costumes.

Tatehurst

TATEHURST — The Upper and Lower Ormstown Group of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society met on Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Alan Hooker. A quilt was worked on during the afternoon. Mrs. R. Gruer conducted the Worship Service and Mrs. Robert Ovans and Mrs. Eddie Hooker reported on the activities and made arrangements to remember the members who were ill.

A buffet supper was served by Mrs. Mary McNeil and Mrs. Hooker.

In Memoriam

O'CONNOR — In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Margaret Jane, who passed away March 5, 1950 —
"Two years have passed and gone
Since the one we loved was called away.
Little we knew when we woke that morn
The sorrow that day would bring,
For the call was sudden and the shock severe
To part with one we loved so dear
And we wonder why you had to die
Without a chance to say goodbye.
You are ours to remember,
Sweet and loving memories never die.
Sadly missed by her
Loving husband B. J. O'Connor and family Bernard, Virginia, Stanley and Ralph.

BROGAN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, John P. Brogan, who passed away March 6th, 1940 —
"Memories never grow old".

World Day of Prayer Service

The 32nd Annual World Day of Prayer Service, held in St. John's Anglican Church, on Friday, February 29th, was well attended jointly by ladies of St. John's Anglican, St. Andrew's Presbyterian and the United Church congregations.

The worship service was led by Mrs. George Hood, Miss Lily Pringle, Mrs. Charlotte Paul, presidents of the Senior Societies in the three churches. They developed the theme "Christ Our Hope".

The Prayer responses were given by Mrs. Charlotte Graham, Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mrs. Dan Moody, Mrs. R. D. MacLean and Mrs. Chas. Reid. A brief address on the topic of "Christian Giving and What Your Money Does" by Mrs. Stanley Ruddock, concluded the programme.

The joint offering will be sent to Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada to be used in the furthering of the message "Christ Our Hope" throughout the neediest parts of the world.

Miss Gertrude Hampson presided at the organ.

United Church W.M.S. Evening Auxiliary

Fifteen members of this Auxiliary met on Thursday evening, February 28th, in the church parlour. Margaret McCoy, President, opened the meeting and the usual business was conducted. Annual reports were read by last year's officers.

Nina McClatchie, Christian Stewardship Secretary, read a letter from Miss Katherine Kirker, stating that the total W.M.S. allocation is $44,000. We also learned that our Prayer Partner is Miss Miranda Brown. Eunice Wallace assisted with the devotions. Margaret McCoy and Dorothy Stewart reported on Presbyterial, held in Erskine and American United Church, Feb. 21 and 22. As the delegates touched on highlights of the addresses and discussions, many interesting facts were brought out. The broader outlook was stressed, so we may learn to think, not in terms of our Auxiliary as a separate unit, but rather as an integral part of the missionary work of the Christian Church.

During the evening, quilting on a crib quilt was completed. A number of attractive afghans, made by ladies of the congregation, were on display. These will be used by elderly people in church supported institutions. A quanity of wool has also been donated.

A "Clothes for Korea" drive is being made by the Auxiliary and members are asked to bring clean, used clothing to the March meeting. The need for men's clothing is especially stressed.

Refreshments and a social period were enjoyed following the meeting.

Mrs. Dora Donnelly returned to Cornwall on Sunday, after having spent some time visiting friends and relatives here.

Textile Unions Adopt Resolutions With Regard Unemployment in Industry

Go on Record to Give Full Support Including Strike Action in Present Disputes

The regular session of the Canadian Council of the United Textile Workers of America was held at Brockville, Ont., and was attended by delegates from Quebec, Ontario and the Maritimes.

The Council deliberated for three days and heard reports of all current negotiations and new organization.

One of the important items considered was the state of negotiations in the cotton-textile industry and it was decided:— Firstly — to issue an invitation to a National Cotton Conference of all organized mills under contract with the National Catholic Syndicates, the C.I.O. Textile Union and the United Textile Workers of America in order to unite forces to win a settlement in outstanding negotiations.

Secondly — the Council went on record to give full support up to and including strike action to the local unions in Valleyfield, Montreal and Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, presently seeking contracts with the Dominion Textile and Cosmos Imperial mills in those districts. The Canadian Director, R. Kent Rowley said: "The cotton workers throughout Canada are completely fed up with the refusal of these companies to recognize the serious economic need of their employees and we are determined to win justice."

The Council also considered the serious unemployment situation in various parts of the industry and adopted the following program:—

1 Restriction of importation of competitive textiles in those lines where unemployment exists;

2 The elimination of credit restrictions;

3 Guarantees to the Canadian public that prices of domestic textiles shall not be increased because of import restrictions;

4 An immediate cessation of immigration excepting where proveable need for specific employees is required;

5 Increase 50 per cent of Unemployment Insurance allowances, reduction of waiting period from 9 to 3 days and elimination of discrimination against married women and payment of insurance benefits during legal strikes;

6 That the Government accept responsibility of unemployment by the allocation of public works program and cash payments to workers getting no more unemployment benefits.

This program will be considered at unemployment conferences through the industry and will be submitted to Federal Members of the House.

The Council called for the nationalization of the Bell Telephone Co.

The Council decided to arrange a special celebration for the 10th Anniversary of the Canadian District of the International Union.

A financial report was presented by Madeleine Parent, secretary-treasurer.

Huntingdon High School Notes

Education Week

In observance of Education Week, March 3rd to 7th, open house will be held at the school on Thursday afternoon, March 6th. An open invitation is extended to all parents and friends to visit the school on that day as part of the observance of Education Week.

Attend Career Conference

On Friday, March 7th, thirty of the senior students will attend a career conference being held at Gault Institute, Valleyfield. At the afternoon program the Huntingdon High School has been allotted the responsibility of the nursing section. Marilyn Martin will preside over the section and Mrs. G. A. McHardy, R.N., formerly matron of Huntingdon County Hospital, will be the guest speaker.

Scores High

Lila Palatini's friends and classmates will be pleased to hear that she led the class in mathematics in the entire squadron consisting of men and women of the airforce at San Antonio, Texas, U.S. As a result of this, she has been appointed assistant instructor in mathematics for the squadron. It is believed that the number in the squadron would be around 200. Lila is a former Grade XI graduate and we feel that congratulations are due her for this accomplishment.

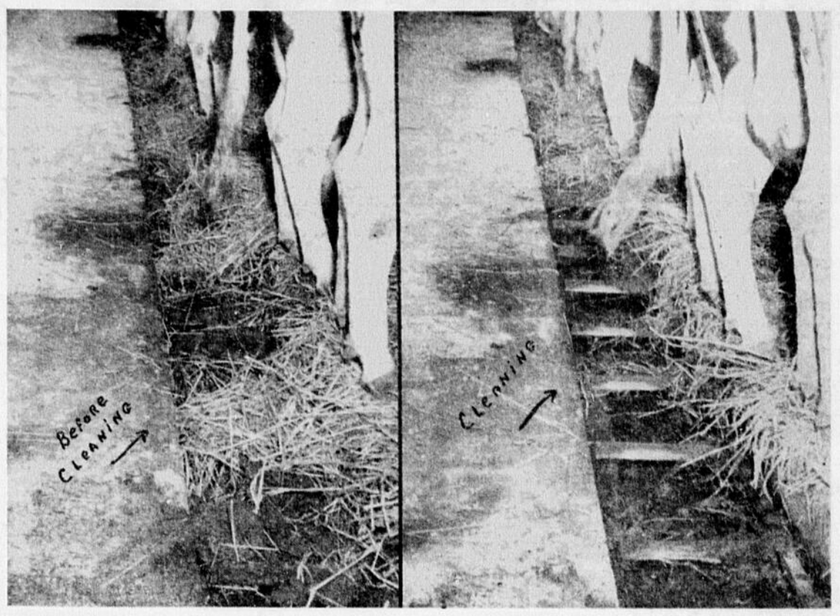

MUSHING RECORD

THE PAS, Man., (CP)—Another dog mushing record was shattered as the fifth annual Manitoba Trappers' Festival concluded here. John Pranteau of Cormorant Lake won the 20-mile freight dog race in the fast time of 2 hours, 13 minutes, 29 seconds.

VERSATILE YOUNGSTER

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Twelve-year-old Ed Letinsky has some unusual hobbies. He spends his spare time sculpturing, painting and writing poetry. He also found time to build a model schooner from toothpicks and balsa wood.

NEW BARN CLEANING EQUIPMENT DOES GOOD JOB

Above are two views of the conveyor system of new barn cleaning machine which Mr. Russell Kerr of Fertile Creek has installed in his barn. At left, the gutter behind the animals is shown before the manure has been cleaned away. At right, it is shown during cleaning. The paddles of the conveyor can be seen as they travel along the gutter. Should an animal step down into the paddles, they merely straighten out and go on by the feet of the animal. A story on this subject appears elsewhere in this issue.

"Braves" Goalkeeper Wins Lord Calvert Trophy

Selection Made by Fans as the Most Valuable Player to Valleyfield

Paul Leclerc, Braves' goalkeeper, is the winner of the Lord Calvert Trophy for the 1951-52 season.

Selected by the fans as the most valuable player to the Valleyfield team, Leclerc was handed the most votes according to the final count released today in the "Player of Distinction" campaign. The fans who acted as sole judges at every Braves' home game, were given the right to do the selecting for the first time.

In a closely-contested ballot battle between four players, Leclerc was given a total 3,662 points for his playing this season. Kitoute Joannette ended a close second with 3,535. Larry Kwong was also in the thick of the race for the Lord Calvert Trophy with an impressive total of 3,358 while Andre Corriveau was right behind with 3,070 points.

The presentation of the "Player of Distinction" award will be made next Sunday by Jack Clifford, sales manager of Calvert Distillers, sponsors of the fans' voting idea. In the voting which was conducted locally for the first time, three points went to a first-place selection, two for a second, and one for a third.

"This is a wonderful honor the Valleyfield fans have paid me," said Leclerc. "I'm very grateful to them for giving me the Lord Calvert Trophy and I also want to thank my team-mates for making this great moment possible".

Coach Toe Blake stated that Leclerc played effective hockey for his team in the nets all season. "I'm delighted to hear that the fans who acted as sole judges, made such a deserving choice. It was a close race and it could have been anybody", he said.

In the final count, Georges Bougie finished fifth with a season's total of 2,921. Jean Paul Bisaillon ended sixth with 2,532 while Jacques Deslauriers trailed by only 23 points. The first ten "Player of Distinction" standings were completed by Marcel Bessette, eighth (2,493); Bingo Ernst, ninth, (2,488); and Paul Larivee, tenth (2,442).

Ormstown Red Cross Drive Opens This Week For $2,000

ORMSTOWN — The annual Red Cross Campaign began in the district this week with the objective set at $2,000, the same amount as for 1951. Last year the district fell short only $170. of this amount. Canvassers are calling at the homes in all sections of the district and it is hoped that they will receive a generous response.

Day of Prayer Observed

The World Day of Prayer was observed on Friday afternoon, in the St. Paul's United Church.

Leaders representing the three local churches were Mrs. C. L. Taylor, Mrs. C. J. Bryson and Mrs. M. MacNaughton.

Mrs. J. McMillan gave the address and Mrs. J. Wallace contributed a beautiful solo, accompanied by Mrs. Percy Osmond. Other participants were: Mrs. Gilker, Mrs. Adam McNeil, Mrs. Robert Eastwood, Mrs. Mary McNeil and Mrs. Huntley Greig. Mrs. Alfred Greig read messages from the shut-ins. Numerous ladies were in attendance and the afternoon was most inspiring.

Visitors of Mrs. Susan Murphy on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Barrington were Mr. and Mrs. George Collum of Huntingdon, Mr. and Mrs. Christie Newman of St. Lambert, Mrs. Ernest Ouimet and Mrs. Bart Gillis of Cornwall and Mr. E. Finn.

Evening Auxiliary

Mrs. Harold Kerr entertained the Evening Auxiliary of the Ormstown Presbyterian Church, on Tuesday evening. A quilt was worked on during the evening and some other sewing done.

Mrs. Alvin Gruer presided and Mrs. Frank Hope led the Worship Service. Mrs. Merrill Tannahill gave a detailed account of the annual Presbyterial held in Montreal recently in the Ephriam Scott Memorial Church.

Mrs. Archie Wilson gave an interesting topic on the work of Miss Muriel Judd, worker among the Chinese in Montreal.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ivan Barrington and Mrs. Merrill Tannahill.

Y.P.S. Entertains

On Friday evening the Presbyterian Young Peoples Society entertained local groups at a social gathering at the Brysonville Community Club. Games and dancing were enjoyed. Music was supplied by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cullen and Mr. Gordon Foster.

C.V.T.A. At Ormstown

The Chateauguay Valley Teachers Association met on Thursday evening at the Ormstown High School. Supper was served by the O.H.S. staff.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mr. John Gaw. Various matters of business were discussed and satisfactorily decided.

Dr. G. L. Sutton, Medical Officer at O.H.S. addressed the meeting on "Health Program in a Modern School."

Barrie Memorial Womens' Auxiliary

ORMSTOWN — The Annual Meeting of the Barrie Memorial Women's Auxiliary was held on Monday Feb. 25, in the Board Room of the Hospital with the President, Mrs. Cecil Bryson in the chair. All those who have contributed to the successful organization of the Auxiliary were thanked by the President and Mrs. Sauvé. The Treasurer's report read by Mrs. Parkinson and Mrs. Sauvé showed a splendid balance. Mrs. H. McMahon convener of the Membership Committee reported the number of members to date being 650 with 295 of the members coming from Howick district. Mrs. M. Stalker and Mrs. A. Brunet who reported for the Ways and Means committee reminded us of the Bazaar which will be held in the Fall.

New business was the unanimous decision to make the furnishing of the Lobby of the Hospital our project.

Mrs. J. Davidson introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Catto, who spoke in English and in French on the work of a Hospital Auxiliary; its pitfalls and objectives in a delightfully humorous fashion. In all our work we were warned to "let the Hospital Authorities be our guide." New money making schemes were brought to our attention. The Speaker highly commended the splendid organization of our new Auxiliary.

Mrs. G. Elliott and Mrs. A. Brunet graciously thanked Mrs. Catto, after which all present were invited to the Dining-room where delicious refreshments were served by ladies of the Service and Ways and Means Committees.

The next open meeting will be held in June.

At the Executive meeting on Monday afternoon it was decided to purchase a three piece chesterfield suite, two extra chairs, table, ash stands and draperies for the furnishing of the lobby.

Barrie Memorial Notes

The Barrie Memorial Hospital, Ormstown, Que., has received and acknowledged $10 annual memberships from Mr. W. J. Brown, Ormstown, and Anonymous. The hospital has also received the following donations: $500., the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Barrie Memorial Hospital to be used toward furnishing the lobby of the hospital; cans of applesauce, the Women's Institute, Franklin. The C.G.I.T. of Franklin Centre made dressings and Mrs. Floyd Stevenson of Franklin Centre was convener of the sewing group on Thursday, Feb. 28th

OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nussey of Brysonville, Que., observed their golden wedding anniversary on February 26th. Married in 1902, they have resided at Brysonville ever since. They have seven sons, seven daughters, eighteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Dewittville

DEWITTVILLE — The February meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of Mrs. Irwin Todd on Thursday last with 14 members and 10 children present. The president presiding. The meeting opened with a short prayer and the hymn "To the work, to the work, we are servants of God". Mrs. Ernest Martin read the lesson, the topic being A Call To Service. If ever this world needed Christian workers it is now. The call to service rings out clear and loud. Have we heard it? How shall we respond? Isaiah was a prince at the palace, up in the affairs of the Kingdom of Judah — he saw that things were going from bad to worse and was much discouraged. He really needed a vision of God and the Knowledge that God was on the throne of the universe. He caught the vision of God and confessed his own sins, then those of his people, and answered God's call saying, "Here am I—send me." God uses prepared people in His work. This call is not for a special few, it is for everyone. As Christian women, let us be up and doing.

After the business part of the meeting a short program followed to commemorate our beloved founder, Frances Willard. Mrs. Wm. Graham and Mrs. M. Tillotson are to prepare a slate of officers for our annual meeting in March.

The meeting closed with the Pledge and Mizpah.

A hot supper of baked beans and brown bread was served by the hostess.

Miss Pearl Holiday of N.D.G., Montreal, was at her home here over the week-end.

Mrs. Thos. Goundrey attended the funeral of the late Mr. Edgar McKell held in Howick United Church, on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lowden were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Steele and family, Nitro, Que.

Dewittville residents were indeed sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. E. A. Beck in Barrie Memorial Hospital on Monday and wish to extend to Mr. Beck and his family their sincere sympathy.

For You Madam

WOMAN'S INTUITION IS NO MYTH

All your life you've heard of "woman's intuition" and perhaps wondered whether it's fact or just fiction. John Kord Lagemann asks this question and answers it, after consulting top authorities, this way: "Intuition is a normal and highly useful function of human intelligence. Though associated with high IQs in both sexes, it is more characteristic of women than of men."

Why? Well, in adolescence a boy is interested chiefly in asserting himself with action, while a girl's interests center around feelings, her own and others'. From the understanding she gains of her own emotions she is able to relive the emotions of others.

Intuition is a way of thinking without words. It's a short cut to truth, and in matters of emotion it's the only way of getting there at all. The great psychologist Freud once said: "In minor decisions I consider all the pros and cons. But in vital matters, such as the choice of a mate or a profession, the decision should come from the unconscious."

Psychiatrists are agreed that the mind tunes into consciousness only a few of the impressions it receives. But it stores all the rest in the unconscious mind. Highly intuitive women, and some men too, use more of this store than the nonintuitive.

Life is more interesting if you're intuitive. Intuition gives you a much better understanding of others, and because of this you mean more to them. You can develop your intuitive powers, too. "Take off the blinders of habit and open your mind to what's going on around you." "See people as they really are, not as you think they ought to be."

WOMAN'S RIGHTS
By Joseph Lister Rutledge

This phrase — woman's rights — which was so vivid in the days of a generation or so ago seems to have lost its old challenging power. In those other years it was the rallying cry that led women from a frankly secondary position to full equality with men. Hardly anyone now would restate the arguments by which the dominant male sought to support the case that under his direction alone lay the safety and progress of a world. No one would reassert the claim that with woman's gentle hand appearing in the affairs of government the old, bad ways would surely disappear.

Today as women walk side by side with their husbands to cast an equal ballot, it is hard to remember how bitter and relentless was the battle to secure this equality; how readily women suffered indignity, imprisonment and persecution for the cause; how they chained themselves to railings in the open, in the galleries of the parliament at Westminster that their voice might indeed be heard.

So it is a continuing surprise that women who could demand to be heard in the nation's councils should be content to remain voiceless in those more near to them. Behind every worker in industry is the home he represents. The centre of that home is the wife and children. Their well-being is the reason for the worker's effort, the excuse for his expanding demands. The very terminology of the day is evidence: "take-home pay", "cost of living", "pensions", "work hours", "unemployment insurance". All of them lead back to the home, its interests and activities.

Yet the women who is at the centre of this home has tacitly admitted here, as she has not admitted in public life, that there are decisions and actions beyond her understanding. When it is decided whether her man shall be permitted to work or not, and on what terms, she has nothing to say. When wages are succeeded by strike pay, she must make the adjustments. When strike-unemployment leaves the family handicapped financially, it is her comforts, her dreams, her aspirations that are first to go out of the window. But she has nothing to say about it. Her opinion is neither asked nor wanted. Does she ever stop to question why? If the women involved are ready to admit they have no right to a voice in affairs that make or break their lives and those of their children, then we have no case to make. No case other than the quite obvious one that—when this is conceded—a measurable part of womans dignity, and much of the rights that were fought for so gallantly, are back in the ash can.

Hoot Mon! But it's a bonny sight to me to see the way my budget is balancing these days. One of my thriftiest tricks is to serve Jell-O desserts — often. Try it, and see the family applaud this economy . . . because JELL-O JELLY POWDER desserts are so wonderfully tempting and flavorful. With 7 exciting "locked-in" flavors to choose from, each member of the family will have a favorite. And that fresh Jell-O flavor is locked right in each tiny particle until you release it by adding hot water. It's hard to believe — but perfectly true — Jell-O costs only about 2c a serving. Serve Jell-O desserts and salads regularly.

"I'm Sitting On Top Of The World" when I see my cakes coming out of the oven so beautifully light, so tender and delicious-looking. And though I may seem smug, it's plain to see that anyone can have cakes just wonderful. Just use SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR. You see, Swans Down is made for just that purpose . . . to give you better baking results, to assure you of beautiful, moist, melt-in-your mouth cakes . . . every time. Bake with confidence, the way I do. Bake with Swans Down Cake Flour — the flour that is sifted again and again until it is 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. Remember men love Swans Down Cakes . . . and the girls who bake them!

Here's How — To Happy Travelling! Whether you are taking an off-season vacation or venturing far from home for any other reason, your money will travel in real safety if you carry it in the form of Travellers Cheques. The BANK OF MONTREAL can supply you with Travellers Cheques that can be easily cashed at banks anywhere—and at many hotels and stores. And they're specially designed so as to be no good to anyone else . . . only you can use them! B of M Travellers Cheques come in convenient amounts of $10, $20, $50 and $100 . . . and you can buy them for a trifling charge at your neighborhood branch of 'My Bank'! So—before you pack your bags—call on the B of M and put your money into Travellers Cheques . . . for a truly Bon Voyage!

Does Your Husband wear a worried look these days? End-of-the-month bills are never very cheerful things . . . but you can banish his gloom with a piping hot cup of really good tea. The tea I recommend to "do the job" is RED ROSE TEA. There's so much head-clearing pep and heart-warming flavour in this delicious blend . . . nothing wishy-washy about it! Yes, it's plain to be tasted that Red Rose Tea is good tea. And, because it's good, it gives more cups per pound—so it's economical. You might try Red Rose Coffee, too. It's as good as Red Rose Tea.

Having Fun? Aren't you glad you tried this pleasant, effective remedy for "The Blues"? Yes, speedy, sparkling SAL HEPATICA will transform you into the "Belle of the Ball" in no time! It brings fast, welcome relief from headaches due to irregularity, cold symptoms, stomach upsets or constipation. A glass of Sal Hepatica before breakfast or supper will make you feel like a new woman. You see, with Sal Hepatica there's no "Laxative Lag"—that feeling of discomfort that continues for hours 'til ordinary, slow-acting laxatives bring relief. Effective and safe for all members of your family, Sal Hepatica is a product of Bristol-Myers who also make BUFFERIN pain relief tablets.

The Funeral of our Late Beloved King George VI at the Huntingdon Theatre Next Week

Beginning next Wednesday and continuing for one week, the complete funeral of Our Beloved King George VI, will be seen on the screen of the Huntingdon Theatre, in detail Wednesday until Friday, March 12, 13 and 14, and in even greater detail on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, March 15 to the 18th, as Paramount have done an entire short feature on the Royal Funeral. This will be in addition to our regular double film program.

Marchand Freres Sponsor Wallpaper Demonstration

A demonstration in Wallpaper hanging and tips on interior decoration was held in St. Joseph's Parish Hall, Huntingdon, on Wednesday evening, February 27, sponsored by Marchand Freres. Miss Marie Fremont, Wallpaper Counsellor and Demonstrator of Montreal, in conjunction with the representatives of the Glidden Paint Company, directed the event. The purpose of the idea is to promote sales in wallpaper, but it is also the contribution that wallpaper Manufacturers give to education. These demonstrations seek to teach women how to do their own interior decorating and in this way avoid having to pay high prices to have the work done. Miss Fremont discussed, with wallpaper as a background, colour schemes, drapes, curtains, rugs and wood finishes and showed the ladies how to overcome the most common of difficulties in wallpapering. How to paper ceilings, corners, how to go around an obstacle on the wall and how to paper around windows, doors and other openings.

Due to the shortage of time, a discussion was not held but Miss Fremont remained at Marchand Freres on Thursday morning to answer any questions that the ladies might wish to ask.

Tickets were given at the door and the following prizes were won: electric iron by Mrs. Raoul Duranceau; a certificate entitling the winner to enough wallpaper for one room to be chosen at Marchand Freres Store, by Mr. Alex Bergevin, Glenelm, Mrs. Rolland St. Onge, 56A York St., and Mrs. Emile Legault, Huntingdon.

Miss Fremont will pay a return visit here in the month of October and any organizations that wish to contact her for services will be able to do so through Mr. L. Fredette of Marchand Freres, Huntingdon.

Garden Notes

by Gordon Lindsay Smith

What Will It Cost?

Unlike golf, fishing, picture taking or almost any other outdoor recreation the cost of gardening is nominal. One can do wonders with a few cents worth of seed, a spade and a rake. For all the technical information necessary the directions on the seed packet and in the seed catalogue will suffice. These directions tell the gardener when to plant and how deep, and how big will grow the thing he has planted so he can allow sufficient room.

Of course those are minimum requirements and for just a tiny plot. A few extras like a cultivator or two and a little more variety in the seeds and plants will increase the satisfaction and enjoyment. For extra and detailed information too, there are excellent gardening books and government bulletins available.

If one is really ambitious, one can expand almost indefinitely. There are literally hundreds of different flowers and vegetables at one's disposal, and more hundreds of perennials, shrubs and vines and trees. There are specialties like rock gardening, perennial borders, rose gardens and garden pools. There are also power gadgets for cultivating, trimming, spraying, clipping, leaf gathering and such jobs for the person who is mechanically inclined or who has a really big piece of ground.

First Plantings

Strictly speaking the first plantings will be the seeds started in flats on the window sill or in hotbeds or green houses. These are sown early in March and by the time they are ready to transplant to permanent quarters outside they will be six to ten inches high. Things that should be started early in this way are those that if sown directly out of doors would hardly have sufficient time to mature or flower. Tomatoes, cabbage, peppers come in this category in the vegetables and petunias, zinnias, begonias and scores of other flowering plants.

Many gardeners in the cities and towns are able to buy these as started plants in flats from seedsmen or nurserymen. But in some cases, of course, this is not possible. Then again there are some gardeners who, to make certain of particular varieties, grow their own plants anyway. Where the garden is large and several hundreds of started plants are needed it is cheaper to grow one's own. In this case, however, a hotbed is advisable. For the construction of these affairs one should consult a government bulletin. For starting seed indoors use a good mixture of sand and fine loam.

First planting outside will be very hardy things that are not afraid of frost and like to make their best growth in cool weather. Sweet peas are in this group, and grass seed and nursery stock. The latter is the trade name for young vines, shrubs and trees, ready for transplanting. One can hardly plant these things too soon.

Short Cuts

One of the easiest shortcuts both with flowers and vegetables is to use started plants as described earlier. These can go outside almost as soon as it is safe to sow seeds. If handled carefully one can have flowers and new vegetables at least two weeks ahead of usual in this way. Another trick is to sow some seed of each packet a week or two before the normal time and then protect the young seedlings with paper caps, panes of glass or upturned flower pots until the weather really turns warm. Some people start a hill of melons, squash or even corn in a berry box indoors, then plant box and all outside without disturbing roots.

Athelstan

Day of Prayer

ATHELSTAN — The 32nd observance of the World Day of Prayer was held at the home of Mrs. Reese, with twenty-seven ladies in attendance. The theme for the service being "Christ Our Hope". The prepared programme divided into five sections, viz: Adoration, Penitence, Assurance, Intercession and Dedication, was in charge of the local Presidents of the two Women's Missionary Societies, in which all present participated. A most appropriate solo entitled "Confidence", rendered by Mrs. David Mawhinney, was much appreciated. Miss Alice Wilson gave a timely informative reading on What Your Money Does". The offering, which was forwarded to the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada, amounted to $8.

Miss Margaret Dunn returned to Franklin the past week, after spending the past few weeks at the home of her brother.

Miss Helen Elder, of Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her mother, Mrs. George Elder.

Mrs. William Anders is at present a patient in the Huntingdon County Hospital, where she is undregoing treatment. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery to health.

W. M. S.

The February meeting of the W.M.S. Auxiliary was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Hampson. Mrs. Tully read the Sermon on the Mound from Matthew 6th Chapter and Mrs. D. F. Grant led in prayer. Ten members answered the roll call by repeating a verse of the Bible containing the word "witness". A letter was read, stating that our allocation for Expense Fund was $7.00 this year. It was decided to forward this amount. A list of names of workers on our mission fielus from whom our Auxiliary might receive monthly letters was read. The name of Rev. A. Reoch, British Guiana, was chosen, as he is personally known to many of us. A letter was read from Mrs. R. McCleery, retiring President of Montreal Presbyterial, in which she expressed her thanks to the Auxillaries for their help and support during her term of office. Mrs. Mawhinney gave a most complete and comprehensive account of the recent Annual Meeting, with special emphasis on the addresses given by Miss Ellen Anderson in the afternoon and Mr. Dunn in the evening. Those who were privileged to attend these meetings felt it was like a repeat visit, while those who remained at home felt they had the highlights brought to them. The meeting closed with singing "Soldiers of Christ, Arise", and the W.M.S. prayer repeated in unison. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. W. Norman Clelland, who is an Elder in First Presbyterian Church, Montreal, visited Athelstan Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning, to tell about the work of Church Extension and Christian Outreach. Mr. Clelland gave a clear outline of this venture, telling of the great need for establishing places of worship where none now exist.

Following Mr. Clelland's talk, Mr. Mawhinney spoke from the text, "It is more blessed to give than to receive" (Acts 20:35).

Mr. W. Norman Clelland and Mr. Colin Campbell, Montreal, were dinner guests at The Manse on Sunday.

Mrs. David Watson is a patient in the Montreal General Hospital.

So This Is Leap Year

This Leap Year, 1952, may be the last time we shall see a 29-day February. I don't mean it's the end of the world, but only that a good many people at the United Nations headquarters hope that a new calendar — The World Calendar — will be adopted and installed by 1956. Which means February will thenceforth contain an invariable 30 days, and "leap day" will come in mid-year, at the end of June.

Leap years we shall always have, because they are a mathematical necessity. The extra dividend of one day is a device of the astronomers to keep our years in step with the sun and the seasons.

Fact and fable are strangely mingled in the history of Leap Year. For an example of a Leap Year legend that would ordinarily be dismissed as pure fancy, take the time-honored tradition whereby man-craving gals may make their own proposals of marriage during Leap Year. Most of us will be surprised to find that this privilege is based on actual legislation, enacted in at least four different countries several hundred years ago. According to ancient legend, it was all started in Ireland by St. Patrick the missionary, during the early part of the fifth century.

It became the "law of the land" in 1288. In that year there was an act passed by the Scottish Parliament in which "it is statut and ordaint that for ilk yeare known as lepe yeare, ilk mayden ladie, of baith high and lowe estait, shall hae libertie to bespeke ye man she likes."

Tough on Bachelors

A few years later a similar law was passed in France. Then in the 15th century, just before Columbus sailed for America, the tradition was legalized in Italy by the governments of Genoa and Florence. In England the custom had become part of the common law by 1600, when the legal books defined it thus: "As oft as lepe yeare doth return the ladies have ye privuleg of making love to ye men, which they doe either by wordes or by lookes, as to them seemeth proper."

The Scottish law had a neat little enforcement clause to make sure the men took it seriously. It provided that "gif he refuses to tak her to bee his wife, he shall bee mulct in the sum of ane hundredity pundis, or less as his estait may bee, exceppt and alwais gif he can mak it appeare that he is betrothit to another woman, then he shall be free." In old England, a man who refused a Leap Year proposal had to pay a silk gown as a forfeit.

The reason for Leap Year is found in the astronomical length of the year. A year is the time it takes the earth to circle the sun — and the astronomers have worked this out as approximately 365.2425 days, or 365 days, 5 hours, 49 minutes and 12 seconds. So we have a calendar with 365 days in ordinary years, and every four years we add a "leap day", which picks up the extra fraction and keeps our calendar in step with the seasons. (This still isn't quite exact enough, so we omit leap day in "century years" three times in four centuries; the year 2000 will again be a Leap Year.)

Many people have wondered why Julius Caesar inserted his quadrennial leap day in February. The explanation is fairly simple. The Roman year in ancient times started on March 1. February was the last month of the old Roman year; leap day was just tagged onto the end of the year.

The New Plan

Under the new calendar, the year will be divided into identical quarters of 91 days each — plus an extra day at the end of the year to be called Worldsday, December "W" or 31.

As it is proposed that The World Calendar would not be adopted until Sunday, January 1, coincides in our present calendar, the transition would offer no difficulties. The next occurrence of this coincidence will be in 1956.

Aubrey-Riverfield

AUBREY-RIVERFIELD — Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Orr and Linda spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Orr and Eric.

Mrs. Agnes Curran, of Ormstown, is spending some time with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Orr.

Curling Notes

The curlers have been active in the past week, four rinks taking part in the Moore Bonspiel at Huntingdon. Three rinks skipped by Andrew Allen, Lloyd Allen and Keith Robb played down to represent the club in the Caledonia Bonspiel, Keith Robb's rink winning out to meet the outside clubs. On Wednesday evening this rink played Bob McGregor's Riverfield entry in a very close game, playing a tie end and winning by one shot. More games are yet to be played to determine the centre winner.

One rink of mixed curlers, Mr. Kenneth Allen, Mrs. Keith Robb, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Dinnegan enjoyed games and a social evening at English River Curling Club on Thursday evening. Games were played on Thursday and Friday evenings at Aubrey on the mixed bonspiel for prizes donated by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gruer and Saturday evening as usual, "Club Night" was held.

The World Day of Prayer was held at the home of Mrs. Osborne Orr, when a large representation of members of the Howick United Church and the Riverfield Presbyterian Church, were present. The very interesting program for the occasion was followed with several of the ladies taking part. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the ladies of the United Church.

On Friday, Feb. 29th, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rorison and L.A.C. Caroll Rorison attended the Exercises of the Montreal School for Nursing Aides, when the sixth graduating class received pins and certificates and the seventh class, of which June Rorison is a member, having completed their six months' training, received their Arm Monograms.

Mrs. Bert Hudson and Susan and Mrs. Dick Fletcher, spent Saturday in Montreal.

Miss Elizabeth Rorison returned home on Wednesday after spending two weeks a patient in the Barrie Memorial Hospital, Ormstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Rice and family of Ormstown, were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Milne.

L.A.C. Caroll Rorison, R.C.A.F., St. Hubert, spent a four-day leave over the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rorison.

A.C.1 Raymond Cullen, R.C.A.F., Trenton, Ont., has been enjoying a month's leave visiting relatives in this vicinity and at Ormstown.

Hemmingford

Mrs. Fred Orr accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stewart of Plattsburg, N.Y., on a trip to Florida.

A report says Mr. Russell Williams got another wolf. Those animals seem to be quite numerous.

Mr. Price Kavanagh was a Sunday guest at the Leahy-Kavanagh home.

Attitude of Press Augurs Well For Future Health Of Canadians

In a statement issued at the conclusion of National Health Week, Dr. Gordon Bates, general director of the Health League of Canada, expressed his organization's gratitude to the press and radio of the country for their important role in promoting the health of Canadians.

"Not only during National Health Week, but the year round the educational work of the Health League is greatly aided by the cooperation of writers, editors and broadcasters," said Dr. Bates. "The best elements in the press and radio of Canada are giving steadily more attention to constructive coverage of health matters. And this is all to the good, because it is only through popular education that recent important discoveries in the realm of medical science can be put into general use."

In an editorial in the current issue of the League's magazine, "Health", Dr. Bates adds this comment: "The already amazing improvement in the application of discoveries in the field of preventive medicine is shown by the fact that on this continent about 20 years have been added to the average length of life since the beginning of this century. No such great advance has ever been recorded before in history. Its effects are evident in every walk of life. Yet much remains to be done."

Among the challenges still to be met are the following, in which the Health League is taking direct action:— implementation of legislation making pasteurization of milk compulsory in every province (at present this is province-wide only in Ontario and Saskatchewan); reduction in the national infant mortality rate (Canada is now down in 13th place among the leading nations of the world); improvement in the nutritional standards of Canadian families (this has a direct bearing on reducing the number of infant deaths as well as on improving the general health of all Canadians); expanding the practice of preventive medicine in industry; treating alcoholism as a physical disease and in its acknowledged relationship to other diseases; recognizing and dealing with the new problems facing Canada as its number of elder citizens rapidly increases.

"The Health League of Canada has a separate division responsible for educational work in each of these vital areas," Dr. Bates pointed out. "Other voluntary organizations associated with us, our own members and our staff are greatly encouraged in this effort by the readiness with which the press and radio in all parts of the country have shouldered their responsibility in this public service.

"The favorable attitude of all publicity media augurs well for the future success of public health education in Canada."

Television Broadcasting Scheduled For March

Montrealers will be given the opportunity of seeing Canadian T-V broadcasted shows here in March. For five consecutive nights, from March 10-14, everybody visiting the All-Electrical Show at the Palais du Commerce on Berri Square, organized by Eastern Canada Exhibitions Inc., will see television shows broadcasted directly from the studios of Radio-Canada (CBC).

Manufacturers of television sets and equipment have been especially invited to take part in this electrical exhibition, and it will be on television screens set up by these manufacturers that the general public will see the CBC-produced programs.

This will be something new in Canada, because it will be the first time that programs will be broadcasted to the outside from two of Radio Canada's three television studios.

The exhibition is open to the public from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m., but the television shows will not begin until 7.30 p.m. continuing through until 9.30 p.m.

The programs each night will be bilingual, which is to say the presentations will alternate between French and English during the two-hour show.

Although the programs have not as yet been completely outlined, it is known that they will include dancing, singing, puppets, skits and magic.

After witnessing these shows the public will realize the extensive work that is going on in the studios of Radio-Canada in order that regular television programs may soon be broadcasted from Montreal stations.

The work is going on uninterrupted in the television studios on Dorchester St., and already complete programs have been recorded, exactly as they will be presented when broadcasting gets under way in the near future.

Ste. Agnes

STE. AGNES — The February meeting of the Zion United Church Women's Association was held on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 27th, at the home of Mrs. W. D. Fraser, with Mrs. Fraser and Miss T. McMillan as joint hostesses.

Miss McMillan, the President, had charge of the meeting and the devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Norman McPhee, who brought the meeting to order with the singing of a hymn, a Psalm reading and the Lord's Prayer in unison. The roll call, "What I Like About Winter" was responded to by members. There were also four visitors present. The Society was pleased to welcome one new member.

A committee consisting of Mrs. V. Elder, Mrs. L. Watterson and Mrs. G. Sutton was appointed to arrange for a half-hour program to be presented in conjunction with Fort Covington later on in the Spring.

Mrs. Lyle Currie reported on the plan to renovate the church kitchen and will bring scaled drawings to the next meeting. The buying committee was instructed to inquire into the price of clear plastic sufficiently wide to cover the tables in the church kitchen.

Mrs. Lisle Watterson asked the ladies if they would consider purchasing an electric heater to help heat the basement on Sunday mornings for the Sunday School pupils. While a heater is to be tried out this coming Sunday, final decision on the purchase was left until a later date.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. Vernon Elder led a discussion paper on, "Which influences our lives more, Environment or Heredity?" She stated that any trait, or any characteristic is never determined by heredity or environment alone; it is always the result of both. She explained the meaning of chromosomes and genes, and explained that genes are the units of heredity. A story was told of two boys, who, although they were brothers, were entirely different. Jerry was a frail shy, sensitive child who found it hard to make friends, while his brother Dick was placid and easy-going and other students. On investigation, it was found that Jerry, the first child of doting parents, was fussed over and catered to, and any little upset caused a big to-do. By the time Dick came along, the parents had more experience with children, and there was less tension and anxiety when Dick had his little mishaps. He learned to cope with his problems and became a good-natured, independent child. So there are differences due to environment, even when two children grow up in the same family.

Mrs. Elder then asked the members which would influence a child's I Q more, heredity or environment? Mrs. A. H. Fraser responded here, giving several interesting facts about the growth of a child's mind. The marks a child receives in school, are not always to be used as a yardstick in testing the I Q of that certain child, for his interests may be other than of a scholastic nature, and he might excel himself as an engineer, an artist or a politician. Several others contributed ideas along these lines also.

A child's personality is due greatly to environment, and if your child is very much like you, it is because he has learned your ways, not because he has inherited them. Mrs. Elder also threw out this question, "What is your opinion of heredity and environment in the home circle?" Mrs. L. Currie stated that she believed the home gave the child the background he needed to face everyday problems. When a home is too nice to let a child relax in and to bring his friends home to, then it ceases to be a home and is merely a house.

Mrs. Elder then went on to speak about diseases which have their basis in heredity, such as heart diseases, Rheumatic Fever for instance, and also diabetes. It is still an open question if the different types of cancer are products of heredity. Disease germs are never inherited such as tuberculosis. The most that might be inherited in that case is the susceptibility to the disease.

Mrs. Wm. Fleming, when asked her opinion on alcohol and heredity stated that when it came to alcohol, environment played a major part. You have the social drinker, who can take it or leave it, and you also have the chronic alcoholic, who is a disgrace to society. Alcoholism is not inherited, and with sufficient will-power it may be overcome, even in the poorest environment.

Mrs. Elder concluded her talk with these thoughts. "For the vast majority, heredity will not be the making or breaking factor. Given a half-way decent set of genes, a person will become pretty much what the environment makes of him. For the average person, it is not heredity that sets the brakes on achievement. It is environment. For mankind in general, it is not heredity which creates most of our ills. It is the environment man has created for himself. Progress for our children will be achieved, not so much by attempts to change heredity, but by attempts to change environment. The field is wide open, and the science of heredity has given us a green light."

Mrs. Wm. Fleming, as chairman of the Bazaar Committee stated that she has had excellent response from the W.A. members as well as from several non-members of the Society. This is indeed gratifying. There is now a fine display of aprons for sale as well as several other miscellaneous articles. If you want an apron and the ones on hand don't fit, just make your wish known and the committee will see that an apron is made to order for you. If you have a lampshade at home you want covered, bring it to the Bazaar Committee, they'll cover it for you—at a reasonable price too. In fact, nothing is too much trouble for the committee. They have even had a few things picked up for gifts this coming Christmas. The ladies are willing to cater to the Christmas gift corner, and everyone is asked to keep this in mind.

A delicious supper was served to members by the hostesses. The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lisle Watterson with Mrs. Watterson and Mrs. Clarence Platt as joint hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Benoit and son of Huntingdon and Mr. and Mrs. George Lefebvre and family of St. Jean, Que., spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Quenneville.

Miss Barbara Roach of Montreal and Miss Isabel Deschambeau of Huntingdon, were week-end guests of their friend, Miss Evelyn McGibbon.

Mrs. W. Marchand is spending this week-end in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sutton and Fern were Sunday guests of Mrs. Sutton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cookman of Lacolle.

Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Elder, Dawn, Karen and Gordon, also Mr. and Mrs. George P. Elder of Huntingdon were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. John D. Elder of Athelstan.

Lacolle

LACOLLE — Lacolle lady curlers participated in a friendly bonspiel held at Lachine on Wednesday.

Lacolle Immigration Staff Association were hosts at a banquet held in Lacolle Inn on Tuesday, February 26. A large number of U.S. Immigration and Customs personnel from St. Albans Division, Canadian Customs and Immigration officers, and local business people were present. After the dinner, the president, A. F. Lepitre, called upon several distinguished guests for speeches. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Mrs. A. F. Lepitre was hostess to a number of little girls in honor of her daughter, Barbara's sixth birthday, on Feb. 25. The afternoon was spent in playing, followed by delicious refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Roy, Linda and Lorraine spent the past week visiting relatives at Dundee and Huntingdon.

A number of men curlers took part in Huntingdon Bonspiel last week.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, Branch No. 11, held their monthly meeting on February 18th, at which the election of officers for the coming year took place. They are as follows:

President, Hazel Grant; 1st vice-president, Eunice Cahill; 2nd vice-president, Ruth Smith; treasurer, Margaret Stuart; secretary, Phyllis Killick; Sgt.-at-arms, Betty Rennie; standard bearers, Beulah Derick, Shirley Fewster; chairmen of entertainment, membership and sick committees: Anne Marie Sturgeon, Connie Cahill, Ora Van Vliet, respectively.

Mrs. K. Wakeham of the C.P.R. Branch No. 96, Montreal, will be present at March 17 meeting and will install the officers and be the guest speaker. The members of the Senior Branch have been invited to attend this meeting which will be followed by a social evening.

Council Meeting

A regular session of the Municipal Council of the Township of Godmanchester was held on Monday, March 3rd.

Members all present except Coun. Pringle; Mr. John A. Caldwell, mayor, presiding.

Councillor Rankin was appointed Pro-Mayor for the next three months.

The council passed a resolution requesting the Department of Roads t continue building the road under construction through the New Erin Section, to connect up with the 5th Range of St. Stanislas de Kostka, instead of through sideroad, as reported.

A sum of fifty dollars has been voted to the Canadian Red Cross Society.

The following bills have been passed: Bertrand "The Florist" $25.50; The S.W. and P. Co. $22.98; Manning and Wilson $10.; The Canadian Bank of Commerce $500.; Jos. Viau $22.; The Canadian Red Cross Society $50.

Crown Title Derives From Statute of 1701

The title to the Crown derives from the Act of Settlement 1701 which prescribed that "the Crown shall remain and continue to the said Most Excellent Princess Sophia and the heirs of her body being Protestants" (Sophia was Electress of Hanover and granddaughter of James I). Subsequent succession to the Crown Acts have confirmed this declaration and, although the succession is not bound to continue in its present line, the preamble to the Statute of Westminster 1931 provides that it cannot now be altered except by common consent of the member nations of the Commonwealth which owe allegiance to the Crown.

The inheritance of the Crown is governed by rules of descent which provide that the sons of the sovereign are in order of succession to the throne, and, after the youngest son or if there are no sons in the direct lines, the daughters in the order of their own seniority. When a daughter succeeds, she becomes queen-regnant and all the powers of the Crown are vested in her as fully and effectively as if she were a king.

In accordance with the Constitution, Princess Elizabeth became queen immediately upon the death of King George VI. The succession is affirmed at a meeting known as the Accession Council, which is held for approving the proclamation of the new monarch. This Accession Council consists of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, the late King's Privy Council with numbers of other "Principal Gentlemen of Quality", the lord mayor, aldermen and citizens of the City of London and the high commissioners in London of the other Commonwealth countries. After the order for the proclamation of the new monarch has been given by the Accession Council, it is read in London and in many provincial cities.

Prince Charles is now heir to the throne. Under a Charter of 1337, he becomes Duke of Cornwall in the peerage of England as the first-born son of the Sovereign, but will not become Prince of Wales, until his mother decides to invest him with that title. (The last Prince of Wales, later King Edward VIII and now Duke of Windsor, was given the title on his 16th birthday). Five other titles devolve on Prince Charles by reason of his mother's accession; he becomes Duke of Rothsay, Earl of Carrick and Baron of Renfrew in the Peerage of Scotland and Lord of the Isles and Great Steward of Scotland. Princess Anne is second in succession to the Throne, and Princess Margaret, younger daughter of King George VI, is third in succession.

It is an accepted doctrine that, while a woman can receive an honor from her husband, marriage with a woman confers no honor or rank upon a man. Thus the consort of a king takes the rank and style of her husband, but the converse does not apply. In conformance with this doctrine, the Constitution has never attached any special rank or privileges to the husband of a queen regnant. There have only been three constitutional issues of this kind in English history, of which the last is found in the marriage of Queen Victoria with Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, who was accorded the style of prince consort by letters patent 17 years after their marriage.

Formerly the death of a sovereign involved the dissolution of Parliament and the termination of all offices under the Crown, since Parliament meets on the personal summons of the monarch and all offices are in theory held at his or her will and pleasure. Since 1861, however, when the Representation of the demise of the Crown, both Houses stand adjourned only until their members have taken the oath of allegiance to the new sovereign, which occurs immediately after the Accession Council has made the order for the proclamation. In 1901, the demise of the Crown Act provided that the holding of any office should not be affected by the demise of the Crown and that no fresh appointment should be necessary.

Hemmingford

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 26th, St. Luke's W.A. sponsored a card party in the Church Hall. "500" was played at 14 tables. Prize winners were: ladies' 1st, Mrs. Tomlinson, 2nd, Mrs. Walter Keddy, consolation, Mrs. J. Paré; gents' 1st, Mr. Harry Warner, 2nd, Mr. Beattie Barr, consolation, Mr. Petch. Chair prize, Mrs. C. Smirle. Refreshments were served and a social time was spent.

Mrs. J. Heather of Outremont was a week-end guest at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barr.

Miss May Bennett entered the Barrie Memorial Hospital on Saturday and is under observation for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Trotter of Dixie, Que., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Orr.

Mr. and Mrs. John Macdonald, Ian and Marilyn of Verdun were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Hadley and family.

The churh service on Sunday afternoon in St. Andrew's United Church in connection with "Educational Week" was well attended and everyone seemed to enjoy the excellent address of the speaker, Mr. Eric King, principal of Ormstown High School.

The February meeting of the Women's Association of St. Andrew's United Church was held on Wednesday evening, Feb. 13th, at the home of Mrs. Marguerite McNaughton with Mrs. Lynwood Cookman assisting.

Due to the very cold weather many members were absent. Rev. Holmes led in devotional service which took the form of a Memorial to our late King George VI. A moment's silence was observed, followed by appropriate prayer and Scripture reading.

Mrs. Paré presided over the business meeting. Reports were given by committee conveners. Mrs. Donald Orr, rep. for the Hall Committee reported that a second-hand stove had been purchased for the Hall kitchen from Mr. L. G. Simpson, by the Hall Committee.

The work committee had material and stamped linen, to be given out to sewing members, to be made into articles for the fall Bazaar.

Mrs. Derrick and Mrs. Kennedy were allotted the task of making pulpit and communion table covers.

Mrs. Percy Barr and Mrs. Lynwood Cookman were named to represent the W.A. on the new Deaconess Building Board. This building to be erected in Toronto for the purpose of training Deaconesses for the United Church, is a work of entire Church of Canada and each church is being represented and pledging its support.

Later the hostesses served refreshments and a social hour was spent.

After about 15 minutes of games the meeting closed in the usual manner.

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 26th, a special service was held at the Church of the Nazarene, Franklin Centre.

The guest speaker was Rev. Charles Muxworthy of Peterboro, Ont., who spoke on behalf of the "Herald of Holiness." He was assisted by Mr. Leland Davis, of Ohio, U.S.A., Song Evangelist. There was also a trio by Rev. Stamford, Rev. Muxworthy and Mr. Davis.

Callers at the home of Mrs. E. M. Sharpe on Sunday evening were Miss Donalda Waddell and Miss Elizabeth Weir.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Waddell and son Clinton were Sunday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Bruce.

Tough Tank and Tough Guy

"NO DIFFICULTY against any Russian-made tank it has met" was the report from Korea of the British Commonwealth Division on the British Centurion tank. Pictured above is the Centurion, also claimed to be the best designed tank Britain has ever had, as it went through a tough test in Germany where the British forces also have it.

Pictured left is Lieut-Col. Douglas Drysdale, Commando leader of Britain's Royal Marines, who has arrived in the U.S. to be instructor at the U.S. Marine Corps School, Quantico, Va. Fighting with the British in Korea, he was awarded the U.S. Silver Star for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action."

Howick

HOWICK—Mr. James Anderson, of Bethune, Sask., is visiting at the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, also calling on many other relatives and friends.

Miss Naomi Barrier, of Montreal, spent Saturday at the home of the Misses Henderson. Mrs. James Anderson and Miss Jessie Elliot of Ormstown, Mrs. Margaret Mann and her daughter, Mrs. Smith, of St. Lambert, were callers at the same home.

Mrs. Alice Lewis, of Montreal, was the guest last week of her mother, Mrs. Chas. Gordon.

The World Day of Prayer was observed in Knox Presbyterian Church on Friday, Feb. 29, at 2 o'clock with a large number of ladies present. A special order of service was conducted by Miss Jean Ritchie, President of the W.M.S. of Knox Church, assisted by Mrs. Edwards, President of United Church W.M.S., and Mrs. Marshall, President of Georgetown Church W.M.S. Mrs. Edwards gave a very interesting address on the theme, "Christ, Our Hope." The choir under the direction of Mrs. Wallace Logan, sang "Count Your Many Blessings" very nicely. The offering amounted to $13.35 which was sent to the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada, Toronto, to help further the work of the Gospel.

The February meeting of Knox Presbyterian Church W.M.S. was held at the home of Miss Martha Goundrey on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 26th, with the President presiding. Meeting opened by prayer by Mrs. Carmichael, followed by Bible reading by Mrs. Maude Reddick, Psalm 24. Members answered the roll-call by repeating a verse containing the word "Except." Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Final arrangements were made for the World Day of Prayer. The report of the 38th Presbyterial held in Montreal, in Ephraim Scott Memorial Church, was read by the president, who had received it from Mrs. Finlay Milne, as no members from this Society had attended the meeting. Members were asked to help the Riverfield W.M.S. pay the cost of sending second-hand clothing and quilts to Manitoba. The treasurer read a letter recently received from Mrs. Kenny McKay, Beechridge. Miss Goundrey read the special item from the new Study Book, entitled, "Meet the South Americans", and "The Original Inhabitants and the Religion of the Incas" was read by Miss Jean Ritchie, and "Discovery and Conquest of South America" by Mrs. Carmichael. Mrs. W. Stewart read the Glad Tidings item, "Eighty Years in Formosa," which told of the growth of the Christian Church on an island, whose name means "Beauty" and also the Temperance item. "The Water American" as Benjamin Franklin, the 18th century statesman and philosopher was called, who tried to prove to his colleagues that there was more flour in a pennyworth of bread and therefore if he could eat that with a pint of water it would give him more strength than a quart of beer. The Mizpah Benediction repeated in unison brought the meeting to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tillison, of Montreal, visited at the home of Mrs. Agnes Black and Mrs. S. Kerr on Saturday. Mrs. Melvin Carson, Franklin Centre, visited at the same home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Agnes Black spent Monday in Ormstown visiting Mrs. Jas. Angel and calling on Mrs. Bella Stewart, also Mrs. W. F. Welch at the Barrie Memorial Hospital.

A special oyster supper was put on Saturday night for the winners of the Tweedsmuir and Fairbank-Morse trophies. The head table was set with the silver service, the Tweedsmuir Cup holding the centre. Letters and telegrams were read. Everyone enjoyed the evening and special mention went to Mrs. J. Peddie on the excellent oyster soup.

Chateauguay

World Day of Prayer

CHATEAUGUAY — The World Day of Prayer Service was held on Friday afternoon, in St. George's Anglican Church, with members of St. Andrew's Church participating.

Mrs. Jim Johnson and Miss R. M. McFarlane led the service of praise and worship, prayers were offered by Mrs. N. McGlashan, Mrs. Peter Styles, Mrs. Ernest Smith and Mrs. N. E. Jack. Mrs. Leonard Taylor, the guest speaker, gave an inspirational address on the theme of the Service, "Christ, our Hope."

W. A. Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Association held Wednesday night, at the home of Mrs. E. R. Richardson with Mrs. Ernest Smith, Mrs. James Webster and Mrs. E. Moore as hostesses, had an attendance of 53 ladies.

The president, Mrs. Gerald S. Adams presided.

The meeting opened by observing a minute's silence in memory of His late Majesty. This was followed by a tribute by the president, in which she said, "King George VI was a gracious sovereign, a kindly man, whose simple dignity won for him the love of all his subjects. In the darkest hours of his country's peril, he stood beside his people sharing their hopes, their sorrows and their triumphs. His devotion to duty and his courage should serve as examples to us all.

Our hearts go out in sympathy to all the members of the Royal Family.

One of the late King's favourite hymns, "The King of Love, My Shepherd is," was sung with deep feeling, by Miss Vernis Jones.

Following the business period a musical programme was much enjoyed.

A piano duet by Mrs. Hartland Rowell and Mrs. W. J. Davidson; Solo: Mrs. Stuart Trask; Reading: Mrs. J. S. Walker; Piano Solo: Mrs. Louis Smith.

Mrs. Leonard Taylor voiced the appreciation of all to the artists who had entertained them so pleasantly.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

World Day of Prayer

Mrs. Stuart Trask, sang very sweetly "God so loved the World," with Mrs. Hartland Rowell at the organ.

The offering was received by Mrs. Peter Varley and Mrs. J. R. Dickenson and dedicated by Mrs. Johnson.

The meeting closed with the singing of the hymn, "The Day Thou gavest, Lord, is ended," followed by the Benediction.

Farm Forum News

The Farm Forum group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Smith, on Monday night. Mr. David Reid showed 5 films, courtesy of C.I.L., Montreal, which proved interesting and informative.

Group members attended and enjoyed the winter fair at Macdonald College, St. Annes, last Tuesday.

Ottawa Senators completed their home schedule of the Quebec Senior Hockey League Saturday night with a 3-0 victory over Valleyfield Braves before 6,200 fans, at Ottawa.

Goalie Nelson (Freckles) Little, playing his first game for Ottawa as a replacement for regular Goalie Bill Fraser, turned in a standout performance as he racked up the first shutout.

On Monday night Valleyfield and Chicoutimi launched their best-of-seven quarter-final series at Chicoutimi. Quebec starts its semi-final playoff at home tonight (Wednesday) with Ottawa. The series is a best five-out-of-nine affair.

The only other importance attached to the game was the winning of the Vezina Trophy by Johnny Marois of the Aces. The Quebec goalie allowed three goals in the week-end games to finish well ahead of his nearest rival, Paul Leclerc, of Valleyfield, who won it last year. Marois' record was 168 goals against and Leclerc, 178.

EXPERT ON DEAFNESS OFFERS FREE PROOF THAT NO ONE NEED BE HARD OF HEARING

P. M. BARRY

Every hard-of-hearing person is invited to call at our office on the date shown below, to learn of the very latest achievements in hearing aids and how you can wear one less conspiculously.

Mr. Barry will prove to you that no one need be hard of hearing because of embarrassment or because they have never before found satisfactory relief for their hearing loss.

Acousticon, the world's first and most experienced manufacturer of electrical hearing aids, offers you the choice of seven different models, every one designed to do a particular job. Prices range from $69.50 to $229.50.

Here are some of the models you will see:

SUPER-X-EAR — Designed to be worn four different ways — on the wrist — on a brooch — as a tie clip — as an ordinary aid. Microphone built on top to widen sound range and avoid clothing noise. Recommended for conductive or nerve type deafness.

MODEL A-152 — For severe loss where greater power is required to give you clear, natural hearing.

MODEL A-200, CORDLESS — Revolutionary styling allows ladies to wear it with complete invisibility. No cords dangle down the neck, nothing worn in the clothing, no separate receivers or transmitters. Three days free trial.

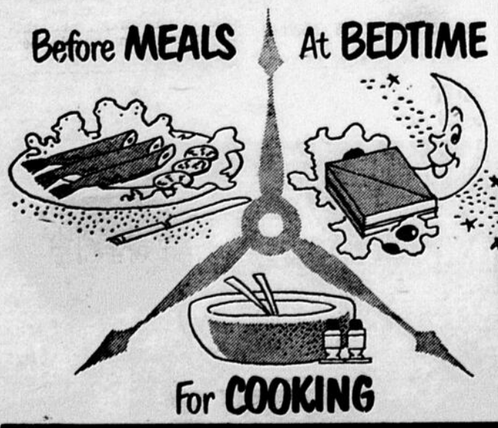

MODEL A-120B — For nerve-type deafness only. Sells for $69.50 with a ten-day money-back guarantee.

MODEL DR-1 RECEIVER — Designed to aid middle ear deafness. Worn with the appropriate Acousticon, this receiver lets you hear with nothing in your ear.

Last but not least is Service — your purchase is not complete without service. When you choose a hearing aid, make sure that your initial investment is not only a partial one, but that you are assured of prompt on-the-spot service always. Acousticon offers the most complete service facilities in Montreal — and all across Canada.

Boy Scout Activities

A whirlwind tour of inspection has recently been completed by Provincial Field Commissioner John MacGregor, District Commissioner Tom Hargrave and accompanied on several occasions by A. D. C. Ken Aldridge and District Scoutmaster Fred Sherrington. A very noticeable improvement has taken place over the past year. This improvement can be attributed to the keen interest being displayed by all the group committees. It is felt that if such an improvement can again be effected this year, and we see no reason why not, the Chateauguay Valley District will again lead the Province.

Since the formation of the District Council, at which time there were groups in Ormstown, Howick, Beauharnois and Chateauguay, new groups have been formed in Valleyfield, Huntingdon and Franklin Centre. Contacts have been made in Hemmingford and it should not be too long before a group is functioning in that district.

With the District shaping up so well the District Commissioner and the Assistant District Commissioner have been drawing up plans for a District Rally to be held during the coming summer months. While it is yet too early to make public any definite date or location all groups would do well to prepare themselves. A District Rally has been the dream of the District Officers for a number of years and we will have it this year or bust!

We the Scouters of the District have two problems which cause us some concern. The first and greater problem is that of keeping peace and concord in the home when we are frequently called on to attend numerous meetings without better halves. This of course causes the little ladies to feel neglected and quite rightly too. The second problem is that of having sufficient funds in the District Council Treasury to meet current incumbrances. It seems to the writer that these two problems could be solved by holding a Scouter's Dance open to Scouters and interested friends. Proceeds from this affair could be left with the District Council. Talk this over with your Group Committee and have your representative relate your views to the District Council at the next meeting.

On February 22nd the Valleyfield Troop held a card party which proved to be very successful financially and socially.

The annual Father and Son Banquet was held by the Beauharnois Group on Saturday, Feb. 23rd. A complete report on this function will appear later, but as a preliminary report a brief description follows: About 70 fathers and sons were in attendance and appeared to enjoy themselves thoroughly. The District Commissioner and his assistant were also in attendance and were royally treated to a scrumptious meal. After the banquet several games were played with the fathers and commissioners joining in the fun. Akela Amy, his charming wife and Scoutmaster "Smoky" Sturton are to be commended along with their group committee for the pains they have taken in making this such an enjoyable evening.

Also on Feb. 3rd the Howick Troop had its first official visit from the District Commissioner and the A. D. C. This visit was also to include a visit from the provincial Field Commissioner, but due to unforeseen circumstances he was unable to be present. Heretofore very little had been heard from this group and it was feared that not a great deal of progress was being made. We are pleased to report here that this is indeed not the case. Scoutmaster Bill MacArthur has been doing a terrific job with the boys. When the commissioners arrived at the meeting the boys were busily engaged in several badge studies. One patrol were undertaking lashings, one first-aid and the third morse code. On being queried by the commissioners the boys proved they had a thorough knowledge of their work. The commissioner had a few words for the boys and the meeting closed with the boys reaffirming their promise to the Queen in the presence of the commissioners. Howick, you have a grand group. Keep up the fine work and let's get working on "Plan Achievement."

On Sunday, Feb. 24th, the Valleyfield Troop held a church parade in the Valleyfield United Church. The Scout Troop of Valleyfield and the Nitro Cub Pack were in attendance. During the service Troop Leader John Ryder read the lesson in very fine style. Field Commissioner John MacGregor delivered the address and two scouts took up the offering. Following the service a fireside hour was held in the church hall. Commissioner Tom Hargrave acted as chairman. John MacGregor gave a short talk to the friends and scouts on "What Scouting is and Does." An interesting feature of this fireside hour was the presentation by Mr. Percy Sugden of a chaplain's badge to the Rev. Gault. Two piano solos were rendered by the two Osborne brothers, members of the Valleyfield troop.

The duties of Scoutmaster in Ormstown have been assumed by Mr. A. G. (Sandy) Thompson. The district officers as well as the provincial officers are fully confident of his ability and feel that Ormstown Troop will prosper under his leadership. The very best of luck and Good Scouting, Sandy.

Through the medium of this column the District Council invites all interested friends to contribute to the financial campaign. Each locality has been assigned an objective which the Council felt could be easily reached. This objective is the amount that will be forwarded to the Provincial Headquarters for administration purposes. Everything above these objectives will be retained by the respective groups to purchase camping equipment and material necessary for the instruction of boys. All donations of one dollar and over are deductible from income tax and official receipts will be forwarded from Provincial Headquarters for that purpose. No donation is too small and it will all be put to the very best use for the boy's welfare.

FATHER & SON BANQUET BEAUHARNOIS CUB PACK AND SCOUT TROOP

On Saturday evening, February 23rd the Beauharnois Wolf Cub Pack and the Beauharnois Boy Scout Troop held a Father & Son Banquet at the Beauharnois Intermediate School. This event is the continuation of the Birthday Banquet which was started three years ago by the Cub Master Ernest Amy and was broadened out this year to include the Scout Troop which has been developed under the able leadership of Scout Master Smoky Sturton. There were twenty-one Cubs present as follows: Alfred Abbott, Jules Lemay, Gordon Sutton, Joseph Rubin, Dennis Hunter, Robt. Mackie, Robert Tremblay, Leopold Piette, Kent Hauver, Peter Monovan, John Sweezey, Danny Downing, Brian Sutton, Jonas Spence-Sales, Brian Smith, Robert Burchmore, Clifford Gregory, Richard Read, Brian Kemper and Pierre Vranderick. The eleven Scouts present included Clark Anderson, Robert Amy, John Berry, Jack Hulme, Gary Hunter, Robert Piette, Ken Powell, Ronnie Thompson, Nick Vranderick, R. Gugeon and Robert Job. To keep an eye on their sons' activities during the evening the following fathers attended the banquet: Messrs. Abbott, Anderson, Kemper, Powell, Hauver, Job, Sutton, Monovan, Spence-Sales, Burchmore, Smith, Hulme, Lemay, Sullivan, Read, Gillis, Downing, Gregory, Berry, Vrandrick, Rubin, Mackie, Tremblay, Piette and Gugeon.

The tables were set up in the form of the letter "E" with the Reverend W. H. Brown, Chairman of the Scout Group Committee presiding at the head table. The dinner was prepared and served by the members of the Mothers' Auxiliary under the Chairmanship of Mrs. Piette. One of the added features of the meal was the work done by Mrs. Hulme in preparing two cakes with the frosting depicting the crest of the Wolf Cubs and of the Boy Scouts. At the conclusion of the meal Bill Kilgour requested the Ladies to come into the hall and thanked them warmly for the excellent dinner they had served. The thanks were made unanimous by the hearty round of applause that followed his words.

In preparing the program for the evening the Committee felt that there should be concentration on games rather than on speeches and only one speech was delivered. Mr. Brown called on Mr. Thomas Hargrave of Valleyfield, the Commissioner of the Chateauguay Valley District, to give a little talk at the conclusion of the dinner. Mr. Hargrave gave a fresh aspect to the Scout program and pointed out the possibilities in Scouting for the Cubs and Scouts in the District. He also introduced Mr. Kenneth Aldridge, the Assistant Commissioner of the District. Mr. Brown called on "Smoky" Sturton, the Scout Master, who took the opportunity to call on the fathers for their hearty cooperation in encouraging their boys to apply themselves to their Scout work. Before the meeting adjourned to the games program Mr. Hargrave, the Commissioner, called the Cub Master, Ernest Amy, to the center of the hall and made a presentation to him of the emblem of the Boy Scout Association on "Plan Achievement" as a reward for the progress of the 1st Beauharnois Wolf Cub Pack during the year 1951, and he congratulated Mr. Amy very enthusiastically on the work that he had done with his Cubs.

The program then turned to typical scout games under the direction of Messrs. Amy and Sturton. The fathers, the mothers, and the boys enjoyed the relay races of various kinds, the tug-of-war, and Kim's game. At the conclusion of the games it was very clear that the boys were eager for more, while the fathers were content to retire gracefully to the sidelines.

Covey Hill

COVEY HILL — On Sunday afternoon, Feb. 24th, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Edwards was christened at their home by their pastor, Rev. Mr. Holmes, Colin Gordon being the names given.

At the tea hour an interesting feature was a portion of the wedding cake, mellowed by time, which had been made by Baby Gordon's grandmother, Mrs. Cookman, for his parents' wedding.

Yet another bobcat was killed last week by Mr. Roy Lowden. He saw it on the Gulf Rock across the ravine, fired and saw it roll downward. Its coat of fur was quite handsome and he was paid $15. for the animal. He also sighted another.

The Presbyterian Young People's Society was entertained last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron A. B. Churchill.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lowden, of Montreal South, spent the week-end with relatives here.

Mr. Chas. Robinson, of Montreal, paid a visit here on Wednesday, returning to town next day.

Mr. Herb McComb, of Ormstown, was a visitor with Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Mannagh.

Embargo on Cattle Imports Felt in North Border Area

The ban on imports of Canadian livestock, hay, straw and meat because of an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Canada will be felt particularly at the Chateaugay customs port which is a major point of entry for cattle.

Approximately 3,000 head of Canadian cattle passed through the Chateaugay port in 1951, it was stated.

Possibility that the cattle import embargo might increase the price of cows in this area was seen by some dealers.

Chateaugay has a large volume of such imports because it is an inspection point for cattle, it was pointed out. Inspection of a cattle consignment was under way at the Chateaugay port at the moment the embargo order was received.

Other major cattle entry points are Rouses Point, Alexandria Bay and Ogdensburg.

At Rouses Point, Dr. L. E. Buncher, local representative of the U.S. Agriculture Department's Bureau of Animal Industry, said the government's ban covered about everything pertaining to livestock and meat and their by-products. He said this included hay and straw, hides, skins and bone meal.

"A terrific lot of stuff" has been turned back at this border crossing to Canada since the embargo was clamped on Monday, Feb. 25, Dr. Buncher said.

Meanwhile, veterinarians in New York state were on guard against any possible cases of the disease among cattle.

The state's 25 full-time field veterinarians were alerted by the State Agriculture Department and were instructed to warn all veterinarians in their areas.

At the Malone port, shipments of fresh meat, averaging about two carloads per week will be affected. Here and at other points, imports of hay and straw are farily heavy at this time of year.

The usual Spring influx of calves from Canada will also be halted.

"It's been a good many years since the last ban on cattle imports," declared Martin Holden, deputy collector of customs, adding that he couldn't remember just when the last one was.

Several dairy cattle importers predict the price of cattle in New York State will increase because of the embargo on Canadian livestock, the assistant director of the State Bureau of Animal Industry said at Albany.

Dr. Winfred S. Stone said dealers had expressed that opinion to him.

However, a spokesman for the Department of Agriculture and Markets Department said there was no way of predicting a price trend. He said new methods might be devised to offset the loss of Canadian imports resulting from the federal ban.

New York cattle dealers have been importing about 20,000 Canadian cattle a year. This represents about 80 percent of the state's dairy cattle imports each year.

Cattle are imported to replace cows that have gone dry or are too old, and to replenish herds depleted by death and slaughtering. Many dairymen also import simply to increase the size of their herds.

The Agriculture Department spokesman said more cattle might be imported from the Midwest — Wisconsin and Minnesota — and from the south, where the cattle business has been expanding. And, he added, the breeding of cattle in New York State might be increased, as a result of the ban.

A dairy cattle importer, E. Roy Fairbanks of Jamesville, said he expected the price of dairy cattle to rise "5 to 10 per cent anyway."

A good grade dairy cow has been retailing in the state for $450 to $500, Dr. Stone said.

Fairbanks said the embargo would "put us (importers) out of business for the time being."—Malone Evening Telegram.

Valleyfield Skating Club To Present Carnival

The VALLEYFIELD FIGURE SKATING CLUB with its 160 members is presenting its first full length Extravaganza on Ice in its "CARNAVAL OF 1952," at Valleyfield Arena, very soon.

After four years of intensive, training, the Executive and Directors feel that sufficient talent has developed to stage a show with outside help which will assure the public of a thoroughly colourful and enjoyable evening of entertainment.

The show lasts about two and one half hours which includes solos by the popular President, Mr. Peter Stranger, formerly Senior Champion of the Singles and Pairs of the Montreal Winter Club. Also, Miss Francoise Primeau, the charming and graceful Champion of this Club. Miss Louise Lalonde, Mireille Archambault and Jacqueline Boyer, some of the younger skaters will also perform. There will be a Pair by the vivacious Cholette Twins, Marie-Paule and Monique.

A precision number called "The SYNCOPATED CLOCK" will comprise 16 of the Senior skaters, a number never before attempted on ice. Junior groups will perform in the Dutch Waltz number and a School number.

The club is appealing to the generosity and interest of the public to assure a complete success of the Carnival as it is hoped to make this an annual event. It is for the benefit of the children of Valleyfield.

Valleyfield

VALLEYFIELD—The Provincial Red Cross held a business meeting in the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, on Feb. 27th. Those attending from Valleyfield were Mr. Lemyre, President; Mrs. Roman, Mrs. Boy, Mrs. Dow, Miss Besner and Mrs. Lemyre.

The guest speaker at the luncheon which Valleyfield members attended was Hon. Antoine Rivard, Quebec Solicitor General introduced by Col. Maurice Forget. Mayor Houde very graciously thanked the speaker for his splendid address.

At the afternoon session different committees met and discussed the work, after which tea was served.

Thursday, Feb. 28th, a conducted tour was arranged to show the work that is being done by the Society, the first visit being at the Community Hall Swimmng pool, N.D.G., where a demonstration in swimming and life saving was given. From there to the Red Cross Laboratory where they showed the method of cleaning the equipment and the typing of the blood for hospital use. The next visit was to Red Cross Guest House at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, where a nice lunch was served. Afterwards the guests were shown through the handicrafts hospital and viewed a fine display of articles made by the Veterans. Buses then returned to the Red Cross Branch and everyone reported a most interesting and instructive day.

Mr. Charles Dawe was a caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Mayoh recently.

Mrs. A. D. Cuthbert spent the week-end with the Misses Jane and Anne Wilson.

The Valleyfield Home and School Association held their Annual Card Party after a short business meeting Monday evening, Feb. 25th. It was very gratifying to know that the large attendance made it a great success.

March 2—Annual District Church Service Ephraim Scott Memorial Church. Rev. Bro. McBride, pastor. Bro. Wm. J. Shannon, Grand Master reading the lesson.

Sunday evening, Feb. 24th, a service was held in the United Church at 7 p.m. to honor the birthday of the late Lord Baden-Powell who founded the Boy Scout movement on Christian principles about 45 years ago.

The 1st Valleyfield Boy Scout Troop, with Mr. Gerry Weller as Scout Master and John Rider as Scout Leader, were in attendance all wearing uniforms, also the 1st Nitro Cub Pack with Mr. Stan. Clendenning as Leader. Scout Leader John Rider read the lesson while Mr. John McGregor of Montreal, Field Commissioner of Boy Scouts for the Province of Quebec, preached the sermon, his text being, "I beseech thee, show me thy glory." In bringing out the four points that Scouts have to keep in mind in order to be a good Scout were: Fun, Adventure, Comradeship and Code. The service closed with the singing of God Save the Queen.

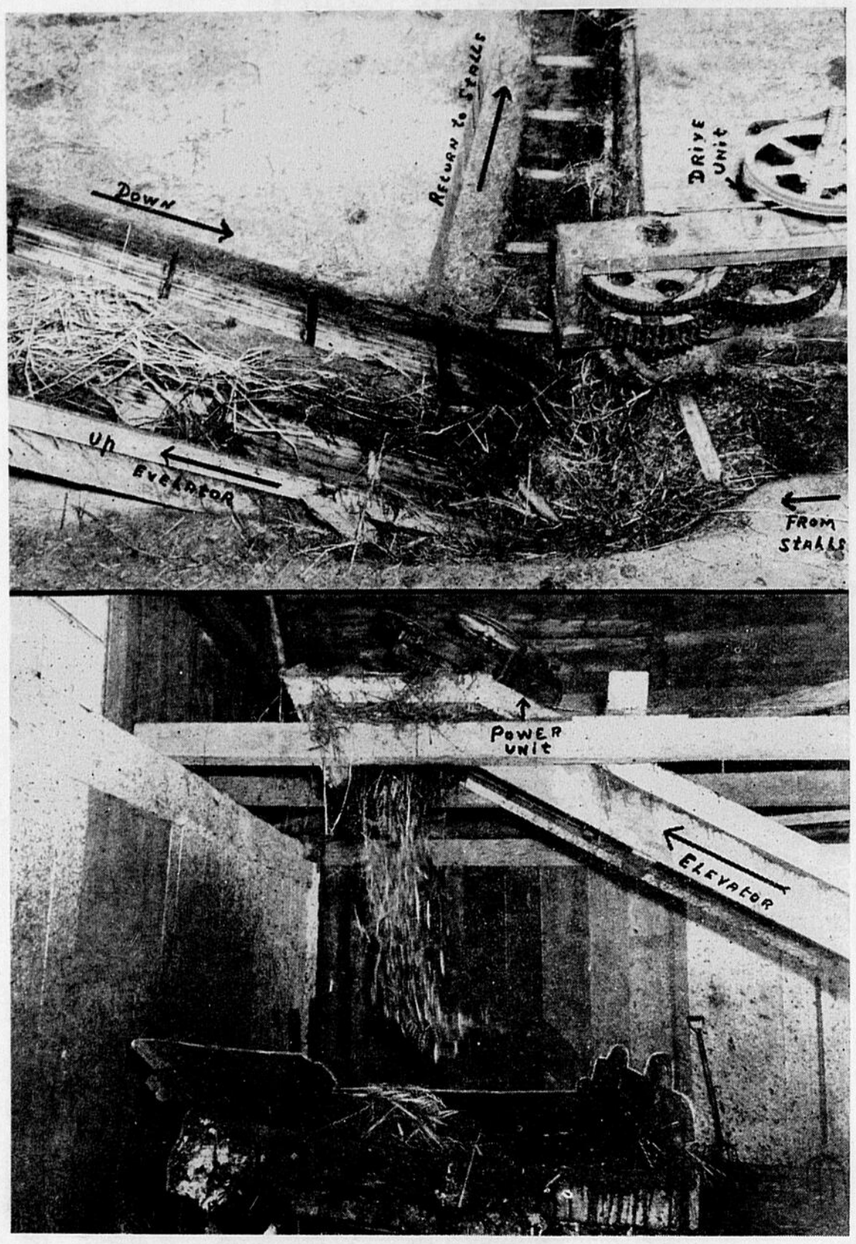

Afterwards the congregation went into the Hall where a programme of music and an informal talk by Mr. McGregor on Scout work was given. Mr. Hargrave acted as chairman. Two hymns were sung and Paul and Teddy Osborne each gave a piano solo. The Rev. D. G. Gault was made Chaplain of the Troop, Mr. Percy Sudgen presenting him with the Scout badge and pin. Mr. Lionel Robb thanked the speaker and refreshments were then served at the close of this fireside hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Hanlon of Chateauguay, Que., spent Sunday recently with Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Horgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nicholson have gone to New York, where they will spend a few days before going to Miami, Florida and Havana, Cuba.

Mrs. J. O. Clermont, Mrs. G. Leduc and Mr. and Mrs. Georges A. Meloche left Friday for a vacation in Miami.
