VIETMINH DEMAND POLITICAL TREATY

Solution Of Political Difficulties Must Precede Any Cease-Fire Talks.

By EDDIE GILMORE

Geneva — (AP) — The Communist-led Vietminh strongly hinted today that the Indo-China peace conference must agree in principle on a political settlement before any Indo-China cease-fire can be accepted by the Communists.

A Vietminh spokesman dropped this hint at a press conference shortly before the nine-party conference convened for another secret session on the military aspects of a cease-fire. He agreed that a cease-fire would precede the implementation of any political agreements, but said:

"The military and political problems are inseparable."

Asked if the Vietminh would insist on an agreement in principle on a political settlement before putting the proposed cease-fire the spokesmen refused a direct answer but, when pressed, repeated that the military and political factors cannot be separated.

A member of the Viet Nam delegation offered this comment on the Vietminh statement:

"It is one more example of Communist stalling tactics, which shows once again the Communists are trying to turn the conference into a Panmunjom where they can go on negotiating for months and months while they build up their military strength for an attack on the (Red river) delta.

France has insisted that a cease-fire should be put into effect before political problems, such as elections, are discussed.

Meanwhile, there is increasing talk that the big name diplomats may soon go home, leaving their deputies here to carry on.

U.S. State Secretary Dulles went back to Washington four weeks ago. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov flew to Moscow early Sunday for consultations, telling some of the western delegation chiefs he will be back in a few days.

Many western sources believe the Indo-China talks will develop into a series of meetings by subcommittees of military and other experts on the technical aspects of a cease-fire.

Saturday's decision to begin direct military talks here this week on the question of assembly zones for the rival forces in Indo-China was regarded generally as only a procedural agreement.

Representatives of the French and Vietminh commands still will have to resolve the basic question of whether there should be a series of isolated assembly zones or one large consolidated area for each side, as the Communists have demanded.

This military question has grave political overtones, since concentration of large forces in opposing areas could set the pattern for partitioning of Viet Nam.

Military representatives of the two sides are expected to hold their initial session Tuesday.

As the nine-delegation conference continued its secret meetings today, it still was faced with half a dozen major questions. These include proposals for international supervision of the proposed cease-fire, military guarantees against violations, exchange of prisoners of war, and bans against reinforcements from outside.

France's delegation was faced today with new problems outside those posed by the Communists. Marc Jacquet, secretary of state for the associated states (Indo-China) and a key member of Foreign Minister Georges Bidault's delegation here, resigned from Premier Joseph Laniel's cabinet after a cabinet dispute over the leaking to a Paris weekly of a top secret military report on Indo-China. The resignation may bring additional attacks on Laniel's policy when the French National Assembly begins debate on the Indo-China situation Tuesday.

World News In Brief

Oslo—(Reuters)—A dapper, wartime resistance hero and an army reserve sergeant went on trial behind closed doors today on charges of spying for Russia in one of Norway's biggest espionage cases.

Asbjoern Sunde, 43, who led Communist partisans against German occupation forces during the Second World War, and Sergeant Erling Nordby, 38, were pale but smiling as they entered the court.

The trial is the second this month dealing with alleged espionage for Russia.

Chicago— (AP) — Memorial Day week-end traffic fatalities were running well ahead of this year's daily average of 88, but whether new records will be established depended upon the proportions of the going-home slaughter.

The last day of a holiday week-end usually is the deadliest. The national safety council, which has predicted that 340 persons will lose their lives in traffic accidents in the United States during this first holiday outing period of the season, estimates 30,000,000 automobiles are on the roads.

London— (AP) —The Daily Mirror today published an excellent photograph of people, taken by a chimpanzee at the London zoo.

The camera was wired to the chimp's cage. He tripped the shutter by pulling a string.

Geneva—(Reuters)—French and West German business men have joined representatives of Britain and other countries in establishing trade contacts with Chinese Communist officials here, a Chinese spokesman said today.

Harold Wilson, trade commissioner in the British government, discussed trade Sunday with Premier Chou En-lai, leader of the Chinese Communist delegation to the Geneva conference on the Far East.

Britain and Communist China already have had exploratory trade talks here. Lei Jen-min, Chinese vice-minister of foreign trade, has had talks with Humphrey Trevelyan, British charge d'affaires in Peiping. Both are delegates to the Far East conference.

Guatemala —(AP)— Unconfirmed reports today said Guatemalan government authorities have unearthed an armed subversive plot and are searching a number of private homes.

At least four persons are reported to have been given asylum in the El Salvador embassy here and another was said to have taken refuge in the Ecuadorean legation.

There was no confirmation from government sources or diplomatic quarters.

The reports came after tension had abated somewhat in this capital.

Solution To Tax Dispute Is Essential

Ottawa—(CP)—The Young Liberal Federation of Canada favors a national contributory health insurance plan in co-operation with the provinces.

That was one of several resolutions adopted during its national convention here which ended Saturday with speeches by Prime Minister St. Laurent and State Secretary Pickersgill.

Commending the government for laying a sound foundation for a practical national health insurance plan, the resolution urged that such a plan be implemented "so soon as necessary agreement may be reached with provincial governments."

It is understood the 340-odd delegates rejected a British Columbia proposal that private broadcasters be permitted to operate television stations in all Canadian cities, but approved the B.C. group's suggestion that a separate body be established to control the licensing and regulate the operation of all radio and television stations in Canada. The CBC now holds this power.

Mr. Pickersgill said the current tax dispute between the federal government and Quebec cannot be permanent.

"It is not fair to the people of that province to have to pay federal taxes at the same rate as other Canadians without receiving for provincial purposes benefits similar to those the people in other provinces are getting from federal-provincial tax rental agreements."

Quebec, only province which has not signed a tax rental agreement under which the federal government pays annual grants for the sole right to collect personal and corporation income taxes and succession duties, recently levied a personal income tax. The tax amounts to about 15 per cent of the federal levy, but Quebec's requst to have the tax fully deductible from federal payments was refused. Federal tax laws permit a deduction of only five per cent.

Mr. Pickersgill said every Liberal worthy of the name believed Quebecers ought to have their proper share of these revenues. That was why Mr. St. Laurent and Finance Minister Abbott had stressed that the door "is open to any reasonable proposition which is fair to all Canadians."

Mr. St. Laurent, noting that Canada still has to go to the United Kingdom Parliament to amend its constitution—the British North America Act—on matters affecting both federal and provincial rights, said he is sure a method eventually will be found to amend it in Canada.

"When that problem is solved the last vestige of our former dependent status will be removed."

The federation elected William Appleby, 30, national treasurer for the last 2½ years and a past president of the Manitoba Young Liberal Association, as its new president. The 30-year-old St. Boniface, Man., lawyer succeeds Guy Rouleau, who was elected to Parliament in Montreal Dollard constituency in the 1953 general election.

Pan-Islamic Drive Opens On Morocco

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Rabat, Morocco — (AP) — Violent anti-foreign propaganda from the Moslem mid-East and Cairo is being aimed at North Africa today in what appears to be an attempt to seize pan-Islamic opportunity from the deepening nationalist crisis.

A dangerous vacuum has been created in Morocco with the ouster of Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, 47, now exiled in Madagascar. The ouster had the result of turning devout Moroccan Moslems away from mosques in anger and bitterness. They have become prey to all sorts of opportunists including Communists and fanatically anti-foreign champions of pan-Islam (world Mohammedan unity).

France has protested at least twice to Cairo about broadcasts of the "Voice of Arabs" on Radio Cairo. These call Moroccans to violence in the name of Islam. French here say there has been no response from Cairo.

The propaganda should gladden the hearts of Communists, for whom it is ready made. For example, Voice of Arabs broadcast this reaction on the fall of Dien Bien Phu ot Communists forces:

"Arabs: The most celebrated of battles fought by the liberation movement, that of Dien Bien Phu, is over and the Indo-Chinese patriots are victorious. Voice of Arabs has faith in the liberty planted in history by bodies of martyrs and vivified by blood of patriots. It is through this that the battle of Dien Bien Phu becomes in the eyes of Voice of Arabs another battle of liberation in the course of which right won over injustice, just as justice will triumph everywhere over weeds of falseness. The victory of those who were slaves of the colonialists should not pass unnoticed. The triumph of patriots at Dien Bien Phu should not pass without attracting great attention."

Voice of Arabs brought Dien Bien Phu to the attention of Moroccans many times as as example of how battle can be waged against the French. Moroccans say to themselves that regardless of the ideological issues involved, it is "living proof that a colony can break away from French domination."

Radoi Cairo on one hand and Radio Tetuan from Spanish Morocco on the other hand add fuel to flames here.

The Spanish Moroccan radio calls terrorists of French Morocco "Redeemers" and applauds their activities against the French, whose relations with Franco Spain have been cool ever since the deposing of Sidi Mohammed. Radio Cairo's Voice of Arabs calls on terrorists to struggle to "build a free and independent Arabia."

Declares Trade Policies Menace Canadian Industry

Ottawa—(CP)—Canada must change her trade policies or revert to a 50-cents-an-hour economy, O. W. Titus, president of the Canadian Electrical Manufacturers Association, said today.

Mr. Titus, in an address to the Eastern Ontario Development Conference, declared that Canadian electrical manufacturers are prepared to meet the world or any part of it on their ability to compete per man hour.

"But there is a limit to the premiums they can pay per man-hour when cheap-labor articles are freely admitted to domestic markets. I think the limit has been reached and passed."

Mr. Titus, who is president of Canada Wire and Cable Company, Toronto, said Canadian organizations had recently placed multi-million-dollar orders for electrical equipment and supplies abroad, and commented:

"When in a forest product or agricultural area, pressure is brought to bear on public utilities to place large contracts in trans-Atlantic areas in order to provide hard-currency funds to permit those areas to buy forest, fisheries or agricultural products, this results in the laying off of Canadian workmen paid about $1.50 an hour to provide work for those paid less than 50 cents an hour.

"Which workmen will buy more plywood, canned salmon and high-quality beef — the $1.50-per-hour man, or the 50-cents-per-hour man?"

Mr. Titus said 27 per cent of federal revenue comes from corporation income tax, 27 per cent from personal income tax and 25 per cent from excise and sales taxes. A serious setback to industry would upset the whole budgetary structure.

"We have seen nation after nation fall down on their commitments under the general agreement on tariffs and trade while Canada has carried out her engagements at no small disadvantage to Canadian industry. Is it not time that Canada let some one else lead the parade for a while?"

Competing British and European countries had basic labor rates well below 50 cents an hour; a 48-hour week was common; ocean rates in many instances were heavily in their favor; exchange and fiscal policies worked against Canada; and government assistance in indirect ways such as exchange arrangements, long-term export credits and food subsidies worked to overseas advantage.

"The net effect is that our export markets for manufactured goods are disappearing, or are down to negligible proportions. This loss has the effect of raising costs for our remaining production."

Menzies Sees Vote Common Sense Win

Melbourne — (CP) — Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies said today his Conservative government's election victory over the Socialists showed Australians prefer steady progress of sound foundations to "getting something for nothing."

Latest results in Saturday's polling for a new House of Representatives showed Menzies' two-party coalition won 62 seats to 53 for the Labor party which had campaigned for more welfare state measures. Six seats still are in doubt.

Menzies said that though the government's majority in the new Parliament will be small, he is sure "we will be able to continue stable and progressive administration."

He added: "This is a piece of good fortune for Australia for there will be difficult problems to deal with both externally and internally, and the teamwork which has characterized these recent years will be more important than ever."

Ordered To Defend Delta, French Rush New Troops

By LARRY ALLEN

Hanoi, Indo-China— (AP) —The French high command rushed strengthening of the Red river delta defences today following orders from Paris to defend the entire strategic area.

With reinforcements on hand and enroute, a high command spokesman said the French will have all necessary means to counter any attack that might be launched by the Communist-led Vietminh.

The command also announced the rebels had agreed to free 27 French medical personnel captured at fallen Dien Bien Phu. They were scheduled to be evacuated today by helicopter from the Dien Bien Phu area to French lines.

The spokesman said the French command was planning the defence of the delta in line with the possibility the rebels might launch a vast assault by mid-June.

The French calculate that if the Vietminh do not attack within the next two or three weeks, the chances are they will not stage any big offensive before next October. The French contend the rebels will find it almost impossible to launch an all-out assaut in July and August because of the heavy monsoon rains.

The Vietminh have four divisions en route toward the delta from smashed Dien Bien Phu. They also are believed to have about 100,000 guerrilla fighters inside the delta area. The Vietminh troops moving toward the delta defences are being hammered by French fighters and bombers. The bulk of the rebel forces is reported about 90 miles west of Hanoi, with advance units further along.

The French have been reinforcing the delta defences since the fall of Dien Bien Phu May 7. Already the equivalent of two light divisions have arrived or will arrive shortly to bolster the 80 battalions of French Union troops now inside the delta. This area, rich in rice, minerals and manpower, could furnish the Vietminh the key to victory in the seven-year-old war if they should conquer it.

Cabinet Members Held In Clamp-Down On Disorders In Eastern Pakistan

By EUGENE LEVIN

Karachi — (AP) — Troops jailed some 150 persons in troubled East Pakistan today in the wake of Karachi's ouster of the provincial government for "disloyalty."

Among those taken into custody were Sheikh Mjibur Rehman, one of the 14 members of the former provincial cabinet, and Mohammed Gulam Quadir, a member of the East Pakistan Provincial Assembly.

Official sources said Abdul Kasem Fazlul Huq, ousted chief minister, and others among his cabinet colleagues also may be arrested. Developments were cloaked by official censorship.

The administration ouster was ordered Sunday by Governor-General Ghulam Mohammed, Pakistan's chief of state, as bitter differences between the divided sections of the country came to a head. The governor-general acted under the "governor's rule" — followed since Britain withdrew from the Indian subcontinent in 1947 — which permits the central government to assume the functions of a provincial ministry.

Declaring a state of emergency, Ghulam Mohammed named Maj.-Gen. Iskander Mirza, secretary of the central government's defence ministry, to take control of the administration. Mirza's first official act was to impose censorship.

The new governor was expected to start a general roundup of Communists and "enemies of Pakistan."

In a broadcast to the nation explaining the government's action, Prime Minister Mohammed Ali said Fazbul Huq was a "traitor to Pakistan, even to East Pakistan."

Ali declared the 81-year-old ousted chief minister had said his ultimate goal was an independent Bengal (East Pakistan), a statement the prime minister described as a "disloyal utterance."

The ouster followed mounting friction between the central government here in Karachi and East Pakistan. The province, which has 44,000,000 of the dominion's 76,000,000 people, is separated from West Pakistan by 1,000 miles of Indian territory. The eastern area is Pakistan's chief industrial section and the home of its major jute industry.

The victorious five-party united front included the Communist organization in the province. Immediately after the coalition took office April 3, riots broke out in several East Pakistan mill areas. More than 500 persons were killed in the clashes, which Mohammed Ali said were organized by Communists.

Pope Again Is Working Long Hours

Vatican City — AP — The Pope, apparently fully recovered from his long winter's illness, again is working 12 or more hours daily.

Today, third day in the series of ceremonies connected with the canonization of Pius X, the Pontiff received cardinals, archbishops and bishops gathered here from over the world for the event.

More than 40 cardinals and more than 400 archbishops and bishops heard the Pope address them in Latin in the Vatican's Benediction Hall.

The prelates congratulated the Pope on the canonization and on his own Saint's Day anniversary, that of St. Eugene, which falls on June 2.

The Pope presided Sunday at a solemn pontifical mass for St. Pius X. After the long ceremony he appeared at the portal of the basilica to give his blessing to cheering thousands in the square.

He also appeared at the basilica's central loggia to give his blessing to the city and the world. Later, he appeared another seven times during the day to give his blessing from the window of his Vatican apartment.

Tax Rights Held Vital To Survival

Three Rivers—(CP)—Premier Duplessis said Saturday night a province's right to govern itself "is the only assurance it has of survival."

Addressing the closing banquet of the fourth annual congress of the Province of Quebec Master Electricians Corporation, Mr. Duplessis promised that his government would study the corporation's demand that certain amendments be made in the law governing electrical installation examinations.

Premier Duplessis said that the corporation was a necessary one in Quebec and that it owes its existence to the province's legislative policy.

An honorary certificate of the organization was presented to Rev. Odule Sylvain of the Benedictine monastery outside Sherbrooke.

Besides the Premier, Msgr. Georges-Leon Pelletier, Bishop of Three Rivers, addressed the banquet, saying it is important that scientific developments be used for the benefit of a man rather

Father Has Lesson In Delinquency

San Antonio, Tex. — (AP) — A Baptist minister, pausing often in his sermon as emotion overcame him, preached yesterday on adult delinquency Sunday as his teen-aged son, 10 days ago accused of murder, sat in the front row.

After Rev. Luther Osborne, as is customary at the end of his sermons, called for professions of faith, many in his emotion-charged congregation began crying.

The son, Luther, 17, and Jerry Wills, 18, are accused of beating Julian Vega, 68, cafe-bar owner, to death with a pool cue May 21.

Several times the pastor referred directly to his son, out on bail awaiting trial.

He listed these as his views of the cause of juvenile delinquency: A personal spiritual being called the devil; parents' failure to cooperate with other parents; the making of association of teen-agers too convenient.

"I think more in terms of parental delinquency than of juvenile delinquency," he said.

"Every one of us, including myself, were too busy, too preoccupied, with material things and selfish motives to give youngsters the attention, care and love they needed 12 years ago."

Reds Plan For Revolt Frustrated

Miami, Fla.—(AP)—A Communist plot to kill Gen. Anastasio Somoza, president of Nicaragua, failed because the $10,000,000 shipment of arms to Guatemala didn't arrive in time, the Miami Herald said Sunday night.

The newspaper quoted an authoritative source, who was not further identified, as saying the Communists had a detailed plan worked out which they hoped would lead to Somoza's death and also start a revolution in Honduras.

The informant declared "there was a whole series of planned moves behind the arms movement." The first move was "to get to Somoza and kill him," he said. The second was to place guns in the hands of workers in Honduras who were threatening to strike.

"They were going to stage the revolution as soon as these workers were armed," the informant said, "but the gun shipment was delayed and the workers didn't wait."

He said there were indications American and British intelligence agents helped prevent the plot from being carried out.

The communists "knew the British and Americans were after them and they had to move the arms shipment from port to try to hide it," he said.

"This caused a delay in their plans and President Somoza learned of the plot to assassinate him. Then the Honduran workers went on strike without their guns."

Honduran officials have confirmed that about 30,000 workers went on strike in the northern part of the country which borders on Guatemala and called the strike Communist-inspired.

Accidents In East Claimed Twenty-Eight

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Twenty-eight persons, including 10 children, died violent deaths in Eastern Canada during the week-end.

Fatalities missed none of the six eastern provinces. Four mishaps took 11 lives, the worst of these being a fire which killed four children and accounted for all of Newfoundland's total.

Harold Cluney, 2, his two sisters, Donna, 3, and Rosiland, 7, and his 10-year-old brother Tasker, were victims of the week-end's largest single accident. They were burned to death in a fire at Kelligrews, Nfld.

Ontario had 17 fatalities. Eight were caused in traffic accidents and five in air crashes.

Quebec had four violent deaths, two in traffic accidents, one in a helicopter crash and one a drowning.

Marie Paule Bedard, 20, was killed when a truck in which she was riding was struck by a freight train at Lac aux Sables. Marcel Beaupre, 21, lost his life at Les Ecureuils when his car went out of control, overshot a curve and plowed into a house.

A helicopter crash near Sept Iles killed Alvin Moorehouse Dunphy of Ottawa, Roland Duchesne, 21, was drowned when he tried to swim to shore after his sailboat was swamped on Lake St. John in northern Quebec.

The 10-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fanning burned to death at Pleasant Grove to account for Prince Edward Island's only violent death.

Douglas G. Spence, 23, son of Harley Spence, Progressive Conservative member of the Nova Scotia legislature for the riding of Lunenburg, was killed at Bridgewater when his car went out of control and hit a bridge guardrail. He was Nova Scotia's only fatality.

New Brunswick also had one death. Six-year-old Beatrice Pitrie ran into the path of a truck at Bathurst and was killed.

Natives See Vengeance In Hillary Case

Katmandu, Nepal— (Reuters) — A crack Gurkha runner is racing along snowy mountain paths of the Himilayas to reach Sir Edmund Hillary, while superstitious natives talk of the goddesses' vengeance against the ailing conqueror of Everest.

The runner will try to bring out news of Hillary, stricken with pneumonia earlier this month 22,500 feet up in the icy wastes of the Barun valley. Officials in northeast Nepal are ready to aid the 35-year-old New Zealander as soon as he is located.

Superstitious Napalis and Sherpas attribute Hillary's illness to the revenge of goddesses of Everest for the violation of their sanctuary.

Everest is known to the Sherpas as Chomolungma—goddess mother of the snows—and is believed by them to be the home of Cohomolungma's sister, Meu Lang Sang Ma, a goddess of disease.

The natives pointed out that Sherpa Tenzing, who reached the top of Everest with Hillary last May, also has been ill and is ordered to rest.

The 27,790-foot peak of Makalu, which towers above the Barun glacier, where Hillary contracted pneumonia, is known as "the armchair of the gods," a particularly sacred region. It is in some of the wildest country in this mountainous kingdom.

Terror Reigns Supreme Through Morocco Cities

(Last month William L. Ryan, Associated Press foreign news analyst, during a study tour of the Far East and southeast Asia, surveyed France's fight in Indo-China. Now investigating current affairs in North Africa, Ryan reports today on the troubled situation in another vital French overseas territory.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Casablanca, Morocco — (AP) — French civilians are carrying guns in this worried city today as nationalist terror rises.

Casablanca, Morocco's big metropolis of 700,000, falls silent by night. Streets are virtually deserted. Movie houses and restaurants are bare of customers. The French and those Moroccans terrorized by extreme nationalists are staying home at night.

Outside the central prison dozens of veiled Moslem women cling to the bars of the iron gates and wail for their men. Around police stations crowds are herded daily to have identifications verified as a strict security measure.

Heavily-armed Moroccan government troops roam the streets on bicycles watching for trouble in the medinas, the native towns. In the medinas and bidonvilles—the fantastic slums of Moroccan cities—there is an air of tension. It is there that extreme nationalists carry out terror against Moroccans suspected of being pro-French.

But despite the extraordinary military measures, terrorism continues. Almost every night there are killings or other violent incidents in Casablanca, scene of the most persistent attacks.

Business people say that if the terror continues unchecked another year, their backs will be against the wall. The terror is frightening away both French and foreign capital.

Anger has been rising steadily during the nine months since the French ousted Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef and placed 65-year-old Sultan Moulay Mohammed Ben Arafa on the throne of the Sherifian empire.

"There is nobody on the throne," a group of Moroccans told me during an interview in a Moroccan home. "The new sultan is nobody." They added:

"And what is happening? The gulf between French and Moroccans is widening. There's danger the gulf will become so wide that Morocco and the rest of North Africa will be thrown fully into the Asian-Mid-East bloc of nations and become Asian rather than western in outlook."

Francis Lacoste, incoming French resident general, faces a grave dilemma. One thing on which all Moroccans I saw agreed was the issue of the sultan. Before Sidi Mohamed was deposed, they were not particularly passinate about his leadership. Now it is a question of principle and they are insistent that he must return.

Yet the French see no way of bringing Sidi Mohammed back, no way of making concessions that will protect French prestige, although they say that in order to accomplish anything at all Lacoste must bring concessions with him.

COOKSHIRE—

W. A. Gives Gift To Bride-Elect

Cookshire, May 31.—The Women's Association of Trinity United Church held its bi-monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Parker on Tuesday evening, May 25, with a very good attendance.

The president, Mrs. J. Vogell, was in the chair and opened the meeting in regular form. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Parker. In the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Roberts, the president stated that the proceeds from the "Fashion Show" were very gratifying.

Routine business was transacted and final plans made for the minstrel show.

Following adjournment, a social evening was enjoyed. A very pleasing feature of the evening was a presentation by Mrs. Vogell to Miss Esther Brazel in honor of her approaching marriage.

Miss Brazel thanked the members for their gift and their kind wishes.

Impressive Ceremony Marks Breaking Of Ground For Local Synagogue Extension

Symbolical of the growth of the local Jewish community and its spiritual advance was the ground-breaking ceremony by the Cohen family last night, marking the site where an extension will be built on the synagogue of the Congregation Agudath Achim.

At an impressive outdoor service, Harry Cohen, Q.C., Mrs. Helen Goldstein (Cohen), both of Montreal, and Samuel Cohen, of Sherbrooke, turned the sod in back of the synagogue at 531 Montreal street. Plans are to build for 40 to 50 feet, extending the main floor and by adding and converting the present basement into a recreation centre.

Approximately 75 persons were gathered around as Rabbi Joseph Kelman dedicated the earth with a brief Hebrew prayer. To all, this ceremony was more than a building project. It was the realization of a dream anticipated by the Jewish families of this city since the founding of the local congregation. As M. Smith, chairman of the community, said later: "The executive has been awaiting this momentous occasion for many years."

Roots of the Jewish community goes back to 1890, but it was not until 1906 that the formal organization took place with the province of Quebec granting a charter to the synagogue. Previously services had been conducted in the homes of the members. That year, the Congregation Agudath Achim, about 25 families then, rented quarters in the Griffith building on Dufferin street where presently the government offices are located.

Obviously, this community has grown proudly and rapidly in the last half century. Among the original founders of the congregation who took an active interest in its welfare were Benjamin Cohen, M. Mosel and S. Echenberg. The office of president has been held by Joseph Rosenbloom, Max Weinstein, M. Echenberg up till 1919. At that time, Rev. A. J. Mittleman came to take up his duties. M. B. Echenberg was president for over 20 years. For the past twelve years Menasseh Smith, the well-known prominent merchant, has served faithfully as the president.

Last night, Rabbi Kelman read a telegram congratulating the congregation on this important occasion. It was signed Rev. and Mrs. Mittleman, who served as spiritual leader for the community for 34 years. Rabbi Kelman is formerly of Toronto and has been living in Sherbrooke since last year.

Congregation Agudath Achim has been in the present structure since 1920. When it was decided to erect this edifice as their home of worship, it took hard work and unselfish devotion of the 60 or so families. Many families did not spare themselves, financially, in time and efforts, to build something for the members of the congregation at that time and the future generation.

Names like Cohen, Rosenbloom, Echenberg, Kushner, Schwartz are inscribed in memories of the Jewish Community.

Now, one generation later the synagogue is building again, this time a community center and adequate class-rooms for the children.

"Taking such a step as building a recreation hall will serve for both adults and youth," said Rabbi Kelman. "As we are assembled in a Synagogue built by a handful of men and women and are enjoying the fruits of their labor, let our children enjoy the fruits of our labor." In an inspiring phrase he said, "Let us try to recapture the spirit of our fathers."

In the Synagogue, H. L. Echenberg presented a miniature sterling shovel to Harry Cohen, Q.C., as a memento of the occasion. Likewise, A. D. Echenberg presented Honorary Life Membership certificates to Mr. and Mrs. C. Goldstein and to Mr. and Mrs. H. Cohen.

Harry Cohen expressed "great appreciation" for the honour bestowed on him in remembrance of his late parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Cohen. In concluding he said, "I foresee a great spiritual and education community." Rabbi Kelman than conducted the closing benediction.

Sherbrooke High School Graduating Class Attend Baccalaureate Service

"There is really no such thing as a chance in life", said Rev. F. C. Amery in his sermon entitled "Finding the Right Way" at the Baccalaureate Service for the graduates of the Sherbrooke High School in the Baptist Church Sunday morning.

Two men meet on the road, railroad coach or in a foreign city "casually", as they say and something flows from the meeting which influences the after-life of one or both. Just as the meeting of Philip and the eunuch in Etheopia (Acts chap. 8, 26). This meeting could hardly be called casual, there was a definite purpose in the relationship. So it is today, our next acquaintance — a man we may meet on the street — may be the cause of a major change in our life.

"Find the right way of life; be sure you are in right relation with the author and sustainer of life", for "the steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord and he delighteth in his way". A so-called coincidence may in fact be a divine appointment, Mr. Amery said.

At the last verse of the hymn "Just as I am, Thine own to be" died to a close, Christine Wilcock and James Begbie, both graduates of Sherbrooke High, passed on the lighted torch to two students of Grade X, Cynthia Steinman and Brian Beck, thus symbolizing the passing down of seniority to the future graduates and responsibility for continuing the tradition throughout the year.

Members of the graduation class for 1954 are: President Diane Montgomery (academic), vice-president John Harbert (academic), secretary-treasurer Eleanor Ross (commercial); grade XI, Academic, president, Joyce Dunsmore, vice-president, Claudine Pyke; Grade XI Commercial, president, Eleanor Ross, vice-president, Charles Bennett.

Other members of the 1954 class, Academic, are: D. Arbery, E. Arbery, P. Banks, B. Beck, J. Begbie, B. Chilvers, A. Flanders, R. Gaffney, B. Hafford, M. Ladd, R. Lothrop, A. Lyon, F. MacDonald, L. Marcus, M. McColeman, F. McMurray, W. Milnes, R. Mouland, G. Pope, W. Redway, M. Rymill, J. Saunders, M. Stevens, A. Trussler and C. Wilcock.

Commercial Class are: J. Bayley, D. Chamberlin, W. Chesbro, A. Cutler, A. Miles, D. Munroe, I. Neeley, S. Neilson, D. Perry, O. Provencher, M. Quine, Mona Quine, P. St. Jean and J. Taylor.

Final Tribute Is Accorded To R. H. Gunning

Relatives and friends gathered to pay tribute to an old resident of Sherbrooke on Monday, May 24th, when the funeral service for Richard Hugh Gunning was held at Johnston's Chapel, Prospect Street.

The simple and impressive service was conducted by the Rev. Sidney Garland, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The bearers all members of Prince of Wales Lodge, of which Mr. Gunning had been a member for over fifty years, were Charles Shepard, Alfred Fagg, Clifford Goodfellow, Albert Wadsworth, Emerson Smith and Bert Woolgar.

Interment was in the family plot at Elmwood Cemetery.

The late Mr. Gunning was born in this city 82 years ago and had returned here to live two years ago from Montreal after the death of his wife. He died after a week's illness at the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Relatives are his daughters, Mrs. Guy Bryant (Olive), of Sherbrooke, and Mrs. Argall (Florence), of Temiskaming, Arthur A. Gunning, brother and Agnes Gunning, sister, both of Lennoxville, and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Mr. Gunning'es first wife Elizabeth Scott, died in 1900. His second wife Flora Jean Lamont predeceased him in March 1952.

BALDWIN'S MILLS—

Mr. and Mrs. J. Keeble and son have moved into the recently constructed house owned by Mr. E. Baldwin.

Mr. L. Baldwin has returned to Montreal, after spending the week-end at his parents' home here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Baldwin and Mr. H. R. Baldwin accompanied him back to the city where they will attend the graduation exercises for Lester.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Wiggett and daughter, of Dixville, visited here recently.

HOW TO DOUBLE THE PRIZE MONEY

If a sales slip from either AU BON MARCHE ENRG., or CODERE LTEE. is included with your entry the prize money will be doubled.

Solve the clues as you would any crossword puzzle. Clip out the puzzle after you have filled it in and mail it — or good exact-size facsimile of it — to RECORD CROSSWORDS, c/o the Sherbrooke Daily Record. All answers must be received by mail or delivery in the Record Office not later than next Thursday. If more than one contestant succeeds in answering the puzzle correctly the prize will be divided among those having the correct solution. If no one succeeds in answering the puzzle correctly the prize will be added to next week's puzzle prize money.

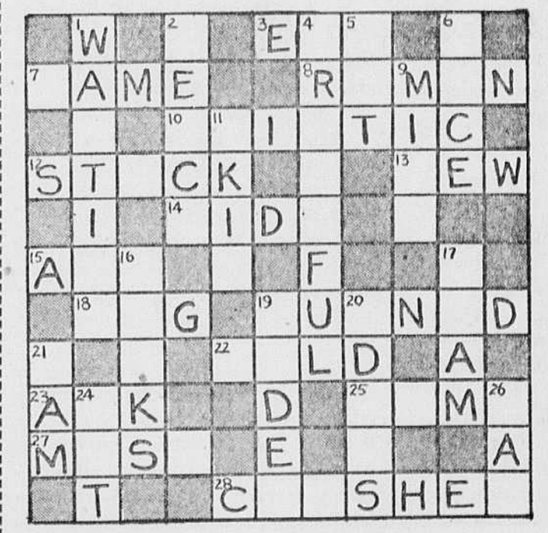

No household may send in more than TWO solutions.

Sherbrooke Record employees and their families are not eligible for the prize money.

Study the clues carefully before you write down your answers. There is always one answer which is the best. The decision of the judges in the contest will be final and all contestants taking part agree to abide by the decision.

IMPORTANT — To be acceptable all entries must be clipped along the dotted line. This is important.

EXPLANATION OF MORE DIFFICULT CLUES

ACROSS:

6. PAST is the more comprehensive answer, since anything he told you about his POST would merely be drawn from his PAST.
7. FRANCE is "part" of Europe, and is not expressed as an "association". FRANCS suits the word "associated" best. FRANCO is too vague.
9. COAL is preferred, on the word "winter". Many a type of COAT could also apply if "summer" were stipulated.
10. DRINK is satisfactory, for surely it is a question of FALLING OVER the BRINK rather than merely failing to keep away from it that has had tragic consequences.
12. CAB is a sound answer. Even an inexperienced man is unlikely to have much trouble with a CUB.
14. MAN is best for if it were FAN the word "himself" would be improperly used since fight FANS are of both sexes.
19. FALL fits the clue better where mountaineering is concerned. FAIL applies to many fields of activity.
23. TOY is best since it applies to the fathers of both BOYS AND GIRLS. Why single out "BOY" rather than "child"?

DOWN:

1. True of efficiently run OFFICES. We are not told what type of OFFICER and the work of many an OFFICER is far from routine.
4. True of SCORE, which may well be publicised. A front-rank sportsman such as a golf expert, if he felt SCORN for a novice, would surely not show it.
5. She will PICK the dresses she is going to take, but often somebody else may PACK them for her.
14. DECAY is best since we refer to scientific methods. It may be possible by scientific methods to eliminate DECAY, but surely all we can hope for is to minimise DELAY.
17. True of SNUB; but an overstatement for SNOB, who may be reasonably popular with other SNOBS.
20. LOCK is best since the clue says "expects". One "expects" a LOCK to be more or less reliable. With LUCK, it is more a question of HOPE than expectation.

The Canso Causeway

This year will see the completion of the new Canso Causeway stretching towards Cape Breton with its wealth of coal and its steel industry. Trains and cars which now take an hour to cross the Strait by ferry will travel the road in a few minutes. The aggregate time saving will be no small one over the years.

Thus an important national link will have been constructed. Island hands will find those of the mainlanders closer to their grip.

Steel and coal, lumber, farm products, fish will make better connections and will get to their markets sooner. The sportsmen and tourists who flock to the picturesque Bras d'Or lakes, teeming with salmon and trout, will appreciate the narrowing of the time-lag and the wonder of the Causeway itself will be an attraction. Into the broad roadway will go nine million tons of mountain rock distributed over almost a mile and-a-half of water.

The Causeway has long been a dream of Cape Bretoners. Its $23,000,000-cost will represent money well spent. It will not be a towering edifice of pride such as the pyramids which have looked down for centuries upon the Plains of Gizeh but it will serve a far more useful purpose. It will be a welcome addition to a Canada whose coasts need to be brought closer in more senses than one.

Thirteen

Henry Moran, miner, lived with his family at No. 13, White Leas Avenue, North Wingfield, Derbyshire. Now the street number is IIA. Mr. Moran has the same house; the local council made the numeric change at his request.

In a single year of living at No. 13 the Morans had plenty of bad luck. Father Moran was injured in a pit accident. His wife gave birth to a crippled baby. The three older children had accidents or illness. Thus the sinister numeral has another grave charge to face.

The origin of the idea that misfortune attends 13 is hard to trace. Some believe it started because there were 13 at the Last Supper. Others hold it derived from the fact that behind 13 on the ancient astrological charts stood the Figure of Death.

So far as the United States is concerned the belief has been flouted often. There were the 13 original states and 13 signatures on the Declaration of Independence. The flag has 13 stripes representing the founding states and there are 13 stars, for the same reason, on an American coin.

The Moran luck, to get back to our story, will probably change as the tides change and the cards change and because the family believe it will. No superstitious persons should be identified with 13 if they can help it. Their own feelings can open a door through which harm may come.

That is why railways, hotels, office buildings and others usually steer clear of the number with which the public mind invests a trail of woe.

Break an old mirror for the fun of it; spill salt a dozen times; parade around the house with an open umbrella; walk under every ladder you can find, after cocking a wary eye aloft, and begin your new enterprises on a Friday — you can do all of these things if you are firm in your belief that the superstitions are "all nonsense." But unless you are, beware!

There is a rational explanation for practically all superstitions. For instance, the mirror-breaking dread comes from the old, savage idea that something of the spirit enters into the reflection. The Friday bugbear is fairly recent and its origin is religious, with Friday as the fast, or holy, day. The ladder tabu is the easiest to explain of all, as anyone knows who has got paint on his clothes or heard a falling hammer land within a few feet. And so it goes.

An Understanding Judge

Examples of what a merciful judge and the Salvation Army can do when working together have been furnished by the cases of Fernando Belisle and Philippe Coutanche in Montreal. The story is told by John Benet in The Gazette.

Both men, desperate and seeking shelter but otherwise unconnected, committed small-store robberies earlier this year.

Judge Gerald Almond asked Major Alex MacMillan of the Salvation Army, to investigate the background of the two. It was found that Belisle, 36, was alone. His wife had died in child-birth and, out of the army, he could not find a job. One day, after being refused a bed by police in a district station, he robbed a poultry shop; took a taxi back to the station, told them what he had done and said: "Now you'll have to keep me."

Coutanche, 62, suffering from arthritis, had slept for three winter nights in a restaurant. Then he robbed a small store and later gave himself up.

Belisle now has an excellent job and Coutanche is doing light work for the Army. The reports on both are glowing and the judge has again postponed sentence. "They are apparently on the road to rehabilitation," he said in court the other day, "and I must thank the Army and commend the accused."

These desperate men found understanding.

It is not suggested that every judge should coddle every prisoner convicted of a crime. Society and property must be protected. But there is many a man who comes before the courts who is not an habitual or a natural criminal. He may not have been blessed by luck or health including an adequate glandular development.

With study, understanding and effort, such a man may be put upon the right road.

Compulsory Voting

The Commonwealth of Australia, whose electorate went to the polls late last week, has compulsory voting. It would be unfortunate if Canada were to follow this example.

There are many who believe that compulsion in a democracy should be limited as much as possible to the essentials: observance of the laws and payment of taxes.

The vote constitutes a right and a privilege. What possible good can it do to compel the polling-booth attendance of those who are not sufficiently appreciative of the privilege or interested enough to cast a ballot on their own?

Disinterest in politics, it follows naturally, is synonymous with ignorance of politics for knowledge can come only in the wake of interest.

Why leave it to the disinterested and the ignorant, at least along political lines, to decide the government of a country? This is exactly what compulsory voting does. It makes the path easier for the demagogue — a path that is easy enough already.

Educative work to arouse greater public interest in public affairs is the need — not compulsory voting.

CLOSED THE CASE
The Rotarian Magazine

Six young housewives in a certain block of flats in an English town fell into a dispute which, by reason of the disturbance it caused, resulted in the half dozen of them being haled into court. When the case was called, they all made a concerted rush for the bench and broke into bitter complaints at the same moment. The magistrate sat momentarily stunned and then rapped for order. When quiet had been restored, he said calmly. "Now I'll hear the oldest woman first." That closed the case.

PEANUTS, BROTHERS!

Sixty millions for a subway — and more subways to follow.

Fifty millions for an expressway (part from the province).

Seventy-five millions for a new city hall — the latest proposal.

It's getting to be considered positively vulgar in Toronto to mention less than $50,000,000 for a public improvement.

United States capital, of course, will be available for whatever is undertaken. And Canadian dollars will also have to be available to pay back the loans with interest; chiefly Toronto dollars.

The City Council's adoption of Plan No. 1 which would provide Queen Street with two paved roadways, to be separated by a grass plot in the middle, has been protested by Henry Vielleux, who claims he represents the feelings of many residents of the street. Mr. Vielleux favors Plan No. 2, which calls for a single roadway only, as being "more convenient for the public in general."

What Other Papers Say

TWO SENTENCES
St. Thomas Times-Journal

The symbolic figure of Justice is depicted blind to indicate that she weighs her scales impartially, but sometimes it appears as if her scales are a bit out of balance. We go down to a county court in Virginia for an illustration.

A man was found guilty of stealing cigars and cigarets to the value of $10, and also on two counts of attempted breaking-in. On the theft charge he was sentenced to 10 years penal servitude, and nine years concurrent on the other charges.

In the same court the same week the driver of a car was found guilty of reckless driving and of driving while under the influence of liquor. He killed a woman and an eight-year-old girl. On the reckless charge he was sentenced to 10 days, and on the charge of driving while drunk he got six months.

No doubt the man who stole the tobacco had a bad record, but looking at the two cases from the point of view of plain justice, we strongly feel that the sentences should have been reversed.

Life's Trials Are Portrayed In City Block

By HAL BOYLE

Kansas City. —(AP)— Anybody who goes back and sits on the front porch of his boyhood will find he really hasn't learned much about life that he couldn't have found out if he had never strayed from that porch.

Any ordinary city block will reflect all the joys and sadness, the defeats and victories, that a man will encounter if he travels the world.

The other night I sat all alone under a bright moon on the steps of an old white house my father, now dead, bought 33 years ago. I looked up and down the silent, average middle-class street, which in only a single generation has seen power of passion, for good and bad.

Many sins had been committed by the people who dwelt there, yet in the 33 years I have known this block there were always—and still are—homes where Jesus Christ could come and feel that, after 2,000 years, he was not forgotten.

Just sitting there in the moonlight, looking up and down the street, I could see:

The house where an old lady, bowed with the woes that come to a woman when her children go wrong, met death bravely and graciously.

The house where husband and wife, locked in an indomitable marital duel, never spoke to one another.

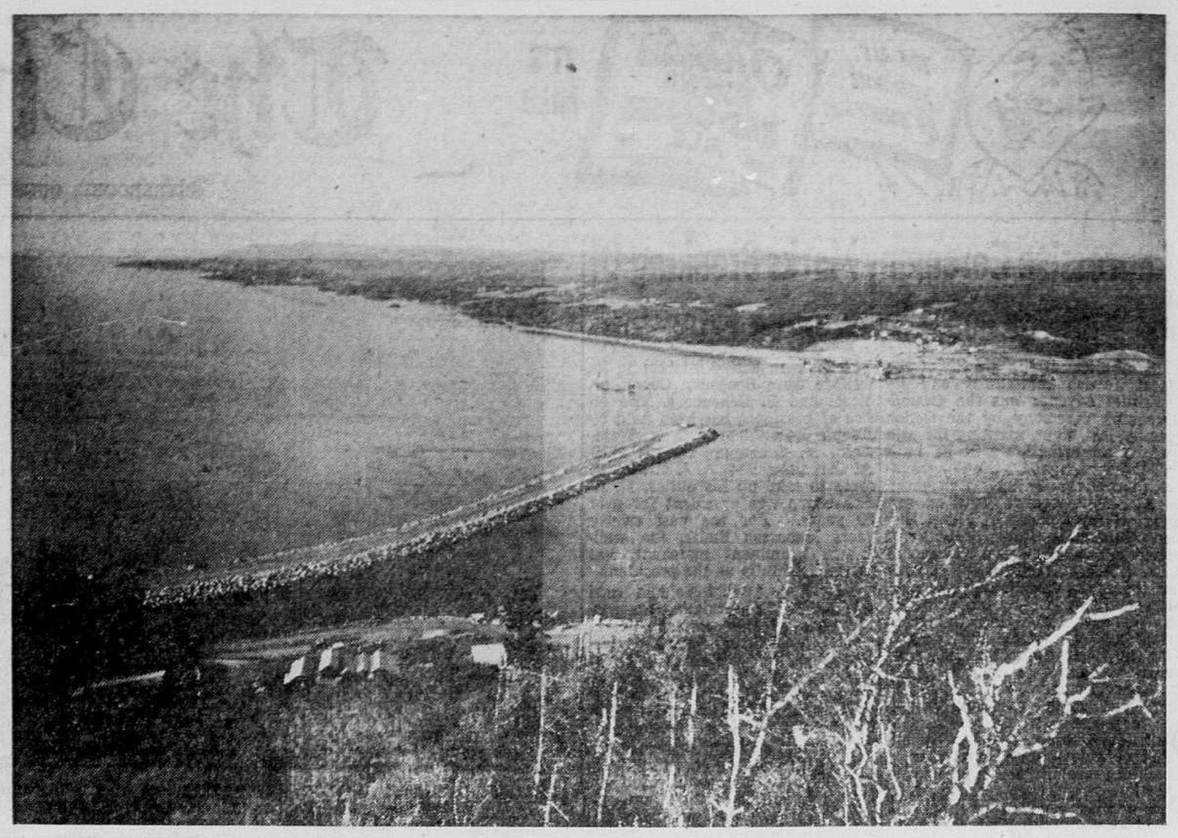

The house where lived the first bright friend of my youth, who coughed out his young life all alone on a farm before he probably even could spell tuberculosis.

The house to which the drunken mother used to weave back late at night to the little girl she had left unguarded . . . The house of the little boy who coasted down the hill on a sled and ran under a street car.

I could recall well the sins and gossip of the elders from the time of my childhood. But of all the scores of children who had played on that brief stretch of pavement, I could remember none who was a juvenile delinquent or ever had been sent to jail.

When I mentioned this to my mother she said:

"Wouldn't it really be a terrible world if people weren't getting better?"

$23,000,000 CAUSEWAY — This scene, from the hills near Mulgrave on Nova Scotia's eastern mainland, shows the new Casino causeway stretching toward Cape Breton Island. The $23,000,000 causeway, when completed this year, will improve transportation between the mainland and Cape Breton's coal and steel area. Cars and trains, which now take an hour to cross the Strait of Canso by ferry, will be able to move across the 7,000-foot causeway in a few minutes. More than 9,000,000 tons of rock, blasted from Porcupine Mountain near Mulgrave, will have gone into the causeway by the time it is finished. A navigation lock on the Capre Breton side will allow passage for ships.

REVENGE

McClure Syndicate — WNU Features.

Jim was dead. She had planned it very carefully and Mary smiled inwardly as the police sergeant directed the dragging of the river. They would find him shortly. They had to. But there was no way the police would know she had killed him. He had been doped and dragged into the car. No one saw her. At the edge of the cliff she had slit a hole in a tire that blew to bits.

The sergeant came towards her. "Mrs. Smith," he said. "We've dragged every inch of the river in this area. Are you sure he was in the car when it plunged into the river?"

"Positive," she looked up, her eyes tear-dimmed. "How could I be mistaken over something like that?"

"Well—I dunno. We've got the car, you know, and he's nowhere near."

"A door must have come open and let him fall out when he hit the water."

"Could be. But I'm thinking that he might have jumped out of the car when he saw it was going over the bank."

Could that have happened? No! She knew Jim was out cold when that car went over the bank.

"It's getting late, Mrs. Smith. You need some rest. "I'l get in touch with you as soon as I find the body—if I find it." The sergeant ended on a note of uncertainty.

She was bitter as she left the scene. Where was Jim's body? The insurance company would hold up payment until the body was found. And she was sure he would be found in the car just he had been left—under the wheel where she had pulled him as she jumped out.

But he couldn't be alive. Would the water have any effect on bringing him out of his stupor?

Sleep — that was what she needed. Once she arrived at the large house that had been hers and Jim's she went immediately to the bedroom and fell across the bed. She was aware of a slight peal of thunder in the distance as she lost consciousness.

The roar of the storm brought her out of her slumber with a start. But above the roar of the storm she thought she heard another noise. The front door? Had she forgotten to lock it? Jim! No, she was only scared.

There — there it was again.

Somebody or something was coming up the stairs! She heard the steps above the crashing of the wind and rain.

Somebody or something was coming up the stairs! She heard the steps above the crashing of the wind and rain. It had to be Jim! He wasn't dead! He was coming for revenge!

She tried to scream. She only uttered a hoarse cry. The steps stopped at her door! Then slowly it began to open. The lightning outlined a man's head.

"Jim! Jim! I didn't do it! It was an accident!" she wailed.

The man just stood.

"All right, Jim—I did it!" She suddenly broke down. "But don't kill me. You're all right now. You'll live. Don't hurt me, Jim. I love you. Don't do it. We'll go away together. I'll forget about the insurance. Honest, I will. Listen to me, Jim. Please say something. Tell me you will. Don't just stand there! Jim! Jim!"

"Where's the light switch, Mrs. Smith?" The sergeant's voice was loud and clear.

"You!" Mary was bewildered. "But—but why—?"

"I've been trying to call you for the past several minutes. But the storm has downed all the telephone lines. Since there was no other way of getting the message to you about our finding your husband's body, I decided to bring it to you in person. The door downstairs was unlocked and the bell didn't ring loud enough to bring you out of that slumber so I took the liberty of coming on up. Good that I did."

"Funny how things work out, isn't it, Mrs. Smith? Had I not come up here I would never have suspected murder. One's conscience has a queer way of acting sometimes, doesn't it?"

NATO Exercises This Summer To Show New Subs

Portsmouth, Eng. — Reuters. — When the main North Atlantic Treaty Organization naval exercises take place this summer, the Royal Navy will show a new sting in anti-submarine operations.

In the Mediterranean will be Britain's first squadron of helicopters fitted with "dipping asdic," a locating device which they can dangle in the sea and direct attacks on the hidden enemy.

Over home waters will be the first Fairey Gannets, the navy's three-seater anti-submarine aircraft. These planes carry under their wings devices known as "sonobuoys" which can be dropped into the sea to pass radio signals back to the plane giving a fix on a sub merged submarine.

The Fairey Gannets will be the chief submarine-hunters in British waters. They are the first naval aircraft designed solely for anti-submarine work and will eventually replace American-built Avenger aircraft.

The Gannet is a mid-wing monoplane and has a retractable tricycle landing-gear. It carries not only sonobuoys for underwater detection of submarines, but also radar for surface detection.

FIND FATAL FLAW IN BRIDGE BID

The bidding of today's hand was quite reasonable, but there was a fatal flaw in the play. South's opening bid of one no-trump showed balanced distribution and 16 to 18 points. North's raise to two no-trump showed balanced distribution with about 8 or 9 points. South was correct in going on to game even though he thereby reached a game contract with only 25 points in the combined hands.

West opened the five of hearts, and declarer won in dummy with the queen in order to start the clubs. The queen of clubs forced out West's ace, and West led another heart.

South won the second heart with the king and had to get to dummy to lead clubs again. When South led a diamond to dummy's king, East properly refused to win the trick. Declarer led another club and was allowed to win the trick with his jack. A third round of clubs forced out East's king, and East returned a heart, knocking out declarer's last heart stopper.

At this stage, declarer had two good clubs in the dummy, but he had no convenient way to get there. He hopefully led the jack of diamonds but East properly refused the trick again. Rather naively, South next led the queen of spades, but East refused that trick also.

South was now limited to eight tricks; two spades, three hearts, two diamonds, and one club.

As I have indicated, it was foolish of South to lead the queen of spades. The hand was hopeless if West held the king of spades, for West would be glad to take the spade trick and cash his remaining hearts. The situation was hopeless for the same reason if West had the ace of diamonds.

Since the hand could be made only if East had both the ace of diamonds and the king of spades, South should have continued with a third round of diamonds instead of leading the queen of spades. East could take his ace of diamonds, but he would then have to lead away from the king of spades, and dummy's jack of spades would then provide a sure entry.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
			1 Dmd.
Double	Pass	1 Heart	Pass
1 Spade	Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades 7-6, Hearts K-J-6-3, Diamonds K-J-5, Clubs Q-9-4-2. What do you do?

A—Bid one no-trump. This bid shows at least one stopper in the enemy's suit, with about 7 to 10 points. This is about as strong a hand as you could have for this re bid.

TODAY'S QUESTION

With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Diamond	Double	?

You, South, hold Spades 9-7-4, Hearts 8-6-3-2, Diamond 5, Clubs 7-6-4-3-2. What do you do?

CHEMICAL WARFARE

The application of chemical warfare really commenced before recorded history, by use of fire and smoke to overcome an opponent, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The best place to regain the road when your right front wheels run off the edge into a soft shoulder is at a point where the road and shoulder are at approximately the same level.

First port of France was the ancient Norman capital of Rouen, on the Seine River about 30 miles inland from the coast.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

ACCIDENT VICTIM: Findlay Robert Wood, account executive of the MacLean Advertising, passed away following an automobile accident. Mr. Wood was well-known in Montreal and throughout the Eastern Townships and served in the Second World War with the rank of flying officer. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Wood, of Lake Megantic, and the husband of the former Helen Murchie, of Sherbrooke.

Provincial Tax Policies Flayed By Liberal Head

Over 800 partisans of the Provincial Liberal Party turned out at the New Sherbrooke Hotel on Saturday night to hear the Quebec Liberal Opposition leader, Georges Lapalme, speak on the new Provincial income tax.

Mr. Lapalme charged that the rate of the Provincial income tax will range from 15 to 200 per cent of the federal income levy in cases where revenue s derived from dividend payments. He said, "We were partly wrong when we said it would amount to 50 per cent of the federal levy, instead, it may amount to 200 per cent."

He told the Sherbrooke Liberal Association this situation existed despite assurances by Premier Duplessis that the Quebec levy would not exceed 15 per cent of the federal tax. Mr. Lapalme also recalled that when notice was first given of the income tax bill in the Legislature Premier Duplessis also promised that there would be a $400 deduction per child.

"In effect, the $400 deduction per child is inapplicable because of the federal family allowances," he said. Neither of these promises had been redeemed, according to Mr. Lapalme.

He went on to say that the federal act provides for a 20 per cent tax credit on dividends distributed by Canadian corporations. The purpose of this credit was to avoid double taxation arising from the fact that before dividends were distributed, corporations paid taxes on profits so that the amount available for dividend payments was reduced in proportion.

No such deduction exists in the provincial act, he said, although its importance was pointed out in the legislature by members of the Opposition. A result of this practice is that Quebec taxpayers who derive their revenue from dividends will pay a provincial income tax levy ranging from 15 to 200 per cent of the federal levy.

"In the circumstances we have a right to ask how serious a study has been made of the act by those who spoke of its deductability."

Mr. Lapalme was presented by Dr. Gerard Noel, Member for Frontenac and was thanked by Bernard Pinard, Member for Drummond. Mayor Emile Levesque welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Lapalme to Sherbrooke in a short address. Donat Jacques, president of the Liberal Association of Sherbrooke, presided over the banquet and Senator C. B. Howard, Dr. Gerard Lemieux, member for Wolfe, and Emilien Lafrance, member for Richmond, all gave short addresses.

Boundary Guild Sunshine Tea Well Attended

Rock Island, May 31.—Yellow daffodils formed the decorations in parish hall for the Sunshine tea of Christ Church Guild in Stanstead on Friday afternoon, May 14, which was attended by a good number of members and friends, all of whom enjoyed the salad tea.

The guests were received by Mrs. Albert Young. Mrs. F. W. Mitchell presided at the lace covered tea table, which was centered with daffodils, flanked by white tapers in crystal holders.

The dining room was in charge of Mrs. Clarence Hill and Mrs. George Millet, while the kitchen was in charge of Mrs. James Williamson and Mrs. George Morrison, these committees being ably assisted by other members of the Guild.

A few fancywork articles which were on hand found a ready sale. The proceeds of the event were very satisfactory.

BORDER CHRISTMAS CLUB

The Border Christmas Club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. W. F. Campbell in West Park the evening of May 18, with ten members attending.

Five Hundred was played at two tables, the prize winners being Mrs. Victor Federico and Mrs. Clarence Lyons.

Later refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Campbell, assisted by Mrs. Federico. A beautifully decorated birthday cake was presented to Mrs. Ida Haselton, along with the best wishes of her friends for a happy anniversary.

BROWNIE SCOUT NEWS

On Friday, May 21, the following Brownie Scouts: Lana Cross, Beatrice Aldrich, Jackie Laythe, Mary Colbeth, Diana MacLean, Wendy Rice, Paula Bedard and Bonnie Brown gave a fine demonstration of square dancing, representing the Derby Line school at the dance festival, presented by different schools of Vermont, in conjunction with the fifth annual tulip festival in Hardwick, Vt.

Other Brownies from Derby Line attending were Marguerite MacLean, Nancy Kelley, Veronica Roy, Patty George, Cheryl Cross, Mary Lalime, and Pamela Bedard.

The young ladies were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Alfred Aldrich and Mrs. C. R. MacLean. The weather was very disagreeable with rain most of the time. Because of this the children were disappointed in the planned outdoor picnic. The noon lunch was eaten in a shed near Hardwick and the supper lunch on the porch of an empty house at Craftsbury. Nevertheless all enjoyed the festival itself.

General Notes

Mrs. Elsie Young, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Young, Mr. Baxter Young, Mr. and Mrs. John Stuart, all of Rock Island, accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Salls, of Beebe, and Mr. and Mrs. John McKelvey, of Longueil, were in Montreal on Friday, May 21, to attend the graduation of Miss Donna Young, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Young and sister of Baxter and Floyd, as a nurse from the Catherine Booth Maternity Hospital. Miss Young is to be congratulated on ranking second in a class of twenty-one students. Miss Young, Mr. and Mrs. McKelvey returned to Rock Island with the Youngs, where they remained for the week-end. Miss Young will remain at the hospital for the present, where she will be on staff for the next four months.

Friends of Mrs. Celia Crawford, who resides at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crawford in Rock Island, regret to learn she received a bad fall on May 21 and is confined to her bed. Mrs. Crawford, a semi-invalid suffered several bruises. On Saturday she was visited by her sister, Mrs. Hollis Smith, of Bulwer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Campbell, of West Park, spent the week-end with relatives in Scotstown.

Miss Lois Chamberlain, a former telephone operator at the Rock Island exchange, who has been transferred to Ayer's Cliff, spent the holiday week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chamberlain, West Park.

Mrs. W. E. Wilson, of Sherbrooke, spent the holiday week-end with her mother, Mrs. C. S. Clark, Rock Island, while Mr. Wilson and a friend from Sherbrooke spent the holiday with Mr. Clark at his cottage at Lake Massawippi.

Miss Joyce Hatch, of Rock Island, spent the holiday week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hatch, Tomifobia.

Miss Marilyn Taylor and her room mate, Miss Glenna Sanders, of Schenectady, N.Y., student at Vermont Junior College, spent the week-end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hatch, Tomifobia.

Mr. Arthur Gosselin and Miss Doris Hatch, of Tomifobia, were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Hatch at "The Granites," Lake Massawippi.

Mr. Leonard Barlow, of Richmond, Mr. Wallace Barlow and daughter, Sylvia, of Sherbrooke, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Barlow, in Rock Island, on Monday, May 24.

Occasion was the opening of new buildings of Britain's Radiochemical Center, where atomic products are prepared for peaceful uses.

Local Hospital Tag Days Will Adopt New Look

The Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary tag day, under the convenership of Mrs. Don Howard, has a new look this year. Instead of the Auxiliary square pastboard tag, a new design is being used—that of an attractive yellow gollywog. In addition to the tags, woollen gollywogs will also be sold at 25 cents each. These gollywogs have been made by Auxiliary members and their friends.

Another innovation this year is that the tags have been tied and grouped together by the patients on the second floor of the Sherbrooke Hospital. This has provided occupational therapy for the patients as well as publicity for the tag day. Special mention must go to Paul Ferland, George Popoff and Joseph Rondeau, who among themselves tied and grouped approximately 2,000 tags.

Much hard work and enthusiasm have gone into the preparation for the tag dag and the Auxiliary expects a great success. It is hoped that in time the yellow gollywogs will become the symbol of this tag dag, which will be held this Friday.

Free Scotch-Lite For Kids' Bicycles

The safe driving committee of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club, under the chairmanship of Charlie Parkins, will put scotch-lite tape on children's bikes, free of charge, on Wednesday night at 6 p.m. at the Parade Grounds.

All children owning bikes are urged to be there. In case of rain, the event will be held on Thursday. This scotch-lite is a red luminous tape which shines brightly when car headlights are deflected on it. This is one of the precautionary measures taken by this committee to help keep the mortality rate low.

Norfolk, Neb. — AP — Tornadoes cut a swath across northern Nebraska Sunday night, killing four children and injuring at least 18 other persons.

This list of dead was revised downward this morning when hospital attendants accounted for all members of the Ben Kohl family. Earlier it had been reported that four Kohl children were killed and two children and the parents injured.

All the deaths and injuries were in an area about two miles wide and four miles long southeast of here. Torential rains made side roads impassable and highways were reported blocked in three places.

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya — (Reuters)—Gen. Sir Gerald Templer, two-fisted British high commissioner for Malaya, drove through cheering crowds to the airport today to leave Malaya after 27 months of leading the battle against Communist terrorists.

Templer flew to nearby Singapore to spend two days before flying to Britain and his new post as commander of the British army of the Rhine.

In a farewell broadcast Sunday night, the architect of Malaya's successful "get tough" policy with the Communists called for still more toughness.

Montreal — CP — The last of five men who recently escaped from the immigration department's detention centre here was recaptured Saturday night in down-town Montreal.

Police reported Loo Quon, a 22-year-old Chinese, was taken into custody.

The men sawed window bars and fled from their cells two weeks ago. They were being held for deportation hearings.

Three were recaptured the same day, and the fourth, Tulsi Vembu, a former University of Toronto student, was picked up in Toronto last week.

Two had overstayed their Canadian visiting permits, two were ship deserters and one a stowaway.

STANBRIDGE STATION—

Mr. James Piche and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Piche, Sr., spent the holiday week-end on a motor trip to Toronto.

Mrs. Edna Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney McElroy and Miss Irene McElroy were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McElroy.

Mrs. Sadie Veysey spent a week-end with her sister, Mrs. Mabel Gough, in Bedford.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Veysey and family, of Greenfield Park, spent a week-end with the former's mother, Mrs. Sadie Veysey.

Mrs. M. G. Thornton, of Stanbridge East, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McElroy on the occasion of the fourth birthday of her granddaughter, Virginia Thornton, May 26.

Lennoxville Is Recovering From Friday's Blast

Lennoxville is rapidly recovering from the fire and explosion which rocked the town Friday evening injured nine persons and destroyed the Lennoxville Press, gutted several apartments in the Nichol Block, the Royal Bank of Canada and blasted windows for several hundred feet.

Workmen have been on the job day and night since Saturday morning and the Royal Bank is open for business as usual with temporary lighting, roof and fixtures.

First customer at the Bank when it opened at 10 a.m. was Mr. P. F. Theobold of Lennoxville. Mr. J. Coulter, of Montreal is in charge of operations in the absence of R. H. Spry who is in Montreal with his daughter injured by flying glass when the explosion struck.

John Nichol and Sons expect to be open for business Wednesday but groceries are available on a "serve yourself" system. The complete cold storage unit was destroyed by fire but temporary measures are being adopted until the unit can be replaced.

Private residents are busy replacing glass windows and sweeping glass splinters from their floors, doors are being put back upon the hinges and this week will no doubt be the second "clean-up week for Lennoxvillites in one month.

Lennoxville Parish Guild Meeting Held

A regular meeting of the St. George's Parish Guild was held May 26 in the United Church Hall, Lennoxville.

Final arrangements were made for the June tea to be held Wednesday, June 2. All conveners seemed satisfied with tables and aprons have already been made.

On the novelty table there will be an assortment of dolls clothes, children's dresses and sun suits, sewing bags, shopping bags and knitted articles. There will also be a fish pond for the children. Highlight of the sale will be a home cooked food tabe.

A bridge party is to be held in the fall on September 29.

Meeting was closed for the summer months by Mrs. White.

Accidents Over Week-End Result In Four Injured

Alcide Fredette of Windsor Mills was taken to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital at approximately 10.30 o'clock Saturday night after his car went out of control, rammed the car ahead and swerved off the Brompton Road.

Gilles Turgeon, of Brompton-ville, driver of the car ahead, said he was going toward Brompton-ville just outside the Sherbrooke City Limits when Fredette's car careemed into the back of his '48 Ford, severely damaging the rear end. Both cars left the road and Turgeon was thrown clear and received no injuries.

Assisted by a passing motorist Turgeon had difficulty removing the unconsious Fredette from his car as all the doors were locked. He suffered facial lacerations.

Provincial Police officer Maurice Lecours is investigating the accident.

There were also three other minor accidents over the week-end, all on Sunday. Jean Marie Bergeron, age 7, of 196 Galt West, was taken to Hotel Dieu Hospital on Sunday afternoon when he was thrown by a car opposite Dufresne Park at 2.15. He received multiple lacerations to the forehead.

Robert Lebel, age 3, of 2303 Verdun Street in Sherbrooke, was injured while playing around a moving car. He was taken to hospital by his father, Joseph Lebel. He received minor injuries.

A young motorcyclist lost control of his vehicle on Sunday morning at 11.30 near Lennoxville and received cuts to the head and limbs. He was Jean Marie Cote, 17, of 3049 King Street west. He was taken to Hotel Dieu hospital.

Heavy Damage To King Street West Apartment Block

Fire broke out in the cellar of a three-apartment house belonging to Laurent Gregoire yesterday afternoon at about 1.15 p.m. causing nearly two thousand dollars worth of damage, and firemen under the direction of Fire Chief Percy Donahue had to use oxygen breathing apparatus to quench the flames.

The building, comprising a grocery store and apartment rented by S. Lacerte and two dwellings of E. Labonte, and Mrs. Demartel is situated at 2414 to 2418 King Street West and the alarm was turned in by Gerard Gregoire who lives across the street.

At the time of the fire no one was in the building and firemen had to use Chemox Oxygen equipment to locate the blaze. Lieutenant Gerard Roy using the apparatus, was able to reach the cellar door on the ground floor and extinguish the flames with fog applicators.

Definite origin of the fire is not known but it is probable that it started in a wood box in the cellar.

In another speech Sunday Premier Duplessis told the annual meeting of local alumni of Christian Brothers' schools that Three Rivers plays a vital role in protecting provincial and national rights.

WILFRED FORTIER

Carr, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cambron, Gerard Choquette, Mrs. Francois Marechal and Roland Marechal; his stepmother, Mrs. Stanislas Fortier; a step-sister, Mrs. Euclide DeCoste, and a step-brother, Marc-Andre Fortier.

For many years, Mr. Fortier was engaged in the grocery and meat business, operating the S. & W. Fortier Limited store.

He was a great fishing and sports enthusiast and was a member of the Little Lake Fishing Club.

The funeral will take place Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the St. Jean Baptiste Church.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Dr. Ellis, Dr. Bitenc, the nurses and aides on the second floor of the Sherbrooke Hospital, and to all who sent flowers, cards, and gifts, and also to those who visited me.

Eleven Veterans Remember Old War

Montreal —(CP)— Eleven veterans of an almost forgotten war, marched proudly along busy St. Catharine Street Saturday and none of the bystanders snickered.

There was no band, no cheering, only the plaintive wail of a single bagpipe over hushed office buildings at a brief memorial service on Dominion Square.

As The Lament filled the air, the 11 men bowed their heads for their comrades who died in the South African war.

The occasion was the anniversary signing of the peace of Vereeniging in 1902, the treaty that brought the three-year Boer conflict to an end.

The parade was considerably smaller than in the earlier years of the century when larger and spryer groups marched to the Lord Strathcona Horse monument in the downtown park.

The old soldiers have never missed the annual event and can look back through the years to the contingent of rollicking youngsters who left Canada for adventure and the Empire.

A prayer of thanksgiving was read, a bugler sounded Last Post, and then the 11 old men marched off.

You can't go "ALL-OUT" IF you feel "ALL-IN"

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. 53

Feeling headachy and miserable because you need a medicinal regulator?

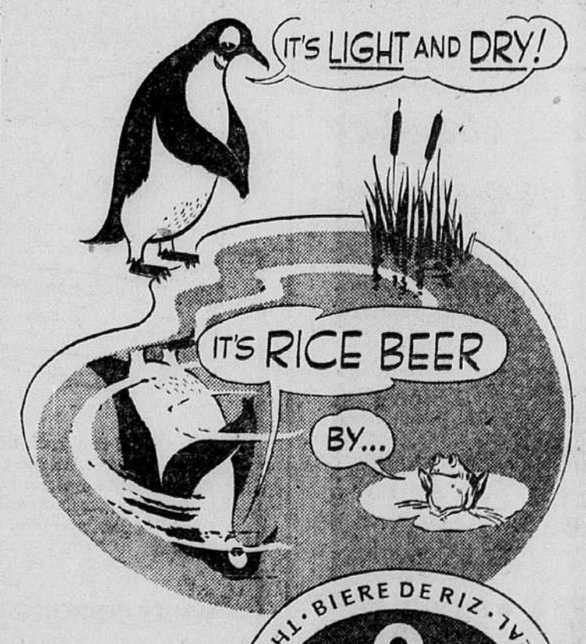

DO AS MILLIONS DO!
Chew FEEN-A-MINT

• Why not ask your druggist today for FEEN-A-MINT — a modern regulator in chewing form? It's pleasant to take...it's dependable—and thorough. Yet FEEN-A-MINT is gentle in its action — gentle enough for little children. FEEN-A-MINT has a candy-coating — refreshingly flavoured with mint. You'll never have to coax your children to take FEEN-A-MINT. You'll never have to force yourself to swallow ill-tasting potions. You'll discover as millions of other people have — that FEEN-A-MINT is safe — effective — and pleasant to chew. FEEN-A-MINT is as handy as your nearest druggist.

So — next time you know you need a medicinal regulator — try FEEN-A-MINT.

Do as your friends and neighbours do — as millions do...chew FEEN-A-MINT — and feel fine again!

FEEN-A-MINT
FAMOUS CHEWING LAXATIVE

It's a brand new flavour...a delicate, sparkling brew that leaves a fresh, clean taste on the tongue!

Many Activities Reported At Meeting Of Richmond Legion Ladies' Auxiliary

Richmond, May 31.—The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion Branch No. 15, B.E.S.L., was held in the Legion Hall Thursday evening, May 20, with the president, Comrade (Mrs.) Ivy Fuller in the chair.

The meeting opened with the ritual of advancing the colors under the charge of Sergeant-at-arms, Comrade Dorothy Sage, with the assistance of Comrades Lillie Clark and Beatrice Blanchette and the singing of "O Canada" with Comrade (Mrs.) Annie Crook as pianist.

A minute of silence was observed in memory of our late Comrade (Mrs.) Mary Hanson, a loyal and faithful member of the Auxiliary who will be greatly missed. The roll call of officers was answered, and the register signed.

The secretary, Comrade (Mrs.) Lucinda Galvin, read the Minutes of the previous meeting. The treasurer, Comrade (Mrs.) Eleanor Hills, gave a most gratifying financial report.

Correspondence included letters of appreciation which were read from Mr. P. Hanson and family and Mrs. Stein Taylor, a letter from the Provincial Commissioner's report of the Quebec Council of Girl Guides, and a letter received from Miss I. Murphy, Matron of the Veterans' Hospital, St. Hyacinthe, thanking the Auxiliary for the cigarette tobacco which had been sent to the patients there.

The president voiced her thanks for the splendid cooperation given by the Auxiliary at the Legion Blood Clinic, and to the Ways and Means convener, Comrade (Mrs.) Nancy Pye, and her committee for their splendid efforts in making the sale and tea so successful.

Comrade (Mrs.) Gladys Galbraith, card convener, reported that get-well cards and letters of sympathy had been sent, also flowers to the bereaved.

Comrade (Mrs.) Nancy Pye, convener for Ways and Means, reported that the sum of one hundred and six dollars had been realized from the afternoon tea and sale. A beautiful Dresden quilt is on display in Frank Malick's show window, which will be drawn for at the June meeting. She reminded the members of the rummage sale which will be held in the near future, date to be announced later.

It was with regret that the president announced that one of the Auxiliary members, Mrs. Clarence Fee, had moved to Quebec City. During Mrs. Fee's three-year stay in Richmond she had many friends who extend their best wishes that she will be happy in her new home.

A lovely wool blanket has been purchased and a drawing for same will take place at the Legion Street Fair. Comrade (Mrs.) E. Hills was authorized to buy one hundred books of tickets for this drawing.

Comrade (Mrs.) Lorna Nixon, convener for the Social evenings, reported that more prizes were neeeded and that the evenings had greatly increased in attendance.

Comrade (Mrs.) Eleanor Hills reported the regular monthly supply of tobacco had been sent to the Veterans' Hospital at St. Hyacinthe.

The members were sorry to learn that Comrade (Mrs.) L. Michaud is still a patient in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Sherbrooke.

The hostesses for the June meeting will be Comrades (Mrs.) Margaret Dalton, (Mrs.) Gladys Galbraith, (Mrs.) Leslie Dalton.

The meeting closed with the retiring of the Colors by the Sergeant-at-arms and the singing of "God Save the Queen".

L'HARMONIE INTIME CONCERT

An enthusiastic audience greeted the "L'Harmonie Intime" members when they presented their concert in the music room of Mount St. Patrick Convent Tuesday evening, May 18.

The guests were received by Mrs. Gaston Desmarais, president of the club, Mrs. Marcel Chaput, Mrs. Roger Cameron, Miss Marthe Tremblay. Among the honored guests were Rev. Father Dupuis, Rev. Father Filion, Rev. Father Gauthier, Rev. Father Doyle, Mother St. Jean Baptiste, Superior of the Mount St. Patrick Convent, The Hon. Justice Gaston Desmarais, Mayor H. P. Stone and Mrs. Stone, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Geoffray.

The various numbers were greatly enjoyed by the large gathering.

At the close of the evening, Rev. Father Gauthier, pastor of St. Bibiane Church, gave a brief address, which was quite humorous and much enjoyed by the audience. Mayor H. P. Stone spoke, congratulating the artists of the club on their splendid concert and hoped that there would be many more given by the Harmonie Club.

Following this much enjoyed program the artists and a number of friends were entertained at the home of The Hon. Justice Desmarais and Mrs. Desmarais, Clevemont Avenue.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the concert were, Mrs.

When Potato Blight is here... don't take chances

DEPEND ON DITHANE

Tested—Approved —Accepted by St. John River Valley Growers

Can you afford to risk a year's crop by using an untried fungicide for blight control? Most successful growers say no . . . that's why they're using DITHANE. Many claims are made about fungicidal effectiveness, but only DITHANE offers proof of safe, sure blight control — protection for top growth and vines.

Year after year successful potato growers turn to DITHANE to fight blight because they have seen for themselves, in actual side-by-side tests, how DITHANE keeps fields blight-free and actually increases yields. In grower demonstrations DITHANE-protected fields consistently out-produced crops treated with other materials by an average of 49 bushels per acre, with more No. 1's in every bushel. These facts are important to you because the wrong choice of a fungicide can mean the loss of an entire crop. It's happened before!

With DITHANE in your rig you're sure of adequate protection from blight.

Here are just a few reasons why:

- DITHANE stops blight before it starts — keeps clean fields clean and halts blight in infected fields even though it has attacked the crop.
- On a yield-per-acre basis, DITHANE is an economical fungicide to use. What's more it's easy to use as a dust or spray.
- DITHANE promotes healthy growth — won't burn or stunt vines and foliage. And your equipment is safe because DITHANE will not clog or corrode spray or dusting rigs.

Remember, these are facts . . . not claims, because DITHANE has been "field-proven" as best against blight.

Prove it to yourself. Ask your dealer for DITHANE, as your neighbors have been doing for years. You'll get sure protection for your crop.

There's only one DITHANE. — ROHM & HAAS DITHANE.

Follow These Tips When Buying Roses

Are you going to plant some rose bushes? Keep in mind that the number of roses they will bear is dependent upon the health and strength of the bushes.

A well-known trade magazine offers the following tips to home gardeners on what to look for when buying rose bushes:

ROOT COLOR. A live rose bush should be yellow on the inside, never brown. Yellow roots are healthy roots.

LENGTH OF ROOTS. Properly developed rose bush roots should be from six to 12 inches long.

GRADES. The American Assn. of Nurserymen has a set standard of grades which are generally accepted. No 1 grade for hybrid tea roses (most popular varieties fall in this category) must have three strong canes, 18 inches or longer.

Since most roses are pruned before shipping, you cannot tell this length but a rapid method of calculation is to make sure you get three or four canes at least one half inch in diameter. No. 1½ grade should have two strong canes plus one other cane.

No. 2 plant should have one strong cane plus one other cane. Pruned climbers should have canes at least 24 inches long.

The rhododendron, the most beautiful of the flowering evergreens, is an easy plant to grow, but is peculiar in many respects and therefore cannot be treated exactly as most other shrubs.

All rhododendrons are characterized by their dislike for hot scorching sunshine and their need for protection against heavy winds.

Ideal soil should contain much fibrous matter such as peat moss.

Make sure you know what you are looking for before buying any roses.

Heavy soil can be further improved by adding sandy gravel, and in every instance drainage must be good since rhododendrons will not tolerate "wet feet."

Best planting time for rhododendrons varies according to location. However, with care, freshly dug and well balled and burlapped plants may be moved at any time, but only to beds in which the soil has been well prepared.

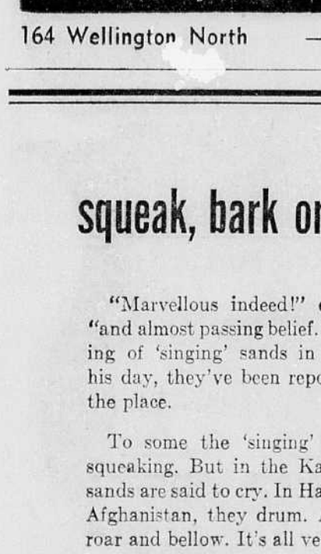

The hole in which you plant should be at least a foot beyond the limits of the root system and the plant firmly set at the same elevation as in the nursery.

The best earth should be placed about the roots and well watered in planting. For protection against drought it is best to maintain a four or five-inch mulch of dried leaves, or a three-inch mulch of peat moss.

Rhododendrons do not require cultivation; merely loosen up the mulch at regular intervals to prevent packing.

squeak, bark or bellow ?

"Marvellous indeed!" cried Marco Polo, "and almost passing belief." Mr. P. was speaking of 'singing' sands in Arabia, but since his day, they've been reported from all over the place.

To some the 'singing' sounds more like squeaking. But in the Kalahari Desert, the sands are said to cry. In Hawaii, they bark. In Afghanistan, they drum. And in Chili, they roar and bellow. It's all very confusing.

One theory says the grains pick up sound and amplify it like a radio. Another claims the sound stems from friction. Whatever it is, you can seal some sands in a bottle and they'll keep their musical property for years.

Maybe we're biased but we think it more constructive to put ale in a bottle than sand. And as this takes special knowledge and skill, it's best left to experts. At Molson's, we've been at it for 168 years so we've a fair idea how it's done.

Molson's Ale can't sing but nobody expects it to anyway. People who habitually say "Make Mine Molson's" can, though. Just listen to them sing the praises of what we put in our bottles! Deprive them of Molson's and they'd cry, roar and bellow louder than the noisiest sands.

SHS Cops Fifth Consecutive Girls' Track Championship

Registers 69 Points To Lead Field; Judy Willard Ties Record In 100-Yard; Linda Pulver Cops Junior Honors

By LARRY MOORE

Sherbrooke High School's girls' track team did it again.

On Saturday they copped their fifth consecutive E. T. championship at the Hi-Y annual Interscholastic Track and Field meet held at the Parade Grounds. S.H.S., coached by Horace Rothfels, scored 69 points and one girl equalled an old mark.

Nearest rival to the local squad was Drummondville who totalled 27 points during the day and Richmond High School with 26½ points. Fourth place East Angus registered fourteen points, ten of which were won by Beulah Francis in the senior events, Bury High School chalked up 5 points, Waterloo 9½ and Lennoxville 6 points.

This year's meet was the ninth annual and S.H.S. has won the team high aggregate for six years, Stanstead twice and Richmond once. Steve Allatt, president of the Hi-Y club presented the team trophy to Marlene O'Leary, captain of the S.H.S. team, who, despite a serious ankle injury refused to leave the field and thus became an important factor in her team's victory.

Three cups were also donated to the girl with high aggregate in three classes. In the seniors, Beulah Francis, of East Anus High School and Judy Willard, of Sherbrooke, tied for honors. Miss Willard won both the 75 and 100 yard dashes, on the latter tying the old record of 11.9 set by Beverly Webster, of Granby, in 1951.

Linda Pulver only placed first in one event, the softball throw, but her consistency in other events won her the junior individual championship. Miss Pulver totalled 11½ points, while Barbara Barker, of S.H.S., placed second with 8 points. Joan Gallup, whose 16 points made her the top point-getting athlete of the meet, won her the midget cup. The Richmond girl placed first in the 25, and 50 yard dashes and the broad jump.

All trophies for the Hi-Y track meet are donations of the Rotary Club. Although the weather was somewhat cloudy and a slight drizzle fell at intervals, parents and friends turned out in large numbers, to watch the 166 entrants, representing 12 schools, compete for these awards.

In the senior broad jump, Lennoxville's Beverly Deacon failed to place. Last year, Miss Deacon set a new record in the junior class with a leap of 14 feet, nine inches. Miss Francis, of East Angus High School, copped this event with a 4 feet 4 inches jump. The senior record is 15 feet 4 inches.

Sherbrooke High School won all three relays. The midget entry ran the 220 in 34 seconds, while Marlene O'Leary carried the "baton" over the finish line after running the last lapse of the junior 440, still limping. The time was 58.4, slightly better than the seniors, who ran it in 59.5 seconds.

Five points was awarded for first place, three for second and one for third.

Wheat Optioned To Ottawa

Philadelphia — (AP) — Philadelphia Athletics Saturday optioned pitcher Lee Wheat to their Ottawa International League farm club and purchased pitcher Allen (Dutch) Romberger, another right-hander, from the same club.

At the same time it was announced that waivers have been asked on pitchers Carl Scheib and Dick Rozek to give them their unconditional release. Scheib spent a month with St. Louis, on approval, and had just been returned to the A's.

Rochester In First Place

If Manager Joe Otero of Havana Sugar Kings could alternate Emilio Cueche and Saul Rogovin in starting roles, his club probably would run away with the International League race.

The veteran Rogovin, whose last tour of duty in the majors was with Chicago White Sox, has won four in a row and Cueche, a first-year man from Venezuela, has won seven against only two losses, including a 4-1 triumph over Richmond Sunday.

The Sugar Kings gave Cueche two runs in the first inning and that was all the little righthander needed. Wimpy Nardella was charged with his first loss of the season after four victories.

Rochester Red Wings took over first place in the close race by handing 8-5 and 5-4 defeats to Buffalo Bisons, who have lost seven of their last nine games. Rookie Joe Cunningham got four hits, including a three-run homer in the first game for the winners. Larry Jackson, another yearling, held the herd to three hits in the nightcap.

The other two doubleheaders ended in splits. Montreal Royals, behind Ken Lehman, who batted in the run, edged Toronto Maple Leafs 1-0 in the first game. The Leafs came back to take the second 11-4 on a barrage against three Royals' pitchers.

Syracuse Chiefs took over Ottawa in the opener 6-2, only to have the Athletics come back and win the second game 8-4. Jack Sanford hurled a five-hitter for the Chiefs, in the first game, but Jack Spring couldn't hold a three-run lead in the afterpiece.

All Walks Of Life Pay Final Tribute To Lionel Conacher, Canada's Top All-Around Athlete, On Saturday

Toronto— (CP) —This city buried one of its famous sons Saturday—the legendary Lionel Conacher, acclaimed just four years ago as Canada's greatest all-round athlete and football player of the half century. It marked the finish of a career that may never be matched in Canadian sports.

The body of the 54-year-old Big Train was lowered in the cemetery at St. John's Anglican Church in suburban York Mills after a simple funeral service during which Canada A. C. McCollom referred to him as "a keen sportsman, a family man and a leader in the affairs of his fellow men."

Nearly 1,000 persons overflowed the flower-banked church and stood in the country-like setting of the church yard. They were from all walks of life—cabinet ministers, members of Parliament, provincial and civic leaders, athletes, sports officials from the Conacher era to the present and sports fans.

There were men who had played with and against the Big Train in the years stretching from the early 20s to the middle 30s when Conacher's athletic prowess was at its scintillating best. There were men and women who knew the 200-pound sportsman - business man-politician only as a symbol of sports greatness.

Many there had heard only of the days when big Lionel rose to athletics heights on Canadian football fields, on National Hockey League rinks; on lacrosse and baseball fields and in the boxing ring. He played on one Grey Cup-winning team, two Stanley Cup champion clubs, a Little World Series winner, city and provincial baseball and lacrosse champions and had picked up eight fractures and more than 600 stitches along the route.

The Conacher legend was brought into focus in 1950 when the country's sports editors and sportscasters in a Canadian Press 50-year poll shot him to the top as the greatest all-round athlete. In the same CP ballot he was judged the outstanding football player of the 50 years.

The honors went to Lionel nearly 13 years after he retired from professional sports and had embarked on a political career.

His death was caused by a heart attack suffered during a charity softball game at Ottawa last Wednesday between MPs and newspapermen. One of the greatest competitors Canadian sport had ever known, he had stretched a double into a triple, collapsed as he hit the bag and was dead within minutes.

Just 14 months ago Saturday Jim Thorpe, another colossus in the world of athletics, died at Los Angeles. Thorpe, voted the outstanding athlete of the United States of the first half of the 20th century in an Associated Press poll in 1950, suffered a heart attack in his home. He also was voted the football player of the half century.

Thus, North America has lost its two all-time great athletes within months. Thorpe's glory years were in the early part of the century, about a decade before Conacher hit his peak.

Doug Bachli, 32-Year-Old Australian Saloonkeeper, Cops British Amateur Crown By Edging Bill Campbell 2-1

Murfield, Scotland— (CP) —Doug Bachli, 32-year-old Australian saloon keeper, won the British amateur golf championship Saturday with a 2-and-1 victory over Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va.

The long-hitting American, favored to win the 36-hole final against the little-known Aussie wasted four strokes in two sand traps with the wrong club to provide the margin.

The stocky, non-smoking teetotaller from Rosebud, Victoria, playing steady golf, overcame one-hole deficits on the 5th, 17th, 19th and 32nd, won the next two holes and halved the 35th to take the title.

The two holes which caused the six-foot-three blonde American the most trouble were the 17th and the 33rd.

Campbell In Bunkers

Campbell, his usual long game gobbling in the stiff breeze over the 6,806-yard links, pounded the ball into fairway bunkers each time. On both holes he decided to go for the distant green with his five iron instead of using a wedge to pitch out safely. The five-iron cost him both holes—and he lost by that margin.

On the 20th hole when Campbell drove into a bog 30 feet off the fairway, nine stewards, three royal and Ancient club officials, two caddies, Campbell and Bachli and at least 30 spectators could not find it.

The five-minute search limit rule was invoked after 15 minutes and Campbell had to return to the tee to hit again after loss of stroke, distance and ball. He lost that hole and left Bachli in front for the first time. Campbell squared later and the lead worked back and fourth until the 33rd.

Was Aussie Champion

Bachli, former Australian amateur champion, was often in the rough or in bunkers but consistently played his recovery shots well.

Joe Carr of Dublin, the defending champion, was beaten by Campbell in the semi-finals, and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, co-favorite with Carr, was ousted in the sixth round.

Ten Canadians started in the tournament, but only one, Bob Fleming of Victoria, B.C., got as far as the sixth round.

Tony Trabert Wins Title

Paris— (AP) —Tony Trabert, the singles champion, and Vic Seixas gave the United States a clean sweep in the international tennis tournament Sunday by winning the doubles crown with a 6-4, 6-2, 6-1 victory over their old Australian rivals, Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall.

Before Trabert and Seixas took the court Maureen Connelly of San Diego, Calif., teamed with Mrs. Nelly Hopman of Australia to win the women's double championship by defeating Mrs. Maud Galtier and Miss Suzanne Schmitt of France. The score was 7-5, 4-6, 6-0.

Little Mo, the young queen of the courts, Saturday added her second French singles championship to her list of international triumphs.

Nova Scotia Body Votes To Sponsor Atlantic Meet

Wolfville, N.S.—(CP)—The Nova Scotia Amateur Athletic Union voted Saturday to sponsor a 1954 Atlantic provinces track and field meet for junior, senior and women competitors.

The idea was proopsed by the New Brunswick AAU some time ago. The Nova Scotia union did not fix a date but said the tournament will be held during the third week in August and annually thereafter.

President Maurice Hennigar told delegates that Massachusetts track coach Harold O'Connor would conduct a track and field clinic at Dalhousie University July 19 and 20.

Hennigar said in the presidential report that amateur athletics in Nova Scotia were suffering from "malnutrition." He said affiliated clubs, universities and the services must revitalize their programs if the amateur code was to resist the influences of professionalism.

Dorothy Walker of the Nova Scotia department of education said representations were being made to the Highland Society for the inclusion of women's events in the province's annual highland games.

Santee Breaks Haegg's Record

Kansas City — (AP) — Wes Santee, Kansas University's great distance runner, set an American outdoor mile record of 4:01.3 Saturday night as he made an all-out effort to break the four-minute barrier in the Missouri Valley AAU track meet.

The Kansas senior not only bettered his American record of 4:02.4 set last year, but ran the second fastest mile ever recorded.

Only the 3:59.4 by England's Roger Bannister earlier this month is better than Santee's time. He was a 10th of a second faster than the former record of 4:01.4 set by Sweden's Gunder Haegg in 1945.

Santee's time by quarters was clocked unofficially at 58 seconds, 62.2, 61.8 and 59.3.

Australia Will Send 53 To Games

Sydney, Australia — (Reuters) — Enough money has been raised to send an Australian team of 53 to the Empire games at Vancouver, J. Eve, team manager and secretary of the Australian Empire Games Association, announced Sunday.

He added that 19 other athletes, selected on condition they pay their own expenses, also are expected to make the trip.

Eddie McElwin Sets New Mark Of Year On Yesterday's Racing Card; Jean Harvester Only Double Winner

Although Saturday's racing card at the Sherbrooke Racing Club was rained out, a crowd of 3,000 turned out yesterday afternoon to witness an excellent fixture.

The first race, a Class "C" Pace, was won by H. G. Brooke, driven by Adrien Gravel, of Bishopton, who paced the mile at 2.17 3/5. It also proved to be the largest payoff for the betters, H. G. Brooke paid $25.30 to win and $5.90 to place.

H. G. Brooke and All American combined in the first two races for a daily double which paid $95.75 for the lucky holders.

The fastest mile run this year at the track was registered in the fourth race when Eddie McElwin, owned by P. H. Giroux, of Robertsonville and driven by P. DeBlois paced a mile in 2.11 4/5 to finish ahead of Colonel Wilkins.

Jean Harvester N. owned and driven by Amedee Beaudoin, of Bulwer, was the only double winner of the day finishing ahead of the field in both heats of a trot and pace class for a $300 purse. The combination of Jean Harvester and George Brooke paid a quinella of $42.40 in the seventh race of the day. The highest place payoff was also registered in the seventh. The backers of George Brooke received $10.80 for their investment.

The next card will be presented on Wednesday night with another eight races for the fans.

Emil Zatopek Sets New World Record For 5,000-Metre Run In French Meet

Paris— (AP) —Emil Zatopek of Czechoslovakia broke the world record for the 5,000-metre run by covering the distance Sunday in 13 minutes, 57.2 seconds in an international track meet at Colombes Stadium here. The old mark was 13 minutes, 58.2 seconds set by Gunder Haegg of Sweden in 1942.

Zatopek, who won the 5,000-metre, 10,000-metre and marathon races in the 1952 Helsinki Olympic Games, competed Sunday by the grace of the French Foreign Office which at first refused him a visa to enter France and later changed its mind.

The Czech army officer, running with his usual tortured style, arms flailing and his face twisted by grimaces, was ahead all the way. He led by about 20 metres after the first lap and added to his margin by that amount for each successive lap.

His fractional times were: 1,000 metres—2 minutes, 47.1 seconds; 2,000—5:34.4; 3,000—8.23.4; 4,000—11.13.4.

Finishing second was Travo Stritoff followed by Sevo Pavlovic. Both are Yugoslavs. A group of French participants finished farther behind.

The Foreign Office said it originally refused a visa to Zatopek for some insulting remarks he was said to have made about Paris after a recent visit. The Foreign Office later relented and on his arrival Zatopek denied he had said the things attributed to him.

Indians Sweep Two From Phillies; A's Here Tomorrow

Cop Afternoon Thriller 13-12 And Evening Tilt 9-8; 8th Inning Rally Turning Point Of Game, Count 5 Runs

Staging a big rally in the eighth inning yesterday afternoon the Sherbrooke Indians rallied to tally five runs and edge out the Phillies of Three Rivers 13-12 in an action packed thriller before 1,051 fans at the Park Avenue Stadium.

Last night in Three Rivers the Wylie squad managed to squeeze out a close 9-8 verdict to sweep both ends of the Sunday bill. The Indians chalked up four runs in the opening inning added two more in the second with a singleton in the third to build up an early lead of 7-1. The Phillies bounced back in the lower half of the third to register five runs when starter Bobby Locke ran into trouble in finding the plate.

Miller came to his rescue and toiled until the ninth when the Indians registered two but the home club commenced another rally and Kolod took but he required aid from Manager Wylie before the fire was extinguished to give the locals a 9-8 victory.

This evening the teams tangle again in Three Rivers while tomorrow night the Indians will be hosts to Drummondville. Prior to the game "Loose" Wells will put on an act for the fans.

John Luthern, who came in the late stages of the afternoon game, was credited with the win while Ed Asplund, the Phillies' fourth hurler, was charged with the loss. The Indians started off with a bang and tallied five runs in the opening frame on five hits, a wild pitch and a walk.

Four circuit blows were smashed out with each side accounting for two. Garry Bartunek and Bill Williamson lifted the ones for the Indians while Ray Khoury and Carrico notched the round-trippers for the Indians.

Stephens lead off with a double in the first and came home when Bill Williams drove out a single. Jim Fishback was hit by a pitch and then Dick Brown singled and that was the end of Bill Englehart. Jerome Obringer took over and retired the next two but Bill Williamson lifted one out of the park in deep centre field, 370 feet from the plate, right under the pennant. Mayhew continued the march with a single and Beatty walked and that was the end of Obringer. Lizotte took over and killed off the rally.

In the second the Phillies counted two runs and in the second frame they registered three runs followed with another three in the fourth and fifth for a commanding lead. In the fourth the Indians notched one more while in the fifth after Tommy Vaughan had singled Gerry Bartunek drove out his round tripper to have the score read 10-6 for the visitors.

In the sixth Carrico smashed out his home run over left field fence as the wind was in the favor of the hitters giving the outfielders plenty of trouble in judging the ball. One was on when the Phillies' backstop got his smash.

In the lower half of the sixth it was quick work and also in the seventh. Del Bastock took over from Beatty in the big fourth and was lifted for pinch-hitter Manager Wylie in the fifth. John Luthern took over to finish the game and earn the decision.

INDIANS RALLY

In the lower half of the eighth the locals came to bat trailing 12-8 and the manner in which Claude Lizotte was handling things it looked bad for the Wylie crew. The local manager had got the thumb for arguing over Carrico's home run in the sixth.

Mayhew singled to start the ball rolling. Pratt went to bat for Luthern and connected for a single, Stephens walked and Bill Williams drove home two runs. Jim Fishback went down swinging. Brown got a free pass and then the roof fell in on the Phillies. Vaughan lifted an easy fly and Gerry Liddy dropped it with Stephens scoring. Bartunek hit a fly to Liddy for the second out and when the left fielder tossed the ball to second base to try for a double play there was not one there to catch it. Williams and Brown came home with two runs to give the locals a 13-12 victory.

All the Indians picked up hits with the exception of the hurlers. Stephens, Williams, Brown, Williamson, Vaughan and Mayhew each collected two while Fishback, and Bartunek picked up the other. Menkel was the big gun for the Phillies with three-for-three, including two doubles. Khoury, Liddy, Zack and hurler Lizotte had two apiece with Whiteko and Carrico one each.

Field Of 33 Veterans More Worried About Possibility Of Rain Than Their Occupational Hazard In Race

Indianapolis —(AP)— Thirty-three veteran auto racers worried more about the possibility of rain today during the 38th annual 500-mile race than about their occupational hazard-death.

Even a sprinkle could bring out the yellow caution flag that prevents a driver from improving his position and ruin the chances of cars back of the leaders.

It's a race if it goes 252½ miles.

Some of the hottest drivers in the field were spotted far back for the start, due to mechanical troubles that kept them from qualifying on the first day of the time trials.

They had about four hours to advance in the race and figured they'd need all of it with Jack McGrath starting first.

Forty-four Deaths

McGrath had made no secret of his intention to stay in front all the way if possible. One good reason was that the speedway pays $150 extra to a driver for each lap he leads, a tidy $30,000 for leading all the way.

The purse—about $250,000—was calculated to make the drivers forget that they were outnumbered in speedway records by the names of 44 persons killed at the track. Most of the deaths occurred in the early days of two-man cars.

All the cars now are single seaters, with much improved tires and chassis. No one has been killed in the race proper since William (Short) Cantlon hit the wall in 1947.

$90,000 Jackpot

Today's field, dominated by the new Kurtis-Kraft cars built especially for the track, was the fastest since the first Memorial Day race in 1911. It averaged over 138 miles an hour in the time trials. The two-year-old race record by Troy Ruttman was 128.922.

Ruttman was among the starters, along with 1953 winner Bill Vukovich and 1950 winner Johnny Parsons. Ruttman and Jimmy Reece were the youngest at 24 but there were four starters 40 or older — Spider Webb, Len Duncan, Paul Russo and Fred Agabashian.

A kiss from TV star Marie Wilson awaited the winner, along with the Borg-Warner trophy, the Dodge pace car and a bundle of cash which probably will exceed $90,000. The speedway's payoff, based on attendance, and accessory prizes will be announced at the victory dinner Tuesday night.

John Cook Takes Mile At Perdue

Lafayette, Ind.—(AP)—John Cook, Michigan State track man from London, Ont., won the mile event of the 54th Big Ten outdoor track and field meet at Purdue University Saturday in the creditable time of 4:14.1.

Iowa's top distance man, Rich Ferguson of Toronto, finished 4th in the two-mile event as Purdue's Gene Matthews ran the defending champion into the ground in 9:16.3.

Illinois took seven firsts in the meet to easily capture its fourth straight title.

"Loose" Wells, One Of Baseball's Ace Comedians, To Appear At Local Ball Park Tomorrow Evening At 7:00

The Sherbrooke Indians Baseball Club announced Saturday that arrangements have been completed for the appearance of "Loose" Wells, baseball's youngest, newest and funniest showman, on Tuesday, June 1, at the Municipal Stadium.

Wells, who is billed as a loose-jointed exhibitionist that can bring laughs from any group, is in his second year as a professional funny man and is filling dates throughout the United States and Canada.

Originally, Wells entered the baseball ranks as a catcher with the Class B, Danville, Va., Leafs. Military service interrupted his plans and he entered the Air Force. Once in the Air Force, he became a Special Services entertainer, making use of the loose-jointed routines that he first began while in high school.

Wells was discharged from service just in time to get off to an even start with the 1953 baseball with his antics, and the response was terrific. Said Charlie Stoneham, of the New York Giants organization: "'Loose' Wells' act was as enthusiastically accepted and as highly entertaining as any I have ever seen. His antics kept an overflow crowd continually laughing and went over big with everyone attending. His act is new and I must say, completely different."

The loose-limbed contortionist begins his antics about 20 minutes before gametime and he doesn't stop there. He mimics the umpires, coaches the bases, heckles the players, and is liable to do about anything. One look at his uniform—which is about 20 sizes too big——is enough to make anyone laugh.

"Loose" usually draws his biggest laughs with his imitations, but generally ends up standing on his head or throwing from some outlandish position.

Field Reduced To 23 For Derby On Wednesday; Sir Gordon Richards Is Out; Only Four Outsiders Left

London — (CP) — The field for Wednesday's 175th running of the Derby was reduced to 23 Sunday by the withdrawal of Ambler II, one of the three entries from the United States, and Infatuation, a winter book favorite but more recently rated at 25 to 1.

It also was announced that Sir Gordon Richards, Britain's top jockey who was badly shaken in a race track spill 10 days ago, will not ride the Queen's horse Landau in the classic. Will Snaith, another of Britain's top riders, will be abroad Landau, a 19-to-12 shot.

Infatuation recently suffered a leg injury which his trainer said will not be healed enough in time for the gruelling 1½-mile race.

Ambler II is being withdrawn because, his trainer, Capt. C. Boyd-Rochfort said Sunday he "has completely lost his form." Amber II, owned by William Woodward Jr. of New York, was originally 5 to 1 but dropped to 20 to 1 after flopping badly in training gallops.

The withdrawal leaves only four overseas-owned horses in the Derby. One is Blue Sail, owned by Frank McMahon and Max Bell of Calgary, who will be ridden by Johnny Longden. Blue Sail is 100 to 6. Two American mounts are Blue Prince and Never Say Die, both at 40 to 1. Ferriol, a French horse, is 17 to 2.

Rowston Manor at 6 to 1 is the favorite with Darius second choice at 13 to 12.

Thetford Splits With St. Johns As Quebec Wallops Drummondville 16-0; All Saturday's Games Washed Out

Rain, foe of baseball, held the upper-hand in the Provincial Baseball League during the week-end, cancelling three games Saturday and the finale of a doubleheader Sunday. Coupled with almost two weeks of postponements at the start of the season, it's an impressive record.

Quebec Braves probably didn't set records Sunday, but they looked good downing the Drummondville Athletics 16-0 on four-hit pitching by pitcher Jimmy Espinola. Two runs in the first inning, and five in the second—on two homers—made it easy sailing for the rest of the bout. The second game scheduled for Drummondville, was rained out.

In other league action, Thetford Mines Miners and St. Johns Canadiens took one game each in their doubleheader. The scores: Thetford Mines 9, St. Johns 5; Thetford Mines 4, St. Johns 5.

Sherbrooke Indians eked out two victories against Three Rivers Indians, winning the first 13-12, and the second 9-8.

Mystery Man Reaps From Show Bets

Boston — (AP) — A mystery man who does his speculating on a large scale visited Suffolk Downs Saturday to put down a $13,000 show bet.

He put his money on Blessbull, the feature race winner, and came off with a minimum $1,300 return.

On Friday he bet $10,000 on Warm Breeze to show to earn $1,000 profit on his investment.

Blue Bonnets And Richelieu To Split Meetings

Montreal —(CP)— Montreal's two harness racing tracks announced during the week-end signing of an agreement to alternate meetings between Blue Bonnets and Richelieu Park race tracks.

In a joint statement the tracks said the agreement, signed Saturday, is for five years. Racing dates during the season will be split between the two, with each track taking it in turn to open the season. Richelieu will stage the first meeting in 1955.

"No city anywhere in North America is big enough to support two racetracks operating at the same time," the statement said.

Blue Bonnets, famous as a jockey track, was remodelled for harness racing last year and opened April 23. A new track at Richelieu opened May 13. Both have said attendance has been good despite poor weather.

Indianapolis Race May Be Fastest On Record Today

Indianapolis, Ind.— (AP) —The fastest, and perhaps most dangerous, Indianapalos Speedway auto race will be held today when 33 drivers, headed by record-qualifier Jack McGrath, roar off in the 38th of the 200-lap, 500-mile marathons at 11 a.m. CDT.

On the basis of pre-race trials, a record average speed of better than 128 miles an hour is expected for the race with the $250,000 jackpot.

Among the hot drivers are Bill Vukovich, the 1953 winner, 1950 winner Johnny Parsons, record-holding 1952 champion Troy Ruttman, Sam Hanks, Jim Rathmann and McGrath.

McGrath, who qualified with a record speed of 141.033 mph, is favored to take the winner's $90,000 share of the prize. He will be droving a new $20,000 Hinkle Special.

Johnny Palmer Takes Colonial

Fort Worth, Tex.—(AP)—Johnny Palmer, hampered by a back injury suffered in an automobile accident six weeks ago, came from behind with a one-under-par 69 Sunday to win the $25,000 Colonial national invitation golf tournament with a 72-hole score of 280.

Veterans Byron Nelson and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison were tied for the lead with 210s before the start of the final round, but both faded, Nelson taking a 73 for a third-place tie at 283 and Harrison carding a 77, including a three-over-par seven on the 15th hole.

Tickets Drawn For Sweepstakes

Dublin— (AP) —Tickets were drawn today in the Irish National Hospitals sweepstakes, in which the lucky holders will share in a prize fund of £1,760,000, biggest in the last 68 sweeps drawings.

Total sweepstakes proceeds were £2,988,000. After deducting the prize funds and a tax of £550,000, Irish hospitals will share in the remainder. The drawing was on the Derby, to be at Epsom Downs next Wednesday.

There will be 14 first prizes of £50,000 each, 14 of £20,000, 14 of £10,000, 322 prizes; on horses that run but are not among the first three, bringing £740 each, 2,800 prizes of £100, 4,200 of £10 and 50 residual prizes of £1,600.

War Of Roses Takes Jersey Stake

Camden, N.J.—(AP)—War of Roses, an English-bred thoroughbred who had never won a stakes race, took the $50,000 added Jersey stakes at Garden State Park Saturday under a whipping ride by jockey Jackie Westrope as the 2 to 5 favorite, Correlation, wound up sixth in the field of 12.

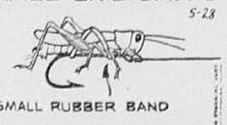

Mrs. E. H. Thouron's three-year-old moved into contention at the three-quarter mark as Westrope took his mount from fifth to third. The colt came between horses at the top of the stretch to grab the lead from the pace-setting Red Hannigan and then galloped home to one of 1954's big racing upsets.

War of Roses was timed in 1:51 3-5 for the mile and a furlong run and paid his backers $18.60, $7.80 and $5.20 across the board. Red Hannigan rewarded his backers $20 and $10.20 and King Ranch's High Gun returned $4.00 for the show.

Pittsburgh Seems To Be Setups For Rest Of Loop; Close Race In National; Cleveland Opens Up One-Game Lead

The Pittsburgh "pick-me-up" is a sure fire remedy for woozy National League contenders. One trip to Fred Haney's clinic and the ailing patient is young at heart.

Philadelphia took the cure Sunday and shot into a second-place tie with New York and Brooklyn, only 1½ games behind the leading Milwaukee Braves. Now it's the Giants' turn to visit the health spa.

The league closed in on Milwaukee Sunday when St. Louis knocked off the Braves 3-2 for Harvey Haddix's seventh victory, Brooklyn bested New York 5-3, the Phils dumped the Pirates twice 8-0 and 10-7 and Chicago split two with Cincinnati. The Cubs took the opener 7-5 the first start for ex-outfielder Hal Jeffcoat but Cincinnati rallied to take the second 6-5, called by darkness after eight innings.

Closely Grouped

It's only five games from first to seventh, Milwaukee to Chicago, but the Pirates already have managed to get 13 games behind.

Cleveland finally shook off Chicago's challenge to open up a one-game lead in the American, defeating Detroit 3-1 while Chicago's eight-game winning streak was broken by Baltimore 5-2. The victory snapped the Orioles out of a 10-game losing slump.

Boston added to Casey Stengel's worries, beating the New York Yankees 3-1 on Willard Nixon's four-hitter. Washington shut out Philadelphia 6-0 with Maury McDermott and the A's came back to get an even break, winning the second 6-5 on Ed McGhee's pinch double in the last of the ninth.

Mike Garcia held Detroit to four hits to keep Cleveland moving with their 14th straight hometown victory. Bobby Avila helped him along with two doubles, boosting his league-leading average to .387.

Eddie Waitkus and Jim Fridley hit homers that helped Don Larsen to his second victory and ended the White Sox's win spree. Al Sima, making his first start of the season, was tagged with the defeat.

Mantle Hits Ninth

Nixon put down a Yankee threat in the ninth by retiring Andy Carey with two men on to save a decision over Jim McDonald. Mickey Mantle's ninth home run, his seventh off Red Sox pitching, was one of the four hits off Nixon.

Mickey Vernon and Wayne Terwilliger homered behind McDermott in Washington's first game victory over Philadelphia. The lanky lefty never had an anxious moment, striking out seven for his third triumph. A late spurt gave rookie Arnold Portocarrero the edge over Bob Porterfield in the second game.

Robin Roberts pitched his third shutout, a seven-hitter, in the Phils' first game romp over the Pirates, spoiling Dick Littlefield's first National League start. The Phils continued to bombard Pirate pitching in the second, making a total of 27 hits in the two games, with Willie Jones and Richie Ashburn each collecting five hits for the day's work, Karl Drews was the second game winner on relief over Bob Friend.

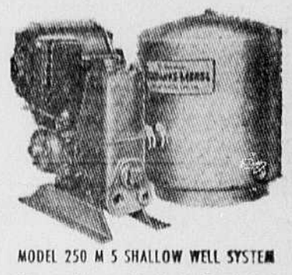

Jeffcoat Stars

The Cardinals, who broke Milwaukee's 10-game winning streak Saturday night, made it two in a row with a big first inning in which Red Schoendienst hit a home run. Four successive singles off Warren Spahn followed the homer.

A crowd of 47,672, tops for the season in the National, jammed the Polo Grounds for the Dodger-Giant game, won by Johnny Podres, who had to leave in the ninth innning due to a tightening in his shoulder. Gil Hodges hit his third blast, with two on in the first inning. Willie Mays' two-run homer helped the Giants bounce back. Larry Jansen, who relieved Johnny Antonelli, was the loser. Dodger Roy Campanella returned to action for the first time since his hand operation but went hitless in four trips.

Jeffcoat, starting a new career as a pitcher at the age of 29, held the slugging Cincinnati club to four hits until he had to leave in the ninth inning of the opener because of a finger blister. Pinch-hitter Bob Borkowski's double featured a three-run rally that gave Cincinnati the abbreviated second game.
