RUSSIAN SECRET POLICE HEAD OUSTED

World News In Brief

New Haven, Conn.—(AP)—Detective Edwin Lawlor went to church to get his man. He said in court Thursday he hid in a confessional at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church and caught George R. Rogovsky, 32, tinkering with an offering box at the altar. Rogovsky later was charged with 26 such church burglaries.

Los Angeles—(AP)—A pound-and-a-half baby, 48 hours old today, is reported by hospital attendants to be "doing exceptionally well."

The premature son of Mrs. Juanita Ogden, 24, of suburban Van Nuys, has gained in strength and is breathing better than he did his first day, attendants at Good Samaritan hospital said. They planned to take him from an oxygen tank today long enough to feed him a little sugar and water.

Tel Aviv—(Reuters)—Two Israeli soldiers were killed and one wounded when armed Jordanians attacked an Israeli frontier post in the Judean hills near Jerusalem during the night, an army spokesman announced here today.

The clash ended a period of quiet on the Israeli-Jordan border during the last two weeks following the arrival of Maj.-Gen. Vagn Bennike of Denmark, new chief of staff of the United Nations truce supervision organization.

Israel has asked Bennike to convene an emergency meeting of the Israeli-Jordan mixed armistice commission.

Washington—(AP)—Senator George Aiken, chairman of the Senate agriculture committee, told the Senate Thursday the U.S. government will purchase live cattle later this year if that is necessary to halt a decline in beef cattle prices.

His announcement was regarded as an effort to remove Senate pressure for two cattle purchase amendments to a drought disaster loan bill.

Princess Forced To Suspend Tour

Umtali, Rhodesia—(Reuters)—Princess Margaret has withdrawn temporarily from her tour of Southern Rhodesia with the Queen Mother because of a persistent cold and slight fever. It was announced today.

The announcement came only an hour before the Royal couple was scheduled to leave a mountain resort hotel near here for a day-long drive. It said the 22-year-old Princess will return by air today to Salisbury, the Southern Rhodesia capital, while the Queen Mother maintains the timetable of the tour.

Margaret had not been due to return to Salisbury until Sunday. The schedule called for the Queen Mother and Princess to remain in Salisbury until next Thursday when they were to have flown back to London.

Lapalme Elected To Quebec House By Outremont Voters

Quebec — Quebec Liberals won their first provincial by-election since 1944 Thursday and a legislative seat for their leader George Lapalme who has remained outside the Quebec house since he was chosen to head the party in 1950.

While carrying the traditionally Liberal constituency of Montreal-Outremont, the Liberals saw the Union Nationale government retain the constituencies of Matapedia and Portneuf.

Called to fill vacancies caused by deaths, the by-elections left the standing in the Legislative Assembly unchanged from July 16, 1952, when Quebec general elections were held.

The standing in the 92-seat assembly: Union Nationale 68; Liberals 23; Independent 1; vacant none.

Mr. Lapalme, 46-year-old Joliette, Que., lawyer, became the first Quebec Liberal leader to occupy a seat in the legislature since 1943. His predecessor, Senator Adolphe Godbout, was defeated in general elections that year.

Mr. Lapalme resigned the federal seat for Joliette-Assomption-Montcalm to accept a convention's offer of the provincial leadership in 1950. In 1952 general elections he was defeated in Joliette by Labor Minister Barrette, one of the Union Nationale's most powerful cabinet ministers.

Staking his political future on the outcome in Montreal-Outremont, held by the Liberals since the riding was established in 1939,

Beria, Former First Deputy To Malenkov, Charged With Treachery And Imperialism

Eisenhower Ousts Aide Of McCarthy

Washington — (AP)—A vigorous blast from President Eisenhower, fired over the head of Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep. Wis.), has blown J. B. Matthews out of the investigating job in which McCarthy had sought to keep him.

"Alien to America," the president said in obvious reference to the statement in a magazine article by Matthews that 7,000 Protestant clergymen are "the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus" in this country.

McCarthy promptly accepted the resignation of Matthews, whom he has called "a star-spangled American," as executive staff director of the Senate investigations subcommittee which the Wisconsin Senator heads.

The fast-breaking developments which marked Matthews' departure underscored seemingly strained relations between Eisenhower and McCarthy, who several times have seemed on the verge of head-on collisions.

McCarthy, for years the centre of controversy in Washington, was simultaneously involved in two other brushes with the administration. These came when the Senator:

1. Moved to call before his subcommittee top officials of the central intelligence agency, including director Allen Dulles, for some possibly explosive questioning. McCarthy accused Dulles, a brother of Eisenhower's secretary of state, of refusing to let the McCarthy subcommittee question a CIA employee.

2. Aimed sharp criticism at a new state department directive declaring that some Communist writers' books may be used in the U. S. overseas libraries. He got a swift reply indicating the department intends to stick to its guns.

Matthews, whose article about alleged communism in the ranks of Protestant clergymen had stirred up a bitter row apparently acknowledged defeat within a few minutes after the White House made public Eisenhower's denunciation of his views.

He submitted a new letter of resignation as executive staff director of McCarthy's subcommittee, with a defiant declaration that his article in the American Mercury magazine "is completely factual and is fully documented." He has emphasized that he wrote the vast majority of clergymen are loyal.

McCarthy, who had filled away an earlier resignation, accepted this one.

Eisenhower had made public a message to a religious group declaring that "I fully share" its protest that Matthews' accusation was "unjustified and deplorable."

In one speech, Mr. Duplessis described Mr. Lapalme as a man who "lacks the qualities essential to be a member of the Quebec Legislative Assembly." He said the voters would do the Liberal party a favor by voting against the leader.

Polling was marked by fistcuffs and disturbances that led to several arrests. The trouble subsided when the counting of ballots started. Mr. Lapalme led from the outset.

The Montreal-Outremont riding in the northwestern section of Montreal was left vacant when Henri Groulx died shortly after he was re-elected in the general election last July.

Mr. Lapalme campaigned against what he called "dictatorship government" in Quebec. He also criticized a new Election Act, passed at the last session of the legislature.

The major Election Act change removed the appointment of enumerators from political parties. Returning officers were authorized to appoint a single enumerator for each polling subdivision.

Premier Duplessis appealed for election of his party's candidates on the basis of the government's record since it took office in 1944.

Action seen as result of German rioting.

Moscow — (AP)—Lavrenti P. Beria, longtime head of Russia's police forces and first deputy to Premier Georgi M. Malenkov, has been fired from the Soviet government, expelled from the Communist party and turned over to his nation's highest tribunal as a traitor.

The party newspaper Pravda denounced him today as an agent of international imperialism and an "enemy of the Communist party and the Soviet people."

A party communiqué said Malenkov himself outlined the case against Beria at a recent meeting of the party central committee, which took away party membership and office from the 53-year-old veteran Red.

Renew Call For Release Of Workers

By DON DOANE

Berlin — (AP)—A West Berlin anti-Communist organization reported East Berlin workers planned to strike again today in an effort to free comrades jailed by the Reds in the June 17 rebellion.

As starting whistles sounded at East sector factories this morning, however, there were no immediate reports to show whether the walkouts actually had taken place.

The West Berlin organization — The Fighting Group Against Inhumanity — predicted the strike action would spread "at least throughout the Soviet sector of Berlin" and perhaps into the outlying Russian-occupied territory.

Earlier this week, a two-day work slowdown by East sector laborers won the lifting of the Russians' armed blockade along the East-West border of the divided city. But the aroused workers were far from satisfied with their partial victory.

Thousands of their comrades in the June uprising still are in jail. Work and food conditions are still bad despite Communist promises of improvement.

There were indications that East Germany's hard-pressed Red government would not be hard to persuade. The West Berlin newspaper Telegram declared that a "far-reaching amnesty" for those arrested in the June revolt already is being prepared.

The Telegram said the clemency was ordered by Vladimir Semenov, Soviet high commissioner in East Germany, who is reported to have returned this week from Moscow.

Another unconfirmed report jibed with the story. It said all pending trials of East Berliners have been halted until Monday, when a "new policy" is expected to be announced.

East German Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl has publicly assured workers that imprisoned rioters are being released as soon as it is proved their roles in the uprising were minor. The Telegram said, however, that some other leaders, apparently fearful that revolt may flare anew, have opposed an amnesty.

West Berlin's Mavor Ernest Reuter, in a radio speech marking the Soviet's restoration of free travel across the border, told East zone workers Thursday night they pressure had forced the Soviets to announce the amnesty.

In this mighty struggle for Stalin's power, which does not necessarily appear to have ended, the sensational action against Beria was a natural development.

Like so many other mysterious things about that mysterious country, Russia, when did it all take place?

Has Beria just now been kicked out of the party and government or did all this happen some time ago?

Just before I left Moscow 10 days ago, high members of the party and government on June 27 watched the premiere of a new opera at the Bolshoi theatre.

Oddly, Beria's name was not listed among those present. "Do you suppose that it's already happened?" one Western diplomat asked me, referring to what we all expected in the power

A separate communiqué said the presidium of the supreme Soviet parliament had removed the disgraced Beria from his posts as first deputy premier of the Soviet Union and minister of internal affairs.

"It was decided also by the presidium that the case on the criminal actions of L. P. Beria should be turned over to the supreme court of the USSR," the announcement added.

His downfall left Malenkov with three deputy ministers: Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, War Minister Nikolai Bulganin and Lazarus M. Kaganovich.

The party accused Beria of "criminal activities designed at subverting the Soviet state in the interests of foreign capitalism" and trying to put his internal affairs ministry "higher than the government and the Communist party of the Soviet Union."

Pravda said he had planned secretly to "seize the leadership of the party and the country" in order to restore capitalism.

In western capitals, non-Communist observers speculated that Beria was the first victim of the power struggle within the Kremlin following Stalin's death, and also that he possibly was being made the scapegoat for the recent East German uprisings and other unrest in the Soviet satellites.

The charge that Beria acted in the interests of foreign imperialism was viewed here as a clear reference to the recent riots in Berlin and the release of North Korean prisoners of war by South Korean President Syngman Rhee. The Russian press has charged that these events were related parts of a western plan to prevent peace.

The government announced Sergei N. Kruglov had been named internal affairs chief. He had headed the ministry until Stalin's death, when it was combined with Beria's ministry of state security and Berlin took over.

Pravda called for the party to "regularly verify the work of all organizations and institutions, and the activity of all leading officials." It added: "It is necessary to take under systematic and unrelenting control the activity of the organs of the ministry of internal affairs."

Pravda gave these details of Beria's offenses:

He advanced officials in his ministry on the basis of their personal loyalty to him.

He "put the brake by every means possible on decisions of the most important and urgent questions in the field of agriculture in order to undermine the collective-farms and create difficulties in our country's food supply."

He tried to "sow enmity among the peoples of the USSR" and to encourage nationalist tendencies in Stockholm, Sweden — (AP)—Lavrenti P. Beria's expulsion from the Communist party and Soviet government means that Premier Georgi Malenkov, and perhaps others, now feel strong enough to desperate enough to doom the supreme policeman to utter disgrace.

Negotiators Renew Efforts To Remove Obstacles To Korean Peace Agreement

Planes Aid Infantry In Korea Fight

By ROBERT GIBSON

Seoul — (AP)—Waves of bomb-laden U. S. warplanes swarmed to the aid of Allied infantry and artillerymen today in the struggle for Porkchop hill and Arrowhead ridge in western Korea.

Low-flying jet fighter-bombers flew more than 200 frontline missions by early afternoon, hurling tons of explosives and fiery jellied gasoline into Communist trenches which Allied Shermans and foot soldiers failed to knock out in four days of wild, see-saw fighting.

Broiling summer weather sent temperatures to 93 on the front Thursday.

The show of air power was the biggest so far for July.

Zooming low over the embattled hills, the Allied jets burned out or blew out more than 200 yards of trenches, 18 mortar positions and several Red bunkers.

Before daybreak, troops of the U. S. 7th division broke up two Chinese attacks on Porkchop hill and South Koreans held off 400 attacking Reds at Arrowhead ridge six miles to the northeast.

An Allied observer said one shell killed or wounded every one of 100 Chinese trying to leave a western firing of Porkchop hill.

Ground fighting slowed after the aircraft moved in.

A night-long melee raged across the crest of Porkchop when 200 Chinese attacked bunkers high on the hill. The Reds pulled back slightly and holed up in some bunkers on Porkchop's northern slope.

More than 20,000 rounds of Communist artillery poured into the shell-cracked sector. U. S. artillerymen answered with round-the-clock firing.

Another 400 Chinese stormed up two ridges guarding the main peak of Arrowhead ridge, defended by South Koreans.

Neither attack made significant gains.

South Korean riflemen also repulsed another 200-man assault on an outpost to the west. U. S. advisers at the 2nd ROK division reported that some 39,000 rounds of Communist artillery and mortar hit their sector in the last 24 hours.

Beria's disgrace could very well be connected with the East Berlin and East German uprisings. It is known in Moscow that he has had not only his finger but his whole arm in the bubbling German cauldron.

Has Stalin's old fellow countryman, both were Georgians, been damned because of this?

It is quite possible, no matter what official explanation is now rolling off the propaganda machine of the central committee of the Communist party.

Twelve years of watching events in Russia have convinced me of one thing: When something happens as has happened in Germany, somebody has to be singled out. If it is anybody the boys can get their hands on, punishment follows denunciation as night does day.

A great wrestling bout for power was going on before the German demonstrations, of course, but those events coming on top of a denunciation of the police and their methods could have given Malenkov the gun he was seeking to fire in Beria's face.

Beria is being denounced in Moscow this morning for, among other things, trying to put his police be-

By SAM SUMMERLIN

Panmunjom — (AP)—Allied and communist negotiators met secretly for 29 minutes today, then recessed until Saturday their efforts to clear the final obstacles to a Korean truce still bitterly opposed by South Korea.

There was no hint whether the top-level delegations made progress toward signing an armistice during their first meeting in 20 days.

But the scheduling of another session for 11 a.m. Saturday (10 p.m. EDT today) was regarded as an indication that no serious disagreement had cropped up.

Informed quarters speculated that much of the session was devoted to communist demands that the United Nations command guarantee neutral supervisory commission could start the job of overseeing a truce.

Gen. Mark Clark, the UN Far East commander, suggested to the communists in a letter June 29 that negotiators confer to exchange information on the supervisory commission in preparation for signing a truce whether or not South Korea objects.

In their reply Wednesday, the Reds suggested that the full delegations convene to "discuss implementation of the armistice agreement" and to work out various preparations necessary before the signing.

One source pointed out that the prisoner exchange agreement and signed calls for the two sides to trade up-to-date prisoner rosters before a truce is signed. It also provides that the lists be checked before the signing.

There has been no announcement of lists being exchanged.

Resumption of the negotiations came after a 20-day recess which followed Rhee's release of some 27,000 anti-Communist Korean war prisoners.

It came on the second anniversary of the first negotiating session.

A Communist Peiping radio broadcast indicated the Allies would be asked to guarantee South Korean compliance. And correspondent Alan Winington of the London Daily Worker told News-papern here Friday:

He said neither Liberal nor Conservative governments could be blamed for the depression. But a Liberal government was in power when depression came in 1929. And it was made more severe because the Liberals did not prepare for it.

Mr. St. Laurent said his party is committed to a policy of contributory health insurance to be administered by the provinces. He was convinced "this is a field which should, as far as practicable, be left to provincial administration."

In reference to Mr. Drew's promise of $500,000,000 in tax cuts, Mr. St. Laurent said he makes no promise of reductions "regardless of circumstances." No party should promise that unless prepared to borrow money and increase the national debt.

"And that would be, as Mr. (Finance Minister) Abbott said, trying to buy votes with our children's earnings."

He referred to the Progressive Conservative challenge to say whether the Liberals will retain farm price support and whether he will remain Liberal leader if elected.

If returned Aug. 10, he said he will "carry on as prime minister

Mixed Views On Russian Development

By REUTERS NEWS AGENCY

World capitals interpreted the dismissal of Lavrenty P. Beria, No. 2 man in the Russian hierarchy, as an important victory by Premier Georgi Malenkov in a behind-the-scenes struggle for power since Stalin's death.

Newspapers and observers said it could bring either civil war in Russia or improved East-West relations.

In London, The Star said: "Since Stalin's death, Beria has been the main advocate of a 'tougher-than-ever' policy towards the West. He has been stirring up trouble in Moscow 'about the friendlier line the Malenkov regime has already taken.'"

His dismissal, The Star said, "will probably lead to improvements in East-West relations."

Austrian political circles said Beria, "probably the most unpopular man in the country," may have been made scapegoat for all the unpopular measures of the past governments. Malenkov might be using this as a convenient excuse for ridding himself of his most powerful rival, they said.

Italian newspapers acclaimed the news with such headlines as: "The struggle among the Soviet leaders has broken out" and "the beginning of the end," but few commented editorially.

The right-wing Il Tempo said Beria's dismissal is the "first round in favor of Malenkov in the open struggle which will probably continue on the bloody paths of civil war."

The crisis has broken out at the top of the Soviet pyramid," said Il Tempo. "It is a political crisis among the highest exponents of Russian and world communism and is therefore being interpreted also as a mortal crisis of communism itself as a form of state organization."

Japanese newspapers headlined the news, but refrained from comment, as did Japanese government officials.

In London, the House of Lords was told the government has no information about Beria's dismissal. Lord Reading, joint foreign secretary, said the government knew nothing beyond what had been reported in today's papers.

Lord Stansgate, a Labor peer, had asked if the government had any observations to make about the "startling news we have received from the Moscow radio."

Lord Reading added that if there was anything Parliament ought to know it would be communicated to it on Monday.

Tax Cuts, Health Insurance, Return As Electoral Topics

By Canadian Press Staff Writer

Tax reductions and a contributory health insurance scheme are back in the forefront of the election campaign. Prime Minister St. Laurent outlined his party's attitude to these and other matters in Vancouver Thursday night.

Of the former, Mr. St. Laurent said the Liberals will continue to reduce taxes if the national income keeps rising and other circumstances warrant. His government also was ready to help in a "sensible and practical" contributory health scheme if "satisfactory" arrangements can be made with the provinces.

Meanwhile, Hon. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, charged that the Liberal government of the late 1920s aggravated the depression of the 1930s by not preparing for it despite warnings that depression was imminent.

He said neither Liberal nor Conservative governments could be blamed for the depression. But a Liberal government was in power when depression came in 1929. And it was made more severe because the Liberals did not prepare for it.

Mr. St. Laurent said his party is committed to a policy of contributory health insurance to be administered by the provinces. He was convinced "this is a field which should, as far as practicable, be left to provincial administration."

In reference to Mr. Drew's promise of $500,000,000 in tax cuts, Mr. St. Laurent said he makes no promise of reductions "regardless of circumstances." No party should promise that unless prepared to borrow money and increase the national debt.

"And that would be, as Mr. (Finance Minister) Abbott said, trying to buy votes with our children's earnings."

He referred to the Progressive Conservative challenge to say whether the Liberals will retain farm price support and whether he will remain Liberal leader if elected.

If returned Aug. 10, he said he will "carry on as prime minister just as long as I feel I am capable of performing the duties of that office effectively."

Farm and fisheries prices support would continue as protection against calamity and disaster. But the government's chief aim would be to help find markets at prices higher than the support price level.

Dealing with communism, Mr. St. Laurent said his government opposes laws designed to control men's political opinions. Drastic legislation, including emergency powers to deal quickly with unforeseen and unforeseeable circumstances, already existed as protection against subversion and sabotage.

This statement was in sharp conflict with one by Mr. Drew in a campaign speech Thursday at Pembroke, Ont. Mr. Drew said the Liberal government denies the rule of law by dealing with Communists in government agencies without defining their offence.

"We should stop being soft about communism but any action should be done by law," he said.

He said the government long ago abandoned the principle that "no man or woman shall have their freedom threatened or their right to work denied except under a known law, defining the offence and enforced only by our free and impartial courts."

In Brantford, Ont., Defence Minister Claxton said in a campaign speech that so far the only distinctive feature of the Conservative campaign has been the steady stream of distortion and misrepresentation of the armed forces.

Out of each $1 spent on the armed forces, the air force gets about 50 cents. The United States air force gets 36 cents out of every $1 of the U. S. service budget.

"This makes it plain why the so-called comparable costs per man used over and over again by the Conservative party are so dishonest... we spend more proportionately on construction—largely airfields, hangars and accommodations—and a good deal more on equipment because of our tremendous emphasis on air force."

Winnipeg—(P)—Relax before starting your vacation, warns R. B. Baillie, provincial highway safety director. He says tired drivers are a menace to themselves and others.

Talk On Poland's History Given At Boundary Rotary

Derby Line, July 10. — An attendance of one hundred per cent, the presentation of a past president's pin to the retiring president, and a talk on the history of Poland were features of the Monday noon meeting of the Rotary Club of the Boundary, held at the Del Monty Hotel, with president Fred Gilman presiding.

Professor Bogdan Zaborski, of the McGill University Geography Summer School, spoke on the history of his native land, Poland, tracing its development from early days to the present time. According to the speaker, Poland was Christianized in the 11th century and became a great power in the 15th and 16th centuries.

Conquered by Russia, Prussia and Austria, Poland ceased to exist as a separate nation in the 18th century, and has had only 20 years of independence since that time—the period between the two world wars, 1919 and 1939.

Nevertheless, during the time it was no longer a nation, Poland was great in the fields of art and music, being the home of great composers, musicians and writers, as well as scientists.

"Poland and the Polish people," said Dr. Zaborski, "are very anti-Communist, and they are united as never before in the desire to

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Wilson Of Sutton Jct., Feted On 25th Wedding Anniversary

Sutton, July 10. — Relatives and friends gathered at Sutton Hall, on Saturday, June 6, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Wilson, of Sutton Junction, who were celebrating their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were married in Sutton on June 9, 1928, by the late Rev. Mr. Charters.

On entering the hall to the strains of the "Wedding March" played by Mr. Muir, of Montreal, the couple were greeted by their daughters, Mrs. Adrian Whitehead and Mrs. Raymond Streeter, who presented corsages and boutennieres to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and also to Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, who were their wedding attendants.

After receiving the good wishes of their relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson led the Grand March to music furnished by a record player and dancing was enjoyed, after which Mr. Muir entertained with several delightful piano selections.

The hall was decorated with beautiful flowers and streamers by the ladies of St. Aden's Guild.

The bride and groom's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake made by Mrs. Thompson, of Montreal, a daughter-in-law of the honored couple, and decorated by Mrs. Donald McLellan, of Waterloo.

Following the serving of refreshments by the ladies of the Guild, Rev. Mr. Gedye presented Mr. and Mrs. Wilson with an envelope of money for which Mr. Wilson ably responded.

The singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" was followed by three cheers for many more happy years together, which brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

Those attending were from Sutton, West Brome, North Sutton, Cowansville, Iron Hill, Sweetsburg, Knowlton, Waterloo, Montreal, Brome, Foster, Bondville, Call's Mills and Sutton Junction.

COATICOOK

Mr. Walter Major, of Stanstead, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Major and daughter, Susan, of Newport, Vt., were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. Major's sister, Mrs. Lottie Wallis, and Mr. Calvin Eric Wallis. Mr. Walter Major stayed to spend a few days with Mrs. Wallis and other relatives.

BRIGHAM

The United Church Sunday School held its annual picnic in Mr. Percy Hawk's grove, on July 1. Upwards of 30 children with their parents and friends enjoyed the day. There were races and games for the children.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Yates and son, Randy, of Stanbridge East, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Scribner.

Miss Florence Bessette, of Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bessette.

Mrs. Norman Hillyer, her son, Bruce, and little daughter, of Montreal, are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton and family have returned from a trip in the New England States, where they were guests of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Deuel, of Phillipsburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Powers.

Mr. Guy Beaudry, deputy ambassador to Brazil, and Mrs. Beaudry have returned to Canada and were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Beaudry will reside at Ottawa for the present.

Mr. Couture, government inspector from Quebec City, has been in this vicinity.

Splendid Success Marked Opening Of First Joint Magog Lions-Kiwanis Fair

Magog is the centre of interest in Stanstead county this week-end. Last night, thousands thronged to Merry's Point in Magog for the opening of the first joint Lions-Kiwanis Fair.

The fair opened officially when Mayor Oliva Bergeron of Magog cut a ribbon that strung across the park gates had until then signified "no entry." From then until midnight a crowd in child-like anticipation swarmed into the non-stop activities of a swirling midway and in spite of chilly weather and a failure in electricity the grounds were crowded to capacity with lingering enthusiasts.

At seven-thirty p.m., a parade, half mile in length took its starting point from the City Hall and proceeded along Main Street to Merry's Point. Led by Jack Peters, president of Magog Kiwanis, riding horse back, the procession got off to a good start. Taking up second place was the Harmony band, then the 4th Magog Boy Scout Troop, cars carrying civic and club officials; a pony and rider section; Brian's Ambulance; the Magog Unit No. 203 Army, Navy and Air Force Pipe Band then gaily decorated trucks bearing banners in favour of the fair brought up the rear.

Once at the grounds Magog's Harmony band played on a stand located in the fair's midst.

Bingo, wheels, ball games and all the attractions one might expect of a carnival that aims at maintaining a standard set by previous festivals held in Magog were on hand for the inexhaustible appetite of festive ferriting crowds.

The aroma of simmering hot dogs, the shrill echo of the barkers and the familiar sight of a mysterious fortune-teller's tent.

To safeguard the "ovial" attendants, members of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade equipped with ambulance were on the alert in the event of emergency mishaps.

No one was forgotten at this fair, there was something of interest to everyone. Children of all shapes and sizes eagerly surrounded the pony-ride awaiting a hoped-for turn. Last night, people from Sherbrooke, Ayer's Cliff and various different centres rallied to Magog's Merry's Point and with the warmer weather today, this evening is expected to produce a far beyond capacity attendance.

Attending last night's opening were L. W. Dixon, president of the Sherbrooke Rotary, and several of his fellow members who ably assisted the Magog Lions and Kiwanis.

This three day fair will run Saturday afternoon as well as Sunday evening, and with any kind of good luck, the two Magog club members expect that this effort will be their answer to raising the badly needed funds to carry on their extensive benevolent work in this community and its surrounding areas.

Jenkinson Heads Theftford Rotary

Allan C. Jenkinson was elected president of the Theftford Rotary Club at the annual meeting. Other officers are as follows: vice-president, Albert Cloutier; directors: Georges Lafontaine, Rodolphe Caouette and Herbert Smith; treasurer, Georges Robinson; secretary, Valmore Charron.

Placing Wood On Tracks Is Serious Offense

Fernand Provost, 27, of Magog, pleaded guilty here yesterday before Judge Joseph Marier on a charge of attempting to derail a train by placing wood on the tracks at Magog.

He was sentenced to three months in jail and the judge warned him that it was a serious offense, even if no accident occurred. The charge is punishable by life in prison.

Alvin Butler, of Lennoxville, charged with driving a car while his mental faculties were affected by the absorption of liquor and with causing bodily harm to a person as the result of an accident, had his summary trial. The judge took the case under deliberation. Judgment will be rendered next week.

James McMillan, no given address, pleaded guilty to a charge of riding on a train without paying the fare and was given two days in jail. He "rode the rails" from Montreal to Sherbrooke.

Child Drowned Near Dorset; 2 Bodies Found

The bodies of Brother Martial, 41, of the Brotherhood of Christian Instruction, and 16-year-old novice Andre Lamothe were reported recovered by Provincial Police in Missisquoi Bay, Wednesday. They were drowned near Phillipsburg June 30.

Another drowning was reported in the Eastern Townships yesterday. Gaetan Couture, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Couture, of Dorset, was drowned in the Courcelles River, several miles from his home, Wednesday.

He fell into the water as he and his four-year-old sister, Lisa, were amusing themselves by throwing stones into the river as their parents nearby were dismantling a camp in the woods. The little girl ran to tell of the boy's disappearance but, since none of the family could swim, they were unable to recover the body until an hour later, in seven feet of water, by means of a raft which they hurriedly constructed.

All Canadians Urged To Vote By Trade Body

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce today launched a national non-partisan "Get-Out-The-Vote" Campaign. To make the program fully effective right across the country, Canada's national business organization is enlisting the aid of its close to 700 member Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce and some 2350 member companies, including the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce.

These groups, representing a cross-section of the country's business and community life, are asked to co-operate in an all out effort to encourage people to go to the polls on August 10. To go to the polls on August 10, they will bring into play such things as literature, lectures, speakers, door to door campaigns, posters. Throughout the Campaign, the Canadian Chamber will co-operate fully with the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada which also is conducting a "Get-Out-The-Vote" Campaign. The Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada has a membership of 25,000 young businessmen and 270 local units across Canada.

"Democracy depends upon the exercise of the free and secret ballot," stated President Lewis W. Simms of The Canadian Chamber of Commerce, "and I believe that everything possible should be done to bring to Canadians a full appreciation of their responsibilities in this connection."

"The forces opposing our democratic way of life are assisted by apathy. Poor government and loss of freedom are the end results of indifference. We must therefore be alert and vigilant in the defence of democracy through the recognition and exercise of the responsibilities of citizenship."

Mr. Simms said that in the last General Election, in 1949, almost 2 million registered Canadian voters failed to take the trouble to visit a polling booth. "Democracy," he warned, "as we know it, cannot long survive this kind of indifference."

Dining Car Style of 1875 in the Canadian National Railways Museum Train features china and silverware of five former railways, now part of the Canadian National System. It was fashionable in those days to have inlaid woodwork on the walls and plush drapes over the windows and doors of the cars. The train is visiting Sherbrooke, Richmond and Coaticook during the week starting Saturday, July 18.

Retiring Directors Are Re-Elected For Brome County Medical Services

Knowlton, July 10. — The fourth annual meeting of Brome County Co-Operative Medical Services was held in the Projection Hall of the Knowlton High School with Mr. G. C. Whitcher of Foster presiding. During the year past one new group has been taken on and there is a possibility that one or more groups may be organized in the near future in Sherbrooke County by arrangement of a new charter, as three members of the Brome executive were recently invited to Lennoxville for the purpose of outlining Co-Operative Medical Services to that group.

Twelve meetings of the Board of Directors have been held in Brome County during 1953 despite difficult roads in winter months. Mr. Vollen Hastings mentioned that fact with special emphasis and congratulated the executive upon their faithfulness to the work of the medical services when he made a motion to re-elect the retiring directors: Messrs. Donald Hastings of Sutton; Claude Whitcher of Foster and Gordon Perkins of Mansonville. This motion was carried unanimously. Supervising director Vollen Hastings of Brome was re-elected for another term and special mention was made of his ability to break a tense situation which some Board meetings indicate, with his keen sense of humor, evenly mixed with good sense. At one time during the year, the Board executive attended a Co-Operative Conference in Mont-

WORLD FOOD PRODUCTION DROPPING

With all the practice men has had in rustling up victuals, he still does not seem to be very good at it. A United Nations report for 1951-52 shows world food production is barely keeping up with the population increase. But worse yet is the faulty distribution of food.

The United States and Canada are among the relatively small number of countries which are doing all right. In fact they appear to be doing too well and the figures seem to bear out medical claims that one of their problems is that the people of this continent eat too much.

For instance for the two-year period covered by the report the daily average caloric consumption per person in the United States increased from 3170 to 3210. But even the United States is plagued at the moment with too much food in some places and too little in others.

States east of the Mississippi are going to have a bumper crop this year. But they have limited storage space. The biggest wheat-growing states further west, however, are going to have a below-average crop. Yet this is where the biggest storage facilities are.

With all this, the United States is still going to have more than enough wheat for its needs, with more than half-a-billion bushel surplus from last year. Similarly, Canada is going to have a tremendous export surplus.

The big food shortages are in other parts of the world, notably India, where the fear of famine is constant. India's daily caloric consumption per average individual is only a little more than half that of this continent. Yet even that has dropped nearly 400 calories a day below the pre-World War II average.

The caloric intake in South America is remaining about stationary. And even in food-rich Denmark, the intake is still below the prewar average. The same goes for Germany, Ireland, Austria, Greece and Italy.

There are several reasons for this situation. One of them is that so much productive effort and equipment is devoted to turning out things other than food. Also, international trade barriers keep food out of some countries where it is needed. And dollar shortages are a serious handicap.

Fortunately for everybody, right in the middle of these bleak statistics comes along a man named Jacob Rosin with a book called, "The Road to Abundance."

Rosin says the only reason everybody in the world isn't well fed is that we've got an "infatuation with nature and try to raise our edibles the hard way."

Agriculture, as we now practice it, is the most inefficient of industries, he says, needing a fantastic amount of space to produce a relatively small return. And all at a cost much higher than it need be.

Synthetic foods produced by chemistry are Rosin's answer and he says they would taste just as good and contain as much food value as the real thing. Furthermore, there would be no limit on the amounts that could be produced synthetically. In other words there should be enough for everybody.

Which sounds fine, if people can be persuaded to eat beefsteak manufactured on a Detroit assembly line instead of on a Texas ranch. And if the Texas ranchers and Iowa corn growers can be talked into giving up their outdoor independence and beginning to punch a time clock in a food factory.

That last part, particularly, might take a little doing.

RIOTS REALLY SERIOUS

The riots in the Iron Curtain countries may be more difficult to stop than was realized at first.

The Kremlin politicians face a tough problem; food production is dropping at the same time that the numbers of people who have to be fed are increasing.

Needless to say these facts are not issued from Moscow. But Washington experts have a way of reaching through the Iron Curtain.

One such expert is Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, the last anti-Communist premier of Poland. He now is president of the International Peasant Union dedicated to liberating middle Europe.

The union, under Mikolajczyk's signature, sent a message to Thursday's opening session in Washington of the Big Three foreign ministers. The message gave emphatic credit to the peasant farmer of middle Europe for the breakdown in the Communist system which led to the June riots.

For more than a year the union has had grapevine reports that farmers in Bulgaria, Hungary, and Poland are leaning heavy on their plow handles. The result has been a drop in food production.

The same thing is said by the U.S. agriculture department economist, Dr. Lazar Violin. He says the farmer under communism has lost the incentive to work since he lost his acres to a political system which has abolished private ownership of land.

Violin thinks "the most serious obstacle to agricultural progress in modern Russia lies in the present political and economic institutions."

The drop in food production has to be balanced against the increase in population, which must be fed. Those figures are supplied by Robert C. Cook, director of the population reference bureau, in Washington.

They all show a marked increase in population. He balanced births against deaths, and gets the following increases: Bulgaria, 1947, 10.6 per cent; Hungary, 1948, 7.9 per cent; Czechoslovakia, 1950, 11.5 per cent; and Poland, 1950, 18.9 per cent.

Press Comments

ST. LAURENT'S RETIREMENT BECOMES CENTRAL ISSUE

Toronto Telegram

That Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent is the Liberal Government's most valuable campaign asset is a self-evident feature of the 1953 election. That he has reached the stage in his career, as a number of other leading Liberal figures have as well, where the probability is that this is his last election, is also an important factor in the campaign. It is no criticism of Mr. St. Laurent's age or his ability to recognize the probability, nor does it put any discount upon his high services to Canada or his assured place in our country's history.

He will probably be the first to regret the irritation and agitation displayed by some of his press and party friends over the proper and normal expectation that he will not continue to bear the burden of office indefinitely after the election, providing his Government wins. Yet the Toronto Star is attempting to extract from him a firm and indefinite commitment to do so. Mr. St. Laurent is approaching 72 years of age. His birthday comes on February 1. He enjoys vigorous health, with no diminution of his capabilities. As The Telegram reported accurately, he has no intention of dropping out "in the near future." He will likely remain Liberal leader "for quite some time yet." But these phrases can hardly be construed, as the Star argues, as specific assurance that he will not retire after the election.

Characteristically, the Toronto Star is unable to discuss the campaign, in this and other respects, without recourse to its stock in trade of personal attacks on George Drew. "There is no comparison," it sniffs, between Mr. Drew and Mr. St. Laurent. Mr. Drew's integrity and capacity, fortunately, do not suffer by comparison, being demonstrated in a long and honorable career in public life. He is the logical alternative to Mr. St. Laurent, both by virtue of the test of his record and by the logic of the party system. His stature, in a sense, is measured by the intensity of the attacks upon him. In a period in which dry rot is spreading through the federal administration, Canada is fortunate in having, in the Conservative party, the talent and personnel with experience and training to take over office at the call of the electors. Only the blind partisan of one-party politics will fail to recognize that the Drew team furnishes the alternative, and that the great transition is, in fact, under way in our politics.

DON'T BURN YOUR HERITAGE

Brandon Sun

The value of a well-stocked acre of pulpwood, when it is converted into pulp and paper, is $1,500 and most of this amount is paid in wages. This figure is quoted in a recent release by the Canadian Forestry Association to draw attention to the need for careful conservation of our forest resources. No person in his right mind would deliberately set fire to a workman's pay, yet that, in effect, is what happens when a forest fire is started by negligence.

During the past ten years, 42,000 Canadians have burned holes in their forest heritage averaging 220 acres for each act of recklessness. In the same period, exclusive of Newfoundland, Yukon and the Northwest Territories, Canada has suffered a subtraction of 4,373,000 acres of mature timber and 4,400,000 acres of young forests which were getting ready to restock the nation's woodlands. All of this wastage was credited to public carelessness.

Pulling against this stream of inexorable damage, the forest industries, encouraged by world demand, have multiplied their capital investment and engaged new forces of employees. In the five years to 1955, the pulp and paper industry alone estimates new investment of $600 million. The chief factor of stability in any branch of forest manufacture is an abundant and permanent supply of wood and, being Canada's largest employer, the steady filling of pay-envelopes depends upon fire-immunity and good management of the woodlands.

TIMELY SUGGESTION

Saskatoon Star-Phoenix

The people who are supposed to know (the U.S. air force) have told the people who want to know (the American public, through Congress) that is no connection between atomic explosions and the unusual weather of recent months. That seems to settle that. Americans must go back to blaming the weather on the weather. We Canadians share North America's climatic vagaries with our southern neighbors on a highly informal basis of reciprocity. But perhaps the joint arrangement is well enough accepted that we may venture a suggestion to U.S. authorities: Even if the atom is not making the weather unusual, could it not be employed in an effort to make the weather more usual.

SCHOOL EXAMS.

Saint John Telegraph-Journal

We may not like examinations, but nobody has yet discovered a practical substitute for them. They may have their flaws, but those who use them as a guide are aware of these faults and make allowance for them. Every type of intellect does not react equally to examinations. Some students can write a good paper on the basis of a minimum of useful knowledge, while others with a rich store are poor performers in the examination room. However, nothing better has been devised, and perhaps the first 2,000 years of examinations are the worst.

U.S. Production Soars, Economists Look For Letdown

By T. E. APPELGATE

New York—(AP)—Business and industry in the United States are sweeping past mid-1953 as just about the same high pace they've held for several months.

Many half-year production records—in steel, automobiles, electric power, rubber products—will tumble as June ends.

Estimates put six-month output at 58,500,000 tons of steel; 3,250,000 passenger automobiles.

There was no slackening of speed as the mid-year point approached. Factories hummed; retail stores reported trade volume well ahead of its 1952 level.

Here were some high spots reached in the latest week:

Electric power output was the highest in history, totalling 8,329,297,000 kilowatt hours; freight loadings of 812,578 cars were largest since last November, and heavy construction contracts awarded at a high since January at $484,411,000.

For months, in the middle of such boom indicators as these, economists have been looking for some erosion at the base of the business plateau.

At the start of the year some of them pressed to see probable easing in the economic picture by mid-year. Later predictions put this off to the third quarter. And now many see no indication of much let-up before the end of the year.

As the predicted date for a downturn in activity retreated farther into the future, business pointed a little finger.

The total output of goods and services—gross U.S. national product—climbed to record rates well above $360,000,000,000 annually.

In the face of a "hard money" policy that sent interest rates higher, business actually boosted its spending plans, indicating probable capital investment of about $28,000,000,000 this year.

This was a striking evidence of confidence in future profit prospects regardless of the course of true negotiations in Korea. The trade talks appeared to have their main effects on stock market prices which slumped from a January high, and in the more sensitive commodity future markets.

Many economists find a few danger signals flying as they cite six months of 1953 end. They cite the following:

Consumer credit has soared beyond $26,000,000,000.

Some industries like home building and machine tools have failed to show normal seasonal upturns this spring.

Some defence contracts, especially for aircraft, have been cancelled with resulting lay-offs of workers.

Backlogs of orders in certain fields, such as railroad equipment, have shrunk.

Turnover of used automobiles has failed to maintain its historic position relative to new car sales.

Output of some major appliances has been curtailed.

Some companies have reduced dividend payments.

Some large plywood mills have cut the work week.

But all these put together have not been enough to cut deeply into the over-all business boom.

Fibre Glass Now Most Versatile Of Modern Materials

New York—(AP)—The glass-makers have woven a bright new industry with shimmering strands of fibre glass.

Today, 15 years after the first commercial production began, the men who make fibre glass say there are so many potential uses that they sometimes don't know what field to invade next.

In various forms, fibre glass is going into insulation, curtains, boats, fishing rods, wallboard and thousands of other products. Research turns up new uses every day.

The spectacular growth of fibre glass has been based on a unique combination of advantages: It is exceptionally strong for its weight, can't shrink or absorb moisture, can't rot, oxidize or corrode, and is non-combustible.

Commercial production of fibre glass began in 1938, after years of research by Owens-Illinois glass company and the Corning glass works. Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corp. was formed in that year to make a handful of products, primarily filters and insulating materials.

Owens-Corning sales soared from $3,878,701 in the first year to $101,730,483 in 1952 as the number of uses for fibre glass multiplied many times.

Two Greatest Causes

Livestock and machinery are the two greatest causes of accidents on the farm. Animals are living things. Calmness, kindness, patience, thoughtfulness and learning how to handle and manage these animals will prevent accidents.

Female Lawyer Is Carrying Famous Name In Politics

Ottawa—(AP)—Sybil Bennett, a Georgetown, Ont., lawyer who heads the national women's organization of the Progressive Conservative party, carries a famous Conservative name into the present political campaign.

The 49-year-old Miss Bennett, a distant relative of the late Viscount Bennett, prime minister from 1930 to 1935, is making her second attempt to return the family name to the Commons.

In her first campaign in the 1948 general election in her home constituency of Haldon she lost to the Liberal candidate by fewer than 1,500 votes. For this year's election she got an early start with a nomination last summer, and since then has made a door-to-door canvass throughout the riding.

She is among the largest group of women candidates—seven at last count—ever to enter a general election for the party.

Miss Bennett, who favors smartly tailored suits and ultra-feminine hats, is one of the party's most effective public speakers and this summer is going outside her riding to campaign in the Ontario constituencies.

Born at St. George, Ont., she is the daughter of a Methodist minister who was an ardent Tory, and she has never swerved from the family allegiance.

She was graduated from the University of Toronto in 1926 and after four years at Osgoode Hall law school was called to the Ontario bar. After a term as solicitor with the agricultural development board of Ontario, she moved to Georgetown where she became a partner of Leroy Dale in a growing law practice.

In 1935 she was named a King's Counsel—one of the first women lawyers in Ontario to receive that honor—and inherited the gown which had been worn in court by Prime Minister Bennett.

She finds time from her political and legal activities to act as a director of the Peel County Children's Aid Society, and is also a member of her local Women's Institute and the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

SHORT STORY

Converted Back Slapper

By ROY V. PRICE

Pop's suit certainly looked its seven years drooped on his tall form, making him look older than his 59 years. His wife put her arms around his neck like a girl. "Now don't you worry about a younger man taking your job," she said. "There is always an opening for a good advertising salesman, dear."

Pop patted her cheek and kissed her. He forced his most cheerful manner, but somehow he knew he wasn't fooling her.

All these young upstarts use the same approach on everybody. Back-slapping and hearty handshakes! Not one of them has a real knowledge of the service he's selling. Not one of them has a deep appreciation for the psychological makeup of an individual he happens to be facing."

Pop left the bus, as usual, several blocks before he reached the office and walked through the park with an agility that proved he was more than strong enough to be an active salesman. But his brow was furrowed. He'd have a terrible time finding any job anywhere at his age! He was already breaking under the ravages of the pace he'd set for himself—a pace to outstrip all the other salesmen, especially Brown, who was looked up to as the best despite his back-slapping technique.

"Good morning, Pop," came a familiar voice.

"Hello, Reckless!" Pop called to the youngster.

"Lookit this dive bomber! Made it myself!"

Their talk about dive bombers stopped when Reckless fixed his books under his arms and glanced around. "Say, Pop, here comes

Pop thought it best not to take the initiative, but encouraged Hereford to talk.

"Dad!" When the boy's father came up, he was greeted with, "Dad! This is Pop. He helped me when I fell off my bicycle."

The men completed the introduction and shook hands. During the next few moments, Pop sized up the man. Very sensitive.

At the office the boss delivered a pep talk to his sales force. "We've been trying for the better part of two years to get the Hereford account. So far none of you has ever got inside his office. Brown, you were top man last month by a wide margin. And Pop, you've had more experience than any five combined. I want you and about the account. You know what it will mean to the man who brings it in!"

For an hour Pop had been patiently waiting, along with a dozen or more persons, to see Hereford. Suddenly the outer door opened and in barged Brown with a package under his arm. Instead of taking his place in line and waiting, he strutted right up to the girl at the desk.

"With my compliments, and I hope they're as delicious as you look," smiling, Brown handed her a box of candy.

"By the way, I thought if I might see Mr. Hereford for a minute."

"Go right in, Mr. Brown," she said, wrinkling her nose at him. Pop's chin was resting in his cupped hands as he wondered about his future and he didn't see Brown leaving rather briskly. Pop could already see Brown with the contract. Suddenly—and to his surprise—he heard his name called. Entering Hereford's office, Pop thought he'd never seen a more irritating-looking man. "Well, Hereford barked. Then he recognized Pop."

This was one time Pop thought it best not to take the initiative, but encouraged Hereford to talk. "Some high-pressure salesman forced his way into my office and tried to ram a bill of goods down my throat," Hereford wiped his perspiring forehead. "I was burned up!"

Next pay day, Pop's wife was waiting for him on the porch. "Didn't I tell you so?" throwing her arms around his neck, slapping his back. "That increase in salary proves it!"

"Aw, honey, it was nothing," Pop grinned. "But I certainly don't mind the back-slapping technique when you administer it."

Chain Newspapers Although chain newspapers in 1955 amounted to only 17 per cent of all daily and 25 per cent of all Sunday papers, they represented 42 per cent of total daily circulation and 52 per cent of total Sunday circulation.

Volcanoes In Alaska Now On Rampage

Anchorage, Alaska.—(AP)—A black pall of acid, sulphurous smoke spread for hundreds of miles over this land of the midnight sun today, and a thick blanket of ash sifted down from five volcanic eruptions.

The violent upheaval from three, and possibly more, newly-active peaks in the Aleutian range 80 miles west of here was touched off early Thursday.

In the next ten hours, five heavy explosions sent flame, smoke and lava chunks shooting miles into the sky. A U.S. air force pilot said the

Ousted Premier To Make Speech

Vienna.—(Reuters)—Matyas Rakosi, dismissed premier of Hungary but still one of the Communist party's three leaders, will address a special party meeting tomorrow, Radio Budapest announced.

The speech will be broadcast. This was the first mention of the activities of Rakosi since he was replaced as premier July 4 by Imre Nagy. Rakosi remains, however, on the three-member secretariat of the party.

The Communist party newspaper Szabad Nep said today Hungarian coal output is falling and asked miners to produce more to make Nagy's "new policy" of higher living standards successful.

MANSONVILLE

Mrs. Louis Laliberte, Miss Rejeanne Laliberte and Mrs. Adele Gendreau were in Sherbrooke for a day.

Miss Florence Barry is spending an indefinite time at the Mansonville House.

Miss Evelyn Teel, of Ville La Salle, is spending the summer at her cottage at Leadville, on Lake Memphremagog.

Smoke columns reached upward at least 50,000 feet.

Known to have ripped off their tops were 11,050-foot Mount Spurr, 10,600-foot Mount Thorbert and an unnamed cone nearby 4,500 feet high. The U.S. air force said other volcanoes in the wilderness region across Cook Inlet may have come to life.

Smoke and ash still poured from the craters today, and the possibility was strong more eruptions would follow.

Danger to human life was slight, however.

The spectacular volcanic display was described as the most awesome since Mount Katmai, in the Valley of 10,000 Smokes, went on a rampage 41 years ago.

Tons of ash fell on this city of 40,000—Alaska's largest.

Runways at Elmendorf air force base were covered with four inches of reddish dust.

City lights were turned on as the black cloud blotted out the almost perpetual light of the summer months. Cars groped through the eerie, unnatural dusk with headlights blazing. Townspeople donned slickers and carried umbrellas for protection from the dust.

Anchorage was cut off from the aerial traffic which is its lifeline. Both airports were closed.

5-Day Work Week Grows In Dominion

Ottawa.—(AP)—The 40-hour, five-day week apparently is growing in popularity, the June issue of the Labor Gazette says.

The Labor Gazette, official journal of the labor department, says that a survey showed 75 per cent of plant workers in manufacturing industries were working a five-day week by October, 1952, a five per cent increase over the previous October.

The percentage of workers on a 40-hour week rose to 40 from 36 during the same period. Fewer than 20 per cent had a 40-hour work week in 1947. The survey was based on 6,700 establishments employing more than 800,000 plant workers.

"Although a very considerable number of those workers who are on a five-day week work under 40 hours it is apparent that the 40-hour, five-day week is becoming an increasingly popular work schedule," the Gazette says.

The survey showed that 61.7 per cent of manufacturing plants had a five-day week and 31.1 per cent a 40-hour week.

Workers in British Columbia have the shortest hours. Seventy per cent of them are on the 40-hour week and 81.2 per cent on a five-day week.

Figures for other provinces: Newfoundland, 36.8 per cent on a 40-hour week, 35.5 per cent on a five-day week; Prince Edward Island, 25.1 and 20; Nova Scotia, 33.9 and 40.7; New Brunswick, 4.5 and 11.4; Quebec, 23.3 and 68.2.

The Gazette says 82 per cent of office employees in manufacturing plants were working a five-day week in October, 1952, an increase of six per cent during the year. Fewer than 10 per cent were working more than 40 hours a week.

Ontario with 91.8 per cent had the highest percentage of office workers on the five-day week. Other percentages: Newfoundland 46.2; Prince Edward Island 24.4; Nova Scotia 22.3; New Brunswick 35.7; Quebec 76.5.

Give Details Of British Jet Bomber

London.—(Reuters)—Air authorities today lifted a corner of the secrecy veil covering the latest of Britain's high-powered, long-distance jet bombers, the semitar-winged Handley Page Victor.

The Victor, ordered in quantity for the RAF, can fly faster, farther, higher and with a heavier bomb load than any other plane in the world, its makers claim.

Designed to operate at near-sonic speeds, about 600 miles an hour, the world's first crescent-winged bomber has four Armstrong-Siddeley Sapphire turbo-jet engines with more power between them than 25 modern express locomotives.

"It's global striking power in this atomic age is equivalent to many squadrons of last war bombers," Sir Frederick Handley Page said.

The engines are buried in the curved wing designed to reduce drag at high speed and great heights and to give better control. The Victor made its maiden flight last Christmas Eve. It completes the present series of four jet bomber types with which the RAF is being equipped.

The others are the English Electric twin-jet Canberra which has been in squadron service for some time, the four-engined Vickers Valiant and the four-engined delta-winged Avro Vulcan.

Carbondale, Pa.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Rexford Oakley, who would like to have "an even two dozen" children, may yet attain their goal.

Mrs. Oakley presented her husband with a six-pound, 10 ounce girl, their 19th child, Thursday.

All but one of the children, whose ages range from 16-month-old twin boys to James, 24, are living.

When the twins were born to the 44-year-old couple in March, 1952 Oakley commented: "We'd like to have an even two dozen."

Ousting Of Beria Topic At Parleys

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington.—(AP)—The downfall of Lavrenti P. Beria as Russia's second most powerful man presented this challenging question for the Big Three Western foreign ministers meeting here today: Does it foreshadow any change in Soviet foreign policy?

In immediate reaction to Thursday night's Moscow announcement of Beria's expulsion from government and Communist party posts, experts appeared divided on this critical point.

There was some thought here that Beria might be made the scapegoat for policies which permitted the recent uprisings against Communist rule in East Germany. But other opinion held that Beria's fate should be considered primarily as a dramatic incident in Soviet internal politics.

The development gave new urgency to the Big Three talks between U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, acting British foreign secretary the Marquess of Salisbury and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, whose conferences open this afternoon.

One of their concerns is to analyze what has recently been happening in East Germany, what Russia's intentions are and what the Western powers may be able to do to take advantage of the situation.

On one aspect of the Beria affair, U.S. officials were in full agreement. That is that Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov is acting decisively and ruthlessly to consolidate his power as Stalin's successor.

It was noted that Malenkov presented to the Communist party's central committee a report on Beria's alleged criminal activities in the interest of "foreign capital" which led to Beria's expulsion from the party.

The deposed leader also lost his job as first deputy chairman of the council of ministers and as minister for home affairs, the position which gave him control of the police apparatus. In the party list his name followed that of Malenkov and there, as in the government, his position was considered second only to that of the premier.

Speculation about possible effects on Soviet foreign policy arose from the theory that, as Malenkov succeeds in securing his hold on Soviet power, he may take a tougher line abroad. It was also believed the references to "foreign capital" may be the beginning of a new propaganda campaign against the U.S.

A six-point plan of "immediate measures" proposed by West Germany was assured of full consideration. The plan is designed to wipe out East-West barriers splitting Germany and establish political freedom in the Eastern zone.

Dulles, welcoming Lord Salisbury and Bidault to Washington Thursday, stressed the informality of the talks. There was no fixed agenda, but all agree that probably more time will be spent on the German problem than any other issue.

The German problem is regarded by Dulles' advisers as one requiring the most careful consideration because of the dangers of making a move which might work to the advantage of the Soviet.

BERIA CHARGED WITH the individual Soviet republics, at the expense of all-Soviet unity.

He tried to "sow enmity between realization of party and government directives and in a series of cases attempted to distort them."

"The incontrovertible facts show that Beria lost the character of a Communist, that he became transformed into a bourgeois degenerate, that he became in fact an agent of international imperialism."

"This adventurer and hireling of foreign imperialist forces gave birth to plans for seizing the leadership of the party and country for purposes of wrecking our Communist party and replacing the policy worked out by the party over many years with a policy of capitulations which would lead in the end to a restoration of capitalism."

The party organ repeated a familiar warning: "While there exists a capitalist

CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the presence of so many relatives, neighbours and friends, far and near, at the surprise party given in honor of our 30th wedding anniversary, June 27th and for the lovely gifts, flowers, cards and purse of money. Especially do we wish to thank all those who so kindly furnished music, refreshments or assisted in any way with the arrangements for the evening's entertainment. Your kindness will always be a pleasant memory.

MR. & MRS. CLIFFORD NUTBROWN, Lennoxville, Que.

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for their kindness to me and Mrs. Horn while a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, for cards, letters, fruits, and all those who visited me. To Dr. Hicks and all the nurses on the 2nd floor.

Way's Mills, Que. W. N. HORN.

MARRIAGES

KENNEDY-BEBEE

Hamstead, Que. — The marriage of Miss Lorna Eleanor Bebee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Bebee, of Valois Gardens, Que., to Mr. James Cron Kennedy, of Montreal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Kennedy, "Tarryholme" North Hatley, Que., took place in St. Matthew's Church, Hamstead, Montreal, on Saturday afternoon, July 4, at 3 o'clock, the Rev. Canon R. Kennel officiating. Mr. R. G. Harries, organist, directed the wedding music and Mr. Walter Clapperton sang, "The Lord's Prayer" and "Through the Years."

Pink and white gladioli and pink and white snapdragons were used to decorate.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a strapless gown of white nylon net over satin, over which she wore a red and white of French imported lace, fashioned with a high neckline embroidered with seed pearls and long sleeves ending in points over her hands. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a matching lace cap accented by a tracery of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of feathered white carnations and Sweetheart roses.

Miss Doreen Bebee, as maid of honor for her sister, was in yellow nylon net over tulle with a matching headress, and she carried a bouquet of yellow feathered carnations and mauve Sweetheart roses.

The bridesmaid, Mrs. Louis West, of St. Lambert, Que., was in green, her gown and flowers being identical to those of the maid of honor, and she wore a headress to match her dress.

Mr. John Turnbull, of Montreal, acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Dean Reavie, of Montreal, and Mr. Norris Hobbs, of Valois.

Mrs. Bebee, mother of the bride, wore a cocktail length gown of rose beige Chantilly lace over tulle with a tulle hat, navy blue accessories and a corsage bouquet of tea roses.

Mrs. Kennedy, mother of the groom, was attired in a gown of navy blue print and she wore navy accessories and a corsage of deep pink roses.

The reception was held in the Vice-Regal Suite of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, where the bride's table was decorated with pink and white snapdragons and centered with the wedding cake.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left by motor for points in Maine, New Hampshire and Cape Cod, Mass., the bride wearing a frock of white silk print with a navy blue shantung duster lined with the same material as the dress, a white picture hat and white accessories. Out of town guests included Mrs. G. R. Henderson, of Vancouver, B.C.; Miss I. Bebee and Mrs. O. J. Bebee, of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Kennedy, of North Hatley; Miss Molly Kennedy, of Owen Sound, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith, of Port Hope, Ont.

ROWE-JAMES

East Angus, Que. — The marriage of Miss Julia Caroline James, daughter of the late Mr. A. James, and Mrs. Robert Rowe, of East Angus, and Mr. Bruce Austin Rowe, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rowe, of East Angus, took place on June 20, at Christ Church, East Angus, the Rev. G. Robins, officiating. Mrs. Jack Westgate played the wedding marches, and "I'll Walk With Thee," during the singing of the register. Varicolored peonies and white roses were used to decorate the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. R. Rowe, wore a floor-length gown of white net with a lace bolero and a full length veil which was held in place by or-

Miss Elizabeth Grimes, whose marriage will take place in August.

The guest of honor was the recipient of a lovely china tea set, which was presented to her in a basket decorated in pink, by the Misses Joan Davidson, Ruth Hall and Genny Kennett, from her assembled friends.

Pink sweet peas arranged in a crystal bowl and pink candles in matching holders formed the attractive table appointments from which refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. George Davidson, Mrs. James Hall, Mrs. L. G. Dwyer and Mrs. Edward Kennett.

Dr. and Mrs. Jacques Bourque, of Quebec, are arriving today, to spend the week-end with the former's parents, Hon. J. S. Bourque and Mrs. Bourque.

Mrs. Robert Dupuis was hostess, at her home, on Portland Avenue, Tuesday evening, at a cup and saucer shower, given for Miss Beverly Parker, a bride-to-be of the month, which was attended by upwards of thirty friends of the bride-elect.

A large clothes basket had been trimmed in turquoise and pink to receive the gifts, but before long the receptacle proved too small and became surrounded by more and more attractive packages, which when opened, numbered twenty-five beautiful china teacups. The presentation to Miss Parker was made by Mrs. Dupuis, on behalf of the group.

The dining table, from which refreshments were served buffet style, was arranged with varicolored "mums" in a silver bowl and sky blue tapers in silver candlesticks. The buffet was decorated with bachelor buttons, Sweet William and sweet peas, blended in a pottery cornucopia.

Pouring were Mrs. A. S. Parker, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. C. F. Simms assisted in serving.

Birchton Birthday Club Gives Shower For Miss Lowry, Surprises Mr. Hinton

Birchton, July 10. — Birchton Christmas Club met at the parsonage with Mrs. Hinton as hostess. The afternoon took the form of a miscellaneous shower for Miss Emily Lowry, a member of the club whose marriage takes place shortly.

After Miss Lowry's arrival, she was presented with a box, decorated in yellow and white by Mrs. Henrietta Hodgman, who wished her all the best in her approaching marriage. After opening the parcels and passing them around for all to see, she thanked all for their lovely gifts and invited each to come and visit her in her new home at Coaticook.

Lunch was served at the close by the members of the club, tables being arranged in the study, also the dining room table where the bride-to-be, Rev. and Mrs. Hinton and other members were seated. When lunch was nearly finished, Mrs. Oscar Desruisseau brought in a decorated birthday cake with the members singing "Happy Birthday to You, Mr. Hinton."

Mrs. Hodgman on behalf of the club members, presented Rev. Mr. Hinton with a cane, wishing him many more happy birthdays. Rev. Mr. Hinton, taken completely by surprise, said he understood that the gathering was a shower for a bride-to-be, not a birthday party, but he wished to thank all for the remembrance, and especially menage blossoms, and carried a bouquet of deep pink and white carnations.

Miss Clarice Tincarre, as bridesmaid, was in a gown of yellow satin and lace, with a short veil, caught with a wreath of pansies.

Mr. George Heath acted as best man.

Mrs. Rowe, mother of the bride, was in a grey silk dress and she wore white and blue accessories and a corsage of asters.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the bride's home, where refreshments were served buffet style, the bride's table being decorated with roses and centered with the wedding cake.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. George Ralph and daughters, Dora Mae and Vivian, of Ascot.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left by motor for Lake Massawippi, for a short honeymoon.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Willard and daughter, of Campton, N.H.; Mrs. Cecil Pickle, Plymouth, N.H.; sister of the groom; Miss Pauline Rowe, Quebec City; Mr. and Mrs. A. McKeage and son, John, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Merrill, of Lennoxville.

On the return of Mr. and Mrs. Rowe from Massawippi, a wedding reception was held in the Catholic church hall, for about sixty guests, relatives and friends of the bride and groom, who were presented with many beautiful gifts.

Out of town guests at this event were, Mr. and Mrs. Davis and daughter, Donna, Mrs. C. Smith and daughter, Jona, of Bishopston; Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, of Drummondville; Mr. and Mrs. Belisle, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ralph and daughters, Doreen, Dora Mae, Vivian and Valerie, and son, Terry, of Ascot; and Mr. and Mrs. Carol Heath, of Sherbrooke.

A Bride-Elect Given A Shower At East Angus

East Angus, July 10. — A very happy event took place on June 25, at the home Mrs. Douglas Bell, when a miscellaneous "shower" was given in honor of Miss Huguette Lamontagne, a popular bride-to-be.

The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Ernest Heyes and Miss Sheila Bell.

Miss Lamontagne, who came to the house on an errand, was greatly surprised to find her friends gathered there in her honour. She was escorted to a decorated chair by Miss S. Bell, who presented her with a corsage.

Miss Lamontagne was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. She was assisted in opening these by her mother, Mrs. Albert Lamontagne.

The guest of honour thanked her friends in a few well chosen words.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. O'Neill Martel, Mrs. James Stickle and Mrs. Douglas Bell.

A GARDEN "SHOWER" A shower was given in honour of Miss Sheila Bell, by Miss Alice Dearden, Miss Louise Hayes, Mrs. W. Rowland, Mrs. C. Willard and Miss Sheila Ferguson and was held in the evening in the Ferguson's garden.

The bride-elect was ushered to the garden, where she was given a "shower" of bathroom accessories.

After which the gifts were admired and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Many friends attended and out-of-town guests included Mrs. Bellam, Miss M. Waldron, the Misses Bellam and Mrs. Cushman.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Robinson Feted on 25th Anniversary At Farnham's Corner

Farnham's Corner, July 10. — A largely attended party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Robinson on Friday evening on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary, on June 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson were invited to Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Spicer's for dinner, on Friday, and were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Paul, at Dunham. Then returning home in the evening, they were overwhelmed to find upwards of one hundred relatives and friends awaiting them to offer congratulations and good wishes.

They were received at the door by members of the family and their daughter, Christene, pinned a corsage of pink roses on her mother, and a carnation boutonniere on her father.

Chairs were then ushered to their special reserved for them underneath white wedding bells and streamers, while the "Bridal March" was played by Mrs. Junior Harvey, and all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

Mr. Allan, of the Baptist Church of Sutton, on behalf of those present, made the presentation of a combination radio and record player, to Mr. and Mrs. Robinson in a few well chosen words.

A short program was prepared by Mrs. Orton Baker, while Mr. Allan acted as chairman and called on Miss Beverly Ber, for a solo, "The Anniversary Waltz," accompanied on the piano by her sister, Miss Shirley Baker.

A reading was given by Miss Alva Hawley "Deacon Brown's Courtship," and a solo by Mrs. Junior Harvey, "When Your Hair Has Turned Silver," accompanied by Miss S. Baker.

Mr. Orton Baker acted out a song "MacManus' New Suit" and sang as an encore "Little Grey House in the West."

After which the gifts were admired and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Many friends attended and out-of-town guests included Mrs. Bellam, Miss M. Waldron, the Misses Bellam and Mrs. Cushman.

OBITUARIES

MR. ARCHIE McMULLEN, OF LENNOXVILLE

On July 2nd, 1953, this community was saddened to hear of the sudden death of Archie McMullen while at his work at the Carnation Milk Company. The end came as a great shock to his family and friends as the deceased seemed in perfect health.

Funeral services conducted by the Rev. M. Robinson were held on July 4th, at 2:15 from his late residence to St. George's Church. The hymns "Unto The Hills" and "Abide With Me" were rendered by the choir. The bearers were Messrs. Alex. Hodgman, Albert Fleck, Gladwin Blodgett, Norman Beach, Art Hall and J. A. Gervais.

The deceased was born on Spring Road, Lennoxville, youngest son of the late Brian McMullen and his wife, Ann Fry. Mr. McMullen spent the greater part of his life on the Spring Road, moving to Lennoxville in 1925.

On December 28th, 1910, he was united in marriage to Jessie M. Davis, of Montreal. Of this union, three children were born, (Garnetta) Mrs. S. G. Rainey, Ashley McMullen, of Lennoxville and Mildred, an employee of the Bell Telephone Company in Montreal. Three brothers, John, James and Barney, and two sisters, Ida, Mrs. Emery Lord, of Massachusetts, and Elizabeth Mrs. Frank Sherman, of Lennoxville, predeceased him.

Left to mourn his loss are his wife, one son, Ashley, and two daughters, Mildred, of Montreal and Garnetta, Mrs. Stanley Rainey, one son-in-law, Stanley G. Rainey, one brother, Mr. William McMullen, of Lennoxville, and one sister, Mrs. E. H. Clark, of North Hatley; and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful and told of the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Interment was made in Malvern cemetery.

Those attending the funeral from a distance were: Mrs. P. E. Byrne, Woodville, N.H.; Mrs. James Harvey, Mr. Jack Davis and Mr. John Cuppello, of Montreal; Mrs. E. H. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Little, of North Hatley.

MRS. WILLIAM BROWN, OF DERBY LINE

Rock Island, July 10.—Mrs. Bertha Brown, widow of William Brown, and highly respected citizen of these communities for 35 years, passed away at her home on Saturday afternoon, June 27.

The funeral was held the following Monday afternoon at her late residence, Rev. F. W. Mitchell, pastor of Christ Anglican Church, spoke words of comfort to the relatives and numerous friends who had gathered to pay last respects to a good friend.

The bearers were: Wilfred Beauchamp, William Brock, Byron Herick, Richard Provost, Roland Roy and Albert Sanborn. The remains were laid to rest in the Derby Line cemetery.

Mrs. Brown was born on December 30, 1873, at Nicolet, Que., the daughter of Moses Wilder and Chloe Leet Hall. Her early life was spent at this village where she received her education.

In 1899 she was united in marriage to William H. Brown, a druggist, at Pittsfield, Mass. In 1913 Mr. and Mrs. Brown came to the Boundary and purchased the drug store in Derby Line and another one at Rock Island. These they operated, serving faithfully the customers at both sides of the border with medical prescriptions filled at the Derby Line store.

During the years of serving the public they made many friends, for both possessed friendly dispositions and they were known on many occasions to put themselves out for the service of their customers. They were also both interested in community affairs and in the work of the local churches. Mr. Brown died in 1936, and for a time Mrs. Brown carried on the business at the stores they had operated together for 18 years.

Later she sold the Canadian building to Arthur Bouchard and the business to Henry Beaupre, both of Rock Island. The American building and business she sold to Roland Roy, a druggist from St. Johnsbury, Vt. Mrs. Brown then built a new home at the upper end of Main street, where she enjoyed several years of retirement. Death was due to coronary thrombosis.

During the repose of the remains at her home the numerous floral tributes were silent tokens of the love and esteem felt for the deceased. Mrs. Brown was a member of St. Stephen's Anglican Church, a past matron of Pleiades Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and was a 50-year member of Beulah Rebekah Lodge, all of Pittsfield, N.H.

Mrs. Brown is survived by a niece, Mrs. Roland Badger, Mr. Badger and four grandnephews, William, Bryan, Brandon and Barry Badger, all of Sherbrooke; three cousins, Mrs. Bertha Grondin, Miss Irene Sanborn, both of Burke, Vt., and Miss Mildred MacBean, of Stanstead; a sister-in-law, Mrs. John Jenness, of Pittsfield, N.H., all of whom attended the funeral. Others attending were Mr. Jenness and Mrs. Leon A. Hartwell, of Malden, Mass.

Sawyerville Re-Elects School Commissioners

Sawyerville, July 10.—On Monday, July 6, Messrs. Grant Forgrave and Gordon French were re-elected by acclamation for another term on the Sawyerville Protestant School Board.

General Notes
Mr. Donald Patrick was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Patrick, before leaving for Chicago, Ill., where he has a position.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maschke, of Lennoxville, were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. J. Reed.

Friends of Mrs. Cutler are pleased to hear she is progressing favorably at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Reginald Martin, and Mr. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Statton and Mrs. Julia Statton, of Massachusetts, were guests over the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick French.

Strong Winds Played Havoc At Stanbridge E.

Stanbridge East, July 10.—A storm with strong winds did quite a bit of damage here. Trees were broken down and blocked the road for several hours. Mr. Howard Wright is repairing damage to his barn which was moved four feet off the wall. In the village, electric lights and telephones were out of order for an afternoon.

The election of school commissioners was held on Monday, Mr. Hamilton, whose term expired, was re-elected. Mr. Wesley Gage had resigned and having one year to complete before retiring, his successor will be appointed by the members of the school board, for a year.

The services in the United Church are cancelled until July 26th, as Rev. T. F. Duncan is on vacation. In the meantime the interior of the church is being redecorated.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tomkinson when a score of their friends gathered to wish them a pleasant trip which they are taking by motor to Vancouver and to Los Angeles California, for about two months.

General Notes
Mr. and Mrs. Chester Boonhour and family and Mr. and Mrs. N. Monette and family have moved to Bedford.

Miss Pearl Beattie returned to Montreal after a week-end with Mrs. Minnie Bulard.

Mrs. Aurie Knight returned from Bedford, Miss Kate Knight, of Montreal is her guest.

Indians Take Over Second Position With Win Over Royals

Danny Osinski Hurls Six-Hitter; Jack Castro Homers; St. Johns Here Tomorrow To Open Crucial Series

Sherbrooke Indians moved into sole possession of second place in the Provincial League last night when they chalked up a 7-1 verdict over Drummondville Royals behind the six-hit performance of Danny Osinski.

The locals hold a slim two-point decimal advantage over the Quebec Braves who went down to defeat against Three Rivers. The victory enabled the Indians to move within one full game of the Granby Phillies, who are on top of the close race. The Pinky May squad has an off-night this evening before they open a three-game week-end series with the up-and-coming Canadians of St. Johns tomorrow night at the local park. On Sunday they will move over to St. Johns for an afternoon engagement before returning home for the third tilt under the lights at 8:00.

The Royals moved to the fore in the opening frame when they shoved across one run but in the fifth Jack Castro, the Indians' fast-moving centre fielder, clouted one out of the park to knot the count. Kelly, the Royals' ace, was on the mound for the Gionfriddo men and was charged with the loss.

INDIANS STAGE RALLY

The Sherbrooke squad swung into heavy action in the top half of the sixth when they tallied six runs. Osinski reached first on a wild throw. Waters and Pollard were issued free passes and Hobson hit into fielder's choice forcing Osinski. Bob Diers connected for a lousy double and two runs crossed the plate.

Jack Castro kept the rally alive with a single to shove one more run home. Bob O'Donnell drove into a fielder's choice and Castro beat the throw home. Don Harper belted a single and the Royals' ace was on his way to the show-ers. Smith took over and managed to retire the side but six runs had been registered.

In the following innings the Royals just couldn't do anything with Osinski. Smith made way for Anderson when the locals started another rally but failed to score and he finished the game.

Jack Castro was the pace-setter for the Indians with three hits in four trips to the plate while Bob Diers gathered two-for-three. Harper and Del Gaudio picked up the other two hits. Three errors were committed by the Royals which didn't help their cause.

Danny Osinski gave up four free passes to the initial sack but retired six at the plate. The Royals' trio issued four tickets and ripped five via the swinging method. Only one double play was completed and that was by the Royals' keystone combination.

Sports Roundup

New York—(P)—The name of Ralph Branca, the man who made Bobby Thomson "the hero," is going the rounds of the major league waiver lists, a $10,000 pitcher with a 0-0 record.

For years the Dodgers stuck with Branca, just as the club went along with Rex Barney, the Omaha wild man, hoping he would live up to his early promise. Now they're ready to give up, if they can make the right kind of a deal.

Branca remains a mystery. Back in 1947, when he was a lad of 21 fresh out of New York University, he won 21 ball games in the National League. But that was six years ago. He won 14 the next year, then 13, down to seven and back to 13 in 1953. Then it happened.

Brooklyn and New York, finishing in a tie for first place, each had won a playoff game. Don Newcombe, struggling with every pitch, coddled a 4-1 lead into the ninth inning of the third and final game at the Polo Grounds.

Newcombe had lost one run of his lead and there were men on second and third with one out when manager Chuck Dressen called Branca.

Branca threw one pitch, to Bobby Thomson, a called strike. The next rode into the left field stands for a home run that left its mark on Branca.

There was an unforgettable picture in the papers the next day of Branca, slumped in utter despair.

Casey Stengel Stews In Yank Dugout As Mel Parnell, Man He Didn't Pick For All-Stars, Shuts Out New York

First division standings in the hot National League pennant chase hinge on vital series starting tonight in Brooklyn and St. Louis.

Chief American League interest over the week-end will centre on Chicago where the White Sox open a five-game stand against Cleveland with the runner-up slot in the American League race at stake.

Leo Durocher's suddenly impressive New York Giants, riding a six game winning streak and talking confidently of better things, invaded Brooklyn for three games with the first-place Dodgers.

Milwaukee's second-place Braves, visit St. Louis for a four-game set with the Cardinals, whom they lead by half a length.

The Giants haven't cooled since they buried Brooklyn 20-6 Sunday. They got a brilliant two-hit shutout from rookie Ruben Gomez to down the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-0. Brooklyn bowed to Philadelphia 6-5 and the Cards and Braves weren't scheduled.

The hustling White Sox shaved the Yankees' first place margin to five games in the American League by whipping Detroit 4-2 while the New Yorkers were willing before the southern slants of Boston's Mel Parnell, 4-0. Cleveland stayed 5½ off the pace with a 9-1 verdict over the St. Louis Browns.

Washington beat Philadelphia 8-4. In handling Pittsburgh's sixth straight loss, the Giants climbed within one game of first division. They've been that close before this season but they've always fizzled under pressure.

The two Pirate hits of Gomez, the young Puerto Rican who bought his way out of the Yankee farm system during the winter because he didn't think the world champs appreciated him, were singles by Danny O'Connell and Eddie O'Brien. Gomez has a 6-4 record with the Giants.

Indians And Giants Win In Minor Ball

St. Pat's Indians took over leadership in the Sher-Lenn. Minor Baseball last night when they defeated St. Joseph Yankees 17-11 at Sangster Park. Lennoxville Giants won their second game of the season defeating West Ward Dodgers 25-13.

The Indians jumped into an early lead in the first three innings getting eight runs. Alan Anderson held the Yankees to four hits until the fifth inning and letting them score single points in the third, fourth and fifth. The Yankees got a big seventh inning when they pushed seven runs across, mostly on errors by the Indians infield. Pete Langos, Indians catcher, hit two home runs in the game.

The Giants had it pretty easy in their game with the Dodgers, getting eleven runs in the first inning. The Dodgers threatened in the early innings, but could not overcome the Giant's lead.

Citadels Make Bid To Enter OHA Loop

Toronto—(P)—Quebec Citadels, orphan team of the Quebec Junior A hockey league, made one slight progress Thursday night in a bid for entry into the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

Owner Frank Byrne and coach Phil Watson and a Citadels lawyer, appeared before an informal gathering of OHA junior council members but got only an adjournment of their proposal. The meeting was arranged after a Quebec appeal to George Dudley, business manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, for a hearing.

The Quebec proposal was that the Citadels join the OHA as a full member, playing three home and three away games with every team in the league. The Citadels' management proposed to pay each Ontario team $800 or a percentage of the gate for each game played in Quebec City and would receive nothing in return for games the club would play in Ontario.

While Ontario representatives showed interest in the proposal their opinion seemed to be that the CAHA-QAHA situation at the junior level still was too confused for wise participation of the Quebec group.

The decision was postponed by the Ontario group until after Aug. 1, the date the Quebec league must decide whether it will enter Memorial Cup competition this season.

Stan Leonard Drive Beans Hotelkeeper

Toronto—(P)—Stan Leonard of Vancouver went to dinner Thursday night with the man he conked on the head—with a golf ball.

Playing in the second round of the Canadian Open, Leonard drove a low second shot, a full brassie, for the 18th green, uphill from the sharply sloping fairway.

Almost at that instant Leo Osborne, manager of the nearby hotel where Leonard and other players are staying, poked his head over a rise in the ground, the ball caught him squarely on the head, and he dropped to the ground. One of the first to give assistance was Conn Smythe, general manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League.

Mr. Osborne was taken to hospital and examined for possible concussion.

Several hours later, Leonard's low second shot, a full brassie, and dinner arrangements, for Stan and a few others, still stood.

Ex Big Leaguer Plays At Edmonton

Edmonton—(P)—Marv Rickert, former outfielder with Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs, is making brief appearances this season with an Edmonton amateur club.

Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League last year bought him from Baltimore in mid-season for $20,000 but allowed him this year to try to catch on with a Pacific Coast League club. Instead, he apparently retired from organized baseball.

Clyde McCullough Replaces Crandall

Cincinnati—(P)—Clyde McCullough, veteran catcher for the Chicago Cubs, was chosen Thursday to replace the injured Del Crandall of Milwaukee on the National League all-star team which meets the American League club in Cincinnati Tuesday.

Charley Dressen, pilot of the National League, said McCullough was chosen because he can handle knuckle-ball pitchers. Two of Dressen's hurlers—Gerry Staley of St. Louis and Hoyt Wilhelm of the New York Giants, throw the knuckler.

THURSDAY'S STARS

Pitching
Mel Parnell, Boston Red Sox, won his 12th game, tops in the American League, by shutting out New York Yankees for the second straight time 4-0.

Batting
Whitey Lockman, New York Giants, ran his major league hit total to 1,001 with four singles in the Giants' 4-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

Sherbrooke Racing Club Presents Strong Card On Tomorrow Night's Agenda; Eight Classes On Program

Another good card of racing has been lined up by Purvis Lawrie, secretary of the Sherbrooke Racing Club, for tomorrow evening. The first event is listed for 8:00.

Eight races are on the program and the entries will battle it out for the amount of $1,800 in purses. Three of the classes are for purses of $400 each while the first and second are for $250 apiece. Eight starters will face the gate in all races with the exception of the first, third and sixth races when only seven will compete.

Several horses will be making their initial appearance on the local oval and no doubt these will cause the wagers plenty of worry in choosing the winners. In the third and sixth events Pac Mac, owned by L. Hucksins, of Derby Line, Vt., will tangle once again with Louisa Worthie, the property of O. Beaudoin, of St. Adolphe.

These two horses finished in a dead heat last week and should give a good account of themselves before the winner crosses the wire.

In the CC Pace it is a toss up as all horses stand a fair chance of coping the honors. Several of these are making their debut while in the fifth and eighth races, in the B Pace, it should be another one of picking your own all-around Josephine Patch and Brady Signal should have a little edge of the field.

Tomorrow evening is Ladies' Night at the races and all ladies will be allowed free entry for the evening of entertainment. The first class will be called for 8:00 sharp, and the fans should be in for a busy night trying their luck at choosing the winners.

The horses entered for tomorrow night follow:

Ex-World Champ Doug Grant Gives Net Exhibition At North Hatley With Soles, Campbell And Harmer

Doug Grant, former world's professional badminton champion, teamed up with Gordon Harmer, of Sherbrooke to defeat Maitland Soles and Lorne Campbell, of Sherbrooke, 15-10, 15-10 in an exhibition match played on the new grass court at the Pleasant View Hotel last night.

Grant, who is at present the second best professional in the world, downed Harmer in an exhibition singles match 15-6.

A high wind prevented long rallies and frequently the players had difficulty serving and making high returns.

A large number of the hotel guests in addition to Sherbrooke and North Hatley badminton fans were on hand to witness the matches.

Campbell, always a contender in the E. T. badminton tourney in singles, men's doubles and mixed, teamed up with Soles, who has held the E. T. men's doubles title for several years. They gave Grant and Harmer a tough battle. Harmer, twice finalist in the E. T. men's doubles, played with Grant and the twosome smashed frequently.

No 1953 Baseball For Ted Williams

San Francisco—(P)—Marine Capt. Ted Williams returned to the United States Thursday from air combat service in Korea and firmly ruled out any possibility that he would return to baseball this season.

The famed Boston Red Sox hitter said he might get back into the game next season, provided the Red Sox "want to fool around with old men." Williams will be 35 next month.

Bound immediately to Oakland, Calif., for treatment of an ear ailment which cut short his Korea duty, Williams said he did not know how long he will be in the hospital. He noted he was not due for discharge from the service until October in any event.

Saskatoon Golfer Only One Off Pace; Toronto Amateur Gets Hole In One As Four Americans Lead In Canadian Open

Toronto — (CP) — Four American pros, all well-known on the circuit, share the second-round lead in the $15,000 Canadian open golf championship. And up there, just one stroke off the pace, is Saskatoon's Pat Fletcher who overcame a dose of stomach flu to shoot a three-under-par 68 Thursday.

Slim Gardner Dickinson, a 127-pound bundle of dynamite from Panama City, Fla., withstood the challenge of name players to keep his share of the lead with Wally Ulrich, St. Paul, Minn.; Leo Biagetti, Baltimore, Md., and Ted Kroll, Utica, N.Y. Each has 136 for the 36 holes and Fletcher is chasing them with 137.

It was a somewhat goofy day around his nifty 6,607-yard course as the 180-odd golfers from Canada and the United States came up with scores ranging from 67 to a 17-over-par 88.

There was a hole in one, by amateur Bill Givens, vice-captain of the host Scarborough club; a spectator poked his head in front of a hard-driven ball and was knocked cold; Ky Lafoon from St. Andrews, Ill., lost his temper and broke his putter across his knee and slow-moving officials kept Ted Kroll of Utica, N.Y., hanging around the 10th fairway for more than an hour before they appeared on the scene to decide on a lie.

The course was swept by a stiff wind throughout most of the day and it proved a real hazard to many in the big field which now has been cut to the low 100 and ties.

More than 20 were bunched within five strokes of the pace-setters. The outstanding name, as far as Canadian golf fans were concerned, was that of Fletcher who placed third in the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship at Quebec last weekend.

"I felt terrible and I wondered whether I should play," Fletcher said after his round of three-under-par 68, one stroke better than his opening-round score of 69. He had three birdies in the first seven holes and equalled par the rest of the way.

And luck wasn't with him. At the ninth, 15th and 16th holes he hit the cup and the ball either bounced off or hopped out. At the 18th his 15-foot putt rimmed the cup and stopped within inches.

PLAY EXHIBITION MATCHES—Doug Grant, former world's professional badminton champion, gave an exhibition at North Hatley last night. Grant teamed up with Gordon Harmer, twice finalist for the E. T. men's doubles title, to beat Lorne Campbell, always a contender in E. T. tournaments, and Mait Soles, winner of the E. T. men's doubles title for many years. Grant beat Harmer easily in singles 15-6 and the scores for the doubles were 15-10, 15-10.

Tournament Billed As "Hogan's Own" Becomes Anyone's As 10 Top Golfers Within 4 Strokes In British Open

Carnoustie, Scotland — (AP) — Ten great golfers were bunched within four strokes Thursday night at the head of the pack as a ruthless scramble developed for the prized British open golf championship.

Dai Rees and Eric Brown, two Britons, led with 142's, two strokes ahead of Ben Hogan and Frank Stranahan of the United States.

Hogan added a 71 to his 73 of Wednesday for 144, while Stranahan slipped from 70 to 74 for the same total. Peter Thomson of Australia was tied with the two Americans, while between these three and the leaders was the powerful Argentine star, Roberto de Vicenzo, with 143.

The final 36 holes of the 72-hole tournament over the tough, windy, wet course will be played today with the field cut from 91 to 49.

A score of 154 was needed to qualify for the finals.

The tournament, billed as Ben Hogan's own, became anyone's. But the little Texan, famed for his fighting finishes, might well have been out in front if his putts had not been missing by inches and fractions thereof. This is his first attempt to add the British title to his long list of American victories.

Bobby Locke, the round-faced South African, who is defending champion, is in contention with 72-73-145, tied with Max Faulkner and T. H. T. Fairbair, both of England, with identical scores of 74-71-145. Antonio Cerda of Argentina had 75-71-146.

Rees, the merry Welshman, shot a 70, best score of the day, to put with his 72 of Wednesday. Brown, an unemployed professional golfer who comes from Scotland, did 71, the same as his first score. There is no official par for this tough course, but unofficially 72 is considered standard.

Lloyd Mangrum of Los Angeles and Niles, Ill., was buried back in the pack with 75-76-151, but he qualified for the last 36 holes.

The fourth American in the tournament, D. W. Fairfield of Chicago, shot a 79 to go with his 82. The 161 failed to qualify him for the finals.

Hogan, playing on a windless day, seemed to be heading for a deep sub-70 round Thursday morning. He putted for birdies on six of his first eight holes and got two of them to drop for under-par scores.

But on the seventh he hit a "dumb shot"—as he called it. The ball snagged in a green—obstructing bunker at the grass line. Hogan slugged it out with a seven iron instead of stroking it gently.

The ball didn't stop short of the apron on the far side, and Hogan had a destructive 5. He got another with a weak chip on the ninth.

Putting again was Ben's greatest trouble and repeatedly he had long rolls miss the cup by half the width of the ball, or stop short by less than three inches. Other wise, he played magnificent golf.

Hogan trailed the leader, Stranahan, by three strokes Wednesday, and lagged behind Locke by one. That difference was made up on his own good golf Thursday and by a wild finish by Locke. Bobby took two 5's on the last two holes. Until that wild streak, he had the hottest round of the day working. Unlike Hogan, he was putting like mad.

Stranahan made his turn in 36. But on the homing side he got wild. Good chipping and fair putting held down the score for this two-time winner of the British amateur title, who strangely was left off the Walker Cup team this year.

Yankees Defeat Second-Place Braves In Provincial Baseball League, 3-1; St. Hyacinthe Downs St. Johns Club

The seventh-place Three Rivers Yankees were out-hit 7-5 Thursday night and committed two errors, but still managed to come up with a 3-1 victory over the second-place Quebec Braves in a Provincial Baseball League game.

Two runs in the fifth inning were enough to give them the game.

The third-place Sherbrooke Indians went on the warpath in the sixth inning, sending six men pounding home, and downed cellar-dwelling Drummondville Royals 7-1.

The eighth-place St. Hyacinthe Athletics, behind the seven-hit pitching of Mike Munsinger, downed fourth-place St. Johns Canadiens 7-4.

The Braves used two hurlers, Frank Oehling and Lague, in an effort to stem the Yankees' tide.

At Drummondville, the Royals took a 1-0 lead in the bottom half of the first and the teams went scoreless from then until the fifth when the Indians tied it. Victory went to Dan Osinski.

At St. Hyacinthe, the Athletics' big inning was the second, when four men went pounding home before the side was retired. Two runs in the fourth sewed it up.

A game originally scheduled between Granby and Thetford Mines was taken care of in a double-header Wednesday night.
