THE QUEBEC GAZETTE. QUEBEC, NOV. 27TH, 1856.

Now that the season of business is about closing, it will not be amiss to engage the attention of this community with the subject of public works, which would add to the importance of the city, and extend its trade. Railways of late have been the policy of the Upper Canadians, and since with them it has been so signally successful, we see no very good reason why Lower Canadians, and particularly those of this city, should not adopt it, and cordially unite and insist upon a full measure of justice to them.

With reference to the fire mentioned in our last, we learn from the Chronicle of yesterday that it broke out in a large two-story wooden house, at Cape Cove, belonging to Mr. James Mulrooney, and in the occupation of four families, which was totally destroyed. The fire originated in the apartments occupied by one Murray, watchman to Mr. Dinning, ship-builder, and was first observed in the roof of his room, not far from the chimney. He and the other tenants saved the greater part of their furniture. The fire extended to the house adjoining, in the occupation of Messrs. Mull, came and O'Brien, the greater part of which was burnt and gutted down. The premises to the eastward, owned by Mr. E. H. Hall, also took fire several times, and were saved from destruction by the strenuous exertions of the neighbours, who worked a small engine belonging to Mr. Bias, as well as by the activity and perseverance of No. 8 Company, of the Fire Brigade. The fire being so large, it was difficult to procure water, No. 9, Captain Byrne's, Fire Company, having promptly come up, its hose was joined to that already in use, and the flames were soon afterwards extinguished. We learn that Mr. Mulrooney's property was insured for £150.

The New York Herald says, that the books of the Commissioners of Emigration show that emigration is constantly on the increase. Last week 8,599 persons arrived at that port, being the largest number landed at Castle Garden depot in one week since its establishment. The emigration so far this year has been 129,977, being an increase over the emigration of last year for the same period of 4,248. The multitude of the commission, which last year was nearly 100,000, and threatened to swamp the institution, has been diminished to 56,376-51, and altogether its affairs promise very well. There are now 1,882 persons in the institution under their charge, a decrease of over 500 since last year.

It is stated that some United States gentlemen have a project on foot, of facilitating the communication between the Western States and the ocean, via the St. Lawrence, by constructing a canal across the Michigan peninsula, which it is said will shorten the route by some hundreds of miles, and save much of the navigation of the rough waters of Lakes Huron and Michigan.

AN UNLAMENTED SHIP.—The New York Times says:—We regret to learn that owing to some misconstruction in a part of the machinery of the new Collins steamer, the "Adriatic," the upper deck will have to be removed, in order to take out the machinery in question, to be replaced by new. It is understood that the defective machinery is a newly invented valve. As the cabins, cockpit, and all the principal offices of the ship are on the main deck, the cost of taking it out must be very considerable, and will probably detain the vessel until spring. It is a public misfortune that so splendid a specimen of naval architecture, and a ship which will reflect so much credit upon the mechanical enterprise of the nation, should be kept from service for which she was built, by so trifling a miscalculation. In consequence of the defect in the engine, they have been unable to move her wheels.

CONGRESS.—The second session of the thirty-fourth Congress, will begin at Washington, on Monday next.

POLITICAL RHETORIC.—A New York Journal contains an electioneering speech, in which occurs the following paragraph:—My honorable colleague who has done me the honor to contend with me in this election, is as a private man very amiable, but as a politician he is an evil-tempered, graceless, cowardly rascal. I know he is wise and prudent in his private business, but for an office he would sell his father and make over his soul to the devil. He is a man of honor and of honesty, but as a legislator he would betray any trust that might be reposed in him, for in political matters he is an adroit and cunning knave. In all his private relations of life he is a sincere friend, but in public affairs as treacherous as a Kentucky alligator.

LUXURIOUS RAILROAD CARS.—The Detroit Advertiser says, that the Illinois Central Railroad, for comfort and convenience, excel those on any other road in the West. One of them contains six state-rooms, each room having two seats, with cushioned backs, long enough for a person to lie upon. The backs of the seats are hung with hinges at the upper edge, so that they may be turned up at pleasure, thus forming two single berths, one over the other, where persons may sleep with all the comfort imaginable. In one end of the car is a small wash-room, with marble wash-basins, looking-glasses, &c. On the opposite side of the car from the state-room is a row of seats with revolving backs, similar to barbers' chairs, so arranged that the occupant may sit straight, or recline in any easy attitude at pleasure. The other five cars have each two or three similar state rooms.

OF THE THIRTY AMERICAN DOCTORS who served in the Russian army during the war, about one-third have died, and the rest have returned home without exception.

TO OUR CITY CORPORATION. (To the Editor of the Quebec Gazette.)

MR. EDITOR.—Allow me to inform the Quebec Corporation individually and collectively, (though it does look as if I thought them a stupid set of blockheads,) that there is not one newspaper, but three, published in Quebec, read by men in business, viz. the Quebec Gazette, the Morning Chronicle, and the Quebec Mercury.

The "Narcissus" newspaper advertises the following important deserter from Gen. Walker's army: OLIVER CROMWELL, aged 32 years, 5 feet 6 inches high, light complexion, light hair, sandy whiskers, hazel eyes—weighs about 140 pounds.

On Saturday morning, 294 loaves of bread were seized by the Montreal Police for light weight, which were distributed among the various Catholic and Protestant Institutions of that city.

THE PROGRESS OF THE AOK.—The Pasha of Egypt has made a contract with a Parisian company to light Alexandria with gas. Of late years, Alexandria has made great strides in improvement. The "Sound of the Church going bell" is now heard from three Christian temples, and there are new streets of handsome houses. A railway runs to Cairo.

I am really sorry, that a man of reputed intelligence, such as the Chairman of the Water Committee, should require to be told so, but perhaps he thinks Quebec cannot possibly possess such a lot of six tons of pipe-iron, and that it was quite unnecessary to advertise about it, so went direct to Montreal, and advertised in the Montreal Gazette.

Though a plumber and a tinker, I would not to inform the Corporation, that I myself had not six tons of pipe-iron at hand, at a time, which they or any body else can get as satisfactorily worked up by me as any Montrealer, and as cheaply I hope.

I think our present Councilors when seeking re-election had better canvass in Montreal, if they are so fond of it.

Excuse this intrusion on your space, Mr. Editor.

I remain, &c. Yours, LEAD PIPE. Quebec, 26th Nov., 1856.

SUDDEN DEATH. An inquest took place on Saturday, at Ellah's Hotel in this city, before Dr. Scott and a highly respectable jury, as to the cause of the death of a gentleman named Henry Crabbe, who had not been long in Canada. He was a native of England, and had recently visited various parts of the Province. A gentleman at the Hotel had remarked to him on Friday that he seemed to be indisposed, but Mr. Crabbe took little or no notice of the circumstance. He died at the Hotel on that day, but very sparingly than usual. He returned to his room, where he was found shortly after in a state of profound stupor, and died before any medical assistance could be procured. A post-mortem investigation of all the circumstances was gone into. The jury returned a verdict of death by apoplexy. The deceased was aged 40 years.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—An inquest was held this morning before Mr. Coomer Panel, and a highly intelligent jury, at the instance of Dr. Rowland, on the body of Mr. Thomas Filley, who died suddenly on Sunday evening, at his late residence, Mrs. O'Neill's, St. George's street, Grand Battery, in consequence of an attack of apoplexy. The deceased was 40 years of age, and was engaged in the business of a merchant. The evidence showed that the deceased had been suffering for two or three days only, and was first seen by his medical attendant, on the occasion, only the day before his death. It was clearly established that the deceased came to his death from apoplexy (paralysis), induced by intense purging from opium salts, and that there was also a softening of the heart, which had led to the fatal result. The jury returned a verdict accordingly.—Mercury.

REAL ESTATE.—The well known Prince of Wales Buildings, in St. John street, the property of the late Wilson, was yesterday sold by the Sheriff. The sale was well attended, though few bids were offered, and the property was sold by his medical attendant, on the occasion, only the day before his death. It was clearly established that the deceased came to his death from apoplexy (paralysis), induced by intense purging from opium salts, and that there was also a softening of the heart, which had led to the fatal result. The jury returned a verdict accordingly.—Mercury.

MISFORTUNES SELDOM COME SINGLY.—Our Boston neighbors have had a very trying time of it all through Canada. They suffered at the celebration, and a party of gentlemen, consisting of a number of the nobles, and the late Joseph Books, the agent of the Grand Trunk Railway in Boston, took a trip west, after the celebration was over, and stopped at Toronto. The correspondent of the Traveler thus speaks of Toronto:—

On the 23rd of the month we had formed of the local party, a number of people, our acquaintance with Mr. Coleman was not so intimate as we would like to see, and we were glad to find some excuse for the novelty and excitement of the occasion. The party consisted of a number of the nobles, and the late Joseph Books, the agent of the Grand Trunk Railway in Boston, took a trip west, after the celebration was over, and stopped at Toronto. The correspondent of the Traveler thus speaks of Toronto:—

At Cobourg, two ladies, who had been to the public, came into the car. They were from Cobourg, and were of the most agreeable and companionable disposition. They were accompanied by a young lady, who was in the habit of visiting them in the city. They were all very much pleased with the arrangements, and were very much surprised to find that the party was so large. They were all very much pleased with the arrangements, and were very much surprised to find that the party was so large.

A NORTONIAN FELLOW.—James Murphy, laborer, who has been frequently charged with theft, was arrested on Sunday night, about seven o'clock, by detective John O'Leary, of the City Police, for having committed a robbery on the person of Hugh Devanny, an emigrant, who arrived at Quebec, it appears that Mr. Murphy had been in the habit of visiting him in the city. They were all very much pleased with the arrangements, and were very much surprised to find that the party was so large.

On arriving at the tavern, I learnt that Murphy had been there and had taken away the bag and watch. This bag was full of wearing apparel to the amount of about twenty dollars. Devanny then called at the Police Station and related the circumstances as detailed above, when detective O'Leary was sent in pursuit of Murphy, and succeeded in arresting him in St. Paul Street. On Monday morning, O'Leary found the bag and watch at the place where the accused had sold them. Murphy was then taken before a Magistrate, when he was fully committed to wait his trial at the ensuing Court of Quarter Sessions.—Ibid.

POST OFFICE REGISTRATION OF LETTERS.—A notice has recently been received from the General Post Office, London, which the public ought to be acquainted with. In consequence of the frequency with which letters marked "Registered" have been put into the receiving letter boxes, an order has been issued to charge one shilling in addition to the postage, on every such letter, which it is not paid by the sender, will be charged on the letter when delivered. The object of this heavy charge, is avowedly to check the habit of marking letters, an order for registration should be handed directly to the proper clerks in the Post-office, to be marked and entered in a proper manner.—Toronto Courier.

LOSSES ON THE LAKES. The Chicago Tribune says that the disasters upon the Lakes this season far exceed in number and fatality those of any past season. Wrecks, fomenting, burnings and collisions have been numerous, and the sad details have filled many columns of our paper.

THE GREAT WHISKEY MART IN THE WORLD.—We copied an article from a Cincinnati paper, a day or two since, on the whiskey business of the Ohio Valley, in which it was claimed that Cincinnati was the greatest mart for whiskey in the world, the quantity sold in that market amounting to 220,000 barrels, or nine millions of gallons annually. But our Cincinnati contemporary claimed rather too much for the Queen City of the West. New York is already, it is claimed, the greatest mart for whiskey in the world, the quantity sold in that market amounting to 220,000 barrels, or nine millions of gallons annually. The following carefully prepared table of vessels which have been totally lost may be of interest. It is incomplete, and there are several which have not proved a total wreck which we know not of:

Steamers—British Empire and Queen, by collision; the Niagara, by fire; the City of Hamilton, ashore; the Mazepa, sunk; the Superior wrecked.

Propellers—Louisville, Falcon, and Tinto, by fire; Cayahogue, Sandusky, and St. Joseph, ashore; Toledo and the J. W. Brooks, foundered and gone to pieces.

Tugs—Dorr and Hadley, sunk. Brigs—F. C. Clark, A. L. Cobb, Ellen Gilmour, ashore; and the Ellen Parker and Nebraska, by collision.

Schooners—Wyandotte, Rival, Nile, Pratt, St. Anthony, Home, Magnolia, Yankee, Gen. Taylor, Europe, Happy Go Lucky, Hamlet, J. W. Ross, J. E. Shaw, Sebastopol, Brand, Geo. Davis, Forward, Forest Giant, Industry, Orion, Alma, Ketchum, J. P. Hale, Pligrim, Telegraph, S. A. Greene, sunk; making in all a total of 6 steamers, 8 propellers, 2 tugs, 5 brigs, and 27 schooners, which have proved a total loss.

The above enumeration does not include the large iron vessels which have suffered material damage, and several of which have been repaired. The loss of life has also been great, and several vessels have disappeared, and never been heard from. At the lowest calculation, there must have been two hundred lives lost during the present navigation season. The loss of property is also immense, but we have at present no means of ascertaining the amount.

BOSTON AT THE MONTREAL CELEBRATION. We notice that some of our exchanges are disposed to adopt an apologetic tone, in behalf of the citizens of Montreal, for what some of the latter people are disposed to consider as a slight upon the Mayor, who was invited to be present at the celebration. It is true that they were not made of paramount importance at the recent grand celebration. Because all Montreal did not come forth to meet and greet their delegation—because all the hotels were full of guests, and the Mayor's arrival—because Mayor Rive was so excited above twenty other Mayors who happened to be present—therefore the people of Boston were slighted, and so gone home full of ruminations and discontent.

issuing from the tenant house 268 Eleventh avenue, occupied by sixteen families. Hastening to the place, and ascending a flight of stairs, the officers saw the smoke coming from under a bed-room door in the second story of the premises.

The door gave the alarm, and at the same time burst in the door and found the floor of the room in flames. Near where the fire was raging most fiercely, lay a woman and child, who were instantly seized and conveyed into the air, but life was extinct, death having ensued from suffocation. The woman proved to be Mary Duffy, and the other her daughter, Susan Duffy, a girl five years of age. From statements made by some of the neighbors, it would seem that Mrs. Duffy was a woman of intemperate habits, that she lived there in great destitution with her two children, the surviving one of whom, fortunately, was in another part of the house at the time of the fire. The husband and father of the deceased parties is a laborer, and at present, is absent in the country.

A light was seen in Mrs. Duffy's room at two o'clock, A.M., and from the fact that a miserable straw bed (the only article of furniture in the room) was partially consumed, it is supposed that the bed caught fire from some of the furniture, and that she lived there in great destitution with her two children, the surviving one of whom, fortunately, was in another part of the house at the time of the fire. The husband and father of the deceased parties is a laborer, and at present, is absent in the country.

The dead bodies of Mrs. Duffy and her child were removed to the Twenty-second Ward Police Station, where Coroner Gamble, being notified, held inquests on them. Mrs. Duffy was 35 years of age, and a native of Ireland.

FIRE IN PEARL STREET—A LAD BURNED TO DEATH.

Saturday morning, about half-past two o'clock, a fire broke out in the paper-hanging store of Glasgow, Paisley, No. 436, Grand street, and spread with great rapidity. Patrick Hays and family, consisting of four children, occupied the third story of the building, and were aroused from their slumbers by the smoke. Hays immediately fled through the scullery to the roof with his three youngest children, leaving the eldest a lad of 17, to follow. On reaching the roof Hays heard his boy cry out, "Father, where are you?" and was told to hurry to the roof, but owing to the quick approach of the flames he was in another instant again on the ground. His body was taken out of the ruins four hours afterwards, burnt to a crisp. The building was principally destroyed, together with its contents, and store No. 434 adjoining, which was unoccupied. The origin of the fire was not correctly known. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

RAILROAD CONNECTION BETWEEN THE MISSISSIPPI, THE LAKES AND THE PACIFIC OCEAN. The Wisconsin and Pacific Railroad Company, under a contract of the St. Croix and Lake Superior Railroad Company with Dillon, Jackson, Jarrett & Co., of this State, for the construction and equipment of their entire line from Madison to Superior, Wis., is now in the act of completing and in running order by the 4th of July, 1856. The contractors are men of experience, and of the highest credit and responsibility. The road is about 140 miles in length, and connecting, as it does, the Mississippi with the Great Lakes, it will open up to the spirit of enterprise, settlement and development, a large region of valuable and productive country. It will secure to Pittsburg a continuous railroad to the western termination of Lake Superior, where a new impetus of commerce is fast growing up on the beautiful and capacious Bay of Superior, formed by a junction of the waters of the St. Louis and Nemadji rivers with the Lake. It is the gate through which the wealth and population of Northern Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Oregon and Washington Territories, as well as the British Territory, must find its way to the great Lake. A world of beautiful, rich and valuable, yet almost unsettled country, extends beyond this great inland sea, to the head-waters of the Yellowstone and Missouri, a distance of more than 1000 miles.

THE GREAT WHISKEY MART IN THE WORLD.—We copied an article from a Cincinnati paper, a day or two since, on the whiskey business of the Ohio Valley, in which it was claimed that Cincinnati was the greatest mart for whiskey in the world, the quantity sold in that market amounting to 220,000 barrels, or nine millions of gallons annually. But our Cincinnati contemporary claimed rather too much for the Queen City of the West. New York is already, it is claimed, the greatest mart for whiskey in the world, the quantity sold in that market amounting to 220,000 barrels, or nine millions of gallons annually.
