The artists were Olga Guilaroff and Georgina Russel, who gave a two piano recital. Mrs. Hugh Shoobridge, soprano, was the soloist.

Miss Guilaroff and Mrs. Russel displayed excellent taste in their choice of selections. Their interpretation of Rachmaninoff's Romance was one of the highlights of the program. As an encore they played variations of Stephen Foster's famous song, "Oh Susanna," which was very well received.

Mrs. Hugh Shoobridge, who is the music convener of the club, gave several enjoyable solos, including two French songs and an Italian Love Song. As an encore Mrs. Shoobridge sang Brahms' Cradle Song, which is one of the most beautiful lullabies ever written. A great deal of praise is due Mrs. Shoobridge for her rendition of this famous song.

Aerial Training School To Be Established Here

115th Squadron of Canadian Non-Permanent Air Force Takes Over Former Bell Telephone Building at Metcalfe and Sherbrooke—Modern Equipment To Be Installed.

By Douglas Laing

The building at the corner of Metcalfe and Sherbrooke Streets in Westmount was purchased by the Canadian Government a few months ago to provide a place of training for the non-permanent 115th Squadron of the Canadian air-force. The building was vacated by the Bell Telephone Company several years ago and had not since been used.

The Government is going to renovate it completely according to the requirements of the Squadron; up till now the Squadron has not had a permanent establishment. The building will be used for instruction in ground work and aviation study, while St. Hubert's airfield will be for actual flying. The renovating is expected to start some time in February, and the building is to be fully equipped. The cost is not yet known as the Government has not called for bids.

The personnel of the 115th Squadron consists of from eighty to a hundred enlisted men, and is part of the non-permanent force of Canada, which in England is called the auxiliary force. Since the majority of men in a squadron are used for ground work, the 115th will be instructed in repairing motors, and all other mechanical parts, such as the guns, struts, and elevators. Flying instruction is taught to the men by officers from the permanent force.

Flight Lieutenant R. F. Biese of the permanent force, and Commanding Officer, Frank McGill, are in charge of the Squadron. The Squadron's present equipment consists of three planes which are stationed at St. Hubert airport, and a skeleton of a plane which is now at the building on Sherbrooke Street. The nature of the training up to the present has been a few essentials and a history of the air-force. However, the Squadron has had several flights and in the future they will take three flights a week. It is believed that uniforms will be given out when the building is officially taken over in the early spring.

In the last few years Canada has become conscious of the need for military equipment and the air-force has come into the spotlight as offering the greatest protection. The wealth and population of (Continued on Page 3)

Auto's Early Days Traced By E. Everson

Pioneering Days of Durant, Ford, Olds, Recalled at Rotary Club Luncheon Wednesday

The history of the inception and development of the automobile industry was outlined by Ewart Everson at Wednesday's meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club in Victoria Hall. Mr. Everson told of the early days of R. E. Olds, Louis Chevrolet, Henry Ford, Durant, and others, and of their struggles to get the industry on its feet, and of the rise of the industry to its present enormous proportions.

Oshawa, the seat of the largest carriage-making centre in Canada, naturally became the centre for the automobile industry when it began to assume importance, declared the speaker. In 1905, he said, there were 3000 motors in Canada, including cars, motorcycles, trucks, etc., in 1936 registrations exceeded 1,240,000.

A large corps of scientists and experts is constantly at work improving present models and preparing for future development, he said. The speaker showed several old and new auto parts, drew comparisons and explained improvements that had been made.

It was announced that plans for the Rotary Ice Carnival to be held on March 4th, in aid of the Montreal Children's Hospital, are progressing favourably, the program having been almost completely arranged.

Mr. Everson was introduced by Jack Colton and thanked by Wilf Buckley, President Stan Neilson was in the chair, while vocal selections were given by Frank Hipkin, accompanied by Percy French.

Sixty-Six Local Police, Firemen Get Certificates

Westmount Force Members Pass St. John Ambulance Association Exams — W. R. Mildon and W. Youngson Get Diplomas From Institution of Fire Engineers — City Only One in Canada With Three Fire Engineers in Ranks

Sixty six members of Westmount Police and Fire Departments were presented with their St. John's Ambulance Association Second Year Certificates for proficiency in first aid to the injured Monday evening at the Stanton street courthouse, when Alderman W. B. Scott, commissioner for both departments, attended and made the presentations. Officers from each department were present.

Four officers and twenty seven men from the police department, and five officers and twenty six men from the Fire Department, or thirty three from each branch of the service, comprised the group of recipients. The examinations for this certificate were held in December, and all who entered the course passed.

In addition to the presentation of the St. John Ambulance Association certificates, Alderman Scott presented to Fireman W. R. Mildon and Fireman W. Youngson the Associate Membership and Graduateship diplomas respectively, of the Institution of Fire Engineers.

Westmount is the first and only city in Canada to have in the ranks of its Fire Department three certified fire engineers. Two men, Firemen G. W. Corby and W. Youngson, have now qualified for the Graduate Diploma of the Institution of Fire Engineers, and the third, Fireman W. R. Mildon, who in 1935 secured first place in the British Empire for the Graduate Diploma, now has qualified for the Associate Membership Diploma of the Institution.

Mr. Corby entered the service of the Westmount Fire Department in 1924, Mr. Youngson in 1928, and Mr. Mildon in 1929. Mr. Mildon had previous experience in fire-fighting, having served for two years with the London Fire Brigade. He is also an Associate Member of the National Fire Protection Association, a fire preventative organization of the U.S.A. and Canada.

The Institution of Fire Engineers is a fully chartered engineering association, with branches throughout the Empire, and principally its objects are, to promote, encourage, and improve the science and practice of Fire Extinction, Fire Prevention & Fire Engineering, and all operations and expedients connected therewith, and to encourage ideas likely to be useful in this connection.

Examinations for Graduateship and Associate Membership are held annually, and an extensive technical knowledge is required of the candidates to secure the necessary 75% pass mark.

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, JANUARY 21, 1938

MAKES FINAL VOYAGE

A distinguished career in British and Canadian Naval service ended Friday with the death of Admiral William Oswald Story, C.B.E., a native of Bingfield, County Cavan, Ireland, who chose the British Navy as his career early in life and carved a niche of his own in the naval hall of fame, alongside so many other strong sea characters that have been the backbone of the Empire. Joining the H.M.S. Britannia, a training vessel, at Dartmouth in 1871, he received his baptism of fire in the Perak Expedition, four years later. He saw action in Egypt, was mentioned in dispatches and promoted to the rank of Lieutenant, receiving the Perak and Suakin decorations and the Khedive Star. He gained promotion rapidly and was made a commander in 1896, being promoted to post captain in 1901. He was holder of the Legion of Honor award and the Naval Order of Merit. During the war he was in charge of the Canadian Naval base on the Pacific. In 1918 he went to the Halifax dockyard. The C.B.E. was conferred on him by the late King George. The tribute of Naval authorities, friends and acquaintances was accorded Monday at one of the largest Naval funerals seen in this part of the country for many years.

DON'T OVER-FIRE THE FURNACE

A series of disastrous fires in this province, and indeed throughout the Dominion, emphasizes the fact that extreme care should be exercised in attending to furnaces and stoves. A prolonged sub-zero spell is always accompanied by fires which in many cases cost dearly in lives and property, because people stoke up furnaces beyond the line of prudence. Extra precautions should be taken when stoves and furnaces are over-heated. Insulation around stoves should be able to withstand the utmost heat the stove can produce, but many people pile the fuel into stoves situated close to wood and plaster walls with no insulating material between, and fires result. Overheated furnaces are likely to fire old chimneys, with the destruction of the entire building. Be careful—especially in cold weather.

LAGGED TOO LONG

The world's largest and most powerful locomotive with a Diesel engine has been delivered to the Union Pacific Railroad and will haul a 17-coach streamlined train between Chicago and Los Angeles in 30 hours; 45 minutes at speeds as high as 110 miles an hour. The railways are meeting the new forms of competition, a commentator said recently.

The railways may be meeting the new forms of competition, but they have been a long time getting around to it. The trouble is that the railways have lagged so long that millions of dollars in revenue have slipped through their fingers and many of the people from whom this revenue came are not likely to resume the role of rail customers.

DO NOT TRUST STRANGERS

There are always some new schemes to get something for nothing. A new one was tried in an Ontario village recently.

A party of four men stopped at a house and claimed that they were experts in the work of repairing and relining chimneys, and that at this time of year chimneys should be put into safe condition for the year. On receiving permission to inspect the chimney and if necessary to make repairs, they displayed a great deal of activity, which ended in a few hours, when they reported the work done and demanded $45 in payment.

The lady of the house very naturally was dumb-founded at this exorbitant charge. After some argument they reduced the charge to $12.50, and indulged in threats if this was not paid. One of the party finally accepted $5 and departed.

Subsequent investigation showed that no real work had been done by the quartet of swindlers.

Householders cannot be too careful in dealing with strangers. The safe rule is to buy from or have work done by people or firms who are well known either from personal experience or by their advertisements in the local paper.

A HAPPY OUTLOOK

Given reasonably good crops, Canadian agriculturalists stand to do well during the current year. A review of the situation issued by the Federal Department of Agriculture in an official publication is indeed promising.

In a nutshell, the situation is this: Prices are likely to remain at their present levels until the new crops can be appraised. Foreign demand for Canadian farm products will be about the same as in 1937, a fairly good year. Should production be high, prices are liable to sag a little, but there is no reason to believe at this time that they will go far out of line.

Prices of agricultural products are not too high. They do not bring the farmer anything more than a fair return. True, last year the rise in prices of farm products was greater than in any other important commodity group, but it must be remembered that as a result of this rise last year, for the first time in eight years farm product wholesale prices compared favourably with those of other groups.

Agriculture still remains Canada's most important primary industry, despite tremendous development in mining and the like. Let agriculture prosper and the whole Dominion will prosper.

THE FORUM

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

Conducted by Howard S. Ross, K.C.

NOTE:—The opinions expressed in these columns are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them. They are published for their general interest, variety and originality of treatment.

The movement for consumers' cooperatives has been growing in Nuevo Leon and other northern states of Mexico. The first one in Monterrey was organized among soldiers stationed there. Its capital has grown from 5,000 to 30,000 pesos, with annual dividends running from 100 to 300 pesos. The success of this cooperative has encouraged the founding of many others. General Juan A. Almazan an outstanding leader in northern Mexico, has recently returned from Europe where he studied the cooperative movement. He has expressed the belief that consumers' cooperatives are the answer to economic problems of the present day, especially high prices, and that they may even end class war, since they consider the consumers as one great group, instead of thinking of the world as divided into capital and labor.—Clarence A. Neff, Correspondence from Mexico.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH NOTES

Sunday morning the entire households of the congregation will assemble in St. Andrew's Church to celebrate Family Church Day. Grandmother, father, mother, auntie and the children will go to church together, and sit together with the object of recovering the old Family Pew idea. Nowadays a solitary representative often has to do the worshipping for the whole family, while the younger members spend the day in sport, or in recuperating from the strenuous social activities of Friday and Saturday nights. If parents became responsible for the regular attendance of their children, Dr. Kerr believes it would mean the greatest revival in church attendance witnessed in modern times.

Dr. Glenn Frank, in an address to 5000 members of the American Bankers Association, denounced "deluded liberals" who would upset the American system of checks and balances and centralize authority in Washington. His main attack was on "false capitalism," business without courage or social outlook, appealing to government to guarantee profits and fix prices, usually upward. In contrast he defined "authentic capitalism" as that which asks no one to underwrite its profits, competes through efficiency alone, and balances the profit motive by purpose to serve social ends.

There are 50,000 Orientals in British Columbia, the proportions of Chinese and Japanese being about equal. There are both Japanese and Chinese Christian churches in Vancouver, with native pastors. It is reported that there is much Chinese boycotting of Japanese goods in British Columbia.

If the party is not moving fast enough, then get into it and make your views felt and help to make it what it should be. It is within a party the force for radical reform could and should be exerted. A political party such as ours, is the greatest democracy that exists anywhere. It brings together all classes of society, all creeds and races to work for the general good. There will always be the Conservative party and the Liberal party. He who is not for us is against us but those who are against us should get into the opposition and we will deal with our differences along democratic lines.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King at a gathering of East Ontario Liberals at a dinner honoring Albert Pinard, M.P.

MELVILLE CHURCH NOTES

Sermon subjects which the minister will deal with Sunday are the problem of the individual's and the church's unused powers and the overcoming of the fears which beset so many and hinder their happiness and progress.

The new presidents of organizations for this year are: Ladies Aid Society, Mrs. Angus Stewart; Women's Missionary Society, Mrs. A. P. Blackburn; Young Women's Missionary Society, Miss Margaret MacNaughten.

The Melville company of the Boy's Brigade is increasing steadily in numbers, enthusiasm and activities. The hockey team bids fair to restore the athletic glory of the Melville of a past generation which had one of the best teams of its class in the province.

On Tuesday night, in the Church Hall at 8.15 p.m. there will be a congregational social and general "get together" for all the members of Melville and their friends. It will take the form of a "Burns Night."

The funds are derived from donations, voluntary subscriptions, and requests by members of the Association and others. The list of donors and subscribers is interesting and includes many judges. The average yearly contribution by subscribers appears to be $15 and the yearly income from subscriptions, donations and legacies amounts to about $24,000.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, January 23rd, is "Truth."

The Golden Text is: "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, longsuffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth." (Psalms 86: 15)

The following correlative passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—

"Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle, who shall dwell in thy holy hill? He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart." (Psalms 15: 1, 2)

"The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek. In the soil of an 'honest and good heart' the seed must be sown; else it beareth not much fruit, for the swinish element in human nature uproots it." (Science and Health, page 272.)

Scottish Schools Club Hears Story Of Bonnie Prince

The story of Bonnie Prince Charlie was told to members of the Scottish Schools Club of Montreal at the monthly meeting Monday evening in the Mount Royal Hotel, when J. E. Macpherson, senior vice-president of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, delivered the address.

Despite the foolishness of the venture, said the speaker, Scotch and world literature would have been the poorer without the romantic and thrilling advent of Prince Charlie in British history. Mr. Macpherson related how Prince Charlie became James VIII of Scotland, started for England with but 5000 men, and won the battles of Carlisle and Falkirk. Then indecision lost them the day, and his historic flight from English authorities took place.

The speaker was introduced by J. M. Hay and thanked by Peter Clarke. Scottish songs were sung. The speaker was piped in in the traditional manner.

New Zealand Discussed

J. W. Collins, Commissioner for New Zealand in Canada and United States in an address entitled "New Zealand, A World in Miniature" at a luncheon at the George Club on Saturday, said that New Zealand, the youngest member of the British Empire, is the most truly democratic of all countries under the Union Jack. Mr. Collins said that New Zealand has been called the gem of the Empire not only for its efficiency of government but also for its scenic beauty. Its population, 98 per cent British extraction, had the greatest wealth, the lowest death rate per capita and the most trade of all British possessions.

Mr. Collins spoke of the many governmental reforms that New Zealand had introduced, it being the first country to give pensions to widows, blind people and invalids.

Hon. Gilbert Layton, president of the club, was in the chair. F. W. Wood introduced the speaker, and Lewis Patterson moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Collins for his fine address.

enough army to efficiently defend both coasts at the same time also, and so the people of Canada today look to the air for protection.

The need is for fast pursuit and light bombing planes to attack foreign warships as they may approach our shores, and modernly equipped airdromes and fields located at strategic points throughout the Dominion. This would be our first-line of defense.

Our second line would be coastal defense guns on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. The United States have erected an excellent system of coastal defense guns, and we in Canada should continue that line as far north as is necessary.

These guns in time of war could delay the landing of enemy troops, thus providing time for the organization of military resources. It will be remembered that the delaying of the German troops in 1914 by the resistance of the Belgians provided time for the Allies to concentrate their resources and this delay frustrated what would have undoubtedly been a sure victory for Germany.

400 Chinese members of the Hi-Y was a great success. It was reported that several communists told how they had intended to break up the meeting, but the Bible study and the earnestness of the Hi-Y meeting had won them over.

Mr. Taylor spoke of the works of the boy's and girl's Hi-Y amongst the jails in China. The boys made weekly visits every Sunday afternoon to the jails. Mr. Taylor also told how the girls' Hi-Y club went to the women's jail and taught them to hook rugs. They also taught hygiene in the local villages.

Mr. Taylor ended his interesting talk by writing Chinese characters on the blackboard and explaining how the words were made. He also taught a Chinese song.

This was followed by a short business meeting.

Colman Employed Mirrors For Dual "Zenda" Role

He did it with mirrors! Ronald Colman has succeeded in imparting to his dual role in David O. Selznick's "The Prisoner of Zenda," showing now at the Westmount, starting a three day engagement at the Seville on Sunday, the most distinct separation of two personalities ever portrayed on the screen by a single star. His method was unique in the annals of filmdom.

Colman, who with Madeleine Carroll and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., heads the "Zenda" cast, used mirrors to achieve the striking result. He plays the part of both King Rudolf, a reigning monarch, and Rudolph Rassendyll, an English gentleman, two persons whose personalities and traits are different, though their looks are the same.

Mirrors entered the picture in Colman's rehearsals for the most difficult parts, those in which Rudolf and Rassendyll meet, shake hands, and discuss matters both humorous and serious. To make sure that his reactions to certain lines would differ from character to character, Colman observed himself as he ran through each part. If changes in technique were needed, he made them.

"The king," explained Colman, "is a sort of light-hearted fellow without too much regard for his obligations, and quite a liking for wine. He greets things with a jest on his lips, and perhaps just a trace of bitterness for the isolation his exalted position brings. "Rassendyll, on the other hand, is more serious though ready in wit and with jest. He is daring, adventurous, but quite level-headed."

The actual placing of the two characters on the screen at the same time, with their amazing exchange of greetings, is a carefully-guarded technical secret. But, according to Director John Cromwell, each person is strikingly different from the other, despite the fact that Colman plays both.

In a single day, Colman would be called upon to step from one character to the other several times, dropping the previous characterization like a cloak with each move.

EXCITING STORY OF THE HEADLINES

Pat O'Brien and Joan Blondell co-starred in "Back in Circulation," which opens a three day engagement at the Snowdon United Theatre on Sunday.

"The Bride Wore Red" On Sunday At Westmount

Joan Crawford's latest starring vehicle, "The Bride Wore Red," comes to the Westmount Theatre for a three day engagement opening Sunday. Franchot Tone and

Robert Young are her leading men in the new picture. The story of a woman's struggle to find happiness in the lowly surroundings of her birth, it offers Joan her finest dramatic role. Deeply human in theme, "The Bride Wore Red" has the recklessness and color of the waterfront as a background. Miss Crawford portrays the part of a poor girl who, for a few weeks, on the whim of an old man, is given the means to travel in high society. She lays the foundation for her future on a house of happiness built on lies during her month of make believe. Considered Ferenc Molnar's greatest drama since "Lilium,"

COMING TO THE WESTMOUNT THEATRE

Robert Young, Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone in a scene from the mad-cap romance "The Bride Wore Red," which starts at the Westmount Theatre on Sunday.

Sob Sister Role Played By Blondell

Nobody plays a fast-talking, wise-cracking newspaper man like Pat O'Brien, it has been conceded ever since he did Hildy Johnson in the classic "Front Page."

But he has a feminine rival for those honors in "Back in Circulation," the Warner Bros. comedy-drama which opens at the Snowdon Theatre on Sunday. And the rival is none other than Joan Blondell, who is co-starred with him.

"Back in Circulation," which was written by the eminent author, Adela Rogers St. Johns and directed by Ray Enright, sees Pat as managing editor of a sensation newspaper which will halt at nothing to increase its circulation, and Joan as his star reporter.

The story has to do with the mysterious death of a millionaire which Pat and Joan solve—as well as rescue from death or life imprisonment the man's widow, who has refused to save herself from conviction for murder. Miss Blondell is said to give one of her most realistic performances as a sob sister who stops at nothing to get her story.

A high-class cast supports the team of stars, including Margaret Lindsay, John Litel, Regis Toomey, Craig Reynolds, and George E. Stone.

Romance, Music Lend Color To Historic Drama

A cast of more than 1000 persons, requiring more than 5000 separate costumes, a setting covering miles of rolling hill country, a book written from actual history by Oscar Hammerstein II, and a lovely score by Jerome Kern, all contribute to the perfect background of a thrilling love story in Paramount's "High, Wide and Handsome," which is now playing at the Monkland, opening Sunday at the Monkland.

The story, set in 1859, the year of the discovery of oil in Titusville, Pennsylvania, is built on the romance of Randolph Scott, a Pennsylvania farmer, and Irene Dunne, a beautiful carnival singer. These two marry just before the oil well which Scott is drilling brings in a gusher, and the problem of starting work on a brand new industry takes so much of Scott's time that he has none to give to his new wife.

Hurt and bewildered by the collapse of the marriage from which she had expected so much, the girl returns to the carnival life again, hoping to forget the man who held her love so lightly. But when danger threatens him, her love brings her back to his arms, to work with and for him.

Through her efforts he is able to win through in his colossal struggle against almost insurmountable odds to bring his great discovery of oil to the world.

"The Bride Wore Red" was adapted to the screen from the playwright's stage success, "The Girl from Trieste."

Westmount Amici All Stars will have their work cut out for them when they meet the City College of New York (Evening Session) team at the Community Hall on January twenty-ninth. Among the players making the trip with the starry New York aggregation are Milt Green and Sid Turenshine, both of whom tip the scales at the two hundred mark, and are six foot tall.

The C.C.N.Y. team is coached by Frank De Phillips, captain and high scorer of the famous C.C.N.Y. squads of 1929-30-31. He has been playing pro basketball now for over four years. Captain Lou Leibowitz may be remembered, as the high scoring forward of the Florida Nationals, who visited here last year. Leibowitz was a former Varsity player at Long Island University. Other forwards on the team include Sol Rice, leading scorer of the squad for the past two seasons, Cy Cooper a big six footer who is the long shot artist of the gang. Sol "Shorty" Gershovitz the shortest man on the squad but an All-Scholastic forward at the Franklin K. Lane H. S. While Gershovitz is one of the smallest players in the college he will play for Nat Holman's C.C.N.Y. Varsity squad next year.

Grads Win 3-2 Over Ramblers

Grads, champions of the Municipal Senior Hockey League, won a hard fought 3-2 victory from Ramblers Thursday night at the Athletic Grounds. Poor play was blamed on inferior ice.

Z. Milten was the outstanding player for Grads, notching two well executed goals, the first assisted by J. Ostiguy and W. Cameron and the second on a pass from S. Morgan. Morrison starred for the Ramblers, skating tirelessly and scoring one goal on a smart solo effort. The other Rambler goal was scored by J. Guy from a scramble directly in front of the Grad net, with Hunter lying helplessly on the ice. Hunter, replacing Collis in the Grad net, played a steady game, turning back a score of Rambler thrusts with calm and precision. B. Johnson of the Grads, played brilliantly on the defence breaking up numerous Rambler plays, and bodying cleanly and effectively.

Have Already Defeated Aggregation From South Shore — Five Games To Go Before Playoffs — Arbuttle Scored Sole Tally For Locals In Last Week's Set-to

Snyth's Intermediates meet St. Lambert tonight at the Forum in a scheduled fixture of the Montreal Intermediate Hockey League. Despite their 2-1 trimming at the hands of N.D.G. Friday night, they look forward to a win. With but five league games left before the end of the schedule, the locals will have to watch themselves in order to be assured a place in the playoffs.

Arbuttle scored the lone tally for Westmount at 5:38 of the period, with Willock and McCaig assisting. Although the local team put up a furious fight to make another score before the close of the game, the N.D.G. group managed to retain their lead.
