Wind Storm Did Most Damage South Of Border

Last week we gave a hurriedly gathered report of Tuesday's storm (June 13th). However, on further enquiry this week it was learned that the damage done in this area was as stated. There were several incidents, such as the Customs buildings at Trout River being covered by a shower of leaves; the roof of the building at the new Golf Course and some smaller buildings at this site were damaged.

Most damage was done on the other side of the Boarder and the Malone Evening Telegram of June 14th carried a full story of the storm and a photograph of a barn that was blown down.

Here are a few excerpts from that story:

A devastating wind storm ripped a path of destruction across the area north and east of Malone last night at approximately 6 o'clock leaving in its wake a trail of destroyed barns and silos, toppled trees, broken power lines and damage that is expected to run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Residents of the Westville-Trout River area, where the storm caused the heaviest damage, differed on whether it was a tornado or a violent wind storm that blasted its way across the countryside.

But regardless of the specific type storm the results were all too obvious.

Bernard Fleury, operator of a store at the intersection of the Trout River-Westville County Road said that at about 6 o'clock the sky darkened so completely he couldn't see across the road to his home. The wind and rain followed moments later.

This continued for several minutes, Mr. Fleury said, then the wind clamed down considerably and the sky lightened for a short time. But then a heavy hail storm began, continuing for several minutes, with hail stones nearly two inches in diameter pelting the area.

Mr. Fleury said the entire storm lasted 15 to 20 minutes.

Although his home and store escaped serious damage, the silo at his mother's barn up the road a short distance was leveled. About a mile away, on the Briggs St. Road, the large hip roof barn at the Real Pomainville farm was flattened. About a mile away to the west of the Fleury Store on the Little Briggs St. Road another large barn on the Gerald Bilow farm was sent tumbling to the ground.

At the Emmett Shane farm on the Briggs Street Road the terrific wind tore down a section of the barn and lifted a section of the roof completely off. At 11 a.m. today Mr. Shane was still looking for the roof. At the same farm a large tree blew down, crashing onto the top of a garage and destroying the roof.

Farm wagons in the yard were hurled against automobiles left there by workmen employed at a gravel pit up the road, causing damage to the cars.

Similar stories were reported across the area. In Constable a large barn on the James Rogers farm was said to have been leveled and from Ft. Covington all the way through Westville, Trout Rivier and Constable came reports of silos down, barn roofs damaged, barns twisted on their foundations, windows broken by the hail and other evidences of the intense wind.

In Chateauguay the wind scored a direct hit on the Arlington Wood Farm, destroying two large barns and inflicting severe damage to a third one.

Emergency crews were rushed into action to restore power cut off when falling limbs and trees snapped power lines in the entire area. State, county and town road crews were dispatched to clear highways and roads blocked in a number of places by fallen trees.

The effects of the storm were also felt to the south of Malone and state highway crews went to the Lake Meacham area when trees toppled across the highway in two different places.

Crews from the Niagara Mokawk Power Corp. and the New York Telephone Co. were continuing their efforts to restore service and at noon had been successful in their battle in most areas.

About 30 residents of the Madison County community of Georgetown were evacuated last night when Otselic Creek sent water swirling three feet deep into the main street.

Mrs. Lucy Howe and her son, Frederick, 10, fell into the current as they left the town hall. Mrs. Howe, the village librarian and her son were rescued by the local civil defense director.

Two women driving toward Middleville in Herkimer County were cut by flying glass when a falling tree limb shattered a windshield.

Falling tree limbs disrupted travel and utilities at Plattsburgh, Oswego, the Albany area and Poland, Herkimer County.

Lightning disabled a 34,500-volt transmission line in the Syracuse area, cutting power to about 14,000 homes for up to 1½ hours.

Plattsburg was without power for nearly an hour.

About 1,000 homes in the Kuyahoora Valley in Herkimer County were without electricity briefly.

In our report last week, we said that two old barns were blown down on the St. Onge farm. We have been corrected on this and asked to say, that it was two old sheds.

This area was also subjected to hail and a number of cars travelling at the time have dents in them to vouch for this. However, we did escape the worst of the storm as will be seen by this report.

425 Ayrshires To Cuba — Today — June 21st

One of the largest shipments of Canadian dairy cattle, if not the largest, ever assembled for export in one group is assembled in Montreal for shipment to Cuba June 21st. Today the shipment is comprised of 425 head of registered Canadian Ayrshires part of an order of Ayrshire cattle to I.N.R.A., San Cristobal, Pinar de Ria, Cuba.

The Cubans have now purchased over 1,000 head of registered Ayrshires since the first shipment about six months ago. Dr. Rolando Fernandez who is in charge of the Cuban Government Agricultural Agency, I.N.R.A., visited Canada twice last fall previous to placing the orders. The Ayrshire cattle are ideal for this market because of their hardy characteristics and their ability to adapt themselves to a wide climate variation. They are also interested in their milk composition as both the butterfat and the solids — not — fat content is ideal for the consumer.

The shipment is all bred heifers or young cows. They are being shipped on the S.S. Alondra of the Thausen Steamship Co. Ltd. Copenhagen, Denmark. The exporters are R.R. Ness & Sons, Ltd., Howick, Quebec with Mr. Douglas A. Ness in charge of arrangements.

The cattle were selected in three provinces in order to fill this large order. Twenty-eight head were selected in P.E.I., fifty-two in Eastern Ontario and 130 in Western Ontario. The remainder are from the following regions in Quebec: Huntingdon and Chateauguay Counties — 142; Eastern Townships — 44; Argenteuil County — 18; Pontiac County — 11.

The cattle were assembled at the C.N.R. Stock Yards, Montreal, June 19th and 20th. Commencing this morning, June 21st they were loaded on the S.S. Alondra which was docked in the Lachine Canal near the junction of McGill and Common streets. The boat will sail in the late afternoon or evening for Cuba. It is an eight day journey from Montreal to Cuba and in order to feed and bed the cattle for the journey the exporters loaded thirty-six tons of hay and sixteen tons of straw.

Car Accident Fatal To Huntingdon Youth

Jeanneau Langevin, age 25, of 52 Lake St., Huntingdon, died a few minutes after the car in which he was a passenger left Highway No. 4 about one-quarter mile from the Canada-U.S. border at Trout River early Monday morning. Three companions were only slightly injured.

The deceased and Jean-Louis Quinn, 14 Summerville St., Huntingdon, met Roger and Gilles Latendresse, formerly of Huntingdon and now of Montreal, early Sunday afternoon and the four had been together all day in the Latendresse car. Towards evening they went to Malone and the accident occurred returning to Huntingdon, just before one a.m. The youths reported at the Canadian Customs with 22-year-old Roger Latendresse driving and his 16-year-old brother Gilles in the front seat; Langevin and Quinn were in the back.

On the second curve of the road, near the Chester Pease residence, the driver apparently lost control of the 1952 Buick sedan and the car skidded on its side until it struck a large elm tree opposite the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hawley. Nearby residents were aroused by the crash and Mrs. Hawley, R.N., Matron at Huntingdon County Hospital, notified Dr. F. G. McCrimmon that one of the passengers was seriously injured; however, when she returned after phoning, young Langevin had passed away.

Quebec Provincial Police were notified and the body was released to the family and taken to the Kelly Funeral Home. Funeral service was held from St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church this morning (Wednesday) at 10 o'clock.

The deceased leaves three brothers and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Langevin, to mourn his loss.

5-Year-Old Cazaville Child Killed By Car

A tragic accident occurred about one-quarter mile south of Cazaville at 3.30 p.m. Saturday when five-year-old Andre Deschamps, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean-Maurice Deschamps of Cazaville, was killed instantly when struck by a car.

Little André was walking hand-in-hand with his older brother Rene, age 12, when they decided to cross the road. Rene says they saw a car approaching but did not realize it was coming so quickly. They had started to cross and Rene drew back, but little André yanked his hand away from his brother's and ran to cross. He fell and when he got up the car, which had swerved to avoid the boys, hit the little fellow.

The boy was struck by one of the car's headlights and he suffered severe head injuries and a possible neck injury as well as two broken legs and other fractures. His mother who was returning form a neighbor's home, witnessed the tragedy. She ran to the child and picked him up. Roland Deschamps, uncle of the child, rushed the parents and the child to Huntingdon County Hospital, but Andre was dead on arrival. Mr. Albert Matte, age 34, and his wife, occupants of the car, were not injured.

Funeral service for André was held at St. Anicet Roman Catholic Church Monday at 10 a.m. Left to mourn him are his parents; two brothers, Rene 12 and Jean-Maurice, 4 years; a sister, Manon, three months.

Two Textile Awards Made To Lynn McIntyre

Lynn McIntyre has returned home for the summer months after attending the St. Hyacinthe Textile Institute. Lynn was awarded the Leach-Zephyr scholarship of $1,000 per annum to attend the Institute.

Lynn is making good of his studies in textiles which, to say the least is most gratifying to his sponsors in Huntingdon and Ormstown.

On Saturday announcements were made and prizes awarded the students at St. Hyacinthe. Lynn was awarded the Penman Company prize of $100 for his coming first in Woollen and Worsted Yarn Manufacture. He also received the 2nd prize award in the 2nd-year of Manufacturing Division. This prize was awarded by the Minister of youth, and rancois Cleyn prominent textile industrialist said here today.

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., June 17 Canadian industry must insure its future through continued investment in the technical education of the country's youth, and Francois Cleyn and prominent textile industrialist said here today.

At the same time industry must urge more government and public support for Canada's technical schols, added Francois E. Cleyn, Honorary Treasurer, Primary Textiles Institute.

In an address to the graduating class of the Textile Institute of the Province of Quebec, Mr. Cleyn praised government—both provincial and federal—for support already given. He cited as an example the recent "Commonwealth Technical Training Week" observed throughout Canada, and said such support was an encouragement to industry.

"But it must not be permitted to slow down or lag," he said. "Unless this interest and support is not only maintained but increased, Canada's economical and industrial future will be seriously threatened."

Commenting on the intense competition for the Canadian textile market, he said that to meet the growing threat from imports, domestic manufacturers have to maintain top efficiency at all times.

This, he said, of necessity, requires continual replacement of old machinery with modern equipment. "But, more important, it requires a continual flow of skilled technicians.

"Equipment can be bought—technicians are harder to come by. And at a time like this—when domestic industry is so hard-pressed—these technicians are needed more than even before."

One method of filling this demand, suggested Mr. Cleyn, who is President of Spinners Ltd., Huntingdon, Que., was to encourage more women to take up textile technology. Referring to the recent graduation of a girl student from the Hamilton (Ont.) Institute of Technology, he said "this shows that girls are interested in the technical side of textiles and we hope more will follow the example.

"The textile industry offers wonderful career opportunities to women and the industry certainly has need of more of them."

The need for a continuous supply of trained technicians "to see that industry has the scientific basis necessary to meet increased competition" was also stressed by Roger Laberge, representing the Minister of Youth.

The Valleyfield International Regatta

For more than 20 years, the Valleyfield International Regatta, each year draws, approximately 40,000 people.

This regatta takes place in the splendid location, on St-Francis Bay, right in the center of the City Salaberry-de-Valleyfield, the Venice of Quebec.

It is expected that on Saturday and Sunday, July 15th and 16th, a crowd even bigger than those of the previous years will attend these famous speedboat races, and from the beautiful Sauvé Park, is the ideal place to see them.

A change made this year to the regatta course in conformity with the rules of the Canadian Boating Federation and the American Power Boat Association, will give the "inboards" the possibility of exceeding 100 miles an hour. Consequently there is reason to believe that new speed records will be set on this now 1 2/3 mile course, records which will be officially recognized by both Canadian and American Associations.

On Saturday, July 15th, 14 races, opposing the fastest "outboards" of Canada and United-States, will thrill the thousands of spectators. On Sunday, July 16th, the renowned speed makers, "inboards", which are the class, 48, 150, C.O.D., 145, 266 and 280, will give a spectacular show, filled with the reckless feats of their fearless drivers. There will be 16 races on this second regatta day, including "B Racing Hydro" and "C. Racing Hydro" classes.

The Valleyfield International Regatta will undoubtedly be the event of the year in the field of nautical sports in Canada, a great ensemble of unforgettable performances one should not miss.

Lightning Kills 6 Heifers At Roxham

ROXHAM — Mr. Allan Radley had the misfortune to lose six young heifers in the severe electrical storm on Tuesday evening of the past week. The cattle were walking through the woods following a path when linghtning struck three trees. The cattle fell one behind the other as if the charge of lightning had passed from one animal to the other.

Fractures Knee In Motorcycle Accident

19-year-old Gerald Smythe of Lee's Corners is in the Huntingdon County Hospital suffering a fractured left knee, the result of a motorcycle mishap on Thursday, June 19.

Gerald and a friend, Claude Roy of Ormstown, were planning to travel to Boston Thursday night by motorcycle. Gerald rode down to pick up Roy and the two were returning to Huntingdon via the River Outarde Road, leaving Ormstown, near the Allan English home, the kick-stand struck the road surface and the bike skidded into the ditch. Roy jumped clear and was unhurt but Gerald stuck with the machine, trying to save it.

Gerald returned home by car and although he could not put any weight on the injured leg, he did not realize his knee was fractured until he reported to Dr. Cameron on Saturday, when an X-Ray showed the fracture. His leg will be in a cast for three months but he expects to leave the hospital this week.

Gerald calls it a freak accident: he says he kicked the stand up before starting off but evidently it did not snap into place and worked loose. They were travelling about 45 m.p.h. when the accident occurred. Damage to the motorcycle was slight.

Town Faces $600. Lawsuit May Purchase Used Truck

An adjourned meeting of the Huntingdon Town Council was held Monday evening in the County Building, Mayor Lefebvre presiding. The Secretary-Treasurer reported the Town had been served with an action by the Montreal lay firm of Stikeman and Elliot on behalf of J. A. Brown in the amount of $600. for injuries sustained by his wife when she tripped on a length of string imbedded in ice on Chateauguay Street during the winter months.

A number of bills were passed for payment including one in the amount of $3,261.96 to Huntingdon Motors Reg'd., for the new Chevrolet truck that is now in use. Discussion with regard to the Town trucks followed and it was pointed out that the Mercury truck has been scrapped; the Dodge truck is in need of a new motor and transmission as well as other repairs if it is to be kept working. One of the aldermen reported that a used truck was for sale in Beauharnois for about $1500., which would be ideal for light work. It was decided that Aldermen Tremblay and Leduc be authorized to view this truck in the company of a local mechanic with the view to purchasing it for the Town if it is found suitable.

A letter was read from Chateau Dyers Ltd., stating that the water reservoir erected on their premises was now being used and they requested the Town to deduct $250. per month from their account as previously agreed.

Town workmen have been authorized to assit in eliminating odors arising from an overflowing cesspool on Fairview Road.

A letter from the Town Engineer has been sent to Dr. Lapierre requesting approval by the Board of Health of water and sewer plans on the Francois Lalonde building sites.

A letter from Philips & Bourgon Reg'd., was read stating that there would be no increase in insurance rates to Laberge & Lalonde Ltd., with regard to the storage warehouse erected at the rear of 176 Chateauguay St. The warehouse is being used to store cylinders of propane gas only and no filling operations are performed on the premises.

Although the Council accomplished little as far as resolutions were concerned, the session was lengthy and at times heated discussions broke out during discussion on how much new property owners should be required to pay when their lots were serviced with water and and sewer services. A number of the Aldermen felt the Town should pay the greater portion of costs in new housing developments while others protested and said a portion should be paid by the owners of the real estate also. The discussion did not settle anything but spectators enjoyed the excitement of the arguments. The next meeting will be the regular July session.

Successful Event Bar-B-Q Supper

The Rink Committee of the Huntingdon County War Memorial Arena served a Bar-B-Q chicken supper on Saturday from 6 to 8 p.m. The supper, consisting of chicken, rolls, French fried potatoes, sauce, coffee, was served. Tables had been set up outside the War Memorial Arena and all attending enjoyed the the meal and social gathering.

The rink committee purchased the chickens from the Chalet Lucerne in Montreal. Most of the chickens were sold to diners but when serving ceased at 8 p.m. a few chickens were left over and these were purchased by individuals to take home. All proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Huntingdon County War Memorial Arena and those in charge of the supper deserve credit for their efforts to raise funds.

There is a possibility that another Bar-B-Q supper will be held later in the season.

A COMING HISTORIAN

Patsy MacNaughton

Patsy MacNaughton, aged 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry MacNaughton, 8 Bouchette St., Huntingdon, is a Grade VI graduate of Huntingdon High School. The pupils were asked by their teacher Mrs. Henry Wallace to prepare scrap books. Patsy's book is out of the ordinary for a 12 year old girl and we believe is worthy of special comment.

Two pages of her scrap book are given over to reviewing the activities of their class during the scholastic year. From reading these two pages it is quite evident that what the scholars are being taught to-day does not all come out of the school text books but current events of historical importance is encouraged. In other words the scholars are being taught to be alert and have a knowledge of a great many things that have all too often been overlooked by elder folks.

The opening page of Patsy's Scrap Book shows a rough sketch of a map of the District of Beauharnois. Next a colored free hand sketch depicting Samuel de Champlain in a canoe when he visited the shores of Lake St. Francis at St. Anicet, and was the first white man to set foot in this area.

The next page carries another sketch in color depicting the British setting up camp to combat the American troops during the War of 1812-13.

A page is devoted to the "Constitutional Act".

Several items of historical import follow, viz:

1763 Seigniory of Beauharnois created.

1800 Seigniory was surveyed in sections and bought by Mr. Ellice.

1791-92 The constitutional act divided the province into 21 counties, and each county into several townships. Each county was given the right to send two members to the Legislative Assembly in Quebec.

1792 In June 1792, at St. Philippe, men by the name of Dupré and Saumier were elected, — few voted because the French thought that the Assembly was for the purpose of raising more taxes.

In the County of Huntingdon, the townships of Godmanchester and Hinchinbrooke were given to British veterans of the American Revolution (1783-4) who sold them to Mr. Ellice. No settlers.

1783-4 United Empire Loyalists settled in Hemmingford. Other Americans drifted across the border but left Canada during the War of 1812-14.

An American, Mr. Gruesdell, founded Athelstan and built a sawmill on the Hinchinbrooke river.

1917 At a bend in the Chateauguay river were log cabins owned by Palmer, Percy and Hunter.

1821 Dr. Fortune started his practice in Huntingdon and St. Anicet. This area was being settled by families from Scotland and Ireland. Huntingdon was first called Bowronville, after Mr. Bowron, who was the first settler. He built a mill, canal and bridge.

1818 Classes for 10 children were held in a 12 foot long shanty, but after a few months, the teacher left. He had been a sailor who deserted the ship which had brought Governor Dalhousie to Canada. (Dalhousie Street)

1825 First schoolhouse erected in Huntingdon.

1851 Huntingdon Academy was founded. School cost $4,000. The original greystone building was demolished to make way for the new addition in 1958.

1852 First Roman Catholic school was established.

1828 The first of the annual Huntingdon Fair shows was staged "on the green" near the mill. A total of $72 prize money was paid on classes of horses, oxen, group of cows and the odd sheep. A fair has been held every year except in 1830.

1829 Mail route was established with offices in Laprairie, Chateauguay and Beauharnois. Previously, a visitor to Montreal inquired for letters for himself and all his neighbours in the Chateauguay Valley.

1961 A grade 10 pupil of Huntingdon High School won a $200 first prize in a Provincial essay contest of over 1000 entries.

Pages are devoted to inscribing the high lights of the war 1812-14 which includes a free hand sketch in color of Hampton's Army on the march.

A page is devoted to Louis Joseph Papineau who was the leader of the Rebellion to make Lower Canada a French-speaking republic in 1837. Several pages are devoted to the Rebellion.

The sketch of the first steam locomotive, "Kitten" records that it operated in 1837 between Laprairie and St. Johns, Que. In 1883 the Chateauguay Valley had its first railroad built as far as Howick in January, by July it reached Ormstown and in October reached Huntingdon.

The page devoted to George Brown is of particular interest to the Gleaner and reads:

When George Brown shook hands with John A. Macdonald that "most famous handshake in Canadian history" paved the way to Confederation. We know that this same, sober, earnest George Brown was the editor of the Toronto Globe, and was asked by the Liberals in Huntingdon to send someone to establish a Liberal newspaper here.

When 22 year old Robert Sellar arrived, the citizens feared he would be too young for such a task, but the newspaper he founded will celebrate its centenary in 1963.

Like Wm. Lyon Mackenzie, Mr. Sellar had his troubles. The Gleaner office was set on fire, but unlike Mr. Mackenzie, Mr. Sellar did not collect damages through the courts.

Clippings from the Gleaner of historical nature occupy several pages. The final page is given over to colored sketches of what Patsy believes the food dishes of the early days may have been made to look like — appetizing.

"We think of him with love today
As we have done so often
And feel once more the sudden blow
That does not seem to soften
He wished no one a last farewell
Nor even said 'Goodbye.'
He was taken before we knew it
And only God knows why.
Dear God, forgive a silent tear
A constant wish that he were here
You have taken others, yes, we know
But he was ours and we loved him so."

Presbytery of Montreal Met In St. Andrew's Church, Huntingdon

The Presbytery of Montreal meeting in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church here, Tuesday morning and afternoon heard the reports of the commissioners to the General Assembly, placed a call in the hands of one of their number and heard encouraging reports of the extension of Churches in the Presbytery area.

Some of the 16 ministers and elders who represented the Presbytery at the 87th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada which met in Toronto the last two weeks were unable to be present at the meeting.

The Rev. J. M. Grant, Huntingdon, told of the advance of the work of the Presbyterian Church in the overseas mission fields. He told of the seven young couples who were present on the Missionary evening of Assembly who are completing their preparations to go overseas for the first time to Nigeria in Africa, to Formosa, to India, to British Guiana and to work among the Koreans in Japan.

With the Rev. C. C. Cochrane, Westmount, Rev. Eric Beggs, St. Laurent; Rev. R. R. Gordon, Rosemount; Professor Stanford Reid, J. Ross Cameron, Montreal; and Donald Fraser, Town of Mount Royal, he brought the impression of the tremendous opportunity and challenge facing the Church in its work in the Dominion and overseas.

A call from the Presbyterian Church, Orillia, Ont., was presented to the Rev. Eric Beggs, for the last nine years minister of the Presbyterian Church in St. Laurent. Three of his members, F. L. Miller, clerk of session, Mrs. J. Creese, on behalf of the women and Ralph Thompson, chairman of the Board of Management, spoke feelingly in appreciation of Mr. Beggs' service to and from them "far above the call of duty". Mr. Beggs leaves for Orillia the end of September.

Rev. Gairdner Dalzell, St. Lambert, reported satisfying progress in the extension charges. The new building is under way at St. Michel and the Congregation at Ile Perrot has raised more than $750 more this year so far than in a corresponding period last year.

At noon the Presbytery were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Allan S. Reid at their home at Rockburn. The tables were laid on the lawn under the trees. Mrs. Reid was assisted in serving by Mrs. Clarke Hood, Ormstown; and a number of other ladies. The birthday cake was in tribute to Dr. Reid's recent celebration of his 84th. birthday.

In thanking Dr. and Mrs. Reid and the ladies, the clerk of presbytery, the Rev. Dr. C. Ritchie Bell paid high tribute to Dr. Reid's long and splendid service to the Church of his fathers. Dr. Reid had been his ideal since he first met him as a boy. He was sorry that he could not attend presbytery so frequently now. His good counsel and advice were sorely missed.

The Rev. J. C. Hood, Ormstown, was named a member of the Senate at the Presbyterian General Assembly held in Toronto on Thursday last.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. C. M. Oney, bringing the very enjoyable afternoon to a close.

Silver Wedding Anniversary

Citizens of two counties, and relatives from Montpelier, Vt., and Montreal, joined in celebrating the 25th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William McClatchie at their home on Saturday evening.

Rev. Robert Beal, minister of Huntingdon United Church, made a presentation of silver dollars as a token of the esteem in which the community holds the McClatchie family.

He paid tribute to the role which members of the family played in the church, school and community, and their willingness to assist neighbors in difficult times.

A "surprise" family dinner was held in the home earlier in the evening, when 20 relatives on both sides made presentations and toasted the couple.

To assist in making the surprise complete, Mr. and Mrs. McClatchie were invited to a luncheon earlier in the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Macfarlane in Valois, Que.

Present at this luncheon was a sister of Mrs. McClatchie (formerly "Nina" Macfarlane) in the person of Mrs. L. L. Thompson of Montpelier, Vermont.

During the evening, greetings were read from relatives in Florida, Rutland, Vt. and Shawville, Que.

More than 100 local and out-of-town adults and a large number of children, all interested in piano music, attended a piano recital Sunday afternoon given by the pupils of Miss Gilberte Demers, T.D.U.M., at St. Joseph's Parochial Hall. Twenty of Miss Demers' students displayed their talent in a most recommendable manner. Miss Demers announced that most of her pupils have passed their music examinations with honors and first class honors; Donald McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. David McCoy, led the class with 98%.

Two songs were rendered, one in English and one in French, both in honor of Father's Day.

A letter from Dr. Eugene Lapierre, D.M., was read by the Master of Ceremonies announcing that Miss Demers is now the official district member of the National Conservatory of Music. The members of the Ormstown Band organized a "going away" party for John and Francis Kilgour, who will be leaving soon to take up residence in California. John has been a member of the Ormstown Band for 25 years and will be sorely missed, especially on parade when his dulcet trombone tones will no longer ring out over the roof tops. This past week marked the 25th time John has marched with the band for the school parade on opening night of the Ormstown Fair. John and Francis were presented with a crystal Cigarette Lighter on behalf of the Band Members by Gerald Duncan. Band Master Lindsay Cullen, jovially reminded them that although they may be going to a country where everything is the biggest and the best in the world, they must not forget, that they may never join a band where only five or six turn out to practice but when called on to perform in public, at least thirty or thirty-five members rally. "Where else?" asked Mr. Cullen can you salute three flags at the same time? Where else can you have the privilege of choosing between two national anthems? Where else can you find Englishmen, Frenchmen, Irishmen and Scotsmen marching, singing, playing and fighting together? Think it over, John and Fran, and remember us in Ormstown." Our personal good wishes go to Francis and John in their new life in California.

Chateauguay Gardens Home at Last

Here we are back again after a very enjoyable holiday in Bathurst N.B. While in Bathurst your correspondent had the pleasure of attending the wedding of her sister Miss Delia Pitre to Mr. Vaughan Christopher of Campbellton N.B. Your writer also enjoyed a few feasts of the famous New Brunswick Lobsters. But however enjoyable a holiday may be, it's always nice to get back home.

Now we'll get down to the news in our area which we hope you will enjoy.

Little Kevin Timms, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Timms of St. Francis Blvd. who was unfortunately hit by a car last Sunday, June 11th, is reported as being in critical condition at the Montreal Neurological Institute.

Kevin underwent two brain operations and is still unconscious but Mrs. Timms, who states the doctors gave her absolutely no hope that her son would live through Monday the 12th, is now hopeful that he will gradually get well. With the help of prayers and well wishes bestowed them by their many friends little Kevin is sure to get well. Latest reports indicate Kevin's fight for life are giving his distraught parents new hope.

Congratulations and get well wishes both go out to Mr. and Mrs. Luke Bonetto of Lang Ave. Mrs. Bonetto, who suffered a nasty fall on Thursday, was hospitalized for a broken ankle. While in the hospital Mrs. Bonetto who was awaiting the arrival of the stork in a couple of weeks had a surprise visit. The Bonetto's were blessed with the birth of a five-pound boy, the first after nine years of wedded bliss. Congratulations Luke and Terry and we hope you don't have too much trouble with your broken ankle, Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Bailey of Lang Ave. visited St. Hubert Airport on Saturday June 17th. to attend the annual Air Force Day events. The aerobatic displays put on by the Golden Hawks was marvelous and a flying show no one should miss. A solo aerobatic display by a beautiful "red" T-33 was also breathtaking. The day left us with pride for our Air Force, as it is OUR Air Force and a new appreciation of the creative energies of the R.C.A.F.

-o-

Hear we have a couple of Yoga enthusiasts in the neighborhood. Mrs. Norma Cadieux and Mrs. Juliette Decarie are off every Wednesday evening to the downtown area for their weekly visit. The exercices are apparently very good, so they say.

-o-

Today as you well know is the first day of Summer and we must all keep our fingers crossed so that we have a lovely one. As yet the weather has not been very good, with so little sun our plants are looking slightly stunted, at least mine are. We do need the heat and sun for all our vacationers so let's all hope.

Water Trouble Explained

The main topic of conversation these days most probably is the water shortage. Information received from the authorities is that the low water pressure and more often, complete lack of it, is not because the supply has been turned off. Therefore it is not possible to give residents any warning. The pipe being used at the present time is not big enough to supply sufficient pressure in the hot weather when people naturally use more water. A new connection to a larger pipe is being made at the present time and should be completed in a week or so. In the meantime, the only thing to do is to run off sufficient water for daily use so that we are not stranded when it is time for washing the supper dishes.

Anniversary

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jean Bedard of 40 Adam St., who celebrate their 15th wedding anniversary on Saturday, 24th June.

Sports

The Sports Committee of the Chateauguay Centre Recreation Association would like to thank all the Prudential residents who have supported them and the children with their cookie sale. This is to be a weekly arrangement throughout the summer to help buy sports equipment for the children. Most people buy cookies, so why not encourage the children who are trying to help themselves. It would assist members of the sports committee if people would like to place a regular order for these cookies, maybe each week or every two weeks. There are about fifteen varieties to choose from and if anyone would like to have a list of the different kinds please contact Mr. Young at OX. 2-9563.

Now that exams have started my column doesn't contain much of anything because most folks were studying all weekend and the result was : no news.

Two dances were held over the weekend and I hear that they were both a success.

The Tahitian Hop held at St. George's Church on Friday night attracted a large crowd, approximately 165 people attended. This dance was one of the several things planned by the Anglican Young People's Association that will help the teenagers of Chateauguay to stay off the streets and out of trouble.

The dance held at the Chateauguay Heights Recreation Club was also a success but there were not as many people in attendance as at the Tahitian Hop. The Wild Stallions, a group of Chateauguay boys, supplied the music and did a very good job of it and on behalf of all the teenagers in Chateauguay, I want to wish them the best of luck in the future.

C.A.C. Dance

On Saturday, June 24th, a dance will be held at the Chateauguay Aquatic Club. Everyone is welcome, so let's see a large turnout. This dance will be held after the first regatta of the year on June 24th. We wish all crews from Chateauguay the best of luck and hope you place first in all events.

Sunday School Picnic

On Saturday, June 24th, the annual St. George's Anglican Church Sunday School picnic will be held at St. Armand's Beach, New York. This will offer a lot of people their first chance to get to a beach this year, so get your Mom and Dad to pack a picnic lunch and get in the car and get down there for a day of swimming and sunbathing. All we have to hope for now is nice weather?

Well that's all for this week, folks, because I've got to do some studying for tomorrow's exams. I hope they are easy and I hope everyone has good luck with their exams too.

Notes From The Police Blotter

$1,000 damage was caused to a 1959 Chevrolet sedan at Hemmingford at 1.30 a.m. June 14th, when Andre Hebert, age 59, collided with a parked truck owned by Ralph Moore. Damage to the truck amounted to $50. Provincial Police investigated.

The Indians pursued him in two Cadillacs but Fisher out-manoeuvred them on roads he was familiar with and escaped. Provincial Police are investigating.

Minors are warned not to falsify their ages in order to purchase cars in their own names and thereby avoid high insurance rates. Provincial Police are investigating other minors who are alleged to have falsified their ages in order to obtain chauffeurs permits. Police warn this is a serious offence and offenders will be severely dealt with.

On Tuesday Police recovered a Volkswagon truck owned by Georges Renaud which was stolen on the night of June 17-18 from the owner's residence on East St., Huntingdon. The truck was located in a bush well off the road near the Powerscourt dam. About one mile from where the truck was found, the police located a 1953 Chevrolet sedan owned by Riverside Motors Reg'd. which was stolen May 13. A suspect is being held.

Many Attend

Brunette and N. Bourgon were torch-bearers.

After Mass approximately 230 clergy, relatives and friends of the newly-ordained were entertained at a turkey dinner in St. Joseph's Parish Hall, served by the Ladies of St. Anne of the Parish. Rev. Hubert O'Connor, O.M.I., as Master of Ceremonies spoke a few well-chosen words, then introduced the guest speakers who were Rev. Allan MacInnes, O.M.I., Monseigneur J. A. David, Rev. Fallon, Rev. Marcel Lussier and Mayor Paul Lefebvre. Father Harold O'Connor O.M.I., was then called upon. His words were those of thanks. First to Almighty God for having called him to this Priestly vocation, to his family and all those who assisted him to the Holy Altar, to his superiors for their guidance during his years of preparation, to Monseigneur David for his generous hospitality, to the Ladies of Ste. Anne for their wonderful co-operative spirit in preparing and serving the dinner and to all in general, who through their prayers and good works assisted him in attaining his goal. He asked all present to remember him in their daily prayers that he may be forever a holy and worthy priest of Jesus Christ.

Father Harold will remain with his family until July 15th.

NOVEL THAT ROCKED THE WORLD

1950 years ago, on June 14, 1811, Mrs. Harriett Beecher Stowe was born in Connecticut. Her "Uncle Tom's Cabin", first published as a serial in an abolitionist newspaper from 1851-52, was one of the most powerful and influential books ever written to right a wrong. According to the Book of Knowledge it was read by millions in America and England. She wrote many other novels too, including some attractive children's books, but none of them had the tremendous impact of her great denunciation of slavery.

Eliminate Worry, Enjoy Car Trip

"There is no reason why every motorist shouldn't get the fullest enjoyment out of his vacation motor trip," claims the Canadian Highway Safety Council. "All it takes is a little preparation and some common sense."

The Council, sponsoring in Canada the annual continent-wide Slow Down and Live campaign through June, July and August in co-operation with the Association of State and Provincial Safety Co-ordinators, has issued a few tips for enjoyable motoring. First, it advises, the car should be safety checked before leaving. Make certain brakes, horn, steering, exhaust system, glass, lights, mirrors, wipers and tires are in top travelling condition.

Then start early so any sense of rush will be either eliminated or reduced to a minimum, and stop when tired or just to enjoy the scenery. Motorists who set tight schedules for trips produce tense nerves and muscles. A fast trip proves only one thing : that you might as well have used the time saved to get pleasure out of the trip.

Drive easily. Ignore others who insist of frantic pursuit of what they seem to think is a sense of superiority or leadership in traffic. Let them brag. There may come a day when their ego needs help.

Let the tail-gating, horn-honking driver pass. Forget the flare of temper that arises when another driver cuts into the safe space between your car and the one ahead. He'll probably still be there when you reach your destination. Obey traffic rules. Little can be gained and disaster can be produced by sneaking in a rule or two of your own.

"Generally," advises the Council, "drive relaxed and with patience. Annoyance at other drivers is senseless. If you must be annoyed, watch for some of your own driving faults and get annoyed enough to correct them. While you drive in traffic, the only thing you can teach other drivers is how to drive sensibly, and you teach them that by example."

USEFUL TWINS

In discussing the world's mineral wealth, the Book of Knowledge points out that one metal may be the by-product of another, being mixed in the ore. Lead and zinc, for instance, are often found together.

Child Injured At Powerscourt

Six-year-old Julie Tanguay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Normand Tanguay, St. George Road, Beauharnois, was seriously injured when she was struck by a car on Sunday afternoon near the dam on the Powerscourt Road about two miles south of Athelstan.

The Tanguay family was enjoying a picnic near the dam and Julie and her 5-year-old sister Sylvie crossed the road to pick wild strawberries. On their way back to where their parents were, the girls waited at the side of the road to allow a car to pass. Dust of the gravel road got into their eyes and the children did not see a second car closely following the first.

The second car, driven by 21-year-old Paul Beattie of Athelstan, struck Julie. The child suffered severe head injuries, being struck by a rear view mirror on the side of the car. Provincial Police were notified and the child was taken to Huntingdon County Hospital by ambulance and later transferred to the Montreal Neurological Hospital.

On Monday Julie underwent brain surgery and this morning (Wednesday) Mrs. Tanguay told The Gleaner that Julie will recover. Her left side will be weak the rest of her life but she will not be paralyzed. She will undergo further surgery in about three months.

Police Blotter

Mayor Jos. Laberge parked his car near the Municipal Garage on Tuesday afternoon about 3.30 and a few minutes later was interrupted while in conference with Police Chief Rousseau and told that a school bus had backed into his new car. Investigating, it was found that the school bus owned by T. Auge had backed into the right front fender of the Cadillac.

Police Chief Rousseau warns Chateauguay boys that anyone firing rifles within the town limits is subject to a fine for the first offence. It seems that a number of lads have been firing .22 calibre rifles, much to the annoyance of some senior residents. Rifles must be handled with care and the Chief warns that carrying such a weapon within the town limits is against the law and the members of the Police Dept. have been authorized to seize all firearms if they are being carried by minors.

Forty-five motorists were given tickets for violating the law by Chateauguay Police during the past week. 44 were for speeding infractions and one was for failing to stop at a stop sign. Some of the tickets were handed to out-of-town drivers but the majority were local offenders. When one stops to realize that two children are in hospital as the result of being struck by cars, surely one doesn't need further warning to keep within the speed limits. The police are cracking down on violators and the tickets will continue to be given as long as speeding continues.

The new police car for Chateauguay is expected to arrive today (Wednesday). It is a 1961 Dodge and will be put on patrol work immediately.

Albert Guilbault, 61 Crepin St., The Station, is in the Verdun General Hospital suffering head injuries sustained while working in his garage at the rear of his home. Mr. Guilbault was working on a staircase when the footing gave way and the stairs fell on him. He was taken to hospital in the Police ambulance.

A cheerful note in the police news this week comes from Police Chief Rousseau. The Chief visited Mrs. Timms on Tuesday morning and he was told that 7-year-old Kevin is expected to recover. The boy has been unconscious in the Neurological Hospital since June 11 when he was struck by a car, but on Monday he held his mother's hand, the first voluntary movement he has made since entering hospital.

This is the last call for the second show of the year of the Chateauguay Horticultural Society to be again held in the grounds of Reg. Last week in this column we mentioned several of the spike or long stemmed variety of flowers which will be in bloom at show time. These were Peonies, Iris, Delphiniums, Oriental Poppies, Lilies and Lupins, three stems of each. In the smaller varieties Pansies and Violas are now at their best. Four of each should be shown.

The best time to cut flowers for showing is the evening before or early morning the day of the show.

Some weeks ago mention was made of a delicacy purveyed in England, namely canned sparrows. Now we are hearing of the epicurean possibilities of the weed known as Lamb's Quarters and your correspondent has both sampled it and made enquiries around as to it's culinary possibilities. Cooked as a vegetable we found it to resemble spinach but far more palatable and this is now a regular item on our menu, serving a double purpose of weeding the garden and providing a free vegetable. Here are other ways of serving the weed which I am told are delicious. Cook as a vegetable and serve hot with a dressing of sour cream or mayonnaise. Cook as a vegetable then chill in fridge, serve with cottage cheese. Wash and soak for four hours then dry well and place in crisper, use with dressing as a salad.

WORLD WAR I COMMANDER

Field Marshal Earl Haig, the centenary of whose birth in Scotland will be celebrated on June 19th, was the Commander of the British Army from 1915 to 1919. The Book of Knowledge says that many of the critical battles of World War I took place during that time.

Chateauguay Brownies Attend Revels At Valleyfield Saturday

(by Mrs. F. Berry)

The Brownies Revels held on the Campus of Gault School, Valleyfield, on Saturday June 17th, was a wonderful success.

The opening ceremony, led by the District Commissioner, Mrs. Gregory was followed by a short talk by the Brown Owl of the Valleyfield Pack and then the Fairy Ring. Lunch was a very popular item on the programme, and finished with ice cream being served to all present.

Games followed, and if noise is any indication of enjoyment, they were very successful.

All Brownies had Indian feathers given to them and they joined in a mass pow-wow, and sing song. The meeting closed with Brownie Tapps.

The Brown Owl of the 3rd Chateauguay Pack would like to extend her very sincere thanks on behalf of herself and the sixteen Brownies who attended from our Pack to Mrs. Willis, who deputized for the Brown Owl; also Guides Joanna Raynes, Debbie McInnes, and Minna Coppolo. Without the help of these four, our Pack would have been unable to attend.

Mr. Jack Jupp, a District Cub Master from Chateauguay has delayed the following information regarding the recent Cub Rally held at Hemmingford. 286 cubs were in attendance from 11 different packs in the County along with 27 Leaders and 14 Group Committee Men, setting a new high in attendance for a Cub Rally.

Two Packs, one from Huntingdon and one from Hemmingford, tied for first place in the "Grand Howl".

District Commander, Mr. Bill Sexton, District Scout Master Ed Burgess, District Cub Masters Jack Jupp and Earl Way were on hand along with the boys and their leaders. District Cub Master Jupp says that without doubt this was the most successful Cub Rally ever held in the District. The boys proved to be excellent in their skits which they put on depicting a Jungle Atmosphere and even the weatherman entered into the spirit of the day and allowed the sun to shine. The Beaver Pack in charge of Akela Hans Vanderwoude deserve credit for their part in setting up camp.

It's Exam Time Once Again

FOR about the next week the students in schools all over this area will be busy writing their final examinations for the present school year and prior to their going on summer vacation. It is an anxious time for parents and students alike as they wait the time when the results will be announced, the reports handed out and they learn of their final standing.

Some will have come to the end of their first phase in the line of education and decisions will have to be made, or have been made as to the next step. Some will go on to further institutes of learning, while others will accept positions in some trade or profession. Those who are to remain at school a little longer will be happy to know they have passed and will be advanced a grade higher.

Over the next few years we shall see some changes in the way of education. This is due to some new Bills introduced at the recent session of the Quebec Government which are intended to bring about improvement in our system. One of these decrees that our boys and girls will remain in school for a longer number of years. The intent behind this is to stress more importance on education and its need in our present trend of life. It has been vividly pointed out to us that while our children have a good system of education, they are not making the most of it. It is therefore that something had to be done to stress that education is not just something that can be taken or left. If our people are to prosper they must be able to cope with the conditions that exist.

We would therefore like to say to those boys and girls who are continuing in school that they should make the most of the remaining time and study hard to obtain the best possible marks by their final year. Doing this may mean a great deal to them in their later years in life. Parents should encourage their children to take more interest in school work and stress upon them the importance or working hard at their studies. The world today is one of great competition and it will only be those who are well equipped who will succeed. Any idea of children quitting school in early grades should be squashed, unless it is the intention of a child to take up vocational training, but they should take up something which will befit them to be able to earn a living. If they are not so equipped they are more liable to be among the ranks of the unemployed than anywhere else.

We therefore feel that this is an important time in the lives of all students and therefore one which should be given due consideration at all angles.

Controversy -- Government And Governor, Bank Of Canada

BY the time this newspaper goes to press the contents of the 1961-62 Budget will have been given to the public. The presentation of this year's budget is very late, usually it is given in March or April. However, there have been emergency matters that have had to be dealt with this year and the presentation of a baby budget could have delayed the present one.

However, another matter is said to be the cause of the delay and that is given as Bank of Canada Governor Coyne not being willing to work with the Government and Finance Minister Fleming. It view of this disaffection, Mr. Coyne has been asked to resign his position six months before the expiration of his term.

Governor Coyne has refused to resign on the grounds that to do so would be betraying the duties of his office.

Since the announcement that the budget would be presented, it has come to light that this burget will be an "Expansionist Budget". By this it is thought that the budget will contain measures which Governor Coyne would not agree with. Mr. Coyne has said that the Government should make their plans public and not try to get him out of the way. The Budget is aimed at the creation of more trade, more production and more jobs.

There is no doubt therefore that when the budget is brought down that it will contain more than the usual element of interest for everyone.

A Good Career For Girls

A good profession that is far from being overcrowded, and in great need of personnel, is the Nursing profession. At this time it does not matter where you go, there is a cry for nurses. With two hospitals in our own locality, beside others also nearby, the cry is, we are short of nurses.

Nursing requires a three year course and training before the party is available for employment, thus it is not one of those positions that one can enter immediately. At the present time there have been too few applicants for the profession, with the consequence that those who finally graduate are snapped up very fast and there are still not enough to fill all the vacancies. It is therefore one of these professions that a girl can train for with a good assurance of obtaining immediate employment on the completion of the course. It is also a career that is lasting because nurses will be needed continously as long as there are hospitals and people become sick. More and more hospitals are being built every year and this again makes openings in this field.

The Huntingdon Rotary Club for one, and several other organizations are trying to encourage young girls to take up nursing as a career. They also offer inducement in the matter of helping to defray the cost of the training period. At the present time, the Rotary Club has five young girls taking training under its particular scheme. It is understood that there may be four of the girls in the graduating class at Huntingdon High School, who are considering taking up nursing. We understand there are others in the surrounding points circulated by this newspaper who are thinking of entering the profession. We can assure these young girls that they will not have cause to regret their decision. Unlike the days of yore, nurses today earn good salaries, work only stated hours, have plenty of time off and also paid vacation period. Good accommodation is provided at most hospitals for those nurses who require such and it is more or less private. These and many more improvements have been brought about over the past few years. There is also a dignity attached to the Nursing profession which gives any member of it, a good social standing in any community. The girl who receives it, will be proud of her R.N.

This is as good a time as any for a girl to consider what she wants as a career. That being the case, she cannot go far wrong if she chooses nursing as her profession.

Preparing For Adult Educational Classes

ADULT educational classes will again be held in Huntingdon High School starting on September 11 and will continue for a period of eight weeks. In past years these classes have proved to be not only well patronized but beneficial to those participating in the respective course of their choice.

In preparing for this course it is quite evident the executive committee has been alert in making its preparations, for every now and again we hear of folks who have been asked to either be a class instructor or one of the participants for some one evening.

In this issue of the Gleaner appears a digest of the "Scrap Book" as compiled by a Grade VI pupil, Patsy McNaughton, aged 12 years. It reveals a lot of refreshing historical facts. It serves to demonstrate to the public that pupils learn a lot to-day that is not necessarily found in the school text books.

At the close of the last season's Adult Educational classes a questionnaire was circulated as to what subjects should be considered for the 1961 School. Perhaps Patsy MacNaughton has provided an idea. How would it be if adults gathered in a classroom and a number of the school's day pupils inform the adults as to what they are learning in school? It would not be a case of the scholars teaching the adults but prove to be an educational class for adults to learn first handed as to what the pupils are being taught. We believe the adults would come away from such classes feeling favorably disposed toward the High School and more willing to pay school taxes without tongue in cheek.

Driver's Demerit Point System

The Province of Quebec Safety League is supporting fully Provincial Police Director Josaphat Brunet in the emplementation of a provincial driver demerit point system. Since 1956, the Safety League has promoted the system which will improve the standard of driving in this province and reruce the number and the severity of accidents on streets and highways. It was the first measure of ten recommendations submitted in our annual memorandum presented last September to the Lesage Government.

The 1,300 company-members of the Safety League urge the Provincial Government to consider the immediate adoption of the driver's demerit point system along the lines of those in effect in six Canadian provinces and in more than 25 states of the USA.

The issue of a driver's license implies that the Provincial Motor Vehicle Department is satisfied with the holder's qualifications to drive. Once issued, a license is renewed year after year on the assumption that the applicant is a qualified driver when, in fact, his qualifications may have deteriorated below an acceptable standard. It would be impractical to suggest re testing all licensed drivers before licenses are renewed, but it would be quite practical to retest all those indicating an unsatisfactory driving performance. Further, such delinquent drivers could be recalled whenever the records indicate such action to be warranted and there would be no concentration of work at any time.

"A demerit point system, said the Safety League's President, Dr. Sarto Nadeau, is an administrative device designed to segregate problem drivers and to relieve concern over the qualifications of the great bulk of motorists. It permits the government authorities to concentrate on a small group and it is in this group that the most dangerous drivers are likely to be found."

Problem drivers are those who, within a stated period, accumulate a certain total of points upon conviction of specified offences, as determined by a point demerit scale. When this level is reached, a notice is sent warning that their record is unsatisfactory. On failure to improve, they are invited for an interview and tests, and if the driver is not fit for a license, his privileges are suspended.

The accumulation of the maximum number of points within a fixed period results in immediate suspension, but the suspension under the traffic point demerit system does not interfere with a court sentence depriving a motorist of his right to drive. The points are deductible little by little as the result of a clean record over a given period, thus providing an incentive to better driving.

Letter To The Editor

June 16th, 1961.

The Editor of the Huntingdon Gleaner,
Huntingdon, Que.

Dear Sirs :

May we bring to your attention a problem that has existed for many years in the hearts of the younger people of this town and which has not been solved as yet. This problem concerns the recreational activities during Fall, Winter and Spring.

As you will no doubt be aware a great need exists for an outlet for our bottled-up energies of which during the summer months we rid ourselves by swimming, golfing and a variation of other outdoor sports.

In wintertime the skating rink serves a very useful purpose, however, this is the one and only activity we have.

May we thus ask the people of the Town of Huntingdon this question : What are we going to do about this situation?

Will we always have to seek recreation elsewhere, for instance go bowling in Cornwall or Malone, skiing in Malone, etc., what if we have no car? As you well know bus communications are not available! After a day at school, in the office or any other occupation one needs to release built-up tensions in a friendly atmosphere. Will we always have to sit at home and watch television, which certainly does not help to improve our physical health or enable us to make new friends which broadens the mind and builds character.

Considering the population of this town we cannot understand how this situation can be left untouched any longer!

We appeal to the people of the Town of Huntingdon to give the above serious consideration. We not only think of ourselves but also of the younger generation who are growing up in our midst and who will have to face the same situation if nothing is going to be done about it soon.

Yours truly,
Lydia Disch,
Shirley Grant, Michael Tinker,
Lillian Stirling, John C. Houle,
Shirley Cosgrove, Therese Provost, Tyris Curran.

Injured At Work

ROBSON — While working on the Cowan Bridge crossing the English River on Thursday morning, June 15th, Mr. Martial Boileau had his foot crushed under a heavy stone. After the swelling and bad bruising had subsided a little, X-Rays were taken on Saturday morning to assess the damage. It was found that the large bone in the instep was fractured. After suffering a great deal of pain, Mr. Boileau now has his foot in a cast and must use a crutch to get around. With haying just a week or two away this is not an enviable state for a busy farmer, his friends and neighbours all wish him a speedy recovery.

Meeting of the Ladies Aid

On Wednesday, June 14th, the regular meeting of the Wesley-Knox Ladies Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Colin Edwards. There were twelve members and nine guests present. Mrs. E. Cleland and Mrs. Charles Edwards were co-hostesses and for this meeting received assistance from other members.

Mrs. E. Cleland, President, took the business meeting while Mrs. Aaron Stewart lead the devotions. The guest speaker was Mrs. Kenneth Murray who gave her listeners much food for thought in her talk in "Woman's place in this changing world and woman's place in the Church today!

Mrs. Kenneth Sample moved a sincere vote of thanks to Mrs. Murray and then, as Mr. and Mrs. Murray are leaving the Parish very soon, presented them with a beautiful quilt by the members of the Ladies Aid. Mrs. Murray was very touched by this lovely gift and thanked everyone most sincerely.

An invitation was received from Mrs. W. F. Orr, that the members hold an extra meeting at her home in Hemmingford on Wednesday, June 28th. It is hoped all will be able to attend. The next regular meeting will be held in July as usual at the home of Mrs. R. White.

The Week At Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — The two men who control Canada's purse strings were engaged last week in a bitter exchange of accusations over the question which of the two is responsible for the country's economic woes.

The controversy between Finance Minister Fleming and Governor James E. Coyne of the Bank of Canada flashed to the fore after seething beneath the surface for months.

The mild-mannered governor threw the fight open to the public with the disclosure that Mr. Fleming had demanded his resignation May 30.

His bombshell disclosure also said that nothing short of an act of Parliament would remove him from the governor's post before the end of his seven-year term next December 31.

Mr. Fleming's answer came the next day with the announcement in the Commons that precisely such an act would be introduced before the end of the session.

Mr. Coyne said his resignation had been asked under the pretext that an increase in his pension, approved by the board of directors 16 months ago, had been out of order.

Fight In Open

Once the fight was in the open, all pretexts were dropped and the finance minister made it clear that Mr. Coyne's presence was not desirable in view of "expansionist" plans for the economy in the minister's budget.

Mr. Coyne said the government wanted him out of the way because of programs "which were apparently thought to be of such a character that I would oppose them."

"I cannot and will not resign quitly under such circumstances," said Mr. Coyne.

He told reporters the reason he was staying in office was because of the "personal attacks" on himself and because no proper issue of policy had arisen between the government and himself.

The governor was not questioning the government's right to remove him, but rather the government's propriety in asking him to resign before a vital issue had arisen on which his stand became incompatible with that of the administration.

He said he did not know what the expensionist programs forseen in the budget would be and therefore could not properly disagree with them until he at least knew what they were.

He asserted that the central bank was under control of the administration and that the administration must take responsibility for its monetary policy. This was in conflict with earlier House statements by Mr. Fleming who asserted the central bank was responsible to Parliament but not to the government as such.

To the minister's charge that the governor had advocated "restrictionist" economic policies, Mr. Coyne said "the trouble has not been in the field of monetary policy, which has always played a constructive role in Canadian economic development."

"What has been lacking so far is adequate action in the field of fiscal policy."

This problem, said Mr. Coyne, lay squarely with the finance department and not with the Bank of Canada.

Federal Deficit

After his announcement in Commons that legislation to dismiss Mr. Coyne would not be introduced before the tabling of the budget on June 20, Mr. Fleming tabled a white paper on Canad's 1960-61 financial situation.

It showed a federal deficit of $345,500,000 in the last fiscal year, the fourth deficit year in a row. The minister had forecast a surplus of $12,000,000 when he introduced the budget on March 31, 1960. The four-year string of deficits since April 1, 1957, now totals $1,406,500,000.

Periodicals Report

The Commons also received the report of the royal commission on the periodicals industry, containing stern proposals aimed at keeping the Canadian advertising dollar at home.

Canadian periodical spokesmen said implementation of the report's recommendations would spell salvation for the remaining handful of Canadian mass-circulation magazines, by returning $9,000,000 in lost advertising revenue to Canada each year.

A Time magazine spokesman and a representative of Readers' Digest called the report discriminatory.

The commission, headed by M. Grattan O'Leary, president of the Ottawa Journal, in one of its main recommendations would deny a Canadian advertiser using a foreign periodical printed in Canada to deduct the cost as a business expense for tax purposes. Another recommendation would bar entry, under tariff regulations, to foreign magazines containing Canadian domestic advertising aimed at the Canadian market.

A bright note came from the Senate manpower committee with the report Canada was coming out of its economic slump. It noted, however, a lack of co-ordination between the government and the Bank of Canada.

It recommended closer integration of the central bank and the finance department. It said finance policies should be more settled and include tax incentives for business expansion, expansion, especially into the export market.

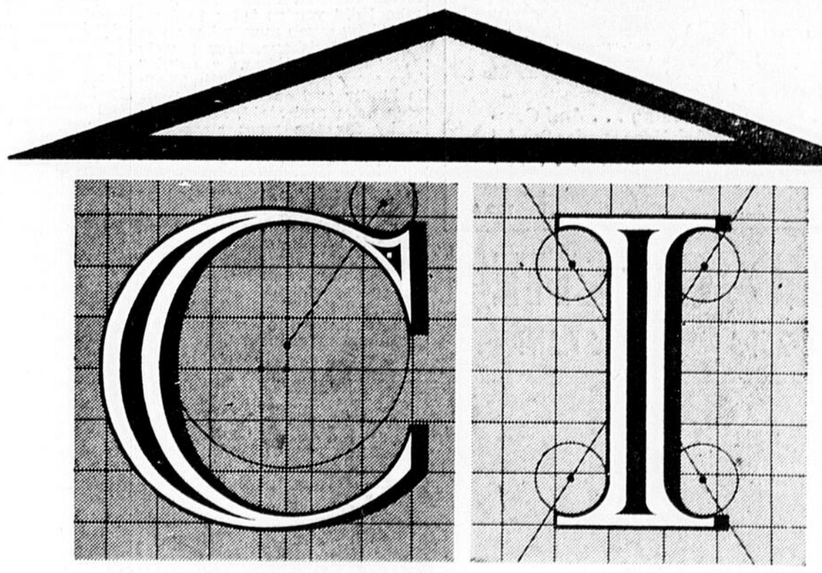

Joint Program

Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced in Commons that the United States has agreed to a joint aircraft production program to re-equip the RCAF and help NATO allies abroad.

The plan involves a swap of responsibilities. In return for

Dr. C. McCoy Gives Talk On Australia

This gives you some idea of how their medical schemes operate. I do not intend to go into these in any more detail, as this is not primarily your interest. However, it might interest you to know that their plans are popular with the Australian people and about 74% of the people have coverage. This is a little higher percentage than in our country where about 50% have coverage, and I would think their plans are just as popular as ours are. Certainly the people there who have coverage like it and the people here who have coverage like it. The problem here is to extend the opportunities for coverage to all of those who would like it. Also to make the price reasonable enough that most people can afford to buy coverage. The government subsidization in Australia helps keep the cost down to a level that nearly anyone can afford.

Australia as a whole is becoming more and more industrialized. It is already the bigest industrial nation south of the equator. The net value of industrial and manufacturing production — (3.5 billion dollars) is already about 2½ times larger than agriculture and pastoral production added together.

The roots for this go back a long way — perhaps even to the ways and habits of those early British settlers who arrived under the personal supervision of the Crown. There are two main elements in Australian society. First, there are those who have remained staunchly British, who endeavour to retain the ways of the mother country and who have sought to make in their sun-drenched land a replica of all they had left behind. This group embodies the graziers (or as we would say ranchers) who founded their great stations in the Outback and the middle class who settled particularly in the state of Victoria, but who all continued to take their social, international and literary opinions from London and dutifully sent their sons to British style public schools and thence to Oxford and Cambridge. Side by side with this group has always existed a Native Australian — the popular rough diamond with a heart of gold, a man with rough and ready toughness, intensely practical and trained in the hard school of experience.

On the whole the Australian appear to move at a more leisurely pace. When a problem arises, they stop for a cup of tea. It is remarkable how a cup of tea does help to solve problems too.

As an example I spent two days with Sir Earle Page on his station homestead in northern New South Wales on the Clarence River. They had no rain for eleven months, but I got caught in a monsoon there. Never again will I feel that it rains in Vancouver — it just came down in sheets — most of it during a Saturday night. On Sunday morning I was called early, told that the rivers were flooding and bridges being flooded over and that if I wanted to get out I should be ready to go in 15 minutes or we probably wouldn't make it and I had a very tight schedule to keep up to.

We started and the first bridge we came to about half a mile from the homestead was well under water and impassable and it had practically stopped raining. We got out and studied the situation and parts of trees etc., were being washed down the stream and suddenly a herd of catle were washed down — about 15 cows and calves — they washed up against the bridge and then went under it and on down among the trees. I think eventually most of them got out While we were standing there and debating what to do — and with me anxious to get going somewhere fast, my host suggested we go back to the house and have a "cup of tea". We went — sat down for a half hour and when we came back the water had gone down enough that we were able to get across. It's a wonderful philosophy and I think we could use some of it in our country and probably we would not have so many ulcers and coronaries and asthmas and so forth.

We later came to another bridge that was impassable, but it was obvious that the water level was dropping. We waited 40 minutes and in that time the level dropped 20 inches. This points out how badly they need water storage and flood control projects, which are sadly lacking, although they are now starting to take steps to rectify this.

During our time in Australia we travelled a fair amount and covered about 5000 miles. We were in 4 states and their capitals. Nearly all of our travel was by plane and I must admit that their flying services really impressed us. Rapid and frequent services over a vast air network have helped to make Australia one of the most air-minded countries in the world. Australia has more than 600 airports and about 100,000 miles of unduplicated internal air routes. Both their domestic and international services are excellent and I'm sure compare favorably with any in the world. As you travel around Australia you find terrific variations in both climate and terrain and people. We have great variations in Canada too, as you can readily find if we compare Vancouver, Saskatoon, Toronto and Halifax. However, I think the variations are more noticeable there. The people vary tremendously too, the one denominator seeming to be that they are all very friendly. Each of the cities seems to have its individual character. Australians themselves have a saying that when a stranger arrives in Perth, the first question he is asked is "where do you come from?"; in Adelaide "what church do you belong to?"; in Melbourne "what school did you go to?"; in Sydney "how much money have you got?" In Brisbane, they merely say "come and have a drink." The story has some truth. Perth is kindly and easy going. Adelaide prim and staid. Melbourne is by far the most class-conscious of Australian cities. Sydney, the laregst of the Australian cities, with a population of well over two million, is regarded by the rest of Australia with somewhat shocked disapproval in much the same way as a Torontonian would regard Montreal or a Bostonian regard Chicago — as crude, violent, and grossly materialistic. The heat of Brisbane explains the constant need for liquid refreshment.

In contrast to their air services their railways are somewhat behind the eight-ball. They have 33,000 miles of railway tracks and they carry about 510,000,000 passengers a year. All but about 700 miles of track are government owned and operated. They have three different gauges but all will eventually be converted to standard gauge. However their distances are so great and population so scattered that air services are much more practical than rail or road.

About all that many people have heard about the interior of Australia has to do with the "Outback" as the area is called, and the "Flying Doctor Service" which is the way medical service is provided in that area, and I think you might be interested in hearing a bit about it.

I spent two days in Broken Hill — 700 miles inland from Sydney — a mining town of 30,000 people — highly unionized and a law unto themselves. Where the law says bars must close at 6 p.m., they close in Broken Hill at midnite or when they get ready. They gamble heavily at a game called "2-up" and a game of this is one of the things to see there. They average 8 to 10 inches of rain per year and haven't had a good rain since 1956.

I had a very busy time — went down a lead and zinc mine to the 3,070 foot level in miner's costume with headlight etc. — and this was quite an experience and certainly no place for anyone with claustrophobia. Miners are very well paid and you just about have to be born in the place to be able to get a job in the mines.

I spent a day and a half with the Flying Doctor. I came to the conclusion that of all the people involved in the Flying Doctor Service the one who fares the poorest is the Flying Doctor himself. In Broken Hill they have two planes — two pilots and one doctor. He is on 24 hours a day 7 days per week. He runs a "clinic of the air" at 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. daily — regardless of where he is. This may last up to two hours. If he is at base he runs it from there — if at home from there — if in plane from there. Patients or nurses are waiting all over the Outback with battery sets turned on and they can't wait indefinitely or batteries run down. He is given a list of people waiting on radio when he arrives and then he calls them in batches of 3, e.g. XBY-4 FBR-6 XYZ-2, and then while two stand by on tap he deals with one. They name complaints or symptoms and he guesses at diagnosis and then orders treatment from a medicine chest that all stations have with numbered trays and medicines. So he says use medicine 14 in Tray D and give him 2 tablets 4 times a day. One of the chief pastimes in the area is to tune in on the Flying Doctor Service and guess with the Doctor as to what's wrong with the patient, as everyone can hear the two way conversation. The Doctor said he doesn't deal with many family quarrels or alcoholics.

We spent one day from 10 a.m. to 8.15 p.m. out in the Outback by plane — a small three engine 5 passenger plane. He ran a clinic at a town called Menindee and then we made some calls and ended up by bringing back an old rancher (or grazier) with pneumonia. The plane could not land within 35 miles of the man's station, so we had to transport him by land rover across a river — then by a jeep and finally by ambulance to the plane and it was just dark as were taking off. After a 100 mile plane trip landed back at Broken Hill after dark. The patient then is taken to hospital by ambulance and the doctor has nothing more to do with him except to report back on the air to his relatives — from a medical point of view a rather dull life for the Doctor I would think — but exciting for a while.

On the same Flying Doctor Service they run a "School of the Air" and I was there on the 5th birthday of this. Their students are as much as 500 miles apart and 5 years ago they had about 25 students and three hours per week on the air and one teacher. Now they have three teachers — 150 students and 10 hours per week on the air. It is quite a problem to integrate different ages — but this was well done by a play which had characters of different age groups in it and does very well at integrating various age groups. Mrs. Gibb, the wife of a local Presbyterian Minister and the original teacher — was conducting this one and she called in the various characters to do their parts — one by one — although they were 500 miles apart. It was most interesting and I'm sure is a great boon to people who are living 20 — 60 miles from their neighbors.

I have painted a fairly rosy picture of the Australia of today. There are some potential dangers: a rise in wages and prices raises the bogey of inflation economically — together with high interest rates and high income taxes. Politically, the maintenance of the white Australia population makes it difficult for Australia to win the close affection of her Commonwealth Asian partners. Despite population growth, Australia still has a long way to go and their population density is about 3.5 persons to the square mile — as opposed to 4.3 in Canada and in the U.S.A. 56.7 — so they need a lot more people yet, although a large part of the country is almost uninhabitable, unless they develop water storage and conservation schemes. Even if the present astonishing rate of population growth is maintained, Australia's population can hardly be more than 30 million in 50 years. Indonesia already has 80 million, Japan 90 million, China 650 million. Asia still remains a potential threat as well as a friendly challenge. There are signs that Australia may be starting into a minor recession such as we have just been through in our country, and I believe that where we are showing signs of moving out of ours, they are just moving into theirs.

In conclusion, I have attempted to show you both good and bad sides of a quick impression of Australia. After three weeks I do not pretend to be an expert — I've lived in Canada for nearly half a century and I don't know nearly all about Canada yet — however one does get impressions and if you are an optimist your impressions often tend to be better than if you are a pessimist. Everywhere we went we had the red carpet and the green light and this helped to make Australia look very rosy.

DUNDEE — On June 7th, the Service of Ordination took place in Wesley United Church, Montreal when Mr. Russell Young, student minister of Zion United Church, was ordained by Rev. Beal and Rev. Doxee. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Platt, Mrs. Maitland Platt, Mrs. Russell Young, Mr. Charles Fraser and Mr. Jimmy Barnwell motored to Montreal to be present at this service.

-o-

Last Wednesday the regular monthly meeting of the Dundee W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Arnold. Guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming. Her topic was the Measure of Life is Not Age Alone. She said that more people today than ever before will have to face old age. Old age is only a relative term, for being old for one is young for another. Mrs. Fleming gave as example Mr. Justice Warren at 62 was young for his position in the Supreme Court while a prisoner was pardoned because of his age of 63. Also a ball player is old at 35. A practical definition of old age has been given as that period in life when we are too old to work, too young to die. To prepare for old age one thinks of the visible means of support, such as pension, insurance policies, etc. However, this is not enough to have contentment. We need a clear conscience for the older we grow the more we live in our thoughts. We need a learning mind. This will keep us vital and useful. The third invisible asset is the spirit of courage. Too many are afraid of growing old. thinking that happiness is to be found only in youth. You do not find a happy life, you make it. The Bible implies that cheerfulness is something we can cultivate. Dr. Diet, Dr. Quiet and Dr. Merryman are a team of doctors which can help you develop a continuous vitality that will make you glad you are alive. At the close of the meeting games were played and then Mrs. Arnold served a delicious supper.

Dedication of Stained Glass Windows

On Sunday afternoon, June 11, at Wesley-Knox United Church on Robson Street, a special service was held at which the newly-installed stained glass windows, a kneeling bench and a box to hold the hymn-number cards were dedicated. Following the opening hymns and prayers, Mr. W. W. Barr stepped forward to present these various gifts to the officiating minister, the Rev. K. S. W. Murray, B.A., B.D. In accepting the gifts for the Church, Mr. Murray said the congregation would consider these memorials as a sacred trust and would treasure them with reverent gratitude. From this day they would be set a part from common use and would be dedicated to the glory of God. Just before the dedication, Mrs. Keith Edwards very movingly sang the beautiful solo, most appropriate for the occasion, "Bless This House".

The Rev. F. Ball, Plattsburgh, N.Y., was the guest preacher and chose as his special subject for the occasion "Buildings". There are many references in the Bible to buildings, said Mr. Ball, and Christ himself said, "I will build my Church". He, the Carpenter's Son, was the greatest builder of all time. When we think of buildings, we think of windows, and today we think especially of these beautiful windows recently installed in this Church. They glow like lamps and have added a new beauty and dignity to the Church. From this small Church have gone forth many families to distant places, but the bridge between is still very strong. One such family is that of Mr. and the late Mrs. Walter Sample who, on leaving their farm here and taking up residence in Plattsburgh, joined his Congregation. To Mrs. Walter Sample, who is commemorated in one of the windows, and to her husband and family, Mr. Ball paid a sincere tribute for their devotion to the Church. Some day, said Mr. Ball, when many of the present homes will be gone and changes will have taken place in the community, the Church will still be here with all the beautiful things and thoughts you are building into it right now, and your children will, in turn, thank God for you, the Bridge Builders.

The windows in the Church, made of oblong panels delicately tinted in shades of amber, yellow, green and red, have been donated by the following families: On the west side, starting from the pulpit, is the window given by Mr. and Mrs. W. Barr in memory of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Robson. The next is in loving memory of William Herbert Stewart (July 4th, 1873 - June 9th 1946) from the family. The third, In loving memory of my parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gowdey and grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gowdey, from George Gowdey. The window in the front of the Church, to the west of the door is in loving memory of Mother, Evelyn Angeline Beattie, (May 22nd, 1901 - April 16th, 1950) from the family, and to the east of the door was donated by the children of the Barr family. On the east side of the Church, nearest the pulpit, in loving memory of Mrs. Walter D. Sample from the family, then comes the one in loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. Whiteside Kearns from the family, the next was donated by the Clark family. The small triangular and hexagonal window over the front door were paid for by the Church.

The weather was perfect for such an occasion and the many worshippers who attended gathered on the lawn in front of the Church after the service for a short, friendly visit. Mr. Walter Barr, Mr. Emmett Cleland and Mr. Walter Sample were persuaded to pose on the steps for a picture, which in itself will be an heirloom, because, as Mr. Barr pointed out, of all the worshippers at the Church when he first attended, 74 years ago, (speaking of the men only) he and his two friends are the only ones left.

Among those noticed attending from a distance, were Mr. Walter Sample, Miss Phyllis Sample, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gail, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Perras, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Doucette, all of Plattsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stewart, Mr. W. B. Stewart, Mrs. Dorothy Oranski (nee Stewart), Mrs. Eleda Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cleland, Mrs. Tolhurst and Mrs. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. A. Parkes and Mrs. Paul Lattin.

Mrs. John Ashley (nee Esther Potter) spent a pleasant few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Potter, last week on completing her year's study at the Plattsburgh State Teachers' College. She left on Friday evening to motor, with two friends, to join her husband who had preceeded her to his home in Fort Worth, Texas, on completion of his military duties. Mr. Potter was pleased to receive a call from Esther on Sunday evening, (which Mrs. Potter unfortunately missed by about ten minutes) announcing her safe arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Cleland motored to Plattsburg on Friday morning for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Perras and arrived in time to witness one of the worst fires in Plattsburg in the past forty years. It started at the lower end of Bridge Street when a re-capping machine in a garage caught fire, badly burning one man and starting a conflagration that took seven engines to control it. A three-story apartment house was completely gutted and twenty-six people rendered homeless.

Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robert were Mrs. M. Jones and Gail, Mr. and Mrs. H. Sassadi and Gerald from Montreal.

OBITUARY

The Late Orville Smith

Word was recently received by Mr. Walter Barr of the passing of an old school friend. Mr. Orville Smith, lately of Schenectady, but born and brought up on the farm on the Nichols by-road now owned by Mr. Willard McAllister, passed away on May 26th and was buried at Schenectady on the 29th. Mr. Smith, who has both relatives and friends still in this district, operated his farm until ill-health forced him to change his occupation. He settled in Schenectady and was employed by General Electric for many years prior to his retirement. He was 80 years of age at the time of his death, and leaves his wife and two daughters, Mildred and Effie.

GREEN GIANT SQUARE DANCE COMPETITION AT ORMSTOWN FAIR

The Square Dance competition held in the arena, last Saturday night, was the means of filling the arena with spectators, each shouting words of encouragement to the set of his choice. This year's competition was sponsored by the Green Giant Co. with two teams from Ormstown, one from Huntingdon and one from Howick. Bill Hooker's Jolly Jumpers managed to take the honors as first place winners, with Jaspers Junior Steppers following a close second. Mr. Harold Matthews, of the Green Giant Co. of Ste. Martine, presented envelope of money to each of the winning teams. Howick and Huntingdon, although not on top this year gave the judges a difficult time, as they both presented beautiful, form, rhythm and style. The names of the Jolly Jumpers are Angelin and Florian Guerin, Claudette Dumas and Raymond Allan, Angele Dumas and Claude Bauhne, Jean Page and Dianne Page.

Thoughts Along The Way

"No more pencils, no more books; no more teacher's..." This was the song that met me as a group of happy youngsters came running out the school door on the day their summer vacation began. Along with the school children many of us are looking forward to our summer holidays. And the question that is uppermost in our minds is how to spend these days.

We, who live in the Chateauguay Valley, have mixed feelings about holidays. The ideals that we have inherited from our ancestors would say to us: "Be frugal, be penitent; life is made for us to worship God, but never for us to enjoy the pleasure of this world. "Yes, we want our holiday, but there is always a twinge of conscience that says: "Look what you could have accomplished if you had continued to work for these days."

But when we look further we discover that a time set apart for the recreation of the body and spirit of man is an essential. With what complete abandon the psalmist revels in the glories of nature! How freely Jesus intermingled work and pleasure! What freedom St. Francis felt from depressing obligation! The Bible and the lives of the great Christians teach the necessity of getting away from the daily routine that life may be re-created and given a new perspective. The recreation that comes with our holidays is truly a gift of God. Rightly used it will prove a rich blessing in our lives as our inner persons are re-created by the grace and mercy of God. May you enjoy your summer holidays! And may you experience something of the re-creating power of God in your lives each day of your summer vacation!

A Tribute To Dr. Charles Lightfoot Roman

of Valleyfield and Montreal held at the Valleyfield United Church, June 11, 1961

On Sunday, June 11th, at two-thirty p.m. a Memorial Service for the late Dr. Charles Lightfoot Roman was held in the United Church of Valleyfield and the church was filled with members, friends and visitors from many places, near and far. For forty years Dr. Roman had lived in Valleyfield and was connected with many medical and professional relationships centering in the McGill University School of medicine, and the Montreal General Hospital, and numerous professional bodies throughout Quebec and all Canada. After a considerable time of failing health, in which he was honorably retired from medical directorship of Montreal Cottons, Ltd., and from the Dominion Textile Company, he passed away on the morning of June 8th, at the Montreal General Hospital, where he had given such a large share of devoted service. He was a graduate of the McGill Medical College and served in World War I overseas with the Canadian General Hospital No. 3. Returning from France in 1917, he served as admitting officer of Montreal General for two years, and as acting superintendent. In December 1920, he was married to Miss Jessie Middleton Sedgewick, a professional nurse who had served overseas. To this marriage were born five sons, Charles, James, Middleton, Robert and Stephen. These sons are now doing useful and distinguished service in many fields, scientific, industrial, and business administration. Dr Roman not only served in the chosen field of medicine, but gave himself unsparingly to many related areas of service, leadership of the Boy Scouts, Past Grand Master of The Masonic fraternity in the entire province of Quebec, and many other civic and fraternal organizations.

The Memorial Service was simple, but impressive in its dignity and in the evident affection and esteem in which Dr. Roman was held by people in all walks of life. The Pastor of the Church, The Rev. W. Charles Pelletier, presided, and offered the prayers, and led in the Scripture Readings, and paid tribute to the long and distinguished churchmanship of Dr. Roman, who had served as an Elder of the United Church of Valleyfield since the year 1925. He also introduced the speaker for the service, The Rev. William Lloyd Imes, of Dundee, New York, who with Mrs. Imes was graduated from Fisk University more than fifty years ago; Dr. Roman was also a member of the graduating class from that same college in that year, and he and Dr. Imes had been not only classmates, but roommates and lifelong friends. The speaker said in part;

"There hangs on the wall of our cottage at the South Jersey shore, where Mrs. Imes and I spend most of our summers, a group picture of four college students, a team of debaters; this picture was taken back in the year 1910, at Fisk University. The names of these students were: Charls Lightfoot Roman, Julian Dawson, Charles H. Wesley, William Lloyd Imes.

Three of us were Seniors that year, and the fourth, Charley Wesley, was a Junior, and now is president of Central State College, of Wilberforce, Ohio. But of one especially at this time we are thinking, and that one is of course Chales L. Roman, M.D., dear to his family, dear to his college classmates, dear to his medical associates at McGill, and Montreal General, dear to this beloved community of Valleyfield, and dear to thousands of friends and patient, associates in civic fraternal and professional groups.

Here was a man who lived life to the full, and yet who never lost touch with the humblest of people. He knew greatness, both in his own chosen field of medicine, and in the world at large, yet he bore all his honors with becoming modesty and dignity. He never let his learning turn either his head or his heart!"

The speaker also paid a renewed tribute both to Dr. Roman and his family for the honor they had done to the memory of Mrs. Roman, by the recent unveiling of a memorial window in the Valleyfield United Church, dedicated April 30 of this year, at which time he was also guest speaker. He called to mind that Dr. Roman, who was present at that service, in spite of great weakness of body, but with greatest courage and devotion, held fast to the great tradition that family life is at best a valiant effort to make some useful contribution to one's community, one's country, and to the world.

Prefaced to the tribute, the speaker quoted at length from The St. Lawrence Sun of September 21, 1955, in which an article entitled "Who's Who in Valleyfield" was a sketch of the life and career of Dr. Roman up to that time. Also he read entire the strikingly apt and excellent editorial of the Montreal Gazette, issue of June 10, 1961, entitled "Charles Lightfoot Roman", which he said would inspire us all to do our chosen life-work with zeal and selfness devotion to the common good. He closed with two excerpts from verse and proverb which were found by the sons of Dr. Roman among his papers:

"But once I pass this way
With all my might
I will essay
Sweet comfort and delight
To all I meet upon the pilgrim way."

"A Prayer To One whom you may not see again:
May the wind be at your back; may the road rise up to meet you. And may God always hold you in the palm of His hand."

These were jotted down in his own handwriting, and may well form a spiritual last will and testament to us all.

The above sketch was written down from notes prepared by William Lloyd Imes, at the request of W. Charles Pelletier, Minister of the Valleyfield United Church of Canada.

U.T.W.A. Report Of Recent Convention

HAMILTON, ONT. — The United Textile Workers of America chose here to break with tradition and approve of its members contributing money to a political party.

Not since the 9,200 member UTW Canadian arm had its beginning in 1944 has the union taken such a step.

It was encouraged to support the New Party in a resolution submitted by two Montreal locals at its recent week-end convention in Hamilton.

The resolution called on the UTW Canadian Council to do everything possible to encourage members to take part and contribute five cents of their dues money a month to the party.

The resolution passed with a few dissenting votes.

UTW Canadian Director Roger Provost stressed that any contributions would be made on a voluntary basis.

Other resolutions called for an increase in the old age pension from $55 to $100 with the eligibility age reduced from 70 to 65 without a means test.

The government should institute a national health scheme and in the meantime, free hospitalization should be provided for all pensioners, unemployed people and their dependents.

To do away with 'unfair competition from non-union companies", the convention said a minmium wage of $1.20 an hour should be established by the government.

With retroactivity more often than not being bypassed when long negotiations are held, the UTW would like legislative action to change things.

It would like to see labor relations acts amended to make terms of a first agreement retroactive to the date negotiations started. Where a contract was being renewed, retroactive pay should date to the expiry date of the previous pact.

Roger Provost was re-elected President of the Canadian Council of the United Textile Workers of America.

More than 100 delegates from Quebec, Nova Scotia and Ontario attended.

Hamilton Alderman, William Foley, was re-elected Vice-President and Georges Payette, Secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Foley is UTW Ontario and Maritimes director and Mr. Payette, Quebec director.

Lauredan Bertrand, of Valleyfield, Quebec, was elected recording secretary.

Elected as executive members from Quebec were Romeo L'Archeveque and Joseph Grenier, both of Montreal; Leopold Leduc, Valleyfield; Marcel Gilbert, Shawinigan; Marcel Boisvert, Grand'Mere and Gaetan Proulx, Lachute.

Splendid Golf Course Located On Shore Of Lake St. Francis Near Port Lewis On Route 3

Another new development along the lake shore of Lake St. Francis, near Port Lewis has taken place and this should meet with the approval of golfers. A nine-hole golf course has been laid out, with comfortable club house and plenty of parking space. It is situated about a mile west of Port Lewis.

Mr. Lucien Faubert, of Valleyfield, prepared the land in 1959, more as a private enterprise than one of public nature. However, when friends visited the course, they suggested that he should make it available to a select public and in consequence he built and opened a club house on June 28th. 1960.

The course stands in about 50 acres and is a 9 hole par 3-9 course. The greens and fairways are in excellent condition and Mr. Faubert is constantly on the watch to see that they are kept this way. The club house is quite large, with a ground floor club room and bar and a lounge and bar upstairs. Both are nicely furnished and the floors have thick carpeting. The bars are for use of members and guests only. The name of the club is the St. Anicet Golf and Country Club Inc. and a large sign near and facing Route 3 proclaims this. Fees for members are as follows: Senior men, $75.00; Senior Ladies, $50.00; Intermediates (age 14 to 21), son or daughter of a member, $25.00. This includes full playing and club house privileges. Social membership can be obtained for $10.00.

The lounge can be used for dancing if needed. The members and guests' club room on the ground floor is finished in grey wood grain masonite. There are wide windows which overlook the golf course in one direction and over a man-made lagoon in the other. It is furnished with bucket seats and tables with the seats finished in grey and the tables in salmon red. The upstairs lounge is finished much the same and the large windows overlook the course and give a much better view.

There are two ways of getting to the club house and course, by water, or by road. Those who live along the lake shore may travel to the course in their boats and can tie up right alongside the club house. Mr. Faubert had a canal dug inland from the lake for about half a mile. It is 8 feet in depth and about 75 feet wide. It has a cement wall on the club house side with iron rings inserted to which the boats can be tied. A nice green lawn extends from the canal to the club house and gives the whole a very neat and beautiful appearance. Those who come from other points can travel by road and will find plenty of parking space around the club house.

Other improvements are planned. One is to enlarge the club house to accommodate space for lockers and showers. More space is to be made for car parking. A practice green is also being formed and should be in readiness for this season. Presently there are 75 members and the limit for the 1961 season is to be 100. It is also intended this season to institute a pay as you play system.

The greens and fairways are well watered by wells and the whole course is fenced in by about 5,000 cedars. The fairways are marked with cedars and the greens and fairways have soft turf and are well darined.

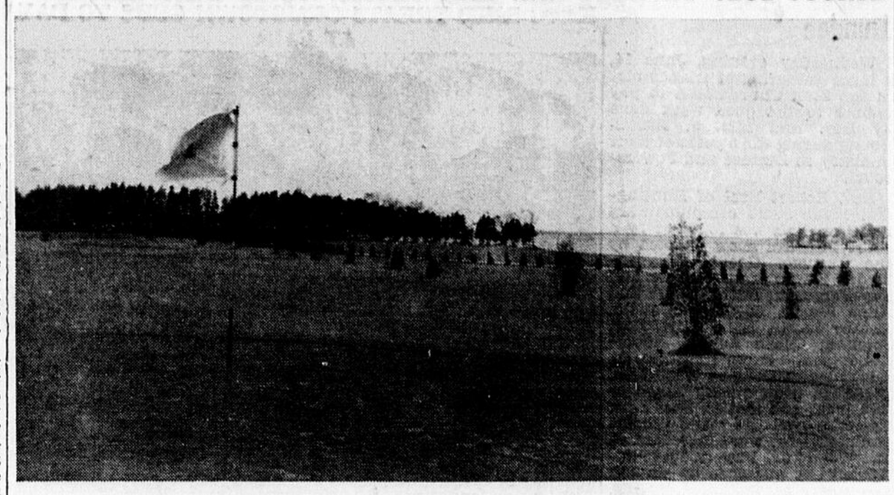

Mr. Faubert is now going further into the project for he has purchased the farm on the opposite side of Route 3, consisting of about 400 acres and is now busy engaged in forming an 18 hole course on this land. Machinery is in operation forming the greens and fairways and it is hoped that this will be ready to be opened on Labor Day of this year. There will be a club house on this course also, but it is expected it will be used for tournaments only and that a tournament will be held on the opening on Labor Day.

By the time everything is completed the total investment will be in the neighborhood of $500,000, this by the end of 1962.

Mr. Faubert is kept quite busy looking after the outside work. Mr. Romuald Theoret is the manager and looks after details of membership, and the comfort of the members and guests, etc. The club house is electrically heated, so is comfortable at all times.

This is indeed an attraction for this summer resort and should be successful in bringing many more visitors to this area during the vacation months. It may even become an important centre for tournament play in the very near future.

PARTIAL VIEW OF ST. ANICET GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB COURSE

Here is a partial view of the golf course of the St. Anicet Golf and Country Club, taken from Green No. 1 and looking down the Fairway. It provides a nice view of Lake St. Francis off to the right. The greens and fairways are of soft turf and are well drained. In the case of wet weather, this means that the course is soon available for play following a shower or prolonged rain. In periods of dry weather, it is kept well watered through a number of wells located at strategis points. It is a nine hole course. An eighteen hole course is being formed on the oposite side of the Route 3 and this should be ready for play on Labor Day this year.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

On Saturday, June 10th, at the Frontier Inn, Hemmingford, a dinner party was held to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gauthier, Napierville. Mr. and Mrs. Gauthier are the parents of Mrs. Ernest Dauphinais and Mrs. Lucien Dauphinais of Robson Street, and an outstanding feature of this happy family celebration was the presence of all fourteen children born to Mr. and Mrs. Gauthier, together with their husbands and wives and many of the forty grandchildren. The daughters are Mrs. Ernest Dauphinais (Lillian) and Mrs. Lucien Dauphinais (Irene) of Hemmingford, Mrs. P. Lemieux (Beatrice), Mooers, Mrs. D. Pinsonnault (May), Champlain, Mrs. Roy Kenny (Emma), Cohoes, N.Y., Mrs. G. Richard (Helen), Napierville, Mrs. A. Remillard (Marion), Napierville, Mrs. B. Wood (Ida), Cohoes, N.Y., Mrs. A. Guay (Alice), Troy, N.Y., and the sons Raymond, George, Ernest and Arthur, all of Cohoes, N.Y., and Frederick, Mooers, N.Y., there are also three great-grandchildren.

On Tuesday, June 6th, fifty years exactly since Mr. and Mrs. Gauthier were married in Champlain, N.Y. the ceremony of the Blessing of the Marriage was held in their home on the following Saturday they were greeted on their arrival at the Frontier Inn by seventy-five relatives and friends. Denis Richard welcomed his grandparents in a well-prepared address of congratulations, little Diane Dauphinais presented her grandmother with a beautiful bouquet of roses while Michel Dauphinais presented his grandfather with a well-filled purse.

The head table was graced with a four-tier anniversary cake decorated with tiny gold roses and the decorations were carried out in a white and gold colour scheme. After the guests had enjoyed an appetizing dinner of roast turkey, many pictures were taken and a happy afternoon was spent visiting or dancing to the music of the Golden Bar Orchestra.

PRE-WEDDING PARTY.

On Tuesday evening, June 13th, a mixed party was held at the Frontier Inn to celebrate the forthcoming marriage of Miss Helene Hebert to Mr. Hubert Perras. Organized by Mr. Leo Dauphinais with assistance from Edmond Priest and Lucien Viau, it proved to be a very successful affair. During the evening Helene and Hubert were presented with a well-filled purse together with all good wishes for their future happiness. Just prior to the party the groom-to-be underwent the ceremony of "l'enterrement de vie de garçon", the burying of his past life! An hilarious parade through the village with various other ceremonies, all the particiipators thoroughly enjoying themselves, except, perhaps the groom who looked rather damp, however it was a warm night!

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hayden were pleased to have as their guest for a few days, from June 12th to 14 th, Mr. Douglas Harfield of St. Adele. Mr. Harfield is a brother of Mrs. Hayden and while here took the opportunity of visiting another brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Harfield and niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hamilton.

WATER SAFETY.

With school closing and summer days close at hand and the blue waters of beautiful Lake Hermas sparkling so invitingly, thoughts of parents turn to water safety. The members of the Women's Institute, through the Convener of Health and Welfare, Mrs. J. Robertson, have obtained from the Red Cross the services, for one day, of one of their experts from Montreal who will come and give a talk and demonstrations on water safety. This will be towards the end of the month or beginning of July, final details have not yet been settled so watch the Store windows for posters which will be put up as soon as date and place are known.

DANCE.

An enjoyable Dance was held Friday evening, June 16th, in the United Church Hall, under the auspices of the Hemmingford Masonic Lodge. There were not, perhaps, quite so many present as had been anticipated, but the space to dance with ease, plus the excellent condition of the new floor recently laid in the Hall, made for a most enjoyable evening. The music, too, came in for its share of appreciation and with ballroom and square dances following in quick succession there was never a dull moment.

A WELCOMING PARTY.

On Friday, June 2nd, an enjoyable party was held in the Anglican Church Hall for Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Merlin who were married recently. Mrs. Merlin comes from nearby Franklin Centre so is not quite a stranger to the district. Dancing to the Fisher Orchestra was enjoyed and a midnight lunch was served and a well-filled wallet was presented to the happy young couple who have made their home in Hemmingford.

COVEY HILL — Many changes have been taking place over the countryside in the Township of Havelock, especially on the slopes of the Hill. In just a few years approximately a thousand acres of land has changed hands, including two farms with closest access to that geological wonder, the scenic chasm known as the "Gulf". A prophecy made by the late W. R. Perry that one day the Gulf would be successfully exploited would seem not unlikely to be on the way to fulfilment.

Mrs. Hollis Lowden spent a few days in Ormstown and with her daughter, Mrs. Bert Pilon and Baby Barbara Anne, visited Mrs. W. R. Perry.

HONOURS GRADUATE.

The many friends and relatives of Miss Betty Miller will be pleased to learn she has gained her Bachelor of Science degree from the Plattsburg State University College with honours.

Betty, aged 22, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller of Robson Street. She received her education to the 10th Grade at the Hemmingford High School and is well remembered, not only for her scholastic ability but for her outstanding success in the field of public speaking. Besides winning various prizes in the Huntingdon County W.I. Public Speaking competitions, Betty gained second place in the Montreal section of the international public speaking competition organized by the Knights of Pythias.

Following her graduation from Mooers Central School in 1957, Miss Miller entered Plattsburg State University College for a four year degree course in nurse-teacher education. She was one of thirty students who graduated with honours out of a total of approximately three hundred and twenty.

On a short visit to her parents home for Father's Day, it was learned that Betty has accepted a position at the Ellis Hospital in Schenectady and while awaiting the date of commencement, is nursing at the Physician's Hospital in Plattsburg.

Mr. Gervan Stevenson and son Freddie of Ottawa recently visited at the Stevensons' Home.

Dundee

Wednesday evening, June 14, a large gathering of friends met in the Zion Church Hall to pay tribute to the good work done by Rev. and Mrs. J. Russell Young during the 3 years of their ministry in Dundee and Powerscourt.

Rev. Robert Beal of Huntingdon made some complimentary remarks. This was followed by a short minstrel show enacted by the Teenage Group. This included Karen Elder, Donald and Fay Ferguson, Barry, Jessie and Anne Fraser, Edith MacDonald, Audrey Lessie, Anne Platt, Kari Jotenan, Eileen Russell, Robbie Henderson, Jimmie Barnwell, Edward and Douglas Watterson. Different groups sang songs or told jokes and stories. Miss Jean Fraser played the piano accompaniments for the songs. Mrs. E. M. Wood of Powerscourt delighted her audience by singing two songs accompanied by Mr. Rhodes, organist in the Huntingdon United Church. The Young Family was called to the stage where Rev. Young was presented with a New English Bible by Miss Betty Fraser on behalf of the Teenage Group. Mrs. William Leslie, on behalf of the congregation, presented a corsage to Mrs. Young.

Mr. Clarence Johnson, on behalf of the Powerscourt congregation presented Mr. Young with a purse of money. Mr. William MacPherson presented Mr. Young with a portable communion set and $100.00 from the Dundee congregation. Mr. Young thanked the people and told how he had enjoyed his first charge. He also told how he believed God had planned his life so he finally had become a minister. He and his family are going to Merryfield, Saskatchewan, for two years, after which he hopes to become a missionary in South America. Best wishes are extended to him in his work in Saskatchewan. Refreshments and a social time followed.

On Sunday Mr. Frank Ruttledge of Montreal took the morning service. Mr. Ruttledge is to spend the next two years as the new student minister in Zion United Church.

On Saturday Rev. R. Young, Mr. Chas. Fraser and Mr. Wm. MacPherson motored to Toronto to attend a Laymen's Conference.

Tuesday evening of last week the people of Dundee and surrounding area experienced the worst electrical storm for some years. Mr. Roma Allen had a horse killed in the pasture, Mr. Robert Leslie had his silo overturned while different barn roofs were blown awey. Live electric wires came down and one farmer had to keep his cows in the barn until the Shawinigan men had removed the electric wires. Different farmers reported that their cows were knocked to the floor when a bolt of lightning struck. A building on Mr. Fred Nieuvenhof's farm was hit but other than the telephone fuse being burnt, no fire resulted. This is the farm on which Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Steven still reside.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Platt spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hart of Grande Ligne, Quebec. Mr. and Mrs. Hart returned to the Beaver with their daughter and husband and they plan to make their home with the Platt family.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Dawson of Ottawa spent the week-end with Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming.

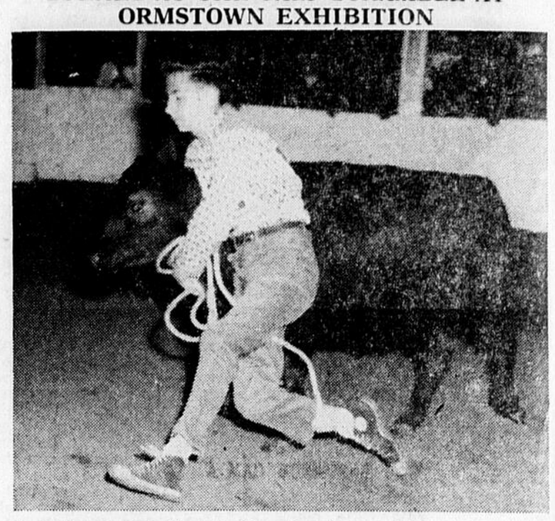

Mrs. Vernon Elder has recently returned home after spending several weeks as a patient in the Huntingdon County Hospital. She is reported to be gaining health rapidly.

KING REID TREATS ORMSTOWN CUBS TO DAY AT FAIR

The man who runs one of the world's largest travelling midways, is not so big that he has forgotten the days of his youth, when all kids must have been just as they are today, tensed to fever pitch at the prospects of "going to the fair". King Reid has, for the past three years, given the Ormstown Cubs a round of free rides, and the privilege of seeing, King Reid Treats the Ormstown and trying their luck at winning "lucky" prizes. The Mad Mouse Ride was the most exciting of all, and here we see three breathless youngsters as they swoop down one of the "dangerous hills and curves". The Cubs are very grateful to Mr. Reid for his interest in them and wish to thank him publicly.

ed. They are not and cannot be satisfactory. Men want to earn their way. Besides, no country can prosper by subsidizing enforced idleness year after year.

Unemployment has a cause. Those who would like to hire men and women for useful occupations cannot afford to do so. Housewives would like to have domestic help; farmers nearly all need or could use a hired hand to good purpose; manufacturers, the largest employers of all, would be reaching out hungrily for more manpower if they could sell their products at present prices.

The problem bothers all political parties. Yet none will face up to the cause — because to enable employers to engage more help, tax rates would have to be reasonable. Political parties have all committed themselves to such heavy social welfare spending that they are afraid to suggest lower tax rates. Most politicians are so afraid to offend labor union leaders that they will not speak the truth about wages getting out of line with productivity.

I think the present government sees the problem and knows what the solution is. They have to face the voters, though, and they fear that the measures they should take are economically sound but politically unpopular.

In short, what is now required is statsemanship of a high order. Politicians should do what they know to be right. They should have faith that there are enough sensible Canadians who will, in due course, endorse such action. Employers must be given a chance to grow.

Today, the government takes about half of all corporate profits of major enterprises. This means there isn't enough money generated to ensure growth or encourage investment.

If tax rates were reduced, unemployment would soon cease to be our number one problem.

Teatime Topics

Travelling, painting landscapes and catching up on reading are on the agenda for Vera Blenney of Toronto who last month retired from the Ontario Civil Service Commission. She was the only woman member.

However, she still plans to "keep my hand in and do things for people." She will continue to attend commission meetings and keep in touch with her office.

Hosiery Notes

Whether or not your legs are chorus girl material, this spring Canada's "upper 10" hosiery brands have devised styles and colors which should benefit anyone.

The Canadian association of ladies hosiery manufacturers says that these "name nylons" are offering 26 new shades and 11 different styles. Some of these styles feature an elastic top, a seven-inch welt in three sections which are designed for longer or shorter foundation garments, and a centering mark to keep seamless stockings straight. Guaranteed run-proof toes and tops and elasticized tops for this summer's over-the-knee and knee-high lengths are additional features.

Fearlessness is the mother of confidence.

No Nuclear Arms For Canada

Canada must not accept nuclear arms, states a special report in the current issue of Saturday Night.

There are no valid reasons for such acceptance. It would not do us any good—either military or politically. It appears that pressure from the Pentagon (e.g.: President Kennedy's speech to parliament last month) is causing Diefenbaker to drift towards conclusion of a nuclear agreement.

The government should take note that the people of Canada do not want such an agreement. Convincing proof of the universal accord on this question, is presented by experts—right wing, left wing and middle-of-the-road—who write in this special report. The spread of such arms, they claim, can only bring the human race to commit suicide.

The only concession we should pay to nuclear arms is to see that every Canadian has a fall-out shelter in his own home or close enough for him to survive if the atomic balloon goes up in the U.S.

Diefenbaker must listen to the Canadian people in this matter. At present, SN suggests, he is drifting dangerously into unpopular acceptance of nuclear weapons, which can only harm, not help, Canada internationally.

Historical Notes Gleaned From "Sellar's" History

The morning was a glorious one — bright sunlight permeating the frosty air. To the south-east were ranged, sharp and clear, the ranges of the Green Mountains; every outline of Mansfield and Camel's Hump traced against the cold sky. Midway in the great plain that stretched between them and the peaked heights of Vermont, the sunlight fell on the gray masonry of the bastions of Fort Montgomery, and between it and the clustering houses of Rouse's Point was seen the shimmer of lake Champlain. In front the level fields, outlined by their fences, of Odelltown and, beyond, of Caldwell's, Manor were depicted as on a map. The Hemmingford men were looking on the cradle of their township, where its pioners had been reared, and many of whose fathers had helped to clear this fertile plain. Not a few of them, reared in the bush, for the first time saw smooth fields, free from stumps and stones. Northward the great plain, lightened at uncertain intervals by the gleam of the waters of the Richelieu, stretched until lost to view. From the name Odelltown the reader is apt to be misled into supposing that it designates a village or town. Among the refugees from the tyranny of the victorious Republicans in the war of the American revolution was Joshua Odell, who took up land a short distance across the frontier from the town of Champlain, and on the direct road to Montreal. After the custom of the country his name was used to designate the settlement of which he was the first and leading member, and as his family was large and took up farms around him, the whole section, a strip of several miles, came to be known as Odelltown. But there was no village, not even a cornerhamlet, simply a fine concession of farmers' homesteads. In front of a stone-building, erected by Squire Odell for a store, was drawn up in line the Odelltown force consisting of a battalion of hastily enrolled militia and March's company of Lacolle volunteers, who alone had uniforms, consisting of white blanket suits. Passing to the head of the line, the Hemmingford men halted, and Scriver stepped into the house with Colonel Odell and his officers. While they were consulting, the rank-and-file had an opportunity of viewing the position of the enemy. Odeltown-street, as the road they stood on is named, follows the crest of the western side of the valley of the Richelieu. The height above the river is slight, but the slope downwards is so gentle, and the great plain it overlooks so perfectly flat, that every object for miles can be distinctly seen from it. To their right, and over a mile away as the crow would fly, at a point on the road parallel to them, where stood a log-house and barn, could be seen a black cluster of men, and from the glitter that momently flashed from it, it was apparent they were armed. More palpable proof was given by the cannon, which stood between the house and the barn, firing an occasional shot in pure bravado, for they were beyond its range. The rebel force was composed of French Canadians who lived on the American side of the frontier, and who, the evening before, had crossed from Champlain and Rouse's Point to reinforce their brethern at Napierville. Selecting the road that leads to Montreal from Rouse's Point, they had crossed the line and taken up their quarters at a farmhouse about 200 yards in Canada. Here they awaited the arrival of the Americans who had promised to join them from Vermont, and who came straggling in all night, the most of them rowing up the river in boats. At daylight a barge and a scow moved slowly up, and landed some 40 American sympathizers, with several hundred stand of arms, a large quantity of ammunition, and a 6-pounder field gun. These were conveyed to the house. The total force was nearly 400, commanded by a French officer, tall and pock-marked, named Touvrey, assisted by Dr. Côté, a respectable physician of Napierville, who had been led into the rebellion from entertaining republican views, and Gagnon, a vulgar agitator. All three had left Napierville the previous day to lead the movement. The contingent of Americans called a farmer of Alburgh, Benjamin Mott, their captain. Their information being that Colonel Odell, Whose force they could see distinctly in the Odelltown road and on which they tried shots from their cannon, was afraid to assume the offensive, they took matters coolly, believing that, before the day was over, their force would be overpowering. Breakfast was got ready in the house and the table had been filled and refilled repeatedly, when a lad came galloping up the road on a steaming horse, with a message from a friend in Champlain to Dr. Côté, that the enemy had received word of their movement and that Scriver had left Hemingford to fight him. Dr. Coté had hardly read the letter, when Hemingford column could be seen defiling down the slope from Odelltown road. The rebel officers acted with indecision. There was still time to go back to the United States or to take up a defensive position in the scrub of a small swamp that stood in rear of the house. They did neither, but remained to receive the onset where they were.

Despite the vagaries of the weather, we have had at least a fair share of sunshine, but it sure grows monotonous to hear so frequently, that another cold system is nosing down from the Arctic. But WHY however do they invariably travel in a south-easterly direction? What's wrong with heading towards the Pacific for a change? Scared to cross the Rockies? In any case, many of Vetville flower beds are displaying a profusion of colours, thanks to the care bestowed upon them. The Rose Bushes are really coming on apace, and the well tended lawns which are such a feature of Vetville, reflect great credit on Major 'Bob' Mitchell, who I am quite confident puts in more work on them than all the rest of us combined.

Talking of voluntary labour, many of us are deeply indebted to one seldom mentioned, viz: Allan Murray who seems to be busily engaged most of the day helping all the sundry. Am sadly afraid many of us take his good natured assistance for granted. Another great worker is Dave Scott who also seems to find something to do for others. Such are few and far between.

It is with the deepest regret we have to record the loss of another of our friends. Mr. J. O'Reilly passed away suddenly on 15th inst. while he and Mrs. O'Reilly were visiting their son and daughter for a few days.

Confirming the rumour mentioned last week, a Bus Trip to Cornwall has been arranged for July 8th. by the Mens Club for residents and friends. Anyone wishing to take advantage of this outing should place their names on the list now on the Hall Notice Board for that purpose as early as possible.

Sorry to report two more admissions into the Queen Mary Veterans Hospital, Messrs. E. Mollins and D. Cunningham. With Messrs. Chas. Maille; K. Fessingden and T. Wilkinson previously admitted, this is above our usual average of patients. Mrs. R. Mitchell remains undergoing treatment in the M.G.H. Greetings and wishes for early recovery and return to Vetville to all.

Vetville members of Br. 108 of the Royal Canadian Legion are reminded that Executive Meetings will be held on the third Tuesday each month, and Ladies Auxiliary Executive meetings the following night each month.

Maplewood Presbyterian Church members are reminded that during the summer months, Sunday School and Service of Worship will be held in the Maple School every Sunday at 10.30 a.m. It is hoped as many of Vetville members will attend as possible. Conveyance will be arranged for those needing it. On Sunday next 25th inst. the Sacrement of the Lord's Supper will be observed. Preparatory Service and reception of new members will be held in the Community Hall on Thursday evening 22nd. inst. at 8 p.m. with guest preacher the Rev. Ralph Kendall of Ile-Perrot. All are warmly invited to attend the Preparatory Service. The Church Ladies are sponsoring a Tea & Bake Sale in the Vetville Hall Saturday. From past records, Vetville will be well represented and it is sure to be a great success. Save being disappointed by being there early, before the "Sold Out" signs appear.

Mrs. A. Hole of "Cambrai" received a pleasant surprise when her grandson paid her a vist on the 17th. inst. Pfc. Ronald Frayne, U.S.A. Marine Corps is now on three weeks leave from the Naval Base at Philadelphia where he is stationed. Old timers here recall with pleasure his last visit to Vetville about 2 yrs. ago, prior to enlisting into the "Leatherneck". All the best of luck and good fortune to you Ronnie.

To the Ladies of the "WEST END CHATEAUGUAY CENTRE responsible for the Home Cake & Bake Sale held on Saturday afternoon 17th inst. goes a special message of appreciation for the wonderful hospitality and welcome extended to the Vetville Ladies who attended this function. Mesdames G. Gregor; L. Alloway; J. Robinson and friend from Winnipeg; G. Glover; A. McKenzie; J. Young; D. Watson & M. Wilkins were unanimous in their praise for the many acts of kindness. In particular must be mentioned Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Simone of the West End Development who took most of the visitors over in two cars; and after the sale invited all of them to their home where tea and coffee had been prepared awaiting their arrival and then brought them back to Vetville, with the goodies purchased at the sale. A wonderful experience.

Mrs. Julia Robinson and Mrs. Mary Wilkins entertained Mrs. M. Wainford of the Non-Pensioned Veterans' Widows Assn. from Toronto, and Mrs. Mary Galloway from Verdun on Tuesday. Mrs. Wilkins also received a visit on Sunday 11th. inst. from Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Jarka and young son from Ville Lasalle who then visited Pat Wilkins and family at their West End home. James and Pat were school chums when both lived at Verdun.

Finally, this week's anecdote concerns an Irish recruit who was being quizzed on his drill formation knowledge. Asked the Instructor of Patrick O'Flannigan "What do I mean when I refer to a BLANK FILE?" Replied Pat O'Flannigan "Begorra Sergeant, for shure sir, you'd be meaning to refer to THE SPACE OCCUPIED BY THE MAN WHO WASN'T THERE."

Latest news on the weather as we go to press is that the colder and somewhat inclement weather forecast to arrive locally around the latter part of Fathers' Day seems to have meanandered elsewhere seeing that this is noon of the next day. Haven't heard a word of protest from any of the Vetvillians so far. Trust it was not merely delayed and due to arrive later.

HOME BAKE SALE BIG SUCCESS

With their usual generosity, West Enders went all out and made the recent Home Bake Sale a success. Through their kind donations of home baked goods, three large tables were heaped with goodies to satisfy everyone's sweet tooth and realized a profit of over $48. Our thanks go to Mr. Belanger, Manager of the Red and White Store for allowing us space in front of his store; George Gourley for his usual kindness in transporting the tables for us and also bringing a carload of ladies from Vetville. Thank you to Don Moore for turning his station wagon into a bakery wagon for delivering the baked goods to the Shopping Centre. Sincere thanks to Mr. J. Simmons for transporting the ladies from Vetville and back again and also to Mrs. Simmons who so kindly served coffee to the ladies of Vetville at her home after the Bake Sale.

Syd and Harold Mitchell also deserve thanks for keeping the tables supplied with baked goods and Clifford King who used his baking talents and presented the ladies with a large tray of home baked sausage rolls. Mr. W. Hulshoff kindly donated a large, lavishly decorated cake. Everyone who bought an item at the Bake Sale was given a ticket on this cake which was drawn after the sale at 4 p.m. Congratulations to Stewart Cotton of St. Denis Street who held the lucky number. Mrs. Mitchell wishes to thank everyone for their cooperation, while Mrs. Metcalfe, chairman of the Home Bake Sale, expresses her sincere thanks to all her helpers and everyone who contributed to the success of this venture.

The Girls Handicraft Club held their weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. Syd Mitchell last Thursday. The girls were kept busy making paper daisies to decorate the Lades Committee Home Bake table. Several of the older girls put posters up advertising the sale. Mrs. Golden kindly consented to give the girls space in her basement to store all the goods that the girls have finished sewing. The girls committee takes this opportunity to thank Mrs. Golden for her kind offer. Jeannette Dupuis brought her tray cloth that she had finished embroidering and the other girls said their's would be finished by next week. The meeting was adjourned until next Thursday at the same time.

Thursday, June 15th marked the 40th Anniversary of the RED & WHITE STORES and also the official opening of the Red & White Store in the West End Shopping Centre. The store was attractively decorated and the spanking white shelves held a quantity of best brand merchandise. To celebrate the occasion prizes were drawn at 10.30 a.m. and again at 4.30 in the afternoon. Among the lucky recipients in West end were S. Mackey, ash tray; M. Belair, bag of merchandise; J. Morrison, bag of merchandise; T. E. Jones, ash tray; J. G. Rochette, ash tray; P. Muir, bag of merchandise; C. Baker of Principal Street, also bag of merchandise. Anyone who wishes goods that are not on the shelves, please see Mr. Belanger who will see that these are put in stock. Mr. Belanger also wishes customers to see him personally if there are any grievances regarding prices of articles in his store, so that he may look into the matter and remedy the situation.

Note :

Parents of children who will be entering school for the first time this September and/or of children transferring to a Chateauguay school from an outside municipality are requested to register their children immediately regardless of grade level.

As vacation from school is almost upon us with its ensuing release of children from classroom constraint, it would be well for parents to warn them repeatedly of the dangers of traffic and water, particularly in the early days of freedom from study, when the youngsters are wild with excitement.

It would also be a very good thing if drivers of vehicles would obey the speed laws of the municipality, thus enabling them to stop suddenly in the event of a child's running unexpectedly in the path of an oncoming car or truck.

It would take a mind-reader to know the thoughts running through the children's heads, but if the speed laws were obeyed at all times, risk of accident, due to the unexpected, would be cut to a minimum.

Another thought would be to warn riders of bicycles to obey stop signs.

This reporter, on the same day, last Sunday, on two consecutive street corners, just seconds apart, saw two children on bicycles emerge from side roads onto the highway (regardless of stop signs) directly in the path of oncoming cars.

Drivers of both cars applied the brakes suddenly to avoid probable major accidents.

In both cases, the children riding the bicycles were at fault.

Regardless of where the blame lies, such infractions of the law should be vigorously discouraged by parents at the onset of the vacation period not only for their own sakes and that of their children but also for the peace of mind of drivers of vehicles.

What's Your Opinion?

by W. L. King

on the purchasing of foreign made goods?

MRS. YOUNG:

Canadian first on the open market must take priority over imported goods. It is very good to purchase many articles from friendly nations although this should be done in limited quantities.

Myself, I would rather purchase Canadian goods at higher prices than imported equivalents even at the risk of doing without certain items.

People in our walk of life generally do not understand the intricacies of economics. We should be given the privilege of selecting our own way of life together with the opportunity of helping the situation. Radio does not take adequate or strong enough steps to point out this particular situation.

MR. J. CASHION:

Of course we have to have an exchange of goods. For example, in order to get the best of woollen goods these are produced elsewhere, woven in Britain of the finest material therefore is imported. We cannot produce such quality material.

I do not approve of the importation of Japanese manufactured goods as such are usually of inferior quality. No, I prefer to buy Canadian and here my opinion may be biased as I am a fourth generation Canadian and this I suppose affects my thoughts on such matters.

MR. S. G. MOSS

We are obliged to deal with foreign countries. These countries have to obtain Canadian money in order to deal with us. On the other hand if we limit our purchasing to foreign goods this has a definite effect in increasing the number of unemployed.

I believe our trade balance with Great Britain shows a deficiency of some $6,000,000 and is in about the same proportion with the United States. This situation is not very good. I am firmly convinced that if all U.S. subsidized plants would purchase Canadian raw materials we could produce quality goods comparable to those of American manufacture.

Here in Quebec we mine iron ore which is shipped in bulk to the U.S.A. This material should be processed here before exporting thus increasing our labour force with providing more people with work. Maybe under Mr. Lesage this could happen.

MR. A. MURRAY

Don't see any thing wrong with it. I am all for it. If all Canadian goods were retained here where would this lead? There must be reciprocal trade.

Our farmers produce must be sold in world markets in order to obtain material benefits.

I obtained several souvenirs in Japan, Hawaii and Korea and must say the prices paid for same were much lower than I would have to pay here in Canada

Chateauguay Aquatic Club
THEN and NOW

(by Mildred McCutcheon)

The first record available of organized paddling in Chateauguay is a programme bearing the date of August 18th, 1888. This was long before the founding of the Chateauguay Boating Club (now known as the Chateauguay Aquatic Club), but shows that paddling has held the interest of the residents of this Community for over 75 years.

As an interesting example of the type of regatta held at that time we submit part of the programme below :

"Boat Races to take place at Chateauguay Basin, weather permitting on Saturday, August 18th, 1888. Officers : President, Dr. Andres; Secretary-Treasurer, Herbert Tatley; Committee, B. Gilmour, James Hamilton, R. Goldie, J. Bourcier, Wm. Hamilton, C. McRoberts, George Boulter, Wm. Tatley. Judges, George Hyde, L. Lyman, J. Alex Robertson. Starter. J. Sydney Boulter.

"Events, 18 in all, featured a swimming race for boys, double scull races, double Scull Skiff races, a tub race (no paddles allowed) a double scull skiff race for ladies, a flat bottomed boat race for 7 men, grand prize of $7.00, second prize of $3.50. A four oared race was open to Lachine and Pointe Claire.

Arrangements were made with the proprietors of the Steamer 'James' to connect with trains leaving Montreal for Lachine at 12 and 2 o'clock p.m., returning to connect with the 7.45 train for Montreal. Fare for trip from Lachine and return was 35 cents. No charge for transportation of Canoes and Boats from Lachine, owned by those taking part in the Races. Entries for races were made to Dr. Andres at Beaver Hall Hill in Montreal and Herbert Tatley at Chateauguay Basin. The residents of Chateauguey and vicinity were requested to assemble their boats in the River, in the vicinity of Lang's Wharf at 8 o'clock p.m. provided with Lanterns and Torches to take part in the Grand Procession of Boats.
