BOLSHEVIK TROOPS ADVANCING UPON AFGHANISTAN---REINFORCEMENTS ARE BEING SENT

REPORT EFFORT TO END IRISH DISPUTE WAS NEAR SUCCESS

Declared Promising Negotiations to Be Nullified if MacSwiney Dies

A CLEVER RUSE

Sinn Feiners Deceive Airmen and Capture the Mails

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(Associated Press.)—Negotiations for the settlement of the Irish question which are described as the most promising as yet initiated, will be nullified if Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, dies in Brixton prison, where he is continuing his hunger strike, says the Dublin correspondent of The Times.

Secret negotiations on the basis of full self-government within the Empire has been going on during the last three weeks between the most prominent leaders of modern opinion and influential Republicans, he declared.

The Moderates have at last been told, he adds, that nothing further can be done while MacSwiney is near death, and if the Lord Mayor dies, the last hope of settlement on the proposed basis will disappear.

CAPTURE MAILS BY RUSE.

BANTRY, Ireland, Sept. 14.— Sinn Feiners captured the Government mails being carried by airplane here yesterday, adopting a ruse to carry out their raid. A number of men dressed in British army uniform made a large white circle in a field and deceived the airmen operating the airplane so completely that they dropped mail bags, which were quickly picked up, taken to a motor car and carried off toward Kerry.

ANOTHER UNDER-SECRETARY.

LONDON, Sept. 14—(United News)—The Government has decided to appoint an additional Under-Secretary for Ireland to deal with the problems arising in the six counties around Belfast, it was announced last night.

It has also been decided to enroll citizens in an armed force to assist the authorities in maintaining order. Quantities of arms have been unloaded at Belfast in the past few days.

SAY EVIDENCE "PLANTED."

DUBLIN, Sept. 14.—(United Press)—Proof that evidence was "planted" against four Sinn Feiners, charged with possessing ammunition, resulted in dismissal of the charges today.

The sensational evidence was given by Phillip A. Shannahan, member of the Irish Parliament, in court-martial.

The Commanding General ordered the man released, refusing to approve sentences.

GREAT INCREASE IN TAX REVENUE

PROSECUTIONS HELP

General Response from the Farmers in East This Year

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.— (From Our Own Correspondent.)—A fifteen million dollar increase in revenue from income taxes is estimated this year by the Finance Department. In the last fiscal year it was $20,000,000. This year the receipts are expected to amount to $35,000,000. The growth is attributable to the higher rates of taxation and to an improved organization for the collection. Assessments will be made on November 1 and payable a month later.

Numerous prosecutions which have been instituted against delinquents have had a salutory effect.

According to figures which were given before a committee of the house last session income tax returns made by the farmers especially in the East were almost negligible. This year there is a much more general response and those who have failed to make returns are being gone after.

Simultaneously with the income tax collection active steps are being taken to see that proper returns are made from the sales taxes. This week thirty expert auditors are being appointed and distributed over the country to check up the returns made and if necessary to go into the books of firms or individuals.

An increase of $120,000,000 in excise revenue is indicated on the strength of the showing up to September 1st, but with the measures which are being taken it is believed that this will be considerably bettered.

SINN FEIN MURDER REPRISAL THREAT

Declares "Government" will Use Own Methods if MacSwiney Dies

MAYOR CONSCIOUS

Hunger Striker's Condition Unchanged, But Very Exhausted

LONDON, Sept. 14—(United Press)—The Sinn Fein Government prefers to carry out its own reprisals for the expected death of Lord Mayor MacSwiney, on hunger strike in Brixton prison, rather than entrust them to individuals, it was learned here today.

An order issued by the commander-in-chief of the Republican army stated:

"To all officers of the army of the republic:

"You are directed in the event of the death of the lord mayor of Cork, so far as possible, to prevent individuals from exacting reprisals and to oppose organized retaliation.

"The Republican Government believes Great Britain will welcome an uprising as an opportunity to inflict a deathblow on the Irish people.

SINN FEIN THREAT.

"Be assured the Republican Government will carry out just retribution against persons concerned in the murder of Lord Mayor MacSwiney. Witness the fate of those concerned in the death of Lord Mayor MacCurtain. Seven were proven guilty in the Republic's courts. None are now alive."

CONFLICTING REPORTS.

LONDON, Sept. 14. Conflicting reports concerning the condition of Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, were issued this morning, the 33rd day of the hunger strike which he has maintained in an effort to force the British Government to release him from prison.

The report to the Home Office from the prison physicians who are attending MacSwiney stated there was virtually no change in his condition, and that he had passed a restful night.

A bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League stated MacSwiney had a very bad night, and was appreciably weaker this morning, but he was still conscious, and his mind was active.

ACTIVE IN SCOTLAND.

MOSCOW URGES REVOLUTION UPON ITALIAN WORKERS

Executives of Third Internationale, Send Manifesto to Laborites

SEIZURES CONTINUE

Battleships Sent to Genoa Following Stoppage of Troop Trains

ROME, Sept. 14.—(By Camillo Cianfarra, United Press.)—Executives of the Third Internationale have issued a manifesto to Italian Laborites and Socialists, urging them to turn the present economic demonstration into a revolutionary outbreak, according to the Berne correspondent of the Idea Nazionale.

Following the stoppage of two troop trains in Northern Italy by members of the Railwaymen's Syndicate, a battleship and a destroyer flotilla, carrying landing companies, have arrived at Genoa.

Three thousand manufacturers adopted resolutions condemning the Government for its inaction, and demanding restoration of order, according to a Milan despatch.

Reports from various parts of the country indicated the continuation of "direct action" activities by workmen even as negotiations between metal workers and factory owners were resumed in Milan.

A despatch from Como said that a general strike was proclaimed there as a protest against the arrest of several Socialists on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Employes who occupied the Fiat automobile works in Turin were reported to have broken open the factory safe and taken 200,000 lire to help pay arrears in wages.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP BRIDGE.

An attempt was made to blow up the Rasol railway bridge near Trieste, where riots have been under way between Socialists and Nationalists for several days, quite aside from the economic demonstration, which began early this month with the occupation of factories by metal-workers to prevent a lockout.

Francesco di Bennetti, an engineer, shot and killed two Red guards near the Fiat works in turn after they are alleged to have drawn revolvers upon him and his brother. He was arrested.

When negotiations were opened between the metal-workers and the employers, Deputy Daragoua, representing the former, demanded that the unions control the mechanical trades for the purpose of ascertaining whether the manufacturers would counter with a proposal for higher wages. Senator Conti, speaking for the owners, said the demand was impossible.

The Institute of Engineers sent a resolution to the conference, urging a profit sharing plan as a solution of the problem. Several influential newspapers seized upon this as the probable basis for a settlement.

URGES REVOLUTION.

MILAN, Sept. 14.—Demands that the present movement of metal workers in Italy be extended in order to destroy the present social system of Italy were made by Enrico Malatesta, anarchist leader, addressing a meeting of unions opposing the Confederation of Labor here yesterday. Other orators of the meeting, however, maintained it was advisable to bring about an understanding between all organizations differing from the Confederation.

Malatesta and other anarchist and Syndicalist leaders proposed the formation of a "committee of action," with the purpose of bringing about a revolution. Deputy Giulietti, president of the Seamen's Federation, declared that organization was a unit in supporting the Socialist party, but that without complete accord regarding revolutionary action between the Socialist party, the Confederation of Labor and Syndicalist organizations, he did not feel justified to undertake decisive revolutionary action in the name of the seamen.

CONSTRUCTING ARMS.

TURIN, Italy, Sept. 14. Workmen occupying the Fiat automobile plant here have since taking over the work constructed 142 machine guns, eight armored cars and many rifles. It is asserted they intend, if necessary, to use them for either offense or defense. Workers' councils in occupied factories here are said to have broken open safes and appropriated funds to pay wages to workmen.

VIEWS DIFFER.

LONDON, Sept. 14—(United News)—Italy continues her healing by ignoring treatment of the industrial unrest within her bounds as the workers continue to seize factories unhampered and European officials and diplomats here await developments with increasing amazement and concern. There is about an equal division between those who believe the Italian Government finally will win and those who are convinced that a revolution is inevitable.

SAY CRISIS PASSED.

ROME, Sept. 14. Italy has passed through the crisis of the occupied factories, it was declared yesterday by Giuseppe Della Torre, Undersecretary of the Interior, in announcing the withdrawal of the investigation squad.

Afghan troops, it is said, have been hastily despatched to assist the Governor of Afghan Turkistan in protecting the frontier.

REPUBLICANS WIN MAINE IN SWEEP

Maojrity Surprises Even State and National Leaders

ADMIT BEATING

Democrats Expected Defeat, But Did Not Look for Landslide

(By Ed. L. Keen, United Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The sweeping Republican victory in the Maine State election was as astounding to Republican National leaders as it was to the Democrats today.

That the state should go Republican by a majority of approximately 25,000 over the high water mark of 1896 of 48,000, was unexpected, even by the most optimistic party leaders, either state or national. The most extravagant pre-election forecasts made by Republican state leaders did not go over 40,000, while Chairman Hays, of the Republican National Committee, had said he would feel very well satisfied if the majority would be merely double that in the state election of four years ago, which was 13,000.

Although Democratic National leaders had entertained no hope of Democratic success in Maine, they were not looking for a Republican majority of more than 25,000. In all the circumstances, considering the fact that the National Committee had not expended any money in the Maine campaign, and had contributed only national speakers to the cause, they had expressed the view that anything less than a Republican majority of 25,000 would really be considered a Democratic victory. Chairman White declined early today to make any comment, until he received further information.

ATTRIBUTED TO WILSON.

Chairman Hays lost no time in putting out a statement, in which he attributed the result largely to dissatisfaction with the Wilson administration.

"The result," said Hays, "gives the greatest reassurance to all well wishers of good government, regardless of past party affiliations. This overwhelming Republican victory unmistakably evidences the demoralization of the Democratic organization, the repudiation of the Wilson administration and the complete condemnation of the campaign of Candidate Cox. The women, too, have demonstrated their dependability in this crisis."

Other Republican leaders ascribed the result largely to Governor Cox's alleged failure to "make good" with his charges of a slush fund of $15,000,000 to "buy the presidency."

The New York World, the only Democratic morning paper commenting editorially on the election, under the caption "A Bad Beating," frankly admits the severity of the blow. "The Democrats have suffered a severe beating," it says. "There is no comfort in the result for them. They went into the contest feebly organized, and gather from its conclusion a certain [illegible] feeble satisfaction. It appears that about half of the potential woman vote has been polled which should increase the total vote over 1916 by fifty per cent. Yet the total Democrat vote is running even with or behind that of 1916 when expectedly it would be running fifty per cent. ahead, as the case with the Republicans. Either then the newly enfranchised women have been voting the Republican ticket rather exclusively, or there has been a great defection in the old time Democratic vote, which is not probable."

REPUBLICANS ALL VICTORIOUS

The Republicans swept the entire state, hardly a Democrat getting in.

The G. O. P. congressmen, three of whom were seeking re-election were victorious by big majorities.

Frederick H. Parkhurst, Republican candidate for governor, had 133,817 votes, while Bertram G. McIntyre, Democrat, polled 89,548 on the basis of the latest returns. The gubernatorial vote in the last presidential year gave McCleen, the Republican candidate, 80,014 as against 66,652 for the Democratic candidate.

In the congressional fight Congressman Wallace H. White, Jr., was elected by a majority of more than 5,000. Congressmen John A. Peters and Ira G. Hersey were easy winners in the third and fourth districts, while Carroll L. Beedy won over Frank H. Haskell by a majority of nearly ten thousand.

OUTLINES DUTY OF COMMISSION

Hope to Throw Light on Difficult Problems Before Country

REVIEWS BURDENS

Views of Implement Manufacturers Placed Before Committee

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14.—(Canadian Press.)—In opening the first session of the Tariff Commission today, Sir Henry Drayton, chairman, outlined the purpose for which the commission was appointed. Following this, lengthy statements by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the Canadian Council of Agriculture were filed.

Sir Henry Drayton stated that an opportunity to speak will be accorded first to all outside men and that local statements will be heard later. The text of the statement by the chairman is as follows:

"This meeting is the first of a series of sittings to be held by a Committee of the Cabinet.

"The whole object of the meetings is to obtain just as much information as possible to show the country's finance policy as affecting the people of Canada, her industries and her production; to ascertain what changes in the tariff or other fiscal measures might, in the public interest, to be made, and what alternative and additional sources of revenue can be adopted.

"We are still Canadians and whatever difficulties there may be among us as to method, unquestionably we all desire that the best thing be done for Canada. The best manner in which to assure that result is to become certain of our facts, to take counsel one of the other. We are here to obtain information from you, to acquaint ourselves with the local conditions in each province of the country, and learn your views first hand. Your earnest co-operation is asked and I know will not be denied.

THE UNDERLYING PRINCIPLES.

"I have also no doubt that all Canadians stand on common ground in regard to certain underlying principles.

(1) That Canada must pay her way and discharge her current obligations out of her current revenue.

(2) That policies conceived to bring about conditions assuring maximum opportunity to profitable labor in all spheres of human activity that can be properly and profitably carried on in our country should be adopted.

(3) That in carrying out these principles our fiscal policies which engage the necessary revenue should be applied in a manner least burdensome to the public.

"In our considerations it is necessary to have before us and to keep constantly in mind the dollar cost of our preserved and continuous free-ism for the present fiscal year, the necessary expenditures resulting from the war is as follows:

Demobilization, $38,700,000. War graves Commission, $1,000,000, soldiers' pensions, $30,500,000, soldiers' civil re-establishment, $40,300,000, soldiers' lands, $50,000,000, interest on war debt, $120,300,000. Total, $298,800,000.

"While the country's currency obtains an exchange premium in many countries, we are faced with an unfavorable exchange rate in the United States where, nevertheless, some 75 per cent of the nation's purchases are made, resulting in heavy addition to financial charges.

"Over and above all, this well-known high cost of commodities and increased salaries and wages have largely added to the expense of the Government in this as in all other countries.

"The estimates for the current year call for some $311,000,000 for objects apart from the war.

"It is the most pressing concern of the Government to reduce controllable expenditures to that degree which will permit continuance of public services and permit in connection with its activities. It is, nevertheless, perfectly obvious that a large revenue must be obtained and those subjects must be made with this underlying necessity in view, will be the most pressing with the national interest."

Thomas Finley, of Toronto, pointed out of the Massey Harris Company presented the case of agricultural implement manufacturers, except of the M.A.

TRADES CONGRESS MAKING PROGRESS ON RESOLUTIONS

Several Important Changes in General Policy of the Organization Suggested

TO ENTER POLITICS?

One Eastern Local Would Have the Trades Organization Enter Arena

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 14.—(Star Special)—The morning session of the Trades and Labor Congress was largely taken with the discussion of a number of resolutions presented from various Canadian locals, particularly of one from the East, in which it was suggested that the Congress should desert its present attitude toward politics and enter into the public life of the Dominion as a political body.

Good progress was made in dealing with these resolutions and it is hoped that the Congress, at the present rate, will be able to finish its deliberations in time to adjourn by Sunday next.

HASTEN THROUGH WORK.

Consideration of the report of the committee on resolutions occupied the attention of the delegates, when they reassembled this morning. At the rate they have been working since the opening of the convention yesterday forenoon, it looks as though they were going to comply with the request of President Tom Moore, that an attempt be made to finish up business in time to enable the delegates to return to their homes not later than Sunday next.

MANY RESOLUTIONS.

Resolutions already concurred in, include one from Toronto Typographical Union No. 91 to urge the Dominion Government to amendment the copyright law to give Canadian printers equal protection to that afforded the printers of the United States by legislation, at the same time safeguarding the interests of Canadian authors and composers.

One from Hamilton Typographical Union No. 129 to support the Canadian newspapers in their efforts to secure an adequate supply of newsprint met with the approval of the convention, although several delegates from the letter-carriers objected to the latter part of the resolution which intimated that a flat rate of 50 per cent. in the postal rate for newspaper and periodicals was sufficient. They objected on the grounds that any reduction in postal rates mean reduction in their salaries.

WANT BETTER WAGES.

A resolution demanding that the Department of Railways and Canals investigate working conditions on the new Welland ship canal, and to put into effect rates of wages and working conditions they may find prevalent in the district, was approved of.

Montreal local No. 349, Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators of America, thought the Government should prohibit the use of spraying machines in applying paint, and the delegates concurred in the resolutions they forwarded.

A resolution from the Toronto Railway Employes Union No. 113 asking the Congress to go on record as favoring old age pensions and petition the Government to enact necessary legislation was concurred in.

When the convention re-opened this morning the debate was resumed on the resolution of Painters and Decorators Local No. 200 of Ottawa, favoring the entry of the Congress into the political arena, which the resolutions committee suggested be deleted from the report.

NEW YORK VOTES ON NOMINATIONS

Republicans and Democrats Line Up Today in Struggle

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. Enrolled Republicans and Democrats of New York State went to the polls today to vote for candidates who seek party nominations for the various State offices as well as for United States Senator, Representatives in Congress and seats in both Houses of the Legislature.

Leaders of both parties predicted a large vote. In New York City polling places were open from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. and outside the city from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The most important contests of a State wide nature are for United States Senator and Governor on the Republican ticket and for United States Senator on the Democratic ticket. United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., who received the indorsement of the unofficial Republican State Convention, is opposed by Mrs. Ella A. Boole, State President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and George Henry Payne, City Tax Commissioner.

Nathan L. Miller, of Syracuse, former Judge of the Court of Appeals, designee of the unofficial Republican State Convention for Governor is opposed by State Senator George F. Thompson. The latter has made an active campaign while Judge Miller has done little campaigning.

SOVIET FORCES SAID TO BE RESUMING THE DRIVE UPON LEMBERG

Moscow Reports Offensive Renewed on Both Sides of Brody—Sebastopol says Wrangel Has Captured Entire 124th Brigade—South Russians Seeking Alliance With Poland

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Serious anti-Bolshevik rioting is taking place in Petrograd, it is declared in reports from that city received in Berlin says a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from the German capital filed yesterday.

Six of the Bolshevik commissioners, it is asserted in these advices, have been drowned in the Neva while the others have been compelled to seek places of refuge.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(Associated Press).—The Russian Soviet forces, it is reported from Moscow, have taken the offensive on both sides of Brody, near the old Galician border, and are marching on Lemberg, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Berlin, dated Monday.

The Polish and Ukrainian troops, it is declared, have been driven back by the Russian cavalry.

PARIS, Sept. 14. Riots took place in Petrograd when news of the Soviet military defeats reached there, according to a report which the French Foreign Minister has received through Copenhagen. The rioting, the report declared, assumed the proportions of a counter revolution and many of the commissioners were killed.

At the Foreign Office it was said credit was given the Copenhagen despatch, except for one portion of it which declared the Soviet fleet had mutinied and fired on Kronstadt.

SEBASTOPOL REPORTS ENTIRE 124th BOLSHEVIK BRIGADE WITH STAFF CAPTURED BY WRANGEL'S [illegible]

SEBASTOPOL, Crimea, Sept. 14 (Associated Press) — Troops commanded by General Baron Wrangel on the Taurada front, northwest of the Sea of Azov, have surprised and captured near Pologui, in the Oriakov region, the 124th Bolshevik brigade, including its staff and trains, according to reports reaching this city.

Soviet forces on this front are now on the defensive and appear to have become exhausted as the result of their recent offensive campaign in Poland. Officers find it more difficult to arouse sentiment against General Wrangel's army than against the Poles, although the former has made heavy captures in men and material.

The expedition sent into Kuban, southeast of the Sea of Azov, by General Wrangel seems to be a failure, both from a military and a political view.

WRANGEL SEEKS ALLIANCES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (United Press)—General Wrangel, anti-Bolshevik leader in South Russia is trying to make an alliance with Poland against the Bolsheviki, according to advices to Polish diplomatic quarters here today. He has sent General Makarow, his chief of staff, to Warsaw to negotiate the alliance, the advices stated.

General Makarow is believed to have arrived in the Polish capital, but what progress he has made in any negotiations that may have been opened has not been reported here.

Officials regard the reported move by Wrangel as highly important. State Department officials said there were already evidences of an understanding between Wrangel and the Poles. Seeking an alliance would be a natural move for Wrangel and probably would be favored by French military observers [illegible]

SEMENOFF SKIPS OUT.

MOSCOW, Sept. 14.—A report has been received here that Gen. Semenoff, the anti-Bolshevik leader in Siberia, who some time ago was said to have declared his support of the far eastern republic, has absconded to China with his large gold reserve.

A despatch from Moscow, Sept. 6, said Semenoff's ventures in the Far East had ended and that his troops, under the leadership of General Lebedyhvitski, had gone over to the Government of the Russian Far Eastern Republic. The despatch added that Semenoff's entire gold reserve was said to have been captured and handed over to the Vladivostok Government.

ZIONIST LABORITE PARTY IS AROUSED

Restrictions on Emigration Not to Liking of Palestine Body

LONDON, Sept. 14. — (Associated Press.)—The Zionist executive officers have confirmed the report that orders have been issued to all Jewish organizations in eastern Europe not to pass through them emigrants who are trying to make their way to Palestine. Only those who show that they are in a position to support themselves for at least 12 months will be permitted to enter the future home of the Jews, the officials assert.

The "Haposal Hazoir," the Zionist labor element in Palestine, has informed the leaders of the Zionist organization that unless this order is immediately withdrawn they will begin an open conflict in the organization.

LENINE PROPOSALS MAY SPLIT FRENCH SOCIALIST PARTY

Important Group Not Swallowing Everything Emanating from Moscow

BOLT CERTAIN

To Hold Paris Conference to Decide Close Affiliation With Russia

PARIS, France, Sept. 14. — Star Cable by William E. Nash. Copyright.)—The eight conditions proposed by Lenine for the adherence of France to the Bolshevist International may cause a split in the ranks of the French Socialist party.

Renaudel, Boncour, Blum and even Jean Longuet seemed to be permeated by a spirit of patriotism which will not permit them to submit blindly to any and every order emanating from Moscow. On the other hand, the extremists insist on close affiliation with Russia. Through the aid of two of their ablest leaders, Cachin and Frossard, they who have just returned from Moscow, appear to have gained control over the party as a whole.

Toward the end of September, I am informed, a Socialist congress will be held in Paris to decide this momentous question. If the congress votes to join the third internationale there will certainly be a bolt of some kind. Jean Longuet, who distinctly does not represent the most moderate Socialist element, expressed his sentiments to me yesterday in this way:

"Lenine and the other Russian leaders fail to realize that conditions differ in France and Russia, and that what is good for one may not be good for the other. Some of Lenine's conditions published in the Humanite yesterday morning are unacceptable to us. We have struggled valiantly thus far to support the Russian Revolution, but there are certain limits beyond which we cannot go."

Two points particularly touch the moderates in the quick. Lenine demands that the name of the party be changed from Socialist to Communist, and that vehement agitation be instituted in the General Labor Confederation to win over that body to Bolshevism. The first point would have a bad psychological effect. The French working people are conservative at heart, and if they are Socialist at all it is only at certain times and in certain directions. The word Socialist is conveniently vague, and Socialism has many features, some of which any poor man can support.

In contrast Communism is disconcertingly specific, and anyone with a little property is apt to oppose it. That means the average working man in France. If there are only 140,000 Frenchmen ready to pay out money to support the Socialist party, how many would be left for the Communist organization.

The second point, namely the conversion of the Labor Federation, appears to be impossible. The French Labor Unions are more powerful than the French Socialist Committees. one must gain over the other it probably will be in the opposite sense from that which Lenine desires. Moreover, the Labor leaders have just declared that they are tired of radical leadership.

EXPLAINS BRITISH HOUSING SYSTEMS

Mrs. S. A. Barnett Tells Quebec Audience of Success of Workers' Homes

QUEBEC, Sept. 14.—(Star Special)—A very interesting conference was given last night in the Y.M.C.A. Hall by Mrs. S. A. Barnett, of London, England, on the making of a home.

Mrs. Barnett spoke authoritatively on the subject as she has considerable experience in founding homes of various kinds. In 1905, this lady founded the Hampstead Garden suburb, and is now director and honorary manager of Hampstead Garden suburb, and Nearly 2,000 homes have been erected which accommodate some 10,000 people.

Mrs. Barnett explained this system and gave the result. The death rate is far lower than that of the slums. Mrs. Barnett gave interesting details such as what is required for a sanitary house and amused the audience by the low figures at which these houses can be rented. Six and six pence a week is the ordinary rental for a very comfortable workman's home in England, having a garden, bathroom, etc. Mrs. Barnett went on and compared two systems of building for the housing problem.

The first system is that of private initiative which is the best when those concerned in the building really want the good of the working class. The second is the company system—companies that build houses—for the industrials have one intention, that is making money, and the workmen's interests are completely put aside.

Mayor samson, the Lord Bishop of Quebec, and many others were among those present.

MESSAGE FROM QUEEN.

Mrs. S. A. Barnett, C.B.E., has received the following letter from Her Majesty, Queen Mary:

"Buckingham Palace, July 9, 1920.

To Dear Mrs. Barnett:

"Her Majesty desires me to tell you that she is much interested in your lecturing tour in Canada and wishes it every success. As you already know the Queen takes a personal interest in the housing question and hopes that the beautiful homes for all classes which you have inaugurated so successfully in the Hampstead Garden suburb may be adopted with great success in Canada.

"I have the warmest affection for that wonderful country where I spent six of the happiest years of my life.

"I feel sure that the Canadians will accord you a very hearty welcome. Believe me.

"Yours sincerely,

(Signed) "MARY MINTO"

Biddle, from the attempt of immigration authorities to bar his entrance. PAYS TRIBUTE TO WOMEN OF CANADA

Women's Representative in Press Conference Expresses Admiration

GREAT COMMON SENSE

Miss Billington Has Attended Every Meeting and Function

QUEBEC, Que., Sept. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Keenest admiration for the women of Canada was expressed today by Miss Mary F. Billington, representive of the newspaper women of England in the recent Imperial Press Conference on the eve of her departure for home. Miss Billington has the record of having attended every meeting, function and reception during the Conference tour of Canada, in which practically every city and many country towns were visited.

"Amid very much that has impressed me in this country of such boundless resources," said Miss Billington, "has been the sound practical common-sense of its womanhood. We in the Old Country think we have problems and difficulties as to domestic help, but ours are as nothing to those that the housekeepers of Canada have successfully surmounted. Nowhere have I ever known such delightful garden parties, and teas as those to which we have been so hospitably bidden. Perfect sandwiches, delicious cakes and all the rest have been there in profusion and the hostesses, beautifully dressed, have received us and talked on the wide world affairs as though there were no kitchen flues, no china to be washed up or any of those tiresome little labors to be fulfilled that every woman at the head of a household know only too well.

EDUCATIONAL PEDESTAL.

"As to the children? Of course Canada is placing herself high among the nations in the importance she is attaching to education. Not only would I speak with admiration of the schools, the universities and the agricultural colleges, which are rendering such valuable help in the training of women, but I like the prominent place which is given to all such establishments in your towns, which in itself emphasizes their position in the great social system. Everywhere I have noted how strong and healthy the children are and the simplicity with which they are clothed makes for their happiness and freedom.

"Among the organization of women, I have perhaps seen most of the Daughters of the Empire who seem to me to be united in an excellently conceived system that is sufficiently elastic in its examination to be adaptable to such changes of conditions as may arise. Of your splendid military nurses I saw much in England during the war, and only regret that Miss MacDonald's many responsibilities as matron in chief have prevented many meeting with her. I acted as honorary secretary of the committee of the representative who gave her and other matrons in chief of Imperial nursing services one of the most brilliantly attended luncheons ever given in London.

"I may add that we have taken up in England extensively your original idea of women's institutions in the country districts and they are proving no less valuable with us than with you, bringing as they do a wider and more interesting standard into the social life of the villagers."

Miss Billington sails on the Empress of Britain tomorrow for England, where she is one of the senior members of the staff of the London Daily Telegraph.

CHAPLIN REFUSES TO MEET HIS WIFE

THREATS THE CAUSE

Comedian Resents Talk of Tying Up Property—Wife Determined

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(From our Own Correspondent).—Not to be outdone by his wife, Mildred Harris Chaplin, Charlie Chaplin yesterday also changed his mind.

The comedian was scheduled to meet his actress wife with her attorney in the office of his counsel yesterday afternoon in an effort to smooth over their marital difficulties. Mrs. Chaplin's threats to tie up her husband's property and her observations on his alleged radicalism, however, were resented by Mr. Chaplin, and the conference was called off.

"The meeting" explained Nathan Burkan, the comedian's counsel, "was really to be in the nature of a little peace parley and it was my hope that a reconciliation would be effected. We were planning to let the couple thrash out their little quarrel by themselves and I wouldn't have been surprised if they had packed bag and baggage and gone back to California together. But my client couldn't think of seeing her after the statements made through her attorney and appearing in the press."

Mrs. Chaplin, however, insists that he come to some sort of settlement. Through her attorney, Henry J. Goldsmith, she said yesterday: "Why should I give him his freedom after his desertion and mistreatment of me?"

"He must come across or shoulder arms," added Mr. Goldsmith, intimating that unless some adjustment was reached he would go to court to protect the rights of his client. The comedian gets twenty-four hours to consider the matter, at the end of which time, said Mr. Goldsmith, he would apply for an equity receivership for Charlie's real and personal property which he valued at $3,000,000. Mrs. Chaplin will claim a fifty per cent. interest in this property.

Mr. Burkan, in whose office, at 1451 Broadway, the contemplated peace parley was to take place, declared that Mr. Chaplin was particularly anxious to deny his wife's charges that he was a Bolshevik. While he regarded the entire matter as a joke he wanted the world to know that he was not a radical and was certainly not in favor of the Bolshevik ideas of dividing one's property.

H. Spence Thomas Claims Leaders are Hot-heads

TINPLATE SITUATION

Baldwin's Will Erect Large Plant in Quebec

H. Spence Thomas, who has been a passenger on the Megantic, and is staying at the Ritz-Carlton, is paying his fourth visit to Montreal. In 1914, he came to Canada as a member of the special commission, stating the case for protection of the British tinplate industry. Preferential legislation, he stated to The Star yesterday, did in fact exist at the time, but no protection was afforded, for a studied misinterpretation of the word tin plate by the customs rendered the act ineffective.

It was then pointed out that a continuance of conditions which gave the American manufacturer a material advantage would assuredly result in American control of the industry. This prospect was contemplated with apparent apathy by the consumers of tin plates and no steps were taken to remedy the position. The prediction of the commission has consequently been fulfilled. Failure to obtain adequate protection against American competition was presumably due to the organized opposition of the tin plate trust.

Outside the trust Mr. Thomas is the largest manufacturer of tin plates in the world, and he has been an indefatigable champion of the British industry both in words and in print. What the commission failed to do in 1914 he hopes may automatically be achieved through the adverse rate of exchange. British tin plates are special and, Mr. Thomas claims, always have been of incomparably better quality than American, and are produced more cheaply. Selling below cost and the advantage of proximity have enabled the American to seize the market with an inferior article.

Interesting news concerning the Canadian manufacture of tin plates on a large scale was given by Mr. Spence Thomas. Baldwin's had proposed to erect a large factory in Ontario, but as power would not be available for two years, they have decided to locate their operations in the Province of Quebec. A determined effort to rid this country of American control of the industry, Mr. Spence Thomas thinks should be made, and will no doubt be successful if co-operation by the consumer is assured.

MINERS' STRIKE WILL FAIL.

Mr. Thomas is of opinion that the miners' strike in Great Britain will fail. "Smillie and Hodges are fanatics. They are pursuing a policy of self-destruction. It is an old saying that when a man is about to destroy himself the gods first make him mad. And surely no sane man would go to such lengths as Smillie and Hodges. This, I think, is the beginning of the end. They have outrun the pack, and will shortly find themselves alone, and labor will look for other leaders. For remember, there are plenty of sane reasoning men among British labor who could most efficiently take control once the hot-heads are removed. And when that takes place, which will be after this strike, if I read the signs of the times correctly, you will see the trades unions once again confining themselves to the economic problems of labor and repudiating the political dictatorship which Smillie has presumed to claim for them.

"For not every workingman regards with complacency the attempts of Smillie and his colleagues to interfere with Government policy in Ireland or in Russia. It is a British trait to mind your own business, and British labor is beginning to think it is being burdened with duties which do not concern it.

"Consider for instance, the voting for this strike. Yorkshire and Nottingham were dead against it. If the strike does take place and everyone comes out, I am convinced it will collapse by districts. The Yorkshire pitman, though he was troublesome last year, has a very level head, and he does not approve of this strike. If he is called out, depend upon it, it will not be long before he goes back. That there was a large majority in favor of the strike does not shake this view; for the ballot was very unfair and did not register the real opinions of the miners. Many men who are strongly opposed to a strike had no option but to reply affirmatively to the questions on the ballot paper.

"Besides strike funds, which are not so abundant as they used to be, do not go far nowadays. The cost of living has risen so sensationally within the last eighteen months that only a short campaign can be expected.

"However, let us assume for the purpose of discussion, that Smillie wins. What does he propose to do? Establish Soviet Government. Exactly. But does the nation want a Soviet Government? Do you think that British labor would be with him or against him?"

BRITAIN'S ANSWER TO THE VOICE OF CANADA

By WINDERMERE.

Tomorrow (Wednesday) the Imperial Press Delegates end their visit to Canada. They are trained listeners every one of them, leaders of all phases of thought from the great centres of England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Newfoundland; India, the Malay States, Egypt, Malta and the West Indies. For seven weeks they have listened to the voice of Canada in all its varying accents from Cape Breton to Victoria and now they carry their impressions to the far corners of the British world. Never before has the voice of Canada carried so far. What will the answer be, especially the answer of Britain?

THE ANSWER IN HISTORY.

Sometimes in the past it has been halting and anaemic. Sometimes the courage and prescience of British diplomatists have failed them. They have not defied all other claimants and faced all odds on the principle of 'What we have we hold". But there is this consolation—the 100 years of peace in which Canadians have been left free to lay the foundations of nationhood deep and broad. Canada might have been now as is Alsace-Lorraine had the answer of Britain been less conciliatory in the fierce days of Anglo-French and Anglo-American rivalry.

And recalling what the Imperial Press Delegates themselves have seen—illimitable stretches of river and lake and prairie, forest and mineral land—does the heritage handed down to Canadians by British diplomacy and guardianship lack either size or potential greatness? Of Canada we may say as was said of Cleopatra: "Age cannot wither nor custom stale her infinite variety"

In a political sense also Britain's answer has been the answer of a mother, often harrassed and perplexed but, on the whole, generous and solicitous.

We think of the powers of self management secured stage by stage by such measures as the Quebec Act and the British North America Act; the freedom in taxation even to the point of taxing British goods and the freedom of treaty negotiation with foreign powers; and latterly the admission to the full status of nationhood in the partnership of British nations. The history of no Empire in the past provides a parallel to this ever-brodening vision of freedom.

THE CALL FOR MEN AND MONEY.

"Send us men and money." Canada has had both in abundance from the Motherland and will have both in abundance in the coming years. British money built the Intercolonial and Grand Trunk in mid-Victorian days. Also the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern. To British capitalists the George Stephens, Donald Smiths, Van Hornes and Shaughnessys turned at each stage in the creation of that greatest of all Canada's products—the C.P.R. How much else of modern Canada—municipal expansion, developed water power, street railways, ocean and inland steamship services has been built with the aid of the British investor?

The return has not always been as large or as certain as could be wished. The fault has often been a British rather than a Canadian fault. But looking at British investments in Canada as a whole it may truthfully be said that they have lived up to the maxim. "So deal with the other man that you will both want to deal again." That is still the only sound basis for Anglo-Canadianism.

We talk of Britain today as poor. Her debt is certainly colossal—8,000 million pounds sterling and taxation per head is heavier than in any other land. But despite it all Britain is still a land of wealthy men and it is not as pleasure seekers alone that British newspaper proprietors and managers and British men of commerce have come to Canada this autumn.

And as with money so with men. In recent years four out of every five British emigrants have gone to Canada and the other British territories overseas. Another great move of British emigration is an inevitable sequel to the war and these young men and women to whom Britain offers no sufficiently attractive openings will come to British lands overseas in similar proportions. They will have their early years of trial in the new land but they will do well as the British Press Delegates have found thousands of their former British townsfolk and countryfolk doing well on every corner of the Dominion.

FROM HOME TO HOME; A SUGGESTION.

And here a word in season. It would greatly encourage British settlement of the right class in Canada if a more human and personal touch could be given to Canada's immigration arrangements. Officials are indispensable in an ordered land, but the best kind of immigration is that with which officials have little if anything to do, the immigration which passes from home to home with a modicum of state organization.

Nothing has more impressed the Imperial Press Delegates in their sojournings through Canada than the depth and reality of the ties which knit Canadian men and women to the associates and associations of themselves and their forebears in the Motherland. There is hardly a home, hardly a farm, in Canada that does not stand in need of help, just the help that a brother, a sister, a cousin or a friend in the Old Land could give. Let each British home-maker in Canada be encouraged to invite this British brother, sister, cousin or friend to come out and share his Canadian home with him as a beginning in the new land. Speak to ordinary British men and women of "Emigration to Canada" and they are unmoved. It is all so vague and unreal and far away. But let their relative or friend of, say, Saskatoon, write to them: "We have a place waiting for you here in our Saskatoon home; come over and help us and in helping us learn how to help yourself; here is your ticket; tell us when you will leave Liverpool, and we will come to meet you at Saskatoon Station." Let that invitation go from Canadian to British home, from man to man, woman to woman and the terror of emigration will vanish like the mist. It might even be worth the while of a British Reception Committee of Citizens in say, Saskatoon and other emigrant-receiving centres to make such financial arrangements with the federal and provincial authorities as will enable the homemaker who issues the invitation to himself prepay the passage of the British relative or friend on certain commonsense conditions as to the proved suitability of the new comer and of the home to which he is going. All experience would be belied if some such method as this did not bring direct to Canadian homes a most valuable and ever-increasing stream of British home-makers.

"WE ANSWER TO A HIGHER DESTINY."

Britain's reply to the voice of Canada will take other forms. It will carry the message of Britain's richness in tradition and experience, and also of her perennial youth. For old as Britain is she is in heart the youngest of us all.

It will be strange if with the best of British and Canadian journals calling in unison we do not enlarge and vivify all the agencies of kinship between us. We stand in urgent need of better steamship and telegraphic connections. Penny cable and wireless rates are overdue. We cannot too soon get back to a cheaper newspaper and magazine postage. The cinema film, as we have seen it, from point to point in Canada seems to be chiefly concerned in disseminating slush of an even less delectable kind than that of the British music hall of a generation ago. Is it beyond the power of British-Canadian art and literature to pull us out of that cesspool? Also we have hardly begun to realise what may be done to enrich and sweeten national life through our universities, schools and churches. Those who witnessed the scene in the West when Lady Burnham unveiled the flag which the children of Edmonton, England, presented to the children of Edmonton, Alberta, will not readily forget that sea of young and eager Canadian faces, that outburst of joyous Canadian cheers. Those again who stood round the newly unveiled statue of Evangeline in the sun-lit meadows of Grand Pre, carried away imperishable memories of both past and present. It is of this stuff that great nations are made.

Montreal Post Office Men Get $60,000

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—(Star Special.) — Employes of the Montreal Post Office will get an extra $60,000 in their pay envelopes tomorrow. The increase granted by the new reclassification will then be paid for the first time and redated to April 1, 1919.

LABOR TROUBLES NOT POLITICAL

In an interview this morning, the Chevalier Giulio Ricciardi, Royal Consul-General for Italy, informed The Star emphatically, and with the authority of his Government, that the present labor troubles in Italy are entirely without political significance. There have been extensive agitation and unrest throughout industrial Italy, and certain sinister interests have been at work trying, as he believes, to depress Italian currency for their own ends, using the labor troubles there for that purpose.

Chev. Ricciardi scouts the idea of any chance of a revolution rising out of these strikes. He emphasises that they are normal strikes, with no aim but to get better wages and conditions. It will be recalled that statements have been made in the press that the men have taken over about 400 plants, and Mr. Ricciardi states definitely that the plants have been taken over in a perfectly peaceful manner, and entirely without any "regrettable incidents."

The Italian Government has been blamed in several quarters for not taking action to intervene and settle the trouble but the Chevalier claims that it is not usual for the Government to intervene between men and their employers, and with finality points to Mr. Giolitti, the Italian Premier, proceeding to consult with M. Millerand in France, an action which would not be considered if there were the slightest fear of revolutionary troubles.

"I have official information from the Government," said Chevalier Ricciardi this morning, "that there is absolutely no fear of any revolution in Italy, as a great part of the press have pointed out in the last few days. I have to point out that the struggle is entirely economical, not political. It is a question between the metal workers and their respective employers, for the usual question of betterment of wages and conditions, and the steps taken by the men are only a means of exerting pressure on the employers.

"All the information we have, and the official information, says that there is not a single case of violence. Even the taking over of the plants has been accomplished most peacefully.

"The socialist leader, Mr. Buozzi, member of the Italian Chamber, exactly confirms that it is only economical, denying in the most emphatic way any political aims on the part of the workers.

"This fact is emphasized by the neutrality of the Government. Of course, the attitude of the Government has always been that of neutrality, because it is a question between workers and employers, and it is not usual for the Government to interfere so long as no political aims are shown.

"The entire situation has been presented in much darker colors than is the fact, and I have some reason to feel that that has been done by certain financial interests with a view to depressing the value of the Italian lira. It is caused by speculation in stock exchanges, and perhaps added to in part by the more or less world fear of happenings in the ranks of labor.

"In confirmation of the above, it may be added that Mr. Giolitti, the Premier left Italy on Saturday for France for a conference with M. Millerand, the French Premier, and people may rest assured that he would not leave the country if there were the slightest fear of political disturbances at home."

LOCAL BALL FIGHT BECOMES ACUTE

The following letter explains itself:
Sporting Editor, Star—

In spite of the fact that the St. Arsene Club is being advertised as the champions of the City League, it is true that the league had declared Athletics the champions.

This is official and was confirmed by President Thibault this morning, before I would agree to offer the attached for your attention. Both St. Arsene and the Metropoles have ignored the league and the present city series is not for league championship, but is a club series only.

Signed for the City League,
W. D. BISHOP, Scorer.

As the result of the dispute referred to above, the Athletics, officially declared champions of the Montreal City League have accepted a challenge issued by Granby for a series of games.

Arrangements call for the best two games out of three for a side bet of $500 and title of Provincial Champions.

DR. STRATON WANTS INVITATION HERE

NOT YET SENT

But One Teacher Would Accept Challenge and Entertain Minister

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(Special to Star from Own Correspondent.)—The Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton wants to go to Montreal and tell the dancing masters of that city to their faces what he thinks of the "Wesleyan" edition of the waltz. The "vice crusader," replying to the threat of the Dancing Masters' Association of Montreal to sue him for $10,000 unless he retracts his denunciation of dancing, says that if the "Christian forces of Montreal" will give him an invitation to speak there he will denounce the terpsichorean art in still more vigorous terms.

"I shall be only too glad to invite Dr. Straton to come to Montreal, and will take care of him and entertain him, if he will come here and tell us what he finds wrong in the dancing in my hall or any other reputable hall in Montreal," said F. W. Norman this morning, when he was informed of the above special wire from The Star's correspondent in New York.

Mr. Norman was not less energetic in his counter-denunciation of the minister. "who had evidently gone round and inspected the lowest halls in New York slums and then branded, in a most untruthful manner, dancing of all kinds. He has come out with a long list of names of dances of which we have never heard. If he is sincere, let him come here—I shall be glad to give him the use of my hall to speak in, in addition to having him as my guest whilst he is here. But he does not tell the truth, and is evidently only seeking sensation."

The denunciation of dancing, dancing masters, dancing people and all their works, by Dr. Straton, has caused merriment, if nothing else, and it would appear as if the dancing masters are the only people who take him in the least seriously. When a representative of The Star read to the Rev. Dr. O. C. S. Wallace, of Westmount Baptist Church, this morning, Dr. Straton's message of defiance to Montreal dancing masters, he laughed heartily, and thoroughly enjoyed the joke on the dancing folk.

Dr. Wallace knows Dr. Straton intimately as they ministered to adjoining parishes years ago in Baltimore. He characterized him as a fine upstanding man, jovial and humorous.

WANT MINISTER INVITED.

"I certainly think that he should be invited to Montreal, it would be worth hearing what Dr. Straton has to tell the dancing masters to their faces, and I suggest that the dancing masters should extend an invitation to him for that purpose."

The Rev. F. L. Orchard stated that Dr. Straton does an active work, and has done a great deal on the vice question in New York, in showing up the apathy of the New York police. As a result of the personal investigations he made, Dr. Straton published a book called "Immorality in Social Life," "and," said Mr. Orchard, "I suppose this condemnation of dancing has grown out of his investigations of New York conditions." He suggested that the proper authorities here to issue such an invitation as Dr. Straton desires would be the General Ministers' Association, which includes within its ranks ministers of all the Protestant denominations.

"Personally, I feel that the ministers should issue an invitation to Dr. Straton," said Rev. T. W. Davidson, ex-president and past secretary of the General Ministers' Association, and still a prominent executive of that organization. "Last night I spoke about the matter to the Rev. Dr. George Hanson, acting-president of the association in Dr. Hoiling's absence, but he considered that Dr. Straton was much too undiscriminating in his attack on dancing of all kinds. Dr. Hanson did not feel justified in calling a meeting to invite Dr. Straton here, but I have no doubt that if Dr. Straton came here we would make arrangements to hear him." He considered that Dr. Straton, an undoubted authority on American vice conditions, should have an opportunity of defending his statements, and that ministers of all denominations would be glad to attend a lecture by Dr. Straton. It would, be considered, be one of the biggest meetings on record.

FOUND ON TRACKS.

Deputy Coroner Prince this morning rendered a verdict of accidental death in the case of the man, supposed to be Alexander McDonnell, whose mangled body was found on the railroad tracks at Riviere Beaudette at 5.30 last Saturday morning. Although there is little doubt as to the man's identity, an envelope bearing his name having been found in his pocket, Coroner Prince has left open the inquest in regard to the legal identification in order that further inquiries may be made.

SCISSORS PIERCED STOMACH.

Coroner McMahon this morning returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of Alvira Callaghan, 4 years old, daughter of Thomas A. Callaghan, of 100 Fairmount street, who fell on a pair of scissors while playing at her home yesterday afternoon. The scissors perforated the child's stomach and she died a few hours later at the Homeopathic Hospital. The father states that she was playing on the bed where some other children had left a sharp pair of shears, which caused the tragic accident.

October 18 Fixed As Thanksgiving Date

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—(Star Special.) — A proclamation has been issued formally fixing Monday October 18th as the date of Thanksgiving.

FOUR CITIES' TIME CHANGES OCT. 3

Montreal, Sherbrooke, Ottawa and Quebec Return Together

Montreal, Sherbrooke, Ottawa and Quebec cities are to revert to old time on October 3. This was the arrangement made between these cities and the Railway Association of Canada, acting for the railways, C. P. Riddell, general secretary, stated this morning. The Administrative Commission had issued a notice that Montreal would revert to old time on October 24, and Mr. Riddell, noticing the discrepancy of dates, wrote pointing out to Chairman Decary that the railways would make the change on the third. It appeared that the date October 24 had been a mistake, and Mr. Decary in his reply said it had always been the intention of the city to change to October 3.

"There is much more railway traffic around Montreal than near any other city, and it was necessary for Montreal and the railways to keep closely in touch on this question, there being so many suburban trains." Some of these had to be altered, to suit the changed conditions, and E. B. Foster, assistant general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said these would be re-arranged on October 3.

Mr. Riddell remarked that, while it appeared to be impossible to make a Dominion-wide law on the matter of summer time, the places that adopted it ought, in the first place, to agree on common dates, and so avoid the confusion now existing.

FETE DES MORTS TO BE OBSERVED

Annual Pilgrimage to Cemetery Will Take Place Sunday Next

The annual ceremony of the Fete des Morts, which consists in a pilgrimage to the Cote de Neiges cemetery where religious exercises are performed and the graves of relatives and friends visited, will be held by the Roman Catholic Church, next Sunday afternoon, weather permitting, at 3 o'clock. The date of the ceremony was originally set later in the year by the Church but the rigors of the Canadian climate have made it impossible for the fete to be kept in a fitting manner during the late fall. It has been for many years the custom to set aside one Sunday in September for the ceremony in this city.

The number of pilgrims to the cemetery is always large and the principal gathering, over which Bishop Gauthier will preside, will be held next Sunday on the higher ground, where the effigies representing the Crucifixion are situated. Two sermons will be delivered, one in English by the Rev. J. L. O'Rourke and the second in French by the Rev. Father Pustienne of St. James parish. Following the sermons and prayers for the dead the gathering will disperse to visit the graves.

MACHINISTS MEET IN ROCHESTER, N.Y.

The convention of the International Association of Machinists will be held this year at Rochester, N.Y., and as no convention has been held since 1916 it is expected that this one will be of record size. It is anticipated by local union men that there may be 900 or more delegates in attendance. The convention will last about two weeks.

About twelve delegates from Montreal will go down, including President J. T. Foster, president of the Montreal branch of the Trades and Labor Council, who is already at the big Labor Congress which started today in Windsor, Ont. The Windsor conference will probably end its business on Sunday next, and Mr. Foster will proceed straight to Rochester for the Machinists meeting.

OVERSEAS MAIL

A mail for despatch from Montreal by the Empress of Britain sailing from Quebec tomorrow, will close at the Central Post Office at midnight tonight.

A mail to be despatched by the S.S. Megantic leaving Montreal on September 18, will close at the Central Post Office at midnight on September 17.

A mail for South Africa to be despatched by the Elder - Dempster steamer New Brunswick," sailing from Sydney, N.S., on Monday, September 20, will close in Montreal at 12 o'clock noon, on Saturday, September 18.

HAS CONFIDENCE IN LLOYD GEORGE

Major-Gen. Seeley Hopes for Satisfactory Outcome to Mining Dispute

ON A PILGRIMAGE

Is Apprehensive, However, of Latest News from England

Major-General J. E. B. Seely, who for three and a half years commanded the Canadian Cavalry Brigade in France, is staying at the Ritz-Carlton. When the representative of The Star asked him if he was travelling for pleasure, he replied, "Not at all. I am on a pilgrimage. I have come to Canada to visit my old comrades, and see the country which can produce such wonderful men. They were magnificent. Words cannot express the valor, the indomitable cheerfulness and the splendid soldierly qualities of the men I had the pride and honor to command. At the end of the war it could be said of the Canadian Cavalry Brigade that they never defended a position which they did not hold, they never lost a trench, and never attacked a place which they did not take. Besides many other decorations, the Brigade won three V.C.'s.

General Seeley, after nearly four years of active service, returned to England in June, 1918, to become President of the Tank Board. At the same time he was appointed vice-president of the Munitions Council. In December, 1918, when the new Government was formed, he was appointed to be vice-president of the Air Council, which post he held until recently.

Asked his opinions regarding the coal strike, General Seely said that when he left England by the Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, it seemed unlikely that the miners would go to extremes. While he was crossing the Atlantic, however, the situation semed to have become more critical. He did not believe that a satisfactory settlement was impossible, even now. He could not speak with authority concerning the attitude of the Government in this dispute, since he no longer held a portfolio.

He had the highest respect for Mr. Lloyd George, who would without doubt handle the crisis with the consummate tact and skill for which this master of political strategy was so justly famous. "I am a Privy Councillor," said the General, "but this does not enable me to give any information regarding the views of the Government. The only official position which I now hold is that of Lord Lieutenant of Hampshire, which I have occupied since 1917."

From Montreal General Seely will proceed to Kingston, to see General Macdonell, who commanded the 1st Division since Vimy Ridge. He will then go out to Victoria, where he will stay a short while, returning by Vancouver and Calgary. At Calgary he will see Lord Strathcona's Horse. At Winnipeg he will visit the Fort Garry Horse, and at Toronto the Royal Canadian Dragoons. At Kingston he hopes to see the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, thus visiting the four main units of the Brigade.

The General has received numerous invitations from Canadian Clubs all over the country, and this will probably lengthen his pilgrimage considerably.

"But if a really serious situation arises in England," said General Seely, it will be necessary to cut my visit short and return. The latest news has made me a little apprehensive, and I no longer feel justified in making any but provisional arrangements."

RE-MARRIAGE HAS SETTLED FAMOUS DESPATIE CASE

Ceremony Performed Three Weeks Ago Near Sorel—Expect Final Judgment on the Issue to Be Rendered Shortly by Privy Council

While the Privy Council is now about to render judgment in the famous Tremblay-Despatie marriage case, and a decision in the much controverted issue is being awaited with interest, it will not make any difference to the principals in the case, who have now settled their troubles, by re-marriage. The ceremony took place about three weeks ago at St. Victoire, near Sorel, but complete details are not yet to hand. They are now living on a strip of land on the Richelieu River between St. Ours and Sorel.

Father O'Rourke, of the Archeveque de Montreal, stated this morning that, a dispensation being considered necessary by the couple, they had applied to Bishop Bernard of St. Hyacinthe for one, and it had been granted. He expressed surprise, however, at hearing that they had already been married.

Father O'Rourke added that under a new canonical law, dispensation is not necessary in such a case as this, but that the couple had decided, in their special case, to get one.

The news of the re-marriage of the parties came as a complete surprise to both the counsel in the case. Arnold Wainwright, K.C., who had acted for the wife, said he had heard nothing of the desire to re-marry. The case came before the Privy Council, and was now under advisement, and in the ordinary course judgment would be announced at the next sitting, in October or November.

Paul St. Germain, K.C., counsel for the husband, had had no word of the re-marrying either, and the statement that the parties obtained their dispensation some time ago, and were already married, was an even greater surprise.

The legal issue raised in the case, it will be remembered, is whether the civil courts of the Province of Quebec are bound to recognize, as an impediment to marriage, what is acknowledged to be such by the religious authorities. In the Tremblay-Despatie case, the parties, both Roman Catholics, were married before a Roman Catholic priest in the county of Richelieu, and subsequently, on the petition of the husband, the Church authorities at St. Hyacinthe declared the marriage invalid because of the impediment of consanguinity. Being cousins, the couple could not marry without special dispensation of the Church.

Petition was then made in 1912 to the courts to have the marriage declared civilly null, and Mr. Justice Bruneau, sitting at Sorel, granted the petition. The case was inscribed in the Court of Review, and a majority of the judges confirmed the judgment of the Superior Court, holding that as the existing law of the Province was merely declaratory of the old French law which it supplanted, the marriage of Catholics, declared canonically null by competent ecclesiastical authority, was likewise civilly null, it remaining only for the civil tribunal to edict such nullity when called upon to do so.

Acting Chief Justice Archibald dissented from this view.

The case was taken to the Privy Council. It was argued in 1915, when their Lordships sought for further light in relation to the law as it existed under the old French regime, and asked whether the present law, as laid down in article 127 of the Civil Code, was actually declaratory of the pre-existing French law.

Owing to the war, further re-hearing did not take place until July last, when Paul St. Germain, K.C., argued the case of the husband, and Arnold Wainwright, K.C., submitted the argument for the wife.

Final judgment may now be expected at any time.

GOVERNMENT READY TO AID SANE LABOR IN ALL WAYS POSSIBLE

Premier Meighen Delivers Striking Address at Trades Congress—Warns Delegates of Dangers of Extremist Efforts to Force Class Privilege

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 14.—(Star Special).—Considerable enthusiasm was shown the Hon. Arthur Meighen, Premier of Canada, when he entered the local armories yesterday to address the formal opening of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress.

As the Premier entered the building, accompanied by an escort from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, there was an air of deep interest in the body of the hall, where the delegates were massed.

Following his introduction by President Tom Moore, whose speech was virtually a joint plea for tolerance of the speaker and a defiance to the radicals in Ontario, especially from Toronto, who condemned the Congress for inviting Canada's chief executive to speak, applause sounded through the hall.

Prefacing his speech with the declaration that he was convinced there existed no real difference between himself and the Laborites, the Premier then dwelt briefly on the early history of the Canadian and American Trades Union movement. He cited the initial aims of the American Federation of Labor, drawing attention to the fact that they remain virtually unaltered at the present day.

They were stated as follows:

" 'Legal incorporation, prohibition of child labor under fourteen years, uniform apprentice laws, a national eight-hour law, prison labor reform, abolition of the truck system, mechanics' lien, abolition of conspiracy laws as applied to labor organizations, a national bureau of labor statistics, a protective tariff, an anti-contract immigration law, all trades and labor organizations to secure proper representation in all law-making bodies by means of the ballot.'

"The consistency of purpose with which organized labor has adhered to almost all these objects is one of the secrets of its power. When Samuel Gompers was first elected president of the A.F.O.L. in 1886, that body had about 150,000 members. He is president still and its membership is over 3,000,000.

"The central purpose of the organized movement," he continued, "is to raise the status of the working man, and it has succeeded. There can be no doubt of it. It has raised the standards of education, recreation, wages and safety of the craft in which he is engaged. In a word, the general standard of living has been improved, yet there remains considerable room for improvement.

"The question now comes, along what line can further progress be made, and I can give you the answer—Along the lines that have brought results in the past, along the lines of exposure of facts and the education of public opinion, of determined loyalty to your organization, but also of the loyalty, super-imposed, to your country which brings to your organization public respect and confidence. Fidelity of agreement, fulfillment of contract, the respect of public rights, the rights of the ballot, and the seeking of success through the approval of the majority of the public.

"These are the lines you have pursued, and the only real progress which can be made, that will not be followed by a reaction, by a further dropping back from the progress already made, must be along these lines."

REAL, LASTING PROGRESS COMES BUT SLOWLY
PREMIER WARNS THE TRADES DELEGATES

"You may now ask if the lines which have been pursued are the right ones, or if they are not too slow; that, while much has been accomplished, it is desirable to get on faster. There are many in the ranks of labor who have grown impatient at the pace in which social amelioration has progressed, and who seek to have things done in a more rapid or revolutionary manner. Progress is slow. Progress that is not slow is seldom lasting.

"It is true that the chasm between the wealthy few and the wealth of the many is very wide, and very deep. With that I quite agree. What I ask of you is that you give attention to three or four vital facts that must not be lost sight of if we are to act reasonably and intelligently.

"The first is this, if this country is to keep its place in the world's industrial progress and to provide for a good average prosperity at home, a means of paying our debts and paying our way, then we must rely upon the principle of individual initiative, individual effort and individual reward.

"There may be some who are of the opinion that we should adopt in this country some communistic system, and thus make our way alone, instead of in competition, industrially, with the other nations that are based on the principle of individual endeavor and individual effort, then I wish to say that the witness of recent developments in Europe will have gone a long way to shatter such theories.

DISPARITY IN EFFORT.

"Second, keeping in mind that the effort of the individual is the basis of nations, we must remember that there is a steep and wide disparity in the initiative as well as in the ability of the individuals, and especially between the good judgment of individuals. There lies disparity that no legislation can ever remove.

"Third, that Canada is not a single and separate element in the industrial world. We are one of the throng of competing nations, and as such we must take care that we do not place upon ourselves a disability that will hold back our progress, because the effect of that disability will react severely upon Canadian workingmen more than upon anyone else. It is certain that we cannot continue as a nation with the competition of the outside world.

"Nothing should be secured at the cost of injustice to the wage earners. I say this because I am in full sympathy with the workingman. I have more sympathy and respect for him than for any other class or group. I have no sympathy for anyone who does not labor.

NEED OF GREAT CARE.

"If I were speaking in the presence of employers I would emphasize the increasing need of regard for the condition of the workers and their fair remuneration. Speaking as I am now before representatives of labor, I want to appeal most strongly for consideration on your part of the indispensable requirements of Canadian employers, not to be placed at a disadvantage with the employers of other countries with whom they are in competition. The way to get better conditions is for the country to work in co-operation with other countries of the world, and this course Canada has pursued. Indeed, in this direction Canada has led the way. I will refer to that subject more fully later on.

"You ask me now what has the Government done to show its good faith with labor. It has taken from the ranks of organized labor a vice-president of one of its largest organizations and has given him Cabinet rank. Never has a Labor Minister in Canada been accorded a more generous confidence from his colleagues and a freer hand in the administration of the labor problems than has Senator Gideon Robertson. There is no department that requires ability of a higher type. A practical labor man for the first time in our history has been in charge, and after two years' trial I believe the almost universal feeling of Canada is that he has discharged his task with admirable fairness and with extraordinary capacity. He has done honor to the ranks from which he came and has compelled the confidence of men and women of every class.

GOVT'S LABOR POLICY.

"Senator Robertson's policy has been to work in co-operation with responsible labor organizations and with organizations of employers as well. The Government on his advice has had labor definitely represented on no less than sixteen boards or commissions performing public service. This was done at the request of organized labor, and on the whole it has produced good results.

"Growing out of a confidence with employees and employers in 1918, a scheme of technical education was evolved and ten million dollars was applied to be spread over the succeeding ten years for the better training, with the assistance of the State, of Canadian mechanics, and this big undertaking so long looked forward to by Canadian workmen is administered by the Department of Labor.

"As a further result of this conference, the Government decided in 1918 that the time had come when the system of private employment agencies should give place to a Government system operating on a much wider interprovincial scale and without expense or imposition upon those seeking employment.

"Legislation was introduced and passed enabling the Labor Department to establish employment agencies throughout the Dominion in co-operation with the provinces. These offices were at once installed and the result that has attended the work has been pronounced and creditable.

REVIEWS RESULTS ACHIEVED.

"Between March 1, 1919, and March 1, 1920, 551,817 men and women were placed in employment through the Government offices and all without charge to themselves This is at the rate of almost 1,200 per day, and surely this is an achievement whose practical value both to the workmen and to the country is at least worth recording. Because the system is Canadian-wide it takes care of demands for labor in one province that can be supplied from another. Without the Government offices this could not very well be done, and much lack of employment as well as lack of labor would result. Twenty-three thousand skilled workmen have been in this way transferred from one province to another and consequent unemployment has been avoided. The policy thus established has been requested by labor itself and has been of undoubted value to labor, and I sincerely hope will continue to be of service to all.

LABOR'S NEW POSITION.

"I want to mention another fact. At the conference out of which the League of Nations was constituted, the Canadian representations included a representative of labor. The secretary of this Congress went as adviser to the Prime Minister, and it is no information to this audience when I say that mainly through the efforts of the Canadian Prime Minister, assisted materially by Mr. Draper, the labor conventions were finally inserted in the program of that conference, and a real and useful step was taken toward the recognition by the great nations of the world of what is now called 'the magna charta' of labor.

"To the terms of that labor convention this Government and the other Governments joining in the convention are bound. You know what those terms are. You know they are cardinal principles of organized labor. The only way in which advance can be made toward their adoption is by the concurrent progress of great industrial nations along the lines set down. A first and big step was taken when those labor conventions were agreed to, and the duty of Canada, as the duty of all concurring countries, is to seek to make practical progress toward putting in effect its terms by co-operation with the other countries concerned. In this way real progress can be made and I know no other way in which it can be made.

NEEDS COMPLETE RECOGNITION.

"What practical good is to result from that? Unless you get first, concurrence, recognition by other nations alongside which we work, you can never make any progress towards the goal you seek. Other nations must do it as you do it. The duty of the Government of Canada, as well as of all other governments is to seek to make practical progress toward putting in effect its terms by co-operation with the other countries concerned. Canada abide not merely in the letter to the convention, but in the spirit of that convention and loyalty will do so, so long as I can speak for the Government.

CREDIT, BASIS OF INDUSTRY.

"One word more and I am done. Credit is the basis of industry and the credit of a country and its industries are sustained in proportion to the security of property which is the reward of industry. The co-operation of the workingmen is vital to the workingmen themselves. If I were in the presence of employers, I would try to impress on them the need of regard for their employees and the need of better remuneration. But now I am addressing my remarks to workingmen and I say to you that we cannot get along as well without regard to the position of employees in other lines in our competitive nations. Fair remuneration is essential, but if reason does not prevail, and more than fair remunerations is demanded in proportion to the service rendered then stagnation comes, and unemployment and hardship follows.

BE CANADIANS FIRST.

"I appeal to you first to be Canadians, let your loyalty to your organization be unbroken and then let it be subordinated and depending on your loyalty to your country gain the respect and confidence of the public and you will never fail in your reward.

"Workmen who are anxious to advance their own interests cannot afford to ally themselves either industrially or politically with those forces which seek to introduce into Canada policies and ideas that have brought destruction, misery and death wherever they have prevailed. The Government of this country has steadfastly set its face, and will steadfastly set its face, against those influences abroad in this and other lands that aim to destroy respect for constituted lawful authority, civil and religious liberty, property rights and family returns. The Government of Canada does intend that labor organizations conducted sanely and reasonably will command and receive its friendly co-operation and, so conducted, they will command and receive the respect of the public. The Government's duty is to protect the whole community against dictation from any section, whether of employers or employees.

"I hope and believe that the established policy of the Trades Unions affiliated with the Trades Congress of Canada is in keeping with those views, and I say to you: guard and honor the integrity of your organizations, win by the merits of respect and public co-operation and you cannot fail of reward."

THE DAY'S RESOLUTION.

At the opening of the session and after the Premier had left, the report of the committee on resolutions was taken up and fifteen of the 85 resolutions were concurred in, with little controversy, but at adjournment for the day at 5.30 a hearty discussion was progressing over one from the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators of America, local number 200, of Ottawa, which stated that: "Whereas the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada claims to be the mouthpiece of organized labor; and whereas, it has been the custom to interview the powers that be in the position of begging, hat in hand, to enact legislation and whereas congress has grown to manhood and self respect therefore, be it resolved, that this congress meeting at Windsor go on record that the time has arrived to enter into the political field and elect men of the working class to represent them in our legislative halls, provincial and federal, to enable the legislative demands of the congress to be placed on the statute books, and eliminate the beggarly cap-in-hand function which has become an annual farce."

This the committeee recommended be deleted, and Mr. Draper, secretary-treasurer, strongly endorsed the action of the committee, as he considered the resolution couched in language insulting to the congress and of such a nature that it should not appear in the records of the congress.

James Simpson, of Toronto, wanted the resolution kept in the report, although not in accord with the sentiments expressed, as he considered it an expression of the views of the local submitting it, and that it should remain in the report as an indication of their views.

The time for adjournment arrived in the midst of the discussion and it will be continued when the convention resumes at 9.30 today.

THE IRISH RESOLUTION.

The Irish question is to be introduced in resolution No 63, which owes its paternity to John Thompson Lodge 711, I. A. of M. It asks that the delegates place themselves on record "as recognizing the rights of the Irish people, to self-determination, and who have by an overwhelming majority established the Irish republic, and demanding the instant withdrawal of the army of occupation, and allowing the Irish people to guide their own destinies as proclaimed in President Wilson's manifesto in his fourteen points, whereby all peoples shall have the right to choose their own form of Government."

The manifesto urges that the workers of Great Briton through their own labor party, see that no material for use in warfare is handled by the workers.

Then the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council in the next resolution on the list, intimates that the truth is not being told by the press regarding the trouble between Russia and Poland, and demanding that the congress "indorse the stand of British labor in its stand against interfering in the affairs of the Russian people."

MESSAGE OF FAITH IN CANADIANISM

Lord Burnham Replies to Premier's Address of Welcome

QUEBEC, Sept. 14 (Star Special)—Replying to Premier Taschereau's address of welcome to the Empire Press party at the Government luncheon yesterday, Lord Burnham spoke in French, in part, as follows:

"I am very grateful for your welcome to the old and famous city of Quebec, the citadel of Canada. It is truly and traditionally Canadian, without any hyphen or distinction.

"Every year the people of Canada are becoming more conscious of their nationhood and prouder of its attributes, common interests, common sympathies and common loyalties.

"As reporters of news the delegates are returning to their own countries with a message of faith in Canadian patriotism and the greatness of Canada's destiny. They had taken part on the harvest which meant everything to Canada and to a hungry world.

Returning to the East they found themselves still in the midst of enterprise and expension. The West had not a monopoly of enterprise. They both had black and white coats and could make splendid use of both.

TRIBUTE TO QUEBEC.

"Quebec was unequalled in her supply of means of furnishing the paper required for the spread of news.

"Canada was recovering most wonderfully, more quickly than any other country, from the war. The greatest thing was the spirit of Canada, which never took 'no' for an answer. There everyone saw through hopeful eyes. They had no fear for the future, having faith in themselves."

The harmony of the two races in Quebec won His Lordship's admiration. The two races had to make the best of each other and dwell on each other's strong points, not the weak ones.

"The soil of Quebec," His Lordship continued, "was hallowed with the the blood of Catholic martyrs who endured the greatest of hardships for civilization in Canada, and suffered tortures, which the war and Bolshevism had taught us to appreciate better than we could ten years ago."

As President of the Anglo-French Society at home, he especially appreciated this unity in Canada of the two greatest races in the world.

Bolshevism, born of desire for light in a race brought up in ignorance had swept round the world but had stopped at Quebec Province, said Athanase David. It was no use anyone trying to stir up racial differences in Quebec, they would no more break up now than they had done during the Great War. The best evidence of loyalty and unity of the races in Quebec was the great service rendered by the Twenty-Second Battalion, the French-Canadian regiment which loyally fought for the race their ancestors had as bravely fought against in the neighborhood of this great city of Quebec.

INTERESTING STORY IN TIMBER PROBE

Four Members of Late Legislature Implicated in Pulp Deal

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—An interesting story was unfolded at the timber inquiry before Justices Riddel and Latchford here yesterday. It was to the effect that four members of the last legislature, Thompson, of East Peterboro, Bennewis, of South Perth, Lambert Wigle, of South Essex, and Richardson of East Wellington, the first two of whom were Government supporters, and the other two Liberals, had formed the Monteith Pulp and Paper Company and secured a valuable timber concession from the late government in Sheraton township shortly before the last provincial general elections. The concession was granted to them without advertisement and without tenders.

It happened, however that the whole four concessionaires went down to defeat in the turnover of October 20 last, and the new members of the legislature were strangers to them. They had not got any pulp off their timber limit, and last April the Government cancelled the concession.

This story was related by E. R. Heyland, who was interested in the company.

MANUFACTURERS HAVE TARIFF CASE READY

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, at a joint conference yesterday of eastern and western manufacturers, completed its case for presentation to the tariff commission here to-day.

The United Farmers of Manitoba will not present a separate statement during this visit of the commission. Their case will be merged with the memorandum to be presented by Norman Lambert, secretary of the Canadian Council of Agriculture. W. R. Wood, secretary of the United Farmers, said.

JUNIOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIPS POSTPONED TILL SPRING

NEW PLAYER ADDED TO SHAMROCKS AT TURNOUT YESTERDAY

"Best Practice Since We Started to Get Ready for West," Says Farney—Pres. of National Amateur Association Donates $100

"The greatest practice since we started to get ready to go West" such was the opinion expressed after last evening's great work out, of the Shamrocks by Eddie Farney the big defence man of the team and the enthusiast who had never given up hope of going to the Coast, and has worked day and night to bring it to a successful issue. Every player was in his place and worked hard for nearly two hours under the guiding hand of the popular director, Jim Kavanagh.

A new arrival in the person of Eddie ("Tip") McCarthy. The former centre and defence fielder, arrived from Detroit and turned out to practice. He was in good shape and strengthened the weak part of the defence. He will take Alf Kane's place on the team. Alf was one of the best fielders in the business, but owing to an attack of rheumatism he finds it impossible to accompany the team.

Last evening's work bore evidence of the old time spirit which always characterized the Shamrocks in determination, good will, loyalty, and enthusiasm in battling for honors. Whenever they made up their minds to win they generally succeeded, and so the present team possesses that same spirit. The practices will continue every evening when a grand rally will be held on Friday.

The campaign fund was pretty successful yesterday. President, A. L. Caron of the National Amateur Association has sent a donation of $100.

BROOKLYN KEEPS PILING UP LEAD IN NAT. LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(By L. R. Blanchard, United Press Staff Correspondent).—Just a few more such days as he has been enjoying lately, and Uncle Robbie, of Brooklyn, will be in the market for a tack hammer. The implement will be needed to fasten a National League pennant to a pole in Ebbets Field, planted there for just such an emergency as seems to impend.

The Robins slammed the Chicago Cubs yesterday for two victories, while the New York Giants won one game and the Cincinnati Reds lost one. The day's events showed the Brooklynites out in front by a margin of five full games.

As the teams squared off today, the Robins had 14 more games to play, an even break in the list would put it up to the Reds to win 16 of their 21 remaining games to claim the rag. The Giants would face the job of winning 15 of 18 games. It looked today like an impossible job for either Giants or Reds to come from behind. Still a team that has won 10 straight might lose that many in a row. Losses by the Robins will be just as helpful to the contenders as their own victories.

The American League still exhibits a "hoss" race. Cleveland, New York and Chicago won their games Monday, and loped along on practically even terms, Cleveland one decimal ahead of the Yanks, the New Yorkers 9 points to the good of the Sox.

CESAREWITCH AND CAMBRIDGE WEIGHTS GIVEN

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Times says: Throughout the entire season the Cesarewitch and Cambridgeshire are never quite absent from the thoughts of racegoers. Thus when Lady Cunliffe-Owen's Mount Royal won the Goodwood Cup the first idea suggested to many was that if his merit as a stayer had not been made plain he would probably have had an excellent chance in the long-distance handicap. One point of interest to be noted is whether any of the entry are so good that it is thought necessary to give them over 9st. An Ascot Cup winner is seldom engaged in a handicap, though The White Knight, who twice secured that famous trophy, ran in two Cesarewitches; and it is not strange to find Sir William Nelson's Tangiers with 9st. 5lb. Two of the French entries also exceed the usual limit, the Baron E. de Rothschild's Passebreul having 9st. 2lb., and M. Henri Balsan's Juveigneur, second for the Gold Cup after the disqualification of Buchan, 9st. 1lb.

There will be curiosity to see how the classic horses are treated. The Derby winner, Spion Kop, has 8st 5lb., 1 lb. less weight than that victoriously borne by so exceptional a colt as Robert the Devil, and I am certainly of opinion that this is more than Spion Kop can carry with hope of success. If Mr. Dawkins is correct in his estimate, Orpheus can have no chance for the St. Leger. He has 7st. 11lb., so that the Derby winner has to give him 8lb.. The handicapper, however, has to consider form. At Epsom Spion Kop beat Orpheus three lengths and a half, and this is rated as the equivalent of the allotted poundage. The winner of the Grand Prix, M. E. de St. Alary's Comrade, has 8st. 6lb. Here again it is remembered that he beat his stable companion in Paris, and the question as to whether he ought to have done so—Spion Kop's jockey is said to have suffered much from interference—is ignored, perhaps wisely. The winner of the Oaks, Mr. A. P. Cunliffe's Charlebelle, is put down as 11lb. behind the winner of the Derby. Keysoe does not strike me as very leniently treated with 8st. 8 lb., on a line with The Midshipmite, but it is probable that Blue Dun, with 7st 13lb., will have supporters. I do not think her friends could have expected less. It may or may not be presently made evident from "market" operations whether Kentish Cob is or is not thought to be 18lb. better than his stable companion, Chat Tor, the pair having 8st. 13lb.. and 7st. 9lb. respectively. Of previous winners, Ivanhoe, who took the race last year with 7st. 12lb., has now 8st. 6lb., and Furore, who won with 8st. 6lb. as a four-year-old in 1917, is dropped to 8st. 4lb.

The Cesarewitch Stakes, a handicap of 25 sovs. each, with 1,000 sovs. added; for three-year-olds and upwards; lowest weight not less than 6st; the owner of the second horse to receive 300 sovs., and of the third 100 sovs. out of the stakes; Cesarewitch course (two miles and a quarter). (103 entries):

	Yrs.	st.	lb.
Tangiers	4	9	5
Passebreul	5	9	2

CHALLENGE CUP FINAL WON BY THE WEST INDIANS

Although the weather man threatened several times to turn on the rain, Saturday afternoon turned out a real cricket day. A good crowd at Verdun saw the finish of the cup final.

The game was scheduled to start at 2:30, but owing to lack of help the ground man was unable to notify the umpires that the ground was ready until 2:45, at which time the batting team appeared to be on the verge of hysteria. O. Wallace was not on the ground, but appeared later, having been delayed on the train. Lachine continued their innings, Wallace and Williamson batting very carefully, fully realizing the task put them. When the game was discontinued Monday, Lachine had scored 91 for 4 wickets. Williamson continued to bat carefully, but was given out L.B.W. when the score was 95 for 5 wickets. Freck came in, but did not shape very well, being caught at point by Holder. Wallace was now playing a great game for his side, and monopolized the scoring.

Parkinson, who followed Freck, did not look like giving much trouble, and played on his wicket from Pullar. Pullar repeatedly appealing for L.B.W. With the score at 125 for 7 wickets the outcome did not look too good for Lachine. Horsfall endeavored to hold the fort, but was the victim of a call for a run from Wallace, and was run out, making the score 137 for 8 wickets. Wallace in the meantime was taking full toll from any loose balls. Although he gave a couple of chances, he continued to hit all round the wicket. Clarke was unable to cope with Byar, who had gone on to bowl again, being bowled. Fred Smith played one over from Byar, but it could easily be seen that unless Wallace could keep on scoring the end was near. Wallace tried to drive a ball from Pullar, but misjudged it and was bowled, bringing the innings to a close for 146, leaving the West Indians winners of the cup by 29 runs.

Dr. Burgess, of the Verdun Hospital, presented the cup to the winners. Swift, the captain of the West Indians, suitably replied, after which came speeches by the president of the M. & D. A. Cricket League, W. G. Watkins, and T. Smith, captain of Lachine.

Too much credit cannot be given to O. Wallace, who put up a good fight for Lachine, scoring 40 of the 56 runs scored. Wallace, however, could get no one to back him up. Wallace obtained his runs by good cricket, scoring 80 runs of the 143 made by Lachine off the bat. Lachine had a particularly hard road to the final; they had to beat McGill and Westmount. Lachine on paper have the best team in the league, and yet they have neither the cup or the shield.

Laurentide Won at Baseball

GRAND'MERE, Que., Sept. 14.—The Laurentide baseball team defeated the Three Rivers team at Three Rivers by a score of 4 to 2. The game is the last of the league series unless a tie game between Three Rivers and St. Maurice is played off.

CHAMPIONSHIPS FOR CITY JUNIORS ONLY NEXT SPRING

Many people will regret to hear that the exigencies of the re-arrangement of the grounds of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association will compel the postponement of the Junior City Championships, which have been a feature of autumn during several years now, till next spring.

The work, however, will not interfere with the smaller individual school games. For these the cindertrack will be available for sprints up to 220 yeards. For other races the boys will have to use a grass track.

This was decided at the meeting of the Directors of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association held last night.

As a mark of appreciation for the honors brought to the association by Bert Schneider, Olympic boxing champion, the directors granted him a life membership. Schneider was the guest of the directors at the meeting and told some interesting stories of his trip to Antwerp. He has turned over his prizes to the association to be placed on exhibition for the members. A reception and presentation to Schneider will take place at an early date.

GOLFING NOTES UP TO DATE.

Nine lady representatives of the Royal Montreal Golf Club will take part in the open championships to be held at Hamilton starting on Tuesday next. The team is a good representation of the ladies of the club, and they are all good average players, with one or two outstanding members with fine previous records.

Mrs. W. H. D. Mussen, runner up a few years ago for the Canadian Ladies' Championship, is one of the strongest members on the list, along with Miss S. Kennedy, who won the championship at Murray Bay this summer.

The representatives are preparing to leave either Friday or Saturday for Hamilton in order to have a short time to get used to the course.

The remainder of the team representing the club is as follows: Mrs. H. Beverly Robinson, Mrs. G. Milroy, Mrs. J. D. Hathaway, Mrs. A. Glasgow, Miss Phoebe Campbell, Mrs. Hamilton Irwin, and Mrs. A. E. Mussen.

There is a feeling expressed that there ought to be a Canadian championship on account of the shortness of the season here, but this was not arranged this year, the coming one being open, thus allowing those whose golf season is longer than the Canadian to compete.

The representatives of the Beaconsfield Club include Miss Kate Robinson, Mrs. Monk, Mrs. F. G. Wood, Mrs. Fred Tooke and Miss Molly McBride.

There are plenty of good golfing tidbits stored away for next season's consumption on the golf links, foremost of all perhaps being a visit for the second time of a team made up of the present and past golfing stars of the Oxford and Cambridge Society. A cable received a few days ago by the officials of the United States Golf Association confirmed this news. If all goes well there will be in the golfing party ten or a dozen which no doubt will have as prominent members three players who took part in our qualifying round for the British amateur title, the British champion, Cyril Tolley, Roger Wethered and Lord Charles Hope. To this group can be added such golfers as Major Gillies, Bernard Darwin, R. Montmorency and a score of fine players of more recent date.

No doubt there will be touring parties staged with the different State and district associations putting in the field the best ten or a dozen players who can be mustered, and, if the dates are well arranged, a grand national team opposing after the manner of the Canadian international event. Only conjectures, of course, but founded partly upon the methods of procedure on the occasion many years ago of their first visit to these shores.

In any case America will see in Miss Griffiths one of the finest women golfers now in the British Isles. The Griffiths family came from Australia and settled near Sunningdale, where the game of the girls (there are three — Molly, 19; Barbara, 14; and Nancy, 13) has been a source of wonder to the members. The two younger girls played in the junior girls' championship this past spring, and attired as they were in jumper frocks and short socks plus a very businesslike swing, made quite the hit of the meeting.

Miss Molly Griffiths, however, has attained to second place in the golfing world across the water. At Le Touquet in the semi-final of the French championship Miss Marion Hollins was the last hope of America, but an outward round in 39 and even fours to the thirteenth gave Miss Griffiths a win by 5 and 4. In the final of the play at Le Touquet Miss Leitch gained a rather easy victory, as she did in the final of the British event at Newcastle. But then there is no one in either land within two strokes of Miss Cecil Leitch.

It is hoped that efforts will be made to induce Miss Joyce Wethered, sister of the Oxford golf captain, now in America, also to visit and have a try at the title. Miss Withered, although but 18 years of age, is already recognized in Great Britain as a wonderful golfer, with a sum total of golfing courage quite unexcelled. She gained the final round of the English ladies' championship held at Sheringham and had to meet no less formidable an opponent than Miss Cecil Leitch. Three holes in succession went to the smashing hitter, who at times outdrove Miss Wethered from thirty to forty yards. At the end of the morning round Miss Leitch was in the lead by four holes and at the twentieth she was six up.

The plucky young girl continued to make a fight of it and turned at the twenty-seventh 4 down with 9 to go. Then after a 6 at the tenth, which was good enough to win at this long hole, Miss Wethered rolled off a 3, 3, 4, 4, 4, 4, 5, which gave her five holes in succession and a par on all but one. This spurt gave her the lead, and finally, when she added two more holes, the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth, the victory was hers.

It was one of the greatest achievements of recent times. Through all the nervous strain Miss Withered kept her poise and actually, said one lady observer, was seen to yawn on the thirty-fourth tee. It would certainly be a treat to see this young champion in our title golf next October.

The final of the Vice-President's Trophy played for over the course of the Country Club, St. Lambert, having resulted in a tie between Messrs. Harry Graham and W. F. Steedman, a playoff followed. In the extra match Mr. Graham proved victorious.

There will be a mixed foursome at the Dixie golf course on Thursday afternoon, which has been postponed from earlier in the season. The prizes will be given by Mr. W. R. Baker, president of the men's club and Mrs. Geo. Cains, president of the Ladies'.

Coveleskie held the Indians in first place by winning from the Athletics, 3 to 2.

The White Sox kept well up in the bunch by trouncing the Senators, 15 to 6.

The Robins "stepped on 'er" and took two from the Cubs, making it ten straight for the leaders. Pfeffer won his, 7 to 3. Marquard, with the assistance of Mamaux, got by 7 to 2.

Scott held the Pirates to three hits, and won from the Braves, 3 to 0.

MONTREAL RUGBY PUNTS

By OBSERVER

The appearance of Alex Cameron in uniform was a welcome sight—he is there in the pinches and will greatly strengthen the squad.

Lobraiso, a two hundred pounder, is going to give the line men who play opposite him, some busy evenings.

Candidates for the team must realise but a few weeks remain till our game with "Argos" and be on the job every practice.

"Tommy" Thompson, the beau brummel of the squad, shakes a nifty hoof and is booting some nice spirals these nights.

"Hoddy" Foster's nose which was injured last year is right again and he is going to give it another chance.

The showers spill 300 gallons of hot water over the squad each night—a bunch of clean sports I'll inform the world.

ZBYSCO IS HERE FOR HIS MATCH WITH STECHER

Waldek Zbysco, the Polish giant, who tomorrow night at Mount Royal Arena will try to wrest the heavyweight wrestling championship of the world from his hereditary foe, Joe Stetcher, arrived in Montreal this morning. The great Pole, tanned to a deep brown by the blazing sun of the Maine Coast, looked in perfect physical condition, and asserted that his appearance was no deception.

"I have spent the entire summer fitting myself to re-gain the title from Stetcher," said Zbysco. "This is the first chance I have had of meeting him since he won the title, and I was rather surprised that Stecher would take this chance so early in the season—but perhaps he too has been fitting himself for a hard campaign, and figures, as I do, that his opponent may be out of condition. Frankly, I am hoping to catch Stecher napping, as I think he has planned to do with me. I have worked hard for a month, and before that, I was undergoing a strengthening-up process, by living in the open air and doing enough work to keep me fit. I am in as good condition just now as I generally am at mid-season in any other year, the chance at Stecher having been the incentive for my early work."

The meeting to decide on a referee will be held this afternoon.

It is announced that Salvatore Chevalier and Sula Hevenpau "the American Cazeau" will meet in a finish match preceding the Stetcher-Zbysco match.

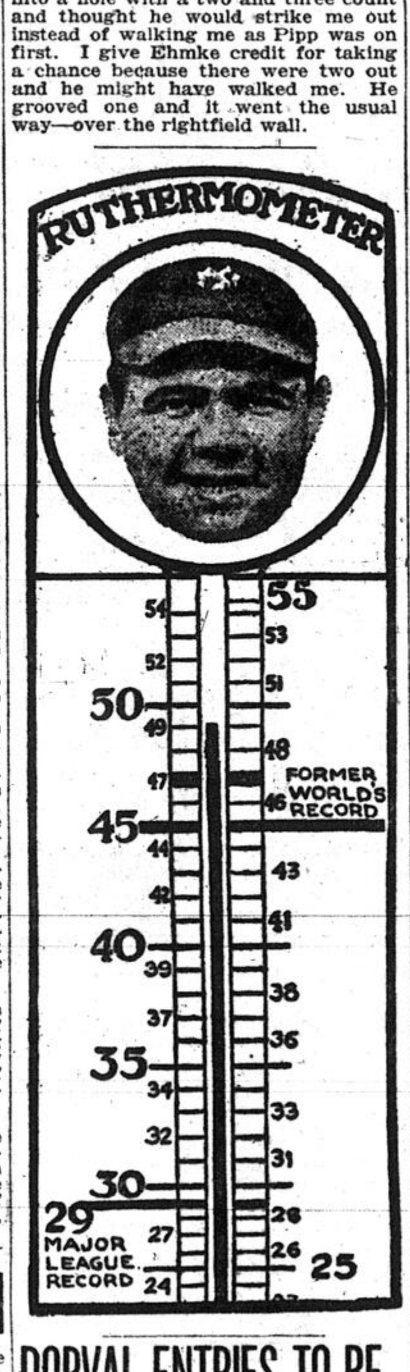
RUTH'S MAGIC BAT KNOCKED 49TH HOME-RUN

By BABE RUTH,
(Copyright 1920, by The United News)

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 15.—I wonder if I can't set my aim at fifty-five homeruns this season instead of only fifty and make good before the league schedule folds up on me. Yesterday's homer, my forty-ninth, was my sixth in a counle of weeks and I'm clear out of the slump that had me for a while, just as slumps will get any hitter. It doesn't seem impossible to get six more, for a total of fifty-five, in the remaining games on tour and at home.

The story of that slap on Monday is very short and simple. Ehmke got into a hole with a two and three count and thought he would strike me out instead of walking me as Pipp was on first. I give Ehmke credit for taking a chance because there were two out and he might have walked me. He grooved one and it went the usual way—over the rightfield wall.



DORVAL ENTRIES TO BE TAKEN AT BLUE BONNETS

By the kindness of the Montreal Jockey Club, entries will be taken at Blue Bonnets course on Thursday morning for the events to be run at Dorval on Friday afternoon the opening day of the autumn meeting which will continue until Friday Sept. 24. Two extra races have been announced for opening day to suit the horses which will race at the meeting. The Dorval Jockey Club management will alter the conditions of the program book to suit the owners, should those in the book not fill on the various racing days.

A Cyclone Predicted On Friday

Just a minute, please!

HAVE you got $3.25?

All right, this advertisement is written to tell you how you can invest that $3.25 for five years—maybe ten—and get dividends several times a day.

For time is money and an Ingersoll Maple Leaf—price $3.25—keeps time—good time—and with any sort of care lasts five or ten years. Less than a cent a week for time-keeping service!

The dividends are in moments saved, which mean money earned.

And the Ingersoll doesn't fall down on the job just because it happens to fall out of your pocket occasionally. Such an accident is a mere incident to the Maple Leaf—it's a catastrophe to most watches.

One repair bill on an expensive time-piece would buy a Maple Leaf, with enough left over to pay for that wonderful 75c Radiolite Dial that tells time in the dark.

IKEY T. EASY WINNER IN HOCHELAGA EVENT AT BLUE BONNETS

Jockey Smith, Suspended at Kempton Park, Allowed to Ride at Blue Bonnets Till Suspension is Decided at Meeting

Ikey T., carrying the colors of H. Tullet, made a show of his field in the renewal of the Hochelaga Handicap, run at the fourth day of the fall meeting of the Montreal Jockey Club at Blue Bonnets course yesterday afternoon. Getting away first at the barrier, Fator, who had the mount, secured a good lead, coming into the stretch eight lengths ahead. In order not to make the victory too bad, Fator saved the horse, but won by at least three lengths, without the horse having to put forth any effort whatever. Ajom, carrying the colors of Commander Ross, took second place, but not at any time challenged the winner, but at the same time leaving the other three horses about the same distance as Ikey T. was in the lead.

Wraith, owned by Norman Macfarlane, the local horseman, was a strong contender in the first race. Dora, after a slow break, gained steadily, while Wraith became used up contending with Rosa Atkin and Oakling in the first half, but hung right on the end, coming second, a $2 ticket paying $51.10.

The Decision, in the second race, favored by the going, outran his field from the start, but had to be shaken up at the sixteenth pole, when Fator, on Resist, challenged stoutly.

Flame, the hot favorite in the third race, went down to defeat by Fair and Warmer. Fair and Warmer paid the best price of the day, a $2 ticket returning $21.90.

The steeplechase(held over a course of about two miles, drew five entries. Algardi, ridden by Borgan, outran his field all the way, but bobbled at some of the fences. He was challenged for a short time by Old Bill Bender, but this horse lost his rider at the 12th fence. Kate Glenn fenced well, but lacked speed. Jim O. and Ray O' Light dropped out in the first stages.

The attendance yesterday was not very large, owing to the weather being dark and dismal. The rain which fell on Sunday, made the track in a heavy condition, which was not to the liking of a number of the entries.

Betting on the mutuels was quite brisk. Three of the events were won by first choices, while the rest went to outsiders and second choices. The surprise of the day was the price paid on Sans Peur II. Clearly in the class of the field this horse was overlooked by the form players, they making Broom Peddler the favorite. Sans Peur paid better than two to one, a $2 ticket returning $6.80.

Jockey J. Smith, who was indefinitely suspended by the stewards, at the Kempton Park meeting, for an indifferent ride on W. T. Tranholme's Red Post, will be allowed to ride at Blue Bonnets, the officials stating that since a regular meeting of the C.R.A. has not been held to decide this boy's suspension, they have taken it upon themselves to allow the jockey to ride until the ruling is handed down.

LARGE TURNOUT EXPECTED FOR M'GILL SQUAD

Tomorrow afternoon will mark the opening of the activities of the McGill Rugby club when the squad will turn out for its first practice. "Shag" Shaughnessy will arrive in the morning and will find everything ready, and equipment enough on hand to outfit any number of players. A new set of dressing rooms has been built beside the stadium, especially equipped for the rugby team, and, on the stadium itself, new sod has been placed wherever it showed a tendency to harden.

As the first turnout draws near some idea of the team's prospect may be gained from the reports of new players to be out this year. Rugby fans who saw the game between Queens and McGill here last year were loud in their praise of the work of "Red" McKelvey, on the half back line for the Presbyterians. The sorrell topped young player was the particularly bright spot on the losing team and one of the best players on the field.

Now comes the report that he will attend McGill this year and will be seen in a red and white uniform. In addition comes the news that six players are coming from London to attend the local university, among them being a half-back who starred in the Ontario Intermediate series last season.

Trail Lyall, Flanagans partner on the half-back line of the champion Lower Canada College team of prewar days, also comes to the college this year, so that there seems to be plenty men to replace Heney. In fact, it appears that the fight for positions on the back line will be keener than on any other division of the team.

In addition to capturing a man from Queens, it appears as if McGill may have a Toronto 'Varsity man on their line-up. If reports are true, big Westman will turn out to fill one of the vacancies on the Red and White line. Westman did not play on the Varsity rugby team last year because of some difficulty, but he was one of the most effective men on the Toronto Argonauts line in the Big Four series, as well as being a stellar defence player on the champion Varsity hockey team. Should he turn out the team would seem to have an appearance of strength even without the addition of whatever other new players may turn-up.

The players are already beginning to gather in the city and, with the exception of a few who are working for examinations, there should be a full turnout of candidates tomorrow.

The tickets for the McGill games are already on sale at the McGill Union and a large number have already been bought by fans who want to be sure of good seats. It is hoped to stop speculation in seats by selling them to their regular patrons in advance. They may be secured at the McGill Union from secretary J. A. Lalanne or by telephoning Uptown 433.

Richardson, well-known Ontario sporting writer, who has been conceded by the Ontario press to be one of the best-posted baseball men in Canada, is on a visit to Montreal, making a call on his many local friends but particularly on Alf Bennett for years boxing instructor of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association and at present in the billiard business.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

AMBITION.

I used to believe that the haughtiest thing
Since the days of old Tiglathpelesar
(The Khedive, you know) was an early day King
Like Attila, Richard or Caesar.
I fancied in youth that a King on a throne
With vassals and subjects to cower,
Whenever he spoke in a threatening tone
Held the peak of unlimited power.

When feeling abused, as the best of us do
Who crawl this terrest'ial globe on,
I often have felt that I'd not be so blue
If I had but an ermine trimmed robe on.
I have longed to bark out rasping words of command,
And issue brief, roughly termed orders,
And shake like an earthquake a terrorized land
Clear out to its uttermost borders.

But I hanker no more for a sceptre and crown,
No power or pelf I'd be rich in,
I have seen the effect of one terrible frown
When frowned by a cook in a kitchen.
She dries up the beef-steak; the eggs she serves raw;
She makes a black mess of the gravy;
And the household regards her with reverent awe
For a man is the slave of his slavey.

And now when I'm feeling unhappy and down
(A state that I often am brought to)
No longer I yearn for a sceptre and crown
To make folks behave as they ought to.
Just give me an apron, a long handled spoon,
And into the kitchen inject me,
And let me with kettles and sauce pans commune,
And I'll make the most haughty respect me!

played his first bowl well and lay shot. Yeudall tried to draw in but failed and Bogart laid down another counter.

The final end developed into a series of draw shots by the winners and running shots by the losers. The Yeudals depended entirely upon their drawing, which was almost perfect, while the St. Lambert pair kept trying running shots in an effort to kill the end and secure another chance for a big end. Following the playing of the games the prizes were presented to the winners. Scores and players:

LONDON, Sept. 14. — (Canadian Press Cable).—The Daily Mail's Sydney correspondent says that the action of the anti-labor delegation in London, which was responsible for the failure to raise the London loan has precipitated a general election. Premier Theodore opens the campaign, the issue being "a maintenance of self-governing rights or dictation of Queensland's domestic policy by London capitalists.

THE PASSING HOUR

ANGLING.

George—I saw Mr. Fish today.
Grace—Did he give you any message for me?
George—Yes, he asked me to tell you to drop him a line.

"I am not a business man, you see, and I should be glad if you would enlighten me as to what is meant by double entry?"

"By double entry we mean two sets of books — one of which may be produced in court if required, but not the other."

Applicants for positions under the municipal government of a certain town are obliged to undergo a physical examination. During such an examination of one candidate the physician asked him:

"What did your grandfather die of?"

"I can't say that I remember," the applicant hastened to reply, "but I know it was nothing serious."

Quebec Lawn Bowling Association Finals

W. and J. Yeudall, representing the Montreal Amateur Athletic Bowling Club, won the doubles championship in the Quebec Lawn Bowling Association Saturday by defeating A. L. Bogart and S. J. Milligan, representing the St. Lambert Club. The game was played on the lawn of the Westmount Lawn Bowling Club. In the semi-final the St. Lambert pair defeated the Outremont pair, P. J. McSweyne and E. N. Ames, by a total of 13 to 12 after an extra end had been played.

The final for the trophy was one of the most interesting ever witnessed on a local green, and was productive of brilliant bowling throughout.

The score was tied on two occasions and two big ends were scored, M.A.A.A. getting a four-end and St. Lambert a five-end. M.A.A.A. assumed an early lead and for a time it appeared as though Yeudall and Yeudall would make a runaway game of it.

The eleventh end, however, showed a rally by the St. Lambert pair. Bogart

GOV'T NOT BLUFFING IN MACSWINEY CASE

Sinn Fein Mistaken if Expecting Eleventh Hour Action

FALSE REPORTS

Recent Alarming Statements from Bedside Somewhat Overdrawn

LONDON, Sept. 14. — Assurances that there is no element of bluffing in the respective attitudes of the British Government and the Irish Nationalists relative to the MacSwiney case were obtained from responsible sources of each faction by the Associated Press yesterday afternoon.

If the Sinn Feiners think we are biding our time and will capitulate when MacSwiney's condition requires eleventh-hour action in order to save his life, they are mistaken. This characterizes the British official view as expressed to the correspondent.

"There can be no doubt or question about our desire or intention of having Lord Mayor MacSwiney recede from the tragic stand he has taken," declared an official at the London headquarters of the Irish Nationalist organization. "If he is not released voluntarily by the Government he will most certainly go down in history as the first Irish hunger striker to perish in an English prison."

In dealing with the MacSwiney case, the Home Office, which controls the prison commission, has all along strictly adhered to its policy of divulging nothing about the prisoners. But it became known yesterday that some of its reports from the bedsire of the hunger striker have been surprising. Ten days ago the officials believed that a new Irish crisis was imminent when the prison physicians reported that the lord mayor could not live more than 36 hours.

Since then the doctors have declined to predict, but have confined themselves to what they believed to be the actual condition of the prisoner. They contend that the case baffles medical science— that in such a case one man might have been dead days ago, while another might live many weeks, no one being able to judge the resistance of any individual under such circumstances.

The doctors disagree with the reports of the Irish Self--Determination League, which are evidently obtained from relatives of the prisoner who are allowed at his bedside, that the mayor is in great pain. The Home Office report yesterday morning said that he was noticeably weaker than Sunday, but not in pain.

SEARCH FOR ARMS.

BELFAST, Sept. 14. — The activities of the military took a new turn yesterday when they made a house-to-house search for arms in the Unionist quarters of Londonderry. Fountain Street, Wrapping Lane, and the small streets abutting them right in the heart of the Unionist section of the town were visited.

The search occupied the whole of the afternoon. Troops with fixed bayonets blocked the entrance to the streets.

The Republicans have been busy in other places.

The Fanad Head coastguard station at the entrance to Lough Swilly was burned Saturday night. Yesterday morning a mail train bound from Mallow to Tralee was held up at Gortatlea and all the Dublin and Cork mail was seized.

FIVE APPEALS FOR RATES HEARING

Eastern and Western Interests Preparing Petition —Opens End of Month

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—(Star Special) —With five appeals entered against the judgment of the Railway Commission in the rates case and a hearing of them about to be fixed by the Cabinet, counsel engaged are preparing the petitions setting forth the grounds for the variation of the judgment.

Generally speaking, the memorandum of the Government, declining to grant a stay in proceedings, is not viewed as an encouraging outlook. The case, however, will be argued at length and on the somewhat different grounds by eastern and western interests. The railways being on the defensive will simply argue for the sustenance of the judgment of the Commission.

On the behalf of the Saskatchewan Government, D'Arcy Scott will argue that the western rates normally are higher than in the East whereas they should be lower, because of greater revenue and lower operating costs. It will be submitted that the present raise is unjustifiable.

Eastern interests will argue that the new rates are a tax on commerce and industry, that the Canadian Pacific does not need the extra revenue nor all of it, and that as indicated in several lines already, the cost of living will be increased by reason of the new rates.

It is expected that the hearing will take place by the end of the present month.

A DIFFERENT ITINERARY.

A Sunday school teacher, trying to impress her teaching about the future life upon the plastic minds of her youthful pupils, asked all those who wanted to go to heaven to stand up. Three-year-old Dora alone remained seated.

"Why, Dora," questioned the teacher, "all good little girls want to go to heaven. Why don't you?"

"No, ma'am, we ain't goin'; we're goin' back to Montreal."—Harper's Magazine.

LONG ASSOCIATION.

Betty's grandmother had died in a distant town, and about the same time her little dog was poisoned and died. Betty said to her mother one morning, "Mamma isn't it strange I cried more for my little dog when it died, than I did when grandmother died?"

"No, it is not strange," replied her mother; "you were with your little dog every day, and your grandmother living away, you hardly knew her."

Betty replied: "Yes, and I didn't raise grandmother from a pup." — Chicago Tribune.

ESCAPED CONVICT GIVEN TWO YEARS

Sarrazin and Forgues Elect Trial by Jury

Albert Sarrazin accused of manslaughter, pleaded not guilty yesterday before Judge Monet in the Court of King's Bench, Criminal Division, and was remanded for trial for Thursday next. Bail was allowed as before. Sarrazin asked that his trial be held before the Judge of the Court of Special Sessions rather than before a jury of the King's Bench. His appeal was granted.

Eugene Forgues this morning pleaded not guilty to a charge of having escaped from the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary on June 7 last, whilst under a sentence of a term of imprisonment for theft. Trial in this case will be held on Thursday next before the Court of King's Bench.

Paul Jarry, accused of, whilst a prisoner at the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, having escaped from there on June 7 last, was this morning sentenced to a further term of imprisonment of two years, when he appeared in Court of King's Bench this morning and was tried by a Petty Jury. Evidence against the accused was given by J. S. Malepart, Governor of St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary, Joseph Charbonneau, a warder at the Jail, and Arthur Gauthier, also a warder, who stated that, whilst at work with other prisoners at quarries near the jail, accused had escaped from his guards. Although he pleaded not guilty, Jarry refused to make any statement or to interrogate the witnesses of the Crown. He was undefended by counsel and proferred no witnesses for his defence. D. A. Lafortune, K.C., conducted the case for the Crown.

During the summer various additional volumes, the lists of which are not yet complete, have been added to those in the Redpath library. SEPTEMBER 14.

The governing planets of this birthdate are Mercury and Venus. The governing sign is Virgo, or the sign of hidden fires. People born on this date will be determined, strong-willed and love to rule.

This person must learn not to be too hasty in giving judgment on other people. The nature is quick, impatient, suspicious and intensely jealous.

There should be much discipline of this temper and a great effort made to overcome appetite and too great a love for material things. Wealth and position mean too much to this character and the real worth of true friends is not understood.

There is success in the professions, in writing and music.

Iced "Primus Tea" Is Fashion's Decree

Iced tea is now served at meals and at every social function during the hot summer months. Iced tea actually quenches thirst, refreshes, stimulates, besides tasting wonderfully good and being wonderfully good for health also.

But in order to be the real thing, iced tea must contain good tea and be rightly made.

Made the following way, iced tea will be delicious and fragrant

Take one teaspoonful of tea for every two cups. Pour on fresh boiling water and allow to infuse five minutes. Decant the liquor off the leaves, bottle it and place it on ice as soon as sufficiently cool. To serve, pour into tall glasses, partly filled with chopped ice. A slice of lemon should float on the surface of each glass, sweeten to taste with sugar syrup previously prepared.

Always ask your grocer for "PRIMUS TEA," the brand "Primus" insures uniform flavor and guarantees purity.

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS.

THE tendency to confront problems with artificial remedies is far more popular than it should be. To overcome high living costs, many profess faith in anti-profiteering laws which merely skim the surface of the evil, while nearly all the shouting over the housing difficulty urges legislation restricting rents.

People have only to look about them to realize that grave shortages account for these various trials. Nobody could organize the whole world so as to devise the present condition, which has come about through great destruction and low production.

We must get at the root of the difficulties, giving superficial matters merely the attention due them. We must realize that until there is enough to go around again there will be a scramble for what is available. Furthermore, there is ever-present the temptation to apply punitive measures which would have an anti-economic influence.

All the evidence from experiments in Europe goes to prove that the world's safety requires continued adherence to the law of production for profit. The speedy tragedies induced overseas by attempts at other ways of doing business far overbalance the discomfort felt nearer home at such vicious profiteering as has been in evidence. Profit will remain a force in human affairs, and the quickest way out of distress is to harness it capably and intelligently to the vehicle of business.

A LIE NAILED.

TELEGRAPHIC despatches from Calgary yesterday announced that the O. B. U. of Alberta had received a cablegram from Robert Smillie, the Miners' leader in Britain, asking for simultaneous action in bringing about a Miners' strike in Canada on September 28, and stating that the organization had replied that "Alberta members of the O.B.U. miners, united with the British miners to a man in their demands." Such action on the part of Mr. Smillie would indicate a gross breach of ethics, to put the case mildly. Canada could not view such interference in her industry with equanimity, and such impertinent action would at least have aroused considerable indignation in this country.

On investigation, however, it is found that the story was manufactured out of whole cloth, and officials of the O.B.U. when asked to produce evidence of their statements are forced to acknowledge that the whole story is a tissue of falsehood. Organizations that use the newspapers for the dissemination of false reports and the distortion of fact may plume themselves on enjoying an ephemeral triumph, but these concocted yarns eventually return as a boomerang, destroying the credit of the originators and bringing the organization with which they are connected into disrepute.

THE WOLF ON THE TRAIL.

LENIN'S bold proposal for the adherence of world Socialists to the Bolshevist Internationale has not aroused any united enthusiasm in France. It may be that many French Socialists resent the suggestion that they be used to turn French Labor over to Bolshevism.

The masses of French people have nothing in common with those who make up Soviet Russia. The thrifty peasant class has won property under the present order of society. In picking out France for his appeal for support, the Bolshevist leader shows a misunderstanding of the outside world worthy of a Prussian.

The fact remains that Lenin has displayed his hand as a mischievous conspirator, stirring the witches' cauldron of world unrest. His arm is raised against every lawful authority which seeks to pilot any nation through the present stress.

France has been presented with yet another opportunity to stand on guard for civilization.

AN INEVITABLE TEST.

CHRISTIAN missions to "dark continents" include medical as well as religious services. Backward peoples are shown both the physical and the spiritual value of the Christian message.

The conservation of human life is the distinctive feature of our civilization which permits its practical supremacy over that of other lands. "Civilization" with us means "health." "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" is more than a saying; it is one of the great principles on which we as a people assume to act.

The heathen horrors of tuberculosis in its ravages throughout this country is alien to our boasted manner of life. It lowers the degree of our civilization. The fact that more Canadians died of tuberculosis during the war than were killed at the front blots our history during a glorious episode.

Christianity stirs a great pity for human suffering and untimely death, and also recognizes that the only compassion worth while is that which leads to remedial action. Christ healed the sick. Christian civilization cannot persist while the ravages of preventible Disease remain unchecked. The sum of injustice perpetrated by the human neglect which unchains such furies as tuberculosis far surpasses that of any other folly of our day.

The forms and exercises of civilization are not enough; men must express the faith that is in them in their daily lives. The health of the people is an inevitable test.

POLITICAL WARFARE.

THE advance of Bolshevist troops towards Afghanistan from Bokhara, which is reported in cable despatches this morning, draws attention to the unsettled state of that little known area that stretches from the Caspian to Eastern Turkestan.

If the Red troops have not been strongly reinforced there is little danger that they will seriously menace the northern frontier of India, but the Ameer is not so favorably disposed to British rule as to put out of the question any chance of his aiding the invaders if they should secure a firm footing in his country.

There is today a substantial British force in North-West Persia which has been engaged in desultory operations between Teheran and the Caspian for some months past. This force is isolated, for its communications lie through Kermanshah and the mandatary area in Mesopotamia. It is cut off from Bagdad, its real base, owing to the operations of the Turkish Nationalists, and its main task has been to oppose the Red armies that succeeded in capturing Enzeli and Resht.

When Bolshevist troops invaded Persia the Moscow Government, which was at that time sparring in the opening round of the negotiations with Britain for the resumption of trade relations, pretended that it had not recognized the Baku Soviet and disclaimed all responsibility for aggressive action in that region. The denial from Moscow was taken with a grain of salt, and was regarded as a clever diplomatic move to throw discredit on the British force.

A demonstration in force advancing from Bokhara southward towards Afghanistan might so menace our northern border that it would be necessary to send British troops from the Teheran area to support the Afghanistan loyal troops, who are now being despatched to quell the uprising. But Britain cannot afford to leave this north-western area uncovered for Bolshevists might then send more troops across the Caspian and again attempt in strength the capture of Teheran. By the treaty of last year Britain is pledged to the support of Persia, and there is no doubt that the presence of the British force there has had a steadying effect.

The movement of troops and the border warfare that has been conducted in Persia, Afghanistan and Baluchistan, for the last eighteen months, as well as the revolt of the Nationalists of Turkey must be regarded as political rather than military. On many occasions Lenin has declared that it is his aim and ideal to see Bolshevism spread throughout the world. He has gone so far as to admit that unless it takes root and flourishes outside the borders of Russia it must be regarded as a failure. So by the establishment of centres for the dissemination of this creed, by the persuasive oratory of a thousand secret agents, and by an occasional display in force as an index of the power behind their theories the Soviet Government seeks to establish its objects and to propagate its pernicious doctrines.

As a thrust at India, the advance from Bokhara can be dismissed as unworthy of consideration, but as an incident in a political game played by past masters in cunning, subterfuge and machinations that know no scruple, the forward movement will repay watching.

THE SMOKE NUISANCE.

SMOKING chimneys are still very much in evidence in this city, despite all protests. That the evil is responsible for more than mere annoyance is proven by the findings of an American Smoke Commission.

The Commission in its report declared that smoke, in addition to being a nuisance, was dangerous to the health, and that smoke destroyed tremendous amounts of property every year.

It was further held that not only are dry goods injured by smoke, but that public buildings, metals and unnumbered other things are defaced by it, the sulphur in the smoke being the principal cause of the loss.

In regard to the effect of smoke on the human body, the Commission asserted that medical practitioners declared that the lungs of human beings are weakened by constantly inhaling smoke, which is charged with sulphur and poisonous gases.

The great problem both in this and other cities is to find the best means of stamping out the nuisance. The Commission frankly states that it is quite impossible to recommend any special smoke-consuming device; at the same time it is pointed out that there are devices which go far towards remedying the evil. "But the best means," comments the report, "is not to make smoke."

The explanation made is that coal should be used in furnaces which gives out but little smoke. The consuming of hard coal is suggested.

Whoso offers me any article of belief for my signature implies that I am competent to form an opinion upon it; and if my positive testimony in its favor is of any value, then my negative testimony is also of value. — Oliver Wendell Holmes.

THE WORLD'S PRESS

Hey, Waiter!

The Detroit News: In demanding all-American language on the menu, the hotel stewards at the International Association convention in Philadelphia are voicing the silent hope of a too long servile public. In some hotels and fashionable dining rooms it had got to the point where you could only tell what was on the bill of fare by sniffing at the waiter's thumb-print. Who has not seen the baffled patron scan his menu with an air of discouragement and then casting an eye around until he lights on someone already served, exclaim: "Bring me some of that"—knowing only that it is something edible.

Women and the Ballot.

The London Times: The women of many modern States are enfranchised, but we are not aware that this has anywhere given politics a new orientation. In this country they first voted in the last election, and there are obvious reasons why the result of that appeal to the country has no abiding significance when studied in relation to their participation—or, indeed, from any other angle. In the Dominions, where woman suffrage is of older date, we know of nothing to show that it has developed a new tendency. Woman has not yet gone to the polling booths as the prophet of a new policy, whatever the future may have in store. Her entrance into politics has increased the electorate, but has not changed the direction of its movements.

Women in Agriculture.

The Sunday Oregonian: Nothing but hidebound and hopeless conservation would deny that there are opportunities for the right women in agriculture. When during the war the "farmerettes" proved that there are farm tasks that even an active and intelligent city girl can learn to do well, it was freely predicted that there would be a feminine back-to-the-land movement. That this should be reflected in the college statistics is creditable alike to the enterprise of women and to their good sense. There is nothing better than education as a foundation for any life work. We realize more clearly as time goes on that brains and training counts. It is beginning to be true of agriculture, so long assumed to be a matter of muscular endurance, and seasonal luck.

The Telephone and the War.

The New York Times: An anonymous writer, whose article is reprinted in the Living Age, tells of a recent conversation of his with a man prominent in German political life. They were talking about the war, and the German said: "It was the telephone that ruined us." Asked to explain, he reasoned that at the outbreak of the war communication between Berlin and Petrograd and Paris and Vienna and other cities was too easy and rapid. If the German authorities had had to write old-fashioned diplomatic notes, which took time to deliver and more time to answer, they could have kept their heads in the crisis and averted the war. But when everything was touch and go, instant communication by wire between the foreign offices was too much for the nerves, and the situation got out of hand.

Britain in Egypt.

The Louisville Courier-Journal: If Great Britain has anywhere a wholly clean record as a ruling Power it is in Egypt. The most unfair critic of the "square mile fever" of the British cannot contend that symptoms of that fever have been observable in the Nile Valley. The British came into Egypt to restore order when the building of the Suez Canal had virtually bankrupted the country and when the European bondholders were entitled to strong representation. About all that can be charged justly against the British is that they have been promising for thirty years to withdraw. The promise was to be carried out upon the condition that order should be first restored. It is arguable that the disorder which culminated in the Arabi Pasha rebellion soon after the British and French Governments assumed control never has wholly subsided.

Christian Unity.

The London Daily Chronicle: The "Appeal to All Christian People," which the Bishops who have recently met at Lambeth issue today, deserves to be carefully and sympathetically considered. In a fine phrase the Bishops describe it as "an adventure of good-will and of faith to which God is calling all the members of His Church." The appeal is a venture in the right direction, if only because it shows a desire for unity and offers something definite for discussion. It would be unwise to be too hopeful. Words may do much, but divisions are not healed by words alone, and the unfriendly spirit which still exists in so many places, little personal differences and unofficial friction, may hinder all the good intentions that ever came out from Lambeth. The appeal is made—it rests almost entirely with the rank and file, the ministers and laity of the churches involved, whether it will have any effect.

Taking the "Council" Too Seriously.

The London Express: We have already noted the emergence last week of the labor "Council of Action" as historic. It marks a logical and natural development of the organized expression of labor opinion, which is certainly a new fact. It was born of a great, though needless, fear that the Government and the country might be dragged into war. It expressed, with flamboyant vehemence, the determination of organized labor, shared by all other sections of public opinion, that there should be no war. The "Council of Action" is now to be repeated locally in miniature. There is nothing in all this, as we see it, to fear or to dislike. If the Primrose League organized centrally and locally the expression of the opinion of its members none would suppose that the State was imperilled. Why suppose any such thing because labor does what the Primrose League is equally entitled to do?

Chinese Coal.

London Morning Post: Our discontented miners would do well to read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest the fact that France has just bought 100,000 tons of coal from the Chinese Government. This "deal" synchronises with the advice given by all the South African shipping lines to burn coal from the Transvaal mines, and is an indication of the trend of things incident to the exorbitant demands of labor. China's coal supply is practically inexhaustible, and is virtually untouched. She has enough good coal to supply the whole human race at its present consumption of a billion tons a year for a thousand years. The coal-bearing areas of China have been estimated at more than 200,000 square miles—a territory twenty-five times the size of Wales, and it is a remarkable fact that, instead of being limited to a few favored districts, this vast supply of coal is found all over the Empire and in every province.

Clearing at Dawn.

The fields are chill; the sparse rain has stopped;
The colors of Spring teem on every side.
With leaping fish the blue pond is full;
With singing thrushes the green boughs droop.
The flowers of the field have dabbled their powdered cheeks;
The mountain grasses are bent level at the waist.
By the bamboo stream the last fragment of cloud
Blown by the wind slowly scatters away.

A MARINE ERROR.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—"Stepped her mast to clear the bridge." In a morning paper one reads in large letters, the above.

Ye gods, I wonder what the captain of the Russian windjammer thinks when he reads it, and his vessel supposed to be a training ship for cadets.

When Canada gets her training ship, perhaps the marine reporter of that paper would be well advised to apply for any marine information from the ship's cook instead of the wireless operator. SAILOR.

SUGAR PROFITS.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—In your issue of September 7th (editor's mail), one of your readers signs himself or herself "Consumer" under a somewhat misinformed article entitled "Sugar."

The gentlemen who received a 28 per cent dividend recently, I take it to mean the preferred shareholders of the Atlantic Sugar Company. As these holders have had no return on their investment for the last four years when the 7 per cent dividend was passed, it seems to me quite reasonable that they should now receive their reward.

Has Mr. Consumer been writing the papers during these four years when the holders received no return on their money that the price of sugar should be raised to enable the company to pay their preferred shareholders? I think not. C. M. BLACK.

WATER TAXES.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—Will you allow space to a busy man to heartily endorse the protest of Mr. C. H. Parthenais? What in the name of fortune are the city authorities thinking of when sending out these water charges? Last May my rent was increased 43 per cent, but the water rate has gone up 50 per cent. Whence is this increase in the cost of a natural, ready-made element surrounding the island of Montreal? The city possesses one of the most efficient pumps on this continent, giving a duty on test of, I believe, 138 million foot-pounds per 1,000 lbs. of steam.

The water rate has become ridiculous. In my household it amounts to more than gas and electric light put together in a year, and is getting on to equal half the family milk bill for the same period, high as the latter is. The privilege of having water to make tea and coffee with costs more than the tea and coffee. According to my case, occupiers of houses in future will have to allow as much as 5 per cent on the rent to cover the water rate, so that it would be a mere farce for the city to take up any scheme of municipal housing.

Socialists and other advocates of municipal ownership of public utilities had better take care, as, in the light of the Montreal water tax, the municipal ownership generally is what Mr. Asquith would call "the greatest political imposture of modern times." PROLETARIAT.

TO HELP THE BOYS.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—The Rotary Club of Montreal is a member of the International Association of Rotary Clubs; a world-wide organization comprising sixteen countries, or nationalities, and numbers more than fifty thousand members of all creeds and races.

It is founded upon ethical lines and the local membership permits one representative of each profession or line of business. The Montreal members are therefore composed of representative professional and business men who meet at Freeman's Hotel every Tuesday for lunch and the promotion of the club's ideals, including acquaintance, fellowship and service.

The Montreal Club is just now particularly devoting its energies to boys' work and the promotion of the welfare of the boy. More especially of those boys who need assistance. A preliminary survey of this class of boys in Montreal has revealed the fact that there are more than sixty thousand so-called under-privileged boys in our midst who need a helping hand to start and keep them on the way to becoming good citizens.

This organization has therefore volunteered its services as the medium for a campaign to raise twenty thousand dollars to pay off a long standing debt on the Boys' Home in Mountain street, in order that it may get a fresh start and become the nucleus for the extension of this work. It is desired to encourage a spirit of industry and self-reliance among the boys which will enable them to become self-supporting and be an encouragement to them for greater effort.

The cordial support of the public is solicited for this worthy cause.

HENRY PHILIPS,
President.

"TAINTED NEWS."

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—My attention has been called to your issue of August 19th, in which you publish a letter from John C. Mortimer, asking your attention to "The Brass Check." In reply to Mr. Mortimer you say as follows:

"Our correspondent is obviously unacquainted with Upton Sinclair and the literary methods so peculiarly his own. The daily press has its faults, but if Mr. Sinclair makes a definite and damaging charge that 'the main source of our news is quite unworthy of trust,' he is stating what is merely false. It would be difficult to meet our correspondent's requirements in so far as demonstrating the reliability of the daily news is concerned. It is demonstrated every day and every hour of the day by the actual course of events. Mr. Mortimer is apparently unaware of the profits still to be made by the literary muckraker."

Answering the above I would say that you have evidently not seen "The Brass Check." I am, therefore, sending a copy by this mail addressed to the managing editor. You will find half a dozen chapters in "The Brass Check" dealing with the Associated Press, and in these chapters you will find specific and detailed charges with names, places and dates. You will find a challenge to the Associated Press to take up these charges and you will note that the book has been out almost six months and almost 100,000 copies have been sold and the Associated Press has not yet ventured to take up my challenge. If you believe in the integrity of the "main source of our news," I advise you to write to the managers of the Associated Press, and require them to take up my challenge.

As to your last statement as to the "profits still to be made by the literary muckraker," I invite you to consult any book publisher as to the amount of money that can be made by the selling of a handsome cloth bound book of 448 pages at a retail price of $1.20 postpaid. I believe I am correct in my statement that there is no ordinary commercial publisher in America today who would undertake to bring out such a book at less than $2.00 net, and most of them would charge $3.00 net; and a great many of them will charge as high as $4.00 net for books of that size. I shall wait with interest to see if you publish this letter. Sincerely,

Pasadena, Cal. UPTON SINCLAIR.

THE MENNONITES.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—The proposed migration of the Canadian colony of Orthodox Mennonites into the Mississippi Valley has aroused considerable protest there.

The proposed migration of the Menonites from the Western Provinces into Quebec, of which colony chief officials are now conferring with Premier Taschereau, has also met with opposition here.

We might well echo the resolution passed by the Alabama State committee which reads as follows:

"Be it resolved, That the Democratic State Executive Committee hereby unreservedly condemns the movement now under way to bring into Mississippi a colony of eight thousand Mennonites from Canada for the following reasons: (1) The said Mennonites refuse to allow their children to attend public schools; (2) they speak and write only the German language, which is equivalent to thinking in German; (3) it is composed wholly of conscientious objectors who refused to fight for the Allied cause when Canada was being bled by the world-war. We are, therefore, of the opinion that these Mennonites are undesirable citizens, and we are opposed to bringing them into Mississippi."

Just as much as they are undesirable citizens in the Mississippi for the reasons mentioned above, so are they undesirable citizens in the Province of Quebec.

Surely we are not to be the dumping ground of undesirables from other provinces of the Dominion.

They are skilful and clever workers, no doubt, but they have overlooked one of Christ's most famous sayings, 'Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's.' They are willing to enjoy the blessings that peace offer, but are unwilling to help shoulder the burden sometimes necessary for its surety.

Unless the Mennonites show that they intend to become good Canadians, our policy must be "hands off."

CANA DEAN.

THAT SOUTHERN BRIDGE.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—Mayor Martin has publicly expressed his opposition to another bridge between Montreal and the mainland to the south, his argument being that the real estate proprietors of the city would suffer.

Apart from the selfishness of the plea, which he may justify, he overlooks the disadvantages of a single bridge, which far outweighs any possible loss to his friends, the real estate men.

As it is, Montreal has suffered a tremendous loss in the bad advertising caused by the closing of the Victoria Bridge. The actual value of the American tourist trade to the city is incalculable, and the tourists have been badly scared by the inconvenience that they suffered by the delay in getting into the city. If it were known that there were two bridges, it would add to Montreal's popularity.

Then what does Montreal secure in the outward and inward freight and passenger traffic over the railways? And what would be the result if the only bridge were destroyed by fire, as it might easily have been? The present bridge is loaded to capacity, and the traffic needs another.

His Worship overlooks the fact that the harbor of Montreal extends on both sides of the river, and the Commissioners need another bridge to carry out the developments necessary to keep the harbor in its present position, which is a fine one.

As to the depopulation of Montreal which might occur if the South Shore were made more accessible, surely the attractions of living in Montreal under His Worship's benign reign would prevent any such exodus. But if the South Shore did secure some of the overcrowded population, and thus depopulate some of the horrible slums of the city, it would result in lessening the population of the police court, the jail, the hospitals and the cemeteries, and thus even up any decrease in general population. If Mayor Martin is really the champion of the working classes, as he claims, he should be delighted at the chance of them having decent homes in open places, where the children can see the sky, and romp in gardens, instead of being dragged up in filthy flats, and educated for the jail.

As to the stealing of factories, Montreal surely has the power to keep what she has, and to add to her list. But if some did cross the river, she would still benefit far more than if they were attracted to other and more distant places.

Apart from the absolute need of a bridge in the interests of Montreal, which are so evident, any benefit that would accrue to the South Shore would be reflected in Montreal.

FROM THE STAR FILES

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

(September 14, 1890, fell on Sunday.)

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

(From The Star File, Sept. 14, 1900.)

New York.—One hundred and forty-five thousand coal mine workers of the Pennsylvania region threaten to strike. Among their demands are semi-monthly payment of wages, an advance of 20 per cent in wages less than $1.50 and not exceeding $1.75 a day; that all classes of day labor now receiving $1.50 and not exceeding $1.75 shall receive 15 per cent over present wages; and that all day labor receiving $1.75 shall be advanced 10 per cent. John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America is but 31 years of age.

London—The Gazette announces that the Victoria Cross has been bestowed upon Sergt. Arthur Lindsay, of Strathcona's Horse.

FRENCH-CANADIAN VIEWS

THE TARIFF ENQUIRY.

LA PRESSE. — The Commission charged by the Government of Ottawa to conduct an enquiry into the tariff from one end of Canada to the other will commence its work at Winnipeg. After a month's investigation in the West the Commission will come and study conditions in the East so that it will be able to present the results of its investigations at the forthcoming federal session. Let us hope that the report of the Commissioners will allow the finding of a satisfactory solution of the thorny tariff question which has been in suspense for so long. Because it touches almost all the different interests of the community, the tariff problem constitutes a political weapon of which our public men are often too much inclined to make use. It is easy to frighten the manufacturing industries by a description of the alleged disasters that the introduction of Free Trade cannot fail to produce, just as it is easy to alarm the farmers by painting under the darkest shades, the unfavorable situation in which extreme protection would place them. But these methods even if they favor this or that political party or this or that candidate are not in the general interest of the country.

The question, so it seems should be looked at from a higher viewpoint a more national angle, and as a business matter pure and simple There is no one who is sincerely desirous of seeing Canada go forward who is anxious to see our industries deteriorate at the expense of agriculture, just as no one wishes to see the products of the farm restricted for the benefit of our industries. What the Government should strain every nerve to effect is to find a modus vivendi by which agriculture and industry can both develop one alongside the other without injuring either, for in the last analysis the interests of the two groups are not opposed to one another. On the contrary they run in double harness the success of the enterprises of industry having a satisfactory reflection in the industry of farming and vice-versa.

TAX EXEMPTIONS.

La Patrie.—At the time when the Charter Commission is setting out to study the problem of tax exemptions in order that they may restrict the application of the principle as far as possible Le Canada gives vent to the following opinion on this question.

"We believe that the principle of tax exemption is in itself irregular and we would be more in favor of a general tax leaving it to the city to give back afterwards, under some kind of subsidy a part or all of what it has received. This would supply the city with a perfect means of control upon its own funds and would allow it to distribute them according to the judgment of its own responsible administrators and not by the chance methods of an arbitrary tradition."

The idea is not a new one and it is founded on a plausible principle. But in practice who can foresee how this method of distribution would operate. The town has a hard task to balance its budget. If it was in possession of the property tax collected from our charitable institutions who knows whether the city would not invoke the exacting necessities of the budget to employ these funds for other purposes than public charity. In this regard there is a precedent that makes us somewhat dubious—the tax on places of amusement which was imposed expressly for helping benevolent institutions. Yet the city pockets the proceeds of this tax and only distributes a share of it. It keeps the other part for the general expenses of administration. We would not have enough confidence in any of the civic administrations that have been in power during the last twenty years to be sure that they would collect a tax solely for the purpose of giving it all back to deserving undertakings, such as our charitable institutions.

GEN'L GOETHALS PRAISES HARBOR

Visits Waterfront With Distinguished Party of Port Authorities

A party of distinguished American port authorities were guests of the Montreal Harbor Commissioners yesterday, chief among them being Major-General G. W. Goethals, the builder of the Panama Canal.

The visitors represented the New York and New Jersey Port and Harbor Development Commission and were visibly impressed with their tour of the waterfront, stating that the United States had nothing to compare with the local harbor in efficiency and terminal facilities.

Major-General Goethals in conversation with the Star complimented the commissioners on a port which had surprised him very much. He also praised the secretary, M. P. Fennel, on whom falls the details of organization.

Alluding to Mr. Fennell, General Goethals said: "You cannot build up a magnificent development like this without the energy and control of one man. Your port surprised me very much, and is worthy of being headquarters of the American Association of Port Authorities."

A MODEL PORT.

With references to Montreal as being headquarters of this international association Lt.-Col. Harry B. Salter stated that what he had seen, although he did not like to admit it, was an example of efficiency and speed which could not be equalled in the States, even in the huge port of New York. "Where," he stated "the system is haphazard, compared with yours."

"Your grain handling facilities impressed us tremendously—half a million bushels put into ships in one day—unloading vessels full of grain in a few hours— a truly magnificent development."

"We are ourselves busy in planning and organizing port improvements in New York and New Jersey. This visit has been very instructive. You have here a model port."

Among those who visited the water front were the following: W. R. Willcox, chairman of the commission; J. Spencer Smith, vice chairman of the commission; DeWitt VanBuskirk, Senator S. Roy Heath, Assemblyman H. J. Gaede, B. F. Cresson Jr., Julius H. Cohen, C. N. Rhulman, Lieut.-Col. H. B. Salter and Major General G. W. Goethals, the latter chief consulting engineer for the commission.

KILLED WHEN HEAD STRUCK BY SHAFT

A verdict of accidental death was rendered in the case of E. Hill, 35 years of age, of 2666 Molson avenue, who was instantly killed while at work at the plant of the Union Engine and Machine Company, last Saturday morning. Hill was struck on the head by a shaft which he was lowering on a planing machine.

Evidence showed that the accident was one which might occur at any time under the same circumstances and was in no way the fault of the man who, while pulling on a chain block to lower a shaft into position, was struck by the shaft which, together with the chain block, slipped to the floor. Safety collar devices which can be used were not employed, due to the extra time and work necessary to their adjustment. No such case of a chain block slipping has occurred in the works in question in the past twenty years.

SIX MONTHS FOR VAGABONDAGE

Charged with vagabondage, Mabel Gilmette appeared before Recorder Semple in the Recorder's Court yesterday and was sentenced to six months in jail. She was arrested by special constables Rocheleau and Daoust on September 8, and pleaded not guilty to the charge.

NATURAL DEATH.

Natural death was the cause assigned to the death of James Kelly, a prisoner at Bordeaux Jail, who passed away in the prison infirmary on the night of September 12.

HAVE NOT HEARD OF APPOINTMENTS

New King's Bench Court Judges Still Await Official Notification

Messrs. Justice Guerin, Allard, Tellier and Howard, formerly of the Superior Court but now of the Court of King's Bench by virtue of appointment by the Federal Government, have not as yet received official notification of their appointment, and this delay, it is complained of generally, is causing annoyance and difficulty in the administration of justice here, owing to the fact that the new titular are practically idle. While there are upwards of 2,000 cases in arrears before the Superior Court, with the situation as it is now, there are only five judges available to sit in Enquete and Merits in the Superior Court. The First Division of the Court of Review opened this morning under the presidency of Messrs. Justices Demers, Panneton and Weir; the Second Division of the same jurisdiction will open tomorrow morning, with Messrs. Justices Lafontaine, Marechal and Duclos on the Bench.

The greatest grievance of members of the bar and litigants it is said, is due to the fact that while the Legislature took away four judges of the Superior Court, it did not provide for the necessary machinery whereby the large number of cases now before the Court of Review should be heard by the Court of Appeal.

ALLEGED BURGLAR ARRESTED.

Henry Thomas, 24 years of age, was arraigned before Judge Lanctot in the Enquette Court yesterday charged with burglary and was remanded till September 16, for enquette. Thomas was arrested by Constable James on Sunday morning about 8 o'clock as he was trying to enter the laboratory of Wyett and Lyman, 46 Prince street.

The Shop for Larger Women is Showing New Suits

The models are specially designed to bring an appearance of graceful slenderness and will satisfy the woman who has long given up the idea of getting clothes to fit her. Designers (who are almost without exception stout women) have specialized in providing for those of more than average weight. The fabrics and colors that apparently eliminate weight have been used, and the models conform to the dictates of Fashion.

A suit of Malay Brown Broadcloth with lines of ornamental stitchery, in self-colored silk, has many buttons to outline the embroidered side sections of the coat. The choker collar is of natural opossum and the lining, pussy willow silk, very rich in color.

Below knee length are many of the suit coats. Especially is the change notable in a French suit of Marine Blue Gabardine.

Touches of embroidery in blue and sand appear at the wrist, above the narrow reveres and in a graceful point just below the hip line on both skirt and coat. Skirt fulness is provided by concealed pleats.

Elaborately embroidered is a suit of black Broadcloth, lined with silver grey, but the embroidery is kept on the coat skirt. The novel collar is deeply banded with Hudson Seal.

It Pays to Buy Manufacturers' Seconds in Floorcoverings

The faults are not in the actual fabric but consist usually of a slight "miss" in the pattern where color have blurred or where the design is not exactly right. For this reason the so-called defects have no effect whatever on the wearing qualities.

Therefore, it will be greatly to your advantage to consider these two lines of manufacturers' seconds.

Feltol.—Lies flat because of the method of manufacture. It is made on a flat base and the heavily enamelled baked surface is patterned with oilcloth designs, hence the name "Feltol." 2 yds wide and variously patterned. Today's value 75c a sq. yd. Sale price, sq. yd. 59c

Heavy Cork Linoleum — 2 yds. wide, patterned in block and floral designs. Today's value $1.50 a sq. yard. Sale price, a sq. yd $1.19

MARGARET CURRIE'S CHATS

REQUESTED RECIPES.

RUSSIAN SALAD DRESSING (For "Sarah.")—Some people add tomato catsup or chili sauce to either a boiled salad dressing or a mayonnaise as a Russian dressing. I have also seen French dressing with chopped pickles, capers, red or green peppers used as a Russian dressing.

KEEPING VEGETABLES—For "Mother," Greenfield Park—Carrots may remain in the ground until the weather is quite cool; then be pulled, the tops cut off and stored in cellars, caves or pits or in tightly covered boxes or crocks. Must be kept cold and evaporation must be prevented, for otherwise they become wilted. If the cellar is extremely dry, cover carrots with a little moistened sand. Turnips may be kept in the same way. Onions must be absolutely dry and require a cool, dry place. An attic is excellent.

GREEN TOMATO PICKLES WITH CUCUMBER, or CHOW SHOW—Two quarts small green tomatoes, 12 small cucumbers, 3 red peppers, 1 cauliflower, 2 bunches celery, 1 pint small onions, 2 quarts string beans, ¼lb. mustard seed, 2 oz. turmeric, ½oz. allspice, ½oz. pepper, ½oz. clove, salt, 1 gallon vinegar. Prepare vegetables and cut in small pieces, cover with salt, let stand twenty-four hours, and drain. Heat vinegar and spices to boiling-point, add vegetables, and cook until soft.

RED TOMATO PRESERVES—One quart sliced red tomatoes (peeled), 1 lb. sugar, 2 oz. Canton ginger or a few pieces ginger root, 1 lemon. Cover tomatoes with sugar and let stand over night. Pour off syrup and boil until clear and quite thick. Skim, add tomatoes, ginger and lemon sliced and seeded. Cook until the fruit is clear. Pour into jars or crocks.

WHOLE TOMATOES—For "A Reader of Your Page."—Fill a large stone jar with ripe tomatoes, then add a few whole cloves and a little sugar. Cover them well with one-half cold vinegar and half water; place a piece of flannel over the jar well down into the vinegar, then tie down with paper. Should mildew collect on flannel it will not injure tomatoes.

Corn may be canned on the cob very much as you do when it is scraped from the cob, but you would need very large jars and I doubt if you would find it very satisfactory.

CANNED PEACHES—(For K. S. M.)—Wipe peaches and put in boiling water, allowing them to stand just long enough to easily loosen skins. Remove skins and cook fruit at once, that it may not discolor. Allow one-third weight of fruit in sugar, and 2 cups water to each pound of sugar. Boil sugar and water ten minutes to make a thin syrup and cook a small quantity of fruit at a time in the syrup. By so doing, fruit may be kept in perfect shape. If you like your fruit very rich and sweet, add more sugar. Put fruit in well-sterilized jars.

CANNED TOMATOES—Peel tomatoes and cook thoroughly. Do not add water. Season with one teaspoon sugar and one of salt to each quart of tomatoes.

RYE BREAD—(For "Daisy")—Two cups scalded milk or boiling water, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, ½ cake compressed yeast dissolved in ½ cup lukewarm water, 6 to 6½ cups rye flour. Put salt, sugar and butter in large mixing bowl; pour on the hot milk or water; when lukewarm add dissolved yeast and five cups flour, mix and stir well with knife or mixing spoon. Add remaining flour, mix and turn dough out on a floured board and knead until soft and elastic. Put it back into bowl, moisten, cover, and let rise over night. In morning, divide into loaves and place in greased pans. Let rise again until double in bulk, then bake one hour in a hot oven. This recipe makes two loaves.

DOUGHNUTS—(Mrs. LaR.)—Fat must be kept at a uniform temperature. If too cold, doughnuts will absorb fat; if too hot, doughnuts will brown before sufficiently risen. To test fat, drop in an inch cube of bread from soft part of loaf as soon as fat begins to smoke. If, in forty seconds the bread is golden brown, the fat is of right temperature for frying any cooked mixture. All fried food on removal from fat should be drained on brown paper.

BEETROOT PICKLE—(For "Troubled"—Take beetroots, and boil them without breaking their skins. When cool, remove the skins, and cut in half-inch slices. Place in jars. Boil together one quart malt vinegar, a small horseradish, grated finely half an ounce of black pepper, and half an ounce of allspice. Let the mixture become quite cold, then pour in over beetroots. Cover the jars and store in a cool place.

PICKLED ONIONS—(For Troubled).—Peeling the onions is a decidedly painful task, but it is made less so if they are done in cold water. Some people even put them in boiling water and allow them to come to the boil before peeling them.

With small pickling onions to each quart of vinegar allow 2 tablespoons of black peppercorns, 2 teaspoons of allspice, 2 level teaspoons of salt and 2 bay leaves. Remove the outer skin with a silver knife; if a steel knife is used the onions will turn black. If liked, peel them in a basin of cold water, for, besides making the operation less painful it helps to whiten them by removing some of the essential oil. Dry them lightly with a cloth. Put the vinegar, spices and bay leaves in a saucepan, boil them until the vinegar is well flavored and let it get cold. Put the onions in jars or wide necked bottles. Cork down tightly. They will be ready for use in about a month.

MARGARET CURRIE'S MAIL

A COUNTRY HOLIDAY.

About the time that the thermometer decided to try and keep step with the cost of living, Bill and myself arrived at the conclusion that we needed a vacation. Our boss as yet had taken no official notice of our fading beauty due to the humidity and arduous toil but when approached on the subject cheerfully consented to try and struggle on for two weeks without us, remarking that he could get a boy to fill in while we were absent.

We had already selected our resting place on the recommendation of Bill's milkman, who declared that St. Bridget de Brush was the healthiest place in Quebec and that he knew a "feller" out there. You know the rest. Thanks to his aid we had no difficulty in making arrangements for our stay at the Rural Ritz though the money involved would have secured us an apartment in Petrograd at present rates with a bath as well if they are still using them over there.

Came a fine morning and we set out arrayed in our finest and laden with luggage, Bill especially so, as he had laid in a fine supply of the stuff that his great grandfather had overlooked. They call it "The People's Railway" and it seemed that day that most of the proprietors were right on hand. Every seat was full, (some of the occupants also) when we arrived at the train. Girls by the score all talking at once about nothing, but looking dreadfully cute with their puffed hair and white shoes and the dresses that moved the poet to say "They wear but little here below (or above)nor wear that little long."

A two hour's run brought us to our destination where we were met by a son of our hostess, who soon had our baggage loaded into an ancient flivver that consented to start, only after each of us had cranked it twice. When we ventured to remark that the road surface seemed a bit corrugated the youth explained that it had just been mended. The country method of road building is extremely simple. They merely clean the stones and gravel from the gutters and deposit them in the centre of the track. The first rain washes the gravel back again leaving the stones as an evidence of good faith. Happily the distance to our rural retreat was not great much to Bill's relief as he was afraid some of his treasures might start leaking.

Our hostess met us at the front door more to make sure we wiped our boots than to welcome us I think. She told us tea would be ready at 5 o'clock sharp (real sharp) and allowed the son to usher us to our chamber. The room had that cosy air so noticeable in skating rinks and waiting rooms. It contained besides ourselves two beds of monstrous height.

"Gee", said William," they must have had a lot of feathers here," and was much surprised to find straw instead. He said he felt that we were robbing the live stock. Several fine pictures adorned the walls, including that masterpiece "The Prodigal's return" and the justly famous "Rachael at the Well". Literature was represented by Eaton's Catalogue, 1918; Talmadge's Sermons and "The Complete Horse Doctor"; also an almanac which told us that we were having a rainy day though the temperature was 85 in the shade.

At tea time we met the entire cast of the outfit, which included our late chauffeur, the old folks, and two grown up girls, who being of a startling thinness, were named the "Condensed Milk-Maids" by William the Rude. In fact the whole family were thin, but the cause was soon apparent By the look of the table I guess they were practicing for a hunger strike. After tea Hiram took us out to show us the cattle and other wonders of the soil following which we were invited into the front room to have some music Hiram saying that his oldest gal was the best organ player in the region having taken two quarters' lessons. Soon we were listening to the entrancing strains of "Mary's Pet Waltz" with "Battle of Waterloo" as an encore. Here the clock relieved situation by striking nine which was roosting time in the little home. Bill confided to me that he was tired of the place already but we agreed to hang on another day. About 4 a.m. a rooster announced that in his opinion a new day was with us and shortly after someone passed our door wearing about $75 worth of boots if he had bought them by weight. Then in order wood chopping, stove banging, cream separator, and then a voice at our door telling us that breakfast was waiting. We split the quart of wash water between us and hastened below. The lady inquired did we care for ham and eggs and on our shy admission that we cared deeply Bill got a remnant of ham while I drew eggs (one). Right then I decided that we must flee and I knew by the far away look in my chum's eyes that he was dreaming of his side delivery cafe in the city. That night we faked a telegram from the city calling us home. So here we are again in town. No more country for mine. Fletchers field will be wild enough for me after this, and if shattered nerves compel me to seek quiet, have I not my choice of St. Lambert, Westmount or Mount Royal Cemetery?

OLE BILL AND I.

TO EXTERMINATE COCKROACHES.

Required—10 cents' worth of carbon disulphide, 20 cents' worth of lysol and one guart of coal oil.

Method — Mix carbon disulphide well with coal oil and then add the lysol. Put this into a bottle and keep well corked. When required for use, take part of the mixture and add ten parts water. (Put the water in a vessel first as it is important to add the mixture to the water.) Paint with small brush walls and crevices where roaches are.

FOR "BROKEN-HEARTED"

As the above mentioned has referred her question to the readers of this page, I would like to give her my opinion on it.

If the house is good enough for the parents to live in then surely it is good enough for the children. Everyone is not able to own a mansion and sometimes those who do are not half so happy as those who live in a small house.

Not only that but if "Broken-Hearted" knows that she has done her best to make the house attractive then why should she worry? We can only do our best, and, having done that, need not be ashamed.

Why should a young man be ashamed? Surely he does not come to take the house around with him. If I cared for a girl I certainly would not worry about the house she lived in or what it looked like, no, not by any means.

I am a young man the same age as yourself and have travelled from coast to coast but I can only say "Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

If "Broken-Hearted" wishes to send her address to Margaret Currie to be forwarded to me I would be only too pleased to tell some of my experiences while mixing with the so-called "big bugs" and of one incident in my own life which made me realize that the working class, no matter how poor, were the best friends I could have. I would tell them on this page

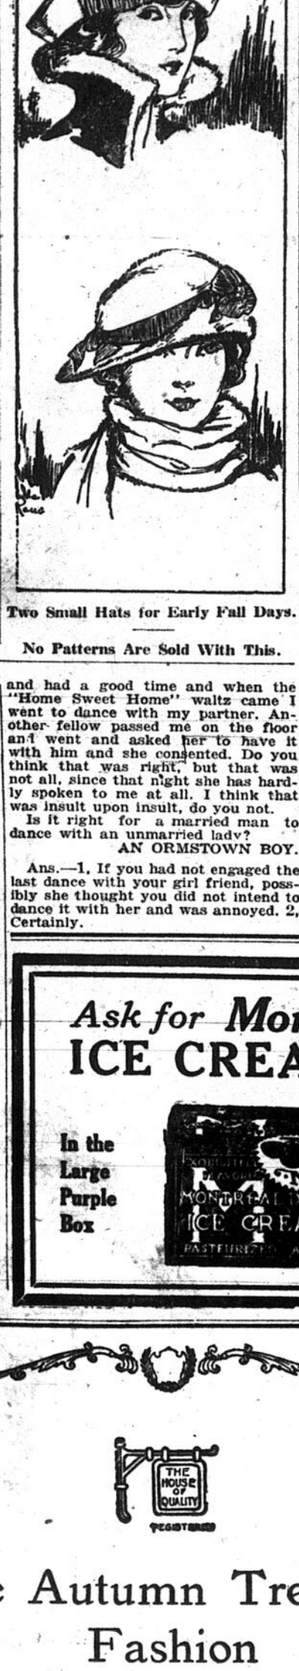
FASHIONS FOR TODAY



Two Small Hats for Early Fall Days.

No Patterns Are Sold With This.

Two early fall sport hats are shown in today's sketch. The upper one is of brown suede, the brim cut in sections and finely laced together with a narrow strip of the suede, a self-covered buckle and fringe of the suede caught at one side being the only trimming. The other hat is of taupe beaver cloth banded with a dull blue ribbed velvet ribbon with a bow at one side and flower of the same at the other.

Either of these hats might be made by an amateur, and whether or not economy is the prime consideration, many women like to make their own hats because they can fit them on their own heads and be sure they are the right size and of comfortable shape. Further, they can twist and turn them until the most becoming angle possible has been attained. The woman who can make her own clothes or her own hats has possibilities of individuality within her reach that the one who must depend upon the professional milliner, dressmaker, or tailor can never hope to attain.

When considering fall and winter millinery, don't overlook the fact that metal effects in trimmings are very popular and that many greenish-blue tones, something on the peacock order but with a number of brand-new names, are in the limelight. Reddish browns, all classed at one time as terra cotta—dark, light or medium—and later listed as henna, are very much to the fore also. Copper is one of the descriptive terms applied to this reddish brown for 1920-21 use. Pomegranate describes another shade.

Metal and velvet brocades are combined with plain color velvet in the development of some good-looking hats. For the sake of variety, not that they will probably rank as leaders, one millinery house has brought out some hats with either the crown or brim made of silk patchwork. This patchwork is made of many odd-shaped pieces of silk and velvet sewed together crazy quilt fashion. Part of the hat is always made of plain velvet, usually black.

but it would take too much room and I am not the only writer to these columns. Sincerely hoping that what I have said may be of some benefit to you or others where that question may arise. "THE GREY SEAL."

ORMSTOWN TROUBLES.

I am a constant reader of your page, and one night as I was looking it over I came across a letter from an 'Ormstown Sport" telling of his having to wait so long for his girl to go to the Caledonia Games on August 6. I think it is a shame the way the gigs keep fellows waiting. I know in my experience it has been the same. I have heard it said that it is time enough for a man to get ready when a woman is through, and I can say it is true.

I do not want to criticize anybody, but I would like to say something about the way some of our girls act in the summer time. Possibly a fellow has been going with a girl for the last six months and promise of still keeping it up, when the summer boarders come up. Then the girls say they would like to meet these fellows and after having been introduced they go out together. The girl tells this about the other fellow and he makes up a story that gets the regular into trouble. Also this girl knows nothing whatever about this boarder and she is liable to be sorry. I do not think it fair to the boy and in turn when the occasion is the reverse I feel the same. I think it right for a fellow to have a girl friend but I do not believe it right for them to leave that friend and go and get one he knows nothing about.

I once took a girl friend to a dance. and had a good time and when the "Home Sweet Home" waltz came I went to dance with my partner. Another fellow passed me on the floor and went and asked her to have it with him and she consented. Do you think that was right, but that was not all, since that night she has hardly spoken to me at all. I think that was insult upon insult, do you not.

Is it right for a married man to dance with an unmarried lady?

AN ORMSTOWN BOY.

Ans.—1, If you had not engaged the last dance with your girl friend, possibly she thought you did not intend to dance it with her and was annoyed. 2, Certainly.

RICHARDS

VARIATIONS — Richardson, Richeson, Richey, Richie, Richart, Rickard, Rickards, Rickert Ricker, Rickey, Rickett, Ricketts, Riches, Riccardi, Ricciardi, Reichard.

RACIAL ORIGIN—Teutonic.

SOURCE—A given name.

The Normans left their stamp not only on England, but upon all Europe for while they colonized by no means all of the latter, there was a period in medieval times when the Norman arms had subdued about all of the European continent, and Norman rulers held sway in Italy, Spain, France and parts of what is now Germany, as well as in England.

Nor did the Normans have to do more than merely rule most of these sections to leave among them, as one of their legacies, the given name of Richard, Meaning "stern king," it was naturally a name to appeal to such a warlike and dominating race as these Teutons of the middle ages, and one which naturally became usual among the various Norman families ruling in different sections of Europe. In turn kings' names were generally popular among the populace in all lands. Hence it became a widespread given name first, and then a family name throughout most of Europe.

Richeson, as well as Richards, is a shortened form of Richardson, and Richey, Ritchie, and Richie are shortenings of Richeson. Rickey and Ricketts and Ricket are developments of names formed from nicknames of Richard through the use of the diminutive ending "ot" Rickart, Rickards, Rickert and Ricker show German influences, while Riccardi and Ricciardi are natural pronunciations of the Italian tongue. Reichard is found in Alsace and Lorraine.

Tomorrow—Burgoyne.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME BY THORNTON W. BURGESS

BLACKY VISITS THE OLD BRIARPATCH.

A coat that's black you will often find
But hides a heart that is true and kind.
—Blacky the Crow.

Straight over to the dear Old Briarpatch flew Blacky the Crow. Peter Rabbit saw him coming. "Here comes that black mischief-maker," said Peter to little Mrs. Peter. "Better keep the children out of sight, my dear. Not that he is likely to harm one of them, but the less he knows about our affairs the better."

Blacky perched in the top of the tallest tree in the dear Old Briarpatch. It wasn't tall at all, for there were only young trees there. "Good morning, Peter," said Blacky, for he saw Peter at once. You see he knew just where to look for him.

"Good morning," replied Peter none too pleasantly.

"I hope you and all your family are well," continued Blacky, all the time peering down among the bushes and brambles for little Mrs. Peter and the children he knew were there somewhere.

"They are quite well, and you know I am always well," replied Peter trying to speak politely.

"Have you heard anything from that lost youngster of yours?" asked Blacky.

Peter was tempted to tell an untruth. He didn't want Blacky the Crow to know anything more than necessary about his affairs for he didn't trust Blacky. So he was tempted to tell an untruth. But he didn't. No, sir, he didn't. He was too honest for that.

"I haven't heard anything from him, but I've heard of him," said Peter. Blacky the Crow was surprissd and a little disappointed. He had counted on telling Peter the news of where his lost little son was and now it looked as if he were too late. "Oh!" said Blacky. "Then I guess I have flown away over here for nothing."

Peter sat up a little straighter and his long ears stood up a little straighter and into his eyes crept a look of eagerness and anxiety. Blacky didn't miss one of these things. "He doesn't know!" chuckled Blacky to himself, although he took the greatest care to keep his face grave. "He doesn't know!"

"What do you mean? Have you seen him? Is he alive?" asked Peter, and the questions fairly tumbled over each other.

"I thought you said you had heard of him," retorted Blacky in the most provoking way.

"So I have. So I have," replied Peter. "He was over in the old stone wall. Striped Chipmunk saw him there and looked after him."

Peter was just on the edge of telling Blacky about Farmer Brown's boy, but thought better of it. It wasn't necessary. If Blacky should learn that the news would soon be all over the Green Meadows and through the Green Forest. So Peter held his tongue.

"Is he there in the old stone wall now" asked Blacky.

Once more Peter was tempted. He was tempted to tell an untruth. But he didn't. "I—I—I don't think so," he stammered. "The truth is I don't know just where he is."

Blacky saw just how worried Peter was. He was really sorry for Peter, and he decided right then and there not to tease him as he had intended to. He leaned down toward Peter. "I know where he is, Peter," he said kindly. "I know just where he is. In fact I saw him only a few minutes ago and he is quite well and safe. He is up in Farmer Brown's hen yard."

The next story: "Peter Visits His Runaway Son."

"I hope you and all your family are well," continued Blacky.

ADVICE.

There is only one golf lesson more important than how to play out of a bunker—viz., How Not to Play Into a Bunker.

You need some luck to run down a long putt. But all the luck in the game won't help you if the ball stops short of the hole.

In cursing out a slice, a hook or whatever happens, remember that the golf ball goes exactly where you send it.

(Copyright.)

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

"Will you please explain," says a correspondent, "the difference between going to see a 'show,' and going to see a 'play.'? I resent the idea that a play appeals to only one sense—just the fond eye—although, of course, moving pictures and circuses and pageants and musical comedies may do so, altogether too often."

According to the Standard Dictionary, the correspondent is justified in objecting to the use of "show" instead of "play." The Dictionary says, in defining "show": "That which is shown or exhibited; specifically, a public spectacle or exhibition, as a pageant or a play; not usually of petty exhibitions, except as slang or in special usage; as, a travelling show."

Note that the word "show," when used instead of play, is considered an example of slang, and slang is not good English. The difficulty in avoiding slang lies in knowing what is slang and what is not.

GIVE HIM TIME.

HEALTH TALKS

By JOHN B. HUBER, A.M., M.D.

THE GOOD OF ALL.

I recently observed how much the public sanitation and the communal health could be furthered. There have been communities in which a single perverse, wrong-headed member of the body politic might keep the whole community pestilent. Let us reason with such a one in a brotherly spirit; and if he just won't see the point let us be disagreeable to him in every way we can think of until he sees the light and acts accordingly. Perhaps we will have to go to law with him. (Maintaining a nuisance is, by the way, in most places, a misdemeanor punishable by law.)

And they do say there are localities where the health authorities themselves ought to be jacked up. Well, if they won't enforce the law to the jeopardy of the lives of our families, if they won't attend to so vital a matter as the public health, pound them until they do; or get rid of them and put into their places men who have the public interests at heart.

Work up the psychology of advertising as applied to civic cleanliness. Get the women's clubs interested; then you'll see something doing. Get boards of trade, farmers' leagues and teachers' institutes busy. Engage lecturers to show their horrendous lantern slides. Get the clergy to preach sermons on the cleanliness that oftentimes leads straight to godliness. Get placards put in store windows and posters nailed to fences. Above all corral the press. The average citizen gets all kinds of circulars in every mail, asking him to vote for Jones; to try Brown's skeeter-scoot; to help support homes maintained by maiden ladies for cats, so that those wicked vivisectors may not hurt their felines under the base pretense of benefiting mankind. Most of this literature, no matter how deserving of consideration, is like to be chucked into the waste basket unread, and unappreciated. But should the citizen come upon the same material in the columns of his morning newspaper he will digest it with all due interest and respect. So buttonhole the puisant Editor and get him to print all the public health stuff the traffic will bear.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Neuralgia and Neuritis.

What is the difference between neuralgia and neuritis? Does a damp climate aggravate the latter?

Answer.—Neuralgia is a pain in a nerve; it is the cry of the nerve for better blood to nourish it and the parts of the body it serves. Neuritis is an inflammation of a nerve, often accompanied by destruction of the tissue of the nerve involved. A damp climate is bad for both. But one should not on that account change one's home unless the condition is very severe. Better get the general condition of the body bettered so that the nerves may be restored to their natural tone; then they with the rest of the body should be able to endure pretty much any fairly healthy climate.

All inquiries addressed to Dr. Huber in care of the "Health Talks" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

HOME ECONOMICS

By Mrs. Elizabeth Kent

(Copyright, 1920, by the Metropolitan Newspaper Service.)

LEFTOVER FOOD.

The use of left-overs is a very important part of household economy, and should be considered as carefully as any other task. Food from the table should not be put away in good china, that is sure to mean chipped and broken dishes sooner or later. It also means loss of space. In the refrigerator or food cupboard, and general laxness in using the left-overs.

It is wise to have a set of enamel plates and bowls with covers to use for this purpose. Glass jars, and empty marmalade jars can be conveniently used for certain odds and ends. Covers are really essential, for cleanliness, and also for keeping foods of strong odor from affecting others which obsorb odors.

To put away cake, wrap it up in waxed paper, or a clean cheesecloth square, and store it in a thin cake box, which must be cleaned and aired often. Never throw back broken pieces into the cake box to become dry and unsightly. If they are fit for serving put them neatly on a plate, and cover them with paper or a napkin. If not put them into your sweet box for crumbs, to use in puddings. If almonds, cookies, or candy are left carelessly about they soon disappear; if they are put away carefully they help out at another meal. Have strong pasteboard boxes in convenient places for such things.

Cheese should be kept in a receptacle of glass or porcelain which is covered but not sealed. It should be wrapped in cheesecloth.

Milk needs the greatest care, and scalded fruit jars are the best containers for milk, because they are easily kept antiseptically clean, covered, and on the ice.

Potatoes should be cooled before being covered, but should not be left uncovered to dry out. They keep best in covered bowls in a cool place.

The Agreement of Efficiency and Religion

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Did you ever notice how Efficiency and Religion agree?

For instance:

There are 800 texts in the Bible that tell us to rejoice and be glad. And everybody knows that cheerful folks are much more efficient in gettin along with people and in getting things done than those who are grouchy.

The Bible says "Thou shalt not steal." And stealing is the quickest known way to lose a job or disrupt an organization.

The Bible threatens all liars with the wrath to come. And the whole vast fabric of modern business is built upon human dependableness. Nothing blights a man's prospects as effectively in the business world as a reputation for not keeping his word.

The Bible is for monogamy. And looseness in the relations of men and women has spoiled more prospects, smashed more profitable deals, and made more bitter enemies than any other one cause.

Religion prescribes kindness and forgiveness. It says to "turn the other cheek." And there is not any successful business man who has not forgotten and forgiven a hundred times more offences than he has repaid in kind. No man of affairs is widely efficient unless he does business right along with people who, one way or another, have done him wrong.

It is not only pious to keep the Golden Rule; it is good sense. The Golden Rule is the only rule that pays in the long run. The boss who treats his workmen as he would be done by gets more work out of them and less trouble. The wage-earner who can put himself in his employer's place and act accordingly is the one who is treated with the most consideration, and is most likely to get a raise in pay. The company that honestly looks after the welfare of its laborers adds from ten to twenty per cent to its profits.

Love is not a fancy Sunday School product. It is used on the street. The men of energy, enterprise, and success talk about their friends, and are always helping and being helped, it is the bums, down-and-outers, failures, and no-goods that specialize in hates.

Self-sacrifice is not entirely for Sabbath consumption. The merchant, the politician, the mother, the clerk, and the hired girl, if they are making a go of it, doing well, and are prosperous, are doing hundreds of acts of self-sacrifice every week. They may not admit it, and their enemies may deny it, but watch 'em, and you'll see. The fact is that nobody can get along smoothly without continuous self-sacrifice. We all do what we hate, give of what we want to keep, and smile when we don't feel like it, for the sake of others. If we don't, we lose out, and we know it.

Some day a prophet will arise who will discover that religion is not anything woozy and strange after all; it is simply Common Sense and Efficiency set to music.

WRANGEL SAYS CAN SMASH SOVIETS IF SMALL STATES AID

South Russian Leader Wants Battle Lines from Baltic to Black Sea

OUTLINES PLANS

Has Definite Proof That Russians are Tired of Bolshevism

SEBASTOPOL, Russia, Sept. 5.—(Via Constantinople, Sept. 13.)—(By Constantine Brown. Copyright). — "The days of Bolshevism are counted, provided the world decided to act," said Gen. Peter Wrangel in a special interview which he granted me today. "If I am able to some to an understanding with the Poles and Ukrainians about forming a continual battle from the Baltic to the Black Sea thus securing my left wing, I shall be able to take the offensive in the Don and Kuban regions where the population has proved anti-Bolshevist and cut off Moscow from its main source of coal and grain supplies. Other military efforts will be unnecessary once these regions are occupied. With the Bolsheviki unable to communicate with the outside world the Red Regime is bound to collapse in the course of the winter.

TIRED OF BOLSHEVISM.

"Once Bolshevism is defeated, I intend to call a National Assembly to let the Russian people decide upon the form of Government they prefer. I have definite proof that the Russians are tired of the Bolsheviki but are unable to rise against the military machinery which is entirely in the hands of Trotzky. In the course of the recent fighting, all the prisoners my army had taken were used successfully against their former comrades in the Red ranks As a special reserve they fought enthusiastically against the Bolsheviki. After the last incursion into Kuban when we were compelled to withdraw, all the men, able to carry arms, accompanied my troops back to Crimea.

NEED OUTSIDE AID.

"Everybody is sick and tired of Bolshevism but nothing can be done so long as we get no aid from the outside. So long as every unwearied border country fights independently and without cohesion, nothing serious can be accomplished against the Bolshevik."

General Wrangel's army is now recovering from twenty-five days of violent fighting. The Bolshevik, realizing the danger on the Krangel front attacked in great strength while General Wrangel's forces were engaged in Kuban provinces. The initial successes were with the Bolsheviki who pressed the small army hard. The troops in Kuban were withdrawn immediately and these counter-attacked very successfully. Now the Bolshevik are again in their old line on the right bank of the Dneiper and owing to their heavy losses will be unable to start a new offensive for a long time.

LACK OF RESERVES.

Meanwhile General Wrangel does not dare to continue the offensive on account of the lack of reserves and sufficient ammunition and guns. The financial situation of the anti-Bolshevist leader is desperate. The country produces little with all the men at the front. The treasury is empty and the Government is printing billions of paper money which is worthless outside of Crimea. General Wrangel is unable to buy anything in Europe on account of lack of credit and ability to give security for repayment in case the anti-Bolshevist campaign is unsuccessful.

The recognition of the Wrangel regime by France has not affected the situation much as yet.

We Invite You
To see how really clean teeth shine
All statements approved by authorities

Your teeth are coated with a film. When fresh the film is viscous—you can feel it with your tongue. Later it forms a cloudy coat. It enters crevices and stays. It dims the teeth, and now we know that it causes most tooth troubles.

There is now a way to end it. Write us today and we will send you a 10-Day Tube. Get it and see what it does for your teeth. Learn what film removal means.

Old ways don't end it

Old ways of brushing do not end film. Millions of people know that. Teeth discolor and decay despite the daily care.

The reason lies in film. It clings and hides, and very few escape its damage.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing—some have grown alarming. And all because we knew no way to daily fight the film.

A new dental era

Dental science has for years studied to combat film. Ways have now been found to do it. Able authorities have proved those methods by many careful tests. Now leading dentists everywhere are urging their daily use.

These methods have been combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. Millions of people have come to employ it. You can see the results wherever you look—in glistening teeth, in teeth you envy, maybe.

A new dental era has begun, due to these discoveries. And these are benefits everyone should share. So you are urged to let this 10-Day Tube show what Pepsodent can do.

Brings five effects

Pepsodent brings five distinct effects. All are apparent, some are quick. A few days' use will leave no doubt about them. And a little book will tell you what each one means to you.

One ingredient is pepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to digest starch deposits that cling.

The alkalinity of the saliva is multiplied at once. This is to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

Every application brings the Pepsodent effects. Together they mean tooth protection like you never had before.

Watch these effects. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

Compare your teeth now with your teeth in ten days. Then judge this new-day method by what you see and feel and know.

Men who smoke
will see a quick, conspicuous change

Tobacco stains the film-coat on the teeth. So men who smoke will see a great change quickly. But millions of teeth have that same film-coat with a lesser stain.

Children's teeth are most affected by the film. Young teeth seem most subject to decay. Dentists advise that Pepsodent be daily applied from the time the first tooth appears. Otherwise, decay is almost certain.

Pepsodent brings to women whiter, prettier teeth. But that means cleaner teeth and safer. The luster comes from constant film removal and the high polish given to the teeth.

TARIFF COMMISSION BEGINS IMMENSE TASK OF CANADA-WIDE INQUIRY

Canadian Manufacturers and Canadian Council of Agriculture Present Their Views Regarding Necessity For and Methods of Revision of Present Tariff—Investigation to Cover Entire Dominion

WINNIPEG, September 14.—(Star Special).—Sir Henry Drayton, Hon. Gideon Robertson in the absence of Hon. S. F. Tolmie, through illness, began the work of investigation of the needs and advisability of tariff revision in Canada, sitting as a Cabinet Commission.

Hon. Mr. Tolmie will be replaced, at the session in Calgary, by the Hon. J. A. Calder.

Among the organizations presenting their cases before the commissioners today were the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and Canadian Council of Agriculture. Both these bodies in very moderate language laid their views before the Commission and urged revision and alteration along their respective viewpoints.

Up to the present Labor has made no move to press its opinions before the investigators.

The commissioners have full powers to examine witnesses but representatives before them have no such rights. It is possible that where reductions or removals from the tariff list are requested the Board will ask for alternative methods of raising revenue.

ORGANIZED FARMERS THROUGH SECRETARY LAMBERT PRESENT THEIR CASE IN FULL TO TARIFF BOARD

The case of the organized farmers of Canada for a tariff on a "strictly revenue basis" was presented by the Canadian Council of Agriculture.

N. P. Lambert, secretary of the Council and spokesman for the body, set out their case as follows:

The Canadian Council of Agriculture is made up of the executive heads of six provincial associations of organized farmers, and of the executive heads of four of their commercial companies. It is, in short, the federal organization of the organized farmers of Canada, and its business is of a two-fold character.

First, the Canadian Council of Agriculture carries on an educational work, which aims to cultivate amongst its members an intimacy with the social, economic and political problems affecting the Dominion as a whole.

Secondly, the Canadian Council of Agriculture endeavors to attend in a concrete way to the commercial interests and material welfare of the agricultural industry, by dealing from time to time with such matters as costs of transportation, banking facilities, grain marketing, and the customs tariff. It is in this second capacity of attending to the practical business interests of its constituency that the Council of Agriculture is represented before you today.

PROPOSALS FORMERLY ISSUED.

Four years ago the Canadian Council of Agriculture issued a series of proposals for economics and fiscal reform embodied in a document which became known as the farmers' platform. The material contained in that platform, however, was not created by the members of the Council or Agriculture four years ago. It represented, rather, resolutions which had been unanimously approved year after year for ten years by the annual convention of the Grain Growers' Associations in these western provinces, and also latterly by the United Farmers of Ontario.

AGRICULTURE BASIC INDUSTRY.

Further, it may be truthfully said with regard to the intent of the organized farmers in issuing their platform that the opinion has been strongly held by them for years that agriculture is Canada's basic industry, has not been justly considered and dealt with in much of the federal legislation of this country during the past years.

The sequel to the substantial changes which the organized farmers recommend in the present tariff policy of this country, may be seen in the forms of taxation which are proposed as a substitute for a large portion of the customs duties. We recognize that the Federal treasury must have its income in the form of national revenue in order that the greatly increased financial obligations of the past six years should be borne successfully. There is probably no question before Canada of greater importance in every respect than that of taxation. In the past large volumes of borrowed capital have tended to lull the senses of the Canadian people with regard to their ultimate obligation in the form of taxes. Unfortunately, little advantage was taken of the war period by the Federal administration to awaken our people to a full appreciation of the word "taxation." For that reason, the work which lies before the Federal Department of Finance from now on, is rendered all the more difficult, but all the more necessary on that account. One of the very first things that should be done under the auspices of the Federal Government is to call into conference the Treasurers of every Province and of every large municipality in the Dominion. That conference should endeavor to divide fields of taxation so that there would be the least possible over-lapping, and therefore as equitable a division as possible in the field of taxation between the Dominion, the Provinces and the Municipalities. Political difficulties might seem to threaten the success of such a conference, but the very great and very urgent national need of bringing every part of the Dominion into co-operation in the problem of adopting a fair and just system of taxation is of such paramount importance that paltry considerations of a partisan political character should be held up to the public contempt which they deserve.

THE TAXATION PROPOSED.

The farmers' platform recommends as sources of revenue, the graduated personal income tax, the graduated inheritance tax on large estates, the graduated income tax on the profits of corporations and a direct tax on all unimproved values of land, including all natural resources.

The direct tax on personal incomes, together with the income tax on profits, at least, should be levied by the Dominion Government, and it is here that we wish to lay strong emphasis. The administration of the Federal income tax in this country has not been efficient since it was introduced as a new feature of Federal taxation some five years ago. The rate of income taxes compares favorably with that of other countries of a character similar to Canada, but there is every evidence that these taxes have not been applied or collected in anything like the amount that should be possible. Very little has been done by the Federal department of Finance in the way of instructing and educating the tax-payers of Canada in the adoption of an entirely new principle of taxation. During the first four years of the Federal income tax, inadequate forms for returns were sent out to the rural districts, with the result that it is not infrequent to hear charges levelled against the Canadian farmer to the effect that he has not paid his full share of the income tax.

The farmers of this country, especially those who are represented through the United Farmers' organizations, are strongly in favor of the direct method of collecting taxes, as opposed to the indirect system represented in the customs tariff. The Canadian Council of Agriculture made special suggestions to Government representatives to have the income tax forms for farmers elaborated and itemized in such a way that the farmer would have a clearer idea of what returns to make than it was possible to give on the bare, skeletonized document which was issued from the Government Department.

SHOULD YIELD MILLIONS.

It is not unfair to say that the income tax, if thoroughly and forcefully applied in this country, ought to yield a revenue of at least 200 million dollars per annum at the present time. As has already been said, it is not the desire of those who are represented by the farmers' platform, to bring about any immediate drastic changes in the customs tariff or the fiscal policy of this country which would endanger the business interests of the country as a whole, but it is submitted with all sincerity and earnestness that it is possible to so establish a national policy for this country that it will rest upon the principle of direct taxation as adopted in the methods here suggested, rather than upon the principle of tariff protection. By reducing the tariff immediately and providing for the reduction in revenue which might follow by a more rigid enforcement of the income taxes, the Federal Government of Canada would have taken the first step towards adopting the recommendations which are put forth by the organized farmers of Canada through the Canadian Council of Agriculture.

C. M. A. PRESENTS CASE.

The statement of the Canadian manufacturers' views on tariff needs first points out that, according to the Dominion Census, 700,000 people are employed in Canadian factories; that, including families and dependents, the factories support 2,000,000 Canadians; that 80 per cent of the total annual produce of Canadian farms is consumed in Canada; that business and professional men receive part of the benefits of industrial production, and that consequently, there is scarcely a family in Canada, directly or indirectly, which is not affected by industrial conditions. The position taken by the association is defined in part as follows:

As the Canadian Customs Tariff has not been revised since 1907, revision is now overdue. But all tariff revisions are governed by a guiding principle, and this guiding principle must be either the policy of protection or the policy of free trade. The term 'tariff for revenue' is misleading, because a tariff of even ten per cent on an article produced in Canada yields revenue, and also affords a small degree of incidental protection.

In presenting this statement, therefore, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association reaffirms its advocacy and support of the policy of adequate protection for Canadian industry (the policy which has been maintained since 1878 in Canada by all political parties that have held power.)

Moreover, the Association pledges its support to any measures which will hasten the adoption throughout the British Empire of substantial customs preferences for Empire products, corresponding to the preferences now provided in the Customs Tariff of Canada.

DEFINITION OF PROTECTION.

The objects of the protective system in Canada are outlined as follows:

1. To diminish, as far as possible, the importation of goods from foreign countries which can be produced at home.

2. To facilitate the importation of raw materials for manufacturing processes, which cannot be produced at home.

3. To encourage the exportation of Canadian goods as finished products.

4. To make Canada self-contained by developing and encouraging within her boundaries all legitimate activities that will give occupation to Canadian citizens.

Support of the protective principle should not be confused with advocacy of a high tariff, says the statement. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association has never advocated a high tariff; and does not advocate a high tariff now; but it is a conservative statement of fact to say that the Canadian customs tariff as it stands today is not a high tariff, and that in comparison with tariffs of other countries it is very moderate.

During the year ending March 31st, 1920, the average rate of duty on all dutiable importations, was 22 1-2 per cent.

"The average rate of duty on all importations, free and dutiable, after deducting the customs war tariff collections, was 14.66 per cent."

OTHER NATIONS NOT REDUCING.

Tariff protection has been increased or maintained at previous rates in the following countries since the war: France, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Spain, Balkan countries, Japan, Argentina, Brazil, Bolivia, Chili, Ecuador, Paraguay, Peru, Uruguay, Venezuela, United States and Australia.

It is argued that the fiscal policy of Canada must be guided by the present world tendency towards increased tariffs and that if the Canadian customs tariff were removed while other countries maintain and strengthen their tariffs, Canadian markets would be filled with the overflow goods from protected foreign countries, while Canadian goods would be largely shut out of foreign markets. The result would be that the home market of Canadian factories would be so reduced that Canadian productive costs would be raised above a competitive basis, and that, consequently, many Canadian factories would have to close.

GROWTH UNDER PROTECTION.

The following instances of growth in various basic industries are given to prove that Canada has made great progress since the protective system was inaugurated in 1878: Total trade, $140,000,000 in 1879, to $2,350,000,000 in 1920; agricultural production, from $365,000,000 in 1900, to $1,975,000,000 in 1919; national output of wheat from 16,000,000 bushels in 1870, to 193,000,000 bushels in 1919; value of manufactured products from $309,000,000 in 1881 to $3,000,000,000 in 1917; forest production from $39,000,000 in 1881, to $140,000,000 in 1919; mineral production from $14,000,000 in 1889 to $173,000,000 in 1919; fishery production from $13,000,000 in 1879, to $60,000,000 in 1918; bank deposits from $71,000,000 in 1878, to $1,841,000,000 in 1919; life insurance in force from $54,000,000 in 1878, to $2,187,000,000 in 1919; fire insurance in force from $408,000,000 in 1878, to $4,904,000,000 in 1919; miles of railways from 7,484 in 1879, to 38,890 in 1919; railway earnings from $20,000,000 in 1879, to $380,000,000 in 1919.

It is argued that as a result of the protective tariff, 600 branches of United States' factories have been established in Canada. These factories employ about 87,000 people and represent invested capital of about $400,000,000. British capital invested in Canada is about $2,000,000,000.

MEET FREE TRADE PLEA.

In reply to the free trade argument that the home market is of little use to farmers on the ground that they sell in an open market, where prices are fixed by international competition, and are forced to buy in a closed market, statistics are given to show that over 80 per cent of farm produce is consumed in Canada.

It is pointed out that the home market under normal conditions is a constant market, whereas the foreign market is uncertain, because it may be lost entirely through war, or greatly restricted by unfriendly legislation or economic causes. Reference is made to the great change which is taking place in agricultural conditions.

Statistics are quoted showing the following increases between 1911 and 1916 in the value of farm produce in the Prairie Provinces Horses, 54 per cent; cattle, 53 per cent; sheep, 73 per cent; swine, 91 per cent; poultry, 23 per cent.

WESTERN INDUSTRIAL GROWTH.

The growth of industry in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, is also extraordinary. In 1900 the value of goods manufactured in these three provinces was a negligible quantity. For the present year a very conservative estimate would place the value of the goods manufactured in the three Prairie Provinces at $300,000,000. The industries which have made the greatest strides are milling, packing, steel and iron, clothing, textiles, building and paper.

FARM VALUES GOING UP.

The average value of occupied farm lands in Canada increased from $38 per acre in 1910, to $52 per acre in 1919. In 1917 the average capital per farm was $9,356. In 1911 the rural population of Canada was 54.47 per cent of the total population. This is a marked contrast to Great Britain where the rural population was 49.8 per cent of the whole when free trade was adopted in 1846, and had fallen to 21.9 per cent in 1913.

The statement then draws attention to an unfair method of attacking manufacturers, and through them, the protective system, through the selection of the few who have enjoyed marked prosperity as examples of the whole body.

The statement refers to the Budget speech of the Finance Minister, estimating the country's balance sheet last year as follows:

Estimated expenditure (including capital outlays)	$549,649,428 00
Estimated Revenue . .	381,000,000 00
Estimated deficit	$168,649,428 00

It is argued that if free trade is adopted and the customs revenue which is estimated at $170,000,000 is lost, the deficit will be $335,649,428.

ON AMERICAN COMPETITION.

It is pointed out that last year we bought from the United States goods to the value of $802,000,000, while the United States bought from Canada goods to the value of $464,000,000. Last year each inhabitant of the United States bought on the average $4.41 worth of Canadian goods, while each Canadian bought $100.26 worth of United States goods. Moreover, Canadian purchases in the United States were mostly manufactured goods, while American purchases in Canada were chiefly raw materials. This is the situation with a Canadian tariff. What would it be if the tariff were abolished?

In comparing the advantages of United States manufacturers over Canadian manufacturers, the statement argues that the United States has maintained a protective tariff for 131 years, Canada for 42 years; that the United States has a more highly organized industrial system, supported by greater wealth; that United States manufacturers are assured their home market of 105,000,000 people, guaranteeing a large output and their ability to specialize, while the Canadian home market of 8,000,000 has already been seriously invaded; that the United States has comparatively a greater labor supply; that were it not for the tariff United States manufacturers, during periods of over production, could flood Canadian markets until many Canadian manufacturers were driven out of business, and then, having secured control of the Canadian markets, could charge what prices they liked.

THE CONCLUSIONS REACHED.

The statement concludes as follows: "In the course of this statement an effort has been made to show that manufacturing in Canada is inseparably connected with other industries; that two million wage earners and dependents secure their living through manufacturing, and that the most of the remainder of the population derive indirect benefits; that this country as a whole has made remarkable progress under the National Policy of protection; that, with the entire world swinging towards protection, Canada cannot relinquish it; that the revision of the tariff should be scientific and take into consideration the requirements of all classes, that a stable fiscal policy of protection with some assurance of permanence is a vital need; and, finally, that the aim of the fiscal policy, determined as a result of this enquiry, should be to advance Canada towards her destiny as a fully developed nation within the British Empire."

SAYS TWO HUNGER-STRIKERS INNOCENT

Hold Special Court at Cork in Hennessy and Murphy Cases

CORK, Sept. 14.—A special court of inquiry was held here yesterday to hear evidence in behalf of the hunger strikers now in Cork jail, which Harold Barry, former High Sheriff of Cork had advised Premier Lloyd George he could introduce evidence to prove the innocence of at least two men—Sean Hennessy and Joseph Murphy.

President Nolan of Ballingarry College where Hennesy was a student, is expected here to testify for Hennessy. Evidence was given tending to contradict the Government's accusation that Murphy had in his possession a live bomb when he was arrested on July 15, but the lawyer for the defence said that he had not had sufficient time to secure witnesses to contravert the additional charge that Murphy also had in his possession seditious documents. The elder Murphy, however, denied that his son had any such documents when searched by the military.

ADJOURN INQUIRY

The inquiry was adjourned after a two hour sitting to await the arrival in Cork of various witnesses. Callaghan O'Herlihy, a student, testified in behalf of Hennessy, but a promised affidavit from another student witness, a friend of Hennessy, was not available, as he refused to go on with it when he learned that Barry intended to present it to the commission.

On behalf of Murphy his father testified that the bomb in question had been given to his son at the Aghda airdrome and that he had brought it home as a souvenir.

Frank Merritt, a demobilized British soldier testified that it was he who gave Murphy the practice shell, minus the detonator, which Murphy had picked up at the Aghda airdrome in 1916. A bomb introduced by the court martial prosecutor as the one found in Murphy's possession was declared by both Merritt and the elder Murphy not to be the souvenir bomb given to Joseph by Merritt and taken by the military in the raid on the Murphy house.

FARMERS ADVISED NOT TO HOLD WHEAT

T. E. Merrett, Merchants Bank, Says Returns to Farmers Satisfactory

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14. — (Star Special).—T. E. Merrett, superintendent of branches and chief inspector of the Merchants Bank, has left the west for Montreal, after making a tour of the four provinces and addressing conventions of managers at six centres. Before leaving, Mr. Merrett said:

"It is particularly pleasing to observe the satisfactory returns the farmers are obtaining as a result of their perseverance. The yields average up pretty well, but our agricultural friends have still a good deal coming to them to equalize the rather ordinary returns of the past two or three years. The policy of the bank is to take care of the farmer, and it is our aim to see that his reasonable requirements are provided for. The inclination this year will be to hold wheat, and the expectation seems general that higher prices will obtain later on. The markets, however, have a way of moving in the opposite direction to that looked for by the majority, and speaking generally, it is usually the better part of wisdom to realize when the grain is ready for market. Those whose finances are in such shape as to enable them to hold their grain will require to decide for themselves, but the majority will be anxious to liquidate their indebtedness, and since many have been carried over for two or three years, this will be the most logical and natural course.

CANADA'S OPPORTUNITY IN MEAT PRODUCTION

World Still Suffering Acute Shortage, Says Commissioner

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Although the war has been over for nearly two years the problem of producing sufficient foodstuffs in the way of meats to meet the increasing demand is just as great as ever, according to a statement issued by H. S. Arkell, Dominion Live Stock Commissioner. Statistics go to prove, says this statement, that the world's live stock surplus is not keeping pace with requirements. A number of prominent exporting countries appear to have reached their maximum production while others are steadily reducing their exportable surplus owing to a greatly increased domestic consumption. In fact, a number of hitherto surplus producing countries are likely to become non-surplus producing.

"Canada," says the live stock commissioner, "has here an opportunity. The industry must, however, be specialized as it appears that in the civilized world cheap meats are a thing of the past; range conditions have almost disappeared, a higher quality of meat is being sought and in view of the comparatively high land values, a high standard of breeding and feading is imperative to further development."

ELECTION RUMORS IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Likely Held End of October or First Week in November

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 14.—Rumors are flying thick and fast through the province that there is to be a provincial election in New Brunswick the last week of October or the first week in November. Woodstock says it has reliable information that such a course is likely. Government leaders were here last night at a special council meeting but they refused to make any comment on the rumors other than to say that if anything like that was decided upon it would be announced in the regular manner.

SEARCH FOR LORD BARRINGTON'S HEIR

Nothing Heard of Elaine Barton for Years—Estate Now Waits

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. (Star Special) —Wanted, to know the whereabouts of Elaine Barton, who formerly lived at 218 Fulton street, then at Macon street, about eighteen years ago; mother's name, Celestine Barton. Reward for information leading to present address. B. M. E. Eagle, Bedford Branch.

Elaine Barton is the daughter of Celestine Elizabeth Miller, a Brooklyn woman, whom the notorious "Lord Barrington" married a number of years ago. Search is being made for the girl, who, according to Major J. E. Hastings-Seymour, an attorney, is the heiress to one of her father's estates in England.

Following the sentencing of her father to life imprisonment in St. Louis, in 1905, the mother obtained a situation with a family on Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, the girl at the time being adopted by the family of Ferdinand Danton, an artist. In 1908 Mr. Danton resigned his post as art instructor at Manhattan College, and is reported to have gone to Washington.

Neither is there any trace of the girl's mother. Elaine, if living, is twenty-eight years old. Her talent both for acting as for art, and her portrayal of a character in an amateur play drew the praise of Ellen Terry.

Mr. Danton, seeing some of her sketches, took an interest in the daughter. He gave instruction to the child, who was then thirteen years old, and convinced Mrs. Barton that Elaine should have an opportunity to develop her talent. The mother agreed to the adoption.

"I am instructed not to reveal the amount of Elaine's inheritance," said Major Hastings-Seymour, "but it will make her independent. It is one of the several estates that her father left in England."

"Lord Barrington" has been dead several years.

QUEENSLAND MAKES BIG BRITISH LOAN

Premier Theodore Credited with Announcing Negotiations

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(By Canadian Press Cable.) — The Government of Queensland, Australia, has negotiated a temporary loan with the Bank of England of one million pounds sterling, Premier Theodore states, according to a message to the Morning Post. It will probably be used to pay interest in London on current issues. Some readjustments and remissions of taxation are expected in the Federal budget and much additional revenue is accruing from the new tariff.

BRAVE GIRL DROWNED TRYING TO SAVE SISTER

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Eva Beattie, a Scottish immigrant girl, yesterday lost her life while attempting to rescue from the surf her younger sister, who had waded out beyond her depth. Guards at the temporary detention quarters at Hoffman Island, where the girls were staying because of crowded conditions at the Ellis Island immigration station, rescued the younger sister. The body of Eva, who wore hung around her neck a bag containing the funds which the two sisters brought to this country, has not been recovered.

LONDON, Sept. 14—George Francis William Henry Denison, third Earl of Londesborough, died yesterday at Lincoln.

The Earl of Londesborough was born in 1892 and succeeded his father in 1917. He was an extensive land owner in Lincolnshire. His heir is his brother, Captain Honorable Huge William Cecil Denison, who was born

FAIL IN EFFORT TO END STRIKE

Judge Mayer Refused to See Gompers Over B.R.T. Trouble

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (From Our Own Correspondent)—Governor Alfred E. Smith and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, failed yesterday in what was obviously the final effort to negotiate a settlement of the Brooklyn car men's strike. Federal Judge Mayer, who, because of the receivership of the company's assets, has the final say on all matters affecting its finances, refused to grant an audience to the labor chief and informed the governor that his decision to have no dealings with the union remained unchanged.

After receiving this rebuff Mr. Gompers left for Washington, declaring that Judge Mayer's stand was "autocratic" rather than "judicial" and that he had been humiliated by the treatment he had received. He said that he had been desirous of making a suggestion of great public interest to Judge Mayer, but had not been permitted to do so.

With the breaking off of the attempt to renew negotiations the strike appears to have resolved itself into a struggle in which the company will continue its efforts to build up a new operating force, while the strikers will try to harass the B. R. T. by every means in their power, with the public in the role of the principal sufferer.

AGITATORS SCORED AT M'CURDY MEETING

TRURO, N.S., Sept. 14.—A meeting in the interest of Hon. F. B. McCurdy was held at Academy Hall last night. C. E. Bentley presided. The speakers were H. M. Mowat, M.P. for Parkdale, Ont.; Col. Hugh Clark, M.P. for North Bruce, Ont., and John Best, M.P. for Dufferin, Ont.

Mr. Mowat declared the National party was composed of the best elements of both old line parties. The late Union Government, he said, deserved the thanks of the people for it had served the people honestly and efficiently. Col. Hugh Clark said the Government had not discriminated against farmers, where there had been any discrimination it was in favor of farmers. He declared this a time for strong and stable Government and in closing said whatever you do don't let any fellow passengers rock the boat.

John Best, who is himself a farmer, declared that the United Farmers are not a real farmers' party, but only a so-called farmers' party. He flayed agitators who stirred up the farming population. They deplored the migration from the farms yet they did most to cause it by making the occupants of the farms dissatisfied. He was opposed to class Government and gave several examples of what had been done in Ontario.

OLDEST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA

Unique Services Marked 150th Anniversary of Truro Church

TRURO, N.S., Sept. 14. — (Star Special.)—This was a red letter day in the annals of Presbyterianism in Truro, and indeed in Canada, for it marked the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the first Presbyterian church, the oldest Presbyterian church in the Dominion. The anniversary services began at three o'clock yesterday afternoon and were continued till nearly six. Many eminent divines of the Presbyterian Church were on the platform, which was banked with flowers. On the pipe organ was hung a blue banner that had flown from a flag pole fifty years ago when the church celebrated its centennial, and again in 1886 when the Truro Presbytery celebrated its hundredth anniversary.

Rev. H. J. Fraser, pastor of St. Andrews' Church, Truro, presided, and the four principal speakers were Rev. C. McKinnon, D.D., principal of Pine Hill College, Halifax, who spoke on growth of Canadian Presbyterianism since 1879; Rev. Anderson Rogers, D.D., of Antigonish, who discussed the church of tomorrow; and Rev. John Pringle, D.D., of Sydney, whose subject was "Those who fought and those who died."

At the close of Dr. Pringle's address two honor rolls were unveiled. On them were inscribed the names of 188 members of the congregation who had taken part in the war, thirty-two of them having made the supreme sacrifice.

Last evening the new pastor of the church, Rev. John Mutch, of Toronto, was inducted.

A SOUTH AFRICAN'S IMPRESSIONS OF CANADA

Member of the Empire Press Party writes interestingly of what he saw on tour of the Dominion

The following article has been written for The Star by N. Levi, Editor of "Der Volkstein," of Pretoria, South Africa. Mr. Levi has just completed a tour of Canada as a member of the Empire Press party.

When we landed, I was not quite a stranger to Canada, although my foot had never been on its soil. I had often sold Canadian cheddar, and bought Canadian apples, to say nothing of the long, thin, neck of the Canadian lino I had fondled through the clicking watches of Hansard nights in the Transvaal capital. I had got near to Acadia in Zangwill's "The Master," where all men may read how people searched for Capt. Kidd's treasure—"and the deeper they dug, the bigger holes they found." I had learnt to admire not only Pierre and his People, but Jules of the Great Heart in Lawrence Mott. Something, too, of the stupendous north country had quickened my sluggish imagination, for Stefansson can write as well as march, and others have written of him.

Sydney was an epitome of it all. There we were hailed with the eager, personal welcome by the Canadian fellow-journalist. We felt the strong, eloquent grip of the Canadian hand. We saw the living fires at those live iron-works. We envied the intellect behind labor-saving devices, as well as the rewards paid to plain working men. We drank the iced water, but we also ate the candies and the side-dishes — a material earnest of your many-sided kindness to the strangers from across the seas.

From Jamaica we had come, from the Australasias, from the Cape of Storms and the Strip of Mummies, from Malta, Hong Kong and from the British Isles, of course. Sometimes (when the "bonds of blood" talked loudest) I felt like a fly in the ointment, (or shall I say like the fly in the amber?), wondering how the devil I got there! It is but a few years since the Boer people, whom my paper serves, acquiesced in the Union Jack. However, the other delegates treated the ugly, little duckling as if he had been from the same pond all the while; and Canadian friendship shines on the just and unjust alike, for which thanks be rendered, from Nova Scotia as far as Vancouver Island.

At Sydney we noticed that Canadians no longer dig merely for the pleasure of making big holes. That night, after having found a good home in "Grandmere" (how comforting the nomenclature of your railway carriages!) and sampled the finished product of your railway diners, I saw the Bras d'Or.

Heaven help me. I thought I had never in my life seen anything before! Just what it was I cannot say. Waters smiled tenderly; little, rocky promontories held out loving arms; masses of sombre green on the unfamiliar trees blended with the gentle melancholy of the falling shades; unseen voices spoke; all the glories of the palette were concentrated in that single, brilliant color of a sunset such as comes but seldom in a lifetime.

A new Continent stirred me. It clamored in tones so piercing that, for all their softness, they brooked no denial. My heart gave way before the onrush of that delicious pain. Ever since it has been yours. It is good for man to be alone, sometimes; glad I felt that, on my initiation into the solemn mysteries of Canada's great charm, I was left undisturbed until the night blotted out the unforgettable scene.

Who would attempt to describe, or even briefly to indicate, all that we have since enjoyed. The strength of your towns; the solid performance and bright promise of your farms; the delicate witchery of scenes such as we witnessed when those languid canoes deployed on the Waegwoltic.

We sensed the greedy passion of your Reversing Falls at St. John. We helped you, by the ever graceful hand of Lady Burnham, to reverence an idea in the land of Evangeline, while our thoughts went back to the poor fellows whom one could only figure as "pleurant le pays perdu." We stood amid laughing orchards and the pomp of kindly-disposed lieutenant-governors in stately Parliament buildings; sniffing the quaint fragrance of old Quebec; fighting all over again, with an eloquent colonel, those battles of the brave, old days. We worshipped in the power-houses of paper mills, lofty enough to be cathedrals. We looked the pigmies we are beside the powerful piles of wood that had swum their hundreds of miles through enchanting river scenery. We lunched off gorgeous salmon, performed social rites at many an afternoon tea, laid down the law, and listened at dozens of dainty dinners, to statistics of what you have to offer.

We even conferred a little at Ottawa. For, although in the title of this unrivalled Pic-Nic, all the emphasis is on the first word, and there is quite a fair amount of press, the Conference idea was not entirely swamped. No, no, no, as our Only Lady Delegate would say! In those fine Parliament buildings, that look almost too neat for the use of politicians, we spent three days, and part of an evening besides, settling the fate of empires and of composing-rooms. We very nearly asked for a penny a word premium on any press cables we condescended to hand in. We heard "Greater Britain" on Partnership. We abolished the other "ship" to which the censor forms the prefix. The mighty voice of your countryman, Sir Campbell Stuart, rang out. Newfoundland was almost too shy to speak, but Anzac had a fair innings. I wonder what passed through the mind of the stylish gentleman from Parsee-land. He said nothing, but no doubt he thought quite a lot.

Your Ministers came down to do us honor; your Opposition leader was exceeding fluent. He gave us advice, and severely has he been punished.

The manner of our closing scenes was something in the nature of anti-climax, but let that pass. Through it all, Lord Burnham took the self-denying part of the presiding genius of a British gathering, ever patient and with an eye ready to be caught by the humblest member—diligent in noting down amendments and helping us to the last.

* * *

We revelled in Montreal, the elegant. Did anyone say it was expensive? Many of us, poor folks who come from backward countries, would have been utterly ruined on such a tour at an early stage, if it had not been for the extent to which we have been taken care of. Be it known, despite a transparent conspiracy on the part of our brother scribblers, that we visitors are not all either owners or editors. Several of us have to work for a living. We are pleased that Canada is a land of a well-to-do democracy, that everybody here is well dressed and well fed. But your tariffs must often be a terror to unsuspecting visitors, and if you would be a tourist country to others than your American cousins, you will have to treat us gently on the exchange at least.

We were almost mute at Niagara. We hear a deal of English spoken, but the great American language was always with us, and one has recollections of listening to Robert Donald's discourse in French.

Mr. Southby showed us what can be done at a summer residence, and a forty-mile concrete road to Toronto filled us with amazement. The Queen City itself . . . . well, who would mention her charms in so small a compass? At the charming yacht club pavilion (where Sir Roderick of Reuter reminded you of your duty to Central Europe) there was not the soot of the Queen's sable locks.

* * *

The intensity of your social life was nowhere tasted so fully as on that good ship which carried us across majestic lakes. In all your huge hotels, and even in the smallest staterooms of your lake leviathans, a Band of Gideon leaves bibles. These are useful for a soothing return to Habakuk after a midnight on the waves. So that one gets to Port Arthur and more heat, after appreciating the huge locks and collapsible bridges with which you plot to bring the Atlantic to your inland waters.

The mountains bordering your lakes are splendid, and so are motor drives through dozens of miles of prairie wheatfields. But what has South Africa done to you that you should have attempted to bump the head off the Venerable chairman of our delegation?

* * *

In various dining-halls (and elsewhere) we listened to your music. I am not now thinking of your silver-tongued orators, many of whom were so modest, that I could barely understand half of what they said. It is your bands that make me state, quite truthfully, that never in the course of a chequered career have I ever listened to anything like it. If the States supplied you with the jazzes and the one-steps as well as with the instrumental combinations that produced them, then blessed be the States; But at the Laurier they once ventured on a Beethoven minuet, and the Edmonton dinner was rendered more suave by a little orchestra in which the saxophone had no part.

In my country we flatter ourselves that we know something about mosquitoes. It is flattery, pure and simple. Canada is superlative in the mosquito line. Your mosquitoes mean real business. They are at it all the time; so far from sticking to pools, they swarmed round me as I changed into a sweater at the observatry on Sulphur Mountain, 3,000 ft. above Banff.

Winnipeg is great, and greatly Slavonic. Everybody was most kind, and the new Parliament building is a cloak of many colors. At Regina we saw the Mounties pick up a handkerchief in passing.

At Calgary, Mr. Bennett was extraordinarily eloquent and refreshingly candid. The children who sang and danced for us turned out darlings. It is well that man is kept in check by the fear of the police, when kidnapping begins to enter his thoughts.

The Rockies were a revelation. Those stark, white masses, bordered dark below and blue above, overwhelmed me. A thousand pities that mountain fires obscured some views and thickened the air we breathed. Lake Louise is the place a mountaineer dreams of but seldom sees, and the drive to Lake Moraine on a heavy motor bus, an excruciating pleasure over such a narrow road, with awesome bends. But the Valley of Ten Peaks gives adequate reward.

Vancouver makes us, middle-aged men, ashamed of the many things we neglected to do in thirty-five (ahem) years of existence. The Capilano Limits are a delight for giants; the run to Victoria is a sheer joy. As for that city itself, and the home of the Butchart family, all of us were of one mind: excellent. In Victoria you will even find big bookshops and interesting antiques.

Almost a score of local inhabitants drank our toast at that dinner, and the mood might have been most cheerful.

We all enjoyed the first lap of the way back. As we reached the end of the Fraser Canyon, it was hard to believe that we were not in the South African desert. The Selkirks we missed both ways, but in the morning Mount Robson dazzled with its great whiteness, and Lucerne looked indeed a part of Switzerland. This part of the country appears to offer great variety to the ordinary, non-expert climber. The mountains are more hospitable than the long limestone semi-slopes near Banff, and so compensate in large measure for the absence of striking forms such as those of Mt. Temple and Cathedral Mountain.

At Jasper the two gorges (the Maligne and the Barbecue) were immensely enjoyed. That night the moon was on the waters and the greenish Northern light in the sky. The most touching day of our tour was at Edmonton when thousands of young throats cheered with such sincerity and spontaneity as no "tiger" can ever give. At Wainwright we somewhat astonished the kindly natives: Lady Newnes whistled two solos, and our two youngest men, Sir A. Holbrook and E. Woodhead, accompanied themselves on the piano. Sir Arthur, who is a mere septuagenarian, is our record dancer.

The finale still lies in the immediate future. We are to have interalia some more Winnipeg, with reminiscenses of our young Labor orator, who does not know what Bolsrevism is, but warns us solemnly against encouraging it by insufficient appreciation of him and his.

We have had the time of our lives. Our indebtedness to the Canadian Press (may I specially mention Lord Atholstan?) can never be repaid; there are other hosts, too numerous to mention. We shall always remember the speed of the Canadian automobile as it turns a corner; the liveliness and size of your newspapers; the imposing dimensions of all your undertakings; your unclouded days and unclouded brows; your elevating influences, in the enormous grain belt and less literally taken; the maple syrup of your welcome and the cream of your fellowship, which after all are but expressions of your community spirit. We forgive you your humorous illustrations. Amen.

None of us can ever be the same again, after having tasted of your delights, looked on at your enterprises. We are bound to take away something bigger in our compositions. We shall be the better for it. W shall always long to come back. We should be worse than ungrateful if we fail to invite you most heartily to our own countries.

We feel much more than we can express.

What can we say, but Thanks!

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrohea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep.

The Making of the Ideal Home

Sometimes one becomes possessed of the idea that the Ideal Home is not possible unless one can engage an expert versed in all the subtleties of colour-schemes and period styles. But this is quite wrong—for while it would be an advantage to be aided by an artist-expert, one can study the problems of colour and style oneself—always keeping in mind the omnipotence of simplicity—and achieve a home in accordance with one's requirements and individual tastes. We have a series of very practical books on Home-Furnishing and are ready at all times to bring them to the aid of our customers.

Nor need one spend much money in securing an Ideal Home. It can be done economically. For instance, in furnishing the Dining-Room, the graceful Louis XVI. Suite, exactly as illustrated, in solid oak, fumed, with solid leather slip-seats in the six chairs is excellent for the small Dining-Room. Yet is priced at only—$286.50

We have Suites at prices still lower, as well as elaborate period reproductions, priced up to $1345, in solid walnut and English brown mahogany.

Step-Savers in the Dining-Room

Tea Waggons are a real necessity in the Ideal Home. Thousands of steps do they save—endless trips from Dining-Room to kitchen. Let us show you the many different styles we have in stock—some with little cupboards underneath the removable trays, some with leaves to form regular tea-tables—each one captivating in its own way, noiselessly "tyred" with rubber—willing servants moving in any conceivable direction at the slightest touch. years ago an ulcer appeared on my ankle," writes Mrs. Jeffrey, of Methuen, Mass. "In spite of all the remedies I used, it spread to my knee, and developed into an open sore. I had treatment for twenty-five years, but only got temporary relief. The pain I suffered was terrible, and for years I was unable to leave the house.

"One day I saw in a newspaper an account of a bad ulcer having been relieved by Zam-Buk. Although I was skeptical, now, of anything relieving me—having tried so many remedies in vain—I decided to give Zam-Buk a trial. I applied the balm freely every day and to my delight the sore soon showed some improvement. Gradually the inflammation was drawn out, the pain was ended, and, after thirty years of suffering, I realized I was on the road to recovery. With perseverence, the awful sore was finally completely healed, and, although that was three years ago, there has not been the slightest trace of the ulcer returning."

Zam-Buk is the best remedy, also, for eczema, boils, pimples, blood-poisoning, piles, burns, scalds and cuts. All dealers, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 50c box, 3 for $1.25.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM SERIOUS

G.W.V.A. Secretary Claims Returned Men are Boycotted

"At a meeting of the Unemployment Service Bureau, which is to be held in Ottawa, Sept. 27, the increasingly serious problem of the returned man who is unable to obtain work will be discussed," announced Trooper Brown, provincial secretary of the G. W.V.A., this morning. "Numbers of men are constantly coming into the office asking for positions," he continued, "and with the approach of cold weather the situation is growing worse. The Government offices for procuring employment for soldiers closed this summer and the burden of a large portion of this work falls upon the G.W.V.A. We are glad to do it but we now find that we are out of touch with employers, and that the public is not supporting the soldier.

"With the decreasing of the staffs of several of our large industries the problem of unemployment is looming up and for obvious reasons many of the men out of work are returned soldiers," he continued. "This is particularly the case with a large number of the men who received a certain amount of vocational training from the Government, many of whom are unable to secure positions along the lines for which they were fitted. I have absolute proof that considerable amount of boycotting of the returned men is being carried on by foremen. In most cases employers are quite willing to give them a fair chance, but the foreman is often violently prejudiced against the newcomers and instead of wishing them success, takes a sort of pleasure in their downfall.

"Labor unions also contribute to the difficulty by the large entrance fees now required from new members," stated Trooper Brown. "I have nothing to say against labor unions, but some of them ask as much as $100 from those wishing to join, a prohibitive sum to a returned man with a family dependent upon him. I do not claim that the ex-soldier is better than any other man, nor do I think he should be given positions he isn't capable of filling, but I do think that he should be afforded at least equal opportunity with the man who remained at home." He told of an instance where an officer was a member of a firm before going overseas and on his return found his position filled by his subordinate who had remained at home, and on applying for his old situation was only offered a junior clerkship.

"We do not want any more grants," said Trooper Brown, "but we do want the Government to provide work for men who are willing and anxious for an opportunity to pick up and to earn a living for themselves and their families.

"The Government is spending money freely for many purposes and appropriations such as that for the Housing Scheme are lying idle when the most profitable use of funds would be in undertaking public works and giving the preference of employment to men who have seen service overseas. Seventy-five per cent of the men trained for Civil Service positions are not placed," stated Mr. Brown.

He then cited a case in point where an ex-soldier, who had obtained a diploma entitling him to a position had applied for a situation. Instead of either being placed or being refused, his hopes were kept up, when he was informed that he would have to fill out another paper before he would be given an opening. This was repeated several times adnd after three months had lapsed he was obliged to accept a position on the harbor, shovelling dirt. As he has been gassed, he is compelled to tie a handkerchief around his mouth while working and he frequently comes into the Khaki Club gasping for breath."

"I have a letter in hand from an official of the Canadian National Railways stating that there will be very little work on the railways this winter, and something will have to be done immediately if we are to prevent widespread suffering among ex-soldiers and their families."

VERDUN HOUSING SCHEME TO BEGIN

Council Tabled Two Letters from G.W.V.A. Branch

Verdun City Council met last night and carried out various business. Two letters received from the Verdun branch of the G.W.V.A. were quickly disposed of, the first, which called attention to the water supply of that city, being "laid on the table" by motion of Aldermen Rheaume and Crowder. This was considered rather a snap judgment, and caused discussion, but eventually was held by the casting vote of Ald. Allard, presiding in the absence of Mayor Leclair. The same treatment was meted out to their second letter, protesting against the decision of the council to refuse the loan of a vacant fire station for the use of a machine gun battalion in Verdun.

Verdun Housing Commission is about to commence business, and was given permission to use the City Hall Council Chambers as required, and to inform the public by advertisement that it is ready to handle applications for loans.

Several complaints were received from proprietors against valuations on their properties. It developed that the assessments had in no case been changed from last year. It was quoted that the Quebec Legislature had fixed the value of Montreal vacant farm lands at $300 and $500.

Ald. Lawton's position was the subject of enquiries, answered with the statement that Mayor Leclair, now absent from the city, is dealing with it.

OCCUPY NEW BUILDING.

In February next the Salada Tea Company will occupy the new building at the corner of St. Lawrence, Le Royer and St. Jean Baptiste streets, Montreal, the building at present occupied by Salada at St. Paul and St. Sulpice streets and erected by them eleven years ago, having for sometime been inadequate for their business. Other Salada warehouses are situated at Toronto and Boston.

COURT ACQUITTED CHINESE CLERK

A clerk in a Chinese grocery store, Charlie Sing, of 71 St. Urbain street, was acquitted yesterday afternoon when he appeared before Mr. Justice Monet and a jury in the Court of King's Bench, criminal division, on a charge of having attempted to murder four policemen on May 26 last. Sing's statement that he was actuated by fear when he fired four revolver shots over the heads of the four policemen in question, Savaria, Maloney, Dorasko and Tourville, was accepted by the jury.

Mr. Justice Monet complimented the jurors on their verdict.

D. A. Lafortune, K.C., represented the Crown. The defense was in the hands of R. L. Calder, and Rene Gauthier.

DEATH OF H. BERRY.

Henry Berry, vice-president and general-manager of the Canadian Asbestos Company, passed away at his late residence, 17 Seymour avenue, yesterday at the age of 54, after a long illness. The late Henry Seymour had been connected with the asbestos industry for many years, and was engaged in its manufacture when it was a comparatively unknown, and little used product. He was a member of the Board of Trade here and well known in large business circles. He was also a member of a Masonic Order. The late Mr. Berry is survived by his widow, formerly, Miss Olive Grout, of Grimsby, Ont., and three sons, John and Frank of this city and Robert C. of Ottawa.

COUNCIL FAVORS NORTHERN MARKET

Gives Census Proposal a Six Month's Hoist

The City Council went on record yesterday as favoring the establishment of a northern market, and as opposed to the proposal raised by Alderman Dixon to have a yearly census of the population of Montreal taken by the police. Ald. Dixon again reminded the council of his repeated interpellations as to the advisability of establishing a pension fund for civic employes and Ald. Desroches introduced a motion to require stricter observance of Sunday from certain tradesmen who at present keep their shops open on that day. This was laid on the table, along with Ald. Elie's motion dealing with the obnoxious odors from the abattoirs.

Discussing the market question, Mayor Martin said he was opposed to any enlargement of Bonsecours market. That would be too costly, as the Bonsecours was not a central market place. A further market was necessary in the north, east or west, where the bulk of the population was.

Ald. Sansregret was in favor of enlarging Bonsecours market and trying a northern market as an experiment. The motion in favor of the northern market was carried.

Ald. Dixon's motion for a police census was given six months' delay on a motion by Ald. O'Connell.

PRIZES GIVEN TO YOUNG COLLECTORS

At a meeting, at St. Luke's Hospital, 88 St. Denis street, on Saturday morning, the prizes offered to the children who had collected subscriptions for the "School Boys' Aid" were awarded. This subscription campaign was held in order to aid the Hospital's authorities to extend free medical treatment to needy school children with an eye, ear, throat, nose trouble or skin and teeth disease. Dr. F. A. Fleury announced the result of the collection as $4,598.

The special prize, a purse of $100 in gold, special gift from M. G. A. Beaulieu, a friend of the institution, was won by Miss Germaine Latulippe, a pupil of Lafontaine School. Four ten-dollar gold pieces were presented to the pupils who had collected the largest amount of subscriptions amongst the pupils of each district. The winners were: Lucette Giroux, for the Centre District; Carmen Fournier, East; Simon Charpentier, North, and Geraldine Leonard for the West District. In each class the pupil who had collected the largest amount in his school received a fountain pen, presented by the L. E. Waterman Co., Ltd. Many physicians and school directors were present at that meeting.

INCREASE TO COST 125 TO 350 PER CENT

Questionnaires distributed by R. W. Gould, secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, to members, to obtain exact information as to the effects of the proposed increased telephone rates of the Bell Telephone Company, have now been received, filled in with figures resulting from a week's actual record of telephone usage.

Mr. Gould has so far received about 400 replies from members of the C. M.A., and he states that as far as can be seen, the new rates fall much more heavily on large firms than on small, while the percentages of increased cost vary from 125 to 350 per cent. Several firms who sent in answers to these questionnaires, said Mr. Gould, stated that this being the slack season, the actual increases would be much larger than they had shown.

EXPLODING TINS CAUSED FIRE.

Fire did considerable damage to the premises of the Ideal Garment Company, on the third floor of 121 Bishop street, at 5:30 yesterday afternoon. Two tins of dry cleaning fluid exploded carrying the flames to the walls and racks. The firemen, under District Chief Gautier, were unable to ascertain the cause of the blaze but with two streams soon had it under control. Plaster was torn from the ceiling and all of the windows were broken. The lower floors suffered only slightly from the overflow of water.

THREE YEARS FOR BURGLARY

Judge Bazin sitting in chambers yesterday rendered the following sentences, the accused having pleaded guilty to the charges. Henri Menard, accused of kidnapping a minor, was sentenced to serve three months hard labor. Albert Charlebois charged with theft of tools from the Cable and Tool Company received 12 months at Bordeaux and Adelard Gilletto charged with burglary was sentenced to 3 years at St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary.

KNOCKED DOWN AND ROBBED

A man giving the name of Armand Beaupre has complained to the police department that on Saturday night he was knocked down on St. Catherine street near the corner of St. Denis and robbed of $17 in cash and a gold watch and chain. The police are investigating.

McGILL TO HAVE GERMAN TROPHIES

Guns Will Be Placed in the Molson Stadium

Two German guns of the 77 centimetre Austrian type, bearing marks of heavy action, received at McGill University yesterday from the Government committee at Ottawa, will be placed in the Percival Molson Stadium on Pine avenue, where they will stand as a fitting memento of the effort of Canada's young manhood in the past war. Both guns carry traces of camouflage nearly obliterated by time and weather and one bears the announcement in white paint on the breech lock that it was won by the 87th Regiment Grenadier Guards. The most probable location for these guns in the Stadium is on a stone flag pole base which it is proposed to erect in memory of the members of the 7th Canadian Siege Battery who fell in action.

In the School of Physical Education the appointment of F. M. Van Wagner, B.P.E., of New York, as assistant to Dr. A. S. Lamb, director of the school, has been announced. Mr. Van Wagner is an honor graduate of the Y. M. C. A. College of Physical Education at Springfield. He is of Pennsylvania Dutch descent and served overseas with the 1st Pioneer Infantry Battalion of the American Expeditionary Force.

A residence for the women students of the school has been established at 318 Sherbrooke street west. The headquarters of the school will be moved from the east wing of the Arts building to the west, where they will be situated near the gymnasium which is being fitted up in the Molson Hall.

ASK CLEMENCY FOR WOMAN MURDERER

A deputation from the Canadian Prisoners' Welfare Association waited yesterday upon the Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, at the Government rooms in the post office to ask for the commutation of the death sentence upon Marie Anne Houde (Mme. Gagnon) of Quebec. The deputation was headed by Robert Bickerdike, who was supported by A. B. Allan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fyfe, Mr. and Mrs. John Kidman. The considerations urged upon the Minister were the doubt as to the sanity or normal condition of the woman and also the point of sex, especially after recent experience in motherhood. The Minister of Justice intimated that the case will be brought before the council in a few days, whereupon Robert Bickerdike stated that a large number of signed petitions would be forwarded to the Department of Justice praying for clemency.

METAGAMA PILOT TELLS HIS STORY

Liner's Pilot Says "Wisley" at Anchor, Blameless—Metagama Pulled Off

What happened when the liner Metagama ran ashore on the Ile Bouchard after passing the anchored freighter "Wisley" will form one of the most interesting and complex of the many inquiries which have come before the Dominion Wreck Commissioners' court.

Statements by competent parties on both sides regarding the accident are already conflicting, but it can now be said that the liner Metagama and the freighter Wisley touched each other before clearing in the early morning of Sunday last.

This brings the accident into the marine category known as "collision."

The pilot of the Metagama, Wilbrod Gauthier, when interviewed by The Star today stated frankly that the Canada Steamships Line freighter Wisley was not to blame, as far as he knew. "The Wisley was at anchor," he said, "and we tried to clean the Metagama under her stern. By doing so we ran aground. It was not when we passed her that we collided. It was after the Metagama had grounded that the stern of the Wisley rubbed against the side of the Metagama. In my opinion the accident was unavoidable under the circumstances, but it can well be seen that the Wisley, at anchor in the fog, was in noways to blame."

METAGAMA IS OFF.

The arrival of the Government wrecking steamers Lord Strathcona and Gopher yesterday to the assistance of the stranded Metagama had the desired effect. The Metagama was pulled off at 6 p.m. last evening and three hours later was in dry dock where she is being examined for damages.

According to statements made by the crew of the Wisley, it is probable that evidence in the inquiry which is to be opened shortly, will show that both vessels anchored prior to the accident and then got under way again, as the fog cleared, temporarily. The anchorage of the Wisley is one that has been used frequently this season and was used last week by the liner Hamarima. The accident happened during a sudden rain fall combined with fog and the navigation conditions were extremely difficult at the moment.

Officers on the Wisley today were rather doubtful as to whether the two vessels had touched or not. Some said the vessels had collided and others said they had not. The damage to the Wisley is not noticeable. She is now lying at Windmill Point loading coal for Botswood in the lower gulf.

INQUIRY INTO SHIP STRANDING

Considerable surprise was evinced at the Dominion Wreck Commissioner's court yesterday when the inquiry was opened into the stranding of the steamer J. A. McKee. This vessel was grounded some weeks ago in the lower gulf near the mouth of the Saguenay.

The evidence of the captain and the pilot admitted that no bearings or soundings had been taken although the vessel was running into a fog and was being piloted through a channel which is regularly used.

The ship, stated Pilot Lamontagne, was going at full speed owing to the strong current at this point. It was also on account of the current that he decided not to another fearing that the anchor cable would not hold.

The ship was ashore for two days and was pulled off under the supervision of Captain Tedford, Marine Superintendent of the C.G.M.M.

Thomas Robb on behalf of the Shipping Federation brought to the notice of the court the responsibility of the pilot in this accident, stating that the master Captain Lintlop had surrendered his vessel to a qualified pilot and this had been the result.

Captain Demers, Dominion Wreck Commissioner, made the rejoinder that nevertheless the master of the ship was responsible for his ship at all times especially when a fog is coming up. He was surprised that no bearings or soundings had been taken Judgment will be handed down later.

CUSTOMS OFFICER WENT TO METAGAMA

In order to facilitate the work of the customs officials in Montreal Chas. E. Killoran, assistant Tide Surveyor of Customs, acting under the instructions of A. E. Drew, Tide Surveyor, travelled down to the Metagama on Sunday afternoon, together with J. Drysdale, chief of the customs officers handling the C.P.O.S. Liverpool line and a staff of officers, and they examined and passed all the hand baggage of the passengers on the journey up the river, on their arrival in Montreal the passengers found all their baggage sorted out and with a big staff of customs officials this was speedily handled and passengers were able to leave the wharf in almost record time.

Henry Black of the London Salvage Association motored to Contrecoeur on Sunday afternoon and went out to the ship in a small boat, while among the other officials who went aboard from tugs were E. Carol and Mr. McLeod of the C.P.O.S. Passenger department, and Chief Logan of the C.P.R. Investigation Department with several officers.

RESUME HEARING OF ELECTION PROTEST

Mrs. Matte Says She Voted for Ferguson But Not Money

PRESCOTT, Ont., Sept. 14.— (By Canadian Press.)— Charles Plumb, Prescott, was the first witness called when the election protest hearing was resumed this morning. Plumb is an employe of the Provincial Government. He told of attending the convention, and afterwards of working for Mr. Ferguson. Questioned regarding conversation with Wilfred Quenneville, witness said he had told Quenneville he liked Ferguson's road policy better than Payne's. There was no mention of a bus license. Judge Magee said he could not retain the charge in question.

Mrs. Lucy Matte, wife of Alexander Matte, Merrickville, was called in respect to the Levius Matte charge. Levius Matte had stayed at her house for a month previous to election day.

Previous to that he was in Kemptville and in Ottawa. Generally he was somewhere within the county. John Boyd, a previous witness, had come to her house on election day. She told him she intended voting for Mr. Ferguson. She knew of no other conversation while Boyd was in the house, but she saw Boyd give a five dollar bill to Levius Matte. "He just handed over the money and said nothing," the witness stated. Later Levius Matte paid her the money for his board.

The witness declared she had voted for Mr. Ferguson, but money did not influence her vote any either way. She had known Mr. Ferguson for many years. Levius Matte had no vote and she understood the money paid by Boyd was for the use of Levius' boat. Boyd had come in and warned her to hurry to the polls and she was "barely in time."

Alex Matte, husband of the previous witness, was questioned as to his brother Levius' movements before and after election day, and as to the visit of John Boyd to his house on election day. Boyd asked if they had voted and was told that Mrs. Matte had not. Witness did not see any money handed over. His wife afterwards said she had got five dollars from Levius for board. Stanley Lambkin had come to Matte's house and asked how he (Matte) was going to vote, saying: "there was something in it" for Matte. The witness voted, and next day Lambkin came along, slipped his hand in Matte's pocket, and the witness later found a two dollar bill there.

Witness had not told Lambkin how he would vote or who Lambkin was working for. Lambkin had not asked witness to vote for either candidate.

Lorne Burchill, Merrickville, said he was not a politician and could not say whether or not Stanley Lambkin was a Ferguson supporter. Burchill told Lambkin, in the Pervical Plow Company shop that he was going to vote for Ferguson. Some days after the election Lambkin was working beside him and Burchill found two dollars in his hip pocket.

"Lo and behold, manna had fallen?" said Mr. Waldron, and the court smiled.

John Boyd had spoken to witness a few days before, and talked over election prospects.

Answering Mr. Tilley, witness said, Lambkin had left Merrickville after the election and witness did not know where he had gone. To Judge Magee witness said Boyd had not asked whom he was going to vote for.

Mrs. Marguerite Burchill was also called. She is the wife of the last witness, and voted at the last election. "Nobody bothered" her or asked her how she was going to vote. She did not receive or find any money after the election. Charge "D" in regard to which this witness was called, Mr. Waldron admitted was not sustained.

HANDED MONEY BACK.

Alex Landry, Merrickville, had been asked by Stanley Lambkin on election day to vote for Ferguson, and told "there was money in it." Witness said next day Lambkin handed witness two dollars and witness handed it back "as he thought Lambkin needed the money as bad as himself." John Boyd did not mention voting to witness.

To Mr. Tilley, witness declared he had not promised to vote for Ferguson and did not expect or want any money for doing so. The sum of five dollars was mentioned on election day but witness told Lambkin he "was going to vote his own way." Previously the witness did not know what Lambkin's political leanings were.

Harry Barry, a Merrickville teamster, said nobody solicited his vote and no money came to him. His vote hadn't been bought.

YESTERDAY'S SESSION.

PRESCOTT, Ont., Sept. 14 (Canadian Press)—Almon Cook, Spencerville hotel keeper, paid Mrs. Kathleen Bellinger two dollars after she had told him she voted for G. Arthur Payne, U.F.O. defeated candidate in South Grenville though he was a supporter of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson who was elected; Hon. G. H. Ferguson paid for the dinners of those attending the convention at Spencerville on October 6, 1919; John Boyd, Merrickville, paid five dollars to one Levins Matte on election day 1919, but claimed that this was to liquidate a debt incurred three or four years before, and he also paid seven dollars to a young man named Roche to drive some 30 miles and ask a number of Liberal voters to vote for Ferguson since there was no Liberal candidate in the field. These facts were brought out in the hearing here yesterday, of the election appeal against Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, almost the only member of Sir William Hearst's cabinet re-elected in October, 1919.

Judges Sutherland and Magee of the Supreme Court of Ontario are hearing the appeal and counter-charges. Counsel taking part include W. N. Tilley, K.C., W. H. Price, M.P.P., and H. A. Stewart, for the respondent, and Gordon Waldron of Toronto for the defeated candidate G. Arthur Payne.

The charges are very numerous and counter-charges plentiful. Something like two hundred witnesses, including many women voters, have been subpoenaed and the witnesses in themselves provide quite a large audience to follow the proceedings. The case seems likely to last all week.

Proceedings were delayed yesterday by non-arrival of the judges whose train was late and it was 4:30 in the afternoon before the first witness was called. The court sat until 6:30 and will resume at 9:30 today.

Farmers from all parts of the riding, many of them with their wives and families, were in the town all day and are following the proceedings with a lively interest.

The first witness, Almon Cook, a Ferguson supporter, raised a laugh when he told of having driven a Mrs. Bellinger to the polls and of having paid her two dollars after she told him she voted for Payne, Mrs. Bellinger said she had told Cook who she voted for. He said: "You done well, Kate," and handed her two dollars; then he drove away.

Cook's evidence was also that some men attending the convention at Chesterville where Mr. Ferguson was nominated, had their dinner at his hotel and Ferguson paid the bill. The total receipts that day were $85 against an ordinary "good" day's takings of $35 to $40. Witness did not know how many meals Mr. Ferguson had paid for.

John Boyd, a later witness said he had paid a non-voter $5 on election day to discharge an old debt. He drove both Ferguson and Payne voters to the polls if they voted for prohibition which he was working for. He also paid a lad seven dollars to do some canvassing.

Before witnesses were called Gordon Waldron produced a new list of charges, in most cases against unnamed agents of Mr. Ferguson, charging the payment of money to induce voters to support Mr Ferguson's candidature

SAW THEIR MAN AT THE COURTHOUSE

While Detectives Tierney and Forget were waiting at the court house door yesterday for a case to be called they noticed a man approaching who resembled one they had been in search of for some time. They apprehended him and discovered he was the party for whom they held a warrant. His name was given as Joe Marino and he was charged with having cheated a man named Simon Vallee of $150 through the "three card monte" route, on August 22 last. The detectives had been in search of Marino since that time.

This is the first arrest made for playing three card monte since the famous Rosen and Lavoie case, which was also made by the same detectives.

THANKS FOR POLISH VICTORIES.

A largely attended thanksgiving meeting to celebrate the recent great victories of the Polish army was held on Sunday at the Papineau Ave. school hall by the Polish residents of the city. After the religious service was concluded a collection was made, for the purpose of securing funds for the wounded Polish soldiers and a very handsome amount was obtained. This money will be conveyed to Warsaw by the consul-general J. Okolowicz, who is leaving shortly for a trip to Poland. The meeting was very enthusiastic and was attended by practically the entire Polish community of this city. J. Okolowicz, the consul-general of Poland for Canada, spoke of Poland's problems and reviewed the great struggle which she has made to retain her independence and integrity. The consul-general expressed his gratitude to those present for the generous response to the appeal for funds for the Polish soldiers.

CANADIAN SHOES FOR CANADIAN PEOPLE

Why You Should Buy Shoes Now!

WE Shoe Manufacturers of Canada—and there are 158 of us in all—feel that there are certain features relating to our industry that you should know.

One of the principal things is this—

There is little likelihood that shoe prices will be very much lower than at present, for some months to come, at least.

IN any event, any reduction that the manufacturer may be able to make to the retailer will be slight; on the other hand, there is a possibility that prices on some styles may be higher.

Your shoe retailer bases his prices to you on what he pays the manufacturer. We, in turn, are dependent on the cost of leather and other things, as well as of labor.

We buy our materials months before our shoes are on your feet, and the price of these shoes is naturally regulated by the cost of the materials of which they are made, and of the handiwork expended on them.

Therefore, our advice to you—and we give it in all sincerity—is to BUY NOW any shoes you need for your self or your family. Don't buy extravagantly or recklessly, but do so carefully and judiciously.

Your retailer will give you this same advice too, if you ask him. He knows, as we do, that if the public demand for footwear suddenly started up abnormally, scarcity of shoes and higher prices would probably result.

This is a situation that should be mutually avoided, and will be if you buy what shoes you need, as you need them.

¶ Canada produces footwear of every desirable type, and of standard quality in all grades. When you buy Made in Canada Footwear you are assured, at fair prices always, of the utmost that modern skill can produce in Comfort, Service and Style.

SHOE MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION OF CANADA

LOCAL LIST AN EXTREMELY LIGHT AFFAIR TODAY

Trading in the local stock market was very slow today, the public having not, as yet, developed enthusiasm enough to go into the market in a whole hearted bullish fashion despite the allurements of some of the paper group.

The most notable feature of strength in that group was Laurentide, whose directers were in session early this afternoon, and were understood to be considering the annual statement of the company, but of which nothing had been learned in the Street up to the noon adjournment of the exchange. It was generally expected that the company's showing would be a good one, and the stock rallied 1¼ from the opening to 117¼, a net gain of a point.

Spanish River eased a fraction in the early trading to 117½, making a net loss of a point, but later it recovered ½ to 118, a net loss of ½. Brompton was off from 75 to 73½ and Wayagamack from 144½ at the close yesterday to 143.

The general list was very light, and price changes were narrow. Dom. Steel failed to show any improvement, easing ¼ under yesterday's close to 56½. Brazilian was steady at 37⅝. Sugar 140½ to 141, Power 80½. Cement 63½ to 63, Breweries 65, and Spanish River pfd. 125.

Press Opinions on N.Y. Situation

Times:—Attendance in the financial district was somewhat below the usual, the absentees including a fair proportion of the professional traders who have been contributing considerably to the day-to-day turnover of business, and those operators who came down town were plainly under the restraining influence which the Maine election exerted.

Sun and Herald:—Speculative activity in the stock market was restricted to a large extent yesterday by the desire to await the outcome of the Maine elections and by the absence of several large traders from the Street on account of the Jewish holiday. For these reasons the market was largely a professional affair, with the trading confined to floor traders.

World:—A report of a slight cut in wages of sheet mill workers at Youngstown was used by the bears to cause recessions. This news was responsible for a sharp attack on Republic and also on Bethlehem Steel, which yielded two and one points respectively.

Tribune:—Broadly-speaking, the day's movement of prices represented little more than an unwillingness on the part of the speculative element to carry operations far on either side. The weakness of the steels naturally caused unsettlement elsewhere among the industrials, but the selling was not of the kind to cause alarm since it seemed to be nothing more than an attempt of professionals to force the whole list lower.

INITIAL DIVIDEND ON CAN. WOOLLENS STOCK

An initial dividend at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum has been declared by the board of directors of Canadian Woollens, Limited, the first quarterly declaration being of 1¼ per cent., payable October 1 to shareholders of record Sept. 20. This means that the company's junior stock has been placed upon a regular dividend basis in just a little over one year's operations.

Outstanding common stock amounts to $1,750,000, and preferred $1,750,000.

The mills are located at Peterboro and Toronto, and capacity has been increased recently. The company is reported to have orders on hand for some months ahead.

While export business is offering, the company has been too busy on domestic orders to take advantage of it so far.

According to the first annual report of the company, made public early in August, after deducting preferred dividend, net earnings were $300,727, or over 17 per cent. on the common stock.

Who's Who in the Street

Hugh Blair Mackenzie, the new manager of the Royal Trust Company, was appointed one of the four assistant general managers of the Bank of Montreal after the absorption in 1918 by that institution of the Bank of British North America, of which he had been the general manager since 1912, when he succeeded the late Henry Stikeman. Mr. Mackenzie entered the service of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in 1884, and three years later went to the Bank of B. N. A., in the service of which he filled many posts and rose to the chief executive position.

The official announcement of Mr. Mackenzie's appointment to succeed A. E. Holt, who retires on account of ill-health, will be found on the adjoining page.

During the four weeks ended Aug. 28, 3,853,822 cars of commercial freight were loaded compared with 3,580,367 cars in the same period of 1919, and 3,849,026 cars in 1918, the reports showed. During the week ended Aug. 28 the total car loading was 985,064, as against 951,653 for the corresponding week in 1919.

NOVA SCOTIA COAL DEAL

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 14.—The Greenwood Coal Company, Limited, of Pictou County, Nova Scotia, has been acquired by western interests. This property contains ten square miles of coal areas in the heart of the Pictou coal fields and contain a large tonnage of coal of high quality. The other coal companies operating in the same field are the Acadia Coal Co., Limited, and the Intercolonial Coal Mining Co., Limited. It is said that the same interests are contemplating the purchase of other coal areas in this province. G. W. Elliott, of Montreal, negotiated the deal for the purchasers.

Over Half of Wheat Threshed in West

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 14.—Reports from local correspondents, states the Free Press crop report, indicate that in Manitoba over 50 per cent of the wheat is threshed, in Saskatchewan and Alberta, the project is much less, and both Saskatchewan and Manitoba there are a number of complaints of threshing being delayed by rain, while Alberta appears to be enjoying ideal weather.

Worked out by provinces, the results are:—

Wheat—Manitoba, 2687,000 acres at 17 bushels per acre, 45,679,000; Saskatchewan, 9,440,000 acres at 14½ bushels per acre, 136,680,000; Alberta, 2,687,000 acres at 19 bushels per acre, 66,386,000.

Oats—Manitoba, 1,887,000 acres at 33 bushels per acre, 62,271,000; Saskatchewan, 5,126,000 acres at 35 bushels per acre, 79,410,000; Alberta, 2,906,000 acres at 38 bushels per acre, 110,428,000.

Barley—Manitoba, 865,000 acres, average 30 bushels per acre, 25,950,000; Saskatchewan, 480,000 acres, average 25 bushels per acre, 12,000,000; Alberta, 418,000 acres, average 23 bushels per acre, 9,614,000.

Rye—For the three provinces acreages given are 557,000 and at 16 bushels per acre this would be 8,912,000.

Flax—Manitoba, 62,000 acres, average six bushels per acre, 372,000; Saskatchewan, 1,032,000 acres, average six bushels per acre, 6,192,000; Alberta, 588,000 acres, average seven bushels per acre, 588,000.

Opinions from Wall Street

Laidlaw & Co.—The continued and rapid decline in the foreign exchanges is probably one of the factors causing the present stock market uneasiness, but it should be kept in mind that this is a seasonal development augmented by the special efforts of France and England to provide exchange towards their settlement of the Anglo-French loan.

Miller & Co. wired Fairbanks, Gosselin & Co.—The election news from Maine could not well be more satisfactory. The market yesterday was a restricted affair, but we see no reason to change our views as to the general tendency of the trading, giving our strong preference to the bull side of the rails.

Pynchon & Co. wire Craig, Luther & Irvine as follows: Among the issues whose market action indicates great confidence on the part of buyers are the oil stocks. The trade position in the oil industry is generally known to be excellent, and these shares should provide excellent buying opportunities on decided setbacks.

Munde, Rogers and Stackpole say:—We do not believe the public has yet begun to appreciate the potentialities of railroad securities under new conditions.

Lamborn & Co. say:—One of the best arguments for a strong stock market is that the railroads contemplate an amount of new financing.

C. I. Hudson & Co. say:—There has been the very best kind of buying on every fractional decline of both the dividend and low priced rails and there are still a large number of scale orders yet to be filled.

H. F. McConnell & Co. say:—It is known that prominent market interests are ranged behind the upward movement in the industrials.

Shonnard, Mills & Co. say:—It is obvious that the market is much better prepared to endure the uncertainties likely to develop during the remainder of the calendar year and would be responsive to a further improvement in fundamental conditions, which now seem most likely to follow.

J. S. Bache & Co. say:—The only condition which would seriously interfere with a resumption of railroad upward movement would be a further decline in industrials.

Post & Flagg.—It is discouraging to have successful flotation of French loan, arrival of gold in considerable quantities and now this Maine election all fail to produce encouragement in market.

BETTER FEELING IN WALL STREET AFTER BAD START

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Dealings were active and price changes substantially higher at the opening of today's stock market, traders attributing further short covering to over night political developments. Steels, equipments, oils, motors and some of the rails gained large fractions to 2 points and shippings strengthened on advances of 1 to 2½ points, respectively for American International and Atlantic Gulf. The forward movement was of brief duration, however, oils soon falling back with irregular reactions in the general list.

United States Steel opened at 88⅛, up ¼; Marine 23, up ⅝; Pan-American 91½, up ¼; Central Leather 51½, up ¼; B. and O. 41⅝, up ¼; United States Rubber 85⅞, up ⅛; Mexican Petroleum 174½, up 1⅞; Sinclair 31⅛, up ¼; General Motors 21⅛, up ⅜; Bethlehem B 75¼, up ⅝; Republic 79⅞, up ; Reading 91⅞ up ⅜; Baldwin 108¼, up 1¼, and Studebaker 62, up ⅝.

After the first reaction there was a broad buying movement in representative and speculative rails, led by Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, which rose 10 points. Other coalers, also prominent trans-continentals and grangers rose 1 to 2 points. Among the junior rails New York, Chicago & St. Louis rose 3¾ and St. Paul common and preferred, St. Louis & Southwestern, Kansas City Southern pfd., Texas and Mexico, Pittsburgh & Western, Baltimore & Ohio, Erie first pfd. and New Orleans, Texas & Mexico gained 1 to 1½ points. Oils, motors and shippings rose 1 to 3 points, but steels and equipments were comparatively quiet though firm. Call money opened at 7 per cent.

After the initial disappointing tone of the market a much better feeling developed towards noon which synchronized with an improvement in sterling exchange which showed a rallying disposition after the early break.

Some of the more interesting features of a rather narrow list were: Steel 88⅛ to 88 to 89¼, Vanadium 68 to 67¼ to 69¼, Union Pac. 120¼ to 121⅞ to 121, C. P. R. 118⅝ to 119½ to 119, Texas Oil 49⅞ to 50¾, Studebaker 62 to 61¾ to 62⅞, So. Pac. 94⅛ to 95, Replogle 78⅜ to 77½ to 81, Rubber 85⅞ to 87¼, Royal Dutch 87¾ to 88¾, Republic 79⅞ to 78⅜ to 81⅛, Reading 91¼ to 93, Pan-American 91⅛ to 90½ to 92⅛ to 91⅝, Mex. Pete. 174½ to 173¼ to 175½, Int. Paper 79¼ to 78⅛ to 79½, Houston Oil 105⅛ to 107⅞ to 107, D. L. & W. 249⅞ to 260 to 259, Crucible 123 to 122¼ to 124¼ to 123⅝, Beth. Steel B. 75¼ to 74⅝ to 75⅛, Baldwin 108⅛ to 107¼ to 109¼, A. I. C. 76 to 78. Money was 7 per cent.

CAPITAL SOUGHT BY MANY LANDS IN WALL ST

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(United Press).—American dollars are being drawn to the far ends of the earth by foreign governments and municipalities which are dumping their high interest securities in the United States at the rate of millions per month.

American investors now own more than $2,000,000,000 worth of these securities, paying seven and eight per cent, according to data obtained here today.

Liberty bonds yield from 4½ to 5½ per cent and are selling far below the prices paid by their owners who bought them in reply to the patriotic war appeals.

Approximately $2,000,000,000 invested in Liberty bonds now would bring them to par and perhaps above, officials estimated here.

The French Government now is selling in competition with Liberty bonds an issue of $100,000,000 paying 8 per cent. This is to get money to partly pay off the French share, $250,000,000 of the Anglo-French loan. The loan matures tomorrow.

Bonds paying 9 per cent are being offered American investors by the Argentine Government.

Twenty-seven foreign governments and a nearly equal number of foreign municipalities now are selling bonds to Americans.

Among the cities whose securities are offered are Tokio, Bordeaux, Lyons and Marseilles. Countries whose bonds are offered here are Canada, Belgium, Cuba, Japan, Switzerland, Mexico and Britain.

In addition to government securities nearly $500,000,000 worth of industrial, railroad and public utility securities of foreign concerns now are held by Americans.

PASS CUDAHY DIVIDEND

CHICAGO, Sept. 14. — The Cudahy Packing Company passed its dividend today. Officials said it was the first time since the reorganization of the company that a dividend had been passed. In a letter to the Stock Exchange the company announced its decision to pass the quarterly dividend on the common stock, which otherwise would have been payable October 5.

Mining Notes

PORCUPINE, Sept. 14.—Confirmation of the discovery on the McIntyre Porcupine mines of what is believed to be the western extension of "Vein 84" of the Hollinger Consolidated provides one of the most favorable reports of this year in regard to developments on the McIntyre mine.

Financial Men in the Public Eye

New manager of the Royal Trust Company.

Topics of the Street

The local market this morning showed still further contraction, trading comprising only 3,137 shares, or down 669 from yesterday morning's 3,806 shares. The tone was generally dull and uninteresting. The more active stocks this morning included: Brompton, 952 shares; Spanish River pref., 295; Laurentide, 255; Spanish River, 270; and Bell Telephone, 205.

When the local market advanced last week, the process was very easy on account of the lack of selling resistance. When, however, traders undertook distribution, it was found that there was a corresponding indisposition to buy which suggests that the general public is still in an apathetic frame of mind notwithstanding the undoubted bullish position of some of the paper stocks.

As trading continues largely professional at present it is obvious that sentiment will continue to be a good deal affected by the construction placed on developments by Wall Street.

The outcome in Wall Street today was very disappointing as the market refused to enthuse over the Republican success in the Maine elections. Evidently domestic matters of a constructive character are overshadowed completely by the disturbed conditions in Europe. Now that the Polish predicament has faded from view for the time being the unsettled political conditions in Italy and the labor troubles in England are being closely watched.

The weakness in sterling exchange is also being watched with a good deal of apprehension as being largely due to the conditions referred to above.

It is expected that definite action on the application for the listing of the stocks of the St. Maurice Paper Company, Canadian subsidiary of the Union Bag & Paper Company, will be taken at once by the listing committee of the Montreal Stock Exchange. If this proves to be the case, expectation is that the stocks will be "called" next Friday, when trading will commence in the issues on the regular board.

The company has a common stock issue of $7,899,000, with no preferred stock. The bonds have nearly all been converted into common stock, which stock was recently placed upon an 8 per cent. per annum basis. In May last a 5 per cent cash bonus was also paid. Dividends are payable in American funds. Of the common stock, 60 per cent. is owned by Union Bag & Paper Company, the balance being in the hands of Canadian interests. The stock has been selling recently in the vicinity of 140 per share.

The listing of the issue will mark another step in the general expansion in the market for pulp and paper securities on the Montreal Stock Exchange. There should be a broad market for the issue in view of its large local following. When the company was organized several years ago, its timber limits and pulp mill construction costs were paid for out of proceeds of sale of common stock. The bonds provided for construction of the paper mills.

The company is producing 110 to 115 tons of newsprint per day, 60 tons of kraft, 25 tons of sulphite and 40 tons of mechanical pulp daily. Extensions provide for an increase in mechanical pulp to 70 tons per day early in 1921.

The timber limits comprise some 2,000 square miles, and are considered among the best holdings in the St. Maurice district.

Current earnings are running in excess of 1919, and indicating an increase of nearly $600,000, or some 42 per cent., 1919 profits amounting to $1,418,805, with those of the preceding year totalling $1,168,489, and those of 1917 of $1,060,853.

Notwithstanding some personal denials for responsibility concerning a scheme to amalgamate a number of large pulp and paper properties in the Province of Quebec, ideas are entertained in some quarters that the idea is not dead by any means.

The companies more particularly mentioned are Laurentide, Wayagamack, Belgo-Canadian and Price Bros. While the strength in Wayagamack is more generally attributed to a stock distribution plan, some others think the merger project is a contributory factor.

Notes on 'change

The refrigerated car shortage is beginning to make itself felt at Sanger, Calif., and some shippers are apprehensive of the future. Muscat grapes are coming in and some of the houses have been packing them throughout the week. The California Packing Company has been shipping figs and Phillips clings, both dried, this week. They are immune from the car shortage as they patronize the ordinary cars.

Light rail demand has continued quite active and the outlook for this line has improved of late. Rail mills are operating on a better schedule than for some time. Standard section buying has not changed, but it is noted that specifications are completed for rail needs for most of the roads in the Pittsburg district for 1921, and will probably be booked in the near future in order to obtain a favorable position on the delivery schedule. No change is suggested on rail prices from those now prevailing. Production is not up to the standard, but relatively is keeping well toward the top.

It was arranged with the general manager of the New Zealand Railways that the date for receiving tenders should remain open until we could communicate from this office. The general manager now states that the invitation for tenders in Canada will be extended by Sir James Allen, New Zealand High Commissioner. He will name the date on which tenders must be received here.

STATEMENT OF LAURENTIDE IS FOR HALF-YEAR

Following the meeting of the board of directors of the Laurentide Company, Limited, held at the office of C. R. Hosmer, the vice-president, the financial report of the company for the first six months of its operations, was given out. At the board meeting, Mr. Hosmer occupied the chair, in the absence of George Chahoon, Jr., occupied the chair. Sir Lomer Gouin, the newly-elected director, took his place at a board meeting for the first time since his election.

The financial statement of the company, covering the first six months of this year's operations, is an excellent one and indicates a large growth in earning power. The new company took over the plants and operations of the old company as of January 1 of this year.

As compared with the earnings of the old company, the first six months are but little behind the full twelve months period reported on a year ago. Total income from operations from January 1 to June 30, amounted to $2,566,673, compared with $2,955,979 in the previous full year, and $2,593,835 in the 1918 year. After the usual charges, net profits before deducting dividends amounted to $1,499,539 for the six months, compared with $1,823,657, in the 1919 year and $1,704,655 in the 1918 year.

As the capital stock of the new company is just three times the amount of that of the old company, earnings percentages are interesting. The new company has a paid-up capital of $28,800,000, which stands as a first charge against earnings, there being no bond issues or preferred stock. On this bases, the company earned in the six months 5.20 per cent on the outstanding capital, or at the rate of nearly 11 per cent for the full year. On the old basis of capitalization, $9,600,000, earnings in the half year were at the rate of 15.61 per cent compared with 18.99 per cent for the full year 1919, and 17.75 per cent for the 1918 year.

In other words, in the half year just ended the new company earned equivalent to nearly 32 per cent on the capitalization of the old company.

After providing for dividends for the six months of $864,000, surplus remaining was $635,539.

Profit and loss account follows:

	6 ms. 1920.	Yr. 1919.	Yr. 1918.
Op income.	$2,566,673	$2,955,979	$2,593,835

Surplus . .	$ 635,539	$ 431,657	$ 744,655

The balance sheet of the company is probably the most interesting portion of the statement, however, inasmuch as it indicates a sharp growth in assets for the new company as against those indicated in the last report of the old company. For instance, property account is given, as at June 30 last, at $21,599,846 net, as compared with but $8,335,635 in the report of the old company a year ago.

The various items included in the balance sheet, however, while comparable, are somewhat misleading in table form, as they do not altogether check up, item for item, especially on the liabilities side of the account. Total assets, which now amount to $35,087,015, or about double the $17,612,520 reported last year, indicate how great the growth in general valuation has been.

The statement of working capital is probably more revalent than anything else of the financial strength of the company at the present time, and the great progress that much have been made during the past six months, despite the fact that the company had not then entered the period when the really high newsprint prices prevail.

Current assets amount to $13,431,229, as compared with $7,264,463 reported by the old company a year ago, while current liabilities now total $5,377,761 compared with $1,882,416. This indicates net working capital of $8,053,468 as compared with $5,382,046, this being an increase of no less than $2,671,422 over the 1919 showing.

Net working capital follows:—

WHEAT STOCK LARGER; OATS DECREASING

FORT WILLIAM, Sept. 14. — Stocks are piling up once more in the terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur. Wheat stocks have more than doubled during the past week, now totalling 1,128,878 bushels against 527,887 bushels a week ago and 3,239,485 bushels at this time last year. Receipts are fairly good at 771,790 bushels for the past week, and shipments were small, 176,004 bushels by lake and 4,795 bushels by rail.

Oats are being shipped out much faster than they are coming in, the receipts totalling 14,157 bushels and shipments 37,236 bushels by rail and 2,965 bushels by lake. Stocks in store are 120,823 bushels against 146,807 bushels a week ago and 803,867 bushels at this time last year.

Barley is coming in from the West at a good rate and stocks have climbed from 153,117 bushels a week ago to 220,680 bushels this week. A year ago they were 356,127 bushels. Receipts total 101,689 bushels and shipments 1,056 bushels by lake and 33,070 bushels by rail.

Flax shipments are more than double receipts for the week, the shipments being 33,152 and receipts 14,974 bushels. Stocks in store are now 370,550 bushels, as compared with 388,728 bushels a week ago and 32,306 at this time last year.

Movements in rye are very slow, receipts totalling 12,944 bushels and shipments 4,293 bushels by lake. Stocks in store are 34,222 bushels as compared with 25,571 bushels last week and 204,639 bushels a year ago.

Business in grain circles continues to be extremely quiet despite the raising of grain trading restrictions.

Grain and Oats Took Decline in Winnipeg

Shearson, Hammill and Co. received the following wire from their Winnipeg correspondents, Baird and Botterell:

Tendency is easier this morning, locals pressed sales outside weakness and are encouraged by increased hedging sales representing increased interior movement. Temper of the floor trade somewhat bearish, personally feel decline will be gradual but believe demand for coarse grains will have to be broadened to maintain present levels. Of course any adverse weather will have endency to check any downward movement. Winnipeg wheat range.

EXPECT LARGE EXPORT TRADE IN GRAIN MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(Special to The Star).—A better feeling seems to exist among shippers to European ports and a profitable week so far as volume goes is looked for. The grain trade is a trifle more active and 13s for Gulf of Mexico to United Kingdom, October, against 12s for September. The Canadian market shows no particular feature, while cotton is finding all the cargo space necessary in the American liners. A fair number of grain orders are circulating and values are steady with Gulf of Mexico to United Kingdom worth 12s per quarter for heavy grain, September, and 13s for October. To the Spanish Mediterranean and West Italy 13s 6d could be had for September loading. Montreal-United Kingdom cannot be put much over 10s 6d for August, although a little more might be possible for September.

Coal from the North American ports is a bit firmer and at the opening Hampton Roads to Antwerp or Rotterdam figured at $11, with Gothenburg $12 to $13. River Plate was said to be open at $12 and there is certainly more animation in the market. Apparently coal can be had for boats on the spot ready to load. Deals from the Canadian ports are uncertain and 165s to 175s would be about value. New York has taken tonnage to six ports in South Africa for late August on gross form at 90 shillings. On charter Montreal is offering 60s to River Plate, and for deals New Brunswick quotes 165s per standard to United Kingdom for September. From North Pacific 115s has been paid from Portland, Oregon, to United Kingdom for wheat, September-October, and charterers are open at $20 United Kingdom, wheat or flour, September, October and November. The feature of the wheat market yesterday was persistent buying of contracts in the West credited to Eastern exporters. This gives rise to the belief that large export business was being done despite the weakness in foreign exchange. Local exporters failed to confirm more than a moderate demand and total sales in all positions for the day were estimated at 350,000 bushels. Manitoba offers were not of a pressing character, although many are still waiting for a heavy movement during October and November.

The Department of Agriculture of Ottawa report the egg market as follows: Toronto steady, specials, 73c-75c; extras, 67c-68c; firsts, 60c-63c; seconds, 50c-53c; country track sales, 56c-60c. Montreal firm, unchanged. Exchange situation militates against new business for export. Chicago current firsts, 51½c-52½c. New York current firsts, 55c-57c; extra firsts, 59c-61c.

PRICE OF WHEAT AND CORN FORCED DOWN

The following noon grain letter was received from Chicago by E. C. Morris, manager for Logan & Bryan, at their Board of Trade branch office:—Wheat: Local professionals pressed the selling side and forced lower prices in the absence of dependable buying support. Selling was encouraged by further weakness in foreign exchange rates, a sharp decline in Argentine prices and weakness in coarse grains. Volume of business was not large. Receipts were estimated at 75 cars. Overnight shipping sales were 5,000. New York reported absence of export inquiry and the further break in sterling exchange made prospects for revival of active foreign buying unpromising.

Corn—Leading commission houses and locals pressed the selling side forcing prices to a discount under last night's bid level shortly after the opening. The decline in Argentine prices, fine weather and indications that the country was offering to sell old and new crop more freely served as the incentive for the selling. Chief buying was on resting orders, and met on way down for profits.

Oats—Cash houses had freely and locals pressed the selling side because of the weakness in corn.

ROYAL TRUST TO HAVE CHANGE IN ITS MANAGEMENT

It was announced today that A. E. Holt, the manager of the Royal Trust Company, is retiring shortly from the active management of the company. Mr. Holt, after a severe illness last year, wishes to spend some time in rest and travelling with a view to the complete re-establishment of his health.

In view of Mr. Holt's long experience with the company, of which he was the first employe, and of which he has been manager for the last eight years of constant expansion, the directors, desiring to retain his connection with the company, elected him at a meeting of the directors today, a member of the board.

It is understood that H. B. Mackenzie, formerly manager of the Bank of British North America, and at present one of the assistant general managers of the Bank of Montreal, will be appointed general manager of the Royal Trust Company, having supervision of the head office in Montreal and the branches throughout Canada.

McGILL TO OPEN NURSES' SCHOOL

University is Looking for Record Registration of Students

Preparations for the opening of the School for Graduate Nurses, a new departure at McGill University, have been under way for some time, and at the beginning of the college session lectures in the school will commence. The object of the new school is to provide training in public health nursing and for teachers and supervisors in schools for nursing. Two courses leading to certificates will therefore be offered. For the present they are to cover the period of one academic year but it is hoped at some time in the future to inaugurate a two year course leading to a university degree.

Other departments of the university are co-operating with the school in connection with lecture courses as far as possible, notably the Medical Faculty, the School of Physical Education, the Department of Social Service, the Department of Education and the Department of Household Science. The use of the Redpath and Medical libraries of McGill will be granted to the students of the school. Laboratory and field work will be arranged through the co-operation of certain hospitals, social service organizations, industrial plants, nurses' organizations and the Public Health Department of the city.

Registration for the courses opens on September 27 at the University. All nurses are required to take lectures in psychology, contemporary nursing problems and history of nursing. Other courses are arranged according to the certificate for which the students are studying. A number of elective courses are offered. These include home economics, nutrition and dietetics, child health, neuro-psychiatry, chemistry and bacteriology. Accommodation for lecture and other courses is now being arranged at the University.

The work of the school will be under the supervision of the Nurse Director, Miss F. M. Shaw. The officers of instruction, among others, will include the Nurse Director, Dr. J. C. Simpson, Dr. F. W. Harvey, Dr. T. A. Starkey, Dr. G. S. Mundie, Dr. W. A. L. Styles, Dr. A. R. MacLean, Dr. W. D. Tait, Dr. J. B. Dawson, Dr. Maude E. Abbott.

Prospects with regard to women students in other schools and faculties of the university are bright this year, though no definite statement can be made until after the official registration. The faculties of Law and Medicine will undoubtedly claim a number of new students. The School of Physical Education and the Department of Social Service are looking forward to a large registration, and the Faculty of Arts will in all likelihood have a large number in the first year.

The residence of the women students of that faculty, the Royal Victoria College, has already a waiting list and as the university does not feel that it is possible this year to open an additional house in order to provide for the superfluous number of students applying for rooms, arrangements are being made to find accommodation for students in various houses in the city, recommended by McGill. It is hoped in this way to find satisfactory living conditions for out-of-town women students who have not been able to procure room at the Royal Victoria College.

START CAMPAIGN IN AID OF BOYS' HOME

Rotary Club Opens Collection Week with $5,000 in Subscriptions

A splendid start was made today with the campaign of the Montreal Rotary Club to raise $20,000 for the Boys' Home on Mountain street, over $5,000 in subscriptions being announced by the team captains and treasurer, although the cards were only distributed to the eight teams a couple of days ago. These subscriptions are not inclusive of the big corporations in the city which are being dealt with by the Special Names Committee, and although the campaign is only going to last a week, it is anticipated that the full quota will be reached by co-operation between members of the teams and those who are interested in boys' work.

Among the big subscriptions announced at the weekly luncheon today, which was presided over by Rotarian W. R. Allen, the chairman of the campaign committee, were the following: Rotarian and Mrs. W. R. Allen, $500; Rotarian Norman Holland, $500; Anonymous, $500; Rotarian and Mrs. G. H. Townsend, $250; Rotarian F. J. Shaw, $200; Rotarian R. S. Minty, $100; Senator Smeaton White, $100; Palmers Ltd., $100; W. R. Brock, $100; Imperial Tobacco Co., Ltd., $100; Canada Steamships Co., Ltd., $100; Rotarian J. Jenkins, $100; Rotarian H. Philips, $100; Watson Jack & Co., $100; Rotarian W. W. Hutchison, $100; Rotarian H. B. Henwood, $100; Rotarian I. P. Rexford, $100; W. Curry, $100; W. E. Cushing, $100.

In addition to the foregoing the committee has received about $2,000 in smaller subscriptions than $100, and its objective is to secure ten subscriptions of $500, fifty subscriptions of $100, and $10,000 in smaller subscriptions. It was announced that any people in or out of the city who desired to subscribe to the campaign fund, and are not approached by members of the different teams, could send their cheques direct to the treasurer, T. Yates Foster, at 211 McGill street.

The team captains are as follows:—No. 1, President H. Phillips; No. 2, J. Hamilton Ferns; No. 3, W. R. Allen (A. Fall acting); No. 4, T. H. Flett; No. 5, F. Browne, (acting J. P. Anglin); No. 6, A. D. Thornton; No. 7, S. F. Rutherford; No. 8, J. F. Pierce.

The Boys' Home on Mountain street has been a home for boys who are between the ages of 12 and 18 years who are unable as yet to earn sufficient to completely maintain themselves. At present there are 75 boys in the home, most of them are working in the city, and with the help given them at the home in the way of education and training, are making good. The home has at present a big debt, and the Rotary Club undertook the campaign to raise $20,000 to wipe off the debt and start the coming year with a clear sheet. The boys pay for their board, lodging and clothing in proportion to their earnings, and at present they pay 55 per cent. of the cost of maintenance, so that subscriptions are needed to make up the balance.

COURT OF REVIEW RE-OPENED TODAY

The Second Division of the Court of Review began sitting this morning in room 32 of the Court House. Messrs Justices Lafontaine, Marechal and Duclos presided. This tribunal will sit five days a week until the end of the month. It may not sit next month, however, as, if conditions brought about by the appointment of four of the judges of the Superior Court to the Court of King's Bench are not remedied soon, the Judges now presiding over the Second Division of the Court of Review may have to be assigned to Enquete and Merits.

Idle Money

Perhaps you are waiting for a new Victory Loan? Reports from Ottawa state that owing to the recently imposed taxes the current revenues are now sufficient to carry out the wise policy of paying our way as we go, and that there will be, in all probability, a substantial balance to apply to the retirement of Victory Bonds. There will, therefore, be NO NEW VICTORY LOAN.

Yet—money has accumulated in Canada in unprecedented amounts. Further heavy crop payments are now being made. Our trade—foreign and domestic—is breaking records.

Are your funds idle? Are they working to the best possible advantage? It is difficult to conceive of funds lying idle in these days of such exceptional investment opportunities.

Victory Bonds are the greatest investment "buy" to-day. The following, in addition to the maximum of security, give the greatest returns over the longest period:

1937 (1 Dec.) (tax free), 98 and interest yielding 5.68%
1934 (1 Nov.) 93 and interest, yielding 6.24%
Subject to Usual Income Taxes.

SAN CARLO OPERA OPENS BUSY WEEK

Marie Rappold Featured in "Aida"—Change of Bill Nightly

SAN CARLO OPERA COMPANY. Fortune Gallo, Impressario; His Majesty's Theatre, "Aida," Verdi; cast: Aida, Marie Rappold; Amneris, Stella De Mette; Radames, Giuseppe Corallo; Amonasro, Mario Valle; Ramfis, Pietro De Biasi; Il Re, Natale Cervi; conductor, Gaetano Merola.

It is surprising how many different kinds of opera companies there can be. There is the kind that has a permanent home and sallies forth on periodical trips to other cities. There is the touring kind that is hastily flung together and generally goes smash on the road; and there is the San Carlo kind, a travelling troupe which is firmly established on a paying basis and spends much of the year going about to all the cities and towns in Canada and the United States that have inhabitants enough to make a stop-over worth while. There are other varieties of opera companies, of course; but these three are the most common in America.

In cities which have not had many opportunities of hearing grand opera, the San Carlo Company is always particularly welcome. In such places, the annual visit of Mr. Gallo's singers means the hearing, complete, of standard operas that could not otherwise be heard. In Montreal, however, the case is different. Montreal lacks a suitable concert hall, a symphony orchestra and various other things; but the Montreal public has been fortunate in the matter of opera and has been educated to distinguish between what is very good and what is merely good enough. From the Montreal Opera Company, from Rabinoff companies, from the Metropolitan on occasion, and lastly, from Mr. Scotti, opera lovers in this city have learned to see opera with a keen eye and to hear it with a critical ear; and while Montreal musicians are ready to give the San Carlo Company its full measure of praise, they cannot find in it their highest ideal.

The performance last night was on the usual San Carlo level; and audiences in this city are now so familiar with what the San Carlo Company does, that it is not necessary to say much more. The engagement of Miss Rappold, a reliable and experienced artist, gave a lift up to the evening; and though the sacred fire did not burn in her interpretation of Aida, her singing and acting were along sound and commonsense lines.

The present San Carlo season lasts but a week. To-night "Rigoletto" will be sung with Lydia Lipkowska, remembered as a star guest with the Montreal Opera Company, as Gilda.—P. K.

MUSIC

The Old Country Choir is getting its affairs in order for the coming season. Mrs. James Laing is the president; A. E. J. McCreary, the conductor; and H. Scrimshaw, 40 Durocher avenue, Outremont, the secretary. Mr. McCreary is ready to test the voices of persons desirous of joining.

* * *

Speaking of Caruso, one writer describes his voice as "A beautiful, singing organ, mechanically perfect; a voice of luscious quality poured out without the least apparent effort, and conveying that most comforting impression to the audience—an inexhaustible reserve of power."

* * *

Creatore, the opera and concert conductor, claims that he has a better company this season than at any time during his operatic career. The close of the war released many fine singers, and he was not slow in getting the best of those who came over. He has some surprisingly good song birds with his company.

* * *

No touring opera company has achieved more signal success than the Scotti Grand Opera Company, thanks to the high abilities of Mr. Scotti and his fellow artists, and the remarkable all-round excellence of production and cast. The critics in all the cities visited last season vied with each other in showering encomiums on an organization which they admitted brought with it a perfection both of detail and ensemble rarely achieved on the operatic boards.

AROUND THE THEATRES

By S. MORGAN-POWELL

Chameleon Revue at Princess Unusually Good Entertainment

THIS week the Princess program is fully up to the best standard of that house. Every act seems to have been exceptionally well mounted, and some of the settings are both handsome and picturesque. The Chameleon Revue stands out as the feature of the show. In this disconnected series of scenes Miss Corinne Tilton, an ingenue of astonishing versatility and genuine gifts of mimicry and comedy, reveals her wide range and her power to dominate the stage alone. She is a comedienne of individual methods, and her work is nowhere reminiscential. She has thought out her own methods, and she obtains definite results with astonishing ease. She can burlesque with unusual facility, and her work is always clean-cut and effective.

Benny and Western, two young men of weird agility in the execution of eccentric dances that are really humorous, Violet Follis and Naomi McIntyre, dancers, and a bevy of chorus girls, with Eddie Heffernan as ballad singer, support Miss Tilton, and help to lend to the act the character of a revue. If this young lady is properly encouraged, there is nothing to prevent her from achieving emphatic success on the comedy stage.

Nothing more significant in color and novel in execution than the dances contributed by Miss Dorothy Rudac, assisted by Henry Roy, has been seen locally for a long time. Miss Rudac is a born dancer,—slim, lithe, lissom, unusually graceful, and with an absolute knowledge of rhythm, the value of line, and the possibilities of pose and poise in dancing. She costumes her dances with an originality that is at once dramatic and rich in color, and whether in her solo dances or in those with Mr. Roy, she seems to be the very spirit of rhythm. The staging and lighting are admirable. Mr. Roy is a dancer of athletic skill. If only this and similar dancing acts would see the great advantage of eliminating all attempts at introduction by jingling verse, how much closer to perfection they would be, from an artistic standpoint! Miss Rudac was enthusiastically recalled again and again.

* * *

Nora Norine sings popular songs in a manner that wins her audience easily. She costumes each appropriately. Harry Jolson, Al's elder brother, gives a burlesque of operatic singers that is as funny as anything we have seen in vaudeville for a couple of years, at least. Mr. Jolson uses songs and jokes also used by his brother, but his methods are not identical. He is a clever and resourceful comedian, with a fine singing voice.

* * *

Fred and Marjorie Dale in saxophone comedy playing, with astonishing contortionist feats by Miss Dale; Jean Duval & Company in their now well-known and deservedly popular series of art poses, with new and striking light effects; Frabito, of Burns and Frabito, working under a handicap in the unavoidable absence of his partner; and The Russels, in finished aerial feats, complete a bill which is easily the best shown so far this season.

"A Prince There Was" At the Orpheum Proves A Successful Offering

"An unusual comedy" is the program's description of "A Prince There Was," at the Orpheum this week, and it is not an unfair description. Dickens would have loved this play, for its tenderness and humor, for it deals with just such people as he used to write about. Certainly the young authoress in the play went to a fruitful place for plots of live human interest when she decided to leave her wealthy home and live in a cheap boarding-house.

* * *

This unusual comedy opens with a young man, wealthy Charles Martin (William Naughton), steadily drowning his ennui in drink, regardless of the advice of his old friend, editor of a magazine, Jack Carruthers (Harvey Hayes), who, to give him an interest in life, wants him to join him as assistant editor.

A small waif, named Comfort, who has lost both parents and been adopted by a boarding-house landlady, Mrs. Prouty, is deeply interested in the authoress, who is staying there, and, knowing she wants to publish a story which unkind editors keep returning, Comfort hunts up Jack Carruthers, to impress on him the goodness of the story, and that he is losing something of value by not taking it. Coming on Martin instead, she awakens in him an interest in life, so that he decides to accept the assistant editorship, gets busy as he once was, and incidentally helps out the young authoress.

He is the Prince, and the Princess (Miss Margaret Knight) can be guessed at. No one will be puzzled over the plot. It is an old one, but the kind that brings an occasional lump in the throat, and reminds you that in a world apparently torn by strife and worries of all kinds, most people are still carrying on their own small rounds of real sympathetic interest in each other's welfare.

* * *

Comfort, the small fairy of the play, was played by Miss Isabel Matthew, a little lady who carried her lengthy part with accomplished ease, and was very well received. Mrs. Prouty, the landlady who will brook no aspersions on her table, is well portrayed by Miss Helen Beresford, as is the part of her daughter by Miss Marjorie Mason, with her argot of the streets. A. S. Byron received an ovation on his return from vacation, and was well fitted with the part of an old lawyer, on whom neither success nor fortune had smiled since he lost his father's fortune and had to "bump the bumps" in making his own living.

"Peek-a-Book" Draws Capacity Audiences To Gayety Theatre

The popularity of the Gayety Theatre still continues among lovers of burlesque, and once more Mr. Garfield last night was forced to hang out the "S.R.O." sign. The attraction is the 1920-1921 edition of Jean Bedini's "Peek-a-Boo," and, as the title suggests, the attraction is right up to date. Pretty girls and funny comedians, combined with a number of specialties, provided the entertainment looked for by the patrons of this popular playhouse.

Bobby Clarke is the leading funmaker, and is ably assisted by Paul McCullough, the pair creating a riot of fun.

* * *

New scenery and music have been used in this year's production, and, combined with the striking costumes worn by the principals and chorus, render a very pleasing attraction to the eye. The Seven Musical Spillers and the Ignatz Pluto troupe of "the world's worst" acrobats introduced several novelties which met with the approval of the audience.

All of last season's attractions are still with the show, and are too well-known to Montreal theatre-goers to need detailed mention. Added features are Frankie James and the Four Jansleys.

The scene depicting the circus was exceedingly well rendered. It was true to life, the bally-hoo man and all other characters peculiar to circus life being given in clever burlesque.

Mercedes Mystifies Loew's Audience by His Strange Powers

Mercedes heads the bill at Loew's this week. The entertainer was assisted by Mlle. Stantoine. A remarkable demonstration of mental telepathy was given. Mercedes went among the audience, receiving in a whisper the names of various musical numbers, and without the slightest pause Mlle. Stantoine, on the stage, played the actual selection named. The audience was greatly mystified. Ferns and Litt presented darktown comicalities; Grace Leonard, as the American "boy," proved herself a clever character artist. Swain's cats and rats presented an amusing animal novelty. The Four Bangard, who are billed as the "Blue Devils of Music," completed the vaudeville bill.

The feature picture this week is "The White Moll," with Pearl White and Richard Traverse. The film story, which has already been reviewed in The Star, is from the pen of Frank L. Packard, of Lachine, the author of "The Miracle Man." This is the first of Miss White's new pictures, as she used to appear exclusively in serials. The play deals with life in the underworld of New York, and a girl who has been redeemed from crime by the death of her father.

The play is full of thrills from start to finish, and it can be honestly said that Pearl White has unique opportunities to provide thrills. A Paramount Magazine, Loew's British-Canadian News and a comedy, complete the bill.

"April Folly" Film Feature at St. Denis

The St. Denis Theatre was crowded yesterday afternoon and last night, and if the audience was somewhat disappointed at the vaudeville performance, it was amply compensated by the film program, which is one of the best ever shown here. "April Folly," with Marion Davies in the leading role, includes pathos, human interest and comedy, and is the sort of picture the public revels in.

The vaudeville program includes Arnold and Florence, comedians and acrobats; Gertrude George, in Broadway songs; the Amoros Sisters, singers, dancers and acrobats; the Toomey Brothers, eccentric dancers; Cedia Brault, singer, and George Carson and Company,—five young women in a dancing act.

PICKFORD ATTENDS MEMORIAL SERVICE

LONDON, Sept. 14 (United News)—Jack Pickford, husband of Olive Thomas, the movie star, who died in Paris on Friday from mercury poisoning, arrived here from the French capital by airplane on Monday to attend the memorial services held for his wife in the Farm Street Church.

Only a score of friends attended the services. They were mostly American actors and actresses.

Jack, accompanied by Owen Moore, divorced husband of Mary Pickford, knelt at the rear of the church during the services, stricken with grief.

CALGARY PROTESTS NEW FREIGHT RATES

CALGARY, Alta., Sept. 14. — Calgary will protest and request for an appeal against the new freight rates with the application of the city of Winnipeg, if a recommendation made by the transportation committee of the Board of Trade yesterday is adopted by the Board.

The fact that the chairman of the Railway Board has admitted that the increase is greater than is necessary for the Canadian Pacific Railway and the fact that freight rates are higher in Western than in Eastern Canada makes a revision of the Railway Commission's decision imperative if justice is to be done to the west, was the opinion expressed by the transportation committee in urging the Board of Trade Council to take action. If Calgary should take the matter up the Board will doubtless request the Winnipeg Board to act for this city, as they did at the recent hearing in Ottawa.

Berlin scientists have found that yeast, besides being useful in bread and beer, can be made to produce flavoring extracts, a muscle building tonic and a noninflammable substitute for celluloid.

AT THE MOVIES

Mary Miles Minter differs slightly from the little girl with the curl, for when she is good she is very very good, and when she is bad—but she never is bad. Even so in "Jenny be Good" at the Imperial the first part of this week. She is a little better than usual.

In the fast-moving comedy drama of Newport life little Jenny at her home in Tranquility dreams of a prince with golden boots. So, when Tranquility Towers, the fashionable summer resort, springs up, financed by a millionaire climber whose son meets and makes love to Jenny, it would seem as though her dreams had been realized. But the course of true love is rougher than usual in this case, for his family send him to Europe on the "Golden Fleece," annul the secret marriage, and persuade him to marry the ultra-fashionable girl who believes that a new motor each year is more amusing than children.

Her addiction to drugs leads him a pretty chase, ending in a dramatic accident in which she is killed and he is expected to die. But the unexpected happens and Jenny, who has run true to form all this time,—well, see it and judge for yourself.

The rest of the bill is well supported by Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven in one of their inevitable "newly-wed" farces entitled "In a Pinch," and a slap-stick but really amusing reel which might be called anything if it were not known as "Hicks and Vamps." This latter is the first Canadian-made film comedy and indicates what big possibilities the Canadian field holds for work of this sort.

* * *

Large crowds have already taken advantage of the popular prices offering at the Holman theatre to view the much talked-of and widely advertised "Devil's Pass Key," which is being shown there for the first part of this week.

The film itself deals with Paris, the home of fashion—and other things. The play is founded on the story of the same name by the Baroness de Coterges, and deals with the fortunes of a young English author and his wife, and those of an attache at the American Consulate in the French capital.

As the author, Sam De Grass plays a difficult part with skill, and Una Trevelyn, as his wife, upholds her already excellent reputation as a skilled actress. How Una becomes intangled in the mash of a fashion-house mistress's web, and her subsequent adventures with the young American, form the main part of the play. The husband, reading of her doings in a cheap society rag, produces a play which sets similar clandestine affairs before the Parisian public. When he finds out what he has done and that all Paris is laughing at him he takes steps to bring dire punishment on the head of the pair who he believes to have destroyed his happiness and success. In spite of tragic incidents, the film comes to the seemingly inevitable happy ending.

* * *

The dramatic possibilities of Monte Carlo are utilized this week in the New Grand film, "Passion's Playground," whose plat, like that of the majority of screen plays, is adapted from a popular novel. Kate Macdonald as Mary Grant is a docile convent pupil, who, when she leaves the confines of St. Ursula's, is urged by new acquaintances to accompany them to Monte Carlo. While there she tries her luck, and to the astonishment of all she plays like an old gambler, an inheritance she has received from her father who was a skilled professional. She breaks the bank, and her new wealth attracts numerous clever tricksters, from whose toils she is rescued by the opportune advent of the hero, an Italian prince.

The plot is complicated by the similarity of the heroine's name to that of another pupil of the convent who created some scandal when she eloped with a married man, but the play ends happily. A Christie comedy is also ineluded in the bill, besides Canadian Current Events and the usual musical programme.

About 200 delegates are expected. Right Hon. Lord Desborough, K.C.V.C., president of the Congress, will be present. Among the many resolutions which will be up for discussion is one advocating the establishment of an Imperial air fleet and an all-red route of aeroplanes and airships around the British Empire.

WOMAN FRUSTRATES ATTEMPT AT WRECK

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(Star Special.—An alleged attempt to cause a wreck on the Fulton street line of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company was frustrated by a woman today.

The woman informed the police she saw two men driving a spike in a switch at a point where the elevated structure is fifty feet above the street. Policemen removed the spike just before a train crossed the switch. The men, whom towermen believed to be track-walkers, escaped.

The police refused to make public the woman's name, saying they feared reprisal from strikers.

By the way, Mr. Editor, what are the other organizations doing re the affiliation scheme?

ADRIFT FIVE DAYS IN LITTLE DORY

Wakefield Fisherman Has Harrowing Experience on Atlantic

HALIFAX, Sept. 14.—(Star Special)—"It is all in a fisherman's life," said Fred Wilson, of Wakefield, Mass. last evening, when questioned about the five days he spent on the Atlantic in a dory, during which time he drifted and rowed about seventy miles and was picked up by one of the life saving crews on Sable Island. Wilson was brought to the city by the C. G. S. Lady Laurier when she returned from Sable Island and left for his home this morning.

Wilson spent over five days in the open boat without food, and when picked up at Sable Island was somewhat exhausted. He was a member of the crew of the Boston schooner Commonwealth, engaged in both salt and fresh water fishing. They were on the banks about three weeks when Wilson got astray from his vessel early on the morning of August 25th. Wilson had been assisting in setting the trawl and lost sight of the vessel in the dense fog that set in. For five days and nights he rowed and drifted about in the open dory, clad in his oilskins. During this period he encountered a variety of weather.

The vessel was fishing on the Quero Banks at the time, and Sable Island was about 70 miles to the west. There was no food in the dory and the water supply soon gave out and Wilson used his oil hat to catch water when it rained. About noon on Monday August 30th, when near Sable Island there was a heavy sea running and he got to within two miles off the east light. The crew of number 4 life saving station saw him and the life boat was sent to rescue him. On reaching the Island, Wilson was well cared for, and he speaks highly of their kindness. The Lady Laurier also brought the dory in which Wilson had his thrilling experience.
