

Apple Growers Hold Field Day at Franklin Thursday

Members of Quebec Pomological Society Present From All Parts of Province

Testifying to the interest which the fruit grower has in his particular industry, Franklin, Que., was the scene of a motor cavalcade of growers from many parts of the province on Thursday. The meeting place was at Mr. Gerald Beaudin's orchard and packing house, and sharp at 10 a.m. the various members of the Pomological and Fruit Growing Society of the Province of Quebec began arriving. There was no registration of the members so we can only guess at the number present, but we would say there were between 150 to 200 persons. Most of these were from outside points and included a number from religious orders. There were both French and English speaking growers and to facilitate and speed the program each was given their respective language groups and the talks were given simultaneously in the two languages.

After the members had assembled, they were led by Mr. Beaudin to one of his orchards where spraying and dusting demonstrations were given. Some of these were for commercial purposes and advertising different machines, while one was showing the dusting method used by Mr. Beaudin so successfully this year. His crop was particularly free from scab and he attributed this to his method of spraying during the growing season. He explained to those present that there was some scab in his orchards, but it was very little compared to reports received from some other parts of the province. One part of this orchard was shown to the visitors as having been grafted for McIntosh apples some 15 to 20 years ago. In those days the trees were planted in almost any fashion, thus they were not in the orderly rows to be found in the other parts of the orchard. Mr. Beaudin said a little scab would be found on those trees as they had not been able to use the spraying machine in that part of the orchard and had to spray by hand methods. Most of those present were interested in the method of grafting. The trees in this orchard were for the most part well laden with fruit, but the crop it is estimated will be much less than last year.

Following this demonstration the whole party adjourned to the orchard of F. D. Stevenson, where a picnic lunch was enjoyed. At the time of arrival at this point the weather was taking on a change and rain was threatening. Not long after arrival rain began to fall and forced those who were enjoying their lunch on the lawn to hurriedly gather up everything and get into their cars. As soon as the shower passed a demonstration of several different types of spray machines was given, but before this was over rain again fell and threatened to spoil the whole meeting. It was intended that the various speeches would be held in the open, but the French speaking group went into one packing house and the English speaking group went into another. Needless to say these houses were very much overcrowded and soon became quite warm.

Mr. Floyd Stevenson was the first speaker and he spoke on the possibilities of a good crop from the various orchards in the district, due to number and type of the sprays given the trees. He said that the apple growers in that district had decided to use their own method of spraying dependent upon their knowledge of previous bad years, therefore there was no standardized method of spraying used although the general principle was about the same. In his orchard scab first became apparent around June 18th, but it was mostly on the foliage and not so much on the fruit. He had used nine different sprays and one oil spray to the present time. The control of scab depended upon the spraying and the time it was done, in his opinion. Mr. Stevenson outlined the various spray mixtures he had used and the dates he used them. He also said that bees were present during the bloom season for the proper pollination and for the trees to bear real good fruit. It was therefore necessary that certain sprays not be used when the bees and other certain insects were in the orchards.

Mr. C. E. Petch spoke after Mr. Stevenson and he disagreed with him on some of his ideas regarding the use of sprays. He felt that soil had a lot to do with scab control and found that there was less scab on gravel soils than on other types. He felt that mild sulphur does just as good a job as the lime sulphur in spraying. He said the whole thing that concerned the growers was the cost and that if less sprays could be used, the greater would be the return to the grower. The main part of control methods was getting the proper material on at the proper time. He explained that this year he had used an airplane for spraying and his crop had a real bad attack of scab. It was an unsatisfactory method in many ways, but under different conditions it may be proved to be the right one. He believed that in 1946 this method would have been entirely satisfactory. No year has any connection with another year as far as scab is concerned. Weather conditions enter as a factor into it. To spray during the bloom period tends to reduce the crop. He stated that he would not advocate the use of D.D.T. for spraying as there are many reactions that have been noted and for the present it should be out. More will have to be learned about D.D.T. before it is successful for spraying purposes.

Several questions were asked of both speakers and an almost general discussion took place on many points of interest to the growers present.

The rain had cleared again at this point, so the gathering left the packing house and went out on to the lawn to listen to Mr. Wm. Tawse give a talk on the marketing of the 1947 apple crop. The French section listened to Mr. J. E. Duchesne give a talk in the French language on the same subject. The following was the talk given by Mr. Tawse and some very interesting facts were brought out:

How Shall we Sell the Apple Crop?
Canadian Apple Growers are faced with a marketing problem due to the huge crop of some 22 million bushels produced in Great Britain this year, and their austere program to conserve their dollar exchange. Britain does not require (Continued on page 7)

Amphibian Plane Flies Too Near Boat at Fraser's Pt.

Just Passes Over Heads of Three Occupants of Rowboat Barely Missing Them

In these days we get used to hearing of automobile accidents and other accidents on the ground, but accidents involving aeroplanes with things on the ground are not so common. On Friday, August 26, a small amphibian plane, owned by Fraser's Point, near Winfrey's Island, it has become a practice at this part of the lake for amphibian planes to land on the water and take up passengers for a trip around the district. Thus it was on Friday that two such planes from the Fawcett Planes Co., Cornwall, Ont., were doing just this.

As we said above, people are not yet used to this sort of thing and are perhaps not as wary as otherwise would be the case. However, three men were out in a boat fishing near Winfrey's Island, when one of the planes took off (the amphibian) and beside the swell caused by the propellers which almost overturned the boat, the plane in lifting almost struck the boat and the occupants. The three men were trolling at the time and one, a guide, was handling the controls of the outboard motor. The man at the motor was so frightened that he gave the operating handle such a sudden jerk that he broke it off; one trolling line was broken and two others lost, as the wing of the plane swept over the heads of the men. The boat of course was out of control for some minutes and all the men were badly scared and shaken. Fortunately no one was injured and the boat was kept up. The men were guests at Winfrey's Island and were: Mr. Eddie Payer and his son George of New York and the guide was Alex. Lazore of St. Regis, and they were just out from the island and opposite Fraser's Point when the affair took place.

The accident was reported to the R.C.M.P. at Huntingdon, and Opl.

Dobbs investigated the matter. The pilot of the plane claims he did not see the boat or the men. There were several other boats nearby when it happened.

Just what the law is on such aeroplane landings and take-offs, we do not know, but it would seem that special precautions should be taken to prevent possible accidents when people are using the place for fishing and boating, etc. Certain points should be marked where these planes are liable to land and take off and all persons with boats, etc., should be kept out of the area. It is fortunate that on this occasion more serious consequences did not develop. These men might have been injured or drowned and through no fault of their own. It is also possible that the people in the plane could have become victims of a wreck.

Mrs. Smallman Arrives in England

A cablegram has been received by Mr. Chas. Smallman of Dundee, Que., that his wife, Mrs. Smallman, has arrived safely in Dorking, England. Mrs. Smallman was met by her cousins, Sir James and Lady Nuthall and is remaining for a short time at their home in Dorking before proceeding to the Associated Country Women of the World Conference in Amsterdam, Holland. On Sunday afternoon, Sept. 24, Mrs. Smallman left by T.C.A. plane from Dorval at 6.30. She was accompanied to the airport by members of her family and friends from Macdonald College. A telegram was received from the Sherbrooke County Women's Institutes with best wishes for a pleasant journey and a safe return home.

Will Operate Car Drivers' Training School

Montreal will shortly be endowed with a new automobile drivers' training school to be carried out by the Quebec Automobile Drivers' Training Institute under the auspices of the Province of Quebec Safety League.

The course, comprising ten lessons with a special questionnaire attached to each, will not only cover the theoretical side of good driving but will hold practical demonstrations throughout the city under the eagle eye of an experienced teacher. This latter part occupying at least three quarters of the entire course.

At the close of each lesson all students will have an oral examination, the whole leading to a final examination at the conclusion of the course, the successful candidate being awarded a diploma certifying as to knowledge gained.

The proposed course will cover, in sequence, the following subjects: the driver's qualifications; mechanism of the automobile; electricity; starting and shifting gears; driving; brakes and braking; traffic laws; car maintenance; driver's responsibilities; car defects, engine failure, etc.

It is planned to have a car on blocks with hood wide open so that each student can more easily familiarize himself with the moving parts of the car.

All lecturers are holders of diplomas gained under the course conducted by Professor Amos E. Neyhart of the U.S.A.

The League is taking steps to request the Government that it be made compulsory for all new drivers to produce a diploma from the school while it is also being thought advisable to organize similar courses in the more important centres of the Province. The course will be prepared in English before the end of the present year.

Fisher Lawn Bowling Tournament

Valleyfield Rink Makes High Score

The M. B. Fisher Lawn Bowling Tournament was held on the Huntingdon Lawn Bowling greens on Saturday. The hot day with a brisk breeze did not mar the enjoyment of the afternoon and evening pleasures. Five rinks from Valleyfield, one from Ormstown and six from Huntingdon competed. Two games of 10 ends each were played in the afternoon and a 16 end game in the evening. The greens were in good condition and borrowing the full width of the greens were quite in order for the day. Bowls ran with ease and bowlers who had not been practising a lot found it difficult to control their lengths.

Jack McAlpine and his rink were awarded the top prize of the day, having scored three wins and a plus score of 30. In "spider competition" held at the close of the tournament Jack McAlpine also won the prize. Billy Brown, the famous lawn bowler and curler of Montreal was in Huntingdon visiting with his son Mr. H. Brown. Mr. Brown favoured the bowlers with his presence and skipped a Huntingdon rink composed of E. C. Martin, F. G. Braithwaite and his son Harold. As a result of their three games they scored three wins with a plus score of 16, thereby winning the second prize. Mr. Brown, in addressing the bowlers, said the greens were in much better condition than he had anticipated and on the whole felt they compared quite favourably with many greens in the city. Though Mr. Brown was the lone Montreal bowler present he assured the Club he would do what he could to encourage Montreal bowlers to participate in this tournament in 1948.

Mr. C. Mayoh, of Valleyfield, expressed the thanks of the visiting bowlers for the pleasure provided through the Huntingdon Club in holding the annual Martin B. Fisher Lawn Bowling tournament. Messrs. Joe Taylor, C. Mayoh, Fred Moore and Scherf bowled as what the Valleyfield Club termed the "Old Men's Team". The aggregate ages of these four gentlemen represented 287 years. Mr. Moore, the eldest, we understand is 86 years. This rink won two games and lost one with an aggregate plus 10 score.

Special thanks are in order for the Ormstown four Lawn Bowling enthusiasts, viz: W. G. McGerrigle, Leslie Ross, Wm. Finlayson and Dr. W. S. McLaren. These men have not had an opportunity to bowl this season as Ormstown is presently without a green, yet they entered the tournament and when drawn against Billy Brown, Mr. McGerrigle showed his old fighting spirit. Though the game was 7 to 0 before he scored a point, McGerrigle kept on plugging away and at the end of the game the score stood 12 to 11 for Billy Brown.

The tournament results were: J. McAlpine, plus 30; Billy Brown, plus 16; Joe Taylor, plus 10; W. Colquhoun, plus 5; W. Baldwin, plus 5; W. G. McGerrigle, plus 5; Harry Whitehead, plus 4; Alex. Fawcett, - 4; Arthur Spivey, - 10; A. L. Sellar, - 11; J. R. Fox, - 14; J. Holmes, - 26.

THE GIRLS HAVE THEIR PICNIC AT PORT LEWIS

MEXICAN HATS HERE

Vancouver, (CP)—Symbol of the growing trade and commerce between this country and Mexico is the increasing use of straw sombreros by Canadian farmers. Felix Bezaury, Mexican manufacturer who visited here, said the hats are made from the same fibre as those worn by toilers in the Mexican fields.

Banks Close Hour Earlier Saturdays

9 to 11 a.m. Operation Planned as Staff Benefit

Effective Saturday, Sept. 6, banking hours throughout Canada on Saturday with a few exceptions, will be from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., replacing the current hours of 9.30 a.m. to 12 noon in most places. It was indicated yesterday by spokesmen at the Montreal head offices of various banks.

Only exceptions to the Saturday change will be in a few scattered small centres throughout the Dominion where Wednesday afternoon has become an established half holiday for bankers. In those centres the banks will probably operate as usual on Saturdays.

The bank spokesmen said the 11 a.m. closing hour had been decided upon to enable bank staffs to have a full Saturday afternoon. Speaking with the managers of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and Bank of Montreal, here in Huntingdon, both said that their banks would start the new hours on Saturday, September 6th. It is expected that other branches of banks in the Chateaugay Valley will also come under the new hours. It will be necessary to bear this in mind and remember that the banks will close one hour earlier on Saturdays.

NEW SURGICAL WING

WINNIPEG (CP)—A new $270,000 surgical wing at Grace hospital here was recently opened by Hon. R. F. McWilliams, Lieutenant-governor of Manitoba. It was suggested that the wing be named the "Patton Wing" for Brig. Pearl Patton, Salvation Army superintendent at the hospital.

JOB FOR WILLOWS

To see a group of kids in the lower teen-age brackets lounging around with cigars in their lips, conversing in language usually reserved for staff-sergeants, leaves us with a particularly low view of the stuff they're selling now pants to nowadays. If more parents were on the job, we could make quite a business out of that new crop of willows sprouting on the marsh out at Wayside.—Perth (Ont.) Courier.

Chatham, N.B. (CP)—The prospect of entering University of New Brunswick next month doesn't worry Stig Harvor, 18, who knew practically no English when he joined Grade 9 of Chatham Grammar School after arriving from his native Finland two years ago. He led the 1947 graduating class and was valedictorian.

Red Cross to Install First Aid Posts on Highways

To be Used to Aid in Accidents and Reduce Suffering

The Canadian Red Cross is adding another feature to its extensive peacetime programme in the Province of Quebec.

The new branch of Red Cross work in Quebec is highway protection in case of accidents. Already already been set up by the Red Cross, and others will follow.

The supplies for the new highway first-aid posts are placed in a container near the highway and clearly marked so that motorists can get medicines, bandages, disinfectants and other first-aid materials. For a considerable distance in either direction there are arrows to point to the first-aid depot and to tell motorists how far they are from it.

The Red Cross branch at Matane is doing pioneer service in the new highway first-aid venture. Matane is roughly half way between Quebec City and Gaspé, on a route that is world-famous for scenery and consequently much-travelled.

Later, it is hoped, such highway first-aid posts will dot the extensive highways of the Province. But for the time being a modest beginning has been made... so that experience may be gained and applied to the wider application of first-aid on Quebec highways.

In Quebec the particularly rigorous climate and the great expanses of unpopulated highway have meant special problems in carrying out the Red Cross plan. For example, the containers have to rest on a solid base that will stand up to rough weather.

And in Quebec each of the signs indicating where the nearest Red Cross first-aid post is located must be in both languages. Even the equipment and materials contained in the booth itself are labelled in both languages. Directions to aid an amateur in his first-aid work while he is waiting for a doctor are printed in both French and English.

The Red Cross takes the view that the alleviation of suffering and the prevention of complications that might result from neglected injuries following highway accidents are clearly a part of the Society's duty to Canadians in the years to come. No one can say how many lives may be saved by the timely use of these new Red Cross depots in these days of crowded highways and frequent accidents.

Quebec Government Trying To Obtain Radio Station

Will Demand Rights From Federal Government in Broadcasting Field

Quebec, (CP)—Quebec's campaign to obtain from the Dominion government its own radio broadcasting station, a campaign started by the province's National administration in 1945, gained momentum during the week following a press conference by Premier Maurice Duplessis.

The premier, just back from a short vacation in the United States, asserted that his government would continue to demand its rights "in the field of radio broadcasting and we shall, to this end, use all opportunities, constitutional and legal means at our disposal, convinced that we are claiming back our rights, that we are claiming back at the same time that of other provinces."

He was bitter over the stand taken in this field by federal authorities—Alberta, Saskatchewan and Quebec were refused broadcasting licences—and charged that nobody of good will could claim that freedom of speech existed in Canada because of the "unreasonable and unjust" policy.

Although he did not elaborate on his government's intentions or plans in this connection, he said that he refused to accept such an arbitrary and unjust ruling as a definite one.

But as the press conference was coming to a close, the premier made his first attack on the federal policy and also disclosed the discovery in Northern Abitibi of a radio broadcasting station owned and be-

Girls Guests of Rotary Club At Picnic at Port Lewis

Spend Wonderful Afternoon in Swimming, Boating, Games and Sports of All Kinds

On Thursday afternoon, the members of the Huntingdon Rotary Club and the Rotary Anns were hosts to about 50 girls between the ages of 6 and 14 at a picnic at Port Lewis. Mr. Stan Liversidge was in charge of the sporting events and the organization of the girls for boat rides, etc.

The girls were transported from the Empire Garage to the summer homes of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Cleyn and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. S. McNair in the bus owned by Mr. Noel Poley and cars of various Rotary members. The bus was provided free for the occasion, and thanks are due Mr. Foley for the use of same. Upon arrival at the lake, the girls were allowed to have a swim and then the games were started. There were treasure hunts, races and games of all kinds. The winners of the races were as follows:

Ages 6 to 7: Muriel Lennox, Sandra Phillips, Jovette Primeau, Ages 8 to 9: Muriel Parent, Rose Lalonde, Dorothy Helm, Ages 10, 11, 12, first group: Irene Robitoux, Norma Beare, Marian Laberge; ages 10, 11, 12, second group: Marilyn Martin, Shirley Elder, Marie

Jean Patenaude, Ages 13 to 14: Susan Varin, Denise Galtpeau, Mona Antoine.

The following supplied the boats on the lake: W. Boyd, Don Ross, Westmont Rotary; H. MacLean and Tom Vine.

Mrs. Mae O'Connor made a donation of $5.00 toward the prizes and Mr. Tremblay, Bridge Sweets Cafe, Doug Fortune, Corner News and Lunch, gave boxes of chocolate bars while Messrs. W. E. Lefebvre gave chocolates. These were divided among the girls during the afternoon.

The refreshments consisting of hot dogs and soft drinks were served on the premises of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. S. McNair and needless to say all the girls had a real good time.

It was another splendid treat for the young folks of Huntingdon and thanks are due the Rotary Club Members and their wives as well as those who helped in other ways for the success of the affair. Mr. Liversidge, who is on holiday at this time gladly attended the picnic to assist in organizing the girls so that they might get the best out of the afternoon.

Gerry Philbin Home After Seeking Missing Airmen

Looking slightly older, but still fit enough to step out on the ice and throw the healthy body checks for which he was famous among a standout defenceman with Valleyfield, Lafontaine, Verdun and the R.C.A.P. the year it won the Allan Cup, Sqdn-Ldr. G. B. "Gerry" Philbin, D.F.C., has returned to Canada after 22 months in Europe with the R.C.A.F. Missing Research and Enquiry Bureau.

After further treatment in England he was repatriated to Canada and flew with No. 9 Transport Group from Rockcliffe near Ottawa. Then came his second posting overseas.

Exactly one year after debarking from the Ile de France at Halifax he mounted the gangplank of the same ship on his way to Europe as a member of the bureau, which was to seek out the hundreds of Canadian fliers who had been reported missing presumed dead, and to investigate each case and establish death.

He went first to Copenhagen where he commanded a unit of some dozen all ranks, including seven Canadians, and later moved his headquarters to the Hague where he had a staff of 35 air force and 16 army personnel. He covered more than 50,000 miles by car and estimates that the unit identified approximately 18,000 bodies, some of which have been interred for years.

He is now spending his 30 days disembarkation leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Philbin of Valleyfield, and expects to receive his discharge from the Air Force soon in Ottawa.

Large Number Specials For H'don Fair

Softball Under Lights May be Special Feature

Huntingdon Fair is a bare two weeks away and from all reports there will be many improvements in this year's show. Apart from the usual exhibits which we understand will be more than for some years past, there will be a greater number of special prizes to be won. The Kiwanis are sponsoring a special class for the boys and girls in showmanship and judging.

A good midway is to be on hand and there will be several rides for the children. It is hoped that patrons will boost the attendance to the fair on both days as there will be two softball games each day with a final to be played on Friday and a trophy offered to the winner. It is expected that the floodlights will be in operation for the fair so that some games will be played under the lights. The diamond is being fitted ready for play and this should prove a first class attraction this year. It is expected that music will be available for both days of the fair and the usual dance will be held on Friday night to wind up the two days that have been planned. Meals will be served in the dining hall so that no one need go hungry.

There will be some industrial exhibits at the fair this year that have not been seen here for some years. Among these will be an exhibit of electrical goods and merchandise by Mr. S. J. Currie. It is expected that the Shawinigan, Water & Power Co. will also have an exhibit and there may be others by Fair Time. An exhibit of special interest to the farmers will be the Seaman Tiller, which completes the seedbed. In one operation under average conditions, this will be seen working at the Fair.

The main thing is to get your entries in as early as possible and for all to plan to be in attendance and give Huntingdon's Fair its biggest boost in years. Greater interest will build a bigger and better Fair.

Softball at Ormstown Labour Day

Teams From All Parts of Province Expected

The chief attraction for Labour Day, Monday, September 1st, as far as the Chateaugay Valley goes seems to be the big softball tournament at Ormstown. This is an annual event that has attracted a large attendance every year since it was started. This year's big days would seem to be no exception to the rule as teams from all over the province are expected to be present and take part in the contests.

These teams will be composed of both girls' and men's club and will be local as well as from farther afield. Huntingdon showed up well in last year's tournament as also did the Dundee girls. It is expected that there will be entries from both these points as well as from many others.

Softball fans may be assured of some good games and in the evening the games will be played under the lights, which always seems to add much to this attraction.

The officials have planned everything for the enjoyment of the patrons and you can do no better than plan to spend some time at Ormstown on Labour Day.

Apple Growing Important

IN the midst of this great dairy farming district in the Chateauguay Valley, we are perhaps apt to forget that we have another important side of the agricultural industry...

But what struck us most of all was the fact that the people interested in this particular branch of agriculture were anxious to know more about their industry and were willing to travel many miles to do so.

Points brought out at the meet were that Great Britain does not want the Canadian apple crop this year and although the crop is estimated to be much less than last year...

In these days of promotion sales, all types of farmers are loath to spend money on the promotion of their products and this group of apple growers proved no exception to the rule.

Advertising or promotion tends to create the desire to buy the product so promoted and it was pointed out that an attempt in this direction tried last year, had beneficial results for all growers.

As in the dairy industry the herd must be built up to produce the best in quality at the lowest possible price to the consumer, so must the apple grower tend his orchards with the same idea in view.

There is no doubt that the apple growers in this district have a nice business, but it will pay them to study the market problems presented to them in order to obtain the best results in return for their efforts.

Crisis in England

IT is hard to visualize what conditions must be like in England today, when the people are facing a further tightening of their belts and when they are being told what to work at and where.

Now two years after the war, they are asked to live on even less than they had before, and to produce more as well as work longer hours.

The suggestion has been made that each province in Canada could help the people of Britain by sending a shipload of its products without charge whatsoever, as a contribution toward the recovery of this brave and uncomplaining nation.

It is hard for a large number of people in this Dominion to hear all the stories about Britain and to see it tottering on the edge of a precipice, so to speak, without extending the helping hand to try and prevent its destruction.

There is a growing realization that, for Canada, aid to Britain and continental Europe must be considered, not as philanthropy, but as necessary expenditures for the benefit of our own economy.

There is considerable interest here in the proposed visit to Canada in the first week of September of the Legislative Yuan Mission.

The Chinese Mission of four leading public figures is also in the nature of a goodwill visit for the promotion of friendship and better understanding between the peoples of China and Canada.

Observers here are watching closely the developing and crystallizing of public opinion with respect to the need of agreement of all provinces in the tax arrangements necessary to ensure the full program proposed by the federal government for social security and public welfare.

Man's eyes are turned to British Columbia where a laundry labour union at Nanaimo, Vancouver Island, is being prosecuted, as a responsible entity, for violation of labor laws.

Both economic and political liberty are necessary if we are to continue our progress to prosperity and happiness. It is recognized by all who believe in liberty that the rule of law must be maintained.

But this is not all — new laws must be made to meet new conditions in order that the freedom of the individual is always protected.

Kipling As A Prophet

By Lewis Milligan

Do you remember those copybook headings in neat, flowing script type which we laborers in vain to imitate in our penmanship lessons at school?

But that by the way. What I started to write about was a poem by Rudyard Kipling entitled "The Gods of the Copybook Headings."

Passing through the process of evolution from simian ancestry to the "March of Mankind," the poet traces the conflict between the Gods of the Market-Place—presumably the soap-box orators—with the Gods of the Copybook Headings who represent the fundamental facts of human life.

They promised perpetual peace. They swore, if we gave them our weapons, That the wars of the tribes would cease.

As surely as water will wet us, As surely as fire will burn, The Gods of the Copybook Headings with terror and slaughter return!

The Nation's Business

The assurance given by Finance Minister Abbott last week that the surprise move by the British government to prohibit the privilege or right of converting sterling exchange into dollars has quietened the fears that were being expressed in many circles here.

Two Approaches — Two approaches are put forward — the first — socialization — is easy to state and has many superficial arguments.

Prices and Costs — Speaking in the House many on the government side sought to emphasize that farm prices have risen to favorable heights with production supported by various subsidies.

Two Measures — In the debates which have taken place in the House of Commons during the past six weeks and in the measures carried by the government majority, a pretty clear picture has emerged as to what Canadian farmers must be governed by for some years to come.

By-Lateral Trend — That federation at the moment is being established under the policies mentioned above, the wheat and marketing legislation carried by the Beef to Britain — Further investigation shows that 14,561,000 lbs. of beef have been exported from Canada up to August 9. Further heavy shipments are expected.

Time For Decision

By George W. James, The Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville, Ont. (Article No. 8)

One of the first concerns of the press that serves rural Canada is to support the interests of the people who make up the rural community, the farmers and the citizen of the small towns.

Rural Press — The rural press has two valuable sources of information from which to assemble facts and views to pass on to its readers, namely Hansard, the official records of the House of Commons, and the daily and weekly papers from coast to coast.

Two Measures — In the debates which have taken place in the House of Commons during the past six weeks and in the measures carried by the government majority, a pretty clear picture has emerged as to what Canadian farmers must be governed by for some years to come.

By-Lateral Trend — That federation at the moment is being established under the policies mentioned above, the wheat and marketing legislation carried by the able to accumulate a surplus of savings in the nature of net profit.

Savings Gone — That conclusion is challenged most emphatically by the majority who slaved during war on family farms. By the time farm buildings have been repaired, fences set right, new machinery bought, weeds eradicated, soil rehabilitated, indeed the whole plant brought back to a state of farm respectability, let alone a bathtub and new electric comforts, every dollar set aside will have been spent and very likely more must be borrowed for current capital.

Faith and Loyalty — But farmers are not "glooming" about it. What they want is a restoration of freedom and a national policy that will permit prices sufficient for maintaining solvency and a decent standard of living.

RECIPES

"In the good old days". Beginning with these words, grandmother recounts the parties she used to have and the gay songs she used to sing on such occasions; how she used to bring out one or two of the many bottles of catsup which she had made so that it might be liberally served at parties; and how one day she felt very badly and quite like Old Mother Hubbard, because when she went to her cupboard there was no catsup left.

Catsup is still one of the popular ways of using the tomato out of season, but it has many competitors in the popularity contest, including tomato juice, canned tomatoes, tomato juice and soup, chili sauce, etc.

Fortunate indeed we Canadians are to have this variety of tomato products, but naturally at this time of year interest centres on the fresh, juicy, vine-ripened tomatoes. They taste so good and are so good. The common complaint is that the fresh tomato season is too short and that is why, in many homes, tomatoes appear at every meal for the few weeks when they are abundant.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, suggest recipes for tomato dishes they have recently tested and found to their liking. They also give you their recommended methods for making tomato juice.

Tomato Mint Salad

- 1 slice onion
- 6 medium tomatoes
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped mint leaves
- 3 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1/2 cup finely diced cucumber

Rub salad bowl with slice of onion. Peel and slice tomatoes and place with chopped mint in the bowl.

Mix oil, vinegar, seasonings and sugar well together. Add diced cucumber. Pour over tomatoes. Chill thoroughly to allow flavours to blend. Serve on crisp slices of head lettuce. Six servings.

Cucumber Creole

- 2 large cucumbers (approx. 8-9 inches long)
- 1/4 cup mild-flavored fat
- 3 cups chopped fresh tomatoes
- OR 2 cups canned tomatoes
- 2 green peppers (cut in thin strips)
- Salt and pepper to taste

Wash and pare cucumbers. Cut in quarters lengthwise and remove seeds. Cut in fingers about 1/2" x 3". Melt fat in pan and saute cucumber until browned. Remove to serving dish and keep warm.

Add tomatoes and green pepper to pan, cover and cook slowly 15 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Pour over hot cucumbers and serve. Six servings.

Tomato Juice

- 1. Wash tomatoes, remove core, cut into pieces. Bring to boil and boil, covered, five minutes. Press through sieve or purer. Bring juice to boiling point. Pour into clean hot containers leaving 1/2-inch head-space in glass sealers and 1/4-inch in plain tin cans. Add 1 teaspoon salt per quart.

ANSWERS TO FREQUENT QUESTIONS

Q: What is pyorrhea?
A: Pyorrhea is a disease involving the gums and the membrane which fastens the teeth in the jaw and the bone surrounding the tooth roots. Ordinarily, pyorrhea does not affect children, but it is more or less common among adults.

Pyorrhea may start out harmlessly enough as a minor irritation of the gums. This irritation may be caused by many things: improper brushing, the presence of tartar deposits, the careless use of tooth-picks, malocclusion or crookedness of the teeth, the presence of poorly placed fillings, poorly fitting crowns and bridges and traumatic occlusion. The term "traumatic occlusion" is used by dentists to describe a condition in which the teeth fail to come together properly, resulting in undue stress on certain teeth. Generally, pyorrhea is caused by one of these local conditions, although it can be the result of certain systemic diseases.

Perhaps one of the most prevalent causes of pyorrhea is the presence of tartar deposits about the necks of the teeth. If these deposits are allowed to remain undisturbed, they grow larger and, in growing, they press the gums. This causes the gums to become irritated and, in time, the injured tissue becomes infected. The gums recede from about the necks of the teeth and a pyorrhea pocket forms. Food and bacteria lodge in the pocket and further irritation, inflammation and infection result. As the pocket grows deeper, the teeth become loose, pus is formed and more tissue is destroyed. Eventually, of course, if the condition is not treated, the teeth are lost.

Pyorrhea can be cured in its early stages. After it progresses to the pus stage, it can only be checked and controlled. Any irritation about the necks of the teeth, and ready bleeding of a portion of the gum, should be checked immediately by a dentist and the cause determined.

Printing on Medicine Bottles

Labels have an unfortunate habit of coming off medicine bottles and tubes, so that the owner is ignorant of the contents. This annoyance will be prevented in the future by the application of a new British discovery. A printing machine has been constructed which will print direct on to glass, porcelain or metal. Whether the container be square or round is immaterial, the machine prints the contents in indelible letters. This discovery is regarded as of particular importance in medical circles, for the loss of a label from a medicine bottle in some cases can prove highly dangerous.

Aubrey - Riverfield

In Riverfield Church Hall, from August 18th to 23rd, a Bible Vacation School was carried on by Rev. and Mrs. W. C. McBride. This was a new venture in this community and really was a fine success. There were 25 members enrolled, children from 3 years to 15 years old, with an average attendance of 20. The school was held each morning from 9.15 to 10 o'clock, with a recess at 10.30. There were periods of singing choruses, Bible study, learning choruses, Scripture passages, Bible verses and a work period for the primary class, when they sewed Scripture text cards and colored pictures. On Saturday night, instead of the usual concert, the closing exercises of Bible School were held, when the children went through the work they had been doing during the week, sang their choruses and hymns with the audience joining in on the familiar ones. Rev. Mr. McBride also gave an interesting talk. At the close of the program.

The meeting opened with hymn 760, "Gentle Jesus, Meek and Mild", and the roll call was responded to by 19 members. Turpentine Oldest Ingredient of Paint

One of the cheapest and most widely taken-for-granted paint materials — turpentine — is also one of the oldest and most consistently used of all such products, with a history that stretches back into antiquity and which makes a lot of modern paint, varnish and lacquer materials appear like babes-in-arms by comparison.

The ancient Egyptians used turpentine—but there is nothing to prove that they were by any means the original users. Turpentine was well known throughout the middle ages and has been widely used ever since. In a way, it had a bearing on the opening up of North America because one of the reasons King James of England had for the colonization of Virginia was that the colony would provide an additional source of turpentine for the Royal Navy.

Today, everybody who has ever lifted a paint brush probably is thoroughly familiar with turpentine as a lowly but quite important part of most types of paints. Yet few people who know its smell, its uses and its qualities know how it is made. Nevertheless, in the comparative simplicity of its manufacture and in its ready availability, turpentine is almost unique in the paint industry.

Other materials which go into paint manufacture come from widely-scattered places and, in many cases, as the result of carefully controlled chemical processes. The products of countries in every part of the world, plus the scientific and technical knowledge of a great many people are all wrapped up in a can of paint. Compared with the intricacies of paint formulation, turpentine is easy.

Actually, though, there isn't just one kind of turpentine, there are four: gum spirits, steam distilled wood, destructively distilled wood, and sulphate turpentine. Gum turpentine, or gum spirits, is obtained from long leaf pine forests, mostly found in the southern part of the United States. The trees are slashed and the oleo-resin from the wounds is collected. Then it is mixed with water and distilled over a wood fire, so that the turpentine passes off with the steam leaving rosin in the still.

In the manufacture of steam distilled wood turpentine, pine wood is utilized. As the name implies, the turpentine is steam distilled from the wood which previously is ground into small pieces accessible by the steam. The resulting product is used in paints and varnishes in the same way and for the same purposes as the gum spirits.

In the making of destructively distilled turpentine, pine stumps removed from the ground by

WATERY WAMPUM

WANTED—CHEAPER CARS

Prices of new cars still remain out of reach for the average person's income, and there is no indication to expect a reduction in the near future. . . the lowest-priced car on the markets retails now at around $1,400. This is more than working-class people can afford to pay, unless they intend to sacrifice necessities in order to buy a car.—(Picton (Ont.) Gazette.)

New Inspector of A.R., John McCaig, B.S.A.

The new Inspector of Advanced Registry for Dairy Bulls (in succession to William Hunter) is John Douglas McCaig, of Ormstown, Que. He is a son of that very fine managing lady who carried on her farm and Ayrshire herd after the death of her husband, under the name of Mrs. R. L. McCaig and Sons, Alton Glen Farm, Ormstown, Que.

After the usual Elementary and High School courses which lead up to same, John D. McCaig entered Macdonald College from which he graduated in 1944 with the degree of B.S.A. (Bachelor of Science in Agriculture) also with a very high rating insofar as Animal Husbandry was concerned from Prof. A. R. Ness. Prior to his entering Macdonald College he was one of the outstanding members of Ormstown Calf Club for seven years.

For the past two and a half years he has been employed as a Fieldman of Production Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, in the Province of Quebec. His duties in that respect being mostly in connection with Calf Club work and the Production Service's Bull Loaning Policy.

Mr. McCaig assumed his new position on August 1st. He is therefore, to the openly expressed regrets of most Calf and Breed Association Clubs, no longer a Civil Servant but an employee of the advanced Registry Board, with a tour of inspections which will take him from the Atlantic to the Pacific instead of just in the Province of Quebec. As the result of his work with the Department of Agriculture he is a "Persona Grata" with all breeds in that province and it is his future credit that the Holstein

Pomp to Reign as Royal Pair Wed at Abbey

Britain's Regal Nuptials to be "Top Drawer" Show With Dazzling Trappings

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press Staff Writer
Only about 2,000 hand-picked guests will witness the Nov. 20 wedding of Princess Elizabeth, heiress-presumptive to the throne, but it will be a national holiday and a sentimental spree for millions in many parts of the world. Austerity is out, temporarily, by popular demand and the wedding will be the most colorful spectacle in the commonwealth's recent history. It may not be as lavish as her parents' pre-war coronation because Great Britain is in a tough financial position. But as royal weddings there, there hasn't been anything like it for 107 years, when the bride's great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, married Prince Albert, the bridegroom's great-grandfather.

The ceremony will be held at 11:30 a.m. in Westminster Abbey, religious heart of the commonwealth. The bride's parents were married in the Abbey in 1923, when King George was Albert, Duke of York, and the Queen was Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, Elizabeth's aunt, the Princess Royal, married Viscount Lascelles in the Abbey in 1922.

While for generations Britain's kings and queens have been crowned in Westminster, the 20th century saw the first royal weddings in the Abbey since the days of the Crusades. The last such ceremony was in 1382 when young King Richard II took Ann of Bohemia as his bride. The last occasion on which a child of a reigning sovereign was married was in 1269 when Edmund Crouchback, Earl of Lancaster and son of Henry III, married Aveline, daughter of the Count of Aumaie.

The lucky 2,000 who will be present in the Abbey will be chosen from the world's "top drawer."

What is left of acceptable foreign royalty will attend — for most of it is related to the bride or bridegroom. So will many heads of the great powers, representatives of the Dominions and the cream of the diplomatic corps.

Most of the heart-warming pomp and circumstance will be loaded on as a morale-builder and good show for the millions who must remain outside the Abbey.

Days in advance workmen will put up flags and bunting along the routes the wedding party will travel between Buckingham Palace, the royal residence, and the Abbey. Special lines will be set up so that reporters and broadcasters can send a step-by-step story of the event to the world. The Princess' trousseau will be described, every pre-wedding party reported.

Religious custom calls for a morning wedding. Most of the invited guests will arrive at 10.45, followed at intervals of a few minutes each by non-participating royalty, high-ranking clergy and then by the Queen. The bridegroom, with two "supporters" or best men, will precede the bride into the Abbey by a couple of minutes and take their

FEET, NOT MONEY BELONG IN SOCKS

Students with summer jobs will find it better to put their savings in a bank rather than in a sock, advises W. K. Pope, local Bank of Montreal manager.

It's safer, and it earns extra money. Savings kept around the house are more likely to be spent impulsively, stolen or mislaid. Open your B of M account next pay-day and watch it grow. (Adv't.)

The Misses Marian Craig and Shirley Milne were joint hostesses at a cup and saucer shower given in honor of Miss May Anderson, whose marriage took place recently. The bride-to-be was taken by surprise to find about forty guests gathered at the Milne home. She was then escorted to a gaily decorated chair of pink and white streamers. After having admired all the lovely gifts and passed them around, May thanked all very kindly and invited them to come and visit her at their home.

Games were then enjoyed by everyone on the lawn, after which delicious refreshments were served. The guests departed wishing May many years of happiness.

Finally Wilson pulled ahead by three runs but in the top of the seventh the Legionnaires came roaring back to tie the score six all. Canadian Press SPORTS CAMERA Specially Written For THE HUNTINGDON GLEANER By Fred Kerner

The man whose birth certificate is registered as James Clevefand Owens and is best known to the world of sports as Jesse Owens, is still as lithe and trim as he was in the middle '30s when he set world and Olympic records almost as fast as he ran the "100."

If age has been telling, perhaps it's been in the speed department for though all the grace and smoothness of the "perfect" athlete are there, Jesse is no longer a world beater ... not on the cinder track or in the jumping pit anyway.

As far as the thousands of fans who saw him demonstrate his forte at Toronto the other night ... and the millions of others the continent across in the last few years ... are concerned, Jesse still is a world beater. Not only do his tremendous records stand, his inspiring words still are being recorded.

His athletic career is widely known. The thrilling U.S. championships in 1935 when Jesse set three records ... for the 100 yard dash, the 220 hurdles and the broad jump ... in the space of two hours, will never be forgotten. Nor will his 36 Olympic efforts in Berlin be erased from people's minds in a hurry.

Jesse might be competing today ... and probably breaking records still ... but for Avery Brundage of the U.S. Olympic Committee. The same Brundage is the man who started the rumour about Barbara Ann Scott and her gift car. It was right after the Olympics when Brundage took the U.S. team on an exhibition tour of Europe ... at the athletes' expense, since amateurs cannot be paid for such things.

Jesse became worn down and in London told Brundage he wanted to go home. Brundage complained and Owens walked out on him. He was suspended and took the inevitable step ... he turned professional.

His present tour is a speaking tour, with the odd running and jumping exhibition thrown in. His theme is the necessity of sports and recreation for youth and the subject is a well-known one to him. The youth of today "has to be given a chance," Jesse told us. "They're the ones who'll lead the country ... and the world ... tomorrow."

And the kids he talks to understand what he means and are grateful for the encouragement he offers and the help he gets others to offer.

Talking of his family, we learned that his offspring may not follow in daddy's footsteps. Not because "they don't want to or because Jesse is against it ... children have to take to something," Jesse told us. "If they're interested in it, they'll do it, even if it's against the odds."

"If my youngsters want to run or jump, that's fine. I'll give them all the help I can. But if they show no inclination to it, I'd never force the idea on them."

How did James Cleveland become Jesse?

"I was a shy kid," he said. "When the family moved from Alabama to Cleveland I went to a 'mixed' school and when the teacher asked my name I sort of whispered 'J. C. Owens.' 'Jesse Owens?' the teacher said and afraid to say more I just shook my head 'yes.'"

Even the woodpeckers are pleased! IN 1946, despite difficulties in obtaining needed material, The Shawinigan Water and Power Company completed 600 miles of electric lines in areas which previously had been without electricity. At the same time an additional 500 miles of poles, complete with hardware and insulators, were made ready. These 500 miles were wired and put into service during the winter of 1946-47. Today, over a new stretch of 1100 miles, economical electrical energy is bringing convenience, comfort, leisure and better living to hundreds of people. No other commodity is so faithful, so useful, so economical a servant to people. On the farm, in the home, in every phase of daily life—electricity serves. 'Shawinigan' serves, too. Apple Growers

Canadian Apples this year as their extensive planting since 1928 now bears a record crop. Last year Canada exported to Britain:— 1,920,993 bushels from N.S. 19,407 bushels from Ont. 2,552,000 bushels from B.C.

Total—4,492,400 bushels exported.

Exports of Canadian Apples

Table with columns: 1946-47, 1942-43, U.S., U.K., Nfld., B. W. I., S. America, India, Malay states, Others, Total, Total Crop

Crop Production

Canada produced the record crop last year of over 12,282,000 bushels. This year the total will reach it is estimated 15,859,000 bushels; but due to the very wet season some 20% of the eastern crops will be too scabby for the fresh trade which will remove 1,615,200 bushels leaving a total of 14,243,800 for the fresh fruit market.

The United States crop is now estimated at 113,589,000 bushels which is about 2 1/2 million bushels up on the July forecast. Last year they harvested a total of 119,410,000 bushels. Out of this total they exported last year over 5 million boxes and some 3 million boxes of Pears. If you add the exports from Canada, it would appear the United States can use over 115 million bushels this year, and to secure this quantity Canada will be able to export to them about 3 million bushels.

There are many factors favoring the Canadian Apple Grower this year. The Cherry crop was down 31%; the Plums and Prunes will be down 20%; the Peaches 15% and Pears 9%. The very hot, dry weather has certainly reduced the Blueberry crop as the small berries arriving testify.

Last year in round figures we exported 6 million bushels; used as fresh fruit 8 million and processed 5 million. This year adequate plans to raise the consumption of fresh apples to 9 million bushels. We can do this by featuring apples right across Canada from October till next April. Let every grower subscribe 1c per bushel and really go out and sell the consumer apples. This is possible as we have all been short of apples and 2 lbs. for 25c is just too high. Then export 3 million bushels and process some 2 million.

Cold Storage Space

Growers in British Columbia can now hold 6 million bushels in cold storage. Ontario can store 1 million bushels and Nova Scotia has space for 300,000 bushels. This with commercial storage will make it possible to store adequate supplies of firm, crisp apples right up into April 1948. It is surprising how many more apples can be sold if fresh, crisp, juicy supplies are available in the winter and spring months. This past winter the Eastern apples were practically all gone before the 1st of March. This is the opportunity for the apple growers to go out and with the help of distributors and retailers across Canada give the Canadian consumers continuous fresh supplies at reasonable prices from the middle of September to April 1948. This is a challenge to every Canadian apple grower. If every grower across Canada will join in the sales battle the industry will win and apples will again be the most popular fruit.

Processing

Processing has become a most important outlet as we processed in Canada 28% of the 1946 crop. Unfortunately the quality of both apple juice and canned stocks left much to be desired. The heavy imports of citrus juice last winter caught the consumers' fancy and heavy stocks remain on hand of Apple Juice. This may be the lesson needed to emphasize the importance of maintaining quality. The cheap citrus juice reduced the demand for fresh citrus and from observation certainly displaced the poor tomato juice produced in 1946. Another new phase of the processing has been baby foods which are an important outlet for apples.

In 1946 Quebec consumed over 3.2 million bushels of fresh apples as we produced 1,400,000 bushels and received from B.C. 1,017,600 boxes. Nova Scotia shipped 957 cars, New Brunswick 107 cars and Ontario 82 cars, not to mention the trucks. If prices had not been so high and supplies had been available during March and April this figure could have reached about 4 million bushels.

Selling the 1948 Crop

Growers' costs have continued to rise due to higher wages, less work per hour of labor, three extra sprays due to the very wet season and now the increased price of packages, nails and paper. Nevertheless apple growers must meet the loss of the British market this year and do a real selling job in the domestic market. This can be done as there is ample cold storage available to hold late winter and spring supplies. Every Quebec Apple Grower should carefully consider his farm prices. Do not discourage the buyers who bring their own packages to your orchard. Adjust the price to reflect the saving in packages, trucking and selling commission you would otherwise pay. This will encourage the truckers and increase the distribution. Give the trucker a good grade. The season has resulted in many scabby apples which are not presentable. Help increase sales by sending them to the juice plant. This is the apple marketing opportunity to sell more apples to more consumers than ever before. Join your neighbor, subscribe to the merchandising fund and with the radio, advertising and store displays in every shopping area sell over 9 million bushels of fresh apples. Quebec can lead the way in calling a meeting of the National Apple Committee and in the stead of each Province featuring their own apples, all join in a Canada wide drive to consume a record quantity in Canada in the next nine months.

Earlier it was reported by R. Thomson, president of the Society, that the Provincial Government is willing to make a grant of $5,000 to the Society, providing the Society can raise a similar amount among its membership. The president has proposed that the membership fee should be raised from the present amount to $5.00 per 500 trees. He thought that in this way the sum to secure the grant could be raised. This would allow the Society to set a permanent office and have a paid secretary to do the work and put field men out to look after the interests of the growers. He said such a grant would come up at the next meeting of the Society for consideration.

Among the outstanding ones present at this gathering were the following: R. Thomson, Abbotsford, President; L. Fontaine, Vice-President; H. Marshall, Sec.-Treas.; T. H. Proulx, Financial Secretary; Dr. Burrell, Champlain Valley, Entomologist; Donald Green, Manager McIntosh Orchard, Chazy, N.Y., with others in the party; Wm. J. Tawse, General Manager, Green Cross Insecticides; G. H. Lavoie, Provincial Horticulturist, Quebec; Ed. Duchesne, Sales Manager Cooperative Federe, Montreal.

Following the talk on marketing, the whole party went to the orchard of C. A. Waller, where they viewed the trees and talked on the methods of disease and so forth. Some of the party journeyed to Ste-Thedule to see the orchards at the experimental farm there. All in all the day was most profitable to all concerned.

Flying Saucers

The Irwin Eakin branch of the Legion comes out with a humorous explanation of the "Flying Saucers" craze which curiously enough seems to have died a sudden death, leading one to conclude that it was mainly newspaper sensationalism.

The explanation, No. 169 says, is simple: During the recent war and until recently the Governments of both Canada and the U.S. have had ceilings on everything—food, furniture, basements, etc. These ceilings are now removed. What happened then? Why, they were allowed to rise and they are now reported to be flying uncontrolled in information from coast to coast, and gaily thumbing their noses at all and sundry.—Canadian Legion News Bulletin.

After a long run of June wedding items, a compositor on the Mena (Ark.) Evening Star set this addenda: "The linotype operator, while he set this, wore a pale blue shirt with pants to match and a silver wrist watch adorned his left wrist." The proofreader killed it.

Russia's Army Biggest

In an address given at a soldiers' and sailors' re-union at Salem, Ill., Gen. Jacob L. Devers, of the U.S. Army ground forces said that Russia had an army bigger than all other countries combined. Gen. Devers deplored the action of a group in the United States "which insists that we should have no national security whatever". Then he added, without naming the Soviet Union but leaving no doubt what he meant: "They suggest that we place ourselves and the smaller free nations which look to us for strength and guidance, completely at the mercy of their particular political paladin—who, by odd coincidence maintains an army larger than all other armies of the world combined".

(Estimates of the current size of the Russian Army range upwards from 3,000,000 men. The present strength of the U.S. Army is slightly less than 1,000,000 and Britain has less than 1,000,000 men under arms.—Canadian Legion News Bulletin.

Those who have never bowled stand an equal chance with old bowlers in winning the prizes and besides a grand evening of fun will be provided. Invitation cards are being mailed out and reply cards should be in the hands of the secretary without delay, so that everything will be in order for Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Irish Newspapers

Mr. M. A. Hargadon handed the Gleaner a number of newspapers known as the "Kilkenny People" published in Kilkenny, Ireland. They are very much on the English style of newspapers with page 1 devoted entirely to advertising. Of course the names of people are typically Irish and they remind one of many of the names heard in these parts. Looking over the classified adverts, we noticed one which read: GIRL, middle-aged wants situation as housekeeper; in another display advert, we read: Miss Ina Weight, the world's fattest girl will be on show, etc. We wonder what a middle-aged girl would be like, and Miss Weight must be heavy as she weighs a quarter of a ton. The newspapers were published in the early part of the year and they speak of the cold wave being experienced... some of it would be pretty nice here right now.

Resort Tragedy Averted As 9-Year-Old Boy Rescues Friend WINS DOW AWARD

GERARD HOGUE OF STE. ANNE DU LAC, QUE., saves older boy from drowning

Ste. Anne du Lac, a summer resort about 250 miles from Montreal, was the scene of a near-tragedy one day a few weeks ago. Several youngsters were enjoying a swim in Ste. Anne Lake when suddenly one of the swimmers who was thrashing about in the water - obviously in trouble.

SWIMMER SUFFERS CRAMPS

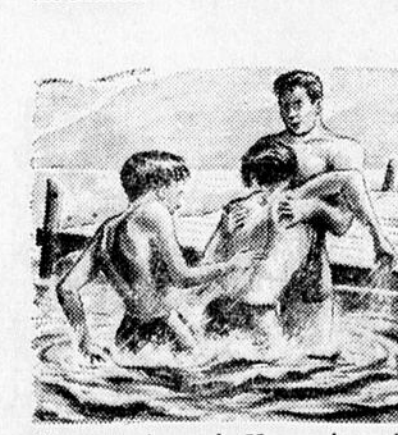

Floundering helplessly was 16-year-old Jean-Marc Daoust, unable to swim because of severe cramps. Then, as spectators gasped, he disappeared under the surface, with one arm only staying above the water.

HEROISM RECOGNIZED

The gallantry and presence of mind displayed by 9-year-old Gerard Hogue of Ste. Anne du Lac, Quebec, are worthy of great praise. We are proud to honour this young hero through the presentation of The Dow Award.

The gallant young rescuer sped through the water as he saw the drowning boy disappearing beneath the surface.

Almost exhausted, Hogue brought the limp form of his friend to the edge of the pier. Both were helped by a spectator.

The DOW AWARD DOW HEWLETT - MONTREAL

THE DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers.

Miss Olive Hart, Grande Ligne, was the guest of Mrs. Maitland Platt, the past week. Mrs. Lisle Watterson, Myrna, Mae and Edward who spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sutton, Covey Hill, returned Sunday with Mr. Lisle Watterson. Mr. Walter Sutherland left by truck to motor to Saskatchewan, where he expects to assist in the western harvest. He was accompanied by Messrs Carl Stowell and Cameron Fleming. Mrs. Wm. Leslie, Mrs. John Leslie and Mrs. Meidrum, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Stirling, St. Anicet, on Friday.

Recent guests at The Lilacs have been Mr. and Mrs. Heber Cole and son Frederick, of Ottawa, where Mr. Cole is in the Department of Mines, also Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Cole and daughter Muriel of Lachine, and Mr. John Edward of Montreal. A visitor here the past week from Massachusetts might be less readily identified by his own name than by that of his father, the late Garner Gray, as he was only six years old when his family left for the States. He was accompanied here by his wife, The Grays lived on the farm now owned by Mr. Wesley Lowden, and later in what is now Miss Christie's cottage. Mr. Ronald Bourdon has left to take a position in the city. Mr. Marshall Simpson of Champlain, N.Y., has been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Simpson, also calling on other friends. Mr. Allan Lowden, now of Longueuil, spent a few days at the home of Mrs. Allan Sutton the past week. He has been demonstrating a superior type of saw manufactured by his firm, which makes precision tools. Mr. Allan Sutton's garage business is expanding having attracted patrons from the city, also his gasoline sales have warranted the installation of a new pump. The afternoon service were not the "cold Presbyterians" of so many jokes, because for the first time inside the building was really oppressive. Situated on a airy knoll, the Union Church is generally cool inside. Those present were rewarded by an impressive discourse, and Mr. Channon sang "The Old Rugged Cross" as a solo with fine effect. He will be glad to receive the names of any parents wishing to have children baptized. Three years ago Allan Thomson acted as student-pastor for the Presbyterian congregation. His engagement to Miss Violet Leslie McCammon has been announced, and the marriage is to take place on September 11 in St. James' United Church, Montreal. Miss McCammon is a graduate in Arts at McGill and Mr. Thomson has distinguished himself by earning his M.A. degree. They will live in Watkinson's Glen, N.Y., where they will continue their studies at Cornell University.

Mrs. Mathews and son Paul, of Toronto, are visiting at the home of Mr. Harold Logan and sisters. Mr. John Orr, of Ormstown, spent part of the past week with relatives in Howick district. Mrs. George Cunningham, of Vancouver, was the guest for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. McArthur, also called on other relatives. The August meeting of the Howick United Church W.M.S. was held on Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Logan. About fifty ladies in all assembled on the beautiful, spacious lawn. Visitors included ladies from Ormstown United Church W.M.S., and from the Howick evening Auxiliary. Mrs. Edwin Knox opened the meeting, by a Call to Worship and Prayer. The hymn, "Come, Let Us Sing of a Wonderful Love" followed. The president extended a cordial welcome to the visiting ladies. The devotional part was in charge of the Ormstown W.M.S. The Bible reading, taken from John 1: 35-51, was read by Miss Welch. Miss Sadler gave an inspiring message on the Bible reading, the theme being "Early Fellowship of Jesus and His Followers". She dealt with the different natures to which Jesus appealed, in what different ways men followed Jesus, and the different methods Jesus dealt with newcomers. The singing of the hymn, "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling" brought the devotional period to a close. A pleasure feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a Life Membership to Mrs. Annie Gruer. Mrs. Gruer thanked the ladies for the honor bestowed on her. Mrs. Andrew Bennie, who made the presentation mentioned that Mrs. Gruer had been the Christian Stewardship Secretary for a number of years. The Misses Marjory and Margaret Ann Ness rendered very sweetly the duet, "In the Garden". Some beautiful and helpful thoughts were given by Miss Ina Bennie on "The Little Things of Life." She read some lines on "She Loved to Laugh", and told how happiness spread and grew from little deeds and little smiles and little kindnesses. It is really the little things in life that count. The guest speaker for the afternoon was Rev. John McPherson, recently of Howick, who gave an interesting talk on "Impressions as an outsider of the W.M.S." He listed his theme under three headings: 1. Money; 2. Methods; 3. Motives. First, money is of great importance in the mission, so much can be done to help missions by the use of money and so much is left undone for the lack of it. He stressed voluntary giving. Second, the methods of obtaining knowledge are by Maskinonge Escapes From Boat Taking Captor's Swim Trunks Peterboro, Ont. (CP)—There's a big maskinonge wearing swimming trunks in one of the lakes which extend north of here and Art Furber would be awfully glad to hear of its capture. Because it's Furber's trunks the fish is wearing. The story was told by Fred Marshall, former game overseer, who said Furber hooked the big one and in the struggle to get him in the boat got his trunks tangled in hooks on the plug. So Furber cut the trunks free and laid the fish—and the trunks—in the boat. That left Furber in a natural state. This was all right while Furber was pulling towards shore, until he noticed a boatload of four girls heading towards him. Furber bent even farther over the oars heading towards the shore. And then the muskie gave one wild leap and plunged into the water, carrying Furber's trunks. The fisherman finally made shore and hid in the bush until it was dark enough for him to reach his cottage.

Moose Re-established in Cape Breton Highlands National Park

With the shipment of moose, two males and six females, from Elk Island National Park in Alberta to Cape Breton Highlands National Park in Nova Scotia, this lordly animal is being re-established in an area where moose have not been in evidence for nearly half a century. The animals were selected from the Government herds at Elk Island, where there are 1,000 head of buffalo and some 1,000 head of elk, moose, and other deer roam at large over an area of 51 square miles. The moose was formerly abundant

reading, seeing films on mission fields and listening to phonograph records, songs and dramas. Third, it is not enough to know how people in other lands live. The really important thing is consideration of missions, what motivates the missionaries, doctors and nurses have that take them to the mission fields. Mr. McPherson made special mention of a former minister of Howick, Rev. P. Carey, who is leaving on the first lap of a journey to become a missionary in Japan. He discussed why Mr. Carey should want to become a missionary and why he chose Japan. He believed that Mr. Carey had his motives where he could best use his talents, and where the need was greatest. Mr. McPherson closed by saying he had our part to do in helping the mission work in other lands and at home. Mrs. Gruer thanked the speaker. Mrs. Bruce Ness extended thanks to Mrs. J. W. Logan and Mrs. Russell Logan for the use of their home for the meeting. Mrs. Patton, on behalf of the Ormstown ladies, expressed pleasure in joining with the Howick ladies for their meeting. The hymn, "In Christ There is no East or West" was sung. The meeting closed by Mrs. McPherson pronouncing the benediction. A social half hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen spent part of last week at St. Michael, in the Laurentians, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hunter. Mrs. Conrad Decosse and two sons, Claude and Denis spent part of last week at St. Jacques le Mineur, guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. Beaudin. Mrs. Richard Smith, of Montreal, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Currie. A very successful tombola was held on the Roman Catholic church grounds on Aug. 14, 15, 16 and 23, with a large attendance each evening. There were many attractions for young and old, and some very beautiful prizes for the winners.

The Penetang council has availed itself of the opportunity of having a Provincial policeman act as village constable. Some weeks ago the village council of Bobcaygeon did the same thing, paying $1,700 a year towards the salary of the special constable. On the surface it looks like good business... but the long-view issue which shouldn't be ignored, is whether this tendency to centralize police power is desirable from the best interests of democracy. Moose Re-established in Cape Breton Highlands National Park

With the shipment of moose, two males and six females, from Elk Island National Park in Alberta to Cape Breton Highlands National Park in Nova Scotia, this lordly animal is being re-established in an area where moose have not been in evidence for nearly half a century. The animals were selected from the Government herds at Elk Island, where there are 1,000 head of buffalo and some 1,000 head of elk, moose, and other deer roam at large over an area of 51 square miles. The moose was formerly abundant

reading, seeing films on mission fields and listening to phonograph records, songs and dramas. Third, it is not enough to know how people in other lands live. The really important thing is consideration of missions, what motivates the missionaries, doctors and nurses have that take them to the mission fields. Mr. McPherson made special mention of a former minister of Howick, Rev. P. Carey, who is leaving on the first lap of a journey to become a missionary in Japan. He discussed why Mr. Carey should want to become a missionary and why he chose Japan. He believed that Mr. Carey had his motives where he could best use his talents, and where the need was greatest. Mr. McPherson closed by saying he had our part to do in helping the mission work in other lands and at home. Mrs. Gruer thanked the speaker. Mrs. Bruce Ness extended thanks to Mrs. J. W. Logan and Mrs. Russell Logan for the use of their home for the meeting. Mrs. Patton, on behalf of the Ormstown ladies, expressed pleasure in joining with the Howick ladies for their meeting. The hymn, "In Christ There is no East or West" was sung. The meeting closed by Mrs. McPherson pronouncing the benediction. A social half hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen spent part of last week at St. Michael, in the Laurentians, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hunter. Mrs. Conrad Decosse and two sons, Claude and Denis spent part of last week at St. Jacques le Mineur, guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. Beaudin. Mrs. Richard Smith, of Montreal, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Currie. A very successful tombola was held on the Roman Catholic church grounds on Aug. 14, 15, 16 and 23, with a large attendance each evening. There were many attractions for young and old, and some very beautiful prizes for the winners.

Trout River Miss Christina Laurence, of Westmount, returned to the city on Friday evening, having spent three weeks holidays with cousins and visited other friends. Miss Mary J. Anderson, Robert, Ida, Mrs. Charles Anderson and Buddy Sherry, of Hudson, N.Y., spent Sunday in Dixie at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson. Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McEwen and son Robert, of Kingston, Ont., called at the home of George P. Elder on Saturday, having spent a few days visiting with relatives and other friends.

Dewittville

Mr. and Mrs. William Evans, of Montreal West, were Wednesday guests at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McArthur. The Misses Marion Willoughby and Pearl Holiday, of Montreal, spent the week-end with the Misses Holiday.

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

From the Laboratory

NEW PRODUCTS NEW PROCESSES BETTER LIVING TODAY ALL CANADA is benefiting from the tremendous impetus given Canadian scientific research during the war years. In university, research foundation and industrial laboratories, increasing numbers of Canadian-trained scientists are working on projects which will make for better Canadian living. Staffs of the National Research Council laboratories have increased four-fold since 1939. Their activities are being maintained at the same high level as during the war—but now devoted to the needs of peace. Research workers today are constantly opening up new fields of Canadian endeavour, giving wider scope for Canadian skills.

Science in Canada before the war had already to its credit several achievements of world significance—among them, Rutherford's original work on radio-activity, Saunders' development of Marquis wheat, Banting's discovery of insulin. Organization of graduate schools by Canadian universities in the early years of this century marked the first important advance of research in Canada. The National Research Council was established in 1916 for the encouragement of scientific endeavour on a national basis. In 1939 began a cooperation in research never before attained in Canada. The contributions of Canadian scientists in such fields as atomic energy, radar, aircraft design and the development of super-explosives, won world recognition.

"OPPORTUNITIES TODAY... GREATER THAN EVER"

ALEX FORST with his brother Edward took over their father's modest little hardware shop in Vancouver 17 years ago. The early years were difficult, but, profiting from their errors, maintaining sound policies and always hard-working, they slowly expanded the business. New lines were regularly added until today they operate the biggest retail independent house furnishings organization in Western Canada. MR. FORST says: "Our early faith in Canada as the country in which to build a business has been confirmed and strengthened. Just as Canada is a much greater country than when we started out, so too Canadian opportunities today are much greater than ever for those now commencing their careers."
