

I agreed to this from feeling that his steady conduct & assiduity had deserved such an indulgence - & from a perfect confidence in his discretion & good sense that he w^d not abuse it - If however you or his Parents, s^t at all disapprove of this journey to Ireland I beg that the blame may be laid upon me not ^{upon} him as he certainly w^d not have gone, had I expressed my disapprobation.
He will continue to keep his rooms at Lincoln's Inn according to your wishes - I gave the requisite $100 Deposit on his admission to that society y^r last remittance will prevent any likelihood of distress for want of Funds I trust that you will think that Edward has shown discretion in his management of his expenses: I transmit for yr inspection his Quarterly Tutor Bills for Xmas 1816 Lady Day Midsummer & Mich - 1817 - I have advised him to keep the particulars of the several Charges.

He passed the remainder of the term

S. W. Monk Esq Vacation after his return from Ireland, in reading under the Tuition of a young Graduate of ability Mr. Rose at a small Town in Sussex - & he seems to have passed it profitably. The Customary sum pd to a Tutor under such circumstances is 30 Guinea's

Pray assure all his relatives that Edwards Health & Spirits are extremely good, & that he appears happy & comfortable - & that in the choice of acquaintance is very judicious (12) 175
