RUSSIANS WERE REPULSED IN HOT BATTLE AT FENSHULING

Permit of Exportation 31 Dec 1968 Archives Branch

A Japanese Division Defeated Five Battalions of Russian Infantry Which Were Supported by Two Regiments of Cavalry.

JAPS ONE HUNDRED KILLED AND WOUNDED

It is Reported That the Vladivostok Squadron Was Seen Near Kokaida Island—A Tokio Despatch States That a Russian Battleship Was Stranded Returning to Port Arthur, While From Other Sources it is Denied That the Peresviet Was Sunk.

Tokio, June 28.—After a hot fight which lasted for six hours yesterday morning, June 27, the Taku Shan division of the Japanese army completely defeated five battalions of Russian infantry, which, supported by two regiments of cavalry and sixteen guns, occupied Fenshuling, twenty miles northwest of Sin Yen. The Russians finally fell back in the direction of Shi Mu Cheng. The Japanese casualties aggregated about one hundred killed and wounded. Major Oba was killed during the battle.

Word Received in London.

London, June 28. — A despatch received at the Japanese legation from Tokio says the Taku Shan army occupied Fenshuling June 27, after six hours of hard fighting. The Japanese losses are estimated at one hundred. The Russian force, which consisted of five battalions of infantry and two regiments of cavalry, with sixteen guns, fled in disorder towards Tumoching.

Russian Battleship Stranded.

London, June 28.—A despatch to the Central News from Tokio says it is reported that another Russian battleship has been discovered stranded off Tiger Rock. It is presumed she was wrecked while returning to Port Arthur after the recent naval engagements.

Vladivostok Squadron Sighted.

Tokio, June 28.—An unconfirmed report has been received from the Island of Kokkaido that ships resembling the Russian Vladivostok squadron had appeared off there on June 27. Similar reports have been received from the places along the Northern Coast of Japan. The Navy Office does not give any credence to these reports.

Claim Vessel Was Not Sunk.

Che Foo, June 28.—Chinese who left Port Arthur on June 24, say that only four battleships, five cruisers and the torpedo boats left the harbor on June 23. Of these three returned badly damaged, but none sank. The several large ships previously damaged carried no guns.

On June 24 the Japanese main army was within fourteen miles of Port Arthur. Their scouts were nearer. Natives of Manchuria have not been ordered out of Port Arthur.

Rams May Interfere With Plans.

Twenty military attaches who were permitted to come here yesterday from Ta Tche Kiao for supplies were obliged to promise not to talk of the Russian movements.

A native report that one division of Gen. Kuroki's army was fifteen miles south of Ta Tche Kiao at five o'clock yesterday evening is not confirmed. If true it indicates that the Japanese plans for a fight there yesterday must have been upset by the heavy rains. Two regiments marched through here from Kaichou toward Ta Tche Kiao yesterday.

Views of St. Petersburg Press.

St. Petersburg, June 28. The sudden cessation of newspaper despatches from the theatre of war tends to confirm the belief that the armies are about to engage. Most of the military critics take the view that a big battle is imminent, although the Novoe Vremya's expert thinks that a pitched battle now is more attractive to the Japanese generals than to Gen. Kuropatkin, saying that the latter does not need precipitancy, as Russian reinforcements continue to arrive, but if the Japanese want a battle they must hasten as only a fortnight remains before the rains set in.

The army organ despatch last night, points out the difficult mountainous country through which General Kuroki's columns are moving and finds in General Oku's withdrawal southward either that the Japanese are trying to draw off part of Kuropatkin's army, or their decision, in view of the near approach of the rainy season, to arrest their further advance. In the latter case the enemy would be able to hold the greater part of the Liao Tung peninsula until the resumption of active operations in August.

All the papers consider almost inexplicable the failure to receive further reports from Tokio of the sea fight off Port Arthur and are reproducing with great prominence despatches from German papers to the effect that Admiral Togo in his official reports did not claim positively to have sunk a Russian battleship or to have crippled two other vessels. General indignation is manifested over the alleged mistranslation of the reports of Admiral Togo.

Conditions in Port Arthur.

Che Foo, June 28.—Letters received here to-day from Port Arthur, dated June 23, give no news but convey an idea of the conditions prevailing in the besieged city. One writer says the civilians though knowing something of what is occurring, are ignorant of the progress of the war. Little information leaks out. Most of the noncombatants have caves in the hills or underground cells where they spend the nights in safety. Bands play occasionally in the parks and the prices of food are slightly higher.

War Correspondent Dead.

New Chwang, June 28.—H. J. Middleton, Associated Press correspondent with the Russian headquarters near Liao Yang, in Manchuria, died Sunday, from enteric dysentery.

Henry John Middleton, the first of the American war correspondents to lose his life at the front in the present conflict was representing the Associated Press at General Kuropatkin's headquarters near Liao Yang. He was taken sick with enteric dysentery less than a week ago and only on Sunday was a despatch received from him in which he requested that a substitute be sent to relieve him. He was about 35 years of age, unmarried and born in London.

General Kuropatkin Reports.

St. Petersburg, June 28. The Emperor has received the following despatch from General Kuropatkin, dated Liao Yang, June 27.

"The Japanese attacked our forces occupying Mo Tien, Fen Shui and Ta Passes, June 26. Our infantry and cavalry retreated, persuaded that the advancing divisions of the Japanese army which were operating against each of the three passes were stronger than our detachments. In the attack on Ta Pass the Japanese guards, besides other regiments, participated. The Japanese made a frontal and flank attack in considerable force on both sides of this position. The Japanese troops occupied Fen Shui and Mo Tien passes during the morning of June 27.

"Our forces, which retreated from Fen Shui Pass were attacked by small detachments of Japanese. They were, however, easily repulsed.

"After pushing back our advance guard during the evening of June 26, from Vandiapudze (on the Shi-Yen-Hai-Cheng road) to Ta Pass, the Japanese continued their advance this morning against our position in a defile. For some time the attack of the Japanese infantry brigade was repelled. Three battalions were engaged in the frontal attack. But being menaced by other troops engaged in a flanking movement our forces retreated."

CAVALRY THRONGS TO LAPRAIRIE CAMP

River Boat Crowded With Men in Uniform—85th Off to Three Rivers

Again the season of the militia camp has come, and the air is electric with militarism. The camp at Laprairie opened this morning with its "marching-in day," when the cavalry regiments that are to attend camp arrived. These are the 6th Duke of Connaught Hussars, the 7th Hussars and the 11th Hussars, the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons, the 15th Field Battery, and the 3rd Beater Company and Field Hospital corps. When the camp is complete there will be 1,500 horsemen.

About 11.30 this morning the Laprairie left Victoria wharf with the officers of the 6th Hussars and 13th Dragoons, bound for the camp. The deck of the little steamer presented a picturesque scene, with its variety of uniforms.

The Laprairie encampment will offer attractions to many Montreal sightseers, bent on seeing the manoeuvres and the camp life of the smart corps represented.

The only regiment from Montreal that will take part in the Three Rivers camp exercises is the 85th. This morning the Drill Hall presented a gay appearance, as the men assembled to join the battalion before it marched to the boat. The regiment when the preliminary drills were concluded, and each company had got its equipment, made a very creditable showing. The 85th regiment, as it went to camp, numbers 429 of all ranks, Col. Des Trois Maisons is in charge, with Major Carriere as second in command. The troops and staff left for Three Rivers on the Berthier at noon. Besides the 85th, there will be present at the Three Rivers camp the the 11th Argenteuil Rangers, 64th Chateauguay and Beauharnois Regiment, 50th Nicolet Regiment and 82nd Joliette Regiment. No. 4 company Army Service corps of Montreal, and a section of the 3rd Field Hospital corps.

GOOD WORK AT THE CAMPS.

Annual Report of the Canadian Reading Camp Association.

The fourth annual report of the Canadian Reading Camp Association, issued by Mr. Alfred Fitzpatrick, general secretary of the association, gives ample proof of the excellent quality of the work done by this institution. Something should be done for the betterment of the thousands of men who pass their time in remote lumbering and mining camps, outside the pale of newspapers and books, and civilizing influences generally, and this work the Reading Camp Association has taken on itself. Twenty-five reading camps were operated last season, fully supplied with newspapers and magazines. In several camps billiard tables and organs have been introduced. Another feature of the work is the instruction of the illiterate in reading and writing by well-qualified teachers. The association deserves the hearty support of all classes.

ASSAULTED AND ROBBED.

Brockville Traveller Was Roughly Handled by Fellow Passenger.

Brockville, June 28. (Special.)—Mr. E. J. Peters, local traveller for Gilmour & Co., of this town, was driving in from Mallorytown last evening and when some nine miles above Brockville, came up to a man walking on the road. The man asked for a ride and Peters granted his request. A few minutes later the man grabbed Peters by the throat and choked him, rendering him unconscious. When Peters rallied he was lying in the ditch on the roadside, and the horse and buggy were gone by. The man had vanished. Peters had $39 on his person which was taken. Peters had been roughly handled, as shown by marks on his neck and body. His pockets were all turned out, except a watch pocket in his pants which was concealed by a flap, which the villain overlooked.

U.S. ENGINEER WILL BE DISMISSED

As Result of Judge Winchester's Inquiry at North Bay.

North Bay, Ont., June 28. (Special.)—Because of his failure to put in an appearance before Judge Winchester in Winnipeg and again in North Bay, a subpoena is to be issued for J. R. Stephens, chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific, to appear in Montreal on Tuesday next and tell what he knows about the employment of aliens on the Grand Trunk Pacific surveys.

Judge Winchester, after investigating here yesterday said he was surprised Mr. Stephens had failed to appear, as he had promised. The judge said he promised at Edmonton he would attend the hearing in Winnipeg last Monday, but did not do so. Then he promised to attend in North Bay. He failed again, but this time Judge Winchester will take steps to compel his attendance.

Speaking about the investigation here Judge Winchester says Americans were not given the preference here to the same extent they were in the West. The North Bay section seems to have been regarded as Government work and Canadians were not overlooked.

One American engineer on the Grand Trunk Pacific is to be dismissed at once as a result of the investigation held here by Judge Winchester. The American is C. F. Gallor, in charge of one of the location parties working West of North Bay.

The investigation was concluded yesterday afternoon and Judge Winchester and party left for Toronto. They go to Ottawa on Wednesday and to Montreal on Thursday. It is Judge Winchester's intention to hold investigations in Toronto and Ottawa, to get information about Canadians who applied for positions and were not appointed.

WILL NEVER BE ANOTHER SOUTH AFRICAN WAR

Captain A. P. Downing Says the Briton and the Boer are Drawing Closer Together.

Capt. A. P. Downing, who has been connected with the South African Constabulary since its foundation, arrived in the city last night en route to his home in England. At the Windsor this morning Capt Downing said that conditions in South Africa now seem more favorable than at any time for several years, and he looks for a speedy return to prosperity. As to the labor difficulty, Capt. Downing agrees that the scarcity of laborers in the Rand mines will be one of the things that will stand in the way of progress to a certain extent. Laborers are, however, being secured now more easily than previously and in time he believes the situation will work out its own solution.

"The reports that have reached the papers to the effect that the Boers are dissatisfied with their conditions and inclined to breed dissension wherever possible," said Capt. Downing, "are not of a nature which will benefit South Africa, and instead may be calculated to injure the country and its future.

"As far as I had an opportunity of observing, the Boers are not dissatisfied, or if they are, they succeed most admirably in hiding their dissatisfaction. I am also inclined to doubt that any of them are forming clubs or societies whose object is to again bring South Africa under Boer rule. As far as the Boers are concerned the South African war is a dead issue and will never be revived. Besides this most of the better class Boers have taken kindly to the idea that they are a part of the Empire and they realize that no other nation on the face of the earth would have given them such humane treatment as did Great Britain after she had subjugated them. If the positions had been changed and the Briton conquered by the Boer the position of British residents of South Africa would have been unbearable. In fact, the Boers would simply have tried to drive the British residents into the sea. Boers themselves have told me as much and have themselves admitted that they were given better treatment than they had any right to expect.

"No, I don't think there will ever be another war. The soldiers now in Africa are really police officers and we have excellent opportunity for observing how the two peoples are gradually falling into a closer union. In a very few years the new African possessions will be as much a part of the Empire as Canada is to-day, and the Imperial sentiment will be just as strong."

COMPANIES OPPOSE THE MACLEAN BILL

To Amend the Railway Act—Bill Discussed in Committee.

Ottawa, June 28. (Special)—At the Railway Committee to-day, Mr. W. F. Maclean's bill to amend the Railway Act in the direction of getting a passenger rate of two cents a mile, and express companies placed under the Railway Commission, was brought up.

Mr. Maclean said that he would pass over the express clause of the bill, which came first, and go on with the clause asking for a maximum passenger rate of two cents a mile for passengers. In regard to this provision he wanted it amended so as to provide for a graded passenger rate instead of a maximum rate of two cents. He did this because it was argued that the maximum would not work fairly towards all companies. It would apply against the Grand Trunk, and would not apply to some of the smaller railways or to the Canadian Pacific in the west. What he wanted to remedy was that in respect to American railways running through Canada or having running connections with Canadian roads. Americans were carried in Canada at two cents a mile, and Canadians had to pay three cents.

Mr. Maclean wanted to know who were present opposing the bill, so that he might put some questions to them.

The chairman said that Mr. Maclean could call on any one he wanted.

Mr. Maclean, proceeding with his argument spoke of the unfairness of the Michigan Central charging two cents in Michigan, and three cents in Canada.

In reply to Mr. E. F. Clarke, Mr. Maclean said there was nothing in the law to make the Michigan Central carry passengers from Detroit to a point in Canada at two cents, but if a passenger purchased a ticket at Bay City for St. Thomas, in Canada, the result was that it would cost two and a half cents in Canada. He wanted to make this road carry passengers in Canada at the same rate as in Michigan. He wanted the Grand Trunk to carry passengers in Canada at as low a rate as it did in Michigan. His intention was to get after the C.P.R. as well.

The committee was supplied with a statement replying to some of Mr. Maclean's contentions. This statement showed the Grand Trunk rate from Detroit to Durand, in Michigan, was three cents, and from Grand Rapids to Owosso was 2.99 cents. The Michigan Central, the Pere Marquette, the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railway, and the Lake Shore and Michigan Railways charged nearly three cents between certain points in Michigan. The statement sets forth that it would not be wise to inflict such a loss on railways, as the reductions would necessitate.

Mr. Chrysler, of Ottawa, represented the G.T.R., C.P.R., Canadian Northern, Quebec Central, C.V., Lake Erie, and Detroit, Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo, and other railways in Canada. He produced statistics to show that the average passenger rate for first, second and third-class passengers over the whole of the United States was 2.016 cents per mile.

TRADERS CO. WON.

In the legal controversy that has been waging between the city and the Traders' Advertising Company, another victory has been won by the company. The city had applied for immediate trial as to the legality of the civic by-law prohibiting the use of trading stamps and to this the company had made objection, holding that the case should take its regular place on the roll, when, in the ordinary course, it would come up for hearing in September. The court denied the special hearing asked for.

Herald readers will be duly notified when the pamphlet is issued.

MAYOR CROSS EXPLAINS CHANGE IN WESTMOUNT COUNCIL MINUTES

The Alteration Was Made in the Clerk's Draft of the Proceedings of the Meeting and Was Revised by the Mayor.

AFTERWARDS APPROVED BY THE COUNCIL

Five Out of Seven Voted the Minutes as Amended Were Correct—Mr. Matthew Hutchinson Says it is Against Practice to Impound the Books of a Municipality—Argument Commences To-morrow in the Practice Court.

"A falsehood," is the way in which Mayor Cross, of Westmount, characterized the allegation that he altered the minutes of the Westmount Council. He explains the addition to the minutes as they appear in the official record by stating that when he read over the draft minutes he found that they were not correct. Ald. Duclos' notice of motion regarding the much-disputed by-law being left out. He wrote this in, then officially signed the minutes, which subsequently, as altered by him, were confirmed by the Council. This, the Mayor says, is a perfectly legitimate procedure, and is frequently practiced by him whenever he finds the clerk's records inaccurate. But he declares that since the minutes were officially signed and confirmed they have never been altered in any way.

This point of view is also sustained by Mr. Matthew Hutchinson, K.C., solicitor for Westmount, who declares that the draft minutes do not amount to anything, the only official record being that finally approved by the Council and signed by the Mayor.

The preliminary skirmish in the legal battle will take place to-morrow in the Practice Court, where Mr. Ryan will formally apply for permission to proceed by improbation against the members of the Council. Proceedings by improbation in ordinary parlance are simply proceedings to inscribe against a false document. The petition is backed by affidavits to bear out its statements, and it is practically certain that it will be granted, the hearing being of a formal nature. In such affairs it is necessary for the petitioner to make a deposit to cover the costs of the defence in case he fails to prove his contentions; this deposit, fixed at $150 in the present case, has already been made, and the petition filed.

When seen by The Herald this morning Mayor Cross, of Westmount, made the following statement:

"The Westmount Council is ready to bow to whatever pronouncement the court may make. Personally I would be glad of an opportunity to testify in court to the effect that the assertion that the minutes of Council were altered is a falsehood. The minutes stand to-day word for word as they stood when originally signed. Beyond this, when they were read at the subsequent regular meeting, I asked twice if any councillor would point out any irregularity in them, but no inaccuracy was mentioned.

"Of course it may be mortifying to the plaintiff to find the ground cut from under his technical point, but on the other hand it would not be creditable to such degree of intelligence as I possess if, by signing inadequate minutes I had played into the hands of those who were already threatening the town with legal proceedings. As often occurs, it happened in the case of the minutes in question that the clerk's draft of the minutes was added to by me before I signed them. The minutes have never since been altered as far as I know.

"I have never tolerated the censurable practice of letting minutes remain unsigned until a subsequent regular meeting. They are generally signed by me within two days of the meeting of which they are on record."

Further Mayor Cross pointed out that the minutes were not official until signed by himself and confirmed by the Council.

"What will be the effect if the minute book is impounded?"

"Well," replied Mayor Cross, "we had better wait and see if the court will do that. It has never been done before with municipal books. It has been attempted unsuccessfully against the city of Montreal several times. It is not done because it would be so awkward for the municipality concerned. We would not object to putting our minute book in court except that it is neither the law nor the practice."

Mr. Matthew Hutchinson, K.C., acting-solicitor for the Town of Westmount did not care to say much—preferring to save his ammunition for the fight in Court. He, however, remarked: "The assistant secretary writes the minutes between meetings, and then they come up for confirmation. I understand that the Mayor read over these draft minutes and said there was something omitted. He either wrote this omission in himself or ordered that it be done, but the minutes are not official until confirmed by the Council.

"I understand that when these minutes came up for confirmation Ald. Galbraith contended that they were wrong, but that five out of the seven present agreed they were correct by transcribed, and they were consequently confirmed, which makes them official whether altered or not. The draft does not amount to anything—it is for the council to say whether they are right or not. In any event it would not affect the validity of the Street Railway by-law, because a special notice was served on each councillor some time before."

ISLAND FISHERMEN AT FRENCH POSTS

Before French Shore Treaty Was Ratified — British Warship Dispatched.

St. John's, Nfld., June 28.—Newfoundland fishing vessels having occupied the French stations on the treaty coast in the mistaken belief that the treaty ratifications had been exchanged, the Frenchmen appealed to the British commodore, who dispatched a warship to the scene to warn the offending colonial vessels from the coast. The incident is the occasion of much concern.

HOW MISTAKE OCCURRED IN G.T.R. OFFICES SITE

City Treasurer Robb Explains Errors in Description Which Robbed City Lane.

At the meeting of the Finance Committee yesterday afternoon, City Treasurer Robb submitted a report with regard to the site granted for the new Grand Trunk offices, and the difficulty which has arisen relative to the lane in rear.

The report says in part:

"On the 13th August, 1898, the city ceded to the company a lot extending from St. Paul to William on McGill street, 199.4 feet on the front by 135 feet in depth on both lines, and described as being part of cadastre 1753 St. Ann's ward, making a total area of 26,919 feet.

"On the 12th January, 1904, a deed of rectification was passed which declared that the property was erroneously described in the original deed, and that instead of being part of No. 1753, the whole of that lot was included in the area originally contemplated as well as a portion of lots 1754 and 1755, as occupied by the building erected by the company, and that the northwestern line should have been given as 138.10, instead of 135 feet.

"In making this rectification, the fact that it constituted an encroachment on the thirty feet allowed for lane in the original deed, seems to have been overlooked, and when the spare lot belonging to the city on the west side of said lane was sold, as being bounded by a thirty-foot lane, it was found to be about five feet short of that width at the St. Paul street end.

"This measurement it was proposed to take off the lanes on each side of the sixty-foot lot sold at auction to Messrs. Vipond on the 23rd April, 1903, in the proportion of about one-half from each, and the Grand Trunk Railway Company was asked to consent to a reduction of the one in the rear of their building to 27.2 feet on the St. Paul street end, narrowing to 29.8 on the William street end.

"This the company declines to agree to, and Messrs. Vipond being unable to defer longer the completion of a sale, have confined their deed to a frontage of fifty-eight, instead of sixty-three feet.

NEW ELEVATOR WILL BE TESTED

Members of Harbor Board Will in This Way Decide if it is to be Further Strengthened.

Mr. Weber, of the Steel Storage Elevator Company of Buffalo, who was to have arrived in the city to-day to confer with the Harbor Board with regard to the report that the new elevator should be strengthened, did not arrive and the meeting was postponed till to-morrow morning.

The Herald was informed to-day that the stand that will be taken by the contractor will be that the elevator does not require any further strengthening and that other elevators built by the company and equipped in the same way as the one in the harbor have proved very successful. The outcome of the meeting between Mr. Weber and the Harbor Board will likely be that the engineers of the company and the Board will attend a test of the machinery and see if further strengthening will be required or not.

ANALYSIS OF CITY WATER REQUIRED

Mayor Advocates Exhaustive Investigation of City's Drink Supply,

THE COMMITTEE IS IGNORED

Grant to Pave Montmorenci Street Was Voted Down—Ald. Gallery Will Bring the Matter Up Next Meeting.

At the City Council meeting yesterday afternoon a letter was read from Mayor Laporte, asking that a systematic analysis of the aqueduct water be carried out to see if filtration is necessary. His Worship suggested that three analysts be appointed, one from Laval University, one from McGill University, and the third to be the city analyst, with instructions to analyze the water coming from faucets; the water of both reservoirs; the water from the entrance and throughout the entire system of the aqueduct; the water of the Ottawa; the water of the St. Lawrence; the waters of the St. Lawrence and the Ottawa at the point where they mix together; and also the report on the quality of the water supplied to the residents of St. Denis ward.

In order to achieve practical results, these analyses would have to be made once a week during twelve months.

The letter was referred to the Board of Health for consideration.

The report of the Road Committee varying $2,205 to pave Montmorenci street provoked a long discussion, and failed to carry in the end.

Ald. Gallery, who warmly supported the report, explained that the present Government had made a gift of $75,000 for the paving of Mill street, and to complete the good work it was necessary for the city to spend $2,205 on Montmorenci street.

Ald. Ames remarked there was too much politics in the matter, and Ald. Gallery retorted that he was squeezed in between two opponents, Ald. Ames and Ekers, and was not getting fair play. Anyhow, Montmorenci street was a staunch supporter of the Conservative Government, and would never elect him.

Ald. Ekers said it was understood that no streets were to be paved this year, and he objected to making an exception for one alderman.

Ald. Clearihue remarked that certain members of the Road Committee were taking advantage of their position to get things over the members of other committees.

Ald. Sadler admitted that the Government had done a good thing in paving Mill street. He objected to Ald. Gallery getting any money for Montmorenci street until Dorchester street west was paved. It had been distinctly understood that Dorchester street was to have precedence when any money was voted for pavements.

Ald. Clearihue—"You are doing all this, Ald. Gallery, to advertise the Government."

Ald. Gallery—"Why didn't your Conservative friends pave Mill street in the eighteen years they were in power?"

On division the motion was defeated by a vote of seventeen to twelve, but subsequently, Ald. Gallery carried a reconsideration, and the report was laid on the table until next meeting.

Seeing Montreal Cars.

Ald. Ames brought up a complaint from several cabmen that while they were forbidden to solicit custom, the agents of the "Seeing Montreal" cars went around and booked passengers.

Ald. Gallery—"Why cannot the Police Committee stop these agents on the sidewalks? Why make flesh of one committee and fish of another? If the Parks Committee stopped automobiles from going on the mountain, the Police Committee has as much right to stop the soliciting of fares.

Chairman St. Denis remarked that the question was at present before the City Attorneys.

Ald. Ames called attention to a complaint of certain citizens that they were obliged to cart away manure from their lanes, and there was no place to dump it. The city should provide a place where manure could be carted to.

Ald. Gallery—"I believe that many cities give out tenders for the removal of manure. Montreal gets $700 by letting contract for the removal of dead animals. There is more money in manure than in the dead animal business."

The proposed by-law to confine factories to a certain area was left over until more information is forthcoming.

PATROL WILL BE EXTENDED.

N.W.M.P. Will Stop Drunkenness Among Indians Around Lake Winnipeg.

Ottawa, June 27.—(Special.)— Arrangements have been made by the Mounted Police to establish a lockup at Norway House, the northern extremity of Lake Winnipeg. This has been done because of the prevalence of drunkeness among Indians. A patrol will be extended around the lake with posts at Black River, Bowing River, Poplar River and Warren's Landing. The agents of the Indian Department when distributing treaty money will be accompanied by mounted policemen and will settle any disputes that may occur. This means considerable increase to the work of the police.

Baldwin Locomotive Works Will Discharge 4,000 Men.

Philadelphia, June 28.—Four thousand more men will be discharged from the Baldwin Locomotive Works within the next few days. Six thousand have already been dropped from the company's service and the working force will soon be reduced to 6,000 men. The greatest number ever employed at the works is about 16,000.

The action of the management is due to a lack of orders for locomotives and and is directly attributed to the falling off in business on railroads.

CROWDS FLOCKED TO SEE THE CIRCUS

Forepaugh and Sells Bros.' Circus Bears Out Press Notices.

The strongest adjectives belong to the circus advertiser, but they were endorsed by the large crowd who visited Forepaugh and Sells Bros.' Circus yesterday. Everyone left the big tent on the exhibition grounds perfectly satisfied with the show. The small boy has a grand time at a circus, even if it only boasted a few animals and half-a-dozen clowns, but his grown-up friends have become more critical. So it is seldom that the phrase "Perfectly satisfied" can be used with truth of those who attend a circus.

There is almost always left a more or less large fringe of dissatisfaction about it. But the thousands who thronged to the big tent yesterday were delighted—from the street urchin to the staid business man who attended the evening's performance. Daring ring and trapeze work, dizzy wire-walking, feats of horsemanship—all the regular features were represented, with more thrown in.

The troupe of elephants were carefully trained and did some good work and the work of the horses and their riders was uniformly of the best. The acrobatic work of the Eddys and the Hungarian Magyars drew much deserved applause. The military manoeuvres of the troop of Zouaves was like the movement of a machine in precision and took the fancy of the crowd immensely.

But what the crowd was waiting for were the acts of Diavolo and Porthos in looping the loop and flying through the air on a bicycle respectively. Everybody held his breath as Diavolo, with a whizz and a rattling, came down the ninety-foot incline, and each drew a long breath of satisfaction as he came safely through his adventurous performance. Down the same incline came Porthos in his act, but instead of a loop to meet him at the bottom he had just sufficient of an incline to shoot him for fifty feet through the air, across the backs of ten elephants. Both were hair-raising turns and have never been seen so well done here before.

The menagerie is good and attracted much attention, but the strongest part of Forepaugh and Sells' circus is undoubtedly in its performance inside the tent.

CANADA IS SUPERIOR TO THE UNITED STATES

So Says a Swedish Journalist, Comparing Their Advantages for Immigration.

"I consider Canada superior in every way for settlement to the United States and in the near future you will find the tide of immigration turning to your glorious country rather than to the republic across the border," said Mr. Victor Hugo Wickstrom, editor of Jamtlandsposten, of Ostersund, Sweden, to The Herald this morning.

Mr. Wickstrom, who has just visited the World's Fair at St. Louis, returned by way of the West and is enthusiastic over the possibilities as well as over the future of Canada. A three months' stay in the Dominion and in the United States has convinced him that no country under the sun offers such splendid possibilities as Canada does.

"I visited several Swedish colonies in British Columbia and in Manitoba, and everywhere I found nothing but the greatest contentment. The colonists, without exception, were eminently satisfied with their lot and with the treatment they had received, they were all prospering and had nothing but praise for their adopted country. And let me tell you that this good report I have had from my fellow-countrymen cannot fail but bring in many immigrants of a desirable class from Sweden and Norway. I am correspondent for no less than twenty-three newspapers in my country, and I will not fail to spread the very favorable impression I have formed of Canada. In the first place the free lands you offer are in themselves a big inducement, your climate is much the same as ours, the laws and justice of your country are much superior to those in the United States, in fact everything contributes to making Canada an ideal country for the intending settler."

Mr. Wickstrom could not speak too highly of the C.P.R. service, which he classed as equal to the best on the continent and in the United States, and much superior to that provided by the railroads in England. He stated that the slightest want of every passenger was well supplied, and added the country might well be proud of its transcontinental road.

This Swedish journalist, who has travelled through every country on the globe, was enamoured with the Canadian scenery. He said that nowhere on the face of the earth was such magnificent scenery to be found as that afforded by the Rocky Mountains.

Speaking of the war between Russia and Japan Mr. Wickstrom stated that the sentiments of his countrymen were altogether with Japan. "Russia is our only foe," said he, "she has taken Finland away from us and we all hope to see Japan come out victorious."

Mr. Wickstrom, who, by the way, has written two books which are forbidden in Russia, is stopping at the Place Viger Hotel, and will sail for Liverpool Thursday morning on the C.P.R. steamer Lake Manitoba.

The Postmaster Grows Emphatic

BELIEVES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS THE RIGHT MEDICINE FOR KIDNEY TROUBLE.

T. H. Belyea, Postmaster of Lower Windsor, N.B., Endorses an Opinion Popular in All Parts of Canada.

Lower Windsor, Carlton Co., N.B., June 27.—(Special.)—T. H. Belyea, postmaster here, has come out with an emphatic statement that is heartily endorsed by the great majority of people of this district.

"I believe," says the postmaster, "that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble and will do all that is claimed for them.

"I had been bothered with Kidney Trouble for years and tried several kinds of plasters and other medicines but did not get much lasting benefit. Then I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and would say they seem to have made a complete cure as I feel as well as ever I did."

There are numerous people prepared to make statements like that of Postmaster Belyea, but the case of Kidney Disease that Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure has yet to be reported.

He was but scantily dressed at the time. The Macaulay homestead is situated right above the wharf and the members of the family are afraid that the missing man might have fallen into the river. He had been slightly unwell for some time past.

BURGLARS GOT AWAY WITH $6,000 WORTH

One of the biggest hauls made in Montreal for a long time was got clear away with this morning by a party of housebreakers, goods to the value of $6,000 being removed from a city warehouse.

When the employes of Armand Giroux, dry goods merchant, corner of St. Lawrence and Demontigny Streets, opened the premises at the usual hour this morning, they were not long in discovering that visitors had been at work among the stock since the time the warehouse closed Monday night.

On the stock being gone through in the course of the day, it was found that silks, cloth and other goods to the value of not less than $6,000 had been removed, and although the police were early on the track of the thieves no trace of them or of the stolen property had been obtained up till this afternoon.

MANY DEGREES GRANTED AT LAVAL UNIVERSITY

Hon. L. P. Brodeur Created Doctor of Civil Law—Institution is Flourishing.

Mgr. Archambault, recently appointed Bishop of Joliette, and vice-rector of the institution, persided last night at the convocation of Laval University. The degree of D. C. L. was conferred on Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Inland Revenue; Mr. F. E. Meredith, a former graduate of Laval; Mr. Jos. Beauchamp, and Mr. P. B. Mignault.

Thep resident, in his opening address, spoke of the history of Laval University and congratulated the laity on their obedience to the Holy See in not insisting on freeing the University from the control of the clergy. Reference was also made to the departure of Father Bourassa, R.A., the former secretary, who recently resigned to take charge of the church of St. Louis de France, and a tribute paid to hisservices to the institution.

The improvements made during the past term were reviewed. The library had ben increased by 12,000 volumes, thanks to the generosity of private individuals, among others Mgr. Bruchesi, and Judge Pagnuelo. A chair of ethics had been established, and a course on church law introduced, and next year, the University would have the Polytechnic School to afford a complete course in applied science.

Secretary Curotte read the report from the faculty of Medicine on behalf of Dean Rottot, and Mr. Eugene Lafontaine, K.C., replied for Law. Eloquent addresses were given by Father Bourassa and Archbishop Bruchesi, who dwelt on the development of Laval University from her day of small things to her present position.

The degree of M.D. was granted to forty graduates. Eighteen received the title of bachelor in medicine. Six were granted diplomas in arts. In applied science the graduates numbered nine. Six received the title of bachelor in comparative medicine. The degree of B.C.L. was obtained by thirty students, while eleven were awarded the title of licentiate in law. Prizes were also awarded in law, Hebrew, theology and French literature.

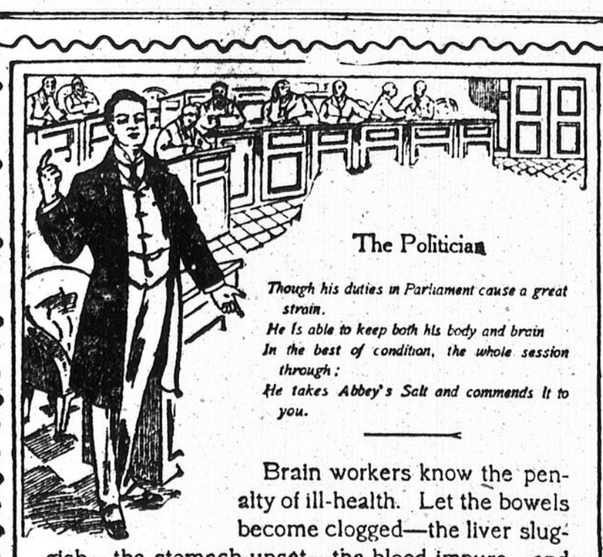
JEW SWALLOWS POISON.

A Jew named Spero lies in the General Hospital in a precarious condition as a result of a self-administered dose of poison this morning, having been picked up unconscious by the ambulance near the corner of St. Urbain and Vitre streets. His young daughter stated that he took the poison while on the street, but no cause for the act can be assigned, until the man himself becomes able to speak of it.



The Politician

Though his duties in Parliament cause a great strain.
He is able to keep both his body and brain
In the best of condition, the whole session through;
He takes Abbey's Salt and commends it to you.

Brain workers know the penalty of ill-health. Let the bowels become clogged—the liver sluggish—the stomach upset—the blood impure—and that "tired, overworked" feeling steals over the brain.

ABBEY'S SALT clears the brain by cleansing the system. It sets stomach, liver and bowels to do natural work in nature's own way. It is the ideal blood purifier—the perfect stomachic—the unfailing liver regulator.

THE CATARRH OF SUMMER

Two Letters From Thankful Women Who Were Cured of Catarrh of the Stomach by Pe-ru-na.

MISS EMILY LYON, 218 Richmond Street, London, Ont., writes:

"I am pleased to inform you that I am entirely cured of catarrh of the stomach by the persistent use of Peruna. I suffered everything and took everything both from physicians and proprietary medicines, but got no relief until I tried Peruna, and it will always be with the loudest praise that I recommend this wonderful remedy Peruna."—Miss Emily Lyon.

Catarrh of the stomach is usually called dyspepsia. Catarrhal dyspepsia cannot be cured by pepsin powders or any other temporary relief. The only cure for real dyspepsia is a removal of the catarrh from the mucous membrane of the stomach. This Peruna will do. This Peruna has done thousands and thousands of times.

Congressman Botkin, of Kansas, was cured of catarrh of the stomach of many years standing. Hundreds of other cases have been reported to us through unsolicited testimonials. Peruna is the only internal systemic remedy for catarrh yet devised. Every one afflicted with catarrh in the slightest degree ought to take a course of Peruna.

Mrs. Nancy Ogden, Armel, Frederick county, Va., writes:

"If any one had told me that Peruna would cure the heart-burn and sour stomach as long as I have had it I could not have believed it, but it has after so many years standing.

"I have had it thirty-five years. Have doctored with everything that I have heard of, and have tried some of the best doctors—but all did no good.

"They would say I had stomach trouble and that they could not cure it. I will always praise Peruna. If anyone wishes to write to me I will be glad to answer them."—Mrs. Nancy Ogden.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

TERCENTENARY OF ST. CROIX ISLAND

Was Discovered by Champlain in 1604—History of the Island.

St. Stephen, N.B., June 28.—(Special.)—The tercentary celebrations in honor of the discovery of the different places, by Champlain and De Monts, in June 1604, which began this week at Annapolis, then at St. John and concluding on Saturday on the St. Croix, will long be remembered in this vicinity. The now historic St. Croix Island being in American territory the residents of Calais, Maine and St. Stephen, New Brunswick, joined in an international celebration of this historical event.

DeMonts and Champlain have been criticized by many historians for leaving the shores of Port Royal and taking up their abode on Isle St. Croix. Those critics are unaware of the magnificent scenery, which unfolded like a panorama, before the vision of these brave men, on their voyage of discovery, in crossing the Passamaquoddy Bay and thence sailing up the placid waters of the St. Croix, as far as the now historic island on the 26th June, 1604. They quickly erected fortifications and dwellings, put in gardens, the crops of which were gathered for use in the following winter, which proved so disastrous to nearly half the colony. They suffered from an unsually severe winter, which set in during the month of October. Strangers now visiting the Island for the first time, can appreciate the enthusiastic visions of future greatness which must have passed through the minds of those hardy mariners, for at this time of year the scenery along the St. Croix is truly fine.

Champlain's Description.

Champlain himself thus describes their trip up this river St. Croix.

"We entered a river almost half a league in breadth, at its mouth, Joss Point, sailing up which a league or two we found two islands, one very small, (now Little Dochet) near the western bank, and the other (St. Croix) in mid-river, having a circumference of perhaps 800 or 900 paces, with rocky sides, three or four fathoms high all around, except in one small place, where there is a sany point and clay earth adapted for making brick and other needful articles. There is another place affording a shelter for vessels from 80 to 100 tons; but it is dry at low tide. The island is covered with firs, birches, maples and oaks. It is by nature well situated, except in one place, where for about forty paces it is lower than elsewhere; this, however, is easily fortified, the banks of the main land being distant on both sides some 900 to 1,000 paces. Vessels could pass up the river only at the mercy of the cannon on this island, and we deemed the location the most advantageous, not only on account of its situation and good soil, but also on account of the intercourse which we proposed with the savages of these coats and of the interior, as we should be in the midst of them. We hoped to pacify them in the course of time and put an end to the wars which they carry on with one another, so as to derive service from them in future, and convert them to the Christian faith. This place was named by Sieur de Monts, St. Croix Island."

This name was suggested by the meeting of the rivers above the island in the form of a cross. Farther on there is a great bay, now called Oak Bay, in which are two islands, one high and the other flat;

The lofty Cookson's island, 300 feet in height and the low sandy, Little Island, also three rivers, two of moderate size, one extending towards the east, The Waiveig, the other towards the north (Oak Bay with Gallops stream emptying into its head) and the third of large size, towards the west.

The St. Croix above the island, the latter is that of the Etechimins, called after the Indian tribe of that name, (now the Passamaquoddy tribe residing in this vicinity).

The History of St. Croix.

On September 1606, Champlain with Poutrincourt visited the island for the last time. Lescarbot and Poutrincourt visited the island in July 1607 and in 1610 the latter gentleman made another visit and had prayers offered for the repose of the faithful who died during that terrible winter. One Capt. Piatrier, passed the winter of 1611-1612 in this same place. In 1613 Argall was sent by the English of Virginia to drive the French from the Bay of Fundy, he captured Father Biard at Mount Desert and tried to force the good priest to guide him to St. Croix Island. Father Biard refused, but Argal after cusing for some time, discovered the place he wanted. He took away a large lot of salt which he found there, burned the buildings and destroyed all traces of the name and claims of France. In 1632 the King of France granted this island and adjacent territory to Isaac de Razelly, but this gentleman died before he could carry out his plan for colonization, and his grant lapsed. There is no evidence that he ever saw St. Croix Island. Acadian settlers lived in the vicinity towards the end of the seventeenth and early in the eighteenth century, but none of them are known to have occupied the island. History of the island practically vanishes from 1632 until the Treaty of Paris in 1763, which established the St. Croix River from its source to its mouth, as a part of the international boundary between the United States and the British possession, this being the natural boundary in this region, for it was the old boundary between Maine and New Brunswick. The treaty was not a year old, however, before disputes arose locally as to the identity of the River St. Croix of the Treaty, the British claimed the river of that name St. Croix, and the Americans claiming the Maguadaric as the true St. Croix. As in nearly all questions of boundary lines between the United States and Canada, left for settlement to a commission, this matter was finally settled on October 25, 1798, by a unanimous decision that the St. Croix River was the true boundary between the two countries at this point, but that St. Croix Island was on the American side of the boundary.

Island Was Sold in 1820.

Very few settlers have ever occupied the island since 1799 when the Americans formally took possession. On March 1st, 1820, the island was sold by the commissioners of Maine, to John Brown, of Roobinstore, who, in 1826 sold to Stephen Brewer. This gentleman's heirs, on June 4, 1856, sold part of the island to the United States Government, who afterwards erected the present lighthouse on the same. The Brewer family afterwards sold the balance to the following gentlemen of Calais, Maine: C. H. Newton, Joseph Lee Herbert Barnard and B. F. Kelly. The island is at present in possession of the heirs of the above purchasers, who probably intend making it a summer resort, but nothing has been done towards that object, and at present it remains, a pasture for the lighthouse keeper's cows and a picnic ground for those who care to visit it.

Prof. W. F. Ganong, in writing of this island, says: "In the beautiful River St. Croix, near where it empties into the Bay of Passamaquoddy, lies a little island, justly celebrated as one of the most interesting historical localities in this part of America. It is the site of de Monts' ill-fated colony of 1604, and hence, witnessed the real beginning of the permanent settlement of Canada; later it became again prominent in the discussions between the United States and Great Britain, over their boundaries, and was the chief determinant in fixing the St. Croix as the international boundary; while other events in its annals are not without at least local importance. Though thus of interest to many people, its full history has not yet been written, and the materials for it are scattered and inaccessible, or even in no small part, existent only in manuscript or tradition. The St. Croix River, once nearly in the centre of ancient Acadia, is now from source to mouth a part of the international boundary, between the United States and Canada, between the State of Maine and the Province of New Brunswick. Its mouth as legally established and accepted by custom is at Joe's Point near St. Andrew's on Passamaquoddy Bay, but as a matter of geographical fact, it is farther north at the Devil's Head, the part between these two points, some seven miles in length, and one and a half to two miles in breadth, is really but an arm of the sea, salt and tidal. Nearly midway of this estuary, and midway, too, between its banks, lies St. Croix Island in latitude 45.07.44, and longitude 67.08.-03. The deepest channel is on the eastward, thus making the island part of the United States.

Size of the Island.

The island is a very small one, less than 300 yards in length in its main part or less than 400 yards, including the partially detached "Nubbles," and not over 125 yards in extreme width. It encloses in the main part about five acres. The highest point, on a rocky ledge a little to the east of its centre is about forty-two feet above extreme high tide mark, or about sixty-two feet above mean tide level. From this point there is a slope in all directions, at first, on the rocky point abrupt, then more level. The entire island is, however, markedly tilted towards the westward, so that while the eastern shore is a continuous bluff rising nearly forty feet above high tide, on the west it slopes in places almost down to high tide level. The eastern bluffs of the island are of clay and sand, bearing dense growth of small trees and resting upon granite rock, except at the southern end, when an abrupt treeless bluff of sand, without vegetation has no visible rock, but only sand, beneath it. The low shore of the western side shows a thin soil resting upon rock, and bearing but a few scanty bushes and very small trees, while the remainder of the island, all fair soil excepting the rocky band of ledges across it, is cleared and cultivated as garden, or utilized as pasture. At the southern end of the main island stand two partially isolated "Nubbles" obviously once a part of the main island, consisting of masses of sand and clay, heavily wooded with small trees, resting upon granite rocks. The larger is now cut off from the main island at every high tide, but the smaller is still attached to it by a low ridge of sand, never, or extremely rarely, crossed by the tide.

(Staff Correspondence of The Herald.)

Ottawa, June 28.—Ever since Sir William Mulock took charge of Canada's postal service the postal rates have been going down and the income of the offices has been going up. In 1899 the department had the first surplus in the history of the country since Confederation. A good showing of this sort is the best of grounds for a quarrel from the Opposition standpoint. Yesterday they made the life of the capable Postmaster-General as little worth living as possible. From 3.30 in the afternoon until one a.m. all the trifles the Opposition has ever heard of were produced and paraded before the yawning House to offset the $300,000 surplus of last year and the still larger one which the department is to have this year. Every partizan postmaster who has been dismissed since the Liberal Government began its sway had his case brought up and his grievance aired by the member who has an interest in his vote. The result of the day's work was $1,451,000 for salaries and allowances. Of this $307,000 is for inside and $1,144,-000 for outside services.

Mr. R. L. Borden's Explanation.

The leader of the Opposition seems to have heard that he has not been aggressive enough to suit some of his extreme followers this session. He took occasion yesterday to set himself right with these domestic critics. He sung his explanation upon a question about the Auditor-General when going into supply. Mr. Borden read press paragraphs intimating that the Auditor-General had made his request for superannuation conditional upon having his term lengthened by resolution for the benefit of his superannuation allowance. Mr. Borden asked if this was true. Then he offered an olive branch to his followers within and without the walls of Parliament. He said he had heard from various quarters that he had not been as active in upholding the hands of the Auditor-General and giving him that support that was due from a leader of the Opposition. He thought he had given the Auditor-General sufficient support. He had this year done something he had never done before for the purpose of supplementing the work of the Auditor-General. As soon as the report was brought down, and that was early in the session, he had divided this detailed statement of the public accounts into twelve parts and assigned each of them to one of his followers for examination and criticism. Each of these twelve gentlemen was asked to invite others to associate themselves in the work.

The case of a contract on the Soulanges canal at Cornwall had been mentioned as one of his acts of omission. Mr. Borden said he had not and would not shrink from criticism on this matter. He believed, however, the proper and the best place for criticism, would be when the estimates of the department of Railways and Canals came up in the House. He had told Mr. Lennox this when he introduced his resolution on the subject. He had not interferred with the discussion of the matter on that occasion, but had said that better results could be obtained in the cross examination possible in committee of the whole House on the estimates.

Finally Mr. Borden suggested that the Railway Estimates be taken up as soon as possible.

Resignation Had Not Been Accepted.

In answer to him Hon. Mr. Fielding said it was true the Auditor-General, Mr. Macdougall tendered his resignation and had applied for superannuation. The resignation had not been accepted the Finance Minister said. It was true that the resignation was accompanied by a request from the Auditor-General for the addition of a term of years to his period of service. Mr. Fielding did not understand that the resignation was in any way conditional upon the granting of this.

Mr. F. D. Monk was told that there was no contract given for stone on the Chambly canal for no stone and no repairs to the canal were needed.

Mr. Macpherson was told there had been no resolutions of the Inland Revenue laws by tobacco manufacturers of the district of Montreal since July, 1903.

Mr. Bruneau was told by Hon. Mr. Emmerson and Hon. Mr. Hyman that $1.25 a day was paid to ice breakers at St. Anne de Sorel, making booms and piles on the St. Maurice. Messrs. Poupore & Co., pay $1.00 a day for laborers on the Sorel wharf; $1.50 a day is paid laborers employed by the Montreal Harbor Board, on the cascades and Soulanges Canals, on the Lachine Canal and the St. Ours lock. Laborers on the Ottawa post office get 18.4c an hour.

Mr. Gauvreau wanted to know if two employes in the Intercolonial Railway yards at Riviere du Loup—Messrs. Laplante and Beaulieu—have undergone a first investigation before Mr. Brassard, chief train-despatcher at Riviere du Loup, on the order of Mr. Dube, the superintendent, and that they were exonerated from all blame; that Mr. Dube, the superintendent, had them subjected to a second investigation, and that he found them guilty and suspended them from work, and that after a third investigation before Mr. J. E. Price, general manager, they were declared not guilty and reinstated in their position?

The case of a contract on the Soulanges canal at Cornwall had been mentioned as one of his acts of omission. Mr. Borden said he had not and would not shrink from criticism on this matter. He believed, however, the proper and the best place for criticism, would be when the estimates of the department of Railways and Canals came up in the House. He had told Mr. Lennox this when he introduced his resolution on the subject. He had not interferred with the discussion of the matter on that occasion, but had said that better results could be obtained in the cross examination possible in committee of the whole House on the estimates.

Mr. Emmerson, in reply, said that Mr. Brassard had conducted the examinations and had passed the result of them on to Mr. Dube, without recommendation. Mr. Dube had reinvestigated the case and suspended the men for six days. The matter had been referred to Mr. Price, who had endorsed the decision of Mr. Dube's and reinstated the men at the end of their suspension.

Amendment to Temperance Act.

The Senate debated the bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act. Senator Domville said that as long as Canada permitted the manufacture of liquor it did not seem logical to prohibit its sale. In Ontario the Scott Act had not worked well, and he thought lawmakers could be better employed than in attempting to improve the habits of their fellow-citizens by statute. He advised a stricter inspection for the purpose of improving the quality of liquor. This would serve a really useful purpose and could be done, whereas a prohibitive sales law would be inoperative. The Government should prohibit the sale, manufacture and consumption, or make all the liquor on its own account. But a bill which proposed sending a man to jail for merely selling liquor should not be considered.

Senator Baird could not see the force of these arguments, as the bill merely proposed to apply restriction to these districts where people declared themselves against the sale of liquor. In the county next to his the Scott Act had worked admirably.

Senator Cloran said he had been asked by Sir John Carling to move that the bill be laid over.

Scott Act Was No Failure.

Hon. Mr. Black, having had some fifty years' temperance experience, especially in observing temperance effort, had been astonished at hearing the Scott Act described as a failure in Nova Scotia. In places where there was strong temperance feeling it was a success; where it failed it was from moral support. He did not see why the man who rebelled against the decision of his fellows, and violated the law should send a circular protesting against this legislation. He thought it was like a prisoner dictating to the judge as to his punishment. The bill was benevolent in character, in that it provided evildoers with something to do. The temperance people had made mistakes, especially in regard to license. As a rule, when they found people urging the abolition of the Scott Act the agitators were the violators of the Scott Act. They were the men they wanted to punish. He could not see how any man could be considered respectable who broke the law. In the interest of those who should be protected, the mothers, wives, and children, the law should be made stricter.

Hon. Mr. Edwards, although a teetotaller, had his doubts about legislative prohibition. As long as the manufacture was allowed it was difficult to prohibit the sale. But this question was not under discussion. They had an act upon the statute book; this bill was to amend that act, so as to make it stronger, and he was compelled to support that amendment.

Decrease in Sobriety.

Hon. Mr. Vidal believed that if we could carry a law which would prohibit manufacture we should stand far above the world. He noticed the improvement in regard to the practice of sobriety at political gatherings in his life. It was not necessary to discuss prohibition. The question was should they strengthen the law in a clause which had been found inoperative. It was well-known that magistrates would call an offence a first offence, even though it might be a twelfth. Many a man would pay a fine who did not want to spend thirty days in jail. The law in Ontario was not repealed because of any change in sentiment, but because the provincial Government would not endorse the act.

Hon. Mr. Poirier on principle was favorable to all that would do away with the abuse of intoxicating liquor. When the Scott Act was first enacted he was in favor of it. He found that except in a few cases, especially in mining districts, the act had not worked favorably because in no time in history could sumptuary laws be enforced against popular opinion. In this case it was choosing between two evils, Scott Act or licensed bars. Where the Scott Act existed it was an understood thing that it would be evaded. The Scott Act would be maintained in places where it was in force. The Scott Act was a measure adopted by vote, but the people had not voted upon the amendment proposed. This would mean a heavy crop of law suits.

Hon. Mr. Ferguson asked if Mr. Poirier were not aware that Parliament had made many amendments to the act and that they had never been enforced where the act was then in operation.

Hon. Mr. Poirier contended that the lawyers alone would reap the benefit.

Hon. Mr. Beique thought they should endeavor to make the law active and operative. He appealed to Mr. Poirier if it would not be better to repeal the act or to enforce it properly. Those in favor of the act asked this bill to enable them to enforce it. As long as the bill remains on the statute book it was their duty to make it operative. In Mr. Domville's own county the act was carried by 2,080 to 370, so that that gentleman must have experienced a pretty solid enforcement. He would not support the amendment if it were a case of license. Mr. Beique believed in the principle of the Scott Act, because it applied the principle of popular government.

Second Reading Carried.

The second reading being declared carried a division was demanded, when it was carried on the following majority:

Yeas—Black, Baird, Beique, Bernier, Bowell, Church, Coffey, Edwards, Ferguson, Fiset, Godbout, Lovitt, Macdonald (P.E.I.), McGregor, McLaren, Montplaisir, Owens, Perley, Power, Scott, Templeman, Vidal, Watson, Wood, Yeo, Young—26.

Nays—Cloran, Dobson, Domville, McKay, McSweeney, Merner, Miller, Poirier—8.

Ice Breaking Vessels.

Hon. Mr. Scott informed Sir Mackenzie Bowell that the Government intended to build two ice-breaker vessels. Tenders had been called for, but Canadian firms had not been asked to tender, as after communicating with Canadian firms, it was found that they could not have the vessels ready in time. These boats were intended for the St. Lawrence, and one was to be ready by Sept. 1 next. There were to b ice-breakers for the Great Lakes and these were to be built in Canada.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell moved for all the correspondence in the matter, pointing out that there was no appropriation for these boats, and that the Government had incurred great expense without the authority of Parliament, Canadian shipbuilders ought to have been invited to tender. There were ice-breakers in the Detroit river which, he understood, were built in Canada. The Government had its own shipyards; then there were the Polson Works and the Bertram Works. Why had they been ignored? In all cases where Canadian firms and enterprises could be encouraged that should be done.

Hon. Mr. Scott said the policy of the Government was quite in accord with the views advanced by Sir Mackenzie Bowell. It was merely the peculiar circumstances which prevent the carrying out of the policy. The best icebreakers he had seen in Canada were at Mackinaw. He presumed that the monetary provision would be made in the estimates.

The following bills from the Commons were read a first time:

To incorporate the Canadian Credit Indemnity Co.

Respecting the Trans-Canada Railway.

Respecting the Century Life Insurance Co.

Respecting the Ottawa Fire Insurance Co.

A bill to incorporate the Pacific Bank of Canada was introduced by Hon. Mr. Templeman and read a first time.

STRAWBERRIES DISHONESTLY PACKED.

Toronto, June 28.—(Special.)—Mr. P. J. Carey, Dominion Fruit Inspector, who is in the city in charge of the enforcement of the "Fruit Marks Act" reports several cases of violations in packing Canadian strawberries. The trouble is not so much in individual boxes as in crates holding from twenty to sixty boxes. While top tier of boxes contain fruit of fine quality that in the boxes further down is quite inferior, and in one case absolute trash was found.

BURST PIPE FLOODS FACTORY.

Very considerable damage was done by water Sunday to the stock of the Semi-Ready Clothing Co. in their factory at the corner of Guy and St. Luke streets. An alarm was sent in by 'phone at 11.50, and on the salvage corps of Stations 4 and 10 turning out, they found the four flats and basement badly flooded from a burst in a pipe leading from a tank on the roof of the factory. The water had evidently been at work for a considerable time, and the only thing the corps could do was to make use of a liberal supply of covers.

SEVERAL JUDGMENTS IN THE CIVIL COURTS

Justice Dunlop Hands Down His First Decision—City Loses Expensive Case.

A large number of judgments were rendered at the Court House yesterday Mr. Justice Dunlop giving his first decision in several cases. The city lost an expensive suit over University St. improvements, which will probably be appealed.

This decision was given by Mr. Justice Davidson in the case of Dr. Ellen Dykes, now Mrs. Davidson, against the city for $10,000 damages to her property, alleged to have been caused by the raising of University Street. The case was fought out at considerable length, and a great deal of cash piled up for expert evidence. The plaintiff secured judgment for $5,359, with one-third off for compensating advantages, making a net judgment for $3,573 and costs.

Belivreau vs. Gauvreau, was an action for alimentary allowance. Mme. Belivreau married the defendant's son, who after two children were born left his wife, going to the United States, and has since failed to contribute to her support. Mme. Belivreau claimed that it took $65 a month to support her and that her father-in-law was well able to contribute $25 a month, which she claimed. The defence set up that Mme Belivreau's mother was well able to contribute to her support, and that the plaintiff, who had since married, had considerable property.

Judgment condemned Gauvreau to pay $5 a month towards the support of his daughter-in-law and her two children.

Mr. Justice Archibald gave Emile Fortin $200 damages against the city for injuries caused by a falling stall. This was $500 less than the amount claimed.

Mr. Justice Dunlop upheld the action of H. Lamoureux against the Equitable Mutual Assurance Company for $487, amount of a fire insurance policy. The company disputed the claim on the ground of false representations. The action of L. Lapierre against the G.T.R. for $110 for the death of a horse was dismissed, on the ground that the animal was illegally on land not belonging to the plaintiff.

FIREWORKS EXPLODED.

Three Persons Killed and Others Wounded in an Explosion.

Philadelphia, June 28.—Three persons lost their lives and half a dozen of the others were injured yesterday, as the result of the explosionof a small bundle of fireworks in the storeroom of the Diamond Fire Works Co., at No. 826 Arch Street. The dead are:—Jacob Jancovitch, aged twenty-eight years; O. Berman, twenty-seven; Lena Sempson, twenty-one.

The fireworks concern occupied the first floor of the building. The second floor was vacant and the third was occupied by the French Hat & Bonnet Frame Co. Jancovitch was the proprietor of the hat and bonnet concern, and Berman and Miss Sempson were his employes. These three were the only persons who were above the first floor. About a dozen persons were employed by the fireworks company. The cause of the fireworks explosion is not known.

A QUEER KIND OF INDIFFERENCE.

Lord Dundonald must have felt chagrined, after issuing a statement about the "difficulties between myself and the Government of Canada," when he found that his friends of the Opposition paid little attention to him and his grievances, but instead devoted themselves almost altogether to the task of defending Dr. Pickel and attacking Hon. Mr. Fisher. Lord Dundonald might reasonably have expected something different. After the fuss the Conservative press made about him, he might have expected, at the very least, that his dismissal would be objected to by the Opposition. But no; he and his high pretensions were given no more honor than an expression of passing regret that the incident had "culminated in depriving the militia of an experienced and distinguished commanding officer."

But if the Opposition declined to follow the general in an all-round criticism of the Government, Sir Frederick Borden did not wait for them to begin. He demonstrated conclusively that he and his colleagues had done a good deal for the improvement of the militia before Lord Dundonald came out, that they have done much since he came, and that they propose to go on after his departure. Sir Frederick made it clear that, acting in concert and in harmony with the Imperial authorities, the Government had adopted, before Lord Dundonald was heard of in South Africa, the plan of the Defence Committee of 1898. General O'Grady-Haly loyally adopted that report and advised the Minister how best to give effect to it. Lord Dundonald saw fit to challenge its recommendations and was angry because the Minister would neither adopt nor publish a set of counter recommendations of his own. Finding the Minister thus intractable. Lord Dundonald graciously accused him and the Government of "crass indifference and want of sympathy with the militia of this country."

Sir Frederick's answer was crushing. The Government had, he said, shown its indifference,

By arranging for annual drill for the whole militia;

By rigidly limiting the term for regimental colonels, thereby assuring that young men shall get a show;

By establishing a reserve list of officers;

By establishing cadet corps and battalions;

By obtaining from a well qualified commission, who sat for weeks, a well thought out scheme of defence;

By securing medals and decorations for veterans;

By setting a higher standard of qualification for officers;

By establishing a medical service branch;

By establishing a pension system;

By establishing a school of musketry;

By encouraging rifle associations;

By organizing the corps of guides;

By organizing an engineers branch;

By rehabilitating the stores branch, turning it into the more efficient ordnance corps;

By founding an intelligence department;

By increasing the capacity of the Dominion arsenal from 1,000,000 rounds to 12,000,000 rounds a year;

By setting up a small arms factory with a capacity of 1,000 rifles a month;

By establishing factories where steel gun carriages can be made.

It seems to us that, while Sir Frederick Borden, who is proverbially a good natured, conciliatory gentleman, may have been unable to please Lord Dundonald in all things, he can at least plead "not guilty," to his Lordship's charge of "crass indifference and want of sympathy with the militia of this country."

THE AMERICAN ELECTIONS.

So intimate are the relations, social as well as commercial, which prevail between the people of Canada and those of the United States that we naturally also take a more than passing interest in that quadrennial operation of their constitution which provides them with an official head.

That first Tuesday after the first Monday in November which every fourth year sees a President elected, who not until the fourth day of March following is legally installed at Washington, is still some months distant, but for months past the press has been in a ferment, somewhat less feverish than usual, no doubt, because the selection of President Roosevelt as the Republican standard-bearer has been regarded as inevitable.

A feature of the United States electoral system in its operation which is of constant interest to the observer is that which sometimes makes it impossible for the three factors of the constitution—President, Senate and House of Representatives, to be in political harmony. The dates of the terms of office of the Senators, who are elected for six years, are so varied that the complexion of that body is constantly liable to change, while a House of Representatives which may be in political harmony with the views of the President with whom it is elected next November, may, when half his term has run out, itself take the party hue of his opponents. The anomalies and the intricacies of the machinery of the state governments afford still greater scope for the wonder of the student of "the science of politics."

However, our neighbors flourish under a system which, if it is criticized by a growing minority of its statesmen, seems to harmonize with the conditions and feelings of the bulk of the electorate. The salient difference between the British system and theirs is that though our House of Commons has a legal life of five years here, and of seven in the Mother Country, its dissolution may take place at any time during that period, when it ceases to be in harmony with the policy of the ministry of the day. For instance, the Parliament at Westminster elected in November, 1885, was dissolved within eight months of its election.

Reverting to the particular circumstances of the moment, it is of course noticeable that President Roosevelt receives a gratifying distinction in being re-nominated while in office. The last four years have seen the passing away of many of that "Old Guard" of Republicanism which stood by Lincoln in the dark days of 1861-1865. Those who remain are all septuagenarians like Senator Hale and Frye, Hawley and Platt, Cullom, Allison and Depew. Indeed, Mr. Cannon, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, is said to have remarked recently that Senator Cullom and himself are the only survivors in Illinois of the little band who stood by Lincoln in the dark hour of the nation. President Roosevelt is only in his forty-sixth year. He belongs to the new regime—the strenuous type—but he is earnest in his view, and honest in his desire to serve the nation which has honored him, and which it seems very probable will do him still greater honor next November.

JEALOUS CRITICS.

The Conservatives will make little capital by attacking the post-office estimates in Parliament. The postal service comes too close to every citizen of Canada for any one to be deceived as to its increased efficiency under Sir William Mulock's administration. The outstanding facts are plain and incontrovertible. The service has been extended far more rapidly than it ever was under the Conservative regime; the charges have been so readjusted as to reduce the postage on letters, while charging fair rates for other mail matter; and, despite lower rates and greater efficiency, the series of deficits which resulted under Conservative administration have been replaced by surpluses, the mail-carrying business being made a source of actual profit to the country.

Conservative critics naturally feel bound to condemn a system which shows such a great improvement upon any results previously attained. They are loudest in condemning the separation of the accounts of the Yukon postal service from those of the rest of the Dominion. The reason for this separation is, however, very obvious. The Opposition criticism consists largely of comparisons with the work of the Conservatives before 1896. Before that date the Yukon was unknown and had no postal service. This service, in so remote, thinly settled and inaccessible a country naturally costs more than the revenue derived from it. Yet no one would argue that for this reason the people of the district should be deprived of a mail service. Sir William Mulock has given them an excellent service under the conditions. But in order to facilitate comparisons and do justice to the actual work of the older branches of the department he has kept the Yukon accounts separate. In doing this the Postmaster-General has performed a double service. He has not only given the people an opportunity to know the workings of the post-office service as a whole, but has shown them what it costs to enable the pioneers in the Far Northwest to keep in touch with civilization.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

It begins to look as though Russia had no Pickel family to draw upon.

If Kuropatkin should make any kind of a stand against Kuroki and Oku, the long list of past reverses will help make him a hero. If he is beaten, on the other hand, the roof will fall in.

Le Canada—In his most recent speech dealing with the Dundonald matter Sir Wilfrid Laurier again proved to all that in the art of speaking as well as in the art of governing he is without a peer in Canada.

Notwithstanding the little reverses experienced by the Czar, Lord Dundonald and Sir Percy Girouard, the Canadian golf championship games will be played at Montreal this week on schedule time.

Admiral Togo wrote: "The effect of the attack and the small loss must be attributed to the illustrious virtues of His Majesty." All right. But are the Russian losses then due to the vices of the Czar? Poor old Czar.

The Gazette says The Herald is afraid the Liberals will lose the Scotch vote. Not much. But if the Scotch were as soft-headed as present Tory appeals to them would pre-suppose, there would never have been any Scotch Liberals.

THE CHALLENGE.

Villa Maria Ruins.

Before me was a heap of broken stone, of crushed mortar, of pieces of columns, steps, and rounded supports. At one side was a still larger mass of them. Carts were being filled with the material, a derrick was in operation, and the place echoed to the directions and orders of the busy workmen. The clanging of a hammer breaking the stone, cut through the warm, morning air. Green fields, daisied over, or stretching up out of sight towards the bushes and trees of the distant slope; the blue sky, broken here and there by the white clouds; the man working in the field below; the scent of the flowers; the uncut and uncared for grass; gave one the feeling that here, indeed, was the country, the quiet, cool, country, with its possible shady places, and running brooks. Only, through it all was a faint dust of mortar, and the sound of men working at other than planting or sowing, or caring for the ground, for they were not building up, but patiently finishing the task of destruction commenced by other hands than theirs.

Villa Maria ruins are no more. The grand old facade, with its broken outline, which has ever been wondered at, and which had a peculiar beauty of its own that attracted many into its deserted paths, is now but a mass of broken stone and mortar. The ruins, as they stood, were of no practical value. The broken stone can be utilized. So the ruins had to go. It was desolate before, but with a weird and strange desolation that one could love. Now it is only desolate. Even the white statue that, alone, remains standing, is broken and cracked, and wired to two boards. There is nothing about the place now that will lead stray footsteps into it, to reverence a beauty that chance pencilled. Progress, necessity, time, have seen fit to erase that pencilling, and the new convent is its only monument.

Progress must ever build the new and tear down the old. Even those of us, who love that which time has made precious, know that utility and necessity have often forced back sentiment, and, sometimes, though not always, rightfully.

The new convent with its heritage of indestructible and splendid history of past achievements, is the true and lasting monument to the old one.

Sentiment is always best when it looks forward and upward. Right foundations of advancement do not fill with stone walls. Nothing can destroy the truly needful work of man.

SHERBROOKE DISPUTES.

Editor Herald:

Sir,—Under the heading, "A Parent Job," in the Montreal Gazette, a charge against the Parent Government is flippantly made, that due to unduly favoring of Sherbrooke in the building of the new Court House, an injustice had been done to the outside municipalities.

Had the Gazette for a moment paid the slightest attention to its own statement of facts, it must have seen that that statement of facts is a flat contradiction to its own pretensions of a Parent job. For instance, the Gazette says: At the session of 1902 an act was passed providing for the building of a new court house at a cost of $75,000, two-fifths, or $30,000 to be paid by Sherbrooke, and the balance, three-fifths, $45,000, by the other municipalities.

The Gazette admits that the amount to be paid by the outside municipalities was fixed by the statute of 1902. To alter the amounts so fixed would necessitate an amendment to the statute of 1902. As no such amendment has been made I would ask the Gazette for the proof of "The Parent Job" accusation.

It is quite evident that there is no more truth in the Parent Job than in the unmitigated rot that is being circulated by the Tory press against the Hon. Mr. Fisher in regard to the Drill Shed site in this city.

The Gazette of the 16th inst. accuses the Hon. Mr. Fisher with having selected a site for the new drill shed in this city, when it is well known here that the selection was made by Col. Biggar, who came here for that purpose. The only color of a charge that can be made against Mr. Fisher in this connection is that he did not favor a change of site at the solicitation or dictation of a few rabid Tories.

The biggest joke in connection with the whole business is that that much discussed site, the parade ground site, has not been available for some years past, it being now occupied by two fine substantial residences.

When the parade ground site was available some years ago, it was bargained for by the City Council, and was to have been paid for by the city. A promise was made that the drill shed would be built on this site, but it was not carried out, and the site was disposed of for building purposes.

The experience of the city of Sherbrooke is that its past representatives had so many favors to get for themselves that the public interest was overlooked, and Sherbrooke went without a drill shed.

The building of a new Court House and Drill Shed outside of the North Ward of this city by the Liberal Government is almost too much for the Tories to bear meekly. It must be admitted that it is a very severe trial to them.

Therefore every Tory sheet in the land is expected to condole with them by accusing somebody of something treasonable or otherwise.

IMPARTIAL TREATMENT.

Editor Herald:

Sir,—Allow me to bring before your readers an example of the Montreal Star's sense of impartiality.

By publishing for the past week, column after column of editorial articles and correspondence in order to prejudice public opinion against Sir Wilfrid Laurier and to rouse the English section against the French section of the Canadian people, that paper has attempted to convey to its readers the idea that Sir Wilfrid, in using the word "foreigner" which was on his part simply a slip of the tongue, deliberately meant to insult a noble race which is represented in Canada by most honorable, upright and distinguished citizens. But when Sir Wilfrid got up in the House of Commons last Friday to answer this charge and when he proved beyond a doubt that the word used was only a slip of the tongue and was on his lips only and not in his mind nor in his heart, the Star failed to publish an adequate report of this explanation, and devoted fifty-three (53) lines to the speech. To show that I am not biased in my statement I will mention that the Toronto World and the Toronto Mail and Empire, two staunch Conservative papers, both published a column report of Sir Wilfrid's speech, and the Toronto News and the Ottawa Evening Journal published the word for word report of Sir Wilfrid's explanation. The Montreal Star cast a most despicable slur upon Sir Wilfrid, and when Sir Wilfrid, speaking in the House of Commons, declared before friend and foe, and before the country, that when he used the word "foreigner" he made a slip of the tongue which he immediately corrected by substituting the word "stranger," and that when he used the word "stranger" he was speaking correct English and polite English too, as evidenced by examples taken from American, British and Canadian authorities which he quoted at length, yet the Star failed to acquaint its readers with the explanation made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whose honesty of purpose and lofty character that paper has impugned.

CANADIAN.

A Little Boy's Treasures.

I have a splendid shaggy dog,
His name is Shepherd Jack;
His paws are white, his nose is buff,
And all the rest is black.

I have a cat, a mamma cat;
Her name is Cat-a-nita;
I have two little baby cats,
Called Thomas and Delighta.

I have a ball, a cart, a sled—
My sled's a double runner;
The names are painted on the side,
"The Clipper" and "The Stunner."

I have a painted dragon kite,
Which sails up in the sky,
When father holds the string, but, oh,
I cannot make it fly.

I have two pretty little calves,
With brown and dewy noses;
They'll make a pair of oxen soon—
I call them John and Moses.

I have a hoop and wooden horse—
You'd think it was a stick.
But I ride it all around the town;
I can't walk half so quick.

And those are all the things I have (Except my dolly Roy.
And I'm ashamed to tell of him,
Because I am a boy!)

OTTAWANS WERE SUCCESSFUL.

Ottawa, June 28.—(Special.)—English papers announce the result of the examinations held this spring in connection with the British Institute of Actuaries. The three candidates who wrote in Ottawa, were all successful. Mr. I. T. Norris, mathematical master of the Collegiate Institute, and Mr. S. E. Allison passed in Part I. and Mr. Milton D. Grant, of the Government Insurance Department was successful in Parts III. and IV. Mr. Grant now obtains the degree of F.I.R., the fifth Canadian who has obtained that fellowship by examination during the past twelve years.

CUT IN CABLE RATES.

Announcement is made by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Telegraph Department, of reduction in the cable rates to the undernoted countries, coming into effect on July 1: Algeria, Egypt, Tripoli, west coast, of Africa, Arabia, Austria, Bokhara, Borneo, Bosnia, Bulgaria, East Roumelia, Canary Islands, Corea, Cyprus, Island of Formosa, Greece, Herzegovina, Hungary, Italy, Japan, Labuan, Malta, Montenegro, Roumania, Sardinia, Servia, Siam, Sandwich Islands, Sicily and Turkey, in Asia.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

"NELL GWYNN" AT FRANCAIS.

The Una Clayton Stock Company opened an engagement at the Francais last night in the favorite romantic drama, "Nell Gwynn." The gay and festive Nell is a familiar figure on the Montreal stage. She has been seen here in many guises, some of them daintily delicious, while in others the actress who essayed the role was inclined to take more liberties with the playwright's conception, and treated Nellie in a broader, though hardly sympathetic manner. Miss Clayton in her production strikes a medium between these two extremes, and in her hands Nellie's many-sided character stands out prominently, and to the best advantage.

Miss Clayton has the advantage of being surrounded by a capable company, and Nell Gwynn gives them plenty of opportunity to display their varied abilities.

Mr. Francis Morey as King Charles II. proved himself far superior to the average repertoire actor. Mr. William G. Beckwith plays Jack Hart, the actor-manager, in a consistent and pleasing manner, while Mr. Frank Carrol made a good Stringe. The heavy work in the piece is entrusted to Miss Bertine Robinson and Mr. George Lund, and their respective parts were well played. Stage settings and costumes accord well with the historical period of the play. Last night's audience was large and enthusiastic, both play and players being well received.

Members of the different Montreal lacrosse clubs are invited guests at this evening's performance.

GOOD SHOW AT SOHMER PARK.

Sohmer Park has a formidable list of names on the programme for the present week. The presentation also is creditable to the Park. Of the many troupes appearing this week, one of the most interesting is the Hanlon Brothers, who present "Le Voyage en Suisse." As clown acrobats they are excellent. The well known young Canadian 'cellist, Rosario Bourdon, is also a feature of the week. The three Japanese equilibrists, the Yamamotos, also attract considerable attention. Their feats are remarkable, and their nationality at the present time makes them more interesting. Couture and Elliott, the contortionists, make their first appearance at Sohmer. The soloist of the week is Miss Belle Stewart, who brings down the house every time. The programme is the best yet, and if the weather continues as it is, Sohmer Park should have its record week.

"EL CAPITAN" AT THE ARENA.

At the Arena last night, The New York Opera Company presented John Philip Sousa's comic opera "El Capitan," before an appreciative audience of good size.

The music of "El Capitan," is something above the usual run of light opera, noticeable by the manner the different airs are treated in the finals. Although the music is old, it has worn well and made a great hit last night.

Mr. Claude Asden as Don Errico Medigna, was excellent and a good second to De Wolf Hopper, the creator of the character and Mr. W. J. McGraw, as the chamberlain, provoked many of the laughs of the evening. In fact the whole of the cast is in capable hands.

The singing of Miss Lois Garneau (Isabel) and Miss Mae Kilcoyne (Estrelda), was particularly good. The chorus were in good form and several of the finales had to be repeated.

The singing and costuming is picturesque and altogether it is an excellent show and well worth seeing.

THE OCEAN LIMITED.

The Intercolonial is Putting on a New Train to Maritime Provinces.

Owing to the largely increased business between Montreal and the Maritime Provinces, the Intercolonial Railway, having in view the greater comfort of passengers going to Moncton, St. John, Halifax and other points in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, have decided to put on a new train between Montreal and Halifax, commencing Sunday, July 3. This train will leave here at 7.30 p.m., and arrive at Halifax the following day at 8.15 p.m. (Atlantic time), making the trip in twenty-three hours and forty-five minutes and will continue to run every day except Saturday during the summer season.

The "Ocean Limited" will be an up-to-date train with solid vestibule sleeping and dining cars, elegant day coaches and superior second-class accommodation, and will be second to no other in Canada or the United States.

The travelling public in general and commercial men in particular will appreciate the new train leaving Montreal in the evening as they will be able to get to Halifax the following night at 8.15, and they will only lose one business day on the road, whereas, at present they lose almost two days.

In addition to the "Ocean Limited" the "Maritime Express" will continue to leave Montreal at 12.00 o'clock noon, daily, except Saturday, and the connection for points in Newfoundland will be made with this train.

SOLDIERS GO INTO CAMP.

Kingston, Ont., June 28.—(Special.)—The camp ground beyond Barriefield on the Pittsburg Road is in readiness for the infantry cavalry and artillery which take possession of it to-day. By ten o'clock to-night the regiments and batteries will all be camped. There is every prospect of a large camp. The regiments and batteries that go into camp are artillery, 5th Field Battery, Kingston and 8th Field Battery, Gananoque.

Cavalry, 3rd Dragoons, Peterboro and 4th Hussars, Kingston.

Infantry, 16th Prince Edward Regiment, Picton, 40th Northumberland regiment, Cobourg; 45th Victoria regiment, Lindsay; 46th Durham regiment, Port Hope, 47th Frontenac regiment, Kingston; 49th regiment, Hastings Rifles Artillery; Medical and service corps. No. 2 Field Hospital and No. 3 army service corps, Kingston.

DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL.

Fort William, June 28.—The Coroner's jury on the death of George M. Kanderka, who was killed by a piece of coal falling on his head while working in the hold of the steamer Newmount, on June 9th, returned the following verdict: "That George Malik Kanderka, came to his death from injuries received by falling coal from the derrick of the coal-handling plant of the C.P.R., and we further find that the death was purely accidental, and that no blame can be attached to any person or persons connected with the coal-handling plant."

MORE AGAINST THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY

Bill Presented in Court to Have It Dissolved as Illegal Corporation.

Trenton, N.J., June 28.—Charles D. Henderson, jr., of Jersey City, and Joseph M. W. Newlin, of Philadelphia, counsel for George Rice, of Marietta, Ohio, yesterday, filed in the Court of Chancery a bill for the dissolution of the Standard Oil Co., a New Jersey corporation, charging that the company is illegal and that it exists in violation of the anti-trust laws of the United States and of the decision in this state relating to the monopolies. The bill charges that the Standard Oil Co., in Ohio, was declared illegal by the courts of that state, but that the company, instead of dissolving, in obedience to that decision has, by subterfuge, evaded the Ohio decision, and that the New Jersey corporation is merely a holding company for the Ohio concern. The bill asks that not only the company be dissolved, but that its assets be distributed among its stockholders after paying off its outstanding securities. For the accomplishment of this purpose it is asked that a receiver be appointed.

HONORED REV. MR. STEVENS.

On Sunday Rev. W. H. Stevens occupied the pulpit of the East End Methodist Church for the first time since his appointment to the pastorate of that congregation. Previous to his leaving Knowlton the citizens honored him with a banquet at which Dr. Harris presided. During the evening Judge Lynch, in a few eloquent words, referring to the high esteem in which the reverend gentleman was held by all classes and creed, and presented Mr. Stevens on behalf of the citizens with a handsome tea set.

GRAVEYARD IS SACRED GROUND.

St. Catharines, Ont., June 28.—(Special.)—Justice Teetzel decided yesterday that the owner must remove the barn which he erected over the bones of Peter and William May, United Empire Loyalists, they having chosen the plot as a family burying ground years ago. When the present owner came into possession he erased the little graveyard and its surrounding hedge. Then May heirs brought action against him, and the judge has ordered the sacred plot restored to its original condition.

ST. CYPRIAN'S PICNIC.

On Saturday morning the children of St. Cyprian's, Maisonneuve, accompanied by parents and teachers, journeyed to Isle Gros Bois for the annual outing. A. P. Tippet, Geo. Marcus, Dr. F. D. Adams, and the Rev. J. J. Willis, were in charge of the party. Games and races rounded out a most happy day. The St. Cyprian's baseball club defeated the St. Thomas' baseball club, by 25 to 6.

WHERE TO FIND A LAUGH

Through The Herald's Sieve.

NO USE talking, Togo is in a class all by his lonesome.

ABOUT 16,000 people saw the circus yesterday, or just 480 less than the number which attended Borden's birthday banquet.

ANY of the campaign poets in the States who find rhymes to Roosevelt and Fairbanks will earn their salary.

THE DAYS are getting shorter, but the Cons. at Ottawa do not seem to be adjusting their speeches to fit the situation.

Torpedoed.

Still Russia's ruler has the blues,
Despondent is the Czarsky.
The cables bring him o'er the news
His navy's had a jarsky.

Women live longer than men because they have no one to talk them to death.

SOME THIEF has stolen a yacht in Toronto bay. Most likely he'll be offering it for sail tome day.

Westmount's Revenge.

I.

In winter, all the funny men,
On sportive mischief bent,
Delight to ridicule the poor
Suburban resident:
They tell of his misfortunes in
Both paragraph and rhyme,
But note their pained, unseemly hush
In the good old summer time.

II.

I wot of one who sneaks upon
A breezy open car,
And leaves behind the city's heat—
Its wearing clank and jar—
He longs for the suburban life,
He knows it is a crime
To make a down town flat house do
In the good old summer time.

III.

He spins along the shaded streets,
So quiet and serene,
He notes the beauty of the lawns—
Verandas cool and clean—
And then he hikes down town again,
To noise and smoke and grime;
His pen writes no suburban flings,
In the good old summer time.

THE STATES has one Hobson. Japan has Hobsons running all over the place.

GEN. KUROPATKIN wishes now that he had heeded the summer-resort circulars, which advised people to go north before the hot weather came.

IN ST. JOHN, N.B., they are celebrating the arrival of Champlain with great enthusiasm, having evidently just heard of his visit.

William the Kisser.

(Boston Globe.)

Emperor William, wearing the uniform of a British admiral, yesterday welcomed to Germany his grandmother's son, King Edward, kissing him several times on both cheeks. But whether the stout Englishman finally said: "There, there, Bill; that'll do, that'll do," the story doesn't say.

LAST CALL for the June bride.

Occasionally a mother meets a young woman who is almost good enough to become the wife of her son.

IT APPEARS that General Stoessel, who commands the Port Arthur garrison, is a Swiss. This probably explains why it is he wears Swisskers.

THE STEERAGE rate from Europe to America and return is only $24.60 now. It's about time for the rival companies to begin giving trading stamps.

AS FOR the soda water clerk, he is not so sure that the harvest hand has the worst of it in hot weather.

CONSIDERING their success, it would not be surprising to learn that the Japanese had grown several inches taller in the past few weeks.

THE CZAR should have his battleships built with more speed. That last batch was unable to run away fast enough.

GEN. OKU should be able to make rapid marches. He does not have to take along an extra packtrain to carry his name.

THE HERALD begs to acknowledge the receipt of about 250 letters asking us to spell it Donedonald. Everybody seems to have thought of it at the same time.

OVER 250,000 workers in the States have recently been discharged. And they were protected by the highest tariff in the world. The States should try the Fielding tariff. It works where all others fail.

AFTER A BATTLE, in which the Russians lost 500, the Japanese buried Russians to the number of 1,700. History will have its hands full making some of the accounts tally.

SMASH!

"Don't you find it hard to put up with your cook's broken English?"

"No; it's her broken china that makes me grumble."

KUROPATKIN must be tempted often to write home for another man to help with the chores in Manchuria.

RESIDENTS of Port Arthur can practice economy in one direction. They do not need to buy alarm clocks.

A Crazy Thing.

She—"Wouldn't it be nice if dreams came true?"

He—"I don't know about that. I had a welsh rarebit dream the other night and—Gee whiz! I'd hate to have that come true."

Almost Cheap Enough.

(Newark News.)

If the ship companies make another cut or two in fares, it is possible that Uncle Russell Sage may begin to figure on a trip to Europe.

THERE ARE always two words in every description of a sea fight: "Quick dash." The Russians make it to get away and the Japs to get after them.

Learning Russian at Home.

(Baltimore American.)

Swallow a white seidlitz powder, following it with a blue one. Then simultaneously swallow a big drink of water and inhale some finely powdered cayenne pepper. Have a phonograph handy when the trouble starts, and you will have on record the city directory of St. Petersburg.

NOW is the time to get at least one-third of the enjoyment of your vacation by planning how you will spend it.

NEVER MIND; it is easier to push the lawn mower than the snow shovel.

SCARCITY OF HELP ON ONTARIO FARMS

Difficulty of Procuring Competent Labor Hampering Operations.

Toronto, June 28.—(Special.) — The latest crop bulletin issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture emphasizes the scarcity of farm labor in the province. Most of the reports state that farmers have been compelled to change their system of farming, many allowing the land to lie idle and run to seed. Some are introducing larger implements, such as the four-horse cultivator, etc. Dairying is being effected by the scarcity of competent help for milking. The report from Storrington, Frontenac, says: "farmers cannot pay as good wages as railway contractors, as we get no bonuses." A Lincoln suggestion is for the "importation of Chinese laborers," while an Elliee, Perth county farmer, declares that "where there is a system of work" and some degree of regularity in the hours farm hands can be got reasonably. Some of the reports are:

Chatham, Kent.—Help is difficult to procure, and what we do get is practically useless. The men quit exactly at 6 o'clock, throw the horses a little hay, and off to the corner grocery. Farm labor is so scarce in this neighborhood that in many families the women of the household are out in the fields ploughing and harrowing. Of course that necessitates letting the housework take care of itself, as no one dreams of looking for a servant any more. They are as extinct as the Dodo.

Aldborough, Elgin—Farmers are depending more on machinery and less on hired help to get their work done.

Bayham, Elgin —. The scarcity and poor quality of farm labor is the most serious problem we have to face. If it continues dairying will receive a serious setback.

Charlotteville, Norfolk—Most farmers will not pay the wages that men and boys ask. Some have their wives out harrowing and cultivating.

Grey, Huron—You cannot get men to work on farms in this neighborhood; they all go to the towns and villages. They would rather work in a livery barn for nothing than on the farm at excellent wages.

Sydenham, Grey—Many of our young people betake themselves to the Northwest or go sailing on the lakes, or else get a more genteel job than farming.

Gwillimbury W., Simcoe—Competent farm hands are scarce, and a number of incapables have to be employed. The scarcity of farm hands restricts the farmer in production, and many lines of agriculture have to be either neglected or abandoned.

Tecumseh, Simcoe— I know a dozen farmers who cannot get men at any price, and those who have them are paying outrageous wages—$175 to $200, with board and washing, for eight months, being about the run. One woman is getting $12.50 a month for household work.

Dorchester, N Middlesex—Farm help is very scarce and hard to get at any price, from $20 to $30 a month, with board and washing, and this in face of the fact that prices for dairy products are very low compared with those prevailing a year ago.

Lobo, Middlesex—A large number of farmers are taking the boys from the "homes," and are raising them to be of some help in the future.

Blenheim, Oxford—There are several houses about here vacant for day laborers. Some of my neighbors could get no hired help for this year, and female help on farms for housework is very much needed. Some farmers intend sowing land in grass, as help cannot be got.

North Easthope, Perth—There was a great scarcity of farm help, but a good many farmers were fortunate to secure English and Scotch farm laborers, who had come to Canada in search of work.

Ellice, Perth—The day is gone when the help worked sixteen to eighteen hours daily on the farm. Where there is a system of work, in which the help can get his meals promptly, and his day's work done at 6 o'clock, with the usual routine of necessary chores, that employer can always get help reasonable. Immigrant labor is not very satisfactory, but the Scotch are preferred.

Clinton, Lincoln—Farm help still continues very scarce, on account of which there are farms in this locality which have not been rented, and which will probably not be worked this season. The only solution of the labor difficulty is the importation of Chinese laborers, and then it is a question which would be the worse, the bane or the antidote.

Albion, Peel—On account of help being out of the question, a good many farmers are seeding down all their land this spring, and are going into sheep raising and feeding stockers on the grass. Farm help is fetching $30 a month, with board, for the season, and in one or two cases as high as $35.

Ernestown, Lennox and Addington — Farm help is scarce. Many farmers are getting larger implements to meet this, such as four-horse cultivators and seeders, etc.

North Crosby, Leeds—Farmers can get along without much hired help, except for milking. Milkers are scarce. This work is usually carefully avoided by hired help, some inserting a clause in their bargain not to milk, or if they milk then very seldom, and then only one or two cows, and in a year like this, when cheese is only 6½ cents, the dairy farmer with any hired help is certainly a man deserving of considerable sympathy.

Westmeath, Renfrew—We are very short of farm help, and would gladly accept some of those immigrants who are being brought into the country, and would pay them good wages.

Carden, Victoria—There is a great need of farm laborers, and also for domestics. If the Government would bring out some Dutch, English or Irish help it would be a great benefit to the country.

Mobick, Muskoka—Very few farmers in Muskoka hire help. They raise their own boys.

HEBREW SCHOOL GROWING.

Closing Exercises at Baron De Hirsch Institute.

A large representation of the Jewish element of Montreal met in the Assembly Hall of the Baron de Hirsch School last night for the closing exercises of the term. Mr. De V. Ansell, Chairman of the board, presided.

The programme consisted of songs in English and French, recitations in English and Hebrew, exhibitions of Swedish drill by the girls, and of rifle exercises by the Hirsch cadets.

The chairman referred to the death of Mr. George Washington Stephens, a warm friend of the institution, who had promised to preside at the closing of the school.

The report of the principal, Mr. W. H. Baker, stated that 116 boys and 437 girls had been admitted to the school during the year, and the monthly average attendance had been 579.6. There were at present 638 children in the school 318 boys, and 320 girls. The consideration of space was becoming insistent, as the children at present had to be promoted as rapidly as possible to relieve the congestion of the lower forms.

Addresses were given by Mr. Robert Bickerdike, M.P., and ex-Mayor James McShane.

On the platform were also Rabbi Abramovitch, Messrs. Horace Joseph, Maxwell Goldstein, A. Jacobs, A. Goldstein, A. M. Vineberg, M. Marcus, Lyon Cohen, S. Fischel, H. Kellert, I. Rubenstein, and A. Sandeman.

WILL SUE REV. MR. WOOD.

The Father of Mrs. Seaman Wants Marriage Annulled.

The petition of Philias Castonguay, father of the "Workman's store window bride," to prevent the much-advertised wedding of his daughter Rosa, came up for hearing in the Practice Court to-day. The movements of the law, however, were a trifle late, as Rosa is now Mrs. George Seaman, and in possession of the various presents donated by city firms for the couple.

Mr. Desire Desbois appeared on behalf of the father, and stated that owing to the wedding having already taken place, the present proceedings would have to be dropped, which was accordingly done.

Mr. Desbois states that it is Philias Castonguay's intention to institute proceedings for the annulment of his daughter's wedding. It is also announced that proceedings will be commenced against Rev. Edmund Wood, rector of St. John the Evangelist's Church, for performing the ceremony without the consent of the girl's parents, she being yet a minor.

If you want a good suit, see Boucher & Roffey about it, corner St. Peter and Notre Dame streets. It will cost you less than looking around for a cheap suit.—Adv.

SUMMER MODEL IN WHITE MOHAIR.

The vogue of white continues unabated, and white mohair fills the requirements of summer in a most satisfactory way. It does not crush or crease like linen, it sheds the dust beautifully, and it is cool and comfortable. The model shows one of the new plaited Etons which stand well away from the figure, this with a line of white and gold braid down the fronts, and a simple puff sleeve with narrow cuff. The skirt, which is many gored, with plaits which flare from the knee down, is cut just to clear the ground all around and is finished with a braid-bound hem.

Mrs. Edwin Cox and Miss Mona and Gladys Cox, Lorne Crescent, are spending the summer at Burlington, Vt.

Two June weddings were celebrated at Carleton last wednesday. On that day Miss Minnie Davis, daughter of the late Mr. John Davis, and Mr. John A. Gardiner, of Rat Portage, were married, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. Elliott, in St. James Church, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The second event took place in Lanark in the evening, when Mr. Wm. Ferguson, of Carleton Place, and Miss Isabella Robertson, were united in marriage. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's aunt.

A brilliant wedding took place in St. Saviour's Church, Victoria, B.C., on Friday evening, when Miss Laura May Dunsmuir, fourth daughter of Hon. Jas. Dunsmuir, was married to Lieut. Arthur Bromley, of H.M.S. first class, cruiser, Good Hope, son of Sir Henry and Lady Bromley, of Stoke Hall, Newark, England. Burleigh, the Dunsmuir home, was magnificently illuminated and festivities were kept up until after midnight, when the bride and groom embarked in Mr. Dunsmuir's steamer Lorne, for Vancouver, en route to England.

A pretty June wedding took place at St. John's cathedral, Winnipeg on last Wednesday at 11.30 o'clock, when Miss Emily Florence Drewry, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Drewry, of Redwood, was married to Mr. John A. Machray, nephew of the late Archbishop of Rupert's Land. The bride who was given away by her father, was preceded up the aisle by her bridesmaids and maid of honor, Miss Lily Drewry, Miss Denholm and Miss Gussie Drewry. Following her, and holding the long satin train, came the little page, Master Edward Code, the small nephew of the bride, and a dainty little tot carrying a basket of flowers, little Miss Frances Code, completed the bridal party.

The ushers were Mr. W. Drewry and Mr. Laycock, and the groom was attended by Mr. Gordon McTavish, as best man. After the ceremony, which was performed by His Lordship Bishop Grisdale, assisted by Bishop Mathewson and Canon Coombes, a reception was held at Redwood, the residence of the bride's parents. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful little watch with pearl fleur de lis. The bridsmaids wore handsome amethysts and pearl pendants and the maid of honor a bracelet in memory of the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Machray, on their return from their wedding trip will take up their residence at Bishop's Court, Winnipeg for the summer.

FOOD FACTS.

What an M.D. Learned.

A prominent physician of Rome, Georgia, went through a food experience which he makes public:

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients that the food is a wonderful rebuilder and restorer of nerve and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients always gain just as I did in strength and weight very rapidly.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely and go to the mountains of this state, but two months there did not improve me; in fact I was not quite as well as when I left home. My food absolutely refused to sustain me and it became plain that I must change, then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without the least fatigue and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial ten days on Grape-Nuts when the regular food does not seem to sustain the body will work miracles.

"There's a reason."

AT RIVERSIDE PARK.

There is a complete change of programme this week at Riverside Park. In the afternoon, Sunday, a chosen company of vaudeville artists rendered an amusing comedy, there was singing, good music by the orchestra, and a great variety of side entertainments. In the evening an exhibition of moving pictures added pleasant variety. The colored tableaux of Ali Baba, and the Forty Thieves, more specially admired. The views will be presented every evening throughout the week.

Mrs. Hughson, of Chicago, whose letter follows, is another woman in high position who owes her health to the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for several years with general weakness and bearing-down pains, caused by womb trouble. My appetite was poor, and I would lie awake for hours, and could not sleep, until I seemed more weary in the morning than when I retired. After reading one of your advertisements I decided to try the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad I did. No one can describe the good it did me. I took three bottles faithfully, and besides building up my general health, it drove all disease and poison out of my body, and made me feel as spry and active as a young girl. Mrs. Pinkham's medicines are certainly all they are claimed to be." — MRS. M. E. HUGHSON, 347 East Ohio St., Chicago, Ill. — $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

More than a million women have regained health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for her advice, and a few timely words from her will show you the right thing to do. This advice costs you nothing, but it may mean life or happiness or both.

THE GREAT RUBY

By T. W. Hanshew, Author of "The World's Finger," "The Mallison Mystery."

PROLOGUE.

A wild night on the Cornish coast. Jannice Polwhele, huddling over the fire in her cabin, sees a young man standing with a child in his arms at her door. She asks the stranger in, but, instead, he gives her the child and pushes a purse of gold in her hand and begs her to keep the boy until he returns.

Chapter I.—The scene is changed to Kent. Sir Nigel Forrester tells his daughter Helen that they are ruined and that his steward, Luttrell, is now the rich man. Helen demands the right of overlooking the books and sends her maid for them.

Chapter II.—Sir Nigel relates to Helen the history of the great ruby. How his grandfather and grandmother had been murdered by the Cinghalese in the hope of recovering the precious stone, but its whereabouts was still a mystery. It was supposed to be secreted somewhere at "Bulmer-Chase." Helen suggests that their steward may be a descendant of the original seekers.

CHAPTER II.—Continued.

"My dear girl, what a preposterous idea! Remember under what circumstances I first met the man. He defended me against a rascally Cinghalese, who was undoubtedly 'a seeker after the ruby,' and he certainly would not have done that if, as you suggest, he had any interest in the affairs of those who are sworn to the recovery of the stone.

"Even that may have been part of the plot, dad dear," she answered. "Like the Scotchman, "I hae me doots.'"

Whatever response it might have been in Sir Nigel's mind to make to this was forestalled by the return of Jemima Ann.

"'Ere I am back agin, Miss," she said as she came in, "which I guv yer note to ole Dirty-White, and it was a fair treat to see the wye wot 'e carried on when 'e read it. Tore 'is oakum, 'e did, till I fought 'e'd 'ave it out by the roots; and 'swear! Well you'd jist ought to 'ave 'eard 'im. 'E went on sumink too hawful for words, and I was jist a 'opin' as 'e'd get up steam enough to go bust, wen—Oh, I begs yer pardin, Sir Nigel. Which Mr. Luttrell, 'e says as 'e'll be 'ere presently, miss, and 'e's a comin' up the Hoak Walk now. Shall I go, miss, or does yer want me to wait and show the old 'Orror in?"

"Oh, no, you needn't wait. But tell me, child, what makes you dislike Mr. Luttrell so much? Has he ever been unkind to you?"

"Wot 'im? No fear! 'E'd 'ave summink more'n grease in 'is 'air if ever 'e tried to cut narsty wiv me, miss, I warrant yer, 'E's an ole 'Ippogriffe that's wot 'e is."

"A hippogriffe?"

"Yes, miss; one o' them parties wot ses one fing and means anuvver. I'm a watchin' of 'is little game, I am; and soon's I find out wot 'e's arfter, a prowlin' round the 'ouse at all hours of the night, and a tappin' of the wals wiv a 'ammer wrapped up in a rag——"

"What's that? What do you say?" chimed in Sir Nigel excitedly, "Tapping the walls with a hammer? Mr. Luttrell? How do you know that?"

"'Cos I 'ave saw 'im a doin' of it, sir. Sometimes it's in the old wing, sometimes it's in the cellars, and sometimes it's up in 'Lydie Hadela's Tower.'"

"In 'Lady Adela's Tower'?"

"Yes, miss, and there most frequent of all. 'E's at it every night, 'e is; tapping' and listenin' like 'e was trying to find a 'oller spot somewheres. 'E lets of 'isself into the 'ouse wiv a key wot 'e's got, every night reglar; and jist as reglar I orfs wiv me shoes and sneaks arfter him, I do, cos I've got a hidea as 'e's arfter the plate and there ain't goin' to be nuffink nicked out o' this 'ouse if Jemima Ann 'Awkins knows it."

"Good girl! good girl!" said Sir Nigel approvingly. "Keep it up, Jemima Ann; don't let anybody know about it, but keep it up. God bless my soul Helen; to think that you may be right after all, and that all these years I have been nursing a viper—and of all vipers, one of that desperate tribe! Watch, Jemima Ann, watch closely, child; and if ever he finds anything don't let him get away with it whatever you do."

"No fear! If ever 'e lays 'is blessed 'and on ennyfink in this 'ere 'ouse, I'll bonnet 'im in less'n no time, and 'ave it awye from 'im before 'e knows where 'e are. But couldn't yer tell me what yer finks 'e's likely to be arfter, Sir Nigel, so's I'll know what to be lookin' out for?"

"I think——ought we to tell her, Helen, when we are not sure"

"I am sure, at all events, dad, dear. Yes, Jemima Ann, you may know. Mr. Luttrell is probably seeking after a bit of parchment with writing on it, and——"

"Oh, my heye! You don't never mean Lydie Hadela's writin' about the 'idin'-plice of the Great Ruby? Cook 'ave told me about it, miss but—yer don't surely mean as 'e's arfter that?"

"Yes I do, Jemima Ann. Now run away, like a good girl, I want to talk with Sir Nigel."

Jemima Ann, awed to the point of speechlessness by what she had heard, bobbed her funny little courtsey and vanished.

"Dad, dear, you know the man now, and we must do anything to placate him—any thing, no matter how desperate, to keep him from gaining sole possession of the Chase," began Helen excitedly. "He is one of the brotherhood who are sworn to the cause of the Ruby, and whatever happens——Ah, good morning, Mr. Luttrell. But you have not, I see, brought the books with you as I particularly requested you to do."

CHAPTER III.

"JACK."

Luttrell smiled, but it was not a pleasant smill, although the teeth that were revealed thereby were of more than ordinary whiteness. He was a thin, wiry little man of about Sir Nigel's own age; narrow-chested, sharp-featured, bright-eyed and with a complexion which certainly vindicated Jemima Ann's customary form of allusion to him, to wit, "Dirty White."

"I ventured to think that you were only jesting, Miss Foorester," he said, noting at the same time how her straight dark brows arched and her small head crested itself with indignation at the supposition that she would be guilty of jesting with a person of his class. "And as the morning is warm, and I am every moment expecting to receive a wire to say that my son is already on his way here——"

"I did not know that you expected him," interposed Helen with cold calmness; "and I do not know what either his coming or the heat of the morning has to do with the matter at all, Mr. Luttrell."

"Well, the ledgers are quite a load to carry for one thing, Miss Forrester, and for another, I hardly cared to put myself to that amount of trouble merely to gratify a whim."

Sir Nigel sprang to his feet, and but for Helen's warning's hand upon his arm the hot words that rose to his lips might have found utterance.

"Miss Forrester desires to see the books, Luttrell; that is sufficient," he said. "She has a wish too look over the account of your stewardship."

COMPLETE NEWS OF ALL THE SPORT

Wild, Weird, Woozy, Wonderful; Beautiful Birds Badly Busted

Among Our Pitchers Yesterday: Laroy, Atherton and Joyce—What?

HE Birds in the course of their rambles have discovered better health resorts than Jersey City.

That section of the map is a first-class place for mosquitos, in fact, mosquitos there have batting and fielding averages of 1,000, or nearly as good as Joe Bean's.

For the Birds, however, the air is depressing and they have a tendency to feel woozy.

What we want to fit cases like that is for Dr. Surecure to hoist a patent medicine on the market and then to advertise as follows:

(1)—Do you feel foolish?

(2)—Do you have specs before the eyes?

(3)—Is your batting average all run down.

(4)—Do you feel it difficult to steal bases?

(5)—Do you have trouble in hitting a balloon?

(6)—When fielding do you feel as if you were catching a red hot stove?

If you have these symptoms send $5 to us and we will spend the money, sending you a note of thanks which you are to shake well before using.

Only a couple of thoughts strike us at the moment:

One is: We are still shy on second baseman.

Another is: We got ours yesterday. Good and plenty.

More about our new play.

The Baltimore correspondent of the Sporting News says that it is distinctly the goods.

He writes:

Three weeks ago the Montreal team looked as if booked to play the role of tail-ender for the Eastern League until the end of the chapter. It looks so no longer. On the contrary, the leaders will have to better themselves mightily to keep ahead of the Canadians. I have been wondering what caused such a transformation, but after seeing their game here in the present series I wonder no longer. Judging from their work here they are winning by headwork—really finished, artistic ball playing. Why, Atherton's men pulled off a play here yesterday that I have not seen tried, except once—and then it failed—since the days when Hanlon's champions used to use it.

It was bunting with a man on third base and bringing in the run on the play. The Montreals tried it twice and pulled it off both times. Hartman, who used to be Chris Von der Ahe's third baseman once upon a time, was one of the men who bunted. Atherton had given the tip to the runner on third, and he started for home as the ball was pitched, Hartman pushed a bunt toward first base and the runner was across the plate, almost as soon as Hartman left it. And, by the way, the run had been made without a hit or an error. Clancy, I think it was, got started on a pass, was stealing as Atherton sacrificed—the old "hit-and-run" game—and got to third on the sacrifice, whence Hartman bunted him home as stated.

It was very clean, clever base ball all around for minor leaguers. Then McManus paralyzed every attempt made by Jennings' men to bunt. He went after bunts—good ones, too—like a chicken after a June bug and threw out at first base as fast a man as Hayden, on an almost perfect bunt, by ten steps.

If the Birds lose to-day and Providence wins. Down we go.

The Game.

Jersey City, June 27.—There was a lively slugging game at the Park to-day, and although Jersey City made eight runs in the first innings, Montreal made a great struggle to win out.

Jersey City knocked Laroy out of the box in the first and Montreal knocked Thielman out in the fifth.

Atherton went up to pitch in place of Laroy, and while he did good work he might have won the game had he sent one of the regular pitchers in, as Montreal's subsequent rally proved dangerous. The locals hit the ball hard. Woods knocked out a homer and Doolin a three-bagger, while two-base hits were made by Bean and Woods. The only Montreal man to hit into double figures was McManus. Montreal had seven men left on bases and were very dangerous at all times. One of the fielding features was a double play by Hoffman and Atherton.

Jersey City.

ROWING—AQUATICS

Winnipeg on the Thames.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 28.—Clasper will, by evening, have completed repairing the Winnipeg boat. About eight feet of the bow was badly damaged, but when repaired will be as good as new. The crew will have the first row in their boat this evening on the Thames.

At Putney this morning while out at practice in a boat kindly lent by the Thames Rowing Club the Winnipegers met a crew of four of the Thames Rowing Club. They allowed the Thames to get away three lengths, then started after them, overhauling them and easily leading them home by four lengths. The Thames crew last year at Henley were only beaten by a very short distance by the London Rowing Club.

The Winnipegers express themselves quite confident, and declare that if Third Trinity beat them, Third Trinity will have to row their best. The Winnipegers depart for Henley this evening. The boat goes by road, arriving at Henley early in the morning.

Third Trinity have picked their crew, and judges claim that the crew that beats them can claim to be the best amateur four in the world.

Several Prominent Golfers Played Over Dixie Yesterday

Among Them Was George S. Lyon, the Present Champion.

Play for the amateur golf championship of Canada, which is one of the two features of the ninth annual meeting of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, will begin to-morrow. Greater interest is being displayed in the event than ever was the case before, and golfers throughout the Dominion have their eyes turned towards Dixie, over which links the championship will be played. Expectations are that the contest will be the keenest in the history of the Canadian championship, for the standard of golf is higher than it was even a year ago, and it is certain that Mr. George S. Lyon, the holder of the Aberdeen Cup, will have all his work cut out to retain it.

The officials in connection with the meeting to-morrow are: President, Mr. Fayette Brown, Royal Montreal Golf Club; vice-presidents, Mr. A. H. Campbell, Jun., Toronto Golf Club, and Mr. H. S. McGreevy, Quebec Golf Club; secretary-treasurer, Mr. T. A. Chisholm, Toronto Golf Club; executive, Dr. R. F. Ruttan, Royal Montreal; Mr. R. C. H. Cassels, Toronto; Mr. R. M. Hamilton, Peterborough; Mr. J. Hill, Victoria, and Mr. P. J. Myler, Hamilton.

To the winner of the first prize goes the Association Gold Medal and the Aberdeen Cup. This cup was presented by the Right Hon. the Earl of Aberdeen and becomes the property of any one winning it in three consecutive annual competitions. The second prize is the Association Silver Medal.

The Qualifying Round.

Play in the qualifying round begins to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, and the sixteen players who return the best scores will be drawn against each other for the championship, and the sixteen players returning the second best scores will be drawn against each other for the consolation competition. Entries close at 6 o'clock to-day. The first round of the amateur championship begins to-morrow afternoon.

The amateur championship final will be played on Friday and on Saturday the open championship will take place.

Dixie was busy yesterday, there being quite a number of prominent golfers out. Among those were Mr. Fayette Brown, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, and his brother, Mr. Geo. T. Brown, of London, Ont.; Dr. Ruttan, Mr. George D. Lyon, captain of the Lambton Golf Club, Toronto, and the present amateur champion, Mr. Percy Taylor, Mr. J. O'Flaherty, and Mr. Fritz Martin. Amongst the professionals were Percy Barrett, of the Lambton Club, Toronto; Charles Murray, of Westmount; James Black, of the Royal Montreal; Peter Henry, of the Victoria Club, and George Elder, of Point Claire.

The most interesting match in the morning was the professional foursome. They played a four ball match, which is the Scottish foursome. The competitors were Charles Murray, Westmount, and James Black, Royal Montreal, vs. Peter Henry, Victoria, and George Elder, Point Claire. After an exhibition of brilliant golf the former pair were one up on the eighteen holes.

Whence They Hail.

During the course of an interesting chat with the players each said that the standard of golf in Canada was rapidly rising. They are all Scotsmen. Murray is a native of Dumfries, but learned his golf in Montreal. Black comes from the historic St. Andrews, the headquarters of the golfing world. Henry is a North Berwick boy and Elder hails from Glasgow.

In the afternoon a particularly interesting foursome, also in Scottish style, was played. George S. Lyon and Percy Barrett opposed Fritz Martin and Percy Taylor. At the lead they were all square. They seemed to content themselves more with finding their way about the course than playing very serious golf. The champion showed, however, that he had lost none of the fine form he displayed last year. His driving was straight and long, his approaching good and his putting very deadly. Fritz Martin and Percy Taylor will both give him a hot run for victory. They were in fine form also. The play of Barrett was very attractive. His driving reminds one very much of James Braid, and unquestionably he will have a good deal to say regarding the destination of the open championship.

During the afternoon Mr. Lyon talked to a representative of The Herald. He is a gentleman of a most cheerful disposition, the picture of an athlete, of medium height, broad-shouldered, strong limbed, strong faced, with a chin that denotes considerable determination, and there seems to be absolutely no "starch" in his nature. He goes at a great gait round the links, and whoever is drawn against him for the championship will have to travel to keep up with him.

"Are you going to win?"

"Going to try."

"What do you think?"

"Think I'll try."

"How did you get the disease?"

How He Got It.

"My friend, Dick, from the Old Country, taught me. Dick was a cricketer, like myself, and in the fall of '95 he asked me to have a turn round the links with him. I thought it was a fool of a game and didn't want to, but he persuaded me and I went. That did it. Next morning I was up betimes and was over these links again. In the spring of '96 I was a confirmed golfer. Netx year I was a proud man when I put out here, in the first round, J. S. Gillespie, of Quebec."

"Ever played Travis?"

"Yes, once. In 1902 I was sent over to Garden City to get some ideas for new links in Toronto. I didn't go to play, for I was out of practice. But I met Travis. It was raining. He wanted a game. Rain never stops that man. He was rubbered from head to foot and in fact rainproof. I wasn't. He beat me five holes up. His short game was better than mine, but I think I held my own in the long game."

"Does golf affect your cricket?"

"I don't think it does much, but I intend to leave cricket, for golf after all is the busy man's game. I can leave my office at 3.30 and play a good four-mile round before dinner, while cricket starts usually at eleven."

In connection with the question of golf affecting cricket a good instance of this is Mr. Leslie Balfour Melville, the old golf champion. While playing cricket regularly he is one of the finest bats in the Old Country, but when he has been golfing and takes up cricket again, he has a constant tendency to sky the ball, and an analysis of his "how out" shows that he is almost invariably caught in the long field.

MAT AND RING.

Gotch Beat Jim Parr.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 28.—In two straight falls, Frank Gotch, the champion catch-as-catch-can wrestler of America, last night defeated James Parr, the British wrestler. The bout was one of the best ever seen here. Parr's great skill was of little avail against the champion. His defeat of a man of Parr's ability adds greatly to his reputation.

Gotch secured the first fall in 45 min. 10 secs., and the second in 27 min. 10 secs.

FOOTBALL.

There will be a meeting of the Montreal and District Football Association on Thursday evening at the M.A.A.A. club-house, to arrange the draws for the Caledonia cup games. All teams wishing to enter must have representatives at this meeting.

POWERS WERE EXTENDED.

Yukon Council Given Undivided Authority Over Liquor Business.

Ottawa, June 28.—(Special.)—An Order-in-Council has been passed giving power to the Yukon Council to deal with the liquor business in Yukon territory. The Yukon Council has been doing this under a local ordinance when objections were taken to it on the grounds of want of jurisdiction. The Justice Department held that the objections taken were valid and now the Dominion Government has passed this order to dispose of the question of divided authority. This new order contains the same provisions as the old order. That is spirits will be admitted at $2 per gallon and beer and light wines at 5 cents a gallon.

SUNDAY TRIPS FORBIDDEN.

Catholic Clergy of Quebec Strongly Denounce Sabbath Day Excursions.

Quebec, June 28.—(Special.—Acting under instructions from the Archbishop of the diocese, Mgr. Begin, the pastors of all the Roamn Catholic churches of this city yesterday morning denounced in the most emphatic tones Sunday excursions and stigmatized them as a direct violation of the law of God and the Catholic Church, and prohibited Catholics from taking part in them under the pain of committing a grievous sin.

Mr. R. A. Cameron's little Scottish terrier champion, Reel o' Tulloch, is dead. He had never been beaten.

Brantford Are Strengthening Their Team for Saturday's Game

The talk of the hour is the Minto Cup game billed for Friday. It may not be such a walk over as results would indicate.

Newspapers in the west declare that the Tecumseh's home is the finest ever seen in Canada.

"Not for a thousand Minto Cups will the C. L. A. have anything to do with the C.A.A.U. or its decision. Where would the C. L. A. stand if it recognized the C.A.A.U. rulings?" This was the Toronto Telegram's prophecy the day before the C.L.A. climbed down and asked for a conference.

So Brantford are afraid of their men lounging round Montreal hotels and being treated too well. They will take them home on Saturday night.

New Player for Brantford.

Brantford, Ont., June 28.—(Special)—The Brantford team had a light practice yesterday afternoon, and will turn out again to-day, leaving for Montreal to-morrow night. Arriving on Thursday morning, and having a workout in the afternoon. All the men are in good condition. A new outside home player will arrive to-day, but the management will not announce his name until he gets in town. Dade's broken thumb is improving. He will be in line. The team will be brought back to Brantford on Saturday, and will again return to Montreal for the second game on the ninth. The management have profited by their experience of last year in allowing players to lounge around Montreal hotels during the interval between the matches. Fred Waghorne, late of Toronto, will likely be in charge of the team. An excursion may be run down for the matches if a reasonable rate can be secured. It is pretty certain that the new outside home man is John Wilson, of Perth, who played the position in rattling good style on the local team four years ago.

The Shamrocks of Toronto Junction, are the latest challengers for the Minto Cup. Mr. P. D. Ross has been officially notified of the "challenge." The midge and the elephant story isn't in it.

Montreal are without a match until July 16 when they meet the Capitals.

The Shamrock executive will find it no easy task to decide whether to play Hoobin and Smith. The youngsters who filled up the vacancies are good enough to catch a place on any team.

Shamrocks vs. Brantford.

Brantford will be here on Friday to discover if the Minto Cup will find a resting place in the West. To guard against this possibility the Shamrocks have been busy setting their house in order. All the senior team were out last evening, and among them were Harry Smith and Henry Hoobin. Both seemed to be in fine condition, and they may both be played on Friday.

Carleton Place, June 28.—(Special.)—The next match in the Eastern Ontario Lacrosse League is booked for Carleton Place on Friday, when Almonte come here. There will be a days' sports besides the lacrosse game. The home team is picking up since Mr. Gleeson took them in hand, and the match on Dominion Day is expected to be one of the fastest and closest of the season.

The Brantford Team.

It is evident from The Herald's despatch from Brantford this morning that there will be some changes in the challenger's teams. "Lady" Taylor, who played centre, will go off, and Neely will move to centre.

The home, therefore, will be Doyle, Dade, Cain, Powers and Wilson. The defence will be Hutton, Dowling, Grimes, White, Finlayson, Degan and Neely. The spares will be McBride, Taylor and Jack Kelly.

It is interesting to note that six of these players were in Montreal last year when

DOM. COAL AND NOVA SCOTIA WEAKER, CAN. PACIFIC CONTINUES ON FIRM SIDE

Coal and Pacific were the features of the market to-day, the former showing renewed weakness and the latter a disposition to do better under the influence of what Wall Street tells us is "continued support from Canada and particularly Toronto."

While there is no doubt considerable genuine liquidation in Coal by people who are discouraged at the immediate outlook for dividends, it is pretty evident that the shorts, or professionals, chiefly in Boston are out to hammer the stock for all they are worth.

One Boston message stated very cheerfully that they would knock it to 30 before they got through, and naturally messages of this character were not very encouraging to people who are wavering whether to hold on or let go. Judging from our Sydney despatches this morning, Mr. Ross is going to carry on a radical policy of retrenchment, and more employees, about 300 in all, have been discharged. It is also stated that an English expert has advised a new mining policy, and that it will be given a trial in Dominion No. 2.

There was very little comment on the statement issued by the management explaining the passing of the dividend, as it merely contained allusion to facts which were already known on the Street.

Nova Scotia was another feature of the market, and the weakness created some comment, although there was no news on hand. Opening at 70 1-2, it sold off gradually to 68, on small and scattered liquidation.

There was less done in Dom. Steel bonds, and the tone was firm at the recovery, there being a feeling of confidence that the interest payment has been provided for.

Power was steady at 72.

C. P. R.

One Wall Street wire said: "London and Harry Content are the buyers of Canadian Pacific. I don't think it will hold its rise."

Situation in London.

London, 2.30 p.m.—Consols and other investments are firm on the prospects of a prolonged spell of monetary ease. After the turn of the half-year. South African mining issues show fractional advances and there has been good continental buying of the international shares. Rio Tintos are a shade higher at 52 3-8. American railway shares show irregularity. Russian Imperial 4's unchanged at 92, Japanese old 5's 1-8 down at 87 1-2, 4's and new 5's are steady at 77, and 87 3-4; new six p.c. loan is at premium of 3 p.c.

The sales to noon in Wall Street today were 66,800 shares.

Forget's Cable.

L. J. Forget & Co.'s London cable quoted Grand Trunk first at 103, second at 88, third at 39 3-4, Canadian Pacific at 127 1-4, Anaconda at 3 3-4, Hudson Bay at 40 1-2.

London Closing.

American stock in London closed weak.

Noon Letter.

New York, June 28.—The reactionary tendency which was noted in yesterday's market continued this morning, but price changes were as a rule very slight. The decline in Steel attracted perhaps more attention than anything else, as this stock is looked upon as a barometer of general business conditions. The Reading M.y report was quite a surprise. This company has been putting forth some wonderfully good exhibits for several months past, and the one for May was the rather complete reversal of those shown lately, the decrease in net for the railroad and coal companies being $458,000. Reading, however, did not react any more than the average general list. Canadian Pacific was an exception to the general tendency, and advanced on buying from London. Much bull talk is heard on this stock, and its present earnings are said to be larger than at any time in its history.

New York Gossip.

Messrs. Zimmermann & Forshay wire Robert Meredith & Co.:—London prices come irregular. We look for a continuation of this dull market, and expect prices to stay at about this level. The choice of the Democratic candidate, and the reports of the crops are the only items which are watched with interest. Sales to noon: Stocks, 66,800; bonds, $44,000.

Knock on Pacific.

Now for the bears. The Brooklyn Eagle says: "This wake up to the value of Canadian Pacific and the 'Zoo' stocks," remarked one of those slow moving observers of Wall Street's idiosyncracies, "is altogether too sudden for any one to appreciate who does not know where the wire pulling starts from. To my way of thinking it is simply ridiculous to suppose that either property has had a miraculous access of merit thrust upon it, and that this is of such quality and proportions as to make the stocks worth all kinds of money more than they were selling for a few weeks ago. If there is anything to bull Canadian Pacific on, our net earnings which have run behind nearly two million dollars or fifteen per cent., then the sooner the road loses more the better for the stock. The idea is something new. Earnings of the 'Zoo' lines are behind, too, $230,000, or say eight per cent. People who are doing the shouting for this outfit may be sure of bi gcrops and big earnings by and by, but sensible people, it seems to me, will be inclined to discount all such talk very heavily. I see by the harvest calendars that wheat is not gathered in Manitoba and Lower Canada until August. Plenty of time for the crops to get a setback that would give people something to think of who had bought the stocks on prospects of so uncertain a character. Increased dividends! Pshaw. Wait until there are increases in earnings big enough to wipe out the decreases."

Boston Dividends.

This year's disbursements for July dividends at Boston are estimated at $27,716,917, the largest in the history of Boston.

WHY COAL CO. PASSED ITS DIVIDEND; 'GOT TO PAY OR SHUT DOWN," SAYS MR. ROSS

The Dominion Coal Co. is sending a circular to its shareholders to-day explaining the passing of the dividend. It follows:

To the shareholders of the Dominion Coal Company, Limited:

Your directors beg to report that the net earnings for the six months ending June 30th, 1904, as actually ascertained for the first five months and estimated for June, have been disappointing.

A heavy decrease in earnings occurred during the first four months, and was attributable to bad weather conditions, which seriously interfered with the operation of the mines and with the transportation of our coal.

These bad physical conditions, together with higher operating expenses, largely increased the cost of mining.

The earnings for May and the estimated earnings for June, are satisfactory and equal to those of last year, but even with these results, the net earnings for the six months ending June 30th, after providing for the fixed charges, preferred stock dividend, general interest and sinking fund, are not sufficient to warrant any dividend being declared at this time on the common stock. Your directors, for the above reason, and taking into consideration the floating debt of the company, conclude that the most prudent course is to defer action on the dividend on the common stock until after the close of the present year, when the full accounts for that period will be presented.

It is hoped that the shareholders will consider this action as conserving the best future interests of the company, and as being the only proper course which the board of directors under the circumstances could adopt.

The property is in first class condition, its output at present the largest in its history, and it possesses a large and increasing earning power.

Your directors aim to place the company on a sound financial basis, and have every confidence in its future.

By order of the board.

J. Mackay, Secretary.

Cutting Expenses.

Glace Bay, N.S., June 27.—(Special.)—Retrenchment is the order of the day around the coal mines, every unnecessary expense is to be cut off. Last week it was the machine shops, to-day it is a reduction in the force at the largest colliery, No. 2. It is said tonight that 300 men have received notice of dismissal. Those men will not be able to obtain work at any of the other mines, as they are already full, and some of them may have force reduced as well.

The era of extravagance at the D. I. & S. Co. had its effects upon the Dominion Coal Co., and they acquired the habit of doing things on a big scale, and dour the expense. This, it is said, has got to stop.

We learn on good authority that Mr. James Ross, the president of the Coal Company, was to-day heard to say to Manager McEachern, of No. 2, "She has got to pay or shut down," which is equivalent to saying, practice enonomy if you wish to hold your job.

It is understood that Mr. Walker, the English mining expert, favors the long wall system of working, and this system will be adopted first in No. 2. It is claimed that under the new system a great saving will be effected in the cost of reclaiming the coal.

Long wall working is practicable where heavy strata overlies the coal, and great saving is effected in timber, ventilation, and in track. The roof is all brought down within a short distance of the working face, the timber being withdrawn.

The air always sweeps the working faces, affording better ventilation, and at less cost. Some portions of No. 2 afford ideal conditions for long wall working, but, as a general system in all the company's mines, there will be many objections to it.

The Herald is published by The Herald Publishing Company, 162 Craig Street, Montreal. James S. Brierley, Managing Director.

Hudson's Bay Co.'s Magnificent Showing

Another prosperous year has been experienced by the Hudson's Bay Company, and, as was foreshadowed at the last general meeting, the directors propose to make a further return of capital to the shareholders. Twelve months ago the trading profits amounted to £142,001, and the balance of the land account reached £177,857. From the trading profits a dividend of 22s 6d per share was paid; while the balance of the land account, plus £22,143 taken from the sales of land to May 31, was applied in making a return of capital of £2 per share. For the year ended May 31, 1904, after appropriating £100,000 from the land account, the balance from this account, together with the profits from the trading, will enable a dividend of 35s per share to be paid, carrying forward a sum of £93,730. This means that the total profits of the year will approximate to £280,000, of which possible about £160,000 represents the balance of land account, and about £118,000 the profit on the trading. We give below the profits secured from trading and from land separately; also the total net profits and dividends for 1894 to 1904 inclusive:

NOURISHING

Tens of thousands of physicians are constantly prescribing Angier's Emulsion because it makes the digestion of wholesome food easy and nourishes the tired or worn out system. It cleanses and enriches the blood, creates firm flesh, quiets the nerves and acts as a general tonic. It is quite pleasant to take.

Market Reports.

NEWS OF THE DAIRY MARKETS

Movement of Cheese and Butter in and Out of Montreal—Both Markets Keep Very Quiet.

Last week the arrivals of cheese, as posted at the Board of Trade, were 101,046 boxes, against 118,833 the same week a year ago, a decrease of 17,787 or 17 per cent. For the season to date they have been 415,383, as against 494,785 in 1903, a decrease of 79,402, or 19 per cent. With regard to the export movement of cheese, that of last week was almost identical with that for the corresponding week in 1903, but for the season to date there is a decrease in the exports of 41 per cent. or 146,864 boxes.

The market is quiet. At the wharf 5,000 cheese sold at 7 1-4c.

Butter keeps quiet. At country points the equivalent of 17 1-2c and over was paid for Townships laid down here, while at the wharf 700 boxes changed hands, the factorymen realizing 17 1-4c to 17 1-2c. Export demand is still complained of, but prices as they now stand are certainly not extortionate. So far this season, also, the export movement of butter compares favorably with that of 1903. For the week ending Saturday the exports were about the same in both years, but the total for this season, to date, shows an expansion of 55 per cent., being 52,108 boxes, against 33,617, a gain of 18,491. The arivals of butter in Montreal also have been heavier this year than last, the aggregate up to last Saturday being 15 per cent. more than in 1903, viz., 141,504 boxes, against 122,473, a gain of 19,031.

Cheese Boards

Lindsay, Ont., June 27.—The Victoria cheese board met here to-day. There were 1,900 boxes boarded and sold at 7 11-16c. Mr. Flavelle took 730 boxes; Fitzgerald, 433; Whitten, 545; and Cook the balance. Buyers affirm that this price is somewhat in advance of the market value at present.

Sherbrooke, Que., June 27.—There was a good attendance at the Sherbrooke Dairymen's Exchange this afternoon. Saltless butter remained the same as last week, 17½c, but there was a slight increase in salted. A. W. Grant bought 167 boxes of saltless butter at 17½c, and 74 boxes of salt at 16¾c; Lovell & Christmas, 265 boxes at 17½c; and James Alexander bought 272 boxes of salt butter at 16¾c. The Glendale cheese factory was the only factory represented, but there was no sale.

Richmond, June 27. — Ten factories offered 764 boxes on Saturday, of which 411 sold at 7¼c; balance being held over.

Country Produce

Eggs—No change to speak of. Trade was slow to-day with straight gathered stock quoted at 14c to 14 1-2c, and seconds at 12 1-2 to 13c per dozen.

Beans—The tone of the market for beans remains steady, but the volume of business passing is small. In a jobbing way sales of choice primes were made at $1.35 to $1.40, and primes at $1.30 per bushel, while car lots of choice primes were quoted at $1.30, and primes at $1.25 per bushel.

Honey — Extracted white clover honey, 8 1-2c to 9c per 10-lb. tin, and at 7c to 7 1-2c in 300-lb. keg; buckwheat honey, 6c to 7c, and white clover comb, 13c to 13 1-2c.

Maple product—Syrup, in 15-gallon casks, 5 1-4c to 5 1-2c per lb.; in tins, 55c to 60c per wine measure, and 70c to 75c for imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8c to 10c per lb.

Ashes—First sorts, $6 to $6.10; seconds, $5.40 to $5.50; and pearls, $7.25 to $7.50 per 100 lbs.

Decline in Hogs

There is an easier feeling in the market for live hogs in spite of the small offerings. Dressed stock was off 25c per 100 lb. The demand from butchers was fair for small lots and sales of freshkilled abattoir stock were made at $7.50 per 100 lb. In smoked meats a fairly active trade was done and the demand for lard was also fair, but the movement of pork is slow.

Week's Failures

Commercial failures this week in the United States, as reported by R. G. Dun & Co., are 227, against 257 last week, 227 the preceding week and 223 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada numbered 32, against 16 last week, 20 the preceding week and 19 last year. Of failures this week in the United States 89 were in the East, 67 South, 48 West and 23 in the Pacific states, and 87 report liabilities of $5,000 or more. Liabilities of commercial failures reported for June to date are $6,479,723, against $5,806,153 for last year.

Cattle Cables

London, June 27.—There was a steady trade done in cattle, and the tone of the market was firmer with prices 1-4c per lb. higher than on this day week. Choice American cattle sold at 12 3-4c and Canadians at 12 1-4c per lb. The tone of the market for sheep has been weak as prices show a decline of 1c per lb., with sales of best to-day at 12 1-2c per lb.

Liverpool, June 27.—The tone of this market for Canadian cattle was also stronger, and prices show an advance of 1-4c to 1-2c per lb., with sales at 12c to 12 1-2c per lb.

MR. BELL-SMITH IN TOWN.

Mr. F. M. Bell-Smith, R.C.A., arrived in town this morning from Toronto.

GRAIN HERE AND IN THE STATES

Advance in Manitoba Wheat Crooked the Foreign Demand—Fair Export Bids for Oats.

The advance in Manitoba wheat on this side had a tendency to check the demand, and since Saturday there has not been a great deal done. Bids on oats were fair, however, and sales of 10,000 bushels of No. 2 white were made at 32c, and 20,000 bushels of No. 2 mixed at 31 1-2c per bushel west. The local market for oats continues very firm, but business was quiet, with No. 2 white quoted at 31 1-2c to 32c, and No. 3 at 30 1-2c to 31c per bushel, ex store. Buckwheat was quoted at 59 1-4c; peas at 70c; No. 2 rye, at 62c to 62 1-2c; No. 2 barley at 49c; No. 3 extra at 48c, and No. 3 at 47c; No. 2 white oats, 36 1-2c to 37c per bushel, afloat.

GRAIN IN CHICAGO.

The various options in Chicago this morning were quoted as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	12.30.
Wheat—
July	85⅝	85½	85	85
Sept.	80¾	81	80⅝	80⅝
Corn—
July	47¾	48⅛	47⅜	47⅞
Sept.	48¼	48½	48¼	48¼
Oats—
Sept.	31¾	32	31¾	32

Bradstreet's statement to-day gave wheat decrease of 3,000,000 bushels.

"There is a long line of July corn that is held here, estimated anywhere from 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 bushels that has not been sold out," said F. P. Frazier. "Now if this crowd take the cash corn in and pay for it July corn will sell higher and September will sympathize with it. Think it would be a good idea for shorts in July corn to get out.

Wheat in Sight

The total amount of wheat in sight shows a decrease of 4,491,000 bushels compared with a week ago, and an increase of 15,913,000 with a year ago.

The following table shows the amount on passage to the United Kingdom and Continent:

	June 27, 1904.	June 28, 1903.
U. S. visible.....14,652,000		17,459,000
On passage to the United Kingdom..30,640,000		18,480,000
On passage to the Continent 15,120,000		8,560,000
Total wheat in sight.60,412,000		44,499,000

Flour, Feed, Hay

Flour—A fair volume of business was done in flour on local and country account, but there is no new feature in the situation to note, prices being unchanged for all grades. Manitoba spring wheat patents, $4.90; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.60; winter wheat patents, $4.80 to $4.90; straight rollers, $4.65 to $4.75; straight rollers, in bags, $2.20 to $2.25.

Feed—There was no improvement in the demand for millfeed; consequently the market is quiet with no change in prices to note. Manitoba bran, in bags $18; shorts, $19 to $20 per ton; Ontario bran, in bulk, $16.50 to $17; shorts, $18 to $18.50; and mouillie, $24 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

Meal—The condition of the market for rolled oats remains much the same, with some holders selling at $2.15 to $2.25 per bag, while those in the combine state that prices are unchanged at $4.90 to $5 per barrle, and at $2.30 to $2.35 per bag. Cornmeal is quiet at $1.30 to $1.40 per bag.

Hay—There was no further change in the condition of the market for baled hay. The demand is fair for local and foreign account. No. 1, $10 to $10.50; extra good, No. 2, $9.50 to $10; ordinary, No. 2, $8.75 to $9; and clover mixed, $7.75 to $8 per ton, in car load lots.

Cattle Go Higher

At the Metropolitan stock yards, at Point St. Charles, the receipts of live stock for local consumption were 200 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 200 calves and 350 hogs. A feature of trade was the stronger feeling in the market for cattle, owing to the small supply offered as compared with last week; in consequence, prices advanced fully ¼c per lb. Another feature of the trade was the demand from exporters for suitable beeves to complete shipments with, and this coupled with the good demand from local buyers added strength to the situation, which resulted in an active trade being done. Prime beeves for export account sold at 5¼c to 5¾c, and a few of such were also bought by butchers at the same figures, but the bulk of the buying for local consumption was at the following prices: Choice stock, 5c to 5¼c; good, at 4½c to 5c; fair, at 4c to 4½c, and common at 3c to 3¾c per lb. The demand for choice sheep and lambs was good, but owing to the small receipts trade was quiet and prices firm. Export sheep sold at 3¾c to 4c, and butchers' stock at 3¼c to 3¾c per lb. Spring lambs sold at from $2.25 to $4.50 each. The supply of calves was small, for which there was a good demand at prices ranging from $2 to $10 each. An easier feeling developed in the market for hogs in spite of the receipts being comparatively light, and prices ruled lower than on last Wednesday, which was probably due to the lower cable advices on Canadian bacon. The demand was fair, and sales were made at $5.25 to $5.35 per 100 lb., weighed off cars.

The receipts of export cattle at the Montreal Stock Yards for the past week were 200 cars, of which 116 cars were shipped via Montreal; 52 via Portland, and 32 via Boston.

PREPARING GAUSS FOR VOYAGE NORTH

Vessel Will Sail in August on Voyage of Discovery.

Quebec, June 28.—(Special.)—The steamer Gauss which went into the graving dock ten days ago to be overhauled is undergoing a thorough repair under the supervision of Captain Bernier. The vessel's bottom was first scraped and moss fully one inch thick and concrete in hardness was removed. A large force of experienced caulkners are now engaged in caulking the exterior from stem to stern and painters carpenters, riggers and mechanics are busy removing and filling up all the apartments of the ship. Her interior has been cleared and is being painted while carpenters are engaged in the hold in converting it into four watertight compartments.

Machinists are also at work overhauling the ship's machinery and plumbers are fitting up bath and wash rooms for the officers and crew, and in fact every thing is being done to convert the Gauss into the most modern improved ship in all its appartments for the service it is destined to perform.

Capt. Bernier is acting upon every suggestion in conjunction with his own ideas, to fit the vessel for her important voyage of discovery. He intends to have a convertible house made which will cover the entire vessel when she reaches her furthest station in the ice, and when the exploring party will leave her to travel over the ice fields in search of the North Pole. He has also drafted plans for an automobile to be used instead of dogs to travel, and is leaving out no detail to accomplish his mission. The Gauss will remain in dock until she is in perfect order to start on her voyage and then it is expected that she will proceed to Montreal, where the scientists, four in number, appointed by the Government and her crew, go on board. She will probably sail north in August, unless the Government should decide to change the plans mapped out.
