SPUTNIK MUTTNIK? — Did the bones of Soviet Russia's famous space dog Laika fall from space yesterday as well as pieces of Sputnik II? Sherbrooke Record investigators tracking down reports of falling Sputnik pieces came across these bones near the spot where other mysterious objects did fall at North Hatley. For what they found of a more serious nature, see story below and picture at bottom of page.

Sputnik Or Speculation?

By GERALD McDUFF

Sputnik II or too much speculation? Was the Eastern Townships suffering from a case of too much rumor?

Did the disintegrating Russian satellite pepper the Sherbrooke area with fragments?

Mrs. Claude Smith of North Hatley doesn't know what fell near her home Sunday evening but it was a rose colored flash that streaked into the field barely a hundred yards from the house.

"My husband and I saw it from our parlor window. We thought for a minute it was going to hit the house," she said. "I can't say what it was but naturally we had heard about the Sputnik on the radio."

Mrs. Smith said the RCMP seized the object.

It was metallic, cylindrical in shape, about half an inch in diameter and just over an inch long, she said. It was aluminum colored and looked manufactured.

The Mounties picked the object from a burned patch of grass in a pasture.

Mrs. Smith displayed small fragments of molten ash colored metal that were found around the object.

Mayor Clifford Reed of North Hatley was noncommittal about the Sputnik theory.

FLARE CASINGS

Several casings—looking very much like oversized shotgun cartridges—were turned over to him by North Hatley residents. He said the people reported finding the objects after seeing a flash in the sky. One man claimed his truck was nearly hit by one.

The cartridges bore numerical and letter markings and closely resembled military flares.

Spends $2,142 To Find A Wife

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A Minneapolis salesman lost out in his pitch that the government is discriminating against bachelors.

Victor S. Rotering, 32, in his income tax return listed $2,142 as business expense he laid out in 1957 in efforts to find a wife. It was under the loss column, of course.

"I probably spend more money trying to find a wife than a married man does after he has one," said Rotering. His listings included such items as:

Flowers for Bev $5; sweater for Gloria $25; fur coat for Grace $750, and so on. All total loss, said Rotering, because 1957 produced no helpmate for him.

"But you can't call that a business," said agent Herb Weiner of the internal revenue service, refusing to accept the return.

Speedup In Negotiations On Canada-US Air Defence

Algerians Nab Soccer Stars

PARIS — (Reuters) — France's North African troubles took a startling new turn today with the sudden disappearance of 14 of the country's top soccer players — all of them Algerians.

Their disappearance Monday night, on the eve of a National Assembly vote of confidence on Premier Felix Gaillard's handling of the Franco-Tunisian dispute, aroused fears that the Algerian insurgent movement had put into operation a plan to "spirit away" the players.

Five of the missing players—including four internationals—turned up in Tunis, but police were unable to trace the other nine.

One after another, French soccer clubs reported players missing. Worst hit was Monaco, to which four of the players who fled to Tunisia belonged.

MANY ALGERIANS

Among 43 North African players in French first-division soccer, 28 were born in Algeria and several others are of Algerian origin.

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Gaillard prepared to stake the life of his government—and possibly Franco-American relations—on a confidence vote over Tunisia.

The National Assembly has been called back from vacation two weeks early as the result of a secret message to Gaillard from President Eisenhower.

It will be asked to endorse the government's decision to resume talks with Tunisia on the basis suggested by the Anglo-American "good offices" team of American envoy Robert Murphy and his British counter-part, Harold Beeley.

Some of Gaillard's critics, who have been gathering strength, consider the terms as a "surrender" to American pressure, and the thin end of the wedge to "internationalize" the Algerian problem.

Labor In Control In Lancashire

LONDON (AP) — Labor party candidates have gained control of the county council in industrial Lancashire—usually regarded as a key area pointing to the outcome of the next general election.

It was Labor's latest success in a week of elections for the county councils of England and Wales, in which they now have won 170 seats from the Conservatives.

Liz At Work

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor returned to movie work Monday for the first time since her husband, Mike Todd, and three others were killed in a plane crash March 22. The actress worked in scenes for Cat on a Hot Tin Roof at MGM.

United States 'Hottest' Country

Fallout Menace Confuses The Public

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK (AP) — Invisibly it drifts from the skies. A bit is falling now. Some fell yesterday; more will come tomorrow.

You cannot see it, feel it, hear it, nor taste it. It frightens, confuses, agitates millions of people the world over. This is fallout, the radioactive rain from tests of A-bombs and H-bombs.

The United States has collected more of it than most and is the "hottest" country, says Dr. Willard Libby, an atomic energy commissioner.

But he and others add that this doesn't mean much—that fallout is adding only a tiny bit to the radioactivity that grandmother and grandfather lived with.

AN URGENT ISSUE
Fallout is at the heart of one of the great urgent issues of the day—whether to continue testing these weapons.

Is fallout dooming millions of

Beyond any doubt, yes, it does, say most or all geneticists.

CAN CAUSE CHANGES
Any radiation can cause harmful changes in human genes, the carriers of hereditary traits, they believe.

This normal radiation also probably makes us age faster than if there were no radiation at all. It may cause some cancers or other illness.

But we've been living with this natural radiation all our lives without any fear about it. We can't do anything to stop it, anyhow.

Fear was really born when A-bombs burst over Japan.

Each bomb tested since then has thrown more radioactive atoms into the air, which ultimately fall to earth somewhere.

One thing about this new radioactivity—it is made by man; it can be stopped by man.

(Tomorrow: How radioactive are we from bomb tests?)

Big Three Oppose Conditions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Big Three allies are expected to lay before the Kremlin today or Wednesday the free world's idea of how a summit conference must be prepared.

The formula put together by the United States, Britain and France was approved Monday by the 12 other Atlantic Pact powers at Paris. Some further light was expected to be shed on it today by State Secretary Dulles at a press conference.

Briefly stated, the allies are understood to go along with Russia's proposal that the Big Four ambassadors start talking things over in Moscow Thursday, but are described as dead set against the conditions laid down by Russia.

These conditions are that the ambassadors and the Big Four foreign ministers, if they too gather together, must discuss only technical details—not the world-dividing issues themselves. That, Moscow says, should be left entirely to the heads-of-government at a summit meeting. Further, Russia wants a firm date in advance for the summit.

Dulles told the International Press Institute Monday it was "illusory" to believe that complex, complicated issues like disarmament could be settled with broad brush strokes. He said any hope of success hinges on adequate painstaking preparation by experts.

Repayment Wanted
MONTREAL (CP) — The Quebec government's intention to demand repayment of government bursaries loaned to students for university education was re-affirmed Monday by Welfare Minister Sauve. He said court preliminaries will be launched shortly.

Youngster Killed By City Truck
Police, late this morning, identified the victim as Alain Berard, 3, son of Alphonse Berard.

A child was run over and killed this morning on Gillespie st. by a City of Sherbrooke sprinkler truck. It was driven by Lorenzo Maheu, 47, of 97 1st Ave. North. The time of the accident was about 10:50.

Mr. Maheu had just filled up the tank of his truck at a hydrant near the corner of Marquette and Peel Streets and said that he was travelling at a speed between five and ten miles per hour.

Rebels Land By Yacht
HAVANA (AP)—Army forces today pursued a yachtload of Cuban rebels from Mexico who landed on Cuba's southwest coast in an attempt to open a new front for insurgent leader Fidel Castro.

Military authorities said the band, unofficially estimated at 50 in number, landed during the weekend at La Colomina beach in lower Pinar del Rio province and scattered into the hills.

The army claimed it had seized the yacht, El Coraje (Courage), and quantities of arms and munitions the invaders cached in a farm house.

It was the first official confirmation of a rebel landing in Pinar del Rio. Reliable sources said another band landed three weeks ago on the north coast of the same province.

If the new group keeps out of army hands it will be in a position to open up a third front in Castro's guerrilla war against President Fulgencio Batista.

Navy Wants To Take Over RCAF Sub Role
By DAVE MCINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — There is a strong body of opinion in the navy that the RCAF's Maritime Command should be turned over to the RCN for the greater efficiency of Canada's sea defences.

The air force operates three maritime squadrons — two at Greenwood, N.S., and one at Comox, B.C. Their main job is detection and killing of enemy submarines—in other words, exactly the same role as the navy's.

Many navy officers say privately they feel the existence of an RCAF Maritime Command alongside the navy has led to some duplication and inefficiency.

They add that the defence department tacitly recognized this in 1956 when it established a joint maritime headquarters at Halifax with an integrated Navy-RCAF staff. In wartime, the navy's flag officer Atlantic coast would exercise control over the RCAF's Maritime Command as well as over the navy's Atlantic Fleet.

WANT COMPLETE CONTROL
But navy officers add that the defence department should go the whole way and turn over the RCAF's Maritime Command to the navy, lock, stock and barrel, thus giving the anti-submarine role of the armed forces to a single service.

They cite this hypothetical wartime case: An RCAF plane detects a submarine but, for one reason or another, cannot make an attack. It reports back to Greenwood, which reports to the joint maritime headquarters, which in turn advises the navy. Or Greenwood might decide on its own to send out more planes.

Harris Candidate For Ontario Libs
TORONTO (CP)—Walter Harris, former federal finance minister announced today he is a candidate for leadership of the Ontario Liberal party.

Smith Visits Dulles To Speed Exchange Of Agreement Notes
WASHINGTON — (CP) — A speed-up in negotiations on an agreement for joint continental air defences appeared to be in the works today following talks here between Canada's External Affairs Minister Smith and U. S. State Secretary Dulles.

The Canadian minister, here for two days of meetings with Canadian consular officials, took time out Monday for a one-hour conference with Dulles which Smith later said ranged over "many fronts on the international situation." He declined to elaborate.

Smith disclosed that he pressed Dulles to expedite an exchange of diplomatic notes covering NORAD, the defensive arrangement set up last summer by the RCAF and the U.S. Air Force to protect the North American continent against surprise air attack.

He said the negotiations still are under way but added that he hopes to table the notes, which would constitute the formal agreement between the two countries, early in the new session of the Canadian Parliament.

GET U.S. VIEWS
Smith's state department call was regarded as a move to obtain from Dulles a first-hand run down on U.S. policy on current world problems. There was no indication that Smith outlined to Dulles the views of the Canadian government, in office little more than two weeks after its March 31 election victory.

The talks are known to have touched two items of prime importance to the West—suspension of nuclear testing and the much-debated summit conference. Dulles is believed to have outlined the U.S. position on both.

Smith told reporters later that the talks did not include oil, trade nor possible U.S. tariff increases on lead and zinc, all subjects of prime concern of the Canadian government. Nor, he added, was there any mention of a possible visit to Washington by Prime Minister Diefenbaker to see President Eisenhower.

However, it was believed the subject of U.S. surplus disposal and tariffs came up later when Smith and Trade Minister Churchill met Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks at a buffet supper.

Smith's meetings with key members of Canada's diplomatic corps in the U.S. were designed to acquaint them with policies of the new government. The talks will continue through Thursday.

Phone Rate Hike Appeal Heard Today
OTTAWA (CP) — The cabinet today hears an appeal from 38 municipalities in Ontario and Quebec against a telephone rate increase authorized by the board of transport commissioners.

Monday, the cabinet gave no indication of its final decision after it heard an appeal from eight provincial governments—all but Ontario and Quebec—against freight rate increases also authorized by the board.

The provinces are asking the cabinet to wipe out a 3.6 per cent freight rate increase, now suspended by cabinet until May 1, and also to rescind a four-per cent increase that became effective Jan. 1, 1957. Both amount to about $25,000,000 a year for the railways.

All major centres in Ontario and Quebec are appealing a phone rate raise of about three per cent — worth about $10,300,000 annually to the Bell Telephone Company. It too has been held up by the cabinet until May 1.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker told reporters Monday the ministers reserved judgment. He said he does not know when the verdict will be delivered.

Britain Protests Yemen Attacks
LONDON (AP)—Britain today accused Yemen of launching attacks on two border forts in the Aden protectorate and said the British government "protests strongly . . . these flagrant acts of aggression."

The protest was contained in a note by Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd handed to the Yemeni charge d'affaires.

Stripper Struts For Convicts

MAIDSTONE, Eng. (Reuters) Red-haired striptease Rhoda Rogers came to Maidstone jail with a one-ounce stage costume to do a fan dance for the convicts, but prison officials demurred.

"No fan dances," they said firmly. "The men would get over-excited."

So Rhoda did her calypso number—wearing a rose-decorated 12-inch-high hat, a nylon train and very little else.

The prisoners gave her a thunderous ovation. They yelled, cheered and stamped their feet.

"The boys saw more of me in the calypso number than they would have in the fan dance," Rhoda said. "And they were certainly the best audience I've ever had."

Wrong Cops

NAUGATUCK, Conn. (AP) — Two brothers went to the police station because of a parking ticket. A fight started. A cop was punched in the eye, two officers knocked to the floor and punches thrown at two others. A second look at the ticket disclosed it hadn't been issued in Naugatuck at all, but in Waterbury, seven miles away.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Evans has taken another leave from the women's wear business, this time to play the meanest man in the West.

Evans is the handsome young executive of the Evans-Picore sports-wear firm who was twice discovered for movies. Norma Shearer tabbed him to play her husband Irving Thalberg in Man of a Thousand Faces. Then Darryl Zanuck picked him to play Ava Gardner's bull-fighter-lover in The Sun Also Rises.

Now he's back to co-star with Hugh O'Brian in Rope Law, a westernized version of the 1947 crime film, Kiss of Death. That was the movie in which Richard Widmark made a sensational debut as the snigging killer, Tommy Udo.

O'Brian plays the Victor Mature role as the reformed hoodlum, and Evans gets the Widmark part. I asked him if he would repeat Udo's nasty bit of pushing an old lady down the stairs in her wheelchair.

"No, I shoot her with a bow and arrow," he replied with some relish. Some fun!

Speaking of crime, Walter Wanger says The Barbara Graham Story will not be played for sensations. The real-life story of the glamor girl of the California underworld is being played by Susan Hayward.

"I think it will be the best-documented movie about delinquency," the producer said. "It will show how a girl can get deeper and deeper into wrong until she finds herself faced with the gas chamber."

Musicals are on the outs in Hollywood. Twentieth Century-Fox paid a lot of cash for the rights to the stage musical Can Can, which had one of Cole Porter's best scores.

Now the studio is planning to scrap all but two songs and have even those sung in French as well as English. One of the barriers to musicals is that the lyrics to songs can't be dubbed overseas.

The preview scene: Too Much, Too Soon is an attempt to cash in on the lush "celebrity confessions" market. As such, it will attract some interest. But, though Dorothy Malone struggles to bring some sympathy to Diana Barrymore's topsy-turvy life, it's a losing battle.

C. R. MacLean Is Named Moderator Of Derby Line

DERBY LINE — The annual Derby Line village meeting, held following town meeting day, took place in the Village Hall, with a good number of qualified voters present.

The meeting was conducted by the moderator, the first item of business on the agenda being the election of C. R. MacLean as moderator and Gordon W. Johnston as clerk.

Reports of the village officers were approved; these showed the Village had had a good year.

John P. Berry was elected treasurer and tax collector. Charles Bennett was re-elected as village trustee, for the sixth consecutive, three-year term. Other trustees are Byron Herrick and Dalton Downing.

The people voted in favor of authorizing the trustees to borrow money to meet current expenses in anticipation of payment of taxes, if necessary. The sum of $250 was voted raised for maintenance of the Haskell Free Library and $200 for the Baxter Park skating rink.

It was voted that the firemen of the present company as of April 1st be exempt from poll tax.

Approval was given to an Act of the Legislature of the State of Vermont, entitled, "An Act to provide for the establishment of a traffic court in the Village of Derby Line," as passed by the Legislature on February 14, 1957. This provides a method of enforcing parking ordinances of the village and the court will be set up accordingly.

The same village tax rate of $1.25, as in the past 10 years, was levied on the grand list to defray expenses of the ensuing year.

Bert Curran, police chief, appointed annually by the trustees, has been named for the coming year. This will be Curran's fourth annual appointment.

Aldermen Answer Objections Of Proprietors League Executive

Despite their assertions that the executive of the Sherbrooke Proprietors League did not represent the views of the members, the local aldermen spent most of last night's session in answering the declaration by the League executive demanding that $450,000 be trimmed from the public works by-law of 1,595,000 to be presented to the proprietors at a public meeting next Monday night.

In its memorandum protesting the size of the proposed loan, the League executive demanded the elimination of the $150,000 item for the opening of new streets and $310,000 for the widening of existing thoroughfares. The last loan by-law, the resolution said, had not curtailed unemployment as it was supposed to do and new loans will increase the municipal debt service charges with a resultant increase in the tax rate.

Dealing first with the proposal to defer street opening, the aldermen pointed out that this charge is met in full by the proprietors who request the work.

"It's the share that must be absorbed by the city that counts," Ald. Paul Gervais declared, in which he was supported by Ald. Everett Nicol who asked whether the Proprietors' League understood that the city's share of the proposed by-law was only $600,000.

Ald. Carrier Fortin, chairman of the general administration committee, said that the municipal garage and the Galt Street West widening represented economies. At a previous meeting, he had insisted that all works were necessary but that some were not urgent.

In the street widening section, he said $194,000 of the works could be eliminated but this would only diminish the debt service for the by-law by $6,000.

He did not specify which widenings could be cut but maintained the Galt St. West project should remain.

PROVINCIAL AID
Ald. Carl Camirand insisted that the King St. West widening could be ignored since the City had already been promised a grant of $85,000 by the Province to defray costs.

Ald. Robert Gauthier remarked the by-law could be lowered if two widening projects in his ward were abandoned.

Ald. Antonio Pinard said the League was wrong in insisting that the wards receive equal shares of funds this year.

Ald. Fortin suggested the City Clerk contact the League and explain the Council's views. Further questions would be answered at next Monday's meeting, he said.

Ald. Marcel Savard revived the discussion when he noted the League seemed to object mostly to the street widenings.

Ald. Gerard Berard responded the proprietors realized that the City would eventually obtain governmental help.

Ald. Fortin said the help would only be for health projects.

Ald. Pinard said the Galt St. West widening plan had been pending for the past three years. If the plan were delayed a year "who is to say they will not want to delay again next year?" he asked.

He indicated dissatisfaction with the League's memorandum and commented, "It's too bad. We always had good cooperation."

MAINTAIN POSITION

Ald. Fortin said the Council should maintain its position. He said if the proprietors rejected the by-law, then the Council would make a re-study of projects and present a new by-law.

Ald. Nicol said, "No doubt every alderman in every ward thinks his works are necessary."

"The North Ward was expanding, area-wise, but the West Ward was expanding in population but not in area, he noted.

He said although neither he nor Ald. Gervais had proposed the widening of King St. West they would have liked to.

"Take it off (King St. West widening) and you're kicking some good money out the window."

Ald. Felix Thibault said the Council could not abandon the result of three to four months combined work by City officers and aldermen.

Ald. Camirand said the Council had cut the original program from $2,500,000 to its present amount.

Ald. Pinard said he "would have his fingers rapped" if the Galt West enlargement is left out of the program.

The executive of the League, Ald. Gervais said, had not submitted their proposal to a meeting of the members. He said with this by-law, there would be less work to do next year.

Ald. Nicol quipped, "I heard that for three years."

That's where the discussion ended.

At Kiwanis

Local Club Rejects Bid For Banning Union Jack

Sherbrooke Kiwanians have unanimously rejected a Chicago man's demand that the Union Jack be banned from Kiwanis Club meetings in this country.

Burt Dean, secretary of the Edgebrook Kiwanis Club of Chicago, wrote to Canadian clubs enclosing a copy of a resolution he intended to present to the International Kiwanis convention in which he made derogatory remarks about Britain and the Commonwealth and asked that the Union Jack not be used at Kiwanis meetings.

In his letter, Mr. Dean referred to "what is left of the British Empire" as being the United Kingdom and a few scattered islands. He also said that "Kiwanis owes no allegiance to the British Empire."

Harry Grundy, chairman of the rules committee of Sherbrooke Kiwanis, yesterday replied to Mr. Dean on behalf of the club.

He pointed out that the resolution was full of misconceptions and added that the Union Jack is a flag which is available to all self-governing countries of the Commonwealth. Every loyal Canadian is "loyal to and proud of the British connection," he wrote.

Mr. Grundy said the flag question was controversial in Canada and it would be embarrassing to ask Americans at an international convention to express an opinion on the Canadian flag.

It was learned that Mr. Dean has withdrawn his resolution after receiving numerous letters of protest from Canadian Kiwanis Clubs.

Lieutenant Governor of Kiwanis International, Zoltique Lesperance of Montreal, spoke to the Sherbrooke club last night at its regular meeting.

Mr. Lesperance said Kiwanis International has over 4,473 clubs throughout Canada and the U.S. with a membership of 256,270. In the 11 local clubs, there are 832 members with the highest attendance any area has. The reason for this high attendance is the high caliber of club presidents.

Mr. Lesperance suggested that members sell the Kiwanis idea to their wives by taking them along on visits. He said that Kiwanis is a university of men who work in their community.

Mr. Lesperance was introduced by Len Curtis and thanked by Joe Faucher.

A report on the Easter Seals Campaign revealed that a net profit of $1,326.65 was attained.

Head table guests were past president Reg. Bishop, first vice-pres. Len Curtis, Lieutenant governor and guest speaker Zoltique Lesperance, Pres. S. Gillman, past pres. Joe Faucher and past pres. J. Lauzon.

Lennoxville High School Players In Noted Comedy

Residents of Lennoxville and vicinity will have an opportunity of seeing top-flight high school theatre at its best tomorrow and Thursday evenings when the Lennoxville High School Dramatic Association presents the three-act comedy, "Strange Boarders," by George Batson and Jack Kirkland. The group is under the direction of E. Dolloff and Miss Judith Long.

Nancy Klinek, who last year played the defiant daughter of a middle-class family in the LHS production of "I Remember Mama," takes the lead as Cordelia Tuttle, an amiable, optimistic, attractively-plain woman whose livelihood is dependent on her boarding house. She is confronted by a group of Boston gangsters who invade her boarding house and the ensuing events keep laughter at a high pitch.

Boston Benny, gangster head, portrayed by Mike Cavenay, is supported by Glenn Way and Bob Forbes as Smiley and Joey, his two accomplices.

Candy Fenway, 17-year-old daughter of Cordelia Tuttle, lends the romantic element to the story with her attraction to Lou Daggett, a well-to-do college student. Candy is played by Susan McCubbin and Bill McElreia fills the role of Daggett.

The story unfolds in a small New England town where Cordelia makes her home along with a "rain" of boarders, who pay their rent with IOUs which are practically as good as money. These include Professor Harrison, played by David Mitchell, Captain Winkle, a retired New England "Sea Bloke," portrayed by Walter Sarasin, and John Todd, whose practically-minded character is played by Jack Nobel.

Three other associates of Boston Benny are Amity and Priscilla Haims, played by Thea Howes and Jane Lessard, and a falsely-pious deacon, acted by Hugh Macdonald.

The town busybody, the ardent reformer and grimly-severe aunt of Lou Daggett is played by Margaret Masters and Shirley Nelson fills the role of Susie, a young friend of the Tuttle Boarders.

The technical crew comprises Dick Gale in charge of sound effects, Winston McLellan, lighting, and Andrew Smith, stage manager.

The play was first presented under the title of "A Dangerous Woman," at the Erie Theatre, Schenectady, N. Y., Jan. 24, 1947, and since then has attained success in many stock theatres in the United States and Canada.

District Governor Visits Local Lions

Dr. F. W. Fitzgerald, District Governor of Lions International, and Mrs. Fitzgerald, of Lachute, were guests of honor at the meeting of the Sherbrooke Lions Club held in the Hotel Sherbrooke last night.

Over 60 people, including wives and friends of the members, welcomed the governor of Zone 8 on his annual visit.

Vision, faith and courage, the governor remarked, are the basis of good Lionism—"vision to see and plan ahead, faith in whatever you do and courage to fulfill your projects."

The governor spoke of the accomplishments of the local club over the past 17 years and told the members that this was only one of 114,000 clubs in 87 different countries.

The speaker was introduced by Zone chairman, Dr. Georges Saine, and thanked by President Hap Rice. The president then presented the governor and his wife with suitable gifts on the occasion of their visit.

Among the guests were International Councillor Bob White, Magog, Deputy District Governor Bert Kelly and Mrs. Kelly, Coaticook, Hal Habicht of the North Mount Club, Montreal, Richard Pearson of the Lachute Lions Club and other out-of-town representatives.

During the dinner, a group of young European Lions, dressed in native costume entertained the guests with their songs. Anton Diel accompanied at the piano. Dancing was enjoyed following the dinner.

Two Sport Films Provide Program For Optimists

Two first class sports movies were shown last night as part of the regular weekly meeting of the Sherbrooke Optimist Club, held in the Cavalier Room of the New Wellington Hotel.

The films, produced by Dow Brewery and narrated by Doug Smith, centered about skiing and golf.

Of particular interest to the members was the second film on golf. Several of the members found themselves portrayed rather humorously in the film by a rather over anxious duffer.

Plan Bridge Opening By Week-End

Warm, dry weather will speed the opening of the new Montcalm Bridge, it was learned at City Hall last night.

The Roads Department hopes to finish the asphalt surface by this weekend but needs favorable dry weather.

Last night Ald. Carl Camirand, chairman of the electricity committee, said the lights presently in use on the new bridge are temporary.

Better Off?

"Sure, we're making more money but look how much we have to spend! Are we any better off?"

The old refrain is heard more often lately and naturally so at a time when some prices have ignored the downward trend and are still going up.

The old refrainers — and who can blame them? — might point to the recent nation-wide survey in the U.S. which showed that one would have to spend $6,457 today to buy what could have been bought for $3,000 in 1939. They might cite, too, the National Industrial Conference Board (U.S.) conclusion that a $10,000-a-year man of 1939 would have to earn $23,568 now to keep up his living standard.

"There you are."

And oldtimers have a way of remembering the days when eggs were about 20 cents a dozen, butter about ten cents a pound and milk about five cents — and sometimes less. In those days, they like to say, the dollar was worth something.

The impression left is that we're running on a treadmill, making a lot of effort to achieve little 'real' progress.

Which brings one to the truest yardstick by which to measure real values, that of work.

The General Electric Company announced not long ago that the average worker in the U.S. had put in 580 working hours in 1931 to earn enough to buy a refrigerator; today he need only work 155 hours. And today's product not only contains more space but has many extra values.

It was 19 hours for an electric iron in 1931 as against nine now; 271 for a washing machine as against 138.

U.S. Labor Department statistics shows relative food values, in work time, over the last 10 years. In 1948 a quart of milk cost the average worker 9.8 minutes as against 7.3 minutes in 1938. Other figures in minutes: bread, 6.8, 5.5; eggs, 30, 16.3; potatoes 27.3, 17.5; round steak, 35.9, 28.9; bacon, 34, 22.

In Canada wages have gone up less but the same picture in broad outline is true. In terms of work our buying power is much greater than it was. There is more dough in the doughnut, figuratively speaking at least, even though the hole may often seem to be larger.

A Peril To Children

When two fair-haired Lachine boys, aged three, failed to turn up for lunch the other day no one thought at first that they might have been trapped in an unused refrigerator. They were found seven hours later, suffocated. They had crawled into an empty refrigerator in an unlocked storage compartment next to a room where they often played.

More than 125 children have died in abandoned or empty refrigerators in Canada during the last 12 years, 18 of them in 1955 alone. Some municipalities have adopted bylaws forbidding owners to discard refrigerators or ice boxes with doors attached.

The elemental urge to hide is said to come from as far back as the primitive days when hiding was often necessary. Children, with whom hiding is a favorite pastime, should be protected. A refrigerator not in use and with trays removed, or easily removable, can be just as much a peril as an unused well left without an adequate safeguard.

The old-fashioned, self-locking ice boxes, of which many thousands have been discarded, can be just as dangerous as electric refrigerators.

Homeowners should check premises in town and country to see that none of these menaces to the youngsters are left. It is not hard to remove a door and make sure that a prospective hiding place does not become a death trap.

On Guard!

It is expected that the Soviet Union will launch a third Sputnik before the middle of May. The latest one may be several times the weight of 1,030 lb. Sputnik II; will require a tremendously powerful rocket thrust and will be sent on a mission calculated to capture the world's imagination anew.

The Soviet propaganda mill is probably already rehearsing the form in which the news will be broadcast.

What will happen in North America this time?

Will the stock markets go down on the day the satellite is launched? Will there be another week or so of frenzied self-upbraiding and questioning of standards?

When the third Sputnik goes into the heavens nothing really will have changed. The Soviet capacity to put a satellite into orbit is known already; so also is the progress this ability reflects in pure science and in technology. And nothing will have been added to the background of the ICBM, the fearsome missile that some have termed the ultimate weapon.

The people of the Old World, and especially those behind the Iron Curtain, have been schooled for a long time to regard the people of the New World as mercurial children spoiled by prosperity and soft living.

By this time the New World and the West in general should have attained some degree of inuredness to Sputniks. By this time they should be able to take another in their stride. The sun will still be in the sky.

The Death Sentence

(Toronto Telegram)

No official information has been given to support Ottawa reports that abolition of the death penalty in Canada is being undertaken by the Diefenbaker cabinet through the device of commuting such sentences to life imprisonment.

The death penalty was inserted in the law by Parliament and, though the question is controversial and is frequently discussed both inside Parliament and out, there is little evidence to indicate a change in public opinion that might lead Parliament to abolish death sentences. At the same time, it was Parliament that provided the cabinet, as the executive arm of the government, with the responsibility of reviewing all death sentences imposed by the courts of Canada, with the power to commute them. It cannot be argued that Parliament intended the cabinet to exercise this power in such a way as to abolish the death penalty entirely.

The cabinet's power of commutation has been exercised in the case of Nicholas Rebalin, who murdered Toronto taxi driver Sebastian Giardetti last year. This crime was a particularly brutal one and it shocked public opinion here.

Commutes to life imprisonment was entirely unexpected, as no recommendation for mercy was made by the jury. Brigadier William Jolly of the Salvation Army had recently made an appeal for clemency to the Minister of Justice. Commutations are not usually subject to appeal. Rebalin will be transferred to Kingston Penitentiary to serve a life sentence. It is possible, at some future time, that he may be released, as the murdered man's son has pointed out.

Since the government changed at Ottawa in June 1957, there have been nine death sentences imposed by the courts, and three hangings have been carried out. Six sentences have been commuted, four of them without a jury plea for mercy. This is said to establish a trend towards abolishing the death sentence.

In such an important matter, the public has a right to know that executive orders will not be used to alter public policy with respect to the death penalty. A change should be made only by Parliament, not by order in council, and hitherto Parliament has always considered the death sentence as a necessary protection for the public.

Prince Albert, Saskatchewan

Political Home For 3 Prime Ministers

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP) — Three prime ministers—two Liberals and a Conservative—have chosen this politics-conscious city of 22,000 as their electoral seat.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and W. L. Mackenzie King, both Liberals, have been followed by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, present member of the Commons for Prince Albert.

Mr. Diefenbaker, who came here in 1922 as an energetic young lawyer, is the only one of the three who has actually lived in Prince Albert.

Liberal dissension in the riding led to Sir Wilfrid Laurier accepting a nomination as Prince Albert's candidate in the federal election of 1896. With the vote fast approaching, Liberals could not decide on which of three candidates should run. A small, worried committee finally settled the issue by asking Sir Wilfrid to accept the nomination, and no one could object to having the party leader as candidate.

Sir Wilfrid accepted and led the Liberals to victory in 1896, although he obtained a margin of only 44 votes in his "home" riding. He did not visit Prince Albert until 1910, when campaigning for the 1911 federal election in which his government bowed to the Conservatives.

Mackenzie King, as prime minister, took over the riding in 1926 after suffering personal defeat in the Ontario constituency of Russell. Still prime minister, he suffered personal defeat in Prince Albert in 1945, losing to a CCF candidate.

Druggist Charles McDonald, Liberal who defeated young John Diefenbaker in the 1925 general election, yielded the seat to Mr. King early the following year. The prime minister had to contest it three times that year, twice in by-elections and once in a general election. He took it by acclamation once, and with handy majorities in the other contests.

Mr. Mackenzie King's government resigned during the summer of 1926 while Conservative leader Arthur Meighen held power for three months, but Mr. King swept his party back to power in September. Mr. King was re-elected member for Prince Albert in 1930, 1935, and 1940, although as leader of the opposition from 1930 to 1935 while R. B. Bennett's Conservative government held sway.

But in the general election of 1945 Mr. King was defeated in Prince Albert by E. L. Bowerman, CCF, by a margin of 129 votes, and he headed for a safer riding. He won a byelection in Glengarry, Ont., two months after the federal vote. Local Liberals attributed his Prince Albert defeat to the fact he had not visited the riding during his 1945 campaign.

Mr. Diefenbaker's early political career in Prince Albert was rough. In his first venture as a federal candidate in 1925 he was defeated by Mr. McDonald, and the following year he lost to prime minister Mackenzie King. Mr. Diefenbaker left federal politics for the provincial field, and rose to become provincial leader of the Progressive Conservative party from 1937 to 1940.

In 1940, Mr. Diefenbaker had his first federal success when he was elected in Lake Centre. He held that seat until 1953, when he switched to Prince Albert.

Before the 1952 redistribution the Lake Centre riding covered an area of south-central Saskatchewan from just north of Regina northward to Watrous. For the 1953 election Lake Centre was absorbed in the larger riding of Moose Jaw, and Mr. Diefenbaker was offered several other ridings as a candidate, choosing to run in Prince Albert, considerably north of his former seat.

In Lake Centre, Mr. Diefenbaker increased his majorities from 280 to 3,500 by 1949. He repeated the performance in Prince Albert, turning a 9,000-vote Conservative deficit in the 1949 election into a majority of 3,000 in 1953.

He tripled that majority to more than 9,000 in the election last March 31, a majority nearly as large as the actual votes he received in 1957, when he became prime minister.

Mr. Diefenbaker, well-known here through his affable "mainstreaming" — jaunts along the town's principal thoroughfare when he stops for chats with many citizens — maintains his home in Prince Albert and is accepted by his neighbors as a local product.

Press Comment

SOMETHING WILL HAPPEN. (Fergus News-Record.)

That's the funny thing about news and newspapers. One week the staff will have to scrape hard to get enough news to fill the paper. Then a week like last one comes along. Besides several good bits of news, there were six columns of type left over, some of which certainly should have gone in.

Weekly papers have a definite advantage over the dailies. During seven days, something is bound to happen, even in a sleepy, little town. The dailies have the whole world to draw from.

FASTER TRAIN SCHEDULES. (Halifax Chronicle-Herald)
The new Canadian National Railways schedules, which become effective on April 27, will be a boon to the entire Atlantic provinces' region, with special emphasis on Nova Scotia.

For over half a century, the running time of the CNR's Ocean Limited was about 25 hours. True, specials could and did cover the 840 miles in well under 20 hours, even before 1900. But it was not until 1866, when the time was cut by two hours, that any appreciable change was made. Now there has been a further reduction, and after April 27 the elapsed time between Halifax and Montreal will be down to 21 hours and five minutes.

"BENNIES" RETURNING? (St. Thomas Times-Journal)
So far as men's hat styles are concerned, time is being turned back some years. The flat straw hat so popular in the 1920's is going to try a comeback this year although some men have never given up this style of summer headgear. Known as boaters, skimmers, sailors or bennies, the flat stiff hats will be re-introduced by a New York hat company just in time for spring.

JACOBY On Bridge

GRAND COUP IS NOT ACCIDENTAL

The grand coup is one of the most sensational plays in bridge, and in most instances declarer stumbles into it. The remarkable feature of today's hand is that Henry Chanin of Atlanta noticed the possibility that the coup would be necessary and prepared for it at trick two by ruffing a diamond.

He saw no danger in the play since it seemed certain that West had not opened a singleton king against a grand-slam contract.

Henry's next play was a heart to dummy's queen, and when West showed out, Henry's foresight was justified.

He trumped another diamond, returned to dummy with a spade and trumped the last diamond. This made a total of three ruffs and he held only one more trump than East. He led a second spade to dummy, and when East had to follow, the coup was accomplished.

Henry led a third high spade and East discarded a club. So did Henry. A fourth spade was ruffed while East let a second club go.

Now Henry led a club to dummy's ace and spread his hand. He and East were each down to three trumps and all Henry had to do was to lead any card from dummy and overruff East.

Matter of FACT

In older days the common black pepper, native to India, Siam, Indonesia and the Philippines, was a rare and priceless luxury. The Greeks valued it for its medicinal qualities. The Goths of the early 8th century prized it so highly that they extracted large amounts of pepper as tribute from conquered enemies.

More GP's Necessary MD's Conference Told

WINNIPEG (CP) — Canada needs more doctors in general practice because specialists cannot supply all necessary care, a spokesman for the general practitioners said Monday night.

Dr. Merrell Carleton of Winnipeg, chairman of the hospitals committee of the College of General Practice of Canada, told delegates at the college's scientific convention:

"Community requirements today demand the maintenance of an increasing number of well-trained general practitioners to provide adequate medical care. It is unrealistic to believe that all medical care in any community can be supplied at a specialist level."

Specialists should "confine their energies to the handling of difficult or unusual cases which require special study and skill in limited fields," Dr. Carleton said in a report. The conference ends Wednesday.

General practice should be taught to medical students by family doctors to give a stimulus to undergraduate students to enter the field.

HALF ARE SPECIALISTS
The trend towards specialization gained such momentum during the Second World War that after the war nearly 50 per cent of all graduating doctors turned to specialist fields without entering general practice.

"This has produced a condition where virtual control of large general hospitals by specialists has given them the power to close the doors on the general practitioner," the report said.

Rev. Charles Fielding, dean of divinity at Trinity College, University of Toronto, said misconceptions about faith healing are at least as old as Greek medicine.

"Whatever natural process occurs when someone recovers without medical intervention is always the proper subject for scientific study."

"It is immature religion that will not come to terms with congenital defects, disease, suffering and death."

"Where the delusion reigns that every ailment must have a successful physical outcome, the care of the sick can be transformed into prolonged cruelty, and the sufferer may become the victim of the healer's illusion because he cannot conform to it."

The alternative was for the pastor to learn something of the doctor's daily experience in caring for the ill. Training centres now were operating on this purpose.

Noted Collector Will Address Local Coin Club

The recently organized Sherbrooke Coin Club will hold its first banquet at the Hotel Wellington Thursday evening at seven, the guest speaker being J. Douglas Ferguson, F.R.N.S., of Stanstead, a leading numismatist, who is honorary president of the local club.

He will give an informal talk on the possibilities of forming a Canadian numismatic collection drawing upon a number of personal experiences. Mr. Ferguson is noted for having the largest collection of Canadian numismatic material in existence and is a past president of the American Numismatic Association and an honorary president of the Canadian Numismatic Association. Because of his wide knowledge and personal experience, the talk should be interesting to anyone interested in the collection of Canadian coins, paper money or medals.

Any interested person, whether a member of the club or not, is invited to attend, tickets being available at Jack Echenberg's store. An added feature of the evening will be an auction sale of numismatic material donated to the club by its members.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson are leaving for Europe shortly where Mr. Ferguson will speak before many European organizations.

Ask Support Of Blood Clinic By Plant Managers

The Sherbrooke branch of the Canadian Red Cross has made an appeal through plant managers of local industrial concerns in Sherbrooke, to bring local donations to the Blood Donor Clinic up to the annual quota.

The spring blood donor clinic will be held April 21, 22 and 23, from two to five p.m. and from seven to ten p.m.

Referring to the need for success in the coming campaign the letter states:

"We are appealing to you specifically to bring this to the attention of your employees and further to encourage them, wherever possible, to assist us and, indirectly, themselves by the donation of their blood."

The letter adds that the donors of Sherbrooke are not making their contributions equal to their quota received.

"It is obvious that people in other communities are covering our deficit for us. It is also obvious that this situation cannot go on indefinitely, and unless we meet our objective, our quota will be trimmed to match our contribution."

In an effort to promote interest in the local campaign, the executive has decided to offer trophies for top contributing group from the industrial plants. Each industry will compete in its own particular class and the one with the greatest percentage of its employees donating blood will be declared the winner in that particular class.

The classes are as follows: Trophy Category A, 125 employees and more; Trophy Category B, 50 to 125 employees; Trophy Category C, 5 to 50 employees.

These trophies are now on exhibit at Codere Ltd. and any industry winning their divisional trophy on three successive occasions will take permanent possession of it.

Home Betterment Drive In Granby Opens April 22

MONTREAL — (Special) — J. Alex Babin, president of the Quebec Retail Lumber Dealers Association announced here that Granby had been selected as the first city in the Province of Quebec to have its O.H.I. (Operation Home Improvement) Campaign.

The campaign will be officially launched on April 22, at a meeting to be held in Granby, when Norman Deboys of Toronto, secretary of the O. H. I. Canadian Council, will outline the O.H.I. objectives and report on the success that has been attained in Ontario cities that have sponsored the plan.

O.H.I. was first organized in the United States two years ago, having as its prime objective exactly what its name implies — home improvement — with attendant stimulation of the building trades and unemployment relief. The plan was then taken up in Ontario, sponsored by various companies and actively supported by the Federal Government.

The campaign in Granby is expected to be the forerunner to a large number to be held in various centres of the Province.

It is being sponsored by the Granby City Council, the Granby Chamber of Commerce, the Quebec Retail Lumber Dealers Association, the Quebec Province Wholesale Lumber Association, the Manufacturers Association and the Bedford District Contractors Association.

The chairman of Howard Smith Paper Mills stated that the sales of the company are holding pretty well and indications are that the total demand for the products during 1957 will be maintained at last year's levels.

SRI Prexy Blasts Tariff

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — Gerald Bruck, textile manufacturer, Monday blamed Canada's tariff structure for what he called the "desperate condition" of the Canadian textile industry.

Mr. Bruck, president of the Silk and Rayon Institute, told a meeting of the Kingston and District Textile Technical Association that dumping of surplus United States and Japanese textiles on the Canadian market undercut Canadian-made products.

Such dumping caused shut-downs and layoffs in many Quebec and Ontario mills.

Canada's customs regulations and tariff structures were "outmoded and unrealistic," he said.

Canadian mills which used to supply 72 per cent of the Canadian demand now supply barely 51 per cent, he said.

Cytolipin H Cancer Test Clue?

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A fatty substance isolated from human cancer cells may help develop a test to determine if a person is immune from cancer.

Such a test is not yet in sight, Dr. Maurice M. Rapport of the Sloan-Kettering Institute of New York told the annual meeting of the American Society of Biological Chemists, but the fatty substance called Cytolipin H may be the key to its discovery.

Dr. Rapport said the specific problem today is finding "antibodies against cancer cells that would be useful in cancer diagnosis."

PROLONGED, AWKWARD POSTURE IN VIEWING TV CAN PRODUCE FATIGUE

With television viewing almost universal, a few remarks about it are in order.
Q—Would you say something about the health aspects of TV viewing?—Mrs. R.S.
A—Only a few aspects of this subject can be included here. Television itself does not produce eye strain, but some people complain of fatigue after relatively short periods of TV viewing. It has been pointed out that prolonged sitting in awkward positions while watching television can produce serious circulatory disorders in the legs. Three cases have been reported in which blood clots had occurred in the blood vessels after the patients had sat in awkward positions watching TV.

Q—I am 22 and have one baby. My gallbladder has been removed since the birth of this child and I should like to know if there is any danger in having more children.—Mrs. R.
A—If your health is otherwise good, I do not see why there should be any special risks from further pregnancy or childbirth simply because your gallbladder has been removed.

Q—Would you give me your opinion about laryngitis? This troubles me every time I have a cold.—A.F.I.

A—The larynx, or voice box, lies in the throat, and it is from this structure that sounds arise, such as speaking or singing. The viruses or germs which cause colds or other infections can, and often do, settle in this area and produce hoarseness and other signs of laryngitis. Under such circumstances the condition usually clears up completely. However, when laryngitis keeps coming back at frequent intervals or persists too long, some other cause must be suspected and an examination of this area is then strongly recommended.

Q—I have been in the hospital with what has been diagnosed as auricular fibrillation. Would you kindly explain this a little?—Mrs. A.P.

A—This is the name applied to one kind of irregular heart beat. It is a serious condition and does require the use of carefully chosen drugs and frequent observation. It may or may not be associated with other forms of heart disease.

Q—I am 43 and have had 12 shots of vitamin B for neuritis in my back. About a month after I started taking the shots I noticed a slight growth of fuzz on my face. Could this have anything to do with the vitamin shots?—Mrs. L.B.

A—It seems most unlikely that the vitamin shots could have anything to do with the growth of fine hair on your face.
Q—Would you please comment on psychomotor epilepsy?—Mrs. H.D.
A—This is a condition related to more common varieties of epilepsy which may or may not be associated with a history of convulsions. There are said to be three varieties: the first being dream states, or feelings of unreality; the second, chewing or swallowing motions, or confusion; and the third, simple rigidity of the muscles without violent jerking.

The Cup Of Friendship

This week in honour of "Tea for Canada Week" serve tea to your guests. In fact if you have a Chinese tea service, why not bring it out.

Have you ever heard the old Chinese legend about the first cup of tea? It goes like this — Back in 2737 B. C. some leaves from a wild tea bush fell by chance into Emperor Shen Nung's boiling drinking water. The Emperor was delighted by the aroma of the brew and decided to drink it. He enjoyed it so much that he started the habit of having tea regularly and serving it to his visitors.

This was the beginning of a

GRANT-LABEREE

ROCK ISLAND — The marriage of Elizabeth Adelaide, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Laberee of Rock Island and the late Mr. Laberee, to Mr. Frank Grant, of St. Laurent, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Fernandez, of Bangor, India, took place on Saturday, April 5, at three o'clock in Stanstead South Church. Rev. Thomas W. Tyson officiated at the ceremony, with Mrs. Harry Thomas at the organ.

Easter lilies and baby mums were used to decorate the church, and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her elder brother, Mr. P. A. (Buster) Laberee, the bride was in a gown of ivory nylon lace over bridal satin, designed with a bouffant floor length skirt. The fitted bodice was finished with a Queen Beth neckline and long sleeves ending in lily points over the hands. Her chapel length veil of tulle and matching lace was held in place by a coronet of lace, tulle and seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses.

Miss Joyce Laberee, maid of honor for her sister, wore a ballerina length gown of daffodil yellow sheer nylon chiffon over taffeta, styled with a full skirt. The shirred bodice featured a draped cowl neckline dipping into a V at the back with full length floating panels. In her hair she wore a pleated nylon bandeau trimmed with sequins and a nose veil, and carried a nosegay of mauve baby mums.

Miss Diane Harvey, niece of the bride, as junior bridesmaid, was in a gown styled similar to that of the maid of honor, in mauve sheer nylon chiffon, a matching headress and carried a nosegay of yellow carnations.

Mr. Peter Ghey acted as best man for the groom and the ushers were Mr. Robert Dennis and Mr. John Laberee, nephews of the bride.

Mrs. Laberee, mother of the bride, chose an ensemble of powder blue figured crepe with a navy blue duster, and wore a white shantung hat and accessories. Her corsage was red rose buds.

The reception was held in the church hall where members of the Canadian Legion Auxiliary, Branch No. 5, catered.

The bride's table was centered with the three-tier wedding cake, yellow candles in silver holders and daffodils in matching vases.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Grant left by motor for a honeymoon in the New England States. For traveling the bride wore a moonmist grey wool suit with a red straw hat and accessories and a red rose corsage. On their return they will reside in St. Genieve.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. P. A. (Buster) Laberee, of St. Therese, Cpl. Bruce Laberee, of London, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Laberee, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Laberee and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown, Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Cooper and Gary, all of Beebe, Mr. Peter Ghey, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gauthier and Terry, and Mrs. E. Harvey, Diane and Teddy of St. Laurent, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Laurant, Mr. John Robinson, Mr. John Harding, of St. Eustache, Miss Shirley Davidson, of Brantford, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Byron Ellis, Mr. Leewood Laberee, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Simpson Sr., Edward Jr., and Wayne, of Rock Island, and Miss Ethel Laberee of Newport.

Easter Setting Greets Guests At Advent Tea

A background of Easter lilies on the stage and chrysanthemums in yellow and mauve tones on the tables created a seasonal setting for the annual Salad Bar tea held by the St. Agnes Guild at the Church of the Advent Saturday.

Mrs. Douglas Price, president of the Guild, received the many guests and Mrs. Charles Varney acted as cashier.

A low arrangement of yellow mums interspersed with pine twigs formed the attractive centerpiece on the tea table, with yellow tapers in silver holders.

Pourers during the afternoon were Mrs. Guy Marston, Mrs. Robert Jervis-Read, Mrs. Lloyd McGenty and Mrs. Minnie Price. Mrs. A. C. Britton acted as replenisher.

A sumptuous array of salads at the "bar" were served to the guests by Mrs. Arnold Price and Mrs. James Wark. Convening the various sales tables were Mrs. David Murray on the White Elephant and Mrs. Harold Billson on the Parcel Post. Mrs. S. H. Bachelder and Mrs. Fred Saunders were in charge of the food table for the St. Margaret's Guild and Mrs. John Bell supervised the candy table for the Scout Mothers' Auxiliary.

Servers included: Mrs. I. H. Nutbrown and Misses Wanda Britton, Shirley McGenty, Bonnie Price, Catherine and Barbara Wark.

Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Douglas Lavalliere, Mrs. Urban Middleton, Miss Doris Price, Mrs. Wynn Rolfe and Mrs. Albert Taylor.

Cleaners

By William S. Richardson

It seems to me that time flies so fast these days that I can almost feel a constant breeze in my office, just from the action of tearing the pages off the calendar!

But seriously, the seasons do have such a way of flitting by that I suspect there are some housewives here in town who haven't got around to storing their winter blankets properly since their families quit using them in the spring.

Now that's no mortal sin, of course, but it is more economical to give them some proper attention, and if you haven't done so already this year, better late than never. To have your blankets all ready for the first chilly autumn evening, you should have them cleaned and moth-proofed. If you're lucky enough to have blankets that have been treated by the manufacturer with one of those durable type moth-proofing treatments, part of your problem is automatically solved. Even so, you'll want to have your blankets cleaned.

We're particularly proud of the work we can do here at our plant, not only in the actual cleaning of blankets, but also in moth-proofing, for which we have the most up-to-date methods and equipment.

I don't think moths have become any more vicious in recent years, though they've certainly not become any better behaved, either; but in the meanwhile scientists who specialize in studying moths and other insect pests have come up with some amazingly effective moth-proofing methods.

Nowadays, there's no reason why anyone should have to put up with the sort of moth damage that was difficult to combat even 10 or 15 years ago.

Coach Toe Blake Cautious On Predicting Outcome But It Won't Be Long

Nothing To Get Panicky About Because We Lost A Game, Says Milt Schmidt; Stupid Penalty Hurt, Team Ready

By W. R. WHEATLEY

BOSTON — (CP) — Boston Bruins, duly photographed both in civies and uniform, got down today to the more serious business of looking after the Stanley Cup final.

The Bruins fluffed Sunday's game to Montreal Canadiens, taking a 3-0 lacing and falling behind 2-1 at the hands of the National Hockey League champions in the best-of-seven series.

"There's nothing to get panicky about just because we lost a game," said Boston Coach Milt Schmidt, carefully combing his hair for Monday's official picture-taking.

"If I'm forcing a smile it's because I'm laughing at the four other coaches in the National Hockey League who didn't make the final."

PENALTIES HURT

Schmidt said he was satisfied with his team's play Sunday, "except for a couple of stupid penalties." One was a tripping penalty to Bronco Horvath which paved the way for a goal by Maurice Richard and broke a scoreless deadlock in the first period.

The Rocket scored another in the third period after his younger brother, Henri, had driven a 50-footer past goalie Don Simmons. "Despite Rocket Richard's two goals, I think he played a lousy game. He wasn't doing much of anything until he drifted in for a couple of shots at Simmons. His last goal was the only real goal of the night."

Schmidt laughed off reports of a move to replace Simmons with veteran Harry Lumley.

"The way the guy has been playing, I've just got to go along with him."

Coach Toe Blake of Canadiens avoided any suggestion of victory for his team.

"The Bruins have showed all along that they are a tough club and we've still got to win two more games."

Veteran Floyd Curry may be lost to the club for the fourth game of the series. He came out of Sunday's game with a badly infected foot and was sent to hospital for examination.

"If I can't use Curry I'll use Bert Olmstead for penalty killing," said Blake.

Olmstead, bothered with a knee injury, was rested Sunday.

Temperatures here are expected to hit 70 Tuesday and the players again may be handicapped. Both teams tired badly in Sunday's game as 13,909 paying fans packed the Garden.

"I can't remember ever playing in such heat," Boston centre Bronco Horvath said. "The ice was watery and heavy. It seemed the more you tried to dig the slower you went. It was awful."

Horvath, a 30-goal scorer in the regular season, suffered a painful foot puncture, but promised to be ready. Doug Mohns nurses a severe charley horse, while other Bruins had minor ailments.

After tonight's fourth game, the teams leave immediately for Montreal where the fifth contest will be played Thursday night. A sixth, if necessary, will be back in Boston Sunday.

TEXTILE BOWLING CHAMPIONS — The above photo shows members of the Dominion Textile Bowling League of Sherbrooke who won the district playoff Saturday over teams from Magog, Drummondville and Valleyfield. They will meet the squad from the head office in Montreal in the finals next Saturday afternoon at the Bowlorium.

Each team is comprised of a ladies and men quintet and the squad posting the highest combined pinfall emerges the winner. Sherbrooke topped the list with 4,255, Drummondville was next with 4,068 followed by Valleyfield with 3,571 while Magog was last with 3,455.

Gonzales Cops Close Victory Over Low Hoad

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—Pancho Gonzales, the towering world professional champion, won a tough 5-7, 8-6, 6-4 decision from Low Hoad Monday to sweep their two-match tennis series here.

The triumph also sent Gonzales into a 33-23 lead in their 100-match series.

Belleville Dumps Levis 6-0 And Awarded Series; Team Should Be Playing In QHL, Says QAHA Prexy

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (CP) — Belleville McFarlands, who scored enough goals in two games to win a best-of-seven series, are in the Allan Cup final today as a result.

Belleville's 18 - goal display against Levis, Que., in the Eastern Canada senior final prompted the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to halt the series and move the McFarlands directly into the cup final against Kelowna Packers. The final will be played in the West.

McFarlands whipped Levis 6-0 Monday night for their second straight decisive victory. They won the first 12-3.

"That team," moaned P. J. Fleury of Levis, president of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association, "they should be playing Montreal Royals or Quebec Aces of the professional Quebec Hockey League, not my team."

This is only the second year that Belleville, with the rest of the Ontario Hockey Association's eastern division, has played senior A. McFarlands' confident superiority ranks them as favorites to retain the Allan Cup for the division. Whitty Dunlops won it last year and went on to the world amateur championship.

Dave Jones paced Monday's victory with three goals. Keith Montgomery, Weiner Brown and Armand (Bep) Guidolin each scored once.

The final quarter kept fans on their feet. In the last 10 minutes the score was tied four times. Pete Simmonds netted 22 points for the winners before he fouled with less than five minutes remaining in the game. Lanky Mike Noble dipped in for 13 points while Warren Nickerson had 10 and George Bendelmer nine.

Wayman Fairweather, one of two Fredericton players on a height par with the opposition dipped through the cords for 22 points. Centreman Don Morgan flipped 18 home while Gord Petrie and McKenzie had seven each.

Remnants stung QEH for nine points at the opening of the game before the Halifax boys found the range with a free throw.

The final quarter kept fans on their feet. In the last 10 minutes the score was tied four times. Pete Simmonds netted 22 points for the winners before he fouled with less than five minutes remaining in the game. Lanky Mike Noble dipped in for 13 points while Warren Nickerson had 10 and George Bendelmer nine.

Wayman Fairweather, one of two Fredericton players on a height par with the opposition dipped through the cords for 22 points. Centreman Don Morgan flipped 18 home while Gord Petrie and McKenzie had seven each.

Remnants stung QEH for nine points at the opening of the game before the Halifax boys found the range with a free throw.

Past Performance Charts Favor Gamblers And Their 5-1 Odds; Figures Give Canadiens Big Edge

By JACK SULLIVAN

Gamblers who were supposed to have offered those fantastic 5-1 odds that Montreal Canadiens would win the Stanley Cup, needn't worry too much if past performance charts mean anything. They've got the odds going with them.

Everyone knows that Boston Bruins, now engaged in a torrid cup final with Canadiens, ended the 70 - game National Hockey League schedule in fourth place. And clubs finishing in this last playoff spot haven't done very well in these post-season skirmishes.

The gamblers and figure - filberts might like to know that since the NHL became a one-division league back in the 1938-39 season, the team finishing fourth has advanced to the cup final four times. That works out at once every five years.

1949 COMEBACK

And only one fourth-place finisher—the late-lamented Toronto Maple Leafs—has ended with all the marbles. That happened in 1949 when the Leafs capped a 50 - 50 season — 22 victories, 25 losses and 13 ties in 60 games—by knocking over the second-place Bruins in five in the semi-finals and whipping through the league champion Detroit Red Wings four straight.

Five years before, in 1944, Chicago Black Hawks finished behind Canadiens, Detroit and Toronto in that order and had big dreams of a cup triumph when they beat Detroit four games to one in the semi-finals. But Canadiens brought them back to earth with a four-straight final victory.

In 1950, New York Rangers occupied the fourth slot, got past Canadiens in a five-game semi-final and extended the league champion Red Wings to the full seven games before losing out.

Incidentally, the 1944 playoffs marked the initial appearance of the incomparable Maurice Richard in this money series. And the bombastic Rocket, with linemates Elmer Lach and Toe Blake, made it a memorable one.

In a semi - final game against Toronto, the Rocket scored all five goals as the Canadiens whipped Leafs 5-1. That's a record that still stands. Blake got assists on all five, another record.

RECORD STANDS

And Richard finished the playoffs with a 12 - goal output, another record that still holds a place of honor in the books. Now, the Rocket has played in 118 cup games, and that's an all - time high.

One more bit of statistical information: the Bruins have finished the regular schedule in fourth position six times since 1939, tops in the league.

Still on hockey: secretary-manager George Dudley of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, will be in charge of the 1960 Olympic hockey tournament at Squaw Valley, Calif. But that's only one headache for the Midland, Ont. lawyer.

The CAHA is responsible for getting together a team and Dudley told George (Toronto Telegram) Duimage that it would cost about $80,000 to round up a club with a reasonable chance of winning.

The CAHA official would like to gather an all-star team from senior clubs but says that "if we could get the Allan Cup champion of the previous year as a nucleus that would be even better, but we'd still have to pry the best players loose from other clubs." Aren't these Olympics supposed to be for amateurs?

Short End Of Purse Or No Fight-Sugar Ray

NEW YORK (AP)—If Carmen Basilio wants a third world title fight with Sugar Ray Robinson, he'll have to take the short end of the purse again.

Robinson, reigning over the middleweight boxing division for the fifth time, made that plain shortly after he had master-minded sparring Otis Woodard to an upset 10-round decision over Eddie Andrews Monday night. Rocky Graziano, an old ring foe of Sugar Ray's, handled Andrews.

On Basilio's demand for an even share Sugar Ray said: "Doesn't Basilio know the law says the champion has to get more. I know Carmen doesn't want to break the law."

Robinson collected 45 per cent and Basilio 20 per cent when Carmen won their first fight Sept. 23, 1957. They each received 30 per cent for the return in Chicago last March 25. The International Boxing Club said last month Robinson had given it an option for his next fight. In return Ray was to collect 42½ per cent of the gate.

Amateur Tennis Farce, Says Former US Head; If Present Hypocrisy Is Continued Pros Should Be Allowed

NEW YORK (AP) — A United States tennis official said today the amateur tennis picture is "a horrible mess" and suggested all pro barriers be dropped if the present hypocrisy is continued.

"It's the gosh-darndest situation I have ever seen," said Rensville McMann, member of the executive board and former president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

"Rather than continue this hypocritical vein I would prefer to see the designations pro and amateur dropped. All players would be simply tennis players."

The big tournaments would be open to everybody. And the pros, Pancho Gonzales, Lew Hoad and Tony Trabert — they could play and compete for the Davis Cup.

"I don't favor this, you understand. I say this is better than letting tennis continue on its present plane or adopting a caste system as some European countries propose."

SUGGEST PRO ELITE

Sweden's association is sponsoring the latest revolutionary plan—let the international federation designate the top 30 players, then permit these players to dicker for as much money as they can get from promoters.

Under the plan, the lesser players still would be compelled to adhere to amateur regulations.

"Personally I feel the amateur problem can be licked with a little stiffer backbone by officials," said McMann. "Why not fine the offending promoters instead of the players? But tennis is such a big commercial enterprise with the resort centres of Europe that no one dares buck them."

"The plan for exempting 30 players would open the door to professionalism, anyhow. What difference does it make if a man banks $125,000 from tennis, as Hoad does, or $30,000, as another might under the proposed system?"

"You might as well put them all in one pot. Then let the XYZ players try to work their way into the money brackets. Golf has found the answer. We haven't."

Australian PGA Lodges Protest To Cup Officials

MELBOURNE (AP)—The Professional Golfers Association of Australia intends to lodge an official protest about dates allocated to this year's Canada Cup international tournament.

The Canada Cup will be played at Mexico City Nov. 20-23, which cuts right across the major tournaments of the Australian season.

Bert Ferguson, secretary of the Australian PGA, said Monday night "it is totally wrong for the International Golf Association which controls the Canada Cup, to allow its tournament to clash with major events elsewhere."

The Canada Cup date means that if Australia competes, its best two players will miss the major national tournaments.

San Francisco To Build Park On Original Site

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—With major league baseball a reality here today, the city has taken steps to provide a major league stadium to be ready for the 1959 season.

The board of supervisors decided Monday to drop a study of a downtown alternative site and go ahead with construction of the proposed Giants stadium at Candlestick Point on the southeastern outskirts.

The board approved the spending of $4,000,000 to engineer and build access roads and sewers around the 77-acre park.

Cliff Walker Just Completed 32 Straight Playing Seasons For New Record, Hockey Is Just A Hobby

Cliff Walker is 51, the father of three, works in a Western Ontario beet plant loading trucks, wears glasses, weighs 145 pounds and is five feet, eight inches tall. He's like thousands of other hard-working fellows who quaff the odd beer and spend many evenings at home in front of a TV set.

But, come the winter months, and Walker is something special around his home town of West Lorne, a village of 1,078 population. He gets out and plays hockey with "the boys."

Walker, who celebrates his 52nd birthday this Sunday, has just completed 32 straight playing seasons, a record that probably no one in North America can touch. Hockey, he says, is a hobby with him.

There's no fooling in his "hobby." He cuts out the beer and cigarettes, takes his regular turn at his centre ice position for about 30 minutes every game and this season was the club's second highest scorer with 36 goals. He got 30 of them during the regular season and six in a five-game playoff with Sheddun for the West Lorne Community League championship.

"That's an amazing record," says W. A. (Billy) Hewitt of Toronto, registrar-treasurer of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association since 1922. "In the old days we used to have fellows stay in the game pretty long, but I don't think anyone stayed with it as long as this Walker fellow."

Hewitt should know. He has been close to Canadian sport for most of his 83 years and has a prodigious memory. "I can't think of anyone who has played organized hockey on a regular basis at 51 years of age," he says.

Walker is pretty proud of his record, and he thinks he'll stretch it a few years. "I've got a few good years left," he says. "Well, maybe a couple. I'll stick with it as long as I feel fit and can get along without wheezing whenever I take my turn on the ice."

Walker, who hasn't a grey hair in his head, has had his share of injuries—nose broken a couple of times, dislocated shoulder, broken ribs and a couple of teeth knocked out. "Nothing really serious has happened to me in the way of injuries."

He starts regular training in October and is all set to play when the season opens in mid-November. The schedule calls for a game a week until the end of March, and then the playoffs.

The fans give him a good-natured ribbing about playing with fellows young enough to be his sons, but it doesn't bother him. "I usually get my quota of goals, about 20 or so a season, and everybody is happy. We have a lot of fun."

Major Leagues Open In High Gear Today; Senators Upset Red Sox 5-2

Dodgers And Giants Clash In First Major League Game Ever To Be Played In California As Teams Ready To Go

Washington Senators lead the American League, the Dodgers and Giants meet in San Francisco and the world championship baseball pennant flies from an old telephone pole in Milwaukee. It sounds as though they've made a travesty of the game. But that's the way things were today for the full-treatment opening of the 1958 major league season.

The perches occupied by the Senators and the world series trophy are only temporary. The Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants meet before a capacity crowd of 23,400 at Seals Stadium for the first major league game ever played in California.

A total crowd of about 227,400 was estimated for today's eight games, with Commissioner Ford Frick and National League President Warren Giles sitting in on the ceremonies at San Francisco.

The NL champion Milwaukee Braves, meanwhile, opened at home against Pittsburgh Pirates, with Philadelphia at Cincinnati and Chicago Cubs at St. Louis for a night game with the Cardinals.

YANKS, RED SOX CLASH

In the American League, the defending champion New York Yankees meet the Red Sox in Boston. The Red Sox were defeated 5-2 Monday in the traditional early opener at Washington.

AL President Will Harridge was at Chicago for the White Sox opener against Detroit Tigers. Kansas City was at Cleveland and Washington at Baltimore in other games.

Old hands drew the pitching assignments at San Francisco—Don Drysdale for the Dodgers and Ruben Gomez for the Giants.

Southpaw Warren Spahn, the National League's lone 20-game winner (21-11) last season, started for the Braves in a try for his 225th major league victory. Right-hander Bob Friend (14-18) was the Pirates' choice.

Harry Hanebrink replaced the injured Wes Covington in the outfield for the Braves, who were forced to use the telephone pole when their custom-made pennant pole was late in arriving.

WILLIAMS AILING

The Yankees, with shortstop Tony Kubek and utility man Harry Simpson injured, decided on right-hander Don Larsen (10-4) at Boston against Willard Nixon (12-13). Gene Stephens again played left for the Red Sox as slugger Ted Williams fought off the effects of food poisoning.

The biggest AL crowd, 35,000, was expected at Cleveland, where young Herb Score (2-1) started his comeback from last season's eye injury against Kansas City and veteran right-hander Ned Garver (6-13).

Detroit's Jim Bunning (20-8) and Chicago's Billy Pierce (20-12), the American League's only 20-game winners last season, started at Comiskey Park.

The Orioles picked Connie Johnson (14-11) to face the Senators and Camilo Pascual (8-17). Right-hander Pete Ramos five-hit the Red Sox Monday, shutting them out over the last six frames after Jackie Jensen's two-run homer, and put the Senators in first place for the first time since April 12, 1955.

Ramos broke a 2-2 tie with a single off loser Frank Sullivan in a three-run sixth. Jim Lemon homered for the Nats.

Tom Flanagan, One Of Canada's Top Sports Figures, Who Handled Famous Tom Longboat, Lives Peacefully Now

By BRUCE LEVETT

TORONTO (CP) — Tom Flanagan, a silver-haired son of Lim-erick is a long way from home. He's 500 miles and a generation away from New York's Madison Square Garden and even farther from the blistering Marathon course at Boston.

And he's 50 years removed from the big round table in the back parlor of Toronto's old Grand Central Hotel which he operated, where newspaper men and sportsmen gathered and where the poker game started at midnight—"every night."

GREAT SPORTS ERA

Tom Flanagan was a colorful figure in an era when, he says, "the men at the top were honest and their word was their bond."

Now he's 80, living with his wife and a canary in a comfortable apartment in West Toronto. He has been retired for 40 years, supported by investments made when a dollar was worth 100 cents.

Always on the fringes of sport, Tom stepped into the arena only twice—both times as a manager—and both times the men he handled became among the greatest of all time in their fields.

"Tom Longboat was the first professional athlete I ever handled. He was the greatest marathon runner I ever saw."

It was his management of the Six Nations Indian which led to his association with Jack Johnson, the Negro who held the world heavyweight boxing crown "from 1910 to 1915."

BEAT BURNS IN 1908

The record books say Johnson was champ from 1908, when he beat Canadian Tommy Burns in Sydney, Australia, but Tom declines to recognize Burns as a champion.

"Burns got the title by out-pointing Marvin Hart. Hart got it when Jim Jeffries 'presented' word was their bond," he says.

it to him after he retired. Johnson clinched his claim by defeating Jeffries who attempted a comeback in Reno in 1910.

Tom Flanagan met Longboat when the runner joined his Irish-Canadian Athletic Club in Toronto and managed him as an amateur all over North America and parts of Europe.

Longboat won the Boston Marathon in 1907 and in 1908 collapsed from the heat while competing in the Olympic marathon in London. He turned professional in 1909 and was "the last of the great money runners."

It was for $2,500 and 25 per cent of the gate that Longboat ran his greatest race in Madison Square Garden against the "unbeatable" Italian, Pietro Dorando. "Longboat passed him every five miles just to show he could do it. Then, with five miles to go, the crowd went wild. I couldn't see what was going on. Longboat and Dorando were on the other side of the track and people were standing up in the centre."

Longboat came around the curve all alone. Dorando had collapsed. "It was my greatest thrill in sport," Tom says.

LINK WITH JOHNSON

It was while he was in New York with Longboat that Tom met Johnson.

"We had a talk and we agreed about training methods. The promoters said it would be a good thing to have a Britisher in connection with the fight—to ensure fair play for the Negro."

Tom Flanagan, who arrived in New York at 17 and moved to Canada in 1899, came back to Canada to stay after Johnson lost the title to Jess Willard in Havana in 1915.

"In those days, the men at the top were honest and their word was their bond," he says.

Aracaro To Ride Jewel's Reward In Derby May 3

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Aracaro, with five Derby winners to his credit, will ride Jewel's Reward in the Kentucky Derby at Louisville May 3.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Graham, owner of Maine Chance Farm, made the announcement Monday at Jamaica where the horse and rider worked out for Saturday's running of the Wood Memorial. Jewel's Reward was ridden by Manuel Ycaza in the $100,000 Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah March 1 and was disqualified after finishing first. The horse was disqualified for bumping Tim Tam, who was declared the winner.

Tex Rickard, who owned Madison Square Gardens, was one of the best and used to advise Tom on money matters.

"Big Tim Sullivan was another. He held $100,000 in connection with one fight and when he came to pay off, we said to him 'keep it until we see you in New York, you can look after it better than we can.'"

When Flanagan stepped back on to the sidelines after Johnson lost the title "it was about the time the underworld was moving in on boxing." He had never had much to do with gamblers — "I was a sure thing man, I preferred the gate."

Tom and a lawyer friend, the late Richard Greer, played a major part in the formation of the Sportsman's Battalion in Toronto. When Flanagan returned from overseas he retired — his last sports act was to match 14 top Canadian boxers against the best in Britain during the First World War, proceeds for the Sportsman's Ambulance Fund.

Of all the marathons, Tom remembers Longboat as the greatest. He went downhill until he was sweeping streets in Toronto, then returned to the Onondaga longhouse to die an old man.

Johnson was "the cleverest boxer ever to step into a ring."

Pedro Ramos Allows Only Five Hits In His Surprise Win; 26,675 Watch Outcome; Williams Misses Opener

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Pedro Ramos, 22-year-old Cuban right-hander pitching his first opening day game, dazzled a nearly packed house at Griffith Stadium Monday. Ramos set Boston down with five hits and hurled Washington to a 5-2 surprise victory over the Red Sox.

The Senators made the most of shaky Boston fielding in the sixth inning to crack open the game with three unearned runs.

Jackie Jensen lined a homer into the left field bleachers in the third to account for both Boston runs. Don Buddin, who had singled, trotted across ahead of Jensen.

Jim Lemon drove a solo homer into the same seats in the fourth for the Senators' first run.

A crowd of 26,675, including President Eisenhower, watched the game—first of the year in either league. They enjoyed perfect 70-degree weather. None was happier at the outcome than Eisenhower. He was rooting as usual for the Senators.

WILLIAMS ILL

Boston suffered the loss of Ted Williams, who came down overnight with a severe attack of food poisoning. Williams lay in misery on a clubhouse table before the game and never went out on the field. Gene Stephens took his place in left field.

Boston trainer Jack Fadden said Williams may be able to play when Boston opens at home today against New York Yankees, but no decision will be made until later.

Shortstop Buddin, fresh out of the army, scored a Boston run but was one of the chief Red Sox culprits afield. He threw wide to first on Jim Lemon's routine grounder at the start of the sixth and the error enabled Washington to hang on for its three big runs in that inning.

Frank Sullivan, the six-foot-seven right-hander and eventual loser, walked Norm Zauchin. After Herb Plews and Rocky Bridges fled out, Ramos himself

TRY THESE TRICKS WHEN BASS ARE LAZY

To tempt finicky bass let a weedless spoon with pork rind drift down and lay on the bottom for about half a minute, then jerk it up sharply a few feet and let it drift down again. ... repeat this over and over. At night cast a popping plug with rubber skirt along shore, let it float motionless. At minute intervals twitch rod tip lightly or jerk sharply. Fishermen find these tricks often work and fishermen know that the famous EVINRUDE STOW-AWAY OUTBOARD MOTORS always work ...
