Lemieux is injured

Violence in St. Leonard

MONTREAL (CP) — A simmering, year-old educational crisis in suburban St. Leonard boiled over Wednesday night when furious Italian-Canadians disrupted a meeting organized by a French unilingualist group.

Raymond Lemieux, leader of the Ligue pour l'Integration Scolaire which organized the meeting in a local school hall, was taken to hospital after he was struck on the head with a chair.

An estimated 400 persons, many of them parents, milled around the hall before the meeting was set to start, shouting insults at one another. Chairs were thrown and police moved in to separate the two groups.

After Mr. Lemieux was struck with a folding chair, the police, decked out in riot gear and carrying clubs, evacuated the hall.

Two persons were arrested.

The Italian group then surrounded the school and smashed most of its windows with stones. One man, mistaken for militant separatist Reggie Chartrand, leader of the Chevaliers de l'Independence, was beaten up by the crowds and rescued by police.

St. Leonard Mayor Leo Ouellet last month predicted a "racial explosion" unless a dispute between the suburb's English-speaking parents and the LIS-dominated school board were resolved.

The board launched a policy of phasing out English-language education in the fall of 1968 by eliminating bilingual Grade 1 classes. Bilingual classes in successive grades were to be stopped on a year-by-year basis, with Grade 2 eliminated this year.

ORGANIZED CLASSES

More than 200 English students were affected last September and their parents organized basement classes for them.

Another 200 Grade 2 students will be without regular classroom space next week when the school year begins in the suburb.

Education Minister Jean-Guy Cardinal last week said the basement classes are illegal and will not be tolerated.

He suggested that parents organize a private school for their children, which could receive grants of up to 80 per cent of its costs if it met provincial standards.

But Mr. Lemieux said Monday he will use every means at his disposal to block the creation of an English-language private school.

He described the suburb as "the last stand" and swore not to retreat one step.

Immigrants—most of them Italian—make up about 45 per cent of St. Leonard's population of 35,000. French-speaking residents comprise nearly 52 per cent.

Kennedy inquiry postponed

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (Reuters) — Judges in two states ruled Wednesday on matters pertaining to the planned inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne, delaying the inquiry here and refusing to prevent exhumation of the girl's body in Pennsylvania.

Judge James A. Boyle, obeying an order from Supreme Court Justice Paul C. Reardon of Massachusetts obtained Tuesday by lawyers for Senator Edward M. Kennedy, delayed the Edgartown inquest until at least early October.

At Lucerne County court in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Judge Bernard C. Brominski turned down a petition by the parents of Miss Kopechne to dismiss a request for an autopsy from Massachusetts authorities.

Brominski gave Edmund Dimis, Duke County, Mass., district attorney, 20 days to amend the petition for an autopsy and present sufficient facts which would warrant an autopsy under Pennsylvania law.

Miss Kopechne, 28, died July 18 when a car Kennedy was driving veered off a narrow bridge and landed in a pond near Chappaquiddick Island, trapping her inside. She was buried in Larsville, near Wilkes-Barre.

The inquest postponement was ordered by Reardon on the grounds that the rules of procedure and publicity surrounding the inquest may have violated the senator's constitutional rights. The rules had been set by Boyle and appealed by Kennedy.

In a two-minute session Wednesday, Boyle put off the inquest in which Kennedy would have been publicly questioned for the first time about circumstances surrounding the accident.

Reardon Tuesday said the circumstances surrounding the inquest raised "grave constitutional questions" and ordered the inquest put off until the entire Supreme Court can meet—which will be the first week in October.

He also ordered lawyers in the case to make no statements to the press.

Kennedy's lawyers in their petition objected to rules which forbade cross-examination and would not permit the senator's lawyers to object to testimony. This would permit testimony that would not normally be permitted in court.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Levesque

QUEBEC (CP) — Rene Levesque, leader of the separatist Parti Quebecois, says the Union Nationale's school language policy is contributing to the assimilation of French-Canadians.

The entire government, and not just the education department, favors English-language education, he said.

Mr. Levesque reviewed the language policy of his Parti Quebecois, which is that anyone who now speaks English is entitled to education in that language.

Quebec plan

RIMOUSKI, Que. (CP) — The Quebec government plans to wipe out about a dozen marginal settlements in the eastern part of the province and transfer their residents to larger communities.

The project, to start within two months, was announced Tuesday by Marcel Masse, cabinet minister in charge of the Eastern Quebec Development Bureau.

He said the vast relocation job will cost about $20,000,000 and affect about 2,000 persons, members of 350 families.

Mexican burial

MÉRIDA, Mexico (AP) — The body of an 18-year-old Canadian student, Normal Edwin Doyon, was buried Wednesday in Chetumal, Quintana Roo territory, because it has not been claimed by relatives or by the Canadian authorities.

Emergency plans are being formulated for regional LENNOXVILLE — (RST) — Yesterday in an interview with the Record, J. Edward Perry said emergency plans are now being formulated to overcome the problems created by the delayed opening of the Alexander Galt Regional School. He said a provisional advisory council chaired by Mr. MacLeay was meeting to discuss the measures which would be taken to accommodate the students during the time before the school would be opened.

At the same time he said the means of making up for lost time were being discussed and that the subject department heads were in the process of preparing reports concerning specific short cuts which could be taken.

Mr. Perry said that the report from the advisory council would be released in the next two or three days, and it would outline to parents exactly what procedures would be taken to ensure that students would be provided for. The report will accompany the student handbook which will supply the information necessary to new students entering the Alexander Galt School.

Mr. Perry said that the school board was beginning to have meetings with the parents. "One or two parent groups have approached us," he said, "and they have arranged to meet with us concerning the contingency methods."

Mr. Perry emphasized that his board was well aware of the problems which exist due to the delay in the construction of the new school. He said that there was no easy solution, to the problem but that they were working to come up with the best possible means to accommodate for the delay.

Meanwhile construction continues at the school site and contractors are trying desperately to meet their deadlines. Paul Jalbert, general contractor claims that he is still being held up by the lack of manpower.

Equipment is scheduled to flow into the school at the middle of this month and it is still hoped that Grades 10 and 11 students will be able to move into the south block by the first week in October.

Other parts of the building are far less advanced and many are doubting that the November 1st completion date can be met.

.. Teachers start back

LENNOXVILLE — (RST) — Although future students of the Alexander Galt Regional School did not return to the school-beat yesterday, their teachers did report for duty.

Some 160 teachers met at Bishop's University Centennial Theatre to set off the series of orientation talks which will continue until the school is ready to be occupied.

The first general meeting held

The Orientation sessions which will continue until completion of the school will deal with topics intended to prepare the teachers for efficient use of the school when it is ready. They will also give the department heads an opportunity to outline the plans which they have set up.

Thursday's session will include outlines of the guidance department, and timetables as well as a talk by Mr. MacLeay on the 'Child Centred School'.

Line crossing. Miss Jill Anyon, 18, of East White Plains, N.Y., Eli Goitein, 23, of New York City and Marc O'Brien, of Armonk, N.Y., are being detained at the Regional Correction Center at St. Johnsbury. Judge Lewis Springer set bail at $500.

Yesterday preliminary hearing into the cases of the four youths arrested at Derby Line was postponed and they were released on bail.

Ho dies in bed

Committee takes over

SAIGON (AP) — Radio Hanoi announced today that Ho Chi Minh, the wispy little North Vietnamese president who crushed the French colonialists in Indochina and fought the United States to a standstill in Vietnam, died Wednesday "after a grave and sudden heart attack."

The illness of the 79-year-old Ho was first disclosed by Hanoi broadcasts Wednesday that made it clear the end was near.

Broadcasts announcing the death were heard in Washington, Paris, and Hong Kong, and elsewhere over the world.

In San Clemente, Calif., the Western White House said President Nixon would have no comment on Ho's death.

The broadcast heard in Saigon named a special 25-man committee to take charge of the funeral.

It was headed by Le Duan, first secretary of the North Vietnamese Communist party.

No. 2 on the list was old party faithful Ton Duc Thang, the 81-year-old vice-president of the party who is regarded as a likely interim leader following Ho's death.

MAIN RIVAL AS LEADER No. 3 was pro-Peking Truong Chinh, the outspoken chief rival of Le Duan for leadership of the Hanoi regime.

No. 4 was Pham Van Dong, premier and outwardly the heir-apparent to the lightlybearded leader, who came to power in 1945 and led North Vietnam to victory over the French in 1954.

Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the military leader who masterminded the victory over France, was listed No. 7 on the funeral committee immediately after Le Duc Tho, who heads Hanoi's delegation to the Paris peace talks.

No. 5 was Pham Hung, a vice-premier and member of the nine-member Politburo which holds effective executive power.

The announcement came on the normal dawn news broadcast of Radio Hanoi.

Informed sources in Saigon believe it unlikely that the death of the veteran revolutionary will bring any important change in North Vietnam's war policy.

NO PREDICTIONS Western experts on North Vietnamese affairs based in Saigon agreed that no immediate significant changes in North Vietnamese policy—either on the battlefield or at the Paris peace talks—could be predicted.

"I think all of them (the North Vietnamese leaders) are dedicated to the struggle in the South and simply might subordinate their own disagreements," said one.

In Paris, a North Vietnamese delegation official read a communique from Hanoi which said: "Our entire party and all our forces and people of Vietnam shall mourn President Ho Chi Minh for seven days, from Sept. 4 to Sept. 10."

The official said he could not say whether the mourning period would include a battlefield ceasefire.

The communique was issued by the central committee of the Vietnamese Workers party, the standing committee of the National Assembly, the council of ministers—cabinet—of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, and the presidium of the central committee of the Vietnam Fatherland Front.

It said the groups would "organize a state funeral for President Ho Chi Minh with the most solemn rites of our country," would organize a "solemn mourning ceremony" and would form a "state mourning committee which comprises the highest leaders of the party, the state, the Fatherland Front and mass organizations."

NO U.S. COMMENT A spokesman for the U.S. delegation in Paris said the delegation had not been informed officially by early today of Ho's death and had no immediate comment.

He said a procedure had been agreed upon before the first session of the talks under which meetings dates were set at the end of each meeting. Any party wishing to change the date could notify the other parties.

This could be done by telephone before the delegations left for the Hotel Majestic conference centre later today, he said.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

FOR FRIDAY, SEPT. 5, 1969

Your birthday today: Surprises and short periods of spectacular growth characterize the coming year. Your intuitive faculties sharpen with every incident. Romantic interests continue stronger than before but with fewer and less obvious opportunities for expression. Today's natives tend to be changeable in mood and always prefer the most dramatic course of action.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Plans develop weak spots today; errors are common. Relatives make sudden demands. Self-restraint and tact cope with these temporary inconveniences.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Expect people to be both impetuous and sensitive; see the situation as a test of your ingenuity. Be easy on your loved ones.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Early tensions yield to burgeoning optimism if you bear with it. Care with money is essential all day.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Take a critical tour of your home to check for supplies, shortages, repairs, ideas for improvements. Be prepared for the unusual.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): The rainbow shines briefly, then wanes as you reach for the pot of gold at the foot of it. Look into the situation about health aids.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Press forward now on wherever your intuition favors. Past pressures are lifting. Beginning today, move—decisively—in the coming few weeks.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Cooperation with strangers and people from distant places seems more likely now than with children and regular associations. Relatives may pose a moment of inconvenience over a forgotten promise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Tact is your strongest and perhaps most difficult virtue today. Tomorrow you will be pleased with the results of your waiting. Give people plenty of time and space.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): For a change let other people supply the main force and direction for the day. Share your abundant humor with others. Celebrate tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): The day starts slowly, perhaps with a momentary disappointment. It is essential that you clear up some snarl in your regular work to wind up the week properly, as new circumstances will keep you from doing it later.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Expect more work and complexities. Put in a patient effort; keep notes as you go. Money matters are favored, as associates include you in their interesting transactions.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Consider any property dealings fully; press for a quick conclusion. Gather loved ones for a festive evening.

Jim: "The point is that if the king of spades is played from dummy, declarer is going to wind up making at least four no-trump regardless of who holds the ace of clubs."

Oswald: "Exactly. This is one of the standard times when the play of second hand high is correct. The nine of spades lead has marked East with both the ace and jack. Once the king is played from dummy, East can do nothing to defeat the no-trump game. If he continues spades South lets the lead ride to dummy's 10. If he leads anything else declarer wins the trick and goes about his business of knocking out the ace of clubs."

Sherbrooke tourist season was the best since 1967

SHERBROOKE — (RS) — If the presence of Expo '67 on Quebec soil made centennial year a gigantic success tourist-wise, its continuance is helping to make this year another record setter.

Believe it or not, the Municipal Tourist Office, the little red brick spot on the corner of King and Depot Streets, is expecting its 80,000th puzzled visitor this year to walk in and enquire any day now.

Municipal Tourist Office director Louis-Philippe Demers told the RECORD yesterday this year had been an outstanding success, "the best since 1967".

"There were many passing through during Expo," Mr. Demers confirmed, "with few returning the next year; but they seem to have come back this year to visit this part of the country again."

There were days when as many as 700 tourists came into the office for information, the tourist director said, with many tourists coming from as far away as Pennsylvania.

One explanation of the tourist inflow this year might be a new seven region tourist program kicked off last summer by the provincial government, Mr. Demers said.

Coordinated in a clock-wise manner, the program is based on seven geographic locations, starting for example in the Gaspé region one year and moving to Quebec City or the Eastern Townships the following year, Mr. Demers explained.

On the local scene, he added, 50,000 or more revised city maps have been given out, with city authorities seriously contemplating another order if they are going to continue distribution next year.

In particular, he said the last three months have been outstanding, with a strong tide of tourists coming in.

But, Mr. Demers pointed out, the season is not yet over, since many vacationing tourists are taking advantage of off-season rates to return to the Eastern Townships.

"The food is damn good and the rates are sensible," American tourists are saying about Sherbrooke according to the tourist director.

"While they are in Sherbrooke," he continued, "they don't get the impression they are being exploited." However, complaints were received that some local service stations were not paying the 7 per cent exchange on American money.

Mr. Demers added that post card facilities in Sherbrooke were very modest, with practically no post cards available for sale. On this, he said, the city had made arrangements with a publishing firm to have pictures taken during the summer and ready for the next tourist season.

Valerie is in town - on film and in the flesh

SHERBROOKE — (DM) — Valerie will be in town Saturday, hopefully for a long stay.

Valerie is the name of a movie starring Danielle Ouimet, already an accomplished singer and performer in radio and television, in her screen debut.

The film is about a young girl who learns the hard way about life and love. She is "voluntarily kidnapped" by a friendly motorcyclist. They stay together for only a short time and she eventually moves in with a girlfriend.

Several unfortunate incidents follow and she turns to a life of prostitution.

During this time, she meets and falls in love with a painter. She is inevitably caught between her love for him and her past. She must then decide whether or not to reveal the truth. A serious conflict develops and the climax occurs with her decision.

The film has been translated and sold to 26 countries and is playing in Montreal in its sixth month. Saturday night is the Sherbrooke premiere.

The real Valerie is naturally beautiful without makeup, articulate in both languages and totally charming. She was here yesterday at the Gourmet Restaurant on Wellington Street, for a press conference, talking about her new movie and her career to date.

When she was 16, Danielle entered a beauty contest that started her life in show business. A producer she met at that time arranged for several interviews and she soon began appearing on television.

Her first appearances were as co-star with Michel Page in a weekly musical variety show. She recorded three songs of her own during this period.

In 1967, she was voted Miss Province of Quebec.

She has been involved in radio for over two years and hosts a regular FM show in Montreal.

Danielle was born in Montreal, 22 years ago, and her parents are originally from Windsor, Quebec. She was educated at Le College Francais, Le College Marie de France and College St. Maurice. After finishing High School, she decided to pursue her career full time.

Her ultimate dream is to star in a film with Alfred Hitchcock as Director. She said that her favorite movie of recent years has been Funny Girl, with Barbara Streisand.

Hollywood seems to be the farthest thing from her mind, however. She intends to stay in Quebec for now and eventually work in Europe.

She is to make at least three more films here. One is now being produced in L'Estere, a Laurentian resort. Filming there began last week.

Education Minister has evaded language issue

Quebec residents who wish to have their children educated in the English language — a right many thought was guaranteed them under the provisions of the British North America Act — have little reason to hail the stand taken by Education Minister Cardinal in the St. Leonard School situation.

His attitude is unsatisfactory to say the least as, after supposedly studying the crisis for a year, he has come forward with the declaration that: First, sending children to private classes without the approval of the Education Department is illegal and will no longer be tolerated; and, second, that the provincial government can do nothing to over-rule the decision of the St. Leonard Catholic School Board to phase out all English instruction in its elementary schools.

The sole means whereby English-language education can be assured in such cases is for the parents to form an officially-approved private school and apply for a government grant covering 80 per cent of their operating costs, with the sponsors apparently being called upon to meet the deficit.

In simpler words, the Education Minister is saying that Quebec residents who wish to exercise their acquired rights must pay for the privilege in addition to being taxed for the schools that do not meet their wishes.

The late Premier Johnson and the present Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand have pledged to maintain the parents' right to educate their children in the official language of their choice but the Education Minister seems to think they should pay extra.

Another feature of the St. Leonard problem is that it is unlikely that a suitable building could be completed within a year to house the English classes and the Minister deprives them of the right to use emergency facilities. Thus no English-language classes can be held for a year or maybe two.

Only a true connoisseur of the hangover can appreciate the enormity of the ghastly noise made by a goldfish blowing bubbles.

Aiding self control

Wonderful indeed are the developments of modern merchandizing and especially so when they are announced by press releases — those articles generally printed on glossy paper and accompanied by flashy pictures of a young lady in the briefest of modern attire holding up a sample of the product in question.

Many things come from this never-never land of the free publicity seekers but few come up to latest effusion which reached this office this week.

It was nothing less than an announcement that someone has taken the trouble of inventing a cigarette package that does not contain cigarettes.

In case you may have thought you may have misread the above paragraph may we repeat: A cigarette package that does not contain cigarettes.

To make it sound sensible its sponsors claim the idea is "to give the smoker who's trying to quit the visual and tactile satisfaction of handling a cigarette package whenever he feels the need for a smoke."

Of course it's a product of the United States and to make it more realistic it even has the warning "Caution: Cigarette Smoking May Be Hazardous To Your Health" written on it.

How gratified we feel.
No longer must we beg people to let us feel their cigarette package.

Next week we're looking for a whisky bottle that does not contain whisky — for people who buy the stuff just to hold the bottle.

Reading a book while your spouse grouches about something is a triumph of mind over matter.

TODAY in history

The Third French Republic was proclaimed 99 years ago today — in 1870 — following the capture of Napoleon III during the Franco-Prussian War. With the fall of the empire in France a government of national defence tried to continue the war with Germany but the following year France capitulated. In Paris, Empress Eugenie fled the mob to the house of United States dentist Thomas Evans and subsequently fled to England in Mrs. Evans' clothes.
1909 — The first Boy Scout rally was held at Crystal Palace, London.

1907 — Composer Edward Grieg died.
Second World War
Twenty-five years ago today — in 1944 — British took Brussels; Finland and Russia ceased hostilities; Allies took Monaco; Polish resistance forces evacuated Warsaw; British liberated Waterloo; Japanese air force was driven from Mindanao airfields.

Castro relations with Russia warm

HAVANA — (AP) — Fidel Castro's relations with the Soviet Union seem the warmest since the Russians yielded to the United States challenge in 1962 and took their missiles out of Cuba.

A recently-concluded visit by a Soviet naval force underscores the new solidarity.

In the view of veteran Havana diplomats, the Soviet visit represented a reward to the Cuban premier for moving his revolution closer to the Soviet line.

These sources place slight credence in any suggestions the Russians were reacting to U. S. President Nixon's visit to Romania. And they see the Soviet navy trip into the Western Hemisphere as having limited military implications.

For one thing, Havana diplomatic circles were confident there would be no weapon rattling while the Russians parked their guns only 90 miles from the U. S. mainland. And there wasn't.

Soviet public statements during the visit were confined to pledges of solidarity, with nothing about defence commitments.

Castro has said more than once that Cuba was prepared to go it alone militarily if necessary.

After the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia he asked whether the Warsaw pact countries would do the same for Cuba if it were threatened by imperialism. Some sources suggested, not too seriously, that perhaps the Soviet visit was the answer.

But Castro's meetings with the Russians, at least those publicly reported, were of such a nature and under such conditions that it seems unlikely defence commitments could have been discussed comprehensively. The Soviet ambassador to Cuba, Alexandr Soldatov, was out of the country when his countrymen arrived.

Cuban-Soviet relations slumped after the 1962 missile crisis.

The Russians disagreed with Castro's policy of trying to export armed revolution to overthrow governments in Latin American countries where Moscow was trying to expand trade.

Castro in turn publicly attacked the Russians for offering technical aid to his enemies. In one speech, Castro suggested that the Soviet Union, easily Cuba's biggest supporter with at least $1,000,000 daily coming into the island, had tried financial blackmail to get him to change his line.

The big thaw came after Cuban guerrilla leader Che Guevara's death in Bolivia. This made a big impact on Havana thinking and appears to have led Castro to alter or at least postpone his efforts to exert armed revolt.

Soviet sources contend a Russian economic commission which came to Havana shortly after Guevara's death also warmed up things. The atmosphere improved after Castro supported the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

COMMENT

by Lubor J. Zink

OTTAWA — (TNS) — When, after years of disbelief the democracies finally recognized the bottomless evil inherent in Hitler's National Socialism, they condemned not only the men in charge in Nazi Germany but the whole system as such and the doctrine from which it originated.

Confronted with the accumulation of incontrovertible evidence of another brand of political gangsterism, many people in the Western world have by now, after decades of disbelief realized the evil in Communism.

But there is still strong reluctance to go beyond condemnation of specific Communist rulers and trace the evil to its origin in the Marxist doctrine of class hate which Lenin embodied in the state form of Communist dictatorship.

This reluctance to condemn the system instead of only the successors of Lenin who allegedly distorted and perverted it into what even some Soviet intellectuals now call Red fascism, is particularly strong among the Western "progressives" — the assorted leftwingers, academic Marxists and various ultra-liberals.

Having deluded themselves into believing that their idealistic interpretation of the Marxist blueprint of socialism is the blueprint for progress in social organization, they have a vested intellectual and emotional interest in sustaining that belief.

To admit that the very premise of their abstractvisions of socialism could be rotten would be so painful that it cannot even be contemplated.

Hence the separation and mental insulation of theory from practice and the rationalizations of "corruption" of Marxism in the process of its translation into practice.

The standard form of this escapism from the horrors of the "socialist" reality in the Communist-ruled countries is to blame the Stalins, the Mao Tse-tungs, the Castros, the Ulbrichts, the Gomulka's, the Brezhnevs and their henchmen for the inhumanity of the Red regimes.

Change the men at the top, these apologists of Communist tyranny say, and socialism will find its intended humanitarian form in a truly free and just society of universal brotherhood.

This is what the armchair Marxists expected from the Dubcek regime in Czechoslovakia: A proof that it is not the system and its theoretical foundation which is incurably evil and rotten, but only a handful of the abominable dictators who somehow got to the top.

However much they may deplore it, for these people the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia was a godsend, for it preserved their illusions of feasibility of "socialism with a human face" under Communist rule intact.

They can go on believing that had the "Prague Spring" not been crushed by Soviet tanks, the reformists around Dubcek would have produced a prototype of the socialism system of their dreams.

This belief, which has dangerous implications for the formulation of Western foreign and defence policies, is assiduously nourished by the Czech and Slovak Communist intellectuals who found refuge in the free world after last year's Soviet invasion of their country.

One of them is the internationally known Slovak writer Ladislav Mnacko, whose eyewitness account of the invasion (The Seventh Night, recently published in New York by E. P. Dutton and Co.) is designed to leave the impression that although the Marxist intellectuals may have been guilty of naive in helping the Stalinists to institute the reign of terror, they gradually realized their error and were making amends by transforming the inhuman system into a "Communist democracy."

Unfortunately, the comrades in the Kremlin misunderstood the undertaking and sent their tanks to crush it.

Mnacko does not explain, as does his much more honest and courageous Soviet colleague Anatoly Kuznetsov, that the men who sent the tanks are the logical and inescapable product of the fundamental Marxist evil in the Communist system which is incapable of reform without destroying itself.

Instead, Mnacko distorts historical facts when he attempts to whitewash his own complicity in the crimes of Red fascism by absolving the totalitarian system he willingly served and still wants to preserve, and by transferring the blame for the cruelty he gingerly describes on a few allegedly corrupt individuals in power.

"They were capable of rebellion," Mnacko says of the men the leftist intellectuals helped to put in charge with messianic zeal. "They were men of destruction (but) when absolute power was at last put into their hands," they had no notion how to use it constructively and turned it into an instrument of terror.

Neither Mnacko nor the befuddled Western Marxists and fellow-travellers can face the awful truth, so clearly expressed by Stalin's daughter Svetlana and more recently by Kuznetsov, that error is the very nature, the essence of the Communist system.

Spawmed by Marxist hate and Leninist-Stalinist violence, its only means of survival are hate and terror. No serious attempt to break the vicious circle can be tolerated.

Old folks home for Richmond has been approved

HOME PROJECT: The Old Folks Home project taken on by the Knights of Columbus in Richmond has been approved. Seen above is the plan for the project.

RICHMOND — Residents of Richmond and vicinity will be pleased to learn that the Old Folks Home project undertaken by the Knights of Columbus has been approved by Jean Paul Cloutier, Minister of Health and Welfare, and the plans are proceeding.

The corporation consists of Dr. Marcel Chaput, president; Raymond LaFrance, vice-president; Paul Delaney, secretary-treasurer; with directors: Dr. Jean Smith, Telesphore Laflamme, Marc Poisson and Robert Morin, and a board of ten governors.

Philippe Demers of Sherbrooke is the architect for the building. Plans are already in Government hands and several official visits have been made here.

There will be 80 beds in the new home with three 2 1/2 apartments and three 1 1/2 apartments. The other rooms will have single or twin beds. It is hoped it will be a home where the residents may live freely and come and go as they wish.

The total cost, excluding furniture for the home, will be underwritten by the Provincial Government, Society of Quebec Housing, the Provincial counterpart of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

The Old Folks Home will be constructed on the two acres of land behind St. Bibiane's Church in Richmond, donated by the parishioners, which is estimated to be worth $9,000.

The non-profit corporation set up under the name of Foyer Richmond Inc. must raise the amount of $50,000 as the citizens share of the much needed project. Several municipalities have been approached including Upper Melbourne, Cleveland, St. Felix de Kingsey and Richmond, for this humanitarian plan, and all are willing to collaborate as also are the industries in Melbourne and Richmond which have been approached. Practically the entire country is ready to help in the great enterprise.

A number of contributions have already been received from Richmond citizens and vicinity, giving hope for the future.

On Thursday, Aug. 21, Dr. Chapat was in Quebec City for a meeting with the Government to further plans. Since then plans have been approved and tenders should be called by Sept. 15. It is hoped construction will begin by Nov. 1, 1969.

The total cost of the project will be approximately $425,000 excluding the furniture, which when added to the building will be around $500,000 and will be a credit to the town of Richmond and vicinity.

Pink and blue shower

EUSTIS — Mrs. Michael Williams was the guest of honor at a Pink and Blue Shower held at the home of Mrs. William Crease. About eighteen relatives and friends attended.

Showers

ELSIE LOKE

Miss Elsie Loke was a recent guest of honor at a household shower given by Miss Shirley Wilkin, maid of honor for the bride-to-be.

Upon her arrival Miss Loke was presented with a red and yellow "Catch a Fellow" corsage and seated in a chair decorated with giant multi-colored mod flowers and white streamers. Matching floral arrangements adorned several tables and the hearth.

A champagne toast was proposed by Miss Cynthia Wright. Then, the bride-to-be opened the many useful household gifts and thanked her friends.

Bingo was played and the winners chose their prizes from a variety of gifts displayed. All the guests won a game.

Following the Bingo, a wine and cheese buffet was served from a table decorated with silver and crystal. It was a very enjoyable evening for everyone. Miss Wilkin was assisted by Miss Cynthia Wright and Mrs. John Wilkin.

ELIZABETH CHADSEY

AYER'S CLIFF — Among those who entertained in honor of Miss Elizabeth Chadsey, a popular bride-to-be of the month, was Mrs. Lillian McFaul who had several ladies in for tea on Monday. The house looked charming with bouquets of summer flowers scattered about the attractive rooms.

The hostess presented the guest of honor with a gift for which she expressed her thanks.

Tea was served buffet style from the dining-room table. Mrs. Margaret Atkinson poured and a pleasant time was spent. The guests departed wishing Elizabeth many years of happiness in her future married life.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS Barbara Brent

MONTREAL, September 4th — Who is the fairest of them all? You, in your picture on your BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA cheque guarantee card. Because with your Scotiacard picture and signature your cheque is like instant credit or instant cash anywhere in Canada — for whatever you want to buy, when and where you need it. Just drop in at your nearest Bank of Nova Scotia branch to have your picture taken in colour by their identi-proof camera. Your Scotiacard with your picture on it is better than a fairy godmother when there's something you want now!

REMEMBER THAT HEAVENLY AROMA in the kitchen when Mother used to do the baking? Well just the other day I recaptured that childhood memory. Where? In one of the many DOMINION STORES that now has its own bakery! At these In-Store bakeries over 30 kinds of bread are baked fresh every day — not to mention flaky-crust pies and tarts, feather-light cakes, crunchy cookies and so many other delectable confections. For those of us who are in a hurry — they even provide a 5 minute decorating service on birthday and special occasion cakes! And all this fine old-fashioned goodness is served up with the same old-fashioned Dominion courtesy.

ISN'T IT HARD TO SMILE when you're wearing ill-fitting, uncomfortable dentures? Pharmaco (Canada) Ltd. has just the product to solve your problem. It's CUSHION GRIP — an amazing, pliable, tasteless thermoplastic that relines false teeth so they fit your gums perfectly. Cushion Grip never hardens — so it acts as a constant cushion of comfort. You apply it directly from a handy tube — dispensing with the messy mixing and preparations needed for pastes and powders. Cushion Grip lasts for weeks, too, even with regular cleaning or brushing. At all drug stores and beauty aid counters — with money back guarantee. For trial supply send 25c to Dept 47, Pharmaco (Canada) Ltd., Pointe Claire, Quebec.

TO BE A GOOD HOSTESS depends on a number of things, one of which is knowing something about wine. Two wines that I find indispensable in our house are Brights MANOIR ST. DAVIDS CLARET and MANOIR ST. DAVIDS SAUTERNE. Manoir St. Davids Claret is perfect with hamburgers, steaks, beef — red meat of any kind. Manoir St. Davids Sauterne — chilled — is the wine to serve with fish, pork, chicken — any white meats — and with any salad. Just taste what these two fine wines can do for meals! Keep both always on hand — the price is right!

Last fair of the season

RICHMOND — (Staff) —
And so the fair season draws to an end — but not before the Richmond finale Saturday night.

The annual Richmond Street Fair tops off the fair season like a good dessert.

Sponsored by Branch 15 of the Royal Canadian Legion, the 29th street fair features among other things, 29 door prizes, 16 booths including a towel and blanket booth.

There will be fun for the whole family at the mini exposition.

The children will amuse themselves at the fish pond while the parents will try their luck at the bingo tables.

For nickels, dimes and quarters, you can have a barrel of fun at this yearly event.

You can try your luck at knocking over milk bottles for chic prizes and at the same time renew old acquaintances, and chat with your neighbors.

Richmond Street Fair is expected to draw the crowds this year. And it's all for a good cause. Proceeds of the fair go towards the legion's welfare activities. The legion depends heavily on the funds from the fair to help ex-servicemen, the legion's main endeavor.

There will be plenty to enjoy at the fair, a ball game and a refreshment booth by the Ladies Auxillary of the No. 15, Canadian Legion.

So if you haven't already made plans for Saturday night, why not get in style with so many others and come out to Richmond?

Social notes from Bedford

The annual meeting of the Missisquoi County Historical Society will be held on Oct. 4 at 2 p.m. at the Stanbridge East Museum. Members are asked to keep this date in mind, as no further notice regarding the meeting will be given. The society, at the present under the direction of Kenneth Tree, chairman of the cemetery committee, is engaged in improving some of the neglected cemeteries in the area, including the Chandler Cemetery, Stanbridge East, the Dutch Street Cemetery, Bedford and the Russell cemetery, to name a few.

The Wesley United Church service was taken recently by Miss Linda Mason, Philipsburg, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. R. Lake, who is on sick leave. Miss Mason delivered a well-prepared sermon, and although only in her teens, fulfilled her duties most ably. Mrs. R. Wescott of Stanbridge East was the organist.

The banns of marriage were published on Aug. 24 at the Wesley United Church between Linda Margaret MacArthur, RN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William MacArthur and Francis John Lake, son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Lake.

Prior to leaving Bedford, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McKim were given a farewell party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Champagne with Mr. and Mrs. Murray McEwen, Mystic as joint hosts, and were presented with a gift. Mr. and Mrs. McKim have been residents of Bedford for eight years.

Mr. Emil Bedard was in St. Remi, Napierville County, called by the death of his cousin, Mr.

Gustave Houle, who died on Aug. 23 at the St. Johns Hospital, following a heart attack. In addition to his wife, the former Miss Blanche Provencal, he is survived by 10 children, who are all married. The funeral was held at the St. Remi Church. Interment was in the St. Remi Cemetery. Mr. Houle was a prominent resident of St. Remi and founded the Houle Express, he was also a 4th degree Knight of Columbus.

Mrs. Nellie Young Albany, N.Y., who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. John Wanzer, has returned home.

Miss Isabel Marshall, who has been a patient in the Montreal General Hospital, is recuperating at her home here. Mr. and Mrs. Clement Corriveau, who purchased the house of the Misses Ewing on Best Avenue, are now occupying their new home. Mr. Corriveau has sold his farm at Morgan's Corner to Mr. Jean Paul Levesque.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chamberlain and family, Toronto, have been guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith were the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Smout, of Gowanda, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. William Monkhouse, with their daughter, Judy, Ontario, have been guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David S. Anderson, and little son.

Twins hold 6 1/2 game lead over Athletics

Davis' single tops Mets 5-4, Marichal beats Expos

Los Angeles Dodgers outfielder Willie Davis should write novels during the baseball off season—he has a flair for the dramatic.

He kept alive the longest consecutive game hitting streak in more than 20 years in the major leagues with a little ninth inning drama Wednesday night.

Thwarted in four previous times at bat in an effort to hit in his 31st consecutive game, he came up in the ninth and socked the first pitch for a double that scored Maury Wills from second to beat New York Mets 5-4.

First base was open, with one out and Wills on second, when Davis came to the plate to face relief pitcher Jack DiLauro.

Gil Hodges, Mets' manager, said he considered walking

Davis, but decided to pitch to him in view of his four futile tries to extend his streak.

The victory kept the Dodgers one game back of San Francisco Giants in the NL West scramble and one-half game ahead of the Cincinnati Reds.

San Francisco shaded Montreal Expos 2-1, Cincinnati Reds blanked Chicago Cubs 2-0, Atlanta Braves trounced Pittsburgh Pirates 8-1 and Philadelphia Phillies romped over San Diego Padres 9-1 in other NL games.

Claude Osteen, seeking his 19th victory, was breezing along with a 4-0 lead over Jerry Koosman and the Mets until the eighth.

HOMERS TIE SCORE

Then two-run homers by Tommie Agee and Donn Clendenon tied the score and set the stage for Davis' game ending swat. Davis was mobbed by spectators swirling around him at third base as he left the field.

The Mets stayed five games back of Chicago in the NL East since the Cubs absorbed a two-hit shutout from the Reds' Jim Maloney.

The Cubs' two hits, both singles, were made by Don Kessinger in the third and by losing pitcher Bill Hands in the sixth.

The Giants made only two hits against Montreal, but one was a single by Jim Davenport with the bases full in the seventh that drove in both of the Giants' runs.

Losing pitcher Mike Wegener of the Expos had loaded the sacks on three bases on balls before Davenport came up. The Giants' other hit was another single by Ron Hunt in the fourth.

Juan Marichal, who chalked up his 17th victory, had to bear down with all his skill in the ninth when Montreal put the tying run on third with none out on Mack Jones' triple.

"I was worried," Marichal said afterwards. "I wanted to strike out the next three batters, but didn't think I could. I hope they would hit a ground ball to someone."

That's what happened. Coco Laboy grounded out to Davenport at third. So did Ron Brand. Second baseman Hunt threw out Jim Fairly to end the game.

Atlanta exploded for eight runs in the sixth against the Pirates to snap a six-game losing streak. Pinch-hitter Rico Carty capped the outburst with a three-run bases-double.

A three-run triple by Johnny Callison and a five-hitter by Woody Fryman made it easy for the Phillies over the Padres. Fryman lost a shutout in the seventh when the Philadelphia infield committed three errors after a single by Ivan Murrell.

That boosted the Twins lead to 6 1/2 games over Oakland, which was only two games off the pace a little more than a week ago. But, while the Twins were enjoying their period of prosperity, Oakland dropped seven of 10 games on the road.

Minnesota manager Billy Martin's only big concern during the coming series is Rod Carew, who will miss the last three games because of a weekend military obligation.

Carew, who just rejoined the team after two weeks of summer training camp, is leading the league with a .351 average.

KEY BLOW

Harmon Killebrew's two-run homer—his 39th of the season—keyed a five-run Twins' explosion in the sixth inning that helped Dave Boswell to his 15th victory in 25 decisions with a four-hitter.

Tony Oliva and Leo Cardenas also singled in runs in the big inning, while Boswell's sacrifice bunt scored George Mitterwald from third for the other.

Ken Harrelson slammed his 27th homer for the Indians.

Rookie Mike Nagy, a 21-year-old right-hander, worked himself in and out of jams in stopping Oakland for his 11th victory in 13 decisions.

Gerry Moses, No. 3, and Syd O'Brien, No. 7, backed him with homers. In the opener, Oakland came from behind with a seven-run uprising in the seventh inning. Danny Cater started it off with a single and Dick Green followed with his 11th homer.

Tito Francona singled in another run before pinch runner Alan Lewis tied it 4-4 by knocking the ball out of catcher Russ Gibson's glove on an apparent easy out at the plate. Sal Bando then produced the clincher with a three-run homer, his 22nd.

Denny McLain checked Kansas City on six hits for his 22nd victory against six losses, while Willie Horton banged out his 24th and 25th homers, driving in three runs. Bill Freehan also homered for the Tigers.

Horton has now hit eight homers in his last seven games, including four in the four games with the Royals.

Operation Catch Up begins a four-day run in Oakland tonight, and, if it doesn't succeed, there won't be much doubt that it will be Minnesota Twins against Baltimore Orioles in the American League playoffs next month.

The Athletics, slumping home after a miserable road swing, will have to cool off the red-hot Twins considerably in the four-game set to keep their tuckering Western Division title hopes alive.

Boston Red Sox stopped Oakland 5-2 Wednesday, after the single in five at-bats. The first game of the final series is scheduled for tonight in Drummondville, with the next two to be played on Saturday and Sunday.

A GLIMPSE OF THE ACTION — Andre Carpentier in action at the Sports Palace last week. There will be another wrestling program on Saturday.

Rougeau Bros. face Mongols

Reconciled wrestling fans will be treated to another exciting program at the Sports Palace Saturday night, with the Mongols facing Johnny and Jacques Rougeau in a revenge match.

Last week at the Palace, the Rougeau brothers had been defeated after their opponents, The Mongols had taken to boot stamping to win the match.

This week's bout between the two powerful teams is a two-falls-out-of-three with a no time limit.

Promoter Bob "Legs" Langevin is featuring the Leduc brothers, Paul and Jos., — the Quebec edition of Bonnie and Clyde, against the team of Andre Carpentier and Len Shelley.

Carpentier, the nephew of French wrestler Edouard Carpentier, has been in Canada for a short while, but is evidencing the same characteristics that made "Uncle Edouard" rich and famous.

A third match, a single interest, will feature England's rugged Lord Anthony Starks, going up against the bronze Hawaiian boy Lewigi Massera.

During a match last week, Starks had been disqualified for brutal conduct after opponent Leo Burke, of Moncton, N.B., had been caught between the ropes. Burke left the ring shaken up from his opponent's punishment.

As a preliminary, Promoter Langevin is billing Cuba's Don Serrano against Montreal's capable Eddy Auger.

Although Auger is known to be a pro in the field of wrestling, it is very likely to be an interesting match, since Serrano has manifested in previous ring appearances a degree of unscrupulous behavior.

Indians dump Plessisville, in final

The Quebec Indians will provide the opposition against the Drummondville Royals in the best-of-seven final series of the Provincial Baseball League.

Last night, the Indians eliminated the Plessisville Braves by taking the game 14-4 and sweeping the best three-out-of-five series in three games straight. The scores of the two previous were 2-0 and 12-0.

In the game action, the Indians had a feast in the sixth inning when 16 men went up to the plate and scored nine runs on nine hits, three base-on-balls, a hit batsman, and a sacrifice fly.

William de Jesus, the Indians hurler, was credited with the victory — his second of the series. He helped his own cause by belting a two-run homer and connecting for a single. De Jesus scattered 10 hits along the way in the victory.

Adrien Daviault, the Braves' starting pitcher had performed well until the disastrous sixth — allowing but two runs.

The Indians completed their scoring in the ninth inning. Harvey Yancey of the Indians brought in four runs on a sacrifice fly, a double, and a single, while teammate contributed a triple, a double and two singles. Reggie Thomas belted a two-run triple and a single.

For the Plessisville squad, Gilles Robichaud was best offensively with two doubles and a single in five at-bats. The first game of the final series is scheduled for tonight in Drummondville, with the next two to be played on Saturday and Sunday.

Aussie Laver - favored

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Tony Roche is one man unwilling to go with the tide of sentiment that there can be no stopping Rod Laver in the United States open tennis championships.

"I've beaten Rod five times this year and lost to him twice," the young Australian said. "I'd say my track record against him is pretty good."

Laver, unbeaten in 27 straight matches and bidding to add the American to his Australian, French and Wimbledon titles for a professional grand slam, is the overwhelming favorite for the $16,000 first prize.

He must face another tough Australian, Roy Emerson, in the quarter-finals today and if he comes through that one, he will take on the winner of the match between Arthur Ashe, Jr., the defending titleholder, and the veteran Ken Rosewall of Australia.

Roche wouldn't get to Laver until the finals Sunday, and this would be a battle between two mighty left-handers fighting for No. 1 in the world ranking.

Roche has a fourth round date today with 41-year-old Pancho Gonzales, who beat him in straight sets a year ago, and, looking ahead, must dispose of improved Butch Buchholz in the quarter-finals and the winner of the match between John Newcombe and Fred Stolle in the semi-finals in order to reach a last-round confrontation with Laver.

Any way you look at it, it's a big order. With Wednesday's program washed out, today's schedule begins with the women's semi-final matches—favored Margaret Court of Australia against defending champion Virginia Wade of England and Rose Casals of San Francisco and Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex.

Then follows the delayed Gonzales-Roche match and three men's quarter-finals, Laver-Emerson, Ashe-Rosewall, Stolle-Newcombe.

The men's semi-finals will be played Friday, women's final Saturday and men's final Sunday.

Expos, Braves to share camp

The Montreal Expos and the Atlanta Braves will again share spring training facilities at West Palm Beach, Florida, in 1970.

Spring reporting dates for players and Grapefruit League schedules will be determined later, though both clubs have already agreed to open the 1970 exhibition games' schedule against each other at West Palm Beach's 4,300-seat Municipal Stadium on Friday, March 6.

The March 6 game will be the first of several meetings between the Expos and the Braves at West Palm Beach during the spring. The Expos and Braves will each play 11 home games at West Palm Beach during the spring.

John McHale, president of the Expos, and Bill Bartholomay, president of the Braves, finalized arrangements for the 1970 sharing of what is recognized as baseball's finest spring training facility.

The Braves have been training at West Palm Beach since 1953. They were joined last spring by the Expos, then one of the National League's two new expansion clubs.

The West Palm Beach complex was originally constructed in 1963 and later enlarged. The complex now is made up of six diamonds, including Municipal Stadium. The Stadium is the only one in Florida to boast two home club dressing rooms and one visiting team dressing room.

For a Cotton Bowl game, it was pretty blah. The New Year was 1954 and Rice, sparked by its All-American half-back Dick Moegle, was ripping Alabama apart.

And while Moegle ran, the Rice defense was blunting nearly every play the Crimson Tide ran. The partisan Texas crowd cheered wildly.

Down on the stadium floor, Alabama halfback Tommy Lewis squirmed in frustration and made himself sit down. Moegle took the ball on his own five-yard line and raced up the sidelines toward the Crimson Tide goal line.

Lewis, who had been elected team captain for the game, watched in horror. When Moegle reached 'Bama's 38-yard line—directly in front of Lewis—the Alabama back could no longer contain himself. He leaped from the sideline and tackled Moegle.

"It was an unfortunate thing for Tommy," said an Alabama official, "but it certainly created a lot of publicity for the school. People don't remember we got beat badly in that game. They just remember Tommy Lewis."

Lewis, now a successful insurance man in Huntsville, Ala., smiles about the incident now.

Leopold Forte, President of the Quebec Confederation of Sport Shooting Inc. announced today that the High Commissariat of Sports, Department of Tourism, Fish and Games, granted a $20,000 subvention to the newly formed provincial association.

This grant will be used to open and maintain a permanent secretariate, to organize in March the first provincial convention of sports shooters, to set up teams for next summer "Jeux du Quebec" and to promote competition in the province and elsewhere.

Some 200 clubs, already organized in Quebec, with a membership of about 3,000, will participate in the March convention, when the Confederation will really be going ahead.

Mr. Forte also announced that, due to the steps taken by the Confederation, the "All America" international shooting contest will be held in Canada for the first time. The event will take place at the "Fosse Olympic Camp of Quebec," at Ste-Anne-des-Plaines, from September 6 to 8, under the honorary chairmanship of Hon. Gabriel Loubier.

The Quebec Confederation of Sport Shooting Inc. is a non-profit organization founded only a year ago by provincial charter. The general aim is to give some 350,000 sports shooters the advantages of joining a provincial association.

According to Leopold Forte, the charter of the QCSS includes the following by-laws:

- To establish and administer one or many secretariates, to gather and publish information useful in the practice and administration of sport shooting;
- To help organize local, regional, provincial and international meetings, contests and competitions;
- To suggest shooting standards and also standards for the administration of Clubs;
- To favor the obedience of safety and public health laws;
- To provide governments with adequate information required to obtain grants;
- To encourage the organization of special technical and practical courses on shooting, on firearms and on legislation;
- To attribute certificates of competence and other recognitions;
- To represent the members and the shooters at large whenever necessary for discussions with government authorities and other groups, etc.

Up to now, some 170 associations have made a request to join the QCSS. The officers of the Confederation are: President, Leopold Forte; first vice-president, Jacques Boucher; second vice-president, Harold Barkan; secretary-treasurer, Michel Diodati; directors: I. Balla, I. Evangelisti, Luc Geoffroy, M. Greenberg, R. Longtin, P. Musacchio, J. R. Salois and Harry Willisie.

Claude Raymond; The native returns

MONTREAL (CP) — There was a time earlier this year when Claude Raymond wasn't interested in being a part of baseball's Montreal Expos — for this year anyway. Now, he says he is happier playing for the National League expansion club than he was when he wore the uniform of a pennant contender — the Atlanta Braves.

Raymond, a native of St. Johns, Que., a community about 30 miles southwest of Montreal, was kidded constantly by Montreal writers during spring training camp that he would end up with the Expos.

The Expos and the Braves shared spring training facilities at West Palm Beach, Fla., and the 32-year-old relief pitcher would get a going-over every now and then.

"I don't want to go there this year anyway," he'd tell writers. "I guess I'd like to finish my career in Montreal but we've got a good chance to win our division this year. Maybe we'll be able to go to the World Series."

The Braves currently are in a torrid race for the National League's western division pennant — but without Raymond. He found himself in Montreal sooner than he really wanted to or expected to be. But he says he's happier now.

He pitched 48 1-3 innings in 33 appearances for the Braves this year. In his first six games with the Expos, Raymond pitched in 8 1-3 innings.

One night before a game in Jarry Park, Raymond began signing autographs for young fans at 7:20. He didn't let up until five minutes before game time at 8:05.

WASTED NO TIME
He didn't waste any time settling down in Montreal. The day after his arrival he went to in relief late in the game.

Prior to the start of the game, Raymond was introduced to the crowd and was given a long, standing ovation by the 14,250 spectators at the game.

"I don't know what happened in Atlanta," Raymond said. "I just didn't get any work. When I did, I wasn't effective."

Raymond came to the Expos with a 2-2 won-lost record. One of his victories was against the Braves in Montreal early in the season and his second came when he went 8 1-3 innings in relief.

St. Johns and found himself an apartment. He and his wife spent an entire day buying furniture for their new home.

The five-foot-10, 180-pound righthander broke into the majors in 1959. He was traded to the Braves while they were based in Milwaukee in 1961, then went to Houston in the 1963 expansion draft before being traded to Atlanta in 1967.

Raymond's best years in the majors came when he was with Houston. In his first year he appeared in 38 games, pitched 80 innings, had a 5-5 won-lost record and an earned-run average of 2.81.

The following year he had a 7-4 won-lost record, appearing in 33 games and a 2.91 ERA. He won seven games in 12 decisions in 1965, appearing in 62 games, and his earned-run average was 3.13.

His lifetime earned-run average in the major leagues is 3.26.

New York Jets—1969

PROSPECTUS—End of short, unhappy rebellion of Joe Namath doesn't mean nirvana. Jets, under Coach Weeb Ewbank, still must go out and prove they can win again. Not all people sold on them as best team in world. They were for one day. But in pros today, 17 Sundays make a season (including all play-offs). That means 17 Sundays Joe's knees have got to hold up. Best thing Jets have going for them is weakness of other teams in East.

OFFENSE

PASSING—Despite all his foibles, Broadway Joe's a pro in application and intensity. Also has learned lot more discipline as quarterback and passer. Only questionable factor now remains his knees. But they've carried him this far, and strangely haven't affected speed in setting up. Rating—A.

RECEIVING—Top-notch starting corps. George Sauer's good as any receiver in league today, a fast Raymond Berry. And Don Maynard, leathery Texan, comes up with home run pitch. Most unappreciated is tight end Pete Lammons. His loss would be costliest of all because Jets have absolutely nothing behind him. Rating—A-.

RUNNING—Under normal conditions, Matt Snell and Emerson Boozer would be super duo. Especially after way Matt busted 'em up in Super Bowl. That's the true Matt they always expected. But knee operation and occasional pouting have produced erratic performances. Boozer's still feeling shaky from knee operation in '68. Could miss Bill Mathis's solid support. Rating—B.

LINE—Drafted Ohio State's Dave Foley No. 1 as tackle because that's where they need help. Young Sam Walton fell down late in year; had to use guard Dave Herman at right tackle in Super Bowl. Now guard Bob Talamini's retirement means Herman moves back to guard. So one of young guys have to come through. Solid pros up front are tackle Winston Hill, center John Schmitt. Rating—B+.

DEFENSE

LINE—Great at the wings; do it with mirrors in the middle. Gerry Philbin's all-pro in any league at left end; Verlon Biggs on other flank is bigger, meaner, faster, but doesn't put out as much. With signed contract, he might pep up. John Elliott's prototype of new mobile tackle. Rocky Rochester's a plugger who could start wearing down. Standin Carl McAdams should still have been linebacker (if not hurt). Rating—B.

LINEBACKING—Man for man, only Al Atkinson would be coveted by other teams. Larry Grantham's too little, despite developing pot, and not super fast. Ralph Baker's just a steady workman. And there's no burgeoning talent behind any of them. Yet they get job done. Rating—B.

SECONDARY—Again, it's a bit of puzzle because only Jim Hudson conforms to all-pro concepts—a rugged strong safety. The good ones beat Johnny Sample at left corner or run over free safety Bill Baird. Randy Beverly's fine on right corner. Good thing they have Cornell Gordon around if Sample stumbles. Rating—B-.

KICKING—Jim Turner had sensational season as placekicker, but has always been good, and Curley Johnson's an old pro hunter who gets 'em out of hole. Rating—A-.

Prediction

First in East. Got to stick with Bachelor I and gang.
