

Quintet hurt when car rams into tree here

Five persons were injured in an automobile accident at Strathcona avenue and Sherbrooke street Tuesday at about 3 a.m. All five were passengers in a car that smashed into a tree. They were taken to St. Mary's Hospital.

Bill Haley, 28, of Owen Sound, was the driver of the car. He was proceeding west along Sherbrooke street at not over 30 miles per hour, he told police, and approaching the intersection reached down to check his handbrake. In doing so he lost control of the vehicle.

The car mounted the sidewalk and continued along it for about 50 yards before returning to the street. Haley then claims to have passed out as he remembers nothing further. The car struck a tree on the opposite side of the road at the edge of Westmount Park 180 feet after leaving the sidewalk.

The car was badly damaged. All four doors were sprung, the steering wheel snapped off, and the radiator and front body work smashed. The tree lost only some bark.

The driver was held at hospital for observation. Other passengers were Norma Doherty, 21, 4038 Dorchester street, who suffered a fractured wrist and lacerations to the left hand; Olive Horton, 28, 1033 St. Hubert street, who was also admitted for observation; Garland Goldworthy, 24, of Newfoundland, who suffered a fractured left hand and lacerations of the lower lip; and George Crews, also of Newfoundland, who was admitted to hospital but refused treatment.

Repaving work is progressing on Claremont

Work is now under way to widen and repave Claremont avenue and construct new sidewalks from north of Winchester avenue to Western avenue on both sides of the street. The project is being carried out by the Westmount Roads Department. It is also proposed to extend St. Catherine street from its present point and eventually join it up with Claremont avenue. It is not known when this additional work will be carried out, but it is hoped to begin work this year.

All of Claremont avenue will be widened from its present 27 feet to 40 feet, new paving and sidewalks laid and eight lamp standards of a completely new design will be erected. In addition, a sewer extension is being laid down at the intersection of Claremont and Somerville.

Equipped with a steam shovel, shovel loaders, a grader for leveling and pneumatic drills 25 men are now on the job which was begun May 9 and is expected to be completed within the next four weeks. Total cost of the work to the City of Westmount is estimated at $53,900.

Library board approves plans for extension

Preliminary plans were approved in principle Wednesday by the Library Board for an extension to the Westmount Public Library in Westmount Park.

The cost will be an estimated $150,000 and will provide space for a total of 100,000 volumes.

The new building will be to the south of the present library and separated from it by a courtyard. The two buildings will be connected by a passageway, modern in style but designed to blend harmoniously with the present structure.

The plans have been prepared by the architects Durnford, Bolton, Chadwick and Elwood, 4101 Sherbrooke street west.

Kinsmen's coaster classic title sought by local boys

By RAY JACOBS

Two bright young Westmounters are busy preparing for the Montreal Kinsmen Club All-Canadian coaster classic, to be held Saturday, June 21, on Desjardins street between Sherbrooke and Boyce streets. Don Vollett, 140A Selby street, and Jim Roguski, 193, Selby street, are the two Stirling Moss's of tomorrow who will compete against other boys from Montreal East, Lachine and Dorval from whom entries have so far been received.

Don, 14, and Jim, 13, make the cars mostly by themselves though they acknowledge the able assist they get from Ron Harvard, supervisor of the Greene avenue Unity Club workshop. This is the first such race the boys have entered and they got their interest mainly from being keen woodworkers. The workshop is well equipped to turn out a possible winner.

One might say the Rotary Club of Westmount has a vested interest in the outcome of the race as, with all other contestants entering under the same conditions, they are sponsoring Don and Jim, and nothing less than a first and a second will satisfy them.

ARDENT BUILDERS

If the boys' enthusiasm is anything to go by, the club will not be disappointed. Regularly after school or in the evenings they are found busily at work preparing their coasters which they expect to complete very soon. Total time of building is about a month.

The boys explained the fine art of constructing a winning car. "You have to build them low and heavy and streamline the body as much as you can to cut down wind resistance. The idea is the same as that in an aeroplane or racing car."

The importance of this is clear when you understand that the races are run off in heats, the fastest car in each heat advancing to the finals. The final is well worth reaching for the driver of the fastest racer will win, in addition to the Birks Trophy, a bicycle.

Other special awards include the Kinsmen Trophy and a bicycle for the fastest racer of the non-ball bearing wheels type and a trophy for the best-constructed racer. In addition, all entrants will receive a prize in this the 17th running of the coaster classic.

Both boys, by the way, are keen baseball players and both hope eventually to make their school teams, Don, at Westmount Junior High and Jim at Queen's School.

So there you have it. Two friends going all out to carry off the trophy for Westmount. But remember boys, please, no Silky Sullivan tricks on June 21. We wouldn't want to go through that again.

Any boy wishing to enter should mail their application now to Kinsman Fred Russell, PO Box 150, N.D.G.

Firecracker sends youth to hospital

Tragedy struck in the form of a blinding flash Monday for a young boy who now rests in critical condition in hospital, in imminent danger of losing the sight of both eyes.

Ronald Steinberg, 11, 4962 Grosvenor Ave., was picked up Monday, the night of the celebration of the Queen's birthday, by a friend of the family, Dr. L. H. Lang. Together they drove off to King George Park to watch the children display their fireworks. Ronald carried none of his own.

At 9:00 p.m., one half hour after they had arrived, Ronald stooped, apparently, to pick something from the ground. As he did so, a giant "blockbuster" exploded, striking him in the face.

Dr. Lang immediately carried the boy to his car and drove him to the Jewish General Hospital.

The doctor says he doesn't believe that any of the boys in the vicinity would have thrown anything so large.

"We were standing there, watching the fireworks being thrown about," he said, "when Ronald suddenly bent down and something exploded in his face. Somebody could have thrown it at him, but I doubt it."

A member of the family reported the full extent of the damage is still not known.

"He is in danger of losing both eyes," she said.

Westmount trio standing high on McGill lists

Westmounters were again prominent in the list of degrees and diplomas released this week at McGill University. Success was achieved in many faculties, in the face of keener competition.

John Herbert Burgess, 630 Murray Hill avenue, led 119 medical students with the highest aggregate in the final year. His awards include: The Wood Gold Medal for the best Clinical Examinations in final year subjects, the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Province of Quebec Prize for the highest standing in pathology and medicine, the J. Francis Williams Scholarship in medicine and clinical medicine (which he shares with Gerald Burke) and the Robert Forsythe Prize in surgery.

Graham Nesbitt, 3243 The Boulevard, graduated with 1st Class Honors in English and History for a BA degree. He will receive the Shakespeare Gold Medal in English and the Lieutenant-Governor's Gold Medal in History.

Michael J. Ashby, 489 Argyle avenue, BSc (Comm.) will receive the Sir Edward Beatty Memorial Gold Medal in Economics (Commerce) and the Laddie Millen Memorial Scholarship.

Local students graduate tonight at Sir George

By Maurice Mariasine

CAMP REGISTRATION TIME

The Unity Boys' Club, in conjunction with the Montreal Boys' Association, is offering members of the Club an opportunity to spend part of the summer vacation at the M.B.A. sponsored Camp — "Camp Lewis".

Camp Lewis, situated near Adolphe de Howard, covers an area of 1400 acres of Laurentian woodland in the centre of which is Lac Ste. Marie, on a chain of three lakes approximately 8 miles long, affording plenty of open water for boating.

The camp proper is situated on a peninsula separating two lakes, and consists of 29 cabins for campers; a Recreation Hall (with stage); Boat House and Dock, Canoe Dock, Swimming Area (with up-to-date dock.) Hospital, Director's Cab'n, three cabins for families of married staff and the Chateau. The Chateau is the heart of the camp and houses the kitchen, dining halls, main office, and has on the second floor living quarters for the housekeeping staff.

The bathing beach has a sandy bottom which slopes down gradually, thereby affording plenty of water frontage for safe water activities by non-swimmers, during the swim periods.

Boys are assigned to cabins which have the name of an animal, fish or fowl found in Canada. There are eight boys to a cabin and three cabins form a Tribe bearing an Indian name. Tribes are supervised by a Tribe Director who lives in one of the cabins and has two Counsellors — one in each of the other cabins.

CREE CAMP

Cree Camp, located about 6 miles from the main camp, is for those boys who would like to live more adventurously in rougher surroundings than they find in the main camp.

Here, you portage to your self under competent leadership, do your own cooking, and in every way fend for yourself. It is here that you can develop your own thoughts and learn to be independent in the woods. You will be living in tents instead of cabins, and sleeping on beds you make yourself from what is available in the forest rather than cushy mattresses and feather beds.

WHERE TO REGISTER: At the Montreal Boys' Association, Room 202 — 1040 Atwater Ave. or At the Unity Boys' Club — 1090 Greene Ave., Westmount.

Next in line for the Celtics was Doug. Rowland with 14 points and Larry Dallas of the Bisons with 12 points.

Although the Celtics had a decided edge in the first half 27-14; the Bisons displayed a spirited attack in the second half to come within five points of catching the title-bent Celtics.

The teams: Celtics: (Champions) David Thompson (2); Doug. Rowland (14); John McDonough (25); Ray Mader (7); Keith Gavin (2); Ian G'ill; John Westlake (10) and John Devlin.

W. G. Brigham, 29 buried yesterday

Final tribute was paid yesterday to William George Brigham in the Chapel of Hulse and Playfair Ltd., Ottawa. Mr. Brigham, who was 29, was killed in a skiing accident at Mount Washington, Saturday.

A native of Ottawa, he graduated from McGill University in 1953 and at the time of his death was assistant secretary-treasurer of Westmount Realities Company.

He had been a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants since March of this year and was also a member of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association and the Mount Royal Tennis Club. He was a keen squash and tennis player.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leo Brigham of Ottawa.

Una McLeod dies in fall at fire

Una McLeod, a well known organizer in the recent Federal elections, fell to her death this week during a rescue attempt when her third-storey flat on St. James was gutted by fire.

Known for her kindness and generosity to the poor and needy, she was a native of Jamaica. A member of the United Church of Canada, the Beaver Temple Organization, and the Independent Order of Arabs of the World, the 50-year-old woman was well-known in the Negro community.

Disregarding race and creed, she gave money to the needy and visited many hospital patients with presents.

Assistant Fire Director Armand Dorette believes that the fire started in some wooden sheds at the back of the brick building. About 300 people thronged the street, hampering the work of the firemen, and had to be moved to a safe distance by a platoon of police.

Eventually about 75 firemen using 25 pieces of equipment brought the fire under control.

While a fireman was helping her from the window of her flat where she was trapped, to a ladder, she cut herself on a piece of glass and twisted out of the grasp of the fireman, falling to her death.

Two shops on the ground floor, Jules Radio and TV Shop and Handy Store, were destroyed, but three families living above the shops were removed to safety unhurt.

Fred Doody, 90, buried recently

Final tribute was paid Fred Doody at the chapel Jos. C. Wray recently. Mr. Doody died on his 90th birthday, May 12, at his son's residence on Sherbrooke street.

Born in 1868 in Shropshire, England, he was educated at the Newport Grammar School. He was married in Birmingham in 1869 to the former Harriett Overy, who predeceased him.

Mr. Doody was retired from the Henry Morgan Company after over 25 years service and has been living with his daughter, 4886 Sherbrooke since 1950.

He saw service overseas during the First World War with the 148th Canadian Battalion and was a member of the Sons of England.

He is survived by two sons, C. R. Doody, Rawdon, P.Q.; and King Doody, Montreal; three daughters, Mrs. E. J. Delo, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Mrs. Phyllis Anderson, Westmount, and Mrs. D. W. MacCutcheon, Winnipeg; 13 grandchildren; and 11 great grandchildren.

Dominion Bridge engineer lauds work of P. L. Pratley in Jacques Cartier hoist

West End residents who found themselves only slightly inconvenienced in crossing Jacques Cartier Bridge during extensive "jacking" operations can thank a Westmounter — Dr. P. L. Pratley — for the fact, it is evident in an address prepared for delivery before the Engineering Institute annual convention at Quebec City tomorrow. The address will be delivered by Ross E. Chamberlain, Dominion Bridge Company engineer, who lives at 5207 Cavendish boulevard.

Chamberlain pays high tribute to Pratley's engineering genius. Pratley was the original designer of the massive structure that crosses Montreal Harbor, and also designed the methods necessary to raising the bridge to conform with plans for the St. Lawrence Seaway.

It was all done, Chamberlain explains, with as little inconvenience to the public as possible. Here's how Pratley doped it out.

There were four problems: to raise the concrete substructure; provide detours for traffic; jack up the steel spans and, build a new span alongside the old one then slide it over, substituting one for the other.

In detail, the problems were: One: To give the required clearance for shipping of 120 feet the original clearance had to be increased by 83 feet. The roadway was physically jacked up by 50 feet and a new "through-truss" span was used to gain the additional 33 feet.

Two: Due to heavy traffic and severe icing conditions a rise in the roadway of 4 feet in 100 feet was all that was possible. The approach to the south end had to be raised as the original abutment could not support it. Bailey bridges, allowing a flow of two-lane traffic in each direction, were constructed at either end to provide a detour.

Three: The Herculean task of jacking the bridge up.

This was done in four stages. The roadway at the abutment at the south end of the last two spans was raised 27 feet, while traffic used the Bailey bridges. Traffic resumed over the main bridge in August 1957. Next, six piers nearest the channel were raised by 7½ feet to 13 feet. Then, the bridge piers between stages 1 and 2 were raised to their required height. Finally, the supporting piers at the channel crossing were raised to their final elevation and the jacking on the bridge piers was completed.

All was now ready for the 'quick change' act to substitute the new span for the old. And quick it certainly was. Between 1 a.m. and 5 a.m. Tuesdays to Fridays, to avoid inconvenience to the public, preliminary jacking was done with short-height jacks. Latterly, eighteen 500 long ton jacks, twelve 400 long ton jacks, eight 4 cylinder electrically powered pumping units and sixteen hydraulic panels were used.

Again to inflict as little interference as possible to traffic, the new span was erected on timber false work upstream from the bridge. Tied together, the old and new spans were slid laterally, the new span to the bridge centerline, the old onto the timber falsework erected to receive it on the downstream side of the bridge.

FAMILIES living throughout this area appreciate the convenient, central location of our funeral home.

Rotarians see progress of St. Helen's Isle work

At the weekly luncheon of the Westmount Rotary club Wednesday an interesting film on the development of St. Helen's Island as a park and recreation ground was shown. The film was accompanied by a short and interesting talk by Mr. Claude Robillard, Director of Parks and Playgrounds for the City of Montreal.

The film has not been released for general screening as yet, and showed the development of the island from the start of the program till the present time.

Mr. Robillard believes in participation of children in the activities of a playground, and not just passive, but active participation. Therefore a variety of programs and facilities have been introduced and only cooperation from the public and the press has made this program a success.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS

Briefly tracing the history of the island from early times, the film showed the start made with the existing buildings, the old block-house and the stone fort. A master plan was evolved recently which would enable the work to be completed over a number of years. All the sections of work will then be combined to form a unit.

Buildings were started but work was curtailed by the depression of 1932 and later by the outbreak of the second World War.

However, after this slow start, work progressed rapidly, and the 123 acres of the island were increased by 20 when it was extended on the western side. On this additional area, trees and lawns were planted.

With the natural setting ideal the swimming bath was started. This consisted of two large free-swimming baths and a diving bath, the largest single unit in Canada. This was completed in 1953 and can comfortably accommodate 5,000 bathers.

ROADS IMPROVED

The following year the restaurant was completed and work was started on a system of roads and parking lots. The old barracks of the fort were also turned into a museum, and contain all the old documents pertaining to the history of the island which embraces much of the early history of Canada.

Of the 342 parks in the city St. Helen's Island is now one of the most beautiful and one that enables children from many areas where there are no recreation facilities to enjoy many a carefree hour.

The film was of special interest to the Rotarians. Their work within the city is concerned largely with the welfare of the younger generation, and here was a concrete example of further work being done for the children. The film was most enthusiastically accepted.

Israel's chief woman soldier here June 3

Israel's top-ranking woman soldier, Col. Shoshana Gershom, commanding officer of the Women's Army of Israel, will make her first visit to Montreal June 3rd when she will be guest of the women's division of the Montreal Israel Bond Committee.

The reception for Col. Gershom will take the form of a Chen and Sponsor investiture at the Windsor Hotel. Mrs. Harold Fanaberia, of Hudson avenue, Westmount, Montreal Chen Chairman, will preside.

The career of the petite auburn-haired military leader dates back some 30 years when she became a pivotal figure in the Haganah, the defense army of the Jewish community of Palestine in the days of the Mandate. Her early military career included the recruitment and building of a women's contingent and maintaining communication lines. During the period from 1927 to 1942 she was also a research worker in science at the Hebrew University.

With the outbreak of World War II, Col. Gershom became one of the first to enroll in a British Army officer's course for women. She was among the top four graduates and led a unit of women drivers in Egypt until her transfer to Italy as a member of the Jewish Brigade. She was the last of the Palestinian women officers to leave Italy.

In 1946 she returned to the Hebrew University, but as the struggle for national independence was brewing she left university to return to defense work. It was at this time that she was appointed officer of the Women's Army of Israel. For a brief period, following the war of liberation, she relinquished her post in order to establish women's Nahal (army-agricultural) units. Col. Gershom was decorated for outstanding service in the Sinai campaign of 1956.

DR. HANS SELYE, director of Experimental Medicine and Surgery, and Professor of Endocrinology at the University of Montreal, who will be guest speaker at this year's general meeting of the Cancer Research Society on Monday, May 26 at 8 p.m. in the Sheraton-Mount Royal Hotel. The topic of Dr. Selye's address will be "The Function of Basic Research in Our Society."

5 cars damaged in collision

A collision involving five vehicles occurred at the intersection of Western avenue and Wood avenue Tuesday evening. No one was injured and damage to the cars consisted of dents and scratches.

According to the investigator's report, it appears that one car collided with another, causing the driver of the second car to lose control of it and thereby collide with three other stationary cars.

Owners concerned were W. Berman, of 319 Grosvenor avenue; Mrs. Gaston Gauthier of 4817 Colonial avenue; William Latousky, 28, of 5190 Sherbrooke street, Lachine; Stanley F. Alder of 5245 Grand boulevard; and Henry Williamson of 5311 Doherty avenue.

Firemen kept busy in minor blazes

Four calls on Monday, birthday of the Queen, added worry to a busy week for Westmount firemen. Small fires, including a brush fire on a CPR embankment and a blaze in a pile of wood, kept firemen busy. A special fire patrol was on duty throughout the night.

Firefighters were also called upon to: release a child who locked himself in the bathroom; attend a false alarm at Selby and Greene avenues; investigate two smoke scares; and put out a small fire in a bus.

What could have been a tragedy was averted by quick work Tuesday when firefighters quickly extinguished a fire in some brush between Sunnyside and Edgemoor road.

From Dec. 1, 1956, to Dec. 1, 1957, Canada's population increased by 552,000 to a total of 16,860,000; growth in the period was at the record high rate of 3.4 per cent.

Extensive paving repairs will begin here shortly

Tenders for the repairing and resurfacing of certain streets in Westmount closed Friday at the City Council. Six different firms called for the specifications but only four returned bids.

There were three forms of tender: in the first place tenders were called for supplying and placing a sheet of asphalt surface three inches deep, secondly, the same over a concrete base, and lastly just resurfacing with asphalt to a depth of one and a half inches.

Tenders received for the laying of asphalt to a depth of one and one half inches ranged from 65¢ to 90¢ per square yard, and that for a three inch layer of asphalt ranged from $1.20 to $1.40 per square yard. In each case the lowest tender was accepted and the complete contract went to the firm of Charles Duranceau Limited.

The following areas will have a base put down with a three inch asphalt surface (the approximate cost is given in brackets): Claremont avenue from Western avenue to Sherbrooke street ($1,100); Clarke avenue from Sherbrooke street to The Boulevard ($8,525); Sunnyside avenue from Victoria avenue to Bellevue avenue ($16,335).

The following streets will have an asphalt surface laid: Belmont crescent throughout ($1,155); the street intersection at Belvedere road and Sunnyside avenue ($660); Cedar avenue throughout ($1,620); and Lansdowne avenue from Sherbrooke street to approximately 400 feet northward ($1,320).

The Legend shudders and speaks

By TOM STACEY

The incredible happened in France last week. The legend shuddered, breathed and spoke. General de Gaulle's statement was: "I hold myself ready to assume the powers of the Republic." This strange, isolated man of 67, whom his enemies call Fascist and his friends the great potential leader, whom his enemies call paranoid and his friends mystic, has in fact been holding himself ready for this for 12 years.

It was 12 years ago that he cast himself off from the bickering, the cowardice, and pusillanimity of French politicians, and the inadequacies of the constitution. For a few years more he played along with the Rally of the French People party which he had created: then abandoned it in disgust when 26 members deserted him for the lust of office.

Since, he has pursued a studied seclusion in his country home on the banks of the Aube, driving unobtrusively to Paris once a fortnight or so to his office to talk there with the remnant of his followers. Aloof, deadpan, silent.

And yet—all this time a remarkable force has been at work: the growing of a legend around de Gaulle.

It has grown alongside the of the Municipal Association recently, Mayor Brunneau made mention of the fact that some of the books borrowed from the library had been defaced, and others obviously had been dropped into water — probably while the reader was reading in the bathtub.

It was gratifying to note that His Worship didn't appear to be speaking of the books from the children's section of the library — but rather about the grownups.

We like to feel that a true love of literature is being instilled in the children who are borrowing books from the library here, and that care of books is one facet of it.

Perhaps the oldsters learned their bad habits before they came here.

despair throughout the nation at France ever escaping from her political confusion and descent into ignominy.

This week this question faces France: If de Gaulle should be given power, what kind of rule shall we get?

Haughty

THE character of this man, as he showed it to the British during the war when he led the Free French, may give us some clue. He was the man of whom Churchill has written: "He felt it essential to his position before the French people that he should maintain a proud and haughty demeanor towards 'perfidious Albion.'"

"He had to be rude to the British to prove to the French eyes that he was not a British puppet. He certainly carried out this policy with perseverance."

"A great intellect," Leon Blum said of him. "Whatever he undertakes you cannot but be impressed. If he exclaims 'I am at a loss to understand,' don't be mistaken. It means he is not interested."

The only occasion in which he has been publicly recorded to laugh was once during the war at Marrakesh when Lord Beaverbrook and the (then) Duff Cooper were present and Churchill decided to put him at his ease by speaking French to him—Churchill French.

Nevertheless, no one who knew this proud, inscrutable hermit of a man, son of a philosopher, ever doubted his courage, integrity, and his intellect.

When de Gaulle returned in triumph to Paris on August 26, 1944, and the crowds surged around him in unforgettable demonstrations of adoration as he marched to Notre Dame, he knew that a unanimous nation stood behind him.

He has never since believed in any government other than by popular consent; and in such a style, essentially, is he now prepared to return to power.

In his public statements since then, he has repudiated the present constitution set up in 1946, which diminished the legislative power of the Government almost to nothing and allowed French politics to go on being bedevilled by a multiplicity of parties.

He would increase the power

Reader commends Examiner editorial

Sir: May I commend you for your editorial suggesting that the Westmount City Council should shed the light of day on their plans before they are put into effect so that the citizens may plead for modification of them if they think that such is necessary.

It is true that democracies depute power to the representatives they elect, but it is the path of wisdom for those representatives not to act behind any kind of closed curtain nor to use their powers to excess but rather to follow the parliamentary procedure of open debate.

In this spirit the members of the City Council of Westmount should publicly announce their plans and the reasons for them on all important matters and give full opportunity to the citizens to express their approval or rejection if they so desire. The means of doing so are many and obvious. And, of course, they form the core of the democratic way.

Francis Hankin

Methods autocratic resident declares

Sir: I would like to congratulate you on your numerous fine editorials, especially the one of May 16th.

Too few people of Westmount realize the autocratic methods by which they are governed. Your editorials are doing a fine job of awakening them.

It seems amazing that $700,000 could be planned to be spent on a rink and so few people be aware of its appearance or location. Anyone who has seen this architectural monstrosity is more than grateful to you and the conscientious citizens who worked so hard to prevent the ruining of Westmount Park.

Why will the City Hall tell us nothing about the proposed plan for the High School on the Westmount Athletic Grounds? Let us hope that we don't have to have a petition signed about this too.

Clergy see trade in its environment

RECENT Business-Clergy Day, sponsored by the Board of Trade, was an excellent development of a thought that is a further extension of the Business-Education Day.

The day gave an opportunity to members of the local clergy to see business in action and to learn at first hand some of the problems confronting industry in its operations.

In the past, there has been a feeling that members of the cloth were too far removed from the hurly-burly of business life, and as a result were unable to appraise the position of the businessman in relationship to his employees.

The situation resulted, it was felt, in a tendency on the part of the clergy to feel that businessmen generally had little of the milk of human kindness in their veins, and little of the Golden Rule in their methods.

Now, it is believed, with these Business-Clergy days being held every year, members of the clergy will be afforded recurring opportunities to visit plants, talk with the workers, see the methods and surroundings, and make up their own minds, to some extent, about the attitude of labor to capital, and vice-versa.

Certainly we see no harm that can come to the clergy from being exposed to modern business methods.

City is planning library extension

RESIDENTS of Westmount are great readers.

Seldom does one pass the beautiful library building in Westmount Park, without having an opportunity to observe residents going in and out of the broad doorway — books in their arms.

Under the guidance of Miss Kathleen Jenkins, daughter of a former mayor, the library is one of the finest in the country, and is operated entirely with the reader in mind.

Newest plans are for an extension to the building, which will make room for twice the number of children's books as are now available here.

Provision of more books for children is an excellent way to help in fighting juvenile delinquency. Especially if the books for children are wisely selected — and the children's books available at the Westmount Library maintain an exceedingly high standard.

YMCA to help break shut-ins' monotony

The Westmount YMCA is planning a new service to sometimes "forgotten" segment of society—the "shut-ins". G. L. Welton, executive secretary, announced that the Westmount "Y" is attempting to organize a telephone club for shut-ins.

Mr. Welton stated that the club will attempt to relieve some of the boredom of long visitor-less hours in the home. Plans are to have persons register their name, address, phone number and especially their hobbies and interests. Each member who registers will be given a list of other club and the YMCA will endeavor to form a telephone club for those interested.

Club members will be able to do service in assisting one another as well as special projects planned with YMCA personnel from time to time. Anyone interested is asked to write to G. L. Welton, executive secretary, c/o the Westmount YMCA, 4585 Sherbrooke street or telephone WE. 7-3916 for an application form or from its charter member, Reg. Harris at EL. 0643.

Tax totals are revealed for April

In his monthly report for April to the City Council of Westmount, City Manager Tom Hughes gave a comparative statement of tax collections for the month of April, and also the tax arrears as at April 30.

Tax collections totalled $209,551.44 for April as compared to $157,733.53 for the same period last year. The collections were made up of $91,115.87 in the current year's taxes, $11,179.96 in arrears and interest, and $107,255.81 in special taxes due May 1, 1958.

The total levy on property taxes for 1958 was $2,676,368 which is the second highest since 1955. The highest was last year with a value of $2,751,749.

The percentage of levy collected at April 30 was 89.26, whereas it was 92.34 at the same time last year. Arrears in taxes have been collected fully back to 1955, while the amounts collected by April 30, 1958 for 1956 were 99.99%, and for 1957 97.78%.

This means that the arrears as at April 30 are $287,533.00 for 1958. The arrears for the current year last year were less at $210,920.00. Arrears for 1956 total $178.79 and for 1957 $51,159.06.

The total outstanding arrears due to the City Council are thus $348,870.85 while they were only $260,726.75 at the same date last year.

Cancer campaign is short of goal

Officials of the Canadian Cancer Society today tabulated final returns from the 1958 Cancer Crusade and estimated they would fall nearly $70,000 short of the $300,000 objective.

"Actual cash in hand amounts to $208,736 and pledges will than $226,000," Andrew Armstrong, president of the Montreal District Council of the Canadian Cancer Society said. "Unless we can find an additional $70,000 we will have no alternative but to make drastic cuts in our research programs and services."

Mr. Armstrong said that with the exception of Montreal the national fund raising campaign for $2,484,000 had gone exceedingly well and added "that when one considers that Montreal is the leading cancer research and training centre in all Canada, the real tragedy of our failure to meet our objective becomes apparent."

"We have already made pledges amounting to $222,670 to the teaching hospitals and universities in Montreal to carry on cancer research work and to train doctors and scientists in the various fields of cancer diagnosis and treatment."

ever before. Entertaining at home is getting to be much more common; servants like her mother used to have are no longer available; baby sitters are a problem to get and to keep; cleaning house, children, telephone to answer, washing, etc., makes it a very great problem to be a successful housekeeper today, even when all the mechanical aids are used. Even to dress herself and to shop for entertainment present many problems, which her mother did not have to put up with," Mrs. Jehane Benoit, told the Examiner recently.

"Most of all the young woman of today needs imagination. Take soup for instance. If you take a tin of tomato soup, and add some grated cucumber, lemon juice, chives and cream — it will taste delicious and will be different, and most of all, it takes only a few minutes to prepare," she continued. "Then there is the question of interest in the way the food is presented. Take for instance the prepared cake mix. This is a great time saver. But if you use this mix with 1/4 cup of brandy added, and serve with frozen berries and whipped cream, topped with powdered sugar, you have an interesting dessert which should please anyone, and be only a few moments in the preparation. There is also the question of flavor. Flavor is just as important as the way the food is served. If you take mushroom soup — add some mushrooms, sherry, and pour over fish or chicken, you have a dish that combines imagination, interest and flavor, and you have a wonderful meal."

PERSONALITY

"The personality of the woman is expressed in the food she serves. And very often the elegantly turned out woman does not serve food which credits her appearance, and her home. Too often she just follows the easiest way out, and does not make anything different than what the instructions on the prepared package of food suggest. She can find many delightful dishes if she experiments, while still remaining within her budget. For instance, cheese served with pear is delicious. And many other simple things like that can be tried," continued Mme. Benoit.

Mme. Jehane Benoit, well known Canadian culinary specialist, Television personality, teacher, writer, grandmother, wife, hostess, public speaker, is a resident of Westmount, living at 1 Churchill avenue. Her parents came from St. Remi and from St. Isidore, Que. Montreal born, French Canadian of Norman descent, she took courses in cooking at the Sorbonne in Paris; and received her Degree in Food Chemistry; then continued to Lyons, France where she took a course in dietetics. She is still studying today, because there is still so much to learn.

Mme. Benoit says: her interest in the culinary arts began at home, while she was growing up, because her father was a gourmet, and caused her mother and herself to cook special dishes to please him. She also described a visit to her grandfather's home in the country at Christmas. At that time a specially raised lamb was slaughtered, and roasted whole, and home made maple syrup and delicious foods were eaten, by all after an early 5:30 Mass. After this tremendous meal, a beautiful home grown red apple was given to each of the children by the grandfather.

BY ACCIDENT

The cooking lessons for wives came about as an accident. Three friends were visiting Mme. Benoit, and each in turn told her of her particular difficulty in the kitchen. As they came from three different income brackets, and their needs were different, they organized three groups of 6, 10, and 12 pupils each. These groups received the first basic lessons in cooking which Mme. Benoit has preserved in her courses to this day. The three groups included lessons in cooking for entertainment, cooking on a budget, and elementary cooking for the young woman. Since that time there have been 8,000 pupils in her classes. These in turn were interrupted by World War II, when Mme. Benoit turned to work for the Red Cross, writing for different accounts, preparing booklets on cooking, etc. In 1945 she married Bernard Benoit in Europe, while on a trip. "Chocolate Around the Clock" was the first booklet she prepared for Fry Cadbury, and has written four books on the culinary arts since then.

At the present time Mme. Benoit is preparing a series of articles for Canadian Homes and Gardens, on traditional Canadian foods, which will be published this summer. Dark eyed, dark haired, and pleasant, she has a vivid imagination and a keen mind. Her warm personality put one at ease at once, and her eyes sparkle when she speaks of her absorbing interest — cooking specialties, and the promotion of Canadian traditional foods.

"Many of the recipes that our grandmothers used are not successfully carried out today because the texture of our food is different. Our flour, butter, cream, meat, fish, whipping cream, "creme double" or smetana, or acidulated cream, goes through a series of food processing, is not so naturally used as in our grandmother's time, and the weight and fat content of the ingredients is no longer the same.

"What is the traditional Canadian food? and what can we do to make our young women aware of it? National foods in Europe, and in America are well known. In Chicago it is Steak, (even if it sometimes comes from Western Canada); Boston it is Fish; Pennsylvania it is Dutch Food; New York it is White Turkey; and everywhere the food is advertised and prepared in a special way to entice the visitor or the native, and familiarize him with it. The Chinese used the process of Bar-B-Cue long before it was known in America; and Beer was served in Egypt in 5000 B.C. Mme. Benoit went on.

Webster shares an office with his neighboring MP

By POWELL SMILY

Ottawa — During his first fortnight as a Member of Parliament, Ross Webster has learned that life on Parliament Hill is full of variety.

"I've been visited by businessmen from Westmount, students, and friends," he said. "In between times, I've been working on a speech which I may or may not give from the floor of the House during the Throne Speech debate."

The debate on the Speech from the Throne, which stretches out over a period of ten days at the beginning of each new Parliament, gives private members a chance to talk about anything they choose.

Most backbenchers take the opportunity, (if the Prime Minister accords it,) of getting on the record with a good, strong pitch for their individual constituencies, and the problems peculiar thereto.

"My trouble is," said Mr. Webster, "St. Antoine-Westmount really hasn't any major problems. True, there will be some hardship felt by workers in the Dominion Textiles plant on St. Ambroise, when the announced three-week shut-down starts. But in comparison with other areas and districts, my riding has no unemployment to speak of."

Mr. Webster shares an office — and a secretary — with Egan Chambers, MP for St. Lawrence-St. George.

"It's an ideal arrangement," they agree. "Our constituencies adjoin one another, so we have a great many interests in common."

Ross Webster returned home this week to attend the funeral of Una McLeod, who died when she slipped from the grasp of a fireman trying to rescue her from her blazing tenement home.

Una McLeod was my chief organizer among the colored voters," Mr. Webster said. "Her death was a great shock to me."

Police, firemen get more money

Westmount Council has approved a new salary scale applicable in the Fire and Police Departments, retroactive to January 1.

Fire Department increases are as follows: Fireman 1st year — $377; fireman 2nd year — $427; fireman 3rd year — $477; fireman 4th year — $527; fireman 5th year — $527; assistant mechanics — $527; lieutenant — $527; captain — $727; fire prevention inspector — $527; and lieutenant fire inspector — $527.

The salary scale is now on a par with those of Montreal, except that in Montreal there are two classes of lieutenants, the second class receiving $200 per annum more than the first class when that lieutenant takes charge of a shift or station.

In the Westmount scale of salaries for personnel of the Police Department, the increases are constant 1st year — $377; constant 2 year — $427; constables 3rd year — $477; constables 4th and 5th year — $527; sergeants and lieutenants — $627; detectives 1st and 2nd years — $677; detectives 3rd year and up — $725; and detective sergeants — $875.

The difference between the recommended scale and the Montreal scale is that Montreal constables receive maximum salaries in the Westmount scale at the 4th year, and in Westmount they receive it in the 5th year. The steps between 1st and 5th years have been equalized in the Westmount scale at the rate of $250 per year. All other ranks are similar to Montreal though here the rank of captain does not exist.

molasses from Barbados, brought with them to Canada, Rum, and Raw Sugar. The French in Canada used sugar in blocks from France, maple sugar, brandy for drinks and not for pies. Exchanges of food and recipes began through the girls fraternizing with the soldiers, and soon English flour, molasses and arrowroot became commonly used by the French also. The shape of the pie was also influenced by the area and the inhabitantness. Such as the New England shape of pie, and the Quaker type of pie. The majority of the pies were made with two crusts; some with an open top with grated nuts or cream on top, some with a basket weave finish on top.

MANY NAMES

These pies were called by different names which are still used today. Along the Gaspe Coast, they are called "Pistoune" which means cheap pulp wood. The wood workers were fed daily on these pies because they were cheap. The French called them "Pichonettes" or "Tartes Pichounes". The Jesuits called them "Farouches" because they were economical, for daily use, and not for special occasions.

Oatmeal is a daily meal in the morning in many French Canadian homes. But it was introduced to our country by the Scotch. And so we find that traditional foods are found in certain areas because of geographical location, force of circumstances, animals grown in a particular district, food grown in a particular way, and all these things combined forced the pioneer Canadian woman to deal with food in a specific way. Although there are pigs and wheat and fruit grown all over the world, many countries use these basic foods in different ways.

In Russia wheat is used as a cereal or "Kasha"; and our Devonshire cream or Smetana is used as an addition to a dessert, or with the main course. The types of foods that are available on the grocery shelves today are varied and mostly prepared. This forces the Canadian woman to use the most economical prepared food, which is the easiest to serve. And that is one of the main reasons why the woman of today needs help more than ever before to become acquainted with the traditional foods of Canada, to appreciate the specialities which can only be made here.

Baptists extending their facilities

By VALENTINE RAHR

"We practice Baptism by complete immersion," Rev. Edgar J. Bailey of the Westmount Baptist Church told The Examiner, and showed the baptistry, which is especially equipped for that purpose. "At all times we present Christ through the open word, through the Table of Ordinance of Believers' Baptism."

The Westmount Baptist Church was constituted in 1902 by merging of groups from the First Baptist Church — situated at that time at the corner of Sherbrooke street and Union avenue, and Olivet Baptist Church — then at Dorchester street at the corner of Guy street, with the congregation of Grace Baptist Church worshipping in the church building still standing at the south west corner of Western avenue, and Olivier avenue, in Westmount; all these interests emanating from Baptist Ministry began in a private home in Montreal in 1820. The new group continued to worship in the Western avenue building.

Plans for the erection of more commodious premises were instituted in 1913, when the property located at Sherbrooke street and Roslyn avenue, was purchased. But building operations were interrupted by the First World War, 1914-18.

In October 1923, however, the first sod was turned by the Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, Prime Minister of Great Britain, in the presence of a gathering estimated at ten thousand people. Mr. Bailey showed me a glass case containing the original spade used by David Lloyd George, who was in Canada for a visit. Actual building was delayed by re-drawing of plans to conform to drastic civic regulations calling for complete fireproof construction.

Early in 1924, the cornerstone was "well and truly" laid by the late Albert Matthews, of Toronto, formerly a member of the Westmount Baptist Church, while residing there temporarily, and later Lieutenant Governor of Ontario. The trowel he used is preserved in the church, alongside the spade. The new edifice was dedicated in April 1925. Many distinguished ministers filled the church's pastorate from that time.

OUTSTANDING SPEAKER

Rev. Edgar Bailey assumed the pastorate in September 1956, coming from the First Baptist Church in Edmonton, where he was instrumental in carrying through a new church-building project. Mr. Bailey has been "polled" as being Canada's outstanding preacher. A native of Pontypool, Wales, Mr. Bailey came to Canada in 1928. He received his B.A. degrees at Brandon College, in 1933, and B.Th. from McMaster University in 1936. His M.A. was completed at Yale in 1948.

He has had experience as pastorate at Tabernacle Baptist Church, in Winnipeg; First Baptist Church, Edmonton; before coming to the Mr. Bailey served overseas as Canadian chaplain for five years. He has been and is Chaplain to the Canadian Legion, the Masonic Order and St. David's Society. He was Chairman of Chaplaincy Committee of the Baptist Federation of Canada, and on the National Executive from 1953 to 1956. Some of the honors that have been conferred upon him are: selected by Saturday Night as one of Canada's outstanding preachers, 1951; Lenten Speaker for a week of services at Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, 1957; a frequent broadcaster on CBC on both religious and secular programs.

The atmosphere of the church, community hall, and study, is friendly and restful. The color schemes are designed to create a feeling of relaxation. In the visitors' room, is a Guest Book, which has been signed by people from various churches and countries. The choir is led by Mr. Galt MacDermot. The members wear black mortar and gowns, with a maroon-colored cowl during services.

ENGLISH CLASSES

In the basement, classes are held where English is taught, to people of other nationalities. The teachers are members of the congregation, and part of the instruction is devotional. The Church school for children meets in groups according to their ages, and once a month they join the main service in the church.

Organizationally, the church is strong. Among the different church groups, which are all active, there is also a Missionary Committee working to the same ends, among the membership of the church at large. Seven of the Church members are now serving on Mission Fields in India, Ethiopia, Bolivia and Hawaii.

Through the years this church has shared and enjoyed the ministry of distinguished visiting ministers. Among the names may be found those of: F. B. Meyer; J. Campbell Morgan; F. W. Boreham of Australia; Mrs. Booth-Demarest of the Salvation Army; Dr. H. H. Savage; Dr. Harry Ironside; Dr. Mar Reigh (Hebrew Christian Alliance);

Dr. Charles Inglis (Bible Teacher of England), etc. After visiting the church and community hall, Mr. Bailey showed me the latest addition — a newly equipped and modern kitchen installed to handle large groups.

Dr. Alan S. Ross Stanley church speaker Sunday

Dr. Alan S. Ross, physician-in-chief of the Montreal Children's Hospital, will give the address at the morning service of the Stanley Presbyterian Church on Sunday, May 25.

The special service is being held to mark "Hospital Sunday" in connection with the current Joint Hospital Fund 1958 appeal. Last month, Montreal religious leaders issued a joint statement calling on "all men and women of the city to unite in generous, enthusiastic support" of the $12,000,000 appeal.

Dr. Ross will speak on the theme "The Ministry of Healing," while the service will be conducted by the Rev. J. D. Wilkie, minister of the church.

"Hospital Sunday" services are being held in a number of other churches throughout the city, in connection with the $12,000,000 Joint Hospital Fund appeal.

Monies raised in the campaign — now under way — will go toward the capital and current financial needs of five Montreal hospitals. The participants, all affiliated with the Faculty of Medicine of McGill University as teaching hospitals, are: The Royal Victoria, the Royal Edward Laurentian, the Alexandra, the Montreal Children's and the Montreal General.

WASTE

For decades in the 19th century, gasoline, or "stove naphtha," was a waste product in the refining of kerosene, and was simply poured into creeks, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Pentecost
By
The Venerable R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

When Our Lord departed from His disciples on Ascension Day He gave them an order which is not easy to carry out. It was simply to wait for the fulfilment of a promise to which He did not attach any date: do not depart from the city but wait for the promise which ye have heard of me. They were in a state of joy to share their joy and experience with others; but for once they carried out orders, returned to the city, brought their excitement under control; made one change in the Twelve by choosing Matthias to fill the place of Judas, and then gave themselves to prayer.

Their waiting was not a long one. When the Day of Pentecost arrived, they were gathered together in the morning in prayer and something tremendous happened to them. It was nothing less than a showing forth in the visible form of fire of the Holy Spirit. That Power divided to rest on the head of each one of them. The Power might have come quietly, but God would leave nothing to be questioned and doubted. He sent His Holy Spirit in a way in which they were aware of Him.

The result was equally strange and unexpected. They were changed by the experience. From being cowardly, and afraid of their enemies, they suddenly became courageous and faced their enemies and changed them to friends; from being obtuse and lacking in understanding they suddenly became aware that this Jesus, whom the authorities had crucified, had been made by His Father both Lord and Christ; and in the third place, from being ineffective they were suddenly filled with power and eloquence and brought into the Church 3,000 souls.

It all happened to them because it was God Almighty who shed forth His Spirit, and because they were obedient and waiting quietly and prayerfully for the gift.

Westmount Baptist will preach in the morning on "Together" on Thursday nights throughout and at night, under the title the summer commencing Thursday, June 5th.

Christian Science

The healing power of the Christ, Truth will be stressed at Christian Science services at Christian Science Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body".

Christ Jesus' healing of Simon's wife's mother who "was taken with a great fever" (Luke 4) will be among the selections read from the King James Version of the Bible.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (210: 11-16): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

Usefulness is doing rightly by yourself and others. — Mary Baker Eddy.

I cannot always write, and speak
Of beauty, which I feel, and see,
But I can plant, in simple faith

No words are needed; for the flower
Expresses all I need to say.

CANON ALAN GREENE (left) and REV. JOE TITUS of the Columbia Coast Mission in British Columbia are shown conducting an outdoor service beside a beautiful lake. Canon Greene recently gave an outline of the history of the CCM from its foundation more than fifty years ago to the present day, to an audience in St. Matthias Church, Westmount.

Canon Alan Greene talks on Columbia Coast Mission and asks 'Who is Jedidiah?'

By LESLIE BELL RN

Westmounters recently had the opportunity, at St. Matthias' Church, of enjoying some fine pictures of British Columbia. Places off the tourist routes, with Spanish-Indian names like Quagulth, Kincolith, Lasquete Island and Cortez Inlet came to life as Rev. Canon Alan Greene in charge of the Columbia Coast Mission described his work as priest, skipper and administrator combined.

Speaking to a group in the parish hall Canon Greene sketched, briefly, the history of the CCM from its foundation more than fifty years ago, to the present day.

In 1905 a young Anglican priest from Newfoundland, the late John Antle horrified at the plight of injured loggers lying for hours (after a gruelling trip out of the woods on a stretcher) in agony on some beach waiting for any water-borne transportation that might or might not come along, determined to do something about it. By hard work and perseverance he finally roused sufficient enthusiasm to secure money and materials for a loggers hospital. In time two more hospitals went up: one at Alert Bay and one at Pender Harbor with provision for 36 patients, 50 miles from Vancouver.

This writer recalls a morning at Rock Bay when a broad-shouldered logger came very slowly and painfully up the steps of St. Michael's Hospital. One shoulder was sagging and the hand was in a make-shift sling. His left ear was torn and bleeding. Our doctor and nurse went into action at once, helped by the orderly — a teenager working his way through College. Later, X-rayed, padded, bandaged and sutured—Carl a Finnlay drowsing off as he murmured:

"Dat sure feel good now! Tanks a lot!"

COASTAL HOSPITALS

Canon Greene described the operating of these three coastal hospitals and their final transfer to the local community when the CCM could no longer meet the heavy financial drain which Government regulations made necessary. Today helicopter or plane is used to transport critically injured men to Vancouver, but the three mission ships still operate along 300 miles of coast.

The "Columbia" with a doctor and provision for emergency operations has a chapel where the Sacraments of Holy Baptism, Holy Communion and, occasionally, Confirmation is administered.

The new John Antle (the third!) and the little "Rendez-Vous" minister to 75 little settlements, one of them at Whaletown on Cortez Island, where the Rev. Rollo Boas, rector of St. John the Baptist's Church decided that a bedroom in the rectory was entirely inadequate as a clinic to meet the medical needs of his flock. In 1951 the John Antle Memorial Clinic was built. In addition to the monthly clinic, served by 4 doctors who take their turn coming from Campbell River the building is used by Girl Guides and by the local woman's auxiliaries. The little Rendez-Vous acts as a sort of marine bus which calls for patients on clinic day and takes them home afterwards.

Flexibility characterizes the CCM. When the third of the three mission hospitals St. Mary's, Pender, Harbor, became a community responsibility Canon Green felt it should be used as an operating center of small cottages for the aged, where husband and wife could spend their later years near a hospital and other medical care should it be needed. Several of these cottages have already grown up St. Mary's and more could be built if funds were available. Those who are admitted must come from the coastal territory served by the Mission. The monthly rental of a cottage is $5.00. Most of the cottagers are old age pensioners who pay for their own food and fuel.

Concluding, Canon Greene asked if anyone in the audience could identify a Biblical character called Jedidiah. He said: "If you can tell me Jedidiah's other name I will give you five dollars. If you cannot tell me, you'll give me one dollar!" As the audience dispersed, Canon Greene was trying to shake hands and simultaneously to accept the flow of one dollar bills.

New creamy pomade renews hair lustre

A new development in modern cosmetic science is Scott's Anti-Gray Hair Tonic. A white, creamy pomade, pure in every respect, it conditions and works on all types of hair. It will not wash off, stain or spoil. Nor is it a tint or a dye. For women who have streaked and faded hair it is reputed to impart natural color and lustre.

The makers advise that Scott's Anti-Gray Hair Tone can be used before and after a permanent; but they do advise a little longer heat with the permanent and a fairly tight curl, as the oils contained in the pomade are very refined and penetrating.

Scott's Anti-Gray Hair Tone is obtainable at Macy's Drug Stores.

A number of firms have announced they are abandoning fair trade. Translated, that means they are going out for trade for fair.

Thank You...

R. E. C. Werry, QC, re-elected Orange Children's Home head

At the annual meeting of The Orange and Protestant Children's Home for Quebec, Inc., held in the Orange Hall, 1079 Greene avenue, Westmount, reports showed a most successful year, both in health among the children at the Rosemere home, and financially. The "pound day" held annually in October contributed substantially towards the food requirements for the average of 22 child residents. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Durning are most happy as "Pop" and "Mom" of this large family, and are looking forward to seeing many of the contributors at the annual picnic which will take place June 14th.

Thanks was extended to the St. Georges and St. Eustache Kiwanis. The Masonic Club, The Shriners, numerous church groups, Girl Guide and Brownie troops, Boy Scout and Wolf Cub Packs, who either visited the children or furnished treats for them during the year. The Ladies Auxiliary of the home also attend to clothing and linen requirements of the home.

R. E. C. Werry, QC was re-elected president, as were vice-presidents Mrs. E. Erskine and A. Stanley Holt. Others re-elected were treasurer R. H. Butler; secretary Miss E. Helms; executive secretary W. H. Brady, BA; and publicity Mrs. E. Royston. Three new directors were also added bringing the total to 24 and representing most districts of the Province who support the Home.

"In the spring," runs the poem, "a young man's fancy." So, often, is his driving, cautions the Canadian Highway Safety Conference, and fancy driving by any man, young or old, is something to flee from. Get out of the way of the "fancy" driver; he's a death-dealing menace.

JOHN H. SULLIVAN, 3216 the Boulevard, has been elected chairman of the newly inaugurated Montreal chapter of The American Society of Appraisers. The Montreal chapter embraces territory east of Kingston. Mr. Sullivan is president of Sullivan Realties.

The Cincinnati Redlegs are the first major league baseball team to have air-conditioned dugouts.

Jewell W. Brisick named president of drug 'ad' club

Jewell W. Brisick, advertising manager, Schering Corporation, and White Laboratories of Canada, has been named president of the Pharmaceutical Advertising Club of Montreal.

Holder of a B.Sc. degree from Rutgers, he is a member of the Direct Mail Advertising Association, and also a member of the marketing section's executive committee of C.Ph.M.A.

Other officers include: Douglas Mahoney, of Horner's, vice-president; Marius Boivin, Squibbs, secretary; John Muldrew, Pfizer, treasurer; and Ray Messier, Abbott Laboratories; Peter Howsam, SKF, and Bill Telfer of Mowatt and Moore as directors. The Association, which now includes some 70 members, has three types of membership, those on the council who are directly connected with pharmaceutical firm advertising; an associate membership category for those who work in the pharmaceutical industry, but outside of the advertising field; and affiliate memberships, for those interested who are connected with supplier and service organizations in the pharmaceutical field.

Help the hands that heal

IN these skilled and dedicated hands lies the fate of loved ones . . . in hands that work at all hours . . . in hands that selflessly answer the needs of others . . . in hands that help — and heal.

Behind these healing hands is a complex multitude of medical skills and services, combining together in the five great hospitals of the Joint Hospital Fund to give Montrealers a vast community service dedicated to safeguarding human lives regardless of religion, language, colour or racial origin.

To maintain this efficiency and to keep personnel, equipment and services in the vanguard of medical research and progress, these five hospitals — Royal Victoria Hospital, the Montreal Children's Hospital, The Montreal General Hospital, Royal Edward Laurentian Hospital, Alexandra Hospital — need $12,000,000 to build essential new facilities and to help pay for services given to the sick poor.

It is now that the hands that heal need help themselves.

Your help now will aid the entire community. Give generously. Remember — you help yourself when you help the hands that heal.

Cricketers hold matches Saturday

The Westmount City Council has granted permission to the Westmount Cricket Club to hold matches each Saturday of the season as well as practice on one evening of the week in the Westmount Park.

The cricket club has two teams this year as opposed to one last year, and on these grounds had applied for more time in the Park to be allocated to them.

However, the City Council has not deemed it possible to give the club extended facilities and the present grant, on a yearly basis, is the same as in previous years.

The Legend . . .

of the President of the Republic — though whether this is the title of office he might wish to assume now is not clear.

But he has never given any hint of hankering for dictatorship. In fact, he has stood out on various occasions as an upholder of the individual's rights.

As to North Africa, Bourguiba of Tunisia himself commented last year that de Gaulle was the only statesman with the vision to create a Federation with France.

France, by accepting de Gaulle, runs all the risks of authoritarian rule. Yet without some such drastic move it would be impossible to reform the insidious constitution.

Questions

THREE questions hang over an assumption of power by de Gaulle:

1. Must Communism follow?
2. Would the U.S. recoil in horror from a maimed democracy?
3. Could ageing de Gaulle control the violent Rightwingers, who at the moment most vociferously chant for him?

Anybody, it seems, can become wealthy in America by inventing something that can be used once and then has to be thrown away.

Annual awards Day held by St. Leo's Academy

Awards Day was held at St. Leo's Academy Hall in honor of the school's outstanding athletes of the past year.

The hockey season just concluded was considered a record one for Academy teams, with no less than nine participating in active competition.

St. Leo's Bantams coasted through the schedule to win the Westmount crown, while the pee wee crew also had things all their own way and after winning the district crown went on to win the City title.

Youngsters entered in the termite and mosquito sections of the Westmount Parks and Recreation department also enjoyed a most successful season and several promising future snipers were unveiled among the small fry.

Mike Carrier, rugged winger on the Senior B squad was voted the school's best senior athlete, while Dave Keith who displayed plenty of spirit and hustle all season received well deserved recognition when he won the John Rogers Memorial Trophy emblematic of good sportsmanship.

Paul Froid won the George Marier Trophy donated each year to the school's most valuable player, with Allan Keith who played fine two-way hockey all season winning the Catholic Mothers' Club Trophy presented to the school's top junior athlete.

Dave White, another star on the bantam squad and high scorer for his team, was voted the player who showed the most improvement over the season.

Westmount loses rugger contest

Town of Mount Royal rugger team showing great fighting qualities turned aside a late rally by the visiting Toronto Nomads to edge the Ontario team 13-12 in a game played on Saturday at the Town.

In the other game, Montreal Irish pulled the upset of the season beating Westmount 6-0. Although never headed the Townies had a tough fight holding their slim margins throughout the game and the Nomads came within one point with only ten minutes left in the game.

The home side set up a stiff defence to hold out the swarming Toronto team.

Taking on a Westmount team strengthened by the return of five players from duty with the Quebec provincial team the Montreal Irish put on their finest display to beat their powerful opponents 6-0 at the east-end high school field.

The Westies looked as if they might take an early lead but once the Greenshirts settled down they held control of the game in the first half.

Gerry Brennan opened the scoring with a 30 yard run following an interception.

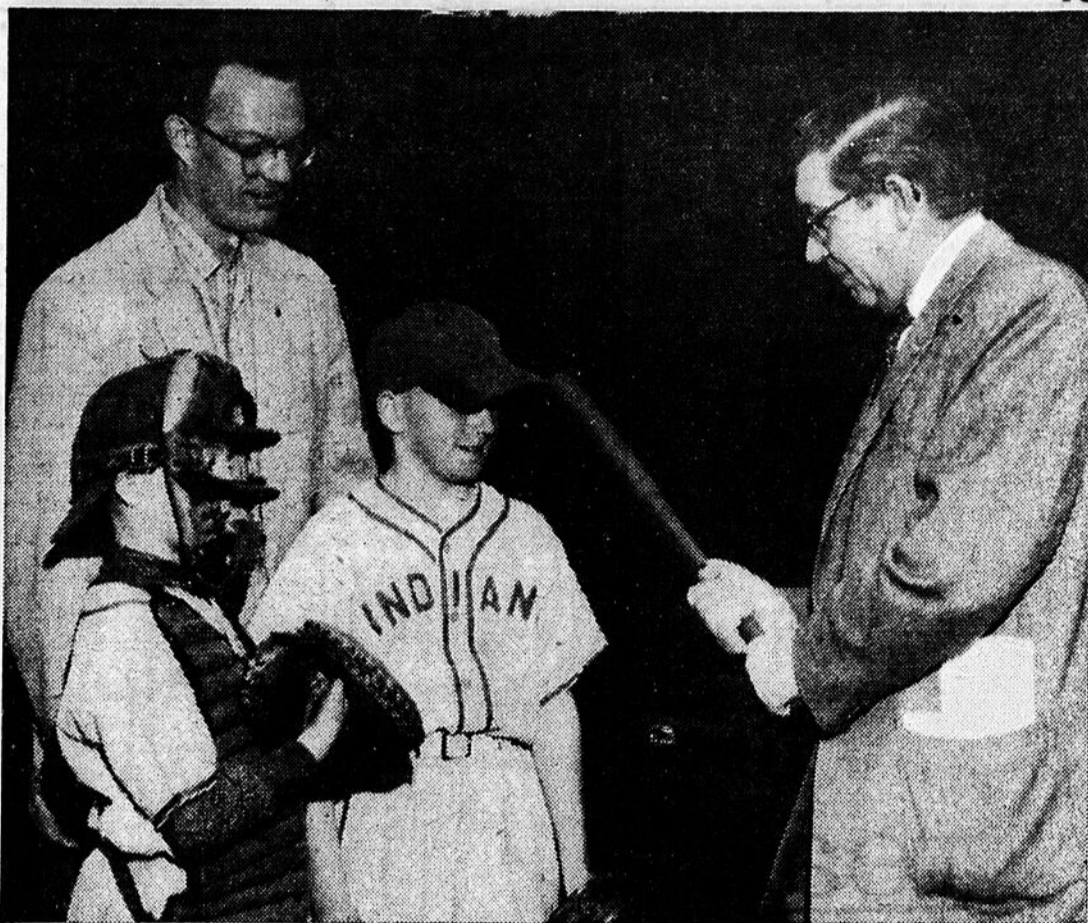

This was quickly followed by another TD by Terry McCabe who evaded several tacklers to plunge over.

Caledonia curlers elect Thomas Gisnell

Tom Gosnell was re-elected president of the Caledonia Curling Club at the annual meeting.

Other officers elected were D. A. Whittaker, honorary president; Phil Richardson, vice-president; Art Hutchingame, honorary secretary; C. G. Bird, honorary treasurer; and Rev. Willie MacLean, chaplain.

Committee of management is composed of Ray Osmond, Gord Fiddes, Brian McCarthy, Gord Dockrill, Roger Gagnon and Bud Smith.

Little league opens season with 4 games

Denis Lafleur, up from the Little League's minor circuit, made a successful debut against older company Saturday by pitching Athletics to a 9-0 American A victory over Senators at Little League Stadium.

The game was one of several which officially opened the 1958 season for Montreal's pint-sized players.

Lafleur surrendered only two hits to the inept Senators. Losing hurler Yvon Filion was blasted for seven safeties. The A's streaked to the front with five runs in the second inning and from then on in they were unbeatable.

Paul Lennon was the top batter for the A's, hitting a double and a triple in a 2-for-3 effort.

In a companion tilt, Yankees tripped the Tigers 4-2 on the strength of a three-run first inning. Yanks pitcher Frank Cardinal uncoiled a nifty 3-hitter, striking out 11 batters. Losing moundsman Jim Marshall allowed Yanks only two hits but they capitalized on all of their breaks to win.

Emmet Pearson poled the Yanks biggest blow, a double in the fifth frame.

At Consols Park, Gilles Emond handcuffed the Giants to two hits but his team, the Cubs, dropped the National A contest 5-1.

Emond scored his club's solitary run with a homer in the last inning. Alain Levreault honored for Giants in the first inning.

Winning hurler Claude Therrien, a 12-year-old in his first 'A' season, gave up four hits.

In the second game, Braves shaded the Dodgers 8-6. Braves produced six of their runs on Dodgers errors.
