HITLER SILENT OVER CZECH CRISIS

Long Awaited Speech Fails To Clear Air

Almost Entire Five Thousand Word Proclamation at Opening of Nuremberg Party Congress Dealt With Internal Condition of Germany, Disappointing Observers Who Had Hoped for Inking of Germany's Intentions in Central European Situation.

Nuremberg, Germany, Sept. 6.—Chancellor Hitler ignored Czechoslovakia in his proclamation today to the tenth annual Nazi Congress, disappointing observers who had hoped for an inking of Germany's intentions in Central Europe.

Almost his whole five-thousand-word proclamation dealt with the inner condition of Germany, particularly economically, which the Fuehrer assured his followers was so healthy that the nation "will be without worries for food for years to come."

Hitler warned that Germany could no longer be brought to heel by an economic blockade such as that which reduced the nation to virtual starvation in the closing months of the Great War.

He hinted Germany was not yet economically ready for war and would not be until this production had been raised to higher levels.

"In a general manner, German economy is constructed in such a way that it can at any moment subsist independent of other countries. Henceforth the idea of blockading Germany may be buried as an absolutely ineffective arm," he said.

"With the energy which characterizes it the National Socialist state draws upon the experiences of the Great War. As before we will maintain the principle that it is better to restrain ourselves if necessary in this or that domain than to be dependent on foreigners."

"Above all, the supreme decision which guides our economic action will be—the security of the nation before everything else. Its economic existence, on its own vital basis and in its own vital space, must therefore be fully and materially assured."

"Not until then, will the German army be ready at all times to take the liberty and interests of the Reich under its strong protection. Then Germany will be extremely valuable for everyone as a friend and ally."

"If I pronounce these words, I do it with the knowledge that politically and economically the era of Germany's isolation is past."

Through the voice of District Leader Adolf Wagner, who read the

French Mass Border Reserves In Face Of Reich Manoeuvres

Tens of Thousands of Troops and Thousands of Tons of Military Supplies Arrived in Northeastern France to Vanish Into Maginot Line—Streets of Principal Military Cities Almost Deserted by Troops as Regulars and Reserves Are Housed in Great Fortification System.

In the Maginot Zone, North Eastern France, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Tens of thousands of troops and thousands of tons of military equipment arrived in Northeastern France and vanished into the Maginot Line.

France's border population talked of little else besides the calling to the colors of an estimated 300,000 reservists to "watch for trouble from Over There."

"Over There," to Frenchmen in the Maginot zone, means the German side of the frontier where the new Siegfried line was manned by Germany's crack troops.

In the main street of Metz, Verdun, Nancy and other Maginot zone centres there were fewer troops visible than usual. The answer was that all leaves were cancelled and that the troops remained in the underground fortifications and garisons of the Maginot zone.

Troop trains brought thousands to these centres, but most of them dropped off at tiny hamlets which are only dots on tourist maps but of vital importance on military maps.

"He" that means Adolf Hitler in the Frontiers zone—"would think a long time if he knew what waits under these fields," said an officer near the border.

Chilean Cabinet Seeks Dictatorial Powers After Quelling Nazi Revolt

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The Chilean Government today asked a free hand for six months because of Monday's rebellion by a small group of National Socialists, who were crushed after three and a half hours of fighting in which possibly eighty-seven persons were killed.

The Government blamed and arrested General Carlos Ibanez, a candidate for the presidency, after the rebels were driven from a building of the National University and the ten-storied Workers' Insurance Building in which they had established their headquarters.

Ibanez' candidacy in elections scheduled for October 25 is said to be backed by the Nazis (who claim twenty thousand members, are without formal affiliation with German Nazis, but have adopted much of the German National Socialist programme).

A state of siege, a form of martial law, was declared but a military announcement said the situation was well in hand and it was not necessary to enforce the restrictions fully.

The Government of President Arturo Alessandri (of the Liberal party, which in Chile leans to the Right) petitioned the Senate, however, for the extraordinary powers for six months.

Authorities closed the newspapers Trabajo, a Nazi organ, and La Opinion, a Left Extremist publication.

There was no official list of casualties, but the number of eighty-seven dead was reported unofficially, most of them members of the uprising. At least eighty were arrested. Nineteen police were injured, and

DEPOSED HEIR TO THRONE OF SPAIN INJURED

Hereditary Haemophilia, Causing Profuse Bleeding, Aggravates Condition of Count of Covadonga, Who Was Injured in Accident Near Miami.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 6.—(AP)—The Count of Covadonga, former heir to the Spanish Throne, was injured critically in an automobile accident early today.

He was riding in a machine driven by Miss Mildred Gaydon, twenty-five, when the vehicle swerved from Biscayne Boulevard and struck a pole. The Count suffered severe lacerations of the forehead, a possible fracture of the skull and his right leg was broken.

Miss Gaydon, a cigarette girl in a night club, was slightly bruised. She told officers she turned sharply to avoid a truck, and lost control.

Hereditary haemophilia, which causes profuse bleeding from slight wounds, complicated the Count's injuries.

English Channel Navy Defence Strengthened By Cruise Order

London, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Fifty warships of the Home Fleet steamed out of Portsmouth and other bases today for a cruise of ten weeks in the North Sea.

The 33,500-ton battleship Nelson, flagship of Admiral Sir Charles M. Forbes, Fleet Commander-in-Chief, led the procession of fighting ships northward.

Until November 17th the fleet will operate from its Great War bases, Invergordon, Rosyth and Scapa Flow—the last famous for the sinking of Germany's war-time fleet. The rebuilt German navy began manoeuvres in another part of the North Sea August 26th.

The Admiralty announced a last minute change in the programme of the cruise—described as the usual annual fall exercises—to make sure that both the eastern and western approaches to the English Channel will be guarded during the next two weeks.

Admiral Sir Charles M. Forbes, Commander-in-Chief, decided to send the battleship Royal Oak and the Fourth Destroyer Flotilla to Portland, the naval station almost directly opposite Cherbourg, France.

The Admiralty said the change, for which Admiral Forbes was solely responsible, was made to give the Royal Oak a "shakedown" period following a number of changes in personnel, including a new captain, C. Cantile.

The ten-week fall cruise started today. It was described by the Admiralty as "absolutely normal" and will take many craft off the Scottish coast for fleet exercises in gunnery and torpedo firing in the North Sea. (The German fleet began "routine" manoeuvres in another part of the North Sea August 26th.)

The decision to send the Fourth Destroyer Flotilla to Portland "for anti-submarine exercises" before going north was not explained officially.

German Plane Under Fire of Jap Warcraft

Japanese Foreign Office Reports that Attack on German Liner with Nine Passengers Aboard Halted When Identity Was Established.

Tokyo, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The Foreign Office said today that Japanese planes which attacked the German-Chinese Eurasia Line transport Monday halted the attack when they discovered the plane's identity.

The ship was forced down in Kwangtung province after three bursts of machine gun fire from three Japanese warplanes, but none of the nine occupants, including two German officials of the line, was injured.

JAPS REPORT FURTHER ADVANCES

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Japanese troops claimed an overwhelming victory today over the Chinese 88th Division, one of General Chiang Kai-shek's outstanding units, in a forty-eight-hour battle on the southeast border of Honan and Anhwei provinces.

Bombardments preceded the victory, which made possible a further Japanese advance into Honan province, Japanese bulletins reported.

Directly to the south, the Japanese thrust toward Hankow provincial Chinese Capital, and Nan-chang, Chinese air base and railroad center 225 miles southeast of Hankow, continued with the Japanese hammering at three objectives which blocked the invaders for thirty-nine days.

INSURGENT FORCES MAKE MINOR GAINS

Hendaye, France, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Advices reaching insurgent border headquarters today said General Juan Yague's troops made a general two and one-half mile advance and occupied the entire De Los Caballeros range, the key to the Ebro river front in Eastern Spain.

The official insurgent communiqué, however, failed to confirm the reports but said only that many positions had been gained and that the continuation of an offensive that began on Saturday near Gandesa.

Government dispatches maintained the insurgents had succeeded in "bettering their lines slightly at the cost of heavy losses."

The Extremadura front in southwestern Spain each side reported attacks by the other had been repulsed, with the situation remaining about unchanged.

VALLEYFIELD FIRE KILLS WOOD DEALER

Valleyfield, Que., Sept. 6.—Fire of unknown origin, breaking out in a two-storey dwelling, early yesterday claimed the life of Paul Clermont, twenty-seven year old wood merchant of this Beauharnois County town.

Alone in the house with his uncle, C. Chicoine, Clermont failed to flee from the burning structure after the alarm had been given by neighbors. Badly charred, the body was found by firemen in the second storey of the structure after the flames had been extinguished.

Saint John, N.B., Sept. 6.—Yes, there are no dog teams here today. A letter received at the local post office from Oliver City, Calif., which had a helpful inscription below the address of a Saint John resident: "By airmail or dog team."

ROOSEVELT ABSTAINS FROM DIRECTLY PLAYING MARYLAND ANTI-NEW DEALER

Denton, Md., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Now that President Roosevelt has come and gone, the Democratic primary election campaign in Maryland is reverting to cracker-box discussions. At the wayside filling stations, which have supplanted cross-roads stores as community centres, the farmers and oystermen can debate until the primaries next Monday the President's appeal for Democrats to nominate Representative David Lewis to the seat of Senator Millard Tydings.

Meanwhile, lieutenants of both men are busy following up Mr. Roosevelt's Labor Day speech.

In a sense, the address pleased both factions. Lewis followers were gratified by the President's praise of their champion—"a man who has lived to make his dreams come true."

ANCIENT RITES MOURN PASSING OF CHURCHMAN

Over Fifteen Thousand Persons Line Fifth Avenue to Pay Final Respects to Patrick Cardinal Hayes, "Cardinal of Charity," Who Passed Away Sunday.

New York, Sept. 6.—Roman Catholics mourned in ancient ceremonial rites today the death of Patrick Cardinal Hayes, leading American spokesman of their faith.

With pomp and pageantry befitting the passing of a Prince of the Church, the body of the seventy-year-old "Cardinal of Charity," robed in full Pontifical vestments, will be taken to St. Patrick's Cathedral during the day to lie in state until Friday.

The prelate, archbishop of the largest and richest Catholic diocese in the Western Hemisphere, died peacefully in his sleep Sunday at his summer home near Monticello, N.Y. A crowd of 15,000 mourners lined Fifth Avenue yesterday as the body was brought to the Cathedral for brief services before being removed to His Eminence's residence here overnight.

Priests will chant the Divine Office for the dead Church leader each morning and evening until Friday, when the ceremonies culminate in a solemn Pontifical Requiem Mass. The Cardinal will then be buried with his predecessors in a crypt beneath the altar of the giant Gothic Cathedral.

HUNDRED KILLED IN JAPANESE TYPHOON

Tokyo, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Fire and floods swept Central Japan today in the wake of a ninety-seven-mile-an-hour typhoon which left at least 100 dead and destroyed property over a wide area.

Fire broke out in the city of Takakura, at the base of Noto peninsula, at dawn and quickly leveled more than two thousand dwellings, public buildings and schools. Osaka reported 15,000 homes were flooded. At Kobe thirty-one ships were sunk or damaged.

The typhoon swept over Shikoku Island and Honshu, the main island of Japan, yesterday and reached the Japan Sea this morning. A typhoon of lesser intensity Thursday caused at least 175 deaths in the Tokyo-Yokohama area.

EXTENDED TERM FOR MUNICIPAL BODIES URGED

Montreal Mayor Claims that Two-Year Term Is Long Enough for Aldermen and Mayor to Fulfill Their Electoral Promises.

On Board S.S. North Star, Sept. 6.—Mayor Adhemar Raynault, of Montreal, Sunday told three hundred delegates to the nineteenth annual convention of the Union of Municipalities of Quebec Province he considered as "too brief" a two-year term of civic administration in "municipalities dealing with broad social and economic issues."

"A two-year term is not long enough for aldermen and mayor to fulfill their electoral platform," he said. "It takes them part of the first year to settle down to business and part of the other twelve months usually is spent in preparation for the coming election."

Brief addresses also were delivered by J. A. Townner of the Quebec Municipal Commission, Jean Lafontaine of the Sun Life Insurance Company, Michel Guimont, Provincial Director of Relief, and Romeo Beaudet, president of the Montreal Relief Commission.

KEEN INTEREST IN ESTIMATES OF WHEAT CROP

Bureau of Statistics to Issue First Official Estimate of Canadian 1938 Crop on Friday Afternoon.

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—Grainmen in Canada and in other wheat-producing countries today anxiously awaited the Canadian Government's first estimate of this year's domestic grain crop which will be announced Friday afternoon.

It is expected the wheat estimate will be placed at more than 300,000,000 bushels. This would compare to 183,000,000 bushels last year and would be the largest since 1932 when 443,000,000 bushels were harvested. Canada's largest crop was produced in 1928 when the huge total of 565,000,000 bushels was piled up.

The estimates, determined by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, is the most important Canadian crop forecast of the year. Annually it is a definite market factor.

If this year's harvest yields 300,000,000 bushels of wheat, about 100,000,000 bushels will be needed for home consumption and the remainder will be exported.

It is understood the Canadian Wheat Board plans to sell the exportable surplus through the regular trade at competitive world market prices. There have been no indications that a holding policy might be pursued.

Or Western Canada farmers guaranteed eighty cents a bushel for No. 1 Northern at Fort William when sold to the Wheat Board, grain authorities here predict that the board will handle the greater portion of the crop.

LOCATION PRIME FACTOR IN CREATION OF EFFICIENT, MODERN HIGHWAY PLAN

Bigwin Inn, Ont., Sept. 6.—Function of the Canadian Good Roads Association "is the constructive task of opening up channels of social and commercial intercourse and making this country readily accessible to travellers from every part of the continent," Lieutenant-Governor Albert Matthews of Ontario said in a speech prepared for delivery at the Association's convention here today.

Opening the organization's twenty-fourth annual convention, Mr. Matthews congratulated the Association "on the opportunity to help build a deeper national consciousness throughout the Dominion." The task and spirit thus commended were contrasted with conditions in less happy countries where advances in communications created barriers of misunderstanding and fear, where road programmes were designed for aggressive military purposes or for wholesale evacuation of great cities if threatened by air attacks.

Before beneficial changes in highway control and improvement could take place, the Lieutenant-Governor continued, the leadership of a trained minority must point the way. This function had been fulfilled admirably by the Association.

The convention brought to the Muskoka Lakes area more than 450 delegates—largest number in the Association's history except where city populations made it possible for local registrations to swell the attendance. Five business sessions will be held before the convention ends with the annual dinner Thursday night. Hon. G. M. MacPherson, British Columbia Minister of Works, presided over today's opening.

First of the scheduled papers was one by R. M. Smith, Ontario Deputy Minister of Highways, on road building in the British Isles and Continental European countries. Other papers were prepared by C. M. Upham, Engineer-Director of the American Road Builders' Association, and A. Paradis, Chief Engineer of the Quebec Highways Department.

Mr. Smith noted in his paper that these countries made enormous strides in road building in the last half dozen years. On the Continent the military factor in the expansion was obvious. Germany made the most progress, its "autobahnen" for motors being the only models of their kind.

The decided trend in recent years to low-cost surfacing of roads was emphasized in Mr. Upham's paper on "The Effects of Modern Equipment on Road Construction." Mr. Paradis discussed the problem of locating highways with present-day traffic requirements in mind.

Mr. Paradis said only recently had highway location been given the study its importance deserved because when the era of road improvement began about twenty years ago reconstruction was generally done on existing routes which were often narrow, crooked and hilly. The first movement for straighter and wider roads met with

HUNDREDS JOIN IN TRIBUTE TO HAROLD ROBERTS

Funeral Services for Widely-Known and Respected Magog Man Held Sunday Afternoon—Many Dominion Textile Officials Present.

Magog, Sept. 6.—Harold Davies Roberts, who during his lifetime earned the respect and esteem of countless friends, was given an impressive tribute to his memory at funeral services held in St. Paul's United Church here on Sunday afternoon. Hundreds from all ranks of life attended the services for Mr. Roberts, killed Thursday night when the car he was driving collided with a freight train at McDermott's Crossing, near Magog. He was manager of converting operations of Dominion Textile Company Limited plants at Magog, Montreal and Valleyfield.

Rev. A. T. Jones, of Stanstead, officiated at the service, which was held in accordance with the wish expressed by Mr. Roberts some years ago. "In my close association with him I saw him as a man in close partnership with all good and great things," Rev. Jones, former pastor of St. Paul's Church, said in referring to Mr. Roberts. Recalling Mr. Roberts' kindness to all with whom he came into contact, Rev. Jones spoke feelingly of his generosity, his understanding sympathies and his deep love of fair play. His untiring efforts in the interests of St. Paul's Church were also touched upon by the pastor.

A vestal choir rendered the hymns "God Moves In a Mysterious Way" and "The Spirit of God Descend Upon My Heart," with Mrs. A. E. Swoger at the organ. The bearers, all friends of Mr. Roberts for many years, were E. Sewell, G. Kinnon, G. MacDonald, H. Spinks, A. H. Meek and A. E. Swoger. Interment was in Pine Hill Cemetery following the Masonic burial ceremony conducted by Dr. M. E. Adams, Worshipful Master of Lake Magog Lodge No. 55, assisted by Rt. Worshipful Brother Charles Cavell, D.D.G.M.

Scores of floral tributes banked along the graveside were an indication of the esteem in which Mr. Roberts was held by the citizens of the community. Included in tributes were those from the Town of Magog, the Magog Board of Trade, all departments of the various mills of the Dominion Textile Company and many organizations with which the deceased had been associated.

Chief mourners were his wife, the former Margaret Jones; one son, Geoffrey Roberts, and one daughter, Miss Betty Roberts.

Those present from out-of-town included: Dominion Textile, G. Blair Gordon, managing director; E. R. Daniels, manager Grey Mills operations; L. P. Webster, treasurer; H. F. CAMPAIGN REMOVES BLOCKADE DANGERS Nuremberg, Germany, Sept. 6.—Chancellor Hitler declared today a blockade could no longer be an effective weapon against Germany. In a proclamation Non to the Nazi Congress in session here, the Reichsfuehrer said that the development of Germany's economic resources had now reached a point where the nation could be indifferent to the threat of a blockade, such as that which reduced it to a state of privation twenty years ago.

The proclamation by Hitler was read by District Leader Adolf Wagner in Congress Hall as the opening function of the tenth annual party congress.

"We went to Nuremberg this year more deeply moved than ever before," the document read.

For many years the party con-

Conventions have not only been a festival of joy and pride but have become one of inter-consciousness.

The old fighters come here in joyful hope and see again many old acquaintances of the long struggle for power and thus they greet themselves in this city as fighting comrades of the greatest German revolution. This year for the first time the circle has been drawn much wider. (A reference to Austria.)

"The National Socialist Reich has absorbed new German fellow citizens. Many of them are in our midst for the first time in this sacred hour. It was in these months twenty years ago that Germany's internal decay began. It was not an external enemy that broke our front but a creeping poison in the interior that started the decay."

"The weakness of a half-way government thus became the greatest catastrophe for the people and state in our history. A few months later Germany almost seemed lost forever. A period of deepest depression and shameful discouragement for our people had begun."

"One year after this catastrophe a new symbol arose from the chaos of misfortune and despair. Destiny had called me to carry this. Four years later the first party congress took place. The Nazi movement was held. Now we meet again for the tenth time. What, however, my fellow-citizens, has become of Germany?"

"Does it not nearly seem as if destiny prescribed this road for the German people and the Reich in order to purify and vivify us all for this greater community of all Germans which alone in all the future is to be looked upon as a merciful gift for the continuation of our people?"

"Perhaps in the future one may speak of a miracle, which destiny brought us, for it is as if it were the beginning of this miracle state. The belief in the eternal German nation."

strong opposition, principally from property owners.

Experience and education have brought about a change in public opinion and the necessity of proper location now is generally recognized by both engineers and laymen.

Mr. Paradis expressed his adherence to the principle that forcing traffic out of its natural course on the pretext of relieving congestion is not a sound practice and as the vast majority of road users have large centres as their destinations or stopping places he did not favor bypassing of such places.

Rather, main arteries converging on important cities should run straight to their centres. On the

REPORT TABLED ON ESTIMATED BUILDING COST

Outlay for Stanstead College Main Building and Residence for Girls Will Be in Neighborhood of $280,000.

Stanstead, Sept. 6.—Estimated cost of the Stanstead College main building and residence for girls will be in the neighborhood of $280,000, and the Board of Trustees does not propose to proceed with the new construction until there is some definite assurance that sufficient funds will be available. This was indicated over the week-end at a meeting of Trustees which heard a report tabled by Dr. C. W. Colby, chairman of the Finance Committee. Dr. Colby reported favorably upon the plans being made to raise the funds necessary to proceed with the erection of the new College buildings.

The plans for the new buildings are still in the hands of the architect, E. L. Barot, of Montreal, and, when completed, will be turned over to Walter J. Armstrong, consulting engineer of Montreal, who will work out the detailed specifications.

At the meeting of the Board, arrangements were made to enlarge the building committee. The completed plans will be considered by the committee and in all probability tenders will be called for so that full information will be available at the annual meeting of the College to be held within a few weeks.

Discussing plans for the current term, which opens tomorrow, Principal Enrol C. Amaron, M.D., B.D., stated that excellent temporary arrangements have been made. Stanstead Inn has been taken over and renovated and will be used as a girls' residence. The boys will be located in St. Joseph's Hall, Rock Island, and the juniors will occupy "Ingleside," the residence of Mrs. Sidney Stevens.

other hand, small towns and villages should be bypassed as road travellers object to their congestion and accident hazards. Protests from interested parties against such bypassing should be rejected without hesitation.

Where commercial traffic predominates, speed is a desideratum and curves and gradients should be kept to a minimum. This principle was being followed in construction of the new highway connecting Montreal with the northern mining region of Quebec. On purely tourist routes, however, such as the Gaspe Peninsula, boulevard, more curves and a rolling profile are permissible.

The Quebec Department considers five to six degrees of curvature acceptable with proper super-elevation, with eight per cent curves on short hills and five to six per cent on long hills to avoid excessive costs in mountainous or very hilly country. Curves should average not more than three, preferably two, within a mile. Over-long stretches, however, are not desirable as they conduce to speeding and are a night-driving hazard.

Modern location demands adequate widths of right-of-way in order to provide for ultimate limited access. Where present acquisition of the extra width is not justified, the procedure of homologation should be applied, forbidding new building or costly improvements on the strip of land to be taken over in time.

Location is virtually the only permanent feature in road construction and building of the future finds its most profitable application in this domain.

Czech Government Offers Near-Limit Concessions To Sudeten German Head

The first question was "Would this last and ultimate offer," formulated at a 4½-hour Cabinet session last night, satisfy the Sudeten German party which in long negotiations has been insisting on a degree of autonomy amounting almost to independence?"

The second question: "How would the Czechs, who have been aroused to nationalistic fervor by the patriotic press, receive the news of a Government retreat under German pressure?"

In quarters close to the Government it was contended that Czechoslovakia had sacrificed much at the insistence of her friends and allies. It is known that both Great Britain and France, earnestly striving to avoid war, had urged Praha to make all possible concessions.

But while the Sudeten Germans were elated and the Czechs were worried, neither had a substantial basis for judging how the situation was altered by the Cabinet meeting last night.

The Government had not revealed details of its plans, and the Sudeten German party had not indicated whether it would take less than its original demands, which included primarily the recognition of the Sudeten's right to profess the Nazi ideology.

(Reuters News Agency quoted a reliable Czech source as saying the new concession satisfied almost entirely the Sudeten demands.)

A well-informed source said Czechoslovakia had wanted to reorganize the state on a system of cantons, like Switzerland's, so that three all-German districts would get virtual autonomy.

The Sudeten Germans issued two communiques. One declared that "only by speedy adoption" by the Government of the eight-point autonomy programme "can the situation be remedied." That was the first party statement since Konrad Henlein, the Sudeten leader, conferred with Chancellor Hitler of Germany last week.

The second communique insisted the Government knew the party's position before Henlein went to see Hitler in Bavaria. This seemed to be a move to counteract the Czechoslovak argument that Hitler, and not Henlein, determined the Sudeten Germans' stand.

CAR MISHAP CLAIMED LIFE OF E. T. WOMAN

Four Passengers Injured As Motor Swerved Off Highway

Mrs. Hormidas Patenaude, Sixty-Three Years Old, of Popolpis, Fatally Hurt Near Bury—Motorist Hurt When Automobile Struck Tree Near Coaticook—Dominion Counts Death Toll of Forty.

One woman was killed and a number injured in holiday week-end motor car accidents in this district. Mishaps throughout the Dominion accounted for forty deaths.

Victim in the most serious accident to occur in this section of the Province was Mrs. Hormidas Patenaude, sixty-three years old, of Popolpis, who was instantly killed when the automobile in which she was a passenger overturned in a ditch on the Sherbrooke-Quebec highway a short distance from Bury yesterday.

Four other passengers, including the driver of the car, who lost control when he endeavored to avoid a collision with another vehicle, were injured and removed to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital. They were Eudore Patenaude, thirty-two-year-old son of the victim; his wife, twenty-nine; Leo Couillard, the driver, who received a broken nose, and Mrs. Couillard, twenty-six, suffering from injured ribs. The four are from Granville, Vt. None is seriously hurt.

Jean Godbout, thirty-eight years old, of Grand Mere, suffered a fractured wrist on Sunday afternoon when the car in which he was riding left the highway near Coaticook and hit a tree. Four other passengers were unhurt. The victim was taken by Brien's ambulance to a private hospital in Coaticook.

J. Lesperance, of Stoke, suffered bruises and was taken to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital yesterday when he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car while riding his bicycle along the Stoke highway and fell into a ditch.

The warning summer season left a trail of forty fatalities in the wake of its long Labor Day week-end across Canada. Ontario alone turned in a toll of twenty-two with twelve of the victims dying in a variety of motor mishaps. Three Ontarians were drowned and seven others were killed in falls, explosions, a hunting accident and an electrocution. An Ontario farmer was gored to death by a bull.

Quebec had a death list on ten, five persons having been drowned, while in British Columbia two drownings were reported and two in Manitoba. The Maritimes recorded

START WORK ON WOLFE STREET BRIDGE

Work upon repairs to and strengthening of the Wolfe street bridge at a cost of approximately $30,000 was inaugurated this morning under the supervision of a city engineer.

Twelve men were set to work removing the planking and preparing for the task of strengthening the sub-structure.

A Government engineer recently advocated improvements to this structure, for which City Council voted $30,000.

PAVING BY-LAW EXPECTED TO BE GIVEN SUPPORT

Sherbrooke Property Owners Balloting Tomorrow on Referendum for $160,000 Loan.

Sherbrooke property owners are slated to trek to polls in each of the city's five wards tomorrow to vote on the referendum for the $160,000 loan in connection with the programme of municipal projects which City Fathers are anxious to start at the earliest possible date.

It is the duty of all rate-payers eligible to vote to cast their ballots, and there appeared little doubt today that the outcome of the balloting would greatly favor the loan. It is an understood fact that the list of projects to be undertaken by the city authorities have long been recommended as a necessity.

City Hall officials point out that the works to be executed by virtue of By-Law 580 have been repeatedly requested by petition or otherwise and the paving of the streets included in the programme will remove the heavy expense of maintaining macadamized or gravelled thoroughfares.

In addition, these public works will provide employment for many jobless during the coming months, thereby easing the expensive system of direct relief.

Voting is being held from nine tomorrow morning until five in the afternoon.

LES SEMAINES SOCIALES DU CANADA CONVENTION.

Sixteenth annual convention of Les Semaines Sociales du Canada will be held at Sherbrooke from September 25th to 30th, it was announced today by Rev. J. P. Archambault, director.

Eleventh annual convention of the National Catholic Federation of Barbers and Hairdressers of the Province of Quebec at that group's annual meeting held in Quebec City yesterday. Paul E. Cabana, of Montreal, was appointed president and M. J. Legare, of Quebec, first vice-president.

Three violent deaths, two in New Brunswick and one in Nova Scotia, Saskatchewan had one.

More than a hint of winter was in the air for Labor Day, traditionally the last outdoors holiday of the season.

Labor leaders sounded traditional messages as crowds gathered in many centres, notably at Toronto's Canadian National Exhibition where more than fifty unions were represented in the parade. Sports events were general features.

Five thousand paraded at Halifax, while 17,000 turned out for the Labor Day opening of the Saint John Exhibition in New Brunswick.

New York, Sept. 6.—(P)—The Labor week-end death toll in the United States this year climbed to 396, a survey showed today, as compared with 391 for the 1937 week-end.

Jammed highways and bathing resorts accounted for most of the tragedies, but the automobile was by far the greatest single death-dealer.

At least 278 persons were killed in motor car mishaps; forty-four were drowned.

The figures also included eighteen suicides, eleven homicides and forty-five miscellaneous fatalities.

REVISITING SHERBROOKE

"My, but Sherbrooke looks fine." This is a plain, simple expression, yet it is full of meaning when it comes from a former citizen who has travelled extensively and for several years past has made his home outside of the borders of this fair Dominion.

Yet that was the way H. V. Haight spoke upon his return to Sherbrooke when he dropped into the Record Office this morning. Mr. Haight arrived in Sherbrooke over the holiday week-end. He has encountered some of his former friends, but the holiday yesterday found many old acquaintances out of town.

Mr. Haight is now on pension after having been associated with the Canadian Ingersoll Band Company for over forty-one years. Rather than remain idle, he has become part owner in a freighter and plans to devote his time to ocean freighting.

Mr. Haight spoke optimistically regarding conditions in England, remarking that one thousand house were being erected daily throughout England. A shortage of steel, owing to the armament building programme, was holding up some other work, he remarked, but, on the whole, conditions generally were regarded as satisfactory.

Mr. Haight spoke in high terms of English life, but quite frankly admitted that it was good to be back in Canada. He showed a number of pictures of his charming English home and its picturesque grounds and gardens.

Mr. Haight expects to remain in this vicinity until the end of the week. He has not decided whether he will continue his residence in England after he has become engaged in his new occupation.

Many Gather To Celebrate Wedding Anniversary Of Lennoxville Couple

One hundred and sixty persons gathered at the home of Lennoxville's Postmaster, Mr. W. H. Abbott, and Mrs. Abbott, on Prospect street, on Saturday afternoon, on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

The many guests were graciously received by the smiling couple, while Mrs. Arthur T. Speid and Miss Margaret Abbott assisted in making them comfortable and happy. The tea table, centered with a beautifully decorated three-tier wedding cake, was adorned with tall, slim vases of mauve larkspur and tall yellow tapers in silver holders.

During the afternoon the children enjoyed playing many popular games on the spacious lawn, while the guests inside were entertained by several solos by Mr. Murray Brooks, of Montreal.

In keeping with Labor Day, Rev. F. R. Matthews, pastor of the Lennoxville United Church, spoke on this subject at both services in that church on Sunday. In the morning his topic was "The Laborer Is Worthy of His Hire," the text of which came from the twenty-second chapter of Jeremiah, the thirteenth verse, "Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by wrong; that useth his neighbor's service without wages, and giveth him not for his work." The anthem sung by the choir under the direction of Miss Jean Campbell, organist and choir director, was "O Lord Most Holy," (Frank), with a beautiful tenor solo part by Miss Thelma Crawford.

In the evening, Rev. Mr. Matthews spoke on "Jesus and the Daily Task," from the ninth chapter and the fourth verse of the Gospel According to St. John, "I must work the works of Him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work." The voices of the Misses Norma Hunting and Marion Libby were heard in the duet, by Porter, "Gently, Lord, Oh Gently Lead Us."

Harmony Between Employees And Employers Is Essential

Continued Co-operation and Collaboration Necessary If Sherbrooke Is to Remain as One of Main Industrial Centres of Province, Labor Told by Hon. Johnny Bourque—Several Thousand Participated in Labor Day Celebration—Fete Also Observed at Windsor Mills.

Co-operation and collaboration between employers and employees are necessary if Sherbrooke is to continue to thrive as one of the main industrial centres of the Province of Quebec, Col. the Hon. Johnny S. Bourque, Minister of Public Works and of Lands and Forests, stated yesterday to a mass gathering of workers who observed Labor Day.

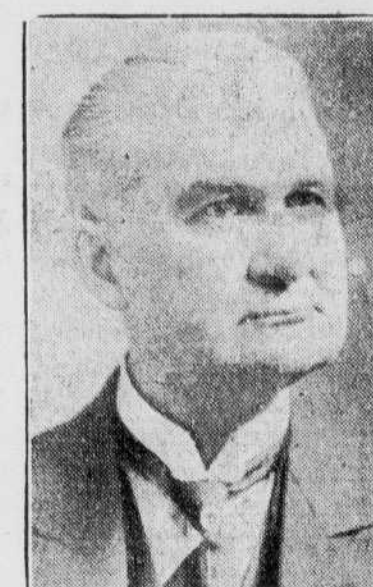

Several thousand union members participated in the Labor Day celebrations which were inaugurated by the National Catholic Syndicates of Sherbrooke at nine a.m. with a solemn mass in St. Michael's Cathedral. Monsignor Philippe Desranleau, Bishop-Coadjutor of Sherbrooke, was present at the service, which was celebrated by Monsignor O. Z. Landre, P.D., parish priest of the Cathedral. Rev. Father David Leack, C.S.S.R., director of the Villa St. Alphonse, preached the sermon. The traditional labor parade was held in the afternoon and featured several elaborate floats, symbolical of the daily occupations of the workers. Leading the parade was the Sherbrooke Harmony Band, which was followed by a detachment of municipal police and two members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police force, the latter clad in their scarlet tunics and mounted on two brown horses.

Thousands lined the route of the parade which started from Dufferin Park and ended at the Fair grounds, where a programme of sports had been arranged for the group by officials of the National Catholic Syndicate. Among those who participated in the parade were Col. the Hon. Johnny Bourque, Mayor Marcus Armitage, Charles R. Howard, M.P. for Sherbrooke, Omer Paulhus, president of the Central Council of the N.C.S., and Rev. Father Louis-Philippe Camirand, chaplain of the Syndicate.

At the Fair Grounds the workers heard Col. Bourque make an appeal for peaceful solutions to all problems relating to capital and labor. "This is necessary if Sherbrooke is to continue to thrive as one of the main industrial centres in this Province," he stated.

Col. Bourque pointed out that Continued on page 6, col. 4.

SHERBROOKE, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1938.

School Days Are Again At Hand

Within the next few days the school bell will ring throughout the Eastern Townships, as it will in all other sections of the Dominion, and some 2,100,000 pupils will be enrolled in the elementary and secondary schools throughout the nation.

There cannot but be a tinge of regret in the minds of the youth of the country at the thought that summer holidays are over and that holiday joys must be forgotten. But the youth who is privileged to return to class should appreciate the good fortune which is his or hers and return to the classroom with the determination to get most out of the school year.

It is a difficult thing to impress upon the youthful mind the importance of school. It is hard to explain that school work should be a pleasure and not a drudgery. All too soon will the school boy or girl of today realize that he or she did not get the most out of their school days. Then it will be too late to make amends.

This is the time of year when all thoughts should turn to the schools. It behooves parents, teachers and pupils to get together in a spirit of mutual understanding and with a determination to make the most of the scholastic year which lies ahead.

School work should not be left entirely to the teachers and the pupils. Every parent, in fact every adult, should feel a keen interest in the schools of the community. It is in these institutions that the future leaders in all phases of Canadian life are being prepared for the task of citizenship which will shortly fall upon them.

The measure of success which is to be realized by each and every school, whether it is a city, town or community school, depends upon the support and encouragement which is given it.

We are proud of our schools and their splendid records. Let us give them even greater support so that our boys and girls may be adequately trained to take their proper places in the life of the nation when their school days are over and they are "on their own" as Canadian men and women.

We cannot take too much interest in our schools and our children. We must, with them and with the teachers, build for the future.

Harold Munkittrick Wins Laurels

It was no small achievement which Harold Munkittrick recorded on Saturday when he won the Montreal-Sherbrooke bicycle race covering the distance of slightly over ninety-eight miles in four hours and twenty-five minutes.

Munkittrick, who has long been active and prominent in cycling circles, has many friends and admirers who will rejoice in his latest achievement, and extend congratulations on a difficult feat well done.

The Record is happy to extend its congratulations to the youthful victor who, for many years, was one of the Record's brightest and most capable newspaper carriers. He is recognized as a clean sportsman who puts his best into his efforts. His latest honor is well-merited for he well deserves the success which has come his way.

Mexico's Agrarian Programme

A little matter like the mere lack of money apparently means nothing to the Mexican Socialist Government in its determination to create a socialized state, for according to an announcement by President Cardenas, this policy would be continued despite protests from governments abroad against the expropriation of foreign properties to carry out the plan.

The President insisted that he would continue his policy of taking over foreign-owned lands even when money was not available to pay for them, and at the same time rejected a suggestion of United States Secretary of State Hull that deposits be made to guarantee the payment for expropriated lands. Furthermore, there would be no submission of the question to arbitration under international law, although he did agree to a two-man Mexican-American commission to appraise and decide how to pay for expropriated farms. But he declined to state whether the Government would bind itself to accept the findings of the Commission or whether it would continue its present stand of admitting liability but refusing to pay the bill.

One thing can be said for the Cardenas policy is that it is one of extreme frankness. No effort is made to evade the issue and squirm out of the debt through legal technicalities. The debt is admitted as a just one but advantage is taken of the fact that no international sheriff exists to force payment and as a result the Mexican Government is thumbing its nose at its foreign creditors, governments, corporations and individuals alike.

The Door Of Your Mind

By Grenville Kleiser.

Your beliefs largely govern you. An erroneous belief may lead you into most disastrous results. The more tenaciously you hold to false beliefs the more injurious will be their destructive influence in your life. Many intelligent men frankly acknowledge that they do not want the false and untrue, but are unwilling to make the effort to understand and apply the truth.

Closely scrutinize your beliefs, and be eager to strengthen them where they are weak and to change them where they are wrong. Truth is the only basis upon which to found beliefs that will serve you in all the varied experiences of life. Truth is the solid rock upon which to build a life of happiness.

The vital step to the apprehension of truth is to desire it sincerely and earnestly. To make truth wholly yours you must both understand and practically apply it. You will better appreciate the value and importance of truth when you seriously consider that erroneous thinking is the chief cause of all sin, disaster, misfortune, sickness and failure in the world.

Truth to be properly grasped must be studied for truth's sake. Truth, if it is to be of real significance to you must be something more than theory; it must be a vital, personal, demonstrated power in your daily life. There is nothing that will bring to you so much satisfaction and permanent benefit as a profound study of truth.

Keep the door of your mind resolutely closed against every undesirable, destructive, depressing thought. Rise to the majesty of your personal power. There is a great place for you which you should claim by the sovereign right of your innate worth and ability. Remember there is no altitude too high for your aim and aspiration.

You are probably building better than you realize. Just at the time when things appear to be going the wrong way, they may be shaping themselves for the best results. A temporary disappointment is often a blessing in disguise.

Seeming failure has many a time proved a stepping-stone to true success. Every trial, mistake, and apparent failure can be made to serve a useful purpose. Turn such experience to practical advantage.

Your best guides and teachers are often those very disappointments that stimulate to better self-management. Meditate deeply upon a difficult problem, and the solution will sometimes unfold itself. There is no such thing as failure to one of courageous heart.

What you do with your present abilities you will probably do with larger powers in time to come. Prove today the greatness of the qualities within you by earnest and enthusiastic effort. Procrastination is not only the thief of time, but of ambition, initiative and courage.

Do not mislead yourself into believing that under other circumstances, or in a different environment, you could and would do better. In your present position prove your greatness of character.

Right where you are is the place to do your best work and to translate your good intentions into actual deeds. Despite trial or hardship, loss or disappointment, keep on courageously.

Cultivate cheerfulness. See the good in people and circumstances. However dark today may seem to you, there is always the prospect of sunshine and gladness tomorrow.

Editor's Note-Book

Now that the holidays are over we hope the City Council will get down to some serious thinking which will bring results. There is the bus gas matter and the water question to be settled. These are only two of the problems which should be given immediate study.

TIME-TABLE DIPLOMACY

(New York Times)

According to The London Spectator, what finally brought Germany up with a round turn in Central Europe was a railway train—and not an armored train, either. As the story goes, the British had made their diplomatic protest against German action in Czechoslovakia as strong as possible this side of an ultimatum. Hitler was still unconvinced that they were prepared to act. His followers continued to whip up sentiment against the Czech Government. Thereupon the British Embassy in Berlin ordered a special train to take the English women and children out of Germany. This implies broadly that after the women and children had gone, British airplanes might come back. The effect was profound and immediate. Hitler's next speech, in the very midst of the crisis, was an innocuous discussion of subways. The British Embassy quietly countermanded the train. Ordering and cancelling trains for political effect is an old British custom. Disraeli, impatient over the stalled delays at the Congress of Berlin in 1878, dramatically ordered a train to take him home. As a result the canny Earl is said to have "reclaimed butter from a dog's mouth" and eventually returned to London in triumph. It worked then and it works now.

YOUTH AND THE FILMS

(London Daily Mail)

The impression often fostered by earnest "reformers" is that it is harmful for children to visit the cinema frequently. But, as the London County Council found after inquiring among their school children, gangster pictures no more produce gangsters than the old-time "penney dreadful" created a race of criminal desperadoes. The judgment of the young, it is argued, can be credited with a vigorous recognition that "crook drama" is false to everyday life. What do children chiefly wish on the screen? Comedy and cartoons says the report (of the Assistant Under-Secretary of the Home Office). It is interesting that cowboy thrillers are still spellbinders for boys today, while romance continues to enthrall the eternal feminine. In other words, young people want to be entertained. They dislike films considered "suitable," and thrust on them "for their own good." This dramatic judgment in favor of entertainment also applies to grown-ups. They do not go to the pictures to be bored. They are out to be interested and amused by romance, adventure, or spectacle, realistically and freshly portrayed. It is good entertainment that makes a thriving box office.

AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY

(Chicago Tribune)

The objection to present day State Department procedure is precisely that it makes the United States an active agent in world affairs when the Government should be only a watchful guardian of American interests which themselves are but slightly involved. The League of Nations has been abandoned by the nations which had the most to gain from it as a protector of their war gains. It made a pretense of testing itself against Japan, Germany, and Italy; failed because its most powerful members betrayed it, or because it was only a collection of selfish fronts; and now collective security is only an echo of dead pretensions. On several occasions the moral integrity of our State Department sent it out in front of the League, only to be made dangerously ridiculous by the hedging, evasions, and duplicity of the nations with which it was supposed to be co-operating.

"FLAGLER'S FOLLY"

(New York Sun)

The Overseas Highway to Key West, dedicated on July 4, renews one of the great engineering tours de force of all time—"Flagler's Folly," as it was named by the matter-of-fact, the timid and the skeptical when the Florida East Coast Railway stalked out over blue water on its concrete and steel many years ago.

Flagler's Folly is truly in the grand style, such an imperial gesture as only great dynasts have hitherto been able to afford. There is no abuse of words in describing it as colossal. It promises to remain, whatever its utility, for many centuries, a memorial to Mr. Flagler and American engineering. And the same may be said of its recent reconstruction, also folly, perhaps, but a magnificent piece of American engineering that conceivably may be admired as romantic ruin in the dimmest future.

Tourists who hereafter travel this great bridge to Key West will have the strange sensation of motoring out to sea, traffic all but disappearing in places over the horizon. As for Key West, the longest bridge's destination, there are many opinions of its charms or lack of them. But just as Flagler's Folly justifies use of the word colossal, so Key West earns another overworked adjective—unique. The tourists who will make their landfall by motor there next season will have to admit that the town has remained itself in spite of engineering tours de force past and present.

FAINT BUT PURSUING

(Philadelphia Bulletin)

In the torrid South there is a general let-down in business competition when the sun is high; but if there is any sleeping it is with one eye open. No representative business man could sleep naturally beside a cash register unless someone kept the machine's chimes ringing in his subconscious ears. He will admit that he works too hard, that he dines too well, that he has too little rest, but in these parous days an American business man wants to be a tired business man, must be one, and consider himself more lucky than abused if the doctor warns his bones are encased in fat.

TIMELY COMMENTS

The Dean of Westminster will grant permission to open the tomb of Edmund Spenser in the hope of finding there a poem in Shakespeare's own hand, which would be something to settle the question of the authorship of the plays ascribed to him. Some years ago, after a terrible performance of "Hamlet," a Western critic suggested that this was the occasion to settle the dispute between Bacon and Shakespeare for all time. He said that their graves ought to be opened to see which of them had turned over.—Toronto Globe and Mail.

Dr. Manion's speeches sound well, but the policy of reform which he advocates calls for concrete proposals. What concrete measures will his party support that are more advanced, more calculated to improve the common welfare, than the policies of the Liberal party? He speaks of "great things to be achieved, but vague suggestions are not enough and the country awaits a clear statement of his plan of action.—Winnipeg Free Press.

There is much to be said for Dr. Manion's contention that the cost of relief should be met by the nation; or at any rate that part of relief which is due to unemployment rather than unemployability. It is, however, a doctrine more apt to be enunciated by a leader in opposition than by a government which would have to find the money.—Toronto Star.

Those are nasty charges before the Tariff Board that Canadian manufacturers deliberately shorten the lives of their radio tubes and electric bulbs so that the market for them may be maintained. The good name of the Canadian manufacturing industry demands that these charges be disproved.—Brockville Times-Recorder.

Poverty is like a lot of other diseases. It takes a lot of money to cure it.—Guelph Mercury.

If what you did yesterday looks big to you today you haven't done much today.—Moncton Transcript.

GOLDEN WEDDING SENTIMENTS.

(From Marbleton Parsonage)

To Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Weyland today
We extend our best wishes sincere,
And greet as true friends on life's checkered way
To wish you "Best Luck" and "Good Cheer."

For fifty years, through joy and tears
You have braved life together,
And faced the issue of its fears
In every kind of weather.

The years have left their trace of care
And seamed and lined your faces,
They've scattered snow among your hair—
Yet failed to mar your graces.

So, many friends with thoughts sincere
Unite with deepest pleasure,
To wish you both long years of cheer
And health, of fullest measure.

Your springtime and summer of life have passed by
And autumn is fast creeping 'round you,
But as life passes by, on your Saviour rely
And let not earth's problems confound you.

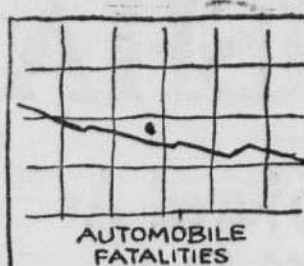

So when you shall near the last lap of this life
May your Saviour be Pilot and Guide,
To lead you across Death's River, so rife
And transport you on Heaven's bright side.

(Just for the sake of "Auld-Lang-Syne")
Your friends join you today;
May we all meet some other time
In a similar friendly way.)

I wish this little poem could Express my thoughts more clearly;—
Perhaps you know, at least you should,
It comes from, — Yours Sincerely,

—E. Mabel McLaren.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

WRONG SUIT CHOICE IN SAVE ATTEMPT RESULTS IN 700 SET

In today's hand East was confronted with a difficult problem after the opening bid, his partner's simple overcall, and North's preemptive raise. If South could make hour hearts, there should be a save in the hand for East and West. It seemed unwise to raise the level of bidding to five by calling five diamonds, hence the questionable raise.

The hand was played in the finals of the amateur team-of-four at the national championships of the American Contract Bridge League at Asbury Park, N.J., in August. It helped give the championship to Mrs. Anne Rosenfeld, Mrs. E. M. Godard, Mrs. B. D. Lavine, and Mrs. H. A. Steiner, as Mrs. Goddard played it against the second place team.

The queen of hearts held the first trick, and North then shifted to the diamond. West read this as a singleton, and went right up with the ace.

He then laid down the spade jack, and Mrs. Goddard (South) refused to win.

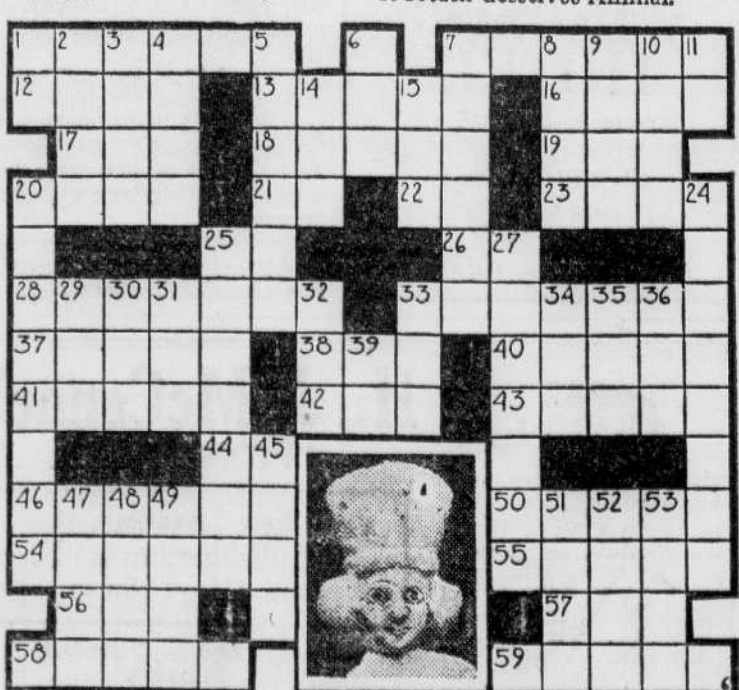

West now led a club and won with the ace, and ruffed a heart in dummy. A low diamond was led, South played the king, and West dropped the queen. However, dummy was put in the lead again by a club return.

There remained in dummy one trump and five diamonds. Hopeless now, declarer led the trump from dummy, South won with the ace and returned a heart. West ruffed leaving him but one trump, and led back a diamond which South won with a trump, returning a heart.

In all, East and West took only two clubs, one diamond, and three trump tricks, going down 700 points.

Granby, Sept. 6.—A quiet wedding took place on Monday evening, August 29, at seven o'clock in St. George's Church. The Rev. I. M. Lidstone performed the ceremony, when Effie Evelyn McComiskey, daughter of Mr. Herbert Cornish, and the late Mrs. Cornish, became the bride of Mr. James Arthur Picard.

The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white shark skin costume with blue trimmings, blue hat and matching accessories.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's father. Only the immediate members of the family were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Picard will reside at "Brownie Castle."

One pint oysters, 12 slices bacon, turn and broil other side about 3 minutes longer, or until bacon is crisp. Remove toothpicks. Serve with lemon juice. Garnish with chopped parsley. Serve at once. Quantities above will serve four to six.

STYLES INSPIRED BY QUEEN'S TRIP

Though the visit to Paris of the British King and Queen was of short duration, the excitement and impressiveness of the pageantry attending their presence served to stimulate designers and, as was to be expected, there were many evidences of it in the Paris August openings. Erik, the milliner, has injected Scotch themes in his new collection, and it is fair to believe that the thistles, plaids, the rose and other familiar Scottish motifs will turn up repeatedly.

As a matter of fact, they have. Any number of plaids, tartans and others, are being worn by those who are bold enough to dare them. The Scotch cap is an old friend; it was worn a lot last season, in fur as well as in felt, and it promises to be bigger and better this season.

The girl who is struggling through the awkward age is a natural for Scotch styles. They seem made for her, which is one reason why one associates plaids and plaids with the schoolroom. But, make no mistake—they are not only at home there, but in much more sophisticated quarters.

And now for a word in passing about other young styles: first, the sweater with which the pleated skirt is worn. Sweaters around waist-length were big favorites this summer, practically taking the place of the separate jacket. And for fall, the general trend for sweaters is brevity of length, though the long ones are longer, following the lead of fall suit jackets. The fuzzy angora which has been so outstanding a success this summer is again very prominent for fall.

Take note of the bloused sweater—an advance style in line with the launching of the bloused silhouette in the newest fall dresses, coats and jackets.

The dirndl, the pet dress for informal wear at every smart resort, is a fall fashion. It's "yes" for the dirndl wherever youthful fashions are of concern, for the dirndl is registering strongly in styles for the college girl.

Harmony Between Employees And Employers Is Essential

labor troubles drove industry away. He said that Sherbrooke workers had always had the good reputation of solving their problems peacefully with their employers and expressed the hope that they would continue to observe this principle.

On behalf of the City, Mayor Armitage congratulated the group on their upgrade. He said that he was in favor of the Minimum Wage Law but declared himself strongly against stipulating the number of hours a man should be allowed to work. "I don't see why a man who wants to work extra should not be permitted to work as long as he wants," he stated. "I believe the number of hours a man should be allowed to work should be left to the individual himself."

In conclusion the Mayor urged the group to co-operate with their employers and to solve their problems in a peaceful manner. Mr. Howard strongly supported the Mayor's words and expressed the hope that the condition of the workers would continue to improve every year.

Other speakers included Omer Paulhus, president of the Syndicate of Central Council, who urged the workers to remain loyal to their union, and Rev. Father Camirand who explained the attitude of the Roman Catholic Church took in regards to the labor class.

In the evening members of the union gathered in the parish hall of the Immaculate Conception Church where several speeches were delivered by members of the N. C. S., including Victor Barrette, editor of the French Ottawa newspaper, "Le Droit." Prizes were also distributed to the winners of the various races held during the course of the afternoon.

At the extreme right place the figure forty-two, with an equals sign before it.

Place the final six before the equals sign.

You know, now, that the only way to make six into forty-two is to multiply it by seven, so place "times" before the six.

You must make the seven into a six now, so before the "times six" place "plus six."

That leaves one left to make into sixes. You know that six divided by six equals one, so you place at the beginning of the series "six divided by six."

The whole now read "six divided by six plus six times six equals forty-two."

AN IMPRESSIVE SERMON GIVEN AT KNOWLTON

Service in United Church conducted by Rev. Dr. R. B. Y. Scott, of Montreal, in absence of Pastor.

Knowlton, Sept. 6.—Service in the United Church was conducted by Rev. Dr. R. B. Y. Scott, of Montreal, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. E. D. Mitchell. At intervals throughout the service the following hymns were sung, "Lord of All Being Throned Afar," "I To the Hills Will Lift Mine Eyes" and "How Firm A Foundation." The fortieth Psalm was read responsively and the Scripture lesson was taken from Isaiah, forty-second and sixty-first chapters, and St. Luke's Gospel, chapter four.

The speaker chose his text from Isaiah, forty-second chapter, verse four: "He shall not fail, nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth; and the isles shall wait for his law."

Following is Mr. Scott's address in part: "Think of these words being given out to the world as a slogan of victory. To the minds of the Jewish people, this prophecy brought a sense of doubt and perplexity. As one views the world of today, Christians must admit that it does not look well for truth, honor, freedom, justice and the supremacy of love. It is not at all strange if we are utterly bewildered as we look into the conditions that exist in our own country. We might well ask what is the great live demon power that seems to possess all nations? What has happened to some of the great countries of our Christian civilization? Are we on the down-grade? Is it the decline of Christianity? Turn to your Bibles and there you will find that this sort of thing has happened again and again."

"The God who gave us Jesus Christ nineteen centuries ago might, if He were a man, be dreadfully discouraged at the slowness of humanity. We sometimes think that we should force our voice about things that are not right, but all things will stand the test of time. We ask, why doesn't God intervene? God is active in the world where we are. God's creation is still going on and his love cannot be defeated. In times of failure, if we would go back to the Bible, we would find something there that would hold us steady. The task of Christianity in this world is too urgent for anyone to quit in the face of discouragement. The temptation of today is to take short cut methods that are not Christian because we will not go the long way of the spirit."

"God has made man in his image. Must we hurry up God and tie him down to the accomplishment of his purpose? We must put ourselves at the disposal of this eternal purpose. In God's own wisdom, He will carry out his plan. May we not shrink in our time, but believe that in the end the divine purpose will be accomplished and in that knowledge we may serve Him."

U.S. RETAIN DAVIS CUP FOR ANOTHER YEAR

Foot-Faults Cost Quist His Chances For Crown

Budge Defeated Australian by Scores of 8-6, 6-1, 6-2 in Match that Settled Challenge Round at Germantown Cricket Club Yesterday—Quist, His Confidence Shaken, Lost Service Eight Straight Times.

Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The glittering Davis Cup, symbolic of world tennis supremacy, remains in the United States for another year, and the maligned foot-fault has reared its ugly head again.

When Donald Budge had finished with Adrian Quist, of Australia, by scores of 8-6, 6-1, 6-2 in the match that settled the challenge round out at the Germantown Cricket Club yesterday, Frank Hunter, an old American Internationalist, said "Gee, it made me feel like I was in Paris again."

Hunter referred to the fact that after the French had won the big trophy from the United States eleven years ago, challenging American teams complained that French line judges were extremely valuable in the French cup defence, and international black looks were exchanged one year when Wilmer Allison thought he had defeated Gene Borota, of France, in the deciding match but couldn't make it stick.

What happened yesterday was that an American line judge, one Harold La Bar, of New York, called a series of disconcerting foot-faults against Quist at the exact point in the opening set when the little Australian was blazing hot and threatening to give the world's top amateur a trimming.

Whether Quist in any circumstances could have jockeyed Budge and carried the challenge round to the final match between Bobby Riggs and Jack Bromwich is subject to serious doubt, but the decisions cost the invader whatever chance he had and made the crowd of over 9,000 fighting mad.

Harry Hopman, captain of the Australians, didn't complain. He said he thought Quist was foot-faulting. What the crowd and several prominent American tennis officials complained about was the way La Bar waited until the most critical points of the all-important first set. It broke Quist's confidence so completely that he proceeded to lose his service eight straight times, possibly a record for big-time tennis.

Budge's tennis had been so indifferent on the previous day, when he and Gene Mako lost the doubles match to Quist and Bromwich by 6-8, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2, that there was active fear he would lose to Quist. Some experts still thought after the match that Quist might have pulled it off but for his service lapses.

As things turned out, Budge's

Victory was the vital one, because Bromwich beat the tar out of Riggs in the concluding singles match, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2, giving a final winning margin of only 3-2 over the scrapping Aussies.

The scores scarcely show it, but the two baby members of the teams played the most sensational tennis of the entire series. Whether the result would have been the same if Riggs had needed to win the bout is problematical, but there no longer is any doubt that the nineteen-year-old Bromwich is a fine player now and that he will be a serious threat to the Cup next year.

ITALIAN COUNT IS WINNER OF RACING TROPHY

Gold Cup Symbolizing Speedboat Championship of North America in Theoretical Possession of Italy Today.

Detroit, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The thirty-five-year-old gold cup that symbolizes the speedboat championship of North America was in the theoretical possession of Italy today.

Count Theo Rossi, who holds a variety of speedboat records and goes in for bobbed competition, captured the trophy on the Detroit river yesterday by piloting his Alagi, nineteen-foot red and black hydroplane with an Isotta-Fraschini motor, to a three-heat victory over two youngsters from California.

The trophy, however, remains in Detroit, and Rossi will return next year to defend it. Rossi reced under the sponsorship of the Miss Detroit Power Boat Association.

Of eight boats originally entered in the gold cup, only Alagi and Miss Golden Gate completed all three heats. Three failed to start and three were forced out with mechanical or other trouble.

Miss Canada III, driven by Harold Wilson, of Ingersoll, Ont., with his wife, Lorna, as riding mechanic, captured third prize by finishing third in the second heat.

She was giving Alagi a blistering battle in the first thirty-mile race until her oil scavenging pump went awry. That put the Canadian craft out of that engagement, but she came back in the second, ran through it at a reduced speed and was within a lap of finishing the final heat in second place when the oil pump gave up for good and the boat had to be towed from the course.

Rossi's boat, a single seater, performed perfectly throughout the race. He broke his own lap record for three miles, reaching 72.7076 miles an hour.

Adam and Eve were naming the animals of the earth when along came a rhinoceros.

"What shall we call this one?" asked Adam.

"Let's call it a rhinoceros," replied Eve.

"But why a rhinoceros?"

"Well, because it looks more like a rhinoceros than anything we've named yet."

PIRATES' LEAD IS SHEARED BY TWO SETBACKS

Pittsburgh Defeated Twice by Cubs While Reds Won Twice from Cardinals—Yanks Beat Athletics.

Pittsburgh Pirates, who stumbled around for weeks without suffering any damage beyond that to their self-esteem, today awoke to the fact that the law of baseball averages, as well as the Reds and Cubs, are catching up with them.

Emerging from yesterday's holiday festivities on the short end of two games with Chicago, the battered Buccaners also discovered that their National League lead had been cut by two full games. For while Cubs were whipping them 3-0 and 4-3, Reds were taking 4-3 and 4-2 decisions from the Cardinals—a combination of circumstances which left Cincinnati only four games off the pace in second place and Chicago five games away in third.

It is a situation which threatens to become even more unpleasant for the Pirates' pennant-aspiring crew. For one thing the Reds, getting their second wind coming down the home stretch, have won eight of their last nine, while the Pirates have taken only one out of five.

For another, the Pirates still have nine games to play with Cincinnati, two of them this week. For a third, the Reds' pitching staff should be strengthened any day now (perhaps today) by the return of Johnny Vander Meer, and for a fourth, if a fourth is needed, that same staff is getting along right nicely without "No-Hit John."

Yesterday, for instance, Bill McKechnie called on two of his question marks, and the question marks promptly turned into exclamation points. It's true that Bill had to hustle in Paul Derringer from the bullpen to pull Jim Weaver out of a hole and the opener out of the fire. But big Jim had allowed only four hits up to that point, and as added relief to the oft-harassed McKechnie, Rookie Red Barrett won his second straight in as many attempts in the nightcap, in which he held the Cards to seven hits.

Four of the other bargain bills also resulted in clean sweeps. In the National League, Tot Plessnell was charged with both defeats as Boston Bees turned back Brooklyn Dodgers 5-4 and 5-3.

In the American League Yankees beat Athletics 5-2 and 6-3; Red Sox whipped Senators 14-4 and 8-6, and Indians won their sixth and seventh straight, over White Sox, by scores of 8-4 and 4-2. The Yankees victories were the fourteenth of the year for Spud Chandler and Monte Pearson, while Lou Gehrig broke his own major league record and tied Babe Ruth's lifetime mark by topping one hundred runs driven in for the thirteenth straight year.

Giants, after Cliff Melton had pitched a three hit, 7-0 shutout in the opener, got no better than an even break with Phils, who took the nightcap 4-3 as Al Hollingsworth struck out seven.

Tigers and Browns also split. St. Louis winning the first 3-2 on Southern "Howard" Mills' four-hit pitching and Detroit the six-inning nightcap 9-3 in which Eldon Auker got credit for the victory before a line drive by Beau Bell knocked him down. The submarine-hallier had to be carried from the field.

SOREL EDGED OUT SAINTS IN OPENER
Sorel, Sept. 6.—Upsetting St. Hyacinthe pushed over three runs in the eighth yesterday for a 7-4 victory and a one-all deadlock with Sorel in their four in seven series for the provincial baseball crown.

Playing at home, the first-batters scored a 3-2 win Sunday. The series continues today at Sorel. The homesters tallied twice in the first frame yesterday and collected another brace in the seventh after Sorel's last in the second, third and fourth.

In the last of the eighth Doman and Jim Irving singled and then pulled a double steal. Sweeney and O'Flaherty flied out, Swan singled and Fox clouted a sack-clearing triple.

The visitors got another in the final frame. Sorel, Sept. 6.—Upsetting St. Hyacinthe three to two on Sunday afternoon, the powerful Sorel nine took a one-game lead as the four in seven series for the championship of the Provincial Baseball League got underway.

After both teams had scored single tallies in the seventh St. Hyacinthe went ahead two to one on a brace of sacrifices and a single, but in their last turn at bat Galen tripled and crossed the plate on Nichol's sacrifice while Booley doubled to score Helixon.

Last-Stretch Sprint Wins For Munkittrick

Local Youth Flashed to Brilliant Victory in Montreal-Sherbrooke Race—Montreal Entry Takes Granby-Sherbrooke Jaunt for Novices—Professional Winner's Time Slower than Munkittrick's.

Crossing the finish line four lengths ahead of Roland Cyr, of Montreal, Harold Munkittrick, of this city, topped a field of twenty-three riders on Sunday in the Montreal-Sherbrooke bicycle race.

Leaving Longueuil at 8:22 o'clock in the morning, the local rider covered the distance of slightly over ninety-eight miles in four hours and twenty-five minutes.

A short distance out of Longueuil Munkittrick and Cyr, Parent and Andy McConnell, of Montreal, broke away from the pack and jockeyed back and forth until a fall near Magog forced Parent to drop behind.

Crossing Belvidere street practically neck and neck, Munkittrick and Cyr went all out for the tape opposite the Central School but in the final sprint the Sherbrooke youth pulled ahead, McConnell finished third, close behind Cyr.

In a special race for professionals, in which six competed, Pierre Gachon, of Montreal, defeated Florvanti Baggio by the scant margin of half a wheel. Gachon's time of four hours and thirty-two minutes was seven minutes slower than that recorded by Munkittrick.

M. Gelin, of the Comoy Cycling Club, Montreal, won a Granby-Sherbrooke jaunt for novices, covering the distance in two hours and fifty minutes. Gachon, Riff, and Sherbrooke, lost a fine chance for victory when he fell in the valley between the "Twin Hills."

The racers were greeted upon arrival by Mayor Marcus Armitage, Aldermen Alex Ross and E. J. E. Lacroix and City Clerk Anton Desjardins. At the City Hall the Mayor welcomed the officials and winners of the three races and congratulated the organizers of the event.

Responding to the welcome of the Mayor, A. Pelletier, president of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association, complimented the city on the efficient manner in which traffic had been handled so as not to interfere with the finish of the race and expressed the hope that it would be possible to secure similar co-operation from provincial authorities.

Brief remarks were made by Jules Bernier, vice-chairman of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association, Henri Gachon, president of the Canadian Cycling Club, Arthur Vincent, Alex Vincent, J. A. Rouleau, Eugene LeBlonde, Pierre Gachon and Harold Munkittrick.

Prizes were distributed at Munkittrick's Bicycle Shop by Henri Gachon, and later in the afternoon racers and officials were entertained at the Tuque Rouge Snowsae Club.

Riders from the Burlington, Vt., Sherbrooke, Hamilton, Ont., Granby, Comoy, Wolfe, Quilicot, Piazza and Canadian clubs took part in the races. The amateur events were sponsored by the Canadian Cycle Club and recognized by the Canadian Wheelmen's Association.

up to form in the Labor Day double bills.

Syracuse, after having an easy time with Baltimore Orioles all year, dropped two to the aroused flock, seven to five and three to two, while Montreal overhauled Toronto and took fifth place by downing Rochester nine to four and seven to two. Newark took two from Jersey Giants, seven to six and thirteen to six, to extend its streak over Giants to nine straight and establish an edge of seventeen to five in the season's series.

Pitching won for the Bisons. Art Jacobs came in and saved the opener after Bob Kline had weakened in the sixth. Ken Ash outpitched a trio of Toronto hurlers to win his fourth victory of the season in the nightcap.

Dan Carnevale's two-run double was the deciding blow in the second game.

Hitting was light around the league but Newark's potent batters didn't have to hit. The Jersey City hurlers served up twenty-five bases on balls in the two games.

GOLF

EXPECT HIGH SCORES IN TOURNAMENT.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The famed Hades of Hulton has lost some of the heat (thirty traps and bunkers) but the boys are offering odds not more than two of the 168 contestants in the National Amateur Golf Tournament will shoot below seventy this week.

"I think the odds should be at least two to one," grinned Emil Loeffler, gray-haired professional of the Oakmont Country Club, today.

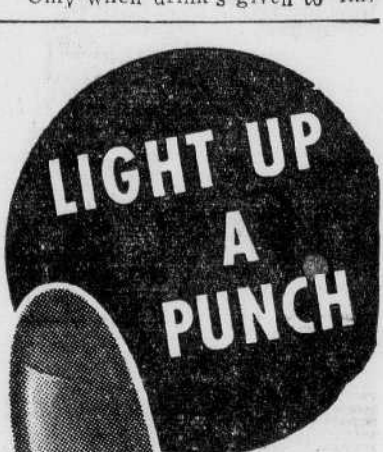

A lot of the pros even today have little but harsh words for Loeffler because of the hard rolled greens and furrowed traps three years ago that sent scores soaring in the National Open.

"Removing those traps helps the man who is in the 90's, but they don't help the par golfer a lot," Loeffler said.

Par is 72, but the yardage, almost 7,000, and the impedimenta make true par at least 75. Loeffler shot the lowest score posted, a 67, not in competition, "Light Horse" Harry Cooper, then of Buffalo, got a 68 in qualifying for the National Open in 1929, the record for competition. Loeffler made the lowest 36-hole score in competition, 70-71.
