New Weapons Developed At Valcartier

By KEN STEWART
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Quebec, Nov. 19.—Guided missile and bazooka-type weapons are being designed at the Canadian armament research and development establishment, 17 miles northwest of Quebec City near Valcartier military camp.

This was learned yesterday during a tour of the establishment conducted for newspaper and radio men.

While names and details were not disclosed, it was learned they are developed from initial conception to production of the prototype at Cardé.

Cardé is one of the largest of the defence research board's 12 establishments across Canada, from Halifax to Vancouver. It is here that a phase of Canada's defence effort which is relatively unknown is being carried on.

The establishment is made up of a combination of units provided by the army, the inspection board of Canada and the United Kingdom, and the National Research Council.

Cardé adopted its present name when it was taken over by the Defence Research Board on the latter's formation in 1947. Two years later, army personnel employed there were formed into a military unit but remained integrated with Cardé. In 1950 the R.C. A.F. formed a unit on the same basis to participate in air force armament development projects.

The Cardé site is split in two by a highway. One contains administrative buildings, machine shops, an explosive chemistry plant and other facilities. The second comprises an office block, general stores, gun and carriage stores, a huge aeroballistics range, and a variety of ballistics measurement buildings. Firing ranges and butts for proof and ballistics trials complete the establishment.

Direction of Cardé's technical work is carried out by the superintendents of technical wings who report to Dr. Hugh Massey Barrett, chief superintendent.

One of Canada's most distinguished scientists, Dr. Barrett took over operations at Cardé this month after heading the Defence Research Board's huge Suffield Experimental Station in Alberta.

Dr. Barrett, a native of Moose Jaw, is an authority on biological and chemical warfare. He reports to Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the Defence Research Board since its formation in 1947.

Dr. Barrett said the Cardé establishment is the whole of the defence research effort of the Defence Research Board. Much of the work carried on here is very highly classified or secret, and reason finished items could not be shown.

One of its most complex operations is the aeroballistics wing. Here scientists under D. W. Greenwood of Stratford, test velocities of various projectiles in flight in a 760-foot indoor firing range.

Tender Of Sherbrooke Record Publisher And Associates Accepted By Executors Of McCullough Estate.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—(CP)—The Telegram, one of Toronto's three daily newspapers, has been sold to John Bassett, Jr., and Associates. Price was not disclosed. Mr. Bassett is the present general manager of the paper.

The executors of the estate of the late George McCullough, who owned both the evening Telegram and the morning Globe and Mail, announced acceptance of a tender from Mr. Bassett and Associates for the issued capital stock of the Telegram Publishing Company. Effective date of the stock transfer is Dec. 1.

The successful bid was the highest of several received by the executors when tenders closed yesterday at 4:30 P.M.

Associated directly with Mr. Bassett in the transaction is A. W. J. Buckland, the paper's managing editor and a Telegram executive for 27 years.

The announcement did not say how many bids the executors received. However it was learned that tenders were submitted by William Loeb, publisher of the Manchester, N.H., Union-Leader, and Jack Kent Cooke, Toronto radio station owner and magazine publisher.

Mr. McCullough, who died last Aug. 5, purchased the Telegram four years ago from the estate of the late John Ross Robertson for $3,510,000.

Mr. Bassett, 37, is the son of John Bassett, president of the Montreal Gazette. He was appointed general manager of the Telegram in 1944.

After the war he became owner and publisher of the Sherbrooke, Que., Record, a position he still holds.

Mr. Buckland was born at Burks Falls, Ont., the son of the late Rev. C. H. Buckland of Guelph.

He worked on newspapers at Detroit, Windsor and London, Ont., before joining the Telegram where he served under one of Canada's most noted editors, the late John R. (Black Jack) Robinson.

When he announced last Oct. 23 the decision to sell the paper, Mr. Langford said "the disposal of so promising a property as the Telegram is further evidence of the terrific impact of the modern taxing system." He said that in selling the shares, rather than the assets of the 76-year-old newspaper, "the executors had in mind holding to a minimum any disturbance in the management, staff or readers themselves."

The Telegram purchase in 1948 was the third major newspaper deal for Mr. McCullough. In 1936 he bought the Toronto Globe for $1,850,000 and the Toronto Mail and Empire for $2,020,000, merging them into the Globe and Mail.

In 1948, the Telegram's circulation was 196,004 daily. Last month it was 226,744 daily. The Globe and Mail's October circulation was 237,689 daily. The Toronto Star, the city's third daily newspaper, had a daily circulation last month of 396,443.

Mr. Robertson founded the Telegram April 18, 1876. After his death in 1918, the trustees of the estate published the newspaper until 1944 when it was sold to Mr. McCullough.

Under John Ross Robertson the newspaper was outspoken in its support of the Orange Order and the Conservative party. It took a keen interest in municipal affairs and attained a profound influence on Toronto's city government.

Black Jack Robinson, a colorful figure, maintained the traditions established by the founder.

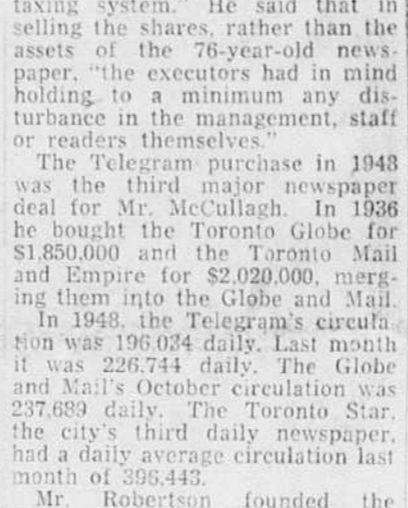

Until 1923, the Telegram devoted its front page to classified advertising. Then it followed the general trend among Canadian newspapers of putting the day's top news on the first page.

From the late 1920s until 1948, the paper developed a reputation for conservatism in its news treatment. Under Mr. McCullough, that was changed and it developed a livelier tone and brighter appearance.

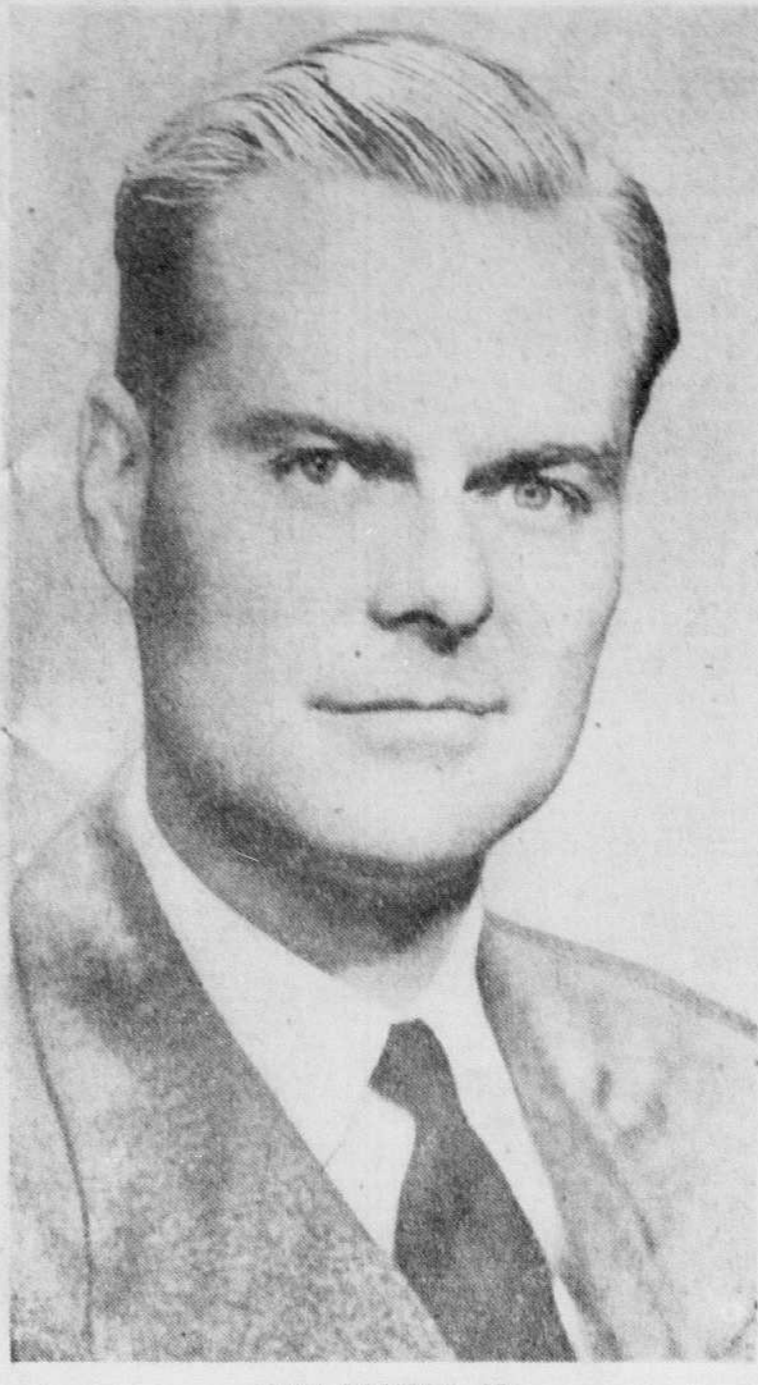

London, Nov. 19.—(Reuters)—Bertrand Russell, 80-year-old philosopher, announced today he is engaged to be married to Miss Edith Cavell, the prospective bride, his fourth, is the daughter of Edward Bronson Finch of New York. Earl Russell's three previous marriages ended in divorce.

Premier Duplessis Speaks About Quebec's Tax Rights

Quebec, Nov. 19.—Premier Duplessis renewed his pleas for definition of federal provincial taxation rights during the Throne speech debate in the Legislative Assembly yesterday.

In an hour-long speech Mr. Duplessis said Quebec needs all revenues it is entitled to under the Canadian constitution and spoke of federal "encroachments" in provincial tax fields.

Referring to federal grants to universities he said Ottawa has millions to grant for education purposes they were "stolen" from the provinces.

He said the provinces have exclusive jurisdiction in education matters and that was one point on which the Quebec government would never yield.

The 62-year-old government leader followed Liberal opposition leader George Marler who opened the debate with a 1½-hour speech.

Mr. Marler claimed the Union Nationale party was not interested in business-like administration of the province but "power at any cost."

Mr. Marler said "no government ever spent as much money as the Union Nationale administration did last summer's provincial elections."

Budget expenditures forecast at $260,000,000 were over reached he said and $36,000,000 in short-term bank loans were made by the government and now the government was negotiating a $25,000,000 loan on the New York market.

Mr. Duplessis said Liberals were disappointed in their defeat. In a clear, popular vote, he said, 67 Union Nationale members were elected against 22 Liberals.

One independent also sits in the 92-seat assembly and there are two vacancies.

Mr. Duplessis said the opposition leader was wrong in thinking political convictions of Quebec voters could be bought.

"He has no right to make unjust statements which reflect on a race and a province," Mr. Duplessis said.

The opposition leader, he said, inferred that the Union Nationale party did not allow the electorate to vote freely.

But he said there was no worse blackmail than that practiced by the Liberals in 1939 when mothers were told there would be conscription unless the Liberal party was re-elected in Quebec.

Conscription was one of the issues in the 1939 provincial campaign which resulted in defeat of the first Union Nationale administration.

Farming came in for a large share of the debate.

Premier Duplessis said gross income of the 1939 Farmers' election of $8,910,000,000 in 1944 to $8,910,000,000 in 1951.

Sixty per cent of farmers benefit from electricity. The government paid for upkeep of 24,000 miles of roads and 19,110 miles of winter roads.

It assisted in establishment of 14,500 farmers' sons through government farm loans.

Mr. Marler said Quebec farmers had not increased their income comparatively with Ontario farmers.

He urged re-organization of the government's agricultural service and intensified propaganda to popularize use of chemical fertilizers on Quebec farms.

Mr. Marler said the government should share some of its revenues from the tax 13 cents a gallon of gasoline with large municipalities. Montreal maintained a vast road network but received no share of the gasoline tax.

The government should also consider relieving the large municipalities of public assistance costs. This had been done for small municipalities.

Mr. Marler said at any rate the Government's policy with regards to public assistance should be revised since the current distribution was not adequate.

Passenger Ferry Runs Amok, Ignores Stop, Runs Into Shore

Nanaimo, B.C., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Failure of an electrical signal system was blamed today for the shore-landing antics of the Princeton of Nanaimo, the big car-passenger ferry which didn't stop when she tried to dock.

Companies operating eight tugs standing by at the scene were confident the 6,200-ton vessel could be refloated at high tide today and said it appeared the ferry was not seriously damaged.

The Nanaimo piloted ashore here last night to a chorus of screaming passengers after slicing a path through moored fishboats and a landing which contained a marine gas and oil station.

Fishermen and their families sprinted to safety by seconds as the Nanaimo, on the tail end of her 35-mile run from Vancouver, shot 100 yards past her landing berth at this Vancouver island city.

Nobody was hurt, neither ashore nor on the ferry, which was carrying 119 passengers and 35 cars, far below its capacity.

A spokesman for the G.P.R.'s coast steamship service said the grounding appeared to have been caused by "failure of the mechanical connection between the telegraph standard in the wheelhouse and the electrical telegraph system."

He said company officials were told by the skipper, Capt. Ralph Carthew, and the chief engineer, L. G. Dauphin, that the ship continued to move forward after the mechanical signal had been given for engines to be put in reverse.

"It was then noticed the revolution counter in the wheelhouse showed engines going ahead," he said. "A warning whistle was sounded for fishboats ahead."

Passengers were removed from the Nanaimo by the motor vessel Atrevida, the last of them reaching shore three hours after the accident.

Only 30 gallons of gas were freed by the collision but Andrew Murdoch, operator of the smashed marine station, said: "If it had happened an hour earlier the whole bay would have been a mass of fire."

The Nanaimo only severed the pipes leading from the storage tanks on shore to the station. An hour earlier the pipes were open and Murdoch said an accident then would have "spilled the works"—9,000 gallons.

Her wanderings left the Nanaimo with 100 yards of the Nanaimo post office, with a 10-degree list to starboard and her stern wedged between the shore and the wharf.

The Princess Marguerite took over the Nanaimo's midnight run to Vancouver and will continue on the route until the Nanaimo is back in service. The Princess Joan and Elizabeth will fill in on the Vancouver-Victoria run.

Trapped Five Days In Car, Woman Lives

Hamburg, Ia., Nov. 19.—(AP)—A 60-year-old grandmother lay injured and helpless for five days and nights in the wreckage of a car concealed in a weeded gully beside a busy highway.

In hospital today doctors described her condition as "remarkably good" in view of her experience—"a case for the medical books."

The woman, Mrs. Glen McKnight, suffered severe shock, a broken left hip, a broken left arm and several fractured ribs. Her only food had been a few pieces of food as her only drink a little rain water and a bottle of boric acid.

Her 120 hours of prayer and pain ended yesterday when a highway grader operator spotted the wrecked auto from his high cab and summoned help.

Mrs. McKnight was driving from St. Joseph, Mo., to Bronson, Ia., last Thursday when she apparently lost control of her car on a curve. The car plunged down a 40-foot embankment and overturned against a culvert.

Her injuries were so severe she wedged on top of her prevented the light switch or horn to attract attention of the hundreds of passing motorists.

Then yesterday Jack Kraschel "just happened to look back for some reason" and saw the almost hidden car.

When he reached it, Kraschel said, Mrs. McKnight exclaimed: "Thank God! I am sure glad I sent someone to find me."

Kraschel said she grabbed my hand and held on tight as he then asked me for water. She told me she had not suffered a bit. She is really some woman."

Dr. Ralph Lovelady reported: "This is a case for the medical books. At her age and with her injuries it would have been bad."

Red Attacks In Korea Are Beaten Back

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
Seoul, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Allied infantry, chilled to the bone by the winter's coldest weather, threw back violent Red assaults on Korea's western front today.

On the central front, South Korean troops held their ground against repeated Chinese thrusts at Sniper Ridge. Figuring there has raged almost unabated for 37 days.

Temperatures across the front dropped to eight degrees.

In their western front attack the Chinese smashed into allied lines on the hook, a strategic height northeast of Panmunjon.

They struck first at 9:45 last night after a 45-minute softening-up barrage of mortar and artillery. Allied artillery countered with a thunderous barrage.

The initial charge was hurled back about midnight after savage close-quarter fighting.

The Reds attacked in strength again at 1:15 a.m. and dented the UN lines. Forty minutes later an allied counter-attack swept them back down the slopes.

One of the Reds attacked in force, this time at 4:10 a.m. Again they closed to hand-to-hand fighting, but for the third time the Eighth Army troops stood their ground. Fighting continued sporadically until 8:10 a.m.

The Chinese attacks on Sniper Ridge were primarily light jabs. Then the Reds pulled back to let their big artillery open up. Allied planes flew more than 60 sorties against Red positions this afternoon.

Nearly 200 Chinese smashed at allied-held Pimpoin Hill in the half-light of dawn. The South Koreans held their ground and the Reds were forced to withdraw 46 minutes later.

A smaller force of Reds hit Pin

Eisenhower Plans Meeting With Senior Republicans

By RELMAN MORIN
New York, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower scheduled a series of conferences today with some of the anchor men in the Republican party, and moved with speed and vigor toward assuming the vast responsibilities of the Presidency.

It is generally believed that topics—Korea and the new cabinet—will dominate the talks today.

Eisenhower flew here from Washington after he conferred with President Truman and the defence officials yesterday. New York will be the General's headquarters until he leaves for Washington and his inauguration Jan. 20.

Eisenhower planned to see Senators Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Styles Bridges of New Hampshire and Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin.

The schedule also listed as callers Representative Joseph Martin of Massachusetts and Lewis K. Gough, national commander of the American Legion.

No information about the subjects of the conferences has been given.

But the line-up of men suggested:

1. Korea. Gough has just returned from a trip into the war zone. Wiley, a member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations, recently urged the President-elect to send a representative to the U.N. to support the American position in the debate on Korea. He said Eisenhower invited him to discuss foreign policy when the General had returned to New York.

2. Eisenhower's thoughts about his cabinet. Taft told a press conference yesterday that Eisenhower had asked him for suggestions on top-level appointments, including cabinet posts.

3. The legislative program. Taft and Martin, likely choice for Speaker of the House of Representatives in the next session, probably will go into Eisenhower's office together to discuss that question.

4. The organization of the Senate, plans for the inauguration, and some fiscal matters.

5. A report by Eisenhower on his talks with Truman and his own plan to go to Korea.

A joint Truman-Eisenhower statement issued after the White House meeting said in part: "We have worked out a framework for liaison and exchange of information between the present administration and the incoming administration." It added, however: "Gen. Eisenhower has not been asked to assume any of the responsibilities of the President until he takes the oath of office."

What Eisenhower is doing is preparing himself for the job, getting information, setting up a system of liaison with the outgoing administration and mapping plans for his own.

From the White House, Eisenhower went to the Pentagon—U.S. defence headquarters—yesterday. The talks there, he said, were "of a distinctly military flavor."

Presumably, that meant Korea, primarily. His projected trip to the war zone may have come into it as well.

When Truman Nov. 5 offered Eisenhower the use of the presidential plane for the trip, the General replied that he would call on the secretary of defence to provide him with military transport.

Eisenhower may have given defence officials the date when he plans to leave for the Korean front in an announced effort to bring the war to a successful conclusion.

Prisoner Escapes From Penitentiary

Kingston, Nov. 19.—Police today said they believe a prisoner who escaped Monday from Kingston penitentiary had an accomplice on the outside who aided his getaway.

David Kidd, 25, of Ottawa bolted from a work gang at the prison farm's pigery as the men were about to be returned to the penitentiary. He had completed 18 months of a five-year sentence on 12 charges of house-breaking, automobile theft and forgery.

Kidd's prison grab was found at a quarry near the pigery. Police said the change of clothing possibly was supplied by a confederate.

Indian Delegate Will Boost Nation's Plan For Korea

United Nations, N.Y., Nov. 19.—(AP)—India's V. K. Krishna Menon takes the U.N. stump today to urge east and west to accept his compromise plan for ending the bitter prisoner-of-war deadlock holding up a Korean armistice.

So far, neither the United States nor Russia apparently looked with favor on the proposal.

The 55-year-old Indian delegate was expected to explain in detail to the General Assembly's political committee his resolution calling for a four-power commission to supervise the non-forcible repatriation of prisoners and to care for those who don't want to go home until a political conference decided their fate.

Canada was reported to strongly support the resolution along with Britain and all the other Commonwealth countries, France, most Arab-Asian states and the Scandinavian countries.

Menon's hardest task was to overcome the strong objections to the major points of his proposal already voiced by the U.S. delegation. At the same time he had to convince the communist bloc, which has maintained a cautious silence since the resolution was circulated Monday afternoon.

Poland, also scheduled to speak at this afternoon's session on the Korean debate, might offer some hint of the official communist reaction. The plan, while containing points they have demanded, still runs counter to their stand that all prisoners must be sent home whether they want to or not. The only communist plan so far has been that the plan didn't go far enough.

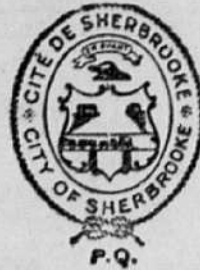

Although U.S. spokesmen have expressed the belief the Indian plan will not work and have raised several arguments concerning its main points, the U.S. delegation has not rejected it outright.

But their quick negative reaction met opposition from Canada and a number of the other U.S. allies who think the plan has a chance of bringing about an end to the shooting in Korea and that it should be studied seriously.

Menon was said to have been extremely irritated that U.S. objections were voiced even before he explained the resolution to the committee.

The yacht Williamsburg, owned by the United States government, is maintained exclusively for the use of the President.

Drummondville Man Killed In Motor Accident

Drummondville, Nov. 19. — Alphonse Beauchemin, aged 35 years, of 140, 9th Avenue, St. Jean Baptiste, met instant death Wednesday morning around 10 a.m., in the vicinity of Notre-Dame. According to the report of the fatality by police constable Oram Turcotte, the victim was driving towards Drummondville when he collided with a road-grader operated by the provincial department of roads. Both vehicles were crossing the bridge that spans the Nicolet River, when the mishap occurred. Within a split second a truck, driven by Camille Joyal, of Drummondville, crashed into the rear of the car, both drivers escaping injury. The truck slightly damaged was able to proceed on its way, but Mr. Beauchemin's automobile was badly battered by the double mishap and he phoned for the assistance of a tow truck. While the victim was adjusting the chain around his front bumper, another car, driven by Gerald Heffernan, of Montreal, appeared on the narrow bridge. The application of brakes sent the automobile out of control and it crashed into the rear of the already badly damaged automobile, crushing Mr. Beauchemin to death between the two vehicles.

$35,000 Damage Caused As Fire Guts Ascot Corner Store In Early Morning

A fire of undetermined origin this morning gutted the Rodrigue Bergeron general store at Ascot Corner and damaged Mr. Bergeron's feed store beside it. Damage was estimated at $35,000, "very little of that covered by insurance."

At nine o'clock this morning firemen from Sherbrooke, commanded by Director W. P. Donahue, were still pouring water on the interior of the destroyed store, which also served as the outlet for White Rose gasoline. The fire broke at a few minutes past four o'clock this morning.

The authorization to summon the Sherbrooke Fire Department, which sent down two fire wagons, was given by J. A. Renaud, secretary-treasurer of Ascot Corner, who phoned the brigade in Sherbrooke when he was awakened by a phone call from Miss Marie-Laure Couture, who lives near the store.

Mr. Renaud, who operates a chick hatchery across the St. Francis River from the village proper, could see the flames through his window even from that distance, when he was awakened by Miss

Top photo shows the head table personalities at the banquet which was attended by 269 persons. Seated, left to right, are: Mayor Emile Levesque, Fair chairman Gerald Wiggett, president Lewis Rosenbloom, R. L. Curphey, chairman of the Fair finance committee, and E. W. Gilbey, co-chairman of the Fair. Standing, left to right, are: Director W. P. Donahue, of the Fire Department, D. J. Salls, chairman of the first Fair, Lt. Col. Roland Codere, commanding officer of Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, and Redmond Hayes, Q.C., who represented Hon. J. S. Bourque.

269 Persons Attend Rotary Banquet As Club Thanks Workers At The Fair

The Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night thanked in tangible manner the many persons who had assisted at the Rotary Fair, at the weekly supper meeting in the New Sherbrooke Hotel. A total of 269 Rotarians and helpers were seated at the banquet.

At the head table were: W. P. Donahue, Director of the Fire Department, who had distributed the prizes at Children's Day; Lt. Col. Roland Codere, commanding officer, Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, whose armory was the site of the Fair; D. J. Salls, chairman of the first Rotary fair; Mayor Emile Levesque, immediate past president of Rotary; Gerald Wiggett, Fair chairman; R. L. Curphey, chairman of the finance committee; E. W. Gilbey, assistant chairman of the Fair; B. N. Holtham, Q.C., who originated the Fair; Redmond Hayes, Q.C., representing Hon. J. S. Bourque, and president Lewis Rosenbloom.

Following the introduction of head table guests and Bill Davis, a visiting Rotarian from Hamilton, Ont., President Rosenbloom thanked the volunteer workers for their wonderful contribution to the success of the 21st annual Fair. He stated that the Fair workers displayed a wonderful spirit of co-operation and had worked extremely hard. Mayor E. Levesque voiced the appreciation of the club and stressed that it was not for the volunteer workers the job could not have been done.

A defective amplifier permitted an opportunity for Tom Keeley to conduct a sing song with assistance in the Scotch numbers by Alec Davidson and topped with Alouette led by Mayor Levesque.

Following the singing President Rosenbloom turned the meeting over to Gerald Wiggett, who expressed his appreciation to the following: the military, Lt. Col. Codere and Maj. Cathcart, the City of Sherbrooke, the Canada Packers Co. Limited, the City Police and Fire Department, St. John Ambulance Brigade, the press, the general public and the Air Cadets who acted as messengers. Were it not for "friends of Rotary" the success of the Fair would not have been possible, he stated.

Wiggett had exemplified the Rotary principal of "Service Above Self." Chairman Wiggett also expressed appreciation to the finance committee who worked behind the scenes to count and bank the proceeds.

Hon. treasurer Robert Curphey gave the financial report and stated that it marked a good increase over last year.

Walter Sutherland, chairman of the Superfine Booth, added humor to the occasion by presenting Cliff Bryant, chairman of Bingo, with an "Oscar" in recognition of Bingo's victory over Superfine in gross proceeds. Bingo had been accused of selling "milk tickets" (strips of tickets for their booth) thus Oscar took the form of a cow. Flowers were also presented to Mr. Bryant.

Mr. Bryant expressed the desire for a larger "cow" next year when he forecast an even greater victory over Superfine. In bringing the meeting to a close President Rosenbloom stressed the fact that the proceeds from the Fair were placed in the Service Fund which was used only for crippled children and needy cases, none of the fair proceeds were used for other club expenses. A dance followed the banquet.

Mr. Curphey's statement showed that net profit (estimated) this year was $10,050 compared with $6,791 in 1951, an increase of $3,259.

Booth receipts (gross for merchandising booths, net for others) were $15,163 from which is deducted the estimated cost of merchandise—$6,700—which leaves $8,463 to which is added $5,000 estimated net profit on sale of raffle tickets and donations amounting to $37. The general expenses of the Fair amounted to an estimated $3,450.

Total sales from the various booths are as follows: Superfine, $2,690; Bingo, $2,949; Blankets, $1,899; Hams and Chickens, $1,053; Fruit, $1,570; Horse Race, $1,410; Candy, $357; Hosiery, $417; Hoop La, $301; Electrical, $814; Grocer-

E. Sylvestre Wins Ribbons At Toronto

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Roslyn Samaras S.A., owned by Don Head Farms of suburban Richmond Hill yesterday was named senior and grand champion Jersey female at the Royal Agricultural Winter fair.

Senior and grand champion Canadian breed female was Madeleine IA, owned by Ernest Sylvestre of St. Hyacinthe, Que. Another Quebec breeder, L. A. Sylvestre of Clairvaux Bagot, showed the reserve senior and reserve grand champion, Sylvestre Farouche Y12. Ernest Sylvestre also won the Dr. J. A. Couture trophy, donated by the Canadian Cattle Breeders' Association for best-uttered Canadian cow of milking age.

First Ayrshire results showed Willowhaugh park here, owned by J. H. Black of Lacute, Que., declared junior champion female. Mr. Black has a record of some six grand championships in competition at the fair. Burnside Full Fashion 4th, owned by R. R. Ness and Sons, of Burnside Farms, Howick, Que., was named reserve junior champion female.

An ailing Manitoba cow was declared senior and grand champion Holstein female.

Rockwood Beulah Pal Rockette, owned by Ted. L. Townsend of St. Norbert, Man., took the twin titles only a few hours after suffering a severe attack of acetoneamia, a form of animal diabetes. Mr. Townsend and a veterinarian spent much of Monday night dosing Rockette with sugar and cortisone.

Fair officials paid tribute to the western exhibitors with a parade of prize-winning western livestock at last night's horse show. With United States exhibitors excluded this year because of border restrictions due to the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Canada western farmers claimed a major portion of cattle entry lists.

Another proud western winner wandered through the fair today. Ronald Leonard, 19-year-old 1952 world wheat champion from Drumheller, Alta., arrived yesterday to pick up his trophy.

The senior and grand champion Belgian stallion, Jay Farceur II was exhibited by C. O. House of Arzadia, Ind. Reserve senior and grand champion was Thorncroft Officer Parcure, shown by Gilbert E. Arnold of Grenville, Que.

Three Local Men Have Been Convicted

A Court of Queen's Bench jury yesterday found Willie Jean, Armand Thibault and Roland Marier, all of Sherbrooke, guilty of a charge of attempted theft. The jury asked, however, for clemency. The three men were charged with the June 30th, 1952, attempted theft of a battery from a tractor located on a farm operated by Hector Veilleux on the Brompton Road.

The accused were represented by lawyer Charles Lemoine, who pointed out that his clients had stopped their 1929 Ford car and wanted to have a bottle of beer and were standing beside the tractor. The Crown maintained that the men were after the battery and that when the owner arrived on the scene he noticed that the battery was only dangling from the tractor. The owner stated that when he left the tractor the battery was in its proper place.

Crown Prosecutor Roland Dugre, Q.C., pointed out that the accused, after they had been warned by the owner and his friend, Mr. Patoiné, to leave, left but drove their car up against Mr. Patoiné's horse drawn vehicle several times and finally damaged it. Roland Marier was charged with hit and run as the result of this incident.

Mr. Justice Cosaire Gervais presided. Sentence will be handed out November 28th.

Local Artists Are Heard In Recital

The Epsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, assisted by the Exemplar chapter, last night proved once again that there is a wealth of musical talent in Sherbrooke when Beta presented its fourth annual "Young Artists' Recital" to a large audience in Plymouth Church Hall.

The well-received recital featured Claudette LaCharite, pianist, as guest artist, with Luce Triganne, soprano, as assisting artist, and 11-year-old violinist Pierre Boux as "Artist of the Future."

Accompanying Miss Triganne and Master Boux was talented local pianist Lorette Codere, appropriately substiting her own ample ability for the evening, in harmony as background for the featured players. We shall look forward to hearing Miss Codere when she is soloist at a forthcoming concert of the Symphony.

Miss LaCharite, who won the Grand Prize at the last local Youth Festival, performed with the ease of a professional in her interpretation of works of Bach, Beethoven, Scarlatti, Liszt and Debussy.

Her show-piece seemed to be the first movement from Beethoven's Sonata No. 2, an intricate work which showed to greatest advantage the range of her piano technique. Lighter works such as Liszt's Etude No. 5 and Debussy's Reflections in the Water and Garden in the Rain showed the great poetic feeling which Miss LaCharite has for her piano work.

Whatever her reason for eliminating Chopin from the program, one can only applaud the move. Every pianist plays Chopin.

Miss Triganne, the soprano soloist, is noted locally for her fine singing of lieder-type songs. Last night she showed herself to be just as much at home in English, Italian and French songs as she is in

Twice a year a legion of women's page writers from across the continent are invited to New York where, between parties and gala entertainments, the ladies of the press are exposed to the latest fashions. That Canadian-produced fashions receive much attention in view of such highly skilled competition speaks well for the designs and fabrics now being turned out in this country.

It has been a subject of editorial comment that this year Canadian-made women's wear is receiving more attention than ever before. The only conclusion is that the Canadian products stand comparison and merit attention.

BASIS HOUSING POLICY DECISION IS THE NEW PRESIDENT'S STAKE

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — Federal government housing policies are silhouetted sharply on the political horizon as the dawn of a new administration breaks over Washington.

While there is considerable feeling in the building industry that the government ought to get out of housing and let private business do the job, the new President won't find it easy to abolish all government housing programs. In fact, he would find it impossible to do so.

The government is in too many housing activities now to get out. And if the government did withdraw from all housing programs, including mortgage guarantees, the real estate and building industries would probably be the first to scream the loudest.

What's at stake for the new President, therefore, is a basic policy determination on whether to have a positive housing program enlarging present activities, or whether to carry on passively at present or reduced levels. There are some six different fields in which this must be decided.

Most controversial program, perhaps, is public housing. Will the new President want to continue the present ceilings on new project starts?

The 1949 housing act authorized starts on 135,000 units a year. President Truman reduced this to 75,000 units shortly after the Korean war began. Congress cut it back further by 35,000 units. The National Association of Public Housing officials met in Washington recently and advocated that the program go forward at the 125,000 annual rate.

Builders Dispute FHA Insurance

In the private building field, there is some dispute over whether to continue Federal Housing Administration insurance on improvement loans granted without mortgages. Congress set this up on a $1.25 billion revolving fund basis. There has been a tremendous amount of business in this field.

The fund is now so largely committed that FHA can handle only a small part of the applications for insurance guarantees that it receives. A large part of the building industry favors continuing and enlarging the program. But there is some small feeling that the insurance demand has now been largely taken care of.

FHA's building mortgage insurance program authorization will be exhausted on June 30. The question for the new President is how much it should be expanded. The total FHA mortgage insurance authorized is $11.5 billion. Of this amount, approximately $8.3 billion is outstanding and $1.7 billion more is committed. The remaining $1.5 billion uncommitted will last only until June.

About one-third of the total U.S. mortgage business is now FHA insured. When this mortgage insurance program was set up, it was believed the government's share of the total would be not more than a fourth. Its chief value was to have been that it would set standards for the building industry.

But trends in recent years have indicated the FHA mortgage insurance program would naturally grow bigger. If it does, a larger authorization will be needed from Congress.

There is a related question in the Federal National Mortgage Association's mortgage purchase program from banks in tight mortgage market areas. It applies particularly in areas where there is much defense construction, with many new housing developments. The government's authority to carry on this "Fannie Mae" program expires June 30. The question is whether it should be renewed.

This rider to the voluminous report brings up some important points. Should it be left to one man's opinion, on the basis of unproved charges, to make such a recommendation? Is the industry in question hiding behind a tariff wall to keep prices high, as must be inferred from the recommendation?

On the first point, the commissioner's report does not prove that the agreements between manufacturers and wholesalers have harmed the public one iota. It is not even established that the government will charge the group in court with breaking the law.

On the second point, the report did not establish that tariffs on imported papers have kept prices of Canadian-made papers high or have kept anyone out of the paper business. Some of the grades of fine paper that are put to widest use, book paper for instance, already enter Canada without duty.

It does not seem wise and just that one man's opinion, an opinion that may easily be repudiated by his superiors or by the courts, should be allowed to be the basis of a change in tariff regulations that would affect the livelihood of many thousands of Canadians.

Many Historic Events Marked Canada's 21st Parliament

Editor's Note: Canada's future will be one of the main topics at the new session of parliament opening tomorrow. This story, last of a series, tells what the four political party leaders believe are the highlights of the present Parliament, and what may lie ahead.

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, Nov. 19 — Many historic Canadian events have marked Canada's 21st Parliament, elected June 27, 1949.

Which was the most historic? The Canadian Press put that question to Canada's four top political leaders—Prime Minister St. Laurent; George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader; M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader; and Solon Low, Social Credit leader. The question was submitted while preparations were being made for the opening tomorrow of a seventh and possibly pre-election session for the 21st Parliament.

Each of the leaders came up with a different answer. Prime Minister St. Laurent referred to Newfoundland's entry into confederation March 31, 1949. The presence of Newfoundland's representatives in the Commons and the Senate, he said, was "undoubtedly" the top historic Canadian event in the life of the present parliament.

Newfoundland members of the Commons were elected in June, 1949, the first general election following the union of their country with Canada. Newfoundland's first Senators were appointed shortly after the election. Mr. St. Laurent's choice was partly shared by Mr. Low.

Mr. Drew picked Parliament's 1950 decision to back military action of the United Nations in Korea. Mr. Coldwell also mentioned Canadian participation in the Korean war among his choices.

As his top choice, Mr. Coldwell selected Parliament's passage of an act providing $40-a-month pensions to all Canadians 70 and over regardless of means. His choice was shared by Mr. Low.

Mr. Coldwell gave Canadian participation in Korea second place. In third, he placed Parliament's support of the Commonwealth's Colombo plan for aid to underprivileged and underdeveloped countries of south-east Asia.

Mr. Low said four events compete in his mind for first place and only time will tell which was the most historic. The four: The old age security act; establishment of Canadian citizenship; entry into parliament of representatives from Newfoundland; and abolition of the gold clause in the Bank of Canada act thereby declaring that what gives value to the Canadian currency is the goods and services Canadians produce.

The leaders were also asked: 1. What they considered to be Canada's most pressing immediate need. 2. To outline briefly the kind of a future they foresee for Canada.

Their replies: Mr. St. Laurent "I feel that these matters are ones on which controversy is likely to arise and I think it would not be observing the usual proprieties for leaders of the different parties in Parliament to take part in what might become a debate in the press on important

The Record Short Story

EARTHQUAKE

By SANFORD JARRELL

Dal Garfield pulled into Bakersfield late that Sunday night, weary after the long pull from Sacramento. He was determined to drive on through to Los Angeles, catch a few hours sleep, and then tune in on TV for the opening of the convention at Chicago.

He parked in the lot beside a nightclub which, oddly enough, was noted for the quality of its food and its reasonable prices. He carefully locked his car, because it contained the bulky samples of his business. Dal travelled for a wholesale grocery firm in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys but continued to maintain his home, a small apartment overlooking MacArthur Park, in L.A. in the hoping he would eventually be transferred to that area. He had been promised the first Southland territory that was open.

Jack, owner of the nightclub, greeted Dal warmly with the "long time, no see" routine, and personally escorted him to a small table near the dance floor.

"You're in luck, Dal," he said. "Excellent show, for a change. Last night, too."

"Haven't much time," said Dal. "I'm pushing on."

"Show is just coming on. What'll it be? the usual?"

Dal nodded, and Jack told the waiter, hovering near, "Tell the chief to bring out his best New York cut. Broil it rare. With the biggest baked Idaho in the house."

Jack went to the bar and returned for a moment with an old fashioned for Dal and a glass of soda for himself. They chatted a few moments and then the room was darkened and the floodlights played on the floor. Six girl dancers came out, all of them pretty and glowing with youth and quite professional. One of them particularly caught Dal's eye. She was like a doll, a fragile, blonde doll, and graceful as a reed.

"Don't get ideas, Dal," Jack grinned. "You can't have her over for a drink, or even a sandwich. Mrs. Benchley won't permit. It's her troupe, and she hovers over them like a mother hen. I never met such a nice lot at kids, and good, too!"

Excellent as the steak was, Dal paid more attention to the Benchley Dancers than to his meal. The blonde girl with the lithesome figure, he learned, was named Mary Smith. That's right, just Mary Smith. After midnight, he had "one for the road" at the bar and drove off.

The carburetor of his automobile began giving him trouble when he was a few miles out of Bakersfield. By the time he reached the little community of Tehachapi, in the mountains of the same name, he wisely decided to put up for the rest of the night. Dal had been driving cars all his life but hardly knew a cylinder from the rear axle. A mechanic could fix up the worrisome carburetor in a few moments in the morning.

He had stayed at the little hotel in the past and the owner didn't grumble too much when he was awakened from his slumber and admitted Dal. The grocery salesman was asleep in five minutes. The earthquake, which came at 4:52 a.m., jolted a large area of California from north of San Francisco to the Mexican border, and

EXPERT USES CARE TO AVERT PITFALL

When the annual National Bridge Championship begins in Miami at the end of this month, Joe Cohan, president of the Bridge League, will be on hand to welcome experts from all parts of the country. Joe will be a host in more ways than one because, although his home town is Wooster, Ohio, he spends about half of the year in Florida.

Besides being a good executive, the general Irishman is also one of the top-ranking players in the country. Today's hand, played by Joe Cohan in a recent rubber bridge game, shows him at his careful best.

West opened a low trump, and dummy won with the ten. Joe led another trump from dummy, and put up the ace of trumps from his own hand when East showed out.

The average player would probably switch to hearts at this point in the hope of discarding diamonds from the dummy. This plan would fail, since West would ruff the last heart with a low trump, forcing dummy to overruff.

Dummy would have to return a diamond, and West would be able to take the trick and lead out the king of spades to draw dummy's last trump. South would wind up losing a trump and three diamonds.

Cohan saw this danger and therefore took the club finesse at the third trick. This finesse had to be risked sooner or later, no matter how the hand was played, and the immediate finesse was necessary for other reasons.

When the queen of clubs held the third trick, declarer cashed the ace of clubs, and ruffed a club in his own hand. Only now was it proper to begin on the hearts.

When the fourth heart was led, West found himself unable to defeat the contract. If he ruffed low, dummy would overruff, and South would then ruff out dummy's last club. If West ruffed the last heart with his king, dummy would discard. Either way, declarer was sure of ten tricks.

Q—The bidding has been: South West North East 1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass Pass ?

You, South, hold: Spades K-8-4, Hearts A-J-10-5, Diamonds K-Q-7-2, Clubs 4-2. What do you do? A—Bid two spades. This simple raise still indicates a minimum opening bid, but indicates also that some of your strength is in your partner's suit. It would be foolish to bid one no-trump when you have a weak doubleton in clubs and fairly good support for partner's spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-4-2, Hearts A-J-10-5, Diamonds A-K-J-2, Clubs 7-5-3. What do you do? Answer Tomorrow eastward into Arizona. The sleep of millions was rudely interrupted. The epicenter of the shock, second only to the 1906 San Francisco quake in intensity, was in the isolated Tehachapi Mountains, where the full fury of the blow fell. Had it occurred in any of the larger centers of population the death toll would have been appalling.

Dal Garfield was almost thrown out of bed. He had been an artillery sergeant in the Pacific and had been frightened before, but never as badly as this. He freely admitted later how scared he was.

When the solid earth beneath one's feet goes haywire, terror is not a demonstration of cowardice.

Dal's impulse was to flee the building, which was rocking ominously. He grabbed his slippers and a heavy robe and, in pajamas and barefoot, he dropped from the second story window to the ground without damage to himself. The street outside, the main street of the little town, soon was in utter confusion. Walls of brick buildings began collapsing, the moans of the injured and dying sound pitifully in the discord of shattering glass and the rumble of the tremor.

The next hour passed swiftly like a bad dream. Dal helped bring out injured men, women and children from their homes and rendered what succor he could. The women of the stricken community were magnificent. He was startled to find several of the dancers he had applauded last night working with the townspeople; one of them was Mary Smith. An older woman, a big, motherly looking soul, was one of the busiest people there, and very efficiently caring for unfortunates with broken bones, bruises and suffering from shock.

He rightly guessed she was Mrs. Benchley.

"I think," he said, "that coffee and any other food we can rustle would be in order."

"It's an idea," the girl said, "but they won't let us in any of the buildings."

"I have," Dal said, "an auto load of stuff."

"Included coffee?"

"Included coffee."

"What are we waiting for?" Mary Smith said. "Let's get going."

In no time at all, out of Dal's samples, they had a large and varied assortment of canned goods, which they distributed, along with hot coffee. A passing tourist had a carton of paper cups. Using whatever utensils they could lay their hands on—pocketknives, sharpened sticks of wood, even car keys—the weary and bewildered people ate sardines, salmon, corned beef, vegetables, chicken, roast beef hash. At the same time the victims were evacuated as rapidly as possible to hospitals in Bakersfield and Mojave. And it was not long before doctors, nurses and medical supplies were flown in by helicopter and the Red Cross itself began its magnificent task.

Nibbling on peanut butter and crackers, the dancer told Dal that the troupe had gathered belongings together when the nightclub closed at 2 o'clock, had a picnic breakfast in a Bakerfield cafe, and had reached Tehachapi at the moment the quake struck. The girls were riding in Mrs. Benchley's station wagon, trailed by a pickup truck with their luggage, driven by the dance director's 17-year-old son, Jimmie. Mrs. Benchley had wisely driven the station wagon into an open field, with the pickup, and had immediately mobilized her small forces to aid in the rescue operations.

Dal found out quite a bit about Mrs. Smith. She lived with her parents in Westwood Village and was returning to UCLA in September for her senior year. And she said she'd be very happy to go out to dinner with him sometime.

Mrs. Benchley's son Jimmie, a brawny youth about a motor fixed the carburetor in Dal's car in jig-time that afternoon and he drove home by a circuitous route that took him a hundred and fifty miles out of his way. The Ridge Route and several other roads were closed by landslides.

That evening he called his boss at home and said earnestly, "Mr. Gray, what about that transfer? Something has come up that makes it mighty important."

"What's her name?" inquired the firm's sales manager pleasantly.

"Mary Smith," Dal responded quickly, then sheepishly added, "I didn't quite mean that sir. You see—"

"I see," said Mr. Gray. "Maybe we can do something that will make Miss Smith happy."

During the next several weeks Dal saw Mary every Sunday, when he raced down from the two valleys. And then one evening, devoting prime ribs at Lavry's, he told her the happy news. He had been given West Los Angeles territory.

"I think it's wonderful," she said, her eyes glistening. To her the ex-artillery sergeant was something very special.

They will be married after her graduation at UCLA next June, the exact date? July 7th—the anniversary of the Tehachapi quake. Naturally.

Joint Lions And Kiwanis Meeting Held At Magog

Magog, Nov. 19.—Last night the Magog Kiwanis Club played hosts to the Magog Lions Club. Chairing this meeting was Jack Peters, president of the Kiwanis Club. Seated at the head table were Mr. Peters, Wendall Bresse, president of the Lions Club, Yves Jamin, of the Trans-Canada Air Lines public relations department, who was guest speaker and past president of the Kiwanis Club, Rev. John Comfort.

Members from the two clubs enjoyed a short address by Mr. Jamin, who said that the T.C.A. had fewer air accidents than any other airway company in the world. He said the T.C.A. does not like to publicize this fact. Mr. Jamin said the T.C.A. have just made a $1,500,000 purchase from Britain of 15 new aircraft.

Mr. Jamin's remarks were followed by two movies entitled, "A Great Day for Flying", which described the various methods of navigating, and the second picture "Bermuda Bound" showed holidaying and sight-seeing in Bermuda, the year round resort that is only a short flying distance from Canada via T.C.A.

Accompanying Mr. Jamin was Bert Dansereau, of the T.C.A., and also a member of the Montreal St. Lawrence Kiwanis Club. Mr. Jamin and Mr. Dansereau were introduced by Henry Jorgenson and thanked by Ted Foggo.

The Magog Kiwanis Club will not hold its regular Tuesday meeting next week, but will have an inter-club gathering with the Sherbrooke Club on Wednesday evening.

Henry Jorgenson, program chairman, said that on December 9th, the Imperial Tobacco Company would send a representative to address the Kiwanians and show movies.

Europeans Plan Party On Saturday

The European Club will hold another of its pleasant Saturday evenings on November 22, when members will have a chance to view some films which have been supplied by various European consultants.

In addition, there will be dancing to an orchestra, and European waltzes with music by a pair of ballalikes.

Musical numbers by several of the members will be supplied between the dances. There will be refreshments served, and the soft drink canteen will be operating.

Messrs. DeGrim and Karg have planned this party and it should prove very enjoyable. The program will start at 8:00 p.m.

Europeans not yet members of the club may make application for membership at the door as they enter on Saturday.

Omega-Alpha Club To Hold Dance, Party

The Omega-Alpha Club plans to sponsor a pre-Christmas dance on December 6. This was decided at the group's regular weekly meeting held recently.

Officers for the newly-organized club are: Pat Timmons, president; Sam Elkas, vice-president; Paul Leger, treasurer; Frank Corcoran, secretary. Others attending the meeting were: Paul Chute, Bob Jarjour, John Loucheud, Bill Edwards, Edmond Tobin, Pete Cochran, Don Griffin and Ken Hetherington.

A social evening was planned for New Year's Eve and a committee of four was organized to get things set for the event. Frank Corcoran, Paul Chute, Don Griffin and Ken Hetherington are in charge.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served and a sing-song followed.

Her most moving number, we thought, was the aria "Madre Pieta Vergine" from Verdi's opera "Forza del Destino."

It was this aria which illustrated best the dramatic heights to which Miss Triganne is equal vocally and the subtle tone colors which her voice possesses.

The violin soloist, 11-year-old Pierre Boux, showed poise and ability which would do credit to many players his senior.

An assured little performer, young Mr. Boux did a highly-creditable musical job of interpreting Bach and Puccini, from memory, playing the first movement of Concerto in A Minor and the latter composer's Allegro.

He is a veritable "Artist of the Future."

Mr. Low "I think Canada's most pressing immediate need is a sensible and effective policy for restoring the purchasing power of the Canadian dollar and for bringing the cost of living within the ability of all sections of our population to pay. Canada's future will depend to considerable degree upon the kind of government Canadians choose for themselves. Under honest, down-to-earth, realistic government I foresee a Canada of perhaps 30,000,000 well-fed, well-clothed and housed people, happy in the enjoyment of the maximum possible of personal liberty and the highest level of social justice in the world."

Kiddies Well Tagged At Mothers' Meeting

London — When more than 3,500 women ganged up on London's royal festival hall for the biggest mothers' meeting of the year, their most valuable possession was a hat check. The hat check reclaimed junior.

Hundreds of children played in an organized nursery with numbers pinned to their clothes. It was decided this would be the best way of ensuring the right mother got the right child in the shortest time.

Theme of the meeting was family life. The Duchess of Gloucester, guest of honor, said bringing up children as Christians was "a task of paramount importance."

Efficient Medics Care For Canucks On Korean Front

By BILL BOSS

With the Canadians in Korea—Nov. 4. The Common bond and associated skin troubles made up more than one-third of the cases treated by the 37th Canadian Field Ambulance during September.

The field ambulance, commanded by Lt.-Col. Clyde Caswell of Camp Borden, Ont., is the medical "clearing house" for the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade.

While the most severely injured battle casualties usually are evacuated by helicopter direct from the nearest regimental aid post, the rest pass through Caswell's unit. So, too, do the sick being evacuated for protracted treatment.

Of 378 Canadian cases during September, Caswell's unit treated 136 with skin ailments, mainly boils. A decline is expected now that autumn has set in.

Medical officers say that the country's highly bacterial dust, landing on a freely perspiring soldier, has in ideal culture medium. Boils are the result.

Burns seem to be most recurring type of injury now that cooler weather has arrived. They range from battle accidents with phosphorus grenades and accidental spillings of battery acid, to the results of tent and bunker fires.

Burn cases now occur at a rate of almost one a day. For prompt treatment Caswell is having regimental medical officers make up "burns kits."

Initiative of the unit's efficiency is the record of a recent British patient. Accidentally shot while in his unit lines, the soldier was sped to the field ambulance, where transfusion was started and a helicopter called so that he could be transferred speedily to a surgical hospital. It was a chest wound.

Orchid perfume is made up largely of synthetic substitutes, since it is so expensive to make in the pure state.

There are so few openings for a stage career back home," they said in a joint interview. Like many other Canadians here they are looking forward to the day when there will be greater show-business opportunities in Canada.

The Campitellis fell in love while working with Toronto's Volkoff Ballet Company. They married in 1949. Since then they've done cabaret turns in Toronto, danced in the Canadian ballet festival at Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg, and taken part in ballet productions at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, Toronto.

Their favorite dance routine is exhibition ballroom. Now, however, they are touring provincial centres in a revue that gives a bit of everything—ballroom, tap, singing and patter.

They're getting to know Britain well. They've danced in Birmingham, Liverpool and Manchester, done variety at Croydon, cabaret in London's west end and a Christmas show in Stratford-on-Avon.

In a succession of old theatres with rough wooden stages Dorin has lost chunks out of the floating new skirts she wears for ballroom scenes. One of their grimmest experiences was a wet night at Collin's music hall in working-class Wellington the theatre that gave Charlie Chaplin his first chance before the footlights. Rain poured into the underground dressing rooms, wetting the costumes and the entire cast feverishly dried and ironed before curtain time.

Although determined to "take anything" in their quest for experience, the Campitellis often think longingly of their own place in Toronto, which they have rented until their return.

Hannan were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Taylor. Mr. Harold Blake, Mr. Edward Mastine and Mr. Everett Mastine were visitors at the home of Mr. Henry Lockwood.

Women In Public Affairs Discussed At Cookshire

Cookshire, Nov. 19.—The Cookshire Farm Forum met on November 10 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McVetty, with 19 present. Mrs. Henrietta Hodgman acted as chairman.

The subject for discussion was "Do you think that women have a special contribution to bring to public affairs?" A woman who is active in community work can do a better home-making job than a woman who has no interests outside her home.

The meeting was divided into three groups. The majority thought that women do have a special contribution to bring to public affairs and a woman can do a better home-making job if she is active in community work, providing she doesn't over-do and so neglect her family. A woman interested and active in community work gets a fresh outlook on everyday problems in the home. She should show her interest in public affairs and she should support her husband in his public activities.

It was thought that the majority of women are not suited to politics as they haven't had the proper training but she should keep herself informed on matters of public interest and vote intelligently.

A sing-song was enjoyable, followed by a cup of tea served by the hostess.

Annual Remembrance Day Banquet Is Held By Coaticook Legion Branch

Coaticook, Nov. 19.—The Coaticook Branch of the Canadian Legion held its annual Remembrance Day banquet on November 11, in the spacious St. Marc parish hall at Coaticook North, with Douglas Amaron, editorial director of the Sherbrooke Daily Record as guest speaker.

Attendance, while not as great as in past years, was over the sixty mark and all fortunate enough to attend enjoyed a tastefully prepared turkey dinner, catered and served by the Ladies' Guild of the North Coaticook church.

The head table was attractively decorated with small poppies fastened to the linen cloth and three large poppy wreaths and the three flags of the branch formed a background for the setting.

Grace before the meal was pronounced by Rev. W. J. Rowe, branch chaplain.

President Roger Jean-Marie welcomed the guests, both in French and English, to this annual dinner which is held for non-Legion as well as Legion members and also for the next-of-kin of those Comrades who did not return.

Following a toast to the Queen, president Jean-Marie made presentations to the three young people who had sold the most poppies during the street sales campaign. These were Shirley Williams, Raymond Fournier and Tony Woodman. The Ladies' Auxiliary under president Mrs. Charles Leadbeater, was in charge of the poppy sales.

Mayor Raoul Laurence expressed his pleasure in being invited to share in the dinner-reunion. He stated that the occasion was a solemn one however as the anniversary of this Armistice Day mourned those sons of Coaticook who paid the supreme sacrifice and it was an honour and a privilege to assemble and revive memories of them. A vacant chair at the head table, symbolic of absence of departed comrades, was a constant reminder that we must never lose sight of the goal for world peace for which they gave their lives.

Mr. Amaron recalled a number of his own personal contacts with men during World War Two and paid tribute to the courage and determination as well as the sentimental side of the Canadian soldier.

He told of one instance of an Air Force group waiting in the early morning mist for an overdue plane of their squadron and how as the minutes passed and no sound came they slowly came to realize their buddies were never going to return from their mission. This was their first loss in combat and the men felt the blow deeply.

The human side of war in instances like that were things hard to forget said Mr. Amaron, and the memories of those involved in such events would always be with us.

He recalled another time, how among the noise and confusion of war in Italy, the Canadians had paused in their duties to observe the birth of Christ one Christmas day and forgot for a few moments the horrors around them. Men, even far from home and in strange and terrifying situations, remembered with a pang of sentiment Christmas past around their own firesides. Those men too, said the speaker, we would remember.

He told of other instances, often which even now bring back a flood of memories. It is not enough, however, he said, to remember these men one day a year, we must ever keep before us their memory and especially the cause for which they died. We who can worship and live in freedom today are grateful to them for their sacrifices. Let us remember and not fail them. If those who died should ask "Did we die in vain?" may the answer be found in our hearts and minds and in our conscience, concluded Mr. Amaron.

The guest speaker was thanked by Mr. Stanley Beerworth.

The president thanked Comrade Hubert Rousseau for his arrangements in making this annual banquet a success. He also read regrets from Mr. Denis Gerin, M.L.A., and Mr. L. Roberge of Rock Island, who were both un-

Mayor Boivin Tells Kiwanians What Granby Needs & What He Wants For It

Granby, Nov. 19.—Mayor P. H. Boivin is still full of ideas for the improvement and betterment of Granby. In his last address, given to the Granby Kiwanis Club, he stated that there were many things wrong with our city, but he still thinks Granby is the most wonderful place in the world.

He told the Kiwanis Club that the lack of small home-owners was one of the "wrong" things, but the many others could be easily cleared up by the provincial and Dominion governments.

He wants for Granby a federal-administered airport, a Superior Court, immediate construction of the federal building, plus the addition of another storey, elimination of 11 railway crossings on the C.N.R. within the city limits, and a federal grant to dredge and clean up Granby Lake.

But chief of the "wants" of Granby for a better city is a local housing system, whereby 75 per cent of the citizens can own their own homes.

He says home-owners mean contented people, with a sense of security, working towards a goal, making good neighbors and a peaceful city.

His plan is similar to the Victory Loan plan during the war. Then money was raised for destruction. Why couldn't there be a plan for construction? Why not social loans, family loans, establishment loans? Or whatever you want to call them) to help citizens to build their own homes. Why couldn't industries, and other small businesses endorse a home-owners loan at 5 per cent payable in four years?

Then plenty of insurance companies would be willing to lend the small home-owner $5,000 or $8,000 payable in 20 years? By paying $30 a month, the home would be his in 20 years. "This lovely city would be an example to Canada," His Worship said.

He thinks the ideal city should have only 50,000 or 60,000 inhabitants and he hopes Granby will grow that large.

He concluded his address by naming a few of the things that Granby needs, and says it is a "shame" that she does not have them.

A kindergarten (formerly operated by the Nuns of the Immaculate Conception); a 300-bed convalescent and chronic disease hospital; an orphan's hospital; a better lighted city (there are 450 new lights already ordered); completion of three parks, Yamaska, Overy and Dubuc parks, and the old post office given to the city for a Public Library and Fine Arts Museum, are among the serious needs of Granby.

His Worship was introduced by Mr. J. G. Fuller and thanked by Mr. Henri Lizotte.

The regular sing-song was led by D. B. I. W. Brown, assisted by A. Durocher with Mrs. K. Thierier at the piano.

Among the guests were R. J. Austin, of St. Lambert Lions Club, Max M. English, of Kurt Mutual Industries Ltd., D. Robert, lawyer, and Romeo Robert, of the Granby Amusement Corporation, H. Gauthier, R. St. Martin, J. A. Dallaire, city controller, and Carous Marquis, contractor.

Seated at the head table were able to accept the invitation to be present.

The evening concluded with the benediction by Rev. Father L. Lemay.

The Legion members and friends later gathered in the Coaticook Armouries to enjoy an evening of dancing to the music of the 27th Field Regiment orchestra.

His Worship Horace P. Boivin, President-elect L. G. Roach, J. G. Fuller and H. Lizotte.

Granby Legionnaires And Veterans Paid Tribute To Soldiers Of World Wars

Granby, Nov. 19. — On Sunday afternoon, November 9, tribute was paid by veterans, service and social groups to the memory of those who gave their lives in two World Wars.

Legionnaires, veterans, members of the 24th Shefford Battery, Royal Canadian Airmen, Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs, representatives of City groups, His Worship Mayor P. Horace Boivin, Marcel Boivin and many others, stood before the Cenotaph in Victoria Park, while on each corner of the memorial, a soldier of the local Battery stood on guard.

The Granby Harmony Band was in attendance and played "O Canada" the two hymns, "Nearer My God To Thee" and "Abide With Me."

The Roll Call of the Dead, in World War I was read by Rev. Father Albert St. Pierre; and World War II, by Rev. A. G. Moore; and the Korean War by Rev. Father Wilfred Chasson.

The two minutes' silence was preceded by the "Last Post" and followed by "Reveille," played by bugler Jean Mahew.

His Worship Mayor P. H. Boivin deposited the first wreath at the foot of the Cenotaph, and he was followed by Legion and Civic authorities. Rev. Father A. St. Pierre gave the closing prayer.

Memorial services were held in the morning at all local churches, and all observed the period of silence.

A HALLOWEEN PARTY
The Primary Department of the Granby United Church Sunday School, held a very enjoyable Halloween party in the Lecture Hall, on October 31, which was well attended by the children and many of the parents.

The hall was most attractive with its colorful Halloween decorations, the pretty tea tables being most gay and appealing to the children.

Most of the children were dressed in costume and the games went at a merry pace, without a dull moment.

Supper was served in the Primary room to children and parents, and before going home, bags of candy and a small gift were distributed to all the boys and girls.

The superintendent, Mrs. Albert Coupland, and her staff of teachers, wish to express their thanks to all those who helped to make the party such a success and especially to the Woolworth Co., for their generous co-operation.

In his opening remarks Major General Price recalled the opening of the Granby Legion Hall, at the end of the last war, and spoke about his days in the Home Guard, in England, as a gunner, after years of straight soldiering.

He said that he considered the Granby Branch of the Legion as "an ideal one," and pointed out "the good name" that Legions enjoy, and among other things they never meddle in politics and were always a vital force for peace.

Maj-Gen. Price was introduced by Past President R. D. Allen, and thanked by J. O. Kruse, District Commander.

Mr. Marcel Boivin, M.P., was asked to speak and Mrs. P. H. Boivin, who was representing her husband, the Mayor, was given an ovation.

Carnegie Returns; Aces Ask For Reinstatement

Quebec, Nov. 19.—Jack Latta, president of Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League, said last night the club has asked the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to reinstate centre Herbie Carnegie.

The Aces asked for suspension of Carnegie last Thursday after he failed to report for Wednesday's game against Shelvington Falls Cataracts. Carnegie was also fined $200.

Carnegie reported to Latta yesterday and will be in uniform when Montreal Royals visit here tonight.

Jean Beliveau And Andre Corriveau Tied For Honors; Campeau Leads Locals; Aces Here Tomorrow Evening

Jean Beliveau, Quebec Aces, and Andre Corriveau, Valleyfield Braves, are slated for individual scoring honors in the Quebec Senior Hockey League with twenty-four points each according to the figures released by Doug Harney yesterday afternoon.

Four Sherbrooke players are placed in the top ten of the league. Tod Campeau holds down third position in the race with twenty points while Gilles Dube and Nils Tremblay have seventeen each. Jacques Locas is eighth in the standing with a total of sixteen points.

Beliveau is the top goal getter with eleven combined with thirteen assists to make up his total while Corriveau has nine goals and fifteen in the play making department. Campeau had seven goals and thirteen assists for his total. Dube and Tremblay each have eight goals and nine assists.

Gilles Dube of Sherbrooke climbed from 10th place to a three-way tie for fifth place with 17 points, collecting one goal and an assist. Tied with Dube are Nils Tremblay and Jean-Paul Bisailion of Valleyfield.

Three games are listed for this evening in the Senior Group. Chicoutimi travels to Ottawa while Montreal plays at Quebec and Shelvington moves over to Valleyfield and the Saints have a bye.

Tomorrow evening the locals will be hosts to Puncch Imlach's Aces in what should be a very interesting tilt. Sherbrooke holds down fourth place in the standing but after this evening the Saints may take a drop if Chicoutimi should happen to upset the Saints, as they are only a single point behind the Dugre clan.

Royals continue to lead the standing, with a two-point margin over Valleyfield. Ottawa is third, another point back.

Quebec Aces are the most penalized club, with 192 minutes, and Georges Roy, Chicoutimi defence-man, is the most penalized player, with 28 minutes.

Sonja Henie To Tour Canada, Says Gorman

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—(P)—Sonja Henie has signed a contract to take her skating show on a tour of Canada. T. P. Gorman, Ottawa sports promoter, announced last night.

The tour will open at St. Andrews, N.B., on Friday and Saturday of this week, moving to Fredericton, Saint John, N.B., Halifax and Ottawa before a swing through the West, Gorman said.

The Ottawa promoter who organized a Canadian tour by the Canadian star Barbara Ann Scott two years ago, said he completed arrangements for Miss Henie's tour at New York Sunday.

Gorman's announcement said Miss Scott received about $200,000 for her Canadian tour and Miss Henie's guarantee "will probably exceed that sum."

Four Horses Destroyed By Fire At Timonium

Timonium, Md., Nov. 19.—(P)—Four race horses were killed last night in a fire that swept several barn stalls at Timonium track.

Some 20 other horses were saved by Richard Douglas, an owner and trainer, who opened their stalls and chased them out to the track.

Two of the horses that had to be destroyed because of burns were Audible and Lock Control, owned by L. Gittinger Boyce.

Humphrey S. Finney, field secretary of the Maryland Horse Breeders Association, said the blaze apparently started from a short circuit in the electric wiring.

Horses are stabled at the Timonium fairgrounds race track the year around.

Tomorrow's Winner Will Meet Sarnia Imperials In Eastern Final On Saturday In Toronto

Toronto, Nov. 19.—(CP)—The method that Hamilton Tiger-Cats have figured to stop Toronto Argonauts' short passes may well decide how the Bengals make out today in the second game of the playoff for the Big Four football title.

The Tiger-Cats, always afraid of the long pass that quarterback Nobby Wirkowski of the Argos is capable of throwing, devised a defence against that play in the opener last Saturday. They neglected, however, to take into account the damage that the former Illinois State Teachers' College play can do with his short rifle-shot passes.

Wirkowski's success with those tricky pass patterns, with Al Bruno, Ulysses Curtis and Johnny Fedosoff as his main receivers, rocked the Tiger-Cats back on their heels and forced them into making disastrous mistakes.

The Argos made the miscues pay off for all but one of their scoring plays in their 22-6 win and today they carry a 16-point lead into the second encounter of the total-points series. The winner gets a shot at Sarnia Imperials, Ontario Rugby Football champions, in the Eastern Canada final Saturday.

The Tiger-Cats have 60 minutes to overcome Argonauts' big margin. The Toronto club depends primarily on its passing attack for its payoff blows and the Tiger-Cats will be shooting the works in trying to throttle them.

The Bengals may get help from the weather. Intermittent rain is forecast for tomorrow and it may force both clubs to stick mostly to a ground game. The field will be in good shape, however, unless it should rain heavily during the game. The Canadian Rugby Union's tarpaulin has been covering the gridiron at Varsity Stadium since the week-end and won't be removed until shortly before the kick-off.

Bill Mackrides, Tiger-Cats' quarterback, will be on the spot. The former Philadelphia Eagles player bore the brunt of the blame for the team's poor display in the first clash.

He had an off-day in his passing and was able to complete only five of 17 tosses. One of his screen passes backfired into an Argonaut touchdown and two of his forwards were intercepted and led to four more Argonaut points, a single and field goal.

35th Beats Richmond In E.T. Basketball

Richmond, Nov. 19.—The undefeated 35th Battery team of Sherbrooke last night downed Richmond, 44-19, in the High School gym. It was the fourth straight victory of the E. T. Basketball League season for the Army squad.

Richmond put up a stiff defence to keep Battery to an all-season low of 44 points. Al Hunting chalked up 11 points to head the Battery players while George Beaulieu netted eight and Richmond's Norm Allard was high man for his team with seven, in the low scoring game.

Summary:
35th Battery: Pettis 6, Stafford 2, Boland 3, Hunting 11, Beaulieu 8, Goodhue 6, Smith 5, Ethier 3, Evans, Burczyk Total 43.
Richmond: Harper 2, Sutherland 2, Noel 1, Allard 7, Marcotte 3, Pye 1, Perkins 2, Smith 1, Total 19.
Referee: Dave Turnbull, Sherbrooke.

Yesterday the first standings in this section were compiled and they showed a new entry to darts competition this season, the Radar team, right behind the leaders with four wins in five games. Legion "B" follows with three wins.

In recent matches Legion "A" picked up two wins, downing Superheater 20-15 and Legion "B" 21-14. Three Legion teams had four victories in the former game and three in the latter. Denis Hunt-Duke and Mrs. Clayton Conley were four-game winners for Legion "B".

Michigan State Still Tops In U.S. Football

New York, Nov. 19.—(P)—Maryland was beaten by Mississippi; Georgia Tech had a squeaker against Alabama and the experts can't make up their minds about the outcome of next Saturday's big game between Southern California and University of California in Los Angeles. As a result it's Michigan State in a breeze for first place in the United States National Football ranking this week.

Michigan State made their own breaks to beat Notre Notre 21-3 last Saturday. That feat, plus the other happenings, gave Michigan State more than two-thirds of the first place votes of the Sports Writers and Broadcasters participating in the Weekly Associated Press ranking poll.

Out of 127 experts casting ballots this week, 80 named Michigan State first and nobody placed them lower than fifth.

Georgia Tech retained second place. That apparently was because of the indecision about the relative strength of UCLA and USC.

These two Pacific Coast powers, who will fight it out for the Conference title and a place in the Rose Bowl next Saturday were so evenly divided that UCLA edged out USC for third place, 968 points to 911, but Southern California drew more first place votes, 11 to 9.

New York Rangers Call Up Vets To Bolster Sliding Team; Rayner And Strain To Be In Uniform Tonight

New York, Nov. 19.—(P)—New York Rangers, mired in the National Hockey League basement, announced two changes today in their bid to evacuate their lowly surroundings.

First off goalie Chuck Rayner will return to harness. Rayner, injured frequently during the last two seasons, will replace rookie Lorne (Gump) Worsley in the net tonight against Detroit Red Wings.

In addition, Rangers have called up Neil Strain, 26-year-old left winger from their Saskatoon team of the Western League, in a move to bolster their attack.

Coach Bill Cook was displeased with Worsley's performance Sunday night in a game the Rangers lost to Toronto, 6-3.

"He let some long shots get by that I think Rayner will stop," Cook said.

Rayner is not in the best of shape. He's played in only one game so far.

General Manager Frank Boucher said, "Rayner is in a tough spot. He may be a little shaky but that's due to lack of practice. However, he's our goalie until further notice."

Boucher described Strain as a "not spectacular player but a very sound, hard playing one who gets goals when least expected."

Strain, probably will play on the line that has Paul Ronty at centre and Wally Hergesheimer, the league's top goal scorer, at right wing.

The Rangers have won only two games in 16 starts and have scored 34 goals of which Hergesheimer has accounted for 12.

U.S. Davis Cup Team Having Tough Time

Sydney, Nov. 19.—(P)—The United States two-man Davis Cup team is finding the going tough in the New South Wales Tennis Championships.

Vic Seixas, team captain and top-ranking star, was forced to go five sets to whip Rex Hartwig, who rates near the bottom of Australia's top 10, and Straight Clark of Los Angeles was routed 6-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4 by one of Australia's crack juniors, Ken Rosewall.

Then Seixas and Clark were beaten in doubles yesterday by Australia's Mervy Rose and Don Candy in a grueling five-setter, 6-4, 3-6, 12-10, 4-6, 6-3.

Tony Trabert, on leave from the U.S. Navy, is expected to join the U.S. squad later on.

Seixas will meet Rose in his quarter-final today. Vic beat the Aussie lefthander in the finals of the tournament last year. Rose advanced by ousting Max Anderson, 6-3, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4.

Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, the one-two punch of the Australian cup team, each advanced with straight set victories. Sedgman raced past Billy Sidwell 6-1, 7-5, 6-4. McGregor beat Geoff Brown 12-10, 6-3, 6-4.

Miami Beach, Fla.—Holly Mims, 15½, Washington, outpointed Lester Felton, 151, Detroit (10).

Horse Racing Enjoying Biggest Betting Spree Ever In U. S. As AP Survey Shows High Increase

New York, Nov. 19.—(P)—Thoroughbred horse racing is concluding the biggest season in the history of the sport in the United States, with pari-mutuel wagering up 19.02 per cent over 1951, an unofficial survey of the country's 24 racing states disclosed today.

With estimates from several states where racing is still going on, an Associated Press compilation showed a booming $1,939,162, 662 bet this season compared with the previous all-time high of $1,830,287,455 for 1946. In that year 19 states had legalized racing.

Attendance hit a peak of 27,261, 501, or 12.17 per cent over the $4,302,020 last year.

Revenue to the States also hit a peak of $120,234,570, some 20.32 per cent more than the $99,927,423 of last year.

The joint group discussions with findings were as follows: (A) Do women have special contributions to bring to public affairs? As 49 per cent of Canada's population is of women it is a foregone conclusion that women have special contributions.

(B) A woman active in community work does a better homemaking job than one who has no outside interests? A woman who takes part in public life adds more interest to her home and family. (C) Should a woman support her husband in public activities? A woman's morale, physical and intellectual support is most important to the success of her husband in public life. (D) Women not suited to politics? Women not tied down with family cares who have the ability and are willing to make the effort do a first class job in politics.

The Christmas meeting of the W.A. is to be held in the Sunday School room with a Christmas tree and each member is to bring a small gift. The hostesses for this meeting are Mrs. Wendell Damon, Mrs. Robert Irving, Mrs. Wells Coates and Mrs. Edith Learmonth. Each member was asked to give a donation for the fish pond. The treasurer was ordered to pay all bills. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the business meeting.

Philipsburg Benefit Party A Great Success

Philipsburg, Nov. 19.—On October 8th, a bingo and card party was held to help defray the expenses that arrived from the unfortunate accident to a local junior baseball player, Ray Christopher. On September 14, Ray was struck on the skull from a pitched ball, which caused a double fracture, necessitating three major operations. As it was amateur baseball, all expenses as such and minor, must be met by the individual. This being the case, an evening benefit card party was held which netted $283.38, which with private donations (towards the expenses) of $96.50, made a total of $379.88, to help in the costs of this unfortunate accident. Thanks are extended to George Dussault, Philip Roy, Robert Trotter and to all the others who helped by their donations to make this evening the "success it was."

MOE'S RIVER
Mrs. Arthur Fry and Mrs. Gladys Wade accompanied by Mrs. John Saunders, of Lyatt Mills, and Mrs. Bertha Gilson, of Massawippi, motored to Richmond, Vt., where they spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. John Lane and Mr. and Mrs. A. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luce accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Luce, of East Clifton, were in Richmond to visit their daughter and sister, Mrs. Albert Sage, and family. Miss Shirley Haseltine spent a week-end in Waterville with Miss Eleanor Hopper and attended the Waterville school dance.
