He agreed with Mr. Dafoe that this was an Imperial question, and remarked that every Canadian paper not entangled in some telegraphic company, was in favor of the resolution (applause).

Mr. Dafoe seconded the resolution, Mr. Temperley withdrawing at the request of the chairman.

Thirty-six voted for the resolution and none against.

It was also agreed that the deputation should bring the matter before Mr. Asquith.

Mr. Maitland Park proposed a resolution in favor of state-owned electric communication with South Africa. He said the Union Government would certainly give a subsidy for this purpose. This was also carried.

Mr. Nelson, of Victoria, B.C., then pointed out that Mr. Baxendale's offer depended upon a reduction in the terminal rates by New Zealand, and the Australian governments, and moved a resolution, urging upon those governments the desirability of co-operation. This was carried unanimously.

Sir Hugh Graham moved a resolution concerning emigration. He said there was not a question of greater importance than the maintenance of British sentiment in Canada, which was the keystone to the Imperial arch. The majority of the population in Canada now was overwhelmingly British. French-Canadians were contentedly British, but the foreign immigration was seriously threatening that majority. Canada wanted good people from all lands, but the Dominion wanted more of them from Britain. He announced that a serious effort would be made in Canada to commeroate the conference by organizing an association of leading journalists and public-spirited citizens to strengthen and stimulate existing organizations, in order that desirable emigrants may receive the utmost encouragement. He moved a resolution to the effect that the press should co-operate in the wise direction of emigration (hear, hear).

Mr. Macdonald gave the proposition the heartiest sympathy.

Mr. Nicholls, of Winnipeg, declared that the foreign immigrants in Western Canada, as citizens, were absolutely all right (hear, hear). The resolution was carried unanimously.

THE MAYOR'S TRIP TO PARIS

The Court of Appeal will render judgment to-morrow morning in the case of Lapointe and Larin, which is the action against the Civic Finance Committee in connection with the Mayor's trip to Paris.

CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS

TO-DAY SELECTED THEIR EXECUTIVE FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

Nominations for the election of officers and members of the executive committee of the Montreal Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association closed at 2.15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, without any opposition to the names of Mr. Wm. Cauldwell, for chairman, and Mr. W. T. Whitehead for vice-chairman. They were declared elected. There were twenty-three names proposed for the eighteen seats on the committee, and at the adjourned meeting held at noon to-day the following were declared elected: Messrs. Fred Birks, A. H. Brittain, A. A. Brown, C. W. Davis, the Hon. A. Desjardine, Geo. Esplin, Joseph Fortier, Robert Gardner, F. H. Hopkins, L. H. Packard, C. S. J. Phillips, Carl Riordon, W. T. Rodden, Wm. Rutherford, Walter J. Sadler, J. H. Sherrard, Chas. A. Smart, and R. J. Younge.

OCEAN GREYHOUNDS ARRIVE

PASSENGERS EXPECTED TO REACH MONTREAL THIS EVENING.

Friends of passengers on board the 'Empress of Ireland' may expect the special train carrying first-class passengers to arrive at the Windsor street station about six o'clock this evening, as this steamship docked at Quebec at 2 p.m. to-day. The 'Empress' made a very satisfactory passage across the Atlantic, having left Liverpool Bar at 8 o'clock last Friday evening, June 18. Unfortunately she was compelled to drop anchor for six hours on account of fog at the Lower Traverse, fifty-six miles below Quebec, otherwise she would have been in Quebec early this morning.

The 'Megantic' of the White Star Dominion line, left Liverpool at 5 p.m. on Thursday, June 17, on her maiden trip. She reached Quebec about 3.30 this afternoon, and will arrive in Montreal to-morrow morning.

IN THE COILS.

WINE, WOMEN AND GRAFT IN THE PAY-AS-YOU-ENTER BRIGADE.

Further Discredit Thrown on Civic Administration by Fireman Champagne, Who Says the Men With Influence Could Do as They Pleased.

At this morning's session of the Royal Commission, Desire Champagne, a fireman, gave evidence which added to previously given testimony of the prevalence of graft, the allegation that drink and womenhave played a part in what has come to be colloquially known as the 'pay-as-you-enter' fire brigade. The witness was questioned by Mr. Perron with the set purpose of showing that there had in the past been a lack of proper discipline among certain members of the brigade, and Champagne said he knew it to be a fact that many of the men who had been promoted through influence more than by their own merit were allowed to drink and do almost as they pleased without correction. When Captain Doolan had been away, women and drink were introduced into the station, and disorder had reigned.

Direct evidence was also given by Fireman A. Albert that when he came from St. Eloi and entered the brigade ten years ago he paid $175 or $200 to Joseph Godbout for his position, but he was not informed whom the money was for. 2

EX-JUDGE AS WITNESS.

Mr. Desnoyers, retired License Commissioner and Judge of the Sessions, was called by Mr. G. Desaulniers, counsel for Chief Campeau, in order to give counter-proof to the testimony that has been given before the Commission against the city police administration.

Speaking from the Bench, Mr. Desnoyers said that he had, as Judge and License Commissioner, always found Chief Campeau a capable and honorable officer.

Mr. Laflamme—Do you think it right and proper that after a case has been entered in court, Aldermen should intervene in order to have it discontinued

Mr. Desnoyers—Well, it is a very delicate question to answer. I think, if there is to be intervention in a case that has been entered in court, the chief should act only for very good cause.

Mr. Laflamme—Oh, you speak of the chief's intervention, but I asked you if you consider it right an alderman should intervene to protect his electors or friends.

Mr. Desaulniers objected to the question, and Mr. Justice Cannon ruled that Mr. Desnoyers should not be called upon to reply.

Jean Baptiste Pressau, fireman, gave evidence to the effect that a lawsuit had been entered against him by Foreman Doolan, for saying that the latter had paid for his promotion. Witness was suspended, and Chief Benoit told him that if he settled the case he should be reinstated. Pressau settled the case and his impression was that his reinstatement was made in consequence of that settlement; but in reply to Mr. Marechal, counsel for Mr. Benoit, the witness said that the ex-chief did not make a settlement of the case an absolute condition of his reinstatement.

MUNDAY AND MONEY PAYMENTS.

Olivier J. Munday, who last Friday acknowledged that he had received money from candidates for positions in the fire brigade and given it to ex-Ald. Marsolais, deceased, was now recalled as a result of the testimony of Napoleon Rioux this week, to the effect that he paid $80 direct to Munday for a situation as fireman.

Munday said he did not remember ever having seen Nap. Rioux before.

Mr. Perron—But he is absolutely certain that he gave you the money. To whom did you give it?

Munday—If he gave it to me, I kept it myself, and did not hand it over to anyone.

Examined in relation to the disappearance this week of Charles Rioux, who introduced certain pay-as-you-enter firemen to witness, Munday admitted that Charles Rioux called to see him on Monday last and told him he was in trouble over this affair and was going away. He professed he did not know whether anyone sent Rioux to him.

Mr. Perron—What were the circumstances which resulted in the 'Association Munday-Rioux' being formed—for it was a veritable association, constituted for the purpose of admitting men from below Quebec into the fire brigade?

Witness—There was no such association as you suggest.

Mr. Perron—But you were acting together in this matter. What brought you two men into association?

Witness—I do not know.

Mr. Perron read over some of the names of the firemen who had sworn that on their arrival in Montreal from St. Eloi and neighboring parishes, they were taken by Charles Rioux to Munday, and that money was demanded from them in each instance. 'Here we have proof that traffic was carried on between you and Charles Rioux, continued counsel. 'Take advantage of the opportunity you have now and make a clean breast of the whole business.'

'I have nothing to say,' persisted witness.

Mr. Perron probed the witness further, but he asserted that he could not remember from whom he received money, and added that ex-Ald. Marsolais was the only man to whom he had paid over any money for positions in the brigade—at least, Marsolais was the only name he could recall.

Further examination of the witness was postponed until this afternoon.

Fireman Walsh, a young Irishman, swore his position in the brigade never cost him a cent. He said that after he had been in the country for some eighteen months a fellow countryman advised him, as he was out of work, to try and get a position either as policeman or fireman. He presented himself to Ald. Gallery, who sent him on to the fire chiefs. In order to get a position, witness confessed he had deceived both Ald. Gallery and the chief in saying he had been in Montreal for three years.

PRESENTS TO FIREMEN.

W. A. Doig and Frank Kirkpatrick, of the Dominion Coal Company, testified that in the winter of 1908 some five hundred feet of hose were borrowed from the fire department for a period of two months while a fire, which had caught a coal bank at Windmill Point, was extinguished. The hose, valued at one dollar a foot, was virtually ruined, but $500 was not paid—in fact no compensation at all was paid—to the city for the hose. However, $10 was paid by the company to one member of the fire brigade and $15, in sums of $5 each, to three others, as acknowledgment for the benefits of the hose.

Mr. Doig, the cashier of the company, said he had no recollection of $25 having been given to Chief Benoit, but he was asked by Mr. Laflamme to refresh his memory from the firm's books during the luncheon interval and return this afternoon to give further evidence.

Amédée Perrier, captain of No. 4 fire station, from which the Dominion Coal Company borrowed about five hundred feet of hose, said he received instructions by telephone from the head office to grant this loan. The hose was in bad condition when it was returned, and about the same time witness received $10 in a sealed envelope. There was no indication from whom, or for what purpose, the present was made.

Phillipe Oésy entered the fire brigade twenty years ago, and notwithstanding the fact that he has an unblemished record, has always enjoyed good health, has constantly attended to his duties, and had his applications for promotion endorsed by the chief at different times, he has never been advanced above the rank of fireman.

SUGAR BOAT ASHORE

THE 'SPHEROID' STRUCK FIFTY MILES WEST OF QUEBEC TO-DAY.

Quebec, June 25.—The sugar steamer, 'Spheroid,' of the Thomson Line, is ashore at Cap a la Roch, about fifty miles west of this city. The place is the same as that in which the steamer 'Ottawa' was lost some years ago and is considered by navigators as the most dangerous point between here and Montreal. The vessel, which left Montreal at daybreak, went ashore about ten o'clock this morning. The 'Spheroid' is considered one of the largest vessels of the Thomson Line, being of 5,000 or 6,000 tons gross and 2,126 tons net. Her length is 370 feet.

MR. JOSEPH DUMONT APPOINTED ASSISTANT PROVINCIAL TREASURER.

Quebec, June 25.—At the cabinet meeting, held here this afternoon, Mr. Joseph Dumont, was appointed assistant provincial treasurer, as successor, to the late Joseph Boivin, who died last week. Mr. Dumont was assitant to the late Mr. Boivin.

OLD MAN FATALLY INJURED.

Louis Maillard, 62 years of age, of 1032 St. Catherine street east, was so seriously injured through being knocked down by a horse yesterday, that he died in the ambulance while he was being conveyed to the Notre Dame Hospital. The old man was crossing St. Catherine street at Delorimier avenue, when a horse attached to a buggy driven by Jules Dupuis, 35 years of age, of 370 Panet street, knocked him down. The old man walked in front of the horse, and according to a number of witnesses of the accident, the driver was not to blame. The body was removed to the morgue, and Coroner McMahon will hold an inquest to-morrow.

WOMAN DIED OF HEART DISEASE.

Mrs. Burke, a middle-aged woman, died suddenly at her home, 285 St. Hubert street, this morning. The woman, who is 63 years of age, was attending on her husband, who is in bed, suffering from rheumatism, when she suddenly collapsed, and before assistance came, she had expired. Heart disease was the cause of death.

STREET SPEAKING PROHIBITED.

Winnipeg, June 24.—Recently the police forbade preaching and speaking where crowds were sufficient to in any way interfere with traffic or where the assemblage exceeded limited numbers. A number of orators who have enjoyed the liberty of speaking on the streets for a long time, refused to obey the mandate and compared Winnipeg with Russia. Last night they planned a general defiance of the law and announced that they would speak when and where they liked. They started, but were promptly arrested.

TO ABOLISH SLATES.

Brantford, Ont., June 25.—Brantford public school board has decided to abolish slates in the public schools; hereafter, books will be used in all grades. Slates are held to be uncleanly and conducive to slovenly writing.

WOMEN'S CONGRESS OPENED

ADDRESSES BY PROMINENT SPEAKERS ON EDUCATION, PHYSICAL TRAINING, AND EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

Toronto, June 25.—At the opening session of the health and physical training department of the International Women's Congress, competition in athletic sports was condemned as an evil by Miss Ethel M. Cartwright, McGill University, Montreal. Physical training should, she said, be seriously regarded as the foundation of mental and moral training.

Froken A. Buch, Denmark, said it was strange that public authorities should fail to recognize the equal importance of girls having physical training with that of boys.

Dr. H. Malstrom, Sweden, said both sexes were scientifically trained physically as well as mentally in that country.

Lady Edgar presided at the afternoon session of the health and physical training section. Hon. Sydney A. Fisher briefly expressed the interest taken by the Dominion Government in the proceedings of the Congress. He pointed out that the Ottawa authorities were co-operating with some vigor with the provincial Governments for the betterment of public health.

Lady Aberdeen expressed the view that the health issue equalled that of any before the women of the world. In Ireland the evil of tuberculosis was as formidable as any confronting the political and social economists of the land.

Dr. Montizambert arraigned indiscriminate kissing as a fruitful cause of the spread of tuberculosis. No one would for a moment, he said, condemn the kiss of love or affection, but ladies might profitably substitute the handshake for the kiss when meeting or parting, and in the case of the children of friends, it should be omitted by adults. He attributed the spread of tuberculosis also to young wage-earners of both sexes having to sleep in under-sized bedrooms; also to wage-earners having to return to work before recovery from attacks of illness.

Dr. Chas. Hodgetts, Toronto, in a comprehensive address outlined the duties of the citizen, the municipality and the government. In respect to many of the small tombstones, how correctly could be written the epitaph—'victims of parental ignorance in respect to public health.' It was no exaggeration, he declared, to say that 75 percent of the deaths of all first-born infants were preventable, their death being largely due to ignorance of both father and mother in respect to their rearing. It was too often the case that local health by-laws or codes of health, although they bear upon the face of them the impress of all that is good for the community, yet in the faulty method of enforcement or the imperfect manner of inspection, are in the end really a farce, and the strong arm of the Government, which created their local powers, must for the general good retain the power of enforcement. 'It will not suffice,' the speaker said, 'for any federal Government to say that the question of public health is relegated to this or that particular state, provincial or territorial legislature. Many public health questions are national in their import, indeed, we might go further, many health questions are international—for instance, the sewage pollution of the waters of the great fresh water lakes of this continent.

The preservation of these waters from pollution by sewage is of interest and import to all who live along their shores, as well as to hundreds of thousands who yearly visit them from all portions of the civilized world. The many points involved in the question could not be dealt with by the province, but must be considered by the nation.

SECTION ON EDUCATION.

The education section met in the Mines Building, Miss Derick, of McGill, presiding. Reports on progress in education in a number of countries were made at the morning session. Mrs. Oglivie Gordon, speaking of Great Britain, said that the education of girls in public schools and of young women in colleges was not treated with the same earnestness of aim as the education of boys, and would not be unitl women received the suffrage.

Dr. S. P. Robins, Montreal, depicted the educated mother as the ideal educator, within the family, of the future citizenship of the nation.

In the afternoon, Miss F. Melville, president of University Hall, St. Andrew's, Scotland, argued the all round development of the child instead of extreme specializing.

Prof. Dale, McGill University, declared the personality of the teacher to be the dominant factor in the educational problem.

EFFECTS OF THE SUFFRAGE.

At the afternoon session of the Section on Laws relating to Women, Froken Gina Krog, of Norway, argued that suffrage for women would injure no one, but would be of great benefit to all. 'I am sorry to say that the franchise for women in Norway is granted only on the basis of taxation, but a bill will be introduced in the next session of the legislature in 1910 to have the franchise for women made general. One of the improvements that have been brought about is the raising of lady teachers' salaries to practically the same as that received by men.'

Frau Marie Stritt, of Germany, said it was the Women's Council, held in Berlin in 1904, which first brought the women who stood for suffrage together, and she took pleasure in being able to say that the chief question to be considered at the 1910 meeting of the Women's National Society in Germany will be suffrage for women.

These remarks were greeted with ...ud applause, and were followed by the presentation to Mrs. Simister of a de- canter and tumblers in cut glass, as well as a pretty flower vase—gifts from the pupils of the school. On the pre- vious day, it was mentioned, the teach- ers presented Mrs. Simister with a handsome set of cut glass.

The various honor cards and medals having been presented, short speeches were made by the Rev. Dr. Symonds, Rural Dean Sanders and the Rev. A. A. Radley, each of whom congratulated teachers and scholars on their very cre- ditable work. Dr. Symonds spoke par- ticularly of the beauty and taste shown in the singing during the afternoon, and pointed out how highly desirable the culture of musical taste is. He said nothing had delighted him more than the success of the Empire Day concert this year, and he was glad to notice that on that occasion, some of the newspapers gave such excellent and ap- preciative reports of the concert, for it really merited all the good words that could be said of it. He added a few words in appreciation of Mrs. Simister's work, saying it was with deep regret to all the members of the School Board that she was severing her connection with the school.

The school then broke up for the holi- ..., with cheers for the principal and ...ers and the singing of the Na- ...l Anthem.

PILES
Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and guaranteed cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles. See testimonials in the press and ask your neighbours about it. You can use it and get your money back if not satisfied. 60c, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

WHAT YOU NEED FOR THE COUNTRY.

You need some handy balm ready for blistered hands, sunburned skin, cuts, burns, bruises, stings, and the many little accidents incidental to open-air life. Zam-Buk is the ideal balm. It is antiseptic, soothing, and healing. Insect stings or barbed wire scratches cannot become poisoned wounds if Zam-Buk is applied. It soothes sore, aching feet, heals baby's chafed places, cools patches of sunburn, relieves the pain of blisters. Mothers should see that the country cottage is never without Zam-Buk. Purely herbal, it may be regarded as Nature's own healer. Apply it to all skin injuries, rashes, eruptions, and diseases. All druggists and stores.

GENERAL.

TELL THE BOYS THE ANCHOR HOLDS.

The following poem is given for L.D.S., through the kindness of Mrs. Harvey, of London, Ont., who adds that the author is J. W. Bengough.

'Tell the boys the anchor holds,'
Theese the words he whispered clear,
While we gathered at the bedside
Of our dying comrade dear.
'Tell the boys the anchor holds,
Christ is faithful to his word;
In death's hour of gloom and terror
By thee stands thy risen Lord.'

Chorus—
Glorious hope in death's dark passage,
Jesu's strength thy form enfolds;
Faith triumphant sends the message,
'Tell the boys the anchor holds.'

'Tell the boys the anchor holds,
Free salvation through the blood,
This the safety of the soul
In the midst of Jordan's flood.
Tell the boys the anchor holds;
No vain fable is our faith,
Peaceful rides the little barque
On the swelling tides of death.

'Tell the boys the anchor holds,'
And a smile of rapture deep
Lighted up the happy face
As he gently fell asleep.
'Tell the boys the anchor holds,'—
So the words for evermore
Seem to echo, faint and sweet,
From the far-off heavenly shore.

WEIGHT OF THE EARTH.

J.L.—What is the estimated weight of the earth? Ans.—The total mass of the earth is estimated at 6,550 tons (of 2,000 pounds), 10 raised to the eighteenth power, or 6,550 million million million tons. Of this the mass of the centrosphere or interior of the globe is estimated at 6,529 million million million tons; the lithosphere or crust of the earth resting on the centrosphere, 21 million million million tons; the hydrosphere or ocean masses, 1.49 million million million tons, and the atmosphere 7 million million million tons. The encyclopaedia published recently under the supervision of the 'Scientific American' has an article showing how the estimate is arrived at.

CROP FAILURE OF 1815.

F.W.—Will you confirm or deny the following: 'I have heard that in the year 1815, just when the farmers were finishing seeding, snow began to fall, and that it remained until November. There was no harvest, and the people subsisted on fish and game chiefly. Also, that one of the years of the rebellion of 1837-38, was nearly as bad, heavy frost every month. Hay was imported from Ireland, and sold in the city of Quebec at $45.00 per ton. These conditions prevailed, it is said, throughout Ontario and Quebec. Ans.—The account has become exaggerated in the course of time. In the summer of 1815, although the snow which had fallen late, disappeared, the weather remained cold and backward, so that the wheat crop was a total failure. Only some of the potatoes and root crops came to maturity. There was great scarcity, but not actual famine. At that time the people made use of a great deal of fish and game, even in years when the crops were good. Game was plentiful throughout the country, and the settlements being chiefly near the rivers and lakes, fresh fish were always obtainable. The clearings on many of the farms were still small, and it was often a matter of difficulty getting the grain to mill and the flour home. All things considered, when it is said that the 'people subsisted on fish and game chiefly,' it does not imply such conditions of hardship and semi-famine as appears at first, although the scarcity of 1815 caused much privation among the settlers, and was spoken of a generation afterwards. As to the years 1837-38, there was nothing like the same conditions. We cannot say whether or not hay sold in Quebec for $45 a ton. We have known it to reach $30 a ton in a scarce season.

INSUFFICIENT POSTAGE.

Enquirer, Quebec. — I have frequently heard it said that a personal letter may be sent from one place in Canada to another for a one-cent stamp, as long as the envelope is not sealed, only the flap turned in, and the sender is willing to take his own chance as to the privacy of the communication. My own impression has always been that a private or personal communication of any kind, no matter whether sealed or not, must pay the regular letter rate if enclosed in an envelope at all. I am quite sure that some persons who now claim they may send any unsealed letter for one cent would scorn to do so if they thought they were really violating the postal laws. Ans.—The sending of a letter in an unsealed envelope in no way diminishes the rate of postage. If a one cent stamp is put on instead of a two cent stump, it is not the postal revenue that suffers, but the recipient of the letter. Such a letter is stamped 'Insufficiently prepaid,' and double the amount of the deficiency is charged when the letter is delivered.

MINING RIGHTS IN QUEBEC.

L.B.—What minerals, metallic and non-metallic, are reserved by the Quebec Government when selling lands to settlers? Ans.—The mining laws of the Province of Quebec provide that mining rights are property separate from the soil covering mines and minerals, unless the proprietor of the surface has purchased from the Crown as a mining concession or otherwise the underground properties. For particulars write to the Minister of Colonization and Mines, Quebec.

AUTHOR.

R.L.—Will the 'Witness' oblige by giving the name of the author of the poem, 'Pour les Morts,' published in French in 'World Wide' three or four months ago. Ans.—The poem appeared in 'World Wide,' on Nov. 28, 1908. The author is Jacques Chenevière, and the poem was originally published in 'La Revue de Paris.'

CHANCELLOR OF McMASTER.

J.T.I.—Kindly inform me who is the Chancellor of McMaster University, Toronto? Ans.—The Chancellor is Dr. A. C. McKay, B.A.

LEGAL.

ONTARIO.

A LIVING AGREEMENT.

Subscriber, Ont.—A hired B to cut four acres of corn, B to go on a certain day. B goes on that day and A has corn cut. Can B collect pay for cutting corn or can he collect pay for his trip? Ans.—B is entitled to damages for A's breach of contract.

ACREAGE OF FARM.

Ontario.—A bought a farm of twenty-nine and a half acres according to the deed. It was an executors' sale. They advertised and sold it for thirty-one acres more or less. They say it overruns enough to make it thirty-one. Am I compelled to pay for thirty-one acres? When the deceased bought the place she did not pay for the extra. Ans.—We think so.

EXECUTORSHIP.

——, Ont.—A makes a will and leaves B and C members of his family and D, an outsider, executors. B does the actual cash business of the estate, or is the chief executor, by the sanction of C and D. 1. Are C and D responsible for any errors that B may make in the cash business? 2. If through B's carelessness $500 goes astray, can the heirs make the other two executors make it good? 3. Can an executor charge so much for the time he loses or is there a percentage on the money he handles? 4. What is the proper method of remuneration? Ans.—1. No. 2. No. 3. Time expended is an item proper to be taken into account in fixing the remuneration of the executor; and such remuneration is frequently and properly put upon a percentage basis. 4. In the absence of provision in the will for an allowance to the executor, the parties interested, or the Judge of the Surrogate Court upon the passing of the executors' accounts, may make him a fair and reasonable allowance for his care, pains and trouble, and his time expended in or about the executorship of the estate and effects vested in him by the will, and in administering, disposing of and arranging and settling the same and generally in arranging and settling the affairs of the estate. The amount of such allowance may, as above stated, be based upon a percentage of the value of the estate, or of the money which has actually passed through the executor's hands; or it may be a lump sum. There is no hard and fast rule excepting that, however arrived at, the allowance must be reasonable. If, however, money has actually been lost to those interested in the estate by the negligence of the executor, that would be a good and valid reason for reducing the amount of the allowance that would otherwise be made him, or possibly even for withholding same entirely.

MEDICAL.

(Letters for this department should be addressed 'Medical Editor 'Witness,' Montreal.' Should a subscriber ask any question which is not suitable for publication, a reply will be sent by mail if a stamped addressed envelope and $1, physician's fee, be enclosed with such question.)

ECZEMA.

'A Constant Reader' has eczema on the hands and face, and to some extent on the body. This came on three months ago and she has had treatment for it without improvement. She has dieted and taken medicine, and also has kept the hands out of water. She asks the following questions: (1) Can it be cured? (2) Would the cure be permanent? (3) What are the causes? (4) Would housework, such as sweeping and dusting, ironing, and gardening, make it worse? (5) Is a lotion better than a salve? (6) What medicine is best for the bowels? She has been taking aloes. (7) Is the disease more troublesome in winter or in summer? (8) Is it contagious? Ans.—You must not be disappointed or impatient if you do not get cured quickly. Eczema is a most difficult affection to eradicate. Even under the most judicious treatment and care it is tedious. It is undoubtedly curable. The condition is apt to relapse if the causes are not removed. The causes are not very well known. Indigestion, constipation, errors in diet, are the chief. Some cases appear to be nervous in origin. Irritation of the skin is a potent cause. Sweeping, dusting and gardening are injurious as they tend to irritate the skin. Getting heated will also aggravate the condition. You should not put the hands in water. Keep them clean with a little sweet oil. A good plan is to saturate the hands at night when you go to bed and put on a pair of old gloves. Some cases do well with ointments; others need lotions. As a rule the treatment has to be changed from time to time according to the progress made. Epsom salts is probably the best to use for the bowels. The disease is apt to be more troublesome in summer. It is not contagious. I should advise you to consult your doctor at intervals, and faithfully carry out the treatment. Do not get discouraged. Change of scene might help you, failing all else.

SCURF.

A.C.P. is a farmer, sixty years of age. He does not use liquor or alcohol. He has a disease of the skin in the form of a dry, scurfy scale, which is continually falling off. The eruption is on the back, breast, neck and face. The rash is very sore, burning and itchy. When he picks off the scales, they are clear and thin, with a little red spot in the centre of many of them. They would measure a sixteenth of an inch in diameter. The cold winds seem to make it worse. He is comparatively free in summer. He has had it for five years. Ans.—It is difficult to say what is the trouble without seeing you. The condition might be a form of psoriasis or eczema. I should advise you speaking to a doctor about it. Probably only prolonged and continuous treatment would cure you.

PILES.

'An Old Subscriber' has piles, which bleed a good deal. He has been advised to have an operation. Asks if the method of drying them would be better than operation. Also, if the operation would be dangerous, and if the condition would be likely to come back. Ans.—The operation is not a particularly dangerous one, though in your state of health you run a little more risk than a perfectly healthy person. Still, you can choose a time when you are pretty well. The method of drying them would not likely be successful in your case. If the operation were a radical one, it is not likely that you would ever be troubled again. I should be guided by your local doctor's opinion.

HALLUCINATIONS.

'A Friend.'—An aged lady is much troubled with seeing strange faces about her whenever she lies down at night. They always appear to laugh at her and make grimaces. She is not nervous but it annoys her. She occasionally notices the same thing in the daytime. Her health is fair. Her eyesight is poor. Asks what is the cause and if anything can be done. Ans.—It is hard to say what is the cause without examining her. It may be due to changes in the brain incident to her advanced years. Or her heart may be weak. Have some one sleep with her and keep up her spirits. If her health is not satisfactory, get a doctor to look at her.

SPORTING NEWS

MONTREAL VS. SHAMROCKS

Large Crowd Expected at the Championship Game Tomorrow.

As the date of the contest between Shamrocks and Montreal draws nearer the interest taken grows more and more intense, and it is not too much to say that not for a long time has a game so early in the season occasioned such excitement.

The advanced sale of reserved seats is the largest in the history of the club, and granted a fine day a record attendance is almost certain.

Who will win? is heard on every side, and the question is a difficult one to answer. The officials in both clubs are quietly confident of success, but both think the game will be a close one. On form they have each defeated Toronto by the same margin which make them out to be of equal strength. The match will take place on Shamrocks grounds, which is usually considered to be an advantage, and if this be true the Irishmen have that much in their favor.

Messrs. Foran and Pittaway may be relied on to see that clean lacrosse is played by both teams, and if any player disregards the rules he will certainly find his way to the fence.

Shamrock — Fyon, Howard, Rochford, Kavanagh, McIlwaine, Mundy, Currie, Robinson, O'Reilly, Brennan, J. Hogan, Hyland.

THE MINTO CUP

TECUMSEH LACROSSE TEAM ARRIVED AT NEW WESTMINSTER.

New Westminster, B.C., June 24.—Tecumsehs arrived here last night, pretty tired, but eager for the coming struggles for the Minto cup. All are well with the exception of Querrie, whose knee is still a little stiff. He will be in the game, however.

Kinsman's throat is all right again, and Felker's cold is about gone. The president of the Vancouver Lacrosse Club, with several newspaper men, met the train at Harrison Hot Springs.

The Vancouver Club wants an exhibition game on July 3, and Querrie will probably consent to play them.

The Indians held their first practice this morning on the Fair grounds, where the matches will be played.

Mr. Welch, manager of the New Westminster team, vigorously denies that his men are stale, and says they will be in good shape.

LOST TO TORONTO

ROYALS WERE UNABLE TO HIT THE MAPLE LEAFS NEW PITCHER.

Toronto, June 24.—Toronto had no difficulty in defeating Montreal this afternoon, Newton, the new pitcher for the Maple Leafs, only allowing one hit during the whole game. Both teams fielded loosely, and outside Newton's pitching, the game was featureless.

Score by innings—

Toronto	0 0 5 0 0 0 1 0 x—6

Summary—Sacrifice hits, Houser. Stolen bases, Mullen, Fallon. Double play, O'Neil to Kritchell. Struck out, by Newton, 8; by Winter, 1. Bases on balls, off Newton, 2; off Winter, 2. Left on bases, Montreal, 6; Toronto, 12. Umpire, Stafford.

BOWLING IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, June 24.—At the Eastern Canada Lawn Bowling meet, which was brought to a close here to-day, Messrs. Reid and Rawlinson, of the Canadian rink of Toronto, won the first prize in the double competition. They stayed right into the finals, and then defeated Messrs. Hurd and Beatty, two of the best players of the Ottawa Club. E. A. Thomas, of the Civil Service, took first in the singles, second honors going to J. A. McGill, of Prescott. Messrs. Willison and Wigmore, of Toronto, made gallant fights in the singles and doubles, but were both vanquished.

CIBOT, ORPHEE AND HOLMER

RACE WILL BE ARRANGED IN QUEBEC ABOUT THE MIDDLE OF JULY.

Quebec, June 24.—Arrangements have been about concluded with Cibot and Orphee, the French runners, who are at present in town, for a race with Holmer, on the Q.A.A. grounds, on July 17 next. The race will probably be a four-man one, Beaudet, the Victoriaville runner, having been invited to come in. The distance will be 18 to 20 miles.

THE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIPS

'Witness' Readers May Have Results Telegraphed Direct From the Links.

In connection with the forthcoming Dominion Golf Championships which are taking place on the links of the Toronto Golf Club, June 26 to July 3, inclusive, the 'Witness' has arranged to forward the result of both the amateur and the open championships to any golfer direct from the links immediately on the conclusion of each event. Secretaries of golf clubs and others interested may thus have the desired information a few minutes after the events have been decided, by forwarding name and address with express money order to defray telegraph tolls, to 'The Sporting Editor, Montreal 'Daily Witness,' care of C.P.R. Telegraph Company, Toronto.

The result of the amateur championship will be known bout five o'clock on Wednesday, June 30, and that of the open championship about the same hour on Saturday, July 3.

THE AUTO RACES

DE PALMA, CHRISTIE, ROBINSON AND BURMAN WILL DRIVE AT BLUE BONNETS NEXT MONTH.

Some of the world's greatest automobile drivers will participate in the coming big auto meet to be held at Blue Bonnets next month. At least four have already consented to participate in the events, and they are probably the best known racing drivers in America.

One of these is Ralph DePalma, who holds the record for the races from one to twenty miles. Any of the events that he will take part in will be exceedingly lively and exciting. Probably few other motorists have been so much in the lime light of late as this great driver.

Walter Christie, who has won world-wide, fame, has taken part in a great number of the big meets held in the United States, and there is no doubt but that his performances will excite great interest. He expects to smash all records at the auto races with his 140 horse power car.

Another famous automobilist who will be sure to participate in the races next month is George Robinson. It will be well remembered that he was the winner of the last year's Vanderbilt Cup races. It is expected that he will drive his famous 'Locomobile.'

Robert Burman, of Flint, Michigan, who was the winner in the $1,000 match race with Soule at Delorimier Park last year, will also be here.

VERDUN HOSPITAL.

The fortnightly report of the Medical Superintendent of the Protestant Hospital for the Insane, at Verdun, shows that there were 13 admissions and 15 patients discharged as cured. Three were discharged on trial and three deaths occurred. The visiting governors for the week commencing next Monday are: the Rev. F. M. Dewey, D.D., and Messrs. A. Butze, Chas. Cassils, and A. C. Hutchison.

WON BY EIGHT WICKETS

Ottawa Defeated Haverford, Bristow's Fine Bowling Being the Feature.

Ottawa, Ont., June 24.—Ottawa City Club won their game against Haverford College by eight wickets. The game, played to Wednesday night was fairly close, the score being, Haverford, 109; Ottawa, 110 for eight wickets. For the Ottawa club too much praise cannot be given to Bristow for his fine bowling. He was changed throughout both innings, and the twenty wickets for fifteen for his. Heygate was striking his gait in the second innings when the match closed. Harry Ackland's 63 in the first was what settled the match.

Haverford taught Ottawa a thing although defeated. They were far ahead of the Ottawa Club in not only picking up better, but more snap. As batsmen they are young, all keen and all good, man, at least, Furness, who is only years of age, looks of first calibre. The complete score is as follows:

UNITED STATES TARIFF

SENATOR ADOPTS AMENDMENTS REGARDING SHOES AND SOLE LEATHER.

Washington, June 24.—A short time before adjournment to-night at 10 o'clock, the United States Senate returned to the consideration of the schedules of the tariff bill, after devoting the greater part of the day to listening to prepared speeches, and adopted amendments increasing the duty on shoes from 15 to 20 per cent ad valorem, and increasing the duty on sole leather from 5 to 10 per cent ad valorem, the lower figure representing the House rate in each case. An amendment increasing the duty on cullodion was adopted.

During the day there were three prepared speeches, all of them being delivered as sent. When the Senate convened, Senator Beveridge talked for about four hours, and was followed by Mr. Bailey at almost as great length. Mr. Newlands was the last of the orators of the day and he had not long surrendered the floor when the Senate adjourned.

LION KILLED CUBS

NEWCOMERS AT DOMINION PARK HAD BRIEF CAREER.

Mr. Ferari, who keeps the wild animals at Dominion Park has met with a heavy loss by the death of three lion cubs. The attendant, it is said, not familiar with the habits or dispositions of the beasts, allowed the male lion in the cage with the lioness and her young, and the lion attacked his offspring. In the fight which resulted from the attempt of the lioness to protect her young, the cubs were killed. The attendant separated them after being badly mauled and scratched. The wild animals continue to attract much attention at the park.

Much blindness ld be stopped by the better treat- t of the eyes of those suffering from let fever and measles. All eyes of hool children should be regularly ex- ned by an expert, and no child hould be admitted to a school until has been satisfactorily proved that is in a proper condition to support strain to its eyes.

Preventable blindness occurs in indus- tries, such as quarrying and mining, where regulations for the isolation of dynamite are not enforced, also in works where glass, steel filings and quicklime are used. The employer should provide safety devices on machinery where the eyes of the workmen are imperilled. Burns from molten metals and damage from flying chips may often be prevented by the use of glasses similar to those worn by motorists. Improper treatment of a small injury to the eye will lead to its total loss and the sympathetic loss of the other eye. Persons suffering from accident should go for treatment at once to a proper doctor, thus saving sight.

The unconscious and the conscious drinking of wood alcohol often results in blindness. Over-taxing the eyes, dissipation in youth or old age, drink, drug habits, or excessive nervous strain may lead to these results. Education, the betterment of social conditions, improved convalescent homes and hospitals, will do much to diminish blindness in old age.

Miss Helen Keller, who is a member of the Associated Workers for the Blind, was unable to be present at Columbus, but in a letter of greeting, said in part: 'Our ultimate problem is to prevent blindness, to bring nearer the time when, instead of one blind person in every thousand, there will be only one in every ten thousand. The reluctance of the press, school and church to teach essential facts does not matter. Cowardice on the part of some of the medical profession does not matter, unnecessary blindness matters unspeakably.'

An interesting paper on 'What Japan has done for the blind,' given by the special representative of the Mikado, was discussed by one of the delegates, as well as many other subjects of interest to blind workers, including 'The need of Uniform Type,' 'What should be the place of gymnasium work and athletic sports in the development of blind p ils,' 'Is a cottage system or a congregate system best suited for the education of the sightless.'

It was stated that the recent Conference was undoubtedly the largest, most widely attended, and most successful meeting in the interests of the blind, that had ever been held in the history of the world.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to the delegates for their instructive reports, and also to Mrs. and Miss Ives, who had rendered in a very pleasing manner, selections of music on the violin and piano. After partaking of refreshments the meeting adjourned.

BISHOP'S COLLEGE CLOSING

Bishop Farthing, Principal Robertson and Others Receive Honorary Degrees

STUDENTS CAUSE MERRIMENT BY SPRINKLING FLOOR WITH RED PEPPER.

One of the most prosperous years in the history of the University of Bish- s College, Lennoxville, was brought a close yesterday by the fifty-ninth nual convocation. There was a very attendance, those present includ- the chancellor of Bishop's, Dr. John milton, of Quebec, who presided; the Dr. Farthing, Bishop of Montreal, received the honorary degree of r of Divinity at the hands of the rsity, along with Principal J. W. rtson, of Macdonald College, Ste. de Bellevue, and the Rev. Dr. k, the principal of Bishop's, both om had the degree of D.C.L. red upon them, and the Rev. Dr. ll, former headmaster of Bishop's e School, and now the Dean of io, who also obtained the D.D. while Professor C. F. Gummer, erly of Oxford, and now of Bish- received an ad eundem M.A.

Rev. Dr. Parrock, in his report rincipal, said the entire attendance year was classified as follows:—'A' n students, 64; women, 9; 'B'—re- students, 57; day students, 'in- ing the nine women,' 16; 'C'—faculty ts, 48; faculty of divinity, 25.

London, Ont., June 24.—Dominic Taddeo was to-day found guilty by Magistrate Love on six charges of forgery, fraud, and of altering forged postal notes, and remanded for a week for sentence. His father, John Taddeo, was allowed to go, it being shown that he was made a tool of by his son.

We simply can't continue under these cramped conditions, now that our two annexes are handed over to the builders. We must muster all our forces to press the clearance of stocks.

Even in the Girls' Outfitting Department

The Clearing Forces Are At Work.

White Dotted Muslin Dresses, trimmed generously with valenciennes lace, in sizes for girls from 2 to 10 years, have tumbled in price from $2.00, $2.25, $2.50 and $2.75, to each $1.49

Gingham and Chambray Dresses in princess style (sizes 2 to 8 years) were $2.25; subsequently marked at $1.50, now finally clearing at ..... .98

Striped Dimity Sailor Dresses, in blue and white or black and white combinations, marked at $3.00, will be cleared at each $1.49

Large Stripe Sailor Gingham Dresses, in white and grey, blue and white, or white and green, (ages 4 to 8 years), marked at $2.50, clearing at $1.39

Little two-piece Suits (dress and blumers), ages 4 to 8, small check Ginghams, originally $4.00, clearing at $1.95

Little Reefers, in good cloth, for the evenings in the country, clearing on about same price basis.

Another .15 Day in Wash Goods

We are going to keep piling out on the clearance tables and counters of our wash department on the first floor, hundreds and hundreds of yards more till all these printed muslins, white muslins, Anderson's Zephyrs, ginghams and chambrays, and all these striped linen and half linen suitings, even the .35 lines, are cleared at .15.

With Our $5 Bags on Saturday Will be Included Some $6.50, $7.50, $8.50, $9.50 and $10.00

Candidly, we would rather suffer a small loss if need be and give you something of extra value right now in the season than suffer damage to the goods by being huddled and tossed about for lack of space without anybody getting any benefit out of it.

Trimmed Millinery.

On Saturday you can select from any of our $5.00, $7.50 and $10.00 hats for $2.50.

And from our $12.50, $15.00 and $18.00 ones at $6.50.

Outing Dresses

For some reason or another the darker ones of those print jumper dresses which we have been clearing at $1.70 instead of $2.50, have not gone with the same enthusiasm as the lighter shades.

Therefore instead of retaining the clearance price, first arranged, the price has been made to tumble down even below the dollar mark to ..... .99

It is the blue and white, also the black and white ones we have reference to.

Clearance of Wool Challies Our Own .39 and .50 Lines At .29

Out must go the Challies in the general exodus of stock—1000 yards of them at the least in pretty floral striped and spotted effects of best colorings. They are all wool of course. They are, in a word, our own .39 and .50 lines clearing at per yard ..... .29

CHARGED WITH FRAUD

W. S. MITCHELL ARRESTED IN NEW YORK AT INSTANCE OF CANADIANS.

New York, June 24.—William S. Mitchell, who says he is a promotor, was arrested to-day near his home, 373 West Ninety-seventh street, by United States Marshal Pinkley and a private detective, at the request of the British Government, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences. Mitchell's alleged offence is said to have taken place in Canada, and he will be extradited as soon as the necessary papers arrive.

Joseph E. Rogers, Inspector of Criminal Investigations of Ontario, who made the complaint upon which Mitchell was arrested, alleges that in January, 1907, Mitchell, with Duncan C. Ross, and others said to be prominent in Canadian politics, formed a syndicate to obtain an option on a mine known as the 'Sinclair claim 3,434,' at Coleman, in the Nipissing district, Ontario.

Mitchell is alleged to have reported to Mr. Ross and the other members of the syndicate that he had secured the option on the mine from William Stone Thomas, a director of the Quebec Bank, for $130,000, to be paid in instalments, and that in part payment the owner had agreed to accept $30,000 in fully paid stock of the company that was to be incorporated to work the mining property, and known as the Airgiod Cobalt Mining Company.

Believing these representations to be true, so Inspector Rogers says in his affidavit, Mr. Ross on September 19, 1907, paid Mitchell $5,000, but it was subsequently discovered that Mitchell had obtained the option for $85,000 instead of $130,000.

Mitchell was taken before United States Commissioner Alexander, who committed him to the Tombs until to-morrow, when he will be allowed to appear as a witness in the State Court in a suit which he brought some time ago against a London banking company.

Besides Mr. Ross, the other members of the mining company are said to include Col. Sir Augustus Fitz-George, a cousin of the King; W. C. Strachan, and William Mitchell, an uncle of the prisoner.

Others, who are said to be connected with the case, and who will appear against Mitchell, are said to be Senator L. Melville Jones, of Toronto; William R. Asquith, of Ottawa; the Hon. Jacques Bureau, solicitor-general of Canada; the Hon. S. Young, of Manitoba, and Senator Templeman, of Vancouver.

Mitchell is said to have been at one time a member of the Consolidated Exchange here, and to have been in the brokerage business in Boston. While living at Medford, Mass., it is said he married a daughter of Frank C. Pitcher, a prominent resident of that city. Sir Augustus Fitz-George is now in London, but it is said he will appear as a witness against Mitchell at his trial, which is due to take place at the Criminal Assizes in Toronto in September.

A CHURCH SOCIAL.

Clarenceville, Que., June 24.—A pleasant social gathering was held on Tuesday evening, under the joint auspices of the Sunday-school and the Epworth League of the Methodist Church, here, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lewis, who have been appointed to the Lakefield Mission, in the Montreal North District, for the ensuing conference year. The basement of the church was filled with an audience of friends and well-wishers, to enjoy a social hour and extend to the popular young couple their kindest wishes. A programme followed, after which an address was read and presented to 'our guests,' together with an accompanying purse, as a token of goodwill and esteem. Mr. Lewis, who was taken completely by surprise, said he hoped he would find, in heart and life, many such people as he was now about to leave behind. He thanked them heartily for their kindly feeling and good wishes thus tangibly expressed. Refreshments were served, after which the assembly dispersed.

FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1909.

Mr. H. C. Frick has set a good example to other millionnaire residents of over-crowded cities. He has given his daughter a hundred and fifty acres of land which she has decided to make into a park and playground for the children of Pittsburg. That city has a population of over half a million and comparatively few open spaces in the city proper. We have our mountain, St. Helen's Island, Lafontaine Park and Fletcher's Field. Big fields we do not need so much as open spaces in the congested parts of the city, where the children play in the streets, having no other place, and where they are exposed to many dangers. The mountain, the island, can only be visited on holidays, and the parks are too far away for a great many youngsters on ordinary days. Neighborhood playgrounds are therefore what are most needed, and this, we presume, is what the Playgrounds' Association will endeavor to supply. A walk through the streets these sultry days will convince anyone that neighborhood playgrounds are matters of life for the children in the congested parts of the city.

French aerial navigators were not idle while Count Zeppelin was performing feats with his big flying machine. It is announced that an air voyage is to be attempted from Paris to London by a hitherto unknown airship. In a letter to a London paper, Mr. Du Cros, secretary of the Parliamenary Aerial Defence Committee, says it is proposed to make the trip before the end of the present session of parliament in the most powerful machine of the kind ever constructed. It will have a capacity of 227,500 cubic feet, two propellers driven by two motors each of 220 horse-power, and will carry 25 passengers, in addition to supplies and petrol sufficient for 700 miles. The speed will be forty miles an hour, and the ship will be able to ascend 6,000 feet. The Aerial Defence Committee has secured an option for the purchase of the ship by the British nation. This would give the British superiority for the time being in aerial navigation to the Germans. Twelve passengers were the most that Count Zeppelin's dirigible carried at any time. Should the projected voyage be successfully accomplished, the new era of aerial navigation may fairly be said to have begun, with Great Britain at no disadvantage with her putative rival. To France, it seems, however, belongs the credit of beating Germany in the dirigible balloon competition.

It would be surprising were Prussia not to prove subject to what seems to be a general law regulating the growth of population. When a country reaches a certain stage of development in wealth and culture, the birthrate declines, the decline being most marked in the most wealthy and cultured classes. After a time, the decline extends to the middle class, and then to what are called the 'working classes.' Such has been the devolution of population in France. The same process to a less noticeable degree has been going on in Great Britain. United States census statistics show that the native population, that is, the posterity of the early settlers, is dwindling, and that were it not for immigration the population of the Republic would become as stationary as that of France. Now Prussia and, we may be reasonably sure, all Germany, is showing the same tendency. Even here in Canada, the older provinces, notably Ontario, show a shrinkage in the size of families. The general law seems to operate in making wealth, culture and manufacturing causes for the numerical decline of population.

THE NEW TAXES.

London capitalists are not the only ones who are protesting against the imposition of taxes on forms of wealth that have heretofore escaped. The United States Congress is now considering President Taft's recommendation of an income tax, and a tax on the profits of money-making corporations. In Germany and Austria-Hungary the agrarian nobility and allied holders of hereditary wealth are declaring their hostility to the proposed income and inheritance taxes. The governments of all these countries are in analagous financial situations, for all have arrived at a point where accumulations of wealth must assume larger public burdens than they have hitherto borne. Naturally, the possessors object and protest. Privileged classes have always done so when democracy invaded what they regarded as their sacrosanct rights. Like protests were made when repeal of the corn laws was agitated, but none of the evils the protesting landholders predicted came to pass. On the contrary, the nation advanced in material progress by leaps and bounds. The same experience was repeated when the first Reform Bill was passed, and when Sir William Harcourt first imposed succession duties. The Lloyd-George budget, being a logical sequence of these changes, may have a similar result. Lord Rosebery, Lord Avebury and the Lord Chief Justice have condemned it, the former as an act of despotism, and the latter as a measure that may require the judges to be called upon to protect the interests of the people against the executive. These declarations are merely significant of class alarm. Even the meeting presided over by Lord Rothschild was purely a class affair. The House of Commons is always responsive to the popular will. When it makes a mistake a remedy is eventually found. Among the protestors are those who demand reconstruction of the tariff, and eight additional 'Dreadnoughts,' but when they are called upon to contribute in taxes to the increased expenditure they bitterly object, and predict all sorts of disasters as sure to follow. The majority in the Commons will not, however, pay much heed to their objections. Those who speak grandiloquently about spending the last shilling and sacrificing the last man in defending the nation should be patriotic enough to pay taxes on their superfluous wealth.

FINANCIAL REVIEW.

In the stock market there has been a weakening of quotations and a letting up in the heavy volume of trading which marked the immediate past. In view of the high level to which values had been carried, and the speculation which has impaired the former excellent technical position of the market, the reaction is possibly the best thing that could have happened. Money is cheap, and is not likely to become appreciably dearer, for some months at least, but bankers are, so we are informed, expressing some disapproval of the way things are going, and they are showing a tendency to shut down on too great an extension of call loan accounts, which would have the same effect as a higher rate. The more cautious among the brokers advise conservatism in dealing in securities. They feel that the shrewd investor, who is content to wait his time, will reap handsome profits, but they doubt the wisdom of the man who purchases at the moment for quick returns. If the crop turns out as predicted, and the West enjoys a bountiful harvest, there is every reason to expect that prices will go to new high levels in the stock market. The whole situation depends on the size and quality of the crops, and it is not surprising that all eyes should be turned westward.

The splendid bank statement issued by the Department of Finance, at Ottawa, for the month of May, has been received in financial and industrial circles as a striking evidence of the further recovery of business as reflected in another increase in commercial loans. The latter in Canada now amount to $528,313,141. Another sign of recovery in trade is an increase in note circulation, which expanded $2,326,565 during the month and was $823,211 greater than in May, 1908. Deposits show a further large increase, both in time and demand, here and abroad, total deposits in Canada being now $670,515,414, or $118,436,215 more than a year ago, $55,421,297 of the increase being credited to savings deposits. No immediate change is therefore anticipated in the monetary outlook, as this great abundance of money is awaiting profitable investment. There are those, however, who claim that the end of cheap money is almost in sight and that dearer money will begin as soon as the crop movement calls for funds.

The recent report issued by the Government bearing on the trade figures of the Dominion for last month shows most gratifying increases in both imports and exports. Imports for May totalled $28,060,076, an increase of $5,183,547 over May of last year. For the first two months of the fiscal year the imports totalled $50,592,549, an increase of $7,792,625 over the corresponding period of last year. Exports of domestic products for the month total $15,810,207, an increase of nearly $2,000,000. For April and May exports total $27,673,004, an increase of $2,471,704. The total trade last month, including coin and bullion, amounted to $44,911,726, an increase of $7,029,659. For the first months of the fiscal year the increase in total trade has been $11,437,926. These figures are in marked contrast with the statistics published a year ago and are evidence of general activity all over the country.

In about two weeks' time the half-yearly dividend money will be pouring into the market and this is sure to have a bullish effect on the situation.

The episode in Steel Common has been a striking example of the investor's taste for stocks, and his anxiety to deal on the exchange when he finds that he has a pretty good chance to get quick returns. Such has been the experience during the past few weeks. Sometimes in July we hear of heavy and profitable trading, and many predict that the holiday months will see a busy period on the stock market. We shall hear much of the wheat crop after the opening of next month; that and the later trade prospects will play their part on the Stock Exchange. Some one asks, 'what would happen to stock if things were to go wrong in agriculture?' Nobody knows exactly, of course, but it is pretty certain they would take a tumble.

Public interest in Cobalt, its mineral resources and mining operations, is increasing as the season advances. There have been many evidences of the great productiveness of the silver camp recently, and the now obvious fact of its immense wealth has raised the expectations of the public. Speculation is now on edge as to the total mass and bulk of silver ore to be extracted this year. Estimates in this respect are many, and all show large figures. The latest statement of weekly shipments of ore shows a decided increase over the previous week, and the smaller mines are showing substantial progress. They are, in fact, only in their infancy. In common with the Wall Street list and local securities the mining stocks have had a small reaction in price during the past week. This is but temporary, however, in the case of the properties of intrinsic worth.

The financial position of the Montreal Street Railway is most satisfactory. It is everything in fact that reasonable shareholders could desire. It must be conceded also by the most exacting that the company has the faculty for construction on a large scale with a minimum of expenditure. The operating expenses are exceedingly small when judged by the magnitude of the work accomplished. A glance at the statement for May, issued this week, will show that the gross earnings amounted to $329,339, as against $313,678 for the same month of the previous year. The operating expenses were somewhat large in comparison with last year, being $184,147, as compared with $169,723. The net earnings, therefore, though large, show only a moderate increase over 1908, being $145,191, compared to $143,955 for the preceding year. Total earnings from October 1 are given at $2,437,055, and $2,341,551 for the year before. Operating expenses came to $1,524,082, as compared with $1,485,623, and net earnings are satisfactory at $912,972, compared with $855,928 for 1908. Altogether, the showing is gratifying, and one that must be pleasing to the stockholders at large. From Toronto, Quebec, Winnipeg and Halifax come fine reports. All are doing well and adding to their financial strength.

QUEBEC BAPTISTS

ANNUAL MEETING HEARD REPORTS OF ENCOURAGING CONDITIONS.

At the twenty-second annual meeting the Baptist churches forming the Eastern Association, held in the Sherbrooke Baptist Church recently, the attendance of delegates from twenty churches in the association was very large. The reports were very encouraging, showing considerably increased membership, notwithstanding the removal of very many to the West; increased contributions for missions and for pastoral support. All the churches are supplied with pastors, and the outlook is very hopeful. Ladies' mission circles and mission bands report a very successful year. The Sunday-schools and young people's societies are carried on with increased interest. Next year the association will meet with the Point St. Charles Baptist Church.

THE CZAR OF RUSSIA

SAILS ON IMPERIAL YACHT FOR STOCKHOLM.

St. Petersburg, June 25.—The Emperor Nicholas left Russian waters on the Imperial yacht 'Standart' to-day for Stockholm, on the first of the three foreign visits he will pay this summer. The trip to Sweden is a return of the visit of King Gustave to St. Petersburg at the time of the marriage of Prince Wilhelm of Sweden.

No high politics will be discussed at Stockholm, and the fact that the Emperor Nicholas is going almost directly from Sweden to Poltava to be present at the dedication of a monument to the Russo-Sweden dead who fell in the battle of Poltava two hundred years ago, is taken as an evidence that the ancient Russo-Swedish enmities have been completely blotted out.

PASTOR AT WINDSOR MILLS.

Three Rivers, June 24.—The Rev. R. Robinson and family left here yesterday for Windsor Mills, to which field he has been appointed. Mr. Robinson was pastor of the Methodist Church here for the past four years. He was very quiet and unobtrusive, and won for himself a warm place in the estimation of the English-speaking community. The removal of Mr. Robinson and family leaves quite a vacancy in that community. Good wishes follow them. The Rev. Mr. Henderson, lately of Lakefield, succeeds Mr. Robinson.

PARIS GREEN ON LETTUCE

MANY VICTIMS IN VICTORIA, B.C., SEEK MEDICAL AID.

Victoria, B.C., June 25.—Insufficient washing of lettuce purchased from a Chinese gardener, has been responsible for much Paris green poisoning that has greatly puzzled local doctors and the police. It was feared at one time that a monomaniacal poisoner was operating in the residential districts. Happily, the small quantity of poison adhering to the leaves was insufficient to cause death, although perhaps a score of victims have sought medical aid.

TORNADOES IN SOUTHWEST

A CHILD BLOWN FROM ITS MOTHER'S ARMS.

Norton, Kans., June 25.—Northwestern Norton county and southern Nebraska were swept late yesterday by a half dozen tornadoes. All rural telephone lines are down and reports are meagre. A child of Mrs. Frank Gentry, of Brunswick ranch, was blown from its mother's arms, and had not been found up to late last night. Residences and outhouses were swept away.

WESTON'S PROGRESS

Ogden, Utah, June 25.—Edward Payson Weston arrived at Wells at 5.45 last night, having walked from Cobre, Neb., 37 miles, since 6 o'clock in the morning. Wells is about 175 miles from Ogden on the Southern Pacific railroad.

IMPERIAL DEFENCE CONFERENCE.

Lord Milner Declares at Banquet that Overseas Dominions Must be Assigned Some Vitally Important Function in General Scheme.

COL. DENISON SAYS CANADA SHOULD HAVE FINEST SHIPS THAT CAN BE BUILT IN FRONT LINE OF BATTLE.

London, June 25.—The Imperial Defence Conference opens on Monday next, and Lord Milner, speaking on the subject at the Compatriots' Club dinner last night, observed that the dominions overseas meant business, and if more courageous and more comprehensive proposals were made by the home government, the more likely they would be to succeed. To each dominion overseas must be assigned some vitally important benefit and function in the general scheme of defence.

Lieut.-Col. Denison, of Toronto, speaking as a guest at the club, in responding to the toast to his health, spoke of Imperial defence, and that Canada felt the time had come for something to be done. He said Canada should be represented in front line of battle with the finest that could be built. If Canada could not build the 'Dreadnoughts' could pay for them. She could afford to double her debt to run risk of seeing the Empire fall. Canada should also train a navy of 10,000 men. Canadians were in advance of their politicians, who were afraid of their own shadows. A Canadian navy would be popular with professional politicians, for it would mean them a great patronage to control.

DR. J. E. DUBE IS PRESIDENT

IMPOSING EXERCISES TOOK PLACE AT PARK LAFONTAINE.

The election of honorary executive officers, the passing of resolutions looking to the propagation of the French language, a speech from the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, Sir A. P. Pelletier, and some further details in connection with the organization of the new federation, were the principal items on the programme at the closing session of the Congress of French-Canadian societies last night.

Sir A. P. Pelletier and Archbishop Bruchesi were appointed honorary presidents, and Messrs. C. Delage, for Quebec; the Hon. Mr. Landry, for the Maritime Provinces, and Dr. Brien were chosen honorary vice-presidents, the last-named in honor of the associations from the New England states.

DR. E. DUBE.

There was a contest for the presidency, which was won by Dr. J. E. Dubé, and the following executive officers were selected: J. B. Desaulniers, first vice-president; Dr. J. A. St. Denis, second vice-president; J. B. Legace, secretary and archivist; Canon Lepailleur, corresponding secretary; L. J. Papineau, treasurer. The Rev. Abbé Perrier was elected chaplain.

When Dr. Dubé took the chair he made a ringing speech on the aims of the new federation, that won the approval of the delegates.

It was decided to leave to the officers the choice of a board of directors, consisting of twelve members. The next meeting will be held in Montreal, which will be the headquarters of the federation.

Two resolutions were adopted. One favored the re-introduction of the bill at the legislature obliging companies of public utilities to use both French and English. It was also resolved to put on record that the organization was in favor of the propagation of the French language.

At the close of the open air religious service at Lafontaine Park, yesterday, His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi read the following cablegram from Cardinal Merry Del Val, papal secretary of state: 'The Holy Father most heartily sends his blessing to all French-Canadians gathered around their archbishop to celebrate the feast of their patron saint, Jean Baptiste.'

The afternoon celebration took place at St. Helen's Island, where over 15,000 people gathered to hear the combined bands and witness the gymnastic exercises of Prof. Scott's pupils. About six thousand more persons were unable to reach the ticket wickets, and had to return home. At each trip, the two ferryboats were loaded to their utmost capacity, and the crush at the gates was very great. It was expected that twenty-five bands would take part in the concert on the island, but only six could cross over. These first united in the rendering of a number of patriotic selections, after which each played their own airs and shared the applause of the multitude.

The officials and train hands at different railway stations had a busy day, it being estimated that some visitors came in on the different lines. During the morning especially the station was crowded, the incoming all carrying extra cars, and in many cases they were loaded to the limit.

So great was the crowd in the Ste. Hyacinthe district that a special train of ten cars was made up for the benefit, and took nearly five hours to take them back at 11.30 last night.

A grand open-air concert was given in front of the Church of St. Louis de France, last evening. The choir of the church, and the Philharmonic Band of St. Hyacinthe, furnished the music, which was most excellent. Patriotic addresses were delivered by the Rev. Curé Belanger and Mr. J. C. Lanctot, president of the St. Louis section of the St. Jean Baptiste Society.

The proceedings closed with the singing of 'God Save the King' by the crowd with band accompaniment.

At Viauville Park there was a fine illumination and an open air concert. A large number of residences were brilliantly illuminated last evening. A grand display of fireworks will take place in Lafontaine Park this evening.

TO BE PRESENTED

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 25.—Among other Canadians, who have been summoned to Their Majesties's Court, are Mr. and Mrs. Frank and Mrs. Oliver, and the two daughters.

FIRE RECORD

Omaha, Neb., June 25. — Fire was started in the storage plant of the Atlas Oil Company last night, destroying the oil company's plant and the warehouse of the Orchard and Wilhelm Furniture Co., causing a loss estimated at from $125,000 to $150,000.

THE LATE MR. A. T. PATERSON.

At a meeting of the directors of the Montreal Telegraph Company, held to-day, a resolution was submitted by the president, Mr. Hugh A. Allan, and adopted, expressing their deep sorrow upon hearing of the sudden death of their highly esteemed colleague and vice-president, Mr. A. T. Paterson. The resolution recorded their sincere appreciation of his valuable services, as a member of the board, also, their sense of the great loss sustained by this company, as well as by the community at large, by his death. It was further resolved that the expression of the warmest sympathy be communicated to his bereaved family.

VISITING GOVERNORS.

The visiting governors to the Montreal General Hospital for next week are Mr. R. C. Smith K.C.; Dr. Milton J. Hersey, and Messrs. Wm. McNally and Thos. F. Dobbin.

WARM WITH THUNDERSTORMS

THE CLOUDS OF GOD.

The city is full of labor,
And struggle and strife and care;
The fever-pulse of the city
Is throbbing in all the air;
But calm through the sunlit spaces,
And calm through the star-lit sky,
Forever over the city
The clouds of God go by.

O eyes that are old with vigil!
O hearts that are dim with tears!
Look up from the path of sorrow
That measures itself in years,
And read in the blue above you
The peace that is ever nigh,
While over the troubled city
The clouds of God go by!

MOUNT ROYAL

Rural Dean Sanders presided over the closing exercises at the Mount Royal school, Upper St. Urbain street, and was supported by the principal, Mr. A. MacArthur, the Rev. Dr. Gordon, the Rev. J. R. Dobson, the Rev. I. P. Bruneau and Rabbi Glazer. The principal, in his report, referred to the irregular attendance at the schools, owing to sickness. Their work, however, had been most encouraging, and the children had shown a high standard of proficiency. An excellent musical programme was given by the children, showing the careful training, which they had received. Short addresses were delivered, and encouraging advice given. As the honor cards were distributed, each group of children was loudly cheered. The singing of the National Anthem and pronouncing of the Benediction brought the proceedings to a close.

THE MAXWELL MEMORIAL

The closing exercises of the Sarah Maxwell Memorial School—the first to take place in the new building that has replaced the Hochelaga school, which was destroyed by fire over two years ago, were held yesterday afternoon. The Rev. Dr. Shaw, chairman of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners, presided. The principal of the school, Mr. H. F. Archibald, and some of the Protestant clergymen of the district, were also on the platform. Songs by the school were an attractive feature, and short addresses were delivered by the visitors. The principal's report showed the daily average for the session just closed to be 190, as compared with 115 for the session of 1907-8. The average attendance on the school days of this month was over two hundred. Mr. Archibald referred to the need of a sixth year grade in the school, and expressed the hope that there would be seven classes, counting the kindergarten, in the school next fall. Dr. Shaw, speaking to the parents after the presentation of the honor cards, said that the commissioners purposed to meet the growing needs of the city and suburbs, and that the taxpayers could trust them to move forward as the demand appeared. The Rev. Mr. Bryant, of St. Cyprian's; Mr. Rollitt, acting minister, of St. Mary's, and the Rev. Dr. Tucker, of the Hochelaga Methodist Church, spoke briefly.

BRITANNIA

The closing exercises took place yesterday afternoon at the Britannia school, at which Ald. Turner presided. Miss Mary Agnes Stewart, the principal of the school, mentioned in the course of her report, that the average monthly attendance, which was 86, was below that of last year, and that the attendance all through the year has been most irregular, although there have been no epidemics in the neighborhood to account for such being the case. During the proceedings the children sang patriotic songs.

A WOMAN, AT PRESTON, MINN., IS KILLED BY CRAZED HUSBAND.

Winnipeg, June 24.—Mrs. Gust Benikson was killed at Preston, Minn., last night by her crazed husband, while trying to shield her twelve-year-old son from death at his father's hands. Before the sheriff arrived the crazed man went into the woods and shot himself, dying in a few minutes. Seven children survive, the youngest being six months old.

CASE DROPPED

THE CZAR VS. DEFAULTING RUSSIAN OFFICIAL WHO FLED TO WINNIPEG.

Winnipeg, June 25.—The famous legal case in which the Czar of Russia sought to recover through the Canadian courts at least a portion of the large sum of $500,000 stolen by Ivan Proskowreakoff, a defaulting official, who had been in charge of the administration of a trans-Caucasian province, has at last been settled by a mutual agreement after nearly two years of litigation, and an appeal to the Supreme Court.

SCHOOL CLOSING EXERCISES.

HIGH SCHOOL CLOSING

The many parents and friends who attended the closing exercises of the junior classes of the High Schools this morning, had a couple of hours of most enjoyable entertainment. There were something like 600 pupils present—the boys in their Sunday clothes, and the girls prettily dressed in muslins, with flowers in their hair. Very gay and happy they all were at the prospect of the summer holidays. The great evene of the occasion was the presentation of honor cards to the brightest members of the various classes, and these all came in for hearty applause from their fellow pupils as one after the other they were called up to the platform.

The Rev. Principal Rexford was in the chair, and had a large number of ladies and gentlemen supporting him, among them being the Rev. Dr. Paterson Smyth, the Rev. Dr. Campbell, the Rev. Mr. Sullivan, Mr. William Birks, and Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Dixon.

An action song by the kindergarten class greatly delighted everybody, so pretty and innocent was it, and various part songs and choruses by the older classes were also beautifully rendered.

Mr. Wellington Dixon, the rector, in his report, said the junior classes comprised 19 classes, with a total enrolment of 606, this number being exactly the same as that of last year. On the whole, the year had been a satisfactory one. For some time it had been found difficult to safeguard the health of the pupils and at the same time prepare them in the work laid down in the course of study. Next year this would be remedied by the introduction of an additional year in the course, thus giving us seven years instead of six to do the work in the preliminary course. And, as the hours of the new classes would be from 9 to 12.30, pupils would have an opportunity for exercise and outdoor life—in sunlight. Better work, therefore, and better health, not to speak of smaller classes, would result from this change. For these new classes the board had given them two tried teachers, Miss Baillie and Miss Allen.

In the resignation of Miss Dodds, the junior staff was losing one of its best teachers, one who was both judicious and skilful in the treatment of her subject and her boys, and who, moreover, could always share the feelings of every one in her class. The result of this sympathetic and wise handling was that there were never any bad boys in her class, and that strong and lasting friendships were invariably formed. Both teachers and pupils, he was sure, hoped that the rest and the life in her native province by the sea would bring back all her accustomed health. They were sorry that Miss Dodds was leaving, but they are glad to be able to announce to parents and pupils that the board has given them as her successor a strong and skilful teacher, Miss Smardon.

In the school children's essay competition on tuberculosis, the High School pupils, especially the girls, were very successful. Of the 31 prize winners 16 were from the High Schools, and these 16 included the first four; and of the $46 given for this competition the pupils received $28.

In conclusion, Mr. Dixon asked the parents to support the teachers in discouraging the children from attending cheap picture shows.

Short adresses were given by the Rev. Mr. Sullivan, Dr. Paterson-Smyth, and others, and the school broke up with ringing cheers for the rector and teachers.

BERRI STREET

The Rev. I. P. Bruneau presided at the closing exercises of the Berri Street School, yesterday afternoon. Assisting him were the Rev. J. R. Dobson and the principal, Mr. C. A. Humphrey. The principal's report showed that 293 pupils had been enrolled during the year, with an average attendance of 222. A hundred and eighty-eight pupils had been examined and 158 promoted, or over 84 percent of the whole. Mr. Bruneau addressed the children briefly, congratulating the principal, teachers and themselves on the year's work, and the Rev. Mr. Dobson also said a few encouraging words.

RIVERSIDE

The closing exercises of the Riverside School took place this morning. The Ven. Archdeacon Ker presided. The Rev. J. K. Macdonald, the Rev. D. B. Rogers, the Rev. William Timberlake, Mr. F. C. McGonigle, secretary of the R. R. Y. M. C. A., and the principal, Mr. W. A. Kneeland, B.C.L., were also on the platform. The principal, in his report, referred to the extensive alterations to the school which had been completed, at a cost of $38,000. The total enrollment for the year was 857, with the high average attendance of 727. Proceedings commenced with the singing of the National Anthem, after which 'O Canada,' was rendered. The Twenty-third Psalm was also sung, and Archdeacon Ker pronounced the benediction. The exercises were curtailed this year owing to the recent death of one of the teachers, the late Miss McKeown.

VICTORIA

Alderman Yates, supported by Dean Moyse, of McGill; Mr. Messenger, the principal, and Mr. S. H. Parsons, a former principal, presided at the closing exercises of the Victoria School, on St. Luke street, this morning. Mr. Messenger gave a brief report of the work of the past season—his first in the school—expressing his appreciation of the work of the teachers and the assistance rendered him by Mr. Parsons. The enrollment during the year was 535, and there was an average attendance of 440 pupils per day. When the honor cards had been distributed, and Mr. Parsons's arrival had been greeted with vociferous applause, Dean Moyse gave a short address to the graduating class. He was followed by Mr. Parsons, at the close of whose speech, Ald. Yates called for three cheers for Mr. Messenger.

Reference was made by the principal to the impending loss of two of the teachers, who are being transferred to the High School.

ROYAL ARTHUR

The closing exercises of the Royal Arthur Schol, Workman street, took place this morning in the lecture hall of the West End Methodist Church. Alderman Richard Turner presided, and supporting him on the platform were the Rev. A. A. Radley, Messrs. Fee and Booth, Dr. A. N. Bourdeau, medical school inspetor; Mr. J. E. Rowland, the principal, and a number of teachers. The exercises for the junior division were first held. In speaking of the third year, Mr. Rowland said that it was one of the most successful years he could remember having ever dealt with. Last year it had beaten all similar classes at other schools, and he had great hopes of their being able to repeat the performance again this year. The fifth, sixth and seventh year classes were afterwards dealt with, and in each case the reports could hardly have been more satisfactory, notwithstanding the many difficulties encountered. There had been a slight increase this year in the number of pupils attending, a total of 593 having been enrolled. During the proceedings the following presentations were made: The Commissioners' bronze medal and certificate, for last year, to Kathleen McConnell, and the Commissioners' bronze medal, the gold medal, and scholarship to the High School, which were won by Bessie Radley, of this year's graduating class.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY

INCLEMENT WEATHER INTERFERES WITH SPECTACULAR FEATURES OF CELEBRATION

London, June 25.—The official celebration of the birthday of King Edward, that takes place to-day, has been robbed of most of its spectacular features by the inclement weather. This morning His Majesty ordered the cancellation of the principal ceremonies, namely, the trooping of the colors, the parade of the Horse Guards, and the review of the troops at Aldershot These decisions were made necessary by the heavy rains.

THE LATE MISS BAKER

PRINCE ALBERT 'TIMES' REPORTS RECENT MEMORIAL SERVICE.

An account of a memorial service for Miss Lucy Margaret Baker, who was for many years a missionary to the Sioux Indians, and who died in the Royal Victoria Hospital, in Montreal, a few days ago, was published in a recent issue of the Prince Albert (Sask.), 'Times.' The service was held in St. Paul's Church, in that town. 'Among the people who knew her best and loved her not only for her own sake, but for her "work's sake,"' as the report said. The Rev. C. G. Young conducted the service, taking for his text, 'This woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did. And it came to pass in those days that she fell sick and died.' Mr. Young stated that while in past centuries the spirit of heroism was revealed either in defence of the truth or on the field of battle; nowadays it is the missionary of the Gospel of Christ who sets the standard for the true hero, in their marvellous devotion and self-sacrifice. No better example of this could be found than the life of Miss Baker.'

The 'Times' adds: 'Although Miss Baker's work has been done so near Prince Albert, few know what she did for these dusky red-skins. The habits of industry which many of them have already learned, the respectable appearance which many of them show and the comfortable houses which many of them have built, all these are the fruits of her toil and sacrifice. No church anywhere has had a more devoted, more Christlike missionary than the little, refined and highly educated lady who spent her life to tell the Gospel story, especially to the neglected outcast Sioux Indian. Her spirit lives with us, and although dead, she speaks to us the message of the Christian's faith and the spotless life.'

KILLED BY POSSE

MURDERER OF MRS. WOODILL IN MARYLAND SHOT WHILE RESISTNG ARREST.

St. Michaels, Md., June 25.—Emmet E. Roberts, the newspaper correspondent and magazine writer and author, who was wanted for the murder of Mrs. Edith May Thompson Woodill, the adopted daughter of Col. Charles A. Thompson, was shot to death by a sheriff's posse, while resisting arrest off the wharf at McDaniel, Talbot county, at four o'clock this morning. Roberts fired one shot from a revolver, but without effect.

Shortly after midnight this morning a mysterious looking craft was seen moving up the waters of Black River, along the shores of which are the homes of Col. Thompson and Roberts. It is unusual to see a small boat out in the river at such an early hour, and John McQuay, a farmer, notified Sheriff Mortimer and Magistrate Willy, who were at St. Michaels.

Sheriff Mortimer, Magistrate Willy and a posse of six men hurried to the scene, reaching the river shore at 1 a.m. All were armed. They crept down to the water's edge under the cover of darkness and made out the outlines of a man in his short sleeves languidly rowing a boat up the river. They made no demonstration, fearing they would frighten off the man wanted. They resolved to wait until the rower got into narrower waters and within range.

Sheriff Mortimer and Messrs. Hooper and Harper obtained a boat and followed Roberts to create the impression on Roberts' mind that he was not being chased. Roberts seemed annoyed by the boat following him, and hastened up the river at a faster pace, the sheriff's boat following. The cornering manoeuvre began shortly after 1 a.m.

Roberts was nearing the scene of his alleged crime. As the shores came together members of the posse made out the features of Roberts. He was nearing the wharf at McDaniel, from which point he is supposed to have fled.

When Roberts got abreast of the landing place, and was but 100 feet from shore Magistrate Willy and his two deputies stepped out into the open.

'Hello, Roberts, throw up your hands!' shoutel the Magistrate.

Roberts did not utter a word, but rose in his boat with a big revolver in his right hand. He quickly levelled it at the party on shore and fired.

Meyer Crone, a special deputy, fired a shot from a revolver at the white-shirted figure standing in the boat. Then Magistrate Willy discharged a shot gun at Roberts. Deputy Crone fired a second shot. During the fusilade Roberts dropped in a heap in the boat, his revolver falling at his side.

The deputies waded out to the small craft. Roberts had been shot through the mouth by a bullet and was dead.

The boat was drawn to the shore and the body examined. Roberts had a bottle of poison in his pocket, and a number of letters. The body was taken to St. Michaels.

DISORDERLY CADETS

ROYAL MILITARY COLLEGE STUDENTS CLASH WITH THE POLICE.

Kingston, Ont., June 25.—A number of Royal Military College Cadets clashed with the police on King street, along by Market Square, last night, and a hot time resulted. The final year class had a dinner at the British American Hotel and, after all was over, the police had to be called in to restore order, as the cadets were raising 'rough house,' and some of them using bad language. At the Market Square the cadets surrounded four policemen and began to act disorderly, but the burly constables grabbed two disturbers and hurried them to the cells. Later, the arrested cadets were released and took the first early morning train for their homes.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES

Amsterdam, N.Y., June 25.—Two Italians were killed and three are believed to be mortally wounded as a result of a fight among laborers on the Amsterdam water conduit line, some twenty miles north of this city.

New York, June 24.—A cable despatch from Berlin this morning, said that Oscar Lewisohn, husband of Edna May, the former musical comedy artist, had been killed in an automobile accident between Vienna and Berlin. A later cable, however, from Mr. Lewisohn himself shows him to be alive and well at Ascot, Englanid.

CAUGHT IN AVALANCHE

Ottawa, June 25.—Dr. W. F. King has received a message, telling of the death of a young man named Sheppard, a member of one of the parties engaged in the survey of the Alaskan boundary. Mr. Sheppard was carried by an avalanche from a mountain peak, two thousand feet to a valley below. The body has not yet been recovered.

The Rev. W. Henderson was in the office renewing subscription to the 'Witness,' en route to Three Rivers, his new charge. Three addresses and four valuable presents had just been given to Mr. and Mrs. Henderson on Frankville and Toledo circuit.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Marion Ives sails for England to-morrow by the 'Dominion.'

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Markey are sailing to-day for England.

Mrs. Charles Duclos leaves on the sixteenth of next month for Kennebunk Beach.

Sir A. C. Pelletier and Captain Victor Pelletier, A.D.C., are at the Place Viger.

Mr. Justice and Mrs. Lavergne have left for their summer residence at Ste. Irénee.

The Hon. Adam and Mrs. Beck arrive to-day from England by the 'Empress of Ireland.'

Mrs. A. D. Durnford left town yesterday to spend the summer months at Cacouna.

Mrs. Hector Mackenzie will go to her summer residence at Cacouna next Wednesday.

The Misses F. A. and E. W. Duncan have returned from a trip to the Eastern Townships.

Mrs. Meighen leaves on Saturday to take up her residence at Little Metis for the summer.

Mrs. E. P. Winslow and family leave town to-day to spend the remainder of the summer at Little Metis.

Mrs. Joseph Ward and family, Bishop street, leave to-day for their summer residence, 'Le Chateau,' Village Richelieu.

Mrs. Bieler, wife of Prof. Bieler, of the Presbyterian College, has gone to spend the summer months in Vermont with her family.

Mrs. Alice Nunns Keough and her mother, Mrs. F. H. Nunns, of Coaticook, left yesterday for Vancouver and other points West.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Stevens, of Western avenue, are spending the summer at their seaside cottage, 'The Moorings,' Peak's Island, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wordie, Mrs. Paul and Miss Mathers, of Glasgow, Scotland, who have been visiting their cousins, Mr. and Miss Arthur, sail by the 'Hesperian' to-day.

The engagement is announced of Miss Bertha Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards, the 'White House' Sherbrooke, Que., to Mr. John Ernest Smith, Sherbrooke, Que.

William Jennings Bryan, jr., and Miss Helen Virginia Berger, of Milwaukie, were married this morning at Kinnikinic Lodge, the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Levering, on the shore of Grand Lake, Col. Only the immediate families were present. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan will spend their honeymoon at Grand Lake, and will leave about September 1 for Tucson, Arizona, where they expect to live for the next two years.

JOBB-DALTON.

Three Rivers, June 24.—The marriage of Miss Florence Elizabeth Grethchen Dalton, daughter of Mr. Jos. M. Dalton, manager of the Union Bag & Paper Company's business at Three Rivers, to Mr. Edward Blake Jobb, formerly of Londonderry, N.S., was celebrated here this evening at the residence of the father and mother of the bride. The Rev. J. R. MacLeod, of St. Andrew's Church, officiated. The bride, who was very elegantly gowned, was given away by her father. Miss Margaret Stinson, St. Thomas, Ont., was bridesmaid, and Mr. Reginald W. Louthood was best man. The presents to the bride were very numerous, and included several cheques. Mr. and Mrs. Jobb left by the Richelieu & Ontario steamer for Quebec and points east.

OBITUARY

AMERICAN PAINTER AND SCULPTOR.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 25.— William T. Trego, a noted portrait painter and sculptor, was found dead at his home in North Wales, near here, yesterday. Over-exertion, and an attack of vertigo, due to excessive heat, are assigned as the causes of his demise. He was 51 years of age.

QUESTION OF MILITARISM

PRINCIPAL GORDON SAYS CANADA SHOULD BE READY TO FIGHT FOR HOME AND EMPIRE.

Kingston, Ont., June 25.—At the R. M. C. closing exercises, Principal Gordon, of Queen's, referred briefly to the talk of militarism, and said that while he was a member of the Peace and Arbitration Commission, he nevertheless believed that militarism, properly understood, had a place in the nation, and that Canada would not be true to herself nor yet to the British Empire of which she was a part of, if, while accepting the favors of Great Britain, she did not put herself in a position of defence, ready to defend and fight for country and Empire.

GROUNDING OF 'CAMPANA'

TO BE INVESTIGATED AT QUEBEC.

Quebec, June 25.—The investigation into the grounding of the steamer 'Campana,' of the Quebec Steamship Company, which went ashore recently, some fifteen miles below this port, will begin in the Admiralty Court at ten o'clock to-morrow morning. Captain Demers, of Ottawa, acting wreck commissioner, will preside at the investigation.

NEW RAIL TESTER.

('Railway and Locomotive Engineering.')

A very notable rail testing machine has recently been designed by the Pennsylvania Steel Company and the results so far secured are of the highest scientific value not only to the railmaker, but to railway companies as well. It consists of a heavy circular cast iron girder about 20 feet in diameter. Upon this frame three rails, bent to the required curve, are secured.

With this machine it is impossible to not only equal but to surpass the traffic borne by any rail or set of rails used on even the busiest of our steam roads to-day. As an example of maximum traffic conditions: The tables of car movement over the horseshoe curve of the Pennsylvania Railway, one of the points of greatest main line traffic congestion in the United States, show that an average of 2,600 cars per day pass over each freight track at this point. This means that each rail in the track is subject to the daily wear from 10,400 wheels. A corresponding wear is given the rails in this machine, when running at 30 revolutions a minute, in less than three hours, and a week's wear can be had in less than a day. With the arm of this machine making 30 revolutions a minute, the wheels are travelling at a train speed of 21½ miles an hour, which is above the average speed of a freight train on the horseshoe curve.

Other possibilities of test open up as the scientific value of this unique machine is developed. The wheels are even now equipped with air brakes, and the value of various kinds of brake shoes, the effect of skidded wheels, the damage done by flat spots can be reproduced and studied. It will also be possible to see the effect of drivers constantly slipping at a given point, as on a grade, and this may be made apparent not only on the rail, but on the wheel itself. In fact all sorts of wheel tests can be made on this machine. By altering the speed at which each wheel is driven the so-called mysterious dragging action produced by drivers 'slipping shut off' can be brought about. Bad counterbalancing can be made to show its hammer blow effects on the tracks. It may be said that practically all the relations of wheel and rail in service conditions can be viewed at close range and with the time required to produce the effects reduced as never before. In fact the power of observation is here concentrated with almost the accuracy and intensity of a close examination made with the aid of a searchlight.

One of the objects which the designers of this testing machine had in view was to ascertain the relative wearing quality of their new Manard rails as compared with the ordinary Bessemer rails or high carbon open hearth steel rails. The name Manard is made up of the three first letters of the word manganese, and the termination 'ard,' is the last part of the word 'hard.' Manard steel is therefore hard manganese steel and it has been used extensively during the last eight years or more in the form of castings for frogs, switches and street railway special work, dredger parts, crusher jaws, coal breaker rolls, and, in fact, wherever severe wear and shock conditions had to be met. Manard steel possesses all the essential qualities demanded of rails subjected to exacting traffic conditions, but the difficulties in the way of rolling so peculiar a material were assumed to be insurmountable. After years of experimenting and investigation, a rolling process has been devised.

The Boston Elevated Railway some years ago found that cast Manard rails had more than fifty times the life of ordinary Bessemer steel rails. On a particular curve of 82 feet radius where a Bessemer rail showed a wear of about ¾ inch in 44 days, the cast Manard rail gave about ½ inch wear after a period of over six years. The rolled Manard rail which has now been produced bids fair to greatly outlast the Bessemer or the carbon rails. The Manard rails, however, costs about four times as much as the Bessemer, but even on the basis of the life of each as 50 to 1, the ultimate economy easily rests with the Manard rail.

The testing of the various kinds of steel rails which may be placed on the machine we have described, will give for all practical purposes the actual value of each as far as wear resisting qualities are concerned, and with such data before them, railways will be able to so distribute the kind of rails used on tangent, on easy curves and on sharp curves with heavy or light traffic so as to obtain greater uniformity of track life, if one may so say, although the rails at different points may vary greatly in composition and in price.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR EYES.

For one who values his eyes it is a good rule to do nothing which depends upon sight unless one can clearly see what one is doing. Hence, reading should never be attempted in an inadequate, unsteady or intermittent light.

How little this basic truth is understood and appreciated is illustrated by the surprising indifference of the community to the way in which public conveyances are lighted. For example, not long ago I rode uptown on one of the busiest and best equipped of the surface lines. The car was electrically lighted, but between City Hall and Seventy-second street the lights went out fifty-one times. Nearly every person in the car was trying to read a newspaper or had pockets stuffed with those he wanted to read. At some points of the run, at crossings and occasionally where there seemed to be no obvious reason for it, the alternations between brilliant illumination and darkness were frequent and rapid.

The effect of this upon eyes, even if one was wise enough not to try to read, was very trying, unfitting them for use until thoroughly rested by sleep. This is wholly unnecessary, and would not be permitted if we really cared what our public service corporations do to us. A method of correcting the trouble in the lighting of cars which take the current from the power conduit transform it for an incandescent unit was found more than [illegible] ago, but, as it did not promise earnings and was not demanded public opinion, it was not adopted.

The money value of eyes [illegible] or ruined by intermittent car [illegible] is many times greater than [illegible] the rolling stock of all the [illegible] combined. Like results are applied [illegible] low to those who seek amusement moving picture shows. To sit [illegible] an hour watching one of these [illegible] ing shadowgraphs makes the [illegible] eyes ache.

When to see what one is reading [illegible] doing, or needs to look at requires [illegible] scious muscular effort of the [illegible] is a good rule to give the eyes [illegible] fit of the doubt. If the work [illegible] kind which permits it the eyes [illegible] be rested by closing them [illegible] has never tried this simple [illegible] will be surprised how much [illegible] strain and brain fatigue [illegible] avoided.

Smoking, especially when [illegible] at work and when the head [illegible] in such position that smoke [illegible] the eyes and irritates them [illegible] hurtful. If there is no [illegible] to avoid this than to give [illegible] ing, a wise man should [illegible] tate as to his duty and interest.

Glasses should be worn as [illegible] needed. If assumed soon [illegible] often correct in normal eyes [illegible] for them. With abnormal [illegible] are indispensable if the [illegible] impaired would do normal [illegible] of the rules which admit [illegible] tion in few words is: If [illegible] glasses get the best obtainable [illegible] man with a good watch, [illegible] $100, would not surrender it [illegible] er or blacksmith to repair [illegible] should he trust his eyes to a [illegible] charlatan, or seek expert advice [illegible] a tradesman who sells spectacles [illegible] pretends to fit them? One [illegible] worth more than the best watch [illegible] made.

If irritating particles get into [illegible] eye have them at once removed [illegible] for this purpose a camel's hair [illegible] brush with a fine point, such as [illegible] in water color painting. A [illegible] match stick is an impossible [illegible] ment, and even the twisted corner [illegible] handkerchief is much too harsh [illegible] may do serious injury. It is well [illegible] remember that not in one case in [illegible] ably ten thousand is an impairment [illegible] the eyes ever wholly corrected or [illegible] recovered from.—Dr. J. C. Bayles, [illegible] New York 'Globe.'

HOW SENTIMENT AFFECTS CANADIAN SECURITIES

On the English Financial Market as Compared With Wall St. —A Recent Example.

It is often asserted that business is practically untouched by the influences of sentiment, and the majority of people appear to think that finance is altogether unemotional and hard-faced. This idea, however, has been often controverted by facts and events of popular business interest. Recent instances have been numerous.

Those who watch the flux of events in the orbit of finance must be continually aware of the higher valuation placed upon Canadian securities in Great Britain as compared with the United States. The 4 percent bonds of the Great Northern Railway of Canada afford an interesting example of the foregoing remarks.

There are $4,000,000 bonds issued, on $2,000,000 of which the principal and interest are payable in London and on the other half principal and interest are payable in New York City.

In London, the bonds are selling at 93 and in New York at 80. They are the same bond and part of the same issue, with the simple distinction as to payment of principal and interest, yet this distinction makes a difference of 13 points in the price in London as compared with New York.

The fact of England's discriminating generosity to Canada should be impressed upon that body of Canadians who are prone to forget the benefits which are being bestowed financially upon them by the English banker. Our industrial and commercial growth is largely indebted to the financiers of the British Isles, and while the Canadian Northern issue is a good example of the reception of Canadian less to point out that it is only one of securities in London, it is probably needthe many flotations which has met the approval and support of the English mart.

MORGAN'S PRIDE HURT BY FAILURE TO LIST STEEL

New York, June 25.—Mr. J. P. Morgan has arrived in Paris and immediately took up personally the matter of listing United States Steel on the Bourse. Mr. Morgan's pride is believed to be much hurt by the apparent failure of the plan. He has now spent several days of masterful activity with surprisingly fruitful results.

It appears that he has induced M. Caillaux, minister of finance, to withhold the announcement of his decision for the present and to listen to the views of M. Sorgent, under-controller of the currency, who believes he has found a means of reaching the legal difficulties without waiting for new legislation.

Simultaneously efforts have been directed toward the steel makers of France, whose protest to the ministry a fortnight ago, was effectual. Mr. W. E. Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, is interesting himself in this direction in a practical manner.

CHANGE IN MANAGEMENT IS VERY WELL RECEIVED

Will Mean Big Thing for Quebec —New Directors Will Inspect System Early Next Week.

The change in the control and management of the Quebec Railway, Light and Power Company has been well received in financial circles both in Quebec and Montreal, as an evidence of confidence in the future prosperity and growth of the Ancient Capital. A despatch from Quebec received in the city to-day states that the deal has received the hearty endorsation of the citizens and much is expected as a result of the new state of affairs.

Nothing definite as yet has been decided as to the contemplated improvement and extensions to the system. These, however will be decided on or at least a start will be made, at a meeting of the newly elected directors to be held in Quebec early next week, when President W. G. Ross, and the Montreal directors, Messrs. Rodolphe Forget, M.P., J. N. Greenshields, K.C. and Senator Robert Mackay will confer with the Quebec contingent on matters of future welfare to the merger.

A careful inspection of the railway electric, gas and power interests will be made shortly so as to give an idea of the immediate requirements. At any rate the old corporation is to be thoroughly organized on a modern and up-to-date basis.

STOCK MARKET TRANQUIL AND QUOTATIONS LOW

Selling of Iron and Crown Reserve Diffused Some Interest — Bonds and Bank Issues.

Stock trading on the local market this morning presented few features of interest. Apart from the selling of one or two issues which were relatively active, the market was almost supine. The selling of Iron, Canadian Pacific, Mackay common and Crown Reserve helped to enliven the session somewhat. Canadian Pacific was lower at 181½; Iron common is being kept well to the fore, and was taken over at prices ranging between 43 and 44. Mackay lingered in the vicinity of 80⅝. Crown Reserve was really the centre of interest. This stock was purchased in substantial slices with the price again at 3.45. This stock is tipped in the near future for an advance, and even at its present quotation it gives a handsome return in dividends. A few scattered sales of bonds and bank issues were reported at average prices.

SOUTH AFRICA MERCHANTS DESIRE CANADIAN TRADE

Mr. A. W. Brooks Tells of Wealth of that Country — New Trade Looking for Fresh Markets.

Mr. A. W. Brooks, from Natal, South Africa, who is in Montreal for a few days on trade matters, is much interested in the industrial and financial problems of Canada, and is eager to promote business between the two countries, which he feels could be rendered very profitable to those interested.

In speaking of the conditions prevailing in South Africa Mr. Brooks stated that general conditions were at their best, and that with the increased activity in the gold mines, which industry was of great consequence, business was brightening up and enterprise increasing.

The Witwatersrand gold fields, of South Africa represent an invested capital of $375,000,000. The gold output for 1908, which constituted the record year of gold mining since the discovery of the Transvaal gold reefs in 1871, was approximately 8,000,000 oz., and the net profits on the industry for 1908 showed $14,000,000.

In 1908 two new shafts of a mean depth of 5,000 feet each were sunk on the reef, while several shafts of upwards of 4,000 feet in depth have been in operation for some years past.

Financial prospects in South Africa generally are much brighter now than at any period since the war; the gold mining industry being the backbone of South African commercial life, it naturally follows that the recent revival on the Rand is becoming felt throughout business circles generally. Last year the diamond output in the Transvaal rose to one and a quarter million carats, 1908 being a record year.

The general revival of trade, which is largely attributed to the fact that unification is assured in South Africa, will open up fresh markets and provide means of expansion for existing markets in business relation between Canada and South Africa, and Canadian manufacturers would do well to look to South Africa as a prospective mart.

CHICAGO WHEAT BULLISH AGAIN ON BAD REPORTS

Toronto, June 25.—The uncertainty of the wheat market is demonstrated to-day by the turning of yesterday's decline into a decided rally. Shortage in Argentine shipments and continued bad reports from that country, are given credit for the stronger cables from Liverpool, which put initial energy into all of the options at Chicago. At Winnipeg wheat began to show some of the bullish inclination of a week ago and touched $1.31 before noon.

Manitoba wheat is quoted here to-day 1c higher in all grades, making a range of $1.32 to $1.36. American No. 2 yellow corn is quoted 1c lower at 81c to 81½c. These quotations, as in the case of all Ontario grains, are purely nominal at present, and are subject to change only in sympathy with the bigger markets. Trade is very dull and to secure a sale is a matter of great difficulty. This applies also to flour dealers who differ very widely in their quotations of prices, according to their inclination to sell or buy.

Reduction in Oil

New York, June 25.—The Standard Oil Company to-day announced a reduction in the price of oil of ten cents per 100 gallons.

Pittsburg, June 25.—Announcement was made by the Standard Oil Company to-day of a reduction of five cents in the price of crude petroleum, making Pennsylvania 183.

Crown Reserve Mining Co. LIMITED.

Dividend No. 4.

Notice is hereby given that a dividend of 6 percent for the three months ending 30th June, 1909, and a bonus in addition of 9 percent for the same term, making a total payment of 15 percent, has been declared, and will be payable on the 15th July, 1909, to Shareholders of record, 30th June, 1909.

Transfer Books will be closed from the 1st July to the 15th July, 1909, both days inclusive.

CROP REPORT REFLECTS CANADA'S PROSPERITY

Increased Acreage of Grain Exceeds Expectation—Factors in March of Progress.

The Canadian crop report just issued by the census and statistics office at Ottawa, is of a very pleasing tenor, and confirms the views recently expressed about the improvement in crop conditions being very noticeable.

Though fall wheat suffered during the early spring from hard frosts yet all the provinces assert that crops and grasses are growing thriftily, and there is promise of an excellent harvest.

Wheat has an area of 7,750,400 acres, which is 1,140,000 acres more than last year. In the Maritime Provinces and Quebec there is little change, but in Ontario the area is less by 106,600 acres, of which 88,300 acres is fall wheat. Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta show an area of 6,878,000 acres, being 1,254,000 acres more than last year. The condition of fall wheat on June 15 was 2.15, and of spring wheat at 92.15 percent of the standard for a full crop. The area of oats in the Dominion is 9,302,600 acres, which is 1,361,500 acres more than last year, and its condition is reported as 92.32 percent. Barley, next in importance, has a total area of 1,864,900 acres, or 119,200 acres more than last year, and its condition is 91.49 percent.

The province showing the largest area of oats is Ontario, with 3,142,200 acres, and also the largest area of hay and clover, with 3,535,600 acres. Quebec is next highest in hay and clover, with 2,923,600 acres. This province has also 1,574,100 acres in oats. Saskatchewan has 1,847,000 acres in oats, Manitoba has 1,390,000 acres, and Alberta 820,000 acres. In the three Maritime Provinces the total area in oats is b29,300 acres.

Homesteads in the western provinces have increased greatly, and this means an augmenting of agricultural and industrial labor resulting in an increased prosperity throughout those fertile regions.

Belleville Board

Belleville, June 25.—At a meeting held here yesterday afternoon there were boarded 3,000 white and 60 colored; sales, 850 at 11 7-16c; 1,200 boxes at 11⅜c; balance refused, ⅜c and 5-16c.

Hay Very Firm

No. 1 is quoted at $13.50 to $14; extra No. 2 at $12.50 to $13; No. 2 at $11.50 to $12; clover mixed at $10.50 to $11, and clover at $9.50 to $10.

Cheese and Butter

Cheese shows an easier tendency and sells locally, westerns, 11⅞ to 12 cents and easterns, 11½ to 11⅝ cents per pound.

Butter is firm with finest creamery quoted at 23½ cents per pound.

FARMERS' MARKET PRICES, June 25.

There was a large attendance of both farmers and market gardeners in the visinity of Bonsecours Market and Jacques Cartier square this forenoon, with abundant supplies of seasonable stuff, rhubarb, lettuce and radishes, being in excessive supply. There were about 30 loads of oats, for which $1.30 to $1.40 the bag was asked; buckwheat, $1.50 do.; potatoes pere plentiful at 80c to 90c the 80 lb. bag; Florida new potatoes are $6 the barrel; American cabbages, $1.50 the crate; Bermuda celery, $1 the dozen; cucumbers, 15c to 35c the dozen; asparagus, 15c the bunch; rhubarb, 10c to 25c the dozen bunches; radishes, 5c to 10c do.; lettuce, 8c to 15c do.; cauliflowers, 75c to $3 the dozen; spinach, 60c the box; new carrots, 25c the dozen bunches; new beets, 60c do.; dead turkeys, 15c to 20c per lb.; geese, 14c do.; chickens, 13c to 15c do.; live fowls, $1.50 the pair; spring chickens, 60c to 80c do.; tub butter, 20c to 23c per lb.; print butter, 20c to 25c do.; eggs, 20c to 25c the dozen; cream, 25c the quart; apples, $7 the barrel; Valencia oranges, $4.50 to $4.75 the case; lemons, $2.50 to $3.00 the box; plums, 50c the tin box; peaches, $2.00 the crate; strawberries, 9c to 12c the box; bananas, $1.65 to $1.90 the bunch; hay, $10 to $12 the 100 bundles of 12 lbs.; straw, $5 to $6 the 100 bundles of 12 lbs.; tomatoes, 25c the basket.

CRUELTY STILL GOES ON

CARTERS CONTINUE ILLTREATING HORSES IN WESTMOUNT.

Westmount is still the arena for the infliction of cruelty upon horses. Two men were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday bringing the total of such cases in Westmount to 20 since the first of the month. The two men condemned to-day by Mr. McMahon, were Louis Larimee and Polycarp Cardinal, who were fined $15 and costs each.

ECONOMIES IN COLOMBIA.

Bogota, Colombia, June 24. — Jorge Holquin, president-designate of Colombia, since the departure for England of General Rafael Reyes, issued two important decrees yesterday. One reduces the diplomatic and consular service of the republic to two legations in Europe and two on the American continent, and a total of eight consulates, while the other revokes the sentences of exile against all Colombians who have been banished from the country for political reasons.

The various economies decreed by President Holquin reduce the expenses of the government by $8,000,000 a year, and his course has met with warm approval.

ORIANE'S PERVERSION.

CHAPTER XXIX.

THE VICAR'S CONSCIENCE.

Mr. Ward had intended, with his to stop in Birmingham for the of the Convention; but Mrs. Ward ursing a serious case of illness in the cottages, which she could ave. The old man, worn and with the political atmosphere in could not deny himself the re- of going daily to Birmingham meetings. He started very ch morning and reached Mosain by eight o'clock in the an arrangement which to his seemed exhausting, but when face visibly regained the lines and happiness which it had worn when he first came to Mosford, they were satisfied.

He made a point of calling at the vicarage on his way from the station the first evening, to say he had come back safe and had had a good day, and if possible to elicit from his nephew some questions concerning the meetings he had attended.

'Well, uncle,' said Compton, 'did you find your way about Birmingham easily?'

'I hadn't far to go. I got to the morning meeting at 11, and then we had time for a bite between 1 and 2; then there was a prayer meeting, followed by a conference till 4.30, so that I just caught my train back comfortably.'

'I suppose,' said Compton, grimly, 'you heard them say things about us as uncharitable as I say about them?'

'They might have done if they'd been talking about you, but they weren't.'

'But of course they must have said something about the school question?'

'It wasn't that sort of a meeting. What they were conferring about was how to get on a higher level of experience, of faith, and the power faith gives. To-day, being the first, was devoted to the search for the inspiration that cleanses the individual life of its secret sins and infirmities and follies.'

'Oh, indeed!' said Compton, and he asked with sincere curiosity, 'Was there a penitent form? or were you allI asked to take a pledge against drink and tobacco?'

'I gues sthe folks there had got beyond that. They were mostly ministers and Christian workers, you know.'

'About how many were there?' Compton spoke with increasing curiosity.

'I was told between a thousand and fifteen hundred. There was a good deal of going in and out. The afternoon meeting was the biggest.'

'But you don't mean to say,' cried Compton, 'that you had a crowd like that morning and afternoon, and that they didn't talk about their attack on the Church, or about the evils of church doctrine!'

'If they'd wired into the Church I'd be quite willing to tell you what they said, but they weren't even thinking about it.'

When the old man was gone Ethel said, 'I never thought of it before, but I suppose Nonconformists really must have something else to talk about. Do you think there really is no reason for people to be Dissenters at all except their opposition to the Church?'

Compton did not answer audibly. He felt nettled by what the old man had told him, and could not analyze his vague irritation of temper.

The next evening, when his uncle had expressed his continued pleasure in the meetings, Compton said, 'I am sorry that I cannot enter into your feelings. These people are not my sort; indeed, just now they are doing their best to thwart us and the cause of true religion; and I rather naturally suspect that your easy colonial good nature is reflected in your impressions of them and their meetings. But of course, in so far as they are truly devout, one would wish to acknowledge it. Still I am sure in these two days you must have heard very bitter things said against the Church—things compared with which my warnings in the parish magazine are not so uncharitable as you thought them.'

'Well, you see, to-day the time was taken up with the subject of full consecration and the higher life. To-morrow they are to be searching for the best means of doing spiritual work and winning souls for Christ.'

'Still, as these people must acknowledge that their one justification of their separate position is the antagonism they feel to the doctrines and institutions of the Church, this must color all their thought, and it is impossible they should have days of public meetings without warning their followers against what they think pernicious and urging them to stamp it out.'

'I didn't say for the evening meetings,' said the old man, 'but I see from the papers they got on politics, and said 'amen' to some of the things their party papers are saying, which are bad enough.'

'But was there nothing of this at these day meetings?' persisted Compton. 'You cannot be telling me all, uncle; and since you have lectured me so frankly, I have surely a right to ask what the opposition are saying about us.'

'They said nothing about their opposition to the Church,' said the old man, 'They don't call you "the opposition;" you know; they regard the devil as the opposition. But, any way, they never said a single word about you from first to last.'

'As they seem to have been going over all their beliefs and convictions, they cannot have omitted the chief item of their creed?'

'My dear Johnnie, do you really think that unfriendliness to you is the chief item of their creed?'

'Certainly, it must be; otherwise, why are they not with us?'

'You might just as well ask why you are not with the Jews, because you are not always fulminating against Judaism. You are not with the Jews because you believe you have got a bit farther on. You are sorry for the Jews, and you wouldn't want to see Judaism set up as the national religion; but you're grateful to them for all the truth and goodness you've inherited from them, and you concern yourself with worshipping God and directing your own lives according to a purer and higher revelation than theirs. That is exactly how the Dissenter feels towards you. He may be right or wrong, but he thinks that the Reformation was the rebirth of the purer truth that Jesus came to give, which in the Early Ages had got badly mixed up with Paganism. He thinks the Church of England is not clear of Paganism yet; and so he naturally does not want an institution he thinks effete to be ruling in the land. That affects his politics only; his religion is his effort to worship and serve God.'

Ethel had gone to bed. The two men were alone; and Compton unreasonably experienced in the depths of his soul a distinct temptation to hatred. He called God and reason to aid; he quenched it instantly; but he knew by the swift inward glance of self-examination which he was accustomed to practice that he would gladly have called down the fire of heaven upon the old man and his friends.

When one human being tries to do good to another, to cast out an unclean spirit by nights of prayer and the brief but fitting word of exorcism, it is seldom that the result in any way resembles his anticipation. Yet it is probable that it is even more seldom that the effort is futile. The 'mysterious way' of God, of which Cowper sang, brings about wholly unexpected results in the interstices of human emotion. Compton sat there looking sour, and his manner was cold and silent; but he had realized now quite clearly that his own temper toward his religious antagonists was not right, that he was capable of that inward hatred which the Master he held divine had pronounced as sinful as is outward violence. He did not grasp the old man's point of view, in fact he did not give his attention to it; his opinion about Dissent had long been formed, and he was not a man to reconsider his opinions; but the degree of offence he felt startled his conscience and awakened him to prayer and vigilance.

CHILDREN'S CORNER

THE BUILDING OF THE NEST.

(From 'Our Birds and their Nestings,' Margaret E. Sangster.)

They'll come again to the apple tree—
Robin and all the rest—
When the orchard branches are fair to see,
In the snow of the blossoms drest;
And the prettiest thing in the world will be
The building of the nest.

Weaving it well, so round and trim,
Hollowing it with care,—
Nothing too far away for him,
Nothing for her too fair,—
Hanging it safe on the topmost limb,
Their castle in the air.

Ah! mother bird, you'll have weary days
When the eggs are under your breast,
And shadows may darken the dancing rays
When the wee ones leave the nest;
But they'll find their wings in a glad amaze,
And God will see to the rest.

So come to the tree with all your train
When the apple blossoms blow;
Through the April shimmer of sun and rain,
Go flying to and fro;
And sing to our hearts as we watch again
Your fairy building grow.

THE CHIEF'S MISTAKE.

This is a story retold from the Rev. George Hawker's splendid life of George Grenfell, the great African missionary. It may have been a day when Mr. Grenfell was wearing top boots because he did not like his legs being bitten by mosquitoes; or it may have been somewhere about the time when he and his friends tried to feed a little monkey out of a child's feeding-bottle; or perhaps it was on a day when he had a birthday party all to himself, because it was the birthday of his little girl who had to live in England, and he wished to remember her very specially indeed, for her photograph and a piece of string just her length did not satisfy his love. It may have been on any one such day, but Mr. Hawker does not say. All he says is that one day an important chief called to see the missionary. The chief did not wear many clothes. Indeed, I expect he looked like you do when you come out of your bath, except that he did not look clean. Perhaps, however, he had a necklace of crocodile's teeth to keep him from catching cold. Again, Mr. Hawker does not say. But anyhow this dusky chief came to see Mr. Grenfell, and he smiled large, white smiles, and Mr. Grenfell smiled back as well as he could, and they were happy together.

* * *

Soon the chief began looking round Mr. Grenfell's house and examining everything. In small children this is called curiosity. But in this chief it was something like learning lessons, for he had never seen such things in his whole life. He must, of course, have seen a looking-glass, for even African chiefs have little daughters, and you ask mother whether a mirror is ever far away from where small girls or even grown-up ones live. But except the looking-glasses most of the things will have been strange to him, and he will have enjoyed himself immensely unless he tried to drink out of the mustard pot or sniffed the pepper box too hard. At last he came to a harmonium, and he could not understand what it was. The lid was strange and the bellows puzzled him. When Mr. Grenfell lifted the lid up he must have thought the white keys would have made him a good Sunday necklace. At least, he would have thought this had he known anything about Sunday; but he knew nothing about such a day. The heathen have to wait until missionaries tell them about God's day of rest. The chief watched, amazed, as Mr. Grenfell sat down in front of the harmonium; and when the missionary played a little tune he opened all his eyes and ears. 'Ah!' he said at last, 'then this is your God of whom I have heard tell.' And he really believed he had guessed rightly.

* * *

Mr. Grenfell was not surprised at such ignorance, but he looked sadly at the chief for all that. Then he explained that a harmonium is not a Christian's god, but something he uses to praise God with. He did not blame the chief. How could he? The poor man had never had a real chance to learn better; and since he and his friends worshipped tree-stumps and ugly idols it was quite natural for him to think a harmonium was God. Why, if you had not been brought up in a Christian land you might have thought the same. Would not that have been terrible? And is it not sad to think that anywhere in the world there is anyone who does not know the difference between our dear Heavenly Father and a harmonium? Yet how can the heathen learn unless we send them missionaries? It is not nice to know, children, but numbers of grown-up people care so little for Jesus Christ that they will not help missions, and do not care to hear about missionaries. Then the children must do all the more to bring gladness to Christ by sending His Gospel wherever they can. Make a little place in your prayers for missions, and sometimes ask yourself whether, when you grow up, God wishes you to serve Him as a missionary.—'Christian World.'

Boils and Pimples

Are caused entirely by the blood being in an impure condition, and the quickest and surest way to get rid of them is to take a few bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters.

This purely vegetable remedy has cured thousands of cases of these painful and unsightly troubles during the past thirty years.

BOILS.

Mr. S. J. Weir, Riverview, Ont., writes:—"Last summer I had nineteen boils on my neck and back. I was off work for over two weeks. I took everything I could think of but to no effect. I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and before I had used half the bottle the boils were gone. I took the rest of it, however, and I have not had a boil since."

PIMPLES.

Mrs. W. J. Crandon, St. Mary's, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with pimples on my face for a couple of years and tried a good deal of patent medicine, but they were not of much use. Finally I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and am now entirely cured."

BIBLE LESSONS.

FRIDAY, JUNE 25.

STRIFE AND DIVISION.

In James iii., 13 to 18, we are taught to show our wisdom and knowledge by godly living. The work of the Church of God has been sadly hindered by division and strife. Such a life is earthly, natural, devilish. The heavenly life, that which comes from above, is pure, peaceful, gentle, yielding, full of kindness and good fruits. The body of true believers can only grow as every believer endeavors to build up the whole in the faith and hope of the Gospel. The spread of the Gospel and the spiritual growth of the body of believers has been sadly hindered by divisions and strife. Contentions, heart-burnings, angry whisperings, disputes, backbitings, and other evils have stayed the growth of the Church. A man with right affections is ardent in serving God. A man with evil affections is fervent in serving the devil. Paul speaks of some who preach Christ for envy and strife, while others preached with a good will. (Phil. i., 15-18.) Gal. v., 20, tells us what the works of the flesh are, and following verses give us the work of the Spirit. The Christians only pattern is the Lord Jesus. We are to follow in His steps. To learn of Him, who was meek and lowly in heart, and to imitate God as dear children, and walk in love towards all men.

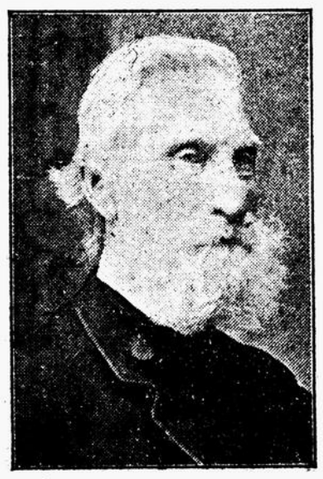
BIRTHDAY HONORS

The Hon. R. W. Scott a Knight Bachelor—C.M.G. for Messrs. Newcombe and Butler

Ottawa, June 24.—The Canadian birthday honor list, as announced this evening from Government House, is as follows:—

To be Knight Bachelor—The Hon. R. W. Scott.

To be Companions of St. Michael and



SIR R. W. SCOTT.

St. George—Mr. E. L. Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice, and Mr. M. J. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals.

To be Companions Imperial Service Order—Mr. George Ross, of Toronto, superintendent Post-office Department, and Mr. Wm. J. Gerald, Deputy Minister of Inland Revenue.

Sir Richard William Scott, Kt., is one of the venerable figures of Canadian public life, in which he has practically been engaged since 1852, or well over half a century. In that year he became Mayor of Ottawa, when he was already a leading member of the Ontario Bar. Five years later he was elected as a member of the Legislature, representing the city of Ottawa, which has always been his home. Defeated in 1863, he dropped out of public life until Confederation year, 1867, when Ottawa again selected him as its representative in the first Ontario Legislature. Remaining in the Provincial House for some years, he in 1871 was elected Speaker, and became Commissioner of Crown Lands in the Blake administration, holding the same office under Sir Oliver Mowat. When Alexander Mackenzie came to power at Ottawa in 1873, Mr. Scott was called to the Dominion Government, and was appointed Secretary of State and Registrar-General of Canada, and was called to the Senate by the Earl of Dufferin in 1874. He remained a member of the government throughout the term of the Mackenzie administration, and when the Macdonald ministry came to power he became leader of the Opposition in the Senate, which position he filled through the long years of Liberal defeat until 1896. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier then gained power, Mr. Scott was once more called upon to assume his old office of Secretary of State, which he held until last year, when he resigned shortly before the general elections.

Mr. Matthew Joseph Butler, the new C.M.G., has made most of his public career since 1904, when he was appointed chief engineer of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission, after having for many years been engaged in prominent railway work both in Canada and the United States. His work on the Transcontinental Commission was so approved by the government that when in 1905 Mr. Collingwood Schreiber resigned as Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, Mr. Butler was appointed to succeed him. This office Mr. Butler has since held, and last April he was also appointed chairman of the new commission, which was created by the Hon. G. P. Graham, to take hold of the Intercolonial Railway and try to make a business institution out of it. He has since been engaged on this work to a large extent, with results yet to be seen.

Mr. Butler is an Ontario boy, a native of Deseronto, and started his railway career in 1879 as a transit man on the location of the Pembroke extension of the Kingston and Pembroke line. Since then he has risen rapidly in his profession, and has acted as chief engineer on a number of important railway and other constructions. In addition to his engineering attainments, Mr. Butler is also a lawyer, qualified to practice in the State of Illinois, he having studied law and graduated from the Kent College of Law in 1897, when he was called to the Bar of that State.

Mr. Edmund Leslie Newcombe has been Deputy Minister of Justice since 1893. In 1895 he was entrusted with a mission to England on the copyright question, and has appeared before the Privy Council in several important cases. He is a Nova Scotian by birth, and was educated at Truro High School, Dalhousie College and the University of Halifax, from which he graduated in 1881, being called to the Bar in 1883.

Mr. William J. Gerald, Deputy Minister of Inland Revenue, has been connected with the department for many years. Several years ago he was promoted from the position of secretary to deputy minister.

Mr. George Ross, of Toronto, superintendent of city post-offices for Canada, has had much to do with the installation of rural free mail delivery.

BEERBOHM TREE GETS KNIGHTHOOD.

London, June 24.—The King's Birthday honors, which comprise a very long list of appointments and promotions, include a number of knighthoods bestowed upon the representatives of art, science and literature. Mr. Herbert Beerbohm Tree, the actor, and proprietor of His Majesty's Theatre, and Mr. Arthur Wing Pinero, the dramatist, are among those knighted, as are also Mr. Henry W. Lucy, who is 'Toby, M.P.,' of 'Punch'; Mr. Francis Galion, explorer and writer on scientific subjects; Mr. Jos. Larmor, educationist, and Mr. F. J. Campbell, principal of the Normal College and Academy of Music for the Blind. The Hon. John Hubert Ward, whose wife is a daughter of Mr. Whitelaw Reid, of United States Ambassador, is appointed a commander of the Victorian Order.

OBITUARY

HENRY WADE.

Kingston, June 24.—Henry Wade, one of Kingston's best known residents, died suddenly early this morning. He had been ailing for some years, but was able to be around, and yesterday returned from Oswego, N.Y., but was taken ill at ten o'clock, after retiring. He is survived by a wife, who is a daughter of Capt. Cootes, Toronto, and one son. The deceased, who was fifty-nine years of age, was a druggist for thirty years, and had lived here all his life.

SARAH ORNE JEWETT.

South Berwick, Me., June 24.—An illness lasting many months ended early to-night in the death of Miss Sarah Orne Jewett, Litt.D., author of many books and regarded as one of the foremost women writers of America. Miss Jewett was born September 3, 1849, the daughter of Dr. Theodore H. and Caroline F. (Perry) Jewett. Among her literary works are 'Play Days,' 'Old Friends and New,' 'Country Byways,' 'A Country Doctor,' 'A Marsh Island,' and 'The Story of the Normans.' Her last book was 'The Tory Liver.'

TOOK HIGH HONORS

SON OF COL. DUNBAR GRADUATED WITH DISTINCTION AT THE R. M. C.

Lieut. J. B. P. Dunbar, R.M.C., who has just received a commission in the Imperial Army (Royal Canadian Engineers) is a son of Colonel Dunbar, of this city.

Lieutenant Dunbar was born in Quebec on Aug. 20, 1889, and passed into the college from the Quebec High School, where he won the 'Henry Fry' medal for English; the Lieut.-Governor's medal for French; first prize for essay, and was 'Dux' of the school.

Colonel Dunbar also had the honor of winning the 'Henry Fry' medal at the same school, and came out 'Dux'—a rather singular coincidence.

At the Royal Military College Mr. Dunbar graduated on June 23, with honors in French; medal of Alliance Francaise for the same, and was commissioned as Lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Engineers.

COATICOOK PASTOR LEAVES

THE REV. R. G. PEEVER RECEIVES TOKENS OF ESTEEM FROM FRIENDS.

Coaticook, Que., June 3.—The Coaticook Methodist Church has been the scene of many pleasant gatherings, but never of one which surpassed in genuine goodwill the meeting called by the quarterly official board for the purpose of bidding farewell to the removing pastor, the Rev. R. G. Peever, B.D., who is just closing a three year pastorate here. The gathering was taken in hand by Mr. W. L. Shurtleff, K.C., LL.D. Music, instrumental and vocal, was furnished by Misses R. Kennedy, Snyder and Thomas, and Clare Thomas; addresses were given by the Rev. Messrs. Terry, Hunter and Fisher, after which the chairman called Mr. G. L. Masten to the platform, and he, in the name of the church and adherents, asked Mr. Peever to accept a complimentary address, which spoke of the faithful and efficient work which had marked his stay among them, and presented him with a purse of gold.

Mr. Peever very feelingly replied, thanking the people for their share in carrying on the work of the circuit, and wishing them all success in the future. Mr. Peever goes away at the close of his term as pastor having won golden opinions from all as a faithful and helpful visitor, a keen student, a fearless antagonist of wrong, and a preacher of the first rank.

CONFERENCE APPOINTMENTS.

Kingston, Ont., June 24.—Since the Montreal Methodist Conference closed there have been several readjustments of appointments hereabouts, and the Rev. C. A. Sykes, chairman of the Kingston district, announces these changes:—Harrowsmith, A. E. Fokes; Elginburgh, F. W. Danby; Portsmouth, G. O. Tredinnick.

Albert Hinton will be in charge at Gananoque East, R. W. Knapp at Perth Road, D. C. Platt at Verona, and Jordan Crowe at Parham.

THE SIGEL MURDER

MONEY ADVANCED TO LEON LING WAS FROM REFORM ASSOCIATION FUND.

New York, June 24.—It was learned to-day that the police are searching for another Chinaman—Arthur Yung, a friend and associate of both Chu Gain and Leon Ling, and who has disappeared since June 13. It was Chu Gain and Yung, who carried to the home of the Sigels the telegram, purporting to have been sent by Elsie Sigel, from Washington, on June 9, stating that she would be home on Sunday, and adding, 'Don't worry.'

The message was not addressed to Paul Sigel, the father of the murdered girl, it was said to-day, as previously reported, but Yung declared that it had been received by him at 9 Mott street, where Chu Gain's restaurant is located. It was stated to-day that the original of that message could not be found in the Washington offices of either of the telegraph companies. The police received what they believe is reliable information to-day, that Leon Ling was seen at 19 Pell street, this city, on the Sunday following Elsie Sigel's murder. Leon was in company of a number of members of the Lee clan, with which he is affiliated. It is said that during the conference he was provided by members of the clan with $400 to aid him in effecting his escape. The police to-day are questioning a number of the Lee clan members, in an effort to get further information about the Pell street conference.

A rumor that a war between the Tongs was impending because of Chu Gain's revelations to the police found momentary confirmation in the arrest late this afternoon of a lone Chinaman with a .38 calibre revolver tucked under his blouse, but the police said to-night that they were unable to connect him with any concerted plan for an uprising.

Chu Gain explained to-day that the $260 advanced to Chung Sin, Leon Ling's room-mate, did not come out of his private purse, but that the money was part of a loan fund of the Chinese Empire Reform Association, of which he is treasurer. Chu Gain had nothing better than a private surmise as to where the money was going, and in his official capacity of treasurer he could not influence by conjecture one way or another.

Chu, despite the fact that he is out on bail, is a badly frightened Chinaman. He keeps close to his restaurant and admitted to-day that he thought it would be worth his life to walk down a dark alley in the quiet hours of the morning.

Chinatown is more deeply stirred by the Sigel murder than by any event of recent years. The Chinamen feel in a measure that their sufferance in the land that harbors them is in the balance. Little groups can be seen standing on the street corners studying the speaker cartoons in English papers that they cannot read.

As a result there were issued two statements to-day from the rival societies in which Chu Gain and Leon Ling held membership. The Chinese Masons say that Leon was a member of the Chinese Empire Reform Association, and that they have no interest in him, whatever, other than to aid in his capture.

On the other hand, the Chinese Empire Reform Association, which numbers on its roll most of the wealth and brains of Chinatown, has sent a circular letter to its 170 branches throughout the United States, instructing all members to keep an eye open for Leon, who, it is said, had deserted the society for the Masons.

A meeting was held to-night at the Morning Star mission, in the heart of Chinatown, to raise funds for running down Leon Ling.

WASHINGTON TELEGRAM A FORGERY.

New York, June 25.—The fact that the telegram sent to the parents of Elsie Sigel from Washington on the night of her disappearance, reassuring them of her safety and announcing her early return, had been sent by Leon Ling, the young Chinaman whom the police charge with her murder, was established to-day by Detective Van Wagner, who returned from Washington armed with the original of the telegram.

Detective Van Wagner was able to compare admitted handwriting of the missing Chinaman with that on the telegram form, and the similarity is marked. The detective also found a number of persons who had seen Leon in the National Hotel, Washington, and all doubt of his having been in the Capital on the day the telegram was sent was removed. The police and district attorneys have been diligently running down clues which first seemed to indicate that Leon might have been in hiding in some dark and impenetrable corner of Chinatown, but nothing has came from them.

The now established presence of Leon in Washington subsequent to the murder make less likely of belief the stories of his having remained in hiding here, as the authorities doubt that having once left this city Leon would return.

San Franciscans got most of their oysters from Puget Sound, Washington—over 150,000 bushels a year. The giant clams, weighing up to sixteen pounds each, are still found in this sound. Compared to ordinary claims their taste is said to be as superior as canvas-back duck is to barnyard fowl.

BRANDENBURG

HE TELLS OF THE CLEVELAND FAKE.

New York, June 24.—Broughton Brandenburg, a witness in his own defence, to-day related the history of the preparation of the Grover Cleveland article, the sale of which to the New York 'Times' led to the placing of Brandenburg on trial on a charge of grand larceny.

Mr. Brandenburg said that he interviewed Mr. Cleveland for the New York 'Herald' some time between February 19, and March 4, 1908. During a subsequent talk with Mr. Cleveland, Brandenburg said he suggested to the ex-president that he prepare a series of three political articles and allow Brandenburg to sell them, to be published just before election. The witness said he offered Mr. Cleveland $2,000 for the series. On March 5, Brandenburg called at Mr. Cleveland's office and received from a scattered mass of material, fifteen or eighteen groups of papers of four or five sheets each. The contents of these sheets was made into the article signed by Grover Cleveland. Brandenburg said he transcribed them himself, and that either on March 6 or 7 he took the typewritten sheets to Mr. Cleveland, who made corrections in them. The sheets were again transcribed. Brandenburg said his next and last interview with Mr. Cleveland was between the 12th and 16th of March. Mr. Cleveland complained of feeling ill and did not care to discuss the matter. Brandenburg, however, placed a carbon copy of the article before the ex-president and laid the corrected drafts and yellow sheets on the table.

'I read the whole article over to him,' Brandenburg testified. 'He then took the article from me and looked it over casually with a pen in his hand, which he was continually dipping in the ink. He made no corrections, and when he was through he signed the last page of that carbon copy and did not blot the signature, but allowed to dry.'

Brandenburg was shown the alleged Cleveland signature in evidence and declared that it was not the signature of Mr. Cleveland affixed to the article. He said he had never seen the signature in evidence, alleged to have been clipped from the article Brandenburg sold, until it was produced at the trial.

Brandenburg said that the typewriting done for him by Miss Bacon, the stenographer whose testimony has figured prominently in the trial, was the transcribing of a copy of the Cleveland article which had been damaged by water so that portions were illegible.

Handed the Cleveland article in evidence, the one alleged to have been sold to the 'Times,' Brandenburg was asked if that was the original Cleveland article, prepared by him personally and signed by Mr. Cleveland.

'I can say positively that it is not,' said Brandenburg.

He said the back of the original was more worn than in this one. There were textual differences, too, he said. He instanced several. In one case the original, he declared, said 'keep,' and the copy, 'help'; in another the original said 'friction,' and the copy had it 'fiction,' with an 'R' inserted. 'Fortutous,' in the copy was 'fortuities,' in the original, he declared.

Brandenburg said a number of people had seen the original Cleveland article before August 10, the day on which Miss Bacon had testified she transcribed the one in evidence. It was in possession of the Broadway Magazine some time in July, he said, and G. E. Fleming, a lawyer, had seen it in June and again in July.

THE PRICE OF LIQUOR

LICENSED VICTUALLERS CALLED TOGETHER TO DISCUSS PROPOSED INCREASE.

A grand special meeting of the licensed victuallers of Montreal and vicinity has been called for June 30, to discuss the recent amendments to the License Law.

One of the important points to be taken up will be the question of increasing the price of liquors sold by the glass. This, it appears, is found necessary under the new provisions which require liquors in cases to be sold under their original label, considering the advance placed on such by the wholesale trade.

A BOARDING HOUSE FIGHT.

As the result of a fight in a boarding-house in Plymouth Grove, Robert Young, twenty-five years of age, was taken to the Western Hospital with a deep cut in his head that required several stitches, also a badly cut face. According to the story told the police of the Seigneurs street station, the man was struck on the head with a bottle. At the hospital he gave his address as Notre Dame street west, but from what the police learned he occupied a room in a house on Plymouth Grove. Captain Prevost, of the Seigneurs street station, went to the hospital, but on finding that Young was not dangerously injured, he decided not to make any arrest. Young left the hospital this morning.

UNKNOWN FOUND DROWNED.

The decomposed body of a man was found floating in the river at Maisonneuve at noon yesterday. The body had apparently been in the water for some months. There was no clothing on the body, except a pair of boots, so that it will be a difficult matter to establish identification. It is considered probable that it is the body of a man who was bathing up the river and wore boots to protect his feet from sharp stones.

LAKE KILLARNEY DISASTER

INQUIRY INTO DEATHS ELEVEN VICTIMS OPE

Killarney, June 24.—The [illegible] the death of four English American travellers and two who were drowned yesterday swamping of their boat on Killarney Lake, was begun by this afternoon.
