WESTERN FRONT BATTLE ENTERS FINAL PHASES

Allied Forces, Widening Southern French Bases, Now Thirty Miles Inland

Fall of Toulon, Important Port in Southern France, Believed Only Matter of Few Hours as Nazi Resistance Weakens.

Rome, Aug. 19.—(AP)—American 7th Army forces have driven to La Roquebrussanne, fourteen miles North of Toulon, in an inland flanking thrust, and other forces have driven to within six miles of that major French naval base, Allied headquarters announced today.

Still another column drove deeper into the interior of Southern France and occupied Salernes, twelve miles Northwest of Draguignan and more than thirty miles inland from the landing beaches.

The beachhead has been enlarged to more than 1,000 square miles, and German resistance remains light, headquarters announced.

A naval announcement said four German motor torpedo boats were sunk during an attempted attack on Allied ships.

An official announcement last night said one of Maj.-Gen. Alexander M. Patch's columns spearheaded into the vicinity of Solles Pont, six miles Northeast of the Mediterranean port, while another plunged to the Brignoles area, twenty miles North, in an outflanking drive.

The German garrison sought to step up its resistance by employing the guns of the sunken French battleship Strasbourg but American medium bombers hit and set fire to the vessel yesterday and may have knocked out her weapons. The 26,500-ton Strasbourg was partly submerged when the French scuttled their own fleet at Toulon.

(The BBC quoted one of its correspondents Saturday morning as saying that Toulon is going to fall soon. The Germans have thrown up a hastily built screen of mobile guns and infantry to give protection to the rest of their men as they pulled out of the city," said the correspondent, Vaughan Thomas. "They are blowing up bridges and mining the roads, but not on a scale big enough to check our advance.")

The advance to Brignoles followed a trunk highway leading to the Buone Valley North of Marseille. Such an advance, if projected beyond the latter city, would mean in German forces in both Marseille and Toulon.

Toward the Eastern end of the beachhead, forward elements made slight advances in the vicinity of Draguignan, captured inland road junction point. But a late dispatch said German forces still occupied Le Muy, midway between Draguignan and St. Raphael on the coast. American artillery units were reported shelling Le Muy.

Headquarters announced capture of the second German general in 48 hours. He was taken yesterday by troops of the American 96th Division.

Reich's Propaganda Agencies Are Preparing Nation For Big Setback

By WADE WERNER
Associated Press Staff Writer
London, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Nazi propaganda agencies began preparing the German people for the shock of wholesale flight — on the Eastern front: pattern— from large sections of France today and announced that American armored columns had already reached within 12 miles of Paris.

The early removal of the puppet French government to some place other than Vichy was hinted at by the German Foreign Office.

The German agency Transocean said the Americans' main thrust was along the "high road leading to Versailles," a Western suburb of Paris. Hitler's personal newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter frankly said the German army would pull out whenever necessary to "maintain operational freedom" and to keep the forces in being until miracle weapons could "change the whole aspect of the war."

HOUE GREETERED ON HIS RETURN TO MONTREAL

Former Mayor Declares He Was Victim "of a Political Party and a Political Organization and Nothing Else."

Montreal, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Camille Houde returned last night to the city which in former years had witnessed his greatest triumphs and his darkest moments.

He came back to his native Montreal four years after his internment for urging citizens not to participate in National Registration, and five years after he had welcomed the King and Queen to the Metropolis in one of his most brilliant social functions during eight years as Mayor.

The concourse of Central Station was jammed with spectators, mingling with outgoing passengers to catch a glimpse of the man who had served four two-year terms as Mayor of Montreal and who, until the recent Quebec elections, had remained throughout internment technically the representative of Montreal St. Mary riding in the Provincial Legislature.

As the train pulled in a storey below the concourse, Mr. Houde caught his first glimpse of the new Canadian National Railway terminal, which had opened a year ago. During one of his terms as Mayor, he had expressed opposition to the $30,000,000 project.

The former Mayor had boarded the train at St. Hyacinthe, Que., after being met at the station by the day before by his wife and three daughters. He was released from internment camp near Fredericton early this week.

The crowd was cheering as Mr. Houde stepped into the concourse, 500-ton Strasbourg was partly submerged when the French scuttled their own fleet at Toulon.

"Such a reception is not only proof of your friendship and esteem," he said, "but it is also a warning to present authorities that they must feel public opinion as it is."

Liguori Lacombe, Canadian Party Member of the House of Commons for Two Mountains, was one of the first to greet the former Mayor, and Mr. Houde referred to him as "one of our staunchest supporters."

"What the future has in store for me, I do not know," he said, "but there is one thing you can be sure of. It is that I will always remain upright."

"Every time the least of your rights and privileges are threatened, I'll be at the front to defend you. You must feel the need there is to stand together."

"I cannot tell you that four years of internment are nothing. I believe that someone would have preferred to see me back in my dress suit, lying in a coffin, rather than back alive, but Providence has decided otherwise and I am back in good health."

"I have suffered away from you, and I have suffered knowing you were exposed to great dangers in

RAINS RELIEVE FIRE-FIGHTERS NEAR MINTO, N.B.

Flames Gradually Coming Under Control as Rainstorms Aid Firemen in Quenching Forest Blazes.

Fredericton, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Many of the crews who had been fighting forest fires in New Brunswick since last Saturday had their first real respite today as a result of rain falling in central and northern sections of the province last night and today.

Fires around the mining town of Minto, nearly surrounded by flames for more than five days, were reported under control, with flames actually visible at only one spot—near Newcastle Creek—and the situation there was said to be "in hand." Elsewhere in the Minto district, only patrols had to be maintained.

A fire in the Hildesgarde area near Moncton made little headway today. Rain started to fall early last night and showers were predicted for later in the night. Volunteers were asked to stand guard in the district.

A seven-acre fire in the Rockwood Park-Sabbath Lake section on the outskirts of Saint John was extinguished by rain. Another, near Shadow Lake, 18 miles from the city, was burning slowly.

Up to the morning, more than 1,000 soldiers had been put on fire-fighting duty in various parts of the Province.

With the threat to Minto at least temporarily ended, coal mining companies there faced the problem of restoring lost property before being able to resume operations. Loss in the Minto area, where more than 70 dwellings were destroyed, has been estimated at a minimum of $250,000.

Sixteen families lost property in communities near Moncton and scores evacuated their homes as a precautionary measure.

Augusta, Me., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Maine's worst woods fire rampage since 1934 appeared at an end today as hundreds of men laid down their grub hooks and back pumps after fighting 50-odd forest blazes the last week.

Rain ranging from a half inch up to nearly three inches wet down all big fires, leaving only smoldering stumps and underground pockets which required patrol by reduced crews.

More than 10,000 acres were left stripped by the fires which cut irregular swaths through dense evergreen growth in a belt from the Franklin county Canadian border across central Maine to Washington county.

The loss of several thousand cords of cut pulpwood was a blow to the Maine paper industry already hard-pressed to meet war demands.

Financial loss, in cut pulp and standing growth, and expense of fighting the fires, could not be estimated today, but with the early spring fire outbreaks, this year's woods fire loss was headed for the highest figure in 10 years, officials said.

Belgian Troops With Canadians

London, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Belgian and Netherlands troops are fighting with the 1st Canadian Army in France, it was disclosed today, giving Lt.-Gen. Crerar at least five nationalities, including Canadian, fighting under his command.

Previously it had been disclosed that British and Polish troops were grouped with the Canadians, giving it the same cosmopolitan tinge as the famous British 8th Army in Italy, which includes British, Canadian, Indian, Polish and Italian troops.

Polish representation in the 1st Canadian Army comprises an armored division but security has prevented disclosure of further details regarding the other groups. The Netherlands are members of the Princess Irene Brigade and many of them, trained at Stratford, Ont. Princess Irene, five-year-old granddaughter of Queen Wilhelmina, is in Ottawa with her mother, Princess Juliana, and her sisters.

Belgian forces also trained in Canada at Cornwall, Ont., and Joliette and St. Johns, Que.

In an order of the day Queen Wilhelmina urged her troops to fight their way "to liberate the fatherland from oppression and tyranny."

An Allied break-through on the Germans' right flank could carry both Belgians and Netherlands into their native countries.

Two Years After Costly Dieppe Attack, Reconstructed Canadian 2nd Division Ready For Revenge

By R. J. ANDERSON,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.
The dead lie in bleak graves. The wounded hobble and grope. The prisoners are numbers, nameless men behind wire awaiting deliverance. But today, two years after, out of the heartbreak and shambles, the 2nd Canadian Division is wreaking vengeance for Dieppe. Soon, the men of the 2nd division may be in Dieppe.

Without Dieppe—officially, a "reconnaissance in force"—there could have been no invasion of France last June 6. That frontal attack on well-emplaced, fixed enemy fortifications proved many things that hidden, heavy guns must be silenced by vertical assault; that given air cover, warships can approach close to an enemy beach; that beach wire and underwater obstructions can be breached. It was victory—at heavy price.

Of the 5,000 men of the 2nd Canadian Division who participated in the fierce, nine-hour assault on the cliff-top resort town nestled on the English Channel August 19, 1942, two-thirds were casualties—3,350 dead, wounded, taken prisoner or missing. The Canadians were flanked by British Commandos, American Rangers and Fighting French units who also suffered heavily.

The war's first large amphibious assault, Dieppe was a feeble forerunner of the Allied landings in France June 6, 1944. Some 250 ships—the largest warships were eight small destroyers of the Royal Navy's Hunt class—carried the Allied forces across the Channel. The number participating in the French invasion ran into the thousands, battleships and heavy cruisers among them.

The troops landed on a stretch of well-fenced beach little more than ten miles long; the Normandy invasion extended over one hundred miles and many enemy bastions had been knocked out by bombardment. There was no preliminary aerial bombing at Dieppe; immediately preceding D-Day last June 6 more than 22,000 tons of bombs were dropped on a sixty-mile stretch of Coast.

The Canadian regiments participating were the Royal Regiment of Canada, from Toronto; Royal Hamilton Light Infantry (Wentworth Regiment), Hamilton, Ont.; Essex Scottish Regiment, Windsor, Ont.; Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, Winnipeg; Les Fusiliers Mont-Royal, Montreal; South Saskatchewan Regiment, Weyburn, Sask., and the 14th Canadian Army Tank Battalion from Calgary, the first tank unit to participate in a combined operations raid and the first unit of the Canadian Armored Corps to go into action. The division's commander, Maj.-Gen. J. H. Roberts, led the entire operation.

Now, eager to avenge the men who fell two years ago today to prove that enemy beaches can be stormed, a reconstructed 2nd Canadian Division is fighting in France as part of the 1st Canadian Army. From Falaise, near the Southern end of the Canadian sector of the Allied line, to Dieppe is a little more than 75 miles in a Northeast-early direction.

It is conceivable that as the enemy falls back across the Seine River in his disorganized retreat the Allies may attempt to encircle the German 15th Army guarding the Pas de Calais area and the robot-bomb coast, swinging East and North like a gigantic scythe. If successful, that move would force the fall of Dieppe.

No greater honor could fall to the men of the 2nd Division than that they should be the first to enter storied Dieppe.

Three German Divisions Trapped In Latest Soviet Army Advance

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Three of Hitler's retreating Eastern front divisions, possibly 30,000 men, were reported today North of Sandomierz, West bank Vistula, a position which now has fallen before the Red army.

In a desperate attempt to halt an imminent Soviet sweep into East Prussia, the Germans hurled one of their biggest armored blows in months West of the Lithuanian city of Siauliai. They penetrated the Red Army lines, but apparently it was not a serious setback.

East of the Warsaw suburb of Praga the Red Army attacked and improved its positions. The Russian commune was silent on fighting at the border of East Prussia, but fliers returning from that area reported villages inside the Junker province burning from Nazi-applied torpedoes.

(Moscow) broadcasts heard in London said the Russians had reached the East Prussian border at new but unspecified points. "Fighting on the threshold of East Prussia grows fiercer every hour... but the speed of the Soviet offensive never slackens," one Moscow announcer asserted.

(Berlin reported the Russians had hurled more than 150,000 men into the battle for East Prussia on an eighty-mile front from Augustow in Northern Poland to the Nieman river in Western Lithuania. The Nazis lead heavy fighting was in progress with the "centre of gravity" at Virbalis, three miles from the border on the Kaunas-Konigsberg Railway.)

Marshal Ivan S. Konev, Commander of the 1st Ukrainian Army that captured Sandomierz, drove into the Radom region, taking numerous villages along the Vistula. He lengthened his bridgehead to seventy-five miles and reached the village of Lukava, thirteen miles North of Radom and forty-four miles Southeast of Warsaw.

The Russian war bulletin said in progress for the three trapped Nazi divisions that "have fallen into the cauldron."

Capture of Sandomierz gave the Russians another river crossing with which to pour men and material into the Polish plains leading to German Silesia, and outflank Warsaw from the South.

In Estonia units of the 3rd Baltic Army crossed the narrow strait linking Lake Peipus and Peipus, seized a six-mile-wide strip of territory on the West side, and drove nine miles inland in a push toward Tartu, Estonia's second largest city.

These units joined forces which had been pushing up the West bank of Lake Peipus. Fifteen miles inland another Russian column seized Valmetesa, 15 1/2 miles Southeast of Tartu. The Soviet war bulletin said 1,000 Germans were slain in that battle.

EARLY MEETING FOR POST-WAR TALKS LIKELY

Another Democratic-Republican Discussion on Foreign Policy May Be Held Soon by Roosevelt and Willkie.

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—An early meeting on post-war world security organization between State Secretary Hull and John Foster Dulles, Thomas E. Dewey's foreign relations adviser, appeared probable today.

This was the reaction in informed quarters here to the Republican nominee's proposal that Mr. Dulles confer with the Secretary as Gov. Dewey's representative. There was evident satisfaction, too, at the emphasis which Mr. Dewey placed on the bi-partisan support for post-war organization because a bi-partisan backing has been one of Secretary Hull's main objectives in his preparations for conferences with other countries.

Meanwhile it appeared that another Democratic-Republican talk on foreign policy might be held relatively soon by President Roosevelt and the 1940 Republican nominee, Wendell L. Willkie. Mr. Roosevelt was asked at a news conference today whether he would like to meet Mr. Willkie for a foreign policy discussion and he carefully refrained from closing the door to such a talk by saying that that was a personal matter and declining to go into it any further.

Meantime, plans were perfected for the conference, opening here Monday, at which representatives of the United States, Britain and Russia will discuss a post-war peace-enforcing agency.

China is to discuss the subject with Britain and the United States later. Russia's plans for the world organization were understood on good authority to offer no serious conflict with the views of the United States and Britain, even on the points of the rights of small nations and the organization of force.

This is true, it was reported, despite the emphasis which has recently been laid on an unofficial Russian analysis which said that the "directing organ" of the world security organization should be composed only of the big four powers.

Japanese Bases Given Pounding

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Striking the Japanese throughout the Western Pacific area, American planes pounded enemy bases in the Volcano, Marianas and Caroline island groups Wednesday, blasting air fields, storage dumps, gun positions and other defense installations.

The United States navy reported today that heavy bombers hit Tiwo Jima in the Volcanos, less than 650 miles from Tokyo.

Several enemy fighters were in the air but did not manage the bombing flight, which attacked air fields, storage facilities, and other installations at the enemy base.

All of the planes returned after meeting only meagre anti-aircraft fire.

Farther South, fighter planes sped in at Rota and Pagan islands in the Marianas to strafe and bomb gun positions and enemy air strips. They met only light anti-aircraft fire at Rota although at Pagan there was slightly heavier opposition.

MANY ATTENDED SECOND DAY OF RICHMOND FAIR

Richmond, Aug. 19.—A successful attendance featured the second day of the Richmond Exhibition yesterday when an interesting racing programme was presented and the many patrons also found enjoyment in the midway and grandstand attractions.

A cattle parade was held in the afternoon when the Richmond Band and the Windsor Mills' Boys' Band also gave a concert in front of the grandstand.

Among the many prize-winners were: Driving classes, G. Maurice and M. Mills, Richmond; lady drivers, Mrs. H. Smith and Mrs. N. Mills, Richmond; pair of fine horses, F. W. Mills; single driving high stepper, Hon. Jacob Nicol farm; Kingsbury; Shorthorn, H. A. Lyster, South Durham; Holstein, Wales Home and Jacob Nicol farm; Ayrshire, W. J. Fowler and Son, Kingsbury; F. Pursuit, Annihilation Of Retreating German Forces Remaining Task

7TH ARMY MADE DESPERATE BID TO ESCAPE TRAP

Squadron After Squadron of Planes Raked Columns of Transports, Tanks and Troops Trying to Flee Through Gap.

By ROSS MUNRO,
Canadian Press War Correspondent

With the Canadians in France, August 19.—(CP Cable)—Written off as lost by German High Command, remnants of the German 7th army made a frantic attempt to escape through the narrow gap South-east of here today and virtually committed suicide.

Yesterday morning reconnaissance planes spotted a large concentration of German vehicles making for the gap and every available aircraft in France and even from English bases was thrown into an assault that was a massacre. The Germans were packed together like a herd of frightened sheep and pilots said they couldn't fire without hitting something.

Squadron after squadron of R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. planes raked columns of transports, tanks and troops trying desperately to fall back through the gap, while Canadian and American guns from either side hammered them mercilessly.

From a hill West of here I watched the havoc being wrought by the air attack and Allied guns.

I could see right across the long valley into the gap and beyond where the Germans were trying to empty their troops Eastward from this Falaise pocket where they were trapped in a masterly manoeuvre by American, British, Canadian and Polish forces.

From the yellow, glittering wheat-fields and from woods and villages in the gap rose column after column of smoke from masses of burning German vehicles. It was a sweeping panorama of devastation.

Canadian artillery in the valley ahead was firing steadily. Stripped to the waist in the hot summer sun, the gunners were having a field day like the pilots. They had the Germans on the run and were hitting them with everything they had.

I walked back to an airfield from

Report Wreckage Of Plane Found

Chicoutimi, Que., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Reports circulated here today that two woodmen have discovered the wreck of a Liberator bomber which crashed in the Saguenay River but which was reported missing on a flight from Newfoundland to Dorval with 24 persons aboard, October 19, 1943. The wreckage was reported discovered in the Laurentides Park area between Lake Ha Ha and St. Ursin.

The bodies of the 24 airman were reported to have been found in the crashed bomber. No details of the reported discovery were available.

The plane was variously reported to have crashed into a hillside or to have sunk in the Saguenay River but an aerial search made for several days following the loss of the plane failed to show any sign of the aircraft.

United States Resumes Shipment Of Civilian Products To Turkey

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The United States has removed export bans imposed on Turkey and is facilitating the shipment of civilian goods on a cash basis to the neutral which broke relations with Germany two weeks ago.

It was also learned today that shipment of military items under lend-lease is expected to be resumed shortly, depending on the Allied supply situation as a result of the French campaigns.

The majority of lend-lease sent to Turkey is of British origin, but the decision to start shipments is up to the Combined Munitions Assignment Board.

Britain and the United States stopped sending military aid to Turkey several months ago after negotiations between British and Turkish military delegations broke down. The American Ambassador to Ankara, Laurence Steinhardt, who has been in this country about a month, is returning today. He stopped at the White House yesterday to see President Roosevelt for final instructions.

The extent of lend-lease accorded Turkey will depend on whether or not the neutral comes into the war. Basing their predictions on the rapid progress of Allied drives in France and the Western push of the Red Army, observers here were inclined to discount the possibility that Turkey would become an active belligerent.

Supreme Command Reports German 15th Army Faces Annihilation in Addition to 7th as Result of Normandy Fighting.

By WES GALLAGHER,
Associated Press War Correspondent
Allied Supreme Headquarters, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Western Front battle for France reached its last stage today—pursuit and annihilation of one German army and part of another fleeing Northward toward Rouen and the almost bridgeless Seine.

Allied airforces reported the destruction of 3,800 enemy vehicles forced onto roads in daytime in an effort to escape. The German columns were coming under the most terrific air bombardment any battlefield ever has seen.

There was no further word of the progress of the American 3rd Army other than yesterday's report by the Germans that there was fighting twelve miles from Paris. But it was announced at headquarters that American armored patrols had pushed out from Dreux, Chartres and Orleans—a ring of cities South and West of Paris—and in some cases had withdrawn.

Meanwhile the 1st Canadian Army forces were thrusting forward on a front extending from the coast East of the Orne to the Falaise area. It was disclosed yesterday that Belgian and Dutch forces are fighting with the 1st Canadian Army, which also includes British and Polish troops.

British forces pushing Northeast of fallen Troarn reached the outskirts of Caen and Dives-sur-Mer and an area some thirteen miles Northeast of Caen. They were only seventeen miles South of Le Havre by sea but separated from it by the wide estuary of the Seine river.

This was the first major advance along the Normandy coast East of the Orne river since D-Day.

A senior British staff officer at the front predicted that Field Marshal von Kluge's battered 7th Army reinforced by parts of the 15th Army would not stop at the Seine river but would fall back even farther to a shorter front.

British 2nd Army troops captured elements of eighteen German divisions yesterday. Germans still caught in the Normandy trap were declared to be struggling chaotically to escape eastward.

Enemy forces that freed themselves from the pocket struggled Northward toward the Seine after Lt.-Gen. Patton's 3rd Army forces virtually had denied them any chance of falling back towards Paris.

The Supreme Command said there would be a temporary blackout of news in some sectors, since the Germans were in such a state of confusion they did not know where the Allied troops were and any announcement of Allied positions which they could hear by radio would help them.

While the American 3rd Army held the Germans compressed within a seventy-mile wall of armor stretching from a point near Argentan to Dreux, British, American, Canadian, Polish, Dutch and Belgian forces drove the Germans in a confused

Final Arrangements Are Completed For Annual Ayer's Cliff Exhibition

At a meeting of the Directors of the Stanstead County Agricultural Society held in the County Hall there were present, Mr. Alphonse Blanchard, President; directors, Eugene Trudeau, Turner Hunter, W. L. Place, George Dastin, J. A. Peasey, Harold Cass, Byron Brown, Oscar Heath, Robert Roy, P. W. Baldwin, P. J. Whitcomb, Joseph Goyette, Henry Moulton, J. E. Gagnon, Weyland Pope and Carl Corey, agronomes. W. G. MacDougall, Jean Martin and D. J. MacMillan, of Lennoxville, W. S. Keeler and Alfred Keeler, from the Horticultural Department, and Morton Leavitt, caretaker of the hall.

It had been noted by the gentlemen that the grounds and buildings were getting into shape for the eventful week, which promised in every way to excel other annual exhibitions. It is expected that a large showing of livestock will be again the outstanding feature, and all officers are doing their best to not let one thing go undone that may help to better the 1944 Fair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted as read, and the items of unfinished business were discussed and settled to the satisfaction of all, and all bills were voted to be paid.

Messrs. Henry Moulton and Turner Hunter moved following the exhibition the attraction platform be given another coat of paint. This platform has been rebuilt and is larger and will enable the entertainers to do all their acts between the horse racing, which is always the one big feature of the Stanstead County Fair.

After some discussion, Mr. Oscar Heath and Henry Moulton made the motion that the Military Orchestra and Military Band, under the leadership of Captain Guthrie, of Montreal, be invited to play at the Fair, and this was voted by all. It is indeed to be hoped that these fine musicians accept the invitation to provide the musical entertainment.

From this meeting the Secretary was asked to spend the week of the Fair at the Ground, so as to enable him to get any phone messages, etc. The meeting closed with an optimistic air among all the directors and officers and they really are out for a "bigger and better" Fair than ever.

General Notes
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Voisard, of Montreal, are holidaying here at Lake Massawippi.

Mrs. Leonard Campbell and little daughter, of Burlington, Vt., accompanied by her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. P. Albree, of Rock Island, spent a week-end with Mr. Arthur Raymond.

Mrs. S. A. Jacobs entertained at her tea guests at the Hurd home on Tuesday, Mr. Charles M. Davis, of Sherbrooke, Mrs. C. G. Gaudin, Mrs. Charles Best, of North Hatley, and Mrs. William Sage, of Clearwater, Florida.

Miss Alma Gustin, of Brown's Hill, spent a day at the home of her grandfather, Mr. S. A. Gustin.

Mrs. H. G. Burck spent a few days this week in Montreal.
Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wells and daughter, Mrs. P. Elstad, were visitors in Newport, Vt., one day.

Mrs. Freda Frickett, of Assinippi, Mass., came to attend the Tyler Estate auction and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Place.

Many from here attended the anniversary service at the United Church in Boynton on Sunday, when the Rev. M. H. Sanderson and the Rev. Churchill Moore were the speakers.

Miss Sally Stoddard, of Waterloo, was a guest last week of Miss Anna Duda, of Lake Massawippi.

Mrs. V. A. Davis spent a week-end in Rock Island with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon C. Hartson.

AUSTRALIANS VOTING TODAY ON TAX PLANS

All Adults to Express Opinion on Revision of Commonwealth Powers in Compulsory Plebiscite.

Sydney, Australia, Aug. 19.—(C. P. Cable)—All adults in Australia today participated in a compulsory poll to decide whether additional powers shall be given the Commonwealth Government for five years after the war as part of a programme to swing the country back to a peacetime footing.

Already most Australian servicemen in Britain, Canada, the Middle East and Southwest Pacific battle areas have voted but their votes will not be included in the totals for some days. However, it probably will be possible to see by Sunday whether the Government is likely to gain its objective.

To carry, the referendum must have not only a majority of total votes, but a majority in four of six states.

During the campaign of the last fortnight, Canada's distribution of powers between the central Government and the provincial Governments was cited several times in the press.

Sir Isaac Isaacs, former Chief Justice of the Australian High Court, who later became the first Australian-born Governor-General, broadcast last night that British Dominion had greater powers than those now sought by the Australian Government.

In reply, a former member of the New South Wales Government said that with the exception of Canada, other members of the Empire were small in territory compared with Australia, while the Canadian provinces actually had greater powers in relation to the Dominion Government than Australian states now possess in relation to the Commonwealth.

In addition, the Canadian provinces have the right of direct taxation within the Province—a power filched from Australian states under uniform taxation adopted here during the present war," the ex-minister said.

(Canadian provinces have surrendered income tax powers to the Dominion since the outbreak of the war.)

mass toward the Seine river. During an R.A.F. air bombardment North of Trun yesterday great mass of vehicles was turned into a flaming, bloody mass of tanks, trucks and men. R.A.F. veterans of the North African campaign described the attacks on the fleeing Germans as the greatest show "since El Alamein" which spelled Marshal Erwin Rommel's doom in Africa.

Censorless Allied air attacks strewn the roads behind the Germans with the wreckage of tanks and vehicles.

(The German Transocean agency, broadcasting from Berlin, quoted a German War Ministry official statement as saying "We must be prepared for a German withdrawal from France.")

(The same agency quoted a military spokesman in Berlin as saying that "no fresh German division can be sent to France. The troops in battle have been warned of this for the last man.")

Headquarters was "unable to confirm" earlier reports that the Americans were near Versailles, seven miles outside Paris.

Headquarters said last night the Falaise-Argentan gap in Normandy now had been narrowed to two miles. A front-line broadcast said the gap had been snapped shut entirely around Trun, southeast of Falaise.

The pocket already had dwindled to such insignificance, however, that great forces of British and Canadian troops were released and were driving straight east after the enemy.

In furious attacks yesterday on the fleeing enemy in northwest France Allied airmen destroyed or damaged more than 3,800 vehicles and the attacks continued today.

Thirty-five German planes were shot out of the air and at least 51 were destroyed on the ground yesterday while in a 24-hour period Allied aircraft destroyed at least 28 of the 500 or more barges waiting to ferry the Germans across the Seine.

CZECH FLIER KILLED

London, Aug. 19.—(C. P. Cable)—Pilot Officer Leonard Revillat, 21, grandson of the late President Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, has died on active service with the R.A.F., it was announced today.

OVER 250 NAZI VEHICLES LOST IN FOUR DAYS

Spitfire and Typhoon Fighters and Fighter-Bombers Reported to Have Had Most Active Week Since D-Day.

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—(C. P. Cable)—R.C.A.F. fighter and fighter-bomber pilots destroyed over 250 enemy vehicles in France during a four-day period and damaged hundreds of others, Air Force Headquarters reported today in its weekly summary of R.C.A.F. overseas operations.

The summary said R.C.A.F. heavy bombers made attacks on oil storage depots at La Pallice, ammunition dumps in the Forest de Montichard, industrial targets at Brunswick, buzz-bomb sites in Northern France, a road junction at Falaise, enemy strong points near Poitiers, night-fighters airfields in Holland and Belgium, the Baltic ports of Stettin and Kiel.

Mines were laid in enemy waters. Spitfire and Typhoon fighters and fighter-bombers experienced one of their most active weeks since D-Day. On three days they flew more than 300 sorties a day, their targets including road and river bridges, rail junctions, radio stations, ammunition dumps, Mr. Houde said. Trucks and docks and concentrations of enemy troops, guns and vehicles.

The week's operations cost the R.C.A.F. 14 heavy bombers and two Coastal Command aircraft, one a Wellington and one a Beaufighter. Reports from Normandy-based squadrons indicate ten fighters are missing.

spite of the too few defenders you had."

When someone in the crowd shouted "St. Laurent" apparently in reference to Justice Minister St. Laurent, Mr. Houde said:

"When you utter that name, I presume you are referring to the St. Lawrence River."

"When I was thinking of the distress, anguish and miseries you were being subjected to and when I was thinking of those who left their blood overseas and who will never see again the enchanting beauties of our dear country, I was thinking that I was not so badly off that you had not abandoned me."

Switching into English, Mr. Houde added: "I want to tell the people of the English language present here and those who will read about this in the newspapers that I have not been the victim of British fair play."

"I was only the victim of a political party and a political organization and nothing else. Some day I will meet the English population and I will let them know the truth and they will know that I was right."

"The English population was wrong because it was wrong." Reverting to French, Mr. Houde said "we will see one another again; we will discuss together, we will agree together and we shall vote."

After his address, Mr. Houde was escorted to the station entrance where a flower-banked open car was waiting to take him home. Other vehicles swung in behind to form an impromptu cavalcade that swept along Lagachetiere street, up Mansfield street to Sherbrooke street and then Eastward to the Houde home on East-End St. Hubert Street.

By PIERRE LEMOYNE

Canadian Press Staff Writer
Montreal Aug. 19.—(C. P. Cable)—Houde said last night, as he arrived back in Montreal after four years in internment that "I have no immediate plans for myself, but for the nation—yes."

Surrounded by his wife and three daughters as he was interviewed while his train approached Montreal, the former mayor said, "I am waiting for events which could bring a great change."

Such events he listed as the end of the war, a Federal election or developments in the provincial political field.

"I wish to consult my friends before making public any decisions as to my future plans," he said. "I will reveal my plans to the public at the proper time, possibly at a public meeting."

Of his four years in internment for advising Montrealers not to comply with National Registration regulations, he said:

"I spent four years in an internment camp for the nation only. I was always cheerful, so as to give a good example to others. I couldn't appear demoralized before those poor people whose families are abroad and whose only news were death notices."

The man who served four terms as Mayor of Montreal said he had "no idea" whether he would run again for the mayoralty post in the municipal elections next December.

"I will go where the population needs me most," he said, but would not specify whether he referred to municipal, provincial or federal fields.

Of the events leading up to his internment, he said only that "a man who spent 29 years in public service should not have been placed in an internment camp." He added that if a large crowd was waiting for him when the train reached Montreal, he would consider it a reward for having tied to do my duty and to represent public opinion in Quebec.

Mr. Houde appeared cheerful on the trip from St. Hyacinthe and said he was looking forward to seeing residents of Montreal.

"I hope they feel the same way towards me," he added. He revealed that while in internment he had studied German and Italian—with fellow-internees as teachers—and now he could speak both languages "not fluently but well enough."

POST-WAR ERA CO-OPERATION IS STRESSED

Times Representative Percy Philip Speaks on Importance of Peace Preservation in Future Years at Winnipeg Newspaper Banquet.

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—(C. P. Cable)—"In the post-war world no nation can stand alone from the rest and in the post-war era nations must co-operate to prevent new gangsterism and the pestilence of national power from bringing ruin to the world," said Percy Philip of Ottawa in an address here last night.

The New York Times Canadian representative, speaking at the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association banquet, urged the peoples of the world not to fall out about the kind of house to build to preserve peace. "To do so would betray those who have fought and suffered in this way for the mistakes made after the first Great War."

"The failure of the League of Nations was the failure of all peoples," he said.

Mr. Philip suggested editors keep before their readers some conception of the diabolical inventions mankind has made and scare people into getting together and keeping the peace.

Dr. I. A. Macdonald, Executive Director of the Manitoba Cancer Relief and Research Institute, advocated greater publicity about cancer. "The death rate from cancer could be reduced 40 to 50 per cent if the public knew more about it," he said.

"Canada's standard of employment in post-war years will depend on continuance of a large-scale savings programme until such time as readjustment to peacetime pursuits has been attained," said D. B. Mansur of Ottawa, Assistant Chairman of the National War Finance Committee.

A sense of relaxation and emotional relief would probably be experienced as the European War drew to a close. He stressed the danger of this being followed by a let-down in the willingness of people to continue their support of the savings programme, price controls and other features of wartime living necessary in preventing inflation.

NEWSPAPERMEN QUIZ ROOSEVELT ON RECENT TOUR

President Assures Another Conference with Churchill to Take Place in Near Future.

By C. R. BLACKBURN, Canadian Press Staff Writer.
Washington, Aug. 19.—(C. P. Cable)—President Roosevelt, fresh from a 35-day tour of the Pacific, met Washington correspondents yesterday at what probably will go down on the record as "the fool question press conference."

Twice the President, speaking in a tired voice so low that to many it was scarcely audible, protested that he was being asked fool questions which he had neither the time nor the responsibility for answering.

The President looked fit and tanned but his voice lacked the customary bivalence and sparkle, and there was a hint of what might have been a return of his sinus trouble.

About 100 correspondents crowded the Executive Office and there was particular interest in the President's health because of the ghastly appearance the news reels gave him when he broadcast from San Diego July 20, accepting nomination for a fourth term.

In a voice so low that twice reporters in the rear asked him to repeat, the President said:

1. He most certainly is going to confer with Prime Minister Churchill again—and soon. He spelled the last word.

2. Americans should seriously consider the idea of establishing a post-war system of one year's semi-military training for young men aged 17 to 23, if only for the physical, mental and disciplinary value of such training.

3. There is general but not detailed agreement with Britain and Russia on the necessity of occupying Germany and Japan with Allied forces even if they surrender before being invaded.

4. Nothing is to be done about combining the Army and Navy under one head until after the war.

5. The chain of airports through Northwest Canada to Alaska has an important future and he anticipates no difficulty with the Canadian Government in making agreements on their joint use.

The President told a questioner he knew nothing about reports that he had invited Wendell Willkie, unsuccessful 1940 Republican candidate, to confer with him on foreign policy. Then he was asked if he would like to see Mr. Willkie.

That, the President replied, was a rather personal matter, and a fool question based upon newspaper stories which he did not feel called upon to discuss.

Judgment In Lallier Case Will Be Handed Down In Local Court Aug. 26

Lallier, 40, of Cookshire, tried yesterday on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the Government through the manufacture of illicit spirits, will be handed down on August 26 by Judge Anatole Gaudet. A motion was made by the attorney for the defence to dismiss a charge of possessing articles used in a still which Lallier is facing, and judgment also was reserved until next week.

Testimony offered by Severin Breton, on whose property the still was seized on September 15, 1940, was to the effect that the witness had no knowledge it was being operated. His evidence was confirmed by two other witnesses, V. Breton and J. Breton, also of St. Adolphe de Dugswell.

Six R.C.M.P. officers told the Court at the hearing how they had seized the still in a surprise raid, detailed three constables to guard it and awaited the operators to turn up. Two days after the seizure, police said that Lallier and Raymond Blouin arrived on the premises and evaded authorities following a scuffle with the constables guarding the still. During the melee, two of the constables were tied with rope by Blouin, while Lallier riddled the engine of the police car with blazing bullets fired from a machine gun before the pair left, it was brought out in Court.

Lallier and Blouin had been sought by police for four years, being arrested in separate raids several months ago. Following their preliminary hearings on separate charges of obstruction arising out of the seizure of the still, the men were committed to trial at the Criminal Assizes several weeks ago.

Another Good Day Is Reported By Local Vendors On Lansdowne Market

The scene on the Lansdowne Market yesterday fell in with the past two weeks and presented a picture of lively activity with vendors reporting another good day aided somewhat by the more moderate temperatures which prevailed during the day, and interrupted but only momentarily by several minor showers.

Prices remained unchanged on the egg market, and vendors were still available to supply the demand although they are being received in lesser amounts than previously.

Also, on the cheese market the supplies are reported as being received in small quantities although no shortage is feared for some time at least. Prices remained unchanged and a busy day was experienced.

Good sales were reported from the meat market, while ceiling levels did not permit any change in prices. Roasts were in good demand, while chickens were also selling well. Total sales for yesterday compared well with previous markets.

Only two changes were obvious on the vegetable market, those being a decrease in price on both local tomatoes and corn on the cob.

Large baskets of tomatoes were selling very well at fifty cents per basket, while corn was in great demand at thirty-five cents per dozen. An exceptionally heavy supply of vegetables was on hand at all the stalls yesterday, as recent fine weather conditions have speeded up crop production.

A steady fruit market was maintained throughout the day yesterday.

VACHON HAS 61 MAJORITY IN WOLFE COUNTY

Mr. Justice C. D. White presided yesterday in Practice Court at a judicial recount of the votes in the provincial elections in Wolfe County where Henri Vachon, Union Nationale candidate, had been proclaimed elected by J. Donat Manseau, President of the election.

Forty-two ballot boxes were examined by the Court and its assistants during the course of the day and the final results given out by the Court at 4:15 p.m. gave the following number of votes to the candidates: Henri Vachon, Union Nationale, 3,478; Thomas Lapointe, Liberal, 3,417; and Henri Laberge, Bloc, 54.

These final judicial results gave Mr. Vachon a majority of 61 as compared to 65 which was announced by the election President of Wolfe County on election day. Through the rejection or acceptance of some of the doubtful ballots, a slight change in the totals was registered, with Thomas Lapointe winning ten more votes, Henri Vachon six, and Henri Laberge one.

The representatives for Henri Vachon were Dorais Panneton, K.C., of Sherbrooke, Noel Doherty, K.C., of Quebec, and Leon Michot, K.C., of Three Rivers; while Thomas Lapointe was represented by Cesaire Gervais, K.C., and Evender Veilleux. Assisting at the recounting also were Henri Lamoureux, Secretary of the election, and J. Donat Manseau, President of the election.

The request for a recount in this case was made by M. Berube, a merchant of Deschambault, who put up the required $100 as a deposit.

CHANGE DATES IN READING OF LOCAL METERS

Preparing for changes which will take place at the beginning of 1945 in the accountability of the Electric and Gas Departments, City Hall officials announced yesterday that the dates of meter readings will be changed in the Centre and West Wards.

Starting this month in the West Ward the readings will not be made as usual at the end of the month, but the meters will be read at the beginning of September, which procedure will be followed every month thereafter. In the Centre Ward, where the readings are made in the middle of the month, the meter readers will do their work the latter part of the month.

It was pointed out that the accountants for the first month after these changes have been made will be somewhat higher, but the charges will become normal in the following month.

LOCAL WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Mrs. Marie Boisvert, aged 32, 69 Peel Street, committed suicide by hanging herself in the cellar of her home yesterday.

Investigation carried out by Police Captain Edouard Moreau and Sgt. Detective Pierre Arcand disclosed that the woman had been suffering from a mental condition for the past four months.

When the husband returned home he was unable to find her. A search of the residence led him to the basement. The woman had used a piece of clothesline to hang herself.

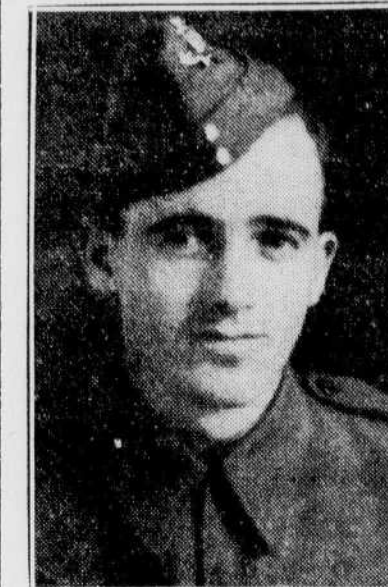

Leonidas Bachand, Coroner for the District of St. Francis, brought in a verdict of suicide.

TENANTS ARE NOW FREE OF EVICTION WORRY

All well-behaved tenants of houses, apartments, flats, rooms or parts of houses, who are not now under notice to vacate, can be sure they will not have to move before May first next year. This state of security is brought about by a Wartime Prices and Trade Board order effective today, which extends to tenants of shared accommodation the same protection as is now enjoyed by occupants of houses, flats and apartments.

Boarders are not covered by this measure. Nor does it apply to shared accommodation in certain eastern Canadian congested areas such as Halifax, Montreal and Kingston, which reached the saturation point early in the war and which, some time ago, were brought under a special administrative control involving registration and rate fixing.

Tenants who do not pay their rent, or who break their agreements, are not given the protection of the order, and can be put out by order of the provincial courts, as in peacetime. Moreover, the Board has provided special safeguards, through its Courts of Rental Appeals, so as to permit disposition of tenants whose personal conduct is obnoxious to other occupants of the same building.

"Congestion, where it occurs, is entirely due to an influx of war workers and military personnel, and their families, who usually find shelter in rooms and parts of houses," a Board spokesman said. "Examination of the present situation convinces us that to a serious extent, landlords of shared accommodations have increased rents or are endeavouring to do so, often evicting their present tenants for the purpose of securing a higher rental from the new occupants. Tenants tend to accept rental increases without protest for fear of being rendered homeless. This order will provide a real remedy for the situation."

HOLIDAYS END FOR STUDENTS SEPTEMBER 5

It is a bit early to be talking about school opening and a lot too warm to think of pupils being confined to the arduous job of several hours each day at a school desk. But at the same time it is during these summer days that school commissions and officials make plans for the school opening and any changes.

Schools in Sherbrooke and in many Eastern Townships centres will be reopened on September 5, it was learned today following a survey conducted by the Record. The majority of the schools in this district will be ready for re-opening on that date.

It was understood that the necessary teachers will be available and no difficulties are anticipated. Throughout the city generally the school situation appears to be satisfactory, and all children will be accommodated.

While it has been a difficult summer for making repairs and doing the usual job undertaken in the summer holidays, many of the school boards in the Eastern Townships have been successful in securing the necessary labour and material, although it was admitted that labor is hard to obtain.

Victory Gardens Paying Dividends In Fresh Produce Throughout Area

A survey conducted by the Record today indicated that Sherbrooke's Victory Gardens are paying real dividends these days, with the warm weather ripening tomatoes and corn faster than they can be eaten at the family table. Furthermore, they have in most instances paid good dividends already in healthful relaxation and by now the perennial battle with the weeds is over.

It is estimated that the average successful garden eaves a family approximately twenty dollars a year, according to a farmer on the Lansdowne Market. He told a Record reporter that produce taken from a lot twenty-five by one hundred feet would cost about thirty-five dollars on the market, and in most cases expenses are small. A few dollars buys enough seeds, fertilizer and insect destroyer to yield a rich return, he explained to the scribe.

The Government urged that Victory gardens not only provide a handsome assortment of fresh food, but they make a definite contribution to the war-time manpower shortage.

Farmers on the Lansdowne Market stated that they have faced a serious problem this year in not being able to get help for their harvesting, and as a result the supply of market produce is much less in quantity than in the past. Shortage of help also has led many commercial gardeners to sell their whole crops to canners or wholesalers.

For a time gardeners were worrying about their vegetables not ripening, but the hot weather of the past fortnight has taken care of this problem to perfection. For a long time, tomatoes, which had not filled rapidly, were remaining green on stalks. The drought earlier in the season is said to have caused this delay in harvesting.

Potatoes make up one of the most substantial Victory garden crops and the yield is said to be high this year. There was comparative freedom from the troublesome potato beetle, and in some districts gardeners said they never saw a bug on their patch. With other small pests, it was not so fortunate a year, however. Flea beetles were numerous and did considerable damage to young crops where the gardeners got behind in his spraying.

PROCEDURE TO TAKE IN HEAT FAINTS CITED

In case anybody you know keels over with the heat, here is what you ought to do for them, according to the Sherbrooke branch of the Quebec Safety League, of which Leonidas Bachand is President.

Several times throughout the heat wave men and women were overcome by the heat, and dozens of people around had no idea what should be done for them while a doctor was being located.

First of all, feel their skin. If it is cold and clammy they are suffering from a shock condition. If it is hot and dry, they are suffering from heat exhaustion.

For those suffering from shock give them a little water at a time, and a hot stimulant if it is available. Some salt should be put in the water.

If they suffer from heat exhaustion, with the skin hot and dry, place them flat on their backs and apply ice to the forehead. Fan them and make sure that they get plenty of air.

If you notice a twitching of the muscles, it is a sign of heat cramp, and salt and water should be given as a cure.

An upset stomach is often part of the heat exhaustion.

SHELL RELEASE MEANS LITTLE TO HUNTSMEN

The announcement of the Dominion Government that further supplies of rim-fire cartridges and shotgun shells will be released, brought joy to farmers but not to the big game hunter. Rim-fire shells are all of a small calibre—22's for the most part—and the larger shells used by the deer or the big game hunter are all of the heavy-calibre, centre-fire type.

"We have nothing to complain of," said a hunter to a Record reporter. "We may not have all the ammunition we would like, but most of us remember that the centre-fire shells are being used to much better advantage by the lads in the front line."

He thought that most good sportsmen would agree with him in their appreciation of the concession made, without worrying about centre-fire shells not being available.

"After the war we'll have all the centre-fire ammunition we want," he pointed out.

PYJAMA SITUATION IS REPORTED ACUTE

Retail clothing stores in the city say that the pyjama shortage has reached an acute stage, and supplies of the night garment have been very low.

The merchants today could advance no reason for this condition other than the labor situation. The manufacturers have sufficient cloth, but when any is made up they seem to take the view that a man has to have a shirt, but perhaps can squeeze by with any old pants or shorts in place of the more conventional pyjamas.

Fiftieth Anniversary Of Opening Of Boynton Church Is Celebrated

Boynton, Aug. 19. — The fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the Boynton Church was observed on Sunday, August 13, when over one hundred guests from far and near gathered to celebrate the occasion and hear again the voice of the first speaker, Rev. Churchill Moore.

Rev. M. H. Sanderson, minister at the present time, had charge of the service, and eight members of the Ayer's Cliff choir, with their leader, Mrs. Willard Rexford, assisted with the music. Mrs. H. Nelson Pierce sang a solo and the choir rendered two beautiful anthems.

Rev. Mr. Moore, who will soon celebrate his ninetieth birthday, expressed his pleasure at being able to attend this anniversary service and recalled many interesting incidents connected with his pastorate here. He was the only person present who attended the dedication of the church fifty years ago.

The church was fittingly decorated with cut flowers, and a guest book, in charge of Miss Leta Dustin, was signed by those attending. People came from Ottawa and Kitchener, Ont. Magog, Stanstead, Coaticook, Beebe, Libbstown, Brown's Hill and Ayer's Cliff.

The committee in charge wishes to extend their thanks to the Rev. Churchill Moore, Rev. Mr. Sanderson and the Ayer's Cliff choir for making this anniversary such a success.

Victorian Order of Nurses Notes and Jottings

The financing of any organization that exists primarily for the benefit of the public and not for corporate gain is generally a matter of serious difficulty at some period of its activities. The V.O.N. is no stranger to this experience. The Sherbrooke Branch has had its dark days, as the records plainly show. Sometimes it seemed that the good work would have to be abandoned because of a shortage of funds and the difficulty in raising what was required. But it was felt by the Executive that to do this would be a public calamity and a disgrace to themselves. So they took courage, appealed to the public and were rewarded by the generous response received.

A notable instance of this took place in 1928 when, being in dire straits, the Executive appealed for the sum of $5,000 to help meet the situation in which they found themselves. The appeal received the sympathetic support of a goodly number of canvassers, a special committee and the influential backing of the local press, the result being that the sum of $5,000 was raised, an eloquent testimony to the recognized value of the organization to the community.

In 1932 the same trouble confronted the Executive. In her annual report given on January 24th, 1933, the President, Mrs. Andrew Sangster, said: "As usual, the greatest concern of the Executive has been to raise the funds necessary to carry on the work. Many months we have wondered where the money was coming from, but it has always come in some way."

In the Silver Jubilee year of the organization another special appeal was made to the public when the sum of over $3,600 was raised. Since then a large number of annual subscribers, secured largely through this appeal, have made it possible to carry on with a degree of relief which has been gratifying to the Executive. A circular letter is now sent out annually to subscribers and to friends as a reminder of their interest in and support of our good work.

The V.O.N. is grateful to the large number of subscribers who have so willingly given their support to its work. Individuals, industrial organizations, clubs, municipal bodies have given practical demonstration of their desire to co-operate with the organization.

Some time ago a letter from a correspondent appeared in a Montreal paper. Here is what he said, in part: "The City Council needs awakening from their shameful apathy and financial support should be given to the V.O.N. to which we, the people represent, owe so much to."

As I read this criticism I said to myself: Sherbrooke is ahead of Montreal in this matter. Our City Council has shown its sympathy with the V.O.N. for a good part of its history here. The annual grant received from the Council, now $1,500, is a substantial help to our work, for which we are grateful. A former Mayor of Sherbrooke remarked at an annual meeting of the V.O.N. that the money granted by the city was well spent, for it had saved the city thousands of dollars. Which remark is worth remembering.

This is also worth remembering. The glory of the V.O.N. is that its nurses are ready to serve all within their district without respect to differences of color, race or creed, and that their services are free to those who cannot pay, these being about one-half of the number cared for. When you help support the V.O.N., you help your brother man, your sister woman and the children who smile their thanks to the V. O. N. nurse.

Social and Personal

Mrs. William Sullivan, Lennoxville, has received word that her husband, Pte. Sullivan, has been wounded in action on August 11th.

Mrs. Florence Gooley, of Coaticook, is coming to Sherbrooke today and will be a guest for the week-end of her sister, Mrs. Douglas A. Stevenson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Asselin, Montreal, arrived in Bromptonville last night, to spend a long week-end with their children, at their country residence.

MARRIAGES

ST. LAURENT-NAYLOR
The marriage of Mary Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Naylor, Compton, Que., to Mr. Marc St. Laurent, Compton, son of Mr. J. B. St. Laurent, Compton, was solemnized in the St. Thomas d'Aquin Church, Compton, at nine o'clock on Thursday morning, August 17th. The Reverend Father H. Emile Caron, officiating.

Pink and white gladioli were used to decorate the church, and Miss Jeanne Doyon presided at the organ.

The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father, and looked very lovely in her floor length bridal gown of white satin, and matching fabric slippers.

Her finger-tip veil was caught with a cluster of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of fuchsia and white gladioli.

The groom was supported by his father, Mr. J. B. St. Laurent, and the ushers were Mr. Gordon Lamy and Mr. Hertz St. Laurent.

Mrs. Naylor, the bride's mother, was becomingly gowned in a two piece navy and white costume, with which she wore a navy hat and accessories, and a corsage of deep red roses.

The reception was held at Mrs. Clifford Goodhue's, 133 Quebec St., Sherbrooke where garden flowers in profusion were used to decorate.

In the dining room where the wedding breakfast was served, the bride's table, which was covered with a lace banquet cloth, was effectively done with pink and white larkspur in white pottery bowls, with two bell shaped wedding cakes forming the centerpiece.

The toast to the bride was proposed by the Hon. Louis St. Laurent, uncle of the groom, the latter responding.

Later the bride and groom left by motor to spend their honeymoon in the Laurentians, the bride traveling in a smart ensemble of navy blue with white, and wearing a navy blue felt hat and navy accessories.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Marc St. Laurent will take up residence in Compton.

The out of town guests included the Hon. Louis St. Laurent, Minister of Justice, and Mrs. St. Laurent, Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. J. Grant, Moe's River, grandparents of the bride; Mr. Philip Goyette, Montreal; Mrs. Hortense Goyette, Magog; Mrs. D. R. Samson and daughter, Monique and Therese, Quebec; Miss Eleanor Callaghan, Miss Patricia Callaghan, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. F. N. Therrien, Miss Catherine Therrien, Vimy, Alberta; Bernard St. Laurent, R.C.M.P., Montreal; L.A.C. Claude St. Laurent, R.C.A.F., Vancouver, B.C.; Mrs. Gordon Meek, Magog; Mr. R. Goyette, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lamy, Mr. M. Lamy, Miss Lorraine Goulet, Miss Margaret Earnshaw, and Mrs. Gerald Lamy, Sherbrooke.

DIXVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Wright were guests of Mrs. Wright's aunt, Mrs. Charles Rose, and family, in Barnston.

Messrs. George Cunningham and Alfred Avery, of Coaticook, visited Mr. George W. Paige, at the home of the Misses Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Lambert and family have moved to the home recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Major and family, on Pleasant Street.

Mr. Ozle Thomas was a visitor in St. Hyacinthe.

The Reverend Russel F. Brown, Rector of St. Peter's and his small son, Nicholas, are holidaying in the countryside beyond Lennoxville.

Mrs. S. I. Derby and Miss Linda Derby, of Arvida, Que., are spending a two weeks' vacation in Sherbrooke, visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. Mahaffey, Dufferin Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lamy left yesterday afternoon for Toronto, en route for Lake Simcoe where they will be the guests of Mr. Lamy's mother, Mrs. J. M. Lamy.

Mrs. C. Osborne and daughter, Margaret, returned from Danville, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Skidmore. Gunner James Walker was also a guest at the same home.

Squadron-Leader Douglas A. Stevenson, R.C.A.F., Halifax, N.S., arrived in Sherbrooke on Thursday night to spend a ten days' furlough with his wife at their home, 106 Ontario Street.

Mrs. R. Callan, her daughter Miss Sheila, and son, Master Richard, who have spent several weeks with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Skinner, left yesterday for their home in St. Lambert.

Mrs. S. Marcus and her son, Master Leslie, are returning today from North Hatley, where they have spent their holidays at the River Side Inn. Dr. S. Marcus who spent his vacation with his wife and small son, at Lake Massawippi, returned home to Sherbrooke earlier in the week.

Mrs. D. M. Ross and her small grandson, Michael Ross, have returned to their home in Lennoxville, after spending several weeks at "Camp Topping," the former's summer home at Eagle Lake, Ont. Mrs. Guy Littlejohn and her infant son who were guests of her mother during the interim, are also back in Lennoxville, Mr. Littlejohn having motored to the Lake to spend a short holiday and bring the camping party home.

Miss K. Thompson, President of the Orford W.L., entertained the members and several visitors, very enjoyably for the August meeting which, in the form of a picnic, was held at her cottage at Little Lake Magog. The usual ceremonial of saluting the Union Jack and repeating the prayer for the Allied Forces, and the "Mary Stewart Collect," was followed by the disposition of routine business. Dinner was served a la carte by the members and later swimming and boating were enjoyed by both members and their guests, all of whom very much appreciated the delicious picnic tea which brought the delightful afternoon to a close. Highlights of the meeting included the appointment of Mrs. Gordon Richards as delegate to the county meeting to be held in Lennoxville, while a "show" of gifts and a donation of $1 from two friends for ditty bags brought joy to the ladies in the department. The sale of fresh vegetables for the same object, with Mrs. A. Crawford acting as auctioneer, was a grand success and many ditty bags will surely be well filled through the efforts of the Orford W.L. Finished articles turned in for August included two ribbed helmets, one turtle-neck sweater and one pair child's socks. Prior to leaving a special vote of thanks was extended to Miss Thompson, whose gracious hospitality all had so much enjoyed.

The Situation: You are a civilian attempting to strike up a conversation with a serviceman. Wrong Way: Start in by asking him a string of personal questions such as, "Where are you from?" "How long have you been in the army?" etc. Right Way: Talk to him as you would to any other stranger, making conversation rather than asking questions. (It is strange how many persons seem to think that the way to show friendliness to a serviceman is to ask him one question after another.)

Squash Adds Variety to Menu

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
For Victory meals, use squash fresh from your garden. Try these new recipes. They will make you want to serve squash more frequently.

Yellow Squash (Mashed or Creamed)
(Serves 4-5)

Two medium-sized yellow squash, 3 tablespoons butter, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup boiling water.

Remove any tough skin but do not pare young and tender squash. Slice quite thin. Add remaining ingredients. Cook, covered, until squash is tender and the water evaporated.

To serve: Mashed: add powdered nutmeg or celery salt or a tablespoon minced parsley. Serve hot.

To serve creamed: make a cream sauce by mixing 2 tablespoons butter melted with 2 tablespoons flour. Add 1 cup milk, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon minced onion. Cook, stirring over low heat until creamy. Pour over cooked squash. Top with paprika.

Salt, 3 medium-sized tomatoes or 1 cup cooked tomatoes, 1/2 cup water, 1 teaspoon pickling spices, cayenne or red pepper to taste, 2 tablespoons butter.

Slice squash and onions into heavy saucapans. Add salt and the tomatoes sliced and skins removed; add water. Tie the pickling spices into small piece of cheesecloth and drop into the pan. Cover and cook until squash is tender. Remove bag of spices; add pepper to taste and the butter. Reheat and serve.

BREAKFAST: Stewed blackberries, oatmeal, enriched toast, butter, grape jelly, coffee, milk.

LUNCH: Squash creole, toasted hard rolls, butter, raw vegetable salad, French dressing, baked apples, molasses cookies, iced tea, milk.

DINNER: Broiled split frankfurters with crisp bacon, hashed cream potatoes, green beans with chopped parsley, sliced tomatoes and onions in sweet and sour vinegar sauce, enriched bread, butter, iced watermelon, coffee, milk.

FIGURES DO LIE WHEN IT COMES TO TELLING AGE

BY ALICIA HART

Hewing to the line of good posture—which of course is the way a woman advertises her youth—calls for Spartan effort during weather that takes the starch out of our spine. But if you don't want admirers to start speculating about your age, resist the tendency to drop into a heap.

From an actress I know who says she can't afford to grow old, come tips on ways to lick a dog-day slump. Wear sleekly fitting clothes, she says, in which you don't dare let your figure fold and a good girle underneath—no matter how irresistible the desire to leave it off. Wear roomy shoes. Feet swell in hot weather and if shoes give them the squeeze play, you can't keep your mind on posture. Nor can you balance your carriage.

If you can't keep your shoulders squared any other way—which automatically straightens your spine—try her trick of imagining that your head is a balloon and that your neck is the string by which this up-pulling sphere is tethered.

WATERLOO

Miss Lucia Graves and Miss Marion Wing returned from a pleasant motor holiday, which took them to Morrisville and Hyde Park, Vt., where they visited relatives. Miss Graves visited in the former town and Fairlie, and Miss Wing in Hyde Park.

Congregations Unite At Kingsbury Reception For Rev. And Mrs. Milley

Kingsbury, Aug. 19.—The congregation of St. Andrew's United Church joined the congregation of the Melbourne Ridge United Church at the Melbourne Ridge Church Hall for a reception in honor of Rev. and Mrs. S. Milley.

The hall was beautifully decorated in pink and white as was the bride's table.

The guests of honor received the best wishes of all present and were presented by Mr. C. Stevens with a pair of woollen blankets, a tea set and a sum of money from the Kingsbury congregation.

Mr. W. Fowler presented a purse of money to the happy couple from the Melbourne Ridge congregation. After the presentations were made all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

Mrs. J. Wilkins then gave a solo, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. Johnson.

Lunch was served by the ladies and the evening was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

KINNEAR'S MILLS

Miss Ethel Kinnear, a bride-to-be, was the guest-of-honor at a kitchen shower given by Mrs. John Fraser at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kinghorn, Mrs. Charles Montgomery played the Wedding March as the bride-elect was escorted by Mrs. Fraser to the seat of honor. Her sister, Miss Edith Kinnear, was seated at her right, while Mrs. Cruickshank, mother of the groom-to-be, was at her left. After the guests were seated, Master Charles Fraser appeared wheeling before the bride-to-be a small blue and white wheelbarrow loaded with gifts. After the daintily-wrapped parcels had been opened, Miss Kinnear thanked her friends for the many and useful gifts, and expressed the hope that they might be able to visit her in her new home in Sherbrooke. Delicious refreshments were served to forty guests by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Kinghorn and Mrs. Swail.

Mrs. Edgar Nugent has received the sad news of the death of her youngest brother, Archie McKee, who was killed when his plane crashed somewhere in England. The sympathy of this community is extended to Mrs. Nugent in the loss she has sustained.

At a recent Rebecca Lodge meeting Sister Kathleen MacKay, District Deputy President, very ably installed the officers of the new Rebecca Lodge No. 23 as follows: Past Noble Grand, Sister Gertrude Winslow; Noble Grand, Sister Ruth Matthews; Vice-Grand, Sister Mayotte Winslow; Secretary, Sister Olive Twyman; Treasurer, Sister Doris Nugent; Warden, Sister Evelyn Garneau; Conductor, Sister Mabel MacKay; Chaplain, Sister Muriel Hodgins; Musician, Sister Evelyn French; R.S.N.G., Sister Annie Lobdell; L.S.N.G., Sister Gertrude Montgomery; R.S.V.G., Sister Edith Neil; L.S.V.G., Sister Corilla Wilder; Inside Guardian, Sister Bess Staggs; Outside Guardian, Sister Eva Hurd.

The Sawyerville Women's Institute held a picnic in Mrs. C. Wood's sugar bush for their regular monthly meeting, with six members present and two visitors from South Newport W.I. The meeting was opened in the usual way by Mrs. E. Hurd, First Vice-President; Roll call was answered by telling about "My worst cooking failure." Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Plans were made to get a luncheon square for the teachers' room at the High School, plans to be fully discussed at next meeting. A drive for new members was planned. A white elephant sale and tea is to be held in the Town Hall on September 7. All members are requested to be present. Mrs. Stainthorpe is to look after the white elephants. Mrs. L. H. Hunt, Mrs. G. Halliday and Mrs. L. MacKay were appointed to look after the tea committee. Later a lovely picnic lunch was enjoyed by three present. The meeting was then closed by repeating the Club Women's Creed.

NEVER TOO LATE TO INSULATE

Most of us like to keep refreshingly cool in summer—comfortably warm in winter. That's why so many owners, today, are Temperature Conditioning their homes with PALCO WOOL insulation. Regardless of weather, hot or cold—or the age of your home, whether it's young or old—it's not too late to insulate.

FROST VILLAGE

Mr. Armand Morin took his ten-year-old son to a hospital in Sherbrooke, as he was cut badly when he fell from a load of hay that tipped over on to a barbed wire fence.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson and two children, of Buckingham, were week-end guests of Mr. Albert Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Jones.

Mrs. William Bourgard, who has been at the home of Mr. Marcus Jones for several weeks, is the guest of Mrs. Robert McCutcheon, North Shedden.

Mrs. Joseph Luce is confined to her bed by illness.

OBITUARIES

MRS. GEORGE BURNETT,
FARNHAM.

Farnham, Aug. 19.—Mrs. George Burnett passed away suddenly in the Homeopathic Hospital, Montreal, on August 4, at the age of twenty-three years. The funeral was held at Grace United Church, Farnham, on Monday, July 7, at 3.30 p.m. Rev. W. R. LeGrow conducted the service, assisted by Rev. R. G. Asch.

The bearers were Sgt. Walter
Scott, Sgt. Joseph Clark, Messrs.
Robert Ferris, James Leslie, Maurice Monahan and E. Z. Thompson.
Interment took place at Fernwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Burnett was formerly Miss Ruth Ardis Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David O. Taylor, of Farnham, and leaves besides her parents, her husband, Staff-Sgt. George David Dorward Burnett, and infant son, David; five sisters, Marion, Mrs. Walter McGibbon, of Rothesay, N.B., Muriel, Mrs. Maurice Monahan, of Montreal, Helene, Mrs.
E. Z. Thompson, of Farnham, Rose,
Mrs. A. Reid, of New York, and Miss Zila Taylor, of Farnham; four brothers, Malcolm, of West Boy-ston, Mass., Lawrence, of Gardner, Mass., and A.C. Captain J. R. Taylor, and Lieut. M. Taylor, Overseas.

Mrs. Burnett had spent her life in Farnham with her parents, and leaves besides her husband, son and relatives, a large circle of friends, who deeply mourn her early passing.
Much sympathy is extended to her husband, who was seriously wounded in the explosion of a shell at Mount Bruno Military Camp on July 6, and is still a patient in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

Relatives from out-of-town who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Taylor, of West Boy-ston, Mass., Mrs. W. McGibbon, of Rothesay, N.B., Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Monahan, of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. G. Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. William Adam, of Greenfield Park, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cockman and Mr. G.
Storey, of Montreal, Colonel Howard, Captain Dewitt and other officers of A-12, Farnham Training Centre, Mr. Reid and Mr. Laurence
Taylor were unable to be present.

The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful, silent tokens of the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The flowers included a beautiful spray from the office staff of Collins and Allman Co., Ltd., where Mrs. Burnett was employed for some time.

"Cobra Woman" Stars Maria Montez And
Jon Hall - - Opens Tomorrow At Granada

Jon Hall and Maria Montez in "Cobra Woman," which begins at the Granada Theatre tomorrow.

Maria Montez plays the first dual role of her career in Universal's
Technicolor production of "Cobra Woman," in which she is co-starred with Jon Hall and Sabu, and which opens tomorrow at the Granada.

Miss Montez divides herself into identical twins, a neat trick done with camera effects. Physically, the sisters are more alike than two peas in a pod, but psychologically, they are as different as night and day.
One sister is kind and lovable. The other is scheming and cruel.

The picture was directed by Robert Siodmak who hitherto has been identified primarily with "horror" pictures. The picture was produced by George Wagner, another exponent of the "horror" type of picture, but who has graduated to the more important picture made by Universal. One of Wagner's recent productions was "Phantom of the Opera."

The background of "Cobra Woman" is on a mythical island somewhere in the South Seas where the natives worship King Cobra.

The story is the conflict engendered when the good sister attempts to wrest control of Cobra Island from her wicked twin.

Jon Hall is in love with the good sister, but goes through a trying experience when the bad sister falls in love with him, and tries to pass herself as the good sister, who has been kidnapped.

Lon Chaney plays the role of a deaf mute giant, while Sabu is Jon Hall's faithful friend. One of the most active members of the cast is Jo Jo, the chimpanzee, who is owned by Sabu. Jo Jo himself turns out to be a hero when he aids Hall and Sabu to escape from the hands of the wicked sister's henchmen.
