HOLLANDERS WORK FOR RED CROSS

Mrs. Luden Secures Aid of Sixty-five Dutch Women

Despite the very small number of Hollanders living in Montreal active Mrs. G. P. Luden, wife of the Netherlands Consul General, has been able to obtain the co-operation of 65 Dutch women for her work at the Netherlands Branch of the Canadian Red Cross.

Dr. Luden's home is on Summit Circle.

Lately the Hollanders have been working at top speed in their spacious room at 1244 St. Catherine street west, preparing for shipment of Christmas presents for the seamen of the Netherlands Merchant Navy, those men who face their dangerous job courageously and who leave home, wife and children behind in enemy territory three years ago. Men who, besides the dangers to be encountered on the high seas, are burdened with worries concerning their families.

The Dutch women of Montreal do their utmost to make a second home for these men.

At the Netherlands Room in the Allied Merchant Seamen's Club will be found a real Dutch atmosphere, where tea and coffee are served and socks and clothes are neatly mended.

The Christmas presents are wrapped and packed in such a way that they might have come straight from home.

Each blue ditty bag contains a woolen sweater, socks, or other hand-knitted article, and a box containing home-made "speculaas" a special Dutch almond-cookie. In addition, there are all kinds of useful presents, things a sailor is not likely to buy but would take along on a trip upon leaving home. This year only a few of the cherished fur vests could be added because practically no fur coats were delivered to the Netherlands Branch of the Red Cross.

Besides the Christmas presents, all year round sailors have been tormented are supplied with new clothes. And knitted articles are supplied to each Dutch ship which calls at Montreal, Halifax or St. John.

In this work H.R.H. Princess Juliana takes a very active part. She knits sweaters and socks and every year she has a special Christmas wish printed and sent to all Netherlands seamen and soldiers.

The Netherlands Relief Fund is hopeful that contributions will be continued in order that it may carry on its financing of the useful work of the Dutch women in Montreal.

The churches of the south western area of Westmount, including Redeemer, Lutheran, the Church of the Advent, Anglican, Calvary United, Westminster-Central United and St. Stephen's Anglican, will all be associated in the special mission.

Rabbi Stern Praises The Yuletide Spirit

Rabbi Harry J. Stern in the course of a sermon at Temple Emanu-El Friday evening on the subject of "Jewish Christian Goodwill," said that without following the theology of Christmas, the Jewish community finds it most heartening and religious to enter into the spirit of goodwill which marks this season of Christmas.

In a world broken by hate, strife and war, he said, the message of peace and goodwill became all the more essential. Judaism and Christianity have it as their mission to convey to all men that upon the concepts of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man civilization and civilized society depend.

"For Judaism and Christianity alike," he said, "a victory for the Axis would mean the loss of all that dignifies human existence and the destruction of man's hope to build God's kingdom on earth."

Grosvenor Avenue Woman Is Injured When Hit By Car

Miss Esther Pascoe, Well-known Teacher, Suffers Slight Hurts

Miss Esther Pascoe of Grosvenor avenue, the well-known kindergarten teacher, was hit and slightly injured on Sunday night at Circle road and Queen Mary by a car driven by H. H. Warren of 4546 Marcell avenue.

Miss Pascoe was returning after spending Christmas with friends and was proceeding up Queen Mary road carrying a suitcase and a parcel when she was hit by the car which skidded on the slippery surface of the road. Mr. Warren immediately stopped and helped her into the car to take her home.

Although suffering from the effects of the accident this morning Miss Pascoe did not require hospital treatment.

Dr. A. L. Walsh Sends Letter To Mackay School Pupils

A splendid New Year letter from Dr. A. L. Walsh to parents and children connected with Mackay School is one of the principal features of the December issue of the Mackay Bulletin which is now in the hands of supporters and friends of the institution.

Dr. Walsh's home is at 777 Upper Belmont avenue.

Dr. Walsh, who is vice-president of the Mackay Institution and chairman of the educational committee, is dean of the faculty of dentistry at McGill University and president of the Canadian Dental Association.

Dr. Walsh's letter follows:

This is the time of the year when New Year resolutions are being made. The two things in this life that are conducive to happiness and better understanding—are Love and Friendship. Love is our highest word and the synonym of God. It usually finds expression in kindly acts. The school boy may tease the girl around the schoolhouse door, but when he meets a girl arranging her satchel he will hold her books wishing to assist her. If mother is returning from shopping, the boy with true love in his heart, will always take over the carrying of the parcels. In these days of awful war love of one's country is being expressed by doing something every day to help in the war effort, and many of our young men are offering their lives because they love their country and everything for which it stands. I wonder how the girls and boys of Mackay Institute are showing their teachers that they love them for the wonderful service they are rendering in training educationally and vocationally.

I wish for you all, lots of happiness and good health, more friends and no enemies, more love in your hearts for the finer things of life and for those nearest and dearest to you.

St. Andrew's Pays Tribute To Troops

Church to Mark National Day of Prayer

St. Andrew's congregation will pay tribute to the men and women of the congregation on active service at the service next Sunday morning. The entire service will be in observance of the National Day of Prayer in which the churches will render thanks to Almighty God for the victories and deliverances of the past year as well as a re-dedication of all their powers and resources until the day of final victory.

Over two hundred young men and young women of the congregation are enlisted in active service, and their names are inscribed on the Honor Roll. Seven of these have made the supreme sacrifice. Eric McMurtry, Ian O'Hara, Howard Hutchison, Beverly McIntyre, Kenneth Pyper, Wade Tripp and Larry Rutherford. Another, Reginald Miller, has recently been reported missing and presumed killed while manning a single-fighter plane which collided over North Africa. Several others have been captured and are prisoners of war.

In his address Sunday morning, Rev. Dr. Kerr will not only pay tribute to the men and women in His Majesty's service, but will also point to the marvellous ways in which Providence safeguarded us in our days of extreme peril and unpreparedness, until this hour when the tide of battle has definitely turned in our favor, and when our statesmen are confidently predicting the hour of victory, perhaps earlier than we had dared to hope.

Such a service is designed not only to render thanks for past

Christmas Trees Fewer In Number

War Conditions Reflected In West End

Christmas trees outside homes in the West End were definitely fewer in number, a trip around Westmount, N.D.G., Hampstead and Montreal West on Christmas Eve disclosed.

In many homes the gaily decorated trees with their parti-colored lights were absent for the first time in many years. In a large number of such homes the youngsters for whose delectation the trees were set up in former years are now absent on service on land, sea and air—which is another item in the lengthy score piling up against Adolf, Benito and Hirohito.

The Christmas spirit was not altogether missing, however, from the exterior of homes. Holly wreaths and good luck charms were in evidence, testifying to a desire to maintain the Christmas atmosphere even if modified by war conditions.

Biographical Sermons to Be Given by Dr. Goth

Dr. Goth begins on Sunday evening a series of biographical sermons which have already attracted wide interest. The sermons will turn upon the central characteristics of a leading character. These characteristics will be analyzed from a Christian standard. The following sermons are to be included in the series:

Jan. 3. Churchill — The Happy Warrior;
 Jan. 10. Hitler — The Devil's Disciple;
 Jan. 17. Roosevelt — Destiny Called Him;
 Jan. 24. Stalin — The Man Nobody Knows;
 Jan. 31. Mussolini — Sawdust Caesar;
 Feb. 7. Lincoln — Master of Men;
 Feb. 14. Christ — The Man of Hour.

The morning service on January 3 will be dedicated to the New Year. The churches of Westmount will hold a united meeting on Wednesday, January 6th, in Melville Presbyterian Church. Mr. Goth will bring the message.

West End Demand For Garage Space Ahead Of Supply

Closing Down of Many Commercial Establishments Aggravates Shortage

The hurry-scurry search by local motorists during the pre-Christmas cold spell shows that garage space is at a premium in this district. Car owners at their wits' end seek garages not necessarily next door but even within a mile of their home.

With temperatures dropping to the lowest record in ten years many motorists found that even radiators well-filled with antifreeze did not measure up to the test imposed on them.

Tire thieves, who have been known to strip a car of all its wheels even while it was parked alongside the owner's dwelling have added a new incentive to the desire to house the automobile overnight instead of leaving it on the driveway or street.

Motorists with garages attached to their houses have in many cases solved the tire and gasoline problem simply by putting the car up for the winter in dead storage.

Others who in former winters rented garage space find difficulty in resorting to that expedient this year. Many of the larger garages which formerly met the demand here are now diverted to other purposes. Of the garages in central N.D.G. near the C.P.R. track, Beaconsfield avenue garage first turned over to the storage of sugar, is now having its spare accommodation turned over to metal work. Hingston avenue garage is now a tinsmith's plant on war work. Hampton avenue garage is now taken over by the Monitor plant, Wilson avenue garage is in use by the R.C.A.F., Oxford avenue garage by a private cartage company. Farther afield, Walkley avenue garage is now used by a removal company. To the east Cliffside Garage which once housed many cars, is now occupied by the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, and the Arena Garage is in use by a tool-making company.

In other winters, also, hundreds of cars from the West End were stored in garages in central Montreal which are no longer available.

Under the circumstances the patriotic duty for citizens with garage space available is to offer it where it is required. Every owner of an unoccupied garage should make the fact known at the earliest possible moment.

Accident Victims Are Recovering

Condition of Miss Edith Chapman, 39, of 5437 Trans Island Avenue, of Mrs. N. M. Carpenter, 28, of 5725 Decarie Boulevard, and of Mrs. G. Geraghty, 45, of 417 Claremont Avenue, was reported improved this morning after hospital treatment for injuries in an accident on Friday afternoon, when a truck skidded into a Montreal Tramways automobile on University Avenue near Pine Avenue.

In all, five persons were injured including the driver of the truck. None of the injuries was serious.

Committee on Crippled Children Describes Work

Tag Day Success Due to the Ladies

The reading of the Semi-Annual Report of the Westmount Rotary Club by Chester W. McBride, vice-president, at its meeting in Victoria Hall Wednesday night very well have been the recital of the parables of a multitude of "Good Samaritans."

In the story of the Crippled Children's Committee, of which Herbert Welham is the chairman, vice-president McBride said that Mr. Welham has from the beginning of this year exhibited a great and personal interest in the activities of the two organizations that Rotary has assisted in the past, namely, the School for Crippled Children and also the Province of Quebec Association for Crippled Children.

One of the first activities of this committee, continued Mr. McBride, was the Forget-me-not tag day collection in Westmount. One hundred and sixty-six boxes were sent out and a total of $601.98 was brought in as the result.

Much of the success of the tag day, Mr. McBride said, was due to the ladies of Rotary under the leadership of Mrs. C. T. Medlar. The annual Christmas party for crippled children at the Mount Royal Hotel Wednesday afternoon was put on under the direction of Herbert Welham and his crippled children's committee at the request of William Allen, president of the Province of Quebec Society for Crippled Children.

The present enrolment at the School for Crippled Children is now 170 pupils of whom 78 are Protestant, 78 Catholic, and 14 Hebrew.

Mr. McBride said that the committee had made arrangements to supply the school with a moving picture for the next six months.

Mr. McBride then read the Boys' Work Committee report that had been submitted by its chairman, P. G. Delgado. This report included an account of a visit by fifteen members of Rotary to Veredale Camp at Lac Achigan for the sports day. Then there was a visit from Westmount High School of ten Air Cadets who attended the luncheon at which Flight Sergeant Howard Henry told the members of the club some of his experiences while engaged in bombing expeditions over Germany.

Not the least feature of the interesting report is the section devoted to the work of the War Services Committee of which the chairman is Archie W. Callard.

In his report which was read by Vice-President McBride the chairman of the War Services Committee said that there is no limit to the things that Rotary can do for the services. And what the club does should be done thoroughly well and within the limits of the financial support that can be obtained both from the club and elsewhere.

Vice-President McBride read also reports from the public relations committee, the community service, program, inter-city club, attendance, fellowship, and classification and surveys committees.

The feature of the musical portion of the program was the singing of "Minuit Chretien" by

NEW YEAR'S EVE

GETTING READY. Does it take all day for you to get started? ... I thought men could shave in five minutes ... Haven't you a decent tie to wear with that suit? ... I'd think you'd get tired wearing the same thing every day ... You look sick in gray ... You needn't be discourteous ... Other men can wear their clothes without them looking like pyjamas ...

AT THE PARTY. Why can't you smoke a cigar that has a nice smell? ... Those shoes would look like new if you'd have them shined once in a while ... Why don't you fix your garters so they'll hold up your socks? ... You don't have to scrape your plate to prove that you enjoyed your dinner ... Say something once in a while to show you're enjoying yourself ... I don't understand why you can't be pleasant to my brother ... Don't get insulting ... You needn't drink that like water ... If you're so tired you want to go to sleep you should have stayed home ...

AFTER THE PARTY. Are you going to a fire? ... You could save tires if you'd slow down ... Why must you disagree with everybody who expresses an opinion on politics ... That hat was all right when you bought it but it looks awful now ... Don't you ever clean your pipe? ... This house is beastly cold ... I'll bet you forgot to look at the fire before we went out ...

NEW YEAR'S WEEK-END

SOME PEOPLE SEEM to have marvellous holiday week-ends but mine are usually bad, writes William Feather. I pack my best sports clothes and lounging robe, but find on arrival that I should have brought overalls, a broom, dustcloth, and rat-trap, the lodge having been uninhabited for some months. I contemplate sleeping from eleven till noon, but find there is no quiet before midnight nor after seven. I anticipate glorious examples of exotic femininity, but encounter severe ladies who glare crossly when I attempt a feeble wise-crack. I look for servants at my elbow, but find a kitchen always piled with dirty dishes and an unmade bed awaiting me at night. I expect to return home refreshed, but am near death from weariness.

YEAR OF PROMISE

AS WE ENTER UPON the New Year, we can do so with the gratifying reflection that we have at last ceased losing the war and are actually beginning to win it. The Russians are well on the way to regaining all they lost, and more, during the long summer campaign; we seem to have gained control of the Mediterranean; the Americans have stopped the Japs in the Pacific; China still holds; and we are advancing in Burma. It is possible that we might be faced, within a few months, with a blitz peace—the complete demoralization and collapse of our enemies. There will be a period of terrible retribution as the oppressed peoples of Europe turn on their former conquerors—and then what? It would be well, it seems, to start now to plan on a big scale for the post-war period. Let us hope that when that time arrives we shall see realized the "peace on earth, good will toward men" that the angels foretold over nineteen centuries ago, but which the peoples of the world have never been able to put into practice. When this war is over we shall be standing at the door of a new world, grateful to those who have won it for us with their sweat and blood. Will we make the most of it.

EMPLOYMENT LESSON

THERE WAS A TIME in Canada, and it is of distinctly recent memory, when the job seeker was caught between the closing pincers of inexperience and over-age. If more than 40 he was regarded as a fossil, and had to join a club of energetic plus-40 gentlemen to disprove he was doddering. If in his twenties and hadn't work-experience he was looked upon with objective compassion as a unit in the grave national youth problem.

It is alarming in retrospect, to consider how swiftly this view of a worker's diminishing span of usefulness took hold. Industry absolved itself of responsibility to give training and opportunity to youth; various liability and compensation insurance rates and retirement plans came to weigh against the older man. Toward the end, the vague outlines began to emerge of a queer socialist State in which revenues taken from industry, and from workers in their narrowing golden years, would support youth through a long training period, and take care of age with ham and eggs.

How quickly has this false picture evanesced? Youth is the darling of the training programs supported by industry. Ambition is nurtured in up-grading policies. Age limits are unheard of, the only question is "What can you do?"

And how emphatically these erstwhile pariahs are showing their previous treatment was undeserved. Youth is fighting the war; oldsters are proving that carefulness, steadiness, application are the important items in production not the transitory factor of age.

Why do we point out this that is obvious enough? Simply because of the lesson it contains. There may come another time when employment will not be at full peak. The temptation may arise once more to fetter job-seekers with the shibboleth of age.

Before industry takes the easy way, and before the people accept it, let it be recalled how the present experience disclosed its fallacy. Let it also be remembered that dodging the responsibility to choose men by capability and merit, and avoiding the duty to provide training and opportunity at the highest possible level, through extension of co-operative effort by industry and people, carries with it the implication of some depressing form of socialization.

STOP ME If—

The Barrymore Bite

The late John Barrymore was merciless with young actresses who overacted their roles. Once, in the movies, he was playing a poignant scene with an ingenuite fresh out of dramatic school. The young actress, untrained in the subtleties, kept waving her arms to express her emotions. Barrymore watched her gesticulations with extreme distaste. Then, staring down his nose at her, he felly inquired: "Must you swim?"—Milwaukee Journal.

Defrosted

The following incident is reported to have occurred at one of the Kaiser shipyards on the West Coast.

Two Negro workers, fond of relaxation, were surprised to find themselves dismissed from the shipyard.

"Ah thought we were frozen on this heah job," grumbled one as they reluctantly walked toward the gate.

"Well, we sure are defrosted now," answered the other gloomily.

"What are you thinking about?"

"Nothing."

"Sure you're not thinking about me?"

"No, I was thinking about another nothing entirely."

Little Johnny says it's no wonder there's so much talk of unrest in India if the Indians all sleep on fakir beds studded with sharp pointed nails.

A doctor and a lawyer were found to be in a bitter dispute. The doctor was heard to say, "A little bird told me what kind of lawyer you are—'Cheep cheep'."

To which the lawyer retorted, "Well, a little duck told me what kind of a doctor you are."

Mrs. Jones: Clara doesn't know where her baby gets his bad temper from.

Mr. Jones: That's strange. Most young mothers can place that sort of responsibility in a jiffy.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Outspoken U.S.A. newspapers say that Wendell Willkie's "report to the nation" has been received with mixed feelings by both parties and by most of the newspapers. Democratic papers resent his criticisms of the administration. Moreover such papers wish their party to be thought of as the party of liberal ideas. Republican papers do not wish to see Mr. Willkie built up as a 1944 candidate and their party managers wish to have a "safer" man; Governor Dewey would be their choice. William Allen White, often referred to as America's greatest newspaper editor, wrote: "When Willkie went off the air, his exit marked the appearance of a new Class. A leader in American politics, challenging the President on the left and defying his own right-wing party reactionary congressional leadership. Willkie's utterance was more than a speech. It was an event, it marked the entrance of a leader in world politics—as Lincoln appeared in full stature at Cooper Union."

When I spoke at Cooper Union some years ago the chairman asked me to stand within a circle he had drawn with chalk, saying: "That is where our great Lincoln stood when he gave his famous Cooper Union speech."

It is being suggested by medical men in the U.S.A. that high school graduates go directly to medical school without college training because of the lowering of the draft age to 18 and demands for medical personnel by the armed forces. Civilians in the U. S. are served by 1.3 physicians to every 1000 persons. In the armed services the requirement is 6.7 for each 1000 men. To provide that number for a force of 10,000,000 would take every able-bodied doctor in the U.S. under 50 years of age.

United Grain Growers Limited earned a net profit for their fiscal year of $222,810. 300 delegates attended their annual meeting at Calgary.

British Co-op membership expands to 8-1/2 millions, despite wartime restrictions and difficulties. This is a gain of 56,000 new members during the past year. Retail trade reached the large figure of $302,000,000, an increase of $3,000,000 over the business done the previous year.

Recently and for the first time in history, the moderator of the CALVARY CHURCH NOTES

The minister and officers of Calvary United Church wish for all readers of this paper a Very Happy and Prosperous New Year. May it bring peace and true progress to all mankind. We can all help to bring these results by being more truly Christian than ever before. One part of that process of making life more truly Christian will be the local support of the church by our attendance at the services of worship, by sharing in personal ministry and by dedicating our gifts to God's service.

A watchnight service will be held in Calvary on Thursday night at 11 o'clock. Why not spend the last hour of the year in worship and in intercession for peace, and for the highest welfare of our gallant sons and daughters on active service. Capt. Jones will conduct the service and preach the sermon.

On Sunday, January 3rd, the Church School will meet in all departments at 10 a.m. Every officer and scholar should start the year aright by attending.

At 11 a.m. Dr. Jones will preach on the theme: A Promise for every day of this New Year. The preaching will be followed by the observance of the Lord's Supper and reception of new members.

At 7.30 p.m. Dr. Jones will preach on the subject: Crusading with Christ in this Great Year. How shall we face it? Who will respond to Christ's call.

Dr. Kerr's topic will be "The Flying Years." Following the evening service there will be a special meeting of the Alpha Omega Society when an appropriate New Year's program will be enjoyed.

ST. ANDREW'S (Cote St. Antoine Rd., near Argyle Ave.)

Rev. Ewart G. Hinds, Ph.D., will be the preacher at both services on the coming Sunday. A VERSE FOR TODAY . . . Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.—Heb. 4: 16.

More than 7,700,000 householders in the U.S.A. heat their homes with wood.

Church of Scotland paid an official visit to the Royal Navy. He was surprised to find how many Scotsmen were engaged not only in the fighting craft but in the less spectacular but no less dangerous work of mine-sweeping. All arrangements were made by the Admiralty. For one railway journey a place had been kept for him in the train, and he was amused to find printed on the large ticket reserving the seat, "For the Archbishop of Scotland."

He kept the ticket and a few days later he showed it to the Archbishop of Canterbury who joined him in a good laugh over the incident.

WEDDINGS
Ross-Thaw
The marriage of Christine Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David V. Thaw of North Lima, Ohio, to Dr. William Bruce Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Ross, jr., of Westmount, took place on Saturday afternoon, at two-thirty o'clock, in Olivet Evangelical and Reformed Church, North Lima, the Reverend L. J. Rohrbaugh officiating. Four members of the Youngstown Symphony Orchestra played the wedding music. The church was decorated with ferns and chrysanthemums shading from white to yellow and brown.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a floor-length gown of ivory moire tulle, having a fitted bodice with shirred shoulders and a rounded neckline and leg-o-mutton sleeves, and a full skirt falling into a short train. She wore a Juliet cap of platted moire, and carried a bouquet of vari-colored chrysanthemums in graduating sizes.

Mrs. N. B. Griner, of Circleville, Ohio, as matron of honor and her sister's only attendant, was in a floor-length frock of embroidered blue net with a very full chiffon skirt and she wore a matching hat and a corsage bouquet of sweet peas.

CHRISTMAS BOXES SENT BY CLUB TO "ADOPTED" SAILORS

Several members of the board of the Maritime Women's Club of Montreal, Inc., met recently at the home of Mrs. W. F. Worfolk to pack the Christmas boxes being sent to the boys of H.M.S. Magdalen, who have been "adopted" by the Club.

Each box (weighing 8 pounds) contained, in addition to useful woollen articles, individual packages of many varieties of foods and sweets, as well as 100 cigarettes for each man. Each article was wrapped separately in attractive Christmas gift paper.

As this ship is the club's responsibility for the duration, (no other organization having interested itself in it) they would be glad if any Maritimer or friend would assist by donating sweaters, sea-boots, socks, body bands, gloves or other knitted articles, if it is stated. Parcels or money may be sent to Mrs. W. F. Worfolk, 5555 Cote St., Antoine Road, Montreal, Telephone: DExter 9164, evenings.

A request has been received for three radios for the ship's mess. The club have already donated one, and are hoping that through the generosity of friends they may obtain the other two.

A special vote of thanks was given Miss Marion McGregor, chairman of the Stanley Presbyterian group of knitters, for a box of knitted articles.

SCHOOL WILL RE-OPEN

Hilda Galt, talented young local dance teacher, who has announced the opening of her Dance School for the mid-season on January 4th, 1943.

Many kitchens in Canada are equipped with gas ranges. As with many other things the kitchen is the spot in the house where conservation and salvage can be carried out successfully.

The conservation of foods, the salvaging of metals, and now the saving of gas for more important war jobs, is urged in south-western Ontario.

Consumer Information Service gives some pointers on keeping the gas bill down to a minimum: Don't light burners until the food is ready to be placed on the stove. Use a low heat whenever possible. If the burners on the stove are different sizes, small sauce or frying pans require a small size burner. If the burner is larger than the pan, the heat around the edges is wasted.

Plan Carefully
Several foods can be successfully cooked in the oven if careful planning is exercised.

Keep the burners clean by wiping them frequently with a piece of paper or a cloth. From time to time they should be washed with soap or baking soda and water, particularly if food has boiled over. Never use lye on gas stoves.

Make certain that the burner flame is a clear blue at all times. If it is not, more than likely, the burners need a good clean-up, or perhaps they are adjusted improperly and too much air is entering with the gas. If the flame is still not a clear blue after the burner is cleaned, the gas company should be called to make necessary adjustments.

Why Not Fight It Out?

Mary Elizabeth Bouck

Sometimes people seeing us together and observing our differences, were surprised that we were kept from quarrelling. I remember once when we were on our vacation, a woman who was boarding at the same house said to my mother, "I don't see how you keep those children from fighting. My two are at it all the time." And she kept one on the front porch and the other on the back most of the time she was there.

I know two little girls whose constant bickering was becoming a source of considerable anxiety to their parents. Then somebody suggested, "Get them to doing little things for each other." Their mother seized the idea gladly and it has worked. All the petty jealousy and envy is being forgotten and they are working together beautifully.

There are better ways for children to settle their difficulties than by fighting. Any fight, except it be for self-preservation or for a purely unselfish purpose places a wrong valuation on might; and might, like all physical forces, has eventually to yield to the higher moral law.

BEADED EPAULETS WORN BY BLONDE SONGSTRESS

Betty Rhodes, lovely blonde songstress featured in Paramount's "Star-Spangled Rhythm" has something new in glamour dresses for formal occasions.

The slim long-sleeved bodice is in nude chiffon over a cocoa-brown slip and studded with tiny nude-bead embroidery. Heavy nude-bead fringe forms epaulets which give a flattering broad-shouldered effect and balance with the full nude souffle skirt.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Melville Presbyterian Church will be held at 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday, January 5, 1943, in the church hall, Melville avenue. The election of officers will be held.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the A.O.H., Division No. 5, held their closing meeting of the season recently, in the Knights of Columbus Hall. There was a large attendance and after transacting the business of the evening, the election of officers took place.

Mrs. Mary Connolly was re-elected president and the following were returned to office: Mrs. K. Rody, treasurer; Miss M. Harold, financial secretary; Mrs. E. White, mistress-at-arms; Miss G. Bridges, sentinel; and Mrs. A. Dolan, historian.

Ryan in Boston Herald: Perhaps that Brooklyn school which teaches its patrons how to walk without wearing down their shoe soles in the wrong places also has a short course on how to tiptoe to conserve rubber.

TEARS IN WALLPAPER CAN BE REPAIRED BY USING PASTE

Small tears in wallpaper can be neatly repaired by applying paste to the torn edges with a small paint brush. It should be pressed into place with a clean white blotter, rubbing the blotter until the paper grips. Seams that have become loose can be pasted back in the same way.

Consumer Information Service says: to mend a hole in the wallpaper, tear a piece left over from the original supply, making a patch. Torn edges are thinner than cut ones, make a neater job and are easier to work with. Apply paste to patch, place over the damaged area, and hold blotting paper over the patch, rubbing it until dry.

When paper has faded and repairs have to be made, a new piece can be faded to the necessary degree by tacking a piece on fibre board with thumb tacks and placing it in a room that gets strong sunlight. Bubbles in wallpaper can be remedied by piercing with large needle with paste applied to the point.

Mrs. Mary Connolly was re-elected president and the following were returned to office: Mrs. K. Rody, treasurer; Miss M. Harold, financial secretary; Mrs. E. White, mistress-at-arms; Miss G. Bridges, sentinel; and Mrs. A. Dolan, historian.

Mrs. E. Whorson was elected recording secretary to take the place of Miss A. Quinn, and Mrs. M. Stanley replaced Mrs. Callaghan as chairlady of the standing committee with Miss M. Huston and Mrs. W. Butler as her assistants.

Ryan in Boston Herald: Perhaps that Brooklyn school which teaches its patrons how to walk without wearing down their shoe soles in the wrong places also has a short course on how to tiptoe to conserve rubber.

Small tears in wallpaper can be neatly repaired by applying paste to the torn edges with a small paint brush. It should be pressed into place with a clean white blotter, rubbing the blotter until the paper grips. Seams that have become loose can be pasted back in the same way.

Consumer Information Service says: to mend a hole in the wallpaper, tear a piece left over from the original supply, making a patch. Torn edges are thinner than cut ones, make a neater job and are easier to work with. Apply paste to patch, place over the damaged area, and hold blotting paper over the patch, rubbing it until dry.

When paper has faded and repairs have to be made, a new piece can be faded to the necessary degree by tacking a piece on fibre board with thumb tacks and placing it in a room that gets strong sunlight. Bubbles in wallpaper can be remedied by piercing with large needle with paste applied to the point.

DON'T SOFTEN NAILS BEFORE MANICURING IF YOU'RE RUSHED

Here are four valuable tips to speed up your home manicure to professional standards, or better. First, if you're rushed, don't soak your hands in water before you shape your nails. A softened nail takes longer and is more difficult to shape. Begin by moistening a bit of cotton in oily remover. Hold it against the nail for a second, then press down toward the tip, removing as much polish as possible at one swoop. Be careful not to brush it against the base and the sides, and you'll save time cleaning up afterward. Now, shape your nails with emery board or file—some experts never use metal on the theory that it causes nails to chip.

Points are "out," which is nice from the time-saving angle, too, since it takes longer to match them up. Leave the "alls wide at the sides, for support as well as looks, and taper the edge into a conservative oval.

Don't try to save time by nipping at your cuticle—aside from its bad effect on the appearance of the nail, the practice will cost you time in the end. If you push your cuticle back whenever you dry your hands and use cuticle oil regularly and generously your cuticle shouldn't need cutting.

Last, in applying polish steer clear of the cuticle and edges to save time cleaning them off afterward. If necessary, steady your hands against the table edge; this saves time, too, and makes for a smoother coat. Two coats lock better than one and last longer. Clean off the tips with your thumb—towels smear and sometimes scatter lint on the

DOLLS ARE WON

The Overseas Minesweepers Fund, Bank of Montreal, Unit No. 1, announces that the doll and outfit donated by Mrs. F. J. Nicol, of Ottawa, was drawn for and was won by Mrs. R. H. Teuscher, 4855 Lacombe avenue. The second doll was also drawn for and was won by Miss Jessie Foster, Bank of Montreal.

"Schools everywhere could well afford to eliminate, if necessary, other less essential departments in the school system in favor of the kindergarten. No community of high standing will long endure without this department in its schools." — Edgar S. Stover, Superintendent of Schools, Bloomfield, N.J.
