Westmount Says "Wait-Walk" Failure

City Decides To Withdraw Traffic Item

After two and a half years of experimenting, Westmount city officials today were ready to admit failure in their attempt to introduce a 'wait-walk' form of traffic signal at Victoria avenue and Sherbrooke street.

Partially the signal was operated by the pedestrian and perhaps that is where the attempt failed to find favor.

Today Westmount's city manager Tom Hughes officially stated he was removing the "wait-walk" apparatus "pending further study of pedestrian traffic signals."

When the system was first introduced, it was hoped Mr. Hughes told The Examiner, that it would be of benefit to all pedestrians using the intersection. However, such results have not been achieved.

It has been found, by careful check, that most pedestrians do not heed the signals and that others find them confusing, as the same regulations do not cover other intersections in Westmount or neighbouring municipalities.

With the removal of the special apparatus pedestrians will cross the Victoria-Sherbrooke intersection as they would at any other with traffic lights — proceeding when faced with a green light and waiting at the curb when faced with the traditional danger signal red.

For their own safety they are reminded to always use the cross-walk.

Three Neurologists Speak Here Oct. 14

Dr. Roy L. Swank, A Young and Reuben Rabinovitch, well-known Montreal neurologists, will be present at the open meeting being held by unit No. 1 of the west end chapter of the multiple sclerosis society of Canada at Victoria Hall on Wednesday, Oct. 14 at 8:30 p.m. At this time the doctors will bring the audience up to date on the latest developments in M.S.

Multiple Sclerosis, formerly believed to be rare, is now recognized by leading authorities as the foremost neurological problem of our time. M. S. as it is often called, strikes at the central nervous system and cripples approximately 1 out of every 400 young adults in the productive years between 20 and 45.

Multiple Sclerosis is a chronic disease characterized by destruction of the myelin sheath which covers the nerve fibres and so acts as an insulation. This process of destruction, known as demyelination, alters or prevents the passage of nerve impulses to those parts of the body that are affected. The result is a defective performance of the normal functions such as walking, speaking, seeing, etc. That is why many Multiple Sclerosis patients can easily be mistaken by the casual observer for alcoholics. Some M. S. patients outwardly seem to be in excellent health, but this appearance of well-being may be hiding an insidious agent that is destroying

Former Army Mascot Offers Some Advice

Immigrants entering Canada should learn immediately of the many opportunities this country offers, Henri Bezinian told the weekly meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club Wednesday.

Courtesy in business dealings and an adherence to some of the old European customs will help immigrants to take advantage of these opportunities, the speaker, a top salesman in the insurance field, told the gathering in his talk on "Opportunities for an immigrant in Canada."

Mr. Bezinian traced his travels from the time he was a mascot for the American army in 1914 to the present date. Almost all of it has been spent on the North American continent, which makes him well-qualified for his topic.

After his acquaintanceship with the Americans, he decided he would come and visit the land he had heard so much about. Although lightly disillusioned when he found there were no ranches in Brooklyn contrary to his information, he stayed in the country and went to Washington where he joined the Ford Motor Company and learn the business completely.

AVM McEwan To Runnymede

A local resident will be among three Montreal airmen of the second world war who will form part of the group representing Canada at the unveiling of a memorial to the men of the Commonwealth air forces. Queen Elizabeth will preside Oct. 17 at Runnymede, England, where the memorial has been erected.

Air Vice Marshal C. M. McEwan, CB, MC, DFC, 490 Lansdowne avenue, veteran of two wars, will appear at the ceremonies along with Group Capt. George A. Roy, DFC, and Sqdn.-Ldr. Sydney S. Shulemson, DSO, DFC.

The memorial commemorates officers and men of the Commonwealth air forces who lost their lives during operations from bases in the United Kingdom and north-west Europe, and who have no known grave. Relatives of the airmen whose names appear have received invitations from the Canadian agency of the Imperial War Graves Commission to attend.

The Runnymede memorial is but one of three planned for the Commonwealth air forces. Those who died in service in the Mediterranean theatre will be commemorated by a memorial to be erected at El Alamein in conjunction with the memorials to the land forces.

For those who died in the far east and Pacific, a memorial will be erected at Singapore.

The memorials incorporate panels which bear the names of the men from the several nations of the Commonwealth — Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, all chiselled by hand in "books" of stone. The Runnymede contains some 20,000 names.

The location for the monument is excellent, overlooking the Thames river and close to the spot the Magna Carta was signed over 700 years ago. The actual position is on Cooper's Hill and is in the form of a cloister of Portland stone surmounted by a three-storied tower. From it can be seen Windsor Castle, Eton College, Runnymede and London airport. Wreaths are incorporated into the design of the memorial which was executed by Edward Maufe, RA.

The Canadian Legion, in cooperation with the RCAF Association and the IWGC will sponsor a pilgrimage to the unveiling ceremony. Those intending to go may travel either by air or by ship. However, neither of the organizations who have lent their names

Unity Boys Club Asks for Leaders

An appeal for volunteer leaders is being made by the Unity Boys Club of Westmount, now commencing another season. Situated at 1091 Greene avenue, the club is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Westmount and operated by the Montreal Boys' Association, a Red Feather service.

Its prime purpose is the guidance of boys and girls in health, mental and physical, vocational skills and social development. Since September, 1952, when the association assumed responsibility for operation of the program and maintenance of the building, nearly 1,000 children, between six and 16, have been provided with the opportunity to take part in a variety of interests.

Instructors are needed for leatherwork, woodwork, plastics, stamp collecting, model aircraft, sewing, dramatics, square dancing, basketball, hockey and wrestling.

Volunteers would receive an adult membership on a complimentary basis in return for a two-hour instruction period each week. In addition the volunteer must keep an accurate record of group attendance and show and interest in other activities of the club. They would also gain membership in the Parents and Leaders Club which holds meetings and social evenings each month.

Electric Industry Staging Exhibition
At Show Mart

The old proverb "unity is strength" has again proven its effectiveness in the industry of electricity. It is a well established fact with the forthcoming All-Electrical Show at the Show-Mart, where all types of electrical appliances and accessories will be displayed for the benefit of the consumer.

The industry again has given its entire support to the initiative, so much that already five of the most important associations have agreed to lend a hand. Mr. A. Asselin of the Quebec Radio Television Distributors Association, Mr. Lucien Tremblay of the Corporation master Electricians of the Province of Quebec, Mr. J. Trehaub of the Canadian Electronics Wholesalers Association, Mr. L. Cote of The Canadian Electrical Distributors Association and Mr. Jean Meunier of The Association of Electronic Specialists Province of Quebec Inc. are all organizations commissioned to help maintain the Electrical Industry at a high level.

Naturally the support obtained by the consumers is not to be set aside, but it is worthy of noting that organized groups such as the ones mentioned above have agreed to give their entire support to the success of the exhibition.

The Eastern Canada Exhibitions Inc. through the president, Emile St. Pierre, also announce that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, which usually maintains televised broadcasts between the hours of 5 and 11 p.m. every day, will for the duration of the week of Oct. 5th week, extend their operation for two hours in the afternoon for the benefit of visitors.

Purple and White Review

Once again a new school season is with us, and commencing next week the Purple and White Review will regularly appear. Gordon Wasserman will direct things, and anyone interested in doing some reporting should get in touch with him at WE. 9395.

Reporter Sue Christmas has already promised plenty of spicy doings for the premiere, and besides including all the happenings around Westmount High School there will be many of these scintillating comments that everyone loves so well.

H. J. Heinz II Lauds
Red Feather Effort

The words of another outstanding American have reached Montreal to encourage thousands of canvassers now in the throes of the city's biggest local welfare fund-raising job — the 1953 Red Feather Campaigning.

H. J. Heinz II, president of the Community Chests and Councils of America, also president of the food company that bears his name, has sent a personal message to Edward C. Wood, general chairman of Montreal's Red Feather drive, who is also president of the Imperial Tobacco Company of America. The two are friends from years back.

The Heinz message reads: "Dear Ed: Our two countries share many traditions of neighborliness and common purpose. One of the strongest of these is the tradition of serving and giving through our United Community Chests and Federations. This is the greatest single voluntary effort of its kind on both sides of the border. You and I have accepted a big responsibility but I think we have the assurance that millions of good citizens are solidly with us working to build better

LIBRARY CLOSURES FOR THANKSGIVING

The Mechanics Institute Library will close all day Saturday, October 10, and Monday, October 12, Thanksgiving Day, it is announced.

Fall Is The Time For Accidents!

Now is the time to check for death and accident hazards in the home, say officials of the All Canada Insurance Federation.

They report that the highest number of fires and accidents occur in the fall and winter months, causing hundreds of tragic deaths and injuries.

All Canada, which represents over 200 fire, automobile, and casualty insurance companies, made the following suggestions for home safety:

1. See that there are no piles of leaves and rubbish behind shrubbery, near house, or in eaves. Guard against flying sparks when burning leaves and rubbish.
2. Have electric wiring and equipment checked by experts.
3. Chimneys and flues should be cleaned at least once a year. Have experts check all heating equipment.
4. Store inflammable liquids in well marked safety cans.
5. Use metal containers for disposal of ashes from furnaces.
6. When storing summer clothes, remove matches from pockets.
7. Spark arresters for chimneys are advisable if roofs are shingled.
8. War trophies and firearms are dangerous. Make sure there is no danger of explosions or accidents.
9. Never leave garden tools and children's toys lying about grounds.

Dr. E. Dubeau, Local Resident, Buried Monday

Final tribute was paid Monday to Dr. Eudore Dubeau, former Montreal city alderman and founder of the faculty of dentistry at the University of Montreal. He died Sept. 25 at the age of 78 after a long illness.

His achievements won him honors from five governments. He was a Knight of the Legion of Honor, a Commander of the Portuguese Order of Christ, a Commander of the Order of St. Sava, Yugoslavia, and a Knight of the Italian Order of St. George. He was awarded the Coronation Medal by the late King George VI.

He was born May 16, 1875 in Quebec City, the son of E. J. and Camille (Lacasse) Dubeau. Dr. Dubeau attended St. Mary's Jesuit College in Montreal, where he received his B.Sc., and Bishop's University where he received a dental degree. He married Yvonne Leduc in 1896 and had one son, Jean.

He founded the faculty of dental surgery in the University of Montreal in 1903, and became its first dean and director of studies. He was also appointed professor of pathological and dental surgery at the same time.

Dr. Dubeau was president of the Canadian Dental Association from 1906 to 1908 and was the secretary of the Quebec College of Dental Surgeons from 1900 to 1923. He was a member of the administrative board of the University of Montreal and a vice-president of the International Dental Federation.

He represented the Maisonneuve ward for many years as a city alderman. He was also honorary consul for Portugal in Montreal.

He is survived by his second wife, the former Celine Tanguay, by his son, and by a sister, Mrs. Maurice Pelletier.

A funeral service was held at St. Leo's Church, and interment was at Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

A SPECTACULAR RELIGIOUS CEREMONY is being planned by members of the mass public rally committee of the archdiocesan Union of the Holy Name Society of Greater Montreal. They are shown above discussing plans for a giant public rally at the Forum on Sunday, October 4. Left to right are C. C. Liddiard, St. Ignatius Loyola Parish, H. F. McGlynn, St. Anthony's, W. J. Wilkinson, St. Rita's, H. J. Carter, St. Augustine's, and Vercelli Medalist, Michael Lawlor, St. Thomas More Parish.

Holy Name Societies Plan Mass Rally To Observe 'Rosary Sunday' At Forum

Members of the Holy Name Societies of local parishes will join in the mass rally to be held at the Forum on this coming Sunday, which has been designated as Rosary Sunday.

Thirty parish branches of the society are sponsoring the rally. Plans include a dramatization of the Life of Christ from the Annunciation to the Resurrection.

The Living Rosary will be formed by 60 young ladies of D'Arcy McGee High School and the St. Genesius Glee Club Choir will also take part.

The religious ceremony will include a colorful grand procession led by a cross bearer flanked by acolytes. Represented will be religious orders, diocesan clergy, and lay organizations, including the Knights of Malta in their colorful regalia, Knights of Columbus, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, St. Mary's Hospital nurses, and St. John Ambulance Association.

One of the largest altars ever assembled for a ceremony in Montreal will be used at the rally. High above it a blackout sign 40 feet by six feet will blaze the words "Hallowed Be Thy Name" in four-foot letters through use of special lighting effects.

During the Solemn Benediction at which Bishop Lawrence P. Whelan, auxiliary bishop of Montreal will officiate, 50 girls dressed in white gowns and carrying bouquets of fresh cut flowers will form an immense letter "M" in honour of the name of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Plans for the rally were made at a recent meeting at St. Michael's parish hall, with delegates from all 30 societies present. George Bolton, president of the Archdiocesan Union, addressed the 200 delegates.

"We find people of all religious beliefs being persecuted today by leaders of nations behind the Iron Curtain," he said. "None of this might be happening if all the people of these countries had fervently and courageously practised their religious teachings when they had the opportunity."

Those who were more fortunate to live in one of the nations of the Western World, he said, should show a greater interest in church activities. The successful outcome of the present conflict between the Communist and free nations of the world needed greater faith and homage to God.

At the meeting, in addition to the executive officers of the parish branches of the society, were Very Rev. James Dwyer, pastor of St. Ann's Church; Rev. J. P. Monaghan, S. J., pastor of St. Ignatius Loyola; Rev. J. W. Caron, M. S.C., pastor of Our Lady of Sacred Heart; Rev. William Sullivan, pastor St. Michael's; Rev. Charles Ryan, St. Patrick's Mission, Granby; Rev. John Ryan, St. Michael's, and Rev. George Robitaille, St. Rocks, curates, and Rev. John Purcell, pastor of St. John Fisher Church, Valois, spiritual director of the union.

The next quarterly meeting of the Archdiocesan Union will be held at St. Gabriel's Parish Hall on January 17.

International Show of Roses At T. Eaton Co.

More than 50,000 roses will be on display at the Ninth Floor Restaurant of the T. Eaton Company Monday and Tuesday when the International Rose Show, sponsored by Roses Incorporated and the Montreal Retail Florists, is held in Canada for the first time.

Montreal has been on the waiting list for six years, before arrangements could be made to bring this outstanding floral show here, and there are 65 cities waiting for it at the moment.

Features will include a replica of a golden observation car filled with 5,000 roses, a series of six shadow boxes showing the career of a rose, a calendar of roses, a featured exhibit entitled 'Roses roses in song, a rose ballet, a lesson in rose etiquette, a feature entitled "roses round the clock" and another entitled "Roses of Today."

Thomas More Institute Offers Interesting, Unusual Courses

The Thomas More Institute aims to provide unusual courses not otherwise available in Montreal in its program of evening college classes and in line with this objective offers a unique class in English Expression, one entitled Enthusiasm, one on the Retarded Child and one on Leadership and Communication among the more than 25 courses announced for this coming scholastic season. Thomas More classes are given at D'Arcy McGee High School and will commence Sept. 30.

English Expression is a 36 hour course designed and given by John T. McIlhorne, Associate Director-General in charge of English studies at the Montreal Catholic School Commission. He originated the practical course to help develop the analytic mind in reading, to develop order, clarity and precision in written self-expression, and he discusses in the periods such elements as logic, phrase and sentence analysis, form and matter of written English. Thirty exercises are assigned in this personalized course.

Enthusiasm is a unique program especially for men and women of retirement age who are interested in exploring facets of knowledge such as music, sculpture, community service, science, history, etc., which lack of time prevented earlier in life. Experts in various fields such as Prof. W. H. Hatcher of McGill Montreal sculptress Mrs. Reta De Hahn, Msgr. Martin P. Reid, pastor of St. Augustine's and Helen Grenier, music critic will discuss these questions with the audience.

The Retarded Child series will be directed by prominent medical men and persons absorbed in the problem of the retarded youngster, men such as Dr. J. Preston Robb of the Children's Memorial, Dr. Hyman Caplan of the Mental Hygiene Institute and Gerard L. Barbeau of Mont Providence.

Leadership of Communication is a unique class under the direction of James P. Nicol, Director of the Department of Education and Research of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, and it points out the basic principles of leadership involving a better understanding of oneself to effective relationship with others.

St. James United Church To Celebrate 150 Years Service During October

St. James United Church, outstanding downtown religious centre, begins a month-long celebration of its 150th anniversary Sunday with Fred W. Norwood D.D. as special preacher at both services.

His sermon topics will be: at the morning service "World Communion — Nightmare or Vision" and in the evening "Pontius Pilate — a man who lives down our street."

Throughout the month of October St. James United will feature special speakers Sundays and Wednesdays.

This cathedral of Methodism of other days has made history in this city ever since it was first organized as a chapel on St. Sulpice street in what is now the financial district, and on the site of a present day great church, the Roman Catholic Notre Dame Cathedral.

During the month a collection of articles and other momentos will be exhibited to the general public.

Rev. B. B. Brown, former pastor of Wesley United Church and presently interim pastor at St. James, will preside at both services Sunday.

A good and true woman is said to resemble a Cremona fiddle—age but increases its worth and sweetens its tone.—O. W. Holmes.

Westmount Bowling Club In Closing Competition

By Winifred Mann
 With the ending of Daylight Saving Time and the end of the Lawn Bowling Season approaches, the clubs are busy winding up their activities. The Westmount Club held its closing party Saturday, when the lady members entertained the men at a mixed "Give and Get" rink competition.

One game of 12 ends was played, after which tea was served on the north verandah to a large gathering of players and other members, Mrs. J. M. Heggie and Mrs. E. C. Janes officiating at the tea table. Prizes were provided by the ladies for everyone, and the array of gaily wrapped parcels was reminiscent of Christmas time.

President J. M. Heggie expressed thanks to the ladies on behalf of the men for the entertainment provided, and also paid tribute to them for their co-operation in making the season of 1953 an enjoyable one.

The Club competitions were completed with the following results: Ladies: Single—Winners Mrs. T. I. Guilboard; Runner-up Mrs.

Montreal's representatives earned the trip by token of outstanding service in the second world war. Air Vice Marshal McEwan commanded the RCAF Bomber Group which helped to blast Nazi Germany out of the war in the final years.

Current Events Club Sees Film On Atom

The Current Events club at Westmount High School saw "Canada's Atom Goes to Work," on Tuesday, the first of a program of three films. It dealt with Canada's atomic resources and predicted that our atomic energy could contribute to a prosperity undreamed of today.

The second film, "Stuff for Stuff," outlined the trade situation in the world today and warned of the dangers of trade barriers between nations.

The third, "Thunder in the East," told of the awakening of Asia's once almost dormant nations, and how these countries are influencing the course of events in the world.

All the films, procured by vice-president John Lohead, proved most enjoyable and informative to the club members.

Klein, president, announced to the 110 present that 32 members have signed up for the trip to the United Nations in New York.

Kenneth Gilbert Heard in Recital

Kenneth Gilbert, young Canadian organist, and winner of the 1953 Prix d'Europe, gave a recital Monday, Sept. 28, in the Church of St. Jean-Baptiste, Rachel street near St. Denis. This was the first of a series of four recitals to be given this year by a newly-formed group called Les Amis de l'Orgue (Friends of the Organ).

His program for this recital included the following: the Fantasy and Fugue in G minor by Bach; three pieces by early French masters; concerto for organ (the cuckoo) by Handel; Third Chorale by Cesar Franck; pieces by Canadian composers Raymond Davey and Henri Gagnon; modern works by Dupre and Langlais.

The recital began at 8:45 p.m. Mr. Gilbert will soon leave for Europe where he is to study with many of the authorities of the French organ school.

John L. Lewis Is Right

'Scrap All Labor Legislation, Better Bargaining Means'

Let's scrap all the labor legislation of the last 20 years and restore some real meaning to the collective bargaining process. Such, in essence, is the proposal made by veteran trade union leader UMW President John L. Lewis.

An opportunity would thus be afforded employers and employees "to practice for a season true, free and genuine collective bargaining without governmental interference, free from the brooding shadows which presently hover over all bargaining tables," says Mr. Lewis.

John L. Lewis is right. There can be no true collective bargaining where the parties know that in the final analysis the vital decision concerning the issues in dispute is going to be made by government. Trade union leaders in Canada would do well to ponder carefully Mr. Lewis' timely proposal.

Policy Inconsistency

Ottawa Bars American Television
But Not U.S. Imports

A grave inconsistency in policy is manifest by Ottawa, which persists through the CBC, National Film Board and other so-called cultural agencies in protecting Canadians against cultural competition from the United States and at same time steadfastly refuses to protect Canadian economy against unfair competition of United States imports which threaten the existence of industries which provide jobs for thousands of this country's citizens.

A strange thing is that the policy-makers at Ottawa fail to understand that the cultural development of Canada can best be fostered not by the erection of a cultural 'Iron Curtain' along the U.S. border, but rather by economic policies which will afford opportunity for the growth of Canadian industry, thus providing the economic strength without which no indigenous culture can long survive.

Vocation III

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
(Rector of Trinity Memorial Church)

Let us come back for a moment to teaching as a vocation. There is special need to consider it in a time like this when the pattern of world civilization is changing so radically. If we look back to other periods of radical change like the Fifth Century before Christ, and the Eleventh and Fifteenth Centuries, we find that it was the thinking man who directed the changes; and the thinking men are the products of long training in the schools. The same thing will happen in our generation; the changes will be directed by the men who set their minds to the change, and there is very great danger that the wrong ideas may prevail. And we may find ourselves saddled with a totalitarian regime of some kind because the democratic mind was satisfied to muddle through.

A few years ago one of the great public libraries in the United States made a statement that there was great interest in their departments of politics and sociology, but that it was not the native Americans but foreigners who were borrowing the books. They were preparing to direct the changes which they saw coming. The Americans took their democracy for granted. That is why Communist teachers are far more dangerous than their numbers would indicate. They know the changes they want to make and they can direct pupils' thinking in that direction.

is to know his own tradition and culture; to be able to see it objectively as well as emotionally; to see its weakness as well as its strength; to set his mind to correct those weaknesses with a view to developing the culture without breaking the tradition. The tradition of our country is a democracy based on Christianity and the native freedom of our race.

As teachers we have a very great responsibility in maintaining and passing on that tradition.

And there is no other group in the community which has so much influence; for there is no other group which has control of all our children for the ten to twelve years which they spend in school. It does not matter too much if our ideas of science are somewhat hazy, but it matters a great deal if we have not absorbed the literature of our people in which their spiritual struggles are enshrined; and the Jadaeo-Christian tradition which we find in the Bible, which has directed the religion and morality of our people through the ages; and the history of our race which tells of our struggles to extend the general privilege of the community, and to restrict the special privilege of the individual. The profession of the teacher is one of the greatest professions in the world, because so much responsibility is laid upon it.

Former Members Urged To Join Boys Brigade Old Boys Association

The Boys' Brigade in Canada is carrying out an extensive campaign throughout the Dominion, in an effort to interest former members in the formation of Old Brigade Boys Associations, that they may contribute much toward the upbuilding of further leadership in these various centres. Recently there have been many former officers and boys emigrating to Canada from Great Britain, many of whom were very active in the Movement, and the Canadian Council of The Boys Brigade hopes that they will make their presence known to their nearest centre and that this year, which is being celebrated as the Founder's Centenary, may mark a further advancement throughout the British Commonwealth.

A telephone call to AT. 0751, or letter addressed to 50 Melbourne Avenue, Montreal, 16, will give the interested party full details as to organization as well as the companies operating in his immediate locality.

Fairy-Tale Characters, Humorous and Original Sets In Local Collection Of 300 Pairs Salts And Peppers

By BETTY BRUCE

Not only Mrs. Malfara, but also her family and her young nephew Grant, get a great deal of pleasure out of her collection of salt and pepper shakers. For one thing, the family are never at a loss to know what to give her when looking for a gift, her husband enjoys making shelves on which to display the shakers, and Grant and other children like her to weave stories about the tiny figurines and other objects. There are nearly 300 pairs of salts and peppers in the collection, so that it is easy to make up stories about them, or to point to four pairs that fit the jingle "Hey diddle, diddle! The cat and the fiddle!" which consist of the cat (holding salt) and the fiddle (with pepper), the pair of the cow jumping over the moon, the little dogs that laughed, and the dish running off with the spoon.

The shakers are of many types — of wood, china, chromium, silver. Mrs. Malfara, who was born in Verdun and who is a proprietor of a dressmaking supply store called "Buttons and Bows" at 1370A Greene Avenue, Westmount, says that collecting the salts and peppers has given her many a thrill during the past three years. In the new home they are building in Cartierville, her husband, Hugo Malfara, better known as "Doc" Malfara to his friends, is arranging display cabinets and shelves all around one room, so that the collection will be set off to advantage. His hobby is painting landscapes. Between them they will contribute original decor for the new home. Incidentally, both speak three languages — French, English and Italian.

Collectors' Luck

The gift shakers that formed the first quaint pieces of the collection were a couple of tiny sad irons, one black, one white, decorated with flowers. Mrs. Malfara thought they were simply small ornaments for some time — until she noticed the sprinkler tops. She was so much amused by the irons, fit only to press an elf's suit, that she began to look about for other curious shakers. Then friends sent her gifts also, many from the United States and Europe.

Sometimes when she has given up hope of acquiring a particular pair it unexpectedly comes into her collection. Her mother found one desired pair in Miami; and after Mrs. Malfara had searched for another pair in the States, she found the shakers in a store practically on her own doorstep. That's the luck of collectors!

No Two Pairs Alike

One mournful-faced dachshund breaks neatly apart in the middle into two containers.

Another comic ornament representing a gentleman toper leaning heavily against an old-fashioned lamppost, comes apart too, the little inebriated gent offering you salt from his top hat and the lamp coming off to contribute pepper.

Mrs. Malfara's brother, Andre Dextras, in Korea, presented her with another composite pair made up of a scholar leaning over a book held on his knees. The scholar obligingly has salt in his head and the volume lifts off to add a touch of pepper.

Among the pairs of life-like oranges, apples, etc., are two thistle heads from Glasgow; a toothbrush (salt) and tube of toothpaste (pepper); a bolt and spanner; a couple of tiny washing machines; a baseball mitt and ball; pair of carpet sweepers; a pair representing a man singing in a bath; a pair of radiators; a gondola; a hand-carved pair made of 300-year-old Italian briar; a pair consisting of a spool of thread and a thimble (a very apt gift for one in Mrs. Malfara's business); and a pair representing a mother kangaroo with baby kangaroo in her pouch. Then there are all sorts of flowers and animals and birds, even a rat and cheese pair, as well as many fairy-tale characters, including Cinderella and her coach, and Mother Hubbard and her cupboard, etc.

For the musical, there's a piano and stool; and for the food-minded, a lunch box and thermos — also a couple of ice cream cones. A hand-painted mushroom, for pepper, shelters a gnome who holds salt. There's even a salty little girl saying her prayers beside a peppery bed.

Consumer's Voice

The tempering influence of a woman consumer, acting in a voluntary capacity on all boards of conciliation and arbitration was urged by Mrs. W. R. Walton, Jr., retiring president of C.A.C. Collectively, consumers are the most powerful factor in the whole domestic business structure, but this fact is apparently overlooked when one economic group organizes and presses for immediate benefits for itself, Mrs. Walton said. Adequate consumer participation in the determination of disputes in which the consumer is most vitally affected might bring better results than can possible be obtained by current methods which usually include only two of the groups but exclude the largest and most interested one—the public which pays the bills.

Function of CAC

Reminding women of their responsibilities, Mrs. Walton stated that the basic function of CAC is to assist women to become competent managers of our economy. Because Canadian women possess half the voting power of the nation, because they control more than 80 per cent of the retail buying, it is essential that they use this tremendous power with care and wisdom. With the exception of government expenditures for defence, HOW women buy, WHAT they buy and the services required to GET them to buy, decide directly and indirectly, far more than any other single factor in this Dominion, what and how many businesses will flourish.

Can't Afford To Work Says Young Mother

"I can't afford to work" says Carolyn Bauer, of Chicago. In the October issue of Ladies' Home Journal, this young mother tells how she figured out her expenses and discovered that she couldn't make enough money at her job as restaurant hostess to pay for the child care and extra clothes she would need.

The Journal sets on how young America lives has featured young couples in various walks of life, and the problem this month is one that is faced by young folks all over the country. Can the mother return to work? Should she consider it from a financial angle only? How much does the child need her? Will the total expenses outweigh the amount she can earn at her job? You'll learn the answers to these questions in the October issue of Ladies' Home Journal.

Why Should You Marry While You Are Young?

The burning question of whether to marry when you're young, a little bit later or perhaps not at all, is taken up for the second time within several months in a current national magazine. This time, a young wife answers the girls who think it pays to wait, and tells why she thinks you'd better marry when you're young, if you intend to do it at all.

According to the article, contained in the October issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, a girl should marry when she is young because when hovering between the uncertain college senior and independent career girl stage, she possesses an alluring unaffectedness typical only of this phase. She has enthusiasm, she is still flexible and impulsive, she has the ability to love someone else more than herself. At this phase in life she is not only more attractive as a marital prospect, but far more attracted to marriage herself.

Being an older unmarried girl, the article points out, has its problems as well as its superficial and frivolous advantages.

The single girl has the advantages of freedom and independence, it is claimed. But such independence can often frighten off some attractive male. And the older you become the more fixed become your ideas and outlook on life. You are less flexible and therefore harder to please.

SIDELIGHTS

on Sports

by MARTY GOODMAN

A LARGE campaign was waged this year by the school boards to improve the conduct of students who went to the High School Football Carnival held Monday night at Molson Stadium. Officials posted letters, appealing to the spectators to be good sports at the game, right in the middle of the advertizing posters, and a warning that if the poor conduct of the previous years continued, the carnival was to be terminated.

Our observation was that nothing has changed from recent years, though of course it was impossible to note conditions at all points on the field and to see what happened on every bus. There was one thing, however, which was very apparent. The fault is not entirely that of the students.

To begin with, one gate was open as an entrance; approximately 5,000 students attended. It was not even a full gate, but a half entrance. When the students began pushing in order to get in, the gate was closed and was not to be opened until the pushing subsided. Of course, this was impossible, and we were swept in on a wave of people who stormed through two open gates, with or without tickets.

No Ushers Available

As far as could be seen, there were no ushers keeping spectators off the field. Perhaps they were there — if so they did not fulfill their duty to any extent. Nor were there any teachers scattered around the stands to keep students peaceful, or reasonably so in the sense of physical quiet.

The poorest showing was made by the medical men in attendance — there were none. A little under 500 players were taking part, yet there was not a doctor in attendance when one of them got hurt. Everyone knows the percentage of injuries per 1000 is extremely low for the school sports here, but a doctor is still necessary to take care of that low percentage.

A Loyola athlete was injured in the last game of the evening, and it was left to McGill coach Vic Obeck and some of his football players to take care of the player, then arrange for a doctor and head X-rays. This is a situation which should never arise again, and it would be far better to cancel the carnival than risk the chance of injury without trained attendants available.

No, the fault of the rowdiness at the carnival is definitely not entirely the students', and the management would do well to correct their own mistakes before worrying about those of others.

McGill Coaches' Day

Saturday will be Coaches' Day when the McGill Redmen meet Ontario Agricultural College in an exhibition tilt at Molson Stadium. Members of the McGill board of strategy have each planned a pet play which they will spring on the opposition, and the ideas should provide the onlookers with some surprises and laughs.

Approximately 40 players will dress for the game, most of them intermediates. Coach Vic Obeck figures this is a good chance to prepare the Indians for their opener a week later and also see what his senior prospects of next year look like. In addition, many of the lesser lights on the Redmen will see action in order to give a better idea of their potentialities.

HERE'S HOPIN': Coach Andy McGillis, of St. Leo's bantam football entry, gives his boys a pep talk before the annual high school football carnival Monday night. Westmount Junior High School edged their traditional rivals 1-0 in the opener, but the difference wasn't that much and the two should put on a nice battle when they meet again in the regular schedule. In front, r. to l., are Andy Halway, Red Hurley, Larry Grant, and McGillis. In back, same order, are Brian Mullins, Stan Lapointe, Paul Lafontaine and Mike Gorman.

Bantam Grid, Soccer Squads Chalk Up Wins

Westmount Junior High School start off in their bid to retain the city bantam title with a game against Darcy McGee. This tilt will go a long way towards showing just how good coach Hugh Stratton's boys will be in the coming season.

The bantams squeaked through to a 1-0 victory over rival St. Leo's in the high school carnival, but showed a lot of power that would have undoubtedly paid off in a full game.

St. Leo's Tuesday

Next game is scheduled for Tuesday at Westmount Athletic Grounds, when they take on St. Leo's again, this time for keeps.

The soccer team, also defending champs, started well as they beat Cardinal Newman High School 2-0 Monday. The first goal was a gift as the ball was knocked into the Cardinal not by one of their own players, but the second was well-earned with Schwartz providing the payoff punch. The defence was good, and the squad was in fine fettle for their match against St. Lambert Wednesday.

Gym Team Going

The bantam gymnastics team has also started operations, under coach Dick Germaney. They, like the rest of the teams, won the city title last year, and hopes are high that the senior high will win too with the many good gymnasts who came up this year.

Junior Football Opener Won By Westmount 22-0

The combination Westmount senior and junior high junior football team got off on a good start Tuesday when they blanked Catholic High 22-0. The squad showed a lot of power, and coach Ross Firth should have a good contender this year.

Bill Bettes, Lance Thomson, Bobby Hamilton and Butch Miller scored touchdowns for the locals, while Batts and Thomson each picked up a point for a convert.

Meet McGee

They make their next appearance today when they meet D'Arcy McGee at Trenholme park. The squad will be going all out for their second straight victory, and off of what they showed, have a good chance against the strong east-enders.

McFarlane and Kiersted both turned in good efforts, and a general all-around good show was put on.

Betts Around End

Bettes scored his major on an end sweep from his left half position then kicked the convert. Thomson picked up a fumble and scampered 45 yards for his, then caught a pass for the convert. Miller collected five on a plunge, while end John Nessinger made a nice run when he picked up another fumble and went 60 yards. In addition, he played a strong defensive game making at least 60% of the tackles.

In other games, McGee swamped Verdun 28-0, Loyola downed Lower Canada 22-0, and Strathcona beat Montreal High 11-5.

Local Squads Prominent In School Football Carnival

By MARTY GOODMAN

The annual high school football carnival was held Monday night at Molson Stadium, and both Westmount High and the Junior High came up with good performances.

The bantams edged St. Leo's 1-0, but took a great part of the play and were much better than the score indicated. The B team tied five all with Montreal High, but were overpowered slightly in the course of events.

The bantam encounter, which started the evening, saw Pete Souquet carry on most of the Westmount plays. He was a consistent ground-gainer, and should go well for coach Hugh Stratton's squad this year.

Young Stars

Pepper Young also played well for the locals, although Andy McGillis' crew were in the game all the way. The latter used a variation of the old Notre Dame box, and the whole game was very good and clean, though a bit scruffy at times.

Dick Christensen played well for the B team, who scored the first time they touched the ball. The game was being played on a continuation basis; that is, each team took over where its predecessors left over. Westmount entered the game and had possession on the Montreal High one yard line.

Christensen Majors

Christensen took it over on the first try, but the convert was no good.

The High School showed some strong blocking and evened the game in the dying minutes when Roger Ryan went over after Don Wright and Dwane Byers had brought the ball downfield. The

Cardinal Newman Downs Seniors 10-1 in 'B' Debut

Lack of a good breakway back proved to be too big a disadvantage Wednesday afternoon as Cardinal Newman High School downed Westmount 10-1 in the senior B opener at Westmount Athletic Grounds.

The whole difference between the two teams was a lad named Hrycyn who scored both touchdowns for the winner. The locals had no one to compete with this speedster who also got away on an 80 yard dash that was called back because of a rule infraction.

Westmount started off well with John Fuller, who played almost the complete game despite only four days of training, booting a long punt that the Cardinal receiver was rouged on. But that point was the last one Westmount were to make.

Hrycyn intercepted one of Don Ferrier's heaves in the second quarter and went all the way to make the count read 5-1. The convert attempt was blocked.

Scores Again

In the third stanza he went around end on a 35 yard run and again hit paydirt. This time the fault was mainly that of some poor tackling. Once again the convert was missed.

Coach Ron Sharp had to contend with some vital injuries in his backfield, and his squad was never noted for any great depth. Dick Christensen was on the limp and Bruce Wilson had a sore shoulder, limiting the amount of use the Westie mentor could get out of either.

Cardinal Strong

The big Cardinal team literally ran over their smaller opponents, although some of the linemen played well for Westmount. One of the biggest faults was lack of a passing attack, as Ferrier, who played the complete game, had an off day with his throws.

Neither team moved very much in the air or on the ground, and two breaks played a large part in the final result.

The intercepted pass was a toss that evidently was a miscue on Ferrier's part. It slipped and just managed to get over the line, going end over end.

Poor Kick Backfires

Then at the start of the second half, with Westmount all raring to go and tie up the score, the Cardinal kicker go off a poor kick. Things looked good until it struck a Westie player in the chest and bounced right back to the kicker, who recovered to give his team possession.

Other than this, the Cardinal seemed to be stronger and heavier, but still couldn't do too much offensively. The game soon developed into the old style of two bucks and a kick, with much still to be done on both sides before smooth-running squads are produced.

Line Weak

The local line was weak, but obviously this could be a result of too much football. A week ago the team played Loyola, Saturday they scrimmaged against MacDonald, Monday they were in the football carnival, and then played again today.

The blocking wasn't too bad, and Westmount got away on some good runs on punt returns, mainly due to poor Cardinal tackling.

This Thursday Westmount plays its second league game when they take on Verdun High School. The game will probably be played at 10 a.m. as the day is Teacher's Convention, a holiday. It had originally been billed for 2 p.m.

Outlook Dim

Right now things don't look too bright for the Westies, especially after some of the powerful displays put on by a few of the other senior B teams. A lot of practice will be in store for the team, but there isn't much that can be done without the players. Potential is certainly not one thing Westmount is long on, but coach Sharp has a habit of taking these teams that look like nothing and turning them into world beaters. He has donned his thinking cap, and will be going all out to pull a rabbit out of the hat in Thursday's tilt.
