

Westmount Jails Pair With Knives

It isn't healthy to carry offensive weapons in Westmount.

Two young men were sentenced to six months and five months in jail respectively in Westmount Court Tuesday on charges of carrying offensive weapons.

In addition — on charges of loitering — they were also sentenced to pay fines of $40 and costs, each, or serve additional two months each in jail, as the sentences run consecutively.

John Williams, 22, received six months for carrying an offensive weapon.

His companion, Bernard Baylis, 19, received five months on the same charge.

The weapons were hunting knives, the police said.

Rotary Lights Indian Candle Says Delgado

The name of Westmount Rotary is known and associated with something sympathetic in at least 13 areas of far-off India, the club was told this week by Rotarian Percy G. Delgado.

Club contributions amounting to $750 to date have been channelled to Pakistan, Akola, Volingapalen and other sections of the country to purchase food, clothing and disaster supplies, said the guest speaker. "You should feel very proud and happy that, through this unique pioneer work, we have at least lighted a little candle in this faraway country."

Equal sums of $25 are given to various clubs there, he explained, and often, equal amounts are put up by Indian Rotarians. Sometimes the money is used to buy sporting goods. In one case the $25 was used to send two girls to high school and industrial school.

Notice of Westmount's fine work was recently printed in an Indian publication, Mr. Delgado continued. "They are not unkindful of your gifts in that land of 400 millions. We have this day lighted a candle in India. May it never be put out!"

Chairman at the session was club president W. G. Moxley. The nominating committee report given by E. E. Mills named the following directors for two-year periods: B. D. Bailey, L. C. Davenport, Dent Harrison, J. P. Page and Frank Sharpe.

Chief Emile G. Durocher, 56, of the Fire Department, was due to retire last October and has decided to go on leave of absence July 12, with retirement coming up officially in October. He has been with the force since 1923 and has been Fire Chief since last August.

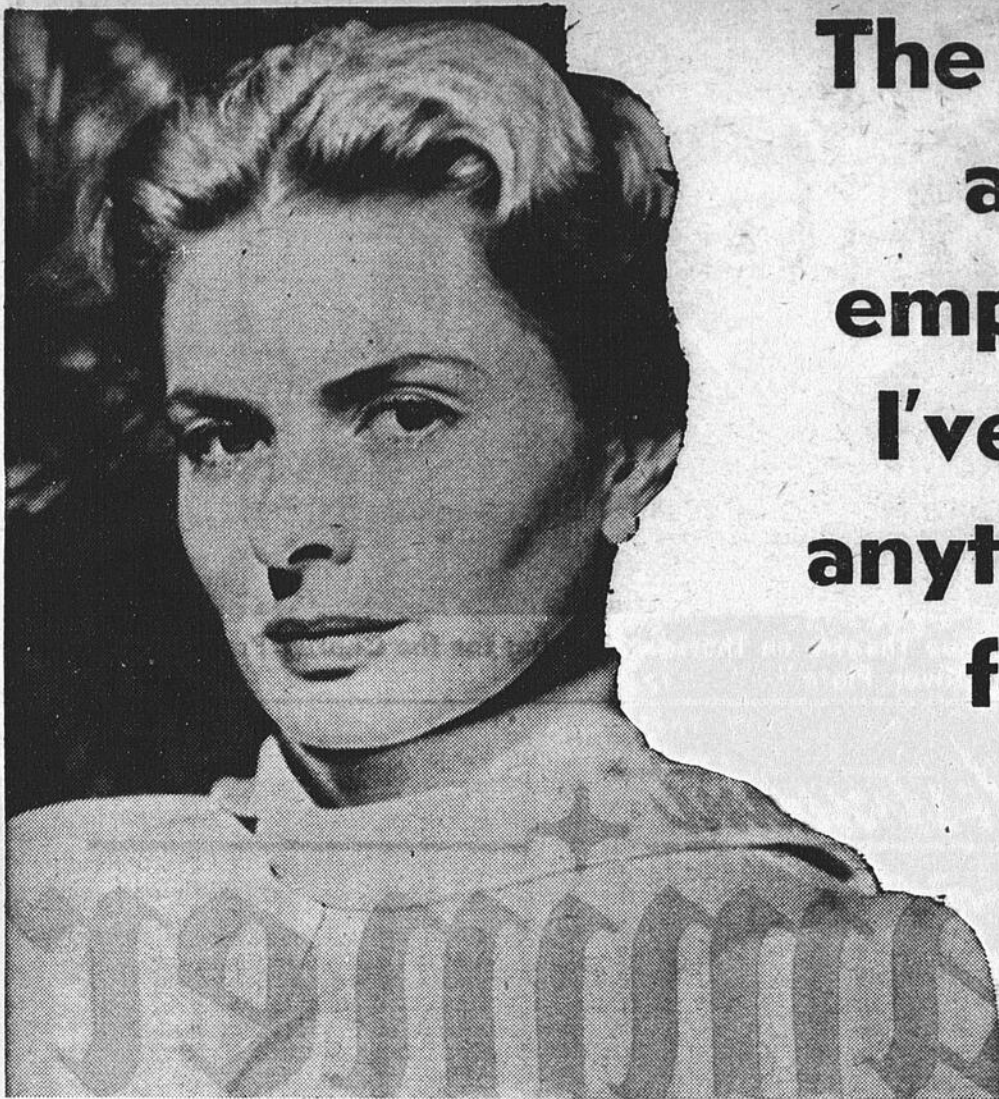

Next Week's Weather

By ERIC NEAL

March 30 to April 6

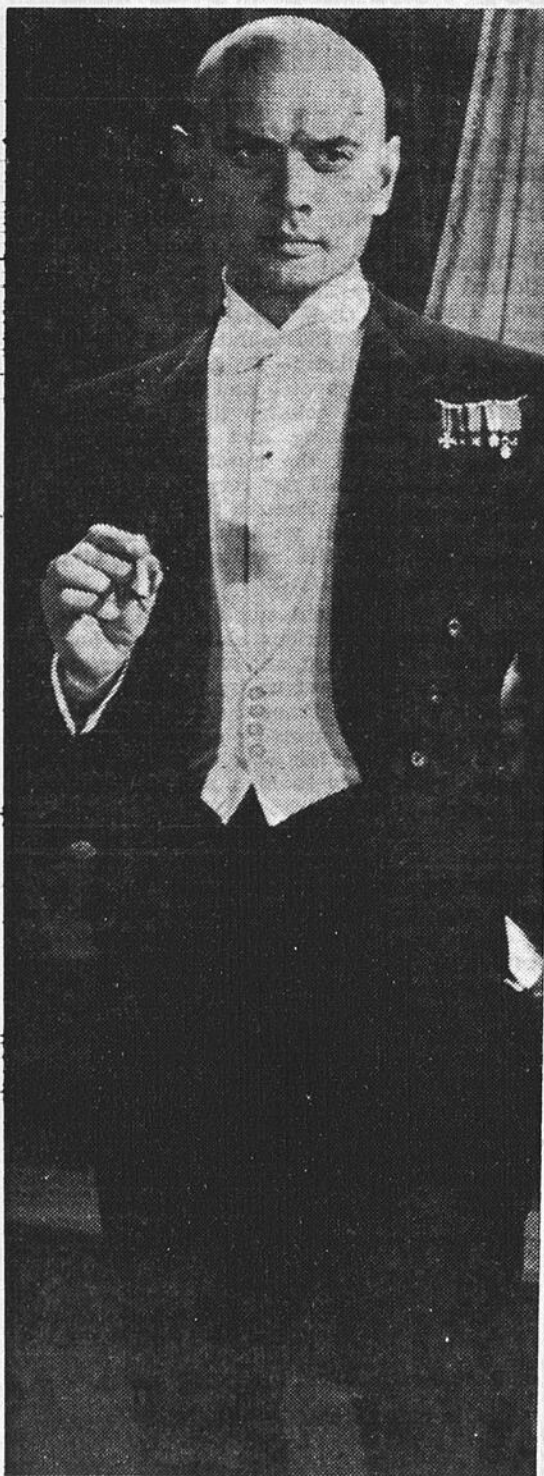

Starting cool and bright, this will be a mainly sunny week, but between clear, warm periods we will have samples of every sort of weather. Gales and snow flurries. Calm, misty mornings with rime or glaze ice on trees and roads, and for some places cold rains.

The sugaring-off season is in full swing in the south, and just opening in the regions north of the St. Lawrence. Warming and generally fair for the end of the week.

BERGMAN Her Voice Brings Back The Great Days Of The Cinema

BRYNNER With The Baleful Glow Of An Awakening Volcano

The man Hollywood calls irresistible to women . . . head shaven, cigarette poised, eyes brooding. Brynner as the plotting General Bunin — "a wiry, sometimes brutal, unrelenting man."

The Love Scene across an empty room... I've not seen anything better for years

By

Leonard Mosley

Film: Anastasia

Theatre: Westmount

THERE has never been a love scene quite like it before — and there never will be again unless these two stars decide to repeat it.

For only a woman with her deep feelings and only a man with his instinctive sense of timing could have brought such an unlikely moment to life.

The scene is an empty room. The time is two o'clock in the morning. Through one of the doors, out of sight of the audience, Ingrid Bergman is lying on her bed.

She is a little tipsy from too much champagne. Her heart is full of emotions she doesn't quite understand, and her head is full of mischief. She lies there, letting the last champagne bubbles sparkle inside her mind, and listens.

Suddenly she hears Yul Brynner come into the empty anteroom.

He walks swiftly across it to his own doorway. There he pauses, and looks across to Bergman's room.

Bergman knows he is angry — with her. And yet her instinct tells her that, though her actions of that evening have infuriated him, they have also aroused a different kind of emotion inside him.

Beguiling

HE is a wiry, sometimes brutal, unrelenting man, and normally she would not dare to try to get inside his defences and attack his heart.

But the champagne has made her bold. Through that door, inside the room you cannot see, you hear her stirring.

And, all at once, those seductive Scandinavian tones I haven't heard for such a long time come through the open door — and Bergman begins the gamble of her life . . . beguiling the anger and frustration out of Brynner's mind and replacing it with something altogether sweeter.

For five minutes, across the dead darkness of that empty room, you then listen to the love scene of the year. Bergman talks. You do not see her. Brynner stands and listens. And, in the pauses in between the words, you can almost hear the beating of two hearts . . .

Expert

THAT memorable scene was, for me, the most touching moment of this easy, expert, and surprisingly moving film.

It is a screen version, as you will no doubt know, of the theatre and TV play about a tortured and mysterious girl who falls into the hands of a trio of Russian confidence men.

She has an hallucination that she is one of the daughters of the Czar of Russia who managed to escape after the Reds murdered the rest of her family.

The tricksters, led by Brynner, take her in hand. They are not interested in whether she is genuine or not, but only in deceiving their fellow emigrés into believing that she is. For, if they do so, then she can collect the Czar's fortune deposited with the Bank of England.

Brynner watches her, brooding in the background, wondering . . . and then, after that scene across the empty room, increasingly aware that what he wants most in life is not to prove this girl an archduchess, but to help her to find her own identity.

Intense

BERGMAN has never acted more intensely nor more movingly. The sound of her enchanting voice brought back the great days of the cinema. And always with her, giving off the baleful glow of an awakening volcano, is Yul Brynner.

Even across an empty room, here are two stars who can make the screen erupt.

FOOTNOTE: Another Anastasia film was privately shown in London recently. It was made in Germany, is called "Is Anna Anderson Anastasia?" and stars Lilli Palmer.

Miss Palmer is not, unfortunately, a Bergman. And the film doesn't contain a Yul Brynner either.

Both Stars Win Academy Awards

EDITOR'S NOTE: — our prediction of February 28th, proved to be correct Wednesday night regarding Ingrid Bergman and Yul Brynner, as each received an Oscar as "Best Actress of the Year," and "Best Actor," at the colorful ceremonies held annually by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. Miss Bergman for her great work in "Anastasia," which is currently showing at the Westmount United Theatre, and although Brynner's Oscar was for his work in "The King and I," it might well have been for his equally outstanding performance as Miss Bergman's co-star in "Anastasia." In any case we cannot recommend "Anastasia" too highly — it is truly a picture that you will talk about — a picture that is top entertainment from start to finish.

Caught by the Examiner camera a few moments before the Roslyn Home and School Association meeting were Mrs. Bram Rose, co-chairman of the Roslyn ski committee; Lucille Wheeler, Dr. G. W. Halpenny, president of the Home and School association; Frank Shaughnessy, Jr., manager of the Canadian Olympic Winter Team; and Dr. E. B. Clift, co-chairman of the Roslyn ski committee.

Asks More Ski Training

By SHIRLEY AYER

Canadian skiers will be more able to win Olympic medals if "we increase school training programs, like that of Roslyn", Lucille Wheeler told more than 400 parents at the Roslyn Home and School Association meeting Monday. The first Canadian to win an Olympic medal for skiing, Miss Wheeler said Canadian skiers have "technique as good as European skiers, but lack experience."

Stressing the need for development of a junior training program, Miss Wheeler mentioned that European skiers begin training in the early fall, and she often saw groups of students conducting their own time trials in Europe. Frank Shaughnessy, Jr., general manager of the Canadian Olympic Winter Team, who introduced Miss Wheeler, said that "Roslyn is doing something wonderful to win back a place for Montreal in the ski picture."

The Roslyn Home and School Association sponsored a ski instruction course for approximately 200 pupils beginning in early January this year. Ski classes were held every Monday and Thursday afternoons at Murray Park. According to Peter Kirk Gessner, an instructor who reviewed ski activities, the course is designed to help children "bring skiing under control, become familiar with the equipment, and get used to the skis."

During an interview with the Examiner, Miss Wheeler said beginning and intermediate skiers should be concerned with style and fundamentals of good technique.

A skier who plans to race should "start in competition with good style so that he will not become a machine," Miss Wheeler added.

"So few people understand skiing, especially in this country where the sport is so young," she said. Miss Wheeler finds team training difficult because skiing is an "individual sport". She enjoyed independent training on her recent European winter trip which she used as a training program for the world championships next year. Asked about her future plans, Miss Wheeler said she may retire after next year's competition.

Conditions were good for racing in Europe this year, Miss Wheeler said. She prefers an "icy course which holds up for every racer." Miss Wheeler left Canada December 14 and returned March 12.

The Roslyn Ski instruction course, under the leadership of Dr. Errol B. Clift and Mrs. Bram Rose, featured Peter Kirk Gessner, John Thompson, Mrs. Germaine, Mrs. Damant, Mrs. Houghton and Miss Bliss Matthews as instructors. David Hewell was in charge of the instructors.

During the Home and School Association meeting, the Girls' choir, directed by Miss Vera Jamieson, sang several numbers. The Boys' choir, under direction of Ralph Start, featured two songs with Michael Lloyd-Smith and Fraser Adams as soloists for one number. Parents also observed a sewing exhibit in the school corridors.

Save the Reddy!

Westmount's Only Hospital Faced With Closing If Drive Fails

Eighty-six years of service to the community, the only hospital in Westmount is threatened with closing by mounting operating costs.

Monday the Reddy Memorial Hospital, the 140-bed institution of mercy at 4039 Tupper street, is launching an appeal for $250,000 as a maintenance fund. If the appeal fails, there is grave danger that the hospital must close its doors.

Hence the slogan for the campaign, "Save the Reddy."

Since it was founded in 1871, the Reddy Memorial has never denied aid to the sick, regardless of race, creed or ability to pay. Staff members, as well as patients, are of varying religions and races, and many of the internes are from overseas.

One of the chief reasons for the plight is its very large percentage of public patients, many of them indigent. These occupy 47 beds. The hospital incurred a $40,000 deficit through treatment of indigent patients in 1956.

The moving of the nearby Western division of the Montreal General Hospital to the new MGH building on the mountainside threw new burdens on the Reddy, which since that time has had to cope with more cases from the immediate neighborhood.

The Reddy suffers from the fact that it is not endowed, depending instead on fees paid by patients, donations, government grants, etc., sources which have not kept pace with mounting costs.

Workers who would like to help will be welcome. Generous reception of the workers in the campaign for funds is imperative.

When Spring Begins

First Day of Spring and First Spring Day Not Same Thing

Spring will come, sooner or later. The American writer Henry Van Dyke, born in 1852, noted that the first day of spring is one thing, and the first spring day is another.

If you figure it's been a long winter, the fact is that spring this year began when the sun entered Aries at 4.17 p.m., eastern standard time last Wednesday, March 20.

The weather did not change at that minute, of course, and some parts of this broad country may be chilled in a wintry atmosphere while others are enjoying the new warmth.

But nothing is more sure than the change of seasons, and the birds are well aware of this, even if they don't read the weather forecasts.

The different flocks and species, following a schedule they have observed for centuries, have been preparing for the annual northward migration in places far to the south — in the open spaces of South America, and forests of Central America, the islands of the Caribbean and the warm-winter areas of the southern United States.

One of the first migrants to reach its summer breeding areas is the robin. Sure, a few robins spend the winter in Canada, and so do some other birds, but these are the exceptions. A well-trained robin will go south for the winter and return north when the temperature reaches a steady 35 degrees or better.

It's not the temperature, however, that spurs the robins' return. The National Geographic Society says the robins time their arrival with the return of the earthworms. All winter the worms have hidden below the frost line, and as the ground thaws, they come to the surface. The robins are there to meet them.

Other bird species time their migration to fit the growth of new vegetation. Nature's timetable has the trees bursting into bud and leaves beginning to grow, insects are hatched to eat the leaves and birds fly up to eat the insects.

Spectacular spring migrations — thousands of birds in a single flock — are haphazard occurrences, due to the changeable spring weather. They seize the chance of a bright warm day in the midst of cool or stormy periods.

But they all know where they're going, and they know the winter's over.

50th Year of Flight Public Asked To Check Wording For Plaque

It is hoped that the plaque to mark the site of the first International Air Meeting to be held in Canada, at Lakeside Heights in 1910, will be ready to be unveiled for the beginning of the Anniversary of Canada's Fiftieth Year Of Flight.

The first flight in Canada was made in February 1909 by the Hon. J. A. D. McCurdy and celebrations to mark the Fiftieth Anniversary of this event are being planned to begin in June 1958. It has been suggested that the unveiling of the plaque, monument, or marker at Lakeside Heights would be a fitting way to begin these anniversary activities.

The following wording for such a plaque has been suggested:

"THIS PLAQUE marks the site of the First International Air Meeting held in Canada from June 25 to July 4, 1910. The Hon. J. A. McCurdy, the first Canadian to fly, also made the first flight in the Province of Quebec from this site on June 24, 1910, while Count Jacques de Lesseps made his historic flight over Montreal on July 2, 1910. Other aviators taking part included Walter Brookings, Cromwell Dixon, Frank F. Coffyn, Ralph Johnston, Roy Knabenshue, Duval LaChapelle, and Paul Miltgen."

While investigations have been made to ascertain that the above lines are factual, it is possible that a mistake has been made or that there may be an omission. Any readers knowing of any mistakes or omissions are asked to contact the editor of this paper.

All These Things

By

The Venerable

R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,

Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

The first temptation dealt with Our Lord's relationship with material things. "Turn these stones into bread" was temptation to take the things of the world, food, clothing, shelter, for one's sole use. The second temptation — "All these things will I give Thee, if Thou wilt fall down and worship me." — brings us into the field of human relationships. The kingdoms of the world are kingdoms of men. The devil offered Our Lord dominion over all men. Obviously that was a perfectly right thing, for the kingdoms of this world are to become the kingdoms of Our Lord, and of His Christ, but the time was not yet, and the condition attached was an impossible one from His point of view.

When we go back to the creation we find that man was given dominion over nature, but not over his fellow-man. We have one Lord and Master. One of the sins of man from the beginning has been to seek lordship over as many men as possible. There are degrees of honour amongst men, but not one of them is absolute. They are rights and ranks conferred by custom or inheritance or election, but with them the man in the superior place is still subject to God, and the man in the inferior place is still a free man.

Our Lord, on the other hand, has an absolute lordship, for "I believe in Jesus Christ, God's only Son Our Lord," but it is a lordship derived from God alone. When the devil offered Him "all the kingdoms of the world" he was offering something to which he had no real right. He claimed the right to confer, but actually he himself was a usurper. He had stolen God's place.

Further, the devil offered a condition which Our Lord could not fulfil without denying God, the Ruler of the Universe. His answer made this perfectly clear: "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve." He stood there between God and man and on the one hand He refused to deny God, and on the other hand He refused to accept dominion over man.

It is at that point that Our Lord is our example, and our reminder that we fail in our relationships with the world of man. We lust after power. We seek dominion over a little group, then over a larger group. And in our desire for power we are perfectly ready to deny God by doing something that is contrary to God's will. When we find ourselves in that position there is only one security for us; that is, to remember Our Lord's readiness to serve rather than to rule, and to set Him before us as our example.

By the Way . . .

Melissande writes: Nothing could be smarter than the new backless evening macintosh for a wet spring. It is of bottle-green grossette with a high, lemon-shaped, stand-back waist, half-length diamanté sleeves, curled at the edges with bell-tout fromagerie, and snaffered to a point at the back. The hip-line is emphasised by a full-blown turn-over of passe-partout in dog's-breath grey, with a filching of hand-sewn frittework on the basque-line. The whole gives an effect of crisp sophistication which is emphasised by the drop-skirting of watted bone-paste-blue goudonnerie.

The Strabismus Rocket

If guided rocket missiles continue to run wild, as has happened twice in the U. S., someone will have to invent a guided rocket which will find and destroy stray guided rockets. And so on. By that time the air will be so full of things that nobody will know which are coming and which are going. Surely all this points to the need for the Strabismus Boomerang Rocket which, by recoiling on the launchers, will cure them of ever wanting to go on with experiments with rockets.

Youth Centre Is Worried About 'Teens

Where teenagers go and what they do is a question worrying directors of St. Andrew's Youth Centre, a Red Feather service which was originally designed as a teen-age centre. Mrs. Sigrid Day, executive Director of the St. Mark Street Centre, reported to the annual meeting this week that relatively few teenagers use the centre for anything more than a jumping-off place to other, possibly questionable, activities. Fifteen- to seventeen year olds flock to the weekly dance but often this is only a preliminary to a night "on the town", the director said.

The natural wish to experiment found in this age group is leading some of them into dangerous situations and there have been instances of the use of barbiturates, Mrs. Day reported. Stronger controls are needed to regulate the distribution of these drugs, she said.

Advances have been made in work with younger children, it was reported. A nursery school program is available for the youngest members, and after-school care is given to a group of school children who would otherwise be unsupervised until their parents came home at the end of the working day.

Mrs. Day made special note of the help given by a volunteer

Rabbinical College Is Seeking Support

An appeal to the large west-end Jewish community for support of the Rabbinical College of Canada, was made today by S. D. Gameroff, president of the college.

Better known as the Lubavitcher Yeshiva, the college is currently conducting its 15th annual maintenance fund campaign. Target for this year is $115,500.00 which will be used to provide educational facilities for some 600 students in kindergarten, parochial elementary school, parochial high school, afternoon classes, Kerem Israel branch and the institute for higher Hebrew learning.

Many students are refugees from throughout the world and the college supplies the needy with room, board and other necessary expenses.

Co-chairmen of this year's campaign are Alderman Gameroff, D. S. Dubin, H. Gasco and Nathan Cohen. The school is located at 5265 Park ave., with branches nearby and in Toronto.

The campaign is scheduled to end April 15, and contributions should be sent to the Rabbinical College of Canada, 5265 Park ave., Montreal.

STAMPS

by

Margaret Ward

Stamp collecting is Canada's most popular hobby. More and more people, particularly young people, are discovering the pleasure and entertainment which it provides. Accordingly, the Westmount Junior Stamp Club is sponsoring this column to help the boys and girls who already have collections, to encourage beginners and to attract those who have not yet considered taking up stamp collecting.

Perhaps the best way to begin would be to talk generally about how to start a collection. Here are a few suggestions which might prove helpful:

Although each individual manages his own collection in his own way, necessary accessories are an album, hinges and some stamps. Stamps should always be placed in the album by means of hinges. If they are glued or attached with cellophane tape, they will be ruined and worthless. Hints on how to use the hinges are usually included on the back of the package in which they come. An album of price and quality to suit individual taste is readily available in any stamp shop or department store. Changes and improvements in the album are often made as one progresses. The most important question of how to find stamps is a fascinating story in itself; it will be considered next week.

Meanwhile, remember that W.J.S.C. meetings are held each Thursday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock in the Oak Room of Victoria Hall, Westmount. Membership is free and boys and girls from all over Montreal are welcome. On March 28 an auction is to be held and, as usual, there will be ample time for trading. We'll be looking for you.

Margaret Ward.

Rev. Burt R. Poole, assistant minister of Immanuel Baptist Church, Wilmington, Delaware, will be the guest preacher at the Life and Lent service in Wesley United Church, Wednesday, April 3 at 8.00 p.m.

Mr. Poole is well known to the people of Montreal as a member of the Bryan Green Mission Team which visited this City last November. His topic will be, "Using Life's Anxieties".

The service will be conducted by the Rev. Eric A. McIlwain, assistant minister of Dominion-Douglas Church Westmount. Assisting in the conduct of worship will be the Rev. Frank P. Gilmore minister of Westminster-Central United Church. Special music will be provided by the Senior and Junior Choirs of Westmount Park-Emmanuel Church. The senior choir, augmented to 80 voices, will sing, "Surely He Hath Borne our Griefs" and the junior choir will sing, "All in an April Evening".

Mr. Poole spent four years in the United States Navy after which he attended University in Denver, Colorado to prepare himself for the Ministry. While in Denver he was pastor of the Edgewater Baptist Church there. For almost a year he worked as an evangelist and colporteur in Southern Ireland. This work featured open-air preaching meetings and house to house visiting. In 1954 he was called to be assistant minister in the largest Baptist Church in Delaware.

Mr. Poole has assisted Canon Bryan Green in two large city missions and we are happy to welcome him back to Montreal and to our Life and Lent Service.

The ten West End United Churches cordially invite you to attend these Lenten services.

Your School, Your Child, and You

IS THE GRADE SYSTEM STUPID?

By E. George Cochrane, B.A., M.Ed.
Northmount High School

Dr. N. V. Scarfe, the dean of the College of Education at the University of British Columbia, has suggested that Canadian schools scrap the present grade system of school organization and replace it by "streaming" or ability grouping. The suggestion appeared in a provocative article published in a recent issue of Saturday Night.

In two paragraphs this is the gist of Dr. Scarfe's proposal:

"It is clear that some children grow faster and bigger than others. It is equally true that some children learn faster than others. Thus the alternative way of dividing children in a school is into longitudinal streams of similarly able or equally fast and compatible groups.

"We call this 'ability grouping' or streaming. Early in school life those of a particular age group who are fast learners or clever are placed in a separate group, class or even school, and allowed to progress as fast as they can through the work normally set for twelve years of schooling. They will probably complete it all in ten years or less. Those who are average are placed in another group who, going as fast as they can, will complete the twelve years in approximately twelve years. The slow learners are again separated into groups of similar capacity and they tackle the twelve years' work as fast as they can take it. They will probably need fourteen or fifteen years, but they will do the work thoroughly; they will understand it and probably like it. They may, however, not wish to persist beyond twelve years or beyond the present ninth grade of study."

On the surface the scheme appears to have a great deal to commend. But the segregation of children into groups is fraught with many difficulties, not the least of which is the opposition of those parents whose offspring are consigned to the below average or average groups. Other difficulties are of an administrative nature. For best results it is important that both above average classes be reduced considerably in numbers. In today's overcrowded schools it is usually impossible to keep classes small.

The parts of Dr. Scarfe's article to which I objected were his outspoken criticisms of what is being done in the schools today. Much of this criticism appears to be based on sheer ignorance and is marred by unsubstantiated generalizations of a type that a man with Dr. Scarfe's academic background should long since have learned to shun.

He writes, "It has been shown by experiment that below-average children do better mentally and normally when taught separately than when with a heterogeneous group," but does not cite one — not even one — research study to back up his claim. There are degrees of "below average" and in Montreal Protestant schools attempts are being made in the elementary schools to place those children who are considerably below average in special classes. In the high schools, the non-academic student is directed into the practical course. But the number of students so affected is small and there are many educators who believe that the social values of relatively heterogeneous groups far outweigh any disadvantages.

Another fact which Dr. Scarfe chooses to ignore is that in the elementary classes of the modern school, students within a class are grouped for instruction in such basic subjects as reading and arithmetic. In the high school students tend to segregate themselves by choosing those courses and options which are geared to their abilities and interests.

Dr. Scarfe says, "Few people ever doubt that gifted children progress more satisfactorily when taught in separate groups of classes." It is a statement that would be more intelligible if we knew what the good doctor meant by the words "few" and "gifted".

Miss Barbara Whitley Elected President Of Montreal General Hospital Auxiliary

At the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Montreal General Hospital held on Thursday, Miss Barbara Whitley was elected president succeeding Mrs. George S. Currie. The following reports were read.

Donations to the Hospital totalled more than $19,000 during the year, reported the treasurer, Mrs. Sidney H. Dobell. These gifts ranged from an audiometric testing unit to smocks for the volunteers; from electro-shock machines for the department of psychiatry to new castors for the library carts; a camera for the department of pathology, wheel chairs, record players, furniture for the sun-rooms and some waiting rooms, bursaries for student nurses, a grant to the Social Service department, plants for the solarium and salaries for the Director of Volunteers, a secretarial assistant, and an occupational therapist.

Donations to the Memorial Fund were used entirely for life sustaining purposes, in keeping with the Fund's policy, and this year were devoted to a grant of $3,600 to the department of obstetrics and gynaecology which, in collaboration with the department of metabolism, is undertaking a two year research project into toxemia of pregnancy, results of which will be available to other hospitals.

Mrs. Colin T. Gray in presenting the report of the recording secretary, noted that six groups were actively engaged in sewing for the hospital. Four of these made 5,550 articles for use in the hospital while of the other two, one was busy keeping the smocks of the volunteers in repair and the other specialized in articles for sale in Hospitality Corner.

Gross sales for the year in Hospitality Corner amounted to $85,600 and net proceeds turned over to the Auxiliary totalled $20,000, reported Mrs. Andrew Fleming, MBE., chairman of the shop committee, who paid tribute to the many volunteers who work so faithfully both in, and for, the shop. The practice of keeping the shop open five evenings a week, Monday through Friday, had proved most successful with volunteers coming from the Junior League, the Women's Voluntary Services, the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Mabel Hubbard Club of the Bell Telephone Company.

Twenty-three thousand hours of service had been given by two hundred volunteers working in the hospital during the past year, reported Miss Flora Baptist, Director of Volunteers. This represented an increase of one hundred volunteers and eleven thousand hours over last year's figures. Twenty-five volunteers were required each day to operate Hospitality Corner but there were many others whose presence was less noticeable, working throughout the hospital.

MISS BARBARA WHITLEY, newly elected President of the Montreal General Hospital Women's Auxiliary. This is the second largest hospital auxiliary in the Province of Quebec.

In addition to the volunteers doing clerical work, twenty-five clinics held during the week are staffed with volunteers doing specific jobs; a great deal of assistance in a variety of duties is given in the Outdoor Department and there volunteers who are graduate nurses, are helping the medical staff in the more technical work in which they are skilled. Particularly noteworthy was a project begun the autumn when a team of volunteers undertook follow up work in connection with cancer research. Volunteers involved in this project deserve special mention for it has involved extremely painstaking, time consuming and careful work. Though this project is not yet complete its value has already been proved by the location of a number of patients who are now enabled to receive additional medical care.

Officers for the coming year are: Miss Barbara Whitley, president; Mrs. George S. Currie, past president; Mrs. Gavin T.

LADIES!

Your Common Sense Should Tell You...

... That not every furrier can give you the proper advice as to which fur best suits your personality and which colour best compliments your complexion.

... That there is a big difference between low-grade furs and "top quality" furs and that you should deal only with an experienced, reliable furrier who really knows how to choose the best pelts and who will give you honest value for every dollar you spend.

... That when you wish to wear furs in the newest, exclusive styles, you should see our collection of "Little Furs" designed especially for us by Schiaparelli, famous Parisian fashion designer.

... That you should also be sure that you buy where you will get the best service and that the furrier will not lose all interest in your furs as soon as your money is in his till.

... That a firm which has been established for over 42 years and is jealous of the reputation that it has built up is the best place for you to buy your furs.

... That here you may purchase furs to suit every budget and you may also have time payments arranged with no service charge.

Retarded Children

Dr. H. F. Frank, superintendent of Ontario Hospital School for Retarded Children, will be guest speaker at a general public meeting of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children (Quebec) Inc., to be held at 8 p.m., April 4 in the Y.W.C.A. auditorium, 1355 Dorchester street west. His subject will be Mental Retardation.

Teen-Aged Hungarian Girls Aided By Red Feather Service

Seventeen teen-aged Hungarian girls are now living in the Y.W.C.A., working hard at their English in order to be ready for college in the fall. The 17 are part of a group of Hungarian Protestants, many of them teen-agers on their own, who have been gathered under the wing of the Travellers' Aid Society of Montreal. Both the Y.W. and the Travellers' Aid are Red Feather services.

Mrs. Jean Henshaw, director of the Travellers' Aid, emphasized that the new undertaking is meant to complement the work of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration and does not mean that the Travellers' Aid Society has departed from its traditional non-sectarian policy. "Committees for Hungarians of the Catholic and Jewish faiths had already been established," she explained. "Protestant were left with no resources, so this committee was established on request as a temporary measure."

Both Mrs. Henshaw and Mrs. Elsie McKenzie, Travellers' Aid

caseworker in charge of the work with Hungarians, have had extensive experience with refugees and immigrants, here and abroad. Mrs. Henshaw worked for nearly three years after the war in Germany, directing a displaced camp in Bavaria. Hers was essentially a camp for Jewish victims of the war, but the camp hospital was staffed by 17 Hungarian doctors, all of them alumni of Nazi concentration camps. Mrs. McKenzie worked in New York City after studying at Columbia University. Her experience in New York was mainly with immigrants to the United States. Both Mrs. Henshaw and Mrs. McKenzie are originally from Nova Scotia and both are graduates of Acadia University.

A team of two Hungarian-speaking social workers goes out to the reception centre at St. Paul l'Hermite twice a week. Each new arrival is interviewed to find out just what is needed in the way of practical help. Officially there are no unaccompanied children among the Hungarians, but several teen-agers have turned up, the Travellers' Aid has found. These are youngsters who attached themselves to family groups in order to make their escape and, once safely landed, were on their own again. Special arrangements must be made for their welfare and a number of Red Feather agencies have opened their doors.

Generally speaking, the response to the Hungarians has been very warm-hearted, everyone agreed. Community groups and private individuals have come forward with hospitality and help of various kinds. This generosity will be needed for some time, until the newcomers can regain a sense of security that has been badly battered during the last twelve months.

Canadair Flyers Win Over RCAF Bombers

Canadair Flyers defeated Greenwood, N.S., Bombers 7-4 last Friday night to win the Defence Industries Trophy.

The Flyers were in command of play all the way, despite a three-goal hat trick by Fraser Dunn of the Bombers.

Seven players shared the Canadair scoring — Danny Caduc, Paul and Ray Corneau, Matt Delvecchio, Moe White, Roland Landry and Jack LaPlante.

Bob Castle scored the first goal for Greenwood and Dunn got the last three.

New Baseball Rules Will Speed Up Game

If baseball's rulesmakers have along with women of some other their way, next year's games ought to be a mite shorter than usual.

One new rule adopted by the nine-man official rules committee at their annual meeting states that a pitcher must deliver the ball to the plate 20 seconds after he has received it from his catcher.

Another says the batter cannot step out of the box after the pitcher has come to a set position or has begun his wind-up.

Until the change, pitchers were required to throw 20 seconds after they stepped on the rubber — which gave them all sorts of lee-way to wander around the mound as they out-stalled a tough hitter.

Hitters formerly could be called out if they refused to take their place in the box, but nothing was said about stepping out of the box just as the pitcher made his delivery.

If the umpires enforce these two rules, says James Gallagher, head of the committee, "games should be speeded up."

The rules committee, which

Art Lessard, coach of St. Laurent Jets, was named the Metropolitan Junior Hockey League's first team All-Star Coach, but failed to place one of his players on the dream team.

Jets, who dominated the Western section all season, managed to pick up only two second team berths and Vic Rainville was the only player to grab a hunk of silverware.

National players dominated the first team with three players gaining berths, goaler Jacques Gagnery, winner Terry Gray and defenceman Yvon Paquette.

Quebec Frontenacs gained two first team berths with defenceman Jacques Begin and winger Aurelien Bilodeau, while Quebec Victorias gained one berth with league scoring champion Pierre-Rene Pichette.

Don Penniston, who took over Snowdon Ponsards late in the season was named second team coach.

Eric Reid, of Verdun Blues, won the goalers' position, while Guy Vallier of Lachine and Y. Trudel, of St. Laurent, made the defensive positions. Up front Snowdon's Connie Mandala, Vic Rainville, of St. Laurent, and Yves Sarrazin, of National, rounded out the team.

League officials announced the trophy winners as follows: Norm Dawe Trophy for Clean and Efficient Play to Claude Fournel of NDG.

Pit Lepine Trophy for best centre player to Pierre Pichette of Quebec Vics.

CJAD 800 Trophy for Most Valuable Player to his team, Terry Gray, National.

Tag Miller Trophy for best rookie to Eric Reid of Verdun.

Forrie Donaldson Trophy for best pro prospect to Terry Gray, National.

Metro Junior Trophy for best defenceman to Jacques Begin of Quebec Frontenacs.

CLMS Trophy for best 15-16 year old player, Claude Fournel, N.D.G.

Howie Morenz Memorial Trophy, league leading scorer, Pierre Pichette, Quebec Vics.

Leo Rivest, Trophy, second leading scorer, Vic Rainville, St. Laurent and Journal VI Trophy for third leading scorer, A. Drollet, Vics.

The Richard Junior Trophy for best team spirit to Jacques Contant, Lakeshore.

3rd Game Set For Saturday

The best-of-three semi-final playoff series of the St. Laurent Intermediate Hockey League goes into its third game on Saturday afternoon at St. Laurent Arena.

Michaud Freres after battling Royal Pharmacy to a 3-3 tie holds a 3-1 edge in points, or one win and a draw.

All Michaud Freres require is at least another tie game to eliminate Royal Pharmacy. A win for the druggists, however, will necessitate a fourth game before a winner is decided to meet MacRae Electric who are now biding their time, by virtue of their first place position.

Jim Kairns opened the scoring in last week's see-saw battle that saw both teams battle from behind to tie the score.

Taking passes from Roy Cherrier and Cliff Lehman, he beat Roy Scurrah to move Michaud ahead with Ewart Read cooling off in the sin bin.

However, Royal Pharmacy nullified this counter with one of their own when Brain McCann fooled Jim Kerr early in the middle frame. Both teams were at full strength although numerous penalties were handed out.

The third period produced the remainder of the scoring. Cliff Lehman moved Michaud ahead early in the period, but the score was quickly deadlocked with Wally David's goal for Royal Pharmacy 47 seconds later.

The game remained deadlocked at 2-2 until Ken Borwick put Royal Pharmacy in front for the first time with just over three minutes remaining.

A penalty to Ritchie Bell paved the way for Vince Ramsay to knot up the count with two minutes remaining and wind up the scoring.

A presentation to league president Gerry Kerr, who also doubles as timer and scorekeeper, was made last Saturday.

Gerry, who has put in five years' of service to the league,

Central YMCA Loses Crown

Hamilton Aquatic Club is the new Canadian junior water polo champions.

They wrested the National title away from Central YMCA Saturday by a round score of 11-8.

Central won the final game of the two-game, total-goals series, 5-4, but the visitors had taken the first game at Hamilton 7-3.

It was the second polo crown for Hamilton this year, the seniors having defeated Snowdon YMHA 26-11, earlier, for the major crown.

Saturday's game was a thriller all the way with Central grabbing a lead five times but never able to get more than one goal ahead.

Though they were the aggressors, Central never would have been close except for some sensational goaltending by Juris Svistunenko.

The heavy set goalie drew a fine hand from the packed house when he stopped a penalty shot in the deep end, and then blocked the rebound from four feet out.

John Pare scored three goals for Central with speed king Cameron Grout and Harry Oljemark counting singles. Ted Reid scored three and Ed Zelin-ski one for Hamilton.

Ottawa Boys' Club At Unity Saturday

Approximately 40 members of the Ottawa Boys' Club will be guests of the Unity Boys' Club on Saturday, March 30.

The visit is the first of a home-and-home annual inter-club basketball series with the return visit scheduled to take place the following Saturday at the Capital City.

These annual get-togethers have been in effect since 1947 and is considered by both clubs as the highlight and the climax to a very successful sports season.

Basketball is the primary reason for the planning of the series, however, the friendship and the fellowship which exists after the games have been won or lost, which ever the case may be, is the true success of the activity and the main reason why this type of event is scheduled.

Saturday, three games will be played at the U.B.C. court starting at 1:30 p.m. The age categories are as follows: 14 years of age and under; 16 years of age and under; 18 years of age and under.

The Goodwin Trophy which was won by the Unity Boys' Club last year will be awarded to the club with the highest aggregate points for the entire six games.

At the conclusion of the games the visitors and the club players will gather together for the banquet.

Second Soccer Loop Operates at Stadium

THE National Soccer League have been granted the use of the Verdun Stadium for the coming season.

At the city council meeting on Tuesday night, city manager Bob French was instructed to draw up the necessary contract with the city receiving 30 percent of the gross gate receipts after the deduction of taxes.

It was decided that the Verdun Rugby Football Club be granted the use of the Stadium and the general manager was instructed to make a contract between the city and the club, the same basis as last year will be in effect.

Tennis Pros Here At Forum, March 29

Pancho Gonzales and Ken Rosewall, who have been kicking up something of a storm in their pro tennis excursions, will display their talents in Montreal later this month. It all takes place at the Forum on March 29.

The boys aren't fooling on this tour, with something like $65,000 at stake for the man who comes out with the heftiest number of wins.

Last year, Gonzales overwhelmed Tony Trabert 74-27 to retain his title. Now the little Australian has hurled his hat into the ring in an effort to succeed where Trabert failed.

Also featured on the card will be Dinny Pails, a former member of the Davis Cup team from Australia, and Pancho Segura.

Unity Wins Game But Loses Round Score To Ottawa RCAF

The Unity Boys' Club Senior "B" basketball team, winners of the City and Provincial basketball championships for the second consecutive year, failed to advance along the playoff trail, when for the second consecutive year, they lost to the RCAF Rockets by the small margin of five points on the round score.

Ottawa Rockets dropped a 66-62 decision to the Unity quintet last Saturday in Ottawa, but won the two-game, total point Eastern Canada quarter-final basketball series, 131-126. Unity lost the series opener 69-60 in Montreal.

Unity cagers, led by Captain Ulric Brown, showed a powerful offensive drive that contrasted sharply with their performance against the Ottawa Club in the series opener, leading 31-24 at the half way mark.

Brown carried out his assignment of checking Ottawa's high scoring forward Bill Harrison to a standstill and at the same time paced the UBC team to a fabulous 22 points.

Previous to Saturday's game the Rockets' Harrison had been averaging 37.3 points per game.

The Rocket's other big scoring star, 6'10" Dick Holt, who totaled 30 points in the opening game, was also held down by the great defensive work of Grant Peterson, Ian McIntosh, Ronnie Hodgman and Ted Rice.

Holt scored 18 points, eight of which were foul shots.

It was pointed out, that the Rockets had never been beaten on their own floor over the past five years.

Early in the third quarter, Unity went ahead and was leading in the series by several points but just couldn't maintain the lead.

YMHA Blues Move Along Playoff Trial

Snowdon YMHA gained the finals of the Eastern Canada senior men's basketball series Saturday night by defeating Ottawa Shaffers 74-72 in the second game of a best-of-three contest here.

Snowdon Blues won the first game 93-71 at Ottawa the previous Saturday.

Herb Jacobson picked up the winning tally for the Blues in the final seconds of the game — his 25th point. Teammate Ed Lucht netted 22 points.

The Snowdon cagers overcame an early four-point deficit to take a 41-38 lead over the Shaffers at half-time, holding their narrow margin until the closing-minute deadlock.

Ottawa's high scorer was Pettinger, with 22 points, while Laschuk and Halpeny each picked up 10 points.

Other Snowdon scorers were Golfan, with nine, and Knobovitch with six.

Sportman's Show Opens Friday For Seven Days

The 13th annual Montreal Sportsman's Show will be held in the Show Mart from March 29 to April 7. The show will have the largest display of outdoor sporting equipment ever to appear under one roof in the province.

There will be extensive exhibits of live wild animals and game dish. The attending public will see costumed Indians performing their age-old rites; piano playing chimpanzees, tight-rope walking bears; fancy diving and swimming.

A huge plastic fish pond will give anxious anglers an opportunity to try their skill prior to the opening of the trout season.

In fact, the program suggests that anyone who attends the Montreal Sportsman's Show will have a whale of a good time for the few cents they pay for admission.

But the interesting fact about the show is that the profits from the sale of exhibit space and admissions are used towards the conservation of the province's fish and game resources.

The two co-sponsoring bodies — The Quebec Federation of Fish and Game Associations and Montreal Anglers and Hunters Inc. — depend largely on the proceeds from the Montreal Sportsman's Show to pay for their continuous conservation programs.

It requires considerable money to fight against lake and stream pollution; to poison public lakes and restock them with game fish; to establish and maintain game sanctuaries; to make game surveys; to prepare and distribute educational material on conservation to its own members, school children, and the general public.

McGill COTC, Fusiliers Win

Military Fastball League play-offs got under way last Friday night and McGill COTC and Fusiliers Mont-Royal came up with typical play-off action, providing fans with one of the best games of the year.

McGill, defending champions, emerged winners 3-0 in the tightly fought battle.

Pitcher Dave Copp packaged his own victory with a game winning double in the seventh inning to break a scoreless deadlock.

In another playoff Maison-neuve defeated 17th Hussars 17-11.

Copp and Fusilier Gaston Proulx waged a pitching duel right down to the wire. Both hurlers scattered six hits each. Copp struck out nine while Proulx fanned 14.

It was Copp's booming double with two on in the seventh that tipped the scales in his favor. The win gave McGill a 1-0 lead in the best-of-three semi-final.

In the other semi final Maisonneuve unleashed a 16-hit attack and had to call out reserve pitching help before subduing the Hussars.

Claude Bastien, Guy Riendeau and Hank Leith all took turns on the hills for the winners.

Hussars picked up 12 hits and Harry Harrison was charged with the defeat.

Second games in the series are scheduled for Friday with Fusiliers playing at McGill and Maisonneuve at Hussars.

MAAA Wins Swim Meet At YMHA

A team from the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association took first place in the Metropolitan men's junior swimming championship held at Davis YMHA Saturday.

The M.A.A.A. team scored 32 points. Alex Crosthwait was the leading light for the winners, winning the 15 yard free style and the 100 yard free style.

Palestre Nationale placed second with 15 points. Jacques Corbeil was top man with a win in the 400 yard free style.

The host club finished third with 13 points with Lorne Jacobs getting a goodly share of the digits with his 100 yard backstroke and 100 yard butterfly victories.

The Snowdon YMHA team was one point behind. Steve Rabinovitch won the 200 yard breast stroke for the club.

The Dr. A. Lapin Trophy was awarded the winning M.A.A.A.

Westmount Wins Senior 'B' Hockey Championship

Westmount High School Coach Ernie Hutchison captured the senior 'B' hockey championship their was perhaps the happiest of the bunch. His son is a member of the team.

The Westmount-Mt. Royal contest was a rough one as the boys traded hard checks without hesitation. All told 11 penalties were called, including two majors for fighting. Six of the penalties were against Mount Royal.

The teams battled to a 2-2 draw in the second game but Westies won the first 6-2, giving them a commanding four goal lead for the second contest.

There never was or will be a happier Westmount, while Gilfillan and Griffic scored for Vic Doleman's Townies.

Mrs. Gordon McKay Reports On Progress Of United Church Homes For Aged Ladies

The 15th annual meeting of the United Church Homes for Elderly ladies took place on Thursday in Cheney Hall, Erskine-American Church. Mrs. Gordon McKay, Chairman of the Board presided. Mrs. W. T. Shields, accompanied by Mrs. Noel Hardy was guest soloist and the tea hostesses were Mrs. C. R. Plaskett and Mrs. K. G. MacMillan assisted by members of the Board.

Mrs. McKay in addressing the meeting said "elderly women who make the tremendous adjustment to life in a home deserve more than the primary needs of the aged, good food, shelter, gracious and peaceful living.

In an appeal to the Homes board to "carry through, caring for them when they are sick, rather than sending them to hospitals or nursing homes," Mrs. McKay noted the large number of removals, and criticized the attitude of "false complacency."

"Every other Home or Institution on this island has recognized the imperative need for this nursing care and is doing something about it. Let us explore ways and means of finishing work well started," she said.

Mrs. McKay admired the re-furnishing of a room in the Pine Avenue Home, carried out in memory of the late Miss M. Wright, a delegate to the Homes' board, who died recently.

Extensive Red Cross work by the residents of the two homes was cited. The Red Cross Group at the Pine Avenue Home made 927 diapers and 1,942 swabs.

Ladies at Dun-edin Home knitted and sewed 160 pairs of socks and 84 pairs of socks, and helped the Cancer Group at the Town Hall.

The total of 43 ladies, aged 68 to 90 years were looked after at Dun-edin, reported Superintendent Miss Gardiner. Vacancies were filled to bring the Pine Avenue Home total to 15, aged 66 to 86, cared for, according to Superintendent Miss Philip.

Both superintendents expressed gratitude for cars sent to take James' Church, and those from Dun-edin to Montreal West Church. Christmas was made enjoyable for the elderly ladies Church, which also pays taxes and insurance, moderate monthly board from the guests, and donations. Income for the Pine Avenue Home was $10,195.62, disbursements $10,071. Income by generous donations of gifts and foods from church groups, clubs, Red Cross and merchants.

A new television set was bought for the Pine Avenue Home through donations. The larger is claimed to be a help to those whose sight is failing. Both Homes report enthusiastic television audiences each evening.

The two Homes installed new fire systems in 1956, and fire drills held regularly. "The ladies are at the fire escapes in three minutes, which we think is wonderful for their age," said Miss Gardiner.

SOURCE OF INCOME

Income for the Homes comes from three sources, Mrs. C. B. Parsons, treasurer, told the

Dr. B. Benjamin Emphasizes Danger Of Accidents To Pre-school Children

The pre-school child is in deadly danger because of preventable accidents which now account for more fatalities than any other cause, Dr. Ben Benjamin, associate medical director of the Child Health Association, said recently at the annual meeting of the Red Feather service. The meeting took place at the Chandler Health Centre, 830 Richmond Square.

Contagious diseases have all but disappeared from recent local mortality tables and infant mortality has diminished to an all-time low of 29 deaths per 1,000 live births, Dr. Benjamin said. The greatest hazards facing young children now are accidents in and around the home, almost all of which could have been foreseen and prevented. The only solution to the problem is an intensified accident prevention campaign aimed at parents and others who are responsible for children's safety. Of the three deaths among pre-school children known to Child Health clinics this year, two were accidental, Dr. Benjamin pointed out.

Statistics for the year showed that 4,681 individuals were under care. Clinics, both medical and dental, numbered 689, at which total attendance was 14,815. Service was extended to social agencies in the community caring for children and families, and recreation agencies with vacation camp programs. Immunization against communicable disease was a major concern and almost all the children who had received initial inoculations of Salk Vaccine were rounded up for the final shot.

Mental Health Program
Miss Marjorie Milligan, director of the Child Health Association, reported that a psychiatrist will be provided through the Mental Hygiene Institute three times a month to continue the mental health program first started in 1932. The psychiatrist will be available for consultation on special cases and for continuing staff education.

Home visiting has been greatly accelerated within the year, Miss Milligan reported. Nurses become acquainted with the total health picture of the entire family and are able to extend individual care to people who do not respond to group treatment. The lack of adequate housing for low-income families has become increasingly apparent as nurses have gone on their rounds, she said. Although the general level of employment and income has been good, high rents and scarcity of decent dwellings has remained a major problem. Linked to this is the shrinking area of safe play space for children. This fact is closely allied to disbursements $20,619.66. Donations for 1956 totalled $5,829, of this amount $5,000 came from an interested friend for building extension.

the high accident rate among young children, Miss Milligan said.

Dental Clinics

The Child Health Association now operates six dental clinics a week and appointments must be made three months in advance, Miss Milligan reported. This is highly unsatisfactory for both the agency and the children needing dental attention, and more clinics are needed. Last year, advanced dental equipment was installed, making it possible to do more complicated work, for which there has been a great need.

Officers elected were W. H. Tripp, president; Miss Hazel Ralston, George R. Disher, vice-presidents; J. C. Snowdon, hon. treasurer; Mrs. Allan F. Lynch, hon. secretary; J. H. H. Robertson, Q. C. hon. legal adviser.

Identical Twin Duo-Pianists

BY FRANCES GOLTMAN

Ernest and Miles Mauney.

Identical twin duo-pianists gave the final concert last evening of the Notre Dame de Grace Community Concerts Series in Loyola Auditorium. These two gentlemen are not only identical in looks but have identical exceptional talent at the two keyboards. Everyone left the hall in happy mood expressing delight over the wonderful concert.

The twin pianists offered a program of extremely wide variety and immediately established that they are in the top notch class. The concert began with a Bach Chorale Prelude followed by an exquisite performance of the celebrated Scherzo from A Midsummer Night's Dream by Mendelssohn arranged for two pianos by Isador Philipp. Their rendition was reminiscent of The First Piano Quartet, the lightness and precision was faultless. A poetic Notturmo by Respighi-Guenther came next and Allegro Non Troppo from Sonata in F minor opus 34 by Brahms showed the German master's chordal eloquence with sparkling technical facility.

For their second group the Mauney twins offered a Scriabin Fantasy that was both diabolical and soothing by contrast. Le Reveur by Arensky did not appeal to us. The Perpetual Motion by Weber was a revelation to the audience since it was played in unison with such perfect precision the ensemble seemed like a single instrument with great sonority.

Memories of Childhood by Pinto, five short numbers heard frequently were played in dazzling style and The Maiden And The Nightingale by Granadas was a well chosen contrast. Dukas' Sorcerer's Apprentice was given an exciting rendition.

The last group included a Bolero Moderne by Morton Gould, a rhythmic gem. A Highlander number arranged by Ray Koos came next and the Flight of The Bumble Bee by Rimsky-Korsakoff captivated the audience. It was one of the many highlights of the concert.
