

THE BRITISH EMPIRE IS A COMMUNITY OF FREE STATES

Have Interests In Common And If Honor, Integrity Or Interests Are Attacked Every Part Is Expected To Rise And Act, Says Premier King

(By Geo. Hambleton)

London, Oct. 18.—"We believe," declared Premier Mackenzie King to-night at a dinner given in his honor by the Canada Club, "the British Empire is a community of free states. It is a community in which we have interests in common and we believe that if the honor, integrity or common interests of that community are attacked every part and portion of the Empire may be expected to rise and act as one. We believe also that in this community of nations, as you give expression to the national life of the different parts of the Empire, so you permit them the authority and full right which goes with the growth of nationhood, so you will help to install, not only a feeling of greater pride in their own countries but greater confidence in the Empire to which they belong."

The large dining room of the Savoy was crowded for the occasion.

P. C. Larkins, Canadian High Commissioner in London presided and referred to Premier King as having shown his worthiness for the high office he filled with honor to his country and with credit to his country.

Welcomed by Former Governors

The Duke of Connaught and the Duke of Devonshire who likewise spoke also had a word of welcome for the Canadian Premier. The Duke of Devonshire expressed the profound hope that the Imperial conferences would make some material contribution towards the solution of those problems which "are pressing with such severity upon a world war-weary to distraction."

Premier King referred to recent gifts to the Canadian archives of the Lord Durham and Lord Monckton papers. He sketched the early Canadian history and recent developments in the Dominion, observing that the Durham papers show such valuable light on some phases of Canadian history that a large part has been rewritten.

Premier King referred to the amicable relations between the different races and religions in Canada as offering an example to the rest of the world of live-and-let-live, forgive-and-forget.

Amount of Suspicion Remains
"In this old world, particularly in the continent of Europe," he continued, "there still remains an amount of suspicion, hatred and revenge which the countries of the newer world would gladly help remove."

The Premier believed that in matters of trade Canada was getting back to her normal state. She had turned the corner. For a time following the war conditions in Canada were very serious. There had been a great deal of unemployment but employment was now increasing. Production was greater than it had been for a long time. Canada held great opportunities for investment and was ready to welcome all those from the British Isles who were willing to take their places on the farms.

Full Right to Self-Government

Referring to the Halibut treaty between the United States and Canada, Premier King argued that it was of concern only to these two countries. In having it signed by the Canadian Minister of Fisheries there had not been the slightest intention to show any disrespect to the British Ambassador at Washington, but added Mr. King, "we feel that so far as domestic affairs are concerned we have full right to self-government. We feel as regards matters of trade and tariff we have the right to negotiate with our neighbors or with any country. It did not take away from the prestige of the British Crown that a Canadian Minister should have authority from the Crown to sign with plenipotentiary power on a matter that related exclusively to his own country."

Where, however, other parts of the Empire were involved, Mr. King agreed that no one part should take any steps without the full concurrence and consent of all.

And where the question was one of high politics it would be adding to the prestige of the Empire to see that the signature was representative of the Empire as a whole.

Canada Perfectly Contented

Hon. G. P. Graham submitted three points to his hearers, first that Canada is perfectly contented as a member of the British organization,

SWORE ARCHITECT WAS PAID $191,000

Reverend Sister Of Ottawa Convent Gave Evidence In Montreal Court

Montreal, Oct. 19.—Monseigneur A. Beaudry, Cure of the Parish of St. Alphonse de Richelieu and chaplain to the Sisters of the Precious Blood, Ottawa, was the main witness here this afternoon in the trial of Alphonse Contant, architect, who is charged with appropriating $191,000 between May 1913 and November 1920.

Father Beaudry stated he had power of attorney to collect any moneys due to the Sisters of the Precious Blood. In virtue of this he went to Contant's house on February 16th, 1922, and explained his mission. He was given a very cordial reception and invited to dinner where he found the "food good and the cigars excellent." However, no result came of the visit, Contant stating that certain papers in connection with the case were at Woodlands near Chateaugay.

On Feb. 28 the Cure again called on Contant. This time his reception was not so cordial and he was told that the papers at Woodlands had been stolen. Father Beaudry appealed to Mrs. Contant stating that the Sisters had no place to sleep as the floors and partitions of their convent were unfinished. He asked that a number of bank shares of which Contant was supposed to be in possession, might be converted into cash and paid to the Sisters.

Following this Mr. Beaudry wrote to Contant but received no answer. Finally he testified that Contant had told him over the telephone that "such a letter was not worthy of an answer."

Negotiations of a friendly character then ensued. Wilfrid Phaneuf, sub-contractor for the architect, stated that during the six months he superintended the building, not more than $15,000 could possibly have been spent for labor.

Sister Marie de la Trinite who also gave evidence during the morning session regarding the sums of money paid out, swore that the Sisters of the Precious Blood have paid $191,000 to the accused.

The trial was adjourned until next Tuesday.

MANY SUGGESTIONS FOR FIRE PROTECTION

Education Of Children In Schools Strongly Advocated At Convention

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 18.—New Federal legislation which will give wider powers in the prosecution of cases instigated by provincial fire officials will be sought by the Fire Marshals of Canada. It was decided at the opening meeting of their convention here. The present section of the code dealing with such cases was branded as a "joke and utterly unworkable."

Educational plans to be carried on through the schools in the prevention of fire and suggestions of uniform regulations for the handling of gasoline were other topics dealt with during the morning session.

Five provinces of Canada were represented in the gathering which is a feature of the annual convention of fire insurance superintendents now in session here.

ELEVEN ALLEGED CONSPIRATORS ROUNDED-UP

Charged With Bribing Prohibition Agents To Allow LLOYD GEORGE VISITS

OVER 2,000 SALOONS

One Agent Alleged To Have Received $4,500 A Week Before Making Arrests

New York, Oct. 18.—The Federal Government today fired a double-barrelled charge into wet forces alleged to be drenching New York and New Jersey with illicit liquor. With one charge Federal agents, working under direct orders from Washington, brought down a bag of eleven alleged conspirators, rounded up in the Hotel Pennsylvania and elsewhere and alleged to have been using $80,000 to bribe prohibition agents not to stop the brewing of real beer in New Jersey; not to interfere with the carrying of industrial alcohol into liquor and to block the flooding of New York and New Jersey with beer from rival vats in Pennsylvania.

With the other barrel, the Government fired a broadside into the first of several thousand saloonkeepers alleged to be running wide open in New York city since the repeal of the State prohibition law.

Fifty-Four Suits Were Filed.

Fifty-four suits were filed in Federal Court to padlock these alleged speak-easies under provisions of the Volstead Act and United States Attorney Hayward added that more actions would be brought as soon as clerks could make out the complaints on their typewriters.

The round-up at Hotel Pennsylvania came at the close of the day Federal prohibition and Treasury agents on appointment made with the alleged bribers, waited in several rooms and took their guests into custody one by one as they arrived.

It was stated that a regular weekly bribe of $4,500 was accepted by one of the agents before making the arrests.

All of the eleven were arraigned before Federal Commissioner Boyle late in the day and released on $15,000 bail each for a hearing on November 1. All were well-dressed and appeared at their case as they heard the charges read. A bonding company furnished bail.

When earlier in the day United States Attorney Hayward filed his injunction suits to close alleged wet saloons and cabarets he said he had locality card index of some 1,100 open saloons. He estimated that there were more than 2,000 Manhattan and the Bronx alone and declared they had taken on a new lease of life since repeal of State prohibition act.

"The old saloons," he said, "are with us still and have taken a new lease of life since they defeated the efforts of the State of New York to put them out of business and this great State has surrendered."

GERMANY FACES REVOLUTION AND COMPLETE RUIN

Complete Wreck Of Entire Economic Structure Is Making Masses Restive

RED SAXON REGIME

Two Rabid Communist Ministers Refuse To Take Oath Of Allegiance

Berlin, Oct. 18.—With the situation in the Ruhr and Rhineland rapidly approaching a condition of an acute social and economic crisis, with Saxony's Socialist-Communist Ministry continuing its defiance of the Central Government and with Bavaria having severed diplomatic relations with Saxony, Chancellor Stresemann's coalition cabinet is confronted with issues which will afford it an early opportunity to make use of the dictatorial authority voted it by the Reichstag in the emergency power bill.

While these are the outstanding issues which harbor elements of immediate danger, the internal situation in its entirety, especially with respect to the financial calamity toward which all classes of the population are heading through the further depreciation in the value of the mark, is automatically constituting itself a contributory factor which is destined to have a decisive bearing on the further course of events.

With the dollar mark notch today a new period of price chaos set in and with it the Government's helplessness with respect to the adoption of speedy reformatory measures became more emphasized. The social situation growing out of the complete wreck of the nation's economic structure is making the Socialist party restive in that it apparently no longer is able to cope with the clamor of the masses, whose cause is being espoused by the more militant of the Communists. This phase of the situation already is seriously reacting on the United Socialist party's attitude toward the coalition Government, in which it is holding three cabinet posts; and as the party as such, also is demanding the repeal of the state of emergency act in an effort to placate the rampant Saxon Government, it is viewed as not improbable that the Socialist party will instruct its members of the cabinet to retire from the Government.

Would Wreck Ministry.

Such an eventuality in all probability would wreck Chancellor Stresemann's present Ministry, unless Ebert in the emergency should give Stresemann carte blanche authority to wield his dictatorship without heed of party or partisan consideration.

Herman Mueller and Otto Weis, who are traditional enemies of the Socialist party when important assignments are decided upon, had a lengthy conference with President Ebert.

Representatives of the Socialists and Communists also have been conducting informal deliberations looking toward the creation of a proletarian working alliance although the ultra reds have put forward such extreme demands that the conferences have been postponed for the time being.

However, a significant as representing the first serious attempt to unite both the radical parties on a common platform, especially as the Socialist party, as such, up to quite recent times has openly and repeatedly asseverated its refusal to make common cause with the Communists.

Ultra Red Saxon Regime.

Since the German Bolsheviks joined in the formation of the Saxon Ministry, the previously existing new cleavage has become considerably blurred and there is an insistent demand in the ranks of Berlin Socialists that the Central Government forthwith assume a more conciliatory attitude toward Premier Zeigler and his Red Saxon regime.

By way of laying stress on its defiance of the Berlin Government the Saxon Government to-day announced the appointment of two rabid Communists, Herr Boettcher and Herr Heckert, as Saxony's delegates to the Federal Council. Herr Boettcher, who is Minister of Finance in the Zeigler cabinet, is a young Communist who has just returned from Moscow, where he is reported to have taken a course of instruction at the Soviet's fountain head. Herr Heckert is Minister of Economics and as such holds a portfolio of strategic importance to his party in view of Saxony's pre-eminence as an industrial State.

Both these Ministers have refused to take the oath of allegiance to the Republic constitution and this is being made a cardinal feature of the controversy with the Berlin Government. A section of the Bourgeois press demands that both men be forced to swear fealty to the Republic or retire from office.

The Central Government's failure to obtain even a small degree of accommodation from M. Poincare, the French Premier, in connection with its programme for a resumption of the Ruhr industries has also

CUT OUT N.Y. AS PORT OF CALL

Garland Line Restrict Sailings And Reduce Heavy Tonnaged Coastal Trade

New York, Oct. 18.—What may prove to be the first step toward a predicted reduction of the heavily tonnage intercoastal trade, gradually built up since June of 1922, was made known here yesterday in the announced withdrawal from New York as an Atlantic port of call of the ships of the Garland Line.

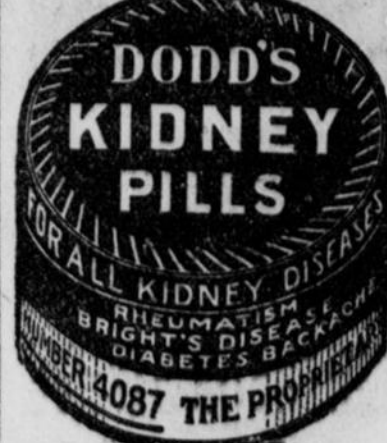

This service established about one year ago, following the purchase from the Shipping Board of several ships, has had as its Atlantic terminals New York, Baltimore and Norfolk. Effective with the sailing from this port last Saturday of the steamship William Perkins, the line until further notice will use only Baltimore and Norfolk. The main office and headquarters of the company will be continued, however, in this city.

Reasons for the dropping of New York is understood to be a growing shortage of cargo from this section and a concentration of the energies of the line on the other ports near to which a greater share of the business which the line enjoys originates.

For some time steamship men here have been predicting that the intercoastal trade had reached a point where from the standpoint of the volume of cargo offered there would be created a necessity for some of the lines to restrict its service. The conference of the lines engaged now includes fourteen companies, and the volume of tonnage is in excess of 1,500,000 deadweight tons. In addition at least one line operating a weekly freight service which is not affiliated with the conference.

Congestion in this trade, occasioned possibly in part by the low ebb of overseas traffic, has been the occasion of protests on the part of steamship owners relative to continued operation in it of Government owned ships. Recent resolutions adopted by the American Steamship Owners' Association asking immediate extension of American coastwise laws to the Philippines were proposed as a possible means for finding other employment of ships now in the Canal service.

All argument will vanish before one touch of nature.

RUSSIA FAST COMING BACK

Most Advanced Of Any Near East Country Re Transportation Return

Contrary to the majority of public opinion, Russia appears to have made more rapid strides in reverting to normal conditions in transportation than any other of the Near East countries. Railways are functioning throughout the country, and conditions appear to be improving daily, according to cable advice received yesterday by the local office of the White Star-Dominion Line, announcing the impending opening of a new company office at Odessa, in the South Ukraine. Staffed with both English and Russian speaking clerks, the office is expected to be opened for business at the end of the month, to handle the heavy pre-war traffic originating from South Russia.

In view of the large numbers of travellers daily leaving Moscow and Riga for this side of the Atlantic, the Soviet authorities are now operating special trains three times a week from Moscow direct to Riga, for the exclusive use of White Star Line passengers, the cable stated. Cars are of the most modern design and equipment, and all trains are accompanied by the White Star Line's own conductors.

NO CHANCE IN SUIT AGAINST GOVERNMENT

But Action May Be Brought Against Shareholders As Well As Directors

HOME BANK CASE Counsel For Dominion Gov't. Expresses Opinion As To Possible Litigation

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Home Bank depositors have no chance in a suit against the Federal Government to recover their losses. Actions may be brought against shareholders as well as directors for the recovery of improperly taken dividends.

These two statements were made today by H. J. Scott, K.C., counsel for the Dominion Government in the Home Bank matter, in answer to questions as to the litigation that may come.

The statement is made that directors will be held liable if it is shown that dividends were improperly declared and distributed. "How about the shareholders who received those dividends. Will they also be sued?" he was asked. "I should say that there is ground for action against the shareholders also for the dividends they received, if they were not properly paid," said the Government counsel.

Shareholders Are Liable. Whether such actions had been actually decided on as yet he would not say. But as a point of law he said that the shareholders were liable for what they had received if they were not legally entitled to them.

"How about the suggestion of the depositors that they may ask for a flat from the Government to use it for the recovery of their losses through the Home Bank collapse?"

Action Would Be Absurd. Mr. Scott smiled. "That is for the Government to say whether it wishes to grant such a flat, but I know that my opinion is such an action would be absurd. There would be no ground for it. It would have the same chance that a tall candle has in the nether regions."

Questioned as to what the probability is of recovery of the $750,000 paid out in Home Bank dividends in the years 1916-1922 inclusive, Mr. Scott was far from optimistic. "My information is that the directors are not very wealthy and I am afraid that we will not be able to realize anything like that total from them if a recovery action is brought," he said.

The collection of the double liability, it is expected will prove a difficult matter as many of the shareholders will be unable to meet it.

NO INFLATION OF CURRENCY

British Government Will Not Adopt Any Such Financial Expedient

London, Oct. 18.—Great interest has been aroused recently by reports that the Government was considering a policy of currency inflation as a remedy for the present serious unemployment which some economists had attributed to too rapid deflation, but if the Government ever contemplated such a policy it would seem that it has thought better of the idea.

Sir Laming Worthington Evans, Postmaster-General, in a speech at Colchester today, emphasized the need of a sound currency system and said of the rumors that the Government intended to manufacture artificial money currency that it had no such intention.

Frederick Goodenough, chairman of Barclay's bank, in a speech at the same meeting made it clear that he was opposed to any policy of inflation. He pointed out that the danger of unchecked inflation and declared his belief that a policy of deliberate inflation would not cure the evils of unemployment nor secure commercial prosperity for the Empire. On the other hand deflation was a matter requiring handling with the greatest care and with due regard to the conditions existing elsewhere.

It was to Mr. Goodenough that Minister of Labor Barlow in a speech last week erroneously attributed the plan for currency inflation.

All the officers, with the exception of Mr. Valliquette, have been re-elected for a third term. Abbe H. Brousseau, of St. Bernard's, was re-elected chaplain.

His friends will be pleased to note that Notary L. N. Ricard, M. P. P. for St. Maurice, who had been laid up in the hospital where he underwent a rather serious operation, is now quite convalescent and will soon be his own self again. Owing to his illness, Mr. Ricard could not take part in the by-elections in Richmond, Yamaska and Abitibi.

BOISVERT-DELSILE To-day the wedding of Miss Maria Boisvert to Mr. Antonio Delsile, jeweller of this city, was celebrated at St. Marc Church by Revd. C. O. Baribeault.

During the nuptial ceremony, the music was rendered by several friends of the newlyweds. Mrs. G. Huot, organist, played.

The bride wore a blue gown with hat and train and carried a bouquet of American Beauty Roses.

Following the ceremony, there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Delsile left on their wedding trip to Montreal, Toronto and other points in Ontario.

SUBMIT PLANS FOR PROTECTION OF DEPOSITORS

Meeting In Toronto To Devise Means Of Saving Something From Wreck

PROFIT TAXES Paid To Government When Home Bank Was Making No Profits

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Plans to protect the savings of 60,000 depositors of the Home Bank were made this afternoon at a meeting of the committee of fifteen chosen by the general meeting of depositors recently.

W. T. J. Lee presided and almost all of the fifteen were present. The meeting was private, but according to the subsequent statement of I. Weldon, counsel for the depositors, the following motion was unanimously adopted:

"Moved by H. Weinfeld, K.C., of Montreal, seconded by H. Higginbotham, Calgary, Secretary of the U.F.A., that the depositors committee adopt the following program of activities, which are later to be put before the depositors for consideration at their meeting in Toronto on Dec. 6:

"(A)—The formation of a holding company to take over the assets of the Home Bank with a view to minimizing the cost of liquidation.

(Clause B dealt with an application which is to be made to Parliament, but which Mr. Weldon did not wish to reveal.)

Ask Government to Return Taxes. "(C)—As the Home Bank has been paying large amounts to the Treasury of Canada in the way of business profits tax, when as a matter of fact there were no profits being made by the bank, the Government of Canada be asked to return this money to the liquidators."

"It was decided," said Mr. Weldon, "to apply to the Government to make good the entire losses of the depositors on the ground of negligence of the Department of Finance, inasmuch as they were perfectly cognizant several years ago of the state of affairs of the bank."

It was felt, he added, that when the assistant to the President of the bank reported to the Government that dividends were being paid out of deposits, and not being earned, that it was the duty of the Finance Department to have protected the public in some way.

The meeting also received with a great deal of satisfaction, said Mr. Weldon, the announcement that while no binding agreement had been made, the other banks were considered to be on the point of advancing to depositors a sum equal to twenty-five per cent of the total deposits as soon as the legal formalities could be observed.

ARTHUR SAUVE IS OPTIMISTIC

Expresses Great Hopes In Results Of Four By-Elections On Monday

Montreal, Oct. 18.—"I have the best of news from the Counties of Brome, Richmond and Yamaska, where our excellent candidates are fighting with the aid of very devoted friends," said Mr. Sauve, Opposition leader, tonight in the course of an interview on the present by-elections.

"I have confidence. I do not believe that Ministerial promises, increased Government grants, as well as the efforts of the Liquor Commission, can stifle the current of public opinion that is manifesting itself in our favor.

"I am much pleased with the meeting at St. Francois du Lac last Monday," added the Opposition leader, "and very glad to have met Hon. Mr. Perron.

"As to Abitibi, three Liberals are engaged in a life and death struggle. Messrs. Boisvert and Gauthier are," said Mr. Sauve, "denouncing the autocracy of the Government candidate and his clique of autocrats. They claim that the colonist has been at the mercy of speculators and favorites of the Government."

GREAT CROWD AT OTTAWA

Witnessed Consecration Of The New Bishop Of The Diocese Of Haileybury

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—An inspiring ceremony was enacted in the Basilica here today when Mgr. Rheame was consecrated Bishop of Haileybury. Mgr. Rheame succeeds in his important duties Mgr. Latulippe and it would seem that he will be as well beloved as his predecessor. At the episcopal consecration there were present thirteen Archbishops and Bishops and a tremendous crowd of onlookers.

Mgr. Ennard, Archbishop of Ottawa, presided at the ceremony assisted by Mgr. D. J. Scollard, Mgr. J. E. Limoges, Mgr. L. N. Campeau, Preliminary R. T. Lapointe and Preliminary R. T. Lapointe, representing Cardinal Beaudry. A sermon was given in French by Mgr. Rouleau, Bishop of Valleyfield.

In the choir there were, among others, Mgr. Michel Joseph, Archbishop of Kingston, Mgr. Georges Gaudier, of Toronto, and Apostolic Administrator of the Montreal diocese, Mgr. Joseph Simon Hermann Brunsau, Bishop of Nicolet, Mgr. David Scollard, Bishop of Sault Ste. Marie, Mgr. Michael Joseph O'Brien, Bishop of Peterboro, and Mgr. Joseph Romuald Leonard, Bishop of Rimouski.

The various dioceses of Quebec and Eastern Ontario were represented by members of educational and religious institutions. Among many distinguished laymen present was the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province.

Speaking at a banquet at the University of Ottawa after the ceremony Mgr. Rheame said that he had spent his life as a professor and he had always endeavored to inculcate in the minds of the young a love of God and a love of duty. He had hoped, he said, to spend the remainder of his days in that university directing the efforts of the young, but he was there to say good-bye and he hoped that his hearers would believe that he said it with a very deep and very real regret.

Before leaving to take up his new duties Mgr. Rheame will administer Confirmation to the children of the parish of the Sacre-Coeur.

TURKEY PROHIBITS FOREIGN NEWS SERVICE

Outside Agencies Must Confine Services To Out-Going News

Constantinople, Oct. 18.—Beginning October 1st the introduction of news into Turkey by foreign agencies was prohibited. The official Anatolian agency, like its prototypes all over Central and Eastern Europe, assumes a monopoly of the distribution of news in Turkey.

This displaces the British and French agency services which are now confined to the function of out-going news.

During the war and the Allied occupation it has been the custom of the embassies or high commissions to distribute to the local press vernacular and foreign language their official wireless news service. This is stopped.

Embassies may make public news relating to their own countries, but the publication of news so supplied and relating to another country is prohibited.

Zekarias Bay, director of the press, said this was done to stop propaganda in Turkey. He is not yet certain of the Government's plans relating to the source of the Anatolian agency's foreign service. They are testing out the European agencies. He admits they may use them for a while, but the plan contemplated is to have native Turkish correspondents and bureaus in the world capitals.

HAS NOT AGREED TO AUTONOMOUS RHINELAND.

Berlin, Oct. 18.—Reports circulated here to the effect that Chancellor Stresemann had agreed to an autonomous Rhineland were denied today by the Chancellor as absolutely unfounded.

SHORTAGE OF WATER MAY CLOSE FACTORIES.

Hackensack, N.J., Oct. 18.—Industrial plants in Northern New Jersey today were facing a shut-down of their water supply. Today's rain, it is believed, had little effect on the supply available to the Hackensack Water Co. It probably will be tomorrow before an accurate measurement of the water supply can again be made.

Despite the cutting off of water, however, industrial plants continued to operate so far as possible, no wholesale suspensions of work being reported. In West New York 1,500 persons were temporarily thrown out of work by the shortage, while West Hoboken reported 900 and North Hudson about 5,000. The domestic supply as yet has not been curtailed.

LAKE CUT-OFF IS NEARLY COMPLETED

Montreal, Oct. 18.—Construction of the Long Lake cut-off connecting what was formerly the Canadian Northern main line through Ontario, with the Transcontinental line, is nearly completed and barring adverse weather conditions the new line is expected to be ready for operation about November 15th. The cut-off is about thirty miles in length and runs from Long Lake Station—138 miles east of Port Arthur and at the most northerly point in Ontario on what was the Canadian Northern Railroad main line—to Nakina Station on the Transcontinental of the C. N. R. about 18 miles west of the divisional point at Grant.

It will reduce considerably the distance and running time of trains on the Canadian National system between Sault Ste. Marie and Winnipeg, and Toronto and Winnipeg.

QUEBEC, OCTOBER 19, 1923.

PUBLIC ACCIDENT PREVENTION.

No one will dispute the desirability of reducing accidents, whether in industrial plants, on the streets or elsewhere, to a minimum, though some scepticism may exist as to the efficacy of even the most carefully organized and widely embracing safety campaign to save the fool from his folly or the unwary from their negligence. Those who were privileged to be present at the organization meeting of the Quebec Safety League, held in Montreal last Wednesday, however, and who heard prominent experts in safety work from Ontario and the United States give facts and figures that served to demonstrate the literally surprising results obtained in a short space of time through organization, went away convinced that accident prevention in industrial and community life is a practical possibility.

In this connection one of the most informative addresses delivered was that by Mr. C. W. Price, Vice-President in charge of the Public Safety Division of the Elliott Service Company, New York City, and formerly General Manager of the National Safety Council of the United States, who laid before this Montreal conference of municipal and Provincial authorities, railway and tramway executives, civic and industrial leaders, and others interested in the conservation of human life, a plan for a public accident prevention campaign developed in the United States within the last two years, that can be adapted to a city of any size. Mr. Price declared at the outset that "A new chapter in the development of the safety movement has just been written in the United States. It is a chapter as important as would be a report of the discovery of a sure cure for cancer. I am referring to the recent discovery of the fact, first, that it is possible for any city to reduce accidents on the streets, in the homes, and everywhere outside of industry at least 50 to 75 per cent, and second, the discovery of the methods that will bring about such a reduction. I say this is as important as would be a discovery for the cure of cancer because the number of persons killed by public accidents in the United States each year is now approximately 60,000 men, women and children. Undoubtedly the situation is as bad in Canada.

"The accident problem is, in fact, even more serious than the cancer problem because whereas deaths from cancer are decreasing slightly each year, deaths from public accidents are mounting rapidly each year. Within the last years, however, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Baltimore, Louisville, and Washington, D.C., have learned how to control the public accident situation. Washington has made the most recent demonstration in accident prevention and in the given time the best safety record of any American city. In the first six months of its campaign, accidental deaths were reduced 27.4 per cent, accidental deaths to children were reduced 49 per cent and on the basis of the number of vehicles in use Washington has reduced serious traffic accidents 62 per cent."

A study of the activities which enabled these cities to halt the steady rise in fatal accidents and in fact to reduce the number of deaths from traffic accidents by fifty per cent or more reveals the significant fact, explained the speaker, that just five activities were responsible for this reduction in practically each of the cities. And it so happens that these five activities, which it is now recognized are the determining factors in the success of any community safety campaign, are activities which can be brought into play by a city of any size anywhere and at an insignificant cost. These activities are:

1. A properly organized Safety Week campaign to make people realize that it is possible to avoid accidents and so to properly introduce a permanent safety campaign.
2. Systematic daily safety instruction in the public and parochial schools.
3. A year round safety poster campaign on the streets.
4. A free safe Drivers' School for operators of commercial vehicles.
5. An intensive educational campaign through the press.

These five activities will work as well in one city as in another no matter how large or small. "There is no excuse," asserted Mr. Price in conclusion, "for the failure of any city to control its public accident problem for the plans that were found to be successful in Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Louisville and New York and the material which was designed for use in those five cities is now available to any community."

The Ancient Capital, with its growing population, its narrow thoroughfares and steep hills, as well as its extensive industries has a direct interest in accident prevention and we trust that its leading men will play an active part in the newly organized Safety League of the Province.

PRESERVATION OF LANDMARKS.

The plea made by Mr. J. A. McManamy before the Rotary Club this week for the preservation of local historic landmarks is not unneeded. Anyone, who, like himself, has had occasion to take particular note of the situation, must have been impressed by the poor condition of several of the monuments and other objects of interest in the city, and the authorities might well undertake a systematic cleaning and, where necessary, restoration before the next tourist season opens so that strangers may not receive the impression that Quebec is false to the chosen motto of the Province, "I Remember."

The Provincial Government has always taken a keen interest in the subject of historical landmarks and the Dominion Government, for its part, is carrying through a scheme to mark and preserve all national sites throughout the Dominion, that has aroused interest outside of Canada as well as within the country. Each Province has numerous landmarks that are closely connected with its history and, given interested co-operation between the Federal, Provincial and civic authorities there is no reason why any of them should be neglected.

It was early in 1914 that a beginning was made by the Ottawa Government in marking and preserving these landmarks, but it was not until after the war that a determined effort was made to centralize and systematize the work. A board of prominent Canadian historians was appointed to superintend the work in connection with the Dominion parks branch. It was first decided to make a detailed survey of historic landmarks, and to date nearly 600 have been inspected.

Several sites which appeared to be of national importance were selected by the board and work has begun on restoration. In addition, between fifty and sixty aboriginal earthworks have been chosen for preservation and steps are being taken by the Dominion parks branch toward securing titles to the sites and having them suitably marked. An artistic tablet to be used in this connection has been designed by a well-known Canadian artist, and plaques are being cast in bronze. An attractive design has also been made for a memorial cairn, built of rough stones, which it is intended to erect on those sites where the original remains have been effaced.

CHINA AND THE INTERNATIONAL LABOUR OFFICE.

A striking example of the far-reaching influence of the International Labour Organization as a factor of progress in the sphere of industrial life and labour is furnished by the Factory Regulations recently issued by the Chinese Minister of Agriculture and Commerce.

It was hoped at the time of the establishment of the International Labour Organization that particularly beneficent results would be secured through its work in countries relatively undeveloped from the standpoint of factory legislation. Experience has shown that this hope was fully justified. Great progress has been made in Japan and India, and now China has announced the promulgation of a system of factory regulations.

The Washington Conference in 1919 appointed a Commission to consider the application of the convention limiting hours of work to certain special countries where special circumstances, such as the imperfect development of factory organizations, climatic conditions, etc., make necessary a modification of the terms set out for general application. A number of recommendations were made by this Commission in respect to China. Effect has now been given to these by the Chinese Government in the Presidential decree of March 29, 1923, promulgating the provisional Factory Regulations. The main provisions of the text of the Regulations, which has recently been communicated to the International Labour Office, are as follows:

The hours of work in factories employing more than 100 persons are limited to 10 per day for adult workers and to 8 a day for workers under 17 years of age.

Rest periods are provided for at least two days in the month for adult and of at least three days in the month for male workers under 17 years of age and for female workers under 18 years of age.

Prohibition of employment of boys under 10 and girls under 12.

Granting of three weeks before and after childbirth and maternity benefit to women workers.

Prohibition of night work for male persons under 17 and female persons under 18 years of age.

Provision of breaks amounting to at least one hour per day.

Payment for overtime at increased rates. Compulsory submission to administrative authorities by the employer of regulations dealing with indemnities, benefits, old age pensions, etc.

The field of application of these Regulations extends not only to Chinese factories but also to foreign factories established on the territory of China, irrespective of the number of persons employed, in which conditions exist which are dangerous to the life or injurious to the health of the workers.

These Regulations have been brought into force as a provisional measure pending the approval of Parliament of a bill dealing with the protection of workers which is now under discussion.

It is high time that national organizations, in forming their Provincial branches, should recognize that Quebec consists of more than the city of Montreal.

If world peace, as asserted by Mr. Lloyd George, hangs upon a reparations settlement, it is to be feared that it is hanging upon the proverbial hair, judging by all indications thus far.

Great Britain constructed a naval base in the North Sea for the last conflict and is now preparing to build one in the Pacific in anticipation of the next world war. How the storm centre does shift!

One Montreal paper says the crop movement may be greatly handicapped for lack of Great Lakes shipping and another says that all the shipping needed is available. When experts disagree the layman must make his own guess.

A Verse Or Two

HOW DEAR TO THE HEART!

How dear to this heart are the scenes of my childhood. When fond recollection presents them to view! The clothes by the swimming-pool hopelessly mildewed

With those tell-tale spots which my infancy knew! The wide-roaming dog, and the dirt that stuck to him. But spread o'er the porch when he'd tired of his rove, The broom which my mother would seize to pursue him,

And o'er the black bucket that stood by the stove! The old spacious bucket, the galvanized bucket, The coal-bulging bucket that stood by the stove!

How sweet from a coal-shed o'er full to refill it, And raise it, free-handed, above the bright flame. A joy with no awful foreboding to still it, A joy that will never, alas, be the same! And now far removed from those bright days of plenty, The tears of regret will descend in a drove, As I count o'er my stock and have visions of twenty Good dollars a ton they will some day remove, The old spacious bucket, the cheaply filled bucket, The coal-bulging bucket that stood by the stove!

AS TO VIEW POINT.
(Kitchener Record.)

There is glory in the meaneast job if you only look at it in the right light. The story is told of three men who were busy breaking up large stones for the building of the new collegiate. A passerby approached the first man and asked him what he was doing.

"Can't you see?" was the answer, "I'm breaking stones."

The second man, upon being asked the same question replied, "I'm earning six dollars a day."

The enquirer then approached the third man and put the question to him, receiving the reply, "I am building a big school for our young folks."

The same thing holds throughout life and makes it a drab or a gay affair as the case may be. It is your own attitude that counts—whether you are looking for the good things or the bad, which reminds one of two lines in a poem by Robert Louis Stevenson:

"Two men looked out from prison bars,
The one saw mud and the other saw stars."

PEKING PEDDLER
MADE PRESIDENT
Ex Dry Goods Itinerant Merchant Rules Over Destiny Of Millions

A cook rose to be Premier of the Republic of China. One of the most important military figures in that republic today was formerly an ordinary coolie. Tsao Kun, Marshal of the National Army of China, High Inspector-General of three provinces of Chihli, Honan and Shantung, and now duly elected President of China, formerly peddled dry goods from door to door in the capital city of Peking.

The most remarkable thing about the new President is his career. He offers no explanation of it himself. Tsao Kun is not a man of great ability. In his younger days he was diligent and worked hard for those over him. That is all. Nevertheless, he has risen from a peddler of dry goods to the presidency of the republic, and has amassed a fortune of millions in the process.

In searching for the secret of his success only one trait seems to offer itself. He has been faithful to those who could aid him, and he has, in turn, seen to it that his subordinate should be faithful to him. It was Tsao Kun's younger brother and his friends who really brought about his election to the throne.

Tsao Jui, the brother, is by far the ablest man of the two, but he could never have projected himself into the President's chair. He was, through his brother, control much of the patronage that Peking has to offer, and that is what appeals to Tsao Jui. He is exceedingly ambitious and revengeful. Both motives have actuated him in promoting his brother's fortunes. Wu Pei-shan, ousted Tsao Jui from a lucrative post, so that Tsao Jui set out to maneuver General Wu from his controlling position in the Chihli party. He has succeeded, for with Tsao Kun as President, General Wu is forced into the background.

Tsao Kun has consistently aided his patrons. First, it was his immediate military commander to whom he gave undivided loyalty, and thereby mounted the first rung of the ladder, for this commander sent the young peddler who had become a foot soldier, to a military school. Yuan Shikai was the next patron to whom Tsao attached himself. Although a Manchu general intervened for a period of 10 years or so, Tsao Kun remained loyal to Yuan to the end. These patrons pushed Tsao Kun forward. He owes all that he has done, to them, to them and to the men who in turn have been attached to him.

"Christian General" Is Satellite

Gen. Wu Pei-fu is a protégé of Tsao Kun. Great as are the differences in the ideals and plans of the two men, General Wu does not dare to break openly with Tsao Kun, for in Confucian China it would mean the end of his career. Feng Yu-shiang, the so-called "Christian general" is one of Tsao Kun's satellites. The most recent Premier of China, Gen. Chang Sheng-sheng, was won from his former patron by Marshal Tsao, who rewarded him with the premiership last winter. Wu Ching-lien, the speaker of the House of Representatives, is nothing more than Tsao Kun's mouthpiece in that body of legislators. Even Chang T'ai-lin has been allied in a manner, through the marriage of his daughter and one of Tsao Kun's sons, as much a "marriage of state" as any that takes place in the courts of Europe.

There is nothing impressive in the personal appearance of the new President. Of medium height, he is nearly bald, but wears a heavy black mustache. His eyes are like the eyes of millions of his countrymen. Only his uniform and many decorations set him aside from the masses.

Brilliant Birthday Celebration
His headquarters in the little village of Pao-tung, capital of the Province of Chihli and not far from Peking, have long been a gathering place for his followers and sycophants. His birthday celebration there last year and the year before was one of the most brilliant events in the Republic. Militarists and politicians from far and near made the pilgrimage of Pao-tung or sent official representatives bearing tribute. They did not call it tribute, of course, but tribute it was in essence and in the spirit in which it was offered by those who had profited at Tsao Kun's hands in the past or sought to in the future.

For a good many years Tsao Kun has cast covetous eyes at the pink-lavender palace in Peking that is the official residence of the President of the Republic. He was approaching old age rapidly, and was anxious to round out his career by occupying the highest post in the land. To a corrupt man the presidency brings great wealth, but Tsao Kun already had a handsome fortune. It was "face" that he sought.

General Wu Is Shelved
With General Wu Pei-fu's victory over the forces of the Manchurian war lord 18 months ago, the path to the presidency loomed enticingly before Tsao Kun, but General Wu himself blocked it. Since that time Marshal Tsao and his faithful henchmen, led by Tsao Jui, have been bending their energies to the shelving

to which we can
ALL contribute

THE success of the movement undertaken to keep our money in the Province of Quebec, would permit the giving of work to all of ours and to accentuate the return movement of thousands of families who emigrated to the United States when short of work. This would be a "HOME RUN" which would be worth many others. Is it not worth while?

FROM the start of our campaign of education in favor of the commerce and industry of our Province, we have tried to show the purchasing public the real advantages for all in buying in Quebec, so that our money will stay at home. But there is also another point of view that merits the attention of the public; we would speak of the retail merchant.

This is your merchant, whom you know and esteem, and who knows and esteems you. Faithful to his daily task, obliging, patient, serviceable and courteous; always ready to offer his time, his resources and his initiative to serve the cause of public interest and to aid all meritorious works of his parish or of his city.

It is he who will help to avoid cost, worry and bother of all kind that the citizen or housewife may suffer, if he orders directly from the manufacturer or wholesale merchant.

It is he who, neglecting on some occasions his own interests, will give all the credit necessary when you are short of money, and you may possibly send this money later to the stranger to clear purchases made by mail when you could have done just as well with him.

Purchase from our retail merchants. It is aiding our Provincial Government in its work of keeping ours here, it is assuring honorable labor and a remunerative salary for each one of us, it is contributing to the development of our city and of our Province and it is the proof of a clear civic spirit and a wise patriotism.

Help To Make Our Province Greater and More Prosperous.

How the Udder of a valuable cow was saved

Chas. K. Robbins, of Chaboyne Point, Yarmouth, N.S., writes—
"A recent experience in retaining what was supposed to be a lost section of a valuable cow's udder has demonstrated, again the great worth of Minard's Liniment. I can recommend it in the highest terms to all who have a herd of cows."
"For years I have never considered my household stock complete without a bottle of Minard's. For burns, bruises, sprains, swellings, or chilblains it cures. And I know of no better remedy for a sore udder."
"I think I am safe in saying that among all the patent medicines there is none that cures as large a field of troubles as does Minard's Liniment. A real truth—Good for Man and Beast."

Forecasts and prophecies regarding politics in China are among the most dangerous materials with which the writer can deal. Suffice it to say that a parliament, itself illegal but at that more nearly legal than any other organization in China, has elected to the presidency of the Republic a man of only mediocre ability who is backed by clever politicians; that he goes into office by virtue of the present political supremacy of a powerful clique within the Chihli party, a clique condemned by all of the more liberal and patriotic Chinese; that his ambition to be President is not based on a desire to serve his country but to gain glory for himself.

FIRST FOREST FIRE

OF SEASON REPORTED
 Orders were issued yesterday by the Forestry Department to destroy a number of forest rangers to a point known as Lake Swagman, a forest fire being reported there by the Forestry Branch on the Assumption River. This is the first fire of any size reported this fall and although not pessimistic regarding the present conditions, Mr. Gustave Pichet, Chief Forestry Engineer, stated that a permanent drought was apparent in the Lake St. John, Abitibi and Temiscamingue districts, but in the southern section of the province the situation is reported as excellent and there is no danger of forest fires.
 According to late reports received yesterday the fire at Lake Swagman had been extinguished.

LEFT TURNING BUT BARE WALLS

Thieves Carried Away Everything That Was Moveable From Number Of Houses

Mr. Frank Byrne of Quebec-West had an unpleasant surprise on Wednesday morning when he visited a number of unoccupied houses that he owns in that town. He discovered that thieves had been busy and relieved the property of all movable articles. Doors, window frames and woodwork generally had been removed and the houses were left with bare walls. Mr. Byrne's visit coincided with that of a man who appeared intent upon removing what little remained of the fittings. The man had since been arrested and it is understood that ten more will share the same fate. The damage done to the property is estimated at $100,000. It is believed that the material taken has been used in the houses of the thieves.

WORKMEN'S COMMISSION

TO MAKE INVESTIGATION
 Great interest is being manifested in labor circles and among employers regarding the investigation of labor matters that will be carried out by the Workmen's Compensation Act Commission, which will hold its first sitting here next week. It is understood that evidence will be collected from employers and employees to ascertain whether the system of awarding compensation through the civil courts instead of through a special board in meeting compensation requirements. One of the claims made is that the cost of getting awards is very high and that with a special Compensation Board the costs would be much lower and nearly insignificant. It is thought that a large number of labor leaders will favor the establishment of this body.

The act authorizing the establishment of such a Commission also gives powers to the Commissioners to investigate labor conditions, therefore, they will be in a position to study and improve the welfare of the working class.
 The reason why employers are greatly interested in the Commission is mainly due to the fact that, were it decided to create a board, they would have to contribute to special funds, instead of leaving the question of indemnities to the Civil Courts. Insurance companies which are carrying risks for employers will also state their views before the Commission.

It has not yet been learned when the Commission will be in a position to make a preliminary report, but it is probable that one will be forthcoming at the end of the coming session. This report will be followed by another which will be given at the next meeting of the Legislature.

"MARLOCH" TAKING ON LARGE CARGO HERE.

The Canadian Pacific Steamships Ltd., announced yesterday that the steamer Marloch, of the Port of Montreal had fallen to such an extent that they now considered it unsafe to load the larger class of steamers with full export cargo at Montreal and therefore shipped by rail to this port some thirteen hundred tons of apples and general cargo to be loaded here on board the C.P.S. "Marloch."
 The "Marloch" docked here at about 7.40 last evening and it is expected she will have her full cargo on board by six o'clock tonight and will be then ready to sail.
 Officials of the Harbor Commission stated yesterday that this was the only sensible procedure on the part of the Steamship Agents, who are not going to risk their ships between here and the metropolises.

MONTAIRM MARKET

HOTEL PROJECT.
 The proposed scheme for constructing a modern hotel on the Montclair market site has miscarried and it is improbable that the project will be renewed. It seems Federal Government will not give a clear title to the ground so that all efforts to dispose of the site are inevitably frustrated. Various offers have been made from time to time but each has in turn been abandoned. The first offer came from the Canada Hotel Co., of Montreal but this has been definitely given up. More recently it was stated that Mayor Samson had been in touch with a syndicate who proposed erecting a half-million dollar edifice but presumably these negotiations failed owing to the attitude taken up by the Federal Government.

SMELT FISHING IS NOW IN FULL SWING

The docks and wharves along the waterfront are lined every day, but especially on week-ends by small boys, and men too, patiently fishing for smelt and many good catches have been made. The popularity of the sport of the anglers is simply out of the question. It is well there are many who are taking it more seriously and look more to the business end of it and are carrying on a brisk trade with wholesale and grocery stores, hotels and even private citizens, who buy up the little fish as quickly as they are caught and are paying between five and ten cents a pound for them.

GARAGE BURNED DOWN

AT ST. BARNABE
 A serious fire occurred during Wednesday night at the garage of Mr. Adam Boucher of St. Barnabe. Passers by noticed smoke and flames issuing from the garage at a late hour and an alarm was immediately raised. Within a few minutes the majority of the inhabitants were at the scene of the conflagration and heroic efforts were made to quell the flames. It seemed certain that the neighbouring houses would take fire but due to the arduous efforts of those present the blaze was limited to the property of Mr. Boucher.

MEDICAL HEALTH OF QUEBEC IS IN EXCELLENT STATE

75 Fewer Admissions To Civic Hospital Than For Similar Period In 1922

CHILDREN VACCINATED

At Least Two Hundred Vaccinated Free Last Week, And 75 Yesterday

"The health of the city of Quebec is excellent," stated Dr. Jos. Gosselin, Chief Medical Officer, of the city yesterday, and there is less contagious disease than at the same time last year.
 An example of the progress made by Quebec, speaking from a health point of view, can be seen from the fact that there have been at least seventy-five cases less admitted to the Civic Hospital up to the present this year than at a similar period in 1922. Last year was an excellent year for the health of Quebec, there having been 75 fewer admissions to the Civic Hospital than in the preceding year, but 1923 looks as if it is going to beat them all.

Spoken to regarding any danger of Spanish flu breaking out, Dr. Gosselin stated that no cases or outbreak had been declared or reported to him, and with the prevailing cool and healthful temperature, there was little danger of any outbreak being reported, in his opinion.
 He said that from August 15, just before the opening of the schools, to the present, there had been over 1,600 children vaccinated. Some 500 had passed through his office last week, while there were at least seventy-five who were vaccinated yesterday.

Regarding the attitude of the people towards the vaccination of their children, Dr. Gosselin said that the parents and relatives now appeared to be having their children vaccinated, and thus protected against all contagious diseases, whereas, when compulsory vaccination was first adopted, they were violently against it. There were still a few parents who held out against their children being vaccinated, but they would soon fall into line.

Although free vaccination is only supposed to be performed on Tuesday and Friday afternoons, there are crowds of children, and their parents, who daily swarm to the medical office in the City Hall, and they are never sent away without the children being attended to.

SHORTAGE OF LUMBER-JACKS EXPECTED THIS WINTER

For the first time since the war there is an acute shortage of lumbermen and it seems very unlikely that the shortage can be made good by the winter. A certain number of harvesters are expected to return from the Prairie provinces but these are not likely to affect the general situation. The wages offered vary from $45 to $100 per month including free board, transportation and lodging. The average salary appears to be in the neighborhood of $60 and this added to board and lodging would make approximately $100 a month. In past days lumber companies have usually drawn their reserves of men from the farms but today the farm laborer prefers to take work in the industrial centres. The present situation is causing lumber merchants considerable perturbation.

In connection with supplies to be forwarded to Old Port Bay for the relief of residents there, arrangements have been made with Captain Joseph Blais, commander of the schooner "Germaine L." to carry the goods and provisions there when she sails from this port on Monday next. A list of the provisions to be placed on board was drawn up and consisted of flour, pork, beef, condensed milk, sugar, tea, beans, molasses and various vegetables. Premier Taschereau will be waiting on the list presented to him, stressing the necessity of quick action on the part of the Provincial Government in connection with the purchasing of the supplies.

FIRE AT KAMOURASKA STARTED BY CHILD

On Saturday a fire occurred in a barn belonging to Mr. Louis Belanger of Kamouraska. The voluntary fire brigade were successful in getting it under control but considerable damage was done. Apprehension was felt at one time for the neighbouring houses but prompt action on the part of the firemen prevented the spread of the conflagration. Mr. Lucien Paradis received a serious injury to the eyes but although he is in great pain it is hoped that he will not lose his sight. The fire was started by a child.

GRAIN BOATS ON THEIR WAY HERE

Four Vessels Loaded With Canadian Wheat Quebec-Bound

The movement of Canadian grain in Quebec this week is very satisfactory, for no less than three vessels, carrying 158,000 bushels of wheat have arrived in the port while some 270,000 bushels, being all that came in on the three lake boats, and another hundred-odd thousand, went out on the steamer Baluchistan to Italy last evening.
 The three vessels that arrived during the week were all from Port Colborne, and were the steam barge India, with 35,000 bushels, the steam barge Glencadam with 70,000 bushels, and the steamer Veolia with 53,000 bushels of wheat in their holds.
 Then the steamer Winston, which left cleared from Providence, Rhode Island, arrived last evening to take on board some 170,000 bushels of wheat, which will go to Europe.

There are four lake boats bound for Quebec with grain, totalling some 200,000 bushels between them. They are the A. E. McKinstry, the Glenarm, the Glenloch and the Glen Hill, which are due to arrive over the week-end.
 In addition to this there is about 600,000 bushels of American rye in the elevators of the Quebec Harbor Commission, which has a capacity of 2,000,000 bushels, which is awaiting transport.

FORESTRY CHIEF WARNS HUNTERS TO PREVENT FIRE

Mr. G. C. Piche, Chief of the Forestry Service, has issued a warning to hunters and others to do everything in their power to prevent forest fires.
 In a circular he points out that in the autumn people are apt to imagine that the danger period has passed but if dry weather prevails autumn fires are more dangerous than those happening in the summer. The dry leaves and the wood burn with extraordinary rapidity and if a strong wind is blowing great havoc is wrought in a few hours. The order, which has been in force during the summer making it compulsory to obtain a permit to enter the woods, has been rescinded, but if the situation warrants, it will be again brought into force.
 The forestry service is also warning the public that the fire in the Lake Swagman district, which is understood to have been caused by a careless camper, is a serious danger to the city.

PAPER MAKING COURSE AT THREE RIVERS

The paper-making course at the Technical School at Three Rivers will commence on the 12th November. The first year admission examination will consist of elementary arithmetic and will be held at the Technical School on November 8th. Those desiring to enter as third year students will be required to know something about mathematics, physics, hydraulics and electricity. The director of the school Mr. Paul Emile Piche states that he has already received a number of enquiries and he expects that at least 30 students will enroll. The proprietors of the pulp mills at Three Rivers are doing everything in their power to help those anxious to take the course.

CONSERVATIVES SEND REINFORCEMENTS

Reports are going the rounds that local Conservatives who have taken no active part in the election campaign which is going on in four constituencies are sending reinforcements to Brome and Richmond counties; and Mr. C. J. Lockwell, the local chief organizer, is said to have left Wednesday evening accompanied by a number of Conservatives, to speak in favor of the Conservative candidates in the campaign now going on in these two counties.

FIVE YEAR OLD GIRL KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

The five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Savard, of Stadacona, was instantly killed shortly after noon yesterday, when she was struck and run over by an automobile operated by Fabien Lortie, also of Stadacona at the corner of Francis St. Street.
 Eye-witnesses of the accident said that little Marguerite had reached the corner of the street, and had started to cross the street suddenly. The automobile, which had been travelling in the same direction at only a moderate rate of speed, was too near the little girl to prevent the accident. Coroner Joliveau will conduct an inquest this morning at 10 o'clock.

BASILICA TO BE COMPLETED BY 1924

The contract for the interior work has not yet been given, but will be at once as Mr. Lafontaine has returned from his trip abroad.

AUTOMOBILE ON FIRE ON THE BEAUFORT RD.

Two alarms, drawn in Limoulin summoned the firemen out yesterday during the course of the day. The first alarm to be rung in was from box 428, but it was a false alarm. The second, however, from box 428, proved to be a seven passenger automobile on fire on the Beaufort Road. The auto was entirely destroyed by fire.

INQUIRY BEING HELD ON LEVIS OVER "SPOTTING"

City Policeman Under Suspicion Has Clean Bill Proven For Him

BURGLAR HAD $345

Would Have Got Rich Haul From Bienville Dry-Goods Merchant

(Special to The Chronicle)
 During the course of the last meeting of the Levis City Council, the Mayor, Mr. Emile Demers made a violent attack on "spotting" that was being done on the Canadian National train by a policeman who left his duty without permission to carry out these acts.

The Mayor protested against this pretended conduct, which he designated as "unworthy" and "unqualified" on the part of an employee of the city of Levis, towards his countrymen, employees of the railroad.
 He also stated that a delegation of Canadian National employees had waited upon him, at his residence, to bring the matter to his attention.

After the statements made by the Mayor, in the presence of the Council, Alderman Leblond asked that an inquiry be held by the Mayor and the chairman of the Police Committee, Alderman Lebel.

The Commissioners started their inquiry yesterday morning, and will complete it today. During the course of their investigations they found none of the accusations against the policeman who was suspected were founded, and that he had only been absent from his post on one occasion, and that only after asking permission from the police authorities. He went to Montreal once accompanied by a Levisite, who gave an affidavit yesterday to the Mayor and chairman of the Police Committee attesting that the policeman had not been absent from his post except on one occasion in the last six weeks, when he had obtained permission to do so.

The Chairman of the Police Committee, Alderman Lebel, stated during the course of a conversation last evening. "This matter is all nonsense." He added that one of the Mayor's informers was not able to justify his accusations, he would do better to stay quiet.
 The Mayor will make his report to the next meeting of the City Council.

Will Transport Him to Quebec

The Chief of Police of Levis will transport to Quebec today, to appear before Magistrate Lachance in the Court of Sessions, Adolphe alias Edouard Beaubien, who was caught red-handed while burglarizing Mr. E. E. Lemieux's dry-goods store in Bienville on Wednesday night.
 Beaubien had the sum of $345.00 in his possession when arrested, which, it is claimed, had been taken from the cash drawer at Mr. Lemieux's store.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMM.

TO HOLD SITTING HERE

Among other pleas to be heard by the Public Service Commission which will hold their sitting here on the 30th instant, will be that of a dispute connected with the expropriation necessitated through the construction of the Levis-St. Lambert Highway, which case will be heard exclusively on the 31st of the present month. The case in question is of Hon. J. L. Perron, Minister of Roads, ex-qualiter, against a resident of St. Jean des Chailons, Mr. Delbert. An agreement could not be made in regard to land used for the road in that section and expropriation proceedings commenced with the understanding that the Public Service Commission had the power to start expropriation at any time convenient to them.
 The Commission will also hold a sitting at Riviere-du-Loup where another case concerning road construction in that section must be settled by that Court and other sittings will be held in Montreal, Three Rivers and Sherbrooke before the end of November.

COL. O. E. TALBOT BACK FROM MEET CAN. NAT. BOARD

Quebec Will Get Its Share And Will Not Be Neglected, He Declared

AVOID LEVEL CROSSINGS

Working Out Plan To Enter City By Rear, From St. Charles River Side

Col. O. E. Talbot, Quebec's representative on the Board of Directors of the Canadian National Railways, returned to town last evening, following a meeting of the directors in Montreal yesterday.
 Spoken to last evening, he said that the matter of the new Parent Square Station did not come up at the meeting yesterday, but that matters were discussed that covered the territory all over between Vancouver and Sydney.
 Asked regarding the interests of Quebec, Col. Talbot stated "Quebec will get its share, and it will not be neglected."

He said that the whole matter about the Parent Square was bound up in the agreement between the C.P.R. and the Canadian National, whereby the Canadian National trains come in to the Union Station. This agreement has still some time to run, some seven years.

A thing that was discussed at the meeting was the matter of the Canadian National trains entering the city from the rear and avoiding the level crossings. At present there are fifteen level crossings that have to be crossed by the trains coming into Quebec, and these block traffic for a considerable time each day, especially the long freight trains, that hold the streets closed for half an hour at a time sometimes.

The matter has already been touched upon regarding the rear entrance to the city's terminals by trains, and it is probable that approaches over the St. Charles River, or along the river, avoiding the streets, will be used by the railway companies in the course of a short time.

Asked if there were any blockade of Canadian grain in Montreal, Col. Talbot said that there was no demand for wheat in Europe, and that there were no markets to keep the grain moving. France, he said, had more grain than she needed this year, the first time since 1914, while the same situation prevails in Russia and other countries, with the result that there was practically no demand for grain from Canada.

In the West it was being held by the farmers so as to get the banks to advance them money, being packed into the storage elevators. Something will have to be done, said Col. Talbot.

HARRY CAMERON, TORONTO ST. PATS DEFENSE STAR TO PLAY FOR SASKATOON

Three-Cornered Hockey Deal Involves Toronto, Saskatoon And Vancouver—Joe Matte To Line Up With The Millionaires—Adams To Remain In Queen City

Saskatoon, Oct. 18.—Harry Cameron, erstwhile of Toronto St. Patrick's, will play with the Saskatoon Crescents in the Western Canada hockey league championship race this winter. Cameron came to terms with the Crescents owners after a two days' conference over what the former Toronto star was to receive in exchange for his services with the locals.

Cameron was one of the regulars on the Toronto defence for a number of years. He has been in the same since 1909, playing in pro ranks since that year. Cameron started his hockey career with Frank Nighbor, the Ottawa centre, in Pembroke, Ontario, and it is a matter of record that both have weathered the years remarkably well. In fact both were regarded as being without peers in their respective positions during their various sojourns in the National Hockey League. Cameron comes to the Crescents as a result of a three-cornered trade that will be in operation for one year only. Jack Adams, who cavorted at centre for the Vancouver Millionaires two seasons ago, is now in Toronto, although still the property of the Patricks, rulers of the Pacific Coast League. Adams spent last winter with St. Pats, the Toronto team sending him to Vancouver in exchange for his services.

Adams remains in Toronto. As Adams did not wish to return to the coast for purely personal and business reasons again this winter, the Toronto club immediately set the wheels in motion to make some sort of an arrangement with Frank Patrick, whereby Adams would stay with the National League. The result was that Cameron was sent to the coast for one year to take the place of Adams, who will, in all probability return to the Millionaires by the time the 1924-25 season rolls around.

How Cameron came here is another story and the second leg of the three-cornered trade. The Crescents are on the lookout for a first-class defence player, one who would combine experience with ability. Cameron was offered them in exchange for the services of Joe Matte and the offer was accepted, which means that Matte will go to the coast league to take the place of Adams. Much as the local management desired to keep Matte on the string for this season, they realized that something must be sacrificed to bolster up the team. Matte still belongs to the Crescents and he is but loaned to Vancouver for this season only. Adams still is the property of Vancouver while Cameron calls Toronto his own.

LYNCH-BURMAN BOUT POSTPONED

Champion Dislocated Shoulder—Burman To Enter Claim For Title

New York, Oct. 18.—The fight to-morrow night between Joe Lynch, lightweight champion and Joe Burman of Chicago at Madison Square Garden has been postponed. It was announced tonight by Eddie Meade, Lynch's manager, who said the champion had dislocated his shoulder when he tripped and fell over his dog.

Meade announced that efforts were being made to obtain a sub for Lynch in order that a bout might be held. He indicated that Pancho Villa might take Lynch's place.

When informed of the postponement, Tom Walsh, of Chicago, Burman's manager, issued a statement in which he declared he had been treated unfairly and would claim Lynch's title.

"Burman will weigh in tomorrow afternoon under the bantam limit, 118 pounds, before the State Athletic Commission as originally scheduled," asserted Walsh, "and will file formal claim to Lynch's title at the same time. I am not in a position to pass judgment on Lynch's reported injury but I don't think the champion has treated us fairly."

A MULTITUDE OF WOMEN RECOMMEND IT

The strongest recommendations possible for any medicine to have is the sound testimony borne by the vast multitude of women who have used it. It has been proven that 98 out of every 100 women over 30 with ailments that caused suffering and despair have been restored to the joys of health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This marvelous record shows its power over the ill of women, and the letters of recommendation are being continually publishing in this paper should induce every ailing woman to try it.

NINETY-EIGHT TIMES Paris, Oct. 18.—Madame Adrienne Bolland, French aviatrix, today established a record by looping the loop ninety-eight times within a period of fifty-eight minutes, this including the time necessary for ascending and descending. A leak in the gasoline tank of the plane prevented her continuing.

Madame Bolland created a sensation in South America in April, 1921 when she flew over the Andes mountains.

ORIOLES AGAIN ON SHORT END

International League Champions Lost To Kansas City 5-2

Kansas City, Oct. 18.—Ferdie Schupp pitched Kansas City to a 5 to 2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles here today and gave his team a 3 to 1 lead in games in the contest for the minor league championship. Both pitchers were wild, due to the cold northwest wind which chilled the players and spectators, but Schupp had better luck after his wildness than Groves. Schupp struck out ten men. Groves after injuring a finger on his right hand.

RACING SCHOONER REACHES PORT

Skipper Of Henry Ford Uncertain Whether He Will Race Columbia

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 18.—The schooner Henry Ford, one of the candidates as challenger for the international fishermen's trophy now held by the Bluebonnet of Nova Scotia, turned to this port today from a five week fishing trip. Captain Clayton Morrissey, her skipper, was not ready tonight to announce whether his vessel will be ready in time to race the schooner Columbia for the honor of meeting the Bluebonnet at Halifax, Oct. 27 in the first of this year's cup series.

The American race committee, in sending a formal challenge to the trustees of the international fishermen's trophy at Halifax last night announced that if the Ford failed to arrive home today the Columbia would be certified as the United States challenger.

While Captain Morrissey's decision will not be known until tomorrow, it was believed tonight that the Ford will be unable to get rid of her cargo of fish and prepare for an elimination race in time.

The challenger must leave Gloucester Sunday or Monday for Halifax.

It was said that the Ford could not land her fish, 175,000 pounds of fresh and 50,000 pounds of salt beef Saturday at the earliest. The committee will meet the Ford's skipper tomorrow to reach a decision.

In the event the Columbia is being turned up in readiness for her selection.

The U. S. S. Bushnell designated as official United States vessel for the international series will arrive here Monday from New London, Conn., and will sail next Wednesday evening for Halifax with the United States officials and committee men.

He is also alleged to have savagely attacked his wife who is lying in Edam Hospital in a dangerous condition.

The police report says there is no indication of insanity.

FRANCE WORRIED ABOUT OLYMPICS

French Athletes Defeated In Meets By English And Swedes

Paris, Oct. 18.—Successive defeats of French athletes by teams from England and Sweden in the course of dual meets held recently in Paris, have caused much concern among French Olympic officials as to the probable chances of success of the French representatives at the Olympic games next year.

England nearly doubled the score of the French, while Sweden won by a comfortable margin of 102 points to 78.

Such is the concern that the French Olympic committee is seriously considering the employment of professional trainers from other countries to prepare their Olympic athletes. James Duncan, holder of the world's discus-throwing record, and W. H. "Sparrow" Robertson, one of the greatest American authorities on foot running, have been approached by the committee with a view of interesting them in the proposition. It is a question of dollars and cents with these two Americans, however, and although their demands are relatively modest, the franc is rather low just at present.

Frantz Reichel, general secretary of the committee, writing in "L'Avenir" says: "The English and the Swedes have defeated us. The best athletes won. Their excellent condition and the superiority of their technique and style are the causes of their legitimate success. We, in France, also have talent of great intrinsic quality, but our weakness lies in its development. We must get experienced professional trainers who, properly paid, would devote their entire time to the study and teaching of the methods which, adopted in America, England, Finland and the Scandinavian countries, have made those nations supreme in the athletic field."

In the recent Franco-Swedish meet the French did very well in the sprints, Andre Mourlon and Jean Verquin, both of France, finishing first and second in the 100 meters. Mourlon turned in 10 4-5 seconds.

Carboney, the revelation of the games, a sliff French youth of 19, carried off the 200 meters in 22 1-5 in front of England and Branting.

The French also won the 400 meters relay, Andre Mourlon, Rene Mourlon, Hirlmann and Lorrain, negotiating the distance in 42 2-5 seconds, breaking the French record of 42 4-5 which had stood since 1921.

In the longer distances, 400, 800, 1,500, 5,000 and 10,000 meters, the Swedes were supreme.

France also was outclassed in the field events and the shot, discus and javelin throw. Lewden won the only field event that went to France, the high jump, with a mark of 1.90 meters.

More than 50,000 people journeyed to Pershing Stadium during the two days that the meet lasted.

LINCOLN MONUMENT "To The Memory Of One Of The World's Greatest Men"

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 18.—David Lloyd George came here today and paid homage to the memory of Abraham Lincoln. With bare head he stood before the Lincoln monument, the war-time Premier of Great Britain approached the monument and entered the tomb of the martyred President where he placed on the sarcophagus a wreath with his card bearing the words: "A humble and reverent homage to the memory of one of the world's greatest men."

Accompanying him were Dame Margaret and Miss Megan Lloyd George as well as members of the official reception committee.

Standing with head slightly bowed below the sarcophagus and for a moment in deep reverie, the man who also has known the pressure of greatest responsibilities in the time of war said audibly, as if speaking to himself rather than to those about him, "He is the greatest man grown up on the American continent. He is growing too. Oh, yes, he grows. I've just been reading about the time he had. I read of the most recent ones about two years ago. It was rather an account of the troubles he had in the war with generals and politicians. They were worse than mine."

Before going to the tomb, Mr. Lloyd George visited the Lincoln home near the center of the city. Evidencing the greatest interest in all matters concerning the great President whom he has regarded as an ideal since boyhood, the former Premier went through the different rooms and inspected all articles with minute attention to all details.

EVEN MONEY IS NOW BET ON THE OUTCOME OF RACE BETWEEN PAPYRUS AND ZEV

English Derby Winner Had Exceptionally Brilliant Workout With Donoghue In The Saddle Yesterday—My Own Will Be At Track Ready For Emergency

New York, Oct. 18.—An exceptionally brilliant workout by Papyrus with Steve Donoghue up in the English Derby winners final speed test and orders for the shipment here of Rear Admiral Gary T. Grayson's My Own, ready to sub for Zev in an emergency were developments that held the centre of interest to-night in the $100,000 international turf classic to be run next Saturday at Belmont Park.

The Jockey Club's International Race Committee today decided to have My Own here as a precautionary measure, it was announced by Major August Belmont, who denied that any will carry the colors of the United States was contemplated. Coming on top of criticism of Zev's showing in workouts for the match race, however, the Jockey Club's step had been interpreted in some quarters as indicating the possible withdrawal of the Rancocas colt.

Major Belmont said that the committee simply desired to leave nothing to chance, pointing out that My Own was designed as first alternate by the committee and that Untidy, the second alternate had already been eliminated as a possible sub by breaking down.

Meanwhile Papyrus' chances of victory in the cup race were considerably enhanced in turf circles by the colt's final trial this morning in which Donoghue guided the Derby winner a mile and a furlong in 1:31 2-5.

One of the features was the sharp decline of betting odds to even money, whereas about a week ago they stood at 3 to 1 on Zev.

The high early speed shown by Papyrus, which covered the first five furlongs in one minute flat and the mile in 1:35 2-5 has tended to dissipate among experts the belief that Zev could be depended upon to outrun the invader through the early part of the match race. Those who have hitherto regarded the result of the race as dependent purely upon whether Papyrus could close the gap in the last quarter are now looking for a neck and neck struggle.

There was some opinion that the first six furlongs might furnish the real test of the race, with victory going to the horse which is able to stand the gaff of the early pace.

"He's all right" was the laconic comment of Donoghue after the workout which Papyrus finished breathing easily.

Consensus of Papyrus' performance today with Zev's final trial yesterday showed a slight margin now of the way in favor of the English horse, which completed the mile a full second faster than his rival.

To Ship My Own.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Rear Admiral Gary T. Grayson's My Own will be shipped tomorrow morning to the Belmont Park track where Zev and Papyrus are scheduled to race Saturday, according to word received from Laurel, where the colt is now quartered. My Own has been selected to race Papyrus in the event Zev is considered unfit to compete.

NO MOBILIZATION FOR WAR PURPOSES

Moscow, Oct. 18.—The chiefs of the Russian military district issued statements to the press to-night declaring that the summoning of six military clauses for militia training has no connection with any mobilization for war. The statements were issued in answer to rumors circulated throughout the city that war was at hand.

The clauses of 1902 and 1903 said the statements were called for only 24 hours of preliminary military training while the 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901 clauses will merely re-hearse.

RESOLUTIONS FOR AND AGAINST K. K. KLAN

San Francisco, Oct. 18.—A bitter anti-Ku Klux Klan resolution, submitted by Charles Kendrick of San Francisco, and a pro-Ku Klux Klan resolution, submitted by E. W. Whitney, of Oklahoma, were both defeated at the fifth annual convention of the American Legion here today after one of the most bitter fights in the history of the organization. The resolution of the Michigan delegates, which delegates termed a mild denunciation of the Klan was almost unanimously adopted.

GERMANY FACES REVOLUTION AND COMPLETE RUIN

gravely complicated matters for the Sireseman regime and official quarters appear to be wholly without counsel or wisdom with respect to a solution for the problem of the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

A cabinet council today discussed the situation in Saxony and the demand of the Socialists for the withdrawal of the state of emergency.

Apparently, according to unofficial statements the sending by General von Mueller, Commander of the Reichswehr in Saxony of an ultimatum to the Saxon government was approved by President Ebert and the Cabinet, but no decision was arrived at regarding the next step to be taken in view of Saxony having ignored the ultimatum. The cabinet, however, is said to be contemplating reinforcing the Reichswehr in Saxony, as acts of terrorism by Communist bands are continuing in parts of Saxony where no troops are stationed.

Made Charge of Treason.

Dresden, Oct. 18.—There was a tremendous tumult in the Saxon Diet today following a charge of treason by a Nationalist member against Premier Zeigner who had alleged the existence of immense illegal armed forces in Germany. The Diet was debating a Communist demand for the resignation of Dr. Otto Gessler, the Reich minister of defence when Premier Zeigner made the sensational statement that the Reich had an illegal army although apparently without the knowledge of the Reich government.

The Premier declared that at the end of September and at the beginning of October many illegal organizations in the neighborhood of Berlin would have attempted an uprising but were prevented from doing so by the Prussian State police. In camps at Konigsbruck and Neuse illegal organizations had been training several weeks this summer and hundreds of thousands of members of these bodies had been enrolled in the Reichswehr and armed. There were about 1,500 in Leipzig alone. The Entente, the Premier declared, knew of these things and would put an end to them.

Long For a Defensive Arm.

Thereupon a member of the German People's Party replied that it would have been better that today never had dawned in Saxony's history, for today, the anniversary of the Battle of Nations at Leipzig there was the first indication that reawakened Germany had been surrendered to the enemy. The Deputy said the alleged illegal efforts should have been reported to the Reichstag, where the Imperial Minister of Defence could have denounced himself. The incident showed at least the longing of the German people for a defensive arm.

Continuing the speaker declared that Premier Zeigner's procedure constituted open treachery and he regretted the Imperial Government as yet had been unable to do means to take action against those guilty of such treason. At this assertion the Communists raised violent protests and amid an uproar the Nationalists rose and left the House.

No Seizure of Foreign Money.

A report in circulation that the currency commission had ordered the confiscation of all precious metals in Germany and that no further measures were contemplated. It also was declared that the fears of some foreigners that their foreign money was liable to seizure were quite unfounded.

STOCK MARKETS ARE SHOWING LITTLE ANIMATION

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE WAS AT VERY LOW EBB WITH LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN

Several New Low Records For The Year Were Established Particularly By Tire Stocks—Reduction In Gasoline Offset By Reductions In Crude Production

New York, Oct. 18.—Interest in today's stock market was at low ebb with the general list closing slightly lower after a day of backing and filling movements. Several new low records for the year were established during the session particularly by the tire stocks, selling of which was influenced by further cuts in tire prices and the passing of the dividend on Lee Rubber, which closed 2 1/2 points lower at 11 3/4.

Additional reductions in gasoline prices were offset in part by reports of another reduction in crude production. Persistent rumors of new financing by the Pan-American Company, however, had a depressing effect on its issues.

National Enamelling broke five points to a new 1923 low in reflection of speculative fear over the safety of the dividend. While Famous Players broke below 67 on reports of poor earnings.

Shipping shares improved on reports of a better inquiry for freight space and the belief that lower railroad rates on grain for export would stimulate business. Marine preferred jumped more than 2 points and American International Corporation one.

Merchandise and chain store issues also gave good demonstrations of group strength on reports of high current earnings. Woolworth touching a new top at 241 1/2 and May department stores climbing 2 points.

Steel shares held relatively steady, reports of a better inquiry by railroads being counteracted, to some extent, by the testimony before a local housing commission that the shortage of homes and apartments was rapidly being overcome.

Wills Overland preferred was one of the outstanding strong spots, being run up more than 2 points to 65, but easing slightly at the close.

Nash Motors, Davison Chemical and Tobacco products preferred, also registered good gains. Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent. eased to 4 1/4 and then to 4 where it closed. The time money market was quiet on a 5 to 5 1/4 per cent basis.

Cabled reports of internal disturbances in Germany sent marks down to a new low of one cent and a hundred million. Demand sterling dropped nearly a cent to $4.52 and French franc broke 5 1/2 points to 5.56 cents.

Heavyweights also dropped out in the Scandinavian rates.

Total stock sales $53,200 shares.

20 Industrials averaged $7.46; net loss .04. High 1923 105.88; low 86.92.

20 Railroads averaged $1.16; net unchanged. High 1923, 90.51; low 79.53.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Montreal, Oct. 18.—Trade in cash grain in the local market today was much quieter. Prices for flour for all grades were reduced 20c per barrel in sympathy with the steady downward tendency of prices in the Winnipeg market. Bran and shorts were down $1 a ton and middlings $2 a ton but demand for all lines of mill feed continues good. A fair trade was done in rolled oats. There was no change in the baled hay market. Eggs prices were maintained under a good steady demand. The market for potatoes was quiet.

The tone of the butter market was rather easier but without change in prices. Cheese prices were reduced 1-4c to 3-4c per lb.

Daily Gossip On Leading Stocks

Canadian General Electric remains in the limelight on the local market, and it was said in Toronto today that the United States General Electric expected to be in control by the end of this year. This rumor is a very old one, but the new angle added today was that the Parent Company, unable to secure the Canadian company, at its original bid price, had gone into the market both in Toronto and in England and was accumulating sufficient stock to enable it to force the deal through.

Following the publication of interviews with former officials of the Home Bank by a Toronto morning paper relating to certain accounts which, it is alleged, were subjected to unusual treatment during the presidency of M. J. Haney, Attorney-General Nickle, stated that he had instructed an investigation be made in connection with this new phase of the situation.

"I have instructed G. T. Clarkson to look into the accounts that were the basis of the interviews," stated Hon. W. F. Nickle, today. "It is, of course, necessary to ascertain whether the statements are matter of fact before the Government can take any definite step."

"Mr. Clarkson will probe thoroughly and action will be taken if the statements are true," added the Attorney-General.

From reports received from the different sections of Canada and from railway, steamship and motor travel figures, there is every reason to believe that a conservation estimate of the value of total tourist traffic into Canada for the year under review would be not less than $100,000,000.

This means it has already become one of Canada's most important sources of wealth. When money is brought into the country by tourist travel it is the same as if goods were exported to that amount and money received in return, the only difference being that nothing has been shipped out of the country that leaves the capital stock diminished.

There were only in the year under review, three items of exports that aggregated more than $100,000,000 so that the export of scenery occupies fourth place in Canada's foreign trade.

The local brokerage firm of Johnston & Ward has received a wire from Halifax, N.S., to the effect that James B. McLachlan, deceased secretary of United Mine Workers of America, and leader of the Sydney steel strikers has been found guilty.

He was charged with publishing seditious libel.

J. E. Aldred, of Aldred and Company, will be president of the Italian Power Co., a wholly American company, which has been formed to finance power and light properties in Italy.

Howard Murray, vice-president of Shawinigan Water & Power Co., will be vice-president.

The company initially has been capitalized at $2,000,000 and all stock has been subscribed for. An announcement of an issue of bonds is expected shortly.

F. M. Knight, of Massachusetts Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, has umpire in wage dispute between Holyoke paper manufacturers and stationary firemen, has handed down an award of 73 cents an hour, the same as now paid. Firemen had asked 80 cents, 1920 base.

By agreement of parties, a decision in the case of the October 1st, and continued in force not less than three months.

In 1922 six machines for manufacturing newspaper have been installed in Canadian mills, producing 380 tons daily, or 114,000 tons a year. Two machines are planned for January, 1924. Others planned for 1925 will make total increase of over 1,200 tons daily, or 360,000 tons a year, which would make Canada pass United States production and be the largest producer of newspaper in the world.

Dow Jones says: "Washington—Secretary Mellon authorizes explicit denial of report he had decided to recommend reductions on income and surtaxes. He says whose subject is still under consideration."

Carbon-black is not yet being manufactured in Canada, but negotiations are now in progress to establish factories in the Alberta gas fields that are remote from centres of population. In 1922 there was exported from the United States to Canada over 1,600,000 pounds of carbon-black, some of which was used as a color for paper, and the grade being used in the manufacture of special printing inks used for embossing, lithography and half-tone work.

It is stated that the Premier Gold Mine will install immediately a plant with a capacity of one thousand tons a day to replace their present plant of in the neighborhood of two hundred tons daily. This tonnage with the fact that they are driving a two track tunnel of some twenty-four or twenty-five feet at the twelve hundred foot level should reflect the improving development in the property, as well as that of one district.

Representative shares appreciated in value on the London Stock Exchange by $7,419,000, or from $6,346,894,000 to $14,044,749,000 in August. The rise of the fixed interest group was 0.6 per cent, and of variable dividend group 1.4 per cent according to Bankers' Magazine list of 365 stocks.

BUSINESS EXTREMELY DULL BUT TRADING WAS STEADIER ON MONTREAL STOCK MART

Tone Was Softer But Not Much Activity Was Shown—Montreal Power Was Leader In The List And Closed Unchanged—Brazilian Lost Half Point

Montreal, Oct. 18.—A somewhat steadier tone was apparent in the trading in listed shares on the local stock market today, although business continued extremely dull. Forty-one issues came out of changed and twenty came out in broken lots only.

Montreal Power was leader in the list in activity and closed unchanged at 129. B.E. Steel Common came second and was also unchanged at 5. Brazilian was third and was down half at 42 1/2.

Steel of Canada preferred and Hochelaga Bank were the strong spots of the market both making a net gain of two points, at 99 and 104 respectively. Montreal Cottons was the weak feature closing at 106 for a loss of six points. This stock is not much dealt in, the last transaction being in April last and the drop is without special significance.

Other price changes included: Brompton up 1-2; Can. Cement off 1-2; Can. Steamships preferred off half; Dominion Textile off a point and Laurette up 1-2.

Total sales listed 3749.

"THE REMEDY YOU BREATHE"

THE HOME KITCHEN

(By Jeannette Young Norton.)

The Authority on Home Cooking: Cool Weather is the Time for Pickling.

IN the late fall, after the heat of summer has passed, the children return to school, and the busy housewife can find a little free time—this is the time for pickling. There are several kinds of pickles, and other things that can be preserved for winter use just as well then as in the so-called preserving season.

There are a number of things brought in at the last moment from the kitchen-garden, or purchased in the fall markets that keep well until we are ready to use them. Late vegetables that remain until frost is almost upon us are safer pickled than put away to keep. One housewife has a special pickle she always puts up at this time which she calls "garden hash." It is well worth trying.

Garden Hash.

Wash and cut out the stem ends of eight pounds of green tomatoes, then chop them. Pare and seed three large cucumbers, then chop them. Wash and remove the seed cones from twelve red or green peppers and chop them. Remove the outer leaves and cut out the heart of a medium-sized cabbage, then chop it. Wash and chop two bunches of celery, peel and chop fifteen red onions, then mix all the ingredients, put them in a crock and sprinkle with a cupful of salt. Let this stand over night. In the morning pour a quart of cold water over the mixture, then drain through a very fine sieve or jelly bag. Pour three pints of vinegar into the preserving kettle with two cupfuls of brown sugar, a tablespoonful of mustard, a teaspoonful of turmeric, add a spice bag and a little salt if needed.

Boil gently until the vegetables are done and shiny, stir carefully as the hash grows heavy. A minced bud of garlic adds to the flavor. A few fresh fennel seeds and minced sweet marjoram leaves added to the spice bag give a delicious flavor. Some cooks add a teaspoonful of curry powder, which is also good. Cook about an hour or a little longer if the hash is too moist. Can or store in a stone crock, well covered and in a cool place.

Sweet Pickled Green Tomatoes.

Wash and slice thickly a peck of firm green tomatoes and twelve large white onions, stack the slices alternately in a large crock and let stand all night. In the morning drain carefully, then rinse with cold water. Pour a quart of vinegar into the kettle with three large cupfuls of brown sugar, a tablespoonful of cloves, allspice and round ginger, a thinly sliced lemon and a little thinly sliced green ginger root. Melt together, then add the onions and tomatoes. Cook gently until the vegetables are tender, then lift them and pack them in jars. Cook the syrup down a little thicker, then pour it over the slices and seal.

Beet Pickle.

Boil and skin enough beets to make a quart when chopped fine. Add a cupful of freshly grated horseradish, a half teaspoonful of paprika, a cupful of sugar, three-quarters of a pint of vinegar and a teaspoonful of mixed spices. Allow the mass to boil gently for five minutes. Fill large-mouthed bottles with the mixture and cork and seal. Fill the bottles with the solid and add enough liquid to overflow so that the seal is air-tight.

Prince Edward Island.

We have received the "Prince Edward Island Register" of the 15th. ultimo, which contains a lengthy account of the proceedings that have led to general meetings of the People of the Island, in consequence of the conduct of Governor Smith, by the arbitrary exaction of the quit rents, contrary, it is said to the instructions of His Majesty's Ministers. The account alludes also to the removal from office of Mr. Carmichael, the Sheriff, for holding according to law, these meetings. The account is signed by Committee appointed by the County Meetings to act for the Island, and terminates with these words: "It will be gratifying to the public at large, to know that the proceedings here have attracted the attention of the government in England, from which we may confidently expect a redress of all our grievances, and that the administration of our government will no longer be left in the hands of a person, who has taken upon himself to suspend the Legislature of the Colony for more than three years, and conducted himself towards His Majesty's subjects in the manner stated in the Resolution of the County Meetings."

Swindler Wanted.

The police of both Montreal and Quebec are looking for an individual who some days ago visited this city, and under various false names succeeded in obtaining free board and sums of money. He registered at the Victoria Hotel as Mr. Corning, of Albany, and at the Clarendon as A. B. Howard. At this hotel he was seen with a book in which was written the name of a well-known city bank clerk. He called on General Henry, United States Consul, who guaranteed his board bill at the Clarendon Hotel, but later, becoming suspicious of him, he called to have a talk with him. The fellow excused himself for a moment and excused himself altogether.

Reminders of War.

The Chronicle office now boasts of two curios of exceptional interest and strange enough they both form part of war munitions. One of them is the shell from which was fired the bullet that killed the first American Marine who was shot at Santiago. It is an ordinary brass cartridge and was left at this office some time ago by Marine Police, of U.S.S. "Marblehead." The other is a fragment of a mortar shell probably fired by English cannon, either from part of Old England's wooden walls or from the heights of Levis. It was dug up during the work of excavating for the submarine viaduct of the Bell Telephone Company on Mountain Hill.

CLOSER TOUCH NEEDED

The Editor, The Quebec Chronicle.

Sir:—

It has long been my feeling, in common with others, that we need some kind of organization which would bring the teachers and parents of our schools under the Protestant Board of School Commissioners, into closer touch with each other. There are problems of the home and problems of the school that would find a more satisfactory solution if parents and teachers could get together. And there are matters better discussed in the presence of scholars than in their absence.

It has always seemed to me that the day of the annual school closing is a most inopportune time for the deliverance of addresses to the parents. It is generally very warm weather, the place of meeting is uncomfortably crowded, the representatives of the Board of Commissioners are thus greatly handicapped in bringing matters of importance to the notice of the parents. And it is scarcely fair to lengthen an already long programme even to supply necessary information to the parents—of all days of the year the annual closing is specially the scholars' day. And what remarks are made, it seems to me should be addressed to them. But up to the present there has been no other way of reaching the parents; and even then, only a small proportion. An association of teachers and parents would give the Commissioners the opportunity they need, and under far more favourable conditions.

Such an association would tend to create a real interest upon the part of the parents in the annual sports' day. It would make for a united and more definite interest in the welfare of the children and youth of this city. Both home and school would reap benefits at present not realized.

In the September number of the Teachers' Magazine, there is an interesting article along the very line of this letter, advocating the organization of a home and school association, and giving a suggested constitution.

I have reason to believe that the principals and teachers of the schools would welcome the opportunity of meeting at stated periods with the parents, providing the latter would respond in sufficient numbers to make such an association worth while. And every parent should be interested—fathers as well as mothers.

Parents, who not let the school authorities know this very day that you desire to personally co-operate with them in this matter?

Yours truly,

MAKES CLAIM TO HUGE ESTATE

Owner Lived Before Revolutionary War—Now Portion Of Metropolis

London, Oct. 18—Frank Edwards of Clifton Villas, N.W., verger of a church in Camden Town, is a claimant to one hundred million pounds, or about five hundred million dollars.

It represents the value of sixty-five acres of land on Broadway, New York, and the romantic history of Mr. Edwards' claim goes back to the days when Broadway was a cowpath.

Robert Edwards, great-grand-uncle of Mr. Edwards, of Camden Town, went to America before the war of independence in the days when New York was New Amsterdam. He worked hard and saved steadily for years, and then bought a piece of land on Manhattan island beyond the limits of the cluster of wooden houses that were the nucleus of the greatest city of the west.

The site of the Woolworth building in those days was a smiling orchard. The present city hall is beyond the city boundary that Robert Edwards knew. He leased his country estate to the crown in the reign of George II.

The war came, and America became independent, but the new government recognized Edwards' ownership of the land, and took over the unexpired lease. Edwards was a bachelor to his death, and no will of his has been found.

It has been very noticeable that since the Princess Mary is no longer under the tutelage of her royal mother there has been a change—one in her appearance regarded from the dress point of view. It is no disrespect to say that Her Majesty has always held rather severe views on dress, and the Princess never had much opportunity to indulge her natural taste. In fact, her taste is an exceedingly artistic one. She avoids the extremes and rather concentrates on soft colors and graceful lines well adapted to her style. It will be of interest to lady readers to know that the Princess has now availed herself of the services of a "dresser"—an experienced modiste recommended by Queen Alexandra. This lady is not a Parisian, as might be supposed, but a Scots woman—whose advice and expert help have been much appreciated by the Princess.

brother was dead, but he wrote to his brother's eldest son, Henry, a sailor:

"When next your ship touches these shores be sure you come to see me; it will be greatly to your advantage."

Henry set sail for New York in the sailing ship Rhone, carrying with him a bundle of important papers. The ship went down with all hands.

Nobody came to see Robert Edwards from the old country, and when the old man died, his estate went into government keeping.

New York grew, and the fields of barley, wheat and rye which Robert Edwards cultivated began to sprout richer crops. Wooden houses sprang up and were mowed down to make room for brownstone fronts. These were reaped later to give place to theatres, cabarets and restaurants. Broadway's present crop.

Many great families, such as the Astors and Vanderbilts, owe their wealth to the increase in value of New York land. More than $1,000,000 was paid up 1920 for the small area of New York city known as "the Astor farm." It is now covered with theatres, tenements and factories.

One of Mr. Edwards' sisters said recently:

"We have all saved and saved for this, and we are confident of our right to the property. We have all the necessary birth and death certificates, except the birth certificate of Robert. They did not keep records in those days."

Henry's son tried to prove his title to the Broadway acres, but died before his task was complete. His widow had nine children, the eldest being the verger of Camden Town. All of whom are now hot on the trail, with a New York senator working in America, and a firm of lawyers on this side, to obtain the property.
