Castro Begins Land Reform Plan

Squatters Get Own Farms

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro, his political revolution won, today launches an agrarian reform program that could prove a social revolution for Cuba's farmers.

Castro flew to his home province of Oriente during the weekend to implement the program promised the tenant farmers and squatters who helped him overthrow Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship.

Meanwhile, the war crimes trials of Batista supporters were expected to resume at full pace. Capt. Pedro Morejon, first to die in Havana's showcase trials, fell before a firing squad late Saturday, revolutionary sources said. To speed up the trials the government planned to set up six new tribunals in Havana, 10 in Santiago, and others elsewhere.

CONTROLLED BY FEW

During his stay in Oriente Castro planned to set in motion a vast program aimed at distributing millions of acres of undeveloped privately owned land to landless peasants. The government says fewer than 100 sugar producers and cattle barons control 50 per cent of the land in the eastern province, most of it undeveloped. Some government lands also are supported to be distributed.

The revolutionary leader also is expected to launch a large-scale program for the building of homes, schools and medical centers in the rugged Sierra Maestra mountains.

Morejon, 38, a veteran of Batista's army, was executed in secrecy. The only witness, other than the firing squad, was Rev. Javier Arzuaga. He visited the condemned man twice in his cell Saturday and said his spirit was serene.

Prison sources reported, however, that an hour before he was led out, Morejon had tried to hang himself with his belt. Police thwarted the suicide attempt.

In a cell nearby was Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, still awaiting the outcome of his appeal from a death sentence given him in Havana's first show trial.

Opposition Defies Ban By Franco

MADRID (AP)—Prominent liberals and rightists have defied Generalissimo Franco's ban on opposition political movements and formed a new party.

So far there has been no retaliation from the government. Failure to take action would be interpreted as a sign of weakness. All political parties except the government Falange are banned in Spain.

Nearly 100 army officers, bankers, lawyers, university professors and others formed the new party, called Unio Espanola (Spanish Union) at a banquet Thursday in a Madrid hotel.

Speakers included Joaquin Sarrategui Fernandez, a liberal monarchist and member of a wealthy family of Basque industrialists, who in a strong speech said Franco had seized power illegally and kept his regime in office by force. He also criticized the government's economic policy, saying it was "without present or future."

The Spanish Union includes elements opposed to the regime ranging from the extreme right to the left. But four non-Communist groups so far are not participating. The Socialists, Anarchists, leftwing Christian Democrats and Social Democrats.

Sally Dances On

CHICAGO (AP)—Sally Rand, who drew wolf whistles in the 1933 Chicago World Fair, is back with her fans in a Randolph Street saloon.

When veteran newspaper men complained that her old act seemed much longer and much naughtier than her current six-minute performance, the still-shapely Sally replied: "It's exactly the same act with the same music and the same time. It just seemed longer to you in 1933 because you were younger then."

LOVE THOSE OATS — A hungry mare and her colt nuzzle up to Hugh Colville to get fed. Colville, driving through a field north of Calgary to feed his own horses, stopped to inspect a neighbor's stock. The mare, knowing the oats were in the car, stuck her head through the window to get at them. (CP Photo)

25 Survive Crash Of US Troop Plane

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A commercial DC-3 carrying 25 national guardsmen from Idaho crashed and burned in the central Texas hill country late Sunday night. Three men were killed.

Twenty-five men survived, three of them relatively uninjured. The survivors, some of them severely hurt, managed to escape the flaming wreckage after the ice-laden transport smashed into a hill 17 miles southeast of here in rugged country just before midnight.

Rescuers found most of the survivors, muddled, soaked and battered, huddled in a freezing rain a short distance from the flaming wreckage. Nearly all were young, in their late teens or early 20s.

The plane, chartered from General Airways of Portland, Ore., had left Boise, Idaho, earlier in the day to take the men to an air force training school at Lackland air force base, San Antonio.

Three Die In Fire

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—Three persons died Saturday night in a general-alarm fire that raged through a four-story rooming house in below-freezing temperatures. Fire chief Edward J. Grady estimated the loss at $200,000. He said the apparent cause was a compressor explosion in the cellar.

Inspirational Bill Of Rights Wanted By Ontario Lawyers

HAMILTON (CP)—Ontario lawyers agreed Saturday the language of the proposed Canadian bill of rights should be more high-flown.

Professor Stuart Ryan of Queen's University told the Ontario mid-winter meeting of the Canadian Bar Association, which concluded Saturday, the bill should be written in language that will "stir the hearts of men, as well as protect the rights and freedoms."

The delegates agreed, adopting a resolution urging the federal government to phrase the legislation "in words embodying the full nobility of both the French and English language."

As it stands, the professor said, the bill of rights is "pedestrian, matter-of-fact and workaday."

"We want something that can be used to inspire children, be taught in schools; something we can roll around our tongues and respond through our balls."

While over central Texas, the plane radioed that it was icing heavily, was short of gasoline, and would attempt a landing at the Schreiner airport here.

Confessed Murderer Nabbed

ZURICH, Switzerland (Reuters)—Briton Donald Hume, who figured in one of Britain's most bizarre murder cases and now is wanted in connection with a British bank robbery, Sunday was charged with the murder of a Swiss cab driver.

The cab driver was killed and a cashier wounded Friday following an unsuccessful attempt to rob a Zurich bank.

In 1950 Hume was acquitted of the murder of car dealer Stanley Setty, but was sentenced to 12 years for being an accessory after the fact. During the trial Hume admitted aiding in the disposal of Setty's body.

Released a year ago Sunday from prison, Hume confessed in a series of articles last summer in a London Sunday newspaper that he actually did kill Setty, dismembered his body, and dumped it into the English Channel from a plane.

Another resolution called on Justice Minister Fulton to bring in whatever legislation is required to guarantee that the chairmanship of conciliation and arbitration boards will be reserved for judges.

Opponents of the motion argued vainly that judges brought their integrity into jeopardy and sacrificed the traditional independence of the judiciary by entering the arena of labor-management relations.

Said Toronto labor lawyer Norman Mathews, one of the resolution's sponsors: "I resent any suggestion that a judge sitting on arbitration boards dealing with matters concerning large corporations and thousands of dollars, is sacrificing his integrity any more than if he were sitting in division courts, deciding whether Tom Smith should pay John Jones $5."

It would be regrettable for seaway storage facilities to be "immobilized by foreign grain being held in storage for relatively long periods of time."

"It is recognized... the seaway is a joint venture by two friendly countries who are also stern competitors in other phases of world commerce, not the least of which is trade in grain."

The report said that during the coming season an important volume of Canadian grain will be taken aboard ocean vessels. The volume would have a competitive impact on rates and services and the changing situation must be watched closely by Canadian grain traders.

Seaway Terminal Ontario And Prairies Boost Lakehead Port

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Prairie provinces have joined Ontario and the cities of Port Arthur and Fort William in an attempt to find ways to use the Canadian Lakehead as a channel for western products into the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Representatives of the four provinces and the Lakehead cities met here Saturday and formed the Canadian Lakehead Association to develop the Lakehead as a major deep-sea terminal after the opening of the seaway in June.

The CLA will have temporary headquarters in Winnipeg. It will have no executive or policy-making powers but will serve as a clearing house where regional proposals on Lakehead development can be correlated.

SEEK TRANSPORT SURVEY

Delegates agreed the first big task is to seek a full survey of road and traffic potential between the West and the Lakehead.

Earlier in the conference the delegates received a report from a study committee on the probable effects of the seaway on Canada's grain trade.

The committee, sponsored by the Canadian wheat board and the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, recommended revision of Canada's policies on storage of United States grain in Eastern Canadian elevators.

The report said it has been reported that 40 per cent of storage space now being built in Eastern Canada had been reserved for U.S. grain. The committee was unable to confirm the reports, but it said some supervision of U.S. grain would be necessary.

"In order to provide for winter storage of Canadian grains... the storage of U.S.A. grain in eastern elevators should be prohibited for a period beginning Nov. 15 and ending in March of the following year," the report said.

STERN COMPETITORS

It would be regrettable for seaway storage facilities to be "immobilized by foreign grain being held in storage for relatively long periods of time."

"It is recognized... the seaway is a joint venture by two friendly countries who are also stern competitors in other phases of world commerce, not the least of which is trade in grain."

RCAF Believe Radio In Another Aircraft; No Trace Of Hedtoft

HALIFAX — (CP) — RCAF Search and Rescue headquarters here said today they are now convinced that faint radio signals heard earlier this morning were not transmitted by a lifeboat from the Danish ship Hans Hedtoft.

An RCAF spokesman said the signals were picked up on a frequency normally used by aircraft sending "homing" signals. Search officers agreed the signals heard at Greenland coast stations and aboard a search vessel were probably transmitted by an aircraft.

The report had sparked hope for the 95 persons aboard the Hans Hedtoft, unheard from since Friday when she struck an iceberg south of Greenland.

HALIFAX — (CP) — A report of faint radio signals spurred the search today for the Danish ship Hans Hedtoft, missing with 95 persons since it hit an iceberg Friday in heavy seas off Greenland.

The weak signals were believed to be from a lifeboat of the 2,785-ton Hedtoft. There had been no trace of the ship or survivors since she hit the ice.

The signals were reported by two Danish radio stations on the Greenland coast and the Danish motorship Umanak, which had swung off its Greenland-Denmark run Sunday to join the search. RCAF Search and Rescue headquarters here were unable to confirm the reports.

The first signals were heard about 3 p.m. Sunday, and then again between 10 and 11 p.m. Then they disappeared.

WEAK AND IRREGULAR

The Umanak's radioman said the signals were sent by an untrained operator and were very weak and irregularly spaced. He said it appeared the sender was trying to transmit distress signals or a homing beacon.

The signals came through as a confused jumble of dots and dashes, without any apparent attempt to send a coherent message.

The Umanak at the time was 60 miles west of Greenland's Cape Farewell, and the signals apparently came from a position southwest of there. Greenland experts in Copenhagen said it would have been possible for the Hedtoft's lifeboats to have drifted that far west.

Continuing bad weather reduced the air search through Sunday night to one RCAF plane, Danish and U.S. planes were to resume patrol at dawn.

A search plane Friday reported it had spotted what could have been an overturned lifeboat near the Hedtoft's last reported position in the North Atlantic. It was described as a double-ended craft with a lengthwise black stripe. But the royal Greenland trading department said the missing ship's lifeboats were all made of aluminum and were unpaired.

The U.S. Coast Guard cutter Campbell said today's search would be concentrated on the area where the object was sighted, weather and sea conditions permitting.

40-FOOT SEAS

The Cam pbell, two Danish ships and the German vessel Poseidon searched until late Sunday through 40-foot waves and 60-mile-an-hour winds. They steered clear, however, of the

John L. Lewis Seriously Ill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The physician of John L. Lewis described the 78-year-old president of the United Mine Workers as "quite ill" Sunday.

Dr. John Minor's report came after Lewis had an attack while under observation at Georgetown University Hospital. The nature of the attack was expected to be determined either today or Tuesday.

Election Date Uncertain

British Political Prophets Upset

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain's latest domestic developments are upsetting political prophets who had confidently forecast a general election in late spring or early summer.

The three main factors confounding the issue are:

1. Unemployment, which this winter has passed the 500,000 mark.

2. The shocks which both Conservatives and socialists continue to receive from by-elections.

3. The latest opinion polls, which suggest neither of the two main political parties can yet claim a general election victory is in their grasp.

KEY FACTOR

It has been widely accepted that unemployment will be a key

Groundhog Says: Six More Weeks Of Winter

The prediction is — six more weeks of winter!

That is if you go by friend Groundhog. Today, Feb. 2, is Groundhog Day, the day when that furry hibernating creature is supposed to poke his nose out of his winter burrow to see what the weather is like. If he sees his shadow, back he goes for another six weeks.

He'd see it today—if he were foolish enough to emerge from his sleepy hollow into the cold blast that descended over the weekend. Crystal clear and cold was the prediction for most of this area today.

Last night temperatures dropped to 27 below zero at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm, not the coldest snap of the season but enough to make the groundhog theory seem believable.

This intense cold settled over seven provinces from Manitoba to Newfoundland early today, giving southern Ontario its coldest night of the winter and producing a rare three-below-zero at St. John's, Nfld.

At 1 a.m. a moderating trend had driven the mercury at Winnipeg to only four below zero—warmer than the previous night. Northern Ontario's 5-to-20 below readings also reflected a warm-up.

But in the south, the mercury was scheduled to nosedive. At Toronto's Malton airport it was five below at midnight. Other parts of southern Ontario were reporting lows down to 15 below.

At 1 a.m., it was 16 below at Ottawa and 12 below at Montreal. The Arctic air, which dropped temperatures to 40 degrees below zero in Minnesota during the weekend, spread eastward and headed slowly into the southland. The most severe cold numbed the northern tier of states from Montana eastward through northern New England. But it was below zero as far south as northern Missouri.

Swiss Men Say No

GENEVA (AP)—Switzerland's male voters, who regard politics as strictly a man's business, overwhelmingly rejected Sunday a proposal to allow women to vote in federal elections and run for national office.

They defeated a constitutional amendment by 654,924 to 323,306 votes, thus keeping the Swiss republic the last country in Europe which bars women from politics.

The result was another disappointing defeat for the Swiss suffrage movement, which has fought unsuccessfully for votes for women since the flapper days of the 1920s.

So overwhelming was the decision that it may be a decade or more before the issue is fought out again on the national stage.

Open To Heretics

WARSAW (Reuters)—A law opening Roman Catholic cemeteries for burials of heretics and unbelievers was passed by an overwhelming majority by the Polish Parliament Saturday. Under the measure, cemeteries hitherto reserved solely for Catholics must in future accept all local dead, no matter what their former faith or attitude toward religion, if there is no local municipal cemetery.

Meanwhile the latest by-election result at Southend West last week slashed a former government majority by more than half, and an intervening Liberal candidate sent the Labor nominee to the bottom of the poll.

This parliamentary contest was in line with many previous by-elections in the last two years where many voters, apparently out of love with both main parties, have backed an alternative candidate—usually a Liberal.

Airport Construction Scheduled To Resume In Spring, Mayor Says

Magog Vote

MAGOG. — Polls close at six o'clock on one of the most keenly-contested elections ever held in this city.
Mayor Maurice Theroux and three other candidates, former Mayor Ernest Simard, Ald. Jean Loslier and Philias St-Jean are seeking the mayoralty.

Clearing and grubbing work, now at a standstill at the site of Sherbrooke's future municipal airport, is expected to be resumed in early spring, Mayor Armand Nadeau declared this morning commenting on his talks with Federal Transport Minister Hees in Ottawa Thursday.

The mayor headed a delegation of Aldermen Paul Gervais and Marcel Savard, who accompanied by Maurice Allard, Sherbrooke MP, met with Mr. Hees and other transport department officials.

Mayor Nadeau said the delegation was assured by Mr. Hees that new tenders to complete the preliminary work would be called during April.

Mr. Allard, who returned to the parliamentary session today, was not available for comment on the meeting.

Federal Provincial Relations Again Dominate Quebec Debates

By BERT TRUDEL
(Record Special Writer)

QUEBEC.—The question of federal-provincial relations has exploded again in Quebec's political sky: Highlight of the past week in the Legislative Assembly was Thursday's debate around a Liberal motion requesting the help of Ottawa to stop the dumping of American surplus of chicken and turkey meat.

The motion had been proposed by Alcide Courcy (Abitibi-West) and stressed the fact that heavy imports in the past few months were competing unfairly with the business of Quebec breeders.

Nobody, including the government, denied this was so. The Liberal member for Brome gave impressive figures showing that in 1958, based on official 1957 statistics, Quebec poultry breeders had lost an estimated $500,000. Imports of chickens were mostly to blame. They had jumped from 1,379,425 pounds in 1957 to 6,175,535 in 1958. On the other hand, federal intervention had caused imports of turkey meat to drop from more than 6,000,000 pounds to 432,000 pounds during the same period.

The Liberal argument, therefore, was that by prodding Ottawa the Quebec government would obtain the same kind of deal concerning chicken meat.

But the Government had a substitute for the Liberal motion, and it proposed the following amendment:

"The Legislative Assembly is of opinion that the respect for the federal constitutional prerogatives contributes to the safeguard of the provincial constitutional prerogatives and that the provincial government, in exercising its constitutional rights, will continue to take the best and most appropriate measure to protect the farmers of the province against an unjust competition caused by the imports into the province of the surplus chicken meat coming from the United States."

Thus the Government acknowledged the problem but differed sharply on the means to find a solution. And thereby hangs a new tale of an old stand on matters of federal and provincial jurisdiction.

Premier Duplessis sounded the keynote of the debate. "To the taunts of the Opposition, claiming consideration of prerogatives would give scant protection to poultry breeders, he replied pinpricks inflicted on Ottawa would not help relations and solve problems between the two governments. To the charge that he was refusing to act because his Conservative friends were now in power, he recalled his stand on provincial rights had been the same at the 1957 Federal-Provincial conference as it had been under King and St. Laurent governments.

There are other ways to find a solution to the problem, he said, indicating the Agriculture Department was the proper channel. Naturally, both sides remained on their respective positions, and the amendment was voted along party lines.

The week was fertile in debates. There was one on natural resources, a topic which comes up every year, with the usual claim by the opposition that the government should insist on the processing in the province of at least part of our iron ore. There again, both sides agree in common wish for a steel mill. But while the Liberals hold it could be done now, Mr. Duplessis claims there are still many obstacles to be overcome. He also pointed out to the house that if the government had forced promoters to build one, they would have invested their millions in other countries also rich in iron ore. To which Opposition Leader Lapalme replied that now several groups are interested in this great Quebec Natural Wealth, the time would be ripe to make the move.

A third debate was of a much different nature since it involved parliamentary procedure and, according to the Liberals, the basic right of the House to debate a motion for adjournment. It stemmed from a motion introduced by Mr. Duplessis himself to permit the House to adjourn on a motion without notice and, without debate, beginning next week until the end of the current session.

Reason for the move was the necessity of devoting the whole time of the private and Public Bills' Committees, to which a majority of the members belong, to the Montreal bill and the study of some 60 other private bills.

Mr. Lapalme, for the opposition, quoted William Pitt who had one day called necessity "the pretext of the tyrants." He said he offered to collaborate with the Government, as his group always had in this particular matter, but insisted the motion be withdrawn.

Premier Duplessis took the position the Liberals were creating a storm in a teapot. The adjournment, he said, was only for the purpose of permitting the committees to sit and no other reason. So, a majority vote of the House approved the motion thus altering for the first time, at least to that extent, the usual procedure of the Assembly.

There was a good story last week in a visit paid to Superintendent of Education Omer Jules Desautniers by delegates of the Federation of Catholic School Commissions. Unfortunately, because newsmen are sticking very close to Legislature activities, it was almost unnoticed.

The Federation presented a brief suggesting among other things: Perfect synchronization between secondary schools and university programs; compulsory school attendance to age 16 or ninth grade; A system of vocational guidance for students; the establishment of central schools; standard assessment of property on which school taxes are based; a special tax on firms exploiting natural resources and finally the appointment of the one per cent sales tax for primary education, plus the imposition everywhere of another one per cent, in some localities, for secondary education.

The stand taken by Superintendent Desautniers was one that strongly suggested caution, with the recommendation that all those requests be fully considered and matured, in the light of what was now happening in the field of education in this province. He further suggested that the Federation should appoint a subcommittee whose job it would be to carefully digest all proposals aimed at introducing changes in the system.

Reason for the superintendent's cautious attitude is the fact that an extraordinary rapid evolution is now taking place at both primary and secondary levels, with central schools being set up in many localities and secondary education being dispensed in many institutions. These changes bring problems with them, and the stand taken by the department is that care should be taken not to force them in localities where public opinion is not yet ready to accept them.

A fair idea of the many-sided aspect of the educational problem is the swift and considerable increase of students. Last September, there were 47,000 new ones, and of these, 21,000 entered secondary schools. With more students entering schools and pushing their studies at a more advanced stage than ever before, along with modifications to the traditional system, it can really be said Quebec's educational structure is undergoing a significant change for the better.

Asbestos Plant Is Winner Of JM Safety Award

ASBESTOS (Special) — K. W. Huffine, vice president for production of Johns-Manville Corporation, recently informed J. E. Morrison, manager of the local manufacturing plant, that the latter was the winner of the 1958 Vice President's Production Safety Award. This trophy is awarded each year to the Johns-Manville plant — there are now 33 J-M plants in Canada and U.S.A. — which has achieved the best safety record through the year.

The Asbestos factory completed a disabling injury-free year in 1958. In other words, the employees worked 750,000 hours without a lost time accident. "This is an enviable record," stated Mr. Morrison, "which shows the close cooperation between the employees, the safety department and the factory management as well as the interest and ambition of everyone concerned in the prevention of accidents and the promotion of safety at all times. It is a company objective that safety be considered a paramount requisite of any efficient method of doing work. A job well done is a job done safely."

The Asbestos factory had already won this trophy in 1949. "Each employee," added Mr. Morrison, "is to be congratulated for this splendid teamwork achievement."

Mr. Huffine is expected to come to Asbestos at a later date to present personally this trophy to the local plant.

R.I. Man Shot

The body of Harold Planche, 60, of Rock Island, was found yesterday morning in a parked car in the lot behind the Maples, a hotel in Stanstead. Provincial Police reported this morning.

Planche died of a gun shot wound to the head, police stated. The body was found by Joseph Asselin, a bartender, as he was on his way to Mass. A small calibre firearm was found beside the body.

Plans for the construction of municipal airport were announced by Maurice Gingués, ex-Liberal MP for Sherbrooke, in January, 1957. The city subsequently purchased the land at the future site and the federal government granted the contract for clearing and grubbing the land.

The calling of tenders for the construction of the runways was delayed twice in 1958 when it was found that the contractor could not complete the preliminary work.

According to the mayor, the delegation was told by Mr. Hees that the delay in the preliminary work did not mean that the project had been abandoned.

A Sherbrooke delegation which went to Ottawa about two years ago was told that the cost of the runways would be absorbed by the federal government while the city would share 25 percent of the costs of an airport terminal.

MAYOR'S STATEMENT
The mayor's complete statement in last week's Ottawa meeting is as follows:
"Thanks to the intervention of the Sherbrooke member, Maurice Allard, the Sherbrooke delegation was well received. The meeting was held in the office of Transport Minister, Hon. George Hees. "He (Mr. Hees) said that the plans for the construction of the airport had not been changed and that, if all went well, new tenders will be asked during the month of April to proceed with the clearing of the site. They will follow up the contract abandoned by the previous contractor."

"Mr. Hees said he would keep Mr. Allard informed of developments in this matter as they occurred."

AID. GERVAIS
Ald. Gervais, chairman of the municipal transport committee, said that Mr. Hees declared that the delay in the airport project was beyond the federal government's control.

Gauthier and a friend, Nelson Lallier, were only slightly shaken up.

Taken to hospital were Alix fractured left leg; his wife, multiple cuts to the face; Miss Denise Alix, cuts to the forehead; Yvon and Raymond Alix, cuts to both legs; Yves Laoué, fractured thigh, and Jacques Fréneau, fractured left leg and cuts to the face and hand.

All were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Granby.

Both vehicles are considered totally wrecked.

No-fatality Awards To ET Centres

Seven Eastern Townships municipalities are among the 90 Quebec province cities and towns which have been named as winners of the Achievement Award presented by the Quebec Safety League for having completed 1958 without a fatal traffic accident. A sharp improvement in the safety record was registered in 1958, according to J. G. G. Reilly, a director of the League and chairman of the Traffic committee, who said the number of municipalities winning these awards had increased by 34 over 1957.

Eastern Townships municipalities receiving the honors were: Population from 3,000 to 5,000 — Lennoxville and Princeville. Population from 5,000 to 10,000 — Black Lake, Coaticook and Plessisville. Population from 10,000 to 20,000 — Asbestos and Magog.

Annual Carnival Offered By Figure Skating Club

Sherbrooke district residents who braved the sub-zero weather to witness the annual ice carnival presented by the members of the Sherbrooke Figure Skating Club at the local arena over the week-end were rewarded with an impressive display of the achievements of the junior members of the club.

The senior numbers, for the most part solos and duets, left little to be desired and brought well-merited applause but it was the chorus line work of the youngsters which attracted the most favorable comment from the audience — especially from the junior element which provided the major portion of yesterday afternoon's large attendance.

The first chorus number was Winter Wonderland, a brief display by some 40 youngsters ranging in age from four years up wards, which indicated a considerable reserve of potential talent.

Another "spectacular" comprised the Blue Bells, a ballet group of 16 girls with Rolande Rousseau as ballerina.

The third group number undoubtedly drew the greatest round of applause. Entitled "Cowgirls - Hoopa Hoopa," it comprised a chorus line of 6 girls dressed in typical cowgirl outfits and carrying the now popular hoopa hoops. This was climaxed with the four featured members — Martha Skinner, Margaret Webster, Suzanne Robidoux, Pauline Thibault — providing a display of jumping through the hoops while on skates.

Participating in solo numbers were Karen MacLennan, Sandra Davey, Nicole Hamel, Jeannette Mahon, Nicole Baillargeon, Claudette Kenalty, David Crete, Shirley Taylor, Ruth Maskell and Claudette Hamel.

Duet numbers were provided by Nicole and Micheline Blais, Shirley Taylor and David Crete, Ruth Maskell and Renaude Nadeau, Claudette Hamel and Bob Dutil, Nicole Baillargeon and Helene Mahon, Rolande Rousseau and Bob Dutil, Claudette Kenalty and Fern Fraser.

No ice carnival can be complete without the presence of a clown, the role being filled by Dick Nutter with a generous as-

Trade With China Small

It is unfortunate, but inevitable, that trade with China has become a political football in Canada. Any hint that trade is being stopped for political reasons is bound to raise a storm in a country with as many unemployed as we have. And when that favorite whipping boy, the United States, can be blamed because of parent company control over Canadian subsidiaries, the temptation is too great for any politician to resist.

Emotion, however, only clouds the issue. Canada does not recognize the Communist regime in China. Non-recognition today stems from Chinese intervention against United Nations forces in Korea. That, and continued American intransigence on the point, are the two principle reasons why the Formosa regime, and not the Communists of the mainland, is recognized as China's representative in the United Nations.

Inevitably, as successive votes in the United Nations indicate, the Communist regime will be recognized. Moreover, the mere fact of its hugeness will force the free world to pay more attention to China in the future.

In Canada we have wisely separated the political and economic issues.

Trade, goes on and Canada is trading to a limited extent with China. But before one is carried away with the prospects of this vast, untouched market, some facts must be considered.

Canada last year doubled its trade with China, but the total amounted to less than one per cent of our trade with the United States. Most of the increase was in wheat, which the federal government is anxious to sell anywhere. More important, China itself is not much interested in trading with the West. Most of its trade is with other Communist countries. And when China does trade, it is more interested in selling to us than buying. The Communists, of course, can adjust their prices to undercut us anywhere in the world.

Canada permits non-strategic trade with China. The United States attempts to ban all trade. If we can sell to China, we will. But there is little the government can do short of nationalization to dictate whether individual firms will or will not sell to China.

Those Spring Roads

Disturbed engineers in England have opened an investigation to determine why Britain's only super-highway has suddenly sprouted cracks, ridges, bubbles and eruptions along its entire eight and a quarter mile length.

The $10,500,000 road, which took two and a half years to build, was closed only 48 days after it was opened by Prime Minister Macmillan.

Its asphalt face crumbled after two and a half weeks of freezing winter weather, followed by a thaw.

British newspapers have denounced the whole unfortunate situation as "a fiasco."

Over here, of course, we take a calmer view. It's old stuff — we know the complaint as "spring roads."

Every spring, our roads — super-highways as well as lesser lanes — are loosed from winter's grip with the most varied assortment of cracks, ridges, potholes and waves in the world.

It is not uncommon for whole sections of perfectly good roadway to drop entirely from view, or for substantial portions of surroundings hills to slide down suddenly on the right of way.

In another two months or so, this annual crack-up will begin.

But it's no use calling it all a "fiasco." We know from long experience that while muttered imprecations under the breath may promote a better front of mind, public denunciations have absolutely no effect on the weather, and even less on the condition of the roads.

The only real cure is an impending summer election. And even then, the repair job only lasts until next year!

This And That

An Ohio family had a swell time recently. All four of them got the mumps together.

When people talk about the good old days they mean times when there were no deductions from a man's pay until he got home.

The new look in women's shoes — pointed toes — is ideal for women with only one toe.

The world hailed the scientific achievement of splitting the atom. Now we would like to have an atom that didn't split.

Press Comment

INEXCUSABLE BIGOTRY

(Regina Leader-Post)

It is quite apparent that some of those living in what they are proud to boast as "the free world" have not themselves the blessing of a free mind. A mind free, that is, from the strangling effect of suspicion, bigotry and prejudice.

The United States movie industry has entered into a deal with the culture ministry of the Soviet Union. The deal is concerned with mutual trade in moving pictures, movies and seven Russian movies to be sold at about $60,000 each for release in either country.

As a sample of the pictures in question, Russia has already chosen, for showing in that country, Marly, Oklahoma, The Old Man and the Sea, The Great Caruso and Roman Holiday. And the American Motion Picture Association has already said they want to have The Cranes are Flying, Swan Lake, The Idiot and the Captain's Daughter.

Now what can be wrong with that? Tensions are great enough already between the western world and Russia, without some narrow-minded bigot in the United States raising a McCarthyite fuss over this exchange. Yet such a dither is in the making. And charges have been aired that the United States is going to be swamped with Communist films, and that congress should stop it.

In a recent radio broadcast, John T. Flynn said bitterly: "Now you are expected to help support the Soviet film industry by paying your money to watch Communist movies."

Rubbish! There is no evidence that a great many Soviet films are to be introduced into the United States, or that any that are coming are propagandist in character. Is it impossible to watch Swan Lake without becoming a Marxist? . . . And if so, is a Communist likely to become a "Wall Street reactionary" because he enjoys, as so many of the rest of us have enjoyed, Oklahoma?

One hopes such an exchange may continue and even enlarge. Better social and cultural understanding can only help better political understanding.

And if any of the productions of the National Film Board would interest our Russian friends, surely the government would not hesitate to encourage an exchange—even if Canada hasn't the movie resources of Hollywood to compete with some of the excellent pictures and other forms of art the Russians are producing.

English-Afrikaner Strife

Unification Means Republic In South Africa

By RUSSELL ELMAN

PRETORIA, South Africa (CP) — In his first broadcast as prime minister, Hendrik Verwoerd declared the unification of the South African people can only come about with the establishment of a republic.

Referring to relations between the 3,000,000 English- and Afrikaans-speaking South Africans, he said:

"Above everything, I look forward to the happy day when all will be so joined together into one people with two languages, by a common patriotism; that political differences that may exist will no longer be based on sentiment but purely on differences of opinion on social and economic problems."

Whether the creation of a republic—for which no date has yet been announced—will produce the harmony the prime minister seeks is a matter of guesswork.

At present the Afrikaner and English-speaking South African associate in business, play on the same rugby teams, entertain in each other's homes, intermarry and generally share the same views on racial policy. Approximately 60 per cent speak Afrikaans and 40 per cent English as their home language.

Far more Afrikaners are bilingual but the gap is being narrowed as Afrikaans now is a major subject in all English-medium schools. Today knowledge of both tongues is a compulsory qualification for any government job.

In line with this trend towards bilingualism, the Afrikaans language, once rarely heard outside the home, has assumed a new importance. Although the first complete Afrikaans dictionary has still to be published, new words are constantly being added; towns and streets are being renamed in Afrikaans; there are Afrikaans feature films, radio programs, and a budding literature.

In the past the cities, apart from the old Boer republic capitals of Pretoria and Bloemfontein, were principally English-speaking. Today Afrikaans speakers are streaming from Plateland farms to Johannesburg and even to Durban, heart of English-speaking South Africa.

Since the war Afrikaners have also taken a greater share in commerce and industry, particularly through their participation in government-sponsored enterprises.

In politics approximately 90 per cent of the ruling Nationalist party and 80 per cent of the opposition United party are Afrikaners. There are no English cabinet ministers and the United party has an Afrikaans leader, Sir de Villiers Graaf.

Politics, tinged with sentiments rooted in the great trek and the Boer War, are the chief source of conflict between the races. Differences are aired in Parliament, conversation and the newspapers.

English-speaking South Africans say a brand of "Afrikaner" nationalism is being promoted at the expense of a united white South Africa. They accuse the Nationalist government of packing the state-owned railways, police and civil service with Afrikaners; not encouraging European immigration—now about 10,000 a year—for fear the newcomers will be English-speaking and anti-Nationalist; and of trying to safeguard the party's political supremacy by giving the vote to 18-year-olds, readjusting electoral constituencies and through threatened restrictions of the press and civil liberties.

Afrikaners accuse the English-speaking population of having a divided loyalty between the Union and Britain. Although they were not born there, some South Africans refer to Britain as "home," in Pietermaritzburg, capital of Natal, the Union Jack is still flown on the town hall although no longer recognized as one of South Africa's flags.

JACOBY On Bridge

DEFENSE SHOWS BRIDGE METTLE

Anyone, or at least any expert can work squeezes, end plays and coups when declarer but really good defense is the quintessence of bridge skill.

West opened his king of hearts against the three spade contract and shifted to his fourth best club East won dummy's king with the ace and took stock of the situation.

If West held only five clubs the hand was going down on almost any line of defense. If he held six, as was quite likely, East decided his best play was to return the queen of clubs rather than to give his partner a heart ruff.

South trumped, cashed his ace and dummy's king of trumps and led the queen of diamonds. It held the trick as did the jack of diamonds which was played next.

The three of hearts was led from dummy and East came up with another good play. He played the nine. South played the jack and West came up with the crusher. He refused to ruff.

Now declarer had no way to avoid losing three more tricks and his contract.

FIERCE PROTESTS

The recent abolition of God Save the Queen as the national anthem provoked fierce protests.

In turn Afrikaners are criticized for keeping alive bitter memories of the Boer War. In Bloemfontein there is a Boer War museum and an obelisk to the 26,320 women and children who died in British concentration camps.

An editor of an Afrikaans-language monthly magazine, however, said the museum, obelisk, the great monument to the 1836 Voortrekker pioneers in Pretoria and the preservation of the republican tradition of the old Boer states are the means of symbolizing his people's battle for nationhood.

"You must always remember we were a crushed and defeated people in 1902," he said. "We have preserved our national identity against bitter odds."

New York Tug Crews On Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Crews of tugboats and other harbor craft have voted to continue their strike in the port of New York.

The work stoppage by 4,000 crew members of 400-odd craft went into effect Saturday midnight.

Members of Local 333 of the United Maritime Union voted 1,100 to 916 Sunday to reject a wage offer by the employers and to continue the strike.

The impact of the strike is not expected to be immediately severe. Fuel oil has been stockpiled in the city in anticipation of the strike.

The strike will force passenger liners and other large ships to sail and dock without the aid of tugs.

The union members rejected Sunday a 21-cent-an-hour increase. The basic hourly wage now ranges from $1.95 for a deckhand on a tug to $3.11 for a captain of a seagoing tug.

It was decided to offer the Bates Manufacturing Co., Lewiston, Me., $175,000 for its Waterloo property. The street survey made by Leon Desrochers was approved.

The council accepted the town coat of arms designed by Andre Genest. St. Hyacinthe, at a cost of $650. The sum of $280 was voted to the Chamber of Commerce to help pay the expenses of the Christmas decorations on Main and Court Streets, and a grant of $100 was given to the Knights of Columbus to assist them with the Christmas gifts to the children and baskets for needy families.

Gerald F. Hollenbeck was officially appointed chief of police. At a special meeting held later, the council decided that a request for a temporary loan of $30,000 would be made to the Quebec Municipal Commission to carry the town over until the balance of the taxes and other revenues were available.

It was moved that T. L. Wilkinson present proposition for fire insurance on the new Town Hall, arena and other buildings on the Fair Grounds.

Leon Desrochers, land surveyor, was authorized to prepare a plan for the road leading to Ledoux Island, conforming with instructions already received from the Canadian National Railway.

The fire department was called to a fire on May 4, 1957, at Dr. Girard's cottage, Waterloo Lake, the bill from the department being $325. As this has not been paid, it was resolved that the council ask the owners of the cottages in that sector $25 each for the protection they received at the time of the Girard fire. Without this protection additional damage to other cottages might have occurred.

Application forms for fire protection from the town have been sent to proprietors of the cottages with the understanding that in case of a fire the cost of fighting any one blaze at that location be borne equally by each of the owners.

Rodolphe Larose was named assistant-chief of the Police Force.

J. P. Robidoux will occupy the tenement in the new Town Hall, with duties as supervisor of the building at weekly wages of $45, including the tenement, heating and lighting. In the absence of a policeman on duty, Mr. Robidoux will answer all phone calls and see that Mrs. Robidoux or someone else is available to answer phone calls at all times, with no additional charge for this service.

The town will pay for the caretaker of the skating rink of the College of St. Bernard.

Textile Imports From Red China Evaluated Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Imports of textiles from Communist China are being re-evaluated upward to put them on the same footing as imports from the United States, a Revenue Minister Nowlan said today in the Commons.

He was replying to Grant Campbell (PC — Stormont) who said there has been an "alarming" increase in textile imports from mainland China.

Mr. Nowlan said the government is aware of the situation. There had been "very, very substantial" imports of "several million yards" from Communist China in recent weeks. They had been received in Canada with the warning they could be revalued, and appropriate action had been taken to do this.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

CHILDREN'S NERVOUS HABITS CAUSE PARENTS MUCH CONCERN

Two mothers have asked for discussions of what are probably related conditions. One says that her son has been grinding and grinding his teeth at night. The other says that her little daughter constantly blinks her eyes.

Now both of these are rather common habit disorders. Grinding the teeth during sleep is particularly common among those children who are over-active in the daytime and perhaps are anxious or insecure.

Hence activity should be curbed and the home life carefully studied to see if there are any factors of insecurity or tension which can be eliminated. It is said that large adenoids may lead to teeth grinding. A child with this difficulty should be examined also for tonsil trouble.

Blinking is usually a nervous habit and perhaps should be treated in much the same way as teeth grinding. However, it can be the result of irritation or infection in or about the eyes, allergy, or occasionally something else.

In both cases the children should be studied for the presence of possible disease. If none is found, the proper procedure is to try to correct any environmental causes.

A problem of a different kind comes from another mother who is concerned about convulsions in children while they are teething.

I believe most of those who have studied this question do not believe that teething alone can cause convulsions. There are certainly a good many youngsters who have convulsions of this sort for a while and "outgrow" them. But it is not safe to count on this and it is not something which can simply be ignored.

Mrs. H. has sent in a question which is interesting but which I cannot possibly answer.

She says her son has just finished examinations for which he had studied carefully. When he sat down to write the answers, however, he found that all of his ideas went out the window. She wants to know if there is some drug that a student might take which would help him to remember for his examinations.

This is not really a medical question, but I can assure Mrs. H. that her son is not the only one who has had such an experience. If I could suggest a drug which would do what Mrs. H. wants done, I am sure I should be very popular indeed.

Perhaps this boy, like others, is overly tense for his examinations. It might be helpful if he could realize that the world will not rise and fall on his answers and if he goes into his examinations in a somewhat more relaxed frame of mind he might do better.

Sugar-Coating Child's Life Won't Ever Build Character

"We didn't have anything else to do" said three young boys who broke into a school house, smashed windows, splashed wall maps and globes, splattered walls and floors with ink, tore up furniture, and left the school building a total mess.

A lot of kids today don't have enough to do to keep them busy and out of trouble.

Once parents believed strongly that "Satan finds work for idle hands to do." But that homely moral has gone by the board as children's happiness rather than their character has come to be the main concern of parents.

Well, Satan still finds work for idle hands. And parents ought not to forget it. Give a kid all the allowance he needs for spending money, give him a car to run around in and a credit card to keep the tank filled, ask nothing of him in the way of shouldering some of the responsibilities of family living and you've got a kid with more time on his hands and more unused energy than he knows what to do with.

Take the same kid and tell him he has to earn his own spending money, that he can have his own car when he can pay for it himself, and give him some of the jobs that have to be done around a house. Then you've got a kid who doesn't have the time or energy to go around smashing things for fun, who knows the value of money well enough not to think that property destruction is a big joke.

What we parents must face is that you don't build character in a child just by making life easy for him and removing all obstacles in his path. All that does is make an unhappy, restless child who thinks he has to have his fun and excitement, no matter who pays for it.

Shown here wearing her bull-fighting costume in Quito, Ecuador. Miss Hayward has had 17 bull fights. Educated in St. John's, she moved to Montreal and worked as a stenographer before touring England, France, Austria and Spain. She became interested in the sport in Spain, and then moved to Mexico where she started in the ring. (CP Photo).

No-Nonsense Diet---3

Do Your Reducing At Family Dinner Table

Here's the third of a six-part no-nonsense diet series prepared by NEA Food and Markets Editor with the active cooperation of the American Dietetic Association and 11 of the nation's top nutrition experts.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

You are overweight. You want to get rid of that unlovely and unhealthful fat. But before you start, do two things: Have a medical checkup and accept the scientific fact that eating, not starvation, is the basis of any effective weight reduction program.

Most medical and nutrition researchers in obesity agree that the 1,500 calories a day diet will cause most anyone to lose weight. On only 1,500 calories a day you will undoubtedly be eating many fewer calories than you were eating when you put on those excess pounds. Therefore, with less food and moderate regular exercise you will begin to burn up some of that fat.

Whether you need to lose 5 or 40 pounds, you must eat right amounts of nutrition-rich foods every day. These are milk, fruits, vegetables, meat, fish, eggs, legumes, wholegrain and enriched breads and cereals. Those are the foods included in nutritionally balanced family meals. No so-called "natural" or "health" foods are required, no pills, no drugs. Just good American food, the kind the family meal planner buys in her market.

Therefore, although you decide to go on a 1,500-calorie diet, there is no reason why you cannot eat regularly at the family dinner table. You need the same kinds of foods that nondieting members of the family need. The same kinds but in smaller amounts. So draw up your chair and join the family.

In any long-term, effective weight reduction plan, emotional stability is essential. Unless the dieter can stay reasonably within the accustomed cultural and family pattern, he is likely to become depressed and be tempted to go off his diet. That is why eating with the family, though eating less, is recommended by both psychiatrists and nutritionists.

The University of California (Berkeley) School of Public Health gives these instructions in the calorie value of foods before a dieter starts on a weight loss program:

The calorie value of foods de-

Draw up your chair and join the family.

ends on the relative amounts of fat, sugar, or starch, protein, water, and fiber they contain. Water and fiber, present in large amounts in vegetables and to a lesser degree in fruits, provide no calories. For this reason, celery, asparagus, cabbage, eggplant, broccoli, radishes, tomatoes, peppers, summer squash, lettuce, and other leafy vegetables provide virtually no calories. They may therefore be eaten in unrestricted amounts in reduction diets.

On the other hand, foods that contain relatively little moisture and fiber, such as breads and cereals, are relatively high in calories, especially so if they contain fat as well as starch and protein. Sugar, starch and protein are alike in calorie value. Fats contain slightly more than twice as many calories as sugars, starches, or protein.

Dr. Ruth L. Hueneman, associate professor of public health nutrition, at the university, outlined for NEA Service the basic menu for the entire family which appears with this article. It has modification for individual members, including the member on a 1,500 calorie diet.

Sweets To The Sweet

Spices in cooking may be compared to the use of make-up in grooming... both should be used subtly. They can then achieve an intriguing elusiveness without becoming too noticeable. A deliciously different flavor is obtained in this recipe for Valentine Cookie Drops by combing all spice and mace with two kinds of sugar. In honor of the occasion each cookie is decorated with red cherries or heart shaped candies.

A Rosy Confectioners' Icing may also be used to carry out the Valentine theme. These dainties are a delightful treat with afternoon tea or desserts. With slight variations in shape or decoration, they can also be used to carry out the festive theme on other holiday occasions.

Decorate each cookie with little red heart-shaped candies or bits of red maraschino or candied cherries—or if desired, cookies may be left undecorated, then brushed when baked with the following Rosy Confectioners' Icing and decorated with candy hearts or bit of cherries. Bake the cookies in preheated oven 10 to 12 minutes.

ROSY CONFECTIONERS' ICING

1 cup sifted icing sugar, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, Cream, Red food coloring.
Combine icing sugar, vanilla

Homemaking

A weak solution of borax or baking soda is good for cleaning refrigerator walls and ice trays. This should be done once a week for a really clean refrigerator.

Collecting recipes is worthwhile and a lot of fun. After many years a well-used file of recipes can become quite dogeared. Prevent this by covering the cards with plastic or merely dip them in shellac. Shellac will prevent smudging as well as stiffen the cards.

and sufficient cream to make a medium-thick icing. Tint delicately with red food coloring.

HOMER MEAD SALISBURY, OF WEST BROME

WEST BROME — It was with sadness that residents of this community learned of the death of Homer Mead Salisbury at his home on Wednesday, January 7, 1959.

Homer Salisbury was born at Abbott's Corner, Que., on May 8, 1878, the eldest son of George Salisbury and his wife, Harriet Schofield. On December 20, 1899, he married Charlotte Sweet and of this union four children were born, Alma, Mrs. Charles Flynn, of Jackson Heights, N.Y., her twin sister, Frances, who died in infancy, Hugh, who died in 1921, and George of West Brome, with whom he resided.

A great lover of horses, Mr. Salisbury was one of the last residents of this district to keep and use a driving horse.

He was an honorary president of the Brome County Agricultural Society, which he had served for years as director and president, taking a great interest in exhibiting horses and Holstein cattle, which he had bred for many years.

He will long be remembered for his keen sense of humor, his staunch support of the Conservative party and his many "horse trades".

In addition to his widow and two children, Mr. Salisbury leaves a half brother, Ray, of Newburg, N.Y.; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Hazel Salisbury, of Rich-

Hamilton And Mooney Rinks Win Governor General Cup At Ottawa

Defeat Arnprior Curling Club In Two-Rink Event 20-15; Third Year Same Quartet Have Reached Finals

By NEV. HAMILTON

OTTAWA — (Special to the Record) — Lennoxville Curling Club rinks skipped by Stan Hamilton and Ron Mooney combined scores to defeat Arnprior Curling Club 20 - 15 and win the Governor-General's Cup and Medals at the Glebe Curling Club here Saturday. These same two rinks won the double-rink blue ribbon event two years ago, defeating the Ottawa Curling Club, and were eliminated in the semi-finals last year by Lachine.

Hamilton's rink provided the margin in the finals trouncing Doug Farmer 12 - 6 while the Mooney foursome was edged 10 - 8 by Steele Campbell.

The victory was the end of a long week's curling which saw Lennoxville eliminate Sherbrooke, Howick, Outremont, and Three Rivers. In the semi-finals played Friday night in Montreal Mooney whipped D. Bird of Three Rivers 12-5 but the Hamilton rink lost to H. Miller 11-7.

In the finals Lennoxville rinks picked up five points across-the-board in the first end. This was cut down rapidly as Farmer and Campbell both counted singletons in the second end and registered a two and a four respectively in the third to lead eight to five.

Both Lennoxville foursomes settled down to regular steady curling at this point and soon whittled down the league. At the end of the sixth Hamilton was up 6-4 and Mooney led 6-5 from here on, the only real threat came in the eighth end when Campbell scored three.

The play in general was steady but not spectacular. Farmer tried to force a running game on Hamilton but had to reverse this style several times and the constant changes of pace cost him at least four ends. Gratton Crosby played a consistent lead stone in the Lennoxville camp and Charlie Warner's take out eye was deadly. Both third D'Arcy Bennett and skip Hamilton came up with fine clutch shots in the mid-stages of the game. The other match was strictly a knock-out affair and in their loss the Mooney rink went down in a blaze of glory. Howard Leslie played a solid draw while mate Bob Nugent cracked in frequently with fine takeouts. Doug MacDonald and skip Mooney curled well and came through in many tough situations.

Tension ran high throughout the entire game and the partisan Arnprior gallery which numbered about two hundred applauded frequently.

The traditional air of pomp and pageantry was in evidence from the word "go" as the curlers paraded around the rink to the skirl of the bag pipes prior to play. His Worship Mayor George Neils of Ottawa almost drew the house as he delivered the initial stone of the competition. His Excellency, Governor General Vincent Massey presented his cup to Mr. Hamilton who accepted it on behalf of the Lennoxville club. Mr. Massey also presented his medals and extended warm congratulations to each member of the winning rinks.

LONDON (Reuters) — London's mighty Arsenal, trying for the near-impossible Soccer Cup and league title double, stayed on top of the English league's first division by hammering their intractable rivals, Tottenham Hotspurs, 4-1 Saturday. In the second half, Arsenal, with only 10 men, held off Spurs with the only Tottenham point coming from centre-forward Bobby Smith. Henderson rapped in his second goal of the day for Arsenal.

John Thomas, Boston University, Sets World Indoor Record For High Jump Clearing Seven Feet

NEW YORK (AP) — Two years ago, when he was 15 years old, John Thomas had trouble clearing six feet in the high jump. Today, the gangling Boston University freshman is one of the world's few seven-foot jumpers, holds the world's indoor record and very well could go up to 7-4 by the 1960 Olympics. Young John, who stands 6-4 1/2, still is developing. In less than a year, he has grown an inch and three-quarters. He hasn't reached his potential yet. In his past three competitions, he has broken the world's indoor record each time. Saturday, in the Millrose Games in Madison Square Gar-

Willie "Mr. Billiards" Hoppe Dies Following Lengthy Sickness, Was Recognized As Wizard At Game

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Willie Hoppe — "Mr. Billiards" for half a century of near-flawless play—died Sunday. "I don't think I'm going to need my cues any longer," the 71-year-old balkline and three-cushion master said on the eve of his death in hospital where he was under treatment for cancer, his brother said. The onetime wizard of billiards had suffered illnesses before and bounced back to win titles — his last, and 51st, the three-cushion crown he won in 1952 at the age of 65. HOPPE IN WHITE HOUSE William Frederick Hoppe was in knee-pants when he made his first shots on a table he had to stand on a box to reach. He developed in smoky poolhalls the calm, deliberate style of play that carried him to world titles and the distinction of being the only known player to give a White House exhibition, which he did in 1911. At 18, in 1906, Hoppe was crowned 18.1 balkline champion. He was 18.2 tillist from 1910 to 1920, won the title again in 1923-24, ruled the 14.1 world from 1914 and triumphed in the difficult 71.2 in 1938. He turned later to three-cushion competition, winning the world title in 1940 in 20 straight victories, believed to be a tournament record. Hoppe trained in his youth for matches as if for a prize fight. He did roadwork, watched his diet and got plenty of sleep. He began defeating the stars of billiards at the age 12, and at 14 bested Maurice Vigneaux of France in an 18.1 match that drew worldwide attention.

SHS Bantams Top LHS 4-3

SHS Bantams edged Lennoxville Bantams 4-3 in a close game Saturday at the Victoria Rink. The LHS team opened the scoring in the first period when Smith on a pass from Flink and Crosby, scored at the five minute mark to give the visitors the lead. Cotton tied the score fifteen seconds before the end of the first period. In the second LHS took the lead again on a pass from Cotton three minutes later. In the final period, two quick goals by Doherty and Davidson put the home team in the lead by 4-2. LHS continued to put on the pressure and Klineck, on a pass from Lamey, scored to make the game a very close contest. Strong defensive play by Davidson and Perreault helped the Maroon and White team gain its second victory of the season. Two minor penalties were handed out by referees Farnham and Anderson.

Greenbergs Are Divorced, Says Plain Dealer

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Plain Dealer reported Sunday night that baseball's Hank Greenberg and his wife are divorced. Mrs. Greenberg, the former Carol Gimbel, is heirless to a New York department store fortune. Greenberg, reached in New York, said: "I don't know where you received your information. Don't say I denied the story. Just forget about the whole thing." Mrs. Greenberg could not be reached for comment. However, lawyer Victor de Marco, who represented Mrs. Greenberg for many years, told The Plain Dealer a divorce was granted in Alabama 10 days ago. Greenberg, a member of baseball's hall of fame and former Cleveland Indian general manager, married Carol Feb. 18, 1946. They have three children, Glenn, 11, Stephen, 9, and Val, 5.

Chicago And Montreal Play To Two Weekend Ties 3-3; Maple Leafs Drop Two As Bruins Pick Up Two Victories

Chicago and Montreal hockey fans must be wondering if their teams are getting into a rut. Saturday night, at Montreal, Eddie Litzenberger scored two goals for Chicago and Dickie Moore and Don Marshall one each for Montreal as the teams tied 3-3. Sunday, at Chicago, Eddie Litzenberger scored two goals for Chicago and Dickie Moore and Don Marshall one each for Montreal as the teams tied 3-3.

Moore actually broke the pattern Sunday by scoring two goals, but one of them was into his own net and Chicago's Ron Murphy got the credit for it. Chicago's other goal Saturday was scored by Ted Sloan. Montreal's other goals were by Jean Beliveau Saturday and rookie Ab McDonald Sunday.

The double ties didn't shake Montreal's firm 14-point lead in the National Hockey League standings but they did threaten the Black Hawks' hold on second place. New York Rangers, coming through with a 5-2 win over Toronto Saturday and a 5-4 win over Detroit Sunday, moved up to a second-place tie with the Hawks but get preferred listing in the standings because they have played one game less and won one game more.

Boston Bruins edged Detroit Red Wings 5-4 Saturday and pounded Toronto's helpless Maple Leafs 6-4 Sunday. The two victories opened a three-point gap between Boston, in the fourth and last playoff position, and Detroit, who for the first time in many years look as if they may miss the playoffs. Jean Guy Gendron paced Boston to the win over Toronto by firing three goals, one of them into an empty net after the Leafs' yanked goalie Johnny Sullivan had two goals in Saturday's slaughter of Toronto and so did Bathgate. Dean Prentice got the other. Toronto's two goals were scored by Ron Stewart and Larry Regan. All teams are in action Thursday, Toronto playing at Montreal, New York at Detroit and Chicago at Boston.

Russia Accuses Chilean Basketball Federation Of Robbing Them Of World Amateur Title; Brazil Winner

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Russia Sunday night accused the Chilean Basketball Federation of robbing it of the world amateur basketball championship by "backstage manoeuvres." It launched the charge in a written statement denouncing the decision of the International Amateur Basketball Federation to strip Russia and Bulgaria of all points won during the tournament because they refused to play against Nationalist China for political reasons. Russia claimed that the team from Formosa represented a non-existent nation. Brazil was declared winner of the crown Saturday night after defeating Chile 73-49. PLACED SIXTH The federation's action placed Russia sixth and Bulgaria seventh in the seven-team final round-robin. Bulgaria, taking its Sunday night from Russia's refusal Friday night, failed to show up for its last games with the Chinese. Russia, with a 5-0 record, had been assured of the championship before its forfeit to China. Brazil had a final record of four victories and no defeats. The United States, which had a 4-2 record with losses to Brazil and Russia, took second in the revised standings with 3-1. William Jones, secretary-general of the federation, said Russia and Bulgaria will be required to state 90 days in advance of a future tournament that they intend to play any team entered. Refusal will mean their entry will not be accepted. If they say they will play and then don't, Russia and Bulgaria will be suspended indefinitely from the federation.

Art Allen Of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Wins Quebec International Dog Derby; Mrs. Bryar Finishes Second

QUEBEC (CP) — Art Allen of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Sunday won the Quebec International sled-dog derby by placing first in each of the first two 33-mile laps and third in the final lap. Allen, formerly of The Pas, Man., finished Sunday's final 33-mile lap in two hours, 35 minutes and 10 seconds. He won the derby with a combined three-lap time of 8:04:25 to pocket the $1,500 first prize money. Mrs. Keith Bryar of Laconia, N.H., who placed second in the two first laps, was fifth Sunday but her total time of 8:20:15 was good enough for second - place money of $750 plus $150 for the top woman in the event. LEPINE THIRD Quebec City's Wilf Lepine's second-place finish Sunday was enough to give him third spot in combined times. He picks up $300 plus another $100 for finishing highest among Quebec City entrants. Last year's winner, Dr. Roland Lombard of Aurdendale, Mass., won Sunday's lap in 2:32:02—the fastest lap time posted this year. He ended fourth in combined times and won $200. Twenty-six teams entered the first lap Friday but 12 either failed to start the two final laps or dropped out en route.

Rockets Edge Meteors 5-4 While Sherbrooke Dropped By Canadiens 5-2; Tally In Last Minute Of Play

ASBESTOS — Drummondville Rockets pulled through in the final seconds of their game here yesterday afternoon to win their first championship of the Eastern Townships Intermediate Hockey League when they eked out a close 5-4 victory over the Asbestos Meteors before 1,363 fans.

Gilles Boivin potted the winning marker with only twenty-one seconds left in the game. It was the second tally of the tilt. M. Boivin, Pakin and Aubry tallied the counters for the Rockets. For the Meteors it was Al'er Moore, with two, Percy Glaude and Bob Leger who accounted for the markers for the home club.

The win enabled the Rockets to wrap up the race for first place in the final standing as Sherbrooke dropped their Sunday tilt to Victoriaville and allowed the Pollquin squad to increase their lead to eight points over the second place club.

Beileville McFarlands Off To Hockey Wars, Due To Arrive In Scotland; Lou Smrke Leaves From Montreal

TORONTO (CP)—Beileville McFarlands, reinforced and in top shape mentally and physically, are to arrive in Scotland today to play 15 European exhibition games before the world hockey championships at Prague March 5-15.

Nineteen of the players flew from Toronto to New York Sunday where they boarded a Scandinavian Airlines System plane for Prestwick, Scotland. The 20th, Yugoslav-born right winger Lou Smrke, onetime Quebec Hockey League standout, was refused permission to enter the United States by American immigration authorities and flew to Scotland via Montreal.

The 32-year-old Smrke, who has lived in Canada for 28 years, said he had been barred from the U.S. once before but added he didn't want to "make a fuss about this." U.S. officials wouldn't say why he was turned back.

FIRST GAME TONIGHT
The McFarlands, of the Ontario Hockey Association Eastern Senior A division, take on Paisley tonight in their first exhibition encounter. The ultimate goal for the 1958 Canadian senior amateur champions is retaining the title won last year by Whittby at Oslo.

Playing - coach Ike Hildebrand said before the team left — 200 Beileville fans whooped it up in a royal send-off—that he thought the club could keep the championship.

"Every player on the club is physically and mentally fit for the tour a ment," Hildebrand said. "We expect trouble from Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Russia but we can take them."

"We have a lot of old pros on the club and they are the fellows who mean a lot to us. They've had experience in the National Hockey League and the American Hockey League and they know that we can't let down in any game."

LAST-MINUTE ADDITIONS
Among the latecomers making the trip was Pete Conacher, 28-year-old left winger and son of oldtime great Charlie Conacher of the NHL Toronto Maple Leafs.

Another addition was Gordon Pete Cooper Cops Panama Open 14 Strokes Under

PANAMA, Panama (AP)—Pete Cooper, veteran pro from Lakeland, Fla., won the $10,000 Panama open golf tournament Sunday after whacking 14 strokes away from par during four rounds over the Panama Golf Club course.

Cooper finished with a 72-hole total of 274 and a three-stroke victory over Don January of Denver. Defending champion Bobson of Ardsley-on-Hudson, N.Y., was third with 279.

Rhoda Wurtele Eaves of Montreal won the women's event, completing the course in 1:51.2 and beating her closest competitor, Austria's Aieglinde Breuer, by 1.8 seconds. Anne Heggeveit of Ottawa placed third in 1:54.1.

Richmond Braves Upset Magog Aces 5-1 In Hard-Fought Battle As Race Hits Home Stretch, No Changes for the Rest of the Game.

MAGOG — The Richmond Braves came up with one of their top performances here Sunday afternoon to knock over the Aces 5-1 before 705 fans in a regular fixture of the E.T. Intermediate Hockey League. It was the final appearance of the Braves in Magog and the Gerry Plamondon squad posted their best display of the current season against the Aces.

George Goyette put the Aces in the lead in the opening period but the Braves with Bernaquez and Brouillard posted goals to finish off the frame and give the Richmond club a 2-1 lead which they never relinquished.

In the third frame the Braves continued their scoring ways as Menard, Desrosiers and Gendron completed the game to give the Braves a 5-1 victory. Despite their win the Braves are still three points in the rear of the Victoriaville Canadiens and each club has two games left.

Ten penalties were called during the game but none of them effected the scoring one way or the other. The Aces just couldn't get untracked and the Braves had the puck rolling for them and they took good advantage of their breaks and shoved the Aces down and kept them from gaining ground on the Asbestos Meteors who were defeated by Drummondville.

Bishop's University Drops Tilts To CMR

For the third straight week in a row Bishop's Basketball and hockey teams went down to defeat, this time to College Militaire Royale who walloped the hockey Gaiters 7-0 in St. John's Saturday night after decisively dropping the basketball Gaiters by a 63-48 score the night before in Bishop's Memorial Gymnasium. Neither of the two Bishop's teams have won a league game since the two-week Christmas layoff.

In basketball Friday night CMR came from behind to win, overcoming an 11 point Bishop's lead built up by the end of the first half.

Beginning the second half, the CMR squad erased their 11-point deficit on four or five offensive rushes while the Gaiters were unable to sink any of their shots in the opening minutes. The lead fluctuated back and forth between the two teams and then CMR began to pull away around the three quarter mark, opening up a decisive 15 point margin of victory by the end of the game.

Bishop's easily had the better of the play throughout the first half. The Gaiter first string line-up of McMorran, Caswell, Murry Smith, Ted Runions and Cliff MacLean played a fast, aggressive game, throwing the ball around well and hitting accurately from all points on the floor.

Guard Bud McMorran sank 12 points from outside the key and centre Murry Smith managed to grab a number of rebounds under the hoop and convert them into Gaiter scores.

CMR's biggest point-getter, Bob Donaldson, held in check by a tight Bishop's defense in the first half, erupted in the second to lead the CMR scoring parade. The Gaiters now have a record of two wins and three losses.

To win the league championship now they must win all their remaining games and CMR must lose at least one of theirs.

One dejected player, commenting on Bishop's string of losses, remarked after the game, "A lot revolves around the centre's ability to snare offensive rebounds. If he doesn't have that ability, we have to hit every time we shoot because we don't get a second chance."

At CMR in St. John's last Saturday night the Bishop's University hockey Gaiters were shut out 7-0, and one player, summed up the reason for Bishop's loss in a few simple words. He said, "Everybody was digging, but we just didn't have it."

The Gaiters held off CMR's offensive onslaught to one goal in the first period by heavy checking, but lost ground after that with CMR driving home 3 goals in the second and final periods. Bishop's goalie Bob Sinclair was called upon to make 62 saves.

A heavier, faster CMR squad with an almost impenetrable defense, passed with pinpoint accuracy through Bishop's weak defensive team and broke up Gaiter offensive drives before they could get started.

It was the third time the Gaiters have been shut out this year, strong evidence to many students here that Bishop's hockey team lacks essential scoring punch. Two weeks ago the Gaiters were shut out by the same score by the same team in a game played in the Sherbrooke Arena.

Art Aragon, Golden Boy Of Boxing In Hot Water Again Over Fiasco

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A four-round fiasco with his ex-sparring partner has plunged Art Aragon into hot water with the boxing commission and has cost him a shot at Don Jordan's still shiny welterweight title.

The state athletic commission has ordered both fighter's purses held up pending hearing Saturday of Aragon's knockout of Charley Sawyer.

"As soon as they started their movements in the first round, I knew something was wrong," said Tommy Hart, who refereed the scheduled 10-rounder Saturday night at Legion Stadium.

Hart refused to count three times in the first round when Sawyer hit the deck. "It was just horseplay," said Hart. "Sawyer got hit on the shoulder and went into his elevator act."

LEGITIMATE KO
However, Hart conceded that Sawyer was really tagged when he went down and was counted out in the fourth.

Aragon, who could have won a shot at the welter title with a good showing, said the fight was on the up and up as far as he was concerned.

"I'm not responsible for what Sawyer does," Aragon said. "They ask me to fight Sawyer, so I fought Sawyer."

Sawyer, a 10-year ring veteran who works part time as a janitor to support his wife and four kids, said: "Those knockdowns were good. Did the referee want me to get killed?"

Before the fight, commission secretary Clayton Frye went to both dressing rooms and told the fighters that he had heard rumors of a fix and that he ex-
