Bilingual Signs Bring Protest From Group Of Ottawa Women

OTTAWA — (P) — The president of a Protestant women's group in the capital says her organization feels that Quebec is forcing bilingualism on other provinces.

Mrs. J. M. Hitsman, president of the Ottawa branch of the Protestant Women's Federation of Canada, made the statement Thursday after it was disclosed the branch had protested city plans to erect bilingual street signs.

A letter sent to Ottawa board of control and signed by Mrs. Catherine E. Grace, the branch's corresponding secretary, says:

"I have been instructed to protest to you against the use of bilingual street signs in Ottawa as the official use of the French language is illegal and a violation of the constitution."

The letter said that since a by-law authorizing the erection of the bilingual signs had been approved three weeks ago, "we demand that English be placed first on these street signs."

The signs will be erected only in Ottawa's predominantly-French Lower Town area and at main city entrances.

Ottawa has a population of 211,000 of which 28 per cent are French-speaking.

Mrs. Hitsman said in an interview that the general council of the national federation has just completed a study of the British North America Act—the "constitution" apparently referred to in Mrs. Grace's letter.

She said the constitution gives Quebec province the use of the two languages — English and French — but not the rest of the country.

"We feel that the province of Quebec is forcing bilingualism on other provinces," she said.

A prominent Canadian constitutional authority in Ottawa said he is aware of no federal law which declares English or French as Canada's official languages.

He said English and French are recognized by custom as Canada's two official languages.

The authority said the BNA Act states that either language may be used in debates in Parliament, the Quebec Legislative Council and Legislature and in any court established under federal statute or in Quebec courts.

He said under federal statutes English is no more official than French and French is no more official than English. However, he said provincial governments have the right to declare a language official in a province.

In Montreal, Senator Thomas Vienne, a Liberal, said bilingual street signs in Ottawa may be permissible by custom, practice and courtesy, but that French-speaking Ottawa citizens cannot claim them as a "constitutional right."

He said the terms of the BNA Act allow French-speaking citizens "no constitutional right" to claim French as an official language in provincial or municipal affairs other than in Quebec province.

Que. Should Be Bilingual, Penfield Says

MONTREAL — (P) — Quebec could be made bilingual "in fact as well as in name" if proper methods of teaching language were used, Dr. Wilder Penfield, director of Montreal Neurological Institute, said Thursday.

Speaking at the 92nd annual meeting of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, Dr. Penfield suggested that all teaching for the first three years in English schools be in French and all teaching in French schools for the same period be in English.

"We do not need to teach two languages," he said. "Just give little children the opportunity and they will learn one, two or three languages before they enter their teens."

Short Supply Of Teachers Discussed

MONTREAL — (P) — Quebec province is producing only 300 of the 500 teachers it needs annually in its Protestant schools, the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers was told Thursday.

Retiring PAPT president John Perrie said at the association's annual meeting that:

"Our lives have already been affected by the shortage, and the years ahead may make today's situation seem almost ideal in comparison. The children suffer most, but the shortage also affects teacher morale. Because of large classes they must use classroom procedures inconsistent with their own educational thinking."

Mr. Perrie urged that the preparation period for teachers be lengthened, and entrance requirements for training raised to the level of other professions. But he believed it would be unwise to increase pedagogical training at the expense of a teacher's general cultural education.

The Way Is Paved — John Diefenbaker, left, seemed a solid choice for the leadership of the federal Progressive-Conservative Party after George Hees, right, pulled out of the race yesterday in favor of Mr. Diefenbaker and said that he believed the 61-year-old member from Prince Albert, Sask., "will make the best possible leader for our party."

3,100 Will Be Killed On Canadian Roads This Year — Rivard

QUEBEC — (P) — Antoine Rivard, Quebec solicitor-general and transport minister, predicted Thursday night that 3,100 persons will die on Canadian roads this year as a result of traffic accidents.

Mr. Rivard, who recently was appointed general chairman of the Canadian highway safety conference, said one person is killed every three hours in traffic accidents. The Quebec cabinet minister was the main speaker at the closing banquet of the Canadian Good Roads Association's annual convention.

Mr. Rivard also touched on provincial autonomy in his address and said the decentralization of legislative and fiscal powers is essential to the preservation of responsible government in Canada.

"The defence of provincial autonomy, from both a fiscal and a legislative point of view, is the guarantee of respect for the rights of one and all, for the orderly and continuous progress of each section of our great country," he said.

At one of the final study sessions of the four-day convention, delegates heard that irritation caused by traffic jams is responsible for many accidents.

Jacques Barriere, traffic engineer with the Montreal traffic department, said if a motorist is unduly delayed, the successive "stops and starts" play on his nerves and he is liable to commit "imprudences."

Mr. Barriere said measures should be taken to make speed uniform and maintain it at a fair level.

"By applying this rule we may expect that 50 per cent of collisions on our roads will be avoided," he said.

Camille Archambault, Quebec vice-president of the Canadian Trucking Association Inc., won the president's medal for a paper presented earlier this week on the financing of roads. P. A. Gagliardi, British Columbia highways minister, was elected president of the association, succeeding Roads Minister Antonio Talbot of Quebec.

OTTAWA — (P) — Canada's Salk polio vaccine supply may eventually be switched to commercial from university sources with significant portions coming from United States firms, federal health authorities said Thursday.

They emphasized, however, that this may not happen for another two years or more. At the moment, all of Canada's supplies originate at the Toronto Connaught Laboratories, but fairly large commercial shipments are expected from the U.S. shortly.

Health Minister Martin announced that the Eli Lilly Company of Indianapolis has been licensed to ship the vaccine to Canada. Officials said import applications from other American firms are being studied.

It appeared possible that once sufficient supplies for Canada's needs are ensured by commercial sources, such subsidized producers as the Connaught Laboratories and the Montreal Institute of Microbiology, which is expected to start shipping vaccine late this fall, may switch to other medical research.

Howe Will Tour Industrial Areas On Japan Visit

OTTAWA — (CP) — Trade Minister Howe is going to make a personal inspection of Japan's teeming industrial centres.

The 70-year-old trade minister will fly to Japan from Vancouver Oct. 21 and likely will return about Nov. 7. Before making the two-week goodwill tour he will make several speeches in the United States, including one at Chicago.

Mr. Howe will be making his first trip to Japan, one of Canada's best customers. In recent years he has toured South America, Australia and New Zealand.

Hope Ends For 2 Men On Sailboat

SOUTHAMPTON, (P) — The voyage of the sailboat Orenda, which set out from Canada Sept. 1 in a transatlantic bid, has been added to the long list of mysteries of the sea.

And there is virtually no hope that the two Toronto men who sailed her, Al Battersby, 29, and Bert Smith, 32, are alive.

The 26-foot ketch was discovered drifting in the Atlantic Sept. 22 by the crew of the liner America which docked here Thursday. Officers said they saw no signs of life aboard.

The America sighted the craft on its last westbound trip to New York, and Capt. Frederick Fender reported it to coast guard officials on reaching port. But the America made its usual fast turnaround and was off to Europe again before reporters could get more details of the sighting.

When the liner arrived in this British port Thursday the captain refused to talk to reporters but other officers confirmed the sighting and labelled the sailboat a "derelict"—that is, unmanned.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — (P) — The Big Three Western foreign ministers have reached "complete agreement" on a Suez resolution for submission to the UN Security Council, a British spokesman said today.

Mid-East Situation Is Tense

JERUSALEM — (P) — The tense Middle East long accustomed to "eye for an eye" raids in the Israel-Arab conflict, waited today for the almost inevitable aftermath of Thursday's ambush on the Sodom-Bersheba road.

Five Israelis were killed and a sixth injured in the ambush of two cars by attackers, allegedly in Arab dress, in the incident 10 miles from the Jordan border.

The resulting tension is reflected in today's editions of the generally cautious Tel Aviv newspaper Haaretz, which calls on the government to "punish the guilty and prevent a repetition of their actions."

Haaretz says it is not convinced that Israeli retaliatory acts are effective against attackers, but "Israel cannot agree that her citizens should not be able to travel the country's highways without fear for their lives."

"We are forced, therefore, to take such measures as are at our disposal to punish the guilty and prevent a repetition of their actions."

At dawn today Israeli authorities resumed investigations at the scene of the ambush. Israeli officials are convinced that the attacking party sneaked inside Israel from Jordan.

Gale Slams CPS Ship On Dock

LIVERPOOL, (Reuters) — Gale-force winds drove the Canadian Pacific Steamships' new flagship Empress of Britain against a concrete dock wall as she left her Liverpool berth today to sail to Canada.

Rivet heads were shorn off and paintwork on her port beam scraped but the 25,516-ton liner, which made her maiden voyage this year, was expected to leave on time tonight.

Winds reaching 44 miles an hour kept at least 10 ships penned in the River Mersey. The 21,717-ton Cunarder Ivernia with 1,000 passengers for Canada now has been delayed 48 hours.

The Canadian Pacific flagship Empress of Britain managed to leave her berth in the Liverpool docks shortly before noon to embark passengers for Canada. She is due to sail this evening.

Only One Survivor In Head-On Collision; Four Children Dead

VIRIDEN, Man. — (P) — Ten persons, four of them children, died in a head-on collision between two late-model cars late Thursday night on the Trans-Canada Highway, 11 miles east of this south-western Manitoba town. The lone survivor of the crash was one man who was seriously injured. He was taken to hospital here.

One woman and the four children, all under 12, were in a car bearing Saskatchewan licence plates and a Saskatchewan nameplate. The surviving man also came from this car.

The other five killed were men. They were riding in an auto mobile belonging to California Standard Oil Co., which was believed to be from the Viriden area.

There was no immediate identification of the dead or injured available.

The vehicles met on a slight curve. All six of the people in the Saskatchewan car were thrown clear and were near the rear of the wrecked car.

Two of the men in the second car also were thrown onto the highway. The other three were pinned in the wreckage, one in the front seat and two in the rear.

The impact of the collision pushed the motor of the oil company car back into the body. The gas tank on the Saskatchewan car was torn from the chassis. The trunk door was sprung and luggage was strewn across the road.

At 2 a.m. today, three hours after the accident, ambulances still were removing bodies from the scene and police were clearing wreckage from the highway. Viriden is 193 miles west of Winnipeg.

Tito Visit Is Still Big Secret

WASHINGTON — (P) — The United States government is reported to be still completely in the dark — and deeply concerned — about the purpose of Yugoslav President Tito's talks with Russian leaders.

Tito arrived home today from his Russian visit. Officials here tend to discount the general speculation from Belgrade and elsewhere in Europe that Tito suddenly flew to the Crimea with the Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev to help defend Khrushchev against colleagues critical of the program to discredit Stalin.

They do not question the possibility that there may be bitter differences within the Kremlin leadership over the de-Stalinization program. But authorities here do not believe that either Khrushchev or Tito would feel that the Yugoslav leader could have any influence on people whom Khrushchev himself could not influence.

Official speculation in Washington tends to the line that Khrushchev asked Tito to go to Russia to debate Yugoslavia's relations with the Soviet Union and with the Eastern European satellite countries.

Witnesses' School Case Opens Appeal In Quebec

QUEBEC — (P) — Opening argument in a case concerning education rights of minority groups was heard Thursday in Quebec Court of Appeals.

The case involves two children of a member of the Jehovah's Witnesses and a Roman Catholic school commission in northwestern Quebec.

Cajetan Chabot took an action in superior court at Amos, Que., in 1954 asking that his two children Jean-Pierre, 9, and Marcel, 7, be allowed to attend the Catholic school near his home in the town of Lamorandiere, near Amos, without taking part in the Roman Catholic religious exercises. The children were expelled for refusing to recite some prayers. The school is the only one in the area.

Mr. Justice Fernand Choquette dismissed the original action in a judgment Sept. 27, 1955.

Hungarians Here On Trade Deal

OTTAWA — (P) — A five-man delegation from Hungary is expected here tonight or Saturday to negotiate a most-favored-nation trade agreement with Canada. Trade between the two countries since the Second World War has been small.

Informed quarters hinted the trade pact—fourth with an Iron Curtain country—may be patterned on a Russia-Canada treaty whereby the Soviet Union agreed earlier this year to buy 400,000 tons of wheat a year for a three-year period.

The negotiations will start next week between Tibor Barabash, a leading official of the Hungarian ministry of foreign trade, and his delegation, and Mitchell Sharpe, associate deputy trade minister, head of the Canadian negotiators.

Canada now has most-favored-nation trade agreements with Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia, extending to these countries the same tariff treatment it gives to fellow members of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. Canada likely will approach the Hungarian delegation on the question of high customs duties placed on gifts from Canada to relatives in Hungary.

Eisenhower Opposes Ban On 3rd Term

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Eisenhower said today he does not regard as entirely wise the constitutional amendment that bars a third presidential term.

Eisenhower, making no attempt to apply his remarks to his own case, said he believes that by and large the American people should be able to choose as president anybody they want, regardless of the number of terms.

He told a press conference that there have been objections that this might concentrate power in one individual. But he said he has the utmost confidence in the long-range judgment of the American people.

Tiger on the Wing

ROARING THROUGH SPACE at supersonic speeds, the Grumman F11F-1 has all the qualities of its namesake, the "Tiger" — speed, maneuverability and deadliness. The advanced ideas incorporated in such planes are a vanguard for the design and power of missiles that will tackle the future problems of flight in outer space.

Creating enough power to stab through the sound barrier posed many problems for the Aviation Industry. Both plane and pilot had to be protected from the great heat generated by powerful turbojet engines. J-M people had an answer. They developed a special new type of lightweight insulating shroud that shields the plane from terrific engine temperatures. They also developed fireproof seals and asbestos-metallic gaskets to block passage of flame and combustibles between com-

Wildlife Hereabouts

GIVE US MORE DUCKS!
"Give us more ducks," say eastern birdwatchers and eastern duck hunters. "Give us more ducks," they say to the sky. In our area the sky is relatively empty of ducks today. Surface-feeding ducks such as black, teal and wood duck should occupy the centre of interest this week but they are few in number, probably outnumbered by hunters. Not until the diving ducks come down in some numbers will there be better opportunities all round.

"Give us more ducks," we say, but in general we fail to work co-operatively to provide the kinds of habitat that would almost automatically increase duck populations throughout our area. Robert A. Wells of the State of New York Conservation Department, ending an article, "Dividends in Ducks," in his Department's magazine, uses these words: "As we pause for a breather between issues of THE CONSERVATIONIST, let's remember this well: the gunner who says, 'To hell with saving ducks for tomorrow; I'm going to get mine today' — that gunner merely denies himself better future gunning."

Although there are individuals who would like to have absolute protection for almost every species of wildlife they have little voice in today's conservation movement, where the word conservation has come to mean "wise use of." Under complete protection, the numbers of individuals of any species increase steadily and rather rapidly for a considerable period of time but gradually even off and may even decline because of scarcity of food (as with deer population in some areas) or for other reasons. It is a waste to allow a population, for instance of wood ducks, to reach the point where the species is no longer thriving. Ideally, the kill should be regulated at such a rate that it may be continued from year to year. If at any time, the total numbers reach too low a level the kill rate can not be maintained. Lack of protection at this stage may drive the species close to extinction. This occurred in the case of the Greater Snow Goose. In other instances there has been virtual or complete local extermination of various species. The central problem, then, is to find out how to maintain each useful species at a reasonably high level, with a maintained yield to man.

Can anything be done here to increase the annual take of ducks and thus bring more satisfaction to the gunner? It seems quite unrealistic, at least, to expect many individual gunners to pass by any of their legal opportunities to shoot ducks on unrestricted grounds. Wells' theoretical gunner, consigning tomorrow's ducks to hell, not only "denies himself better future gunning" but unfortunately helps to deny better future gunning to today's conservation-minded sportsmen. It is precisely because of this situation that restrictive regulations are essential. The commonest regulation is of the day's bag limit but it is not necessarily the most effective. Inspection procedures are uncertain and intensive legal hunting may at times reduce a population to an unsatisfactory level.

The safest regulatory procedure for the long term welfare of all parties is the provision of suitable refuge areas. With proper chains of refuge areas a species is in no danger of extermination, even on a local scale, and even in the face of heavy legal hunting pressure outside the refuge areas. As conditions change regulations may be changed, with a relaxation of restrictions as populations rise. The success of the refuge scheme implies both a respect for hunting laws and a willingness to enforce them; neither attribute is unduly abundant in some quarters.

In "The Conservationist" Wells points out another improvement which would bring more ducks to the table, namely the elimination of the existing waste of ducks. He estimates that in New York wasted ducks equal 40% of the bag total. "Shooting when the ducks are out of killing range; blasting them where they drop in marsh tangles and cannot be found; gunning before and after the season, in excess of limits and by countless illegal methods — they all create waste and so reduce your sport." If the cry "Give us more ducks" is not to be made in vain there must be an effective educational and publicity campaign. However, among all the constructive measures "improvement of habitat" stands near the top and, in illustration, we will discuss, next week: New York's Small Marsh Programme for Ducks.

Teenagers Dominate Stanstead Co. Contest

By BETTY BRADSHAW
KATEVALE — (Special) —
Thirty contestants were on hand here yesterday to compete in the 27th annual Stanstead County
Plowing Match held on the farm of Hibbard Ingalls, on the Ayer's Cliff road.

Rain threatening clouds hung over the field most of the day, forcing a hurried contest which was completed long before the four o'clock deadline. While judges announced winners shortly after close of the event, prizes will not be given until tomorrow night at the banquet in the Massawippi Community Hall.

As usual, 24 tractor entries far outnumbered the teams in the match by 24-6. And while the six tractor classes were well-filled, plowmen entered only two of the six team plowing classes. Of the 12 classes originally planned for the program, some were open to farmers outside the County in the District of St. Francis.

The younger farmers of the county turned out in fine form and the largest class on the field was that open to boys and girls with tractors. Bobby Johnston, Stanstead teenager, took first place in the class, entered by seven boys.

Youngest plowman of the event, David Wilson, 14, of North Hatley, placed third in the boys and girls class, and will be presented with the Sherbrooke Rotary Special for the youngest competitor. Oldest plowman was 51-year-old Rolando Boulet, of Katevale, who took first place in the general purpose plow class and will be awarded the J. S. Mitchell silver tray.

For the first time a new class was opened to wives and daughters of farmers in the District of St. Francis. Competing in the tractor plowing class were Miss Sylvia Woodward of Lennoxville, and Mrs. Milton Loomis, also of Lennoxville. Mrs. Loomis emerged champion and will be awarded the Sherbrooke Record trophy.

Judges for the event were H.
R. Ross, horses; Angus McKinven, team plowing and children's tractors; and Len Clark, tractor plowing.

Fine Bartender At Sawyerville

A 19-year-old bartender employed by the Sawyerville Hotel was sentenced to a $150 fine or a month in jail today for serving a 17-year-old school-girl last New Year's Eve.

In continuing his campaign against the serving of alcoholic beverages to juveniles, Judge J. C. Samson, of the local Social Welfare Court, was also critical of the owner of the hotel, Doris Crete.

"This bartender was just 19-years-of-age," the judge commented after passing sentence. "The proprietor is somewhat to blame in this case for so employing a man of that age."

There was no charge laid against the hotel-owner. Charge against the bartender was "contributing to juvenile delinquency."

Partridge Paid With Life For Housebreaking

A wayward partridge paid dearly for his trip to Sherbrooke this week, and his city adventures ended in tragedy on the floor of a Montreal street apartment.

No one knows how long the feathered culprit had been lurking about the streets of the city, but his first and last reported try at house-breaking occurred early in the week, when he smashed his way into the home of Miss Robina Stevenson in the Montreal Apartments.

Miss Stevenson was away at the time, but other tenants, hearing the noise, thought it was a ball thrown by some youngsters on the street. When Osias Legare, caretaker of the building started investigating, he found the "ball" lying under a table in Miss Stevenson's apartment, near a shattered window.

The partridge, which apparently lost its bearings, had flown through the screen, through a large window and drooped quite dead on the floor. Hundreds of pieces of glass littered the floor and near-by tables and some landed across the room on the hall rug.

Any ardent hunter might have welcomed such a chance to bag the game partridge, but Miss Stevenson admitted, hunting season or not, she was glad she wasn't around when the accident happened.

Final Tribute Is Accorded To George E. Gagnon

The funeral service for George E. Gagnon, a pensioner of the Bell Telephone Company, who died last Saturday evening was held at the Redemptorist Monastery on Wednesday morning.

The bearers, all members of the Telephone Pioneers of America, were Frank Milton, J. A. Roy, Stanley Saunders, Charles Frost, J. E. Begin and Cecil Campbell.

Interment took place in St. Michael's Cemetery.

Among those from out of town attending the funeral were Mrs. Margaret Pion and Mrs. Marguerite Prevost, nieces, of Montreal; Georges Forand, nephew, of Welland, Ont.; Mrs. H. Guertin of Montreal; Leo Darche, Thetford Mines; Mrs. Yvonne Darche, of Westmount; Joseph Coulombe of St. Felix de Kingsey; Mrs. E. Boisvert of Rock Island; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heroux, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Houle and Mr. and Mrs. Rodrigue Archambault, all of Montreal.

Mr. Gagnon, an employee of the Bell Company for over 30 years, entered the service of the company in 1901 and retired in 1933.

FRELIGHSBURG MAN HURT

Robert LeBlanc, of this village, while operating a large stone crusher for a local Construction Company on the Berkshire Highway, had one of his arms pulled into the gears, in some unknown manner, tearing the limb off at the elbow. Fellow workmen rushed him to the Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien LeBlanc.

Willard and grandson, Stewart Willard, of East Clifton, Mrs. Bonnie St. Pierre and Mrs. May Nourse, of Sherbrooke, Mr. and Mrs. William Haffner and daughters, Dawn and Linda, also of Sherbrooke.

Fate Strikes Second Blow At East Sherbrooke Woman

Fate struck a second cruel blow at Mrs. Gerard Belanger, 44 Windsor street, widow of Pilot Gerard Belanger killed in a plane crash in northeastern Quebec last January, when her ten-year-old daughter, Michele, was critically injured in a traffic accident shortly after noon yesterday.

The child had left her home to return to school. Just as she drove her bicycle from the sidewalk onto the street in front of her home, she was struck by an automobile driven by Arthur De-nault, a painter, residing at 193 Windsor street, and was thrown to the ground.

The car driver stopped immediately, summoning assistance. She was rushed to Hotel Dieu Hospital by Montfort's ambulance where an examination was conducted by Dr. L. P. Demers, revealing that she suffered a fractured skull, injuries to the spine, multiple bruises to the throat and cuts to the right leg. Later she was transferred to Notre Dame Hospital in Montreal by ambulance, where reports today state her condition is serious. She was accompanied by Dr. Claude Bertrand.

Her father, Gerard Belanger, a RCAF pilot officer during the Second World War, was pilot of a Quebecair DC-3 which crashed on a trip from Knob Lake to Seven Islands on January 16, killing Belanger, another crew member and a passenger.

Following the crash, survivors credited the quick thinking of the pilot with saving at least 16 lives.

It's A Sight To See

Everybody in the free world ought to hope the Russians and four of their satellites accept the United States invitation to come over and view the election process at work.

The Communists have been invited not merely for election day itself but for some of the campaigning in the closing weeks.

For many years the Reds have been claiming, of course, that they have the only true "free" elections in the world. We know this is nonsense. But because of the in-breeding effects of Soviet propaganda, it is clear some of them really believe what they say.

If they send representatives to the United States, they will get an eyeful. Indeed, the campaigning tactics may hit them with such force that even with all their propaganda skills they may not be able to conceal in their reports exactly what goes on.

They will hear some pretty harsh things said about President Eisenhower by the Democrats. They know these things could never be said today about comrades Bulganin and Khrushchev.

They will observe that nobody is jailed or even threatened for saying them. They will be told, in fact, that this is quite usual in American politics.

They will see, too, that the President and his party will deal with these assaults by replying more or less in kind. By October's end the air will be thick with charges and counter-charges.

If the visitors come and get the right guidance, they will move around the country sufficiently to notice that Americans come out to see their candidates in action. They have a wide curiosity about the looks and behaviour of the men they are weighing for the White House job.

Unhappily, they will learn on election day that not enough of these people will get out and vote.

But that fact notwithstanding, the West chooses its leaders freely. And when the decision is taken, the Communists will see that ranks are closed behind the winner, whatever his party and his views. The excesses of the campaign are put behind.

Should the Reds see all this, they might be a little less boastful of the wonders of their own "free" elections.

Cities On Stilts

One of Canada's greatest students of municipal affairs, George S. Mooney, executive director of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, has come up with a rather radical suggestion for solving the traffic problem which is becoming more and more a menace to the continued life of the cities.

He proposes that buildings in the business districts be erected on stilts. Speaking before the Canadian Good Roads Association now in session at Quebec City, he suggested that business blocks be erected on pillars, which would permit the widening of the streets and the establishment of additional parking areas.

Certainly it would be a rather revolutionary sight to see traffic moving through a maze of pillars with almost unrestricted parking space along each thoroughfare. These vehicular areas might even be free of pedestrians as a logical sequel of the proposal would be the construction of elevated sidewalks, permitting would-be shoppers greater freedom of movement. At the same time, jay-walking would be eliminated.

The chief objection to Mr. Mooney's suggestion is that it must be a piecemeal proposition, to be undertaken only as new buildings are erected to replace obsolete structures, otherwise the cost would be out of all reason. And by the time any such undertaking is completed upon this installment basis, it will be too late — traffic congestion will have forced business to move elsewhere.

From a strictly engineering point of view, the proposal of buildings on stilts is not so fantastic. The idea has been adopted in many of our major cities, where railways have sold "air rights" for the erection of buildings over their right-of-ways.

And in Sherbrooke, one of the leading stores simply erected its building on stilts when the owners found that a swift-running river prevented the laying of foundations.

This And That...

Yesterday was a good work day. The World Series game was rained out.

Elvis Presley is now assured of a revival 250 years from now. One of his records has been sealed into the cornerstone of an Indiana building. Wonder how popular he'll be in 2206 when the "capsule" is opened.

Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red Dean" of Canterbury is reported in Mongolia, heading back to England after a six-week tour of Red China. Come to think of it, Mongolia might be a good place for him to settle down. A lot of people would be in favor of his staying right there to enjoy all the benefits of the Communist doctrine which he extols so vigorously.

Surely Not This!

(Hamilton Spectator)

A few weeks ago, the invention was announced of a 360-degree movie screen, which would unfold cinema addicts on all sides by such entertainers as Peter Lorre (Ugh!) or Marilyn Monroe (No comment.)

This could not be condemned as too much of an invasion of individual privacy, because even in this age you have to take active steps to reach a movie theatre — and should you find yourself totally surrounded by Marilyn, it would be by your own fault.

But now from Zurich, Switzerland, comes the news that the Swiss Television Company has developed a new system for three-dimensional television. And this could be an invasion of civil liberties, somewhat akin to having your home searched without a warrant. Swiss television viewers may find out that they can't keep actors and actresses at arm's length, even in their own living rooms.

And should this development spread to the great North American continent, what would prevent a three-dimensional hand to reach out for the innocent viewer — just as he is about to make his escape to the kitchen to mix a stiff chocolate milk shake, and hold him fast to the sofa for an enforced anti-perspirant commercial?

An ingenious race, the Swiss, great exporters of fine watches, precision machinery and yodellers. But may their latest invention be as landlocked as their picturesque country!

Largest bird having the power of flight is the wandering albatross. One was found with a wingspread of 11 feet, four inches.

WEAKENED THEIR CASE

(Ft. Wm. Times Journal)

Because Britain, France and the United States skirted United Nations when Nasser of Egypt seized control of the Suez Canal, preferring to take direct action, the case of all nations wishing to place the Suez Canal under international control has been weakened. Britain and France rattled swords when they rushed extra military forces to the eastern end of the Mediterranean. Those who gave direction to this policy were not as wise as Nasser. Maybe Sir Anthony Eden and the French Premier believed that the peoples of their nations would fight for the principle of free passage through the water gateway to the east. Certainly Nasser did not believe they would. All he had to do was to declare that military action along the Suez would precipitate a war, and support for Eden, and others who thought as he did, began to fall off within their own states. Nasser seems to have been wise enough to see that the western world is dedicated to settle international differences without resort to armed conflict.

It seems reasonable to conclude that Nasser wasn't counting so much on aid from Russian and other communist volunteers, when he virtually defied the western powers to start a war, as he was on the present disinclination of the peoples of the western nations to start tossing bombs as a means to settlement of the controversy.

At long last the vexing issue is before the Security Council of United Nations. But the failure of the British, the French, Americans and others to budge Nasser has placed them at a disadvantage in proceedings within the Security Council. Delay has given Nasser and his allies on the communist side an opportunity to twist the facts of the issue, to enter charges of their own manufacture against British and French actions — charges that are designed to take attention away from the only matter that should be before the Council, the violation of an international agreement by Nasser.

UNSPOILED CHARMS

(Windsor Star)

There is a charm in nature, human and otherwise, which is unspoiled. Artificial parks can be lovely, but none can compare with a woods in its natural state. An artificial lake may be very pretty, but quite unattractive when judged against one of our northern lakes which man hasn't yet despoiled.

Modern makeup can make a young woman, or dowager, very nice to look upon. But it can't compete with the natural attractiveness of a lovely 16-year-old lass. Such a miss, who never has been kissed, has a fresh innocence which no amount of money can replace in later years.

Probably the optimum in human unspoiled charm, however, is in the small child. It is completely natural in appearance and completely uninhibited in action.

Man can build and create things of great beauty. But man never yet has been able to duplicate the natural beauties provided by nature. Only God can make a tree, or a flower.

Bygone Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the Record Files of Tuesday, Oct. 5, 1926.

The Superior Court has rejected an application for an injunction against the placing of the Soldier's Monument on Strathcona Square. It ruled the plaintiff was not a taxpayer and furthermore that the Council had not acted illegally.

Officers elected at the annual meeting of the Sherbrooke Junior Conservative Association were: Glen Sampson, Alphonse Genest, K. A. Wilson, Charles Collette, William Gioveti, Ray Edney, H. R. Grundy and Albert Leblanc.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Record files of Monday, Oct. 5, 1936.

More than three thousand Madrid aristocrats have been executed by flying "execution squads" supporting the Government forces, according to travellers who have made their way out of the besieged city. They claim a reign of terror is prevailing.

Nineteen protests against the valuation roll were heard by the Sherbrooke City Council but in only one case was any change made, a reduction of $500 being granted.

From the Record files of Saturday, Oct. 5, 1946.

British and Arab Leaders have rejected President Truman's proposal for Jewish immigration to Palestine. A spokesman for 10 Downing St. has declared that the U.S. President's statement "may well jeopardize settlement of the Palestine problem."

Evidence in the Louis Bercoff trial in Montreal saw the accused declare he never saw Harry Davis carry a gun until the night the gambler was slain in his own betting house.

Near death from heart disease, Aubrey Johnson, 64, died in hospital at Niagara Falls from burns and shock when the oxygen tent in which he lay caught fire. His wife, a trained nurse, stood nearby, unable to ease his suffering.

DOUBLE OFTEN IS BAD RISK This column has often pointed out how foolish it is to double the opponents in the hope of picking up a small extra profit. When West doubled four diamonds in today's hand, he couldn't expect to defeat the contract by more than one trick. The double would therefore produce 100 points instead of merely 50 — a gain of only 50 points. Now let's see what the double stood to lose. South scored 210 points instead of 80. What's more, he had a game instead of merely a part score. The true difference was close to 400 points, all for the sake of picking up an extra 50 points!

hearts and then shifted to a low spade. The finesse lost to the king of spades, and a spade return took out dummy's ace.

Declarer carefully ruffed a club with the eight of diamonds and returned the five of diamonds in order to win a finesse in dummy with the six!

Now South could ruff a second club and could enter dummy twice by ruffing spades to ruff a third and a fourth club. A trump to dummy's ace then allowed dummy to win the last trick with the king of clubs.

NIGHT SORROW

I heard the wailing in the night
And hurried forth, ere darkness fled
To help the man and bring him home,
For his dear son was dead.
I saw the stars in the cold grey sky.
A downcast form, with tear filled eyes.
I saw the beauty of snow piled deep
In the forest; each friend asleep.
But to the man whose son had died
It was just a trackless waste,
A threatening sky.
His sorrow fills my heart with pain,
I hope that man will smile again,
I hope his arms hold another son
To ease the pain of that little lost one.
I hope his sorrow will pass like a sigh
Fleet as wind in the midnight sky.
I hope that we can pass this night
With its frosty sky and drifts of white.

LIVE BETTER... ELECTRICALLY

Adult Delinquents

(Windsor Star)

Much attention is paid to juvenile delinquents and incorrigibles. It should be recognized, however, that there are plenty of adults of the same type. Indeed, there are adult delinquents who make the juveniles look innocuous in comparison.

Chesterfield, England, is having problems with 50 such families. They are so bad a move is on foot to segregate them from the other 5,000 tenants of publicly-owned premises. They are uncouth, dirty and nauseating. They refuse to keep their premises clean and are generally a nuisance. They ruin any decent home into which they are put.

Such people often are sub-standard mentally. Others have a complete lack of character.

They have no ambition to live in better conditions. They are, in fact, human trash and it is very difficult to reclaim them.

These people are to be found in every country. They are not to be confused with decent people in honest poverty. Workers on this continent have a term for them, "orange-craters." They are quite satisfied to eat off "crates" instead of tables, preferring to dissipate their earnings—if they are willing to work at all—in low forms of what they call entertainment.

They are the "hard core" of problem cases for social workers, because they have no wish to be helped. It is no wonder such homes are breeding places for juvenile delinquency.

Adult School At Cowansville Starts Sessions and RUTH.

JONES — In loving memory of a dear dad, and grandpa, Bert Jones, who passed away Oct. 5th, 1950.

S. WINDLE and SON — KNOWLTON

OBITUARY

PERCY DAVIDSON, OF THE WALES HOME,
RICHMOND.

RICHMOND — The death occurred on Friday, September 21, at the Wales Home, of Mr. Percy Davidson.

Mr. Davidson was born at Davidson Hill in August, 1892, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson of that place. He spent his entire life within this community. In 1943 he retired to the Wales Home where he remained until his death.

Although a cripple all his life, he possessed a sunny and humorous disposition which endeared him to all who knew him and he will be greatly missed by his friends. The floral tributes showed the esteem in which he was held.

The funeral was held on Sunday, September 23, at W. A. Storie's Funeral Home, Rev. Jacques A. Smith officiating. Interment was made in the Wales Home lot in Holy Trinity Cemetery, at Kirkdale.

Bearers were Leonard Davidson, Cecil Carr, Omer Mallette and Gordon Adamson.

Among those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tibbitts of Kingsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rodgers of Trenholm, Mr. Leonard Davidson, Mr. Gordon Adamson, Mr. Raymond Beattie, Dr. C. E. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gunter, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Omer Mallette, Mrs. Grace Archibald and Miss Ella Carr, all of Richmond.

MRS. JAMES FOSTER, OF ST. MALACHIE.

ST. MALACHIE — This community was shocked to learn of the sudden death of Annie Mary Ryan, wife of James Foster, who passed away in her 51st year on Saturday, September 1, at the Jeffrey Hale Hospital, Quebec.

Born at Bury on December 15, 1904, she moved at an early age to Frampton, where she lived until her marriage June 15, 1926, when she came to St. Malachie.

The funeral was held in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Hemison, Archdeacon R. Brown officiating, assisted by Mr. Patterson. A large attendance of relatives and friends were present.

Hymns sung were, "Safe In The Arms Of Jesus," "What A Friend We Have In Jesus," "Nearer My God To Thee" and "Abide With Me," favorites of the deceased. The bearers were Dave Russell, Arthur Cornell, Roderick Smith, Bert Swinford, Sydney Tipler and William Foster.

The many floral tributes showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Interment took place in the Hemison cemetery.

Left to mourn are her husband, James Foster; a daughter, Hazel Fuller, a son-in-law, Noble Fuller, and a grandchild, Joan Ann, all of Quebec; her father, John Foster, Sr., of Sherbrooke; six sisters, Mrs. Albert Bradley, Agnes, and Marion Foster, of Sherbrooke; Mrs. Dave Russell Thorton, Montreal; Mrs. Lillian Thorton, Montreal; North Bay, Ont., and Mrs. Richard Fairchild, Bernice, now residing in Germany; three brothers, Albert Foster, of Toronto, John and James Foster of Sherbrooke, also aunts, uncles, nieces and nephews.

SUTTON — The Sutton branch of the Women's Institute held its September meeting at Mrs. Richard Wilson's home on Mountain Street, with Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. James Flanagan as hostesses. The president, Mrs. Harold Miller, presided and Mrs. O. Baker, convener of education, gave an interesting paper. Wool was given out to several members by convener Mrs. J. Flanagan. Lunch was served by the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Witson, of St. Eustache, were guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. H. E. Eastman.

Thanksgiving Feast Carries On Tradition

The traditional feast of Thanksgiving will be observed on Monday when Canadians from coast to coast will take note of the bountiful harvest of the land and give thanks for this and for the many blessings which they enjoy in a peaceful and prosperous country.

For many it is a time of happy family reunion. For nearly all it includes the sumptuous fare of a Thanksgiving dinner—of sitting down to a table laden with the bounty of the land.

Turkey is the traditional dish with the favorite spicy stuffing and all the trimmings. And usually everyone has a favorite salad and dessert that must be included. For those who like a change, however, we've included a recipe for a tangy cranberry jellied salad that is a good meat accompaniment and a new coffee flavored pumpkin pie that is sure to make a hit.

CRANBERRY FESTIVAL SALAD

Ingredients: 1½ cups sweet cider, 1 package lemon flavored gelatine, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 (1 lb.) can whole cranberry sauce.

Heat ¾ cup cider to boiling. Stir in lemon gelatine until it dissolves. Add remaining ¾ cup cold cider. Stir in salt. Cool. Stir in whole cranberry sauce. Chill until firm.

COFFEE PUMPKIN PARFAIT PIE

Ingredients: 1½ tablespoons unflavored gelatine, ¼ cup cold coffee, 1 cup boiling water, ¼ cup light molasses, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon powdered ginger, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 cup canned pumpkin, 1 pint soft coffee ice cream, Walnut Ginger Crumb Crust (recipe below).

Soften gelatine in cold coffee. Combine molasses and boiling water. Add to gelatine and stir until gelatine dissolves. Combine sugar and spices. Add and stir until sugar dissolves. Add ice cream and stir until completely blended. Stir in pumpkin and mix well. Spoon into Walnut Ginger Crumb Crust. Chill. Garnish with whipped cream if desired.

WALNUT GINGER CRUMB CRUST

Combine ½ cup ground walnut meats, ¾ cup crushed gingersnap crumbs, 2 tablespoons sugar and ¼ cup melted butter or margarine and mix well. Press firmly into 9-inch pie pan to form crust. Bake in moderate oven, 350 F., 8 minutes. Cool.

Marriages

MR. and MRS. LOUIS L. SIROIS whose marriage took place recently in Christ the King Church, Sudbury, Ont. The bride was the former Miss Joanna Elizabeth Gaffney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Gaffney of Sudbury and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Sirois of Notre Dame de Grace.

MR. and MRS. STEPHEN SAMAGALSKY, whose marriage took place on Saturday, September 22, in St. John's Anglican Church, Thetford Mines. Mrs. Samagalsky was the former Miss Sophie Sherback of Thetford Mines and Mr. Samagalsky is from Sudbury, Ont.

SAMAGALSKY-SHERBACK
THEFTORD MINES. — The first wedding in the new St. John's Anglican Church took place Saturday morning, September 22, when Miss Sophie Sherback of Thetford Mines became the bride of Mr. Stephen Samagalsky of Sudbury, Ont., Rev. M. H. W. Seeley officiating.

It was a beautiful and particularly heart-warming service for Rev. Mr. Seeley due to the fact that he had baptized Sophie, had seen her confirmed, had watched her become a Sunday School teacher and later sing in his church choir, all of which was in addition to the fact that he had married Sophie's mother and father in the old Anglican church. Because Sophie and her family had had such a long association with the church and also because Sophie's was the first wedding in the new edifice, Rev. Seeley personally presented the bride and groom with a family Bible at the reception following the service.

The bride wore a floor length princess style gown of white silk taffeta, the long fitted bodice which was appliqued with lace cutouts sprinkled with sequins, having a Mandarin collar and a yoke of net and lace, and the flared skirt being gathered over the hips into a slight bustle effect. Her full length veil of tulle, studded with sequins, was held by a rhinestone coronet and fell into a short train. She carried a Prayer book decorated with a single orchid and sprays of stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Suzanne Drouin, wore a blue floor length gown having a bateau neckline, three-quarter length sleeves, a full skirt of layered nylon tulle overlaid with taffeta and a Chantilly lace bodice. On her head she wore a coronet of white stephanotis and pink roses and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Miss Gloria Samagalsky, niece of the groom, was flower girl and she wore a pink dress with a Pinocchio rose diadem on her head and carried a bouquet of stephanotis.

Mr. John Kutchman of Sudbury, acted as best man for Mr. Samagalsky and the ushers were Mr. Dennis Sherback and Mr. Herbert Smith. Mrs. Tom Johnston was organist and played "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

Following the wedding a reception for some 70 guests was held at the home of the bride on Alfred Street. It was made a particularly colorful occasion with the inclusion of many little-known folk customs which had been handed down to the young couple from their Old World ancestors.

For going away the bride wore a brown tweed suit and fur jacket with cocoa brown accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Samagalsky will reside in Sudbury, Ont.

SIROIS-GAFFNEY
SUDBURY, Ont. — The marriage of Joanna Elizabeth Gaffney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Gaffney, of Sudbury, Ont., to Mr. Louis L. Sirois, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Sirois, of Notre Dame de Grace, took place recently in Christ the King Church, Sudbury, Rev. Father Antoine Sirois, brother of the bridegroom, of Lake Megantic, Que., officiating. Mrs. Thomas Caron played the wedding music and Mrs. Christie Niemi sang "Panis Angelicus", "On This Day" "O Beautiful Mother" and "Just for Today", during the service. Red and pink gladioli and white pompons were used to decorate.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of ivory silk taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice having a portrait neckline enhanced by Alençon lace, and a very full skirt. Her short veil of tulle illusion was held by a lace headband and she carried a bouquet of lily-of-the-valley.

Diplomacy Is Requirement For A Successful Wife

By RUTH MILLETT

On any list of qualities that make a woman a successful wife, diplomacy ought to be right up near the top.

A wife with diplomacy can sell her husband an idea. Not only that, she can manage to do it in such a way that in no time at all, if it is successful, he is taking the bows for it.

A wife with enough diplomacy gets along with her in-laws without ever letting them actually interfere with the marriage.

A diplomatic wife gets along with all her neighbors, even though she may not be on a "best friend" basis with any of them.

A wife who has diplomacy can, with a gentle word or two or a laugh at the right instant, soothe an irritable husband. She can focus the attention of a discouraged husband on the bright side of a gloomy picture. She will find a better way than nagging for getting a husband to do a task he would rather put off indefinitely.

A wife with enough diplomacy can even improve the man she has married. Of course, being diplomatic, she doesn't let him suspect he needs any improvement and she is willing to go at it in easy stages.

Other things being equal, a man with a diplomatic wife finds it easier to get ahead than a man with a wife who hasn't as much tact.

In fact, there is no job in life that requires as much diplomacy as being a wife and mother.

And the most successful women keep growing in diplomacy through the years.

Would Stop Use Of Trading Stamps

OTTAWA — The Canadian Association of Consumers Thursday called for amended or strengthened legislation to stop sales promotion through trading stamps.

A resolution requesting the justice department "to examine the present legality . . . of trading-stamp sales promotion plans" was unanimously supported by some 80 representatives of the 16,000-member consumer group at closing sessions of its annual meeting here.

Mrs. V. E. Falkjar of Brookville, N.B., president of the New Brunswick CAC, said studies of the trading stamp practice in Saint John showed that as a result, the price of a can of peas has increased by one cent.

"There looms ahead one of the biggest fights to take legal steps to protect consumers," Mrs. H. E. Vautelet, retiring president said.

MISS ISABEL ATKINSON of Saskatoon was elected president of the Canadian Association of Consumers at the annual meeting held in Ottawa this week.

If you drop by to see an acquaintance and find her obviously busy, the gracious thing to do is to say you can stay only a few minutes, and then leave when the time is up. Talking about keeping the person from her work won't make a long visit any more convenient.

So allow yourself 15 minutes and then leave.

UNITED CHURCH NEW LOOK

The choir stalls at Stanstead South United Church have been completely remodelled, and the pulpit has been placed to one side of the church. This is a break with a long tradition which has been made necessary by an increasing choir membership.

The balcony front has been removed, and three tiers of pews now replace the original chairs, which were all on one level. In consequence every member of the choir can now be both seen and heard and an increased volume of sound leads the singing at morning worship. A green velvet curtain is used as a choir frontal.

During the vacation a special meeting of the trustees was held to consider the project and approval was given. Since that time several men have been engaged completing the job. The trustees are indebted to Messrs. Ray Wheelock, C. R. Maclean, Alton Hull, Rudy Racine, Merton Curtis, Wayland Ladd, Roland Davis, Chris Watson, and Mrs. William Davis, who made the curtain.

This latest development is part of a complete renovation scheme which was agreed on two years ago, and was to extend over a period of five years. Last year the church was redecorated and indirect living was installed.

It Is Still Newcombe Against Larsen In Postponed Second Game Of Series

Neither Manager Feels His Team Has Gained Any Particular Advantage In Postponement; Prices Take Big Drop

BROOKLYN — (AP) — Their chance to win their first world series game delayed 24 hours by rain, Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's biggest winner in 32 years and Don Larsen, New York's hottest pitcher in September, try it again at Ebbets Field today as the Dodgers and Yankees squared off in the second game of the world series. Pleasant weather forecast.

The postponement, first since 1951, failed to dim the enthusiasm of the baseball-hungry fans, who were expected to jam the ancient 34,000-seat park just as they did in Wednesday's opening game when 34,479, including President Eisenhower, saw Sal Maglie pitch the Dodgers to a 6-3 triumph.

Scheduled to be among the spectators was Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president. Stevenson was to have appeared at Yankee Stadium for the third game but after Thursday's postponement, he was invited to come to Brooklyn instead.

Although neither manager felt his team had gained any particular advantage by the postponement, the odds-makers thought differently. Latest odds made today's game as well as the series an even money, pick 'em affair. Had the game been played Thursday, the Yankees would have gone off a 6-to-5 favorite. That's the way it was for the series, too.

"The price for today's game dropped because the extra day's rest figures to help Newcombe," a price-maker explained. "By the same token, the series price dropped because Sal Maglie will be able to get another day's rest."

Thursday's postponement came when Commissioner Ford Frick called the game off after examining the field and learning that a long, heavy rain was forecast.

Casey Stengel, Yankee manager, did not like the postponement but, surprisingly, neither did Walter Alton, the Dodger skipper.

"It could be better for Maglie," Alton said. "I was thinking of using Sal again on Sunday for the fifth game but first I was going to talk with him to find out about his arm. Now the fifth game will be on Monday so it will enable Maglie to get another day of rest."

"However, I would much prefer to have played as scheduled. We're on a winning wave. We're

Even Money For Today's Tilt

BROOKLYN — (AP) — It's an even-money bet on the second game of the World Series Friday. The Yankees were favored 6 to 5 to take the second game had it been played Thursday but when rain forced postponement of the contest the bookmakers shortened the price on the Dodgers, figuring the extra day of rest benefits Don Newcombe, Brooklyn ace righthander.

World Series Notes

BROOKLYN (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick fretted with his conscience, chain-smoked and worried about his tickets Thursday before postponing the second world series game at Ebbets Field.

"Ever since I've been baseball commissioner, I've had nightmares about having a world series game stopped by rain," he told reporters. "We've never had a world series game played in less than the full nine innings."

The two old-timers of the world series, Brooklyn pitcher Sal Maglie and New York outfielder Enos Slaughter, were holding court together.

"You know," said Maglie, the hero of the first Dodger victory, "if someone would have told me I'd be in another series two years ago, I'd have said: 'Thanks, but you're dreaming.'"

"Well," said Slaughter, "this is my first series since 1946 and there's still a little left."

One of the happiest members of either team is Brooklyn first baseman Gil Hodges, who got a home run and a single in the first game. Hodges can't forget the '52 series when he went 0-for-21.

Yanks' Mickey Mantle says his three-year-old son is a Dodger fan. Yank co-owner Del Webb says the Yanks plan to come on winning forever if he has anything to say about it.

"The rest of the league must show that it's better than we are and I don't plan to let that happen."

Cincinnati manager Birdie Tebbetts, who picked the Yanks before the series opened, has switched to the Dodgers.

Yankees Face This Today

What Thursday's Rain Did For Dodgers May Not Be Known Until Monday's Fifth Game-If There Is One

BROOKLYN — (AP) — Just what Thursday's rain did to, or for, the Brooklyn Dodgers in the world series may not be known until Monday's fifth game — if there is one.

The Dodgers lead the series 1-0 at the moment, but there are very few who consider they'll take the New York Yankees in four straight.

The fifth game could be the "big" one, and that's where the Dodgers may have gained an edge with the rain out, the first series postponement since 1951.

The rain gave Sal Maglie, Brooklyn's grand old man who won the opener 6-3 with three days rest, an extra day before his

"I would have liked to have played yesterday," said Dodger Manager Walt Alton. "We've been hitting pretty well, and I'd like to keep playing while we're hot."

"And maybe the rain will make Don Newcombe better today, or maybe it will make him worse."

"You can't really tell whether the rain has hurt or helped us. But it does give us Maglie for sure in the fifth game."

The postponement pushed the entire series schedule back a day. The three-game shift to Yankee Stadium will start Saturday instead of today, and the fifth game, originally set for Sunday, now is scheduled for Monday.

"The extra day of rest should be a big help for Maglie," said Alton. "I've had him in mind all the time for the fifth game, but it all depended on how he felt. Now he should be okay."

Alton's not conceding his Dodgers cannot win it in four. But he's looking ahead to all possibilities.

Newcombe, a 27-game winner who has a bone to pick with the Yankees and his critics, has worked with only three days rest most of the season. Now he'll be going with four "and sometimes that extra day can make you miss the corners," said Newk.

The big righthander is 0-3 in the series, losing to the Yankees twice in 1949 and once last year, when he was knocked out of the opener and never came back because of a sore shoulder.

"They say I can't win the big ones," groused Newcombe. "But when you win 27 you'd think some of 'em gott be big ones."

The rain also gave relief pitcher Clem Labine a rest. He had been up and down in the bullpen all through Maglie's winning job Wednesday.

"I considered Clem as my opener if Sal hadn't been ready," said Alton. "But I can't think of him as a starter unless we can get through a game where he doesn't have to throw in the bullpen. If Newk gets through today, I'd like to start Labine in the first game at the Stadium."

"But I wouldn't hesitate to use Clem in relief at any time."

The last time a series game was postponed by rain it helped the Yankees. They were trailing 2-1 in games to the New York Giants in 1951 when rain delayed the fourth game a day.

Allie Reynolds, their big righthander, had lost the opener. The rest of the staff had been worked hard over the first three games.

Then the rain gave Reynolds another day of rest, and he came back to eight-hit the Giants and win 6-2. The Yankees won the next two to take the championship.

Who did Reynolds beat in that fourth game?

Fellow named Sal Maglie.

Casey Stengel To Juggle His Lineup For Today's Tilt; Skowron And Carey Benched In Favor Of Coleman, Collins

BROOKLYN — (AP) — Casey Stengel's decision to juggle his lineup for the second game of the world series was construed by some experts today as an indication that the grizzled manager of the Yankees was greatly concerned over his team's opening game loss to Brooklyn.

This interpretation was made after Stengel announced, following Thursday's postponement, that he would bench third baseman Andy Carey and first baseman Bill Skowron in favor of Jerry Coleman and Joe Collins. Coleman would play second, he said, and Billy Martin would be shifted to third. Collins, of course, would play first.

Casey merely scoffed at the experts' views.

"I have decided on these moves simply because it will help our double plays," he said. "Coleman played fine ball the last couple of weeks. He is the greatest pivot man I ever have seen."

Infield changes are part of the Yankee pattern. They made 213 double plays this year with 26 combinations of infielders sharing in most of them.

Stengel didn't explain why he decided to replace Skowron with Collins but it was believed he wanted to get more lefthanded hitting strength against righthander Don Newcombe. But Sal Maglie is a righthander and Skowron, a righthanded hitter, was used against him in the opener.

Bill had a bad day at the plate against Maglie, going hitless in four times at bat. Collins is remembered for his two home runs in the opening game of the 1955 series against the Dodgers.

In Stengel's revised batting order, Collins hit fifth and Coleman eighth. The others remained unchanged.

Stengel revealed he had almost decided to change his second game pitching selection. For a time he contemplated switching from Don Larsen to Tom Sturdivant. Then, after discussing the matter with Jim Turner, his

Coach Bill Swiacki Of Argos Shrugs Off Criticism Of Handling Players; Can't Be Any Sentiment In Pro Game

TORONTO — (CP) — Coach Bill Swiacki of Toronto Argonauts Thursday shrugged off criticism of his handling of players and said there can't be any sentiment in professional football.

It's the first time the 34-year-old Big Four coach spoke up in defence of criticism directed at him by departing Argonaut import players.

"Many people don't understand professional athletics," he said in an interview. "They think we have to keep players for sentimental reasons. It's not that way at all. If the players aren't doing the job a coach has no alternative but to get someone who can."

Swiacki's comments were made following public denunciation of his coaching methods and his handling of men by tackle Billy Shipp, half back Sam Baker and guard Mike Falls. The latest came Thursday when Falls, formerly with the University of Minnesota Gophers, charged he had quit Argonauts "because I had an overdose of Bill Swiacki."

This was a switch from an announcement Tuesday that Falls had left the club to return to Minnesota to work for his master's degree. At that time he was quoted as telling Swiacki he figured he was not "doing himself or the club any good."

Senators' Boss Considering Plans To Move Franchise To California For 1957 Season; Oct. 31 Final Day To Act

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A shift of Washington's American League baseball club to California in time for next year's season was reported to be under consideration today.

The Washington Post and Times Herald quoted club president Calvin Griffith as saying in New York City that he has such a plan "under consideration" and that an offer made by Los Angeles city officials "looks very attractive to us in many ways."

Griffith, who is in New York for the world series, was further quoted as saying:

"If we make the move, the Griffith family will still retain control of the team. We do not plan to sell to anybody."

Both Los Angeles and San Francisco have long sought a major league franchise. Washington finished eighth and seventh, respectively, during the

Lucille Wheeler To Be Named To Hall Of Fame

ST. JOVITE, Que. — Lucille Wheeler, Olympics bronze medal winner from this Laurentians town, will be nominated for the amateur athletic Hall of Fame by the Canadian Amateur Ski Association.

Association President Bud Clark of Ottawa made the announcement following the week-end annual meeting of the CASA here. Miss Wheeler already has been nominated for the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada Rose Bowl, awarded annually to the country's outstanding athlete.

The association meeting confirmed March 23 as the dates of the 1957 Canadian championships at nearby Mont Tremblant. Miss Wheeler and the Seguin sisters, Gigi and Mimi, are scheduled to leave for Europe in December as a "prep" tour of European slopes before the world ski championships in Germany next year. Ottawa's Anne Heggveit may be persuaded to go, officials said.

last two seasons and trailed the major leagues in attendance.

Nevertheless, The Post and Times Herald quoted Griffith, the club made money although "not enough to speculate with."

Griffith inherited the presidency of the local club last December under a trust set up by the late Clark Griffith, club president of the Senators for 37 years. Calvin Griffith, 45, was a nephew and adopted son of Clark Griffith.

The Griffith family retains control of the club. H. Gabriel Murphy, local insurance man who holds 40 per cent of the stock, was described as agreeable to a shift away from Washington.

Griffith was quoted as saying he would be reluctant to move the franchise out of Washington, "and there is no certainty that it will happen, but we have to make the move that is the most practical."

"We'll have to consider all of the various aspects before making any final decision," The Post and Times Herald quoted him.

There is an Oct. 31 deadline on any franchise shifts.

"We would need the favorable votes of six of the eight teams in the league," the paper quoted Griffith. "I think they can be counted on, but we would have to take quick action to smooth out all details before Oct. 31."

Olympic Board To Drop New Anti-Pro Pledge

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — The executive board of the International Olympic Committee decided unanimously Wednesday night to suspend the controversial anti-professional pledge for the Melbourne Olympic Games.

The board had been convened in emergency session by IOC president Avery Brundage to consider world-wide protests against the pledge, which would have required each Olympic athlete to declare his intention to remain an amateur.

After a three-hour discussion behind closed doors, the board reached full agreement on suspending this part of the pledge. But it declared it was up to the Olympic Committee of each country to prevent what it referred to as "professional abuse of the Olympic Games."

CUP SPOON DOWN AND FORWARD

IF YOU KEEP BASS, WALLEYES, ETC., ALIVE ON A STRINGER OR BY OTHER MEANS UNTIL READY TO KILL AND CLEAN THEM, YOU MAY FIND IT EASIER TO SCALE FISH BEFORE OPENING THE BODY CAVITY. IF YOU DRESS FISH TO CURE OR REFRIGERATE AS YOU CATCH THEM, SCALES, IF LEFT ON, BECOME SET AND HARDER TO REMOVE BEFORE COOKING. THEY'RE EASILY REMOVED WITH THESE TIPS:

FILL A DISH WITH WATER TO COVER FISH AND YOUR SCALING ACTIONS TO PREVENT SCALES FLYING ALL OVER. ADD 1 TABLESPOON VINEGAR TO DISOLVE SLIME AND LOOSEN SCALES.

ANOTHER WAY: POUR HOT WATER (NOT BOILING) ON FISH TO LOOSEN SCALES, THEN SCALE. A SPOON, HELD AS SHOWN, WORKS WELL.

Tigers' New Owners Take Over In Full

DETROIT — (AP) — Eleven businessmen who paid a record $5,500,000 officially took control of the Detroit Tigers Monday from the Walter O. Briggs family.

The sale, for the largest price ever paid for a baseball company, actually was made in mid-summer but official control went to the syndicate Monday upon delivery of $4,200,000 in cash.

Fred A. Knorr of Detroit and John E. Fetzer of Kalamazoo, Mich., both radio executives, head the syndicate that takes over the Detroit American League franchise, Briggs Stadium, Tiger players and stock in three minor league clubs, and leases on two Florida training sites.

VICTORIA, (CP) — Brenda Fisher, the self-confident swimmer from Grimsby, England, who beat Marilyn Bell's Lake Ontario record this year, is planning to make a two-way assault on the Strait of Juan de Fuca next summer.

Brenda wrote to Don Gray, native of Grimsby now living in Victoria, that she would like to cross the choppy strait from south to north first, then do it from north to south.

Brenda said in her letter she intends to enter the mass swim sponsored by the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, which she hopes will offer a cash prize of $5,000.

Olympic Executive Board Barred Puerto Rico's Athletes From 1956 Games Because Of Government Action

LAUSANNE, Switzerland — (AP) — The executive board of the International Olympic Committee Thursday barred Puerto Rico's athletes from the 1956 Games at Melbourne because of government interference and formally re-admitted two other countries which had been dropped for the same reason.

The action, taken at a two-day emergency session, the last before the Olympics open Nov. 22, followed Wednesday night's decision to suspend the controversial rule requiring a declaration by athletes that they did not intend to turn professional.

Puerto Rico was removed from the list of competing nations because its National Olympic Committee consisted of government appointees.

IOC president Avery Brundage of Chicago said the board acted after receiving a protest from the National Shooting Association of Puerto Rico, claiming it had been excluded from elections held in Puerto Rican sports federations.

At the same time the board restored to good standing the national teams of Argentina (other than rowers) and Turkey, which had previously been threatened with expulsion because of government interference with their National Olympic Committees.

The board also confirmed a previous ruling that only three officials will be permitted to parade with each national team in the opening ceremony and that officials of various international sports organizations would not be permitted to parade at all.

The new rule banning international officials from the field followed reports in Australia that the Duke of Edinburgh would not be permitted to appear on the field when he formally opens the Games.

Brundage said the IOC never intended to keep the Duke off the field, but it would not permit a long line of officials to parade for a handshaking presentation ceremony in public.

EDMONTON — (AP) — Tackle Bob Dean, former University of Maryland place-kick specialist who starred on the champion Edmonton Eskimo teams of 1954 and 1955, was released Thursday.

Bright suffered a dislocated shoulder three weeks ago. It was at first thought he would be out for the season.

It takes money to make good gasoline

Gasoline quality has risen tremendously in the past few years. Two gallons of today's gasoline do the work of three in the '20s.

Finding new techniques to make these improved gasolines, and new equipment to put these techniques to work, has cost a lot of money.

Imperial, with by far Canada's most extensive oil research facilities, has spent 20 million dollars over the past ten years on research alone.

Imperial spent 65 million in the same period directly on new equipment to improve gasoline quality.

It's costing more and more money to make the gasolines required by today's more powerful cars.

James Gray Speaks On Education At Sutfon High Opening Exercises

SUTTON — Parents and other residents and visitors were privileged to attend the second Senior School Opening held in the gymnasium. Rev. J. H. M. Brett gave the invocation.

In the absence of Dwight Sweet, Chairman of the School Board, Rupert Phelps presented the report of the School Board, giving a detailed statement of its activities during the past year. He announced the purchase of a new school bus, and paid high tribute to teachers, pupils and the school secretary, Miss Hazel E. R. Bates. Mr. Phelps gave much credit, to Mr. Sweet for his assistance in many ways beyond the ordinary scope of his duties.

The principal, Miss Kathleen Harper, expressed appreciation for the loyal co-operation of the School Board, parents, friends of the School, members of the staff, and the pupils themselves. Her interesting report included mention of various achievements of some of the pupils in the realms of Scholarship, Public Speaking and Athletics.

The report of Mrs. McCaw for the Home and School Association gave proof of the splendid team work of parents and instructors.

The Valedictory by Roy Seaman, expressed appreciation for the work of the principal and other instructors, revealed a deep affection for the School, and visualized the ambitions and hopes of the graduating class for the months and years ahead.

The guest speaker, Prof. James Gray, of Bishop's University, was introduced by Miss Dorothy Phillips. He gave a most stimulating address on the value of a liberal education as the basis for any profession. He spoke of the danger of specializing too early, pointing out that students of engineering and science need a knowledge of history, literature, and the teachings of the philosophers if they are to develop into men and women capable not only of giving the leadership so necessary in this modern world, but also of building their own character so that they can enjoy a full and worthwhile life.

Prof. Gray went on to discuss the different professions open to men and women and the range of salaries they might expect to earn.

He was thanked by the Rev. T. Tyson, who expressed the hope that Prof. Gray would soon return to Sutton.

Miss A. Sandell Addresses W. M. S. Sectional Meeting Held At Danville

DANVILLE — A very successful sectional meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held in the United Church here, with Mrs. F. Smith, of Ulverton, in the chair.

The morning devotions were conducted by Mrs. Smith, assisted by Mrs. C. Martin, who gave an inspirational address. The theme was "Abiding in Christ."

Reports from the auxiliaries of Danville, Richmond and Melbourn, Ulverton, Windsor Mills and affiliated societies of South Durham and the Wales Home were submitted and all showed a continued and increasing interest in the work. All allocations have been reached and parcels of clothing have been sent overseas as well as supplies for Home Missions.

Mrs. Lothrop, of Sherbrooke, Presbyterian president, spoke on the subject, "Who Is My Neighbor?" She emphasized the love, care, consideration and thoughtfulness one should have for those of other lands and of their need and desire for the liberty which western world takes so much for granted. Students from eastern lands question our way of life, Sunday sports and amusements, — also Alcoholism, with its attendant evils.

"We've had almost 100 years to ourselves to spread Christianity, but today other beliefs are being propagated," said Mrs. Lothrop. "Are our methods really effective? Are we interpreting people to one another? We should strive to convey knowledge rather than prejudice," was her advice.

Mrs. F. Ross, assistant literature secretary, spoke about the many new books recommended by the society. Mrs. W. Boomhour reported on the conference of the Canadian Council of Churches.

The special speaker of the day was Miss Ada Sandell, returned missionary from Korea. She told of her work in Korea and Kojie Islands, where she was in charge of a school of nursing. She instructed 15 girls with practically no equipment. Tin cans were made into cups, tea kettles and bells, which gave the name Tin Can Class to the group. She related many interesting experiences and pathetic accounts of the widows, orphans and cripples resulting from the war.

A skit was put on by Mrs. E. Gilchrist, of Melbourn Ridge, and Mrs. R. Kerr, of Kingsbury, to promote the use of missionary magazines.

Mrs. F. Smith gave a splendid report on the School for Leaders which she attended and recommended the camp as a place to spend a beneficial holiday.
