Dr. Wilder B. Penfield Lauds Work In Pre-Clinical Years

A sound and sometimes brilliant first two years of the medical curriculum, and room for improvement in the medical and surgical divisions — this was the view taken by Dr. Wilder Penfield, local resident and world-famous neurosurgeon, of the McGill medical schools.

He praised the work of the pre-clinical years, instancing the departments of anatomy, physiology, pathology, and bacteriology, in a speech at the annual dinner of the McGill Associates.

The director of the Neurological Institute stated, in respect to the upper years, in which the clinical or hospital training was given medical students, that "great changes are under way in the clinical departments. But from an over-all academic point of view the performance is not at present good enough."

"The responsibility is shared between the hospitals and the university and success can only come from co-operative initiative on each side.

"The three major general hospitals are in the throes of building programs, but this is the time when they, together with the university, should give thought to the support of the departments of medicine and surgery on a footing worthy of a university hospital. Greater space is not enough."

Hospital expansion was necessary but, Dr. Penfield declared, "in the glow of the effort of construction we must not forget the 'imperious necessity' of organization."

Fire Chief Makes Appeal To Public

An open letter from the head of the Westmount Fire Department, during this week of Oct. 4-10, Fire Prevention Week in North America:

Westmount

Dear Sir or Madam:

Fire take an enormous toll of life and property every year, even in Canada, and unfortunately, are on the increase each year. Fire Departments are doing their utmost to try and eliminate some of the unnecessary loss of life and property damage. Your full support is requested to help them wherever and whenever possible.

Would you especially mention to your family, associates and employees the danger of fire and some of the common hazards which can be eliminated.

When you want information on fire prevention, please do not hesitate to call the office of the Fire Chief, WE. 2239.

W. Cobb,
Chief of Fire Department
City of Westmount

Eisenhower Envoy Will Visit Here

Major and Mrs. Ernest Walton of Westmount are expecting a visit shortly from William H. Ball of Muncie, Indiana, who just returned from spending two months in Africa where he was President Eisenhower's personal representative at the Cecil Rhodes Centenary Celebrations. He was accorded all the honours and courtesies which the president would have received.

Previous to his African visit, Mr. Ball attended the Coronation in London with his family and also travelled in Europe.

Mrs. Walton, who is Mr. Ball's cousin, has been seriously ill, following a heart attack (coronary thrombosis) in June, suffered just as she was about to leave for the National Conference on "Housing" held in Toronto.

Prof. G. St. G. Sproule Killed Aboard Ship

It was learned earlier this week that Prof. Gordon St. George Sproule, retired assistant professor of metallurgy at McGill University, was killed in an accident aboard the Seaboard Enterprise at sea. He was 68.

Details of the accident are not as yet known, but his family has been advised that he was buried at sea Oct 2.

Born in Montreal, Prof. Sproule received his B.Sc. at McGill in 1908 and his M.Sc. there in 1909. He resided at 39 Thornhill avenue.

He retired as a McGill professor three years ago, and was a past chairman and active member of the Montreal branch of the American Society for Metals.

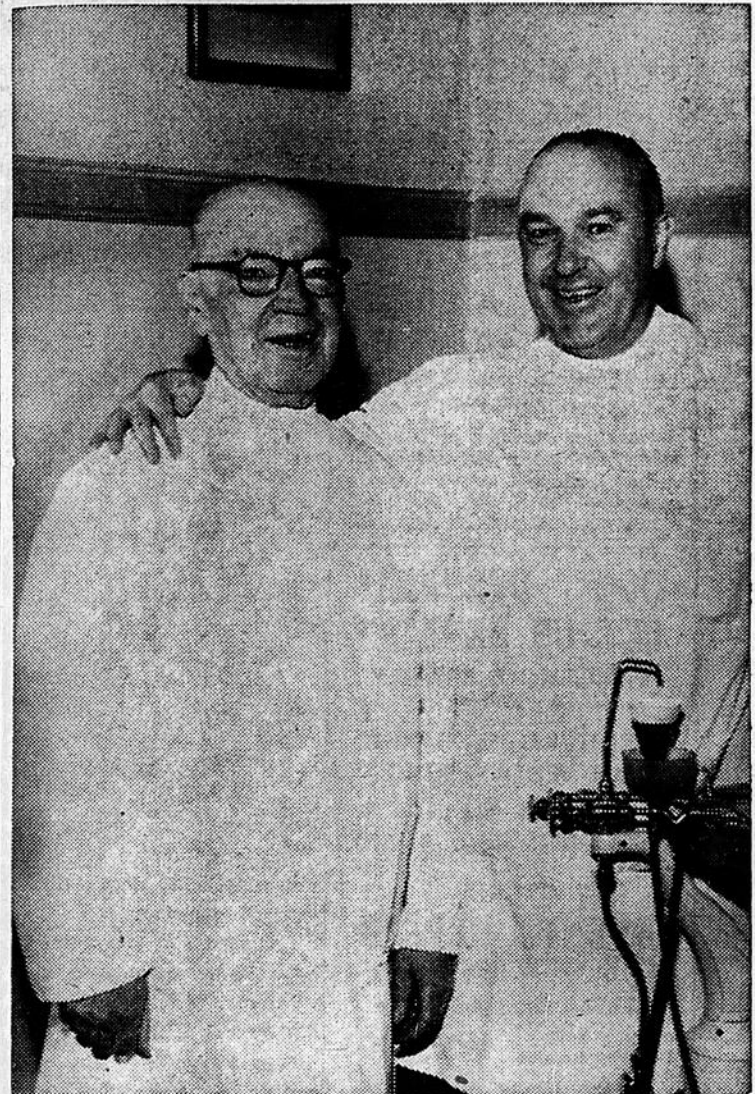

He is survived by his widow, the former Helen Louise Freeze; two sons, Kelvin, of Coppercliffe, Ont., and Robert, of Montreal; two brothers, Stanley and Clive; and a sister, Mrs. J. A. Lathan.

General R. H. Keebler Succeeds Gen. Walford

Major-General R. H. Keebler, 739 Upper Roslyn, has been appointed honorary colonel of the 3rd Division Artillery, RCA, it was announced earlier this week.

He succeeds Major-General A. E. Walford, who has completed six years in that position and now retires.

Dr. Rondeau, Canada's Oldest, 60 Years As Westmount Dentist

Hale and hearty and looking forward to the Dental convention here is C. W. H. Rondeau, oldest practicing dentist in the Dominion, who celebrates 60 years on the job this week.

Dr. Rondeau doesn't know just how many teeth he has filled and pulled in his six decades with the instruments but he does know he has enjoyed every minute of it, and would do it all over again exactly the same way if he had the opportunity.

Born in Joliette, he graduated from McGill in 1893 and has lived and worked at his profession in Westmount for sixty years.

During that period he has gathered many recognitions — he is a Justice of the Peace, a member of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and a chartered member of the Westmount Municipal Association.

He has worked at several important institutions including the Hervie Institute, The Mackay Institute and the Verdun Protestant Hospital.

A quarter of a century ago he was an alderman in this city and finance department administrator for a regime that built the present city hall.

He is an avid curler and lawn bowler and belongs to the Heather Curling Club and the Seignior Club. He is also an enthusiastic bridge player.

During World War I he was a captain in the Dental Corps.

Associated with him in the same office for the past 30 years is his son Dr. Martin Rondeau, while Dr. Wesley Bourne has been associated with the office for 40 years as an anesthesiologist, before going to the United Nations in Paris a year ago.

In their spare time father and son collaborated on a formula, Rondeau's Medicine, for the relief of eczema and other skin irritations that has been accepted in Ottawa and by the Pure Food and Drug Administration of the United States.

Married to the late Bertha Martin, sister of the late Chief Justice J. E. Martin, he has two sons, Dr. Martin and C. B. Rondeau, and one daughter, Mrs. W. King.

ABBOTT TALKS IN U.S.: A stable and high level of trade, best achieved by relaxing rather than renewing trade restraints, is the key to common security between Canada and the United States, Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, M.P., for St. Antoine-Westmount, told the Fifth Annual Virginia World Trade Conference held at Richmond, Virginia. "Considerations of national security — of maintaining a strong and versatile economy — must weigh heavily when considering the claims of some particular group to increase protection," he said. In his talk, entitled "Canada's Trade and the World's Trade," he pointed out that Canada is the United States' best customer and vice-versa. Really large-scale trade has been going on between these two countries so that now it is almost taken for granted, and this is the biggest two-way trade between two nations anywhere in the world.

DRIVE SAFELY ...

With the opening of the new school term this month, the danger of children darting from behind parked cars and improperly crossing the streets increases to such an extent that motorists are forced to keep constant vigil while driving in the city.

Mothers, fathers, big sisters and brothers can lessen the danger of accidents involving the youngsters through setting them a good example by observing proper safety regulations while walking.

Each year the number of accidents involving automobiles and pedestrians mounts higher and higher. The police departments and Department of highways spend much time and money each year trying to educate the people in their responsibilities. All of this work is in vain if we keep saying "those posters are for the other fellow, not me."

* We owe it to our children, if not to ourselves, to give them a chance for a life with a body not shattered and maimed by the terrible impact of a car. A little more care and a little more caution while walking with "junior" might mean many years of happy family life together.

During Fire Prevention Week, there is one other thing that should be kept in mind concerning the services of the Fire Department.

All members are trained in first aid and the department is equipped to care for asphyxiation cases.

At any sign that the lungs are failing to function, for any cause whatsoever, call FL 2456. Delay may be fatal.

1st D. Ph. Degree Won At McGill By J. T. Rogers

Among the many local residents who received degrees at the Founder's Day Convocation Tuesday at McGill University, was J. Terry Rogers, 605 Lansdowne Avenue, upon whom the University conferred its first doctor of philosophy degree in mechanical engineering.

The title of the thesis he wrote for Ph.D., considered a rarity in Canada, was "Temperature Distributions in Heat-exchanger Tube Plates."

Mr. Rogers was previously a student at St. Leo's Academy and Notre Dame University before he entered McGill. He was awarded the British Association Medal for the highest standing in mechanical engineering when he received his B. Eng. in 1948, and received his master's degree in 1950 for a thesis entitled "The stability of Gas Turbine Combustion Engines."

He played senior intercollegiate football for four years, and has acted as assistant coach for the intermediate team and the Macdonald College football team. He also played interfaculty hockey and was finalist in the welterweight intercollegiate boxing competition in 1950. At the present time he still acts as a scout for the senior team.

Six members of his family have either graduate from McGill or are presently attending. His father was the first to finish when he received his M D from the school in 1904.

Highway Safety Film Featured At Westmount Rotary Luncheon

A film dealing with safety and courtesy on the road was the feature presentation at the weekly meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club Wednesday. Entitled "A Day in Court," it was presented through the auspices of the Safety League of Canada and by the courtesy of the Robert Mitchell Co.

Norton J. Watson, of the company, brought the picture, which "starred" Judge Robert Anton Pfaff of Los Angeles Municipal Court.

The main point brought out was that the traffic problem concerns everyone, and the tragedy of traffic deaths is that they are largely preventable.

The film humorously depicted the seven types of traffic sinners — the Grabber, Nervous Nelly, Two-Beers Bennie, Supermouse, Desert Island Daisy, the Showoff and the Average Driver, then showed the faults of each.

It pointed out that as soon as each of these is cured of his or her mistakes, traffic improves as "another road-louse bits the dust."

Courtesy was a main point in the campaign, and the "Courtesy is Contagious" motto was passed on forcibly to everyone, and rightfully so.

Elizabeth Writes Westmount Junior Stamp Club Group

By MICHAEL J. ASHBY

June 2, 1953 is a date that will be remembered by many, but especially by the members of the Westmount Junior Stamp Club. Shortly after the great day the executive and advisors of the club decided to send a letter to Her Majesty congratulating her on the great occasion. The letter was signed by the secretary, Barrie Wilson and the president, Michael Ashby.

Early in July the secretary received a reply from the Lady-in-Waiting to The Queen. On Thursday, September 10 the following message was read to the members of the Westmount Junior Stamp Club:—

Dear Barrie,
I am commanded by The Queen to thank you for the kind message which you have sent on the occasion of Her Majesty's Coronation. Please convey to all on whose behalf you wrote an expression of The Queen's sincere appreciation of their loyal sentiments.

Yours sincerely,
Henriette Abel Smith, (signed)
Lady-in-Waiting.

The members of the Westmount Junior Stamp Club were very pleased with the nice reply. The members plan to frame the letter so as to keep it in nice condition permanently.

Hidden Away In An Upper Room Girls Display Art, Find Buyers

By MORT RANSEN

This is the story of 'Studio Nine'.

A little man stood looking at the window display of a cleaning store. Something inside made him remove his spectacles, wipe them vigorously with the tip of his necktie and peer through the lens once more.

It was still there! In between two signs telling how quickly the store could renew your hat and repair a rip in your trousers there was an original oil painting. A still life study, this, he told himself, was just what his wife needed for the living room.

He slipped inside and whispered to the salesgirl: "In between the pants and shoes—there's an oil painting...!"

The girl smiled, assured him he was quite sane and showed him to a door leading to a short flight of stairs. He climbed the stairs, removed his hat and looked around him. Except for a sign which said "Studio Nine", the walls were covered with paintings.

Around him were exhibited the works of six young ladies, who have banded together to make an art studio out of a flat above a St. Catherine Street west store.

Actually there are nine girls in the group (hence the name—"Studio Nine") but three of them, coping with full time jobs, are unable to prepare for exhibitions.

In the group are: Marion Feldman (Mrs. I. P. Schaeffer) of St. Laurent; Willa Ogilvie, Cartierville; Maro Scarvelis, Town of Mount Royal; Ann Sperber, Victoria avenue, Westmount; Sylvia Tait, Bourret avenue, NDG; Edna Tedeschi, 1196 Seymour street; Marjorie Bird, Town of Mount

Philatelists To Help Westminster Abbey

The Canadian Philatelic Society has suggested to its chapters throughout Canada that it would be most appropriate in this the Coronation Year that philatelists let their stamps help the Church of the Coronation in response to the Dean of Westminster's appeal for the sum of one million pounds to make the Abbey secure for the future.

They recommend that their chapters hold auctions of stamps and other philatelic material for the benefit of this appeal during "Canada's National Stamp Week", November 8-14, which is being celebrated for the first time this year in Canada.

Collectors are urged to get in touch with their local club and give their fullest co-operation and support to this urgent appeal for funds for Westminster Abbey, which stands as the centre and symbol of the way of life of the peoples of the Commonwealth.

The Westmount Stamp Club is holding an auction on Thursday, November 12th, at 8 p.m. at Victoria Hall, Westmount, for the benefit of the Westminster Abbey Appeal. It will be recalled that in February the Westmount Stamp Club was successful in raising over $1,000 for the Governor General's Fund for European Flood Relief.

Stamp Collectors and others living in the district who would like to contribute stamps to be sold for this worthy cause may send them to the Westmount Stamp Club at Victoria Hall marked for the Westminster Abbey Appeal Auction, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend this sale.

Other Chapters of the Canadian Philatelic Society in the Montreal area are also actively making plans to hold similar auctions for this Appeal, announcements of which will be made in the course of the next few days.

Gil Young Is Back To Coach Swimmers

The Westmount Y.M.C.A. announced this week that Gilbert Young, who has coached the Y.M.C.A. Swimming Team, city champs for the past three years, will return as coach of the team again this year. This popular coach was formerly one of Canada's fastest swimmers. All boys between the ages of 10 and 16, who are interested in trying for the team this year, are asked to be at the swimming trials at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. on Saturday morning at 11.30 a.m.

The swimming team will hold their practices each Saturday morning at this time. During the year five inter-Y swimming-meets will be held.

Art Exhibit Feature Of Dental Sessions

An art exhibit which will include works in oils, watercolours, pastels, etchings, photography, sculpture, or other media, will be one of the sidelights at the forthcoming Joint Meeting of the Canadian Dental Association and the annual Montreal Fall Clinic, taking place Oct. 18-21.

Chairman of the show is Dr. A. R. Winn, 757 Upper Belmont, who has gathered art work from all parts of Canada. The exhibit will take place in the mezzanine of the Mount Royal Hotel and is also open to the public.

The artists will all be dentists, their families and associates, and entries have already been received from such western points as Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Toronto, Ottawa and Winnipeg.

Dr. Winn expects approximately 75 different pieces by the time the show opens.

Late Mrs. Owen Rede Campbell Receives Many Fine Tributes

Final tribute was paid Friday to Mrs. Owen Rede Campbell, prominent in Presbyterian church work in Canada and honorary president of the Westmount Conservative Women's Club. She was 87.

A gifted speaker, Mrs. Campbell was a prominent Progressive Conservative, and a strong advocate of women's rights in Quebec. She had spoken in practically every Presbyterian Church on the island of Montreal.

Daughter of Dr. Donald MacRae, former moderator of the Presbyterian Church, and of his wife, the former Catherine McLea, Mrs. Campbell was born in St. John's, Newfoundland. As a child she went to Scotland with an older sister and received her formal education in Edinburgh.

Returning to Canada after her father had become a minister at Saint John, N.B., she married Owen Rede Campbell, a former branch manager of the Bank of Montreal in the Eastern Townships, who died in 1925.

Mrs. Campbell was associated with Mrs. John Scott and Miss Idola St. Jean in trying to improve (Continued on Page 5)

WESTMOUNT MOTHER OF NINE: Petitcote Becky, of Westmount, distinguished herself last summer by having nine beautiful black Poodle puppies, four girls and five boys. Becky is shown here taking a broad jump in fine style, and shown with her is Mrs. Alex Casgrain, whom she owns. Becky is an "Obedience Dog," meaning that her hobby is training with the Mountain City Obedience Club and attending Obedience Trials, where she has won, so far, both the Canadian and American "Companion Dog" titles. She hopes her children will follow in her pawsteps when they grow up. Right now they are only three months old, and all but four have gone out in to the world to new homes.

Royal, Helen Stone, Hampstead and Shirley Fellows McTavish. For the most part, they are between the ages of 19 and 22.

The idea was originated by Athens-born, Miss Scarvelis, who looked around her at the School of Art and Design a few years back and realized that she was not the only struggling young artist in need of a quiet place to work.

"You can't work with a lot of noise," Miss Scarvelis said, "and with people telling you that you're drawing the nose crooked and one eye bigger than the other."

Between interviewing the many people who wander up through the cleaning shop to see the exhibition, any one of the nine will testify that Miss Scarvelis' plan is a complete success. The studio which is located in the flat above 1325 St. Catherine west, received over 200 people on the first night of the exhibition last week.

Most of the girls hold down full-time jobs during the day and paint in their spare time. Their positions, for the most part are connected with art instruction.

Not confined to paintings, the exhibition also displays the prowess of the artists through such media as etchings, woodcuts and chalk in addition to water colors and oils. In all there were 72 exhibits in the show before the sale started.

The girls enjoy entertaining visitors — talking to art enthusiasts who have come to see the show or shoppers who started out to have their suit cleaned and ended up buying a painting.

Westmount Park-Emmanuel

Services of Thansgiving will mark Sunday's program in the Westmount Park - Emmanuel Church, the Church in the Park. Doctor Harvey Campbell will preach at both services. In the morning, "Thansgiving, 1953," will be the theme, and in the evening the sermon subject will be, "Give me a grateful heart."

Two youth groups begin their autumn activities with this coming Sunday. A "Study Workshop" on the Life of Jesus for 'teen-age boys and girls will be held on Sunday mornings at 10.00 o'clock, and the Young People's Society, for somewhat older young people, will meet after the evening service every Sunday.

Visitors and new-comers to the community will be cordially welcomed.

Obedience Training Films To Be Shown

Films on Obedience training for dogs will be shown on Tuesday, October 13th, at 7 p.m. in the Palais d'Or Ballroom, 1226 Stanley St.

They are "Basic Obedience Training" and "Advanced Obedience Training," and they are designed to show how the average dog-owner can train his or her dog to have good manners and learn to obey commands.

Instructor in the film is Miss Blanche Saunders, foremost dog trainer on the continent, and author of books and many articles on the subject of dogs. There is no admission charge, the film showing is open to the public.

A PROJECT OF WESTMOUNT ROTARY CLUB

Saturday, Louis Thomas' Art and craft classes were a bee-hive activity as 83 youngsters participated in the morning and afternoon sessions. The morning class attracted 45 boys and all were busily engaged making various articles such as: Indian Heads, tie racks, totem poles, letter openers and varied types of animals. In the afternoon 38 girls ranging in age from 6 to 14 years of age got an inkling of what the boys had been doing throughout the past year and they too were given an opportunity to increase their knowledge and skill in fretwork and Indian Lore. Louis Thomas' ability in conducting mass activity classes is well known throughout the City. He has the distinction of being able to keep all the youngsters occupied and happy whether the class has an enrollment of 5 or 50.

Louis Thomas will continue to conduct classes for boys every Thursday evening and Saturday morning and for the girls every Saturday afternoon.

Volunteer Staff Upped

The recent appeal for volunteers to assist in this year's program has brought gratifying results in several areas. A newcomer to Unity is Walter Gillen who has been appointed leader of the newly-formed Leaders Corps. Mr. Gillen has had considerable experience in Youth Work having organized and operated a senior teenage group in St. John, N.B. His experience also includes coaching and managing hockey and softball teams.

the legal status of women in Quebec, and was also a board member of the Prisoners' Welfare Association, now the John Howard Society.

Active in work at Melville Presbyterian Church, she was president of its Women's Missionary Society for 12 years and was honorary president of the Presbyterian Church of Canada. She was a former president of the Montreal Women's Club and an honorary president of Westmount Conservative Women's Club.

The Montreal Star, in an editorial, said:

"Mrs. Campbell was endowed with diversified gifts. A speaker of force and eloquence she possessed as well a natural gift for organization and leadership. It was not to be wondered at, therefore, that she was called upon to help in many community and social activities. She was one of the early and indefatigable workers — along with the late Mrs. John Scott and Miss Idola St. Jean — for the promotion of "women's rights" in Quebec and underwent with them the none too pleasant experiences that awaited them, year after year, when they appeared in Quebec to present their arguments to the legislature in favor of putting the women of this province on a political equality with other Canadian women.

"It was, however, to the service of the Presbyterian Church in Canada that Mrs. Campbell was, above all other interests, devotedly dedicated. Daughter of the manse and of a father high in the councils of the church, Mrs. Campbell worked through the years to promote its welfare, during a critical period of its history.

"Mrs. Campbell's gifts to her church, her country and her community were great. They bore full fruit in the past and, together with her memory, will long endure."

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Eric B. Hanson; a son, J. A. D. (Peter) Campbell; two brothers, Dr. A. O. MacRae, Vancouver, and Colin C. MacRae, Los Angeles; a sister, Mrs. W. A. Patterson, Victoria, B.C.; and two grandchildren.

Late Mrs. Owen Rede Campbell Receives Many Fine Tributes

Final tribute was paid Friday to Mrs. Owen Rede Campbell, prominent in Presbyterian church work in Canada and honorary president of the Westmount Conservative Women's Club. She was 87.

A gifted speaker, Mrs. Campbell was a prominent Progressive Conservative, and a strong advocate of women's rights in Quebec. She had spoken in practically every Presbyterian Church on the island of Montreal.

Daughter of Dr. Donald MacRae, former moderator of the Presbyterian Church, and of his wife, the former Catherine McLea, Mrs. Campbell was born in St. John's, Newfoundland. As a child she went to Scotland with an older sister and received her formal education in Edinburgh.

Returning to Canada after her father had become a minister at Saint John, N.B., she married Owen Rede Campbell, a former branch manager of the Bank of Montreal in the Eastern Townships, who died in 1925.

Mrs. Campbell was associated with Mrs. John Scott and Miss Idola St. Jean in trying to improve (Continued on Page 5)

WESTMOUNT MOTHER OF NINE: Petitcote Becky, of Westmount, distinguished herself last summer by having nine beautiful black Poodle puppies, four girls and five boys. Becky is shown here taking a broad jump in fine style, and shown with her is Mrs. Alex Casgrain, whom she owns. Becky is an "Obedience Dog," meaning that her hobby is training with the Mountain City Obedience Club and attending Obedience Trials, where she has won, so far, both the Canadian and American "Companion Dog" titles. She hopes her children will follow in her pawsteps when they grow up. Right now they are only three months old, and all but four have gone out in to the world to new homes.

Royal, Helen Stone, Hampstead and Shirley Fellows McTavish. For the most part, they are between the ages of 19 and 22.

The idea was originated by Athens-born, Miss Scarvelis, who looked around her at the School of Art and Design a few years back and realized that she was not the only struggling young artist in need of a quiet place to work.

"You can't work with a lot of noise," Miss Scarvelis said, "and with people telling you that you're drawing the nose crooked and one eye bigger than the other."

Between interviewing the many people who wander up through the cleaning shop to see the exhibition, any one of the nine will testify that Miss Scarvelis' plan is a complete success. The studio which is located in the flat above 1325 St. Catherine west, received over 200 people on the first night of the exhibition last week.

Most of the girls hold down full-time jobs during the day and paint in their spare time. Their positions, for the most part are connected with art instruction.

Not confined to paintings, the exhibition also displays the prowess of the artists through such media as etchings, woodcuts and chalk in addition to water colors and oils. In all there were 72 exhibits in the show before the sale started.

The girls enjoy entertaining visitors — talking to art enthusiasts who have come to see the show or shoppers who started out to have their suit cleaned and ended up buying a painting.

Westmount Park-Emmanuel

Services of Thansgiving will mark Sunday's program in the Westmount Park - Emmanuel Church, the Church in the Park. Doctor Harvey Campbell will preach at both services. In the morning, "Thansgiving, 1953," will be the theme, and in the evening the sermon subject will be, "Give me a grateful heart."

Two youth groups begin their autumn activities with this coming Sunday. A "Study Workshop" on the Life of Jesus for 'teen-age boys and girls will be held on Sunday mornings at 10.00 o'clock, and the Young People's Society, for somewhat older young people, will meet after the evening service every Sunday.

Visitors and new-comers to the community will be cordially welcomed.

Obedience Training Films To Be Shown

Films on Obedience training for dogs will be shown on Tuesday, October 13th, at 7 p.m. in the Palais d'Or Ballroom, 1226 Stanley St.

They are "Basic Obedience Training" and "Advanced Obedience Training," and they are designed to show how the average dog-owner can train his or her dog to have good manners and learn to obey commands.

Instructor in the film is Miss Blanche Saunders, foremost dog trainer on the continent, and author of books and many articles on the subject of dogs. There is no admission charge, the film showing is open to the public.

Saturday, Louis Thomas' Art Woodcraft classes were a bee-hive of activity as 83 youngsters participated in the morning and afternoon sessions. The morning class attracted 45 boys and all were busily engaged making various articles such as: Indian Heads, tie racks, totem poles, letter openers and varied types of animals. In the afternoon 38 girls ranging in age from 6 to 14 years of age got an inkling of what the boys had been doing throughout the past year and they too were given an opportunity to increase their knowledge and skill in fretwork and Indian Lore. Louis Thomas' ability in conducting mass activity classes is well known throughout the City. He has the distinction of being able to keep all the youngsters occupied and happy whether the class has an enrollment of 5 or 50.

Louis Thomas will continue to conduct classes for boys every Thursday evening and Saturday morning and for the girls every Saturday afternoon.

Volunteer Staff Upped

The recent appeal for volunteers to assist in this year's program has brought gratifying results in several areas. A newcomer to Unity is Walter Gillen who has been appointed leader of the newly-formed Leaders Corps. Mr. Gillen has had considerable experience in Youth Work having organized and operated a senior teenage group in St. John, N.B. His experience also includes coaching and managing hockey and softball teams.

the legal status of women in Quebec, and was also a board member of the Prisoners' Welfare Association, now the John Howard Society.

Active in work at Melville Presbyterian Church, she was president of its Women's Missionary Society for 12 years and was honorary president of the Presbyterian Church of Canada. She was a former president of the Montreal Women's Club and an honorary president of Westmount Conservative Women's Club.

The Montreal Star, in an editorial, said:

"Mrs. Campbell was endowed with diversified gifts. A speaker of force and eloquence she possessed as well a natural gift for organization and leadership. It was not to be wondered at, therefore, that she was called upon to help in many community and social activities. She was one of the early and indefatigable workers — along with the late Mrs. John Scott and Miss Idola St. Jean — for the promotion of "women's rights" in Quebec and underwent with them the none too pleasant experiences that awaited them, year after year, when they appeared in Quebec to present their arguments to the legislature in favor of putting the women of this province on a political equality with other Canadian women.

"It was, however, to the service of the Presbyterian Church in Canada that Mrs. Campbell was, above all other interests, devotedly dedicated. Daughter of the manse and of a father high in the councils of the church, Mrs. Campbell worked through the years to promote its welfare, during a critical period of its history.

"Mrs. Campbell's gifts to her church, her country and her community were great. They bore full fruit in the past and, together with her memory, will long endure."

Thanksgiving

Let Us Be Thankful, Humble, Work Hard,
Help Others

Monday is Thanksgiving — a day set aside for us to contemplate the many things for which we owe gratitude. Canadians especially have much to be thankful for, for Providence has blessed us as few people have been blessed. In material things we are among the most fortunate in the world; spiritually, we are comparatively free of the cynicism and atheism that has robbed so many people of the greatest satisfactions of life. We have much to live for, much to work for, much to be thankful for.

But as we give our thanks to the Al-

Thanksgiving

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
(Rector of Trinity Memorial Church)

There is one point at which the ordinary ways of thinking are reversed. Generally people will ask for a thing quite readily and anxiously and even persistently; but when they have obtained their request they very often forget to give thanks. Our Lord found that to be true. Ten lepers came and sought His healing power. He sent them on their way and they realized that they had been healed, but only one of the ten turned back to give thanks. That is probably a fair average. Day by day we receive blessings from God, blessings material and spiritual, and probably not more than one person in ten stops long enough to give thanks to the Giver.

Think what those gifts are: the fact that we are here at all; the fact that there is a world for us to live in; the fact that we have the power and can develop the skill to turn that world to our advantage; the fact that God keeps in being both that world and us; that God provides a new home for us when we have worn out our welcome here. Those are some of the things for which we should give thanks day after day. Those are the things which nine out of ten forget.

But from time to time and from place to place there are special things for which we give thanks. I thank God with all sincerity that I was born in the Dominion of Canada, and that I am allowed to be a witness of the marvellous development of my own country. We have seen the actual wealth of our country far more than doubled in a quarter of a century; and we have seen the potential wealth multiplied many times. We may well thank God for it. But I wonder if we are thanking Him in our acts as well as in word. It is not very hard to go to Church and sing "Now thank we all our God", and put a dollar bill on the collection plate. It is much harder to consider quietly what response I, as an individual blessed by God, should make to the hospital appeals and the welfare Federation appeal, which are the simplest means of expressing thankfulness. I do not express my personal thankfulness by making a gift to myself but by meeting the need of groups or individuals in the community. So we do not express our national Thanksgiving by doing something within the nation. Rather we look outside to see the need of the world. God has given us coal and oil, iron and the precious metals; He has endowed us with crops beyond our imagining; and the only way we can thank God adequately is to share them.

That refers especially to food. The hungry nations would like our coal and iron; but they are in desperate need of our wheat. In fact, millions will die if they do not get a share of it. Actually what we need most in Canada at the present time is someone with vision enough and authority enough to bring together the world's need for food, and our over-supply of food. That should be the aim of our Thanksgiving.

Christian Science

"Are sin, disease, and death real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian Science churches on Sunday.

This Lesson-Sermon teaches that sin, sickness and death are no part of God's perfect spiritual creation; and that they can be eliminated from the human sense of existence in proportion as we understand their lack of any scientific basis.

The Golden Text is from Psalms: "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saying health among all nations."

Bible citations include the following from Luke: "Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk? But that ye may know mighty, let us do so in all humility, without pride, realizing that if the chances of fate have favoured us more than others, our blessings carry with them an obligation to those not so fortunate.

Welfare Federation Campaign
Must Not Fail

The Welfare Federation drive officially closes tonight and if minimum services are to be continued by all its various agencies, a great last-minute effort will have to be made to achieve the objective.

The objective admittedly is a high one, but it has been arrived at and carefully checked by leading Montreal business men, and is the minimum sum considered necessary if the work of federation is to meet the demands of the coming year. Rising costs account for the increase over last year.

This is a worthy cause — the care of the sick and helpless, the underprivileged, and the unfortunates. The work is worthy of all the assistance we can give it. Be generous.

If, per chance, you have not been canvassed, send in a subscription anyway.

that the Son of man hath power upon ear to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house."

Correlative passages from the denominational text book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "Jesus healed sickness and sin by one and the same metaphysical process. Is it error which is restoring an essential element of Christianity, — namely, apostolic, divine healing? No; it is the Science of Christianity which is restoring it, and is the light shining in darkness, which the darkness comprehends not. Healing the sick and reforming the sinner are one and the same thing in Christian Science."

Westmount Baptist

Thanksgiving will be observed in Westmount Baptist Church Sunday. The theme of the morning sermon will be: "This Lovely Grace of Gratitude". Of all the people in the world, Canadians have the greatest cause for Thanksgiving. "O give thanks unto the Lord for He is good and His Mercy endureth forever".

In the evening Dr. Johnston will continue the "Why Don't You?" series of addresses. The question to be answered will be: "Why Don't You Smash That Idol?" Men no longer worship statues of Baal, Diana or Zeus but idolatry is as

South African Talks On Aviation Subject

Aviation was the topic under discussion at Tuesday's meeting of the Westmount High School
Current Events Club. R. S. Morrell, South African representative to the International Civil Aviation Organization, after being introduced by John Foote, proceeded to explain the function of ICAO to the members of the club. He said that one of the many jobs of ICAO is to take care of airport facilities, while the maintenance of this service is supported by the member countries of the organization. Canada, high on the list of contributors, is also the headquarters of the organization, mainly because she is the country which has made the most of avi-

Variety Of Antiques And Period Furniture On View At Wallgates

A fine antique store has been added to Westmount's smartest shopping centre at Greene Avenue, as an extra outlet for Theo Wallgate's expanding business. Mrs. Ivy Wright, who has long been a resident of Westmount, will manage this branch.

Visting there, one sees a wide and choice variety of antiques in beautiful condition. Noted was a Directoire chandelier from France; a 16th century oak refectory table and two Welsh dressers from England; a fine Adams type inlaid grandfather clock having the maker's name "Bellrose" of Three Rivers; an American birdcage; mahogany tea table; graceful Chippendale and other chairs; and an old Sheriden corner washstand.

There is also rare old china, Georgian and other silver, copper, brass, lustre, and other bric-a-brac; and a beautiful tooled leather screen. Several period mirrors, both English and French, reflect to advantage old Italian water colours, Canadian and other sporting prints which adorn the walls. The piece furniture and accessories will be kept at the Cote de Liesse shop for the time being.

There are gifts for all occasions and hand printed paper, cards and ribbons for their wrapping; and to simplify your shopping — Christmas cards by Avis Fyshe. A visit will be well worth your while.

Fresh Broccoli And Sliced Beets For Taste Appeal

Some special vegetable recipe belongs in the Thanksgiving menu. Either of these two goes well with turkey:

Panned Broccoli (4 servings)

Three tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup sliced leeks, 1 bunch broccoli, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon mustard, 1/4 teaspoon celery seed, 3-ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms, 1 tablespoon cider vinegar, 1 teaspoon cornstarch.

Melt butter in frying pan. Add leeks and cook over moderate heat about 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Trim broccoli and cut in 1/2-inch pieces. Add broccoli to leeks. Sprinkle with salt, mustard and celery seed. Add contents of can of mushrooms. Cover and bring to boil. Cook over moderate heat until broccoli is barely tender, about 10 minutes. Blend together and stir in the vinegar and cornstarch. Serve immediately.

Wilted Spinach (3-4 servings)

One package frozen spinach, 3 or 4 strips bacon, 1/4 cup diced onion, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Defrost and drain spinach (if whole leaf spinach is used, chop). Fry bacon crisp, remove and crumble over spinach. Add onion. Pour off part of bacon fat if necessary, leaving about 3 or 4 tablespoons in the skillet. To the hot fat and vinegar, sugar and salt. Bring to boil and pour boiling hot over the spinach. Serve at once.

Make it Yourself
by Pauline Roy

Directions are available for making the SUNFLOWER QUILT if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Make-It-Yourself Dept. of this paper and ask for Leaflet No. S S-22-3.

When you're working on your patchwork quilt, use only fast colour materials of a firm weave. Remember that all fabric should be pressed before cutting, and that all cutting must be exact.

Patchwork Stitches

If you are alternating patchwork or applique blocks with plain blocks, you will wish to do fancy quilting on the plain ones. Shells, feathers, fans, wreaths, cables, intertwining diamonds, circles or ovals . . . any of these motifs are suitable. Many patchwork quilts are quilted close to the seams. This can be done holding the quilt in your lap and supporting it on a table. Large oval or round hoops are available for quilters who like to work on larger sections of the quilt. For fancy hand quilting of an entire quilt, however, a frame is necessary. Frames can be purchased, but any handy man can make one. If you are a beginner, do not expect perfect results immediately. However, your work will improve gradually. Make a knot at the end of the thread. Insert the needle through the layers of the quilt (from the bottom upward), and draw the thread up so that the knot is concealed in the batt. Use close running stitches. Hold your left hand under the quilt to direct the right hand which works on the top. When a section of quilting has been completed, roll it under and readjust your clamps. When the entire quilt has been quilted, remove it from the frame. Then hem or bind the edges.

Quilt for a Bedspread

More colourful than the flower it depicts, this sunflower pattern has petals of gay cotton prints. Each flower is set in a white square bordered by strips of drak cotton. Newcomers to patchwork or old hands at the craft will like this fine example of needlework.

Three I.O.D.E. Chapters To Sponsor Barn Dance

On Friday evening October 23, at nine o'clock, the Royal Montreal Regiment Armoury, 4625 St. Catherine Street West will depart from its usual dignified military mien, and go country style, as Don MacSween does the calling for the Hallowe'en Barn Dance to be given by the Colonel Arthur O Blois Chapter, the Major General Basil Price Chapter and the Commandos Chapter IODE.

Mrs. Dorothy Dow is coordinator of the Dance and in charge of decorations, and she has arranged many special dances, such as balloon dances, spot dances, and a new version of musical chairs, in addition to the square dancing, and versatile Don MacSween will also provide music for waltzing. Mrs. Sheila Phipps heads the committee for door prizes and has arranged many surprises in the way these prizes are to be given out.

Hard working committee members are Mrs. Ruth Ross, Miss Dorothy O'Toole, of the Arthur O Blois Chapter; Mrs. Ruth Stevenson, who is looking after the tickets, and Mrs. Dorothy Townsend of the Basil Price Chapter; Marietta Freeland, Irene Moore and Mrs. Lib Miller of the Commandos Chapter.

The rig of the day at the Barn Dance is blue jeans for the men and blouses, skirts and loafers for the ladies. For the novices, Don MacSween will go through the sets very slowly at first, and explain each step, and eight young boys and girls from West Hill High School have consented to be on hand to demonstrate the many intricacies of hoe-downing.

Milk Value Estimated At 42 Cents A Quart

According to a recent economic breakdown of the current retail costs of the various nutrients contained in it, milk is the best food bargain on the market. If you were to purchase all the nutrients in one quart of milk separately, they would cost 42 cents, says C-I-L Agricultural News.

Broken down, it reads: one quart of milk contains one cent's worth of sugar, a half-cent's worth of vitamins and minerals, two and one-half cents worth of fat and 38 cents' worth of protein (at present beef and pork roast prices). Total — 42 cents.

Try Cranberries Many New Ways For Thanksgiving

For the Thanksgiving dinner and for many other meals, you may want these variations on the cranberry theme.

Cranberry Orange Celery Mold (serves 8-10)

One quart cranberries, 2 1/4 cups water, 2 tablespoons plain gelatin, 1/2 cup water, 1 1/4 cups sugar, grated peel of one orange, grated peel and juice of one lemon, 2 oranges, peeled and cut into chunks, 1/2 cup diced celery.

Wash cranberries, cook in 2 1/4 cups water until soft; strain. Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup water. Thoroughly mix sugar and softened gelatin with strained cranberries. Add orange peel, lemon peel and lemon juice. Cool until gelatin mixture is almost set. Fold in orange chunks and celery. Turn into 1-quart mold and chill until firm. Unmold and serve as a salad with greens or as a meat accompaniment.

Chocolate Chiffon Pie on Turkey-Day Menu

Many people prefer a delicate dessert after the Thanksgiving turkey and all the fixin's.

Here's a pie you don't have to bake — a surprise pie, too. Under the fluffy filling is a rich layer of tender, fudge-like chocolate made of bite-size pieces of chocolate. They come in mint and artificial rum flavor, too. So take your choice.

Surprise Chiffon Pie

Crumb Crust (8 or 9 inch crust). Blend together 1 cup graham cracker crumbs (12 crackers), 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar, 1/4 cup melted butter. Spread and press mixture on buttered sides and bottom of pie plate.

Milk Chocolate Fudge

Melt over very hot water: 3/4 package (40) milk chocolate wafers. Stir vigorously until smooth and creamy. Blend in: 1/4 cup evaporated milk or cream, 1 heaping tablespoon prepared marshmallow, 1 tablespoon corn syrup, thoroughly until smooth. Pour in 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar. Beat to prepared crumb crust. Place in

It is used in pastels or jewel tones for a handsome and useful daytime dress, good for town or country. The casual collar has a deep slit and can be worn with a kerchief or jewelry. The seaming from the yoke pockets converges towards the waist for a slimming line. The pockets at the hips extend just a bit, and there is a leather's lined self belt.

Bantams Divide Grid Tilts As Soccermen Lose

The Westmount Junior High bantam football team lost their first game in three years when they were edged 6-5 in their opening game by D'Arcy McGee, but climber aboard the victory train when they dumped their local rivals St. Leo's 7-0 on Tuesday.

McGee came up with a fine team, but the locals were crippled by an injury to Pete Souquet which kept him out of most of the game. Singer scored the Westmount touchdown, but Souquet missed the convert as he was rushed before he had time to get the kick away.

Souquet Missed

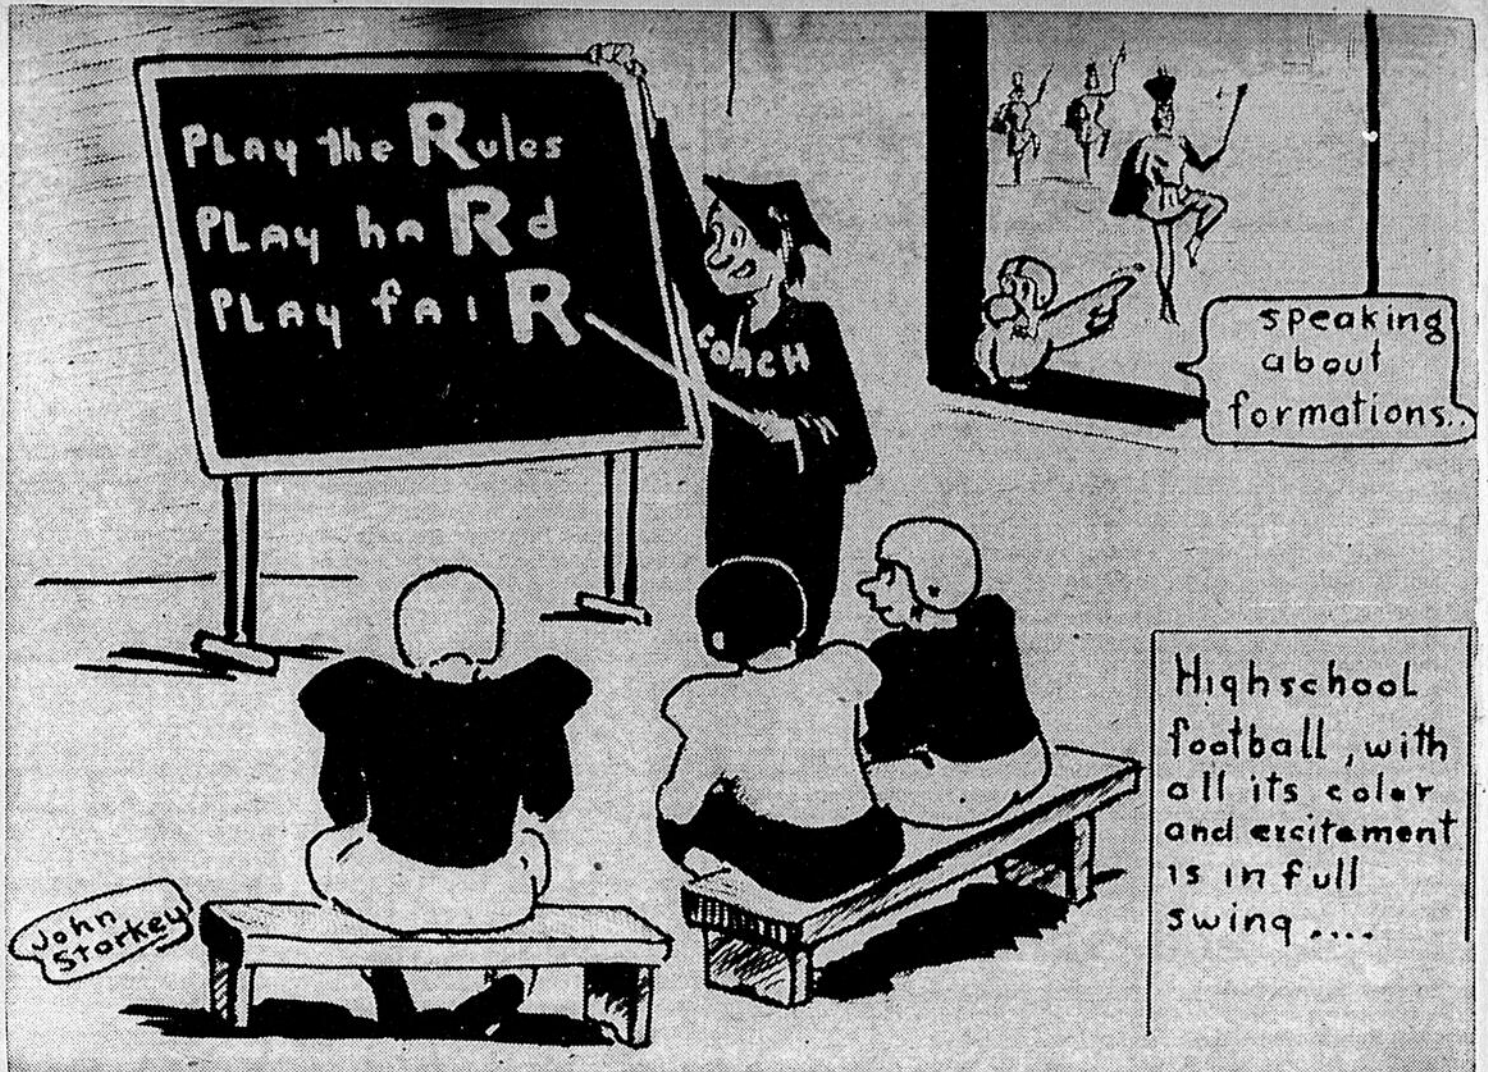

Souquet was also missed for his fine defensive work, and coach Hugh Stratton feels it'll be different next time.

George Young scored a major against a small team from St. Leo's, Souquet converting. The latter picked up another point when a kick rolled to the deadline. St. Leo's were a well-coached squad, and the game was hard-fought and clean.

Meet Montreal West

Next game is against Montreal West Tuesday, and because of the Thanksgiving Holiday and Teachers' Convention, the bantams will have no opportunity to practice. They'll be going all out for a win, however, and need one to stay in the race for the title.

The soccer team got off on the wrong foot, both literally and figuratively, as they dropped decisions to Rosemount 5-0 and St. Laurent 4-2. This gives them a one and two record for the season, and not the best chance to repeat on the city championship they took last year.

High school football, with all its color and excitement is in full swing....

Great Defensive Game Gives Seniors 6-5 Win

By MARTY GOODMAN

An inspired Westmount football team, counted out before they even started, played a smart defensive game Wednesday to edge Verdun High School 6-5 in a senior B encounter at Westmount Park. It was the first win in two tries, for the locals.

Much of the credit must go to coach Ron Sharp, who took a crippled and undermanned team out against a faster, heavier and undoubtedly better squad, and then won the game by using better strategy. On a wet, soggy field, he instructed his charges to give the ball to Verdun by kicking constantly, and time after time Westmount came out ahead as an exchange of kicks pushed Verdun deeper and deeper into their own end.

John Fuller was the man of the day in the Westmount backfield, as he filled in for quarterback Don Ferrier on short notice. Ferrier is out for the season with a crushed finger, and Fuller was shifted into the vacant spot.

Outstanding Kicking

He shone on his kicking, the outstanding factor in the game, picking up a single early in the first quarter to give the Westies a lead they never relinquished, and it proved to be the winning point at the end of the day's rivalry.

One of his kicks also helped Westmount to score their lone touchdown. In the second quarter he punted an onside kick, Drake standing behind him. The ball hit the cross bar and fell into the arms of Drake, who ran it across from the Verdun 15. The convert attempt was taken in a sea of mud and both holder and kicker slipped in the try.

Linemen Block Point

On the first play of the second half, Verdun tallied their major on an 80 yard run off tackle. The first convert attempt fell short, but they got another try when the referee ruled Westmount offside. But Bob Job, Chris Carr and Dave Woodman, three linemen who put in outstanding performances, drove past their heavier opponents to block it and retain the one point margin.

The game was strictly a defensive effort for Westmount, crippled as they were with no runners and fewer passers. Twice men got into the clear on end runs, but were easily pulled down by the fast Verdun team. Dick Christensen showed well in the backfield, but the wet ground made it difficult to get moving at any time.

Pushed Deep

Verdun passed a lot near the end in a desperation effort to go ahead, but a quick by Fuller covered 50 yards and set them well back. A clipping penalty on the same play pushed the visitors to their own five yard line, and they spent the rest of the afternoon trying to move it out from there

Fuller kicked them deep every time he touched the ball.

Sharp only had 19 players out to the game, while Verdun used a two-platoon system. There were only two guards and two tackles, and the Verdun line outweighed them by at least 20 pounds a man, but Carr, Job, Woodman, Gill, Evans and Fox saved the game with their sharp tackling and sterling play. Fox stopped a sure touchdown once when he chased a Verdun half and brought him down just short of the goal.

Little Offense Shown

Bobby Hamilton also turned in a good game for the locals, who showed slightly less offense than Verdun. The latter chalked up all of four first downs, Westmount got three.

In the end the kicking was the difference. Verdun worked out of a T formation and time after time they fumbled while handling the wet ball. Since they had almost consistent possession, they fumbled almost once every series. Westmount recovered three of them, while the others prevented them from making any gain.

Fast Backs Slip

The fast Verdun backs were pinned in behind their own line every time, for the local ends charged hard and fast to make them turn quickly, and the field was just too wet for such antics. It was a game that showed Westmount to have fight and determination, which put alongside one of the smartest coaches in the

Senior Soccer Draw In Opener Meet Rosemount

The Westmount senior A soccer team is in the midst of a three week lay-off as their scheduled game this week with Verdun failed to come off. The team tied 1-1 in their first outing with the High School of Montreal.

Next game will see the squad, coached by W. J. Horsnall, play Rosemount at Westmount Park on Oct. 15.

R. Oder, Mike Carpenter and Tom Lonsdale starred in the first encounter, which saw the locals completely outplay the High School but fail to connect when it came to chalking up points.

Carpenter scored on a pass from Oder to tie the count at one all, but hit the uprights on another shot. The High School goalie was practically unbeatable, and but for his efforts the team would admit surely be riding the crest of a one game winning streak.

by MARTY GOODMAN

A RECENT article in the New York Times dwelt on the fact that college football in the United States, with the removal of the two-platoon system, is reverting to the style of the 1930s. Neither Canadian college or professional teams have bewildered fans with floods of players going on or off the field, and this is due to the player limit imposed in every league.

Still, the article was interesting because most Canadian football is influenced by the American game, with American coaches running the big teams and American formations in use everywhere. With the two-platoon system barred, the game as played below the border and its Canadian counterpart have very much the same basic plays as in the early Thirties with only a few new twists.

Passing Perfected for More Scoring

Perhaps, the most amazing things in the modern game is the extent to which the forward and lateral pass, already common usage in the Thirties, have been perfected and to which scoring effectiveness has increased. The trend in football since 1933 has been towards a more open game, but before that date, almost all the basic ideas still existed.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, football's "grand old man," is generally credited with the creation of the wingback principle at Springfield College, Mass., in 1890. In modified forms it continues to play a vital role in the modern game. Stagg recalls the origin of the T formation during his playing days at Yale, and at the same time. Princeton was unleashing its ace back Snake Ames from a primitive version of the short punt formation.

Shift Major Weapon

The chief contribution to defensive play in the modern era has been the use of the shift. By shifting at the last possible moment the defensive seeks to confuse opposition blocking assignments after a play has been called. The offensive shift became a major weapon after 1909 with the introduction of the Minnesota shift — first in which the linemen as well as the backfield changed positions just prior to the snap of the ball. Later came the Rockne system at Notre Dame with a step shift into a box formation.

It was those no-pause shifts that brought about a rule in 1930 requiring a full-second stop before the actual start of a play. So even the controversy over the "sucker shift" last fall was nothing new.

Complete collegiate statistics, dating back to 1937, show a steady march towards a more open game.

In 1938 Fordham led the country in total offense with an average of 341.8 yards a game. Ten years later the University of Nevada posted an average of 487 yards a game. Defensively Santa Clara limited its opponents to 69.9 yards a game in 1937. Last year, Tennessee, leading the United States' defensive outfits, gave up 166.7 yards in each contest.

Deceptive Shifts Used

By 1933 both the offense and defense had been standardized, built on a set of recodified rules. Teams on the attack were using the Warner system, either single or double wing, or the Rockne system.

WESTMOUNT'S senior B football team chalked up its first win in two starts Wednesday when they beat Verdun 6-5, and much of the credit must go to coach Ron Sharp. His canny wiles gave onlookers a lesson in top defensive football, and his strategy proved successful for the victory.

Bantams Divide Grid Tilts As Soccermen Lose

The Westmount Junior High bantam football team lost their first game in three years when they were edged 6-5 in their opening game by D'Arcy McGee, but climber aboard the victory train when they dumped their local rivals St. Leo's 7-0 on Tuesday.

McGee came up with a fine team, but the locals were crippled by an injury to Pete Souquet which kept him out of most of the game. Singer scored the Westmount touchdown, but Souquet missed the convert as he was rushed before he had time to get the kick away.

Souquet Missed

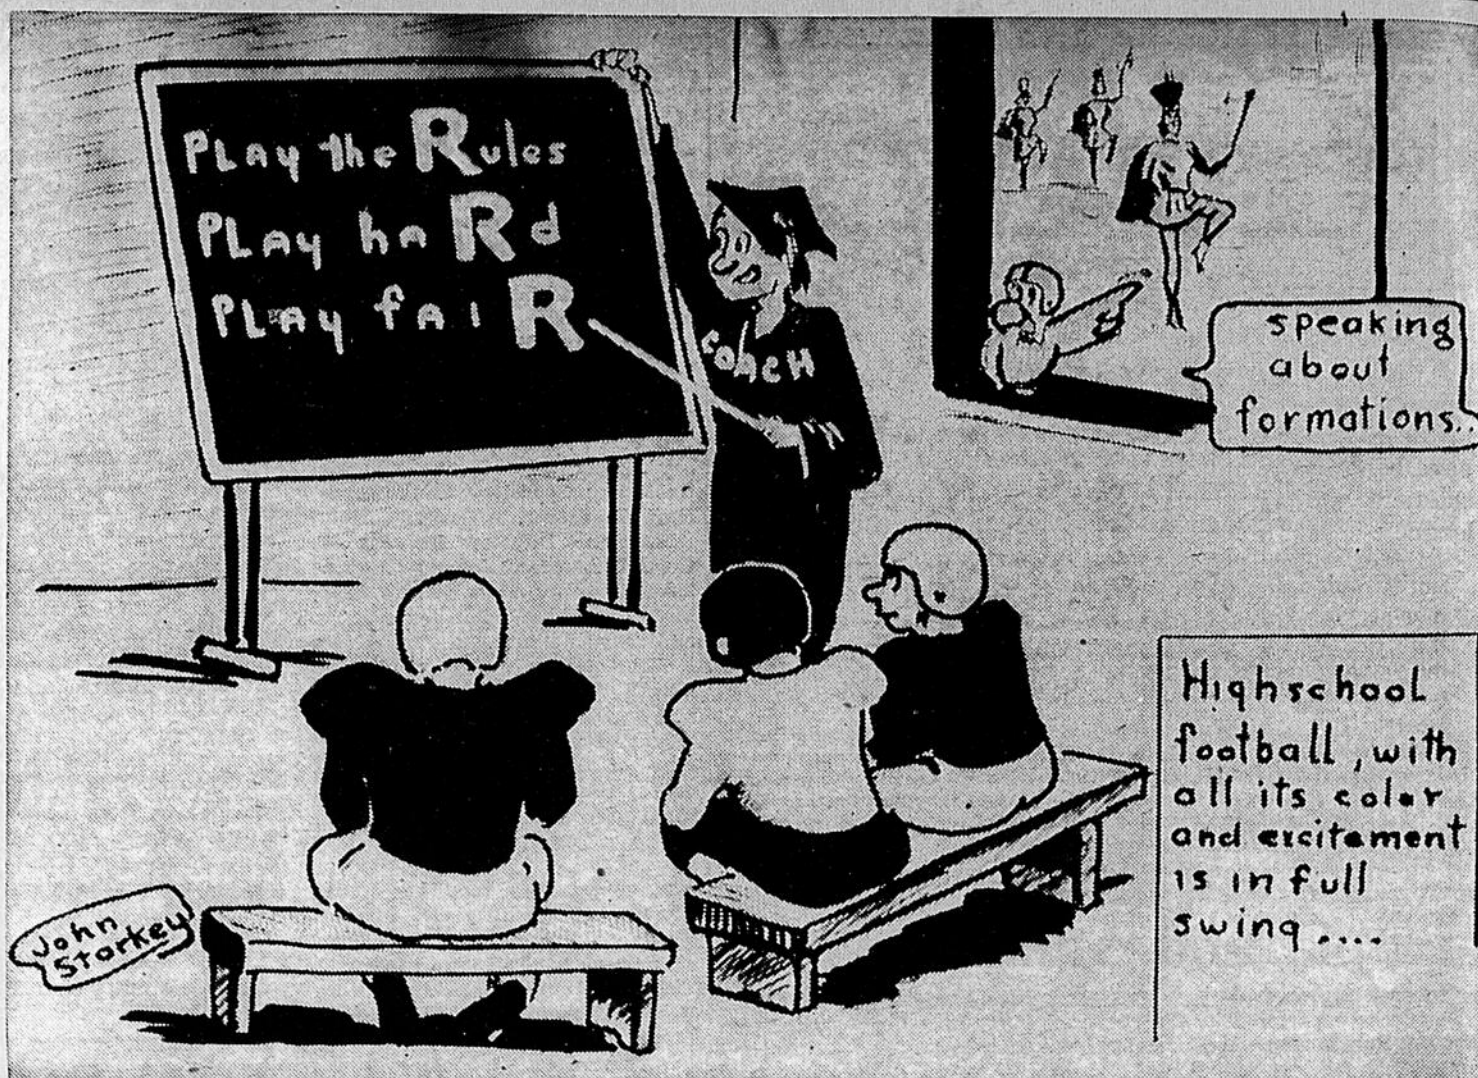

Souquet was also missed for his fine defensive work, and coach Hugh Stratton feels it'll be different next time.

George Young scored a major against a small team from St. Leo's, Souquet converting. The latter picked up another point when a kick rolled to the deadline. St. Leo's were a well-coached squad, and the game was hard-fought and clean.

Meet Montreal West

Next game is against Montreal West Tuesday, and because of the Thanksgiving Holiday and Teachers' Convention, the bantams will have no opportunity to practice. They'll be going all out for a win, however, and need one to stay in the race for the title.

The soccer team got off on the wrong foot, both literally and figuratively, as they dropped decisions to Rosemount 5-0 and St. Laurent 4-2. This gives them a one and two record for the season, and not the best chance to repeat on the city championship they took last year.

Great Defensive Game Gives Seniors 6-5 Win

By MARTY GOODMAN

An inspired Westmount football team, counted out before they even started, played a smart defensive game Wednesday to edge Verdun High School 6-5 in a senior B encounter at Westmount Park. It was the first win in two tries for the locals.

Much of the credit must go to coach Ron Sharp, who took a crippled and undermanned team out against a faster, heavier and undoubtedly better squad, and then won the game by using better strategy. On a wet, soggy field, he instructed his charges to give the ball to Verdun by kicking constantly, and time after time Westmount came out ahead as an exchange of kicks pushed Verdun deeper and deeper into their own end.

BASKETBALL

The call has been out for the past couple of weeks now for basketball enthusiasts and to date there is a possibility of four adult age teams being formed into a league.

The Recreation Department has the use of a local gymnasium three evenings per week, and all interested residents are invited to come out and play.

The Westmount Grads, coached by Doug Alexander, have commenced practices already, and hope to have a strong enough squad to enter the Intermediate Section of the Montreal Basketball League.

Pat Lomasney says he can muster up enough fellows for two teams and Cliff Gill says he can enter one.

tem. Most of the teams were reverting to deceptive shifts. The defensive alignments were also fairly well settled.

While the wide open game was slowly emerging, the trend in the Thirties remained the "punt, pass and prayer" philosophy embodied in the Michigan system. It called for action rather than high-scoring. Defensively it hinged on a rugged line, good line-backers and an alert pass defense.

Minnesota and Pittsburgh followed Michigan in effective use of power football and it was the Gophers of the mid-Thirties who showed to what extent strong reserve strength could be used to wear down opponents. Duke, in 1938, and Tennessee, in 1939, were the last major college teams to go through a regular season unscored-upon, with the Blue Devils relying heavily on punting while the Volunteers counted on a mixture of balance, speed and deception.

When Southern California defeated that Duke team 7-3 in the 1939 Rose Bowl game on a series of last-minute passes, it was a portent of the stepped-up game to come.

T Formation Revived

The advance of the passing attack had been steady, with many great passing combinations, while power-running off the traditional single wing continued to carry teams to success, but Clark Shaughnessy started the revolution with his revival of the old T formation at Stanford. Based on the 1880's alignment and the more recently developed man-in-motion and flanker principles, success after success followed the T, and many great passers added to its effectiveness.

Don Faurot at Missouri brought forth the split-T as a variation of the standard system with emphasis on option plays. It featured the split line principle for better blocking angles and depended on a versatile quarterback moving parallel behind the line to run, pass or pitch out.

Modern Single Wing

With the end of the war came the "modern single wing" base on buck-lateral plays. Spinners, deep reverses and sweeps gained new deceptions in this system which dated back some years to Bernie Bierman of Minnesota. The defensive shift actually came into general use towards the end of the 1930's.

This shifting idea, credited to Rae Crowther when he served under Percy Haughton at Harvard, revolutionized defensive football thinking across the country. One of the best examples was when Frank Leahy, using the refined fluid defense at Notre Dame, stopped a good Georgia Tech team 20-0 in 1941. In this, his first year at South Bend, he used a 4-3-1-2-1 set-up and the Irish picked off six of 11 Tech passes and held the Engineers to 92 yards rushing.
