U.S. TODAY GREETS THEIR MAJESTIES

Half Million Jam Capital For Welcome

Thousands Witness Simple Ceremony at Buffalo as United States Secretary of State Greets British Royalty on Arrival on American Soil — Diplomatic Reception at White House to Feature Visit.

Washington, June 8.—(CP)—This United States capital, once stormed and captured by British soldiers, waited with bated breath today the arrival of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, first reigning monarchs of the British Empire to set foot on American soil.

Long since the decorative gilding of the city for the visit had been completed, every bit of bunting and every flag available hung from its appointed spot.

It needed only clement weather to make Washington's day complete—a day the city has been awaiting expectantly for six months.

The forecast was for hot weather —92 degrees—by noon when the King and Queen, escorted by State Secretary Cordell Hull who greeted them at Niagara Falls, N.Y., last night, meet the President and Mrs. Roosevelt in the reception room of the Union Station.

The weatherman predicted showers. But there was hope of them holding off until 6:30 p.m. that the garden party at the British Embassy, to which 1,400 have been invited, might go off under dry skies.

Visitors swarmed Washington, vieing with capital residents for points of vantage from which to see the King and Queen. It was estimated 500,000 would see Their Majesties here either jamming themselves behind cables that roped off sidewalks along the Royal route or viewing the procession from upper windows at prices ranging from $1 to $10.

The American Red Cross mobilized emergency details for service along the route of the Royal party and military escort from the station to the White House. Some 1,000 policemen and 415 firemen were assigned to special police crowd duty.

For those who miss Their Majesties in the initial parade a second procession as arranged. The King and Queen, after a diplomatic reception at the White House, informal lunch with the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, and a drive about the city, may be seen en route from the White House to the British Embassy for the garden party.

On arrival here from Niagara Falls Their Majesties faced a visit planned as thirty-six hours of unbroken enjoyment before going to New York for a one-day visit to be followed by Sunday in the tranquility of the President's Hyde Park, N.Y., estate. Then Canada again receives their sovereigns.

Leaving Canada last night to the cheers of thousands of Dominion subjects—so loud in their farewells they drowned out the roar of the famous Niagara cataract—the King and Queen were welcomed by Secretary Hull at the Suspension Bridge station.

WARM WELCOME FOR CARDINAL ON PARIS TRIP

Paris Prelate and Canadian Minister Among Party Welcoming Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve on Arrival at Paris Station.

Paris, June 8. — (C.P.-Havas)—Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, arrived here this afternoon from Nancy.

The Prelate was welcomed at the Gare de l'Est by Jean Cardinal Verdier, Archbishop of Paris, whose guest he will be while in Paris. Also at the station were Lieut.-Colonel G. P. Vanier, the Canadian Minister, and Marcel Boucher, deputy from Vosges and president of the Companions of St. Jeanne d'Arc.

Cardinal Villeneuve was greeted by a large crowd as he passed through the station and was driven to the Archbishop's palace. This evening he will be guest of honor at a dinner given by the France-America Committee. Tomorrow he will be honored by a luncheon at the palace of the Papal Nuncio, Monsignor Valerio Valeri.

CRAIGAVON IN CEYLON

Colombo, June 8.—(CP)—Viscount Craigavon, premier of Northern Ireland, recently came to Ceylon for a ten day holiday.

Admit Italian Submarines Sank Large Number Of Merchantmen

Rome, June 8.—(AP)—With Italy celebrating the Nationalist victory in Spain as a triumph for Premier Mussolini, a newspaper devoted to Italian armed forces today declared that "numerous" merchant ships carrying supplies for the Spanish Republicans were sunk by Italian submarines.

Le Forze Armate disclosed Mussolini's intervention in Spain was far more extensive than hitherto was known publicly here. In four months alone Italian ships transported 100,000 men to Spain, the newspaper says.

"From mid-December, 1936, to mid-April, 1937, which was the period of the most intense activity, about 100,000 men, 4,370 vehicles, 40,000 tons of material and 750 cannon were transported to Spain by fifty-two steamships in 132 voyages for the protection of which it was necessary to employ 30 fighting ships," Le Forze Armate said.

During that period the Italian Government denied it was sending any aid to General Franco.

DELAY CALLED IN EFFORTS TO RAISE THETIS

Northwest Wind and Heavy Seas Interfere with Attempts to Move Craft as Extra Strain Causes Large Cables to Snap.

Liverpool, June 8.—(CP)—Efforts to raise the submarine Thetis from the bottom of Liverpool Bay were halted today after a strong northwest wind and heavy sea in the night snapped pontoon cables.

Eight steel hawsers had been slung under the craft to lift her on flood tide. She was to have been towed until ebb tide permitted a tightening of the sling. The process of taking her from the 130 feet of water to the shore will require several days. Stronger cables are being sought.

FATHER OF LABOR LEADER DEAD

Montreal, June 8.—(CP)—Francois Xavier Trepanier, 77, father of Raoul Trepanier, president of the Montreal Trades and Labor Council, died last night. He was an uncle of Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal.

Senior British Official Will Press Negotiations For Three-Nation Treaty

William Strang, Head of Central European Department of Foreign Office, Hurried Home from Vacation to Rush Britain's New Mutual Assistance Formula to Moscow—Smaller Baltic Countries Still Prove Problem.

London, June 8.—(CP)—William Strang, head of the Central European department of the Foreign Office, and an expert on Soviet Russia, hurried home from a vacation today to rush Britain's new mutual assistance formula to Moscow.

He was expected here by plane from Warsaw late today to receive instructions which Prime Minister Chamberlain hopes will lead to a quick conclusion of an agreement bringing Russia into the Anglo-French peace bloc.

No time has been set for his departure for Moscow but it is believed he probably will leave by plane tomorrow.

Mr. Strang is regarded by diplomatic observers as an ideal man for the job of accelerating the nearly three-month-old negotiations for three-power collaboration —negotiations which began after Germany's annexation of Bohemia and Moravia last March.

The Prime Minister, again under attack from the Labor party for the slowness of negotiations, told the House of Commons yesterday that the special envoy would deliver to Sir William Seeds, British ambassador in Moscow, "full information as to the attitude of the British Government on all outstanding points." The Prime Minister added that "there remain one or two difficulties to be resolved."

The principal hitch is the opposition of Finland, Latvia and Estonia to Russia's desire to have a pact guaranteeing all states touching on her western frontier.

"To guarantee any country against its will would be to violate the whole spirit and purpose of the peace front," said the Daily Telegraph (Conservative). "But it would be scarcely credible if a formula could not be found which would give Russia the firm assurance she asks. Indeed, an act of aggression against any one of the Baltic states would appear to come within the definition of 'indirect menace' of the kind which automatically involves our pledge of support."

The diplomatic correspondent of the Financial Times (Independent) said the Government is not prepared to extend pledges to the Baltic states.

"Should these countries become victims of aggression and should Russia, feeling her independence threatened, be compelled to go to their aid, Britain and France, I understand, will be ready to fulfil their reciprocal obligations by going to Russia's aid," he wrote. "After the ground has been fully prepared with prospects that a pact will be concluded, a British Minister, a member of the Cabinet, will go to Moscow."

The News-Chronicle (Liberal) said Mr. Strang was not the right man for the Moscow mission. "A special envoy should certainly be sent to Moscow but he should be Lord Halifax himself. Let the Foreign Secretary go, for no more important business has come into the

SHARP DROP IN ACCIDENTAL DEATHS IN UNITED STATES

Chicago, June 8.—(AP)—Accidental deaths in the United States during 1938 were reduced by 11,000, with traffic reductions setting the pace in the decline, the National Safety Council reported today.

The Council said there were 90,000 persons killed in all types of accidents. That represented a ten per cent drop from the 1937 figure.

NEW COMPETITION STARTED

Weatherford, Okla., June 8.—(AP)—Scout Leader Eddie Laxon is sponsoring a new kind of sports event for boys—a slingshot tournament.

"Too many mocking birds and other birds have been killed by slingshots this spring," Laxson said. "I think this tournament will ease the pressure on them a bit."

TRAINS SWITCH POSITIONS ON ROYAL JOURNEY

Royal Train Forced to Pilot Famous Pilot Train as Hot Box Develops on Car Carrying Number of Newspapermen.

Aboard Royal Pilot Train, en route to Washington, June 8.—(CP)—This home-on-wheels for the one hundred newspapermen covering the Royal visit which has piloted the train carrying King George and Queen Elizabeth across Canada and back lost its trail-breaking position early today as the result of a "hot-box."

The upshot was that the pilot train to the Royal train found itself being piloted by the Royal train as Their Majesties rolled toward Washington and the crowded first day of their United States' visit.

The box greasing a wheel of the pullman on which the writer and a dozen other pressmen were sleeping after yesterday's hectic tour of the Niagara Peninsula dried out soon after the piloteer passed Williamsport, Pa.

It was 6 a.m. E.D.T. and some of the boys almost had reached the point of undressing for bed.

After the train had jerked to a halt, the occupants of the disabled car, cobwebs of sleep in their eyes, were scattered among other pullmans in their various stages of undress, dragging typewriters and luggage behind them.

Because it was a uni-train—one in which the cars were welded together rather than coupled — considerable time was lost while the wheel-bound pullman was sawed out. Before the section had been rejoined, the blue and silver train carrying Their Majesties streaked by on its triumphal journey, unpiloted by the press corps.

Annoying as was the loss of sleep, it was mild compared to the worry that the "inkspot special" might not reach Washington — 200 miles away—until well after the Royal train.

An hour was lost in the accident, but railroad officials sped the pilot over the rolling countryside in an effort to catch the Royal train and land the press corps in the capital in time to do their chores.

WRITER LAUDS QUALITIES OF FRENCH CANADA

Charles Maurras, on Election as Member of French Academy, Offers French-Canadian as True Example of French Genius.

Paris, June 8.—(C.P.-Havas)—Tribute was paid to French-Canadians today at the reception of Charles Maurras, prominent writer and Monarchist leader, as a new member of the French Academy.

Maurras, himself, in his address to the Academy, invoked the French Canadian as an example of the French genius, a eulogy of which formed the essential part of his speech. Henry Bordeaux, who answered for the Academy, commended the selection of Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, as Papal Legate to the ceremonies honoring St. Joan of Arc at Domremy.

Maurras takes the seat in the Academy vacated by the death of Henri Robert who, for seven years, was Battonier of the Paris Bar.

In his tribute to the French peasant, part of a general eulogy of the French spirit, Maurras said of the French-Canadians:

"The Frenchman unites so easily with Mother Nature that nothing makes him afraid, neither sand, nor forests, nor glaciers. Our Canadians have well demonstrated this for, not content with pullulating in their trustworthy homes, they spread themselves over New England.

"Their Acadian brothers, long in exile, had hardly returned to their first houses when one saw them going out to people distant fields at the mouth of the Mississippi, as if to rekindle the flame of French blood which was about to languish and decrease at New Orleans."

SOME SPEED

Denver, June 8.— (AP) —Acting Fire Chief Patrick Boyne walked to a fire—and got there ahead of his men. Boyne happened to be in the police building when fire broke out in the elevator pit. The firemen had to drive a block in their truck.

King George Honors Officers Charged With Canadian Tour

British Ambassador to United States, Assistant Private Secretary and Press Liaison Officer Included Among Those Decorated in King's Official Birthday Honors List—Former Canadian Honored.

OFFICIALS RE-ELECTED BY QUEBEC POSTMASTERS' ASSOCIATION

Quebec, June 8.—(CP)—Napoleon Jacques, of Shawinigan, was re-elected yesterday president of the Quebec Postmasters' Association at the annual convention. All the other Association officers also were re-elected as follows: Vice-president, J. E. Champoux, Sorel; secretary-treasurer, L. P. Grenier; directors, Miss Blanche Payette, L'Assomption; G. H. Desjardins, St. Jerome; P. E. Gagnon, Plessisville; P. E. Lortie, Granby; H. S. Brown, Danville; and J. A. Levesque, Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere.

PERHAPS PROTESTS BROUGHT DOWN TAX

London, June 8.—(CP)—Producer J. B. Priestley threatened to quit the theatre in a speech at the Stratford-on-Avon Shakespeare birthday luncheon. He held the theatre's chief enemy was the Government, who "tax us on our losses." Then on budget day Sir John Simon announced the tax on legitimate theatre tickets would be reduced one penny, saving the entertainment industry about $950,000 annually.

WOTTON BARN DESTROYED

Wotton, Que., June 8.—(CP)—Fire, set by sparks from a land-clearing blaze near this Wolfe County hamlet, razed a barn yesterday on the property of Casimir Langlouis, with loss of five head of livestock and farming implements.

London, June 8.—(CP)—The King today included in the list of those he honored on his official birthday three men who have played a large part in the success of his North American tour.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, Britain's popular Ambassador to the United States, became a Knight Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath on the day that he becomes His Majesty's host at the Washington Embassy.

Alan Frederick Lascelles, the King's Assistant private secretary and the man largely responsible for detailed arrangements of the visit, became "Sir Alan."

The hard-working and unassuming secretary was singled out with George Steward, who is serving as press liaison officer of His Majesty's personal suite for special recognition by the King.

Sir Alan, known as "Tommy," acquired the new title by virtue of his promotion to Knight Commander of the Royal Victorian Order exclusively bestwed by the Sovereign as a reward for personal services. The Order was founded by Queen Victoria in 1896. Mr. Steward, who is chief press officer at Downing street, became a Commander of the coveted Order. He is slated to join the Buckingham Palace secretarial staff this fall.

The list ranged widely over the Empire to single out men and women for recognition of their services.

Of particular interest to Canada was the Baronetcy — hereditary Knighthood—conferred upon Harry Oakes, discoverer of the Tough Oakes and Lake Shore gold mines in Northern Ontario.

Now a resident of the Bahamas, where he is a member of the Legislature and a leading force in development and social work, Sir Harry was honored for "public and philanthropic service."

Just as the award was announced, St. George's Hospital in London stated it had received an additional £10,000 ($46,800) from Sir Harry who previously gave the institution large sums.

William J. Courtauld, a member of the silk making family whose name is borne by large factories in Eastern Canada, also received a baronetcy for his philanthropic work in his native county of Essex, England.

The list of elated five Peerages—all Barons—five Baronetcies, two Privy Councillors, thirty-four Knights Bachelor and many other degrees of Knighthood and lesser awards.

The new Peers are: Sir Arthur Brooke, Sir Herbert Cayzer, M.P., Captain Herbert Dixon, M.P., Sir Henry Lyons and Sir Frederick Marquis.

Within the Royal family, the King honored his youngest brother and the Queen's oldest sister.

The Duke of Kent was gazetted a Rear Admiral in the Royal Navy, a Major General in the army and an Air Vice-Marshal in the Royal Air Force. Lady Elphinstone, the Queen's sister, became a Dame Commander of the Royal Victorian Order.

As is customary, no residents of

Anglo-Japanese Relations At Breaking Point, Japs Charge

Charging that Great Britain Is Seeking to Intimidate Japan, Foreign Office Spokesman Declares a Calm Attitude Must Be Preserved if Serious International Repercussions Are to Be Avoided.

Tokyo, June 8.—(AP) — Relations with Great Britain have been aggravated "almost to the breaking point" by the increasing number of incidents in China, a Government informant asserted today.

A spokesman for the Admiralty declared at the same time a "calm attitude" must be preserved if "serious international repercussions" are to be avoided.

Newspapers charged that, as Asahi put it, Britain "is seemingly endeavoring to intimidate Japan," that she is adopting a stronger attitude in the belief the United States will back her and because she fears the resistance by General Chiang Kai-Shek is weakening.

The latest of the incidents creating the present situation was reported last night by Domei, the Japanese News Agency, which declared a foreign warship, "apparently a British cruiser," fired upon a Japanese air transport east of Hong Kong.

Other incidents include:

The death of a British cotton mill employee at Shanghai of wounds suffered in a fight with Japanese marines who entered the mall to stop a clash between working employees and strikers.

Arrest by Japanese army men at Kalgan of two British officers, Lieut.-Colonel C. R. Spear, military attache, and Lieut. John Cooper.

The refusal by the British consulate at Tientsin to surrender from the International Settlement four Chinese wanted by the Japanese as suspects in the slaying of a Tientsin official.

A WESTERN SENATOR OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR THIRD TERM BY ROOSEVELT

Washington, June 8.— (AP) — New Deal supporters in the United States Congress took up the talk of a third term for President Roosevelt today, with Senator James Murray (Democratic, Montana) disclosing he had told the President that "the entire West" is behind his administration.

Senator Murray, a native of St. Thomas, Ont., told reporters after a call at the White House that he had not made specific mention of a third term for fear of embarrassing Mr. Roosevelt, but added: "I think the entire West feels that the President has a better understanding and appreciation of the serious problems of our country than any other man who could possibly succeed him."

SEALED 15 DAYS, HOLY MAN LIVES

Bihar, India, June 8.—(CP)—A Hindu holy man on the banks of the Gandak River decided to meditate on austerity for 15 days. He had an underground cell of bricks and cement built and entered it. There he remained two weeks without food and water. Thousands of villagers collected around and stayed until the end of his meditation. At an hour appointed by him 15 days later, the cell was broken and the holy man crept out, pale and emaciated but with a faint smile on his lips. Fifteen thousand villagers greeted him.

Royal Visit To Dominion Cures People Of Acute Nervousness

A smiling, unselfish couple, oblivious to fatiguing hours of cheering crowds, the King and Queen swept across Canada and back on a flood-tide of roaring devotion, entrenched themselves more firmly than ever in the hearts of Canadians and cured their people of a bad case of jitters.

Two days after the Royal arrival in Quebec, May 17th, a Montreal clergyman, Rev. H. Donald, sounded the keynote of the tour. He told a service club that the Royal visit, coming at a time when it might have been avoided without much question or surprise, had done more than anything else to give fresh confidence to the troubled nations of the world.

As Their Majesties followed the trails of pioneers westward, his words were borne out by the singleness of purpose with which Canadians united to subordinate everything else to talk of the Royal visit. European turmoil was forgotten. Canadians scanned the front pages for news of their King and Queen with the same eagerness as only a short while before they waited for the latest move in troubled Europe.

Now as Their Majesties interrupt a tour such as no British Monarch ever took in history to break precedent again by visiting the United States before swinging through the Maritimes, Canadians are analyzing the visit.

Everyone agrees the tourist business has boomed. The butcher, the baker, the tailor and carpenter have done all right too. Even the stock market is better but authorities will not say this is entirely due to the coming of the King and Queen.

Ancient Quebec City, first stop on the trail of the pioneering King and Queen, had a tourist business sixty-five per cent better than in May, 1938. F. D. Baril, director of the Provincial Tourist Bureau, who announced the increase, said it was due to the Royal visit.

It is too soon to give a detailed report for Canada at large but D. Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian Travel Bureau, has some interesting figures. Inquiries to the Bureau from January 1st to June 1st, increased eighty-six per cent compared with the same period last year.

Dolan said they came as a result of advertising but he considered the increase due in some measure to the Royal visit.

If you ask any border resident, he will tell you of the American influx. It reached its peak, perhaps, when Detroit's thousands streamed across the river to Windsor this week. Niagara Falls, where Their Majesties bade Canada a temporary farewell, was a repetition of Windsor. The Maritimes expect a record influx.

Intangible effect of the visit was summed up by Mrs. E. D. Hardy, of Ottawa, in her report to the annual convention of the National Council of Women at Hamilton, Ont. Mrs. Hardy, the corresponding secretary, said the visit served to unite Canada.

"These days of the Royal visit have meant much in forgetfulness of that which is petty and of that

DENY FRICTION IS ENDANGERING FAIR

New York, June 8.—(AP)—A complaint that labor troubles and friction with New York's World's Fair Corporation had "soured" foreign governments on United States Expositions was pronounced unjustified today by unions and by Grover Whalen, the Fair's president.

Dr. Neil Van Aken, president of the Foreign Government Commissioners' Club, predicted that "unless sentiment changes or special inducements are held out" foreign countries would refuse to participate a second year and would shun other American exhibitions until this one was forgotten.

"We know of no conditions that would justify such a statement as attributed to Mr. Van Aken," declared Whalen.

DEAF PERSONS SEE VOICES BY NEW RAY

Johannesburg, June 8. — (CP) — Through the invention of a South African, deaf persons may be able to see their voices and thus achieve correct pronounciation.

Mrs. Tikvar Alper, who spent several years in research work in American, calls her device a "thyration inflection developer." It reproduces voice inflections on a beam of light.

It is hoped the invention will reduce considerably the difficulty experienced in teaching mute children to regain use of their vocal cords.

Queen Mary, Recovered From Injury, Witnesses Traditional Ceremonies

London, June 8.—(CP-Cable)—Queen Mary, making her first appearance in public since she was injured in an automobile collision May 23rd, watched the Duke of Gloucester take the salute today at the two-centuries-old ceremony of the Trooping of the Color in the sun-baked Horseguards Parade.

The occasion was the official celebration in the United Kingdom of the King's birthday.

The Queen Mother was given an ovation by a vast throng as she drove across the Parade at St. James' Palace in a car with Princess Margaret Rose. The two entered a building beside the parade to watch through a window while the scarlet-coated guards, wearing their high busbies, marched past under sweltering skies in one of the world's most spectacular military ceremonies.

Queen Mary, dressed in grey, walked a little stiffly as she left Marlborough to drive to St. James'. A large crowd gathered outside her residence and waved to her as she drove past. She responded happily although she seemed to be still suffering sighty as a resut of the severe bruising she suffered in the collision two weeks ago.

She was reported extremely pleased to be able to attend the Trooping of the Color, held annually on the King's birthday, which she has not missed in almost half a century.

Most disappointed member of the Royal Family today was Princess Elizabeth, thirteen-year-old heir presumptive, who was forced to remain indoors with a slight cold while her younger sister and her grandmother went to St. James'. Princess Elizabeth has not left Buckingham Palace since June 5th, when she was driven to Marborough House to see Queen Mary.

The Duke of Gloucester formally took the salute on behalf of the King, who is in the United States following his Canadian tour. The Duke and Duchess of Kent and their young son, Prince Edward, looked on.

Although His Majesty's birthday is observed officially in the United Kingdom today, he will not be forty-four years, old until December 14th. The official birthday is marked annually in June because there is better weather.

(The Canadian celebration occurred May 20th, when the King took the salute at a Trooping of the Color ceremony in Ottawa.)

Royal Reception In United States Predominates British Newspapers

London, June 8.—(CP)—The United States' reception to King George and Queen Elizabeth shoved everything but stories of the hot weather off the display pages of many British newspapers today.

Headlines ranged from a breezy "Hi ya, King!" to the Times' dignified caption, "Crossing the Border; the King's Visit to Washington."

The Times brought out a thirty-two-page United States number, filled with pictures and articles on almost everything American, from contemporary literature to sports.

The Times said Britons would gain new insight into American life and noted that "the two Governments understand each other well enough and have no need to ask the King and President to interrupt the pleasures of social intercourse with business of state."

EXTRA HOLIDAY FOR HAMILTON YOUNGSTERS

Hamilton, Ont., June 8.—(CP)—By Royal command, Hamilton boys and girls had a holiday from school today.

The extra day's vacation was earned for all of them yesterday by 1,200 children who put on a gymnastic display which the King and Queen called "wonderful." His Majesty told Mayor William Morrison almost immediately to be sure the boys and girls got a "real good holiday."

The cheer that rang through civic stadium when the King's wish was made known resounded for moments. Then, as Their Majesties left to drive away, the 37,000 youngsters in the stands swelled the ovation.

Queen Elizabeth still was talking to the Mayor's wife about the demonstration when the Royal entourage reached the station at Hamilton Jockey Club.

"Really it was wonderful," she told Mrs. Morrison. "I've never seen anything like it."

At the little station five hundred persons tore down a fence to be close to Their Majesties when the Royal train pulled away.

Such enthusiasm had been carried all through the Royal visit of an hour and twenty-two minutes. More than 200,000 persons saw the King and Queen travel a five-mile route in their open maroon motor car. Many of them had waited all night and others had paid as high as three dollars for grandstand seats for the procession.

The King and Queen sent their greetings "To all the veterans of Hamilton" through William Kay, a veteran of the fighting at Gallipoli.

DEATH REMOVES C. C. HUNTING AT LENNOXVILLE

Native of Huntingville Died Yesterday at Sherbrooke Hospital at Age of Forty-Nine Years.

Death yesterday claimed one of Lennoxville's highly esteemed businessmen, Clarence Cecil Hunting, who was born at Huntingville and lived all his life in and around Lennoxville. He passed away at the Sherbrooke Hospital at the age of 49 years, after a short illness.

A well-known figure in the Eastern Townships, he owned a jewellery store on Main street for some eight years, until a few years ago, when he opened a shop at the rear of his late residence on Academy street, where he manufactured jewellery. Admired and respected for his splendid qualities and characteristics, Mr. Hunting gathered about him a host of friends and acquaintances and his death will be keenly felt by all who were privileged to know him

Born at Huntingville, May 17th, 1890, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Hunting, he received his education at the Sherbrooke High School, and then entered the Peerless Jewellery Factory, where he was employed for sixteen years.

On September 21st, 1911, he was united in marriage to Miss Florence Bennett, daughter of George Bennett and Ellen Parsons, of Canterbury, Que., the marriage taking place at the home of the bride's parents. Of this union there were four children, all surviving: Carmen, (Mrs. George Hopper), Gordon, Ashley and Marguerite, all of Lennoxville.

After his marriage, Mr. Hunting started in the jewellery business in Lennoxville, when he opened a store on Main street, where he remained for some eight years, after which he opened a small jewellery factory at the rear of his home.

Mr. Hunting was a member of the Masonic Lodge, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and a past member of the Rebekah Lodge, and he carried out the high ideals of these orders in his life. He was also a member of St. George's Church, and the Lennoxville Band.

He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his widow, his four children, Mrs. George Hopper, Gordon, Ashley and Marguerite, all of Lennoxville, and two grandchildren, Eleanor and Arthur Hopper, of Lennoxville. His father predeceased him several years ago.

Funeral services will take place on Friday afternoon. Following family prayers at his late residence on Academy street, a Masonic funeral service will be held at St. George's Church, Lennoxville, at two-thirty o'clock, the Venerable Archdeacon Albert Jones officiating. Interment will take place in Malvern Cemetery.

SUIT BASED ON FAIR WAGE ACT UPHELD

Basing his case on the provisions of the Fair Wage Act governing minimum salaries for truckers, Antonio Valliere, of Sherbrooke, sued for $116 which he claimed from B. Steinberg, also of Sherbrooke, and was awarded that amount this morning by Mr. Justice White in a Superior Court judgment.

Valliere alleged he had made several trips to Montreal and other points for Steinberg and that the latter refused to pay him wages as stipulated by the recent labor legislation.

COURT RULING DENIES RIGHT TO SEIZE CAR

Local Automobile Firm, Proprietors of Repair Shop and Residents of Chesham County Involved in Legal Dispute Settled this Morning.

An attempt to put a seizure on an automobile that was already being held for non-payment of a repair bill was blocked by a Superior Court ruling this morning when Mr. Justice C. D. White dismissed the suit in which Morissette's Limited took action against the local firm of Castonguay and Veronneau and named three residents of Chesham County as mis-en-caues.

According to the attorney for Morissette's the mis-en-cause, Henri, Donat and Herve Blais bought a Dodge sedan for which they contracted to pay a monthly installment of forty-seven dollars until the automobile was completely theirs. It was further alleged that the mis-en-cause failed to live up to the terms of their agreement and defaulted in payment.

When the agent for the Morissette company attempted to take repossession of the car for his firm he was informed the vehicle was in the hands of the defendants, Veronneau and Castonguay, who had made extensive repairs after an accident. The defendants, however, would not give up the car until their repair bill had been settled so that the Morissette company asked for permission to seize.

Mr. Justice White decided that the defendants were justified in holding the Blais car and dismissed the action with costs.

ELLIOTT DECLINES TO CONTEST RIDING

Strathroy, Ont., June 8.—(CP)—Hon. J. C. Elliott, Liberal Member of Parliament for Middlesex West, informed the riding's Liberal Association in a letter last night that he would not be a candiate in the next Federal election. Mr. Elliott was forced to resign as Postmaster-General last year because of ill health.

Member of the House of Commons for the past fourteen years, Mr. Elliott was a Member of the Ontario Legislature before that.

WEST SUTTON

Miss Vivian Darby closed her school here Wednesday, May 31, when a picnic was held. Lunch was served and games played. Miss Darby presented the scholars with remembrances and gave a book to those ranking first in their grade. The scholars gave their teacher several nice gifts. Miss Darby has returned to her home in Farnham for the summer holidays.

Several from here attended the wedding reception for Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Chalifoux, which was held in Shepard's Hall, Selby Lake, Saturday evening.

NORTH HATLEY

June 12th has been proclaimed a civic holiday to allow citizens the opportunity of witnessing the Royal visit at Sherbrooke. Special train leaving North Hatley at 10.01 a.m. D.S.T. returning at 3 p.m. D.S.T. from Sherbrooke.

BROOKBURY

Dance, June 9. James' Orchestra.

Sherbrooke Is First Royal Party Stop On Return From U.S.

Now in the United States as Canada surrenders them for four days, the King and Queen have taken with them heart-warming memories of a tour across the Dominion in which ovation has followed ovation and a tour which proves to them and the rest of the world, beyond any shadow of a doubt, that Canada and Canadians stand firm and loyal behind the British Empire and its sovereigns.

When they return to Canadian soil on Monday, the first stop of any length the Royal train will make will be at Sherbrooke, where for a scheduled forty-minute period they will receive the homage of the thousands expected here.

Although the burnished Royal train will halt for servicing before reaching here after crossing the boder—one of the stops being slated for St. Johns—Sherbrooke will be the first city on this part of the tour to receive Their Majesties for any length of time.

Immediate forerunners of the Royal visit, two specially-built Royal automobiles will arrive here on Saturday, in these the King and Queen and members of the Royal party will drive through Sherbrooke streets.

Clicking telegraph wires and the voice of a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation announcer will describe to the world the arrival and reception for the King and Queen when they reach here. Ten wires will be installed at the Canadian Pacific station for the press and radio sending equipment will be set up.

Sherbrooke is the most important centre in which Their Majesties will stop on their final swing through Quebec. Three days after leaving here, Their Majesties will step aboard the Empress of Britain at Halifax for the return voyage to England, after nearly a month of almost steady travelling.

King George Honors Officers Charged With Canadian Tour

which tends to divide and destroy," she said. "We have been elevated to something higher and better."

W. McL. Clarke, of Montreal, secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, spoke in similar vein to a Montreal gathering. He said that Canada might expect beneficial results. The visit would cement the bonds of Empire and Anglo-American relations, allay "provincial strife" and "little Canadianism" through realization of a far more important obligation and more spontaneous and permanent loyalty.

HATLEY

An amateur evening sponsored by the Anglican Young People's Society was quite successful and was enjoyed by all present. Mr. Malcolm Gilbert very capably filled the role of "Major Bowes" and his questioning of each candidate brought forth much fun and laughter. Among those taking part were Marion Bowen and Dorothy Emery in a vocal duet: Patsy Pidduck and Ruth Bowen, song; Marion Eickmeier, recitation; James Townsend, song; Arlie Curtis, accordion solo; John and Irene Lavers, of Ayer's Cliff and Archie Neilson, of Waterville, song with guitar accompaniment; violin and tap dancing by M. Lavoie. The entertainment opened with the singing of "O Canada," and community singing was enjoyed between the acts. Candy was sold by members of the A.Y.P.A.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foote were in Coaticook for a day.

Mr. Hugh McClary has purchased the farm belonging to Mr. Irving Haines and will take possession in July. Mr. Haines will move his family into the house on Meadow street now occupied by Mr. Sam Morse and family and by Mrs. M. G. Pellerin and son, Roger.

Mrs. Wesley Reed, formerly Mrs. Lillian Swailes, who has spent most of the last two years at the home of Mr. E. A. Hodges, has gone to her new home in North Hatley. The good wishes of her many friends here go with her.

Mr. Frank Davison, of Montreal, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foote and of Mr. E. A. Hodges.

Miss Helen Embury, of Magog, accompanied Miss Helen Ayer to her home for a week-end.

Miss Margaret Moulton accompanied Miss Marguerite MacNaughton and Miss Thelma Kezar, of North Hatley, to Newport, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foote were in Sherbrooke and called on Mr. Henry Haines at the Sherbrooke Hospital. They were pleased to find him improved.

Mrs. Harriet Ayer, the Misses Alice and Helen Ayer and their guest, Miss Embury and Mr. Homer Ayer, drove to Stanstead to attend the Baccalaureate Services there.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Haseltine and little daughter, of Moe's River, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McClary.

An accident occurred when a car driven by Mr. William Whitcomb's hired man struck Mr. Gerald Haseltine's automobile damaging it considerably. Fortunately no one was hurt.

Miss Ruth Hartwell is assisting Mrs. Henry Snow at Coaticook at present. The friends of Mr. Snow will be glad to know he is improving.

NEW MODERATOR IS SELECTED BY PRESBYTERIANS

Rev. Stuart C. Parker, D.D., of Toronto, Given Acclamation at General Assembly of Presbyterian Church at Midland.

Midland, Ont., June 8.—(CP)— In the first acclamation since 1931 Rev. Stuart C. Parker of St. Andrew's Church, Toronto, was elected Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church here last night.

Two others had been nominated, Rev. Dr. S. Banks Nelson of Hamilton and Rev. James McKay of London, but both withdrew in favor of Rev. Dr. Parker.

Circumstances today kept him from looking on the Moderatorship as purely an honor, the new Moderator told the Assembly. "It is rather a job and an honor, but primarily a job, and its magnitude is only revealed when the moderator has ceased technically to exist — that is, when the assembly has risen.

"A great deal has to be done, and I thank you for believing that I am willing to do it."

The assembly voted thanks to Rev. Dr. Hugh Munroe of New Glasgow, N.S., who had acted as Moderator since the death of Dr. Donald MacOdrum, who was elected at the last assembly and died a short time after his appointment.

JAPS' FLOUR BAGS IN CHINESE PANTS

Melbourne, Australia, June 8.—(CP)—Japan may not know it, but for months she has been helping to provide the Chinese with trousers. Many of Australia's calico flour bags come from Japan and when they are filled some go to China. Emptied, they are made by the Chinese into pants, and the fact that "Best Australian" is stencilled boldly across the seats is a minor detail for the wearers. It is estimated that a consignment for Tientsin this month will clothe, at least partially, 432,750 Chinese.

BRIGHT COMEDY PRESENTED AT ST. ANDREW'S

Scotstown Players Delighted Sherbrookers in Performance of "Simple Simon Simple," at St. Andrew's Church Hall Last Evening.

Under the auspices of St. Andrew's Auxiliary, Scotstown players staged "Simple Simon Simple," in enjoyabe three-act comedy, in St. Andrew's hall last evening.

Simple Simon Simple, inventor of an automatic hot water system and other gadgets, was well played by Alexander Morrison, his favorite expression being "everything will be peaches and cream."

His wife, Sophie, excellently portrayed by Mrs. F. C. Goodin, was seemingly getting tired of hearing him repeat his slogan, although in the end everything turns out right.

Sally Ann, the maid, who was always giggling and bickering at the boarder, Minerva Webb, was amusingly interpreted by Mrs. K. MacLeod, while the old maid boarder, Minerva, was characteristically portrayed by Mrs. Dewan Scott.

Thankful Barlow, the hotelkeeper and the object of Minerva's undying devotion, was in the capable hands of Lyman Tomkins.

Hazel Hawkins, sweetheart of the inventor's son, Sammy, was played in a pleasing manner by Roberta Scott.

Hazel was a great radio fan and won $1,000 for a slogan on "Simple Suds."

The comedy in the plot is associated with Elwood Elkins, a young chap who tried to make good as a soda clerk in the city where he is good friends with Dorothea Duckworth, although really in love with Stella Simple, a girl in his own home town.

Stella was played by Mary Platt and Elwood by Mickey Goodin.

Between acts, Douglas Spaulding and Len MacIver contributed several piano selections and candy was sold under the supervision of Mrs. J. Sawyer.

ACTION FOR $105 IN COMMISSION ON SALE WAS DISMISSED

A suit instituted by Joseph V. Ames, local real estate agent, in which he claimed ten per cent interest for sale of a property at $2,050 was set aside this morning in one of the judgments handed down by Mr. Justice C. D. White.

Ames had claimed he had the option for negotiation of the property deal and that E. C. Gatien, owner of the land, had completed the transaction in violation of this contract. Mr. Justice White allowed Gatien's plea that he, himself, had reserved the right to sell the property to the Congregation of Notre Dame and that Ames was empowered to look for other customers.

NEW CONFERENCE IS PLANNED IN AFRICA

Johannesburg, June 8.—(CP)—The Transvaal Publicity Conference has come up with a new one. It will meet this year in the middle of Kruger National Park, famous wild animal sanctuary.

The conference room will have no walls, only "safari" chairs and rough tables. The spot chosen is a favorite rendezvous for lions, and armed wardens will sit guard over delegates and newspapermen.

Order Copies Of Royal Edition Number In Advance

Record readers desirous of securing extra copies of the Royal Visit souvenir number, to be published on Monday next, are advised to send in advance orders.

Delivery of papers on Monday will be decidedly difficult, and people who are planning on being in Sherbrooke may not find it convenient to secure their copies.

Already a large number of orders for copies have been received. The number of extra papers will be limited. So order early.

COMPLETING ROYAL VISIT PREPARATIONS

Police Take Precautions To Safeguard Their Majesties

Royal Canadian Mounted Police Will Patrol Railway Yards and Overhead Bridges—Mentally Deranged to Be Held in Custody During Royal Visit—Provincial Police Will Check Hotels Sunday—500 Special Police to Be on Duty.

Determined to take every possible precaution to safeguard the King and Queen while they are in Sherbrooke on Monday next, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Provincial Police, Canadian Pacific Railway officers and the local Police Department, augmented by some five hundred special constables taken from various organizations and societies, will work hand in hand during the Royal visit to eradicate all possibility of any untoward incident.

A detachment of approximately fifty Royal Canadian Mounted Police, eight of them mounted on motorcycles, will be here on Monday. Chief duty of the Mounties will be to patrol the Canadian Pacific station yards where Their Majesties will arrive and the two overhead bridges under which the Royal Couple will pass. One of these is on Galt street, on the Royal route, and the other on Belvidere street, under which the Royal train will pass when it leaves Sherbrooke.

In these duties the Mounties will be assisted by officers of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

After leaving this city, the blue and silver Royal train will stop for five minutes at Leeds Station to take on water and here twelve Mounted Police will be stationed. From four to six others will be sent to East Angus, where the train will slow to a crawl while the King and Queen appear on the platform. Their Majesties graciously consented to make this appearance after receiving a petition signed by the Mayors of eight municipalities and some fifteen hundred school children.

In co-operation with local police, the Mounties have checked on all local residents suspected of being mentally deranged. These will be held in custody while the King and Queen are in the city. Today members of the Sherbrooke R.C.M.P. detachment are making a survey of the entire district for the same purpose.

On Sunday Provincial Police will make a last-minute check of all local hotels in order to determine if those registered are able to give good accounts of themselves. If their explanations are unsatisfactory, they will be hustled from the city.

Proprietors of grandstands along the Royal routes report to the Mounted Police the names of those to whom tickets are sold if they are not familiar with the purchaser. These persons are investigated by the Mounties.

Before the Royal procession starts to wind through the city streets a two-way radio scout car, furnished by the Canadian Marconi Company, will patrol along the route to determine that all arrangements are in order. In this car will be Sergeant James Lemieux, in charge of the local R.C.M.P. detachment, Sub-Inspector Edmond Larramee, of the local Provincial Police branch, and Lieutenant Omer Daudelin, of the municipal police force. The scout car is the same one that was used in Montreal for a similar duty.

As soon as the last train preceding the Royal train arrives in Sherbrooke, at 10.50 a.m. E.S.T., the passengers will be taken from the depot in taxis which will be available for that purpose and all waiting rooms will be cleared.

Fifty motorcycle-mounted Provincial Police will be sent to Sherbrooke for duty and it is expected that fifty others, not mounted, will assist along the Royal route. In addition to these, the local police force will be augmented by an officer and twenty men from Verdun, thirty chiefs and constables from various centres in the Eastern Townships, such as Magog, Drummondville, Granby, etc., a detachment of 150 Legion of Frontiersmen from Sherbrooke, Magog, Cowansville, Shawinigar Falls, Montreal and Three Rivers, and five hundred special police drawn from various organizations. Including the local force and the special police, approximately 950 police will be on duty in Sherbrooke on Monday.

Chief duties of police other than Mounties will be to control traffic, keep over-enthusiastic citizen from spilling off the sidewalks onto the streets along the Royal route, to prevent others from climbing trees or telegraph poles, watch out for overcrowding of balconies and attend to the numerous details in connection with such an event.

Special police will be wearing red arm bands denoting their capacity, but will have no authority to make arrests. In case an arrest is necessary, it will be made by a permanent force officer.

Tonight at eight o'clock the special police will meet at Police Headquarters on Marquette street at eight o'clock for final instructions. Captain Percy Donahue has requested that an additional hun-

DAMAGES WERE AWARDED FOR FALSE ARREST

J. A. Paris, Who Originally Claimed $5,000, Receives Fifty Dollars in Superior Court Judgment.

Arrested four years ago by the Sherbrooke police, J. A. Paris, Ascot Road, just outside the city limits, fyled suit in the local Superior Court for $5,000 claiming he had been detained illegally and this morning was awarded fifty dollars by Mr. Justice C. D. White, who heard the case.

Paris alleged, during hearing of the action, that late at night on May 1st, 1930, he was abruptly awakened by two officers of the local force who brought him to the police station. There, he added, the policemen refused to let him call a lawyer and would not release him until he had deposited twelve dollars as a bond.

Plea of the attorney for the City of Sherbrooke was that the officers had acted in good faith when they went to Paris' home on receiving the complaint and that it was not through malice that they had arrested the plaintiff.

Mr. Justice White, in a review of the evidence, upheld the contention of Paris that the arrest had been illegal and based his decision on the fact that police had overstepped their jurisdiction in apprehending the plaintiff outside the city limits and without a warrant. He stated, however, that the damages incurred by Paris had been very slight and ruled fifty dollars be awarded as compensation.

MRS. HARRISON IS TEMPERANCE SOCIETY HEAD

Elected President of Sherbrooke County W.C.T.U. at Fortieth Annual Congress Held in Wesley Hall.

Members and friends of the Sherbrooke County Women's Christian Temperance Union met yesterday for their fortieth annual convention in Wesley Hall, Trinity United Church.

Mrs. M. E. McCurdy, of Lennoxville, county president, was in the chair and in the absence of the Evangelistic superintendent, took charge of the devotional period, opening with the hymn, "Lead On O King Eternal," Mrs. W. H. Abbot, Lennoxville, acting as accompanist.

The treasurer's report by Mrs. W. H. Abbott showed that all obligation had been met.

The corresponding secretary's report by Mrs. W. A. Henderson, Huntingville, showed an increase in membership.

Mrs. S. A. Jones, president of the Sherbrooke Union, gave the address of welcome, which was replied to by Mrs. E. A. Orr, of Milby.

The reports of the county superintendents were then heard.

The Sunday School report, given by Mrs. E. A. Orr, of Milby, was most encouraging.

In the recent educational campaign many children throughout the county wrote papers and were awarded several provincial and one national prize.

The Flower Mission report by Mrs. R. L. Lipsey, of Lennoxville, showed that much cheer in the way of flowers, fruit and reading material had been spread among the sick and shut-ins and that many needy have received aid.

Additional reports included, scientific temperance, by Mrs. W. J. Beattie, Milby; comfort bags, Mrs. H. C. Banfill, Milby; temperance in W.M.S., Mrs. F. R. Matthews, Lennoxville; L.T.L., Mrs. E. Harrison, Huntingville; literature, Mrs. Roy Suitor, Milby; franchise, press and legislation, Mrs. Ethel L. Seale, Lennoxville; social, Mrs. Ingham, Huntingville; medal contest, Mrs. E. Emerson, Sherbrooke.

The meeting was then adjourned. At noon a delicious lunch was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Trinity Church, Rev. Canon McGee, of St. Patrick's Church, guest speaker at the lunch hour, was introduced by the president, Mrs. M. E. McCurdy.

In his address on the "Importance of the Temperance Cause," Canon McGee stressed the responsibility of the professional man and the parent in combatting the menace of the liquor traffic.

Mrs. McCurdy thanked Canon McGee for his splendid and inspiring address to which all had listened with interest.

"Eternal Life" was the theme of the memorial service conducted by Mrs. W. H. Abbott, Lennoxville, which opened the afternoon session. The hymn, "The Sands of Time," was sung, Mrs. W. G. Cross, of Sherbrooke, acting as accompanist.

"The White Ribbon Tidings" superintendent, Mrs. L. W. Smith, Lennoxville, gave her report.

The election of officers then took place resulting as follows: President, Mrs. E. J. Harrison, Huntingville; first vice-president, Mrs. L. W. Smith, Lennoxville;; second vice-president, Mrs. M. E. McCurdy, Lennoxville; treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Abbott, Lennoxville; recording secretary, Mrs. W. T. Evans, Milby; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. H. Henderson, Huntingville.

Superintendents: Sunday School Campaign, Mrs. P. Pergau, Lennoxville; scientific temperance, Mrs. W. J. Beattie, Milby; evangelistic, Mrs. H. L. M. Vaudry, Lennoxville; comfort bags, Mrs. H. C. Banfill, Milby; franchise legislation and press, Mrs. Ethel L. Seale, Lennoxville; social meetings, Mrs. Ingham, Hunting-

Increase Noted In Consumption Of Domestic, Commercial Electricity

A fairly sharp increase in consumption of domestic and commercial electricity last month compared with the corresponding period last year was indicated today in comparative statistics issued by City Treasurer Maurice Cormier. The past month's returns from this department amounted to $26,981.67 compared with $23,584.45 in May last year and $21,769.09 in April of this year. Industrial consumption was down, however, at $17,838.78 as against $21,515.68 in the same month of 1938.

Returns from licenses amounted to $15,586.65 compared with $3,430.19 in April and $13,289.45 in the same month last year. A sharp jump was noted in amusement tax collections at $2,359.23. In April they totalled $1,764.08 and in May last year $1,963.41.

Comparative statistics as issued by Mr. Cormier today follow:

LENNOXVILLE GUILD HELD A TEA AND SALE

Successful Event Took Place Yesterday Afternoon Under Auspices of St. George's Church Group.

The lower hall of St. George's Church, Lennoxville, was bedecked in Royal decorations yesterday afternoon for the successful tea and sale under the auspices of the Parish Guild of St. George's Church, which was held in commemoration of the Royal visit to Sherbrooke on Monday.

Mrs. Thomas D. Bazer, president of the Guild, and Mrs. Albert Jones received the many guests. Red, white and blue festoonings decorated the pillars and booths, while flags and pictures of the Royal couple hung between Union Jacks on the walls. Menu cards decorated with Union Jacks, on the tea tables, listed the dainty refreshments, and even the plates of cakes had perky flags in the centre of each. Those serving wore crepe paper aprons of the three colors. Flowers on the tea table, presided over by Mrs. W. A. Page and Mrs. William Stacey, also blended into the scheme, and were red tulips, white lilacs and blue nolomium, in a large silver basket. Silk streamers of red, white and blue crossed the white tablecloth, and four silver holders of tall decorated tapers, with the gleaming silver services, completed the attractive arrangement. Vases of the same flowers adorned the smaller tables. Mrs. Clifford Waite and Mrs. J. E. Bellam acted as joint convenors of the tea, and it is very largely due to their tireless efforts that the event was such an enjoyable and successful one, while Mrs. Clifford Waite was responsible for the effective decorations.

Mrs. Waite and Mrs. Bellam were assisted in the kitchen by Mrs. W. H. Hartley. Those assisting were Mrs. Edward Crawford, Mrs. Gordon Pegg and the Misses Ada Hartley, Audrey Bellam, Virginia Leach and Marjorie Waite.

Mrs. E. J. Tapp and Mrs. Maude Morgan served the ice cream and Mrs. M. Roberts acted as treasurer.

Those in charge of the booths, which held attractive articles, plants, flowers and home cooked delicacies were: Plants and flowers, Mrs. E. L. Atto and Mrs. W. H. Fisher; fancy work, Mrs. Maude Mills Mrs. Edward Deacon and Mrs. Frank Spry; aprons, Miss Beatrice Everett; home-cooked food, Mrs. E. Burbridge and Mrs. Andrew Merrill.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Arthur McKindsey, and Miss Doris Ray won the patchwork quilt.

INVITATION RECEIVED

An invitation from the Independent Order of Odd Fellows at Coaticook to join with them Sunday in a church parade and the decorating of the graves of deceased Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, was received by Myrtle Rebekah Lodge No. 28 at their regular semi-monthly meeting with Sister Clarice Ferguson in the chair.

A sum of money was voted towards the upkeep of the Lennox-

Brompton Road Crash Victim Awarded Damages Of $2,577

Accident in Which Roland Roy, of Sherbrooke, Lost Leg Has Aftermath in Superior Court Judgment — Defendant, Rosario Blais, of Sherbrooke, Originally Sued for $7,827.

Responsibility for an accident in which seventeen-year-old Roland Roy lost his leg was set in a judgment handed down this morning in Superior Court where Mr. Justice C. D. White ordered Rosario Blais, of Sherbrooke, to pay $2,577 to Joseph Roy, of Sherbrooke, father and tutor of the victim of a collision on the Brompton Road.

Circumstances of the mishap leading up to the legal action in which $7,827 was originally claimed were as follows: R. Roy was one of a group of about twenty young people who were driving in a double sleigh towards Bromptonville where they intended attending Midnight Mass. About a mile from Sherbrooke, Blais' car crashed into the back of the horse-drawn vehicle and young Roy, who was riding on the rear runner of the sleigh, was thrown to the ground with injuries that eventually resulted in amputation of one leg.

In attempting to fix all the blame for the accident on Blais, Roy's father alleged the defendant was going along at an excessive rate of speed and that, since all in the sleigh were singing, he must have heard the party. With proper care the crash could have been averted, he claimed, since it occurred on a smooth stretch of the highway. Roy asked $827 for medical expenses and $7,000 in his quality of tutor of Roland.

Plea of defendant was that he was only going twenty-five miles an hour and that the driver of the sleigh, one Oliva Desrochers, was driving in the middle of the road without any light. He stated Roland Roy would not have been hurt had he not been riding on the runner of the overcrowded vehicle.

Ruling it had been proven the speed of defendant's car was excessive in view of the darkness of the night and falling snow, Mr. Justice White allowed the contention of the plaintiff that the accident might have been averted with proper care. He declared, on the other hand, that young Roy was also at fault in riding on the rear runner of the sleigh, and, while granting the amount asked for medical expenses ($827), reduced the claim for damages to $1,750.

CROWN OF STUART FOR ARTIST JOHN

London, Eng., June 8.—(AP)—For merit and his consistent services to art, Augustus John has been awarded the Order of the Crown of Stuart. RAILWAY BIRTHDAY PARTY

Indianapolis, June 8.—(AP)—Five-year-old Sandra Sparks had a birthday party on a passenger train. The Monon Railroad carried Sandra's twenty-five little guests from an outlying station into Indianapolis and back again before making its Chicago run. The children ate ice cream and cake in the diner, all by special arrangement. Sandra's mother made with the passenger agent.

DAMAGES ARE AWARDED FOR STREET COLLISION IN ASBESTOS

Alfred Paradis, of Asbestos, was this morning awarded $126.16 in a Superior Court judgment of the action instituted against Daniel Jourdain, also of Asbestos, as the aftermath to a collision that took place at the intersection of Noel and du Pont streets in Asbestos.

Mr. Justice C. D. White, who presided over the case, stated it had been proven that the defendant had failed to stop at a stop sign placed at the intersection and was thus responsible for the damage to Paradis' car.

FOOD GROWS SCARCER IN REICH

Compelled by their leaders to accept the use of the international exchange in buying the raw materials necessary for the manufacture of armaments instead of purchasing foodstuffs, having chosen guns rather than butter, the people of Germany will also have their strawberries this year without cream, as according to a recent decree of the Agricultural Ministry, all cream produced in the country must be used for the manufacture of butter.

This will be nothing new for the German housekeeper, as milk, butter, eggs, meat, coffee and fresh fruits have been scarce for a long period of time, but some relaxation of the restrictions had been expected. The turning of the cream into butter is expected to bring little relief, for at the best of times allotment of butter is only one-third of a pound a week for each member of the family, and lucky, indeed, is the household which gets half a dozen eggs for the week. Housewives stand in queues twice a week before butcher shops to purchase their meagre rations of meat, although oranges, which have been scare for a long time, are now arriving from Spain as instalments on the Spanish war debt to Germany.

Far from self-sufficient in the production of many essential foodstuffs, Germany finds its problems aggravated by the need of diverting much of its inadequate supplies into storage against the possibility of war when the need would be even greater.

The system tends to encourage automobilists to make bootleg purchases in the country, despite the fact that unauthorized sales and purchases are punishable by heavy fines, thus making the farmers somewhat cautious. The fact that extensive "bootleg" sales are being made suggests the difficulty of keeping a whole people up to the unnatural pitch of enthusiasm when the individual will bend willingly all his desires and inclinations to the alleged benefit of the state.

A REASONED OPINION

In marked contrast to the attitude of certain Ontario newspapers, who see in the maintenance of the so-called Padlock Law by the Chief Justice of Quebec the first major step in the establishment of a Fascist regime, is the judgment of the Vancouver Sun, which believes the matter is one of local concern which can best be settled by the electors of the Province. Commenting on the judgment, the Sun says:

Quebec's famous "Padlock Law," aimed against the activities of Communists, has been upheld as intra vires by Chief Justice R. A. E. Greenshields of that province.

The Chief Justice found the law to be properly enacted as a measure to protect Quebec against Communist propaganda. He saw in it no conflict with any principle of British liberty or with any provisions of the Criminal Code.

Like many another regulation, this "Padlock Law" could be abused. But so far as the rest of Canada is concerned, the repercussions against it have neither been numerous nor serious.

It is Quebec's Latin way of dealing with the alleged menace of Communism, and why should British Columbia, for instance object to the methods another province chooses to employ?

It is rather straining the point to suggest that this is censorship in any practical form.

Certainly the people of Quebec do not seem to regard the measure as any great infringement of rights, and no incident has yet been presented of a politician being arrested for becoming uncomplimentary as to the qualities of the cabinet ministers. And the invective in Quebec sometimes becomes rather strong.

HITLER AND YUGOSLAVIA

While Adolf Hitler is boldly presenting his recently-signed peace pledge to Yugoslavia as an important counterblast to the supposed democratic "encirclement" of Germany, it is doubtful if Prince Paul, the regent of Yugoslavia, is nearly as happy about the whole affair. Prince Paul is a shrewd individual and he probably realizes the promise of Nazi Germany at its true worth.

Unfortunately, the position occupied by Prince Paul is one of utmost difficulty, for little doubt exists that he would much rather have been included in the scope of the Anglo-French front and accepted the guarantees of these two nations. But Yugoslavia is too vulnerable both within and without for him to dare accept them. Refusal to accept the German advances would probably have witnessed a concerted German effort to stir up trouble among the malcontent Croats, Slovenes, Hungarians and Germans who are citizens of the Yugoslav state. The country is also wide open to attack from the outside on the part of Italy along the Adriatic coast and by Germany along the north-eastern border.

The only satisfaction that Prince Paul may derive from Hitler's pledge is the possibility that it might permit his country to remain neutral in the event of war between the Central powers and members of the Peace Front. But past events have indicated that the neutrality will only be respected as long as it suits Germany's purpose to respect it. Fully cognizant of this fact, the Prince Regent of Yugoslavia must receive cold comfort from the very, very kind but meaningless words of the German Fuehrer.

THE REGIONAL LIBRARY

The formation of the Eastern Townships Library Association should prove an important assistance in developing the local libraries throughout the district, providing, as it will, a book pool through which local institutions can have access to many books from which they would be otherwise barred.

Throughout the Eastern Townships there are many local libraries, but many of these find their financial resources insufficient to cope with the ever-increasing flow of new books which appear daily. Under the book pool scheme, such as would be operated by the Eastern Townships Association, co-operative purchasing would be undertaken while the exchange of books between the libraries belonging to the Association would substantially benefit each member.

A library in a general way and from an educational point of view is a device which places at the disposal of individuals far more books than they could ever hope to own, and no system of adult education can be carried out without a properly equipped library. The need of a library in a rural community is obviously greater than in the urban centres, where other means of education are available besides books, while at the same time the resources of the people are less able to bear the burden. This makes the formation of a central association especially necessary.

The Eastern Townships Library Association gets away under strong auspices, no less than eleven libraries being members while the slate of officers is proof enough of the standing it enjoys with the reading public of the district.

It is to be sincerely hoped that the new Association will do much to improve the already excellent institutions which operate in the district.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.

June 8th, 1909.

Fast driving and not blowing horn in turning corners was the charge made against eight automobile owners of this city today when summoned by J. F. Morkill, Collector of Provincial Revenue. The offences are said to have occurred at the corner of Dufferin avenue and Wellington street.

While working in his garden recently, D. F. Davis, of Beebe Junction, unearthed a large cannon ball.

Preparations are well under way for the annual conference of the Advent Church, Sutton. Several clergymen and visitors from out-of-town are expected to be present.

An interesting session of the Ladies' Aid of Ayer's Cliff was held this week at the home of Mrs. Bangs. Among the topics discussed was a watering trough or a fountain to be placed in the centre of the village.

A. Kent was appointed president of the Granby Curling Club at a meeting held in the Council room this week. Other officials elected were as follows: Vice-President, William Gould; Secretary, J. L. Dozois; Treasurer, C. S. B. Holpin; Ice Committee, Messrs. J. B. Payne, William Miner and William Topp.

Social Notes:—Miss L. J. Sampson, of Montreal, is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Col. and Mrs. R. J. Spearing, Melbourne street; Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Turner, of Cherry River, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Turner, Court street; Rev. A. E. Sanderson has completed his cottage "Uneeda Rest" at Ayer's Cliff and will move there shortly.

LOYALTY

Not to be blind to the wrongs there be,
Not just waving a flag;
But gently, with courage, eagerly see
That doing one's best is Loyalty.

If we see one wrong, then do one right;
From deepest gloom must follow light.
To examine one's soul, to examine one's friends,
To examine one's country, these be the ends of Loyalty.

May we purge our hearts,
May we help our friends,
May we lead our country
To honored ends, with Loyalty.

—Jessica Money.

FOREIGN PRESS

A WORLD TOUR

(Detroit Free Press)

The story is strictly unofficial, and it may be little more than rumor, nevertheless there is much that is highly interesting in the story from Ottawa which says that King George and Queen Elizabeth are considering the advisability of making a big "swing around the circle" in order to visit all the "dominions beyond the seas" over which they reign as sovereigns.

If their Majesties actually are thinking about such a trip, something admittedly will depend upon the general condition of the European continent with relation to peace and war. And there is a possibility too that something may depend upon the final success of the present visit to the Kingdom of Canada.

Meanwhile, there is a warm appeal to the imagination in the thought of a globe-encircling progress by the two sovereigns in order to visit their capitals in the several kingdoms voluntarily owing allegiance to them, and in order to perform acts of kingship in the several capitals.

The World never has seen a royal progress on such a scale, or over such distances, or under such conditions as would be present.

And the cementing effect of it on the British Commonwealth of Nations, might be very great.

MR. PADEREWSKI'S PRINCIPLES

(New York Sun)

With courteous firmness Ignace Jan Paderewski has declined to accept the box office receipts for the concert he was not able to give on Thursday night, a sum that many ticket buyers believed might be paid to him if patrons refused to claim refunds and authorized them to be transferred to the maestro. The suggestion originated in the admiration and affection in which Paderewski is held; the declination was in accord with a ruling principle of his life. In "The Paderewski Memoirs" (Charles Scribner's Sons, 1938) by Mr. Paderewski and Mary Lawton, it is related that in May, 1889, a tour in Holland was proposed to the pianist. He accepted and:

On our way to Holland we stopped at Rheims and played in the circus there because there was no other hall available. There was a very poor attendance, first, because Rheims is a very small place, and secondly, because it was too late, and thirdly, because we played in a circus.

So, as I've just said, the attendance was poor. The impresario commented upon this and seemed disappointed, but said, "Never mind, I have an envelope here with your fee, and I beg you to accept it now."

"Oh," I replied, "this concert was not a success, the audience was very small. I cannot accept that fee. I must first look at the receipts. Have you got them?"

"No, not yet," he answered. "The receipts are not yet prepared. You will have them tomorrow morning."

"Then tomorrow morning," I said, "we will decide about my fee, because I never accept money which I have not earned."

That has been throughout my whole career a principle that I have never changed.

Half a century has passed since that incident in Rheims. Many things have changed in that long period—but Mr. Paderewski's ruling principles have not changed.

WEARERS OF MODERN GLASS SLIPPERS

(New York Herald)

The five most famous women in the world were five years old on Sunday, receiving — without knowing too much about it—the presents and plaudits of their enormous "public." Within their brief span of life they have kissed a queen and pulled the buttons of a king's uniform; they have starred in the "movies" and indorsed innumerable nationally advertised products; they have founded a minor but flourishing industry and rescued a fairish section of rural Ontario from the depression; they have received a million doting visitors and accumulated a competence of around $150,000 apiece, besides currently maintaining themselves in a sumptuous style of living with an almost royal entourage; they have also engaged the serious attention of the government of an important nation, while around their five pretty little heads there have swirled the storms of factional controversy, personal ambition and political manoeuvre. It is a modern fairy tale, and it is all much more fantastic (and in some aspects not quite so pleasant, perhaps) than anything in the imaginary creations of the story books.

Both literally and figuratively they are creations of today. Only modern medicine kept them alive and modern dietic knoweldge enabled them to grow. Only the intricate mesh of modern press, radio and motion-picture publicity or modern advertising and mass-production industry made their existence economically possible, rescued them from the harsh and narrow surroundings into which their brothers and sisters were born, and made them into the little princesses of our times. All this was a modern and somewhat hard and machinelike magic; and one cannot help breathing a prayer that they will be preserved from the complex greeds and jealousies and fadisms of our mechanical times, which will more and more gather round them as they advance onward into girlhood.

But if the glass slipper was a streamlined and somewhat dangerous charm, there was a much older and sweeter magic fused into it, without which its wonders would never have been worked. The little girls began as a prodigy of nature and a newspaper "story." They grew into symbols, in which experience itself has worn too thin and poor—of all the incomparable beauty and sweetness and fractiousness of childhood. They began by being quintuplets. They have ended by becoming children—children of the world in which there are too few and too little of the love and sensitivity which children exact. May the world prove a kinder and wiser parent than have many of its citizens!

AIR-GUN PERIL

(London Tit-Bits)

An appeal to parents not to give their children air-guns as gifts was made by the Chief Constable of Carlisle when three boys appeared to answer a summons for carrying and firing air-guns in the street.

"There is a growing tendency on the part of many parents," he said, "to present these air-guns to their children, never realizing that they are equipping them with a powerful and dangerous weapon. Coupled with a boy's imagination, his ever-present temptation to shoot and his inaccuracy, make the gift a potential danger."

Legislation recently attempted to curtail their use by prohibiting boys and youths from buying them, but at the same time made it permissible for a parent to give one to a child. In their mistaken kindness parents looked upon an air-gun as merely a toy, but he appealed to them to help to stop a nuisance which often had such terrible and painful results.

LIKES BURGUNDY

(New York Times)

At his new house in the Boulevard Suchet, Paris, the Duke and Duchess lead the normal lives of those with enough money to spend, plenty of friends and normal tastes. The Duke's main concern is still, as it always was, getting enough exercise. He is as indefatigable as ever and his game of golf has improved enormously since the days when affairs of state kept him from the links. For their Easter vacation the royal couple went to their home on the Riviera and on the way back spent some days exploring the Burgundy wine country and incidentally buying stocks for their cellar, for the Duke likes a good glass of burgundy at dinner, the only time when he drinks anything.

SUCCESSFUL SLAM CONTRACT DEPENDS UPON TRUMP LEADS, EXPERT FINESSE

This is hand No. 19 of the 1939 World Bridge Olympic contest, contest, conducted by the American Contract Bridge League. Each hand involves a definite principle in bidding or play.

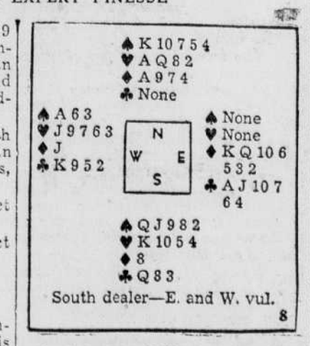

1. If North opens the bidding with one spade, should East make an informative double, bid two spades, or bid clubs or diamonds?

2. What should the final contract be?

3. Should West carry the contract to seven clubs or seven diamonds?

4. Can North make six spades?

South dealer—E. and W. vul.

Solution to Bridge Quiz

1. East should not make an informative double, for fear that his partner might pass one spade doubled for a penalty. To bid two spades, termed a cue bid, would in all probability bring a heart bid from partner, which would not help the situation. The best bid is a jump overcall of three diamonds, informing partner that you want the bidding kept open.

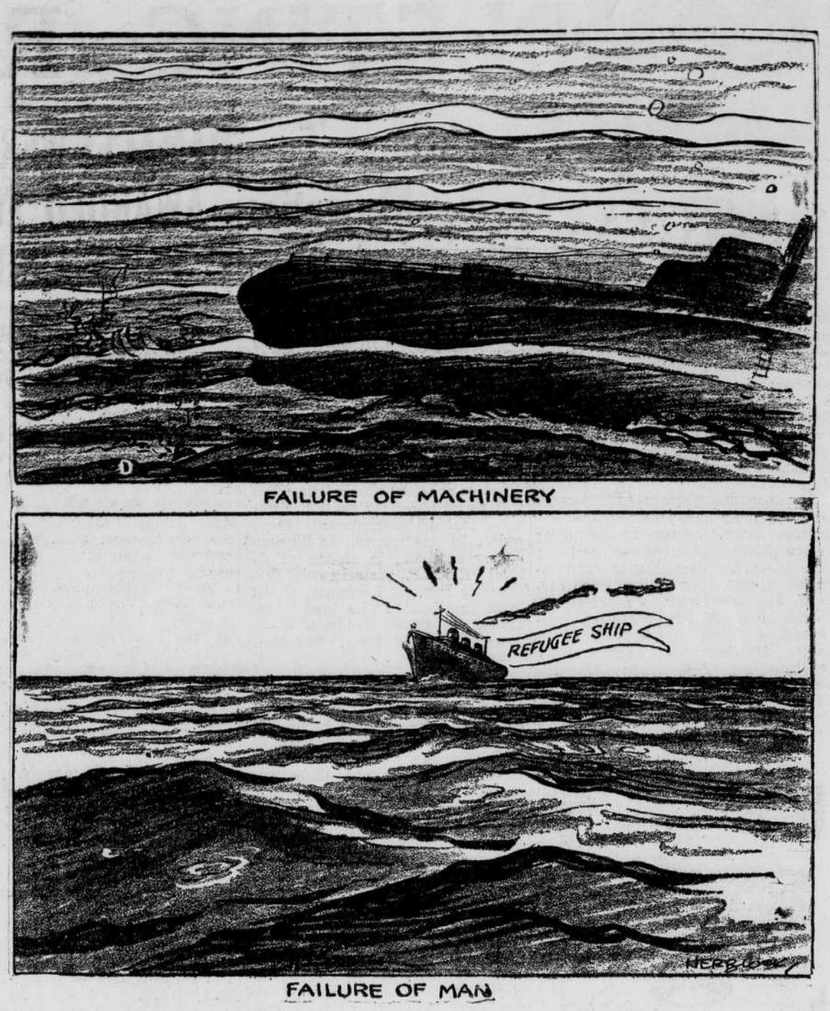

2. Correct bidding should allow North and South to arrive at a contract of six spades. However, East and West have a questionable sacrifice against six spades. They can bid either seven diamonds or seven clubs.

3. This is a difficult point. Normally, it looks as though West should defeat a six-spade contract, and that a sacrifice is not necessary.

4. Yes. Declarer need only be careful on two points. He must not lead three rounds of trumps. Therefore, if West does not play the ace on the first round, declarer must never lead trumps again.

The other point is that the first round of hearts must be won by the king, to prepare for a double finesse against West. East, having bid both diamonds and clubs very strongly, is surely short in hearts.

BEST ON THE LONG HAUL

(Toronto Globe and Mail)

"It's a lovely engine," remarked Queen Elizabeth after inspecting the royal blue, silver and gold monster which hauled the Royal train from Quebec to Vancouver.

The shining, stainless steel giant is the first locomotive on the North American Continent to make the transcontinental trip. This in itself is a great tribute to Canadian designers and engine-builders. The veteran C. P. R. engineers at the throttle may well be proud.

The precedent-making journey demonstrates the supremacy of the railways on the long-haul. In spite of the extra time spent by Their Majesties in the larger cities and of the inevitable delays caused by impromptu receptions along the line, the Royal train has invariably arrived on schedule at the centres where big celebrations have been held.

Whatever else may be said about them, Canada's railways are as efficient and well-managed as any in the world. Their equipment is unsurpassed. The trainmen from engine cab to caboose are master craftsmen, besides being among the aristocrats of the labor world. The railways are adequate for a much larger population. All they lack is traffic.

News Of Women's Clubs

Colonel K. B. Jenckes, president of the Canadian Legion, presided at a largely attended joint meeting with members of the Women's Auxiliary Branch 10, held in the I.O.D.E. Memorial Hostel yesterday, to make final arrangements for the Royal visit.

Mr. W. E. Buck read the minutes for the Legion and Mrs. G. Jackson for the Auxiliary, the latter including special mention of the convention recently held in Three Rivers, where the delegates were entertained by their confreres of the Three Rivers' Legion and Auxiliary, during their sojourn there, while attending the numerous sessions of the conference.

Mrs. W. E. Buck, president of the Auxiliary, who has just completed arrangements, announced that members of the Auxiliary are to meet at Lansdowne Market at 10:30 on Monday morning, and march in a body to their appointed places.

Mrs. Buck then explained that Comrades of Branch 10, would meet at the William Street Armory.

Colonel Jenckes then presented the special "berets" to each of the veterans and afterwards Mrs. Buck presented the members of the Auxiliary with their badges and tickets for the Royal Visit.

The Reading Club sponsored by the Catholic Women's League met last evening at the home of Mrs. L. E. Codere.

The last of a series of articles by Katherine Bregy, American poetess, entitled "Poets and Poetry" was read. This brings into prominence such modern poets as the gifted Joyce Kilmer, Edna St. Vincent Millay and others of equal calibre. Father Leonard Feeney, S.J., who lectured in Sherbrooke last winter under the auspices of the League and whom the author refers to as an Ignatian Peter Pan, was also given honorable mention.

A fascinating book "The World I Saw" by Theodore Maynard, was reviewed by Mrs. Francis Hoye, and excerpts read from the book.

At a previous meeting suggestions had been invited for next season's programme, and these were received in good numbers eliciting much discussion—proof of the interest taken in the Club's work by the members.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Francis Hoye and Miss Loretta Steele doing the honors at a table covered with an embroidered cloth, green candles, purple and white lilacs, and a timely decoration of tiny flags. Assisting were Mrs. Octavien Leveque, Miss Maureen McManamy and Miss Margaret Doherty.

Mrs. L. Morehouse and Mrs. J. Cutts entertained the members of the Women's Auxiliary of Trinity United Church very pleasantly yesterday afternoon at the former's home on Esplanade avenue.

Mrs. E. Hodge, the president, presided and Mrs. O. Williams conducted the devotional exercises.

The customary routine business was disposed of and a satisfactory financial report was submitted by Miss M. Heath, treasurer.

At the close of the meeting the hostesses served dainty refreshments.

The annual June sale and tea sponsored by St. Paul's Guild was given in the parish hall yesterday afternoon with Mrs. D. Mandigo, Mrs. S. Pudney and Mrs B. Thorne acting as hostesses.

The hall looked most attractive, flags and bunting being everywhere displayed in honor of the Royal visit.

Mrs. C. Bowyer, president, and Mrs. Oscar Berry received the guests at the entrance and Mrs. T. Wyatt acted as treasurer.

Mrs. Saunders did the honors at the lace-covered tea table, which was centered with a bowl of lily-of-the-valley, while Mrs. S. Payne and Mrs. M. Johnston assisted the hostesses in serving.

Mrs. H. Hutley and Mrs. S. Farmer were in charge of the sale of home cookery and Mrs. W. O. Smith looked after the mystery table, which was laden with tempting looking parcels of all sizes and shapes.

Flowers and tiny flags were used in decorating the small tables and the sales booths, thus the color scheme used in honor of Their Majesties was effectively continued throughout the hall and lent an additional air of festivity to the enjoyable tea party.

St. Peter's Guild held its closing business session yesterday afternoon in the parish hall with Mrs. Milo Lothrop, president, in the chair.

The treasurer, Mrs. C. J. Rose, was authorized to pay all outstanding bills, and after the disposition of several items of unfinished business, adjournment was made until the autumn.

Later the members enjoyed a social hour during which tea was served informally.

Marriages

COATES—COX

The marriage of Helen Maude, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cox, of Lennoxville, to Mr. Charles Aimer Coates, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coates, also of Lennoxville, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday, May 24, the Rev. Canon A. R. Kelly, of Compton, officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an afternoon gown of dove blue crepe and carried a bridal bouquet of Ophelia roses.

Miss Jean Adams, of Three Rivers, cousin of the bride and her only attendant, wore a dress of pale mauve with a corsage of tea roses.

Mr. John Cox, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Later the bride and groom left by motor for the New England States, the bride travelling in an Oxford grey tailored suit with navy hat and accessories.

Upon their return from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Coates will take up residence in Lennoxville.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Adams, Mr. Archie Adams, Miss May Adams, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Clarke, their daughters, Catherine and Margery, and Miss Flora Collins, all of Three Rivers; Mrs. R. C. Wilson and daughter, Betty, of Kirkland Lake, Ont.; Mrs. D. A report of the annual meeting of the Rebekah Assembly at Quebec, held in Montreal three weeks ago, was given by the delegate, Sister Bettie Cole, P.N.G.

A sunshine basket was planned for a sick member, and another member was reported ill. Cards of sympathy were also ordered sent to those bereaved.

Nomination of officers for the coming term took place, and final nomination and election will be held here at the next meeting.

Cards of identification were distributed to members for the allotted space of the Rebekah Lodge at the Royal visit to Sherbrooke.

Members of the "Thandara" group of the Canadian Girls in Training spent a most enjoyable and instructive evening in Douglas Hall, when Mrs. J. E. Lynch gave them a practical demonstration in simple massaging, and the art of properly caring for the sick. Mrs. Lynch, who was introduced by Miss Thelma Crawford, their superintendent, and thanked by Miss Maricrie Hilliard, was formerly superintendent of the Women's Sanitary Inspector's Health Visitors, at Birmingham, England.

ROYAL VISIT PLANS

At a special meeting of Maple Copse Chapter, I.O.D.E., Lennoxville, held in the Women's Institute room of the Town Hall, under the regency of Mrs. M. G. Stewart, final arrangements for the Royal visit to Sherbrooke on Monday were made. Cards of identification were distributed to the members for the I.O.D.E. allotted space in Sherbrooke on that occasion.

Money was voted for the 1939 Lennoxville High School scholarship, and a donation was made to the Montreal Fresh Air Fund.

The treasurer's report revealed that there is sufficient money in the treasury to cover all obligations until the organization re-convenes in the autumn.

General Notes

Miss Florrie Yates, of Montreal, is spending a few days with her nephew, Mr. Jack Sterling, and Mrs. Sterling, at their residence on Church street, to be near her sister, Miss Hannah Yates, of Sherbrooke, who is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

The report of the plan of work and resolutions committee was given by Mrs. R. W. S. Nutbrown, of Milby.

A beautiful solo, "In the Garden," sung by Mrs. Gordon Richards, was much enjoyed.

The gold medal contest followed. Each contestant had previously won a silver medal.

Miss Uldine Barbour, of Huntingville, who won the gold medal, recited "Guilty, Not Guilty"; Gordon Harmer, Sherbrooke, who was awarded second place, recited "Boys' Rights"; Muriel Getty, of Lennoxville, reciting "The Women Strike," won third place.

A feature of the programme was the presenting of a gift from the four unions in the county to their treasurer for the last forty years, Mrs. W. H. Abbott, Lennoxville, as an expression of their appreciation for her untiring and faithful service.

The lovely voices of Mrs. Gordon Richards and Miss Joyce Richards were then heard in a duet, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," and in an encore, "The Old Rugged Cross." The singing of the National Anthem, Mrs. W. G. Cross accompanying, brought the convention to a close. Afternoon tea was then served by the Sherbrooke Union.

Amazing 4 PURPOSE Hair Rinse

gives hair more

Life, Lustre and Color

Your hair need not be dull, or drab, or stringy. Lovalon used after a shampoo does these 4 things:

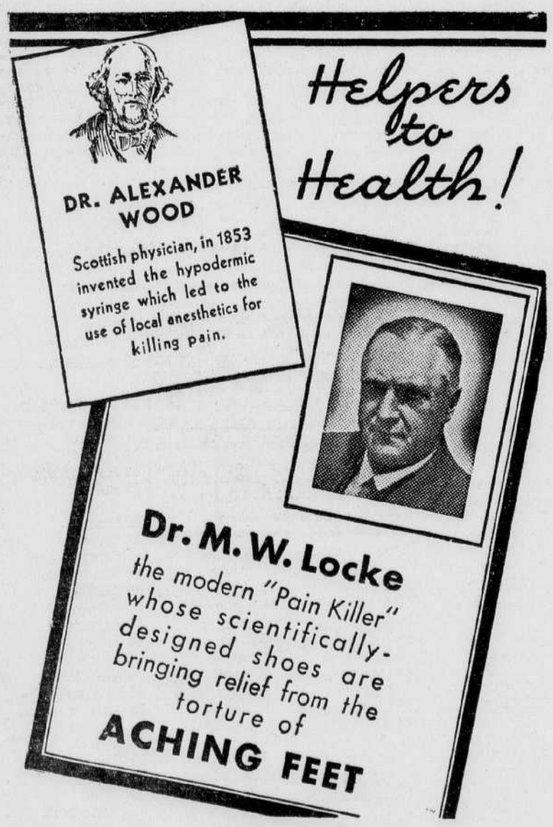

1. Highlights the hair, giving sparkling lustre and a healthful glow.
2. Tints as it rinses. Accents natural color, "blends in" faded strands.
3. Rinses away shampoo film.
4. Helps keep hair neatly in place.

Lovalon does not dye, does not bleach. Try any one of the 12 shades in which Lovalon is made, and see what wonders it does for your hair.

Extract from the minute of proceedings of a special meeting of the Members of the Board of Roman Catholic School Commissioners of the City of Sherbrooke, held in the public hall at the City Hall in the City of Sherbrooke, P.Q., Tuesday, June 6th, 1939, at eight o'clock p.m. Advanced Time.

Were present, MM. E. Sylvestre, Dr. L. Forest, E. Lafontaine, J. Labrecque, Commissioners forming quorum.

M. E. Sylvestre is the president, and G. E. Begin secretary of this meeting.

The secretary having read the notice calling this meeting, which notice has been advertised in La Tribune of Sherbrooke, on May 26th and 27th, 1939, and in the Sherbrooke Record on May 25th and 26th, 1939.

It is proposed by Com. Dr. L. Forest, seconded by Com. J. Labrecque:

WHEREAS it has become necessary to enlarge the Laroeque Academy, situated in the West Ward;

WHEREAS the enlargement of this school will cost the sum of $50,000.00;

WHEREAS to make this enlargement, the Board of Roman Catholic School Commissioners of the City of Sherbrooke will have to borrow the sum of $50,000.00 by means of an issue of bonds;

The Board of Roman Catholic School Commissioners of the City of Sherbrooke is hereby authorized to borrow the sum of $50,000.00, by means of an issue of bonds, for the enlargement of the Laroeque Academy, situated in the West Ward;

Those bonds to be of the denominations of $100.00, or of multiple of $100.00; they will be dated June 1st, 1939, and shall bear the legal certificate required by law;

Those bonds will bear interest at the rate of 3½% per annum, payable semi-annually the first day of June and December of each year;

Coupons representing the semi-annual payments of interest will be annexed to each bond, will bear the same number and will be payable to bearer at the place fixed for the payment of the bonds themselves;

Those bonds will be issued under the signature of the president and the countersignature of the secretary-treasurer, and will bear the seal of the Board of Roman Catholic School Commissioners of the City of Sherbrooke;

A fac simile of the signature of the secretary-treasurer may be printed, engraved or lithographed on the coupons;

Those bonds will be payable to bearer, or the registered holder, as the case may be, at the principal place of business of La Banque Canadienne Nationale, at Montreal, or at the branch establishments of this Bank at Sherbrooke, or at Quebec, Province of Quebec;

The present loan will be made for a term of 15 years, commencing on the first day of June, 1939, and the bonds will be redeemed in series in the manner as hereafter established, to wit:

	$1,000.00	$500.00	Total
June 1st, 1940	—	2	1,000.00
June 1st, 1941	—	2	1,000.00
June 1st, 1942	—	2	1,000.00
June 1st, 1943	1	2	2,000.00
June 1st, 1944	1	2	2,000.00
June 1st, 1945	1	2	2,000.00
June 1st, 1946	2	2	3,000.00
June 1st, 1947	2	2	3,000.00
June 1st, 1948	2	2	3,000.00
June 1st, 1949	3	2	4,000.00
June 1st, 1950	3	2	4,000.00
June 1st, 1951	3	2	4,000.00
June 1st, 1952	4	2	5,000.00
June 1st, 1953	4	7	7,500.00
June 1st, 1954	4	7	7,500.00
	30	40	$50,000.00

This resolution hereby authorized the levying on all the taxable properties by the Board of Roman Catholic School Commissioners of the City of Sherbrooke an annual tax sufficient, according to the valuation roll in force each year, to provide for the payment in capital and interest of the amount becoming due each year, during a period of 15 years.

Adopted.

DEATHS REPORTED

EDWIN A. TAYLOR, WINDSOR MILLS

Windsor Mills, June 8.—The death of Edwin Augustus Taylor on May 22 was learned with regret by a host of friends and acquaintances throughout the Eastern Townships. The deceased, who was in his eighty-fifth year at the time of his death, had resided in Windsor Mills since his retirement from active work in 1924.

Well known and well liked throughout the vicinity, the late Mr. Taylor was a man of cheerful disposition whose greatest interests lay in his home and the church. Advancing years which curtailed his activities considerably did not detract from his pleasant manner and the enjoyment that was his from life.

Born on July 22, 1854, at Birchton, he was the eldest son of the late Joseph W. Taylor and Theodoria Labaree. On October 18, 1878, he was joined in matrimony to Margaret Nutbrown, who predeceased him on June 9, 1937.

Of this union three sons and four daughters were born. Surviving are two sons, Harold G. Taylor, of Ayer's Cliff, and J. Everett Taylor, of Fitch Bay, and two daughters, Mrs. Archibald S. Varney and Mrs. R. J. Sims, both of Windsor Mills.

In 1900 he moved to Stanstead, where he resided and farmed for the following twenty-four years. He served as a councillor in the district for several years.

The funeral was held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Varney, with whom he had resided since the death of his wife, with interment in Eaton cemetery, near Birchton. The Rev. P. Pollitt, B.D., of Windsor Mills, officiated during the funeral service, assisted by Rev. Mr. Carr, of Cookshire, and Rev. Mr. Bunt, of Birchton.

Bearers were four grandsons of the deceased, Robert and Russell Taylor and Kenneth and Maxwell Varney. Also left to mourn are two sisters, Mrs. L. E. Charbonnel, of Cookshire, and Mrs. A. Brazel, of Sawyerville; one brother, Edgar E. Taylor, of Birchton, and ten grandchildren, as well as several cousins, nephews and nieces.

Those from out of town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. A. Brazel, Sawyerville; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Taylor, all of Birchton; Mr. and Mrs. M. Smiley, Miss Ethel Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. S. Nutbrown, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Lowry and Mr. Seale, of Lennoxville, and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Varney, of Sherbrooke.

MRS. JAMES DOVE, FLORIDA, ONTARIO

Hatley, June 8.—Word has been received of the death of Mrs. James Dove, of Florida, Ontario, who will be remembered by many friends and relatives here.

Born Hortense Morse, the deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Morse and on the death of her mother when she was an infant, was cared for by an aunt and uncle, Mrs. Russell Bowen and Mr. Bowen, of Barnston, in which town she spent her girlhood and attended school. About seventeen years ago she married James Dove and later went to Ontario to live. Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Dove.

Mrs. Dove was an invalid from childhood. Her death, on May 25, came as a shock to her family and neighbors. She leaves a devoted husband and the two children, Agnes and Warren, besides uncles and cousins here.

HENRY SHERMAN, LEARNED PLAIN.

Learned Plain, June 8.—The death occurred on Wednesday evening, May 17th, of Henry Sherman, a highly respected resident of this place. Although Mr. Sherman had been in failing health for some time, his passing came as a great shock to his relatives and many friends.

The funeral service, which was conducted by Rev. R. W. Carr, pastor of the United Church, Cookshire, was held on Sunday afternoon, May 20th, at his home, and was very largely attended. The Island Brook choir sang the hymn, "Now the Laborer's Task Is O'er."

Bearers were Messrs. Thomas Burns, Howard Seale, Bryan McDermott and Gleason Hume. Interment was made in the family lot in Cookshire Cemetery. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, testifying to the esteem in which deceased was held.

He leaves to mourn his loss four sisters, Mrs. A. H. Hesseltine, of Conway, N.H., Mrs. M. Nourse, of New Canaan, Conn., Mrs. Florence Gray, of Columbia Bridge, N.H., and Miss Edith Sherman, of Learned Plain; one brother, Mr. John Sherman, of Rochester, N.H., and several nieces and nephews.

Among those who attended the funeral were Mrs. Florence Gray, Miss Lila Gray and Messrs. Wayne and Clarence Gray ,of Columbia Bridge, N.H.; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cotton ,of Conway, N.H.; Mrs. William Parkhurst, of Northumberland, N.H.; Miss Mabel Kilton ,of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. E. Rowe, of Whitefield, N.H.; Mr. J. R. Buchanan, of Gould, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Morrison and daughter, of Keith.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

MRS. A. W. JOHNSTON, SOUTH DURHAM.

South Durham, June 8.—It was with sorrow that news was received of the sudden passing of Mrs. A. W. Johnston at her home on April 28, 1939, following a paralytic stroke.

Mrs. Johnston was a woman of sterling qualities, a member of St. James' Anglican Church and one who worked in the furtherance of its interest and of any other causes affecting the welfare of the community in general.

Mrs. Johnston leaves to mourn her loss two daughters, Mrs. Elmer J. Duffy and Miss Eleanor M. E. Johnston, of St. Lambert; one son, Arthur E., on the home farm; one sister, Minnie Johnston, and two brothers, Willie Johnston, of South Durham, and George Johnston, of St. Paul, Minn.; a son-in-law, Elmer J. Duffy; a grandson, Master Rodney Duffy, of South Durham, and many nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held from her late residence on Sunday afternoon, April 30th, to St. James' Church, and was very largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends who came to pay their last tribute to one who had been respected by all. Rev. H. C. Denton had charge of the service, assisted by Rev. J. W. C. Prout, a former pastor, who spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing family.

Mrs. James A. Mountain, a friend of the family, presided at the organ, and the following hymns were sung, "Unto the Hills," "O What Their Joy" and "On the Resurrection Morning." Miss Noreen Dunsmore, of Sherbrooke, a friend of the family, sang "God Will Take Care of You."

The casket, covered with beautiful flowers, was borne by six nephews, Messrs. George, Robert and Ernest Johnston, Winston Duffy, Ernest Newell and Clifton Montgomery. Interment was in the family lot beside her eldest son, Elmer, who predeceased her February, 1908, and her husband, Mr. Johnston, who died on December 22, 1938, only four months and six days ago. The floral tributes were beautiful.

Those from out-of-town were Mr. Henry Johnston, of Charney, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Buzzell, of Magog; Miss Noreen Dunsmore, of Sherbrooke, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. C. Prout, of Lennoxville; Mr. Stanley Wheatley and Miss Muriel Cross, of Montreal; Mrs. Clara M. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mitchell, Mrs. James Houston, Mrs. Fred Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Golden Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Coles, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston and Mrs. J. Sinclair, of Richmond, and many from the surrounding towns.

The sincere sympathy of this community is extended to the family in their sorrow.

NAME LEADERS OF INVERNESS W.I. SOCIETY

Mrs. Hugh Savage Appointed President of Institute Branch at Annual County Session — Conveners' Reports Read.

Inverness, June 8.—The annual county meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the Oddfellow's Hall here and opened with "O Canada" and the club women's creed in unison. Mrs. Weston Graham gave an address of welcome and was responded to by Mrs. William Smith, of Lemesurier. There were ten present from Lemesurier and twelve from Inverness, with seveal visitors.

Minutes of the previous two meetings were read and adopted and all reports were read by conveners for the county. Prizes were offered to the Horticultural Society.

The president's address was read by Mrs. Wilson Beattie, the retiring president. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Hugh Savage; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. William Smith, both of Lemesurier. Conveners were appointed and Miss Champeaux, of Quebec City, gave a most interesting and instructive address on "Diet and Foods," God Save the King brought a most profitable afternoon to a close, with refreshments served by the Inverness members.

BOWLING PRIZES GIVEN

The mixed bowling tournament held during the winter months in the Oddfellow's Hal., drew to a close on Thursday evening, when those taking part with a number of friends and several Oddfellows from Thetford Mines, gathered in the hall to enjoy another game and to be present to see the distribution of prizes. The winning team, skipped by Mrs. Andrew McCammon, with Eugene Mosher, Dan Melrose and Mrs. George Davidson as players, received their prizes amid many speeches. The consolation prizes were awarded to the team skipped by James Appleton with John Dempsey, Mrs. William Reynolds and Miss Ethel Kinnear as players. Lunch was served by the Inverness Oddfellow's.

General Notes

Rev. and Mrs. Gilmore and family and Mrs. Duncan Hutchison, of Lemesurier, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. David McCullough.

Miss Annie Learmonth was a dinner guest of Mrs. George Lennon.

Rev. Albert Jones, of Lennoxville, spent a day here and was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Weary.

Rev. and Mrs. Stewart, accompanied by Mrs. George Mooney and Mrs. Ernest Robinson, motored to Quebec, where Rev. Stewart attended the United Church conference.

Mr. George Leadbeatter, of Lennoxville, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Leadbeatter, for a few days.

Mrs. Ernest Johnson was a guest of Mrs. Andrew McCammon and Mrs. Suitor.

Several from here attended the sale called by Mr. Samuel Longmore at his farm on the Eleventh Range.

Messrs. Douglas and Malcolm Mooney and Albert Kinnear, of Commissioner's High School, Quebec City, spent a week-end at their respective homes here.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moore and their two children, Valentine and Thomas, and the Misses Henrietta and Florence Moore, all of Quebec City, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kinnear.

Mr. Hatcher, of Lennoxville, visited his daughter, Mrs. Harry Hogge and family, over a week-end.

Mrs. George Lennon came home after a few hours of fishing with twelve one-pound trout, and one sixteen inch trout weighing a pound and a half.

Mrs. Henry Fraser spent a day in Quebec City.

WEARS LIFE BELT — UNDER PROTEST

Like many veteran loggers, 64-year-old Dan McClennan of Bend, Ore., doesn't think he needs that balloon-like device around his waist. Oregon law now requires all loggers to wear water safety belt, inflated by pressing cartridge.

BOLTON GLEN

Mr. Walter Paige has purchased Mr. Felix Laporte's farm.

Guests at "Bonnieburne" were Mr. Laurie Matheu, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brown and the Misses Dorothy and Lillian McKinnon, of Montreal, and Mrs. W. K. Davis and son, Clarence, of Knowlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cousens, of Waterloo, were visiting friends and relatives in the Glen.

Messrs. Archie Harfield and D. R. Brown, of Duboyce's Corner, were in the Glen.

REEDSDALE

Mr. Lloyd Welch has returned to Drummondville after visiting his parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. B. N Seale motored to Quebec to attend the funeral of the former's brother, Mr. Robert Seale.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McIntyre, of Sherbrooke, called on relatives here.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robinson were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson and Mr. Vern Robinson, of Drummondville.

Mr. Henry Arnold, of High River, Alberta, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lipsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gale, of Danville, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Cox and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nutbrown, of Inverness, were guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kinnear.

Mrs. Joliffe has returned home after spending a week-end with friends at Glen Murray.

The many friends of Mr. Robert Seale, of Quebec, were grieved to hear of his death. The late Mr. Seale was a former well-known resident of this place. Sympathy of the community is extended to the sorrowing relatives on their bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McNey were calling on friends and neghbors before leaving for their new home in Barrie, Ont. All are sorry to loss Mr. and Mrs. McNey and join in wishing them success in their new home.

Police Take Precautions To Safeguard Their Majesties

dred report, besides the four hundred who have already agreed to take on the duty.

Captain Percy Donahue, acting Chief of Police, will be in charge of the forces in the city, assisted by Lieutenant Henri Boisvert and Lieutenant Omer Daudelin. Captain Donahue is to ride in the pilot car which immediately precedes the Royal automobile and consequently much of the responsibility will rest on the shoulders of the two lieutenants. Also in the pilot car will be Chief Canning, of the London Metropolitan Police, Commissioner S. T. Wood, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, or his representative, and Colonel P. A. Piuze, Commissioner of the Provincial Police.

Police to be on duty in the city on Monday will assemble at Police Headquarters at nine a.m., when they will be given orders and assigned to various sections of the city.

Parents are requested by police to place some form of identification in the pockets of their children's clothes in case the youngsters become lost.

OFFERING OF STOCK FOR TRANSPORT CO.

Montreal, June 8.—Savard, Hodgson & Company, Incorporated, and Greenshields & Company, incorporated, announce the public offering of 35,357 shares of Provincial Transport Company, at a price of $7.50 per share. This offering represents the unsubscribed balance of the 51,000 shares initially offered to shareholders of the company in March, 1939.

The proceeds of the 51,000 additional shares issued by the company are being used to defray in part the cost of 35 new autobuses and for general corporate purposes of the company. With this new equipment, the company's existing fleet, excluding those autobuses used for local service at Sherbrooke and Kingston, and those operated by subsidaries not wholly owned, will consist of 176 vehicles, having a seating capacity of 4,795 persons.

During the past five years the company has recorded a steady growth in gross volume of business and profits. In 1938 gross operating income amounted to $1,472,005 as compared with $1,229,863 in 1937, while net profit available for dividends amounted to $164,350 against $113,408, equivalent to eighty-two cents per share on the 199,000 shares of capital stock outstanding at December 31st, 1938, as compared with fifty-seven cents per share in the year previous.

In August, 1937, an initial dividend of ten cents per share was paid, followed by a similar one in February and August, 1938. On February 15th, 1939, the company paid a dividend of twenty cents per share out of 1938 earnings, bringing the total payments applicable to 1938 to thirty cents a share. It is anticipated that the stock will be placed on an annual basis of forty cents per share, payable semi-annually, February and August.

The company's capital stock is listed on the Montreal Curb Market.

TRUE STORY!

They jeered when I went to the oven — They laughed when I said I could bake—

I opened the door — and they're shovin' For a slice of my Swans Down Cake!

THAT'S the verdict of any jury of home bakers or cake eaters on cakes made the Swans Down way. It doesn't matter whether you're a hopeless novice or an expert grandmother with two generations of praise behind your baking—not if you use Swans Down Cake Flour! If you just make sure to follow the directions, Swans Down Cake Flour guarantees success in your baking.

Swans Down is a special type of flour made expressly for fine baking and perfect cake texture. It is specially milled from selected Canadian soft winter wheat, ground and re-ground, sifted and re-sifted through silk until it's 27 times as fine as ordinary flour! If you want all of your cakes in the future to have that smooth "velvety crumb" which marks the finished products of an expert cake-maker, be sure that you ask your grocer for Swans Down Cake Flour. It's economical, too, because it saves on other ingredients, and assures you of successful cakes.

SHERBROOKE,S VICTORY MARCH IS HALTED

Locals Hold First In Spite Of 8-7 Setback

Sherbrooke Bows to Del Bissonnette's Quebec Athletics—Remain on Top Although Tied with St. Hyacinthe—Three Rivers Rallies to Best Granby Sox 4-3—Sorel Vs. St. Hyacinthe Postponed Because of Injuries to Players.

Quebec Athletics ended Sherbrooke's five-game winning streak here last night with an eight-seven victory, and the locals slipped back half a game into a tie for first place in the Provincial Baseball League with St. Hyacinthe. Both Saints and Sherbrooke have won eight games and lost five.

Three Rivers came from behind twice in a ten-inning spat to beat Granby Red Sox by the score of four-three. A run in the ninth tied the score at two-two, and, after Granby had gone ahead with a tally in the tenth, Three Rivers put together four singles, a base on balls and a sacrifice to score twice and win the game. Three Rivers remains in third place with nine wins and six setbacks.

Game postponed because of injuries to players. This was the situation that cropped up yesterday when St. Hyacinthe was unable to field a full team for its scheduled game against Sorel. With four cripples on the roster the Saints had to ask for postponement of the tilt.

Left fielder Jiggs Cassaway and Catcher John O'Flaherty were out with strained leg muscles, Pitcher Larry Zummers had a cold and Shortstop Ward Sheldon an injured shoulder. Cassaway and O'Flaherty are expected out for the game with Quebec tonight but the other two will be on the bench until Sunday.

Athletics made the most of ten hits for their victory over Sherbrooke. They left only four men on bases against Sherbrooke's twelve and clinched the game with a two-run splurge in the seventh inning. Sherbrooke collected a dozen hits but inability to get them at the right time kept them from winning.

It was no fault of first-sacker Len Manion that Sherbrooke failed in a fighting attempt to run their victory string to six. Leo kept up his phenomenal clouting by lacing out a two-baser and three singles in four official trips to Umpire Prince's preserve. Ray Cote hit hard for three triples, and two more of the Johnnies, Crowley and Ayvazian, had two safeties each. John Zulberti, Chet Varanese and Al Kasso, however, failed to hit safely.

The lead see-sawed back and forth and changed hands several times. Quebec tallied twice in their first turn at bat, but Sherbrooke pushed over three in the last half of the first. Quebec drew even again with a single in the second, but two runs in the third put Sherbrooke up five-three. A marker in each of the fourth and fifth frames tied the score at five-five.

The Athletics took a six-five advantage in the sixth, but Sherbrooke went ahead seven-six with two tallies in their turn at bat. The issue was decided in the seventh when the A's scored twice.

Charlie Kittredge went to the mound for the locals and worked until a third of the seventh had been completed. Quebec reached him for nine bingles, including two doubles by Roland Gladu, first sacker, and Catcher Ryan. Cliff Johnson relieved him and allowed only one more hit, but that one hit, a single by Kosy, left fielder, meant the two tallies that won the game.

Two of Quebec's runs were unearned, Mader tallying automatically in the first when Kittredge committed a balk, and Kosy stealing home while the local left-hander was in the middle of his complicated wind-up. Cote rapped in three Sherbrooke runs and Manion two, while errors by Gladu and Suss were responsible for the other two.

Ayvazian starred in the Sherbrooke infield, making six put-outs without a miscue and completing an unassisted double play in the fifth by spearing Kosy's liner and doubling Gladu off second.

In Sporting Vein

By Allan Bryce.

There is no disgrace about losing after a five-game winning streak, and the Sherbrooke ball team, with a strain off their shoulders, can settle right down again and start knocking off the wins once more.

They travel to Granby tonight, and the Red Sox, beaten four-three last night by Three Rivers, should be the boys to let the Reder Rifles loose again.

The locals are deadlocked for leadership with the crippled St. Hyacinthe nine with eight wins and five defeats in thirteen games, while Three Rivers is third with nine triumphs and six beatings. Sorel and Quebec stand fourth and fifth, respectively.

* * *

Leo Manion is batting .487, a sensational batting average. In five trips to the plate last night the classy first baseman, just about the smartest first sacker seen here in many moons, smacked out three singles and a double, and only a brilliant running catch by Kosy, Quebec left fielder, stopped him from a perfect performance.

* * *

Ray Cote showed signs of snapping out of his slump as he hit two of Lepine's deliveries on the nose for triples. He hit the ball hard once again but Mader's leaping catch robbed him of a base-knock. Sherbrooke had twelve men left on base, compared to four Quebec men being stranded, and they were left because Zulberti, Kasso and Varanese failed to get their bats on the ball at the right time. These things happen to any team, however, and are not too damaging, particularly when the outfit is in first place.

Russell Blinco, likeable Chicago Black Hawk centre player, made a great start in the City Softball League. He clouted two home runs out of the diamond and rapped out a single, also receiving a base on balls for a perfect night at the platter. Whipple, last year with Beatty Brothers, was out with the Beavers, while Johnny Hibbard was handling the mound chores. Beavers looked like a new team last night, and when Gus Leroux and Roger Dion get into action the boys will be hard to knock down.

It is quite possible one of the mainstays of the Bishop's football machine for the last three years—Peter "Bouncer" Greenwood—will be out there holding down a front-line berth on McGill's big, red grid machine when the fall rolls around.

A fighting devil on the gridiron, filled with grit and spirit from the word "go" and never beaten until the final whistle sounded, Pete was an inspiration to the Bishop's lads during the time he wore the colors of the Lennoxville institution, and he will certainly be bidding for a job with "Pop" Kerr's college champions. He should help to fill a gap caused by graduation of Sleepy Telford, Prestie Robb, Lou Ruschin and other stalwarts of Old McGill.

Johnny Zulberti's climb out of his batting slump has been nothing short of sensational. Suddenly, last weekend, the stocky second sacker started to go to town in a big way, collecting two for three and three for four against St. Hyacinthe, and two for three Tuesday night against Three Rivers, and pulling himself up over the .300 mark.

Lets get chilly and talk hockey.

Senior Group fans will be seeing goalie Floyd Perras, Defenceman Mike McMahon and forward McClelland in the uniform of Quebec Aces this coming winter, or else the grapevine route is playing tricks on bewildered scribes once again. The new manager of the Anglo-Canadian puck-chasers, Don Penniston, is reported planning to bring his three stars with him from Cornwall.

* * *

They say, also, Penniston is attempting to get his hands on Theo Hamel, Valleyfield flash, and a local favorite, Majella Laforest, although this story has not been confirmed. The idea behind asquisition of the latter pair would be to provide the home-team angle and satisfy rabid Ancient Capital fans.

It ought to be amusing to watch Bob "Strangler" Wagner go scientific at the Arena mat tonight. Wrestling is supposed to have been cleaned up, and orders are reported out for the grapplers to stick to their knitting and cut out all mock histrionics and shady work. Somehow, remembering Wagner in action here, and taking into consideration the reputation he has built up as a bad-man to end all badmen, it seems hard to swallow a story that he will go sissy on us.

It is more than likely that when Yvon Robert, iron-muscled French-Canadian, turns the pressure on, Mr. Wagner will erupt in old-time style and hand out punishment in his own, inimitable way.

Legs Langevin, of Magog, ties up against a performer who is as unpopular, if possible, as one Hitler—the Red Shadow. Legs has vowed to unmask the villain, and if he does the cloud of mystery surrounding the unknown assassin will be dispelled.

Tommy Nilan meets Maurice Robert and Leo Lefebvre tangles with Al Mercier in the other attractions.

One of the last requests of Tom Donohue, who fathered legalized boxing in Connecticut, was that Al Weill and Prof. Billy M'Carney, the fight managers, act as pall bearers at his funeral today.

S.H.S. UPSETS SACRED HEART SOFTBALL TEN

Records 17-9 Victory, Jeff Wilson Starring—St. Pat's Downs S.H.S. Seconds to Tie Sacred Heart for Lead—Lennoxville Firsts Win.

Sherbrooke High School "A's" seventeen-nine upset victory over the fast-travelling and formidable Sacred Heart crew and Lennoxville High "A's" forty to two conquest of L.H.S. "B" on their home grounds featured the Sherbrooke Interscholastic Softball loop's games yesterday as the league schedule entered its second week. Southpaw Wendall Wilcox gave St. Pat's a first-place tie with Sacred Heart when he hurled eight-hit ball to give the Saints a twenty-two to three triumph over Sherbrooke High "B," in the other scheduled fixture. It was the Sherbrooke High "B" outfit's fourth consecutive loss.

L.H.S. firsts decisive trouncing of the Lennoxville High "B" outfit, together with S.H.S. "A's" win over the French-Canadian crew, sent the two schools into a draw for third spot in the league's first division. L.H.S. "B," with two points, and S.H.S. "B," holding sway in the cellar position, bring up the rear in the loop standings.

Catcher Jeff Wilson's two-run second-stanza circuit clout and towering two-bagger effectively backed the combined six-hit twirling of Ed Stevens and Bruce Bishop as Sherbrooke High "A" handed Sacred Heart its first setback in four starts by seventeen-nine, ending a brief three-game string of wins. Blanked in but two frames, the High School team matched the French Canadians run for run in the opening cantos, holding a slight edge, but broke loose with a timely five-run outburst in the fourth chapter to clinch the game, while the Catholic crew, off to a good start, was blanked during the middle chapters and found trouble in recovering their hitting power.

The best the French Canadians could do to match the High School's three runs in the final frame was to score singles in each of the sixth and seventh. Only the erratic fielding of the High School team, which accounted for at least four of the opponent's tallies, offset the brilliant four-frame four-hit flinging of Bruce Bishop, and marred the masterful relief role of Stevens. Freeman Clowery contributed to the High School outfit's total with three safeties and two markers.

The most impressive exhibition of powerhouse clouting since the inception of the interscholastic loop highlighted Lennoxville High "A's" forty to two trouncing of the "B" outfit on the Lennoxville home grounds last evening. The "A" team hit heaviest during the middle stanzas, as did the "B" squad, and exceptional improvements were noted in the fielding of the latter outfit. Forty-five base-knocks, less than half of which were for extra bases, supported the steady hurling of Harry Teal, who was credited with the win, and relief flinger Harry Allen.

Every man on the "A" squad hit safely and scored at least once. Extra-base blows were well divided among the players on the team, of which the most effective batsmiths were Vic Findlay, who ambled home five times, helped along by a three bagger and three safe hits, and Harry Allen, who belted out a triple, two doubles and scored three times. Bus Staples and Stew Allen also connected for distant smashes, as well as scoring the most runs for their team. Harry Frizzell and Billy Baker paced the "B" team, which reached Teal and Allen for singles only.

Kenny Barlow and Dick Hibbard, each with five for five, paced St. Pat's to their easy victory over the weak-hitting S.H.S. "B" outfit. Barlow, Lebrun, with a three-run clout, and Meagher poled impressive homers off the deliveries of "Red" Millar and Perkins. Of the thirty blows garnered, the Irish made eight of them count for twenty-four extra bases. Perkins' double gave the High School a run in the second chapter, and in the last, infield misplays cost a pair. The Saints, who tallied in every inning, were at their best in the third and fifth frames, which yielded a sextette of scores. Red Millar was tagged with the defeat. Wilcox, although he failed to fan any men, gave one of the steadiest exhibitions by any flinger in the school loop this year.

DIMAG RETURNS TO PULL YANKS OUT OF SLUMP

Triples to Start Champs Away to 5-2 Win Over White Sox—Senators Drub Indians 10-4, 13-9—Reds Snap Out of Dumps.

The world champion New York Yankees at last know what it is like to have a shake-up. Alarmed at the team equalling its worst slump of the season—two losses in a row—Manager Joe McCarthy not only benched one man, but he switched the sixth and seventh men in his batting order!

The effect was instantaneous. Joe DiMaggio, making his first appearance in centrefield in more than a month, hit a triple to bring in a run in his first time at bat and the Yankees were away to a five-two victory over Chicago White Sox.

At the time he injured his right leg in a game April 29 DiMaggio had hit safely in seven consecutive contests and had an average of .435. Although he got no other hits yesterday, his reputation still was good enough to get him an intentional pass in the fifth inning, filling the bases and figuring in the three-run rally which was New York's margin of victory. Lefty Gomez earned his fourth triumph of the season.

Washington Senators handed a double drubbing to Cleveland Indians, ten-four and thirteen-nine, coming from behind in the second game with a seven-run outburst in the ninth inning.

Philadelphia Athletics barely kept half a game ahead of the Senators in the sixth place with a five-four decision over Detroit.

Boston Red Sox' game at St. Louis was rained out and rescheduled in a doubleheader today.

Cincinnati Reds recovered from their thumping by New York Giants sufficiently to squeeze past the Phillies, five-four, even though out-hit by thirteen-eight.

The Giants were held to five safeties by Claude Passeau as the Cubs opened their series with a seven-one victory.

Bill Swift's first start of the season resulted in a two-nothing shut-out in favor of Pittsburgh Pirates at Boston.

St. Louis Cardinals drove Van Mungo out of the box in the sixth inning and beat Brooklyn Dodgers, seven-three, in a night game.

NEWARK BEARS SLIPPING

Since Rochester Red Wings took play and first place away from Newark Bears and Jersey City Giants, the Bears have been fading slowly despite the combined efforts of Manager Johnny Neun and New York Yankees.

The Yanks sent back pitcher Joe Beggs and outfielder Joe Gallagher and although both are performing admirably the team has not reacted properly. In spite of yesterday's victory over Rochester by a seven-one score the Bears have slipped steadily until they are back in fourth place.

The victory over Rochester wound up a Red Wing winning streak that had reached nine games.

While Newark was trouncing the league leaders, Jersey City lost to Toronto Maple Leafs eight-two. Carl Fischer went the distance for the visitors to give them an even break in the four-game series.

Syracuse Chiefs and Baltimore Orioles downed Montreal and Buffalo, respectively. The Chiefs clouted Kemp Wicker, who was charged with the defeat, and Xavier Rescigno for fourteen hits and a five-two victory.

The Orioles scored a six-five decision under the lights, pushing across two runs in the eighth and smothering a ninth inning Buffalo rally with a fast double play after Savino had homered for the Herd.

ROBERT MEETS BOB WAGNER IN ARENA TONIGHT

Former Title-Holder Gunning for Victory as Step Nearer Championship Held by Cy Williams—All-Star Supporting Card.

What should be one of the finest bouts to be seen in this part of the continent since the departure for Europe of Yvon Robert will take place at the Arena tonight when Robert, back from a triumphal campaign across the water, will attempt to use Bob "Strangler" Wagner as a stepping stone back to the top of the heap of the world's wrestling championship.

A native of this Province and popular with fans in Montreal, Sherbrooke and Three Rivers, alike, Robert was dethroned last year by the present titleholder, Cy Williams, and is anxious to get another crack at his conqueror.

In Wagner he has an opponent who will demand his best before bowing his head in defeat. Wagner is feared all over the wrestling world for his fiery temper and his habit of employing rough tactics to get out of tough spots, and even in spite of the fact that under a new order issued by mat moguls the game is supposed to tone down, it is highly probably the "Strangler" will find it difficult to change his style of wrestling all of a sudden.

Three other bouts have been arranged by Promoter Albert Kouri, who has spared no effort to bring a bang-up card to Sherbrooke.

An Eastern Townships product, Legs Langevin, of Magog, will attempt to put a stop to the victory march of the Red Shadow, hooded horror of the ring, in the semi-final attraction. Built like a truck, and twice as strong, Langevin should be the man to handle the Shadow, if anyone can, and he is determined to haul the disguise off the bad boy.

Leo Lefebvre, of Rimouski, opposes Al Mercier, of Springfield, Mass., in a third tilt, while Australia's latest contribution to wrestling, the India-rubber man, Tommy Nilan, will oppose Maurice Robert in the curtain-raiser.

New York, June 8.—(AP)—Old Bill Klem (who never missed one in his life) will be calling 'em loud and clear in the baseball centennial game at Cooperstown Monday.

The Coast hears J. Edgar Hoover, No. 1 "G-Man," will be offered the job of boxing czar if and when one is appointed.

Beavers Edged Out 9-8 By Henry Klein's Lads

Russell Blinco Hammers Out Two Round-Trippers as Beavers Give Kayser Tough Battle—Textile Routs Boisvert 15-6—Kayser Wins 11-2 in Lennoxville—Three-Way Deadlock for First.

A revamped gang of Beavers very nearly turned into giant-killers last night as they battled tooth and nail with Henry Klein's Kayser contingent and went down fighting, losing by the narrow margin of one run. Score was nine-eight for Kayser.

In the second game Textile settled down to softball and piled up a fifteen-six victory over Boisvert. At Lennoxville Percy Francis' Paton outfit downed the homesters eleven-two.

As a result of last night's games Kayser Paton and Textile figure in a three-way deadlock for first place. They have won three and lost one in four starts. Boisvert is fourth with two and two for four points. Beavers fifth with one win and Lennoxville in the cellar.

Russell Blinco, well known for his ability in the National Hockey League, showed he knows what softball is all about by poling out two mammoth circuit clouts and a single and driving in a good share of Beavers' runs against a bewildered Kayser crew. Taking their cue from "Blink" the rest of the Beavers swung their war clubs and took a liking to the offerings of Emond and Art Crompton.

Johnny Hibbard made his debut on the mound for Beavers and will be a hard man to hit when he rounds into shape. Norm Whipple, last year with Beatty Brothers, was out in centre field. Beavers expect to secure the services of Gus Leroux and Roger Dion, of the disbanded Transit tribe, and will be tough opponents from now on.

Beavers went to bat first and took the lead when Jowett singled and came home on Blinco's first safety. Kayser went ahead five-four in the third, but Blinco who had homered in the third, duplicated his feat in the fourth and the flat-tailers ended up in an eight-seven lead going into the last of the seventh.

Kayser came through for the needed tallies in their last turn at bat.

Boisvert jumped into a four-nothing edge against Textile, scoring twice in the first and twice in the second, but after the Textilemen tied the count at four-four in the last of the second and went ahead seven-four in the third, the jig was up.

Textile added three runs in the fifth and five in the sixth, while Boisvert got single tallies in each of the fifth and sixth frames.

The linescores:

Beavers	112	400	0—	8	12	1
Kayser	113	200	2—	9	11	1

Batteries: Hibbard and Wootton; Emond, Crompton and Pinard.

FAIRBANKS IN INDUSTRIAL WIN

Fairbanks defeated Kayser seconds ten to eight last night at the Parade Grounds in regular Industrial fixture. Bission's triple in the seventh was the blow that won the game.

Fortier hit a home run, a double and a single for Fairbanks, Desmarias also hit a home run for the winners, while R. Gosselin hit one for Kayser. Bob Bradley starred in the field handling five chances in the field and made a spectacular one handed catch in the seventh.

Score by innings:

Fairbanks	000	323	2—10	14 2
Kayser	310	211	0— 8	10 3

Batteries: Cloutier and Bisson; Luc and Marceau.

You should see that shiner Joe Jacobs is carrying around. Says a floor lamp toppled against his orb. Haw!

Opening prices make Louis 1-9 to beat Galento; 1-6 to win by a kayo and even money to do it in three heats.

It was a break for Arndt Jorgens, Yankee third string catcher, when they picked him to play in the baseball centennial game. It probably will be the only time Arndt will put on a mask this season.

Joe Louis says:— April 18: "I won't have as much trouble with Galento as I had with Jack Roper." June 7: "That fat man is tough and he can punch. It ought to be a good fight." Sez you.

LADIES' GROUP AT ST. ARMAND HOLDS MEETING

Interesting Report of County Convention Presented by Delegate at Session of Women's Institute Branch.

St. Armand, June 8.—The St. Armand Women's Institute met at the home of Miss Ella Burley and Mrs. Lena Symington, with thirteen members and one guest present. In the absence of both president and vice-president, Mrs. Miles E. Krans presided.

The opening ode was sung and club women's creed repeated. Roll Call was "The Most Important Event of Lest Year.' Minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved, and one bill was presented and paid.

Mrs. George Bradley gave a very interesting report of the county convention, stating that she had chosen three highlights of the day, the beautiful weather and enjoyable drive, the Queen's speech heard in the hall, and finally the election of a member of the local branch as county president, Mrs. N. H. Robinson.

A short essay on "The History of Missisquoi County," as written by Lester Solomon, in February, 1933, was read by Mrs. N. H. Robinson, who was his teacher at the time. Mrs. H. Guthrie read an excellent paper entitled "Our Arms of Canada" which was immensely interesting.

The branch delegate to the convention at Macdonald, Mrs. George Bradley, being unable to attend, Mrs. J. Thomas was named as substitute.

CONCERT GIVEN IN CHURCH AT DRUMMONDVILLE

Pastor of All Nations Church, Montreal, Assisted by Festival Choir, Entertains at Musical Concert.

Drummondville, June 8.—A musical concert was given at the Drummondville United Church by Dr. Katsunoff, pastor of the All Nations Church of Montreal, assisted by the Drummondville Festival Choir under the direction of Mr. C. E. Olive. Mrs. Katsunoff and Mrs. A. Swanson acted as accompanists for the evening.

The concert opened with "God Save the King" and the following programme was presented: Group of English, Scotch and German songs, Dr. Katsunoff, selections by the choir; group of Bulgarian and Ukranian folk songs, Dr. Katsunoff; address, "Music and Life," Dr. Katsunoff; two numbers by the choir; closing group of songs, American and Canadain songs and a request number "The Stranger of Galilee" Dr. Katsunoff.

Rev. L. A. MacLean thanked the performers for their services and the programme closed with "O Canada." Refreshments were served those who took part by the Women's Association, and candy was sold during the evening. The proceeds were very satisfactory.

A.Y.P.A. HEADS NAMED

The annual meeting of the Anglican Young People's Association was held in St. George's Hall and officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: Mr. W. Walker, president; Mr. John Minshall, vice-president; Miss Betty Olive, secretary; Mr. B. Templeman, treasurer.

The following committees were also appointed: Entertainment, Messrs. Clive Liddle and Donald Millar; social, Misses Fay Gauthier and Hortense De Verteuil.

Miss Lucette Dulieux was put in charge of the Association's publicity committee. At the close of the business period refreshments were served.

The question of a lawn social was tabled until July. Paul Gingras sent twelve volumes for a farm bookkeeping contest and the secretary was authorized to send Mr. Gingras a hearty vote of thanks. After the meeting was adjourned tea was served.

TWINS IN EARLY PLANE RIDE

Phoenix, Ariz., June 8.— (AP) — Mrs. Henry Stark of Wilmington, Del., came west a week ago to adopt a baby. She made reservations with an airline for a return trip for "two." The stork brought twins, a boy and a girl. She wired her husband: "Can't decide which to bring, so bringing both." She changed her reservations to "three" and boarded an eastbound plane with the four-day-old twins, packed in market baskets.

PLEASING PLAY WAS STAGED IN ULVERTON HALL

"Billy's Goat" Amuses Appreciative Audience — Members of Edelweiss Club Play Roles Capably.

Ulverton, June 8.—The Edelweiss Club of the Ulverton United Church presented the play entitled "Billy's Goat," by James F. Stone, in the Dunkerley Memorial Hall at Ulverton. A very appreciative audience gathered, and the proceeds were quite satisfactory.

The play portrayed a very extravagant family of a financial giant in the tack business. Mr. Henry Carter, the head of the firm, suffered from rheumatism during April showers and was at his wits' end to know what to do with his family.

Finally a salesman, Mr. Billy Hay, came to sell radio advertisements and he, being a bachelor, had ideas that he could manage a family while Mr. Carter, being an opportunist, took him at his word and left him in charge for one month.

Many embarrassing and humorous situations occurred and Billy Hay was unable to curb their extravagance until he deceived them by reporting that they were "broke." The house was quickly cleared of suitors seeking the Carter wealth. The play ended happily for Billy Hay and Madge Carter, but the rest of the family still remained a heavy burden on Mr. Carter when he came home and the truth came out that the firm was not bankrupt after all.

The cast was as follows: Henry Carter, Oscar Cummings; his wife, Mrs. Susan Carter, Miss Thelma Findlay; his daughters, Violet and Madge, Miss Vivian Rick and Miss Doris Davidson, respectively; his secretary, Miss Davis, Miss Nellie Waterhouse; the maid, Miss Dora Davidson; Billy Hay, the young salesman who had ideas about managing a family, Donald Rick; the two prospective suitors for the Carter wealth, Arthur Angel, a poet, Ralph Bilton, and Harold Hollinghead, an Englishman and artist, Ross Whitton.

RESUME

His attempts to help Willie Heyward, society drunk, sentenced to die for the murder of Broadway beauty Dolores Gonzales, earn Private Detective Guy Johnson a year in Sing Sing. En route to serve his prison sentence, Guy escapes his guards. As a result he finds himself saddled with Edwina Corday, goofy poetess who saves him from police—but Edwina, alas, insists on sharing his dangers just for the thrill of it; Guy's only clue to the real murderer is the half of a dime he found next to Dolores' body. The clue opens up two possibilities: Vivian, Willie's wife, wears a half-a-dime on her charm bracelet.. An item in a newspaper Personals Columns is signed HALF-A-DIME. Guy watches the Personals and at last gets a real lead: HALF-A-Dime writes someone urging her to come to the Saugerties Theatre and see the husband she thought was dead. Guy's theory is that Vivian framed Willie for Dolores' murder so that she might inherit his ten million dollars; but that HALF-A-DIME, the husband she thought dead, is blackmailing her. After numerous adventures Guy and Edwina get to Saugerties. A Bitter quarrel parts them and Guy sets out alone for the theatre, to try to find HALF-A-DIME.

CHAPTER SEVEN

EDWINA THE SLEUTH

Guy stood before the ex-barn recently converted into a summer theatre and read the huge signboard:

SAUGERTIES COUNTY THEATRE
Madame. J. L. Chambers Presents
"WHAT PRICE GLORY"
Opening Tonight!

He made for the rambling wooden building a few paces beyond, in the hope that it held the dressing rooms and offices of Madame Chambers' company. He was right! He moved to the door marked Madame J. L. Chambers and opening it, poked in his head.

A middle aged woman sat at a desk in the ornately furnished, drape hung, photograph studded office.

"Excuse me — " he began.

The woman flashed him a welcoming smile. "Oh — you're Cyril Hemingway, aren't you?" she beamed.

Before he could answer, a girl appeared through the side drape of the office. Guy blinked, then groaned inwardly. For the girl was Edwina. She was wearing heavy glasses and she'd done something to her hair to make her almost unrecognizable.

"Cyril!" she gushed and ran forward to shake his hand. "Oh, I'm so glad you decided to come. You see I'm doing an article for the New York Times on Madame Chambers' great work in the theatre — and one of her actors is down with the flu. That's why I sent for you. It's a small part— but I'm sure you can get up in it by tonight. It's a Southern lieutenant, Cyril — " She turned to Madame Chambers. "Mr. Hemingway is a Southerner — Virginia —isn't it, Cyril?"

"Alabama," Guy drawled.

"That's perfect!" cried Madame Chambers. "If you would care to read for me for a few minutes—"

'Madame, Ah would be delighted to read fo' you-all," Guy answered.

"I must be off to look for photographs for my article," Edwina said brightly, and with a rod, she left.

Guy read the lines much to Madame's delight. The reading over, he made his exit from her office and found Edwina waiting breathlessly for him.

"Did you pass?" she whispered.

"Dressing room Number Three," he nodded.

"That's wonderful! And don't worry about me. Nobody will ever recognize me with my hair this way. It's a perfect disguise."

"You've changed my whole philosophy about women. I always figured they ended at the neck. You sort of begin there — you're a wizard, I'd say."

"Well, I've just begun!" she cried triumphantly. "I'm going to get the list of the full cast and interview everyone of them — marriages, divorces — all that. I'm sure we can get a lead on Half-a-Dime by this afternoon — "

"Okay!" he beamed.

She stood on her toes and reached up, planting a sudden kiss on his cheek. "From one wizard to another," she laughed and hurried off.

Guy entered the dressing room, sat down and opened the typewritten part he had to memorize. He read it loud, rolling the phrases off in a thick Southern drawl. He became suddenly conscious that someone was watching him. He looked up and gaped. In the doorway stood none other than Cap Streeter, his buddy at the detective agency for which they both worked.

"Good morning, Flash Gordon," Cap snorted. "Where's Mingo?"

Guy swept off a chair. "Sit down, partner and rest your brains—"

"There a lot of people looking for you," scowled Streeter. "Or don't you care?"

"I heard," Guy answered.

"I came up right after a nice little conference with the boss who was entertaining some unpleasant visitors — Lt. Miller and Sgt. Koretz of the Police Force—I think you met the gentlemen when you was handcuffed to them while en route to serve sentence in Sing Sing—"

"Anybody trail you up here?" Guy asked quickly.

"I don't know — I come in circles, like a hoptoad." He lit a cigar and fastened a baleful eye on Guy. "Okay, sleuth. Let's have it. You didn't jump off a train to Sing Sing — slug a cop and run away to be an actor, did you?"

"That was secondary," smiled Guy.

"The D. A.'s gonna throw the book at you — every charge on the calendar — I figure it at fifteen years minimum — "

"Listen," interrupted Guy. "Remember that half-a-dime I found next to Dolores' body?" Cap nodded. "Well," continued Guy, "I always had the theory that it used to be a whole dime once — and remember the item we saw in the Personals Column that said: 'Sweetheart. I am surprised you thought I was dead. Signed HALF-A-DIME'?"

"I never should have read it to you," Cap said dourly.

"I figured that dime was a love charm — shared by a couple of sweeties once," Guy interrupted. "And then, here's a personals item I found while en route to Sing Sing — " he pulled the clipping out of his pocket and read: " 'Darling. Why don't you come to Saugerties Theatre Wednesday night and see your long-lost husband? Signed HALF-A-DIME'."

Cap Streeter started in sudden understanding.

"What I figure," Guy said softly, "is that Half-A-Dime is working here as an actor — so I decided as follows: One; half-a-dime has decided to blackmail his former wife, now Madame Heyward. Two: Madame Heyward will rub him out or get somebody to do it for her. Three: I ought to be here when it happens."

"And just who is this blister you call Half-A-Dime?" Cap questioned.

Guy shrugged. "That's what we ought to find out."

"Well, partner," exploded Cap, "in twenty-five years of detecting I never run into a daffier, screwier piece of headwork. I got only one suggestion — and I'm saying it, serious. I call up the cops and claim you're insane. Then you put on the crazy act, see? You don't know your name — you see things — we get a couple of alienists on our side. And we have you put away in some looney bin. With luck you're out in a couple of years — "

A knock at the door silenced him. "Rehearsal call, Mr. Hemingway," said the stage manager.

"Coming, suh," drawled Guy. He turned swiftly to Cap. "Phone the Seneca House — it's the only hotel in town — ask if Mrs. Heyward is registered there — she'd never dare register under a phoney name if she's out to get Half-a-Dime—it would be too suspicious. If she's not there, I'll do as you say. If she is — you do as I say — hang around till we get Half-A-Dime — "

He rushed out as Cap picked up the phone. Mrs. Hayward was registered at the Seneca House. It suddenly dawned on Cap that maybe Guy was right. He picked up the phone again — and put through a call for Major Willoughby, head of the detective agency for which he and Guy worked.

"Hello. Major?" he said quietly. "I can't talk long — but I just found Guy Johnson — "

Edwina appeared suddenly at the dressing room door. She saw the strange man — most evidently a detective by his looks — at the phone.

"I said," repeated Cap, "that I just found Guy Johnson — he's got a job as an actor."

Edwina waited no longer. No flat-foot was going to capture her Guy until he'd captured Half-A-Dime. She seized a lead pipe standing near the wall, and rushing into the room, raised her arm and brought the pipe down with telling effect on the top of the head of the unsuspecting Cap Streeter.

What will Guy do when he discovers that Edwina has once again gummed up the works? Read tomorrow's chapter.

CHARACTERGRAPHS OF MOSELEY

The General is stern... He is amused... He is pensive

Major General George Van Horn Moseley, U.S.A., retired, was anything but retiring when he testified before the House committee on un-American activities. The unusual camera studies above show General Moseley, often regarded as potential leader of right-wing extremists, in contrasting moods as he denounced the committee, the Administration, Communists and Jews.

W.I. SESSION HELD

The June meeting of the Sawyerville Women's Institute was held in the Mission Hall and was featured by an exhibition of antiques and unusual articles which proved very interesting.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Charles Burns, and opened with the singing of the Ode followed by the roll call. The minutes of the May meeting were read and approved after which $2.50 was voted toward prizes for the Cookshire Fair. It was also decided to purchase plants for the beds in the town lot with a view to having flowers there later in the summer. Mrs. L. H. Hunt and Mrs. J. V. Staggs were asked to attend to the purchase of same.

A decision to subscribe for twenty copies of Home and Country magazine to be sent to the publicity convener who, together with the secretary will prepare a plan by which the magazine will be passed from one member to another was reached, it being stated this would eliminate the necessity of too many subscriptions.

Plans were made to have a play presented under the management of the Scotstown branch following which Mrs. L. H. Hunt gave a very interesting report on the Annual County Convention held in Bury. The meeting closed with the Club Women's Creed.

DUBOYCE'S CORNER

Professor Hamilton and Dr. Latimer, of Macdonald College, were guests of Mr. John Mizener.

Mr. Earl Marsh and Miss Margaret Marsh, of The Brill, and Mr. and Mrs. Eben Fessenden and daughter, Betty, of Fulford, were callers at Mr. Ray Duboyce's.

Friends will be glad to know that Miss Bertha Bannister has recovered sufficiently from her recent operation to leave the hospital.

Mrs. H. Lenz, Mrs. W. Stone and Miss Wilena Stone, and Mrs. R. Duboyce and daughter, attended a Ladies' Aid meeting at the Brill Church.

Kidney Pains Disappear; Stomach Gas Relieved; Praises Mosby's Tonic!

Mrs. Houde Was in Distress with Sluggish Kidneys—Suffered Gas Pains After Every Meal—Bowels Constipated — Now Mosby's Tonic Has Relieved Her and She Says: "I Feel Like New. This Medicine Is Splendid!"

Day after day, crowds continue to flock to The Chagnon Pharmacy, 11 Wellington Street North, Sherbrooke, where the new, scientific formula, known as Mosby's Tonic, is being introduced and explained to the public of this city and vicinity by a Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as The Mosby Tonic Man. This splendid mixture of roots and herbs and other proven medicinal agents has already helped thousands (this is literally true!) in this city, although it has been known here only a few weeks. Many of the best known residents of Sherbrooke are coming forward daily with sincere statements, describing what Mosby's Tonic did for them. And even people visiting this city from other parts of Canada, including the United States, are publicly praising this new compound. For instance, just a few days ago, Mrs. Clement Houde, of St. Johnsbury, Vermont, U.S.A., who visits friends and relatives in Sherbrooke, made the following statement. Mrs. Houde is a well-known lady and what she has to say about Mosby's Tonic is worth reading. Her statement follows:

MRS. CLEMENT HOUDE, a visitor to Sherbrooke from United States, who says she can hardly believe the big change Mosby's Tonic made in her after a long period of suffering. Read her grateful statement in this announcement.

Sluggish Kidneys, Gaseous Stomach, Constipation

"For a long time I had been suffering with my kidneys, stomach and bowels," said Mrs. Houde. "As time went on I got worse, until recently I could hardly eat a thing without stomach gas and all the suffering that goes along with it. My stomach felt like it was simply swollen with gas all the time. My food seemed to stay right in my stomach and form a hard lump instead of digesting, and those distressing gas pains kept up for hours. My kidneys were disordered and I had sharp pains in my back, right over the region of my kidneys. These pains were worse in the mornings when I got up and sometimes I could hardly bend my body. Bowels were very sluggish, in fact, they almost REFUSED TO ACT without some kind of laxative. I couldn't sleep and always felt worn out. So you can see that my condition was discouraging.

Now Feels Fine: Enjoys Meals; No Distress

"Now, as I said before, my trouble kept getting worse as time went on, and although I tried many medicines I never got any real relief. Then one day I read in the newspapers about Mosby's Tonic. I went to the Chagnon Pharmacy and got this medicine. And Oh! What a change it has made in me! It has given me RELIEF! It cleared the gas and bloat out of my stomach and relieved those gas pains almost at once. Now I can eat and enjoy my meals without any distress afterward at all. It relieved my kidneys and I don't have those pains in my back any more. I get up in the mornings feeling fine. My bowels are regular, and right here I wish to state that this medicine has the finest action on a person's bowels of ANYTHING I EVER tried. I have new energy and feel better in every way. Mosby's Tonic has done so much for me that I want to endorse it to all who suffer as I did."

15 Roots and Herbs In Mosby's Tonic

MOSBY'S TONIC contains extracts from 15 of Nature's Roots and Herbs, blended with 5 other Splendid Medicinal Ingredients. These 20 Ingredients cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys, relieve rheumatic and neuritic pains caused by these sluggish organs. Suffering people say they soon feel different all over. Due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of this New, Scientific Compound is Reasonable. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—TODAY!

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as the MOSBY'S TONIC Man, is now at THE CHAGNON PHARMACY, 11 Wellington Street North, Sherbrooke, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

WINDSOR MILLS COUNCIL HOLDS FIERY SESSION

Argument Over Proposed Extension of Water and Sewer Lines Enlivens Long Meeting — Sherbrooke Firm's Request Refused.

Windsor Mills, June 8.—In a long meeting held up by dragging arguments, the Windsor Town Council managed to pass a large part of the business accumulated during the past month. The closing minutes of the meeting saw events move at a lively pitch when councillors Robitaille and Proulx had their usual monthly clash. The occasion for this month's verbal battle was the East Ward Councillor's efforts to block a proposed extension of water and sewer lines in the recently opened St. Ambroise street.

He questioned the accuracy of the estimate of $2,500 and during the course of a heated argument stated that if the work in question could be done without a referundum then it showed not be necessary to ask the people's opinion regarding the extension of waterlines to the outlying parts of the East Ward.

Alderman Proulx explained that this extension has been variously estimated at from $20,000 to $50,000 and is at present being surveyed by Engineer Dubue, of Sherbrooke, in an endeavor to obtain the exact amount.

As words flew thick and fast across the table, several excitable spectators could not resist the urge to join in and on one occasion, and without invitation, two of them took the floor, leaving the Councillors to be audience.

A request from the firm of Cinq-Mars and Paquette, distributors of Champlain Oil Products for the Sherbrooke district, asking for a reduction in the bill for electricity incurred by their recently opened service station in Windsor, was refused. The bill was for the amount of $43.59 and the stand was taken by the councillors that as no request for "special" rate had been made before the bill was incurred, the firm in question was not now entitled to any concession.

Firecrackers came in for its share of attention when a permit was requested by the Thibeault Restaurant for authority to sell them on stated days of celebration. Officer Bolduc reminded the council of the number of complaint received in past years, but after some discussion the council unanimously decided to issue the permit.

A letter from the law firm of Gervais and Veilleux was read, asking damages of $500 claimed caused to the property of Mr. Masse. The damages were alleged to have been caused by the work recently done on St. George street, when the road in some parts was lowered considerably. The matter was held over for further consideration, the councillors feeling that the damages asked were too high.

A garbage collection system which has been under consideration for two months will be given a trial during the next month. Garbage will be collected weekly, starting Monday, June 19, and a report made at the end of the month in order to ascertain the cost.

Other matters settled without overlong discussion were an agreement to appoint twelve policemen on July 2, day of the band festival in Windsor Mills, and the donation of twenty-five dollars to assist the Junior Baseball Club.

The offer of the Rankin property to the town for the sum of $3,000 was refused and the resignation of Ernest Desaulniers as chief of the Fire Brigade was held over pending further information as to Mr. Desaulniers reasons for resigning.

With several matters of business unfinished and the hour close to midnight, the Councillors decided to adjourn until June 15.

All the present bonds are a direct and primary obligation of The Montreal Catholic School Commission. They will be counter-signed by the Director of Finance of the City of Montreal, who is bound by law to retain every year from the proceeds of school taxes the funds necessary to meet the interest and sinking fund requirements of the bonded dept contracted, for amortization in forty years by the Catholic School Commission.

WAKE your sleepy appetite

Every morning eat the breakfast which does these three things

1 Gently WAKES "sleepy stomach": Drowsy morning appetites need light, tempting food. The rich goodness of crisp, golden Kellogg's Corn Flakes quickly starts your mouth watering, sharpens your appetite.

2 STARTS you quick: Once your appetite is whetted, breakfast should give you abundant "carbohydrate-fuel" to help you speed up quickly. Rich in energizing carbohydrates, Kellogg's Corn Flakes help give the drive that modern days demand.

3 Helps KEEP you going: Don't spoil a good start by a mid-morning slump. Eat a sustaining breakfast. A brimming bowlful of Kellogg's Corn Flakes, with milk or cream and sugar, releases energy for hours . . . helps keep you going strong till noon.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are so easy to serve that housewives call them "the 30-second Breakfast." Your grocer has Kellogg's Corn Flakes. Order several packages tomorrow. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

M-m-m! Do Kellogg's Corn Flakes taste good! Kellogg's is the original Corn Flakes. No other cereal has ever matched their mouth-watering flavour.
