HUNGARY SENDS A DELEGATION TO BUCHAREST TO DRAW UP TREATY WITH RUMANIA, IT IS STATED

Advices State that Besides Being Empowered to Negotiate a Separate Peace, the Delegation May Discuss the Eventual Union of Hungary and Rumania — Peace Conference Hears that Dr. Friedrich's Government in Hungary will Probably Remain in Office Indefinitely.

PARIS, Sept. 9.—(Havas)—Dr. Stephen Friedrich, Premier of Hungary, is reported in a Vienna despatch printed in newspapers here today to have sent a Hungarian delegation to Bucharest. The report states that, besides being empowered to negotiate a separate peace with Rumania, the delegation may discuss the eventual union of Hungary and Rumania.

Advices reaching the Peace Conference from Budapest indicate that the Government headed by Dr. Stephen Friedrich will probably remain in office indefinitely. It is said that Franz Heinrich's effort to establish a coalition cabinet has been abandoned, and there is apparently a general support of the Friedrich Government.

COUNCIL DEMANDS THAT GERMANY CHANGE CONSTITUTION

PARIS, Sept. 9.—(Havas)—The Supreme Council of the Peace Conference will today draft a note to be sent to Germany demanding the suppression of Article 61 of the German constitution and providing for Austrian representation in the German Parliament, according to newspapers here.

It is said that the Council considers the German answer to the note of the Council relative to Article 61 as insufficient.

CANADA'S PART IN GREAT WAR AS FRANCE SAW IT

Hon. Philippe Roy also Speaks Regarding Trade Relations between France and Canada.

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—Something of the part which Canada had played in the war, as France saw it, and considerable of what might be expected as regards Canadian and French relations in the matter of trade, were told by Hon. Philippe Roy, general commissioner of Canada at Paris, at a banquet at the Montreal Club last night, given in his honor by his friends. There was a distinguished gathering of citizens present, including representatives of the Federal Government and of the Provincial Government, and advantage was taken of the occasion to tell Hon. Mr. Roy of the high place that he held in the estimation of his fellow Canadians and of how much they appreciated the work he had done for Canada since he had represented Canada at Paris from 1911, with a special work of thanks from the Canadian army tendered by Brigadier-General C. J. Armstrong, C.B., C.M.G.

Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of the province, in seconding the eulogies towards Mr. Roy, referred to the hospitality of his offices to the provincial representative to Belgium (Godfrey Langlois) when the war broke out, and for five years had represented the Province of Quebec so worthily at Paris. The Provincial Government had had no office in Paris, and had found a friend in Mr. Roy, and the Prime Minister thanked him now. The Province of Quebec had a premier duty in having a representative at Paris, as at London, as at Brussels, and perhaps elsewhere in Europe, for it was essential that Quebec should be made known.

"We are, in this Province of Quebec, the descendants of France," said Sir Lomer. "We cannot change if we would. It is not changeable. We are loyal citizens of the British Empire, but the blood of our forefathers is in our veins, and it cannot be changed. We are French, and descendants of France, and will remain descendants of the French. French we will remain, as granite remains granite. We will remain French, as crystal remains crystal, as diamonds remain diamonds. There is no merit in remaining French because the French thought is there."

PUBLIC MEETING TO DISCUSS THE COST OF LIVING

Ald. Skinner, Chairman of the Market Committee, Invites Suggestions as to Local Public Market.

A public meeting, calling together all parties interested, to discuss present conditions at the local market, and the general high cost of living, is the announcement made today by Ald. A. C. Skinner, chairman of the market committee, who prompted by the controversy which has been going on in the Record for some days past, has taken this method to solve the problems of the local market.

"Criticisms of public matters," said Ald. Skinner, "is always permissible, and usually beneficial, and while I feel that the correspondent of the Record, who signs himself 'Local Merchant' is actuated by the best of motives, I do not think that further newspaper controversy would serve any useful purpose.

"Let us get together and try to solve the problems of our public market, and endeavor to reduce the present high cost of living in Sherbrooke.

"With this purpose in view, I would cordially invite all interested parties, including the ladies, the middlemen, the farmers, the merchants, and more particularly, the consumers, to meet the mayor and Market committee at the City Hall at eight o'clock on Thursday evening, September 11th. Those who have complaints should bring them along, and yet come prepared to make some helpful suggestions.

ENEMY MAKE PROPOSAL TO THE LITHUANIANS

PARIS, Sept. 9.—The Russian Bolsheviks have proposed peace to the Lithuanians, according to reports from Polish sources.

It was reported on September 2 that a force of Bolsheviks was surrounded on the Lithuanian front and was offering to negotiate with the Lithuanians. The next day a Berne despatch stated that formal proposals had been made by the Bolsheviks, but no confirmation of this report has as yet been received.

Winnipeg Strikers To Repudiate Their Leaders And To Confess That They Were Misled

Judge Robson Informs Men who Have Been Refused Re-employment that if They Will Admit They Made Mistake and Promise that in Future They Would Not Repeat the History of the Past, then There Was a Possibility of Reinstatement for Them at a Not Very Remote Date.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 9.—Judge H. A. Robson, at the opening of the strike probe yesterday called upon the members of unions in Winnipeg who were being refused re-employment by the employers of Winnipeg to repudiate the strike leaders, confess that they were misled, and to come out and state that in future they would not repeat the history of the past. Judge Robson made this statement to witnesses appearing on behalf of employees of the Canadian National Railways, but also included all men who had not been reinstated. If such a confession were made, he intimated the possibility of re-instatement of all those shut out at a not very remote date.

The first witness yesterday was J. Watson, of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, embracing express and clerical workers, who testified that this discrimination had been displayed towards members of the organization.

Questioned by Judge H. A. Robson, witness admitted that the Canadian National Express employees were forming a union of their own.

Commissioner Robson informed the witness that he was in a position to know that there was an obstacle to the road to re-employment of members of witness' union, that it was necessary for that body to get together and take their affairs into their own hands, when Judge Robson had reason to believe, they would be taken back. The Commissioner had placed the situation before the authorities at Ottawa. Before any move could be made toward re-employment, the way from undesirable influences.

Addressing Mr. Watson, Judge Robson said: "Just because you were led by some rascal whom you did not understand, is no reason why you cannot get back."

HAS SEEN HIS CHILDREN STARVING.

T. F. Flie, former blacksmith in the C. N. R. shops, a member of the "One Big Union," under cross-examination, exclaimed:

"I have lived in Winnipeg for years. I have seen my children starving, without boots on their feet. I have worked until late at night and then was ashamed to go home, because the sight of them made me feel that way. I am played out, and all my life I have worked hard and tired to live honestly. Would I go on strike? I would do it today and every day in the week.

"You talk of cutting off milk to children, but we cannot buy milk in the best of times.

"Do men attempt to overthrow constituted authority with their naked hands? Major Lyle and another man told a friend and myself at a meeting one night while the strike was on, that the citizens' committee was going to break the strike, and that to do so they were prepared to let the streets of Winnipeg run with blood. I was there and heard these words."

BIG UNION HAS COME TO STAY.

The Big Union, Flie said, had come to stay. Its development along harmonious lines depends on the employers.

John Gray, representing the Policemen's Union, gave testimony as to the loyalty of the force throughout the strike, and George Lovatt, also a member of the police force, gave evidence concerning participation of the force in the strike. Lovatt denied that the Trades and Labor Council had any governing direction over the force.

FOOD DISTURBANCES IN BRESTAU RESULT IN CLASH BETWEEN TROOPS AND THE PEOPLE

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 9.—Reports from Brestau say that the food disturbances in the last few days there culminated Monday in an attempt by the mobs to plunder the shops, which resulted in a clash with the police and troops. Blank volleys were fired and machine guns were posted in the streets. Many of the shops closed their doors.

Another report says that general plundering of the shops occurred, and several persons were killed or wounded in street fighting.

THE STREET RAILWAY BY-LAW

On Monday next, the property owners of Sherbrooke will vote on the Street Railway By-Law as revised. The Record believes the action of the citizens in this regard will have a far-reaching effect upon the city's advancement during the next number of years.

The defeat of the by-law would put the Street Railway question back into the arena of municipal politics. The cars would cease operation on Tuesday. The road would possibly go into liquidation with a period of indefinite length during which the bond holders will endeavor to save what they can out of it and the city will be divided between two camps, one looking to civic ownership and the other searching for some other solution of the problem.

The conditions that would prevail while this would be going on must not be disregarded. A dead street railway is a bad advertisement, and Sherbrooke could not expect favorable consideration from manufacturers seeking factory locations while the situation referred to above continued. At this moment negotiations are in progress with regard to a very large industry. Sherbrooke is said to have a very fair chance of securing it. That chance would be very greatly lessened if the vote on Monday closed down the Street Railway.

On the other hand, if the by-law is approved the Street Railway question is settled. Future disagreements will be disposed of by reference to the Quebec Utilities Commission. The West Ward extension will be built immediately. The paving work will go on. The way will be cleared for a forward movement all along the line.

Citizens should do some serious thinking this week. The by-law is defeated if it fails to secure a majority both of valuation and of votes.

The pros and cons of the by-law might be discussed indefinitely. Most citizens will be satisfied with the fact that the proposed settlement represents the result of long deliberations on the part of a special citizens' committee, that it has been endorsed by the City Council and that in the opinion of these men, as expressed by the Mayor, it is the best settlement available and there is no satisfactory substitute.

MOB TERRORIZES THE TOWN OF FERNEY

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Ferne, a town in Ireland, nineteen miles northeast of Cork, was terrorized by a mob for an hour last evening, according to a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. Fifty shops were damaged, one jewelry store being completely demolished. The loss is estimated at several thousand pounds sterling.

NO CHANGE IN SITUATION RE THE STREET RY.

It is Understood that Negotiations are Under Way by Company to Give Guarantee.

With no signs of action on either side during the day, the situation as regards the passing of the proposed Street Railway By-Law, which comes before the people on September 15th, remains practically at a standstill, and though it is believed in municipal circles that important developments are pending, these only reached the stage of rumors today.

It is announced, however, that further negotiations are under way by the company to make it possible for a guarantee to be given to the city that the West Ward extension will be built, in accordance with the terms of the contract, if the by-law is passed. This measure should swing the West Ward over in favor of the by-law, and would also, according to their own statements, remove from the opposition, D. O. E. Denault, Charles Cabana and other leaders of the opposing section.

Local representatives of the company are in communication with the Montreal office, and it would be no surprise if the announcement should come within the next twenty-four hours, that the company has agreed and arranged to give the city the guarantee suggested. This, it is believed, would be arranged through some insurance company, who would undertake to make the guarantee.

BODY OF MISSING MESSENGER BOY HAS BEEN FOUND

Was Murdered at Milford, Conn., and Bonds He Carried Stolen.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—A photograph of a youth found murdered in Milford, Conn., several weeks ago was identified yesterday at New York police headquarters as that of Benjamin M. Binkowitz, a Wall street messenger boy, who, according to the police, disappeared on August 12 with $178,000 worth of Liberty Bonds entrusted to him for delivery by his employers, Whitney & Company, bankers and brokers.

A nation-wide search was begun for the boy after his disappearance. Shortly afterwards the Milford murder occurred. Working on the theory that the stranger had been slain for the bonds he is alleged to have had in his possession, Detective Virell, of the Connecticut State police, came here today to establish identification. The boy's mother, when shown the photograph, declared it was that of her son.

BOSTON BLUECOATS GO ON STRIKE THIS AFTERNOON-CENTRAL UNION TO CALL STRIKE IF NECESSARY

Strike Vote Culmination of a Controversy between the Policemen and Commissioner Curtis Regarding the Formation of a Union — Central Labor Union, Representing Eighty Thousand Workers, Has Endorsed Policemen's Union and Announces Intention of Calling a Strike if Necessary.

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—While conciliatory efforts were in progress, state and city officials and private interests completed plans for the protection of life and property in case the policemen's strike, scheduled for late this afternoon, could not be averted. There were indications that both the police and the authorities believed the walkout inevitable, and that when the day force completed its tour of duty there would be no union officers at least, to succeed them.

A large number of special police permits have been issued for stores, banks, industrial plants and other properties.

The strike vote was the culmination of a controversy between the patrolmen and Commissioner Curtis over the formation of the union. Several weeks ago the Police Commission promulgated an order that the members of the force should not become affiliated with any outside organization. Immediately afterward the patrolmen, who had been discussing the matter for some time, formed the Policemen's Union, which was granted a charter by the American Federation of Labor. Commissioner Curtis brought charges against nineteen officers and members of the Union.

Yesterday forenoon he announced that he had found the men guilty of having violated a rule of the department. At roll call yesterday he informed the members of the department that he had suspended seven of the nineteen men, but they would be suspended from the department until sentence was imposed.

The Central Labor Union, representing some 80,000 workers, has endorsed the Policemen's Union and has announced its intention of calling a strike of all its members if necessary in case the police should strike.

INCREASE IN WAGES OF COAL MINERS IN CANADA AND UNITED STATES WILL BE THE CHIEF TOPIC

(Associated Press Despatch)

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 9.—A sharp increase in the basic wages of all coal miners in Canada and the United States, the six hour day and the thirty hour week are written large on the programme for the International Convention of the United Mine Workers of America, which opens here today. Recommendations that these demands be submitted to the operators at the coming conference at Buffalo, September 25th, will go before the delegates upon assembling and the temper of the arriving delegates, nearly all of whom are already here, presages acceptance of the recommendation. Unless granted by November 1st, the date contemplated in the recommendation, a continent wide strike in the collieries is recommended.

One of the big questions to come up before the convention is the nationalization of the mines.

"The coal miners of America look forward to nationalization as an ultimate solution of the coal problems," said William Green, Secretary Treasurer of the organization.

A policy committee of the International organization has had the question under consideration for several weeks and is expected to recommend that the Government take over the mines.

SOVIET FORCES CLAIM ANOTHER VICTORY

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The occupation of Petropavlovsk, on the Ishim River, about 175 miles west of Omsk, by Bolshevik forces is claimed in a Russian Soviet official statement received today.

RAILWAY WORKERS WILL AWAIT GOVERNMENT REPLY

(Associated Press Despatch)

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 9.—Although the national committee of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers has been empowered by the referendum strike vote of the membership to call a continent-wide strike if a wage increase demanded of the United States Railroad administration and Canada are refused, definite action will be decided on the floor of the International Convention being held here, if the railroad administration submits its answer before the sessions close. This was announced by officers of the Brotherhood this morning.

The men, according to their leaders, are determined not to accept any compromise of their demands, but will strike if wage increases of one dollar per day per man and the new working agreement asked are refused.

Diarrhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and very often total collapse.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only prompt and effectual in checking the diarrhoea, but at the same time acts as a stimulant, strengthens the heart and braces up the whole system, and one of its principal points is that it does not leave the bowels in a constipated condition.

Mr. W. H. Arnold, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., writes: "A few years ago while out thrashing, I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I was getting worse all the time. Hearing that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry was good for diarrhoea, I went into town and procured a bottle. After the third dose I felt relief, and after I had taken the fifth dose the diarrhoea had stopped. I always keep it in the house, and would not be without it."

THIRD DOSE RELIEF! FIFTH DOSE! DIARRHOEA STOPPED.

Diarrhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and very often total collapse.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only prompt and effectual in checking the diarrhoea, but at the same time acts as a stimulant, strengthens the heart and braces up the whole system, and one of its principal points is that it does not leave the bowels in a constipated condition.

Mr. W. H. Arnold, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., writes: "A few years ago while out thrashing, I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I was getting worse all the time. Hearing that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry was good for diarrhoea, I went into town and procured a bottle. After the third dose I felt relief, and after I had taken the fifth dose the diarrhoea had stopped. I always keep it in the house, and would not be without it."

See that you get the original "Dr. Fowler's". It has been on the market for the past 74 years. Substitutes may endanger your health. Price, 35c. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

This is Better Than Laxatives One NR Tablet Each Night For A Week Will Correct Your Constipation and Make Constant Dosing Unnecessary. Try It. Poor digestion and assimilation mean a poorly nourished body and low vitality. Poor elimination means clogged bowels, fermentation, putrefaction and the formation of poisonous gases which are absorbed by the blood and carried through the body. The result is weakness, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, inactive liver, bilious attacks, loss of energy, nervousness, poor appetite, impoverished blood, salivary congestion, pimples, skin disease, and often times serious illness. Ordinary laxatives, purges and cathartics--salts, oils, calomel and the like--only relieve for a few hours, but real lasting benefit can only come through use of medicine that tones up and strengthens the digestive as well as the eliminative organs. Get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one tablet each night for a week. Relief will follow the very first dose, but a few days will elapse before you feel and realize the fullest benefit. When you get straightened out and feel just right again you need not take medicine every day--an occasional NR Tablet will then keep your system in good condition and you will always feel your best. Remember, keeping well is easier and cheaper than getting well. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) are sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

THE pleasure of choosing suitable hosiery need not be marred by uncertainty as to the lasting qualities either of color or material. Although Penmans now means everything in hosiery that the toilette of the smartly-gowned woman dictates, there is still the underlying quality that has been associated with the name Penmans for generations. For daintiness without extravagance—simply remember the name—Penmans.

MAN WHO SOLD LIQUOR BROUGHT BACK TO CITY

George Beaugard Arrested in Newport by Officer J. P. Bartlett.

Special Officer J. P. Bartlett usually gets his man. Yesterday, he got another, and arrived back in Sherbrooke in company with his latest arrest, in the person of George Beaugard, alias Frank Beaugard, who was brought from the territory of Uncle Sam, by way of Newport, and an order of deportation.

During exhibition week, Beaugard was active at a little stand on Alexander street, where for a sum of money and a wink could be secured the beverage, much sought in these times of dryness, but seldom found. Naturally, George did a rushing business, until he was brought up in court on a charge laid by Bissonnet and Fought, collectors of Provincial Revenue, on a charge of selling liquor without a license, and fined $100 and costs.

Beaugard, however, according to the collectors, left the country, and was only apprehended when Officer Bartlett went in pursuit, and arrested him near Newport. Deportation followed, and Beaugard is now back in Sherbrooke, awaiting further proceedings.

Grass Grows Two Feet a Day. The giant bamboo grass of Japan and China grows at the rate of two feet a day in some instances, and sometimes to the height of 150 feet and a diameter of two feet. A clump is planted and it widens over the landscape with remarkable rapidity. The bamboo takes the place of steel in the construction of bridges in China and Japan. The farmer uses it to build his house and fence; his household furniture is manufactured from it, and the tender shoots furnish him with a delicious vegetable for his table. It supplies framework for awnings, ribs of sails and handles of rakes, material for chicken coops and bird cages, stuffing for pillows and mattresses, chopsticks for eating, pipes for smoking, brooms for sweeping, chairs to sit upon, skewers to pin the hair, hats to screen the head, paper to write on, the pencil to write with, the crab net and the fishpole.

MARRIAGES

LIBBY—TURNER. BROOKBURY, Sept. 9.—On Tuesday, September 2nd, at 7.30 o'clock the beautiful church of St. Paul's Bury, was the scene of a very pretty marriage ceremony when Miss Anabelle Beatrice, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Turner, was united in matrimony to Mr. Wolfe A. Libby, son of the late Charles Libby and Mrs. Libby, of Tomifobia.

The bride, who was attired in a mauve satin suit, with hat to match entered on the arm of her father, who gave her away and was attended by her sister, Miss Bertha E. Turner, who wore a suit of brown satin, each carrying a large bouquet of sweet peas and ferns, and to the strains of the hymn, "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," joined the groom and groomsmen, Mr. C. A. Browne, of Stanstead, at the altar, the Rev. C. T. Lewis performing the ceremony.

Directly after the ceremony, to the peals of the wedding march, the bridal party were conveyed in automobiles to the home of the bride's parents where a sumptuous wedding supper awaited a large number of invited guests, the table decorations of potted plants, golden rod and ferns. The bride received in a gown of navy messaline, the bridesmaid being attired in pale green with satin trimmings.

The bride's gifts to the organist, Mrs. C. T. Lewis, and to the bridesmaid, were pearl lace pins, and to the groom, a pearl tie pin. The groom's gift to the bride were pearl earrings, and to the bestman, pearl cuff links.

The happy couple will for the present make their home in Tomifobia. Some of the out of town guests were Rev. and Mrs. C. T. Lewis, and son, Archie Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. McRae, of Bury; Mr. and Mrs. P. O'Leary, and Mr. Ray Brown, of Tomifobia; Mr. and Mrs. J. Cloutier, of Cookshire, and Miss L. Turner, of Sawyerville.

HUNTER—DUNSMORE.

A very pretty wedding took place Tuesday evening, September 2nd, at the residence of Lt. Col. W. W. Her bouquet was dark red Richmond roses, tied with chiffon streamers. The bride's mother was gowned in black satin. The best man was Mr. Thomas Hunter, brother of the groom.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. Brundage, of the Methodist Church, the guests numbering seventy-five were served with refreshments, the handsome wedding cake occupying the centre of the table, the house being tastefully decorated with quantities of flowers.

The bride wore going away a handsome suit of chiffon taffeta silk, Copenhagen blue and small taupe colored satin hat with ostrich mount and marabou neck piece.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter left for Montreal, where they will spend a few days with the bride's brother, before sailing for India, where they will make their home.

Here is how any woman can easily and quickly remove objectionable, hairy growths without possible injury to the skin: Make a paste with some powdered delatons and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is a painless, inexpensive method and, excepting where the growth is unusually thick, a single application is enough. You should, however, be careful to get genuine delatone.

PLANS ARE LAID OUT FOR THE V. O. NURSES' CAMPAIGN

House to House Canvass will be Conducted to Aid Worthy Institution.

A special meeting was held yesterday of the officers and executive of the local association of the Victorian Order of Nurses, in the Y.W.C.A. assembly hall, the attendance being quite representative. Mrs. A. W. Blue presided, and all arrangements were made for a house-to-house campaign to raise funds for the benefit of the local association.

A plan of the city was on hand and sixteen captains were appointed, with power to choose their own assistants, to whom the streets were allotted. The campaign will open on Tuesday, September 16, and continue Thursday and Friday, and it is hoped will be successful in relieving the association from its present embarrassment, which is due to no one cause, but to various circumstances. It is well known that many small cities and towns no larger than Sherbrooke maintain two V. O. nurses, and it is felt by those interested that this city will not allow a work which has been tried and not found wanting, to be given up, thus taking a backward step.

Miss White, for a number of years secretary of the V.O.N., was appointed to visit the industrial manufacturers, and also take charge of the publicity work. No details of the campaign was overlooked, and the meeting adjourned at 5 o'clock.

LOCAL Y.W.C.A. TO SEND DELEGATE TO CONVENTION

Gathering in Hamilton will be First in More than Five Years.

It was announced yesterday at the regular monthly meeting of the Y.W.C.A. that in November the first convention of the Dominion Council since the year 1913, before the war, would be held in Hamilton, Ont., and that consequently the meetings would be very important. Every branch of association work would be discussed, and able and distinguished speakers would be present, and it was urged that delegates would be sent by every branch. No definite action was taken in the matter, but a delegate from the Sherbrooke Association will be appointed at the next meeting.

Mrs. S. A. Jones presided and the meeting opened with the reading of a psalm and the Lord's Prayer.

After the minutes had been read and confirmed, a letter was read from Miss City Searling, Toronto, in reference to a trained secretary for the Sherbrooke Association.

The writer pointed out that the difficulty of securing a person of the qualifications desired, as most of the secretaries were engaged, but added that graduates from a training school now being carried on would soon be available. Other suggestions were made, but it was finally decided to make no change until Christmas. Mrs. Lawrence reported in regard to needed renovations and improvements in the house, which added greatly to its appearance and comfort, and all expenses in connection were authorized to be paid.

The following educational committee was appointed: Mrs. M. R. MacLeod, Mrs. David Wilson and Mrs. Powers, with one of the number as convener. The committee will be expected to take an interest in the various classes and clubs connected with the association, and to assist the secretary in any work undertaken by those attending or belonging to such classes or clubs. The report of the secretary and the report of the house superintendent were full and satisfactory, and were heard with much satisfaction, as indicating that the year is opening under prosperous conditions.

AGENT IS SELLING MIXTURE TO FARMERS AT HIGH COST

Mr. L. C. McClintock Says Compound is Worth Much Less than Price Being Charged.

(Special to The Record.)
KNOWLTON, Sept. 9. — That a gentleman with ideas of the "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" school, has been touring Brome County, selling to the farmers a mixture of peat and lime, at twenty dollars per ton, is the fact that has come to the ears of Mr. L. C. McClintock, agronomist for Brome County, and who said today that the mixture was by no means worth what it was being sold for.

"The mixture," he said, "doubtless has its place and its merits, but we cannot recommend it as twenty dollars per ton, which I am told, is the price to the farmers."

"Ground limestone of the best quality ought not cost more than eight dollars per ton, and even quick lime would not be more than fourteen dollars. Everybody knows that ordinary peat, in most places, can be had for little more than the cost of hauling from almost any swamp."

A Difficult Question.
One day I was getting dinner in my tent and the usual company of natives watching the performance, when there came along a couple of men who had just landed and who, evidently, had never seen an Eskimo before. I overheard their conversation, relates Rev. S. Hall Young in his book, "Adventures in Alaska." "Say, Jim," said one, "just look there. Did you ever see the like?" (A pause.) "Say, do you think them things has souls?" "We-e-ll," drawled Jim, "I reckon they must have. They're human bein's. But I'll tell you this; if they do, they've all got to go to heaven, sure; for the devil'd never have them around."

WILL HAVE GOOD TIME

YOUNG COMPANIONS WITH THE PRINCE OF WALES.

Trips of the heir to the British Throne Will Not Be Too Formal — An Account of the Men Who Will Compose Royal Party During the Visit to the Dominion of Canada.

CANADIAN officers who met the Prince of Wales in England or France—and there are a host of them—agree that he is a most likeable and unaffected chap, who will do his best to have a good time while he is in Canada and the United States. Nor would the most strait-laced begrudge it to him, for it is not to be forgotten that he has been under the strain of war for five years, and is entitled to all the relaxation that he can get. The Prince is not making the error that was made by his grandfather, when he visited America about sixty years ago, for most of his considerable entourage is made up of men about his own age. But the other Prince of Wales was surrounded by men old enough to be his father, all carefully and prayerfully selected for him by the Prince Consort. They guarded him day and night, cut him off from many enjoyments natural to a young man, and clothed his visit with a stiff pomp that was never enjoyable to so genial a person as Edward VII.

His chief attendant and mentor will be Sir Sidney Greville, a younger brother of the Earl of Warwick, and Sir Sidney will divide his responsibilities with Lord Claud Hamilton, the latter a fellow officer with the Prince in the Grenadier Guards. Sir Sidney, who is not to be confounded with the character in the Mutt and Jeff cartoons, was a member of King Edward's household, both before and after his accession, and was the King's intimate companion. He began his official career as private secretary to Sir John Gort, who the latter was Under Secretary of State for India, but in a short time had attracted the approving regard of Lord Salisbury, who invited him to become one of his private secretaries. He proved invaluable for attending to all those social duties which the Salisburys so heartily disliked, and remained with Lord Salisbury both in and out of office. Later he was made equerry to King Edward, who was then Prince of Wales, and on his ascending the throne was appointed private secretary to Queen Alexandra. Under King George he was made eventually controller of the royal household, and chief mentor to the Prince of Wales. Sir Sidney Greville is a man of mature years, sound judgment and boundless tact.

More a contemporary of the Prince, is Lord Claud Hamilton, who won a D.S.O. in the present war by conspicuous gallantry. The Hamiltons have long been closely associated with the royal family, and the father of Lord Claud, Lord Charles, was chief of the Household of Edward VII until his accession, and afterwards was one of the Lords-in-Waiting. Lord Claud's aunt, the late Duchess of Buccleuch, was Grand Mistress of the Robes, and of the Household of Queen Victoria, and later filled those critical roles for Queen Alexandra. Lord Claud is familiar with court life, and is one of the most intimate personal friends of the Prince. Another equerry who, like Lord Claud, was the almost constant companion of the Prince of Wales at the front is Capt. the Hon. Piers Lech, whose name, we are informed by Cunliffe-Owen, an authority on all such matters, is pronounced Lee.

He belongs to the Grenadier Guards, was a former A.D.C. to the Duke of Connaught, and is a younger son of Lord Newton. The latter belongs to that rather restricted group that can boast of being on terms of intimacy with King George and Queen Mary. Lord Newton is hardly the sort of man one would expect to find in this altered position, for he has been called the Labourer of the House of Lords, witty, unconventional, a humorous, philosophical philosopher. A Conservative in politics he is indifferent to party discipline, and frequently has acted and voted in opposition to his leaders. On one memorable occasion, he thus apostrophized the Marquis of Lansdowne: "We have the most profound admiration for your character. We respect you as a man, as a husband and as a father. But as regards your orders we propose to act in a precisely different direction." He said that Lord Rosbery was a "sort of political prima donna," which we consider a lordly joke, and quite as thrilling as his description of the House of Lords as a "hybrid between a registry office and a debating society." It is said that Capt. Lech has inherited the side-splitting characteristics of his father, and can acceptably fill in as modern York.

It is perhaps not understood what responsibilities are upon the men chosen as the companions of a future King. If in any manner he gets in wrong, the blame is placed upon the shoulders of those who are supposed to advise him. However, these are English gentlemen, and have an English gentleman to deal with, which is somewhat different to having a German prince to escort. Nevertheless, the experience is a new one, and might well be trying for the Prince. In Canada, of course, he will be at home and among old friends. In the United States he will be in a different environment, but there will have the value of the advice of Col. Sir William Wiseman, who served two years at the front, and then came to the United States to be the chief liaison officer between that country and Great Britain. He has the confidence and the friendship of the President, and the chief members of the administration, and the arrangements for the Prince's visit are largely in his competent hands.

Preparedness. "When my husband proposed to me the poor fellow's voice stuck in his throat." "Then how did you know he was proposing?" "Well, you see, I was afraid that might happen, so I had taken lessons in lip reading."—Boston Transcript.

Austria Now. Austria is left by the peace treaty a state of about 6,000,000 of people inhabiting a territory of between fifty thousand and sixty thousand square miles. She recognizes the complete independence of Hungary, with its population of over 50,000,000 and its area of 260,000 square miles.

His Phoney Best. "Hubby!" "Yes?" "In to-day's daily storyette the husband taken the wife in his arms and sings to her sweetly." "Prud I ain't much of a singer, my dear," said Mr. Youngbub, dubiously. "But you can sit on my knee and we'll turn on the phonograph."

Captured 45 Huns Single-Handed

THE Canadian troops, fresh from their victory at Amiens, were assembled the last week in August, 1918, behind the Arras front. They had been brought there from the scene of their recent triumph, by motor lorries reaching the scene of their new drive a few days before the attack. As in the Amiens offensive, they were to be used as shock troops, a role suited to the Dominion men.

Midnight, August 25-26, it started to rain. Zero was at 3 o'clock in the morning of August 26. It was pitch dark when the men began to move into the assembly trenches. The officers, waiting for the moment of advance, had to strike matches to see their watches. The rain ceased-up before the attack was made, but the clouds were still low.

Monchy-le-Preux, the objective of the 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles, had been a target for the British guns for many months. Situated on a hill some hundreds of yards north of the Arras-Cambrai road, it had command of the country for miles around, and although not so extensive as Vimy Ridge was fortified in such the same way as that point had been before its capture in the spring of 1917. Nothing remained of the peace-time Monchy-le-Preux. It was a military fortification only. Old houses were rebuilt into strong gun emplacements. No soul walked its streets except the German officers who had converted its simple dwellings into shelters for death-dealing instruments.

The British trench in front of Arras cut the Arras-Cambrai road about three miles from the town. Between it and Monchy-le-Preux were four heavily fortified German trenches, and over them pointed the guns on the top of the hill itself. The British had down a heavy barbed wire on the morning of August 26. The whistles blew at three o'clock, the heroes of Amiens rose from their trenches and followed the fringe of the fire screen over No Man's Land into the first German trench. The heavy clouds hanging over the field of battle were lurid with the bursting shells. Through the alternate darkness and blaze of the night, over uneven ground made slippery by the rain, the men went forward.

They encountered some stiff fighting in the trenches. The enemy from his hidden gun emplacements took heavy toll of the passing troops. The two companies of the 5th C.M.R.'s which went over first lost most of their officers. Company lost its captain, and on Lieut. Rutherford, who was in command of the ninth platoon, developed the command of the company. He brought forward his men to the fourth trench just as dawn was breaking.

The order of the day was that when the fourth and last trench before the town had been reached two patrols were to be sent, and the position consolidated. A company held the trench to the right of C company, between it and the Arras-Cambrai road. The two companies arrived at the objective at about the same time. Lieut. Rutherford disposed of his men on the left of the town frontage and went down the trench to confer with the officer of a company about the next move. In his absence the British put a barbed wire down in front of the town. A company men retired to the left and set a mine charge in some shell holes and shrapnel. When Rutherford returned he could not see his men anywhere.

Assuming that they had gone into the town he proceeded up the slope towards the town of Monchy. He advanced to a strongly fortified gun post. He saw a lot of Germans standing around, but he still thought this his men had captured the place and that these were prisoners. He advanced fearlessly, his revolver in his hand. Then he noticed that the Germans still held their arms. He motioned for them to come down to him. They in turn beckoned for him to come to them. This he unflinchingly did.

"You are my prisoners," he said. "We? No, you are our prisoner," said one of the Germans in broken English. "You are mistaken," answered the Canadian officer. "My men have surrounded the hill. The town is mine."

The German officer invited Rutherford to enter the "pill-box." "No. I'm all right here," replied the Canadian coolly, at the same time revolving plans in his head to get his men up the hill.

He did not lose his presence of mind for one moment, and the German will soon began to weaken before that of the Canadian officer. Incredible as it may seem the whole garrison, consisting of 45 men, two of whom were officers, laid down their weapons before the Canadian. Three machine-guns were included in the surrender.

Lieut. Rutherford was awarded the Victoria Cross. Charles Smith Rutherford was born near Colborne, Ont., in 1892. He is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rutherford. He attended the district school near Colborne, and before going overseas was engaged in farming. He enlisted March 2, 1916, in the 53rd Toronto Battalion, and went overseas as a private. In England he was transferred to the 5th C.M.R.'s, and went with that unit in June, 1916, to France, his first engagement being the attack on Mount Sarrail. He was wounded in the attack on the Regina trench, and a second time during the battle at Avion. He took part in the storming of Passchendaele Ridge and in this engagement won the Military Medal. After this he was recommended for a commission. In the Amiens drive he won the Military Cross. The V.C. returned to Canada with his unit.

Maria Botchkareva Has Written Story of Her Life. Let the Battalion of Death

MARIA BOTCHKAREVA, leader of the Battalion of Death, is one of the most dramatic figures that have flashed across Russia in all that country's history. She has told the story of her life in Yashka, which ran as a serial in the Metropolitan Magazine and is now published in book form. Illiterate peasant, she is possessed of an intelligence concerning governmental affairs almost statesmanlike; a helpless woman, ill-treated by those in whom she put her trust, she became a soldier for her country and organized and commanded the regiment of women soldiers whose bravery put that of Russian men to shame on various occasions and who savagely fought the Germans after the remainder of the army had laid down their arms.

She was a political prisoner in Siberia; she has been four times wounded in battle, besides injuries received in turbulent uprisings; she has been under sentence of death and reprieved at the ultimate moment; she has suffered many humiliations in prison. She has had to flee for her life from the country for which she has sacrificed and endured so much, lest the Bolsheviks put her to death. Yet after visiting America to plead that aid be effected only she has gone back to face whatever may await her there.

During her stay in America Maria Botchkareva, or Yashka, as the soldier affectionately called her, told her experiences in Russian to Isaac Don Levine, who has put them into English. Though the narrative seems wild and incredible, in all probability it is essentially true. The story is simple and straightforward, with a stolid frankness and with an amazing effect of the dramatic. The book is of value not merely as a record of an extraordinary woman but as a picture of a nation in chaos.

Yashka reveals herself as a rough, coarse, big-hearted and unselfish woman. It is best to give a sample of her narrative:

"The larger part of the wounded were in No Man's Land and their cries of pain and prayers for help or death gave us no peace. I climbed out of the trench and crawled under our wire entanglement. There was a comparative calm interrupted only by occasional rifle shots, when I would lie down and remain motionless, imitating a corpse. Within a few feet of our line there were wounded. I carried them one by one to the edge of our trench, where they were picked up and carried to the rear. The saving of one man stimulated me to continue my labors, till I reached into the far side of the field. Here I had several narrow escapes. A sound, made involuntarily, was sufficient to attract several bullets, and only my anticipating that by flattening myself against the ground saved me. When dawn broke in the east, putting an end to my expeditions through No Man's Land, I had accounted for about fifty lives."

On another occasion Yashka was taken prisoner by the Germans. But as the enemy started to retreat with their prisoners the Russians again went over the top.

"It was a critical moment. As we were lined up the 'Hurrah!' of our comrades reached us. It stimulated us to a spontaneous decision. We threw ourselves, 500 strong, at our captors, wrested many of their rifles and bayonets and engaged in a ferocious hand to hand conflict, just as our men rushed through the torn wire entanglements into the trenches. The confusion was indescribable. I grasped five hand grenades that lay near me and threw them at a group of about ten Germans. They must all have been killed. Our entire line across the river was advancing at the same time. The first German line was occupied by our troops and both banks of the Sty were then in our hands.

"Thus ended my captivity. I was in German hands for a period of only eight hours and amply avenged even this brief stay."

Sir William Crookes Was Very Famous Scientist, Died at a Ripe Old Age

SIR WILLIAM CROOKES, who was born in London in 1832, and died a short time ago at the age of 86, began his scientific career under the direction of the German chemist, A. W. Hofmann, at the old Royal College of Chemistry in Hanover Square, and later filled appointments as superintendent of the meteorological department of the Radcliffe Observatory at Oxford (1854), and as lecturer in chemistry at Chester Training College (1855); but he soon returned to London, which remained his home for the rest of his life. In 1875 Sir William Crookes constructed the instrument now well known and in every physicist's laboratory, called the radiometer. This consisted of a number of light vanes mounted round a delicately poised vertical axis and suspended in a partial vacuum, each vane being blackened on one side and polished on the other; when exposed to light the vanes rotated, and the apparatus received the name of radiometer because it was supposed that the speed of the vanes would afford a means of measuring the light incident upon them.

It was soon realized, however, that the rotation was not a direct mechanical effect of the light, but arose from stresses set up by the radiation between the walls of the containing vessel and the vanes, and acting in and through the residual air in the globe, and in this way Crookes' work originated a new and not yet fully worked out series of problems concerning the stresses caused in rarefied gases by inequalities of temperature. Sir William also made many experiments in the field of radiant matter and found new and unsuspected properties in gases, discovering in his experiments a "fourth state" as far removed from that of a gas as gas is from a liquid.

Another subject into which Sir William has made unusual investigations has been the wheat supply of the world. In his book, "The Wheat Problem," he argued that we were within measurable distance of utilizing the last areas of land available for wheat-growing, and, therefore, with increasing population, are confronted with the danger of a shortage in the near future of a shortage in the wheat supply, unless the average yield per acre can be increased beyond its present comparatively low figure. But since wheat demands as its dominant nature nitrogen fixed in the form of ammonia or nitric acid, that result, he maintained, can be effected only by the aid of nitrogenous manures, the natural supplies of which, however, are strictly limited and insufficient for our requirements. Hence, he urged, the only hope of averting starvation lay in the artificial fixation of atmospheric nitrogen, and he prophesied that, unless that could be classed among the achievements of the chemist, the great Caucasian race would cease to be foremost in the world and would be squeezed out of existence by peoples to whom wheat or bread was not the staff of life.

Many other lines of research pursued by Sir William Crookes might be mentioned, such as his investigation in 1866 of the action of disinfectants in arresting the spread of cattle plague, his contributions to the problems of sewage disposal and his studies on the formation of diamonds and his attempts, which were successful, in producing some minute specimens, to make them by causing carbon to crystallize under great pressure. But special reference must be made to his work on one subject, spirillum, which is usually regarded as lying outside the scope of physical science. As the result of many experiments conducted with various mediums, one of whom was D. D. Home, he was led to the view that outside our scientific knowledge there exists a force exercised by intelligence common to mortals.

Some thirty years later, before the British Association in 1898, he declared that he had nothing to retract from his earlier opinions, and that he adhered to his already published statements, regretting only a "certain crudity" in his early exposition. Besides publishing a large number of scientific papers Sir William wrote, or edited, English translations of many books on pure and applied chemistry. He became editor of the Quarterly Journal of Science in 1854, and in 1859 he founded the Chemical News, which he owned and edited until his death. In 1856 he married Ellen, daughter of W. Humphrey, of Darlington, and their golden wedding was celebrated in 1906. Lady Crookes died in May, 1916. They had four sons and one daughter.

Georgian is Hitting at a .371 Clip — Ruth Has Tied World's Home Run Record.

(Associated Press Despatch) CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—As the clubs of the American League swung into the final month of the pennant race, "Ty" Cobb is driving for the batting championship, which, with the exception of two seasons, has been in his possession for twelve years.

Unofficial averages released showed the Georgian hitting .371, twenty-one points ahead of Oscar Veach, his team mate and closest rival. In 104 games, Cobb has knocked out 155 safe hits for a total of 210 bases.

Ruth has tied the world's home run record of twenty-five. In addition to driving out twenty-five home runs, Ruth tops the League in total base hitting. He has stretched 118 hits, bagged in 111 games for a total of 240 bases.

George Sisler, the St. Louis star, continues to show the way to the base stealers with twenty-seven. Chapman, of Cleveland, is the leading sacrifice hitter with forty-three.

Other leading American League batters for forty or more games include Jackson, Chicago, .348; Sisler, St. Louis, .345; Peckinpaugh, New York, .340 and Jacobson, St. Louis, .334.

CRAVATH STILL LEADS. Ed. Roush, the Cincinnati star, suffered a setback in his attack for the National League batting honors, dropping to third place with an average of .323. Cravath, of Philadelphia, clung to the leadership with .340, while Thorpe, of Boston, swung back into second place with .324. Roush, however, leads the League in total base hitting. Competing in 116 games, the Red's outfielder has slammed out 143 hits for a total of 196 bases. Cuthbert, of Pittsburgh, continued to show the way to the base stealers with thirty-one. In home run hitting Cravath is out in front with eleven.

Other leading National League batters include Meusel, Philadelphia, .318; Groh, Cincinnati, .311; Doyle, New York, .302, and Young, New York, .301.

WINDSOR MILLS, Sept. 9.—Effective pitching by "Jack" McCormick, aided by brilliant support, enabled the Windsor Baseball team to defeat the fast Asbestos nine by a score of 8 to 0, in an exciting exhibition game played here before a large crowd. Apart from the sixth inning, when the Windsorites scored five runs, the game was closely contested.

Pedler played his first game for the locals, and was given a hand by the fans, when he stepped to the plate in the first inning.

LOWER PRICES FOR CORN RULED, DUE TO STRIKES

(Associated Press Despatch) CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Sharply lower prices in the corn market today resulted chiefly from the unexpected bearish showing of the Government crop report. The general selling which took place, however, was also due to news of prospects of a nationwide strike of stockyard and packing house employees. Reports that owing to later troubles freight was piling up in eastern parts tended likewise to weaken the corn market.

REACTION SET IN AFTER A STRONG OPENING

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(Wall Street news)—The first uprush of prices accompanied rumors of a favorable turn in the labor situation. United States steel rose 1-2 points and additional early features of strength included Bethlehem steel, Republic Iron, American Loco, Marine, Studebaker, General Motors, American Woolen. Reaction soon set in, heavy profit taking being attributed to traders who disliked the sensational movement of crucible steel. That stock fell back eight points and reversals elsewhere ranged from 1 to 3. Oils and steel equipments led another rally at noon.

MAJOR-GENERAL LOOMIS CHAPTER HOLDS MEETING

First Autumn Session Dealt with Various Business Matters. The first meeting of the autumn of the Major-General Loomis Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held last evening in the club room at the Art Hall, Mrs. H. A. Odell, the regent, in the chair. After the raising of the standard and prayer, the usual routine of business was disposed of, and a very satisfactory report of the Exhibition work given by the convener. The tea set, which was on view in the Main Building, for which many tickets were sold, was drawn Tuesday evening at the theatre, Mrs. Douglas Odell holding the lucky number. Votes of thanks were passed to Mr. W. B. McCaw, the Grand Trunk Railway Co. for banks in their departments, the Fairbanks Co. for loaning scales, Miss MacLeod, Mrs. Russell Tate and all others who assisted the Chapter during the week. Plans for the work of the coming winter were talked over, and it was decided to prepare a short programme for each meeting. An educational scheme was also suggested and a committee was appointed to take the matter in hand.

Dentistry and Engineering.

It does not require much imagination to realize that pulling an elephant's tooth is something of an engineering as well as a dental job.

An example of this was when Albert, one of the biggest elephants in the Ringling herd at Madison Square Gardens, New York, had refused to eat, and the circus veterinary found a great tooth cavity which was beyond remedy by filling.

The tooth that was giving Albert so much discomfort was as large as a man's fist. After a liberal dose of cocaine had been injected, forceps as big as ice tongs were clamped to the tooth, a rope attached to the forceps, and a squad of trainers made ready to supply the pulling power.

At a given signal the trainers gave a tremendous pull, and out came the huge tooth.

In this part of dental work the unknown quantity lies in what the elephant will do. Albert had been taken out of the menagerie to prevent panic among the rest of the herd in case he developed an inclination to object to the process. However, he underwent the ordeal calmly, and as soon as his jaw was dressed he was conducted back to his stall.—TH-Bits.

Greatest of Any in Previous Years — Many Entries Made.

(Special to The Record.)
RICHMOND, Sept. 9.—Everything is ready for the opening of the Fair on Wednesday, the tenth. The staging is all complete, the settings are all finished, and nothing remains to make this the greatest Fair of years, but the opening of the gates on Wednesday morning.

Secretary Main has been busy receiving entries. The list closed on Monday night. Mr. E. J. Munroe, has charge of the gates. At the Grand Stand, Mr. Harry Hall, is on duty. He will extract a half sheckle from those who do not wish to mix with the mob.
From the Grand Stand, one can see the whole Fair.

Marshal F. T. Mappin will once more, with dignity, direct the parades and other things that need directing.
The Richmond Band, re-organized, will again gladden the assembly with strains of music.

Officer Douglas will see to it, that no sharper and his shell game will fleece unsuspecting bank managers and financial magnates. All that is needed is two fine days.

Traveling Fingers.

Typists' fingers are the most amazing travelers in creation, and are capable of going tremendous distances without the fatigue that would come to the feet and legs in performing a similar journey, say an exchange. In ordinary typewriting the hand may travel, according to an expert, 10,000 miles a year and not indicate any impairment in efficiency. This refers, of course, to the average typist in an office.

CHASE & SANBORN MONTREAL

Restoring Our Reserve Plant!

A telephone system to be normal and healthy must have a big percentage of its plant in reserve.

There must be spare positions on switchboards, spare cables in underground conduits, spare wires in underground and aerial cables, spare pins on cross-arms.

The plant in reserve must be ample, not only to meet ordinary growth, but to take care of unforeseen development such as the opening of a new car line, the cutting through of a new street, the location of a new industry in a given district.

During the war, through scarcity of material and skilled labor, our reserve plant was depleted as never before. Even necessary maintenance work had to be postponed.

Our problem now is, while keeping up with the demand for new telephones, moves, etc., to get our reserve plant back where it should be and to overtake vital maintenance and repairs so that service may be at the highest standard.

Installations from January 1st to June 30th were 36,716 instruments, with 20,341 take-outs, a net gain of more than double the same period last year.

The task of getting back to normal while growth is so rapid is a difficult one. Our chief concern is that subscribers should get the best possible service under all conditions and to this end we are doing our utmost.
