NANCY AND JANE

Could you give a home to these little girls?

Sir: Do you believe that every child has the right to a home, — a home of his or her very own? Could you give a home, or permanent home by adoption, to either of these two small girls?

Nancy on the left is 13 months old, Janey on the right a little older. If they were all white they would have families of their own — but Nancy has already had two temporary homes — she needs a foundation on which to build her life and kind, loving parents, brothers and sisters perhaps, to help her.

The Open Door Society, whose members have all adopted children like Nancy and Jane would like to tell you all about them, and many, many others like them — smart babies and older children who need you.

Will you help them?

If you have room in your home and in your heart for Nancy or Jane, please 'phone the Open Door Society:

Next week's weather

May 21 to 28

By ERIC NEAL

A pleasant week. Nights cool but days quite warm with morning frosts or mists. Light showers in the mountains and in the south. Temperature range 30-75° or higher, with 60 sunny hours.

Very warm, even sultry and bright into mid-week, with some risk of thundershowers and hail. Freezing fists or flurries in the north, then improving generally and still warmer everywhere.

Very warm and pleasant for the end of the week, although with short showers for some districts. Lilac and choke cherries in bloom; orchards next week. Fishing good in early morning, fair all day.

Independent Art Association opens annual spring show

The official opening of the Independent Art Association spring show took place last Friday at Eaton's ninth floor. The opening address was delivered by Councillor Leon Lortie.

More than 50 paintings are on view. The exhibition will be open to the public until June 11 during regular store hours.

The pictures were chosen by ballot by a team of judges from the Association, and the judging took place at a Greene avenue studio.

Many interesting projects have been planned by the association for the coming year. Announcements about these activities was made officially to the association at their annual meeting held on Wednesday at Channing Hall.

Following annual reports from various chairmen, a group of ballet students from the Studio of Classical Ballet, under the direction of Mme Seda Zare, Melville avenue, performed several excerpts from "Les Petites Mains." This was a commission carried out by Mme Zare last fall, and presented at the Sheraton Mount Royal Hotel.

Painting picnics are being arranged for the summer months. The first will be held on Saturday when a chartered bus leaving from Westmount Park near Academy road at 9 a.m. will convey a group of artists with a guest instructor for the day, to the Eastern Townships. The outing on June 24, will be a weekend trip to Ogonquit, Maine. The September 24 destination is the Metropolitan Museum in New York, at which time Eric Wesselow will talk about different periods of painting. October 15 will be the closing picnic of the season, and will take the group to Stowe, Vermont, for the purpose of painting the beautiful fall colours for which that particular surrounding is famous. Reservations for any of these events may be made by writing to Mrs. Bea Alan, 2114 Addington avenue.

Summer can be fun

Summer can be fun in the city is the goal of all the Westmount YMCA summer fun club staff as they make final preperations for their summer program.

At a recent meeting of the YMCA Youth Work Committee the group studied the whole organization of the Summer Fun Club Program. The longer they worked at it, the more enthusiastic they became. Many excellent ideas came up with regard to new places to visit — one of these trips will take place near the waterfront. Final details of this cannot be given at this time.

The members of this committee: Mrs. Sue Ancrum, Mrs. E. Chisholm, T. Finlayson (chairman), D. Y. Novinger, John Nourse, R. F. Powell, Wm. Ridley, D. R. Ross, David Matheson and David L. Taylor.

The senior staff of the Summer Fun Club have already started plans for their respective responsibilities. Ron Watt, who is the YMCA Youth Work secretary will be directing the program; Helen Logan will be assistant director, responsible for the girls program and related to other general program functions; Sue Ancrum will be assisting with major responsibilities in the swimming program. Members of our permanent YMCA staff: Elizabeth Dickson and Janet Pickford (stenographers) and John Ray, Physical director will be assisting in many areas.

The full staff of counselors has not been completely filled and there are still openings for applications for boys and girls 16 years-of-age and over.

For further information about the Summer Fun Club program and how to register please contact the Westmount YMCA — WE. 7-3916. Folders are available from any staff member.

Driver averts gas explosion of big tanker

A young driver's courage and skill in steering his runaway gasoline-filled truck backwards down Atwater avenue Monday, saved the area from possible explosion and loss of life.

Five people were slighly injured and eight cars heavily damaged as the heavy truck, without brakes, ran down the hill backwards from Dorchester boulevard, crossed several street intersections, two railway tracks and ended up against a lamps post on Notre Dame street. The truck's brakes had failed as it climbed the Atwater hill to Dorchester, and it began rolling back.

Driver Andre Clouarte, 21, of 2050 Lepailleur street, had guided his heavy vehicle with its load of 2,000 gallons of gasoline, as best he could. Shaken and in shock after the accident, he took a taxi home.

Firemen were called to the scene shortly before 10 p.m. for fear of an explosion of the gasoline in the truck. Police cleared all spectators.

The injured people were all passengers in north-bound cars, which had been clipped by the truck as it went by. Injured were: Mr. and Mrs. Rene Morin, 4664 St. Hubert street; Harold Young, 44, 616 Second avenue, Verdun; Donald Paul, 27, 1730 Tasse street, St. Laurent; and Alcide Duhamel, 64, of 2510 Workman street. All were treated at the Montreal General Hospital.

E/Z Players to audition

The E/Z Players of Greater Montreal will hold auditions for their fall presentation of the Constance Cox's adaption of Oscar Wilde's "The Picture of Dorian Gray" on Friday, May 27, at 8 p.m., at the Lachine High School Auditorium, 5050 Sherbrooke street, Lachine.

Candidate feels Liberals will beat Union Nationale

In addressing a meeting of his supporters, Richard Hyde, the official Liberal candidate, and member of the last Provincial Parliament for Westmount-St. George, expressed his conviction that the wave of public sentiment throughout the Province could leave no doubt that a Liberal government would replace the Union Nationale administration after the coming election.

He recalled that the late Mr. Duplessis himself had often declared that an administration, after 15 years, becomes worn out and corrupt. Apart from five years during the war, the Union Nationale has been in power since 1936, and all of its principal Ministers have been in the government since that time.

Mr. Hyde feels that, ever since the controversial appointment of Mr. Barrette as Premier, internal dissension has characterized the Union Nationale. Starting with Dr. Lizotte, the former Member for L'Islet, a large number of Union Nationale Members have refused to stand as candidates for the coming election. Criticism is continually being made concerning the methods by which their candidates are being chosen.

In contrast, the Liberals have presented a young team supporting a new leader, and with the unanimous approval of the Quebec Liberal Federation, has adopted and published a platform with specific proposals.

Mr. Hyde stated he felt the usual attitude of the Union Nationale was to close its eyes to such glaring problems as unemployment, unfair electoral representation, water pollution, unfair taxation, examples of government waste and scandals.

The Liberal Party, he said, is offering constructive proposals to remedy these and many other problems. He expressed his conviction that the public now realizes that the Party, or group, which has formulated ideas, should be the Party to form a government with a mandate to carry its proposals to their final conclusion.

Mr. Hyde ended by citing reports from all over the Province indicating that more and more former supporters of the Union Nationale are now opposing their Party, and are actually working for the Liberals.

PQSL warns — drive safely

With the summer's sharp increase in traffic vehicles and motorists driving long distances, people should, more than ever, practice safe-driving techniques, according to Philippe Hurteau, president of the Province of Quebec Safety League.

The Queen's Birthday weekend is a good time tto start driving with extra alertness, Mr. Hurteau said. He made the following suggestions to motorists:

1 — Take your car for a complete check-up — steering, brakes and light must be efective.

2 — Drive at a safe distance behind the car in front of you. Should he stop suddenty, you had better stop too. Have a gap of one car length for every ten miles of speed.

3 — Take a coffee break every two hours. It breaks the monotony of a long drive, helps to prevent "highway hypnosis."

4 — If you are still tired, let someone also drive. If you're alone, park at the side of the road and take a nap.

5 — Observe traffic laws. Drive slower at night, in fog and when road conditions are poor.

Wrong lane, cars collide

A two-car collision at the Glen road and Saint Catherine sent the driver of one of the cars, David M. Hama, to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital for treatment and X-rays for pains in his leg.

The other driver, William Readdy of 3457 Jeanne Mance, said he was driving north on the Glen road when Hama's car entered the wrong lane of traffic. He tried to stop, but was too late.

It was believed Hama was not seriously injured.

Launching the Shriners Circus full time job for Bill Singleton

Launching the annual Shriners Circus in the Forum has become a full time job for W. J. "Bill" Singleton, who has held the post as general-chairman the past five years.

In mid-January each year he turns over most details of operation of the firm of film councillors bearing his name to subordinates, then he takes charge of the myriad preparations for the circus. This year it's at the Forum, May 21 to 28, with matinee and evening shows daily, Sunday excepted.

Mr. Singleton, who resides in the N.D.G.-Snowdon district at 5016 Lacombe avenue, was with Associated Screen News Ltd. 32 years, before resigning as general manager in 1955 to open up his own 'shop.' He is a past-potentate of Karnak Temple Shriners, a 32nd Degree Mason and Knight Templar. A fine background in social service and welfare work makes him thoroughly familiar with the aims of Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children, which care for handicapped youngsters requiring special treatment, whose parents are unable to undergo the terrific expense involved.

In an interview Mr. Singleton, who is blue-eyed and blond, with a general demeanor belying his 60 years, told only part of the story. He gave us a quick rundown.

"First of all I'd like to emphasize that we get the most cordial and complete co-operation from the Forum people. Everyone from v.p. and general manager Frank Selke down to the youngest usher and maintenance man; superintendent Jim Hunter, box-office chief, Don Smith—they all go far out of their way to ease our tasks.

"In December, before Christmas, we start shaping plans. There are supplies to be bought, committees and sub-committees to be formed. The Shriners of Karnak Temple all pitch in. And a high percentage of our 1,300 membership accept assignments."

He went on to speak of the circus program. This year it has been boosted to 98 pages, crammed with pictures and advertising. It is the biggest source of revenue apart from ticket sales. With program advertising the 1959 circus committee was able to hand over more than $32,000 to the Shriners Hospital in 1959. This year the objective is $50,000. "And I think we'll make it," Singleton said with his contagious grin.

Over 100 volunteer salesmen, extracting no commissions whatever work at selling the ads. Montreal's advertising agencies are extremely generous waiving aside all commissions on big accounts, and the small ones, too.

"Then there is our members ticket sale. There are weekly meetings of the circus committee at which progress reports are made. Promotion is a vast undertaking, and no medium is overlooked," said Mr. Singleton. "I talk to service clubs B'nai B'rith Lodges, Masonic groups of all ranks —anyone who'll give me a hearing. We prepare posters, window cards and blown-up pictures indicating our hospital activities. Careful records must be kept of each ticket out, our selling organization is so complex. Press and radio interviews are arranged and television presentations planned.

"We get excellent help from the Catholic and Protestant School boards. They aid us in the distribution of 350,000 exchange coupons for school pupils."

He added that Shrine clubs in Lachute, Sherbrooke, Shawinigan Falls, Three Rivers, Cornwall, Granby, Ormstown, Champlain, N.Y. and Plattsburg send in delegations of children in bus loads. Shriners and public bodies in these districts plan the outings for their own children.

Then there are 10,000 crippled and underprivileged children from various hospitals, homes, orphanages, and other institutions in Greater Montreal, who are Karnak guests at Tuesday and Wednesday matinees. Shriner Charlie Douglas has been in charge of this project for several years. Tickets are provided by a group called "Karnak Daddies" all paid for by Shriners. Much of the recruiting of the 10,000 happy youngsters is handled by the Montreal School for Crippled Children.

At the direction of E. Ed. Donohoe, Illustrious Potentate of Karnak Temple, Mr. Singleton has recently visited New York, Hartford, Conn., Harrisburgh, Pa., Chicago, St. Louis, and Toronto. In all these centers he scouted circus performances and feature acts with the long view to the 1961 Shriners circus at the Forum.

"We are always on the lookout for new talent, suitable for our show, pleasing to our public. We mustn't stand still," he concluded.

WE SAY

Sympathy for teachers starts to wear thin

TEACHERS tell us their salary scale arrangements with the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal are not yet resolved.

Well, when were they ever?

Like so many groups bargaining collectively, they never really are satisfied.

Somehow the continuing plaint of teachers is beginning to sound hollow.

They have won many concessions and improvements in recent years until their status has become rather enviable to many classes of the taxpayers who pay their salaries.

Long summer, Christmas and Easter holidays are enjoyed by few others. Hours of intensive work in the teachers' five-day week are not long, either. Comparable conditions are not often found in business or industry, or the other professions for that matter.

We don't deny teachers' right to bargain like any labor union for the best terms they can get.

But here in the Great West End, where is concentrated the major part of the Montreal area's Protestant educational activity, both parents and property owners do not offer the great sympathy for the teachers' complaints which once was generously forthcoming.

BY THE WAY

IN an attempt to put a little fun into the grim business of athletics, a study is being made of "mathematics and the science of muscle movements."

By training a man according to an algebraical formula and then hypnotising him, it should be possible, with the aid of energising pills, auto-suggestive capsules, and tranquillising tablets, to enable him to win a race which he would otherwise have lost.

Beachcomber

YOU SAY

Gov't should know youth is necessary

Sir: Our educators, industrialists and statesmen must lay the emphasis upon youth when discussing the future of our country. In the degree that we encourage youth, whether along educational, industrial or professional lines, do we contribute constructively to the welfare of Canada?

A frustrated youth becomes embittered and susceptible to anti-democratic propaganda. Dictators recognize this since the moment they get power they do their utmost to control and shape the thinking of the nation's youth. In Nazi Germany, the mind of the growing child was poisoned with the bastard belief that the German race was superior and that other races were subhuman. Every student in the Russian schools and universities is fed upon Marxian Manna. Karl Marx is the Deity and his Das Kapital the Holy Scripture which it is blasphemy and treason to doubt or disobey.

We must inculcate a healthy-Canadianism which will be immune to the doctrine and dogmas of right or left wing totalitarianism.

Those who are interested in the welfare and future of this great and growing land were pleased to note that in the recent general elections a goodly proportion of the candidates and quite a number of which won seats in the Nation's Parliament were in their late twenties and early thirties.

One brilliant member of the Ottawa Government who began his public career at an early age is the Hon. Edmund Dave Fulton. He was born in 1916 and was first elected to the House of Commons in 1945 and re-elected at succeeding elections. When the Diefenbaker government took office, he was appointed Minister of Justice. He is the youngest Minister since Confederation to hold this important portfolio. He comes of a very distinguished family whose members held high office in British Columbia. He was a Rhodes Scholar and served overseas. His rise to eminence should inspire and encourage young Canadians to prepare themselves to participate in all that concerns the well being of their fellow citizens.

Canada is on the threshold of an era of tremendous development that will give it an important place in the family of nations. In this young land it is character and ability that count rather than rank or wealth. Many who hold high office are of humble origin who because of ambition and opportunity became recognized leaders in their several professions or services.

The Hon. Dave Fulton stands forth as a distinguished Canadian who reflects great credit upon the Nation and the Office to which he is called.

Bernard Rose.

SOME time ago I referred to Mr. Garth Wensleydale as having a face like a half-dead cod. It was Mr. "Ted" Miffleigh-Snurdle I was meaning to describe. I apologise to Mr. Wensleydale for any embarrassment caused by this error. It was a very natural error, as Mr. Miffleigh-Snurdle also has a face like a half-dead cod. In fact, on thinking it over, I withdraw my apology to the former, and shall certainly not offer one to the latter.

MUSICAL

Sharps, Flats and Naturals

Alive through their books. Part II
Amy Fay — Mark Hambourg

By FRANCES GOLTMAN

PEOPLE HAVE ALWAYS TRIED to do artistic learning too fast. Read these words from the preface of Amy Fay's "Music Study In Germany" by Sir George Grove (dated 1885), and you will realize that although styles may change, characteristics remain the same. "Will Miss Fay never oblige us with an equally charming and faithful account of music and life in the States? Hitherto musical America has been an almost unknown land to us, described by the few who have attempted it in the most opposite terms. Their singers we already know well and in this respect America is perhaps destined to be the Italy of the future, IF ONLY THE ARTISTS WILL CONSENT TO LEARN SLOWLY ENOUGH. But on the subject of American players, American orchestras and the taste of the American amateurs, a great deal of curiosity is felt, and we commend the subject to the serious attention of one so thoroughly able to do it justice."

EVERYTHING in this enlightening and instructive volume is of benefit to pianists and teachers and musicians in general and a revelation to the layman. And Amy Fay's gift in imparting wit is just marvellous! You imagine you are present watching everything as if you were a guest. She met and associated with most of the famous artists and studied with Karl Tausig, Theodor Kullak (I once wrote an article about his wonderful book on octave playing that I had studied in student days in these columns) Franz Liszt and Ludwig Deppe. She raves over Deppe, a great German piano teacher and conductor whose method was unique and original. From her writings I would say he had the gift of imparting what he taught and was able to explain properly to the student. (That makes a great teacher on any subject).

ANOTHER BOOK THAT I ACQUIRED RECENTLY, written in a different strain but equally interesting is "FROM PIANO TO FORTE" by MARK HAMBOURG. This famous pianist is the only surviving member of the celebrated Hambourg Trio and their pedagogue father Professor Michael Hambourg. I shall write about this foursome in detail next week.

"FROM PIANO TO FORTE" is realy an autobiography, 310 pages, a fine edition published in 1931. There are so many artists written about that I have heard from childhood on that it is doubly interesting. Having met quite a few also, I feel that I can really understand the content that much better.

HERE ARE SOME WHO PLAYED IN MONTREAL . . . most of them are or were close personal friends of Mark Hambourg, Benno Moiseiwitsch . . . Ethel Leginska . . . Leopold Auer . . . Pablo Casals . . . Albert Spalding . . . Harold Bauer . . . Mischa Elman . . . Flonzaley Quartet . . . Leopold Godowsky . . . Bronislaw Huberman . . . Harry Adaskin . . . Alfred Cortot . . . Moritz Rosenthal . . . Jascha Heifetz . . . Sir Ernest MacMillan (Spoken of in the book as Dr. Ernest as he was not knighted at that time) . . . Desire Defauw (now Dr.) . . . Fritz Kreisler . . . Josef Hofmann . . . Ossip Gabrilowitsch . . . Jacques Thibaud and Georges Enesco. Of these I met Alfred Cortot, Dr. Defauw on a number of occasions, Moiseiwitsch at a luncheon in his honor, Harold Bauer at a special afternoon to promote a certain firm's edition of works for teachers and only three were present . . . and Sir Ernest MacMillan in Vancouver at the first Vancouver International Music Festival.

SAYING OF THE WEEK: The value of a principle is the number of things it will explain; and there is no good theory of a disease which does not at once suggest a cure. RALPH WALDO EMERSON. 1803-1882.

Bicycles are vehicles, subject to road rules

"Bicycles are vehicles and as such are subject to all the rules of the road."

More than an ordinary quotation this is a warning from Phil J. Elliot chairman of traffic safety for the West End Traffic Safety Council, who states that with the rapid approach of warmer weather parents must expect the accident rate for children on bicycles to show an alarming increase unless something is done, and done NOW.

"Parents should teach their children to care for their bicycles as good, or better, than they care for their own cars," Mr. Elliott said.

The Council feels parents are buying bikes for their children and letting them take to the road without benefit of any proper instruction with regard to road rules and safety measures, and they are at fault when accidents occur.

Observing the Ten Commandments of bicycle safety should ensure an accident-free summer of bicycle driving. This, coupled with the Council's plan for driver education and testing, which will be starting this month, will ease the minds of parents, pedestrians, automobile drivers — and other cyclists — when the children are on their summer excursions.

Proficiency at driving is essential; the bicycle — especially the brakes — should be in perfect working condition, but Mr. Elliot stresses each bike should be registered and carry a licence plate.

Speaking on driving proficiency, he said test courses will be set up at West End schools this month. In addition, special classes in the schools for the study of bicycle safety rules and traffic regulations will be conducted.

The layout of the test courses is designed to test the driver so he will have complete control of the bicycle at all times. By using marked lanes and circles, obstacles, a traffic light and a stop sign, various traffic conditions and emergencies are simulated—all of which will be encountered at some time on the road.

In the obstacle area the rider weaves in and out between markers, demonstrating his balance and control. He stops twice while in this lane, using proper hand signals for each stop and start.

An intricate test to measure the driver's ability to remain calm and reasonable in heavy traffic has been devised, consisting of a figure 8. The test is made of two adjoining circles. The rider must stay within a lane 18 inches wide and show he does not become confused by others riding the circles at the same time. It also tests the rider's ability to shift balance when changing direction, at the same time keeping control of his bike while in a leaning position.

These driver training aids have been in existence for some time, and Mr. Elliot states that since youngsters started taking advantage of the courses, the safety record has improved and the condition of the bicycles has got better.

"I can't stress too strongly," he said, "the importance of the proper size of the bike and its condition. I recommend these "Ten Commandments" and hope they are followed."

"The onus of safety precautions is on the parents," he concluded. "They should teach the children to look after their bikes like they look after their health, and like the parents themselves look after their own cars."

Ten Commandments of bicycle safety

Any list of 'commandments' or 'things to do' always brings to mind one more item, usally left off any list because it would change the impressiveness of the comparison between these commandments and the originals handed Moses. In this case, as in all others, there is one more important item: When not using your bike, put it away safely and keep it locked. If, by any chance, your bike is stolen, check with police immediately — they may have already picked it up.

1. Be sure you buy the correct size bicycle.
2. Have it registered with police and obtain a licence plate.
3. Keep your bike in top running order — make sure your brakes are good.
4. Always drive in the right lane — don't dodge in and out of traffic.
5. Slow down when going through intersections.
6. Stop fully at all red lights and stop signs.
7. Don't ever take two on your bicycle.
8. Signal all stops and turns, just as though you were driving a car.
9. It is forbidden to drive your bike on sidewalks.
10. Be a considerate driver, don't have accidents, and don't cause others to have them.

Students told why Canada lost 'Fair'

One hundred and twelve students from St. Augustine High School were in the gallery of the House of Commons today when the Prime Minister reported on the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference. The students were from 3 high A, B, C and D and were the guests of the Postmaster General, the Honorable William Hamilton and had earlier "grilled" the Minister on questions ranging from Canada's stand on nuclear disarmament to why Montreal lost the world's fair to Moscow.

To the latter question the Minister replied that the decision had been reached by a democratic vote at the Bureau of International Exhibitions in Paris, but that the USSR had brought in seven satellite countries just before the deadline. "It was obvious," the Minister said, "that without the seven Communist-bloc countries, Canada would have won the fair. By refraining, however, from adopting USSR's methods Canada had preserved the respect she enjoys throughout the world. Every effort was made to obtain the fair for Canada."

The students were accompanied by Miss K. McCoy, Miss Patricia Doyle, Miss Grace Malagodi, Miss Sally Farrell, Miss Martha Baumgartner and Miss Vera Collins.

Sports car enthusiasts prepare for Tulip Rally

Once a year around this time, the Netherlands Association of Montreal organizes a Tulip Rally "Je Maintiendrai", for about 500 automobile enthusiasts throughout the Province of Quebec. This year, the rally is scheduled to take place on Saturday, May 28.

After finding a terrific interest among fellow sports car enthusiasts, the association decided to substantially increase the maximum number of entries allowed. The event is held in commemoration of the liberation of Holland by the Canadian troops in May 1945, and the stay of Queen Juliana of the Netherlands in Ottawa.

Many West End residents are taking part in this event, organized for the fourth consecutive year. The rally will start in Montreal, lunch in Ottawa, and the finish will be in Montreal. The event will be concluded with cocktails, dinner, dancing and the awarding of prizes at Victoria Hall, Westmount. Committee member J. W. van Solingen, Gray avenue, is helping with the reservations.

There will be a Tourist Class and a Sports Class. Choice of class is free. However, participants who are members of a sportscar club generally participate in the Sports Class. The maximum number of participating cars is generally about 80, but this year the number has been increased to 125. This event, a car rally with handicaps, is open to all automobile enthusiasts.

It is not a race, but a sporting event, where only skill and craftsmanship will count.

As usual the start will be in Montreal, at 7 a.m. at Harold Cummings Ltd., on Namur street and Decarie boulevard. After the cars have travelled along a secret route to Ottawa, the tulip displays will be viewed along the "Scenic Route", and refreshments and sandwiches will be served by the staff of the Netherlands Embassy in the Christian Reform Church on Gilgey Drive and Maryvale Road in Ottawa. After lunch the teams will return to Montreal, again along a secret route. The event will be closed with a dinner-dance in Victoria Hall, which will start at approximately 8 p.m.

His Excellency the Ambassador of the Netherlands in Ottawa, D. J. Balluseck, has graciously accepted to be Hon. Patron of the rally, while J. H. Jonker, Consul General of the Netherlands in Montreal, has accepted the Hon. Chairmanship.

Warsaw Ghetto heroine at Histadrut reception

Zivia Lubetkin, heroine of the Warsaw Ghetto uprising and one of the few surviving members of the General Staff of the Jewish Resistance Movement in Nazi occupied Poland, was guest speaker at a public reception held in her honor Thursday at the Labor Zionist Centre, 5101 Esplanade avenue, at 4 p.m. The reception was sponsored by the Histadrut.

Miss Lubetkin was born in the town of Biten in Eastern Poland. While attending high school she became active in the Zionist Youth Movement. She also attended a training center in preparation for pioneering work in what was then called Palestine, and was later elected to the Central Committee of the Hechalutz Organization in Poland, with headquarters in Warsaw. When war broke out in 1939, Miss Lubetkin fled across the Polish frontier into Lithuania in an attempt to reach Palestine from a Baltic port, but was overtaken by German troops and returned to Warsaw. In Warsaw, Miss Lubetkin continued working for the underground Zionist Youth Organization.

When German intentions to exterminate Polish Jewry became evident, Miss Lubetkin was among one of the initiators and organizers of the Jewish Resistance Movement in Warsaw and other cities. She helped to obtain and smuggle weapons into the Ghetto; she maintained contact with Polish resistance groups, wrote for the underground press and led men and women into battle against German S.S. troops during the fateful April uprising.

Hours before the bunker of the General Staff of the Jewish Resistance Movement was discovered and attacked by the Nazis with poisonous gases, Miss Lubetkin went on a patrol mission into the burning Ghetto ruins. She thus escaped the fate of the other fighters, and, after the war, settled in Palestine.

Shortly after the establishment of the State of Israel, Miss Lubetkin, along with other surviving members of the Jewish Resistance Movement, Partisans, and other freedom fighters, helped to establish the Kibbutz Lohamie Hagetaot in Western Galilie. Miss Lubetkin is married to Yitzhak Zuckerman, known as Capt. Antek, who was the commander of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising. They live together with their two children in the Kibbutz, where a unique museum, library and documentary center to perpetuate the memory of the nation's fighters and martyrs, has been established.

Independent candidate Hendry lists platform

"I feel that at this particular time an Independent could be in a powerful position in the Legislature. It would appear that it's going to be a close election." This is the opinion expressed recently by Donald Hendry, Independent candidate for Westmount-St. George in the June Provincial elections.

In stating his platform, Hendry announced the following points:

1. Equitable representation: There should be a drastic revision of electoral districts. Westmount and the district of St. George should be two separate ridings.

2. Fair distribution of provincial government spending: For too many years, city ridings such as Westmount-St. George have suffered from a lack of economic decency in proportion to their population, tax revenues and influence.

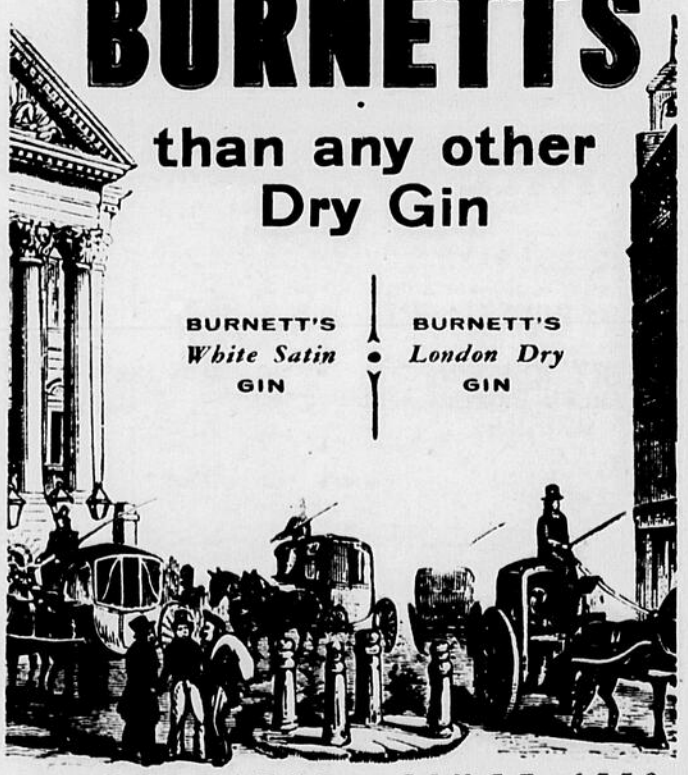

3. Abolition of provincial income tax and death duties: A new federal - provincial fiscal agreement could include provision for the estabilshment of a joint tax collecting authority. This would do away with administrative duplication for income tax and death duties.

4. Autonomy for the city of Westmount within any metropolitan system of government: The metropolitan government should have authority only in those projects of metropolitan scope. The City of Westmount should retain its control over such things as zoning, fire and police services.

5. Protection of natural surroundings in the Montreal district: Restrictive legislation should be passed to: reduce air and water pollution, to protect the natural beauty of Mount Royal Park, and to prevent indiscriminate roadside advertising on provincial roads.

6. Simultaneous translation system in the public galleries of the Legislature Assembly: There is an urgent democratic need for such a system. There are about 1,000,000 English - speaking people in the province, the majority of whom cannot understand French and thus cannot understand the proceedings in their own provincial legislature.

7. Provincial holiday on election day: Such a holiday would undoubtedly lead to a heavier vote. It would also free many capable people for duties as returning officers and scrutineers.

Y Teen Club holds final '60 meeting

Last Monday, the Y's Teen Club of the Westmount YMCA held their last executive meeting for the 1959-60 season. It was decided that the teen dances would not start up again until late in September. The Club has had a successful season with excellent attendance at all of the dances and a good time was had by all who came regularly.

The aims of the club have been two-fold this year 1 — in the promotion and sponsoring of a weekly dance for the teenagers of Westmount 15 to 19 years-of-age; 2 — in the excellent opportunity to work on the executive and on various committees to gain a very valuable experience that will be an asset to most young people as they take on greater responsibilities in society.

The latter, has been especially true this year when we see two fellows chosen for camp counselling positions with Kamp Kanawanna, two or three others who have become very active YMCA members and active in leadership roles with some of the youth groups.

Next year should be even better when we look at the new executive which has just been nominated.

President, Victor Salvaneschi; treasurer, Charles McCambridge; dance convenor, Eddie Toppin; special events, Bill Gordon.

The vice-president and secretary will be elected from the girls group in the Fall. There will also be an assistant girl working with the dance convener and the special events chairman.

Museum has large April attendance

Nearly 17,000 persons visited The Montreal Museum of Fine Arts from April 7 to May 8 to see the 77th annual Spring Exhibition, it was announced this week.

Peak days were April 20 with 1,345; April 10 with 1,332; and April 13, with 1,200.

Total attendance for the one-month period was 16,943, Museum officials reported.

The Spring Exhibition, one of the oldest contemporary art shows in America, ended last Sunday.

Museum staff are now taking down the works which were on view in preparation for "The Changing Face of Montreal," a survey of the evolution of Canada's biggest city during the past century.

"The Changing Face of Montreal," one of the principal exhibitions of the Museum's centenary celebration, will be on view to the general public May 20.

Respiration classes held tonight, Friday

St. John Ambulance officials responsible for the free classes in artificial respiration held every night this week at the Victoria Hall have expressed disappointment in the poor turnout at the lectures.

The public is reminded that these classes will continue Friday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Victoria Hall, Sherbrooke street.

Citizens interested in learning this proven life-saving method are invited to call St. John headquarters, VI. 2-9981 to register for one of the classes.

Retarded Children's Fund $370,000 drive May 15-30

The little girl, 4½ years old, laughed and her blue eyes sparkled as her father tossed her up in the air and caught her in his arms.

Yet the father and mother, both smiling at their happy child, were facing the sad necessity of having to put her into an institution.

Their long fight to keep little Darlene at home was typical of the sadness of thousands of parents of retarded children.

Mental retardation isn't a disease, but a combination of conditions which together cause impaired mental development. Many phases of assistance to retarded children and their families receive support from the Retarded Children's Fund, which is campaigning in Montreal for $370,000, from May 15 to 30.

This year's appeal combines four separate campaigns on behalf of Quebec Association for Retarded Children activities, including its four schools and summer camp in the Montreal area, for the next 18-month period. Darlene had been just over six months old when she was stricken with sleeping sickness. Doctors and social workers had suggested placing her in an institution for retarded children. "We can do more for her than they can in any institution," her mother insisted.

But the struggle had taken all their money. Darlene was in and out of hospitals for four years, and both parents had suffered mental and physical illness during those desperate years.

The Retarded Children's Fund in Montreal supports four schools for some 250 children who cannot attend public schools—but who can be taught. The fund needs over $50,000 just to pay one item: transportation for these children to and from school each day.

The Fund also budgets for summer camping for these children, classrooms and service in new residential areas, medical and clinical services, meals, school supplies, training for retarded adults, and parent education.

PLANTS AND PLANTER: Tender care is given to these cannas plants by gardener Frank Atfield who is responsible for C. P. R. gardens in three provinces — Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick. Mr. Atfield is shown watering his cannas plants which he does twice a day — without fail!

More to gardening than a green thumb

In a 60 x 18-foot greenhouse at the Canadian Pacific's Glen Yards in Westmount, Frank Atfield proves day-in and day-out that there is more to gardening than a green thumb!

He combines his natural talent for growing flowers with a bent for carpentry and at the same time solves a king-size shipping problem.

"From my glassed-in headquarters my job is to direct the planting of 88 flower gardens on the railway's property in three provinces," said Mr. Atfield. "Between the greenhouse and the nearby cold frames and steam frames, I have 54,443 plants of 22 varieties growing and being readied for shipment to Canadian Pacific gardens from London, Ont. to Woodstock, N.B."

Among Mr. Atfield's plants ready to be shipped are: 3,000 geraniums, 11,500 petunias, 2,300 cannas, 1,650 coleus, 7,000 zinnias and 4,000 snap dragons.

The plants are shipped the last week of this month with the first batches moving to southwestern Ontario in specially constructed crates built by Mr. Atfield. Planting of the attractive flower gardens moves steadily eastward with the last plants going to New Brunswick in the middle of June.

A second-generation gardener, whose father stood him on an overturned wheel-barrow so he could reach the tables to make his first transplant, Mr. Atfield has been growing flowers for 20 years, the last 12 have been spent with Canadian Pacific.

"My pet project every year is Montreal West station on the outskirts of Montreal," he said. "More than 6,000 plants go into the garden which I personally supervise."

"I also pay personal attention to other stations as well, such as Westmount, London, Toronto, Vaudreuil-Dorion and Three Rivers."

Mr. Atfield's greenhouse is situated in a rather unlikely place — believe it or not smack in the centre of Canadian Pacific's Montreal passenger yards where he is surrounded by the paraphernalia of railroading, "scenic dome" cars, rail diesel cars, and streamlined locomotives.

His greenhouse accommodates 8,000-10,000 plants at a time, and his cold-frames, steam-frames and hotbeds, where the flowers undergo the transition from artificial summer to natural weather conditions, take care of the rest.

"My plants range from asters through the alphabet to zinnias," Mr. Atfield added. "They also are all annuals."

"My year actually begins in September when the first seeds and slips for next year's gardens are started. Throughout the winter I bring my 54,000 charges towards flowerhood, planting them in the early summer. In the fall bulbs for spring flowers are planted in the 88 gardens and in the late spring they are dug up."

His easy months are the time when most home gardeners have their hands full — July and August. At that time, his plants are out and the 88 gardens are being enjoyed by railway patrons. It is then that he builds his shipping crates and seeding flats from scrap lumber.

While his father was a gardener and his grandfather a carpenter, Mr. Atfield is most happy combining both vocations.

Calgary, Edmonton on new jet route

Calgary and Edmonton will be added to Trans-Canada Air Lines' trans-continental jet routes as soon as aircraft deliveries permit, possibly by December of this year, company president G. R. McGregor announced today.

In making public the airline's plans for future DC-8 Jetliner service, Mr. McGregor said TCA would be operating a total of four trans-continental jet flights by the year's end.

In addition, the airline will inaugurate daily jet service across the North Atlantic between Montreal and the United Kingdom on June 1, he added.

The present daily trans-continental DC-8 flight, started April 1, operates Montreal-Toronto-Vancouver return. A second trans-continental service will begin later this year, making a stop at Winnipeg, said Mr. McGregor.

The third and fourth trans-continentals will operate Toronto-Calgary-Vancouver return, and Toronto-Edmonton-Vancouver return, respectively.

Three of the four trans-continentals will continue on to Montreal, while one will terminate in Toronto.

In addition, one of the flights will be utilized as a through service to the United Kingdom, flying direct from Toronto three days a week, and via Montreal the other four days.

Carrying 127 passengers at more than 550 miles an hour, the giant jets will cut present flying times by almost half.

By December, Toronto will be just over three hours away from Calgary and Edmonton, while Vancouver will be less than one and a half hours away from the tow Alberta cities, said Mr. McGregor.

And the big jets will carry 99 tourist-class and 28 first-class passengers at regular domestic fares, he added.

Minister to meet those applicants who join church

"The Great Invitation" will be the sermon subject of the Minister at the morning service of Knox Crescent and Kensington Church next Sunday. Harry Kuntz BA, BD, will preach in the evening on the theme "Retrospect or Living Faith." The Teen Age Bible class will meet at 9:45 a.m. and the nursery class and church school at 11 a.m.

The Minister will be in the vestry on Tuesday evening from 7:30 p.m. to meet with those desiring to unite with this Church at the June Communion.

The executive of the WMS will meet on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. in the Ladies parlor. The class for young communicants will meet in the Minister's vestry on Wednesday at 4 p.m. The Adult Bible Class will meet at 8 p.m.

Christian Science

Man's age-old longing for a clearer understanding of God and of his own identity will be dealt with at the services in all the Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the reading of the week's Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Soul and Body." Keynoting the appropriate Bible selections will be the following from Psalms: "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God." Correlative passages from the denominational text book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include: "To divest thought of false trusts and material evidences in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear, — that is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true. Thus we may establish in truth the temple, or body, 'whose builder and maker is God.'"

AVOID FOOD POISONING

To keep food safe from the bacteria that causes food poisoning, must be handled with care and stored under safe conditions. In the home, prepared foods containing eggs, milk, meat, gravy, mayonnaise, creamy fillings or poultry dressing should be refrigerated, or else used within two hours of preparation.

Hyde says 'shocking' treatment of Gould

J. Richard Hyde, official Liberal candidate and member of the last Provincial Parliament for the constituency of Westmount-St. George, termed as "shocking" the treatment which a candidate of the Union Nationale Party received from the Party itself and its leader, Mr. Barrette.

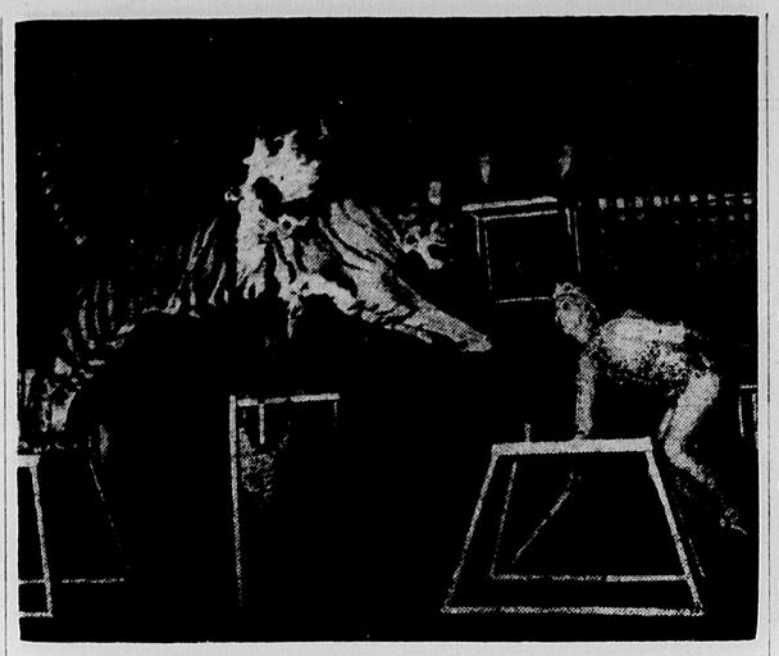

Mr. Hyde's statement came immediately following an announcement last week that the Union Nationale Headquarters stated it was "with great pleasure" that Premier Barrette had announced the official candidacy of Murray Hayes in Westmount-St. George.

Mr. Hyde recalled that on or about May 5th Union Nationale Headquarters announced officially the candidacy of Graham Gould as their standard bearer in the same riding. He added that as recently as 24 hours previous to the announcement representatives of Mr. Gould's Union Nationale organization in Westmount were making recommendations for the appointment of enumerators on behalf of the Party. It follows that the returning officer of Westmount-St. George must have been in possession of the statutory letter signed by Premier Barrette confirming the appointment of Mr. Gould as his official candidate.

Recalling a similar situation recently in the constituency of St. Maurice where Mr. Pellerin, the Union Nationale organizer from Yamachiche, resigned from the Party and joined forces with the Liberals because he objected to the undemocratic manner in which representatives of the public were chosen to run under the Union Nationale banner in the forthcoming election, Mr. Hyde deplored what he called a "repeat performance" in Westmount-St. George, where the official Union Nationale candidate, Mr. Gould, was suddenly replaced by Murray Hayes without explanation.

Mr. Hyde stated that the undemocratic manner in which Union Nationale candidates are appointed and then replaced without notice is not surprising.

EVELYN CURRIE, charming wild animal trainer induces "Triumph" her trained tiger to leap through the thing he fears most — fire. This is part of Miss Currie's breathtaking act which will appear with the Shrine Circus at the Forum starting May 21.

Elephant act highlights Shrine Circus

If a trainer loses his temper with an elephant and yells at her, she is likely to run away, if he loses all self-control and beats her, she may hit him with her trunk or just lie down and refuse to budge.

Elephants frighten easily and, when in a panic, they may freeze and stand immobile or simply turn their tails towards the source of alarm.

These sidelights on elephants' psychology are contributed by Robinson, one of the youngest elephant trainers in the world. His temperamental charges, Robinson's Elephants, are the animal stars of the Shrine Circus from Saturday May 21 to May 28 at the Montreal Forum, in a fast-paced, sparkling feature.

The pachyderms, are all females, like most performing elephants. They are named for the places they came from: Siam, Bombay and Delhi. In addition to ponderous gymnastics on heavy wooden tubs, head stands, walking on wooden beams, and comedy routines involving drinking out of a king-sized bottle, they perform intricate drills resembling those of the high school horses.

A colorful display of elephantine anctics delights on lookers. Robinson, who has been an elephant man since he ran away from home at the age of 13 to join a circus, has received many upsetting "love-taps" from his pets and his share of stepped on feet. "Elephants are dangerous to work with," he says, "simply because they can't see you very well. And they have a rough sense of humor, often involving leaning on you and squeezing you against a wall."

Young PC's told:

Abolitionists increasing because of Chessman case

Publicity given the Caryl Chessman case in California has increased the number of definite reactions in Canada to abolish the death penalty, Frank McGee, descendent of D'Arcy McGee and Progressive Conservative member in the Federal Parliament for Canada's largest riding, York-Scarborough, told the St. Antoine-Westmount Young Progressive Conservatives at their annual meeting Wednesday night.

"A feeling in favor of abolition of the death sentence is growing among the members of the Federal Parliament," he said.

When McGee first introduced the abolition bill there was only one vote from Quebec members in favor. Now there are 11 more from this Province, he said.

"The death penalty may be applied in case of murder where it can be proved that the case is a capital murder," he explained. "That is, the murder of a policeman, during robbery, placing a bomb in a plane and killing several people, and so forth. For murders of lesser category, life sentences may be given."

Mr. McGee said an interesting, but little known, point was that one third of all murderers commit suicide shortly after the crime has been committed.

The abolition bill, as introduced by McGee, was debated for two days in the House. The vote was: for, 12; against, 20, with two undecided. A third day's debate will be arranged later, he said.

NEW OFFICERS

The slate of officers for the Young PC's for 1960-61, elected at the meeting: Brian Gallery, president; Jim Fraser, first vice-president; Margaret Webster, second vice-president; Robert Haslett, third vice-president; Christine Romer, recording secretary; John Peacher, treasurer; David Angus, corresponding secretary.

Brian Gallery replaced Gavin Ross, retiring president.

NOTICE to motor vehicles act violators

Arrest without warrant is permitted under the Motor Vehicles Act, in certain predetermined cases.

For infractions that come under the criminal code (drunkenness, impaired faculties, dangerous driving, etc.) not only can the police officer arrest the driver, but it is his duty to get him off the road.

If a policeman finds that you have violated any provision of the Highway Code (particularly speeding, illegal parking by night, careless passing, consuming alcoholic beverages in a motor vehicle parked or in motion, throwing bottles or other articles, passing or crossing a school bus that is taking-on or letting-off children), the policeman will stop you immediately, give you a summons, and require you to sign a document by which you are ordered to appear before a judge at the time and place indicated. This is your notice to appear.

You are thus accused and will have the right to defend yourself before the court.

If you refuse to sign such a document the officer has the right to arrest you at once.

If you fail to appear you may be found guilty and fined not only on the original charge, but also on an additional one.

Above all, don't be tempted to bribe the officer: This could prove costly, as it is an offense under the criminal code.

By driving prudently everywhere and at all times, you will save yourself a great deal of trouble. Don't forget this.

EXTRA-SENSORY PERCEPTION: Mr. Kuda-Bux of Kashmir, India, demonstrates to skeptical Examiner reporter Larry McInnis that he can really drive a car with five blindfolds, two pieces of cotton batting and a roll of elastoplast over his eyes. Although Kuda-Bux once drove blindfolded from Santa Monica to Los Angeles, McInnis said he'd rather not take a chance with him in Montreal traffic. —Tedd Church Photo

Mr. Kuda-Bux

No such a thing as coincidence

By LARRY McINNIS

The next time you're sitting down to coffee and think to yourself, "I wonder how good, old Joe Blow is getting along," and a knock comes to the door, Joe Blow walks in and you both exclaim, "What a coincidence!", a venerable Indian gentleman by the name of Kuda-Bux will disagree that it is a coincidence.

Mr. Kuda-Bux, a practitioner of extra-sensory perception for more than 30 of his 55 years, feels that this power, if it can be called that, is inherent in everyone — all it needs is years of practice, perseverance and patience to develop.

Born in 1905 in Akhnup, Kashmir State, India, Kuda-Bux has practised to the extent that he now bills himself as the man with x-ray vision.

Now, we all know that no-one can have x-ray vision, and Kuda-Bux is the first to admit it, even though it looks as though he actually has it.

"It is a development of extra-sensory perception," he says. "Anything you can do with physical sight, I can do blindfolded."

It is said Mr. Kuda-Bux has driven a car while blindfolded from Los Angeles to Santa Monica, California. I might take the chance on driving with him—if I could get my nerves calmed down.

Mr. Kuda-Bux said that science is very interested in extra-sensory perception, and they have been trying to prove its actual existence for years. To help them along he has been giving demonstrations for psychiatric research.

Now, as a young fellow with a solid Air Force and Army background, I have done some strange things, particularly in the air. Many of them seemed reasonable at the time, but rather whacky in restropect. But the story Kuda-Bux told me of one of his experiments must have seemed whacky all the the time:

"In 1933, in London, England," he said, "I walked on fire of 1,400°F, and I wasn't burned."

For a fellow who gets in bad shape when the temperature goes past 85, I found this amazing.

"The temperature of my feet before I started," he stated, "was 93°F, and after I walked across the fire, the temperature was only 91°F."

Kuda-Bux says the ability to pull stunts like this depends on the condition of the mind and faith in oneself.

But back to extra-sensory perception — a little easier to understand. Kuda-Bux is quite emphatic that this power is not the same as being able to foretell the future. In fact, he feels nobody can foretell the future, nor can anyone read someone else's mind.

"Foretelling of the future is not authentic, and is not scientifically proved," he said. "And once a thought goes into a person's mind, nobody on earth can tell what it is."

Telepathy, though, is a different matter. Kuda-Bux explains that telepathy is only possible when two people are tuned to the same mental wavelength.

"It's a real science," he says, "requiring years of practice between two people—but they must practise together."

It's a good job he couldn't read my mind, because I was wondering what good old Joe Blow was doing. I certainly wasn't tuned to the same wavelength as Mr. Kuda-Bux.

Science, he states, is interested in extra-sensory perception and is rapidly developing it all over the world.

To prove the point, Kuda-Bux put on five blindfolds, two large pieces of cotton batting and a large roll of elastoplast bandage. He then sat in a Harold Cummings Chev convertible for pictures.

Well, as I said, flying is alright, but I don't think I'd take a chance with Mr. Kuda-Bux in a car. Strictly lack of nerve; not a doubt in the world as to his ability.

However, the interview was very stimulating. I just cant' help wondering how good old Joe Blow is doing.

Water safety course May 24

A theoretical and practical Refresher course for qualified Instructors will be held at Sir Arthur Currie Pool, McGill University, 475 Pine avenue west, commencing May 24, according to Donald T. Rose, Chairman of the Canadian Red Cross Society's Water Safety Committee, Quebec Division.

Selection of instructors by the Red Cross Water Safety Directors is determined primarily by candidates being at least 18 years of age at the date of their final examination in the principles of Water Safety; being experienced and strong swimmers capable of passing the Senior Swimmer test with a B-plus average; and possessing qualities of leadership allied to a desire to teach others the principles and practice of Water Safety.

Many West Enders receive SGWU degrees

The annual Spring Convocation at Sir George Williams University will see awards of 239 bachelor degrees made, many of them to residents of the West End. The list was released this week by Douglas B. Clarke, vice-principal and registrar of the University.

The convocation ceremony, to be held at 8:30 p.m. in the Royal Canadian Hussars' Armory, Cote des Neiges road, will be highlighted by the induction of B. W. Roberts, OBE, DCL, chairman of the board of governors, as the university's first chancellor.

Mr. Roberts and Principal Henry Hall, BA, the university's first vice-chancellor, were appointed last March.

The guest speaker of the evening will be Stuart, M. Finlayson, president of Canadian Marconi Company.

Immediately following the convocation, graduates, their parents, friends faculty members and alumni are invited to the annual graduates' reception, sponsored by the university's Association of Alumni, at the Chalet on Mount Royal.

Saturday evening a graduation ball will be held in the Windsor Hotel. Group Captain K. R. Patrick, chairman of the board, Canadian Vertol Aircraft, will be the speaker.

Folly and hypocrisy

By
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

IT IS hard to understand the folly of an American airman going on a reconnaissance flight deep into Russian territory when relations between East and West are so tense, and when some effort is being made to ease the tension by means of a Summit Conference. No wonder the U.S. State Department has been so lame in its explanation.

It is no wonder that the Soviet authorities have seized on the incident to make the greatest possible capital out of it. It gives Khrushchev a useful cover for his Hungarian massacre, his treacherous seizure and execution of Nagy; his suppression of East German restlessness; and farther back the suppression of democracy in Czechoslovakia. Nothing could have suited Russian policy better. It is to be expected that they will make strident use of the incident.

Russia can afford to be smug about reconnaissance flights. She does not need them. With the influx of Central Europeans into North and South America there are always some who are ready to do her spying for her. It must have been an unpleasant shock when in the midst of Russian tirades about American spy flights two Russian diplomats were unceremoniously expelled from the very patient and cautious Switzerland for spying.

This incident may give help to the Russians in their struggle to eliminate Western influence from Berlin, and will appear to give Russia a moral advantage in the Summit Conference. But the thing that Communism will find it hard to explain is the tens of thousands of people who are trying to escape from Communist control by way of West Berlin.

We shall continue to pray for the success of the Summit Conference, but it can only be by the mercy of God that folly on one side and hypocrisy on the other can be overcome.

Let's play chess

New World Champion

By M. MOSS

Mikhail Tal is the new world champion, having beaten Mikhail Botvinnik in their 24-game match. Except for the first few games, when Tal built up a lead which Botvinnik couldn't overcome, the match was a closely fought affair.

Tal is reported to have said that he did not always make the best moves and, in fact, on some occasions purposely made inferior moves quickly, especially when his opponent was pressed for time. These inferior moves, coming from a chess master, apparently served their purpose for Botvinnik had to consume precious minutes trying to decide whether the moves really were inferior or whether there was some deep plan behind them.

The games will be well worth studying, but as lack of space does not permit us scope to publish the games with suitable annotations, we bring the following to the attention of our readers.

All the games will be published by CHESS PUBLICATIONS, 156 Holland Park Avenue, London, W. 11, England. The publication will include a commentary on the match, a record of previous world championships, also highlights of both players' careers. And all this for only .75c, postage included! Additional copies may be had at still lower prices, for example:

1 copy	.75
5 copies	3.20
10 copies	6.00
25 copies	12.50

Orders may be sent direct to the publishers or will be handled, without charge, if sent to Chess Editor, The Monitor, Cote Saint Luc, Montreal. The publication will be ready within a few weeks.

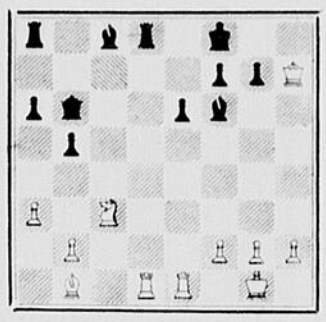

JEAN BERGEVIN

We have received a post-card from genial Jean Bergevin, former secretary of the Chess Federation of Canada.

He is now employed with the United Nations and is located in Tunisia. He says chess is very popular in Tunis and mentions that the clubs have state funds. He may be visiting Montreal toward the end of the year and is looking forward to meeting his many friends at that time.

Those of our readers who would like to send him a greeting should address their mail to Jean Bergevin, Box 863, United Nations, Tunis.

DIAGRAM 68

White to Play

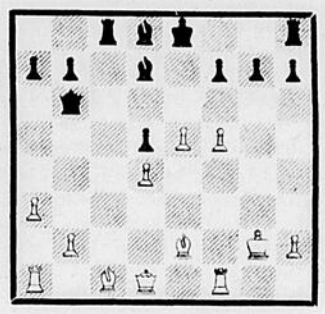

THE BEST MOVE IS ? ? ?

The surprise move is N-Q5!, threatening Q-R8 mate. As Black cannot play P-N3 (to prevent Q-R8), nor can he capture with the Pawn (for this, too, would permit White to play Q-R8 mate), he must capture with the Rook. The complete line of play is as follows:

1. N-Q5	RxN
2. RxR	B-N2
3. R-Q7	K-K1
4. RxB	QxR
5. B-K4	Resigns

The reader's attention is drawn to a curious feature namely, that the threat Q-R8 ch., although always latent, is never actually employed.

DIAGRAM 69

Black to Play

THE BEST MOVE IS ? ? ?

Here, for a change, it is Black who has the better position — although it may be difficult, at first glance, to see just where the advantage lies! However, Black CAN win. Would you be able to win if you were playing the black pieces?

Cancer Research makes grants

Grants and fellowships totalling $50,050 were awarded to Montreal doctors and hospitals Monday by the Cancer Research Society Inc., to carry on the vital work in city hospitals and to help care for indigent cancer patients.

The bursaries brought to $620,565 the amount donated by the Society since its founding 15 years ago.

Mrs. Nathan Kozloff, president of the Society, in her words of welcome to those attending the annual bursary meeting in the Sheraton Mount Royal Hotel, said that while mankind has built up a staggering storehouse of knowledge about the world around us, man himself is still shrouded in a smog of misconception and ignorance.

"We have learned to identify with uncanny accuracy the chemical composition of star-dust millions of miles away," she said, "but we still know relatively little about the composition of cancer cells in our own bodies."

In paying tribute to the volunteer canvassers of the Cancer Research Society and to the general public who contributed during the campaign, Mrs. Kozloff reiterated the desire to see the three Montreal campaigns united into one appeal so that the cancer cause will not suffer.

She said the Cancer Research Society has tried to unite for one cancer campaign but has received no encouragement from the other two groups.

"We stand ready," she said, "to listen to anyone who wishes to intervene for this purpose because we look upon our record as a solid foundation upon which to build even greater accomplishments in the future."

Membership in Cancer Research now stands at 10,000 persons, she said.

Three well-known Montreal doctors were welcomed to the Society's medical advisory board during the meeting. They were Dr. Theodore Rasmussen, newely-named director of the Montreal Neorological Institute; Dr. Rocke Robertson, surgeon-in-chief of the Montreal General Hospital, and Dr. Clarence Schneiderman, chief neurologist at the Jewish General Hospital.

The Society's medical advisory board is responsible for the grants and fellowship awarded annually at the Society. They were made as follows:

Institutional grants for basic and clinical cancer research were presented by Dr. Douglas G. Cameron to the following recipients: Dr. H. Rocke Robertson, $3,500 for the Montreal General Hospital; Dr. A. S. V. Burgen, $2,400 for the Montreal General Hospital, $2,500 to the Department of Experimental Surgery at McGill University; Dr. Douglas Kinnear, $2,000 for the Montreal General Hospital; Dr. S. J. Martin, $1,000 for Drs. J. D. Palmer and Sean Moore at the Montreal General Hospital; Dr. Harry Ballon, $2,300 for the Jewish General Hospital; Prof. J. H. Quastel, $3,600 for the McGill-Montreal General Hospital Research Institute; Dr. Antonio Cantero, $4,800 for the Montreal Cancer Institute of Notre Dame Hospital; Dr. Edward J. Tabah, $4,000 for the Royal Victoria Hospital, and Dr. N. J. Nadler, $2,600 for the Jewish General Hospital. The basic and clinical research grants totalled $28,700.

Junior and Senior Fellowships were presented by Prof. J. H. Quastel. They went to Dr. Antonio Cantero, $4,500 for the Montreal Cancer Institute at Notre Dame Hospital, and to Dr. Geoffrey William Lehman, $2,400 for the Royal Victoria Hospital. These grants totalled $6,900.

Grants for the support of cytology and tumor clinics for indigent cancer patients were presented by Dr. Arnold Grossman. The recipients were Dr. L. J. Quinn, $1,000 for St. Mary's Hospital; Dr. R. L. Denton, $3,000 for the Montreal Children's Hospital; Dr. Morris A. Simon, $2,250 for the Jewish General Hospital; Dr. George Maughan, $2,250 for the Royal Victoria Hospital; Dr. T. L. Barry, $1,150 for the Reddy Memorial Hospital and to Dr. Harry Ballon, $4,400 for the Jewish General Hospital. These grants totalled $14,450.

The guest speaker for the annual bursary meeting was Dr. Murray Banks.

Trinity players plan last play of season

By VERONICA SINEL

Trinity Players are currently rehearsing their last play of the season. Phoebe Ephron's amusing comedy "Howie", under the direction of Robert Verniks, will open at Trinity Hall on Wednesday, May 25, and will run until Saturday, May 28.

The play is about a typical middle class American family. Father a successful "tired" business man, Mother a keen bridge player with a fondness for acrostics, younger daughter with a succession of dates, elder daughter, the serious devoted type, and her husband, Howie. Howie has a succession of jobs, but somehow he can never keep one. Unfortunately, he knows too much and has never learned to suffer fools gladly. From acrostics and bridge, through string quartets to the care of zebras, Howie has all the answers. Finally, he tries his luck on a TV quiz show. Being determinedly honest, he finds it a demeaning experience and creates havoc in the studio.

The title part of Howie will be played by Paul Hecht, and Sandra Matthew takes the part of his ever-loving wife, the only one who really understands him. Edna Wootan and Henry Gamer are his long-suffering in-laws, and Sally Sims is making her first Montreal appearance as their date-loving daughter.

Could you give your child an "A" IN THIS IMPORTANT SUBJECT?

It's up to you. In this case, you are the teacher. And it won't do any good to complain to your P.T.A. Saving is one subject that has to be taught in the home . . . and, like most subjects, the better it's taught, the better will it be learned.

For conscientious parents who are anxious to develop habits of thrift and self-reliance in their children the B of M offers a helpful little booklet "How to teach your youngsters to SAVE". A few minutes study will equip you to be a more proficient teacher. Ask for your copy at your neighbourhood branch of "MY BANK".

Temple-Barnfield

The marriage of Beverley Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barnfield of Notre Dame de Grace to Mr. John W. L. Temple, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Temple of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, took place recently in St. Luke's United Church, Montreal, the Rev. A. G. Moore officiating. White snapdragon and chrysanthemums were used to decorate the church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white poult de soie, with a fitted bodice having a sabrina neckline appliqued with Chantilly lace, and sleeves ending in points over the hands, and a full skirt caught in the back with a butterfly bow ending in a chapel train. THIS game called rugger or rugby in the old country is a tough one indeed. Dick Foster, vice-president of Carling's eastern division, remarked at the dinner given to the Dartmouth and Montreal teams, "condition and a good voice were needed to play rugger." The condition was shown on the field but the voice was required when the boys meet for the after-game get-togethers. Watching the two teams battle at the Verdun Stadium, it is a rugged game.

* * *

One can understand it is because he has enough soccer, enough Canadian football as we know here in Canada and a track star all rolled into one game. Surprising how the American schools picked this game up. It seems that they have ruled that their football teams cannot practice in the spring of the year, so the game called rugger was used as a conditioner. It caught on so well, that it is now a regular sport event at American colleges and schools.

* * *

It was discovered in Rugby, England, so we are told, about 100 years ago. Playing soccer one day, one of the players picked the ball up by mistake and ran the length of the field, so a new game was born. Our game of basketball was also a game put together with the idea of having some fun. Now rugby football as it is called in England and other parts of Europe is popular getting crowds up to 100,000.

* * *

It is quite a game to watch. one member of the N.D.G. junior Maple Leafs football team, Jerry Langlois, plays the game and could be quite good at it, but in the fall he turns to Canadian football. It is a great conditioner as we said and to watch the game, one gathers that much. No pads of any kind, yet the tackles are as hard as one would receive in Canadian football.

* * *

To add another feature one has to have some kind of strength to be able to work in the scrum. A player takes plenty of punishment in the game called rugger, but one thing, be of good voice, because that seems to be one part of the game that is really enjoyed by even the non-players.

Quebec rugger beats Dartmouth

The quality of rugger in Quebec Province asserted itself Saturday afternoon at the Verdun Stadium, as an all-star squad from the province outclassed powerful Eastern United States champion Dartmouth College 8-3 in the annual tilt for the Carling Cup. Dartmouth won the trophy last year.

Quebec's Tony Hedge was the star of the match, breaking a 3-3 deadlock with a disputed goal in the last minute of play. Ian Ruxton converted.

The two teams battled through a scoreless first half before Dartmouth's John Crouthamel booted a penalty goal to "open up" the action. Gerry Goodman of Quebec tied the score when he went over the goal line after a spectacular rush from midfield.

Ricky Parsons missed the convert, thus setting the stage for Hedge's winning effort.

Among the most outstanding performers for Quebec were centre Niall Quaid and second rowman Tom Reid.

Grout breaks own time in 100 yard free style

Cameron Grout and Sara Barber proved again Saturday that they are the best bets for berths on Canada's Olympic team this summer.

Hardly pushed, the two international experienced racers, walked away with top honors in the Quebec Provincial Indoor championships at McGill's Memorial Pool Saturday night.

Miss Barber, a shapely 19-year-old from Brantford, Ont., who competed for Canada in the last Olympics, won four events while MAAA's Grout shattered his Canadian record for the 100-yard free style in one of two wins.

One other Canadian mark and seven provincial records were also lowered in the 17-event, 100-competitor program.

Miss Barber won the women's free style events over 100 and 440 yards, the 100-yard butterfly and 100-yard back stroke. None of her times were Canadian records as she won with ease.

The 20-year-old Grout, a third year science student at McGill, posted a time of 50.9 seconds in his 100-yard free style triumph to clip 1/10 of a second from the old native record. He also took the 440-yard free style.

Team mate Richard Pound chased him to the wall.

Actually, Grout's most dramatic event came about in the 800-yards free style relay. Toronto Etobicoke's entry took a full pool length lead at the halfway mark over MAAA in the race. Pound cut the lead in half during his 200 and Grout took off after anchor man Kurt Pluntke. He caught Pluntke in seven laps and pulled away with ease in the final 25-yards.

Grout has participated in tinernational competitions for Canada before, but is making his first bid for an Olympic berth.

The other Canadian record-breaker was Toronto's Mike Lackawitz in the 100-yard free style for 11- and 12-year-old boys. His time was 1:00.5. The former mark of 1:02.3 was also held by the youngster.

NDGer Madeline Sevigny of the M.A.A.A. swam stroke for stroke with Sara Barber in the 100-yd. freestyle, losing out by only a few seconds to the former Olympic swimmer. Miss Sevigny will be competing in the Olympic trials and the Dominion Championships at Winnipeg in July.

Lawn Bowlers informal games on week-end

The Westmount Lawn Bowling Club have not set the date for their 1960 official opening according to announcement by L. A. Wheatley, chairman of publicity, but tentative plans are on the table to be out into operation at any time. A probable date would be the middle of next week.

Over the holiday weekend, informal gams will open the season on Saturday and Monday starting at 2:30. Greens are in good shape and if the rain holds off, these games will be staged.

W. D. Lambie, OBE., is the president this year. Kevin Brophy is the vice-president. The secretary is E. C. Koch and D. Kean is the treasurer.

The directors and their positions are: L. C. Currie, greens; G. D. McTaggart, membership; C. E. Stewart, games; Mr. Wheatley, publicity; W. S. Coulter, house and G. Knox.

More than 225 teams have been entered to date in Montreal parks leagues for summer sports, Phil Wimmer, sports supervisor in the parks, reported. They include 66 softball teams, 115 baseball teams and 44 soccer teams.

Coming Games

Today: Marlins vs Jets, (2); Red Wings vs Sugar Kings, (3), mosquito.

Tuesday, May 24, Yankees vs Orioles, (2), bantam.

Wednesday, May 25, Pirates vs Phillies, (2); Braves vs Cardinals, (3), pee wee.

Thursday, May 26, White Sox vs Indians, (2), bantam.

Beck scores six track wins

Michael Beck put the finishing touches to a rather remarkable athletic career at Lower Canada College.

The 12th year arts student ran away with everything in sight at the school's annual track and field meet at Molson Stadium.

He didn't set any records over a soggy and heavy track but he showed that his name belongs with any of the greats who attended LCC.

Beck entered seven events. When the day's work was over he had recorded six firsts and one second.

The 17-year old was awarded the Harrower Trophy as the outstanding performer of the meet.

Also on the young man's trophy shelf goes the Baillie Trophy as winner of the senior 100-yards dash.

Besides the 100-yards sprint, Beck won the 220, 440 and 880. He sat out the mile. Rather, while the mile was being raced, he moved into the field events and won the high jump and the broad jump.

Beck met his Waterloo in the hop-step and jump where he had to take a second place to last year's Harrower winner Bob Bengough.

Since entering LCC, after graduating from Mount Royal Tigh School last spring, Beck won a letter as a star end on the football team and was guard on the senior basketball squad.

Other brilliant performances were registered by Chris Bryant who won five events in the 15-year old class; Michael Peterson with three and Dan ; Heffernan with two wins in the 14 years class and Mike Spooner with four wins in the 13 years and under class.

The Montreal and District Cricket League have eight teams in section 'A' and 10 in division 'B', plus two new clubs who will play exhibitions and join the league next spring.

The 'A' teams are: Canadair, Adastrians, Verdun, Rolls Royce, Westmount, Wanders, Mount Royal, West Indians.

The 'B' teams: Wanderers, Westmount, Adastrians, TCA, Verdun, Rolls Royce, Stelco, Canadair, West Indians and Mount Royal.

There will again be two divisions in the league, with the same clubs competing for the honors as last year. There is a good chance that many changes will take place in the league standings, as several clubs have been doing a brisk off-season recruiting campaign.

Some of the other notable changes in play this year will feature the debut of The Montreal and District Cricket League Association of Umpires, which will officiate at all league and representative matches, and a change in the points and playoff system for the two cups.

Previously, the winner of a match was awarded two points, while a drawn match gave one point to each team. This year, the winning team will be awarded three points, while the one point per team for a draw will still be in effect. It was felt that this new point system will encourage teams to try to win in all matches, rather than play for a draw.

For many years, the two divisions competed for their own cup through a knock-out cup competition.

This year, for the first time, the cup will be awarded to the winner of a four team playoff which will be played after the league season.

The top four teams in each division will be eligible for the playoffs, and the winner of each respective cup will have won a semi-final and final, which is scheduled to take place on Labor Day weekend.

Montreal cricket will see two new clubs formed this year, Bank of Montreal and the St. Lawrence. The Bank team has arranged a schedule with most of the league clubs for this season, and will then consider making an application to the league for entrance into next year's competition.

The St. Lawrence Club will be playing many out of town clubs in addition to some of the Montreal teams.

It is not going to enter league competition at any time, but to a certain extent has among its playing personnel members of the various clubs in the league.

Among some of the matches scheduled by this new club are two fixtures in Ottawa, a fixture at Trinity College School, Port Hope, Ont., the Staten Island Cricket Club of New York.
