IN THE THICK OF THE BLAZE: Captain Maurice St. Jacques, centre, is seen directing the fire-fighting operations early this morning on Sherbrooke Street. An estimated $200,000 damage was caused by a fire which destroyed a theatre, a bowling alley, a printing shop and a discotheque which were situated in a large commercial block. The 26-man Magog Fire Department battled the blaze through the night for about nine hours.

Magog business block is destroyed by fire

MAGOG — (Staff) — A roaring fire which started at 11:15 last night and was controlled only eight hours later destroyed a large commercial block here, causing damages which could run as high as $500,000. The fire, of unknown origin, destroyed the block which housed the Centre Theatre, the Imprimerie Bergeron Engr. and the Larivière Bowling Alleys. Magog's 26 firemen, under the direction of Captain Maurice St. Jacques, fought the flames until late this morning when the fire was extinguished. It took the men four hours to contain the flames and about four hours later the blaze was brought under control. Men of Magog's electrical department, among municipal employees who have been on strike for over a week, aided the fire department during the night. The roof of the building caved in at approximately 5:15 a.m. today. There were no injuries incurred during the fire. There was a violent explosion during the fire when an oil tank blew up, spreading the flames anew after the firemen had apparently controlled the blaze.

This occurred about 4:30 this morning. Hundreds of people watched the fire as workers left the Magog factories at midnight, minutes after the fire broke out. There was one apartment in the destroyed building. Its occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Armand Bergeron, were given accommodation at the Hotel New Magog by its owner, Armand Simard. The building, situated on Sherbrooke Street, was owned by a Sherbrooke resident, Real Marois. The theatre was a complete loss.

The theatre was one of two in the city. This fire is the second emergency in two weeks to hit Magog since the municipal employees went on strike. Last week a blizzard dumped 8.5 inches of snow on Magog streets. It was not cleared away because of the striking employees. This weekend, union officials told city council the union would study all cases of emergency call-outs before any men were sent.

Split spurs move?

MONTREAL (CP) — The resignation of Andree Ferretti from Quebec's largest separatist party, the Rassemblement pour l'indépendance nationale, may be the beginning of a new leftist-oriented separatist movement in Quebec leaning strongly on worker support. "It will certainly be the end of the traditional RIN and if RIN members vote at the conference Saturday to join Rene Levesque's sovereignty movement, the party could disappear entirely," said the former party vice-president.

Mrs. Ferretti said in an interview Tuesday she had resigned from her post, taking two other leaders and the presidents of the Montreal, Quebec and La Mauricie regions with her. The departure of Mrs. Ferretti and a substantial core of left-wing followers has split the party after almost a year of disension.

The 33-year-old mother of two said a co-ordinating committee had been set up to study the possibilities of forming a new separatist party which would be "militant and leftist."

of Canada in an economic union. Fusion between it and the RIN has been a sore point in the friction between the Bourgault and Ferretti factions.

QUICKER INDEPENDENCE
Mr. Bourgault insisted a merger into a separatist common front in Quebec could bring about independence more quickly. However, some observers believe enough RIN members were being attracted to the Levesque movement to influence the party president to think in terms of fusion.

The Ferretti group felt too many compromises would have to be made in joining the sovereignty movement. The party would have to switch from a committee-structured organization where decisions are made by groups of card-carrying members to a more conventional political party. Another compromise that might have had to be made was on the subject of unilingualism in Quebec, Mrs. Ferretti said. Many RIN members support unilingualism strongly but Mr. Levesque had not yet taken a stand on it. At the bottom of it all, however, is the fact the Ferretti faction considers itself socialist while it says the Bourgault group is inspired by electoralism rather than political ideology.

START NEW MOVEMENT
"In three months at the latest, we will lay the groundwork for a new movement at a large conference of all the left-wing separatists in Quebec."

Trouble in the party became evident last fall when Mrs. Ferretti was elected vice-president of the 13,000-member party, in face of outspoken opposition from President Pierre Bourgault.

In January, Mr. Bourgault called for the expulsion of Mrs. Ferretti and her followers who, he said, were a "cancer" to the well-being of the party.

But Mrs. Ferretti's group succeeded in postponing the showdown to a conference this week-end which was also to decide whether the RIN would join with Rene Levesque's Mouvement Souverainete-Association.

Mr. Levesque urges a sovereign Quebec linked with a rest of Canada in an economic union. Fusion between it and the RIN has been a sore point in the friction between the Bourgault and Ferretti factions.

Budget spells higher taxes

LONDON (Reuters) — Britons today tightened their belts to face a lower standard of living.

The 1968 budget presented to Parliament by the Labor government Tuesday hit the country with a record £923,000,000 ($2,409,800,000) in higher taxes and was coupled with a plan to legally limit wage and dividend increases.

Roy Jenkins, chancellor of the exchequer, forecast two years of "hard slog" and sacrifice in a harsh drive against consumer spending, but said the grim measures would end a long period of growing British debt abroad and loss of business to foreign competition.

The tax increase—averaging an extra £16 ($31.60) for every man, woman and child in the country—was three times as much as any previous peacetime budget and more severe than any in wartime.

Jenkins spared almost no one with new taxes on consumer durables, wine and liquor, gasoline, tobacco and gambling.

Political observers said the budget, coupled with the aftermath of the devaluation of the pound Nov. 18, would increase the cost of living by about five per cent by the end of the year.

LIMITS WAGE INCREASE

Jenkins set a 3½-per-cent limit on increases in wages for the working man and dividends to stockholders, along with government powers to delay pay and price increases for up to a year. Labor union leaders, traditional supporters of the ruling Labor party, exploded in anger at the severity of the pay laws, but British bankers felt the budget would work.

British newspapers greeted the budget with comments ranging from "necessary" to "suicidal."

The Financial Times said that

Will support Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Eugene J. McCarthy says he would back Senator Robert F. Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination if he became convinced he can't win it himself.

But McCarthy insisted Tuesday there are no arrangements, no conspiracy between Kennedy and himself—and continued to toss sharp barbs at Kennedy's sudden entry into the presidential race.

The comments came during a question-and-answer session at Howard University.

A student asked the Minnesota Democrat if he would throw his support to Kennedy if convinced on the first ballot at the Democratic national convention he could not win himself.

"Under those circumstances"—faced with choosing between Kennedy and President Johnson, McCarthy replied, he would a "soft" budget "would almost certainly have precipitated another run on the pound and led to international monetary upheaval."

The Times headlined its editorial "nasty but necessary."

The Guardian said the budget followed the prescription of bankers, and if it did not please the international financiers nothing ever would.

McCarthy said the United States should back a coalition government in Vietnam to end the war, and the U.S. should announce its intention to withdraw if the Saigon government didn't accept that plan.

He called for a guaranteed annual income and vast new housing and education programs, but said such proposals are only a dream "as long as this nation continues to wage its unjust war in Vietnam."

The Communist Morning Star said Jenkins asked the British people to make sacrifices for the sake of bankers and big business.

Comment from many world capitals today said the budget would be enough to meet the demands of Britain's foreign creditors.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville described the budget as "draconian" and said "no one wishes more than France to see it end in restoration of the economic, financial and monetary situation in Great Britain."

Swiss banking circles welcomed the budget as evidence that Britain was determined to start paying its way.

But the Soviet news agency Tass said the British working man was being made to pay for American bombing and colonial wars.

Hugh Scanlon, president of the Amalgamated Engineering Union, said the budget and related measures "amount to a declaration of war on the unions and their members."

Conservative Leader Edward Heath wheeled on the government bench in the Commons Tuesday night and declared: "I despise the men on that bench who have brought us to this humiliation."

The budget tacked no additions onto taxes on ordinary income, corporation income or capital gains.

The assurances came after a brisk exchange between Grace MacInnis (NDP—Vancouver-Kingsway) and Michael Starr (PC—Ontario) over the bill, which bogged down Feb. 14 in committee debate.

There also were brisk exchanges earlier when Gilles Gregoire (Ind—Lapointe) and other opposition MPs spoke against a government motion to dump Mr. Cowan from parliamentary committee.

Mr. Gregoire defended Mr. Cowan, who was advised last Friday he no longer would be invited to Liberal caucus meetings.

Conservative and NDP members accused the Liberals of north of Pleiku in the central Highlands and 34 miles northwest of Saigon. Poor weather over North Vietnam continued to curtail raids by American fighter-bombers. U.S. pilots hit a boat yard 25 miles northeast of Haiphong, the Uong Bi electric power plant 10 miles closer to the port city, and the Nam Dinh rail yard 45 miles southwest of Haiphong.

On orders from South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, Saigon police today raided thousands of black market stalls selling stolen goods and threw barbed wire barricades around many of them, apparently trying to keep them closed.

Threat of second invasion lessens

SAIGON (AP) — About 13,000 hard-core Viet Cong have faded into their jungle hideaways near the Cambodian border, easing the threat of a second invasion of Saigon, senior American officials said today.

The five Viet Cong regiments, bloodied in the Communist lunar new year offensive that turned Saigon into a battlefield, escaped the biggest southern allied offensive of the war launched 10 days ago, the officials said.

A U.S. spokesman said the Viet Cong withdrawal explains the spotty contact which the force of 50,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops have made in Operation Quiet Thang—Resolve to Win—now under way in five provinces north, west and south of Saigon.

The southern allied commands reported only one ground action Tuesday. About 400 South Vietnamese rangers routed a band of guerrillas camped five miles south of the capital and said they killed 21 in a running, five-hour battle. This brought the Viet Cong toll in nine days of the operation to 842 killed—by U.S. count.

U.S. casualties so far are 32 killed and 291 wounded, the U.S. command says, and South Vietnamese casualties are reported light.

U.S. B-52 bombers struck four times Tuesday night and today at North Vietnamese positions around Khe Sanh.

In other strikes, the B-52s attacked suspected troop concentrations and infiltration routes

About television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Cosby is an ingratiating, gentle comedian whose stock in trade is nostalgia, and whose speciality is the creation of a warm atmosphere.

And if there was anything wrong with his hour special on NBC Monday night it was the sound of some hyenas who howled hysterically at Cosby's low-key jokes.

He is a genuinely funny fellow, but his is the kind of humor that evokes chuckles rather than belly laughs. But it will probably be another 50 years before television producers, for whom hyperbole is a way of life, learn that the living room viewer does not have to be rolling on the floor in convulsions of merriment to be enjoying himself. Or that wild screams of laughter coming from the set do not, necessarily, set off a chain reaction.

Cosby in his first TV special presented what was in essence a one-man show. And he proved to be an endearing, amusing guy whether he was joining in a street game with some young friends or regalling the terror and discomfort of having his tonsils removed at age seven.

The hour was put together by some of Hollywood's best comedy talents, and any relationship between Bill Cosby of I Spy and Bill Cosby raconteur was definitely not coincidental.

ABC News, which originally planned to chop down its coverage of the political conventions to a nightly summary of highlights, is re-evaluating the situation.

Immigrant gets help from Manpower

By PETER VERRAL
 (Record Staff Reporter)

Everyone feels a little strange and uncomfortable when they first arrive in a new town.

But just imagine how you would feel after chasing the sun half way around the world and settling down in a place where you knew absolutely no one. Some of the new immigrants to Sherbrooke have gone through this experience.

For the most part, immigrants are generally optimistic about job opportunities when they first arrive in town. Gaston DeBlois, assistant manager of the Manpower Centre, and J. W. Boucher, coordinator of immigration, say every effort is made to obtain suitable employment for the immigrants.

Mr. DeBlois says Canada's Overseas Immigration Department located in various countries throughout Europe and the world, actually looks after the selection of the immigrants to come to Canada.

Once the immigrant arrives in Sherbrooke, the Manpower Centre supplies him with information on such things as family and hospital services.

Mr. Boucher says the center often helps the immigrant find accommodation and gives him financial aid according to his needs.

In this position as coordinator of immigration, Mr. Boucher sees most of the immigrants and by chatting with them he learns of their educational background and any professional training they have. All passports must also be verified.

From April to December 1, 1967, 400 immigrants arrived in Sherbrooke. Mr. Boucher says. Of this total approximately 150 were workers and there were 83 families.

The federal Department of Manpower was formed last Spring, and there were no statistics kept on the number of immigrants in Sherbrooke before this time.

Mr. Boucher says most of the immigrants come from France followed by Britain, Italy, the United States and Spain.

Once the immigrant has met the coordinator of immigration, he is then funnelled into one of four different sectors, headed by a special councillor, which attempts to find employment for him.

The four sectors are: manufacturing, construction, service (hotels, restaurants, hospitals, etc.) and clerical. After the immigrant has chosen one of the four sectors, it is no longer necessary to see the coordinator of immigration although he can act on a consulting basis.

Mr. DeBlois says each special councillor makes an inventory of job openings in his particular sector and passes these on to the immigrants.

According to Mr. DeBlois, a number of business concerns around Sherbrooke phone into the Department.

Both Mr. DeBlois and Mr. Boucher want to make it clear that from the time an immigrant arrives in Canada "he is treated as a Canadian."

Under normal conditions, if a person hasn't obtained employment within three to 10 can take a vocational or language course at the expense of the federal government. He said there are a number of evening courses offered in the city high schools.

The majority of immigrants who arrive in Sherbrooke are well qualified in a trade, but Mr. DeBlois admits that many people have difficulty in the trade examinations as the names of tools are different than in their mother tongue.

The most frequented trades that immigrants enter in Sherbrooke are those of manufacturing and clerical.

Mr. DeBlois says the Manpower Centre tries to keep in contact with newly arrived im-the Manpower Centre when a vacancy occurs.

The assistant manager also adds that in some cases an immigrant is sent on an exploratory trip to "feel out" job possibilities at the expense of days, the Manpower Centre attempts to place him in another trade until a job opening occurs which calls for his particular talents or training.

In regard to education, Mr. DeBlois says an immigrant

Landlubbers take a film cruise

Members of the Lennoxville Optimists Club, their wives and guests were given a complete pictorial world cruise from the decks of the mighty Queen Mary at their regular meeting held last night.

Ken Herring of Lennoxville, who, with his wife, was one of a very few to experience the last voyage of the world's largest luxury liner, showed three hours of slides on the Queen Mary's gala trip from the departure from South Hampton to its farewell to the high seas at Long Beach, California.

The slides began with the showing of thousands of Britons, who had jammed South Hampton harbor, waving a final adieu to the pride of Cun-ard's ocean liners. The Queen Mary departed from South Hampton travelled along the coast of France and made its first stop at the port of Lisbon, the capital of Spain.

From Lisbon the "Queen" continued to follow the coast past Gibraltar and the mouth of the Mediterranean Sea, along the shores of Africa. From here she veered out into the Atlantic on her way to Rio de Janeiro and gigantic Sugarfoot Mountain.

Describing the trip across Mrs. Herring said all passengers were asked to use whatever water they needed but that they should not waste a drop.

The reason for this, she said, was that the Queen Mary usually took five days to cross the Atlantic whereas on this her last voyage the captain had planned to take eight days.

She said the interior decor of the vessel was "a picture from out of the past" with all the inside of the ship panelled with polished wood surfaces.

"I must admit, though," she said, "a great number of things inside the Queen Mary were nearly worn out and it would have cost Cunard a veritable fortune to refurbish the interior."

From Rio the Queen Mary followed the coast of South America and finally reached a place many men have dreamed of rounding but seldom do, Cape Horn.

Pleads not guilty to theft charges

A 28-year-old Sherbrooke man was arraigned and pleaded not guilty to two counts of theft.

Appearing in the Court of Sessions Yvon Beaudoin denied stealing a $200 money collection from the home of Richard Wallace in Stanstead and a .32 calibre pistol valued at $55 from George Buckland of the municipality of Beebe.

The incidents occurred on Mar. 12.

Beaudoin was arrested last Friday afternoon in Montreal and was transported to the Sherbrooke Winter Street jail Saturday evening.

Defence lawyer Denis said Beaudoin tried to contact him Saturday evening but that he was not in his office.

On Sunday the accused was taken to the Coaticook QPP headquarters where he remained until he was transported to Sherbrooke.

Beaudoin chose to be tried before judge and jury.

He will appear pro forma for the charge Mar. 21.

Representing the Crown in this case is Andre Langlais.

No bail was set as the court is awaiting transportation of the accused's record.

Bail will be set Mar. 21.

Georges Champagne, 21, of RR 1 Bishopton, pleaded not guilty in Court of Sessions yesterday to charges of car theft and stealing a tire.

The incidents occurred on Mar. 16 in Ascot.

The tire was valued at $35 and the car at $1,600 and are owned by Normand Cormier.

Champagne will stand trial Mar. 25.

To hold referendum vote on loan

RICHMOND — (Staff) — City council here gave unanimous backing to a $71,000 provincial loan which will consolidate the town's debts, at last Monday's meeting.

Secretary-treasurer Gilles Ducharme said yesterday morning a referendum vote will be held at city hall on April 8 from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. There will be three polls open to the public.

City had officials don't expect Richmond citizens to turn "thumbs down" on the loan but as Mr. Ducharme remarked, "We don't foresee it happening but you never know."

If the public does vote down the loan it would mean a boost in the mill rate from 14 to 23 mills.

Mr. Ducharme said the nearly doubling of the mill rate would be necessary as "the provincial government told us we would have to find a way to reimburse the loan right away."

The loan was suggested by the Quebec government as Richmond has had difficulty paying its accumulated debts which date back to 1962.

Fewer births at Hotel Dieu

Statistics prove all departments at the Hotel - Dieu increased their work - load last year except the maternity department.

In 1967, 1,496 babies were born, a drop of 22 per cent over the last three years.

The statistics were released yesterday by Dr. Clovis Dagneau, the Hotel - Dieu's Medical Director, at a press conference yesterday afternoon.

He stated the activities of the hospital have tripled since the inception of hospital insurance in 1960 and are continually increasing.

In 1967, 100,091 patients were either treated, given examinations or consultations but were not admitted to the hospital. In 1960, only 32,216 patients were recorded in this department.

In 1960, 127,045 laboratory analyses were conducted with the figure nearly tripling last year to 305,802.

The number of electro-cardiograms last year, 6,578, were more than double the figure of electro - cardiograms taken in 1960, 2,744.

The emergency service treated 36,147 patients last year and 14,902 patients in 1960, while the space has remained the same.

Physiotherapy was given to 11,473 persons in 1967 but to only 3,572 patients in 1960, a soaring increase in seven years.

Last year, 24,498 radiology examinations were performed but only 14,113 such examinations were made in 1960.

Ninety - eight per cent of the patients admitted to the Hotel-Dieu in Sherbrooke are from the Eastern Townships, 53.1 per cent from Sherbrooke itself. The average stay in the hospital for adults and children is 6.9 days.

Education differences are based on approach

Educational differences between Quebec's two ethnic groups are not based on differences in education but rather are in the concept of what constitutes an educated man and how to go about creating him.

Ian MacLeay, director of studies with the Eastern Townships regional school board told members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club, Tuesday.

Mr. MacLeay, also a member of the club, said the tendency of many of those in the department of education is to employ a highly specialized system starting with the polyvalent high school and continuing through the colleges and even universities.

"We, on the other hand, view our youngsters' education as being comprised of experiences in a cluster of related areas so that we will have a product that is in essence, retrainable."

He said students beginning to work in 1970, according to statistics, will have to be retrained at an average of at least three times during their working years.

"The broader the educational background, particularly at the high school level, the more easily this retraining can be carried out."

Mr. MacLeay said machine shop experience is needed in high schools but he was afraid that students will be forced to over-specialize in a narrow area and that this fear was shared by many educators both English and French speaking.

"A knowledge of our political systems as studied through a comprehensive social study program is as important to the youngster in the welding shop as it is to the lad proceeding to college."

"Insofar as a knowledge in this area should prepare us to act intelligently as citizens, the welder's vote at the polls is as good as any man's."

Mr. MacLeay pointed out that more importance is being placed on leisure time with the increasing reduction in the work week.

"If a youngster spends 450 hours during his high school career in only one area, such as auto mechanics, when does he have time to enjoy experience in art and music as well as other areas so important to the forming of whole people?"

He said it would be an error to say that the French-speaking educators want trade school education for most of their high school youngsters and the English want a more liberal approach.

"We must never allow ourselves to forget that many French educators are as concerned as we are."

The speaker added: "There is a great school rising from the ground in Richmond and it will provide educational opportunities for our youngsters that have never been available before.

"Construction on the Lennoxville school for 2,700 students will be started before the first of May and what a school that will be."

"No matter how we disagree on programs, compromises will be reached if we stand our ground without being inflexible."

Ungrading system for 1969

A modified form of ungrading will be established at the Grade 8 and 10 levels next year, Ian MacLeay, director of studies for the Eastern Townships Regional School Board told members of the Rotary Club Tuesday night.

Mr. MacLeay said the next step will be to ungrade the high school program.

"If the ideal application of this belief at the elementary level is to result in non grading, the same argument applies and just as much to our high school youth."

"The speed at which children learn varies from time to time and is a product of their own individual learning patterns. Some youngsters are easily able to do more than what is presently covered in a year's work, while others need perhaps a year and a half at this grade."

Vietnam war solution vital to whole world

The decision of the central bank heads to adopt the two-price system for gold may have eased the international currency crisis for the time being but most economists appear agreed that this is only a temporary respite, designed to give the United States and other major countries an opportunity to reorganize their fiscal affairs on a permanent basis.

If some action is not taken by Washington within the next two or three weeks, the general agreement in financial circles throughout the world is that fresh troubles of a serious nature can be expected within three months.

Almost any major nation one might care to mention can be charged with some degree of fiscal irresponsibility, of letting its internal political problems get the better of its economic judgment.

Canada cannot plead innocent to such a charge.

Despite the currency crisis of the past few weeks, in which the Canadian dollar was only sustained by immense assistance from other central banks, Parliament has failed to take any effective action to balance the national accounts.

But basically, the war in Vietnam is the major contributor to the problem.

As long as this war continues it will undermine the ability of the United States to restore confidence in the dollar by putting its own house in order and to bring its balance of payments into line.

Billions of dollars that could be put to productive use are going down the drain for armaments and material for the Vietnam war. The money and manpower lost in this effort can never be regained.

How the United States can disengage itself from this morass is something only Washington can decide but the rest of the world has the right to hope, and expect, that somehow or other a solution is found before the world is plunged into an economic catastrophe.

Keep a record of every penny you spend, and you'll soon have to adjust your budget to allow for the cost of notebooks.

Sense of humor vital

One thing needed in Canada today is a sense of humor, especially in making a study of the political picture.

There is no denying that the country is facing many critical problems but unless the people can take a lighter view of the manner in which they are being handled various administrations may well have to swell their budgets to finance the construction and maintenance of lunatic asylums for the entire population.

Never before in the history of the nation has a TV commercial come so true as in recent weeks.

Night after night everybody who is anybody on the public scene bleeds before the TV cameras in an orgy of Robinhoodism in one form or another.

Never in the history of the nation, or at least since the saddle horse became scarce and expensive, have there been so many white knights, riding so many white horses and throwing so many lances in so many directions.

It was, until a few weeks ago, unknown that somewhere in Ottawa, there were a riding school with stables stuffed with white horses.

In recent weeks we have learned that the commercial with the fellow on the white horse was made in Canada.

One of these days his visor will fly open when he falls off that horse and under it we'll see the face of almost any leader of almost any party in parliament.

But let us retain our sense of humor and maybe, too, this crisis will pass or a new one come along.

Judging from recent deliveries to us, many grown-ups are still engaged in the game of playing post office, rather than in working at it.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

March 20, 1968 . . .

Uncle Tom's Cabin, by Harriet Beecher Stowe, was first published in book form, 116 years ago today—in 1852. It had earlier been serialized in a magazine.

The novel sold 500,000 copies in the U.S. and was translated into 22 foreign languages. It fanned the flames of anti-slavery feeling in the U.S. and was even more important in diminishing foreign support for the Confederacy.

1936 — Flooding in New Brunswick caused an estimated $3,000,000 damage.

1937 — Amelia Earhart's plane crashed on takeoff at Honolulu.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1918—Prime Minister Robert Borden introduced a bill to enfranchise all women except those married to enemy aliens.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1943—the British 8th Army opened a large-scale offensive on a six-mile front against the Mareth Line in southern Tunisia; arrangements were completed for exchange of 862 Axis naval and civilian prisoners for equal number of British naval personnel; U.S. fighters raided Japanese positions on Munda, New Georgia; British bombers attacked railway yards and docks in Naples.

Gold drain crisis

LBJ's plea for austerity may have been a political move

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Johnson called Monday for a "program of national austerity," something voices here and abroad have been urging for months.

"The time has come . . . when your president has come here to ask you people and all the other people of the nation to join in a total national effort to win the war, to win the peace and to complete the job that must be done here at home," he told a farm union meeting in Minneapolis.

He asked for a program of national austerity "to ensure that our economy will prosper and our national fiscal policy will be sound."

This strong presidential plea, if effective, spells the end of the official theory the U.S. is wealthy enough to provide $25,000,000,000 or more annually in guns for Vietnam and all the butter required at home as well.

It follows a weekend decision to establish a two-price system for gold—one for the private trade that would fluctuate with demand and the other maintained by the U.S., Canada and other co-operation nations at $35 an ounce in U.S. funds, as it has been for years.

That decision followed the latest wave of panic buying of gold, latest symptom in global uneasiness about the soundness of the U.S. dollar.

The president has been unable to get a tax increase because congressional leaders insist he must trim his spending plans first. Other governments have been saying the U.S. and Britain must put their economic houses in order, sharply narrow the drain of gold and dollars or pounds and thus reassure the world at large they mean business.

Paradoxically the gold rush bringing the international monetary system to its shakiest position since 1929 aroused more public curiosity than concern here. Americans have trouble linking gold and their dollar since they have been unable same politically and financially for him.

The U.S. will press again for cutting its spending at home and abroad and try again to raise taxes.

The two-price gold system, whose immediate effect has calmed the market fever, is seen as a stop-gap measure give the U.S. time.

Borrowing was made more expensive again last week.

Reports the military have asked for some 200,000 more men in Vietnam have been replaced by word they will get perhaps $35,000—or a maximum force in Vietnam of 560,000.

The president says he will make fresh efforts to cut his budget and the figure of $9,000,000,000 is in circulation. Congressional leaders holding out on the tax increase—a requested 10 cents more on every income tax dollar—say that may not be enough to win their co-operation.

There is fresh impetus given to the president's legislation to discourage tourist travel outside the Western Hemisphere, although it is not popular politically.

There are continuing talks to get Western Europe, which has a surplus of trade earnings and stocks of American dollars, to buy more from the U.S.

It remains to be seen what may emerge from U.S. consideration of a temporary increase in its tariffs to cut imports or of a border tax on imports.

Both men call the Vietnamese war the main cause of the gold and dollar drain, hence the president's emphasis Monday on continuing the war against what he calls aggression.

The U.S. aim therefore is the

Energy pill makes cops "zesty"

Dear Sir:

All over the country police chiefs are complaining that they don't get enough money and citizens are complaining they don't get enough police protection. Maybe it's not entirely a question of dollars and cents.

According to articles in the press, in Britain and West Germany some cities try to pep up their older policemen with a youth pill under the supervision of their senior physicians. It's still in the experimental stage — they have to take it for five months to be sure whether it works satisfactorily — but what I have read sounds quite encouraging.

This KH 3-pill is taken by the men over 40. It is supposed to boost the supply of nourishment to the body cells, especially the brain cells, and so gives added freshness and energy.

That's what some policemen are reported to have said after a rather short period: "This pill is excellent for soothing the nerves when I'm driving in heavy traffic. I don't get so heated up about other motorists."

Or: "I'm not tired any more when I get home. My wife and I don't have so many rows."

Or: "I'm not so forgetful as I used to be."

This may not sound earth-shaking, but if you can improve police morale by an otherwise harmless pill, why not do it? It may be worthwhile to watch the results of the experiments.

If they turn out all right let's give every Canadian middle-aged policeman who wants the pill for free. Then criminals and sloppy drivers better beware.

There may be just one thing to be watched. The policeman, at the termination of the test, have to answer how the pill affected their sex lives. Certainly we wouldn't like to see our policemen turned into sex maniacs by the pill.

Must unite to protest tax on food

Dear Sir:

It was with interest that I read the house - wife's letter which states very well what most housewives feel concerning the talk of taxing our daily bread. I am sure that many families in this age have to use all available money and foresight to make ends meet.

Could I tell you what has been done around here about this? While it may or may not do any good, it is a move in the right direction and let the higher-ups know we are aware of what is going on around us.

Various groups such as the Farm Forum, Women's Institutes, church groups etc. are having petitions drawn up and signed by as many people as possible and these are being sent in hopes that enough of these might at least delay the taxing of foods.

Only yesterday our minister announced in church that such a petition was on display near the door so that any who wished might sign it on their way out. Could be that enough of such protests might help.

Concerning the French and English controversy; to us who have blood from both in our veins this is embarrassing as well as nonsensical.

Thank you,

Leadership campaign — 2

Kierans wants a new Canada

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN

MONTREAL — (CP) — Eric William Kierans, who wants to be prime minister, is always eager to meet tomorrow half-way.

He puts his campaign for the Liberal leadership in a neat package:

"A new Canada, a new federalism, a new national consciousness, a renewed purpose and a new confidence—this is the challenge facing all 20,000,000 of us."

Mr. Kierans, who has won a reputation for Irish pugnacity and swinging success in several careers, accepted with a grin the early position of major outsider or long shot, as he put, in the fight against several federal cabinet ministers for the succession to Lester B. Pearson.

"I like it better that way—it's more exciting and more challenging," he said.

Millionaire - radical, economist, former businessman, professor and university administrator, he celebrated his 54th birthday at mid-stride in his coast-to-coast campaign. Still a member of the Quebec legislature, he is a former Quebec minister of revenue and health and former president of the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges.

BECOMES REFORMER

"If anyone can fire the imagination of the Canadian people, I suggest Eric is the man," says Dr. H. D. Woods, dean of arts and sciences at McGill University.

Mr. Kierans succeeded Dr. Woods in 1953 as director of McGill's school of commerce, six years after the already successful businessman had gone back to college to study economics and, eventually, to become professor of finance. As Mr. Kierans recalls now:

"When I was in my modest and reached a rather modest freedom from financial worries I decided there was a great deal more to living than making money and therefore returned to university to pursue research . . ."

That road led him into the financial world as a reformer and then into politics. In the former Liberal regime of Jean Lesage he became perhaps the foremost English - speaking participant in Quebec's Quiet Revolution.

In his 1967 book, Challenge of Confidence: Kierans on Canada — which amounts to a political testament — he writes:

"Our country will not reach that unlimited destiny if it . . ."

The PRAYER

searches for precedents." He wants change in a whole array of Canadian policies, notably regarding economic dependence on the United States, and said in an interview the people are more ready for change—constitutional and economic — than governments and civil service.

ERIC KIERANS

"You have to take account of the circumstances of a very rapidly changing world," he added. "It is not only Canada but the rapid rate of population change throughout the world in which we now can envisage a population doubling in 35 years instead of the rate of 180 years as it was . . . We have to be very sensitive to this rapid pace and welcome it and indeed attempt to create a suitable reality."

The medium - size, blue - eyed politician said his cross - Canada travels have convinced him that the public wants "more flexible and aggressive government."

A battler on the provincial, national and international scenes, Mr. Kierans has spread the impression that when he is around a rumpus is not far away. Here is some of the background:

After the Lesage government's 1966 defeat, the bilingual but basically English-speaking politician captured the presidency of the overwhelming French - language Quebec Liberal Federation. He risked a total split by introducing reforms and injecting democracy into the handling of party funds.

He engineered the convention defeat of Rene Levesque, his former cabinet colleague, and forced him outside the party with his campaign for a sovereign Quebec within a Canadian common market. He battled the fiery French-Canadian on television and public platform, and challenged head-on the concept of separatism, saying it would ruin Quebec.

President of the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges in 1960-63, he turned them into a "public institution, not a private club." He saw to it that 11 French - Canadian companies were listed, making the exchanges a place where Quebecers could buy stock of leading French-Canadian companies.

Scotstown Institute reviews year, elects officers at annual meeting

SCOTSTOWN — The annual meeting of the Women's Institute was held Mar. 4 at the school with Mrs. D. D. MacLeod and Mrs. Kelton MacKenzie as hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Ralph Coleman opened the meeting. The secretary reported that there were 17 members last year, nine meetings held, with an average attendance of ten. Mrs. W. A. Ladd gave the treasurer's monthly and annual report, which showed a fair balance to start the year.

Correspondence consisted of a thank-you letter, a list of prices of visas for Man and his World. It was reported that over 3½ tons of used stamps were received from different organizations and individuals at the Leprosy Mission in Toronto during 1967. Federated News and copies of the B. N. A. Act were given out. To date eight Mosaic books and one F.W.I.C. Heritage book were sold. The president and secretary gave reports of the board and executive meetings.

Highlights of the conveners reports showed that the branch had a busy year. Money was raised by commission on souvenir spoons, paper drives, sale of plants and slips, prize for handicraft competition, tea money at regular meetings and at the centennial tea at the semi-annual meeting.

Donations of money were given to the Haskell Children Fund, Heart Fund, Scotstown Home and School Association, Northern Extension Fund, Cookshire Fair Tea Project, Maplemount Home in Cookshire, Northern Canadian Women's Institute, Pennies for Friendship and all Q.W.I. commitments were met. One box of UNICEF Christmas cards were bought and sent to friends, as well as cards sent for different occasions during the year. The December radio broadcast was prepared by a member and recorded at the radio station.

Mrs. Coleman, before asking Mrs. Kelton MacKenzie to take the chair for the installation ceremony, thanked the members for their loyal support during the year.

Mrs. J. B. Scott presented the slate of officers which are as follows: President, Mrs. Ralph Coleman; first vice-president, Mrs. Burns MacDonald; second vice-president, Mrs. Dewar Scott; secretary, Mrs. F. B. Mayhew; treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Ladd.

Plans were made for something to be arranged for the branch's share in the variety night to be held in Bury in May. Members plan a trip to be taken instead of the June picnic, but the regular meeting will still be held. Some members offered to canvass for the Red Cross and a donation was voted to the Cancer Fund.

Three members read the radio broadcast. Mrs. Burns MacDonald showed slides of ladies who had worn centennial dresses at the semi-annual meeting, also of Expo. She was thanked by Mrs. Hall, for bringing Expo to those who did not attend and said those who did, enjoyed seeing them. The hostesses served refreshments in the lunch room.

Danville-Shipton's Federated Charity organization discussed

DANVILLE — At the meeting of the Richmond and District Ministerial Association on March 4, Rev. L. Westman gave a summary of the structure of the Federated Charities of Danville - Shipton and also of the work being done.

During 1967, 69 cases had received assistance; seven cases are having their funds administered; 15 cases for emergency food, oil, clothing or drugs; clothing was distributed to some 35 cases; 56 Christmas baskets were distributed, which included some 200 gifts for the children.

During the year a total of $1,309.62 was administered, and $1,376.03 was spent by the Federated Charities on other cases, including the $765.78 spent on Christmas baskets.

All cases have been given a number for confidential reasons. All work is on a voluntary basis, the funds are raised either by general canvass or donations from groups, companies, individuals or the two Town councils.

Mrs. L. Lavergne answered many questions on welfare work and explained to the Ministerial Association how valuable a contribution a community effort was to the Welfare Office and to the community as a whole.

Following the meeting the members of the ministerial and Miss L. Lavergne were entertained at the Rectory, with Mrs. L. Westman as hostess.

Activities at Stanstead College

The Stanstead College Alumni Association is extending a general invitation to all former students of the College, graduates or not to attend a reunion on Friday evening, March 29 at the Martineau Inn Ballroom, Dorchester and Guy, Montreal, in observance of the College's 150th year.

There will be a nominal charge made, dress is semi-formal and it is hoped a large number of Eastern Townshippers will make it a must to attend. The charges made will be added to the Stanstead Alumni Scholarship Fund.

To date over $3,000 is in the fund but the capital will never be spent. Only the interest will be used each year forever as a scholarship to send a student from the College who best combines the attributes of a scholar, an athlete and a gentleman for an educational summer in Ireland via Air Lingus.

The first scholarship is planned to be presented this May at the Alumni gathering at the college.

Reservations to the reunion and tickets are available from the chairman, Wayne Meighen, 4580 Queen Mary Road, Montreal, or Mrs. George Hatch, in Rock Island, area chairman.

Students of the 1968 graduating class at the College are being invited as guests to the ball as it comes during the Easter holiday recess which starts on Thursday, March 21. Former Stanstead College people may also take as many guests with them as they please.

The Alumni would also like to increase its membership; the regular membership is $5, day students, $2.50 (in other words local non-resident) and life membership is $100, paid by $20 per year for five years if so desired.

Russell French, 8737 Cure Legault, LaSalle, is chairman of the scholarship project and hopes to raise another $6,000 this year. A letter to him will place you in a position for a possible trip for two to Ireland and Russ would appreciate your letter.

The Easter holidays will terminate on April 4, when spring term begins; all too soon the school year will be finished. Cadet inspection will be on May 4 and June 8 is the last day of school.

Several members of the staff have gone for a well-earned rest to Florida and to soak up a little sunshine.

The last of the volleyball games have been played. In the finals, Grade 12 won and are the inter-class champs. They challenged the staff and in a three out of five competition were defeated by the staff, who became super-duper champs in intensively fought competition.

The graduation class is having on March 23, at the Sheraton Room, Mount Royal in Montreal, a dinner and dance to which the staff is invited.

To make the headmaster's list for February in Grade 12 were Kevin and Nigel Lester and Robert Walsh; Grade 11, John Miner, N. Sandberg, J. Scortino and Tony Sharp; Grade 10, G. Scotcher, D. ## Summer clothes for Bermuda spring

Bermuda's spring weather starts cool in Leonine March fashion but warms up quickly through April to blossom into the steady mid-seventies and higher during May.

If you plan to holiday in the island during the March to mid-April period, it will be worth trying to choose a wardrobe with both spring and summer in mind. Pack those spring fashions you bought when the shops burst into their spring lines while the snow was still thick on the ground... or choose from the summer fashions now appearing in the Bermuda stores. Early shoppers find the best selections, before outdoor temperatures rise and everyone gets the summer buying bug.

No woman likes to keep new clothes too long unworn in her wardrobe so a trip to Bermuda can give new spring and summer fashions their first airing.

In Bermuda April temperatures are, on average, in the low seventies, so choose light weight dresses in bright colors. City blacks and sombre colors should be discarded in favor of pastels and bright hues to match the kaleidoscope of tints that characterize the island.

Hotels and guest-houses blend pleasant informality with dress for dinner. During the day, casual wear is in vogue for lounging around... swim-suits, of course, for poolside activity and an attractive coverup for the journey between pool and room. It is not acceptable in Bermuda to wear bikinis or swimming trunks through the public rooms of the hotel.

For cooler days, trousers suits for ladies are comfortable and fashionable for touring and sightseeing, but Bermuda shorts in bright colors or prints teamed with matching tops or complementary colors are the most popular wear around the British colony. For men, Bermuda shorts are very smart, especially if worn with the knee length socks in the approved style adopted. A cardigan or lightweight jacket will guard against cool breezes while touring in surrey-topped taxi or on motorized cycles, most popular form of transport with Bermudians... and the younger visitors... particularly honeymooners.

Evenings in Bermuda are magical... sunsets of deepest hues reflected a million times from millions of wavelets stretching to the horizon. With no haze and a clear sky, the island's night canopy is a glitter with stars... time then to explore by moonlight, its fine restaurants and night-clubs, or just window shop in the quiet evening streets of Hamilton or the 350-year-old town of St. George. The island's informality is pervasive... on need to 'dress to the nines' for dinner... or to night club, for that matter... but dresses for ladies are a must. Some hotel managements are strict in their ruling that trousers, however glamorous, are not acceptable attire for ladies after the cocktail hour.

A dressy cotton dress or cocktail wear will carry all visiting ladies through evening engagements... dinner out, a whirl around the night-clubs... comfortably, and without that miserable "under-dressed" feeling. But those who like to dress up while on vacation will find that a long skirt with teamed top will add a sparkle to the evening, a touch of glamor and they will certainly not be over-dressed.

A dark suit is fine for a man's Bermuda evenings, but to match his wife on dressier occasions he may like to include in his packing a dinner jacket, perhaps in a colored silk so popular today, which can be teamed with dark grey or black trousers.

UCW unit plans sugar social

Philathea Unit of the Lennoxville United Church Women planned the annual sugar social at the regular meeting held recently in Douglas Hall, Queen Street. The leader, Mrs. Olive Painter, was in the chair.

Mrs. Hugh L. Wallace read an article entitled 'Who Needs Women?' showing the very important roles that various women's organizations play in their communities and elsewhere.

Mrs. Painter welcomed members and guests and, in the absence of the secretary, Miss Ruby Bailey, Mrs. Grant Taylor and Mrs. Wallace assisted.

Mrs. Gilbert Patrick, treasurer, gave the financial report. The sum of $10, received from Mrs. Mary Worster as a memorial to her son, Bill, will be transferred by this Unit to the Memorial Chimes Fund.

Favorable comments were heard on the new china and flatware recently purchased for the Church Hall use.

Plans were completed for the annual sugar social, crokinole and other games party, to be held Friday evening, March 22, with added menu of coffee, home-made doughnuts and pickles. There will be many door prizes for adults and game prizes for the children, who always have a special program. Mrs. Austin Scott and Mrs. Arnold Bown are to be the visitors to Grace Christian Home from this Unit on April 1.

It was decided to cater for a small banquet on March 26 and the date for the annual bazaar and salad supper was set for May 23. A white elephant sale will be held at the April meeting, which is also Secret Pal Nite. All members are urged to attend.

Apron material was given out to be made up for the coming bazaar.

After further discussions the meeting closed and the hostesses, Mrs. Harold Worster, Mrs. Anson Rowe and Mrs. Wallace served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Archie Kinnear. The lace-covered tea table had an appointment of daffodils in milk glass bowl and matching candles in candelabra.

Business Girls' 'spiel is successful event

Friendly competition was the order of the day last Saturday, when the Business Girls' section of the Ladies' Sherbrooke Curling Club entertained 12 visiting rinks at the annual bonspiel. Friendship was renewed and the company of many past members from in and out-of-town was enjoyed. Rinks were from Heather, Wentworth, Victoriaville, Lennoxville, the Border, Rosemere, Town of Mount Royal and Sherbrooke.

Gay St. Patrick's Day decorations lent a festive air to the event which commenced at 9 a.m. Homemade biscuits and coffee were served to the curlers during the morning and a hot casserole lunch at noon. A sherry party was held in the afternoon, when Bernice Besson, Emily Von Berg, Lois Daigle and Virginia Gilbert, in gay St. Patrick's Day attire complete with straw hats, served the guests.

Later, a roast beef dinner was enjoyed. The head table was arranged with a centerpiece of white mums and green carnations, shamrocks and green candles in silver holders. The original curling place cards were made by Phyllis McMurray.

Prior to the finals the curlers were piped on to the ice by Andy Forret and his bagpipes. Winners of the main event, the Nicol Trophy, won by Lennoxville against Heather, were: Skip, Lil Garard, Sandra Stafford, Betty Watson and Alice Bell. Heather: Skip, Evelyn Eastman, Shirley Downs, Pat Burbidge and Cathy Randall.

Wells, Rachel Pellerin, Laurette Davignon and Mable Wallace. Laurier: Skip, Cecile Cantin, Doreen Gendron, Lise Drouin and Alice Britton.

Following the finals a skit, directed by Bernice Besson and Judy Paul, was presented by eight members of the club, bringing an end to a successful and enjoyable 'spiel.

Plans Spring Cleaning Well in Advance

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I live on a farm and cannot get things just when I want them, so each year I go over the house and inspect each room separately to see what changes or improvements need to be made at spring house-cleaning time. I have already bought white enamel paint, varnish, brushes, some new curtains and wallpaper. When I have a bit of time to get some extra jobs done before actual house cleaning time I can pitch in and be that much ahead. The expense is behind us before spring really comes, and this often means I can buy a spring outfit I would not otherwise be able to afford, to say nothing of the extra painting and papering being done before I start to really clean.—EVELYN

DEAR POLLY—An easy way to split cake layers, as for Boston cream pie, is to make a slash about ½-inch deep all around the cake just where you want to divide it. Lay a piece of sewing thread in this cut, cross it in front, gently pull and have an easy and cleanly split cake.—MRS. J. B. M.

DEAR POLLY—Do tell Lillian that washing her polished cotton material in cold water with that popular cold water product for woollens will help to retain the gloss. Press on the wrong side while the fabric is damp. This method has worked well for me.—POLLY K.

DEAR GIRLS—One of my daughters-in-law suggests putting waxed paper on the ironing board and then ironing the fabric on the wrong side.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—To restore a fresh new look to polished cotton and cotton satin, spray with spray sizing before ironing, which will also be easier. This is great on wash-and-wear garments, too.—E. A.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—My suede shoes got all wet and rain spotted. Can someone tell me how to remove these water stains?—NANCY

DEAR POLLY—I no longer live where I can have my children and their families come to visit me. I visit them and have fallen onto an idea that pleases both ways. When I go to visit one of them I always take along a "hostess" gift which is carefully selected from my own unused things. I would rather see the children have and enjoy these things while I am still here than have a situation where more than one might want the same item after I pass on.—MRS. G. B. ## U.S. recruits help of consumer-conscious wife WASHINGTON (CP)—The United States has recruited the consumer-conscious wife to help it maintain and, if possible, expand the $1,000,000,000 slice of American farm trade with Japan and Formosa.

Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman, in announcing the make-up of a 60-member trade delegation he will lead eastward, said some wives will go along to establish a "new dimension" of relations at the consumer level. The mission, to include 20 state governors, members of Congress and others, will be the largest trade group ever sent by the U.S. to the Far East. Freeman said it reflects growing competition in the farm-product sector from Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Argentina, China and South Africa, and "we have no choice but to intensify our own sales efforts."

There has been some critical sniping about the size of the group at a time when the U.S. economy is heavily burdened and President Johnson has appealed for a two-year moratorium on non-essential travel outside the Western Hemisphere.

The distaff side, says the agriculture department, "will meet with consumer representatives, food editors and women's organization leaders, will appear on daytime home-and-family television shows that are increasingly popular in Japan and will take part in the opening of American food promotion in some of Tokyo's largest department stores."

Ideal Make-up Base

For making-up the natural way, apply moisture make-up with your fingertips or sponge, always using a downward motion. A moisture make-up foundation is the ideal complexion base for all other make-up to follow. It evens out color and hides minor skin imperfections to provide for a softer, more finished face.

Choose Right Shade

Foundation sometimes needs an assist from a specially formulated cover-up product, so why not resort to camouflage?

QUEBEC SCENE:

Will launch study to see what French Canada wants

MONTREAL — (CP) — The Estates General of French Canada is to launch an "in depth" study of what "Quebec and French Canada want," Jacques Yvan Morin, the organization's president, said Monday.

The announcement brought swift reaction from the anti-separatist Vigilants of Canada, who called on Premier Daniel Johnson to "think twice" before heeding a request by the Estates General for funds to carry out the survey in the province.

Mr. Morin, professor of international law at the University of Montreal, said he hopes the results of the survey will be available eight months from now, when the Estates General holds its annual meeting.

"We hope this meeting will be our last because our work will have ended," he added.

The Estates General is a privately organized French-Canadian body elected from the ranks of intermediary organizations such as school boards, professional associations, nationalist societies, trade unions, municipalities and chambers of commerce.

It is patterned on the Estates General established in France in 1302 to advise the government on various problems, particularly those dealing with the constitution.

Give estimates

QUEBEC — (CP) — Departmental estimates for the coming financial year in Quebec are expected to be presented in the provincial legislature this week.

But presentation of the budget may be delayed a few days because of the illness of Finance Minister Dozois, who entered hospital during the weekend, a spokesman for Premier Daniel Johnson said Monday.

State of crisis

MONTREAL — (CP) — Rene Levesque says Quebec has sunk Canada into a state of crisis and the only solutions are either to go along with Justice Minister Trudeau or declare a sovereign state of Quebec.

"Either we go along with Trudeau — whose attitude is logical — and stop rocking the boat, or we become a sovereign state, living in full association with other people, without taking anything away from them but what rightly belongs to us," he said.

Lack of aid

MONTREAL — (CP) — Two prisoner rehabilitation agencies said Tuesday that insufficient legal aid for accused persons in Quebec often leads to miscarriage of justice.

The Association of Social Rehabilitation Services and the French-language Society for Rehabilitation asked for increased availability of legal aid in briefs to a provincial royal commission inquiring into the administration of justice in Quebec.

To reduce chaos?

MONTREAL — (CP) — Five major construction trades associations said Tuesday they hope a list of recommendations they submitted to the provincial government last week will reduce the chaos in labor relations in the industry.

Immigration

migrants for the first couple of months to help them get over the "initial rough spots." He also says in some cases the Department helps a person purchase the tools of his trade.

Then too, if an immigrant is in a position that he wishes to buy a farm, he can obtain the services of an evaluator. Commercial and industrial men will also dive him around to inspect the various sites Mr. DeBlois explains.

In 1966, a Business and Farm Settlements in Quebec report states that there were 20 cases of immigrants purchasing farms. The total purchase price was $596,400 of which the immigrants made a cash down payment of $263,400.

On the business side of the picture there was a reported 59 immigrants starting up their own business in 1966. The total purchase price for the various concerns was $1,852,500 of which $843,500 was made as a cash down payment.

The total immigration into Canada for 1966 was 194,743 persons. The countries from which the most number of immigrants came were: British Isles, 63,291; Italy, 31,625; United States, 17,514; West Germany, 9,262; Portugal, 7,930; and France, 7,872.

Ontario absorbed 55 per cent of the immigrants or 107,621 persons; Quebec received 20 per cent, 39,198; British Columbia had 13 per cent, 24,746; Western Canada took in 9.5 per cent, 18,650 immigrants; and the Maritimes received two per cent or 4,313 persons.

Financial report

From Greenshields Ltd.

Steel Co. of Canada Ltd. is negotiating for options on over 7,000 acres of land in Nanticoke area of southwestern Ontario for future expansion. Nanticoke is 40 miles south of Hamilton on the north shore of Lake Erie.

Directors of Oshawa Wholesale Ltd. have declared four quarterly dividends of 4 1/2c each on class A shares payable in 1968, a total of 18c per share in the year. In the 1967 comparable period total was 13c per share — three payments of 6 1/2c each before a 2 for 1 split and one payment of 3 1/2c after the split. The 1968 dividends are payable April 18, July 5, Sept. 23 and Dec. 16 with record dates March 27, June 14, Sept. 3 and Nov. 27, respectively.

MacLean-Hunter Publishing Co. plans a four for one stock split, with shareholders meeting April 9, 1968 to approve the split.

Omission of the quarterly dividend on the 5 1/4% $100 par value preferred share, normally payable in April, is announced by Hawker Siddeley Canada Ltd. T. J. Emmert said the decision to omit the dividend was taken in view of losses on operations incurred in 1967 and unsatisfactory operations to date in 1968 due particularly to the generally depressed state of the steel markets in Canada which are served by Dosco.

SMERRER, Deforest — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, who passed away one year ago today March 20, 1967. We watched you suffer, we heard you sigh. All we could do Pop, was just stand by. When the time came we suffered too. For you never deserved what you went through. We lived in hope and prayed in vain. For God to make you well again. Death sometimes comes to let us know. We love more dearly than we show. For love in death lets us see. What love in life should always be. Always remembered and sadly missed by

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and returned the jack. South covered with the queen and West was in with the king. He led a third diamond which was ruffed in dummy.

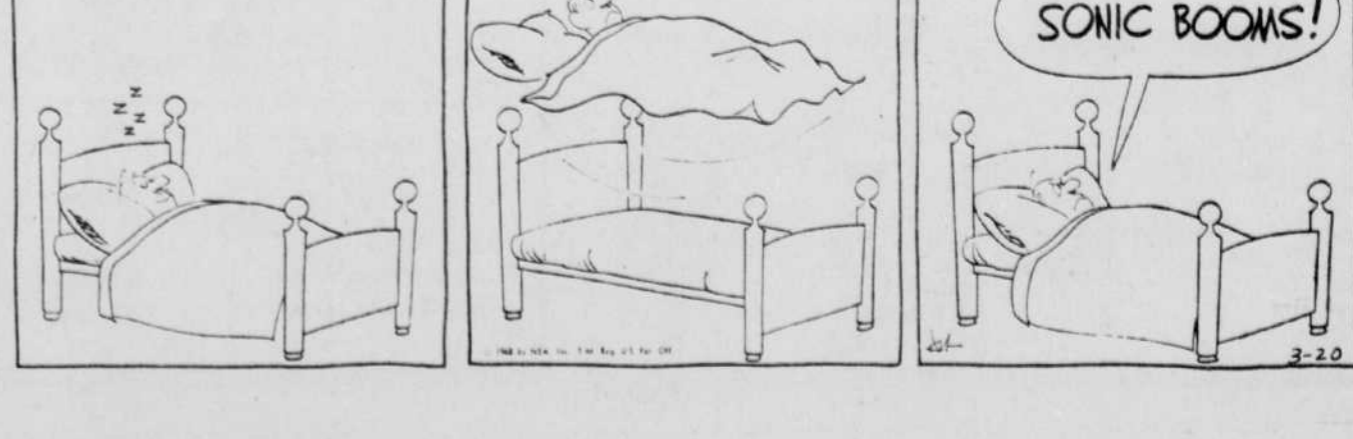

The jack of spades was led from dummy. South's ace picked up East's king and the queen of spades lead disclosed the bad trump break and South was left with two losing trump tricks. He went after hearts in the hope of getting a club discard on dummy's fourth heart but that did not materialize. South was down one trick.

As is frequently the case, South blamed North for his weak hand and pointed out that he did make one spade. North was positively unhappy. Do you see why?

South had been guilty of bad trump management. When he led dummy's jack of spades at trick four, he had sent a man on an errand that could have been performed just as well by a boy. He should have led dummy's eight of spades! It wouldn't have mattered at all if East held two or three spades but it would save a trick against the singleton king.

The king was singleton. The trick saved would have been the contract trick.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Daily Use of Laxatives Is Harmful, Not Helpful

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

(First of Three Related Columns.)

Readers who are or who believe they are constipated and who are dosing themselves with various laxatives secretly suspect that they are doing themselves no good. Many of them write to me asking about the harmful effects of this or that laxative. The greatest danger with all such drugs is irritation of the delicate lining of the intestines and setting up a chronic colitis.

The laxative habit thrives on the twin misconceptions that if you go for more than 24 hours without a stool you are constipated and that if you are constipated you are in big trouble. Most people, after taking a laxative, over-empty the bowel and are physiologically entitled to miss a day. If they take a laxative under such circumstances, they again over-empty the bowel and the result can best be described not as constipation, but as a cathartic diarrhea.

To the reader who inquired about the daily use of castor oil, I can only say that this harsh purgative is one of the most irritating. I would not recommend it for a sick dog and I doubt that any doctor would recommend its daily use. Milk of magnesia, senna and Senokot (a senna preparation) are not as irritating as castor oil but, if they are taken daily, the end result will be the same.

Other readers have inquired about bran bread and bran cereals. I would rigidly avoid all such products if they contain the coarse identifiable flakes of pure bran because bran in this form is also a bowel irritant. The use of products made with finely ground bran flour is less hazardous but, as is the case with vegetables and fruit (the natural laxatives), the amount of bran eaten must be carefully adjusted to allow the stools to be firm and well-formed.

Some readers show a preference for enemas. These, too, should not be used routinely and when used should not contain more than eight ounces of plain warm water. Larger enemas tend to over-empty the bowel, and soap or other additives are irritating and unnecessary. The secret of success in the use of a small, plain water enema is to hold it at least five minutes before passing it. Don't take an enema unless you have gone 48 hours without a bowel movement (72 hours if the last stool was loose or watery).

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

World Curling opens today

MONTREAL (CP) — Bud Somerville of Superior, Wis., has a trick knee that has been bothering him for several days but says "I'll never notice it when the game starts."

The game starts at 2 p.m. EST today with Somerville's U.S. champions against Norway in the opening round of the international curling championships.

Somerville, along with Chuck Hoy of Scotland and Ron Northcott of Calgary, is bidding to become the second skip to win two titles during the nine-year history of the tournament.

Ernie Richardson of Regina is the only skip to win more than one. He did it on four occasions. "It's an old injury," Somerville said Tuesday. "I saw a physiotherapist and I've been staying away from the practice sessions for the last few days."

WON 1965 TITLE
Somerville won the championship in 1965 but lost out in the U.S. during the next two years. Somerville says his rink has curled at least 60 games as a unit.

"That's more than we ever did before and each of us has curled a lot of games on other rinks."

The U.S. skip is a serious 31-year-old commercial printer who loves to curl and hates to lose.

"We always go into competitions to win. What's the use of playing a game if you don't?"

But he realizes that Canadian curlers, especially those from Western Canada, have a distinct advantage.

VACATION TIME
"They curl most of the winter every day in competition. . . . We have to take our vacations to compete."

Somerville goes against Northcott, who won the title for Canada in 1966, in the second round of the championship at 8 p.m. EST tonight.

Hay takes his Scottish rink from Perth against the West German rink, skipped by Werner Fischer-Weppler, at 2 p.m. while Canada plays Switzerland and Sweden meets France.

The Swiss rink is skipped by Franz Marti while Thor Andersen pilots the Norwegian foursome and Pierre Boan skips the French team.

The eight countries play a round-robin tournament. The second- and third-place finishers meet in the semi-final for the right to play the first place for the title. The final is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

National Hockey League governors toss cold water on Seals' move to Vancouver

NEW YORK (CP) — National Hockey League governors threw cold water Tuesday on a proposal not yet presented to them formally that of the ailing Oakland franchise being moved to Vancouver.

They said that while Vancouver would be a prime location for an NHL team, they would prefer the Oakland franchise remain in Oakland.

Undismayed, the president of Labatt Breweries of Canada Ltd., N. E. Hardy, said later Tuesday that an application for Transfer of the Oakland franchise to Vancouver would be made "at a mutually convenient time."

An announcement in Vancouver last Thursday said Labatt Breweries is prepared to purchase a controlling interest in the Seals on condition the club moved to Vancouver.

NHL owners meeting here Tuesday prepared a written statement which said:

—No application had been received for transfer of the Oakland franchise to Vancouver;

—The board "reaffirmed its position that the NHL franchise will remain in the San Francisco-Oakland area."

—The board still believes Vancouver, one of the original but unsuccessful applicants for an expansion franchise, "will be considered as a prime location for any further NHL expansion at such time as it may occur."

NHL president Clarence Campbell said the major obstacle to the proposed franchise shift are the NHL-recognized territorial rights of the Western Hockey League and the WHL Vancouver Canucks.

"I have received an official telegram from the Vancouver WHL club," said Campbell, "advising that it had not taken part in the Oakland-Labatt negotiations, that it was its intention to honor its commitments of the WHL and that it was its desire to acquire an NHL franchise for Vancouver."

Other owners confirmed that the written statement represented the consensus of their views. The affirmations came from Stafford Smythe of Toronto, Bruce Norris of Detroit, Weston Adams of Boston, Edward Snider of Philadelphia and David Molson of Montreal.

Frank Tatum, San Francisco lawyer who represented Oakland at Tuesday's meeting in the absence of Barend Van Gerbig, held a news conference of his own. He said the governors had issued their statement on the basis of information they had before it—"which was nothing."

Tatum remained optimistic that an application for transfer of the franchise to Vancouver would be made.

Meanwhile, he said, the Labatt firm had promised to advance the funds—estimated at close to $700,000-needed to clear Oakland's indebtedness to the NHL by a May 15 deadline.

Campbell agreed with Tatum that the board's statement did not rule out an application either for a change of ownership or of site.

Campbell listed two conditions to be fulfilled for the transfer of the Oakland franchise to Vancouver:

1. At least nine of the 12 league governors would have to approve.

2. The league would have to be satisfied that the Vancouver WHL franchise owner concurred in the transfer and "had satisfied its partners in the WHL in respect to its own defection from the WHL."

Campbell said the "rational approach" of putting an NHL team in Vancouver would be through a further expansion.

TWO MORE POSSIBLE

Although he did not believe expansion by another full division could be achieved in less than five years because of a shortage of players, a two-team enlargement could come sooner, said Campbell.

Bourne for winning the consolation section of the Sherbrooke Business Girls Bouspiel held Saturday. ## Leafs face elimination tonight against Canadiens in Montreal

Expansionism 1967-68, a crucial trial period for six new National Hockey League clubs, concluded during the weekend.

And despite fears of a theatrical farce, the NHL's expanded Western Division did themselves proud.

Although the six established Eastern clubs won 86 of the scheduled 144 interlocking games, the rookie franchises justified their elevation to hockey's major circuit by grabbing one of every three points resulting from games between the Eastern and Western division clubs.

The early doubters have been eating crow most of the current season. After all, they deduced when expansion was proposed in 1966, how could clubs from the NHL boondocks hope to contend with outstanding teams established during 50 years prior to expansion.

But newcomers in Los Angeles, Oakland, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Minneapolis and Pittsburgh weren't about to play dead.

STAKE REPUTATION
They've provided highly-entertaining hockey for fans throughout the 12-team circuit and perhaps now they'll get a chance to prove it—when East meets West in the Stanley Cup final.

There are still 10 days remaining in the season but Eastern and Western division teams finish the schedule in their respective divisions.

The only financial trouble spot has been Oakland. There has been talk of shifting the Seals and last week a tentative deal with Labatt Breweries of Canada Ltd. was negotiated, contingent on the franchise moving to Vancouver.

The other five, after slow starts, have built a solid nucleus of fans and created an interesting race for playoff positions that may not be decided until the 74-game schedule ends March 31.

RANGERS BENEFIT
New York Rangers gained the most from the interlocking schedule, winning 17 and tying three of their 24 interlocking games while Montreal Canadiens won 16 and tied three and Chicago Black Hawks took 15 and tied five.

Even Detroit Red Wings, last in the East came out ahead of their interlocking schedule with 14 wins and three ties. Toronto Maple Leafs were the only established Eastern club to show a debit record—winning 10 and tying three of 24 games.

Los Angeles Kings scored in the Western Division standings, and won 10 interlocking games and tied two. The division leaders, Philadelphia Flyers, picked up eight wins and a tie for 17 points, while Minnesota North Stars rated second in interlocking games to Los Angeles with 18 points on seven wins and four ties.

St. Louis Blues, stood next in points on five wins and six ties. Pittsburgh Penguins had six wins and three ties and Oakland trailed with four wins and two ties.

Playoff positions now are the big question mark, especially in the West where five teams remain in the running.

With seven games remaining, fifth-place Pittsburgh trails Minnesota and St. Louis by only seven points.

At the top, only three points separate leading Philadelphia from Los Angeles with the Kings just three points ahead of Minnesota and St. Louis.

EAST IS DIFFERENT
In the East Detroit has already been eliminated and Toronto, defending champions, need only one more loss in their remaining seven games to miss the playoffs for the first time in 10 seasons.

Montreal Canadiens top the Eastern Division standings by eight points with six games left. New York and Boston Bruins are tied in second, one point ahead of Chicago.

Most clubs are in action tonight, only Boston and Detroit sitting out. Toronto is at Montreal, New York at Chicago, Philadelphia is at Oakland, St. Louis is in Pittsburgh and Minnesota is at Los Angeles.

Thursday the Leafs are in Detroit and Chicago is in Boston while Friday's schedule has St. Louis in Los Angeles.

Tigers wallop Red Sox, Mets edge Phillies and Cards bang Pirates

Few major league ball players consider a nightmarish slump a beneficial turning point in their careers, but first baseman George Scott of Boston Red Sox is an exception.

"That bad second half two years ago really woke me up," the big slugger said between swings at the pitching machine the other day. "I realize I had to work harder."

Scott jumped from Pittsfield of the Eastern League to the Red Sox in 1966, stunned the baseball world with tremendous slugging and earned the starting job for the American League in the all-star game.

However, he was on the skids even before taking the field against the National League all-stars. The pitchers had caught up with him and he finished the year with a .245 average and 27 homers.

SETS WHIFFING MARK

Scott set a Boston record by striking out 152 times as a rookie. Most of the strikeouts came in the second half of the campaign as he went fishing for outside pitches.

"I knew I had to do something to keep my job," Scott recalled.

In an exhibition game Tuesday, the Red Sox were pounded by Detroit Tigers 13-3, Scott getting one hit in his one time at bat.

In other games, New York Mets beat Philadelphia Phillies 4-2, Chicago White Sox took Minnesota Twins 5-4, Houston Astros blanked Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0, Washington Senators crushed Atlanta Braves 7-1, St. Louis Cardinals destroyed Pittsburgh Pirates 11-1 and Chicago Cubs beat San Francisco Giants 5-4.

Also, Baltimore Orioles stomped Cincinnati Reds 8-3, Cleveland Indians took California Angels 4-1 and New York Yankees beat Mexico City Tigers 8-6.

Jim Northrup had a home run and a triple and Mickey Stanley had a three-run homer to lead the Tigers. J. C. Martin drove in two runs for the Mets and Bob Hendley pitched three scoreless innings against the Phillies.

Buddy Bradford's two-run double won for the White Sox and three Houston pitchers—Wade Blasingame, Tom Dukes and Danny Coombs—limited the Dodgers to three hits.

Fred Valentine had a three-run homer and a pair of doubles and Mike Epstein had a two-run homer for the Senators. Curt Flood had two triples, Tim McCarver three hits and Ed Spezio a two-run homer for the Cardinals.

Bill Schlessinger scored the tie-breaking run in the ninth to win for the Cubs. Jack Hiatt homered for the Giants. Boog Powell hit a three-run homer and Curt Blefary a one-run shot for the Orioles.

Stan Williams and Steve Bailey stopped the Angels on two hits for the Indians. Bill Robinson homered, doubled, singled and drove in five runs for the Yankees.

St. Hyacinthe wins Richmond Mosquito Hockey Tourney

RICHMOND — The Richmond Recreation Association held its annual Mosquito Hockey tournament, Friday, Saturday and Sunday before a well packed arena of outside and local spectators.

Winners of the three day event was St. Hyacinthe who downed South Durham club 2-1 and were awarded the Jean Voyer Trophy.

Individual trophies were won by Jean Louis Huard, Richmond, for being the "Most Gentleman Player". The award was donated by the Committee of Judges. Daniel Royal, of Windsor, won the nights of Columbus Trophy for the "Best Goal". Sylvain Gosselin of the Lake Megantic took the trophy for the "Best Player", donated by Real Cote, South Durham. The "Highest Scorer Trophy", donated by Jean Beaudin, South Durham, was awarded to Claude Mercier, captain of the St. Hyacinthe team.

Sixteen teams representing South Durham, Richmond, Richelieu, Valcourt, Acton Vale, Richmond Bennett, Waterloo, Asbestos, Windsor, St. Hyacinthe, Drummondville, Thelford Mines, Les Lups de Donnacona, Princeville, St. Marc des Carriers, Donnacona "Cona", and Lake Megantic participated in the event. In the semi-finals, South Durham won over Windsor by a score of 2-1 while the St. Hyacinthe beat St. Marc des Carriers, 6 to 2.

Mrs. Charles Gendreau, of Richmond, was named the "Mother-of-the-year" for Minor hockey in Richmond. She had three sons entered in the league. Gilbert, her son, presented his mother with a bouquet of roses on behalf of the local association.

The event was under the direction of Ivan Gagnon, George Tremblay, Roger Martin, Claude Beaudin, Yvan Goudreau, Ernest Lacroix.

Sherbrooke Minor Hockey finals are reached, champs declared

The playoffs of the Sherbrooke Minor Hockey Association continued over the weekend with a total of 32 games being played at the Arena. Several sections declared their champions and now wait for the QMHA playoffs.

In the first game of the semi-finals with the Cardinals the Cyclones copped the tilt but the Cards bounced back with an impressive 7-1 win in the second tilt forcing the third match. Pierre Longpre tallied four goals while Jean-Pierre Benoit potted two. Yvon Blais tallied the lone marker for the Cyclones.

The third game of the series was a close one but the Cyclones managed to emerge the winner 3-2. The game went into overtime as the regulation time ended in a 1-1 deadlock. Paul Ducharme broke the tie in the overtime and Yvon Blais potted the insurance tally. Pierre Longpre counted both goals for the Cardinals.

In the finals the Cyclones posted their first win over the Hawks 3-1. The winners came through with a goal in each frame while Louis Jutras got the Hawks' lone tally. Paul Morrisette potted two with Philippe Delisle notching the other.

In the Bantam section between the Tigers and Hawks, the latter posted a 3-1 win in the opener with Gaetan Denault scoring a hat-trick. Serge Labrecque came through with four goals while Charles Cloutier, Roger Bourgault and Denis Rose potted the others. For the Hawks Alain Begin and Daniel Jutras came through with two each while Alain Laflamme and Jean Couture notched the other.

In the Midget section the Lynx eliminated the Leopards two games to one. The Leopards posted the first win but the Lynx came back to take the next two.

The Lynx copped the third match 3-2 in overtime. Clement Bolduc came through with two goals while Robert Laforest notched the other for the winners. Jacques Lambert registered both goals for the Leopards.

In the third game Clement Bolduc potted the winning marker in the overtime. It was his third goal of the game while Andre Rouillard, Daniel Doyon and Robert Laforest were the other marksmen. For the Leopards Jacques Lambert tallied five goals in the second game and looked after the scoring in the final game.

The Olympics came through to earn a spot in the Mosquito finals when they downed the Hawks 3-1 in the best-of-five. In the final game the Olympics blanked the Hawks 1-0 on a goal by Bernard Boutin. The Hawks had gone through the season losing only one in their march to the championship.

Olympics' goalie Daniel Thibault turned in a fine performance in holding the Hawks at bay. He stopped everything they drove at him to earn his shut-out.

In Series "B" the Senators finally eliminated the Tigers 3-1. One game had to be replayed as there was no winner after two extra periods of overtime.

In the replay the Senators eked out a 2-0 win with Andre Heu-reux and Denis Halle potted the goals. Michel Poulin chalked up the shutout.

In Series "C" the Aces won the quarter-finals and met the Senators which they won 2-1.

The winning tally was registered in overtime by Yves Gauthier, his second of the game. Mario Laliberte potted the Senators' goal.

Will Manicouagan's electric power be enough?

NEAR COMPLETION — Manic 5, largest multi-arch dam in the world, is the pride of Quebec engineers and construction crews involved in the seven-dam power development on the Manicouagan and Outardes rivers. The final ribbon of cement will be poured along its crown this spring. (CP Photo)

MANICOUAGAN, Que. (CP) — Quebec, outwardly involved with political and constitutional claims, is flexing less-heralded economic muscle in a massive power development in this eastern wilderness north of the St. Lawrence River.

Like a probing finger curving out from the thriving industrial pan of the Montreal area, the province's hydroelectric utility has poked into the remote treed and rocky region for power. The $1,200,000,000 venture up the Manicouagan and Aux Outardes rivers on which seven dams are being built will give Hydro-Quebec more than 7,000,000 horsepower additional electricity by the mid-1970s.

Some power already is flowing out of this development, about 500 miles northeast of Montreal. It is being delivered on a 735,000-volt transmission line—highest commercial voltage in the world—to the Montreal and Quebec City areas.

Two other such lines will go into service from the region, in 1969 and probably in 1971, with all three terminating in Montreal.

WILL FALL SHORT

But already engineers and economists are forecasting that the added power from here will be insufficient to meet anticipated demands in the next decade.

Hydro-Quebec estimates that the province's demand for electricity doubles every eight to 10 years.

Installed capacity on its system was 8,300,000 horsepower in 1963 and this will increase to 14,930,000 in 1972 and 21,860,000 in 1977. By 1981 it is expected that the capacity will be 29,630,000 horsepower.

Agreement is pending to siphon off surplus electricity from the huge Churchill Falls project in Labrador, scheduled for completion in 1972.

More 735,000-volt lines, even longer than those originating in the Manicouagan-Aux Outardes development, will be built to transmit the Churchill Falls power some 800 miles to Montreal.

Aware of this increasing demand, and encouraged by accomplishments along the Manicouagan, Hydro-Quebec is making extensive studies to find potential power sites on rivers flowing into James Bay, Hudson Bay, Ungava Bay, the Atlantic Ocean and the St. Lawrence.

FRENCH PREDOMINANT

It is predicted that by 1985 Quebec will have developed all its usable reserves of hydroelectric power. By that time nuclear power may be economical, a possibility Hydro-Quebec already is exploring with construction of the Gently nuclear power station at Becancour opposite Trois-

Rivieres, Que.

Development of the 350-mile Manicouagan and 270-mile Aux Outardes rivers has resulted in the greatest mobilization of brains, manpower and materials ever seen in Quebec.

Everywhere, there is a tingling pride in its engineering aspects, and more than any other previous venture this one boasts a distinct French-Canadian flavor.

French-speaking Quebec engineers have been involved from the outset; the language at construction sites is French; much of the printed matter is in French, although major releases are bilingual. While key personnel can speak both English and French, briefings for visitors are principally in French.

One official said: "From an engineering point of view, the diversity of the work being done in the two river valleys is amazing."

A report on the County Executive meeting, held recently, was given by Mrs. H. Blanchard, who said that the County meeting will be held on May 25 with Shipton Branch catering for the dinner and Gore in charge of the program. Mrs. Ossington will be guest speaker.

Fair prizes offered by the county are: For boys and girls, 12 years and under, a scrapbook on Quebec; for girls 12 - 16, a machine made cotton skirt, hand hemmed; for boys 12-16, two or three pieces of wood-work.

Projects for inter-branch competition in the future will be chosen by each branch in turn, alphabetically. Branches are responsible for their own programs this year, with each branch sending a copy of its program to the other branches.

Mrs. Mallette read the new program for the second time and it was accepted.

The president spoke briefly and thanked members for their support during the past year. She then asked Mrs. Beattie to take the chair for the election of officers.

Mrs. W. Coles presented the slate as follows: President, Mrs. H. Blanchard; first vice-president, Mrs. J. Walker; second vice-president, Mrs. W. Parkes; secretary, Mrs. D. Oakley; treasurer, Mrs. D. Biggs.
