SEARCH UNAVAILING FOR BISHOP'S PRINCIPAL

World News In Brief

Oak Ridge, Tenn., Dec. 11.—(AP)—A month's-long labor dispute affecting 3,000 production employees of one of the United States Government's huge atomic energy plants was settled here early today.

An agreement "in the dispute at Oak Ridge between the United Chemical Workers (C. I. O.) and the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corporation" was announced.

It was reported unofficially that the union, which had sought a 25-cent-an-hour blanket wage increase for the 3,000 employees affected, had agreed to a 10-cent-an-hour increase under a contract lasting 18 months, with a clause providing for re-opening of wage negotiations in eight months.

The union had threatened to call out its members at midnight Tuesday unless a satisfactory agreement was reached by that time. At the Government's urgent request, however, the strike threat was indefinitely postponed Monday afternoon.

Victoria, Dec. 11.—Preliminary estimates indicate the gross value of mineral production in British Columbia for 1947 will exceed $105,000,000 and may reach $110,000,000, 50 per cent more than the value of 1946 production and $30,000,000 greater than the previous record year, 1941, the B.C. Department of Mines reported last night.

Lansford, Pa., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Helen Smith yesterday was granted a divorce from the man she married in a lions' cage—with lions in it—fourteen years ago.

She agreed to the exhibition marriage, she said, in response to an advertisement offering valuable wedding gifts. She was 16 at the time, and her husband, George Smith, 23.

In her divorce suit, she charged indignities and cruelty. C.A.R.E., Inc., said today it had ended operations in Romania because the Romanian government had tried to collect customs on C.A.R.E. packages, tried to control distribution and arrested a C.A.R.E. representative.

Paul French, executive director of C.A.R.E. (the committee for American relief to Europe), said that despite an agreement with the relief agency, Romania had hampered delivery of packages and even subjected beneficiaries to questioning.

French Repatriation Team Leader Long A Communist

Paris, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Lt. Col. Raymond Marquie, chief of the ousted French repatriation mission to Moscow who yesterday attacked the Government for its "malicious attitude" toward Russia, was identified today as a Communist of many years standing who wants to stay in the Soviet Union.

One of Veterans Minister Francois Mitterand's aides declared that Marquie's statements last night in Moscow "are confirmed by the army as soon as he gets back." Marquie and the four other members of the mission are due to leave Moscow tomorrow.

The Ministry said Marquie was appointed to his post more than a year ago when Communist Laurent Casanova headed the Ministry. The War Ministry termed his rank "fictitious," saying that before the war he was a staff sergeant in the reserve.

A Ministry spokesman said Marquie was making every effort to remain in the U.S.S.R., despite his expulsion, with the four other members of his mission. The Russian Government ordered expulsion of the mission in retaliation for similar French action against the Soviet repatriation mission in France.

Expulsion of the French mission was reported in a Soviet note which the French Government yesterday refused to accept because of its strong language and the fact it had been published before delivery.

U.N. Studies Protest Of Indonesia

"Good Offices" Committee to Send Military Team to Outlying Island to Investigate Order Violations.

Batavia, Dec. 11.—(AP)—A reliable source said today the United Nations "Good Offices" Committee will send a military team to the Island of Madoera to investigate Indonesian charges that Dutch forces are violating the Security Council's August cease fire order there.

The Republicans contend that distribution by the Netherlands of food and textiles in the eastern part of the Island, beyond the demarcation line proclaimed by Governor-General H. J. van Mook, violates the order. Madoera lies off the northeast coast of Java.

The island is part of the territory claimed by the Indonesian Republic. The cease-fire order of August 4, intended to end Dutch-Indonesian hostilities which began July 20, came as Dutch forces were in the midst of mopping-up operations on Madoera. The islanders are dependent upon imports for their normal food supply.

In the Dutch-sponsored state of East Indonesia, meanwhile, Premier S. J. Warouw resigned with his cabinet after a no-confidence vote and President Soekarno was expected to take immediate steps for formation of a new Government. East Indonesia comprises all of the Dutch Indies East of Java and Borneo except New Guinea. It is expected to become a member of the projected United States of Indonesia.

The cabinet's fall was attributed by informed observers here to lack of representation in the Government of "progressives," who favor continued co-operation with the Netherlands but are less anti-Republican than the group which dominated Warouw's Government.

COAL WALKOUT AVERTED

Estevan, Sask., Dec. 11.—(AP)—The last-minute signing of a new bargaining contract with the United Mine Workers of America yesterday averted a walkout in the Estevan-Birdsall coal fields of Southern Saskatchewan. The new agreement calls for a 40-hour week and three cents a ton to be paid into a miners' welfare fund. The agreement is expected to result in an increase in coal prices.

One of Veterans Minister Francois Mitterand's aides declared that Marquie's statements last night in Moscow "are confirmed by the army as soon as he gets back." Marquie and the four other members of the mission are due to leave Moscow tomorrow.

Expulsion of the French mission was reported in a Soviet note which the French Government yesterday refused to accept because of its strong language and the fact it had been published before delivery.

Bishop's University Principal Suffered Severe Blow on Head as Result of Fall on Ice Saturday—Last Seen Shortly After Leaving Home at Four O'clock Yesterday Afternoon.

Dr. A. H. McGreer, Principal and Vice-Chancellor of University of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, who disappeared from his home in the college grounds at 4 p.m. yesterday, was still missing at noon today.

Only clue to the mysterious disappearance was a cloth cap, positively identified as belonging to the university principal, which was found on the railway trestle bridge which crosses the Massawippi River just south of the University and leads into Lennoxville.

Search parties of students and police have been combing the area of the Lennoxville golf course and both banks of the river south of the bridge since 8 p.m. last night, and since dawn this morning five boats manned by Lennoxville town police and citizens have been breaking ice and conducting dragging operations on the Massawippi and St. Francis rivers, which merge two hundred yards from the railway bridge where Dr. McGreer's cap was found.

At noon today a search party of fifty students, under the direction of Crawford Grier, headmaster of Bishop's College School and a close friend of Dr. McGreer's, were combing the wooded areas of the Lennoxville golf course, where the missing principal was last seen by two railway employees, as he stood beside the track to let a train pass, on which the two railway men were riding.

At the time of his disappearance Dr. McGreer was suffering from a severe head injury sustained when he fell heavily on the ice in the college grounds last Saturday morning. He had been confined to his bed after this fall until Sunday night. At this time he got up for a few hours, but was forced back to bed on Monday and Tuesday.

Yesterday morning he went to his office, and drove to Sherbrooke at about 11 a.m. When he returned, his secretary, Miss Marion Flood, said he was "in an exhausted and distressed physical condition." He went home and after lunch lay down again.

At approximately 4 p.m. he came downstairs and prepared to go out. His sister-in-law, Miss M. L. Lee, who has kept house for Dr. McGreer since the death of his wife two years ago, said, "Will you be back for tea?" "I may be," replied Dr. McGreer, and then went out.

Miss Lee presumed that he was going to his office, but at 4:10 Mrs. W. H. Tribble, wife of the college porter, saw Dr. McGreer leave his house and turn toward the direction of his garage, which is on a roadway leading to the golf course and the railway tracks.

Stewart Marlin, railway employee, of Lennoxville, saw the Principal, whom he knew, standing beside the rails as the train on which he was riding passed along the tracks leading to the bridge going towards Lennoxville. J. S. Bellefleur, who was on the back of the train, also saw Dr. McGreer.

According to Bellefleur the Principal appeared to cross the tracks, after the train had passed, and head towards the golf links.

When Dr. McGreer failed to return to his home for dinner at 7 p.m., Miss Lee became alarmed and called Dr. Sidney Childs, resident dean at the university, and a search was instituted. Bands of students using flashlights walked over the area, and between 9 and 9:30 p.m., the Principal's cloth cap was found on the Lennoxville end of the railway bridge by Galt MacDermot, first year student. Miss Lee positively identified the cap as belonging to her brother-in-law.

Police authorities in charge of dragging operations this morning said that the water was sufficient by shallow that if Dr. McGreer had fallen off the bridge he would not have been carried far down the river, but so far all efforts have failed to disclose his body.

University officials are thunderstruck at the disappearance of the Principal who has been in his present post since 1922. Stuart Sanders, university bursar, said that Dr. McGreer had suffered great pain and physical distress from

Seeking To Curb Battle In Jerusalem

British Troops Block Gates to Old Wall City as Sizable Battle Is Reported Waging Inside Area.

Jerusalem, Dec. 11.—(AP)—British troops blocked the gates of Jerusalem's Old Wall City just before noon today as fighting in its ancient maze of streets reached proportions which indicated a battle of sizable proportions had broken out between Arab and Jewish inhabitants.

Closing of the gates barred further exodus by both Jews and Arabs, who had been frantically moving out their possessions in army trucks throughout the morning.

Several hundred families already have fled the wall area, which in normal times has a population of about 20,000 Arabs, 2,500 Jews and 4,000 others of mixed nationality, mostly Armenians and Greeks.

A business man from the New City, who left the walled region a few minutes before the gates closed, said he had seen dead and wounded lying in the streets.

The battle apparently broke out when Arabs occupied a synagogue and hoisted their flag over the building. They later were driven out by the Jews. One Arab was reported killed and two Jews wounded in this engagement.

Two Arabs were slain in other disturbances arising in Palestine as communal strife resulting from the United Nations decision to partition the Holy Land entered its 12th day.

One Arab was killed and four were wounded by a bomb which official reports said was thrown from a Jewish truck passing through the town of Balad Esh-Sikh, near Haifa. Two Jews recently were killed by Arabs there. A military centry shot and killed another Arab near the internment camp at Latrun.

The 12-day death toll in Palestine thus mounted to 134, by unofficial counts, and for the whole middle East it stood at 240. In Jerusalem, an Arab band occupied a synagogue and hoisted an Arab flag before Sten gunners of Hagana, the Jewish defence force, drove them away.

Haifa had a night of knife and gun clashes, climaxed by three explosions, one in a British army ammunition dump. No fatalities were reported there.

Wallace Attacks Dewey's Policies

Buffalo, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace rebuked Governor Thomas E. Dewey on New York State today for advocating aid to China and universal military training.

The former Democratic Vice-President, in an interview, took the position that no financial help should be given to China by the United States because its government is headed by what he called a "fascist dictator."

The erstwhile cabinet member, on a state speaking tour, maintained that universal military training "is not intended to defend democracy" but rather "to indoctrinate our youth with the ideas of

Opposing Views Presented On New Trade Agreements

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Government and Opposition members of the Commons, although in accord on the desirability of multi-lateral world trade, disagreed yesterday on whether the objective could be reached through the new Geneva Trade Agreement.

Reconstruction Minister Howe viewed the agreement as an instrument that would open vast export markets for Canadian products and possibly solve, permanently and satisfactorily, Canada's adverse trade balance with the United States.

Opposition speakers were less optimistic. For instance, Victor Quelin (S.C.—Acadia) said that man of the world's trade problems of the past arose out of the refusal of the United States to recognize that trade was a two-way street. There was nothing in the agreement that would bring pressure to bear and force a change of such policies.

Howard Green (P.C.—Vancouver South) and Cecil Merritt, V.C. (P.C.—Vancouver-Burrard) charged that the agreement would destroy the British preferential tariff system and its benefits to Canadian trade.

Other speakers in the debate included Gordon Isnor (L.—Halt-fax); Jean Francois Pouliot (nd, L.—Temiscouata) and L. E. Baker (L.—Shelburne-Yamoucheville). Before the debate was resumed, Mr. King said that today members will be asked to discuss extension of the Transitional Powers Act after giving monetary attention to the Government's dollar-crisis legislation.

Finance Minister Abbott will introduce for first reading emergency measures which will include bills covering import restrictions, extending aid to food mining companies and amending the Excise Act. House rules prevent discussion at the first reading stage of a bill, but Abbott may give a brief explanation of each measure.

He said it was the Government's intention to have debate on the legislation carried over until after passage of measures providing for the extension from December 31 to March 31 of the Transitional Powers Act and the Agricultural Products Act. Under the first act the Government is empowered to enforce rent, price and other controls, while under the second it is authorized to requisition farm products needed to fill long-term contracts with Britain.

Rome Region Is Hampered By Walk-Out

Majority of Workers Ordered Out by Leftist-Controlled Unions Not too Enthusiastic Over Strike.

By FRANK O'BRIEN
Rome, Dec. 11.—(AP)—A paralyzing, leftist-directed general strike gripped Rome today but many workers, apparently with their Christmas pay envelopes in mind, reported for duty and stood by in the hope that work stoppage would be called off before nightfall.

As the day wore on, however, there were no signs of an end to the strike. Strong concentrations of police and troops took up stations throughout the city, while other forces armed with rifles and machine-guns patrolled Rome in jeeps.

There were some reports that government and labor representatives were making progress in negotiations at the Labor Ministry, but every form of endeavor, except vital public services and the railroads was shut down as the talks, which began in mid-morning, continued.

The movements office of the city's public transport system said: "Every man is at his post for the morning shift. They are awaiting word the strike has ended." There was no movement of public transport, however.

The dominantly leftist Chamber of Labor of Rome province, which called the strike last night, said there had been no attempt by workers to violate the strike call and that nothing could end it before a mid-morning conference with government representatives at the Ministry of Labor.

The Chamber estimated that 500,000 workers were made idle by the strike, the first general work stoppage in the Italian capital in 25 years.

Light, gas and water services continued uninterrupted, as did international telephone and telegraph services. Workers in those fields were exempted from the strike call, along with hospital workers, milk and food haulers. Food stores were given permission to remain open until 1 p.m.

The strike arose out of the plight of Rome's estimated 80,000 unemployed. The issue was seized upon suddenly by the leftist, far of Premier Alcide De Gasperi after a skirmish between police and jobless rioters in the slum suburb of Primavalle, in which a slum-dweller was killed.

Similar labor troubles, instigated by the left, have stalked up and down the Italian peninsula for weeks, punctuated by political disturbances, rioting and bloodshed. This was the first time, however, that the capital itself had been affected.

The Chamber of Labor said the strike was to be a peaceful one and that there was no reason to fear "incidents or disturbances of public order."

The government strengthened the guard at rightist political of-

Blunt Marshall Demand May Prove Conference Showdown

London, Dec. 11.—(AP)—A firm United States demand upon Russia to halt the removal of reparations from Eastern Germany confronted Foreign Minister Molotov today and upon his answer may hinge the success or failure of the Big Four Conference here.

Molotov's reply may be made at today's meeting at which the Council is expected to turn its attention directly to the question of reparations, a matter which has stymied agreement for a week on a dozen other issues related to Germany's economic unification.

Authoritative government sources said that Molotov was also expected to give his reaction to reports that the United States and Britain have reached a tentative agreement revising last year's pact for economic fusion of the American and British zones of Germany so as to give the United States control over economic and financial policies.

British informants said the new arrangements, effective Jan. 1, probably would "open the way for a new line of attack" on the Western Powers' policy in Germany.

The informants declared that economic and financial control in the merged zones would be in direct proportion to each country's contribution to a common budget. This would mean that the United States would assume virtually complete economic and financial control over the two areas, as American negotiations have agreed to take over all of Britain's dollar commitments.

In the bluntest language he has yet used during the conference, State Secretary Marshall yesterday accused Russia of extracting German assets at the rate of $500,000,000 a year while the United States and Britain have been pouring in $700,000,000 to keep Germany alive.

Marshall declared that the withdrawals must cease by Jan. 1. He called upon his Council colleagues to make that decision at once. It was apparent that this time the American Secretary would be satisfied with nothing short of a yes-or-no answer.

In a formal statement Marshall asserted that "if we cannot take this economic decision which is of immediate vital significance then we are wasting our time when there is no time to waste."

Molotov side-stepped a direct answer yesterday while the Council was discussing the principles of Germany's economic unity, saying that the arguments would only have to be repeated when the Council reached the problem of deciding upon what to do about reparations.

That point had been reached today. The British Government was reported to be "considering" an application received last night from a group of Germans for visas to come to London to present their views to the Foreign Ministers.

Government sources said, however, that it was "very unlikely"

Strikers Blockade Paris Plant

Strikers block all streets leading to a manufacturing plant in Paris. Police (foreground) had to charge the crowd several times to open a path for workers returning to their jobs. Meanwhile, other French strikers were returning to work and the 48-hour demonstration strike by employees of Paris subways failed when men refused to answer their leaders' strike call.

MAY REISSUE JENNIFER'S EARLY FILMS

Hollywood, Dec. 11.—There may be another duel in the sun—between attorneys—when David O. Selznick and Jennifer Jones hear about this. Before Jennifer clicked in "Song of Bernadette," she was featured under her real name of Phyllis Isley in a western and action series at Republic. The studio is thinking about reissuing both series, changing the billing from Phyllis Isley to Jennifer Jones.

It's Carleton Young's story about the daughter of a rich movie producer who was asked, at school,

Beery's Blessing

When Carol Ann Beery graduates from Beverly Hills next June, she'll definitely try for a film career, with pop's (Wallace's) blessing. . . Butch Jenkins' first wish after coming out of the ether (following an operation) was to yell for his collection of white mice. He got them, but two nuns almost had nervous breakdowns. Frank Veloz of the Veloz and Yolanda dance team has demonstrated their versatility again by writing words and music to a new rumba, "Cuban Drag."

The servant who robbed the Lauritz Melchior two months ago wrote them a letter berating them for not forwarding his mail. "I'm astounded at your carelessness," he wrote. "The only excuse I make for you is that you do not know my address. It is the State Prison, Nevada."

RKO wants Billy de Wolfe, Jimmy Stewart and Barbara Bel Geddes for a flashy western. . . Jackie Searl, the nasty kid in pictures 20 years ago, is back at his old studio, Paramount, in Paulette Goddard's "Hazard." He's 28, married, doesn't run around with the film crowd and has a fine war record.

New singing quartet in town—Frank Morgan, Don Ameche, Frances Langford and Jane Russell. During rehearsals for the Morgan-Ameche air show, they kiddingly warbled some four-part harmony, now want to try it out on a large audience.

Five For One

Michael Browne, the football heavy in "Spirit of West Point," is the choice of Eddie Cantor's five daughters to play papa on the screen. . . Pine and Thomas will produce "Captain China" in color. . . Sighting of the week: Dick Haymes having his hair curled for "Up in Central Park."

Six years ago, Dan Duryea came to Hollywood to play the role of Leo in the screen version of Lillian Hellman's play, "The Little Foxes." It was the same role he created on the stage. Now Dan is playing Oscar, the father of Leo, in Miss Hellman's sequel, "Another Part of the Forest," at U.I. In case this sounds a bit confusing, blame it on Miss Hellman, who decided that her sequel to "The Little Foxes" should take a place a generation earlier than the original play.

DANCE SECRETS—10

These 'Dont's' Spell Success

By ARTHUR MURRAY
So far in these installments I've been telling you what to DO for the most part. Now how about a list of dancing DON'TS for either your practicing or the real thing.

Murray

First of all, DON'T start off on the wrong foot. The man always starts with his left foot, the girl with her right.

DON'T, girls, hang your full weight on your partner's arm. He can't dance for both of you. So balance on your own two feet and support your own weight.

DON'T walk forward all the time. Your girl friend will get mighty tired of backing up all evening.

DON'T blame your crushed toe on your partner, girls. Maybe your back steps are too short.

To get out of this way, practice long steps, stretching back with your toes.

NO DEATH GRIPS ALLOWED.—And DON'T be a butterfly and bounce through the air. You have arms, not wings. Hold your left hand in a firm grip on the back of your partner's shoulder. This way, you'll keep your balance and your partner's praise.

If you men make mistakes DON'T keep apologizing. Say, "I'm sorry"—but just say it once, if you protest, "Gee, I'm clumsy."

too often, someone may believe you.

DON'T forget that the best dancing position is the same as for walking. So keep erect.

DON'T clutch your partner's hand too firmly. You may not know your own strength. And, girls, don't take a death grip on the poor man's thumb. You've got him safely hooked for the dance. He can't get away.

You're only an inch from your partner's car, so DON'T hum or sing loudly. This can get to be so annoying that your partner may need ear plugs and you may need a gag.

DON'T hug the floor. For graceful dancing lift your feet a fraction of an inch off the floor and move through the air. This way, you can step lightly and effortlessly.

NEXT: Ballroom etiquette.

SUTTON

The Brome County Agriculture Society met in the I.O.O.F. Hall and elected the following officers for the coming year: Arthur Woodley, of Knowlton, president; Lawrence Horner, of East Angus, vice-president; and George McCloy, of Knowlton, secretary-treasurer. Dinner was served in the Mountain View dining room.

The Farm Forum Group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith with thirty-two members present. The topic was "The Teacher in the Community." After the broadcast the questions were discussed. Mr. Fred Knights, second vice-chairman, presided. Mr. Lloyd Hawley, secretary, read the minutes and the "Green Leaf."

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. Rheuben Martin. Delicious refreshments were served.

The Home and School Club met at the High School. The president, Mrs. C. F. Carr, was in the chair. Mrs. A. A. Thompson, secretary, read the minutes and called the roll. Plans were made for the presentation of prizes to be held in the Parish Hall. A committee consisting of Mrs. C. F. Carr, Mrs. Orlean Baker, Miss Madeline Millmore and Miss Dudley volunteered to make the arrangements and to prepare a short program. The hot lunch committee, represented by Mrs. Lillian Millmore, reported that upwards of about fifty pupils from outside are bringing their lunch to school now and that there will be about sixty when the roads get bad. The committee plans to serve hot dishes as usual through January, February and March. They planned to have hot soup on Mondays, two ladies will be furnishing each.

Miss Mary Ratcliffe, of Sherbrooke, was a week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ratcliffe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Herring and Norma and Fern, of Bishopton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Wilson.

The Friendship Christmas Club was entertained by Mrs. Alice Griffin one evening. Bridge was played at two tables and the prizes were won by Mrs. Bella Currie and Mrs. Charles Bailey.

Miss Irene King entertained the F. F. Club one evening. An average attendance of members was present. Bridge was played at two tables. Prizes were won by Mrs. Margaret Goodenough and Mrs. Russell Beattie. At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The next club meeting will be held at the home of Miss Dorothy Shattuck, on December 18, and there will be an exchange of gifts.

Do you remember the drunken Santa Claus in "Miracle on 34th Street?"

Well, I could do a lot worse than devote this column to the actor who played that "bit."

His name is Percy Helton. He's 32 years old. Old-timers may remember him as the child in "The Return of Peter Grimm." In 1914 he scored as the crippled boy in "The Miracle Man."

During World War I, this Tom-Thumb thespian—his five-foot-two—won the Distinguished Service Cross for bravery.

For a dozen years after that, he got plenty of jobs and was rated on Broadway as a good character actor. Somewhere along the line he married a pretty actress who answered to a name I don't believe—Edna Eustace.

In the nineteen-thirties, Percy ran into his own private depression. The shows he was engaged for read well but played badly. They opened and closed like camp stools. For several years he averaged about six weeks' work out of every fifty-two. When the Heltons ran out of acting money, Percy began to borrow. And over the next few years his borrowing became a Broadway legend. At one time, he was in debt to almost everybody connected with the theatre. Show people would duck into doorways when they saw him coming. Even the Lambs Club had to drop him for non-payment of dues.

But nobody ever got mad at Percy Helton. The Street liked the little man. His creditors, however, would have sold you their claims for a penny on the dollar. So far, so bad.

And now for the switch that makes Percy column material.

Three years ago, Percy and Edna Eustace (I still think she's kidding) were signed up for an overseas tour with the U.S.O. The U.S.O. paid expenses and advanced each performer $25 a week for pending money. The rest of the salary was deposited in a New York bank. When Percy and his missus got back, there was $5,000 in their joint account.

Each morning for the next fifty days, Percy went to the bank and drew out a hundred dollars in cash. And then he'd spend the day chasing people up and down Broadway—and when I say "chasing," I mean that literally. Show people ran when they saw the little man coming—they figured it was another touch. Whenever Percy caught up with an old creditor, he'd whip out his notebook and say something like, "On May 25th, 1921, you loaned me thirty-five dollars. Here's your money, and thanks."

One creditor bawled Percy out. "I have a cardiac condition," he said. "You shouldn't do such things. How would you like it if I dropped dead at your feet?"

At the end of the fiftieth day, Percy and Edna invested their last twenty bucks in a quart of imported fizzy-water. I saw him at Lindy's that evening, and I got the impression he had grown a full inch.

And then, another nice thing happened. Hollywood started making pictures in New York. Percy was engaged to play the swacked Santa Claus in "Miracle." Henry Hathaway, the director, saw a preview of "34th Street" and had his studio

B.C. Farm Grows Peppermint Oil

New Westminster, B.C., Dec. 11.—Oil extract from peppermint, enough to supply Canadian requirements, may soon be produced in this Fraser Valley district.

An experimental nine-acre field of peppermint, only one in the province, is being grown on the model farm operated by George Reifel.

Roots of the plants were imported from Oregon two years ago, and oil is being extracted by a distillation process in a small pilot plant. Harvest now is in progress.

The mint patch must be kept entirely free of weeds. It is cut like hay, the stems and leaves being allowed to cure before being put through the still. The oil brings $7 a pound and is used chiefly by gum manufacturers.

sign Percy to play a postman witness in "Kiss of Death." I understand the character man did a first-rate job in this, but when the picture was released, he wasn't in it. The court-room sequence in which Percy appeared had been cut out of the film.

When Hathaway made the still-to-be-released "Northside 777," he engaged Percy to play another role. For this, Helton was paid at the rate of $600 per week.

On the strength of one performance in which his face was hidden behind whiskers, and another that wound up on the cutting-room floor, Paramount recently signed Percy at $750 a week for a small but important role in a movie called "Hazard." Now Metro wants him for a picture, and an agent is asking a grand a week for the midget mummer.

I saw Percy the other night. He's in New York for the holidays. He told me, "I had a great time in Hollywood except for one thing. One night my best friend, Elliott Nugent, was showing me the town. We dined at Romanoff's, took in Ciro's and had one for the road at Mocambo. During the evening I met a lot of big-time actors I used to know on Broadway—like Pat O'Brien, Spencer Tracy, and Humphrey Bogart."

We moved so fast that night I didn't have a chance to tell any of them how well I was doing. When I got home, I found a hundred-dollar bill stuffed in the breast pocket of my jacket. Somebody, thinking I was still broke, had put it there. It kills me to think that this guy, whoever he is, figures I'm still on the mooch. But how can I find out who he is? You can't go around asking people, 'Did you have a C-note in my pocket?' Who's going to deny it?"

WATERVILLE

Mrs. Carl Ball and her sister, Mrs. Lucy Smith were hostesses to the Friendly Christmas Club, at this month's meeting. The decorations were in keeping with the Christmas season. Evergreen wreaths and holly were in evidence about the rooms. "500" and bridge were enjoyed, and Mrs. Florence Petit, Miss Thelma Ball, Mrs. Preston Ingham and Mrs. Gerald Daine were the fortunate players. The tea table was very attractively covered with a lace banquet cloth and lighted red candles in Yuletide logs on a blanket of evergreens.

Mrs. Raymond Fowler, Miss Thelma Ball assisted in serving. The treasurer presented each member with a cherry Christmas card and their savings. The hostesses gave all present a beautiful seasonal corsage. Mrs. Preston Ingham asked for a standing vote of thanks to Mrs. Ball and Mrs. Smith, for the pretty gifts. The first meeting in 1948 will be held at the home of Mrs. Celon Ball.

The weekly Military Whist Club met in the Junior Hall with a good attendance. There were nine tables, a slight increase over last week's game. The prizes were won by Mrs. C. E. Trafton, of Lennoxville, and Mrs. Fred W. Ayer, Mr. Robert Grey and Mr. Charles Maskery. The monthly prize for high score went to Mrs. Charles Charron. Delectable refreshments were served by the hostesses for the evening.

Mrs. Oscar Johnston, Mrs. Charles Maskery, Mrs. C. Charron and Miss H. Brodien. The Club will hold two more games this year and a cordial welcome is extended to all whist fans to be present.

The Lennoxville Men's Own Club was entertained by the Waterville Men's Bowling Club. The home team held the high score, at the conclusion of the games. Refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

Mrs. Gerald Millmore spent the week-end in Rock Island visiting at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Vernal McGill.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bell and son, David were visitors in Sherbrooke last week.

Doctor P. Colquhoun was in Sherbrooke to attend the funeral service of Miss Amy Wells.

Mrs. Edith Rowe, who has spent a few weeks at the home of Mrs. A. Anderson has returned to Sherbrooke.

Mr. Gerald Daine was in Sherbrooke to accompany his wife, who has entered the Sherbrooke Hospital for treatment.

Miss Mildred Blake, of Rock Island, was a guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Spafford.

Loot In Richmond Robbery Estimated To Exceed $8,000

Thieves stole $8,500 worth of merchandise yesterday morning from R. E. Marcotte's store in Richmond. The loot was made up of several fur coats, suits and other garments.

Fred Houle, nightwatchman for the Duchesne Shoe Company, noticed around 3.30 in the morning two cars racing at breakneck speed toward the Danville Highway. He believed that the robbery was carried out around this time.

Chief of Police Donat Sevigny, of Richmond, who is working on the case along with the Provincial Police was called at 8.05 yesterday morning when the robbery was first noticed. Mr. Marcotte opened his store at 8 a.m.

To date no clues have been found with the exception of one fingerprint but investigations are being carried out thoroughly today.

LENNOXVILLE I.O.D.E. SPENT ACTIVE MONTH

At the regular monthly meeting of Maple Lodge Chapter, I.O.D.E., held at the home of Mrs. L. V. Parent, was in the chair.

Reports were received and accepted and these showed that the post-war service and the child and family welfare conveners had had a particularly busy month.

Mrs. Arthur Preston, with the assistance of Mrs. H. Fowles and one or two other members, had purchased food supplies, packed and despatched 11 parcels to England, each weighing approximately 20 pounds. The lady students of Bishop's University provided the money for seven of these gift packages, three were made up at the request of a local lady and paid for by her, and one was the Christmas parcel sent by the Chapter to their own correspondents, an elderly couple whose grateful letters acknowledging previous gifts were read to the meeting by Mrs. Preston.

The convener also reported sending a carton of new and used clothing to headquarters containing 128 articles. Wool for making knitted or crocheted afghans was now on hand.

In the absence of Mrs. Austin Scott, convener of child and family welfare, Mrs. Parent gave an account of three families helped during the month. The question of the usual Christmas cheer to local families was brought up and the matter referred to Mrs. Scott for action. Donations for these baskets should be handed to the treasurer, Mrs. R. L. Young, as soon as possible.

A nominating committee of three members, Mrs. Arthur Preston, Mrs. R. H. Reynier and Miss M. B. Reynier, was appointed to prepare a slate of officers for the coming year, to be presented in January.

The treasurer reported that the post-war fund must be closed by December 15 and on motion she was empowered to take the necessary steps to that end, to pay all outstanding bills, and to send a cheque for $100 to headquarters as the final payment for 1947 to the Second War Memorial Fund.

In the absence of the Chapter's sick visitor, Miss E. L. Stevens, who is herself in the Montreal General Hospital, the regent mentioned several sick members and it was decided to send cards of sympathy. Flowers had been sent to a bereaved member.

It was decided to hold the chapter's annual "white elephant" sale and tea on Tuesday, January 13, and the following conveners were appointed: General convener, Mrs. R. L. Young; tea, Mrs. Darcy Bennett.

The singing of the National Anthem closed the meeting, following which tea was served by Mrs. R. H. Fletcher and Mrs. Henry Downs, Jr.

CHRISTMAS BROADCAST BY POPE

KILLED IN COLLISION

Galt, Ont., Dec. 11.—(AP)—A collision between a motor car and a transport truck during a snowstorm on the highway three miles south of here resulted in death last night for Miss Ethel Bryant of Brantford, and critical injuries for Robert J. McGregor of Brantford. Coroner Ward Woolner of Ayr said there would be no inquest.

Swearing-In Ceremonies For New Justice On December 22

Cesaire Gervais, K.C., whose appointment as a Judge of the Superior Court was confirmed on November 20th, in an announcement by Solicitor General Jean will be sworn in on December 22nd at 2.30 p.m. in the local Court House.

The swearing in ceremony, which is an impressive one, will be conducted by Chief Justice O. S. Tynedale, acting Chief Justice for the province, and chief of the appeal division for the District of Montreal.

The new Judge was named to fill the vacancy left by the death of Mr. Justice Dalméglie.

CONVICT WOMAN TWO PERSONS FOR ATTEMPT AT ABORTION SUFFER SHOCK IN ACCIDENTS

Mrs. Delphine Sevigny Roy, a middle-aged Sherbrooke woman, was found guilty yesterday afternoon by a Court of King's Bench on a charge of attempting to procure an abortion. The principal witness was a woman police employee who allegedly made the arrangements with the Roy woman. Sentence will be imposed by Mr. Justice Lucien Cannon at the end of the term.

Earlier a motion by defence counsel to quash the complaint on a legal technicality was rejected by Judge Cannon. The defence concluded their argument yesterday morning and the verdict was rendered at 2.30 p.m.

REPORT SHOWS DECREASE IN COURT CASES

A slight decrease was shown last month in the number of persons appearing in Recorder's Court. One hundred and five appeared last month while 113 were summoned for the same period last year.

A decrease was also noted in the amount of fines collected as $657 was paid last month while a total of $1,640.95 was paid during November, 1946. This year's figure is made up from fines collected from 101 men and 4 women, sixty-nine of them on their first conviction and thirty-six who had been previously convicted. Again in this total it was found that 60 fines came from Sherbrooke residents and 45 from strangers.

Concerning charges in the Recorder's Court a comparison showing last month's figures against November 1946 in brackets is as follows: Drunkenness, 38, (39); drunk and disorderly, 13, (22); vagrancy, 6, (8); holding a gambling house, none, (3); found in a gambling house, none, (19); violation of the Vehicle Act, 34, (8); violation of traffic by-law, 10, (10); thefts, 3, (2); assault, 1, (none); non-support, none, (1); contempt of court, 1, (none).

Communist Collapse In France Boosts Western Power Front

By
DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

It's a wise man who doesn't celebrate a victory until he has it in his pocket—which is by way of warning that the French Government's sensational repulse of Communist aggression represents only one success against the Bolshevik revolution and that many battles remain to be fought before the war is won for democracy.

Having sounded this warning note, it can be said that the Communists in France have come a bad cropper in having to bow before a government ultimatum and call off the strikes which the Reds caused through their domination of Confederation Generale du Travail. The most serious aspect of this defeat from the Bolshevik standpoint lies in the fact that the strike movement, which at its peak involved some 3,000,000 workers, was rapidly collapsing because many laborers were turning against the Red front.

The current crisis has had three vastly important developments which are likely to have far-reaching effects on the struggle between Communism and western democracy as a whole. These developments are:

1. The French Government, in an hour of gravest danger from the Bolshevik attack, has reassessed itself with a display of armed force.

2. France further has stood up to an infuriated Russia, and the two countries are at the sword's point, with diplomatic relations all but broken.

3. France's revolt against Communist pressure appears to have had the result of impelling her to cut loose from Russian influence and cast her lot wholly with the United States and Britain. The consensus of observers at the Big Four Foreign Ministers' Conference in London is that France now is in the Western camp and will remain there, provided her security against aggression from the east is adequately guaranteed. She no longer is middle-of-the-road, Paris—and not Moscow—is the capital of France.

Most important of these developments would seem to be France's great moral victory—her reassertion of herself as a power. A tremendous lift of national morale could result from this—and morale is what Western Europe needs.

However, as already remarked, the present full in the Red revolution may be expected to precede another storm. The Communist leaders of the C.G.T. are bitter over their defeat and have appealed to the workers to prepare for "future combat which will be severe." Observers think the truce will last for a few weeks, perhaps until after the first of the year so as to give the workers a chance to replenish empty purses, to get by the Christmas holidays, and to forget (if they can) the hardships they have endured in the protracted strikes.

There is another aspect of the situation to which I have referred in a previous column and this is that the Reds appear to be anxious to see Gen. de Gaulle come to power again as head of an anti-Communist government. The General is their worst foe in France, and they believe he would break himself because of the country's economic chaos. With him out of the way they would have fair sailing—so they think.

In any event, of one thing we may be sure. The Communists will fight to the finish.

LOCAL BLIND GROUP HOLDING HOLIDAY PARTY

The annual Christmas party for the local blind will take place in St. Patrick's Church Hall on December 28th it was announced at the regular meeting of the Sherbrooke and Eastern Townships Committee, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, held in the William Street offices. In the absence of the president, Wilfrid Greig, the meeting was presided over by Cecil Dunn, vice-president. Mrs. Benoit Vanier was appointed convener for the party.

Financial reports were heard from the field secretary, Neil Tracy, and Miss Dufresne, the home teacher.

Plans were also commenced for the Institute's annual financial campaign, which opens about February 1. The committee also met the acting superintendent of the Quebec Division, J. A. Godin from Montreal.

Since it was the first meeting of the committee since the death of Dr. J. A. MacDonald, Divisional Superintendent, in September, Mr. Dunn expressed the regret of the committee at Dr. MacDonald's untimely passing, referring to him as a great source of inspiration to all who knew him, blind and sighted alike.

Total expenses for seven months totalled $7,285.70. This amount was divided chiefly between: Administration $1,034.23, field work and registration, $2,084.39, home teaching, $1,346.20, prevention and eye service, $441.15, placement, $789.90, relief and maintenance $1,176.97, travel $109.68 and automobile maintenance $4.17.

Mr. Tracy stated that 95% of the blind in the following cities: Sherbrooke, Richmond, Stanstead, Compton, Wolfe, Megantic, Frontenac and Brome had been contacted and duly reported to the central office in Montreal.

A car owned by Norman Prefontaine, 19, 125 Saint Louis Street, was parked 75 feet above the scene of the accident when it started rolling down the street, striking the victim walking on the sidewalk. The car was stopped by Constable Leo Gendron who managed to guide the car against a nearby telephone post.

In another accident, Mrs. Alphonse Lacroix, 65, 4 Lacroix Avenue, was slightly injured when she was struck by a runaway car on Gault Street. She suffered injuries to the right shoulder and considerable damage was caused to her fur coat.

At last night's meeting, presided over by John McKnight, president of the club, Jeff Wilson was elected chairman of the program committee for the coming year.

Larry Pergeau reported that the Y's Men's annual turkey raffle tickets were selling well and asked all members to turn in their money or tickets by next week's meeting, when the drawing will take place. December 17 will be ladies' night for the club. After a short business session, the meeting was adjourned.

FAUX PAS

Regina.—Late for her afternoon tea party, a Regina woman hastily seized a newspaper-wrapped parcel she thought contained her sewing and dashed out of the house. On opening it at the tea she found it contained her garbage.

The various police calls shown for last month have increased somewhat over November last year. In particular the summons and tickets show a jump to 44 from 16. Others are as follows: Police calls, 409, (435); arrests, 53, (97); stray animals, 29, (31); lost children, 5, (6); exposed merchandise, 6, (4); street lights not burning, 94, (146); doors unlocked, 39, (32); conner's inquest, none, (1); traffic tickets, 177, (156).

The number of accidents with injured persons or damages over $50 show 11 accidents and 11 injured last month against 12 accidents and 7 injured during November

New Members Provided Show At Local Snow Shoe Club

Members of the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club were entertained in the Prospect Street club house last evening by the initiatives of the previous week.

The audience was given a glimpse of the "Snowshoers Heaven" where the victims of the previous week's initiation were licking their wounds. Several songs of their own making were sung in addition to tall tales concerning the club officers. Dr. T. J. Quintin took the leading role and introduced the other "Saints."

No initiation program would be complete without an imaginary operation and this act even included real ether.

Syd Carr gave a couple of vocal selections, accompanied by Rod Stirling at the piano.

Past-President George Dick said Grace before the gathering sat down to a baked bean supper.

FILM SHOWN LAST NIGHT TO Y'S MEN

A film entitled, "Men, Metal and Machines," was shown to members of the Y's Men's Club at their regular weekly dinner meeting held in the Chateau Frontenac Hotel last night.

The film was based on the operation of the International Nickel Company showing the production of nickel from its crude state to its finished products.

At last night's meeting, presided over by John McKnight, president of the club, Jeff Wilson was elected chairman of the program committee for the coming year.

Larry Pergeau reported that the Y's Men's annual turkey raffle tickets were selling well and asked all members to turn in their money or tickets by next week's meeting, when the drawing will take place. December 17 will be ladies' night for the club. After a short business session, the meeting was adjourned.

Scenes In Life Of Bishop's Principal

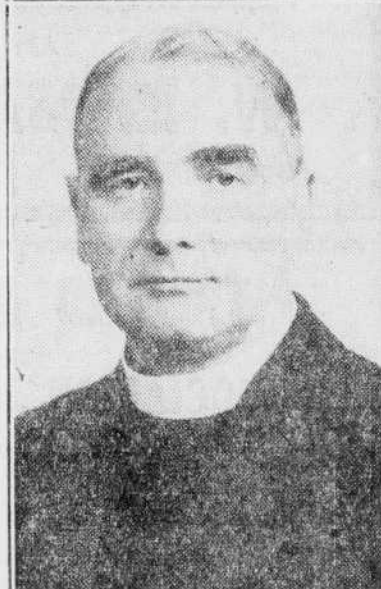

The mysterious disappearance of Rev. Dr. A. H. McGreer, Principal of Bishop's University, recalls many incidents in the life of the man who has guided the University for the past twenty-five years.

In the top picture, Dr. McGreer is seen at the convocation at which Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, was the recipient of an honorary degree. From left to right in this picture are: Front row, Principal McGreer, Hon. Onésime Gagnon, Provincial Treasurer, Viscount Alexander, and the Chancellor, George H. Montgomery, K.C.; second row, Archbishop Philip Carrington and Finance Minister Douglas Abbott.

Shown at the 1947 convocation were: Front row, Chancellor George Montgomery and Principal McGreer; second row, W. B. Scott, K.C., of Montreal; Sir Alexander Clutierbuck, British High Commissioner to Canada; Rev. Dr. G. D. Kilpatrick, D.S.O., Principal of the United Theological College, Montreal; Rev. Prof. C. A. Simpson, D.D., of New York, and Hon. J. S. Bourque, Minister of Lands and Forests.

To the right is a picture of Col. McGreer in his younger days as a member of the Canadian Chaplain Service and to the left is a picture as he appeared to the students who met him about the college daily.

GIFTS NEEDED FOR RESIDENTS AT WALES HOME

It is time once again to think of the Wales Home, and the ninety-two men and women who are depending on the generosity of the general public for their bit of Christmas cheer.

With the festive season just a few days away, the Yuletide spirit is already evident in the crowded stores and streets of the business section, as cheerful shoppers are endeavoring to complete their gift lists and to stock their larders with Christmas "goodies."

In the midst of all this merry-making, the old and less fortunate people should not be forgotten. Gifts of money, tobacco, writing material, toilet articles and so on, are urgently needed, and any contributions will be gratefully received.

Those having gifts to donate are asked to get in touch with Mrs. E. S. Buge, 140 Quebec Street, between now and the middle of next week.

Opposing View

At the House opening, Mr. Abbott said announcement is expected shortly on the question of increases in salaries for civil servants.

Speaker Gaspard Fauteux rejected a motion by Col. A. J. Brooks (P.C.—Royal) calling upon the House to adjourn its regular business to discuss the "plight" of veterans.

First reading was given a private bill, sponsored by Wilfrid LaRoche (Ind. L.—Quebec-Montreal), that would ban the Labor-Progressive party and Communist organizations in Canada.

In the Senate, Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative Leader in the Upper House, and Senator Wishart, Robertson, Government Leader, participated in the debate on the Throne Speech. Senator Haig charged that farmers were "getting awfully tired and awfully hungry and awfully mad" as a result of government policies.

Senator Robertson countered with a statement that Canada has achieved a "degree of economic prosperity that perhaps is not exceeded by any other country in the world."

In resuming the Commons debate on the trade agreement, Mr. Howe said a sampling survey taken from 2,250 companies indicated they exported $350,000,000 worth of goods in 1939, $670,000,000 in 1944 and that they expected to be able to export $1,200,000,000 after completion of modernization and expansion projects.

"This means," he said, "exports are about 3½ times as much in value or 2½ times in volume as before the war."

He said the agreement would not have been possible if the Commonwealth nations had not consented to some concession in the British preferential tariff system.

Mr. Merritt said the non-discriminatory clauses of the agreement made it clear that the preferences were to be brought to an end. Under the agreement, Canada could not give better treatment to one country without giving the same treatment to others. She could not discriminate against one nation.

Mr. Green said the British Columbia apple growers and salmon canners had been particularly hard hit by the agreement and the effect it would have on the British Columbia lumber industry still was unknown.

The apple growers had lost the preference in the British market and the salmon canners half their preference. The reduction in the duty on fresh fish entering the United States would enable American canners to outbid Canadian canners and possibly force a curtailment of canning activities on the west coast.

Mr. Baker said the Maritime Provinces approved of the agreement, which would benefit all phases of the Maritime fishing industry. In these days, multilateral trade agreements were necessary because bilateral agreements were not enough in themselves. The Geneva agreement was the greatest step towards world peace and prosperity.

Mr. Isnor also stressed the benefits the Maritimes would receive under the agreement. Once the temporary import restrictions now in effect had been removed, there would be a great development in Canadian trade with other countries.

Mr. Pouliot said he could not understand why Canada during the war had reduced wheat acreage. Gold, American dollar and eration from Soviet authorities. One of the French contentions in the dispute was that while the Soviet repatriation mission in France had been able to travel anywhere in France, the French mission in Russia was tightly restricted in its movements.

Marquie, who declared that "all responsibility for this statement is my own, personally," asserted that in the two years of the mission's existence it has repatriated 315,564 Frenchmen with the cooperation of the Russian Government.

Statements that thousands of Frenchmen still remained in Russia were "lies and propaganda," said the number still unre-patriated amounted only to "several tens." These, he said, now are being deliberately abandoned by the French Government.

By contrast, "several thousand Soviet citizens" remained in France while their return home "is being systematically hindered by French authorities."

The apparent end of repatriation of Frenchmen from Russia upset many families in Alsace and Lorraine, where many men were drafted into the German armies.

Long Holiday Attractive To Secretary

Chicago, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Miss Nellie Mason, who is living a stenographer's dream come true—a year's vacation with pay—already is looking forward to the next one—in 1953.

Miss Mason has been a stenographer for some 25 years, but never until she came to work for M. Glen Miller, president of an advertising agency, did she hope to take a year off to see the country and get paid for doing it.

But Miller put into practice a plan he had had for some time, granting each of his employees a year's vacation after each six years' employment, on the stipulation it be spent in something useful, such as travel or study, and that the employee write the office once a week to report on his or her activities. Miss Mason was the first of Miller's 12 employees to attain six years' service, and left on a sight-seeing tour by rail in July.

She spent the first half of her year's vacation travelling in the west, with trips to Canada and Mexico.

She saw pulp mills, sawmills and plywood mills, learned about deep sea fishing and oyster beds, and got "a general education really."

After spending the holidays here Miss Mason will spend the second half travelling.

Travel doesn't become wearisome, Miss Mason said, because she makes frequent stops of several days' duration. Asked if she'd like to spend the rest of her life on the road, she replied:

"I can think of lots worse things."

his head injury of last Saturday, but in conversations "was perfectly clear-headed."

Vice-Principal Basil Jones, dean of Divinity at the university, and other members of the faculty who saw Dr. McGreer on Sunday night, said that although he was suffering pain due to his head injury, "he was in full possession of his faculties, and was mentally alert."

Railway officials have undertaken a thorough examination with regard to all trains that passed over the bridge between 4 and 6 p.m. yesterday, and there was no report of any accident, or of any man on the tracks or bridge.

Arthur Huffman McGreer, who has been principal of the University of Bishop's College since 1922, was born in Napanee, Ont., on August 11, 1883, the son of Charles and Sarah McGreer. He received his early education at the Napanee Collegiate Institute. Graduating from that institution he attended Trinity College, where he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity, the University of Toronto, where he was awarded Master of Arts, and Queen's College, Oxford University, where he was named Master of Arts.

Returning to Canada, he was rector of Barriefield, Ont., from 1909 to 1911 and became assistant at Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, in the latter year, continuing at that post until the outbreak of the First World War in August 1914. Enlisting as a Chaplain in 1914, he became assistant director of Chaplains' Services for the Canadian Corps in 1917, continuing until his demobilization in 1919.

He made a splendid record overseas, being twice mentioned in despatches and for his magnificent work in the front lines received the Military Cross and was made an Officer of the Order of the British Empire.

In 1922 he was named principal of Bishop's University. During the period of his administration, Bishop's has experienced phenomenal growth, both in respect to the number of students attending and in the scope of courses it provides. The quarter of a century of Dr. McGreer's principality has seen the University emerge from essentially an Anglican Divinity college to an institution providing for the educational needs of a wide cross-section of the population.

He was married October 2, 1918, to Kathleen Lee, daughter of Joseph Lee, of Oxford, England, who predeceased him two years ago.

He is a member of the Royal Empire Society, is a graduate of Oxford University and is a Doctor of Divinity.

The Chamber of Labor said it wanted a sweeping program of winter relief for the unemployed and a Christmas dole. The Rome committee of the Premier's party, the Christian Democrats, said the strike was a political manoeuvre aimed at de Gasperi, who threw the leftists out of his cabinet last May.

It was announced, meanwhile, that the end of the Rome strike would bring a strike of newspaper men in central and southern Italy. That without was called after publishers notified the journalist union they could not meet the 35 per cent wage increase promised to newspaper men in northern Italy.

BROME

The Ladies' Guild of St. John's Anglican Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Belcher, Rev. F. W. Gedye opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. H. P. Belcher, the president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. J. C. Soles, secretary-treasurer, read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved as read. Decision was made to hold a Christmas tree entertainment on Tuesday, December 23, in the Brome Town Hall, when refreshments will be served to the school children by the Guild members. After the disposition of routine business, dinner was served to the following members: Rev. F. W. Gedye, Mrs. J. C. Soles, Mrs. C. H. Libby, Mrs. L. E. Armstrong, Mrs. W. G. Wedge, and daughter, Karen. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. L. E. Armstrong. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. L. Owens, when the annual report will be given, on January 7, 1948.

Mr. C. E. Richard is improving, although still confined to his bed, after being seriously ill at his home. Mr. Anthony Guertin is assisting in the farm work and looking after the livestock.

The Brome pupils attending Knowlton High School will again be supplied with hot lunches during the coming winter.

The Anglican Girls' Society held its meeting at the Owens home, with Mrs. G. E. Soles as hostess. The president, Miss Norma Owens, presided, and after a short devotional period, led by Rev. F. W. Gedye, many items of business were discussed. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Miss Jean Tracey, secretary.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas tree to be held on December 23. At the tea hour, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. William Barnes motored to Cowansville.

Little Miss Andrea Osborne, who has been in the Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Memorial Hospital, at Swanton, for throat trouble, has returned home much improved.

Mr. L. E. Armstrong has gone to Montreal, where he will spend an indefinite time visiting friends.

A card party was held at "Cedar Springs Farm" with twenty-five guests present. "500" was played at five tables. The ladies' first prize was won by Miss Norma Owens, and the gentlemen's by Mr. Douglas Ladd, while the consolation prizes went to Mrs. Bert Lord and Rev. F. W. Gedye. Refreshments were served by Mrs. W. E. Tracey, Mrs. David Tracey and daughter, Miss Jean Tracey. Mrs. Fred Edwards is a patient in the B-M-P Hospital, Swanton. Her friends join in wishing her a speedy recovery. Her mother, Mrs. Maude Richard, of Springfield, Mass., is staying at her daughter's home, at West Brome, for a few days.

Rev. Canon G. A. Mason held services in Grace Anglican Church, Sutton, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Daigneault were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Daigneault, at Richford, Vt.

Mrs. L. E. Armstrong is spending an indefinite time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Pettes, in Cowansville, having been called there by the illness of her son-in-law, Mr. Pettes.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Foster, and family, of Highwater, attended the funeral services held in St. John's Church for Mrs. Harry Barber.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Vail and daughter, Lynda, of Craftsbury, Vt., were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Soles.

KNOWLTON

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Circle of the United Church took place at the home of Mrs. A. C. Carter, Lansdowne avenue, with the president, Mrs. H. A. Pettes, in the chair. The meeting opened with the singing of "Silent Night, Holy Night," which was followed by a Scripture reading from St. Matthew XXVII by Mrs. L. M. Knowlton, after which Rev. R. A. Mitchell offered prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Elton Bockus, and were approved. Twelve members answered the roll call and there were four visitors present. The treasurer, Mrs. Lorne Church, gave the financial statement, which showed the yearly income at $731.57. A thank-you letter was read and a donation to the society was gratefully received. Rev. Mr. Mitchell suggested that the Circle assist in relieving the suffering in Europe from starvation. After some discussion it was decided to donate $50 towards this cause.

SPEED DEMON AT 70
Melbourne, Australia — (U) — A 70-year-old woman was recently stopped for speeding. She was travelling 70 m.p.h. and took five blocks to bring the automobile to a halt. She said "she had no idea of the speed at which she was travelling."

POORLY CHOSEN FRAME WILL SPOIL PICTURE

Ottawa, Dec. 11.—(U)—Pleased as you may be with that newly-acquired painting, if you want the neighbors to admire it, make sure the frame is right.

"A picture may be good, but if poorly framed it never will be fairly appreciated," said an official of the National Art Gallery. "The frame should not draw attention to itself... the painting—whether scene or portrait—is what should first confront the observer's eye."

He warned against putting modern frames on old pictures which was "something like clothing an old man, or an old woman, in the dress of a child."

Clumsy as they appeared, the heavy ornate frames of the Victorian era suited the paintings of that period just as well as simple wooden frames suit the pictures of today.

As for oil paintings, the expert warned against hiding these behind glass as a protective measure against dust.

"Glass casts such terrible reflections," he said. "The observer never gets the opportunity of seeing the picture from the proper angle."

IGNORANCE IS BLISS
Newcastle, Australia — (U) — When this city flew hundreds of borrowed ships' flags to celebrate its 150th anniversary, there unwittingly appeared some startling messages in international code. One firm signalled "I am out of control," another warned "Do not approach," while others flew messages that modesty declines to firm signalled "I am out of control."

Risks of Holy Estate

Marriage Does Not Make Over Couple's Characteristics

A man writes: "I would like to have you give your opinion on the chances of success of a forthcoming marriage in which the prospective bridegroom and bride have the following characteristics:

"(1) Both are stubborn. (2) There has been a dispute over every piece of furniture that has been bought for the new home. (3) They have entirely different food tastes and habits. (4) The girl does not live at home with her parents. (5) One of them is very selfish, notably so towards the other's family and relatives. (6) One is a homebody, the other a night club addict.

"So much for the drawbacks of the marriage. The points in favor of it are: (1) No religious obstacles. (2) They have been keeping company steady for seven years. (3) Will have lovely home to move into. (4) The man has a very good income.

"Do you think that a couple who are so antagonistic in every thought and feeling and point of view can make a peaceful home and a happy marriage?"

No, I think it is just as unlikely that such a marriage will result in a harmonious union and that the husband and wife will spend their time billing and cooing, instead of getting in each other's hair, as it is that a legless man would become a Fred Astaire, or that a girl who couldn't carry a tune would turn into a Lily Pons.

MARRIAGE HELPS BUT LITTLE

The most that marriage does for the average couple is to soften down their angles and make them a little more livable. It doesn't make them over and change the whole pattern of their characters.

Yet, strangely enough, the superstition still prevails that there is some magic in the marriage ceremony that will cure a drunkard of his thirst for liquor; turn a tyrannical brute of a man into a tender, loving husband, and transform a trifling virago of a girl into a household angel and a good cook.

So every day we go to the weddings of optimistic couples who have fought over every subject from their religion to how to make coffee, all during their engagements, but who expect their marriages to be perpetual peace conferences in which there will be never a discouraging word, as the old ballad puts it.

Of course, there is no such thing as an ideal marriage. All men and women have their faults and foibles and individual peculiarities, and if no one married until they found their dream mate the world would be filled with old maids and old bachelors. Evidently nature, which is interested only in vital statistics and not in the happiness of the individual, provided against this contingency by ordering the fatal fascination of opposites, which makes them marry their fighting partners, and thus infuses pen into marriages that might be dull with mates who were just yes-yesers.

But while every man and woman who enter into the holy estate of wedlock are bound to take the risks of marriage, there is no sense in being foolhardy about it. The wise ones carefully tabulate the characteristics of the party of the other part that they find most objectionable and that would get most on their nerves. And they act accordingly.

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

THE W.A. HELD MEETING WITH MRS. C. TAYLOR

Foster, Dec. 11.—The Women's Auxiliary held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Clifford Taylor, Mrs. L. P. Durrell, Mrs. R. H. Wright and Miss Emma Hunter were the joint hostesses.

The meeting was brought to order with the first vice-president, Mrs. L. P. Durrell in charge. The "Lord's Prayer" and the member's prayers were recited in unison. A hearty welcome was given each and everyone by Mrs. Durrell for braving the severe storm that afternoon.

It was reported that a card had been sent to Mrs. Jesse Allen, in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal. Acting on a suggestion sent by the Dorcas Secretary, Mrs. W. G. Knowlton, regarding the knitting of short socks for the Auxiliary girl protegee, Mrs. W. R. Durrell and Mrs. A. M. Hunter very kindly offered to each knit a pair. Miss Emma Hunter very generously donated the wool.

The monthly notes were read by Mrs. J. N. Code and Mrs. Hunter. Mrs. Code also read a letter from the Diocesan Board regarding service on St. Andrew's Day.

No definite plan was arranged for the next meeting. Rev. W. A. Bockus spoke of a Christmas tree, which will be held in the Town Hall during the holidays.

At the close of a pleasant afternoon delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses and Mrs. Taylor for which a vote of thanks was extended by Rev. W. A. Bockus.

FARM FORUM GROUP
Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Inglis entertained a very enjoyable meeting of the Farm Forum Group at their home on Monday evening. The president, Mrs. George Alden, conducted the meeting and led the discussion on "Health Insurance" and benefits derived from clinics.

Mr. Cedric Goddard, of Ottawa, gave an interesting address dealing with the health question in two townships of Carleton County, Ont., where the subject has been handled very efficiently.

A contest was enjoyed, after which dainty refreshments were served by the ladies.

General Notes
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Chamberlain, Mrs. A. B. Young and Miss Mary Chamberlain, of Waterloo, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Knowlton.

Mrs. Walter A. Bockus has returned from Saint John, N. B., where she has spent a month owing to the illness of her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Williams and Mr. Baxter Williams have been visiting Mrs. Baxter Williams in the Sweetbriar Hospital.

Mrs. J. C. Marcotte, of Waterloo, was a guest of her mother, Mrs. N. N. Crowhurst.

Friends will be pleased to know that Mrs. Jesse Allen has returned home from the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, where she underwent an operation.

Mrs. F. N. Carr, of Sutton, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Knowlton.

Miss Helene Lalime, teacher of the French School, spent the weekend at her home in Acton Vale.

Friends are pleased that Mr. Joseph Beaudry, is able to be out and about each day.

Rev. W. A. Bockus was in Fulford calling on Mrs. Guy Graves and family. Mrs. K. Korner has been spending a few days at the same home.

Miss Hazel Bradford, of Sherbrooke, was a week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bradford.

Mr. Peter de Solla, who has been a patient of the Royal Victoria

The December meeting of the Ellery Mission Band was recently held in the Plymouth Church Hall, with twenty children present. A practice for the Christmas program was under the direction of Mrs. R. C. Tait and Mrs. J. K. Edwards, with Mrs. W. G. Cross at the piano. The business meeting was opened with prayer. The secretary and treasurer presented reports, called the roll and received the collection. The installation of officers enrolled the following for the forthcoming year: Jean Robinson, president; Patricia Young, vice-president; Carmen Winslow, secretary; Ardythe Flanders, treasurer; World Friends' secretary, Donna MacPherson; pianist, Mary Dorian. Committees: Membership, Jean Paquette; Barbara Dunbar; house, Kay Winslow; Gladys Elkas; Dolores Winslow; handicraft, Ronald Stewart; Kenneth MacRae; Brenda MacPherson; general assistants, Mary Dorian and Joan Keating. The hostesses Barbara Dunbar and Kay Winslow served refreshments.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

Christmas tree, Yule logs, and other festive decorations greeted the eyes of the B. and P. W. members as they assembled in their club room for the December meeting, on Monday evening.

Miss Alice Milford, president, was in the chair and opened the meeting with the Club Collect.

Miss Ruth Stoddard, treasurer, presented the financial statement. Miss Marjorie Moir, secretary, reported on the study and discussion meeting of November 24th, and gave an outline of the program to be followed by that group for the remainder of the season.

Miss Leslie Fales, stated two boxes had been sent to the Club's "Foster Club" in England, and preparations for a third one were in process.

$5 was again voted to Princess Alice Foundation Fund.

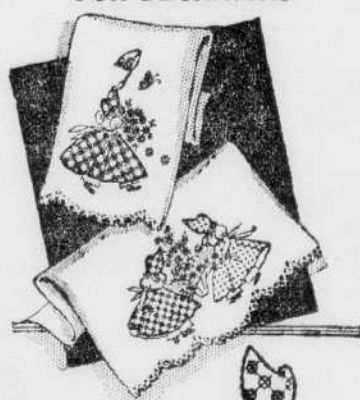

Names of three applicants for membership were proposed, voted on and accepted.

The marathon bridge committee reported having secured nine tables of players, with more applications coming in.

Miss Florine Mullins, reading "The Fir Tree" by Hans Christian Andersen, was greatly enjoyed, as were the Christmas Carols, conducted by Miss Leslie Fales, with Miss Hattie Empey at the piano.

Refreshments were served and social hour followed, during which guessing games were conducted by Miss Marjorie Moir.

Hospital, Montreal, is now spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. de Solla.

Friends will be sorry to learn that Mr. Jesse Allen is confined to the house with an infected hand.

Word has been received by Mrs. J. C. Smith, Woodward Avenue, of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. J. Smith, Hamilton, Ont. Her remains will rest at Johnston's Funeral Parlor where the service will be held on Saturday, following which interment will take place at Elmwood Cemetery.

At the close of the work meeting of the Carry-On Club, held December 4, the drawing for the doll and wardrobe, for which tickets had been sold by the Carry-On Club, took place. Miss Olive Harvey, Superintendent of the Sherbrooke Hospital drew the winning ticket, which bore the name of Marilyn Gilmann, Dufferin Avenue. Mrs. W. B. Murray was authorized to purchase Christmas decorations for the tree in the children's ward, with Mrs. Lee Audet in charge of gifts for the little patients who might be in the ward at Christmas.

A meeting of the West Ward W.A., was held in the Lawrence School on Thursday, December 4, at 8 p.m., with twenty members attending. Mrs. J. Hall, president, was in the chair and opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. The reports, given by the secretary, Mrs. R. Wells, and the treasurer, Mrs. R. Cuts, were approved. The business period was taken up with the final plans for the Christmas sale and salad tea, to take place in the Plymouth Church Hall, on Saturday, December 13, from 3 to 6 p.m. There being no further business the meeting was adjourned, following which refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. C. McLachlan and Mrs. T. Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. Hollander, Court Street, entertained at Armitage's Lodge, in honor of the thirteenth birthday and Confirmation ceremony of their young son, Emery. Fifty guests were invited to a barbecue dinner which was highlighted by vocal solos, by Mrs. T. Adler and Mrs. J. Bordoff, the latter singing torch songs. The guest of honor gallantly thanked his friends for the many beautiful gifts which had added so much to the "Happy Birthday" and joined in the merriment with his little chums. Arnold, Bechombeg, Russell Hyman and Marvin Smith. Cards were played until midnight when the hosts and guests having enjoyed a delightful evening parted company.

The Church Union Group held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. H. A. Peabody. Annual reports were read by the secretary, Mrs. D. McRae, and treasurer, Mrs. H. Kennedy. The retiring president, Mrs. Hawley Griffith, thanked her executive for loyal support and welcomed the new president, Mrs. D. S. Howard, to the chair. The new slate of officers for 1948 is as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. H. A. Peabody; president, Mrs. D. S. Howard; first vice-president, Mrs. D. Johnson; second vice-president, Mrs. Charles Kench; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles Mutchler; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. Larabee; treasurer, Mrs. Donald MacLennan. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. H. A. Peabody, Mrs. D. McRae and Mrs. P. Mathias.

Mrs. D. S. Howard and Mrs. Hawley Griffith shared the honors at the attractive tea table which was centred with a begonia plant and lighted tapers.

MODERN MARRIAGE

INSPIRE HIM TO MANLINESS

By Dr. Paul Popenoe

The single most important job of the wife is to inspire her husband to manliness.

This is the statement of Dr. Fritz Kunkel, famed psychiatrist. I'll let him answer my correspondent, Mrs. A., who wants help in living up to her responsibilities as a married woman. "We were married just after V-J Day," she explains. "Hugh is simply wonderful. I want to do my best to be the kind of a wife he deserves. Where shall I begin?"

Begin, Mrs. A., by trying to understand just what manliness is. Dr. Kunkel stresses it in his latest book—written with Ruth Gardner—"What Do You Advise?" (Lives Washburn, N.Y., 1946). "It is not merely a matter of masculinity," he points out; "it is also a matter of maturity."

Many women really lack respect for a man's intellectual achievements, he declares. They favor an "attractive boyishness," which is easier to understand and cope with. If he behaves like a movie hero, they applaud him; if he behaves like a real man ought to behave, perhaps they feel that he is getting out of their reach, so they are indifferent, even ridicule his achievements. "He has no time for anything but his business," they assert. They try to make him feel that they are superior to him in "culture," in an appreciation of "the finer things of life."

On the one hand, they may damage his self-confidence. On the other hand, they may create a chasm between husband and wife, so that he leaves his wife more and more out of his daily life. That's the first step—and a long one—toward the divorce court.

Husbands have the responsibility of showing respect for their wives' intelligence—I agree with you there, Mrs. A. But do your full share. "Intellectual subtlety, maturity and power are not developed by most men unless their wives encouraged it by honest—not flattering or unctuous—appreciation," says Dr. Kunkel. "No man can become great on flattery; few men can become even moderately well developed on a diet of hidden or open depreciation of their powers."

Questions and Answers

Q—How can we make our parents realize that times have changed since they were children, back in the horse and buggy days?

A—Get the parents of other youngsters to co-operate with them in joint planning.

Q—Do you really believe that woman dominate men?

A—Sometimes. Look around among your neighbors and use your own judgment.

Q—Is it possible for a mother's actions to affect the child before it is born?

A—No, unless she behaves in such a way as to fill her bloodstream with poisons, or something of the sort.

Q—Is it advisable for me to go with older boys while waiting for the boys of my own age to grow up?

A—Yes, at least part of the time; you'll probably marry a boy several years older than yourself, so it's well to begin cultivating their acquaintance now.

COWANSVILLE

The annual meeting of Trinity Church Guild was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. J. J. Barker, at her home with eight members and four visitors present. The meeting was opened by Rev. Mr. Peacock. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary and were approved. The yearly reports of the secretary-treasurer showed a very successful year and a substantial sum was voted to the Church treasury, and the balance put in a special fund for a new font for the Church. Mr. Peacock took the chair for the election of officers, which were all re-elected as follows: Honorary President, Mrs. N. Buzzell; president, Mrs. O. Beattie; first vice-president, Mrs. D. Kerr; second vice president, Mrs. Ellison; secretary-treasurer, Miss Isabella Beattie; Miss Quibbs; regional director of the Girls' Auxiliary was present and gave an interesting talk on the work of the branch. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Cowansville Farm Forum Group was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. Barette at their home on Monday evening with a good attendance. The meeting was conducted by the chairman, Mr. Reginald Mines. After the business was concluded, recreation and delicious refreshments were enjoyed.

Miss Blue spent a day with relatives in Brigham.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Fisher, of Renfrew, Ont., spent a day with Mr.

French Troops May Return To Normal Duties

The decision of the Communist-dominated Confédération Generale du Travail to order striking French workers to resume work may permit troops to return to their normal duties. The soldiers took up the task of cleaning up the streets after the regular street cleaners refused to do the job.

THE W.M.S. AND W.A. ELECTED NEW OFFICERS

Kingsbury, Dec. 11.—The Women's Missionary Society and the Women's Association met at the home of Mrs. R. Kerr with Mrs. Guy Frank, the joint hostess.

The meeting opened at 2 p. m. with the president, Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf, in the chair.

The theme was "A Canadian Friendship Carol Service." Mrs. E. Hutchings was at the organ and played "O Little Town of Bethlehem." The leader, Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf read about the story of "The Babe in Bethlehem," which will be read in a thousand tongues in Canada, in many languages. Mrs. Guy Frank read the "Christmas Story" and Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf led in prayer.

A candlelighting ceremony took place. Mrs. Elmer Crack read a portion of scripture and seven candles were lit, by the following members: Miss Carrie Ward, Mrs. A. McMorine, Mrs. Henry Fowler, Mrs. Merle Oakley, Mrs. M. D. Watters, Mrs. Gordon Crack and Mrs. R. Kerr. This was followed by the singing of Christmas Carols.

Thirteen members answered the roll call and there were two visitors. The minutes were read and approved. Mrs. E. Blake reported that the allocation had been met.

Miss Carrie Ward read a letter from Mrs. Hampson, of England, thanking the society for the gift sent her and the food parcels sent there.

The next meeting will be held at the home of the president, Mr. G. O. Malboeuf, on January 7, at 2 p. m. Mrs. E. Hutchings will be the joint hostess. A sale and a guessing contest on a towel brought in $7.16. Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf won the towel.

Mrs. A. Wilfong presided at the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf, president, re-elected; Mrs. A. Wilfong, first vice-president; Mrs. E. Hutchings, second vice-president; re-elected; Miss Carrie Ward, secretary, re-elected; Mrs. Edward Blake, treasurer, re-elected.

Secretaries of Committees: Temperance, Mrs. Henry Fowler, re-elected; Christian Stewardship and financial secretary, Mrs. M. W. Watters, re-elected; Mrs. R. Kerr, Community Friendship, re-elected; Mrs. Merle Oakley, "Missionary Monthly," re-elected; Mrs. Elmer Crack, Associate Members and Baby Band, re-elected; Mrs. A. Wilfong, Mission Band, re-elected, on her committee are Mrs. A. McMorine and Mrs. Gordon Crack, re-elected; Mrs. A. McMorine, Library, re-elected; Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf, organist, and publicity convener, re-elected; Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf, re-elected; and Mrs. G. Crack, representatives to the Official Board; Mrs. R. Kerr, leader of the young groups, re-elected; Mrs. Elmer Crack, Mrs. M. Oakley and Mrs. H. Fowler, sick committee, re-elected.

Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf thanked the members for her re-election and asked for their continued co-operation for the coming year.

The Women's Association meeting opened with the president, Mrs. M. Watters, in the chair.

After the singing of "As With Gladness Men of Old," the minutes were read by Mrs. A. McMorine, secretary, and were approved. The roll call was answered by thirteen members and two visitors. Mrs. R. Kerr, treasurer, gave her report and stated that there was a nice sum of money with which to begin 1948. Mrs. R. Kerr thanked Miss Carrie Ward, Mr. D. Lemoine and Mr. and Mrs. Malboeuf for the help they had given during the year.

Mrs. A. Wilfong and Mrs. Gordon Crack were appointed to buy the Christmas candy for the children. Mrs. M. D. Watters resigned from her office on account of her health, and thanked the ladies for their co-operation during her time of office.

Mrs. A. Wilfong presided for the election of officers which resulted as follows: Mrs. A. Wilfong, president; Mrs. H. Fowler, first vice-president; Mrs. R. Kerr, second vice-president; Mrs. R. Kerr, treasurer, re-elected; Mrs. A. McMorine, secretary, re-elected; Ways and Means Committee, Mrs. Elmer Crack, Mrs. H. Fowler and Mrs. A. McMorine; Sick Committee, Mrs. Elmer Crack, Mrs. Guy Frank and Miss Carrie Ward, re-elected.

Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf thanked Mrs. M. D. Watters for her faithful help during the year as president. Mrs. M. D. Watters led in prayer and the business meeting adjourned.

The tea table was covered with a white embroidered table cloth with artificial snow and Christmas decorations and white candies. Dainty refreshments were served.

The ladies thanked the hostesses and Miss C. Ward, their assistant, for their hospitality.

THETFORD MINES

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Houle spent a few days in Montreal, where Mrs. Houle has been under the care of an eye specialist, and she is glad to report that the doctor found her condition greatly improved.

CANADA TO AID UNITED NATION FILM PROJECTS

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Some evening before long, you may slide into your movie seat and see something new—films produced by the United Nations. They will be snappy 20-minute shorts—some dealing with world problems—and will be designed to show that solution of these problems calls for international teamwork.

For instance, you may have mother-in-law trouble because the housing shortage forces you to live in one small house. The housing shortage due partly to the lack of timber and the lack of timber is due to the fact that for years in many parts of the world we destroyed our forests. So a lot of the old rich timber stands are gone.

The forests can be replaced only by a system of reforestation which calls for international co-operation. Meanwhile, there are thousands of millions of acres of virgin tropical forests which for the first time can be reached by air travel and other modern means of transportation. However, before we can determine what these timber supplies can yield, extensive forest surveys have to be made and this, too, calls for international co-operation.

The United Nations film board selected "timber" as one of the 10 movie themes it assigned recently for production in 10 different countries. Some of them, instead of dealing with world problems, cover fields in which teamwork between nations has been going on successfully for centuries.

The films will be produced by national film committees, nationalized film industries or private producers and are budgeted to cost less than one Hollywood "C" picture. Three are expected to be ready for release this fall, and the rest for 1948.

Their purpose is to awaken John Jones of the United States and Canada, Pedro Manuel of South America, Li Wang of China, to what the United Nations means in their own lives and to "sell" the need for international teamwork.

The timber film will be produced in Scandinavia, whose forest policies can make two-thirds of the points desired.

The United States will produce "In the Long Run" showing that eventually the production of agricultural surpluses benefit the farmer as well as the consumer. Mexico will film "The Fight Against Illiteracy," showing efforts made to combat it in a world where three out of five human beings still cannot read and write.

Belgium, known for its achievements in reclaiming delinquent youth, will record for the screen "Combating Juvenile Delinquency." From Canada will come "The Maps We Live By," showing that international co-operation is essential to accurate mapping of the earth's surface. The common problems and aims of youth will be filmed by Czechoslovakia under the title of "Young Ideas." France will do a film "From Lighthouses to Radar," showing how nations have co-operated for centuries to ensure safety at sea.

The United Nations in action will be filmed by Poland. The United Kingdom will make a picture showing how people of different nationalities and background work together on the basis of common crafts and skills.

And finally, the U.S.S.R. will do a film called "New Frontiers of Science" revealing the efforts mankind has made, on an international co-operative basis, to control the weather.

SWEETSBURG

Friends are sorry to know that Mrs. Rhea Moffatt, of the Centre Road, broke a bone in her wrist, when she fell while cleaning the kitchen floor and that Mrs. Stephen Hunt, of the Gilman Road, fell, when leaving the Atlantic and Pacific Store, in Cowansville, and injured herself badly.

Miss May Bulman has closed her home here and gone to Manchester, N. H., for the winter.

Mrs. W. Barton is ill with the grippe.

Mrs. Ruth Chapman and grandson, of Iron Hill, were callers at "Green Gables."

Mrs. Herbert Mason, of Iron Hill, is now employing a bulldozer to level her land at the rear of the Cuthbertson Restaurant, preparatory to opening a short street there on each side of which she will dispose of lots to people, who wish to build.

Miss Mary Carter, of East Farnham, and Miss Thelma Goodhue, of Cowansville, were guests of Miss Rosemary Barton and of Mr. and Mrs. W. Barton, on the H. F. Villas farm.

Mrs. C. B. Jameson, Mrs. E. F. Hall, Mrs. S. Marceau, Mrs. Charles Weddell and Mrs. Cora Pickett attended the Friendly Society's tea and sale at Trinity Hall.

FIREMEN REALLY USEFULLY
St. Louis, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Two-month-old Richard McGuire got his bottle on time yesterday—with an assist from the fire department.

Mrs. Anna McGuire, the baby's grandmother had taken him for an airing while his parents were at work. When she returned to their second-floor apartment as Richard's feeding time approached, she found her new door key wouldn't work. She called the fire department.

Engine company 20 answered, raised a ladder to a window, and soon young Richard was happily sucking on his bottle.

MISSIONARIES
WRITE FROM EAST AFRICA

Waterloo, Dec. 11.—The following are extracts of letters written by Mr. and Mrs. Brook Wells who are missionaries in Africa at the present time. Mr. Wells is the son of Inspector and Mrs. H. D. Wells, of Waterloo, and it is felt these experiences will carry much interest to the people in this vicinity.

On May 20th, the writer witnessed the total eclipse of the sun, and in explaining stated that "this is the first total eclipse, I have seen since that time we saw one when we had our place at Stukely. As I recall, we did not have too good a view of it at Stukely, as it was cloudy, but here it was perfect as the sun was in full view. It made quite an impression on the natives but the District Commissioner had sent out word ahead of time that such would take place so there would be no panic among the natives. Last June when we were in Uganda I saw my first total eclipse of the moon. Yes, you must come to East Africa to get all the exciting things.

"Next week we go to Kisumu to help in the coming camp meeting preparations. Kisumu is the place where Harold E. B. was a missionary for eleven years. The mission there is a beautiful one, much better than here. Altitude is higher but I like this one better for, it is cold and damp too much of the time at Kisumu to suit me. Believe me, it can get cold in Africa, Africa's cold and not its heat will be the thing that will surprise you."

In another letter Mr. Wells explains the postal service at Makanya, Tanga Province, Tanganyika, and in so doing, writes, "They have had trouble here at this mission with the postal clerks stealing the stamps from the letters and throwing the letters out of the window. Actually, there is no post office here. All there is a R.R. station called Makanya, while the actual post office is on the train and you will probably notice this letter stamped 'Kilimanjaro T.P.O.' (T.P.O. meaning travelling post office). Believe me, when I say that it's a mess, I am seriously contemplating having a private postal bag come from either Tanga or Moshi thus putting a stop to pilferage. They caught one of the postal clerks, who had pilfered one of Mrs. Oliphant's letters and he is in prison for a year and a half."

"Why do I say that the R.R.T.P.O. is a mess? Well, I'll tell you. Two weeks ago tonight Mr. Webster wanted to go down to the train to see if there was a letter from his wife, as he had not heard from her for three weeks. The train goes into Makanya about one a.m., therefore we don't meet too many trains at that hour. When we went into the post office van of the train, one of the post office clerks was sound asleep on the floor lying on a bunch of empty mail sacks, and the other old fellow was almost asleep in his chair. When the sleeping clerk was aroused, and asked why he was sleeping, he very sleepily replied that "I wasn't sleeping, sir, I was just taking a rest." Brother Webster got a bunch of letters from his wife and apparently they had gone between Moshi and Tanga in the T.P.O. as those postal clerks were asleep, when the train got into Makanya and naturally did not get the mail off.

"We just got word from friends that things are not too good now in India for white missionaries. God pity them if India goes fully independent. Some of us wonder what the fate of East Africa will be in the future as there are thousands of Indians in this part of the world and their birth rate is much higher than the natives. India has made some pretty strong hints in the past that she sort of looks on Tanganyika as hers. Of course such notions were rebuffed by the British Government in London. All we can do is wait and see. East Africa is definitely not a white man's country. It is run for the benefit of the natives and the Indians.

"If you were to send us a telegram we would get it in quick order for we are only ten miles from the telegraph office and our post boy goes there four times per week. I can send you a cable of twenty-five words for only $2.10 in your money. That is the price of what we call out here a delayed cable, which takes about three days to reach you. It is the same idea as a 'night letter' telegram at home. If I want to send you a 'fast' cable, it would cost a shilling in Kisumu and if I had $75, I could even telephone you. I can telephone anywhere in East Africa or the world for that matter right here in Kisumu, so you see we feel as though we have hit civilization again. By the way, Mr. Sparrow had to call his wife at a hundred miles distance and it only cost him thirty cents for three minutes. We can also call a distance of seven hundred to nine hundred miles away for only $1.20 for three minutes, so you can see telephone rates are not expensive out here.

"Tanga is a pretty seaport town and is very warm due to the high humidity. There are some fine stores in Tanga and we have enjoyed our stay here. It has quite a good landlocked harbor, which our hotel overlooks. The town is about the size of Waterloo.

"I hope our garden does well." Mrs. Wells writes "for it costs quite a bit to keep it going. I'm going to try to get some more jars now they have been advertised in the paper. For when vegetables and fruits are on, I could have a few jars of each. We do have lean seasons of the year, and it is well to think of them just as at home. Our garden is all in small terraced plots on the side of the mountain. I don't think that the Japanese have anything on us, when it comes to terracing, for our gardens, houses, school buildings and everything seems to be on a terrace on the side of the mountain. We can't walk more than a few feet in any direction without going up or down. You may well know that there are some muscles being put into play, that have never gotten on a proper work out before.

"We arrived Friday afternoon, after climbing one of the most tortuous mountain roads, that I have ever seen. It is an eight mile climb from the plains to the mission station and it takes one hour to do it with steady driving, leaving your car in low gear all the time. You climb from 1,500 feet to 5,500 feet in that eight miles so you see we are really on the heights. Our station is actually on top of a mountain, and I mean just that, but the mountain does not stop with that for it keeps right on going on up back of our houses. There are 6 hairpin bends in his road up to the mission and the road is just wide enough for one car and it would be just too bad if one was to meet another en route up or down the mountain. It would literally mean that one of the road ends at the mission and everyone around here knows what kind of a road it is and therefore they leave it alone like they would a poisonous snake. However, it is still better than walking, and that is what one had to do about three years ago until this road was built up here. The road is so bad, that lorries cannot make it up here. Consequently all of our three tons of stuff that is coming by rail from Tanga must be brought up with my own car. It's lucky for me that I have a pick-up truck, otherwise some things could not be brought up with my car, such as our frig. etc. Speaking of refrigerators, what we need is a furnace and not a frig. The fireplace is used plentifully and so we can indulge in this luxury as wood is quite handy. Sweaters and wools are the order of the day.

"But what a view from here. We can see for miles around the country and when there are no clouds around Mountains Kilimanjaro and Meru, they can be seen in all of their glory and majesty. They are both hundred miles away. We have wonderful gardens here as well as flowers. Our gardens are irrigated by an irrigation canal, when the rains are not on. Then there is no shortage of water at Suji. We have running hot and cold water we want to run into the bath tubs and we can take as many baths as we please. Our living room window looks right out over the mountain side towards Kilimanjaro.

"Our flower gardens around the house are gorgeous. The lawns are not as good here as at Umtali due to the poorer soil. We grow the following vegetables: brussels sprouts, iceberg lettuce, cabbages, tomatoes and potatoes, etc. The vegetable gardens are beautiful, you should see them. We will live like kings here. I am going to take pictures of the place and send them along to you."

ST. HILDA'S CHRISTMAS TEA

St. Hilda's Guild of St. Luke's Anglican Church held its Christmas tea and sale in the church hall. The hall was very prettily decorated with pop corn balls that provided much attraction for the younger guests. Mrs. Arthur Wade was in charge of this particular department.

The tea table was presided over by Mrs. Walter Readshaw and Mrs. Nelson Langevin. An abundant food table, under the direction of Mrs. Melvin Chartier, Mrs. Trussler and Mrs. J. C. Marcotte was very well patronized, and the fancy work, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Basner and Mrs. Robert Millinchamp contained many pretty and useful articles.

In spite of the inclement weather, a record crowd was in attendance, which all went to make the affair a grand success, to the satisfaction of the president, Mrs. F. R. Graves, and the members of the Guild.

ST. PAUL'S W.A.

The Women's Association of St. Paul's United Church held their final meeting before the New Year in the church hall.

Mrs. R. J. Graves presided for the business portion of the meeting, and at this time sufficient money was voted by the women to pay off the balance of the debt on the renovation fund. This reflects great credit on the work the women in this organization have accomplished this past year, and their part is a big one in the work of the church. A report on the recent Christmas sale showed most satisfactory results.

A social evening then followed under the leadership of Mrs. Maurice Smith. During that period, Mrs. Charles Daigneau and Mrs. F. Colwill played several duets on the piano, which were much appreciated by the assembled gathering. Christmas Carols were sung, and singing was enjoyed by Mrs. Colwill, with Mrs. Daigneau at the piano.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Heman Wing, Mrs. F. Bockus, Mrs. A. Smith and Mrs. H. Lowry.

Ipswich, England — Centre of an argument caused by his green trousers, yellow-and-red tie and light fawn coat, James Lynch was bound over for 12 months for disturbing the peace.

Seven Die In Fire

Firemen carry out the body of one of a family of seven who were killed when fire swept their Greenwich, O., home. Mr. and Mrs. Warrice Rice and five of their six children died in the blaze which firemen believe started when an overheated stove pipe ignited a wooden partition in the home.

DENISON'S MILLS

Miss Helen Searle, who spent three weeks vacation at her home here, has returned to Montreal. Mrs. Albert Hughes who was visiting her former home in Montreal for two weeks, has returned home. She was accompanied by her son, Mr. Wilfrid Hughes, her son-in-law, Mr. Duncan Rief, and the latter's brother, Mr. Philip Rief, of Montreal, who remained for the week-end.

Messrs. Duncan and Philip Rief visited their grandmother, Mrs. T. Demers, who is ill at her home here.

Mrs. John Andrews is at home again, after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cleveland and family, in Danville.

Mrs. Arthur Carson is caring for her sister, Mrs. T. Demers. Master Bobbie Hebert has been unable to attend school for some time and is under the doctor's care.

Mr. and Mrs. T. McNally and their two children, who arrived from England, a few months ago and resided at the Armstrong home, are now residing in Ontario.

Mrs. William Brock, who recently underwent a major operation in the Montreal General Hospital, is recuperating at her home here.

The Winter Roads Association expects to be able to keep the Denison's Mills road open for cars again this winter.

Many wells are still lacking sufficient water to supply cattle now housed in the barns. Denison's lake is at the lowest level known for this time of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Haliburton Clarke and their two children, Judy and Joyce, have taken up residence in Pickering, Ont. Mr. Reginald Green accompanied them.

HATED TO GET WELL

Calgary, Dec. 11.—(C)—The idea of leaving hospital didn't appeal to one Calgary man. Told his discharge had been ordered because there was nothing medically wrong with him after a 10-day stay, he threw a cu; at the ward supervisor. Police were called to persuade him that much-needed hospital beds were for the sick only.

Toys To Sew For Happy Stockings

Cunning toys to stuff a child's Christmas stocking are easy to make with simple patterns and leftover scraps of fabric and yarn. In the photograph above, Mary Hatcher, "Oklahoma" songstress, puts the finishing touches on the calico horse made from the pattern sketched upper right. The rabbit, dog, teddy bear and Aunt Jemima doll patterns sketched along the borders are also tied to their home-sewn counterparts in the photograph. Not included is the Polly Pigtail doll, sketched upper left.

By ESPIE KINARD

Win more little friends this year with less strain on your budget by making your own Christmas toys.

Use sewing-box scraps and patterns that chart every stitch of your way. This makes filling socks with your own clever handiwork easy. What it adds up to when lists are completed are favorite animals which little guys go for, dolls which bring yelps of glee from little girls.

Odds and ends of fabric dug out of a basket will make and stuff an Aunt Jemima doll, for example. More sewing-box scraps will dress Auntie to the nines in her traditional costume. A fine specimen of a horse or a floppy-eared dog take no more material—and no more time than an evening.

Remnants of yarn will make crocheted dolls and good money-saving replicas of Toyland's antimals. Yarn may even be unraveled from discarded knitwear to feed the crochet hook that loops up a Polly Pigtail doll, twin rabbits, or a family of bears.

The baby cub of this bear family is slated to win the hearts of parents as well as the lucky child who gets this toy. The cub goes into a sock imbibing his favorite beverage from a milk bottle which you can crochet in jig time out of white cotton thread.

I.O.D.E. GROUP HOLDS MEETING AT BEDFORD

Bedford, Dec. 10.—The regular monthly meeting of the Missisquoi Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held in the Masonic Temple, with excellent attendance of members. The meeting was opened with the prayer of the order by the regent, Mrs. F. E. Best, after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. F. N. Williams, and were approved as read. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. William Taylor, showed a balance of $387.45 on hand. Mrs. Taylor reported that $69.76 had been taken in through the sale of poppies, and that the proceeds of the recent sale and tea amounted to $85. The report of Mrs. Richard Craighead, past war services convener, showed that the shipment of books had been forwarded to the Naval Hospital, at St. Hyacinthe, and that donations of books and magazines to be sent to the hospital would be greatly appreciated by the Chapter. A bulletin from National I.O.D.E. Headquarters, in Toronto, Ont., was read regarding the white ermine wrap which was a part of the Order's gift to Princess Elizabeth on the occasion of her recent marriage to the Duke of Edinburgh. The wrap was made of the very finest of Canadian ermine, equal to the best obtainable the world over. The styling featured a new butterfly sleeve and butterfly neckline, so ingenious that with manipulation the wearer could achieve three different wrap effects. To illustrate these varied effects Kersh, of Ottawa, was retained to photograph the three versions of the wrap as modelled. The designer of the wrap was Mr. Jack Creed, outstanding Canadian designer. Accompanying the gift was a hand illuminated card bearing the Crest of the Order, with the following inscription: "To Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth on the occasion of her marriage November 20th, 1947. From the Imperial Order party, given at the home of the Daughters of the Empire, I.O.D.E., Canada." The presentation of the gift was made by Princess Alice, wife of the Earl of Athlone, formerly Governor-General of Canada, and a former honorary president of the I.O.D.E., and at the present time representing the Order in Great Britain, who graciously consented to make the presentation on behalf of the Canadian members who have contributed so generously and in so personal a manner towards the Royal gift. The remainder of the Order's gift to Princess Elizabeth and one of which is of special interest to the members, is to take the form of assistance to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital for Children, Hackney Road, London, England. This hospital, of which the Princess Elizabeth is president and in which she takes a very deep interest, is not as well endowed as many similar institutions. It is located in an extremely poor district of London. It has 139 beds and in the past year has administered to over 3,000 out-patients in addition to 110,000 in-patients. The hospital board is re-establishing a little folks convalescent home at Bexhill-on-Sea, which was evacuated during the war, as it was the invasion area. This gift will include much needed supplies for the hospital and special food for the small inmates.

A description of the wrap will be of interest. It is forty-two inches long, longer than a three-quarter length coat, has a half moon rounded front, which when draped gives the graceful appearance of dipping towards the back for approximately five inches. The seven inch facing of ermine provides an effect resembling the wings of a butterfly when the wrap is draped in an ascot effect. The butterfly ascot may also be worn as a beautiful hood on occasion. The six inch fur facing at the neckline was designed to be worn open without disclosing the pure white silk lining, which was manufactured in Canada. Another detail of the gift is the initial "E" surmounted by a coronet, the personal monogram of Her Royal Highness, which was embroidered in white silk on the lining of one side of the wrap, while on the other side were the smaller letters, also in white silk, "I.O.D.E."

A discussion of the matter of obtaining prizes to give the pupils at the forthcoming school opening of the Bedford High School was discussed. Previous to the war the school had an excellent prize-list, but during the war, the board of school commissioners deemed it advisable to discontinue prize-giving. The only prizes, which were given during the past years have been those from Missisquoi Chapter, I.O.D.E., which also gave school prizes in the two Catholic schools in Bedford, St. Joseph's Convent and St. Damien's College, and also in the Phillipsburg School. A committee, composed of Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus, Mrs. Eric Kemp and Mrs. Henry Shaffer, was appointed to look after the canvassing of the town to obtain funds for the purchasing of prizes. The sum of $25 was voted by the School Commissioners at a recent meeting of the Board for this purpose. The funds will be turned over to Miss Siona Brandt, French specialist at the High School, who is the Educational Secretary of the Chapter, who together with the High School staff will look after the purchasing and sending of these gifts.

It was decided that the January meeting would be held on the second Monday in the month January 12th, instead of on the first Monday in the month, as is customary. Bills amounting to $41.65 were presented for payment for materials and wool to be used in the making of articles for shipment overseas, the need for which is as great, as at any time during the war years. Following the business meeting refreshments were served. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus and Mrs. Eric Kemp. A motion was made that the treasurer forward a check for $150 to Provincial I.O.D.E. Headquarters, Montreal, as a further contribution to the Chapter's quota of $1,000 for the Second War Memorial Fund of the Order, I.O.D.E. calendars for 1948 were distributed by the Educational Secretary, Miss Brandt, to the members. The Chapter places I.O.D.E. calendars in the town schools as well as in several schools in nearby towns.

General Notes
Among the members of the branch of the Girls' Auxiliary, who attended the rally held in the Anglican Church, in St. Johns, on Saturday, together with the regional supervisor, Mrs. Harry Jones, were Messrs. Joan Hewitt, Kathryn Sheltus, Betty Ann Nicholson, Elizabeth Bradshaw, Betty Harris, Shirley Nicholson, L. Mady, Dorothy Van Horn, Helen Brown and Doreen Bordo.

Miss Sylvia Palmer, who is attending the School for Teachers, at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, spent a week-end in Bedford with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Palmer.

Mrs. Samuel Ewing, of the Phillipsburg Road, who has been a patient in the Montreal General Hospital during the past weeks, where she underwent an operation, has left the hospital and is with her daughter, Mrs. J. Dorman, and Mr. Dorman, in St. Lambert.

Among those who attended the dance given on Friday evening in Cowansville by the Lions Club, were Dr. and Mrs. Henry Shaffer and Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence.

The weekly meeting of the St. James Church Bridge Club was held one evening, with Mrs. Ralph Van Horn, the hostess. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. J. W. Cocherline. This will be the final meeting of the club until after the holiday season.

The concluding meeting of the Bridge Club until after the holiday season will be held on Wednesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Charles Jones.

Mr. Clarence Collins, of St. Lambert, spent the week-end here with Mrs. Collins and family.

ROBERTSON IS OUTSTANDING WITH ROYALS

Montreal, Dec. 11.—(C)—Anyone who has watched Canada's senior hockey champions—the Montreal Royals—perform this season are unanimous in their opinion that in George Robertson, former Memorial Cup star with Winnipeg Monarchs, the Montrealers have a player who has all the makings of a big-leaguer and many predict that the smooth-working centre will hit hockey's big top in a few seasons.

Robertson, former property of the New York Rangers, came to the Royals via Montreal Canadiens in that much-talked-of trade that sent likeable Buddy O'Connor, the idol of Montreal's younger hockey enthusiasts, and Frankie Eddolls to the Gothamites in exchange for Robertson, Hal Alyce and Joe Bell.

George centres Royals "kid line" of Howie Morenz, Jr., and Bob Fryday and at the present time this trio is the hottest and fastest line on the club. Morenz is the son of the immortal centre star of Canucks from 1923-37 who bears the same name and Fryday is an 18-year-old rookie who saw action in junior ranks with Toronto Marlboros and Montreal Canadiens.

Robertson is given a lion's share of the credit for the trio's success, having helped Morenz and Fryday develop into regular goal scorers. Fryday in particular is the most-improved player on the club. For a junior who only made the team on his fine showing in an exhibition game at Kingston with the Stanley

End Of A Perfect Season

His hair tousled, his hat battered, Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy is surrounded by jubilant players after his team's 33-7 victory over the University of Southern California at Los Angeles. At right is All-American Johnny Lujack. It was Notre Dame's first perfect season since 1930.

Cup Champion Toronto Maple Leafs, he has come a long way. He is among the top goal-getters on the Royal roster that includes Pete Morin—reported to have been offered a sizeable sum to play with New York Rangers. Robertson was one of the stars of the Winnipeg Monarch squad that came east in the spring of 1946 and upset the highly-touted Toronto St. Mike's to capture the Memorial Cup, symbolic of Junior Hockey Supremacy in Canada.

A change of leagues has made little difference to former American Hockey League players that have been transferred to the National League this season. Jimmy McFadden, who was a standout for the Buffalo Bisons last year, has been setting a terrific pace with Detroit, and was tied for first place in scoring in the latest figures released. Other ex-American Leaguers playing brilliantly in their new surroundings are Wally Wilson, Pete Babando, Ernie Dickens and Bob Goldham.

PITTSBURGH IS STILL SETTING PACE IN A.H.L.

Pittsburgh Hornets today head the American Hockey League's Western Division by eight points and rival teams are finding it tougher each outing to stop the high-flying Wasps.

Last night in Pittsburgh, Hornets mauled Hershey Bears 8-0, dropping the defending champions into second place in the Eastern Circuit, back of the first place Providence Reds.

Reds stayed at the top in the east by dumping Philadelphia Rockets 12-4. Springfield Indians moved out of the Eastern cellar by virtue of their 5-3 victory over St. Louis Flyers to round out the games played last night.

Wingmen Tod Sloan and Bill Buson each racked up two counters to pace the Hornet team to their 18th win in 25 starts. Les Costello, Felming Mackell, Bob Dawes and Armand Lemieux each flashed the light once.

Providence went on a scoring spree at Philadelphia, with most players considerably fattening their averages. Harvey Fraser paced the goal-getters with three tallies while two each were picked up by Whitey Prokop, Pete Karpis and Roger Bedard. One each went to Johnnie Chad, Jack Stoddard and Harry Taylor. Ken Killrea, Steve Wochy, George Defelice and Alex Motter scored for Rockets.

Paul Courteau led the Indian uprising as they finally hit the war-path and came up with a win. Courteau scored three times with Eric Unger and Eddie Kobussen scoring

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—With all due respect to Johnny Berardino, Stan Spence, etc., the biggest deal made so far during the major league baseball meetings was when magician Joe Kubel, Washington manager, spent an hour in a hotel lobby showing card tricks to Lou Boudreau and Ted Lyons.

... Detroit's Billy Evans maintains that everybody in the American League was "scared" by the Red Sox and Indians' dealings—especially the prices. "How can you pay $55,000 for a utility infielder?" Billy asks, and answers by saying "we can't." ... the National Leaguers at least seem to be trying. ... Bob Carpenter, the Phillies boss, told Herby Pennock: "The money is there if you can get anything worth while," but manager Ben Chapman adds: "You offer to make a trade and they won't talk; then they go home and two weeks later start asking how about it. These guys must think you don't know what they need."

More Baseball

The National League has been meeting in the Carpenter suite, which is significant of exactly nothing. ... Charley Grimm reports that nobody has been making overtures for Bill Nicholson. "They just call him a .244 hitter," says Charley, who would like to trade almost anybody for a good shortstop. ... the "Pacific Coast Major" plan, which will come up before the majors today and likely will go down again, was suggested.

Pete Backer scored twice for Flyers in a losing cause while reliable Paul Glauda tallied the other goal.

HOCKEY'S BIG SEVEN

Syl Apps, Toronto picked up an assist last night against Detroit to maintain his five-point lead on the National Hockey League scoring race. Elmer Lach of Montreal scored three goals against New York to move into a tie with Detroit's Ted Lindsay for second place. They each have 22 points, five behind Apps. Jim McFadden of Detroit, held scoreless and Maurice Richard, Montreal, sidelined with a knee injury, are tied for the next spot with 21 points. In the last position are New York's Buddy O'Connor and Chicago's Doug Bentley with 20 points each.

The leaders:

	G	A	Pts.
Apps, Toronto	13	14	27
Lindsay, Detroit	13	9	22
Lach, Montreal	12	10	22
Richard, Montreal	10	11	21

gested by National League President Ford Frick when he was in California last summer. ... Billy Southworth's activities yesterday indicate that he's trying hard to get some of the Boston headlines away from the Red Sox. The Braves' manager engaged in deep discussions with the Cards and Cubs. ...

Jimmy Demaree clinched pro golf's money winning race when he finished second in the Orlando Open last week-end and collected $1,400. That gave him a year's total of $25,000, compared to $24,327 for South Africa's Bobby Locke and $22,310 for Ben Hogan. ... Leo Durocher who was banned from the newspaper columns by Commissioner Happy Chandler last spring, recently signed a contract to write a book on "them bums" ... migosh, a whitewashed ghost, too!

HERBIE CARNEGIE AND TONY DEMERS TIED FOR SCORING HONORS

Adj. Cote Tops Local Team In Play Making Department With 29 Assists

Herbie Carnegie, the local's shifty pivot-man, and Tony Demers, the hard shooting right winger, are tied for top spot in the Provincial Hockey League individual scoring honors with 47 points apiece.

Besides being top scorers in Ernest Comte's circuit they are also leading their team-mates in the number of points registered to date. Adj. Cote is close on their heels with 43, while Gilles Dube is next in line with 40 points to his credit. Tony Demers is the top goal-getter with 28 goals.

In the goal getting division Demers is tops while Herbie Carnegie trails along with 23, Gilles Dube 20, and the next drops to 15, which Armand Bourdon holds while Adj. Cote has one less, 14. Captain Bill Heindl is the only player on the team that has not yet registered a goal. Heindl's 13 points are made up of assists only.

Close Matches Feature Initial Tilts In Local Club Bonspiel

Everett Nicol's rink eked out a 10-8 decision over Guy Bishop's quartet but was forced to go an extra end to do so to highlight the matches played last night in the initial tilts of the turkey bonspiel sponsored by the Sherbrooke Curling Club.

Going into the last end trailing by one point, Guy Bishop threw a beautiful stone to get shot and the match 8-8. Nicol's rink got three on the first end, but Bishop's bounced right back and tied it when they picked up three. In the third end Nicol again went into the fore with another three, but Guy Bishop not to be outdone tied it up again. In the fifth end Nicol again picked up one point, but Bishop got it back in the sixth, and then Nicol's rink took a one point lead in the seventh for a lead of 8-7 with the final end to play. In the last end Guy Bishop throwing his last stone tied the match at 8-8 to force an extra end. On the last stone in the extra end, Everett Nicol took Guy Bishop's stone, that was shot, to lay two and win the match.

In the other matches played H. Johnston's rink downed Herbie MacCallum's quartet 11-5. Max Long skipped his rink to a 8-6 win over S. A. Belmont's foursome.

Stan Hamilton, of Lennoxville, skipped his rink to a 14-6 victory over Bruce Millar's squad. H. A. Peabody eked out a close 8-7 win over P. A. Hammond's quartet and George Morgan downed Stan Gallinger's boys 7-1.

In tonight's matches Tom Chapman's rink will meet George MacCallum's squad from Lennoxville, J. N. Fuller will tackle R. T. Atto's foursome from Lennoxville and S. A. Belmont's foursome will engage P. A. Hammond's quartet. On the late shift Oscar Stenson's rink will meet Hubert Armstrong's rink while the Morgan's foursome to round out the evening's activities.

GRANBY DOWNS LACHINE 9-4 IN ROUGH TILT

Lachine, Que., Dec. 11.—Granby Eagles trounced the Lachine Rapides 9-4 in a bruising Provincial Hockey League tussle last night that ended in 100 spectators mobbing the visiting players.

The melee started seconds before the end of the contest. Bobby Carreagher of Granby was taken to hospital where six stitches were taken to close a gash on his forehead.

The crowd surged on the ice after Matt Delvecchio, sitting out a penalty, got into a heated argument with a number of spectators sitting along the boards.

A detachment of police was rushed to the fight, but failed to make any arrests.

Carreagher, Delvecchio and Joe Savard paced the winners with two goals apiece while Costigan, Theriault and Ley accounted for the other Granby markers.

Lacroix was the big gun for Lachine with two markers while Ralph Toohy and Aimie Bourgie notched one each.

Congratulations—Nothing Else

Boxing commission chairman Eddie Egan (left) reads the commission's ruling that decision of the judges in Friday's night's fight between Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott must stand. But he offered Walcott (right) the commission's congratulations on his "splendid performance." Listening are reporters.

Boxing Needs New Fighters And Old Time Referees For Good Of Game

New York, Dec. 11.—What boxing needs is some new fighters and old-time referees.

That two politically-appointed judges do not help a competent third man was again brought out forcibly when the votes of Marty Monroe and Frank Forbes, seated at the ringside, saved Joe Louis' championship after the erstwhile Brown Bomber had been floored twice and thoroughly around by the equally venerable Jersey Joe Walcott.

Announcer Harry Balogh practically had to use a derrick to get him, Lugged back in the enclosure, he undoubtedly was the most astonished of the more than 18,000 persons in the amphitheatre when the first two ballots announced sent the nod his way.

When Louis broke for the clubhouse, he certainly didn't think that he had finished an exhibition, which is how the match was billed in the first place.

He knew he was licked, and characteristically was honest about it.

In the old days, each boxing centre had its outstanding referee. New York had Eagle-Eye Charley White, Johnny White and Billy Roche, George Siler of Chicago was the daddy of 'em all.

Boston had Jack Sheehan, Maachy Hogan and Bill Phelon called 'em in Milwaukee, Billy Haack in Memphis, John Duffy in New Orleans, Eddie Graney and Jack Welch in San Francisco and Charley Eytan in Los Angeles.

These qualified men were as much a part of a fight as the principals. Men wouldn't wager until they knew who was going to referee, and when the decision was made it was accepted, with no howling. There was no talk of "fix." If fighters didn't fight, they were tossed out on their ears.

With politicians seeking to create jobs, it is no doubt impossible to restore the old straight referee system, but had it been in effect there would have been no jam at the Garden the other night.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS
Eddie Egan, Montreal, who scored three goals as Canadiens beat New York, 4-4.
Edgar Laprade, New York, who assisted in three New York markers.

Eddie Sandford, Boston rookie who tallied twice and assisted once as Chicago edged the Bruins 6-3.
Paul Ronty, Boston rookie who earned three assists against Chicago.

That is precisely what Louis was doing—conceding—when he bolted for the dressing room with the crack of the final gong. He was through the ropes when trainer Marnie Seamon got his hands on him.

JIMMY PLANCHE CLINCHES TILT FOR QUEBEC

Quebec, Dec. 11.—Held at bay for two and a half periods by the stellar-skipping of Al Gordon, Quebec Aces exploded with two quick goals last night to defeat New York Rovers 2-1 in a Quebec Senior Hockey League fixture before 4,500 fans.

The visitors held a 1-0 lead on a goal by Rick Michoski in the opening three minutes of play until Guy Labrie, who figured in Both Quebec goals, dented Gordon's armor at 14:08 of the third period. Labrie also assisted on Jimmy Planche's game clincher 28 seconds later.

Ernie Gilbey's Rink Cops Weekly Mixed Curling Event At Lennoxville

Ernie Gilbey, Lennoxville's blond-headed skipper, piloted his rink to a 5-2 win over R. Mosher's quartet to cop the weekly mixed event held at the Lennoxville Curling Club.

Gilbey's foursome won their way into the finals when they defeated R. Dunn's rink 8-1 in the opening match and then swamped Lee Watson's quartet 8-1 in the semi-finals to move into the finals against Mosher's squad. In the finals they eked out a 5-2 decision over R. Mosher's foursome to cop the main event of the evening.

In the consolation competition R. Dunn's rink took the honors when they downed Jack Herold's foursome to the tune of 7-2. In the semi-finals Dunn's quartet eked out a 6-4 win over Richardson's rink while Herold's squad downed Bob McMurray's crew by an identical score.

Black Hawks Edge Out Boston Bruins 6-5 For Upset In N.H.L. Fixtures

Old Santa Claus gave a special preview to the National Hockey League last night. It could only have old Santa who fixed it so that the tail-end Chicago Black Hawks beat Boston Bruins, and each of the other four clubs got a point apiece.

What happened was that Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs tied 2-2; Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers tied 4-4; and on their home ice Chicago just edged Boston by 6-5.

That leaves Toronto a fat five points in the lead over Boston and Detroit. Canadiens are three points back of the second-place duo, and still two points ahead of Rangers. And Chicago is well and truly in the cellar, six points behind Rangers.

At Detroit the Wings scored the first, by Sid Abel, and Harry Watson's shot tied it up, but Detroit were ahead again on Ted Lindsay's goal before the first period ended. Max Bentley scored the tying goal in the second period.

At New York the Canadiens scored three times to lead, with Elmer Lach sparking the team in the absence of Maurice (Rocket) Richard. But the old jinx was still working. Rangers, undefeated in four games against Montreal this season, tied it with 30 seconds left as Grant Warwick scored from a goal-mouth scramble.

Lach gave Canadiens a first period 1-0 lead. In the second, Frank Elrod tied it up, only to have N. Haven 2-1 3 6 93 102 25
N. Haven 25 9 13 3 79 90 21
Philadelphia 26 9 13 3 91 113 20
Springfield 26 8 17 1 84 120 17
Washington 25 7 16 2 72 105 16

At Chicago Doug Bentley and George Gee sent Hawks into a 2-0 lead. Taylor got one back and Bill Mosienko, just back on the ice after his long lay-off with a broken ankle, promptly made it 3-1. Big Ed Sandford cut the margin to 3-2 before the first period was over.

In the second period Nattrass scored for Chicago. Sandford once more for Boston, and Nick Kaleta for Chicago again. That left it 5-3 for Chicago going into the final period. It was just 33 seconds off when Roy Conacher scored Chicago's sixth, and then the Hawks were put through the wringer. Ronty and Ken Smith scored for Boston, making it 6-5 for the Hawks, but the Bruins couldn't get the tying goal.
