

RUSH ASSISTANCE TO STRICKEN COMMUNITIES Premier MacDonald Severely Criticized By Conservatives

Many Were Swept Away In Houses By Tidal Wave

Between Twenty-Six and Thirty-Six Men, Women and Children Perished When Huge Tidal Wave Swept Cliffs of Burin for Distance of Thirty Miles Following Earthquake—Fund Being Collected for People Whose Means of Livelihood Have Been Demolished.

(Canadian Press Despatch) ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 22.—The government steamer Meigs, carrying doctors, nurses and provisions, early today was nearing the devastated coast of Burin Peninsula, where twenty-six men, women and children were known to have perished when a tidal wave fifteen feet high swept the cliffs of Burin for a distance of thirty miles following Monday's earthquake, which until yesterday was believed to have caused little damage. The steamer Daisy rendered what assistance she could to the stricken communities and then left for St. John's to place the case before the government.

Point Aux Gauls and Port Au Bras were most severely hit, eight drowning at the former place and seven at the latter. The rest of the list was Taylor's Bay, four; Lord's Cove, four; Kelly's Cove, two; and Laxaline, one. In the immediate vicinity of Burin, most of the victims were women and children, swept away in their houses.

A fund is being collected here for the people whose means of livelihood have been demolished. Boats, fishing stands and other equipment necessary to the fishing industry crumbled before the disaster.

The French islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, near the Newfoundland, suffered little damage, according to reports.

MANY HOMELESS FAMILIES IN NEED OF ASSISTANCE

(Associated Press Despatch) ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 22.—Toll of the gigantic tidal wave which lashed an isolated section of the southeast coast of Burin Peninsula, following the earthquake last Monday, was variously estimated here today at twenty-six to thirty-six lives and property loss of great extent in small fishing villages.

With land communication severed for three days by a severe storm preceding the earthquake and tidal wave, first word of the destruction wrought was wireless yesterday from steamers which had put into the port of Burin.

A message flashed last night from the Burin telegraph station listed the names of twenty-six men, women and children as dead, the largest loss being eight at Port Aux Gauls and seven at Port Au Bras. The list continued with a statement by Premier MacDonald that he had established the material allegations of his plea in law and in fact, His Lordship dismissed the plaintiff's action.

Property Damage Heavy. The Premier reported the wall of water had killed eighteen at Lord's Cove and Laxaline, nine at Burin, mostly women and children, seven at Kelly's Cove and two at Stepaside. Property damage was reported great, with many families homeless and in need of aid.

A relief steamer left here last night for the stricken area with provisions, medical supplies, doctors and nurses. The Minister of Marine and Fisheries was in charge of relief operations.

The Burin Peninsula, fringed with high precipitous cliffs, sticks finger-like to the south from the mainland of Newfoundland, and is located only 350 miles from where scientists estimate the submarine disturbance centred in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The tidal wave, fifteen feet or more high, struck along the coast for a distance of thirty miles, it was reported.

PROFITS FROM BOY SCOUTS' JAMBOREE

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, Nov. 22.—The world Boy Scouts' jamboree at Birkenhead last summer resulted in a profit of $50,000, which, however, is insufficient to meet the losses on the two previous jamborees, in 1920 and 1924.

ARBITRATOR IN GRIFFITH CASE LOSES ACTION

Suit of Edward Kelly Against City of Sherbrooke for $365 as Payment for Services Dismissed in Judgment Given by Mr. Justice White This Morning.

In a judgment given this morning in the Superior Court by Mr. Justice White, the action of Edward Kelly, of this city, for $365 in payment of his services as arbitrator in connection with the purchase of the Griffith property by the city was dismissed with costs.

The plaintiff alleged that in the month of March, 1927, and for some time previously, the defendant had decided to expropriate a part of a certain property belonging to Mr. Wm. H. Griffith. That after many negotiations the defendant and the said Griffith agreed to submit the said expropriation to arbitration, the said arbitrator to determine the amount to be paid to Griffith. The two arbitrators could not agree, and therefore named the plaintiff as third arbitrator. That the plaintiff filled the obligations of a third arbitrator and claimed $365 in payment of his services.

The defendant pleaded that the resolutions adopted by the Council of the defendant, and any agreement which they signed are ultra vires, null and void, and cannot confer any right of action upon the plaintiff, and that the said resolutions have been annulled and declared ultra vires and void by the Superior Court.

In summing up the case, His Lordship considered that the resolutions passed by the Council of the defendant naming arbitrators, were ultra vires and null, and that the said resolutions have been annulled and declared ultra vires and void by the Superior Court.

Considering that these resolutions are null, the body of the ratepayers were not liable for the fees claimed by the plaintiff in the case, and as the defendant had established the material allegations of his plea in law and in fact, His Lordship dismissed the plaintiff's action.

First Heavy Snow Fall Reported In Pennsylvania, New York And New England—Several Accidents

Storm, Which in Some Cases Reached Blizzard Proportions, Brought With It A Sharp Drop in Temperature—Nineteen Inches of Snow Fell at Dunkirk, N. Y.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A white blanket covered much of New England, New York and Pennsylvania today as a result of the first general snow storm of the season in the east. The storm, which swept in from the Great Lakes yesterday, brought with it a sharp drop in temperature, and in some cases assumed blizzard proportions. The heaviest fall occurred along the south shore of Lake Erie, nineteen inches having fallen at Dunkirk, N. Y.

GIRLS DISAPPOINTED WHEN PRINCE SAT AND WATCHED AT DANCE ON BOARD SHIP

GLASGOW, Scotland, Nov. 22.—Ladies of this and surrounding bailiwicks were keenly disappointed last night at a dance aboard the Prince of Wales in dock here when the Prince of Wales sat and watched instead of dancing.

The Prince looked very tired after a busy day in Edinburgh. He sat with the Duchess of Montrose and, despite many anxious glances from the fair dancers, did not take the floor.

JUDGE STEELE DIES AT HOME IN BROOKLYN

Former Attorney-General of Louisiana Played Important Part in Reconstruction of South—Native of Stanstead.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Former Judge Hiram Roswell Steele, former attorney general of Louisiana and a former district attorney of King's county by appointment of Governor Theodore Roosevelt, died yesterday at his Brooklyn home. He was 87 years old. He was a native of Stanstead, Que.

Judge Steele, a civil war veteran, acquired a reputation in judicial and executive positions both in New York and in the south during the reconstruction period.

WELL KNOWN MEN OF THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS

MR. C. E. ROSS

The electrical firm of Ross-Keeler Electric Company, which was established here in 1924, and which today is one of the largest electrical houses in Eastern Canada, is under the presidency of Mr. Carl Eric Ross, who came to Sherbrooke from Bury, Quebec, twelve years ago.

When he first came to Sherbrooke Mr. Ross was employed as a chauffeur, but after six months entered the employ of an electrical company as an electrician, two years later being made foreman.

Three years later Mr. Ross decided to start an electrical firm of his own, which was known as the firm of Ross-Brulotte, of which he was manager. This firm operated for two years.

In 1924 a stock company was formed under the name of Ross-Keeler Electric Company, with Mr. Ross as president. Since the time of its organization the present company has enjoyed rapid growth, which last year necessitated the building of a large business block on Frontenac Street, occupied by the firm last March.

The firm of Ross-Keeler is engaged in electrical work of all kinds and carries a complete line of the latest and most modern electrical supplies. They are also local representatives for Kelvinator electric refrigerators; Atwater-Kent radios and the well-known Easy Washing Machines.

Mr. Ross was born on October 11th, 1897, at Bury, Quebec. He is a member of the Sherbrooke Board of Trade; Knights of Pythias; Sherbrooke Rotary Club and an adherent of the Anglican Church. His home address is 17 Frontenac Street.

Condition Of Georges Clemenceau Extremely Critical—Physicians Admit Outlook None Too Bright

Fatal Issue a Possibility at Any Time—Eighty-Eight Year-Old French War Premier Has Remained Conscious and Is Able to Recognize Those About Him.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—Friends of former Premier Clemenceau, eighty-eight year old French war Premier, this afternoon said that his condition was extremely critical and that a fatal issue was a possibility at any time.

Dr. Raika, noted heart expert, who has been called in to assist doctors De Gennes, Laubry and Gossel, made an examination and said: "M. Clemenceau's condition is grave, but I am hopeful there is no immediate danger."

No Attempt To Hide Anxiety. In official circles, as well as the immediate entourage of "the Tiger" there was no attempt to hide anxiety. All the immediate members of the former Premier's family were called to the bedside this morning and remained in the Clemenceau house in the Rue Franklin during the day. President Doumergue, Premier Tardieu and Foreign Minister Briand either called personally or sent representatives to inquire for the latest news.

Resumption Of Trade With Russia Results In Much Criticism

Commander Oliver Locker-Lampson, Conservative, Says Soviet Russia Is a Moral Outlaw and a Moral Leper—Hurled Bitter Criticism at Premier Ramsay MacDonald, Whom He Termed "a Very Vain and Very Weak Man and King of the Quacks."

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, Nov. 22.—A vitriolic attack on Prime Minister Right Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, on the resumption of diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Soviet Russia, was made by Commander Oliver Locker-Lampson, Conservative member of Parliament, at today's session of four thousand Conservative party delegates.

A resolution introduced by the Commander protesting against resumption of diplomatic relations with Russia was adopted by the conference with but one dissenting vote.

In introducing his resolution Commander Locker-Lampson, who has long been a persistent advocate of the expulsion of Soviet agents from Great Britain said: "Crooks, cads and Bolshevik bounders from Moscow would not enrich our stock. They have much degraded and debauched our standards. Soviet Russia is a moral outlaw. She is a moral leper and the cry 'unclean, unclean' ought to go up as long as she refuses to pay up."

The Commander declared that Premier MacDonald was a "very vain and very weak man and king of the quacks." He said that he was "fed up with MacDonald and his bleating about peace and parity with America, how dare MacDonald talk about peace when he is bringing war into England and the Empire. We already have Egypt and we will lose India if MacDonald has a free hand and now he has sold the past of the British citadel to those alien enemies in Moscow."

CONSERVATIVES REALIZE VALUE OF EMPIRE UNITY

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent) LONDON, Nov. 22.—The Conservative party has launched out on a bold policy of Imperial co-operation and Empire unity. A resolution upholding the imperial preference system, after being passed unanimously by the Conservative party's annual conference yesterday, was formally accepted by Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader, at a mass meeting in Albert Hall last night.

The resolution called for establishment of the Empire's economic affairs on the basis of imperial preference, as soon as the party returns to power, in consultation with the governments of the Dominions.

Declaring that Britain must look to the Empire for expanding markets, the former Prime Minister declared progress depended on Britain's capacity to envisage the Empire as one eternal and indivisible unity.

Mr. Baldwin thought Lord Beaverbrook was entitled to gratitude for bringing before the country the idea of a united Empire. "There," continued Mr. Baldwin, "lies our problem. It is the task of the generation to come to solve the question of employment of our people, and continuance of the beneficent existence of our Empire itself. To that task we must lay our hands and to that task must our policy be framed."

Cannot Dictate Policy To Empire. "We cannot dictate a policy to the Empire," the Conservative leader declared. "Much consultation will be necessary to help the employment of our people; to rationalize not only our own but imperial industry. The framing of such a policy is well effect these ends is the task of our leaders, to which they will forthwith devote themselves."

"I believe that close co-operation throughout our Empire is possible and that such co-operation will be of great benefit to all parts of the Empire. I believe that as we slowly recover from exhaustion of war the old spirit of adventure and sturdy reliance will again animate our people, and I believe the growth and well-being of our race is and will be the greatest influence making for peace and progress in this world."

All Favor Disarmament. This led to disarmament, on which Mr. Baldwin declared: "We are all in favor of disarmament, but disarmament on our part irrespective of what foreign nations may do, does not truly serve the cause of peace. We must be able to guarantee peace within our Empire. Our Empire, free from a spirit of aggression, able to keep peace within its boundaries, is the principal pillar of peace in the world. But if she is not able to guarantee peace within her borders she is a source of peril to the whole world, and our influence in the world is gone if we once betray the principle of peace with security."

Mr. Baldwin then sharply accused the Labor Government of broken promises.

The Government was imposing intolerable new burdens upon the industry just recovering from the slough of despond, Mr. Baldwin asserted. For a time the Government had found it roses all the way. But now it was learning the truth, "we unto you when all men speak well of you." The plan was wearing off, the Government's stock was declining. Business was falling off. "Is anything rising?" he concluded. "Yes, — unemployment."

THE WEATHER

MILDER, PROBABLY FOLLOWED BY LIGHT SNOW

Pressure continues high over the greater part of the United States, while a fairly deep low area, 29.48 inches at Qu'Appelle, has come in from the far northwest. Except for local snowfalls in the Georgian Bay region, the weather has been fair and cold from Ontario eastward. The temperature has risen in the Western Provinces, with light snow in many sections.

Forecast: Moderate to fresh westerly winds, fair and cold. Saturday: Strong winds, with somewhat higher temperature, probably followed by some light snow.

Northern New England: Generally fair and slightly colder tonight. Saturday: Cloudy, probably followed by snow. Gentle moderate shifting winds becoming east or east-south-east.

If Your Ears Ring With Head Noises

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting tired of hearing and fear Cerebral Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmitin (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, becoming easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Cerebral trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

INFLAMED NERVES

The term "Neuritis" means an inflammation of a nerve. The degree of pain felt varies with the amount of inflammation. The nerve trunk may be extremely tender so that the patient cannot bear pressure on it. Some patients describe the pain as boring, darting, burning and shooting. Since many nerves contain mixed fibres, of which the motor fibres move the muscles, the sensory fibres bring sensation, while others control nutrition and blood supply, one can readily see that when a nerve is affected any one or all of these functions may be described. For instance, some of the motor symptoms are loss of muscular power, and if the legs are involved the patient may find it difficult to walk and the knee reflex disappears, and the usual faradic or electrical reflex of the muscle is altered. The sensory symptoms are numbness and tingling and with a sense of ants crawling over the skin, which may be followed with severe pain to last through the whole course of the disease.

The pain is continuous and is made more severe upon the slightest movement. The skin may become extremely sensitive to the touch and become so tender that even the weight of blankets may seem too heavy. When nutritional nerves are involved the skin may wrinkle, become thin and be very shiny. Swelling under the skin may also occur.

It should be remembered that the usual cause of neuritis is a toxic or poisonous substance which has been circulating in the blood but becomes accumulated around the nerve, irritating it and causing it to become inflamed. The treatment should aim at removing this toxic cause and treatment should be taken as easily as possible to prevent nerve degeneration from prolonged inflammation.

The use of alcohol to excess, or the absorption of arsenic or lead, makes a decided predisposition to neuritis. Trembling is characteristic of alcohol, arsenical and lead poisoning in case of neuritis accompanied by the tingling and numbness.

It sometimes happens that the cause of neuritis will be found to be purely mechanical misplacement of the bones, usually in the spine. In these cases the symptoms often disappear after a few treatments from a skilled chiropractor, osteopath or naturopath.

The usual course of this disease is either an acute or sub-acute process which achieves its peak in a few weeks and is then stationary for a length of time, after which recovery slowly begins. The use of a fruit or orange juice fast greatly shortens the time of recovery after which one can by following the correct diet ward off future attacks in a very satisfactory way.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Please Sign Letters.

Question—Mrs. B. writes: "I wrote you some time ago asking a question to be answered by you in the paper, but as yet I have not seen a reply."

Answer—Only a few letters can be answered in the paper each day, so unless your question was of general interest there would not be space for me to answer it in the column. However, you can always be assured of a prompt answer if you will sign your name and address to your letter which will then be answered directly to the address you give. Among the many letters received because the names and address are omitted, and because there is no more room in the paper to publish the question and answer.

Question—J. F. D. asks: "Can a well balanced diet for keeping fit be had, excluding all animal food, including milk and eggs?"

Answer—A well balanced diet can be made up even with the milk and eggs excluded, providing enough protein is taken in the form of nuts, cereals and legumes. These proteins are usually much harder to digest than the animal protein.

Acidity and Rheumatism

Team mates travelling together—uric acid and rheumatism. Where there is rheumatism, there is likely uric acid biting the kidneys; uric acid inflaming the nerves; uric acid swelling hands and feet.

Where there is this excess of uric acid in the system, there is a very immediate need of Abbey's to neutralize this poison—and give relief.

For sparkling Abbey's takes the "bite" out of uric acid, and keeps the blood and nerve centers free of its irritating action.

For many years the use of salines such as Abbey's has been an important part of the treatment for rheumatism.

Because of its uniform quality, the care in its preparation and the intrinsic value of its formula, Abbey's is regularly prescribed in those cases where pain or sickness is due to an excess of uric acid in the system.

REPUTATION is a frail and fragile thing. It takes years to build, but it can be shattered and broken over night.

King Cole Tea has earned an enviable reputation. When we first marketed coffee we did not dare to name it King Cole, for if the coffee proved to be anything but the best, it would dim the precious reputation of King Cole Tea.

Now, however, after exhaustive tests under other names, we know we have a coffee as good as King Cole Tea. Ask for it by the name it has so proudly earned:

ADELA VERNE AGAIN HEARD LAST EVENING

Mrs. Alberta LeBaron Adams and Mr. Gaston Jutras Assisted Well-Known Pianist in Programme Which Was Thoroughly Enjoyed—Several of Miss Verne's Compositions Included in Programme.

The fine musical concert given in His Majesty's Theatre last evening by the noted pianist, Miss Adela Verne, who was ably assisted by Mrs. Alberta LeBaron Adams and Mr. Gaston Jutras, both well-known musicians of Sherbrooke, was thoroughly enjoyed. The audience, although not an especially large one, was very appreciative.

Miss Verne, who received part of her musical training under the renowned musician Paderewski, again delighted her listeners last evening, as she did when she visited Sherbrooke several weeks ago.

Her numbers last evening were well-selected and varied, giving her full scope in which to display her talent and ability. Her first number was "Prelude, Op. 28" and "Chopin's Prelude, Op. 28" (Mendelssohn) after which she pleased her audience with "Papillons, Op. 2 (Schumann)", "Chopin's Funeral March Sonata (Op. 35)" which was indeed one of the outstanding numbers of the evening. By request Miss Verne played "Reflets Dans l'Eau (Debussy)" and "Le Vent (Alkan)". Her musical box number by De Severac was also much enjoyed.

Mrs. Alberta LeBaron Adams, whose voice has pleased many a Sherbrooke audience, kindly rendered three solos. These numbers, all compositions by Miss Verne, were "Gipsy Leaves, Nature's Lullaby and Canada". The words for each number were arranged by Miss Alice Wilcox, also of Sherbrooke, also the words of "Out of the Dusk" which Miss Verne kindly rendered as an encore.

Mr. Jutras, who is regarded as one of the outstanding violinists of the Eastern Townships, very pleasingly rendered "Inspiration", another of Miss Verne's compositions, and as an encore played a very pretty lullaby. Miss Verne kindly acted as accompanist for Mrs. Adams and Mr. Jutras.

The programme was very delightful in every respect.

POLICE SEARCHING FOR ONTARIO MAN

A search is being conducted by the local police for a young man by the name of Kenneth Box, of Parkhill, Ont., who left Montreal for Sherbrooke on October 16th and has not been heard from since. Box was a barber by profession, but failing eyesight compelled him to give up his trade, and for the past year he has been travelling for a firm specializing in barber shop supplies.

He is described as being six feet tall and rather dark, with brown eyes. He wears glasses with light weight rims part of the time and stutters a little when excited or ill. He is twenty-nine years of age.

His mother, wife and two-year-old daughter reside in Parkhill.

CARRIER CASE OPENED HERE THIS MORNING

Police Lad Facing Serious Charge in Connection With Alleged Attack on Person of Girl—Verdict of Not Guilty Returned in Melbourne Case.

The trial of Oram Carrier, of Piopolis, who is facing a serious charge in connection with an alleged attempted attack upon the person of a young girl, was opened in the Criminal Court, presided over by Mr. Justice Archambault, this morning. The case is being heard behind closed doors.

The jury is composed of the following: Ernest Breton, Ferdinand Bouffard, Ulric Delude, Georges Bergeron, Elzear Gagne, Amede Trotter, Delphis Beaudoin, D. Boisvert, Arthur Berard, Damas B. Bastien, Alfred Vallee and Joseph Gagne.

Melbourne Man Freed of Serious Charge

Joseph Pratte, of Melbourne, was freed of a serious charge in the Criminal Court yesterday afternoon when the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" following fifteen minutes' deliberation.

The trial of Pratte, which lasted two days and a half, was held as the result of a charge laid against him in connection with the alleged assault upon the person of a young woman.

The case was heard in private.

JUDGMENTS ARE GIVEN OUT BY JUDGE WHITE

Several Important Judgments Given in Superior Court Here This Morning by Presiding Judge.

Several important judgments were given out by Mr. Justice C. D. White in the Superior Court this morning.

George St. Germain, of Iberville, was allowed $2,502.56 with interest and costs in an action for that amount arising out of a debt owed him by Samuel Rioux, of this city.

St. Germain claimed that the sum of $2,502.56 was owed him as the balance due on certain bills of exchange accepted by Rioux payable to the order of the Banque Canadienne Nationale, and transferred by the defendant to the plaintiff.

The defendant pleaded that on April 16, 1926, he made an assignment under the Bankruptcy Act for the benefit of his creditors, and that the debt was payable under the Bankruptcy Act.

His Lordship, in rendering judgment, stated that the plaintiff had a legal title to the bills of exchange sued upon in the case and could thus institute the action in his own name.

Sawyerville Case
Two actions for $5,000 each against Kert Chute, of Sawyerville, were dismissed by Mr. Justice White. The plaintiffs in the cases were Arthur and Vernon Nason, also of Sawyerville, who claimed that their respective wives had been the victims of an indecent assault by Chute while they were riding in his car, and as a recompense had entered suit for $5,000 each.

In rendering judgment, Mr. Justice White, considering that the two plaintiffs had failed to establish the allegations of their claims and dismissed the actions with costs.

Damages Awarded
Whether a person residing in Canada, hired in the United States, and working for a company in both Canada and the United States is eligible for payment under the compensation laws of Canada or the United States, was settled in a judgment given by Mr. Justice White.

TWO YOUNG MEN ARE SENTENCED BY JUDGE LEMAY

Georges Tremblay and Roland Moreau Each Given Two Months in Jail for Theft of Automobile Accessories

Georges Tremblay and Roland Moreau, of this city, were each sentenced to two months in jail by Judge J. H. Lemay in the Magistrate's Court this morning for having stolen automobile accessories from W. Jobin, King street west.

George Etienne Adam, of Disraeli, who was arrested on a bench warrant on his failure to appear before the Magistrate to answer to a charge of assault, came up this morning before Judge Lemay and his case was fixed for Friday next. No bail was granted.

Rosario Robert, of Scottstown, was found guilty of stealing goods valued at $50 from the Canadian Pacific Railway express office at Scottstown between July 26th and August 10th last. Sentence was reserved until Wednesday next.

Today when Georges Boisvert, of Rock Island, was awarded $1,521.78 as a recompense for injuries suffered by his minor son, Gerard Boisvert, while in the employ of the Holland Creamery Company.

The plaintiff alleged that his son, Gerard Boisvert, was injured while working for the defendant company, which cut down his working capacity twenty-five per cent. At the time he was earning $18 per week and was thus entitled to $1,521.78 under the Workmen's Compensation Act of the Province of Quebec.

The defendant company, however, claimed that the boy was engaged in the United States, and was therefore under the compensation laws of that state. It was claimed, moreover, that the Court had no jurisdiction in the case.

The Court decided, however, that the plaintiff was eligible for compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act of the Province of Quebec, and was therefore entitled to the sum of $1,521.78, less the amount he had been already been paid by virtue of the order of the Compensation of Industries of the State of Vermont.

Social and Personal

Miss Grace Channell is home from Boston, Mass., spending the week-end with her mother, Mrs. W. B. Channell, Portland Avenue. Mr. E. Wasson, of Boston, is a guest of Mrs. Channell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carvey and their sons, Masters Vernon and James Carvey, motored from the city, and were the guests of Mrs. Carvey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Coates, Gould Station, Que.

Miss Nell Elliott, of the National Council Y.W.C.A., will address the girls tonight at the MacKinnon Memorial Building on "The Work of the Y.W.C.A. in Hong Kong, China." The address will commence at eight o'clock. The executive of the Y.W.C.A. deeply appreciate the generosity of all who contributed refreshments, flowers, plants or assisted in any way to make the opening of the new building such a successful function.

Mrs. Martin entertained for the Fourth of July for the Mothers Auxiliary and their friends recently at her home on King street west. Cards were played at six tables, the prizes being won by Mrs. W. Duncan, Mrs. J. Nelson and Mrs. W. Walde. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Miss L. Hodge and Mr. E. Martin. The next meeting will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. S. Mansford, Fulton Avenue, on December 5th. The card party will be preceded by a business meeting at eight o'clock.

Mrs. A. M. Edwards, president of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church, presided at a meeting of the society yesterday afternoon in the church tea room. Final arrangements for the social entertainment and concert to be held on St. Andrew's night, November 30th. During the meeting Mrs. John Fraser was presented with a life membership in the W.M.S., by the society. At the tea hour the hostesses, Mrs. D. L. Laporte, served delicious refreshments to the members and their guests, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Wilson. Mrs. J. P. Watson presided at the table, which was centered with a basket of flowers.

A pleasant musical and social evening was enjoyed by the members of the B.Y.P.U. in the Baptist Church Hall on Tuesday, November 19th. The social convener introduced as the guests of the evening Mrs. George Parsons and Mr. Leonard Brodie. Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. E. A. Salter rendered "The Mountain Stream" (Beethoven), and "The Song and the Breeze" (Dunbar). Two songs, "The Angry Bard" and "Death and the Maiden" (Schubert) were rendered by Mrs. Salter. Mr. Leonard Brodie delighted the gathering with his interpretation of "Autumn" (Chaminade) and "Andante" (Gershwin) on the piano. Following the musical programme, which was very much enjoyed, a social time was spent, during which delicious refreshments were served.

A meeting of St. Paul's A.Y.P.A. was held at the church hall on Wednesday evening, November 20th, with nineteen members present. Following the reading and confirmation of the minutes of the last meeting, three new members were initiated by Rev. W. H. Cheverton. The following committees were then formed: Membership committee, Mr. E. J. Thorne and Miss Lillian Smith; publicity committee, Miss Pearl Loveland; refreshment committee, Miss Norma Hope, Mrs. B. J. Thorne and Mr. H. Smith; programme committee, Miss Lillian Smith, Mrs. T. Veat and Mr. H. Cuthbert, and missionary committee, Miss Edith Smith. There being no further business the meeting was closed with prayer. The social part of the evening was spent by each member answering the roll call by telling a joke on himself or herself. At the next meeting, on December 4th, each member is asked to be prepared to answer the roll call by giving the name of his or her favorite hymn and the name of the writer. The speaker for that evening will be the Rev. Canon H. R. Blizg. Refreshments were served concluding a very successful meeting.

The autumn thank offering meeting of the W.M.S. of Trinity United Church was held in Wesley Hall yesterday afternoon with a large attendance of members and friends. The president, Miss Van Vleet, presided, and the meeting opened in the usual manner with Mrs. G. E. Hyndman conducting the devotional exercises. The presentation of life memberships to Miss Mabel Hyndman, Miss Clara Hyndman and Mrs. Max Long, the gift of the late Mrs. Dowlin, was an important feature of the meeting. Mrs. George Hall gave a concise and interesting report of the sectional meeting held last month. The speaker of the afternoon was then introduced by the president, and Mrs. Johnson, of Ayer's Cliff, president of the Sherbrooke Quebec Presbyterian, in beginning her address said that it was a thank offering meeting she would take as her subject "Our Thank Offering, Prayer, Praise and Service." The address was most interesting and inspiring, and was deeply appreciated by the members and their friends. Afternoon tea was served with Mrs. A. G. Campbell and Mrs. Morehouse presiding at the tea table. The convener of the tea was Mrs. Parsons and the hostesses Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. E. G. Pierce and Miss Bostwick, who were assisted by Mrs. Bentley, who made the tea. During the tea hour Miss Gladys Lennon sang the solo, "Oh, Master, Let Me Walk With Thee," accompanied by Miss Muriel McHarg, who afterwards played a piano solo. Both numbers were much enjoyed by the guests.

Mrs. Harry L. Allen, who has been a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital for some time, has returned to her home on Montreal street greatly improved in health.

St. Peter's A.Y.P.A. held a special session in the church hall last evening to meet Mr. Harry E. Mole, general secretary of the Dominion A.Y.P.A. Members of St. George's A.Y.P.A. of Lennoxville and St. Paul's A.Y.P.A. of Sherbrooke were guests at the meeting. Mr. Mole gave a most interesting talk on co-operation of members and branches of the A.Y.P.A. Refreshments were served, after which dancing was enjoyed.

A successful sale of home cooked food and fancy work was held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the 53rd Chapter, I.O.D.E., at the home of the regent, Mrs. T. Longhead. The many guests were received by the regent. The home cooked food was in charge of Mrs. M. Jarvis and Mrs. F. W. Odell, while the table of pretty and useful articles was in charge of Mrs. W. Joiner and Mrs. F. Shepherd. At the tea hour, Mrs. B. Grime and Mrs. W. Dobb assisted the hostess in serving refreshments. The receipts were very gratifying.

A most enjoyable event took place last evening in the Church of the Advent Hall, when the members of the Anglican Men's Club of St. Stephen's Church, Coat-Cook, were entertained by the Men's Club of the Church of the Advent. A splendid programme had been arranged and was greatly enjoyed by the members of both clubs, who had turned out en masse for the occasion. The programme, which was opened with short addresses by the Rev. Mr. Humphrey and the president, Mr. Albert Perry, included the following numbers: piano solo by Mr. Matthews; recitation, by Col. Worthington; vocal solo, by Mr. Shand; accordion solo by Mr. Stewart and Peak; vocal solo by Mr. Wright; vocal quartet by the Bishop's College quartet; magical act by Mr. Albert Perry and club singing by Mr. Wm. Peak.

Following the programme Mr. Moyle, president of the Coat-Cook Men's Club, spoke a few words expressing his appreciation of the club for the splendid entertainment they had all enjoyed. Mr. Mead, of Coat-Cook, followed with an inspiring talk on Men's Club work. The remainder of the evening was spent in social talk and the serving of refreshments. After singing "Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem the meeting broke up, Coat-Cook members returning by motor. The evening was voted one of the most successful and enjoyable of the season, and all members hope that joint meetings may become a regular feature of Men's Club work this winter.

The fall thank-offering meeting of the W.M.S. of Plymouth United Church took place yesterday afternoon in the church hall with the president, Mrs. Abbott, presiding. Mrs. W. G. Cross gave a most interesting talk on "Who Is My Neighbor?" A business meeting followed, during which Miss Agnes Edwards presented a life membership to Miss Ranshouan. Miss Edwards also volunteered to organize and superintend a "baby branch," and her offer was gratefully accepted. The Rev. G. Ellery Read, who was present at the meeting, spoke on home missions and used two gramophone records which he brought with him and which, when used, explained many things in connection with the subject of home mission work in the church. The thank-offering was then received, the dedicatory prayer being given by Mrs. G. Ellery Read. Mrs. Abbott appointed a nominating committee for the officers for the coming year, the following ladies being named: Miss Jennie Mitchell, Mrs. J. P. Reid and Mrs. W. G. Cross. Miss Nell Elliott, of the Y.W.C.A. National Council, Ottawa, gave a splendid talk on her work in China; and her vivid descriptions, which were accompanied by snap shots of the work done in the children's clinic at Hong Kong, were most enjoyable. Mrs. J. K. Edwards, who kindly sang two songs, "Just Count the Stars" and "Coming Home," was heard with much pleasure. She was accompanied by Mrs. W. G. Cross. The hostesses were Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Jameson. Tea was poured by Miss Margaret Mitchell and Mrs. Abbott, and the lovely table decorations consisted of yellow "mums." The December meeting will be held on December 12th.

BARNSTON MAN IS GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Alphonse Morin Pleaded Guilty to Charge in Criminal Court This Morning—Case Resulted from Fatal Accident Here on August 13 Last.

Alphonse Morin, of Barnston, pleaded guilty this morning in the Criminal Court to a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Georges Arguin, youthful motor man of the Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company, who was fatally injured when struck by a car driven by Morin in this city on August 13th last. Sentence was reserved until the end of the term by Mr. Justice Archambault.

The fatal accident occurred on Wellington Street, early in the afternoon of August 13th. Arguin, who was a motor man, had just descended from his car, and was walking across to the sidewalk when struck by a car driven by Morin. He died the next morning in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital.

As the result of the inquest, which was held on August 15th, Morin was arrested on the coroner's warrant for manslaughter. At the preliminary inquiry, held in the Magistrate's Court on September 14th, Morin was ordered to stand his trial before the Court of King's Bench. The evidence showed that Morin had not slackened the speed of his car before striking Arguin, and that he was under the influence of liquor and not capable of handling a motor car efficiently at the time of the accident.

He expects to be able to leave the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital shortly.

Y.M.C.A. FRENCH CLASS

ATTENDED FORMAL OPENING OF MACKINNON MEMORIAL BUILDING

In the report on the opening and dedication of the Mackinnon Memorial Building, which took place on Wednesday afternoon, the names of Mrs. B. Munderloh, of Westmont, a member of the National Council of the Y.W.C.A., and Miss Anglin, were omitted.

Mrs. Munderloh, who was present at the opening of the memorial, has taken a kindly interest in many local organizations and movements and has rendered valuable financial assistance to the Y.W.C.A. Miss Anglin, the physical director, was in charge of the classes which gave most interesting demonstrations on the gymnasium floor.

MR. R. M. SIMMONS ADDRESSED Y'S MEN'S CLUB

"The Sexual Instinct and Its Meaning for Life," was the subject chosen by Mr. R. M. Simmons, of the local Baptist Church and a member of the Y's Men's Club, when he addressed members of the Y's Men's Club at the Y.M.C.A. last evening. Quoting from the "Man With a Duster," the speaker dealt with the conflict for life in every phase of the vegetable and animal kingdoms, emphasized more in the life of Man, where every defeat left its mark, but also where every triumph meant an increase in stature. The address presented with whole-hearted enthusiasm, gripped all present as it brought life's fuller meaning so openly before the members of the club. At the conclusion President H. Griffith thanked Mr. Simmons and expressed the hope that at an early date he would again address the club.

After the address the regular business session was carried through. A report given on the Lowell Thomas lecture revealed a loss to the club of approximately $70, but some members have not yet reported on the sale of tickets. The novelty dance, to be put on by the members, was then discussed and every member in the club was put on an active committee, and the prospects are that this will be one of the most successful of the many events the club has sponsored. Reference was also made to the McGill Extension Lectures, the first of which is to be given tonight in Cambridge Assembly Hall at 8:15 o'clock when Dr. Howard Brent will lecture on "The Drama, the Child of the Church."

FIRE AT NEW CARLISLE CAUSED $20,000 DAMAGE

C. N. R. Offices, Caldwell Hotel, Plant of Chaleur Bay Power Company and Private House Destroyed.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
NEW CARLISLE, Que., Nov. 22.—The C. N. R. offices, the Caldwell Hotel, the plant of the Chaleur Bay Power Company, and a private house were entirely destroyed yesterday by a disastrous blaze which originated in a shed and spread quickly and strongly enough to endanger the whole neighborhood. The firemen's efforts were powerless in controlling the fire. The damages, estimated at $20,000 are partly covered by insurance.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. ODELL LAST EVENING

Stricken With Heart Attack at William Street Armory—Was Well Known and Popular Employee of Ingersoll-Rand Company.

A well known and popular life-long resident of Sherbrooke passed away very suddenly last evening in the person of Mr. A. J. D. Odell, who was stricken with a heart attack while at the William Street Armory.

Mr. Odell had engaged in one or two sets of badminton during the evening, and was apparently preparing to take part in another game when he suddenly fell to the floor. A number of players, including Dr. H. D. Bayne, rushed to his assistance, but he passed away a few minutes later.

The late Mr. Odell, who was in his forty-ninth year, had been employed for a long time as cashier in the Canadian Ingersoll-Rand plant here. In 1910 he married Miss Alice May Boyd, of Montreal, by whom he is survived, with one son, Douglas Boyd. One sister, Mrs. E. J. Taylor, of Montreal, and three aunts, Miss Sarah Odell, of Sherbrooke, Miss Theo Odell, of Nelson, B.C., also survive him.

Mr. Odell has always taken a great interest in civic affairs, being a regular attendant at council meetings when any controversial subject was under discussion. He was a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters, Sherbrooke Lodge No. 13, Knights of Pythias, the Sherbrooke Regiment Badminton Club and the Sherbrooke Country Club. The funeral will take place from his late residence, Prospect street, on Sunday afternoon. Prayers will be said at the house at 2:30 p.m. with service at St. Peter's Church at three o'clock.

WINNIPEG FIRE CLAIMED THREE LIVES TODAY

Efforts to Reach Victims Proved Fruitless—Five Other Persons Were Saved.

(Associated Press Despatch)
WINNIPEG, MAN., Nov. 22.—Fire that razed the home of John Johnson, Atlantic Avenue, early today took the lives of three members of his family. Five other persons were saved. The dead are Mrs. Florence Johnson, sixty; Winnie Johnson, twenty-four, her daughter; and Roy Johnson, sixteen, a son.

Efforts to reach the three victims proved fruitless. Their bodies were found on the ground floor of the house, having fallen from bedrooms on the second storey when the floor fell through.

MEETING HELD BY EXECUTIVE OF WALES HOME

Request Made by Bell Telephone Company for Line Through Property of Wales Home Given Careful Study, But No Decision Made—Grounds Visited and New Equipment Examined.

RICHMOND, Nov. 22.—Yesterday the executive committee of the Wales Home, under the chairmanship of the president, met representatives of the Bell Telephone Company and discussed in full the proposition recently made by the telephone company relative to the placing of telephone poles through a section of the property owned by the Home. This request on the part of the telephone company is the result of improvements now being made to their long distance service between Montreal and Sherbrooke. The company's officers are seeking permission to place a line across the portion of the Wales Home lying between the Canadian National Railway tracks and the St. Francis River.

It was decided, owing to the land damage and sight of poles and wire, to ask the company's engineers to again survey the proposed route and, if possible, to arrange to build a line across the property further east, where the land has less value and where the poles would be a greater distance from the Home. This the Company's representatives agreed to take up with the officials and report later.

The special committee appointed some time ago to deal with Mr. Gordon Wintle's application for use of electric current over the transmission line from Richmond to the Home reported that satisfactory agreement had been made.

The Executive Committee visited the dairy barn and inspected a new milking machine recently installed, which is giving entire satisfaction. Another item of interest is the building of a chimney for the purpose of establishing a hot water system for use in connection with the care of dairy utensils, which also was fully approved. The farm foreman reported that during the month of October the Home herd of twenty-five cows produced milk to the value of over seven hundred dollars. Those attending the meeting yesterday included Messrs. John McMorine, president; M. G. Crombie, W. J. Ewing, E. W. McIver, H. E. Belcher, M. T. J. McKee, Col. Wm. Stevens, Dr. C. E. Manning, of Richmond; D. J. Salls and E. G. Pierce, Sherbrooke.

CANADA'S NATIONAL FISH WEEK

Today inaugurates the opening of Canada's National Fish Week, which is to be observed until November 29th. This is a movement which merits serious consideration and hearty support. It should serve to emphasize to the people of Canada the exceptional food value of fish and the present importance of the Canadian fisheries.

Up to the present time the per capita consumption of fish in Canada has not been large, much less, for instance, than the consumption in Great Britain, points out the Hon. P. J. A. Carlin, Federal Minister of Marine and Fisheries. Continuing the Minister says, "Different factors have contributed to this condition. Today, with improved methods of processing and distribution bringing virtually all of the many varieties of Canadian fish within the reach of the people all over the country, and with scientists and health authorities bearing increasing testimony to the high value of fish foods, there should be a steadily larger consumption of fish in all parts of the Dominion."

Every right-minded Canadian should support the National Fish Week movement and do his share, however small, to encourage a greater consumption of fish in Canada.

THERE IS NOTHING THE MATTER WITH CANADA

There is absolutely no valid reason to be pessimistic regarding business conditions in Canada. True, Canadians have shared in the recent speculative losses on Wall Street, but these unfortunate setbacks have by no means shaken the foundation of the Dominion's wealth, and the resources and earning power of the nation exist as before. In fact, the healthy condition of this country's basic trade barometers precludes the possibility of any general depression.

Supporting this view, a well known American economist expresses the opinion that the fundamental effect of the break on the New York Exchange on trade in the Dominion will be minimized by the fact that of late years Canada has been standing on her own feet. How substantial these are have been clearly demonstrated in statistics made public for some time past, and among the numerous assets on the favorable side of the Canadian ledger are the following:

(1) Employment is at a level six per cent. above the same period of last year; (2) the dollar volume of trade shows an increase of fourteen per cent. over the corresponding month of 1928; (3) probably the best retail Christmas trade in Canadian history is in prospect with high purchasing power generally available; and (4) contracts awarded in October were twenty-eight per cent. ahead of last year, as well as twenty-one per cent. ahead of the preceding month; (5) United States investments in Canada have increased from $2,400,000,000 to $3,386,000,000 in six years.

And, in addition, the Canadian banks are today backing their assertion as to the soundness of fundamental conditions throughout the country with assets aggregating nearly $3,500,000,000 and one of the most generous offers ever made to borrowers on fluctuating securities. "The significance of the banks' gesture will be lost if it fails to impress upon the public the fact that the quotation board does not necessarily picture the underlying values," remarks the Toronto Globe. "Bank managers do not loan money on market quotations. They want to know all about assets and liabilities, marketing methods and markets, sales and collections, the dependability of accounts, the reliability of the borrower, and many other points which the average market dealer neglects to consider when buying into a company. When a firm asks for accommodation, it is not what its securities are selling at that matters, but what is behind them. The banks, therefore, are in a position to know fairly accurately what conditions in the country are and what are the general prospects. If they are willing to back their judgment in this substantial way, it should be accepted by the people at its face value. Bankers are notably conservative. They cannot risk their depositors' money. Their implied declaration that Canadian securities in general are sound investments at present prices should assure the holders of the folly of throwing them on the market because the mood to do so seems to have gripped so many."

RE-EXAMINING OUR POLITICS

(By Glenn Frank)

As a schoolman, I wish our political scientists were a bit more active in making a fundamental re-examination of our politics.

A vast amount of careful study is being put into this and that phase of government, but we need a consciously organized study and re-evaluation of our politics as a single enterprise into which the best brains of our time would be drafted.

We should put our old liberalism under the microscope, frankly admitting the falsity of some of its articles of faith if we find that facts and experience have disproved them.

We should set aside our uncritical worship of all that the fathers did when they founded our government, asking ourselves rather what forms and functions of government the fathers would outline today if they were building a new government for this complicated and technical society instead of the simple and pastoral society in which they lived.

We should face the challenge of distance, for it is one thing to devise a government for a small territory and a quite different thing to devise a government for a vast territory.

We should face the challenge of technology, for it's one thing to devise a government for an agricultural nation and a quite different thing to devise a government for an industrial nation.

We should face the challenge for democracy, for it is one thing to devise a government in the light of democratic theory before it has been put to the test of actual operation and a quite different thing to devise a government in the light of democratic experience of more than a century.

We should face the challenge of party, for it is one thing to devise a government in the light of a theory that political grouping shall be the servant of government and the public will and quite another thing to devise a government in the light of a long experience in which the party system has clearly become the tyrant and ruler of government and the public will.

We should lay the foundation of a new liberalism, stripped of the sentimentalities that have not stood under the test of year to year experience.

Here is the big task ahead in political science.—Cpt. 1929.

PRESS COMMENT

NEARLY A BOOK A DAY.

(Christian Science Monitor)

A fourteen-year-old girl in Iowa has established a new sort of record. In one year she read three hundred and twelve books, and is still going steadily forward when this entry in the news dairy is made. Probably in another year, given such a flying start, the young lady may be able to encompass fully four hundred volumes, and thus outdistance all literary competitors.

The earnest application of the youthful reader is to be commended, for books today do not seem to hold the same engrossing interest for boys and girls that they once did.

The motion-picture entertainment, the roving automobile, all the "thrilling" invitations of modern life, have appreciably cut down the number of leisure hours unreservedly given to perusal of the printed page, so that a quiet evening at home with a book is rapidly becoming somewhat of a novel experience, in more senses than one.

But too much is more than enough. To regard a book as a race to be run swiftly, so that another volume may be undertaken after a brief respite, is to make reading a series of endurance tests, rather than a spirited adventure among the heights.

It is to be doubted whether any large residue of pleasure or profit remains with the reader if the hours are so completely occupied with the task of skimming through books that little time remains for contemplation, or for the more urgent employments of everyday life.

To enjoy a book thoroughly requires that one sample its contents as he samples an apple, one bite at a time, with sufficient margin to appreciate fully its flavor and taste.

THE HELPFUL COW.

(Vancouver Province)

Next to man himself the cow has done most to develop Canada. She is the first aid of the settler in his tiny clearing, for this great civilization is the companion of the rich and the poor. Through life she goes, doing only one thing—serving the community. And when her days are numbered as a giver of milk, her flesh added to the world's food supply, even her horns, her hoofs and bones, continue in the work of service, and she yields her very hide to shield the feet of man from the rough places.

THE PASSING OF PARTY HACKS.

(Regina Leader)

In Canada there has been a conspicuous change in the attitude of newspapers in the political realm. Newspapers in this country that can still be regarded as "party hacks" are very rare; the great majority of Canadian newspapers no longer give unyielding devotion to party, but more and more consider political questions solely on their merits, commending or condemning as they feel the public interest warrants. The political parties themselves cannot but benefit from this departure.

To The Editor,

Daily Record.

Sir: In reference to your correspondent's item in Sutton news of November 16th, which stated that our post office has been in three different buildings in two years. This sounds bad for Sutton, the government and the retiring postmasters, and as a citizen, I think it would be well to give an explanation to those not familiar with the case. First, Mr.

F. A. Olmstead retired after about sixteen years of service and Mr. R. G. Crowell was appointed acting postmaster, until such time as the law could take its course and the Civil Service Commission gave it to Mr. Hill, he being a returned man, and when he supplied a place suitable to the satisfaction of Inspector J. R. Crocheteire, it was moved again.

I thank you Mr. Editor, A CITIZEN.
Sutton, Que., Nov. 18th, 1929.

MELBOURNE

The many friends of Mrs. F. Campbell will be glad to hear that she is slowly improving after her recent illness. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are at present living in Richmond with their daughter, Mrs. Herriot.

Miss Agnes Haney, of Sherbrooke, formerly of Richmond and Melbourne, is nurse-in-training at the Children's Memorial Hospital, in Montreal.

FREE TRADE IS IMPRACTICABLE WITHIN EMPIRE

Hon. Frank Carrel, Member of Quebec Legislative Council, Not in Accord With Proposal of Lord Beaverbrook—Commercial Education Necessary.

QUEBEC, Nov. 22.—"Free trade within the Empire is impracticable and it would never be accepted by the people of the Dominion," said Hon. Frank Carrel, member of the Legislative Council of Quebec, here yesterday commenting on the reception of Lord Beaverbrook's plan in the House of Lords in London.

"There was only one way natural and practical to increase trade within the Empire," Mr. Carrel said, and that was by Commercial education. "Greater co-operation was what was required, and this must be accomplished through a meeting of Empire business men at a central point within the Commonwealth—say London—as a preliminary to setting up an Empire commercial university on the lines of the League of Nations."

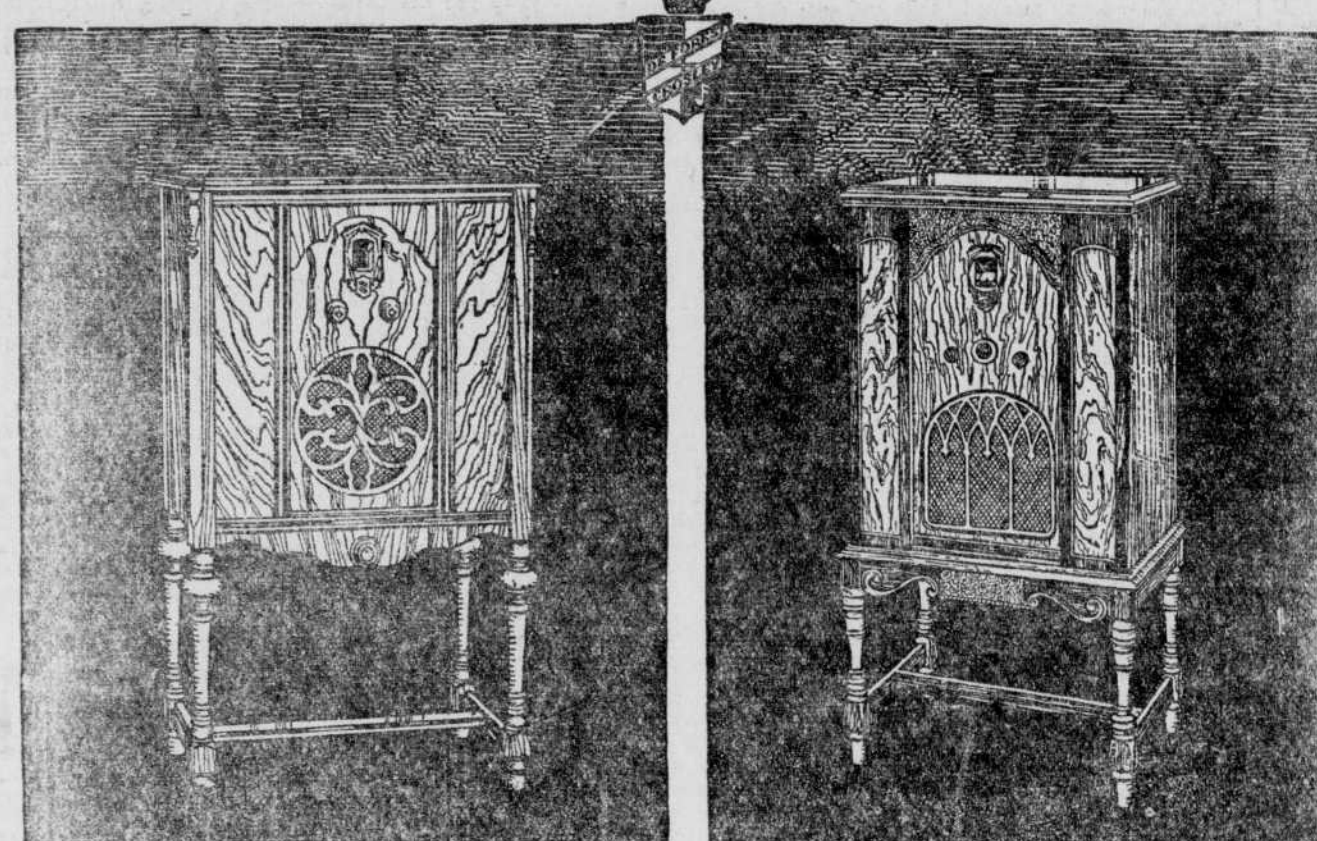

"The reception of Lord Beaverbrook's plan," Mr. Carrel declared, "was only to be expected, nor is it surprising that the Labor and Liberal parties opposed it. As stated by Lord Arnold, free trade within the Empire is impracticable from every point of view." Moreover, Mr. Carrel added it would never be accepted by the people of the Dominion.

The first step towards increased trade, Mr. Carrel thought, was through commercial education.

"During my stay in London last spring," he stated, "I advocated such a plan but at that time numerous political and commercial barriers militated against it. 'I believe,' Mr. Carrel concluded, "That an economic conference as proposed by Sir Robert Macdonald and many other prominent business men, is the only medium through which the necessary co-operation can be brought about to bring our Empire manufacturing and industries up to the most up to date point of efficiency and production. Greater co-operation between the manufacturer and the consumer, and more modern methods of good salesmanship and advertising of Empire goods is what is required."

DEAD SEA PROVING TO BE MINERAL TREASURE TROVE

Valuable Mineral and Petroleum Deposits Discovered by Concessioners — Plan Production in 1930.

JERUSALEM, Nov. 22. — The Dead Sea area is proving a treasure trove of valuable mineral deposits for the Anglo-Palestine Syndicate that secured the concession for the salt deposits. Preliminary experiments have almost been completed and an expansion is now being planned. Production for the eastern market is to begin in 1930.

The experiments now being made in the laboratorial at the Dead Sea aim at accelerating the process of evaporation. The heat of the sun alone is responsible for seventy-five per cent. of the actual production at present. The Palestine Mining Syn-dicates, the research department of the concessioners, has also extended its operations to the minerals that lie in the land about the sea. Petroleum deposits have been discovered but their value and extent have not been determined. Boring operations are very costly, each trial bore costing twenty or twenty-five thousand pounds sterling. The potash deposits along the shore are also being investigated to determine their value. It is the intention of the mining syndicate to set up separate companies for the exploitation of each of the various minerals.

SASKATOON, Sask., Nov. 22. — Fireman Tom Fanning, of number one brigade, was injured and damaged estimated at $150,000 was done to the store of the Empire Meat Company here in a spectacular and stubborn blaze which gutted the meat factory and plant, and refrigerator plant at the rear of the premises.

If you are a wife or mother think this over

The scene is a thriving Canadian City. Time: Spring of 1919. Jimmie Robb and Johnnie Nebb, chums and playmates for years, both now in their teens. The "Flu" epidemic of 1918 had left them, like hundreds of other children, without a father's care and support.

Johnnie—"Gee! Jimmie, we have to move over to Smith St., near the railroad track."

Jimmie—"Why?"

Johnnie—"I heard Mother telling Mr. Scott, who comes for the rent, that not long before Dad died, he came home one evening and said Mr. Wright of the Confederation Life Association had been discussing more Life Insurance Protection, and he thought he would arrange for some more. Mother said to Mr. Scott, 'Oh! how I wish I had encouraged my husband to buy it instead of telling him that we could not afford it. I simply have to move now to a cheaper place.'"

Jimmie—"I heard Mother say the other day she was so thankful she had agreed with Dad's idea of taking more Life Insurance. She said Dad mentioned, when he was sick, how pleased he was that he had increased his Life Insurance."

If Daddy is taken in your home, what could your little ones say?

C.N.R. BUDGET OF $20,000,000 IS APPROVED

Programme for 1930 Rolling Stock Expenditures Announced — Branch Line Construction to Continue.

MONTREAL, Nov. 22. — Confidence in the essential soundness of business conditions in Canada is expressed in the policy adopted by the Canadian National Railways, of going forward for next year with the purchase of equipment for Canadian lines to an extent only very slightly under the purchases and construction carried out during the year 1929. The 1930 programme will in addition include a continuation of a substantial scale of branch line construction in Western Canada.

Sir Henry Thornton and the Board of directors of the Canadian National Railways this week approved the budget of the railway for 1930. This had been under careful consideration for some time, and the Canadian National Railways will proceed with its important capital expenditures during the next twelve months in a manner expressive of complete confidence in the future of the country and its business fabric. For the last few years the work of re-equipping of the Canadian National Railways has been proceeding steadily, and this will continue throughout 1930. It was indicated in official circles that $20,000,000 will be expended during the next twelve months on new equipment for Canadian lines, an amount that is only slightly under the actual purchases and construction made during the year 1929, this taking care of passenger and freight car equipment and locomotives.

The branch line programme authorized by Parliament in 1929 will be proceeded with, and in connection with this, too, some $10,000,000 will be spent.

Work will be commenced on the Montreal Terminal plan and this will be continued not only through 1930, but for a period of probably five years, until that great undertaking is completed. Other work at Montreal will include new construction at Point St. Charles shops, and at Montreal Stockyards.

CALL MEETING TO MAKE PLANS FOR EXHIBITS

Railway, Steamship and Manufacturing Heads Asked to Attend Meeting in Connection With Canada's Participation in British Empire Trade Exhibition in Buenos Aires Next Year.

OTTAWA, Nov. 22. — To further plans for Canada's participation in the important British Empire Trade Exhibition to be held in Buenos Aires in the early part of 1931, F. C. T. O'Hara, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, has called a meeting for November 29. Representatives of the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways, the Canadian National Steamships Company, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and other bodies, are asked to meet and discuss the matter with J. O. Turcotte, exhibition commissioner, who is coming from London, England, for the meeting, and E. L. McCall, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Buenos Aires, who is now in the Dominion. Many questions regarding freight rates and the assembling and shipment of exhibits will be dealt with, and Mr. O'Hara states that already the Department has received assurances of hearty co-operation from manufacturers and exporters throughout the country to make Canada's part in the exhibition productive.

Britain's recent negotiation of a trade treaty with Argentina, and Canada's subsidized steamship service to the Plate River, are other indications of the British endeavor to take every possible advantage of the enlarging commercial opportunities in South America, where already there is a most favorable public sentiment. A strong movement originated by the powerful rural society composed largely of the wealthy ranchers and farmers of Argentina, to encourage the buying of goods from those who buy from the Argentine Republic, is also a big factor in favor of Canadian and British business.

Plans are now being prepared by Mr. Turcotte for a Canadian building at the Buenos Aires exhibition, and a considerable sum will be provided by the Dominion Government for this purpose. Following the meeting to be held here on November 29, a circular will be sent to Canadian manufacturers and exporters informing them of the shipping facilities to be available, also the exhibit space to be placed at their disposal.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Drew and daughter, Olive, of Coaticook, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Pope. Mrs. Susie Drew was also calling at the same home.

PRESIDENT OF BANK OUTLINED BULLETIN PLAN

Gordon S. Rentschler Related How National City Bank of New York, One of Most Powerful Financial Organizations in Existence, Loosed Its Purse Strings to Advocate Lesser Duties on Sugar During Tariff Dispute.

(Associated Press Despatch)
WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 22. — How the National City Bank of New York, one of the most powerful financial institutions of the world, loosed its purse strings to advocate lesser duties on sugar during the tariff dispute was related yesterday to the Senate Lobby Committee.

Appearing as a witness before the committee, Gordon S. Rentschler, president of the bank, testified that its monthly bulletin, which cost $200,000 a year, was used to disseminate material on the subject, and that a direct contribution of $10,000 had been made to a fund for use in presenting to Congress information advocating a low tariff on the product.

Mr. Rentschler was not asked and he did not volunteer to estimate the proportion of the $200,000 annual expenditure for the bulletin which might be charged to the item of sugar duties.

The bulletin, he said, was issued for the discussion of general business conditions and he expressed the opinion that his company had no right to give its views on any economic problem.

FATHER POWER WAS PUPIL AT QUEBEC CITY

Priest at Whose Grave Miraculous Cures Are Said to Have Been Made Was at Seminary from 1861 to 1864.

QUEBEC, Nov. 22. — Father Patrick Power, to whose grave in Malden, Mass., thousands of persons flocked after having heard of miraculous cures being effected there, was born in Cork, Ireland, according to Quebec Seminary officials, who last night issued the class record of Father Power, who attended the Seminary from 1861 to 1864.

Seminary officials stated that he came from Boston, and was sponsored by a Rev. Fitton, believed to have later been a curate at Lynn, Mass., who paid three-quarters of the board at the institution, the Seminary paying the rest. The then young Patrick paid especial attention to French and Latin. A report dated February 1892, notes the following in connection with Patrick Power: Absent, none; behaviour in class, excellent; work, excellent; memory, accurate and well cultivated.

He received no grade or diploma from the Seminary owing to the fact that he was absent during one of the important initial examinations during his final year. Seminary authorities, however, stated that this was not unusual at the time, as grades and diplomas in those days were not as highly thought of as they are nowadays. Patrick Power returned to Boston when he left the Seminary in 1864.

MASS FARMING FORESEEN BY SCHOOL HEAD

W. J. Bell, Principal of Kemptville Agricultural School, Predicts Disappearance of Family Units—United Farmers' Secretary Does Not Agree.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Nov. 22. — W. J. Bell, principal of the Kemptville Agricultural School, foresees the disappearance of the old family units and the substitution thereof of amalgamations similar to those taking place in other branches of business.

"These amalgamations," Mr. Bell said, "have been effected for purpose of reducing overhead, and that is what is killing a lot of farmers nowadays."

The speaker said he would not wish to see the family unit taken out of agriculture, but business was a severe taskmaster, and if the farmers could not handle their business with success some development akin to the amalgamation in other branches of business was bound to come.

SECRETARY NOT IN ACCORD
TORONTO, Nov. 22. — J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario, does not agree with Principal W. J. Bell, of the Kemptville Agricultural School, that mass farming is either practicable or desirable.

"If mass farming operations were conducted on a large scale it would lead to a peasantry. It would develop an army of agricultural workers with no interest in the land, which would be a deplorable and loathsome kind of life, and would not develop the mentality of the workers. It is quite different working in isolation as compared with working in mass formation in the cities where the workmen are mixing all the time," Mr. Morrison said.

DON'T STEAL THAT KIND
"Why are you in prison, my good man?"
"For driving a car too slowly."
"You mean too fast."
"Naw. Too slow. The owner caught up to me."

THE NEW SUPER-AUTOMATIC KELVINATOR

With Ice-O-Thermic Tubes . . . Introducing Amazing New Advantages in Balanced Electric Refrigeration

On display today

KELVINATOR, never deviating from its path of making electric refrigeration even more trouble-free, more convenient and more economical, has designed its newest product to be 100% automatic in operation.

There is nothing to regulate—whether you want speedy freezing of ice cubes and desserts or delicate foods kept at their palatable best for hours and days at a time.

Ice-O-Thermic Tubes — A Startling Advance In Electric Refrigeration

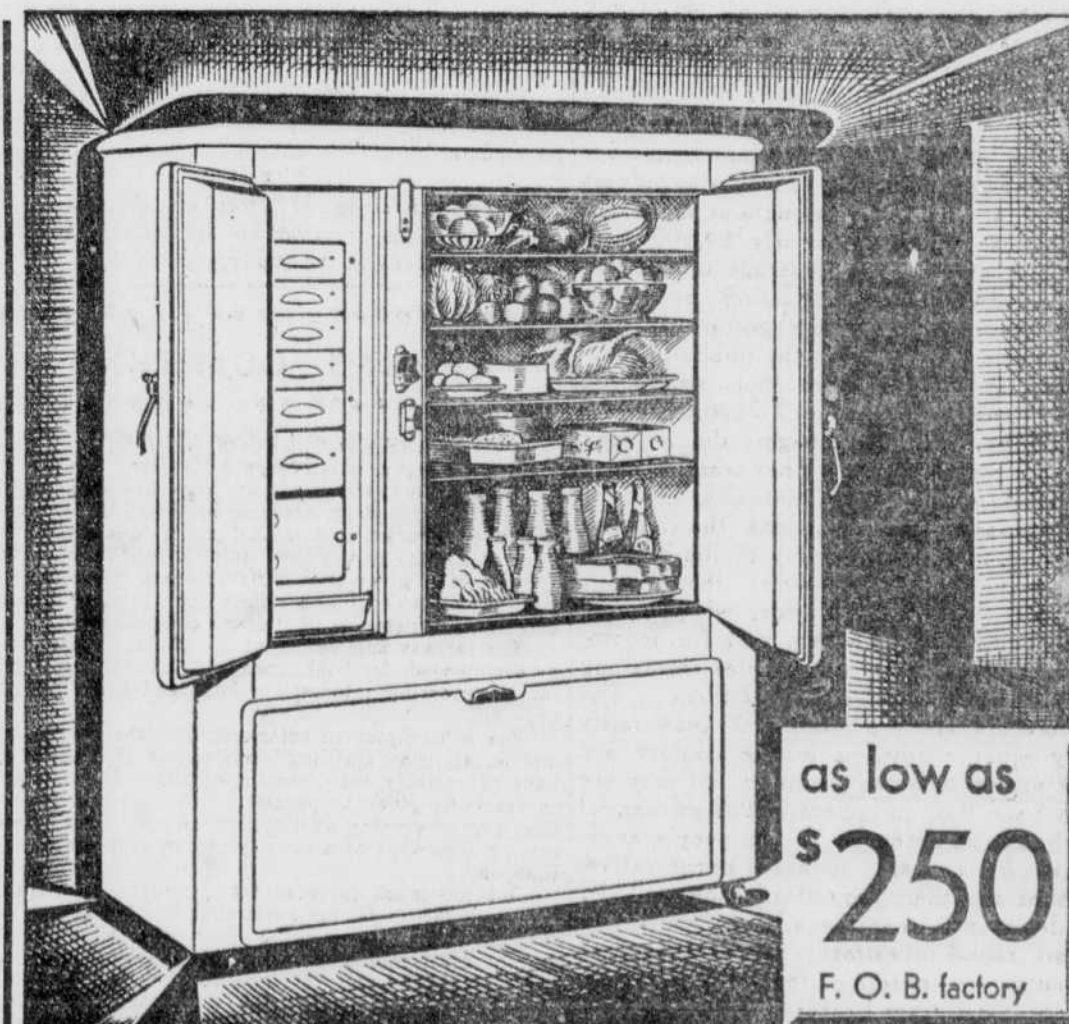

A new Kelvinator discovery—Ice-O-Thermic Tubes—makes possible far faster freezing of ice cubes. For example, the mere placing of a tray of water in a special ice compartment concentrates intense freezing power in this direction. Ice is ready in a remarkably short time. Desserts in a correspondingly brief period. Yet food compartments remain always at the same safe temperature—between 40 and 50 degrees—neither too warm nor too cold.

Not content with bringing you the finest automatic care of food and far faster freezing of ice cubes, Kelvinator surrounds this more efficient service with fresh beauty and sterling quality in cabinet construction.

New Metal Cabinets—Will Last a Life-time

Massive chromium-plated hardware in dull finish adds to the attractive appearance and durability of these models. Larger models are equipped with separate cold storage chambers and are electrically lighted.

To know how much more value your refrigerating dollar now commands, see the new Super-Automatic Kelvinators on display at our showrooms. You will be surprised to learn how easily you may enjoy Kelvinator's many new conveniences immediately under the Kelvinator ReDisCo monthly budget plan.

Features Which Place Kelvinator Years Ahead in Modern Refrigeration—

- 1 Ice-O-Thermic Tubes — giving new fast freezing of ice cubes and desserts. Fully automatic—no regulation needed.
- 2 Balanced Refrigeration — separate temperatures for food preservation, cold storage and ice freezing.
- 3 The Cold-Keeper — Holds cold over longer periods—thus reducing operating periods of mechanical unit.
- 4 Abundant Ice Supply—Capacities up to 35 pounds of ice at a single freezing. New flexible rubber ice tray.
- 5 New Metal Cabinets, Porcelain-Lined—Last a life-time without deterioration. Larger models electrically lighted.
- 6 Generously Powered—Each Super-Automatic Kelvinator shows 100% overload capacity under test in room with 100 degree temperature.

Have Your Eyes Examined Regularly

Most of us realize the folly of postponing a visit to the Dentist until the pangs of toothache make it a necessity, but do we realize that equal recklessness lies in failing to consult an Optometrist until we have reason to believe our sight is seriously affected. The more so because the eyes adapt themselves to overcome defects as long as possible often giving no warning of the gravity of their condition.

An ounce of prevention has always been worth a pound of cure, and by the simple expedient of wearing glasses suited to individual needs, often for near work only, when our sight first requires assistance, serious troubles and possible blindness in later life may be successfully avoided.

Visit one of the Optometrists displaying the sign shown above at regular intervals even though you may see quite well. Remember that your eyes change with the years and that glasses that suited you twenty-four months ago may be quite useless to-day.

Only by periodic examination can you be sure that all is well with your eyes.

"The Seven Dials Mystery"

By AGATHA CHRISTIE.

It was she who rose and spoke first a little nervously.

"You must be very surprised to see me. But I had to come. I'll explain in a minute. This is Lady Eileen Brent."

"Bundle—that's what I'm usually known as. You've probably heard of me from Bill Everleigh."

"Oh! rather, of course I have," said Jimmy, endeavoring to cope with the situation. "I say, do sit down and let's have a cocktail or something."

But both girls declined. "As a matter of fact," continued Jimmy, "I'm only just out of bed."

"That's what Bill said," remarked Bundle. "I told him I was coming round to see you, and he said you wouldn't be up."

"Well, I'm up now," said Jimmy encouragingly.

"It's about Gerry," said Loraine. "And now about Ronny—"

"What do you mean by 'and now about Ronny'?"

"He was shot yesterday."

"Bundle told her story for the second time. Jimmy listened like a man in a dream."

"Old Ronny—shot," he murmured. "What is this damned business?"

He sat down on the edge of a chair, thinking for a minute or two, and then spoke in a quiet, level voice.

"There's something I think I ought to tell you."

"Yes," said Bundle encouragingly. "It was the day Gerry Wade died. On the way over to break the news to you," he nodded at Loraine, "in the car Ronny said something to me."

"That's what he said. Naturally I didn't press him after that. But he was odd—damned odd—all through. I got the impression then that he suspected—well, foul play. I thought he'd tell the doctor so. But no, not even a hint. So I thought I'd been mistaken. And afterward, with the evidence and all—well, it seemed such a very clear case, I thought my suspicions had been all bosh."

"But you think Ronny still suspected," asked Bundle.

Jimmy nodded.

"That's what I think now. Why, none of us have seen anything of him since. I believe he was playing a lone hand—trying to find out the truth about Gerry's death, and what's more, I believe he did find out. That's why the devils shot him. And then he tried to send word to me, but could only get out those two words."

"Seven Dials," said Bundle, and shivered a little.

"Seven Dials," said Jimmy gravely. "At any rate we've got that to go on with."

Bundle turned to Loraine.

"You were just going to tell me

"Oh, yes, first, about the letter," she spoke to Jimmy. "Gerry left a letter. Lady Eileen—"

"Bundle."

"Bundle found it." She explained the circumstances in a few words.

Jimmy listened, keenly interested. This was the first he had heard of the letter. Loraine took it from her bag and handed it to him. He read it, then looked across at her.

"This is where you can help us. What was it Gerry wanted you to forget?"

"Loraine brows wrinkled a little in perplexity."

"A letter to Gerry?"

"It's so hard to remember exactly now. I opened a letter of Gerry's by mistake. It was written on cheap sort of paper, I remember, and very illiterate handwriting. It had some address in Seven Dials at the head of it. I realized it wasn't for me, so I put it back in the envelope without reading it."

"Sure?" asked Jimmy very gently.

Loraine laughed for the first time. "I know what you think, and I admit that women are curious. But you see, this didn't even look interesting. It was a kind of list of names and dates."

"Names and dates," said Jimmy thoughtfully.

"Gerry didn't seem to mind much," continued Loraine. "He laughed. He asked me if I had ever heard of the Mafia, and then said it would be queer if a society like Mafia started in England—but that that kind of secret society didn't take on much with English people. 'Our criminals,' he said, 'haven't got a picturesque imagination.'"

Jimmy pursed up his lips into a whistle.

"I'm beginning to see," he said. "Seven Dials must be the headquarters of some secret society. As he says in his letter to you, he thought it rather a joke to start with. But evidently it wasn't a joke—he says as much. And there's something else: his anxiety that you should forget what he'd told you. There can be only one reason for that—if that society suspected that you had any knowledge of its activity, you too would be in danger. Gerald realized the peril, and he was terribly anxious—for you."

He stopped, then he went on quietly:

"I rather fancy that we're all going to be in danger—if we go on with this."

"If—?" cried Bundle indignantly.

"I'm talking of you two. It's different for me. I was poor old Ronny's pal." He looked at Bundle.

"You've done your bit. You've delivered the message he sent me. No; for God's sake keep out of it, you and Loraine."

How to Begin?

Bundle looked questioningly at the other girl. Her own mind was definitely made up, but she gave no indication of it just then. She had no wish to push Loraine Wade into a dangerous undertaking. But Loraine's small face was alight at once with indignation.

"You say that! Do you think for one minute I'd be contented to keep out of it—when they killed Gerry—my own dear Gerry, the best and dearest and kindest brother any girl ever had. The only person belonging to me I had in the whole world!"

Jimmy cleared his throat uncomfortably. Loraine, he thought, was wonderful; simply wonderful.

"Look here," he said awkwardly, "you mustn't say that. About being alone in the world—all that rot. You've got lots of friends—only too glad to do what they can. See what I mean?"

It is possible that Loraine did, for she suddenly blushed, and to cover her confusion began to talk nervously.

"That's settled," she said. "I'm going to help. Nobody's going to stop me."

"And so am I, of course," said Bundle.

They both looked at Jimmy.

"Yes," he said slowly. "Yes, quite so."

Gains of One to Four Points in Wide List Feature Opening at New York This Morning.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The recovery in stock prices was resumed at the opening of today's market under the stimulus of an unexpectedly large decrease of $585,000,000 in Federal Reserve brokers' loans. Underwood-Elliott-Fisher jumped four points on the first sale, Western Union three, St. Louis Southwestern 2 1/4 and American Tobacco "B" International Telephone.

for a turn once more is a popular pastime among day to day traders and the gyrations of volatile issues suggest that a sizable short interest once more has been established.

Wall Street Journal—Stocks resumed the rally in the last hour, after absorbing considerable selling in the morning. Trading showed a marked disposition to turn dull on any price recession a development which proved encouraging to the bull forces.

The Wall Street Journal will say today:
General Electric net gain steady. Railway Sign at average net $7.50. Steel prices steady.

National Cash Register and American and Foreign Power advanced a point or two. Westinghouse Electric dropped a point.

with some damage done to chimneys and windows in Nova Scotia and buildings reported shaken in New England. Several trans-Atlantic cables in the vicinity of Newfoundland were broken and various ships near here reported feeling the shock severely.

FOUR MEMBERS OF CREW WERE SERIOUSLY HURT

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 22.—Four members of the crew of the steamer Georj were taken to hospital this morning when the ship reached port. The men were injured when thrown against the winches by a terrific sea which swept the ship and shifted her cargo at 3:30 a.m., last Monday, twelve days out of Copenhagen. The injured are: Alex Bentzen, second mate, both legs and one arm broken; Peterson, sailor, arm broken; Jensen, sailor, shoulder dislocated; and Anderson, sailor, badly bruised.

RISE STRENGTHENS MARGINED ACCOUNT

MONTREAL, Nov. 22.—The Montreal Financial Service says today: The better feeling in the street was again reflected in the local market at the opening yesterday, although profit-taking later in the session resulted in the majority of the leaders easing off from their high points. Nervousness that was so prevalent recently is now absent although general predictions are that the recovery will not be a perpendicular one.

The net results of the latest gains has been to strengthen the margined accounts of many traders. At the low levels of last week these holdings were in danger of being thrown on the market, but with the higher prices now existing it has been possible for further orderly liquidation and this has reduced debit balances to a considerable extent.

The market action of Canada Steamship Lines preferred and common is being watched by holders of these securities. Although W. H. Coverdale, the president, issued a reassuring statement at the time the preferred first broke to 75, the general feeling is that the ticker is attempting to forecast not only a shrinkage in earnings but also a further development as well. Notwithstanding the fact that the ticker has a faculty of generally telling the real story, some of the large preferred shareholders express the opinion that the present dividend will not be interfered with unless something very unforeseen happens. They contend that the decline in the preferred shares is due to forced selling.

Steady absorption has recently taken place in the shares of Canadian Industrial Alcohol. The decline of the stock, from a high of 45 this year was due mainly to the expectation that the company would not be able to show dividends earned, but intimidation from official sources is that the forthcoming annual statement will set at rest these bearish reports and will show the $1.52 dividend earned by a fair margin. It would not be surprising if the issues came in for renewed demand on this account.

OIL STOCKS COMING INTO FAVOR

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Wall Street Mirror says today: The speed with which the stock market has been advancing is rather disconcerting. It was to be hoped and rather expected that the rally from the low points would be substantial but what was wanted most was a gradual rise which would allow investment demand to keep pace with advance. In many issues the advance has outstripped the investment demand which is not likely to reach up for the stocks wanted. A slowing down in the trading is still to be hoped for without any paddle from Quebec. They retain hopes of completing the paddle from Vancouver to Halifax this year and plan to be in Saint John, N. B., the latter part of next week. Their canoe was damaged by ice on the journey from Quebec to this city.

wide swings in stock. In view of the sharp advance seen on Thursday it would not be surprising to see some selling today.

Oil stocks are in favor again in certain quarters, due to the increased stability in the industry and the fact that oil stocks are considered still cheap. It is positively known that excellent buying is making its appearance in the oil, but that no attempt is being made to follow prices up.

Phillips is considered in an extremely favorable position with a possible dividend increase near at hand. Sinclair Oil is cheap, have large earnings and good prospects. One thing that is likely to be witnessed from now on is the demand for low priced issues with a high rate of yield. The "new" public which is coming into the market in increasing numbers has made up its mind that it wants yield first of all. The high priced issues are already getting out of their range.

Another sharp drop in loans to brokers of $55,000,000 with the total borrowings now below the four billion market brings this item down to the lowest in fully two years.

TRADING FORECAST AND FACTORS

An increased demand for stocks is expected to develop today and prices for leading stocks should rule firm.

SCORES IN ALL THREE HOCKEY GAMES CLOSE

Rangers Nosed Out Maroons, While Canadiens Had to Play Overtime Before They Were Able to Claim Victory Over Toronto.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 22.—The defense players of the big hockey league are beginning to get the hang of playing a tight game under the new rules, but they still have a long way to go if they have any hopes of bringing the scoring down to the level of former years.

Two of last night's three games in the National Hockey League might have been played in any other season so far as the scores would indicate, but the third gave ample evidence of this year's free scoring spirit. The battle between the Stanley Cup finalists of two years ago, the New York Rangers and Montreal Maroons, resulted in their second 2 to 1 score of the season with the Rangers again the victors. Canadiens of Montreal had to go overtime to nose out the Toronto Leafs 3 to 2. At Chicago, however, a second overtime game produced a far different result. Ottawa's fast-stepping Senators gave the Black Hawks their first defeat of the season by a score of 6 to 5.

A Rough Game

The Rangers and Maroons, bitter enemies since their Stanley Cup clash in 1928, seemed more intent on developing some worthy opponent for Art Shires, baseball's well known pugilist. The game was one of the roughest ever played in Madison Square Garden, as well as one of the closest. At no time was there more than a shade of advantage for either team, the decision coming on two brilliant bits of individual skating and shooting by Paul Thompson and Leo Bourgeault, of the Rangers. Nineteen penalties were called, five of them in the last two minutes of play, and the bell at the finish was a signal for a free-for-all fight, starting among the occupants of the penalty box and embroiling most of the players on both teams before it was stopped.

A NEW JUNIOR HOCKEY TEAM IN E. T. LEAGUE

Mr. Allan Blue First President of Irish-Canadian Juniors—Meeting Held Last Evening.

A new junior hockey team was launched last evening when the Irish-Canadian Juniors elected their officers for the coming season, as follows: Honorary president, Mr. W. D. Van Roden; honorary patrons, Messrs. W. L. McGannon, J. A. Martin, G. DesRuisseaux and J. Bourque; president, Mr. Allan Blue; vice-president, Mr. J. A. Cameron; secretary-treasurer, Mr. H. Crochettier; business manager, Mr. Laurent Savage, and club manager, Mr. M. Parsons.

Plans for the coming season were drawn up, and it was decided to enter the team in the Eastern Townships Junior Hockey League. The other teams operating in this league are Maroons and National Bisons, of Sherbrooke, and St. Lawrence Juniors, of St. Lawrence.

The officials of the league, of which Mr. Emmett Kennedy is president, are looking forward to a most successful year, and competition is expected to be very keen.

who, despite their pre-season promise, have yet to win a game. The wings of the "Flying Frenchmen" apparently have not sprouted the current season, and it took some heady playing by "Battleship" Leduc, big defence man, to win the game. Leduc came out of the penalty box late in the overtime period, took a pass from little Aurel Joliat, and smashed the winning counter into the net.

Ottawa, one of the league's surprise teams this year, had to fight uphill all the way to take an overtime decision from Chicago. The Black Hawks broke away for a three goal lead, but Ottawa's scoring combine of King Clancy and Hec Kilrea tied it up before the end of the first period. Again in the second frame Chicago went ahead, only to have the same pair even the count at 5 to 5. Clancy passed to Frankie Finnigan for the winning goal just eighteen seconds after the overtime period started after they had battled furiously without a score through the third twenty minutes.

MR. J. CORFIELD PRESIDENT OF LOCAL LEAGUE

Sherbrooke and District Basketball Association Made Arrangements for Ensuing Season at Annual Meeting Last Night.

Mr. James Corfield was unanimously elected president of the Sherbrooke and District Basketball Association at the annual meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. last evening. Mr. E. Loomis was named vice-president, and Mr. W. P. McVie secretary-treasurer.

After discussing the annual meeting of the Eastern Canada Basketball Association to be held in Quebec tomorrow, November 23rd, the secretary was authorized to forward registration fees entering the Sherbrooke and District Basketball Association as a member of the Eastern Canada Association.

The question of a schedule for the basketball season was then taken up, and it was agreed that all applications for city league, intermediate or junior, should be in the hands of the secretary not later than December 14th, and the City Basketball League schedule should open early in January. The secretary was further instructed to request Principal Seaman, of Queen's Square School, Montreal, to visit Sherbrooke on January 2nd or 3rd to explain the different rules from the floor in an exhibition game. It was further agreed that all games in the City League for the coming season be played in Sherbrooke and on one floor. The next meeting of the association will be held during the week of December 10th, when final arrangements for the season's games will be made.

WRESTLING

SONNENBERG DFEATED MCGILL

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Gus Sonnenberg, heavyweight wrestling champion, was extended to the limit last night before winning two falls over Pat McGill.

It was one hour and four minutes before the champion won the first fall with a top body hold. McGill displayed a remarkable defense, administering terrible punishment to Sonnenberg. He threw the champion out of the ring several times, and Sonnenberg was badly shaken each time.

Sonnenberg won the second fall in seven minutes on the fourth try at a flying tackle.

SCHEPP FUND IS ASSISTING NEEDY YOUTHS

Deserving and Needy Boys, Particularly Those Talented Along Some Line Which May Be of Particular Benefit to Mankind, Are Aided.

(Canadian Press.)
NEW YORK, N.Y., Nov. 22.—Everybody remembers Leopold Schepp, the coconut king, who back in 1925 was so dreadfully in earnest about giving away a fortune estimated at $10,000,000 that he asked newspapers readers to send him suggestions. In 1926 Leopold Schepp died, after disregarding most of the suggestions—and there were millions of them.

And he left half of his fortune to his daughter, and the other half to "deserving" boys and girls, after having first given away several millions to various charities. Just what has happened to that fortune, and who are the "deserving" girls and boys being aided by the Schepp millions? That is what both critics and friends of Mr. Schepp's scheme have been curious about.

Mr. Schepp had a hard time giving away several million dollars, and the Leopold Schepp Foundation, which is still giving it away at 225 West Thirty-fourth Street, is having an even harder time. For giving away even the interest on several million dollars seems to be a difficult job. Not that there aren't plenty of applicants. J. Harry Johnston, executive secretary, estimates that the applicants have run well up into the millions, and if the Foundation investigated every deserving boy who wants part of the $2,500,000 to set him up in a pop stand, or take a course in aviation, the salaries of workers and the stamp bill would eat up the entire interest on that sum.

The country may be full of deserving boys, but that doesn't alter the fact that only about 1,000 boys a year can receive $200 each of the interest on $2,500,000. It doesn't seem so much money after all. What interest remains over the sums given to boys who have kept the Schepp pledge for three years, is to be used for scholarships for especially deserving and needy boys, particularly those who are talented along some line which may be of particular benefit to mankind.

Thus the Schepp Foundation is sending one young medical student through Harvard because he is interested in research work to discover just what can be done to make liver extracts more effective and available in the treatment of pernicious anemia. Still another is studying the use of high frequency currents in the possible treatment of cancer at the Albany Medical College. When the trustees meet again in January scholarship plans for especially deserving and talented young men will be further discussed, Mr. Johnston said.

As for the pledge—one is keeping God's commandments, another is loyalty to country, the third is to honor parents, "and all to whom honor is due"; the fourth to observe strict honesty in all dealings and to follow the golden rule; the fifth, not to gamble, drink or smoke, to shun evil companions, to go to church and generally to "cultivate those manly qualities which make for desirable citizenship."
