UNITED STATES DECISION BRINGS AIR OF FUTILITY TO CONFERENCE

With Discussion of Co-Operation Between Banks Barred from Already Lean Agenda, Several Delegations Quit Parley—"Latest Repudiation" of American Delegation by Home Government Brings Caustic Comment from Many Quarters.

London, July 13.—An air of futility hung heavily over World Economic Conference halls and quarters of various national delegations today.

Narrowed already to very little, still less remained of the agenda after United States had refused to continue discussions on a resolution seeking co-operation of central banks.

Leaders of the French and Swiss groups left for their homes. The Belgians and Dutch had already gone, although Premier H. Collin, of Holland, was expected back from The Hague to direct the half-hearted efforts of the Economic Commission to achieve at least something.

Comments heard at American quarters indicated they are not sure themselves of how representative they are.

Many caustic remarks were heard among members of other delegations about what was called in some circles "the latest repudiation of the delegation" from home.

Members of the European gold bloc were not especially displeased with the turn of events, for they have wished to shoulder none of the stigma for ending the Conference following last week's battle on currency stabilization.

Mr. Roosevelt added that he opposed discussion of the central bank suggestion because it involved banks, not governments, and Federal Reserve Banks of the United States were not represented here.

SOVIETS AGAIN SEEKING BILLION-DOLLAR CREDIT

London, July 13.—Soviet Russia is preparing to repeat with emphasis its offer to buy from the world to the tune of another billion dollars. The Russian offer, however, carries its usual string—the purchases must be credit.

Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for Foreign Affairs, first mentioned the offer in a speech at the plenary session shortly after the World Conference opened last month.

AMERICAN DELEGATION WOULD CUT WORK HOURS

London, July 13.—The United States delegation presented a resolution to the Economic Commission of the World Economic Conference today calling for shorter hours of labor and an increase in wages in proportion to the rise in prices.

Sam D. McReynolds submitted the proposal on behalf of the United States group.

Its preamble declared that the unemployment situation is "one of the greatest problems the governments are confronted with at this time."

Premier Hendryk Collin, of Holland, chairman of the Commission, announced the introduction at a public meeting this morning.

LUKE PARSONS DECIDES TO SERVE PENITENTIARY TERM

Had His Choice Between a Six-Month Sentence and a Four-Year Term, and Took Latter.

Kansas City, Kan., July 13.—Luke Parsons, who has called prison his home for twenty-seven of his sixty-five years, is glad to go back after three months of wandering.

Today Parsons announced his pleasure when Judge C. A. Miller sentenced him to four years in the Kansas penitentiary at Lansing.

Parsons was charged with fourth degree arson. He admitted he set fire to a farmer's barn on June 30. He said he was weary of travel.

"Under the law it is discretionary with the court whether you be sentenced to six months in the county jail or four years in the penitentiary," Judge Miller said. "I am going to let you have your choice."

"Well, that's easy, Judge," said Parsons, smiling. "Give me the four years."

HEAR BRITISH ECONOMIST TO HEAD BANK COMMISSION

Lord MacMillan Understood to Have Accepted Post as Chairman of Canadian Royal Commission on Banking.

Toronto, July 13.—Reliable reports from London state that Lord MacMillan has accepted the chairmanship of the Canadian Royal Commission on Banking, created at the last session of Federal Parliament.

One of the foremost advocates of Scotland and one of the keenest intellects in the British Empire, Lord MacMillan achieved world-wide distinction in 1931 through his chairmanship of the committee on finance and industry which for a year and a half made an exhaustive study of banking and commerce in Great Britain. Commonly known as report of the MacMillan committee, this document is considered one of the most important of its kind that has been prepared in a generation.

THIEF FAILED TO FIND SMALL-EST BIBLE IN WORLD

Chicago, July 13.—A thief attempted to steal the smallest Bible in the world from a miniature church in the Hall of Religion at the World's Fair. The thief broke the lock on the church, only to find that the Bible had been removed to a vault.

BRITISH CURRENCIES WERE STEADY TODAY

New York, July 13.—British currencies were steady at the opening of New York foreign exchanges today. The pound started at $4.76 1-2, up 1-2 cents from yesterday, and all of the initial dealings were at that level.

The Canadian dollar held unchanged at 95 1-4 cents, representing a premium on United States funds of five per cent.

POUND STERLING GAINS ON MONTREAL EXCHANGE

British Currency Again Touches Five-Dollar Mark as United States Dollar Weakens.

Montreal, July 13.—The pound sterling again mounted to the $5.00 mark on the Montreal foreign exchange at the opening today. The United States dollar weakened.

The pound opened at $5.00, a gain of 1 5-8 cents as compared with yesterday's close of $4.98 3-8.

Shortly before the close yesterday, the pound sold up to $5.00 1-4 but later receded. The United States dollar was quoted at $1.04 7-8 against the final quotation yesterday of $1.05.

To this end it is proposed to form a sub-committee of the Conference charged with study of organizing production and marketing of wheat, just as wine and other products are now being studied by Conference sub-committees. Exporters and importers in this way would be brought closer together, it is felt, than is possible in informal conversations.

Representatives of the principal exporters and importers of wheat met Prime Minister MacDonald,

WOULD BRING WHEAT DISCUSSIONS WITHIN CONFERENCE FRAMEWORK

Believed that by Transferring Negotiations, which Have Now Reached Promising Stage, to Conference Sub-Committee, Even Greater Progress Will Be Made—After Reaching Agreement with Great Britain and Italy, Export Nations Hope for Pact with Germany and France.

London, July 13.—Negotiations were under way today to bring the wheat discussions formally within the framework of the World Economic Conference.

Starting with the conference of the big four wheat exporters of the world—Canada, the United States, Australia and Argentina—efforts in which Canadian delegates have played a prominent part, to bring about virtually world-wide agreement on the co-ordinating of wheat production and consumption have within the past week reached such a promising stage that those interested think the finishing touches might be more effectively secured within the Conference.

The "Big Four" have already agreed in principle on restricting production and systematizing exports between themselves. They have provisionally obtained a considerable measure of support from the smaller exporting nations such as those of the Danubian basin and Poland, they have secured promises of co-operation by the United Kingdom, greatest of wheat importers, and Italy, and are now endeavoring to secure similar promises from France and Germany.

The domestic of the celebrated Ulu Moosus was damaged considerably. The shock but there were no property losses.

ANNOUNCE DATE FOR ELECTIONS IN NOVA SCOTIA

Fifty-Six Candidates Already in Field for Thirty Seats—Nominations on August 15 and Elections August 22.

Halifax, July 13.—On August 22nd, Nova Scotia's electors will choose between the Conservative administration of Premier Gordon S. Harrington and the Liberal opposition led by Angus L. MacDonald.

Both parties prepared today to carry on the campaign with renewed vigor, following the Premier's announcement that the "keynote" session of the Legislature would be dissolved today and writs issued for polling.

Nomination day is one week earlier, August 15th.

The campaign, in fact, has been carried on with considerable vigor for months. Premier Harrington delivered his "keynote speech" to the convention which named him to contest Cape Breton South. He emphasized the social legislation enacted by his government, and declared financial stewardship had been above reproach.

Mr. MacDonald has not yet made his appearance in the Legislature, replying to charges that such measures as mothers' allowances and the minimum wage law for women had been achieved only through Opposition insistence.

Already fifty-six candidates have been named for the thirty seats allotted under the last redistribution. Of these twenty-four are Government men, twenty-eight Liberals.

James MacLachlan in Cape Breton, Labor and C. C. F.

The double member constituencies of Colchester and Cumberland, and the single ridings of Queens and Yarmouth are the only ones in which Conservatives have not been named. Others are also named in the Legislature, replying to charges that such measures as mothers' allowances and the minimum wage law for women had been achieved only through Opposition insistence.

FRANCE WILL REPAY HALF THE BRITISH LOAN THREE MONTHS BEFORE ITS MATURITY.

Paris, July 13.—The French cabinet today accepted Finance Minister Georges Bonnet's assurance that the national treasury is sufficiently prosperous, and authorized repayment on July 29th of half of the British £20,000,000 loan instead of waiting for its maturity on October 29th.

EARTHQUAKE CAUSED PANIC AMONG TURKISH RESIDENTS

Although Large Number of Buildings Were Damaged at Changiri, No One Injured.

Istanbul, Turkey, July 13.—An earthquake at Changiri, near Ankara, yesterday, left no house in the town undamaged and threw the inhabitants into a panic, but nobody was hurt.

The dome of the celebrated Ulu Moosus was damaged considerably. The shock but there were no property losses.

RECOVERY ADMINISTRATORS SPEED EFFORTS TO PROMOTE EMPLOYMENT

Several Wage-Raising, Work-Sharing Industrial Codes Expected to Be Submitted to President Roosevelt Within Next Few Days—Further Delay in Submitting Voluntary Agreements May Lead to Action by Government to Enforce Recovery Programme.

Washington, July 13.—The recovery administration's lull is over, and from the middle next week on there will be an unending succession of hearings on codes raising wages and limiting hours in the industries of the United States.

Two reasons virtually guarantee this continuity. Principally, industrialists are getting down to brass tacks on the voluntary agreements, the terms wanted by President Roosevelt are becoming generally understood, the three weeks or so that have elapsed since the law passed have seen many hesitant businessmen convinced that the thing to do is to come ahead, and the willing ones who had skulking problems are getting around them.

Every time a code comes in, he orders a hearing on the first date possible under the requirement of "reasonable notice" to all concerned. If codes contain unacceptable terms he sets a hearing anyhow, trusting to work out something suitable at the conference table, under the public eye.

The lull in the promulgation of codes occurred because only one industry—cotton textiles—went to work as soon as the industrial control law was sent to Congress. The rest waited, and had to start organizing their self-government scheme and figuring higher returns for labor three weeks ago.

Now lumber, shipbuilding and electrical manufacture are in. The steel code is expected momentarily. Coal codes are in prospect, and the builders, general contractors and many others are about ready.

Johnson is thinking of issuing a call for all codes, preliminary ones dealing principally with wages and hours of work, by a definite date.

WALES FORCED DOWN BY UNFAVORABLE FLYING CONDITIONS

Swanage, Dorset, England, July 13.—The Prince of Wales, flying today from Sunningdale to Weymouth, was forced down by bad weather and poor visibility to alight in a field here.

He completed his journey by automobile to Weymouth, where he was to preside at the opening of a new pier and harbor scheme.

DESIRE TO MARRIAGE SAVED LIFE OF COUPLE

Denver, July 13.—Marriage, credited with saving many a man, perhaps is deserving of a couple more credits.

Herbert Dolph and Allene Baker, of Denver, revealed today that they went to Idavale last Friday with another couple to spend the weekend and decided to get married. Unable to find a minister there, they went to Evergreen. A short while afterward most of Idavale was swept away by a flood in which five died.

July 25th, which will be presided over by H. R. H. The Prince of Wales, there will be present also Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, and Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom. Major Roper will address the gathering.

CANADIAN DELEGATION TO LEGION CONFERENCE SAILS

Major J. S. Roper, M.C., President of Canadian Legion, Heads Group to B.E.S.L. Gathering in London.

Ottawa, July 13.—Headed by Major J. S. Roper, M.C., Dominion President of the Canadian Legion, Canada's delegation to the sixth biennial conference of the British Empire Service League will include General Sir Percy Lake, who commanded the British army in the Mesopotamian campaign, and Captain E. A. Baker, M.C., spokesman for the blinded sailors and soldiers of Canada.

They will sail from Montreal on Saturday by the Canadian Pacific liner, Duchess of Richmond. The conference opens in London on July 24th and will continue for seven days.

At the banquet on Tuesday, members in an Assembly of forty-three. This was cut to a majority of three in 1928. At present the standing is government, twenty; and Opposition, sixteen; the total membership having been reduced by death and resignation.

FRIENDLY ITALIAN AIR INVASION SWEEPS TOWARDS CANADIAN SOIL

Twenty-Four Planes on Goodwill Tour Making 800-Mile Trip from Cartwright, Labrador, to Shediac, New Brunswick—Extensive Programme of Receptions Planned as Flyers Near Canada—Exceptional Time Made on Iceland to North America Flight.

Cartwright, Labrador, July 13.—Italy's colorful air armada roared down the coast of Labrador today after a graceful take-off from Cartwright harbour for the eight hundred-mile flight to Shediac, New Brunswick, next scheduled stopping place on the route from Orbetello to Chicago.

The plane piloted by General Italo Balbo, bearded leader of the crusade, was among the first group to rise from the water, at 8.20 a.m., Eastern Standard Time. Other groups followed in perfect formation until at 8.35 the entire fleet of twenty-four planes was in the air.

The General expected to reach Shediac in about five hours. How long the planes would stay there before proceeding to Montreal and Chicago depended on weather conditions, he said, but they certainly would remain long enough to attend the receptions so generously prepared by the Canadians.

Having completed the most hazardous leg of their journey with planes and men in perfect condition, the flyers were joyful and optimistic this morning as they prepared for the next hop.

Just twelve hours and twenty-eight minutes had elapsed during their 1,800-mile flight from Reykjavik, Iceland, to Cartwright, and they were confident of making fast time to New Brunswick. Weather conditions were favorable.

Twenty-one minutes after the last group soared away to the southward the fleet was reported over Venison Island.

SHEDIAC IS PREPARED TO RECEIVE AERIAL ARMADA

Shediac, N.B., July 13.—Shediac is ready.

Early this afternoon carloads of people were pouring into the town and thousands of eyes were turned skyward awaiting the first glimpse of General Balbo and his aerial armada.

Although the sudden word this morning that the Italians were coming today, was unexpected in the face of semi-official word last night that they would not be hopping until Friday at the earliest, preparations had been so far advanced that everything was soon in readiness for the official welcome and the technical ground organization was also prepared for action.

The town presented a gala as well as a busy appearance today as British and Italian flags and bunting fluttered gaily in a gentle breeze.

Shediac Bay sparkled in the brilliant sunshine and conditions were said to be perfect for the descent of the seaplanes to its broad bosom.

SPECTACULAR RECEPTION IS PLANNED AT CHICAGO

Chicago, July 13.—A spectacular reception is being planned to honor General Italo Balbo and his Italian trans-Atlantic air fleet upon their arrival at their journey's end—the Century of Progress International Exposition—possibly Saturday.

Officials of the World's Fair announced today their intention of making it a great spectacle. It is anticipated that the airmen, now safely across the Atlantic Ocean, will be greeted here by a crowd of 500,000.

Whatever day the Italians bring their ships to rest on Lake Michigan will be Italo Balbo's Day at the Fair—everything else giving way.

On the day of its arrival the Italian armada will be met at Michigan City, Ind., by a squadron of United States army planes and escorted to a mooring near Navy Pier. It is hoped that the arrival from Montreal, barring mishaps and bad weather, can be timed between noon and 1.30 p.m.

While the army squadron goes through aerial demonstrations along the lake front, the Italian fliers will be transferred to the U.S.S. Wilmette, where they will be greeted informally by members of the reception committee.

There to welcome them will be the Italian Ambassador to the United States, Signor Augusto Rosso; Italian Commissioner to the World's Fair, Luigi Ranieri; the Royal Italian Commissioner, Prince Ludovico Potentini; General Harry S. New, United States Commissioner to the World's Fair; Rufus C. Dawes, president of the Exposition, representatives of other governments, high ranking naval and military officers and other distinguished citizens.

The airmen will set foot on United States soil close to the Italian pavilion, flying the red, white and green flag of Italy. Their country's official building at the fair is styled like a huge air-plane.

IL DUCE CONGRATULATES SQUADRON ON PROGRESS

Rome, July 13.—Premier Mussolini today telegraphed to General Italo Balbo at Cartwright, Labrador, expressing to him and the other personnel of the trans-Atlantic air squadron his most profound satisfaction in the brilliant success of the Italian fliers over the most difficult stage of the outward journey to Chicago.

Ottawa, July 13.—Automobile exports from Canada during the year 1932 showed a considerable increase over 1931, according to a report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The total value in 1932 was $7,091,994, an increase of $470,084. The increase was made up of passenger cars and parts, while there was a decrease in the export of trucks.

CANADIAN GOLD OUTPUT SHOWS AN INCREASE

May Output Totalled 237,661 Ounces Compared with 237,017 Ounces in April.

Montreal, July 13.—During the month of May Canada produced 237,661 ounces of gold as compared with 237,017 ounces in April and 268,543 ounces in May, 1932, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. During the first five months of 1933, the Canadian production totalled 1,196,512 ounces, a decline of 2.7 per cent. from the output in the corresponding months of the previous year.

In May, the production from Ontario mines amounted to 180,580 ounces, consisting of 88,360 ounces from the Porcupine camp, 80,913 ounces from the Kirkland Lake area, and 11,107 ounces from other sources. Compared with the preceding month, Buffalo-Ankerite, Hollinger, Howey, Lake Shore, McIntyre, Moss, Sylvanite and Vipond recorded increased output in May.

Quebec operators produced 30,400 ounces of gold in May, as against 28,083 ounces in the preceding month and 41,802 ounces in May, 1932.

The production from British Columbia mines was reported at 16,442 ounces; in April, 16,130 ounces were produced and in May, a year ago, 17,234 ounces were extracted.

Manitoba's output declined slightly to 10,420 ounces from the preceding month's total of 10,593 ounces. In May, 1932, the Manitoba production was 8,746 ounces.

Nineteen ounces of gold were shipped from Nova Scotia to the Royal Canadian Mint during May. No gold was shipped from the Yukon in May; during April production amounted to 694 ounces.

The American Bureau of Metal Statistics estimated the world output of gold in May at 1,965,000 ounces or 63,967 ounces per day. Transvaal mines produced 94,000 ounces during the month; in April their output totalled 95,000 ounces. Production in the United States declined to 185,000 ounces from the April output of 189,000 ounces.

SINO-JAPANESE HOSTILITIES WERE RESUMED TODAY

Shanghai, July 13.—Sino-Japanese hostilities were resumed along the Jehol-Chahar border, Chinese dispatches said today with a bombing attack on D. J. J. by four Japanese aeroplanes.

EARLY BRITISH MOVE AGAINST DUMPING SEEN

Britain and Canada Confer on Policy of Soviet Russia in Dumping Timber on British Markets.

London, July 13.—Important developments are expected shortly from discussions between Canadian and United Kingdom representatives on safeguarding Canadian timber exports from Russian dumping in the British market. The Canadian Press learned.

Premier R. B. Bennett and Hon. Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, have been personally conducting the negotiations. The Canadian complaint is vigorously being put forward that dumping of timber, without regard to cost of production—even though it is produced under state control—has ruined the British market for the Canadian timber exporter.

In the wood sub-committee of the World Economic Conference a week ago, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Canadian Finance Minister, emphasized the effect of Russian competition in the world timber trade and hinted Canada might ask Britain to implement article 21 of the Ottawa trade pact. This calls for prohibition of dumped articles if they are thrust on the market at unfair prices which jeopardize the Imperial preferences. British Government circles emphasize that in the present negotiations with Russia for a new trade treaty the obligations assumed by the United Kingdom under the Ottawa agreement are being borne strictly in mind.

ORE SHIPMENTS PROVIDE WORK FOR HUNDREDS

Former Employees of Car and Locomotive Shops of New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroads Return to Work as Receipts of Ore and Shipments of Coal Increase Sharply.

Cleveland, July 13.—A sharp increase in receipts of ore and shipments of coal at Lake Erie ports was reported today to have given work to hundreds of former employees of car and locomotive shops of the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads.

The Pennsylvania alone has moved 1,000,000 more tons of lake cargo coal so far this season than it did in the corresponding period of 1932. Officials said the increase in the amount of ore carried was even greater. As a result, a large number of cars are being repaired daily and additional employees put to work in the locomotive shops.

The movement of ore via the New York Central said to have been so great that if it continues through July it will have exceeded by that time the total carried all of last year.

Nineteen freighters cleared Lake Superior ports with ore Tuesday. Five started for the lower lakes yesterday.

New York Central has recalled more than five hundred men to its shops in Collingwood and Lindsay in the last six weeks. It is operating sixteen shops in this area and employing 6,550 men as compared with 2,500 last March.

MRS. ROOSEVELT TO VISIT SCENIC GASPE PENINSULA

Had Intended Driving from Ancient Capital to Montreal, but Yesterday Decided on South Shore Trip.

Quebec, July 13.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt prepared early today for a drive down the south shore of the St. Lawrence River into scenic Gaspe Peninsula. Accompanied by Miss Lorena Hickok, of New York, the wife of the President of the United States spent yesterday seeing the sights of the Gaspe Peninsula, visiting historic sites, and calling on Lieutenant Governor H. G. Carroll and the United States consul here.

With no definite plans the two women are on a holiday motor tour, and in their roadster automobile drive wherever the fancy of the moment suggests. When she first came here Mrs. Roosevelt intended to drive from here to Montreal, but yesterday decided on the Gaspe trip.

MASONIC HALL DESTROYED BY FIRE

Guysboro, N.S., July 12.—Fire today destroyed the Masonic Hall here, which also contained the offices of county clerk, V. N. Hart and crown prosecutor J. A. Fulton. The loss was estimated at $15,000. Furniture of the hall and crown prosecutor's office was saved, but the flames blocked all attempts to get records from the office of the county clerk. All the county records and books were destroyed.

As Walter Hagen, captain of the American Ryder Cup team, makes a short speech congratulating the British Ryder Cup team on their victory over the Americans at Southport, England, last week, the Prince of Wales leads the applause. The British golfers won six matches to five, with one halved.

WEATHER HOLDS LINDBERGH IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Flying Couple, on Northern Mapping Expedition, Given Official Welcome at Government House St. John's.

St. John's, Nfld., July 13.—Unfavorable flying weather along the coast of Newfoundland prevented Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh from leaving for Cartwright today. It was cold, wet and foggy when the Colonel arose this morning, and he said he would not take off until the weather cleared.

The famous flying couple, bound northward on an aerial mapping expedition, alighted on Bay Bulls big pond late yesterday afternoon after a flight of five and one-half hours from Halifax. Their stores were there, but they had landed first at Quidi Vidi Lake to enquire for directions.

Following their arrival in St. John's, the Lindberghs were received at Government House by Governor Sir David Murray Anderson. Later they went to the home of Colonel L. C. Outerbridge, where they remained for the night.

Colonel Lindbergh planned to supervise a refuelling of his plane this morning.

At Cartwright the Colonel and his wife will begin the survey of a northern aerial route that brought them from New York.

UNVEIL PLAQUE TO MEMORY OF LORD DURHAM

Canadian Prime Minister to Be Guest of Honor at Function Commemorating First Advocate of Dominion Government.

London, July 13.—Premier R. B. Bennett visits Bristol tomorrow to unveil a memorial plaque on a base erected by the first Earl of Durham. The plaque, recording the Earl lived there as a pupil of Dr. Beddoes, recalls that as Canada's Governor-General in 1828 "his famous report inspired all subsequent British colonial policy."

Some historians record that the report "on the affairs of British North America," sent in by Lord Durham after a stormy time in Canada which followed repeated stormy experiences in English politics, was written by Charles Buller, his chief secretary.

The Duke of Beaufort will preside over a luncheon at which the Canadian Prime Minister will be the guest of honor, the Lord Mayor and sheriffs of Bristol also attending. Subsequently Mr. Bennett will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Bristol University.

The plaque was erected by the local branch of the Royal Empire Society.

GREAT BRITAIN TAKING MORE CANADIAN GRAINS

Ottawa, July 13.—June exports of Canadian wheat to the United Kingdom totalled 10,114,831 bushels, an increase of 3,002,408 bushels over the exports for June 1932. The value was $6,475,385 as compared with $4,116,720 the previous year.

Total June exports to all countries was 16,098,672 bushels, an increase of 1,141,245 bushels. The total exports of wheat to all countries over the eleven months ended with June was 223,763,036 bushels, of which Great Britain took 146,089,502 bushels, an increase of 56,384,139 bushels.

Wheat flour exports to the United Kingdom in June totalled 230,646 barrels, a decrease as compared with June 1932, but exports for the month to other countries, 213,861 barrels was a slight increase.

Exports of coarse grains were lower to all countries.

SOME OPINIONS EXPRESSED ON COFFEE HOUSES

Three Centuries Ago Clubs Were Natural Resorts of Men Whom Though Socially Inclined, Did Not Enjoy Social Position.

Three centuries ago clubs were the natural resorts of men who, though socially inclined, did not enjoy the social position, and could not, therefore, command the introductions into high circles which were accorded to Peppys or John Evelyn in the Seventeenth Century and to Horace Walpole in the Eighteenth Century. The "clubs" succeeded the fashionable "coffee and chocolate houses" of a bygone day. They afford advantages and facilities of living to thousands of individuals in every walk of life, civil and military, ecclesiastical, peers spiritual and temporal, commoners, men of the learned professions, those connected with literature, science, the arts, and commerce, in all its principal branches, as well as those who do not belong to any particular class.

The opinion of Dr. Johnson on the subject of clubs and club life is well known to every reader of Boswell. A gentleman venturing one day to say to the learned doctor that he sometimes wondered at his condescending to attend a club, the latter replied: "Sir, the great chair of a full and pleasant town club is, perhaps, the throne of human felicity." A gentleman who knew something about the chocolate and coffee houses and what we may call the "club life" of his day, has given a sketch of St. James' Coffee House, which stood at the western end of Pall Mall. He modestly surmised that detractors had some color for calling him the King of Clubs, and oracularly said that "All celebrated clubs were founded on eating and drinking, which were points where most men agree, and in which the learned and the illiterate, the dull and the airy, the philosopher and the buffoon, can all of them bear a part."

According to John Timbs, Pall Mall was noted for its tavern clubs more than three centuries ago. "The first time that Peppys mentions it" is under date of July 26, 1660, when he says: "We went to Wood's, our old house of club life, and there we spent till ten at night." The passage is strangely curious, not only as showing how even at that time Pall Mall was famous for its houses of entertainment, but also as the earliest instance of the use of the word "club" in the sense now so commonly in use.

Thackeray describes the club life at the West End in Queen Anne's day with his usual felicitous manner. "It was too hard, too coarse a life, for the sensitive and sickly Pope. He was the only wit of the day—he was not fat. Swift was fat; Addison was fat; Steele was fat; Gay and Thompson were preposterously fat. All that fuddling and punch drinking, that club and coffee house boozing shortened the lives and enlarged the waistcoats of the men of the age." "The chief of the wits of his time, with the exception of Congreve," he writes further, "were what we should now call men's men." They spent many hours of the four and twenty, nearly a fourth part of each day, in clubs and coffee houses, where they dined, drank and smoked. Wit and news went by word of mouth. A journal of 1710 contained the very smallest portion of either the one or the other. The chiefs spoke, the faithful "habitués" sat around; strangers came to wonder and listen. The male society passed over their punch bowls and tobacco pipes almost as much time as the ladies of that age spent over spindles and manille.

We see no sign of club life in the tatty writings of Horace Walpole, though so many of his personal friends—George Selwyn, for instance—were devoted to its pleasure. For himself, so it is stated, he was hardly robust enough to live in such an atmosphere.

CITY BRIEFLETS

DISTINGUISHED CHURCHMAN REVISITS HIS FORMER FIELDS.

Rev. Philip R. Roy, rector of St. Peter's Church in Quebec City, has been on a visit to his old parishioners in Melbourne, and will spend his whole vacation seeing his old friends in the Eastern Townships. Mr. Roy's first parish was at Melbourne, in 1914, and from the end of that year until 1920 he was at St. John's, where he became the first rector of St. John's Church, where he remained until 1923. From thence he was called to Quebec at the close of 1923.

Rev. Mr. Roy is accompanied by Mrs. Roy and little Marion and Phyllis, their daughters. Mrs. Roy before her marriage was Miss Winifred Charlton. Her parents lived on Queen street, in Sherbrooke. This afternoon the rejoicing tourists left for East Angus.

of the Regency belonged exclusively to the aristocracy. In the words of Captain Gronow, "My tradesman," as King Allan used to call the bankers and the merchants, who had not then invaded White's, Brook's, Boodle's, or Watier's in Belton Street, Piccadilly; which with the Guards', Arthur's, and Graham's were the only clubs in the West End. "White's" was decidedly the most difficult of entry; its list of members comprising nearly all the noble names of Great Britain. Having access was carried on to such an extent that it made ravages in large fortunes. General Scott, the father-in-law of George Canning and the Duke of Portland, was known to have won at "White's" a large fortune, thanks to his notorious sobriety and complete knowledge of the game of whist. The general possessed a great advantage over his companions by avoiding those indulgences at the table which used to befuddle other men's brains. He confined himself to dining off something like boiled chicken with toast and water. By such a regime he came to the whist table with a clear head, and possessing as he did a remarkable memory, with great coolness, he was able to boast that he had won honestly more than a quarter of a million pounds.

Dr. Johnson considered that "the full tide of human life could be seen nowhere except in the Strand," but in fifty years after his death the centre of social London had moved somewhat further west, and Theodore Hook, in the reign of William IV, maintained that "the real London is the space between Pall Mall on the south, Piccadilly on the north, St. James' street on the west, and the Opera House to the east." At this period it is to be observed that he himself lived just outside the "social world" which he defined with such geographical precision, being then a tenant of a house in Cleveland Row.

Many of the old clubs have passed away, for though some of them or similar societies may still exist, they live behind the scenes, instead of figuring conspicuously on the stage of life in the metropolis. Quite a new order of things sprung up from small social meetings held periodically, the clubs have become permanent establishments, luxurious in their appointments, some of them occupying buildings which are quite palatial.

Thackeray was a member of the Reform, Athenaeum, and Garrick clubs—perhaps of others, but it was in those named that his leisure was usually spent. "The afternoons of the last days of his life," writes one of his biographers, "were almost entirely passed at the Reform Club, and never had he been more genial or in such apparently happy moods. Many men sitting in the libraries and dining rooms of these clubs have thought this week one of the tenderest passages in his early sketches—'Brown the younger at a Club'—in which the old uncle is represented as telling his nephew, 'New Monthly Magazine' in 1842, which states that "After all, clubs are not altogether so bad a thing for family men. They act as conductors to the storms usually hovering in the air. There is nothing like the subordination exercised in a community of equals for reducing a fiery and uncontrollable temper."

The spread and increase of clubs are remarkable signs of the times. Their uses and advantages are such as to make one wonder not only why such things were not established much earlier than they were, but how "men about town" existed without them.

LIQUOR ISSUES LEAD ADVANCE AT MONTREAL

With Promise of Record-Breaking Trading Volume, Industrial Alcohol Advanced 4 1/2 Points—Whole List Strong.

Montreal, July 13.—With prospects of one of the heaviest trading volumes of this year, alcohols led prices on the Montreal Stock Exchange into new high territories during the early dealings today.

Canadian Industrial Alcohol "A," which gained two points during yesterday's session, soared 4 1/2 points to 23 after selling up to a new high at 23 1/2. It opened at 19 1/2 and the thousands of overnight orders quickly boosted the price. The "B" recorded a even larger advance than the "A," with a rise of 4 7/8 points at 21, a new peak for the year or longer.

National Breweries continued yesterday's smart upward and in sympathy with the alcohols mounted to a new top at 29 1/2, but later suffered a slight recession to 29, where it was 1 3/4 points higher.

Brazilian Traction was the centre of the normal trading which showed strength from the opening bell. The South American Utility, with nearly 24,000 shares changing hands in little more than an hour, the whole list accounting for nearly 61,000 shares, mounted to 18. It later eased to 17 7/8, where it was up 1-2.

Steel of Canada rose to a new high at 32 where it was held a point higher. Dominion Bridge was unchanged while Dominion Steel and Coal and General Steel Wares were fractionally higher and Hamilton Bridge was off a small amount.

Bruck Silk was an active feature and rose 3-8 points to a new maximum at 17 7/8. Canadian Bronze was also at a new top with a 1-4 rise at 25 as did Quebec Power at 23 3/4 up 3-4. B. C. Power, Dryden, Gypsum, Gurd, McColl-Frontenac, and Price preferred were up fractions.

Montreal Tramways dipped five points at 95 and Lake of the Woods lost a point at 17. Power Corporation, Shawinigan Power, Canada Northern Power, Massey-Harris and Howard Smith were fractionally lower.

Among the issues to hold up unchanged were Canadian Car, Cement, Cockshutt Plov, National Steel Car, Price Brothers, Winnipeg Electric, Hollinger and B. C. Packers.

STOCK PRICES ADVANCED ON WALL STREET TODAY

New York, July 13.—Stocks advanced one to more than four points in an early flourish today. Commodity issues were the most active participants and included the high-flying "wet" shares, sugars and metals. A wide variety of industrials were in demand while rails advanced in less active dealings.

American Commercial Alcohol soared eight points. Issues up three or more included United States Smelting, United Aircraft, International Silver, American Sugar Refining and United States Industrial Alcohol. Advance of around two were registered in Great Western Sugar, American Telephone, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Case and Columbian Carbon. United States Steel and General Motors firmed major fractions.

day in the matter of bacchanalian festivities. It may be said in all severity that high play and high feeding are no longer the rules; in fact, clubs are to many persons even dull and unexciting. In most of the clubs of the Johnsonian period, the flow of wine or other liquor was far more abundant than that of mind, and the conversation was more generally easy and banal than intellectual and refined. The bottle, or else the punch bowl, played by far too prominent a part, and sociability frequently took the form of revelry, or at least what would be considered such according to our more temperate habits. Though in general the older clubs encouraged habits of free indulgence as indispensable to good fellowship and sociability, the modern clubs, on the contrary, have done considerably to discourage them as being vulgar and ungentlemanly. "Reeling home from a club" was a common expression used in bygone days, whereas today, inebriety, or the symptom of it, in a club would bring down upon the guilty one's head anathema and disgrace.

The pleasures and comforts of clubs and club life, but it was in those named that his leisure was usually spent. "The afternoons of the last days of his life," writes one of his biographers, "were almost entirely passed at the Reform Club, and never had he been more genial or in such apparently happy moods. Many men sitting in the libraries and dining rooms of these clubs have thought this week one of the tenderest passages in his early sketches—'Brown the younger at a Club'—in which the old uncle is represented as telling his nephew, 'New Monthly Magazine' in 1842, which states that "After all, clubs are not altogether so bad a thing for family men. If you ever get even with the fellow who does you wrong you will have to drop to his level. Revenge is sweet, but if a fellow has to do that revenge costs too much.

WHERE EVERY TAX DOLLAR GOES AND HOW MUCH EACH PERSON PAYS.

So that the taxpayers may understand just how each dollar of the collections are spent the City Treasurer has prepared his statement on what part of the dollar goes to each service.

Schools cost 28.29 per cent. of the collections. Interest on moneys borrowed for the electric light, water, gas and equipment takes 25.87 per cent. of each dollar for the mortgages or bonds.

Insurance and other fixed charges takes 2.38 per cent. of the dollar.

City Hall salaries cost 4.68 cents on every dollar. Delegations, law costs, grants, and elections cost 2.61 per cent.

The Soup Kitchen and other costs of taking care of the poor cost $48,376.02, or 6.24 per cent. of the taxes gathered.

Firemen and police protection cost 10.30 per cent., or a total of $60,732.07.

Health and Sanitary arrangements for the year cost 1.36 of each dollar.

New roads and upkeep of streets take 7.54 of each dollar.

Parks for the children and grown-ups absorb .93 per cent. of the dollar.

Upkeep of City Hall building costs decimal .74 of the dollar.

Engineers cost .29 per cent. and the upkeep of the market costs decimal .73.

$32,649.63 passed to the Sinking Fund represented 4.19, whilst there was 1.66 per cent. written off for depreciation.

The total expenditure was $778,670, or 99.87 of the collections, as against $786,187.10 the year before, or 99.42 per cent.

This represents lesser expenditures of $7,517.94 in 1932 as compared with the previous year, with a per capita expenditure for each man, woman and child of $19.61.

In addition, the cost per person for electricity, water and gas was $3.16, and from other sources of revenue the city gathered $3.42 per person, or $26.19 per each person in the city.

That is about equal to the total tax per family and home before the city entered into the varied business of production and competition with the individual.

The per capita figures are based on a population of 29,769, which pre-supposes an increase in the number of inhabitants despite the larger number of vacant houses, or an increase of about 1,000 persons in a hard times year.

FARM OWNERSHIP AND TENANCY.

Quebec stands well as owner-operator of farms, the total rented farms in the province being only seven per cent., even though all the Maritime Provinces show an even better standing. In order of farmers who own and operate their own farms the standing as given by the Federal Department of Agriculture is:

Nova Scotia	94.25
Prince Edward Island	93.98
New Brunswick	93.85
Quebec	93.09
British Columbia	82.00
Ontario	81.92
Alberta	72.95
Manitoba	70.06
Saskatchewan	66.45

Prince Edward Island, long at the top, in a period of twenty years, dropped from 95.33 to 93.98, whilst Nova Scotia climbed to the top.

BANKERS TO IMPROVE PUBLIC RELATIONS.

Philip M. Robins, of the Sherbrooke Trust, is the representative of the Financial Advertisers Association, with membership all over North America. The official head of the organization is the President of the Bankers' Trust Company in New York. Mr. Lyon, at the coming fall convention, will stress the need to improve closer relations of the banks and trust companies to the public. To attain this end the Public Relations Departments of the banks and trust companies will be strengthened by men who understand that the service end of the modern financial institution is to be helpful to its patrons. These departments have too often been neglected so that they are enveloped in routine and mere detail.

The directors of all financial institutions are beginning to realize that many of their prospects and customers are both aware of and deeply interested in the functions of banking, with its ideals, its possibilities and its standing. They are now alive to the fact that there must exist a positive and favourable public opinion, rather than to allow rumours and irresponsible statements to misguide public thinking.

G. L. Spry, Canadian director of the Financial Advertisers Association, expresses the opinion that newspaper advertising, which embraces newspapers, magazines and financial journals, will be employed in the development of a better understanding between financial institutions and the public.

HARD TO RESIST AND TO GUARD THE TREASURY.

Importunity is the bane of life to men who hold a responsible position in a government.

Few are they who are born to resist the subtleties of the lobbyist or the beseecher who can see only his own selfish desire.

Growing expenses of government, mounting costs and tax burdens have been so common that many people accept them as a matter of course.

We may applaud a saving to the government of a quarter of a million dollars and a simplifying of the conduct of our criminal courts by the abolition of the grand jury system, but the self-seeker will storm the government with the argument that "you have saved a quarter million dollars; let me have a small share of it for my project." It is the lobbyist's point of view—selfishness.

Thirty years ago the whole provincial government of the province could have been carried on with the profits from the questionable liquor business in the government stores. But those prospective profits, intended for charities and hospitals, were eaten up by the horde of lobbyists who infest the Legislative building.

Surely, with the acclaim of their supporters, and with the disdain so publicly voiced toward the importunists, governments should have the backbone to tell these hungry contractors to go to the devil.

We criticize wasteful expenditures and burdensome taxation; we deride the folly of the meal tax, the supreme silliness of the sugar tax chiefly to help the governments to voice their disapproval and to give them the perfect alibi to refuse to be moved by importunity.

The fallacy of a tax on food, the folly of all irritating taxes, has the proof of its ultimate defeat in the pages of history. The present tax collectors are as rabid as in the days of the French Revolution, when the people, first vexed, became outrageously angry.

When so many of the petty exactions could very well be done without, surely it is only the exercise of wisdom to first abolish them and then save the need of them by the exercise of stringent economies. There are so many fads and fancies calling for corps of employees which could very well be done without, did the statesmen of the day disregard the self-seekers and abolish all such departments.

It does require cold-blooded courage. So does the first plunge of the small boy into water beyond his depth, but he feels better after it.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

That the guards at the penitentiaries were guilty of all the rioting and ructions has been pretty well proven by the convicts who appeared before the investigating court. The latter were innocents immured. Indeed, it is asserted that the convicts spend all their time and thought in quelling the rioters.

Making it a very profitable industry the associates of the kidnapped men in the United States are paying promptly the demands of the brigands who have given up bootlegging for preying upon the wealthy.

Before an aviator can hop off into the void he should make a deposit of a thousand dollars as a fund to go help find him.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.

July 13th, 1903.
Tristram Allan Mackinnon, educated at Richmond, St. Francis College, and vice-president and general manager of the Boston & Maine, died in Boston. A young Irishman from Londonderry, he spent all his adult life in railroading in Canada. He was an elder brother of James Mackinnon, of Sherbrooke, and had other distinguished brothers.

Hon. Mr. Duffy, deceased Provincial Treasurer, had practically bequeathed his office to Peter Mackenzie, the member for Richmond, his desire being conveyed in a message to the Premier. Mr. Mackenzie had his trunk packed for a trip to Australia at the time of Mr. Duffy's death, but he did not go.

Harvard University gave an M. A. degree to Miss Alice Fraser, of Richmond. Miss Fraser had won a scholarship. At the age of 18 she was given her B. A. at McGill, together with the Shakespeare gold medal.

W. M. Tomlinson prepared his staff for the Sherbrooke Fair with this nucleus: P. T. Enright, assistant secretary, Carl Jewell, Dallas Bray, Gordon Harkness, Stuart Greenshield, Miss Johnston.

Political manipulators were trying to persuade J. C. McCorkill to resign his Federal seat and contest Brom as a prospective Provincial Treasurer.

Prince of Wales, present King George, made a hit in visiting the U. S. flag ship, then anchored at Portsmouth, England.

Among the cottagers in residence at Little Lake were: N. T. Dussault, C. H. Foss, H. H. Morency, C. C. Knight, B. C. Howard, Neil Dinning, W. H. Bottomé.

W. B. McCaw bought a lot in the North Ward from Andrew Steele for $1,400, whilst James Grant paid $1,600 for a lot in the South Ward.

Col. E. B. Worthington and Surgeon Colonel A. N. Worthington returned from the Three Rivers camp, together with Major T. S. Somers.

On Ness Hill Margaret Georgia Morrison became the bride of Dr. William Smellie, of Arundell.

Fred McKee took charge of the new R. F. McKee store in Richmond.

Boathouses on the Magog river were blocked by drives of logs.

The Scawinepeas Yacht Club flourished at Little Lake Magog.

Colourful, impressive ceremonial is a thing the Roman Catholic Church understands.

His Lordship Alphonse Osiac Gagnon, Bishop of Sherbrooke, celebrated yesterday the golden jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood of the oldest Christian Church.

The Pope sent a wireless message of blessing and congratulation.

To the grey stone palace on the hill came Cardinal Villeneuve, only Canadian Prince of the Church, Papal Delegate Cassulo, half a dozen Bishops, and hosts of lesser clergy.

The streets of the city were gay with flags; the Mayor had proclaimed a bank holiday.

In the Cathedral priests chanted, choirs filled the vaults with Gregorian song, candles burned, gold vestments gleamed, censors spouted billows of fragrant smoke.

Two years ago I visited Quebec City with Leslie Callan, cartoonist of The Vancouver Sun.

We inspected Holy Trinity Cathedral, the Anglican Bishop's Church. Then we went through Cardinal Villeneuve's rich Basilica.

Said Callan, who has the eye of an artist:

"What a resemblance, yet what a difference! The dignity of Britain and the majesty of Rome!"

I remembered that remark of his yesterday.

Canadians will understand his reaction as few others could do.

Canada is, par excellence, the modern nation which best exemplifies brotherhood between varying races, languages and creeds.

In Montreal last week Doctor David Ballon, a Jew, was appointed head of an important department in the Royal Victoria Hospital.

The newspapers hailed the appointment with columns of space. Messages poured into the Ballon home from all over North America. Doctor Ballon's sister is Canada's foremost pianist. His brother-in-law, Alton Goldbloom, ranks among the Dominion's most famous specialists.

If Chancellor Adolf Hitler's rule about the exclusion from high position of all so-called "non-nationals" were applied in this country, Canada would be deprived of the services of many an outstanding Canadian family.

Hitlerism is one thing Canadians do NOT understand, do not want to understand.

On Sunday I paid my annual visit to the summer camp of the Fourth Troop, Sherbrooke Boy Scouts.

Out there, by Memphremagog, under the dark green trees and stary skies, I saw a scene which is always impressive.

The Scouts were holding their council fire.

Red flames roared, golden sparks streamed upward. On logs in the dancing firelight squatted a score of boys, gathered to sum up the day's activities, to sing songs.

There is only one adjective which fully describes a Scout gathering of that kind.

That adjective is "Canadian."

Scouting is based on the outdoor lore of the Ojibway, the Abenakis, the Huron, the Iroquois. It incorporates a great deal of the technique of the French-Canadian coureurs-de-bob.

It insists, too, on that spirit of fair-play which was so nobly exemplified by James Wolfe in the tense days before the thirteenth of September, 1759.

A Boy Scout council fire is more Canadian than a Canadian parliament.

I noticed, at Sunday night's pow-wow, that the boy whose voice was truest and sweetest, who sang with most gusto, was a stout little Jewish-Canadian.

The leader whose patrol had the highest score of "points" on the board which stands below the flagpole was also a Jewish-Canadian.

There is no room in our minds, and no time in our lives, for prejudices.

We Canadians have important work to do in the world.

We need all the brains we have to do it with.

"The dignity of Britain and the majesty of Rome!"

Aye.

And the friendliness, the teamwork and the forward-looking of Canada.

Press Comment

St. Thomas Times-Journal.

SHOULD BE ABOVE POLITICS

We should like to see the appointment of judges divorced entirely from politics, and would favor leaving the matter of recommendation to a non-political body, such as a committee of High Court Judges. Such a committee would be able to select men eminently qualified by knowledge of the law, clearness of intellect, abundant common sense and lucidity of expression to adorn the bench.

CHANGING ONE'S MIND

Border Cities Star.

Miss Macphail comments at some length on Mr. Bennett's conversion or change of opinion with respect to money and tariffs.

Well, if the Prime Minister has changed his mind on some things—a reciprocal trade agreement with the United States, for instance—all that we can say is, "More power to him." It takes a good deal of courage for a public man to change his mind, publicly, and when he does so he is entitled to praise rather than criticism.

Only fools, it has been said, refuse to alter their opinions.

NOT SUCH A SICK OLD WORLD, NOT IN CANADA.

Canadian Business.

Once again, people are thinking "this isn't such a bad old world after all," even in business.

In fact for the first time in over three years, we find them walking down Main street at a quickened pace wearing a honest-to-goodness grin that radiates a warmth of good feeling and a decided confidence in the future.

Like our little friend the groundhog, confidence is hibernating no more and the bitter winter of depression is a thing of the past.

Nor does this springtime seem to be premature. The times contain definite indications of sustained improvement in the economic situation and we believe the line tending toward the north-east corner of the business chart will keep on moving in the desired direction.

NONE SO FORTUNATE

Halifax Herald.

Addressing a meeting held at Owen Sound, under the auspices of a Canadian Legion branch, Capt. Elmore Phillipott is reported to have said: "Her soldiers fought to make Canada a land fit for heroes to live in, but it takes a hero to live in Canada."

Agnes Macphail, M.P., President of the Ontario branch of the C.C.F., also spoke at the meeting.

It is rather a pity to see returned soldiers' affairs mixed up, if even in a small degree, with party politics in this country. The Herald yields to no other paper in Canada in its interest in ex-Service men and their problems, but we cannot see that it helps the cause of the ex-Service man to make statements such as the one quoted.

During the past three years the world has been passing through hard difficult times, the direct results of the Great War, and of all world countries Canada has weathered the storm the best. This country has looked after its unemployed in very fine fashion during this crisis, and where destitution and want occurred it has been the purpose of all governments—Federal, provincial, municipal and civic—to alleviate distress insofar as possible.

To say that "it takes a hero to live in Canada" is not just fair to this country, because if it takes a hero to live in Canada today, it takes a greater hero to live in any other country.

UPPER HOUSE REFORM

Moncton Transcript.

The states in Australia still cling to their second or upper house in the face of the fact that the British Empire is the only province in Canada to do so.

This upper house Council acted as a brake during the regime of J. T. Lang and his Socialistic government in New South Wales, who attempted to abolish it. To do so, premier Lang nominated a large number of his own following, but after their election they declined to do his bidding. Subsequently he attempted to swamp the Council with an added number of nominees but this action was dismissed before the Privy Council.

The present Stevens government recently submitted a reform measure to the people by referendum which was passed. The Labor-Socialist Opposition party sought an injunction to restrain the Government from proceeding with the reform of the Council, but the three judges in equity decided unanimously against them. Instead of 122 nominees, the Council will consist of sixty members elected jointly by Assembly and Council. Membership is to be for twelve years, twenty being elected every four years. Swamping the Council no longer will be possible.

The Assembly retains the power of the purse. An ordinary supply bill may become law after the Council has had an opportunity of criticism even if the Councilors do not concur. They cannot be so easily ignored in the passing of other measures, such as taxation. If the Council rejects, the Assembly may pass the measure again after three months. If the Council again refuses and a conference of the two houses fails to bring an agreement, the bill may then be submitted by referendum to the decision of the electors. Australia has made some experiments in government and this, it seems, is another.

FEUD OVER WOMAN ENDS IN FATAL SHOOTING

New York, July 13.—Anthony Drago whipped out a pistol and shot George Vilva dead when they encountered each other on a Brooklyn street yesterday.

"I got him," shouted Drago, surrendering to a policeman. "I got revenge."

Questioned later, Drago told police he had been "gutting" a year and a half for the man who stabbed him in a fight over a woman.

MARRIAGES, BIRTHS AND DEATHS RECORD DECLINE

For First Four Months of 1933 Births Totalled 25,189, Marriages 3,279 and Deaths 11,046 in Quebec Province.

Quebec, July 13.—A decrease in the number of births, fewer marriages and a lower death rate were shown by the vital statistics of the Province of Quebec for April this year when compared to the same month a year ago.

In April, 1933, there were 6,240 births, 1,003 marriages and 2,513 deaths, while the corresponding figures for April last year were 8,351 births, 1,104 marriages and 3,187 deaths.

During the first four months of the year there were 25,189 births.

3,279 marriages and 11,046 deaths against 27,876 births, 3,566 marriages and 11,775 deaths for the same period in 1932.

LENNOXVILLE

CHOIR HELD ANNUAL PICNIC
The Choral Antoinette of St. Anthony's Church held its annual picnic yesterday, with about twenty of its members present. The party spent the day in the grounds at the residence of Mrs. A. O. Beck, Brewster street, and greatly enjoyed the beautiful weather and the picnic lunch with which they had been provided. The president of the choir, Mrs. A. Doyon, the vice-president, Mrs. George Tetreault, and the directress, Miss M. A. Trudel, were among those present.

During Banquet Yesterday, which Marked Conclusion of Celebration in Honor of Bishop Gagnon, Papal Delegate Announced that Canon Letendre Had Been Elevated to Higher Rank in Church.

The imposing two-days celebration commemorating the golden jubilee of the ordination to the priesthood of His Lordship Bishop A. O. Gagnon, Lord Bishop of Sherbrooke, was brought to a happy conclusion with a sumptuous banquet in St. Charles Seminary at noon yesterday.

The gathering, numbering over three hundred and comprising the visiting church dignitaries, the clergy and prominent local citizens, was presided over by His Eminence Cardinal Villeneuve. Seated to the right and left of the Cardinal were Bishop Gagnon and His Excellency Mgr. Andrea Cassulo, Papal Delegate. His Worship Mayor Forest was also a guest at the head table, as well as five visiting bishops.

Speaking from the depths of his heart, Bishop Gagnon expressed his deep gratitude for the marvelous tribute which had been paid to him on this happy occasion. He thanked His Eminence the Cardinal and the Apostolic Delegate for having honored the occasion with their presence, and expressed appreciation to the visiting bishops, to his clergy and to the Mayor and citizens of Sherbrooke for their kindness towards him.

From his remarks it was quite evident that the Lord Bishop was deeply touched by the tribute which had been paid him and that he was both pleased and grateful to his friends and to the community at large for the manner in which they had honored him upon the completion of half a century as a priest and servant of the church.

It was indeed with satisfaction that the gathering heard the important announcement made by His Excellency the Apostolic Delegate. His Excellency said that, acting upon instructions received from His Holiness the Pope, it was his pleasure to announce that Mgr. J. E. M. Vincent, Vicar-General of the diocese of Sherbrooke, had been officially named monsignor, and that a similar honor had been conferred upon Rev. Canon Letendre, parish priest of the Cathedral. Mgr. Vincent has for some time been recognized as a monsignor, although it was only yesterday that official announcement to the effect was made.

Mgr. Letendre has rendered valuable services to the diocese in his capacity as parish priest of the Cathedral, and the honor conferred upon him by the Holy Father meets with the approval of his many friends and admirers.

Yesterday was a happy day for C. E. Parrot, a member of La Tribune editorial staff, and his family, who were awarded the special privilege of being received by His Eminence during the brief respite in his busy round of official duties. Mr. Parrot, who is one of Sherbrooke's most popular French-speaking journalists, has known His Eminence since the year 1902. In that year the future Cardinal and Mr. Parrot were together at Ottawa University. In 1906 Mr. Parrot was a student in a class under the direction of the Cardinal, who was then Father Villeneuve.

Upon his arrival in Sherbrooke on Tuesday, His Eminence expressed great pleasure at meeting his old friend, and said that he hoped to be able to pay a personal visit to Mr. Parrot's home during his stay in the city. However, finding that it would be quite impossible for him to visit Mr. Parrot at his home, the Cardinal asked that Mr. Parrot and his family meet him at the Bishop's Palace. The result was that Mr. and Mrs. Parrot and their two daughters proudly made their way to the Palace and spent fifteen minutes in the presence of His Eminence.

Following the banquet the distinguished visitors took their leave. The clergy from near-by parishes also left during the afternoon and early evening, and the celebration quietly came to an end.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE HELD SOCIAL GATHERING
The July meeting of the Belvedere Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Gilles and Miss Doris Gilles, with the president, Miss F. J. Drummond, in the chair. There was a good attendance of members and, as the meeting took the form of a social gathering, there were also many visitors present.

The report of Mrs. Irvin Smith, branch delegate to the recent convention held at Macdonald College, was the most interesting part of the business meeting. The members also were all very glad indeed to learn that one of their fellow members, Miss Irene Collins, had the honor of being chosen as Provincial Convener for Child Welfare.

Plans were made for a flower exhibit at the August meeting. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Roy Gilles.

AND STILL THE FIGHT GOES ON
The sporting element of the district may be putting every ounce of energy into the various summer activities, while more serious-minded persons may be tiring themselves out trying to find a solution to the depression and other world problems, but there is another group of busy individuals who have little time for such matters.

These busy-bodies have their own fight, not a fistic fight in the real sense of the word, but rather a contest. They are competing for the crown of achievement and are putting up a bold front, each determined to come out on top. Members of this interesting little army, are the competitors in the Lennoxville Experimental Farm Egg-Laying Contest.

The pen of Barred Rocks entered by L. A. Gnaedinger, of Valleyfield, at present holds top position with 1,801.4 points. Their closest rival are the birds of the same breed entered by C. R. Waldron, of Sawyerville, which have to their credit a total of 1,706.6 points.

The owners of the next four leading pens, all Barred Rocks, with the points scored to date, are as follows: W. M. Oliver, Baie d'Urfé, 1,682.6; J. M. Scott, Sawyerville, 1,668 points; Mrs. L. H. Parker, Hatley, 1,645.4 points, and La Ferme Experimentale, 1,620.8 points.

CAMP PLANNED

Mrs. R. S. Giff presided at a special meeting of the Seventh Troop Boy Scouts Mothers' Auxiliary, held last evening at her home on Fairmount avenue. An outline on camps and camp sites was brought before the meeting by Scoutmaster Bench, and after some discussion the members of the Auxiliary decided to co-operate with Mr. Bench in helping the boys to spend two weeks under canvas during the latter part of July.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served delicious refreshments, assisted by her daughter, Miss Jean, and her son, Cub Kenneth Giff.

CHIEF H. O. CAMIRAND NAMED TO EXECUTIVE POSITION

Sherbrooke's own Chief of Police, H. O. Camirand, has been named to the executive board of the Province of Quebec Police and Fire Chiefs' Association.

The busy two-day convention of chiefs from all section of the province came to an end in Montreal yesterday with the election of the 1933-34 officers. The new president is L. B. Temple, of the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Company, who succeeds Chief Georges Ducher, of Lachine.

The 1934 meeting of the Association will take place in Three Rivers, when a special celebration will be held to mark the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of that city.

Reports submitted at yesterday's session showed that the organization is in a sound position financially, and that there has been a steady increase in membership. Over two hundred applications for membership were received during the few weeks preceding the convention.

BROMPTON ROAD WALL ADVANCES RAPIDLY

Officials at the Sherbrooke Road Department advised the Record this morning that workmen were making steady progress in the construction of the stone wall that is being built along the Brompton Road near Queen Street. About twenty unemployed men, apart from the regular city employees, are engaged on the project. The excavation, authorities stated, is partially completed, and the wall, which will be topped by an iron railing, is going up rapidly. The work is expected to be finished in about two weeks.

The general contractor in charge of the St. Jean Baptiste School addition in East Sherbrooke and the municipal road workers have "teamed up," so to speak. The city is furnishing the trucks for the removal of the earth during the excavation for the school addition, and this earth is being transported to Murray street, where thirty men, the majority indigents, are employed opening up the thoroughfare. This earth is being used to level the street. Work is advancing quite rapidly on the Murray street undertaking, although the project will not be completed for a considerable time to come.

DIFFERENT VIEWS HELD ON WHAT CONSTITUTES BEAUTY

About the Most Reliable Quality Beauty Aspirants Should Have Is Ability to Make Judges Agree.

New York, July 13.—The perfect beauty for 1933, if a composite of the standards of Peter Arno, Jefferson Machamer, Arthur William Brown, Russell Patterson, Philip Dunning and Leroy Ward is a criterion, will be—
Tall and lissome but not over five feet, a platinum blonde with raven tresses and with one blue eye and one brown, a patrician nose with an Irish tilt, a striking personality of the demure type, and the ability to make the judges agree.
The six artists held a conference yesterday on their duties as judges of a beauty contest at the Westchester Country Club on Friday for the benefit of an orphanage.
"The important thing in judging this beauty contest," Machamer began, "is to consider the eyebrows."
"Eyebrows my eye," interrupted Brown. "The most important point is personality. Now—"
"Personality pooh," cut in Ward, who designs penthouses. "It's a matter of figure. If you'll listen to me—"
"If we listen to you," declared Arno, "we'll be selecting a model for the newest thing in tiled roofs. As a matter of fact the nose is one of the first things to consider. Now, I think—"
"With what?" Patterson inquired.
"Now a girl's hair is—"
"Rarely the same shade two days in a row," chorused the others, and they decided to wait until they see the contestants.

IRISHMEN PUT TWO TEAMS OUT OF PLAY-OFFS

St. Pat's Sparkling Victory Over Paton Mill Last Evening Eliminated Lennoxville II and Paton's from Klein Cup Series—Kaysers and Mitchell's Chalked Up Victories.

St. Pat's clinched a berth in the Klein Cup play-off last evening and at the same time eliminated both Lennoxville II and Paton Mills from the ranks of eligible for the series for the trophy offered by the Sherbrooke Softball League by the Julius Kaysers sportsman. One of the largest crowds of the 1933 season turned out to witness a duel between two of the leading hurlers in the circuit, Armand Filion, St. Pat's star pitcher, opposed Emilie Yergeau, Paton's ace, and the former captured the honors by a wide margin.

The Irishmen's victory created the only change in the standings. Their thirteen to three margin established the Irish margin "Old Boys" on the threshold of a series with the Mitchell entry, who went through the motions to gain a twenty-one to ten verdict over the Regiment Reds. The third game of the evening resulted in an eighteen to nine triumph for Julius Kaysers over the Cotton Mills to lift the Silk Hostlers to a tie with Lennoxville I in second place behind the Independents, each team having one game yet to play to complete its schedule.

With Filion in top form, St. Pat's played a flawless game. In every inning Paton's placed men on bases, but sharp fielding resulted in eight runners being stranded on the paths. Filion raised his strike-out total considerably during last night's performance while the bases on balls he issued were few and far between. On the other hand, the Irishmen did not take long to solve Yergeau's southpaw deliveries. The Paton pitcher was wild, especially in the third inning, when a parade of free bases as to first walked several runs across the plate.

St. Pat's sewed the game away in the second and third innings when twelve of their thirteen runs were registered. Paton's had garnered a single tally in their half of the second frame, but a timely triple by Allan Murray proved the principal blow which saw the Irishmen assume a four to one advantage. A regular merry-go-round was introduced in the third, chuckles when no less than twelve batters faced Yergeau to account for eight additional points. It was in this session that the Paton artist was unable to find the plate with the bases crowded. Paton's notched their second counter in the last half of the third chapter and sent across their third and last run in the fifth. In St. Pat's half of this canto, Emmett McWilliams pounded out a three-bagger to place the Irishmen's thirteenth run in scoring position.

The entire infield functioned with machine-like precision, while Luc Roy and Bob Dunsmore proved the best fly hawks. A. Rondeau, the losers' right fielder, turned in a useful game for the Belvedere street squad.

The score by innings was as follows:
Paton 011 010 0—3
St. Pat's 048 010 0—13

The line-ups were as follows:
Paton: L. Bibeau, A. Rondeau, E. Yergeau, R. Lessard, R. Bibeau, R. Rondeau, Palardy, Lavardiere, Berard and Gervais.
St. Pat's: Roy, McWilliams, T. Wolfe, O'Donnell, Boisvert, L. Shields, Dunsmore, Crocheters, Filion, Murray and E. Wolfe.

MITCHELL'S CHALKED UP EIGHTH VICTORY

Mitchell's finished their schedule with a flourish by inflicting a twenty-one to ten defeat on the Regiment Reds. The hardware merchants found the range before the Soldiers, and had scored four bull's eyes in the first two frames before their opponents could connect for a brace in the last half of the second canto.

As a preliminary to their skirmishes in the fourth and fifth cantos, Mitchell's produced one run in the third and then led Roy's heavy artillery began to knock holes through the Reds' defence. Before the onslaughts could be calmed, Mitchell's scored five times in the fourth and shoved over a half dozen more tallies in the fifth. Their scoring activities were brought to a conclusion in the sixth session with three counters.

Mike Farrell's deliveries moved the Regiment batters down with consistency. The Reds succeeded in sending two runners across the plate in the third, and after being held scoreless in the fourth, came back with a brace in the fifth. The Militia's principal offensive was launched in the final inning when a succession of safeties accumulated four points.

The score by innings was as follows:
Mitchell's 421 503 0—21
Regiment Reds 022 024 0—10

The line-ups were as follows:
Mitchell's: Baker, Theberge, Camire, Trotter, Gosselin, Rousseau, S. Farrell, M. Farrell, Ward and Ross.
Regiment Reds: Darcy, Bell, Ross, Eichenberg, H. Martin, Wyatt, E. Martin, Hindmarch, Taylor, Heath and Hatch.

KAYSER MAINTAINED EARLY LEAD

Julius Kaysers lost no time in assuming an early advantage and during the first two frames retired as many runs as the Cotton Mills notched in the entire game. Cottons had tied Kaysers' first-inning lead in their half of the second, but in the same hectic frame no less than thirteen Kaysers batters walked to the plate and brought eight runs across. The Pacific street aggregation whittled their opponents' lead

CHICAGO CUBS ADVANCE INTO SECOND PLACE

National League Champions Downed St. Louis by Down-Beating Brooklyn, While Pace-Setting Giants Blanked Cardinals—Washington and New York Kept Pace with Victories.

New York, July 13.—The champion Chicago Cubs, who haven't been attracting a great deal of attention by their performances this season, have slipped into second place in the National League standing.

While first the St. Louis Cardinals, then the league-leading New York Giants have been floundering around, the Cubs have been winning games quietly but steadily. They haven't been hitting hard, but their blows have been timely and they have benefited from some great pitching. As a result they have chalked up thirteen victories in eighteen starts since the last time they lost more than two in a row.

The Cubs extended their current winning streak to seven straight yesterday with a five to three victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who haven't won a game at Wrigley Field since last July.

The Giants meanwhile shook off their streak of bad fielding as Hal Schumacher presented them with another six-hit pitching performance, and they defeated St. Louis by three to nothing to increase their own lead and to shove the Cards down into third place.

The Pittsburgh Pirates interrupted Boston's winning ways by taking a ten-inning slugfest by nine to eight on Arky Vaughan's triple after the Braves had slammed out all their runs in the ninth inning. The Cincinnati Reds, after a day in the National League cellar, climbed out again by defeating the Phillies by four to one behind Larry Benton's seven-hit flinging when one timely blow by Wally Rottger drove in three runs.

Washington's Senators held their place two games ahead of the New York Yankees in the American League race when good pitching netted each team a victory. Washington defeated the Chicago White Sox by four to one, when Earl Whitehill pitched five-hit ball in a struggle with Eddie Durham, and Bill McAfee finished the job when Whitehill began to wobble in the ninth frame. Johnny Allen's expert elbowing enabled the Yanks to turn in their fifth straight victory by four to two against the St. Louis Browns.

The Boston Red Sox moved a step nearer the top of the second division by outpitting the Detroit Tigers by one to nothing in eleven innings when Roy Johnson smacked a single to drive in Rabbit Warfield and break up a mound duel between Lloyd Brown and Vic Sorrell.

Jimmie Foxx's twenty-fifth home run sent the Philadelphia Athletics off on a three-run rally in the sixth inning that produced six to four victory over the six-place Cleveland Indians.

FOXX DEPOSES SIMMONS AS "BIG SIX" LEADER

Jimmie Foxx, with his big bat clouting his twenty-fifth home run of the season, yesterday slugged his way into the batting leadership of the major leagues. The Athletics' first baseman connected twice in four innings, unable to get a hit off the Washington pitchers, lost four points, dropping to .369. Chuck Klein, leader in the National League, also went hitless and dropped five points while his teammates, Virgil Davis and Chick Fullis, lost one each.

The standing to date follows:

Foxx, Athletics	11 9 2139 78 818
Simmons, White Sox	11 8 2147 96 800
Cronin, Senators	79 317 55 118 366
Klein, Phillies	79 323 53 117 362
Davis, Phillies	73 261 29 93 356
Fullis, Phillies	79 349 54 120 344

by three in their half of the third after the Kayserites had raised their total to ten.

Two scoreless innings transpired before Kaysers again staged an eight-run assault. This second outburst occurred in the sixth frame when ten batters stroled to the plate. Cottons ended the fixture in a blaze of glory by sending five counters across in the seventh.

The score by innings was as follows:
Cottons 013 000 5—9
Kaysers 181 008 0—18

The line-ups were as follows:
Cottons: Raymond, Paton, Durocher, Jackson, Reid, Baker, Lessard, Lemelin, Boisvert and Boutin.
Kaysers: Nadeau, Couture, Courchesne, Asselin, Chartier, Goyette, Bend, Morn, Pinard and Blanchard.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE STANDING

There are still three games to be played before the league schedule is brought to an end. The Regiment Reds have two games to play against Lennoxville I and Kaysers, while the third game is a postponed fixture between Cottons and Regiment Blues. It is expected that the play-offs will be inaugurated next week.

The league standing as a result of last night's games is as follows:
P. W. L. F. A. P. C.
Independents I 10 9 2139 78 818
Lennoxville I 10 8 2147 96 800

GORDON TAYLOR ELIMINATED IN TITLE DEFENCE

Montreal Golfer Succumbed in Third Round by Seven and Six to Vancouver Veteran, Don Gowan—Jack Cameron, Toronto Star, Advanced to Quarter-Final Bracket.

Shaughnessy Heights Golf Club, Vancouver, July 13.—The danger signs were posted today along the battle front of Shaughnessy's hills and bunkers as the favorites—only eight of them now—started dueling for places in the semi-finals of the Canadian amateur golf championship.

They read: "The Americans Are Coming." The foreign threat, which has succeeded only once in thirty-eight years of trying, was scattered about the quarter-final matchings in positions where it could completely dominate the fours.

It was four Canadians against four stars from the United States Pacific Coast and the defenders were without Gordon Taylor, the serious young man from Montreal, who came up from the field a year ago at Lambton and scored one of amateur golf's greatest upsets by whipping them all.

Taylor, built into a champion in less than three years, was summarily dethroned yesterday by Don Gowan, veteran of the Point Grey Club, Vancouver. The defending title-holder was seven down to his western opponent and failed to gain, the match ending on the thirty-third green with Gowan victorious by seven and six. The Canadians surviving with Gowan in the quarter-finals are Jack Cameron, Toronto veteran, Kenry Black, Shaughnessy Heights ace, and Cecil Coville, of Vancouver.

A sensational string of birdies and pars early in yesterday morning's round sent Cameron into a substantial lead over Bobby Reith, the sensational eighteen-year-old old Winnipeg player who captured the qualifying medal on Monday.

Reith's nerve was momentarily shattered by Cameron's playing and the Royal York ace was five up at lunch. The only eastern threat left in the hunt, Cameron increased his margin at the twenty-seventh hole and closed out the match three holes later.

Uncle Sam's doughy band is composed of Frank Dolph, Portland, Ore., star, and former United States western amateur champion, Albert "Scotty" Campbell, of Seattle, present Pacific Northwest champion; Harry Givan, dark-horse contender from Seattle, and Dr. Cliff Baker, of Portland.

WATERVILLE LADIES DEFEAT ED ST. FRANCIS

Waterville, July 13.—The ladies' section of the Waterville Golf Club got away to a flying start in their annual series with the St. Francis, Sherbrooke, lady representatives by recording a fifteen to six victory in the first match of the friendly inter-club contests. Although the weather threatened to mar the game, the rain held off sufficiently to allow the majority of the twenty-six players who participated a chance to register good scores.

The six points annexed by the visitors were gained through the combined efforts of Misses Maria Trudeau and Beth McKeon and Miss Priscilla Tufts' victory in a singles match.

Following the game the Sherbrooke were entertained at tea by the home team.

The detailed scores of the match were as follows:

FOOTBALL

BEEBE HAS RESIGNED FROM SOCCER LEAGUE

Owing to financial reasons, the Beebe entry in the Eastern Townships Football Association has withdrawn from 1933 competition. As a result, the scheduled fixtures in which Beebe figured up to the time of its resignation have been disregarded and a new league standing drawn up, which reveals Asbestos leading the four-team fold by a wide margin. Asbestos has played and won three games for a total of six points, four ahead of East Angus, which has lost and won a game. Both Drummondville and Sherbrooke have yet to enter the victory column.

On Saturday the re-arranged schedule will be followed, with games in Drummondville and Asbestos. The Celanese eleven will be at home to the Sherbrooke Rangers, while the pace-setters will entertain East Angus.

The standing as a result of Beebe's retirement is as follows:

Asbestos 3 3 0 17 2 6
East Angus 2 1 1 2 8 2
Drummondville 1 0 1 2 3 0
Sherbrooke 2 0 2 0 8 0

"Summer-time is thirsty-time"

"THE good old summer-time" they call it. And it is good to play all day long with sail-boats and sand toys. It's good to be out in the warm sun! It's good to get thirsty!

And the thirstier the youngsters get, the more they'll enjoy a long, cool refreshing drink of Canada Dry.

Somehow, children take to The Champagne of Ginger Ales as they take to few other beverages. Perhaps it's the sparkle in it. Perhaps, again, it's the gay bubbles. Or its piquant flavour. But the fact remains that a glass of Canada Dry is a treat at any time.

And, above all, you can be sure that The Champagne of Ginger Ales is pure and good for them.

So it pays to buy Canada Dry by the case when there are kiddies to please.

AUSTRALIA AND ENGLAND START SERIES TODAY

Jack Crawford, Newly-Crowned Wimbledon Singles King, Opposes "Bunny" Austin and Vivian McGrath Tackles Fred Perry in European Zone Davis Cup Final.

London, July 13.—Australia's drive back toward Davis Cup tennis heights opened today as Jack Crawford, new singles king from "down under," faces Henry W. "Bunny" Austin, and young Vivian McGrath tackles Fred Perry in the European zone final with Great Britain.

The play opens at Eastbourne with these two singles, continues tomorrow with a doubles match, and ends Saturday with another pair of singles contests pitting Crawford against Perry and McGrath against Austin. Three or more match victories determine the team that will play the United States in the inter-zone final next week-end for the right to challenge France for the cup.

Not since the heyday of Norman Brookes and A. F. Wilding some twenty years ago, and Gerald Patterson and John Anderson, heroes of a later day, has an Australian team entered the closing rounds of the Davis Cup play with such bright prospects.

Crawford, the twenty-five year old stylist who battered down Ellis-vorth Vines, United States champion in five sets last week to win the Wimbledon crown, seems certain of two singles victories, but the way to the third and deciding victory may be long and hard. While England in their draw yesterday named Perry and the veteran George Patrick Hughes as its doubles team, the Australians preferred to wait the outcome of the first two matches before choosing a pair.

If the matches are even at the end of the first day, it was considered likely that Crawford and McGrath would attempt to carry a three-day burden by teaming for the doubles. Together they extended Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, the veteran defending champions at Wimbledon, and the team that probably will represent France in the challenge round, to four hard sets in the British title play.

Upon McGrath's ability to win a match, or contribute to a double victory, apparently rests Australia's chances of gaining the inter-zone final. On the basis of the Wimbledon singles play, he scarcely seems capable of a singles victory over either Austin or Perry. McGrath was eliminated from the singles play at Wimbledon by H. G. H. Lee, English veteran who ranks below either Austin or Perry.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Outstanding players in yesterday's major league games were: Hal Schumacher, Giants—Blanked Cardinals with six hits. Jimmie Foxx, Athletics—Clouted twenty-fifth homer and double against the Indians. Floyd Vaughan, Pirates—Knocked in five runs, including winning tally, against the Braves. Lloyd Brown, Red Sox—Held triple Tigers to seven hits in eleven innings to win by one to nothing. Wally Rottger, Reds—Hit triple with bases full to beat the Phillies. Earl Whitehill, Senators—Held

PUBLIC SCHOOL MARKSMEN HOLD BISLEY STAGE

Ashburton Challenge Shield Competition for England's Youthful Shots Occupies Limelight Today—Canadians Start in Donegal and Conan Doyle Matches Tomorrow.

Bisley Camp, England, July 13.—Bisley ranges were turned over to the teams of youthful marksmen from England's historic public schools today, the chief event of the day's program being the shoot for the Ashburton Challenge Shield.

The Ashburton, greatest shoot of the year for the public school boys who use service rifles, ranks higher than the King's Prize itself so far as they are concerned.

A great social event, the Ashburton brought hundreds of spectators to the ranges today, mostly relatives or friends of the competitors.

The boys had very unfavorable shooting conditions. The light was dull and it was very cold with occasional bursts of rain.

The Canadians, who have not got into the preliminary competitions, but have been keeping at steady practice for a couple of weeks, are ready to get into the thick of it tomorrow against the thousands of other marksmen from all over the British Isles and from far-distant parts of the Empire.

With the Donegal and Conan Doyle matches tomorrow, the Canadians will be increasingly active until the great Empire meeting winds up with the final stage of the King's Prize a week from Saturday.

SPORTING NOTES

NEW SPORT ORGANIZATION FORMED

With its principal motive the promotion, encouragement and development of all kinds of sport among young men and children, the Eastern Townships Sporting Association has sprung into existence in Sherbrooke. The idea was conceived by a group of local French-Canadian sportsmen who are closely connected with many branches of Sherbrooke sport. J. A. Rondeau has been named president, with Eugene Lalonde, secretary, A. J. Packwood, joint secretary, and O. St. Laurent, treasurer.

The Association expects to start its programme about the middle of next month, and in the meantime will sponsor foot races to be staged in connection with other local sporting events.

Mrs. Arthur Collins and son, Robert, has returned home from Bromptonville, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark.

Mrs. Joseph Bon, of Johnville, was a recent caller at Meadow Brook Farm.

Mr. James McPherson spent a day in Sherbrooke as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Randall.

The influence of Edgar Wallace on boys' minds is shown by this story.

The literary editor of a big daily newspaper went down the other day to watch a cricket match at his son's preparatory school.

One of his sons came up to him during the match, with another boy, "Smith" minor, wants your autograph," he said.

The literary editor felt flattered, and duly signed the book.

Later he asked his son why Smith minor had wanted his autograph.

"Oh," was the reply, "because you are the only man he has ever met who knew Edgar Wallace."

DEATHS REPORTED

MRS. EMMA ELIZADA BOWKER, EAST BOLTON

Montreal, July 13.—After being confined to her bed five days with erysipelas, she entered into rest at the age of seventy-six years, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Macfarlane, at 2080 Regent avenue, Notre Dame de Grace, Montreal, June 17, Emma Elzada Bowker, wife of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bryant and widow of George E. Bowker. The deceased, born at East Bolton, was married in and lived the greater part of her life in her home community. From childhood she made many friends, being an ardent worker in the church Sunday School, Ladies' Aid and W.C.T.U., and at the bedside of many sick friends and relatives. She was a friend to all and always willing to help in time of need.

After the death of her husband she carried on with her father and mother on the home place at Bryant's Landing, caring for them until they passed on. After breaking up the old home she lived with her son and daughter, who both reside in Notre Dame de Grace, Montreal, and who, with their families, were at her bedside when the end came.

A short service was held at St. Saviour's Mission, Notre Dame de Grace, Canon Poppy spoke comforting words to the bereaved family. Two favorite hymns, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Nearer My God to Thee," were sung. Following the service the cortege proceeded to her old home at East Bolton, where interment took place in the East Bolton Cemetery beside her late husband, Canon Poppy officiating at the grave. The bearers were John Patterson, Hazen Bryant, Clinton Hopps, William Traver, Lloyd Macfarlane and Gordon Ratcliffe.

Beautiful floral offerings covered the casket, there being a pillow from Mr. and Mrs. Merle Bowker and family; cross, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Macfarlane and family; wreath, Ted Bowker; basket of flowers, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bachelder, Mrs. F. Ratcliffe and family; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Macfarlane and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Hopps, Mr. and Mrs. G. Green, Mr. and Mrs. William and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Duggins and son, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Hatcher, Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Fraser, Mr. R. E. Reed, Miss Cora Gustin, Mrs. A. Martin, Mrs. R. Patterson and family, East Bolton Ladies' Aid. Left to mourn are her son and wife, her daughter and husband and five grandchildren, a stepson and several cousins, one aunt and distant relatives. Amongst those attending the funeral service and burial from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bowker and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bachelder, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Fraser, Mr. R. E. Reed, Miss Cora Gustin, Mrs. A. Martin, Mrs. R. Patterson and family, East Bolton Ladies' Aid. Apply with references to John LeMasurier, Sec.-Treas., Namur, Que.

GALLUP HILL

Miss Viola Burrill and Miss Marjorie Collingwood have returned from a week spent at the Anglican Vacation Conference, Knowlton.

The various lectures on Sunday School, W.A., and social service work given by Rev. Mr. Bradbury, Mrs. H. Laws, Miss Guiton and Dr. Pedley respectively, were very interesting. The Bible study on the opening chapters of St. John's Gospel, conducted by the Very Rev. A. H. Crowfoot, Dean of Quebec, was most helpful. Mrs. Laws and committee, gave demonstrations of "a poorly conducted meeting" and how to put on a successful social evening, also dramatization of stories, which were very interesting, instructive and amusing.

Miss Shore, missionary to Japan, gave some very good talks on the work being done in Japan. About one hundred students were registered for the week.

Miss Harriet Badger is in Montreal for a few weeks' visit with relatives.

Miss E. S. Burrill was a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. Stimson, Melbourne.

Rev. J. W. C. Prout spent a week at Quebec recently.

Miss Lorna Badger, who has been in Quebec for the past few months, of Boston, Mass., and Miss M. Griffith, of South Durham, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Boast at the "Maples".

Mr. and Mrs. E. Riff and family, of Sherbrooke, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Doyle and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Riff.

The church picnic was held on the church grounds and was a fine success.

The ice-cream social, tombola and sale of home-made candy held in the parish hall, was a decided success. Over forty-six dollars were taken in, part of which was used to renew the roof on the parsonage.

Mrs. W. Royal is still confined to her bed. Her friends wish her a speedy recovery. Her daughter, Ruby, of Granby, is nursing her.

Mrs. F. C. Riff and children were recent guests of Mrs. B. J. Stimson. Miss Ada Stimson, of Hanover, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren, of Montreal, were guests at the same home.

Mrs. Alice Burrill, of Newport, Vt., has returned home after a short visit with her father, Mr. J. C. Martin, Richmond.

Perfidious savages

IN THE Torres Straits Islands in the East Indies, there are no trees suitable for canoe building. So the natives, a cruel, treacherous race, import their canoes from the Fly River Delta in New Guinea—another place with an unenviable reputation. The distance between these two places is over four hundred miles, and no native in that region travels even one-quarter of that distance.

When a canoe is wanted, the word is simply passed on from tribe to tribe. On the strength of this vague order a canoe is built. Then it is relayed back. Each tribe of bloodthirsty cannibals tests and discusses it before passing it on. Finally the payment, shell necklaces, spear points, arm bands, makes its way to the canoe builders in the same leisurely fashion.

There is reason for this honesty in savages to whom perfidy is natural. If any of the parties in this complicated transaction were to risk being dishonest, their credit would be ruined. And though these natives may kill and eat each other, they hold barter inviolate.

Even savages understand that in commerce it pays to be honest, and to let the world realize your honesty! So in modern business. Advertising must be honest. It is a proof of honesty. A product's advertising is the best guarantee of its quality, usefulness and value.

The man who advertises is inviting your inspection. He is letting his goods stand on their own merit. He can't afford to deceive you. You can depend on him. That's why it pays to read advertising and to buy advertised goods.

Any one can spend money—the reader of advertisements spends wisely. The time to buy is now—for values of basics are advancing as trade with Britain takes our surplus.

MAGOG WHARF REPAIRS ARE NOW UNDERWAY

Over $3,000 to Be Spent on Renovating Wharf—Magog and Vicinity News and Personals of Interest.

Magog, July 13.—Repairs to cost in the vicinity of $3,000 are now being carried out on the Magog Wharf. The principal item on the list is the cementing of the south end of the wharf for a distance of about 150 feet from the shore. Several men are engaged on the project and at present large quantities of stone are being piled near the project ready for use.

Antonio Charland, an employee in the print room of the Dominion Textile met with an accident. While lifting a copper roller he caught his hand between the roller and the corner of a shelf. Dr. Voyer was immediately summoned and it was found that the second and third fingers of his right hand were badly crushed and it was necessary for the third finger to be amputated at the second joint.

The electrical storm on Friday night did minor damage around town, putting out the lights at Mr. John Peter's home and blowing out the radio causing it to catch on fire. Fortunately the fire was immediately extinguished.
