World News In Brief

Liverpool, Feb. 1.—(Cable) — The 7,138-ton Canadian freighter La Salle Park, caught Wednesday in an Atlantic storm with a damaged steering gear, now is running before the storm and "everything is satisfactory," marine officials here reported.

An SOS had been received from the freighter which reported her steering gear wrecked 700 miles east of St. John's, Nfld., in heavy seas.

London, Feb. 1.—(P) — Don Juan, pretender to the Spanish throne, arrived in London by plane today on the first leg of a trip from Switzerland to Lisbon. He was accompanied by his wife, the Countess of Barcelona.

Juan is expected to spend less than 24 hours in London, and it is "unlikely" he will see any British officials, an authoritative source said. Spanish monarchist circles said a private reception would be held in London tonight.

Mr. Dougherty did not give the source of his information, but said the deposits were found by Engineer J. H. Grant on the holdings of E. J. Maher near the small town of Stanthorpe.

Uranium is a vital element in atomic energy research.

Kingston, Ont., Feb. 1.—(P) — The frozen body of Jean Myers, Queen's University co-ed missing since last Tuesday, was found today in a two-car ice party in Lake Ontario ice 2½ miles west of Snake Island.

France Demands Conviction Of 22 Former Nazi Leaders

Nuernberg, Feb. 1.—(P) — The French prosecution today gave an itemized account of charges against the 22 former Nazi leaders on trial before the International Military Tribunal, and urged that all defendants be convicted of violating the rules of war.

French lawyers also asserted that the Nazi design for living called for the Axis rule of all Europe and Africa, and the division of the world into four neatly packaged zones.

Charles Dubost, French assistant prosecutor, accused each of the defendants of either direct or indirect responsibility for assassinations and other inhuman acts.

He demanded the conviction of: Hermann Goering, Wilhelm Keitel and Alfred Jodl for the seizure and execution of hostages; Keitel, Jodl, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Martin Bormann and Joachim von Ribbentrop for the slaughter of innocent civilians and for ordering the torture of prisoners.

Goering, Keitel, Jodl, Albert Speer and Fritz Sauckel for exposing war prisoners to undue risks; Goering, Keitel, Jodl, Kaltenbrunner and Bormann for inspiring the lynching of Allied airmen and Commandos and for provoking the terrorist assassination or slow extermination of certain war prisoners.

Keitel for ordering the deportation of Jews in Denmark for deportation; Hans Frank, Alfred Rosenberg, Julius Streicher, Baldur von Schirach, Sauckel, Wilhelm Frick and Rudolf Hess for attempting to exterminate Jewish populations.

Soviet Demand For Action On Greek Situation Heard By U.N. Security Council

Russians Charge "White Terror" Exists in Greece and That British Troops Are Supporting "Anti-Democratic Elements" in Country.

London, Feb. 1.—(P) — Russia charged before the United Nations Security Council today that a "White Terror" existed in Greece and that the British troops there served to support "anti-democratic elements" in the country.

Opening the Council's consideration of Russia's demand for action on the Greek situation, Vice-Commissar Andrei Vishinsky declared: "The horrors perpetrated today in Greece, the White Terror, are widely known to everyone. It is not necessary to prove them here."

The Russian case already had been set forth briefly in a letter to the Council, charging that British forces in war-wrecked Greece were threatening "the maintenance of peace and security" through interference in Greek internal affairs.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain, having expressly welcomed an investigation of the Russian charges because he was so "tired" of hearing them in private, was thoroughly briefed by the Foreign Office to make whatever reply was required by Mr. Vishinsky's arguments, officials said.

The British delegation also were counting on strong Greek Government support to develop the line that British troops are in Greece because the Athens Government wants them there.

Behind the specific charges made to the Council was the fact that Greece is one of the long-time sore spots between Britain and Russia. It is a borderland between Eastern and Western Europe, a flanking position for Britain's Mediterranean life line and one of the key control points of the Eastern Mediterranean.

The Military Staff Committee, charged with working out the peace enforcement agreements under the Security Council, was summoned to meet Monday, following the arrival of the Russian military delegation.

The Russians are led by Lt.-Gen. A. P. Vassiliev. Other members of the delegation are Vice Adm. W. L. Begdenko, for Naval Affairs, and Maj.-Gen. A. R. Sharapov, for air.

Dominion-Provincial Rally Arrives At Crucial Stage

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—(P) — Meetings of the Dominion-Provincial Co-ordinating Committee are expected to reach the crucial stage today with reports indicating the Federal Government will present a modified proposal on subsidies.

Sources close to the Dominion Government said last night it would be a "take-it-or-leave-it" offer and sufficiently tempting to lay any blame for a possible break-up of the confederation on the provinces.

It was understood recent heated meetings had drawn the lines of minimum compromise more closely together. Yesterday, it was reported Dominion representatives committed themselves in writing to increase the per capita subsidy to the provinces to compensate for tax fields vacated.

The original federal proposal—offered as a basis for negotiations—suggested compensation to the provinces of $12 per capita, based on the 1941 gross national production in return for granting the Dominion exclusive income, inheritance and corporation tax rights.

One Premier calculated that, if this proposal had been in effect this year, the provinces would have received some $16.45 per capita. In 1942 gross national production was used as the irreducible minimum.

UNITED STATES PRESS FAVORS BRITISH LOAN

Opposition to President's Message Calling for $3,750,000,000 Loan Confined to Isolationist Newspapers.

Washington, Feb. 1.—(P) — First editorial reaction to President Truman's request for speedy congressional approval of the proposed $3,750,000,000 (U.S. funds) loan to Britain has been largely favorable.

Typical of the favorable reaction was the Kansas City Star: "It is in accordance with American interest to help Britain to her feet for reasons that are both economic and political. Normally Britain is our best foreign customer."

By the proposed loan we shall enable her to start business again. On the political side we need Britain as a strong outpost for our sort of democracy in the world."

However, the New York Daily News in an editorial which also appeared in the Washington Times-Herald, asked, if Britain gets the loan:

"What argument can there be against loaning Russia the six billions Stalin told some congressmen he wanted? Then why not 'loan' France the 2½ billions it is reported willing to accept? After that why not just tell Iran, Iraq and every other nation that wants some of our money to come and get it?"

"If we must spend that money, why not split it about 50-50 between the long-range national defence program and generous bonuses for our own veterans of world war II?"

The New York Sun, terming Mr. Truman's message "didactic and academic," said "he would have been better advised to talk turkey about what the nation really means in a practical way to American business, American labor and the American farmer."

East Angus, Feb. 1.—Citizens of this paper town gathered in the St. Louis Church Hall last evening to pay a sincere community tribute to some 110 servicemen and women who have returned to civilian life after serving King and country in World War II.

It was a heart-warming welcome for each and every man and woman, and thanks to the initiative and organization of the famous Sunshine Club, wartime service group who provided comforts to the men and women overseas, the occasion was indelibly impressed on the minds and hearts of every guest of honor through the presentation of a smartly-boxed pen and pencil set, suitably engraved with the bearer's name.

Through the efforts of the Sunshine Club's president, Miss Marion McCormick, and an active committee of club members, the civic reception work done by the Sunshine Club, Mr. Wilson remarked that the occasion took him back in memory some 25 years, when a similar event was

Pact Gives Soviet Strategic Isles

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes has revealed that a secret agreement concluded by the late President Roosevelt, Winston Churchill and Joseph Stalin, at their 1944 Yalta conference, gave Russia permanent possession of the Japanese Kurile Islands. The pact also gave the southern part (Karafuto) of Sakhalin Island, then Japanese-owned, to the U. S. S. R. The pact was kept secret because it indicated that Russia would enter the war against Japan.

Three Country-Wide Strikes Involving 1,200,000 Hands Still Far From Settlement

New York, Feb. 1.—(P) — Government officials and legislators continued efforts today to bring peace to the United States industrial front but there was no hope of immediate settlement in three country-wide strikes involving 1,200,000 workers.

The giant steel strike continued for the 12th day and more than 800,000 workers in steel and related industries remained away from their jobs.

More than 200,000 workers in 66 General Motors plants marked their 73rd day on strike as a federal mediator in Detroit continued his efforts to effect an agreement between the corporation and leaders of the U. I. O. United Auto Workers union.

The country's third major work stoppage involved 200,000 C.I.O. electrical workers, who left their jobs Jan. 15 from plants of General Electric, Westinghouse and General Motors—the industry's big three.

There are no prospects for early settlement and no conferences are scheduled to discuss the C.I.O. United Electrical Workers union demand for a $2-a-day wage increase.

Westinghouse said yesterday that although it had not granted the company has refused to bargain in good faith as charged by six Philadelphia congressmen. The congressmen, in a statement Wednesday, said the three struck companies "are defying the demand of their workers for a living wage and the need of the country for buying power."

In addition to the country's three principal strikes, about 90 other labor disputes continued, making idle an additional 200,000 workers. Wages were the principal issue in the majority of the controversies.

However, the steel strike held the major attention of government officials. President Truman, who said federal seizure of the steel strike-bound plants was not now contemplated, declined to predict a "break" in the steel stalemate. He said in his press conference yesterday, however, that he believes the general labor picture is improving all the time.

C.I.O. President Philip Murray said, "we've done all we can. It's now up to President Truman."

New closings of industries because of the work stoppage in nearly 1,300 steel and aluminum mills, over 9,000 and fabricating plants made idle about 55,000 workers. The number included 20,000 Ford Motor workers.

A strike control bill as a substitute for fact-finding legislation was introduced in the House of Representatives by Republicans yesterday. By a vote of 258 to 114 it was to be considered immediately. Some modifications in the measure appeared likely but few basic changes were expected.

The bill would establish a national labor-management board to handle labor disputes. It determined affected the public interest. It also would outlaw violent picketing, provide for civil suits against violators of labor contracts and lay unions open to injunctions.

PLAN SECRECY ON RESULTS OF ATOMIC TESTS

Foreign Observers Who Go to Bikini Atoll Tests Will Not See Atomic Bomb or Learn Extent of Damage Done.

Washington, Feb. 1.—(P) — Foreign observers may go to the Bikini Atoll tests but they won't see the atomic bomb.

This became apparent today as the cloak of secrecy was drawn still tighter around the secret weapon. Officials concerned with the secrecy phase of the test said there are two paramount security points: the nature of the bomb itself and the precise, measurable results obtained against military and naval equipment.

The reasons for the second point are based on the desire to withhold details of the bomb's action as well as to guard against letting out technical information on just how vulnerable United States equipment will be shown to be.

Foreign observers need not feel slighted if they fail to see the bomb. They will have company in that.

Persons familiar with the history of the atomic bomb dropping down on more than a few hundred persons ever saw the weapon in its ready-for-use state. At least 160,000 persons worked on the Manhattan Project, making the components of the bomb, but only a handful of military personnel and scientists were present when the first test bomb was assembled and exploded in New Mexico last summer.

The atom bombardiers who flew the two bombs to Nagasaki and Hiroshima saw the world's most destructive weapon. A comparative handful of men assembled the two bombs for the two missions. And those who composed the exclusive little club of "I Saw an Atom Bomb" folk.

The tens of thousands of Japanese on whom the bombs fell never glimpsed the secret dropping down from an airplane six miles above the earth; they witnessed only the instantaneous, awful brightness of an artificial "sun" created in a blast of heat, pressure and killing radioactive rays.

There is little prospect, incidentally, that an atom "dud" might land in the lagoon. In connection with the Hiroshima and Nagasaki drops, it was announced that measures had been taken to assure self-destruction should either missile have failed to function. It is assumed the same precautions will be taken in the test, this time partly as a safety factor.

Officials charged with carrying out the test say that from a standpoint of pure military security—and the follow existing regulations and the secrecy resolution pending before United States Congress—it would be easier to make the experiment in complete secrecy. They note, however, that in view of the widespread public debate and the profound world political factors involved, this would be neither practicable nor desirable.

Polish Political Slayings Threaten Big Three Unity

By GRAHAM HOVEY
Washington, Feb. 1.—(P) — Recent political slayings in Poland have returned that country to the list of world trouble spots. And they pose a possible threat to the Big Three unity achieved last month at the Moscow meeting of Foreign Ministers.

Here is the chronology of the situation:

1. Foreign Secretary Bevin expressed concern in the British House of Commons January 23 over the political killings and said it appeared the Polish security police were involved in many cases.

2. Yesterday, State Secretary Byrnes of the United States issued a statement echoing Mr. Bevin. Mr. Byrnes said it was "regrettable" that the police "appear to have been implicated in a number of these cases."

3. Later yesterday, Dr. Oscar Lange, Polish Ambassador in Washington, replied to Messrs. Byrnes and Bevin, contending most of the terrorism has been committed by members of an underground organization which he said is directed by Gen. Wladyslaw Anders, British-sponsored Polish army commander in Italy.

For the moment, Moscow was silent on the British and United States accusations and Dr. Lange's reply.

Soviet commentators for many months have charged Gen. Anders with fomenting terrorism in Poland and urged that Britain cease financing and supporting his army, which Lange said now numbers nearly 100,000 men.

The army fought as a corps in the British 8th Army in the Italian campaign. Gen. Anders, a bitter critic of the present Polish Government and of the Soviet Union, has tried to persuade his officers and men not to return to their homeland since VE-Day.

Official British statistics indicate he has succeeded to date. War Secretary John Lawson told the Commons on Monday that the British black list that only 10.8 per cent of the Anders army had voted to go back to Poland.

Dr. Lange, a former Chicago University professor who gave up his United States citizenship last year, became his country's ambassador in Washington, said in his statement that Gen. Anders maintained contact with the underground through a liaison group functioning at Coburg in the United States occupation zone of Germany. Dr. Lange contended this underground, called the "National Armed Forces," has slain 1,200 persons and committed various other excesses.

Messrs. Bevin and Byrnes both said current functions of the Polish security police would hamper the free elections to which the Warsaw Government is pledged.

Dr. Lange asserted, however, that there was "no evidence" that police activities would hinder fulfillment of Poland's election commitments, "which stand and will be fulfilled."

Review Of War Activities Features Meeting Of Lennoxville Red Cross

The annual meeting of the Lennoxville Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held in the work room in the town hall, presided over by the president, Mrs. Lee M. Watson. After the reading of the press notice by the secretary, Mrs. E. W. Gilbey, the minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. Watson, as resigning president, spoke briefly on the success of the past year's work and of the past six years, stating that the work of this branch throughout the war was of two kinds, sewing and knitting, and the making of surgical dressings. Through the extreme faithfulness and loyalty of some of the workers the figures for 1945 were slightly higher than in 1944, with 175 workers in both years.

The surgical dressing department was closed in May 1945 which had been in operation for the past three years. Due to the initial organization of Mrs. T. Saunders, together with the efficient supervision of Mrs. G. Dunsmore and Mrs. F. Day, this department was able to reach the grand total of 235,047 dressings made. Mrs. Watson extended thanks to all the instructors and members who worked so laboriously on this type of work. She also thanked the Women's Institute and the town of Lennoxville for the three rooms which have been occupied for so long without charge. Few branches enjoyed this privilege. In going through the list of those who held important posts during the past year and of those who worked so faithfully, Mrs. Watson stated that Red Cross work was never done for thanks and the only reward was in knowing that wounded servicemen and civilians in distress were somewhat relieved by the efforts of those who labored on in these work rooms day after day. Many, she said, have their names on the branch records, but many have given their skill where no record was kept except in the memory of all who will look back over these years as a time of hard work.

Special thanks were due Mrs. H. Fowles, who has aided and instructed in the work to such an extent that the efficiency of the branch was increased in every way. Mrs. D. Sterling, treasurer, and Mrs. J. J. Moore, supplies convener, whose books and records were always in excellent order; Mrs. C. Parkinson, for her care of the card index; Mrs. James Stewart, supervisor of all the knitted socks; Mrs. J. Crawford, supervisor of civilian knitting and making the button holes; Mrs. C. Sterling, a most faithful worker; Mrs. M. Roberts for the care of the sewing machines; Mrs. D'Arcy Bennett and Mrs. L. B. Pierce, room conveners; Mrs. E. W. Gilbey, secretary; Mrs. L. V. Parent, for special help of meeting war brides, etc., to all those who have taken charge of the room and served afternoon teas and those who provided the food and Don Price who takes all parcels to and from the station. And, in closing, to all officers and members who worked with such willingness and kind cooperation.

The treasurer, Miss D. Sterling, reported $227.28 received during the year, besides the people of East Angus, $6,298.11 with expenses of $56.71. Mrs. A. J. Moore, supplies convener, reported that from January, 1945, to January 29, 1946, this branch has completed and shipped to headquarters a grand total of 9,068 articles, which consisted of hospital supplies, 1,607 knitted comforts for the armed services, 1,238 civilian clothing, sewing 5,425, knitted 655, with donations of 72 sewn garments and 71 knitted garments. Wool knitted during the year was 784 pounds, and 55,926 dressings were made.

This work was done mainly in the work rooms but several groups aided by taking the work to their work groups. Conveners present who reported were: Ascot, by Mrs. W. S. Richardson, showing 131 knitted garments and 228 sewn garments made by six workers. Special mention going to Mrs. E. S. Lipsey in sewing and Mrs. Eleanor Beattie in knitting; Y.W.A. of the United Church, by Mrs. H. Worster, with 132 knitted garments and 81 sewn with also members aiding in the making of surgical dressings, L.W.L. of St. Andrew's Church, Sherbrooke, by Mrs. H. Fowles, showing 632 sewn and 177 knitted garments made by nine workers; Milby Group, by Mrs. Dobb, 162 sewn and 69 knitted garments, 9 quilts and 39 pairs of mittens.

This did not cover all the groups but several conveners were unable to attend mention was made of the following: Mrs. E. D. Dundin and daughters, who have in the past six years made 300 quilts for the Red Cross and "V" Bundles of Lennoxville. Much of this material being donated by them.

Mrs. R. C. McFadden took the chair for the election of officers. The following slate presented by the convener of the nomination committee, Miss Thelma Crawford was accepted as read: Honorary president, Mrs. R. W. E. Wright; honorary vice-president, Mrs. W. H. Abbott; president, Mrs. H. L. Wallace; vice-presidents, Mrs. L. V. Perrault, Mrs. E. C. Prince, Mrs. C. E. Herold and Mrs. J. A. Crawford; secretary, Mrs. E. W. Gilbey; treasurer, Richard Montgomery; work conveners, Mrs. F. W. Day and Mrs. H. Fowles; card index, Mrs. C. Parkinson; room convener, Mrs. L. B. Pierce; sewing machines, Mrs. M. Roberts; supplies convener, Mrs. A. J. Moore and Mrs. G. Dunsmore.

The newly elected president, Mrs. Wallace, then took the chair and asked for the support of all the members for the remainder of the work term which ends on February 28th and for a new pacetime programme which will be taken up.

Expressions of thanks were extended to the retiring president and treasurer and the meeting adjourned.

With the entire Sunshine Club on the stage, seated behind a red, white and blue decorated table, the presentation of gifts took place, under the chairmanship of Mayor Rousseau, with Miss McCormick and Miss Neale sharing the enjoyable task of handing out the mementoes.

On behalf of the returned men and women, a sincere expression of thanks was offered to the Sunshine Club and the people of East Angus by B. C. Westgate, president of the East Angus Branch of the Canadian Legion.

The evening was brought to an enjoyable conclusion with an English sing-song and the serving of a delicious buffet lunch, following adjourned to the clubhouse for a welcome home dance.

N.F.B. RELEASES CARRY ON WAR FOR DEMOCRACY

The war for democracy is fresh in the minds of the men and women of Canada. With this feeling predominant, the National Film Board is releasing three films which will be shown here dealing with racial and religious tolerance. These films ask why, with identical basic needs, men in different countries throughout the world fail to live together in a civilized fashion, but live instead in a turmoil of international intolerance and ignorance.

Moving from nation to nation in traveling form, "Toward Unity" shows people at work and at play, pointing out the basic sameness of humanity. The only differences between the people in various countries are those of appearance and of the methods by which they perform the same daily tasks. The film goes on to point out that men make capital out of racial discrimination. By means of propaganda whisperings, the world spasmodically becomes a crucible of hatreds. Children, the film goes on, do not have the prejudices which afflict adult living. These children are the future generations of humanity. If they are suitably educated they will acquire none of the manias of maturity. To point the way towards the future, the film is the one which lies in the hands of the men and women of today.

"The World We Want to Live In," another in this series of releases, shows the steps America took to counter the spread of racial and religious intolerance which began to spread throughout the United States as far back as two decades ago.

"World We Want to Live In" points out that while the exponents of racial intolerance in Europe began to burn churches and regulate the lives of European workers, groups of thinking men and women in America met to discuss constructive ways to promote racial democracy.

"Weapon of War," the third release in this group, is an historical survey in cartoon form of the way in which the salesmen of "Hitler's blood tonic" spread their propaganda from first throughout Germany, and later throughout the rest of Europe. The cartoon is by "Look out for the country behind you," the country in front of you—the country beside you—the film points out, split Europe into a continent of hatreds. America, whose people come from every country in the world, the film points out, is made up of 259 different religious creeds, was in Nazi eyes, an ideal place for the spread of intolerance propaganda, the film indicates.

These three films on a national unity theme show why it is necessary that Canadian workers—those men and women in every country—understand the way in which the propaganda machine of racial and religious intolerance is put into operation, in order that concrete steps may be taken to counteract its spread and that democracy may be made a working reality.

BANQUET GIVEN IN HONOR OF MELBOURNE MAN

Richmond, Feb. 1.—W. E. Melver, retired postmaster of Richmond, was guest of honor at a banquet, tendered by the Richmond-Melbourne Board of Trade, which was held last night in the Richmond Hotel. During the course of the evening Mr. and Mrs. Melver were presented with beautiful gifts on behalf of their many friends. Mr. Melver received a large chair and an ottoman from A. E. Dyson, Mayor of Richmond, while Mrs. Melver was presented with a bouquet of carnations by Miss Sheila Fee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fee, of Melbourne.

The banquet, under the chairmanship of R. A. Marcotte, president of the Richmond-Melbourne Board of Trade, opened with singing of "O Canada," followed by grace, delivered by the Rev. Cohen M. Kerr, pastor of Upper Melbourne St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Several musical numbers followed with W. R. Whitehead singing "With Hundred Pipers and A" and "A" while A. Davidson of Sherbrooke rendered "Hail Caledonia." "There was a Lad was Born in Cairo," "Scots Wha Hae" and "My Love Is but a Lassie Yet." Watson Fraser then favored the audience with two selections, "The Trumpeter" and "Black Belt Lullaby." Mrs. Gaston Desmarais accompanied on the piano and Pipe-Major Jack Ewart of the Black Watch Regiment of Montreal played several selections on the bagpipes including "Marsellaise" and "Auld Lang Syne."

R. A. Marcotte then called upon A. E. Dyson to make the presentation address during which he spoke of the interesting career of Mr. Melver who has for the past thirty-two years served as Richmond postmaster. Mr. Dyson made humorous remarks pertaining to the fact that as a resident of Melbourne, Mr. Melver was forced to make many crossings of the St. Francis Bridge. He made a total of 47,337 trips across the bridge.

He also stated that Mr. Melver was a veteran of the South African War, the First World War, a keen fisherman and hunter and held the office of secretary of the St. Francis Society for several years. Before his appointment as postmaster, Mr. Melver practised law for many years. Mr. Dyson also paid brief tribute to Mrs. Melver, after which the retiring postmaster and his wife were presented with a large chair and ottoman and a bouquet of carnations.

In his reply, Mr. Melver referred to his many happy associations in meeting the public while he was postmaster and mentioned many friends

TO TAKE STEPS TO CURB CRIME WAVE LOCALLY

Measures to safeguard Sherbrooke against a crime wave similar to those which have appeared in other districts were suggested by Judge Anatole Gaudet, presiding over Magistrate's Court here yesterday.

Judge Gaudet intimated that local tribunals will deal severely with potential cases to prevent a crime wave developing here. He said that he would follow the example set in Montreal and other centres in meting out severe penalties, and applied this principle by sentencing Gerard Blais, of Sherbrooke, to two years in the penitentiary for theft of merchandise valued at $225 from Wilfrid Bileau. Emile Boisvert, of Coaticook, was handed a similar term for theft of a car.

The tribunal president remarked that both young men had criminal records, and that Boisvert had been charged twice before of automobile thefts.

He was fit to temper clemency with justice in the case of Wilfrid Perusse, of Sherbrooke, a veteran and father of two children, who had pleaded guilty to theft of a quantity of butter at Lennoxville.

He sentenced Perusse to two months in jail, dating from the time of his incarceration, and imposed the same sentence on H. P. Bolduc, similarly charged, after Crown Prosecutor Roland Dugre had pointed out that both young men were on first offences.

PRICES BOARD SET CEILINGS ON NYLON HOSE

Women's nylon stockings will be sold at prices as low, and in some cases lower, than those in effect in 1941, the Prices Board announced today in a statement outlining the various gradings of nylon stockings being manufactured and their corresponding prices.

Four quality grades have been established for the hosiery: Special quality; first quality; second quality, described as substandards, irregulars, seconds; and thirds. These grades are in turn classified according to gauge, and the stockings priced on the basis of the quality and gauge used in their manufacture. Prices for the stockings will be the same in all retail stores in Canada. All "nylons" must be stamped with the word "nylon" and the gauge. If the stockings are not of the first or special quality the word "substandard," "irregular," "seconds," or "thirds" as the case may be, must also be stamped on each stocking.

Maximum retail prices for nylon hosiery are as follows:

Gauge	Special quality	First quality	Second quality	Third quality
42	$1.75	$1.50	$1.25	.85
44 & 45	$1.95	$1.75	$1.25	.85

MEETING HELD BY LENNOXVILLE UNITED CHURCH

The annual congregational meeting of the United Church, Lennoxville, was held in the Gertrude Scott Hall, preceded by a supper served by the men of the congregation, which was greatly enjoyed by a large number of members.

The business meeting was conducted by the Pastor, Rev. N. D. McLeod, and the secretarial duties were looked after by the secretary, J. E. Herold.

The progress of the church during the past year has been highly satisfactory and a report submitted by W. G. McDougall, Clerk of the Session, indicated a membership at the end of the year of 313 residents and 11 non-residents, representing an increase of 29 during the year.

The financial report given by the treasurer, R. T. Cook, showed a balance on hand of $222, and sufficient income during the year to permit of a reduction of $1,000 in the debt on the parsonage.

Other reports, all of which were of a favorable nature were given by Miss E. Ennals and Lawrence Parker for the Sunday School, Miss Audrey Skalker for the Young People's Union, Mrs. M. E. McCurdy for the Women's Missionary Society, Mrs. K. J. McLeod for the Mission Band, Mrs. R. S. Linsey for the Women's Association, Mrs. Gertrude Scott for the Philatelic Society, Mrs. Stanley Hamilton for the Young Women's Association, Mrs. P. Pergau for the Baby Band, Mrs. Charles Hoy for the choir and Alice Rowat for the Men's Own Society.

Presentation of a purse was made to Mrs. M. E. McCurdy on the occasion of her retirement from the choir which she served for many years. A cane was presented to Allan MacKenzie as an expression of appreciation of his services as treasurer of the church, from which office he has resigned.

The addition of three Elders had become necessary, and a vote of the congregation resulted in the election of Messrs. Martin Merrill, W. R. Richardson and George Sutherland.

The election of six new stewards was necessary to fill vacancies caused by expiry of office or change of duties. Those elected were R. T. Cook, Douglas Hadlock, F. C. Tanner, W. A. Henderson, Thomas Beattie and Noble Smith.

On behalf of the congregation, W. S. Richardson conveyed to Rev. and Mrs. McLeod sincere appreciation for services and helpfulness rendered throughout the year.

Decision to make this investment, said Mr. Hoffman, was based "in small part on our conviction that the people of Canada have in us are determined to maintain a free society."

Mr. Hoffman, speaking on the subject "Private Enterprise in our Post-War World" advanced free enterprise as the best economic policy for the betterment of the individual. At the same time he said that free societies in Canada and the United States are still far from the ideal. "Nevertheless," he continued, "more of our people have had more opportunity than the individuals in any other country in the world." He went on to say that free enterprise should formulate a plan of action to provide ever-increasing opportunities for more and more people.

Private enterprise, Mr. Hoffman said, has several advantages over any other type of economy. Private enterprise has much more freedom in offering incentives to both management and men for working hard and thinking hard, and it can engage in new enterprise or expand present enterprise without becoming involved in complex political manoeuvres—all that is necessary is adequate reward for venture capital. "Unless there is a chance for profit in proportion to the risks undertaken, new risks will not be assumed, new production plans will not be put into practice, and the natural dynamism of our free economy will be dissipated," the speaker stated.

Sherbrooke Library To Have Section On Canadian Books

Because citizens throughout Canada could be more aware of the literature of their own country, the Sherbrooke Library has taken a corrective step. Authorities have arranged for distinctly Canadian books to be grouped together in one Canadian section in the Sherbrooke Library. Thus, it is hoped, the book-minded citizens of Sherbrooke will become aware of a Canadian literature, patronize it, and subsequently, appreciate it.

This is the beginning of a movement here to stimulate Canadian culture.

The Sherbrooke Library's Canadian section will feature many books by Sherbrooke authors. In this group are:

"My Sanctuary Garden," Alice Elizabeth Wilson; "The Rain in Raineth," Neil Tracy; "The Golden Chalice," Ralph Gustafson; "Moonlight and Common Day," Louise Morey Bowman; and books by Mrs. Minnie H. Bowen, Mrs. Bertha West on Price and Gustave Marquis Charland.

Other books in the Canadian section are:

"Canadian Mosaic," Murray Gibson; "The Spell of Acadia," and "The Spell of French Canada," Frank Oliver Call, formerly a professor at Bishop's University; "Canada's Romantic Heritage," E. C.

Woodley; "Canada Cavalcade," Robert H. Davis; "Quebec Patchwork," J. M. Donald; "The Unknown Country," Bruce Hutchinson; "Quebec, Historic Seaport," Mazo de la Roche; "Heralds of Empire," Agnes C. Lauc; "The French Canadians Today," Wilfred Bovey; "The Charm of Ottawa," Blodwen Davies; "Shadows on the Rocks," Willa Cather; "Jancie," Leslie Gordon Barnard; "The St. Lawrence," Henry Beston.

MENTIONED IN DISPATCHES
Flight Sergeant J. H. Roy, of Sherbrooke, has won the award of Mentioned in Dispatches, according to an announcement by Air Force Headquarters in Ottawa.

A FINE INSTITUTION

The important place which the St. Francis Sanatorium has taken in the life of the Eastern Townships over a brief period of two years is reflected in the second annual report of that institution. The need of such a hospital had been urged in many quarters for several years and the activities during 1945 indicate that the requests were not ill-timed. During the year 292 patients were admitted and an even 300 discharged, with the average number of inmates being 271.

That the institution is essentially an Eastern Townships one is emphasized by the fact that Sherbrooke and the immediately adjacent counties provided 156 of the 292 admissions.

The fight against tuberculosis is one of the gravest problems ahead of Canada today and one of the most effective means of combating the spread of the disease and at the same time of bringing healing to the sufferers is through the extension of the number of institutions capable of treating the disease. The erection of the St. Francis Sanatorium was a link in the chain of such hospitals through this province. True, it faced many difficulties during the construction period, but with these obstacles surmounted, it faces a fine future in improving the general health of the people of this district.

THE MYTH OF SOVEREIGNTY

One of the outstanding of the younger members of the United States Senate, William Fulbright has been doing some plain talking to his countrymen about the myth of national sovereignty. And the gist of his declaration which follows might well be studied by people of other countries. In effect, Senator Fulbright declares: "If national sovereignty means anything, it means the power to control the destinies of a nation. But today, in view of the atomic bomb, we have no such power."

No nation, he warns, has the power to protect itself against this invention. The only protection lies in a system of world order, enforced by a world body in the same way that the law against murder is enforced within nations. To establish such a law nations must give up part of what they used to consider their sacred national sovereignty. In reality, they have lost it already, if they only knew it. Their sovereignty, which in effect is their ability to protect themselves by their own power, has gone. The dropping of the first atomic bomb against Japan marked the passing of that era.

What most people fail to realize is that in setting up international law enforced by some form of central world government, each nation will expand, not contract, its sovereignty. When the provinces of Canada united to form Confederation they did not lose strength thereby but gained it in a powerful nation. When the nations unite to enforce a world system of law and to prevent war, they will gain the only kind of power worth having, the power to save themselves from destruction.

However grim experience teaches that the old idea of national sovereignty dies hard. Isolationists and reactionaries, not only in the United States, but in Great Britain, in Canada and in almost every other country of the world will try to prevent the establishment of mankind's sovereignty over the future of our species. We shall only succeed in establishing this larger sovereignty when men realize that so-called national sovereignty in an atomic world is synonymous with world-wide anarchy.

BRITAIN GIVEN RUHR CONTROL

The announcement that the great coal mines of the Ruhr have been placed under direct British control appears a logical decision for this enormously rich valley in Western Germany is situated in the British zone of occupation. However, the present arrangement may be purely tentative because the official announcements give the impression at least that Britain is acting as custodian for the other Allies.

In such an event, the next logical move would be the establishment of a Ruhr Valley Authority, or some similar organization, with control vested in a commission made up of representatives of Britain, Russia, the United States, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. It is noteworthy that a few months ago British policy suggested the returning of Ruhr properties to German owners. This had the appearance of a mistaken plan and the more recent announcement seems more sensible—and safer.

The Ruhr has long been Germany's armory of conquest. Its output kept her armies in the field in 1914-18. After Hitler came to power in 1933, a between-wars period of quiescence ended abruptly. The valley's pig iron production nearly matched that of the entire British Commonwealth. Steel production was boosted to twice that of France. The Ruhr contains enough coal to supply Germany for two thousand years.

If one area more than any other symbolized the armed might of the Reich, that area was the Ruhr. The leading industrial name there was Krupp. The valley was Germany's Pittsburgh, Gary and Detroit for coal, steel and arms production. The vital importance of close control of such an area in the Allies' necessary plans to prevent a resurgence of German military might needs no argument. Germany must never again be permitted to use the resources of the Ruhr to build a war machine capable of launching fresh aggressions against Europe and the world.

If the plan of British control is not the final answer to the problem of the Ruhr, it certainly is in the right direction—because it keeps the enormous war-potential of Ruhr Valley resources out of German hands indefinitely.

THE FORMULA FOR PROSPERITY

Some simple yet effective truths were uttered by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, president of the Crown Life Insurance Company, former Premier of Ontario and former Canadian High Commissioner to London, at the annual meeting of the Company, when he declared that hard work, thrift, enterprise and investment of savings have built up this country and that they are the only means whereby we can achieve better living standards and high employment for the Canadian people.

In this connection he stressed the important role played by taxation. Just and reasonable taxation will encourage and strengthen these conditions, whereas confiscatory and discriminatory taxation will discourage and weaken them.

Reduced taxation is imperative if Canada is to attract new settlers and capital from other countries, and is to retain many of her own ablest industrial and scientific workers.

In conclusion he declared that the way we handle opportunities for our future development depends upon the will an effort of the Canadian people as a whole. The tasks ahead call for determined co-operation towards the achievement of prosperity for all sections of our several communities. They also call for responsibility and honest effort shared by every Canadian.

As Mr. Ferguson declares, there is no easy road to prosperity and advancement. Those same qualities of hard work, thrift and enterprise are as important today as they were in the earlier days of this country's development.

UNITED STATES SHIPPING TROUBLES

Although during the nineteenth century, United States ships sailed into almost every part of the world and the shipping industry was one of the mainstays of the mighty development of that country, its experience with ocean transport in recent years has been anything but satisfactory. From time to time several unfortunate incidents have developed. Recently, Germany's largest liner, Europa, once the pride of the Reich, was brought to New York as a prize of war. Nearly 50,000 tons and undamaged, she looked like a nice capture that could become one of the queens of the United States mercantile marine, particularly for the Atlantic service. The United States Navy Department spent over $100,000 refurbishing her, but after the job was done the government officials decided that she did not come up to modern standards. The Navy offered her to the Maritime Commission which declined to accept her. Now she lays at Pier 88 in New York harbor, an unwanted hulk. The only explanation forthcoming is an unofficial one. The Europa is now nearly seventeen years old, and as she has been rusting in port somewhere in Germany for more than six years, "she ain't what she used to be."

The United States has another "white elephant" from the present war on its hands in the shape of the former French liner Normandie, which after totalling over in New York Harbor, was floated again after enormous labor and expense, renamed the Lafayette, but was found to be unseaworthy. Still another was a former German liner acquired after the last war and renamed the Leviathan. Put on the Atlantic route, for some reason or another she failed to attract passengers and was soon scrapped.

In marked contrast, the British had great success with the big German acquisitions, notably the Berengaria and Majestic, probably because they possessed the "know how" of managing that kind of ships.

It is expected that the Europa will be offered to some other nation in the shipping pool, but it is doubtful if any other country would accept her as a gift.

Letters To The Editor

The following letter was sent in by L. E. Clark, esq., of Lake Megantic, and was written to him by a young English school-girl whom he met overseas during the winter of 1943-44. The girl's father, while in the army, was offered a position on a rubber plantation in South Africa, and the flying trip the little girl refers to is that taken by her father on his way to his new job. The Florence Desmond she speaks of is the noted impersonator of the English stage. The letter is re-published as an example of the almost unconscious courage and forbearance of the whole English people, no matter what their age or sex, that became so well known to so many thousands of Canadians during the war years.

NEW CAR PRICES

The Editor,
Sir:—Surely nobody will object to ceiling prices on new cars being $15 to $25 over 1941, which covers only improvements resulting in operating economy, as recently announced. However it would be a mistake to think that prices are being held away below their real value and one had better rush to order a new car. The fact is that included in the 1941 ceiling there was a war revenue tax on selling prices of 25 per cent on the first $300 plus 40 per cent on the next $300 and 80 per cent on the amount in excess of $1,200. Last May this heavy tax was reduced to a flat 10 per cent on selling prices so you see we are now paying the difference in tax to the manufacturers.

On a 1941 $1,200 car complete with accessories the war revenue tax added $425 while today the tax would be about $157.

New prices given out by the W.P.T.B. for the four door sedan of six makes of cars range from $1,295 to $1,892.

This I believe completes the picture.

Your truly,
JOHN W. GILBERT

Hanover, Ont., Jan. 31, 1946.

Q—What is "running amok?"
A—A form of suicide in Malaya. Natives, driven by domestic jealousy or gambling losses, rush into the street slashing everyone they meet until someone kills them.

PRESS COMMENTS

The following article is re-published from the "Southern Times," a newspaper of Weymouth, England. The article was sent to W. A. Page, headmaster of the preparatory school, Bishop's College School, Lennoxville, and the Lieut. Page referred to as the helicopter pilot is his son, L. F. Page, who will be remembered as a youth in Lennoxville, and a pupil at B.C.S. It should, perhaps, be explained that "ack ack" is the military, and naval, term for anti-aircraft, and that when the English reporter compares a helicopter to a "lift", in Canadian he means "elevator."

COVERED WATERPROOF BY HELICOPTER

"Southern Times," Weymouth, Eng. From an altitude of 2,000 feet I viewed the whole beautiful expanse of Weymouth Bay, the Isle of Portland, the thin ribbon of the Chesil Beach stretching away into the distance and the Ridgeway and Purbeck forming a beautiful background softened by the evening haze.

Through the kindness of the naval authorities, I was seated warm and comfortable in the cabin of a Navy Helicopter chatting with the pilot, Lieutenant L. F. Page, as we hovered without any apparent motion, above Portland Harbor with the ships of the Home Fleet set below us like so many toys in a rippling pool.

Larger than the others, and clearly visible was the veteran battleship "Queen Elizabeth" with the cruisers Dido and Bellona and destroyers Crusader, Charley, Zest, Lagos and Crozier riding peacefully at anchor.

Beneath the surface I could see the deck of the "Eyebank," the naval ack ack ship sunk by German dive-bombers in the early part of the war.

Also visible was the huge hulk of the "old" Hood, lying athwart the southern entrance and completely blocking it.

It was used in the First World War as a block ship to prevent enemy submarines penetrating the harbor.

Lieut. Page, who is on loan to the Royal Navy and whose home is in Canada, at Lennoxville, Quebec, told me that the Helicopter's ceiling is approximately 10,000 feet. Her rate of climb is exceedingly fast while her forward speed is between 80 to 90 miles per hour.

The fact that the engine is just behind the pilot and his passenger ensures that the cabin is always comfortably warm no matter how cold the air may be outside.

The craft is amazingly manoeuvrable, as was illustrated by the evolutions carried out by the pilot who flew between the cranes and ships' masts in the harbor and then hovered at zero feet a short distance from the "Queen Elizabeth" to enable me to get a good view of her.

Drifters and fussy little launches could be seen playing between the ships and the shore leaving wide arrow-head wakes on the surface of the calm water.

I took one more look at the town of Weymouth, its harbor and gardens, the high plateau of Portland and the sea beyond reflecting myriad colors from the setting sun as we slowly descended, for all the world as though we were in a lift.

The ships of the Home Fleet were now silhouetted in the gathering dusk and the signals between the warships and the shore could be seen twinkling and flashing their interminable messages . . . dot, dot, dot, dash; dot, dot, dash, dash . . . The silent service that never sleeps. Our helicopter touched down gently on the surface of the water, within five feet of its base, close to the hangar.

Q—Did population of Vienna, Austrian capital, fall during the war?
A—From 1,918,000 to 1,418,000.

From The Record Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO

The British Government is demanding that the United States release the Britishers aboard the liner Appam which was captured by a German raider and taken into an American port by a prize crew. The United States has decided to intern the vessel but has not decided on the exact status of the crew and passengers.

Becoming increasingly indignant over the damage done by raiding German airships, the British press is demanding that retaliatory moves be made. The raiders have extended their activities to such West Coast cities as Liverpool and Manchester.

Officers elected at a meeting of the Board of Managers of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at Sherbrooke were J. R. Duncan, W. Ballantyne, Robert Seiveright, J. K. Edwards, George Johnston, Arthur Gunning and G. D. Wadsworth.

Costume prize winners at a masquerade held at the Sherbrooke Stadium were Douglas Odell, Cyril Irwin, Mrs. C. H. Bowen, Miss Dastous, A. Parker, Miss Stewart, R. Dean, Charles Sawdon, Isabel Haultain and R. Skinner.

Abraham Labrecque, an aged resident of St. Edward street, was fatally burned when his home was destroyed by fire.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

The official termination of the British occupation of Cologne took place over the week-end, the duties of the occupation force being taken over by a Cologne local militia organization.

Another showdown vote is expected in the House of Commons today when the Conservatives force their motion of want of confidence in the Mackenzie King administration. A close vote is expected.

The pound sterling has reached its highest point since the end of the war, reflecting the improved financial position of Britain.

Officers elected at the annual Vestry meeting of St. James Anglican Church, South Durham, were A. W. Johnston, E. N. Griffith, R. C. Griffith, George Johnston, James Duffy, Mervyn Montgomery, Firdley Nixon, and Robert Woolfrey.

At the annual meeting of St. Luke's Church W. A. at Waterloo, the following officers were elected: Mrs. Raymond, Mrs. F. Snodgrass, Mrs. H. H. Lawrence, Mrs. Ernest Stone, Mrs. E. J. McKenna, Mrs. A. W. Watson, Mrs. Gardner Kendall, Mrs. F. E. Taylor and Mrs. Mary Blake.

TEN YEARS AGO

The inflationary group in the United States Congress is making a strong bid to have the two-billion dollar soldiers' bonus bill met by the issuance of new currency rather than through the traditional financial operations. They claim this would increase the general spending power of the community.

Although the Italians are still claiming successes in their Southwestern campaign against Ethiopia, the forces of Haile Selassie say they have annihilated the Fascists on the Northern Front.

Despite German official denials that they are maintaining a force in the Rhineland, Belgian experts claim they have proof that 250,000 highly-trained men are in the demilitarized zone.

The perennial dispute over the payment of the Sherbrooke mayor and aldermen is again raging when a clause providing for this was written to the proposed private bill amending the City Charter.

At the annual meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce, Rock Island, the following officers were elected: E. J. Struthers, J. D. Ferguson, C. R. Darby, J. C. Holland, D. L. Dashney, P. F. Hunt, J. D. McFadyen, C. E. Soles, F. H. Gilman, R. F. Fregeau, A. E. Curtis, and J. A. Tilton.

FIVE YEARS AGO

The Italian forces have made a desperate attempt to gain the initiative on the Balkan fighting front, but so far the Greeks have been able to control the situation. In the Western Desert fighting British tanks continue their drive towards Bengasi. Much in this area is believed to depend upon the response of the French colonial army to the appeal of General de Gaulle that they throw off the authority of the Vichy command.

Allied military authorities are convinced that the slackening off of German air action over the British Isles results from the Nazi efforts to produce a new super-plane, although adverse flying conditions play a part in the relapse.

Officers elected at the annual meeting of the Stanstead County Agricultural Society were R. G. Davidson, M.P., Raymond Fregeau, M.L.A., B. W. Brown, P. W. Baldwin, M. G. Curtis and R. W. Montgomery.

The Junior Branch of St. Peter's W. A. elected the following as officers: Eileen Blackburn, Betty Loveland, Dorothy Gasson, Audrey Spanwick, Phyllis Loveland and Joyce Garlick.

Officers named for the East Angus United Church Sunday School were Mrs. Claude Cooper, Mrs. Frank Dearden, Mrs. Albert Currie, Mrs. Chester Damon, Joseph Burns, L. Howe and William A. Hall.

PASS OR 3 HEARTS—WHAT'S NORTH'S BID?

Harry J. Fishbein has the ability to argue a point long and well. He and Alvin Roth, with whom he plays a great deal, had a battle over today's hand, of which I have shown only 13 cards.

South opens the bidding with one club, North bids one heart, then South bids two hearts. Now what should North bid?

Fishbein contends that North should pass, and believes that probably 18 out of 20 experts would agree with him. Roth, however, believes that North should make an other bid, and of course three hearts is the only other bid he can make. If South bids four hearts, Fishbein says that bid automatically draws a double. Roth says South does not necessarily have the top in clubs. He might be bidding a short club suit and have some strength with spades and diamonds. Fishbein you go down with this type of hand, agrees, but the odds are against it, because North is void of clubs. I will say I have found that, when-

Trading Brisk On Lansdowne In Spite Of Heavy Snowfall

Trading was brisk this morning at the Lansdowne Market in spite of the heavy snowfall of the past two days. In fact, there was a bigger volume of trade than on any Friday during January.

In general, prices were much the same as in the past four weeks. No change was made in the price of eggs. Large grade A eggs have come down from 45 to 42c and grade A mediums from 40 to 38c.

Market prices on fruit were up slightly for apples and oranges, although the quality of both appeared better than last week. Macintoshes were selling for $1.50 a peck and best quality oranges for 65 cents a dozen.

Potatoes have gone up 10 cents a peck again, after selling for 50c last week. Lettuce, celery and spinach prices were all down somewhat from last week's figure. Meat prices were unchanged, but an increase is expected at the end of this month or in March.

OIL STRIKE ON WESTERN FARMS

The Dominion Department of Agriculture has struck oil! True, it's only salad oil but by bringing in this new gusher Department scientists should help Western Canadian farmers to make a million dollars this year.

The million dollars will come from this year's crop of sunflower seed—source of one of the finest edible oils—if Western growers sow the 28,000 acres recommended by the latest Dominion-Provincial Agricultural Conference and if the crop is a good one.

There is urgent need for a large crop of sunflower seed this year to help to meet the lack of domestic shortening. In Canada, at present no household commodity is in shorter supply than shortening. Lard production has fallen from 120,000,000 pounds in 1944 to 57,000,000 pounds in 1945 and will probably not exceed 45,000,000 pounds in 1946. Housewives who lament being unable to give their cakes and pies that old-fashioned richness or who now refrain from treating their families to a batch of doughnuts will benefit by the success of the sunflower seed grower, as about 90 per cent of the extracted oil will be used for shortening. To help make this year's crop and the crops of succeeding years more remunerative to the grower, the Department has created a new variety of sunflower now licensed as "Advance"—an appropriate name, as this new creation yields 25 to 30 per cent more seed per acre than existing varieties and has not only a higher percentage of oil in the kernel.

This new product of government plant breeders becomes available to growers not a moment too soon. Dr. T. M. Stevenson, Chief of the Forage Plants Division of the Experimental Farms Service, says: "If Canada is to maintain its wartime production of sunflower seed, it will be obliged to compete in price with other countries. Sufficient yield per acre will make it possible for Canada to meet this competition and the Advance variety of sunflower provides this increased yield."

ORDER YOUR FERTILIZER

A very important part of the wealth of any country is the soil. Not only is it important from the point of view of actual monetary returns from crops produced thereon but more important still the health of the population depends on the quality of that soil. This health factor has been very forcibly demonstrated in the medical reports on enlistments in the United States during the war. The percentage of physically fit men was much higher in a fairly new settled state like Colorado, where the soil has not been cropped for a long period, than it was in the south where the soil has been depleted by continuous crops for many years.

The soil is not an inexhaustible source of plant food and must be treated with care if we expect to continue producing high yields of nutritious feed. As farmers, we should not consider the soil on our farms as something that we can use only for our own benefit, but as a trust which we must endeavor to pass on to the next generation in as good or even better condition than we received it.

All soils in their natural state are not perfect, that is some of the necessary elements may be absent or the supply of this element may be very small. Soils that have been cropped for a long time may become exhausted, unless the plant food which has been used to grow the crops is returned in the form of manure or chemical fertilizers. As the soil becomes exhausted not only do yields get smaller but the feeding value of the crops produced is also reduced. Man cannot, except by a system of analyses, tell the difference in nutritional value between foods but animals, if given a choice will pick out the most nutritious feed. This has been demonstrated on a farm in Missouri. In 1936, a five acre block of a one hundred acre prairie grass hay field was fertilized. The hay from this fertilized area was mixed with hay from 20 acres of untreated land and preserved in a stack. Three other stacks were built from the untreated hay. The cattle were allowed to winter around the stacks and invariably consumed the hay from the stack from the fertilized area first.

Most farms could use fertilizers to advantage to increase the yields as well as quality of the crops. In order to be sure of having your fertilizers at the time the land is ready, it is advisable to order and have delivery immediately. The manufacturers do not have storage facilities for all the fertilizer required in the spring. Even with sufficient storage, it would be possible to load and ship this vast quantity of material in such a short time.

Calculate your requirements and order now.

SHERBROOKE STIFLES LACHINE 11-6 TO GAIN ON TIGERS

Pour In Seven First-Period Goals To Smother Plucky Band Of Rapides

Sherbrooke Randers lifted the lid from rubber priorities in the first period of last night's free and easy game at the arena and by the time Lachine Rapides managed to clamp it back on the issue was pretty well settled. Final adding machine check: 11-6, moving the locals again within two-point reach of league-leading Victoriaville.

The peculiar aspect of the game was that Lachine refused to play the role of the squelched visitor. As a matter of fact, tired as they were from the previous night's clash with Tigers and from a late bus trip that held up proceedings for an hour, the Rapides dug in and fought like men possessed, were still poking in the odd goal right up to the last minute. Except for a disastrous starting period, when the Randers poured in seven goals, the story might have been quite different, for Lachine outscored Sherbrooke 5-4 in the last two cantos.

Lachine sadly misses the brilliant services of netminder Lessard. Caron started between the pipes for them last night but was nearly sunburned so often did the red light blink behind him. Hamel was moved back from defence for the goaling chore and that left the Rapides with nine fielders.

Carnegie & Carnegie hit the fresh ice with whiplash speed, rifled home four goals in the first 11 minutes, but were held scoreless after that. Roland Lemire, in his first showing on local ice, turned in a creditable performance and popped in two clean-cut goals, one of them beautifully set up by Lynn MacDougall. Leblanc, Redmond, MacDougall, Lilly and Marshall got singles.

Top scorer of the evening, however, was Lachine's Les Perron, who figured in five of his team's six goals, whacking home three of them himself.

Whether it was the long wait before the game got under way or not, Sherbrooke's first-string line was main' to go at the opening whistle. Herbie and Ossie Carnegie immediately counted on blistering drives from the right wing and after Lilly roared in alone with Marshall's perfect pass on his stick, they repeated. Ossie from a scramble, Herbie from a corner pass. Lachine tried to steady away with Paulsen's goal, but Lemire cannily sneaked around behind the Lachine cage and tucked the puck between Caron's feet. Redmond completed the first-period slaughter with a carom off Postigan's stick.

With Hamel inside the goal crease Lachine managed to brake the on-rushing Randers in the second period, scoring one for Sherbrooke's effort by MacDougall, a backhand flip from close in. Sherbrooke fans, who are not likely at any time to shed a tear over a drying opponent, came to their feet yelling praise for Hamel's hairbreadth puck-halving. At one point in the third period Hamel was behind his net, apparently in conversation with the goal judge, when he turned to find Manny McIntyre parked right in front

RED COCHRANE DEFENDS TITLE AGAINST SERVO

New York, Feb. 1. —(AP)—Defrosting of wartime-iced boxing championship gets under way in Madison Square Garden tonight when Freddie (The Red) Cochrane puts his world welterweight title on the line against rough, tough baby-faced Marty Servo over the 15-round route.

The first honest-to-gosh world championship clouting in just about four years has the fans pouring the money into Promoter Jacobs' cash registers. With an advance sale hitting the $50,000 mark, 15,000 customers may show up for a gate of $80,000 or more.

Oddly enough, although Cochrane has been out of the Navy a year and has had nine fights in that time and Baby-Faced Marty has been to the post only twice since leaving the Coast Guard a couple of months ago, the charitable betting gentlemen can't see Freddie with field glasses. Along the 40th Street betting mart they're laying 13 to 5 that the champion is bounced off the throne in his first defence since he took the 147-pound title from frivolous Fritzzy Zivic in July, 1941.

The price is so lop-sided that Freddie and his manager Willie (The Beard) Gilzenberg have put up $2,500 against $5,500 that Cochrane still will be doing business at the same old championship stand when the fighting ends tonight.

Local Boxers Lose

Newport, Vt., Feb. 1. —(AP)—Hub Parker, 165, Newport, outpointed Roger Bission, 164, Quebec City, in a close, hard-fought main eight-round boxing bout last night.

In a companion eight-rounder, Gene Richards, 118, of Montreal, defeated Ben Charette, 112, of Lennoxville.

Portland, Me., Feb. 1. —(AP)—Willie Leo, 131, Portland scored a seven-round kayo over Tony Prince, 133, Sherbrooke, in a scheduled six-round bout last night.

COOKSHIRE TRIMMED 9-1
Using only nine players, East Angus spotted Cookshire a go-ahead in the opening frame, went on to win easily, 9-1, at Cookshire on Tuesday night.

Lacombe rapped in three goals for the visitors in a brilliant display, while Bergeron and Leprieux got a brace apiece. Bergeron set up both of Leprieux's scores and Malhot assisted on Lacombe's three. Gagne and Malhot secured singles and Shelton netted for Cookshire.

Lineup:
East Angus: Goal, Bission; defence, Lapointe, Gagne; centre, Desautels; wings, Bergeron, Leprieux; alternates, Lacombe, Malhot, Menard.
Cookshire: Goal, Vermette; defence, Fuller, Matthews; centre, MacDonald; wings, Shelton, D. MacDonald; alternates, Spickles, Roland, Dubois, Pope, Standish, Kirby, Brazel.

"every step of the way."
And what's more, he declared after a shower, a rubdown and a big steak dinner, he's going to go back about, starting Tuesday if he can't get an extension on his 30-day leave.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

Toronto, Feb. 1. —(AP)—It's a new trend in sport. You may expect to hear any time of one tennis player slugging another or—heavens forbid!—A cricket player jeering at the opposing team.

If international chess experts competing in a solemn tournament can lose their tempers, then anything can happen. The world is in a state of upheaval and we note this with alarm.

In case you didn't catch the report of the London International Chess Tournament earlier this week you missed something. What happened was that the Polish chess master, Dr. Tartakower, and Karel Opatovsky of Czechoslovakia got themselves worked up.

The Pole claimed that the Czech failed to make the required 45 moves in the first five hours. The Czech retorted that the Pole's score sheet was wrong. Tartakower blew up and for a moment it was feared that the worst would happen—that he'd knock over the chess board.

They quietened down and moved the board to another room where officials decided Opatovsky hadn't moved fast enough—speaking figuratively—and was the loser. Opatovsky accepted the ruling.

But that wasn't all. The Russian-born Dr. Ossip Bernstein of France hollered loudly that somebody had set his time-clock going while he was out eating his lunch. After shocked murmurs from other players and spectators Bernstein put the clock back.

The possibilities are nerve-shattering. There's a Czech soccer team from Prague scheduled to come here for a tour in September. A French soccer team is coming for a series in March.

Perhaps the United Nations Organization can be persuaded to set aside the atom bomb for a brief period and take immediate action to meet this new spirit which threatens international relations.

Winnipeg, Feb. 1. —(AP)—Unlike most major sports, the way played a peculiar trick on Canadian track
