Examiner

VOL. XXXI, No. 1 MONTREAL, FRIDAY, JAN. 8, 1960 12 PAGES 35 5 CENTS

Will oppose WMA nominees I. Backler, M. L. Tucker

It's to be an even match for Westmount's first municipal election in five years a week from Monday, on January 18.

The newly formed Westmount Voters' Association, which last week had put forward its chairman, Rev. William Morris, as a lone candidate for Seat No. 2 on City Council — only to find, almost as quickly that he was disqualified as a person in holy orders — came back this week stronger than ever, with candidates for both aldermanic vacancies:

A. H. Garmaise, 375 Claremont avenue, a chartered accountant, will oppose Irving S. Backler, 44 Roxborough avenue, an engineer and the candidate of the Westmount Municipal Association for Seat No. 1, being vacated by Ald. M. Garber;

Mrs. H. F. Reusing, 502 Grosvenor avenue, prominent voluntary organization worker, will oppose M. L. Tucker, DSO, 352 Kensington avenue, WMA nominee for Seat No. 2 from which Ald. F. E. H. Gates is retiring.

The WVA candidates were chosen at a meeting Tuesday evening.

The WVA came into being for the primary purpose of forcing a municipal election — a rare occurrence in Westmount, though one was held five years ago with an unsuccessful challenge to the WMA candidate. Traditionally, mayor and aldermen are elected by acclamation of Municipal Association nominees. The Voters' Association aim is to promote elections by popular vote.

The new body also includes in its platform the public discussion and transaction of public business, representation by geographical area and population, and more comprehensive planning and redevelopment of the City.

Official nomination day is next Monday, Jan. 11, between noon and 2 p.m. The secretary-treasurer of the City, A. W. D. Swan, will be returning officer.

Meanwhile, Mrs. W. I. Abbott, secretary of the Voters' Association, yesterday released the names of individuals who to date had signified their adherence to the principles and platform of the association, some of whom will be signing the nomination papers of the two candidates.

They include W. H. Brunini, L. J. Heaps, Dr. D. L. Shapiro, P. G. McCormack, A. Carl, A. Bram Appel, John H. Dunne, Frank G. Megan, David R. Farrell, William Wallace, L. Ross Moore, W. Douglas Scott, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Dunne, Mrs. Brunini, K. E. Kennedy, Dr. J. R. D. Bayne, Mrs. Abbott and Rev. Mr. Morris.

NOMINATIONS ARE FILED: Mrs. Helena Reusing and A. Garmaise, standing, file their nominations for council seats nos. 1 and 2 with A. W. D. Swan, secretary treasurer of the city and returning officer in the event of an election. Looking on is Mrs. L. Darby, a city employee, yesterday noon. —Tedd Church Photo

Meet the Candidates at Public Forum Sponsored by Examiner

The Westmount Examiner has invited all four candidates for the two vacant aldermanic seats on Westmount City Council to be on the platform for a public forum meeting in Victoria Hall next Wednesday evening, Jan. 13, at 8 p.m.

They have accepted.

Thus, the municipal voters of Westmount will have the opportunity to hear the views, in debate and in answer to questions, of the persons from whom they will be called upon to select occupants for Seats Nos. 1 and 2 by the ballot box on January 18.

Chairman will be Prof. J. R. Mallory of the department of economics and political science of McGill University and a resident of 632 Grosvenor avenue.

The meeting, while sponsored by The Examiner insofar as arrangements and payment for the hall are concerned, will be entirely in the hands of the chairman, who has been recommended for his impartiality and has consented to preside only under these circumstances.

Admission is free.

At Unity Boys' Club

1960 program features indoor, outdoor activity

By MAURICE MARIASINE

Although the primary interest at the Unity Boys' Club is centered around the outdoor skating and hockey rinks these days, all the indoor activities are maintaining a steady pace.

Program Supervisor Robert Parker, Girls' Work Supervisor Crystal Cunningham, Sports Supervisor John McDonough and a large volunteer staff have established an interesting and exciting program for 1960. The accent of the program at the present time is the preparation of articles for the annual Hobby Show which takes place in the late spring. Articles which were completed before Christmas were taken home by the youngsters and used as Christmas presents.

In sports, basketball is the main attraction with nearly 100 cage enthusiasts wearing Unity colors in competition for city title laurels. Marcus Durant's Juniors have been selected to play in Senior "A" company and will play versus the highly-touted Coutu Huskies and the Snowdon "Y" and also in Junior ranks versus the University Settlement "Orchids".

Durant's cage squad have thrown caution to the winds in an effort to gain experience for the purpose of maintaining Senior "A" status in future years. With Unity's Basketball farm system extending from Bidy category to Senior "B", it is expected that the Unity Boys' Club will use only bona-fide Club members to participate in Senior "A" competition. It has never been the policy of the Club to import basketball players - the boys coming up through the ranks of the farm system will be given first opportunity.

Other Unity teams vying for top honors in city competition are the Bidy boys playing in the City of Montreal Bidy Basketball League, the Midgets in the City of Montreal Basketball League and the Juniors in the same league. Coach Ulric Brown's Senior "B" group who have been playing for the Unity Boys' Club since 1952 continue in the MBL and meet Golden Knights and Lakeshore "Y" in the season's opening games. It is also expected that Brown's Senior "B" quintette will participate in the Three Rivers St. Maurice Valley Invitation Tournament which takes place at Three Rivers, January 30th, and 31st. An invitation has also been extended to Unity's Junior team to play an exhibition game at Three Rivers in the not too distant future.

Sports Supervisor John McDonough announced recently that several hockey teams representing the Unity Boys' Club will be entered in the City of Montreal Hockey Leagues which operate under the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association. Heading the coaching staff will be Douglas Wright and Douglas Gavin. Any boy interested in playing hockey is asked to contact either of the above-mentioned coaches or John McDonough at the Club.

With the resumption of activities after the holiday recess, all arts and crafts classes will continue on regular schedule. Volunteer workers have resumed their service - the Library is open three times weekly, the Gymnasium is operating at capacity and social and special events are being conducted on a regular basis and also periodically.

ROSS MACDONALD

Funeral service was held recently for Ross Macdonald, a long-time resident of Westmount. Mr. Macdonald, who was 75, died December 26.

Born in Hamilton, Ontario, Mr. Macdonald graduated with an engineering degree from McGill University in 1907. A few years after graduating he joined the Northern Electric Company Ltd.

During the First World War, Mr. Macdonald first served with the McGill G.O.T.C., then took a commission with the 60th Battalion (Victoria Rifles). He went overseas with this unit and later saw active service in France and Belgium in command of a trench mortar battery. Mr. Macdonald was awarded the Military Cross, was twice mentioned in dispatches and was discharged with the rank of major.

He returned to the company in 1919 and was appointed manager of the Ottawa office, remaining there for two years. Transferring to the general department in Montreal, he remained in that city until his retirement in 1953.

At the time of his death, he was an emeritus member of the University Club and a member of the Victories Rifles Mess. He was also for many years active on the committee of the People's Forum, in the Adult Education Association and the Canadian Institute of International Affairs. Mr. Macdonald was greatly interested in social welfare, doing committee work with the Social Agencies for many years from the time of their formation.

Since his retirement, he has lived for a part of the year at

Two local shows are on tap for 1960 - one at the Eventide Home and the other at St. Matthias Church. An out-of-town show is also scheduled for the group in 1960, the place is Binghamton, New York.

We look back on the year 1959 with pride, having had a tremendous year in participation and a year of success of contributing service to the members of our Community. The successes achieved can be attributed to several factors, the most significant being the acquisition of a large number of top-grade volunteer workers and to the fact that a more concentrated and balanced program of activities had been in effect.

We look forward to 1960 with a great deal of confidence and sincerely hope that equal success will be reaped by our Club members.

Mr. Macdonald is survived by his wife, the former Edith Cumming Creelman, daughter of A. R. Creelman of Montreal, and three daughters, Margaret (Mrs. Edwin Vowles, of Ottawa), Katherine (Mrs. Peter Morrison, of Madison, Wisconsin, now in Chile), and Elizabeth (Mrs. R. G. Goddard, of Montreal), also a nephew, W. D. Macdonald, of Montreal.

The funeral was private. A memorial service was held at the Church of the Messiah, Sherbrooke West and Simpson St., of which he was a warden.

HERBERT A. LAYTON

A funeral service was held yesterday at the Jos. C. Wray chapel for Hubert Arthur Layton, one of the founders of the piano and organ firm of Layton Brothers, who died Tuesday at his home, 4053 Dorchester street west. He was 99.

Born in London, England, in 1861, he arrived in Canada in 1882. Frequently he told intimate friends how, upon leaving home, he bought sturdy leather boots and heavy clothing, expecting to find a wilderness here in Montreal. Instead, he found a "city" of 190,000 people and a job in a grocery store.

Several years later, he and his brother, the late Philip E. Layton, who was a blind musician and organist and who joined him in 1887, founded the piano and organ firm of Layton Brothers, with their first show-room on Mountain street near St. Antoine.

They later purchased the property on St. Catherine street near Stanley, where the business is still owned and operated by members of the Layton family.

One of the founders of the Montreal Association for the blind in 1908, Mr. Layton served for many years as a director and committee chairman of the association and was considered one of the organization's greatest benefactors.

He was a life-long supporter of the Young Men's Christian Association, having been a YMCA member for almost 80 years.

Well-known in music circles throughout Canada and the United States, he was a member of the Emmanuel Congregational Church, now Westmount Park - Emmanuel United Church, for many years.

Mr. Layton was one of the early motorists in Montreal, having purchased an automobile shortly after they appeared on the local market and continued to drive until he was almost 90 years of age.

He was a life governor of the Montreal General Hospital, the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, and a member of the St. George's Society and other fraternal organizations.

Predeceased by his wife, the former Ellen Henderson, he is survived by two sons, Armitage M. and Frank H.; one daughter, Alberta (Mrs. A. Ross Grafton), four grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

 WVA candidate for Seat No. 1

Candidate A. Garmaise will oppose I. Backler

Avram H. Garmaise, the chartered accountant who will be opposing Engineer Irving Backler, brings not only his own executive ability to his candidacy for Seat No. 1 but an interesting twist.

Mr. Backler is the Municipal Association's nominee to succeed as alderman M. Garber, who happens to be Mr. Garmaise's uncle.

Partner in a firm of downtown chartered accountants, Mr. Garmaise has lived in Westmount for seven years. His home, with his wife and two children—a boy of 11 and a girl of 7—is 375 Claremont avenue.

Mr. Garmaise received his Bachelor of Commerce from McGill University and was awarded his CA in 1942.

He is a very active president of the King's School Home and School Association, in which office he is serving his second term.

Theft, violence nets jail term for 3 youths

Three youths, aged 18, 19, and 20 years, netted jail terms in St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary when they appeared before Municipal Magistrate Judge Bernard Rose, Monday, pleading guilty to charges of robbery and violence.

Two of the youths, having no previous offences listed, were sentenced to two years in jail. The third, with one conviction for theft on his record, got a three year term. Charges of robbery and violence can be punishable with life imprisonment.

Shortly after midnight on December 25 the trio accosted a 72-year-old man in the rear of an Academy road apartment, threatened him, and released him when he handed over his wallet, containing $20 in cash.

The scene was overheard by the apartment janitor who, becoming angered, tackled the trio, who kicked him about and injured his hand. He was able, nevertheless to obtain a good description of the youths, which aided Westmount Police in their subsequent investigation, resulting in the arrest of the trio.

WE SAY YOU SAY

Purpose achieved: Westmount to vote

THE Westmount Voters' Association, formed little more than a week ago, is achieving its purpose, which just happens to coincide with the urgings for a long time of The Westmount Examiner.

That is, there is to be, at long last, a municipal election.

The Westmount Municipal Association, which itself complains of the apathy of Westmounters toward local affairs, should welcome this development, too.

An election can do many things here.

First, it is the ultimate in the democratic process in action. On general principles, the electoral machinery should be oiled and limbered.

Next, it will bestir many folks who, while not quite happy about it, were content to let their City Council be peopled by acclamation year after year.

Then, it will be good to have at least two aldermen who will know they were placed in office by popular vote. It may not make them wiser; but they'll be more wary of public views and attitudes in the decisions they make.

To these ends, The Examiner invites all citizens of Westmount to a public forum meeting in Victoria Hall at 8 p.m. next Wednesday evening, Jan. 13, to see, meet and hear the candidates. It will be an evening well spent, in your interests.

One final thought. Remember that the mayor and aldermen of your City serve without remuneration and at the expense of much personal time and trouble. They are deserving of, at least, your attention next Wednesday night and your ballot the following Monday.

Medical expenses terrify 'middles'

Sir: The middle class, backbone of democracy and whose power and influence the communists would lose no time in eliminating once they obtained control of the machinery of government, and from whom come the junior executives and white collar workers and members of the professions in the lower income brackets, are terrified at the thought of being compelled to seek hospitalization or undergo medical or surgical treatment. They know and fear, that a stay in hospital would quickly exhaust their savings and if prolonged get them into debt.

The impression prevails, that the medical profession has become grossly commercialized. There are of course notable and noble exceptions who think in terms of the patient's welfare rather than his ability to meet excessive fees. As for drugs it has, to use a vulgar term become "a racket". The newer drugs that are prescribed give both supplier and retailer an enormous profit. The situation has become such, that the government has been urged to take steps toward assuming the responsibility to provide facilities to enable the sick to get the hospitalization and the treatment they require.

The profession is strongly opposed to state medicine. Its members prefer the present and pleasant relationship of physician and patient, but it is becoming more and more difficult to retain, since the unfortunate patient may be called upon to pay in hospital charges and fees, thousands of dollars. Specialists may charge, what they please, since there is no tariff nor are they subject to professional regulation as to what constitutes a fair charge for their services. In his address to his colleagues in the Legislative Council of the Provincial parliament a prominent member said, that only the indigent and very rich can get the treatment they may need. It is the middle class that is called upon to pay the exorbitant charges and fees that a stay in hospital entails. The average white collar worker and small income professional dread the possibility of being compelled to being inscribed in the hospital records as an indigent — in other words, a pauper. He prefers and is entitled to that privacy available to those who can enter as private patients.

Examiner Profile:

His finger on pulse of education

By GEORGINA RODDEN

SCOTTISH by birth, Mr. Robert Japp took over as director of education, and secretary-treasurer of the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal, as of January 1. His mother and sister still reside at his birthplace in Fife, Scotland.

Mr. Japp first came to Canada in 1929, on a scholarship to McGill University, to take post-graduate studies in education and psychology. He returned, upon completion of his studies, to Scotland to teach, but within a year's time, had made up his mind to make his future in Canada.

In 1931, he accepted an appointment to a post in the High School of Montreal, and with that, he also lectured during succeeding summers at McGill. Then, in 1939, he was sent out to Macdonald College to replace Dr. Howard Brunt, and in 1940, was posted as principal to Earl Grey School.

The following year, he was principal at Maison-neuve School, and then, in 1942 was appointed by the School Board as inspector of schools.

When the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal was reorganized in 1946, Mr. Japp became the education officer, in which job he was responsible for supervising one of three city areas.

In 1956, when a further reorganization of the Board took place, Mr. Japp was appointed personnel director, in which post he was responsible for the employment of a staff numbering in the neighborhood of 2800, including all personnel, teachers and cleaning assistants.

Mr. Japp's wife, the former Thelma Berry of Montreal, has been prominent in Notre Dame de Grace community affairs, notably the N.D.G. Women's Club.

Their one daughter, Rhoda, is married; their son, Robert no doubt, to meet the increasingly articulate demand for a plan of hospital insurance that would provide hospitalization and treatment within the means of the middle class and the skilled worker. I share the medical profession's objection to socialized medicine; but unless and until an equitable scheme fair to both patient and doctor is put into effect the demand for an all out state control of hospitals and medical charges will become more intense.

If: "A nation's health is a nation's wealth", it should be the principal concern of a democratic government as well as the institutions and persons who are anxious to keep down the incidence of illness and disease.

Criticism when discussing the situation will not bring about long delayed reform, only an aroused and determined public opinion will influence both the government and the medical profession to assume the responsibility of keeping productively employed persons of both sexes in a state of good health so that they may continue to be human assets rather than liabilities.

Bernard Rose

Robert Japp

"Bob" Japp, is an engineering student at McGill.

Apart from the demanding duties and long hours of his position, Mr. Japp is a curling enthusiast with the Outremont Curling Club, and during the summer, spends his holidays at the family cottage on 16 Island Lake, at which time he golfs at nearby Laurentian courses.

He retains a very distinct remnant of his Scottish background in his speech.

Unwilling to commit himself at this time, because he is "between jobs" so to speak, Mr. Japp did indicate his belief that when Canadian students leave high school, "they are every bit as well prepared to fit into the future as youngsters in the old country."

When dealing with educational problems (he continued to do so during the interview, so pressed are education officers at this time of year) he is crisp and shrewd, although not superciliously so. He is not unwilling to discuss the educational system, except under the conditions which govern his position at the present time, and gives thoughtful, thought-provoking straight-forward answers to the most penetrating questions.

It is of interest, possibly, that his finger closely on the education pulse for the past 30 years.

When this interviewer was leaving his office, he presented a pamphlet indicative of the material prepared by the Protestant School Board in the interests of parents and pupils.

It is of interest, possibly, that the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal is made up of representatives from 11 district school boards.

These 11 boards comprise City of Montreal, Coteau St. Pierre (Montreal West), Hampstead, La Chine, Outremont, Mount Royal, Pointe aux Trembles, St. Laurent, Sault-au-Rcollet (Montreal North), Verdun and Westmount. Each of these school boards, in turn, administers the affairs of the schools concerned therein.

'Will run' states Irving Backler

Irving Backler, 44 Roxborough avenue, Westmount Municipal Association nominee for council seat number 1, stated this week in a letter to The Examiner that he will run for office if the seat is contested.

In an interview published last week, Mr. Backler was asked: "If the aldermanic seats shortly to become vacant were contested, would you run?"

"No," stated Mr. Backler.

In his letter to The Examiner, Mr. Backler explained:

"In my interview with the reporter of the Westmount Examiner, I did not intimate that I would not run as aldermanic candidate for seat number 1 in the City of Westmount if anyone opposed me.

"The question asked me was 'Would you run as alderman if you knew you were to have opposition?' I answered 'No, because I am not running on a political platform'. This decision would have been made before acceptance of nomination.

"Since I have accepted the nomination from the Westmount Municipal Association, I certainly would not back down from my responsibilities, and I therefore will contest the seat if necessary."

Mental retardation discussed by Dr. Preston Robb of MCH

By VALENTINA RAHR

DR. PRESTON ROBB, Roslyn avenue, is director, Cerebral Palsy Services, Montreal Children's Hospital. Commenting on mental retardation in children, he states: "One need not work in a children's neurology clinic for long to realize that mental retardation can be acquired after birth. There are virus diseases that cause irrevocable damage to the brain. Auto accidents, poisoning, meningitis and many other things may be the cause of brain damage.

"It is easy to see that the need for research is great and must encompass many broad fields, from road accident prevention to the study of viruses and chemical reactions of the nervous system. The search for truth and new knowledge must continue."

There are areas where one can visualize success in the not too distant future. The virus diseases are being conquered, traffic accidents can and must be reduced, genetic studies and others appear to be on the verge of a major breakthrough. At the same time more basic research into brain chemistry and physiology must be supported to lay the groundwork for a better understanding of the retarded child, says Dr. Robb.

Miss Yvonne Gray, and Miss Sonia Chamberlain, Gray avenue, ballet teachers at King's School, and other West End schools, arranged a display at the Chateau de Ramezay recently. Children taking part in "Les New Canadians," the ballet presented, from Westmount, were: Cathy Berg, Valerie Hunt, Elizabeth Sparrow, Jane Daffern, Pam Yates. The display of dancing was sponsored by the Quebec Dance Teachers Association.

Mr. R. H. Mainer, Columbia

Westmount Rotary told:

Hiring, house-hunting have much in common

"Selection of employment candidates by interview is much like buying your own home — you don't take what looks good on the outside." This was the opinion expressed by John Roderick Kirby, a training engineer with Northern Electric. He was addressing the Westmount Rotary Club at their first weekly dinner of 1960.

Last August Mr. Kirby bought a house in St. Lambert. His wife, children and mother-in-law are delighted, and so is he. He handled the selection of the house in the same manner as he handles the selection of personnel for Northern.

"Nothing in the world is perfect," he said. "Some features will be exactly what is required, while others may need some extension. We should not be sidetracked by a few obvious features. Make a complete check."

These remarks do not apply to buying houses, but to the hiring of personnel. Mr. Kirby feels that the gift of conducting a successful interview with a job applicant is rare, so he offers many tips on what to do.

The conduct of a successful interview is the correct application of a skill learned in training through practice and guidance. To this must be coupled the interviewer's personal experience — not experience in interviewing, but his experience as a man.

One of the most important aspects of an interview is the personality, motivation and character of the applicant. His past achievements, while important, are secondary. A successful evaluation can fit the right man to the right job and allow him personal happiness, and at the same time make room for his future growth.

The employer should have an exact knowledge of the job to be done, and he should give a lot of thought to the kind of man he wants to do it. He should understand all aspects thoroughly before he ever calls in an applicant for the interview.

Mr. Kirby suggested that, if an application form has been filled out, the interviewer should study it carefully. Neatness, writing, list of hobbies, will tell him what to expect when he faces the applicant.

"The functions of the interviews are: to get information; to give information; to make a friend." Mr. Kirby feels that if you can make a friend of the applicant, which can only be done by properly conducting the interview, then you can find out not only what he wishes to tell you, but what he would rather not tell you. "The only trouble is," he adds, "the interviewer may not understand how to handle the information he has obtained." Putting the applicant at ease is very conducive to a very successful interview, and Mr. Kirby offers some tips:

1. An interviewer who is sitting back relaxing can see the whole picture on a broad outlook.
2. An interviewer who sits bolt upright in his chair can only concentrate on particular points.

Therefore, there is even a certain time to sit a certain way to help the interview along. The person conducting the interview should start a conversation on its way. If he is skillful at this he can start the applicant talking about himself. A few pauses in the flow of conversation are likely to occur, but the interviewer can practically eliminate them by repeating the last few words of the discussion in a sympathetic way.

"Never use questions that can be answered 'yes' or 'no,'" Mr. Kirby recommends, otherwise the interviewer will be doing all the talking. It is better to ask a question in such a way that the applicant will begin talking all over again. What if the applicant is not satisfactory? "Then conclude the interview in a friendly manner," Mr. Kirby answers. "Make certain that he is still your friend." which was with the Army of Occupation in Austria. He came to Canada in 1956 and remarks, "The only regret I have about coming to Canada is that I didn't come sooner."

The element nickel was discovered in 1751 by the Swedish scientist Axel Frederick Cronstedt.

The consequences of Christmas

By
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

THE tremendous event which we celebrate at Christmas is not something which stands by itself. Rather, it was prepared for over thousands of years and it has left results which have affected the world for thousands of years; and, we believe, will go on affecting the world till the end of time. We think of it as a final event, as something which will neither be repeated nor exceeded in God's revelation of Himself. It has brought in a new age. It is not fancy which leads the historian to write of such and such events as happening "Before Christ," and other events as taking place in such and such "year of our Lord."

It was said of our Lord when He was presented in the Temple that He was "a light to lighten the Gentiles." St. John makes great use of that word "light." He was the true light, that lighteneth every man coming into the world. Jesus said of Himself: "I am the light of the world." His very Coming has shed light upon every problem of mankind. The world can never be the same in the eyes of the Christian as it was in the eyes of the Gentile world.

The dominant philosophies of our Lord's day had a very pessimistic outlook on the world. To the Stoic and the Epicurean and still more to the Cynic, the world was an unworthy thing - so unworthy that one could not conceive of God as having anything to do with it. In the eyes of the philosopher God had to be pushed farther and farther away for fear He should be contaminated by the world. Then Christ came and accepted all the material elements that go to make up the human body, and glorified them in His Body. Those elements from that time on can never be unworthy things. The Christian estimate of the world goes back again to the first chapter of Genesis where we read that God looked on His work of creation and behold it was very good.

In the same way our Lord's

Coming sheds light on the nature of man. A favorite saying among the wise of that day was: "The body is a tomb," meaning that the soul of man is the only part of him that has any real value - the body is only a hindrance to him. Some tried to bring the body under control by severe fasting and discipline; others said "You cannot do anything about the body. Let it go its own way and sin to the limit." But when Jesus had taken complete human nature He honored the body as well as the soul. Out of that honor comes the possibility of the Resurrection of the Body.

The Coming of our Lord sheds light also on the nature of God. He is no less Creator and Judge, but He is revealed as something more. He is One who cares for His world so much that He sends His Son to save it. To go back to the phrase with which we began - Jesus is "a light to lighten the Gentiles," and especially in regard to their understanding of God. Of that pagan understanding we can only say that it was frivolous and unworthy. The gods of Greece and Rome were magnified men and women, magnified both as to crimes and virtues, not claiming to exercise any influence on man's relationship with other men. Paganism could never produce a saying "Be ye perfect even as your Father in Heaven is perfect." The world was a new world because men's understanding of it was made new in Christ.

WEIGHT OF BIBLE

How much does a Bible weigh? It all depends on what form it is in, whether manuscript, Braille, pocket size or whether the paper and binding are heavy or light. A Braille Bible of 39 volumes weighs over 100 lbs, a pocket Testament weighs only a few ounces. The complete typescript of the Bible in the Teso language, spoken by half a million Africans in Northern Uganda weighs 35 lbs.

3 generations mark Chanukah at Shaar lunch

The Sisterhood and Men's Association of Shaar Hashomayim paid tribute to the spirit of Chanukah in sponsoring the Father-Son, Mother-Daughter Luncheon during the holiday period on Sunday, December 27, in the Community Hall. Notwithstanding the date, the luncheon was well attended by at least three generations of the congregational family who in the festive spirit of the occasion enjoyed a highly entertaining program.

Joe Eliesen, member of the executive of the Men's Association and programme chairman, presided. Greetings were extended by Rabbi Wilfred Shuchat, Dr. Harry C. Ballon, vice-president of Shaar Hashomayim, and Nat Gaisin, president of the Men's Association. The grace after meals was recited by Arthur Rubin, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bernard Rubin, and the ceremony of the kindling of the lights was enacted by Samuel Morgulis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Morgulis.

The program included solo renditions of Hebrew and Yiddish melodies by Raasche, vocalist; folk melodies played and sung by the guitarist Shimon Ash, of South Africa and Israel; and The Puppet Theatre of Montreal, under the direction of Tamara Nijinsky.

How much of your first $100,000.00 will you save by next New Year?

That's right — your $100,000.00. For, believe it or not, you'll likely earn more than that during your working years. Question is: how much will you keep?

Right now is the time to resolve to keep a larger part of what you earn throughout this new year. And the place to keep it is in a B of M Savings Account.

Make saving every pay-day your No. 1 New Year's resolution this year. The B of M can't help you resolve to stop eating between meals or get you to work on time, but it can help you save.

Why not start your account tomorrow at "MY BANK" — it's a good place to accumulate a portion of the vast sum you will earn during your working years. It takes just one dollar — and three minutes — to open your B of M Savings Account.

Here's a resolution-keeper... Ask at your neighbourhood B of M branch for a copy of our booklet "Blue-Print for Successful Personal and Family Financing". It will show you how to make up a workable budget that will keep your New Year's resolution intact.

A New Day

We greet the young and golden dawn
Of plenteous store, to all who need,
When perfect peace, with silver chord
Unites the world, in word and deed.

As Sun through fog, we see peace near,
With gifts of cheer, and joy to all,
Hope's flaming torch, sends forth its rays,
May warring nations heed the call.

McGill chamber orchestra tour
On January 16th, the McGill Chamber Orchestra leaves Montreal, embarking on its first tour. Sponsored by the Canada Council, they will give concerts in Mount Holyoke College on January 17, in Pittsburgh for the Society of New Friends of Music on January 18th, and in Ottawa for the Ladies Morning Music Club on January 25.
In a sense one can say that this is a recognition, and a timely tribute to the McGill Chamber Orchestra, celebrating its 20th successive season of public concert-giving. Starting as a string quartet in 1939, and branching out as a chamber orchestra in 1949, this group has presented the finest of the chamber orchestra literature to an ever increasing audience. For the past three years the ensemble has been fortunate to receive a grant from the Council of Arts of Greater Montreal.
Under the direction of its founder and conductor, Alexander Brott, the chamber orchestra consists of some of Montreal's best string players, and their standard of performance has received recognition and praise. During the past four years they were responsible for commissioning and presenting a Canadian premiere each year with the aid of the Lapitsky Foundation. So far all of these commissioned works were performed broadcast and recorded. The composers presently writing commissioned works are Jean Vallerand and Louis Applebaum.
The McGill Chamber Orchestra's musical director, Alexander Brott has received international recognition, conducting some of the major symphony orchestras in England, Holland, Switzerland, Sweden, Norway, France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Mexico, Israel, as well as in Canada. His experience with the Chamber orchestra literature prompted the invitation to conduct the Stratford Festival Orchestra last summer, and he has been invited to return to conduct it. Israel for the month of July 1960.

The committee of the McGill Chamber Orchestra consists of a number of devoted music lovers, whose untiring efforts permit attention to the manifold details vital to the proper functioning of a successful concert series.

District curlers to play in England and Scotland

Four Montreal district curlers, carrying the banner of the Canadian Branch of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club, left New Year's Eve with 24 other Canadian curlers on a test match junket to Scotland and England.

The quartet includes Harold G. Clarke of Montreal West and Thistle clubs; G. F. Rogers of Pointe Claire and Chantecler; W. J. MacKay of Town of Mount Royal and J. G. 'Ted' Pattee, Pointe Claire C.C.

The Canuck invasion will be mainly in search of the coveted Strathcona Cup. But, there will be several friendlies on the six-week trip including a visit to Manchester, England, the first of its kind by Canadian curlers.

This will mark the tenth time since 1909 that Canada and Scotland have tried for the historic cup, presented by Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, to commemorate his presidency of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club in Scotland and of the first visit of a Canadian curling team to his country in January of 1909.

The cup is one of the most handsome in international sport competition.

Aug. 15, 1959. — Marlene Stewart Streit wins 6th Canadian Ladies Open Golf title, defeats Mrs. Bruce McGhie, N.Y., 7 and 6. Harry Fauquier, Toronto, wins Canadian junior men's singles tennis championship at Ottawa. British Columbia wins Willingdon Cup at Vancouver.

The Lower Canada College line of Ewing Attridge, Andy Robertson and Fred McRobie ran wild again, scoring five goals in a 6-0 exhibition win over St. Leo's.

Attridge, who assisted in all four of LCC's goals at the McGill Tournament Tuesday, scored three yesterday.

Robertson and McRobie were the other scorers on the line. They also earned two assists each.

Charlie Robertson was the other LCC scorer. Arthur Minnion was a standout on defence, breaking up several St. Leo's attacks and setting up McRobie's goal.

S T. LEO'S SPORTS

By PETER RASSENTI and RAY MAYNARD

The Academy's young senior hockey club are finding the going tough in their exhibition encounters against top opposition. There is criticism in some quarters that the school is too small to ice a team with sufficient depth and experience to hold their own in competition with schools much bigger and in some cases with 12 grade, which is equivalent to Freshman College.

In fairness to the team, it must be remembered that the loss of Mike Johnson and Pierre Leduc, seriously jeopardized their strength.

At present the team has only four players over the Junior GMIAA age limit and only 10 players to start their GMIAA schedule. Coach Andy McGillis had this to say, "We are not looking for sympathy, just a chance to play hockey and if some of the lesser lights would give out with a little more effort in skating, we could make things mighty interesting."

On the brighter side, is the fine all-around play of defenceman Allan Keith and forwards John Rinfret and George Spare. This trio impressed in the McGill High School hockey tournament, with their fine play and endurance. Keith in particular caught the eye of the fans with his clean but rugged play and coach Ken Murray of the McGill senior Redmen, was seen casting an envious eye on young Keith, who is in his last year at St. Leo's.

In a penalty riddled match, the Saints lost the opening game of the McGill Tournament, 4-3 in overtime. Penalties to the defencemen proved the downfall of St. Leo's who were leading 3-1. With 11 minutes to go such prosperity did not seem to agree with defencemen Jacques Lemieux and Billy McNally, who decided upon taking a few excursions to the sin bin giving the Chambly boys the openings to tie up matters and go on to a well earned victory in overtime.

In the second game of the day, a tired but game St. Leo's were not able to hold a matured McGee team in check and lost 5-2. Dave Kelleher and George Spare were the scorers. Allan Keith took the number one star of the game, with Paul Froio former Clarke Avenue puckchaser now toiling on the double blue defence, nailing down the second star.

The Bantams continue to show good form, posting a 2-1 victory over Loyola and a 7-6 win over Westmount Junior High. Derek Johnson was the hero over a fine team from Loyola, scoring both his goals.

In a previous game at Loyola, the Maroon and White won 3-1, Derek figured in the only goal.

Team captain Connie Nucci with a hat trick, led his club to a close 7-6 win over Westmount. St. Leo's Bantams open their schedule this afternoon at Verdun Auditorium, clashing with Loyola.

After suffering a 6-0 set-back from Lower Canada, the Academy seniors bounced back a few days later to eke out a 4-3 win over Loyola at Westmount. It was 14-year-old Connie Nucci, borrowed from the bantams, that ignited the spark and gave the winners the edge.

Connie notched two goals and assisted in another to down the highly favorite Maroon and White, John Rinfret and Donald McElroy were the other marksmen in this game.

Billy McNally is a much improved player on the senior's defence. He possesses a fine team spirit and a lot of drive is making his presence felt in recent games.

The school curling team will make their debut this week. Mike Donald will be the team captain, for as he leads the devotees of the ancient pastime into action on the fine surface of the St. George's Club, Westmount Boulevard. Coach McGillis, expressed his sincere appreciation to members of his senior hockey club, for their thoughtfulness in presenting him with a fine holiday gift.
