Six Thought Dead In Baltimore Fire

Baltimore — (P) — A tumbling wall of a burning clothing store trapped and apparently killed six firemen early today.

Two bodies were recovered. It appeared it would take some time to reach the other four. The men were trapped as they battled in a nine-alarm fire in a building on East Baltimore street.

Rescuers tunneled from the west side and said part of a wall had to be removed from the east side before they could get to a pile of debris in which the four missing firemen were believed buried.

De Gaullist Defections Menace Pineau Cabinet

By HARVEY HUDSON
Paris — (P) — Christian Pineau completed a proposed government lineup early today, but within a few hours three of his 36 nominees withdrew at their party's request. All were followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Their action sent Pineau scrambling for replacements. He had hoped to ask the National Assembly Friday to approve his cabinet and confirm him as France's first Socialist premier since 1947.

Those who withdrew were Edward Cornillon-Molinier, who had been named to the justice ministry; Pierre Ferri, named to the ministry of posts, telephone and telegraphs; and Andre Gaubert, secretary of state for commerce.

Two Gaullists chose to stay in Pineau's government, Maurice Lemaire, minister for reconstruction, and Diomedes Catroux, secretary of state for air. Both held the same positions in Pierre Mendes-France's government.

The withdrawals left the other 15 ministries divided this way among five parties: Socialists 4, Mouvement Republicain Populaire 4, Radical Socialists 4, Gaullists 1, and the small leftist Union of Democratic and Socialist Resistance 2.

Without Gaubert, this is the lineup of the other 18 secretaries of state, whose posts are below

100 Die In Flaming Agony As Fire Sweeps Jap Home

By JOHN RANDOLPH
Yokohama, Japan — (P) — About 100 aged women died in flaming agony today when a sudden blaze turned a Roman Catholic old ladies' home into a 30-minute inferno before dawn.

There were only 46 survivors, police said, and nearly all of these were burned or injured in jumps from the second floor of their two-story wooden dormitory. Several are in critical condition.

The Canadian head of the home, operated by the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary, escaped. She is Sister Superior Marie St. Longin du Sacre Coeur, the former Claire Cloutier of St. Narcisse de Champlain, Que. The sister superior at the order's Quebec convent did not know how many other Canadian nuns were in the home.

"I could do nothing," a survivor cried. "I can hear their screams. 'Hot! ... hot! ... help! ... help!'"

The inmates were mainly aged Japanese women without families. Their ages ranged from 60 to 96.

It was Japan's worst building fire since the wartime air raids. The 1951 Sakuragicho train fire in central Yokohama killed 106. Sister Umeko Sugiyama, 42, a nun, died when she dashed back into the burning building to carry out another of her charges.

The home, a converted Japanese army barracks, was part of the convent of the Garden of Our Lady, belonging to the Franciscan missionaries. Welfare ministry officials said the building had been declared a fire menace in 1953.

Yokohama police said the blaze apparently started with defective wiring at 4:30 a.m. Heat and sparks ignited a two-story chapel and two other buildings all which burned to the ground.

The main convent, housing 161 nuns and novices, mainly Japanese, was spared. In the Yokohama National Hospital, the suffering survivors mingled Christian prayers with chants of "Namu amida batsu" — the Buddhist prayer of mercy for the dying.

Firemen hampered by a water shortage, spread mattresses and implored the old women to jump. Some did. Others were too feeble.

Today's Chuckle

Junior was being chided for his low grades. Little Robert, who lived a few doors away, was held up as an example.

"Robert doesn't get C's and D's, does he? asked his father.

"No," Junior admitted, "but he's different. He has very bright parents."

Survivor Tells Of Struggle To Rescue Friends

Montreal. — (P) — A 26-year-old visitor at the midtown apartment building where 11 persons were burned to death Wednesday night, shinnied down three storeys, clutching an electrical wire, to get help to his girl friend and her mother.

Jean Dupras told his story in hospital where his girl friend, Denise Brouillard, 18, and her mother, Mrs. Lorenzo Brouillard, 50, were being treated.

He said they first found out about the fire when smoke started seeping under the apartment door.

"We started running for the stairway but it was just a sheet of flame," Dupras said.

"When we saw we couldn't make it we ran back into the apartment and out onto the balcony. We yelled for help. I don't know for how long, it may have been five minutes but it felt like hours.

"The flames were starting to catch on the balcony when I noticed an electrical wire running down the side of the house. I shinnied down to the first floor and then broke into an apartment. I finally found my way out and got the firemen to help Mrs. Brouillard and Denise down."

"They just got to us in time," said Mrs. Brouillard from her hospital bed, while a nurse stood by with an inhalator. "We were suffocating."

Four Die In Collision In Quebec Area

Grondines, Que. — (P) — Three men and one woman were killed during a blinding snowstorm early today when their car skidded into the path of a semi-trailer truck near this town, 60 miles west of Quebec. Another woman was critically injured and taken to hospital to Quebec.

All were from Arvida, Que., and were on their way to Shawinigan Falls, police reported.

Dead are Alcide Veilleux, 65; his sons Rene, 27, and Alcide, Jr., 30; and Mrs. Marie Veilleux, wife of Alcide, Jr.

Mrs. Ernest Reid, daughter of the older man, was hauled from the totally smashed car and taken to hospital with multiple fractures.

Police said the truck, belonging to a Montreal transport firm, was headed for Quebec when the accident occurred. Driver J. P. Caouette of Quebec was uninjured.

Caouette told police the Veilleux's car skidded across the road directly into his path and he didn't have time to stop the heavy semi-trailer.

The bodies were taken to a morgue at nearby Donnacona, Que.

Resources Bill Again Talked Out

Ottawa — (P) — The Commons has debated resources conservation for 3½ hours with no apparent concrete results.

In Wednesday's half-day session private members' resolutions, H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) for the fourth time in four years asked for a Dominion-provincial conference on water, soil and forest conservation.

The resolution was rejected by two cabinet members. Resources Minister Lesage said responsibility for initiating such a conference rests with the provinces. Agriculture Minister Gardiner said the Liberal government always has had a national conservation policy.

"Talked out" when adjournment time came, the resolution reverted to the bottom of a lengthy list of members' motions, probably doomed not to come up again this session.

Today brings resumption of debate, started Tuesday, on a motion by David Fulton (PC—Kamloops) of non-confidence in the government on its immigration policy and administration.

Two Survivors In Critical Condition As Result Of Falls

By MEL MORRIS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Montreal — (CP) — Eleven persons died Wednesday night and at least a dozen injured when fire whipped through the top floors of an old brick apartment building in the heart of Montreal.

Firemen, scrambling up ladders in a heavy, wet snow, rescued a score of screaming men and women from wooden balconies and window ledges.

The 11 victims died trying to fight their way through flame-and-smoke-filled halls and stairways of the four-storey Salaberry apartments at the corner of Sherbrooke Street East and St. Denis Street.

At least four panic-stricken apartment dwellers gambled on leaps from the fourth floor to the pavement. Two women were in serious condition in hospital with fractured spines.

All attempts to identify the dead were left until today. Morgue officials said some were so badly burned that even their sex could not be determined immediately.

Firemen still probing the upper-floor ruins early today said there was "only a very slim possibility" any bodies were still inside.

The fire was the worst in Montreal since 1951, when 37 pensioners died in a fire which destroyed the Ste. Cunegonde Home for the Aged.

Two victims—an elderly man and his wife—were found just a few feet from their bed. Another man had struggled to within inches of a first-floor window.

Residents said the building had two fire escapes, both leading to an enclosed inner courtyard. From there the fleeing residents had to pass through ground-floor apartments.

Survivors said the lights went out shortly after the fire started, adding to the panic.

When firemen arrived, the residents were standing on window ledges and balconies, screaming for help.

"We rescued as many as we could," said one fireman, "but we didn't have much time."

Residents of the area said the building was built about 25 years ago and renovated about 25 years ago after fire damaged it. Most of the apartments were small, housing single persons or families of two or three.

As the victims were brought out, the fire department chaplain, Rev. Paul Morin, pronounced the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church over them. Most of the apartment residents were French-speaking.

All the victims lived on the two top storeys of the 85-apartment building. Firemen said they apparently learned of the fire

Patience Urged

Duplessis Warns Against Outbursts By Supporters

Quebec — (P) — With an eye on the forthcoming federal-provincial conference in Ottawa, Premier Duplessis has asked his Union Nationale party supporters to avoid outbursts against federal authorities.

The political chieftain, who will be 65 April 20, Wednesday told his supporters to adopt a new policy of "patience." He said he would set the example by curbing a "natural bent" to go on the warpath in federal-provincial matters.

Mr. Duplessis made the statement during a 30-minute speech at the conclusion of a sumptuous, candle-lit birthday party in the Legislature cafeteria. The party is held annually during the House session.

Quebec, only province in Canada not to sign postwar taxation agreements, has been wrangling over fiscal matters with federal authorities for 10 years.

The federal government announced a decision Jan. 17 to cut federal income tax by 10 per cent in Quebec toward solution of double taxation. The cut will cost Ottawa an estimated $30,000,000 annually.

Mr. Duplessis Wednesday night plainly said the federal decision did not meet Quebec's claims in full.

His policy-of-patience address followed a statement earlier in the day in the Legislative Assembly in which he described the trans-Canada highway project as an encroachment on provincial rights.

Mr. Duplessis said if Ottawa has money to give for roads, a provincial field under the constitution, it is money that rightfully belongs to the province.

Quebec has refused to share in the trans-Canada highway project from its inception and has therefore received no roads grants from Ottawa.

Mr. Duplessis said any agreement would have to be based on constitution rights, not just on federal plans, specifications, and conditions.

As in the 1944, 1948, and 1952 provincial election campaigns he said the chief question today for Quebec is whether it will survive. Its natural wealth ensured its material survival but, he said, without survival of fundamental values the former was worthless.

In effect, Mr. Duplessis urged his party to change its tactics. He said there are indications of understandings on the national horizon.

"I ask for patience for the sake of obtaining our rights."

If patience was not successful, he said, Quebec could then decide what would be done.

Britain Enters Race

To Develop And Produce H-Bomb

London — (Reuters) — Britain announced tonight she will develop and produce a hydrogen bomb.

The announcement came in an official statement on defence along with the proposed defence budget which called for a slight reduction in expenditure for the 1955-56 year.

Declaring Britain had the ability to produce thermonuclear weapons, the announcement said: "After fully considering all the implications of this step, the government have thought it their duty to proceed with their development and production."

Britain exploded her first atomic bomb off the west Australian coast Oct. 3, 1953, and has since tested other atomic weapons. But today's announcement was the first indication the nation is going into hydrogen weapons.

The statement, reviewing defence progress of the last year, said the emergence of the thermonuclear bomb had overshadowed all else.

"New and revolutionary problems are posed, requiring courage and imagination for their solution," the report said.

"Nevertheless our problem is still fundamentally a dual one. We have to prepare against the risk of a world war and so prevent it."

London — (Reuters) — Sir Winston Churchill's government has received a chilly press reception for its statement Wednesday on jet aircraft production for the RAF.

Even Conservative newspapers which generally support the government demand to know why Britain is lagging behind the United States in developing jet fighters and bombers.

The Daily Sketch, a Conservative, independent newspaper, headlines: "RAF sensation — new fighter washed out." A headline in the Labor paper, The Daily Herald, says "Air scandal facts are out." The Conservative independent Daily Express headlines: "Big clash on air middle."

Wednesday's statement admitted that the first three versions of the Swift jet fighter have not proved suitable and a fourth version is only now being tested. In regard to the Hunter jet fighter, the government said, "there are still certain directions in which its performance could be improved, but main troubles have been overcome."

The Daily Telegraph, normally a staunch defender of the government, labels this "an apology." It says the government's claim that Britain now has a better night air defence than anyone else is "astounding," as "no figures of available aircraft are given to justify these assertions."

The Liberal Manchester Guardian says the statement tried to "camouflage the real weakness of the RAF today."

Saint John, N.B. — (CP) — Two retiring members of the board of directors of the New Brunswick Telephone Company, Ltd., were honored here Wednesday. W. E. Golding, Saint John, vice-president and member of the executive committee, and J. M. Robinson, Rothesay, received silver trays engraved with the names of board members. Senator G. Percy Churchill, South Nelson, N.B., chairman of the board, made the presentation.

Extradition Is Battled By Quartet

Bern, Switzerland — (P) — The anti-Communist invaders of the Romanian legion battled for their lives today against a Communist demand that they be extradited to Romania.

Three of the men gave up their arms and left the legion Wednesday after holding it for nearly two days in the face of a show of force by Swiss police and troops. A fourth had been arrested early Tuesday when he tried to slip out. Police said the four refused to give their names.

The surrender heightened the international dispute that has strained relations between Romania and long-neutral Switzerland. Some observers predict a diplomatic break.

The four men face trial here for the death of a legion chauffeur, Aurel Sedu, fatally wounded late Monday night when the anti-Reds seized the legion at gunpoint and drove the staff out into the street.

Switzerland has no death penalty, and the Swiss federal court has not yet expressed an official view on the Romanian demand that the men be returned to Bucharest for trial. But Swiss legal experts say the fact that the crime was committed on legion property would not automatically mean extradition.

The Romanian government has reacted as though the killing took place on actual Romanian soil. Under international law, embassy and legion buildings are considered technically part of the power occupying them.

Dulles Sees Power Fight Aiding Western Outlook

Washington — (P) — State Secretary Dulles says a power struggle in Moscow eventually may produce Russian leaders with whom the United States can make "practical agreements" to ease world tensions.

Dulles also says the Formosa crisis can be settled if Red China will renounce the use of force to capture Nationalist-held islands.

Diplomats here noted that the secretary's speech Wednesday night to the Foreign Policy Association in New York, a condensed version of which was carried by radio and television, was calm and peaceful in tone but firm against the spread of communism in any important new areas of Asia.

Dulles apparently took this tone deliberately in contrast to recent warlike speeches by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and Red China's Premier Chou En-lai.

As for the Formosa problem, Dulles said the U.S. "has no commitment and no purpose" to defend such islands as the Quemoy and Matsu "as such." But he made clear that the Americans might well fight for Quemoy and Matsu should any Communist attack on them be aimed at the conquest of Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa.

Dulles appealed to the Chinese Reds to reconsider a United Nations Security Council bid to discuss a Formosa cease-fire.

On the Russian situation, Dulles said a distinction must always be made between the Soviet government and the Communist party.

"The time may come — I believe it will come — when Russians of stature will patriotically put first their national security and the welfare of their people."

"They will be unwilling to have that security and that welfare subordinated to the world wide ambitions of international communism."

"If their point of view should prevail, then indeed there could be a basis for worthwhile negotiation and practical agreement between the United States and the new Russia."

Dulles did not speculate with in what period of time "Russian of stature" might seize power.

The full significance of what happened was still obscure, and "perhaps the last act of the drama has not yet been played."

The Doofer Family

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY

CONCERT

For many years Aunt Millie Moofer has been determined to introduce culture to Dooferville. It wasn't that her neighbors objected to culture. It was just that Aunt Millie's brand was so loud and off key. Poor Aunt Millie! She lived alone in the biggest house in Dooferville, and everyone thought she was very rich.

Aunt Millie had taken a trip to Paris once when she was a very young girl, and had a few singing lessons. Ever since that day she had tried to get everyone to call her "Madame Moofer." She was a very funny old lady. Very funny indeed. Everyone loved her—when she didn't sing. And they hated to hurt her feelings.

So when teacher Miss Zoosoo Zoosoo—a stranger in town—had proudly introduced her surprise guest, the great prima donna MADAME MOOFER, everyone gasped. Aunt Millie came fluttering from behind the little old stage curtain where she had been hiding, waiting to make her grand entrance.

My but she was dressed up fit to kill! She wore her best hat—the silliest, little old hat! And she carried her lorgnette! Her several chins just quivered with excitement and joy. Aunt Millie was going to entertain—at the George Washington's birthday party.

Well! Aunt Millie raised her lorgnette, and in a booming voice dripping with "culture" announced—just as if everyone hadn't known her for years and years: "I am Madame Millicent Moofer. Miss Madame Millicent Moofer." She giggled. "It is a great honah to appear in yoh fah city. I can see you are all ladies and gentlemen and boys and guls of cultuuh—and that you appreciate the finah things. I note with great surprise and displeasuh that the music here tonight was not from the mastahs. And that there was one hillwilliam numbah."

Aunt Millie couldn't bring herself to say hillbilly. That would be slang. She fluttered to the organ stool, sat down, lifted her lorgnette again and announced:

"I shall soon remedy the situation. First in my repatwah—and I shall do my entire repatwah—I shall sing for you a bird song. To exercise my voice before my more difficult operatic numbahs in French and Italian."

Then Aunt Millie let out a screech that shook the little red school house. She was the happiest old funny lady in the whole world. And do you know what her great bird song turned out to be? It was: "Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage." It was popular when Aunt Millie was a young girl. Poof teacher Miss Zoosoo Zoosoo! She looked very startled. Aunt Millie's captive audience sat stunned. Hammie Hooper and Sammie Spoof were sitting on the floor near the Doofer family. Sammie hissed to Hammie: "Come on! Let's get outa here. We got to do something about this."

The boys began to crawl, very quietly, down the aisle next to the wall. Sammie was grinning. But Hammie was kind of pale.

Do you suppose they can really rescue the nice people of Dooferville from Aunt Millie Moofer's singing?

Farm Forum Activities

BEDFORD

On Monday evening the weekly meeting of the Bedford Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor.

Mr. Taylor chaired the meeting, the topic for the evening's discussion was "Information is key to public relations." The slogan, "Keep the public informed, keep the public friendly," sums up the purpose of public relations for agriculture. To keep the public informed and friendly towards agriculture is a constant job. As one writer says, "Public relations is not favored honey to spread on mouldy situations. It is an everyday job through good times and bad."

Points brought out in discussion were that a representative from Farm Forum be invited to present the farmer's point of view on citizens forum.

The subject under discussion should be chosen by the Department of Agriculture. The matter of increasing the membership of Farm Forum groups was discussed with more members, the groups will have increased voice in both local and national matters. In this connection it was suggested that a big drive be put on to induce the English speaking farmers to attend. A forceful speaker be obtained to deliver an address to present the principles of the Farm Forum. The speaker would also pass on to consumer associations information regarding farm products, so that better results may be obtained for money invested. In this way a better contact would be made between rural and urban people, producers and consumers of farm products. Today this contact is much less direct than in the days when most city people had a rural background.

Following the discussion period, refreshments were served, by Mrs. Taylor, the assisting hostess being, Mrs. Clayton Muncaster.

BIRCHTON

The Birchton Farm Forum met in the Birchton Hall for their Fourth Night social evening, where Mr. Herbert Picard of Eaton, one of the members of the Forum, was host to the group and visitors and treated them to oyster supper. Herb was assisted in serving by some of the member-ladies, while the cooking of the oysters was in the capable hands of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar A. Desruisseaux. The appreciation of the assembled group was voiced by Bob Harbison, local chairman, when he called for a vote of thanks to Mr. Picard and to his assistants.

The remainder of the evening was spent in good fellowship, with several tables of cards and crokinole. About thirty-five members and friends attended.

The regular weekly meeting of the Birchton Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harbison.

Fourteen members and visitors were present to form a discussion group on Public Relations. Some matters pertaining to the Forum and the community came up for discussion.

Chez Jeanne Of Magog Presents Easter Fashions

Spring came to the Lantern Inn last night which had its Easter Parade rather early this year when Chez Jeanne of Magog presented a breath-taking Fashion Show of models for a week-end at a ski lodge, for a holiday in the sunny south and last, but not least, for Easter here at home.

What's new in fashions this year? Rhinestones on tweed, nylon on straw, bead trimming for outdoor wear, fox dyed enchanting shades, gaily coloured gloves — Chez Jeanne showed them all. The long torso is still the rage, and the short, full skirts and fitting skirts; tailored suits and loose jackets — Chez Jeanne showed these too.

The Highland influence was very noticeable in the coats and suits of Gordon Manufacturing, who use many materials imported from Scotland — and the colours; Tartan red, Balmoral Blue, Gaelic Beige! This firm has also produced something new in their well known Borgana line, that looks, feels and wears like fur — a rich, deep, velvety black that is right for just every occasion. These are all exclusive to Chez Jeanne in Magog.

Nat Gordon, another firm exclusive to Chez Jeanne in Magog, have made a name for themselves with their authentic Scottish tartans and they provided one of the highlights of the evening. This year they are proud to present the first genuine Canadian tartan — that of Nova Scotia. This is an eye catching blue, criss-crossed with avocado, white and topaz.

Cottons came in all sorts of guises — brocaded, glazed, linen finished and polished — there was Egyptian cotton too, woven by Horrockses of England and looking just like silk. There were dresses for all occasions by Junior Vogue, Deja and Martini Original and Jack Leblanc, and topped by lovely breath-taking hats by Miss Germaine, foremost designer in millinery designs, flowered creations topped with rhinestones. Emphasis also lay on the dream-like blouses of wonderful new and standard shades, featuring new fabrics — all well known names in ladies' apparel, and all exclusive to Chez Jeanne in Magog.

Gloves entered into last evening's fashion preview, with a showing of Julius Kayser's foremost designs and elegant shades.

A glimpse of what milady will be carrying in smart handbags was also previewed, and the changes can only be described as colossal. The door prize, presented by Chez Jeanne, was the very newest type of foundation garment made by Exquisite Form, and the second lovely door prize was a dramatically styled hat.

All the models were stockings by Julius Kayser and Co. Ltd. of Sherbrooke, donated by that company for the occasion.

Even if you didn't get to the show you can be sure that whatever your age, size or taste, you will find something to suit you at

Intervention Of Premier Prevents Monastery Annexing Of Austin Area

Quebec — Direct intervention by Premier Duplessis appears to have ended any fears that Protestant land owners in the Township of Austin, a Brome County municipality bordering on Lake Memphremagog, would have to cede their property to a Roman Catholic monastic municipality.

Addressing the public bills committee of the Legislature, Mr. Duplessis Wednesday said the Quebec House cannot agree to force Protestant land owners to cede their property to a Roman Catholic monastic municipality.

The Benedictine monks, established at St. Benoit du Lac on the shores of Lake Memphremagog in the Eastern Townships, appeared in the Legislature for the second time with a bill seeking the authority to obtain by mutual agreement or expropriation part of five lots adjoining the monastery lands.

"The lots, part of the municipality of Austin, are occupied mainly by English-speaking Protestants.

The order also sought to force opening to the public of a road leading to the lake. The road was closed last year by the municipality of Austin following complaints of the Fisher family.

R. Edward Fisher said pilgrims and visitors to the monastery came in buses, taxis and automobiles down the road, invaded the beach, spread out on private land, and caused damage.

Mr. Duplessis said the Legislature could not consider revoking an order of the municipality of Austin to close the road to public traffic.

Mr. Duplessis said: "This bill contains a request to annex to a religious municipality certain properties owned by Protestants. It would be contrary to my principles to force Protestants owners to become part of a Catholic municipality. "One can easily imagine the protests that would arise if Ontario Protestants attempted to annex nearby Catholic properties.

"Here in this province we respect the right of minorities," Mr. Duplessis said.

The right to expropriate property is an exceptional one, he said, and is granted in exceptional circumstances that do not exist in this case.

The discussion took place in the Public Bills Committee of the Legislative Assembly of which Mr. Duplessis is chairman.

The committee disposed of the expropriation question quickly and discussion turned to a road which leads from the municipality of Austin to the lake shore.

The road is in the municipality of the Benedictines and, on the other, the Fisher property.

Yvan Sabourin, lawyer for the monks, said the road is a public one built about 100 years ago.

Representatives of the municipality of Austin and of the Fisher family said the road was open to the public until last year.

It was closed down because of congestion resulting from the flow of pilgrims.

Dom Henri Matisse, Father Prior of the Abbey of St. Benoit du Lac, said keeping the road closed is "a grave injustice."

Mr. Fisher said his family has never objected to the normal flow of persons on the road until large groups of pilgrims appeared with resulting damage to property and crops.

The claim of damage was denied by Mr. Sabourin.

Mr. Duplessis said it seemed clear to him that the religious order wanted the road open so that pilgrims could use it. The Order prevented use of its road to the lake on the monastery's grounds, he said.

"To force reopening of the road would only create a hotbed of dissension in the district," he said.

Mr. Duplessis ended the discussion by asking the parties concerned to attempt to solve their problem privately.

"You are all Canadians. Why don't you try and understand each other," he said.

Judge Announces Decision In Car Damage Action

Lionel Ducharme will receive from Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, the sum of $410.50 in damages and interest, as the result of an automobile collision in Cookshire on December 23, 1950. This decision was handed down by Judge Louis Philippe Cliche in Superior Court recently.

Mrs. Campbell had previously taken an action for $353.81 against Mr. Ducharme alleging that the accident was entirely due to his carelessness. In a cross-demand, Mr. Ducharme sued for $410.50 as a result of the same accident.

Mrs. Campbell, separate as to property from her husband, N. Campbell, claimed that her car, driven by her husband, was carefully parked and clearly visible on the main street of Cookshire when the collision occurred with a car driven by Mr. Ducharme. It was also claimed that Mr. Ducharme was driving at a dangerous rate of speed.

Mr. Ducharme, for his part, claimed that he was not driving more than 20 miles an hour when he saw the plaintiff's car parked on the street, blocking the road.

In rendering judgment, Mr. Justice Cliche said that it was definitely proven that Mrs. Campbell's car was parked near the centre of the main street without any lights and thus created a danger to traffic. Mrs. Campbell was ordered to pay the defendant $410.50.

Blanchette, Pelouquin and Savoie of Sherbrooke represented Mr. Ducharme and Letourneau, Quinlan, Forest, Deschenes and Emery of Montreal were attorneys for Mrs. Campbell.

Our Congratulations To:

THOMAS J. GALVIN, of Leeds, who is 81 years old today.

MR. WILLIAM LISTER, of Island Brook, who celebrated his 86th birthday yesterday.

Traffic, Plant, Street Mishaps Injured Three

Separate accidents, occurring in Sherbrooke and district yesterday and last night, resulted in three people being admitted for treatment in the local hospitals, with one being removed later to Montreal.

The victims of these accidents were Mrs. George Mooney, 44 King Street West, apartment 7, Alberge Desmarais, of Windsor Mills, and Andre Lafrancois, 119 Bowen Street North.

Seventy-nine-year-old Mrs. Mooney was admitted to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital yesterday morning around 10:30, suffering from a probable broken left hip, which happened when she slipped and fell on the icy street near her home on King Street.

The 53-year-old Canada Paper Company worker, Alberge Desmarais, was rushed to the Montreal General Hospital about one o'clock yesterday afternoon, from St. Vincent de Paul Hospital where he had been taken in the morning following an accident in the mill. The paper company employee was working in the wood-working department around 8:15 yesterday morning, when a large piece of pulpwood crashed down upon his head, causing a possible fractured skull.

Boisvert's ambulance, from Windsor Mills, transported the injured man to the hospital in Sherbrooke, where he remained until one o'clock in the afternoon, when, in an unconscious state and accompanied by his wife, Mr. Desmarais was taken by Hamel and Freres' ambulance to the Montreal hospital.

The third accident victim is remaining in Hotel Dieu Hospital this morning, following an accident which occurred to the 22-year-old Lafrancois last evening on the East Angus-Weedon road. The Sherbrooke youth was travelling along the road when his car became involved in a collision with another one, the driver of which remained unidentified. The victim is suffering from lacerations of the tongue and several internal injuries.

Complete Plans For Lennoxville Carnival Friday

The semi-monthly meeting of the Lennoxville Optimist Club was held at the Elmwood Inn, with President Joe Gilbert in the chair. The Club was honored with two guests from the Waterville Club, President Cliff Burton and Joe Croteau.

There were thirty-nine members in attendance and a number of fines were collected by the Sergeant-at-Arms. Plans were completed for the Silver Dollar Carnival which is to be held on Friday night, February 18, at 7:30 o'clock. Silver Dollars are being presented as prizes for costumes and racing events. This event is open to all citizens of Lennoxville.

On Sunday, February 20, there will be a hockey game in support of the Optimists between the Lennoxville Junior Town team and the town's married men. This game should be fun for all.

It was voted that the Optimists should support a team in the Sherbrooke-Lennoxville Junior Baseball League.

A report was given on the four teams in the Mosquito Hockey League. The Mosquito teams will play a game each Saturday morning as long as ice is available.

City Council, Harmony Band Members Visit Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club

Members of the City Council last night paid their annual visit to the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club and were guests along with the Sherbrooke Harmony Band, who gave a short concert. City of Sherbrooke authorities present were, Pro-Mayor Antonio Pinard, Alderman Carl Camirand, Pierre Bachand, city treasurer, and J. C. Cote, city engineer.

During the course of the evening Mr. Pinard was presented with a blueprint drawing of an overpass at the Steinberg's store site to link on Wellington street with the north ward.

Mr. Pinard was promised that if the project ever materialized, it would be named Pinard Alley.

The Council members were also presented with a set of blocks on which were placed several pieces of machinery. Underneath was marked "Moveable or Immoveable?" This would no doubt have interested the City Fathers as the City and the Roman Catholic School Commission are now involved in a court case on the subject of immoveable machinery.

The guests were welcomed by President James Wark.

Richmond St. Pat's Group Won Premier Award In Finals Of Drama Festival

Richmond, Feb. 17.—The St. Pat's Society, Richmond, with their play "Finders Keepers" carried off top honors in the three-day Richmond Drama Festival which concluded last night with constructive criticism of the seven entries by Adjudicator Lewis Evans of B.C.S., Lennoxville. Second prize was won by a Drummondville group, the St. George's Church Players.

The Festival was sponsored by members of Adolphus Lord Aylmer Chapter I.O.D.E. from Richmond and Melbourne and held in Holy Family Church Hall Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

In commenting on the prize winning play Mr. Evans commended director Philip D. McLoughlin who acted one of the main roles. Mr. Evans pointed out that the actor-director had a good carrying voice which was well projected, that he seemed to know his way around the stage, and that his actions were simple, definite and full of meaning. He described the role taken by Mrs. Ross Alexander in the play as an unsympathetic one completely played throughout, though perhaps too even emotionally. The adjudicator suggested that a little more exaggeration could have been used in portraying this character. On the whole Mr. Evans described the play as a well-balanced, effective production and awarded it first prize for its completeness, its lack of distractions and excellent casting.

The second place winner, the trial scene from Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" presented by the Drummondville group received considerable comment from the adjudicator. In the first place he complimented the group on their ambition and courage in putting on such a difficult presentation and suggested that it might be a good example for choices in future festivals. He stated that to put such a scene across J. Holme's direction would have to be intelligent and interpretive, which was exactly what it was. He paid particular note to the externals, the set, costumes and make-up which he described as just right.

The three main characters in the scene were Shylock played by Dennis Northcote, Portia by Anne Haworth and the Duke, by Lorne Carr-Harris. Mr. Evans stressed the sincerity of effort, is available.

The next regular meeting of the Optimists is to be held at the Brae Manor Hotel in North Hatley, at which all members of the Sherbrooke, Lennoxville and Waterville Optimists are invited. Members seated at the head table were Mrs. Nichol, Cliff Burton, President Joe Gilbert, Dr. Harold Way, Joe Croteau and Frank Jenne.

the study and hard work that were behind the interpretation of the two main roles. Shylock and Portia were what made the scene and made it successful he pointed out, adding that too often actors playing Shakespeare roll out the iambics with the idea that Shakespearean lines are literature with a capital "L" and can therefore fend for themselves. Mr. Evans said he awarded this play second prize for its sincerity and intelligent interpretation.

The other two outstanding plays presented were "Queer Street," presented by the Strollers of Drummondville under the direction of R. J. Brady, and "Sleeping Dogs" by the Danville Players Club. Mr. Evans described the former as a good play with good props and well cast, but felt the grouping left something to be desired.

The Danville play, directed by B. J. Barlow, was a comedy with lots of life and laughs. Unfortunately the group was working under a handicap in the loss through illness of one of its players whose lines had to be read by a pinch hitter.

The other play put on last evening was "Leave it to Mother" presented by the St. Patrick's Division of the C.W.L. in Richmond and directed by Mrs. Jules Fortin. Completing the list of seven entries were "From Five to Fifty-Three" by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, and "It Paid to Advertise" by the Woman's Association of the French Protestant Church in Melbourne. The latter two were presented on Tuesday night.

Two vocal solos by Mrs. Leslie Rattray, accompanied by Mrs. Jules Fortin at the piano, followed last night's dramatic presentations.

The presentation of the prizes was made by Mrs. V. R. Beattie, newly-elected regent of the chapter. First prize consisted of a silver trophy in the form of a rose bowl flanked by two silver figures in a classical design, plus $20. Second prize was $20. Mr. Evans was thanked by Mrs. T. P. Ross, convener of the dramatic committee.

Thanks were also expressed by honorary regent Mrs. C. E. Manning to Mrs. T. P. Ross and her committee, Mrs. C. Spence, who was in charge of refreshments for the cast each night of the Festival, R. A. Marcotte's furniture store, which provided furnishings for the stage, and others who helped the chapter in any way.

HEATHTON—Mrs. Jennie Bullock spent a few days last week as guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Ducharme.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bean visited Mrs. Hattie Gilbert, at Way's Mills recently.

Mrs. Gordon Drew, of Coaticook, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Lyonnais and family.

Deplore Lack Of Local Interest In Civil Defence

The apparent lack of interest on the part of the municipal authorities in the matter of civil defence and the preparation for emergencies was emphasized in the report of the Civil Defence convener at last night's meeting of Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E.

The civic authorities have been approached several times in this respect but no response has been made to the efforts of interested citizens to have an organization set up to deal with local disasters. It is now suggested that all service organizations be approached to enlist their support of the I.O.D.E. in order that the civic authorities might be persuaded that emergencies do arise and should be dealt with by a trained group of citizens.

The Regent of Municipal Chapter, Mrs. E. B. Sims, was pleased with the attendance at the meeting and welcomed the new executives of the primary chapters. She spoke of the demonstration of beauty products recently sponsored by the Chapter at St. Peter's Memorial Hall, how overwhelmingly successful it had been and how greatly such a demonstration could benefit those who attend and those who sponsor it. She thanked the chapters for their cooperation and in particular Lucien Lavallee, proprietor of a local drug store, whose material assistance had made the demonstration possible.

The regent also expressed her sincere regret in the death of the husband of one of the Chapter's members, Mrs. A. Welter, whose untimely demise was a shock to all.

The annual Provincial Conference of the I.O.D.E. will take place in Montreal at the Y.W.C.A. on April 14 and 15, and all members were urged to attend.

Mrs. R. M. Loughheed, in reporting on recent welfare work done by the Chapter, spoke of the formation of the Protestant Social Services, a Protestant welfare group, which would centralize welfare work done among the Protestant peoples of the city. Mrs. Loughheed was appointed official representative of the I.O.D.E. and authorized to offer to take care of supplying baby clothes and layettes to needy mothers.

Mrs. J. S. Couture spoke on behalf of the Cancer Clinic and urged the appointment of a convener in each chapter to take care of that chapter's contribution to the work of the clinic.

The regent announced that the report meeting of Municipal Chapter would be held at I.O.D.E. house on February 28, at 8 p.m., and that the annual meeting would be held on March 15. Nominations then took place and a tentative slate of officers was drawn up to be presented to the annual meeting. Refreshments were later served by the hostess chapter, King George V.

SWEETSBURG—

Mr. Jack Masters, of Church Street, Cowansville, is very ill with angina pectoris, in the Sweetsburg Hospital.

Mr. D. R. Popovic is ill at the local hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ling and family will return to their home in Knowlton about March 1, after residing in Cowansville for a month.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Wallace Thayer in the death of his father, Mr. I. A. Thayer, at Mansonville, whose funeral was held in Mansonville United Church, Sunday, February 13, with Rev. R. C. Hopkins officiating.

Mrs. C. A. Robinson and Mrs. W. F. Kay intend to leave by motor about March 1 for a vacation in Florida. Mr. John Syberg will be their chauffeur.

Dispute Over School Site Given As Cause For Attack At East Broughton

East Broughton Station, Que.—A hot dispute between adjoining municipalities over location of a proposed new school culminated Tuesday night in the roughing-up of the school commission secretary whose brief-case was snatched from him by angry residents, mostly women.

The brief-case, which contained plans for the new school and a cheque for $1,160, was found Wednesday hanging from the front-door knob of the home of a school professor.

It was not known immediately if anything was missing from the case.

The dispute is between East Broughton Village and East Broughton Station. The commission, which covers both municipalities, had planned to build the new school in the village. Broughton Station residents want it half-way between the station and the village or not at all. As an alternative they suggested the present convent schools in both municipalities be expanded.

J. Emilien Lessard, secretary of the Roman Catholic school commission, said he was assaulted Tuesday night as he alighted from a car in front of East Broughton Station town hall where contracts for the school were to be studied.

Lessard said there were about 35 in the group, at least 20 of them women. He said one woman snatched the brief-case and drove off in a car. Another woman grabbed his head and held a muff over his mouth so he couldn't yell. Others in the crowd prevented him from chasing the brief-case snatcher. Lessard wasn't injured.

The meeting was held but broke up in a few minutes, and Wednesday Lessard and members of the commission went to Quebec, 60 miles away, and reported the affair to the Attorney-General's department and the Education Department.

A spokesman for the Attorney-General's department said a police report is awaited before a decision is taken on what will be done.

Risky Business

Rep. Daniel Flood, a Pennsylvania Republican wants Congress to get up a presidential commission to prepare a volume devoted to the facts of communism and he'd like it used in American colleges.

The fact that communism is the greatest threat to our livelihood lends urgency to its study. We cannot face an enemy ignorant of his beliefs and desires. But there are risks involved.

A commission to help pierce the fog from the state of affairs surrounding communism is a good idea. But, any such body would have to be extremely cautious and encourage the fullest, freest school inquiry possible into the whole evolution of communism — from its birth to its current fearful menace.

Editors And Papers

The late Jim Curran, the progressive editor who did much to put the Soo on the map and who held staunchly that wolves would never attack humans, would have been interested in Welland's story the other day of the big, bad fellow who attacked a four-year-old lad, rescued only by his mother's quick action. The boy was left with a few bite marks on his legs.

A Calgary Alberta editorial writer, telling of a winter motor trip southwards, found cold mud in Yuma, reputedly "the warmest and driest spot in the United States," while Phoenix, "the sunshine capital," was shivering. The man, if he would make sure of obtaining summer weather next January, should fly to Australia where the seasons, by our calendar, are reversed. He might take with him the letter-writer who inspired The Record's "Our Cold Canadian Nights."

The writer of a letter to the Montreal Gazette who pointed out that "one of those expensive (medicinal) drugs" cost him $6.55 in a Montreal pharmacy while he paid only $2.65 in Florida for the same article did not pass on to the subject of groceries. These, many Canadians have observed, are not unnaturally a good deal cheaper in most parts of the United States than in Canada although meat costs about the same. A discreet person would not, perhaps, mention margarine. A good brand sells as low as 19 cents.

"A dark horse," R. Howard Webster, of Montreal, has secured the Toronto Globe and Mail for a sum said to be more than ten millions. Has there ever been a more imposing list of bidders for a Canadian paper than that which saw leading British, as well as Canadian and American publishers in the field?

The Long Grind

An Air Force doctor who walked into the flaming wreck of a jet plane to save two men has been awarded the Queen's Commendation for Brave Conduct. Flight Lieutenant David E. MacLeod, of Pictou, N.S., climbed into a burning plane at North Bay to rescue the occupants. He had to be sprayed with water continuously and might have been killed at any moment by explosion of charges in the cockpit canopy mechanism—a chance taken with his eyes open by any man attached to the Force.

A soldier in Korea stifles a bursting grenade with his body to save his buddies. A mine-worker does the same with a premature dynamite charge. A ship's first officer, sharing the insufficient support of a bit of studding with a youngster of the crew after his wrecked vessel has disappeared, smiles at the boy, gives up his hold and goes under the water. Three chaplains, a rabbi, a priest and a Protestant minister, insist on giving their life-belts to others when there are not enough to go around and stand together, praying, on the doomed deck.

These are but some of the most outstanding of the countless examples of heroism in a world commonly regarded as selfish. It takes only an emergency to bring out that uncalculating something, that selfless urge to help.

It is not only hero — soil that produces heroic actions. The man or the woman who is sitting at the next desk, who grouches interminably, it sometimes seems; the driver who honks his way with small consideration, even the man who robs a poor-box may prove, when a great moment comes, to have the stuff of heroes.

It is good to feel that many of those who share our humanity are gifted, potentially, with a fine disregard for self. But it is not the realization even better that many a man and woman, fighting against personal odds every working day, still have that helping little for the other fellow that takes more courage in the giving, perhaps, than the inspiration of the challenging moment?

In Passing

The Duke of Edinburgh, touring a brewery's research laboratories at Nuffield, rolled two types of experimental beer on his tongue, says a despatch, "but did not swallow them." The quoted phrase will not be a surprise to professional tasters for the Duke merely followed accepted practice. A tea-taster, a rare individual, may sample hundreds of cups within a short time but never swallow any of the brew. His delicacy of taste, otherwise, would be impaired.

Another of those miraculous escapes. This time a bricklayer who fell 65 feet from a scaffolding in Montreal, landed in a six-foot snow bank. He was heard muttering — could it have been "snow matter"? — on the way home. Next day he admitted having a sore back and a stiff neck. "Otherwise, I'm fine." He was almost as lucky as the man who fell from a high building onto a passing load of hay.

A local Social Credit group asked recently for the doubling of family allowance without any increase in taxes. We'll bite. How will it be done, Social Crediters? Through the government printing-press?

That Russian suggestion for exchange of speakers to address the parliaments of leading countries should be carried a little further. How about exchanging political economy courses?

A carefully selected group of T-men, responsible citizens of Arlington, Texas city of 25,000, have been authorized by the city fathers to report every traffic infraction observed to be made by motorists. These reports are turned over to the police chief who notifies the drivers. Some of the latter have even thanked him.

Even a "ridiculous lecture" such as that of James V. Stowell, who spoke about Cape Breton at Lawrence, Mass., recently, can serve a good purpose. Stowell, reported a Lawrence paper, pictured Cape Bretoners as being without cars and radios and a good many other of the perquisites of modern living — a delightful Shangri-la, in fact, not a little out of this world. The rebuttals printed by aroused Nova Scotian papers have brought up-to-date the Cape Breton ideas of a few hundred thousand, possibly a few million, non-islanders whose facts may have been a little foggy. Results: One more bit of enlightenment and the avoidance of the influx of a host of only-to-be-disillusioned tourists.

FANHANDLING IN LUXURY

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

A Brockville panhandler put the touch on a business man of that city for two dollars the other day. The business man stepped out of sight and kept watch to see what the panhandler would do. The latter hailed a passing taxi, was driven a few blocks down the street, alighted and entered a restaurant, presumably for breakfast.

The incident reminds us of the tale about a local panhandler—one who lived solely by his ability and industry in scrounging various sums of money. A citizen tapped more or less regularly by the panhandler asked him one day, while reaching for the requested sum, if he was not ashamed to cadge money in the streets. The panhandler immediately and somewhat profanely asked if his questioner expected him to open an office.

NEWSPAPERS HERE TO STAY

Ottawa Journal

It is possible that radio and television have been responsible for a slight change in newspaper content. It is now our business not so much to rush out the first bulletins of news — which can be conveyed by radio — but to get all of the news and assess it and make it understandable. Analysis and interpretation and background are increasingly our responsibility. It isn't by any means an easier task, nor a less important one. And we cannot claim to do it to perfection. But, being newspaper people, most of us expect to survive.

"I heard it on the radio" has become a common phrase, but it usually conveys a slight sense of uncertainty, doubt, rumor. "I read it in the paper" clinches things, and many an argument is settled when the host says: "Well, I've still got the paper in the kitchen, let's see exactly what Eden did say."

Nor should it be forgotten that it is the staffs of the newspapers and their agencies that collect and distribute the news. Radio in the free countries has practically no such collection organizations. In Canada for instance, The Canadian Press owned and operated by the newspapers does all the collecting.

PRISONER AND HIS MONEY

(Calgary Albertan)

The BC courts and the Victoria police are having an interesting little tiff.

The police there follow what seems to be a universal practice of emptying the pockets of prisoners brought into the cells. A high-court judge says they have no right to do that. The chief says he's going to keep doing it anyway.

In Calgary the practice is to take whatever money and other possessions the accused has in his pockets, and to ask him to give up any jewelry he may have on his person. But jewelry is not taken forcibly from him. All these things are returned to him later.

The reason for this is largely one of safe-keeping. The police do not guarantee the character of the other inmates of the cells. They don't want thefts taking place on their premises.

A CITY'S AIRPORT

(Vancouver Province)

This newspaper, which for several years has been urging sale of Vancouver International Airport to the Federal Government, is glad to hear that a group of aldermen are interested in reopening discussions with Ottawa.

This city did a good job in pioneering airport developments here but the growth of aviation, and congestion at the Sea Island field, suggest the city might be wise to get out of the airport business as soon as possible.

City Hall has its hands full grappling with purely municipal problems like sewers and schools, let alone directing the growth and development of one of the world's great flying centres.

ONE TO SPARE?

(London Free Press)

There is a touch of the magic of spring in the air west of the Prairies. Medicine Hat and Kelowna, B.C., have come to words over Ogopogo, the legendary water monster.

Medicine Hat has christened its new bridge over the South Saskatchewan River, Ogopogo, on the basis of an old Indian legend that the water spirit dwelt in the river. Kelowna replies by reminding its eastern neighbor that when it comes to Ogopogos they are found only, and solely, in Okanagan Lake.

Long may their lively Ogopogos swim and sport in their respective waters. If they have one to spare we could find a place for it in Fanshawe Lake. It would then be the first Ogopogo by a dam site in Canada.

Carmine DeSapio: A Politician To Watch In 1956

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

New York — Carmine DeSapio, leader of New York's famed Tammany Hall, has a name that rolls off the tongue like an opera star's. It might be well for the nation's citizenry to practice rolling it, for he may turn out to be a kingmaker at the next Democratic presidential convention in 1956.

DeSapio today is the unchallenged political boss of the nation's largest city and largest state. He is New York's Democratic national committeeman. And, as the professional behind newcomer Gov. Averell Harriman, he will go to the next convention with an impressive batch of 90-odd delegates in his pocket. His weight could be crucial.

In climbing to this new eminence, DeSapio restored Tammany, the New York County (Manhattan) Democratic organization, to a place of power — with an apparent new look — for the first time since fiery Fiorello LaGuardia broke the machine in the early 1930's.

His rise to broadening political power got its biggest assist last fall when Harriman, his personal choice for Democratic nominee, narrowly captured the New York governorship from Sen. Irving Ives, a potent Republican vote-getter. He scored an earlier success by backing Mayor Robert Wagner in 1953.

The fruits of victory tasted especially sweet to DeSapio, for at the September state party convention he had engineered the ditching of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., Harriman's ambitious rival, rated by some a "sure thing" at the polls. Roosevelt ran instead for state attorney general, and tumbled to a 250,000-vote defeat.

The man who has brought all this off is a 46-year-old native New Yorker of Italian parentage who is something of a new cut in politicians. He is tall, solidly built, with black hair effectively streaked with gray and glasses tinted because of a chronic eye ailment. His dress is faultlessly conservative. He could be a banker of a bishop, which his friends sometimes call him.

He is no crude, old-fashioned wielder of power. In the modern manner, he seeks to lead by persuading and conciliating. Soft-spoken and engagingly warm in personal contact, he has a strong platform voice and welcomes appearances on radio, television and other forums.

This is a man who lectures on politics at various colleges. He has a date this spring to invade the august precincts of Harvard Law School for a talk. That ought to set some sort of precedent.

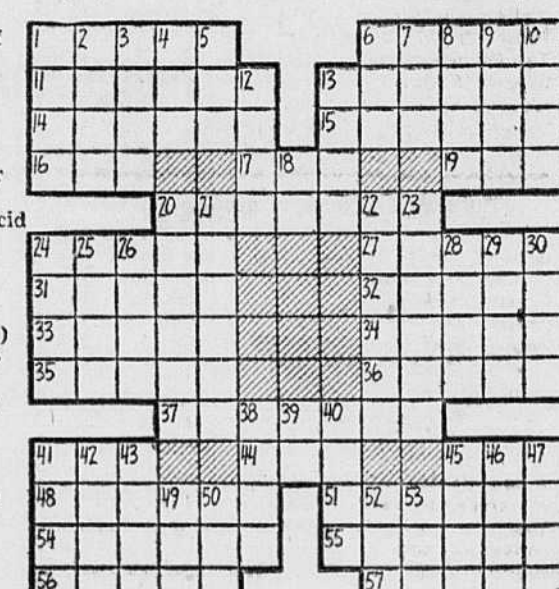

DeSapio, too, is a man who, though he came to power through the customary political in-fighting, spouts the good government theme, publicly promotes election reforms, and otherwise endeavors to confound those who remember Tammany as the symbol and substance of the crime-ridden machine, the corrupt organization which gained its greatest notoriety in the 19th Century heyday of bosses Tweed and Croker.

DeSapio's detractors say this smooth, respectable front is a false facade, that he's just got a new gimmick, that he's really no better than the old cigar-smoking hard hats who gave Tammany its evil sound.

There is ambiguous evidence on the relations of DeSapio and some of his Tammany associates to Frank Costello, long touted a crime czar in and beyond New York City. DeSapio insists Cos-

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

COOPERATION CAN WIN BRIDGE HANDS

When today's hand was played in a recent team match, the first round of bidding was the same at both tables. East opened with one heart, West raised to four hearts, and North then bid four no-trump. After that, the bidding took two separate paths.

In the first room, as the diagram shows, South bid five clubs. This was doubled and beaten only one trick, although a keener defense would have beaten South two tricks.

At the time, East and West felt ashamed of themselves for failing to get the spade ruff that would have set the contract two tricks. When they heard the result that was achieved at the other table, however, they realized how insignificant their crime had been.

At the second table, South bid five spades (instead of five clubs) in response to the bid of four no-trump. West doubled, and neither North nor South ran from this ghastly contract. South was set six tricks, for the staggering loss of 1700 points.

Most of the blame went to South for this disaster, but North might have come in for a fair share of it. If he wanted to act, for which he can hardly be blamed, he might have taken his chances on bidding five clubs at once.

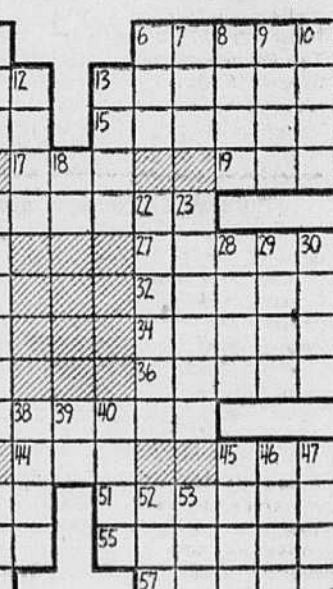

This was probably as good a contract as he was likely to find and had the supreme virtue of being crystal clear. Either a double or a bid of four no-trump might encourage South to bid spades, and then the fat would be in the fire.

It might be argued that a bid of four no-trump shows support for clubs and diamonds, since it shuts out a bid of four spades. At lower levels, moreover, many experts use an "unusual" overall in no-trump to show support for both minors. At the level of four, however, this is not absolutely clear.

It is a truism to say that a player should avoid at any time making a bid that his partner is likely to misunderstand. But the force of this statement is multiplied a millionfold when the bid is made at the disaster level. If you can't make an absolutely clear bid at such a time it's better to make no bid at all.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Club Pass 1 Diamond Pass
2 Clubs Pass ?

You, South, hold: Spades K-7-5, Hearts K-7-5, Diamonds A-Q-J-8-6, Clubs Q-4. What do you do?

A—Bid three no-trump. Slam seems very unlikely, so you must head for the easiest game. You can supply five diamond tricks and can stop both majors, so game at no-trump should be a cinch.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 9-7, Hearts K-J-7-4, Diamonds A-Q-J-8-6, Clubs Q-4. What do you do?

Royal Trust Assets Show Big Increase

Montreal, Feb. 17. — At the Fifty-fifth Annual Meeting of Shareholders of The Royal Trust Company held here today, the President, Ross Clarkson, and the Vice-President and General Manager, J. Pembroke, submitted a joint report on behalf of the Board of Directors, showing substantial growth of business and higher gross income in 1954.

Gross Profit was reported as $1,458,000, against $1,349,000, the previous year. With provision for Taxes up $162,000, at $632,000. Net Profit was $826,000.

The Company's Own and Guaranteed Account Assets at $74,476,000, were $9,029,000, in excess of liabilities. Assets under Administration, valued conservatively at $1,315,000,000, showed a net gain of $123,000,000.

The Company continues to grow steadily year by year, and to establish new records in the Canadian trust company field, states the Report. Assets under Administration increased $313,000,000, since 1949 when the company completed its first fifty years, while Gross Income was up $2,078,000, at $6,287,000, and Net Profit was higher by $303,000.

The Capital of the Company having been increased by $500,000, and the $20. par value shares having been subdivided into $5. shares, the Company will offer Shareholders Rights to subscribe for 50,000 shares on the basis of 1 share at $20, for every 8 shares held. Another 10,000 shares will be offered to senior employees, and 40,000 shares will be held in reserve. The Shareholders fixed the value of the $5. par value shares at $30. for the ensuing year, equivalent to $120. on the former $20. shares, valued last year at $105.

With a view to facilitating and expanding operations in the U. K., a wholly-owned subsidiary has been incorporated under the name of The Royal Trust Co. of Canada, to take over the business of the London Branch, which was opened in 1929 after operating as an Agency from 1911.

To an important degree, states the Report, the vast expansion of the "trust company idea" simply reflects the realization by more and more people that such complex personal problems as executorships, trusteeships, succession duties, taxation and investments require the services of specialists with wide knowledge and extensive experience. How a trust company functions to relieve those harried and beset by these and similar problems is gradually becoming more widely known.

Mr. Clarkson announced that

Yourkewicz Of U.S. Team Denies Russian Charges

Bolzano, Italy — (P) — Coach Al Yourkewicz of the U.S. amateur hockey team, now competing in Italy, Wednesday heatedly denied Russian charges that the Americans are dirty players and that their coach is noted for his "hooligan tactics."

The charges were published recently in Soviet Sport, Russia's leading sports newspaper. Soviet Sport said Yourkewicz is "notorious for his roughness, brawling and hooligan tactics."

Soviet Sport also said Canadian players are poor losers.

The Russians surprised last year by defeating Canada for the world amateur hockey championship in Stockholm. Now the Russians are training intensively to defend their title in West Germany, Feb. 25-March 6.

Yourkewicz said in a statement: "The record of the U.S. ice hockey team in European competition speaks for itself. The club has made many friends by its fine, clean, sportsmanlike competition."

Randy Turpin Hits Comeback Trail; Meets Gonzalez

London — (P) — Randy Turpin, British Empire lightweight champion, will continue his comeback attempt with a 10-rounder against Jose Gonzalez, Spanish heavyweight champion, at London's Earl's Court Arena March 8.

Turpin had his first fight in nine months Tuesday night. He defeated Ray Schmitt, Luxembourg light heavyweight champion, disqualified for holding in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

Coaticook Club Told Of Modern TV Development

Coaticook, Feb. 17. — A most interesting illustrated lecture was heard at the Guild Hall in Coaticook, when the Anglican Men's Club had as their guest of the evening Lucien Moise, of the Bell Telephone Co. His address was entitled, "Your Telephone Company and Television."

The chairman, W. S. Low, introduced Mr. Bertrand, local Supervisor of the Bell Company, who introduced the guest speaker.

Mr. Moise started off his talk by asking those in the audience who owned TV sets if they ever noticed spots before their eyes when looking at the pictures and went on to say that if they did not see any spots that the set could not be working as this is the whole principle on which the machine operates. He traced the discovery and improvements made in television since the crude discovery in 1884 by a German scientist named Paul Nipkow of the basic principle of electrical impulses by the photo-electric cell. By taking a picture and shining a tiny light on one small spot at a time these spots could be translated into electrical impulses by the cell and by reversing the process the impulses are changed back into spots of light at the receiving end of the circuit.

Dr. Nipkow invented the "Nipkow" disc, a flat circular piece of metal perforated by tiny holes arranged from the rim of the disc to the centre in a concentric curve. Light passing through this disc illuminates a picture, one spot at a time. When the disc is revolved rapidly the spots move too fast for the eyes to separate them and the result is a crude outline of the picture on which they are beamed.

In 1915 the invention of the vacuum tube and advances in electronics since that time have resulted in the fine television reception that we enjoy today. The television camera of today picks up more than 250,000 spots of light as it scans or views an object or scene. A model of the early Nipkow disc and late developments from it were on display to illustrate what Mr. Moise was saying.

Television, teletype and telephone are all wonders of electrical impulses, he said, and are thus a part of the logical developments of the telephone business.

Just as speech is carried over the wires so can photographs, printed messages and television pictures be carried. The latest medium is micro-wave relay, developed to carry long distance telephone conversations but easily adaptable to television transmission also.

Mr. Moise illustrated the Bell's 400 mile microwave system between Buffalo, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, using two miniature microwave towers set up before his audience. He explained how microwaves travel in straight lines and how the towers and booster systems operate. Hundreds of conversations can be carried simultaneously on the Bell's vast microwave system.

At the conclusion of the demonstration, Mr. Moise was thanked on behalf of the Club and guests by Rev. Nevil Tucker.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, February 17th — Is there anything more irritating... than that troublesome "Nasal Catarrh"... which seems to come so easily in these bleak February days? But do remember next time you're bothered with it, to apply Mentholatum with the tip of your little finger, well up inside the nostrils, so that it covers all the inner surfaces. Then breathe deeply.

And you'll feel the soothing vapors easing the irritated membranes. MENTHOLATUM is wonderful for children, too, as it's so gentle, yet effective in the way it relieves distress. Would you like to discover for yourself how helpful Mentholatum is? Then write for a FREE, GENEROUS SAMPLE to Confidentially Yours, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal.

Takes Two To Make An Argument — and, in this case, to sum up a truth. Secret for the success of Instant Chase & Sanborn Coffee... says Mr. Chase, is the unique brewing method which makes this great coffee so rich in flavor. That's true enough, thinks Mr. Sanborn — but more important is the fact that only the choicest coffee beans are used. When you taste this truly fine coffee — you'll agree that both delightful gentlemen are right! It's the fine brewing of the fine beans — plus 100 years of coffee know-how that has created superb INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE!

A Perfection In Small Things — gives me a great sense of luxury. One of these comforting perfections, I think, is a Curad Plastic Bandage... Order them yourself — and you'll share my pleasure in the way they do a job. For one thing, CURAD Plastic Bandages have that wonderful new "Stick-Quick" adhesive — and a new polyethylene facing that whisks off clean and an exclusive new medication which killed or inhibited 28 common wound germs in actual test. They stay on beautifully — won't curl or fray. And, because Curads are really water-proof, you can carry on your daily chores — and stick them in and out of water — without affecting them at all! Do keep a supply handy for emergencies!

Let's Have A Treat Tonight! Delicious pancakes — with the golden goodness of Crown Brand Corn Syrup poured on them, directly from the container! Or whip up this delectable Jiffy Sauce. Put 1 cup of Crown Brand Corn Syrup and 3 tbsps. of butter or margarine in a saucepan. Place over medium heat; bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Serve hot on pancakes, waffles or French toast. Or — another smart idea! — add 1 tsp. vanilla, lemon, or almond extract to Jiffy Sauce — and serve with ice cream or puddings. And don't forget how much youngsters love CROWN BRAND CORN SYRUP as a "spread" (Wonderful source of quick food energy!)

Lots Of Ideas! ... Next time you're at the store, take a look at the yellow and blue DAINTY RICE package... and see how many wonderfully good ways of serving rice are given! Snow-white — tender — fluffy — you'll find Dainty Rice is a real taste-treat with baked lamb. It's a "natural" for casserole dishes — stews — soups — and in a score of desserts! Look for the new suggestions given us on the Dainty Rice package — and start using it in your meal planning two or three times a week. I like to cook a week's supply — then store in a covered container in the 'frig. As you need it — put some in a pot with a little water. It will fluff up in a moment!

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

The young man who is applying for a job shouldn't make himself so much at home in the employer's office that he leans over the desk, lights a cigaret, or sits down before he is invited to do so.

Such lack of courtesy is more likely to get him the gate than the job.

Bringing Up Baby

Hints Collected by
Mrs. Ben Baker
(Mother of 5)

Time really travels at high speed during baby's first year. Seems only a couple of yesterdays away that baby was completely dependent upon you. Now independence is the order of the day for your self-styled explorer. Such fun, finding out what feet are for — that little hands can suddenly direct a spoon — or that a coo actually comes out as a word. All part of the business of growing up; of learning coordination, control, self-confidence.

Toy talk. Wonderful day when a toddler discovers the joys of "personality" toys. Dolls, teddy bears and all manner of animals suddenly become playmates, not just playthings. They become friends to love, cuddle, share secrets with.

Your baby will love the new, exclusive GERBER BABY DOLL. A $3.75 value, for only $2.00 and 12 Gerber's Baby Food labels. All the charm of the famous Gerber Baby, captured in a 12 in., life-like baby doll. Completely safe, with soft, vinyl plastic head, rubber body. It drinks, wets, sits up, has movable arms and legs. Comes with diaper, bib, nurse, Gerber's Cereal play boxes, cereal dish and spoon. Mail 12 labels or cereal box tops and $2.00 to Gerber-Ogilvie Baby Foods, Limited, Box 68, Toronto 18, Canada. Offer good only in Canada. Expires Dec. 31, 1955.

Brush-up lesson. After washing baby's corduroy overalls, try brushing up the nap before creepers are completely dry. Keeps corduroy new looking, saves ironing.

Part and parcel of a toddler's growing-up experience — menus that include more grown-up foods. Gerber's Junior Foods fill baby's new need nicely. For they have the tender, evenly-minced texture that makes with a few teeth can handle easily. To say nothing of the appetizing true-to-nature colors, the naturally good, true flavors that make for high chair meal appeal.

Waterville, Feb. 17. — The February meeting of the W.M.S. of Waterville United Church was entertained at the home of Mrs. V. R. Holtham and Miss Laura Holtham, with an attendance of thirteen.

The worship service "The Church Universal In India" was conducted by the president. A hymn was sung, followed by Scripture reading and meditation, prayers of thanksgiving, gratitude and confession were offered. "The Growing Together Of The Church In India," as in chapter VI of the study book, was very capably reviewed by Mrs. James Burnell.

The minutes were read and a letter from the presbytery secretary of Christian Stewardship was read, giving names of missionary Prayer Partners, Florence Fee, of Rama Indian Reserve, Ont., and Margaret Scrimgeour, of Trinidad. Our allocation of $220 remains unchanged.

Samples of the supplies to be sent west were exhibited by Mrs. Burnell. The financial statement was given by the treasurer.

Attendance at the World Day of Prayer service for women, on Friday, February 25, at 3 o'clock in the Waterville United Church, was stressed.

Cookshire School Board Plans To Renovate And Extend High School

Cookshire, Feb. 17. — Public notice has been given that the Protestant School Board of Cookshire has decided, in principle, to renovate and extend the Cookshire High School, subject to the approval of the Department of Education and provided the Government of the Province of Quebec will give financial assistance.

The preliminary plans, which have been approved by the Board, indicate that the present auditorium-lunch room will be converted into two additional good-sized class rooms. The extension will provide for a third additional combined classroom and science laboratory and a combined gymnasium-auditorium, which will also be used as a lunch room. The plans call for a proper kitchen attached to the lunch room from which full course hot lunches may be served.

Due to the rapidly increasing enrollment in the elementary grades of the school the Board has found it will be necessary to engage an additional elementary teacher for the lower grades. An agreement has recently been concluded whereby grades 8 to 11 inclusive from the East Angus High School will be educated in the Cookshire school on an expense sharing basis. This is felt to be a great benefit to both communities, as not only will there be a saving in the High School costs but an additional High School teacher will be engaged, allowing for more intensified teaching time to these pupils.

As a result, with two new classrooms being absolutely necessary for the next school year, the present auditorium will have to be renovated. This will eliminate any lunch room facilities or play area and it is felt that a new gymnasium and lunch room will be most desirable for the welfare of the children, as well as a great benefit to the adult community. It is also expected that within two years increased enrollments will necessitate a further additional classroom, and provision for this has been included in the plans.

A School Board official has stated that he believes that the majority of the ratepayers will be in favor of the project, and that he hopes that they will actively express their support and approval to encourage the Board in their endeavor to maintain and improve the educational welfare to the children.

General Notes
Mrs. Reg. Turpin paid a flying visit to Cookshire. While here she stayed with Mr. and Mrs. H. Osgood, where she met several friends.

SWEETSBURG—

Repercussions Of Storm Are Felt

Sweetsburg, Feb. 17 — Residents of the Cowansville-Sweetsburg district are digging themselves out of the deep drifts and getting back to normal after the disrupted conditions caused by Friday night's storm.

Drivers were prevented from delivering mail on four of the district's rural routes and only a tractor could get through with mail to Adamsville station. The Sutton to Granby bus did not run.

Driveways in some places were blocked by six feet of snow and United Church services at Dunham and East Farnham were cancelled, as the minister, who resides in Cowansville, could not reach them. A Valentine tea for the East Farnham church was also cancelled on Saturday.

A woman near Maple Dale station was in need of medical care and a Cowansville doctor agreed to try and reach her by train. The mayor of East Farnham took the matter up and a large snowplough was dispatched from the direction of Farnham, followed by an ambulance, which removed the lady to hospital.

At Mansonville, the funeral of Mr. I. A. Thayer was postponed from Saturday until Sunday. The storm increased in volume so rapidly that Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Shufelt and son, Harris, who were visiting at the Horner

MR. and MRS. AUSTIN WHITEMAN, of Rock Island, who will observe their 63rd wedding anniversary on Friday, February 18. Mrs. Whiteman was the former Emma Statton. Both enjoy good health and Mr. Whiteman is a familiar figure on the street every day. Their greatest pleasure is watching television, which their son and granddaughter had installed in their home last fall. The Whitemans have two children, a son, Cecil, of Rock Island, and daughter, Mrs. Howard Nutbrown, of Toronto, Ont., also a number of grandchildren.

home in East Farnham, were unable to drive to their own home, two miles away. Mr. Shufelt made the trip on foot to keep the fires going and Mrs. Shufelt and son remained overnight. Members of the Jor Mayo four-piece orchestra and announcer

Henry Rittso, of St. Albans radio station, were snowbound between Clarenceville, where they had played for a dance, and Pike River. Some of the group walked three miles to the home of a kind farmer, who took them in and with a team of horses and sleigh went in the early morning cold to the assistance of the others. Several broadcasts on the St. Albans station were cancelled on Saturday, owing to the stranding of the orchestra, in which Desmond King, of Cowansville, is one of the players.

Bury obtained two more goals in the second period, both of which were scored by Mary Tailon, unassisted. Cookshire also tallied twice in this period, both goals being scored by Betty Painter, Elaine Kerr assisted in the first and Helen Cook and Elaine Kerr in the second.

In the third period only two goals were scored, one for Cookshire, scored by Elaine Kerr, assisted by Betty Painter, and the other for Bury, scored by Mary Tailon. This made seven goals unassisted, for Mary Tailon. There were no penalties throughout the game.

Semi-Finals Reached In Ladies Curling Bonspiel

Rinks Make Final Bid Today For Berths In Remaining Trophies; Finals Slated Tonight At 8:00

The semi-finals of the Ladies' Sherbrooke Curling Club Bonspiel were reached in the main event last night while the quarter-finals were completed in the other two sections of the annual tournament.

The tourney will continue today with matches slated for 11:00, 1:00, 3:00 and the finals in the evening at 8:00 for all three trophies.

In the main event four local rinks will battle it out for the Ladies' Sherbrooke Curling Club trophy. In the upper half of the draw Mrs. B. N. Holtham guided her rink to a 9-3 win over Mrs. G. Griffiths' Outremont foursome. Mrs. O. Goyette of Sherbrooke managed to eke out a close 8-7 verdict over Mrs. Hutt's rink. The Pointe Claire rink was trailing by one coming home and when it came to the skips Mrs. Hutt had only to draw in to win as she was already counting one but her last stone was short to force a tie and an extra end.

In the extra it was nip-and-tuck again until the final stones of the skips and this time Mrs. Goyette had the final stone and although Mrs. Hutt made a beautiful shot to knock out two the local foursome amassed one point to win the match. Mrs. D. MacPherson of Sherbrooke posted a 9-4 victory over Mrs. W. Brosseau's Lennoxville quartet.

Mrs. D. MacPherson of Sherbrooke won her way into the charmed circle with a 9-8 verdict over Mrs. G. Morgan, also of Sherbrooke. It was a close battle the whole way and the outcome was in abeyance until the final stone.

In the battle for the Young trophy Mrs. D. Racey of Sherbrooke posted a 14-2 win over Mrs. E. Jobb of Aberdeen while Mrs. C. Graves of Magog run up a 12-3 verdict over Mrs. W. Hadden and her Quebec foursome. Mrs. L. Styan of Magog came through with a 9-3 victory over Mrs. H. MacCallum of Sherbrooke. Mrs. W. MacKay of the Town of Mount Royal pulled through with a 7-5 win over Mrs. C. Graves of Magog in another close battle.

In the Rand event Mrs. J. Wright of Pointe Claire rolled up a 12-7 decision over Mrs. F. Walker's Drummondville rink while Mrs. H. Downs of Lennoxville edged out her club-mate, Mrs. L. Parent, 6-4 and Mrs. L. Laflaur of Thetford Mines came up with a 9-5 win over Mrs. W. Baker's Montreal Heather foursome. Mrs. A. Moore of Lennoxville guided her rink to a 8-3 victory over another Lennoxville foursome, Mrs. W. Brosseau. Mrs. W. Richardson of Lennoxville rolled up a 14-5 win over Mrs. B. Harrington of Ormstown. In the other match in the event Mrs. A. Kerridge of Sherbrooke eliminated Mrs. W. Houghton and her Windsor foursome.

Washington Redskins File $50,000 Damage Suit Against Jack Hennemer Of Calgary For Signing Two Players

Washington, D.C. — (AP) — Washington Redskins Wednesday sued coach Jack Hennemer of Calgary Stampede for $50,000 damages on a complaint that he enticed two Washington players to jump their contracts.

Lawyers for the National Football League team said they planned to file a second suit today in an attempt to gain an injunction that would prohibit the two players from going to Calgary to play football.

Involved in the litigation are Dick "Little Mo" Modzelewski and Bob Morgan, both of whom formerly starred at tackle for the University of Maryland.

Bernard Nordlinger, a member of the law firm that represents the Redskins, said the injunction suit also was aimed at restraining Hennemer from trying to get two other Maryland players now with the Redskins, backs Jack Scarbath and Ralph Felton, to go to Canada.

The suit filed against Hennemer Wednesday accuses him of taking away "valuable property rights" of the Redskins in offering employment to players under contract with Washington with the knowledge of the existing contracts.

Morgan already had signed for the 1955 season with the Redskins. Modzelewski had not yet signed but the club has an option on his services for the next season.

Emile "The Cat" Francis Sets New Record For Goalies By Drawing 17 Minutes In Penalties; Gets Assist

Goalkeeper Emile "The Cat" Francis probably set a record for his profession Wednesday night by drawing 17 minutes in penalties in an American Hockey League contest at Cleveland. He rounded out a busy night by drawing an assist as his team, the Barons, downed Hershey Bears 7-4.

Meanwhile in Providence, general manager Terry Reardon of the Reds came out of retirement to help his squad to a 5-3 win over Buffalo Bisons.

Francis got a second-period major for fighting with Hershey's Norm Corcoran, and while a teammate served time for him, sent a long pass up the ice to draw an assist on a goal by Cal Stearns.

LOSERS ARGUMENT, TOO
Shortly afterwards Francis was assessed two minutes for holding the puck, and argued so strongly about it that a 10-minute misconduct was added.

Other Cleveland scorers were Eddie Olson 2, Eric Pogue, Glen Sommers and Jim Farelli. Ed Kryzanowski, Stan Parker, Corcoran and Skip Teal tallied for the Bears.

Reardon, former Boston Bruin who played with the Maritime Major League Sydney Millionaires part of last season, filled

Field Of 171 To Compete In Texas Open Tournament

San Antonio, Tex. — (AP) — A field of 171, including virtually every Tom, Dick and Harry who's done anything in golf lately, starts moving out at the crack of dawn today in the Texas open tournament.

A continuation of the fantastic scoring that has marked the tourney for the last five years was forecast.

Chattanooga Chandler Harper, defending champion, warmed up with a casual two-under-par 9 Wednesday.

Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., the year's leading money-winner, and Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., who has taken two tournaments this winter, are hot contenders along with Shelly Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass.

Chris Chataway Lands To Attend Special Dinner

Toronto — (AP) — Chris Chataway, race British distance runner, arrived in Toronto by air from Montreal late Wednesday.

The red-haired track star is in Toronto to attend the annual Ontario Sports Writers and Sportscasters Association sports celebrities dinner tonight.

Proceeds go to the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. Interviewed in Montreal during a plane change, he said he will try for the 1956 British Olympic team, with his eyes on the 5,000-metre race, but he won't forget the mile. He thinks the mile at Melbourne will be "wide open."

England's Roger Bannister will not compete and Australia's John Landy is in the doubtful class. Possible contenders listed by Chataway include Brian Hewson, Ian Boyd and Derek Johnston of Britain, Fred Dwyer of the U.S., and Gunnar Nielson of Denmark, who has been giving Wes Santee plenty of trouble on the indoor tracks.

In for forward Guy Gendron, out with a broken wrist.

Scorers for the Reds were Chuck Scherza, Bill Johnson, Bill Gooden, Jack Stoddard and Ken Davies. Bison goals were by Lou Jankowski, Gaye Stewart and Chuck Blair.

Magog Beats S. R. B. C. 5-0 In "A" And 3-2 In "B" And Clinch Title In "A" For This Section Of Loop

Magog, by virtue of a 5-0 victory over Sherbrooke Regiment in the "A" section, last night retained the team title for this section of the St. Francis Valley Badminton League. They will later in the season meet the winners from the other sections for the E. T. team title.

The Sherbrooke Regiment won the "B" match last night 3-2 against Magog but when Magog proved that one of the local players in "B" was ineligible this match was forfeited and Magog was then the winner 3-2.

Both matches were played at the William Street Armoury and since Magog has no more games to play and Sherbrooke has only one, it is impossible for the locals to catch up with Magog. Even a 5-0 victory over Bishop's, the team they meet next, would not do the trick.

Following are the results of last night's matches:

"A" CLASS
Miss Betty Webster defeated Sherbrooke's Miss Carol Witty, 15-4, 15-6 in the ladies' singles. In the men's singles, George Corbiere, Magog, beat Gordon Harmer, 15-8, 15-6. In the men's doubles Ted Holt and A. Channell, Magog, defeated the Sherbrooke team of Malt Soles and Jim Davidson, 15-11, 2-15, 17-14 in a hard-fought three-set match. Miss Gwen Gaunt and A. Cotterell, Magog, won the mixed doubles defeating Kay Thompson and Lorne Campbell 15-8, 18-15. Magog won the flip of a coin for the ladies' doubles when neither team showed up.

"B" CLASS

Jim Dykes, Sherbrooke, defeated W. Call, Magog, 15-8, 15-12, but he was ineligible for play. Mrs. A. Cotterell defeated Mrs. Bill Black in a hard-fought battle. The Magog player won the first set 11-5, dropped the second 11-8 and won the third 11-6. Mike Armstrong and Jim Strickland won the men's doubles for Sherbrooke, defeating C. Ruck and G. Styan, 15-6, 15-10. D. MacDonald and W. Christie, of Magog, won the ladies' doubles, beating Syl Ross and Helen Wiggott 15-3, 15-1. Jim Bell and Mary Long won the mixed doubles for Sherbrooke, defeating E. Holt and G. Smiley, 15-8, 15-10.

Lennoxville Grads And Independents Meet Tonight In Cage Finals For ETABA Crown And J. S. Mitchell Trophy

The J. S. Mitchell trophy will be at stake this evening when Lennoxville Grads and Sherbrooke Independents clash at the Lennoxville High School gym in the finals of the Eastern Townships Amateur Basketball Association. The tilt is slated to commence at 8:00.

In the semi-finals the Grads walloped the Magog Lakers 70-19 while in the other half of the draw the Independents posted a 47-33 verdict over the Richmond Royals.

The Grads had too much scoring punch for the Lakers and with Gordon Waner leading the attack with 16 points while Al Hunting followed with 15 with Garth Smith and R. Goodhue each with 10 points proved too strong for the Magog squad. K.

Whittier was high for the Lakers with 13 points.

In the other tilt George Beaulieu was the high marksman with 14 for the Independence while Horan with 11 was tops for Richmond. Marcel Fortier and Dave Turnbull were the referees for the games.

Lennoxville: A. Hunting 15, G. Warner 16, G. Smith 10, C. Warner, J. Sparks 2, A. Page 9, 70-19 while in the other half of the draw the Independents posted a 47-33 verdict over the Richmond Royals.

Alan Jenkins Of U. S. Wins Third Straight Men's Figure Skating Crown; Tenley Albright Leads

Vienna — (AP) — Alan Jenkins of Colorado Springs, Colo., swept to his third straight men's figure skating title Wednesday night and blonde Tenley Albright of Newton, Mass., took a strong lead in the women's division of the world championships.

The 20-year-old Jenkins put on a dazzling exhibition of free skating to complete this victory over 13 of the world's flashiest performers.

He climaxed his dazzling performance to the music of George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," spinning through a series of leaps and whisks which brought a capacity crowd of 6,500 fans to its feet. Jenkins amassed a total of 11 placements and 203.7 points.

Ronald Robertson of Los Angeles was second with 16 placements and 201.12 points and Jenkins' 17-year-old brother David finished third with 28 placements and 196.69 points.

Places Eighth
Charles Snelling, 17, Canadian men's senior champion from Toronto, was awarded 181.70 points and 69 placements to finish eighth, the same position he held at the end of the compulsory school figures Tuesday.

Earlier, Miss Albright, a 19-year-old pre-medical student, gave such an exacting and brilliant performance in the first four of her compulsory school figures that observers said only a miracle could keep her from regaining the crown she won in 1953 and lost last year. She has nine placements and 563.3 points so far.

Second to Miss Albright, with 26 placements and 537.9 points, is European champion Hanna Eigel of Austria. Another Austrian, Ingrid Wendt, is third with 33 - 535.4.

Neck And Neck

The two Canadians competing for the women's title skated neck and neck throughout the four compulsory figures.

Toronto's Ann Johnson, 18, finished seventh with 63.5 placements and 518.9 points. Close behind her was 17-year-old Carol Jane Pachi, Canadian women's champion, with 64 placements and 518 points.

The girls will finish up their remaining two compulsory figures this morning and go on to the free skating event tonight.

In compulsory school figures, a skater must follow a series of set patterns. In the free skating category he makes up his own routines. And is judged on originality and perfection of execution.

Leo Labine, First Haileybury Player To Make NHL In 30 Years, To Be Honored By Home Town Fans Saturday

Haileybury, Ont. — (AP) — Leo Labine, the first Haileybury hockey player to make the National Hockey League in 30 years, will receive cheers from home Saturday — some directly and some by proxy.

The 170-pound centre for Boston Bruins will be performing against the Maple Leafs in a game at Toronto.

A chartered bus will take about 32 Haileybury business men to Toronto. They have reserved special seats and will stage a Leo Labine night. Most of the 2,000 persons in this town 90 miles northwest of Sudbury are expected to be listening to the game on their radios.

The group going to Toronto, including a former coach and several of Labine's teammates from earlier days, will present him with a key to Haileybury. Labine will receive an honorary membership from each five local clubs including the Chamber of Commerce.

PRACTISED ALL YEAR

During the ceremony to be staged in the press room at Maple Leaf Gardens, Charles Cammell, Northern Ontario Hockey Association executive member, will present a special gift from business men and friends of Labine unable to attend the game. Nature of the gift was not revealed but an official said it would be "something to remind Leo of his boyhood in the Ontario's north."

Labine was born in Hailey-

Canadian Youth Is Being Neglected, Says Dick Irvin

Pembroke, Ont. — (AP) — Dick Irvin, Montreal Canadiens coach, said Wednesday night the sports training of Canadian youth is being neglected. He urged more support by newspapers for budding hockey stars.

The National Hockey League coach, speaking at a hockey night dinner, said Canadian newspapers are belittling Canada's national game of hockey and idolizing imported players in other sports.

Irvin said his first professional contract in Portland, Ore., was for $700 a season. Now it costs more to bring a prospect to NHL training camp.

The Montreal coach, accompanied by Maurice Richard and Jean Beliveau, attended a $25-a-plate dinner to raise funds for Pembroke's senior hockey club, the Lumber Kings, facing an $11,000 deficit. About 100 attended.

Songkitrat To Meet Macias In Title Fixture

San Francisco — (AP) — A world's bantamweight championship fight between Chamarn Songkitrat of Thailand and Raul Raton Macias of Mexico is all set for March 9 in San Francisco's Cow Palace, promoter Bennie Ford announced Wednesday.

The Thailand champion flies from Bangkok Feb. 21 for the 15-round fight.

The Thaiander, No. 2 contender, replaced Mario d'Agata as opponent of the Mexican champion after d'Agata was wounded in Italy last week by a gunshot.

Vs Protest Living Conditions To C. A. H. A.

Kemptville, Ont. — (AP) — The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has received a protest from Penticton Vs over conditions provided for them in Germany and has asked German officials for improvement.

W. B. (Baldy) George, past president of the CAHA, announced this Wednesday but said there is no question of the Canadian team withdrawing from the world hockey championships in Dusseldorf, Germany, Feb. 25 to March 6.

George said he received a cable from Penticton president Clem Bird saying that food and living accommodations in Berlin are "not good."

He said he cabled the German Ice Hockey Federation to arrange "satisfactory conditions" at Dusseldorf, where the Canadian team is due to arrive Feb. 23.

He kept his hockey stick in action all year round, practising in his own backyard during the summer and a Constance lake in winter.

He came to Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League from Barrie Flyers of the Junior Ontario Hockey League in the 1951-52 season. He joined Boston the same year, dropped back to Hershey the next season but was back with Boston before his second year in the big time was over.

Labine was 12th in the scoring race in the official scoring statistics released Tuesday. He was 20 points behind leader Jean Beliveau of Montreal Canadiens. Labine had 40 points, 23 goals and 17 assists. He was top scorer for his team.

Windsor Travels To Asbestos And East Angus Journeys To Rock Island In Only Tilts In Massawippi Circuit

Two tilts are on the agenda this evening in the Massawippi Valley Hockey League and the outcome of one will play a big part in deciding the championship of the loop. Windsor travels to Asbestos while Rock Island will be hosts to East Angus Pirates.

The Meteors are staging a drive to the wire for first place in the circuit and with three games left to play they must win at least two of them to edge out the Sherbrooke club. The Roger Roberge squad has only one tilt left to play against East Angus on Sunday evening at the Arena.

Asbestos tangles with Windsor tonight and will square off against Rock Island and one postponed game against East Angus, if time permits. The local crew would have to drop their last game with the Pirates and the Meteors win two to move out in front in the race.

The Paper Makers are the hottest team in the loop at present and perhaps they will have a little surprise for the Meteors in tonight's tilt. East Angus is favored over Rock Island and the outcome will not change the standing but will help the Pirates in their stretch drive for a higher spot.

Carl "Bobo" Olson Pounds Out Unanimous Decision Over Jones In 10-Rounder At Chicago Stadium

Chicago. — (AP) — Middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson boxed masterfully and viciously to win his 19th straight victory with a unanimous 10-round decision over Ralph (Tiger) Jones in a non-title bout at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

From the outset, Olson slashed and completely chastised Jones, who just one month ago had upset Sugar Ray Robinson, former middleweight champion, in the same ring.

Olson weighed the heaviest of his career, at 168 against 161 for Jones.

Two officials gave Olson every round, referee Frank Gilmer calling it for the champ, 100 to 86, and Judge Frank McAdams 100 to 78. The other judge, John Bray, saw it for Olson, 99-87. The Associated Press voted for Olson, 100 to 91.

It was announced before the fight Olson was set for an April 13 meeting with former light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim at San Francisco at 175 pounds.

Jones won only one round on the three cards of the officials, Judge Bray giving him the fourth, 10 to 9, under the Illinois scoring system of a maximum of 10 points to a round winner.

Jones tried to carry the fight to the 160 pound champion, but Olson countered brilliantly and effectively to pile up large margins in every round.

In the final round of the nationally televised bout, Olson nearly had Jones on the way down with a blistering two-fisted attack, but the game eastern Negro finished on his feet and fighting.

The Associated Press gave Jones two even rounds, the fourth and the seventh, while referee Gilmer called the second and seventh even.

Jones bled profusely from twin cuts on his right eye after the sixth round, but never called it quits against the ever-moving, ever-slashing champion.

Olson simply beat Jones to the

Coaticook High School News Report

The girl's basketball team of the Coaticook High played the team from Ayer's Cliff on Wednesday evening in the gym. In the first half of the game the local girls were leading by a few points but the pressure from the visitors proved too strong and the local team was soon down about 20 points.

The game ended with the score: Ayer's Cliff 53, Coaticook 31. Scoring for the local team was done by Mary Adams, 6 fouls, 2 baskets, for a total of 8 points; Elzada Saxlund, 1 foul, 1 basket, 3 points and Juanita Smith, 10 baskets, 20 points.
