BRITISH PREMIER TO ATTEMPT TO SOLVE FRANCO-ITALIAN PROBLEM

Meetings Scheduled for Today Shuffled as British Premier Hunts for New Approach to Situation—British Official Spokesman Admits Difficult Problem Confronts Conference.

LONDON, March 13.—The British official spokesman at the regular noon conference at St. James' Palace today refused to join in the wave of pessimism with which the morning newspapers regard the Five Power Naval Conference.

He admitted a difficult situation existed, but pointed out that every international conference in the last ten years faced as critical or even more critical phases, and that these were often overcome.

Meetings set for today were reshuffled this morning, one change being looked upon as highly significant and as indicating Premier MacDonald's efforts to solve the Franco-Italian crisis. The Prime Minister was to have met the heads of all the delegations at four o'clock this afternoon, but instead he will meet Dino Grandi, head of the Italian delegation an hour earlier and then Foreign Minister Briand a little later. One result of these talks may be a new approach to the Franco-Italian question.

SENATE VOTES $100,000,000 TO FARM BOARD

Additional Sum Recently Requested Approved Yesterday Without Opposition—Co-operation With Canadian Wheat Pool Urged.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The additional $100,000,000 for the Federal Farm Board, recently requested by the board, was approved yesterday by the Senate without opposition.

The fund was added to the first deficiency bill after sharp debate over the policies of the board during which Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, urged cooperation by the board with the Canadian Wheat Pool in opposition to Great Britain, France and Italy.

Brookhart expressed belief that a combination of three European nations against the United States wheat growers was in operation. He blamed the board for not asking more money at this time.

CONVERSATIONS RECALLED BY BROOKHART SUGGESTION

WINNIPEG, March 13.—Suggestion by Senator Brookhart, Iowa Republican, that the United States Farm Board co-operate with the Canadian Wheat Pool in opposition to Great Britain, France and Italy—regarding the present wheat situation—recalls informal conversations between Chairman Alexander Legge, of the board, and a member of the Canadian Wheat Pool staff some months ago.

According to the general impression, not denied by Pool officials, the United States and Canadian marketing bodies have made known to each other their willingness to "work together." Officials of the Pool, in conference yesterday at Winnipeg, refused to comment in any way on Brookhart's statement in the Senate.

EXPRESSES OPINION THAT SUGGESTION IS SOUND ONE

REGINA, March 13.—"The suggestion of Chairman Alexander Legge, of the United States Farm Board, that control of production offers the only solution to the surplus-grain problem, is a sound one," said George Williams, president United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, here yesterday.

Comment from Mr. Williams comes on Canada's prairies, claiming some 30,000 members. Saskatchewan farmers at present produce about sixty per cent of the entire wheat crop of Canada. Before their annual convention two weeks ago, the Saskatchewan body had been advised by Mayor John W. Hair, of Saskatoon, Sask., that they might do well to consider cutting down wheat acreage drastically if the market conditions were not improved.

THE WEATHER

CLOUDY, FAIR AND COLDER. Pressure is high over the South-eastern States and in the Mackenzie Valley, and an area of high pressure is approaching Lake Superior from the west. A deep depression is in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and has been moving northward. The weather is fair and cold in the Western Provinces.

Forecast: Westerly winds; mostly fair tonight and on Friday, becoming colder.

Yale University, His Alma Mater, also Mentioned.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 13.—With the body of William Howard Taft, resting beneath fresh turned sod in Arlington cemetery, upon which the flowers of yesterday still were fresh, the affection which he bore for Mrs. Taft, his three children and Yale University, his Alma Mater, were attested yesterday in his will.

"To my dear wife, Helen H. Taft," the final testament of the former President left virtually his entire estate. Fyied for probate, it disclosed no valuation.

At Yale University, where Taft spent many of the happiest years of his busy life, first as an under-graduate, then as the Kent Professor of Law from 1913 until 1921, when he rose to the Chief Justiceship, received the largest single sum mentioned in his will, $10,000.

To his three children, Robert A., Charles P. Taft, and Mrs. Helen Manning, the former Chief Justice left some of his most prized possessions, his papers, manuscripts, correspondence, addresses and copyrights. They are to be used as the recipients think best, after consultation with Mrs. Taft.

The sum of $5,000 was left to his secretary and $2,500 to All Souls Unitarian Church.

WHEAT PRICES STRUGGLED TO RISE AGAIN

Advances of More Than a Cent a Bushel Recorded at Opening of Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 13.—Wheat prices, crushed to earth, today struggled to rise again. Advances of more than a cent a bushel were recorded at the opening of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange after yesterday's lowest marks for the half dozen years. Trading, however, was only average. The advance was laid to improved conditions at Liverpool and fair overnight export business at the cheap prices.

May wheat was 3-8 to 1 1-8 higher at $1.04 3-4 to $1.05 1-2; July was up 3-4 to 1 1-4 at $1.06 7-8 to $1.07 3-8, and October showed an initial rise of 5-8 to 1 1-4 at $1.08 to $1.08 1-2.

WILL MAKE PARENTS OR GUARDIAN RESPONSIBLE FOR MINOR DRIVERS

Amendment to Motor Vehicles Act Discussed in Legislative Assembly Yesterday—Hon. A. R. McMaster States that if Parents Would Stop and Think at Times Before Allowing Their Children to Get Motor Cars It Might Be Better.

QUEBEC, Que., March 13.—Parents or guardians will be responsible for damages caused by a minor automobile driven by a minor for any fine imposed for an infraction of the laws of the road if the amendment to the Motor Vehicles Act presented in the Legislative Assembly yesterday is adopted. This measure, which Hon. A. R. McMaster, Provincial Treasurer, said he felt was a wholesome measure, reads as follows:

"No registration of a motor vehicle acquired and possessed by a person under twenty-one years of age shall be applied for and effected unless the written consent of the father, mother or tutor, as the case may be, of such person, to such registration, be filed in the bureau. Such consent shall render the person giving the same jointly and severally responsible for the fine imposed upon the licensee for any infraction of this act, as well as for any loss or damage sustained by anyone through the use of the said motor vehicle."

Hon. Mr. McMaster during the discussion of the amendment stated that if parents would stop and think at times before allowing their children to get motor cars it might be better.

Alderie Blain, Conservative, M. L. A., for Dorion, Montreal, referred to the case of a minor who was a public trader. The child code permits minors under certain cases to be public traders, and, therefore, was taking a trade to be prohibited from taking out a license for a delivery truck because he was a minor? He did not think a public trader, though a minor, should be obliged to get the consent of his father, mother, or tutor.

Young men below the age of twenty-one who were engaged in business were serious people, said Mr. Blain. The trouble today, he said, was that young people club together and for a few dollars buy a second hand car, and get into accidents. As long as the car could move long enough to get into an accident, it was sold, even for $25, said Mr. Blain.

Hon. Mr. McMaster said that by requiring the consent of parents he felt that a good effect would be achieved. He said that when called upon to sign the necessary document would hesitate and think seriously whether the child was fit to run a car. He said that Mr. Blain's point as to minors who were public traders was well taken, but that legislation would not be made for the small minority but for the mass. However, after some further discussion, Hon. Mr. McMaster agreed to insert an amendment to meet Mr. Blain's views.

The Minister accepted another suggestion from Mr. Blain. The member said that when a motor car is sold on the installment plan, which he understood happens at times, it arises that the purchaser does not fulfill his contract, and the car is taken back, and sold to some one else, and the latter is obliged to take out a six months' license. He believed that in such an instance there should not be a duty of payment. The Minister agreed, and in future a payment of $2 only will be required in such a case.

Third reading was given to Hon. Mr. Poirer's measure amending the Department of Agriculture Act, and also to the measure of Hon. Mr. Gauthier limiting the week of labor (Continued on page seven)

TOBACCO MEN ARE AWAITING NEXT BUDGET

Rumor of Possible Decrease in Tax on Cigarettes Has Aroused Considerable Interest.

MONTREAL, March 13.—Tobacco trade circles are eagerly awaiting the bringing down of the Dominion budget, which is expected this month, owing to persistent rumors that a decrease in cigarette taxation will be included. Such a reduction has been discussed for years past and has been more or less expected by the trade for some time.

According to the figures furnished in the February number of the Monthly Review of Business Statistics, published by the Government, cigarettes entered for consumption in Canada for the calendar year of 1929 showed an increase of more than 600 million over the 1928 figures.

Canada's present excise duty on cigarettes is $3 per thousand, and the retail price to the consumer, on popular brands, is 1 1-4 cents each, or 20 for 25 cents. In the United States the average retail price is 3-4 cent each, or 20 for 15 cents. The excise rate there is $3 per thousand.

A decrease in Canada to an excise tax of $4.50 per thousand would mean the reduction of popular price cigarettes to one cent each, or 20 for 20 cents, but, according to manufacturers, would likely mean the discontinuance of the premium cards in so many brands.

If the Canadian duty were to drop to $4.50 in all probability the mean that the premium cards would be retained in the packages, and the price would be 10 for 10 cents or 20 for 20 cents.

Assumption of these "prospective price changes is made on the basis that there would be no charge in the duties on leaf tobacco, and that the anti-dumping in sales tax to 1 per cent, would be effective.

CONTROL OF PRODUCTION OFFERS ONLY SOLUTION

President of United Farmers of Canada Upholds View Expressed by Chairman of United States Farm Board.

REGINA, Sask., March 13.—"The suggestion of Chairman Alexander Legge, of the United States Farm Board, that control of production offers the only solution to the surplus-grain problem, is a sound one," said George Williams, president of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section.

LOCAL CONCERN SUPPORTED WOOL GROWERS IN REQUEST FOR DUTY

Many Angles to Proposal to Re-establish Woollen Duties Debated Before Tariff Board by Representatives of Growers, Spinners and Weavers.

OTTAWA, March 13.—The many diverging interests that would be affected by a reimposition of the customs duty on worsted yarns, which is being asked by several wool growers' associations, was illustrated before the Tariff Board yesterday afternoon. Those plants engaged in both spinning and weaving, principally the Paton Manufacturing Company, of Sherbrooke, supported the wool growers, while the cloth weavers offered unanimous opposition. The former group told of large plants lying idle, while the weavers were using imported yarns. The Paton Company alone laying off 150 men through this cause. The weavers laid the difficulties of the wool growers to world conditions, and claimed that a higher duty would be necessary on the finished product of the industry will be passed on to Parliament by reason of the evidence brought out by the chairman of the Tariff Board, who questioned representative men engaged in various phases of spinning and weaving in Ontario and Quebec, and it would appear that there is little prospect of the duty on worsted yarns being reimposed.

Mr. Millicamp, of Oriental Textiles, Limited, Oshawa, said they buy worsted yarns in Canada made from imported tops and sell their finished products to the General Motors Company for the upholstery of motor cars. Bradford, England, manufacturers had been making reductions of 25 to 30 cents per yard on material costing $2.25 per yard, in order to keep their mills running, and if he had to buy his yarns in Canada it would cost him from nine to thirteen cents per pound more than at present, with the result that he would not be able to compete with the Bradford manufacturers on the finished product unless the protection on the finished wool in Canada. The association

D. Dick, president of the Canadian Knit Goods and Woollen Manufacturers Association, said that even if worsted yarns were made in Canada, they would have to be made for imported tops, as the Canadian wool was unsuitable owing to climatic conditions in this country. Therefore the free importation of yarns was not detrimental to the growing or marketing of wool in Canada. The association

LONDON PRESS GIVES OPINION ON CONFERENCE

Negotiations Have Reached Stage Where Crisis Might Easily Prove Fatal.

LONDON, March 13.—Under the caption "Deadlock the conference," the London Times today editorially expressed the opinion that the negotiations had reached a crisis which easily might prove fatal.

The paper, while declaring that the French position was understood and appreciated, thought the French view very shortsighted and unfortunate.

The United States refusal to enter into any political pact, even a consultative one, is, the paper declared, equally understood and appreciated in Great Britain, and the contention is made that with the United States standing aloof, it would be impossible for Great Britain to give France the support she desires.

The paper expressed the faint hope, however, it thought extremely unlikely to be realized, that the situation might be eased at the last moment by direct understanding between France and Italy, whose rivalry in the Mediterranean has been the crux of the whole difficulty.

The trouble which the conference faces now has been caused, the Times contended, by lack of preparation of the political side, sufficient care not having been given to pave the way for reconciliation between the desire of France for political guarantees, Great Britain's determination not to be drawn into military alliances, and traditional aversion of the United States affairs.

Notwithstanding everything, however, the paper expressed confidence that the conference was not likely to separate in despair without accomplishing anything. Its main objects may prove unattainable for the present but it has reached valuable agreements on a number of points and these results cannot be allowed to lapse.

The Daily Mail said the conference was fast approaching a crisis and that the prospects for a successful issue were gloomy.

TWO BILLS GIVEN THIRD READING IN LEGISLATURE

Measures Approving Contract Between Government and Ladies of Notre Dame de la Charite de Bon Pasteur and Ratification of Montreal Contracts Read.

QUEBEC, March 13.—The Legislative Council sat yesterday under the presidency of Hon. George Bowen. Third reading was given to bill approving of the contract between the Government and the Ladies of Notre Dame de la Charite de Bon Pasteur and Ratification of Montreal Contracts Read.

QUEBEC, March 13.—Appreciation of the Liberal membership of Quebec Legislature for the qualities of Premier L. A. Taschereau was stressed yesterday at the close of the afternoon sitting of the Legislative Assembly when the Premier was escorted to the restaurant and there presented with a walnut desk, one of the finest productions in walnut noted around here of recent years. Two chairs accompany the desk.

The gift is because of the 33rd birthday of the Premier. That came on Ash Wednesday, and the Premier was presented with sixty-three roses from the membership of the House, and also with sixty-three roses by Mrs. Pierre Casgrain and the other ladies gathered here that day to watch the defeat of the women's suffrage bill.

The presentation was made by the party whys, W. S. Bullock, veteran M.L.A. for Sherbrooke, Dr. A. V. Roy of Levis, and Dr. Lemieux, of Wolfe.

Brief speeches were made before an audience of the members of the Legislature and of the press gallery, specially invited for the purpose by the party whys. The Premier, in reply, showed his appreciation of the gift, but agreed with Mr. Bullock that after sixty, birthdays should not be too closely noted.

IMPORTED WINE SALES IN ONTARIO SHOW DECREASE

Stock Market Crash Blamed by Liquor Control Board for Drop in Sales During November and December.

TORONTO, Ont., March 13.—The stock market crash is blamed by the Liquor Control Board of Ontario for a falling off in the sales last year of expensive imported wines, especially champagne. In the annual report, made public yesterday, it was shown that in November sales of imported wines dropped twenty-eight per cent, over the corresponding month in 1928 and in December the figures were twenty-three per cent, lower.

NEW YORK SENATE ADOPTS WATER POWER BILL ALBANY, N.Y., March 13.—The Senate yesterday passed the Republican water power bill calling for the appointment of a commission by the governor to investigate the feasibility of developing the St. Lawrence River hydro-electric resources.

HON. ATHANASE DAVID GAVE NOTICE OF BILL YESTERDAY

Provincial Secretary Would Have Children Taken from Tubercular Infected Homes So that They May Not Become Infected.

QUEBEC, Que., March 13.—Hon. Athanase David, Provincial Secretary, has given notice in the Legislative Assembly of his intention to bring in his measure to introduce the Granger system in this province. The purpose is to take from tubercular infected homes children who are healthy so that they may not become infected. These children will be placed in the mountain regions of the province, and cared for in healthy families.

The Government will pay $10 a month for each such child.

Hon. J. E. Perrault, Minister of Roads and Mines, has given notice of a bill to amend the Quebec Mining Companies Act so that mining companies may have thirty days to make reports of increases in capital stock. At present such returns must be made within two days.

SENATOR URGES DEPORTING ALIENS IN U. S. ILLEGALLY

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Asserting that aliens were stealing the birthright of hundreds of thousands of United States citizens who are driven out of employment, Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, yesterday introduced a resolution calling upon the Secretary of Labor to take a census of aliens and immediately deport those illegally resident.

LIBERALS ARE LIKELY TO OPPOSE CENSURE VOTE OF CONSERVATIVES

Expected to Support Government Tonight, Despite Fact that Liberals Have Announced that Truce With Government Over Employment Schemes Has Ended—McKenna Duties on Imported Motor Cars, Imported Silk and Artificial Silk to Be Retained.

OTTAWA, March 13.—The McKenna duties on imported motor cars and artificial silk are to be retained in the forthcoming budget, according to the political correspondent of the Daily Chronicle today.

The newspaper declares the duties will be retained largely through representations by Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal, who is reported to fear the abolition of the measures would increase unemployment. Right Hon. Philip Snowden is also declared to have been influenced by revenue considerations, these duties having yielded nearly $50,000,000 last year.

In any event, the Chronicle's statements aroused keen interest, coming a few hours before the commencement of debate in Parliament over the Conservative motion of censure.

The division on censure motion tonight is expected to see Liberals ranged in support of the Government, despite the fact the Liberals have announced the truce with the Government over employment schemes has been ended.

The motion on which the debate will take place reads as follows: "That this House deplores the depression in British trade and the increase in unemployment resulting from the policy of the present Government, and regrets the refusal of the Government not only to extend the safeguarding duties declare its intentions with regard to the maintenance of the existing safeguarding and McKenna duties on sugar, silk and the key industries, thus increasing uncertainty and distress."

WALNUT DESK PRESENTED TO MR. TASCHEREAU

Liberal Members of Quebec House Again Pay Honor to Their Leader.

QUEBEC, March 13.—Appreciation of the Liberal membership of Quebec Legislature for the qualities of Premier L. A. WILL MOVE TO HAVE DIVORCE BILL RESTORED TO HOUSE ORDER PAPER

Henri Bourassa Takes Strong Exception to Comments Upon Result of Vote on Woodsworth Measure—Motion to Have Estimates Referred to Standing Committee and Amendment Debated in Commons Yesterday.

LASCELLES IS MENTIONED AS NEXT GOVERNOR

Secretary to Earl of Harewood Says He Had Heard No Mention of Selection of Princess Mary's Husband as Next Governor-General.

LONDON, March 13.—The Earl of Harewood's secretary stated, in reply to enquiries, that he had heard nothing of the report that the Earl of Harewood would likely succeed Lord Willingdon as Governor-General of Canada. "I never heard the suggestion mentioned before," he said.

The Earl is the former Viscount Lascelles, husband of Princess Mary. Viscount Willingdon's term will expire next year.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13.—The motion of W. Lucas, U.F.A. member for Camrose, to have estimates referred to a standing committee and an amendment thereto by G. G. Coote, (U.F.A., MacLeod), were debated in the House of Commons yesterday which debate will be continued today.

Those who engaged in the debate were the mover, Premier Mackenzie King, Sir George Perley, (Conservative, Argenteuil), Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Opposition leader, H. B. Adhead, (Labor, Calgary East), J. L. Brown, (Liberal, Progressive, Lisgar), S. W. Jacobs, (Liberal, Cartier), John Evans, (Progressive, Rosetown), M. N. Campbell, (Progressive, McKenzie), William Irvine, (Progressive, Wetaskiwin) and A. W. Neill, (Independent, Comex-Albani).

During yesterday's session Henri Bourassa, (Libelle) took strong exception to comments made in Ontario by members of Orange lodges upon the result of the Ontario Divorce Bill vote. Mr. Bourassa denounced the Orangemen for criticizing the solid opposition of Quebec to the bill, and vigorously asserted what he regarded as the inalienable right of members of Parliament to express their opinion on legislation regardless of race or creed.

Later William Irvine (Wetaskiwin) rose to state that he would move to have restored on the order paper of the House the Ontario Divorce Bill which was defeated on Tuesday evening. However, was told by the Speaker that he would be required to give notice, which Mr. Irvine promised to do.

One of these comments by W. J. Carson, newly elected Grand Master of the Royal Black Chapter, Loyal Orange Lodge, objected "that French Canadians of Quebec Province should be in a position to say that Ontario shall or shall not have a divorce court—to dictate the policies of a sister province." Mr. Bourassa protested against this and other quotations, and then began to analyze the vote.

At this juncture, Hon. H. H. Stevens, (Conservative, Varcoeux Centre) objected that Mr. Bourassa was taking advantage of a question of privilege to launch a discussion outside the rules of the House, and the rules of the House, and the House could reply.

Mr. Speaker Lemieux ruled that Mr. Bourassa was in order in raising any point of privilege which affected the members of the House of Commons as a body.

Of the seventy-eight votes recorded in support of the divorce bill, twenty-three were Ontario members, said Mr. Bourassa. Twenty-six other Ontario members voted against the bill. Of this twenty-six, thirteen were Liberals and thirteen were Conservatives. Had the Quebec members abstained from voting then the bill would have been passed over the heads of an Ontario majority at large. If the Quebec members were to be criticized, how much more the members from the western provinces, who introduced and voted for the bill.

Bourassa vigorously declared for "British fair play" to all members regardless of their creed or race, and their right to vote as they saw fit on any occasion that came before them.

W. T. Lucas, (U.F.A., Camrose) proposed that "estimates should be referred to select standing committees before being submitted to the committee of the whole."

Adoption of this procedure, Mr. Lucas declared, would enable members to obtain fuller information on main and supplementary estimates, and also save time in the House. After all, he proceeded, members of Parliament were trustees of the people's money, and members should be given opportunity to question Government officers as to whether and how the money asked would be spent.

Premier W. L. Mackenzie King said if the resolution was made less general in its term the Government would have no objection to its passing. The question, the Prime Minister observed, had been under consideration on previous occasions, and the principle of submission of certain estimates had been endorsed. From the Conservative benches Sir George Perley (Argenteuil) gave his approval of the resolution. A start on the proposal, Sir George remarked, might be made this year in regard to the estimates of the Department of Public Works.

Murray MacLaren, (Conservative, St. John-Albert), contended that the advantages of the present system, in which the estimates were taken up item by item in the House, outweighed the disadvantages, and he opposed the change which the resolution proposed. The Canadian National Railway estimates were referred to a special committee, and (Continued on page 13B.)

WILL YOU TAKE AN INTEREST IN NEWSBOYS?

The newsboy of to-day may be the Mayor of Sherbrooke in some of the coming morrows. Many of the prominent young business and professional men boast of the days when they carried a Daily Record route or cried the latest news on the street.

The newsboy starts early to learn commercial life. It is clean work. It is the intention of the Managing Director to give cash prizes each week to the boy who sells the most papers during the week. And the welfare of any school boy will be a first consideration.

SHERBROOKE HOUR ON SUNDAY EVENING

An interesting programme has been prepared for the City of Sherbrooke programme to be broadcast over station CKAC, Montreal, on Sunday evening, March 16th, between six and seven o'clock. The artists assisting in this second civic broadcast will be Miss Mildred Larky, pianist; Mrs. J. Bachand Dupuis, soprano; Mr. C. E. Bachand, Mr. Rhys Lloyd, tenor, and Mr. Gaston Jutras, violin.

This broadcast is being organized by a number of Sherbrooke businessmen following the success of a similar experiment carried out on February 16th.

TICKETS TO BE EXCHANGED MONDAY
The box office will open at ten o'clock on Monday morning next for the exchange of tickets for the performance which is to be given in the evening by local Irish talent in honor of St. Patrick's Day.

So far the tickets have gone very well and it is expected that there will be a large audience to greet "Diplomatic Bridget."

ONE OF OUR OLDEST SUBSCRIBERS

Mr. A. G. Fuller, of South Bolton, can fairly claim a place on our subscribers' roll of honor, for in a letter received this week he says: "We have taken your paper for 27 years, and do not feel we could be without it, as it is like an old and dear friend." Mr. E. G. Pierce, our Vice-President and Managing Director, says he very clearly remembers the day and date when he called at Mr. Fuller's home more than a quarter century ago, and he recalls the kind reception given to him when Mr. Fuller decided that the Record stood for much that he admired.

FORMER RESIDENT OF CITY DEAD

The following item from The Wetaskiwin Times (Alberta) records the death of Mrs. Mary Tupper, a former resident of this city, who passed away at the home of her son in Jasper Park on February 25th.

"Mrs. Mary Tupper, widow of the late William Tupper, of Sherbrooke, Que., passed away at the home of her son in Jasper Park, on February 25th, aged sixty-nine years, after a five months' illness. She was met at Jasper by the children and brought to Wetaskiwin, and the funeral was held here on Saturday, March 1st, from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Dalby Lasell, prayers with the family at 2:30 o'clock, after which the cortege proceeded to the First United Church, where an impressive address was given to the sorrowing family and friends by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Elliott, taking his texts from 2nd Kings, 4:26; and 2nd Kings, 4:28, also 23rd Psalm, also using Keiser's poem 'My Mother's Picture.' The choir sang Psalm selection 91 'Unto the hills around do I lift up my longing eyes,' also 'O Love That Will Not Let Me Go.' with a solo rendered very touchingly by Mrs. Johnson 'Crossing the Bar.' These were all favorites of the deceased.

The pallbearers were Messrs. D. Matheson, Lennie Graham, John Stewart, Archie McCurdy, Horace French, all being friends or relatives from Eastern Canada and Wm. Holmes, of Wetaskiwin.

Interment was made in the Wetaskiwin Cemetery.

"The deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. D. A. Lasell, of Wetaskiwin, Alta.; four sons, Donald, of Bishop's Crossing, Que.; John, of Jasper; William and Everett, of Edmonton, besides two stepchildren, E. J. Tupper, of Edmonton, and Mrs. Geo. E. Hope, of Lowell, Mass.

Big Ad. Writing Contest

Julius Kayser & Co., Limited, Offer $3,800.00 in Prizes for Advertisements Featuring Kayser Hosiery.

Announcement of a Dominion-wide Advertisement-Writing Contest with nine cash prizes amounting to $3,800, has just been made by Julius Kayser & Co., Limited, manufacturers of gloves, hosiery and underwear.

This competition will be open to all Canadian retailers stocking the Kayser line, and the prizes will be awarded to those who, in the opinion of the judges, publish in the daily press between March 1st and May 1st the best advertisements featuring Kayser hosiery.

These advertisements may be run either separately or as a part of larger general advertisements of the stores competing. Each advertisement to be eligible must include one of the regular Kayser name plates, but the size of this name-plate is immaterial.

Judging of the Contest will be on the basis of the selling appeal and artistic qualities of the various advertisements submitted. Special attention will be paid to layout and typography.

Contestants may send in any number of advertisements and there will be three classifications under which these advertisements may be entered.

Advertisements should occupy up to one-eighth page, one-quarter page and over.

Prizes will include one of $1,000, one of $750, two of $500, one of $200, two of $200, one of $150 and one of $100. These prizes will be awarded to each winning store.

LENNOXVILLE

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE TABULATES YEAR'S WORK AND ELECTS OFFICERS

The sixteenth annual meeting of the Lennoxville Branch of the Women's Institute took place in the Institute room in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening. A large attendance of members and all of the officers were present, the president, Mrs. John Manes, in the chair. The secretary, Mrs. E. L. Atto, in her report, summed up the year's work of the Branch, showing the activities covered. These included the providing of an equipped Women's Club room for the town, which had been in continuous demand throughout the year, the giving of prizes in nature study in the high school, co-operation with the Lennoxville Short Course in the holding of the annual course in agriculture and household science, securing of shrubs and bulbs for home planting, and the encouragement of town gardening, social service work among the sick and needy, donations to the V.O.N., the Sherbrooke Hospital and Old Folks' Home, distribution of literature on the prevention of infantile paralysis and care of children, the holding of a contest in cooking, co-operation with the Board of Trade and Immigration Societies, assistance in the League of Nations campaign, contributions to the Women's Memorial Building at Ottawa and the MacKinnon Memorial Building in Sherbrooke, a tea held in aid of the town library, as well as "bridges," musicals, teas and lectures. Of special note was the co-operation of the Institute with the Lennoxville Malvern cemetery committee in a campaign for funds to improve and endow the cemetery.

The treasurer, Mrs. E. Reed, reported that nearly six hundred dollars had been raised practically all of which, with the exception of the amounts paid in affiliation fees, had been expended locally. Attention was drawn to the fact that the Women's Institute was the only secular organization in the town of which this could truthfully be said.

The election of officers resulted in the return of the entire Board by acclamation. The county president, Mrs. McCurdy, presided over the elections, which resulted as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. G. G. McCurdy; president, Mrs. J. G. Manes; first vice-president, Mrs. J. Manes; second vice-president, Mrs. H. Dunedin; secretary, Mrs. E. L. Atto; treasurer, Mrs. E. Reed.

Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Atto were appointed a committee in charge of the room and equipment. Mrs. W. J. Marlin was chosen to visit and report on the sick, and Mrs. H. Bassett, Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. F. R. Titcomb were named ways and means committee.

Mrs. R. J. Seale gave the report of the programme committee, which was adopted without change, and the programme was left in the hands of the secretary for printing. Votes of thanks were tendered to the officers for their splendid service of the past year. A social hour was enjoyed, when sugar on snow formed the evening's refreshments. A number of gentlemen friends came in to enjoy the timely treat.

General Notes
Miss Mina Pergau, who has been ill for several months, was taken to the Montreal General Hospital this morning for treatment. She was accompanied by her nurse, Miss Morrisette, and by her uncle, Mr. R. I. Deane.

"ANCESTOR JORICO"

by WILLIAM J. LOCKE

We mounted, started off along the valley road and soon found ourselves in single file, one guide in front, the other behind, in a wonderland of tropical wilderness. It became no longer a road but a bridge path through untouched and monstrous vegetation. For much of the way the path was but a rude pass along the side of wild gorges, with here and there a visible through freckles of foliage, blue pools of the mountain stream far beneath. The air was hot and stagnant. We came through patches of sunlight with the curious regularity of city gas lamps when one is walking in a slight fog. Everything that was visible grew to monstrosity, to infinite profusion, in this hot-land of virgin forest. The narrow bridge path itself had been cleared, but on each side the rank and giant wilderness of green was an inextinguishable tangle of lianas, the brown, vegetable ropes and from tree to tree, heart-breaking barrier to the human violator of the forest's sanctity. All monstrous and fetid overgrowth. Ferns sprang up twenty feet high with foliage ugly in its fatness. And there was a stinging noise when one expected the silence of living death. Hidden cicadas rattled their wings screechingly. Little green parakeets, visible through the trees, made discord. Now and then a gaudy macaw flew with raucous sound from branch to branch. Here and there the gleaming silver of a waterfall rumbled eternally.

Hummingbirds of myriad-toned iridescence flickered their tiny wings among the tree trunks. And at times one saw a great Argus butterfly of nightmare size flap its lapis-lazuli wings with the final languor of approaching death.

By the side of the track one could see slowly moving ribbons of green, many yards long; parasol ants carrying over their heads tiny circles of green leaf as provisions to their home.

When we emerged, after a two and a half-hour's ride, into a vast patch of sunshine and air, with a little stream dancing and sparkling and rippling over brown stones, and threw ourselves down exhausted by the heat and the dripping exhalations of the tropical forest's rank vegetation—not only elderly I, but Toby who made a gospel of keeping himself fit, and Nicholas, the boy—I began to think of the object of our journey. That journey was a quest of piratical treasure brought within two or three hundred yards of us by Europeans over 100 years ago.

If we, with all the resources of civilization at our command, had arrived after a mere four hours from Port of Spain, dead beat by the tremendous venosity of the tropics, what must have been the courage and the endurance and almost insensate purpose of the early adventurers who had to hew their trackless way, inch by inch, with ax and cutlass, for thirty miles, to the spot where we now lay panting?

Just think of Old Man Jorico and his merry men. They couldn't, with all their hacking, have gone more than the three miles a day: hacking a path, carrying provisions, sleeping in the close poison of the forest, tracking the river as well as they could, beset by the infinite danger of snakes, coral snakes, the deadliest kind, pythons and poisonous whip-snakes; wild-cats, fierce as leopards; scorpions, centipedes, mosquitoes, ants, ants, ants, white ants, red ants, brown ants, black ants, some as large as houseflies. How could they cope with it all? The dew that soaked a man to his underskin. The malaria that made a man's bone shiver under his flesh?

Lying in the fresh, sweet air in the shade of a mango tree, and watching Binkie make a beast of himself with the squirting yellow pulp of the fruit, I figuratively raised my hand in salutation to his Ancestor Jorico.

We came upon the cave, after another stage, a hole in a hill whence rippled out a clear little bubbling stream, between banks fringed with green and bamboo.

The elaborately traced out hiding place described by Binkie was before their eyes. Our imaginations had been wrought-up, as it were, to pirate pitch. In there, beyond that mouth in the green hill, in a visible fuliginous darkness, a startling area of black in the vivid riot of sun and color, lay wealth whose possession would change the tenor of their discontented lives.

"Let us go," said Binkie. He turned to the chief guide. "The torches, please."

A pitch-black cave is a pitch-black cave all the world over. Unless one is an explorer or a professionally interested scientist, the laborious groping about a cave is the most boring experience of the globe-trotting man. I have been in the cave in the course of my military service; mostly either as official cicerone or as a friendly and self-sacrificing ass. But I had never visited a cave to look for hidden private treasure. I can't deny that, although dog weary, I felt the thrill of it.

It was as vast a cavern as I have seen. Its blackness forbade my seeing much of it. Our electric torches only gave the impression of dark, dim distances. Round about us birds disturbed flew and scattered discordantly. Away in the vast, obscure, were thousands of pairs of yellow, non-luminous lights—the eyes of mated pairs of devil-birds too far away on the stalactite-hung ridges to be disturbed by our petty torch-lit groping along the side of the icy cold striking team that has its source down in the faraway secret founts of the cavern.

The birds, guacheros, diabolitos of the goat-sucker species, are found in few other spots in the world. They are nocturnal in habit, and feed on the shoots of the palms that grow outside. From the screeching shapes that fled out of the radius of our torches I gathered that they were about the size of a partridge. The air was cold. It is the only chilly place in the whole of the West Indies.

I had dawdled, in an elderly way, somewhat behind the string of younger men, interested in the murky mystery of the place and the uncanny pin-specks of yellow light in the blackness, when I heard Binkie say:

"Is the source of the river much further up?"

The guide answered in effect: "The spring itself is fifty yards away. But it is difficult to reach. There are rocks which must be climbed. No one I think has ever passed beyond the spring. The cave is said to wind narrowly and uncannily inland far more than a mile. There is also the source of another river, the Oropouche, running north; this river, the Arripo, as you see, is the one that runs south."

"I think that's all we want to see at present, thanks," said Binkie. "Will you kindly get ahead and show us the way out?"

The guide obeyed. As soon as he appeared to be beyond the earshot of whippers, Binkie collected the three of us conspirator-wise around him.

"This is more or less the spot. Ninety-five yards from the mouth. I've paced it. But when I come again I'll bring a measuring tape. There's no more need for a guide now than from the Ritz to Piccadilly Circus." He drew out a pocket compass and consulted it under his torch. We pressed up to him in the weird and stagnant darkness. "N.N. E. ten yards." He flashed his torch. "That's where it is. Buried some where in those rocks."

"Let us go and see," cried young Nicholas, starting forward. But Binkie grabbed his arm.

"Do you suppose, if it could be seen, that it wouldn't have been seen by somebody during the last 100 years? You must learn patience. The only to do now is to go back and have lunch."

Feeling chilled and tired, I agreed with him. Toby followed the beam of the torch. "What they did was to hide the chest in a natural cleft and cover it up with a hunk of rock."

"And by this time it has been cemented in by the birds. That's what we're up against. It isn't as simple as it seems, Nicholas."

"Still, we're by no means downhearted," laughed Toby.

We retraced our steps, and perhaps for the first time in my life I welcomed the fierce blaze of the midday tropical sun.

We ate at a pitch-pine table in front of the manager's wooden house. Binkie had organized our pretty expedition with the forethought of one about to explore the darkest heart of Central Africa. He displayed a little chemically operated ice machine which he had brought from England with his usual con-jurer's air. He was very far from

PLANE CRASHES CLAIMED A TOLL OF THIRTY-ONE

Out of 5,880,000 Passenger Miles Flown by Aeroplanes in Canada During 1929, Accidents Involving Deaths or Injuries Numbered Twenty-Nine.

OTTAWA, March 13.—Out of 5,880,000 passenger miles flown by aeroplanes in Canada during 1929, accidents, involving deaths or injuries, numbered twenty-nine, according to statistics prepared by the civil aviation branch of the Department of National Defence. There were thirty-one deaths from flying operations, of which sixteen were passengers, fourteen pilots and one a person on the ground who became involved in a plane accident. Eleven passengers, twelve pilots and two persons on the ground were injured. Practically all accidents were due to breach of air regulations.

The approximately 6,000,000 miles flown by aircraft during the year compares to 2,728,414 in 1928. Freight carried totalled 3,700,000 pounds as compared to 2,404,682 pounds in 1928 and 1,098,346 pounds in 1927. Flying hours totalled 78,000 as compared to 43,071 in 1928.

During the year 791,664 pounds of mail were carried, of which 430,636 was contract mail. In 1928 mail carried totalled 316,621 pounds and in 1927 it was 146,842 pounds.

The Ontario Provincial Air Service had 11,602 flying hours with 1,020,000 passenger miles and 669,423 aircraft miles to its credit. The O.P.A.S. has only two minor accidents, involving neither death nor injury.

Commercial companies operating in Canada in 1929 numbered ninety-five, compared with 53 in 1928 and twenty in 1927.

being downhearted. Up to a thrilling moment he had been successful in his search. Within a few square feet he had located the treasure. Further accurate measurement would take him to the exact spot. Ancestor Jorico was no fool, he declared. When the old buccaneer said "yards" he meant measured yards, not paces. His compass directions must be accurate. . . .

"Your apparent conception, my dear young friend," said he, looking around to see that he couldn't be overheard—the guides and the estate people had melted away, into the sunshine so that the white guests could be alone in the shade—"that we could go at once with picks and spades and perhaps dynamite and hook out a chest of treasure is absurd. The news of it would get about immediately. There would be a hell of a hullabaloo all over the place. Why didn't I start with a surveyor's measuring tape, you may ask? The guide would have spotted something queer. The essence of the whole thing is secrecy. Not a living soul in the island must suspect. You see that, don't you? Now there are three things before us. One: to find the exact spot—that's child's play. Two: to unearth the chest containing the treasure. It is in a chest. There's no doubt about it. You've seen old Jorico's drawing with little devils dancing on the lid. Three: to transport the contents of the chest without arousing any suspicion from here to the Nautilus."

RECRUITING IN BRITISH ARMY SHOWS FALLING-OFF

Organized Migration Overseas, Uncertainty Regarding Future of Army and Replacement in Industry of Older by Younger Men Given as Reasons for Decline.

LONDON, March 13.—Recruiting for the British Army last year fell off more than 2,000 men, according to figures made public. Only 28,131 recruits joined the army in 1929, as compared with 30,135 in 1928. At the present time there are no indications of an early return to normal.

Several causes are attributed for the decrease among them organized migration overseas, uncertainty regarding the future of the army, owing to the publicity given to disarmament, and the replacement in industry of older by younger men.

STANSTEAD COLLEGE NOTES

A number of S. W. C. Cadets, who have been taking the St. John Ambulance first aid course from Mrs. L. G. McGillon (nurse), have successfully passed the required examination given recently by Capt. Cameron from Headquarters, Montreal. Eleven took the test and eleven passed, which reflects much credit on their instructor. It is but a few years since this work was inaugurated among cadets in Canada and in the year of its inception Stanstead College stood first for the whole Dominion.

The teachers and students enjoyed the visit from Rev. Mr. Seaton, of Hatley. His address on "Deep calleth unto the deep," at Vespers was inspiring.

Miss Grace Libby spent the weekend at her home near Way's Mills. Last Friday was "Vice-Presidents' Day" at the B. B. C. Literary Society meeting so Miss Freida Raymond presided. The treasurer, Mr. L. Wright, gave a very satisfactory report of the "At Home" finances, showing a neat little balance on hand. Miss Anna Struthers read the "One Lung" and Mr. Roy Coombs gave an interesting and instructive address on The Algonquin Park of Northern Ontario. The meeting ended with a short Shakespeare contest.

The College was visited by two outside basketball teams on Saturday last. Bishop's University girls team with their coach, Mr. Ivan Stockwell and Newport High School team of boys. The girls' game took place first and it was well contested and presented exciting entertainment. The visitors were handicapped a little in that the game was played according to boys' rules, whereas they had been trained in playing girls' rules. All the players did excellent work, but two of the locals were especially successful in finding the basket. The game ended by a score of 39-13 in favor of Stanstead.

The boys' game which followed immediately was fast and furious from the start. The visitors got a decided lead in the first quarter which afterwards handicapped the locals, somewhat. However, at half time the score was much closer, at three-quarter time it stood a tie. This resulted in the last quarter being unusually fast basketball. One minute before the expiration of the last quarter, the game was still a tie and would have so ended were it not that a disputed basket during the last 10 seconds figured. There were no nets attached to the rings to complete the baskets, as there should have been to check the ball as it dropped through the ring. This error on the part of the home club made it necessary to render decision in favor of the guests. Mr. J. D. McFadyen refereed both games.

The musical programme put on at the Haskell Opera House on Friday evening last was very much enjoyed by every one present.

LIQUOR BILL WOULD AID U.S.-CANADA RELATIONS

Senator George Foster Comments on Liquor Export Bill of Premier Mackenzie King.

OTTAWA, March 13.—Diplomatic relations between Canada and the United States are bound to improve if Premier Mackenzie King's liquor export bill is approved, in the opinion of Senator Sir George E. Foster. He expressed the belief yesterday that the bill will be approved by the Senate, though it may cut across party lines. Sir George has long been a prominent figure in prohibition circles.

mier Mackenzie King would give the Government power to refuse clearance to liquor shipments consigned to a prohibition country as the United States.

"No nation likes to have its neighbor carrying on a business against its laws, least of all when the motive is to make a little money—thus the feeling that diplomatic relations between the United States and the Dominion will improve as a result of the bill," Sir George said.

THEY NEED A LESSON IN SALESMANSHIP.

McLeod, agent for the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool in England, unwittingly unfolds the main reason for the uncalculated surplus of Canada's wheat now in the elevators. In trying to explain how the untold story of the boycott was cable to Canada, and how it gained currency through an error, McLeod complacently observed in their marketing of wheat in the Old Country, that:

"Of course we were not pressing sales, and we are not pressing sales now. Our offers are being accepted right along, however, and we do not propose to turn a customer down or any offers we may make."

Put your finger on that sentence, please, and analyze the attitude of the Wheat Pool. They have Big Head—the executives think that they can sit on top of the barn and boss the wheat markets of the world.

The moment a man or any body of men begin to think they sit on top of the world, they begin to slide down a longitudinal line.

Big business is not conducted that way. The monopoly must be more alert than the individual if it would live.

John D. Rockefeller built up the greatest monopoly in an oil pool. But John D. was never lazy on salesmanship. He never sat in his office and waited for offers. He sent men out to all corners of the earth—real salesmen—many of them diplomats, and many of them high in political life. His policies live today. A more polite, more smooth, and more keen merchandising organization does not exist. John D. was always "pressing" for sales. He followed the law of supply and demand with rapier-like swiftness.

Mr. Crerar failed as a salesman when the pinch of competition hit the pool's wheat supply. Mackenzie King took him into the Government possibly because he was a better desk man than a business man. Mr. King admires the Debater as being above the man who does things.

Let the Wheat Pool get busy and sell wheat. They do not understand.

We have an advertising monopoly in the Eastern Townships, but none of our staff sit still waiting for offers. They get out and turn hand-springs for our customers—always trying to help. That's the way.

FOLLIES OF THE OLDEN DAYS.

Perhaps the Trent Valley Canal of sad memory at Ottawa was one of the greatest buncos games ever put over the people on a government ownership basis. It's an old, old story. So old that few people remember it.

Some ambitious engineers conceived the idea of a lifetime job by having a waterway from Georgian Bay to Trenton Town, coming up the Severn River in Simcoe County, across country to the Trent River Valley and down the Trent River to Lake Ontario.

The promoters were as canny as the self-made engineer who thinks some minor falls or rapids would give a vast power development.

Delegations from the House of Commons were escorted by rail up along and through the towns and villages.

In May and June they were shown the great bodies of water, the potential waterways and the thriving towns which awaited the test of prosperity which would come to them through a canal.

May and June are the freshest months of the year in the Highlands of Ontario, and the wily promoters invited the M. P.'s only when the waters were at their highest levels.

What are shoals and shallows in the summer to the thoughtless delegations of members, in and fall did appear to be little Niagara rivers in the melting springtime.

They voted millions of dollars to the Trent Valley Canal in response to the call of the wily promoters and diggers.

Once or twice a week a tourist launch will whistle at a lock or at the lift-lock at Peterboro which cost about a million dollars.

This canal was built back in the 'seventies and 'eighties. But our governments have done so many foolish things since that we forget that we are still paying taxes for the follies of the olden days.

Vide the St. Lawrence waterways

TAXIS AND STREET CARS.

Taxis at twenty-five cents reminds one of the olden days when one could ride in an old-fashioned cabriolet in Montreal for twenty-five cents, or in a "caleche" in Quebec for the same quarter dollar. But the Quebec driver would always expropriate on the quarter dollar if it were not accompanied by a tip. The old cabs of Montreal could no longer exist were it not for the exclusive privilege of going up the drives of Mount Royal.

The twenty-five cent taxi must be a losing venture, and the editor usually draws a dud—an unkempt and poorly kept taxi. It's surely a below-cost drive. And the service is deteriorating just as does all below-cost ventures.

Of course one usually "tips" the chauffeur, from fifteen cents to the amount the owner of the taxi gets, but if the taxi organizations persist in their warfare we will soon have taxis as unkempt as the old cabs and spirited horses which one sees around Dominion Square in Montreal—the dodos of a disappearing bird.

A fifty-cent taxi and a ten-cent tip would preserve our sense of self-respect, for car-owners know the cost of upkeep calls for better than a twenty-five cent fare from the hills to the levels below.

I wonder if the Street Railway Company with their minimum fare of seven and a half cents would not also increase our travel comfort with thirteen-for-a-dollar tickets. Also paint up their cars and look happy and inviting. I'm happier talking about Street cars. They are the poor editor's limit.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

Miss Agnes MacPhail has had her name added to the House of Commons Committee on the Restaurant, which has been showing an annual deficit of $30,000, even at the cost of a dollar per plate. Aggie can now show the members and their friends some real home-cooking.

That happily the days of the hard-pressed country weekly are past, with good shrewd business executives at their head was emphasized by Lord Atholstan, host of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association during a recent meeting. In their earlier beginnings, in the 'eighties, the chief currency for subscriptions was cordwood, potatoes and pumpkins.

For its size and population the City of Sherbrooke has a good street car service, but we would suggest that General Manager Couture give his cars a more cheerful coat of paint. Some bright and cheery color such as a creamy yellow would make the cars more alluring than the gloomy dark shades now in vogue. The mournful appearance of the cars made the new editor conclude that we had a municipal car service in this city.

EVENING CHIRPINGS

Wild oats seem to sprout earlier if a little corn is put down first.

Hard times are those during which big business men talk about the bright outlook.

The very rich make friends with celebrities because they enjoy meeting somebody who doesn't want anything.

The oldest cars are useful. Pick up one for $25 and the new-car dealer will allow you $250 in a trade.

Never yet has a man calmly committed any crime, except murder, when he knew beyond doubt he would be punished.

There are numerous indications of absent-mindedness, but the man's failure to enclose the check he mentions isn't one of them.

A hick town is a place where the merchants won't spend money to boost their community unless a stranger asks for it.

Maybe it was a mistake to make Byrd an admiral. So many men freeze up when they get promoted.

A law is much like a doctor. The better it works, the less it has to do.

An educated man is one who knows that a college degree is just a label on a bottle that may be empty.

If you must vilify, or condemn, or despise, just with you condemn yourself.

Alas! Those who sit at the head of the table to seem important seem just as unimportant when they get there.

The critic who says all modern women are vile merely confesses that he hasn't the privilege of associating with the other kind.

Correct this sentence: "I never suggest that we see a movie," said the wife, "unless I think Tom will enjoy it as much as I will."

PRESS COMMENT

THERE'S A CATCH IN IT.

There is big money in Wall Street for any one who knows how to play the market, and Beethoven's sonatas are on any piano if you just happen to hit the right notes.

WHERE ROAMED THE PERISSODACTYL.
Sixty or seventy thousand years ago the graceful rhinoceros roamed along the banks of the ancient rivers of what is now known as the sovereign State of Nebraska. In the period that has elapsed since then, great changes have taken place, and it is quite unnecessary to add that the rhinoceros is not to be found today running wild over the plains of this great area.

Nobody has any definite information as to how the rhinoceros happened to be in Nebraska so many thousands of years ago. But it appears to be a fact that this pudgy animal, generally associated with the jungles of Africa, did at one time enjoy the favorable climatic conditions and the succulent herbage which manifested themselves under a more torrid sun than beats down upon the Nebraska of today.

Whether the rhinoceros got into the western part of the United States from Asia, or whether it was indigenous to the soil, so to speak, and spread to other continents through avenues not now extant, to become the progenitor of the rhinoceros of the present era, is neither here nor there. It is sufficient to say that this phlegmatic perissodactyl was in Nebraska, and the Harvard University Museum of Comparative Zoology "has the goods to prove it." In a great fossilized slab of rock, obtained at Agate Spring and just being exhibited, is a collection of bones, duly certified by authorities as those of a rhinoceros, to bear witness that parts of North America and at least Nebraska were once the habitat of animals long since restricted to areas on the other side of the world.

PROTECTION FOR FARMERS NECESSARY

To the Editor,
Sir:—As I picked up the Record of March 6th, what caught my attention first was the headline, "Farmers Are Not Meeting Requirements." Mr. L. W. Pearshall, head of Dominion hog trading, told members of the Agriculture Commission of Ontario that carloads of pork from the United States are being shipped and sold there daily. He also said that Canadian farmers must get down to brass tacks if the situation is to be relieved.

Now permit me to say that the farmers of Canada are not only down to brass tacks, but we have been kneeling on them for some time and the points are up. Why, in a country like Canada, are we short of pork or butter for domestic requirements? Simply because there is no encouragement for the farmer to keep cows or raise pork, and only get enough to pay the cost of feed or a little more.

As soon as the market looks a little better and prices start coming up a little what happens? New Zealand butter commences to arrive at Halifax and Vancouver by the tens of millions of pounds and U.S. pork by the carloads daily to be sold in Canada. Now, do you see much encouragement for the farmer to produce at his best? It is no wonder we see abandoned farms everywhere. For example, within three miles of where I live there are seven farms that thirty years ago were carrying over one hundred cows and sending their milk to a cheese factory. Today there is just one cow on those seven farms.

Give the farmers' markets a reasonable amount of protection and we will supply all the butter and pork that Canada needs and then some.

I thank you, Mr. Editor, for space in your progressive paper.

BE A GOOD SPORT

To the Editor,
Sir:—I wish to draw the attention of Quebec sportsmen to an agitation promoted by certain so-called sportsmen to have the recently-enacted law forbidding the hunting of deer with dogs repealed.

The arguments put forth are both many and varied, and some laughable. Among others are that the (sport?) has been spoiled for these (sportsmen?) as they no longer hear the baying of the hounds.

Let me say that nine out of ten hounds (the best ones) bay very little and are practically silent.

The best deer dog ever used in this section was only part hound and never bayed, giving only a short bark once in a while.

Let me suggest that these gentlemen get a good old-fashioned fox-hound and take him out some frosty morning and they will get more music in ten minutes than in a whole day from any deer hound I ever heard.

Perhaps these gentlemen can tell me wherein lies the thrill of waiting on the shore of some small lake or pond until the deer is driven into the water, and then row or use an outboard motor to get within a few feet of the terrified animal and kill it?

Let me suggest they apply for a job in some of our larger slaughter-houses. They would be more in their element.

I could cite numerous occasions when fifteen or twenty men and a dozen dogs were used. Every pond or lake and all runways on logging roads and main roads were covered with one or more hunters.

I would suggest that every sportsman in Quebec write to the provincial members or to the Hon. Hector LeFevre asking to have the law stand as it is.

Do not think I am against deer hunting where the deer are given a sporting chance. I am as ardent a hunter as can be found and love the sport, but I am against wholesale slaughter as practiced by those who are asking for the repeal of this law.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

To the Editor,
Sir:—An industry, to a city or any community if perfectly managed, is a form of economic wealth and an asset with great potentialities.

On the other hand, if any such industry is carried by the municipality itself to the exclusion of private concerns, its potential worth is materially decreased by reason that its activities are practically confined to the limits of that particular municipality.

Industry means much to a community that has ambitions. They pay direct taxes and indirect taxes through their employees, who in turn deal with local merchants and thus trade is established and we support our schools, build roads, waterworks, sewers, etc.

Sherbrooke is dabbling with two mighty industries, the generation and distribution of power and the building game, but whether or not to the advantage of the municipality is open to question.

During the past ten or twelve years in Sherbrooke there has been practically no expansion. The city develops its own power, has no taxes to pay and yet evidently cannot compete with a private company which has during the same period interested industry capitalized at fifty million dollars and located them in nearby communities.

For Sherbrooke to maintain that she had not the power to sell, during that period is admitting that municipal ownership has failed. With but a tenth of those industries located in Sherbrooke our population would be nearer forty than thirty thousand.

Unfortunately oilies play a considerable part in municipal affairs. Hence appointments are sometimes given to parties totally unfitted for them, whereas with a private company a member of the staff fails to produce, they are replaced at the earliest possible moment.

A private company uses its profits to develop the business. A municipality has to use the profits from one department to bolster the showing of a less successful department, or else to make the budget more presentable as a whole. On the other hand, if such profits had been devoted to advertising and the bringing in of new industries, the direct benefit to the municipality would be much greater, and in the end even the best vote catcher.

In a pamphlet recently published by a local engineer great stress was placed on the comparative low cost of construction of the city's various hydro-electric plants. Yet many of us are quite sure that an even better showing might have been made had the work been placed in the hands of a regular building contractor. To compare the cost of the development of Sherbrooke's power sites with those of other companies is somewhat misleading. The ratio of cost is governed by head, length and height of dams and spillways and accessibility, together with the condition of the site and extent of flood damages. All Sherbrooke's power sites are comparatively small and near to sources of transportation, materials and labor.

Many of us remember the report of the first paving job carried out by the city. The Alderman Forest of that time blew a terrific blast on his trumpet to the effect that the work had been done for seven or eight thousand dollars less than the lowest tender. He then gave a tiny toot to the effect that there was an additional charge of eighty-seven thousand dollars for machinery, or, in other words, the first city paving job cost the rate payers some $70,000 more than the lowest tender, which, incidentally, was from a very responsible contractor.

How much did the Westbury power construction cost, taking into consideration new machinery, rent and depreciation of machinery procured from other city departments, and depreciation of surplus machinery, losses on sale of used machinery? Unless construction machinery be continuously employed it becomes an economic loss. A municipality has no possible chance of continuing the use of considerable part of the machinery that would be required for a power plant construction job, hence it should leave construction jobs to those engaged in that profession.

The above is no reflection on the classes of work that has been done. Sherbrooke has good cause to be proud of her streets and sidewalks such as have been paved. Such work is essentially up to the municipality in that it keeps machines and help continuously engaged, whereas for repairs only such would not always be the case.

Personally (with thirty years at the building game) I have yet to come across a day-work job that panned out anywhere near as favorably as the lowest responsible tender submitted.

Unfortunately Sherbrooke's power situation is none too good. The reserve of power is none too high, and if trouble developed in her largest plant, the city might be in a quite serious position. More power is needed and there are no power sites available. Which means that at some time in the future the city must sell out or come to a working agreement with a private company, which ultimately would amount to the same thing.

Mr. Crepeau suggests that the Southern Canada Power Company and its subsidiaries within the city be expropriated, almost hinting that it could be obtained for a nominal sum. The S.C.P. was a valuable plant and I am of the opinion that any by-law submitted to the ratepayers which included the acquisition and operation of the street railway would be overwhelmingly defeated. By the same token a by-law to acquire the power and abandon the railway would suffer in like manner. Sherbrooke does not want to own and operate the street railway, neither does she want to be without it.

As to comparative costs of domestic lighting, the Sherbrooke rate has been at 5.4 cents for about ten years, while private companies are reducing their rates all the time. Many customers of the Southern Canada Power Company are doing better than five cents per K.W.H. at the present time and are getting seven per cent regularly on their investments with the company.

Mr. Crepeau says that the city could sell her hydro-electric business, meet all her obligations and have a substantial balance. In my opinion, in view of the shortage of power and the fact that there are no power sites available, also to the city's lack of the knack of interesting industries to any marked extent, to sell out would be very wise. The extra funds could go toward the cost of another bridge connecting the north and east wards, say from Court street, relieving Wellington street of much excess non-profitable traffic. Where traffic goes, values grow.

However, it's all in the point of view, and whether criticism be constructive or otherwise the ballot box is as a rule the deciding factor.

FRELIGHTSBURG

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held at the residence of Mrs. L. H. Sonberger, on February 26th, with a good attendance. The meeting was opened with prayer and the monthly litany by the president, Mrs. Whitcomb. The secretary called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting. The W.A. constitution was read the minutes of the previous branch being required to read this once during the year. It was much regretted that no delegates from this branch attended the annual meeting in Montreal, but Mrs. Houghton, Mrs. B. A. McCrum and Miss Stote, life members, were representatives and a report was read by the latter, telling of the inspiring service in the cathedral at which Canon Shatford delivered a soul-stirring sermon and at which there were 380 communicants. The convention was held in the hall of the Church of St. James the Apostle, and the addresses were, if anything, more interesting than usual. Mrs. Homer Ingalls moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Stote for her report. Very delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Whitcomb and Mrs. E. M. Shepard. A very complete outfit of clothing and bedding was packed and sent for Laurence Brant, an Indian boy, at Sault Ste. Marie.

FOLLOWING DIRECTIONS
The owner of the place was amazed to find one of his new workmen walking along one hot day all bundled up in clothing.
"Why on earth are you wearing so many clothes, Pat?"
"Oh I have to paint this fence and the label on the can says—it says, 'To obtain best results put on at least three coats.'"

Rosy Cheeks for indoor days

Crisp cold air brings a touch of color to every one, but it soon passes unless good health keeps it there. Shredded Wheat is an ideal indoor-weather food. It contains the mineral salts that make healthy red blood and the bran that promotes regular habit even though exercise is restricted. Plenty of nourishment—and easily digested too. Eat Shredded Wheat every morning—a biscuit or two with hot milk for a delicious, vitalizing breakfast.

NO FOUNDATION TO RUMOR, SAYS MAYOR OF CITY

Rumor that Eastern Canada Silk Corporation Intends Establishing Broadloom Plant Elsewhere Has No Foundation, According to Mayor Tetreault.

"There is no foundation whatever to the rumor circulating in the city at the present time that the Eastern Canada Silk Corporation officials have decided to establish their broadloom plant elsewhere," said Mayor J. S. Tetreault in reply to a question in this connection by the Record this morning. Chairman R. Langis, chairman of the Finance Committee, is also of this opinion.

During the past few days a rumor has been fast gaining ground that the plans for the establishment of a broadloom silk industry here by the Eastern Canada Silk Corporation in the north end of the city had fallen through. The rumor did not state where the plant would be established, outside of a vague understanding that it would be in Ontario.

There is absolutely nothing whatever to this rumor, however, according to Mayor Tetreault who, in his capacity as mayor as well as the city's Chief Magistrate, has had close touch with the officials of the concern, and he expressed the opinion that the erection of the plant would commence in the spring as previously planned.

Alderman R. Langis, chairman of the Finance Committee of the city, who is also in touch with the industry, stated this morning that as far as he was aware there was no foundation to the rumor. If the concern had intended establishing elsewhere, Mr. Langis pointed out, they would not have purchased a large block of land in the northern part of the city and made extensive plans for the erection of a plant.

Local Concern

ed product was increased. His firm employed 200 hands.

Mr. Chamberlain, of Farnham, Que., who is just starting a branch of a United States concern, employing between three and four thousand hands, said they expected to commence with about 200 employees at Farnham, and a corresponding duty would have to be imposed on finished goods if the duty on worsted yarns were restored.

The chairman—You have come to Canada believing that with "free" yarns you can compete in the Canadian market for cloth?

Mr. Chamberlain—Yes.

He added that they proposed to make plushes for automobiles and furniture.

Mr. T. W. Prestwich, of the Paton Manufacturing Co., Sherbrooke, Que., employing 275 persons under normal conditions, was in a somewhat different position in that his company was both spinners and weavers. He said 150 of their employees are "walking the streets" and looking for work elsewhere because we are obliged to buy imported yarns which we have to do to meet competition. He said they had 120 looms of which 35 were idle, and eight were running on imported yarns. They also had 6,000 spindles with 1,600 operating. One week they were busy and another week idle. They were spinning yarns for cloth purposes only. The picture was changing every day.

The chairman—The employees who were walking the street when you left Sherbrooke may all be back at work today. (Laughter.)

Mr. Hayes, of the Barrymore Cloth Company, Toronto, said they had 2,000 employees, 600 of whom were in the cloth mill. They had 6,000 spindles.

Mr. Peniston, of St. Johns, Que., opposed the application on the ground that they could not find a yarn in Canada which was suitable for the triclotins, poire twills, gabardines and fine tweeds they manufacture. They had five mills in France and one in Belgium, and imported their yarns from France and England.

Mr. Prestwich observed that "those who spin want fine yarn. Every pound you buy in England displaces Canadian labor. Our spinning machinery stands idle and the overhead has to be charged against something."

Mr. Dick, for the Association commented there was a difference of opinion among Canadian manufacturers who were members of the Knit Goods and Woollen Association, according to whether they did their own spinning or not. Canadian manufacturers who had their own spinning mills were the Paton Manufacturing Company of Sherbrooke, the Rosamond Woollen Mills, Almonte, Ont., the Dominion Woollen and Worsted Company, Hespeler, Ont., and the Barrymore Cloth Company, Toronto.

Mr. Douglas, of the Dupont Textiles Ltd., Toronto, manufacturers of men's suitings, said the average number of their looms running was 40 per cent of the total day time production of 1927, 60 per cent in 1928, 90 per cent in 1929, and in the last six months, September to February, 131 per cent owing to overtime.

SEAGULLS WENT ON SPREE
BALTIMORE, Md., March 13.—A flock of seagulls went on a spree when prohibition agents poured 1,200 gallons of corn whiskey into the harbor off old Fort McHenry, part of which is used for the storage of seized liquors until destroyed. The broad-winged birds were in such high spirits that they circled, nose dived and did tail spins.

Social and Personal

Captain F. G. M. Sparkes, of Flying and Service Ltd., Montreal, late of the London Flying Club, London, England, and of the Montreal Light Aeroplane Club, spent the week-end in Sherbrooke the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. McCrea, Victoria Street.

The Sherbrooke Ladies' Curling Club tea on Tuesday afternoon was well attended. Owing to the mild weather there was no ice, but the social event was much enjoyed by the members. The hostesses were Mrs. G. H. Serafield, the Misses K. Pales, S. Hall, M. McIver and E. Hall. Mrs. H. Ingram presided at the pretty tea table done with red tulips and narcissi in a silver basket and yellow candles in silver holders.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church was held yesterday afternoon in the church hall, with a large attendance of members. A short business meeting took place, followed by a social afternoon, when Mrs. E. D. Metcalfe and Mrs. E. Gilson were the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. C. Ross. The tea table was prettily decorated with spring flowers in a silver basket and blue tapers in silver holders, and tea was poured by Mrs. J. Corneer.

Lovers of music will be delighted to hear that "The Orpheus Concert Company" intends to give a concert under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Church on April 2nd. The following artists will take part: Miss Della Wilkie, soprano; Miss Patricia Watson, pianist; Mr. Wm. A. Watson, tenor; and Mr. J. G. Watson, baritone. The programme will consist of vocal solos, duets, trios, musical sketches and piano solos. The concert will be held in St. Andrew's Church Hall.

The members of the Young Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Trinity United Church were entertained last evening by Miss Lou Farnsworth at the home of the Misses Mitchell, High street. The meeting opened in the usual manner, with the president, Miss Kathleen Hyndman, presiding. Missionary leaflets were read by members of the society, and Miss Van Vliet read a very interesting letter from Dr. Florence E. Murray, a missionary in Korea. At the close of a social half hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. B. Grimes entertained the members of the Union Sewing Circle last evening at the home of Mrs. F. Cutler, King street west. The evening was spent in sewing, and a parcel of clothing was sent out. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. G. Conley. There was a very good attendance of members and a very pleasant evening was spent. The hostess served refreshments, assisted by Miss Eunice Cutler. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Kilen, King street west.

A very successful and enjoyable salad tea was given yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. Hadlock, Clough avenue, Lennoxville, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Baptist Church. The many guests were cordially received by Mrs. Hadlock and Mrs. McVie, after being admitted by Miss Jean McVie, who opened the door. The hostesses for the tea were Mrs. J. Byrd, Mrs. W. McVie and Mrs. G. Hadlock, who were assisted by Mrs. W. Hopkins, the Misses M. Milford, N. Holgate, L. Webster, G. Hambleton and M. Blair. Mrs. Milford and Mrs. Byrd presided at the tea table, which was lovely with spring flowers in a silver basket and yellow candles in silver holders. The small tables were also decorated with flowers.

Members of the Ladies' Aid appreciate much the kindness of Mrs. Radlock in opening her home and for her invaluable assistance in carrying out the arrangements for the successful entertainment.

The March meeting of the Sherbrooke Gaelic Society was held last evening with the largest attendance of members and visitors in its history. The president, Mr. T. C. Thompson, presided, and the meeting was opened by the singing of the National Anthem. After the business meeting, a splendid programme of vocal and instrumental music was rendered as follows: piano solo by Mrs. Cooper, with accompaniment on trap by Mr. Donald Kilgour; Gaelic chorus, Mo Dhachaidh, by members of the Society led by Mr. D. M. MacAulay; vocal duet, "The Crookit Bawbe," by Mrs. Thompson and Mr. Dick; Gaelic song, "Sua leis a Ghaidhlig," by Mrs. Murray; song, "Mr. John MacKie," by Mr. Dick; Irish story by Mr. Jupplesia; song, "Mother Macree," by Mr. MacKie; and Gaelic and English songs by Mr. Angus Johnston. Mr. Leonard, K.C., was present and delivered a very interesting and inspiring address, in which he spoke of the worth of the Society in bringing together the Gaelic and Gaelic in English and vicinity. He hoped the Society would soon become the largest and most useful of its kind in this city. Mr. Leonard thought the secretary should write and read the minutes in the beautiful Gaelic language, also that the Society should inaugurate a membership campaign, as there are many Scottish people in the city who are not members of any Scottish society. Mr. Leonard also presented to the Society a short history of the northeast portion of Scotland, written by himself, and in which the story of the first settlers is told, showing the hardships suffered by the pioneers of that district in the first years of the settlements. The hostesses for the evening, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Norton, served delicious refreshments, after which a short time was spent in dancing and social intercourse, the meeting being brought to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. M. W. Wilson has returned from Saranac Lake and is now at his home on London street.

The hostesses for the Sherbrooke Regiment Badminton Club tea on Saturday afternoon will be Mrs. M. W. McNulty, Mrs. Charles Wolff, the Misses E. Van Roden, Leslie, Pales and Ruth Genze.

The C.G.I.T. of St. Andrew's Church met last evening in the church hall. After the usual devotional exercises, the members were busily occupied in sewing on their quilt. At the same time those who were not working carried on a riddle discussion, which passed the time in an amusing manner. The evening closed with "taps."

The regular weekly meeting of the Hi-Y Club will be held on Friday evening, March 14th, at 6:15 o'clock when the guest and speaker will be Mr. G. D. Wadsworth, assistant manager of the Quebec Central Railway. Mr. Wadsworth's subject will be the "Pathway to Success."

COWANSVILLE MAN WINS THE I.O.D.E. CAR
Mr. C. H. Nye, of Cowansville, was the holder of ticket number 344 F, which was the number drawn by Pro-Mayor Forest at the Premier Theatre last evening in connection with the contest put on in aid of tubercular welfare under the auspices of the I.O.D.E., Duke of Wellington Chapter, Sherbrooke. Mr. Nye thus wins the Chevrolet coach which is given to the holder of the lucky number.

MAYOR AND SECRETARY RETURN FROM QUEBEC
Mayor J. S. Tetreault and Mr. Ant. Deslauriers, City Secretary, have returned from Quebec City, where they represented the City in connection with the protest made by the Union of Municipalities of the Province of Quebec.

This protest was against the proposed bill introduced before the Quebec House by Mr. Peter Bercovich, which would have prevented the various municipalities of the Province from taxing the poles, lines and equipment of power companies.

REAL PURPOSE OF VETERANS' BILL OUTLINED

Would Provide for Burnt-Out and Prematurely Aged Men Now Dependent on Charity.

OTTAWA, March 13.—Judging from press comments and reports, there is a great deal of misunderstanding regarding the intent and purpose of the war veterans' allowance bill, which has been referred to the parliamentary committee on veterans' problems," said Lieut.-Col. L. R. LaFleche, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, in an interview.

"There is a belief in some quarters," said Col. LaFleche, "that this bill is intended to amend or revise the Pension Act. This is not the case. It is an entirely separate measure and, instead of having anything to do with the Pension Act, it is intended to take care of those war veterans who cannot qualify for disability pension, and therefore cannot come within the scope of the Pension Act."

"The proposals of the Canadian Legion for amendments to the Pension Act, formulated at Regina last fall, have not yet been brought forward, and we will have several important recommendations to make in this respect when the parliamentary committee meets. But they will be entirely apart from the bill providing for burnt-out and prematurely aged men which the Legion is prepared to support in principle before this committee."

"I make this statement," said Col. LaFleche, "in order to clear away the misunderstanding that has arisen to the effect that no other remedial measures for war veterans were to be considered. The bill, I might add, should be welcomed by municipal and charitable organizations, since it will remove the burnt-out veterans and their families from the class of people requiring charitable assistance."

MARRIAGES

AUTHIER—BREAULT
ADAMSVILLE, Que., March 13.—A very pretty marriage ceremony was performed in the Roman Catholic Church on March 4th by Rev. E. Lagace, the contracting parties being Miss M. H. Breault, of Sherbrooke, and Mr. A. R. Authier, of Granby. Mr. P. Gagnon, of Lennoxville, acted as witness for the bride, and Mr. A. Authier as witness for the groom. After the ceremony the bridal party accompanied by relatives and friends, returned to the home of the groom's parents, where the guests took part in the festival.

The evening was spent in dancing. Many presents were given to the bride, including a cheque from the groom's father, cut glass, china, linen and many other useful gifts, which testified to the esteem in which the young couple were held. On Wednesday the newly-married couple returned to Martinville, where they will reside.

MORRISON—CURTIS
STANSTEAD, Que., March 13.—The marriage of Miss Vera Marjorie Curtis, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Curtis, of Stanstead, Que., to Mr. Robert Hugh Morrison, of Brownsburg, Que., was solemnized at Church of St. John, of Stanstead, on March 13th, at 10 a.m. by the Rev. William DeGruchy.

The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by the youthful but efficient organist, Mr. Gordon Shipway, while the bride came in on the arm of her father, who gave her away. Both bride and groom were unattended. It was very quiet because of recent bereavement in the family of the groom. During the ceremony "O Perfect Love" was sung very sweetly by Mrs. Boucher and Mrs. Bachelor.

After the ceremony, the few relatives with the officiating clergyman repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison left by train for Montreal, where they spent a brief honeymoon before returning to their home in Brownsburg, Que.

PICK—SCOTT
MONTREAL, March 13.—The marriage of Dorothy Edna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Scott, to Mr. Ralph H. Pick, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pick, of Westmont, took place on Friday, March 7th, at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, the Rev. Canon Davison, officiating. Spring flowers and palms decorated the church. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin fashioned in princess lines with a fitting bodice and long sleeves trimmed with Honiton lace, the skirt inset with panels in front reaching to ankle length, the long train falling from the waist line at the back. Her veil of tulle was worn in cape effect, with a coronet of Honiton lace held in place at the back with a semi-circle of orange blossoms. Her slippers were of white satin and her shower bouquet was composed of opelia roses and lilies of the valley. She wore a platinum wrist watch, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Kathleen Scott, sister of the bride acted as maid of honor, while Miss Dorothy Ewing acted as bridesmaid. They were gownned alike in shades of dahlia and peach colored georgette, the fitted bodice having long sleeves, and the skirts made with an orange blossom. They wore baki hats of a shade similar to their frocks with matching velvet, satin slippers of the same color and carried arm bouquets of the same shade. The best man was Mr. Murray Ross and the ushers, Mr. McAteer and Mr. Charles Pick, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Scott, the bride's mother, was gownned in dahlia fish net, with a black panama hat and a coronet of orange blossoms.

BETHLEHEM-YOUNGSTOWN MERGER IS APPROVED

Plan to Launch $1,000,000,000 Concern — Shareholders to Hold Meeting on April 8.

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 13.—Plans for the acquisition by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Corporation of Youngstown, Ohio, thereby forming a $1,000,000,000 concern, were approved by the directors of both companies yesterday.

The agreement, under which Bethlehem would exchange one and one-third of its common shares for each share of Youngstown common stock, is subject to the approval of the latter's shareholders at a meeting called for April 8th. Ratification of the plan requires two-thirds vote.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW YORK BUYS SOVIET OIL

Contract to Purchase One Million Tons of Refined Petroleum Products for $25,000,000 Reported.

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 13.—The New York Times today says that Russian oil has brought the Standard Oil Company of New York into conflict again with the Royal Dutch Shell interests.

The former company is reported to have made a new contract to purchase one million tons of refined petroleum products from the Soviet Naphtha Syndicate. The contract is said to cover about five years and to involve a total of $25,000,000.

sage bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Pick, another of the bridegroom were navy blue georgette with a hat of black baki and a corsage bouquet of red roses.

The wedding reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, six Vendome Avenue, where the decorations consisted of tulips, daffodils and ferns. Later the bride and bridegroom left for their wedding trip, the former travelling in a muskrat coat, worn over a gown of brown crepe with a brown felt hat, kid shoes of the same shade and carried a bag to match.

YOUNG PLAN APPROVED YESTERDAY BY REICHSTAG

Commits Germany to Reparations Annuities to Year 1988.

BERLIN, March 12.—By a vote of 270 to 132 the Reichstag set the seal of definite approval on the Young plan, which commits Germany to reparations annuities down to the year 1988. The new plan, which was drafted by international experts at Paris last year, and approved by Germany and the various creditor powers at The Hague last January, replaces the Dawes plan, which became effective January 9, 1924, and is made retroactive beginning January 9th, 1920.

The final adoption of Germany's new reparations commitments was definitely forecast in Tuesday's vote on its second reading by the Reichstag, when it was approved by a vote of 268 to 174.

The separate debt refunding agreement between Germany and the United States was also given final approved yesterday without recourse to a roll call.

GAELIC EXAMINATIONS ARE TAKEN BY TWO APPLICANTS

Catherine McLeod and Edith Ferguson Take Cameron Scholarship Tests at Queen's University.

KINGSTON, Ont., March 13.—Two applicants for the Cameron Scholarship for proficiency in Gaelic yesterday tried three hour examinations. The scholarship has gone begging at Queen's University for the past five years, a fact that has caused sorrow to those who cherish the Scottish traditions peculiar to Queen's. Catherine McLeod and Edith Ferguson, both of Maxville, Ontario, were candidates for examination. Most of the text was oral and the examiners were Dean Matheson, Dr. MacGillivray and Professor MacPhail. No results have been issued to date, but it is understood that the standard attained was sufficiently high for an award to be made.

WOMAN BROKER WAS FOUND GUILTY OF GRAND LARCENY

Miss Margaret E. McCann, First Woman to Enter Brokerage Business in Wall Street, Remanded to Harlem Prison Pending Sentence on March 19.

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 12.—Miss Margaret E. McCann, the first woman to enter the brokerage business in Wall Street, was found guilty last night by a jury on one of five grand larceny indictments returned against her in 1928 in the $450,000 failure of her firm.

She was remanded to the Harlem prison for women pending sentence on March 19th.

AIR MAIL PILOT NARROWLY ESCAPED DEATH IN LANDING

Pilot Farrell's Huge Fokker Plane Turned Turtle When He Was Forced Down.

REGINA, Sask., March 13.—Pilot Farrell narrowly missed death at the Regina Municipal Air Field yesterday when his huge Fokker F-14 turned turtle. A sharp cross wind struck him as he was landing after an unsuccessful attempt to fly the mails to Saskatoon and Edmonton.

Farrell escaped injury because the high monoplane wing and the rudder kept the fuselage some two feet off the ground, enabling him to slip from under unscathed. The plane was damaged considerably. Farrell had taken off in a sixty-five mile an hour wind, and after battling half an hour, was forced to return to the Regina field in a snow storm.

TWO KILLED WHEN STAGING BROKE

NORTH YARMOUTH, Maine, March 13.—Two workmen were killed and four others injured, one seriously, last yesterday as a portion of a carpenter's staging on the first parish Congregational Church here broke and plunged them twenty-five feet to the ground.

EMANCIPATION OF WOMEN WILL CHANGE HOMES

French Writer Predicts Time When Woman Will Be Supreme at Home and Man's Economic Equal.

PARIS, March 13.—The overthrow of the dictatorship of man, and a new social system in which woman will be supreme in the home and man's economic equal is foreseen by Lucien Romier, a noted French editor, whose book, "Woman's Promotion," is causing much discussion throughout Europe.

"Man's authority, it is easy to observe, throughout the world is on the decline," said M. Romier, defending his contentions. "On the other hand, woman is progressing at such a tremendous rate that the old social system has been upset. Woman's emancipation has been so rapid, in fact, that it has been difficult for her to find the equilibrium, and she will have to create for herself an entirely new situation."

M. Romier pointed out that woman already has attained legal equality with man in a large part of the world and everywhere is swiftly realizing her independence. The revision of the economic situation will also raise the extremely difficult problem of marriage and the home, says M. Romier. Among educated women, sixty per cent are independent at present, he says. M. Romier does not believe, however, that woman, under the new social system, will entirely abandon her domestic profession, but on the contrary she must become supreme in the home.

PRODUCTION OF BREAD SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Annual Report States that Last Year in Canada Less Buns, Confectionery and Ice Cream Were Sold, But More Puddings, Pastries and Biscuits.

MONTREAL, March 13.—Report on the baking industry of Canada for the year 1928 was received here yesterday from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. It says in part:

In 1928 the number of establishments reporting was 2,482, with a total capital investment of $44,377,449, a total gross value of output or production of $71,227,097, and a total employment of 15,422.

In 1927 the number of establishments reporting was 2,443, with a total capital investment of $40,559,253, a total gross value of output of $68,726,262, and a total employment of 14,414.

The production of bread increased from 780,940,855 pounds worth $54,043,072 in 1927 to 874,059,302 pounds worth $54,948,637 in 1928, a decrease in the price of bread from 6.9 cents to 6.3 cents per pound. In the production of buns there was a decrease in value of $305,969, whilst puddings show an increase of $233,706, and pies, cakes and pastry $1,102,245. Biscuits, plain and fancy, made in baking establishments, increased from 340 tons worth $127,256 in 1927 to 377 tons valued at $139,577 in 1928, an increase in the quantity produced of 10.88 per cent and in value of 9.68 per cent. Confectionery made in baking establishments also shows a decrease in quantity and an increase in value of production, the former having fallen from 615,752 pounds in 1927 to 588,135 pounds in 1928, whilst the value rose from $143,598 in 1927 to $152,809 in 1928. Ice cream production shows a decrease of 27,471 gallons, or 40.1 per cent and a decrease in value of $26,783, or a little over 24.65 per cent. All other products rose from $264,291 in 1927 to $301,880 in 1928.

The per capita consumption of "bakers' bread" on an estimated population of 9,658,000 in 1928 was 91.0 pounds, as compared with 89.5 pounds in 1927.

TRADE MATTERS PLACED ON CONFERENCE AGENDA

Right Hon. J. H. Thomas States that Programme for Coming Meeting Is Now Being Prepared.

LONDON, March 13.—The agenda of the Imperial economic conference is now under consideration, and trade will be included, Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal, stated in the House of Commons.

He said he hoped the result would be of mutual benefit to the trade and employment of Great Britain and the Dominions. Mr. Thomas was replying to D. C. Somerville, Conservative, Wiltshire, who had asked whether in view of the reported intention to hold an Imperial economic conference in 1930, Mr. Thomas was preparing to submit to the conference specific proposals calculated to relieve unemployment in Great Britain.

WHARF DAMAGED AND STEAMSHIP SWEEPED BY FIRE

Loss Yesterday at New Orleans Estimated at One Million Dollars—At Time of Fire Wharf Was Heavily Stored With Ship's Cargo.

NEW ORLEANS, March 13.—The eleven hundred foot Mandeville Wharf, heavily stored with cargo of the Munson Steamship Line, was consumed by fire and the steamship Munaires of the same line was seriously damaged.

The fire marshal estimated the loss at approximately one million dollars. It started under the floor of the wharf, spreading rapidly through the stock of staves, lumber and coffee, sugar, and linseed oil. Shortly after the flames shot through the roof two loud explosions were heard, believed to be oil casks bursting. The Munaires, tied alongside the wharf, quickly caught fire and despite efforts of the crew and two fire tugs the flames spread over the ship.

Finally she was cut loose and towed across the river with smoke and fire rising from her. The tug put out the fire on deck but fought the flames in hold number one until well after dark.

Another ship, the Pacific, British owned, but under lease to the Munson Line, was cut loose before she was seriously damaged.

CLEVELAND

On March 2nd, there passed away after a few days illness at the home of his mother, Mrs. C. R. Stuart, in Richmond, Mr. Gordon Dyson who was formerly one of Cleveland's young men. His death was unexpected and came as a great shock to all his friends in this vicinity. The funeral was held at the home in Richmond, Tuesday morning, Rev. S. G. Brown officiating. Those who attended the funeral from Cleveland were: Mr. W. Steuart, Mrs. Stemp, Mr. and Mrs. Amiotte, Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith and Mr. T. Astell.

Mrs. R. Pease entertained the New London Ladies' Aid at her home on March 5th, and a good attendance was present. After the business was settled a social afternoon was spent. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Alta Pease. The meeting was brought to a close to meet in May with Miss Alma Healy.

The C.W.I. held their annual supper and social evening at the home of Mr. T. Astell on Friday evening last. The night was all one could wish for and a fine crowd sat down to the meal provided by the C.W.I. ladies. Then "500" was played at ten tables. Over sixteen dollars was added to the funds.

Several children in this vicinity are ill. Master Royce Taylor is improving after having pneumonia. Nurse O'Regan, of Richmond, is helping care for him and Master Evelyn Taylor is ill. Miss M. Wallace is confined to the house through illness and Miss Olive Perkins is also sick.

Miss Doris Healy is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Pashley, in Sherbrooke.

Miss Alta Pease is with her aunt, Mrs. Fred Taylor this week.

Mrs. Morey was called to Windsor Mills by the death of her husband's sister, Mrs. Morey, of Green-lay.

INSTITUTE AT SOUTH ROXTON HELD ANNUAL

New Officers Elected and Programme for Year Prepared at Annual Meeting of South Roston Women's Institute—Demonstration Given by Provincial Officer—General News from Vicinity.

SOUTH ROXTON, Que., March 13.—On March 13th, the annual meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Savage, seven members being in attendance. Mrs. N. B. Smith, the retiring president, was in the chair, and the meeting opened by the reading of the Club Women's Creed. The roll call response was "A One Minute Speech". The minutes of the preceding meeting were then read and also the secretary's financial report. The conveners of "Education," "Home Economics," "Legislation," "National Events" and "Fidelity," each then read their reports. Three other conveners were unable to attend the meeting. The secretary's annual report follows in part: During the past year fourteen members were enrolled, the average attendance was seven; twelve regular meetings were held as well as one evening meeting for business; two special meetings were held for lecture demonstrations, one in March 1929, was addressed by Miss McEwen, one in February, 1930, when the speaker was Miss McCain. The community hall was rented four times during the year, once for moving pictures, twice for lawn tennis and once for a chicken pie supper. Two community dinners were served in the hall last autumn for men who helped at the "bees" at the cemetery. Nine members attended the county executive annual meeting at Warden in May; six attended the semi-annual county meeting at North Shefford in September. An official delegate, in the person of Mrs. H. L. Doe, attended the Provincial Convention at Macdonald College in June. Seven public dances were held in the hall under the auspices of this club during the year. Prizes were awarded for attendance at the Roston Pond Consolidated School. An article was made for the O. V. I. exhibit at the C. N. E. by Mrs. N. H. Robinson, which was afterwards raffled. Fourteen subscriptions have been sent in for the new W. I. paper. Flowers were sent to two members in hospital and funeral sprays were sent for three departed friends. During the year the amount of $317.51 was taken into the treasury, and the total expenses for the year were $250.69, leaving a balance on hand of $66.82. The money was spent for provincial funds, fees, delegate's expenses, stationery, Women's Memorial Building fund, roof for hall, kitchen articles, piano tuning, prizes, printing programme, etc.

The election of officers then took place, Miss F. Marcotte, acting as scrutineer, and resulted as follows: president, Mrs. A. F. Sanborn; vice-president, Mrs. C. C. Savage; secretary, Mrs. N. B. Smith; treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Doe; re-elected, the conveners are as follows: agriculture, Mrs. H. L. Doe; Canadian industries, Miss E. Doe; child welfare, Mrs. H. Warnes; education, Mrs. N. B. Smith; home economics, Mrs. C. C. Savage; legislation, Mrs. F. Marcotte; national events, Mrs. J. E. Blampin; publicity, Mrs. N. H. Robinson. The official representative to the County annual meeting will be Miss F. Marcotte. The official representative appointed to attend the Provincial meeting at Macdonald College in June is Mrs. N. H. Robinson.

As one of the former members of the club, Mrs. Wm. Harkin is moving from this place it was decided to present her with a leather Boston Bag. After the meeting had been adjourned the hostess served tea.

On Saturday evening, March 8th, four members of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. A. F. Sanborn for the purpose of making the programme for the year's meetings. A copy follows: April 3rd, two o'clock p.m., at hall, Mrs. Sanborn, roll call, a "Provincial Current Event" paper, "Women's Influence on Men's Votes", by Miss F. Marcotte; reading of "Legislation" by Mrs. Savage; question box.

W. I. work during the past year, took up the subject "Publicity", which was a great help to the members. Following this, the superintendent lectured on "Canada's White Coal, Water Power", which was followed with much interest by all present, there being eleven members and nineteen visitors in attendance. The county president, Mrs. A. F. Sanborn, moved a hearty vote of thanks to Miss McCain, after which the meeting closed by singing "God Save the King". Refreshments were then served and all enjoyed a pleasant social hour.

General Notes
A St. Patrick's party will be held at the community hall on Friday evening, March 21st, for which a programme of games suitable to the occasion has been arranged. A good crowd is hoped for and all are as-

Substitute
cheese for meat
during Lent

Young and old can eat just as much Kraft Cheese as they like—for Kraft Cheese is a healthy food.

Kraft Cheese is Lenten meat

So wholesome everyone can eat it freely

YOU'LL never tire of Kraft Cheese.

For Kraft Cheese, in all its varieties, can be used in over a hundred different ways to prepare tempting dishes. It will add variety to your meals right through Lent.

No need now to spend hours and hours of thought and unnecessary worry over Lenten menus when Kraft Cheese will solve the problem of "meatless meals" for you.

Just try some of these suggestions:

For dinner tonight serve macaroni and cheese, baked golden brown.

... For tomorrow's luncheon give the children toast with bubbling melted cheese covering it.

... Use Kraft Grated to add zest to soups... try KAY as a filler for delightful sandwiches.

... Serve VELVEETA with strawberry jam to the children. Of course they'll like it!

And, contrary to general belief, Kraft Cheese is a healthy food... as digestible as milk itself.

You can give children all they want.

HIGH WON FAST CONTEST FROM COLLEGE BOYS

Sherbrooke Lads Just Managed to Nose Out a Victory in City Basketball League Fixture Last Night.

In one of the fastest and most exciting games played in the college gymnasium for some time, Sherbrooke High School basketball team defeated Bishop's College by the score of 24 to 23 in a regular City League fixture last night. Both teams played well, and, as the score indicates, there was not much choice between them, for the College's superiority in guarding and passing was offset by the High's better shooting. As a result of this game the two teams are in a deadlock for first position, each having lost one encounter to the other, and another game must be played to decide the winner of the series. Both these teams can put a smart aggregation on the floor, and which ever comes off victorious will have to put forward their best efforts.

The game started out at a fast clip, which was maintained all the way through, and some really good basketball was displayed by both sides, although Bishop's had a little advantage in the play during the first half. McCullough and McMorran, playing at guard for the College team, seemed to be the main obstacles which the High squad had to overcome, and this stalwart pair robbed the opposition of many certain points. For the visitors Dunsmore and Welsh were the best, they counting for most of their team's baskets between them, while Harper turned in a good game at guard. Robinson played in his usual effective style at centre for the College, and just missed winning the game by the split fraction of a second, the referee's whistle blowing for time as he shot what would have been the winning basket. Turner put in his appearance on the floor again for the College after a long absence due to a wrenched knee, but was somewhat handicapped by lack of practice.

Sherbrooke High started the ball rolling by scoring almost from the toss-up, but Robinson soon evened the count, and Bishop's forged into the lead. The High could not get in many shots from under the basket, due to the effective work of the College guards, and so resorted to long range shooting, at which they had considerable success. Both teams played a five man defence system, but the College combination seemed to work better, and they were able to get the ball in under the basket more often. The first period ended with Bishop's leading by fifteen to twelve.

In the second period Sherbrooke had better luck, and they started a rally which soon put them in the lead eighteen to eleven. This lead Bishop's never overcame, although they tied it twice. In the last few minutes play became quite rough, but referee Corfield kept the game well in hand. The game ended with Sherbrooke High leading by one point in a twenty-four to twenty-three score. A slight discussion arose after the game about allowing Robinson's last basket to count, but it was soon settled to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The line-up—
Bishop's: Robinson, centre; Dunsmore, forward; Welsh, guard; Fuller, ball; McMorran, guard; Harper, ball; McCullough, sub; Hogz, Mutchler; Finlay, sub; Bradley; McKay, Kneibitz; Turner, Robertson; Hobbs, Ross; Mitchell, Hall; Wallace, Hall.
Mr. Corfield, of Sherbrooke, refereed.

THIRD GAME IS NECESSARY TO SETTLE SERIES

M.A.A.A. and St. Francois Xavier Failed to Reach Decision After Thirty Minutes of Over-time Play.

TORONTO, March 13.—Six teams are still in the running for the right to represent eastern Canada in the Allan Cup final against the Western Canadian champion at Toronto on March 27th and 29th.

It was expected the Quebec champions would be decided in Montreal last night when St. Francois Xavier, intermediate title holders, clashed with Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, Senior champions, in the second of their two game series. The intermediates, however, again surprised by holding the much fancied M.A.A.A. sextette to a one-all draw after thirty minutes of overtime play. In the first contest the teams played to a scoreless tie, and a third game is now necessary to decide which team will meet Truro Bear Cats, Maritime champions.

At Toronto, Iroquois Falls, Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior representatives, threw a scare into the camp of Hamilton Tigers. The latter team, champions of the Ontario Hockey Association, by scoring with less than two minutes to go, managed to eke out a two to one victory over the Eskimos. The second game of their series will be played at Hamilton tonight and winner will clash with Shamrocks, Ottawa district champions on March 15th and 17th.

TRAIL TO REPRESENT BRITISH COLUMBIA
TRAIL, B. C., March 13.—Trail Smoke Eaters, champions of British Columbia, will journey to Saskatchewan in the next round of Allan Cup hockey play-downs.

Last night the Smoke Eaters eliminated the Blairmore Bears from the title race, the Trail repeating the score of Tuesday night, three to one, to take the round six to two.

The Smoke Eaters will now meet the Saskatoon Quakers, Saskatchewan champions.

THREE GAMES ON TONIGHT'S N.H.L. SCHEDULE
NEW YORK, March 13.—The youthful Ottawa Senators, wisely coached by "Newy" Lalonde have judged their pace perhaps better than any other National Hockey League team, and as a result have placed themselves among the most dangerous contenders in the approaching play-offs for the Stanley Cup and the world's championship.

After coasting through the middle of the season on a small squad while their rookies were gaining experience in the Canadian group, the Senators staged a late spurt that has given them a tie with the Canadiens for second place in the League's Canadian group. Tonight they meet the New York Americans in New York in the first half of a two game series that will end their regular season and decide whether they will finish second or third. Canadiens tackle the battered Pittsburgh Pirates at Montreal tonight and also close their season against the Americans.

The third game on tonight's schedule sends the Boston Bruins to Chicago for a game postponed from early in February.

SCHEDULE RE-ARRANGED
TORONTO, Ont., March 13.—Truro Bear Cats will play the Quebec provincial champions on Monday and Wednesday, March 17 and 19, at Montreal, in the Allan Cup play-downs. The new schedule was authorized today by W. A. Fry, of Dunnville, Ont., president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. The first game between the

ANOTHER TITLE WAS CAPTURED BY POWER TEAM

Southern Canada Defeated Stanstead Olympics for Industrial Championship of Eastern Townships by Wide Margin Last Night.

Playing in one to three inches of water at the Exhibition Arena last evening, the Southern Canada Power sextette, champions of the Sherbrooke Industrial Hockey League, administered a nice to two drubbing to the Stanstead Olympics, leaders of the Border Hockey League, in a "sudden death" game for the possession of the Dominion Life Cup, emblematic of the Industrial Championship of the Eastern Townships.

At no time did the boys from the Border town threaten the locals, the effects of the four hour journey by car to reach the game showing in the quality of the visitors' play, while the larger ice surface also played a part in their defeat.

The first stanza proved the most evenly contested of the night. Harris opened up the first counter in the opening minute when he tallied from a scramble in front of Coulombe, but during the remainder of the period the excellent work of Gagne and Gilmore, the Olympics defence, prevented any further counting by the Southern Canada squad.

In the second session the power team started on a scoring spree which lasted throughout the game, no less than four tallies being made in each of the succeeding stanzas, while the visitors had to be content with two goals. Harris proved the outstanding man on the ice, being responsible for no less than four of the additional counters, while Roly Lacasse tallied twice, and Perry and Pergau one each. Bolduc and Neveu countered for the visitors.

Prior to the game, Mr. John G. Watson presented the Watson Cup, emblematic of the championship of the Sherbrooke Industrial Hockey League, to Arthur Lacasse, captain of the Southern Canada squad.

Last night's game was late in starting, the Stanstead boys finding considerable difficulty in making the trip by car, four hours being taken to cover the thirty-three miles while a number of carloads of supporters, who started out with the team, gave up and returned home. The thaw of the past few days had its effect on the attendance, only about two hundred people turning out to witness the encounter.

The game was very clean, only three penalties being handed out by the referee, Romeo Langis, two going to the visitors and one to the Southern Canada.

The line-ups were:

Southern Canada	goal	Stanstead
Nichols	defence	Coulombe
A. Lacasse	defence	Gagne
Goff	defence	Gilmore
R. Lacasse	centre	MacMullan
Harris	wing	Neveu
Gordon	wing	Bolduc
Pergau	subs	Braut
Perry	subs	Smith
		Whiteman

teams was to have been played tomorrow night, but a change was necessitated by the fact that Montreal Amateur Athletic Association and St. Francois Xavier must play another game to decide the Quebec provincial title.

The new schedule of Allan Cup matches will allow the Eastern and Western winners to finish on the same date. The Eastern schedule follows:

First round: Monday, March 17, Maritimes vs. Quebec at Montreal, Wednesday, March 19, Maritimes vs. Quebec at Montreal; Saturday, March 15, Ontario vs. Ottawa at Ottawa; Wednesday, March 19, Ottawa vs. Ontario at Toronto.
Second round: Friday, March 21, Winners March 15 and 19, Ottawa or Ontario vs. winners March 17 and 19, Maritimes or Quebec, at Montreal Forum; Monday, March 24, same teams at Toronto or Ottawa.
Finals: Thursday, March 27 and Saturday, March 29, Eastern vs. Western winners at Arena Gardens, Toronto.

WILL MEET AGAIN TOMORROW
TORONTO, Ont., March 13.—Montreal Amateur Athletic Association and St. Francois Xavier will meet in the deciding game of their Quebec hockey championship on Friday night, with the game taking place in Montreal, it was announced today by W. A. Fry, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

M. A. A. A. are Quebec Senior champions, while St. Francois won the Intermediate title. They have played two games, the first resulting in a scoreless tie, while last night's game ended with the score one to one.

JUVENILE LEAGUE MEETING TONIGHT
A meeting of the Juvenile, Midget and Bantam Hockey Leagues will be held in the Chateau Frontenac this evening at seven o'clock.

COOK WON DECISION
YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 13.—George Cook, Australian heavy-weight, won a newspaper decision over K.O. Christner, of Akron, in ten rounds here last night. Only the third round was conceded to Christner.

CANADIAN 'ACE' MET DEATH IN PLANE CRASH

Accident at Ottawa Closed Career of Col. Barker, Wartime Flier, Who Is Credited With Down- ing Fifty-Two Enemy Planes During World War.

OTTAWA, March 13.—Credited officially with the destruction of fifty-two enemy aeroplanes during the World War and with service on three of the major fronts, Col. William George Barker, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., met his death here late yesterday afternoon, when a new commercial biplane he had taken up crashed to earth.

Scarcely ten minutes after he took off from the Rockcliffe aerodrome in the two-seater, a Fairchild plane brought here for inspection by Government officials of the Department of National Defence, civil aviation branch, the body of the gallant birdman lay in the shore slush of the Ottawa River, almost every bone shattered.

An official board of inquiry composed of three members of the civil aviation branch has been set up to investigate the accident and attempt to determine its cause. To some among the many persons who were witnessing from the ground the Colonel's last flight, it appeared the engine stalled as he pulled the machine out into a steep climb. Col. Barker was flying at an altitude of 200 feet when the engine gave off a tremendous roar as the pilot pulled the throttle wide open and swooped upward. After a climb of 150 feet, the plane faltered, hung suspended momentarily, and then a half-hour before the Fairchild Corporation president took the two-seater aloft, Capt. Shaw had put it through the paces of varied aerobatics. It was the first time Col. Barker had sat at the controls of a machine of the type, and other Fairchild officials suggested he might have miscalculated the power of the engine to drive the machine in a climb.

Col. Barker is survived by his widow, formerly Miss A. Smith, of Toronto, and their seven-year-old daughter, Antoinette.

An inquest was opened late yesterday afternoon. After the coroner had viewed the bruised and twisted remains, it was adjourned until Wednesday next.

CAUSE OF ACCIDENT HAS NOT BEEN DETERMINED

OTTAWA, March 13.—Full non-ors of the corps to which he brought valorous distinction during the Great War will be paid tomorrow to Lieutenant-Col. William G. Barker, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., victim of an aeroplane crash here Wednesday.

The body of the ace who brought down fifty-two enemy planes in combats over war-torn Europe during the three years he served overseas with the Royal Canadian Air Force from 1915 to 1918, was carried by train from here last night to the Ontario Capital, where he maintained a permanent residence. The body was accompanied by an official of the Fairchild Aviation Corporation of Canada, of which Col. Barker was himself president. It was a new Fairchild biplane the daring flier took up over the Rockcliffe aerodrome here yesterday "for a flip" that suddenly seemed to hang dizzily in mid-air after a steep climb and then plunge headlong to earth. The famed pilot was dead when eye witnesses of the accident reached the tangled wreckage.

A large corps of senior officers of air service headquarters, Department of National Defence, including officers of the R.C.A.F., of which Col. Barker was once acting director, will attend the obsequies.

Kellogg's PEP BRAN FLAKES

It was decided to accord full military honors after the wishes of the Colonel's relatives had been ascertained by officials of the Defence Department.

The cause of the fatal accident has not been ascertained by officials. An official board of inquiry, comprised of three members of the Government Civil Association branch, has been named to investigate the crash and attempt to determine its cause. The aircraft is a complete wreck, damaged beyond reconstruction in its crash from a low altitude into the slush ice along the shore of the Ottawa River, and the probe is bound to be a difficult and lengthy procedure.

TENNIS

DAVIS CUP MATCHES IN PHILADELPHIA

TORONTO, March 13.—The council of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association at its meeting here accepted the invitation of the Davis Cup committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association to play the first round of the Davis Cup tie on the grounds of the Philadelphia Country Club on May 15, 16 and 17, and also agreed that the final round should be played at Houston, Texas, against the winner of the other first round contest, Cuba vs. Mexico. An application for the U.S.

vs. Canada tie was received from the Mount Royal Tennis Club of Montreal, but it was felt by the council that it was only right the United States Association should have the say this year.

CURLING

POSTPONED BONSPIEL EVENTS TOMORROW

The remaining events in the Sherbrooke Curling Club annual bonspiel will be run off tomorrow and Saturday if the temperature remains sufficiently low to harden the ice. The first round games in the Sherbrooke Record competition were played last week, but the final encounters in this and the Mitchell trophy were withdrawn on account of soft ice.

RAILWAY MUST PAY DAMAGES FOR ACCIDENT

Ordered to Pay $145,000 to Three Plaintiffs Who Sued in Connection With Wreck at Morrice, Mich., in August.

BAY CITY, Mich., March 12.—The Grand Trunk Western Railroad has been ordered by Federal Judge Arthur J. Tuttle to pay $145,000 to three plaintiffs who sued in connection with a wreck at Morrice, Mich., on August 18th, 1929. In entering judgment for that amount, Judge Tuttle over-ruled a motion for a new trial of the case but by $12,000 lowered the awards made by a jury. The reduction was in an award of $53,000 to Mrs. Ida May Drew, Battle Creek, whose husband, Ernest Drew, engineer, was killed in the wreck. The amount was decreased on the basis of Drew's expectancy of life. James White, of Port Huron, a brakeman on the train, who was injured in the wreck, was awarded $60,000, while Mrs. Marion Heatie Battle Creek, widow of Walter Heatie, fireman, who was killed, was awarded $44,000.

"NO FOOLING ANGELE...
IS IT REALLY
ROWNTREE'S YORK MILK?"

REGGIE is frightfully bucked up. Not a moment ago, what with a flat tire and all, he had murder in his heart for Cadmus, or the Phoenicians, or whoever it was that invented automobiles. One taste of Rowntree's York Milk and he'll probably burst into song. York Milk is like that.

Try it yourself, next time you have a blow-out. Notice how delicious it is perfectly blended flavour—how smoothly it melts away in your mouth. But be sure you ask for Rowntree's York Milk Chocolate, the bar that sets a new standard of milk chocolate goodness. No other has just that perfect flavour.

("After all, dear, the tire's only flat on the bottom," says Angele.)

There is also York Nut Milk—with delicious whole fillings—for those who prefer nut milk chocolate.

Good Things to Eat

more nourishing
when made with
St. Charles Milk

If you analyzed whole bottled milk just as it came from the cow, you would find it contained water, protein, fat and other solids. St. Charles Milk is the very same cow's milk, except that most of the water has been removed. When milk is evaporated in this way it keeps perfectly in a sealed tin. Also it is creamier, doubly-rich, hence, better for every milk use.

DELICIOUS WHITE SAUCE RECIPE

3/4 cup Borden's St. Charles Milk;
1/2 cup water; 1 1/2 tbsps. butter;
1 1/2 tbsps. flour; 1 scant half tspn. salt; high seasoning of pepper or paprika.

Melt the butter in a small saucepan, stir in the pepper and salt mixed with the flour and stir until well blended, away from the heat.

Then gradually stir in the milk and water mixed, preferably using a wire whisk, and taking care that all of the liquid is thickened before a further amount is added. Let boil a moment or two, then add the vegetable and let stand over hot water for ten minutes to become thoroughly heated. Serve with asparagus, string beans, peas, brussels sprouts or potatoes.

Wipe off the salmon with a damp cloth; lay it on a well-oiled plate, dust lightly with salt and pepper, and steam for thirty minutes. Then carefully remove the skin, transfer the fish to the center of a medium-sized platter, surround with white sauce and garnish with the egg cut in sixths, and the parsley.

STEAMED SALMON WITH WHITE SAUCE

1 slice salmon, about 2 pounds;
once the recipe for white sauce as printed at left; 2 hard cooked eggs; parsley.

North Hatley, Que., March 13.—One of North Hatley's oldest and most respected citizens passed away on February 21st, 1930 at his home in the person of James Abbott Jackson. He was born in Plainfield, Vt., and came to Canada some sixty-eight years ago and settled on the farm where he passed away. The deceased was in his 86th year and had been in failing health for a number of years, although able to be around, until about six months ago, when he fell and fractured his hip.

He was then confined to his bed and tenderly cared for by his wife and grandchildren. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. Evans, pastor of the Universalist Church, and the bearers were Messrs. E. Maxwell, H. LeBaron, Bond Little, and J. W. McKay.

CREDIT TO ADVERTISING WHICH STOPS "SINKING
FEELING" IN SALES

Presiding at the thirty-third Annual general meeting of Bovril Limited, held recently at London, the Chairman, Lord Luke, said that not only did the sales of Bovril in 1929 surpass all previous records, but the increase was at an accelerated pace. The year showed a larger increase over its predecessor than any previous year with the one exception of 1919, when conditions were abnormal.

Although advertising was considerably larger, their additional sales were many times the amount of the extra advertising, so they had no cause for complaint.

One of the problems with which the Company would be faced in the near future would be that of securing adequate supplies of first quality beef. Serious steps, he felt, would have to be taken to increase this quantity and improve the quality of the beef the Dominions could in future spare for Great Britain.

With the United States about to enact very substantial increases in the rates of duty against Canadian cattle, it is encouraging to note, from the further remarks of Lord Luke, that a market to replace the one from which Canadian stock raisers will be shut out is beginning to open up.

R-100 WILL MAKE TRIP TO CANADA IN MONTH OF MAY

Information Given Out in British House Yesterday by Hon. F. Montagu.

LONDON, March 13.—Asked in Parliament yesterday when the giant airship R-100 would make her first commercial flight, Hon. F. Montagu, Under-Secretary for Air, replied there was no arrangement for any commercial flight yet. But it was expected the airship would make an experimental flight to Canada "towards the end of May," he said.

Mr. Montagu was also asked if members of Parliament would be given an opportunity to take part in the flight to Canada, but his reply was inaudible. He refused to reply to a further question as to whether it would not be best to quite frankly "and say that neither of these airships would be of any value for commercial purposes."

NEW YORK PRESS
MARKET COMMENT

Furnished by McManamy & Walsh.

New York World.—The immediate causes of yesterday's reaction were as usual, mixed. For several sessions the performance of leading stocks had been discouraging. For a month, despite semblance of movement, the average market had made virtually no progress upward and this period was accompanied by a substantial increase in brokers' loans, suggesting a certain amount of distribution. This evidence of growing public participation has been confirmed by the sharply increased activity of the last three days. In short, the tape has reflected a definite loss of internal strength and has encouraged the professional element both to short-sell and to test the possibilities of decline.

Wall Street Journal will say today:—
Steels $200,000,000 expansion plan.
Coast to coast railroad seen.
Reynolds' spring in its net.
American Locomotive net up sharply.
National Sugar Co. earns $492 a share.
U. S. Steel output declines over three per cent.

Suspension of Assisted Passage Agreement by Australia Affects Migration—Twenty-Five Families to Be Placed in Canada Soon.

LONDON, March 13.—Overseas settlement of soldiers received a setback through the suspension of the assisted passage agreement by Australia, stated Right Hon. He added, however, that twenty-five families and their children would probably be placed in Canada under the transportation companies' schemes and the War Department's auspices.

Attorney for Unknown Woman, Claiming to Be Wife of Abraham Erlanger, Announces Intention of Fighting Will of Producer.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The will of Abraham Erlanger, theatrical manager, disposing of an estate estimated at more than $750,000 to his wife and two sisters, was filed Monday in the Surrogate's Court. No petition for probate was filed with the will.

Eleven nephews and nieces, who are to receive $1,000 each, are the only other persons mentioned in the will. The document, dated October 18, 1927, specifically declares that Mr. Erlanger, who died last Friday, was unmarried.

This assertion in the will brought from Max D. Steuer, counsel for the woman who says she is Mrs. Erlanger, a suit to have the will set aside. He claims that the late Erlanger was married to her, and that the will is a forgery. He claims that the late Erlanger was married to her, and that the will is a forgery. PURCHASES OF
MARLER STOCK
BEFORE COURT

Discussion on Value of Shares Owned by Hon. H. M. Marler in Davis Estate Featured Proceedings in Case Against Lord Shaughnessy Yesterday.

MONTREAL, Que., March 13.—Further evidence with respect to shares in the Mortimer Davis Incorporation held by the Hon. H. M. Marler and of the sale of these shares to the company before Mr. Marler left to take up office as Canadian ambassador to Tokyo, was introduced yesterday at the continued hearing of the Davis-Shaughnessy action by which Lady Davis seeks to oust Lord Shaughnessy and Alexander M. Reaper from office as executors of the estate of the late Sir Mortimer Davis. At the afternoon session counsel for the plaintiffs sought to establish that the real value of shares in the incorporated company was not $170, the price paid to Mr. Marler but about $400, if calculated on a basis of a $180 book value plus $220 a share represented by appreciation in A'choil Company stock when it was quoted on the market at under 40.

The book value of the stock in September, 1928, was $180, the witness said under examination by W. K. McKewen, K.C. In that year the market value of A'choil stock ranged from 40 to 44 for the "A" stock and from 40 to 48 for the "B" stock. With these figures as a basis, Mr. Reaper stated, there would be no appreciation of about $11,000,000 on the 55,000 outstanding shares. So that the stock of the Incorporated Company instead of being worth $1,100,000 at the time, would have been worth about $11,000,000. No firm book value of the capital at $180 plus $220 additional represented by appreciation of $11,000,000 in A'choil stock. This, the witness admitted, was true of the stock at the then market prices.

Under further examination the witness stated that he did not know of any real offers made to Lord Shaughnessy for the purchase of A'choil stock. There were rumors of a prospective purchase at the price suggested by Mr. McKewen, of $80 a share, but so far as the witness knew these were merely rumors. It was true that some enquiries were made of Lord Shaughnessy, but it developed that those who made the enquiries had no authority to purchase, but were merely enquiring with a view to negotiating the purchase of the stock. No firm offer of $60 a share was ever made.

The introduction of evidence with respect to 25 Marler shares which were purchased by Lord Shaughnessy evoked a long argument between counsel as to its relevancy. The allegation of the plaintiffs is to the effect that Lord Shaughnessy unlawfully offered to resign his purchase these shares at $170 a share to the detriment of the estate, while the plaintiffs submit, was justly entitled to the advantage to be derived from the purchase of these shares at that favorable price. Counsel sought to show that in acquiring these shares Lord Shaughnessy had infringed a by-law of the company.

Letters written to Lord Shaughnessy by the Hon. H. M. Marler with respect to deeds of donation under which Mr. Marler was a trustee were introduced into the record. In these Mr. Marler offered to resign his trusteeships and to dispose of his 500 shares of Incorporated Company stock to the company for $100,000, the whole to be authorized at the company's annual meeting. Counsel sought to show that the arrangements detailed by Lord Shaughnessy to Lord Davis differed from those proposed by Mr. Marler inasmuch as Lord Shaughnessy had said nothing about the transaction being subject to the approval of the shareholders at the annual meeting. Mr. Reaper explained that it was understood the price of $170 a share would be approved at the annual meeting.

CLAIMS SUM OF $10,000 LOANED IMPROVIDENTLY

Operations of Sir Mortimer Davis, Incorporated, With Jennison and Company, Limited, Investigated at Yesterday's Court Session in Montreal.

MONTREAL, March 13.—Operations of the Sir Mortimer Davis, Incorporated, with Jennison and Company, Limited, described as industrial and banking managers, were investigated at the continuation of the trial of actions brought by Lady Davis and her step-son, Mortimer Davis, Jr., to remove Lord Shaughnessy and Alexander M. Reaper as joint executors of the estate of the late Sir Mortimer Davis. Mr. Reaper was on the stand. The questioning was based on the plaintiff's allegation that Lord Shaughnessy improvidently loaned $10,000 of the funds of the Incorporated Company to C. J. Jennison without any adequate security and without authority from the board of directors, and later purchased from Jennison $50,000 worth of preferred shares of Jennison & Company, Limited.

There was nothing in the minute book of the Incorporated Company, the witness said, authorizing the operations with the Jennison Company, and nothing referring to a withdrawal of $10,000 by Lord Shaughnessy as a loan to the Jennison Company.

A long letter from Jennison to Lord Shaughnessy was read into the record. It set forth the former's plans for the operation of the Jennison Company, advertising in the newspapers, provision for a salary of $30,000 a year to Jennison and $12,000 a year to an assistant, together with a budget estimate of $55,000 a year for operations. There was a statement in the opening paragraph which counsel for the plaintiff thought might indicate that Jennison had met Sir Mortimer Davis and had discussed the project with him. The witness did not think Jennison had met Sir Mortimer Davis and Lord Shaughnessy confirmed this statement from his seat beside counsel.

Examining an auditor's statement with respect to the investment foundation operated by the Jennison Company, the witness stated that on November 30, 1929, a surplus of $184,662 was wiped out, and the company's capital impaired to the amount of $277,000, the whole based on market prices of securities at that time.

It was explained that the value of securities held might be enhanced. The book loss had not been taken and much of the loss might be retrieved.

Turning to the affairs of the Incorporated Company, counsel showed through the witness that its overhead for the year 1929 was $58,000 and for 1928 $53,000, and that it is now operating under a monthly overhead of about $5,000.

Counsel examined the witness as to some of the overhead expenses and touched upon the employment of a geologist at a salary of $5,000 yearly. Mr. Reaper explained that this geologist, who is now attending a mining convention in Rhodesia, was employed in field work in connection with some of the company's mining land holdings in Northern Quebec and Ontario.

NEW RESERVOIR FOR QUEBEC CITY APPROVED

Private Bills Committee Authorized Expenditure of Large Sum for Improvement of Water Supply of Ancient Capital.

QUEBEC, March 13.—Quebec city is to have a water reservoir of at least thirty million gallons capacity in the heights of the city. This was decided by the Private Bills Committee of the provincial Legislature, when it adopted the reservoir clause in the city's charter amendments bill.

The committee not only approved the expenditure of $1,000,000 on the reservoir, but added an amendment to the bill, to authorize the city to borrow an additional $400,000 for the construction of a dam on Lake St. Charles in order to raise the level of the lake by eight feet and thus assure an adequate supply of water for the city's aqueduct system at all seasons of the year.

MILLION SPENT FOR RELIEF OF RETURNED MEN

Figures Published by Provincial Red Cross Society Show Expenditure of $1,015,647 on Ex-Soldiers Since Signing of Armistice.

MONTREAL, March 13.—Too little is known of the work which the Red Cross Society is doing in the province of Quebec on behalf of ex-soldiers and their dependants. The figures recently published by the society covering the period from the signing of the armistice until December 31, 1929, speak for themselves and will come as a surprise to those who are not intimately connected with the Red Cross. During this period $1,015,647.03 has been expended in various ways on behalf of those who fought for Canada and the Empire during the last Great War. Quietly and efficiently this great work has been carried on throughout the province of Quebec, but more particularly in the larger centres of Montreal, Quebec and Sherbrooke.

Some idea of the extent of the work being done may be gathered from the figures covering the activities of the Montreal office for the year 1929. During the year 5,087 applications for relief were dealt with, and of this number 4,655 men were assisted during periods of sickness, 3,350 families were provided with food, clothing and fuel, 476 men were placed in hospital and given medical treatment for injuries and sickness not due to war service, 433 single men were provided with board and lodging whilst attending hospital and 377 patients were given convalescent care after discharge from the city hospitals.

ADVISES MODERN GIRL TO STICK TO POTS AND PANS

101-Year-Old Woman Tells Girl of Today to Grab Man.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., March 13.—On her 101st birthday Mrs. Mary Schofield offered this advice to the modern girl. "Once you see your man, grab him, and stick to your cook pots." The oldest woman in Fayetteville believes in prohibition, does not exercise her vote, eats anything she wants, has three children, and her son, Robert, sixty, Oklahoma City, is the youngest.

BYRD SAYS HIS EXPEDITION IS IN DIFFICULTY

Facing Bankruptcy, But It Is Hoped that Everything Will Turn Out Quite Satisfactorily.

DUNEDIN, March 13.—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd said here yesterday that his expedition, which returned Monday from its conquest of the South Pole's vast region of ice, was in the verge of bankruptcy. He hoped, however, that it would "pull through alright."

His ships, the Eleanor Balling and the City of New York equipped at a cost estimated at $750,000, are being refitted at Dunedin's docks. Within ten days, it is planned they will carry Byrd and his forty-one companions homeward through the Panama Canal to New York.

The ships will bear small cargoes. Behind them in the Antarctic they left the aeroplanes used by Byrd and his men.

But these planes are not to be sacrificed, as Norwegian Whaling ships will bring them safely to civilization when the winter king yields his dominion next season.

POSING AS EMPLOYEE OF BROKERAGE HOUSE, CROOK IS GIVEN OVER $85,000

Messenger for F. B. Keech and Company Hands Over Negotiable Securities to Man Who Met Him to Door of Office.

NEW YORK, March 13.—A man posing as an employee of the brokerage house to which a messenger was delivering $85,000 worth of negotiable securities yesterday, secured the securities and escaped.

Louis Moorhead, fifty-two years old, a messenger for K. B. Keech and Company, brokers, was given the securities to deliver to the brokerage house of Benjamin Block. When he arrived at the entrance to the office, a man he took to be one of the employees told him he would take charge of the securities, and did. He told Moorhead to return later for a receipt, a customary practice.

Moorhead told police he continued on his rounds with other securities, but when he returned to the Block office to get his receipt discovered that no employee there had received the securities. He reported their loss to the police and gave them accurate description of the man to whom he had given them.
