WILLIAM O'BRIEN ILL.

Suffering From Injuries Received in Toronto—But Determined to go to Hamilton To-day—Mr. Kilbride Relates his Experiences.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 21.—When the 6.40 train arrived at Syracuse this evening an immense crowd was assembled who set up hearty cheers of welcome as William O'Brien stepped on the platform. The party was conducted to the Vanderbilt in carriages, where dinner was served. The journey to Niagara Falls was continued by the 7.40 train, when another large crowd was present to witness his departure and cheered again.

O'BRIEN CONFINED TO BED.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 22.—The O'Brien party which arrived here at 1.20 a. m. did not arise this morning until almost noon. Mr. O'Brien kept his bed all day under the advice of Drs. Casey and Campbell, who made an examination of his injuries. The doctors stated that Mr. O'Brien was suffering from symptoms of pleurisy, and they feared that he was likely to be confined to his bed for some days. The stone thrown at him in Toronto struck him on the left side in the region of the eighth and ninth ribs. The cartillage and the short ribs were much injured, causing him severe pain. While resting on the right side Mr. O'Brien is comparatively free from the pain, but any movement towards the left side causes him excruciating agony. At a late hour this evening Mr. O'Brien was no better and was rather feverish. Notwithstanding his condition, Mr. O'Brien is determined upon proceeding to Hamilton to-morrow, where he makes an address in the afternoon. During the morning delegates arrived from Rochester and Hamilton and St. Catharines, as well as James Mooney, ex-president of the National Land League, and Rev. Father Cronin, from Buffalo.

THE PARTY'S MOVEMENTS.

Soon after noon Mr. Kilbride, accompanied by the newspaper correspondents and Press Association representatives, entered carriages and visited the principal points of interest in the vicinity of the cataract and whirlpool rapids. They drove over the Suspension bridge to the Canadian side. Towards 2 o'clock the party drove down the American side of the river to the college and seminary of Our Lady of Angels, an invitation to visit which had been extended to the party. As the carriages drove up the avenue the college band played "Garry Owen," and the students cheered lustily. The party was received by Rev. Father Kavanagh, president, Rev. M. J. Kircher, vice-president, and Rev. E. A. Antill, prefect of studies, who extended the courtesies of the college. Rev. Father Kavanagh welcomed the party and regretted that Mr. O'Brien's illness prevented his presence. Mr. Kilbride said Mr. O'Brien was laid up on account of the different ideas entertained by the peoples of America and Canada. The people of Toronto who had treated them in such a vile manner, were not the rabble of Toronto. They were the educated students, backed up by the educated merchants who were in the crowd and who really desired O'Brien's blood. They were not like human beings, but like wild beasts let loose. The miraculous escape of O'Brien from death at Toronto and Kingston was due, he believed, in a large degree to Archbishop Croke and the people of Ireland, whose prayers had been heard. And no matter what the Orangemen of Canada may do he was convinced that O'Brien would go back to Ireland whole in body and soul. He thanked the faculty of the college for the reception tendered him, and entered into a long speech about the wrongs of Ireland, American sympathy and the organization of the league in Ireland. The party then enjoyed a luncheon served by the faculty, and after visiting the points of interest about the college grounds returned to the Falls in the evening.

THE TORONTO AND KINGSTON ROWS.

Mr. Kilbride states that Mr. O'Brien denies positively the statements of Col. Grassett of the Toronto police force, that he had been notified by the police of the danger of leaving the hotel, and that he had not to his knowledge been spoken to by any policeman. He also denied that he reached his hotel within two hours of the beginning of the assault. During all that time Mr. Kilbride states that the crowd surged back and forth before the hotel, hooting and yelling. Of the Kingston affair, Mr. Kilbride said it differed only from the Toronto trouble in that the latter was "caused by educated hoodlums, while the former was due to an ignorant mob of fanatical Orangemen." As an instance of the sort of protection afforded him, Mr. Kilbride says that in Kingston two hundred volunteers, with side arms, gathered before the hotel where O'Brien was stopping and hooted O'Brien and cheered for Lord Lansdowne.

DETERMINED TO VISIT HAMILTON.

NIAGARA FALLS, May 23, 1 a. m.—Mr. O'Brien's condition at last reports was unchanged. His side still pains him severely, but his resolution to go to Hamilton tomorrow is as determined as ever. When an attempt was made to-night to dissuade him from the visit he said that if his legs would carry him to-morrow he should certainly go. The physicians say that Mr. O'Brien is taking a very rash step, as the journey and the attendant excitement may result in a serious illness.

HIS NEW YORK FRIENDS.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The date for the public reception to William O'Brien has been authoritatively fixed for Thursday, June 24, at the Academy of Music in this city.

SAD RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Two Young Philadelphia Reporters Crushed to Death by an Express Train.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—A sad railroad accident occurred at Germantown junction this evening, by which two young and bright newspaper men lost their lives, they being horribly crushed and mangled by a rapidly moving express train. One of the leading dealers of the city tendered a May festival to the children of the city at the State fair grounds to-day, and it is estimated that from fifty to sixty thousand persons were present. Among the newspaper men who attended the festival in their official capacity as reporters were J. Wray Shepherd of the Record, E. J. Isaacs of the Press and Thomas H. Blynn of the Times. Shortly before six o'clock the trio left the grounds for Germantown junction to take a train for Broad street station. A tunnel leads under the railroad for passengers to reach the platform for east-bound trains, and thus avoid the danger of crossing the tracks. The three young men, however, to save a few moments' time, stepped over the railway and crossed the surface of the track. Mr. Blynn, who was several yards in advance, noticed a train approaching, and, calling to his companions, apprised them of their danger. Shepherd and Isaacs hastened their steps, when Shepherd tripped and fell on the track and Isaacs fell on top of him. In an instant a fast New York express train had crushed them to death, their limbs being severed from their bodies, and they being otherwise terribly mangled. Shepherd was 24 years of age, and had been engaged on the Record about one year, and Isaacs, who was 20 years of age, had been with the Press only about six weeks.

FATHER KELLER RELEASED.

The Court of Appeal Holds that the Warrant for His Arrest was Illegal.

DUBLIN, May 22.—The Court of Appeal has rendered a decision in the case of Father Keller, imprisoned in Kilmainham gaol for refusing to testify regarding his connection with the "plan of campaign." The Court of Appeal holds that the warrant for Father Keller's arrest was illegal and reverses the decision of the Court of Queen's Bench. Father Keller was released from prison at 8 o'clock last evening. He drove to the Imperial Hotel in the Lord Mayor's carriage in company with Archbishop Walsh and Timothy Harrington, M. P., followed by a large crowd of citizens. At the hotel he was received by Messrs. Sheehy and Crilly, M. Ps., and numerous priests. Father Keller addressed the crowd from a window of the hotel. In the course of his remarks he said he might have been in prison until doomsday before Justice Boyd would have released him. With reference to his treatment while in prison he said that all the officials had shown him marked respect. At night crowds of citizens carrying banners and headed by bands of music paraded the streets in honor of Father Keller's release. It is stated that the same objection that existed to Father Keller's imprisonment is applicable to the case of Father Ryan, and that proceedings for the release of the latter will be instituted on Monday.

YOUGHAL, May 22.—Father Keller, who was released from prison at Dublin yesterday, has returned here. Demonstrations in his honor were made all along the route.

NEWS OF THE WORLD CONDENSED.

Cable.

The Duchess of Cumberland, who is in an insane asylum, is enciente.

Heavy gales, accompanied by snow and hail and thunder and lightning, continue with unabated violence in England.

Mr. Debensaude, husband of Violet Cameron, the actress, has obtained $1950 damages against the Manchester Umpire for a libel contained in an interview with Lord Lonsdale, published in that paper.

The Maroseyver, in Transylvania, has overflowed its banks, flooding the town of Karbburg and interrupting railroad traffic. Rain is still falling. Troops are engaged in rescuing property in the flooded territory.

The strikers in the district of Borigna, Belgium, are singing the "Marseillaise," visiting factories, intimidating the employés and stopping their work. The houses of a number of workmen who would not strike have been blown up with dynamite.

Lord Rosebery, speaking at Newton Abbot, said what the English nation wanted was education in the facts of the Irish question. The nation had been grossly and constantly misled by foul libels or by worse means. Once it thoroughly understood the real issue it would no longer hesitate.

The Marquis of Salisbury, addressing the Constitutional club at London, Saturday, said the Nonconformists had placed their machinery at the disposal of the Liberals. Every one of their chapels was a centre of Radicalism. The labor organizations had also fallen into the hands of the Liberals. He urged that it was imperative for the Conservatives to obtain legitimate substitutes for these weapons.

Since the North German Gazette's exposures respecting Count Andrassy's agreement with Russia, the friendship between Prince Bismarck and Count Kalnoky has become stronger. Herr Von Tisza's admission before the lower house of the Hungarian Diet that the agreement was a fact, has weakened Count Andrassy's hold on the members and tends to strengthen the position of Count Kalnoky.

The throat trouble of Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany is growing worse. A London specialist, Dr. Morrell McKenzie, had a consultation with the Prince's physicians, Prof. Gerhardt, the throat specialist, and Dr. Bergman, Saturday. Dr. McKenzie made a prolonged examination of the Prince's throat. It is publicly given out that the malady is a thickening of the vocal chords, while it is privately stated that there are distinct symptoms of a cancerous growth.

The Paris Figaro publishes an article by Gen. Leflo, formerly French ambassador to Russia, containing official correspondence relating to the events of 1875, showing that Russia prevented Germany from attacking France. A semi-official note has been issued, declaring that Gen. Leflo used documents which were not his property without permission from the Foreign office, and that he deserves the reprobation of all men with a sense of honor for such a serious breach of his professional duties.

In the lower house of the Hungarian Diet Premier Tisza, replying to an interpelation on a statement in the North German Gazette relative to the occupation of Bosnia, declared that the aim of Austria prior to the Russo-Turkish war, was to ameliorate the lot of Christians in Turkey, and at the same time to maintain the integrity of the Turkish Empire. Finding that Russia was bent upon war the interests of Austria, caused her to enter into negotiations with Russia for the purpose of defining the circumstances under which Austria would be forced to abandon her position of neutrality.

The Quebec city council has voted the necessary $12,000 towards the Provincial exhibition.

The Governor-General's Foot Guards have arrived at Kingston and been enthusiastically received.

Eddie, aged 8 years, eldest son of John Vongunten, jeweller, of Galt, Ont., was accidentally drowned in the Grand river, while playing on a raft on Saturday.

The Hamilton district Methodist ministers and laymen have passed a resolution denouncing violations of the Lord's day, such as running trains, street cars, etc.

The water way on the Murray canal has been completed. Work was begun on Saturday on the excavating of the pit for the third and last bridge over the Smithfield road. The railway bridge will be completed within two weeks.

James Manning, a middle aged man, was killed by an accommodation train on the Grand Trunk Railway, five miles west of Chatham, Ont., yesterday. He was walking on the track and failed to hear the whistle. Papers found on his body show that he belongs to Detroit.

The work of constructing the line of the Pontiac Pacific railway is going on with unabated energy, and a direct line is now finished and tracks laid from Aylmer to Coulonge. The intention of the company is to complete the line and have trains running to Pembroke this autumn.

The young man, John S. Burns, who was killed in a Chicago foundry through the bursting of a mould, was buried at Quebec on Saturday afternoon. The funeral was attended by about three hundred Knights of Labor belonging to Quebec and Levis. The floral tributes presented by the order were most beautiful. This is the first time that the Knights of Labor have come out before the public identifying themselves.

M. ROUVIER CONSENTS

To Form a New French Cabinet—Russian and German Opinion.

PARIS, May 21.—M. Rouvier has consented to form a ministry. He hopes to induce the leading members of the budget committee of the Chamber of Deputies to accept positions in the new Cabinet, being urged thereto by President Grevy.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 21.—The Russian papers consider the Cabinet crisis in France as closely connected with the Boulanger question. The St. Petersburg Gazette declares that the manner of the settlement of the present trouble will show whether or not France desires to escape from her humiliating position and to fearlessly play a responsible part in the events of the day.

BERLIN, May 21.—Pending the issue of the Cabinet crisis at Paris, official opinion here maintains a circumspect silence. Public interest in the result is intense though undemonstrative.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION.

The "Celtic" and "Britannic" Collide in a Fog—Several Lives Reported Lost—Both Vessels Arrive at New York.

NEW YORK, May 22.—On Thursday, May 19, at 5.25 p. m., while the weather was calm and the sea smooth, with fog at intervals, the steamer "Celtic" from Liverpool came into collision with the steamer "Britannic" from New York for Liverpool, striking her on the port side aft, and doing considerable damage. The "Britannic's" boats were lowered and filled with women and children from the cabin and steerage in a very orderly and expeditious manner. It is to their shame that several men forced themselves into the boats. Meanwhile an examination was made and the damage to the "Britannic" ascertained, and it being found that the vessel was not likely to founder, such boats as were within hail were recalled and their occupants received on board. The others had boarded the "Celtic." A pad was made and placed over the hole in the "Britannic's" side, and she was turned about towards New York, having arranged with the "Celtic" to keep company. The saddest and most deplorable result of the accident is that several steerage passengers who were lying about aft at the time of the collision were killed and several others injured. Both vessels, accompanied by the steamships "Marengo," from Swansea to New York, and the "British Queen," from Liverpool for New York, arrived at the bar at 1 o'clock this morning. The above report is from the purser of the "Britannic," who refused any further information. The "Celtic's" bow is stove in, but otherwise the vessel is not much damaged. The "Britannic's" compartment is full of water. About sixty passengers remain on board the "Celtic," the rest having come up to the city. It was during a dense fog that the collision occurred. The "Celtic" struck the "Britannic's" bow on hitting her abaft the mizzenmast at No. 4 hatch. The "Celtic" had perceived the danger and reversed her engines, and struck the "Britannic" a glancing blow. The steamboat "William Fletcher" later succeeded in reaching the "Celtic" at the bar and transferring the latter's remaining passengers to her deck. She will reach her dock in this city about 8.45 p. m. One report says a man and three women were killed, while another says the victims were one woman, a child aged 13, and five men.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

To-morrow being the Queen's Birthday, the STAR will not be issued.

THE Boston Herald says: "Mr. O'Brien, like President Cleveland, is fortunate in his enemies. They have helped to make his Canadian mission a notable success. As the only effect he could hope for was a moral one, the opposition of sticks and stones to his plain story was the best thing for him and his cause." It is to be hoped that we have seen the last of these attempts to elevate the agitator into the position of martyr suffering in the cause of the "bleeding tenantry."

THE people of this province will hear with sincere regret that Lieutenant-Governor Masson has been obliged on account of continued ill health to resign his position. Mr. Masson has performed the social and official duties of his position so well, with such good taste, good feeling and impartiality as to increase the respect and esteem in which previous to his appointment he was held by men of all parties, creeds and nationalities in the province. It was his fortune to be placed in a position of peculiar delicacy and difficulty, but he was unable by his high sense of rectitude, his unbending integrity, combined with his courteous and conciliatory manner to pass through the trying crisis without giving cause for a single hostile criticism or making a single enemy. We sincerely trust that rest and change of scene will have the effect of completely restoring his health.

PETITIONS are, we understand, in circulation praying the City Council to change the width of Notre Dame street to fifty feet. This is a retrograde step, and we trust that the Council will not make the street narrower than it was made by the last change to please a few narrow-minded, unprogressive property owners. Sixty feet is narrow enough for a street of such importance as Notre Dame. The Balmoral Hotel and several other fine buildings have been erected on that street on the faith that the homologated plan would remain unchanged, and if the street is narrowed to its old dimensions a very grave injustice will be done to the enterprising owners of these properties. If the law will not permit them to claim damages from the Corporation for making a change which will materially lessen the value of their buildings it ought to. We trust that there is intelligence enough in the City Council to cause it to reject any petition asking it to make one of the principal streets of the city, such as Notre Dame street is, narrower than is required by considerations of convenience, health and justice.

OUR TRANSCONTINENTAL ROAD.

The disallowance question has again come before the people and the Government of this Dominion in a practical form. Negotiations are in progress between the Government of Manitoba and the Northern Pacific Railway Company to build an independent line from the Northern Pacific to Winnipeg. This line will very effectually cut the Canadian Pacific in two and divert the traffic of British Columbia and the North-West to United States territory. This action on the part of the Manitobans, no doubt egged on by American railway speculators, is intended to deprive the people of Eastern Canada of the advantages legitimately to be gained from their immense expenditure in constructing a transcontinental line through Canadian territory. In thus inviting the Americans to reap where they have not sown the Manitobans are attempting to do a monstrous injustice to the great majority of the people of this Dominion. Shall the inhabitants of a province, made important by the expenditure of the money of the East, be allowed thus to frustrate the settled and well-considered wish of ninety-nine-hundredths of the population of Canada? When the Federal Government, whose duty it is to guard and preserve the rights of the inhabitants of all the provinces, refuses to sanction the bill passed by the Manitoba Legislature giving a charter to what is to all intents and purposes a foreign railroad, does it not make a legitimate and equitable use of its constitutional power of disallowance? We have no hesitation in saying that it does. Good faith with both the holders of Canadian Pacific Railway stock and with the people of Eastern Canada requires that the Canadian Pacific Railway be preserved in its entirety, and that their interests be not sacrificed to the schemes of any ring of speculators, American or Canadian. When the Government recently gave some speculators from British Columbia to understand that its policy of disallowance with respect to the granting of charters to lines of railroad to the American boundary tapping the Canadian Pacific was unchanged, it had the approval not only of the great majority of the representatives of the people in Parliament but of a larger proportional majority of the people themselves.

It is to be hoped that the firmness of the Dominion Government will render it unnecessary for the Canadian Pacific Company to carry out the policy outlined in the interview with Sir George Stephen, which appears in another column. Such a policy, if the company, in self-preservation, are driven to it would be injurious to the interests of Canada, both east and west. And it would be, besides, most humiliating to Canadians to be forced to confess that, after surmounting the very great difficulties that lay in the way of building a transcontinental railway through Canadian territory, they did not possess intelligence enough or patriotism enough to keep the management of it in their own possession.

THE COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

Very little has been heard in Canada of the doings of the Colonial Conference. The reason of this, we suspect, is that Canada and its affairs occupied but a very small share of its attention. Nearly the whole time of the delegates was taken up in discussing matters having direct reference to the Australian colonies, and Canada seems hardly to have been mentioned except in connection with communication with Australia. The prime motive for convening the conference according to the London Standard, was "to afford the Colonial representatives and the Imperial authorities an opportunity of arriving at an understanding as to the system of defence which may be established throughout the Empire;" but to judge by the account which that newspaper gives of the business done at the Conference, the word "Empire" must be interpreted to mean Great Britain and the colonies of the Pacific. In the matter of common defence, the deliberations of the Conference seem to be confined wholly to arrangements for the naval defence of those colonies. The first proposal was that Great Britain would provide, equip and man an auxiliary fleet for the colonies, (meaning the colonies of the Pacific), would defray the total cost of maintenance, the cost of triennial changes of crews, and, in addition provide for loss by deterioration. But this scheme did not find any support among the representatives of the colonies interested. They considered it unfair to some of the colonies which had to maintain war ships independently of the regular squadrons. There being no hope of an agreement being arrived at on this basis the matter was dropped for a while. The compromise ultimately effected was that the Imperial Government will supply the Australian colonies with an auxiliary fleet of torpedo catchers of the Archer and Rattlesnake class—three in time of peace, and in war time, six Archers and two first-class torpedo boats—in consideration of an annual payment by the colonies of the moderate sum of $610,000. The original sum asked was $920,000. This is in addition to the Imperial fleet on the Australian station, which is to be considerably increased and to be reinforced by the "Imperieuse," one of the finest of England's new ironclads. With this arrangement Canada has nothing whatever to do. No new provision seems to have been made for its naval defence. Indeed, the subject of common defence in the proper sense of the terms does not seem to have come up before the Conference at all.

With regard to the defence of Hong Kong, Singapore, Mauritius and Cape Colony, there seems to have been very little difference of opinion between the Colonial authorities and the delegates. The principle agreed upon was that each colony should construct the necessary local works, while the War Office undertook to supply the armament. There was a very lively debate in the Conference with regard to the defence of some of the Australian coaling stations. The Imperial Government generously offered to give the colonies some obsolete muzzle-loading cannon for the defence of these stations if the colonies would build the fortifications and barracks and maintain garrisons sufficient to defend them. This offer disgusted the colonists who gave expression to their views in a very emphatic way. Sir Henry Holland to appease them enquired if they would be prepared to construct the local works and maintain the garrisons if the War Office supplied an armament of the best modern breech-loading guns. This plan was more in accordance with the views of the delegates but the matter seems to have been left unsettled.

With respect to the improvement of Imperial intercommunication regard was had almost solely to mail communication between the Australian colonies and the Mother Country. The Pacific colonies subsidize mail steamers to the amount of $850,000. This is for a weekly service at a speed of thirty-two and thirty-two and a half days to Adelaide. A scheme of Imperial penny postage, which has been devised by Mr. Henniker Heaton was not entertained by the Conference.

When the question of submarine telegraphy came to be discussed, Australian interests were again paramount. The Imperial Government did not seem inclined to disturb existing arrangements although the question of connecting Australia with Canada seems to have met with a fair share of consideration. Mr. Sandford Fleming presented this scheme to the conference. He believes that a cable could be laid from Vancouver to Brisbane touching Hawaii and Fiji for $10,000,000, and the promoters are willing to accept the risk of the undertaking, if they can obtain from the Imperial Government, Canada, the Australian colonies and Hawaii a subsidy for twenty-five years at the rate of seventy-five thousand pounds sterling a year. Originally the offer was one hundred thousand pounds. This Pacific cable would be 8000 geographical miles in length the longest section between Vancouver and Sandwich Sound being 2730 miles, and from Fiji to Fanning Island 2270 miles. "It is claimed on behalf of the new route that it would connect the Australian colonies with England by a line which would offer great advantages in the event of European complications, while for commercial purposes it would be of increasing value as the business relations between Australia and the American continent developed." This seems to be the only question of really Imperial concern that occupied the attention of the conference; all the others were to a greater or less extent local, that is to say, Australian. With reference to the proposal, the Standard says editorially: "The Canadian proposition is that the Mother Country should pay half the annual subsidy which would be required, while the colonies should jointly contribute the other moiety. Against this scheme the Australians had to balance the rival proposal of the Eastern Telegraph Company for a guarantee which would enable them to reduce their present prohibitive rates. No conclusion has been arrived at; but it is not improbable that more may be heard of the Pacific cable. It is certainly highly desirable that Great Britain should have an alternative communication by telegraph with her southern and eastern colonies and dependencies."

A piece of information conveyed to the Conference by Sir Henry Holland roused the indignation of the Australian delegates to the boiling point. He told them that the Government would probably conclude an agreement with France by which the duty of protecting foreigners in the New Hebrides would devolve upon a joint naval commission. The Australian delegates to a man were indignant that the claims of France to any jurisdiction over those Islands should receive the slightest recognition from Great Britain. When Lord Salisbury explained the situation to them their indignation was increased, and one of the delegates made bold to say that the Prime Minister's speech would have been an excellent one if made by a French Premier. Taken altogether the Colonial Conference does not seem to have been a very brilliant success or to have done much towards making the connection between the Mother Country and the colonies closer or more harmonious than it has been hitherto.

A WIDESPREAD PLOT

To Assassinate the Czar—Five of the Conspirators Executed.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 21.—It is officially announced that Andrejuskin, Ossipanoff, Generaloff, Shewyroff and Uljanoff were executed yesterday for the part they took in the recent attempt on the life of the Czar. During the trial of the conspirators by the Senate in the presence of representatives of the various governments, it transpired that Generaloff, who was a Don Cossack peasant, Andrejuskin and Ossipanoff, citizens, Shewyroff, a merchant's son, and Uljanoff, an official's son, together with Gorkun, Pilsudski and Lukshewib, noblemen, Kautschen, an official's son, Volochoff, a citizen, Pashkovsi, an apothecary's apprentice, Novorussky, a psalm reader's son, and a candidate for the St. Petersburg Ecclesiastical academy, Annagina, a peasant and a midwife, and Rebecca Schnaedora, a midwife, belonged to a criminal society, formed to overthrow the Government and establish a commune by violent revolution. In 1886 they formed a secret circle for terrorist action and resolved in December to make an attempt to assassinate the Czar, for which purpose Generaloff, Andrejuskin and Ossipanoff procured explosive bombs. On March 13th, in company with Kautschen, Gorkun and Volochoff, who undertook to inform bomb carriers by a signal when the Czar passed by, they went to the Newsky Prospect. It was their intention to throw the missiles under the Czar's carriage as it passed by, but the police frustrated their designs. It was also brought out in the trial that a woman named Serdkjukora knew of the plot, having learned of it from one of the persons implicated, and could have given timely information to the authorities, but refused to do so.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 22.—All the prisoners charged with complicity in the recent plot to assassinate the Czar have been convicted. Only the five previously reported were executed. The others were banished to Siberia for long terms.

THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS

Adopt a New Plan to Avoid Police Surveillance.

CHICAGO, May 21.—A secret circular purporting to give the latest plan of organization of the International Working People's Association, the revolutionary society to which the condemned Anarchists belonged, has just been made public. It recounts the conviction of the eight condemned men "for exercising the right of free speech at a meeting pronounced by Mayor Harrison to be peaceable," the conviction of Grottkau at Milwaukee, the fact that new conspiracy laws have been adopted in several States "for the purpose of intimidating dissatisfied wage workers," and then it quotes the business end of the Merrett conspiracy bill now pending in the Illinois Legislature printing in capital letters the words, "And it shall not be necessary to prove that the person committing the crime was a member of the conspiracy, or even heard the speech or read the print." It adds: "Our oppressors seem determined to adopt European methods. Let us heed the lesson." The new plan of organization is as follows: "No group to exceed five in number. After the first five are organized let them select a central organizer and separate again, each individual starting another group of his numbering five. When a group is reported full, let the central organizer go and inspect them and verify the fact. By this system never more than six will come together. The organizer alone becomes familiar with the twenty-five. Similar twenty-fives can be established, the various central organizers constituting an executive committee as a limit, which would give a membership of 125, and so on until the city is honeycombed with groups into which a detective cannot penetrate beyond a very limited length. Later, a systematic grouping of the different cities will be brought about and a thorough bureau of correspondence secured."

THE NANAIMO DISASTER.

Funds Needed to Alleviate the Distress.

TORONTO, May 21.—Mayor Howland, this morning, received the following telegram from Mayor Gibson, of Nanaimo, B. C.:

"Funds urgently needed to alleviate the distress caused by the fearful colliery disaster. Will you generously interest yourself in our behalf? Thirty-nine widows and 106 children are wholly destitute, besides numerous families whose support has failed owing to the loss of single men."

General Manager Van Horne, who was with Mayor Howland when the telegram was received, stated that the circumstances of the case were not at all exaggerated. The Mayor has appealed to the public for contributions. A similar telegram was received by Mayor Stewart, of Ottawa.

She Was Saved

From days of agony and discomfort, not by great interpositions, but by the use of the only sure-pop corn cure—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Tender, painful corns are removed by its use in a few days, without the slightest discomfort. Many substitutes in the market make it necessary that only "Putnam's" should be asked for and taken. Sure, safe, harmless.

She Broke the Engagement

because she saw that he had ceased to love her. Her beauty had faded, her former high spirits had given place to a dull lassitude. What had caused this change? Functional derangement; she was suffering from those ailments peculiar to her sex. And so their two young lives drifted apart. How needless, how cruel! Had she taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription she might have been restored to health and happiness. If any lady reader of these lines is similarly afflicted, let her lose no time in procuring the "Favorite Prescription." It will give her a new lease of life. Sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, of perfect satisfaction in every case, or money refunded. See guarantee on bottle wrapper.

According to an esteemed contemporary the novels of Mr. Howells are in such request among the prisoners at Sing Sing that a set of his books is worn out in six months.

A Food for Dyspeptics.

Dyspepsia is failure to digest. When the stomach refuses to assimilate ordinary food, resort must be had to such forms of predigested food as are palatable and can be readily obtained and prepared. Nothing so fully meets this want as Lactated Food. It is a delicious preparation, perfectly adapted to every dyspeptic or invalid.

Second-Hand Pianos.

A large stock of good second-hand pianos for sale or to rent. Apply to New York Piano Co., 228 St. James street. 119 3

The London Illustrated News of August 14th, in commenting on the exhibits at the Colonial Exhibition says with regard to Canadian pianos: That the excellence of the instruments shown—in one instance especially,—that of Mason & Risch—is evidence alike of the skill and enterprise of the manufacturer and of the critical requirements of Canadian purchasers. It is not merely that any performance upon them sufficiently indicates their excellence to attrack large crowds of the public around the stall in the central gallery. The pianos have, in addition, been carefully examined by some of the most competent critics in this country, and not only has emphatic praise been bestowed by the gentlemen upon the instruments, but in many instances great surprise has been expressed that pianos of Canadian make should prove themselves superior in respect of tone quality to those of English manufacture. George J. Sheppard, No. 2282 St. Catherine street, is agent for this, the leading piano of the Dominion. 118 2

Beautiful American pianos in fine rosewood and walnut (no imitation) cases, as low as the cheapest Canadian pianos. Apply to N. Y. Piano Co., 228 and 230 St. James st. 119 3

RESULTS FROM THE COLINDERIES AND OTHER EXHIBITIONS.

OWEN McGARVEY & SON,

Established in 1843, and for the last 10 years the Oldest and Largest Wholesale and Retail Furniture Manufacturers and Dealers in every style of making Drawing Room, Parlor, Library and the finer grades of Chamber Furniture a specialty—with the finest and most expensive styles of Children's Coaches, Perambulators, and the ordinary cheaper styles of BABY CARRIAGES, holding medals and diplomas and other distinctive recognitions from the

Paris, Belgian, and the Late Indian and Colonial Exhibitions,

From the Belgian we were presented with a silver medal and diploma for our exhibit of Furniture, and a bronze medal and diploma for our exhibit of Upholstery Goods. From the Indian and Colonial Exhibition we were presented with a beautiful illuminated diploma and commemorative medal from the High Commissioners, and a still more valuable recognition of the merits of our exhibit from the Art Critics of the London Cabinet Maker, the most acknowledged authority on such matters in London. The Nov. number of 1886, also contained a most flattering notice of our exhibit, as being one of the finest and largest from our colony. The following extract is from the Gazette of Nov. 24th, 1886.—

"It is exceedingly rare to find English journals noticing the manufactures of Canada in any form and certainly unusual that a special pictorial illustration should be made and inserted in the reading columns of such a paper as the Cabinet Maker and Art Furnisher, of Canadian made furniture exhibited at the late Colinderies. When such a surprising step is taken it may be unquestionably assumed that the articles so treated possess merits far above the ordinary. From a copy of the journal mentioned we find that a portion of the exhibit of Messrs. Owen McGarvey & Son of this city has been so favored—a drawing room chair and centre table, of which the above cut is a fac-simile, being selected for commendation and praise. This table is made of ebony with sides of free ornamental scrollwork carving, the legs similarly treated to which brass claws are attached, and the chair is of that kind known as wire-backed upholstered very richly in crimson and gold, gold brocatelle. Both of these articles, as we have already stated, formed part of Messrs. McGarvey's large exhibit, which, by the way, has received several other eulogiums from both English and Canadian newspapers, and both were manufactured here under the personal supervision of the firm. Two of such tables are now in their showrooms as well as specimens of similar chairs in various styles of covering. They are in short examples of that high class furniture which has been made by them for some years and which can be seen every day in their spacious warerooms. Messrs. McGarvey may well be heartily congratulated at the special prominence thus given to their goods by those critics of high art manufactures on the other side of the Atlantic and upon the honor conferred on their house by such complimentary notices as that herein instanced."

Our numerous Diplomas, Medals, First and other Prizes from the different Dominion Exhibitions are well known to the public, having received so many from almost every Dominion Exhibition during the past forty years, and as we now retire from Exhibition Contests, both Dominion and Foreign, we will in the future of our Largest and Finest Styles and quality of Parlor, Libary, Dining Room and Chamber Furniture in the Dominion. Waiting a call of inspection, &c.

Our new Passenger Elevator will not only be found a convenience but a luxury to convey customers to any of our six flats of Show Rooms.

MR. MASSON RESIGNS

The Lieutenant-Governorship of Quebec—An English-Speaking Successor Recommended.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

QUEBEC, May 23.—The resignation of Lieut.-Governor Masson, on the score of ill-health, is officially announced this morning by the Chronicle, the Canadien and L'Electeur. It is said that His Honor will travel two years in Europe. Strangely enough, both the Chronicle and L'Electeur advocate the appointment of an English-speaking successor, and L'Electeur says the two English names generally suggested for the office are those of Sir William Meredith, ex-Chief Justice, and Hon. Geo. Irvine. Another rumor has it that if the appointment of an English-speaking governor is resolved upon, the choice will fall upon Hon. John Hamilton. Well informed politicians seem to believe that Sir A. P. Caron will be Mr. Masson's successor.

O'BRIEN'S HAMILTON VISIT.

Preparations for his Reception—No Disturbance Expected.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

HAMILTON, Ont., May 23.—The Hamilton branch of the Irish National League were divided in opinion a week or so ago as to the propriety of inviting Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Kilbride to this city. Since then, however, there is more unanimity amongst the members, and at the meeting held in the Emerald Beneficial Hall yesterday afternoon to make arrangements for his reception there was a very large attendance. The President, Mr. James O'Brien, occupied the chair. The reporters were told to withdraw. Your correspondent subsequently ascertained that the League decided to make no unnecessary parade in connection with the affair. The visitors will arrive by the 2.55 train from Niagara Falls and will be received by the officers of the League, and driven to the Royal Hotel. The meeting to-night will be in the Palace Rink. It is thought that there will be no demonstration on the part of the ultra loyalists, but at present it is hard to say, as some people are of the opinion that those opposed to the O'Brien movement will get up a demonstration after Mr. O'Brien has gone from the city and pass resolutions of confidence in Lord Lansdowne. Others are of the opinion that some extremists will create a row if they get the chance, which, however, will be guarded against. Mr. O'Brien will be presented with an address at the station upon his arrival.

THE COERCION BILL.

Urgency Likely to be Moved After the Recess—Lord Salisbury Defends his Policy.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, May 21.—The Daily News believes that after the Whitsun recess, the Government will submit to Parliament a resolution declaring that the state of public business is urgent, relying for precedent upon Mr. Gladstone's resolution of February, 1881, giving the Speaker unusual power over debate. Mr. Gladstone, however, says the News, stipulated the aquiescence of a majority of three to one, which it is impossible to obtain now, when the circumstances are quite different, Ireland being quiet and coercion unneeded.

Lord Salisbury made a speech last evening in which he defended the Government's action in asking permanency for the Coercion Bill, on the ground that it took a whole session to pass such a measure. When he was young, Coercion Bills were introduced in the morning and passed in the evening, and there was no reason then why such bills should not be annual. Now, however, the case was different. The process had become so difficult that the Government was unwilling to repeat it. The advantages which Mr. Gladstone would obtain by wielding such a powerful engine as obstruction would not compensate for the demoralization of Parliamentary institutions.

NOTES FROM OTTAWA.

Knights of Labor—The Disallowance Question—Registration of Mail Matter—Wimbledon Team.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, May 21.—The plumbers, tinsmiths and steamfitters of this city have formed themselves into a branch of the Knights of Labor. Many Catholics here are now joining the order.

It is believed that the Government is fully aware of the action of Sir George Stephen in telegraphing to Premier Norquay re disallowance. It was not thought that such extreme action would be taken, but now that the Canadian Pacific Railway policy has been resolved on, it is likely, a Cabinet minister said to-day, that the Government will consider the question at once.

New regulations for the registration of mail matter between the Maritime Provinces and the United States are now being formed, to go into operation on June 15th.

Out of the first thirty-two names on the list of possible men for the Wimbledon team, Colonel Bacon says that twelve have announced their inability to go to England this year.

LABOR TROUBLES IN BELGIUM.

A General Strike Probable—Troops Asked for at Charleroi—A Sentinel Threatened and One Man Killed.

BRUSSELS, May 23.—A meeting of the workingmen's party was held here yesterday. Many of the delegates were not in favor of a general strike, but they would join such a movement if a majority so decided. It was proposed to hold daily demonstrations in favor of universal suffrage, and the granting of amnesty to the persons now imprisoned for participation in the riots of 1886. A final meeting of the delegates will be held to-day, when the question of a general strike will be decided. At several meetings held yesterday the proposal for a general strike was approved. The burgomaster of [illegible] has asked for a battery of artillery. Three men threatened a sentinel at the [illegible] yesterday. The sentinel fired, killing one of the men.

THE BULGARIAN THRONE.

Turkey Wants the Powers to Nominate a Prince—The Anglo-Turkish Convention—A New Loan.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 23.—The Turkish Government, in a note to the Powers, says it is unable to reconcile the opposing forces in Bulgaria, and asks the Powers to name a candidate for the Bulgarian Throne who will be acceptable to the Sobranje.

The Egyptian convention between Great Britain and Turkey has been signed. It is reported that the convention provides for the immediate evacuation of Cairo.

The Porte asks the consent of the Powers to issue a loan of $5,000,000, to be guaranteed by the Egyptian and Cyprus tributes.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

Where to Spend It—Places to Visit—Reduced Rates Everywhere.

To-morrow being Her Majesty's Birthday, all who can will take a holiday's outing in [illegible], and there are a number of places to visit that are attainable at comparatively little cost.

In the first place, reduced fares are granted to all points by the C. P. and G. T. railways, and visits to friends or relatives may be [illegible]. This year the South Eastern Railway [illegible] Brome Lake, Mount Johnson or Chambly, and the special excursion rate of a single fare to go on the 24th and return on the 25th has been arranged. A visit to Chambly Canton should be made to see the cricket match on the banks of the Richelieu. The trip of the East End Methodist [illegible] to Otterburn Park, St. Hilaire, is sure to prove enjoyable, as the natural beauties of the Park are very great and large numbers are sure to go. The Central Vermont Railway has arranged excursions to Highgate Springs, Vt., to Missisquoi Park, which is well and favorably known to pleasure seekers. A delightful day can be spent here on the waters of Lake Champlain. To St. Johns, Que., the 65th will go, accompanied by their band, and a first class programme of sports has been arranged. The regiment leaves on Monday evening, and excursion trains will leave the city on the Queen's Birthday at 8, 9, 10 and 11 o'clock. The Island Park will doubtless attract many of those who do not care to go far from the city. Pleasant places to visit are St. Rose, St. Jerome and St. Therese, on the Canadian Pacific. The Richelieu Company will run boats to Boucherville, and down the river, so that there are plenty of places to visit and get away from the noise and heat of the city and [illegible] and brooks. By the Ottawa River Navigation Company a trip can be made to Carillon and the rapids run. In the city will take place the Shamrock-Montreal lacrosse match, and at Blue Bonnets the Montreal Riding School races.

New Colors for Ribbons, Feathers, Ties, Sashes, etc., can be made from Diamond Dyes. All the fashionable shades are readily obtained, and good results are certain. 32 Colors.

THE ONLY ONE.

By Harry W. French.

"Ah, yes!" said Ardavan with an indifferent sigh. "So you have a sister? I had almost forgotten it. I have a sister, too, but never in this world am I able to forget that for a moment. Verily, I sometimes think her almost a nuisance. She is in Europe now studying, I suppose, though what I cannot imagine, for she knows more now than the sages. She knows everything but how to keep men from falling in love with her; and I have had to make a journey all the way to Europe to rid her of some pestilential monster, who thought he had discovered what it was to love, and was determined to force her to let him try the experiment at her expense, and see how long he could endure it. She has a beautiful face, and money enough to buy the whole of Bagdad with her income. She laughs at me because I keep on painting in this dull town and will not stay in Europe and help her spend her gold. But she is a true woman! She is pure as the angels before the good God in heaven."

For a moment the clear and passionless voice of Ardavan trembled. Taking advantage of the silence that could last but an instant, Osgood repeated,—

"But, sir, I should rather die in Bagdad than leave it without my sister. I will pay you ten times what all your pictures cost, if I kill Sir Edgar; but I prefer to stay."

Ardavan smiled. His proudly curving lips were even prouder when he smiled.

"I do not sell my pictures for more than they are worth," said he. "If I did, Zobeide would buy them all, and keep me in Europe." Then he added, more sternly than he had spoken before: "I have told the American doctor once that his safety and mine depended on his silence upon a subject about which he seems determined to talk. Take the caravan I offer. While we have been talking they have been making it ready, and I hear it now in the court below. It has just entered. Instantly be on your way to Damacus, if you are wise. The leader is already instructed, and will guide you well. You may trust him with your dearest treasure. Only remembered and let the sand lie loose beneath your feet. Just beyond the city gate you will meet two men, upon the left hand side. Say to them, 'Welcome,' and if one reply 'Welcome to you,' take him with you to Damacus. If not, then come back to the house of Ardavan. Fly, fly! Answer me nothing. Forget that you have met me. A word from you may cost you everything."

The gentle and graceful Ardavan seemed suddenly to have become an inexplicable fury. Osgood Carleton trembled before him. He raised his hand in a desperate gesture to implore attention while he uttered words that must be spoken in spite of all danger. But the dark-skinned artist smiled again, as though he had only been running into some odd ecstacy over one of his horrible idols. He pointed toward the door a slender finger, upon which a diamond flashed. He said, in a voice that was almost as soft as a woman's: "In the hall the servant is waiting who led you from the street. Follow her to the court. And now, farewell forever! unless by chance we meet again somewhere in this trackless desert that men call the world."

Like one waking from a dream, Dr. Carleton found himself alone. How, where, and when Ardavan had vanished, he could not tell. He was almost tempted to think it all a myth. Yet he certainly stood in the same wonderful studio.

He stopped for a moment to wonder if Ardavan had really been there at all, and if he were not still waiting for him under some hallucination of the poison of Zobeide's tomb, or the incense from the bronze gold censer. He opened the door. The hag stood there with a flickering lamp. He wondered if she had left the door since he had entered. He followed her to the court. Three horses and two laden mules were there. One horse was mounted by the leader. Another waited for him. The third was saddled, but held by the leader. He looked at it in astonishment. He mounted, wondering still what was coming, and what he was doing, and rode away followed by the two mules guided by servants.

Just beyond the gate, upon the left hand, there were two Turks, like beggars by the wayside. Leaning from his horse, Dr. Carleton, in a low tone, gave to the two the watchword Ardavan had given him. "Welcome to you," replied one of the two. Dr. Carleton leaped from his horse, and scarce repressed a cry of mad delight as he lifted Maime into the vacant saddle. The other turned back, and they rode away.

CHAPTER XXV.

All night the brother and sister, with the guide, followed well the instructions of Ardavan, and the sand lay loose beneath their horses' feet. The guide rode silently and swiftly before them. Their horses followed the leader without urging. The moon crept higher and higher, and its white light silvered the sand, then it sank slowly, lower and lower, and the shadows crept toward the eastern horizon, growing longer and longer till they disappeared; and the stars in the peerless blue-black sky shone without tremor or twinkle through the clear, dry air. They had passed beyond the range of the ruins, and more than once rode through rude little villages, new when compared with the ruins, though old when the Italian explorer, in his Spanish ships, sighted the first clusters of the Carribbees. They were beyond the barrenness about Bagdad, too; and hills and groves, not over many or over large, broke the monotony of the way, and sometimes startled the riders, who could not easily forget their experience of the morning previous.

"I was right,' said Maime, "and before we reached Bagdad we were met by Sir Edgar."

"Before!" exclaimed her broeher; "you do not mean—"

"Yes, indeed, I do mean," she interrupted. "I mean that the band of robbers that stopped us was hired and headed by my husband."

She spoke the words with a low, fierce eagerness, as though the torture and humiliation were a penance she was almost proudly paying.

"I begin to understand it now," said Osgood Carleton. "He intended that I should die in that horrible tomb." He ground his teeth.

"He thought you were already dead," said Maime;" for it was when he said that to some one with him that I first heard and recognized his voice. I only saw his face for an instant, and it bore that same fearful smile. I do not believe he knew that I saw him, or heard his voice; for he did not speak to me, and in a moment more he went away. I have not seen him since."

"But how did you come in the house of the artist Ardavan?" asked her brother, struggling to throw more light upon the mysterious events of the four-and-twenty hours, that had been but four-and-twenty, after all, in spite of the ages that seemed to have elapsed.

THE TRAFALGAR INSTITUTE.

Sir Donald's Generous Donation.

By the generous donation of $30,000, Sir Donald A. Smith has enabled the trustees of the above Institute to make a beginning now with their important educational work. Some years ago the late Donald Ross, Esq., bequeathed money to found a school for the higher education of young women, his desire being to bring within the easy reach of all a high Christian education. Unfortunately the means at the disposal of the trustees were insufficient to carry out the design of the testator on anything like an adequate scale. That difficulty has been removed by Sir Donald's gift; the only conditions attached to which are that the Institute shall be within the city and within easy access of McGill University; that its doors and benefits shall be open to all Protestants, irrespective of denomination, and that it shall not conflict or compete with existing ladies' schools. The trustees have purchased the property of Alex. Mitchell, Esq., at Montreal, on Simpson street, one of the healthiest and most beautiful situations in Montreal. The Institute will be opened in September. It is now being put in readiness, and the trustees are making arrangements for the appointment of a lady principal and staff, their aim in these appointments being to secure the highest teaching and best discipline. The Institute is intended to fully equip young ladies for the teaching profession, to prepare them for the classes in the Universities and superintend their work while attending college. Full provision will also be made for music, drawing, modern languages, sciences and gymnastics. The subjects for entrance examination and for the curriculum have been prepared. Information regarding these and the board and fees and all other matters connected with the Institute can be obtained by application to A. F. Riddell, Esq., Secretary, St. John street, Montreal the chairman, Rev. James Barclay, or the Secretary will be glad to receive applications for appointment on the staff or for admission of pupils. It has been decided to take a limited number of day pupils. No girl can be received under fourteen years of age. The Institute will supply a long felt want, and will make the educational ladder for ladies complete.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

The Date for Montreal's Celebration Changed to the 21st June—Ten Thousand Dollars for the Imperial Institute Fund—Military Review, Illuminations and Bonfires.

At a meeting of the Queen's Jubilee celebration Committee this morning, Mayor Abbott presiding, it was decided in view of the Local Government's action in fixing the 21st of June as the date of celebration that the Committee should recommend the City Council to reconsider the motion selecting the 1st of July and proclaim the 21st June instead. The Committee also decided to recommend that the event should be celebrated by a grand military review and parade, general illumination of the city in the evening, that the city should contribute $10,000 towards the Imperial and Colonial Institute Fund, and that an address conveying the congratulations of the citizens should be prepared and transmitted to the Queen previous to the 21st of June. It was proposed that a communication should be sent to the Government and military authorities requesting that a military demonstration should be made worthy of the city, and that the parade and review should be accompanied by a feu de joie of all arms. A circular will also be issued to all the leading commercial and other institutions asking them to join in the illumination, and the Mayor will issue a proclamation requesting all citizens to co-operate. The city buildings the committee propose to illuminate on a grand scale, and also to have a display of fireworks and bonfires on Mount Royal.

GETTING TO WORK.

A Construction Committee Appointed by the City to Superintend the Building of the Flood Protection Works.

The Flood Committee met this morning at the City Hall, Mayor Abbott presiding. A plan of the proposed permanent dyke from the tail race to Victoria bridge was laid on the table, and an informal discussion took place.

Ald. Grenier moved that a committee composed of Ald. Laurent, Wilson, Archibald, Donovan, Hamelin, Prefontaine and Grenier, should be appointed to proceed at once with the construction of the temporary dyke and the permanent embankment at Point St. Charles with full power to act in the matter. In answer to Ald. White, Ald. Grenier explained that this Construction Committee should be in the same position as the other civic committees, and report to Council from time to time.

Ald. Donovan asked whether the work would be done by contract or day work.

Ald. Laurent said that his opinion was that it should be done by day work, but Ald. Wilson thought that the contract system would be the cheapest in the long run. Ald. Laurent said this would be a detail for the committee to settle. Ald. Grenier's motion was then carried, and it was decided to report progress to the Council meeting this afternoon.

The Irish Agitator.

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the Land League rooms, to provide for a satisfactory reception to Mr. O'Brien on his arrival. The officers and a delegation from all the Irish societies were present. Mr. H. J. Cloran, who presided, having explained the objects of the meeting, added that it was desirable that the city of Montreal should protest against the conduct of those, who by riotous conduct in the west had outraged the name of Canada. A large committee was then appointed. It was arranged that each Irish society should be present with band and torches and that the procession should take the following route: Notre Dame, down McCord, along Ottawa, up Colborne, along William and up Inspector to Chaboillez square, where the grand stand will be erected and Mr. O'Brien will speak. Mr. B. Conley, of St. Patrick's society, will act as marshal on the occasion. It is expected that delegations from Ottawa and Quebec will be present. A committee was appointed to take up subscriptions, and $100 was subscribed by those present.

The Battered Pugilist.

Despatches from Ottawa this morning stated that it was rumored there that Harry Gilmore, the pugilist, who was worsted in the fight with Hawkins last week, was dead. The rumor appears to be groundless as the friends in this city say that "Harry" is recuperating at Syracuse, N. Y., and that a letter from him this morning says he is nearly himself and will soon be "ready for business again."

Mr. Joseph Pont, of Craig street, was not at the fight between Gilmore and Hawkins, so that the High Constable must have been mistaken in taking down his name as amongst those present. We regret having in this manner been led into publishing his name.

The Jesuits and Laval.

It is rumored that Mgr. Hamel is on his way to Ottawa for the purpose of urging the disallowance by the Governor-General-in-council of the Jesuits Bill of incorporation. It is understood that he will received the support of the Hon. Mr. Chapleau. Laval University, it is said, desire to contract a loan of $750,000 from the Sulpicians of Montreal until the question involving the restitution of the Jesuits estates is settled so as to be in a position to commence immediately the construction of the branch here, but that since the Jesuits bill has become law the Sulpicians refuse to make the loan. An ecclesiastical authority, however, says that is not the reason of the refusal which may possibly be made public at a subsequent date.

Church Parades.

The Sixty-Fifth Battalion, under command of Major Dugas, marched to the Gesu yesterday to attend High Mass. After Mass they paraded through Bleury, Sherbrooke and St. Denis streets, headed by their band.

The M. G. A., two hundred and fifty strong, had a church parade to St. Paul's church yesterday afternoon when Rev. Mr. Barclay, chaplain to the brigade, preached an appropriate sermon, in which he recalled the fact that it was just two years that day since the brigade arrived in Winnipeg. At the close of the service the National Anthem was sung and the regiment marched back to the armory.

Music at Viger Gardens.

The first open air concert of the season was given last night at Viger Garden by the Sixty-Fifth band, under Prof. Lavigne. The garden was crowded and the 1300 seats around the band platform were all occupied. The electric light lent a peculiar charm to the surroundings.

Bazaar.

The bazaar of the Sisters of Providence on [illegible] street will open this evening.

THE PILOTS AND THE RIVER.

Some Pointers For the Minister of Marine—Balises and Buoys Wanted.

The general impression prevails among the pilots on the river between Quebec and Montreal, that the placing of the buoys, etc., is not being accomplished as rapidly as it should be.

Pilot J. Chandonnet reported on Saturday that there were no "balises" on the pile of rocks known as the Islet-a-Mayrand, near the Richelieu, and which at low water serves as a bearing for the pilots to steer by. There were no buoys at the Bature Lagorgendière and the Bature Cadieux, while at Cap La Roche there were only two and another was required. It was here that the steamship "Ottawa" came to grief some years ago.

Buoys were also wanted at the Cap de la Madeleine and at the Poulier-à-Gagnon, below Longueuil. The two black buoys seen in rounding No. 3 lightship are too small.

A STAR reporter was told by Mr. Jos. Leveillé, Superintendent of Pilots, that he was having the buoys put down as quickly as possible, but that the only steamboat he had for that purpose was being used by Mr. W. L. Scott, putting the channel in order below. A telegram was received from Mr. Scott this morning stating that he had placed a red buoy at Islet-a-Mayrand and another near the No. 3 lightship. The Cap de la Madeleine buoy was to be placed to-day.

The pilots also state that the painting of certain houses on the banks of the river as marks, should be resumed, as it was done under the old Trinity House.

They also say that certain parts of the old channel are being neglected by the Harbor Commissioners under pretext of their not being used. Augustin Naud, who has navigated the St. Lawrence for 48 years, says that the buoys in those parts of the old channel should be kept in place, as the smaller craft would use the old channel, leaving the new one for the large vessels.

No time should be lost in getting the Coutrecœur channel for the large ocean vessels, in shape as the water is falling very rapidly now.

An Important Point Decided.

Chief Justice Dorion this morning gave judgment in the case of Goyette vs. the Queen, the full court Justices Baby, Tessier Cross and Church, concurring. The appellant was some time ago condemned at Beauharnois to be imprisoned for rape for the term of fourteen years. A writ of error was moved for on the ground that the presiding judge had omitted part of the customary formula before passing sentence. The prisoner had not been asked if he had anything to say why the sentence should not be passed upon him. The Chief Justice cited numerous cases, and gave judgment that the writ of error should be maintained. Two courses remained for the writ—either to order the prisoner to be produced and pronounce sentence first supplying the omission, or to send him back to the original court in order that the requirements of the law might be complied with. The decision was that the accused be sent back to Beauharnois to be dealt with, and the court would remind the judge there that the prisoner had been for fourteen months illegally imprisoned.

Mr. Macpherson's Disappearance.

On Tuesday, the 17th instant, Mr. W. A. Macpherson left the Royal Insurance office, in which he has been employed some 12 years past, and since then no reliable trace can be found of him. Although for days his friends have tried in every possible way to get a clue, none has been discovered. He was not in any financial need, and Mr. Tatley, General Agent of the Royal, says his accounts appear all-right. It is greatly feared some accident may have befallen him or that he may have been the victim of foul play, as it was known that he often had considerable sums of money about him. Mr. Macpherson was about 28 years of age, although looking younger, slight in figure, about 5 feet, 8 inches tall, brown hair and moustache. Probably dressed in check suit and black felt hat. Any information or clue to his whereabouts since 17th inst. will be gladly received by Messrs. Hubbard & Denne, City Agents, Royal Insurance Co., 104 St. Francois Xavier street, or at his lodgings, 6 Beaver Hall Square.

Lunatics At Large.

The police were informed on Saturday that three inmates of the Longue Pointe Asylum were at large. Shortly after, an apparently gentlemanly man came to the station with another man, who was evidently insane, and asked to have him recommitted to the asylum. "He is our baker, and we can't do without him. He is a good-natured fellow, and will go along if I get more help, but the other man, Robinson, is dangerous; I can't take him, you must help me." And thus he prattled on until it became clear to the sergeant that the captor was as insane as the captive. He took both back to the asylum. The third man has also returned.

"We are the Cabinet."

"No, sir, I am not going out of the Cabinet. What an idea! who told you that? Don't you know that we are the Cabinet!" was the response of the people's Jimmy Saturday to a STAR reporter's query. "Mercier sticks to his friends, and don't you forget it. Why, sir, did I imagine for a moment that he didn't want me in his Cabinet I would resign at once. But Mercier doesn't go back upon his friends, and I am going to remain where I am."

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

The Montreal Baseball League series opens June 4th.

The Montreal Bi. Club had a run to Lachine on Saturday.

The Ontario Lacrosse team has won the first game in the Canadian Association series.

The second fifteens of the same clubs had a match previous to the above, resulting overwhelmingly in favor of the Montreals.

In the baseball match between the Beavers and Ottawa College team at Ottawa, the score was Ottawa College 26, Beavers 5. The Beavers will have to work more.

The Montreal and McGill College baseball teams played a practice game on Saturday, the score being Montreal 29, McGill 26. There must have been heavy batting or poor fielding—perhaps both.

It is time the Montreal Lacrosse Club had secured their grounds in order to practise. They ought to purchase grounds, and leave some of the payments to be made by future players. Some of the wealthy citizens would probably agree to make payments of certain sums annually for a number of years in order to assist the club.

The football match on Saturday between the Britannias and Montreals resulted in an absolute victory for the Brits, the match ending in their favor by a score of 11 points to nothing. The Rev. James Barclay acted as referee. For the Brits, Arnton, Ross, Whitelaw and Barry did excellently, and the playing of the whole team was capital. For the Montreals, A. J. Campbell and Abbott deserve especial mention.

The Shamrocks and Montreals play an exhibition game to-morrow afternoon on the Shamrock grounds. The Shamrock team will be chosen from the following: Prior, Cregan, O'Reilly, Ahern, Devine, Barry, Canadien, Tansey, Daley, Ryan, Murphy, Hart and Hinphy. The Montreal players will be Patterson, Elliott, Cameron, Sheppard, McNaughton, Geraghty, Grant, Michaud, Hodgson, Aird, and two others not yet selected.

The exhibition game between the Montreal junior and Shamrock juniors on the Shamrock grounds on Saturday was almost entirely in favor of the latter club, who won the first, second and fourth games in 13, 5 and 10 minutes respectively, the Montrealers taking the third in about ten minutes. The teams were as published in Saturday's STAR, eight of the Shamrocks being new men and all showing up extremely well, Brophy and Tansey excelling themselves. For the Montrealers Cook, Virtue and Hamilton did well.

PERSONAL.

Bishop Grandin, of St. Albert, has arrived at Rome.

Hon. Alex. Mackenzie is visiting Mr. Boyd Caldwell at Lanark.

Sir Alexander Campbell is in Quebec, having arrived by the "Vancouver."

Mr. E. Lyman Mills has returned to the city after an absence of some years in the Southern States.

Judge Chauveau, of Quebec, Mr. Pelletier, editor of La Justice, and Mr. Foster, of Knowlton, are at the Hall.

Sir Leonard and Lady Tilley are the guests of Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick at Kingston. They will remain for several days.

Hon. Mr. Mercier left Quebec Saturday afternoon on a two weeks' tour through Canada and the United States.

Rev. J. A. Birrell, of Howick, Scotland, assisted Rev. Dr. Smyth in his services yesterday evening in Calvin Presbyterian Church.

Sir John and Lady Macdonald will visit England about the middle of July. Lady Macdonald goes to the Restigouche next month for salmon fishing.

The portraits presented to Rev. Fathers Dowd and Toupin during the jubilee celebrations, were the gift of and presented by Mr. Notman, of Bleury street.

Miss Jennie McGarry has returned to the city after a most successful season in Ontario. The Hamilton Spectator says if all elocutionists were as talented, as charming, and as well prepared for their work as Miss McGarry, elocutionary recitals would be more attractive and popular.

The Beaver Line SS. "Thanemore," from Liverpool, passed Fame Point inward at 9.30 on Monday morning.

COLLISION AT NEWFOUNDLAND.

The Steamer "Plover" Sinks a Schooner in Trinity Bay—Five Persons Drowned.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., May 23.—The steamer "Plover," while crossing Trinity Bay on Saturday night, had a collision with the schooner "Trixie H." of Hearts Content. The schooner had sixteen persons on board, including ten passengers, three of whom were women. The schooner was struck squarely amidships and sank shortly afterward, carrying two women and three of the men down with her. The other eleven were saved by the crew of the "Plover" with great difficulty. Capt. Percey, of the schooner, was saved. The drowned were his two brothers, a niece, a policeman, and a woman whose name is not available. They all belonged to Trinity Bay. The "Plover" is but slightly injured.

JOTTINGS FROM OTTAWA.

Sir Charles Tupper—The C. P. R. to go Into the Milling Business—Grand Trunk Tapping the North-West Trade—The Premier's Holiday—Increased Indemnity.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, May 23.—It is reported here, although the statement is not confirmed, that Sir Charles Tupper, who went to New York last week, will also visit Washington on a confidential mission in connection with the Fisheries difficulty.

Sir George Stephen has informed western M. Ps. that the Canadian Pacific Railway has resolved to go into the grain handling business itself, and will compete with the Ogilvies and other extensive North-West millers. The C. P. R. will regard their competitors as friendly rivals. Mills will be established at Keewatin and East Winnipeg. Thus grain milled there will necessarily go East via the C. P. R. Sir George Stephen also said that one hundred miles of the Manitoba and South Western will be built within twelve months. This is in pursuance of the C. P. R.'s big scheme to build feeders to the main line.

An excursion of local Irishmen will take place to Montreal to hear Wm. O'Brien on Thursday. Lord Lansdowne returns here the same day.

It is rumored here that the Grand Trunk plans are working successfully to tap the North-West trade of the Canadian Pacific Railway, that the charter now talked of to the Manitoba boundary from Winnipeg, to be granted by the Manitoba Legislature, though ostensibly in the interest of the Northern Pacific, is really being obtained by the Grand Trunk. The latter road will secure, it is alleged, by the Sault Ste. Marie Branch, a direct line to Winnipeg, and it is asserted that amicable pooling arrangements will be made between the Northern Pacific and the Grand Trunk Railway for freight by a line through Northern Michigan.

Sir John Macdonald has not yet decided where he will spend his vacation this summer. He may go to England if he can get away for the length of time necessary, or he may take a trip to British Columbia. Lady Macdonald will go to Banff Springs, where a cottage is now being erected for the accommodation of herself and daughter, at present at the Springs.

It is rumored that an informal discussion took place lately with a view to find out how members would support a proposition to increase the sessional indemnity from one to two thousand dollars. Some of the members were opposed to the idea, and it was dropped.

MEMBERS AT CHURCH.

Special Jubilee Service for Members of the House of Commons at Westminster.

LONDON, May 23.—Four hundred members of the House of Commons attended a jubilee service yesterday at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster. Speaker Peel, Mr. Gladstone, Mr. W. H. Smith, Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen were given the seats of honor. United States Minister Phelps stood at the foot of the pulpit. The choral service was conducted by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Archbishop of York, the Dean of Westminster and Archdeacon Farrar, the hymns being composed especially for the occasion. The Bishop of Ripon preached the sermon, taking the text from Psalms 137, verse 5. The Bishop glorified the Victorian epoch, and urged a medium course between optimism and pessimism, namely, reverence for the gifts of genius and power.

PRESIDENT GREVY'S DIFFICULTY.

Unable to Get Any One to Undertake the Task of Forming a New French Ministry.

PARIS, May 23.—It is semi-officially stated that M. Rouvier declined to form a Cabinet, but, at President Grevy's request, undertook to discover what combination was possible. Counting the party leaders as a result, he informed M. Grevy that the formation of a Cabinet was possible by concentrating the republican forces under the direction of some statesman who had been Premier before.

M. Clemenceau told M. Rouvier that he would not promise to support any Cabinet, but was perfectly willing to take office himself with young and new men. President Grevy still refuses to call M. Clemenceau, although he has seen several others. It is expected that the President will again ask M. deFreycinet to form a Ministry, and that the Chamber will adjourn for another week.

AMERICAN NOTES.

Telegraphic Ticks from all Parts of the United States.

The Parnell branch of the Irish National League has invited Wm. O'Brien to visit Nashville, Tenn.

The United States Express Company's stable at Jersey City, N. J., was damaged by fire yesterday. Thirty-five horses were burned. Loss, $65,000.

It is stated authoritatively that the Scotch yacht "Thistle" is owned by a syndicate of Scotch yachtsmen, with Wm. Clark, the millionaire cotton spinner of Newark, N. J., at its head.

Forest fires have burned over a section of country in the vicinity of Houtsdale, Pa., five by three miles in extent. The destruction of the town was threatened, but so far as known only a few houses were burned.

Full details from Lake Linden, Mich., show that full two thousand people are sufferers from the forest fires. John Casey was burned to death. Marquette was visited by heavy rain yesterday afternoon, but it seems to have been local, as it is reported dry and hot generally on the Peninsula.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S VISIT.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

WASHINGTON, May 23.—It is not believed here that Sir Charles Tupper has come to Washington on an official mission. Sir Charles' visit probably relates to matters solely of a personal character.

THE "CELTIC"-"BRITANNIC" COLLISION.

Official Statement of the Loss of Life.

NEW YORK, May 23.—It was officially stated at the office of the White Star line this morning that, as far as known, but four of the steerage passengers killed in the collision between the "Celtic" and the "Britannic," were buried at sea. Of this number James Robinson, thirteen years old, of Fall River, and James Timberry, of Jersey city, were known to be killed outright. Two passengers, James Greenale and Adam Johnson, addresses unknown, are missing, and are supposed to belong to the four who were buried at sea. Some of the passengers insist that in addition to this number a fleshy woman, with black hair, was also killed and given a sea burial.

Persons suffering from sick headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, pain in the side, are asked to try one vial of Carter's Little Liver Pills.

MR. SMITHERS' FUNERAL.

A Representative and Influential Gathering of Citizens Pay a Last Tribute of Respect to the Great Banker.

There has rarely been such a large and representative gathering of influential citizens as that which assembled this afternoon to pay the last tribute of respect to one who so lately occupied what is considered the foremost position in the banking institutions of the Dominion. Long before two o'clock the street in front of the family residence of the late Mr. Smithers, on Dorchester street, was lined with rows of carriages, and vehicles were constantly arriving, bringing the friends and acquaintances of the deceased banker. The funeral was fixed for two o'clock, and by that time a large number of prominent citizens had assembled. A short service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Cornish in the presence of the family, and the casket, a beautiful cloth covered one, with a few tasteful floral tributes, was carried to the hearse and the cortege proceeded on its way. Immediately after the hearse, followed the sons of the deceased and the other chief mourners, the employés of the Bank of Montreal and the general mourners, the carriages bringing up the rear.

THE PALL BEARERS were Sir Donald Smith, Gilbert Scott, Geo. A. Drummond, Alex. Murray, E. B. Greenshields, Hon. John Hamilton, Hugh McLennan and A. T. Paterson.

Amongst the large number of prominent citizens in the cortege were noticed: Sir George Stephen, R. B. Angus, George B. Burland, Ed. Holton, M. P., George Hague, of the Merchants Bank; F. Wolferstan Thomas, of the Molsons Bank; J. Yarker, of Toronto; Hector Mackenzie, Hugh Paton, A. F. Gault, Andrew Robertson, F. W. Henshaw, James Linton, John Crawford, Dr. R. P. Howard, Thos. Workman, Hugh Mackay, James Slessor, Hugh McLennan, James Cantlie, L. J. Seargeant, H. C. Scott, J. A. Gillespie, Victor Hudon, C. S. J. Phillips, H. A. Ewan, Louis Davis, C. D. Monk, W. M. Ramsay, S. H. Ewing, William Stephen, W. Marling, Andrew Allan, F. Nash, Union Bank; Theo. Lyman, H. B. Stewart, E. M. Shadbolt, Hon. Henry Starnes, James O'Brien, Thos. Davidson, Henry Lyman, Capt. Shepherd, Robt. Gault, Edward Murphy, F. W. L. Chessman, J. Murray Smith, Wm. Weir, James Crathern, Caverhill, Jackson, Rae, Chas. Alexander, J. F. D. Black, G. F. C. Smith, Hon. D. A. Macdonald, Montagu Allan, Thos. Tremble, W. J. Buchannan, Manager Bank of Montreal, E. B. Coulston, John Turnbull and a large number of the employés of the Bank.

The chief mourners were the six sons of the deceased gentleman, his sons-in-law, Messrs. J. B. Learmont, Stanley Bagg and Hemming, of Toronto. A short service was held at Emmanuel Church. After the hymn "Brief life is here our portion," prayer and the reading of Scripture, the Rev. Dr. Cornish pronounced a brief eulogy on the deceased, pointing out that it was a matter of congratulation for the community that it had had in its midst so eminent a man, as his example was one that could not but be beneficial to society. The deceased was a man of integrity and honor, and one who would do no wrong to further his own ends. The preacher alluded to his long acquaintance with Mr. Smithers, which dated from 1856, in the City of St. John, and said that he had always shown the same generous Christian traits of character. The life and death of the man whose loss they all mourned today was a lesson to those yet remaining to lead such lives as when death called they might go calmly and contentedly to their rest. At the close of Dr. Cornish's address the hymn "Jesus, lover of my soul," was sung, the preacher announcing that it was this hymn the deceased caused to be sung at his deathbed by his family.

After the Benediction the cortege proceeded to the Grand Trunk station where a special train was in waiting to convey the remains and mourners to New York. The remains will be interred in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn.

THE NEW IRON DUTIES.

Possible Re-Shipment of a Large Consignment.—Mr. James Darling's Views of the situation.

It was rumored in business circles Saturday, that a large consignment of iron now on the wharf here, would in consequence of the new tariff be returned to Great Britain. In reply to the enquiries of a STAR representative Mr. Jas. Darling, of the firm of Wm. Darling & Co., who have very large interests at stake, said:—

"The policy of the Government is being carried out as far as protection is concerned, and it is useless to discuss the rights or wrongs of a protective tariff, but my opinion is that individuals and their rights are not dealt with as they should be and that one merchant will have an advantage over another under existing orders.

"If I had purchased 1000 tons of iron previous to the 12th, inst., from a Montreal agent or merchant, at a price delivered here, that iron would come in under the old tariff, and on the other hand, if I had purchased that iron from a Liverpool or Glasgow merchant at sterling price, I would be compelled to pay duty under the new tariff, which would make a difference to me of $9.00 per ton or $9000.00 on the transaction, and why should I be placed in that position by the Government, which simply means that my competitor, who has purchased his iron from an agent or merchant here, saves the difference in duty of $9000.00 on the transaction, because the Government says that contracts made in a foreign country and sold here by an agent or merchant shall be put through the Customs under the old tariff, and my contract which was made with a foreign merchant direct shall pay duty under the new tariff.

"The Government should allow all existing orders previous to the 12th of May, which can be proved by affidavit, from buyer and seller, to come into the country under the old rate of duty."

Money in London 1 per cent.

DECLARED A BANKRUPT.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, May 23.—Lord Colin Campbell has been declared a bankrupt, on petition of the Duke of Marlborough.

Down to Death.

Samuel Harvey, a young man from Portland, Oregon, whilst working on the steamship "Boston City," last Saturday evening, fell from the top of the cattlepens on deck into the river and was not again seen. His body has not been found, though active search was instituted immediately.

The Rome correspondent of the London Chronicle now admits that the Irish College has issued no memoir on the Irish question. He says that when he received the so-called memoir he was assured that it was the work of an Irish Jesuit, a professor in the Irish College; but he has since found that he was wrongly informed. He now believes that the document was written by an English Catholic ecclesiastic.

Mr. George R. Wendling delivered an address last night at the St. James Street Methodist Church, on the question, "Is death the end."
