Bristol dump ban upheld

by Richard Wills and Ross Dickson

In a decision handed down on January 25th in Hull, Quebec Superior Court Judge Jean Dagenais rejected a claim by Maurice Lamarche of Lamarche-McGuinty that his company had a legal right to proceed with plans to open a sanitary landfill facility at the former Hilton Mine in Bristol.

Lamarche's argument hinged on a letter he had received from Bristol Municipal Secretary Keith Emmerson in January, 1978, stating that his municipality had no objection to Lamarche opening a landfill, provided it met with provincial guidelines.

In 1987, the Quebec Ministry of the Environment isued a letter agreeing in principle with the landfill proposal, but stipulating that the project should not contravene any municipal or MRC by-laws.

Judge Dagenais, however, decided that the 1978 letter from Emmerson did not amount to formal permission from the entire Bristol Municipal Council. The judge further declared that, even if permission had been officially obtained, Lamarche had forfeited his right to install a landfill because he had not begun the operation within the six-month time limit.

In late 1985, the Concerned Citizens Committee of Bristol (CCC) was established to oppose the installation of a landfill because of environmental concerns.

In February of 1986, Bristol Council passed By-law 204, zoning the Hilton Mine site for mineral exploration, and providing for sanitary landfill elsewhere within the municipality.

Taxpayers Vote 'No'

A referendum was called by Bristol Council in June of 1987 to assess community opinion regarding the landfill possibility. The referendum results showed that 83 percent of those responding were opposed to the idea.

In June 1988, Bristol Council passed By-law 215, which retracted authorization for sanitary landfill anywhere in the municipality.

Later that month, Lamarche filed the motion with Superior Court to have that by-law thrown out on a technicality. In its decision of January 25, 1989, however, the court ruled that the Bristol by-law could not be declared invalid because it was not actually in effect.

For the time being, the municipal by-law is superceded by the stricter Interim Control By-law (ICB) of the Pontiac MRC. The ICB, adopted in October, 1983, covers such regulations until each municipality works out its own zoning plan. Under the ICB no sanitary landfill is permitted in Pontiac.

Lamarche's case did not challenge the MRC's own regulations.

Further, the judgement declared that since the filing of the case last June, the ownership of the site has been transferred to Sanitech Lamarche, a partnership between Lamarche and the Montreal-based engineering giant, Lavalin Inc. Lavalin is currently involved in a variety of huge projects around the world. Because of this change in ownership, Lamarche McGuinty, who filed the case, now has no legal interest in the site, the judge decided.

Reactions to Decision

Robert Fowler, president of the CCC, says his organization is pleased with the court decision, but still remains vigilant in its cause. "We're not celebrating yet," he says, "We'll have to monitor this situation for several years to come"

Fowler hopes that the decision might encourage Lamarche to pursue less controversial plans for the Hilton Mine site, such as the proposed Pyrok particle board factory. "We wish him every success on that," he said.

For the past few days Maurice Lamarche has been out of his office and unavailable for comment.

According to Bristol's attorney Johanne Trudel, since the transfer of ownership, any applications for permission from the Ministry of Environment or Bristol Municipality must be taken up anew.

Trudel points out that, if Lamarche should undertake an appeal of the decision, the same arguements could be used against him in any subsequent case. "They are going to have quite a hill to climb," she says.

Trudel is pleased with what she describes as a "very interesting judgement" by the Superior Court that upholds her client's argument.

"Bristol had their day in court, and they were heard correctly," she said.

Bristol Mayor Jack Graham expressed some relief at the outcome of the case. He feels the issue has been a burden that has taken its toll, not only on Bristol's elected officials, but on the entire population. He admits that the controversy has produced some animosity among neighbours, but "nothing that cannot be mended."

"After living with this situation for the past three-and-one-half years, we're pleased with the decision. This will enable both the Council and people of Bristol to devote more time to the positive development of our community."

Consolidated Bathurst sold

by Richard Wills

On Thursday morning, January 26th, the management of the Consolidated Bathurst Inc (CBI) pulp mill at Portage du Fort received notice that their company had been sold to an American firm.

"We've been bought out," is how the situation was summed up by the mill's general manager, Tom Gray.

More precisely, Gray said, "Our holding company, Power Corporation, together with the Kuwait Investment Office and the Associated Newspapers Group of the United Kingdom (which collectively own 65 percent of CBI shares), have agreed to tender their shares to the Stone Container Corporation of Chicago."

The sale includes three local operations: the Portage du Fort pulp mill, the lumber mill at Braeside, Ontario, and the Woodlands Division at Portage du Fort. Stone is the largest producer of container cardboard and kraft paper products in the US.

As part of the process, Gray said, a share offer must be extended to all common shareholders. The takeover has yet to be approved by Investment Canada.

The purchase price has been reported to be $2.6 billion, based on a figure of $25 per share. CBI shares were listed at $16-5/8 at the close of trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange on January 24.

Local Effect

Asked whether the deal would have any effect on activity at the local mill, Gray said, "I wouldn't anticipate any change for some time at least."

As for the long-range picture, Gray simply said, "We'll have to wait and see. But for now it's business as usual for this division."

Alliance coming to the Pontiac

by Richard Wills

The English rights organization Outaouais Alliance is planning a series of "community consultation" meetings in towns throughout the region, to allow people to air their views, discuss concerns, and make suggestions about Bill 101, Bill 178, and the general situation of the Anglophone community in Quebec.

They have planned sessions over the coming weekend in Buckingham, Gatineau, Aylmer, Wakefield and Pontiac, to assess reaction to the developments in the province's legislation restricting languages other than French on public signs.

The Pontiac meeting is scheduled for Sunday, February 5th at 2 p.m. at Pontiac Protestant High School in Shawville.

Outaouais Alliance, based in Hull, is a regional English-rights group affiliated with, but organizationally independent of, the Montreal-based Alliance Quebec.

According to Steve Harris, community liaison officer for Outaouais Alliance, the intention of the meeting is "not to project any great strategy of our own, but rather to get people's input, ideas and observations."

Three of Alliance's directors, Graham Greig, Bill Young and Elizabeth McHenry, will be on hand in Shawville. They will present a brief talk, and then open the floor for questions or statements from the audience.

Bitter Pill

Asked about his organization's experiences so far in getting feedback from the Anglophone community on Quebec's sign laws, Harris admitted that, frankly, "It's hard to get people to talk about it."

His perception of public reaction to the language law is that people feel that "It's a bitter pill to swallow, but it doesn't change our day-to-day lives a great deal. People are just going about their lives the same as before."

The real effect of the government's language restrictions that is of the most concern to Outaouais Alliance is that "It would be one more negative thing that could perhaps encourage young people to settle somewhere else," said Harris. "We're going to try to monitor that as best we can."

Middlemiss does not plan to resign

by Denise Belec

In a telephone interview Monday afternoon, Pontiac MNA Robert Middlemiss said that resigning would be only one of his options to consider if Mr Bourassa doesn't come through on his promise to allow businesses in Pontiac to display bilingual signs. He added that he did not intend to quit for the time being.

Last December, Middlemiss voted in favour of Bill 178 because he had been promised an exception to the sign law for municipalities with large Anglophone populations.

Middlemiss said he would have to meet with Bourassa when the premier comes back from his European trip, and ask him what he intends to do about his promise concerning Bill 178.

According to Middlemiss, Premier Bourassa said in a television interview before leaving for Europe that any exceptions to Bill 178 would not come into effect until much later.

Middlemiss did not put a deadline on Bourassa's guarantee. "You cannot put a time limit on Quebec's language problems. As long as there's a light at the end of the tunnel, I won't give up."

Once he has met with Bourassa, Middlemiss will consult with his colleagues before deciding what to do.

Middlemiss said that there were two other available options besides resigning. One would be to sit as an independant and the other would be to keep things as they are.

Middlemiss said he would not feel comfortable quitting now, that it would be an egotistical solution. "It is not in my nature to leave when the going gets tough," said Middlemiss.

January 3 meeting

Sheen-Esher, Aberdeen & Malakoff Council

At the regular meeting of the Council of the Municipal Corporation of Sheen-Esher, Aberdeen and Malakoff held on January 3. Present were His Worship the Mayor Eldon Jennings and Councillors Robert Miller, Raymond Morris, Michael Sullivan, Patrick Keon, Carmelita Gleason and Leo Downey. All forming quorum under the presidency of the Mayor. Mr Don Marion, secretary-treasurer is also present.

Proposed by Raymond Morris seconded by Leo Downey that the minutes of meetings held December 6 and 13 be accepted as written.

Proposed by Leo Downey seconded by Pat Keon that the bills for the month of January in the amount of $2000.28 be paid.

Proposed by Mrs Carmelita Gleason seconded by Leo Downey that this Municipal Corporation ask the MRC Pontiac to study the market value of sales in this Municipality and adjust the properties accordingly on the 1990 evaluation roll.

It seems that the sale of river lots affects the median proportion of our Municipality which translates for higher MRC rates and school taxes.

Proposed by Robert Miller and Patrick Keon that the secretary-treasurer and mayor be authorized to pay utility bills upon receipt.

Proposed by Robert Miller and Michael Sullivan that the property owners as listed be given tax credits as there is no possibility of collecting such tax arrears totaling $104.37.

Proposed by Raymond Morris seconded by Michael Sullivan that the secretary-treasurer be given $100 per month travelling allocation.

Proposed by Leo Downey seconded by Michael Sullivan that this Municipal Council authorize Secretary-Treasurer to send all property owners owing 2 years or more taxes a notice that their properties will be sent to the MRC land sale in February unless such arrears are paid.

Proposed by Pat Keon seconded by Robert Miller that this Corporation notify the Chichester, Sheenboro fire department that we will pay 50% of material necessary to insulate the fire hall.

Proposed by Pat Keon seconded by Mrs Carmelita Gleason that this Corporation send a dontion of $100 to Alliance Quebec.

Mr Robert Miller declares that he abstains from discussion and voting on the following issue as there could be conflict of interest.

Whereas Mr Robert Miller had advised Council of his request for bush cutting rights on crown land in the sector of Trout Lake in the range 6, Township of Sheen.

Whereas Mr Miller had received approval of Consolidated Bathurst and Les Industries Fortin the two companies holding mandatory cutting rights in the designated area.

Whereas this project would create employment in this region of the Pontiac.

It is proposed by Leo Downey seconded by Raymond Morris that this Municipal Corporation ask the Ministry of Energy and Resources to grant Mr Miller's request of cutting rights, in this sector.

Accordingly, we would like to be notified of the reasons in the event this request receives a negative answer.

c.c. Robert Middlemiss, député du Pontiac; John Doehring, Consolidated Bathurst; Rémi Fortin, Industries Fortin; Robert Miller.

Proposed by Mrs Carmelita Gleason seconded by Raymond Morris that this meeting now be closed.

Société canadienne des postes
Fidèle à la promesse faite aux communautés rurales du Canada
Un accès facile et commode
Au printemps 1988, la Société canadienne des postes a pris un engagement ferme envers les Canadiens des zones rurales: elle a promis que les produits et services postaux deviendraient plus accessibles aux communautés rurales, communautés qu'elle juge de première importance.
En faisant appel aux ressources établies dans chaque communauté, la Société canadienne des postes a confié à des commerçants locaux la gestion d'un nombre sans cesse croissant de comptoirs postaux. Résultat: les services postaux sont plus accessibles, plus commodes et plus efficaces dans les zones rurales.
Des chiffres qui prouvent que nous tenons nos promesses
L'accès aux produits et services postaux dans les zones rurales s'est amélioré de façon spectaculaire. Dans le passé les heures d'ouverture étaient en moyenne de 29 heures par semaine. À la suite de notre engagement, cette moyenne a été portée à 65 heures par semaine: une augmentation de 126 %.
Promesse faite, promesse tenue
Nos efforts ont porté fruit. Des enquêtes récentes menées par une maison indépendante démontrent que la grande majorité des Canadiens des zones rurales considèrent que leur bureau de poste évolue dans la bonne direction pour assurer un meilleur service. Exactement comme nous l'avions promis.
Postes Canada est dans les zones rurales du Canada pour y rester. C'est promis.

Threat De-fused

When asked about the recently-publicized threat letter received by Outaouais Alliance, Harris disclosed that the person who sent the letter has been identified. "He was found to be a retired gentleman from Buckingham who had in the past sent many letters to politicians. He is known by the QPF not to be a violent person."

Apparently, said Harris, the man in question had no real intentions of perpetrating any violence or vandalism himself, but was merely warning of possible repercussions from Outaouais Alliance's stand on English rights.

The letter received a great deal of notoriety because it was received only a week after the December 30 arson incident at the offices of Alliance Quebec in Montreal.

By way of de-fusing the perceived threat against Outaouais Alliance, Harris reminded those concerned that, just as his organization found, any threats or vandalism over the issue "could be the work of one guy" rather than representative of a concerted effort by any organized group.

Why eat buffalo?

Well, for one thing, it tastes good! Very good! If you didn't know what you were eating, you'd probably think that it was the best beef you ever tasted. It has been said that "it tastes like meat used to taste", or that "it tastes like beef wished it tasted". Buffalo meat is just naturally flavorful and tender. You don't need to slop up a "buffalo burger" with a lot of guck. (Some ordinary hamburger sandwiches are more salad than meat!) Buffalo will make any recipe better and tastes great by itself.

And, it's not greasy, which brings up another point. The flavor in most meats is in the fat, but so are the calories and the cholesterol and saturated fats. With other meats, you trim off the fat (which you paid for) and try to cook it out and drain if off. But buffalo meat is tasty without the fat.

You get your money's worth. Buffalo meat is satisfying. It's concentrated". That's because what you pay for is mostly protein– pure, natural, wholesome protein– 25% to 30% more protein than beef. It doesn't shrink all up in cooking. So, pound for pound, it doesn't cost much more than "cheaper" meats.

It is horribly healthful. A long time ago, the Indians and frontiersmen who lived predominantly on buffalo meat had endurance, agility and stamina that we moderns find hard to believe– and they had few doctor bills! Some people, today, say they feel better with buffalo meat in their diet. There are real reasons for this. It won't upset your tummy, for one. And, buffalo, due to their nature, are handled as little as possible. They spend their lives on grass, pretty much as they always did, and spend very little time in the feed lot. Their meat is not full of drugs, antibiotics, nitrites, chemicals and stuff like diethylstilbesterol (artificial female sex homone). Buffalo are non-allergenic. People who cannot eat other meat can eat buffalo. In human medicine, people can be innoculated with serum made from buffalo blood without fear of dangerous reactions. Buffalo don't get cancer. There are at least two serious studies currently underway trying to find this immunity secret in buffalo blood. Buffalo meat is remarkably high in actomyosin, a compound associated with fast muscle action. So far, only the wild goose wing muscle has been found to ontain more actomyosin. We have barely begun to find out, scientifically, what the Indians knew all along!

Buffalo are no longer an endangered species. The slaughtered animals are surplus bulls from commercial buffalo ranches.

Consolidated Bathurst sold

surprise" to the local management, says Gray. "There was a cease-trading order yesterday (January 25th) on both Power and CBI shares," which led his office to suspect that something big was up.

But official word of the transaction was not received locally until about 10 a.m. Thursday.

Number One Animal

Cletus Ferrigan of Campbell's Bay, vice-president of production for Local 420 of the Canadian Paperworkers' Union, has a positive view of the future of the Portage mill.

"I think there's absolutely nothing to worry about," he said. "We have good people running our company. We make excellent pulp. I think we're going to continue to be competitive for many years to come."

Citing figures which indicate the high production and profitability of the mill, Ferrigan felt that CBI has other mills that would be shut down first in the event of a cutback.

"This is the cream of the crop of them all," he said. "We're a number-one animal. I feel confident that I'll finish out my work years here."

Although he agrees that jobs in the Pontiac are in no immediate danger, Keith Newman, research director at the Montreal office of the Canadian Paperworkers' Union, expresses some reservations about the deal. "I oppose it for national reasons because control of, and profits from, an important Canadian industry will be flowing to the US. Also, I am cautious about the future because Stone Corp. has a bad reputation on labour relations. We believe the government should stop the sale," he said.

According to Newman, all CBI collective agreements remain in force until May, 1990.

Stunned

Wallace Beardsell, manager of the Woodlands Division of CBI, which oversees the purchases of wood for the nearby pulp mill, says that his office was "stunned" by the take-over. But despite the fact that no news has come through from the head offices of CBI, he foresees no changes in operations for the time being.

John Telford, president of the Pontiac Forest Products Producers' Board, predicts that there will be no change in the short term from the sale. In the long term he wonders whether a US firm would be as sensitive to forest management as a Canadian firm. He characterizes CBI's former owners as being "good corporate citizens" with the foresight to make concessions to the producers needs "so that 40 or 50 years from now there will be wood for the mill."

Officials of Stone Corp. have been quoted as having "no immediate plans to tamper with success" regarding the purchase.

Midas learned the hard way

It is easy to believe that the recent wave of mergers, takeovers, buy-outs and factory closings are a direct result of free trade. However, the connection between the passing of the Free Trade Agreement and all this activity is that both are symptoms of changing values in Canada.

Stone Container's acquisition of Consolidated-Bathurst, the merger of Molson's with Carling-O'Keefe, PWA's buy-out of Wardair, Imperial Oil's purchase of Texaco Canada, E. B. Eddy's sale of its White Swan division to Scott Paper, the decision by Gillette to close down its Montreal factory, and by Northern Telecom to close its Aylmer plant have all occurred as a direct result of recent policy changes about the role of the government in controlling Canadian business practices.

There is legislation in Canada to restrict the formation of monopolies. There is legislation to review foreign takeovers of important Canadian firms. However, over the past few years the federal government has made it quite clear that it has no intention of using these laws to seriously investigate any such transactions. "Canada is open for business", quoth the leader, and business has reacted.

It is greed that is driving many of these acquisitions, not simply a "rationalization of resources" as the apologists explain. It used to be that greed was a sin. Today, after almost a century of Freudian analysis, avarice has become merely a psychological illness, to be understood and condoned. For many, naked greed is now an approved motivating force. It matters little that those promoting this philosophy have often ended up in jail.

There will be no improvement in Consolidated-Bathurst's competitive position, nationally or internationally, as a result of its sale to the American giant. It is possible that additional sales will be made to the parent company, but at a reduced price. Additional profits, if any, will be created at the American end of the deal.

When a billion dollars over market value is paid for what is already an efficiently-run competitive company, it is evident that the only real change taking place is that someone, already with more discretionary money than Canada's government, has now one more toy to play with. That Canada has lost control of one more component of its economy and its natural resources is apparently of negligible significance.

The rest of the big deals are the same. Before the last election, when the Free Trade Agreement was under attack, Canadians were told that Canadian industry was capable of competing elsewhere. Now the propaganda is that integration with the American companies is necessary to meet European and Asian competition.

The message the managers of big business are reading in the entrails of the federal election is that greed, for power and for gold, is now in fashion, and they are acting on this while they have a chance. Midas had to destroy everything he thought important before he understood the horror of his greed. Perhaps Canadians will learn the lesson at an earlier stage.

With reference to the article in the January 18th EQUITY concerning the snowplowing of Provincial highways, it should be noted that the contract for the maintenance of Highways 301 and 303 belongs to D & H Zacharias Equipment Rentals, in which Doug Zacharias is a partner with his uncle Herbie.

THE EQUITY has been informed by Mrs Betty Donnelly of Pembroke that the cottage that was destroyed by fire on Allumettes Island on Thursday, January 12 belongs to Mr Gilbert Donnelly of Pembroke. Their son Tony was living in the cottage at the time of the fire.

Alternative household cleaning products

by Arleen Prost for Pontiac Environmental Protection

Here's a list of alternatives that are safer for you and the environment, to replace the more toxic products which most of us currently use.

You may be pleasantly surprised at how well they work and how inexpensive they are.

All purpose cleaner. 1/2 cup ammonia. 1/2 cup white vinegar. 1/4 cup baking soda. 1/2 gallon water.

Warning. Never mix chlorine bleach and ammonia. Deadly chloramine fumes are produced. Never mix chlorine bleach with vinegar or certain toilet bowl cleaners. Deadly chlorine gas is produced.

Oven Cleaner. Baking soda is best for normal cleaning. A water solution of soda will remove grease. Following a large spill, sprinkle with salt immediately. When the oven is cool, the spill can be brushed and the oven wiped. Sprinkle stubborn spots with dry baking soda, leave on for 15 minutes and scrub with a damp cloth. Severe spots should be scraped off. Not even commercial cleaners will get them without scrubbing.

When the oven is especially bad, pure ammonia can be used as a cheap, biodegradable, and safer alternative to commercial cleaners. Set oven on warm for about 20 minutes, then turn it off. Place 1/4 cup ammonia in a non-aluminum shallow dish and fill with water. Leave in center of oven overnight. In the morning, open oven door and let air several minutes. Ammonia vapours can be toxic in high concentrations so make sure there is adequate ventilation. Ammonia can be bought scented with lemon. Leftover smells after cleaning can be eliminated by baking orange peels. (Caution: moist ammonia gas may cause corrosion of copper, avoid contact with thermostats and other parts made of copper.)

Drain Cleaner. The strong acids and bases used for drains are not safe for the plumbing or for personal health. Use preventative measures. Keep drains free of grease, food scraps and hair.

PEP Rally successful

The Pontiac Environmental Protection organization (PEP) held a successful fundraising dance at Don McCredie's RVI in Norway Bay on January 27th. During the evening the group raffled off a sweater knitted by Marilee DeLombard, and a $25 certificate from the World Wildlife Fund in Toronto guaranteeing that one acre of rainforest in Latin America will be protected from destruction. Winner of the sweater was René Corriveau of Calumet Island. Françoise Chartrand of Fort Coulonge, right, won the "Guardians of the Rainforest" certificate. In the centre is Arleen Prost of Ladysmith, president of PEP, who announced the group's plan to undertake a local public education program on the benefits of composting.

Rustic Rhetoric

by. E.B.W. Mulligan

Masquerading?

Word came from Canada in 1850 that land was available at low cost or no cost in the Ottawa Valley to different sections in Ireland.

George Stacey was twenty-five, tall with a dark complexion, married to Deidre and they had a year-old daughter Della, natives of County Down. John Mullins was forty, husky, red-headed, strong, quick-witted, married to Ann. They had a seventeen-year-old daughter Joan. Three of their children had died in an epidemic and they were looking for a new start.

Both families crossed the channel to Scotland and embarked on The Duchess Mae in Glasgow. This ship was equipped with a small steam engine and a full set of sails. The motor would help the sail ship against the prevailing westerly winds and keep it moving when there was no wind and could be used to pump out the bilge.

The trip was slower than usual and about halfway over a terrible outbreak of colera struck the ship. Joan's parents both succumbed to the dreaded epidemic leaving her stranded on board with only poorly written instructions on where and how she could contact her relatives near Richmond in Upper Canada and all their worthy possessions.

They buried both her parents in the mid-Atlantic and she was put under the escort and custody of the ships mate. The funeral service was performed by an Anglican Minister who was emigrating to Canada. Days after, it was learned that the Mullins were unregistered Catholics and the Minister contacted a Scottish priest who was also heading for Canada and explained what had happened. They made an unwritten agreement to attend all future burials at sea together, if and when they happened.

This burial had been attended by all able to come up out of the hold. The sea coffins were really cribs made out of old torn sails sewed together so as to cover the body and with stones from the ballasts used to sink the body to the oceans depths. The clergymen appealed to the relatives and friends of the departed's sensitivities, but the spiritual side of the Irish can never be discounted.

The next thing that happened to the crew and passengers of The Duchess Mae was that they encountered an extra large cluster of iceberg calves. This confrontation held them back for nearly two weeks.

Joan, in the meantime, was caring for other passengers who also had lost dear ones on this terrible trip to the unknown. During her escape moments, she came upon a sad case where Deidre Stacey, sick with the colera, was lamenting the death of her daughter Della, while at the same time dying herself. George, her husband was despondent and destraught.

Deidre and her baby died and were buried at sea like the rest. The Anglican Minister performed the two burial services and was assisted by the Catholic Priest. It was said and written down that they were like judges. They recorded and were the only ones who could communicate between the despondent passengers and God.

The Duchess Mae finally landed at Grosse Isle near Quebec City where the passengers and crew were interned or quaranteed until the colera epidemic subsided. Joan was a daughter of a disenfranchised Catholic family and George, a son of Ireland, who wanted out to get away from the cyclical problems and the usual future.

Joan had 57 British Pounds when she was released, a fortune to her. At Quebec City, she bought a man's suit and rigged herself out to be able to pass as a man. It was considered unsafe for a young woman to travel and she had to go to Richmond to look up some relatives who were supposed to live there. Joan changed her name to John Murray and dressed like a man and had 51 British pounds left.

George left Grosse Isle with 110 British pounds the day after Joan and tried to find her in Quebec. After a few days, he gave up and left Quebec City on the same steamer as her but he didn't know she was masquerading as John.

They and most of the passengers were whisked through Montreal, because they would not accept any recent immigrants from Europe. George had relatives in Pontiac and John thought that he (she) could find relatives in Richmond. They embarked on the Lady Simpson at Lachine.

Ode to the old Pontiac

There's always a ball at the Pontiac
Where the farmer, the banker, the lumberjack,
Assemble to pass the time of day
With Molson, O'Keefe, or a cold I.P.A.

Where the Hodginses, Horners and the poorer folk
Recall old times; tell the latest joke,
The battles they won, the fish they hooked
The Buicks they rolled, and never got booked,

The trout they outwitted, the creel that sagged
The moose they poached, the ducks they bagged,
The 85 grey and 6 pound fillies,
In a lake that was owned by Eddy or Gillies.

The partridge they shot on the side of the road
With their gun at the hip, while holding a load.
The stories you hear by the day by the hour,
Like a paragraph penned by our friend Vern Bower,

And just when the evening's well on its way
A fellow gets stoned, on his last I.P.A.
He is propped in the corner, his hands on his chest,
For the next three days he will quietly rest.

This poem's amiss if I didn't toast,
The owner Len Beaupre, our elegant host,
Who serves with decorum and never objects,
To cashing our empties, our N.S.F. cheques.

Yes, when I am old and aged and grey,
I hope that my Caddy will wend its way
To a place where I'm sure, they'll welcome me back,
In Shawville, on Main, at the old Pontiac!

Will E. Getsoused 1945

Need for playground equipment

Dear Editor:

The Home and School Association of Dr S E McDowell School sees an urgent need for playground equipment for all the students at the school. We would like to make the general public aware of our goals and what we are doing to raise funds for this project.

We are interested in obtaining wooden play structures with tubular pieces and items that can be built on over the years. This type of equipment comes with a very large price tag. To begin anything we will be looking at is in the $10,000 to $15,000 range. It is a large amount of money which we realize is not going to be raised overnight. We are starting our fundraising on March 11, 1989, with a St Patrick's dinner and dance to be held at Dr S E McDowell School from 7 pm to 1 am.

The dinner and dance music will be supplied by the disc jockey Virtronics. They cater to the wants of the crowd and will be sure to have some Irish music for us this night. If you are going to be away at this time and would like to contribute towards our equipment, please feel free to do so. Donations of any amount can be dropped off at the school or to any Home and School member.

Tickets are available at the school office, Carmichael's Store in Bristol, W A Hodgins Store in Shawville or from any Home and School member.

Dine and dance away the winter blues at our St Patrick's dinner and dance and think of what our children will gain from it.

Rita Beimers, Chairperson
Home and School Association

Something overlooked

Dear Editor:

There is much talk these days about multiculturism, that is preserving, respecting and recognizing the various cultures in our society, whether of long standing or recent. Upon reflection of this situation I see anxiety over preserving French culture has persisted over the years to a degree that it seems obsessive now. The English fear losing their "heritage". The Germans and Italians clique together in their perspective clubs. The Orientals practice their rituals on the streets occasionally and otherwise rarely assimilate generally into society. Sikhs and Hindi wish to display their garb and cutlery to emphasize their individuality. The native or American Indian generally portrays the underdog and feel their heritage has been swept away by the onslaught of all this multiculturism. We hide behind our church denominations or form cults.

My question is, are we missing something very important in the overall perspective of this collective multicultural society?

We are all men and women, adult and child. We are all united in this fact that we are all part of the human family. We have so much in common as just people, that should be emphasized rather than each culture. We all need love and we all need to love. We all have the same bodily structures and functions in varying proportions. We all have a need for expression, for self esteem and responsibility. Why the emphasis on culture. Why can't we just appreciate one another and mingle instead of so much segregation and emphasis on each others cultures?

There is a value in each and every person alive on this earth regardless of race, skin or culture. The valuing of each other as human beings first, rather than each particular culture to which each belongs is the greater perspective.

Yours for the Human Family,
Vona R Mallory,

THE WAY WE WERE in THE EQUITY

Compiled by Richard Wills

25 Years Ago

January 30, 1964

Bridge Has 10 Days. The historic and picturesque covered bridge across the Coulonge River just west of Fort Coulonge has been in need of repair for a long time and in fact the time has come for it to be either rebuilt or removed. Either of these can be done with a large winter works grant from the government, and work was scheduled to begin on Monday. At the parish hall last Friday night about 150 people attended the meeting of the municipal council, with some making strong pleas to preserve the bridge. The council decided to postpone demolition of the bridge for two weeks.

Bowling. Mr Phillippe Mignault opened the new Coulonge Bowling Alley on Sunday, offering free games and demonstrations by professionals.

UIC Office. The Campbell's Bay Chamber of Commerce is campaigning to reverse the decision by the Unemployment Insurance Commission to close the office in Campbell's Bay as of Feb 12.

Hockey. The Shawville Pontiacs defeated Arnprior-Packenham 7-2 last night. Paddy O'Donnell clicked for three goals, with singles to Ken Christink, Carson Ryan, and Bill and Barrie Murray.

Married. In Otter Lake on December 28th, Irene Rose, daughter of Mr and Mrs Martin Kluke Jr of Omer, married Austin Jr, son of Austin Clarke of Quyon.

At St Andrew's United Church on December 21st, Dorothy Annie May, daughter of Mr and Mrs Clifford Greer of Charteris, married Oswald Joseph, son of Mr and Mrs James Stafford of Campbell's Bay.

School Burns. The Roman Catholic school at Campbell's Bay was destroyed by a fire of unknown origin at 2:30 Tuesday morning. The building was of brick veneer, three stories high, containing four class rooms. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Married. On January 21st in Shawville, Florabel, daughter of Mr and Mrs Winson Hodgins of Portage du Fort, to William John Wallace, son of Mr and Mrs Thomas Wallace of Murrell's, Clarendon.

Ag. Society. At the annual meeting of the Pontiac Agricultural Society No 1, held on Tuesday afternoon, Mr Lorne Armstrong was elected president for the ensuing year, with Mr R W Hodgins retaining the office of Secretary-Treasurer.

Hockey. In a scheduled Pontiac senior hockey game played at Campbell's Bay last Friday night, Fort Coulonge won a 3 to 2 decision in overtime. Scorers for C Bay were E Johnston and C Loken, and for Coulonge were Dempsey (2) and Laport.

In the Pontiac Senior League, Shawville defeated Campbell's Bay 5-2. Scoring for Shawville were Red Dale (2), C Hyndman, H Dale, and S Langford. For C Bay were E Ranger and E Johnston.

Carnival. Although weather conditions were not favorable to the carnival held at the new rink in Shawville last Wednesday night, there was after all a good attendance, including representatives from Bristol, Portage, Bryson, Campbell's Bay and Coulonge, as well as the townsfolk. About fifty dressed for the event in costume. Some were attractive and some grotesque, the whole combining to make a rather dazzling moving picture under the soft rays of a string of electric lights.

The village band occupied the main gallery during the evening, and rendered a program of popular selections with good effect. Those from a distance were much struck with the appearance of the new rink.

Prize winners included: Fancy costume – Mrs Baker; Comic – Mrs Woodley; Clown – I Thomson; Men's race – H Lester; Boys' – A Dagg; Ladies – Mrs Woodley.

Norway Bay. Norway Bay is not to become a separate municipality for a while yet. The bill to secure its incorporation came up in the provincial legislature last Wednesday, and was killed on a vote of 16 to 17. Mr Campbell, the local member, presented a petition from the Bristol council against the bill, and denied that many people resided at the Bay in winter. They were all there in summer, said he, but those who remained there in winter were in the cemetery. Our own "George" does not speak very often, but when the spirit moves him, he ususally hands out some pretty cold facts.

Ag Society. As is usually the case, a small crowd attended the annual meeting of the Agricultural Society for the purpose of electing directors. Complaint is often heard that a certain man or set of men are running the Society to suit their own ends, yet when it comes to the time when a change can be made, the complainers are generally conspicuous in their absence.

At the late meeting the majority of the 1913 board were re-elected.

Born. At Lower Litchfield on Jan 19th, to Mr and Mrs Edward Dale, a son.

Snow. Heaviest snow storm of the season on Sunday night and Monday last. Plenty for all purposes of traffic in this section now. The PP&J had recourse to its little snow plough on Monday morning.

Chapeau. We are sure the people of Chapeau and vicinity will appreciate the efforts being put forth by our local member to have the circuit court re-established in their midst. That he is likely to succeed there seems little doubt.

Shawville. In consequence of the ever-increasing attendance at the Academy in this village, the Commissioners have found it necessary to engage another teacher, which will bring the staff up to three – the largest number employed by any school in the county.

Vinton Vapours. The people of this section, those of them who have the time to spare, are busily engaged drawing stone from the Calumet Island quarry to be used in the erection of the new R C church, which will be rapidly pushed to completion with the opening of spring.

Mr C Turpain has closed his store here and removed the goods to Bryson. I understand he will not open out again in this place. Quite a large number of teams have passed here recently, laden with shanty supplies. Wm Gilchrist's hotel offers first-class accommodation to travellers.

Canada Post Corporation

Delivering on our promise in rural Canada

Accessibility and convenience

In the spring of 1988, Canada Post Corporation made an important commitment to people living in rural areas of Canada: a promise to make postal products and services more accessible to these important communities.

By working with businesses in communities more and more postal outlets are now operated by local merchants, resulting in more accessible and more convenient postal services than ever before.

The facts and figures are in – the promise is paying off

Accessibility to our products and services has been dramatically improved. In the past, hours of service averaged 29 hours per week. Our new commitment has improved the average hours of service to 65 hours per week. An increase of 126%.

More proof of our promise

Our efforts are working. Independent surveys continue to show that an overwhelming majority of rural Canadians surveyed believe that the post office is moving in the right direction towards better service. Just as we promised.

Canada Post is in rural Canada to stay. That's a promise.

McDowell hosts tournament

Matthew Carmichael, left, and Paul Lang, of Grade 6 at Dr S E McDowell Elementary in Shawville, make a good return against Wakefield in the Western Quebec School Board volleyball tournament held at McDowell on January 26th. Students from Onslow, Chelsea, Wakefield, South Hull, and Aylmer elementary schools travelled to Shawville for the day-long tournament. McDowell Phys-Ed teacher Muriel Davies commented that the McDowell teams did very well, and that all the participants improved their skills as the day progressed.

Novice hockey tournament

by Gilles Gervais

The Fort Coulonge Minor Hockey Association held their 10th Annual Novice Tournament on Saturday, January 28th at the Fort Coulonge arena. A total of 8 teams participated in the one day event. There were two teams from Fort Coulonge, the Whalers and Draveurs. Also two teams from Pembroke, Wally's and Canadian Tire; one team from Gatineau, Renfrew, Cobden and Westmeath.

The nice weather helped bring many people to the games all day Saturday.

The 'A' finals was won by Gatineau with a score of 4 to 0 over Westmeath. In the 'B' finals Pembroke's Canadian Tire were the winners against the Fort Coulonge Whalers 5 to 2.

Trophies and gifts were presented for individual efforts. The Most Valuable Player for Gatineau in the 'A' division was Steve Bradley. The MVP for Westmeath was Matthew Watson.

In the 'B' division the MVP for Pembroke's Canadian Tire went to Danny Venne, the MVP for the Fort Coulonge Whalers was won by Martin Dubé.

The top scorer of the tournament was Danny Venne of Pembroke, he scored 5 goals and 2 assists for 7 points in 3 games.

The best goalie was Jean-Francois Morin of Gatineau.

Tournament president Gilles Masseau said that the one day event was a success thanks to the volunteer help of the coaches and the parents.

A total of 23 sponsors from Fort-Coulonge and Mansfield made donations. The J.E. Boyle R.A. gave teeshirts to each MVP of the tournament.

The girst game started at 8 am and the last game ended at approximately 6:30 pm. $290 was picked up at the gate and $361 was collected by selling different items for a total of $651 that will go to the Fort-Coulonge Minor Hockey Association.

Fort Coulonge Bantams win over Shawville and Nepean

by Gilles Gervais

The Fort Coulonge Bantam hockey team played two close games this past weekend.

The first game was played on Friday, January 27th at the Fort Coulonge arena against the Shawville Bantams. It was a good close game, only three goals were scored. The first period ended by a 1-0 score in favour of the Coulonge team. No goals were scored in the second period, but Shawville tied the score at 7.18 of the third period on an unassisted goal by Trevor Stewart. The winning goal was scored by Stephane Mousseau, who had also scored the first goal of the game. There was only 1.56 left to play in the third period when Mousseau beat goalie Benoit Lee. Billy Smith and Terry Bevvan each had 1 assist for Fort Coulonge.

Coulonge Bantam coach Michel Soucie said that his yound goalie Marc Bourque made some excellent saves to help his team win the game. Soucie also gave alot of credit to both teams for playing a good game.

Goalie Marc Bourque, who played 9 games as a forward, has 12 goals and 8 assists for a total of 20 points, not bad at all for a goalie.

The Fort Coulonge Bantams travelled all the way to Nepean (Detroit Red Wings captain Steve Yzerman's hometown) on Saturday, January 28th to play the Nepean Bantam team.

Like the game against Shawville it was a one goal decision hockey game. The Coulonge team won by a score of 3 to 2.

Jean-Pierre Hereault and Terry Bevvan led their team to victory with 1 goal and 1 assist each. Brent Nadeau had the other goal for the winners. Jean-Pierre Romain collected 2 assists and Stephane Béland had 1 assist.

There are 7 Bantam teams in Nepean and the one that the Coulonge team beat on Saturday is currently in first place in their league.

The Coulonge team have not lost a game since the new year. Since the beginning of the seaon they have a record of 14 wins, 7 losses and 2 ties in 23 games.

The Fort Coulonge Bantams play in the Pembroke tournament Saturday, February 4th and Sunday, February 5th at Pem-Ice II.

Pontiac National Midget Hockey

The Shawville Minor Hockey Association is busy planning the biggest hockey tournament of the year.

The Pontiac National Midget Hockey Tournament will be held February 19, 20, 21 and 22.

In order that this tournament may continue to be an event in this area, they are looking forward to community support.

The souvenir program booklet will be revamped this year and sponsor pages will continue to be published for all donations of less than $50.00. All donations over this amount will be published with particulars of the business donating.

Any proceeds from this tournament will go towards the betterment of Minor Hockey in this area.

In the past, the Pontiac National Midget Tournament has been the major sponsor of the annual hockey school as well as subsidizing the registration costs, by encouraging early registration. This enables the Minor Hockey system to better plan such things as ice scheduling, coaching staff, etc.

Detective Marcel Boudria with the seized marijuana and .22 calibre revolver.

Nine pounds of pot seized

A 43-year-old Mansfield man appeared in court last Thursday, January 21 on charges of possession of cannabis for trafficking and possession of a restricted firearm without a permit.

The man was arrested following an investigation by the Campbell's Bay detachment of the Quebec Police Force.

Marcel Boudria, one of the investigators in the case, said that police had discovered that the Mansfield man had a marijuana plantation last summer and that he was selling in the region.

Boudria said they found nine pounds of marijuana, street valued at $2025, on the suspects property, and a loaded .22 calibre revolver in his vehicle.

Boudria said that at this time of year, nine pounds is considered to be a large amount.

The investigators in the case, Boudria, Cpl Lagacé, Denis Lamothe, and officer Jean-François Cloutier were assisted by the QPF drug detecting dog and his master from Montreal.

Pontiac crime and accidents up in 1988

The number of tickets issued by the Quebec Police Force for infractions of the Highway Safety Code decreased by 16.5% in 1988, compared to the 1987 statistics. During this time, however, the number of accidents increased by 2.7%

Crime statistics over the same period showed a small increase of 2%, but the rate at which they were solved decreased dramatically from 51% in 1987 to 32% in 1988.

According to Sgt Carol Hamel, who is in charge of the Campbell's Bay office of the Quebec Police Force, criminal investigation and patrolling of the highways were hampered in 1988 by the accidental deaths of two officers last spring, and by a high turnover in police personnel in Pontiac.

"Now we are back to full force and there will be a lot more police activity to bring these numbers down," said Sgt Hamel.

The increase in crimes committed over the past year is detailed in the table elsewhere on this page. The largest increase of all categories was in car theft which went up by 59.3%.

According to Sgt Hamel the reported thefts were due mostly to owner negligence. "Owners would leave their cars unlocked with the keys in," said Hamel. "The population should not be surprised with an increased police intervention in that area." That means the police will be carrying out more checks to ensure that car doors are locked.

Break and entries went up 31.8%, while armed robberies went down 50%. Sergeant Hamel noted that many of the break-and-entries remaining unsolved are part of three series of crimes, which he feels will be solved shortly.

Accidents

Vehicle accidents were up by 2.7% in 1988, 444 compared to 432.

"December was the worst month for accidents in 1988," said Sgt Hamel. He added that had it not been for December the number of accidents would have been down in 1988.

There were two more fatal accidents in 1988 than in 1987.

There were 12 more accidents causing injuries and only two more accidents causing material damages in 1988.

Sgt Hamel hopes that more police checks on Pontiac's highways in 1989 will reduce these numbers.

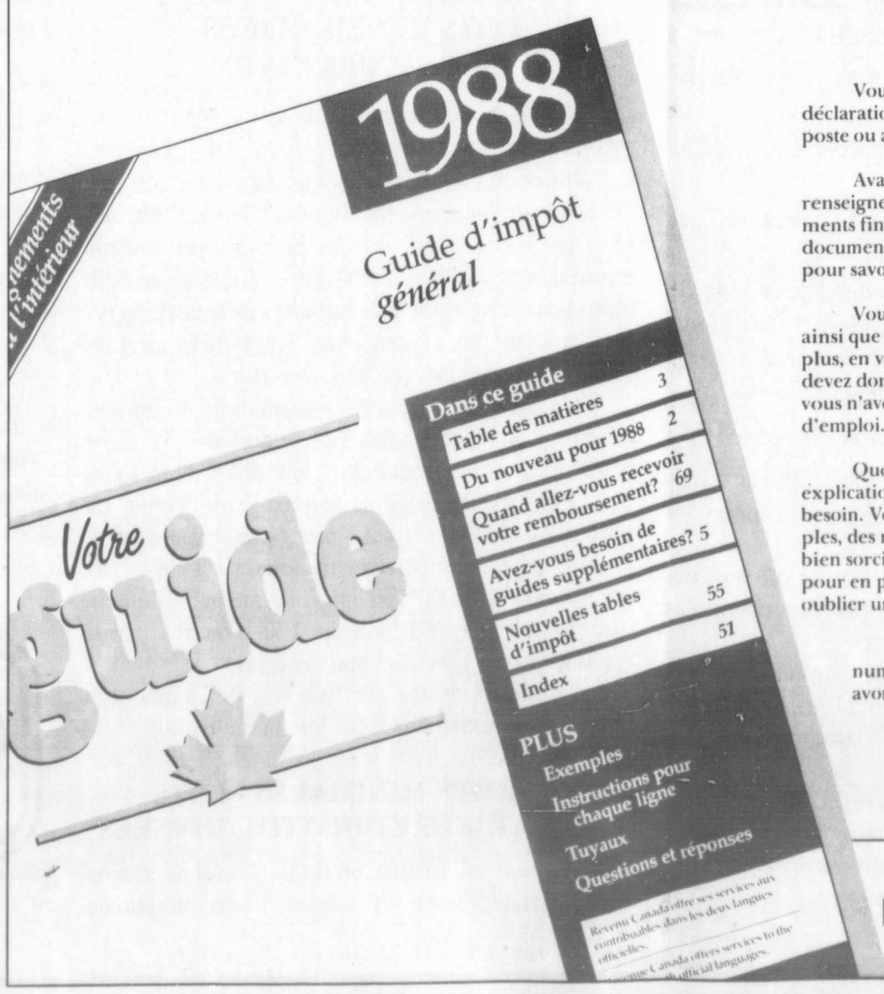
Vous l'avez sûrement reçu…mais avez-vous reçu tous vos reçus?



Vous avez sans doute déjà reçu le Guide d'impôt général de 1988 avec votre déclaration. Sinon, vous pouvez vous en procurer un exemplaire au bureau de poste ou au bureau du district d'impôt le plus près de chez vous.

Avant de remplir votre déclaration, vous aurez besoin de divers feuillets de renseignements et reçus (T4, T5, 740AS, etc.). Votre employeur et les établissements financiers avec lesquels vous faites affaire doivent vous envoyer tous ces documents d'ici la mi-mars. Si vous ne les avez pas reçus, consultez votre guide pour savoir ce que vous devez faire.

Vous devez inscrire dans votre déclaration votre numéro d'assurance sociale ainsi que votre adresse. Votre déclaration sera ainsi traitée plus rapidement. De plus, en vertu d'une disposition législative adoptée par le Parlement en 1988, vous devez donner votre numéro d'assurance sociale à vos établissements financiers. Si vous n'avez pas de numéro d'assurance sociale, demandez-en un à votre centre d'emploi.

Quoi qu'il en soit, consultez sans tarder le Guide général. Il vous donne des explications précises et une liste de guides particuliers dont vous aurez peut-être besoin. Vous y trouverez, de plus, une description détaillée, accompagnée d'exemples, des nouveaux crédits d'impôt et de la façon de les demander. Il n'y a rien de bien sorcier dans ces nouveaux crédits, mais n'attendez pas à la dernière minute pour en prendre connaissance. Consultez l'étape 4 de votre guide afin de ne pas oublier un crédit auquel vous avez droit.

Si vous avez des questions, appelez-nous ou venez nous voir. La liste des numéros de téléphone où nous joindre est donnée à la fin du guide. Nous avons prolongé les heures de service téléphonique pour mieux vous servir.

SOMMAIRE
SCHÉMA D'AMÉNAGEMENT

INTRODUCTION

Le schéma d'aménagement de la M.R.C. de Pontiac était adopté par le Conseil des Maires le 8 décembre 1986. Au cours des 21 mois qui suivirent, il fallut négocier certains changements avec les Ministères de l'Énergie et des Ressources et de l'Environnement au niveau des terres publiques et à celui de la protection des berges.

Finalement, le 13 septembre 1988, le Ministre des Affaires Municipales, l'Honorable Pierre Paradis, nous informait que notre schéma était en vigueur.

Conformément à la loi et à une autorisation du Ministre, nous devons en publier un sommaire pour la date d'aujourd'hui (1er fév. 1989).

CONSÉQUENCES DE L'ENTRÉE EN VIGUEUR

A partir de l'entrée en vigueur du schéma d'aménagement, les 20 municipalités-membres ont 24 mois pour adopter leurs plans directeurs d'urbanisme et leurs règlements de zonage, de lotissement et de construction, et pour les rendre conformes aux données du schéma.

LE SCHÉMA D'AMÉNAGEMENT ET LES RÈGLEMENTS

Il est important de comprendre que le schéma d'aménagement est un document "politique" qui n'a aucune valeur réglementaire directe. Un contribuable ne peut pas être accusé d'avoir contrevenu à une des provisions du schéma d'aménagement; un contribuable ne peut contrevenir qu'au règlement de contrôle intérimaire de la M.R.C., s'il s'applique dans sa municiaplité ou à un des règlements d'urbanisme de sa municipalité.

C'est parce que le schéma contient l'ensemble des "politiques" décidées par le Conseil des Maires de la M.R.C. que les municipalités-membres doivent, d'ici le 13 septembre 1990, adopter leurs règlements d'urbanisme pour qu'ils soient conformes aux "politiques" définies dans le schéma. Ce sont ces règlements des municipalités locales qui donnent 'des dents' au schéma de la M.R.C.

OBJECTIFS GÉNÉRAUX ET GRANDES ORIENTATIONS

Le premier chapitre du document examine la situation actuelle et les problèmes qui en découlent, alors que le deuxième chapitre identifie les objectifs et les grandes orientations nécessaires à la solution des problèmes identifiés.

Conscient que la population de la M.R.C. est à la baisse, que ses ressources forestières sont utilisées majoritairement pas des usines situées en-dehors de ses frontières, que son activité manufacturière est marginale, que ses commerces sont négativement affectés par notre proximité à l'Ontario, le Conseil des Maires de la M.R.C. a choisi les objectifs généraux et grandes orientations suivantes:

1. Prévoir et promouvoir l'éventualité de la transformation locale d'une plus grande proportion de la récolte annuelle de la ressource forestière.
2. Prévoir et promouvoir le développement intensif des bonnes terres agricoles et la libération des terres marginales pour d'autres sortes de développement.
3. Prévoir et promouvoir le développement du tourisme grande nature et du tourisme culturel, de même que l'intensification du tourisme de villégiature, le tout nécessitant une amélioration des infrastructures de transport.
4. Prévoir et promouvoir une accélération du développement industriel de toutes natures.
5. Prévoir et promouvoir le rapatriement des activités commerciales et de service à partir de l'Ontario vers le Pontiac.
6. Assurer la protection de l'environnement dans le contexte des autres objectifs.
7. Favoriser la mise en place d'équipement intermunicipaux, tels les arenas, centre récréatif, piscine, etc., de même que le développement d'un corridor récréatif sur le droit de passage abandonné par le Canadien Pacifique.
8. Réussir à mieux concerter les objectifs gouvernementaux avec ceux de la M.R.C.

LES GRANDES AFFECTATIONS SUR LES TERRES PUBLIQUES

Ce sont les divers ministères impliqués, sous l'oeil coordonnateur du Ministère des Affaires municipales, qui ont décidé des grandes affectations pour les terres publiques. L'influence du Conseil des Maires sur ces affectations a été minimale. La carte d'affectation peut être consultée à la M.R.C. ou aux bureaux de chaque municipalité.

LES AFFECTATIONS POUR LES TERRES PRIVÉES

Vu l'état de sous-développement de notre territoire, le Conseil des Maires a prévu le minimum de contraintes à toutes les sortes de développement.

La carte d'affectation prévoit les zones suivantes:

1. Zone agricole permanente.
2. Parties de la zone agricole permanente à être libérées pour d'autres sortes de développement; le Conseil des Maires commence tout juste à négocier ce dézonage avec la Commission de protection du territoire agricole.
3. Un périmètre d'urbanisation autour de chacune des agglomérations existantes.
4. La valorisation des berges de tous les plans d'eau pour y permettre la villégiature.
5. Une grande superficie de zones récréo-touristiques.
6. Un certain nombre de zones où le patrimoine doit être protégé.
7. Quelques zones d'infrastructure et d'équipements inter-municipaux.
8. Une zone d'aménagement différée le long de l'ancienne voie ferrée du Canadien Pacifique.

LES PÉRIMÈTRES D'URBANISATION

Le Conseil des Maires a classifié par ordre d'importance relative au développement toutes les agglomérations existantes.

Shawville, Campbell's Bay, Mansfield/Fort-Coulonge et Chapeau/Chichester ont été classifiées agglomérations de premier ordre.

Bryson, Danford Lake, Grand Calumet (Village), Ladysmith, Otter Lake, Portage du Fort, Rapides des Joachims et Waltham sont classifiées agglomérations de 2ième ordre.

Chichester (Village), Davidson, Demers Centre, Desjardinsville, Nikabeau, Norway Bay/Bristol, St-Joseph, Sheenboro et Vinton sont classifiées agglomérations de 3ième ordre.

Les cartes détaillées montrant les frontières de chacun des périmètres d'urbanisation peuvent être consultées à la M.R.C. et aux bureaux de chacune des municipalités.

ZONES D'INONDATION

Bien que le gouvernement provincial n'a pas encore identifié les zones exactes d'inondation, le document du schéma inclut des cartes provisoires pour les zones d'inondation à Norway Bay, Pine Lodge, Baie à Webb, Grand Calumet, Campbell's Bay, Mansfield, Fort-Coulonge, Davidson, Devonshire, Waltham et Chapeau.

Ces cartes peuvent être consultées à la M.R.C. ou à chacune des municipalités.

ZONES DE GLISSEMENT DE TERRAIN

Des cartes indiquent les zones dans Bristol, Clarendon, Campbell's Bay et Litchfield sont aussi disponibles.

RÉSEAU ROUTIER

Le schéma prévoit l'amélioration de tout le réseau routier et l'éventuelle liaison par le côté québécois de Rapides des Joachims.

NORMES MINIMALES - GÉNÉRALITÉS

Le document complémentaitre du schéma indique certaines normes minimales qui doivent être intégrées aux règlements municipaux de zonage, de lotissement et de construction pour que ceux-ci soient conformes aux objectifs et orientations du schéma.

NORMES MINIMALES - CADASTRE

Dans la plupart des situations où un propriétaire cède ou vend une partie de sa propriété, le cadastre continuera d'être obligatoire aux mêmes conditions que sous l'empire du Règlement de contrôle intérimaire présentement en vigueur.

NORMES MINIMALES - LOTS RÉSIDENTIELS ET COMMERCIAUX

A moins de 100 mètres d'un cours d'eau ou 300 mètres d'un lac, la largeur minimale d'un lot résidentiel ou commercial est de 30 mètres lorsque désservi par l'aqueduc ou l'égout et de 45.72 mètres (150 pieds) lorsque non désservi. La profondeur minimum est de 61 mètres. D'autre part, la superificie minimale est de 1,858 mètres carrés lorsque désservi par l'aqueduc ou l'égout et de 3,716 mètres carrés (40,000 pi. car.) lorsque non désservi.

A plus de 100 mètres d'un cours d'eau ou de 300 mètres d'un lac, la largeur minimale d'un lot résidentiel ou commercial est de 22.76 mètres (75 pieds) lorsque désservi par l'aqueduc ou l'égout. La profondeur dans ce cas, n'est pas réglementée. D'autre part, la superficie minimale est de 1,393 mètres carrés (15,000 pi. car.) lorsque partiellement désservi alors qu'elle est de 2,787 mètres carrés (30,000 pi. car.) lorsque non désservi.

Les dimensions des lots désservis par l'aqueduc et l'égout sont réglementés par les municipalités.

NORMES MINIMALES - LOTS INDUSTRIELS ET INSTITUTIONNELS

La largeur minimale d'un lot industriel ou institutionnel est de 50 mètres (164 pieds) dans tous les cas.

La profondeur minimale de ces lots est de 61 mètres (200 pieds) lorsque situés à 100 mètres d'un cours d'eau ou 300 mètres d'un lac. Dans les autres circonstances, la profondeur n'est pas réglementée.

D'autre part, la superficie d'un lot industriel ou institutionnel est de 3,000 mètres carrés lorsque situé à moins de 100 mètres d'un cours d'eau ou 300 mètres d'un lac. Dans les autres cas, la superficie minimale est de 3,700 mètres carrés (40,000 pi. car.). Les normes minimales des lots industriels et institutionnels désservis par l'aqueduc et l'égout sont fixées par l'autorité municipale locale.

NORMES MINIMALES - CONSTRUCTION - CADASTRE

Le cadastre est obligatoire pour la construction ou le changement d'usage, sauf sur les terres en culture ou dans les cas d'exception.

NORMES MINIMALES - CONSTRUCTION - ZONES INONDABLES

Des normes minimales sont prévues au document complémentaire au schéma et seront applicables lorsque le gouvernement aura défini les zones de récurrence 20 ans et 100 ans.

PROTECTION DES RIVES

Le contribuable qui a l'intention d'effectuer des travaux à l'intérieur de 15 mètres à partir de la ligne des hautes eaux doit consulter la réglementation municipale vu que celle-ci diffère selon que c'est un milieu urbain, agriculture, de villégiature ou de foresterie, public ou privé.

MARGES DE RECULS

Dans les zones où l'aqueduc et l'égout sont installés ou prévus, les marges de recul sont fixées par les règlements municipaux. Ailleurs, la marge de recul minimum est de 8 mètres (26.3 pi.).

ZONAGE PERMIS

Le document complémentaire du schéma prévoit la gamme complète d'usages permis sur chaque pouce carré du territoire. Le contribuable intéressé doit vérifier avec sa municipalité.

DISPOSITIONS D'EXCEPTIONS

Le schéma prévoit certaines dispositions d'exceptions au niveau des lots, des parties de lots, des constructions détruites, du morcellement et des usages sans installation septique. Les détails sont disponibles des municipalités.

RESPONSABILITÉ DU SOMMAIRE

Ce sommaire a été préparé par Jacques Ledoux, Secrétaire-trésorier, aménagiste régional et coordonnateur du schéma pour la M.R.C. de Pontiac, ce 31 janvier 1989.

SUMMARY
DEVELOPMENT PLAN

INTRODUCTION

The Development Plan of MRC Pontiac was adopted by the Council of Mayors on December 8, 1986. In the course of the following 21 months, it was necessary to negotiate some changes with the Departments of Energy and Ressources and of the Environment with respect to public land and with respect to the protection of lakeshores and river banks.

Finally, on September 13, 1988, the Minister of Municipal Affairs, the Honourable Pierre Paradis, informed us that our Development Plan was in effect.

According to law and wit an authorization from the Minister, we must publish a summary for today's date (Feb. 1, 1989).

CONSEQUENCES OF THE COMING INTO FORCE

From the coming into force of the Development Plan, the twenty member municipalities have 24 months to adopt their own Master Plans and their zoning, sub-division and construction by-laws and they must be in conformity with the directions of the Development Plan.

THE DEVELOPMENT PLAN AND THE BY-LAWS

It is important to understand that the Development Plan is a "political" document which has no direct regulatory value whatsoever. A ratepayer cannot be accused of having contravened to one of the provisions of the Development Plan; a ratepayer can only contravene the Interim Control By-law of the MRC, if it applies in his municipality or to one of the planning by-laws of his municipality.

It is because the Development Plan includes the sum of "policies" decided by the Council of Mayors of the MRC that the member municipalities must, before September 13, 1990, adopt their planning by-laws to be in conformity with the "policies" defined in the Development Plan. It is those by-laws of local municipalities which give 'teeth' to the Development Plan of the MRC.

GENERAL OBJECTIVES AND AIMS OF LAND DEVELOPMENT POLICY

The first chapter of the document examines the current situation and the problems identified, whereas the second chapter identifies the objectives and the land development policies required to solve identified problems.

Conscious that the population of the MRC is decreasing, that its forest resources are mostly used by plants located outside its boundaries, that its manufacturing activity is marginal, that its businesses are negatively affected by their nearness to Ontario, the Council of Mayors of the MRC chose the following general objectives and land development policies:

1. Provide for and promote the eventual local transformation of a greater proportion of the annual harvest of the forest resource.
2. Provide for and promote the intensive development of good agricultural land and the liberation of marginal land for other kinds of developments.
3. Provide for and promote great outdoors and cultural tourism, as well as increased cottaging, which together require an improvement of transportation networks.
4. Provide for and promote an increase in industrial development of all kinds.
5. Provide for and promote the repatriation of commercial and service activities from Ontario to the Pontiac.
6. Ensure the protection of the environment in the context of all other objectives.
7. Promote the implantation of inter-municipal equipment such as arenas, recreation centres, pools, etc., as well as the development of a recreation corridor on the abandoned C.P.R. rail line.
8. Succeed in the better coordination of government objectives with those of the MRC.

LAND DEVELOPMENT POLICIES ON PUBLIC LAND

It is the various departments implicated, under the coordinating eye of the Department of Municipal Affairs, who decided on the land development policies for public lands. The influence of the Council of Mayors on those policies was minimal. The land development policy map can be consulted at the MRC or at the offices of each municipality.

LAND DEVELOPMENT POLICIES FOR PRIVATE LANDS

Considering the underdeveloped state of our territory, the Council of Mayors has provided for a minimum of constraints to all kinds of development.

The land development policy map provides for the following zones:

1. Permanent agricultural zone.
2. Parts of the permanent agricultural zone to be liberated for other kinds of development; the Council of Mayors is only beginning to negotiate that dezoning with the Agricultural Territory Protection Commission.
3. An urbanization perimeter around each of the existing agglomerations.
4. The valorization of shores and banks of all water surfaces to allow cottaging.
5. A large area of recreo-touristic zones.
6. A certain number of zones where heritage must be protected.
7. Some inter-municipal and infrastructure zones.
8. A deferred development zone along the old C.P.R. rail line.

URBANIZATION PERIMETERS

The Council of Mayors has classified by order of importance relative to development, all existing agglomerations.

Shawville, Campbell's Bay, Mansfield/Fort-Coulonge and Chapeau/Chichester have been classified agglomerations of the first order.

Bryson, Danford Lake, Grand Calumet (Village), Ladysmith, Otter Lake, Portage du Fort, Rapides des Joachims and Waltham have been classified agglomerations of the second order.

Chichester (Village), Davidson, Demers Centre, Desjardinsville, Nikabeau, Norway Bay/Bristol, St-Joseph, Sheenboro and Vinton have been classfied agglomerations of the third order.

Detailed maps showing the boundaries of each urbanization perimeter can be consulted at the MRC and at the offices of each municipality.

FLOOD ZONES

Although the provincial government has not yet identified exactly the flood zones, the Development Plan document includes provisional maps for flood zones at Norway Bay, Pine Lodge, Webb Bay, Grand Calumet, Campbell's Bay, Mansfield, Fort-Coulonge, Davidson, Devonshire, Waltham and Chapeau.

These maps can be consulted at the MRC or at each municipality.

LANDSLIDE ZONES

Maps indicating zones in Bristol, Clarendon, Campbell's Bay and Litchfield are also available.

ROAD NETWORK

The Development Plan provides for the improvement of the whole of the road network and the eventual linking on the Quebec side of Rapides des Joachims.

MINIMUM STANDARDS - GENERAL

The complementary document to the Development Plan provides for some minimum standards which must be included in municipal zoning, subdivision and construction by-laws for those by-laws to be in conformity to the objectives and land development policies of the Development Plan.

MINIMUM STANDARDS - CADASTRE

In most situations where a landowner transfers or sells part of his property, the cadastre (official subdivision) will continue to be required under the same conditions as with the interim control by-law currently in force.

MINIMUM STANDARDS - RESIDENTIAL AND COMMERCIAL LOTS

At less than 100 metres from a watercourse or 300 metres from a lake, the minimum width of a residential or commercial lot is 30 metres when serviced by water or sewers and of 45.72 metres (150 ft.) when not serviced. The minimum depth is 61 metres. On the other hand, the minimum area is 1,858 square metres when serviced by water or sewers and 3,716 square metres (40,000 sq. ft.) when not serviced.

At more than 100 metres from a watercourse or 300 metres from a lake, the minimum width of a residential or commercial lot is 22.76 metres (75 ft.) when serviced by water or sewers. The depth in other cases is not regulated. On the other hand, the minimum area is 1,393 square metres (15,000 sq. ft.) when partially serviced whereas it is 2,787 square metres (30,000 sq. ft.) when not serviced.

The measurements of lots serviced by both water and sewers are regulated by municipalities.

MINIMUM STANDARDS - INDUSTRIAL AND INSTITUTIONAL LOTS

The minimum width of an industrial or institutional lot is 50 metres (164 ft.) in all cases.

The minimum depth of these lots is 61 metres (200 ft.) when located within 100 metres of a watercourse or 300 metres from a lake. In other cases, the depth is not regulated.

On the other hand, the area of an industrial or institutional lot is 3,000 square metres when located at less than 100 metres from a watercourse or 300 metres from a lake. In other cases, the minimum area is 3,700 square metres (40,000 sq. ft.). The minimum standards for industrial and institutional lots serviced by water and sewers are set by the local municipal authority.

MINIMUM STANDARDS - CONSTRUCTION - CADASTRE

The cadastre (official sub-division) is mandatory for construction or change of use except on land being cultivated or under exceptional circumstances.

MINIMUM STANDARDS - CONSTRUCTION - FLOOD ZONES

Minimum standards are provided for in the complementary document of the Development Plan and will be applicable when the government has defined the 20 year and 100 year reccurence zones.

LAKESHORES AND RIVER BANKS PROTECTION

The ratepayer who intends to complete works within 15 metres from the high water line must consult the municipal regulations since these regulations are different when dealing with an urban area, agricultural area, cottaging or forestry areas, public or private.

SET-BACKS

In zones where water and sewers are installed or planned, set-backs are set by municipal by-laws. Elsewhere the minimum set-back is 8 metres (26.3 ft.)

ZONING ALLOWED

The complementary document of the Development Plan provides for the complete details of uses allowed on each square foot of the territory. Interested ratepayers must check with their municipality.

PROVISIONS FOR EXCEPTIONS

The Development Plan includes some provisions for exceptions with respect to lots, parts of lots, destroyed constructions, parcelling out and uses not requiring septic installations. Details are available from municipalities.

RESPONSABILITY FOR THIS SUMMARY

This summary was prepared by Jacques Ledoux, Secretary-Treasurer, Regional planner and Development Plan coordinator for MRC Pontiac on January 31, 1989.

There is not a day dear loved one
That we do not think of you.
Always remembered by wife Carmel and family. bf1

IN MEMORY

Richard - In loving memory of a dear father, Esaie Richard, who passed away February 1, 1977.
More and more each day we miss him
Friends may think the wound is healed
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.
The Richard Family xf1

Young and Horner - In memory of Mrs Mabel Young who passed away January 27, 1945 and Mrs Jean Horner who passed away January 23, 1982.
As time unfolds another year
Beautiful memories keep you near
Cherished thoughts of times together
Will hold you in our hearts forever.
Lovingly remembered by son and daughter Earl and Evelyn Young. xf1

SOCIAL NOTES

Caldwell ..... Hermonie Sharpe 647-3459

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the family and friends of Carl Dale who passed away this past week. Carl will be sadly missed by all who knew him. Left to mourn his loss are his wife Helen and son Harry and his wife Sandra of Shawville. He was the dear brother of Catharine (Mrs. Earl Dods) of Nepean; Elma (Mrs Lloyd Cook) of Carleton Place; Roberta (Mrs Cal Rocher) of Listowel; and Amelia (Mrs Bill Reagon) of New York. He was laid to rest on Monday with service from Shawville Wesleyan Church to Maple Grove Cemetery.

The Bristol Association Club held a very informative general meeting on Thursday of last week at the Bristol Town Hall. Although they have been in existence for the past three years, they had not formed a club until this year. A new slate of officers will now be taking over with some of the older ones who had been on the board over the years remaining. We all wish them lots of luck with this new endeavour and will do all we can to help them in the years to come by giving them our support.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the family and friends of Agatha Shepperd R.N. of Ottawa who passed away this past Friday. She was the daughter of the late Mr and Mrs Thomas Shepherd and predeceased by a brother Melvin. She is survived by sister-in-law Alma. She was laid to rest in Maple Grove Cemetery in Shawville this past Monday.

What lovely weather we are experiencing here Saturday, January 28. It is a great day for nice long walks and good for bush work. The ski slopes will likely be busy this weekend.

So sorry to hear that Scott Sharpe, son of Donald and Joanne Sharpe of Manitouwadge, was hurt while playing hockey this past weekend. Sure hope you are on the mend soon Scott.

Attending the Laughren Blackmarr wedding this month in Hampton, Georgia, were Bev and Elaine Palmer and Erwin and Roberta Laughren, all of Ottawa. There were also fifteen Canadians attending, all friends of the bride Floreen Laughren. Bev and Elaine spent this past weekend at their cottage at Norway Bay.

A few household hints I thought I should pass on. Ever run out of brown sugar? Try mixing 1/2 cup of white sugar with 1/2 tsp imitation maple flavouring and 1/2 tsp molasses. It's the closest substitute you'll ever find.

Save your old kitchen sponges, cut them in one inch squares and use them to cover the bottom holes in your flower pots. It keeps the soil in and slows down the drying process.

Visiting with us on Sunday were Neil and son Cory Sharpe of Shawville. Wife Margaret works at the Home on the Hill on Sunday.

Attending the ballet British Columbia on Friday at the NAC in Ottawa were Mrs Bill (Sally) Kiendel and daughter Amy of Bristol. They enjoyed it very much and are looking forward to another one.

This past Sunday was one of those days that you couldn't believe could happen in January. Lovely, sunny, balmy weather and some of the skidooers in Bristol made use of it and had a cookout on one of their trails.

Happy birthday to Martha Orr at the Pontiac Reception Centre in Shawville who celebrates her 87th birthday this Wednesday. Your many friends and relations wish you many more years of health and happiness.

The Eganville Skidoo Races were well attended with spring-like weather on Saturday and Sunday.

The deer population is low this winter in this district with the wolves being so plentiful. The late fawns have all disappeared and the large cedar swamps that were their wintering yards for hundreds of years have been cut out so the starving deer have to try to find some food in the hills.

Best get well wishes to Mrs Irene Holmes who is at present a patient in the Pontiac Community Hospital.
