Restrictions Not Trade Dilemma Solution - Abbott

Hon. D. C. Abbott, Minister of Finance and M.P. for Westmount-St. Antoine, told a press conference in London, Tuesday, that the international trade dilemma won't be solved by restrictive measures. "I don't think dollar cuts are a cure for anything", he said.

The danger of curtailing trade, Mr. Abbott emphasized, was that each curtailment raised production costs which were certain to accentuate the difficulties.

The local M.P. was guardedly optimistic regarding possible results from the Commonwealth finance talks. "The emphasis that I kept putting was on the expansionist rather than on the restrictionist side," he said.

If the nations concerned will put into positive action the suggestions made at the conference, the difficulties should right themselves, Mr. Abbott said, but to attempt to achieve a balance by restricting trade won't help anybody in the long run.

J. McGee Winner Putters' Club Golfing Event

J. McGee won the low net prize in the Putters Club Friday night tournament. He had a gross of 80 and a net of 72. Other low net scorers were Jack Smith 74, C. Regan 75, L. Wheatley and M. Soden 76, and R. Drain 77.

In the ladies' section Mrs. M. Soden and Miss Dawson turned in identical scores of 78. In the play-off Mrs. Soden came out on top by a 2 stroke margin. Mrs. H. Smith followed the first pair with a 79. Mrs. P. Warner scored an 80 and Mrs. W. Stott came in with an 81.

Vacation - If any Westmounters are set to leave on their holidays this week-end, the above picture will put them in the right frame of mind. Speed and spray are old friends to Willa Worthington who is shown whizzing through the spray at Cypress Gardens, Fla. The three time women's national champion took the Dixie Water Ski title from a field of 33 experts.

W. L. Payne Tells Rotary Of Montreal's Contrasts

"Montreal, like every other large city throughout the world, is a city of contrasts, although these differences are more widely shown here through cultural, religious, and architectural, as well as historical divergences," W. L. Payne, of the Canadian Pacific Railways' Public Relations Department told members of the Rotary Club of Westmount at the weekly meeting of the group at Victoria Hall on Wednesday.

The guest speaker, a native of London, England who came to Canada in 1920 and has resided in Montreal since 1929, also showed a series of 52 slides, illustrating his talk by giving views of the most interesting and attractive parts of the French-Canadian metropolis.

Following a brief talk, in which he classified the contrasts in Montreal into such groups as residence, business, racial, religious, and architectural differences, Mr. Payne showed his series of slides, ranging from views of such landmarks as the Chateau de Ramezay and Notre Dame Cathedral to such recent developments as the new Laurentian Hotel, and the St. Joseph's Shrine.

A considerable portion of his address was devoted to the churches of the city, with views and brief historical notes of the Church of Notre Dame de Bonsecours, St. Sulpice Seminary, the Parish Church of Notre Dame, St. James Cathedral, Christ Church Cathedral, St. James United Church, St. Joseph's Shrine, St. Phillip's Church in Montreal West, and the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul being presented.

Mr. Payne also described in detail the early history of Montreal, through the careers of Maisonneuve and Jeanne Mance, showing slides of the areas which they first inhabited as they look today. He said a special word about Margaret Bourgeois, an early

Indefinite If "Raffles" Will Be Brought To Can.

Westmount Police told the Examiner today that it was indefinite whether Gerard Dennis, who recently confessed to seven counts of burglary and was sentenced to 18 years to life in White Plains, N.Y., would ever be brought back to Canada to face other charges of burglary.

Positive word was unavailable as the man most interested in the case, Robert Byford, Chief of Westmount Police, is at present on two weeks vacation, but on his last visit to the U.S. to question Dennis, he reported the alleged bandit had also confessed to 12 robberies in this district.

Romantic entanglements seem to have been Dennis' downfall as it was largely through information from his attractive former "girl friend" a 22-year-old model, that he was first arrested in Cleveland last February 16. He used the girl to dispose of stolen gems.

At the same time, Dennis is thought to have been sharing an apartment on the West coast of the United States with Betty Ritchie, 24, former Toronto school teacher, who was charged with receiving stolen property after thousands of dollars worth of furs and jewelry were found in her possession. She was acquitted on this charge and a charge of theft was dropped. She was deported to Canada for having entered the U.S. illegally.

Miss Ritchie said at her trial that she and Dennis had lived as man and wife and that there had never been any marriage ceremony except "just between the two of us".

Dennis, otherwise known as "Raffles", was married earlier in his career and was the father of two children. He left his wife long before his divorce in 1947 and lived with Eleanor Harris of Toronto. It was after this that Dennis transferred his activities to Montreal and Westmount and later to New York, where Miss Harris went under the name of Eleanor Farrell.

During his trial it was shown by the District Attorney's office that Dennis had been convicted of 14 crimes in Canada, including breaking and entering and assisting in an abortion.

Life-Saver— When voluntary donors contribute to the free blood transfusion service of Canadian Red Cross, their gift blood is put in a bottle like this — the bottle that has already saved thousands of Canadian lives. In 25 hospitals in Montreal, Westmount and surrounding districts, this bottle has become a familiar object. Later it will appear in hospitals, large and small, throughout Quebec as it has already in some other provinces, thanks to men and women between the ages of 18 and 65 who support free transfusions by giving a twentieth of their blood twice a year. The bottle label reads, "Gift of a Volunteer Donor," repeated in French.

Scouts & Cubs

By REG. GROOME

Connaught Camp, Ottawa, July 20, 1949. — Here at the First Canadian Jamboree, your reporter has found a true meaning of the spirit of Scouting. In camp are twelve contingents of boys, making a combined total, including the Jamboree Staff, of over 3,000 Scouts and Scouters. The twelve contingents are one from each of the ten provinces, one from the U.S.A. and a delegation of fifteen Scouters from Cuba. Monday, the Jamboree was officially opened by the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, and the colourful March Past of the entire camp, with the RCMP Band, resplendent in their scarlet uniforms, was really something to see. More than one on-

Sleeping Car Honors Halifax

Hon. J. A. D. McCurdy, Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, has added his tribute to the importance of the railways in the national life of Canada. Speaking at a special ceremony when a new type Canadian National sleeping car was christened "Halifax" in honor of the bicentenary of the founding of that city, he said that since boyhood transportation in its many forms had appealed to his interest and imagination. "The Canadian National", he said, "is our greatest industry and has always been a good and valued friend."

His Worship Lt. Col. Gordon S. Kinley, Mayor of Halifax, officiated at the ceremony. He cut a ribbon and a beautiful floral curtain swung back to unveil the name of the streamlined sleeping car "Halifax". W. E. Robinson, vice-president and general manager, Atlantic Region, and W. S. Thompson, C.B.E., director of public relations for the system, represented the railway.

The new car, one of three now in service between Halifax and Montreal on the "Ocean Limited", was built in C.N.R. shops and has all the latest features for the utmost in travel comfort, relaxation and convenience included in its design.

looker, and many of the participants in the parade had lumps in their throat when they thought of being a member of this great, world-wide organization which has brought Scouts from every corner in Canada, every State in the U.S.A., one guest from Great Britain and representatives from Cuba, all to stay in the same camp for nine days.

Although many of the special trains were late arriving in Ottawa, some not pulling in until some eight hours after the original estimated time of arrival, this had no adverse effect on any of the boys . . . in fact, it just added a little more color to the whole trip. The Quebec Contingent arrived right on schedule in their special buses directly from the weekend camp at Vertu, near Montreal. Three Willingdon boys, Bill Baines, John Storr and Ed Keller, carried the three Troop flags in the March Past review, and all were a credit to the Quebec Contingent.

The Quebec boys, under Frank Hicks, Chief of the Quebec Contingent, seem to have settled right into the way of things, and were having a grand time when we saw them. Lawrence Rodgers and David Mace of Montreal West Troop came up to the Jamboree on Monday for a short visit . . . no doubt to visit Don Rodgers, who is a member of the contingent.

Well, anyway, we are so busy here, that it is hard to even find time to write these brief jottings for home . . . and we are trusting our old friend Mel Burge to fill out this column, until we return to Camp Tamarcouta, to take a well-earned rest for two weeks there. So, take it away, Mel!

Aside to Reg. Groome . . . Nice hearing from you, and I know your readers will be pleased too, for not every Tom, Dick and Harry got to the Jamboree . . .

There's no news Reginald . . . The only good news we can give you is that we down at St. Saviour's will be seeing you at Scout Camp (Tamaracouta) on Saturday . . . For 6 boys and one Leader (your guess) will be going to Camp for the 3rd period. Be seeing you Reg!

SENSIBLE SUNBATHING

Every year about this time thousands of Canadians are soaking up every available bit of sunshine in the hope of acquiring "a healthy coat of tan" as soon as possible. But tanning, if it is to be done safely, is a slow process. To avoid painful and dangerous sunburn, expose yourself for only a short time at first, gradually lengthening the periods as a tan is acquired. Remember, sunburn can be dangerous as well as painful. Do your sunbathing sensibly.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

That red-brick building opposite Victoria Hall with the familiar Red Triangle of the Y.M.C.A. on its doors is the place we so often mention in this column—the Westmount Y.M.C.A. Go past those signs and into the building where the spirit of the "Y" prevails. Here is your opening into a world of new experiences.

The program is arranged by members for the members, and so it varies considerably. The swimming pool is in use all day with special periods for boys, girls, men, women and mixed groups. There is a place for you; here is your opportunity to find it.

Horse-back riding—are you interested for the first try or as a regular rider? A group will be going off next Tuesday; in order to join them book your horse by Monday evening, at the Program Office. If, however, you prefer "shank's mare" as your steed, a few members will be walking over the mountain to the Chalet. Good music, good surroundings and good company all add up to a good time. Meet at the Y and 8 p.m. is the time to leave.

For something different, come out to the "Splash Party" on Thursday evening. Mixed swimming starts at 9 p.m. and the dance follows at 10 p.m. The latest records by the best bands give you the smoothest dancing. Make it a date!

Even if you cannot play bridge, come out on Monday at 8 p.m. Now is the time to learn the rudiments and be ready for those regular winter sessions. Elementary bridge instruction is given by the Bridge Club members—take advantage of it.

Cycle rides, boat trips, corn roasts, are all items on the program for the coming weeks. "Keep cool in the Y pool" is a good slogan to follow. Enquire now about membership particulars, telephone El. 1106.

BOYS' DIVISION

Brian Hutchison was elected Mayor of Camp Westmount. Other councillors elected are: Andy McKee, Carlos Keizer, and David Nelson.

The past week has been an interesting one, the boys having visited Pepsi Cola Co. and the White Motor Truck Co., where a detailed explanation of the construction of trucks was made. On Wednesday afternoon the boys spent the day at Malo Beach.

This afternoon 9 boys are leaving for an over-night trip to Camp Perrot.

Mtl. Transfusion Service of Red Cross Commended

Though Red Cross is less than 100 years old, its original basic principle of protection in battle to help aid the wounded goes back to 500 B.C., when King Cyrus the Great of Persia organized something similar. Subsequently the idea limped along, until Red Cross gave it a permanent basis at Geneva, in 1864.

The historical flash-back comes from Dr. Mohammed Hessesaby, from Teheran, capital of Iran, who's now visiting Montreal under the aegis of the American Red Cross Society's international exchange plan. He is a professor at the University of Teheran and director of radiology at its Medical School. Also he's an official of the Iranian Red Cross Society, which is the Iranian Red Cross, so named because of the lack of meaning of the cross in the non-Christian countries, though actually Red Cross gets its name from the Swiss flag, colors reversed, and has no direct religious significance.

While here, Dr. Hessesaby will observe Canadian progress in medical application of the nuclear fission (atomic) discoveries of recent years, in collaboration with Dr. Carlton B. Peirce, radiologist-in-chief of the Royal Victoria Hospital and Dr. O. Duffrasne, medical director of the Radium Institute of the University of Montreal. He'll be here about 10 days.

Already he has visited the Canadian Red Cross blood transfusion service in Montreal and discussed methods with Dr. R. L. Denton, its provincial medical director. Dr. Hessesaby said the war-work of Canadian Red Cross transfusion services is world-famous and that its present peacetime work of free transfusions in hospitals was made known to him in the United States as an outstanding example to study. He said that in Iran there is a similar free transfusion service, but the efficiency of the system in Montreal commanded his admiration.

He also drew a contrast between the summer and winter seasons in Montreal's great inland harbor, pointing out that when Montreal's 8 miles of wharves and docks are operating with the 30-foot channel through the summer months, Montreal is the second most important port in North America. This is in direct contrast to the idle winted months.

Of special interest to members of the club were several slides of Westmount, showing the city's streets, Victoria Hall, and a Saturday afternoon cricket match in progress in Westmount Park.

Many people frequently use gasoline or lighter fluid to remove spots from clothing or as a general cleanser for machinery. But gasoline is one of the most dangerous fluids that can be used around the home. It evaporates readily and the poisonous gas it forms explodes easily. It is a fire hazard of the first order. Other less volatile cleaning agents are frequently much safer and more effective. Commonsense health and safety habits save lives. Don't take needless risks. The life you save may be your own.

Y.M.C.A. World Service In Action

CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Though the Communist coup last February touched off a series of revolutionary changes in Czechoslovakia, the YMCA kept on with its work without interruption. A National Administration, appointed to keep an eye on the Association, has proven to be cooperative and helpful. In general, the Czechoslovak YMCA is continuing its job of serving people and developing Christian character, with the same basic programs common to Associations throughout the world.

Despite the uncertainties and tensions, in fact, 1948 was a year of growth and vitality for the Czechoslovak movement. Membership increased to 7,000, with Associations active in 9 cities. Secretaries now number 23, volunteer workers 600, and other employees about 200.

An estimated 100,000 persons benefitted in some direct way from Y activities during the year. YMCA summer camps handled a capacity of 4,000 and were universally recognized as demonstrating the best camping methods in the country. The sports of basketball, volleyball, and softball, originally introduced by the Y, now enjoy nationwide popularity. The Student YMCAs, with 750 members, held regular meetings throughout the year for discussions and Bible study. And the Y's Men spread to 12 clubs in 9 cities. Biggest local Association was Prague, with 4,000 members active in 59 groups ranging from general "Purpose Groups" for boys to a ceramics club.

RUSSIAN WORK

YMCA work with Russians outside of Russia was this year at its liveliest since 1939, when war crippled its international outreach. Its constituency increased by many thousands as a result of jobs secured by Displaced Persons in Belgium and France. Over 100 new students registered in the correspondence school, despite the difficulty of exporting currency. And 10 new books enriched the YMCA Press' reputation of publishing most of the significant Russian books in philosophy, theology and pedagogy during the last quarter of a century.

In Paris, Y-led Russian scouts increased to 320; Orthodox Theological Institute students numbered 37; and 6 Russian Student Christian Movement Study circles had from 25 to 50 members in each.

SAVE DROWNING VICTIMS!

All drowning fatalities are not necessarily due only to carelessness on the part of the victims. Too frequently there is lack of knowledge as to proper means of artificial respiration on the part of onlookers anxious to help.

Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the Health League of Canada and editor of "Health" magazine, states:

"Artificial respiration should always be immediate and continuously applied by persons with some knowledge of the procedure. There are misapprehensions, however, which in some cases have led to tragedy. In spite of widespread publicity about ten years ago in the Canadian press, there still remains in the minds of many the idea that a person who has been under water for more than a few minutes cannot be revived by artificial respiration. This is not true. There have been instances of individuals who have been revived after having been as long as half an hour in the water.

"A committee of the Health League of Canada under the leadership of the late Sir Frederick Banting, in 1938 issued a statement to the effect that artificial respiration should be kept up continuously for four hours or until there is evidence of rigor mortis in the victim. Yet it has been noticed in not a few cases recently that artificial respiration has been discontinued in a very short time and the victim pronounced dead. This action has presumably been decided on because there have been no signs of life."

Dr. Bates states that the same committee also found that "most drowning victims have no water in their lungs and that death results from spasm of the larynx. It is therefore most important that one should make certain in all of these cases that the air passages are free. The only known method of attempting to assure this end at present is to see that the patient's tongue is drawn well out during efforts of artificial respiration."

WEEKLY REVIEW

Doctors Paid So Much A Skull

By Lewis Milligan

The agitation for a National Health Service would give one the impression that there was no such service in Canada. It is not a nationalized "free-for-everybody" service, such as was introduced by the Labor Government in Britain. But we have in Canada an immense and highly efficient National Health Service which caters to the health needs of all classes. Both Federal and Provincial Governments and all city councils and school boards have their health departments, which are actively engaged in the supervision and promotion of national health.

In looking over the Canada Year Book I was amazed at the numbers and the great variety of institutions and societies, public and private, that are devoted to the health and welfare of the people in all parts of the Dominion. I find that there are no less than 1,091 public and private hospitals and mental institutions, all of which receive federal, provincial or municipal grants amounting to many millions of dollars annually. In addition there are numerous private clinics, nursing homes and homes for the aged and infirm. Health services are maintained by large industries and business concerns for employees during working hours. Workmen's Compensation is provided under provincial laws and some companies also arrange for group insurance against sickness. Many labor unions provide sickness and other benefits to their members, as also do most of the fraternal societies. In addition to all these and more, there are health foundations and laboratories which are continually investigating the causes of various diseases.

The above is a brief and incomplete summary of Canada's National Health Services, and they constitute a truly marvelous achievement under a free democratic system of society. What more could a Nationalized Health Service do for the people of Canada? It would be folly and disastrous — medically, socially and financially — for the Government to attempt to take over and administer the vast organization of health services in this Dominion. The new National Health Service in Britain is an example and a warning, and we need not go to the opponents of the Labor Govern-

The leading Socialist Journal of England, The New Statesman and Nation, publishes an article entitled "Doctors and Spongers", in which the writer, D. R. Cargill, says the National Health Service is proving too costly and is being exploited by practitioners, druggists, and malingering patients. "First," says Mr. Cargill, "the eye service is costing too much. A very large number of people are getting spectacles that are unnecessary and even harmful. Any patient can go to a doctor and demand a 'sustiffikit' (certificate) for an eye test. If the demand is refused, the patient can and will change his doctor. Doctors are paid so much a skull, and the customer is always right." The designation of a patient as a "skull" is rather gruesome, but it is quite in keeping with Karl Marx's idea of the human individual.

Mr. Cargill has a very poor opinion of the opticians. "They need not be highly skilled," he says, "but they are the arbiters of the need for spectacles." He says they create the demand by advertisements, such as, "HEAD-ACHES? NERVES? HAVE YOUR EYES TESTED!" and by circular letters to old customers. "I have yet to hear," says Mr. Cargill, "of a patient who did not need at least one pair of spectacles. He may take his prescription to any dispensing optician, and he usually takes it to the person who diagnosed the need, and another profit is netted."

Turning to "medicine and appliances", Mr. Cargill says: "Once again, the demand is being created by those who make a profit by the sales. Apart from wigs, brassieres and corsets, whose free supply is in many cases ridiculous, advertised nostrums and gadgets are frequently demanded by patients, and it is not unusual for the advertisements to advise the patient, 'How to get on the N.H.S.', 'You are entitled to it free,' or 'Ask your doctor how to get it', are typical phrases."

When I first heard that wigs were to be supplied free under the National Health Service, I thought it was just a little joke. But there it is, and as a sop to the women, they are being supplied with free brassieres and corsets. Since the Government is catering to the vanity of bald-headed men, why not free hair-dos for the ladies? However, there are to be no more bald heads under Socialism—which is surely a movement back to the aristocratic wig period of the eighteenth century. I'm afraid there will be a lot of wigs flying around on those windy days they have in my native land. Which recalls what happened to John Gilpin — "Away went hat and wig!"

St. James United

During the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Thos. E. McLennan, who is on holiday in the Maritime Provinces, the Rev. B. B. Brown will be in full charge of all pastoral responsibilities up until the end of August. For the next two Sundays, Mr. Brown will preach both morning and evening. The morning theme is, "Facing the Dawn" and the topic of the evening sermon is, "The Quest for Security."

During the month of August an outstanding and popular Old Country preacher, the Rev. John Smith, Moderator of the Congregational Church in England, will preach. Mr. Smith has been guest preacher in St. James United Church for a number of summers. He has brought stirring messages and attracted large congregations.

SWIMMING SAFETY

When you go swimming this summer you'd be wise to learn to dive. Or, if you must enter the water feet first, hold your nose. Water forced up into the nostrils often stings unpleasantly, but it may also carry infection to the nose, throat and sinuses. Swimming is a healthful recreation, but like all sports we need to know the rules to play it properly and safely. Make a point of learning to swim this summer. And teach your children the art. It is fine, healthy exercise.

Christian Science

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 24th, 1949.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 86: 11. "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: —

"And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God." (John 3: 19, 20 and 21.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science & Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "Truth destroys falsity and error, for light and darkness cannot dwell together. Light extinguishes the darkness, and the Scripture declares that there is "no night there." To Truth there is no error — all is Truth. Christian Science brings to the body the sunlight of Truth, which invigorates and purifies. Christian Science acts as an alternative, neutralizing error and Truth. The effect of this Science is to stir the human mind to a change of base, on which it may yield to the harmony of the divine Mind." (Pages 474 and 162.)

AFTER THE BATTLE

The election is over — there will be no regrets except among the defeated. They have my sympathy — once I was one of them. I was sorry when I was defeated but I soon got over it. I wasn't happy in the House of Commons, I have been since.

So I say to the defeated: "Do not worry, there is little one can do in the House of Commons". That was true in my day — it still is. The new members will sense this fact as time slips by. There is a far greater pleasure in a day by day search for truth, in calm detachment, trying to make it known. In the House of Commons the mind warps, sees only one side, views all things from that angle, forgets that there is another point of view.

The amazing thing about this election was the blow dealt to the CCF. That group came into existence as a protest against the spread between prices of farm commodities and manufactured products. It flourished so long as this condition continued. The remedies the CCF prescribed were causes not cures. It was unfortunate in the fact that it never held power, never had the opportunity to test its theories against the facts.

The blame for its failure cannot be attached to Mr. Coldwell. He has been a gallant fighter. We have few more competent platform performers. He is skilful in his foot work, he escapes readily from a difficult position. He is untiring in his efforts. The CCF may linger for a time but the spirit has gone out of it. It has been badly battered in the conflict. Mr. Coldwell must feel discouraged—the night is beginning to lower.

In part, industry was responsible for the growth of the CCF. In this age men do business in the limelight. Business is now aware of that fact—labor does not yet realize its truth. The position of industry was impregnable but it was open to misunderstanding. Labor owes its proud position today to the efforts of capital. With the coming of the machine age production increased, wages moved up. When men, by the aid of machines, produced more they earned more—wages, more profits are the fruit they were paid more. These facts stare everybody in the face—they are now acknowledged by intelligent people—no matter to what group they belong.

The man who drives a combine in the harvest field is worth more than the man who, with bent back, used a sickle — he gets more. The position of labor today is infinitely better than it was 100 years ago. Industry could not pay the wages of 1915 on the production of 1890. Even if it turned over to labor the whole product of industry it would not be enough. The capitalist system is dynamic, higher of increased production. Total profits will be higher, but unit profits, profits per unit of product produced will tend to decline, thus lowering the cost of living.

Capital investment is much greater than it was in the days of hand industry. There has been greater investment per unit of production. These facts have not been clearly understood. Basing their attacks on obvious misunderstandings the CCF gained support from those who believed that the profits of industry were enormous and obligingly forgot that the plant and equipment with which capital supplied the workers made possible the higher standard of living they now enjoy.

Modern transportation provides larger markets. The biggest factories of a century ago would look inconsequential in comparison with the factories of today. In the circumstances, it was a simple matter to portray the manufacturers as malefactors of great wealth and do it even when profits per unit of product produced tended to decline.

During the past year industrial groups have put out joint statements showing exactly what was done with every dollar received. They revealed clearly the simple fact that modern industry has made possible a standard of living which was wholly impossible outside the capitalist system.

Then there has been another source of light. With the advent of a labor government in Britain the theory of government ownership of industry has been put to the test. This has, to some extent, altered the picture. Labor is now becoming aware of the fact that industry too has its problems, some difficult, intractable. The closer industry and capital can come together the more the national income will be increased. The individual must realize now, more clearly than ever before, that the size of the pie determines the standard of living—if the pie is big enough there will be ample for all.

Age Of Bird Determines Way To Cook It For Best Results

Most persons will agree that there is nothing better than a good chicken dinner. And any bird, young or old, supplies the basis for tasty poultry dishes for warm-weather meals.

Broil, fry or open-pan roast young, tender, well-fatted birds, or hens past their prime for roasting. Cook very old birds long and slowly in water or steam. Then strip meat from the bone and use as a base for chicken a la king, chicken loaf, croquettes, souffle — or, if a cold dish is preferred, chicken salad.

Smothering is a good way to cook a lean chicken that is not too old or tough. A small bird may be "smothered" whole, or a larger one disjointed as for frying. Sprinkle the chicken with salt, pepper and flour. Brown in fat, then cover the pan and finish the cooking in a very moderate oven (300 degrees F.). When chicken is tender, remove from pan. Make gravy with the drippings. A bird weighing 3 to 4 pounds will probably take from 1½ to 2 hours to cook.

A pinch of ground ginger rounds out the flavor of chicken fricassee to epicurean perfection.

Chicken Paprika with Bread Biscuits

- 1 young hen
  - Flour
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - ½ teaspoon paprika
  - ½ teaspoon ginger
  - ¼ cup butter or (chicken fat)
  - 1 cup chicken or beef stock or water
  - ½ pint sour cream
  - ½ small onion, minced
  - 2 whole cloves
  - 1 tablespoon chili sauce
  - ½ tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
  - 1 bay leaf
  - Enriched white bread and butter
- Have butcher cut chicken into serving pieces. (The quantities given in this recipe may be doubled). Sprinkle with flour mixed with salt, paprika and ginger. Saute in fat until lightly brown. Add stock, half the sour cream and remaining seasonings. Cover and simmer slowly about 1½ hours, skim off any surplus fat, and add remaining sour cream. Cook at low heat until chicken is tender. Thicken gravy if desired with 1 tablespoon of flour mixed with a little cold water. Cut small biscuits out of slices of white bread with fancy cookie cutter. Spread biscuits with softened butter and toast in oven to a golden brown. Drop, butter-side up into paprika sauce just before serving. (These crisp little "bread biscuits" are very good with plain chicken fricassee, too.

Bavarian Salad Dressing

Two tablespoons lime juice, ½ cup salad oil, ½ cup beer, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon cut chives, 1 tablespoon minced parsley.

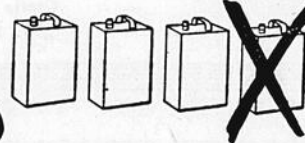

Combine all ingredients. Shake thoroughly before serving. Serve on sliced tomatoes and cucumbers.

The invention of portable time-pieces dates from the end of the 15th century.

SITUATION: Your husband telephones you that he would like to bring a man from out of town home to dinner that evening.

WRONG WAY: Tell him it is impossible, since you haven't planned a company meal.

Speirs - Miller New Summer Dance School Opens at Aubrey, Que.

The Speirs - Miller Summer School got away to a fine start on Monday evening when the Ballroom Class was held in the new barn studio at Aubrey, Que. This studio doubles as recreation hall which can accommodate about 200 people, and it is planned to hold dances there every second or third week for pupils, vacationers and local residents of the district.

This beauty spot at Aubrey is now realizing the ambitions of these experts of the dance, to provide a place where vacationers can enjoy a quiet and beneficial holiday. Dancing, swimming, fishing, boating and horseback riding add to the pleasure of the lovely surroundings.

The Speirs-Miller place at Aubrey has, for many years, been one of the well known homes in the district, and was a favorite gathering place for social events. When the land was first cleared there by the original owners, about 175 years ago, the first settlers held their church services at Aubrey. Completely remodelled, the dance school and holiday resort doubtless will continue to be a

Canadian Styles, Fabrics Acclaimed at Paris Showing

Reassembling in Montreal on Monday, Betty Hughes-Koren, Ben Cossman, the marquis de Roussy de Sales, Iona Monahan and photographer Sam Getz, who flew to Paris, France, for the All-Canadian Fashion Show staged at the Club France Amerique, were unanimous in the belief that Canadian merchandise can hold its own on all fronts, that Canadian values surpass those of other countries and the Canadian manufacturing and distribution methods make the 'average' Canadian woman a better-dressed person than her counterpart in any other part of the world . . . yes, Paris included!

None of the group would attempt to detract from the artistry of the Paris Syndicate of Haute Couture, but the fashions of these famous designers are not available to the average Parisienne due to both limited production and top-bracket prices.

"The combination of our styles and our prices was almost too much for our audiences and even the models themselves", Mr. Cossman said. "If customs regulations had allowed, we could have sold every item we brought with us. However, we did not go to Paris to sell Canadian fashions. We went into the lion's den to put the Canadian Fashion Industry to its most severe test . . . and we are glad and proud to be able to say that the test has been passed with flying colours".

Betty Hughes-Koren, executive director of Montreal Fashion Industries, who shared the show commentary with the Marquis de Roussy de Sales at France Amerique, reported on the usual amount of interest in fabrics and finish of Canadian styles. In her introductory speech, she had paid tribute to Parisian designers, the inspiration of manufacturers the world over — but her commentary stressed the tremendous progress made by Canadian designers in the past five or six years, in creating typically Canadian styles and in adapting leading style trends to Canadian needs and the Canadian way of life.

Iona Monahan, who co-ordinated the show, reported that the outstanding success of the show was our Canadian sportswear. Enthusiastic applause greeted the appearance of each item, for the use of brilliant colour and colour contrast in ski and spectator sport clothes was seen for the first time in Paris when French models presented Canadian sportswear items that were second to none in individual styling. "The audience was loud in their praise of our furs, rainwear and Junior items", she reported, "and suits and coats impressed them very much — even though sportswear brought the most appreciative applause".

Sister Greet Her Brother for First Time

Phil Wimmer
Well Known In
West'mt Sport Circles

By CAROLE McDONELL
Hermine Wimmer was born on February 19, 1928, in Bucovina, in the northern part of Austria. She was the youngest of eight children, and her seventeen-year-old brother, Phil, was the eldest. He had only a single glimpse of her before he left a few days later for Canada. Monday, July 11, 1949, will always be remembered as one of the happiest days in their lives, for Hermine, or Minzia, as she is usually called, arrived in Montreal, and greeted her brother for the first time in her twenty-one years.

Strange as it sounds, Minzia is technically Roumanian, because at the end of the first World War her birthplace had been occupied and given the name of Roumania; yet her brother Phil, though born in the same place, is Austrian. Bucovina is constantly being occupied by various troops, and at present the Russians are in control. The Wimmer family left all their possessions and fled to Poland in 1912, where they lived for three years. From there they came to Lindau, an island in Bodensee, the largest lake in Europe.

The two kept up a lively correspondence and exchanged numerous pictures, for Hermine had long been determined to come to Canada, and wanted to know all about the country and these relatives who were strangers. Phil had a wife and two children, but he never ceased to send food and money overseas to aid the project. Actual negotiations began two years ago, but every inch of the journey seemed paved with red tape. Endless examinations and waiting for results, and forms to be filled out, and more waiting was very discouraging, but Minzia, like millions of other Europeans dreaming of escape and America, persisted to the end, and on June 20, her patience was rewarded. She received a letter telling her to be at the migration camp near Kuxhaven on the 23rd. This letter was to have arrived months earlier, and now she had only three days' notice. But Minzia is a determined young lady, and she made it. Then another agonizing week of examinations and questionnaires. If a person were found to have the slightest ailment, he or she was refused passage.

Phil Wimmer and his sister, Hermine, spoke to each other for the first time last Monday, when Hermine reached Montreal from Austria, her birthplace. Phil left his country in 1928, when his sister was only five days old. He is well known in Westmount as Western Sports Supervisor and District Monitor. Hermine will live with her brother and sister-in-law at their home, 5891 Sherbrooke Street West.

Finally on June 30, two thousand weary but happy people sailed for Canada aboard the S.S. Samaria. They stopped at Le Havre to pick up a few more passengers, and arrived in Quebec at 1:30 a.m. on July 11. The inevitable doctors and papers, then the train to Montreal—and one of the happiest reunions this city has known.

Phil Wimmer is decidedly proud of his "little sister", and with good reason. Minzia is five-feet-five, has brown wavy hair, and lively grey-green eyes. She thinks that too much is made of the fact that she speaks several languages (English included), plays the guitar, accordion, piano, and flute, and sings beautifully. At her brother's request, she entertained us at the guitar with La Paloma, sung sweetly in Austrian, and Forever and Ever, in English, which she learned aboard the ship. Besides being musical, she draws, knits and sews excellently—a sample is the dress she is wearing in the above picture. When she had to leave school in 1945, she assisted her mother in her dressmaking business, and will probably continue her profession in Montreal.

Her impressions of Montreal have not as yet been too definitely formed. To a girl who has visited Trieste, Nice, Vienna, and other famous cities, our metropolis means "tall buildings and streetcars and many people". But what Minzia has seen, she likes very much. She marvels at the ease with which we live, comparing, for example, our quick baking with the all-day session in Austria. "And so many cans!" she exclaims. To her, tinned foods are associated with the comforts of occupation troops. The simplicity of modern housekeeping causes her to wonder what we do with all our spare time!

Conditions in Lindau were not so soft. At six o'clock in the morning the people line up for the daily food ration, which is planned the week before and is the same for each person. Foods are entirely unprepared, and almost the entire morning is spent making the noonday meal. This process must be repeated for supper. As for clothing rations, the lucky girl who could obtain a coupon every three years or so, could buy a pair of shoes or a dress. Formerly, all commodities were scarce, and money values low, but last year the standards were raised and Minzia's 3,000 marks, saved so painstakingly, were taken and only 35 returned to her (3 marks and 9 pence equal 1 dollar). Now food and clothing are returning to the market, but the people are poorer. The Austrian people are to be commended for their staunch hearts and high spirits in the face of these eternal difficulties.

We noticed that Hermine's dress was considerably shorter than Canadian fashion decrees. With infinite tact we tried to find out if Austrian girls were accepting the New Look. The young girl smiled and replied simply: "They were down, yes, but they are up now". She explained that being so close to France, Lindau receives the Paris styles long before we do, and that soon our hemlines will be at least 15 inches from the ground.

For those rare people who do not know Phil Wimmer, he is Sports Supervisor for the Western Section of Montreal, and District Monitor. This coming Tuesday he will have been with the city exactly twenty years. He has a lovely young wife and two children, Norman, 7, and Diane, 3. His brother Carl, and his other sisters, Anna, Marie, Hedwige, Olga, and Gertie are all married and living overseas with the eleven other grandchildren. Their father died in 1944, and the mother is living in Lindau with two of her daughters.

SECOND GENERATION

The sons of two famous stars met recently while working in Paramount's "Captain China," a William Pine-William Thomas Production. Lon Chaney, Jr., son of the late star, and Lawrence Tibbett, Jr., are both in the sea adventure story. This is young Tibbett's second film. Chaney costars in the movie with John Payne, Gail Russell, Jeffrey Lynn, Edgar Bergen and Michael O'Shea.

Salad Success Depends Much On Dressing

Cool, crisp salads on hot days—Of course! But no salad can be better than its dressing, remember.

From California, the home of Iceberg lettuce, come these tested recipes for perfect salad dressings.

Basic French Dressing (Makes ¼ cup—serves 4)

One-half teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon paprika, dash pepper, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ cup cider vinegar or lemon juice, ½ cup salad oil.

Blend the dry ingredients. Add the vinegar or lemon juice and stir or shake thoroughly. Add the oil and shake or stir again. Always shake or stir just before serving.

Mexican Dressing (Serves 4)

Three-quarters cup basic French dressing, 1 hard-cooked egg yolk, 1½ tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, ½ teaspoon chili powder, 1 green onion or scallion, 1 clove garlic.

Sieve egg yolk into the French dressing. Blend the Worcestershire sauce and chili powder together and stir into the dressing. Add the finely cut green onion or scallion—top and all. Jab a toothpick through the garlic clove and drop into the dressing. (You'll remove the garlic before serving.) This dressing is best made several hours in advance, and at the last minute poured over a bowl of shredded lettuce.

Rancho Dressing (A Popular Westerner) (Serves 4)

One cup sour cream (commercially processed type), 2 green onions or scallions, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 or 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1½ ounces (1 foil-wrapped triangles) Roquefort-type cheese, salt and freshly ground pepper to taste.

Finely cut tops and all of the onions or scallions into sour cream. Add remaining ingredients and season to taste. Allow to "ripen" for several hours before serving. Serve on wedges of crisp lettuce.

Sometimes unexpected ingredients do wonderful things to family foods. A little daring, gourmets tell us, is an excellent spice in most foods. So let's take a look at:

Choice Potato Dishes Made With Onions, Cheese And Eggs

If ever a vegetable was tailored to humanity's needs, the potato is. Nevertheless, spuds brought to Europe from South America in the days of the early explorers must have been unattractive objects. One potato expert says they were "very irregularly shaped, with extremely deep eyes and disfiguring outgrowths. Today's spud is bred for such characteristics as resistance to disease and improved digestibility. The housewife looks for potatoes with smooth skins, clean faces, very few eyes, and no spots or blemishes.

Women who cook potatoes can choose from an enormous range of recipes. One expert reports that there are as many as 500. And in these days of economy on the household front, it's good to remember that many of the choicest potato dishes may be made with left-overs.

Hashed potatoes for breakfast.
Hashed potatoes for breakfast, mashed potato topping for pie, the boiled potatoes that go into a nourishing salad are a few examples of the many uses that start with a cooked potato.

Eggs and Potato Casserole

1 No. 2 can peas
3 cooked large white potatoes
3 tablespoons butter

Milk
6 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
2 tablespoons minced onion
3 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs

Arrange the sliced potatoes, eggs, and peas, from which the yolks have been drained and reserved, in alternate layers in a greased or oiled two-quart casserole. Simmer the onion until tender. Add 2 tablespoons of the butter

2 cups liquid, and cook over boiling water until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Add the salt and pepper, and pour into the casserole. Top with the bread crumbs mixed with the remaining 1 tablespoon butter, melted. Bake in a moderately hot oven of 400 degrees F. 30 minutes. Serves six.

Creamed New Potatoes and Scallions

12 small, unpared new white potatoes
2 cups scallions, cut in 1 1/2-inch pieces
1 tablespoon butter
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk

Scrub potatoes. Cook, covered, for 10 minutes in 1/2 inch of boiling water with 1 teaspoon salt. Then add scallions, and cook about 4 minutes or until tender. Drain; reserve liquor for use in soups, gravies, etc. Meanwhile, melt butter in double boiler; stir in flour, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Stir in milk gradually, and cook until thickened. Turn vegetables into serving dish; pour sauce over them. Serves four.

JANE COWL BACK

Stage star Jane Cowl, who was away from the screen from 1917 until 1949, is currently making two pictures at once for Paramount. They are "I Married A Dead Man," starring Barbara Stanwyck and John Lund, and the Betty Hutton-Fred Astaire musical, "Let's Dance."

SCORES HIT

Six-year-old Mary Jane Saunders scores a big hit in Paramount's "Sorrowful Jones", in which she makes her movie debut.

MOVIE CRASHERS PULL MANY STUNTS

CRASHING MOVIES

HOLLYWOOD, July 24 — I was having a spot of tea, suitably spiked, with Paramount casting director Eddie Morse when Eddie made mention of the methods used to penetrate studio walls and win jobs in the movies.

Few stunts compare to Charlie Loeb's.

Loeb was an ex-vaudevilian from Germany who tried for months to meet a movie producer—any movie producer. Loeb was certain he could convince a producer of his great acting talent if only he could get to meet one, face to face.

So Loeb had himself packed into a crate in Chicago, and the crate was labelled "Statue" and addressed to Pathe Studio. Charlie thought once the crate was delivered inside the studio, he could break out and see all the producers on the lot.

However, Charlie reckoned without one thing—thirst. He ran out of water a few hours out of Chicago and soon became so parched in the hot crate that he had to holler for help. He was jailed for violation of a law prohibiting shipment of human beings by freight.

Almost as scatterbrained as Loeb was the young movie-struck lad who stowed away in the tummy of an embalmed exhibition whale consigned to MGM Studios. And then there was a girl named Vonceil Viking, who attracted considerable publicity by riding to Hollywood from New York on a horse. Despite the front page treatment, she was never offered an acting contract.

Yes, Hollywood used to be stormed by an almost endless stream of screwballs. Their target was the screen—fast fame and fortune in films. Today Southern California still harbors more neurotics and psychopathic cases than any other area of comparable population. But many of these light-headed characters are religious or financial fanatics, and not at all interested in the picture studios.

However, this little essay would be incomplete without mention of the girl who threatened to do a strip-tease in front of Universal Studios unless the corporation gave her a job.

Each day at noon she paraded before the main gate, removing an additional garment. The passers-by loved it, but studio executives were horrified. By the end of a week she had nothing left to protect her from the elements except her flimsy lace panties. At this time the Los Angeles police stepped in and stopped the show.

TICKETAPE — Glenn Ford, Quebec's entry in the glamor boy sweepstakes, goes to Europe a few days hence to star with Franchot Tone in "White Tower." Backgrounds have already been made in the Canadian Rockies... Rudy Vallee is producing a series of Dick Tracy movies for television release exclusively... Paramount paid $250,000 for screen rights to the Ringling Brothers Circus story. Burt Lancaster will star, with C. B. DeMille producing early next year. There has never been a really successful circus cinema, so this may be the fruit... Currently recuperating in the east from her lengthy illness, Judy Garland returns soon to MGM to star in "Showboat." The singer was on the brink of complete mental and some say it needs new stories. It could also use a few new customers!" . . . Adios.

NEVER IN GERMAN

Erich von Stroheim, starred in Paramount's "Sunset Boulevard," made his early reputation by playing German officers in World War I pictures. But he is Austrian-born, has never been in Germany.

BOTH WAYS

John Payne makes pictures and also shows them for a living. The star of Paramount's "Captain China," a William Pine-William Thomas Production, owns the Park Theatre in his home town, Roanoke, Va.

 When the mercury climbs to the top of the thermometer tube the body's intake of liquids mounts to keep pace with fluids lost through perspiration. Doctors agree that it's hard to improve on pure water as a cooling drink on hot days. Sweetened drinks, such as pop, often tend to make us hotter and stickier without doing much to relieve our thirst. Make sure the water you drink is pure. Don't take chances with water from springs or brooks. It is probably contaminated.

Ascension to Play Motors and Steinbergs

The Snowdon Senior Fastball League, has a busy week-end on tap starting Saturday night at Macdonald Park and ending Sunday evening at N.D.G. Park.

Saturday, weather permitting, Steinberg's and Ascension will clash in a postponed game and on Sunday afternoon, Ascension plays Robitaille Motors in the first game and Hampton battling Steinberg's in the second. Sunday evening, at N.D.G. Park, Columbus plays Robitaille Motors.

With the top four teams within three games of one another this week-end's games could see the league leadership change hands.

It will be a thriller if Steinberg's Paul Saindon and Ascension's Gerry Lecavalier meet again. The last time out these two provided a thriller and Lecavalier lost when he walked in the winning and only run. Lecavalier allowed only three hits in losing and Saindon five in winning. Steinberg's had the only triple play in the Snowdon Loop's history in this game.

Sunday's first game between Ascension and Robitaille will prove another thriller, and Pat Patterson and his Motor boys will be gunning for Father McMahon's Ascension boys' scalps. The Motor outfit have added something to the Snowdon Loop this year and have proved a fine replacement for Thrift Stop and Shop.

In the second game, Hampton can start a winning streak if they can get by Gerry Snyder's Steinberg crew.

The Steinberg outfit always give the fans a game to remember. This week-end will prove a test to the hard-fighting crew, because Hampton seemed to have found their hitting power against Columbus and St. Augustine's last week. In Sunday night's game at N.D.G. Park, Robitaille Motors play their second game of the day against Columbus.

Robitaille Upset

Last Friday evening at N.D.G. Park, Fritz Crowdis' hustling Saints stopped the strong Robitaille Motor squad, 4-3. Bill Devlin was the winner and Paul Laurin the losing pitcher.

The game was closely played and the Saints scored their winning run in the seventh. Saints' catcher, Ernie Gray, led off with a single, was safe at second when Steve Walker dropped Jean Desautels' throw and scored on Don McQueston's double.

Ian Slater started on the mound for the Motor boys but was relieved in the fifth by Paul Laurin. Slater looked like he may win a few for Robitaille before the season is over but the St. Augustine boys were giving him trouble last Friday night.

Leo Rheaume had a good night for Robitaille with four for five and played the hot-corner in grand style. Ernie Gray was best for the winners with two for four.

SIGHT SAVERS

Our sight is by far the most important of our senses. It is also one of the most overworked. Many of us subject our eyes to great strain all during the working day, only to come home and read fine print for hours during the evening. Modern living imposes many stresses on the eyes. They should be protected by the use of proper lighting, and by glasses is the latter are prescribed by a physician.

Columbus Beat Ascension 5-4

Jay Killoran's steadily improving Columbus crew won one of the most exciting games played to date in the Snowdon Senior Loop last Saturday night, at Macdonald Park. The game was one that was rained out earlier in the season and the Columbus win of 5-4 put them within a half game of the league-leading Ascension team.

Columbus opened the scoring in the first inning when Gerry Lecavalier walked Guy Lapointe and Buddy Atchison, then big Jack Eagan tripped. Lecavalier struck out Bottie Gray but Hank Attenborough singled Eagan home. Johnny Marks had struck out to start the ball game and Lecavalier fanned Sammy Pollock to end the first inning but those three runs looked mighty big.

Lecavalier and Columbus' Guy Lapointe went right along getting the side out till the seventh inning when Ascension scored their first run.

Tiny Guy Lapointe made Tootsie Provost pop up and then he struck out Dave Harvie. Johnny Peirson singled sharply through the box and was safe at second when Sammy Pollock tried to trap him on a close play at second. Logue McDonald, from the Ascension intermediate team, replacing Tommy Brennan, singled, and Pierson scored. Gerry Lecavalier hit to Buddy Atchison in right and Buddy threw a perfect strike to Catcher Dobby Gray to trap Logue McDonald at the plate.

In the bottom of the eighth, Ascension took the lead when they scored three runs on four hits and a walk. Heron, Kennedy and Pelouquin singled in succession and after Paul Barrette was out, Provost walked and Dave Harvie singled before Guy Lapointe managed to retire the side.

Lecavalier struck Johnny Marks out and Guy Lapointe hit a terrific smash to centre but Doug Heron made the catch to retire Guy. Buddy Atchison walked. Big Jack Eagan came through with a lovely double and Atchison moved to third. Dobby Gray was safe when Tootsie Provost fumbled his grounder and threw badly to first. On this play the fleetfooted Atchison dashed madly for the plate and he was safe when Catcher Harvie dropped the ball.

This was all the encouragement Guy Lapointe needed and he retired the side in order in the last of the ninth to win the game.

"Lady Rodney" Back to Montreal

Another of the four and one-half day cruises out of Boston, along the New England coast and up the St. Lawrence, was completed by the Canadian National Steamships' liner "Lady Rodney" on returning here from her 277th voyage to the West Indies and British Guiana. Fifty-two Canadians and Americans were on board as well as a number of passengers returning from visits to the West Indies Islands. Under the command of Captain Frank Smith, O. B. E., the liner also brought a heavy cargo of sugar, molasses, cocoa, coconuts and other products from the Caribbean area.

Columbus, Ascension Share Unusual Trophy At Chicago Ex.

Jay Killoran's Columbus crew reached their objective when they defeated Danny Daniels luckless Hampton crew last Sunday, 5-2. This win put them in a first place tie with Ascension in the Snowdon Senior Fastball League.

Although Killoran and his heavy hitting gang will probably not be satisfied until they are in sole possession of first this is a steady climb from their third place slot of a few weeks ago.

George Scully allowed Hampton eleven hits, but they were well scattered. Scully hit a three run homer in the fourth, to aid his cause. Bill Todd was the losing pitcher and only allowed the powerful Columbus outfit eight hits. One of these was Jack Eagan's fifth homer of the season.

Hampton had a heavy day at bat but could not bunch their hits and were set down by Scully in three innings after getting two men on base without scoring.

Chickie Morrow hit a home run for Hampton in the sixth, for one of their runs and the other came in the third when catcher Charlie Mooney singled home Harold Maher who was safe on a fielder's choice.

A Shutout

Robitaille Motors jumped on St. Augustine's pitchers Bill Devlin and Bill Graham early and often to chalk up an 8-0 victory in Sunday's second game at Macdonald Park.

Paul Laurin won for the Moto gang, allowing four hits. Laurin had a no-hitter until the sixth when Bunny Kavanaugh doubled.

Outfielder Maurice DeSerres and shortstop Jack McKissock homered for Robitaille. McKissock got three for four for the day and pitcher Laurin did the same.

Second Win

Sunday night's game at N.D.G. Park saw Hampton chalk up their second victory of the year at the expense of St. Augustine's by a count of 8-7.

Albert Labelle turned the trick at the expense of his old teammates. This game was an exciting one all the way and Hampton were not sure of the victory till the last man was out. There were two men on base, and it was only on a sensational catch by first baseman Chickie Morrow that young Labelle finally emerged the winner.

Bill Graham lined a terrific smash between second and first and Morrow leaped away over towards second to spear it with his gloved hand.

For the Hampton crew, Johnny Van Loo had a perfect night with three for three including a triple, homer and double. He was purposely passed twice with men on. Van Loo made a sensational catch on Munday's long hit in the first inning to emerge from the game as the outstanding star.

Jim Clark, up from Hampton Intermediates, played third in grand style and had a big night at top bat too with four for five including three doubles.

A NEW PLANE

"Hurricane", "typhoon" and "tempest" were famous airplane names during the war. All were members of the Hawker family but when the newest addition to this famous family was demonstrated recently it had no name—just the number N7-46.

N7-46 is a jet-propelled fighter designed to operate from aircraft carriers. It has a wing span of 36½ feet and is 38 feet long, has a bullet-shaped body, and is powered by a Rolls-Royce Nene turbo-jet. In recent tests its speed was said to be well over 600 m.p.h.

KEEPS TAB ON PHONE CALLS

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania announce the development of an electrical book-keeper which keeps tab on all dial telephone calls. The automatic instrument punches symbols on a paper tape for each phone call made. These show the number of calls from an individual phone, the length of the call and the rate. At the end of a month the tape is run through a machine and a typist obtains translated data for billing purposes.

The competition at Chicago's International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show will be keener than ever this year. Large increases in prize premiums have been promised show winners in recognition of its 50th anniversary.

In the classes for purebred Aberdeen-Angus, Hereford and Shorthorn cattle, prize money is increased by $3,000 over last year—from $6,000 to $9,000—on each breed. When the steer classes are also included, cash premiums offered in each breed total $20,000, the highest in the history of the world famed show. Increased prizes are also scheduled for the sheep and swine classes.

An unusual trophy for the forthcoming International Shropshire shows is a silver cup which was originally won at the Perth, Scotland, show in 1899 by the Earl of Strathmore, father of Queen Elizabeth. It will be presented to the exhibitors of the champion Shropshire ram.

The Exposition will be held November 26 to December 3 in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards.

DEFROSTS AUTOMATICALLY

Any electric refrigerator can be made self-defrosting by use of combination defroster and electric clock. Defroster automatically turns refrigerator off at 1 a.m. each night and switches it back on after frost is removed. During shut-off periods moisture created by melting film is circulated through box and foods are thus kept better. Device is installed by inserting plug into convenient outlet, inserting refrigerator plug into slotted receptacle on defroster plug and hanging clock, housed with switch controls in cream-colored plastic case, upon wall nearby.

IRON from Ungava

FOR THE WORLD OF STEEL

HUNGRY FOR IRON, the world's steel industry looks to Ungava as the immense new source to supply its increasing needs. There, in the wilderness of rocks and stunted trees stretching north to Ungava Bay, lies one of the richest, purest deposits of iron ore the world has ever known.

The vast area is now being actively explored. Already over 300 million tons of ore have been outlined; camps have arisen; airfields and roads have been built, and the route is being surveyed for a 350-mile railway from the St. Lawrence at Seven Islands. In another section, inland from Havre St. Pierre, what promises to be the world's richest source of titanium has been discovered and is being developed. Our one-time wasteland proves to be a treasure-house.

This new northern expansion is but one of many examples of Canada's tremendous modern development. Never before, here or elsewhere, have there been such opportunities as those which await the energy and initiative of young Canadians in our own country today.

"NEW OPPORTUNITIES..."

"Never before have there been so many new fields and opportunities for young Canadian men and women who, through hard work and persistence, will be able to achieve success and prosperity in the years to come. The continuing development of our industries will be due in large measure to the true spirit of progressiveness of the young Canadian of today", says LUCIEN BOUGIE of Montreal.

From bank clerk to president and owner of the largest baby shoe company in Canada, selling La Parisette shoes through offices and showrooms around the world, Mr. Bougie's career is an example to all ambitious men. His training in banking and accounting has enabled him, through conservative methods of finance, to keep his finger on the pulse of his business, thus avoiding the pitfalls and difficulties attendant upon the establishment and growth of any business venture.
