SHERBROOKE, CANADA, MONDAY, AUGUST 29, 1932.

Thirty-Sixth Year.

SECOND DAY OF SHERBROOKE FAIR USHERED IN WITH MUCH SPLENDOR

Huge Parade Moved to the Harmony of Seven Bands Through Streets of Sherbrooke Early This Afternoon—Large Crowds Attended Band Concerts Yesterday at Fair Grounds Given by Sherbrooke Regiment and Harmony Bands—Eastern Townships Livestock on Display of a High Class.

Colorful with its attractive floats and glamorous with its many Fair features, a huge parade, a mile in length, moved to the harmony of five bands through the streets of Sherbrooke early this afternoon—ushering in with due grandeur and gaiety the second day of Canada's Great Eastern Exhibition.

The wheels of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association's 48th annual Fair, put into action yesterday afternoon when the Sherbrooke Regiment Band presented a programme of lively music, have gained momentum and are rotating smoothly today.

Sherbrooke is a thrill, the scene of happy throngs, gay crowds—splendid exhibits of Eastern Townships products.

Today is the first real day of the Fair. The gates were thrown open at eight o'clock this morning, and an hour later all exhibit buildings were ready. Fair officials were prepared this afternoon, provided the weather was favorable, to welcome a large crowd which it was expected would surpass that of the same day of the 1931 Exposition. Signs today pointed to an unparalleled success in the history of the Sherbrooke Fair—to a year, despite the difficulties that exist, that will go down in the annals as superior to any in the past.

Sherbrooke is in gala attire. Flags are flying and decorating places of business and residences, the streets are gay with bright colors. It is Decoration Day, and Sherbrooke is all dressed up in a manner becoming the opening of Exhibition Week.

At ten o'clock this morning a band concert was given on the Fair Grounds by Professor Charles Delvenne's Band, and at eleven-thirty o'clock the large parade had formed up and left the grounds.

Threatening showers, an occasional irritating drizzle, overcast skies that looked sullen and unrelenting, for awhile this morning menaced the splendor of the monster parade.

A long defile of Exhibition attractions, it was a spectacle worth seeing—and the people of Sherbrooke turned out to do so. Long before the time for the parade to leave the Exhibition Grounds, crowds of people lined the streets where it was to pass. This was especially noticeable at the corner of King and Wellington streets where a large throng had gathered at eleven o'clock.

The Sherbrooke Regiment Band headed the large procession. In the immediate rear, Mayor Luiger Forest drove with Miss Dorothy Louise Munro in her George IV phaeton. Mr. J. S. Tessier, president of the E.A.A., accompanied by Chief H. O. Camirand, followed behind.

The many picturesque floats, contributed by different establishments in the city and the Eastern Townships, representing various lines of industry, were an impressive sight. The parade included a number of splendid horses, from young Percherons to tiny ponies—including Black Beauty, which tomorrow will be won by some lucky boy or girl.

A number of lively bands furnished ample music for the long procession. The parade included a number of splendid horses, from young Percherons to tiny ponies—including Black Beauty, which tomorrow will be won by some lucky boy or girl.

A feature of especial interest was the first fire engine used in this city entered by the Sherbrooke Department. Purchased in 1872, the engine is this year celebrating its sixtieth anniversary.

Occasional showers yesterday afternoon somewhat marred the success of the band concert, although a large crowd wended its way to the Exhibition Grounds and listened to the splendid renditions of the Sherbrooke Regiment Band, under the direction of Professor R. Havard.

Last evening, the skies having cleared and a spell of fine weather being in the air, the attendance at the concert given by the Sherbrooke Harmony Band, under Professor Charles Delvenne, was larger. Playing before the Grand Stand, the centre section of which was filled with an appreciative audience, the musicians rendered a programme, the stirring character of which left no doubt in the minds of any one as to their ability and skill.

The sixty-five musicians were accompanied by a male chorus of fifteen voices—something that had never before been tried on an open-air platform in this city. The effect was pleasing and greatly appreciated by the audience.

The programme rendered by the Sherbrooke Harmony Band was as follows: "Le Vengeur," march, (L. Langlois); two popular selections, "Lady of Spain," (L. Evans) and "Les Cars de la Marine," (L. Herbert); "Il Guarany," overture, (A. C. Gomez); renditions by Orpheon de L'Union Musicale, accompanying the Harmony Band, "The Blue Danube," waltz, (J. Strauss); "Les Aïrs du Cinema," (Arr. by Professor Delvenne); "Rhapsody Slave," (G. Friedmann); Rigoletto quartet, (G. Verdi), soloists, R. Blanchard, S. Rousseau, P. Sylvestre and L. Langevin; renditions by Orpheon, "Pale Moon," (P. Logan) and "Il Sylvia," (O. Spink); two popular selections, "Marta," (W. Silbert); "Les Aïrs de Jose Padilla," (Arr. by Prof. Delvenne); God Save the King.

With the Midway moving in and exhibitors preparing their stock for the following day of the Fair, the grounds yesterday presented a scene of bustling activity.

The Midway people arrived last evening, and as the large wagons

WATCHMAN NEEDS WATCHING

Chicago, August 29.—The police say that Charles Aydberg 26, is a watchman who needs watching. It has been his custom, so they say, to wear a star while making his rounds, examining each door carefully to see that no burglars had entered.

Someone yesterday called the police and reported a star-decked policeman was having difficulty in getting into the rear of a restaurant. He was arrested. Police said he admitted his intention of committing a burglary and that he also confessed at least ten other burglaries on his own beat.

VICE-REGAL PARTY ENJOY BEAUTIES OF THE ROCKIES

Lord and Lady Bessborough, Accompanied by Lord Duncan, Are Today En Route for Pacific Coast.

Jasper Park, Alta., August 29.—Lord Bessborough, Canada's Governor-General, today is en route to the Pacific coast, accompanied by Lady Bessborough. His Excellency is making his first visit to Western Canada.

It is the first time in thirty years that the Governor-General has viewed the Rockies. He is also accompanied by his son, Lord Duncan.

While at Jasper the party viewed the mountains by horseback, aeroplane and motor car.

MINISTERS TO REPORT RESULT OF CONFERENCE

Premier MacDonald and Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas Making Trip to Scotland to Confer With King George.

London, Aug. 29.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas travelled today to Scotland where the King is in residence at Balmoral. They will submit to His Majesty a report on the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa.

Weather conditions prevented the Prime Minister and his colleague from flying and they made the trip by train. Premier MacDonald said he hoped to remain at Balmoral for some time but might be compelled to return to London in a few days. Pressure of business may also compel the Secretary for the Dominions to return to London shortly.

DR. WARNOCK'S BODY FOUND

Vancouver, August 29.—The body of Dr. David Warnock, former Deputy Minister of Agriculture for British Columbia, who disappeared from a Vancouver-Victoria boat Tuesday night, has been found at White Rock, B.C.

NO BARGAINING UNDERTAKEN AT EMPIRE PARLEY

Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin Sees Real Reciprocity Over a Wide Area as Result of Conference.

London, August 29.—"No one in the Dominions or at home can say he had the best of the bargain—the question of bargaining did not enter our minds," declared Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin in his speech broadcast Saturday night on the results of the Imperial Conference.

"It was a proud day for Canada as well as for us when the Conference assembled in the beautiful parliamentary buildings at Ottawa," said Mr. Baldwin. "There never was a welcome more cordial or hospitable more thoughtful and kindly than that given by the people of Canada."

If the Imperial Conference had failed, continued Mr. Baldwin, it would have meant the end of all movement for closer trade with the Empire and reduced British influence to the vanishing point at the forthcoming World Economic Conference, militating gravely against the success of that conference.

Mr. Baldwin, who led the United Kingdom delegation to Ottawa, emphasized his certainty that agreements reached between the various Dominions and colonies would materially help British colonies and react most favorably on the trade of the United Kingdom with them.

"The Conference has more than fulfilled our hopes," he declared. "The great fact that stands out is that the Conference succeeded in agreeing on a revised tariff policy, which brings into effect genuine reciprocity over an enormous area."

The scope and character of tariff changes in the Dominions, he held, meant for the United Kingdom a larger and increasing share in Dominion markets. "We have, as it were, pegged out a claim for the future," he added.

Mr. Baldwin described the declaration by Canada and Australia of their willingness to reduce their tariffs and allow the United Kingdom manufacturers to compete fairly in their markets, as "the biggest achievement of all."

LANCASHIRE STRIKE BEGAN TODAY WITHOUT SERIOUS DISTURBANCES

No Sign of Government Intervention, However, as Most Serious Strike Since 1926 Was Officially Declared—Both Sides Waited Today to See How Many Weavers Would Remain Workless as Result of Week-End Conferences.

Manchester England, Aug. 29.—The great cotton strike involving some 200,000 weavers started in Lancashire today without disturbance.

Strike pickets went on duty at some 700 mills, evidence of the biggest industrial struggle in the history of the textile industry and the most serious industrial strike since 1926.

SEEK SANCTION FROM GOVERNOR FOR INVASION

Miners Await Official Decision Before Attempting to Picket Working Illinois Collieries.

Gillespie, Ill., Aug. 29.—Governatorial sanction for a second invasion of working southern Illinois coal fields was sought today by leaders of striking miners protesting a reduced wage scale.

Failing to obtain such sanction, with attendant assurance of protection, the strikers plan to appeal to the federal courts, their leaders announced. They claim that under federal law they are entitled to peacefully picket the working mines.

Leaders of the striking mines have previously sought to see Governor Louis L. Emmerson but have been unable to obtain an audience with him because he has been ill.

MOLLISON TOOK OFF ON SECOND LAP OF FLIGHT

Left St. John Today for Sydney, N.S., After Being Forced Down Last Night by Fog.

Saint John, Aug. 29.—Taking off for Sydney, N.S., en route to Harbor Grace, Nfld., Captain James A. Mollison left the Saint John municipal airport at 11:02 a.m., Eastern Standard Time. He expected to reach Cape Breton city in three hours.

Weather conditions permitting, the famous aviator will continue from Sydney to Harbor Grace this afternoon. Otherwise he will remain at Sydney for the night.

Thick fog in this vicinity early today lifted before noon, permitting the captain to land his plane here from Nerepis, eighteen miles distant, where he came down in a field late yesterday afternoon after setting out from New York on the first leg of his return flight across the Atlantic.

His schedule called for a direct trip from New York to Saint John, but he was unable to land here yesterday owing to fog and turned back to the large field he had noted as ideal for a landing.

Captain Mollison motored to Nerepis this morning, rose his plane into the air without difficulty, and reached the local airport shortly afterward.

union markets. "We have, as it were, pegged out a claim for the future," he added.

Mr. Baldwin described the declaration by Canada and Australia of their willingness to reduce their tariffs and allow the United Kingdom manufacturers to compete fairly in their markets, as "the biggest achievement of all."

The Sorrento which sailed August 17 for Le Havre with 250,000 bushels, is now nearing its destination and is expected to dock at the French port August 31. The Fenway, a British ship, sailed a few days later and in addition to 250,000 bushels of wheat, carries a large consignment of flour, bran, shorts and rolled oats, the product of mills at Saskatchewan.

As fast as the wheat from the huge modern elevator is poured into the ships more is brought in from the prairies over the Hudson Bay Railway. A train load of wheat, some thirty cars, now moves northward every day, gathered from country points in northern and central Saskatchewan.

SOME IMPORTANT CENTRES ARE OPERATING AS USUAL

Manchester, August 29.—While the strike of Lancashire cotton workers is widespread, weavers at some important centres are still working. At Rochdale where the old wage rate is being maintained 2,000 weavers resumed. Similar conditions existed at Leigh where the operatives at the important mills of Gamble and Smith and Courtauld continued work at full strength.

OUT STEPPED THE MODEL

Chicago, Aug. 29.—A model in a dress shop window was so much dressed up that policeman William Fuller was puzzled.

What puzzled him more than anything else was the fact that the model held a bag in one hand.

"Come out," he commanded, drawing a pistol.

Out stepped James Kane, 26, a negro.

In the bag, said the officer, there were six dresses and they didn't belong to Kane. He was arrested.

UNITED STATES TARIFFS ARE ASSAILED BY SENATOR

Country Has Suffered Colossal Losses in "Its Foolish and Futile Effort to Live by Itself," It is Claimed.

Washington, August 29.—Assailing tariffs of the United States and declaring the Ottawa trade agreement "slashing United States trade to the tune of one to three hundred million dollars" were "prompted by self-preservation," Senator Cordell Hull, Democrat, Tennessee, said the United States was duty-bound to ask a halt in the "wild increase of tariffs" at the coming world economic conference.

In a statement telegraphed to Washington and made public by the Democratic National Committee, Senator Hull asserted the "huge American trade loss resulting from the Ottawa Imperial Conference" is but one of the many colossal losses our country has suffered in its foolish and futile effort to live by itself.

SUGGESTIONS THAT FLYERS NEVER LEFT NEWFOUNDLAND DISCREDITED

Lightkeeper, Far Out on Cape St. Francis, Reports Having Sighted Large Plane on August 25—With News Still Lacking, Hope for Safety of Crew of "Green Mountain Boy" Rapidly Dwindle—Gasoline Supply Would Have Been Exhausted Friday.

Harbor Grace, Nfld., Aug. 29.—Suggestions that the "Green Mountain Boy" did not get away from the Newfoundland coast on its projected trans-Atlantic flight were heard today, but investigation brought no word of the missing plane.

For out on Cape St. Francis, lightkeeper Charles Grouchy has waved goodbye to every adventurous aviator who hopped off from Harbor Grace. Today he reported he had seen a large plane on August 25, the day Clyde Lee and John Bochkon soared away for Oslo, Norway.

Grouchy said the plane was flying very low, but seemed to be following the course of previous ocean liners.

Fishermen from the fishing grounds off Pouch Cove also reported seeing the plane, but they noted nothing unusual except that it was "flying very fast."

Now five days out of Harbor Grace, Lee and Bochkon have been given up for lost by "old timers" around the airport, from which a score of aspirants for trans-Atlantic honors have taken off during the last few years. There is a tinge of hope, however, that they yet may be picked up by a passing ship if they were forced down on the ocean.

Leaving here at 5:02, Eastern Standard Time, on Tuesday, Lee and Bochkon had enough fuel for about thirty-seven hours of flying. Their deadline was exhausted long before nightfall, Oslo time, on Friday.

The suggestions they might not have flown far off the Newfoundland coast evidently were based on reports that the plane had been reported by some fishermen as flying low. All the fishermen interviewed, however, said there was no indication of trouble in the plane's movements and it appeared to be flying "fast."

NOTED JAPANESE OFFICER TO VISIT UNITED STATES

Vice-Admiral Nomura Has Been Directed to Sail from Yokohama Next Month on a Good-Will Mission to the U.S.

Tokyo, August 29.—Because of anxiety in high quarters over what is regarded as growing tension in Japanese-United States relations, Vice-Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura has been directed to sail from Yokohama next month on a good-will mission to the United States.

He is probably Japan's best known naval officer, having served as naval attaché at the Embassy in Washington from 1915 to 1918, and as aide to the Japanese delegation to the Washington Disarmament Conference in 1921 and 1922.

CHANCELLOR LAUNCHES PLAN FOR RETURN OF GERMAN PROSPERITY

Von Papen, Defying All Political Parties of Germany to Oust His Government, Has Outlined Year-Long Rehabilitation Programme that Will Stake About Half a Billion Dollars on Country's Imminent Recovery—Gave Defiance Especially to Adolf Hitler, Nazi Leader.

Berlin, August 29.—Defying all the political parties of Germany to oust his government, Chancellor Franz von Papen has laid before the nation a year-long rehabilitation programme that will stake about half a billion dollars on the imminent return of prosperity.

The Chancellor launched his programme for harassed Germany before a meeting of Westphalian farmers at Muenster yesterday. He gave defiance especially to the outspoken Nazi leader, Adolf Hitler, and served notice that he would keep the seat of power thus:

"If necessary I shall use force to bring about recognition of the equal rights applicable to all German citizens. I am firmly determined to stamp out the smouldering fires of civil war and to suppress increasing political unrest and political acts of violence."

Then came the junker scheme to bring back prosperity and to give more than 1,500,000 of Germany's 5,000,000 jobless something to do. It was based on this promise:

"We proceed from the consideration that important signs point to the fact that the bottom of the depression has been reached, hence all efforts to reinvigorate industry will contribute toward actual revival."

The heart of the scheme itself roughly was: More than two billion marks (about $500,000,000) can be risked on the programme which has been approved by the Reichsbank and which should be financed by a system of tax certificates.

All taxes of a nature likely to hinder production, such as the turnover tax and the transportation tax, due between November 11th this year, and the same date next year, and estimated at 1,500,000,000 marks, will be handed back to the economic life of the country in the form of certificates. The taxpayer can borrow the equivalent of these certificates from the Reichsbank for use in his business. In addition, 700,000,000 marks will be advanced to such industries as will increase their employees. The Government hopes this will give employment to at least 1,750,000 men.

CLAIM CHANCELLOR DARED NOT TOUCH MONIED PEOPLE

Munich, Aug. 29.—The Hitler organ, Voelkischer Beobachter today rejected Chancellor Franz von Papen's economic programme on the ground that the method he proposed for financing the plan from revenue of the future without having a tangible guarantee is an absolute deviation from customary rules.

"It is risky to put an end to wage scale agreements of workmen," the paper said, "because such a measure would not increase the purchasing capacity but diminish it."

The paper finally criticized the Chancellor because "he doesn't dare to touch the big fortunes."

LAST TRIBUTE PAID TO NOTED HALIFAX JURIST

Archbishop of Toronto Officiates at Pontifical Mass at Funeral of Hon. Nicholas Hogan Meagher.

Halifax, August 29.—Thousands of citizens gathered today to pay their last tribute to Hon. Nicholas Hogan Meagher, former Justice of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, who died here on Friday.

Archbishop Neil McNeil, of Toronto, nephew of the dead jurist, officiated at Pontifical High Mass of Requiem at St. Mary's Cathedral. He was assisted by Dean Charles McManus, Rector of the Cathedral, Rev. Father John E. Macdonald, of the diocese of Antigonish, and Rev. Father John Smythe, of the Diocese of Toronto.

The pall-bearers were Hon. J. A. Chisholm, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia; Mr. Justice W. F. Carrill, F. F. Matthews, K.C., Deputy Attorney-General; W. W. Page, F. J. Cummings and Cyril W. Stairs. Interment was made in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

"Sir Nicholas," as he was commonly called by virtue of the knighthood conferred on him five years ago by Pope Pius XI, for service to the Roman Catholic Church, was in his ninetieth year when he died.

Hunedoara, Pa., Aug. 29.—Henry Morrison, of DuBois, Pa., has come out of a "grave" which he entered thirty-seven days ago and claimed the record for this type of endurance test.

Morrison was "buried alive" on July 22nd and when he emerged Sunday appeared none the worse for his experience. He delivered a brief speech to the crowd which had gathered to see him make his appearance.

FAIR PLAY FOR "OLD PROBS."

With his long grey whiskers and elongated face, "Old Probs" is more maligned than even a militant editor. When he's right in his weather probabilities we like it as a matter of course, but when he's wrong we take it as a matter of cuss.

The Weather Man gathers the movements of wind and air waves. With his trident in hand he carefully collates and analyzes the telegraphic reports from the weather bureaux of all North America, including with it the reports by wireless from the ships far out to sea. On his map he traces the mountains, rivers, valleys, and watersheds, and deduces from the speed of the wind just when bad weather or good weather should arrive at a given spot.

Sometimes he misses. Oftener he is right. But when he is wrong we forgive him only after he has been right ten times in succession.

When you say the weather probs are always wrong, you are wrong.

The Weather Man cannot tell just where it will be showery—not exactly, for he cannot know just what mountain top or what air pocket will deflect a shower cloud and send it skyooting in some other direction.

The wooded counties in the Eastern Townships had more refreshing showers this summer than we were entitled to, whilst the timber denuded counties of Beauharnois and Chateauguy did not get a fair share of rain.

The Weather Man does not indulge in alibis or post-mortems. He goes right along studying the depressions and the atmospheric movements here, there and elsewhere.

Two things he does not know: whether it will be a cloudless day on Wednesday, the Eclipse Day, or whether Fair Week will be fine and warm as last week was.

We have impounded him; and his heart is with us, but he does not control but simply evasions.

So again we can only repeat the old saying:

Oh, the weather! Blow the weather, Whether you like it, or whether you don't You'll have to weather it Whether or not.

BETTER THE GRADUAL CHANGE.

It took Britain many years to discard free trade, but it took longer before its adoption to discard protection. There were years of agitation, featured by riots, before Peel switched and wrecked his party to repeal the corn laws. Even that was a measure of protection for manufacturers who were faced with the necessity of raising wages or reducing food prices. Cobden himself was a calico printer and Bright was the son of a Quaker who had accumulated a fortune making carpets. But the circumstance that influenced Peel most was the failure of the potato crop and the danger of famine in Ireland.

There was an under-protection of foodstuffs in England, in 1840—almost a famine condition, and Cobden and Bright used this as a lever to abolish even tariffs for revenue only. They had taken advantage of the condition of the country, just as the "reds" are thriving on the present state of affairs.

Strong agitation can often result in the perpetration of sweeping changes which had better be approached gradually as is the "approach bid."

THE WORST BLUNDER WAS ABSENTEE DIRECTION.

The old Grand Trunk Railway, the nucleus of the Canadian National, missed its golden opportunity in Canada through having an absentee Board of Directors. The President and his directors all resided in England, and from that far-off land they tried to direct an undertaking which required daily supervision. The result was that a good financial undertaking became a job for an undertaker.

Yet, in the organization of the Canadian National Railway system the same palpable blunder was made. The alleged Board of Directors chosen were selected from the different provinces. They were men who would have to spend their whole time on sleeping cars did they attend the meetings with any degree of regularity. They just stayed away and drew their pay. A small quorum of the Board sat each week and fiddled, doing just what the President told them to do, even to giving him a free mansion and providing a retiring allowance of $35,000 a year, if, when and how he might be retired.

Selected for their personal stripe of partizan-ship, chosen for their geographical location, there was no thought of the directors having any knowledge of railway work or transportation problems. The less they knew the better.

This cumbersome board of eighteen directors should have resigned with their chief, for many of them did not even attend meetings, and some of them had their own private cars on which to travel hither and yon.

Until such time as the country expresses more forcefully its weariness with this money-gobbling venture into public ownership the acting President, S. J. Hungerford, should be confirmed in office. He may be more of an expert railway man than would any financial expert, but he has already shown that he is a constructive economist.

Canada must practise rigid economy until we can rid ourselves of all such mad ventures without too much of a capital loss.

We are now on the rising tide. The time is soon when we can dispose of the railway without a loss of more than a billion of dollars—all that has been loaned to the railway in ten years past. Of the rest of the indebtedness, call it debentures or bonds, much of it is oxygen.

CHICKENS COME HOME TO ROOST AND EAT UP OUR COIN.

In an article in the American Bankers' Journal, which includes a survey of the national debt of Canada, W. A. McKague plainly states the case of the disturbance caused by the public ventures in business:

"Aside from the fact that Canada's revenues have declined, while its interest, pensions and certain other charges are practically fixed, the Dominion Government has a tremendous problem on its hands in the Canadian National Railway system, now owned and operated by it, and which has over $1,200,000,000 of funded debt outstanding in the hands of the public, while large loans have been made to it directly by the government.

"In the prosperous years the system had some net revenue, applicable to interest, but under present conditions it is barely meeting its operating expenses, so that the interest charges are a heavy drain on the Dominion Treasury.

"A remedy for the situation, through reduced capitalization and better management, or transfer of control to the Canadian Pacific Railway, or gradual development of more traffic, is one of the urgent present problems of the government. And some absorption of debt and debt charges is inevitable."

E. W. Beatty, President of the C.P.R., was called to Ottawa last week.

In connection with public ownership the author refers to the Ontario debt for the consumption of the bankers, all of whom look upon the Bankers' Journal as their high authority:

"The large central provinces, Ontario and Quebec, have accumulated debt rapidly in recent years, the former—Ontario—having large loans and guarantees to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission."

So that chickens come home to roost. Governments appoint a permanent commission to sidestep responsibility. But with the Board of Railway Commissioners in control of the railway situation in Canada, and the Ontario Hydro-Electric, tremendous debts have accumulated. While those in charge crow about what they are going to do, they send the taxpayer to the pen, just clucking and grumbling.

It is time to do something; and the report of the Royal Commission should be the next thing on the agenda.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

Over a pot of tea the final agreements at Ottawa were consummated. Tea is a great solvent. In England it smooths the path to bargains and the settlement of bridge scores. A journal published in 1658 makes the first known reference to the beverage. It says: "That excellent and by all physicians approved China drink called by the Chineseas Tcha, by other nations Tay, alias Tee." Pepys drank it first in 1600, and notes in his diary: "Afterwards I did send for a cup of tee (a China drink) of which I never had drank before." Seven years later he refers to it again, spelling it as we do now: "By coach home, and there I find my wife making of tea which Mr. Pelling, the Poticary, tells her is good for her cold and defluxions." We doubt its efficacy for colds and defluxions, but for the part it played in the affairs of Empire, here's to the cup that cheers but not inebriates!

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record. August 29th, 1902.

John Wolstenholme, superintendent of the Lomas Mills, was presented with a parlor set by the employees in honor of his approaching marriage. The address accompanying the gift was signed by Wm. Wilcox, D. Maher, Thomas Hudson, Z. Roy, Harry Smith, Thomas Pomerleau, J. A. Woods and J. Rishton.

Rev. F. J. Day and Mrs. Day arrived in Canada after spending several months in Europe, and were guests of Mrs. Day's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gurd, in Montreal, for a few days before proceeding to their home in Sherbrooke.

The 15th annual Sherbrooke Fair opened under favorable auspices under the direction of President N. T. Dussault and Secretary-Treasurer W. M. Tomlinson.

The four-year-old daughter of Fred Morin, of the C. P. R., fell over twenty feet from a second-storey window of her home on Alexander street, but, strange to say, was only slightly injured.

Miss Essie Moe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Moe, left for Montreal to begin a course of study at McGill Normal School.

Hon. Justice William White was elected president of the Sherbrooke Gas and Water Company to succeed Dr. R. W. Heneker, who was about to leave for England.

William H. Elkins, eldest son of Arthur W. Elkins, left for Kingston, Ont., to enter the Royal Military Academy as a gentleman cadet.

LOONBEAMS

by Ted Bullock.

The paintings of such ultra-modernists as the Group of Seven in Toronto—grotesque and incomprehensible as they are—would not be nearly so intolerable if their originators would refrain from delivering lectures and scribbling books and articles trying to say what they think their pictures are supposed to mean.

Said an exhibitor at the Sherbrooke Fair Saturday: "This business of preparing a booth is exactly like dolling up the family Christmas tree, on Christmas Eve.

"There is the same feeling of pleasant suspense, the same glow of satisfaction as disorderly piles of decorations take form in the layout.

"Have you ever noticed, on Christmas morning, how the member of the family who planned the tree hovers around waiting for somebody to say how much nicer it looks than last year's?"

"I expect to spend the first two or three days of the Exhibition hanging around in front of my booth, listening to the comments of the crowd."

That exhibitor ought to be a columnist.

Riding out to Lennoxville in the bus the other day, I sat behind two young men who were reading the editorial page of the Record.

One of them began to chuckle. I tingled from head to foot with gratification. "Here," I said to myself, "is a person who appreciates my column."

Just then the chuckler turned to his companion. "Say," he said, "that man Alfred Wood certainly writes a nifty editorial. Listen to this—"

I intend to propose to the president of the Record that a professor be imported from Oxford to give the staff a brief course in English Literature.

Three days after I had cheerfully transposed Milton and Shakespeare in the chronology of letters, I found an article in the newspaper beginning as follows:

"LETTERS SHOW NOTED WRITER'S GREAT GENIUS.

"Interesting Sidelights Thrown on Character of Charles Lamb by Letters He Wrote to Intimate Friends.

"It has been remarked about Charles Dickens that no other writer had so many friends . . ."

And, for the space of more than a column, Dickens' correspondence is exhaustively discussed.

Whoever wrote that sub-head may, of course, have been attempting to imitate Sixteenth-Century Montaigne who, blithely carrying a vast load of Greek erudition, was in the habit of jotting down any title which happened to pop into his mind, and then of proceeding, in a leisurely and unconcerned manner, to write a long, rambling essay about something else right under it.

Last week the Spanish government committed the death sentence of Rebel General Sanjurjo to life imprisonment. From the British point of view, that is a step in the right direction.

We shall consider Spain fully civilized when Sanjurjo is made President of the Republic.

It is a familiar axiom in our party system of parliamentary government that the chronic kicker within the fold is first to go into the Cabinet, on the Bench, or to the Senate.

The faithful follower, who votes the straight ticket, and is sure of holding his constituency, spends long years on the back pews of the elective House.

That is as it should be.

An article in the Exhibition Special of the shining Record purports to convey to a thrilled world the dying words of famous men and women.

Apart from the fact that I suspect the authenticity of most "last words," I find few of them, as they have come down to us, at all admirable.

In the whole lot broadcast on Saturday there are only two worthy of intelligent humans.

They are those of the dissolute Byron and the reckless Thurlow. "Come, come," Byron urges himself, "no weakness now; let's be a man to the last."

And Thurlow quips: "I'm shot, if I am not dying."

Letters to The Editor

EFFICIENT FOREST PROTECTION

To the Editor, Sir:—In these days of incompetence, indifference, petty politics and dishonesty, it is refreshing and heartening to be able to compliment a governmental department for its efficient, alert and loyal organization and its affords me pleasure and satisfaction to tender a compliment to the Minister of Lands and forests of Nova Scotia on an organization that combines all of these desirable qualities from the Chief Forester down, not forgetting the admirable force of fire rangers, who in their natty uniforms (the use of which I have long advocated) and with their efficient training, together with the competent volunteers, make a force of rangers the equal if not the superior of any on this continent. At the Guides' Tournament at Lunenburg last week where they brought a power pump in action and laid a thousand feet of hose and had a stream of water running in one minute and twelve seconds, probably a record even for a city fire department and is something this splendid force may well be proud of. Had it not been for these alert forest Guardians, Nova Scotia might easily have lost half of her remaining forests during the past few abnormally dry seasons.

I feel that it is a privilege and a duty of every citizen to criticize any government or any governmental department that falls in its duty to the taxpayers who after all, are the ones who have to pay the bills, but also to be just as ready to commend where commendation is deserved.

ELECTROCUTED BY A 50,000 VOLT CHARGE

Verdict of Accidental Death in Fatality at Westbury, when Narcisse Allard Was Instantly Killed.

Westbury, Que., Aug. 29.—An electric charge of fifty thousand volts shot through the body of Narcisse Allard, thirty years old, on Saturday afternoon, causing instantaneous death.

Allard, an employee of the Westbury power plant, was about to paint the lightning rods when the fatality occurred. He placed a ladder by mistake against the live wire and while he was still standing upon the ground, a current of electricity passed through the steel ribs of the ladder. Allard, gripping the ladder, was electrocuted.

Two doctors from East Angus, Dr. Romeo Veilleux and Dr. Banfill, were summoned to the scene and attempted to revive the man through artificial respiration. Lord's ambulance from Sherbrooke arrived a few minutes later and the lung motor was put to work, but all without avail.

In his testimony at the Coroner's inquest Saturday, when a verdict of accidental death was returned, Dr. Veilleux said that death must have been instantaneous.

The inquest was held here, under the presidency of Lonidas Bachand, of Sherbrooke.

Allard was the son-in-law of William Brault, former mayor of Sherbrooke. He leaves his wife and three children, Gaston, Robert and Roland.

the Coming Eclipse of the Sun." A tribute was paid by him in the introductory portion of his sermon to the gracious bearing of modern science upon human life as illustrated in the fact that astronomy had made it possible for us to look forward with an eager expectancy and interest for the coming of the eclipse instead of with the superstitious terror felt by those who ignorantly regarded it as a menacing portent of calamity. Pursuing his theme he found in the brevity of the eclipse the comforting suggestion (confirmed by Scripture), that earth's troubles and darkenses of experience are at their worst only passing things—limited in duration. Tribulation is for "ten days," and "our light afflictions" are "but for a moment." Noting the fact that Wednesday's obscuration of the sun would be caused by the moon which ordinarily plays the very opposite part of helping to lighten night's darkness, and was a relatively small body, Dr. Lennon found in this a warning of how small things count at times darkened for a human life the sun of righteousness, and likewise of how "good things," by getting into the wrong place in life, can produce the same sad result. One must keep "first things first," and resolutely let the "good" go to obtain the "best."

A notable fact, however, concerning the approaching eclipse had a further suggestion of religious comfort to it, he said. Scientists were hoping to learn some things about the corona of the sun during the obscuration—things which the full glory of the sunlight made it impossible for them to discover. It was a possibility too that things very much worth while to know might be learned about Christ by a soul for whom He was in eclipse. The emptiness and darkness of life without Him for instance, and, per contra, the real quality of that joy which abides when He is present in our soul's firmament. The question, "Where is the blessedness I knew?" may well rise in a human heart when Christ is obscured from it, and the very deprivation may provoke the wise conclusion, "Thou, O Christ, are all I want."

The music of the service was in marked harmony with the theme of the sermon, the choir rendering the anthem, "Come, Ye Disciples," and Mr. Rhys Lloyd, of Montreal, singing "Scavenger," "Just For Today." A duet by Messrs. Lloyd and Baskerville (the latter of Coatook), entitled "Watchman, What of the Night?" made the harmony of thought between music and sermon complete.

In the evening Dr. Lennon preached a sequel of the morning message. Pointing out that the term, "A Total Eclipse of the Sun" is in a sense a misnomer, since only a relatively small portion of the continent's inhabitants would witness the totality, which for others the sun would remain visible to a more or less degree, he impressed upon his hearers the fact that there is never a total eclipse of the Sun of Righteousness. That experience is likewise individualistic. Some few may feel that He is gone from their spiritual heavens, and speak of Him as completely obscured, but for others He was meanwhile still arising "with healing in His Wings." So that none could justly say, "The good Lord Jesus has had His day." Christian experience still vouches for the fact that He was yet in the heavens. In illustrating his theme, Dr. Lennon made an extended reference to Guy Thorne's novel, "When It Was Dark."

The choir rendered Roberts' anthem, "Seek Ye the Lord," Mr. Rhys Lloyd taking the solo part, and Miss Eleanor Wheeler also sang Evillie's, "God Grant Us Repose."

DEATHS REPORTED

ALEXIS L. DUPUIS, COATICOOK. One of Coaticook's most highly esteemed citizens passed away early Friday morning about three o'clock. The late Mr. Dupuis had lived nearly all his life in or near Coaticook. Dupuis was the son of the late Calixte Dupuis and Mrs. Dupuis. His boyhood was spent in Barnston. When young he became apprenticed to the late Samuel Cleveland as a store clerk, then later entering in partnership with Mr. S. Cleveland, opened a store on Cutting street. Later he became sole owner and moved the business to Child street. Then disposing of this business he opened an automobile and agricultural implements business at the corner of Child and Wellington streets, where he continued in business until his appointment as Postmaster of Coaticook in 1924. Mr. Dupuis was Mayor of the Town in 1920 and 1921 always taking an active part in all progress of the Town.

Mr. Dupuis was the one who suggested the feasibility of building iron bridges over the Coaticook River at Main and St. Jean Baptiste streets at the time that he was in office. This materialized later. Mr. Dupuis was first married to Miss Marie Martin, of Coaticook, and his second wife was Miss Sophie Dault, of Boston, Mass., who predeceased him two years ago. His first wife died when his only daughter, Catherine was just a young child. The funeral was held from his late residence on Cutting street, the St. John's Church, at nine o'clock, High Mass was said at nine o'clock, Father L. N. Caron officiating, assisted by Father Sideloup, deacon and Father Victor Dupuis, sub-deacon, both of these latter being from St. Charles Seminary, of Sherbrooke. Mass was also said at the side altars by Father Antonio Dupuis (nephew) and Father Alder Fontaine. The St. John's choir rendered, Perosi Mass.

The late Mr. Dupuis was one of the founders of the St. John's Choral Society. Mr. Dupuis held the post office for eight years, when, some months ago, he suffered a severe shock and although he had so far recovered as to be able to be out again, he did not regain his usual health and a few days previous to from weakness he passed peacefully away early Friday morning, August 19th.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Mayor Felix I. LaJoie, D. S. Bachand, E. P. Dupuis, Joseph Audet, Joseph Allaire, and J. B. Dionne. The bearers were all nephews of the deceased. Mrs. D. A. N. Dupuis, Alfred Dupuis, Theodore Dupuis, Alexis Dupuis, Albert Dault and John Dault.

Very many spiritual bouquets, flowers, and mass offerings were received, showing the deep esteem in which Mr. Dupuis was held.

The mourners were Catherine Dupuis, daughter and only child, six brothers, Messrs. Azarias, Ludger, Anthony, Philipp, Siméon, Emile, and one sister, (Georgina) Mrs. Moses Tremblay, and many other relatives including Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, Mrs. Mary Ann Murphy, Mrs. Alice LeBrun, Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Benham, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moore, Misses Azarienne and Beatrice Dupuis, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Dupuis, Mr. Alfred Dupuis, Mr. Joseph Dupuis, Mr. Philias Dupuis, Mr. and Mrs. Adrien Dumont.

Miss Catherine Dupuis and other relatives have the deepest sympathy of the whole community.

Among those from out-of-town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Dupuis (brother), Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Dupuis (nephew), of Three Rivers, Mass., Mr. Emile Dupuis, Hartford, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. Moses Tremblay (sister), of Sherbrooke, Mr. Albert B. Dault and John, of Boston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, South Paris, Mr. Thomas Moore, Sherbrooke, Misses Azarienne and Beatrice Dupuis, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dupuis, of Rock Island, Mr. John Hackett, M.P., of Stanstead, and the Town Council, represented by Aldermen W. E. St. Pierre, Arthur Benoit and Joseph Cameron.

HATLEY

Obadiah, Governor of King Ahab's Court, passed in review before the United Church congregation on Sunday morning, August 21st, as an example of the fruitless attempt in his age, as all down through the ages, of serving both God and Mammon.

On Sunday Mrs. (Rev.) Seaton was at Pith Bay, in her capacity as president of the Sherbrooke-Quebec Women's Missionary Society. The usual exodus took place during the three days of the County Fair. In connection with the contests carried on by the Brace Comedy Co., Mr. and Mrs. McClary, of "Brookfield," received the China tea-pan, as claimants to the status of the oldest couple in the hall at the time of the endurance test of holding a brick at arm's length. Mr. Arthur Curtis proved the stronger, receiving as a reward a crisp dollar bill, while Miss Lillian Foote proved her ability to hit a nail on the head, thus driving the required number of four in less time than the other two competitors, and for this feat, was awarded a china biscuit jar. By popular consent, the attractive hat was won by Miss Margaret Moulton, who also received the largest number of votes, in the popular lady society, thereby becoming entitled to a wrist-watch, for which Miss Margaret duly expressed her appreciation. MARCEL MARIER WON THE RECORD TROPHY FOR E. T. MEN'S SINGLES

Twenty-Year-Old Drummondville Star Won a Brilliant Four-Set Victory Yesterday Afternoon Over Wilson "Bill" Beck, Stylish Lennoxville Performer, to Win Sherbrooke Record Cup—Final Scores Were 4-6, 6-0, 7-5, 6-2—Dunsmore Brothers Added Second Major Title by Winning Men's Doubles Title.

The handsome Sherbrooke Record tennis trophy, donated eleven years ago as emblematic of Eastern Townships men's singles supremacy, has again taken flight from its birthplace and today Drummondville is the foster home of the coveted trophy for a year, as a result of the brilliant four-set victory which Marcel Marier achieved over the best of the local crop of performers, the colorful and stylish Wilson "Bill" Beck, of Lennoxville. On the clay-surfaced St. Francis Club courts yesterday afternoon, the Drummondville youth repeated the achievement which a fellow townsman, Leo deVerteuil, had accomplished a few years back and earned the right to inscribe his name on the role of honor along with former title-holders who include A. Hodgson, of Magog; Pat Gain, of Richmond; Leo deVerteuil, of Drummondville; Maurice Loomis, Earl Bartlett and Connie Gregoire, of Sherbrooke.

The match proved a fitting climax to the wonderful exhibition of high class tennis witnessed since the 1932 classic was inaugurated two weeks ago. Nearly two hundred enthusiasts attended the final and the keen interest with which they followed the fortunes of the scintillating duel found expression in the long rounds of applause which greeted the concluding shots to long tense rallies. It was a genuine battle between two top notchers, and the final scores, 4-6, 6-0, 7-5, 6-2, indicated the superiority which the Drummondville star had over his Sherbrooke Country Club opponent.

The brand of tennis was the kind which appeals to enthusiasts of this increasingly popular summer sport. Both contenders for the crown which Connie Gregoire captured last year remained in their respective back courts and drove deep in their attempts to fathom one another's weakness. Marier was the better conditioned of the pair, but Beck stood up well under the ordeal which his opponent subjected him to. Both players covered much ground but the rigorous training which Marier had undergone in preparation for the tournament stood him in good stead for the test.

The first set was in the nature of a test in which both players played cautiously. Towards the end of the opener, however, the game developed into a fast exchange of stinging drives and the spectators were treated to a fine display. Neither player won his first service, but Marier captured his second service even after committing a double fault. Beck, however, rallied and took four games in a row to establish a 3-1 lead. On two occasions, once in the eighth and again in the ninth game, Beck had set point on the tip of his racket only to find himself unable to pack the finishing punch. Marier brought Beck's service to duce in the tenth game but the Lennoxville star took the next two points to draw first blood at 4-4.

Marier evaded matters by taking the second set at love. Only two of the six games went to duce, Marier taking Beck's service the sixth game without the loss of a point. Facing a five-love deficit, Beck brought his experience to the fore and threw away the final game to gamble on the third set.

After a short rest, games went with service until the second game when Beck captured Marier's service to secure a temporary 4-3 lead. In this game, Marier made two double faults and dropped the third point to trail at love-4. He took the next three points to bring the game to duce before Beck crunched through with the necessary strokes to win. Marier applied more pressure and Beck was unable to garner a single point as the score went to four-all. In the tenth game, after Marier had taken the lead at 5-4, Beck was behind at 15-40 on his own service but took four points to again deadlock the count at five-all. Marier assumed at 2-1 lead in sets by taking the eleventh and twelfth games.

There still remains the veterans' singles to be concluded and it is expected that this event will be culminated during the week.

Following the game, the visitors were entertained by the lady members of the Waterville Club. The detailed scores are as follows:

MARIASINE WON CLUB TITLE AT LENNOXVILLE

Defeated Bob Doak in Golf Club Championship Final on Saturday—Doak Family Represented in Four Finals, But Failed to Win a Title.

The finals for the various Lennoxville Golf Club trophies were played on Saturday, keen competition marking the play in the seven events. The Doak family was well represented, taking part in four finals but had to be content with the runner-up position in each of the four divisions. The experience of the veteran finalists overcame the ambition of their younger opponents, the titles and trophies being captured by the older contender.

Harry Mariasine won the Rosenbloom trophy, emblematic of the club championship, by a 3 and 2 margin over his younger rival, Bob Doak. This match was played in the morning because young Doak was a finalist for the J. P. L. Stewart trophy offered for players of Class "B" and Class "C" only. He was opposed and defeated by Bob McMurray.

In the ladies' division, Mrs. George Doak met with no better success than her two sons when she opposed Miss Eileen McMurray for the trophy donated by the ladies' branch. The cup offered by Mrs. J. P. L. Stewart for the women's section, presented the following trophies and prizes: Club championship, Rosenbloom Cup, Harry Mariasine, runner-up, R. Doak, J. P. L. Stewart handicap trophy, Class "B" and Class "C" players, R. McMurray, runner-up, S. Doak.

Following the distribution of prizes, tea was served by the lady members, the hostesses being Mrs. J. B. Winder, Mrs. L. G. Parent, Mrs. T. E. Burton, Mrs. M. Beaton, Mrs. E. Beaton and the Misses C. Taylor, M. Hall, and K. Porteous.

Earlier in the afternoon, Marier and Beck had forged their way into the final by defeating Gregoire and Beck in the semi-final by scores of 6-4, 1-6, 6-1. The Country Club pair showed up best in the first two sets but the short rest interval worked havoc with their play and allowed the Drummondville pair to amble through to a 6-1 decision in the deciding tie.

The final was very one-sided, the scores, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2, indicating the wide margin of superiority, which the new champions held over the former title-holders.

The links were in fine shape for the match and keen enjoyment was experienced by the various foursomes.
