Townships 'neglected'

QUEBEC, Jan. 18 (CP) — Glen Brown (L—Brome) declared in the legislature today the Eastern Townships region, third most populous area of the province, had been the most neglected under the former Union Nationale government.

Defends autonomy policy

QUEBEC (CP)—Jean-Jacques Bertrand, a key man in the Union Nationale, defended the party's provincial autonomy policy Thursday and called for "the best brains in Canada" to strengthen provincial powers under the Canadian constitution.

Mr. Bertrand also denied repeated reports of friction between himself and Union Nationale Leader Daniel Johnson.

He said during the throne speech debate that Quebec's young people are worried about the province's future in confederation and said all political parties must unite to improve the constitution.

"I feel that French-Canadians can continue to live within confederation, as long as it is given necessary amendments."

Glenn Brown (L—Brome), whose riding is located next to Mr. Bertrand's, said the Union Nationale had used provincial autonomy as "a red herring that misled the people of the province."

Camille Pouliot (UN—Gaspé) said the government's proposed total revision of Quebec's electoral map "could be dangerous from all points of view."

He said rural counties must remain untouched, they must retain their influence. "The influence of religious, rural counties is preferable to that of urban, cosmopolitan counties," he declared.

Butter surplus problem

Want price slashed, support maintained

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's dairy farmers have asked the federal government for immediate help to dispose of record stockpiles of dairy products.

At the annual meeting of Dairy Farmers of Canada Thursday, delegates passed a resolution urging the government to cut the consumer price of butter by 14 cents and maintain the farmer's support price at 64 cents. The proposed cut would cost the government some $49,000,000.

If the subsidy were granted, it would boost the annual cost of price supports for dairy products to more than $70,000,000. A special committee report said dairy price supports cost Canada more than $21,000,000 in the 1960-61 dairy year.

There were two main reasons behind the request. Canada's butter surplus, delegates were told, has reached a total of some 200,000,000 pounds while butter consumption "has been decreasing at an alarming rate since 1957 and continues to decrease."

The underlying cause of the butter problem was the record production of fluid milk—some 19,100,000,000 pounds in 1961—since most surplus milk was converted to butter.

The dairymen recommended that fluid milk quotas be established on the basis of each producer's 1961 production, and that existing quotas be maintained at present levels until the surplus dwindles.

The cheese industry was described by a spokesman as "one branch of the dairy industry that is in a fairly sound position."

Reject charge

WASHINGTON (CP) — A charge that Canada has been dumping telephone cable in the United States was rejected Thursday by the U.S. treasury department. The department declined to give details of the case, but said the ruling applied to lead-covered, paper-insulated cable used primarily in military installations. Last year the U.S. imported about $3,000,000 worth of insulated wire cable from Canadian firms.

He said the 1960 report of the trade and commerce department had shown an inventory of 54 potential new industries compared with only seven under the Union Nationale.

Opposition leader Daniel Johnson, whose Bagot riding adjoins the Townships, said Mr. Brown was trying to mislead the house.

The report containing the higher inventory was issued under the Liberals but probably covered 1959, when the Union Nationale was still in office.

He asked what year it covered, but Mr. Brown replied that the report is "available any time" and suggested Mr. Johnson "look it up himself."

Mr. Brown said a proposed Montreal to Sherbrooke expressway is "the key to the Eastern Townships economy," and surveys for the proposed route had been started last summer.

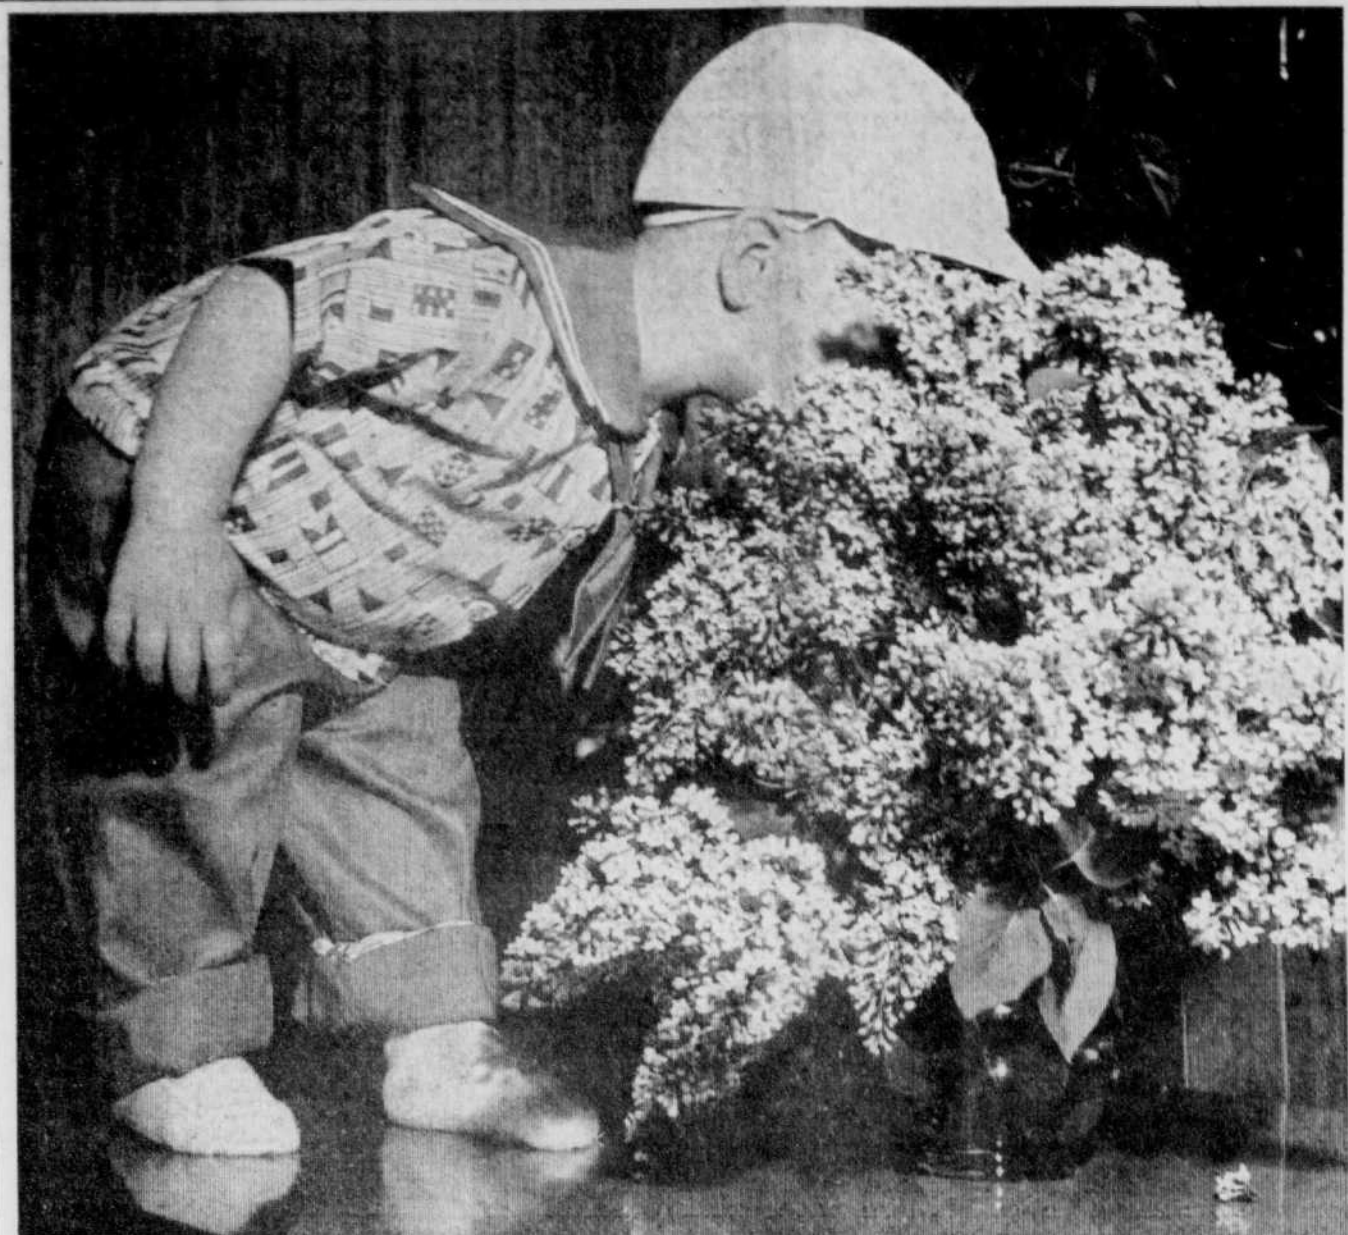

"When are we going to get it?" asked Mr. Johnson.

"Sooner than during the last 16 years," replied the Liberal member.

Us immortal?

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet scientist suggested Thursday that human beings may one day be made immortal by "switching off" the process that makes them grow old.

Academician V. T. Kuprevich said in a talk on Moscow radio: "Why should man die of old age? I consider the process of aging a pathological, an abnormal process. I am sure that one can find means for switching off the mechanism which makes cells age."

Dominica civil government restored

Counter-coup successful

SANTO DOMINGO (AP)—A counter-coup led by his own officers ousted Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarría Thursday night and restored civilian government to the Dominican Republic.

The sudden end of two days of military-dominated junta touched off one of his ancient city's wildest celebrations.

Rafael Bonnelly, 57, a lawyer, was sworn in as president almost exactly 48 hours after he and three other members of the all-civilian State Council were led out of the National Palace as prisoners of would-be military dictator Rodriguez Echavarría and a junta installed in their place.

Six of the seven members of the State Council—most of them long-time opponents of the Trujillo dictatorship resumed control of the government they first took up Jan. 1.

The State Council's first act after returning to the National Palace was to accept the resignation of Joaquin Balaguer, a Trujillo holdover who was president until the junta deposed the seven-man council Tuesday night.

That cleared the way for Bonnelly to step up to the presidency in accordance with an agreement last month between Balaguer and the leading anti-Trujillo faction, the National Civic Union.

Radio Caribe said Balaguer's whereabouts were not known. There was no word on the whereabouts of Rodriguez Echavarría.

Three military members of the junta and two civilian members who had held high office under the Trujillos.

Rodriguez Echavarría was guarded in a waiting room in the National Palace as Bonnelly, member of the National Civic Union was installed.

nearby. Just two months ago he had been a hero to Dominicans for leading the air force uprising that expelled the last of the Trujillo dynasty.

Air Force Gen. Andres Rodriguez Mendez was named Rodriguez Echavarría's successor as chief of the armed forces, Caribe radio reported.

Quick pledges of support from the army, navy and air force lifted one great problem from the council, but many lie ahead.

The council also faces a major reorganization of the government. Many departments are still in the hands of die-hard Trujillo followers who had been protected by Balaguer. A reorganization of the huge armed forces also is necessary.

Rodriguez Echavarría's junta issued a series of sweeping decrees designed to stifle opposition, but he was unable to maintain order.

Drops gasoline in register

Victoriaville boy, 11, killed in house fire

VICTORIAVILLE — An 11-year-old boy lost his life here Thursday in a $10,000 flash fire which started when he dropped a glass jug full of gasoline near a hot air register.

Three other persons have been hospitalized, suffering from burns.

The fire, which broke out at the home of Egidio Provencher, 21 Aqueduc Street also caused $10,000 in damage to the two-storey home.

Firemen found Richard Provencher lying dead on his bed on the second floor. His father, Egidio Provencher, his 18-month-old sister Marlyne, and his mother were all taken to the St. Anne Hospital in Victoriaville suffering from burns.

The father and the baby girl were transported to the Notre Dame Hospital in Montreal last night on the order of Dr. Raymond Arsenault of Victoriaville.

The father is suffering from third degree burns to his head, arms, feet and back. The baby girl is suffering from third degree burns to the face.

The mother is still in the St. Anne Hospital this morning. She has minor burns on her arms. Hospital authorities said this morning that her condition is not serious.

Two other Provencher children, Ronald, 6, and Alain, 3, escaped from the fire without injury.

Sixteen Victoriaville firemen fought the fire. They said the dead boy had been sent to the basement by his father to get a jug full of gasoline. He dropped the jug near a hot air register in the kitchen and the fire started.

The family was trapped upstairs and had to fight their way through the flames to safety.

When Mr. Provencher got out in the yard he noticed that Richard was not there. He then told the firemen, who had been told by a neighbor that one of his children was missing.

They found the boy lying dead on a second floor bed, they said.

The coroner of the district, Dr. Arthur Thibault, said that he thought the boy died of asphyxiation because his body seemed to be untouched by flames.

The two children unhurt by the flames Ronald and Alain, have been taken in by the Red Cross division of Victoriaville until the parents are again able to take care of them.

MONTREAL (CP) — Dr. Adèle Groulx, director of the Montreal health department, disagreed Thursday with a federal health officer who expressed alarm over a Canadian-wide increase in cases of infectious hepatitis, a disease of the liver. Dr. Groulx said cases of the disease in Montreal increased 600 per cent in 1961 over the previous year. But part of the increase was due to better diagnosis, he said.

Major W. T. M. Edwards and Sgt. J. Bennett of 9 Militia Group Headquarters conducted their annual inspection of the 46th Field Regiment's Coaticook Battery last Wednesday. Capt. R. G. Edwards, Battery Commander joined the 9 Militia Group representatives in their inspection of the unit.

While there Major Edwards observed the training of the 53 candidates of the Special Militia Training Programme candidates training at Coaticook Armoury.

On Saturday the 27th of January the lieutenant qualifying course candidates will journey to Camp Farnham where they'll fire the C-1, regulation 7.62 rifle.

There are thirty-two courses conducted at the Canadian Civil Defence College up until the end of July. Two began January 8th and end today, while three others start on Monday 22nd and will last until the 26th. The courses range from National Survival methods through to special Civil Defence instruction, and are open to either Canadian Army regulars or militiamen. If you are eligible and interested in taking special training, inquire for added details from your unit orderly room.

Five-hundred and one sirens are located across Canada, Army Headquarters has announced.

The Army's national survival program, which may go as high as 1500 sirens as surveys are completed, includes a complex electrical system for sounding these machines from central locations. Being rather complicated devices, both the circuits and the sirens themselves are subject to faults, particularly when first installed. Although efforts are made to prevent accidental sounding of individual sirens, several instances of this have been reported. Such incidents may recur as further sirens and their associated circuits are installed.

In some cases the exact cause of an accidental sounding cannot be determined, but steps are continually being taken to reduce this problem.

The first action that the public should take on hearing a siren is to listen to the radio. If it is an accident, radio stations will be notified as soon as possible and will announce this information. If it is an emergency, directions will be given to the public over the radio. The public is requested not to use the telephone as this ties up lines required in the event of an emergency.

Electrical revenue is $3,000,000 for '61

The City of Sherbrooke's electrical sales revenue totaled over $3,000,000 in 1961, Olivier Routhier, city treasurer announced Friday.

Mr. Routhier said that the domestic power for 1961 was higher than the commercial industrial consumption.

The domestic power consumption was $1,211,689.67, while commercial consumption totaled $988,575.65.

Lowest total of power was consumed by industries. The 1961 industrial consumption totaled $889,086.33.

The city treasurer said during the months of November, December, January, February, and March, the electrical power consumed by the city increased by almost 50 per cent, over the other months of the year.

The amount of electrical power bought from the Shawinigan Water & Power Company for 1961, totaled $948,547.74.

President's report Sherbrooke Hospital facilities are being "taxed to the utmost"

At a regular meeting of the Board of Governors of the Sherbrooke Hospital held January 16, the president, H. E. Grundy, Q.C., stressed that many of the hospital's existing facilities are being taxed to the utmost.

Although a hospital occupancy rate in excess of 80 per cent is most undesirable, Mr. Grundy reported that the Sherbrooke Hospital's overall occupancy rate, based upon the number of beds set-up, was 82.2 per cent in 1961 with one department averaging as high as 93.5 per cent.

In addition to In-Patient facilities, two of the greatest increases were recorded in the Out-Patient Department and the Laboratories. Although the increase in the number of examinations was higher for "out-patients," the unit values were higher for "in-patients" showing that there is a greater demand for more complicated procedures for the latter than for the former, Mr. Grundy pointed out.

"It would seem self-evident," Mr. Grundy said, "that the need for expansion in a number of departments or departmental units is becoming more and more pressing."

Referring to the introduction of the governmental insurance scheme and its effect upon the existing hospital facilities, Mr. Grundy stated that "it is full use, rather than abuse, of the scheme which has brought even greater overcrowding about since its inception a year ago."

He also recalled a statement made recently by the Federal Minister of Health, the Hon. J. Waldo Monteith: "The insurance program has not meant that the Government has taken over hospitals or that it has assumed all financial responsibility for them. Hospitals are still basically a community institution."

Mr. Grundy added: "This is something which all of us must bear in mind if we are to retain our autonomy and provide the community with the best patient care possible."

On Sunday Mr. Canglely attended a meeting called by the OTJ and voted against a $2 tax which the city is planning to impose to help playground groups such as the OTJ.

He was there representing the Stamp Club. He was sent by the president, Abbe Hector Lafrance, to support the OTJ because they supplied the club with a place to meet in the OTJ building according to alderman Antonio Pinard, president of the OTJ.

When alderman Pinard informed the president of the Stamp Club that the club's representative had voted against the tax, the president was "stunned," Pinard said.

On Wednesday, Abbe Lafrance refused to say whether or not Canglely had resigned his post or would be forced to do so.

Dr. Harper has been principal of Sunnyside for three years.

Mrs. L. St. Cyr, grade seven teacher at Notre Dame School in Richmond has received the Inspector's bonus for her teaching ability. The award was made on the recommendation of Inspector R. Finn.

Warren Lynch was elected president of the newly formed local committee for the Quebec Music Festival which met at the home of Mrs. Roland Codere here Thursday night.

The fourteen members of the committee also made further plans for the competition which the Quebec Music Festival will sponsor in Sherbrooke this year.

Elected first vice-president was Leon Lorange; second vice-president; Marcel Drolet, recording secretary Mrs. Pierre Bachand and corresponding secretary Mrs. Gaetan Cote. Named treasurer was Miss Mimi Shea; publicity Tom Leonard; reception committee, Mrs. Roland Codere, and public relations, Mrs. C. Gervais.

The holding of the competition will mark the first time that an official program has been presented by the Quebec Music Festival in this city.

The competition, which will be held at the University of Sherbrooke April 23 to 25 will be open to everyone.

Finalists will travel to Montreal to compete in a grand final. After this, they will return to Sherbrooke for a series of recitals.

The competition is recognized by the Canada Council of Arts. It is put on in the hope of encouraging musical talent in the Eastern Townships.

The festival will also be held in Chicoutimi, Hull, Rimouski, Quebec, Thetford Mines and Montreal.

East Angus man awaits sentencing in jail after refusing to take the cure on parole

Gerard l'Abbe, 25, of East Angus, was ordered to remain behind bars pending passing of sentence against him on February 12.

L'Abbe had pleaded guilty to five charges of false pretences involving about $250 when he appeared in court January 8. He had been released on parole following his promise to be treated for an alcoholic condition at the Domremy House, in Quebec City. Judge Redmond Hayes had deferred passing of sentence to February 12.

At that time, l'Abbe had told Judge Hayes that his troubles stemmed from liquor, and that relatives and friends had promised to reimburse his victims if he agreed to submit to a cure at the Domremy House.

He had agreed to this stipulation but he was arrested early this week by the East Angus municipal police when he was seen in the municipality. He admitted that he had refused to go to the Domremy House, following which he was arraigned in Court Thursday morning.

Judge Hayes told the accused that he didn't respect the conditions of his parole, and ordered that he be incarcerated pending passing of sentence next February 12.

A 46-year old Sherbrooke man elected to be tried by a judge alone in Sherbrooke District Court Thursday morning after he pleaded not guilty to three counts of gross indecency.

Judge Hayes said, however that bail was imposed so as to assure the accused's presence in Court, and that the slightly heavy bail was warranted in this case.

Roy is charged with committing numerous acts of gross indecency with two 13-year-old children and with one 14-year-old youth dating back to November, 1961.

Judge Hayes remanded the accused to January 25 when a date will probably be set for his preliminary inquest. Lawyer Raymond Frechette, of Sherbrooke, represented the accused.

Harold Smith, 51, of Granville, pleaded guilty in District Court Thursday morning to a charge of hit and run. Judge Hayes fined the accused $50 and costs, or in default, one month.

Smith admitted colliding with a parked car last January 15 in Cedarville, causing about $200 in damages.

Two Sherbrooke youths were arraigned in Sherbrooke District Court Wednesday morning on several counts of theft. The youths pleaded guilty on all charges and passing of sentence was remanded to January 29 by Judge Redmond Hayes.

Richard Therrien, 18, and Pierre Marceau, 18, both admitted stealing about $50 in cash and merchandise from two Sherbrooke clubs, the Fraser club, and the Tuque Rouge club. Therrien admitted breaking and entering into the Tuque Rouge club on two occasions, while Marceau was charged with only one breaking and entering charge at the Tuque Rouge Club.

Both accused also pleaded guilty to an attempted theft in a parked car. All of the offences were allegedly committed this month.

The two youths will remain in Winter Street Jail pending passing of sentence.

One of Sherbrooke's hotels, the Chateau Frontenac, has been sold to a Waterloo man, it was revealed today.

Georges-Emile Gervy, who also owns the Hotel Rockcliff on route No. 5 near Stanstead, took over the management of the Chateau Frontenac Sunday morning, soon after the agreement was concluded.

The hotel, which includes some 200 rooms was formerly owned by Germain Larocque.

Mr. Gervy said there would be many policy changes made at the hotel but as yet no plans have been announced.

The fire broke out about 12 o'clock and within a short time had burnt the barn to the ground. Nothing was saved, firemen said.

Five Sawyerville volunteer firemen were called to the scene but according to fire chief Ernest Berwick the old barn was half burnt by the time they arrived.

They managed to save the house which chief Berwick said was in danger throughout the fire because of the high winds.

It is not known how the fire started.

Throne Speech hits early vote talk

Any belief that a spring election is planned by the Diefenbaker administration should be dispelled by the Speech from the Throne read at the opening of Parliament Thursday.

In this statement of policy, the Government announced its intention of introducing a wide list of social welfare reforms, including increased old age pensions, contributory supplementary and survivors' pensions, drought relief for prairie farmers and increased aid to universities.

But if the Progressive Conservative party hopes to realize any electoral advantage from these proposals, they must be enacted and placed in operation. Otherwise they represent nothing more than election promises and carry little more weight than the proposals being put forward by the opposition parties.

While the details of the Government proposals will be available only when the individual legislation is presented to the House of Commons, it is obvious the program is designed to embarrass the Liberals and the New Democrats.

During the past few weeks, the Opposition spokesmen have been telling what their parties will give the electors in the event they win the election.

If its legislative proposals are adopted, the Government can come before the people with a clear-cut list of accomplishments.

This leaves the Opposition forces with two undesirable alternatives. The first is to oppose the Progressive Conservative legislation as impractical, thus admitting their own promises were nothing more than election bait. The second is to make even greater promises of state aid for the individual. In other words, they must shout "Me too, but more," a cry that may not gain them many votes.

But one fact is obvious. The Throne Speech contains so many items of major importance that Parliament cannot be dismissed summarily without bringing cries of bad faith.

Suggestions for city civil defence

Sherbrooke Alderman Everett Nicol Wednesday night at the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe club called for some "constructive suggestions" from The Record regarding national survival plans for the city.

The challenge is a late one. Since last August, The Record has published a host of suggestions that could be considered by city hall authorities with regards to civil defence in this city.

They have ranged from such specific ideas as looking into the possibilities of using the Webster Parking garage as an emergency fall-out shelter in the event of nuclear attack on Canada to setting up a permanent civil defence committee, headed by a competent and appropriately-trained man.

Taken together, the suggestions made by The Record fill a sizable file. Some of them are based on recommendations made by known authorities in the field.

Some of them have been followed, not, it is true by Sherbrooke, but by other communities in the Eastern Townships. Lennoxville and Rock Island, as mentioned on this page previously, are two communities that have over the past few months taken some concrete steps towards civil defence preparedness.

It is not claimed that all of the suggestions made in these pages are brilliant concepts.

But they do represent a sincere attempt to be constructive, to stir action where there is now only inaction.

And all of them attempt to make the same point: that a large measure of responsibility for some sort of national survival planning at the municipal level rests with municipal authorities.

Some members of the city council recognize this responsibility. At the August 28 meeting of the Sherbrooke City council, Alderman Antonio Pinard said:

"Time is flying past, and we're doing nothing. We started to talk about doing something about civil defence two months ago. It is almost Labor Day, and still nothing substantial has been done. Christmas will be here before you know it, and still we are delaying. We must do something immediately."

Now it is the New Year, and Mr. Pinard's words, unfortunately, are as true now as they were when they were spoken.

Politicians take the simple way out when they're in the dark — simply cloud the issue.

Graphic arts a gigantic industry

Across Canada, Printing Week is being observed.

As a newspaper, we cannot help but take pride in being part of the giant industry the week honors.

The graphic arts, including publishing, employ more Canadians than any other manufacturing industry in some 3,400 plants in every province and almost every municipality in Canada.

About 300,000 persons owe their jobs either directly or indirectly to printing in Canada. People engaged in such differing activities as logging, postal service, ink manufacture and writing are dependent on the printing industry.

It is estimated that altogether, at least 1,250,000 Canadian men, women and children live prosperously as a result of printing, publishing and their allied enterprises in full or in part.

There is no better example in Canada of a burgeoning, dynamic secondary industry supporting and benefiting both primary and tertiary industries.

Other papers say:

Production-sharing sniping unjust

United States Congressmen who are sniping against the Canada — U.S. production-sharing policy, apparently require an elementary lesson in economics. At any rate they seem peculiarly dense.

These congressmen are ignoring the fact that while the U.S. places orders in Canada, Canada also places orders in the U.S. Canadian officials estimate that production-sharing between the two countries is running about neck and neck at the rate of about $150,000,000 a year each way.

The sniping in Washington against the sharing policy has been directed mainly against the United States Navy. The word from there is that the Navy will continue to encourage subcontracting in Canada despite congressional criticism that the policy is causing unemployment in U.S. shipyards.

Sharp criticism has come from the chairman of the House of Representatives subcommittee on imports and unemployment, John Dent, of Pennsylvania, a Democrat, and William Cahill of New Jersey, a Republican member of the subcommittee.

They attacked the General Dynamics Corporation, a

U.S. firm, for subcontracting $3,000,000 worth of construction in Canada by Canadair Limited of Montreal, and also attacked the U.S. Navy for subcontracting $300,000 Polaris launching tubes to Vickers of Montreal.

If the sniping continues, it is likely to arouse a counter fire by Canadian firms who resent the production sharing policy resulting in large orders for Canada being placed in the U.S. Trans-Canada Airlines recently placed a big order for cargo planes in the U.S. although Canadair made a desperate effort to obtain the contract.

Smokes more cigars

Kennedy enters his second year unchanged as man or politician

EDITOR'S NOTE: This report, drawn from many presidential aides and intimates, as well as outside observers, portrays the President, his "establishment" and his home, the White House, at the outset of the Kennedy administration's second year. Bruce Bissat has known and covered Kennedy for a decade.

By BRUCE BISSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON. — (NEA) — President John F. Kennedy loves his job and his stiff decision-making pace, and he embarks on his second year in office largely unchanged as man and politician. So say those who have known him longest and best.

He smokes more cigars than he used to, but still can fall asleep wherever he kicks his shoes off.

He still slips quickly from big matters to small, and back again, finding brief release in a sports statistic, a senatorial anecdote, a bit of political intrigue.

He tinkers constantly with his schedule to carve more usable time out of his 12 to 16-hour day. Into the new openings he crams more discussion, more reading, more rest.

Yet, driven as he is to hunt for extra minutes, he probably sees his children more than most fathers.

One aide, trying to define the White House atmosphere, says:

"Any afternoon we can be sitting in some top level meeting. Jackie may stick her head in and say hello. The President may see his daughter Caroline playing in the rose garden outside. He'll go to the door, lean out and ask her how she's doing. In a moment, he's back. The meeting is resumed as if nothing had happened."

"You almost feel you should be smelling something cooking."

Another assistant has a go at conveying the mood of things:

"The President may finish talking with some foreign dignitary around 1 in the afternoon. Minutes later, he's plunging into the White House swimming pool."

"As he comes up and shakes the water from his head, he'll ask his old friend and swimming companion, Dave Powers: 'How many touchdowns did Paul Hornung get for Green Bay Sunday?' They'll chat in that vein a while, and then Kennedy is out, dressed, and off to lunch."

When traveling, the President is said to believe he can "do everything" — shower, shave, breakfast, scan a paper and make a couple of telephone calls — in half an hour. By the clock, it usually takes him closer to 40 minutes.

But few would bet he'll never manage it all in 30. Says Powers:

"One minute he's in the shower, the next he's dressed. He should have been a fireman."

government he heads. There are other deep laid elements supporting this effort.

By the testimony of all those questioned, Kennedy's White House staff is strictly his personal instrument. The members work almost as extensions of his own brain, eyes, ears and legs. Their supreme talent is their understanding of Kennedy.

John F. Kennedy

their almost instinctive grasp of what he wants them to do.

No one among them or well acquainted with them expects any man ever to become a Sherman Adams or a Harry Hopkins. The President does not encourage them to become public figures in their own right. Their reward comes from advancing his purposes.

An insider with more than usual detachment observes:

"A President's staff is what he is."

Hence Kennedy's men serve him, as this man adds, through a "series of direct responses" to his commands, his attitudes, his moods.

Yet with all this tight leashing of staff to man, the President, as is well known, does not put full reliance on his staff or even on his most respected department and agency heads and sub-heads.

"Kennedy is a loner, as he was before he came to the White House," comments a former adviser. "Nobody really knows what he's up to at any time. He keeps his own counsel. He draws information and ideas from wide sources — his reading, social friends, newsmen."

A senator who sees him often agrees on this point:

"You can't keep Kennedy in channels. He's just bound to break out of the mold."

The telephone is his link to the world beyond the black iron White House fence. Nobody who knows him, inside or outside the place, doubts his heavy use of that link.

"The President gets up around 7:30," says a staffer. "I know because he's on the phone at 7:45, raising points about things he finds in the morning papers."

The communications curfew does not descend until midnight or after, when, once again, Kennedy may be reading in bed. A sample late-hour call on a minor topic:

He spies a magazine piece describing a scene wherein he supposedly stated in one direction, "thought better of it," and charged on into his office.

"Now they're reading my mind!" he said to an aide he called.

Must sell separate states idea

'62 year of trial for Verwoerd

Brian Barrow is a South African journalist long experienced in reporting on the problems of his country. In this story he discusses the difficulties facing the government in 1962.

By BRIAN BARROW

CAPE TOWN (CP)—It is going to be a year of many internal and external crises for South Africa and one of desperation for Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd.

He now must convince even his own supporters that the idea of separate states—Bantustans for the country's 11,000,000 Africans—is not only workable but that he wants it to work.

For 13 years the Bantustans have existed in theory only. The theory has been sufficient to give Dr. Verwoerd his impressive list of election victories. But suddenly things have changed and he will be compelled this year to do what he has always hoped to avoid—put his theory into practice, or rather, begin to.

Two things have forced him to do this: First, the necessity to make apartheid, the policy of racial segregation, seem honest and respectable in the eyes of those who support it; and second, to show a hostile world that when he talks about giving Africans full separate government in their own states, he means it.

Dr. Verwoerd knows, and every thinking Nationalist knows, that if the Bantustans do not begin materializing in 1962 they never will.

So he now will have to tell the white electorate that if they want apartheid they must pay for it. This is going to be an unpopular news for people who, relatively, pay some of the lowest taxes in the world.

Somehow he must also make a beginning with what many economists consider an insane task—shifting the gigantic African labor force from the so-called white industrial areas by giving them work in industries which do not yet exist on the borders of the proposed Bantustans.

Die Burger, the pro-government newspaper in Cape Town, suggested a month ago that a start should be made by gradually removing the 90,000 African workers from the Western Cape. The suggestion provoked a violent outcry, and those who cried loudest were Afrikaner farmers and Nationalist industrialists who employ African labor.

If Dr. Verwoerd even begins to withdraw black labor from the white areas he will not only create serious labor difficulties, grave social problems and even economic instability, but may lose sufficient support to cause his political downfall.

It is easy for the average Nationalist to vote for the kind of apartheid that brings humiliation and hardship to people with dark skins. It is not going to be so easy for them to support an apartheid that hits their own pockets.

The labor front

Industrial accidents hit public wallet

By FRANK DREA

A new aspect of productivity — the human side — has been unveiled by a member of the National Productivity Council whose main work is protecting and rehabilitating industrial workers.

John F. Cauley, vice-chairman of the Ontario Workers' Compensation Board, regards accident prevention as a key phase of the council's drive to make Canadian industry more efficient.

"It is astounding," warns Mr. Cauley, "that compensable accidents cost the economy of Ontario alone more than $100 million in 1961."

The key words in the Cauley assessment are "cost the economy" since the actual assessments against industry in the province were only $70 million.

The $100 million figure is obtained by adding another $5 million in lost time and earnings for minor injuries plus the 25 per cent of wages lost by workers while on compensation.

HITS EVERYONE

"This production loss is a terrifically high item—which certainly increased the cost of industry and reduced the purchasing power of the people," noted Mr. Cauley.

But, what concerns him is the lack of public reaction to this cost, as well as the waste of the most precious natural resource, human labor.

By contrast, he points out that the threatened nationwide railway strike of May 1961 was regarded as a national calamity because the cost of averting the walkout was $40 million.

"Just about every citizen registered a protest on the basis that this was going to increase the cost of commodities used in everyday living," he said.

"It was going to jeopardize our exports because of increased transportation costs and was going to practically eliminate our wheat from world markets."

"According to many, it was a real national calamity because our overall costs were going to be increased by some $40 million a year—although this represented wages and a great part of this would return to Government in the form of taxes."

But there is no outcry when Ontario alone loses $100 million in production, most of which can never be recovered.

To Mr. Cauley, the only answer to the tremendous waste and high costs that come from industrial accidents is sincere labor-management cooperation.

WIDELY DISCUSSED

A survey conducted by the Labor Department for the productivity group indicates that the subject most discussed in management-employee meetings was industrial safety.

The most interesting report was in 23 companies, where safety problems were referred to top management when the employer-employee committee became deadlocked, there was a reduction of 11 per cent in the accident cost in those plants.

However, the council wants these meetings to go far beyond safety and into the fields of waste, new equipment and the quality of the plant's products.

Mr. Cauley feels real cooperation between management and labor may slash this tremendous toll, without any adverse effects to either side.

"The Government and members of the council are convinced that more and better goods can be made if there is a greater degree of sincere co-operation between top management and their employees," stressed Mr. Cauley.

NEED COMMUNICATION

Basic to the Cauley view is the immediate scrapping of the traditional concepts of management managing and workers working — without any communication or exchange of ideas.

As a man who held both worker and supervisory status in industry before entering the compensation field, he cites many instances where management could have cut costs and improved efficiency if it had listened to suggestions from the work force.

"There are millions of dollars spent annually to hire efficiency experts to review the operations of companies," he said.

"If a total stranger having no knowledge of the operation of a company can come into a plant and set up a complete system which is gradually accepted after two or three months, then it must be a simple matter to manage that plant."

To Mr. Cauley, one of the easiest ways to improve productivity is through better communications in industry.

"When a person or company reaches the stage that there is nothing further for them to learn, and they have reached that high point of perfection that all the rest of us poor individuals are striving for, then that person or company is in real trouble."

matter of fact

The "platoon system" is a very important part of football. Many police departments work on the "platoon system" also. In both cases the words describe teams of comparable strength who alternate duty. In the 17th century the term "platoon" referred to a small body of musketeers who fired in a volley alternately with another platoon.

UNLUCKY COIN

TURIN, Italy (AP)—A raiol-maker filling a holiday order for a pasta of 1,000-bite size made one bite a lucky one, he thought, by inserting a 500-lire coin, worth 80 cents and about as big as a Canadian 50-cent piece. The 15-year-old girl who got this piece nearly strangled on the coin, before it was removed from her throat in hospital.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

SOUTH HOPEFUL, SQUEEZE WORKS

South wisely gave up the idea of a club finesse at trick one and won the trick with the king. East signaled with the ten. South led the jack of spades and finessed. West allowed it to hold the trick, but proceeded to take the next trump lead and play another club. South played low from dummy, ruffed in his own hand and, for want of anything better to do, led out his last two trumps and discarded a small heart from dummy. At this point things did not look too good. The trump finesse had lost and obviously the queen of clubs was securely guarded in the East hand. Some people would have given up at this point. But South saw one ray of hope. East held the queen of clubs. If he also held four hearts he would be squeezed in those two suits and West could do nothing about it. Therefore, South ran off three diamond tricks and sure enough the pressure had taken care of East. He had to let go.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass
2 Dmds. Pass 2 Spades Pass
3 Hearts Pass ?
You, South, hold:
Spades A-Q-8-6, Hearts K-3, Diamonds J-5-4, Clubs 10-7-6.
What do you do?
A—Bid four hearts. Your partner has gone all the way to three hearts on his own momentum and there should be a play for four. Still, if you pass you won't be making too bad a bid.
TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding two diamonds after your one spade response, your partner bids two no-trump. What do you do now?

Bridal shower honors former Richmond lady

RICHMOND — Mrs. Lloyd Fuller, Mrs. Shirley Fowler, Mrs. Wilfrid Hill were hostesses at a surprise miscellaneous bridal shower at Legion Memorial Hall in honor of Miss Claire Fortin, teacher on the High School staff at Fort Smith, N.W.T., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Fortin of this place. The wedding takes place Jan. 20.

Upwards of 70 guests were present. The stage was artistically decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers, white wedding bells and colored parols.

On her arrival the guest of honor was greeted by Mrs. Fuller and presented with a lovely corsage, and to the strains of the Bridal Chorus played by Mrs. Lloyd Roberts, was led to a seat of honor at a decorated table, centred with an arrangement of white pompons and red roses, flanked with silver candelabra with white lighted tapers. She was seated beside her mother, Mrs. Jules Fortin, and sister, Miss Ann-Marie Fortin, and Miss D. Sheldon.

A special guest during the evening was the groom-to-be, George Dobson, of Fort Smith, N.W.T., formerly of Southampton, England.

Mrs. Leslie Rattray on behalf of the guests extended best wishes for a happy wedding life. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the beautifully-wrapped gifts, which were piled high on a decorated toboggan, drawn in by Mrs. Lloyd Fuller attired in Miss Fortin's lovely white Indian beaded parka with hood trimmed with white fox fur, which Mrs. Fuller had secured unknown to the bride-elect. This caused much applause and merriment among the guests. The toboggan was filled many times. The bride-elect's mother and sister assisted her in unwrapping the gifts for which she graciously expressed her thanks, as well as to the hostesses for the shower.

A social evening followed, closing with refreshments served by the hostesses, assisted in serving by some of the guests.

Eastern Stars hold card party

COWANSVILLE — Chapter 17, O.E.S., sponsored a military whist in the Masonic Hall here, when cards were played at 19 tables.
Prizes went as follows: 1st, Mrs. J. Mady, Mrs. W. Brown, Mrs. S. Royce and Mrs. J. Elston; 2nd, Miss E. Fuller, Mrs. H. Short, R. McCutcheon and L. Longway; door prize, Mrs. Roy Jenne; special prize, Mrs. A. Bonneau and Mrs. R. Mandigo.

Liberals gain seat

TORONTO (CP) — Liberals gained one seat from the Progressive Conservatives and retained two others with increased pluralities in Thursday's five Ontario byelections.

They also sliced sharply into the Conservatives' 1959 general election majorities in the two ridings retained by the government.

Election night ended in confusion when it first was announced the PC candidate had held Renfrew South by a 65-vote margin.

Returning Officer John F. Findlay later revised his figures, and declared Liberal Leonard Quilty the winner over Conservative Conlin Mulvihill by 135 votes.

The Liberals retained Brant and Kenora.

Premier Roberts' Conservatives held the Toronto ridings of Eglinton and Beaches, where their candidates had big margins in 1959, in races so tight that Liberal Leader Wintermeyer announced recounts would be requested.

Church group holds meeting

NORTH HATLEY — The St. Barnabas Guild and W.A. held the first meeting of 1962 in the Community Hall with 15 members and two guests attending.

The treasurer, Mrs. Detton, submitted a satisfactory financial report, and the Sunshine committee reported having made several calls to shut-ins, and that flowers were sent to a number of members of the Church who were bereaved or ill. Gifts of fruit were sent to friends who were shut-in at Christmas time.

Mrs. F. L. Holland will be in charge of the refreshment committee when tea will be served at the annual vestry meeting in the Church Hall, on Jan. 29.

Hostesses at the tea hour were Mrs. G. LeBaron and Mrs. G. St. Pierre.

SUTTON —

Mrs. Jane Kipp, a former resident and frequent visitor of relatives here, died suddenly in her home in Waverly, N.Y., on Dec. 28. The remains were brought here by undertaker, Mr. E. Russell, and Mrs. Russell. Burial took place on Jan. 11 in Fairmount Cemetery, beside her first husband, Mr. Aaron Winchester, Rev. M. Brett officiated at the service. Among those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. W. Waldie, of Athelstan, and Miss Florence Anderson and her brother, Mr. Gordon Anderson, of Glenelg.

Friends will be sorry to learn that Mrs. Ira Hunt fell at her home fracturing a hip, and is now a patient at the B.M.P. Hospital, Sweetsburg.

OLD AGE PENSION

entry marked the session opening as Gen. Vanier—travelling by auto instead of horse-drawn carriage because of blustery cold weather—came to Parliament to read the throne speech in the Senate chamber.

PROMISE FIREWORKS
Soon after, however, the opposition parties served notice they'll provide plenty of fireworks in the session.

Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson and CCF — NDP Leader Hazen Argue both issued statements describing the government's program as disappointing.

In the Commons, the CCF-NDP forced a vote on the appointment of Paul Martineau (PC — Pontiac-Temiscamingue) as deputy speaker, which carried 179 to 9. Mr. Argue said his group's opposition was nothing personal, but was meant as a protest against the government using the deputy speaker's post as a stepping-stone to the cabinet.

Two other deputy speakers in the current Parliament elected in 1958 have made that step—Associate Defence Minister Seigney and Mines Minister Flynn.

Today the Commons is occupied mainly with a formality—the moving and seconding of the reply to the speech from the throne. This will be done in speeches by Rodrigue Bourdages (PC — Montreal Laval) and Ferguson Browne (PC — Vancouver Kingsway).

The throne speech said this winter works program will be larger than last year.

PLANS TALKS
In the field of national development, the government announced "early discussions" with the provinces on steps which "might" be taken to set up an interprovincial power grid.

And without stipulating what action might be taken, the government said it is "examining suggestions" on natural resources management made at the Montreal conference last October.

Among regional projects action was promised on a new auto ferry between Cape Breton and Newfoundland and a 50-mile CNR rail line in the Gaspé Peninsula.

Also forecast: The ending of tolls on Montreal's Victoria and Jacques Cartier Bridges, if arrangements can be worked out with Quebec and municipal authorities.

The throne speech indicated no change in the government's views on trade policy—a subject expected to be one of the hottest of the session.

The program of government guarantees for bank loans to small businesses, begun only a year ago, will be extended in scope, and increased incentives are promised for scientific research by industry.

It did not elaborate, except to say that one of the measures will implement—"with modifications"—the proposals of the royal commission on public relations.

On the issue of constitutional amendment, "progress" was reported in efforts to get provincial agreement on methods of carrying out amendments in Canada without having to go to the British Parliament. But there was no indication of a solution coming this year.

The dwindling unemployment insurance fund will be bolstered by the treasury pending receipt of a report from a special four-man committee of inquiry studying the fund's operations.

New legislation will require reports from companies and unions on "the extent and nature of their operations" and the degree of any foreign ownership and control.

This measure is a revision of a government bill introduced but not passed last session which was limited only to foreign-controlled companies and unions.

Several items of veterans' legislation are proposed, including one which would extend war veterans' allowances to merchant seamen, firefighters, forsters and other civilians with overseas war service.

Another would increase education allowances paid to the children of war dead. Others will add time extensions to three veterans' statutes expiring next Sept. 30 — the War Services Grants Act, Veterans Land Act and Veterans Insurance Act.

AYER'S CLIFF — Mrs. Ora Gill, of Rock Island, was a guest for a week of her brother, Mr. L. L. Gustin, and Mrs. Gustin.

Mrs. A. S. Murray and Miss Marion Mathews, of Montreal, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnston.

Miss Clara Wyman has left to spend a few days in Stamford, Conn., at the home of her nephew, Mr. Wesley Wyman, and Mrs. Wyman, prior to leaving by plane for Jacksonville, Fla., where she will spend an indefinite time with her sister, Mrs. S. E. Thames, and Mr. Thames.

Mrs. Elsie Armstrong is spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. R. Coates in Sherbrooke.

Mrs. C. Taylor has left to spend the winter in Miami, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. H. Sanderson are spending three weeks in Florida.

Criticizes health plan for North

By JACK VAN DUSEN
OTTAWA (CP)—Sparks flew at the Northwest Territories Council meeting as a young doctor criticized a proposed government health care plan for the North.

"Certainly the prescription is good," said Dr. George Case, "but I'm just afraid it might kill the patient."

Adding facilities and personnel to medical services "won't kill the patient," snapped Dr. John S. Willis, head of northern health services and chief architect of the plan.

Members of the council said little as the two men argued the merits of the five-year, $1,258,700 plan—still to be approved by both the council and the federal cabinet.

The parliament of the Northern Territories, now expected to sit until next Wednesday, will discuss the plan further next week.

Dr. Case who has operated a private practice at Yellowknife for 2½ years, was brought here to testify.

He ripped through the draft of the medical care plan section by section, charging that it would cost too much and that it was too concerned with Eskimos, Indians and civil servants.

"There are also white people in the North," he said.

It was easier to start small and work up more slowly, he said. Otherwise the cost would be too high.

Dr. Willis said the plan would cost $5.38 per capita in Yellowknife with the municipality paying $2. He denied that "hidden costs," suggested by Dr. Case, would bring this to $50 per capita.

BEDFORD —

Miss Judy McCaw, who is attending Macdonald College, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. McCaw.

For and about Women

MINISTER'S MANY HAT STYLES — Mrs. Ellen Fairclough, who became immigration minister in 1957, has attended many functions that have given her a chance to wear hats rarely worn by other women. The unusual hats included a sombrero (left) and mortarboard (right) when she presented scholarships. She also wore dozens of more common hats (centre) in her cross-country travels. (CP Photo)

Travelled more than 240,000 miles

Hats are no problem for woman minister

By JOHN E. BIRD

OTTAWA (CP) — Immigration Minister Ellen Fairclough travels more miles, meets more people, sees more of Canada and wears a greater variety of hats than most Canadian women.

Since becoming a cabinet minister in 1957, Mrs. Fairclough has travelled more than 240,000 miles, mostly in Canada, and has gone through more than three dozen hats.

The functions she has attended in the last 4½ years have afforded her an opportunity to don many types of hats rarely worn by women.

She wore a pilot's crash helmet in a jet trainer flight, a miner's helmet during a mine inspection, a naval captain's hat during a ceremony in the West Indies, a fisherman's hat in the Maritimes, a sombrero, and a mortarboard at functions at which she has presented.

About the only type of headgear Mrs. Fairclough hasn't worn is an Indian headdress. As citizenship and immigration minister and superintendent of Indian affairs, she has received several invitations to become an honorary Indian chief or princess. But she has had to decline because it is not practice for the incumbent superintendent of Indian affairs to accept such an honor.

To most women the choice of a hat is a difficult decision. But the problem usually is solved for the average woman once she has selected one or two hats suitable for a particular season.

The chore of hat selection isn't that easy for Mrs. Fairclough. Her job makes it necessary for her to have a stock of hats of the season's choice to enable her to be dressed properly at a wide range of functions including meetings, luncheons, dinners, receptions and outdoor events.

One hat for each type of function isn't enough, either. Mrs. Fairclough attends so many public functions that she has to have about a dozen hats on hand to enable her to have some variety in her wardrobe.

Small, flowered hats are Mrs. Fairclough's preference.

"I have a number of hats of this type in a variety of colors," she said. "They are very utilitarian because each hat can be worn with about half a dozen outfits."

Church of the Advent W.A.

Miss Doris Price elected president

Miss Doris Price was elected president of the Church of the Advent W. A. at the annual meeting held in the church hall recently.

Rev. R. Jervis - Read opened the meeting with prayer and presided for the election of officers which resulted as follows: Miss Doris Price, president, Mrs. J. Pickford, vice-president, Mrs. J. Wark, secretary, Miss M. Darby, treasurer, Mrs. C. Varney, cent a day treasurer, Mrs. D. Price, dorcas secretary and calendar, Mrs. A. Britton, little helpers, Miss C. Wark, educational and Mrs. H. Price, living message.

The rector congratulated the retiring officers and members for their fine work during the year. He then read from the journal of the first synod of the Diocese of the Arctic, which proved to be very interesting. The retiring president thanked the officers for their support through the past year, and the first meeting of the year followed, with the new president Miss Doris Price in the chair.

Routine business was disposed of and plans were made for the next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. J. Wark, Bowen Street, South, on February 1.

The resignation of Miss Fannie Knapp, who has been the dorcas secretary for the past 14 years was regrettably accepted. The members expressed their appreciation for her devoted service and wished her a speedy recovery from her recent accident.

The meeting closed with prayer, followed by a social

Mrs. Fairclough works in a fast-moving field where suits are the most practical form of dress, especially on trips.

"You can go around the world with two suits and a flock of blouses," she said.

However, Mrs. Fairclough likes dresses and often wears them at functions where suits would be a little easier to handle. Her choice in dresses are simple silk prints in soft shades, with a matching hat.

On guard, you husbands, for these wifely phrases

For men who haven't been married long enough to know — these are all wifely phrases that should put you on your guard for what's to follow:

• "Oh, by the way..." Sounds casual, doesn't it? But your wife is about to announce something she has been waiting to spring on you until just the right moment. "Oh, by the way..." I had a letter from my sister, Sue, and she and Bill and the six children are planning to spend their vacation with us. Isn't that nice?"

• "I've got a surprise for you..." This will be a surprise all right, usually in the "it was such a bargain - I just couldn't resist it" department — though it may be anything from a fur coat for her to a new sofa for the living room. But don't expect it to be anything for YOU — not with that opening.

• "Now don't say a word until I've finished..." This is going to be bad. She's smashed a fender, overdrawn your joint checking account, or something of the sort. This is the time when you can make yourself a hero in her eyes just by not reacting the way she expects you to react. And with this opening you can be sure she expects the worst.

• "Oh, I almost forgot to tell you..." She hasn't almost forgotten. She has just been putting off telling you something you aren't going to be happy about... like accepting an invitation from a couple who bore you to death, or volunteering your services as a handy man or something of the sort.

• "I've got the most wonderful idea..." She'll look excited and starry-eyed when she begins with this one, because she knows good and well that while you may have your faults, you just can't disappoint her when she really has her heart set on something very special.

'Paper dolls' for grownups save work in room planning

As little girls, most of us adored playing with paper dolls. What fun, changing from one dress to another! And now, a grown-up version of paper dolls can do a lot to help in deciding on a new look for our homes.

First, draw an outline of a room that needs a different look. Make it to scale showing windows, doors, fireplace and so on. To the same scale, cut little pieces of paper that will represent furniture to go in the room.

Sift and reshuffle until you come up with a furniture arrangement (on paper) that you like. Your husband will be delighted when he discovers that you know just where you want each piece when it's time to move the actual furniture.

This should come before the selection of colors and pattern for furniture covers. You can even use an actual doll house room, decorating it according to the plan in mind.

Dear Polly: I gave my son and his wife his great-grandmother's bedroom furniture. It is beautiful burl walnut; the bed has a big carved headboard and footboard; there are a wash stand and marble-topped dresser.

I am sick about it. She painted it all, tacked material on the headboard and threw the footboard away. And then, of all things, she took the mirror off the dresser and placed it on the wall.

Plan in miniature

Don't young people have any respect for beautiful antiques? What can I say to her about the awful thing she has done?—Mrs. K. D.

Dear Mrs. K. D.: Nothing. You gave her the furniture so it is no longer yours to comment on. Keep hands off. Age doesn't make everything beautiful.

The word "antiques" is often stretched to cover some ugly pieces. Sounds to me as if you have a rather clever daughter-in-law.

Dear Polly: Please help me with my living room. Walls are pearl color and rug is medium brown. There are two chairs in pumpkin brocade.

I have blonde furniture handmade by my husband that I want to keep. Curtains are cream with gold line stripe. What color shall I choose for a new sofa?—Mrs. A. H.

Dear Mrs. A. H.: Introduce some pattern by means of a sofa covered with quilted fabric that has a design in pumpkin, green and off-white on a brown ground. Some other touches of green should help, too.

MUNICIPAL CHAPTER OF SHERBROOKE I.O.D.E.

The January meeting of the Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E. took place at I.O.D.E. House, with the Regent, Mrs. R. L. Bishop, presiding.

The treasurer, Mrs. G. Bennett, gave a report on the National Ballet performance which was held at the Granada Theatre, last November, and the results had proved very gratifying in spite of the inclement weather. Mrs. Bennett also reported on the results of a special appeal to the public for Christmas baskets. The response to this was much increased this year testifying to the esteem in which the Order's work in Sherbrooke was held.

Mrs. A. A. Munster, then read the House account, which was also satisfactory. She thanked the Primary chapters for donations and anticipated a bright future.

Mrs. G. McClintock, educational secretary, reported that the applications were now being received for the Order's War Memorial bursaries which permit students to study overseas with financial assistance from the Order.

Services at home and abroad secretary, Mrs. R. M. Loughheed, described the baskets she had sent out at Christmas time to the needy, explaining that the size of the basket was governed by the size of the family to whom it was donated. She stated that she had received a large quantity of canned goods, and white gifts, from Sangster Memorial church, a box of toys, mitts and socks from the North Hatley United church, and a box of toys from the Aldershot chapter. In all 37 baskets were distributed with the aid of Rev. R. Jervis-Read and Mrs. H. Munkitick. Mrs. Loughheed stated she could use small knitted articles for layettes and nightdresses. These were for local distribution.

Miss F. Macdonald moved a special vote of thanks to Mrs. Loughheed not only for the tremendous task she carried out

Stanstead South Church reports on year's activity

ROCK ISLAND — The annual meeting of Stanstead South Church took place in the church hall on Jan. 9. The pastor, Rev. T. W. Tyson presided and the session opened with a devotional period. All reports given showed the church to have had a busy and successful year.

PASTOR'S REPORT

Mr. Tyson reviewed the activities of 1961, the highlight being the purchase of a new electric organ to replace the pipe organ that had been used for so many years. Changes had to be made to allow for a larger loft with the organ at center front facing the choir. Much of this labor was done voluntarily by men of the church, for which Mr. Tyson voiced his appreciation. A gift of altar appointments, crosses and candlesticks, was presented by Mrs. C. R. Darby, in memory of her husband.

The parish consists of 170 families under pastoral care totaling about 500 persons. Mr. Tyson had officiated at 15 baptisms, nine burials and three marriages. Three persons joined the church by profession of faith, five by transfer, and three members transferred to other churches leaving a membership of 163.

Mr. Tyson commended the women societies of the church for their fine work and quoted from the Bible, "Grow not weary in well doing."

He also commended the Boards of the church for their efforts and the co-operation of the congregation as a whole, as well as the teachers of the various departments of the Sunday School and choirs for their participation in the life of the church.

The report of the Sunday School showed it to be most active with a large attendance and good staff of teachers, who expressed appreciation to the women's societies and congregation for support of this function of the church, as it involves the youth work.

WOMEN'S GROUPS

The Ladies Aid society, although few in number, reported a successful year, and much work from which they derived enjoyment at the 15 meetings held during the year.

Sixteen meetings of the Helping Circle were held with an increase in attendance.

The 35 Club held 13 meetings with an average attendance of ten. The outstanding project of this younger group of the church was to be instrumental in forming the Couples' Club, in reorganizing the Young People's Club, which is now a flourishing society.

The three women's groups had given generous support to the church and parsonage maintenance, had enjoyed social functions, worked alone and ing to mission work, the Sunday School, organ fund, and many others.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board stated they had been quite busy the past year. Permission was given to remove the elm trees from the church property because of disease, and a piece of land on the north side of the church was sold to the Town of Rock Island to permit widening the street.

A meeting of the Board took place with the music committee in regards to the pipe organ which was sold to Charles Barrows in Barton.

JUNIOR CHOIR

The Junior choir held a candlelight service at Christmas time and after expenses the offertory had a balance of $37 which will be used for music and so forth for the young people. The Young People's Society has a membership of 20 boys and girls, all teenagers. Meetings are held Sunday evenings and are both informative and enjoyable.

Other reports were heard from the Missionary and Maintenance group, and the church treasurer. A great deal of money has been paid out in 1961 and several generous memorial donations have been received as well as money from other sources.

Officers elected are as follows: Treasurer, Lloyd Selby; secretary, Mrs. Wesley Rumery; envelope secretary, Robert Darby; Sunday School superintendent, A. S. Judd Jr.; organist, Mrs. Alan Greer; M. and M. treasurer, Kenneth Rice; choir-master, C. R. MacLean; auditor, Everett Greaves; chairman of ushers and welcoming committee, Rudy Racine.

Board of Stewards, Lloyd Selby, Bruce Lafoe, Kenneth Baldwin, Rudy Racine, Arthur Judd Jr., C. R. MacLean, Robert Darby, Alton Hull, Chris Watson, Merton Davis, Thomas Bowen, Frank Anderson, Alan Greer, Kenneth Rice, Philip Cross, Roland Curtis, Wesley Rumery, Terrance Walsh, Roger Beadle, Dr. Wilbur Paige, D. S. Bicknell.

Trustee Board, Kenneth Baldwin, Lloyd Selby, Carroll Smith, Robert Darby, H. A. Rice, Arthur Judd Sr.

Sessions: Deacons, Wayland Ladd, Raymond Wheelock, Walter Curtis, C. R. MacLean, Carroll Smith, Arthur Judd Sr., Leslie Camber and H. A. Rice.

Ladies' Aid: President, Mrs. Hazel Smith; secretary, Mrs. A. P. Bliss.

Helping Circle: Mrs. Lloyd Selby, president, Mrs. Aileen Arbery, secretary; Mrs. Frank Anderson, treasurer.

35 Club: Mrs. A. S. Judd Jr., president, Mrs. Wilbur Paige, treasurer, and Mrs. Douglas Putney, secretary.

Junior choir leaders, Mrs. Alfred Aldrich, Mrs. A. S. Judd Sr., and Mrs. A. P. Bliss.

RICHMOND — Hon. Justice Redmond Hayes and Dr. E. Poisson, of Sherbrooke, were in town to attend the funeral of Mr. K. G. Nourse. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Epps and daughter, Gae, of Notre Dame de Grace, were weekend guests of Miss Edith McCourt. They were accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Epps, who had spent several weeks in Montreal with relatives.

United Church Women Thetford, elect officers

THETFORD MINES — The women of the United Church met in the Church Hall to organize the new group, United Church Women.

The meeting was chaired by Rev. E. R. Hay, chairman of the provisional committee, and the list of nominees for office was read by Mrs. E. W. Reid, member of the provisional committee.

Following is the new slate: Mrs. E. H. Witham, president; Mrs. Charles Smith, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Don Worth, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Herb Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. John Kinnear, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Russell Little, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Eden, convener of the program committee; Mrs. W. Callan, Steward representative.

The above officers will be inaugurated in a special service in the United Church on Jan. 21.

The meeting opened with a devotional period, conducted by Mrs. Kenneth Little, assisted by Mrs. E. R. Hay at the piano.

Farnham group plans card party

FARNHAM — The Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen held the regular meeting in the Central Hall on St. Joseph Street with a good attendance.

It was decided to hold a card party in the Central Hall following the regular meeting on Feb. 12. Bridge and 500 will be played.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Alice Savory and Mrs. Michaud.

FARNHAM

Mrs. Norman Pattullo, Gary and Neena, of McAdam, N.B., have returned home after being guests for several days at the home of Miss Belva Crowell. Mrs. Richard Cowill of Montreal, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Kinsey.

The Doctor Says

POSER: WHEN TO START WORK AFTER HERNIA OPERATION

Q — How long should a man stay away from work after a hernia operation? My insurance doctor says I ought to be back on the job in a week.

A — I wish I could answer your question as definitely as you would like. Unfortunately, there are many factors to consider. For example, a young man of average weight in good physical condition might be able to return to light work in a week or so after a simple repair.

On the other hand, an older man who was both overweight and flabby and who had to have a more extensive procedure might not be able to return safely to heavy work for as long as six months.

But even if all personal factors were the same, you'd get different opinions from different surgeons. In answer to a questionnaire, some certified surgeons advocated a return to light work in a period as brief as seven days whereas general practitioners held out for as long as three months.

When questioned about a return to heavy work, certified surgeons advocated a month or less, with general practitioners holding out for as long as six months.

Quite naturally, your insurance doctor leaned to the latter period of convalescence. And also quite naturally, the operating surgeon who fears a recurrence both for your sake and the sake of his reputation will tend to be more conservative.

Perhaps the best thing you can do is arrange for the two to consult and then abide by whatever compromise they arrive at.

Q — Are hormones helpful in the treatment of acne? And how about anti-infectives? My children are bothering the life out of me with requests that our doctor do more for them than he seems to be doing.

A — There is no cure for acne. And there is no drug or treatment of any kind that can safely be used to achieve any significant effect on the basic condition.

Anti-infectives may be used

Anglican Guild, Windsor, holds annual meeting

WINDSOR — The annual meeting and election of officers of St. George's Anglican Guild was held at the parsonage, Donald Eustace, incumbent at St. George's, opened the meeting with prayers.

An interesting letter, with enclosures, was read from Rev. David Tatchell, prayer partner of Saskatoon.

The treasurer presented a satisfactory report showing all debts paid, leaving a balance on hand of $180.85. The bazaar held in December netted $200.60. The sum of $100 was voted to the warden for the general church funds.

The flower and Sunshine committee reported the year's work in remembering the sick, shut-ins and elderly members of the congregation with flowers, gifts, cards and visits.

Following the annual reports, Mr. Eustace presided over the election of officers. Last year's slate was re-elected, as follows: President, Mrs. Francis Robinson; 1st vice-president, Mrs. C. Allan; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Earle; treasurer, Mrs. H. Finley.

In reviewing the year's work, Mr. Eustace expressed his thanks, and those of the congregation, to the officers and members of the Guild for the many projects undertaken, especially for the gift of new carpeting for the chancel of the church and padding for all the kneelers.

Plans were made for a food sale on Feb. 13 and for the annual baked bean supper on March 17.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Eustace.

MELBOURNE — The Richmond Young Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Daisy McGee.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Marjorie Levitt, because of illness, Mrs. Shirley Pariseau opened the meeting, with nine members present.

Correspondence consisted of thank-you notes, and a questionnaire on education was filled out. It was reported that flowers had been sent to a member in hospital.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Morrison.

to prevent or treat secondary infections of the eruption. But the costs of such treatment over the years of susceptibility are prohibitive (perhaps $250 to $350 a year for 5 to 10 years). And the danger of sensitization to such as the sulfas and penicillin poses a real threat.

In addition, home-grown bacteria, such as staphylococci and streptococci, may develop resistance to the anti-infective whose powers are thus diminished when a real need develops.

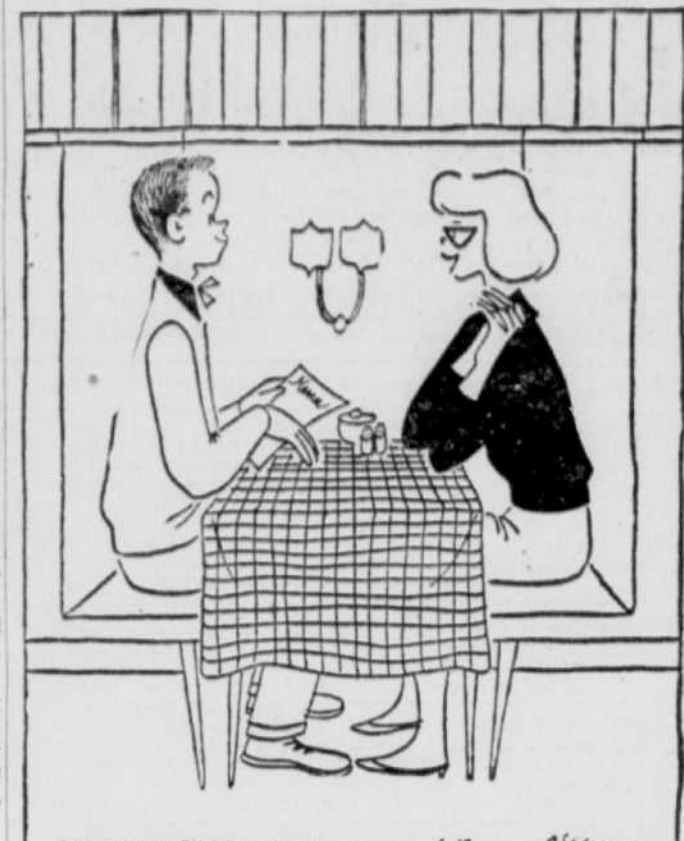

As to the hormones, let me quote from a recent opinion of Prof. T. H. Sternberg of the UCLA Medical Center:

"There is no reliable form of hormone therapy useful for the prolonged treatment of the comedones and pustules or ordinary acne."

Also, though your children have not brought up the possibility, Prof. Sternberg concurs with the opinions of most conservative physicians and dermatologists who have abandoned X-ray treatments for acne.

Women's Institute at North Hatley receives reports

NORTH HATLEY — Reports were received at the January meeting of the Women's Institute, entertained at the home of Mrs. A. Marlow.

A special report of a meeting regarding the questionnaire on education was given by the representatives who attended.

Mrs. Pocock expressed her personal appreciation to the members whose efforts made a success of the card party, held during the Christmas season, at the home of Mrs. R. Little.

The convener of citizenship, Mrs. A. Marlow, was named in charge of collecting the Pennies for Friendship at each regular meeting.

The program, in charge of Mrs. J. Lowry, convener of public, included a most interesting quiz on parliamentary procedure in conducting a business meeting. Mrs. J. Johnston was 1957.

Contents of the travelling basket, furnished by Mrs. Marlow and Mrs. Lowry, were quickly sold. Miss Christine Marlow held the lucky number for the gift package.

After the meeting the hostess, assisted by Mrs. N. Burnell and Mrs. S. Nutbrown, served refreshments to the eight members and four guests present.

MELBOURNE —

Around 15 members of L'Eglise des Cantons de L'Est held their hour of Bible study at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barr, Rev. Mr. Smith, Mrs. Smith and a number of others taking part. A sing-song and social hour was enjoyed to help celebrate Mrs. Barr's birthday. The ladies of the church served refreshments, including a birthday cake.

Now is the time to decide to modernize your home

A number of research studies have shown that many millions of American homeowners are aware that their homes are less modern, less spacious or less attractive than they should be. One study, in fact, indicated that 32 million families want some kind of home modernization project.

If you are among that group, it will not surprise you to learn that the most common question among all such homeowners is this:

"How can I decide whether we'd be better off to improve our present home or to get another one . . . in other words, when is it worth while to remodel and when is it not?" Obviously, there can be no universal answer to such a home. In most sound modernization projects the cost is more than offset by the home's increased value.

"Money in the Bank"
In fact, the Council has observed that a family's expenditure for home improvement is more like an investment — more like "money in the bank" — than any other possible purchase.

Your banker will more than likely be happy to give you his opinion on your proposed project in investment terms.

Often, however, economic considerations are over-emphasized at the expense of equally important factors of sentiment, convenience and comfort.

How to Decide
Here are some pointers offered by the Council: In deciding whether or not to modernize your home, the first step is to determine as closely as possible the exact cost of the planned project.

If it is an extensive project, this step should involve estimates from several dealer contractors or dealers.

Then, add the cost of the project to the total of your previous investment in the home (including present mortgage debt) and look around in your community to find out what your new total investment would buy in the new home market.

You will probably find in this investigation that you will be providing your family with a great deal more space per dollar through modernization. Another important consideration is the question of how much this new investment will add to the total worth of your home. In most sound modernization projects the cost is more than offset by the home's increased value.

Two decisions announced in Ottawa point to better conditions affecting Canada's export trade on the long pull than might otherwise prevail.

A Home Is to Live In
A home after all is to live in and enjoy.

If it is to be a family's home for years to come, then the modern conveniences that it offers, its appearance, and its facilities for providing further recreational needs of every member of the family are just as important as financial factors.

Also, on the side of sentiment you will want to think about the neighborhood. If you live in an established home, you will probably live near established schools, churches, shopping facilities, playgrounds and the other amenities new areas frequently lack.

You, perhaps especially your children, will want to be beyond these circumstances of the neighborhood in your thinking and consider the neighbors as well.

Established friendships are another factor that must be considered in determining whether or not it is worthwhile to modernize your existing home.

If, like most families, yours includes individuals who must travel to work and school, you will also want to weigh carefully the relative convenience of your existing home's location.

If a new home "further out" will add to travel time and expense, that must be also taken into consideration.

Some homes are beyond modernizing, of course. If there are indications of serious structural defects, it would be advisable to obtain the opinions of building professionals to add to your own assessment of the situation. An architect, a builder or a contractor can provide valuable advice.

RICHMOND —
Mrs. Jules Fortin was in Montreal to meet her daughter, Miss Claire Fortin, High School teacher at Fort Smith, N.W.T., who will spend some time here visiting her parents. A guest at the Fortin home was Mr. George Dobson, also of Fort Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright Gibson of Sherbrooke, and Mr. Richard Ross, of Windsor, assisted the Richmond and Melbourne United Church choir at the funeral service for Mr. K. G. Nourse, Jan. 10, also in town to attend the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. W. Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. W. Whittaker, of Montreal.

News has reached here of the death of Mrs. Graham, of Shawville, after a lingering illness. The deceased was the mother of Mr. W. J. Graham, of Perth, Ont., Route 3, who was student minister at Chalmers United Church here during the pulpit vacancy.

SOUTH BOLTON —
Mrs. Wm. Burnham was in Richmond, Vt., with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fuller, to visit Mrs. Fuller's sister, who underwent recent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smithers and Mr. Darrell Smithers from Laprairie visited Mr. and Mrs. A. Cameron en route to visit relatives near Mansonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvert Cameron were in North Troy, Vt., to visit Mrs. John Tibbitts.

The Record's Farm Report

Two decisions announced in Ottawa point to better conditions affecting Canada's export trade on the long pull than might otherwise prevail.

They are: First, Canada will join eight other major trading nations in pledging $6 billion as stand-by credits for the International Monetary Fund, to be used in currency stabilization; Second, The Canadian government will send trade experts to Brussels for continuous consultation with British officials negotiating terms for Britain's entry into the Common Market.

The British had asked for this kind of advice earlier but Ottawa wanted no part of the Brussels negotiations. Now it appears, Edward Heath, Britain's chief Common Market negotiator, has charmed the Canadian ministers into a more reasonable approach or convinced them that Britain is going into the Common Market whether they like it or not. Modifications in the common European tariff negotiated by Britain are more apt to serve Canadian interests if Canada is consulted during the negotiations.

The new Monetary Fund deal provides an extra line of defense against a disturbance to world trade resulting from a slump in the exchange value of a major international money unit such as the U.S. dollar. The dollar did come under pressure a year ago and the U.S. had to take special steps to reduce a drain on its reserves.

In both of these developments Finance Minister Fleming played a key role, notice to observe that he's still a strong man in the Diefenbaker government. Just a week earlier, many were sure Fleming was about to lose his job. He didn't and as a result, the next budget is apt to be easier on the taxpayer in the long run, than would have been the case had Fleming left his post.

Agriculture minister Hamilton's recent emphasis on high 1961 cash income from cattle and good future cattle outlook may need some qualifications. First, most of the increase in cash income from cattle in 1951 can be attributed to the cutting down of beef herds in the Prairie drought areas. Because of this liquidation, such high income may not be expected in 1962 from cattle even with good pasture conditions in the West.

Secondly, on the prospects for future expansion of beef production, the potential here lies mainly in the areas where there is fairly large-scale, low-cost grazing available. If beef cattle could be brooded and fed like broilers, they could be expanded wherever markets and feed grain are available. But market beef must start out as a cow and calf on grass and such cow-calf operations on small-scale farms are seldom profitable. So the primary expansion in beef production, to mainly in the grazing areas of the Prairies and in other provinces where community pastures or other large grazing tracts can be developed. Mr. Hamilton has this in mind as part of the ARDA program for areas where it can be applied.

Farm Forum activities in the E.T.

THIRD RANGE

On January 15, 1962, the Third Range Farm Forum was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Melville Page, Bulwer, with 11 present.

The broadcast which was on Farm Management was considered good.

The following question was discussed: What kind of farm management guidance is available in your area?

Any information we need on farm management we can get it through our agronomer on the Lennoxville Experimental Farm.

Is this sufficient?

Yes.

Would you take part in a farm management group if one were available in your area? No, because it was felt that it would not benefit us any unless a certain one was expanding or changing his line of dairying to beef or vice-versa, etc. but it was thought it might help or benefit a younger farmer just starting out.

Following the discussion period cards were played at three tables and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by other members.

The next meeting will be held the 22nd of Jan. at the Winget home when the topic will be Food for Peace.

FROST VILLAGE

The Frost Village Farm Forum met on Jan. 15th with Mr. Fred Allen, Foster Road.

Mr. Gilbert Verhoef lead the discussion on the topic Farm Management.

The only present help on farm management in this area is from an agronomer.

The group agreed this is not sufficient. At least one more agronomer is needed in this area.

The members present all agreed to join a farm management group if it were organized.

This group, through discussion and exchange of ideas, would they felt do much to correct present management problems.

Lunch was served at the close of the discussion.

The next meeting, Jan. 22 will be at the home of Mr. Maurice Campbell. The topic of discussion will be Food for Peace.

KNOWLTON

The Knowlton and district Farm Forum Group was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Dallenbach on Monday evening, January 15th.

The broadcast was listened to and a discussion on the subject in question ensued, after which an evening of cards and a social time was enjoyed. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

BRILL FORUM

The Brill Farm Forum, joined by the West Bolton Calf Club held the first meeting of the New Year at the home of Mrs. Wm. Badger.

Fourteen members of the Farm Forum and nine members of the Calf Club along with their coach Doug MacKenzie were present.

Arthur Badger, as president of the young people, spoke a few words on their behalf and asked for more co-operation and interest from the parents.

Mr. MacKenzie also spoke, of the trials and tribulations of being a coach when one is also a busy farmer.

He asked for more help from parents and other parties interested in young people.

One difficulty he stressed in particular was the lack of transportation in many instances especially on Achievement Days.

A lively discussion took place after the broadcast.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Lawrence Marsh.

COOKSHIRE FORUM

Forum this week was entertained at the home of J. R. French with Mrs. Parry and Miss Florence French hostesses.

Fourteen persons attended. The broadcast on Farm Management sought to bring out answers to the following:

What kind of farm management guidance is available in your area? Is this sufficient?

Would you take part in a farm management group if one were available and why?

Outside of the information which may be obtained through farm papers, bulletins and radio, the only farm management guidance readily available is that received from the hard worked agronomer.

A few may receive help from Macdonald College or the Lennoxville Experimental Farm but we do not know of any organized effort in that respect. The answer therefore must be no to the question.

We think it would be to the interest of farmers to take part in farm management groups.

Farmers could get together, talk over their problems and listen to the methods adopted to meet those problems and the success achieved.

Groups such as these would make it possible for experts in different phases of agriculture to reach more farmers than through the individual approach.

The final result however rests with the individual in the use of the information made available to him.

Farm management guidance is available from the local agronomer.

A certain amount of guidance can be obtained by reading Farm magazines. Farm management guidance is not sufficient in this area.

Everyone felt he would take part in a farm management group if one were available in this area. There is need for better management if one is going to be efficient.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Montgomery.

SAWYERVILLE FORUM

The Sawyerville Farm Forum met at the home of Mrs. Mamie Matthews with Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Hurd as host and hostess.

Five members were present. The subject for discussion was Farm Management.

The broadcast was listened to and guide questions discussed.

RECORD RETURNS

Canadian farmers pocketed record cattle returns estimated at more than $620,000,000 in 1961. Previous high was $595,000,000 in 1958.

Graph shows annual value of cattle sales since 1951.

Magog Aces upset Asbestos, Richmond edges Windsor

Aces knock over league-leaders to gain on fourth-place Windsor club, rally in second and third for win

MAGOG. — Playing before a hometown crowd here tonight, the Magog Aces pulled an upset in defeating the league-leading Asbestos Miners 3-1.

The Magog win puts an end to a series of defeats for them and a series of wins for the Miners.

The win left them two points in back of fourth-place Windsor who dropped last night's game to the Richmond Braves.

Richard Champagne's Miners dominated play in the first period and led 1-0 at the end of the initial stanza.

Magog came back in the last two periods however to bag three unanswered goals and win the game.

Vachon, Dauphin and Boucher scored for Magog whereas Lavigne scored the only Asbestos goal.

The game was cleanly played with only five penalties being handed out by the referees.

First Period
1—Asbestos: Yvon Lavigne (Paul Perron) 8:28
Penalties: F. Lessard.

Second Period
2—Magog: R. Vachon, (N. Begin) 11:40
3—Magog: P. Dauphin, (R. Dubois, N. Hebert) 13:04
Penalties: Y. Lavigne, J. Champagne, P. Belisle.

Third Period
4—Magog: Normand Boucher, (R. Dubois, R. Jacques) 4:30
Penalties: C. Roux.

SHS Bantams down BCS Hurons, LHS and SHS Pee Wees battle to 2-2 tie, seven games on tap tomorrow

Sherbrooke High Bantams posted a 4-1 victory over BCS Hurons Wednesday afternoon at BCS Arena.

Mark Styman and Dave Bon-durant shared Sherbrooke's goals with two each to their credit while Ricky Stewart was another standout in the game with three assists. Wilkinson picked up his team's only points for BCS.

LHS-SHS Pee Wees Tie 2-2

In other hockey action Wednesday afternoon, Lennoxville High and Sherbrooke High Pee Wees battled to a 2-2 deadlock with Wayne Berry and Richard Smith picking up LHS' points.

Seven Games Saturday

Seven games are on tap in the Pee Wee, Bantam, and Midget sections of interscholastic hockey.

In the Pee Wee section, Sherbrooke High takes on BCS Mic-Macs at BCS—game time 11:00 a.m. while at Lennoxville—BCS Iroquois take on hosting Lennoxville High.

In the Bantam division, BCS Algonquins take on Sherbrooke at SHS while St. Pat's travels to Lennoxville for a match with LHS. The Lennoxville game starts at 2:00 p.m. while the Sherbrooke encounter is slated for 4:00 p.m.

In the Midget class, Larocque visits BCS Abenakis at BCS game time 3:00 p.m., and immediately following that match, BCS Crees take on Lennoxville both games at BCS Arena. Finally, BCS Mohawks visit Sherbrooke High for a match slated for 3:00 p.m. at Victoria Street rink.

Red Wings bow to Bruins 5-3 as Gordie Howe runs his record of 20-goal seasons to 13 last night

It's no wonder Gordie Howe is so prolific a scorer in the National Hockey League.

A scientific study has shown he covers an average of almost five miles a game, a full mile more than anyone else around the league. He ran his record of 20-goal seasons to 13 in a row Thursday night but it went all for naught as far as Detroit Red Wings were concerned. They bowed 5-3 to the revamped Bruins in Boston before a crowd of 8,463.

In miffing a chance to pass New York's idle fourth-place Rangers, the Red Wings blew a 2-1 lead to a club that had previously won only nine games all year.

Howe's 20th goal came in the second period on a power-play and gave him a lifetime total of 489 in scheduled play.

That leaves him 55 shy of the record production of Montreal's retired Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

In addition to his goal, Gordie also set up Vic Stasiuk for two tallies.

But the Bruins unleashed a three-goal outburst in the second period to take control. They got a two-goal effort from slim Don McKenney and hard-working Johnny Bucyk picked up a goal at Toronto.

and a pair of assists.

Rookie Wayne Connelly and Murray Olver rounded out the Boston scoring.

The Bruins—outshooting Detroit 38-32—also gave goalie Terry Sawchuk of the Red Wings a physical drubbing.

In the opening period the game was delayed after he was struck on the forehead by Dick Meissner's shot. He took five stitches.

Then in the final period, when Olver counted, he slammed heavily into Sawchuk. The net-minder fell to the ice and lost consciousness briefly.

The Bruins had Bruce Gamble in goal in place of Don Head and two new faces on the forward line, Larry Leach and Tommy Williams.

Gamble, Boston's regular net-minder for most of last season, was recalled from Portland Buckaroos in exchange for Richard.

Leach came from Providence Reds of the American Hockey League in a switch with Bob Beckett. Williams was up from Kingston Frontenacs of the Eastern Professional League in place of Terry Gray.

In games Saturday night, De-McKenney and hard-working Johnny Bucyk picked up a goal at Toronto.

ET Junior Loop sets dates for playdowns

RICHMOND — Playoff dates for the Eastern Townships Junior "B" Hockey League were set, said President Connie Dion, following a special meeting held to determine the playdowns.

Two clubs, Richmond and Theford, favored that only four clubs will be allowed in the playoffs but the other four clubs voted it down and all will participate in the playdowns.

It was decided that the first and fourth teams would play a four-out-of-seven semi-finals while the other clubs would meet in two-out-of-three series and the winners clashing in another similar event. The finals would be a best-of-four.

The Richmond Junior Club will hold a tag day January 26-27 while Saturday, Jan. 27th, a bingo will take place in the Notre Dame High School for the benefit of the Richmond Junior Flyers.

Sao Paulo, Brazil — Eder Jofre, 117½, Brazil, stopped Johnny Caldwell, 118, Ireland, 10. (Jofre won undisputed world bantamweight title).

Minor Hockey Week opens tomorrow

"Minor Hockey Week in Canada, reserved for young hockey players, opens on Saturday and will close Sunday, January 28th. This is the time when young players show what they have learned in hockey and expect the presence of their parents at the games to see them play.

The objective of Minor Hockey Week is to direct public attention to the character-building, physical and other benefits of participation in Canada's National Sport and to encourage further promotion of Minor hockey in every community in Canada.

To encourage parents to take an interest in their boys' activities. To honour those who serve as volunteer workers for minor hockey regardless of their capacity, and to honour the service clubs and other public-spirited organizations, schools and individuals who support the efforts of these people.

In order to celebrate "MINOR HOCKEY WEEK IN CANADA" in Sherbrooke, the vice-president of the Quebec Minor Hockey Association for the Eastern Townships, Maurice Parsons, has booked the Sherbrooke Arena Saturday afternoon for a full hockey program.

At 1:30 the St. Pat's Pee-Wees exhibition of hockey. At 2:15 Sherbrooke High School Bantams will receive the B.C.S. Algonquins in a regular league game which was originally scheduled for the Victoria Street rink. This should prove to be a good game as both clubs are evenly matched.

Following this, the St. Pat's Juvenile club, members of the Sherbrooke Juvenile league and leaders, will meet Drummondville Juveniles in an exhibition game. Drummondville have a strong club and have been playing exhibition games against St. Hyacinthe Junior League in order to keep their club in condition for the Provincial Juvenile playdowns.

This should prove a very interesting afternoon of hockey and the youngsters will give their best in an effort to show the improvement they have made since the opening of the season. No effort has been spared to present a good afternoon of hockey and a large crowd should be on hand starting at 1:30 Saturday.

DON'T SEND TAKE YOUR BOY TO THE ARENA.

Success may have spoilt Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—Has success spoiled Edmonton sports fans?

Coaches of Edmonton's professional football and hockey clubs can't be blamed for asking themselves this question when they ponder falling attendances during the last few seasons.

On the road their power-packed teams rated among the best drawing cards, but at home turnouts haven't been large enough to keep the club finances in the black.

They can shudder, too, when they look back 20 years and view what happened to Edmonton's fabulous basketball Grads.

Percy Page, now Alberta's lieutenant-governor but then an Edmonton school principal and Grads coach, threw in the sponge because of dwindling fan support for his women champions.

In 1961 both football and hockey officials expressed open concern about falling attendances. However, neither sport appears headed for the ashen yet.

The Eskimos dominated Canadian football from 1954 to 1956 with three consecutive Grey Cup championships. In 1961 they finished second to Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the Western Football Conference, but were upset in the semi-final by Calgary Stampeders.

It marked the first time in 12 years Edmonton failed to reach the league final.

"What we really need is a well-balanced league," said Ryan. "A league so close that every game counts and no team can take another for granted would be enough, I'm sure, to draw back the fans."

Bud Poile, coach and general manager of Edmonton Flyers, says Western Hockey League attendance at Edmonton games started to fall in 1955 when Flyers had what Poile considered the best ever minor professional hockey team.

"On that team were such current National League stars as Glenn Hall (Chicago), Norm Ullman and Vic Stasiuk (Detroit), Bronco Horvath (Chicago) and Johnny Bucyk (Boston)."

"We ended the season with a lower attendance than the previous year when we finished fourth. We walked away with everything, but attendance went down. It hasn't come back since."

This season the Flyers, who won 14 of their first 17 home games, averaged about 3,500 fans, about 500 below the break-even point, he said.

The 1961 Eskimos averaged 13,000-14,000 fans with the high 20,154 for an interlocking game against Toronto Argonauts and the low 9,000 for the season's final game against Winnipeg. The break-even point was 15,500 and Eskimos lost $73,000.

DRAW ON ROAD

Both clubs are big attractions on the road. The Eskimos draw sellout crowds in the east and near capacity crowds in the west.

Poile's latest bid to thwart attendance drops was a professional advertising campaign. He said it flopped as did a plan to charge children 50 cents for $1.75 seats if accompanied by parents.

The flyers in the first half of the current WHL are by far the top drawing card, says Murray Costello, league public relations officer. They also have finished out of the playoffs only once in the last decade.

Both clubs are big attractions on the road. The Eskimos draw sellout crowds in the east and near capacity crowds in the west.

The Flyers have increased ticket prices only once since joining the WHL in 1951. Prices still range $1.25 below average prices in most other WHL clubs.

Ryan said Eskimos now are studying a score of plans to re-scale seat prices and produce more low-priced seats in the 21,500-seat Clarke Stadium.

Poile's latest bid to thwart attendance drops was a professional advertising campaign. He said it flopped as did a plan to charge children 50 cents for $1.75 seats if accompanied by parents.

Warren Spahn and Robin Roberts sign 1962 contracts, Spahn gets big increase for reported $75,000

NEW YORK (CP)—Southpaw Warren Spahn and righthander Robin Roberts, signed contracts Thursday for the 1962 major league season.

Spahn agreed to terms with Milwaukee Braves of the National League. Roberts, formerly of Philadelphia Phillies, signed with the American League's New York Yankees.

Spahn, 40, was the highest paid hurler in history last season with a contract calling for about $75,000. He is believed to have been given a raise for next season.

Spahn compiled a 21-13 won-lost record last season. He has a career total of 309 wins in the majors.

Spahn led the National League in 1961 with an earned-run average of 3.01 and also pitched a no-hitter, the second of his career.

WON 234 GAMES

Roberts, 35, who won 234 games in 14 years with the Phillies, joined the Yankees last Oct. 16. The purchase price was believed to have been about $22,000. The contract he signed Thursday is believed to call for about $30,000.

Roberts had a 1-10 record last season, the worst of his career. The Yankees' star left-hander, Whitey Ford, signed Wednesday for a reported $50,000 yearly.

The Yanks also added Marshall Bridges, left-handed pitcher acquired from Cincinnati Reds, to their roster Thursday.

Washington Senators of the American League brought pitcher Claude Osteen and catcher Ken Retzer into the fold.

St. Louis Cardinals of the National League signed five young players — pitchers Clint Stark and Paul Youth, catcher Tim McCarver and infielders Gerry Buckch and Floyd Wicker.

Two other National League clubs were also active. Chicago Cubs signed pitcher Bob Anderson and the Phillies got second baseman Tony Taylor and first baseman Dick Edwards to agree to terms.

Sunnyside High girls eke out win over Derby

DERBY, Vt. — Sunnyside High School senior girls chalked up a 28-26 verdict over Derby Academy in an exhibition basketball fixture.

Derby jumped in an early lead and at the end of the first quarter was out in front 4-0 but at half-time Sunnyside held a slight 9-8 lead. The girls from Derby moved ahead at three-quarter time 18-17 but in the final quarter Sunnyside managed to move out front and when the whistle sounded they were ahead 28-26 after a close fight.

Val Dumas of Derby was the top scorer of the game with 17 points while Linda Emslie of Sunnyside was next with 13. Francis Embury and Nancy Smith, both of Sunnyside, followed with seven and six while Pam Bedard of Derby snared three.

The guards on both squads turned in fine jobs. Rita Goodsell, Bev Dustin and Pat Mayhew worked under the basket for Sunnyside while Joyce Gray, Janice Austin and Carolyn Colburne held down the guard positions for Derby.

St. Pat's down Sherbrooke High in Pee-Wee game

St. Pat's Pee-Wees came up with a five goal outburst in the second period Monday night to rack up their second victory of the season. This one coming on a 6-3 score over Sherbrooke High School.

The Bell-Rogerson-Greenland line were the pace-setters for the victors as they bagged home five goals in nine minutes of the middle stanza.

Dick Haffenden, Sherbrooke High captain, gave the visitors a slim one goal lead in the first period when he rifled a break away goal past L. Wilcox in the St. Pat's net.

Following the big second period that saw St. Pat's take a 5-1 lead, Sherbrooke High came back in the third to tally two. Hendy and Haffenden, with his second, were the marksmen. James also counted for the green and white squad to bring the final score to 6-3, in favor of the Irish.

Bell and Greenland, with two each, with James and Rogerson were the marksmen for the winners.

St. Pat's: L. Wilcox, D. Finn, D. Mills, A. Bell, G. Rogerson, D. Greenland, L. McDonough, K. Sayer, G. Meissner, R. Simms, P. James, M. Ferguson.

Sherbrooke High: I. Rose, F. Harris, S. Harris, R. Neil, D. Haffenden, M. Oxford, L. Hendy, C. Laforge, P. Walter, P. Grondin, G. Swan, L. Bondurant, J. McLeod, M. Cottrell.

NHL STARS

Don McKenney, a two-goal scorer for Boston Bruins in a 5-3 win over the Red Wings in Detroit.

Big first period scoring bee was sufficient to give Richmond win, Red Dubois tallies two for losers

WINDSOR — The Richmond Braves scored five goals in the first period here last night and then turned back a Paper Maker's rally to rack up a 6-5 victory over the Windsor squad.

By virtue of the victory, the Braves moved to within one point of the league-leading Asbestos Miners who lost 3-1 to Magog in last night's other game in the St. Francis Intermediate League.

Richmond opened fast, scoring four goals in the first twelve minutes. Desautels tallied when the game was but 46 seconds old to give the Tribe a 1-0 lead. Brave goals followed from Smith, Desrosiers and Desautels with his second before Dubois counted Windsor's first tally. Sawyer added another for Richmond before the period ended to give the Braves a 5-1 lead as they headed for the dressing room.

In the second Windsor came to life, registering two goals. G. Spenard and Dubois were the marksmen.

In the opening minutes of the third, Smith scored for Richmond to put them ahead 6-3. Windsor then applied the pressure and drew to within one goal of the leaders on goals from Fergues and Audet, Richmond hung on to their one goal lead to registered the victory.

Jacques Desautels and Roger Smith, with two goal apiece were the best for the visitors. "Red" Dubois was the big gun for Windsor as he scored two goals and registered three assists.

Jean-Paul Dumas was in nets for the Paper Makers. He was replacing Jacques St. Laurent, star goalie for the club, who is away on his honeymoon.

Dumas was hurt during the course of the game but was able to come back and finish the game.

These same two clubs will meet again on Sunday afternoon when the Paper Makers travel to Richmond.

Lennoxville High School Bantams belt BCS Senecas 7-2, Jeff Planché gets three and Jeff Dunn pots two Lennoxville High School Bantams won their second game of the year Thursday afternoon when the visiting LHS squad swamped BCS Senecas 7-2.

The LHS group previously tied a game Tuesday afternoon with the Senecas — battling to a 4-4 tie.

In Thursday's game, Lennoxville exploded for four goals in the opening period with Jeff Planché, Craig Saunders, Jeff Dunn and Mike Kingsley being the marksmen. Sandy Kingsley picked up two assists in the frame while Jeff Dunn notched one.

BCS actually started scoring in the primary period when Edway tallied at 1:45 on a pass from Veillon.

In the second frame, the action was much closer with Bishop of BCS making it 4-2 in favour of Lennoxville when he scored unassisted at 1:55.

In the third period, it was LHS setting the pace again with three goals. Jeff Planché chalked up his second and third of the match while Jeff Dunn fired his second in to sew things up for Lennoxville. Power and Craig Saunders picked up an assist each in the frame.

Goalie Kogler of Lennoxville was a real standout for the victors and undoubtedly the score would have been much higher if he had not shown such a high calibre of play between the posts.

LHS: Kogler, Desjardins, Ward, Cathcart, McLeod.

First Period
1—BCS, Edway (Veillon) 1:45
2—LHS, Planché 5:00
3—LHS, Saunders 8:30
4—LHS, Dunn (S. Kingsley) 11:00
5—LHS, M. Kingsley, (S. Kingsley, Dunn) 12:40
Penalties: McLeod.

Second Period
6—BCS, Bishop 1:55
Penalties: S. Kingsley.

Third Period
7—LHS, Planché (Saunders) 3:20
8—LHS, Planché, (Power) 5:23
9—LHS, Dunn 7:23

Als withdraw their bids for Sandy Stephens

MONTREAL (CP) — M. E. (Ted) Workman said Thursday night his Montreal Alouettes have withdrawn from the bidding for Sandy Stephens, Minnesota's Rose Bowl quarterback.

The president of the Eastern Football Conference club said the club earlier offered Stephens a three-year no-cut contract for more than $120,000. But he said that because of "excessive" bidding by Cleveland Browns of the National Football League the Als decided against further bidding for the "welfare of our team."

Perry Moss, Montreal head coach and general manager, went to Minneapolis earlier this week to speak to Stephens.

Yahata, Japan—Kenji Yonekura, 118, Japan, outpointed Marcing David, 117½, Philippines, 12. (Yonekura retained Orient bantamweight title).

B.C.S. bantams down Irish 4-0

B.C.S. Algonquins came up with a four goal first period and then settled down to play defensive hockey Wednesday night as they defeated the St. Pat's Bantams, 4-0. McKay with three goals and Ando with one were the scorers for B.C.S.

The St. Pat defence was weak at times and the B.C.S. team capitalized on this to register the victory.

The second and third frames were close checking affairs and resulted in a dual of defences. St. Pat's had a few good scoring opportunities but were foiled by brilliant goal-tending of McConnell.

St. Pat's: R. Nutbrown, W. Lamarche, W. Gilbert, A. Marois, T. Dwan, S. Pepin, D. Maher, R. King, R. Hove, J. Vear, J. Bushnell, R. Allen, J. Meissner, C. Adams, M. Boucher.

B.C.S.: McConnell, Fraser, Savage, McCormick, Khazam, McMartin, Marshall, Ando, McKay, Goodfellow, Shaughnessy, Kent, Rice, Cossett, Blackadar.
