SHERBROOKE ARMENIAN RECEIVES NEWS OF DEATH OF RELATIVES AT HANDS OF TURKS.

Mr. Nicholas Zakab, of this city, has received a letter from his mother in Armenia, stating that nearly all his relatives have died of starvation at the hands of the Turks. Seventeen relatives are known to have perished. His father, P. Zakab, who was in business in Sherbrooke for a number of years, and who returned to Armenia before the war, is dead.

The letter says that the Turks stole every bit of food and left the people to starve. Many of them fled to the mountains and died there.

SLEIGH DRIVE AND SOCIAL EVENING.

The sleigh drive and social evening given under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church last evening was a great success. Four large sleighs were filled with a merry crowd of young people and the route taken was "to Lennoxville, round the band stand and back again." An ideal night, excellent roads, and a prevailing spirit of joyousness made the drive one of the happiest outings of the winter season. On returning to the Church Hall, appetizing refreshments were served, and a musical programme was given, which included vocal duets by the Misses Dempster and Smiley, Miss Dempster and Mr. Blier, with Miss Andrea Irwin at the piano. A pleasant feature of the evening was the singing of popular songs in which everyone joined heartily.

The proceeds were very gratifying and the organizers felt well repaid for their efforts in arranging this delightful social event.

CAISSE-DOTATION ANNUAL.

The Caisse-Dotation of the parish of St. Michael held its annual meeting on Sunday in the hall of Mont Notre Dame, which was well filled. The Rev. Father Simard, rector of the parish, presided, and spoke a few words as to the objects of the society. The election of officers took place with the following results: President, Mr. Louis Huard; vice-president, Miss Alice Fortier; treasurer, Mr. C. Belanger; assistant treasurer, Miss Thérèse Beaulieu; secretary, Miss Lea Lambert; assistant secretary, Miss Marie Desjarlais; M. J. Genest, M. Louise Maguire, Rosa Gauthier and Josephine Thivierge. Mrs. Shea and Miss Thivierge played a very pretty piano duet, and a charming little comedy was rendered under the capable direction of Miss Thivierge, entitled "The Gardens of the Trionon." A short address by Abbe Adam, of the Seminary, encouraged all young girls to become members of the Caisse-Dotation, and his arguments were most convincing. A chorus, "Welcome to the Spring," closed the afternoon's programme.

Deaths Reported

MR. H. A. GRENIER.

MARBLETON, Feb. 7.—(Special)—The death occurred on January 28th of Henri Alphonse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Grenier, of this place. The young man contracted the influenza, followed by pneumonia, and after a short illness passed away in his twenty-fifth year. During his illness he received many visits from Rev. Father LaRue, parish priest, and also had the best of care from Dr. Tribault, who did all he could for him.

The funeral mass was held in the parish church at St. Adolphe de Dudaswell, Rev. Father LaRue officiating, and was largely attended by neighbors and friends. The funeral was under the direction of Mr. Alfred Bernard, cousin. The deceased was an industrious, kind and obliging young man, courteous in manner, and his father's right hand on the farm. He was born in Ephrem, Baucé, and had lived in Marbleton nineteen years.

He was one of a large family, four sisters and seven brothers having predeceased him. He leaves to mourn his loss his father and mother, two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Lepine and Miss Eugénie Grenier, who is a sister nun in the convent in St. Hyacinthe, and five brothers, Messrs. Joseph and Helise Grenier, Alexander, who is a Brother Demolitionist at Ottawa, Antoine and Napoleon, who live at home.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Grenier and family in their sad bereavement.

JOHNSON & SHARDLOW ASSIGNMENT DOES NOT PROMISE MUCH FOR THE CREDITORS.

The Johnson & Shardlow assignment at Lennoxville is not looking any better for the creditors as the claims come in. Mr. John J. Griffith is in charge as provisional liquidator. The income of assets, including stock on hand, will not go very far in meeting the claims. Indications do not point to a very substantial dividend. Some of the creditors who made loans to the company are secured by mortgage and will probably not lose.

SHERBROOKE MAN WINS IN BOSTON CHESS PROBLEM CONTEST.

Mr. R. F. Morris, of this city is gaining fame in connection with his solution of press problems. A recent issue of the Boston Transcript gives the results of its chess problem competitions, and it is noted that Mr. R. F. Morris, heads the list with 136 points, as compared with 111 for his nearest rival.

The chess editor adds, "R. F. M., of Sherbrooke, Que., wins. Congratulations are on order, as this solver has confined himself to solving the two move problems and his success thereby longer in attainment is a fine triumph of persistent effort, encouraging to those who may be dismayed by the three moves."

H.R.H. PRINCESS PATRICIA'S WEDDING GIFT.

The announcement of the engagement of H.R.H. Princess Patricia of Connaught has been received with much pleasure throughout the Dominion. It would seem most fitting that the people of Canada upon the occasion of her marriage should be afforded the opportunity of contributing to a national wedding gift as a testimonial of their regard. A subscription list has been opened by the Sherbrooke I.O.D.E. for one week only. Subscriptions, however large or small, may be sent to Mrs. W. A. Parwell, 87 Dufferin Ave. Names of subscribers, but not amounts, will be acknowledged in the Daily Record.

KING GEORGE V. CHAPTER ENTERTAINMENT AT THE ARMOYR.

For the second time this season, the 53rd Regiment Armory was the scene of a pleasant party, when on Wednesday evening a dance was given under the auspices of the Entertainment Committee of the King George V. Chapter, I.O.D.E., of which Mrs. W. E. Leemis and Mrs. T. S. Somers are conveners. The hall was effectively decorated with quantities of flags of brilliant colors, the red, white and blue of the Union Jack, the Stars and Stripes, the yellow and black of Belgium and the Tricolor of France being conspicuous, while the lighting was excellent and adequate. Cards were served during the early part of the evening at some twenty-five tables, and the prizes were won by the following: Mrs. Frank Goetz, Mrs. O. R. Webster, Miss Florence Hunt, Mrs. E. J. Page, Mrs. J. V. Watson, Mr. W. R. Webster, Mrs. H. V. Haight.

"500," Mrs. Brillhart, Mrs. R. Wyatt, Mr. Thomas. Dancing was especially enjoyed, as the floor was in good condition and the music of His Majesty's orchestra, under Prof. Bourgauff, being all that could be desired. Refreshments were served from a table tastefully arranged with potted plants and ferns loaned by Mrs. B. C. Howard and Mrs. McCaw, and midnight was long past before the party broke up.

RECEPTION FOR RETURNING SOLDIERS—ALL TRAINS TO BE MET.

In order that all returning soldiers, arriving in Sherbrooke, may be welcomed at the trains and directed to the Khaki Club if they wish to go there, the reception committee has worked out a plan by which all trains are to be met.

Each man's team has been assigned one day of the week on which they will meet all regular trains from Montreal and Quebec.

Each Captain is to arrange that each train is met by two or three of his team.

The Captain and Vice-Captain for each day, with phone numbers (business and residence) are as follows:

Monday: P. M. Robins, 539, 1376w.

Tuesday: W. A. Hale, 853w.

Wednesday: 53rd Regiment: F. S. Rugg, 19, 872.

Thursday: K. of P. Lodge: H. B. Fletcher, 1136, 806.

Friday: V. E. Morrill, 68, 23j.

Saturday: C. E. Soles, 1404, 801w.

Sunday: E. S. Baker, 1380, 513j.

J. R. Beach, 1380, 961j.

Arrangements are being made through several channels to get advice of troop trains passing through. From whatever source it comes, this information is being passed on to the Captain for the day and the Chief of Police. The Chief has promised the fullest co-operation in stopping the illicit sale of liquor to men on troop trains.

When Mr. Becker receives word that a group of men are coming on some particular train, he will notify the Captain for the day and the chairman of the House Committee, Mrs. A. F. Fraser (468w), who will arrange with a Ladies' team to have the train met.

Arm badges, similar to those used by the Khaki Club in Montreal, are being printed and will be issued to all members of men's teams. A supply will also be left at the Khaki Club for the use of the Ladies' team, or may be borrowed by any men who may forget their badges.

Arrangements have been made to put up large signs in stations at Montreal and Lévis, and at both stations in Sherbrooke.

Signs with arrows pointing toward the Khaki Club are to be put up at the stations and on the streets of Sherbrooke. It was also decided to try to have our Khaki Club cards put in the smokers of local trains.

All soldiers when first back from the front, who have no home in Sherbrooke, are guests of the club for seven days free of charge, after which period a charge of 25c. per meal and 25c. per bed each night will be made.

All returned men are invited to make free use of the lounge, where billiards, piano, phonograph, stationery and magazines are provided.

KLAIRE DOWSEY RETURNS NEXT TUESDAY.

Miss Klaire Dowsey, the noted soprano, who will be presented to the Sherbrooke public for the third time on Tuesday evening February 11th, by Albert Hurley, in His Majesty's Theatre, needs no introduction to the people of this city. Possessing a rich soprano voice, she sings with a freshness and charm which at once wins the enthusiasm of her audience. Her program includes a well-balanced selection of popular and classic numbers. By special request she will open the program with the Entrance Song from "Madame Butterfly."

Miss Gladys Mason, the well-known violinist who is assisting Miss Dowsey, is an artist of much concert experience, she having made six extensive tours of the United States, playing on the same programs with artists of great renown. One of the celebrated American critics wrote of her in one of his reviews: "Miss Gladys Mason is a most remarkable violinist and charming young woman. She possesses a big broad tone and has wonderful technique. Her playing is as a master's and she does not resort to gymnastics in order to command attention."

Mr. Albert Hurley will accompany the artists, and through long association with Miss Dowsey in that capacity will no doubt prove a very sympathetic one.

The seat exchange will be held at the box office tomorrow morning, and the public are asked to exchange their tickets early owing to the great demand.

MEGANTIC CO. HAPPENINGS

Budget of News from Various Sections of the Country.

INVERNESS

A business meeting of the Snowshoe Club was held on Tuesday of last week at the home of Mr. Archie McKenzie to discuss the advisability of re-organizing at so late a date. It was unanimously decided to re-organize. The election of officers took place as follows: President, Mrs. Archie McKenzie; Vice-President, Mr. Ferguson; Secretary, Miss E. McVetty; Treasurer, Mr. Bert Austin. The two last-named were re-elected. Various plans were generally discussed, and it was arranged to "cramp" every Tuesday evening.

Mr. H. Marois, who is about to leave Inverness, held an auction sale on Wednesday last to dispose of his household goods, etc. Mr. Marois is to leave shortly for his new home in Coleraine, and will be much missed in this community.

Mrs. Wm. Thompson and son, Pte. Walter Little, of Kinneir's Mills, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. McCammon over Sunday. Pte. Little has just returned from overseas, having gone over with the 11th Battalion, and his many friends were pleased to welcome him home.

Communication service will be celebrated in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, Feb. 9th, at 11 a.m. Mr. E. Parker, of Rathwell, Man., was the guest for a couple of weeks of Misses M. and C. George.

RECTORY HILL

Mr. Chas. Ham, from North Hatley, paid a visit to Mr. Jos. Patterson before leaving with his wife and daughter for their home in Bruce, Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ham spent Tuesday with the latter's aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Watts, of Lysander.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smyth, of Inverness, spent Thursday at Mr. Jos. Patterson's.

INVERNESS WEST

Mrs. Francis Samson has received an official communication from the Military Department at Ottawa announcing the death of her son, Pte. Amiel Samson. There was a memorial service for him in the parish church recently.

Mr. A. Hill received a carload of grain from the West at St. Julie Station on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Dougald McKenzie has been on the sick list for a few days.

Misses M. and Ida McKinnon, of Kinneir's Mills, were guests of Miss M. Macdonald recently.

Miss Edith McIntyre and Miss Hilda Canning, of Reddsdale, spent the week-end with Miss Catran Sauter in town.

Miss Margery McKinnon is home from the West on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McKinnon.

Miss Gingsap spent Sunday with her parents in Laurierville.

FEW CASES OF FLU NOW IN SHERBROOKE

No Real Recurrence of Disease—Not Now in Epidemic Form.

Following the report sent out by the Provincial Board of Health that the Spanish influenza was somewhat prevalent in the province, an uneasy feeling has arisen, especially among those who are inclined to pessimistic views. Rumors of an increase in the number of pneumonia cases and other similar diseases add to the uneasiness of the people, who realize that our long Canadian winter is no over yet. Inquiries evening next from authentic sources show, however, that in Sherbrooke there is no sign as yet of an outbreak of the epidemic which took such a toll of human lives in October and November.

The report from the Civic Hospital this morning shows that there were five cases last week, which represented one family—father, mother and three children. The mother died on Friday, the remaining members returned to their home yesterday, and the hospital closed again today. The report from police headquarters shows no new cases, with the exception of colds, the health record is good for this time of year.

A rumor that Bishop's College Preparatory School had an outbreak of influenza, with twenty-five cases, has been discredited. The statement given this morning by Headmaster Williams showed that there were about twelve cases of colds among the smaller boys, but no serious cases, and that every precaution was being taken. "The boys are isolated and everything is well under control," was Mr. Williams' reassuring statement.

STANBRIDGE EAST

The annual meeting of this branch of the Bible Society will be held on Tuesday evening, February 11, in the Methodist Church. Rev. J. Allen will give an address on "Reconstruction." A large attendance is looked for.

Mrs. Edgar Beck, Mr. G. Kidd and Miss Ida Blinn are all improving after their recent illness.

Miss Flossie Johnson has left for St. Anne de Bellevue to take teachers' course.

Rev. C. H. Brown, Mr. Roy Fortin and Mr. K. Wescott went to Sherbrooke to attend the Epworth League convention.

Mr. B. Johnson has returned to St. Vincent de Paul after a few days with his parents.

Mrs. R. McElroy, of Richford, was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Perley.

Pte. Philip Gamache was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Tree on Tuesday.

Mr. G. W. Curran, Mr. G. Kidd and Mr. G. Fortin went to Montreal recently by auto.

At the meeting of the Council on Monday last Mr. W. H. Briggs resigned as secretary-treasurer. This was accepted by the Council, and Mr. C. H. Hibbard was elected in his place. A dinner was given by the Mayor, Mr. Harvey Beatty, at the American House after the council adjourned.

Mr. Fred J. Laraway has purchased the wood lot owned by Mr. F. J. Borden.

Mr. Frank Corey has purchased the farm owned by Mrs. Geo. Baxter.

PRACTICAL ANSWER.

In an examination the question in mechanics was put: "Why will a pin not balance on its point?" One replied: "Because, because a point being that which has no magnitude, cannot stand upon what does not exist. Secondly, it will if you stick it in."

OTTAWA DOWNED TORONTO (Special to the Record)

OTTAWA, Feb. 7.—The Ottawa Senators practically clinched the honors for the second half of the National Hockey League race last night when they trounced the Toronto team to the tune of 3 goals to 1. The victory gives the Ottawa a big lead, and it is practically certain now that they will be seen opposing the Canadiens, winners of the first half of the race, in the play-off for the right to battle for the Stanley cup.

AMATEUR HOCKEY GAMES (Special to the Record)

MONTREAL, QUE., Feb. 7.—The amateur hockey leagues staged their regular series of games last night. In the City League the Vickers nosed out the Victorias by the odd goal in five, while M. A. A. and McGill College finished up a rather loose game with the count eight all.

In the Montreal League the St. Anns lowered the colors of the Nationals to the tune of 6 goals to 1, while the Hochelagas trounced the Stars by a count of 4 goals to 2.

WOLGAST PUT ONE OVER.

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Ad Wolgast, former lightweight boxing champion of the world, is in Los Angeles, travelling incognito, as it were. The ex-champion has been in the city for over a week, attending to his business interests.

MARSHAL FOCH MADE URGENT APPEAL FOR GAS

Sent Message to Washington Just Two Months Before Signing of Armistice Saying "War is Lost
 if Gasoline is Not Sent."

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 7.
 Sixty days before the armistice was signed and when the situation on the western front had reached a critical stage, Marshal Foch cabled to the Fuel Administration:

"If you don't keep up your petrol-um situation, we shall lose the war."
 This and other messages from Allied leaders were made public tonight by the Fuel Administration to show how deliveries of American gasoline in quantities on the western front alone prevented alterations in the plan of campaign which forced the Central Powers to an armistice.

Another message, received October 1, said in part:
 "Senate Berenger writes: 'High command informs me that position has become so serious that change in military operations will have to be contemplated unless increased deliveries of gasoline at front are made possible quickly.'

Observance by the American people of the "gasolineless Sunday" request, Fuel Administration officials said today, enabled the Senator later to declare: "Petroleum will have played as great a part in the victory as blood itself, and will have proved the life-blood of victory."

The Fuel Administration said that the Earl of Curzon on November 21st, estimated that the United States furnished eighty per cent. of the Allied petroleum requirements. Other Allied leaders sent messages of thanks.

EDUCATIONAL BOARD MEET AT FARNHAM

Several Prominent Speakers Will Address the Gathering at Farnham—Officers for the Ensuing Year Will Be Elected.

COWANSVILLE, Feb. 7.—(Special)—A meeting of the district of Bedford Educational Board will be held in the Model School, Farnham, tomorrow (Saturday) at 2 p.m.
 School commissioners and secretary-treasurer of the district of Bedford especially are requested to be present, but an invitation is extended to the general public.

A number of speakers will be present, including Hon. Sydney Fisher and Dr. G. W. Parmelee, secretary of the Protestant committee of the Department of Public Instruction. The Superintendent of Public Instruction, Hon. Cyril Delauge, has also promised to try and be present. The annual election of officers will take place towards the conclusion of the meeting.

SUTTON, Feb. 7.—The following is a report of the work done in November, December and January by the Sutton and Abercorn Red Cross Hospital. Supplies were sent to 45 Belmont Park, as follows: 252 flannel day shirts, 70 suits of pyjamas, 295 pers.
 prop. bags, 60 prs. socks, 666 women's and children's petticoats, 91 nightgowns, 147 drawers, 7 dresses, 38 boys' blouses, 4 boys' sweaters, 40 boys' trousers, 3 head shawls, 15 prs.
 stockings, 1 quilt, 80 prs. socks used in Xmas boxes, 230 prs. socks sent to the Navy League and our own soldiers. These were knit by the Sutton and Abercorn Knitting Club.

This makes a total of 2,089 articles.
 This society intend to continue the making of refugee garments until on hand, so that those who cannot attend the meetings every Thursday are asked to send for some work to do at home.

CLEVELAND COUNCIL MAKES DONATION.

RICHMOND, Que., Feb. 7.—(Special)—The February meeting of the Cleveland Council took place on Monday with Mayor Stephen Smith presiding and Councillors C. C. Healy, J.
 Ducloux, F. Plummer, K. A. Mackenzie, Charles M. Wintle and Placide St.
 Jean in attendance. The mayor and three last mentioned councillors were newly elected and were sworn in. Mr.

 G. J. Alexander appeared on behalf of the Salvation Army, and the Council voted $200 to this worthy object. The Council also voted $100 to the Ladies' Patriotic Society of Richmond and Melbourne.

The Council agreed to refund to one of the ratepayers money amounting to $7, which he had paid on a cheese factory. The business was mostly routine, consisting of passing for payment of bills and discussing the bill for damages by a party whose automobile was damaged last fall between Richmond and Danville on the valley road. The Council withheld payment until after further consideration. The secretary read a letter from the G. T.
 R. Company agreeing to pay $1,000 as part payment money spent in straightening the road to do away with the Jeffrey and Sloan crossings, the balance to be paid when the work is completed.

Sale Time Economies at Saint-Jean's

Many women have asked us why we reduce prices and how we can afford to do it at our February Sales.

The reason lies in the old saying, "Our loss is your gain."

There comes a time in the year when—after a strenuous season where we have been busy as bees accommodating our customers to their particular needs and buying amply of everything they might want—we find the season over, and many lines, in fact all lines of goods throughout the stores have a host of partially complete sizes, or an accumulation of purely fashionable goods which a year from now will be of some other fashion.

Household Book-keeping

All good housekeepers should have some simple method of accounting for their daily household expenditures. I have devised a system whereby this can be done at a cost of less than three cents per month and requiring less than five minutes per day to make the entries. The book contains a page for each month for three years, and a line for each day with special ruled columns and printed headings covering over twenty different items that form the daily expenses of every household. The price is only one dollar including postage. After examination, if not satisfied, return it and money will be refunded. Begin the year well by ordering a copy.

My Three Years in a German Prison

(By Dr. Henri S. Beland, M. P.)

COPYRIGHT, 1919

Turkey was handsomely represented at the Stadtvetel during a couple of years; the Turk prisoners were one Raschid and the other Tager.

Raschid was a young man, about thirty-five years of age. He was lodged in a cell on the floor above ours and there kept in solitary confinement. He was arrested while passing through Germany, because he, too, openly manifested his sympathies for France. Like Tager, his compatriot, he had received a French education, and had lived in Paris for several years. This poor Raschid, who was locked up all day long, was not allowed to read or smoke, but several among us when apprised of his hard lot succeeded from time to time in providing him with some French books, cigarettes, and also with a little food. Professor Henri Marteau, the celebrated French violinist, was particularly moved by the misfortunes of Raschid. He was allowed to play the instrument in his cell, which during the latter part of his captivity was situated on the side of the triangle facing the cell in which Raschid was confined. And there he would draw from his violin marvelous strains that would send a ray of comfort to the poor Turk's soul.

One night I was called to Raschid's cell. He was very ill. And while we talked together I obtained a great deal of information from him. The conversation, being in French, was not understood by the attendant non-commissioned officer.

Raschid believed at that time that he had been entirely forgotten by the military authorities. He was confined for over five months before hearing one single reason why he was so harshly treated. When upwards of five months of his arrest, he was taken to the office of General Von Kessel, high commanding officer in the Steps of Brandenburg. Raschid, with whom I talked on the day following this interview, related the incidents of his conversation with the great general. Von Kessel informed him that he would soon be liberated; that he would travel by express train through the Balkans on his way to Constantinople. The general asked him the following questions amongst others:

"How long have you been in jail?" "One hundred and sixty-two days," answered Raschid.

"How long have you been in solitary confinement?" "One hundred and sixty-two days."

Here the general burst out laughing. "One hundred and sixty-two days!" he exclaimed, "how is that?" "I don't know," replied Raschid.

"That is strange! That is strange! That is strange!" repeated the high Prussian commander.

Without asking further information, the general sent Raschid back to his cell. A few days later Raschid left us for better surroundings.

Tager was a man about fifty years of age, who came to Berlin provided with a passport from the German Minister in Switzerland. He was to return to Paris, where he resided, but one day was arrested and brought to the Stadtvetel. He was never so harshly treated as Raschid, for four months—why he was interned. For my part, I never knew any other reason than that he had expressed pro-French sentiments.

One day he was informed that he was to leave the jail for a French officers' internment camp. His departure was fixed for December 7, 1918. During his short (?) sojourn among us Tager won the esteem of the prisoners of British nationality: I was the only one, however, to whom he confided anything about himself. He informed me one day, in great confidence, that he was a Great Rabbi of Turkestan. Judging by the way he pronounced his title, one would believe that his rank in Mohammedan countries corresponded to that of a lord in England.

He entreated me not to reveal this to anyone.

Well, the British prisoners met together in a cell and decided to offer him a luncheon at the jail on the day of his departure. It was a formidable enterprise.

On the day fixed, a table of fifteen plates was laid in my cell. The plates I need hardly remark, had to be set very close one to the other! At one o'clock, three of us went as a delegation to bring Tager, who did not understand what the whole thing meant.

Before luncheon, I told my British comrades that it was my intention to "reveal" to them, when the toasts were proposed, that our guest, Tager, was a Great Rabbi of Turkestan, and although his title meant nothing to me or them, I urged that they should display great enthusiasm at my disclosure and give Tager an ovation.

Luncheon was about to end, when I got up to propose the health of Tager. In concluding my speech, I duly informed my friends that I was about to create a sensation amongst them. Then, amid profound silence, I solemnly said that I deemed it my duty, notwithstanding the natural modesty of Mr. Tager, to reveal one of his titles to universal respect and admiration.

"Mr. Tager," I said, "is a Grand Rabbi of Turkestan, a fact which he always hid from us."

On this statement, everyone stood up and united in a loud chorus of "bravos." Then, according to time-honored custom, one of the party led the popular refrain "For he's a Jolly good fellow." We had scarcely got through the first part of the song when Hufmeyer, a non-commissioned officer, burst into my cell and called on us to stop. He was too late, however. We had then given full vent to our enthusiasm for Mr. Tager.

Liebkecht was not the only one to draw upon himself the wrath of the military authorities in 1915, 1916, and 1917.

I shall never forget the pathetic sight presented by a worthy old fellow who was interned with us for many months. He was Professor Franz Mehning, a gentleman seventy-one years of age. In April, 1915, Mehning issued a proclamation in favor of an immediate peace. The proclamation contained not only his signature, but also those of Rosa Luxemburg and de Ledebour. This was sufficient to merit a taste of the Stadtvetel.

Mehning, like Borchardt, belonged to the Spartacus group. A very learned man and a fine talker, he enabled us to spend with him many interesting and never-to-be-forgotten hours. These names of Mehning and Borchardt, of which I had guarded but a slight remembrance, have become of great importance, since the revolution broke out in Germany. Mehning remained for some time in the jail. After his liberation he became a candidate for the seat left vacant by Liebkecht at Potsdam. He was defeated, but his subsequent candidature had happier sequel in his election, for another constituency, to the Prussian Diet. He was returned by a large majority and at the time of writing is a member of the Prussian Parliament.

TO MOTHERS! Each 10 cent box of Cascarets contains full directions for dose for children aged one year old and upwards. Nothing else "works" the nasty bile, sour fermentations and constipation poison from the tender little bowels so gently, yet so thoroughly. Even cross, feverish, bilious children gladly take Cascarets without being coaxed. Cascarets taste just like candy. Cascarets never gripe, never sicken, never injure, but above all, they never disappoint the worried mother.

OLD ORDER IN GERMANY GONE BEYOND RECALL

"We Will Be an Empire of Justice and Truth," States Chancellor Ebert in National Assembly.

(Associated Press Despatch)
WEIMAR, Feb. 7.—The old order in Germany has gone beyond recall, and the people are now determined to rule themselves, declared Friedrich Ebert, the Chancellor, calling the National Assembly to order yesterday afternoon.

"We will call on the old German spirit of Weimar," he said. "We will be an empire of justice and truth." The Chancellor opened the proceedings of the Assembly at 3.15 o'clock. He was received with applause as he advanced for the ceremonial. In opening, he addressed the assembly as: "Ladies and gentlemen," a form of address never before heard in a German legislative body. The Chancellor's speech was an earnest appeal for unity and untiring labor.

MAY NOT BE BIG BUSINESS FROM ABROAD

Mr. Murray Tells Sherbrooke Manufacturers Outlook for Overseas Orders Not Too Bright

Mr. G. M. Murray, general secretary of the Manufacturers' Association, and Mr. McIntosh, assistant secretary of the Montreal branch, were in Sherbrooke yesterday to meet Sherbrooke manufacturers and discuss general trade and industrial conditions.

Mr. Murray's report on possible orders from abroad was not very encouraging. It appears that France and Belgium are endeavoring to carry out their reconstruction work as far as possible themselves without incurring further financial obligations abroad. It was expected that large orders would come to Canada in connection with European reconstruction work. This does not now seem probable, according to reports made yesterday. REBEL AGAINST SPARTACAN RULE IN DUSSELDORF Whole City Has "Walked Out" and Business is at a Standstill—Theatres and Restaurants Also Forced to Close.

(Associated Press Despatch)
BERLIN, Wednesday, Feb. 7.—The whole city of Dusseldorf has "walked out." Officials, clerks and other employees in the service of railways, posts, telegraph, telephone and other service lines, bankers, lawyers, physicians, school teachers and other people engaged in professions have quit work. The employees on all public service lines are striking in keeping with the threat to the Executive Council of the Communist Government to call a general strike of all bourgeois classes if their demands were not granted.

Theatres and restaurants are forced to close, as they are without service. Big industrial plants have shut down, as office forces everywhere have joined in the walk-out.

This unique protest is the first of its kind to be applied on a big scale as a retaliation against Spartacan terrorism.

MANY ENJOYED PLAY PRESENTED LAST NIGHT

St. Peter's Church Sunday School Classes Carried Out a Fine Programme.

St. Peter's Church Hall was well filled last evening, when a little play was given by a number of young amateurs in aid of the Sunday School funds, and the entertainment was a great success. A short musical programme occupied the early part of the evening, comprising a selection by Miss Mary White, and a few songs kindly contributed by Miss Gladys Howe, who was accompanied by Miss Edgell. A recitation by Corp. Robert Harrison pleased the audience, and the rector, Rev. H. R. Bigg, made a few remarks, speaking of the work of the Sunday School and the devotion of the superintendent and the staff. He congratulated the young people who had given up considerable time to assist the Sunday School, and was sure that the audience would enjoy the result of their work.

The curtain then rose on the first scene of "Freezing a Mother-in-Law," always a popular topic of amusement. The cast was as follows: Mrs. Watmuff, the mother-in-law, Miss MacKay; Mrs. Watmuff's daughter, Miss Edney; Mr. Watmuff, Mr. F. Goetz; Miss Watmuff's fiancé, Mr. Howard Moffatt; an American Inventor, Mr. Willie Giovetti.

The actors and actresses were letter perfect and entered into the comic and amusing situations of the playlet with much humor and spirit, and the frequent applause showed that they carried the audience with them. The national anthem was sung by the actors grouped on the stage and the friends present, closing a pleasant evening.

ST. ANDREW'S LADIES' AID MET. A very enjoyable social gathering was the regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church, which was held in the church hall yesterday. The hostesses were Mrs. Walter Gale, Mrs. Robert Johnson and Mrs. G. H. Gale, and the small tables were surrounded by parties of friends, laughing, chatting and appreciating the dainty refreshments provided so hospitably.

EPWORTH LEAGUE CLOSING CONVENTION

Many Questions Relative to Methodist Church Work Discussed—Officers Elected.

The interest in the Epworth League convention grew during the second day, culminating in the closing meeting last evening.

At the morning session two excellent papers were given by Mrs. M. M. Laheve and the Rev. C. H. Brown, on "Enlightening the Juniors" and "Social Life in the League," respectively.

In the afternoon a thoughtful and able address on "Evangelism" was given by the Rev. Mr. Burgoyne, who spoke of his subject as being the very root of Methodism, and made an appeal to members of the League and of the Church to strive to reach their objective and to fulfill their obligations.

A conference followed on "Methods and Problems in League Work," led by the Rev. Mr. Curtis.

In regard to the missionary work, Rev. Mr. Perry stated that it was proposed to raise $8,000,000 in the next five years, to be used in the evangelization of the heathen world.

Rev. Mr. Curtis, of Montreal, whose work among young people for years has been notable, spoke of the difficulties in the way of interesting boys.

Wesley Hall was well filled at the closing session of the convention last evening. The following officers were elected: Hon. president, Rev. Paul Pergau, Waterloo; president, Mr. Henry Bird, Waterloo; 1st vice-president, Rev. F. R. Mathews, Beebe; 2nd vice-president, Mr. A. E. Smith, Wapog; 3rd vice-president, Rev. W. J. Johnston, West Shefford; 4th vice-president, Rev. Thomas Knowles, Ulverton; 5th, Mrs. M. M. Laheve, Lennoxville.

Representatives to Conference from Districts: Rev. A. F. Shorten, Stanstead; Mr. H. Bird, Waterloo; Rev. Johnson Sellar, Quebec.

A resolution of thanks to the Rev. Mr. Curtis, of Montreal, for his kind interest and assistance in the work of the convention was moved by Rev. Mr. Mick and carried, and a resolution was also moved and carried of appreciation of the hospitality of the congregation of the Sherbrooke Methodist Church.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. Mr. Curtis, whose address was listened to with great interest. Several musical selections were rendered during the evening.

into the council himself and try and better things. Of course this does not apply to constructive criticism. I am sure the City Council will welcome that.

THE DEMAND FOR BETTER STREETS. "We have, as a board, been demanding better streets. Now that the chairman of the road committee has announced his policy, I think he ought to have the wholehearted support of this board. Of course these streets will cost the city money, but it is not possible to get anything for nothing, and next year should be a reasonable time to build. Besides, our citizens will need work."

ALSO GOOD ROADS. "In this direction we should go further, and support and promote as many good roads throughout the country as it is practical to build. Sherbrooke-Montreal, Sherbrooke-Quebec, Sherbrooke-Three Rivers and Sherbrooke-Norton Mills roads should all receive the necessary attention to make them an accomplished fact."

STREET RAILWAY PROBLEM. "Regarding the street railway problem, the board has taken an active part. In fact, the most active general meeting of the year was for discussing this problem. The City Council has, as you know, appointed a committee to deal with this matter, of which committee your president is a member. A number of meetings have been held, but no report is ready yet."

OUR RETURNED SOLDIERS. "A resolution favoring a home for the care of the returned E. T. soldiers who might be disabled or in need now or in later years in life, was passed by your council and referred to the Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade. This will be followed up and a plan adopted, the idea being that all memorials could be consolidated into one."

LOSSES DURING YEAR. "It is with very sincere regret that I mention the loss we sustained by the death of Mr. Cleophas Beauchene, a member of our council, and as fine a gentleman as ever lived; of Mr. Wm. Farwell, a man honored and respected by all, prominent in the development of this city for many years."

"Another loss to the city was that of Mr. D. J. McManamy, a man of sterling honesty, and one who had the interests of the city at heart, an old resident and actively interested in business. Mr. McManamy was not a member of this board."

Mr. A. P. Taylor's removal deprived us of one of our most valued workers, who has and will be much missed.

THE E. T. AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION.

"One more institution of the city which deserves our hearty co-operation is the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association. This society has, I believe, done more to aid in many ways in promoting the welfare of Sherbrooke than any other. I believe the board could be of more active help and assistance to this society."

"I wish my successor in office every success and pledge my support to him, and I trust every gentleman here tonight will resolve to do his share to make our city ever a better place than it is. No better thing could be said of a man when he has gone to his last reward than 'our city was better for his having lived here.'"

"The reports of the various committees will be read and will give you a partial idea of what has been accomplished under the abnormal conditions of the past year."

"The coming year will, I am sure, yield better results. Take the matter of industries, foundations have been laid that I am sure will lead to results."

OTHER REPORTS. The reports of the committees of the board were presented by the various chairmen, and reviewed the activities of the board in its various departments.

The board ends the year with a fair surplus in the treasury and a strengthened membership.

THANKS TO RETIRING OFFICERS. On motion of Mr. Farwell, seconded by Mr. Steele, the thanks of the board were extended to the retiring president and officers.

In the absence of Mr. Nicol, the newly-elected president, who is away on a holiday trip South, Mr. McKee took the chair. He asked for the hearty co-operative support of all in the year's work.

Calf Weaner

The two arms of this weaner support a metal shield or apron which prevents the calf from sucking. They have on their upper ends hollow metal balls which engage the septum of the nose without excessive pressure. One arm is fixed, the other swings and is held by a leaf spring.

67

(Kees Manufacturing Co., Beatrice, Nebraska. U.S. Patent 1,268,253.)

Silo Chute

The common silo chutes are placed over the silo doors and the operator must ascend and descend through the chute. This invention provides a fixed chute at one side of the doors, and a movable hopper for carrying the silage to the chute.

(E. A. Franklin, Austin, Texas. U.S. Patent 1,217,743.)

Harness

In this harness the hame tugs, breech bands, and other parts subject to strain and abrasion, are made of metal chain covered with rubber covered fabric; the chain takes the strain, and the fabric protects the horse from contact with the chain.

69

(S. H. Brechen, Prosper, Texas. U.S. Patent 1,265,049.)

Plow

It is claimed for this machine that it breaks, harrows, and pulverizes the soil and leaves it in perfect condition for seeding. The furrow slice cut by the plow is raised onto the drum by means of a conveyor and is there pulverized by the cross bars of the drum.

(O. G. Forchheim, Rosevear, Alberta. U.S. Patent 1,281,546.)

Dough Raiser

Women who have trouble in raising their bread in cold weather will be interested in this device. It is simply one box inside of another with an air space

THE SOY BEAN HAS GREAT MANY ADVANTAGES

Will Grow on Almost Any Kind of Soil and Its Climatic Requirements are Somewhat the Same as Those of Corn.

The soy bean may be grown either for its stem and leaves as a forage plant, or for the seeds only. The only seeds are especially valuable as a stock-feed since chemical analysis has shown that they stand in the front rank in the amount of nutritive material present. The oil is used mainly for making soap, but as it is a semi-drying oil it is used to some extent as a substitute for linseed oil in certain kinds of paint. It is also used in the manufacture of linoleum.

The soy bean will grow on almost any kind of soil and its climatic requirements are somewhat the same as those of corn. On this continent it is grown for seed mainly in the south-eastern United States. As the seed is sown only after the danger of frost is over, it follows that the season in many parts of Canada is not sufficiently long for the seeds to ripen properly. However, experiments conducted at the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa during the last year have shown that there are certain early maturing varieties which are quite satisfactory.

The yield of seed per acre in the United States varies from 15 bushels in the Northern States to 40 bushels in the Southern States.

During the year 1916 seeds of two varieties were, through the kindness of the Bureau of Plant Industry at Washington, D. C., obtained for trial. These were Manchou and Black Eyebrow. They were sown in plots 16 to 12 feet each plot measuring 1-227 of an acre. The seeds were planted in five rows with intervals of 2 1/2 feet between the rows. The particular rate of sowing was not determined, the seeds being sown fairly thick, and the plants being thinned out afterwards.

The variety of Manchou was sown on May 22, 1916, and attained an average height of three feet. The plot was cut on September 25, the weight of seeds after removal from the pods being 6 pounds 14 ounces. Dr. Shutt, Dominion Chemist, analysed these seeds and found the amount of oil present to be 20.38 per cent.

The variety Black Eyebrow was sown on the same date, and attained the same average height. It was cut on the same day as Manchou and yielded 7 pounds 2 1/4 ounces of seeds with an oil content of 20.05 per cent.

If seven pounds of seed be taken as the average of the two plots and if 56 pounds be reckoned to the bushel the yield would work out at about 28 1/2 bushels per acre.

In the same year a few seeds of another variety obtained from the Botanical Garden at Nancy, France, were sown on May 29. The plants attained a height of 16 inches. The plot was harvested on September 25, the seeds being well ripened by this date. As only a few seeds of this variety were available they were given plenty of room to grow, with the result that one plant bore 185 pods, while another had 217 pods, only those pods being counted which contained one or more seeds.

In 1917 the seeds were sown on May 22 and harvested on October 3. Another sowing was made on 6th June, and these were harvested on October 9. Well-ripened seeds were obtained in both cases, the later sown plants being about 6 inches taller than those sown earlier.

In 1918 seeds of four varieties were sown on May 20, and harvested respectively on September 23, October 8, October 18, October 19.

The Balanced Ration Pays

Which one of these bacon hogs would you rather get paid for? Imperfect feeding will get you a certain amount of bacon, but it is one of the causes of soft, flabby quality. On the other hand, the use of Monarch, a properly mixed and balanced ration supplying everything the hog requires in exactly the right proportions, will get you far more bacon to take to market. Experience has shown that hogs make larger and more economical gains when fed with

Monarch Hog Feed

The quality of bacon will be firm and of good texture, which is essential if you wish to get the highest prices. Monarch Hog Feed is properly mixed and is very palatable; no single feed can equal it. Its high protein content is splendid for growth, and the nutrients are so mixed as to supply every requirement for growing pigs. It gives them stamina, energy, vigor and size.

Monarch Hog Feed makes more pork and better pork and shortens the period of fattening, thus lowering the cost of production.

ADDITIONS TO FINE HERD OF HOLSTEINS

SUTTON, Feb. 7.—(Special)—Mrs. Ogden Sweet, Breeze Hill Stock Farm, North Sutton, Que., has recently graced her fine herd of high bred Holsteins by purchasing from M. Holtley, Port Perry, Ont., a beautiful two-year-old heifer, Francy Dutchland Echo, a descendant of May Echo Sylvia, who has an official record of: Butter in seven days, 41.00 lbs.; milk in seven days, 1005.8 lbs.; milk in one day, 152.1 lbs.

This heifer has recently given birth to a fine bull calf, sired by Ormsby Jane Burke, whose two nearest dams have records that average: Butter, seven days, 38.82 lbs.; milk, 7 days, 685.00 lbs.

The sire is the oldest son of Ormsby Jane Segis Aggie, the cow that has made two records above 44.4 lbs. butter 7 days, has proved herself a marvelous milk producer and is conceded by all to be positively one of the greatest cows of the breed.

She has also purchased from J. W. Richardson, Caledonia, Ont., a fine young sire, "Sir Totilla Benorages," to replace the old herd sire, King Pontiac Pieterize C. This young herd sire is a first class individual, and the right stamp. His dam is sister of Totilla of Riverside, ex-champion R. of P. 24,094 lbs. milk and 1,057 lbs. butter in one year. The combination of these great strains on both sides should make a herd hard to beat on this continent.

HOMEMAKERS CLUB TO MEET NEXT THURSDAY

At the regular monthly meeting of the Lennoxville Homemakers' Club, which will be held on Thursday, February 13, a paper on "What has been done and what should be done for the good of our community" will be given by Mr. W. G. McDougall.

In connection with the death of Mrs. MacFarlane, of Macdonald College, through which the Homemakers' Clubs have lost a valued friend, a resolution of sympathy will be drawn up at this meeting. This will be signed by the officers of the four clubs of Sherbrooke County, and a framed copy sent to Macdonald College and to Mrs. MacFarlane's aged mother, Mrs. Fisher.

In Experiment III, at Kentville, N. S., on a sandy loam soil, a plot was treated to 215 pounds of fish scrap, 233 pounds of acid phosphate and 100 pounds of muriate of potash per acre in preparation for an oat crop in the year 1914 and yielded 57.3 bushels of grain. Another plot, similarly fertilized, received ground limestone at the rate of 2,000 pounds per acre, and yielded 66.2 bushels of grain per acre—an increase of 8.9 bushels of grain due to the liming. In the second year (1915) of the rotation the fertilized but unlimed plot produced two tons, 467½ lbs. of clover and timothy hay per acre, while the fertilized and limed plot yielded three tons, 760 pounds of hay per acre, an increase of 1 ton, 192½ pounds due to the liming. In the fall of 1915 the strong growth of clover aftermath on the limed plot made it stand out in striking contrast to the others in the series.

A MOTHER'S STRENGTH

Mother, whose hands rock the cradle, often needs more than ordinary food to help maintain the blood-quality and strength and to assure adequate nourishment to the child. It is as unwise for the mother, as it is dangerous to the child, to place dependence upon alcoholic stimulation, for strength is not found in alcohol.

MAGOG

Mr. Charles Styan arrived home from England this week, looking as hale and hearty as when he left four years and a half ago, for he is one of the few who went over with the First Contingent, and who has seen the fight from start to finish. He was wounded during the early part of the war, but his wound has completely healed, so that he was capable of doing duty in some capacity or other throughout the four years and a half.

Sunday last was Communion Sunday at the Methodist Church, a special feature being the fact that there were thirty-six new members added to the Church Roll.

Rev. and Mrs. T. Roy, of Richmond, were the guests of friends in town for a few days and incidentally to attend the opening of the pipe organ at the Methodist Church.

Mr. G. Manning was in town for a few days visiting his mother, Mrs. C. Manning. Mr. Manning has for several years been employed in the United States as a salesman for a polish manufacturing concern, and for a time was in the U. S. Navy. Since the cessation of hostilities and return to civil life, he has taken up his old position, covering Ontario and Quebec.

A Fine Opening Organ Recital. The opening of the Pipe Organ at the Methodist Church on Thursday evening, January 30th, will go down into the annals of Magog as being among its chief musical events. It has long been the aspiration of the congregation to install a pipe organ, and these aspirations have at last culminated into a realization, for during the summer and fall of 1918, an addition at the rear of the church was completed and an organ installed therein.

The planning of the programme was also the result of considerable forethought, resulting in an exceptional production by the choir director and organist of the Knox-Crescent Presbyterian Church, Prof. C. Versal Chamberlain, an old Magog boy, who has never lost sight of his home church and associations. He was especially fitted through both ability and sentiment to take charge of this opening event, and was assisted by vocal artists from Montreal and the local choir. Those accompanying Mr. Chamberlain from Montreal were, Miss Bussey, soprano; Miss Mitchell, contralto; Mr. Atkinson, tenor.

As it was realized that the capacity of the church would be packed to accommodate those attending the event, chairs were requisitioned and accommodation thus provided. The program started promptly on time and consisted as follows:

Sonata No 1 (Borowski); Allegro Andante (Finale), by Mr. Chamberlain; chorus, "Awake up in Glory," (Rogers), by the choir; soprano solo, "These are They," (Gaul), from "The Holy City," by Miss Bussey; "In the morning," (Greig), and "A Tear," (Moussorgsky) by Mr. Chamberlain; chorus, "From Egypt's Bondage Came," by the choir; "Hear our prayer," (Abbott) by Misses Bussey, Mitchell and Mr. Atkinson; duet, "Love Divine" (Stainer) from "The Daughter of Jarius" by Miss Bussey and Mr. Atkinson; Homeric (Dvorak) and Prelude (Rachmaninoff) by Mr. Chamberlain; "With Vendure clad," soprano solo from "The Creation," by Miss Bussey; "By the Waters of Babylon," (Howell), by Mr. Atkinson; "War March of the Priests," (Mendelssohn) by Mr. Chamberlain; chorus, "Ho, Exultation," (Macfarlane) by Mr. Atkinson and Miss Bussey and the choir; God Save the King.

At the close of the programme the choir and visitors from Montreal and one or two others held a social hour in the Church Parlor.

In addition to housing the pipe organ, the new annex also provides room for a Church Parlor and Class Room for the Sunday School Classes, so that the various classes now either have special rooms of their own or sections in various parts of the Church allotted to them. These have been or are being decorated especially for those who will occupy them, these latter improvements all tending to make the Church and its various departments all the more home-like and cozy.

The dance and oyster supper at Mr. Edward McKelvey's on Saturday evening drew a large company, several double teamloads coming from Magog.

Mr. Charles Buzzell was quite seriously injured last week by falling backward from a high pile of logs.

Heart Patpitated Could Count Every Beat.

When the heart begins to palpitate, it will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over your whole system, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells.

When the heart gets into this condition, you become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social, business or household duties.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief to all sufferers from any heart weakness or nerve derangements.

Mrs. Walter Grieves, Aspley, Ont., writes:—"I had been run down, and doctors told me I was anemic, but did not help me with their medicines. I could not sleep nights, my heart palpitated so, and I could count every beat."

I used to have such dizzy spells I would have to go to bed. I was not able to do any work for eight months. A cousin of mine had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and told me what they had done for her. I took eight boxes of them, and now I am able to help every day with the work. I am so thankful to tell others what they have done for me, so that they may try this great and wonderful remedy. I hope this may prove good to some one who is suffering the way I did."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Common garden Sage and Sulphur makes streaked, faded or gray hair dark and youthful at once.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

MILBY

The January meeting of Wilby W.C.T.U. was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Ernest Hetherington. The attendance was small, owing to so much sickness. However, one new member was added and several visitors were present. Several selections were read from the "Bulletin" and the subscription renewed. A good collection was taken for the flower mission. Hymns were sung and plans made to go on with the quilt work. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by other ladies. The February meeting will be held on the 10th at the home of Mrs. C. E. Libbey. Mrs. Broadbent will give a paper on Frances Willard. The Flower Mission collection will still be open for those who did not contribute in January. The Union will contribute $5 to the Salvation Army fund, proceeds of social evening held at Ives Hill school on Wednesday evening, January 29. Rev. Williams acted as chairman and contributed two songs. Mr. A. W. Bradley amused the company in his usual manner with "Habitant" selections. Mrs. Carson, of Moe's River school, also assisted with music, and we were honored by the presence of Mr. Wm. Luce, a returned soldier. A pleasant evening was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

The W.C.T.U. Society met with Mrs. McLean on Tuesday afternoon. There is a meeting called to appoint a committee to meet the returned soldiers.

Pte. Jackson arrived here last week from overseas.

GREENLAY

Word has been received from Vancouver, B.C., of the death of Mrs. Julia Moore Greenlay, who passed away on January 28 at the home of her son, Mr. Geo. L. Greenlay, after a long illness. Mrs. Greenlay was born in Greenlay, Que., September, 1848, and was the widow of the late Mr. John Greenlay, who predeceased her nine years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Greenlay were residents of this place for a number of years, and moved west in 1882 and made their home at Pipestone, Man. Their children, eight sons and three daughters, lived to grow up, one son dying while a young man, while another son died of wounds received at the battle of Vimy Ridge about two years ago. Their eldest son lives in Bury, Que., and the other members of the family reside in the Western Provinces. The funeral was held at Vancouver, and the interment made beside her husband, whose death also took place in that city.

Mr. Albert Moore, of the Royal Bank staff, Montreal, has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Moore, and left Tuesday, accompanied by his brother, Mr. H. A. Moore, for Martinville, where they will visit relatives and friends.

Mr. L. Cass, of Sherbrooke, was the guest of his sister-in-law, Miss Mary Pierce, recently.

Mr. Frank Young, who has been quite ill for the past two weeks, is able to be up and around the house again.

Mrs. H. D. Moore went to Sherbrooke on Tuesday.

SAWYERVILLE

The W.M.S. held a very interesting public meeting on Sunday evening last, February 2. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. R. Burgoyne. Appropriate missionary hymns were sung, including a solo by Mrs. R. W. Montgomery, a very interesting Scripture reading by Mrs. R. S. Cairns, and a paper on China was given by Mrs. F. Williams, a paper on Japan by Miss Embury, also a short paper on "Sacrificial Giving" by Mrs. Fred French. Mrs. Burgoyne gave a very interesting and instructive address on the general work of the W.M.S. at home and in the foreign field, and closed with a very touching appeal to the women of the church to give of their time, their talents and money to this great work, which all are so interested in.

The next regular monthly meeting of the W.M.S. will be held at the Parsonage on Tuesday afternoon, February 11, at 2.30 o'clock. Subject, "Medical Missions."

Carnival Well Attended. The carnival held Saturday evening proved quite a success. Although the weather was not very agreeable, quite a number attended. The Sawyerville Band was in attendance. The following is a list of some of the skaters in costume. Prizes were given to the two best costumes. Miss Embury won the ladies' and Cyril Thompson that for the gentlemen.

Ladies—Misses Grady and Miss Swail, Two Little Girls in Blue; Miss Embury, Boopie; Miss Mildred Swail, Spanish Lady; Miss B. Hunt, Witch; Eva Hodge, Witch; G. DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

A small bottle of "Danderine" keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful.

Girls! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in a few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Kaywilton's Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KID-NEYS AND NEUTRALIZE IR-RITATING ACIDS.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which they act normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

Creating Opportunities for Employment

BESIDES helping to distribute employment through a chain of Employment Offices, the Government has developed plans to create opportunities for employment.

Briefly, these plans cover the following phases:—

1. Public Works

During the war, many important Public Works have been held up. The Minister of Public Works, has his plans and preparations made to proceed with the more necessary of these in the near future. This Committee has also been in touch with Provincial Governments and Municipalities, with a view to impressing upon them the necessity for similar action. The building and public works programme now in sight will provide employment for many returned soldiers and war-workers.

2. Railways

During the past four years, a great deal of work necessary to keep our railways up to standard has been postponed. Some millions of dollars must be expended on improving road-bed, constructing bridges, buildings and other improvements. Vast quantities of ties are being got out this winter. Equipment of various kinds must be secured. The Minister of Railways states that as soon as weather conditions will permit, some thousands of men will be absorbed in various railway undertakings. The supplies and materials required will also provide employment.

3. Shipbuilding

The shipbuilding programme arranged for by the Government will provide employment for many men during 1919. It is expected that arrangements will be completed to keep the shipbuilding yards in active operation throughout the year. The Government recognises that this ship construction is one of the best means of providing suitable employment for many skilled and other workers.

4. Export Trade

The Government has established a Canadian Trade Commission. This Commission has an office in Canada and a "trade mission" overseas. Through this trade mission it is anticipated that Canada will secure an important share in the business of providing materials and manufactured products required for reconstruction work in Europe. A short time may be required before final details are completed and definite results are announced. The business so secured will be distributed through the regular channels of trade and thus afford extra opportunities for employment.

5. Housing

The Government has set aside the large sum of $25,000,000 to be loaned through the Provinces in order to encourage the building of workmen's houses. When the season for building arrives, this work should give employment to many hundreds of men both in construction work and in the supply of materials.

6. Land Settlement

The Government, as already explained in a former announcement, has developed plans to help soldiers to become farmers, providing land, granting loans and giving training and supervision where necessary. It is expected that a large number of returning soldiers will take advantage of these opportunities. The scheme will involve the expenditure of some millions of dollars, a good deal of which will find its way into building materials, supplies, machinery, etc., all of which will assist in providing employment.

7. Road Building

The Government now has under consideration the question of joining the provincial governments in financing the construction of public highways. Should a favorable decision be reached, a large field for employment opportunities will be opened up. Regardless of Federal action, provincial governments are preparing their own road-making programmes.

The Government is alive to the necessity for providing employment opportunities, and stands prepared to assist in every way possible. If corporations and private citizens will join in this feature of Repatriation Work, Canada should have little difficulty with the employment problem.

The Scarecrow Plans an Escape

TIP slipped away from the girls and followed swiftly after the Soldier with the Green Whiskers. The invading army entered the city more slowly, for they stopped to dig emeralds out of the walls and paving-stones with the points of their knitting needles. So the Soldier and the boy reached the palace before the news had spread that the city was conquered.

The Scarecrow and Jack Pumpkinhead were still playing at quoits in the courtyard when the game was interrupted by the abrupt entrance of the Royal Army of Oz, who came flying in without his hat or gun, his clothes in sad array and his long beard floating a yard behind him as he ran.

"Tally one for me," said the Scarecrow, calmly. "What's wrong, my man?" he asked, addressing the Soldier.

"Oh! your Majesty—your Majesty! The city is conquered!" gasped the Royal Army, who was all out of breath.

"This is quite sudden," said the Scarecrow. "But please go and bar all the doors and windows of the palace, while I show this Pumpkinhead how to throw a quoit."

The Soldier hastened to do this, while Tip, who had arrived at his heels remained in the courtyard to look at the Scarecrow with wondering eyes.

His Majesty continued to throw the quoits as coolly as if no danger threatened his throne, but the Pumpkinhead having caught sight of Tip, ambled towards the boy as fast as his wooden legs would go.

"Good afternoon, noble parent!" he cried, delightedly. "I'm glad to see you here. That terrible Saw-Horse ran away with me."

"I suspected it," said Tip. "Did you get hurt? Are you cracked at all?"

"No, I arrived safely," answered Jack, "and his Majesty has been very kind indeed to me."

At this moment the Soldier with the Green Whiskers returned, and the Scarecrow asked:

"By the way, who has conquered me?"

"A regiment of girls, gathered from the four corners of the Land of Oz," replied the Soldier, still pale with fear.

"But where was my Standing Army at the time?" inquired his Majesty, looking at the Soldier, gravely.

"Your Standing Army was running," answered the fellow, honestly; "for no man could face the terrible weapons of the invaders."

"Well," said the Scarecrow, after a moment's thought. "I don't mind much the loss of my throne, for it's a tiresome job to rule over the Emerald City. And this crown is so heavy that it makes my head ache. But I hope the Conquerors have no intention of injuring me, just because I happen to be the King."

"I heard them say," remarked Tip, with some hesitation, "that they intend to make a rag carpet of your pieces."

The Scarecrow sighed.

"In an emergency," he announced, "it is always a good thing to pause and reflect. Please excuse me while I pause and reflect."

"But we also are in danger," said the Pumpkinhead, anxiously. "If any of these girls understand cooking, my end is not far off."

"Nonsense!" exclaimed the Scarecrow. "they're too busy to cook, even if they know how!"

"But should I remain here a prisoner for any length of time," protested Jack, "I'm liable to spoil."

"Ah! then you would not be fit to associate with," returned the Scarecrow. "The matter is more serious than I suspected."

"You," said the Pumpkinhead, gloomily, "are liable to live for many years. My life is necessarily short. So outside and stuff their sofa-cushions with your inside."

"Then I am really in danger," declared his Majesty, positively, "and it will be wise for me to consider a means of escape."

"Where can you go?" asked Jack Pumpkinhead.

"Why, to my friend the Tin Woodman, who rules over the Winkies, and calls himself their Emperor."

Tip was looking out of the window.

"The palace is surrounded by the enemy," said he. "It is too late to escape. They would soon tear you to pieces."

"I must take advantage of the few days that remain to me."

"There, there! Don't worry," answered the Scarecrow, soothingly; "if you'll keep quiet long enough for me to think, I'll try to find some way for us all to escape."

So the others waited in patient silence while the Scarecrow walked to a corner and stood with his back to the wall for a good five minutes. At the end of that time he faced them with a more cheerful expression upon his painted face.

"Where is the Saw-Horse you rode here?" he asked the Pumpkinhead.

"Why, I said he was a jewel, and upon the Saw-Horse admiringly.

"Then, hearing us upon his back, he must make a dash through the ranks of the rebels and carry us to my friend the Tin Woodman," announced the Scarecrow.

"He can't carry four!" objected Tip.

"No, but he may be induced to carry three," said his Majesty. "I shall therefore leave my Royal Army behind. For, from the ease with which he was conquered, I have little confidence in his powers."

"Still, he can run," declared Tip laughing.

"I expected this blow," said the Soldier, sulkily; "but I can bear it. I shall disguise myself by cutting off my lovely green whiskers. And, after all, it is no more dangerous to face those reckless girls than to ride this fiery, untamed wooden horse!"

"Perhaps you are right," observed his Majesty. "But, for my part, not being a soldier, I am fond of danger. Now, my boy, you must mount first. And please sit as close to the horse's neck as possible."

Tip climbed quickly to his place, and the Soldier and the Scarecrow managed to hoist the Pumpkinhead to a seat just behind them. There remained so little space for the King that he was liable to fall off as soon as the horse started.

"Fetch a clothesline," said the King to his Army. "and tie us all together. Then if one falls off we will all fall off."

And while the Soldier was gone for the clothesline his Majesty continued "it is well for me to be careful, for my very existence is in danger."

"I have to be as careful as you do," said Jack.

"Not exactly," replied the Scarecrow; "for if anything happened to me, that would be the end of me. But if anything happened to you, they could use you for seed."

The Soldier now returned with a long line and tied all three firmly together, also lashing them to the body of the Saw-Horse; so there seemed little danger of their tumbling off.

"Now throw open the gates," commanded the Scarecrow, "and we will make a dash to liberty or to death."

The army in which they were standing was located in the centre of the great palace, which surrounded it on all sides. But in one place a passage led to an outer gateway, which the soldier had barred by order of his sovereign. It was through this gateway his Majesty proposed to escape, and the Royal Army now led the Saw-Horse along the passage and unbarred the gate, which swung backward with a loud crash.

"Now," said Tip to the horse, "you must save us all. Run as fast as you can for the gate of the City, and don't let anything stop you."

"All right!" answered the Saw-Horse, gruffly, and dashed away so suddenly that Tip had to gasp for breath and hold firmly to the post he had driven into the creature's neck.

Several of the girls, who stood outside guarding the palace, were knocked over by the Saw-Horse's mad rush. Others ran screaming out of the way, and only one or two jabbed their knitting-needles frantically at the escaping prisoners. Tip got one small prick in his left arm, which smarted for an hour afterward; but the needles had no effect upon the Scarecrow or Jack Pumpkinhead, who never even suspected they were being poked.

As for the Saw-Horse, he made a wonderful record, upsetting a fruit cart, overturning several meek looking men, and finally bowling over the new Guardian of the Gate—a fussy little fat woman appointed by General Jinjur.

Nor did the impetuous charger stop then. Once outside the walls of the Emerald City he dashed along the road to the West with fast and violent leaps that shook the breath out of the boy, and filled the Scarecrow with wonder.

Jack had ridden at this mad rate once before, so he devoted every effort to holding, with both hands, his pumpkin head upon its stick, enduring meantime the dreadful jolting with the courage of a philosopher.

"Slow him up! Slow him up!" shouted the Scarecrow. "My straw is all shaking down into my legs."

But Tip had no breath to speak, so the Saw-Horse continued his wild career unchecked and with unabated speed.

Presently they came to the banks of a wide river, and without a pause the wooden steed gave one final leap and launched them all in mid-air.

A second later they were rolling, splashing and bobbing about in the water, the horse struggling frantically to find a rest for its feet and its riders being first plunged beneath the rapid current and then floating upon the surface like corks.

Next Story: "The Journey to the Tin Woodman," in which the four travellers manage to reach the opposite bank of the river in safety and start to go through a part of the country which was once inhabited by dangerous Winged Monkeys. Are the Monkeys still there, or is their journey peaceful and uninterrupted? The next installment will tell you.

Nor did the impetuous charger stop then. Once outside the walls of the Emerald City he dashed along the road to the West with fast and violent leaps that shook the breath out of the boy, and filled the Scarecrow with wonder.

Jack had ridden at this mad rate once before, so he devoted every effort to holding, with both hands, his pumpkin head upon its stick, enduring meantime the dreadful jolting with the courage of a philosopher.

"Slow him up! Slow him up!" shouted the Scarecrow. "My straw is all shaking down into my legs."

But Tip had no breath to speak, so the Saw-Horse continued his wild career unchecked and with unabated speed.

Presently they came to the banks of a wide river, and without a pause the wooden steed gave one final leap and launched them all in mid-air.

A second later they were rolling, splashing and bobbing about in the water, the horse struggling frantically to find a rest for its feet and its riders being first plunged beneath the rapid current and then floating upon the surface like corks.

Next Story: "The Journey to the Tin Woodman," in which the four travellers manage to reach the opposite bank of the river in safety and start to go through a part of the country which was once inhabited by dangerous Winged Monkeys. Are the Monkeys still there, or is their journey peaceful and uninterrupted? The next installment will tell you.

Lantic Old Fashioned Brown Sugar

There is nothing better for the school child's lunch, and the addition of a red apple makes it perfect. Many people have forgotten how good old-fashioned brown sugar tastes. It is more than mere "sweetening"; it is a deliciously flavored and highly nutritious food. It gives a new zest to cereals and makes plain old-fashioned dishes as appetizing as they used to be in the days of our ancestors.

Lantic Brown Sugars come in three varieties—Light Brilliant and Dark Yellow and are packed in bbls. and 100-lb. bags, from which your grocer will give you as much or as little as you want.

Send 2c. stamp for our new booklet "Grandmother's Recipes". Tells how to use brown sugar and how to keep it fresh and moist.
