MAYOR THANKS CITY FOR AID IN LOAN

City Objective Nearly Reached In Victory Loan

Salesmen Report Increase In Number of Subscribers Over Last Year

Members of the staff at unit headquarters of the Victory Loan at Greene Avenue were all in good fettle yesterday as last-minute buyers helped salesmen nearer to their objective.

Counted in dollars this year's effort far exceeds that of last year, and the number of subscribers is increased by nearly six hundred persons.

All sorts of "lines" and "leads" have been used to encourage the dilatory.

A bank manager phoned Mr. McKenna to say that a subscription had been handed in at his bank and the applicant had marked "Yes" in answer to the question as to whether it could be reported to the War Finance Committee.

The manager remarked that the subscriber in question, Miss Nancy K. G. Spiers—who has just joined the Wrens—has no doubt agreed to have her purchase of $450—mentioned for the sake of aiding the Committee through publicity if they so desired.

Then among the "selling lines" one man has discovered that the "No Bonds, No Beer" talk went over well.

Mr. McKenna quoted one as saying "I bring in the Liquor Control Policy to help. I tell people that I enjoy a bottle of beer, a cocktail, a glass of sherry, or a 'shot' or two of rye, on occasions, just about as much as any one does, and I don't do any 'pussyfooting' about it. But if prohibition of liquor or anything else for the duration, or a 'No Bonds, No Beer' Liquor Control Policy will help provide more money and more munitions to 'Back the Attack' and help shorten the war, it's O.K. with me."

"What right have we here at home, to enjoy an abundance of almost everything, if we're not ready, willing and eager to lend to our limit to 'Back the Attack' of those whose readiness to give their all, for so little, has assured this abundance for us?"

"It's bonds or bondage. That's your choice. Get down on your knees, instead, and thank God you're living in a country where you still have the privilege of lending your money to support those who are fighting for you."

And the salesman declared this talk always worked.

Air Cadet Model Planes Now on Exhibition in City

Examples of Original Work Showing at Third Annual Exhibition at Pascal's

During the past few days passers-by were struck by the crowds of grown-ups, boys of all sizes and ages and even schoolgirls—all grouped around a window of a store on Sherbrooke street, just east of Victoria avenue.

On close inspection the reason for the presence of the crowds was easily seen—a marvelous display of model aeroplanes were on view in the window of the store—for the Third Annual Air Cadet Model Aeroplane exhibition had opened at the sponsors—the J. Pascal Hardware Company at 4827 Sherbrooke street.

The top-ranking Air Cadet winners of the third annual Air-Cadet Model Aeroplane contest sponsored by the J. Pascal Hardware Co. of Westmount, will receive "Flips" in one of the Famous "Harvards" of the R.C.A.F. with the co-operation of R. B. C. Noor-Edyn. Those Cadets awarded flights are: Air Cadet Flight Sergeant Glen McGee, No. 1 Westmount Squadron, 51 Thornhill avenue, Westmount; Air Cadet Bob Evans, Westhill High School Squadron, 96 Easton Avenue, Montreal West; Air Cadet Gordon Hubbell, No. 240, Montreal High School Squadron 2083 Marlowe avenue; Air Cadet Cpl. Jim McMurray, No. 3 Catholic High School Squadron, 3833 Marcell Ave.; Air Cadet David Rosenberg, No. 72 Westhill High School Squadron, 4960 Hingston avenue.

Special prizes were awarded to Air Cadet Donald Duckworth, No. 119 Point Claire Squadron for his fifteen magnificently-built RCAF Aircraft Recognition Models; and to Ken Barry Condon, of Federal Aircraft Ltd., and veteran model builder, for a scale model in fine detail of the Martin B24 Marauder Bomber.

The committee of judges was made up of Squadron Leader, Flying-Officer J. M. Stirling, Plt. Sgt. Bouliane and Plt. Sgt. Lewis of No. 3 Training Command, R.C.A.F.; Squadron Leader H. P. Illsley, C.O.; No. 1 Westmount Squadron, and Flight Lieutenant J. Venis, C.O. No. 78 Squadron. Navigation Instructor Jack M. Pierce acted as chairman.

Also present were Cecil Pascal, Flying Officer L. P. Patterson, Technical Officer of No. 1 Westmount Squadron, and D. L. Asch, vice president of Asch Signs Inc.

Unable to be present, due to urgent war business, was W. R. J. Oliver, President of Curtiss Reid Flying Service, who, with S/L Illsley and Mr. Pierce founded the contest three years ago under the sponsorship of the Pascal Co.

Cpl. Joe Richman, now of the RCAF, was also present at the judging, and Air Vice-Marshal A. H. de Niverville was represented by Flight Lieutenant Skelcher.

R. Jack's Portrait Of Mayor Merrill Seen At Exhibition

Celebrities, Landscapes and Flowers Formed Exhibits at Show

The portrait of Mayor Walter Merrill in his advocate's robes, which Richard Jack has been painting for the City Hall, was one of the most striking examples of the artist's work shown at the exhibition held during the last few days in the galleries of the Montreal Art Association, Sherbrooke street.

The portrait is head and shoulders—life-size—and the mayor is looking out of the picture full face, while a slight turn of the shoulders and a clever management of the robes, give a certain movement to the whole composition. Incidentally Mayor Merrill is not wearing his glasses and looks well and very much alive.

Portraits of Sir Frederick Bowerhill and Madame Chang, the Chinese aviator, were among other "celebrities" in the show along with some excellent studies of mountains, landscapes and one of Mr. Jack's specially successful flower studies.

Mr. Jack, who has been suffering from arthritis is now convalescent.

Local "Y" Leads In Social Work For Service Men

Analysis of Numbers Shows Large Figures Prove Statement

One of the outstanding social organizations in Eastern Canada in relation to their work for men of the armed forces is Westmount YMCA. "Y" is the description of the "Y" given by C. A. Smith, chairman of the Board of Management at the annual meeting which was held recently.

Mr. Smith backed up this claim with figures showing that Westmount Y.M.C.A. has given its various facilities and entertained 43,967 servicemen in the past year and 251,978 since the war began. Mr. Smith also pointed out how the "Y" contributes to world progress by quoting Wendell Willkie's tribute to Christian organizations' work in China when he returned to America after his world trip not long ago.

The annual meeting brought out the information that 410 members of the branch are now on active service and 28 have given their lives. The outstanding activities of the branch in the past year were noted. These include regular weekly dances for servicemen, supper for servicemen, home nursing course, St. John's first aid course, H-Y conference, hobby show, summer vacation club, country camp, cafeteria service, accommodation for servicemen, and co-operation with many local organizations in various civic enterprises.

John Lewis, chairman of the boys' work committee spoke on the importance of boys' work in war-time, with so many families disrupted and home life upset.

A nominating committee including W. E. Cooper, John F. Lewis and J. G. Atkinson presented the following men as members of the board of management for the coming year: D. L. Adams, E. Allison, J. G. Atkinson, D. O. Bregner, W. E. Cooper, C. L. Copland, W. S. Gilpin, H. J. Griswold, Dr. G. A. Holland, B. H. Johnston, J. P. Lewis, T. D. Lewis, C. T. Medlar, A. H. Ransom, Brodie Shearer, C. A. Smith, R. T. Somers, I. R. Tait, L. W. Townsend, P. Wearing.

Civic Holiday

The City Hall, Public Library and all Municipal Buildings will be closed next Monday—Empire Day.

AND SO DOES WASHINGTON

Westmount goes cycling—according to figures announced by "The Examiner" last week showing that 650 bicycle licenses were issued by the city last year.

Life, Mystery and The Future Discussed By The Rev. J. Johnston

Preacher Talks On Ultimate Values as Shown in Various Parts of Bible

"The Mystery of the Life to Come," was the title of a sermon given by the Rev. J. A. Johnston in Westmount Baptist Church last Sunday.

That evening the choir was giving a series of choruses from the Requiem of Brahms and in opening his sermon Dr. Johnston linked his subject with that of the work of the composer.

"My message tonight is in the nature of a sermon prelude to a musical program," said Dr. Johnston. "The recital to be rendered by the choir covers a series of choruses from the Requiem by Brahms. In the Requiem, the composer who is something of a mystic as well as a master musician, uses passages of scripture which concern the mystery of the transition from the life that now is to the life which is to come. I speak therefore of the Mystery of the Future Life."

"So far as I am concerned," continued Dr. Johnston, "I am grateful for the mystery of things. I should not like to live in a world that had nothing of the mysterious. Perhaps the most awful thing about perfection is that there men will know the terrible truth unsoftened by the kindly drapes of mystery. I say I am grateful for the mystery of things, but mark you, I am not thereby seeking to put a premium upon ignorance, superstition or credulity. All I am trying to say is that even to the most scholarly, cultured or enlightened, there is still a great deal of life and experience that is wreathed in the veiled robes of mystery. Since then, there is so much mystery about the life that is—mystery in its temptations and its heartaches. It is not surprising that there should be a still greater measure of mystery about the life that is to come. The veil however is lifted here and there, so that we

G. R. Stephen Wins L.C.C. Scholarship

A Roslyn School boy, George Roberts Stephen, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Stephen, 655 Victoria avenue, has just won a Lower Canada scholarship for entrance into Form IIIA.

This now makes two L.C.C. scholarships in the Stephen family, for the second boy, George Macdonald, a pupil of the Intermediate School, captured one last year.

Now the youngest, Donald Ross, 10, who is at Roslyn, hopes to follow the example of his brothers and will write an examination next year.

The members of the interviewing committee for the scholarship awards said "The standard reached by these boys had been uniformly high, and it was with some difficulty that the committee made their final award."

Stamp Club Meet And Quiz Tonight

The members of the Westmount Stamp Club will have another "Quiz Contest" at to-night's meeting. These contests are extremely interesting and hold the attention of the members.

Last week the club held a Red Cross Auction and a "True or False" contest which was won by S. R. Groves.

The club will hold what will probably be the last "Members' Auction" of this season next Thursday night.

To-night's meeting as usual will be held in the Oak Room in Victoria Hall and will get underway at eight-fifteen o'clock.

SNOW HEAPS WILL DISPERSE

Persons passing through the Glen have gazed at the high mound of blackened snow and wondered how and when it will disappear. There is also quite a lot of snow on Murray Park, but the City authorities state that the matter is in hand and before long both heaps will disappear.

Issue Of Coupons For Canning Sugar Is Now Under Way

Volunteers Will Work—Amusing Incident Quoted

The Local Ration Board M-2 has allotted sugar for home canning to residents of Westmount, Montreal West, Hampstead and Côte St. Luc, who applied on the forms provided for this purpose in the No. 2 Ration Book.

The distribution is based on thirteen pounds per person, but it will vary from ten to thirteen pounds per person owing to the coupons being in denominations of five pounds. If application was made for less than thirteen pounds per person, then the amount applied for has been reduced to the next lowest multiple of five in order to agree with the coupons.

The work of issuing the coupons is now under way and they will be mailed not later than June 1st to those who have made application. The work of making up, addressing and mailing the coupons is to be carried out by a staff of volunteer workers under the supervision of Mrs. B. A. Strike. The work is somewhat tedious, but the monotony is broken for those who have a sense of humour by incidents such as the following letter:

"Dear Sirs:—

The number of quarts of jam and canned fruit, to be made from my request of 17 lbs. of sugar, was arrived at as follows:

First I weighed the contents of one quart of last season's jam, result 3 lbs.; then one quart of canned fruit, 2 1/4 lbs.

As my Algebra days are long passed, I threw the whole mess into my husband's lap, and the following is what he made of it:

First the canned fruit: Let x equal sugar

then 2x equals fruit

2x plus x equals two and half

therefore 3x equals two and a quarter pounds that is x equals three quarters of a pound per quart of canned fruit.

Now the jam: three-quarters x equals sugar

then x equals fruit

Three quarters x plus x equals three pounds or 3x plus 4x equals three (See ISSUE, Page 3)

Weredale House Gives Good Future To Homeless Boys

Most Democratic Institution Reports Good Year and Well-Deserved Support From Citizens

About one hundred boys from Weredale House will leave town for their summer home next month—the Weredale Boys' Camp at Lake L'Achigan near Shawbridge in the Laurentians.

They will spend ten weeks there and those boys who have jobs will take their holidays in the camp.

Scouting, hiking and outdoor life designed to build up the health of the boys will take place all summer. There will be twenty-four hour trips when the boys go off on their own, doing their own cooking and learning to be self-sufficient.

Library Exhibit For Polish Week Will Be On Show

Four Hundredth Anniversary of Copernicus' Death to Be Commemorated

Next Monday is the four hundredth anniversary of the death of Copernicus, the famous Polish astronomer who was mainly responsible for changing the popular idea that the sun moved round the world. This event will be celebrated all over the Dominion at the request of the Canadian "Friends of Poland Society" of which Lawrence Burpee is chairman.

Schools and libraries have been asked to organize a "Polish Week" in which works on Poland and writings of famous Poles will be displayed for the information of scholars and readers.

In accordance with this request, Miss Kathleen Jenkins, City Librarian, is having a number of books set out on the counter in the circulation hall and the week will date from next Tuesday evening to the closing of the Library for Empire Day.

Among the selections will be "Madame Curie" by her daughter Eve Curie, "Lives of Paderewski and Marshall Pilsudski"—the latter known as "The Maker of Poland" after the last war.

The works of Joseph Conrad will also be featured and among the more modern books will be "My Name is Millicent" by a Polish woman who, of necessity, had to remain anonymous, "Flight to Freedom" by B. Padewicz and the "Black Book of Poland" which latter is a publication of the Polish Ministry of Information.

"We want to give them every chance to become healthy and independent citizens," V. F. McAdams, secretary-manager of Weredale House told the "Examiner." "And this annual camp life is the best thing we can offer them."

A DEMOCRATIC LIFE

Weredale House, one of the leading organizations based on truly democratic lines, lives up to its object "to provide a home for any boy between the ages of 11 and 18 years who would otherwise be homeless, irrespective of creed, colour, or condition."

Seventy-eight boys were admitted last year, eighty-four were placed in jobs with a view to permanent employment, fourteen already working, got an increase in wages, and twenty-five were placed in temporary work.

Samuel M. Baylis, one of the original founders of the home in 1870, died last year and left a small bequest for the Endowment Fund and other bequests were $5,000 from the estate of the late Colonel George R. Hooper, and $8,000 from the estate of the late Charles W. Lindsay.

The Rotary Club of Westmount gave some help towards ground improvements and the Stokes Estate provided an addition to the kitchen. Among those who gave boats for the camp were Arthur H. Campbell, Norman Holland, Dr. Robert Ogilvie and special gifts were received from Mrs. Frank Horner, Dr. A. J. Martin and C. D. Rutherford.

An excellent report was received from the Medical officer who said there was no serious illness either at the Home or in the camp.

PRIZE GIVING HELD

Proficiency prizes were awarded recently for work in the winter classes. These were presented at a concert in the Auditorium at the Home in Weredale Park, given by the "Legion Troubadours," under the joint direction of Earl Hogarth and Jack Thomson.

Shield For Sportsmanship Given to B. B. 1st Company

Boys Honored for Enterprise Shown in Regard to Competitions This Session

The Montreal Battalion Review and Display took place on Saturday afternoon in the Black Watch Armoury when Lt. Col. W. E. MacFarlane reviewed the companies assembled. This was one of the most successful showings of the season and in the programme which followed, boys of the 1st company entered the Platoon Drill competition, commanding a close second. Their band also performed in the tattoo, this time, up to full strength and able to give a wide variety of melodies.

During the presentation of Battalion Awards, F. Bramley, Vice-President of the Battalion commended the boys on their splendid performance and stressed the importance of their remaining in the Brigade as long as possible that they might derive the benefits from such efficient training.

The 1st Company were highly praised for their sportsmanship, having entered all competitions this session and while not taking any first places, they were not discouraged but ready to enter again on future occasions, when the challenges are re-opened. For this splendid manifestation of sportsmanship, a shield was awarded to the company, the presentation being made by Mr. Bramley, Sergeant Edwin Goring went forward to receive the award.

The Company are happy to welcome T. W. Ritchie as a new officer to the unit. Mr. Ritchie, formerly Lieutenant of the 8th Company will take up a Lieutenantancy with the "1st" and handle all drill work, specializing in the development of a precision squad. Lieut. Ritchie comes to the company with a rich experience of over twenty-five years in Boys' Brigade work.

On May 20th, the Battalion will hold their Jubilee Church parade to St. James United Church on which occasion Rev. Dr. F. W. Norwood will deliver the special Jubilee message.

The company is now making an effort to obtain wall or bell tents for the small boys to take to camp.

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, MAY 20, 1943

HONOUR FOR MR. MATHEWSON

ADVICE THAT Hon. J. Arthur Mathewson, K.C., Provincial Treasurer and Member of the Legislative Assembly from Notre Dame de Grace, is to receive the degree of LL.D. at the annual Spring Convocation of McGill University, will be warmly welcomed by local residents. Mr. Mathewson is the type of man found only too seldom among our elected representatives: capable, fearless, and actuated only by a genuine desire to serve his fellow citizens. The word "politics" covers a lot of activity for much of which he has little use, and he leaves to subordinates most of the less important duties which members are called upon to discharge. He was persuaded to relinquish a brilliant legal career to put the tangled finances of the Province in shape, the appeal to his sense of public duty prevailing where other arguments would have failed. He has devoted himself unstintingly to his task, and the sound condition to which the finances of Quebec have been restored is the result.

Mr. Mathewson was educated at McGill, and took several years of post-graduate work in Paris. He speaks and writes French as fluently as he does his native tongue. He is a veteran of the first Great War, was wounded in action, and returned to Canada with the rank of Captain. Once before he was persuaded to enter the rough and tumble of a political campaign—to oppose the mayoral aspirations of Camille Houde. At that time his sense of public duty was also appealed to, but although he received more than a fair proportion of the vote of the French population, the English ridings turned him down. They have had cause to regret it.

We know our readers will join us in extending congratulations to Mr. Mathewson upon the honour to be conferred upon him—an honour which has been well and worthily won.

THE POTATO SHORTAGE

A FACT generally overlooked in the current discussion about the shortage of potatoes to be put back into the ground this spring as seed potatoes. For some months past the government has been encouraging growers to put more acreage into potatoes this year and has provided the advice of experts to those willing to go into potato growing in a big way. The response has been good, it seems with the heavy consequent demand on the available supply.

The whole situation is linked up with the Battle of the Atlantic and the provision of food for the British Isles and our armed services overseas. We have developed in Canada a method whereby potatoes can be dehydrated and compressed in such a manner that a small brick of the processed spuds, a brick almost small enough to put into a coat pocket, contains enough potatoes for an average meal for twenty-four persons. Next autumn, the greater part of the crop, now being planted will be processed for possible shipment abroad. This is just another way of beating the submarine.

GOOD WILL AMBASSADORS

SCATTERED UP and down the Dominion are some thousands of exiled boys and girls, the great majority of whom have learned to love Canadians and to appreciate a new way of life.

Many of these children from England, Scotland and Wales came to Canada during the most impressionable years of their life. Some have reached adolescence and will soon be ready to take their place in the world. Others already have joined the fighting forces.

What has Canada meant to them? From the war-blitzed "tight little island" to the wide expanses of the Dominion was surely a remarkable transition. In a general way they have caught the vision of the broader, fuller life that Canada offers.

These children will return to the British Isles with a story that may mean much to the future development of this Dominion. Their experience will be weighed in the balance together with the impressions gained by their parents from association with the thousands of Canadian soldiers, sailors and airmen who for three years have been singing the praises of their homeland while on overseas service.

It is not too much to hope that the exiled children have gained not only a widened education and increased physical strength, but also resourcefulness and a breadth of outlook that will make them real "good will ambassadors" for Canada.

War-torn Britain sees Canada as a land of hope and opportunity. Now is the time to lay the foundations for a broad-based policy of development in the post-war years that may well mark the beginning of a new era for the Dominion.

WELCOME IMPROVEMENT

RECENT EVENTS in Ontario should add to the effectiveness of the country's war effort. With the accession to the premiership of Mr. Nixon, we can look forward to some co-operation between Canada's largest and wealthiest province and the central government—something that has been conspicuously lacking since the war began. The first result of the change has been a conference, arranged between Mr. Godbout and Mr. Nixon to iron out common provincial problems. Another result will be an early revival of Dominion-Provincial conferences, and a healthy improvement in relations between the Provinces and the Dominion. Not since Hepburn wrecked the Sirois conferences have the Provinces and the Dominion conferred on mutual problems. All things considered there should be a decided step forward toward closer national unity, more effective prosecution of the war, and easier solution of after-the-war problems.

Christian Science Services

"Soul and body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, May 23rd.

The Golden Text is from II Corinthians 3:18, "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Why art thou cast down. O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God." (Psalms 42:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The suppositional attitude of divine infinite Spirit is the so-called human soul or spirit, in other words the five senses—the flesh that warreth against Spirit. These so-called material senses must yield to the infinite Spirit, named God." (Page 200.)

Westmount Baptist Church Notes

On Sunday the services at Westmount Baptist Church will be conducted by the Rev. J. A. Johnston, D.D. The morning sermon will have as its theme: "The Meal Barrel", the story of a Divine Rationing System.

The choir which rendered so effectively the Bach recital last Sunday evening continues its fine ministry in its regular services.

At the evening service Dr. Johnston's theme will be, "God's Victory Garden—Soil! Seed! Care! and Crop!" This will be followed by Westmount Young People's Fireside at 8.45. The program of the Fireside will include choruses and testimonies together with a brief talk. War-time refreshments will be served.

The simplicity of the uniform consisting of cap, belt and haversack which was supplied for six pence was a feature and was not beyond the ability of even a poor family to pay. The colour and cut of the boy's clothes did not count if they were well brushed. Shoes, no matter how shabby, had to be polished, faces and hands clean and hair combed. The haversack was of white linen and had to be washed regularly. It was amazing what a fine appearance was made by some of the companies from the very poor districts.

There is another ex-member of the "H.Q." staff in Montreal and I have seen one or two former officers from Glasgow and I am sure these and many other Old Boys will join me in wishing continued success to the first of all great boys' organizations with its fine motto, "Sure and Steadfast".

Yours truly,

FORTY-THIRD.

Goltman Pupils To Give Concert

The tenth annual pianoforte recital by the prominent teacher, Miss Frances Goltman, Lic. Mus., and First Medalist of McGill University, will be held in Tudor Hall of James A. Ogilvy's Limited on Monday evening, June 7th.

As the widely-read writer of "Musical Sharps, Flats and Naturals" column, Miss Goltman needs no introduction to readers of the "Monitor", Guardian, or Westmount Examiner. This is the only music column of its kind in Montreal.

For her concert, Miss Goltman has again arranged an interesting as well as entertaining program of classical music. The many persons who have attended the previous outstanding recitals of this successful teacher have noticed the splendid progress of many young students and as usual all the pupils will perform from memory.

Pieces by modern as well as classical composers are included in the varied program, among which are works by Mozart, Tonnelli, Bach, Heller, Streabhorn, Mendelssohn, Duval, Woodrow, Pennington, Brahms, Schmolli and Gurliitt.

Gilson H. and S. Association Favors Longer Hours In Lower Grades

Longer school days for pupils in Grades One, Two and Three in Montreal educational institutions were favored in a resolution passed at the annual meeting of the Gilson Home and School Association, when reports were read covering the past year's activities.

The guest speaker of the evening was H. F. Hall, dean of Sir George Williams College who spoke on "Education in Our Time." Mr. Hall emphasized the importance of co-operation on the part of the parents with the teachers. Education, he said, made the Nazi machine and education would defeat the Nazis and win the peace after the war. Teachers and parents should be more like athletic coaches in their attitude to the development of children and the aim should be to train them for life not just for the earning of a living.

Mr. Hall favors the development theory of education. Three essential steps are the training of attitudes, abilities and skills. Ability, he defined as the capacity to learn by doing. Nobody has a right to call anyone else stupid, since some people are better at skills while others shine in book studies. He defended art training as enrichment of the children's lives.

Teaching of democracy, he believes, is a sine qua non of modern education. Democracy, he declared, will survive only as a result of the right kind of education.

Mrs. G. Ingham introduced the speaker who was thanked on behalf of the association by W. E. Williams, Mrs. W. E. Williams asked the members to support the present campaign for the children's library in N.D.G. John A. Webster principal of Gilson School also spoke on behalf of the library.

The present executive was re-elected to office. It is as follows: John A. Webster, president; Gilbert Ingham, vice-president; Leslie Smith, secretary; Mrs. W. E. Williams; treasurer, Mrs. B. Weston.

The evening was brought to a close with a social time. W. Brown gave vocal selections accompanied by Miss N. Gilliland, organist of Campbell Memorial Church.

may have a peep at things behind the scenes and a glimpse of things behind the shadows.

"Some light is thrown upon the mystery when we realize that our human life is lived in three successive stages and three successive states.

Three Stages in Life
"The New Testament carries the very definite implication that in life there is a temporal stage, an intermediate stage and an eternal stage. The temporal stretches from birth to death, the intermediate, from death to resurrection and the eternal, from resurrection onward.

"Supplementing this, in his Second Letter to the Corinthians, Chapter V, the apostle alludes to a three-fold state of being. First there is the clothed state which begins at birth and in which men are clothed in the garments of mortality, then comes the unclothed state which begins at death, in which they have put off the 'garments of mortality' but have not yet put on the 'garments of immortality' and finally there is the 'clothed upon state' in which men are to be given a 'body like unto his glorious body'. These three states are demonstrated in the experience of our Lord. In incarnation He was clothed, in crucifixion He was unclothed and in resurrection He was clothed upon.

Human Spirit Lives
"Still farther light is thrown upon the mystery of the future life when we realize that in death the human spirit does not die, it goes away.

"The Book of Ecclesiastes intimates this. 'Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was; and the spirit shall return unto God Who gave it.' This is again emphasized in the New Testament.

"When our Lord had finished His redemptive task He went away with the prayer: 'Father into thy hand I commend my spirit'. When Stephen had sealed his testimony with his blood, he went away—'Lord Jesus, receive my spirit'. As Paul anticipated his martyrdom he wrote of going away—'The time of my departure is at hand'. To the penitent thief our Lord said: 'Today, thou shalt be with me in Paradise.'

"These and many other scriptures seem to intimate that at death, the human spirit that is in covenant with Christ, goes away. It departs to be with Christ which is far better. For the Christian—'To be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord.'

"Still farther light is thrown upon the mystery when we realize that the future life gives promise of being full, abundant and satisfying.

"Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him. But God hath revealed them unto us by His Spirit'. The life promised, is a life of complete release from all its limitations, frustrations and inhibitions. It will be a life that is sinless and stainless, painless and tearless, sorrowless and deathless.

"They shed no tears in the 'many mansions', they dig no graves on the hillsides of glory, they dread no night in the splendour of eternal day.

"It will be a life of unwearied service for—'His servants shall serve Him and they shall see His face and His name shall be upon their foreheads'. All of these blessings supernatural are for those—'who have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the lamb'."

In the store window at 4827 Sherbrooke St. W., corner Victoria, is a great tribute to the work of the Air Cadet League of Canada. In the judges' report of 1941 many faults in the design and construction of the "plane" were noted and the hope was expressed that the then embryonic Air Cadet League would be able to teach the boys that which they sought to learn about aeronautical matters.

In the 1942 report great improvement was noted and this year the advance is remarkable. The only major criticism of the judges was that on a number of the "planes numerous 'frills' were beautifully attached while there were fundamental errors in design. The judges expressed the hope this year that the builders will make greater endeavours to make the aeroplane as true to design as possible, and let "super finishes" and "frills" remain secondary, as they are in the RCAF.

This fault was found mainly among the non-Air Cadet entries, the Air Cadets having been taught the lesson with their squadrons. One entrant was surprised to find that his beautifully finished "Mosquito Bomber" only received fourth place in its class. He had not reckoned on the fact that Squadron Leader M. W. Call was at present flying Mosquitoes, and that there was a serious error in design. First prize in the scale class went to Roger Dussault of Vickers Aircraft Ltd., for a coastal command "Casno" Flying Boat which passed every inspection of the Squadron Leader who flew a full size one for many months and in the moving picture "Forty Ninth Parallel".

Original class: Charles Haigh, 15, of 5422 Beaconsfield avenue; and Paul Cleck, 12, of 650 Hartland avenue.

Penny Thoughts

By MARGARET SEATON CORRY

Country Auction

Every Spring, somewhere in the country, there is an auction sale. Folks, who have spent their lives among quiet fields and grazing cattle, suddenly resolve to move to the city. Or, it may be that meagre yearly savings have accumulated to such a size that a prosperous feeling urges a fresh start by clearing the house of the possessions of its forebears and going "modern."

Whatever the cause, the country auctioneer is called in and a sale is held. Just after dawn, the house is cleared of chairs and tables, rugs and what-nots, old clocks and jugs, four-posters and pictures and the front lawn is made a rural showplace.

The sale may be scheduled for the afternoon, but early in the morning cars and buggies draw up in front of the old homestead, which has outlived several generations and will outlive several more, and the lawns swarm with bargain seekers.

A choice little cherry wood table that wobbled every time a book was laid upon it gives up its corner and, in all probability, a trestle one of blond maple will take its place. A rush-seated ladder-back gives way possibly to a synthetic leather-seated affair in chrome that will have all the glamour of a chorus girl, in a loud, boisterous manner. Even great-grandmother's patchwork quilt, that was put together with loving care, is carried out to the porch railing for all to see and thoughts are turned to a downy comforter in cold, cold satin. The faded sampler, depicting the sad date life of great-grandmother since the age of fourteen—her school, the church where she was married, the dog, her new home when she was a bride, her neatly cross-stitched initials and the year "1846"—is taken from its nail and carried to the porch with the exquisitely embroidered, "Home, Sweet Home" entwined with roses and forget-me-nots. Lovely old soup tureens of Wedgwood or Spode, which once graced a family board that groaned under the weight of home-cured hams, home-made preserves and golden-crusted bread and biscuits, join the other treasures of the past. And, so it goes, the auction sale is on...

There is something sad about such a sale. Treasures such as these are woven into lives—they are links with the romantic past of forefathers.

Before the dust from the last car has settled into place, plans will be made to replace the quaint blue-splashed or medallioned wallpapers in the rooms above with tailored stripes or plaids to make a worthy background for the severity of the "moderns" moving in. There will be great excitement in pushing the new over-stuffed "parlor" set into place, hanging the modern prints and laying the monotonous broad-rooms.

But, when there is time for quiet reflection, those folk will realize they have turned an important page in their book of life. Out of their surroundings have gone the touches of their inherited background; their roots have been shaken as though by storm and in this new and slightly alien atmosphere they try to go on being themselves.

Yes, an auction is a sad, sad thing!

AT WESTMOUNT THEATRE

Entertainment pulsating with drama and rich in human values is the keynote of the new Warner Bros. picture, "Casablanca," which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre.

The film, taking its title from the Moroccan city that figured so largely in the recent war news, has to do with refugees from war-torn Europe and their attempts to secure exit visas to the Americas.

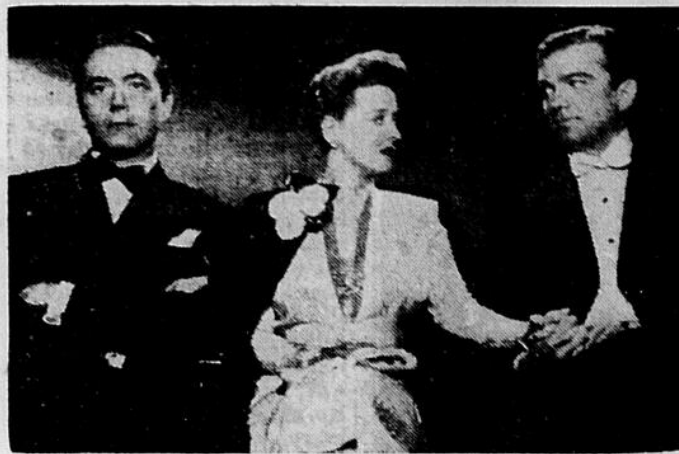

Starring in the film are Humphrey Bogart, Ingrid Bergman and Paul Henreid, who scored as Bette Davis' leading man in

"Now, Voyager." A highly talented featured cast is headed by Claude Rains, Conrad Veidt, Sydney Greenstreet and Peter Lorre.

Although the story deals generally with the illicit trade in exit visas, the love story of Humphrey Bogart and Ingrid Bergman figures prominently and is responsible for much of the swift pace of the picture.

Michael Curtiz directed, from the screen play by Julius J. and Philip G. Epstein and Howard Koch, who adapted from the Murray Burnett and Joan Alison play.

AT THE WESTMOUNT SUNDAY!

Paul Henreid, Bette Davis and John Loder in a scene from the film "Now, Voyager," which opens at the Westmount United Theatre on Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

At The Monkland

James Cagney can now say in all truth that everything possible under the sun has happened to him during filming of "Yankee Doodle Dandy," the picture now at the Monkland United Theatre.

He had to pole a Venetian gondola, ride in a Chinese rickshaw, eat a sandwich while sitting on the left front paw of the Sphinx and dance 40 bars of "Give My Regards to Broadway," eight bars more than the chorus.

It was the wind-up of the big and costly production; that final day given over to what every assistant director in Hollywood puts down for the last thing to be done when he first makes out his work schedule, namely, "Pick-up shots and inserts."

Cagney, Joan Leslie right at his elbow every minute, went through his eight hours of pick-up shots and inserts to make a montage trip around the world.

This montage shows Cagney as George M. Cohan and Joan Leslie as Mary, his wife, making a trip around the world. On the screen, much less than a minute, in fact not much more than 15 seconds, will be required to make the journey. But it took a good, solid eight hour day to film, cameramen and grips working like everything, and Jimmy and Joan romping from stage to stage.

Speirs and Miller
Recital Success

The Betty Speirs—Peter Miller Studios scored a success with their dance recital on Saturday afternoon at Victoria Hall before a capacity audience. A feature of the afternoon was the Nursery Rhyme presentation, in which the very small children were given unlimited scope to display their talents.

From the rise of the curtain the little ones had their audience won over, and the enjoyable manner in which they performed proves that Miss Speirs deserves her splendid reputation as a teacher of very young children.

The Junior and Intermediate classes, were successful in ballet and tap presentations. A colorful 'League of Nations' tap ensemble brought out the senior stars of the school in work of professional calibre. Seen here were Peggy Cooper, The Day Sisters, Jan Torrence, Elaine Albert, Gwen Smith, Carl Rollo, Shirley MacDonald, Emily Ann Robertson, Helen Holbrook. Mr. Miller appeared here in exhibition ballroom routines with Elizabeth Bersegl, high school pupil, and Dawn Aitken, his professional partner, and their smooth work was greatly admired.

Prop Man Collects
Odd Military Items

HOLLYWOOD — Benny Burke, property man for Paramount's Pine-Thomas producing unit, has built up a considerable collection of miscellaneous military items.

His collection reached its zenith during the shooting of "Aerial Gunner," the Pine-Thomas air-war thriller.

Some of the items included in his prop box are: insignia of every rank, army weather maps, charts of various descriptions, stationery of all branches of service, memo forms, sets of wings (last used in graduation scene in "Aerial Gunner"), diplomas (ditto), regulation identification tags, service jewelry such as wrist watches and rings, not to mention a string of smaller items such as empty shell cases and various service flags.

SCOUT SEEDS FOR U.K. GARDENS

Word has been received from Boy Scout Headquarters in England that several hundred pounds of garden seeds, sent to England by the Boy Scouts of Canada, have been distributed and are now sown in Boy Scout "Dig for Victory" gardens.

Spring Revue Aids
British Milk Fund

A vivid love story, told against the sensational background of the fall and occupation of Paris, and romance, danger and suspicion keyed to wartime tempo prove an excellent frame for Joan Crawford's superb performance in her latest offering, M-G-M's "Reunion in France," in which she is starred with John Wayne and Philip Dorn, which is now playing at the York United Theatre.

It departs materially from the familiar war-picture formula without losing a whit of drama and suspense. Miss Crawford has the role of a rich, socially prominent Parisienne, in love with a well-to-do Frenchman. She discovers him to be working hand in glove with the Nazi invaders and is torn between her love for him and scorn and hatred of the conquerors and their collaborators. And she risks life and liberty in her efforts to aid a young American, John Wayne, who has escaped from the Nazi prison camp and is fighting his way to the safety of England.

Philip Dorn, as the Frenchman, is a romantic leading man and second to none with whom Miss Crawford has ever appeared. His

The Kinsmen Club of Montreal are presenting The Mary Beetles Spring Revue at the Sun Life Auditorium, on Friday, the 28th at 8.15 p.m., and the entire proceeds will be given to the Milk Fund for children of bombed British areas.

The pupils and staff of this school are exerting every effort to make the evening an outstanding one.

Starting with the newer pupils giving a demonstration of class work, entitled "Dancers in the Making," the programme builds to a spectacular finale, part of The Mary Beetles Varieties, troupe show, and between these items there will be a series of well executed dances in artistic and colourful costumes under the direction of Jeanne Rodier, well known dancer and teacher assisted by Rosemary Leggett. Mary Ruth Whiting, experienced producer of juvenile plays will present two miniature playlets.

The first, "The Little Goat Lady," a picturesque scene in the Alps in which comical wee men of fairy lore sparkle with a strange gaiety and mischievous delight. The second "The Slippers of Cinderella" by W. Graham Robertson is one that is being studied by the matriculation students in their English course.

It is quite light and portrays a funny situation in rollicking fast action. Amongst those taking part in dancing and dramatics will be: Suzanne Beck, Anne Berry, Lucille Betts, Barbara Ann Bowden, Elinor Charbonneau, Adele Dolan, Viola and Gloria Gagne, Miriam Goldin, Jean Harper, Ann Holland, Jimmy and Betty Hunter, Jaako and Hilka, Rosalind Kirsch, Enid Kirsch, Rosemary Leggett, Judith Lennon, Evelyn Levy, Desmond McDermott, Patsy Parsons, Francoise Patenaude, Shirley Philip, Marilyn Rollo, Claire Rosenbloom, Lois Routenberg, Nancy Saunders, Lila Selector, June Sidaway, Barbara Tingle, Billy Turnbull, Phyllis Viener, Rosalee Waller, George Warren, Mary Warriner, Marion Wyllie.

portrayal of the seeming collaborationist is polished and convincing. Wayne's American boy dispenses with the slang and smart-cracking so often, unfortunately, an aggravating item in these characterizations.

In the large supporting cast are Albert Bassermann, Ann Ayars, John Carradine, J. Edward Bromberg and Reginald Owen.

AT SNOWDON & YORK SATURDAY!

Greer Garson and Ronald Colman in a scene from "Random Harvest," which opens at two United Houses on Saturday, at the York until Tuesday, at the Snowdon for one week.

AT THE MONKLAND SUNDAY!

Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon in a scene from the Technicolor production "Blossoms in the Dust," which opens at the Monkland United Theatre on Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

At The Snowdon

"Random Harvest" adaption of James Hilton's best-selling novel, brings to the screen an engrossing story of a strange case of suspended memory, which motivates a haunting romance. Teaming Ronald Colman and Greer Garson, in Miss Garson's first picture since the memorable "Mrs. Miniver" its starts a special run this Saturday at the Snowdon and York theatres.

Colman plays his role with convincing force and Miss Garson is charming, beautiful and talented as Paula, the music-hall actress who, as Mrs. Charles Rainer, dances with the Prime Minister of Great Britain. The principal supporting roles are in the capable hands of Philip Dorn, Reginald Owen, Una O'Connor and the newest Hollywood "find", talented little Susan Peters.

"Random Harvest" opens at both the Snowdon and York theatres this coming Saturday afternoon.

Musical Sharps
Flats and Naturals

by
Frances Goltman

Variety has been the keynote of the Montreal Festival Series this year. Last season "Romeo and Juliet" proved such an overwhelming success that it was decided to give three operatic performances this year. Two contrasting and outstanding favourites have been chosen, Mozart's comic grand opera, "The Marriage of Figaro" and the dramatic Wagnerian work, "Tristan and Isolde". There will be two performances of the Mozart, Monday, May 24th and Wednesday, May 26th with Wagner on Thursday, May 27th.

Five famous Britishers will participate in these masterpieces. The conductor Sir Thomas Beecham is specially celebrated for his Mozartian interpretations. Audrey Mildmay, the Australian tenor of the Metropolitan, will have the leading roles in "The Marriage of Figaro".

Marjorie Lawrence and Arthur Carron will sing the roles of "Tristan" and "Isolde". Miss Lawrence's return to her professional career after having been suddenly stricken with infantile paralysis for many months was a most remarkable feat. It took courage and perseverance and Miss Lawrence's great voice will be welcomed on this occasion.

Many Canadians remember when Audrey Mildmay went to England from her native Vancouver and made the Glyndebourne Festivals famous. It is an interesting fact that Dame Nellie Melba encouraged John Brownlee to study and he later sang at the farewell appearance of the great diva in Covent Garden. The three performances are taking place in His Majesty's Theatre and the leading artists arrived this week. Rehearsals are in full progress for these grand events.

Continuing last week's article we believe that the following points stress why a musical education should be given at an early age.

1. Every child has an inherent right to a musical education.
2. Patriotism is developed through music.
3. Music tends to encourage a higher form of citizenship.
4. Unity through music is a means toward civic improvement.
5. Music is the most useful medium in constructive work in a community.

Star's Baby Dress
Worn By Daughter

HOLLYWOOD — The traditional baby dress which female members of the Bergman family of Stockholm, Sweden, have worn for six generations, has arrived in America for Pia, four-year-old daughter of Hollywood film star Ingrid Bergman — just four months late for the little girl's fourth birthday, according to word from the film star now in Rochester, N.Y.

Sent by members of Miss Bergman's family in Stockholm, the family heirloom has been given to little Pia, just as it was given to her mother, now grown into the lovely screen star who appears opposite Gary Cooper in Paramount's "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

Let's see, wasn't it just a few years ago, back around that corner, that the Department of Agriculture's chief worry was the food surplus?

CIVIC AND SERVICE NOTABLES ATTEND OPENING CEREMONIES OF SENIOR SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Mayor Merrill Acts as Catcher for Opening Pitch by Air Vice-Marshal de Niverville—RCAF Won First Game of Season Against Navy Team

The Westmount Municipal Senior Softball League got off to an auspicious start on Monday night at Westmount Park when the R.C.A.F. No. 3 Training Command team under Wing Commander Martin, champions of the loop last year, made their initial game of the season a winning one when they rallied to defeat Lieut. Belanger's Navy team 9-4.

The opening ceremonies were attended by Lt. Commander M. R. Campbell, in command of the R.C. N.V.R. Montreal Division; Air Vice-Marshal A. de Niverville, Officer Commanding R.C.A.F. No. 3 Training Command; Col. Paul Grenier, representing Major-General E. de B. Panet, District Officer Commanding M.D. No. 4; Mayor Walter Merrill K.C.; Alderman Senecal, Commissioner of Parks and Playgrounds and E. J. Anderson, Superintendent of Parks.

Mayor Walter Merrill welcomed the service teams playing in the league to Westmount, noting that this municipality was only too anxious to help out in the recreational needs of the servicemen. Whereupon the Mayor took up the position of catcher to receive the opening pitch by Air Vice-Marshal de Niverville.

Col. Grenier acted as umpire while Lt. Commander Campbell was the batter. After a preliminary toss by Air Vice-Marshal de Niverville, Lt. Commander Campbell stepped up to the plate and lined the Vice-Marshal's first pitch into left field for a good hit in any league.

Prior to the game the crowd was entertained by the band of the Air Cadets from the Westmount Intermediate School under the permission of Squadron Leader H. P. Isley. The Navy turned out en masse for the game from the Mountain Street barracks.

After the preliminary details were dealt with the boys got down to business. The Training Command nine put the game on ice in the fifth inning when they rallied to score eight times and wipe out a three run deficit. Home-runs by Mel Snyder and Roman in this frame accounted for the Almen's big inning.

The Command team got the first run of the game in the first inning when Warren Butler doubled and scored on George Scully's single. The Navy tied the count in the second inning when Poirier homered and then went ahead with a run in the third frame on two Air Force errors. The Navy ran the score to 4-1 in the fourth inning by Poirier's single. White's triple and Raso's single.

The Air Force then came through with their game, winning rally in the fifth inning. Scully reached first on an error and scored on Mel Snyder's home-run. Hennessey and Roman duplicated the feat with the last named banging out the four-bagger. Butler and Scully banged out doubles and Snyder singled for his second hit of the inning before the rally died out.

Scully's hurling again featured the Command team display, the lanky hurler fanned eleven men and walked but one. Raso on the mound for the losers weakened visibly in the fifth but then came through with a game display in the closing innings.

Butler, Scully, and Snyder led the winner's batting attack with two hits apiece while Poirier did likewise for the losers. Three games are slated to be played to-night, two of them at Westmount Park where the No. 4 Ordnance Corps hook-up with the R.C.A.F. No. 12 Equipment Depot and the two Air Force rivals, No. 1 Wireless School and No. 5 Manning Depot meet. In the third game of the evening the Dodgers travel over to the Westmount Barracks to open the season for the Provost Corps at their home grounds. The games at the Westmount Barracks are open to the public.

Five more games are on tap this week, two on Monday and three next Wednesday. The Equipment Depot meet the Provost Corps in one game on Monday night while the No. 5 Manning Depot play the Dodgers in the other. The three games on Wednesday are between the R.C.A.C. (Motor Transport) and the Wireless School; the R.C. O.C. from Longue Pointe and the No. 4 Ordnance Corps while the third game is between the Equipment Depot and No. 5 Manning Depot.

Following is the schedule for Westmount Municipal Senior Softball League up to the end of May: Diamond No. 1—Mon, May 24, Provost vs. Eq. Depot; Wed, May 26, R.C.A.S.C. (M.T.) vs. Wireless; Thu, May 27, Dodgers vs. Wireless; Mon, May 31, Provost vs. Navy.

Y's Chats

The closing of the winter program and the opening of the new spring activities was celebrated by the preps and Juniors last Saturday afternoon at the local "Y". Both sections enjoyed a grand program drawn up by their leaders which included a games period in the gymnasium, water sports in the swimming pool and an excellent movie.

After the movie the members gathered in the front assembly hall for supper and the remainder of their program.

Ross Seaman, who is leaving shortly to take over his duties at Kamp Kanawana, was bid a fond farewell by the boys. Taking his place for the summer vacation will be Bob Beal of McGill University, who was director of the Vacation Club last summer.

The new spring program will consist mainly of swimming and outdoor sports. The boys will be taught to swim and those who can will receive instruction in advanced swimming, diving, and life saving.

The newly-formed life saving class under the direction of Tom Hardwick, got away to a fine start last Thursday afternoon. These boys, upon completion of their course, will be given special duties during the swimming periods.

Next Saturday morning the Preps Softball League will open, playing at Westmount Park. Several teams have already entered and many exciting games are looked forward to by all.

The Juniors will leave the building early Saturday on a bicycle hike. They will return in the afternoon in time for a swim.

The special "Learn-to-Swim" classes for boys and girls under P. M. McFarlane's supervision are progressing very well with several members already having learned to swim the length of the pool.

The Browns have three switch hitters in Stanley Ferns and Steve Sundra, pitchers, and infielder Charles Stevens.

Tennis Courts Will Be Open This Week-end

The local tennis players will be pleased to know that is expected that at least some of the municipal courts will be open for play around this week-end.

For the past two years all that has been necessary for an adult to play tennis was to show their registration card but this method has been discarded this year and all persons wishing to play on the courts, adults or otherwise, must obtain tennis tickets at the office in the Greenhouse. Unfortunately, with the printers being rushed off their feet, the tickets have not been obtained as yet but they should be ready in the near future.

The office in the Greenhouse will be open from nine in the morning till five in the evening every day except Sunday for the issuing of tickets.

Residents are asked to use the west door in the Greenhouse, the one just behind Victoria Hall.

Marty's Final Ball Compliment

A little chap in his early forties was walking down a street on the north side of St. Louis. He was dressed in the typical nondescript fashion of a factory-worker. He had just left a munitions factory, and was dog-tired, as might be expected of a man who had put in ten hours every day, seven days a week.

As he went swinging down the street, with his dinner pail in his hand, he came to a vacant lot where several boys about 15 or 16 years of age were playing pitch and catch.

The factory-worker stopped for several minutes. Then he dropped his pail and said, "Say, fellows, would you mind if I threw a couple?"

"Sure, throw all you want," they replied. Removing his cardigan jacket, the old-timer started lobbing the ball to the catcher. As his muscles gradually loosened up, he cut loose a little harder, then started throwing curves, knuckle-ball, and change of pace.

By this time, the kids were pop-eyed. Finally, he threw a downer for his last pitch. As he picked up his jacket and grabbed his dinner pail, the kid catcher blurted: "Hey, Mister, you GOT something!"

"It was one of the finest com-

Junior Softball To Hold Meet Tomorrow Night

The junior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League will hold a meeting to-morrow night at the Greenhouse in Westmount Park. This meeting was originally called for last Tuesday but due to unavoidable circumstances it had to be called off. All teams intending to enter this league are asked to have representatives at this meeting so that the section constitution may be drawn up.

Further information on the organization may be obtained from Jim McCormick, recreation supervisor at Fitzroy 1929.

Pro Football Season To Recall Early Days

Many of us may recall the "way, way back" days when only high school and college football had any standing to speak of.

There was some independent football, some of the semi-pro variety and a little out-and-out professional. But even the latter was conducted on a hit-or-miss basis. An enthusiastic manager got together a team and made up a schedule as he went. He made frequent changes in the lineup. Often the team was together only the night before, or even the morning of the game.

There could be no intricate system of play for those reasons.

Rev. C. Este Speaks To Young People On Racial Problem

Colored People's Difficulties Enumerated At Talk to Calvary Union

The Young People's Union of Calvary Church heard an interesting talk on the work of the United Church on Monday evening given by the Rev. Charles Este, at the request of the Rev. Dr. T. W. Jones.

In opening Mr. Este stated that the purpose of his address was "to awaken a sense of the privileges and opportunities enjoyed by young people through their respective churches and help them to recognize these unlimited opportunities which so few appreciate and which are denied to the colored people."

Mr. Este enumerated what he called some of the "Major Battles fought by the United Church" in respect to the unemployment, housing, education and military situations.

With regard to the latter Mr. Este stated "flimsy excuses" were offered to discourage coloured young men from enlisting in the Air Force at the beginning of the war. Through the efforts of the United Church the barriers were eventually removed.

In the Canadian army a "non-commission policy" was prevalent with regard to coloured soldiers, stated Mr. Este and yet "a great tolerance and democratic spirit is shown in that army where negroes and white men live, serve and fight side by side in mutual fellowship, agreement and understanding."

In education there was the difficulty of having coloured girls trained as nurses in the hospitals and as teachers in the public schools, one barrier which the United Church has been unable to overcome, though "great success has been achieved in other fields of education."

"In the employment field prior to 1939, coloured people were restricted to railroad and domestic work" and the "Selective Service," he stated, "encouraged racial discrimination and seemed to discourage the employment of coloured girls as stenographers and other office workers."

Personal interviews were held with "hard-boiled business men" who would not change their anti-racial policy although coloured men were fighting overseas.

"On the other hand," said Mr. Este, "a great many have been sympathetic and through the efforts of the United Church's newly blazed trails, these good people have reported satisfactory results (See REV. C. ESTE page 7)

"Religion when it becomes a personal experience, lifts a man out of the shadows of loneliness and fear into the sunlight of courage and confidence" declared Dr. F. W. Kerr, in his recent "Thanksgiving for Victories" sermon.

Dr. Kerr was discussing the effect of talk on christianity which a young sailor had with a girl in a "Y" hostel.

Here is a letter written to a Y.M.C.A. official by a young man, said the preacher, it reads:

"I'm a sailor in the merchant marine and I'll be pulling out in a few hours, but this morning I went into a 'Y' hostel as lonely as could be and scared to death about sailing again. I wanted to talk to somebody pretty badly so I went in to a nice-looking girl who was alone in the Employment Office. I talked to her about my job, and said that it wouldn't be as bad if a fellow could be sure something worth while would come out of this war — something worth dying for. She looked at me very seriously and said, 'Christ will come through and He is worth dying for.' I was so surprised I just sat and looked at her. She talked like He was alive. I sort of expected to see Him walk in at the door. He was so real. I was only there ten minutes but I'm not lonely now and I'm not scared any more. I'm nineteen, and I never knew before there was a God that went along with a fellow — a God no sub can sink. I wanted to tell that girl how swell she was but she might have thought I was fresh. Perhaps you can tell her, and thanks to you and the Y."

"Like the psalmist," continued the preacher, "he could say, 'I sought the Lord and He heard me, and delivered me out of all my fears.'"

So, we have gathered today to render thanks unto the God who has been our Deliverer as surely as He parted the waves of the Red Sea and He delivered Israel in days of old.

Today the church bells will ring throughout the islands of Great Britain, and the people in the churches will recall the tunces of deadly peril. Then they will give thanks for the young men who fought and died in the Battle of Britain, thanks for the miraculous deliverance at Dunkerque, and for the unsurpassed victory in North Africa. These stirring events have become part of our national epic, and we should teach them diligently unto our children, so that all may know what great things the Lord hath done for us.

What impresses us about the North African victory is the deeply religious attitude on the part of our military leaders there.

It is only a few months ago that we stood in danger of having the life-line of the Empire snapped at Suez. We were dismayed at the swift sweep of Axis troops to the very gates of (See FAITH page 7)

E. Ohman Showing Hand-made Silver Of Danish Design

Wonderful Work of Well-known Craftsman Now On Exhibit

Lovers of fine craft have an exhibition which they can visit in their own city without going further afield than No. 1216 Greene Avenue, where a marvelous display of exhibition silverware is to be seen at Eric Ohman's store.

The work is all that of Paul Petersen, a Danish settler who is a pupil of the famous George Jensen of Copenhagen.

There are rose bowls, "flat" silver ware forks and spoons and a variety of serving spoons.

Among the latter are handles with the tips representing grapes modelled on by soft-hand hammering and graduated into the long straight shafts.

Around the rose bowl is a design of grapes—popular one time when everyone was reading Omar Khayyam and there are special sauce boats with double spouts to prevent dripping.

All through the collection utility is expressed in beauty, and the severe lines of the old Scandinavian designs are kept when ever possible.

An original exhibit is a low sandwich plate on a base which has a perforated design all around showing the silhouette of snails.

Mr. Petersen has exhibits in many parts of Europe including the permanent collection in the Swedish National Museum, the Copenhagen Museum and the British Museum, London, England.

Former commissions he has designed include presentation pieces for King George V. of England and the Prince of Wales, now the Duke of Windsor.

Eric Ohman, who is president of the Business Association of Westmount, is of Swedish descent and much interested in all Scandinavian arts and crafts.

Westmount At Play

City's Recreation Plans Designed To Benefit All

Parks and Playgrounds Are Centre of Community Life of City in Summer Time

The following article—"Recreation"—is the second of a series written with a view to showing residents something of the work done on their behalf by their city. The information is taken directly from the City's Manager's last annual report. Further articles of this nature will appear from time to time.

Visitors to the city who wander about Westmount Park are sometimes surprised to see a number of serious-faced persons fishing down by the Ravine Pond.

Somehow the near-by street cars and this quiet sport are not generally associated together in the mind but the "Quebec Fly and Bait Casting Club"—which is the name of this little group sponsored by the city—takes "no stock" of cars or houses once the day's sport has begun.

Tournaments are held yearly and last season there were sixteen with a total entry of three hundred and forty persons. The summer recreation arrangements for citizens are certainly varied.

Tennis, cricket, putting on the green many other sports come into the program.

SMALL BOYS PLAY MOST. Although adults have all sorts of good things arranged for their benefit, it is small boys—that is boys between the ages of five and ten who used the various playground and recreation facilities more than any other group last year.

The next largest group were little girls of the same age, while the armed forces were the smallest group of all.

The cricket season opened on May 2nd last year—the earliest opening on record and there were twenty games and twenty-three practices during the summer.

The eighteen tennis courts were as popular as ever.

Western Avenue, with the greatest number of courts—eight, to be exact—had an estimated attendance of 28,686 persons.

King George Park with only four courts had 11,129—Westmount Park with four courts had 10,006 and Selby Park, which has only one court, had 643 persons.

There was a considerable drop in the numbers who played last year as so many young men and women are working in the services.

Then the putting greens in King George Park were well patronised with fourteen tournaments held for grown-ups and eleven for children during the season.

Instruction in swimming and diving by the Playground Supervisor to forty-two boys and girls of the Municipal Swimming Group at the local Y.M.C.A.

GIRLS PLAY SOFTBALL. During the softball season, seven diamonds in three playing areas were maintained and an interesting fact is that a girls' team with twenty-seven players played thirteen games, while most of the four hundred and thirty-nine men and boys playing in organized leagues were young men training with the R.C.A.F.

In "soccer"—a league composed of R.C.A.F. units, (See WESTMOUNT page 7)

Thomas N. Finical Receives Training For U.S. Navy Duty

Local Boy Will be Fighting Bluejacket In the Near Future

Thomas N. Finical, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Finical, 550 Claremont Avenue, is receiving the basic training that will prepare him for sea duty as a fighting Bluejacket in the Navy at the U. S. Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill.

For the next eight weeks he will be put through a period of "boot" training stressing physical conditioning, military drill, and the fundamentals of seamanship, Naval customs and procedure. Upon graduation he will be given a nine-day leave, after which he will be assigned to a service school for training as specialist, or be sent directly to active duty at sea or at a shore station.

Men are selected for service school upon the basis of a series of aptitude tests and a personal interview given to each recruit. Some "boots" who have had sufficient experience in a particular trade needed by the Navy are given ratings as petty officers upon completing recruit training and sent to active duty immediately.

City Schools Hold Patriotic Events Prior To Holiday

Several schools celebrated Empire Day last Friday, prior to the week-end holiday.

"Queen's" had an assembly in the gymnasium from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m., when suitable hymns and prayers were given and some verses from the New Testament were read.

The principal, R. N. Bagnell gave a talk to the students on "Recent Trends in Empire Development" and there was the ceremony of saluting the flag, after which the whole school marched out to the strains of "Land of Hope and Glory."

Mr. Bagnell told the "Examiner" that the students seemed to "sense" the spirit of the assembly and as one body responded, joining in singing and prayers with great feeling.

Friday afternoon was also a holiday for Queen's as Mr. Bagnell felt that some honor should be shown the sports side of the school in which three championships had been won during the last year.

"King's" had an assembly in the gymnasium, and the principal, G. D. Lessard, gave a short talk on Empire, and there were patriotic songs and hymns and a movie was shown of Camp Kananawa demonstrating one phase of Empire building. The part of Scripture read was Psalm 8.

At "Roslyn" Dr. G. H. Penrose said there were class assemblies, with patriotic songs and the younger children painted flags and wrote out a few lines about the meaning of Empire after it had been explained to them.

Westmount Well Represented At McGill Ceremony Held Yesterday

A resolution expressing the university's deep regret at the retirement of three members of the teaching staff at McGill University, was formally recorded at the recent meeting of the McGill University Senate.

Among the number is Dr. W. W. Francis, A.B., M.D., (John Hopkins), M.D., C.M. Home Clergy Exchange Pulpits With U.S.A. Preachers May 30th

Six Eminent Men Coming to Canada to Cement Christian Relationships Between Countries

On Sunday there will be a friendly invasion of Canada by six eminent clergymen from south of the border. These ministers have been selected by the Greater New York Federation of Churches to convey good-will messages to the citizens of Montreal, and assurances that these two countries will continue to exemplify both in war and peace the Christian way of settling international affairs.

For the past five or six years this international pulp exchange has taken place, and during those years many figures of international reputation have appeared in Montreal pulpits. The men who will be present this year represent the Episcopal, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist, Presbyterian and Reformed Churches in the United States.

The Rev. Lane Barton, of Grace Episcopal Church, will be heard in the morning and at even-song in St. Matthias' Church, on Cote St. Antoine road, and the Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver will conduct the services in Grace Church.

Stanley Presbyterian Church will welcome to its pulpit at both services Rev. Dr. Warwick Kelloway.

St. Andrew's Church in Westmount, will have the Rev. Dr. W. Patton in the morning and the Rev. Wallace H. Carver in the evening.

Emmanuel United Church on Drummond street, will have the Rev. Wallace H. Carver in the morning and the Rev. Dr. W. W. Patton in the evening.

Those who have taken part in similar exchanges in previous years testify to the warmth of the welcome extended to them by American congregations. The visiting Canadians have always been entertained at a luncheon meeting at the Aldine Club on Fifth Avenue, by the New York ministers. Probably at no time has there been such warmth and understanding between these two sister-countries as at the present moment. This pulp exchange is designed to cultivate still closer contacts between the Christian people on both sides of the border.

Diamond Jubilee Of B.B. May 30; First Company To Join Parade

King's Color to be Dedicated by the Rev. F. W. Norwood and Presented to 10th Company

The 1st Westmount Company will assemble next Sunday at 10.30 a.m. at McGill Campus and will then join the Battalion parade to St. James United Church, where the special Diamond Jubilee service is being conducted by Rev. F. W. Norwood. D.D. The Company band will also be taking part in the parade. During the service the new Battalion King's Colour will be dedicated by Dr. Norwood and presented to the 10th Company, whose average points were highest in Battalion Competitions. This unit will hold the colour for the coming season when it will be again up for challenge.

Boys of the 1st Company are rapidly preparing their programme for the closing exercises and hope to announce the date next week. Special attention is being given to the Jubilee and it will be the chief feature of the evening.

Swimming tests will take place this week as well as the Ambulance exams so that all awards will be ready in time for the display. There will be a number of Arts and Crafts badges awarded this session for those boys who have carried on model building during the past two seasons.

The following boys passed their enrolment test on May 24th: Ptes. Rufus Curry and Bruce Duncan. They will be enrolled on Friday.

The Company will attend a special joint service on Sunday with the W.V.R.C. in Melville Church, assembling on Westmount Park at 7 p.m. and proceeding to the church in time for service at 7.30 p.m.

CIVIC AND SERVICE NOTABLES ATTEND OPENING CEREMONIES OF SENIOR SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Mayor Merrill Acts as Catcher for Opening Pitch by Air Vice-Marshal de Niverville—RCAF Won First Game of Season Against Navy Team

The Westmount Municipal Senior Softball League got off to an auspicious start on Monday night at Westmount Park when the R.C.A.F. No. 3 Training Command team under Wing Commander Martin, champions of the loop last year, made their initial game of the season a winning one when they rallied to defeat Lieut. Belanger's Navy team 9-4. The game was played before an overflow crowd that included many high dignitaries from the three services and the municipality.

The opening ceremonies were attended by Lt. Commander M. R. Campbell, in command of the R.C. N.V.R. Montreal Division; Air Vice-Marshal A. de Niverville, Officer Commanding R.C.A.F. No. 3 Training Command; Col. Paul Grenier, representing Major-General E. de B. Panet, District Officer Commanding M.D. No. 4; Mayor Walter Merrill K.C.; Alderman Senecal, Commissioner of Parks and Playgrounds and E. J. Anderson, Superintendent of Parks.

Mayor Walter Merrill welcomed the service teams playing in the league to Westmount, noting that this municipality was only too anxious to help out in the recreational needs of the servicemen. Whereupon the Mayor took up the position of catcher to receive the opening pitch by Air Vice-Marshal de Niverville.

Col. Grenier acted as umpire while Lt. Commander Campbell was the batter. After a preliminary toss by Air Vice-Marshal de Niverville, Lt. Commander Campbell stepped up to the plate and lined the Vice-Marshal's first pitch into left field for a good hit in any league.

Prior to the game the crowd was entertained by the band of the Air Cadets from the Westmount Intermediate School under the permission of Squadron Leader H. P. Hsley. The Navy turned out en masse for the game from the Mountain Street barracks.

After the preliminary details were dealt with the boys got down to business. The Training Command nina put the game on ice in the fifth inning when they rallied to score eight times and wipe out a three run deficit. Home-runs by Mel Snyder and Roman in this frame accounted for the Airmen's big inning.

The Command team got the first run of the game in the first inning when Warren Butler doubled and scored on George Scully's single. The Navy tied the count in the second inning when Poirier homered and then went ahead with a run in the third frame on two Air Force errors. The Navy ran the score to 4-1 in the fourth inning via Poirier's single. White's triple and Raso's single.

The Air Force then came through with their game, winning rally in the fifth inning. Scully reached first on an error and scored on Mel Snyder's home-run. Hennessey and Roman duplicated the feat with the last named banging out the four-bagger. Butler and Scully banged out doubles and Snyder singled for his second hit of the inning before the first died out.

Scully's hurling again featured the Command team display, the lanky hurler fanned eleven men and walked but one. Raso on the mound for the losers weakened visibly in the fifth but then came through with a game display in the closing innings.

Butler, Scully, and Snyder led the winner's batting attack with two hits apiece while Poirier did likewise for the losers.

Three games are slated to be played to-night, two of them at Westmount Park where the No. 4 Ordnance Corps hook-up with the R.C.A.F. No. 12 Equipment Depot and the two Air Force rivals, No. 1 Wireless School and No. 5 Manning Depot meet. In the third game of the evening the Dodgers travel over to the Westmount Barracks to open the season for the Provost Corps at their home grounds. The games at the Westmount Barracks are open to the public.

Five more games are on tap this week, two on Monday and three next Wednesday. The Equipment Depot meet the Provost Corps in one game on Monday night while the No. 5 Manning Depot play the Dodgers in the other. The three games on Wednesday are between the R.C.A.S.C. (Motor Transport) and the Wireless School; the R.C. O.C. from Longue Pointe and the No. 4 Ordnance Corps while the third game is between the Equipment Depot and No. 5 Manning Depot.

Following is the schedule for Westmount Municipal Senior Softball League up to the end of May: Diamond No. 1—Mon. May 24, Provost vs. Eq. Depot; Wed. May 26, R.C.A.S.C. (M.T.) vs. Wireless; Thu. May 27, Dodgers vs. Wireless; Mon. May 31, Provost vs. Navy. Diamond No. 2—Mon. May 24,

Y's Chats

The closing of the winter program and the opening of the new spring activities was celebrated by the preps and juniors last Saturday afternoon at the local "Y". Both sections enjoyed a grand program drawn up by their leaders which included a games period in the gymnasium, water sports in the swimming pool and an excellent movie.

After the movie the members gathered in the front assembly hall for supper and the remainder of their program.

Ross Seaman, who is leaving shortly to take over his duties at Kamp Kanawana, was bid a fond farewell by the boys. Taking his place for the summer vacation will be Bob Beal of McGill University, who was director of the Vacation Club last summer.

The new spring program will consist mainly of swimming and outdoor sports. The boys will be taught to swim and those who can will receive instruction in advanced swimming, diving, and life saving.

The newly-formed life saving class under the direction of Tom Hardwick, got away to a fine start last Thursday afternoon. These boys, upon completion of their course, will be given special duties during the swimming periods.

Next Saturday morning the Preps Softball League will open, playing at Westmount Park. Several teams have already entered and many exciting games are looked forward to by all.

The Juniors will leave the building early Saturday on a bicycle hike. They will return in the afternoon in time for a swim.

The special "Learn-to-Swim" classes for boys and girls under P. M. McFarlane's supervision are progressing very well with several members already having learned to swim the length of the pool.

The Browns have three switch hitters in Stanley Ferens and Steve Sundra, pitchers, and infielder Charles Stevens.

Tennis Courts Will Be Open This Week-end

The local tennis players will be pleased to know that is expected that at least some of the municipal courts will be open for play around this week-end.

For the past two years all that has been necessary for an adult to play tennis was to show their registration card but this method has been discarded this year and all persons wishing to play on the courts, adults or otherwise, must obtain tennis tickets at the office in the Greenhouse. Unfortunately, with the printers being rushed off their feet, the tickets have not been obtained as yet but they should be ready in the near future.

The office in the Greenhouse will be open from nine in the morning till five in the evening every day except Sunday for the issuing of tickets.

Residents are asked to use the west door in the Greenhouse, the one just behind Victoria Hall.

Marty's Final Ball Compliment

A lithe chap in his early forties was walking down a street on the north side of St. Louis. He was dressed in the typical nondescript fashion of a factory-worker. He had just left a munitions factory, and was dog-tired, as might be expected of a man who had put in ten hours every day, seven days a week.

As he went swinging down the street, with his dinner pail in his hand, he came to a vacant lot where several boys about 15 or 16 years of age were playing pitch and catch.

The factory-worker stopped for several minutes. Then he dropped his pail and said, "Say, fellows, would you mind if I threw a couple?"

"Sure, throw all you want," they replied.

Removing his cardigan jacket, the old-timer started lobbing the ball to the catcher. As his muscles gradually loosened up, he cut loose a little harder, then started throwing curves, knuckle-ball, and change of pace.

By this time the kids were popping. Finally, he threw a downer for his last pitch. As he picked up his jacket and grabbed his dinner pail, the kid catcher blurted: "Hey, Mister, you GOT something."

"It was one of the finest com-

Junior Softball To Hold Meet Tomorrow Night

The junior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League will hold a meeting to-morrow night at the Greenhouse in Westmount Park. This meeting was originally called for last Tuesday but due to unavoidable circumstances it had to be called off. All teams intending to enter this league are asked to have representatives at this meeting so that the section constitution may be drawn up.

Further information on the organization may be obtained from Jim McCormick, recreation supervisor at Fitzroy 1929.

Pro Football Season To Recall Early Days

Many of us may recall the "way, way back" days when only high school and college football had any standing to speak of.

There was some independent football, some of the semi-professional, and a little out-and-out professional. But even the latter was conducted on a hit-or-miss basis. An enthusiastic manager got together a team and made up a schedule as he went. He made frequent changes in the lineup. Often the team was together only the night before, or even the morning of the game.

There could be no intricate system of play for those reasons.

GETLIFFE TIES MARK

When Ray Getliffe, Canadian forward, banged home five goals in one game he became the third player in NHL history to accomplish it. In 1925, Harry (Punch) Broadbent, of the Montreal Maroons turned the trick, and Charley Conacher, when a member of the famous Toronto "kid" line, flashed the red light five times against Roy Worters of the N.Y.
