TRYING TO KILL THE INSURANCE BILL

English Conservative Organs Paint Black Pictures of Chaos on Eve of Great Measure Becoming Law--Admit, However, No National Opposition to Insurance Law.

New York, July 17.—A cable from London this morning says:—The Conservative newspapers continue bitterly to attack Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George's Insurance Act, and declare that it is causing loss of work to the classes that it is designed specially to benefit.

Perhaps the most significant fact is that the several organs which usually support the Insurance Act have recently been now moderating their antagonism. For instance, the 'Daily Telegraph' acknowledges there is no evidence of any national opposition to the insurance law, and probably suggests that this fact is due to the fact that the 'Times' disclosure shows the effect of the law of the land, following the advice of J. L. Garvin, editor of the 'Pall Mall Gazette', that the completion to exploit the popularity of the act during the six months when payments have to be made and no benefits are forthcoming, must be strongly resisted if the party is to qualify or deserve the confidence of the people.

MONTREAL FIREMEN THE MOST DARING IN AMERICA

Chief Tremblay Shows Their Success by Comparing Montreal and Boston Statistics, and Attributes it to Their Love of Excitement.

A well-known Montrealer, Mr. L. Pillow, who has recently visited the Boston Fire Department, and returned with a number of interesting statistics regarding the work done there, has paid a visit this morning on Chief Tremblay, of the Montreal Department, when a very interesting discussion of the merits of the two departments ensued.

The men in most cities on the other side of the water and in many other places, are in the fire fighting business more for the money than for the love of the risk. Our men are in it because they love the risk, and it is because of this that they are brave and have shown it when required to, but they have not the same love of the danger and excitement that our men have. It is only this bravery of our men in this respect that has made them so successful, for all the modern apparatus and buildings that they have are of no use if they are not brave enough to use them.

FIRE ACCOUNTS LOST AGAIN

City Clerk's Department Made a Futile Search for Bills to Pay Them.

The much debated accounts of the fire department over which an investigation is being held by a committee of aldermen could not be found by the staff of the city clerk's department to-day, and there is much surmise where they have gone. Mr. Jules Crepeau, assistant city clerk, had them at the meeting of the City Council on Monday when they were ordered to be paid, and when he went to get them to-day he found they had disappeared. He made a hurried search of the various departments of the City Hall without result. It is supposed that some person has taken these accounts to look at them and has mislaid them. They amount to more than six thousand dollars, and if they are not found they will have to be rendered again and checked off. These accounts were delayed in payment in the first instance through being mislaid.

ROUSSEAU.

The two hundredth anniversary of Jean Jacques Rousseau, born June 12th, 1712, has just been celebrated in France and Switzerland. THE PROPOSAL OF MR. MOORE.

The proposal of Mr. Moore, a member of the United States House of Representatives, that the Panama Canal be neutralized, and that its control as well as its use be shared by the various nations, is an excellent one.

zens first, and must obey the civil law. He declared, moreover, that ecclesiastics were citizens before they were ecclesiastics, and that they also must obey the civil law. In spite of a judgment of a civil court ordering the priests of the College of Ste. Marie de Monroy to remain in St. John's and carry on their college there, two bishops, he of the diocese they had left, and he of that which they had entered, forbade them to do so, thus making it necessary for them to defy either the civil or the ecclesiastical law.

Information has been collected as to our forest wealth and the methods of forest management practised. As a foundation for all subsequent work, the forest laws of the Dominion and of the several provinces have been summarized, special attention being given to the clauses relating to forest fires. The Forester of the Commission made a close investigation of the conditions in the Forcipine district after last year's fire. A study has also been made of the progress of reforestation in Canada, and of the possibilities of municipal forest culture in Ontario and Quebec.

The Matriculation Examination proper was taken by about 90 candidates, of whom fully 80 percent were writing on a part of the work only. Of those who attempted to complete the examination 273 were successful. The great majority are from British Columbia, where in reality the McGill Matriculation examination is held as a leaving examination in the schools of that Province. Probably not 25 percent of them intend to enter the University.

Dr. Fernow's interesting survey was the result of an offer on his part to make the survey for $6,000, and to be personally responsible for anything more it should cost. As he suggested, every province should make a similar survey. But it should not be left until some public-spirited citizen offers to do it at his own risk and expense.

The story of Rousseau's life is a particularly wretched one. That there were goodness in him, and capabilities of goodness, there is no doubt. Some of his writings attracted the pure and gentle Cowper. John Morley, to whom 'morality is the nature of things,' has devoted two volumes to the study of his life and work; but not as an apologist for his character.

RUNNING PAST THE SIGNALS.

A locomotive engineer took his post one morning recently and drove straight to destruction. He had made the same run in safety for more than twenty years. His record was perfect. The railroad company that employed him claims to have adopted every known appliance and regulation for the protection of life and property.

This is in keeping with policies long ago adopted in government and in business where the unlimited authority of individuals is usually regarded as dangerous. Checks and balances in the use of power, and signatures and counter-signatures in the disposition of money, reveal the seasoned judgment of states and of financiers that it is unwise to trust everything to one man.

THE COOL SCENIC WAY TO WINNIPEG.

There are comparatively few people in Quebec aware of the fact that the Canadian Northern Railway are operating some seven thousand miles of railway in Canada, and that throughout the Prairie Provinces they have a network of line radiating through the richest and most picturesque sections of the country extending for four thousand five hundred miles and connecting most of the big centres of population. During the hot months of summer, when so many people use the lake route to reach their destination in Western Canada, they will find it to their advantage to take one of the trains connecting with the boats at Port Arthur and Journey on. No better equipped trains can be found anywhere on the continent. In wide-railed, electric-lighted coaches, the passenger, fresh from the up the Great Lakes, is transported through a region that is wonderfully picturesque. Along rushing rivers and through valleys that are altogether delightful the train speeds in daylight, and even after hours of sight-seeing the traveller turns to his magazine and finds a sight when the lake twilight has merged into the night. Mr. James Morrison the assistant general passenger agent at Montreal, will be pleased to answer any enquiries in connection with this route. And your nearest station agent is in a position to reserve sleeper space for you at any time.

MUST COVER ALL FOOD

Summons Against Fruit Vendor Will Test the City By-law.

A test of the city by-law requiring that products capable of being eaten without first being cooked which are exposed for sale outside the stores, be covered, will soon be made in a test case before the Recorder's Court. Yesterday a summons was issued, returnable on Saturday, against a Greek fruit vendor on St. Catherine street east, for exposing for sale outside his store plums, cherries and peaches, which, it is alleged, he failed to protect against dust and dirt, after having been ordered to do so by the municipal sanitary authorities.

SUGGESTS ALL PAY CANAL COST

Pennsylvania Congressman Has Way Out of Panama Canal Difficulty.

Washington, July 17.—Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania, has discovered a way to meet British objection to discrimination in favor of American ships that ply the Panama Canal. Mr. Moore introduced a bill to neutralize the canal and give all the nations opportunity to pay a portion of its cost. Mr. Moore stated that the cost has been approximately $225,000,000 and the annual maintenance will be about $25,000,000. Mr. Moore also proposes to establish a Panama Canal Trade Commission consisting of the Secretaries of Commerce and Labor and of Agriculture, the British Charge, who will be appointed by the president to study trade possibilities of the canal, particularly with reference to South and Central American countries.

BRITISH PROTEST.

Washington, D.C., July 17.—The formal British protest against the Panama Canal bill will reach Washington on Thursday. The incoming mail steamer bearing this communication from the British Foreign Office will be met in New York by Mr. A. Mitchell James, the British Charge, who will bring the protest directly to Washington for submission to Secretary Knox. As the State Department has already decided that in its present condition the subject is not one admitting of diplomatic treatment, the protest will be merely acknowledged and transmitted to the Senate and House, probably accompanied by a special message from President Taft.

A CENTURY OF PEACE

Anniversary Reminders of the British and Canadian Victories in the War of 1812. WHAT HAPPENED A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TO-DAY. By FRANK YEIGH, (Author of 'Through the Heart of Canada,' and '5,000 Facts About Canada,' and a 'Century of Ontario's History.')

A CENTURY OF PEACE

Anniversary Reminders of the British and Canadian Victories in the War of 1812. WHAT HAPPENED A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TO-DAY.

By FRANK YEIGH, (Author of 'Through the Heart of Canada,' and '5,000 Facts About Canada,' and a 'Century of Ontario's History.')

The United States House of Representatives and the Senate on June 18, 1812, passed a bill based on President Madison's message declaring war against Great Britain.

Then and thus was precipitated a contest that dragged along for three years, a contest as unnecessary in settling matters of controversy as it was unsatisfactory in its conclusions.

In recalling the victories won by the British and Canadian arms, on their respective century anniversaries, it is necessary to debate the alleged wrongs Madison specified, such as the impressment of seamen, the disturbance of the United States marine, the violation of neutral rights, and England's suspected instigation of Indian hostilities. They might admit of discussion now, as a hundred years ago, but it would be difficult to-day for even the most belligerent to work up a war scare, or a war that would be of any value to the shedding of human blood.

Nor in reviewing the chief events of that stormy period is one called upon to cast reflections upon the opposing sides, but to point out the qualities that are well buried. The aim of the writer is merely to recall the outstanding episodes of the struggle; to point out the sacrifices and heroism of our country's defenders, and especially to recognize the inestimable ed confidence through the alarmed Province of Upper Canada. In the centre of Mackinaw Island to-day, a few earthworks are all that remain of the American fort of 1812. A miniature garrison of only sixty-one regulars held possession, unsuspecting of any foe within striking distance and therefore unprepared for defence.

On the adjoining island of Saint Joseph, Captain Roberts held a miniature garrison to protect the occasional traders that made their way to and from Lake Superior. On the 16th of July a fleet of small craft sailed from their barracks, creeping close to Huron's northern shore until the Straits of Mackinaw were reached. Not very formidable must the limited force have appeared; only 33 men of the Royal 10th veteran battalion, and 19 Canadian voyageurs armed with muskets and fowling pieces, and for other armament two three-pounders and a few hundred half-breeds and Indians joined them.

Although through the night the expedition made its silent way over the silent waters, and as a new day was about to dawn, the little army of Lake Huron beached their craft on the shores of Michilimackinac, lined up in brave array under and before the ridge fort, and in true fighting fashion ordered the commandant to surrender. And he did. The odds were the other way, though on such a small scale and the first capture was made of a handful of men, a quantity of military stores and several bales of valuable furs.

That is all there is to the story of the first British victory of the war—the first of thirty-two to follow in the succeeding years.

But the winning of Michilimackinac, even without the audible echoes of strife, revealed the presence of brave men within Canadian as there were within American borders. It gave notice to all concerned that the conflict thus entered upon between men of the same stock and speech was to be contested, and contested bitterly, to the bitter end. It was the beginning of nearly three years of struggle, the bitterness of which has been happily obliterated by the passing procession of a century of time.

THE BOY WHO TURNED GREEN

(By G. P. Baker, in 'Daily News Leader')

Platts had red hair. There were nine other Plattses, who also had red hair; but this one was the eldest, and he bore his dignity of superior age with marked élan. Although remarkably small for his years, he was old in experience: he was Irish, and a typical Cockney. The responsibility of a widowed mother and nine brothers and sisters was too heavy for Platts to view the world with anything but the most deadly earnestness. Platts's red hair was carefully parted, and he held his billycock hat correctly in his hand, and with a weighty frown of conscious success lay upon his brow as he communicated the news to Betty.

"I'm going into the office, Miss. They thought my writing was better than any one's else."

"I'm so glad," said Betty, with dramatic nonchalance.

"A salary," said Betty. "How much? Twelve and six? O, that is very good. You will be quite rich."

"Mother will be glad, too," said Platts, with deep satisfaction. "It's much better to have a certain amount of wages."

On Monday morning Platts started earning that "certain" amount in the office of the cable works amid the envy of his wage-earning friends.

POINTING OUT OBJECTIONS

Provisions of Panama Bill Not Consistent With Treaty, Says Sir Edward Grey

London, July 17.—With a view to heading off attempts at premature and perhaps provocative discussion of the Panama Canal question, Joseph King, the Liberal member of Parliament for North Somerset, was put up in the House of Commons yesterday to ask the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs "Whether friendly representations are being made to the United States Government with the aim of securing generous treatment for such British shipping as shall pass through the Panama Canal."

MR. OBORNE'S WILL

Estate of $37,897 to be Administered for Benefit of Widow and Children.

Toronto, July 17.—The will of the late James Osborne, former general manager of the C. P. R. at Toronto, who died shortly after removing to Vancouver to become general superintendent of the Pacific Division of the same railway, was read in court yesterday in the Surrogate Court here. It disposes of an estate valued at $37,897. It expressed a desire on the part of the testator that the same should be administered for the benefit of the widow and children.

EXECUTION POSTPONED

Sylvio Yacovloff Will Not be Hanged on September 15.

Sylvio Yacovloff, who was sentenced to be hanged on September 15th next at the recent sessions of the Court of King's Bench for the murder of Louis Tremblay in March last, was granted a postponement of execution until November 15th, in order to permit of the case going before the Minister of Justice.

LAW FIRM'S NEW PARTNER

Mr. Louis Fitch, B.A., B.C.L., who was awarded the Sir William Macdonald traveling scholarship at McGill of last year's session at McGill, has returned to Montreal to take up active work at the law firm of Jacobs, Hall and Couture, with whom he was indentured during his undergraduate years. During his studies abroad, Mr. Fitch followed various post-graduate courses in law and kindred subjects at Paris, at the same time perfecting his knowledge of the French language. At the end of the 1911 term at McGill, Mr. Fitch led the final year in the Faculty of Law, and in addition to the Sir William Macdonald Scholarship was winner of the Elizabeth Torrance gold medal.

COAL THIEF PUNISHED

Alfred Gagnon, 18 years of age, was yesterday arrested by Constable Demers on a charge of stealing about 200 pounds of coal worth about $2.50 from the Hart and Adair Coal Company, with whom he had been employed as a driver. In the Police Court this morning he pleaded guilty to the charge. His counsel asked clemency, declaring that Gagnon was the sole support of his family, and that if he were sent to jail his family would have no means of obtaining food. Judge Leim imposed a sentence of 10 to 15 days.

UNKNOWN DROWNED MAN

The body of an unknown man was found floating in the canal at the foot of McGill street early this morning. The body was taken to the morgue, where an autopsy was held. From the examination of the body it was found that it could not have been in the water more than twenty-four hours. It should be very easy to identify the man as he had only one arm, was of heavy build, and had a height of 5 ft. 7 inches in height, had reddish hair and moustache, and was about 35 years of age.

ANOTHER CASE OF PLAGUE

Havana, July 17.—Another suspected case of bubonic plague has been discovered in the infected zone, which includes the area of the old walled city, which are located the greater part of the wholesale and retail businesses, the government offices, and many residences.

STOKERS CAUSE DELAY

Phymouth, Eng., July 16.—The American steamer Philadelphia did not reach here until yesterday morning, having been delayed on her voyage by New York, whence she sailed on July 10, by bad firing owing to the inexperience of the stokers.

TURKISH TOWELLING FOR GOWNS AND COATS. This gown of gray towelling or terry cloth, which is shown, is trimmed with strappings of white linen and big white pearl buttons. The absence of revers, the straight front opening and oddly cut sleeve are all very modish features.

"BED-TIME STORIES"

THE CHICKENS AND THE SNAKE

"Cluck, cluck!" said the hen.

"Peep, peep, peep, peep, peep!" answered many little chicken voices.

"We will go for a walk and find our dinner to-day among the tall grass and wild flowers."

The old hen and her happy chickens went marching off. When they were beyond the yard, and the garden, they passed through a large gate into an open field. Here the little chicks became wild with joy. They ran away from the mother hen, and had their tiny wings and feet jump about as if they never had been free before.

"How much better this than to be shut up in that narrow coop!" said one.

"How much finer these fat worms and bugs are than those dry crumbs," said another.

"We will stay in the shade of this tall grass and look upon these bright flowers always," said another.

But just then the tall grass began to move, and the little chicks heard a terrible hissing sound, as looking up they saw a huge snake lift up his head and dart out his black forked tongue at them.

"Peep! Peep! Peep!" they all cried together, as they scrambled away to find their mother.

Happily, the old hen, who had been looking for her wayward chicks, was not far off, and she ran toward the snake with ruffled feathers and open bill, which kept the snake back until all the little chicks had hid under her wings.

When the snake had slowly moved off the hen guided her trembling brood out of the great field into the broad yard to the narrow coop. When they had eaten their supper of crumbs and were all nestling together, the little peeping voices seemed to say: "We are glad the great ugly snake did not get us, and we would rather be safe in the narrow coop, with only crumbs to eat, than be in such danger among the grass and flowers."

Then the old hen clucked out her gratitude for her thankful chicks, and added:

"Sharper than a serpent's tooth, it is to have a thankless child.—The 'Michigan Christian Advocate'.

London, July 17.—It is now authoritatively stated that Mr. Churchill will on Monday make an important pronouncement on the British course of action in view of German naval augmentation. He will deal fully with the policy of the Government regarding the fleet in home waters and the Mediterranean. He will pronounce for a United Imperial navy. Mr. Churchill has consulted the highest authorities, including Lord Fisher and Lord Charles Beresford, in addition to his chief professional adviser, Admiral Sir Francis Bridgeman. The supplementary estimates which Mr. Churchill will introduce are expected to contain provision for the addition of men to the whole fleet, an acceleration of work on certain ships building for this year's programme, and a special programme for the Mediterranean.

MAY BE MR. ARCHAMBAULT

In Some Quarters He is Regarded as Likely Successor to Late Mr. Ethier.

Although the Board of Control has come to no definite decision on a successor to the late Mr. L. J. Ethier, K.C., as chief city attorney, it is said that the claims of Mr. J. L. Archambault for the appointment are the strongest. Mr. Archambault has had many years experience in the city law department. For the past seven years he has been closely associated with Mr. Ethier and he has been in charge when the latter was absent from the city. Mr. Archambault is said to be well conversant with the current of civic affairs.

It is proposed either to appoint a good lawyer to take cases in the courts or to retain various clever lawyers in the city to take any cases that may arise, similar to the way railway companies and other great corporations retain counsel.

AN INVITATION

Miss June presents her compliments, and heartily extends a cordial welcome to her very dear friend.

To spend a whole long month with her—full, thirty happy days, when she will entertain you all in lots of different ways. She'll give you lovely roses, and daisies by the score, and oh, so many more; and if you're fond of music—a concert she will plan.

For she can summon songsters that no other hostess can. Her feathered prima donnas are the finest ever heard—The orioles and robins, each happy singing bird.

And if you are artistic, she has pictures large and small. Whose subjects are so varied, she can surely please you all.

A landscape bathed in sunshine, or moonlight on the sea. Some sleepy cows in pasture, or a sturdy chestnut tree.

Whenever you are hungry she can give you lots to eat—And isn't cream and strawberries a most delicious treat?

So write her your acceptance and be sure to send it soon.

And then I know we all will spend a lovely month with June!

TO INVESTIGATE WEIGHING OF CHEESE

Ottawa, July 17.—A commission has been appointed by the Hon. Martin Burre, Minister of Agriculture, to investigate the conditions affecting the weighing of cheese and butter at the port of Montreal, composed of Messrs. R. A. Brindley, K.C., Ottawa, chairman; Arthur J. Hodgson, Montreal, representing the buyers' side of the question, and Mr. Samuel L. McDonnell, of Stratmore, a gentleman prominently interested in the cheese industry and representing more especially the producers. The commission will hold meetings and take evidence and it is expected their work will be accomplished during the next month.

Again and again during the past few years allegations have been made as to the unsatisfactory conditions obtaining at the port of Montreal in connection with the weighing of cheese and butter for export. It has been charged by various of the selling interests that great loss and damage to the vendors have occurred by the methods of weighing.

LACHINE

At last week's meeting of the Council of Lachine at which Mayor Rothwell presided it was decided to hold an investigation into the manner in which some of the permanent employees of the town discharge their duties. There were many complaints of inefficiency in several departments of the civic service and of wilful neglect and disobedience of orders which required to be looked into.

About three months ago the Clerk of the Recorder's Court, Mr. J. A. Hureteau, was notified that he did not conform to the requirements of the by-laws, which required that he should make a full return of the business of the court every month to the secretary of the Council. As Mr. Hureteau still neglected to send in his returns after he had been notified to do so, he was dismissed and Mr. Munier, N.P., was appointed Clerk of the Recorder's Court in his place at a salary of $400 a year, with instructions to send in his report every month.

The investigation into the complaints made against other employees has already commenced and interesting revelations are looked for. It will be continued next Thursday night.

The Health Officer Dr. J. A. Beaudoin submitted a report recommending the construction of a public incinerator. He states that an incinerator has become indispensable because there is no land available for a dumping ground.

The suggestion of the Health Officer met with general approval, as did also the announcement that under a regulation issued by the Federal authorities all factory chimneys would have to be provided with smoke consumers.

Councillor Smith gave notice of motion that he would at next meeting offer a resolution to reduce the price of electric light.

METHODISTS AND CHURCH UNION
 Special Committee Discusses
 Question, But Reaches no
 Definite Decision

Toronto, July 17.—Both morning and afternoon sessions of the Methodist General Conference special committee yesterday were devoted to discussion of organic union and co-operation with the Presbyterian and Congregational denominations, but no definite decision was reached. The Rev. T. Albert Moore, secretary of the General Conference, presented a report dealing with the attitude of the Church towards union, and the action to be taken, which will be made public today. Dr. Moore also presented a report giving the final official returns of the voting, showing that the total vote of the official body membership and adherents was 234,449 in favor and 38,075 against, or about six to one in favor of Church union. This caused considerable surprise, as the earlier returns indicated a majority of nearly ten to one in favor of union. Toronto conference voted 12 to 1 for union. An unusually large number of the qualified voters recorded their opinion on the subject, and the result is considered an excellent example of the feelings of Canadian Methodists at large on the question.

The detailed vote was as follows:—Official boards, for 23,475; against, 3,889; members 18 years old and over, for 150,941; against, 24,357; members under 18 years, for 17,918; against, 2,615; adherents, for 42,112; against, 7,234.

The funeral will be a public one, and will be held on Friday afternoon from his late residence to the Central M. E. Church.

NEW BAPTIST CHURCH.

Corner Stone of St. Paul's Congregation, Ontario Street, Laird.

The corner stone for the new building of the St. Paul's Baptist Church, Ontario Street east, was laid on Monday night, a very large gathering of Baptists from all the churches in the city being present. In addition there were many from the other denominations in the vicinity. On the platform with the pastor, the Rev. A. E. St. James, were the following: the Rev. Gordon H. Baker, the Rev. Dr. Therrien, the Rev. J. Monro, Dean Robinson from St. Cyprian's Church, the Rev. Nelson, of the Hochelaga Methodist Church, Mr. A. A. Ayer, Mr. J. J. York, Mr. Gordon Ricard, Mr. Halpenny and Mr. A. K. Naedovitch.

The stone was laid by Mr. A. A. Ayer, who said that the particular work of the church was to teach the mingling of the races in one faith. He favored the educating of the French and English-speaking together, and believed in the mingling of the races in religion and marriage.

Mr. York who represented the Presbyterian Church, said that there was abundance of money in the district, and about $100 was added to the greetings of his denomination.

Dean Robinson referred to the needs of the community, and rejoiced at the development of the young church.

Other addresses were given by Dr. Therrien, president of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, and friends from the congregations that were represented.

Music was furnished in the two languages by the choir of the church, and about $100 was added to the building fund during the evening.

Mr. Justice Monet Attacks Bishops Who Barred Ste Marie Monnoir College From St. Johns, Que.

Said Priests of Monnoir Could Not Disobey Order of Civil Tribunal to Remain There.

St. Johns, Que., July 17.—That a crucial situation overshadowing that created by the Guibord incident of some 40 years ago, exists as a direct result of the recent episcopal circulars regarding Ste. Marie Monnoir College, was amply demonstrated in the course of a meeting held here last night. The gathering, which filled the town hall to capacity, was by no means chary in expressing its views on the vexed question at issue, and, as a result, the rather unusual sight of a French-Canadian audience hooting and jeering Archbishop and episcopal mandements was witnessed. Mr. Justice Monet was the principal speaker.

A feature of the meeting was the large representation of women present, this leading to an assertion on the part of many present that "what the women wished God wished" (Ce que femme veut, Dieu le veut) and that therefore the case of the Monnoir priests was bound to triumph.

Mayor F. W. Bates, in opening the meeting, explained that Mr. Justice Monet had been requested by several residents of the city to enter into an examination of the situation induced by the recent pastoral letters issued by the Ste. Marie de Monnoir College. He trusted that His Lordship's remarks would give rise to a solution of the difficulty existing at the present time.

Mr. Justice Monet, on being called upon by the chairman, was received with great applause. In answer to those who might inquire why he was present as a speaker on the present occasion, he declared that he desired by his presence as well as by his remarks to enter a protest against one of the greatest wrongs which had met with since the time when he had been able to read. Eighteen priests had been literally thrown on the street as pariahs in virtue of two episcopal circulars. It was his duty to show the reverse of the medal and to demonstrate to all that the same unjust renegades were in reality situated between two fires. On the one side, they were being persecuted by the announcements of their ecclesiastical superiors; on the other, they were threatened with imprisonment if they contravened an order of the civil courts forbidding them to leave St. Johns.

Continued the speaker, the pronouncements of His Grace the bishop of Montreal, and His Lordship the Bishop of St. Hyacinthe, are so full of contradictions and are so full of contradictions, that I would be a coward not to come forward and explain the question from the viewpoint of the priests concerned.

Mr. Justice Monet then proceeded to explain what he termed an injustice meted out by His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi and others speaking from the pulpit of truth in a political and social sense of several years, never had he met with conditions such as those in the present case. Eighteen priests had been literally thrown out on the street, and their ecclesiastical superiors, and had not been granted the right to defend themselves. It was to rally to the defence of these same priests that he had consented to take the floor and to expose his views. (Prolonged applause.)

His Lordship then apostrophized the Montreal newspapers for the course they had followed in regard to the Monnoir College, declaring that through ecclesiastical and political machinations, and had not been granted the right to defend themselves. It was to rally to the defence of these same priests that he had consented to take the floor and to expose his views. (Prolonged applause.)

Mr. Justice Monet then entered into a lengthy review of the question, citing the two circulars issued by His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi and His Lordship Bishop Bernard. Reading from the pastoral of the latter prelate, His Lordship said particular stress on the part which refers to the weakness which His Lordship, in his own words displayed, in a spirit of kindness towards the recalcitrant priests of the Monnoir College.

Yes, proceeded Mr. Justice Monet, 'and it would take a pretty innocent man to attribute to Mr. Bernard, the quality of weakness.' (Applause and hoots.)

CROWDS JEERED.
 Proceeding, the speaker read further from Mr. Bernard's circular, amidst the jeers of the crowd present, the laughter of all being especially marked when the words of the Bishop of Ste. Hyacinthe, explaining the feelings of the Monnoir priests were cited from the circular.

Entering into a discussion of the circumstances leading up to the present difficulty, Mr. Justice Monet explained that the Monnoir College, which had been built on the site of the old Ste. Marie Monnoir College, had been built on the site of the old Ste. Marie Monnoir College, and had been built on the site of the old Ste. Marie Monnoir College.

ROSENTHAL'S MURDERERS

Confession of Man Under Arrest in New York Leads to Capture of Seven More

New York, July 17.—Through the alleged confession of a man under arrest, the names of seven men believed to be in the hands of the police last night as participants in the sensational killing of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, just as he was preparing about to make important additions to his recent disclosure of alleged partnership between high police officials and members of the gambling underworld in the hands of the officials, additional arrests are expected to follow to-day. According to District Attorney Whitman, Rosenthal was about to be named as a participant in the sensational killing of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, just as he was preparing about to make important additions to his recent disclosure of alleged partnership between high police officials and members of the gambling underworld in the hands of the officials, additional arrests are expected to follow to-day.

That such a raking up in gambling circles was not relished by men who might come to be involved was apparent, it developed, from talk among police officers who overheard it, to District Attorney Whitman yesterday afternoon.

Up to a late hour the police had given no inkling of the man in custody who had made the alleged confession. During the day three men were arrested in connection with the murder of Rosenthal. Louis Libby, the machine is William Shapiro, and from which came the volley of shots which stretched the gambler dead on the sidewalk as he stepped from the building, were one of the trio. The police declare they are assured that he was the driver of the motor car and they have charged him with homicide. His partner in ownership of the machine is William Shapiro, who also is a prisoner—held as a material witness. So is a man whose identity the police have been hiding under the name of "John Doe," and who was declared to have been in the neighborhood of the hotel at the time of the shooting.

Instead of fearing harm at the hands of the gambling fraternity, Rosenthal's chief dread, it is declared, was police emphy because of his charges against a member of the school.

Mr. Borden followed, and noted the similarity of the development of parliamentary institutions overseas with those of the Mother country. Then he proceeded to develop his argument. In the course of a striking utterance Mr. Borden said when asked to take part in the discussion, "The future shall not hold for the dominions in physics and mathematics."

Mr. Borden closed with a pertinent quotation. The next twenty years would be the critical period in the history of the Empire, which may be even decisive of its future.

"God grant, that whether we be the mother islands or of the dominions, we may be able and legitimate share in maintaining the security of the Empire."

Then followed, amid prolonged applause, a speech by Mr. Borden, who closed with a pertinent quotation. The next twenty years would be the critical period in the history of the Empire, which may be even decisive of its future.

SAYS DOMINIONS WILL NO MORE BE CONSIDERED WARDS

Canadian Premier, in Speech at Westminster, Tells British Statesmen that Time is at Hand When Canada Should Take Reasonable Share in Maintaining Security of Empire's Existence.

(Canadian Associated Press.)
 London, July 17.—Amid prolonged and renewed applause Premier Borden declared in the Harcourt room of the Houses of Parliament at Westminster last night that in time of peril he believed every Dominion, including Canada, would give a response not less loyal or less earnest than that of the Motherland herself.

"One realizes, however, said Mr. Borden, 'that when the day of peril comes the day for effective preparation may have passed. I conceive that those who accept a share in and responsibility for the defence and security of this vast empire may no longer be considered as wards by the self-constituted guardians.'

The occasion was the inaugural dinner of the Empire Parliamentary Association to Mr. Borden, Mr. Alfred Lyttelton presiding, and with the most distinguished gathering of invited guests, including Mr. Sydney Buxton, the Marquis of Crewe, Lord Strathcona, Lord Kinnaird, Mr. Harry Lawson, Speaker Lovell, and Mr. Heath, Lord Newlands, the father-in-law of Mr. Churchill; Sir Gilbert Parker, Sir George Reid, Sir Charles Rose, Postmaster-General Samuel and many ladies.

Proposing the toast of the overseas members of the association, Mr. Lyttelton, in passing, remarked that he had developed the genius of their race and pursued liberty under the most difficult conditions of the British flag, something that was possible in Canada because of the establishment of conditions of civilization throughout great territories.

"The time was at hand when the dominions could be called upon to take a more able and legitimate share in maintaining the security of the Empire's existence. Then followed, amid prolonged applause, a speech by Mr. Borden, who closed with a pertinent quotation. The next twenty years would be the critical period in the history of the Empire, which may be even decisive of its future.

DIGGING OUT VETERANS FOR NEXT SATURDAY'S LACROSSE

Herb Ralph May 'Cover' Paddy Brennan in the Local Capital-Shamrock Match—J. McIlwaine May Join His Old Team

The Shamrocks were hard at practice last night, getting into shape for their match with the Capitals on the Mile End field. The boys in green put up a splendid game against the Cornwallis last Saturday, and feel that with a fair share of luck they would have won out. They intend to trim the Senators next Saturday, and are training faithfully with that object in view. Jim McIlwaine may be back on the team.

The M. A. A. boys are due at Cornwall next Saturday, and promise to give the league leaders a busy afternoon, judging from the way they are travelling at practice on the Westmount field. The local line-up will be materially strengthened for this game.

Paddy Brennan may be covered next Saturday by the veteran Herb Ralph, whom the Caps are trying to coax back into the game.

The Nationals were out in full force last night, getting into shape for their approaching struggle with the Tecumsehs in Toronto next Saturday afternoon. The Frenchmen realize the improved playing strength of the Indians, and are taking every precaution to avoid a possible defeat, as they need this match to keep in touch with the Torontonians in the race for the championship. The team will line up practically the same as last Saturday with the exception that Duide will be back again in his accustomed place.

The Irish-Canadians had a good work-out last night in preparation for their battle with the Toronto team at the National grounds next Saturday night. The boys worked hard, and they feel that the negotiations now going on with George Kennedy and some of the Cornwall players will result in the loss of their jobs to them, and as the team is now going in great style, they want to be in for all the glory of future victories as well as the pay. The manager of the Irish-Canadians has been in communication with several of the Cornwall boys since last Saturday, and it would not be surprising if some of them would figure on the local team in the game with Toronto. The Torontonians will make a desperate effort to keep in the lead of the D. L. A. League, and their work here on Saturday is likely to be of the stellar sort. On the other hand the Irish-Canadians, having struck their gait, and being desirous of showing that they can deliver the goods, will try and take all out of the D. L. A.

BASEBALL

F. Smith Pitched Good Ball But Cunningham's Errors Gave Leafs Victory

KID PURTELL WAS FIELDING STAR—HE ACCEPTED 13 CHANCES WITHOUT A SLIP.

Toronto, July 17.—Despite the fact that Frank Smith pitched the best kind of ball, the Royals went down to defeat, their conflict with the Leafs by a score of 4 to 2.

This sad ending is attributed largely to the errors made by second baseman Cunningham. Smith held the heavy hitting Toronto all the way from the second inning until the ninth when they got two.

Brilliant little Purtell was the fielding star of the afternoon. He accepted thirteen chances without a slip. Manager Lush is still in charge of the Royals, but has not a word to say concerning the rumored changes in the policy and management of the Montreal Club.

HUBERT LATHAM.

An Appreciation.

After having braved the perils of aviation, in its earliest stages, and been the hero of more than a score of spectacular accidents, Hubert Latham, the intrepid Franco-English sportsman, has met death in the jungles of Africa, where he had gone big game hunting. Some six or seven years ago, a French engineer, by the name of Levasseur, felt that he could build successful heavier-than-air craft, but he did not have the money to build them. He was along these lines. At that time Hubert Latham, who had always taken a deep interest in aviation, and had won fame as a daring balloon pilot, heard of this young man, and he immediately visited him. He was impressed with the blue prints which were shown him by the engineer, and more especially with Levasseur's supply him with monoplane, just as fast as he broke them, which can be imagined in the early days of flying, kept a builder and his assistants very busy. Latham made the first flight, but he was killed by a Channel, but met with an accident, his motor stopping when half way across, which necessitated his descent into the water. When he was rescued he was sitting on a slowly sinking wreckage, calmly smoking the ubiquitous cigarette. He was a constant to say, that few men have lived in recent years, who have calmly looked death square in the face, as many times as this young man.

It came to Latham's ears that an old bed ridden man, who had always cherished a flying machine, in action, wanted very much to witness a flight, but as he could not be taken from his room, and as he was a constant, he decided to take a considerable distance from the flying ground, he had almost given up in despair. Latham, who was in the house, and finally decided to take the chance of a successful flight over the city, which was in those days an exceedingly dangerous undertaking. He was, however, so securely and unreluctantly of aerial matters. He knew that if his motor stopped going forward, death would be his reward.

Despite this fact he flew so close to the old man's house, that his wing tip nearly touched the window. The venerable patient immediately sent for Latham, and thanked him most profusely, pressing him to accept a gift of five hundred dollars. Latham accepted, and promptly turned over to the charities of the city. It is no idle statement to say that Hubert Latham was one of the greatest sportsmen the last decade has produced, and a man who merited in the highest degree the designation—a gentleman.

OLYMPIC GAMES

Members of the Olympic Committees of the Various Nations Were Entertained by King Gustave in the Royal Palace at Stockholm.

THE PUBLIC, INCLUDING THE THOUSANDS OF VISITORS IN THE SWEDISH CAPITAL, WERE ENTERTAINED BY A WATER CARNIVAL—ALL THE SHIPPING IN THE HARBOR WAS ILLUMINATED.

Stockholm, July 16.—The Palace tonight was the scene of a state banquet which proved a fitting ending to the main part of the Olympic meeting. King Gustave entertained 400 guests in the grand hall. The King and Queen and the Crown Prince and Crown Princess were seated at the head of the hall, the guests occupying two long tables below.

The hall was decorated in white and gold, and crystal chandeliers held hundreds of lights. An orchestra played on the balcony. After the dinner the guests assembled in the reception room, commencing a magnificent view of the city and harbor. The walls were covered with Gobelin tapestry, among the most valuable in Europe.

The King, in the Guards' uniform of light blue, walked about and conversed with many of the guests. The most interesting features to the foreigners was the strange regalia worn by the courtiers, the costumes of the attendants of lower rank suggest a Russian ballet, their headgear being surmounted by plumes and feathers.

Meanwhile the public were entertained by a water carnival. All the shipping in the harbor was illuminated, and there was a display of fireworks, and thousands of residents and many country people crowded to the waterside to witness the spectacle.

The points for the individual jumping contests were announced as follows: Carion, 12; Sweden, 17; Australia, 14; Great Britain, 12; United States, 9; Canada, 8; Austria, 1; German and Swedish points were scored in diving, in which Australian was not represented, thus, Australia easily the first swimming nation.

The stadium in which most of the field and track events of the Olympic games were decided underwent during the night a complete transformation. To-day it was found to be planted with hydrangeas and other bright flowers, studded with heavy garlands and garlands, the jumping pits and the gymnastic apparatus were brightly lit.

A brilliant audience, comprising many members of the Royal family, the leading representatives of the army and navy, cavalry and artillery officers, and their wives, packed the banks of seats around the arena shortly before one o'clock. At that hour a long string of officers who were to compete in the military events, entered the stadium. In their brilliant many-colored uniforms the representatives of the armies of ten nations, lined up in front of the Royal box, and saluted the King and Queen, and the other members of the Royal family, and as they did so furnished a striking spectacle.

As soon as they had given their military greetings the competition were started with soldierly precision.

The fourth event, the prize jumping, in the military riding competition, comprising a distance, a cross-country ride, an individual steeplechase, prize jumping and prize riding, was completed in the afternoon, and with its conclusion, Germany occupied first place with 115.00 points, the United States second with 117.49, and Sweden third with 117.07.

The funeral service for the dead Marathon runner, F. Lasaro, of Portugal, who died from sunstroke, was held to-day at the Catholic Church here. The Portuguese Minister and great crowds of residents, headed by the King and Queen, were draped with a Portuguese flag and was almost completely hidden with beautiful wreaths and garlands. The Queen of Sweden, the sports committee and others. The body is to be taken later to Portugal for burial.

MARATHON BRITISH TRIUMPH.
London, July 15.—South Africa's victory in the Marathon, Stockholm has brought solace to the British mind. The "Evening Standard" says editorially: "After all, we have not done badly when we think imperially. The British Empire entered the contest as a collection of separate nations. Great Britain, with its 55,000,000 of Anglo-Celts, is therefore, matched against the American Empire, as may be called, with its hundred millions and diverse races. It has American Indians, among its residents, and a few who could swim a Hawaiian chief, born and bred among a people who live in the sure and shadow of a volcano. When we think of our resources, we, too, might produce a better than an European, or an Indian runner who might win the Marathon race. Even as it is, we have not done
